A Little About Everything
Not Much About Anything
By JAMES E. KELLY
(Opinions expressed in this column are the views of the writer and should be so interpreted).

I HAVE A LOT OF STAUNCH friends in Stanton, for which I am most grateful, at least they have led me to believe they're my friends. Many of these friends are dyed-in-the-wool Democrats — you couldn't tear them away from their political beliefs with a bulldozer. They make no bones tellin' you where they stand on political matters, or any other kind of matter, if you ask them, and sometimes you don't have to ask them, if you'll just listen with your ears. That's just the kind of guys I admire — if they believe they're right a blast of dynamite couldn't separate them from that belief.

"Excellence is the perfect excuse. Do it well, and it matters little what."—Ralph W. Emerson.

These friends of mine, after reading this column from time to time decided I, personally, favored Dwight D. Eisenhower for President, and, of course, kidded me right smartly. But having brushed shoulders with them for over twenty years, had convinced my good Democratic friends, (one of whom I claim to be one, only lean on the Independent side), that I was perfectly harmless, but could be dependent on standing hitched to whatever hitching rack I preferred to tie to. They reminded me if I remembered the jackrabbit and bank bustin' days of Hoover's administration, and so on. And as hard headed was I in my Eisenhower belief. In turning away from our arguing, I could see that some of my friends carried the impression, "D—med, if we believe he ever was a Democrat — he's from Kansas to Oklahoma and from Oklahoma to Texas, and you know what a bunch of outlaws used to "bed-down" in Oklahoma."

It was the late Will Rogers who said: "You can't ruin this country, even with politics."

Strolling into the coffee shop next morning after the election to sip me a cup of coffee, none of my dyed-in-the-wool Democrat

Stanton "Boom" Transforms to Solid Growth

NEW CONSTRUCTION FIGURE UP; CITY GAINS NEW FAMILY DAILY

A Washington, D. C. press correspondent today announced that a $40,000 REA loan had just been approved for Cap Rock Electric Co-op of Stanton. Purpose of the loan is to finance farmstead installation of irrigation facilities in Martin County.

The Cap Rock loan was one of five approved by the Rural Electrification Administration, and was the only one approved in Texas. The administration allocated $1,750,000 to be expended on projects in Florida, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, and Stanton in Texas.

Simultaneously J. H. and Harry Billington are in Chicago buying supplies to begin operation of the Billington Irrigation Supply Company here. Construction of a $25,000 building is now underway to house the new firm.

Also under construction in Stanton at this time are a number of permanent business installations of large proportion. The new steel and masonry office building for Stanton-Midland Farm Loan Association is nearing completion, while work has begun on Humble Oil Company's Super Service Station on Highway 80.

As described in another article in this issue, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will build a central office for dial equipment here early in 1953. Besides $68,000 appropriated for the office, an undetermined sum will be expended for the accompanying cable system.

West Texas Gas Company has just approved extension of natural gas lines to the Latin American and colored sections of Stanton as well as smaller projects throughout the city.

The Stanton Independent School District is completely remodeling its buildings here at a cost of $138,000, and will spend another $9,000 for equipment. Completion is expected early in 1953.

Martin County Commissioners Court is purchasing rights-of-way and otherwise preparing for county road construction at a figure of approximately $200,000. State and National spending for actual road building here may well surpass one million dollars.

Even before the height of Stanton's permanent new construction agenda has arrived, the Martin County Chamber of Commerce reports that new fam-

FIRST PRIZE ARRANGEMENT—This table arrangement, designed by Mrs. Elmore Johnson of Stanton, was awarded first prize in "Art in Flowers" magazine's 1952 contest. Art in Flowers, a national magazine, will publish the design in its November issue as well as a biographical sketch of Mrs. Johnson in the publication's "May We Present" column. The arrangement was designed by Mrs. Johnson, proprietor of Johnson's Flower and Gift Shop, for the opening of the new First National Bank building here recently.

WORK PROGRESSING ON DIAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Work on Stanton's new telephone building and dial equipment is developing rapidly, as reflected by tentative completion dates announced here this week.

Bill Yeatts, district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, said building plans, which were started October 1 will be complete by November 15.

Actual construction of the new building here will start about January 1, 1953 and will require about 90 days to complete. Shipment of dial equipment has been promised by the time contractors finish the structure.

"We hope to complete the central office in Stanton," Yeatts said, "so that it may be coordinated with the Big Spring office when that system is converted to dial telephones next summer."

Cost of the central office here, including dial equipment but not the cable system, has been estimated at $68,000.

The new facilities will accommodate 900 numbers, a considerable growth to Stanton's 516 subscribers at this time.

Yeatts also announced that John B. Moore, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here for the last four years, has been promoted to the position of unit manager for the company's Fort Worth office.

Clifford W. Fisher of Fort Worth has been named manager here in Moore's place.

Moore was the first manager of this exchange, having been appointed to this post in September, 1948. Prior to this telephone exchange here was directed from Midland.

Fisher, formerly relief manager at Fort Worth, arrived in Big Spring Monday to acquaint himself with his new duties. He will be in charge of the Big Spring, Seminole and Stanton exchanges.

Fisher, a graduate of Rutgers University, served in the Army Air Force during World War II.

ROBERT W. CREECH ENLISTS IN ARMY

Anniversary Coffee Goes at Rate of Cup Every Minute

Everybody was mighty happy, last Saturday, as Stanton Walgreen Drug Co., celebrated its first birthday. The gay anniversary party featured a special sale event plus free gifts every hour, free coffee, and free ice cream.

Although store management kept no records of the free coffee served, our staff mathematician came up with the information that a cup had been served every minute during the day.

PHILLIPS PETROLEUM CO. BUILDING GASOLINE PLANT

Angelo Davenport, residing on Star Route out of Stanton, is working with a crew that is building a gasoline refinery in the Spraberry oil field 30 miles south of Stanton for the Phillips Petroleum Company.

Davenport reported that some 30 men living in and around Stanton, are working on the plant.

The company hopes to have the plant in operation within the next thirty days.

Davenport said the road the oil field workers of Stanton travel to reach the Spraberry field, turns off highway 80, at the 5-mile store west of town. When the road is completed leading off highway 80 at the Jim Webb Grocery at the west edge of Stanton, south to connect with the Midland highway, the distance to the Spraberry field will be more direct and shorter.

RAINED ALL DAY ELECTION DAY AT JOE FROMAN'S

Commissioner Joe Froman, of Precinct 4, was in town Thursday, to set himself down around the table with the rest of the commissioners court and canvass the returns of the November 4th election.

He reported that it rained most all day Tuesday, election day, in his voting precinct, giving the community about half an inch of moisture, enough Joe said, to make both moistures meet. Froman's voting precinct is Brown. There were 108 votes cast in the precinct, and there should have been 150, according to Froman, but the rain kept the balance of 42 votes at home.

The head to this item would appear to be misleading to anyone who reads it, but this reporter has it from a young man who should know. He hasn't been home from Alaska more than a month.

The Reporter stepped into the front door of Walgreen Drug Store Sunday morning, and met face to face with Herbert Jones, who, with handkerchief, was clearing his lips of any sediment that might have been left from drinking a cup of coffee. "Cold as thunder this morning," the reporter shot at Herbert.

"Colder here than in Alaska," Herbert flared back. "Up there the wind is still, you don't notice it so much as down here where the wind whoops it up."

Herbert served two years with the Army in Alaska, and was honorably discharged from the service a month ago.

The latest election returns according to the count made by the Texas Election Bureau with complete returns from 249 counties out of 254, is as follows:

Democratic: Stevenson, 960,866; Daniel, 1,159,453; Shivers, 1,213,517.

Republican: Eisenhower, 1,095,529; Daniel, 386,079; Shivers, 412,217.

On National Ticket: MacArthur, 662.

Constitutional Ticket, MacArthur, 593.

MacArthur received 1259 votes in Texas.

The total number of votes cast in Martin County at the Tuesday, November 4th election, was 1514. Of this number for President of the United States, Adlai Stevenson received 937 votes and Dwight D. Eisenhower, 539 votes. Stevenson received a majority of 398 votes.

The Eisenhower clan in Martin County, have one point from which they can justly tip their hats and shout, and that from the result of the votes cast by absentees. This vote numbered 38 votes, with 15 of them cast for Stevenson and 23 for Eisenhower. And up at the Ackerly voting box, the voters embraced in a 50-50 battle, and gave Eisenhower 17 votes and Stevenson 17 votes.

The 38 absentee votes added to the total votes cast at the voting boxes, which was 1476, gives a grand total of 1514 votes cast in Martin County in the Tuesday November 4th election.

The vote cast in the Presidential election failed to reach the number cast in the July primary. That vote totaled 1576, and the Tuesday election vote figure reached 1514, a loss of 62 votes.

This reporter met up with Joe Froman, county commissioner of precinct 4 Thursday morning following Tuesday's election, sitting in the courthouse getting ready to shed his coat and join other members of the commissioners' court in canvassing the votes. He stated he believed his voting box Brown, would have polled fifty more votes than it did, had it not rained all day on election day, giving the community a half-inch rainfall. Had it not rained and Froman's estimated number of "absentee" voters cast their votes, that loss of 62 votes would have been boiled down to 12.

From the amount of enthusiasm displayed by both the Eisenhower and Stevenson supporters during the campaign in Martin County, indicated that the total vote cast in Tuesday's election would far exceed any votes cast in any previous election held in the history of the county. The rugged campaign carried on by the nominees of both parties for President, and their supporters, as well as the hot battle waged in Texas, would have stimulated local politics to a degree that every eligible voter in Martin County would have gone to the polls and voted.

In the U. S. Senate race, Price Daniel received 1,099 votes as a Democrat and 104 as a Republican, while Gov. Allan Shivers received 1,031 votes as a Democrat and 103 as a Republican.

The county approved the two constitutional amendments. The workers' compensation amendment carried in the county by 438 to 310, while the medical education fund amendment was approved by a margin of 396 to 355.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur received two votes for president.

Below is a tabulated vote by precincts in Martin County as cast for President in the November 4th election:

ELECTION SIDELIGHTS

A lady voter stepped into a voting booth in California with a dress that had painted on it, "Vote for Ike." Election officials refused to permit her to vote because of the sign effect. She tore off the garment with the sign on it, and cast her vote draped in the next article of women's wearing apparel.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover issued the statement: "The American people have ordered a change in the administration of the Almighty for his success in the great task now before him."

The President and Vice President elected will take office January 20, 1953. The 20th amendment adopted in 1933 established January 20 following the general election as the date for inauguration. Prior to that, the United States had inaugurated its presidents on March 4, every four years. The new Congress will meet for the first time on January 3, and it has the responsibility of officially counting the electoral votes and in turn, declaring the official winner of the election.

As had been the case in many bygone elections to be the first voting precinct in the state of Michigan to report its complete vote, it again held good its record by being first this year. That the precinct was simon-pure Republican was evidenced by the vote of 15-0 for Eisenhower.

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower can hold office only eight years. He will be the first President limited to two terms. The 22nd amendment ratified last year placed the two-term limit. No vice president who has served more than two years of an unexpired presidential term may be elected president more than once. That means a vice president becoming president during the last two years of his predecessor's term could be elected president for two 4-year terms—a total of 10 years. But if the vice president became president during the first two years of his predecessor's term, he could be elected president only once thereafter.

The almost clean sweep of Michigan by the Republicans, knocked the props from under the strength of the union labor vote in that state. Labor leaders had stated that the unions would throw their power behind Stevenson. Detroit is one of the strongest union labor points in the United States.

Glaspick County, Martin County's sister county on the south, polled the largest vote in its history, 454. Of this number, Eisenhower-Nixon, received 233 votes and Stevenson-Sparkman, received 197 votes.

McClain County went 70 per cent for Eisenhower with 7,937 votes for Ike and 3,214 votes for Stevenson.

From all accounts the voters of Martin County are going to demand a recount of the votes cast in Martin County at Tuesday's election. The official count by the local canvassing board gave Martin County 1514. The Texas Election Bureau's tabulation of Texas votes on Wednesday of last week and published in the Dallas News in its issue of the Thursday following, gave Martin County's vote as 937 votes for Stevenson and 532 votes for Eisenhower. This would make a total of 10,963 votes the county polled. Could it be our canvassing board is carrying around in its vestpocket over 8,000 votes?

THE STANTON REPORTER, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1952

An Eldorado ranchman won $10,000 on Eisenhower for President. He turned an endorsed check for $500 to the Salvation Army in San Angelo. He said: "Up to now about the best I've been able to do was burn prickly pear and feed them to my cattle, but after this I'll be able to buy them a little protein, too."

Senator Kefauver received one vote for President in precinct two.

400 Million Hungry Chinamen Too Many

Dear editor:

I have been noticin with alarm that some people throughout this country are arguin we ought to roll up our sleeves and end the Korean war even if it means takin on China too.

Now people who talk like they ought to go a little slow, and I notice most of em probably ain't of fightin age any more, but the reason they ought to go a little slow is this:

Suppose we decide to end the war, start bomb-in supply bases in China, and we have to take on that country too.

Now I ain't sayin we can't whip China, what I'm afraid of is that we can.

That is, say we bomb the daylight out of em, finally land troops and take the country. Everybody over there gives up. Then what?

Don't you know it'll then be our job to feed em and don't you know it'll break this country tryin to feed 400 million Chinese? Maybe we can stand to whip Germany and feed only 150 million, or Italy with 50 million or so, but to whip China and take on the job of feedin 400 million and maybe more, ain't nobody really got a accurate count, and see what it'll do to our economy. Personally, I guess I could work a little harder and produce a little more, but saddlin the job of feedin 400 million Chinamen on us farmers, in addition to all the others we got to feed, is askin too much.

I tell you, if this country ever needed some real, deep thinkin, it needs it now. War just ain't what it used to be. To the victor used to go the spoils, but nowadays winnin a war is like whippin your brother-in-law. After you get it done you have to take him to the hospital, pay for havin him patched up, keep him around your house several months while he's recoverin, and then get him back on his feet economically.

I don't know what the answer is in Korea, the same as Eisenhower don't, but anything that leads to feedin 400 million Chinamen ain't what I call statesmanship.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Revelations a Source
Of Fine Inspiration
For True Christians

THE Book of Revelations came out of a period of crisis in the early days of Christianity. It was during a crisis when the faith of the disciples was being put to a severe test in the fires of a terrible persecution.

The book was written to encourage Christians, to help them to be firm and have a sense of God's presence. It was meant to offer assurance of ultimate deliverance and blessedness if they endured the test.

According to biblical scholars, the book was written in the time of the reign of Domitian about 90 A. D. The totalitarian power of the state was dominant. It was a rule of insane power that demanded the worship of the emperor as a test of loyalty to the state.

It was not enough that the Christian citizen be a loyal citizen of the empire. He was called upon to prove it further by setting up a man, and a very bad man at that, in the place of God.

In many ways it was no sterner a test than many have faced in our own times. As the gas chambers, mass executions and ovens of destruction will prove.

If the Book of Revelations is difficult to interpret, it is because of the dangers that threatened author and readers in those days of persecution. But, if it is difficult to understand, it is also sublime and moving in its beauty.

There is an unflinching sureness in the assertion of God's eternal power. And the fact that Christianity did survive the powers that sought to destroy it is proof enough that the book did bring strength and inspiration to those persecuted Christians who needed it so badly.

It is a book for our time as well as for theirs.

NUMBER ONE item on most anyone's list of automobile "musts" is power—the life and lift of your going.

In this Buick SPECIAL you get a valve-in-head high-compression Fireball 8 Engine that can pour out a wealth of the thrilling power you ever held rein on—more power per dollar than you'll find elsewhere.

Number Two is ride—the way you go—the comfort and steadiness and luxury of your travel.

Every Buick has big soft coil springs on each wheel to cushion your way—and an unyielding torque-tube that firms and steadies your ride. Yet these are just two of the fifteen Buick ride features that cost, literally, more than a million dollars to engineer.

Then there's style, there's room, there's visibility, there's handling ease—all part of your travel—all helping to make the difference between good going and great going.

But price is very much part of the picture, too—what you pay for what you get.

So when you add in the big horsepower rating you get in a Buick, plus the extra thrill and thrift of its Fireball performance...

When you measure the inches of room, count up the many hours of comfort through the years, check off things like durability and solid satisfaction and high trade-in value...

And when you put this total against the price of a Buick—you're going to say, "Man! That's great going all the way!"

Come in and see us today or tomorrow, won't you?

Buffalo News

AN EDITORIAL Jo Jon Hall

As we are nearing the close of this football season, we want to thank all you townspeople for supporting and standing behind our team. It has helped the boys to know that so many are behind them; however, there are some people who seem to misunderstand the meaning of support of the team.

Is it really standing behind them if we sit up in the stands and talk about their playing or criticize them when not one of us could do the job as well? Those boys are doing the best they can, and we are proud of them for it. It isn't much of a credit to Stanton for our own fans to make slurring remarks about the officials and the players we say are supporting. It takes much more than your mere presence at the game to support our team; it takes kind words and frequent pats on the back especially when the going is rough. After all the game of football does not have as its sole purpose the idea of victory; it teaches teamwork, physical and mental alertness, and most important of all, courage and faith in one another. Let's all of us as fans, show a little of this courage and faith in our boys and make Stanton a place of which we can truly be proud.

COUNCIL CHATTER Eula Belle Mott

The Student Council of Stanton High School met recently to discuss the rules on leaving school during class periods and means of reducing accidents that occur in the halls while changing classes.

Before leaving school during class periods, a student should leave an excuse with Mr. Byrd and sign out. The sheet for this purpose is on Mr. Byrd's desk. The student's name and his time of departure should be written on the sheet.

It was decided by the Council to send representatives of the Council to each class and ask that the students slow down a little when moving from class to class and show courtesy to their fellow students. In this manner many accidents will be avoided.

The president of the Council, Scooter Polk, representing the student body, gave the welcome response at our Homecoming ceremonies last Friday.

TIC TAC TATTLE

Thanks for all the news. Keep it coming.

Ray D., we hear that you really have a girl friend that likes you. Rosemary still likes the Navy. Homer, who was that you were with one night recently? It didn't look like Bobbie Jean. Say, Sarah, what were you doing at the hospital one night last week? I guess that you have noticed Nancy Glaze is wearing a different watch now. Who does it belong to? Could be Sammy Yates. Gordon and Jimmy was that show good Tuesday night? "Leave Her to Heaven" or was it just heaven. What about that L. C. and A. B. H.? I can't understand why you never see Tom Ed talking to Mary Frances anymore. What is this we hear about Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Hornbeck? Seems he and Coach Read can sympathize with each other about waiting on women. Jimmy Lou, who was that large letter from the other day? Seems that Cowboy Week was just what was needed to get Jerry Sue to notice Henry. Carrol Sue, watch out! Jo Jon, who were you with Wednesday night? We have a new pair of lovebirds at school (G. G. and T. H.). Jehncaal, what's this I hear about you going to slaughter someone if they put your name in the Tattle. Guess I shouldn't take advantage of a sick person, but here it is. Say, Mike, why do you always have a date? Sabra, how is daddy getting along? Esther, don't get mad. Frances is sure blue since she lost her boy friend. My advice is get another. Congrats to Freeda on being our Homecoming queen. See you in Sundown.

The Tattle.

It takes two to quarrel, to make up, and to discover. A girl, when a boy stands her up, wonders if he is trying to tell her by his actions that he doesn't like her anymore or has decided she isn't very pretty or fun to be with. So she decides to make him sorry by flirting with another boy or tell him she never wants to see him again.

date at the last minute or puts on an act to impress the other fellows, wonders if she is bored with going out with him or if she thinks his ideas about people and places to go are dopey. He usually decides to show her by taking another girl home or to wait until she cools off and admits it was her fault.

If you're wrong, admit it to yourself first then to the other person. A boy likes to know that you're sorry for making the mistakes you did. If he's wrong, he, too, should be bold enough to admit his mistake. If you're right, remind yourself that everybody is entitled to a few mistakes. A self-righteous, if-he-wants-to-make-up-let-him-come-to-me attitude is unkind and unfair. Boys are just as sensitive and easily hurt as girls, but they just don't show it.

Discover that everybody is different. Some girls are actually frightened by this discovery. They try to make themselves exactly like everyone else. A wise girl listens quietly when voices are loud; she asks questions coolly when tempers are hot; she tries to find out why. She knows, too, that if she agrees with a person in a little matter, she may more impressively disagree with him in a big matter. She is the girl everyone likes because she is "so understanding". Are you that girl?

PRIDE OF THE HERD

Patsy Pollock

Frances Geurin is the senior we have interviewed this week. She is annual representative of the senior class.

Her favorite color is purple, and she looks especially well in this color with her bright red hair.

The record she likes best is "Meet Mr. Callahan" by Les Paul. Scott Brady and Elizabeth Taylor top her list as movie stars, and the best movie, according to Frances, was "The Greatest Show on Earth."

Frances likes all her teachers and subjects, but Coach Read and American history are her favorites.

She likes summer best because she can swim and participate in other outdoor sports.

The foods she likes best are fried chicken and pecan pie. Fran's hobby is collecting phonograph records, and her favorite pastime is playing them.

The kind of boy Frances likes to date is one that has nice manners. He should be well-groomed, tall, and lots of fun to be with. He should always be on time for a date and let her know before the date where they are going so she will know what to wear.

On her dream day Frances would go to some lake where she could water-ski and swim. She would do lots of eating, sleeping, and sight-seeing. Later she would fly to Abilene to see a Hardin-Simmons football game. After the game she would return to Stanton.

Frances' future plans are to go to business college in Seattle, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Morgan of Midland visited Saturday in Stanton with relatives.

Baptist Youth Choir Elects Officers

The Youth Choir met November 3 at the First Baptist Church.

During the business meeting, officers for the current year were elected. They are Jere Lyn Coon, president; Wayne Petree, membership vice president; Lee Ona Coon, fellowship vice president; Paige Eiland, secretary; Zanna Moseley, treasurer; Bobby Joe Gray, librarian; and Shirley Shoemaker, reporter.

The choir invites anyone who wishes, to attend the meeting.

TOM ESTES, BUYER OF HEREFORDS

This bit of news was "snaked" from the column, "Riding the Grub Line" by Franklin Reynolds appearing in Sunday's Big Spring Daily Herald:

"Tom Estes of Lamesa, has purchased seven bulls and nine heifers from W. F. Cone of Dimmitt."

One thing the Reporter is interested in this piece of information, is that Tom Estes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Estes, who ranch in Dawson County, and they were a pioneer ranch couple living around Stanton before they moved to their present ranch property.

Tom Estes was just a little brat of a boy, supporting himself by holding on to his mother's apron strings when they ranched in Stanton area. Another thing this writer holds against Tom, is that he slipped off down here and "kidnapped" one of Stanton's fairest young daughters, Billie Thomason, daughter of Mrs. Anna Thomason, and by doggies Tom is still holding her in captivity.

friends could be found in their accustomed places at the coffee bar, in fact they weren't even in the building. I was feeling "high" and I wanted to spend some of that Republican loot left over from the battle, by setting 'em up to coffee. The absence of any male sex in the coffee shop led me to wonder if all those who had been frequenting the shop for coffee, were Stevenson men, and they were a little "gunshy" at appearing in public so close on to the landslide votes that were sweeping Dwight D. Eisenhower into the Presidential chair.

A Democrat bet a Republican that eight months after Eisenhower was elected every national bank in the country will be closed. The Republican lost as eight months from election day is July 4—a national holiday.

But what line of sport eclipses that one that engages friends in a discussion of pro and con on the subject at hand, especially the one that has to do with politics. Then the feeling of ecstasy that outdistances them all, is the one which comes after the election when friend and foe meet, shake hands, pat each other on the back, and say, "Oh, h—ll, let's all go drink a cup of coffee." Those are my kind of friends, and they're the ones I have been talking about who differed with me on my choice for President.

Fearing the loss of jack-rabbits for running greyhounds, a sport of the chase wrote a friend: "Send me five of your fastest greyhounds—hurry before the Republicans grab up every rabbit in the country."

I want all my friends who opposed Eisenhower for President to consider he is no one man's, nor any certain click of men's President, but he is all, our President. Let bygones be bygones, let the dead past bury the dead, and turn our attention to the future. President-elect Eisenhower will go into the Presidential chair, burdened with as heavy responsibility, of any President, if not a more weighty load than any President carried before him. Let's all get behind him. Let's all pray he will end the parade of leading our men to slaughter in Korea, the top-ranking problem in the hearts of the peoples of the World, outside of Joe Stalin and his satellite countries, to be solved.

To Please a Ghost

The story goes that if you put a lighted candle in your window on Halloween you can keep the spooks away. But our suggestion would be to invite little witches and sheeted ghosts to enjoy this luscious, mouth-drooling pie in the guise of a pumpkin. It's an Orange Parfait Pie topped with chocolate... made with the ease of all parfait pies... and sure to satisfy stay-at-homes as well as wandering goblins.

Punkin'-Face Pie
1 package orange-flavored gelatin
1 1/4 cups hot orange juice*
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled

Chocolate Topping
Dissolve gelatin in hot orange juice in 2-quart saucepan. Add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring until melted. Then chill until thickened but not set (30 to 40 minutes). Turn into pie shell reserving about 2 tablespoons for top. Chill until firm (15 to 20 minutes). Before serving, spread Chocolate Topping over pie to resemble a pumpkin. Make eyes, nose, and mouth with the reserved orange filling.

Chocolate Topping. Cream 6 tablespoons butter. Add 6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar gradually, blending well. Add 1 1/4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, and 1 unbeaten egg yolk. Mix thoroughly and spread on chilled pie as directed.

HOMEcoming GAME PROVES ONE OF BEST DURING SEASON

Luck rode the bus with a mighty fine football team when the Morton Indians came here Friday to defeat the Buffaloes 27-14.

Time was running low in the fourth quarter and Stanton was driving down field to earn a 21-20 margin over the visitors when Morton's Faulkner intercepted a pass and ran it 60 yards. The reverse left Stanton's count at fourteen and added seven points to the Indians twenty, sewing up the game.

Both teams earned the admiration of all fans for an evenly played, hard fought game. Had the Buff pass gone to its intended receiver for the TD, the visitors would still have won the respect of all Stanton.

Neither team scored in the first quarter. After a quiet start Maxie Davie brought the first cheers when he recovered an Indian fumble at midfield. Unable to pass Morton's 40 yard strike the ball was booted to the 10. Working it back to their own 40 yards again echoed for Burley Polk who recovered another Indian fumble. This Buff drive was stopped on Morton's 15 yard line when they picked up a Buff fumble to end the initial stanza.

Second quarter was also played mostly around midfield. A long pass to Morton's 15 was intercepted by Gailbreath who returned it to his own 20. It was not until the fading minutes of first half that Morton's star, Burns, unleashed his incredible speed and aerial power to complete two 20 yard passes and circle right end for twelve yards to pay dirt.

With one minute remaining in first half Duane Connell received the kick on his 25, returning it ten yards. A five yard Indian penalty put it on the 40. Twenty seconds were left — Eldon Hopkins heaved a mighty pass to Reggie Myrick on the Indians 30. Ten seconds remained — Hopkins waited for Myrick to again pull out. The pass arrived safely so Myrick's arms on Morton's 10 as the referee's whistle ended the game, and a 65 yard Buff drive in one minute. Halftime score: Indians 6, Buffaloes 0.

Coming out at half Burns engineered a five play route for his team's second score. He skirted left end for 17 yards and the marker, then kicked the extra point to put his team ahead 13-0.

Buff Lead 14-13

In spite of Burns command, the Buffaloes were destined to overtake his margin. Connell returned the kick 15 yards. Polson, Blocker, McKaskle and Hopkins all gained yardage, with smooth blocking, to the Indians 18. Again Myrick streaked to the end zone where he found Hopkins pass. This time it meant a score, and Maxie Davie's kick was good for an extra point.

In spite of Stanton's rugged defense, starring Polson and Jimmy Wheeler, Burns was not stopped until Gailbreath again intercepted one of his deadly passes on the Buff 10 yard line, at the end of the third quarter.

Already in hot water the Buffs were penalized to the 5, with third down coming up, but a drive was begun by passing to Blocker for 20 yards. Hopkins and Blocker were delegated to carry the ball to Morton's 25.

Deep in Indian territory, and well along in fourth quarter, the Buffs took what they wanted. Hopkins faded back while Blocker picked out a clear spot in end zone. The pass was completed and the score tied, 13-13. The Buffaloes took the lead 14-13 when Maxie Davie again kicked between the uprights.

The Buffs could not protect their margin against Burns' speed and deadly passes. He took the ball to Stanton's one foot line where Faulkner circled right end and an extra point put Morton on top 20-14.

With about two minutes of playing time remaining the Buffs tried the air lanes in their last chance to tie the game at 20-20, or win it 21-20. Stanton's pass receivers encountered franchise interference and a fifteen yard penalty for unnecessary roughness was assessed the Indians.

Driving deeper into Indian grounds a long pass was shot out for the kill. It was intercepted by Faulkner, who very cautiously picked up a convey, and went 60 yards for a Morton touchdown as game ended. The Indians had really earned their 27-14 victory.

The Buffs are to be congratulated for their scores and the three drives that so nearly paid off.

32 DEGREE WEATHER AND 3/10THS INCH RAIN GRETTED LOCAL CITIZEN

Overcoat clad and with chattering teeth the Stanton pedestrian left his home Monday morning in a temperature of 32 degree weather and plodded on sidewalks and streets that had received 3-tenths of an inch of rain Sunday night.

The self-same citizen walked to the election polls to cast his vote on Tuesday November 4th, in a shower of rain that measured almost half an inch before the day ended. So with the shower of Sunday night this citizen has been wondering could it have been the avalanche of votes that swept Eisenhower into the Presidential chair, that so shocked Jupiter Pluvius that for the moment he lost control of his hold on the endgate to his water wagon, and permitted a few drops of water to sprinkle down on the land.

Heavy frosts prevailed in this area Monday and Tuesday mornings, and a temperature registering in the 32 degree mark was in evidence.

SLEEPING IN HEAVEN (In Memory of Our Loved One—)

J. T. Adams
Daddy is sleeping with Jesus, I know that he is there, For when my Daddy was living, He taught us the meaning of Prayer.

Mom and Dad were both Christians, They taught us children the same. They said, "Always trust the Lord Jesus, And Praise His holy name."

Now we must go on without Dad, Because God just called him away. He called him away so suddenly, November the sixth was the day.

Dear God, up in your wonderful Heaven, Please listen to my Prayer. Watch over and keep our Dear Daddy, For soon we will meet him up there. By a daughter—Juanita Adams ities are moving here at the rate of one a day. Although Stanton has not experienced a housing shortage for several months, the chamber reports all vacancies will be filled at an early date if the present trend continues.

A business "boom" struck Stanton early in 1951, following oil developments here. Business and residential construction met the demand. But "big boom" smoke always drifts off, leaving a town to readjust itself to the rapid advance made.

Stanton's readjustment was made more painful by oil field steel shortages and the third consecutive drought. However, present building trends prove that Martin County cannot be lickered and that progressive businesses will survive and prosper.

DELTA OMEGA MEETS

Delta Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Thursday in the home of Mildred Eiland. Dorothy Riley presented an interesting program on Table Manners. Marie Johnson discussed Table Decorations, displaying several flower arrangements.
