The SDN Column

Snyder City Councilmen have been engaged for several weeks in one of the more tedious chores with which they are saddled by virtue of their membership on the council.

They are trying to determine how much increase in rates Lone Star Gas Co is entitled to in Snyder. The gas company has applied for rate increases in municipalities throughout its system in the wake of a decision by the Texas Railroad Commission granting an increase in the rates the distribution systems pay for gas at the city "gates." Lone Star asked Snyder for a rate increase amounting to approximately 25 per cent, to be attained by increasing the minimum bill from $1 per month to $1.25 per month, plus an increase of 19 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas consumed above the 400 cubic feet which is covered in the minimum bill.

City councilmen, whose memories are not necessarily of short duration, seized upon the occasion to revive a request of their own. Several months ago when a request for a franchise extension was presented by the gas company, the city asked about the possibility of increasing the gross receipts tax paid by the company to the city from two per cent to three per cent. The city can levy two per cent, but the additional one per cent could be levied only by consent of the gas company.

"They told us then to wait until we discussed new rates," said one councilman. "That time has arrived."

Councilmen noted that one utility company here voluntarily added one per cent of its gross receipts tax and they had heard reports that another gas company is voluntarily paying three per cent to all cities it serves.

It has been generally agreed that Lone Star is entitled to a rate increase, but the amount is at issue. After several weeks of study, the council agreed to offer an increase of 13 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and to hike the minimum from $1 to $1.15, plus a request that the gross receipts tax be opened for discussion again. And so, the maneuvering continues.

In answer to a question, Fire Chief Alfred Kohl advises that state regulations now require that abandoned refrigerators, etc., have their doors removed to eliminate a hazard to small children. For some reason, such abandoned appliances seem to attract youngsters and there was a time when deaths from suffocation occurred frequently because toddlers crawled into old refrigerators and inadvertently locked themselves inside.

Firemen, policemen and sheriffs can file charges against persons who fail to take the necessary precautions, said Kohl.

WITH HOUSE-SENATE COMPROMISE

Tax Bill Chances Improve

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon indicated to Republican congressional leaders today that a House-Senate compromise on tax reform and relief has improved the chance that he will sign the measure into law.

But Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the President did not rule out completely the tax bill veto he once threatened.

"The cuts made by the conference are a substantial improvement in the bill," Scott told newsmen after the White House meeting.

But he said Nixon did not disclose any final decision on the tax bill.

"... He has said that the inflationary impact has now been considerably reduced," Scott said.

The huge tax bill, cracking down on many preferences but also passing out extensive tax cuts and Social Security benefits, is set for passage by Congress before Christmas.

It would boost the personal income tax exemption from the current $600 to $750 over the next three years, raise Social Security benefits to some 25 million Americans by 15 per cent across the board and ease tax rates for single persons.

President Nixon, committed to a surplus budget to fight inflation, said previously he would veto a too-generous tax measure. His remarks apparently were aimed at the bill as passed by the Senate which voted on $800 personal exemption.

After a Senate-House conference committee completed work on the measure Friday, it came much closer in its revenue effect to an earlier House version Nixon indicated he would accept. Moreover, it provides a surplus of revenue in the two years the President is most concerned about—$6.47 billion in 1970 and $288 million in 1971—although the projections show a net loss later.

The administration fought the increase in the personal tax exemption to the end. This provision would raise the exemption for taxpayers and dependents to $650 as of next July 1, to $700 in 1972 and to $750 in 1973.

This would mean a family of four would increase its exempt income by $600 in 1973. This would mean a savings of $132 in taxes for the family of four in the 22 per cent marginal bracket.

The Social Security increase is 5 per cent higher than the administration proposed, but the conference committee eliminated $2.2 billion in additional features the Senate had voted.

Another costly Senate item sliced out of the bill was a provision to allow tax credits for college expenses.

Revenue-producing features of the measure would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 22 per cent, increase taxes on large capital gains, set a minimum tax on preference income of high-bracket taxpayers, and trim a variety of other advantages, including hobby farming and big charitable gifts of value-appreciated property.

It also would repeal the 7 per cent investment credit for business and extend the surtax at 5 per cent for six months — two actions Nixon recommended.

Supplies Shuttling Increase Detected

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The number of North Vietnamese trucks moving supplies south along the Ho Chi Minh trail has increased eight-fold since October, official sources said today.

In October, reconnaissance planes sighted about 250 trucks a week moving through eastern Laos, the sources said, but the number jumped to about 1,000 a week in November when the monsoon season ended and roads became more passable.

In the past two weeks however, more than 2,600 trucks a week have been sighted shuttling supplies south for a possible enemy offensvie early next year.

The U.S. Command has stepped up air strikes against the Ho Chi Minh road network, using fighter-bombers and B52s.

In Saigon American troops were warned to stay off the streets this weekend in anticipation of possible terrorist attacks.

Captured enemy documents called for increased attacks this weekend to mark the 23rd anniversary of the opening of the Viet Minh's war against the French and the 9th birthday of the National Liberation Front, political organization of the Viet Cong. In addition, enemy forces have often launched heavy attacks just before holiday truce periods. A rocket attack on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport Friday was the third incident in Saigon this week, spokesman said there was little activity on the battlefields.

Despite a ban on street demonstrations, several hundred persons marched on the National Assembly building Friday to demand action against three assemblymen accused of being Viet Cong sympathizers. Police stopped traffic to let the demonstrators cross a main street near the assembly building.

With obvious government approval—some of the demonstrators said they had been paid to participate—the crowd smashed open the front doors and invaded the chamber where about 80 assemblymen were meeting. Police took no firm action to halt the protest.

Political observers have viewed charges against the three legislators as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's campaign against anyone advocating neutralism or a coalition government as a way to end the war.

Sealy Rites Set Monday

Funeral service has been set for 2 p.m. Monday at the Bell-Seale Chapel here for N. J. Sealy, 76, who died Thursday afternoon in a traffic mishap.

The Rev. Marvin Rogers and the Rev. Cone Merritt will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be in the Hillside Memorial Gardens, under direction of Bell - Seale Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Ivy Sturdivant, Robert Greene, Prentice Smith, Park Hamilton, Paul Cumbie, Renal Rosson, Melvin Lewis and G. B. Williams.

Mr. Sealy was killed in a two-vehicle crash on U. S. Highway 84 in the northeast edge of Snyder. Two other persons were hospitalized for treatment of serious injuries following the mishap.

Arabs Meet To Unify Strategy

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Kings and presidents of 11 Arab states and representatives of three others and of Palestinian refugee groups were meeting here today to unify their strategy against Israel.

Informants said guerrilla chieftan Yasser Arafat, whose Palestinian raiders have captured the imagination of the Arab world, will try to convince the Arab leaders to abandon efforts for a political settlement with Israel.

But the sources added there are moderate Arab leaders who still believe a negotiated settlment is possible and they will try to win over those who advocate force.

The meeting is the fifth Arab summit and the first since August 1967 in Khartoam after Israel's victory over Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the June war.

It was called to coordinate the Arab's Military, financial and political efforts against the Jewish state.

The big two of the Arab world, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia, are expected to set the tone in the discussions.

Clan Member Hires Specialist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leslie Louise Van Houten, a member of a communal clan who is charged with conspiracy in the Sharon Tate slayings and with murder in two other killings, has a new lawyer—a specialist in his field.

Marvin L. Part, 38, a former deputy district attorney and a former deputy California attorney general, was appointed by the court Friday to represent the slim, brown-haired defendant.

"From what I know," Part said, "the girl has a defensible position."

Miss Van Houten, 19, of nearby Monrovia, appeared before Superior Court Judge William B. Keene for substitution of attorneys after it was learned she lacked funds to pay Donald Barnett, the private counsel initially slated to handle her case.

Keene said he appointed Part because the public defender's office is involved in another case—the murder last July 25 of Malibu musician Gary Hinman—and the possibility of conflict of interest might arise if the office also represented Miss Van Houten.

Police say the Hinman case and the other seven deaths are related.

Miss Van Houten is among six members of the Charles M. Manson hippie-style cult accused in the gunshot-stabbing deaths of Miss Tate and four other persons at the actress' rented Benedict Canyon mansion Aug. 9 and the knife slayings the following night of Leno LaBianca and his wife, Rosemary.

Newsmen later asked Part whether he would seek a separate trial for his client.

He replied: "When you take some defendants and put them in with other defendants that have a bad image, it can be harmful."

But he declined to give a definite answer, saying he would spend the weekend studying the grand jury transcript before entering her plea Monday.

Meantime, in Mobile, Ala., attorneys for Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, another of the defendants, were told they have until Dec. 29 to decide whether to fight her extradition to Los Angeles.

The date was set by Circuit Judge Joseph M. Hocklander Jr.

Alabama Gov. Albert Brewer had signed a warrant honoring an extradition request from California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Progress Made Says Rev. King

By DON McKEE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — As he turns 70, the father of slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says even the loss of his son was not too great a price to pay "for helping free his people," but he worries about continued white prejudices.

Interviewed Friday shortly before a testimonial dinner marking his 70th birthday, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. said great progress has been made by Negroes and still is being made.

But he said he fears that continued race prejudice and hate could result in mass killings by both races.

"America's too damn white, man, and it's ruining us," he said. "We can lose America."

He has ministered for 38 years at Ebenezer Baptist Church, site of the funeral of both his sons — Martin, shot to death in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, 1968 and the Rev. A.D. King who drowned in a swimming pool 15 months later. He has one other child, a daughter.

Of the progress made, he said: "It's great. It's great. If I had to go back, I'd go the same way. And I have got a great deal of strength even in the loss of my sons. They're just not dead. To me, they live, but they're just away."

Asked about Black Panthers and others who sometimes talk violently, he said: "Whites are responsible for this. If the white American power structure had listened to these people at the time they wanted to go to the bargaining table, you wouldn't have all these 'isms' and ungodly theories... America is too white and now the black is trying to out-black the white. This is sad."

Churches, King said, are the chief offenders where apathy toward problems is concerned.

"The church," he said, "is still segregated and wonders, 'What's the matter with these people?' It's just guilty of apathy at every point."

He pounded his fist on the desk.

"Tell these folks," he boomed, "that I am serious about this matter of brotherhood. I have no bitterness. I do not hate the man that took my son's life."

At the dinner, in a telegram read to the 1,000 black and white persons who attended, President Nixon pledged his support to the pursuit of "decency and justice" for all Americans.

Referring to the civil rights work of Dr. King Jr., the President said: "We shall not waiver in our efforts to see it fulfilled."

He said he had no further details.

Good Adverse Neutral

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband died nine years ago leaving me with two small children. Friends rushed in, offered their sympathy and we were promptly forgotten. Months, even years go by without an invitation to have dinner with a "complete" family.

I have often invited married couples and their families to my home for dinner, but they politely decline for they are not interested in coming to a lady's home where there are only the lady and her children. I have my women friends, and the children have their school friends, but aside from this, we don't even exist.

I once considered joining an organization for parents alone, but when the first invitation closed with, "bring your own bottle," I decided it wasn't for me.

8 Wildcats Drilled

AUSTIN (AP)—Most of Texas' wildcat drilling during the past week was in San Antonio's two districts, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The commission said eight wildcat oil wells were drilled, including four in San Antonio's No. 1 district and two in the No. 2 district and one each in the Midland and Wichita Falls districts.

That raised the total of wildcat oil wells for the year to 367, or 111 more than a year ago.

Thirteen wildcat gas wells were drilled, raising the yearly total to 606, or 193 more than a year ago. The week's total included two in San Antonio's No. 1 district, four in the No. 2 district, three in the Houston district and four in the Corpus Christi district.

The commission said 102 oil wells were completed during the week for a yearly total of 4,928, or 53 more than a year ago. A total of 36 gas wells were completed, hiking the yearly total to 2,279, or 145 more than a year ago.

The commission said 229 wells were plugged during the past week, including 123 dry holes.

PARENT ALONE

DEAR PARENT: I cannot imagine a "service organization" rebuffing your invitation in the manner (and for the reason) you describe. (In which city was this? I'd like to know more about it.) And as for having your dinner invitations "politely declined," because "no one is interested in coming to a lady's house where there is just the lady and her children": If that is indeed the reason, I'm surprised that you haven't thought of inviting a gentleman to be your "host" and escort. Surely in the past nine years you must have met one such gentleman who could fill that role.

DEAR ABBY: Talk about weird problems, check out mine! I am a college student and have recently been fitted for contact lenses. I love them because I've worn glasses since the fifth grade. My problem is my boyfriend. Believe it or not, HE likes me better in glasses! He wants me to throw away my contacts, but I am not about to, after having invested $200 in them. I much prefer contacts over glasses and I think I should be the one to decide, don't you?

My boyfriend says he has to look at me. He's even offered to reimburse me the $200 if I get rid of the contacts.

So far we've compromised. I wear my glasses when I'm with him, and my contacts when I'm not with him, but this is a stupid arrangement and can't last very long. Can you help me?

GLASSY-EYED

DEAR GLASSY: You're right. YOU are the one who should decide. If whether you wear glasses or contacts is going to make a difference in your relationship, it's best to find out now and act accordingly.

Funds Pouring In For Brent

HENRIETTA, Tex. (AP) — Contributions continued to come in today for the Brent Gray Fund which late Friday night totalled more than $5,000.

Brent, 12, lost both arms in a farm accident earlier in the week. Surgeons in Oklahoma City re-implanted the arms, but the left limb had to be amputated Tuesday.

But Friday, Brent was termed "alert and improving" with the re-implanted right arm.

City employes here began the fund for Brent's parents. His father is a farmer and his mother is a Wichita Falls telephone operator.

Her union, school groups, Sheppard Air Force Base personnel and others—some from Oklahoma and Colorado — have chipped in to swell the fund for the plucky youth.

Kissing Warning

BOSTON (AP) — A public health official says he hates to be a spoilsport but Christmas kissing should be kept to a minimum this year because it can spread mononucleosis.

Dr. Nicholas J. Fiumara, director of the Division of Communicable Diseases in the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, issued the warning Friday.

He said infectious mononucleosis has been reported recently from almost all college infirmaries across the state and among high school students.

Mono is known as the "kissing disease" because it can be spread that way or by sharing a cup or bottle.

Its main symptoms are a sore throat, fever, headache, chills and swollen glands. The temperature may rise to 103, tonsils may become enlarged and some patients develop a rash. The discomfort often lasts about two weeks.

Dr. Fiumara had a suggestion. He said Americans could adopt the European custom of kissing on the cheeks instead of the lips.

British Christmas Laws Outdated

LONDON (AP) — Christmas in Britain could be a pretty unmerry affair if everybody obeyed the law.

Under ancient statutes carolers can be jailed and a family can be hauled into court for eating too much plum pudding.

The songsters and feasters are safe. A Scotland Yard spokesman says: "Those laws are a bit old-fashioned—a spot of carol singing and Christmas dinner never hurt anyone."

As for singing in the streets, London's urban regulations state with a touch of Scrooge that "any constable may request said singers to desist."

A determined caroler violating the silent night could get a $12 fine.

The Puritan Parliament of 1644 passed a law saying that on Christmas "no man shall partake at dinner of more than three courses. Nor shall the olde habit of eating and making plumme puddings and pies be followed, for these heathenish things are abominable."

Violators in those days spent the rest of the festive season in a dungeon. The law still exists, but nobody seems to care.

Office Parties Create Problems

MIAMI (AP) — "Tis the season to be followed, says a private investigator who recommends avoiding the office holiday party.

The season "always brings a rush of new business on the domestic relations front," investigator Ed Bishop said Friday in an interview.

"The much joked about office party frequently triggers what is usually a long-standing problem," he said. "Liquor relaxes the guy's inhibitions . . . in many instances, Christmas parties act as a catalyst."

After the partygoer has tarried longer than he should, Bishop added, "the wife suddenly gets what she considers concrete evidence of something she's suspected all along. Then she calls us."

The rugged, 54-year-old former Miami Beach policeman has worked for several Dade County grand juries and currently is helping a Florida legislative committee. His agency has 73 investigators.

Although wives make many of the calls that bring him an upsurge of business during the holidays, Bishop said, they aren't alone in contacting the agency.

"Oh sure," he said, "we chase wives, too."

I hope that all little boys and girls have a very merry Christmas. My Granny and Granddad Ellington are coming to my house for Christmas and I hope they have a safe trip.

Duckworth, Bolding Vows Exchanged In Green Hill Baptist Church

Miss Sandra Jean Duckworth, became the bride of Sp-4 Larry Steve Bolding, of Ft. Hood, December 13 at 7 p.m., at Green Hill Baptist Church. Rev. Quinton Montgomery, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duckworth, Clairemont Route, and the groom is the son of Mr. Reggie Bolding of Del Rio.

The double ring vows were exchanged before a background of brass candelabra with votive lights entwined with hanging boxwood, flanked on each side with baskets of white gladioli.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Robert Hagins, organist. Soloist was Mrs. James Jones, who sang, "Walk Hand in Hand," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of pure white delustered satin. It featured a bateau neckline and bouffant dome-shaped skirt detailed with hand made fabric roses cascading into a full chapel train. Her ballerina length veil of silk illusion was caught to a petaled headpiece, accented with seed pearls and teardrop crystals. She carried a cascading bouquet of white feathered crysanthemums and English ivy.

Her jewelry was a gold and pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Linden Terry of Lubbock, attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Sandra Cockerell of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore street length dresses of peau de soie in avacado green with bateau necklines and inset midriff bands, accented with a single hand made fabric rose, and softly gathered skirts. They wore a matching fabric rose in their hair.

Best man and groomsman were Burton Sandefur, of Roscoe, and Charles Bolding, of Austin, cousins of the groom. Ushers were David Groves, of Hermleigh, and Linden Terry, of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception honoring the bridal pair was held in fellowship hall. Debby McLennan and Patsy Williams presided at the refreshment table. A centerpiece of white roses and a tiered white cake, topped with a bride and groom decorated the table. Becky Bolding, of Del Rio, sister of the groom, presided at the guest register.

After a short wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will be at home in Killeen, where the groom is presently serving with the United States Army. Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Austin, Del Rio, Merkel and Stamford.

Rye Dressing Zestily Escorts A Ham Slice

A thick and savory smoked ham slice given an escort of rye bread dressing balls makes a memorable meal with little fuss.

Pork and dressing are old teammates, but this time the meat is ham and the dressing made with rye bread with zestily different seasonings: prepared mustard, caraway seeds and onion. The dressing is shaped into balls to bake with the ham.

With a glance at the recipe you'll recognize the ease of preparation, and there's no last minute rush to complete this main entree. Bake the ham in an open roasting pan, using a rack to hold the meat up out of the drippings.

Ham Slice —
Rye Bread Dressing Balls
1 smoked center-cut ham slice, cut 1 inch thick
1 egg, beaten
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon caraway seeds
1-3 cup chopped onion
3 cups soft rye bread crumbs

Mix together egg, mustard and water. Add caraway seeds, onion and crumbs. Mix and shape into 8 balls, using about ¼ cup of mixture per ball. Place ham slice and dressing balls on a rack in an open roasting pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) 1 hour. 4 to 6 servings.

Medieval laws in France, Italy and the British Isles endorsed Leap Year privileges for unmarried girls, even to the point of fining single men who declined an offer of marriage.

Her Work Is Like Child's Play

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerri Jorgensen has the kind of job a child would love.

Her workday is filled with dolls, puzzles, miniature cars, building blocks and a host of other toys.

Mrs. Jorgensen, an attractive redhead with two daughters, is a toy consultant for a major toy manufacturer. "I'm an all-around person who gets involved in every aspect of a toy," she explained.

Developing toys is anything but child's play, however, she said. "Depending on the complexity, it can take from two to five years to develop a single toy."

The company's 1970 line—to be introduced next March—has been ready for three months, and its 400-member research and design department already is busy with plans for 1971 and 1972.

Each toy, said Mrs. Jorgensen, is tested on children in its early stages. The children "are introduced to the toy and left alone. We monitor them with microphones. If something is difficult to operate, we note that, for example," she explains.

One of the most important features incorporated in a toy, said Mrs. Jorgensen, is the sound. She said her company (Mattel) wanted to simulate the sound of a car starting up, but found American cars were just too quiet. "We had to use a tractor instead."

One of the most popular toys, of course, is the doll, in all its variations. Among the company's newest offerings is a ballerina doll, originally suggested by children testing a walking doll.

"First we came up with an engineering mechanism," said Mrs. Jorgensen. "Then we had to decide the size of the doll. After the sculptors completed work on the face, the hair stylists were given the problem of designing a hair style."

She noted the ballerina is available only with blonde hair and said 80 per cent of the dolls sold are blondes.

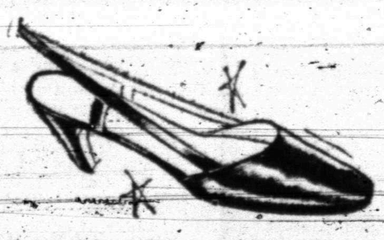

Action toys also are popular with most children, Mrs. Jorgensen said, particularly those that reflect real life and allow the child to engage in "adult imitation."

The company has had an astronaut doll for two years, Mrs. Jorgensen said, and has added a variety of other space equipment, including an elaborate space structure. "I spent an hour putting that together yesterday," she said, pointing to a picture of one of the toys.

Mrs. Jorgensen said she sometimes brings toys home for her 7-year-old to test, but said her children are "no more spoiled than other American kids."

Meaningful Gift Giving

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

This may be the year of the coordinated Christmas gift. Sets are available in everything from table top accessories to spices.

If you can't find a coordinated whatever, you can make it. Put together a batch of small items to be packaged or entice the family to get into the act, doing it up in a bigger way.

Gift-giving is more meaningful when someone can skip away from the tree with a whole ski outfit, rather than six ski scarves.

Mom and Dad can purchase the larger-size gifts, and the stocking stuffers may be supplied by younger members of the family.

First, pick a category, and then spread the word.

Is she an entertaining lady? How about a gift certificate for five pounds of hot dogs at the local meat market (the cost of meat being what it is.) How about crocks of cheese, jellies, fruit cakes, tins of meat, fish, crackers?

A chafing dish, electric warmer or fondue set may be an inspiring gift. A new cookbook, "Fondue, Chafing Dish and Casserole Cookery" by Margaret Deeds Murphy is ideal for the new cook. Maggie Murphy, a long-time food expert in recipe testing, provides a great many foolproof easy to make recipes.

Coordinated table top accessories designed by Bruce Matthai are youth-oriented. One in a floral pattern includes 17 items — place mats, napkins, party smock, napkin ring set, round table cloth, plastic laminated tray, oven mitts, pot holders, toaster and blender covers. It's the kind of thing that should have special appeal for young married sister.

There are many cookbooks for brides, especially those whose husbands have been oriented to other foods. There are books on Greek, German, Chinese, Italian cooking, and one is called the American Jewish Cook Book. (What no-Irish, Scotch or English cookbooks?) There is even a cat and dog cookbook—but who ever heard of a cat who couldn't cook.

A coffee cookbook might be half a gift. If the family pools their gift ideas the other half might be a coffee service or individual dinner pot or demitasse pot, a set of coffee cups and demitasse cups.

Tea parties are becoming popular among young people. David Bigelow's "Great Teas of the World," provides a selection of 14 great teas packaged in 42 individually wrapped foil bags. Add a handsome tea pot (you might find an inexpensive one in an antique shop), tea napkins, (there is still time to crochet a handsome edge on ordinary linen napkins) and tea biscuits. This way four people can give the makings of a tea party.

For her room try a fun comforter that zippers up to become a sleep roll for guests, a telephone in the color of her choice or a coordinated desk set—a new one includes address book, stationery book with pen, datebook, waste basket and desk pad. If her room is yellow, you might add Hallmark's "Absolutely yellow" notepaper.

A private bathroom might be outfitted from guest towels to rug.

And the girl who travels a great deal or is away at school might enjoy a new suitcase with removable roll-along wheels. One of the new travel packs that contains everything from face wash items to shoe polish and clothespins would also have special appeal.

Stamps In News

AP Newsfeatures
By SYD KONISH

Each year New Zealand issues a semipostal series devoted to its national health, with the additional values on the stamps going to the upkeep of children's camps. The 1969 stamp honors Dr. Elizabeth Gunn, who 50 years ago founded New Zealand's first health camp for undernourished children. The 4 cent plus 1 cent features a portrait of Dr. Gunn.

New Zealand health stamps have usually depicted scenes or photos featuring children. The 1943 set reproduced portraits of the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret. It was New Zealand's first triangular stamp. Because of difficulties in perforation and separation, it was also New Zealand's last triangle.

Since 1967 sporting themes have been used primarily as subjects. In addition to the Dr. Gunn commemorative, there are two other stamps in the set, featuring cricket.

Paintings of birds and flowers decorate the newest set of stamps from the Republic of China on Taiwan. The set of four was issued in response to President Chiang Kai-shek's call for a renaissance campaign of Chinese culture, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. Each of the stamps illustrates a masterpiece from the National Museum in Taipei. These stamps are available at your local dealer or department store.

FROM THE MAIL BAG . . . To George A. Painter of Columbus, Ohio: The first-day cover you describe is not a rarity. The 6-cent Waterfowl Conservation stamp cancelled May 5, 1969, on a special envelope is a nice memento for your collection. The inscription does not make it any more valuable.

To Mrs. Zora Embree of Independence, Ore., and to many more readers of this column who sent their envelopes for first-day cancellations of the "First Man on the Moon Stamp: "Just be patient. As of Oct. 31, a work crew had processed six and a half million first-day covers with an approximate million more requests remaining to be honored. Postmaster General Winton M. Blount assures me that every request will be processed but the demand has been the greatest in U.S. postal history. Requests came from more than 100 countries.

Speaking of stamps and moon launches, a special canceling unit is now being set up in the Visitors Center at the Kennedy Space Center, Florida, to cancel stamped addressed envelopes presented in person there. The unit will handle all future launches in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Collectors unable to be there in person may send stamped, addressed envelopes to NASA, John F. Kennedy Space Center, Florida 32899, Attention IS-CAS-12, to receive the special philatelic machine cancellation. The outside envelope should be endorsed "Special Philatelic Cancellation."

Envelopes not received in time for a specific launch date will be held until the next one.

As we all know by now, first-day cover requests for the Moon Landing stamp topped all previous records. In fact, the requests were more than double those of the previous record-holder—the Project Mercury stamp, which in 1962 celebrated the first U.S. orbital flight by Col. John Glenn.

Baritone Boils Down Opera For TV

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Herman Prey, German lyric baritone, who is in a film of Mozart's "Cosi fan tutte" made in June, says, "You can not see four hours of 'Cosi' on a little TV screen."

The new "Cosi" will be seen on a big screen, in regular movie theaters, in Japan, South America and the United States, and on TV screens in some other areas. Prey, who has done so many TV specials presenting classical music that he refers to himself as European television's Leonard Berstein, is concerned about the best way to present classical music on television.

"We're still in a pioneer period," he says. "I think the right way hasn't been discovered. My way is, during an hour, to present parts of an opera, and to speak in between — to make it fairly light.'

"You can not see four hours of 'Cosi' on a little TV screen. It is impossible. Maybe you can take one hour. You know, we're speaking to people who have never seen a concert hall from the inside. We must find a way to make people understand what music has to say."

Prey (pronounced Pry) enjoys singing and explaining music on TV. "I like the work in the studio. You have to be very precise and I love preciseness." He also sings a lot on the concert stage and in opera.

Reviewing "The Magic Flute" at the Metropolitan Opera in 1967, one critic wrote that Prey "has found his life's vocation in his characterization of Papageno. He is clearly in a class of his own." The Met is currently closed because of contract disputes, but Prey is scheduled to sing Papageno five times in January.

He came to the United States for one concert this fall — opening night of Lincoln Center's new Alice Tully Hall, at which he sang Schumann's "Dichterliebe." Then he went to Vienna to record "The Magic Flute" with Gerg Solti and the Vienna Philharmonic.

In December he'll make his debut at La Scala in Milan in "The Barber of Seville" — La Scala's first German Barber. He'll be in Munich's new production of "The Magic Flute" and early next year he'll tour in the United States, giving lieder concerts.

In opera there aren't as many good roles for lyric baritones like Prey as for heavier baritone voices. "at 22, I sang Don Carlo in 'La Forza del Destino' and Rodrigo in 'Don Carlos.' They're very heavy. I don't do them any more." He is now 40.

"But sometimes you have to sing more than you can sing. You can only walk; sometimes you must run. Otherwise your voice falls asleep. But you must know when and how often. I have the feeling now it is time to do 'Eugene Onegin.' It is sometimes a heavy part and it has to be sung very strong. But I think I can do it now."

Still, Prey doesn't want to sing so many heavy things that he loses vocal flexibility and lightness. "You can be loud until you die, but you can not sing pianissimo. Only Bastianini could sing light until he was an old man. It's what I too have in mind to do."

Prey likes singing lieder better than opera. He is about to start to make 24 recordings which will be an anthology of German lied.

He was under contract to the Hamburg Opera for seven years, a house proud of its repertory system and its modern operas. Nothing could suit Prey less.

"I love to sing at the Met or Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires, where you have rehearsals for 10 days and sing five or six performances with the same conductor and same cast. But if you are in a repertory company, where you have to sing an opera this day with one person and the other day with another person, it is very terrible.

"And composers of modern opera don't write for the voice. Singing them, I lost my voice. I lost the feeling of intonation. I felt if I continued to do it, it would kill my Schubert, my Brahms, my Wolf.

"Henze wrote for me 'Prince from Hamburg.' When I had learned it, I canceled it. If I sing it or another baritone is singing, it doesn't make any difference.

"If I sing Schubert, you will hear the difference."

Prey didn't like the contract system, either. One night when he was singing the second prisoner in "Fidelio" in Hamburg, he had been invited to be singing Christ in Bach's "St. Matthew Passion" with the Berlin Philharmonic.

"So I canceled the contract and jumped in the water without one."

Musical comedy writers produce music which is good for the singer's voice, Prey thinks, and he likes it, going to Broadway musicals every time he's in New York and toying with the idea that someday he'd like to star in one. He knows that some of his present audience would disapprove, believing that a classical singer should be above such things.

Taxicabs were first introduced in the United States in 1907.

Pentagon Faces First Arms Defeat In Modern History

By JOHN T. WHEELER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It all seemed so easy five years ago. Send a couple of American combat divisions to Vietnam and soon that elusive light at the end of the tunnel would turn into full sunshine the length and breadth of a tortured land.

Now the United States has foresworn a total military victory. It has begun pulling out a half-million-man force which even the most pessimistic senior official in early 1965 never thought would be employed. The Pentagon faces what almost surely will be recorded as a stalemate if not a qualified defeat, the first in modern history of American arms.

The frustrations and failures may lead to acrimonious charge and countercharge over who was at fault. After the war is over, the demonstrations stopped, the history books begun, it may be asked how it happened, what went wrong, who was at fault and, more important, what to do next time.

In what has been called a growing sophistication in the Pentagon, the generals have reached what one senior spokesman called a hardheaded stance that would lead them to recommend strongly against any new Vietnam-style adventure unless the nation be put on a full war footing and a national commitment made to go all out for victory. This would mean using massed combat units to overwhelm the enemy without any of the political limitations that hampered the fighting men in Vietnam.

Short of such a commitment, these men are said by official sources to feel now that, U.S. equipment, wealth and even combat advisers could be sent to help some new government fighting for its life, but with a clear decision that if this failed, Washington would cut its losses without cutting into national prestige. Surprisingly, some military men here speak admiringly of the Soviet Union as a facile practitioner of this tactic.

"Look at the Russians in Egypt," one officer said. "They supplied arms and logistics support to (President) Nasser and had officers on the ground as advisers. But Moscow didn't lose its head when the fighting broke out and refused to escalate. They didn't suffer any irreparable damage to their image, even in the Arab world."

At the Pentagon today there is a very real sense that the Vietnam war did serious damage to the image of the nation—and the military. A few years ago antiwar and antimilitary criticism was dismissed as coming from leftist extremists or cranks. The present breadth and strength of such criticism has made a powerful impression, and not a few officers worry about the future if a scapegoat must be found.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, army chief of staff and former U.S. commander in Vietnam, once talked confidently of a sturdy underlying support in the United States for the military in Vietnam.

But he noted in a recent speech: "Today the fundamental principles of our profession—the pillars of discipline on which the Army is built—the trust and confidence that have traditionally motivated the soldier are being questioned. With our troubled society questioning the role of the Army more than ever before, each soldier in a position of leadership is on trial . . . the American people must also understand that their Army does not exist to fight without something to fight for."

President Nixon has promised to steer the nation to clear of any new Vietnams. The military, for its own reasons, is in fervent agreement.

The over-all impact on the military already has been stunning. Current plans call for reducing strength levels by one million to a total of 2.4 million men, well below the pre-Vietnam level. Foreign bases and probably America's North Atlantic treaty forces will be reduced.

The basic concept of flexible response to trouble around the world remains fundamentally the same except that far finer definitions of the various stages of response have been adopted. The concept of a cheap war involving U.S. ground forces virtually has been abandoned. For the future, the Pentagon is turning toward computers and myriad electronic gadgets in hopes of forcing any new enemy either in a general or limited war to do battle with proportionately far fewer Americans exposed to death or maiming. American technology, rather than American blood, will be expected to carry the day.

Pentugon officials insist they have not, in the words of one officer, been "panicked" by the problems of the Vietnam war into shifting its emphasis away from the No. 1 threat to the American mainland, conventional war.

Officially the Pentagon insists that allied forces have been and will continue to win militarily in Vietnam. As one officer put it, "We're leading 34-to-7 in the third quarter, and now they are going to call the game. And, what's more, they are going to declare the other guy the winner."

But in private, as they look back across more than nine years' involvement in the war, some Pentagon officials list several points as major contributors to the failure of American policies and arms:

Early in the war, American civilian and military officials in Vietnam sent overly optmistic reports to Washington which were proven by history to have been at variance with the facts. Thus major decisions in Washington sometimes were based on hope rather than hard facts. One general termed this advice to Washington "fuzzy-headed and contradictory."

The 1965 Johnson administration decision to send in U.S. combat troops came too late, officers now say, since the Vietnamese military had been virtually destroyed as an effective fighting force in an enemy meat grinder operation that nearly won the war.

Against Racial Discrimination

GABERONES, Botswana (AP) — Stiff penalties have been provided in this African state for racial discrimination following alleged insults to Botswana nationals on trains in their own country.

The trains, operated by Rhodesia Railways, pass through the country from Rhodesia to Botswana's other white-ruled neighbor, South Africa. A senior government spokesman said train officials are sometimes less helpful to African passengers or speak of them in derogatory terms despite warnings from the railroad management not to practice discrimination. He said train staff warn Botswana nationals to use the international coach on trains if they wish to avoid unpleasantness. Passengers of all races are allowed to stay on this car throughout the journey and do not have to switch to segregated coaches when the train crosses the border into apartheid-ruled South Africa.

Junior Editors Quiz on MAINE

QUESTION: How did the state of Maine come by its name?

ANSWER: Maine is famous for its cool, delightful summers, its lobsters and its picturesque fishing towns, whose wharves and fish houses have turned silver by the touch of the sea. But there is another remarkable feature of this coast. Check our map at upper left and you will see that the actual coast, the part which connects with the continent, is almost concealed by groups of outlying islands. Coming in from the sea, one is quite apt to mistake some island for the actual coast of Maine. In our picture the boatswain, left, thinks the land the skipper is pointing to just another island. But the skipper is wise in the ways of this coast. "That's the main!" he calls out. He means it's the mainland, the main part of the coast. It is said the English explorers, in the old days, were the first to speak of the main. As more and more people used this expression, the main somehow turned into Maine. Although activities connected with boats, fishing and lobstering are prominent in Maine, the state is active in many other ways. Its potatoes and blueberries are among its famous products.

Santa And The Dumbbell

CHAPTER 17
A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

SANTA went to his house and told Mrs. Claus and all the workers that the Troll had gone and would never return.

"Hooray!" cried Tweedle-knees. "Our troubles are over!"

"No," said Santa. "They are just beginning, for there are thousands of children's orders still unfilled and we must have them ready this very eve. Can we do it?"

"We can do it!" shouted the Santa Land fairies and elves.

Mrs. Claus carried out platter after platter of homemade patty cakes, pan-dowdy, cream puffs, macaroons and lady fingers to the shops for the workers. And the whole of Santa Land hummed as the elves hammered wheels on wagons, tuned horns, stitched together stuffed animals, blew up balloons, painted pictures on the front of coloring books and wound up toy engines.

The Puppet Princess straightened out orders from children and checked them off on a master list to be sure no one was forgotten. The Ghost recovered the stolen candy and the doll eyes the Troll had hidden in Santa's cellar.

Booby Bobby hitched the reindeer to the sleigh and tested all the bells. The Prince loaded the sleigh with bag after bag of toys as the workers filled them.

By evening everything was ready. Santa called them together and thanked them for all they had done.

"Every request is filled. The Prince has his bride. The Princess has a new kingdom. The Ghost has a new place to haunt for he has promised to stay here and be our special spook forevermore."

"What about me?" asked Booby Bobby in a very small voice.

"You will come with me," said Santa. "Before this night is over you will have all the friends you want and no one will call you Booby Bobby anymore."

He took the boy in the sleigh with him and off they sailed. They visited every city and town and hamlet in the world and left toys for every child sleeping there.

They came at last to Booby Bobby's town. Now Santa jerked the reindeer reins to make the bells tinkle and jingle. He shook the great bells in his hands and filled the silent night with silvery chimes.

The sleeping children awoke and could not believe their ears. Never had they heard such a sound. They crept to their windows and looked in wonder at Santa Claus and Booby Bobby unloading toys in the great town square.

"Now tell me, Robert Clarence Hector Lee," shouted Santa so all could hear. "Have the children in this town been good this year?"

"Oh yes," replied the boy. "They are always very good."

Every child who heard him breathed easier and thought to himself, "Why, he's not such a boob after all!"

"Are they your friends?" asked Santa in a very loud voice.

"I-I don't know for sure," said the boy uncertainly.

"Well," boomed Santa, "any friend of yours is a friend of mine and don't let anyone forget it!"

He went from roof to roof and dropped a bag of toys down every chimney. When all was done he left the boy at his door and took off in his sleigh shouting, "Goodbye, Robert Clarence Hector Lee. Bring your friends to see me some time!"

"I will! I will!" called the boy.

All the children shivered in awe and swore they'd be his friends and never call him Booby Bobby again.

"Merry Christmas!" called Santa, flying away. "Merry Christmas to all!"

POWs Messages Are Broadcast

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television—Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I'm in good health and . . . full of hope. Hope you'll have a joyous-filled holiday season . . ."

The message, from an American prisoner of war in North Vietnam to his family, was broadcast by Radio Hanoi Friday. It was monitored in Hong Kong and relayed to the United States.

At least four times within the past eight days Radio Hanoi has broadcast such messages.

American radio networks have broadcast the messages over their facilities and sent them by closed circuit to stations in the fliers' hometowns.

The message above was attributed to Air Force Capt. Joe David Luna and a tape was played by CBS News for his wife, Mrs. Pearl Luna of Roy, Utah. The audio quality was poor and Mrs. Luna said she was unable to be sure the voice was that of her husband.

Hanoi Radio said other messages came from Lt. Cmdr. Hugh Allen Stafford of Cambridge, Md; Capt. Norman McDaniel of Greensboro, N.C.; Capt. James Quincy Collins Jr. of Atherton, Calif.

The Christmas greetings run from 30 to 45 seconds.

CBS Radio has broadcast the messages, usually with comment from the families, over its network. NBC Radio broadcast three of the greetings on its network and is sending them by closed circuit to hometown stations.

ABC Radio is sending the messages to the hometown stations, and in addition is mailing tapes of the broadcasts to the families. The Pentagon also requested copies of the tapes.

Mrs. Jean McDaniel of Greensboro sobbed in relief when CBS News called her with the message from her husband.

"This is the best Christmas present I could give my children because they are always asking me where he is and when he'll be coming home," she said. "At least, now they know that someday he might be coming home."

His squadron was assigned to Okinawa as part of the President's plan to replace American troops in Vietnam with Vietnamese troops.

He will complete his overseas assignment at Okinawa and then is scheduled for duty in the United States.

Army Sergeant Roy Clayton, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Clayton, 3008 Avenue K, Snyder, has been assigned to the 1st Infantry Division in Vietnam, as a rifleman.

His wife, Gloria, lives at 3301 Avenue K.

SPECIAL TREAT — Firemen Ken Wheeler (left) and G. L. Autry check the progress of their venison meat loaf dinner at the Central Fire Station. They enjoyed it along with corn bread, chili beans, turnips and swiss chard greens, onions and pepper sauce, milk and tea and apple deserts. Because they are subject to call at any hour of the day or night, Firemen can't count on regular meal times while they're on duty. But, once in a while, they have time to prepare a special treat. Ken is an accomplished cook and venison meat loaf is one of his specialties.

MANY MEALS ON-THE-RUN

Firemen Enjoy Cooking

Eating, for firemen, often is a catch - as-catch-can proposition.

For one thing, they never know when they'll receive a call to a fire, and, quite frequently such calls come in during the time when most people are enjoying dinner or supper.

Moreover, each shift at the Snyder Fire Department lasts for 24 hours and the firemen cannot leave their posts of duty during this time except to fight fires or to refill their trucks with fuel. And, of course, there are many other duties to perform that the public seldom hears about, such as repair work on their trucks, cleaning of equipment and the stations, etc.

Consequently, most of the firemen depend on their wives to bring them food whenever they find time to eat, and often it is at an unusual hour.

However, some of the men are accomplished cooks and enjoy doing their own cooking whenever they have the opportunity.

One such fireman is Ken Wheeler. Cooking is a hobby with Ken and he does his own cooking whenever he can while he's on duty. He's been cooking since he was 12 years of age and said he learned how by doing it. Over the years he's developed several favorite dishes and recipes.

Last Friday, for instance, he took advantage of a rainy, cloudy day when fire alarms usually are at a minimum. He and G. L. Autry, a 20-year member of the Snyder Fire Department, were on duty at the Central Station together. So, they combined their talents and resources and cooked a special dinner. Mrs. Autry brought some of the food and Ken prepared the remainder. The dinner included one of Ken's favorites — venison meat loaf, served with corn bread, chili beans, turnips and swiss chard greens, onions and pepper sauce, milk, tea and apple desert.

Ken said he grinds two pounds of venison into hamburger meat for the meat loaf along with salt, pepper, garlic salt and season-all. He puts it in the refrigerator and lets it marinate for two hours. Other ingredients in the meat loaf are one egg, mashed crackers, one cup of chopped onions and catsup.

"Once in a great while, I'll cook sausage and eggs to go with our morning coffee," he said, "especially if we've been called out early to a fire. I can do the cooking after we return to the station."

Most of the firemen, because of the nature of their work, have irregular meals when they're on duty. But, once in a while, they can enjoy something special — like Wheeler and Autry did Friday.

Billie Sol Creditors Get Checks

EL PASO (AP) — Internal Revenue Service and Commercial Solvents got the most Friday as checks went out from the U.S. district clerk's office here to creditors of the Billie Sol Estes estate.

Estes is the former "boy wonder" financier and fertilizer magnate whose empire collapsed in bankruptcy and ruin when it was found that many of his assets were faked. He now is in a federal prison.

Commercial Solvents will receive $723,514 and IRS gets $773,514 of the $1,799,658 available from the bankrupt estate.

A note from the American Grain Corp. which purchased big part of the Estes assets was endorsed to Thad Grundy, Houston attorney for Commercial Solvents, as trustee. Any proceeds from the note, now devalued to a mere $49,000 from its original $5,748,680, are to be divided between American Grain and the U.S. Government.

Harry Moore, El Paso trustee for the Estes estate, gets $167,000 for his services.

Attorney Allan L. Poage, representing the trustee, has been paid $108,000 for his services and will receive another $20,000 under the court ordered distribution.

The U. S. District Clerk receives $76,348 for costs.

MURRY BOWDEN
. . . All Ivy League

Bowden Is All Ivy League Rover

HANOVER, N.H. — Murry Bowden, of Snyder, co-captain elect of the Dartmouth College football team and standout defensive back for the Indians, has been selected to several 'all-star' post season football squads.

Both Associated Press and United Press have selected Bowden on the first team of their respective All - New England teams. AP also selected Bowden as a member of the All-Ivy first team.

Bowden, only a junior, was recently elected captain of the 1970 Dartmouth College varsity football squad. He operates from the rover position in the defensive backfield for the Indians.

"We're certainly fortunate to have Murry coming back next fall," commented Coach Bob Blackman. "He has fine leadership qualities and will, I'm sure, make a fine captain."

Dartmouth finished the season with an 8-1 record and was 6-1 in the Ivy League, sharing championship honors with Yale and Princeton.

King Concentrates On Coach Search

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — J.T. King, Texas Tech athletic director, has decided to pass up coaching in the Blue-Gray game Dec. 27 in Montgomery, Ala., and concentrate on finding a head football coach for the Red Raiders.

King said Friday, "Current circumstances make it impractical for me to be out of the office at this time. I have notified game officials that I will be unable to coach in the game."

Tigers Gun Down Monahans 77 To 66 At Ft. Stockton

FORT STOCKTON — Snyder's Tigers shot down Monahans 77-66 in the first round of the Invitational Basketball Tournament here Friday afternoon and were to meet Andrews in the second round at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Another victory would put them in the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Bengals leaped into a 17-9 lead in the first quarter and extended it to 38-25 at halftime by hitting a torrid 62 per cent of its floor shots in the first half. The Bengal shooters remained on target, but hit at a less impressive per centage (48) in the second half to sack up their seventh win in nine outings this season. Monahans closed the gap to 54-46 in the third period, but the Tigers never were seriously threatened as they held the edge all the way.

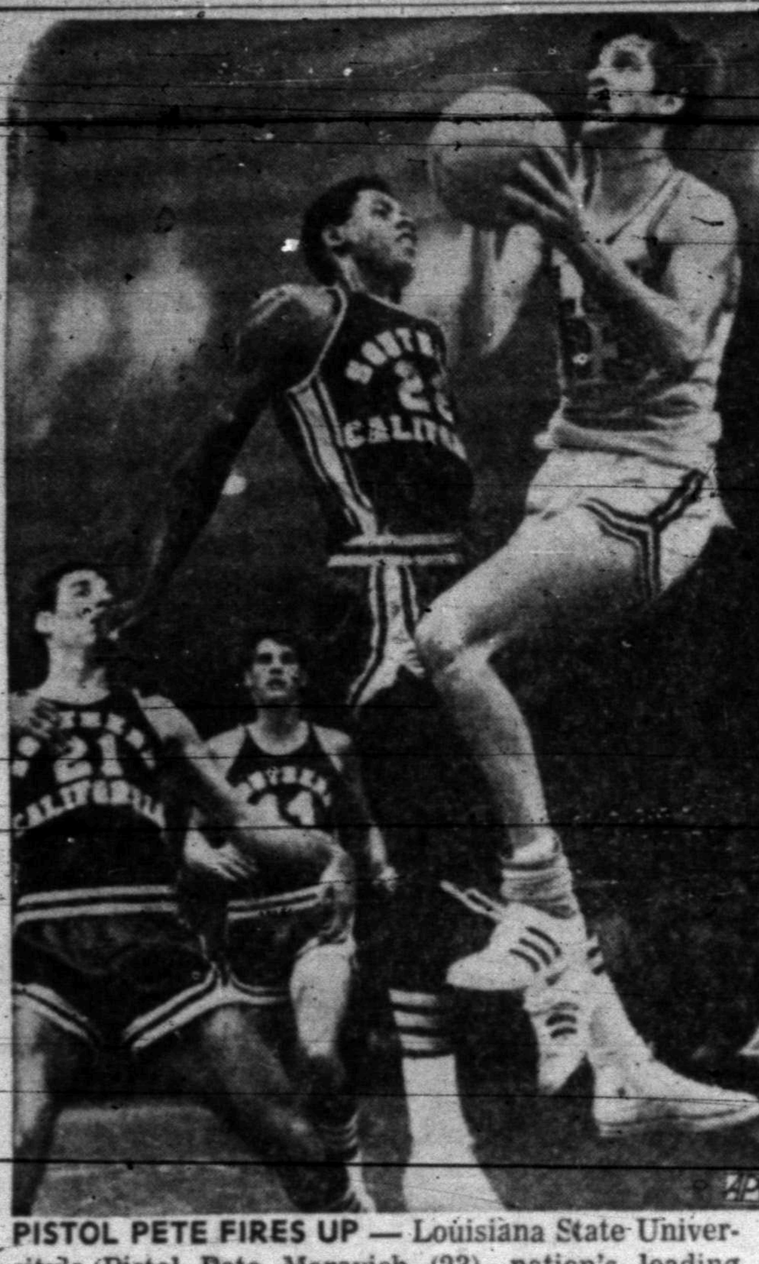

Wesley Bishop led the Black and Gold shooters with 21 points, and Bruce Almond added 16 points to the victory. All of the Tigers who got in the game scored as the SHS crew registered one of its best performances of the season, putting in 29 of 53 from the field for a healthy 55 per cent accuracy average. Snyder didn't fare quite as well at the free throw line, dunking only 19 of 29 for 65 per cent. Monahans hit 31 and 33 per cent respectively in the two halves and connected on 25 of 78 overall for only 32 per cent. However, they edged the Bengals on gratis tosses, getting 16 of 21 from the free throw line for 76 per cent.

Joe Williams was high point man for Monahans, and he captured game honors with 24 points. Ronnie Bivens tallied 10 for the Lobos.

Snyder also held the edge in rebounds, 44 to 40, and Jim Patrick led in this department with nine.

After the conclusion of the tournament, the Bengals are not slated to see action again until Jan. 2 when they meet Dunbar in Lubbock. Meanwhile, the Junior Varsity Kittens will be entered in the Holiday Tournament at Abilene next weekend.

Buccaneers Tip Rockets 102-97

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rookie Skeeter Swift of the New Orleans Buccaneers is aptly named.

Swift came off the bench with 7:04 left to play and the Bucs trailing Denver 82-80, made several quick steals, scored four fast points and helped the Bucs beat the Rockets 102-97 in the American Basketball Association Friday night.

The victory, 22nd against 10 losses, kept New Orleans a comfortable 6½ games in front of Los Angeles and Washington in the Western Division.

In other ABA games, Los Angeles whipped Washington 119-109, Indiana defeated Carolina 92-88, and Pittsburgh edged the New York Nets 126-124.

In the National Basketball Association, the New York Knicks downed Chicago 108-99, Milwaukee outlasted Boston 115-111, Baltimore nipped Detroit 108-105, Cincinnati beat the Los Angeles Lakers 117-109, San Diego tripped San Francisco 119-111 and Seattle triumphed over Philadelphia 123-116.

New Orleans outscored Denver 21-8 in the final seven minutes, to wrap up the victory. Jackie Moreland paced the Bucs with 33 points. Denver's Spencer Haywood hit for 39.

Los Angeles scored 11 straight points in the fourth quarter to defeat Washington and move into a tie for second in the West with the Caps. Both teams are deadlocked with .500 records.

In the Eastern Division, Indiana maintained its five game margin over idle Kentucky by surviving a 45-41 halftime deficit against Carolina and holding on until the final quarter when Bob Netolicky scored 10 points to put the Pacers ahead to stay.

The Nets were in the game until the final seconds, when Barry Orms sank two fouls in a three-for-two situation to win it for the Pipers.

Most SWC Teams Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southwest Conference basketball teams took a severe roughing up Friday night in holiday cage classics, losing three of four games.

Only Baylor flew the SWC flag as a winner, soundly trashing South Dakota State 95-75 in the Cowboy Classic at Abilene.

Kansas State whipped Texas Christian 75-65 in the Texas Classic in Fort Worth; Kansas tripped Southern Methodist 89-77 in the Jayhawk Classic in Lawrence, Kan.; and Kentucky Wesleyan nipped Arkansas 78-76 in the Bayou Classic at LaFayette, La.

In action Saturday, Arkansas was still in the Bayou Classic; SMU was at the Jayhawk Classic; California State (Long Beach) was at Texas Tech; Brigham Young was at Texas; and Oklahoma State was at Texas Christian.

Bill Chatmon scored 29 points to ignite Baylor while Bill Hamer had 28 free throws for the losers.

SMU's Gene Phillips scored 35 points but fouled out early in the second half.

Heavy Bout Called Off

By WILLIAM H. HEATH
Associated Press Sports Writer

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — It was a wasted trip for Jimmy Ellis, World Boxing Association heavyweight champion.

His title bout with Argentine challenger Gregorio Peralta was called off Friday night—24 hours before fight time—because of financial problems.

Angelo Dundee, Ellis' manager, and local promoter Hector Mendez announced that the scheduled 15-round bout, plagued by problems from the beginning, had been called off.

The announcement was made while both fighters slept, unaware that they would not meet tonight in South America's first heavyweight title fight.

Earlier, Friday, both Dundee and Mendez had insisted that the fight would go on as scheduled in the 75,000-seat Boca Juniors Soccer Stadium, despite reports from the United States that cancellation was imminent.

The ring and seats were set up Friday in the middle of a driving rain.

"We've run into problems, too many insurmountable problems," Dundee said. "I'm going to start making arrangements to get out of here. Jimmy and I are going home."

Mendez explained that the bout was being called off due to financial problems—mainly lack of a buyer for television rights and small ticket sales.

DeBusschere, NY Blast Bulls 108-99

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave DeBusschere's first anniversary with the New York Knicks turned out to be a much-needed waltz for the National Basketball Association club.

The Knicks had set an NBA record of 18 straight victories and had a solid lead in the Eastern Division but had lost three straight and four of five before beating the Chicago Bulls 108-99 Friday night—the anniversary of the trade that brought DeBusschere to New York from Detroit for Walt Bellamy and Howard Komives.

Since DeBusschere, who scored 22 points against Chicago, joined the Knicks they have posted a 70-21 record. The latest victory kept them 5½ games ahead of the Baltimore Bullets who edged Detroit 105-105.

In other NBA action, the Milwaukee Bucks outlasted Boston 115-111 for their fifth straight victory, Cincinnati beat the Los Angeles Lakers 117-109, San Diego stopped San Francisco 119-111, and Seattle whipped Philadelphia 123-116.

Indiana nipped Carolina 92-88, New Orleans topped Denver 102-97, Los Angeles took Washington 119-109 and Pittsburgh downed the New York Nets 126-124 in the American Basketball Association.

Chicago, behind by 18 points in the second quarter, got to within one point, 47-46, in the third, but DeBusschere, Bill Bradley and Walt Frazier sparked a spurt that gave the Knicks a 63-52 edge and the Bulls never came close again.

Willis Reed topped New York scoring with 25 points, Dick Barnett added 21 and Frazier 20. Al Tucker scored 24 and Bob Love 22 for the Bulls who lost guard Jerry Sloan for a week with a pulled groin muscle.

Baltimore, down 57-46 at halftime, scored its last nine points on foul shots, with two by Gus Johnson with 44 seconds left giving the Bullets a 106-105 lead and two by Jack Marin with two seconds remaining, clinching their 11th consecutive victory over Detroit. Jack Marin was high for Baltimore with 23 points, and Jimmy Walker led Detroit with 25.

Milwaukee's eighth victory in 10 games was paced by Lew Alcindor and Flynn Robinson who scored 25 points each. Larry Siegfried threw in 24 for Boston, a victim of Milwaukee for the second time in three nights.

Connie Dierking scored 31 points, John Green added 25 and Fred Foster 29 as the Royals held the Lakers to five points in the first seven minutes of the final quarter to break open a seesaw game. Jerry West topped the Lakers with 28.

John Block sparked a fourth-period scoring spree for the San Diego Rockets and wound up with 25 points. Block scored 14 points in the fourth period with seven straight field goals. Joe Ellis of the Warriors led all scorers with 32 points.

Seattle snapped Philadelphia's four-game winning streak with the help of a third-quarter rally which turned a 61-56 halftime dificit into a 69-64 Sonic lead.

Philadelphia bounced back in the final period and came to within four points twice, but Lucius Allen had 11 of his 23 points in that period to keep the Sonics up front. Philadelphia's Bill Cunningham was the game's high scorer with 36 points. Tom Meschery topped the Sonics with 26.

Hawks Blank Seals 4-0

OAKLAND (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks, who used to be one of the Oakland Seals' favorite opponents in the National Hockey League, aren't acting that part these days.

Before the largest crowd of the season so far in Oakland, 9,454 fans, the Hawks blanked the Seals 4-0 Friday in the NHL's only game.

That snapped a three-game undefeated string for the Seals—a tie and two victories.

Last season the Seals won all three games here against the Black Hawks and got a victory and tie in three games in Chicago. The dominance continued in two games this season, but the last two encounters have gone to the Hawks.

Bobby Hull opened the scoring for Chicago at 14:14 of the second period with a flopping 25-foot slapshot.

Oiler-Raider Tilt Highlight In AFL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

All of the conference races are over as the National Football League moves into the final weekend of regular season action but it's far from a so-what wrapup for several teams. Four in particular—Minnesota, Los Angeles, Cleveland and Dallas, are prepping for next week's first round of playoffs as the Super Bowl countdown moves into high gear. They'll all be trying to stay sharp and avoid any injuries in Sunday's games.

TEAM WORK — Nancy Seaver, "professional benchwarmer" and wife of New York Mets star pitcher, fondly strokes her husband after he was presented with replica of a Grecian urn as he was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated. The striking blond says she feels "like I'm part of the team . . . He has taught me baseball. Now I can share it with him" (AP Wirephoto)

Saturday, attention focuses on the American League with Kansas City at New York in the opening AFL playoff. On Sunday, Houston plays at Oakland with the winners meeting a week later for the AFL crown.

Minnesota prepares for next Saturday's playoff game against Los Angeles by meeting Atlanta Sunday and the Vikings can't afford to let up.

They've won 12 straight games—second longest one-season winning streak in NFL history. They can tie the mark of 13 set by the unbeaten Chicago Bears 35 years ago.

And with only 123 points allowed, Minnesota has an excellent shot at erasing the 14-game record low of 144 set by Chicago Bears in 1963 and matched by Baltimore in 1968.

Los Angeles has dropped two straight and will try to reverse that trend against Baltimore. The Rams, at 11-2, are still one victory short of a club single season victory record.

The Cleveland Browns need a victory at New York in their wrapup game to match their club record for victories in a single season and post their best season mark since 1953. The Browns were 11-1 that season and take a 10-2-1 log into Sunday's match with the Giants.

New York has won its last two games and the Giants, believe it or not, are the only team to beat powerful Minnesota this season.

Waiting in the wings for the Browns in the Eastern title game are the Dallas Cowboys, who take a 10-2-1 mark in the regular season finale against Washington.

The Redskins are 7-4-2 and certain of their first winning season since 1955.

Detroit, 8-4-1, can wrap up third place money in the West with a victory or tie against hapless Chicago. The Bears, 1-12, are completing their worst season in history with the only consolation Gale Sayers, who leads all NFL rushers with 972 yards—103 more than runnerup Cal Hill of Dallas.

Philadelphia and San Francisco tangle on the West Coast with little at stake while Pittsburgh at New Orleans and St. Louis at Green Bay complete the schedule.

The pass receiving title could be decided on the Steeler-Saints game with Pittsburgh's Roy Jefferson and New Orleans' Dan Abramowicz clashing head to head and trying to beat out Washington's Charley Taylor. All three have 65 catches. Jefferson for 1,052 yards, Abramowicz for 886 and Taylor for 823.

WINS AP AWARD — Calvin Hill, above, high stepping back of the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League, was named Offensive Rookie of the Year in the NFL by The Associated Press. Hill is a theology student at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. (AP Wirephoto)

Hot Racer In Circulation Again

LONDON (AP) — Graham Hill, former double world Grand Prix auto racing champion and Indianapolis 500 winner, has received an early Christmas present—his discharge from the hospital.

Hill suffered two broken legs in the U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y., when his Lotus flipped over at high speed.

Former pro basketball star Neil Johnston is in his fourth season as freshman coach at Wake Forest.

'Mean' Greene Is Defensive Rookie Of Year In NFL

By JACQUELINE SNYDER
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mean Joe Greene, the National Football League's Defensive Rookie of the Year, doesn't like to think of himself as a first-year man.

"I haven't thought much about being the best rookie," said the 6-foot-4, 270-pound Pittsburgh Steeler tackle. "I just want to be one of the better tackles in pro football."

But Greene said he was not about to argue with a panel of Associated Press sports writers and sportscasters who overwhelmingly voted him the top rookie defensive player in the NFL.

The former North Texas State star was the first draft choice of the lowly Steelers and has been one of the few bright spots in an otherwise dismal season.

The side-burned Texan doesn't regret being drafted by Pittsburgh, however.

"I'm not displeased," he said. "We're an upcoming team. We'll do a lot better next year.

"I wouldn't want to go with a championship team," Greene explained. "It's better on a building team—You can be a part of the growing. On a championship team you're just another piece of wood on the fire."

The Steelers aren't displeased they chose Mean Joe either.

"Joe had an outstanding year and played great football for us," said Coach Chuck Noll. "I'm really happy he was recognized."

Actually, several pro scouts recognized Greene when he played for North Texas State, and the Steelers paid a big price to sign him. But Greene says he's not in the game just for money.

"I won't play without the money, but I enjoy the game just the same," said the big tackle, who first decided he wanted to play pro football while watching the 1958 NFL championship game between the Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants.

Greene sometimes gets a little over enthusiastic in his aggressive approach to the game, however. He was ejected from two games for going beyond the line of duty against New York and Minnesota.

Unusually quick for a big man, Greene picked up some extra moves and added experience he hopes this experience can be put to use to build a winner in a city that has never known one.

"It requires concentration," he said. "We're all here trying to do a job. I never try to think of myself as a rookie—I'm a member of a team."

But just for a minute Friday he didn't seem to mind being more than a member of the team—when told he was the Defensive Rookie of the Year.

"I am?" he said and broke into a big grin.

Union, Sands In Finals

GAIL — Union and Sands moved into the finals of the Borden County Basketball Tournament here Friday with 55-40 and 79-55 triumphs over Flower Grove and Dawson respectively.

Marvin Jackson led Union with 26 points, and Danny Howard pitched in 14 — tops for Flower Grove.

Felix Robles of Sands tallied 19 points, and Robert Cardona of Dawson scored 18.

In other games, Fluvanna beat Garden City 77-41 while the Flower Grove girls bested Sands 61-45. Dawson's girls beat Union 39-30, and Fluvanna also bested Garden City 43-37.

'Cats Get Stiff Test

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Navy's gallant defense had just stripped some of the firepower from the Kentucky artillery and Wildcats' Coach Adolph Rupp was not at all happy about it.

"Sometimes I wonder if we've ever played before," said Rupp after his top-ranked Wildcats withstood a serious naval assault to topple the unranked Middies 73-59 in college basketball Friday night.

Navy's rib-sticking defense kept Kentucky's sharp-shooters off balance most of the night, but when it got too close near the end the Midshipmen gave the Wildcats the free throws that turned the tide.

The contest was the nightcap of a doubleheader, the first round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington. Duke stopped Dayton 72-67 in the opener.

Ranked teams were entered in other matches around the country as the holiday season ushered in a basketfull of midterm tournaments and doubleheaders.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee defeated Montana State 71-62 in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville and third-ranked New Mexico State walloped Hardin Simmons 110-80 in the Cowboy Classic at Abilene, Tex. St. John's of New York shocked fourth-ranked Davidson 76-62 and Oklahoma City upset 11th-ranked Santa Clara 101-94 in other top games Friday night.

Kentucky, after a shaky start, built an early lead as the Wildcats hit 54.6 per cent of their shots in the first half. They led 41-25, at intermission, but a cold shooting spell in the second period helped Navy pull to within four, at 50-46.

Kentucky mainstay Mike Pratt later hit a 10-foot shot and Dan Issel—the game-high scorer with 40 points—convered four free throws and Larry Steele made one to pull the Wildcats away.

As it was, Pratt shot poorly—hitting only two of 10 from the field. Issel hit 14 of 26, most of them layups and tip-ins.

"Five of our players have final exams Saturday, but that's no excuse," chided Rupp. "It used to be when the professor made it tough on our kids, our kids took it out on the teams we played."

Bill Paultz scored 19 points and Joe DePre chipped in 17 as St. John's upset Davidson. Davidson's Brian Adrian, who entered the game with a 20.9 average, was held to nine points by the Redmen.

Jimmy England, Tennessee's playmaker, scored 26 points with some brilliant outside shooting and Don Johnson added 21 in the victory over stubborn Montana State. The lead changed hands seven times before the Vols sprinted ahead 36-32 at intermission and held the lead the rest of the way.

Jimmy Collins poured in 23 points to lead New Mexico State over Hardin Simmons.

Mike Washob hit 13 of 14 free throws and nine of 15 field goal attempts for 31 points to pace Oklahoma City's upset of Santa Clara.

Mart Socks It To Sonora 28-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mart "stole" the Class A Texas Schoolboy football championship from defending champion Sonora Friday night 28-0.

The ball-theiving Panthers twice ripped the ball from the Broncos. The first-time Edward Costley romped 43 yards for a touchdown with a ball stolen away from Sonora halfback James Noel.

Yet another theft by Larry Henderson stopped a Sonora drive on the Mart 5.

Edward Costley's brother, Earl, scored the first Mart touchdown on a seven-yard run after a Sonora fumble.

It was the first clear-cut Class A title in Mart's history although it tied White Oak for the co-championship in 1957. Some 5,000 looked on in Austin's Nelsen Field.

The other three divisional championships will be decided today and tonight.

Waco is the site for a unique doubleheader. San Antonio Lee and Wichita Falls tangle at 2 p.m. for the Class AAAA championship. Then Brownwood and West Columbia collide at 7:30 p.m. to decide the AAA title.

Klein and Iowa Park settle their differences in the Class AA championship game in Arlington's Memorial Stadium at 7:30 p.m. on the University of Texas at Arlington campus.

Wichita Falls has allowed only 66 points in 14 games in compiling a 13-1 record. But the Lee Volunteers have won 18 games in a row and have an excellent quarterback in Tim Trimmier.

Brownwood has won three state championships and would like to make it a fourth in 10 years under Coach Gordon Wood. West Columbia has a 12-0-1 record under coach Jack Hays, who lost in the state championship game in 1967 to Brownwood when he was head coach at El Campo.

Klein has a fine quarterback in Tommy Kaiser, whom coach Bob Brezna says is the "best in Texas."

Iowa Park coach Tommy Watkins is proud of his offense which has averaged over 400 yards per game.

THE

VALUE

Electricity—the clean, modern energy that does so many nice things for you—is today's big value in better living.

Consider the many comforts and conveniences . . . household chores made easier . . . and all the entertainment made possible by low-cost electric energy.

True, your electric service bill is probably higher than it used to be. But that's because you are using more electricity, probably adding new appliances and getting greater benefit from the appliances you already had.

Meanwhile, the unit price of electricity—the price per kilowatt hour—has not gone up like the prices of many other products and services, but instead has actually declined through the years.

So that's why we believe electric service is a big value . . . and we're working hard to keep it that way.

Corn Production Estimate Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has boosted its estimate of 1969 corn production by almost 134 million bushels from the November forecast, thus helping push total crop output this year to the highest level on record.

The yearend summary issued Friday by the crop Reporting Board put the corn crop at nearly 4.6 billion bushels, compared with less than 4.5 billion predicted a month earlier.

The record large corn output was 4.8 billion bushels in 1967, but the estimated 1969 yield average—83.9 bushels per acre—was far more than the previous high of 78.6 bushels in each of the past two years.

The "all crops" index was 121 per cent of the 1957-59 average, one point more than the previous high in 1968.

Production of oilseeds, hay, peanuts, potatoes, sugar beets and popcorn was record size and 1969 combined output of the four major livestock feed grains —corn, sorghums, oats and barley—was larger than in 1968.

Production of rye, dry beans, dry peas, sweet potatoes, tobacco, broomcorn and a number of seed crops also was larger than last year, the department said.

The department estimated 174.2 million tons of livestock feedgrain this year, compared with the November prediction of 171 million tons. The increase in projected output was expected to have considerable impact on the department's final determination of the government's 1970 feedgrains program.

Fort Worth To Honor Moonmen

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Call it moon madness or whatever, Fort Worth is aglow with excitement as it prepares to welcome Monday the astronauts of the Apollo 12 lunar adventure.

The day-long gala, called "Alan Bean Day," honors its native son, his moonwalking colleague Charles Conrad Jr. and Yankee Clipper pilot Richard Gordon Jr.

"This will undoubtedly be the largest thing that's ever happened in the City of Fort Worth," said Robert Collum, one of scores of planners for the affair.

"I have never seen enthusiasm for anything in Fort Worth run so strong," said Cato Hightower, parade chairman. "This will be the most spectacular parade in our history."

Tons of confetti, streamers and bits of paper will be showered on the astronauts as the parade rolls through the "7th Street Canyon" in the heart of the downtown area.

"We'll have a ticker-tape snowstorm hip-high in the streets," predicted Hightower.

Christmas shoppers and college and high school students out for the holidays could swell the crowd to 100,000, planners said, if the weather is favorable.

Rep. Olin Teague, D-Tex., chairman of the House Manned Space sub-committee, is serving as honorary chairman of an advisory panel that includes Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth and Texas' two senators, John Tower and Ralph Yarborough.

One observer noted that "if all the various committee chairmen and members show up, that in itself would provide a tremendous crowd."

Area school kids, including some from Paschal High School which Bean attended, spent countless hours shredding and packing confetti to fill downtown "confetti orders."

There was, of course, a "confetti chairman."

Bean, Conrad and Gordon were to fly into Carswell Air Force Base Monday morning to launch a fast-paced schedule that ends Monday night with a public banquet.

Following the 9 a.m. parade, the astronauts will hold a news conference, attend a private luncheon and appear at an "Apollo 12 Youth Conference" and a reception in their honor.

Bean's wife Sue and the couple's two children, Amy, 6, and Clay, 14, will participate in the activities, but the families of the other two crewmen were not expected to be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bean, parents of the moonship pilot, were to view the parade from a hotel but otherwise planned to spend the day with the astronauts.

Perot Seeks TV Time

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—H. Ross Perot said Friday he is trying to set up an "electronic townhall" to air major issues on national television.

"I've been talking with all three networks in New York recently to try to buy prime time to provide a platform for the presentation of both sides of important issues," Perot said.

He disclosed the plans indirectly at a press conference regarding his trip to Southeast Asia Sunday in which he will try to deliver food medicine and clothes to U.S., prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

The youthful computer magnate said the national television forum would be underwritten by United We Stand, a national citizens group Perot formed several months ago.

"We've had about 5 million responses to the United We Stand idea so far," Perot said. "Our objective is 15 million."

Ghetto Talk Foreign To Most Whites

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) —Two sociologists say the language of the black ghetto is a foreign tongue to most middle-class whites.

Dr. John B. Joyner, director of Indiana University's Center for Human Relations, and Allen D. Grimshaw, an IU sociology professor, also reported in a study that ghetto talk can be shocking to outsiders.

Joyner is a Negro. Grimshaw is white.

They cite these examples: tough can mean beautiful, bad can mean good, piece can mean a gun, hog can mean Cadillac, baby hog can mean a type of Buick, vine can mean fancy clothes, help can mean a shot of drugs.

And four-letter, Anglo-Saxon words, normally shunned in polite conversation, are considered just more words in the ghetto according to Joyner and Grimshaw.

The four-letter words can change meaning with facial expressions of the user. With a smile, the term means friendship. With a frown, the term is an insult. Joyner and Grimshaw point out that the complications of ghetto talk confound and shock well-meaning white social workers trying to communicate.

One helpful aspect: most Negroes in the ghetto are "bilingual," Joyner and Grimshaw say.

TV Dog Has A Wonderful Life

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to the dean of television, Ed Sullivan, the grand old man of the networks is a dog.

"Lassie"—it is not even a secret anymore that she is really he—is now going on 17 years as a CBS star, and if one counts those great movie star years, he has been working for more than 20.

Now, as for the past several years, "Lassie" leads off the network's Sunday night schedule. As befits a comfortably established personality, it occupies a secure niche about halfway down the Nielsen list.

Over the years, "Lassie" has undergone a lot—fire, flood, avalanche—outlived several families and child-pals who have outgrown their roles. Through it all, the sleek, intelligent collie has survived intact and nicely groomed, ready for next week's adventure.

"Lassie" is actually the fifth collie to play the lead in the long-running series and is said to be the great grandson of the original male who became a star overnight in a 1948 MGM movie.

He, like his stellar ancestors, is owned and trained by Rudd Weatherwax, the most famous of the Hollywood trainers.

In the story line, Lassie is owned by a U.S. Forest Ranger, but just about every phase of his recent career is dominated by a small, blonde former film star named Bonita Granville, who is listed on the show's credit sheet as associate producer.

Bonita—"Bunny" to her friends—also is Mrs. Jack Wrather and a director of her husband's Wrather Corp.

Viewers who have stuck with the fabulous dog since the days when "Lassie" was owned by a farm family may not have noticed the gradual change in the show's concept. But it is there and it is deliberate.

It used to be a very simple half hour of "family entertainment": Lassie or some member of the family would get into awful peril and Lassie would get him or her out—in the nick of time for the final commercial.

"We still make 'Lassie' for family viewing," said Mrs. Wrather, "but now we are concerned with the problems of nature and the problems of people. And the Forest Ranger set-up is perfect for that—as well as for getting a lot of good photography by being on location about 90 per cent of the time."

In a recent episode, the script was built around a Braille nature trail and its guest stars were all sightless children studying at a California Braille Institute. Other past episodes have involved deaf children and crippled children.

Bonita Wrather, herself the mother of two, feels that such stories are "good for the show but better for the young audience."

It gives us a chance to show children a lot of important things without preaching," she said.

Sharp-eyed viewers have noted that Lassie himself has not very often been pictured as in danger. "Lassie" has occasionally been under fire by some psychiatrists and psychologists, who maintain that young children become upset and anxiety-ridden when a beloved friend, including one seen only on the small screen, is in danger.

To this Bonita replies with a ladylike snort of derision.

"I feel very strongly that there is nothing wrong when a normal child becomes emotional over someone or something he loves," she said.

"All this starts somewhere else—not in front of a television set. It starts with the parents, and it is parents who must teach children proper values and emotions."

Bonita Granville Wrather herself explodes the melodramatic Hollywood legend attached to child stars whose adult life was a tragedy.

Bonita did her first professional acting at 7 and won an Academy Award nomination at 12. She made more than 50 films before her marriage to Wrather, some of them still around the late night TV circuit. She looks back on the whole thing as a wonderful, happy experience.

"I loved it all—the people, the studios," she reflected.

"I wouldn't change a thing. I stopped acting only because my marriage was more important."

Now in her late 40s, with her daughter married and her son in school, Bonita works as hard as anyone on the series. Recently she directed her first "Lassie" episode.

Wrather's financial empire includes "The Long Ranger," hotels including the one at Disneyland, restaurant franchise operations, TV stations and oil interests. The couple maintains a home in Los Angeles, apartments in Palm Springs, New York City, and Balboa.

Lassie, whose career is so closely bound up with her own, lives with the Weatherwax family in Van Nuys, keeps slim on a diet of prime beef and cottage cheese.

"He's a darling," said Bonita.

Man Posts Bond On Drug Charge

DALLAS (AP) — Robby Lawrence Bowling, 21, of Denton posted $2,500 bond and went free Friday on a charge of possessing LSD illegally.

Federal agents armed with a search warrant arrested Bowling the day before at Love Field, where they said he took delivery on a package containing nearly four pounds of powders and pills identified as various forms of the hallucinogen.

Authorities estimated the LSD was worth $30,000 and said it was shipped here from the San Francisco airport by a man who gave a Berkeley, Calif., address.

The package was addressed to a Terry Williams of Denton and Bowling signed that name on a receipt, officers said.

Bowling wears long hair, sideburns and a mustache. He has lived in Denton about two months, formerly attended North Texas State University there and now shares an apartment with a North Texas student, he told police.

Two Texans On Latest Casualy List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Friday the names of 12 servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war.

They include:

Spec. 5 Donald R. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Rose, 4424 Hughes St., Wichita Falls.

Two Mishaps Are Logged In City

Considerable damage resulted but there were no injuries in a two-car collision on the parking lot at Gibson's Discount Center at 12:08 p.m. Friday.

Involved were the 1968 Model Pontiac of Linnie Tate Eubank, Box 133, Ira, and the 1966 Model Chevrolet of Steve Kenneth Babcock, 2903 Avenue J. Damage to the Pontiac was estimated at $890, and damage to the other one was set at $15.

City Police also investigated a two-vehicle collision on Avenue M at Thirteenth Street at 7:44 p.m. Friday. Damage to the 1969 Model Ford stationwagon of Billy Jack Murray, 200 Thirty-third Street, was placed at $150, and damage to the 1959 Model Ford of David Guerra, 1105 Avenue O, was set at $75.

Texas Areas Have Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains fell in some areas as bristling thunderstorms, plus a tornado which did no harm, pummeled Southeast Texas and the coastal plains in other areas during the night.

Showers hung on this morning in the same sections and light drizzle hung a misty veil over scattered portions of North Texas. There were widely scattered patches of fog from the Panhandle to the coast.

Conditions were expected to remain about the same through the weekend.

The twister appeared near Hamshire, in Jefferson County east of Port Arthur, but witnesses reported it whirled back aloft without touching ground. As much as 1.50 inches of rain poured down in the same county.

Moisture amounts elsewhere included Victoria .62 inch, Corpus Christi .52 and Houston .35.

Fog hung low in early morning around such points as Dalhart, Wink, Big Spring, San Angelo, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Palacios, Brownsville and Laredo. It slowed travel again in some areas.

The moisture and occasional turbulence were touched off behind a fast fading cool front, which early today lung stationary from near the Lower Texas Coast eastward into the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures hit highs Friday afternoon of 79 degrees at Houston and McAllen, and 80 at Brownsville. A top mark of 35 made Childress one of the cooler spots.

Readings near dawn today ranged from 30 at Amarillo and 31 at Childress and Dalhart up to 64 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Brando Ordered To Pay Wife $18,250

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —A judge has ordered Marlon Brando to pay his first wife $18,250.

The 45-year-old actor testified Friday he didn't feel able to support Anna Kashfi, 35, for $3,300 a month in support payments until her death or remarriage.

The couple married in 1957 and were divorced in 1959. Brando agreed after the divorce to pay Miss Kashfi $500,000 over ten years.

After Miss Kashfi testified that she had been sick and unable to work, Superior Court Judge James D. Tante ordered Brando Friday to pay her $18,250 in installments of at least $1,000 a month.

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

(Last of six parts)

If you botc' job interview after interview, all your preparation is wasted. The interview is critical in landing a job. And the opening few minutes may decide whether the interview is seriously continued.

YOUR GOAL is to get the employer to like you personally in the light of the job you want. The most important thing you can learn in this regard is this: Though silence may be golden, we're not on that standard now. You must talk up, as well as listen. . .using salesmanship to convince the employer that it would serve HIS interest to hire you.

DRESS should be on the conservative side. Forget the mini's and mod's, jeans and cocktail dresses, turtlenecks and love beads. Women should stick to simple suits or dresses; men to suits, white or muted pastel shirts, ties — or, if appropriate, clean, neat work clothes.

GROOMING should be flawless. Check your hair, fingernails, shoes, (shined and no run-over heels), clean gloves and hosiery. Women should use make-up with restraint, and both men and women should use deoderant — but no cheap perfume.

ATTITUDE. Smile. Give the appearance of enthusiasm and energy. Stand until you're invited to sit, then sit straight. Leave chewing gum at home, and smoking is by invitation only.

NEXT CHECKPOINT during the interview focuses on what the prospective employer wants to know about you — your qualifications, interests, education and experience, if any. He wants to know if you can express yourself, clearly and to the point.

HERE'S HOW TO COME OFF GREAT! If there is a trick to getting on the "wanted" list — other than selling yourself and qualifications — it's the homework on the company you do in advance. This helps you think of reasons why THEY would gain by hiring you. Ask friends, employment agencies, the chamber of commerce; read the company's annual reports; visit the library — trade publications and encyclopedias can give a broad picture of the industry.

ANTICIPATE QUESTIONS: Be ready with answers to likely questions such as "Why do you want to join our company?". . ."Tell me about yourself". . ."How did you pick your career?". . ."What specific job are you applying for?" . . ."What salary do you expect?" You could ask one of your teachers to invite a personnel interviewer to do a dress rehearsal with your class.

HOLD YOUR QUESTIONS about salary, hours, vacations, fringe benefits and coffee breaks until last, least the employer think that by hiring you, he'll be forced to bank the curve around the time clock.

ASK FOR THE ORDER: At the end, don't be afraid to let the interviewer know you're interested in the job — if you are. Offer to supply any further information needed. The next day, send a cordial note thanking the interviewer for his time and courtesy — it might influence him to make an offer.

THE PRIZE. For beginners, is the planned approach to job search worth all the effort? Emphatically, yes! By learning the system now you'll feel more confident about making future moves — particularly should you ever lost your job. And. . .

Richard Lathrop, an authority on the national personnel scene, is giving it to you straight when he says: "Many people get started in the wrong direction with the first jobs they take and then compound the error by building their careers on the initial mistake. Career entrapment of this kind comes from the widespread habit of basing career decisions on work experience rather than personal ability. It's a habit that can corrode the whole course and character of your future."
