WINNERS NAMED IN NORTH STAR STOCK SHOW AT BOGATA

Led by Guy Smelser and Fayette Reddell, carrying American flags, and immediately followed by Clarksville's 38-piece high school band, the North Star Stock Show got underway with a big parade at Bogata on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Formed on the stock show grounds in South Bogata, it traversed Bogata's Main street where hundreds of visitors and townspeople gathered to view the 183 saddle horses, ridden by many boys and girls and grown-ups. These were followed by a decorated jeep from the Cuthand Home and School Club, several new cars, seven tractors, some with attached implements, a double team horse-drawn landau, and negro band.

The old horse-drawn landau, owned by Jop Taylor, retired farmer, sawmill operator and county commissioner of Deport, was drawn by four horses arrayed in fancy harness. Passengers in the coach were clad in colorful dress of the Gay 90's. Since Mr. Taylor acquired the carriage two years ago at Paris, he has replaced the fringed top which had rotted, with one he made himself. He also repainted the vehicle black, trimmed in silver, red and blue. It attracted much attention and comment.

"White's Chance," ridden by O. B. White and owned by Mrs. White, was grand champion in the Tennessee walking horse division, judged by B. A. Skipper of Longview.

"Dairy," owned and ridden by Fayette Reddell, was judged grand champion in the plantation class.

An event that drew a big hand was the kid rider and pony, under 12 years. The judges handed out 11 blue ribbons to Kay Read, Kenneth Jeffery and Sammy Pearson of Deport, Kyle Harvey of Clarksville, Marion Mitchell, Stephen and Paul Tucker of Fulbright, Joyce Dean Vaughan of Paris, and Tommy Smelser, Hal Hudson and Babra Watson of Bogata.

"Red" Hulen of Clarksville was winner in the contest for the "Most Beautiful Lady Rider and Horse." Other winners were Mrs. Alvin Wood and Mrs. Irene Garrett of Bogata.

The Ladies Flag Race was also copied by Red Hulen. Her time was 10.2 seconds. Jud Mauldin of Bogata won the event for the men with a time 10.4 seconds.

FFA Grass Judging
An FFA team from Clarksville won first place in the 4-H and FFA grass judging contest at the North Star Livestock Show in Bogata.

The Clarksville team led other contestants with 599 points to take the coveted place.

Deport was second place winner with 568 points and Bagwell was third with 537 points.

High individual winners were Billy Brymer and John T. Hayes of Clarksville. They tied for first place with perfect scores of 200 points each.

Redus Pomroy of Deport and Billy Rains of Clarksville tied for second place, with 199 points.

The first-place winning team from Clarksville was composed of Billy Brymer, John T. Hayes and Billy Hayes.

The Deport team was composed of Redus Pomroy, Kerry Wright and Donald Williamson. On the Bagwell team were Sonny Fryor, Glen Parish and John Brooks.

The contest was sponsored by the Red River County Soil Conservation District. It also supplied grass samples for the event.

At the 4-H and FFA calf show Friday at the North Star Livestock Show at Bogata, a fine Angus steer, owned and shown by Louis Isom, Reno 4-H club boy, won grand champion honors in that class, and a registered Hereford owned by Glen Gambill, Central 4-H boy, took reserve champion honors.

In the Hereford class, entries by Glen Gambill placed 1st; Henry Gann, East Lamar, 2nd; Gary Nixon, Deport, 3rd, and Paul Jackson, Deport, 4th.

Jerry Rheudasil, Paris FFA member, had the reserve champion Angus heifer in the open show. This heifer won first in the junior show division. Rheudasil showed another heifer that placed second in the junior show. Gary Nixon exhibited the only heifer entered by a 4-H boy in the open division and topped 5th place.

Friday night brought the curtain down on the most successful livestock and horse show ever held in Bogata. The show opened Thursday and continued thru Friday. Bogatans are proud of their new show grounds, which afforded ample room for the cattle and hogs on exhibition, plenty parking room for trucks, trailers and space to accommodate the crowd. This is the first year for a midway attraction at Bogata, and old and young found plenty of entertainment from early until late.

Thursday was given over to horses and the Dog Show which was a new and appreciated feature. Thursday evening the American Legion sponsored a combination square and round dance at the high school gym, many were dressed in flowing calico and brought about a gay ninety effect. Friday was Cow and Hog day, with breeders from many different places showing their beef and pork animals. This brought about a gathering of 4-H and FFA boys that made the seasoned breeders look to their laurels in the winnings. These youngsters are producing some outstanding beef and pork and their stock is a credit to any show.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks again and again for the beautiful flowers, the cards, letters and gifts received while I was in the hospital recently. I will ever be grateful to you.

Thanksgiving is 172 Years Old

Thanksgiving this year will be the ninety-seventh since the founding of the United States. The Continental Congress started the custom in 1777, but after Madison it languished and for forty-seven years it was not celebrated.

The Puritans observed Thanksgiving as a substitute for Christmas, which they regard as a papish holiday. Their momentary period of peace and prosperity in 1621 made the holiday a natural one for them.

Alcorn Wants to Organize Association To Doubt Russian Politicians

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, comes up with a novel idea this week, which may be worth considering.

Dear Editor: For weeks now, in fact for several years, ever since Russia stopped needin our help any more in the form of airplanes and trucks and tanks and food, I been readin about the claims of the Russians, their threats, braggin, etc. For example, last week I noticed where Vishinsky says the atomic weapon has been available to Russia since 1947.

This is about like me sayin the mechanical cotton picker has been available to me since 1900. It was if I'd only had sense enough to make one. A bale an acre off my farm is also available, but I ain't got around to makin it yet.

The point is, I don't know whether Russia has the atomic bomb or not, don't much care, suppose she has, and if she hasn't will before long, but Russia makes so many statements and they get such serious treatment in this country that it's gettin monotonous. Russia knows what's goin on in this country because we ain't got any secrets, but no body outside of Russia and few inside knows what's going on there, and what they say for publication ain't any more reliable than what I tell my wife when I want to get to town on wash day.

Therefore, I am figurin on organization to question everything that Russia says. If she says she has a supply of atom bombs, I'll doubt it; if she says she ain't got none, I'll doubt it; if she says she's had a good rain, I'll doubt it; if she says she wants peace, I'll doubt it; if she says she wants war, I'll doubt it, but not quite as much.

I will expect you newspaper editors to coopearte by puttin quotation marks around everything that Russia says, includin the headlines.

As far as I'm concerned, Russia is now like the character which every town has one of, the man who has talked so much and so long and so unreliably that nobody pays any attention to him any more. If I was a big newspaper editor, I'd reserve a section of the paper for printin the news out of Russia, with a editor's note that anybody who believes it is welcome to, but I don't. What a Russian politician says may be entertainin, but it ought to be segregated.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

Improved Farm Methods Increase Production, Raise Living Standards.

It took nineteen farm people to support one city dweller in 1787. Today, nineteen farm people support themselves, fifty-six other Americans and ten persons abroad.

It just goes to show how far farming methods have improved, says Texas A&M College's extension in a recently published booklet. The handsome, illustrated publication is called "The New Agriculture."

"There is no practical limit to what American agriculture can produce," says the booklet.

But as important as is this boost in production, the extension service claims, are two other gains.

1. Farm families now can live as well as city dwellers.

2. Farm people have gained self-confidence. They have grown in stature in our society.

The agriculture service credits the progressiveness of Texas farmers—willingness to learn—for the improvements.

The booklet has divisions on mechanization, living conditions, poultry, livestock, eating, the war against insects, harvesting, conservation, family life, and "The New Confidence." The facts are illustrated by relating incidents from the lives of Texas farmers and ranchers and their families.

"The welfare of farm families no longer depends entirely upon their thrift, how long and how hard they work, nor upon such things as the virgin fertility of their soil, climatic conditions and markets," says the extension service.

"Today the degree of success is influenced a great deal by how much they know, how well they keep up with technical advances and how efficiently they apply what they know."

The booklet adds: "The trend is toward a greater dependence upon non-row crops and livestock; toward intensive development of pasture lands and increased production per man and per unit. Farm families are planning balanced farm programs adapted to market opportunities and wise land use."

The book deals at length with the use of labor saving devices to make work and home life more pleasant. One example is the growth of rural electrification. It is called "perhaps the greatest force for the improvement of rural living."

In 1930, the report relates, only 4.6 per cent of Texas farms were electrified. By 1940 the figure had jumped to 22 per cent and by the end of 1948 to 78 per cent. If the present rate continues, 95 per cent of all farm homes in Texas will have electricity by 1951.

For the field work, the report cites the great increases in tractors and other labor-saving equipment. The extension service estimates that 211,799 tractors were on Texas farms by the end of 1948.

DARK QUESTIONS

"Can I turn off the hall light?"
"You may."
"Can I turn off the big light?"
"Sure, Jim."
"Can I turn off the sofa light?"
"Why, yes, Jimmy."
"Now, that it's all dark in here can I ask you a question?"
"Oh, yes, Jimmy."
"Do you think this luminous tie pin is worth two-bits?"

TAKE YOUR KNIFE

The novice at fishing had hooked a very small trout from a little lake in the Canadian wilds. He wound it in excitedly until it was rammed against the end of the rod. Then he turned inquiringly to the guide and said, "What do I do now?"
The guide drawled, "Climb up the rod and stab it with your hunting knife."

Styling of the 1950 Ford Custom Deluxe sedan includes features which add to the performance, economy, safety, comfort and appearance of the new cars. With improved quality as the keynote, the 1950 Fords introduce a new treatment of the grille and parking lights, a colorful new crest — the first in Ford history — a new ornamental rear deck handle and lock, new instrument knobs, new and larger horn ring, foam rubber front seats with non-sag seat springs and a complete new line of interior trim fabrics. In addition the powerful Ford V-8 and 6-cylinder engines have been improved to give Ford the quietest and smoothest running engines ever produced by the Ford Motor Company.

Citizens Asked To Help Locate Stills in Texas

This newspaper thought Red River and Titus Counties were making their part of bootleg whiskey until Federal investigators at Tyler appealed to citizens to report stills and designated the following counties as strongholds of illicit distilling business:

Smith, Gregg, Rains, Henderson, Nacogdoches, Panola, Anderson, Angelina, Van Zandt, Wood, Rusk, Houston and Cherokee Counties.

It is this area that consistently leads the state in alcohol tax violations, officials said.

A 110-gallon cooker still, officers said, earns its owner a minimum of $1,000 a month and thus cheats the State and Federal Government out of more than $1,080 in taxes. The federal tax on alcohol is $9 a gallon and the state tax $1.85 a gallon.

Capture Big Still And Two Men

One of the largest illicit stills captured in several years in River County was in full operation Thursday afternoon three miles southeast of Cut

Amos Beaty, Deputies J. C. Amos and Joe Kelsow and Stanley of the State Liquor Board, participated in raid. Ten barrels of mash, gallons, were destroyed, also gallons of whiskey. Two cool units were going full blast.

Two arrests were made, according to Sheriff Beaty. One of the men had previously been involved in a liquor law violation for which he had served a term in prison, Beaty said.

The two men were turned over to federal authorities. The statute defines a liquor law violation as a misdemeanor, punishable by fine. The federal makes it a felony, carrying prison term.
