Britain Fearful Of Fog Sickness

AIDS STRICKEN

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 8.—England today feared appearance here of the mysterious epidemic of death which last week spread through the Meuse valley in Belgium under cloak of a heavy fog and took the lives of 67 humans and killed a great number of livestock.

Near Groumont, Yorkshire, ten cattle died yesterday on one farm of a mysterious malady of which the symptoms, veterinarians said, were much like those of victims of the Belgian fog. Like Belgium, southern England has suffered from intense fog.

Death Rate Rises

The view of Belgian medical officials that the Meuse valley deaths were due to fog alone has found considerable support among London doctors with a wide experience of fog effects. They cite official returns of several very foggy periods, in one of which the death rate arose from a normal 12.5 per week per 1,000 to 14.3 or an increase that week of 8,000 in the number of deaths.

The Daily Mail quotes an unnamed authority as saying that "the fog may have killed 60 persons in Belgium but it almost certainly killed 6,000 persons in London." It is explained that the increased mortality here, as shown by official returns, is due to bronchitis.

BELGIUM'S QUEEN IS AIDING STRICKEN

BRUSSELS, Dec. 8 (AP)—Heartened by the Queen's visit to the danger area, residents of the Meuse valley today returned to the homes from which they were driven last week by an impenetrable fog which brought death to 67 persons and sent others to hospitals with a mysterious sickness.

Queen Elizabeth, known as a skilled nurse, questioned patients suffering from the strange malady and was told by them that as soon as they entered the fog they were aware of an intense pricking sensation in their throats, followed by nausea. On the basis of her questioning she asked an exhaustive inquiry to determine the causes of the visitation. A special commission was formed for the purpose.

WOMAN'S CASE NEARS CLOSE

JURY INSTRUCTED BY JUDGE IN TRIAL OF MRS. O'LOUGHLIN

(By The Associated Press) DENVER, Dec. 8.—The jury trying Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin on a charge of slaying her ten-year-old stepdaughter, Leona, was instructed today it must find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree or acquit her.

The instructions were given by Judge Henry A. Calvert after he had overruled a third motion by the defendant for a directed verdict of acquittal.

Three instructions proposed by the defense were rejected by the court.

Ruling Is Sought

One sought a ruling the defendant should not be "prejudiced by her own or by the prosecution's inability to point out any other criminal agent."

The others referred to "unbroken chains" of circumstantial evidence, and to the mere possible presence of the defendant "at or near the scene of the crime." The defense asked the court to instruct the jurors such evidence was insufficient to support a verdict of guilty.

LINDSEY GOES TO COURT AS FIGHT ENDS

BISHOP, IN PRAYER, IS HALTED AND JUDGE BEATEN BY CROWD

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Ejected from the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine and arrested after he interrupted Bishop William T. Manning during prayer, Ben E. Lindsey had to appear in court today.

While Bishop Manning was delivering the scripture yesterday at the close of a sermon in which he denounced Lindsey's stand on compulsory marriage Lindsey hopped on to the reporters' table in front of the pulpit and demanded a chance to be heard.

"Bishop Manning," he cried, "you have falsely represented me. If this is not a house of justice it is not a house of God, and in justice I ask for five minutes to answer your unfair attack."

The congregation was thrown into turmoil. Two ushers pulled Lindsey from the table. Scores of parishioners rushed forward through the aisles. The former judge was punched and kicked. Several detectives broke into the struggling mass and propelled the victim toward a side door. The bishop continued his prayer with his back to the scene.

"He lied about me," shouted Lindsey as he was forced along. "He had no right to lie about me. This is neither a house of justice nor a house of God."

"Then the church rang with exclamations.

"Woman Cries 'Lynch Him'"

"Lynch him," screamed a woman. "Throw him out," cried a man. "Punch him," said another, and someone did. One woman exclaimed, "God bless you, Bishop Manning."

While the police were putting Lindsey in a taxicab a score or more of the congregation surged around them, denouncing Lindsey.

RAILS BATTLE GETS UNDER WAY TODAY

LANCASTER GIVES HIS LINE'S VIEWS AS P&F OBJECTS

(By HARBELL E. LEE Associated Press Staff Writer) The lines of argument that the rival groups will follow in the hearing on the application of the Texas & Pacific-Northern to build 352 miles of road in West Texas began to take shape today while J. L. Lancaster, of Dallas, president of the Texas & Pacific, was on the stand.

Lancaster, who also is president of T. & P. N. proposed subsidiary of the T. & P. N. was the first witness in the Interstate Commerce commission hearing before Examiner Haskell C. Davis.

The railroad would traverse a comparatively new country, which in Lancaster's opinion, still has plenty of opportunity for development. Lubbock was not entered by a railroad until 1908, and the city has almost 25,000 people. Many similar instances of rapid growth in this section could be cited.

Line Is Sketched
The T. & P. N. would give the only rail service to a number of towns on its route the witness testified, and would supply needed competition at the other points most of which are now touched by only one line. The road would run from Big Spring to near Vega, 332 miles, with branches into both Lubbock and Amarillo.

H. C. Pipkin, of Amarillo, attorney for the Santa Fe, which was the pioneer in this section and which is fighting the application, sought to bring out that there was already sufficient competition. He tried to establish that the Texas and Pacific already was a competitor over its route the witness testified, and would supply needed competition at the other points most of which are now touched by only one line. The road would run from Big Spring to near Vega, 332 miles, with branches into both Lubbock and Amarillo.

Georgian Is Slain In French Capital

PARIS, Dec. 8. (AP)—Police today investigated the assassination of Eli Ramichvili, minister here of the Republic of Georgia, who was shot and killed while driving in an automobile on the Place d'Italia yesterday.

The assassin, Bze Phanovkivadze who was captured as he fled after firing two shots into the minister's body, described himself as a Georgian bricklayer's helper but police believed his nicely manicured nails to belie his words.

At present there are 106 national and international affiliated unions and several hundred bodies known as local trade and federal labor unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DIAMONDS

Thought For Today

And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.—St. Luke 1:36

Nothing humbles and breaks the heart of a sinner like mercy and love.—Thomas Brooks.

Mother Jones

America certainly is the poorer for the death of Mother Jones. This gallant old lady had had about as turbulent and active a life as any woman ever had. She began her fight for the laboring man away back in the 'seventies and continued it until the last few years, when extreme age compelled her to retire. All in all, she put in a solid half century at it and did it with an energy, a courage and a combativeness that never failed her.

Desires and Powers

There is a good deal of human interest in that recent news story about the New York barber who wanted to be a movie actor. The barber, you remember, laid aside a movie director, and served his way into his office as a director. The judge finally had him arrested. The judge before whom the man was brought was evidently a man of sense; at any rate, he contented himself with "sentencing" the man to forget about the movies and go on being a barber.

The Bishops Speak

The Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church rendered a public service by their recent statement in regard to shorter working hours for laboring men. "Unless a way is found by which the hours of labor may be lessened and the days reduced to correspond to the output of machine production," the bishops said, "labor saving devices may prove a curse rather than a blessing."

A Sign

By 1940, says Mr. Bohannon, the rest of the world will be using automobiles on the same scale that America now uses them. Since the United States now uses 30,000,000 cars while all the rest of the world uses only 9,000,000, it is evident that for this prediction to come true there would have to be an expansion of motor car production and distribution greater in scope than anything ever dreamed of.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That Girl on Broadway says she's not a conductor's daughter but she can tell her enemies where to get off.

Even the Yankees have to admit that Mason and Dixon have a swell line.

The first of several days—perhaps a full week—of the T&P-Northern hearing got under way this morning and from the looks of the thing it's going to bring Lubbock about as much business as the average convention. Those in the know have estimated that at least a thousand visitors will have been here by the time the hearing is over and every one of the thousand is spending money while in town. No doubt several thousand dollars in extra Christmas business will be rung up as the result of the hearing, as well as the general run of expenditures necessary for any visitor any time.

The Plainsman forecasts that the ICC will permit the construction of the T&P-Northern's approximately 32 miles of line linking Big Spring on the South, with Vega on the North, but doubts that proposed branches into Lubbock and Amarillo will be permitted.

And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.—St. Luke 1:36

Nothing humbles and breaks the heart of a sinner like mercy and love.—Thomas Brooks.

Capital Cluttered Up With Thirty Hoover Commissions And Brown Suit Is Known As President's War Clothes

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—There has been a story told here recently about a man who was found wandering on the streets, and was picked up by the police. He didn't know his name, he didn't know where he lived, he didn't know how he got there, and he didn't know where he was going.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY" The morning when I was driving far out in the suburbs of my city I recognized a familiar figure walking vigorously along ahead of me. I overhauled this old friend whom I had not seen for years, and inquired the reason for the unusual activity. He explained that he had recently been examined by the medical department of his business organization and they found his blood pressure high.

It seems that we Americans are getting back at Soviet Russia by doing a little "dumping" ourselves. There was a time when the former Vice President DeWass of the Amtorg Trading Company told the Ham Fish congressional committee investigating Communists that 400 Liberty airplane motors had been disguised and shipped off to Russia as mere "machinery."

One of Al Smith's friends, down from New York, says the badly defeated 1928 presidential candidate always carries a lucky piece in one of his pants pockets. On one side of the token there appears a bust of Herbert Hoover and the words "Hoover for President." On the other side the inscription is "Four More Years of Prosperity."

A legend is being built up to the effect that Mr. Hoover in a brown suit is another person than the Mr. Hoover in a blue suit. Time was when Mr. Hoover wore nothing but blue suits. Recently he appeared at a press conference in a brown suit and began to speak boldly about things, as his friends have been wanting him to speak.

The president told state and municipal officials that he was not a professional fat woman in Washington, there was a lady supper party one night recently for Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. There was a birthday cake with 16 candles representing Tom's 16 years in the Senate and one big candle which was supposed to represent his future years there, which will be at least six according to the November election. There used to be a lot of talk here about these two folks "going together" and maybe being engaged, which talk doubtless will be revived for the winter season.

WEST TEXAS: Arkansas and Oklahoma: Fair tonight and Tuesday. EAST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight in exposed places in the interior; northerly winds on the coast, mostly light. LOUISIANA: Fair tonight and Tuesday; frost nearly to the coast tonight. Light to moderate northerly winds on the coast.

In New York With Swan Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Our own Who's Who—and some who aren't. Meet Peter Arno, the lad who now rates the standing of the town's most sophisticated artist-cartoonist-satirist. Who started to draw what he draws out of a vast distaste for bunk and pose in any of its forms. And who seems to draw his salon folk in acid rather than in ink.

He is just 28. Quite a youthful age for a gent to acquire so cruelly penetrating a sense of observation. His attire is what one might call rakish—purple shirts, lavender ties and all the rest.

He was urged to follow the career of a lawyer, for his father is a jurist of high standing—none other than Supreme Court Justice Curtis Peters. How, then, you ask, did he get his name? Very simple. His father's middle name is Arno, and there he was, with a perfectly good degree.

A more than passively sensitive youth, he was hard hit in the twenties in the usual mixings of college years. Which may have caused the construction of a defensive bitterness, as the psychologists put it. New York was his native town—a rare incident in this health where most important folk come from somewhere else—and he went from a local high school to Yale.

His wardrobe is particularly extensive, and is said to comprise some 40 suits of clothes. And almost as many changes of overcoats. He is proficient as a jazz pianist, can whang a banjo and was responsible for a syncopating band in college.

When he left college behind, it was to return to New York—in his own move into a Greenwich Village attic—and start to draw. His first efforts were the usual commercial folder covers and such. He even decorated lamp shades to get a job. Then along came Gilda Grey with a new set of shimmy wiggles and Peter found he could turn out wiggle music for the dancer—and did!

For strange are the round-about ways by which the Manhattan peaks are reached! Finally, some five years ago the New Yorker appeared as a magazine.

At its head was a young man named Harold Ross—and that in itself is another New York "Who's Who." For Ross had gone west from Salt Lake, Denver and west points, winding up in San Francisco as a waterfront reporter. There he met a girl named Rose—and himself and many others—waited for sunrise and an incoming ship would just at poker—a game for which he is now famous. If not notorious.

So much for Ross. His magazine gave Arno his big break. But Ross Irvin, the art editor-cartoonist, had more than a little to do with this, too. But that's still another story.

The first click was a team named the Whooops Sisters. The big town adored them, even if they became little known elsewhere. Well, his drawings today are even collected and set within the covers of two volumes—"Arno's Parade" and "Arno's Hallelujah." They are said to sell by the 10,000—and some odd years ago, well—just a bit naughtily. At any rate, naughtily or nice or impertinent, the Who's Who of Manhattan have adopted Peter Arno as the favorite of the sophisticates.

And, in case he happens to catch the national fancy, don't say I didn't tell you a much about him as I know. Well—not exactly everything.

A South African scientist has discovered a method of making asbestos from citrus fruits. This probably means curtains for oranges.

The Notre Dame boys may not know a thing about the fashion, but they're certainly famous for their old-fashioned Irish lacing.

In the steep climb to success, says the office sage, a little "pull" often counts as much as considerable push.

This is the season when hunting dogs start out with a new leash on life.

Parsons, Kas. Boy Scouts are collecting discarded toys which they will repair and give to poor children for Christmas.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Another speed boat whizzed right by and Scouty said, "Oh gee, let's try and have a race with that fine boat. I hope that we can win. Please hurry, Mister Travel Man and catch up to it, if you can." The craft's exhaust was opened and it made an awful din. The other boat slowed down a bit and Clowny cried, "I would make a hit with all of us if you will race. We'll have a heap of fun. We'll start together, right in line." The other man yelled, "Sure! That's fine. Pull up, now, right beside me, lad and then I'll shoot my gun."

COMMUNITY CHEST MORE EFFICIENT

Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles about the Community Chest.

The manner in which the Community Chest operates from week to week and from month to month shows many advantages for the organization over the old method of carrying on the work of the six agencies separately.

To become a member of the chest, each agency must sign an agreement that, if accepted, it will do a number of things.

They agree to have a board of directors of local citizens in control of its affairs.

They agree to present monthly a record of its work and a financial statement showing monthly receipts and disbursements.

They agree to adopt an adequate system of accounting prescribed by the chest board and to have its books audited annually.

They agree to refrain from making any campaign for funds, taking those secured through the chest.

Efficiency Aided All of these requirements of the chest tend towards getting greater efficiency out of the agencies and the monthly reports are checked toward the end of further helping in this direction.

The fact that the Community Chest raises the money and that the chest collects the pledges from month to month, turning it over to the agencies monthly, is important. It gives the agencies and officials of all the agencies more time to do the job for which the money was raised and eliminates a waste of time and effort in raising their own budget.

Retired Minister Talks

"In A Short Time Argotane Has Built Me Up After Suffering Twenty Years" Says Wichita Man

"I've suffered twenty years and Argotane built me up in a short time," said R. E. Heim of 300 Pool St., Wichita Falls, Texas, while talking with an Argotane representative.

"I had a severe case of stomach trouble and everything I ate would sour on my stomach and bother my heart, which would beat so fast at times. I thought I would run away with me. I had to take soda all the time and never had any appetite for I was afraid to eat. I was bilious and was dizzy all the time and was very nervous. My system was worse every day and I realized that something must be done but everything I did seemed to do me no good."

"I was reading the paper one day and noticed a stomach preparation Argotane. I got a bottle and have commenced to get better and stronger than I have in twenty years. I am glad to endorse Argotane for it is the best stomach medicine I ever heard of or have ever taken. Anyone who will give it a trial will soon learn of its value."

HOUSTON YOUTH SHOT AND STORIES OF AFFAIR DIFFER

(By The Associated Press) HOUSTON, Dec. 8.—An investigation was under way today into a shooting Sunday night in which Charles Kennedy, 22, was critically wounded.

Roy Brannon, 19, told police he was with Kennedy at the time and that the shot came from a house. He said he took Kennedy to a nearby residence, where he called an ambulance.

Report Is Given

J. W. Phillips told police he fired the shot that wounded Kennedy. He said he and Mrs. Phillips had returned when there was a knock on their door and that they thought it was their two children returning from a show.

Mrs. Phillips answered the door. Phillips said, and two men who looked started an argument and one of them choked Mrs. Phillips. He said officers that he went to her rescue and fought the men with his fists first and then when they started running, got his pistol and fired at them.

Prohibition employees were found very frequently to be victims of false allegations made by violators for the purpose of discrediting the agents as government witnesses against them. Dr. Doran said his agents had seized 8,633 automobiles valued at $3,290,530 together with 64 boats. In addition to the cases resulting in jail sentences in federal courts, and fines totaling $1,678,732, he said, courts either suspended, paroled or probated sentences aggregating 3,205 years.

While members of the Parent-Teacher associations here are responsible for the appearance of Dr. Myers' writings, the articles are designed to appeal to any parent. They are of the question and answer type and anyone having a problem on child training is privileged to write Dr. Myers for advice.

In his sermon the Bishop termed Lindsey's latest book "the most filthy, insidious and cleverly written pieces of propaganda ever published in behalf of lawlessness, immorality, audacity and unrestrained sexual gratification." The Bishop said Lindsey's teachings were "contrary to the plain principles of Christian morality; it was the duty of the clergy to brand it (his teaching) as the foul and wicked thing that it is." Lindsey stands openly and publicly for legalized free love under cover of the term companionate marriage.

Lindsey Takes Notes

Lindsey sat quietly through the sermon, taking copious notes. He had entered the edifice unnoted and taken a seat up front with his lecture manager.

The Bishop refused to make a complaint after Lindsey reached the station house, but a policeman did so and the prisoner was released on his own recognizance. Lindsey's lawyer, Carl Hays, appeared as his attorney. The formal charge was disorderly conduct.

Laval To Head New French Government

PARIS, Dec. 8 (AP)—Senator Pierre Laval, characterized by Clemenceau as one of the most brilliant members of the Chamber of Deputies of the Tiger's day, today was given a mandate by President Doumergue to form a new French government. His selection to head a ministry was not made until Senator Louis Barthou, himself a man more of Poincaré's type, gave up the task as hopeless when the radical Socialists refused to participate in a government which included a representative of the strong rightist, Louis Marin.

LANCASTER SKETCHES PLANS OF T&P AS ICC HEARING OPENS ITS SESSIONS

much of this section was being retarded by inadequate transportation. He stated elimination of possibility of any future shortage of grain cars during the grain harvest season and the development of one of the best livestock feeding sections on the nation would be definite results of the construction of the new line.

He stated the section to be served was ideal for the production of livestock fed crops and that west of Big Spring there were thousands and thousands of cattle and sheep that had to be sent elsewhere for finishing.

Crowd on Hand Among those on hand at the opening session were representatives of the chambers of commerce at Big Spring, Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, Dimmit, Hereford, Lubbock, Amarillo and Vega, which would be traversed by the new line.

C. C. Terrell of the State Railroad commission sat in with the examiner and Dewey Lawrence and R. D. Cox, jr., of the state attorney general's department, were here to help plead the cause of the applicant.

Hulen on Hand John A. Hulen, of Fort Worth, vice-president of the Fort Worth and Denver, was here as a representative of the Rock Island. Both the Rock Island and the Denver oppose the application.

Examiner Davis, who is endeavoring to wind up the hearing in a week's time, served notice that cumulative evidence would not be permitted. Night sessions will be held, the examiner said.

The T. and P. N. would spend almost $13,000,000 in building the new line.

Mr. Pipkin asked several questions about the old Midland and Northwestern which ran from Midland on the T-P to Seminole, Gaines county, Mr. Lancaster in his reply said that the road had operated through counties in which there was "much school land" that was "not subject to sale." The witness stated that the territory through which the M. N. W. had passed was the best of the state for agricultural development and was not very great.

The railroad plans to issue first mortgage bonds with which to complete the railroad construction, "in the event the I. C. C. authorizes the construction," the witness said. Mr. Pipkin brought out the fact that the railroad hoped to get five percent money from the sale of the bonds.

Tonnage Stressed Many questions as to tonnage expectations of the proposed line brought the admission of the witness that he did not make the figures or statements contained in the reply to the questionnaire. After several questions relating to two or three items in the return had been asked, G. C. Beckman objected to the line of questioning. Mr. Pipkin insisted that he had the right to go down the list of tonnage expectations and to find out where President Lancaster got his information.

Passenger service from Amarillo and Lubbock to Big Spring will be "through" the railroad executive stated. Trains from Amarillo and Lubbock will be "consolidated" with the through train from Vega to Big Spring. Pullman service from Lubbock and Amarillo also is assured. There will be two trains daily, one each way. Attempts to bring out operation methods, such as length of run of the crews, whether through or turn around, brought the information that these details were as yet incomplete.

Humor Is Seen An attempt to get Mr. Lancaster to state where he got the figures on the number of cars of cotton, as estimated in the return, brought a similar reply as to tonnage questions. A bit of humor was injected into the hearing when Mr. Lancaster said he did not know the "net weight" of a bale of cotton, although he could not tell how many bales to a car was the average. "A bale weighs around 500 pounds," he stated, and the crowd smiled.

Similar questions on wheat brought the statement that most of the wheat would likely come from Lamb, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Potter, Castro and Randall counties.

Mr. Lancaster denied that the proposed road was parallel to the proposed Vega-Forest line of the Rock Island for fifteen miles south of Vega. He insisted that it was as far away as ten miles or more.

When the question as to the proposed line being parallel from Terry county into Lubbock, Mr. Lancaster countered with the statement that in no direction from Lubbock would be possible to build a new line that did not for some distance closely parallel present Santa Fe lines.

Competition with truck lines along the T-P came in for some questioning. President Lancaster insisted that his company can "meet truck competition."

Following the initial dip of 1 to 5 points which followed the government estimate of 14,243,000 bales which was nearly 300,000 bales less than traders expected, the market rallied to 10.55 for January and 10.82 for March, or 16 to 17 points above the early lows. This bulge attracted heavy hedge selling, which had been held back until after government report was known and also selling by Wall Street which forced January to 10.34, March to 10.57, and May to 10.80, or 21 to 27 points down from the highs and 10 to 14 points under Saturday's lows.

GOV. BILBO BURNED IN EFFIGY

INVESTIGATION AT 'OLE MISS' WILL FOLLOW ACTION OF STUDENTS ON SATURDAY NIGHT

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Dec. 8 (AP)—University of Mississippi students speculated today on what action Chancellor J. N. Powers would take regarding the burning Saturday night of a stuffed figure bearing an inscription, "Down With Bilbo." Possible comment also was awaited from Governor Theodore Bilbo.

"I have nothing to say," the Chancellor said upon his return here from Jackson yesterday. "because I have not had time to make an investigation. Of course I am sorry the regrettable incident had to occur—particularly in my absence."

Student Gives Views Cary Stovall, president of the student body, connecting the burning of the figure with the dropping of the university and other state-owned institutions from the accredited list of the Southern Association of Colleges, said the proper thing for "Ole Miss students to do is to go to work and make an honest effort to regain the rating lost."

About midnight Saturday a pair of pajamas was stuffed with cotton set afire, and hoisted to the top of the flagpole in the center of the University grounds.

The Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the Southern states voted last week to suspend five Mississippi schools from membership in the organization because of "political interference with state-owned schools." Governor Bilbo is chairman of the State Board of Trustees which made widespread faculty changes last summer.

ARMY-NAVY GAME HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

LUBBOCK HIGH SHOWS GAIN FOR YEAR

With Collier Farris Journal Sports Editor

While we're waiting for the scores of the Oil Belt to complete a more or less extensive research in an effort to dig up reasons why Breckenridge lost to Amarillo and why Ranger lost to Pampa, we'll look a little further down the line that leads to a state championship.

No sooner had the dust of battle cleared away from the Amarillo and Corsicana gridirons Saturday afternoon than the coaches of these institutions were conversing with each other concerning the next step toward the state championship game. They will meet in Fort Worth early this week to decide the time and place for the semi-final event.

The winner of the Amarillo-Corsicana game is a pretty safe bet for the state championship. For either team is considered stronger than the South Texas representative or the Northeast Texas champion. Austin's Maroons, however, must be pretty tough, though they allowed themselves to be scored against three times in the game Saturday with John Reagan of Houston. Reagan had defeated Port Arthur just a few days previously for the championship of the district.

It is hard to compare the relative merits of the Corsicana and Amarillo ball clubs. Neither team has been defeated so far, and both swept over their bi-district games without having a score marked against them. True, Corsicana's victory was the most decisive, but it is contended that Breckenridge was a much tougher opponent than Oak Cliff. It is also contended that the teams of West Texas this season are stronger... than the teams down state. Amarillo had a lot of hustling to do in order to put by District 1 competition.

So it behooves the West Texas fan that Amarillo will emerge from next week's semi-final battle with the heaviest end of the score. Mr. Central Texas fan will not agree to this, because he has seen the teams play before the Corsicana-Benches. There'll be lots of wagering in connection with the game, and it is our guess that West Texas will prosper.

We cannot resist the temptation to utter a small bit of wish looking down wind to our Oil Belt friends. At the time of this writing, we have not seen the paragraphs of any of the District 2 scribes, but we're prepared for what may come. All through the season, the scribes over there have been fighting it out between themselves over which one of the Oil Belt teams would take the state championship this time. Scarcely a thought has been given to their northern next door neighbor, and we'll bet there will not be much said, either. The sooner they can forget about it, the better they'll feel.

We rise to question. Who is this Boyce Magness? Who is this "Scrap Iron" Grimes? Where is them Dangerous Dan McCarty? We had heard so much about them that we had hardly dreamed that a District 1 team should be victorious over an Oil Belt delegation. And not only once in ten years, nor once in one year, nor once in one week, but twice in as many days the leaders of the Oil Belt went down by decisive counts to leaders of the Plains Belt.

In the next column on this page is a story dealing with the financial results of the late lamented grid season so far as concerns the Lubbock team. We note that the high school has emerged with some profit, while the college is facing a big deficit. At the same time we see that the total gate receipts for college games runs about $20,000 more than the total gate receipts for high school games, yet Tech has gone "in the red" about $7,000, not including an extra $4,000 for a field house, which was not included in the annual expense budget. Guess why.

It takes lots of money to run athletics, and particularly college athletics, as these figures show. We collected the figures from authoritative sources, yet they tell a story that is in truth stranger than fiction. M. H. Duncan gave us the high school figures and W. L. Stangel afforded us the college figures. The answer to the above puzzle lies in the fact that Tech has an expense budget of $30,500, while that of Lubbock High is announced as $23,000.

After brief ball, while football passes into the background, basketball will be upon us full force. It appears that Tech and the high school will be well represented on the mazy courts this winter, and with good facilities for caring for fans out Tech way the season should be a successful one from an attendance standpoint. Schools expect to make money during the football season, break about even with basketball, and lose great gobs on track and baseball to say nothing of the winter sports.

Houses in Austin, Texas, in which O. Henry lived will be filmed in the making of the talkie version of "Hush" of 36.

MAJOR LEAGUE MEET STARTS

BASEBALL BOSSES ARE READY FOR ANNUAL GOTHAM CONFAB

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Baseball's leaders gathered in New York today for the annual mid-winter meetings of the National and American leagues. The selective draft, chain-smoke baseball and the lively ball threatened to cause most discussion.

Although formal sessions of the two leagues begin tomorrow, two important conferences were on today's program. One of them was to bring together representatives of major league clubs and a committee from the minors for a discussion of the draft dispute. The other was a meeting of American league managers to hear suggestions that might be of benefit to the league as a whole.

Had Tech counted on gate receipts at football games, the deficit would have been more than twice that sum as the gate for the season for Tech was $10,556.40, and there was an expense budget of $34,524.40. Gate receipts, however, did not include student activity fees and physical education fees, which totalled $12,887, making the grand total income for the season amount to $23,443.40. Subtract that from the total budget and you find $11,181 to the right of a big minus sign.

After guarantees had been paid to visiting teams, Lubbock High school officials found a remainder of $3,439 from which $3,222 had to be subtracted for running expenses, leaving a clear profit of $217 for the season.

BOMBER KILLS LOAN MAN

INFERNAL MACHINE IN CHICAGO ALSO HURTS ITALIAN'S SON

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Explosion of a powerful bomb, contained in an innocent looking package opened by a boy to satisfy his Yuletide curiosity, caused the death early today of Tony May, professional bondman and money lender, one time known as the "millionaire news boy."

Today was the 64th anniversary of May's birth and it was generally supposed that he believed the package was a birthday present. May died in a hospital to which his 15-year-old son, Eugene, who opened the package, was also taken, severely injured by the blast which wrecked the May apartment yesterday. He suffered a score of wounds about his back and head. Windows throughout the entire 40-apartment building, situated in Lincoln avenue, were shattered.

Police were working on two theories. One was that May, an Italian immigrant who worked his way up from newsboy's start, may have been the victim of extortionists. The other was based on his money lending business. During a few moments of consciousness he gave the police the name of a man whose name he had furnished to collect a loan and who was reported to have made threats. He is being sought.

ATTORNEY GIVES VIEWS "My understanding is that our recent governor of New Mexico is against preparation of oil production," W. D. Benson, Sr., attorney of Hobbs and former Lubbock resident, said while here Saturday.

Mr. Benson added that he was expecting the present prorator order to be lifted shortly after the new administration takes office. Former Governor Hinkle was elected state land commissioner of New Mexico. He succeeds A. D. Crile. The state geologist is named by the governor but is under the land commissioner. The former geologist resigned to become field umpire for the Lea county oil field.

TO BE IN CITY LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Littlefield business men and farmers are to be in Lubbock in large numbers for the hearing to be held beginning today on the application of the Texas and Pacific Northern to build from Big Spring to Vega.

Scores of farmers both north and south of Littlefield have urged the local chamber of commerce and other organizations to get behind the railroad. Many farmers in the county have to haul their merchandise as far as 40 miles to a railroad, it is pointed out. For this reason a north and south railroad will benefit them.

JAPAN CENSUS SHOWS GAIN

SIXTY-FOUR MILLIONS JAMMED ONTO ISLE, COUNT INDICATES

TOKYO, Dec. 8.—Officials figures of the national census taken last October as announced today give Japan a population of 64,447,000 of which 4,017,000 represents gain during the last five years. The density of population is 168 persons per square kilometer, representing an annual increase of 1.5 per cent. These figures did not include the population of Korea, Formosa, Saghalien or the mandated islands of the equatorial Pacific. The totals indicated Japan's population growth, which has been a matter of world concern in recent years, has been larger in the past decade than was generally believed. The 1930 total is 8,486,584 larger than the 1920 figure, making the average annual increase $66,558. Unofficial estimates, however, figured the annual rate of increase averaged $42,180.
