Car-Truck Crash Hurts Family Of Five Monday Eve

Following a car-truck crash about 3:15 p.m. Monday, on Highway 35 north, Mrs. James Howard Mills underwent surgery at Spohn Hospital for fractured ribs and a possible punctured lung, while her daughter, Barbara, 2, was in serious condition with a back injury.

James H. Mills, 26, her husband, who was driving the car, received only minor injuries as did other daughters, Debra, 5, and Tamara 4. Mills is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills, of Mills Wharf, and his wife is the former Sallie Warden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warden.

The crash came, witnesses said, when Mills swerved to miss a car pulling a boat trailer which had stopped in front of him on the highway and was waiting to make a left turn. In so doing, the Mills car struck a guard post protecting a culvert and was knocked across the highway, colliding with the rear end of a sixwheeled grain truck headed north on Highway 35.

The truck was driven by Vaughn Olen Martin, 28, and belonged to the M. P. Hermes Grain and Product Co., of Yoakum.

The auto pulling the boat trailer, was driven by Irwin Drak, of 8934 Sagamon Street, Houston. With him as passengers, were his wife, Mabel, daughter, Cheryl Ann, son, William, son's wife, Catherine, and their children, Patricia and William. None of them were hurt, nor did Martin suffer any injury.

The Mills' live in Port Lavaca, where he is a teacher.

Failure to comply with other provisions of the law, may subject men to prosecution, or induction into the Army out of turn and ahead of other men, Mr. West said.

Maximum penalty for failure to comply with any provision of the law, upon prosecution and conviction, is five years in prison, fine of $10,000 or both.

Young men may register at the board office in the Surety Title Bldg. in Sinton, or with the following officially-appointed board registrars:

Weldon Cabaniss, Rockport, Texas; Warren Howerly, and Miss Marie Britton, Post Office, Aransas Pass, Texas; R. E. Phelps, Post Office, Ingleside, Texas; Percy Hartman, Room 214, Courthouse, Sinton; C. V. Nelson, Mathis, Texas; and Robert C. Bell, 505 Gramman, Beeville, Texas.

Rev. Edmonson Appointed Rector Of St. Peter's Parish

On Sunday, Aug. 3, the first rector of the newly-formed parish of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Rev. Harold W. Edmonson, will be inducted in ceremonies at the church, with Rev. Canon Gerald N. McAllister officiating.

St. Peter's, although formed

as a mission in 1871 only became a parish in February, at the annual conference of the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas, and Reverend Edmonson is the first priest to be appointed to the parish, which previously had, as its lay minister Mr. Harry Carter, who has been retiring intermittently ever since last November.

The new priest has had a varied career before coming here to take up his duties. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Canterbury College, Danville, Ind. Following that, he attained his Master of Science degree at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind. Since then, he has done graduate work in English and education at Butler and Purdue universities. He also holds a Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Episcopal Theological Seminary at Austin.

For three years he served as a Presbyterian missionary to the Navajo Indians in Arizona and to Spanish-speaking descendants of the Conquistadores, the latter post being in Santa Fe, N.M.

From there he went to Unionville, Ind., where he was a basketball coach in the public schools. Following this, he served as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, working out of the Pittsburgh, Pa., office in a territory that covered southern Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Upon leaving the FBI, he became a missionary of the Episcopal Church, and was appointed Academic Dean of Cuttington College in the West African republic of Liberia, founded by freed American slaves in the past century.

Returning from Africa, he became Rector of the Church of the Messiah in Gonzales, from whence he comes to fill his present post.

He and his wife Ava have three children, Alan, 14, Jeffrey, 8, and daughter Sarah, 5. They are now in residence in the Episcopal rectory.

Nav. District Commissioners Inspect Fulton

Commissioners of Aransas County Navigation District No. 1 conducted a final inspection Wednesday of the work at Fulton harbor, prior to accepting the job as completed.

Accompanying the commissioners were representatives of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, Inc., who were the consulting engineers on the project, and of the Goldston Co., Inc., successful bidders of the work.

The first contract, totaling $119,708, was awarded Jan. 14, and the contractor was allowed 180 calendar days to complete the work. On Feb. 18, an additional $4,215 contract was added, bringing the total to $123,923.

Work on the project, part of a $450,000 construction program for which bonds were voted in 1963, consisted of four main phases:

(1) Constructing a sea wall extending approximately 1,000 feet north of the harbor, to stop beach erosion. The contract also called for material behind the wall to be replaced with sand, coarse enough not to blow; fine enough not to injure bathers' feet.

This beach is barred to automobile traffic by a line of heavy posts.

In addition, a swimming pier was built, extending 150 feet offshore from the sea wall, hurdling the sharp shell that lines the Fulton shore, and reaching the sandy bottom farther out.

(2) Behind the beach and along one portion of the seawall next to the harbor, extensive areas have been paved, to provide necessary room for parking.

(3) At the southern end of the paving, extending offshore approximately 100 yards, a groin, capped with a fishing pier, has been built.

This is also designed to aid in controlling beach erosion. The groin is of interlocking, concrete piling, protruding approximately four feet above the water. The walkway which caps it is of timber. Six feet wide for most of its length, it spreads to ten feet wide for the last 80 feet, after reaching deeper water, and ends in a ten-foot-wide T-head, 40 feet long.

(4) The fourth and most important item was construction of roughly 300 feet of concrete pile bulkheading in two sections, around the harbor entrance, and dredging of approximately 25,000 cubic yards of material in a realignment of the channel.

This work, long discussed, was of primary concern, because of rough water in the harbor and around the Fulton launching ramp. The two breakwaters now mask the harbor entrance completely, and wave action there is almost non-existent since the work was done.

Other work, including construction of cabanas and rest rooms at Fulton, is now underway, but the contract on this is held by Laguna Construction Co.

Clement O. Williams, Jr., of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, was project engineer; Phil Pacheco, of the same firm, was resident engineer on the job.

Navigation District Commissioners are Chairman Raymond Owens; Ted R. Little, vice chairman; Charles J. Schindler, secretary-treasurer. Those making the tour of inspection included W. M. Goldston, president of the Goldston Construction Co., and W. E. Spencer, estimator for the same organization; Homer C. Innis, vice president of Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam; Phil Pacheco, resident engineer for the company; and the three commissioners, Raymond Owens, Ted Little and Charles Schindler.

Mrs. Bobby Jones has returned home after attending a six weeks course of study at A&I, Kingsville.

John Young Says Every Effort Made for Payment

Congressman John Young has told Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell that he will do everything in his power to see that the county and school district are reimbursed for taxes lost when the federal government takes over another 32,000 acres of land and adds it to Aransas Wildlife Refuge.

The assurance came in a telephone conversation today. Congressman Young said there was a bill now pending in Congress that will accomplish this purpose and that he would do everything possible to aid in its passage.

"Senate Bill 136 has already been passed in the Senate," the congressman said. "It is now in the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, of which I am a member, and should be reported out very shortly. This bill was introduced by Senator Metcalf. There is a companion house bill, HR 11008, introduced in the House by Mr. Thompson, of Louisiana."

The Metcalf bill, Congressman Young said, provided that 3 1/2 percent of the purchase price should be returned to the county and school district annually, with a provision that this should be updated every five years.

"I am assured," Young said, "that if the bill passes this amount will be slightly greater than the taxes that will be lost when the Federal government acquires the land. Moreover, payments on the original 47,000 acres of the Refuge will be stepped up, and should be considerably more than in the past."

Congressman Young's assurance stemmed from the fact that Judge Wendell had recently written him a letter of protest, after it had been announced that the Tatton ranch lands in Aransas County were to be acquired by the Federal government, and would thus be removed from both county and school tax rolls.

This, said Judge Wendell, would take approximately 43 percent of the county's acreage out of circulation, permanently, and would cost the two agencies in question approximately $27,000 a year in taxes which they needed.

Congressman Young said the Metcalf bill had been introduced to correct such situation in this and other states, and that it provided that such reparation payments could be made only to counties and school districts, and that the money could be used for roads and schools only.

Earlier, the congressman had told Judge Wendell and Precinct One Commissioner W. B. Allen that, "while it is doubtful that we could prevent acquisition of the land, our best approach would seem to be in attempting to get the Fish and Wildlife Service to agree to payments to the county in lieu of taxes. In order that the Service may be fully aware of the ramifications of this land acquisition in Aransas County, I am forwarding copies of your letters to the Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service. I will also contact appropriate officials personally, and put forth every possible effort toward securing payment in lieu of taxes for Aransas County."

In his telephone conversation, the Congressman emphasized that while this payment seemed possible, it depended on final passage of the bill now in the congressional works.

Pfc. and Mrs. Edward Johnson and children of Ft. Polk, La., left Saturday after a visit with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson attended a bi-district meeting held at the VFW Post home in Alice Sunday. This meeting was to elect and install officers for the District No. 26.

Mrs. Dora Rodriguez and Maggie and Mr. and Mrs. Lucio Segovia and family of Sinton, spent last Wednesday at Six Flags.

Fulton Needs Surveyed By Water District

Commissioners of the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District have started a mail survey of the Fulton area, to see how many people in that part of the county would be interested in becoming customers of the District's proposed water system to serve that portion of the community.

In a letter addressed to property holders, the commissioners say:

"The Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District was created by the Legislature for the purposes of providing future water for the County, and, as an immediate goal, to provide an adequate, high quality water supply for areas of the county not now incorporated or being served.

"To properly pursue these responsibilities, the directors of the District have employed engineers and financial consultants to study the most economical and feasible means to fulfill the goals of the District. These studies are now nearing completion and, as an aid to proper planning, the District needs to ascertain the present needs for water service in the Fulton area which is one of the areas where it appears that the immediate need for a water system is greatest at the present time.

"The District's consulting engineers, Lockwood, Andrews and Newnam, Inc., have prepared a line layout map of the area proposed to be served in an initial phase of a plan to serve the Fulton area with good quality water. The layout maps may be seen at the following places:

"Post Office, Fulton, Texas. Post Office, Rockport, Texas. First National Bank, Rockport, Texas.

"Attached is a postal card which the District would like to have returned as soon as you have considered the proposal on the water service. There is no obligation connected with this card, as it will simply serve to aid us in estimating the connections that may be expected in the area proposed to be served, and will aid in financing the project.

"When the final engineering report of the District is completed and a final plan adopted, public hearings will be held to acquaint all interested parties with the report of the engineers, and to allow them to ask questions concerning the project."

This letter, with the enclosed cards will be in the mail later this week, District Secretary J. L. Baughman said, and the maps will be posted as soon as the letters are mailed.

The card simply says: "I (would/would not) be interested in becoming a customer of the District's proposed water system to serve the Fulton area."

Commissioners of the District ask that all people receiving such cards fill them out and mail them as soon as possible.

RESERVE TRAINING TO BE EXPANDED

U.S. Army Reserve operations will be "greatly expanded" beginning Sept. 1, Lt. Col. Robert G. Mauermann, sub-sector chief, announced today.

Classes in basic training and advanced training in all combat arms and civil affairs will be added to the school's operations. Reserve school is conducted at the Army Reserve Center, 4722 McArde Road, Corpus Christi.

"Reserve officers who need further military training to qualify for promotion, whether assigned to a unit or to a control group, should be interested in this school," Mauermann said. "This is, by far, the best way to become educationally qualified and earn retirement points."

A conference will be held for interested reservists at the center at 8 p.m., Aug. 4.

FIDELIS CLASS MEETS SATURDAY

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church held their monthly business and social meeting Saturday afternoon with Miss Evelyn Townsend, on the patio of her home in Hill Village.

The regular business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. D. R. Simmons.

A devotional on the subject of prayer was given by Mrs. R. F. McKnight after which she led the class in prayer.

The entire group joined together in a capello singing of the class song, "Let Others See Jesus In You."

In honoring the birthdays of the month, Mrs. B. A. Bartoo was crowned Fidelis' Birthday Queen and Mrs. R. F. McKnight was recognized as Birthday Princess.

A quiz was given on Testament royalty.

The group was then divided into couples by matching halves of chosen proverbs. Each couple was given a subject to be discussed between the couple and for the entertainment of the group.

After a closing prayer, the hostess served cookies and punch to Mrs. C. O. Lutz, Mrs. George Thorman, Mrs. Roy Mullinax, Mrs. D. R. Simmons, Mrs. B. T. Hardeman, Mrs. E. A. King, Mrs. McKnight, Mrs. Bartoo and one visitor Mrs. Stevens.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Katy, Texas
July 27, 1964
Editor Rockport Pilot.

Dear Sir:
I have spend days fishing Copano, St. Charles, Spalding, Aransas, San Antonio and Lavaca Bays, in fact it would run into months if it was all put together, and in all this time I think I have seen some whooping cranes once and that was from the highway.

Now some empire builder from Washington plans to buy thousands of more acres for these birds that most of the people of Aransas County has never seen and close more waters to the fishermen who in turn are going to become about as extinct as the Whooping Crane if they don't stop closing waters to him.

I have no idea how much money I spent in Rockport as I lived there for eight years and enjoyed every minute of it. But I do know that the money the vacationers and fishermen spend in Rockport would make the tax item the Judge talked about, look like peanuts, and "that ain't hay" either.

Please lets organize and stop this thing before it goes any further. The whooping cranes are just barely holding their own and more room will not cause them to increase one bird, but believe me the fishermen are increasing and will continue to do so if given room to fish. I am,

Very truly yours,
Newell E. Boughton.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hardin last week and over the weekend were Suzy Lake, Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mercer and children, San Antonio.

FIREMEN AND LADIES ATTEND ORANGE GROVE MEET JULY 26

The third quarterly meeting of the South Central Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association met in Orange Grove Sunday, July 26.

The business meeting was held at the Rifle Club with approximately 300 people attending the barbecue lunch which followed.

Those attending from Rockport were, Fire Chief and Mrs. Coy Truelove, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cole, Cecilia and Michelle Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Royce Harrell, Mrs. James Ankele, Mrs. Elbert Mundine, Royce Harrell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ormand, Mrs. Max Simpson, Mrs. May Ella Newman, Mrs. J. C. Gurley and Miss Sarah Belle Smith.

After lunch the Ladies Auxiliary met for a business meeting. Mrs. Cecil Cole was elected as second vice president. Annville was voted into the district auxiliary.

Pumper races were held in both the ladies' and men's divisions. In the ladies' division, Orange Grove placed first, with 18.4; Robstown was second, with 18.9, and third place went to Alice with 19.7. The other two teams in the ladies division were Portland with 21.5 and Rockport, with 21.6.

In the men's division, Taft was nosed out by the Alice team who had 20.6. Taft was trying to retain the trophy, since they had won it at the last two meets. Agua Dulce took second place with 22; and Taft No. 2 had 22.3 for third place. There were 12 men's teams running with five teams blowing off for no time. The pumper races concluded the days activities.

The next meeting is to be held in October at Taft.

SOME WORKERS RECEIVE SOCIAL SECURITY AT AGE 62

If you earn about $2,000 a year or less you should consider applying for social security benefits at age 62, suggested Tom Wilson, Field Representative, of the social security office in Corpus Christi.

This example was given by Wilson: A typical worker and his wife are entitled to social security retirement insurance of $120 a month at age 65. If they apply at age 62, their combined benefits will be $94 a month. However, between 62 and 65 they could receive $3,384 at this rate if neither of them earned more than $1,200 a year. By starting their payments at age 62, they would be money ahead unless they both live beyond age 75. If he dies first, his widow would get a lump sum death payment of $240 plus $66 a month—the same as if they had waited to apply at age 65, Wilson explained.

In this example, if the husband had earned $2,000 a year between 62 and 65, the couple would still receive social security benefits of $578 a year during that time, and at age 65, their benefit would be increased from $94 to $107 a month. This increase is automatic and compensates for not having received all of their monthly benefits between 62 and 65.

The decision as to when to apply for benefits must always be made by the worker himself, Wilson said. To make the best decision for him, a worker should get in touch with his social security office and find out exactly where he stands. Then his decision can be a wise one. In this district, the Social Security Administration is at 1802 South Staples Street in Corpus Christi.

ROCKPORT

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Rockport Pilot:

Pursuant to your lead story in the Pilot of July 23, in which objections to expansion of Aransas National Wildlife Refuge by purchase of the Tatton Ranch were voiced, I should like further information, and to mention some aspects that were overlooked.

Would it be possible to have a detailed account of the services Aransas County renders Blackjack Peninsula, and the costs thereof?

Also, what and how much are the expenses to the school district for the half dozen children on the refuge attending Tivoli-Austwell schools?

These expenses were said to exceed the $8,431.38 the refuge paid the county and school district last year in lieu of taxes. As an Aransas County taxpayer, I would like to know for what and how much.

Nobody denies that withdrawal of assets from tax rolls proves a hardship. The philosophy that some compensation in lieu of taxes should be made is increasingly acceptable, and probably will be written into law by this Congress. Such payments would be made automatically, without cost of collection to the county, as have been the payments made in the past by Aransas Refuge to Aransas County.

But "payment in full," implying the maximum equivalent of taxes, sounds greedy. What about the tremendous benefits, other than taxes, from such an asset as a nearby national preserve? Who benefits most from the proximity of the whooping chanes? Rockport is a resort town, tourist money figures big in our economy. We spend lot of money on publicity gimmicks to attract tourists, but nobody yet has come up with a gimmick matching the (free) attraction of the whoopers!

Two years ago, the National Audubon Society came to Texas for its first convention (and still biggest) outside the New York area. Main drawing cards were whooping cranes, Mrs. Jack Hagar, our famous bird watcher, and the King Ranch. Of the 1,200 attending, more than 900 boarded boats in Rockport to cruise up the Intracoastal to see the whoopers. Many visitors came early or stayed late for a few days in Rockport—"bird capital of Texas."

So, that was a one-time deal. But thousands come yearly to see the whoopers, and not just birdwatchers, either. Most of those people leave a buck or ten in Rockport. Its faster money than taxes. In its ten years of existence, Texas Ornithological Society has gathered in Rockport oftener than at any other spot in the state. Same reason—whoopers.

The birds need more territory to prosper. This territory would also support greater prairie chickens and countless other wildlife of both practical and esthetic value. Rather than being "a liability" to Aransas County, the refuge is one of its great assets!

I cannot follow the logic of "loss of revenue to motels, stores and service establishments." People fish off Aransas Refuge all the time. If the Tatton Ranch has been so stringently posted in the past, as was stated, how much public hunting would be lost? As a national refuge it would be open to the public, who would need more motels, more food, more trinkets from stores and more services.

The yearly attendance figures for national parks and preserves are staggering, and increasing. National preserves are the fashionable tourist meccas. Let's "get with it," and not throw it away.

"Let the nation foot the bill," Judge Wendell proposes, to the tune of $60,000 annually to Aransas County of taxes. He might have added, "and let Rockport reap the other benefits as well."

TAFT RANCH BOOK—

cordially invite all residents of this area to attend and meet the author, whether they purchase a book or not.

This publication touches on history that affects the entire Coastal Bend, even though its focal point is the development of the ranch itself; it changed from a sprawling cattle empire into a progressive agricultural leader that achieved national and international repute for its contributions to farming economy. It led in the development of South Texas.

This book should be of special interest to residents of the Rockport-Aransas area, since the first part deals with the cattle era when shipping was the only way of transporting the cattle holdings from the ranch. Until the coming of the railroads this part of the county and land was the main center of activity. And of course the coming of the railroads, the deep water booms are discussed; these also are part of the Rockport-Aransas Pass heritage.

In his material Dr. Stephens goes back to 1836 when George Fulton of the Coleman-Fulton Pasture Company came to Texas to fight in the Revolution. His main story, however, deals with the time from 1871-1930. During this period there were the ups and downs of the cattle industry, the coming of the railroads, the various land and harbor booms, the first attempt at agricultural development under George and James Fulton, the change to the leadership of the Sinton-Taft interests, the coming of Joseph F. Green who led in opening up the new lands, in progressive experimentation, and finally the absorption of the firm into the county and community where it had grown, and which it had itself matured.

For his documentation the author has traveled to Washington D. C. to the National Archives, to Cincinnati to see the Taft family, and even to Omaha, Neb., where he interviewed George H. Paul the man who bought part of the ranch on consignment and resold it to homeseekers from the North. Thus did the ranch have more money for its experiments. Dr. Stephens has gone through the Fulton papers in the University of Texas Archives. Most important of all in 1961 he spent a great deal of time in the area interviewing old-timers, going through the minutes of the Coleman-Fulton Pasture Company (from 1880 till its dissolution.) He combed the files of old newspapers, and the records of courthouses including those in Aransas Pass and Rockport.

Members of the Taft Library Committee are busy making plans for this important event, which should bring much publicity to all towns in this area. The book, which sells for $6.00, contains 16 pages of illustrations, which will be especially meaningful to old-timers. There are photos of the Coleman and Fulton mansions in their prime, and a picture of President William Taft on his visit to the Ranch in 1909.

A large percent on the initial sales goes to the Taft Public Library, so the committee urges those who would like a book but cannot attend the party that day to send their checks ($6.00 plus 12 cents tax) to Mrs. J. W. Albin, Box 305, Taft or Mrs. W. C. Sparks, Jr., of 109 Georgia, Portland, Texas.
