

On The BEAM

J. W. KING, SR.

In spite of the dry weather boll weevils seem to be having a feast on young cotton forms in this area, according to reports. It makes us wonder if this section has already reached the point where the farming of cotton is not profitable. Some tell me that it has.

It seems that we must find some crop other than cotton and maize to keep our economy where it should be. Grass farming and the raising of cattle is becoming quite popular in the area but those farmers who do not have irrigation would not do much good with grass especially during a dry year like 1967 has been so we need to find a crop that produces well in dry weather to supplement our cotton.

When I came to this country 49 years ago I came during the most severe drouth the country has ever known. But Champion Creek had holes of water in it almost its entire length. These holes were fed by springs. After irrigation wells were drilled throughout the area the springs dried up and there are few holes of water on the creek. Some tell me that 50 years ago North Champion Creek also had water in it, deep enough in places for boys to go swimming in.

This reminds us that we need to do something to restore this water. One way I think it can be done is for each land owner on these creeks (and any other creeks in the area) to build low water dams. In a few years I think we would have a well-watered country.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas Department of Public Safety has issued a grim warning that 45 people will die in state traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend.

DPS will make an all-out effort to curb wrecks and to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways, says Col. Homer Garrison Jr., veteran director of the law enforcement agency.

Approximately 150-uniformed officers from other services will supplement the regular highway patrol force for the long holiday period - Friday, September 1 through Monday, September 4.

In addition a coordinated effort involving several state agencies and private organizations will be directed toward holding down the fatality and injury list.

Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution on the road and urging drivers to remain alert. TSA Vice-President W. F. Leonard will coordinate efforts of 12,000 Junior Chamber of Commerce members operating 200 rest stops which will serve free coffee to tired drivers.

DPS will carry on its educational program via newspapers, radio and television and will distribute maps showing highway construction sites.

A fleet of 35 to 40 cars to assist stranded motorists over the state will be operated by Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and Texas Motor Transportation Association. Purpose of the "holiday road patrol" is to relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work.

"There is always the possibility that the estimate of 45 deaths for this period can be proved too high, but only if all drivers put forth every effort toward avoiding traffic accidents," Col. Garrison said.

Meanwhile, DPS has announced radar sets will be placed in every patrol district over the state to aid in enforcing highway speed laws. Sets capable of accurate reading on vehicles at distances up to 1,500 feet will be carried in patrol cars.

Speeding figured in 41 per cent of last year's fatal accidents and 29 per cent of non-fatal accidents.

SMITH IS RUNNING — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith broke open the 1968 political season by telling reporters he will run for governor next year regardless of whether Gov. John Connally plans to try for a fourth term.

"I want to make it clear once and for all that I am running," Smith said. "I have absolutely no idea what Governor Connally will do, and it doesn't make one iota of difference."

However, the Lieutenant Governor insisted that he would not make a formal announcement of his candidacy, complete with definition of issues, until Connally returns around Labor Day from his African Safari.

House Speaker Ben Barnes has indicated he will run for lieutenant governor if Connally seeks a fourth term.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr also expressed some interest in the lieutenant governor's race. But he emphasized that he had not made a definite decision.

Another prospective candidate for lieutenant governor is State Sen. Murray Watson of Waco.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Lieutenant Governor Smith has named these committees:

Poverty Study — Sens. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, chairman; Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, vice-chairman; James S. Bates of Edinburg; Joe Christie of El Paso; and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

Oyster and Shellfish — Sens. Schwartz of Jack Hightower of Vernon.

Lane Use and Environmental Control — Sens. Criss Cole of Houston, Charles Herring of Austin and George Parkhouse of Dallas (who died shortly after appointment).

Westmoreland Portrait — Sens. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Bill Patman of Ganado.

House Speaker Barnes named to the Texas Legislative Council Reps. Ralph Wayne of Plainview, James Slider of Naples, Grant Jones of Abilene, Gene Hendryx of Alpine, Menton Murray of Harlingen, George Hinson of Mineola, Paul Floyd of Houston, Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth Don Cavness of Austin and R. H. Cory of Victoria.

ELECTION LAW CHANGES TOLD — Secretary of State John Hill has provided Texas election officials details of all changes in state election laws enacted by the 60th Legislature. Major changes include:

Voters may mark ballots with "x" or check marks rather than scratching names of candidates they oppose.

Counties may use electronic voting machines on approval of the secretary of state.

Those who have not yet met state voting residence requirements may vote for president and vice-president.

Those who have moved from county to county within six months before an election can vote for statewide officials.

Some city election dates will be changed from the first Tuesday in April to the first Saturday in April.
