TROOPS SENT TO BRIDGE

Accord Reached By Hoover And Laval In Talks

FRENCH PREMIER IS EN ROUTE HOME AFTER PARLEY

BY BYRON PRICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — A new deal to lighten the world's enormous budget of war debts and reparations became the next goal of international statesmanship today as Premier Laval of France sped homeward after his conferences with President Hoover.

A specific program of reduction, born of a French-American agreement for united effort toward world stability, was discussed by the two leaders and now will be put to the test of practical application.

Up To Germany

The initiative is to be left to Germany who is expected to ask soon for relief from her reparations. France is expected to agree provided the war debts are readjusted, and the United States is ready to consider proposals for such a readjustment.

Neither Mr. Hoover nor M. Laval was in a position to commit his government definitely. Any curtailment of war debts owed the United States must eventually have the approval of congress, where the opposition already is preparing to give battle. The French parliament might veto any cut in German reparations.

Only vague possibilities appeared today that the war-debt cut would be accompanied by that reduction of armaments so much desired by President Hoover. From first to last Premier Laval stood firm that France must remain armed until she has a better guarantee of security. That the United States would

MAN GIVES UP AS HOUSE IS CIRCLED

NO STRUGGLE MADE AS POSSE ENDS HUNT FOR SLAYER

(By The Associated Press)

WAGENER, S. C., Oct. 26—George Jackson, Aiken county farmer, sought as the slayer of six of his kinsmen, was captured today at his home near here.

He surrendered without a struggle after his daughter had gone out to tell officers surrounding the house that "daddy says please come and get him."

Negroes had reported to officers they saw him at the house.

Officers at once left with Jackson for Columbia to place him in the state penitentiary for safekeeping.

WAGENER, S. C., Oct. 26.—George Jackson, 40-year-old farmer, apparently became insane as he sat in a Sunday afternoon gathering of relatives at an uncle's home near here, scattered the group with sudden oaths, killed five of them and then went to the neighboring home of a cousin and fatally wounded him.

Armed with a pistol and shotgun, the death weapons, Jackson fled to a thick woods and early today had eluded capture by 75 possemen who sought him. An 11-year-old daughter, Lula, accompanied him. Bloodhounds aided the posse seeking them.

Those slain were Hamp, 52, and Hayes Jackson, 61, uncles; Mrs. Darl Jackson, 46, an aunt; her sons, Melvin, 28, and Bill, 22, and Herman Jackson, 30, the cousin.

Relatives Armed

Failure of officers to apprehend Jackson spread terror among his other relatives in this section who armed themselves in fear he would atack them.

A police guard was set up about the home in nearby Orangeburg

MURRAY CALLS OUT GUARDS IN "WAR"

MARTIAL LAW IS TO COMBAT ANY U. S. COURT ORDER

(By The Associated Press)

ATOKA, Okla., Oct. 26—Moving to render ineffective any action of the United States district court, Governor William H. Murray early today ordered national guard troops to proceed again to the Durant front of the Red river bridge "war."

The order, directed to Col. John A. MacDonald of Durant, was issued by Oklahoma's marital-minded governor in a dimly lighted railroad station here at 3:30 a. m., immediately after his arrival from Dallas, where he spoke last night.

Wires MacDonald

The order written on a telegraph blank, was wired to Colonel MacDonald.

It read: "You will take at once necessary troops of your company and patrol free bridge over the Red river covering the military zone. Do not bother the toll bridge or the road leading to it. Take all orders direct from me and keep the free bridge open to traffic. Wire receipt of this order."

Governor Murray's move came just a few hours before a scheduled hearing in federal court at Muskogee on an application of the Red River Bridge company, owner of the Durant-Denison toll bridge, for an injunction to close the parallel free bridge built by the states of Oklahoma and Texas.

A hearing n the application was set for 9 a. m. with Judge John C. Pollock of Kansas City presiding.

Governor Murray indicated he would go late in the day to the "war zone." Colonel MacDonald

Nearly all of the agents met for breakfast at 8 o'clock and following the meal an informal program, under direction of Miss Pauline Lokey, home demonstration agent in Swisher county, was held. Several agents were unable to be present, because of illness in the family and messages were sent to these. Between 45 and 50 persons were present for breakfast.

Mr. Evans, at the joint session, announced the program for the three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. At noon a joint lunch-

VICTORY SEEN IN ELECTION

GOVERNMENT WIN IS PREDICTED TODAY IN BRITAIN

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 266.6—Newspapers supporting the national government predicted today it would win a majority of 150 to 200 seats in parliament at the election tomorrow as the answer to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's appeal for a "doctor's mandate" to rule the country.

At the same time, Arthur Henderson, leader of the opposition, declared there has been a strong leaning toward the labor party during the last few days and that it was difficult to forecast results.

David Lloyd George, leader of the liberals, convalescing from a recent illness, called on his followers to vote for free trade candidates, preferably for liberals, but for labor candidates rather than conservatives. "The fate of the country," he said, "is in the hands of the liberals."

SERVICES FOR GIRL TODAY

LAVERNE PUTTY TO BE BURIED HERE; TRUCK DRIVER FREED

Last rites were to be read for Laverne Putty, 16-year-old Lubbock High school freshman killed when hit by a truck, at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Broadway Church of Christ by Elder John T. S. Smith. Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery by Rix Funeral home.

The driver of the truck, Robert Kirksey of Slaton, was freed. An investigation indicated the accident was unavoidable, John Keller, state highway department agent, said. Kirksey, with whom another Slaton resident was riding in the product truck, said lights of an approaching automobile blinded him so that he did not see the Putty girl and a companion until too late to avoid the accident. The Putty girl was catapulted into a bar pit, evidently dying instantly, and her companion, June Douglas, 511 Fifteenth street, hysterically hailed passersby.

The two girls were walking hand-in-hand about half a mile from the Putty home when the fatal collision occurred at about 7:30 p. m. Saturday on state highway No. 7 about a mile and a half southeast of Lubbock. Kirksey reported the accident to authorities and was released on his own recognizance.

A widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Putty; a 13-year-old brother, Ross Putty; a sister, Mrs. Audrey White of Woodson, and grandparents survive the girl. She suffered a fractured skull, crushed chest, broken right arm, and possibly internal injuries.

Although unhurt, Miss Douglas suffered shock.

"D" FOR DIVIDENDS, NOT DEPRESSION, ON CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—It's "D" for dividends, not depression, on the Chicago Great Western railroad.

For the first time since 1919, this "bridge" for trunk lines has paid dividends — $2 share for 1931.

No new money-making formulas were involved. Instead, there was a return to old-fashioned railroading, with one man in power. That man is Patrick H. Joyce, acting president and chairman of the executive committee, who gained control of the road in 1930 with a group of Chicago associates.

The Great Western is a triangular "bridge" linking trunk lines with Chicago, the twin - cities, Omaha - Council Bluffs, and Kansas City.

The Great Western has small offices, small staffs—and small overheads. There's a steady stream of subalterns into the Joyce office each day. And there's a reason for this close supervision. Joyce has a great share of his personal fortune invested in the Great Western.

The Great Western, under Joyce's control, has never received the benefits of good times. But at the outset, money

Mrs. Judd Expected To Plead Insanity

SUSPECT'S HUSBAND GIVES HINT OF THE DEFENSE PLANS

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26—Indications that insanity will be the basis of Winnie Ruth Judd's plea when she is called on to answer for the killing of Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Anne Le Roi cropped out today as investigators began collecting evidence to contradict her story.

Dr. William C. Judd, the suspect's husband, gave what authorities considered an intimation of a change in the plans for a legal defense when he said, after visiting his wife:

Mind Wandering

"Her mind is wandering—she seemed to think she had been in her hospital room all last night."

In the county jail, Mrs. Judd was denied all visitors except her husband and her attorneys, Richard Cantillon and Louis P. Russell. Cantillon was co-counsel for William Edward Hickman, murderer of Marion Parker, who was convicted and hanged. Hickman's defense was that he was "not guilty by reason of insanity."

A signed and copyrighted story by Mrs. Judd which her husband gave the Los Angeles Times related that Mrs. Judd shot Miss Samuelson Saturday morning, October 17, in a scuffle over a pistol. She said she later killed Mrs. Le Roi when Mrs. Le Roi endeavored to strike her with an ironing board.

A quarrel over the introduction of an unidentified "new nurse" to a mutual friend of the three principals in the tragedy precipitated the scuffle for the pistol, according to Mrs. Judd.

RUTH NICHOLS IN ESCAPE

AVIATRIX LEAPS TO SAFETY AS PLANE CATCHES AFIRE

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 26.—Ruth Nichols' monoplane caught fire today as she was warming up to take off for New York and she barely leaped from a window of the cockpit in time to escape the flames.

The aviatrix half stumbled as she reached the ground but mechanics grabbed her and hustled her away from the plane before she was hurt. The plane was almost a total loss.

She was taxing her Lockheed-Vega monoplane over the turf to warm it up when the accident occurred. Spectators saw a burst of flame as gasoline poured from a valve.

Forced To Leap

There were shouts from mechanics of "cut it off! cut it off." But before Miss Nichols could cut off the engine she had to leap. The flames threatened to reach the main gas tank any moment, but despite that a group of attendants rushed up with fire extinguishers.

The fire started in a stream of gasoline beneath the plane. Attendants at Bowman field said they believed a dump valve had been released by the vibration of the engine.

SUCCESS IN MAKING MAYONNAISE LIES IN WAY OIL IS ADDED

"A Little at a Time" is Safest Method. Hills Bros. Use a Similar Rule in Their Patented, Coffee-Roasting Process

Oil, in large amounts, added to mayonnaise ingredients usually makes the mixture separate. It is better to add oil "a little at a time."

There is a similar situation in coffee roasting. Occasionally, big batches can be roasted so each has the same flavor. But you can't depend on it. The sure way is to roast a little at a time. Hills Bros. do, with their patented, Controlled Roasting process.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. The temperature is exactly regulated while the blend flows through the roasters. Every single berry is perfectly roasted. Naturally, then, every pound has the perfect flavor!

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it fresh! Air, which makes coffee go stale, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

MUSIC APPRECIATION

SOME OF US parents are woefully lacking in regard to good music. Let your humble servant here confess that he might be classed almost as illiterate in music. Musical symbols I can rarely read at all, and I cannot play a single instrument. Now I know how you who are musically educated pity me. Thank you for your feelings in my behalf. I need your pity. Anyone in my predicament surely does. Even though one may not know enough to realize what it is one does not know, I do have some kind of naive awareness of a painful lack in my education. Fervently I hope and pray that my children will not have to come to such grief.

For the encouragement, however, of my brother illiterates, I desire to confess also that I am learning even now. Really I have been growing in ability to enjoy good music. It seems to come by way of listening to worthwhile productions, particularly in the company of those who have intelligent enjoyment of it. If I were not so lazy my enjoyment would be much more rapid.

It pains me most to confess that for a number of years I not only failed to enjoy good music, but entertained a sneaking satisfaction in my ignorance, even a slight contempt for those who were demonstrative in their enthusiasm about the masterpieces. This despicable trait must have reached its height about the time I was "doctored" (got my Ph. D. degree), a time when ignorance concerning anything but a few technicalities usually is bliss.

Happy am I now to report improvement, not only in respect to personal enjoyment of music but in regard to enthusiastic music lovers. I am learning to experience a childlike admiration for them. Surely I do envy them.

For two hours each week I sit at the feet of an esteemed colleague in the university where I teach, who has been so kind as to allow me to register in his course in music appreciation. If I don't watch out this very capable and inspiring teacher will have me robbing my family by buying tickets for symphony orchestra programs, since such music is my favorite.

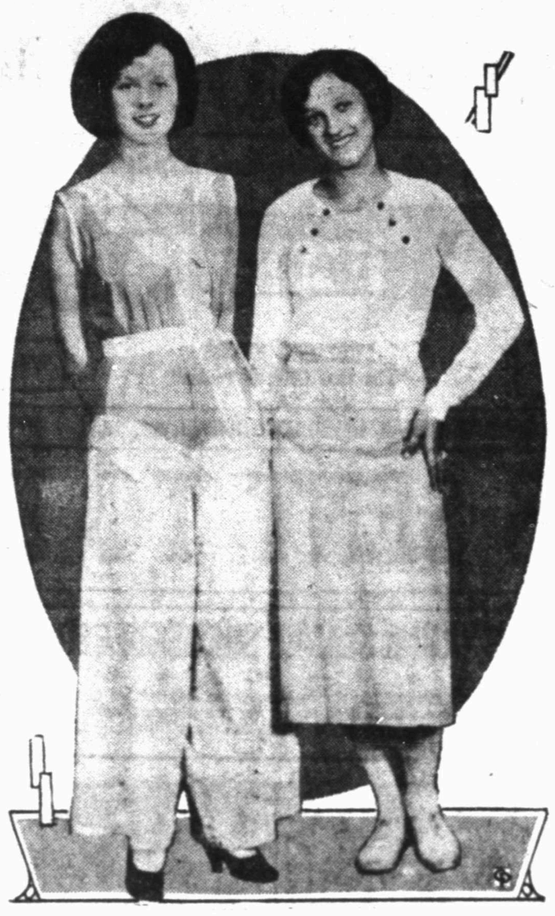

Just now symphony programs are beginning in many large centers of population. Nearly every large city has its symphony orchestra of which its music lovers are proud. All its parents ought to be. Such groups of artists are occasionally attracted to the smaller cities for one or a series of concerts, brought within the reach of the majority of those who really desire to hear good music and have their children share in such cultural enjoyments.

Besides, persons everywhere can, now and then, hear a symphony concert by radio. When we and our children do hear such music on the air we are made the more eager to see and hear the performances. Something about the action of the artists, about the atmosphere they create, particularly in a symphony, which we can get only by being able to see the players as we hear the music.

For parents of moderate circumstances, tickets to a symphony orchestra are not investments in luxury, especially if they take their children with them, but a necessity in a broad cultural education. We parents are grateful for the opportunities which many symphony orchestras have extended to public school children. In some cities free tickets are provided them. Furthermore, our public schools, through their excellent music programs, are cultivating high grade musical enjoyments in children. The rapid development of the school orchestra has been one of the rarest achievements of modern public education.

Officers To Be Elected, And By-Laws Changed At State P.-T. A. Convention

Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president of the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations, as program chairman for the annual state convention of the congress is climaxing her four years of splendid achievement as head of the great child welfare organization with a program for the annual convention, San Antonio, November 10-13, the influence of which will be felt for many days in educational and child welfare circles in Texas.

With speakers of national and international reputation in the educational world such as Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of Interior and chairman of the White House Conference; Dr. Randall J. Condon, past president of the National Education association and a member of the national advisory committee of illiteracy; Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt, Cleveland college, national chairman of parent education, Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, American Child Health association; and others whose very presence in Texas is an inspiration, the meeting in San Antonio promises to be a fitting culmination to Mrs. Smith's untiring efforts as state president to meet the challenge of her office.

Felt the Challenge

Mrs. Smith states that when she was elected to her high office in Houston in 1927, she felt the challenge of conditions in Texas and saw in certain lines of endeavor that the parent-teacher associations were already embarked on an answer to the challenge if these lines were properly pursued. First, she saw the need for a program of rural enrichment in child welfare and educational opportunities which could be met by fostering and extending parent-teacher work in rural communities through the organizing of county councils.

Therefore the congress machinery consisting of the state president, district presidents and vice-presidents and state chairmen, was put to work and the result is 91 county councils in 1931 to 24 in 1927.

In promoting the work of the congress, Mrs. Smith felt the need of informed leadership, and, consequently encouraged the enlistment of every officer in the state, district and local organizations in the correspondence course in parent-teacher work given by the executive secretary. As a result more than 5,000 people have enrolled for this course in the four years and nearly 3,000 have received certificates for completing it.

Another need, as Mrs. Smith saw it, was that of better health for the children, and to this end the summer round-up and the securing of county nurses were made important parts of the program of work. Figures for the round-up as given by Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, state chairman, show the result of this stimulation.

In 1927, 88 associations in Texas enrolled in the round-up, and in 1928, 217 associations made 1161 corrections of defects found in the children, while in 1930, 392 associations entered the round-up and 2,913 defects were corrected, 1,415 children immunized against smallpox, and 521 against diphtheria and 69 against typhoid. The results for 1931 are not yet in but 823 associations have registered for the work. Many county nurses have been appointed through the influence of the associations and the county councils.

Seek Other Agencies

A fourth line of endeavor, which Mrs. Smith saw would help meet the challenge of the child welfare problems of Texas was that of securing the active sympathy and cooperation of the educational forces of Texas. This has been done by promoting association with state, county and local educational forces with a view to mutual understanding of educational affairs and parent-teacher aims and ideals.

In seeking to promote these several lines of endeavor, Mrs. Smith has felt the need of correlating and making definite the duties of the different ofices in the state and district organizations in order that the program of work as set forth by the board of managers should be the chief concern of all. To this end two years ago the board at its post-convention meeting in Waco entered upon a two-year trial of work whereby every one of the 153 persons elected in conventions would have a definite challenge in the office to which they were elected and a direct opportunity of service. This two-year trial has resulted in proposed revisions of the by-laws of the state congress which have been approved by the board of managers in their January meeting and which will be submitted to the convention body in San Antonio for action.

Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. STAGE IS SET FOR WESTERNER-HARVESTER BATTLE THIS WEEK

MATADORS TO MEET BEARS SATURDAY

Lubbock's Westerners have scored a grand total of 321 points this season; Pampa's Harvesters have scored 287, which makes Lubbock 34 points better than Pampa, sez yu. But Corsicana has scored 348, and you wouldn't admit Corsicana to be 27 points better than Lubbock. While it makes good reading and causes the fan to feel better, it has nothing whatever to do in the comparison of teams. Had the Westerners been turned loose they could have scored 500, and so could have Pampa.

Before Saturday's game with Odessa we heard Coach Huffman give explicit orders to Quarterback O. H. Britton to take things easily, to do a lot of punting for the practice. When we returned to the office and started figuring the punting averages we found that Odessa had punted 8 times for an average of 30 yards plus; Lubbock had punted no times for an average of no yards. And was Huffman sore? Not much. Only at one time did Lubbock have occasion to punt, and that was on the fourth down in midfield with 25 yards to go, a fifteen-yard penalty having been inflicted after a line plunge and two passes were incomplete. Did the Westerners kick? No. They passed, and it was good for 25 yards and a first down.

Coach Odus Mitchell and a bunch of his Pampa gridsters were in the stands, but what they learned about the inside of Lubbock's fundamental attack could be written on your finger nail with a paint brush. The Westerners may be defeated next Saturday at Pampa, but it will not be as a result of the scouting by Mitchell and his men at the Odessa game. The Westerners played so far under wraps that they sweated themselves down trying to hold the score back.

And here is Coach Weldon Chapman's lament: "If I had one backfield man, just one, mind you, who could take that ball and runlikehell with it down the field after passing the line of scrimmage, I wouldn't be scared of any high school team in Texas. I know how to get him past the line of scrimmage and I know what he ought to do thereafter. Give me a chap that can stiff-arm his way through a broken field and who has enough speed to pass a 1862 horseless carriage and we'll go places. My backs are all putting out their best, it seems, but there's not one among them who can run fast enough."

Chapman has five backfield men, any four of whom are as good in the backfield as any other four, but, like the coach says, there's not a ten-flat man among them. Cecil Merrill can travel but he is not so hard to stop. Barnett is harder to stop but not quite as fast. Quarterback Britton is fast and elusive but he's a better blocker than ball toter. Bill Davidson is moderately fast and one of the best ground gainers on the team. Mack Scoggin is the hardest to stop any of the quintet, but he can be overtaken by an ice cream wagon. They're good boys, all of them, and it's a pity that one of them can't be a sprinter.

It always brings a thrill to read the story
Of brilliant runs by backs; but we opine
That rarely does a halfback dash to glory
Unless he gets assistance from the line.
—Walter Trumbull.

We had hoped that the Baylor Bears would make a more creditable showing against the Aggies, thereby giving the Tech Matadors greater recognition when they beat Baylor Saturday at Waco, but our hopes were dashed by a second half burst on the part of Matty Bell's Farmers. At that the Matadors will have plenty to do. Judging from Baylor's past record, Coach Cawthon can send in his shock troops for the first half and wear the Bears down after the latter have possibly scored a few points, then run in his regulars in the closing periods to completely swamp the Southwest Conference gridsters. Baylor has made brave starts in her games this season but has petered out toward the last.

There were some upsets last Saturday but at that we came through on the majority of our picks. Drake lost to Fordham, although it was not much of an upset; Iowa State beat Missouri and Purdue clouted Carnegie Tech, when we'd picked the opposite. There was one tie game, Army and Yale. We called 16 of the 19 correctly, batting an average of .800 for the college games. Oh, well, one man's guess is as good as another's, so what have we gained?

LUBBOCK WILL GO TO PAMPA FOR GAME

DISTRICT ONE TITLE MAY BE DECIDED IN SATURDAY'S TILT

They're setting the stage over at Pampa this week for another football drama, the second over a period of two weeks in the oil city. The title of the next one, which is to be played Saturday afternoon, a special matinee only, is Lubbock Westerners versus Pampa Harvesters.

Two weeks prior to next Saturday the Pampa players won the honors in the episode known as the Pampa-Amarillo melodrama. With this lead to carry them on they are favorites to become the champion artists of District 1 in the Texas Interschoiastic league elimination contest, which stretches over a period of from two to three and sometimes four months.

Lubbock Hopeful

It is hoped by all Lubbock fans and players that Pampa's lead, however imposing, will be slashed to "little bitty" pieces when the cast of Westerners, directed by that good stage hand, Weldon B. Chapman, invades Pampa town this week-end, thereby placing the logical entry in the District 1 spotlight, a place it will find hard to hold even if Pampa is run down. Thanksgiving Day will see Amarillo trying again.

The Westerners, with little competition thus far, have scored enough points in six non-conference and one conference game to lead all other teams in the district in this department, climaxing a big practice drive Saturday afternoon with a 71 to 0 victory over the Odessa High and ex-High Bronchos on the local field. Only a day earlier Pampa had defeated the Brownwood entry in the Class A race of the Oil Belt by the same score. Pampa's coach and players looked on while Lubbock, playing under cover, swamped Odessa Saturday. But so far as learning anything about the fundamental strength of the Westerners was concerned, the Pampa coach and players were only a few of the handful of fans at the game.

Plan Special Train

A special train will travel to Pampa next Saturday morning carrying what is hoped and thought will be hundreds of local fans. Another hundred or so will go by motor car, and it looks like Lubbock Day in Pampa. Thus encouraged, the Westerners are using every minute of their practice time in sincere efforts to be prepared for the powerful Pampa attack and defense.

This week, beginning with today's practice session, will see the Westerners in heavy practice sessions on the Fair Park field, a tapering off to begin Thursday. It is likely that the team will depart Friday, spending the night in Canyon or Amarillo after a workout in one of these burgs. From this point they will board the special train Saturday morning and continue the ride to Pampa with the fans, returning by the same means.

CRUCIAL SPOT LOOMS NEAR

SIMMONS AND AUSTIN IN DEADLOCK WITH SOUTHWESTERN

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Texas conference football leaders today were nearing a crucial spot in their 1931 grid campaigns.

The three leading elevens, Southwestern university, Simmons university and Austin college, will be called on to defend their positions Friday.

For Southwestern and Simmons Friday is fraught with dangers. The Pirates and the Cowboys drew last season, 13-13. Both climbed to the top at the expense of the St. Edwards university Saints.

Austin college defeated Howard Payne to gain the top. The Austin eleven has a game with St. Edwards Friday.

Southwestern and Simmons lost last week. The Pirates were beaten 16 to 7 by the San Marcos teachers while the Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university eked out a 6 to 0 victory over the Cowboys.

Howard Payne, supreme in the Texas conference for three seasons, and whose continuity of victories was shattered recently by Austin college, will meet Trinity university in Brownwood Friday. Trinity tied St. Edwards last week.

Colorado Aggies To Settle With Utah

DENVER, Oct. 26 (AP)—The path of Utah university's Indians toward a fourth consecutive Rocky Mountain conference football championship was blocked today by the Colorado Aggies.

The Aggies and Utah will settle the 1931 championship over on the Utes' field this week.

Utah did the expected in pinning Denver with a 46 to 0 decision Saturday, but the Colorado Aggies' 19 to 6 victory over university was the biggest upset in the Rockies.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES OVERSHADOW DOMESTIC ARGUMENTS IN FOOTBALL SLATE THIS WEEK; EAST GETS SHARE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Another heavy slate of intersectional games overshadows purely domestic arguments on this week's football slate. And once more the East gets more than its share of intersectional combat with games involving seven major teams.

Notre Dame, after its smashing 25-12 victory over Pittsburgh, comes east for a tussle with Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh and a Rambler victory seems a foregone conclusion.

Others Come East

Other invaders of the East include Michigan of the Big Ten, Oregon of the Pacific Coast conference, Colorado college from the Rocky Mountain conference, Virginia from the Southern conference, Kansas State from the Big Six and Mississippi college from the Southern Intercollegiate A. A.

The mid-west boasts all the other outstanding intersectional games of the week-end with Syracuse traveling to East Lansing for a game with Michigan State and George Washington playing Iowa at Iowa City. On Friday night, the University of Mississippi tackles Marquette at Milwaukee, Loyola of New Orleans plays Detroit at Detroit and the Haskell Indians meet Creighton at Omaha.

As for the "big time" conferences, here's the way their championship races line up at present:

Southern conference: Georgia, Tulane and Tennessee still lead the parade and apparently no other outfit posibly can win the title. Georgia plays Florida in the outstanding game this week while Tulane and Tennessee should win fairly easily from the Mississippi Aggies and Duke respectively.

Pacific Coast: Southern California, with four successive conference wins, is idle this week. Washington State meets Oregon State and Stanford clashes with University of California at Los Angeles.

Southwest: The most important contest brings together Southern Methodist and Texas. Southern Methodist is the leader with two wins and no losses. Texas, defending champion, lost its only conference start to Rice. Texas Christian, with one victory and no defeats, should add another against Arkansas. Texas Aggies play Centenary.

Big Six: Nebraska, with two victories, should go into a tie with Kansas State by defeating Missouri. Oklahoma and Iowa State hook up in another conference duel. Kansas battles Oklahoma A. and M.

Rocky Mountain: The champion Utah eleven clashes with Colorado Aggies, conquerors of Colorado university, in the outstanding game. Brigham Young and Colorado Teachers and Western State and Denver are matched in other conference games. Montana State meets Montana.

Big Ten: Northwestern, the favorite, should win from Illinois easily and Purdue looks much stronger than Chicago. Wisconsin-Minnesota and Ohio State-Indiana games, however, should furnish closer competition.

East: Traditional battles between Dartmouth and Yale; Cornell and Columbia, Pitt and Penn State, and Brown and Holy Cross.

KANSAS STATE IN RACE FOR TITLE

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26 (AP)—Kansas State and its sophomore rambling Ralph Graham of Eldorado, Kans., crushed onward in quest of the Big Six football title Saturday with Nebraska and Iowa State college in close pursuit.

The defending champion Kansas university Jayhawkers and the Oklahoma Sooners, 130 runner-up, were in last place with Missouri, each with two defeats in the conference.

Bo McMillin's, Aggies, who made Oklahoma their third conference victim 14 to 0, at Manhattan last Saturday, play an intersectional game with West Virginia at Morgantown this week-end. Nebraska meets Missouri at Columbia and Iowa State engages Oklahoma at Norman. The Jayhawkers entertain the Oklahoma Aggies.

Nebraska found Kansas tough, but there was no Jayhawk scoring punch and the Huskers won, 6 to 0.

Coach George F. Veenker made an impressive debute in Big Six competition when Iowa State ended a string of conference defeats extending back to 1928 by defeating Missouri, 20 to 0.

THREE IN TIAA UNDEFEATED

SAM HOUSTON, A. C. C. AND TEXAS A. & I. ARE IN LEAD

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Three Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association football teams were undefeated today as the 1931 grid campaign moved into its fifth week.

Sam Houston Teachers, 1930 champions, Abilene Christian college, leader in the western division, and Texas A. & I., pacing the eastern division, were undefeated, but were faced by crucial contests this week-end.

Wildcats Meet Buffs

Abilene's Wildcats and West Texas Teachers college, runner-up in 1930 were booked for an engagement in Abilene Friday night. Sam Houston was scheduled to return to San Marcos for a game with Southwest Texas Teachers.

The Javelinas meet the Sul Ross Loboes in Corpus Christi in a non-conference contest. Sul Ross gave the T. I. A. A. something to think about last week when it defeated Daniel Baker 12 to 0.

North Texas Teachers college, recognized as a power of the T. I. A. A., will open its 1931 conference campaign against the Stephen F. Austin Teachers college in Nacogdoches Saturday. The Eagles scored a 6 to 0 victory over the Abilene Christian college in a non-conference clash last week.

Two other T. I. A. A. teams triumphed in non-conference play last week. The San Marcos Teachers handed their arch-rivals, the Southwestern university Pirates, a 16 to 7 drubbing, and the West Texas Teachers scored a 6 to 0 victory over Phillips university of Enid, Okla.

Sam Houston's 6 to 0 triumph over the luckless East Texas Lions last week showed the Bearkats not so strong as they were in 1930.

OVER 40 ELEVENS ARE UNDEFEATED

(By The Associated Press)

Davis and Elkins college of Elkins, W. Va., leads the national list of undefeated football teams with six straight victories to her credit and an imposing point total of 253, far more than any rival.

The West Virginians also share, with four others, the honor of having an uncrossed goal line. Others in this class are Tennessee, Tulane, Southern of Florida, and Bowling Green of Ohio.

There are 43 teams in the country still unbeaten although 17 of these have been tied at least once. Southern Methodist ranks thirteenth in the national list although the Mustangs were tied with 15 other teams at 5 games won and none lost. S. M. U. has scored 122 points against 18 by opponents.

T. C. U. AND ARKANSAS TO MEET IN ONLY OTHER LOOP GO

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Proud of their five consecutive victories, two of them Southwest confeence games, and prouder still that they are one of the few undefeated elevens in the country, and that T. J. Oliver, halfback, is one of the conference leading scorers, Southern Methodist is ready for the game of games next Saturday against the University of Texas at Dallas.

En route from Cambridge and a 35 to 7 licking by Harvard, the University of Texas Longhorns were scheduled to arrive at Austin Tuesday. There they will prepare to invade Dallas to atone for their loss of football prestige.

Centenary Whipped

Southern Methodist, playing reserves in all but the first and fourth periods, whipped Centenary Saturday, 19 to 0. T. J. Oliver and Weldon Mason scored Southern Methodist's three touchdowns from running plays. The Mustangs were scheduled to go through the air but it was not necessary.

Only two southwest conference championship games will be played Saturday. While the Southern Methodist and Texas game will have a most vital bearing on the conference championship, Texas Christian's combat at Fayetteville against the University of Arkansas will be watched with interest.

Texas Christian is tied with Southern Methodist for the conference leadership, having won a 6 to 0 game from Texas A. and M. two weeks ago. Last Friday night, Texas Christian trimmed Simmons University at Abilene, 6 to 0.

Frogs Favorites

Boasting one of the strongest front walls in the conference, and a backfield of power, speed, weight and deception, Texas Christian is a powerful favorite over Arkansas.

Two non-conference games will be played. The Texas A. and M. Aggies go to Shreveport to play Centenary college. After being held scoreless the first half Saturday against Baylor, the Aggies broke loose in the final two periods to score five touchdowns and three points after touchdown for a 33 to 7 victory. Baylor will remain at Waco to entertain the Texas Tech Matadors.

The Rice Institute Owls who Saturday won a 32 to 0 game from the University of Ariona, will be idle this week.

Tom Heeney And Big Italian Will Fight

Heeney took a bad beating from Tunney three years ago but he still can give the lesser heavyweights plenty of competition.

TECH TEAM TO INVADE WACO FOR BATTLE

LOCAL GRIDSTERS TO TAKE TO ROAD IN HOPES OF WIN

Having wound up the first half of their schedule with a home stand victory over the Colorado College of Mines last Friday night, the Texas Tech Matadors take to the road again this week to open the second half against the Baylor university Bears at Waco. The game will be played next Saturday afternoon.

Tech's coaches, Pete Cawthon, Dutchey Smith and Weir Washam, returned yesterday from College Station where they saw the Baylor entry in the Southwest conference take a 33 to 7 lacing at the hands of the Texas Aggies Saturday, convinced that they have their hands full when they go up against the Bears Saturday. From their reports, Baylor roundly outplayed the Aggies in the first half, completely routing the Farmers with a barrage of overhead heaves and holding the Cadets to nearly nothing with a charging line and great display of defensive strength, only to crack under the strain of new power in the last half and wilt away.

Guard Against Passes

The week at Matador Field will be spent with freshmen and reserves running Baylor plays against the varsity, the latter concentrating on pass defense. They have shown up well under aerial attack so far this season, but not quite good enough, say their coaches now, to offset the bombing they will get Saturday.

The Matadors probably will leave Thursday for Waco, stopping enroute to practice and arriving at the destination Friday night or Saturday morning. They will travel by special bus, in which all Tech road trips will be made this year.

The Baylor game is one of the biggest contests on the Tech card this year, rating a close second in importance to the Haskell Indian game played at Dallas two weeks ago.

The University of Illinois is changing its law school program to allow students to specialize in law as in medicine.

"Old Roman" Is Taken By Death

DEATH VICTIM

Charles A. Comiskey, below, owner of the Chicago White Sox, died early today.

CHARLES A. COMISKEY DIES EARLY TODAY AT CAMP REFUGE

EAGLE RIVER, Wis., Oct. 26 (AP)—Baseball's Old Roman is dead.

Charles A. Comiskey, 72-year-old owner of the Chicago White Sox of the American league, died early today at his camp refuge here.

He had been in failing health several months. He rallied, however, when his club won the city series with the Chicago Cubs of the National. Sortly afterward, however, he began slowly sinking toward death.

The colorful old warrior whose life story was synonymous of the rise of professional baseball in America had taken refuge during his declining days in the quiet fastness of his forest tract here. His home stood out in its spacious beauty against acres of untouched wilderness.

Comiskey's body will be forwarded to Chicago where the "Old Roman" wrought his achievements.

Comiskey, who "fought for every point because through bitter experience I early learned that one lost decision may mean the loss of a pennant," began life on the sandlots of Milwaukee. His father, a politician, wanted to make a plumber out of him; but Charles Albert insisted on sneaking off to the ill provised diamonds to play third base at $68 a month.

After having built up the Sox from the beginning of the American league into an organization known the world over, the battling "Old Roman" caused a sensation when in 1920 he wrecked his machine on finding that the 1919 world series had been thrown to the Cincinnati club.

The White Sox never quite recovered from their 1920 slump, but to the end of his days, the "Old Roman" fought on, hopefully, untiringly.

FOUR UNDEFEATED IN WESTERN LOOP

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Western conference gridiron championship situation has been whittled down to four undefeated teams and next Saturday probably will see the select group reduced to two.

The most interesting engagement on the week's schedule, both as a battle and as it concerns the championship race, will be the traditional Wisconsin-Minnesota game at Minneapolis. Neither has been defeated in conference competition and they appear as evenly matched as any pair in the league.

Other Big Ten contests will bring Illinois and Northwestern together at Evanston, Purdue will meet Chicago's hapless Maroons at Chicago, and Ohio State will meet Indiana, which has not been beaten, on the Hoosier's field.

About the only surprises registered last week were the sizes of scores. Northwestern did just about as expected in removing the Ohio State menace, 10 to 0. Michigan surpassed all expectations by crushing Illinois, 35 to 0. Indiana, accorded a mild edge over Chicago, battered the Maroons into a state of helplessness and made off with a 32 to 0 victory. Minnesota was favored to take care of Iowa, but not by such margin as 34 to 0.

Thought For Today

Who knoweth the power of thine anger? Even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.—Psalms 90:11.

* * *

WHAT most increases anger is the feeling that one is in the wrong. —Richter.

Municipal Graft

The Seabury committee in New York seems to have uncovered very definite traces of a large and obnoxious Senegambian in the municipal woodpile.

Those city and county officials who banked several hundred thousand dollars apiece on salaries of six, eight and ten thousand a year were either the most thrifty citizens the nation has ever known—or else they were up to something highly peculiar. They can hardly complain if the general public assumes the second answer is the correct one.

What will happen to them remains to be seen. The whole business, of course, is New York City's own affair; but the rest of the country, watching with interest and amazement, will be disappointed if the population of Manhattan's jails is not materially increased in the near future.

Recovering

There are signs, here and there, that a real business recovery is not so very far away.

For example, there is a report made recently by the White Motor Co., which manufactures trucks. During the last few months business firms have been ordering new trucks in substantial volume; in the first 10 days of this month 161 new orders were received, and the White factory, as a result, is a busy place these days.

Now this reflects some sort of revival in confidence on the part of a good many industrial leaders. No firm is going to buy new trucks in quantity unless it has good reason to believe that presently it will be doing more business than it has been doing in the past. This incident would seem to be one of the autumn's most encouraging developments.

Fertile Manchuria

To comprehend the background of the current trouble in Manchuria, it is necessary first of all to realize that agriculture in the Orient is by no means the depressed and discouraged industry that it is in the United States.

China and Japan suffer from over-population. Their people often go hungry, not because of a business depression but because it is hard to raise enough food for them on the land available. And Manchuria is, potentially, one of the world's garden spots. Its soil and climate are murh like those of the American middle west. It represents a fertile granary for hungry millions.

Recognizing that fact, one can more easily understand why both China and Japan are trying to get possession of the country. China is always hungry; Japan is always looking for room for her surplus millions. Their collision was inevitable—and, by the same token, it will not easily be settled.

J. C. COX, a tinsmith who works for the L. W. Erwin shop, has made a bust fashioned after the skull, neck and physiognomy of The Plainsman. The similarity between The Plainsman and the bust is not striking, save possibly in the fact that the head is empty.

HERE'S A BIG TREAT FOR THE LADIES

Hey, Ladies! The Plainsman, himself in person, is going to greet the ladies who attend The Avalanche-Journal's Eighth Annual Free Cooking school, starting at the Uptown Dance Palace tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Plainsman was selected for this very important duty when Miss Christeen Chitwood, the instructor, wired "please get man in Lubbock who most closely approaches Maurice Chevalier".

Parker Prouty, the business manager of The Avalanche-Journal, chose The Plainsman to greet the ladies

"Approach Chevalier?" he exclaimed. "The Plainsman's way ahead of him—not only in Elinor Glynn's "IT", but also in waist measure!"

See you ladies tomorrow!

Mr. Cox took a piece of tin—a flat piece—and, with a hammer and a soldering iron, has fashioned a very creditable piece of work.

He says his wife is going to use the bust for a door-stop, which gives rise to the suggestion that The Plainsman's head is at least good for something!

THEY'RE in the big middle of a nervous rigor up in Amarillo. They can't figure out who to support in next Saturday's game—Lubbock or Pampa. The way it looks now, Amarillo's delegation of something like 500 grid bugs will be well divided, half rooting for the Harvesters and the other half howling for Weldon Chapman's Westerners.

Mason King, the fellow who does the work for the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, was in to see The Plainsman the other day.

"Plainsman", he said, "we're in a switch. We don't know what to do. There's Pampa, right in our own territory. And here's our old friend Lubbock, for years the Sandies' greatest rival for football supremacy in this district. It looks like we'll just have to split up and that's the way the folks are all talking in Amarillo."

WES IZZARD, managing editor of the Amarillo Globe, called over the long distance telephone.

"Plainsman", he declared, "don't get excited because Col. Erasmus Tack, the Tactless Texan, says he's going to root for Pampa. The rest of us in the office here are going to divide up on the proposition and Wilbur Hawk, who wears the brass collar around the News-Globe, the Tri-State fair and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is going to come out for Lubbock. Wilbur says no more than half the bosses should be for any one of the two teams."

And that's the way it is all over Amarillo. They just can't decide what they ought to do and what they want to do.

But anyway Amarillo is going to have a big delegation at Pampa Saturday and The Plainsman doesn't think the Westerners are going to disappoint those who are looking for vengeance for the thumping the Harvesters handed the Sandies something like a week ago.

COACH CHAPMAN, confidentially, isn't worrying a great deal about who Amarillo is going to be rooting for. He doesn't think that's going to make a lot of difference in the final score.

"All I'm interested in", he says, "is the way the Westerners play against the Harvesters. If they play their best we won't need sideline support from Amarillo."

The main thing is for plenty of Lubbock people to go to Pampa and help the Westerners do the "pouring on."

If the home town folks will back our ball club like they ought to, we'll have that District championship this year—the one we've been chasing so long.

SPEAKING of football reminds The Plainsman that the athletic departments of Tech and Lubbock High ought to get together a little closer and remember that the fans have some consideration coming to them.

In arranging their schedules from here on out they should give a little and take a little, so that there'll be a Thanksgiving game in Lubbock every year—Tech here one year, Lubbock High here the next.

Tech has a Thanksgiving contract with Simmons. Lubbock High has one with Amarillo. Both are 'home and home' contracts, calling for alternate appearances in the cities affected.

This year both Tech and the Westerners are away from home—and now they'll work the thing out next year is still a matter of mystery.

Somebody's going to have to give and somebody's going to have to take. It remains to be seen which 'un is which 'un.

THE same kind of a deal should hold forth on Armistice day, with the Matadors and the high school playing in Lubbock on one Nov. 11th and away on the next, but with one team here every year.

Since we have two institutions capable of putting on a good football show every year there's no occasion for conflicting dates. The fans, who pay the freight, should be served—especially when a settlement wouldn't cost anybody anything.

Meeting Depression On Own Terms, American Business Men Resort To All Sorts Of Plans To Drag In Pennies

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—American business men, with business not so good, have been stimulated to try out all sorts of new stunts and other efforts designed to attract trade, one finds in reports which the Department of Commerce picks up here and there. Hotels are developing the idea of providing room, meals, sightseeing shows and other entertainment at a combination rate for the entire service, increasing their flow of guests. All-expense week-ends are becoming more popular and were offered especially in resort hotels during the summer.

DUTCHER

"Miniature" trout-fishing has succeeded the pee-wee golf craze in some states and Fisheries Commissioner Henry O'Malley thinks it may become generally as popular as the pee-wee enterprise did for awhile. Concrete pools and raceways are installed and stocked with legal sized trout obtained from commercial hatcheries. The "player" pays a fee for admission and use of tackle and then so much an inch for such fish as he catches. He can keep the fish of course, to eat. Suitable surroundings and water supply are necessary, however, limiting the possibilities of this new "industry" in the cities.

Eight merchants in one city combined to persuade everybody to throw away straw hats and buy fall hats Sept. 15. They got the mayor to proclaim an "official fall hat day," released from airplanes old hats tier to parachuts and gave new hats tied to parachutes and gave new hats to the finders when they presented them to the stores from which they originally came.

A beverage firm in the northwest is using "living billboards," with live models, to attract customers. Big crowds gather before them and business at nearby soda fountains has picked up surprisingly.

Grocery chains are extending their closing times and may now be found open from 6:30 p. m., as in Washington, to as late as 10 p. m., a closing hour reported from some western cities.

A New York department store has been promoting a "Dress-of-the-Month" scheme, carrying "the smartest dress in New York, priced reasonably" and in a limited edition, for a month at a time and no longer.

Many "national weeks" are being ballyhooed, most conspicuously "National Wool Week" beginning No. 9 and designed to interest consumers in products made from wool.

Booksellers are offering trade-in allowances after the fashion of automobile dealers. Many of them allow 25 cents for clothbound, second-hand books on the purchase of any new book, although the book traded in has to be considered salable on second-hand tables.

A sports shop has an annual "best-dressed golfer" contest in connection with the annual city tournament, stimulating sales for golfing outfits. Another store during the summer gave away four free swims in a local pool with each bathing suit sold.

A Canadian mail order house is issuing a new catalogue every two months instead of each six months and a mail order house in the United States has inaugurated a monthly publication to supplement its catalogue.

CAUSE OF CRIME

Dr. Walter Timme was interviewed on his return from Europe this year and stated that, in his opinion, as the result of research, crime was due to an increase of calcium in the blood of criminals.

Dr. Clendening

So ridiculous is such a pronouncement that one would like to think that Dr. Timme had been misunderstood, or misquoted by a busy reporter with an exaggerated news sense. But Dr. Timme's habit for such pronouncements rather inclines one to a less charitable view.

As a matter of authentic record Dr. Timme stated a few years ago that criminals were caused by lack of pituitary secretions in the blood. He stated it in print under his own name in an article in the magazine section of one of the New York papers.

At that time before calcium had swum into his ken Dr. Timme had found a young boy who had too little pituitrin in the blood, and the boy was a bad boy, running hither and yon in the neighborhood, going so far as to do a little stealing. His parents were annoyed at this, and took him to a physician to be examined. Thus it was found that he was suffering from lowered secretion of the pituitary gland.

So he was given some pituitary secretion hypodermically and, lo and behold, he stopped running hither and yon and ceased stealing. All went merry as a marriage bell until one day they ran out of pituitary secretion to give him so he did not get his daily dose, and he broke into a house and recommenced his stealing. Which proved apparently that it really was the low pituitary secretion that made him a criminal.

There is a large school of thought which believes the general theory of which this is one example, that peculiar conduct, whether actually criminal or of a less troublesome variety, is due to some physical condition of the body—whether lack of an essential chemical agent, or, as is the more popular idea, a small bone pressing on some part of the brain. Unfortunately such ideas cannot be accepted in any whole-hearted spirit for the very good reason that many people have these peculiar chemical deficiencies or pressure on the brain without being criminals, and also because people are criminals with perfectly normal blood chemistry and without bones pressing on the brain.

One would have a little more confidence in the ideas if Dr. Timme would make up his mind exactly what it is that is the cause of crime. When it is calcium one year and pituitary deficiency another it causes a natural confusion and prevents one from going out and doing battle for the cause. If it is calcium, there is much work to be done.

COPS ROPE 'GATORS

ST. LOUIS—There's no telling what strange duties may befall the lot of policemen, as three of the local cops have found. Very early in the morning they received a call from Richard P. Grossenheider that two alligators had broken out of a pen in the rear of his home and were wandering about the neighborhood. The policemen grabbed ropes and after a struggle succeeded in roping the 'gators much in the fashion of a cowhand roping a calf.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Althought Max Steuer and William Untermeyer occupy the spotlight as Manhattan's most prominent legal lights, still the legends and truths concerning a certain William Fallon go on.

Just this morning a note came to my desk announcing that the cinema would use Fallon as a film story character. And Gene Fowler has done a biography titled, "The Great Mouthpiece."

Without having ever known or seen Mons. Fallon, I think he would have liked the notion of being perpetuated in the movies. He appears to have been a showman unto himself; a lawyer who was a consummate actor with Broadway as his stage and its people as his clients.

One of the favorite yarns concerns his love for Gertrude Vanderbilt. She showed no great inclination toward returning his affection, so one day he urged her to come to court to hear him plead a case. Nicky Arnstein, one-time spouse of Fannie Brice, was on trial. And Fallon was making a double plea: for his client and the heart of a girl. He was successful in both instances.

Then there's the famous story of his own trial. Bribery had been charged and Fallon represented himself in one of the most dramatic trials on record. He was, of course, acquitted.

Back of all this was the story of a lad who rose from the New York streets to the status of a great actor-lawyer—a story that is repeated year after year. Some become builders of skyscrapers and some become governors, statesmen and great bankers.

The sidewalks of New York appear to spawn ever-fresh materia, for the high places!

AL Smith, of course, has become a symbol of the "sidewalks of New York," and a sterling example of how far a pavement kid can climb. Or you can take almost any of the merchant princes of the big town and trace them back to humble beginnings. The theatre, in particular, points to the struggle of its outstanding figures.

Al Woods, they'll tell you once popped out of doorways selling sidewalk trinkets. The Erlangers, Hammersteins and Shuberts came up gradually from the bottom. David Belasco was a poor kid from the west coast who came to town as a "ham" stage manager.

Weber and Fields were products of the old Ghetto. So were Berlin and Cantor and Jessel and a score of others.

And New Yorkers never cease boasting of their native sons and daughters, largely because so many famous folk come from other sections of the realm.

HARLEM, even as Greenwich Village, wearies of being identified with orgies, rent parties and high life.

The negro section of New York keeps up an unending propaganda for the poets, artists and composers who make the black belt their home. Just now the huge negro settlement is trying to discover an aviator of consequence and a fund is being donated toward a negro flyer willing to hop the Atlantic.

A golden eagle with a wing spread of seven feet and claws 2 1-2 inches long was killed by a sheep rancher near Lampasas, Texas.

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

TWO CITIZENS HEARD ON DIFFERENT LINES

ON MRS. McPHERSON

Dear Plainsman: I read with interest your article about the "Four Square Gospel" and the reply in Thursday's paper.

All Christian Bible students know that McPhersonism, along with all isms, are of Satan. Read Matt. 15:8-9—24:24—2 Corinthians 11:-13:14:15. Any religion that leaves out the atoning blood is not Christianity.

Since Adam's fall men have been trying to find a way to Heaven through good works, but it can't be done.

The only way is for man to accept through Faith what Christ did on Calvery's cross. John 3:16:-17:18 and 36; Romans 1:16; First Corinthians 1:18; Eph. 2:8:9 and the rest of the Bible.

Can't the Sunday school lessons, that are printed in Saturday's Avalanche, be printed in a clearer type so it can be read with enjoyment?

(Signed) A Bible Student.

(Dear Bible Student: Thanks for your letter. The Saturday lessons are printed in small type so a long dissertation can be included. Printed in larger type the lessons would take up too much space. Yours truly The Plainsman.)

SCHOOL TEACHER WRITES

Dear Plainsman: Everybody seems to be working hard to relieve suffering among the unemployed this coming winter. That is mighty fine I tell you, mighty fine. Last year plans weren't made early enough and a lot of people suffered unnecessarily. But that won't happen again. All the national, state and private agencies are to be commended for the preparation that they are making for the coming winter. Especially do we notice the mighty effort of our neighboring state of Louisiana. They are trying something new over there in the way of unemployment relief. They are true pioneers in their line. It looks like that they are going to solve their unemployment problem by making governors out of all their unemployed. It's a great idea excepting for a few good reasons.

In the first place even if they made governors out of all of them they would still be unemployed, same as other governors, and in the second place putting men into public office is a measure to relieve unemployment only under normal conditions and this being an unusual emergency they surely don't expect ordinary measures to cope with it.

Maybe the Louisiana program for relief is just a little too advanced for the times. Perhaps they should have begun by merely making deputy sheriffs out of their unemployed and worked on up as the conditions demanded. I don't think that the present crisis justified their making everybody governor to begin with. Yours unrelieved.

The Country School Teacher.

AGRICULTURE

eon is to be held with bankers and others. In the late afternoon the two agent groups will meet again for their 1932 program.

Tonight at the Titman Egg corporation plant Paul Cunyus, extension poultry husbandman, assisted by H. L. Shrader, Department of Agriculture poultry expert, will give a turkey and chicken killing demonstration. There will be 15 or 20 turkeys killed and dressed and some chickens. Late methods will be explained.

Demonstration Slated

Tuesday morning the sessions will be held as usual, with a demonstration of beef killing methods at the McDonald Packing plant where five beeves are to be killed. Wednesday morning the beeves will be dressed.

Miss Murray announced the program for the ladies to include plans for the coming year and the extension of the work to include hundreds of farm women in each county not now reached. These subjects will be handled Monday and Tuesday. The women will attend the meat curing demonstrations and the poultry demonstration.

I. W. Hill, Washington, D. C., field agent for boys and girls club work in the Southern states, was the first speaker at the joint session this morning. "You ought to do more club work," he told the agents. "Mr. Evans here told me about seven boys who influenced 80 farmers in one of these West Texas counties. There should be 14 boys to influence 160 farmers."

The club work first started with girls' clubs, later spreading to work among boys. O. B. Martin, now head of the extension work in Texas, was credited with originating the present 4-H club name and emblem.

H. L. Shrader, also of Washington, who is spending a week here with Paul Cunyus, poultry expert, told of his observations among the poultry breeders of Texas and the southwest. "I never saw such an area where they are feeding so much to their birds," he said in talking of the change of turkey raising areas from the east and northeast to the southwest. No livestock in the past few years has made as much progress as the turkey industry," he said, adding that in 1920 Texas became the leading turkey producing state.

"One of the greatest inspirations of my life is to come up here on the Plains and work with the people of this territory," Mr. Martin said. He told some of the early history of the starting of extension work and of Dr. Knapp and his son Dr. Bradford Knapp, both Texas leaders of agriculture and education. "Do the next thing" was the expression Dr. Knapp used most frequently in talking to county agents," he said.

Work Well Balanced

Miss Horton said that "in some states there is a feeling that they are going to have to make some radical changes because of conditions" but added that the work in Texas was so well balanced that there probably would not have to be many radical changes.

"Our next step is the reaching of more people," she went on. "In this section I am happy to say, I am told by the Red Cross that no people had to be fed by the Red Cross during the drouth work last year.

The South Plains counties, she pointed out, were among the first counties to seek to reach women on the farms not heretofore reached by extension work.

Among others introduced were Miss Zetha McInnis and Miss Lola Blair, extension service specialists; Bob Lancaster a South Texas district agent leader, A. L. Smith, extension beef cattle specialist, M. T. Payne, boys and girls club leader; Roy Snyder and Paul Cunyus of the extension staff; K. M. Renner and H. J. Bower of Texas Technological college school of agriculture faculty and S. W. Ross, secretary of the Floydada chamber of commerce.

H. H. Williamson, assistant director, was the closing speaker at the morning session.

unty of Mrs. Bell Williams, mother-in-law of Jackson. Officers quoted her as saying Jackson came to her home early yesterday, inquired about his estranged wife, and then said:

"I'm going back to Bethcar (the section where he lived) and wipe out one family and then come back here and wipe out another."

Dari Jackson, uncle of George, was the only person at his home to escape the carnage spread by his crazed nephew.

The slayer and his wife separated some time ago. Officers said Jackson shot and wounded her shortly before they separated and about 10 years ago shot and wounded Hamp Jackson after a quarrel.

Man Charged With Robbery, Assault

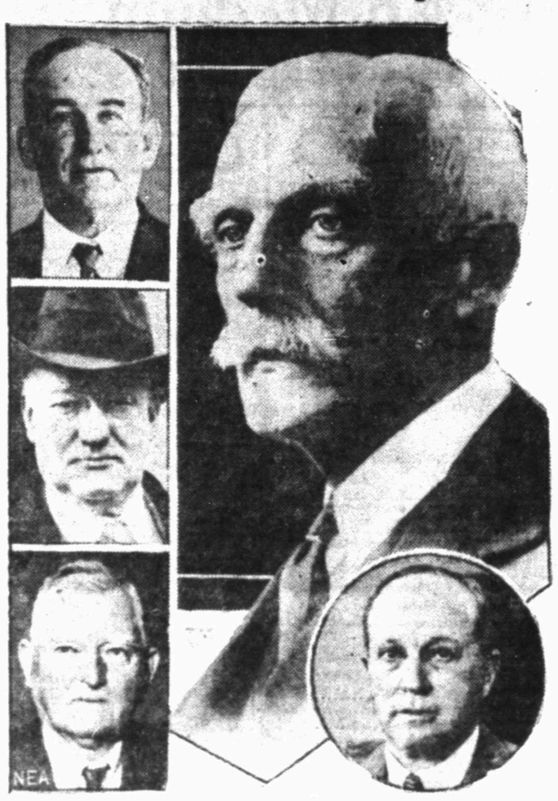

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Marvin Brown, 30, a gravel truck driver, has been charged with criminally attacking an 18-year-old girl and robbing her escort, Robert Brown.

In the complaints the truck driver was accused of accosting the couple last Monday night while they were sitting in a parked automobile on a highway in front of a sandwich stand.

He allegedly forced them at the point of a pistol to drive him to a deserted spot in the country, where he robbed Brown of $3 and criminally attacked the girl. He asserted he threatened Brown with death if he interfered.

Brown and the girl identified the truck driver Saturday as the perpetrator of the offense. He was apprehended in a round-up of suspects.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today at a decline of 10 to 16 points on selling orders principally from the south. There also was evidence of European and local selling.

There was enough covering and trade buying to give the market a fairly steady tone right after the call. However, the selling continued with December easing off to 6.71 and March to 6.95, or about 14 to 16 points net lower. The report of the census bureau showed ginnings of 9,498,041 bales prior to October 18th, making an outturn of about 4,087,627 bales for the first October period, or the largest on record.

Liverpool cables reported hedging liquidation and trade calling and said the demand for cotton cloths and yarns was well sustained with more mills reopening.

The early decline extended to 6.67 for December and 6.93 for March making net losses of about 18 to 20 points on the general list. Southern selling was not much in evidence after the first half hour however and there was sufficient covering or trade buying to give the market a fairly steady tone later in the morning. At midday trading was quiet with the active months showing rallies of a point or two from the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Cotton had an easier opening today. Liverpool cables were somewhat worse than due and the census bureau reported total ginnings prior to Oct. 18 at 9,498,041 running bales, which was larger than expected, being 4,089,734 bales for the period Oct. 1 to 18, said to be the largest for that period on record.

First trades showed losses of 9 to 12 points and the market continued to ease after the start on liquidation by recent buyers. December dropping to 6.73, January to 6.82, and March to 6.93, or 11 to 13 points below Saturday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was a shade steadier and had recovered one to four points from the lows.

The market continued reactionary all morning. The large ginning total continued good weather in the belt and the weak technical position due to the recent sharp advance induced liquidation by recent buyers, more or less selling by ring traders and also some hedge-selling.

Prices eased off to 6.67 for December, 6.79 for January and 6.90 for March, or 16 to 17 points down from Saturday's close.

Trading was rather moderate.

Near noon, the market was quiet and steady and near the lows.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Grain prices turned downward early today, influenced by Liverpool wheat quotations relatively unresponsive to recent advances on this side of the Atlantic. Notice also was taken of Paris official disclaimers of reported plans that France would make large purchases of United States government sponsored wheat. Opening 1-8 to 1 cent lower, wheat continued to sag. Corn started 1-8 to 5-8 off and subsequently receded further.

Carloads of watermelons are being shipped from Post, Garza county, Texas.

GUARDSMEN ARRIVE

DENISON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Gov. William H. Murray re-established martial law at the Red river free bridge north of Denison this morning by sending a detachment of 30 national guardsmen, under command of Col. John A. MacDonald, to guard the structure and the approach road on the Oklahoma side.

A strip about one mile in length leading to the bridge was placed under guard. Two militiamen took their posts on the bridge near the Texas bank of the river.

The guardsmen arrived in trucks shortly after daybreak and pitched camp on a high hill near the Oklahoma approach road. Apparently they were under instructions to keep the bridge open in the event of federal court at Muskogee, Okla., granting an injunction to close it.

HEARING POSTPONED

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 26. (AP)—A federal court hearing on an attempt to block the red river free bridge south of Durant was postponed today until November 2, after Governor Murray had ordered troops to the span to enforce a state of martial law.

Federal court attaches said they had been advised by U. S. District Judge John C. Pollock, in a telephone conversation from Kansas City, that the judge would hear the petition of the Red River Bridge Co., owner of a parallel toll bridge, a week from today, at Kansas City, Kan.

Judge Pollock was quoted as saying he had not understood the hearing was scheduled today.

was spent to make money.

Antiquated rolling stock and locomotives — and the Great Western had more than a-plenty of these—were scrapped. Niney-five engines went to the scrap heap; close to 4,000 freight cars were piled on top. Thirty-six new locomotives were purchased. The new equipment cost close to $6,000,000.

But it paid for itself in elimination of repair costs. And money saved on these repairs was used to build up the roadbeds and track age.

Many freight runs were abolished. In their place sped faster, more powerful freights.

Although it has one of the smallest of all standing armies among the great nations of the world, the United States last year spent more than any other nation on armaments. Other nations spent for arms in the order: Soviet Union, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, India, Germany, Spain.

JOSEE MISSES HER TRAIN BUT HAS GOOD DAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Mlle. Josee Laval, the French premier's daughter, saw American aturday to suit her own chance whims—all because of a missed train.

She was to have gone with Mlle Reine Claudel, the French ambassador's daughter, to Princeton to see the Tiger-Navy football game, but she delayed too long at translating for her father and President Hoover before the sound cameras.

So she rode through Rock Creek park, with her pretty, petite French friend, Mme. Raymond Patenotre; had a lingering lunch at the Mayflower hotel; took in a catch-as-catch-can movie matinee; and went dashing down to union station to see Mme. Patenotre off for Philadelphia.

She had to run the full length of the platform to catch the Philadelphia train, and when at last Josee stood all alone, waving her friend a last farewell, she said:

"Disappointed at not seeing Princeton play? — yes, — but I had a good day!"

GIRL FLIER

plained by the 25-year-old Los Angeles girl's backer, Joseph Martin, broker and aviation enthusiast.

Martin, who comes from Los Angeles, said Miss Burns will start from Tokyo next April with a light load of gasoline. A male aviator will go up with her and help fill her plane's fuel tanks to capacity from a refueling ship. Then the aviator will jump out in a parachute, while Miss Burns speeds out over the Pacific toward Seattle, which she hope sto reach over the "great circle" course without a stop.

She plans to collect $28,000 in prizes at Seattle, then go on to Dallas to get $25,000 more. Martin said he had assurances that Col. William E. Easterwood, jr., chewing gum king, who gave Coste and Bellonte $25,000, would present Miss Burns a similar prize if she is successful. Then she hopes to come to New York—and perhaps fly to Paris.

Miss Burns, who formerly lived in El Paso, is Auburn-haired and has "the courage to show what a woman can do in aviation if given a break," Martin said. Her ship will be called the "Miss Olympic 1932" in honor of the Olympic games at Los Angeles next summer.

YOUTHS FRESH FROM COLLEGE READY TO GRASP WHEELS OF INDUSTRY WHEN BUSINESS AGAIN HITS ON ALL FOUR

BY MORRIS C. WATSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—When business starts hitting on all four, it appears there will be plenty of youths fresh from college ready to grasp the wheels of industry.

Survey of registration in American schools this fall shows a noticeable trend toward courses in business administration. More attention is being paid also to other courses which train the student for a job.

Arts Losing Ground

The strictly cultural arts and sciences appear to be losing ground along with theology and highly specialized studies.

The Harvard business school enrolled 20 more students on the first day of registration than were registered at the same time last year. Harvard's theological school lost 25 or more than 38 per cent of its 1930 enrollment.

Teachers' colleges filled up quickly and educational courses in universities generally attracted more students. The University of Minnesota gained 107 students in this department of education. The same university experienced gains in dental hygiene, pharmacy, chemistry and business administration and suffered a corresponding enrollment loss in liberal arts.

With few exceptions, the heads of universities attributed changes, whether loss or gain in total registration or trends toward certain courses, to economic conditions.

Competition Cited

The Rev. Patrick J. Mahan, president of Creighton university in Omaha, said increased enrollment there was due to the fact "that competition in the business world is keen and the unskilled, uneducated man faces almost insurmountable obstacles."

While economic conditions caused no marked change in the total number of students for 144 colleges surveyed, many changes were nevertheless noticed by the deans and registrars.

Bennett college for women initiated a change of its own to meet new conditions and permitted its students to pay registration fees with eggs, potatoes, apples, corn meal and other farm produce.

The effect of students attending the nearest school was especially evident in the Norfolk, Va., division of William and Mary college where enrollment jumped from 185 last year to 400 this year.

More than 2,000 of the 6,000 students at the University of Pennsylvania planned to work their way through, and a third of the applicants at the University of Oklahoma failed to appear on registration day because they lacked funds.

With the aid of two hooks, one of which snagged the fish's tail, Lewis Allee of Hamilton, Mo., landed a 50-pound catfish.

Nun Honored

After 60 years of unselfish service to women in St. Lazare prison for women in Paris, Justine Julie Latenligne, above, who is 78 and known as Sister Leonide, has been made an officer in the French Legion of Honor. She has not left the prison yard since she entered the service at the time of the troubles of the Commune. Mata Hari, famous spy who was executed, was one of her charges.

COOKING SCHOOL

the four-day school for the benefit of women in Lubbock and the surrounding territory.

Recipes will be given from the stage so those who attend are to bring pencil and paper. Miss Chitwood will follow these recipes with the actual preparation of dishes. She will answer questions and will open her school for discussion of homemaking problems among the women who are in attendance.

Her program for Tuesday afternoon, the first day of the school, includes meat loaf with macaroni, orange and ginger ale cocktail, spinach salad, cake and pie.

On the various afternoons she will include economical dishes and those practical for the busy housewife, as well as give suggestions to the party hostess for her food preparation.

The class will open promptly at 2 o'clock each afternoon and doors of the hall will be opened at 1:30 o'clock in order that those who attend may be seated for the beginning of the lecture.

On Friday, the last day of the school, there is to be a pie and cake baking contest, fostered by the Lubbock Parent-Teacher association council and the other agencies back of the school. Foods entered in the contest will be displayed at the dance palace.

HOOVER, LAVAL

give any such guarantee, however, was so far out of the question that the premier did not even suggest it.

Mutual Aid Pledged

The more tangible immediate results of the negotiations embraced a pledge of mutual aid to preserve the French and American monetary systems on the gold standard; to cooperate in the stabilization of international exchange; and to work unitedly for the liberation, not only of frozen securities, but of what Mr. Hoover calls "frozen confidence."

A long official statement issued last night from the White House set forth in general terms the scope and accomplishments of the Friday-To-Sunday conferences. It was sponsored jointly by President Hoover and Premier Laval and most of yesterday was occupied in casting English and French official texts into thoroughly harmless diplomatic phrase.

From the beginning, M. Laval made a good impression on the American officials. They found him direct but not lacking a sense of humor. They spoke to him and were spoken to by him with a frankness often lacking in diplomacy.

Recent tests in Chicago showed 90 per cent of autos examined were defective in some safety device or other.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KINSEY

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF. © 1931 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies, standing by the well, heard Clowny very loudly yell, "I'll bet that I can carry any big jug on my head. If women here can do that trick, why, I can, too—and very slick." "All right," said Scouty, "Go ahead and prove what you have said."

Then Clowny snapped, "I'll do it now. Just watch me and you'll soon learn how." He grabbed a jug of water and then lifted it up high. But when upon his head 'twas set, it slipped and he got soaking wet. "Gee, that's enough!" he shouted. "No more fancy tricks I'll try."

They spent the balance of the day along the busy streets, at play. The Travel Man then said, "I think tomorrow we will go upon a trip right through the air." The Tinymites all shouted, "Where? And then the Travel Man replied "To good old Mexico!"

They all agreed that would be swell. That night they didn't sleep so well because they were excited. With the dawn they all arose, and went to where the airplane was. The engine started with a buzz. And as they left the ground, one Tiny shouted, "Off she goes!"

The trip to Mexico was fine. It seemed they flew a real straight line. Then, when they saw a town below, one Tiny cried, "We are here. The plane is sweeping toward the ground. I hope it doesn't bounce around." A real safe landing then was made, with not a thing to fear.

Right into town they promptly went, all happy lads and pleasure bent. Wee Coppy saw a funny cart. "Let's ride on that," he roared. "All right," replied the Travel Man. "I'll pay the owner, so you can." It wasn't very long until they all hopped aboard.

(The Tinymites sleep in a queer bed in the next story.)

Boy Killed, Others Injured In Mishap

ITALY, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—Ervin Yarbrough, 14, was killed instantly and several other persons injured one half mile north of here Saturday night when a heavy cotton truck plowed into a wagon on which 12 persons were riding.

Four of the injured, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Yarbrough, their small daughter, and Mrs. Alvis Spann were taken to hospitals.

All of those injured were expected to recover.

The Yarbrough youth's head was crushed and his body mangled badly.

Roy Goff of Dallas, driver of the truck, said he was blinded by an approaching car's lights and did not see the wagon until he was within ten feet of it.

Former U. S. Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts, started rumors going through his recent visit to President Hoover's Rapidan camp. Politicians believed he had been asked to take over the chairmanship of the Republican national committee during the 1932 campaign. Butler held that post during the Coolidge campaign.

NATION'S LEADING GRID SCORERS

(By The Associated Press)

Although both were held scoreless Saturday, Bob Monnett of Michigan State and Louis Bush of Massachusetts State retain their lead over the field in the race for national individual football scoring honors.

Monnett's 11 touchdowns and 18 points after touchdown gives him the national lead by a single point over Bush who has tallied 83 points on 13 touchdowns and five points after touchdown.

The leader in each of the nation's nine major groups of conferences follows:

Midwest-Monett, Michigan State, 84; East-Bush, Massachusetts State, 83; Rocky Mt. Christensen, Utah, 59; South-Brewer, Duke, 50; Pacific-Mohler, Southern Calif., 42; Big Ten-MacDougall, Minnesota, 36; Southwest-Ledbetter, Arkansas, 30; Oliver, Southern Meth., 30; Frye, Rice, 30; Missouri Val.-Barham, Okla., Aggies, 30; Big Six-Graham, Kansas State, 30.

TROJANS FAVORED ON WEST COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A football season that has barely passed the halfway mark found Southern California perched at the top today in the battle for Pacific Coast conference honors with every indication they would win the 1931 championship.

The Trojans posted their fourth conference victory by snatching a 6-0 game from California's Bears Saturday.

Without a game scheduled for next Saturday, the Trojans will have two weeks to prepare for their Nov. 7 contest with Stanford.

Stanford stock dropped somewhat following Saturday's setbacks the with Washington, a team defeated earlier in the season by Oregon. Next Saturday, Stanford will meet the University of California at Los Angeles.

The only other conference engagement listed for next Saturday will pit Oregon State against Washington State, at Portland.

FOOTBALL STARS OF SATURDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Vernon Smith, Georgia—snatched pass over goal line, kicked the point, forced a Vanderbilt safety to account for all his team's nine points.

Bud Parker, Yale—Grabbed kickoff and ran 88 yards for a touchdown to tie Army, 6-6.

Earl Sparling, Southern California—Scored only touchdown of the game with California on ancient end-around play.

Pug Rentner and Ollie Olson, Northwestern—former ran 49 yards for touchdown and latter kicked field goal to beat Ohio State, 10-0.

Marchemont Schwartz and Mike Koken, Notre Dame—Their accurate passing beat Pittsburgh, 25-12.

Jack Crickard, Harvard—Scored three touchdowns against Texas.

Gar Wood Fails To Break Speed Mark

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Gar Wood's attempt to set a new speedboat record has ended in partial failure.

The veteran Detroit sportsman piloted his Miss America six at an announced average speed of 104.019 miles an hour in the two one-mile dashes up and down the Harlem river to better the previous American record. But he fell far short of Kaye Don's record of 110.223 set on Lake Garda in Italy earlier this year.

Wood's time exceeded the best previous American mark of 102.256 held by himself but there was considerable doubt whether official recognition of yesterday's performance would be forthcoming. Times were not recorded electrically.

CONVENTION CARDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Anti-Saloon League of America will hold its biennial national convention in Washington January 15 to 19 next year. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Chicago and Senator Shepherd of Texas, co-author of the 18th amendment, have accepted invitations to speak.

Pig iron production in Alabama during the last 17 years increased faster than the rate for the United States.

CLYDE PANGBORN GUESSES THAT HE WILL GO BACK TO "BARNSTORMING"

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn guesses he'll go back to "barnstorming."

You can make a living at that, at least. This business of flying around the world—braving death in a dozen ways and beating a path across the fogbound Pacific—gets you only a lot of trouble, a lot of strange food, some experience and a deficit.

Pangborn, veteran army and air circus pilot, disclosed that up to now the round-the-world venture he accomplished with Hugh Herndon, jr., well-to-do aviation enthusiast, is distinctly "in the red."

"We sank over $40,000 in the flight," he said after a dinner given him and Herndon by R. H. Fleischmann, magazine publisher. "We're still a considerable sum short of making up that sum, even with the $25,000 check we received from the Tokyo newspaper. Maybe after we arrange to sell a few testimonals and the like we'll have the $40,000 back and a little to spare. But nothing to write home about."

But neither has any regrets. Both said they would not forego the experience and the memories of their exploit for anything.

Weatherford, Texas, has averaged shipping a thousand carloads of watermelons annually for the past fifteen years.
