The SDN Column

The summer may appear long when you consider it from the standpoint of the weather, but there is another way of looking at it that makes the season appear shorter. Schools are poised to begin their 1969-70 terms and it seems only a few days ago that the 1969 graduating classes were marching down the aisles to receive their diplomas.

There has been plenty of activity around local schools for some time as personnel prepare for the new term and even football practice has been going on for a full week.

Reports are that there has been a considerable amount of moving about during the summer months, on the part of both pupils and teachers. Many pupils who did not attend school here last term already have registered and at the latest report it appeared that some 35 new teachers would be in the system. Except for a slight increase at the senior high school, the size of the instructional staff remains unchanged. However, it appears that more pupils may be on hand than during the past term with the biggest increase anticipated at the senior high school.

Brud Boren, Chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, reports that an SDN column about an old pop bottle has resulted in new information on the subject. The pop bottle entered the picture when Jerry Wilkerson of Fort Worth wrote the Snyder Chamber of Commerce seeking a clue to the age of an old type bottle he had with lettering indicating that it was used by "Snyder Bottling Works."

Boren said that several people had provided information about the "Snyder Bottling Works" following publication of the column.

"Gib Tatom said he washed bottles at the bottling works for 50 cents a day," Boren said, "And Claude Ingram recalled that a bottling plant operated here under that name mostly before 1915."

Boren said various informants indicated that the plant probably ceased operation in about 1915 or 1916 when a state law prohibited use of the old-time caps for the bottles. Boren said he was told that Bill Jones, father of Mrs. Bill Lee, hauled the old bottles off in a wagon and disposed of them.

So, the bottle described by the Fort Worth man and a similar one in the collection of Elmo Crowder here must be a few years older than was first believed.

Boren said that the information he had received indicated that the Snyder Bottling Works had its plant east of the square at or near the present location of Lindy Clark's store.

HOPE TO REACH CRASH SITE SUNDAY

US Troops Capture Hill

LANDING ZONE CENTER, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. troops today captured a rocky knoll south of Da Nang from enemy forces who for four days had blocked all efforts to reach a downed American helicopter.

Four companies of the U.S. Americal Division, totaling about 250 men, occupied the hill at dusk against little resistance. From their vantage point, they were in position to advance to the site of the crash abuot 1,000 yards away, presumably Sunday.

The four companies began moving up the north slope of the knoll, known as Hill 102, earlier in the day. They had sought to drive up the west slope of the hill, 31 miles southwest of Da Nang, but pulled back after running into strong enemy fire.

Marine units were in blocking positions hoping to cut off enemy troops which might try to pull off the hill and escape.

The assault began with waves of Air Force bombers pounding an estimated 100 steel-reinforced bunkers. Artillery also hammered the enemy positions.

Military spokesmen said the object of the assault is to seize the hill from which North Vietnamese troops have been blocking American efforts since Wednesday to push ahead to the crash site, about 1,000 yards south of the hill.

North Vietnamese troops have put big antiaircraft guns and other weapons on the hill and inflicted serious American losses and damage.

Among those reported missing abroad the downed helicopter the U.S. forces are trying to reach are a battalion commander, six other Army men and Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan.

U.S. headquarters reported that troops of the 196th Brigade clashed twice Friday with North Vietnamese soldiers near the crash site. At least 22 enemy and one American soldier were reported killed and 14 Americans wounded.

Later, enemy gunners pumped 15 mortar rounds into two night camps of the 196th Brigade infantrymen. Headquarters said American causalties were light.

Military spokesmen claim more than 500 North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed since Sunday in the fighting west of Tam Ky.

There is no firm count on American casualties, but field reports put them at 35 to 40 killed, more than 160 wounded and 10 missing, including the seven Army men aboard the helicopter downed by North Vietnamese antiaircraft fire Tuesday.

About 70 miles south of this action, North Vietnamese troops ambushed U.S. Army engineers clearing National Highway 1 of mines. One American was killed and nine wounded. Enemy losses wer enot immediately known, headquarters said.

Two sharp fights flared 15 miles apart along the demilitarized zone 200 miles north of Da Nang.

U.S. Marines lost six killed and 13 wounded in a 3½-hour battle four miles northwest of the Rockpile. Eight North Vietcamese were reported killed

Fifteen miles east, troops of the U.S. 5th Mechanized Infantry Division suffered one man killed and seven wounded when North Vietnamese soldiers attacked their night bivouac. Enemy losses were not known.

U. S. headquarters said there were 22 enemy rocket and mortar attacks throughout South Vietnam in the 24-hour period ending this morning.

"Fourteen of these attacks were against U.S. units or installations," a communique said. "Thirteen of the 25 attacks resulted in casualties or damage. U. S. casualties were one killed and 26 wounded."

US Could Continue Effective Air Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could continue effective air attacks on the enemy in South Vietnam by using just two of six air bases in Thailand if a general reduction of U.S. forces is ordered, say qualified American sources.

These authorities also suggest there could be a substantial cut in the U.S. support forces now stationed in Thailand. Of the 49,200 Americans assigned there, more than one-fourth have support—not combat—duties.

General Strike In Islam Over Fire

JERUSALEM (AP) — A hand grenade exploded today in a Gaza Strip vegetable market that remained open during a general strike over the fire at Islam's holy Al Aksah Mosque. Two Arabs were killed and 15 injured.

All other stores in the teeming Gaza Strip remained closed. The grenade exploded at a market in Rafiah, in the southern part of the Israeli-held strip.

Israeli security forces were on the alert and most Arabs remained indoors in the strip, in towns along the occupied west bank and in Jerusalem.

Troops and police patrolled near the walls and in the narrow alleys of the Old City. No clashes were reported, but the entire area was tense.

The fire Thursday burned out one wing of the 1,400-year-old mosque—the Moslem world's third holiest.

Arrested on Friday in connection with the blaze was Michael Denis William Rohen, 28, a sheep shearer from Australia. The blond Australian was ordered held 15 days while an investigation is conducted.

A Moslem gate keeper has alleged that he saw Rohen running from the mosque at the time of the fire, police informants said.

Rohen is a member of the Church of God, a Protestant denomination.

Rohen was described by fellow members of the kibbutz in which he had been living as "a fervent Christian" who observed all the Christian holidays.

Rohen was living on the kibbutz (farm settlement) to study Hebrew.

Rains Close, But City Has Only Sprinkle

It looked like an all-out effort by the elements, but Snyder still went without rain Friday afternoon as showers literally dotted the area.

Rains fell in all directions, with motorists reporting showers most or the way from Lubbock to Snyder, from Abilene to Snyder, from Haskell to Snyder and from Big Spring to Snyder, but only a sprinkle in Snyder itself.

It came close, however, as an inch was reported at the Snyder Cemetry, just northeast of town beyond U. S. Highway 84. Other showers, with amounts ranging from a quarter of an inch upward to nearly an inch were reported east of town, south of town and northwest of town.

Although the mercury had made a rapid start upward, the shower activity in the area did keep the high reading from reaching the 100-degree mark. An official high of 97 degrees was reported for Friday. It came at mid-afternoon, but retreated to the low eighties while the showers were skipping around the area.

Fire Rampages In South California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than 1,800 residents fled their homes today as fires rampaged unchecked over a huge swath of remote and relatively unpopulated brush and grassland in Southern California.

An estimated 1,500 persons were ordered out of their homes during the night in northern San Diego County where fire had blackened at least 45,000 acres, officials said, in the wilting, late-summer dry heat.

The biggest fire started Friday on Camp Pendleton about 15 miles south of the Western White House, but it was burning eastward today and said to be no threat to the summer seaside residence where President Nixon has been staying.

No injuries were reported.

Officials said they could not stop a 12,000-acre fire near Fallbrook 85 miles south of Los Angeles from a valley containing several hundred homes—including some in the $100,000 range. A trailer park was also threatened, officials said.

In El Cajon, 40 miles south of Camp Pendleton, a small 90-acre fire consumed six houses before it was put out.

Three major fires still burned uncontrolled in San Diego County and two others crackled over parched areas of San Bernardino County east of Los Angeles.

Fire fighters were hampered by near record temperatures that hit 118 Friday in some Southern California desert towns and by humidity that sagged to a very low 10 per cent even along the coast.

Winds fanned the Camp Pendleton fire—about 80 miles south of Los Angeles—across 20,000 acres of dry brush and into the adjacent Cleveland National Forest, where it burned 5,000 timbered acres.

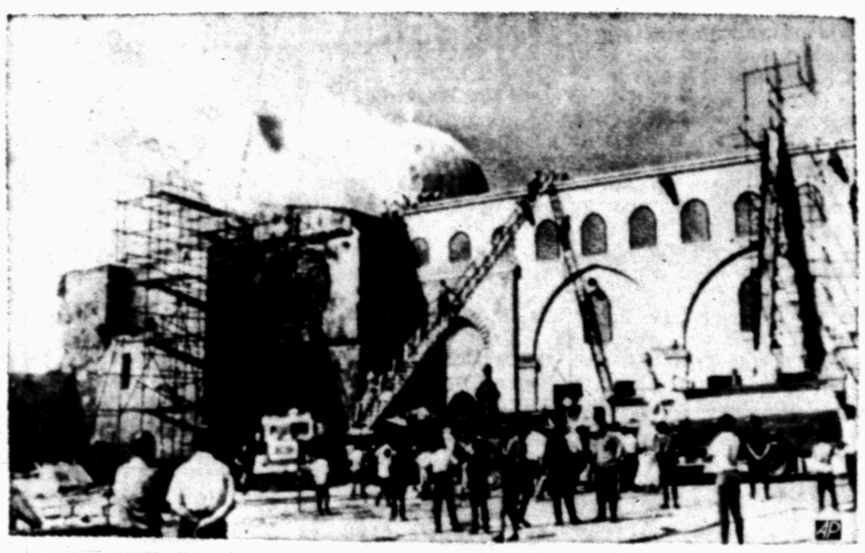

Los Angeles County had escaped brush fires so far although residents suffered through a high temperature Friday of 97 degrees as a third straight smog alert was called for the day.

Evacuation centers sprang into existance for fleeing San Diego County residents. Some slept on cots and blankets and fire department stations and others crowded into the homes of friends and relatives. The Red Cross was giving help.

No cause had been determined for most of the fires although officials cited dry conditions. Investigators said three boys playing with matches set one of the San Bernardino County fires.

As usual, no significant rain has fallen since spring.

For Southern California, it is only the beginning of the fire and smog and hot weather season. Some of the hottest, dryest weather comes in September and October.

SHRINE ABLAZE — Smoke billows from the El Aksah Mosque in this Holy City, as firemen fight to control the blaze which gutted the east wing of the Moslem shrine. Anti-Israeli demonstrations broke out among the city's 65,000 Arabs and Israeli security forces had to fire shots in the air to disperse them. (AP Wirephoto)

Students To Get Annuals

The 1969 Snyder High School Annual will be distributed Monday between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. in the foyer of the SHS auditorium.

Mrs. Ann Cole, faculty advisor for the Tiger's Lair the past year, said that all annual staff members, both 1969 and 1970, are asked to report to the auditorium at 10 a.m. to assist in the distribution of the books. Also, students who come for their annuals are asked to bring their receipts. Anyone who is not able to come during the hours specified may authorize others to pick up their annuals for them.

Plastic covers for the annuals will be on sale at the distribution site at 25 cents each.

Senators Talk On And On

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP)—Outnumbered senators, fighting a $341 million tax package that would put food under the state sales tax, talked on and on Saturday although they faced apparent defeat.

Repeated checks indicated at least a 15-14 final vote in favor of the compromise tax bill although speech making which began early Friday night was expected to last all day.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, a House tax negotiator, said, "We've got the votes for it over here when the Senate gets through."

The speaker said the tax compromise would be presented the House Monday if the Senate has passed it.

The House met briefly and quit until 10:30 a.m. Monday.

School Budget Is Okayed By Board

Snyder School Trustees approved the 1969-70 school budget Friday, and, due to a larger surplus than expected from the old budget, shaved three cents more off the tax rate.

The overall budget total is $3,882,699, with $2,966,375 earmarked for operating funds and $852,042 for debt service. The local maintenance, or operating fund, last year totalled $2,750,248, while the debt service portion of last year's budget amounted to $705,000.

Most of the increase in the local maintenance budget went into faculty salaries as the local board voted last spring to maintain a salary scale at $1,000 above the state minimum, which is approximately the same spread the local district has maintained for several years.

The overall tax rate will decline by 11 cents per $100 valuation due to a reduction in collection for debt service. The school district collected enough to pay two years of debt service requirements last year to keep that account current. The total rate for the coming year will be 1.32 cents, compared to $1.43 for the old budget.

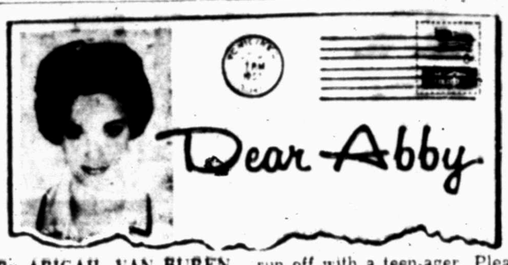

The school district showed a balance of $107,000 in its operating fund for the year-end report. Earlier the ending balance had been estimated at approximately $50,000. The new figure enabled the school to shave three cents more off the tax rate than had been proposed at the preliminary budget hearing in July.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person who can help me, so please answer this in a hurry and help me get my sister back to normal.

After an ideal 20-year marriage, my sister's husband lost his head over a beautiful but dumb 19-year-old kid. Right now he and his child bride are honeymooning in Europe and my sister is home crying her eyes out.

What happens to an intelligent man when he hits 50? How can he walk away from the woman who has loved him for 20 years just because a p r e t t y young thing comes along?

This has shaken up the whole family. Now we all look at our husbands and wonder which one of them will be the next to run off with a teen-ager. Please give us your support.

BELLEVILLE, MICHIGAN

DEAR BELLEVILLE: All intelligent men do not lose their heads when they hit 50. Obviously your sister's "ideal 20-year marriage" was not as ideal as it appeared to be. It's unfair to sit in judgement knowing nothing of the human needs of the people involved.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am tall, dark and considered handsome. I am in the medical profession which affords me an excellent opportunity to meet attractive young women. (Nurses, patients, doctors' daughters, etc.)

My problem is that I am 30 years old, and some of my friends have told me that if I am thinking about marriage to forget it because 30 is considered "over the hill." Is it?

MEDICO

DEAR MEDICO: Dont be silly. At 30, you are young enough to CLIMB the hill.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our child Rick is 14, and he doesn't know the first thing about how to handle money. It's all his father's fault because his father didn't have anything when he was a boy, and he wants his son to have it better.

Rick gets 10 dollars a week for just breathing. He's supposed to keep his room picked up, and I don't mean make his own bed, I mean just drop his dirty socks and underwear in the clothes hamper. But he doesn't even do that.

He's never saved a quarter in his life, but he sure knows how to get money. His father pays him 10 dollars for every "A" and 5 dollars for every "B". Also, this big lummox had two teeth extracted last week so he let us know that he was putting his teeth under the pillow in case the "Good Fairy" wanted to "buy" them. Well, his father slipped a 10 dollar bill under his pillow that night and "bought" the teeth. (Isn't 14 a little old for that?)

Please say something about the importance of teaching children the value of a dollar.

RICK'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Before you can teach your small boy how to handle money, you'd better teach your big boy how to handle his son. Every child should be taught to save a part of everything he gets. Your husband, as well intentioned as he may be, is denying his son the very experiences that made a man out of HIM. The way to learn the value of money is to WORK for it.

Jury Gives Mrs. Dent Five Years

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Ila Faye Dent, 21, was convicted and sentenced to five years in prison Friday, 30 minutes after the jury reported itself deadlocked.

Mrs. Dent's attorney said he did not know immediately whether he would appeal the sentence.

Mrs. Dent was charged on two counts in connection with the abduction of a highway patrolman May 2, but she was convicted on only one of the charges, robbery with firearms, the jury did not mention the second charge, automobile theft.

Mrs. Dent was arrested at the end of a 399-mile chase from Port Arthur to a farm house near Bryan. Her husband, Robert Samuel Dent, 22, was fatally wounded by police as he held the patrolman hostage.

In closing arguments Friday, Mrs. Dent's court-appointed attorney, H. P. Robichau, claimed the state had failed to prove intent on the part of the defendant. He said of her slain husband, "He's dead. They got their pound of flesh out of him. Now they want it out of her."

Dist. Atty. W. C. Lindsey called Mrs. Dent a "weak person who takes the path of least resistance."

Mrs. Dent was the sole witness in her own defense Thursday. She testified that she accompanied her husband in the car theft and the abduction of Patrolman J. Kenneth Crone, but she said she did it out of fear.

Patrolman Crone was kidnapped in a farmhouse after responding to a false distress call. He was taken on the wild ride to the farmhouse near Bryan, where Dent said he wanted to visit his stepchildren. Waiting police shot and fatally wounded Dent.

Crone had testified that Mrs. Dent threatened him with her pistol at least once, but he was not injured.

Student's Request Was Granted

BELMONT, N.C. (AP) — John Francis Huntenburg, 20, a freshman last year at Belmont Abbey College when he was hospitalized with leukemia, had asked before he died last Sunday that he be buried on the campus of the Catholic college.

The Benedictine Fathers granted the request of the young man from Daytona Beach, Fla.

He was buried Thursday, but his family could not attend the services because they were in an auto wreck in Georgia Wednesday while accompanying the body.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Huntenburg, and his sister and brother are in Screven County Hospital in Georgia after their car collided with another.

Baby Born With Bullet In It's Head

WAYNESVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A baby is reported in fair condition after being born with a pistol bullet in his head.

Authorities said the boy's father dropped a pistol accidentally early Wednesday, and a .32-caliber bullet struck his pregnant wife in the right side, ranging upward and lodging in the baby's head. Because of the wound, Mrs. Glenda Smith Messer, 19, was delivered soon afterward, several weeks prematurely.

It was a natural birth and the 5-pound boy, her first child, was taken several hours later to a neurosurgeon in Asheville. The specialist said the bullet was not deeply imbedded and was doing no damage, so immediate removal was not necessary.

The child is in an Asheville hospital and the mother is reported in good condition in a hospital in Waynesville.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beavers, 2209 Ave. O, are the parents of a 6 lbs. 14½ ozs. baby boy born at 11:11 a.m. Aug. 22.

Sgt. and Mrs. Edward Morris, Ft. Hood, Texas, are parents of a 8 lb. 4 oz. baby boy born Aug. 21 at 2:30 p.m. at a Temple hospital. He has been named Edward Lee. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byars of Ira. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morris of Snyder.

Wildlife Species Disappearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The humpback chub may swim to oblivion and the whooping crane may give up its struggle for survival but there's fresh hope for the trumpeter swan.

In a new report, the Interior Department is reminding Americans that 90 species of fish and wildlife are in danger of disappearing but it reports conservation efforts and the discovery of new breeding populations in Alaska have assured the trumpeter swan will be around for a while.

The report—titled "The Right to Exist"—lists the black-footed ferret, the ivory-billed woodpecker, Attawater's prairie chicken, the California condor and the Florida Key deer among the species in danger of passing from the scene. The great auk, the passenger pigeon, the Carolina parakeet, the plains grizzly bears and the giant sea mink have ceased to exist.

The endangered species—such as the humpback chub, a distinctive little minnow in the Green and Colorado Rivers north of the Grand Canyon—must have help or extinction probably will soon follow, says the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The bureau adds: "As the numbers of our wildlife grow fewer, their true individual value grows greater, for in the few are concentrated all the worth of one small but valuable part of our whole world."

The report says that of all the continents, North America has seen the most drastic changes in abundance of wildlife and the greatest number of extinctions in historic times.

"This is undoubtedly because of its sudden transition from primitive to highly civilized conditions," it says.

Violent Weather Hits In Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes and turbulent thunderstorms smacked into parts of West and North Texas during the night and early today, inflicting damage in several areas but apparently causing no injuries.

Good rains in some sections tended to alleviate the stubborn August heat, but it still was uncomfortably warm over most of the state.

The weather calmed, meanwhile, in South Texas, where three funnel clouds danced close to Corpus Christi earlier Friday and squall lines ranged from the Houston vicinity as far inland as Waco.

Twisters damaged property Friday afternoon in two West Central Texas areas north of Abilene.

Four inches of rain descended as one tornado wrecked a cotton gin at Rhineland, near Munday. The twisting winds also blew down carports and trees, and knocked holes in some roofs.

Another twister battered garages and other small buildings, laid about 150 trees low and left roofs leaking at Haskell, where 1.65 inches of rain fell.

Sighting of a third tornado, still before midnight, was reported at Texhoma, in the north edge of the Texas Panhandle. It skipped on without harm.

At one time or another the threatening turbulence led to Weather Bureau alerts against severe thunderstorms for Dallam, Hansford, Sherman and Wheeler counties, in the Panhandle, and for Archer, Clay and Wichita counties, in the Wichita Falls section.

Thunderstorms lasted most of the night in a broad section embracing Abilene, Sweetwater, Brownwood, Haskell, Albany and Wichita Falls.

Moisture amounts included 3.10 inches at Roscoe, near Sweetwater; Abilene 1.60, Rule 1.25, Childress .69, College Station .64, Mineral Wells .10 and Lubbock .02. There were traces at Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco.

Top temperatures Friday afternoon ranged from 103 degrees at Waco down to 83 at Laredo. The mercury reached 102 at Dallas and Mineral Wells, 101 at Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, and 100 at College Station.

Near dawn today the mercury was down to 66 at Amarillo and 67 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Readings elsewhere ran as high as 82 at Del Rio and 83 at Galveston.

Forecasts called for numerous thunderstorms in northern sections of the state and isolated showers in West and South Texas, with the weather staying warm and humid most areas.

Fires Put Out

City Firemen answered a call to a tank battery fire five miles north of town on the Clairemont Highway at 2 a.m. Saturday. They also extinquished grass fires at Thirty-fifth Street and Avenue V at 12:30 p.m. Friday and north of Hermleigh at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Four Towns Vote On Water Plan

FLOYDADA, Tex. (AP) — A miniature "Texas Water Plan" will go before voters in four South Plains towns Sept. 6. The plan would provide adequate water through the year 2,000.

A 150-foot dam would be built across Tule Creek in Briscoe County, with a water processing and purification plant in Silverton. Pipelines would carry the water to Silverton, Tulia, Lockney and Floydada.

Lon Davis, president of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, said he was optimistic about the plan passing.

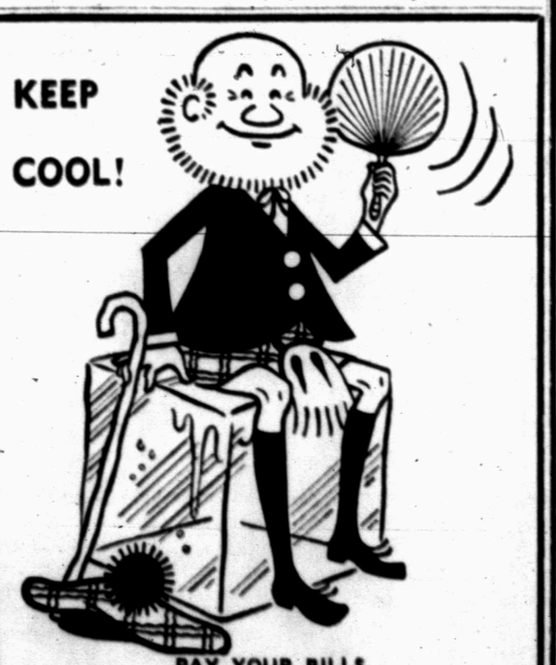

Two propositions are on the ballot.

The first proposition would would authorize $4,165,000 in tax bonds to finance the dam, reservoir and plant. The second would allow each city to accept or reject a water supply contract with the authority, thus authorizing the issues of special project revenue bonds against the contracts.

Davis said enactment of the plan depends on each town passing the entire measure. A similar measure was defeated two years ago by two of the cities, Floydada and Tulia.

Miss Bullard, Mr. Farr Are Wed In Hermleigh Baptist Church Setting

Jerva Nell Bullard and Larry James Farr were united in marriage Saturday evening, Aug 16, at the Hermleigh Central Baptist Church. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Jerris Neal Bullard, Church of Christ minister. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jervis Bullard of Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Farr, Hermleigh are parents of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of linen with heirloom lace accenting the sleeves, neckline and front; a band of lace at the waist secured her chapel length train. The nylon-net bouffant veil was held forward by a wide bow with simulated pearls and flowerets. She carried a cascade of red and white sweetheart roses. For something old the bride chose her mother's wedding ring which was attached to the traditional blue garter. She borrowed an heirloom watch from her step-mother and an antique bracelet from the groom's family.

Tina Sue Bullard attended her sister as junior maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Tracy Doughty of Dallas; Miss Beth Calhoun of DeLeon and Miss Pam Pylant of Muleshoe. Their "A" line street-length dresses were of blue linen and their matching head peices were accented with white petals. Each carried a single long-stemmed red rose. Candlelighters were Miss Linda Bradshaw, Idalou and Miss Patsy Rainwater of Snyder. Miss Margie Davis registered guests.

Serving the groom as best man was Ray Etheredge of Roscoe. Groomsmen were Bill Cornett, Knox City; Rex Rash, Abilene, and Bob Bratton of Rochell. Danny Sturdivant of Hermleigh and Ray Penman of Knox City seated guests.

Mrs. Kenny Miller and Miss Dolores Schwartz were pianists. Miss Sherry Fritz sang "Whither Thou Goest"; Mr. Kenny Miller sang "Walk Through This World With Me", and "One Hand, One Heart" was sung as a duet.

The reception was held at the Hermleigh community center. Miss Jane Wall and Miss Dolores Schwartz served at the brides table which carried out her chosen colors of blue and white with red roses.

The bride was a 1968 graduate of Hermleigh High School, attended Texas Tech University, and is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone. A 1966 graduate of Hermleigh High School, the groom is a senior banking major at Texas Tech University.

The bride chose a red double-knit dress with navy accessories for departure on their trip to Ruidoso, N. M. The couple will make their home at 2902 Third Place, Lubbock.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Steak House in Snyder.

Out-of-town guests were from Texhoma, Oklahoma, Perryton, Blackwell, Levelland, Weslaco, Abilene, Andrews, Colorado City, Odessa, Knox City, Lubbock, and Big Spring.

On The HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Nwsfeatures

Safety programs conducted by industry have been so successful that less than one-fifth of all accidents take place in plants. Twice as many accidents occur in the home, or nearly 40 per cent of all accidents.

Some accidents cannot be avoided. Most can. Stairs are hazardous. Since we must have stairs, they should be well protected by railings, should avoid tuurns and should be well lighted or marked. Also, don't place odds and ends on basement stairs temporarily with the intent of putting them away later. Many accidents occur during these "temporary" periods.

One of the strongest defenses against accidents in the home is neatness. Harriet Bishop Howe, who lectures on this subject to civic, fraternal, religious and social groups, places the blame for accidents primarily on parents even as is so often the case, when children's toys are responsible. By providing handy locations earmarked especially for toys and by insisting that children place them there parents can eliminate many such accidents. This applies to toys left around driveways, walks and garages as well as in the home.

Bathrooms and kitchens are high-incident accident areas. Proper handbars for tubs and showers; slip-proofing for tubs, shower stalls and bathroom floors, and no scatter rugs on slippery floors can keep accidents to a minimum.

Water and electricity spell trouble. Be particularly careful of electrical appliances in the bathroom. In the kitchen, the use of gloves will prevent many burns.

Industry tests have shown that the use of white or light paint in normally dark areas can reduce accidents. (For Andy Lang's booklet, "Paint Your House Inside and Out," send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P. O. Box 477, Huntington N. Y. 11743.)

Don't make an "octopus" out of an electrical outlet by plugging in several things at the same time. When a fuse blows out, try to find out what caused the trouble before putting in a new fuse. And never, never substitute a copper penny or anything else for a fuse, since it destroys the safety factor.

In the handyman area, respect power tools. They can be dangerous if not handled carefully. Saws and clippers will cut fingers as quickly as wood and hedges. Be sure there are no children playing in the area when using a power lawn mower.

Heavy lifting should be done with the legs and not the back. Don't run up and down stairs—even to answer an insistent phone. Don't walk away from running faucets or from any running equipment even for a minute. One minute can stretch to 15 or longer.

Up Only 7 Percent

The cost of living index increased 33.9 per cent from 1951 through 1968. During that same period the cost of meat, fish and poultry rose only 7.0 per cent. Private weekly earnings of the total population have gone up an average 86.2 per cent since 1951.

Information Needed By Committee

There will be a gathering of families and people who made ranching history in Snyder's trade territory on September 20 at the Scurry County coliseum.

Invitations will be mailed the first part of Sept.

The committee will appreciate any help on locating names and addresses of these people. Information should be mailed to Ranch Headquarters Committee, Snyder Trade Territory, Box 186, Snyder, Texas. 79549.

Add Zest To Sandwich Repertoire

August is filled with valid excuses to serve hearty, inviting meat sandwiches. No wonder it's celebrated as National Sandwich Month.

For speed when making sandwiches use the assembly-line technique, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. That is, lineup the bread slices, two by two in rows, and top with meat spreads or slices.

Here's when ready-to-serve meats ("cold cuts" such as sausages and prepared loaves) come in handy. Also excellent sandwiches makings are slices of leftover roast beef, pork loin, lamb and baked ham. Ground or chopped, cooked or canned meats make great spreads for bread alone or blended with other food and seasonings.

Whether that sandwich meal travels or stays at home, it's sure to satisfy when one of these inviting meat fillings is spread between slices of bread or bun.

Dried Beef Sandwich Filling

1 jar (2 ½ ounces) dried beef
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon minced onion

Cut dried beef into smaller pieces with shears. Combine with remaining ingredients, blending thoroughly. Yield: 1 1-3 cups filling.

Liver Sausage Spread

1 package (16 ounces) liver sausage
1 teaspoon onion juice
1 teaspoon Worchester sauce
1-3 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
¾ cup chopped, unpeeled cucumber

Blend together first four ingredients. Lightly stir in cucumber. Yield: 2¾ cups filling.

Ham and Raisin Sandwich Filling

1 cup finely chopped cooked ham
2 tablespoons chopped raisins
2 tablespoons chopped nuts
¼ cup finely chopped celery
2 teaspoons minced onion
¼ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Yield: 1½ cups filling.

Bacon-Prune Sandwich Filling

8 slices bacon, cut crosswise in ½-inch pieces
1 cup cooked, pitted prunes, finely chopped
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickle
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

cook bacon nutil chrisp and remove to absorbent paper. Combine with prunes, pickles, mustard and mayonnaise. Chill. Yield: 1 1-3 cups.

Sandwich Pork

Barbecued pork on buns is an inspired finale for Sunday's roast pork: No trick to prepare. Just heat strips or cubes of pork in your favorite barbecue sauce.

Catch Compliment With Hot And Saucy Beef Cubes On Rice

Just wait until the family tastes these tender beef cubes simmered with tomatoes; spiced with celery seed, bay leaf and basil; served in their own flavorful gravy. They'll vow their cook is tops.

Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests these tasty table companions: fluffy rice; Italian green beans; marinated cucumbers and tomatoes and buttered French bread. Follow up with cantaloupe wedges, bunches of green grapes and almond macaroons.

SAUCY BEEF CUBES

2 pounds boneless beef, cut in 1½-inch cubes
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon celery seed
1 bay leaf
¼ teaspoon basil
1 cup water
1 cup tomato juice
12 small onions
Water
3 tablespoons flour

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add celery seed, bay leaf, basil and water. Cover tightly and cook over low heat for 2 hours. Add tomato juice and onions and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender and onions are done. Remove meat and onions. Measure cooking liquid and add enough water to make 1½ cups. Remove bay leaf. Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy. Serve with rice. 4 to 6 servings.

A trio of satin and tulle roses held the shoulder length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and English ivy centered with white roses on a white Bible.

Karen Burton, a junior at Angelo State University, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Sharon Payne, of O'Donnell, a junior at Texas Tech. Each wore a dress of rose pink, fashioned after the brides dress. Their headpieces were a single satin and tulle rose centered on a bow of rose pink illusion. They carried nosegays of white carnations, leather fern and rose pink ribbon.

Best man was Kenneth Hill of Maryneal and groomsman was Clyde Byrne of San Angelo. Ushers were Ted Floyd, Jim Hall, Travis Angel and John Dane Gholson of Aspermont. Registering guests was Peggy Pate. Candle lighters were Patricia and Penny Pate.

EARTH, MOON AND BEYOND. By the Rev. Bob W. Parrott. Word Books, Waco. $4.95.

The astronauts, from what can be seen in their interviews, are very straightforward men. They are not poets or philosophers. Had they been, they probably would have been rejected by the space administration.

This trait of directness is particularly noticeable when an astronaut seeks to make some poetic statement that will live through the ages—as when Armstrong stepped on the moon. They sound as if they were reading from cue cards, which they probably are, figuratively.

But the astronaut program does have one visionary on its perimeter, and possibly more. But this particular one, The Rev. Bob W. Parrott, has written a book.

The Rev. Mr. Parrott is minister of the Seabrook Methodist Church and has astronauts and scientists from the Houston Manned Space Center in his congregation.

Additionally, he doesn't wait for his parishoners to come to him, but goes to them. He works with them and with their equipment. Thus he probably knows as much about space and the people who work with it as any minister in the world.

His book, "Earth, Moon and Beyond," gives meaning to man and his spirit concerning space travel and the relation of space travel and God.

The Rev. Mr. Parrott takes the machinery of the capsules and boosters and gives them meaning beyond hardware.

For one thing, he finds great significance between the astronaut's faith in their machinery and the computers and man's faith in the Lord.

A point that some worry about Parrott does not view with Alarm: "Some people fear that the machine age will dehumanize man. Astronaut (Thomas) Stafford has helped me to understand that man can humanize the best machine."—The AP.

TODAY THE STRUGGLE. By Katherine Bail Hoskins. University of Texas Press, Austin. $750.

"Today the Struggle" is a new book inspecting what happens when creative writers turn their art toward politics.

Dr. Katharine Bail Hoskins of LaVerne College in California found the subject limitless and to do anything comprehensible she had to restrict the field. She picked British authors in the time of the Spanish Civil War.

The book is a deep study of the subject and Dr. Hoskins concludes that certainly the writers did have an impact on politics, even possibly to changing the minds of generations of citizens.

But what did this do to the authors? Whatever it did was bad. Nothing of literary significance was produced.

Many will say this is understandable. If writing must be squeezed into a vice of political, social and economic propaganda, not much art can survive. —The AP.

POCAHONTAS. By Grace Steele Woodward. University of Oklahoma Press, Norman. $6.95.

Pocahontas, the little Indian girl who really did save Capt. John Smith and keep the Jamestown Colony alive against her father's wishes, is the subject of a new book, written by Grace Steele Woodward of Tulsa, Okla.

The book is a factual, historical account of the young savage, trying to cut through the romantic legends of the girl. It only aids in supporting the legends.

Really, the book must be considered a readable account of Jamestown of which Pocahontas was only a part, if a major one.

The story relates a great deal about Thomas West, Lord de la Warr, who took over the colony at possibly its lowest point, shook up the idolent, arrogant colonists, put them to work and did as much or more than Pocahontas to save a vast segment of America for the Britsh until the late 1800s to bring him original documents about California from the archives in Seville.

He was hoodwinked, for he only get transcriptions. But that does not harm their worth. In all, there are 19 documents of the period 1584 to 1774.

They became known as the Sutro Papers. They long have been out of print.

Sutro's documents were destroyed in the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1896 but copies remained.

For the edition just out, Donald C. Cutter went to Spain to compare the originals with the existing publications in the United States.

Cutter, an authority on Spanish military and naval history, is a profe sor in the University of New Mexico.—The AP.

Greens Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jess B. Green, long-time Snyder residents, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary August 23rd. The Greens reside three miles north of Snyder.

Flossie Miller Green was born in Rising Star and attended schools at Bison and Ira. She met Jess Green at Ira where he too attended school and after a courtship which including correspondence during his years of service in World War I, they were married in Snyder in 1919. Mr. Green must have qualified as a member of that period's "jet set" as he was one of a select few bachelors to own an automobile but their recollections of early married life include moving to May, Texas in a covered wagon. During the depression years the Greens lived in Mitchell County and in Littlefield where he drove a gasoline truck before returning to Snyder in 1933 to concentrate on farming. The hours were long, the money short and many are the memories of the Greens milking cows, separating cream, selling butter and saving pennies for a brighter day. By 1942 their hard work began to pay off and they were able to buy the farm where they now live. At that time to qualify for a Farmers Home Administration loan, daily records of the income and output of "every nickel" had to be recorded and the bookkeeping was so detailed that today's modern homemaker would likely be at a loss to even try it!

Some of the land of the original farm was subdivided, and lots were donated for a Baptist Church Mission that was sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Snyder, later it was organized and moved to the Clairemont Road, being named after the Greens as Green Hill Baptist Church. Mr. Green is a deacon in the church and Mrs. Green has always been active in working with the Junior Department. Although the Greens have no children, they have had an influential hand in the rearing of many children, some related and some not, who have shared their warmth and humor and love.

Mr. and Mrs. Green have enjoyed traveling over most of the United States and since his partial refirement from farming, Mr. Green likes to spend time either fishing or thinking about a fishing trip. And though she is not one to enjoy it that much, Mrs. Green goes along and adds a sparkle to any trip. She is especially noted for her homemade pickles, fried apricot pies, and egg custard which have graced the tables of so many in this area.

Besides their many local friends, the following residents of Snyder are sisters and brothers of Mrs. Green: Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mrs. Rea Ralls, Mrs. Lawrence Price, Claude Miller, Albert Miller, and Owen Miller.

Mr. Green was the brother of the late Mrs. Hubert Robinson of Snyder.

Cardiovascular Conditioning

Physical fitness and a realistic weight control program are vital as a conditioner for the cardiovascular system. A conditioned heart can do the same amount of work with fewer beats than an unconditioned heart. Longer life and a sense of pride and well-being are benefits from such a program, according to Dr. Philip Abelson, Director of the Carnegie Geophysical Laboratory.

Frank Flings

Vary hot dog servings. Score franks; cut in strips, pennies, on the bias. Add to salads, casseroles, soups and beans.

Benedict Short Cut

Try this speedy version of Eggs Benedict. Place slices of heated canned luncheon meat on toasted English muffins. Add a poached egg to each. Top with a quick mushroom-cheese sauce made by blending ½ cup milk into 1 cup of cream of mushroom soup. Heat, then add 1 cup grated processed American cheese and stir until cheese melts.

Men Mind Doc

Men follow their doctor's advice for losing excess pounds more faithfully than women, a survey of over 1,500 doctors showed. Motivation for dieting in men is stronger; they diet for health reasons, to prevent a heart attack. Women diet to improve their appearance, chiefly, and this is not enough of an incentive to make the excess pounds disappear.

Hawaii Has Many Changes In Decade Of Statehood

By RON STATON
Associated Press Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii is still a place where you can find a secluded beach or duck into a jungle lagoon and bathe beneath a waterfall.

Or roast a pig under a coconut palm. Lick poi from your fingers. And dance the hula.

But along famed Waikiki Beach, the pounding of construction piledrivers has replaced the mynah bird as the island alarm clock in many places.

The cocophony of progress throughout the tourist center typifies the economic boom wrought by Hawaii's first decade of statehood. Many may regret the growing asphalt jungle, but most kamaainas—oldtimers—concede statehood has been good for Hawaii.

It has meant jingling cash registers, fatter paychecks and an escape from the pineapple and sugar cane fields for the offspring of those who came here a century ago to work on the island plantations.

As the nation's newest state celebrates its 10th anniversary, its 800,000 residents look forward to the next decade with both hope and apprehension.

"Either by imitation or dilution," says Gov. John A. Burns, "we can become an extension of the metropolitan centers of the mainland, incorporating here the very elements of those cities which those who left them sought to escape."

Since President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the Hawaii statehood proclamation on Aug. 21, 1959, America's only island state has compiled an unsettling list of superlatives:

It has the highest cost of living; its population growth is double the national average, and residents are faced with the nation's tightest housing market.

Waikiki, once the picture postcard image of Hawaii, has to critics become a garish symbol of rampant commercialism.

And on the sparsely populated Neighbor Islands, there are fears unbridled development will bring them "another Waikiki."

The City and County of Honolulu embraces the entire Island of Oahu, the third largest in the Hawaiian chain. It has about 85 per cent of the state's population.

Its outspoken mayor, Frank F. Fasi, warns that the state's dependence on tourism is "fast making us peasants in Paradise."

On a recent visit to American Samoa in the South Pacific, Fasi urged the Polynesians to control their tourist industry.

Don't sell out your natural beauty," he said, "for the fast buck."

The military still heads the list of income producers in the 50th state, with the giant Pearl Harbor complex, Hickam Air Force Base and the Army's Schofield Barracks, being the largest contributors.

Defense expenditures in the 10 years since statehood have climbed 86 per cent to more than $600 million annually.

Tourism has replaced agriculture, mainly pineapple and sugar, as the No. 2 industry. But many economists predict tourism will overtake the military during the next decade.

Visitors to these pleasant shores hit the one million mark in 1967 and increased to 1.2 million last year, a hike of 600 per cent over 1958. Former state economist William Summers Johnson predicts the figure will grow to five million by 1975.

Some blame the burgeoning tourist industry for what ails Hawaii, including high prices and a critical housing shortage.

Lt. Gov. Thomas P. Gill disclosed recently that only five to seven houses out of every 1,000 in the Honolulu area are vacant and available.

And should the house hunter find one, Gill said, "it will cost between 50 and 100 per cent more than he would pay on the mainland."

The decade of economic growth, thanks largely to tourism and construction, has helped lower the islands' jobless rate to 2.4 per cent, while the state's per capita income grew 20 per cent more than the national average.

Hawaii residents enjoy a family income higher than the national average but also have the highest percentage of working wives in the nation.

All signs point to a continuation of the rapid economic growth during the second decade of statehood. Some economic forecasts say the $3.3 billion gross state product may double.

Jet air travel has closed the gap to the mainland and opened a two-way door to Asia. Trans-Pacific air cargo has increased an incredible 1,254 per cent since 1959.

New trans-Pacific air routes have been approved by President Nixon and soon jumbo jets will be disgorging millions of new visitors.

Live television also narrowed the 'isolation gap." Hawaii had none until a communications satellite was put into orbit over the Pacific in late 1966.

Rapid population growth has changed the racial complexion on thriving Oahu, making the haole—caucasian—the largest ethnic group at 38 per cent.

Japanese comprise 29 per cent of the island population, with Hawaiians, Chinese, Filipinos, Polynesians and others making up the rest.

New hotels, apartments and homes will be needed to accommodate the ever-increasing arrivals, and the Hawaii construction boom is expected to continue through the 1970s.

With development along the Waikiki strip nearing the saturation point, builders are eyeing the neighbor islands.

The Kona coast of Hawaii, the largest island, may become the next tourist mecca. Kailua-Kona, once a sleepy fishing village, already is a bustling tourist center. And Hilo, on the windward side of the big island, has direct jet service to and from the mainland.

The islands of Maui, Molokai and Kauai, served by local air carriers, are picking up an increasing share of the tourist dollar.

But little or no development is foreseen for the remaining three islands which comprise the state.

Lanai is owned by the Cole Co. and produces much of the firm's pineapples. Niihau, "the mystery island," is so-called because it's privately owned and off-limits to visitors. And tiny Kahoolawe, near Maui, is used by the Navy for bombing practice.

Calhoun To Run For Attorney General

A Junior Editors Quiz About CHINAWARE

QUESTION: How can one distinguish between pottery and china?

* * *

ANSWER: Both pottery and china objects are made of clay, which is then fired, the great heat making it extremely hard. Pottery is older than china. It goes back to the days of primitive men, who found they could shape useful bowls and dishes by spreading moist clay out on a stone, then letting it dry in the sun. But when — perhaps by accident — one of these pots became heated in a real fire, it became hard as stone and would hold liquids. This was one of man's greatest discoveries. The Egyptians, Greeks and others made beautiful decorated pottery. But in China, something different happened. The Chinese began to use two special substances, kaolin and petunsie. When fired, the mixture became porcelain, or china, extremely hard and light. Unlike the darker body of regular pottery, china is white all the way through, one of the ways of distinguishing it. Our young people demonstrate a simple way to tell the two kinds of ware apart. You can't look through pottery, but china is translucent, transmitting a certain amount of light.

More Troops To Leave Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Another 721 U.S. troops will leave Vietnam Sunday as part of President Nixon's 25,000 man cutback announced June 8, the U.S. Army said today.

Headquarters said they make up the 15th Engineer Battalion of the 9th Infantry Division. Their withdrawal raises to 21,000 the number sent from the war zone so far.

Many Homeless In Oaxaca

By KEVIN M. KELLEGHAN
Associated Press Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Incessant heavy rains, a result of Hurricane Camille, have caused floods and forced more than 100,000 persons from their homes in Oaxaca State Mexico's Pacific coast.

A Red Cross official said a week of rain in Oaxaca has left up to six feet of water in some places and caused more than $500,000 property damage.

"There are at least 100,000 people without homes in the state of Oaxaca," said Dr. Alvarado Jimenez de Alba, chief of the medical services for the Red Cross.

He said many of the homeless were "poor people with no place to go."

Dr. Jimenez de Alba said two battalions of government troops and more than 100 Red Cross workers were busy around the clock aiding the flood victims.

One of the most serious problems is drinking water. Wells have been flooded and, because roads are impassible, authorities cannot reach some villages with water trucks.

President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz has ordered emergency supplies sent to Oaxaca and three other southern states where there is serious flooding — Puelia, Guerrero and Veracruz.

But a dozen aircraft loaded with medicine, clothing and food were unable to take off from Mexico City airport because of the constant rain.

Heavy rain is falling throughout Mexico and floods threaten other areas. A weather forecaster in Mexico City said the situation could become worse in the next few days.

Officials reported the Pan American Highway has been cut and some railroads have had to stop service.

Streets are flooded and bridges are washed out in the resort city of Acapulco. The Red Cross said the situation there is not serious yet but reported "the tourists are frightened."

Several rivers in the state of Mexico, near Mexico City, overflowed and outlying neighborhoods in the capital were reported flooded.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

By JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Heigh ho, everybody is retirement - minded these days and a gentleman from Beaumont, Texas, writes that he is ready to come down.

Of course you can't blame a fellow for retiring. I did. When I was seven or eight years old I delivered newspapers. Two or three days, I believe. Anyhow, long enough to convince me that work is the most insidious thing ever devised so I took my 35 cents and retired. And have lived happily in abject poverty ever since.

At any rate, the Beaumont gentleman wants to know about a Mexican Government department which encourages the establishing of retirement areas for U.S. citizens.

The National Tourist Department, in cooperation with all other government departments, does encourage this sort of thing. Mostly by helping set up favorable immigration rules which permit retirees to bring in their furniture, cars, hi-fis and just about everything — except a two story house.

Senor Beaumont asks about a colony in San Luis Potosi, plus information on any others we may know of. I understand the San Luis place is being built as orders come in. Buy a lot and order a house for it.

Americans have formed colonies all over the country. Just walk into Monterrey, Guadalajara, Mazatlan, Cuernavaca or any place that strikes your fancy and settle down.

WHICH RAILROAD CONNECTS SAN LUIS POTOSI WITH EITHER THE BROWNSVILLE OR LAREDO (TEXAS) AREAS?

There is only one railway system in Mexico — the government operated National Railways. All you have to do is go to the railroad station in any town on a line down here and say I want a ticket to such and such a place. You travel by one system and the ticket — agent routes you.

Rail travel here, incidentally, is good and incredibly inexpensive.

AM INTERESTED IN BUS TRAVEL TO MEXICO CITY: ALSO TO OTHER TOWNS AROUND THE COUNTRY.

Buses you never run short on in Mexico. From the border down and all over the place, you have the big pullman buses just like up — home. Fares are lower than in the U. S. and you'll find schedules running one some of the out of the way spots, however, are reached only by second class bus.

Which means you may travel with chickens and turkeys, on slat seats.

But you get there.

Olivares Dethrones Rose On KO In 5th

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lionel Rose, the pipe-smoking former bantamweight champion of the world, says the new champ, Ruben Olivares, is a great boxer who could hold the title for quite some time.

Olivares, a spunky, confident 21-year-old from Mexico City, captured the crown from Rose in a furious five-round affair at the Forum Friday night, using a fast left hook and an audacious attitude. The end came at 2:24 of the fifth when Rose hit the deck for the third time.

"He's a great bantamweight," praised Rose, an Australian Aborigine from Melbourne. "But the bantamweight division is hotly contested and the title is very hard to hold. Olivares will find that out but if he's the fighter I think he is, he could hold the title a long time."

Olivares scored his 50th knockout in 52 fights. His only blemish is a draw early in his career.

Neither fighter gained an advantage in the first round. But Ruben scored a second-round knockdown for a mandatory eight count. Rose got up quickly and appeared unhurt. A slight cut on his lower lip bled but didn't bother him.

Rose then began backing up and counter-punching, the same style he used in winning the title from Japan's Fighting Harada 512 days before. Olivares couldn't find much of an opening but the tide turned midway in the round.

In the fourth, Rose began to smile when he scored with his right to Ruben's head and Olivares bobbed off balance. But Rose in trouble in the latter's corner only to lose him when seconds later, Olivares had the champion again avoided punches — four left hooks and two rights.

Olivares ripped into Rose with a staggering onslaught at the start of the fifth and at 1:30 of the round had the champ sitting on the bottom rope. Thirteen seconds later Rose hit the deck again for another mandatory eight count. This time he got up dazed.

But he fought back gallantly, actually opening a cut on Ruben's nose before a couple of left hooks and a swift right caught the champion for the final time.

Rose was flat on his face when referee Larry Rozadilla stopped the bout without counting.

It will probably be Rose's last bout as a bantamweight. It's been difficult lately for him to make the 118-pound limit and his manager, Jack Rennie, says Rose will probably step up to the 126-pound featherweight division.

Will Lippy's Strategy Work?

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs has been in baseball a long time but not so long that he can't think of something new in never ending psychological maneuvers involving his players.

The Cubs dropped an 8-2 decision to the Houston Astros Friday in their longest losing streak at home this season — three straight.

Durocher was shaving as baseball writers approached him after the game.

"Not hitting" was his answer to the first question.

"I'm not a doctor," he replied when asked about ailing catcher Randy Hundley.

Durocher was shaving his per right lip when the routine question of "Are you going to rest anybody?" was asked. The razor dropped, Leo turned around and ordered the writers to follow him. They marched into the players' dressing room.

"Turn off the showers," bellowed Durocher. "Everyone down here right now."

Durocher ordered the writer to restate his question.

Baffled, the writer said, "I only asked if Leo planned to rest anyone since the team is in such a hitting slump?"

"You heard it," said Durocher.

Then he stomped back to his private quarters.

It was construed that Leo either was trying to shake up the team or get players who are tired to admit it and sit down a couple of games.

Whatever his motive, the truth is the Cubs' Billy Williams, Ron Santo and Ernie Banks hasn't been producing.

Williams is in an 0-for16 slump. Santo's only recent winning contribution was a three-run homer in Ken Holtzman's no-hitter last Tuesday. Banks has only one run batted in for the last 16 games.

Harry Walker of the Houston Astros meanwhile was enjoying the benefits of a move he made to shake up his team.

Having scored only four runs while losing four of their last five games, the Astros were ordered to extra hitting practice Thursday.

The result was a 14-hit attack behind the four-hit pitching of Larry Dierker, who boosted his record to 16-9.

"I don't know how much the extra hitting helped," said Walker, "but it didn't hurt any. That was a big win for Dierker. Winning No. 16 should be a big lift to him and the rest of the club."

Dierker was a bit wild in the first inning. He walked two and gave up two hits and two runs; but he retired the last 14 batters.

Lame Mustangs

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist is having injury problems and the Mustangs haven't even donned pads yet during their Autumn football workouts.

Offensive left tackle Bill Jackson suffered a slight shoulder separation Friday in a blocking drill. He may miss SMU's home opener against the Air Force Sept. 13.

Reserve fullback Walter Haynes pulled a hamstring muscle and will be out indefinitely.

West Virginia's 1969-70 basketball schedule will be highlighted by an appearance in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl tournament. The Mountaineers last appeared there in 1961 and won the tournament.

Unitas, Colts Blast Bills 20-7

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas put the arm on Buffalo.

Unitas, Baltimore's fine quarterback who sat out most of last season with a sore elbow, unfurled two touchdown passes—one for 70 yards—as the Colts beat the Bills 20-7 in exhibition pro football Friday night.

The victory was the fourth pre-season success over American Football League opponents for the National Football League Colts, who seem to be trying to prove something since their Super Bowl loss to the New York Jets.

Houston of the AFL stopped the NFL Chicago Bears 19-17 in Friday night's only other action.

"With the exception of that 70-yard pass play (by Unitas) I thought our defense was presentable," said Coach John Rauch of Buffalo.

O.J. Simpson, who got considerable more work this time than in his first pro outing last week, played half of Friday night's game. The glamorous rookie back gained 25 yards on five carries and caught two passes for seven yards. He also ran back a kickoff for 37 yards.

How did it feel to get a little more action?

"I've had two contacts now," said O.J., "and my confidence is increasing."

Unitas' touchdown passes of four and 70 yards connected with tight end Tim Mitchell. Lou Michaels added field goals of 45 and 38 yards to the Baltimore cause.

At the Astrodome, quarterback Pete Bethard hit Mac Haik with an 11-yard touchdown pass with 1:26 on the clock to give Houston a nerve-jabbing victory over the Bears.

The scoring strike wiped out a 17-12 Chicago lead, which the Bears had gained two minutes earlier on Gale Sayers' 92-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

Only 20 seconds earlier, the Oilers had taken the lead, 12-10, on rookie kicker Roy Gerela's 30-yard field goal.

The exhibition schedule picks up steam tonight with eight games on tap.

In NFL action, Washington visits Atlanta; Green Bay plays at Dallas; Minnesota plays St. Louis at Memphis, Tenn., and Pittsburgh takes on New Orleans at Baton Rouge, La. Inter-league games find San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL; Cleveland, NFL, at San Diego, AFL, and Kansas City, AFL, at Los Angeles, NFL. Miami is at Cincinnati in an AFL tilt.

No games are scheduled for Sunday, but Detroit of the NFL plays Boston of the AFL at Montreal and New York is at Oakland in an AFL game Monday night.

Anyone Have Cameras For Boys' Club?

The Scurry County Boys' Club is planning a photography course for several boys who are interested in learning how to operate a camera and develop and print negatives, but more cameras are needed for the program.

"We'd sure apprecitae it if there is anyone who has an old camera in working condition they would contribute to the club," said Jack McGlaun, director of the Boys' Club. He pointed out more boys will be able to take the course if the Club can get more cameras.

Anyone wishing to donate a camera to the Boys' Club may contact McGlaun at 573-3344 or take it to the Club at 1500 Twenty-eighth Street.

The New York Rangers took more shots at goals last season than any other National Hockey League Team. They took 2,846 shots and scored 231 goals.

McLain Notches 20th Win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain is winning less and enjoying it more.

That is, the ace right-hander of the Detroit Tigers is winning less than he did last year, when he became the major leagues' first 30-game winner in 34 years with a 31-6 record. But he's still winning more than any other pitcher.

The 25-year-old McLain became the first 20-game winner of 1969 Friday night when he stopped the California Angels 3-1 with a seven-hitter. He's lost six, but has won five in a row and 12 of his last 13 decisions. No other pitcher in either league has won more than 17 games.

"The fact that we're out of the pennant race has brought enjoyment for the game back to me," said McLain, who was the center of national attention a year ago as he piled up the victories and led the Tigers to the American League flag. "I lost a lot of love for the game last year and the constant pressure put my family through hell."

In other AL action, Minnesota blanked the New York Yankees 6-0 and took a 2½-game lead over Oakland in the West when Curt Motton's pinch homer in the 10th inning gave Baltimore a 4-3 triumph over the Athletics. Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox tripped Boston 4-1, Kansas City nipped Washington 3-2 and Cleveland outlasted Seattle 9-8.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took two from Cincinnati 8-2 and 5-3, the New York Mets defeated Los Angeles 5-3, San Francisco swept Montreal 7-5 and 10-2, St. Louis shaded Atlanta 4-2, Houston whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-2 and Philadelphia mauled San Diego 10-0.

Although he won't match last season's 31 victories and the world champion Tigers won't match last year's pennant—they trail Baltimore by 15 games in the AL East—McLain is getting ready for still another campaign—the bargaining season.

"I feel like I fell a little short this year," said McLain, referring to the contract he signed for an estimated $55,000 raise to $85,000. "I didn't have any particular goals for this year, but I did want to win 20. Now it's just a matter of winning as many as I can. I guess 20 will mean more money."

How much more?

"Plenty," he replied.

"I think he can win 25," said Manager Mayo Smith. "He's the type of pitcher who can go out without his good stuff and finesse them. If there's a better pitcher around I don't know where he is."

McLain survived a shaky start in which he yielded four hits in the first two innings, including a home run by Jim Spencer.

Willie Horton got McLain all the runs he needed with a three-run homer in the sixth, No. 17. All three runs were unearned off loser Tom Murphy, 8-12, due to an error by second baseman Sandy Alomar.

Tony Oliver drove in five runs with two towering homers—his 16th and 17th—to lead the Twins' attack and Dave Boswell, 13-9 picked up his first victory since his celebrated Aug. 6 scrap with teammate Bob Allison and Manager Billy Martin at a Detroit restaurnt.

No one took a swing at Boswell but he got hit in the head anyway. Yankee reliever Bill Burbach conked him on the batting helmet in the eighth inning after Boswell had scattered seven hits and Ron Perranoski finished up.

Motton was batting for no-hit pitcher Jim Palmer, 13-2, when he slammed his fifth home run of the season off Paul Lindblad. On Aug. 13, Palmer hurled a no-hitter against the A's in Baltimore. This time he was touched for nine hits and three runs in nine innings.

Merv Rettenmund knocked in Baltimore's first two runs with a single and his third home run.

Luis Aparicio drove in a run with a sacrifice fly and put on a dazzling fielding display as the White Sox beat the Red Sox behind the seven-hit pitching of Gary Peters. The veteran shortstop was flawless in the field, handling 12 chances, including several tough ones, and participating in three rally-killing double plays. Rico Petrocelli hit his 29th homer for Boston's only run.

Ed Kirkpatrick's two-out, two-run homer in the eighth lifted Kansas City over Washington as Jim Rooker, 4-10, outdueled Joe Coleman, 9-10. Kirkpatrick also scored the Royals' first run when he doubled and came home on Jerry Adair's single.

Tony Horton knocked in four runs with two homers and a single and Lou Klimchock and Eddie Leon also homered as the Indians outslugged Seattle. The Pilots rallied for four runs in the ninth before Stan Williams, the third Cleveland pitcher of the inning, struck out pinch hitters Gus Gil and Jim Pagliaroni with runners on first and second.

Bengals Are Improved

Have Top Runners, Tenacious Defense

Is this the year of the Tiger? That question is on the lips of many Snyder High School football fans. And while the ultimate answer to the question may not be known until several weeks hence, at least enough is known now to predict the battling Bengals will be improved over the 3-7 season of last year. Indeed, many are predicting Snyder will field its best team since 1964 when they won all of the District 3-AAA marbles.

Dividing the loop into two zones this campaign will undoubtedly take some of the heat off the coaches, but the fact still remains: The district again could have three or four of the top teams in the state. The state champion Estacado Matadors of Lubbock may have a better team than the one that compiled a 14-0 record in 1968 while sweeping to the throne. Lubbock Dunbar again will be a thorn in the side of opponents and Sweetwater, Lamesa and Brownfield all could be better than average. Thus Snyder could be greatly improved over last season and still have a tough time getting out of district. The Tigers are expected to battle it out with Sweetwater and Brownfield for their zone championship. If Snyder wins, then the Tigers probably will have the doubtful privilege of taking on Estacado twice in one season. Other teams in the zone with the Tigers are Littlefield, Slaton and Levelland. The other teams all are on the SHS schedule, but since they are in the other zone, these contests will not count in the district standings.

Coach Wayne Tyrone again will be at the Bengal helm, and he will be entering his third season as athletic director. Backfield coach Bill Bundy and line coach Cecil Redford will be in their second season as chief assistants. Coach Larry McNair has been moved up to the high school to assist Coach Jerry McLeod with the high school assignments. Veteran Speedy Moffett also will be available for instruction and training duties.

Snyder hopes are pinned mostly on 11 returning lettermen. They are quarterback Lee McNair, running backs Randy Levens, Willis Harrison, and Ricky Glasscock, defensive backs Merce Hernandez and Mark Gilstrap, and linemen Jerry McKinney, Rocky Land, Delbert Hirst, Eddie Ray McClain and flanker Larry Green. All of these lads are seniors, and all will play important roles in Bengal plans this season.

In Randy Levens and Willis Harrison, the Tigers will have two of the best runners in the league. Glasscock and McClain are linebackers, and Eddie Ray may get a shot at fullback on offense this season. He's tough and could be hard to bring down.

"I'd definitely have to say that depth in running backs is our strongest asset," said Coach Tyrone.

The passing attack also should be improved. McNair, a regular, is one of the smoother passers in the district, and he'll have several capable receivers to throw at in the Pro-Set offense the Tigers will employ. Understudy at quarterback is Bill Branson, a junior who also can toss the pighide.

Gilstrap and Green are slated for flanker back duties. Hernandez also can catch the ball, and he'll probably go both ways as a corner back on defense. Juniors Bill Wilson and Norman Davis have good hands, and senior Phil Ator could develop into a top target along with some other candidates, including sophomore Garry Patterson.

"We're having a lot of competition for starting positions this year," said Tyrone. "And I'm pleased with the situation. It should make us a better team.

Although the Bengals' main weakness is lack of depth in the interior line, Tyrone feels the Tigers will be tremendously improved on defense as well as having a better balanced attack.

"We'll have better pass protection this year, and if some of the younger boys develop as we hope, then our first string line will be hard to move against," he added.

McKinney, a guard, Hirst, a linebacker, McClain and center Rocky Land will lead the defensive unit. Able help also will be available from guard Barry Welsh and Tony Breedlove. Steve Dillaha, who tips the scales at well over 200, has been trying hard in workouts. Some of the underclassmen also are looking good. Some of them, such as sophomores Albert Hernandez and Mike Line, have good speed and size.

Some sound juniors the Bengal staff is taking a long look at include Joe Hale, Glenn January, Billy Kay, Johnny Mata, James Norred, Larry Wall, Eric Clay, Stewart Sims, Leo Jackson, Bill Lockhart, Ron Thomas and Larry York. Wall, Mata and Sims could break into the lineup as runners. Sims had valuable experience at punting last season, and he's expected to handle the kicking chores again. Another boy who could be a big surprise is Steve Pierce, a senior fullback. Although he didn't letter last year, he has shown steady progress.

Oher sophomores who could give the varsity valuable help are Billy Clayton, Gary Jones, Danny Reynolds and Randy Wright. Hardin could backup at the important pivot spot.

The "new crop" also includes Joe Adams, Brett Bell, Jackson Brewster, Joe Bullard, Travis Bunch, Mike Dennis, Billy Garrett, Mike Glasscock, Rickey Grimes, Sammie Harrison, Sandy Land, Louis Floyd, Otto Miller, John Odom, Steve Schrader, and Dickie Stanley.

The Bengals have been fortunate from an injury standpoint since drills began last Monday. Jerry Hardin is the only boy to sustain a fracture. He cracked a bone in his hand. Several of the boys have bruises, but there are no other serious injuries.

"We've had some good workouts," said Tyrone, "and I feel that working out under the lights has helped us." The squad does most of its "studying" during the morning drills and works on "motion drills" at night. Another factor that has helped cut injuries is the fact that contact work has been kept at a minimum.

The squad will not go into full pads until this week. Wednesday, with the beginning of classes, the drills will be cut to one daily.

"We have good backfield speed and the front four in the line will average 200 pounds or more," said Tyrone.

The first scrimmage — with Stamford — is set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 30. The scrimmage with Midland High has been changed from Sept. 5 to Sept. 6. Thus the second scrimmage also will be on a Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The Junior Varsity will go to Andrews for a scrimmage at 1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 30.

The first game is on tap for Friday, Sept. 12 when Lamesa comes to town. Kickoff in all varsity contests will be at 7:30 p.m.

OOPS! — The Snyder High School football candidates have discovered that things can get pretty hot although they're working out at night under the lights at the Travis field in their second daily drills. Here, the backfield hopefuls learn what its like to hit and be hit.

SWC Teams Experienced

DALLAS (AP) — Southwest Conference football team return a staggering 262 lettermen this year—the 56th season for the storied league.

Among the returnees are more than 65 per cent of the 1968 starters, the greatest number in SWC history.

The Texas Aggies suffered the greatest numerical loss between seasons, returning only 23 of 48 lettermen, while Southern Methodist lost only nine among the 43 letter winners.

Arkansas returns 34 lettermen, Baylor 34, Rice 29, Texas 36, TCU 36, and Texas Tech 36.

SMU has already opened fall practice while Rice, TCU and Texas Tech get underway Monday. Arkansas, Baylor, Texas A&M and Texas report Friday.

About 85 candidates are expected to begin two-a-day drills at Texas Tech Monday. Coach J. T. King said the Red Raiders will put on full pads twice daily until classes begin on Tuesday, Sept. 2.

A whopping 100 prospects are expected to report to TCU head coach Fred Taylor for two-a-days in shorts Monday. TCU also will put on the pads Thursday before beginning classes on Monday, Sept. 1.

At Arkansas, Coach Frank Broyles figures his team will get an unexpected bonus from having the artificial Astro-Turf on the practice fields and in Razorback Stadium.

"Truthfully, it wasn't in our minds when we decided to put down the artificial turf, but it will certainly be a big help to us in morning workouts because of the heavy dew we've always had to contend with," Broyles said.

About 90 varsity candidates will assemble at Texas A&M Wednesday. They will work out in shorts Friday, Saturday and Monday. Their first day in pads will be Tuesday, Sept. 2.

When Kathy Whitworth won the Patty Berg Classic at Sutton, Mass., in June it marked her fifth tournament victory of 1969.

The annual Army-Navy football game will be played in Philadelphia on Saturday, Nov. 29.

Shaw Shoots 68 In Second Round

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

SUTTON, Mass. (AP — Tom Shaw said he was tired. He said he didn't feel well. And he said he liked the situation just fine.

Billy Casper simply said, "Good bye."

Casper, twice a U.S. Open champion and last year's leading money winner, packed up his clubs and headed home to California after failing to make the cut for the final two rounds of the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic.

It took a score of 150 or better —matching the high cut of the year—to make it into the final two rounds and Buffalo Bill missed by one stroke. He rallied from an opening 81 to 70 for 151. It was the first time he had missed in 148 tournaments, since the Phoenix Open in 1964.

Shaw, meanwhile, pulled out to a whopping five-stroke lead with his second consecutive 68 for a 36-hole score of 136. Canadian George Knudson was a distance second at 141. He had a second round par 72 on the hilly, 7,212 yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

"Just what is your condition?" Shaw was asked when he started talking about his ailments.

"One thirty-six," he quipped. "I like it."

"I don't know what's wrong with me," the 26-year-old blond said. "I just haven't felt well for a couple of days. Maybe it's the sun. Maybe I'm a little nervous.

"Whatever it is, I hope it keeps up."

The sentiments are easily understandable. In two rounds, Shaw has been the only one able to really master the challenging, heavily wooded layout.

Pre-tourney favorite Gary Player and Masters champion George Archer just made it into the final two rounds with 150s. Player had a second round 73, Archer a 74. U.S. Open champ Orville Moody had a 73 for 148.

But the unhappiest of them all was tour regular Steve Opperman, who put four balls in the water, then three-putted on the 17th for a whopping 13-high score of the year on a single hole.

Shaw, winner of the Doral Open this spring but in a slump since then, had trouble only on the 13th hole. He put his drive under a tree, missed the green, chipped poorly and two-putted from 30 feet for his only bogey.

He had five birdies, including two par fives which he reached in two. He also chipped to within five feet on another and ran in putts of 15 and 35 feet for the others.

U.S. Netmen In Semifinals

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The 89th U.S. National Tennis Championships looked like a U.S. Davis Cup training ground today with an all-American semifinal round on schedule for the second straight year at Longwood.

Defending champ Arthur Ashe remained the strong favorite to become the first American to win two straight titles since Pancho Gonzalez turned the trick as a young amateur 20 years ago.

However, Ashe's Davis Cup teammates, Bob Lutz, Stan Smith and Charlie Pasarell, were set to make strong bids to dethrone the world's top tennis player outside the touring pro ranks.

Lutz, runnerup to Ashe last year, got a semifinal shot at the defending king, while Smith met Pasarell for a finalist berth.

Ashe, U.S. Open champion, defeated Allan Stone, Australia's No. 7-ranked entry, 3-6, 6-3, 6-8, 8-6, 6-4 in Friday's quarterfinals.

Beathard-Led Oilers Nudge Bears, 19-17

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler coach Wally Lemm says his No. 1 quarterback, Pete Beathard, "is taking charge and doing a great job."

Beathard entered the game in the second half Friday night and guided the Oilers to a 19-17 exhibition football victory over the Chicago Bears before a standing room only crowd of 45,225 in the Astrodome.

He hit Mac Haik on an 11-yard scoring pass with 1:26 remaining in the game to give the Oilers the victory.

With less than five minutes left, the Bears had forged ahead 17-12 on Gale Sayers' 97-yard kickoff return for a touchdown and appeared to have the game won.

However, Beathard directed the Oilers 80 yards in nine plays for the final touchdown and victory.

Haik caught the game-winning pass in the extreme right corner of the end zone just before going out of bounds.

The Oilers went ahead 9-0 by scoring a safety late in the second period and a 99-yard touchdown runback of a field goal/try missed by Mac Percival in the third.

Chicago scored 10 points in 52 seconds in the third on a one-yard plunge by Mike Hull and on a 25-yard field goal by Percival, the only one he hit in six attempts.

Houston rookie kicker Roy Gerela also booted a field goal, a 30-yarder that gave Houston a brief 12-10 lead in the fourth period.

"It was a tough game," said Lemm. "It's always tough when you play the Bears, because they're always a real aggressive ball club.

"Beathard did a good job. He is really maturing as a quarterback. He is taking charge and chewing out a few guys when they make mistakes. This is the sign of a leader."

"We had to win this one," Beathard said. "Things are beginning to fall in place for me now."

Sayers said the Oilers have some outstanding players.

"I found the Astroturf was really hard when you fell on it," he said.

Speaking of his game-winning catch, Haik said, "Everyone carried out his assignment on the play perfectly and Beathard laid the ball right in there where it belonged."

As a rookie last year Haik caught only 32 passes but eight of them were for touchdowns.

Quarterbacks Don Trull and Bob Davis played in the first half for Houston but were unable to move the team consistently. Virgil Carter went all the way for the Bears and connected on 13 of 31 passes for 143 yards.

The victory boosted Houston's exhibition mark to 2-1 and the loss evened the Bears' pre-season record at 2-2.

Travelers In First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas gained sole possession of first place in the Texas League's eastern division Friday night while Amarillo used a squeeze play to put the heat on western division leader Dallas-Fort Worth.

Arkansas pounded San Antonio pitching for 14 hits in a 13-3 rout.

Amarillo's John Marsden put down a perfect squeeze bunt to score Damaso Blanco for a 3-2 victory in 10 innings over El Paso.

In the only other game, Shreveport ripped Memphis 8-2. Rain forced postponement of the Albuquerque at Dallas-Fort Worth engagement.

Arkansas now is one game ahead of Memphis in the east while Dallas-Fort Worth holds a one and one-half game lead over Amarillo.

Shreveport also collected 14 hits to give winning pitcher Stan Bell all the support he needed. Bell allowed Memphis only five hits. Adrian Garrett hit his 24th homer of the year.

Amarillo tied the score in the ninth on a walk to Bernie Williams and Bob Frazier's double. Dave Hernandez claimed the victory in relief.

Outfielder Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins broke in with Hagerstown, Md., in the Piedmont League in 1955.

Shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox started with Waterloo, Iowa in the Three I League in 1954.

'Implied Consent' Law In Effect September 1

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — It's 2 a.m. on a Sunday. A highway patrolman follows a car down a deserted road, watching it weave across the mid-stripe and kick up gravel along the shoulder.

Then the officer switches on his red light and closes in on the drifting auto, motioning the driver to pull over.

The driver's speech is slurred. His clothes are disarrayed. His breath smells strongly of whisky.

After talking a few minutes with the man, the patrolman drives him to a state police office in a nearby town. The man is then asked to blow into a gadget called a "breathalyzer," which can determine from one's breath how much alcohol is in his blood.

If the driver refuses to take the test—and he has this right—the cop can go to a justice of peace or corporation court in the motorist's home town and get a court order allowing it to suspend his license for up to a year.

If the driver takes the test, the results can be used in his trial for driving while intoxicated.

In this case, the driver took the test, and it showed alcohol made up .11 per cent of his bloodstream. This was brought out later in court, and a doctor testified that a person is considered intoxicated if he has a .10 per cent blood alcohol level.

The man was convicted, paid a $150 fine and got a suspended two-day jail sentence.

This is how the state's new "implied consent" law will work when it becomes effective Sept. 1.

"Implied consent" means that when you drive your car on public streets and highways, you automatically give your consent to a breath test if you are suspected of drunken driving.

A driver has the right to get an independent test of his blood alcohol level if taken within two hours after his arrest.

Unlike most states, Texas will have no legally defined blood alcohol level at which a driver automatically is presumed intoxicated.

Col. Wilson Speir, state police director, said the implied consent law is a "much needed weapon to combat drunk drivers . . . depending on area, drinking drivers figure in 40 to 50 percent of the total rural traffic accidents in Texas."

Breathalyzers, operated by DPS officers and serviced weekly by DPS chemists, are now in operation in 90 counties, and Speir said the DPS hopes to have one in each county.

Several other new traffic laws take effect Sept. 1. They will:

—Establish new right-of-way rules.

—Revise guidelines for determining whether a car is following another too closely.

—Require slow vehicles to keep to the right.

—Raise vehicle inspection fees, add exhaust systems to the inspected items and allow year-around inspection deadlines.

Three rules were laid down governing right-of-way at intersections where there are no signs.

Drivers on streets with two or less lanes must stop, yield and grant right-of-way to vehicles on a larger street.

Vehicles on unpaved streets must yield to those on paved ones.

Where intersecting streets are of equal size and both are paved, a car must yield to one on its right or which is approaching from its right and is close enough to be hazardous.

The new anti-tailgating law requires a driver to keep an assured clear distance behind the vehicle ahead, taking into account speed, traffic and road conditions. A driver must be able to stop without colliding with the car ahead or swerving into other vehicles, objects or persons.

Vehicles traveling at less than the normal speed of traffic must be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as possible to the right-hand curb, except when passing. All traffic would have to stay to the right of the centerline on a four-line highway. Certain types of vehicles, including tractors, which operate at 25 miles or less must display a "slow-moving vehicle" emblem approved by the DPS after Jan. 1, 1970.

The new inspection law raises the fee from $1.75 to $2. Inspection stickers will be displayed on the left, instead of the right, of windshields. Exhaust systems, for the first time, will be included in inspections.

All vehicles must be inspected between Sept. 1, 1969, and April 15, 1970, and will be due for reinspectioin a year later. New cars that received their initial inspection after April 15 would be due for reinspection a year later, thus gradually phasing in a year-around inspection system.

"The new stickers will expire 12 months from the date of inspection and will contain a large number tab showing the month of expiration," Speir said.

"A sticker issued in September will contain a number nine, and will expire on the last day of September 1970. A sticker issued in January will contain the number one and will expire at the end of January 1971."

Sadler Will Defend Himself

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler was expected to defend himself today against "peckerwoods" and "Charlie McCarthys" by appearing before the House Rules Committee.

The committee is considering a resolution to censure Sadler.

The resolution sponsored by Rep. Francis Farenthold of Corpus Christi, states Sadler told a House committee April 9 that he had "concluded the best possible contract" with a marine salvage firm that recovered sunken treasure off Padre Island.

The resolution goes on to say that two months later the committee learned that Sadler "was then contending that there was no such contract in effect."

Rep. Joe Ratcliff of Dallas said Friday that Sadler's opposition to an antiquities bill and his testimony on the contract killed the bill.

Texas faces 18 months without an antiquities bill, he said, unless a special legislative session—which ends Tuesday—is opened up by the governor to issues other than taxes and appropriations.

The salvage firm, Platoro, Ltd., of Gary, Ind., worked for 3½ months in late 1967 on the site of a 16th century Spanish galleon wrecked by a hurricane.

Platoro recovered many gold coins, silver discs, an exquisite golden crucifix and much more.

Sadler said recently that the fuss over the treasure was raised by peckerwoods and Charlie McCarthys. The fuss permitted clandestine operators of two-man submarines to excavate huge holes on the sites of other Spanish galleons, he said.

COLLEGE STATION — W. G. Nixon of American Magnesium Company, Snyder, was among 49 chemical industry safety experts from Texas, Louisiana and Nevada attending a two-day "Safety in the Chemical Industry" seminar at Texas A&M University Thursday and Friday.

The seminar is one of three conducted across the nation for chemical industry safety personnel, noted W. B. Mansfield, chief of A&M's Supervisory Training Division.

It is co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and Texas Chemical Council.
