ROADS TO SEEK WAGE CUTS

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. S.

Congressman Thomas Lynn Blanton of Abilene, representing the Seventeenth District of Texas, is an irresponsible nut and an irresponsible nut should have no place in legislative halls. He is as mad as a March hare on one subject. He craves notoriety. He is of the tribe of egomaniacs and for this reason he has no sense of responsibility or the eternal fitness of things. He is a pitiful and lamentable human exhibit of the notoriety seeker gone mad. He escaped expulsion from his seat in congress by the narrow margin of eight votes and he was arraigned before the bar of the house and publicly censured by the speaker with two hundred and ninety-three of his colleagues voting for censure and not a single vote cast against the resolution. Thomas Lynn Blanton brought this upon himself. He did not have a friend who would vote against the resolution of public censure. He stood alone as pitiful and pathetic as any individual who has ever held a seat in the American congress from the days of Washington to the days of Harding. It is against the code of H. N. S. to kick a man when he is down. Blanton is down. During his career as a congressman he has won the contempt of all his colleagues regardless of political affiliation and the loyal friendship of none. His fellow Democrats saved him from expulsion. They refused to save him from the humiliation of a scorching reprimand delivered by the speaker of the lower house of congress. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, a Democrat, was the author of the censure resolution. Garrett said that Blanton should be censured for inserting in the congressional record under a privilege given by the house language that was so obscene, indecent, vulgar and vile as to render it unmailable had it been contained in any other than an official publication. Congressman Rayburn of Texas voted against expulsion and for the resolution of censure. This is what Rayburn said, "I agree that the language was indecent, vile, vulgar and unspeakable. Even though Mr. Blanton seeks to be a leader in a great cause, the matter he inserted and the reflection he cast upon the members is a very high price to pay for cheap notoriety in any cause. The English language could not be made too strong in the censure of Mr. Blanton if he should be brought before the bar of the house." Congressman Tom Connally of Texas denounced the language of the affidavit inserted by Blanton as a part of his extension of remarks as being "vile and filthy" and said that it would "even be offensive to the nostrils of a black slave in an oriental seraglio." Congressman Connally declared that Blanton had lost his viewpoint of the gravity of his offensive. Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach, Republican, of Texas, voted for expulsion. Sixteen Democratic congressmen from Texas voted for drastic censure. Congressman Hatton W. Sumners, Democrat, of Texas, failed to vote and was recorded as one of the members "present" when the vote was taken. In pronouncing the censure, Speaker Gillett said, "You have inserted foul and obscene matter in the congressional record, matter which you could not deliver on the floor of the house and which could not be circulated in the mails without violating the law." Ring down the curtain. Blanton is a Texan. Blanton is a Texas Democrat. If the Democrats of Seventeenth Congressional District are proud of him, then the glory or the shame of it is theirs. In this busy life of ours a man gets in return that which he gives out. There is a law of compensation and the man who is eternally picking flaws in the lives or the deeds of his fellows is ever a man riding for misnominous fall.

Mr. Charles Hapsburg, former emperor of Austria, is to be placed upon a British battle crusier pending another meeting of the allied council. Mr. Charles Hapsburg, of the dead house of Hapsburg should be placed in an asylum for madmen. This is going to be a kingless civilization. The age of the anointed is one of the dead ages. Long ago Matsey Henry Waterson said, "To hell with the Hohenzollern—to hell with the Hapsburgs." He did not send the people of Germany or the people of Austria-Hungary to hell, but he fervently hoped and prayed that their militaristic and divine right-to-rule monarchs should be sent to hell and that too, in short order. They were dethroned and became fugitives to escape the wrath of the people of the two empires whom they had ruined financially and who will be compelled to face poverty for the coming fifty years in order to pay indemnities to the victors and the victims of the frightful holocaust of fire and blood and human misery their crimes precipitated upon the nations of the earth.

Chiefs of the big five rail labor unions issued an order rescinding their strike order. Of course the United States railroad labor board is responsible for the action of the chiefs of the railroad labor unions. According to vice-chairman of the United States labor board, the net result of the entire controversy is as follows: Railroad labor knows that it will face no wage reductions for a year

"WE SHOULD NOT FORGET STEAMERS"

Roger W. Babson Discusses Ocean Freight and Passenger Rates for Readers Of the Record News.

He Advises That Steamship Securities Should Now Be Purchased With Great Care by the Public.

(Authentic statement by Roger W. Babson to be quoted only by the Wichita Falls Record News.)

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Oct. 28.—"Because everyone is now thinking of the railroads—which by the way are to win something from the present conflict—we should not forget the steamships.

"You can send a ton of coal to Europe today for half what it cost you a year ago. Buy yourself a ticket to Cherbourg or Southampton and you will pay $25 to $50 more. In June, July and August, 1921, transatlantic steamship companies asked and got the highest prices for passenger accommodations ever known. This was in spite of the fat that freight rates had dropped fifty per cent. Such a situation is abnormal and cannot last.

"Not long ago while traveling through the South, I saw literally hundreds of freight steamships tied up and rusting at their piers in the ports along the Gulf of Mexico. Rows and rows of freight boats are idle in New York and I am told that English harbors are choked with ships that cannot get cargoes. Shipping has been hit by the business depression. The fifty per cent cut in freight rates is sure proof that the freight carriers want cargoes and are bidding against each other to get them.

"According to the steamship companies passenger rates will not go down—a perfectly naturally prophecy on their part. One shipping man said quite frankly the other day, 'How can passenger rates come down? Nobody is making any money on freight. We have got to make expenses somewhere.'

"In other words, passenger travel is paying for itself and trying to make up for losses on freight carrying. As few new passenger ships were built during the past seven years and several were destroyed, the demand for staterooms exceeds the supply. It is

WILBARGER TO DECIDE TODAY ON GOOD ROADS

Swing of Sentiment Decidedly in Favor of Bond Issue, Confident Supporters Declare Friday.

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Oct. 28.—Wilbarger county will decide today whether it is to start the building of modern and permanent roads, both concrete and with other kinds of hard surfaces, when the taxpayers of the county vote on a $600,000 good road bond issue. Of the issue, approximately half will be spent on concrete roads, carrying, if the bonds are approved, the modern road area started in Wichita county one step on westward into the Panhandle.

Confidence in the successful issue of the election was apparent among those who have favored the bonds. Sentiment has within the past few days swung decisively in favor of the bonds, according to the backers, and many who were formerly opposed to, or lukewarm toward, the proposal are now working in their favor.

FAMOUS EUROPEANS, IN U. S. FOR PARLEY, SALUTE AMERICA

These famous Europeans, now in the United States to attend the American Legion convention and the conference on limitation of armament, are shown in the act of saluting the American flag. General Diaz will be military adviser to the Italian delegation at the conference. Admiral Beatty will be naval adviser to the British delegation. General Jacques will place the Croix de Guerre of Belgium on the grave of America's "unknown soldier" Armistice day.

FOCH GREETED BY TUMULTOUS CHEERS IN N. Y.

General Pershing First to Welcome Former Commander of Allied Forces to United States.

Series of Enthusiastic Receptions Began While Foch's Ship Is Hundreds of Miles at Sea.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Marshal Foch captured New York today and then sped away to conquer the rest of the country.

The city, waiting to pay off a little of its debt of gratitude to the man whose skill and daring at martial chess had reduced the proud armies of Germany, this afternoon seized its opportunity.

Not since Dewey returned from Manila; not since armistice day, did the city's millions turn out with such spontaneousness and in such numbers. Had the hardly little Frenchman who led ten million soldiers to victory, ridden up Broadway in a war chariot, dragging captives behind him like the emperors of Rome, he could not have received a greater welcome than was accorded him as he rode up the historic thoroughfare in a twentieth centur motor car, enveloped in a deluging shower of paper hurled from skyscraper windows.

From the battery where he was greeted by Governor Miller to the city hall where he was welcomed by Mayor Hylan, he moved in a great triumphant procession after steaming up the harbor to the boom of guns, the ceaseless blast of whistles, the roar of airplane motors, the shouts and cheers of countless thousands. By his side rode General Pershing. It was General Pershing who was first to welcome his old comrade to these shores.

Freedom of City

Upon the marshal the city conferred its freedom, and then he continued his triumphal march up town. This time it was along Fifth Avenue, and Fifth Avenue proved as wild with enthusiasm as Lower Manhattan. At the Pennsylvania Station, there was another display of enthusiastic welcome. Cheers were still resounding when the special train taking the marshal to Washington on the first leg of his journey to Kansas City for the American Legion convention, pulled out of the terminal.

The marshal's welcome began a

CHARLES WAS CONSIDERATE OF HUNGARY

By Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—Immaculately clad in the uniform of a Hungarian general, former Emperor Charles, a prisoner in the hands of the people over whom he made an abortive attempt to re-establish sovereignty, today issued the following terse message through the Associated Press correspondent:

"I was sure my people would offer resistance so I gave orders to withdraw when the government troops opened fire. Nothing can persuade me to provoke civil war. I trust providence and the future will bring harmony between the Hungarian nation and its sovereign."

NORTH DAKOTA RIVAL FACTIONS CLAIM VICTORY

Non-Partisan League Main Issue in Election Called in Effort to Oust Governor and Officials

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 29.—When 341 precincts out of 2,094 in the state had reported at midnight from today's recall election in North Dakota the figures stood: R. A. Nestos, Independent candidate for governor, 36,358; Governor Lynn J. Frazier, non-partisan 17,466. These returns were from scattered precincts in 25 of the states 53 counties.

These returns were admittedly from independent territory as a rule. The non-partisan league leaders maintained that later returns from the strictly rural sections where they predominate, would swing the final vote decisively to their favor.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 28.—Before the polls closed at 9 o'clock tonight in North Dakota's recall election, leaders of both the non-partisan and the independent factions said they believed a representative vote had been cast and that the outcome would show accurately the states sentiment toward the league and is program of state ownership.

Five years ago—in 1916—shortly after the formation of the non-partisan league under its leader, A. C. Townley, the league elected Lynn J. Frazier as governor by a vote of 87,665 to 22,966 and the league became the dominating factor in state politics.

That control of the state administration has continued uninterrupted with Governor Frazier continuously in the gubernatorial chair, though his majority in 1918 was cut to 17,764 and dwindled into 1920 to 4,630.

Today, for the first time since its ascendency, the league was the only issue at stake, and the voters declared themselves on an out-and-out proposition of whether they wished to continue the league's supremacy or kill its political importance in the state of its birth.

In addition to Governor Frazier, the independents sought the recall of Wm. Lemke, attorney and recognized leader of the league forces in North Dakota and J. N. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor.

R. A. Nestos, an attorney of Minot, who opposed Governor Frazier, is chairman of the North Dakota republican central committee and Sveinborn Johnson, a Grand Forks attorney, opposing Attorney Lemke, is chairman of the democratic central state committee. Jos. A. Kitchens, of Sentinel Butte, a farmer, was Hagan's opponent.

SENATE VOTES FLAT TAX ON BIG BUSINESS

By Margin of Single Vote, Two Proposals Providing Graduated Corporation Tax Defeated.

Adopted Amendment Provides High Tax on Beer, Wines and Whiskey Intended for Medicinal Use.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—After rejecting two proposals for a graduated income tax on corporations, each by a margin of a single vote, the senate adopted today 36 to 26 the finance committee amendment to the tax revision bill providing for a flat fifteen per cent tax.

Proponents of a graduated levy, or of some other plan that would prevent the proposed increased rate of fifty per cent in the tax of thousands of corporations making small profits, gave notice that they would renew their fight later.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, author of the two amendments voted down today, 33 to 32, said he had been assured by Senators Johnson, republican, California, and Meyers, democrat, Montana, who were absent at the roll call today, that they would support his amendment when next presented. Senator Walsh also expects to win over some republicans who voted against him today. The first proposal of the Massachusetts senator was for a tax of ten per cent on the first $100,000 of income, fifteen per cent on the next $200,000, and 20 per cent on all over $300,000, with an added provision that corporations which did not pay an excess profit tax for the calendar year 1920 should pay only at the rate of ten per cent.

After that has been rejected, Senator Walsh offered it again with a provision that in addition to those not paying an excess profits tax in 1920, corporations whose net incomes did not exceed eight per cent on the invested capital should pay only at the ten per cent rate.

The Wadsworth amendment providing for a tax of sixty cents a gallon on beer, $1.20 a gallon on wines and $6.40 a gallon on whiskey, manufactured, imported or sold for medicinal purposes, was adopted without a record vote after it had been amended so as to provide for double rates on such liquors unlawfully delivered for beverage purposes, the tax to be paid by the person responsible for the delivery.

TEXAS STRIKE ON I. & G. N. IS DECLARED OFF

Information Is Communicated to Labor Board and to Union's Chairman by Trainmen's Chief.

Minor Officials of I. & G. N. Express Belief Striking Trainmen Will Not Be Reinstated.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The strike of 600 trainmen of the International and Great Northern railroad operating in Texas, has been called off by the union's general chairman of the road, according to a telegram received here tonight by W. G. Lee, chief of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

Mr. Lee, who is leaving tonight for Cleveland, communicated this information to members of the labor board, stating that the information would be formally submitted to this body.

The strike of the trainmen on this road was authorized preceding the call for a countrywide strike. When the "big five" issued the strike call, Mr. Lee allowed the trainmen on this road to decide for themselves whether they should strike last Saturday, the original time set, or wait until next Sunday when the national strike was to begin.

Following the recall of strike orders yesterday, it was understood that officials of the trainmen's organizations used their influence to have the Texas strike declared off while the labor board was understood to have been preparing to use its influence in an informal way to settle the matter.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28.—F. G. Rieden, secretry-treasurer of the local order of trainmen on the International and Great Northern railroad of Texas, declined to comment on the Associated Press dispatch from Chicago tonight, that the strike of 600 trainmen on that road had been called off.

Railroad officials who are stationed here said they did not believe the railroad will reinstate the strikers. However, it was stated that this is a matter to be considered and acted upon by Thornwell Fay of Houston, executive officer of the road.

At the home of R. D. Frame, general chairman of the striking trainmen, it was stated that the family had not been advised when Mr. Frame would arrive home from Chicago.

Jitney Juice Jumped Again; Now 21 Cents

The price of the juice which makes the jitney go will be hoisted another cent at most local filling stations this morning, following announcements made early Friday. The new price at the filling stations will be 21 cents, a one cent jump on the 20 cent price posted several weeks ago.

The boost was made by the Magnolia Friday, and was promptly followed by the Producers, Mears Gasoline and other independent jobbers. The Pierce was the first to make the raise, their announcement anticipating the Magnolia, which usually sets local prices, by about 48 hours.

Tank wagon prices were also advanced to 17 cents, also a one cent increase. A two cent advance in kerosene tank wagon prices, was also announced.

ANNOUNCE PLANS NOT ALTERED BY UNION'S COURSE

Officials Declare Carriers Will be in Disastrous Condition If Labor Board Refuses to Reduce Wages and Interstate Commerce Commission Lowers Rates.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Railroad heads tonight declared the nation's carriers would go right ahead with their plans to seek new wage cuts through railroad labor board hearings despite the announcement from the unions that their action in calling off the strike scheduled for October 30 had been influenced by the board's announcement that "pay reduction petitions for any class would not be considered until working conditions for that class had been settled.

"The calling off of the strike will have no effect on the plans announced by the carriers October 14 to seek immediate wage reductions so that rates could be reduced," said Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago, Great Western, and chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives.

"I don't know how long, under the board's ruling, it will take to reach a decision on any pay cut petition, but these petitions undoubtedly will be presented within a very short time. It will be up to the board then to decide what action should be taken.

"I want it made plain, however, that we will seek these petitions in accordance with the law, posting notices of cuts, then discussing them with the employes, and if no agreement is reached, appealing to the board to settle the dispute."

Mr. Felton's statements were echoed by Samuel Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, who in an address at a luncheon of the local railroad executives, declared that "the unions' action settles only one thing—that there will be no strike."

Wages Yet Issue

"It does not settle the question of further wage reductions or of rate reductions, he continued.

"The roads are going right ahead with the plans to get further pay cuts and thus reduce rates. But if the interstate commerce commission reduces wages, the roads will be in a disastrous condition."

With the code messages officially calling off the strike sent out today, only one echo remained of the railroad crisis which for two weeks threatened to develop into a general rail strike. The situation was unchanged on the International & Great Northern, the Texas line where 600 trainmen started a walkout last Saturday. No order to call of the strike was sent these men, W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, saying that the matter "is in the hands of the union officials down here."

Mr. Lee, however, conferred with the labor board and it was known that he is making every effort to bring a settlement of that strike which will be satisfactory to the employes.

Chiefs Depart

The chiefs of the "big five" left for their homes today and tonight and by midnight scarcely an out of town union man was in the city.

The labor board continued work on its decision at Wednesday's hearing and probably will render it tomorrow.

The board tonight received a telegram from Alton B. Parker of New York, president of the National Civic Association, congratulating its members on procuring an annulment of the strike order and declaring that the labor leaders' announcement that they "could not fight the government" showed the difference between American and European labor, European labor being described as "fighting the government" its "favorite pastime."

Board members were particularly interested in dispatches from Washington, scanning every line in their efforts to determine how government officials looked on the strike averting efforts. No word had been received by the board from any governmental official.

GOVERNMENT HAD PLANS TO COMBAT STRIKE MENACE

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Complete plans to avert the most serious handicaps of the railroad strike which was scheduled to begin October 20, but called off last night, had been made by the government while the strike still appeared a certainty, District Attorney Clyne made known today.

Application for injunctions restraining the brotherh l chiefs from carrying out the strike with orders necessary to conduct these proceedings were in the hands of district attorneys throughout the country ready to be presented in federal courts.

The applications were drafted by Attorney General Daugherty at a conference with five district attorneys earlier in the week and followed closely those drawn by Attorney General Richard Olney in 1894 for the injunction issued in July of that year restraining Eugene V. Debs and other

REP. BLANTON OFFERS HOUSE HIS APOLOGY

Unanimous Consent That Four Offending Words Used by Texan Be Eliminated From Record Asked.

Statement Made During Thursday's Proceedings Was Misunderstood by Colleagues.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Representative Blanton, democrat, in a letter to Speaker Gillett read today to members of the house apologized for inserting in the Congressional Record words objectionable, for which he was censured yesterday by the house.

Just before the Blanton letter was presented Representative Garrett, Tennessee, democratic leader, asked the house at Mr. Blanton's request, to strike from the Record four words which indicated that the Texan had expressed a determination, if financially able, to circulate the undelivered speech expunged by the house with the offending affidavit precisely as it apeared originally.

"What the gentleman from Texas said was uttered in the heat of debate or in the stress of speaking," Mr. Garrett said. "I ask unanimous consent that the words be eliminated from the permanent record."

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, republican leader, objected, asserting that Mr. Blanton had made the statement deliberately and that the house record should not be altered.

Representative Walsh of Massachusetts, in the chair, then presented the Blanton letter which he explained had been shown by him to Mr. Mondell and Mr. Garrett.

When the reading was concluded there was vigorous applause, mostly from the republican side. Mr. Blanton, sitting in the second row, looked on, but had nothing to say.

Representative Blanton's letter to Speaker Gillett follows:

"I am involved in no issue now before the house, hence what I now say is not a sacrifice of any principle.

"When I expressed a wish of being able to place before the country the Record expunged I was misunderstood by my colleagues who believed that I would circulate the objectionable language. My intention was not to do this, but to circulate the expunged record with all the objectionable words and abbrevations contained in the employe's affidavit eliminated and circulated only to show the country the honest and bona fide purpose of my remarks.

"I realize that the judgment of no human is infallible. I bow to the collective judgment of my colleagues, against none of whom I harbor malice, and offer this, my apology to the house for what my colleagues in their decision determined was an error."

A Scoop

The Record News "poured it on em" again Thursday night and Friday morning "—— 'em" being the predated editions, going to press soon after supper the night before, with which Dallas and Fort Worth essay to serve West Texas its morning news.

This means was the news of the settlement of the railroad strike, the first definite news of which was given West Texas by the editions of The Record News.

Locally, those who were down town between 11:00 o'clock and midnight were given the news of the settlement in an edition which The Record News ran off for the home people, several hundred of which were sold on the streets.

The Record News takes its growing circulation in West Texas as proof that the people of this part of the state appreciate late and up-to-the-minute news dispatches, rather than the previous days news dated ahead.

The railroad strike is not by any means the only instance of its kind, it is only the latest. It happens frequently in the case of a real morning newspaper as against afternoon papers of the day before which pretend to be such.

Cupid Sets New Speed Record When Local Couple March to Altar Within Hour of Meeting

Having their first "date" at an afternoon movie culminating in their marriage within an hour after leaving the show, is a new speed record for local romance which gives promise of remaining unequaled for some time.

The three-hour courtship culminated two days ago but details did not become known until Friday when it created something of a sensation in down-town office circles where the bride has a wide acquaintanceship.

As the story is told, the young and blond (remember there are few that are otherwise) cashier of a drug emporium located in the business district, accepted the youthful customer's request for a date at the movie.

It was a lover's movie and the pair accompanied by a boy friend of the groom-to-be came out filled with the spirit of the occasion.

Someone spoke of marriage—just who is not known—but both thought well of the idea as did his friend. They arrived at the courthouse after the bride-elect had gone home to put on other clothes that would make her appear older so as to obtain the marriage license.

They arrived too late for the marrying Justices of the Peace Gwinn and Maxwell at the court house but undaunted returned uptown and were married in the office of a county judge.

The bride returned to her work in the evening.

Misses Footing and Loses Hold on Interurban After Being Dragged Some Distance; Leg Crushed.

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—Missing his footing and falling so that his left leg was directly in the path of the oncoming trucks of a trailer car, Abe Marcus of Wichita Falls, one of the owners of the Peoples Ice company of that city and prominent in business circles there, suffered the loss of his left leg just below the knee, when he unsuccessfully attempted to board a moving interurban car here today. The foot was practically severed when the injured man was picked up. He was removed to the Johnson Beall sanitarium where the operation was performed this afternoon about 3:30 o'clock.

Although still weak from the shock, the injured man was reported late tonight at the hospital to be resting well, with all indications pointing to a speedy recovery.

Mr. Marcus' wife, who was notified soon after the accident, left immediately for Fort Worth, arriving shortly before midnight to be with her husband. M. A. Marcus, also of Wichita Falls and joint business associate and brother of the injured man, who was in St. Louis on business at the time of the accident, was notified and is expected to arrive Saturday.

According to reports it is thought that Marcus had a handbag in his hand when he attempted to catch the moving car. He managed to maintain his grip on the bar, which he had grabbed, for several feet before falling. His body was dragged for several feet after the trucks struck him, passing over and crushing his foot so that the amputation was necessary.

officials of the American Railway union from interfering with transportation of the United States mail, Mr. Clyne said.

The government program included two actions to prevent a tie-up in transportation and a third looking to the punishment of strike leaders through indictments for conspiracy against the public.

These were to be presented to the court 24 hours before the time the strike was scheduled to begin.

LEE EXPRESSES GRATITUDE THAT STRIKE WAS AVERTED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—"I shall get down on my knees and thank God that the catastrophe has been averted," W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said last night. "I have on my desk thousands of letters from wives and children of railroad employes asking me to do everything possible to prevent a strike.

"When I think of the suffering a strike would have caused these people, when I think of the disaster it might have brought to this country, I say again I thank God that we took the action we did last night."

UNION CHIEFS SAY TWO POINTS VICTORY GAINED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Railroad brotherhood chiefs said that the resolution adopted last night calling off the strike emphasized two points as evidence of a victory for the men.

These points were, first, that action of the railroad labor board on further wage cuts that the railroads may ask, will receive consideration after pending questions before the board are cleared, thereby defering immediate action on further reductions and possibly postponing the question of a new wage revision for nearly a year. The second point was that action on the rules which the men's organizations wish to maintain will likewise take its place on the regular calendar of the board so that it will not be likely to become an immediate issue.

UNCHANGED CONDITIONS FACTOR IN SETTLEMENT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The announcement from the railroad labor board that it would not be in a position to give consideration to any matters that would change the rules or working conditions or the present scale of wages for a considerable length of time was one of the principal reasons given as influencing the brotherhoods to call off the strike, according to the text of the resolution adopted by the brotherhoods last night. The text was made public here today.

The resolution also calls attention to the statement by Mr. T. DeWitt Cuyler before the joint hearing on Wednesday that the railroads he represented would neither reduce wages nor change working conditions except by agreement with their men or by a decision of the labor board.

NEW YORK DOCK WORKERS AND SHIPPERS AT PEACE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—New wage and working agreements between the international longshoremen's association and steamship lines in deep sea trade at the port of New York and vicinity have been signed, vice president Ryan of the longshoremen's association announced today. The shipping board was a third party to the agreement.

The new scale, effective October 1, last, is sixty-five cents an hour with one dollar an hour overtime for a 48 hour week, replacing the old high scale of 85 cents and $1.20 for a 44-hour week.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS APPROVE OF ARMS LIMITATION

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 28.—Limitation of national armaments was endorsed by the Texas League of Women Voters in closing its state convention here today and copies of the resolution were ordered sent to President Harding and all members of the coming armament conference at Washington.

Mrs Jessie Daniel Ames of Georgetown was re elected president of the state league. Other officers elected were: Vice President, Mrs. Ruth Potts Spence, Dallas; Mrs. C. W. B. Collyns, Fort Worth; Miss Florence Sterling Houston; Secretary, Mrs. S. J. Smith, Austin; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. C. Gibson, Hillsboro; Treasurer, Mrs. H. F. Ring, Houston. The 1922 convention city will be selected later by the executive committee.

Other endorsements of the league were the Morris bill, providing that community organizations dealing with the storage and distribution of foods be state controlled, an extensive home demonstration program and that the curriculum of the rural schools be changed and compulsory attendance enforced.

at least; the railroads have made it pretty definitely known that they are not, in the future, going to make any concessions to union labor; the public will have gained through needed freight reductions, announced and pending, a stimulus for business; congressmen may have learned that the transportation act needs considerable tinkering to make it water tight. Congress had clothed the interstate commerce commission with power to make freight and passenger tariffs. Now why shouldn't congress clothe the interstate commerce commission with power to make wage schedules for the employes of railroads from the highest to the lowest worker? This is the plan suggested by Former Judge S. C. Padelford of Fort Worth and Cleburne, ever opposed to government ownership of railways, most of the time opposed to government regulation of railways, but now in favor of a commission created by congress with authority to fix wage schedules for railway workers from president to trackworker. Organized labor may not know it but the strike as a weapon has lost its force. Compulsory arbitration for railway workers may come in the near future. Kansas has its industrial court for the settlement of all disputes. It has been given a tryout and if it is successful there is no telling what may happen in state halls of legislation the country over in the near future. Strikes are costly. They destroy business; they stagnate industry; they pauperize the strikers; they inflict heavy losses upon corporations or employes, but the public is ever the greatest sufferer.

Governor Neff made a very serious blunder at the beginning of his administration. He should have placed State Senator Harry L. Hertzburg of San Antonio and the Hon. Tom Finty, Jr. of Dallas in charge of the state penitentiary system and clothed them with absolute power. This would have done away with penitentiary scandals. This would have made angels out of many of the convicts. This would have made the system self supporting. This would have lifted the burden from the broad back of Jones. This would have done away with chains and bats and bullwhips. This would have reformed and reclaimed or regenerated hundreds of the wearers of stripes every year. It was a regretable blunder on the part of the governor. He has been on the wrong trail ever since his inauguration, and the governor of Fifty years walked in the wrong rut. After reading the illuminating and instructive speeches made by the senator and the editor at the Fort Worth tax symposium, H. N. F. is convinced that the governor will rectify his early error without delay, call for the resignations of two penitentiary commissioners and name Messrs. Hertzburg and Finty as their successors. These gentlemen are friends of H. N. F. He has ever been their champion and now he knows that the time calls for great souls to make the sacrifice regardless of financial loss or personal inconvenience. When in doubt, junk the penitentiary plants, sell the prison farms, create state factories for the making of cement for road material and utilize the laoor of the three thousand convicts in the building of public highways from the Red river to the Rio Grande and from the gulf of Mexico to the Colorado foothills. Peace be with thee; Allah be praised.

DONLEY COUNTY IS GIVEN HIGH RANK AS GOOD SECTION

CLARENDON, Texas, Oct. 28.—The United States chamber of commerce in the report of W. W. Douglas, noted authority on the general conditions of this country, reports Donley county to be in the center of a good section of the United States. Mr. Duglas says only five others have that honor, one each in the following states: Illinois, Missouri, California, Colorado and New Mexico, but the Panhandle has a larger section than any of the above mentioned.

MAN IS CAPTURED AFTER HOLDING UP NUMBER OF WOMEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A man riding alone in a stolen coupe held up and robbed a dozen or more women in a residential section today before being captured by the police after an exchange of shots. The prisoner gave his name as Frank Wilkinson. When the police finally caught up with him Wilkinson threw his revolver away.

"But Candy has a big sign up," put in Deacon Petty, "WET PAINT—SANDY BEVANS."

easy to understand how the steamship companies feel, for the falling off in export trade has hit them hard. Another slice is being taken out of their receipts by the 3 per cent immigration restriction law, which has cut deeply into the steerage business. Last year almost a million immigrants were brought to Ellis Island. Only 355,461 are allowed to enter the country this year. The immigration law cuts off 60 per cent of the companies' steerage business; while the foreign exchange situation has cut the freight business nearly in halves.

"Just as long as there are people who are willing to pay high prices to cross the Atlantic, or until more ships are fitted out to carry passengers, passenger rates will stay high. In the long run the selling price of any commodity is determined by the law of supply and demand. A stateroom on the "Olympic" is just as much a commodity as sugar. You buy freight space or a berth on an ocean liner under the same economic laws as you buy a pound of sugar.

"When more people want to move goods or go ahead than there are ships to take these goods or persons, steamship rates will go up. When passenger ships go over with empty staterooms, passenger rates will come down like freight rates. Americans wanted to see the battlefields. Many went over to locate relatives in the war areas. A lot of people had money in hand and wanted the luxury of travel. This luxury trade can be compared to the abnormal demand for diamonds and fur coats that followed the armistice. Today you can see fur coats in any pawn-shop. The majority of those who want to see Europe at any cost have seen it.

"The fall in operating costs justifies a price reduction in passenger rates equaling or exceeding the reduction in other things. The four big items in running a ship are food, fuel, investment on capital and labor. Food, fuel, and labor have all gone down. Bunker coal costs $6 a ton where it cost $20 a year ago. Food prices have declined less steeply, but they have gone down, and so has labor. American seamen are going over to British run boats at lower wages because of the scarcity of jobs.

"Passenger rates are high because the steamship companies have been able to ask enormous prices and get them. There has been a rush to Europe greater than the supply of accommodations. Due to the general depression the Babsonchart shows business to be more than 20 per cent below normal—this rush will not continue. When people stopped buying expensive clothes, the department stores found a way to put their prices down. In the same way the steamship companies will take a loss on passenger traffic if they have to rather than have their ships idle. For one person who can pay $1,000 for a trip to Europe there are four school teachers and tourists—who could go at $250. Sooner or later the steamship lines will again need the school teacher trade. Then rates will come down, I believe that this decline will begin next summer.

"What does this mean for steamship securities? It means that steamship securities should now be purchased with great care; reorganizations and receivership may be expected; but after these take place and the steamships again cater to the school teachers, business men and a normal foreign trade all will be well again. Most steamships securities are not yet a buy; but they some day will be.

FOCH GREETED BY TUMULTOUS CHEERS IN N. Y.

hundred miles out at sea. There, the liner Paris, bearing him, was joined by twelve American destroyers. Soon through the mist there broke a squadron of seaplanes. The Paris was passed by the George Washington, which had raced into port with General Pershing in order that he might be first to grasp the marshal's hand on American soil. At quarantine came another welcome. Transferred to the navy cutter vigilant, the soldier of France clasped hands with Ambassador Jusserand, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and with many other notables.

But the series of receptions had hardly begun. The next came off Fort Jay when guns thundered a general's salute.

The Climax

And then the climax.

Landing a few yards from Castle Garden where his famous countryman, La Fayette, had set foot on American soil, the marshal found awaiting him a reception that even his imagination could not have conceived.

The wide stretch of open ground had been converted into a great stadium, the walls of which were skyscrapers. At every window, on the roofs, even out on dizzy cornices twenty-five stories above the street were perched men and women waving the flags of America and France. On the streets below were massed a great army of welcomers—men, women and children. Indeed, it seemed as if all the little girls in New York were there with bonnets which they wished to press into the marshal's hands.

As soon as the soldierly little figure in the light blue uniform of France stepped off the pier a mighty shout arose. A few minutes before General Pershing had prepared to the sound of ruffles and flourishes, and these were repeated for the French war hero.

Forward stepped the marshal, his scarlet cap at an angle. There was nothing of the merciless warrior in his smiling face or keen, kindly eyes as, marching straight ahead, he advanced with hands stretched in front of him to greet America's military leader.

Stymied.

TEXAS STRIKE ON I. & G. N. DECLARED OFF

sult in the striking International & Great Northern trainmen returning to their jobs. J. M. Landis, chief clerk of the superintendent, refused today to affirm or deny that his company would take the strikers back should they apply.

"We are very busy moving freight this morning and do not care to make any statement," he said.

Leaders of the strikers also were not prepared to make a statement as they had received no instructions from R. D. Frame, general chairman, who attended the Chicago conference. Such instructions are expected hourly. The general impression here is that the brotherhoods' action calls off the International & Great Northern strike and that they will be returned to work. The men are inclined to place no particular significance on the fact that the road in paying them off, gave them final discharge checks and hold to the position that such procedure is customary in a strike. Most of the trainmen own homes in San Antonio and desire to remain here.

ATTITUDE OF I. & G. N. MATTER OF CONJECTURE

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 28.—Preliminary negotiations for calling off the strike of I. & G. N. trainmen Friday met with a rebuff, according to word received by G. G. Nellis, local chairman here for the strikers.

Nellis said he had been in communication with J. D. Shepherd, vice chairman for the entire line, over the telephone and was advised that the latter had been in communication with E. G. Goforth, general manager of the road, Goforth, according to Shepherd's conversation, had given the trainmen's representative "little satisfaction."

Shepherd also advised the local chairman that he had received a telegram from R. D. Frame, general chairman, who is enroute to Texas following a conference with members of the labor board in Chicago.

That "the strike has been called off," instructions to be carried out by I. & G. N. men, Nellis said, also were contained in the telegram to Shepherd, but he professed to know nothing of their nature.

The conference between Shepherd and Goforth presumably was held over the long distance telephone. The former told the local chairman merely that he had been in "communication" with Mr. Goforth with "little success." The private car of the latter, however, was attached to number four, leaving Houston at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and it was presumed that he changed his plans to go to Palestine at the last moment, necessitating a telephone conference.

Asked what would be the attitude of the road toward the six hundred strikers, the general manager stated that that was a question which he was not now prepared to answer. He inferred that probably it would be dealt with by the labor board itself. In the meantime, it became known, both high officials of the road and brotherhood leaders are converging on Houston, with a probable conference in the offing.

G. W. Anderson, vice president of the B. R. T., it had been reported, was enroute here from Chicago; Vice President Farquharson, who has been in Los Angeles, was reported on the way here from San Antonio, while James A. Baker, receiver of the I. & G. N., is enroute here in company with Thornwell Fay, executive officer of the company, who went north Friday morning to meet him. In addition to these R. D. Frame, general chairman for the men, left St. Louis at shortly after 6 o'clock Friday, enroute to Houston after being summoned before the labor board at Chicago.

Frame's telegram to Shepherd, which he stated that the strike had been declared off, is believed to refer to the general strike set for October 30, Nellis said.

The instructions mentioned, however, presumably were for Vice Chairman Shepherd to get in immediate touch with officials of the road regarding the return of the strikers to their jobs.

Strikers Confident

While the status quo of the I. & G. N. strike drifted hazily about in a cloud of uncertainty and speculation, Houston strikers were confident Friday night that the men would be taken back with full seniority rights. Many of the striking switchmen have been in continuous service for upwards of 30 years. Shortly after the walkout occurred the men received checks for their last month's pay, followed a day or so later by the issuance to them of checks for the current month's time. These latter checks were of the "D. C." variety, meaning "discharged checks," according to Nellis, but he declared that it was customary in all strikes to pay off the men on these forms.

Six crews workes in the Houston yards and four in San Antonio, he said, while at all other points the service was "satisfactory."

FIRST SESSION ARMS PARLEY NOVEMBER 12

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Definite decision to hold the first session of the conference on limitation of armaments on the morning of Saturday, November 12, instead of Armistice day, November 11, was announced today at the state department. It was found impossible to reconcile even an informal gathering of the conference on Armistice day with the program of ceremonies connected with burial of America's unknown soldier.

Knickerbocker Gives Away Five And Ten Dollar Bills at Dallas; Oh Yes! There Was a Reason, Too

Rev. Hubert D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First M. E. Church South, was the center of attraction right off at the Mehodist conference in Dallas, and deserved to be, according to the Dallas Dispatch. For the Rev. Knickerbocker was giving away $5 and $10 bills at one of the sessions of the conference in the Oak Lawn church. The Dispatch story follows:

Superannuated preachers got the tens.

Preachers whose incomes were less than $1000 a year got the fives.

After all the veterans and buck privates had been provided for, Rev. Knickerbocker had $10 left.

"I'll give it to any preacher whose mother-in-law lives with him," the Wichita Falls preacher remarked.

A tall, solemn minister came forward.

"Now hand it to her with my condolences," said Rev. Knickerbocker, and the conference rocked with laughter.

"This looks funny and you're all laughing," he remarked, "but I fancy I detect through your mirth a melancholy note, as tho you active preachers were looking forward to the time when you'd be white-haired and retired.

"The actual crying need of these old men—tho they're gentlemen and won't tell you about it—is a badge of shame on the breast of the church. I have appointed myself the unpaid agent of the superannuates. I collect money thruout the year for this Christmas tree stunt at the conference. Some people have asked me if I'm not afraid to carry all this money around with me, but I'm not. I have a trusting spirit and a great faith in human nature.

"In addition to this money I have collected for the superannuates, I have $5000 in Liberty bonds, which is the fund of the Superannuated Preachers Endowment Association. Interest from this fund will be given to old preachers. I have a plan regarding this fund I think will appeal to you, and I am going to ask every Methodist preacher in the conference to contribute $2 to it every time a preacher is superannuated.

"Sometime our church is going to be half-way decent to these old men. When a church doesn't pay its preachers a decent salary, it is getting something for nothing. And that's what makes gamblers, the hope of getting something for nothing. We don't want to encourage the gambling spirit in the church do we? Then we ought to stop trying to get the services of a man as our preacher for less than he is worth."

Inestigate Beggars' Stories by Looking Up Records at Welfare Council, Warns Mrs. Ousley

If you have a care for where your money goes, it would pay to send all beggars to the welfare council and make your donations to a central organized charity fund, according to a story brought to light Friday.

A beggar, according to the story, approached a policeman on a downtown beat with a pitiful tale of privation, starvation and want that almost brought tears to the eyes of the officer, hardened as he was to the stories he hears in the ordinary pursuance of his duty.

Accordingly the guardian of the law went down in his pocket and gave a dime to the beggar to temporarily stave off the pangs of hunger until he might meet some one more blessed with the material things of life, from whom he might obtain assistance.

After finishing his tour of duty the officer, still as it were being under the spell of the wandering "unfortunate," went to the office of the Welfare Council determined to do all in his power to alleviate such unnecessary sorrow and want.

After a short investigation in the course of which the beggar was located, Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary of the welfare council, reported that she had learned from the beggar's own lips that he was the owner of property in Oklahoma City. She also reported that he had already sent $17, which he had "made" in two days by begging on the streets of Wichita Falls, to apply on a payment for a piece of property there.

Another beggar brought to the welfare council was reported to have asserted he owned property in Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

Both men were quoted as saying they did not care to invest their "earnings" in Wichita Falls as they believed property values were too high here.

Mrs. Ousley asked that all beggars be sent to the welfare council, where investigation can be made as to their need so the gifts of free hearted citizens of Wichita Falls may be used to alleviate the sufferings of those who really are in need and not to fatten the purses of professional beggars who take advantage of economic conditions to plead a suffering they have never known.

NAME TALBERT PRESIDENT NEW ORGANIZATION

J. Wilkie Talbert was elected permanent president of the Wichita Falls Realty Board at the business meeting held Friday at noon for the completion of organization. Walter S. Curlee and Nat S. Inge were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The dealers also named: M. L. Stevens, H. G. Helgerson and L. E. Cowlings to serve with the three elective officers as an executive board. A membership committee is to be appointed by the chairman at some time during the coming week.

The dealers also voted to get behind a movement for making a closer study of the real estate business in Wichita Falls and for creating a better understanding among the public of the dealers.

RAILROAD MEN ARE RESENTFUL SAYS GOMPERS

Declares Unions Will Be Succeeded by Army of Malcontents in Event of Continued Wage Cuts

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The only expression of opinion on the withdrawal of the call for a railroad strike from labor circles here today, came from President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who declared "the spirit among railroad men today is one of resentment."

"The railroad strike will not take place—now," Mr. Gompers said, "but if the railroad labor board goes on cutting down the wages and working conditions, the present American railroad labor organization—which are the most reasonable in the world, will be succeeded by organizations which will voice sentiment of the dissatisfied, the restless and discontented."

Mr. Gompers emphasized his opinion that the establishment by the Esch-Cummins law of the labor board was an error in governmental policy.

"The board already has 1,300 cases on its docket now," he said, "and nothing could be greater indictment of the law." It has made representatives of employer and employe in the railroad world litigants, bound to put the most extreme force into all of their demands, and to yield nothing.

"There has never been a case anywhere where the government has set up such a tribunal to treat with labor matters than it has not resulted in muddling everything up.

"The government's position has always come to one of coercing labor—threatening with jail and injunction men who consider striking, yet the fact is that American labor is made up of citizens of the republic who are not going to drop back, or to allow a withdrawal of the standards of living which they have attained by their efforts."

A. R. JOHNSON RESIGNS FROM CONTROL BOARD

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28.—A. R. Johnson late today tendered his resignation as a member of the board of control to Governor Neff. By agreement it will not take effect until the juvenile training school inquiry and several other matters now before the board have been disposed of. Governor Neff then announced the appointment of Dr. H. H. Harrington of Dallas, now connected with the Texas Farm Bureau, to succeed Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson's term of office would have expired on the first of the year and Governor Neff informed him several weeks ago that he would not be reappointed. Governor Neff also announced the appointment of Sam P. Cochran of Dallas to succeed Dr. Harrington as a member of the board of regents of the University of Texas, the latter's appointment to the board of control automatically disqualifying him to retain his regentship.

Inventions Idle For Centuries

There are many tragic stories of men who made great discoveries before their time. Their inventions perished, only to be rediscovered and used in later ages.

Archimedes, who lived more than two thousand years ago, designed and made a steam engine which really worked. His idea did not catch on, and the world had to wait twenty centuries until steam, raising the lid of a kettle, led James Watt to rediscover an old invention.

Both electricity and magnetism were known to the Greeks, who failed to harness the one or use the other for the mariner's compass.

The Chinese were using the compass before the Christian era began, and explorers brought it back with them from the East in quite early days. The old salts of the time condemned it as a useless toy, and it was not reinvented for hundreds of years.

The first submarine on record made several successful dives in the Thames three centuries ago. No one realized its possibilities and the invention languished until it was revived only a few years ago.

Breech-loading field guns were used at the Battle of Crecy in 1346! They fired brass cartridges almost exactly like those used for the most up-to-date guns. They did not please the artillery experts of the time, however, and clumsy muzzle-loaders were the only guns used until seventy years ago, when, after a lapse of five hundred years, the breech-loader was reinvented.

Most wonderful of all, wireless telephony was discovered and used more than half a century ago by a scientist who could get no one to realize the value of his invention.

PRINT OF SPANISH SHOE IN HAWAIIAN LAVA MYSTIFYING

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H. Oct. 27.—The discovery of what is described as the imprint of "a practically perfect Spanish shoe, with a narrow toe, waist of the foot and heel being clearly defined" in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast of Hawaii near the ancient City of Refuge known as Honaunau, has aroused great comment and speculation throughout the territory.

The first Spaniards to touch the island were said to have come in 1575, when tradition said that a Spanish vessel was wrecked on the southeast coast of the island. But the City of Refuge was built in the eleventh century and there is no evidence that any lava flow came down the mountainside of the volcano Mauna Loa, which rises 14,000 feet above the City of Refuge, since the city was built. Consequently, it is presumed that the lava flow containing the shoe imprint is of a much more ancient day than 1,100 indicating that Spaniards visited the island long before 1575.

The sea-shore at the base of Mauna Loa, near Honaunau, is one of the few remaining sections of the Hawaiian territory in which life proceeds along much the same lines as it did a century ago. Like many of the other strange things contained on the 4,000 square mile volcanic island of Hawaii, the problem of the "Spaniard's foot" probably will never be solved.

SLAYER OF PRIEST AND MOTIVE KNOWN, ATTORNEY BELIEVES

By Associated Press.

LEAD, S. D., Oct. 28.—Andrew Rolando, a miner, wanted here in connection with the death of Father A. B. Belknap, pastor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, has ended pursuit and boarded a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy train at Edgemont, bound for Butte, Montana, according to information received by officials here tonight.

The police announced they believed Rolando was accompanied by "a girl with a red tam o'shanter," who is wanted as an important witness. Her name was withheld.

Rolando is not the only person sought in connection with the priest's death, said John Heffron, former state's attorney, who is assisting State's Attorney James Fowler, today. He added that he was confident he knew who the slayer was and the motive for killing the priest.

"The motive will be a surprise when it is announced," he said.

Old Controversy on Dividing Line Oil and Gas Wells May Soon Reach Final Settlement

Adjournment of the hearing which has been in session for several days at Austin, on the order of the railroad commission to the Humble Oil & Refining company to shut in a well at Breckenridge, until May, October 31, to permit royalty owners, or any others interested, to be given a chance of being heard, was announced Friday. The hearing, reviving an old question, is the result of drastic measures passed two years ago, when gas for domestic purposes was very scarce in all of Texas, and a conservation meeting of operators and citizens was held and steps advocated to prevent waste of gas.

The present hearing is in effect a test of the power of the oil and gas division to say whether a producer is an oil or gas well, when it is making either in any quantities.

The following summary of the hearing was furnished the Record News on Friday:

For the past two days there has been in progress a hearing before the railroad commission of Texas of a case which is of unusual interest to the oil fraternity. Some days ago Judge Hassel, chief oil and gas supervisor for the railroad commission, ordered the Humble Oil & Refining company to lubricate their Keathley No. 1 located about two and one-half miles southeast of Breckenridge.

The well at the time was making approximately three hundred barrels of oil and a large volume of gas and was classed by the supervisor as a gas well. Conference between Judge Hassel and a representative of the Humble Oil & Refining company having failed to reach an agreement, the matter was brought before the railroad commission upon application of Judge Hassell and a hearing commencing October 25 was the result. Numerous contentions were made by both parties. The principal one by Judge Hassell being that the well was a gas well and that waste of gas was being committed and the fact that the well was producing between three and four hundred barrels of oil per day does not justify the continued flowing of same; that, further, certain of casing in the hole is not properly seated, but is now unseated so that the hole below the seat of ten inch casing is not properly cased.

The company, on the other hand, contends that the well should be classed as an oil well; that it is saving and utilizing about seven million feet of gas and is allowing to flow into the open about thirteen million feet of gas. The reason for this waste of gas is that we have failed to sell and give away this gas that is now going into the air, but there being plenty of gas in Stephens county, there is no market for same. Further that the casing in the well originally properly set, and that if any string is now unseated, this is due to the terrific blow out which occurred unexpectedly, and was of such force that it blew a string of tools that was caught in the well, a distance of over a quarter of a mile. The oil and gas struck in this well was unexpected and this is a freak sand, about nine feet above the usual depth of the Breckenridge lime; that if the last string of casing is unseated, such conditions resulted in no damage on account of the fact that no oil and gas stratum is exposed; that with the gas pressure coming with the oil and water from the bottom of that hole, it would be impossible for any other water that may be above the bottom of the hole to get down into the stratum from which the oil and gas is being produced; that therefore no damage could result from the unseating of the casing if such, in fact, is the condition. The company also contends that any attempt to lubricate the well with the present gas pressure might result in loss of life and destruction of the well and flooding of the oil and gas stratum.

The general opinion seems to be that if this hearing should result in the adoption by the commission of the policy of requiring all wells to be killed where they produce both oil and gas, that hundreds of wells, and in fact a large percentage of the wells in West Texas would have to be shut in or lubricated, thereby being lost to the oil operators as well as to the royalty owners. The hearing before the commission has been adjourned until Monday, October 31, with the view of giving royalty owners or any one else interested in the pending question, opportunity to be heard and to express their views.

GETS AWARD OF $518 AGAINST TRACTION CO.

A jury in the 78th district court late Friday, awarded Edward Craig $516 against the Wichita Falls Traction company for damage to his automobile which was struck by one of the defendant company's cars in November of last year at the corner of Ninth and Taylor streets. The plaintiff asked for $1,500.

Evidence introduced in the trial of the case showed that the plaintiff stalled his automobile on the street car tracks and that he had endeavored to stop an approaching street car which struck the machine. The plaintiff alleged negligence on the part of the street car employe in failing to see the automobile on the track, in time to stop the car.

Self Talkers Lonely.

City people have acquired a trait that was held to be exercised in the country a few years ago. That is, they talk to themselves.

The farmers said they were thinking out loud because they were lonely and liked to hear the sound of a human voice, even if it were their own. For the same reason, according to investigations made by an amateur sociologist, strangers in a big city talk to themselves before they are lonely and wish to hear conversation that is directed at them.

News Notes For Masons

With 6 pool tables and two regulation size billiard tables in their new billiard and domino parlor, local masons Friday night began use of their enlarged quarters on the second floor of the Masonic Temple. The entire second floor of the building, with the exception of the two small offices occupied by the shrine recorder, are now turned to the use of the Temple club, which includes in its membership every master mason in Wichita Falls. The pool, billiard, domino and checker tables are set up in the large west room while the east room is being used as a library and reading room, in which more than a thousand volumes of books and various magazines and other periodicals have already been installed.

The Temple Club is maintained without expense to any of the membership, maintenance funds being furnished from the treasuries of the various masonic bodies of the city and every master mason automatically made a member of the club and entitled to all its benefits and pleasures. No charges are permitted in the club rooms for the use of tables nor is the sale of any article permitted within the club rooms. New furnishings for the rooms and a number of new volumes and periodicals for the library are being considered by various backers of the club, which has found increasing favor and popularity among masons since it was opened several months ago.

No one need to be alarmed if an undue amount of noise was heard coming from the postoffice building Thursday it was merely the howling of the Maskat Wildcat, which was being mailed all day Thursday to local Shriners, according to the announcement of C. O. Fritz, Maskat shrine recorder and associate publisher of this periodical.

This issue contained announcements of the Thanksgiving Day ceremonial and the New Year's shriners' ball as well as the various other routine meetings cheduled.

Much Work in Making Honey.

Few persons realize the enormous effort required to make a single pound of honey. In a pound jar, the Manchester Guardian tells us, there is the concentrated essence of sixty thousand flowers.

To make a pound of clover honey the bees must take nectar from sixty-two thousand blossoms and make 700,000 visits in getting it. After the journey from the hive to the flower and back is as much as two miles, so that the making of a pound of honey requires journeys that may aggregate more than 5 million miles.

Beneath the Hood

The girlish face beneath the hood
Was rather flushed, I understood.

Beneath the hood the girlish face
Displayed of grease a goodly trace.

She murmured, "What a pest they are,
I cannot start the pesky car."

Misses Footing and Loses Hold on Interurban After Being Dragged Some Distance; Leg Crushed.

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—Missing his footing and falling so that his left leg was directly in the path of the oncoming trucks of a trailer car, Abe Marcus of Wichita Falls, one of the owners of the Peoples Ice company of that city and prominent in business circles there, suffered the loss of his left leg just below the knee, when he unsuccessfully attempted to board a moving interurban car here today. The foot was practically severed when the injured man was picked up. He was removed to the Johnson Beall sanitarium where the operation was performed this afternoon about 3:30 o'clock.

Although still weak from the shock, the injured man was reported late tonight at the hospital to be resting well, with all indications pointing to a speedy recovery.

Mr. Marcus' wife, who was notified soon after the accident, left immediately for Fort Worth, arriving shortly before midnight to be with her husband. M. A. Marcus, also of Wichita Falls and joint business associate and brother of the injured man, who was in St. Louis on business at the time of the accident, was notified and is expected to arrive Saturday.

According to reports it is thought that Marcus had a handbag in his hand when he attempted to catch the moving car. He managed to maintain his grip on the bar, which he had grabbed, for several feet before falling. His body was dragged for several feet after the trucks struck him, passing over and crushing his foot so that the amputation was necessary.

officials of the American Railway union from interfering with transportation of the United States mail, Mr. Clyne said.

The government program included two actions to prevent a tie-up in transportation and a third looking to the punishment of strike leaders through indictments for conspiracy against the public.

These were to be presented to the court 24 hours before the time the strike was scheduled to begin.

LEE EXPRESSES GRATITUDE THAT STRIKE WAS AVERTED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—"I shall get down on my knees and thank God that the catastrophe has been averted," W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said last night. "I have on my desk thousands of letters from wives and children of railroad employes asking me to do everything possible to prevent a strike.

"When I think of the suffering a strike would have caused these people, when I think of the disaster it might have brought to this country, I say again I thank God that we took the action we did last night."

UNION CHIEFS SAY TWO POINTS VICTORY GAINED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Railroad brotherhood chiefs said that the resolution adopted last night calling off the strike emphasized two points as evidence of a victory for the men.

These points were, first, that action of the railroad labor board on further wage cuts that the railroads may ask, will receive consideration after pending questions before the board are cleared, thereby defering immediate action on further reductions and possibly postponing the question of a new wage revision for nearly a year. The second point was that action on the rules which the men's organizations wish to maintain will likewise take its place on the regular calendar of the board so that it will not be likely to become an immediate issue.

UNCHANGED CONDITIONS FACTOR IN SETTLEMENT

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The announcement from the railroad labor board that it would not be in a position to give consideration to any matters that would change the rules or working conditions or the present scale of wages for a considerable length of time was one of the principal reasons given as influencing the brotherhoods to call off the strike, according to the text of the resolution adopted by the brotherhoods last night. The text was made public here today.

The resolution also calls attention to the statement by Mr. T. DeWitt Cuyeir before the joint hearing on Wednesday that the railroads he represented would neither reduce wages nor change working conditions except by agreement with their men or by a decision of the labor board.

NEW YORK DOCK WORKERS AND SHIPPERS AT PEACE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—New wage and working agreements between the international longshoremen's association and steamship lines in deep sea trade at the port of New York and vicinity have been signed, vice president Ryan of the longshoremen's association announced today. The shipping board was a third party to the agreement.

The new scale, effective October 1, last, is sixty-five cents an hour with one dollar an hour overtime for a 48 hour week, replacing the old high scale of 85 cents and $1.20 for a 44-hour week.

The cithers and lyre were the common musical instruments of Homer's time.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS APPROVE OF ARMS LIMITATION

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 28.—Limitation of national armaments was endorsed by the Texas League of Women Voters in closing its state convention here today and copies of the resolution were ordered sent to President Harding and all members of the coming armament conference at Washington.

Mrs Jessie Daniel Ames of Georgetown was re-elected president of the state league. Other officers elected were: Vice President, Mrs. Ruth Potts Spence, Dallas; Mrs. C. W. R. Collyns, Fort Worth; Miss Florence Sterling Houston; Secretary, Mrs. S. J. Smith, Austin; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. C. Gibson, Hillsboro; Treasurer, Mrs. H. F. Ring, Houston. The 1922 convention city will be selected later by the executive committee.

Other endorsements of the league were the Morris bill, providing that community organizations dealing with the storage and distribution of foods be state controlled, an extensive home demonstration program and that the curriculum of the rural schools be changed and compulsory attendance enforced.

at least; the railroads have made it pretty definitely known that they are not, in the future, going to make any concessions to union labor; the public will have gained through needed freight reductions, announced and pending, a stimulus for business; congressmen may have learned that the transportation act needs considerable tinkering to make it water tight. Congress had clothed the interstate commerce commission with power to make freight and passenger tariffs. Now why shouldn't congress clothe the interstate commerce commission with power to make wage schedules for the employes of railroads from the highest to the lowest worker? This is the plan suggested by Former Judge S. C. Padelford of Fort Worth and Cleburne, ever opposed to government ownership of railways, most of the time opposed to government regulation of railways, but now in favor of a commission created by congress with authority to fix wage schedules for railway workers from president to trackworker. Organized labor may not know it but the strike as a weapon has lost its force. Compulsory arbitration for railway workers may come in the near future. Kansas has its industrial court for the settlement of all disputes. It has been given a tryout and if it is successful there is no telling what may happen in state halls of legislation the country over in the near future. Strikes are costly. They destroy business; they stagnate industry; they pauperize the strikers; they inflict heavy losses upon corporations or employes, but the public is ever the greatest sufferer.

Governor Neff made a very serious blunder at the beginning of his administration. He should have placed State Senator Harry L. Hertsburg of San Antonio and the Hon. Tom Finty Jr. of Dallas in charge of the state penitentiary system and clothed them with absolute power. This would have done away with penitentiary scandals. This would have made angels out of many of the convicts. This would have made the system self supporting. This would have lifted the burden from the broad back of Jones. This would have done away with chains and bats and bullwhips. This would have reformed and reclaimed be regenerated hundreds of the wearers of stripes every year. It was a regretable blunder on the part of the governor. He has been on the wrong trail ever since his inauguration. All the newspapers for fifty years walked in the wrong rut. After reading the illuminating and instructive speeches made by the senator and the editor at the Fort Worth tea symposium, H. N. F. is convinced that the governor will rectify his early error without delay, call for the resignations of two penitentiary commissioners and name Messrs. Hertsburg and Finty as their successors. These gentlemen are friends of H. N. F. He has ever been their champion and now he knows that the time calls for great souls to make the sacrifice regardless of financial loss or personal inconvenience. When in doubt, junk the penitentiary plants, sell the prison farms, create state factories for the making of cement for road material and utilize the labor of the three thousand convicts in the building of public highways from the Red river to the Rio Grande and from the gulf of Mexico to the Colorado foothills. Peace be with thee; Allah be praised.

DONLEY COUNTY IS GIVEN HIGH RANK AS GOOD SECTION

CLARENDON, Texas, Oct. 28.—The United States chamber of commerce in the report of A. W. Douglas, noted authority on the general conditions of this country, reports Donley county to be in the center of a good section of the United States. Mr. Duglas says only five others have that honor, one each the following states: Illinois, Missouri, California, Colorado and New Mexico, but the Panhandle has a larger section than any of the above mentioned.

MAN IS CAPTURED AFTER HOLDING UP NUMBER OF WOMEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A man riding alone in a stolen coupe held up and robbed a dozen or more women in a residential section today before being captured by the police after an exchange of shots. The prisoner gave his name as Frank Wilkinson. When the police finally caught up with him Wilkinson threw his revolver away.

"WE SHOULD NOT FORGET STEAMERS"

easy to understand how the steamship companies feel, for the falling off in export trade has hit them hard. Another slice is being taken out of their receipts by the 3 per cent immigration restriction law, which has cut deeply into the steerage business. Last year almost a million immigrants were brought to Ellis Island. Only 355,461 are allowed to enter the country this year. The immigration law cuts off 60 per cent of the companies' steerage business; while the foreign exchange situation has cut the freight business nearly in halves.

"Just as long as there are people who are willing to pay high prices to cross the Atlantic, or until more ships are fitted out to carry passengers, passenger rates will stay high. In the long run the selling price of any commodity is determined by the law of supply and demand. A stateroom on the "Olympic" is just as much a commodity as sugar. You buy freight space or a berth on an ocean liner under the same economic laws as you buy a pound of sugar.

"When more people want to move goods or go ahead than there are ships to take these goods or persons, steamship rates will go up. When passenger ships go over with empty staterooms, passenger rates will come down like freight rates. Americans wanted to see the battlefields. Many went over to locate relatives in the war areas. A lot of people had money in hand and wanted the luxury of travel. This luxury trade can be compared to the abnormal demand for diamonds and fur coats that followed the armistice. Today you can see fur coats in any pawn-shop. The majority of those who want to see Europe at any cost have seen it.

"The fall in operating costs justifies a price reduction in passenger rates equaling or exceeding the reduction in other things. The four big items in running a ship are food, fuel, investment on capital and labor. Food, fuel, and labor have all gone down. Bunker coal costs $6 a ton where it cost $20 a year ago. Food prices have declined less steeply, but they have gone down, and so has labor. American seamen are going over to British run boats at lower wages because of the scarcity of jobs.

"Passenger rates are high because the steamship companies have been able to ask enormous prices and get them. There has been a rush to Europe greater than the supply of accommodations. Due to the general depression the Babsonchart shows business to be more than 20 per cent below normal—this rush will not continue. When people stopped buying expensive clothes, the department stores found a way to put their prices down. In the same way the steamship companies will take a loss on passenger traffic if they have to rather than have their ships idle. For one person who can pay $1,000 for a trip to Europe there are four school teachers and tourists—who could go at $250. Sooner or later the steamship lines will again need the school teacher trade. Then rates will come down, I believe that this decline will begin next summer.

"What does this mean for steamship securities? It means that steamship securities should now be purchased with great care; reorganizations and receiverships may be expected; but after these take place and the steamships again cater to the school teachers, business men and a normal foreign trade all will be well again. Most steamships securities are not yet a buy; but they some day will be.

FOCH GREETED BY TUMULTOUS CHEERS IN N. Y.

hundred miles out at sea. There, the liner Paris, bearing him, was joined by twelve American destroyers. Soon through the mist there broke a squadron of seaplanes. The Paris was passed by the George Washington, which had raced into port with General Pershing in order that he might be first to grasp the marshal's hand on American soil. At quarantine came another welcome. Transferred to the navy cutter vigilant, the soldier of France clasped hands with Ambassador Jusserand, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and with many other notables.

But the series of receptions had hardly begun. The next came off Fort Jay when guns thundered a general's salute.

The Climax

And then the climax.

Landing a few yards from Castle Garden where his famous countryman, La Fayette, had set foot on American soil, the marshal found awaiting him a reception that even his imagination could not have conceived.

The wide stretch of open ground had been converted into a great stadium, the walls of which were skyscrapers. At every window, on the roofs, even out on dizzy cornices twenty-five stories above the street were perched men and women waving the flags of America and France. On the streets below were massed a great army of welcomers—men, women and children. Indeed, it seemed as if all the little girls in New York were there with bonnets which they wished to press into the marshal's hands.

As soon as the soldierly little figure in the light blue uniform of France stepped off the pier a mighty shout arose. A few minutes before General Pershing had prepared to the sound of ruffles and flourishes, and these were repeated for the French war hero.

Forward stepped the marshal, his scarlet cap at an angle. There was nothing of the merciless warrior in his smiling face or keen, kindly eyes as, marching straight ahead, he advanced with hands stretched in front of him to greet America's military leader.

Stymied.

sult in the striking International & Great Northern trainmen returning to their jobs. J. M. Landis, chief clerk of the superintendent, refused today to affirm or deny that his company would take the strikers back should they apply.

"We are very busy moving freight this morning and do not care to make any statement," he said.

Leaders of the strikers also were not prepared to make a statement as they had received no instructions from R. D. Frame, general chairman, who attended the Chicago conference. Such instructions are expected hourly. The general impression here is that the brotherhoods' action calls off the International & Great Northern strike and that they will be returned to work. The men are inclined to place no particular significance on the fact that the road in paying them off, gave them final discharge checks and hold to the position that such procedure is customary in a strike. Most of the trainmen own homes in San Antonio and desire to remain here.

ATTITUDE OF I. & G. N. MATTER OF CONJECTURE

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 28.—Preliminary negotiations for calling off the strike of I. & G. N. trainmen Friday met with a rebuff, according to word received by G. G. Nellis, local chairman here for the strikers.

Nellis said he had been in communication with J. D. Shepherd, vice chairman for the entire line, over the telephone and was advised that the latter had been in communication with E. G. Goforth, general manager of the road, Goforth, according to Shepherd's conversation, had given the trainmen's representative "little satisfaction."

Shepherd also advised the local chairman that he had received a telegram from R. D. Frame, general chairman, who is enroute to Texas following a conference with members of the labor board in Chicago.

That "the strike has been called off," instructions to be carried out by I. & G. N. men, Nellis said, also were contained in the telegram to Shepherd, but he professed to know nothing of their nature.

The conference between Shepherd and Goforth presumably was held over the long distance telephone. The former told the local chairman merely that he had been in "communication" with Mr. Goforth with "little success." The private car of the latter, however, was attached to number four, leaving Houston at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and it was presumed that he changed his plans to go to Palestine at the last moment, necessitating a telephone conference.

Asked what would be the attitude of the road toward the six hundred strikers, the general managed stated that that was a question which he was not now prepared to answer. He inferred that probably it would be dealt with by the labor board itself. In the meantime, it became known, both high officials of the road and brotherhood leaders are converging on Houston, with a probable conference in the offing.

G. W. Anderson, vice president of the B. R. T., it had been reported, was enroute here from Chicago; Vice President Farquharson, who has been in Los Angeles, was reported on the way here from San Antonio, while James A. Baker, receiver of the I. & G. N., is enroute here in company with Thornwell Fay, executive officer of the company, who went north Friday morning to meet him. In addition to these R. D. Frame, general chairman for the men, left St. Louis at shortly after 6 o'clock Friday, enroute to Houston after being summoned before the labor board at Chicago.

Frame's telegram to Shepherd, which he stated that the strike had been declared off, is believed to refer to the general strike set for October 30, Nellis said.

The instructions mentioned, however, presumably were for Vice Chairman Shepherd to get in immediate touch with officials of the road regarding the return of the strikers to their jobs.

Strikers Confident

While the status quo of the I. & G. N. strike drifted hazily about in a cloud of uncertainty and speculation, Houston strikers were confident Friday night that the men would be taken back with full seniority rights. Many of the striking switchmen have been in continuous service for upwards of 30 years. Shortly after the walkout occurred the men received checks for their last month's pay, followed a day or so later by the issuance to them of checks for the current month's time. These latter checks were of the "D. C." variety, meaning "discsarged checks," according to Nellis, but he declared that it was customary in all strikes to pay off the men on these forms.

Six crews workes in the Houston yards and four in San Antonio, he said, while at all other points the service was "satisfactory."

FIRST SESSION ARMS PARLEY NOVEMBER 12

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Definite decision to hold the first session of the conference on limitation of armaments on the morning of Saturday, November 12, instead of Armistice day, November 11, was announced today at the state department. It was found impossible to reconcile even an informal gathering of the conference on Armistice day with the program of ceremonies connected with burial of America's unknown soldier.

Knickerbocker Gives Away Five And Ten Dollar Bills at Dallas; Oh Yes! There Was a Reason, Too

Rev. Hubert D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First M. E. Church South, was the center of attraction right off at the Mehodist conference in Dallas, and deserved to be, according to the Dallas Dispatch. For the Rev. Knickerbocker was giving away $5 and $10 bills at one of the sessions of the conference in the Oak Lawn church. The Dispatch story follows:

Superannuated preachers got the tens.

Preachers whose incomes were less than $1000 a year got the fives.

After all the veterans and buck privates had been provided for, Rev. Knickerbocker had $10 left.

"I'll give it to any preacher whose mother-in-law lives with him," the Wichita Falls preacher remarked.

A tall, solemn minister came forward.

"Now hand it to her with my condolences," said Rev. Knickerbocker, and the conference rocked with laughter.

"This looks funny and you're all laughing," he remarked, "but I fancy I detect through your mirth a melancholy note, as the you active preachers were looking forward to the time when you'd be white-haired and retired.

"The actual crying need of these old men—tho they're gentlemen and won't tell you about it—is a badge of shame on the breast of the church. I have appointed myself the unpaid agent of the superannuates. I collect money thruout the year for this Christmas tree stunt at the conference. Some people have asked me if I'm not afraid to carry all this money around with me, but I'm not. I have a trusting spirit and a great faith in human nature.

"In addition to this money I have collected for the superannuates, I have $5000 in Liberty bonds, which is the fund of the Superannuated Preachers Endowment Association. Interest from this fund will be given to old preachers. I have a plan regarding this fund I think will appeal to you, and I am going to ask every Methodist preacher in the conference to contribute $2 to it every time a preacher is superannuated.

"Sometime our church is going to be half-way decent to these old men. When a church doesn't pay its preachers a decent salary, it is getting something for nothing. And that's what makes gamblers, the hope of getting something for nothing. We don't want to encourage the gambling spirit in the church do we? Then we ought to stop trying to get the services of a man as our preacher for less than he is worth."

Inestigate Beggars' Stories by Looking Up Records at Welfare Council, Warns Mrs. Ousley

If you have a care for where your money goes, it would pay to send all beggars to the welfare council and make your donations to a central organized charity fund, according to a story brought to light Friday.

A beggar, according to the story, approached a policeman on a downtown beat with a pitiful tale of privation, starvation and want that almost brought tears to the eyes of the officer, hardened as he was to the stories he hears in the ordinary pursuance of his duty.

Accordingly the guardian of the law went down in his pocket and gave a dime to the beggar to temporarily stave off the pangs of hunger until he might meet some one more blessed with the material things of life, from whom he might obtain assistance.

After finishing his tour of duty the officer, still as it were being under the spell of the wandering "unfortunate," went to the office of the Welfare Council determined to do all in his power to alleviate such unnecessary sorrow and want.

After a short investigation in the course of which the beggar was located, Mrs. C. E. Ousley, secretary of the welfare council, reported that she had learned from the beggar's own lips that he was the owner of property in Oklahoma City. She also reported that he had already sent $17, which he had "made" in two days by begging on the streets of Wichita Falls, to apply on a payment for a piece of property there.

Another beggar brought to the welfare council was reported to have asserted he owned property in Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

Both men were quoted as saying they did not care to invest their "earnings" in Wichita Falls as they believed property values were too high here.

Mrs. Ousley asked that all beggars be sent to the welfare council, where investigation can be made as to their need so the gifts of free hearted citizens of Wichita Falls may be used to alleviate the sufferings of those who really are in need and not to fatten the purses of professional beggars who take advantage of economic conditions to plead a suffering they have never known.

NAME TALBERT PRESIDENT NEW ORGANIZATION

J. Wilkie Talbert was elected permanent president of the Wichita Falls Realty Board at the business meeting held Friday at noon for the completion of organization. Walter S. Curlee and Nat S. Inge were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

The dealers also named: M. L. Stevens, H. G. Helgerson and L. E. Cowlings to serve with the three elective officers as an executive board. A membership committee is to be appointed by the chairman at some time during the coming week.

The dealers also voted to get behind a movement for making a closer study of the real estate business in Wichita Falls and for creating a better understanding among the public of the dealers.

RAILROAD MEN ARE RESENTFUL SAYS GOMPERS

Declares Unions Will Be Succeeded by Army of Malcontents in Event of Continued Wage Cuts

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The only expression of opinion on the withdrawal of the call for a railroad strike from labor circles here today, came from President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who declared "the spirit among railroad men today is one of resentment."

"The railroad strike will not take place—now," Mr. Gompers said, "but if the railroad labor board goes on cutting down the wages and working conditions, the present American railroad labor organization—which are the most reasonable in the world, will be succeeded by organizations which will voice sentiment of the dissatisfied, the restless and discontented."

Mr. Gompers emphasized his opinion that the establishment by the Esch-Cummins law of the labor board was an error in governmental policy.

"The board says it has 1,500 cases on its docket now," he said, "and nothing could be greater indictment of the law. It has made representatives of employer and employe in the railroad world litigants, bound to put the most extreme force into all of their demands, and to yield nothing.

"There has never been a case anywhere where the government has set up such a tribunal to treat with labor matters than it has not resulted in muddling everything up.

"The government's position has always come to one of coercing labor, of threatening with jail and injunction men who consider striking, yet the fact is that American labor is made up of citizens of the republic who are not going to drop back, or to allow a withdrawal of the standards of living which they have attained by their efforts."

A. R. JOHNSON RESIGNS FROM CONTROL BOARD

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28.—A. R. Johnson late today tendered his resignation as a member of the board of control to Governor Neff. By agreement it will not take effect until the juvenile training school inquiry and several other matters now before the board have been disposed of. Governor Neff then announced the appointment of Dr. H. H. Harrington of Dallas, now connected with the Texas Farm Bureau, to succeed Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson's term of office would have expired on the first of the year and Governor Neff informed him several weeks ago that he would not be reappointed. Governor Neff also announced the appointment of Sam P. Cochran of Dallas to succeed Dr. Harrington as a member of the board of regents of the University of Texas, the latter's appointment to the board of control automatically disqualifying him to retain his regentship.

Inventions Idle For Centuries

There are many tragic stories of men who made great discoveries before their time. Their inventions perished, only to be rediscovered and used in later ages.

Archimedes, who lived more than two thousand years ago, designed and made a steam engine which really worked. His idea did not catch on, and the world had to wait twenty centuries until steam, raising the lid of a kettle, led James Watt to rediscover an old invention.

Both electricity and magnetism were known to the Greeks, who failed to harness the one or use the other for the mariner's compass.

The Chinese were using the compass before the Christian era began, and explorers brought it back with them from the East in quite early days. The old salts of the time condemned it as a useless toy, and it was not reinvented for hundreds of years.

The first submarine on record made several successful dives in the Thames three centuries ago. No one realized its possibilities and the invention languished until it was revived only a few years ago.

Breech-loading field guns were used at the Battle of Crecy in 1346! They fired brass cartridges almost exactly like those used for the most up-to-date guns. They did not please the artillery experts of the time, however, and clumsy muzzle-loaders were the only guns used until seventy years ago, when, after a lapse of five hundred years, the breech-loader was reinvented.

Most wonderful of all, wireless telephony was discovered and used more than half a century ago by a scientist who could get no one to realize the value of his invention.

PRINT OF SPANISH SHOE IN HAWAIIAN LAVA MYSTIFYING

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H. Oct. 27.—The discovery of what is described as the imprint of "a practically perfect Spanish shoe, with a narrow toe, waist of the foot and heel being clearly defined" in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast of Hawaii near the ancient City of Refuge known as Honaunau, has aroused great comment and speculation throughout the territory.

The first Spaniards to touch the island were said to have come in 1575, when tradition said that a Spanish vessel was wrecked on the southeast coast of the island. But the City of Refuge was built in the eleventh century and there is no evidence that any lava flow came down the mountainside of the volcano Mauna Loa, which rises 14,000 feet above the City of Refuge, since the city was built. Consequently, it is presumed that the lava flow containing the shoe imprint is of a much more ancient day than 1,100 indicating that Spaniards visited the island long before 1575.

The sea-shore at the base of Mauna Loa, near Honaunau, is one of the few remaining sections of the Hawaiian territory in which life proceeds along much the same lines as it did a century ago. Like many of the other strange things contained on the 4,000 square mile volcanic island of Hawaii, the problem of the "Spaniard's foot" probably will never be solved.

SLAYER OF PRIEST AND MOTIVE KNOWN, ATTORNEY BELIEVES

By Associated Press.

LEAD, S. D., Oct. 28.—Andrew Rolando, a miner, wanted here in connection with the death of Father A. B. Belknap, pastor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, has eluded pursuit and boarded a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy train at Edgemont, bound for Butte, Montana, according to information received by officials here tonight.

The police announced they believed Rolando was accompanied by "a girl with a red tam o'shanter," who is wanted as an important witness. Her name was withheld.

Rolando is not the only person sought in connection with the priest's death, said John Heffron, former state's attorney, who is assisting State's Attorney James Fowler, today. He added that he was confident he knew who the slayer was and the motive for killing the priest. "The motive will be a surprise when it is announced," he said.

Old Controversy on Dividing Line Oil and Gas Wells May Soon Reach Final Settlement

Adjournment of the hearing which has been in session for several days at Austin, on the order of the railroad commission to the Humble Oil & Refining company to shut in a well at Breckenridge, until Monday, October 31, to permit royalty owners, or any others interested, to be given a chance of being heard, was announced Friday. The hearing, reviving an old question, is the result of drastic measures passed two years ago, when gas for domestic purposes was very scarce in all of Texas, and a conservation meeting of operators and citizens was held and steps advocated to prevent waste of gas.

The present hearing is in effect a test of the power of the oil and gas division to say whether a producer is an oil or gas well, when it is making either in any quantities.

The following summary of the hearing was furnished the Record News on Friday:

For the past two days there has been in progress a hearing before the railroad commission of Texas of a case which is of unusual interest to the oil fraternity. Some days ago Judge Hassel, chief oil and gas supervisor for the railroad commission, ordered the Humble Oil & Refining company to lubricate their Keathley No. 1 located about two and one-half miles southeast of Breckenridge.

The well at the time was making approximately three hundred barrels of oil and a large volume of gas and was classed by the supervisor as a gas well. Conference between Judge Hassel and a representative of the Humble Oil & Refining company having failed to reach an agreement, the matter was brought before the railroad commission upon application of Judge Hassell and a hearing commencing October 25 was the result. Numerous contentions were made by both parties. The principal one by Judge Hassell being that the well was a gas well and that waste of gas was being committed and the fact that the well was producing between three and four hundred barrels of oil per day does not justify the continued flowing of same; that, further, certain of casing in the hole is not properly seated, but is now unseated so that the hole below the seat of ten inch casing is not properly cased.

The company, on the other hand, contends that the well should be classed as an oil well; that it is saving and utilizing about seven million feet of gas and is allowing to flow into the open about thirteen million feet of gas. The reason for this waste of gas is that we have failed to sell and give away this gas that is now going into the air, but there being plenty of gas in Stephens county, there is no market for same. Further that the casing in the well originally properly set, and that if any string is now unseated, this is due to the terrific blow out which occurred unexpectedly, and was of such force that it blew a string of tools that was caught in the well, a distance of over a quarter of a mile. The oil and gas struck in this well was unexpected and this is a freak sand, about nine feet above the usual depth of the Breckenridge lime; that if the last string of casing is unseated, such conditions resulted in no damage on account of the fact that no oil and gas stratum is exposed; that with the gas pressure coming with the oil and water from the bottom of that hole, it would be impossible for any other water that may be above the bottom of the hole to get down into the stratum from which the oil and gas is being produced; that therefore no damage could result from the unseating of the casing if such, in fact, is the condition. The company also contends that any attempt to lubricate the well with the present gas pressure might result in loss of life and destruction of the well and flooding of the oil and gas stratum.

The general opinion seems to be that if this hearing should result in the adoption by the commission of the policy of requiring all wells to be killed where they produce both oil and gas, that hundreds of wells, and in fact a large percentage of the wells in West Texas would have to be shut in or lubricated, thereby being lost to the oil operators as well as to the royalty owners. The hearing before the commission has been adjourned until Monday, October 31, with the view of giving royalty owners or any one else interested in the pending question, opportunity to be heard and to express their views.

GETS AWARD OF $518 AGAINST TRACTION CO.

A jury in the 78th district court late Friday, awarded Edward Craig $516 against the Wichita Falls Traction company for damage to his automobile which was struck by one of the defendant company's cars in November of last year at the corner of Ninth and Taylor streets. The plaintiff asked for $1,500.

Evidence introduced in the trial of the case showed that the plaintiff stalled his automobile on the street car tracks and that he had endeavored to stop an approaching street car which struck the machine. The plaintiff alleged negligence on the part of the street car employe in failing to see the automobile on the track, in time to stop the car.

Self Talkers Lonely.

City people have acquired a trait that was held to be exercised in the country a few years ago. That is, they talk to themselves.

The farmers said they were thinking out loud because they were lonely and liked to hear the sound of a human voice, even if it were their own. For the same reason, according to investigations made by an amateur sociologist, strangers in a big city talk to themselves before they are lonely and wish to hear conversation that is directed at them.

News Notes For Masons

With 6 pool tables and two regulation size billiard tables in their new billiard and domino parlor, local masons Friday night began use of their enlarged quarters on the second floor of the Masonic Temple. The entire second floor of the building, with the exception of the two small offices occupied by the shrine recorder, are now turned to the use of the Temple club, which includes in its membership every master mason in Wichita Falls. The pool, billiard, domino and checker tables are set up in the large west room while the east room is being used as a library and reading room, in which more than a thousand volumes of books and various magazines and other periodicals have already been installed.

The Temple Club is maintained without expense to any of the membership, maintenance funds being furnished from the treasuries of the various masonic bodies of the city and every master mason automatically made a member of the club and entitled to all its benefits and pleasures. No charges are permitted in the club rooms for the use of tables nor is the sale of any article permitted within the club rooms. New furnishings for the rooms and a number of new volumes and periodicals for the library are being considered by various backers of the club, which has found increasing favor and popularity among masons since it was opened several months ago.

No one need to be alarmed if an undue amount of noise was heard coming from the postoffice building Thursday it was merely the howling of the Maskat Wildcat, which was being mailed all day Thursday to local Shriners, according to the announcement of C. O. Fritz, Maskat shrine recorder and associate publisher of this periodical.

This issue contained announcements of the Thanksgiving Day ceremonial and the New Year's shriners' ball as well as the various other routine meetings cheduled.

Beginner's Luck.

An ardent angler took a friend fishing. The friend knew nothing about the gentle art, but was set up with all the gentle art, but was set up with all the necessary tackle and a nice, comfortable seat on the bank.

The experienced hand started fishing a few yards higher up the stream.

Presently the novice said: "How much do those red things cost?"

"I suppose you mean the float?" said the angler. "That only costs about two-pence."

"Well, I owe you twopence," said the novice. "The one you lent me has sunk."—Tid-Bits, London.

Much Work in Making Honey.

Few persons realize the enormous effort required to make a single pound of honey. In a pound jar, the Manchester Guardian tells us, there is the concentrated essence of sixty thousand flowers.

To make a pound of clover honey the bees must take nectar from sixty-two thousand blossoms and make 700,000 visits in getting it. After the journey from the hive to the flower and back is as much as two miles, so that the making of a pound of honey requires journeys that may aggregate more than 5 million miles.

"WE WILL LISTEN TO THE GRAND OPERA AND FORGET ALL OUR OTHER TROUBLES."

(Hon. George Robinson in the Waco Times-Herald.)

Dr. Atticus Webb says the state of Texas is full of stills; that there are 2,000 stills operating in 200 counties. Then why in the deuce doesn't the venerable and voluminous doctor go before a Federal grand jury and present his evidence? Dr. Webb says that Texas newspapers are encouraging the breaking of prohibition laws, upholding bootleggers and ridiculing prohibitionists. "Thou shalt not bear false witness," is a divine injunction and hence the Doctor should make his peace with God without delay and apologize to the newspapers. There isn't a newspaper that comes to the exchange table of the Record News that isn't an advocate of law enforcement and the suppression of moonshiners and whiskey runners. Dr. Webb has made the direct charge that there are 2,000 illicit stills in Texas. He is a resident of Dallas. There is a Federal grand jury grinding in that city all the time and the grand jury is not composed of bootleggers or law violators.—Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald in Wichita Falls Record News.

J. S. Johnston, who refers to himself as "the old Bishop of West Texas," and who, if we mistake not, saw service as a soldier of the Confederacy, has recently said this:

"I opposed nation-wide prohibition when it was a political issue; but as long as it is the law, I will obey it as implicitly as though it were the clause of the Constitution which guarantees life, personal liberty, the pursuit of happiness, and the right of holding property."

It is a difficult law to enforce—no doubt about that. But nobody is urging defiance of the law. Some are contending for modifications of the Volstead Act, which is their right, of course. The repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment may one day become an acute issue, but just now there is no large effort in that behalf. The principle of prohibition is being tried out. If it be a right principle, it will remain indefinitely. On the other hand, if it be a wrong principle, it must ultimately go. There is no need at this time for men to get excited over the question of prohibition. There isn't a liquor saloon between the two oceans, insofar as this country is concerned. "The saloon must go." That was the slogan for years.

We had a local option campaign here in McLennan county in October, 1917. Pat Neff was the manager for the prohibitionists, and again and again did he say, "Saloons or no saloons; that's the question." The saloon has gone, but the Anti-Saloon League remains to discover the stills and to break them up. Very well. Naturally and necessarily a still can't be still very long; unless it is constantly on the move, it is sure to be discovered. The main fight has been won; not a saloon anywhere in sight; the "drys" have it all their way.

What was known as the organized liquor traffic has folded its tent and silently stolen away. Mint crops grow in vain. Nobody thinks of staging "Ten Nights in a Barroom." The man with a thirst is like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted, whose lights are fled, whose last guests are dead, and all but he departed. [illegible] to the Cotton Palace Exposition [illegible] Doctor Webb, and you, [illegible] Hugh Nugent, and let us do our part toward promoting, as Thomas Jefferson said, peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations, with a little dry humor on the sideboard. Abraham Lincoln, you know, saved many a situation by relating an anecdote at the opportune moment. In Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," it is related that, in one of the tense moments of a cabinet meeting, Mr. Lincoln read a passage from Artemus Ward, and Ward, you know, wrote in comical style altogether.

Come along to the Exposition, Brethren Webb and Fitzgerald, and let us be boys again, something after the manner here described by Richard McCarty of the Albany News:

"This week Brother D. G. Humber brought us a sack of old-fashioned country meal, same being ground down there on the farm; in other words, home production, and had in it all the elements of the corn, fresh from the stalk, and made up with some fresh buttermilk, hen eggs and a pinch of Arm and Hammer soda. It was sure good eating. Thanks, Brother Humber, and may you live always and never lose the art of making the real meal. And the taste and aroma of that hot cornbread made us think of our childhood days, away over in the mountains of East Tennessee, when America was quite young. Again we were astride old Beck, wending our way across the mountains to Martin's old water mill, situated on the banks of a mountain brook, nestling up against a steep mountain, surrounded by birchwood and tall poplar trees, a beautiful shady nook. And away up there on the mountainside a spring came gushing out from under God's mountain, and the water race brought the water down to overshot wheel, and turned the mill rocks, which converted the raw corn into the finished product, and grinding slow-like, it retained all the sweetness and fragrance of the grain of corn. Yes, eating that home-made meal, the picture of childhood came back to us again— fishing in the mill race, playing sham battery with corn cobs, doodle bug and burnback while we were waiting for our grinding. A red-headed, freckled-faced, ignorant, gawky hill-billy lad, attending the college of hard knocks, getting toughness and wind and grit in our make-up for the difficulties ahead, and doggone, it sure has been a hard road to travel, and it's well enough that we built a constitution, had a good stomach and strong limbs, or else we would have never got up the mountains. And we have still got the taste of that cornbread in our mouth, and the picture glows brighter on the tablets of memory, the frost is on the punkin vine, the persimmons are ripe, the o'possums are fat, we hear the bark of the coon dogs, again we are chopping down the scaley barked hickory tree, and the dog and the coon fight is on, and O golleys, what a time we boys did have."

And you, too, Brother Richard McCarty, come along with Brethren Atticus Webb and Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, and we will listen to the grand opera and forget all our other troubles.

Citizens of Lubbock are not standing still. The capital stock of the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association will be increased from $10,000 to $25,000 and a new half mile circular track is scheduled in the new plans. Horse racing is coming back. Lovers of the sport of kinds demand it. If the ponies had been shown at the state fair of Texas this year the attendance would not have fallen off 300,000. This does not carry with it the suggestion that book makers and book making will come to life in Texas. Wherever races were given at county fairs in 1921, the attendance was large. All red-blooded men and women dearly love to watch the kings and queens of the turf perform. A race horse isn't a mechanical contrivance.

Concho county reports a producer with an estimated flow of 50 barrels of oil and one million feet of gas. There must be oil under the surface everywhere in Texas. Haskell is hopeful and the wildcatters, after having spent thousands of dollars, look for gold and sands results in the near future. A game sportsman is the wildcatter. He take his losses like a thoroughbred when he brings in a duster; he spends his money like a prince when he brings in a live one.

Down on the Concho river near the town of San Angelo an agent of Dr. Atticus Webb seized fifty quarts of the real stuff—not the Texas brand but the brand plucked from the distillery where they manufactured Haig thistles in liquid form. Now how the duece did that stuff manage to cross the ocean and make its way from the border line to the Banks of the Concho river?

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

THE HOPEFUL VIEW.

Things are looking pretty black, trouble everywhere we see, and we're prone to cry, "Alack," and to murmur, "Hully Chee!" But there's comfort in the thought that they've looked that way before, and the passing seasons brought all things right side up once more. Now we weep and wring our hands, and denounce the doggone luck, for the people of all lands seemingly have run amuck. Statesmen do their little stunt in a rattled, locoed way, but the problems they confront will be solved some pleasant day. Crime and license seem to rule, seem to thrive in every town; let us keep our foreheads cool—everything will settle down. But there's nothing new in sight, nothing new in any clime; everything comes out all right if we only give it time. After every three-ring war, every routine thing expires, and the evils we abhor were confronted by our sires. And our fathers doubtless said, as their sons remark today, that all righteousness was dead, and the furies were at play. But they lived to see the dawn of a good and wholesome time, when the bogies all were gone, with the seething wave of crime. And our troubles too will cease as the seasons run their course, and we'll boost the dove of peace till our larynxes are hoarse.—Copyright by Geo. Matthew Adams.

Breakfast Stories

These are the days of continental tourists and the attendant guides.

In Rouen lately a party of simple English were taken in hand by a Maltese who spoke half a dozen languages with equal fluency and recklessness. He led them into the beautiful forecourt of the courts of justice and vociferated: "'Ere you 'ave, ladies and gentlemen, all sorts of architectures—all sorts. You don't know nothing about it and her don't I, so come on." And on they went.

A boy in a Welsh school essayed to write on Henry III, and a London paper reports him as beginning thus:

"King Henry VII was the greatest widower that ever lived. He was born at Anno Domino in the year 1066. He had 510 wives besides children. The first was beheaded and executed. The second was revoked. She never smiled again. Henry 8 was succeeded on the throne by Mary Queen of Scots, sometimes known as the Lady of the Lake."

"The Ladies Aid Society will edit the Chiggersville Clarion for one day."

"How is the staff bearing up?"

"Everybody's willing to submit to feminine control but the office devil. His resignation depends on whether or not he'll have to wash his face."

Peterson, coming in late, hears his wife move in the bed; so he swiftly moves to the cradle and begins to rock it.

"What are you doing there?" asks his wife.

"Hush!" says Peterson, "I am keeping the baby asleep. It woke up an hour or so ago and I have been by it ever since."

"Indeed!" replied Mrs. Peterson, "that's strange! Baby has been in bed with me."

Who's Who

DR. STEPHEN SMITH.

DR. S. SMITH

The youngest old man, not only in New York but in the world, will be the center figure of a big celebration in New York November 14. The American Public Health Association will turn its annual session into a meeting of honor for Dr. Stephen Smith, ninety-nine who organized the body fifty years ago.

Middle-aged men who have been going around complaining about physical decline want to pay a visit to Dr. Smith. He is one of the few men about whom it really makes no difference whether you say when they were born or not. He was born February 19, 1823, on a New York farm. Graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, seventy years ago.

He has filled office under Hayes, Cleveland and others of the days agone, occupied nearly all of the important medical posts that come to an active doctor, seven New York governors and three mayors have appointed him to office, and he had his full share in changing New York from an epidemic breeding town to one of most sanitary cities on earth.

Per incident, he was the father of the trained nurse in American hospitals.

And now, at ninety-nine, as spry as a cricket and a living mockery of old age, he tells us how we can beat the Styx ferryman, and does it without sending in any bill for professional services rendered.

"A man is as old as he eats," says the doctor. "Fresh air and physical culture will not prolong life if you eat the wrong kind of food, or too much of any kind. I owe my long life to the fact that for the first sixty years I was troubled with my stomach and had to learn how to eat to protect it."

TIMELY VIEWS NOT IN THE NEWS

Even Children Will Take Part in Next War, Says Raymond Robins.

"Never again will there be a war between armies. It will be war between whole nations. There will be no non-combatants. Men, women and children will be forced to battle, through machinery of efficient slaughter, for existence."

Thus declared Raymond Robins, student of international politics, in a recent address.

"Machinery of efficient slaughter includes not only germ bombs and airplane raids capable of wiping out a city in a night, but an odorless, heavier than air gas that takes instant deadly effect upon whatever it touches," he asserted.

"Is this the goal we are heading toward? Or shall we, by proper limitation of arms, bring about the actual peace which all mankind is seeking?

"Increasing araments decrease assurance of long continued peace and destroy the good will and faith between the nations of the world.

Mr. Robins, who was former Red Cross commissioner to Russia, said that the women of the country held a great opportunity in their hands, through their political power to help settle the unrest.

"I believe women are realists," he continued. "This is contrary to popular opinion, but after all, women have been settling very material problems, such as are concerned with food, shelter and clothing for a great many years. Men are aggressive in some lines, and more inclined to be emotional over political affairs. Women on the other hand, are weighing political and governmental matters without any bias toward party or faction. 'Make good or get out' appears to be their challenge to the politicians."

Mr. Robins made the prediction that brown and yellow men may be ruling the world if the white men do not learn to cease being too destructive of each other.

Parker House Rolls—One cake of compressed yeast, one pint milk (scalded or cooled), two tablespoons sugar, four tablespoons lard or butter(melted), three pints sifted flour, one teaspoon salt.

Dissolve yeast and sugar in lukewarm milk; add fat and one and one-half pints flour. Beat until perfectly smooth. Let rise one hour in warm place. Then add remainder of flour, or enough to make a dough. Add the salt.

Knead well. Place in greased bowl and let rise one and one-half hours or double in bulk. Roll one-fourth inch thick, brush lightly with melted butter, cut with two-inch biscuit cutter.

Crease through center heavily with dull knife edge and fold over in pocketbook shape. Place in greased pan, one inch apart, cover and let rise until light—about three-quarters of an hour.

Bake ten minutes.

Good White Bread Simply Made—First have your flour placed so it is not too cold when you wish to make your bread. Put one quart water, lukewarm (test it in palm of your hand by cupping your hand) in the following ingredients:

Flour, three pints; salt one heaping tablespoonful; sugar, one heaping tablespoonful; lard, three tablespoonfuls; yeast.

Mix all this well, and keep adding one good handful of flour at a time and mix well each time until dough is too stiff to stir with hand, which takes about ten handfuls. Then take a little more flour and knead dough until it is solid. By solid is meant when kneading the dough does not stick to your hand. Always knead the dough with hand in first form.

Set in warm place, let rise until twice its size in bulk, then form loaves. Let rise again to twice its size and bake fifty to sixty minutes in moderate oven.

This makes three loaves.

THANK YOU!

FOR YOUR HAIR TRY SUNLIGHT

Sunlight is composed of different colors and waves of varying lengths. The longest waves are red, after which come orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet.

These combined give a white light, such as is seen in ordinary light.

At the sun itself, however, it is certain that large numbers of light-waves are stopped before they can emerge to our sight.

Many of the short-length and weaker ones, for example, are not strong enough to get any farther from the sun's interior than some thousands of miles below the surface. There they are imprisoned, with the result that we do not see them affect the sun's color in the least.

The strong violet and blue are stopped only when they have nearly succeeded in getting out, and they, too, are therefore prevented from entering into the sun's color.

Altogether, so many of the sun's light rays are unable to escape that in the end we find only the very powerful red, orange, and green ones coming our way.

Thus it happens that from the combination of these tints we get a yellow sun. But for all that, we have a narrow escape from having a blue sun.

Bringing Beauty, Too!

Of course, this must not apply to the head when the sun is very strong, although sunlight is a greater beautifier of the skin and hair than any prescription of a beauty specialist. Sunlight exercises a most soothing and beneficial effect upon the skin by rousing is dormant energies, thus stimulating the whole nervous system.

People who live in the sun are far more cheerful and healthy, being almost entirely free from the nervous tendencies of those who live in dull, gray climates. A simple test of this statement can be made with one's friends on dull and sunny days. Watch them! The effect is marvelous.

Sunlight is life! One touch of the sun brings smiling Nature back to instant life. Where people are in the habit of getting as much sunlight as possible it is found they are optimistic, healthily affectionate, well-met people, with a big heart and a clear eye.

It is imperative for health that we get as much sunlight as possible. What is more pleasant than a sun bath before the morning bath? The magnetic rays recharge one's nervous tissues, electrify the blood, and purify the skin.

A fitting completion to the sun bath "cure" is to drink a glass of water which has been exposed to the sun's rays for ten minutes. It is one of the finest tonics in the world—and the cheapest!

BOILS AND PIMPLES ARE DANGER SIGNALS

They Denote With Unfailing Certainty a Weakened and Impure State of the Blood.

For Absolute Relief You Must Clear Your Blood of Waste Products.

Modern life, with its rich foods and lack of exercise, often advertises its effects by disfiguring the skin.

Acne, small abscesses and boils are all too common.

To correct the basic trouble—waste products—the blood must be purified. But don't clog your blood. Just clean it out. Nature will do the rest. Pure, rich, red blood nourishes the body and fights off disease.

S. S. S., the standard blood purifier and system builder, is the ideal remedy for skin eruptions. The effect of S. S. S. is to rid the system of the waste products which are causing the trouble. SEASONING

By HOWARD HILLES.

Let dieticians scan my plate
And count the calories I'm consuming,
Of "vitamines" and "protein" prate—
I'm never fretted by their fuming.

But keep on eating what I like—
Tastes aren't reasons to be reasoned—
And if you'd start on a hunger strike
Deal me a dish that isn't seasoned!

Nor do I diet when I dine,
Of calories I'm a careless waster;
Coldly I view the vitamine,
Unless, perchance, it please my taster.

I know that seasonings sheer waste,
And has no vital virtue in it,
But—please!—"add seasoning to taste."
Or I'll cease eating in a minute.

Yet I am far too wise to try
Subsiding on the spices only—
It is a dismal thing to die,
And leave survivors sad and lonely.

Far, far be it from me to preach,
But Life, too, has its food and spices;
The "vitamines" in easy reach,
The "seasoning" at pirate prices.

And wisdom blends the spice of fire
With "vitamines" of daily duty,
So giving us the strength for strife
And moulding souls of matchless beauty.

In a collision at a football match recently one player lost a tooth, which afterwards was found imbedded in the face of another player.

TOO WEAK TO WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Quinly's Health. Now She Does Her Housework

Shelbyville, Mo.—"I was only able to do light housework because for months my periods were excessive. I had seen your medicine extensively advertised and thought I would give it a fair trial. I took about eight boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets according to directions and I feel like a different woman. I have not taken any medicine during the past three months and I believe my ailment is cured. I am now able to do all my housework and attend to my poultry and garden. If you feel that my testimonial will benefit anyone you are welcome to use it in your advertisements."—Mrs. L. D. QUINLY, R. F. D. No. 2, Shelbyville, Mo.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

NED IS CALLED IN TO HELP

At the end of her story Miss Laura's eyes were moist. She sat trying to hide the emotions within her, yet obviously on the verge of weeping every bit as hard as her friend, Sally, had done.

"That's our Cherry for you. Just the sort of thing she would do, poor darling, so far away, so lonely, and so, so unhappy. 'Most Christmas time, too, and with her heart and thoughts full of her Ned, I warrant, in spite of pride. Well, what you and I have got to do, Sally, is to bring those two young people together again before the end of the week. We've got to give Cherry the most wonderful Christmas of her whole life. Now, let's set our minds to working."

"'Deed we will. There's nothing I won't do for the dearest and best girl in the world," said Mrs. Randall, fervently. "Why for all my meannesses to her she's turned round and made me grateful to her for life! It's no wonder that Ned stuck to her through all my peevishness. We'll get him right over here, now, Laura."

"Will he be able to leave the office?" asked Miss Laura.

"He's just got to leave it, no matter what. I know he's been terribly rushed since Arline quit so suddenly. Has had to attend to all his correspondence himself and is at sixes and sevens. But this is more important than all the correspondence and business in the world. You ring him up, like a dear, and tell him we must see him."

Miss Laura promptly did so and while they waited for him to appear Mrs. Randall tried to draw her out on the sudden disappearance of Ned's secretary.

"You were the last person that saw her, Laura, and you called on her once or twice before she left town. What on earth was behind her quick decision to leave us? She seemed so glad to get back again and things were going just fine at the office till she went, Ned says."

"Well, I think, to tell you the truth, that Arline met some attractive young fellow before she left Chicago and he had written to her several times. You know how fast those things go, often as not. She had broken off with Peter Wilson and probably saw that there was really no reason for her to stay around this part of the country any more, and made up her mind to go. I feel very sorry for Arline, somehow. She's not a happy young girl and she has a lot of false notions. Maybe in a few years she'll settle down and realize that life is well worth while, after all."

And this was all that Miss Laura volunteered. She remembered her promise to the weeping girl who had confessed to loving Ned above honor itself, when she produced the letter that had so nearly wrecked the happiness of two people. Miss Laura was all-round human in every way. In her heart was room for the sinner as well as the saint.

"Here comes Ned now," exclaimed Mrs. Randall, joyfully, as she saw her son's tall form coming up the garden path.

TEXAS U. NETS $7,500 FROM VANDERBILT GAME AT FAIR; TOTAL RECEIPTS $26,266

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28.—About $7,500 was netted by the University of Texas in the game with Vanderbilt in Dallas last Saturday, according to L. T. Bellmont, director of physical training for men in the University. This does not take into account, however, the expenses of over $7,000 which the athletic council incurred this year for football supplies. The remaining sum will be turned into the treasury of the physical training department particularly to improve conditions for intramural athletics, in which all men in school are encouraged to participate.

Total receipts of the game were $26,266.20. Of this amount the Dallas Fair received 25 per cent as rental for the stadium. Expenses incurred in staging the game totalled $7,944.34, which left a net balance of $18,321.86. This was divided equally between the Texas and Vanderbilt teams, giving each institution $9,160.93. However, the expenses of sending the Longhorns to Dallas and other expenditures in connection amounted to $15,000, leaving a remainder for Texas of about $7,500.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

With comparatively unimportant games on the Texas schedule today, the interest of the football fans of this section will be widely scattered, several battles are on the eastern books that deserve comment, however, and that should furnish a good line on the strength of central contenders for sectional championships.

Probably the game of games, from the fighting viewpoint, will be the battle at the Polo Grounds in New York between Georgia Tech and Penn State. These two elevens are loaded with fight, and even though the Golden Tornado from Atlanta may not be today as crushing a clone as Johnny Heisman's once powerful machine still Georgia Tech is a shifty, smashing, tricky team that will furnish the stiffest kind of opposition this afternoon for Penn State. Bezdek's eleven is being picked as the favorite by many Eastern critics, but personally I should not be surprised to see the Southerners nose out a victory by superior speed and versatility of attack.

Another gridiron struggle that will attract national attention is today's game between Harvard and little Centre College of Danville, Ky. Centre no longer packs the amazing punch that once startled football fans, but the "Praying Parsons" are still game to the core and although I look to see Harward win, it's a cinch the Crimson players will know they have been in a battle when it's all over.

Yale should trounce Brown, although the Bulldogs' ancient rival will put up a stubborn resistance. Princetown and the Navy both have easy games carded, the Tigers taking on Virginia while the future admirals will doubtless romp all over Bethany.

Some very pretty fireworks should be furnished by the clashes between Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh and Cornell and Dartsmouth. The latter combination is one that can't be figured; you can toss a coin, take either Cornell or Dartmouth and rest easy that you'll get a run for your money. Penn has a shade on Pittsburgh this year, as Coach Warner's Smoky City crew have been rather uncertain all season.

In the West, of chief interest to followers of football in the Big Ten conference area are the games between Wisconsin and Minnesota at Madison and Michigan and Illinois at Urbana. Indiana also will battle her ancient Hoosier foe, Notre Dame, at Indianapolis, while an interesting touch of intersectionalism will be supplied at Stagg Field in the meeting between Chicago and Colorado universities. The Rocky Mountain eleven is an unknown quantity to me, as I have seen very little dope regarding any of the Rocky Mountain conference teams this year, but a few years ago I had occasion to see Denver university, University of Colorado, the Colorado Aggies and the Colorado School of Mines in gridiron battles—and I'll tell the world some of those mountaineers were husky, fast, hard-driving lads.

The horse may have considerable to do with it, but the driver also must have something other than a good horse and good luck. If that were not true, the veteran Tommy Murphy would not be again at the top of the list of winning drivers on the Grand Circuit thus far this season, both as to races won and the size of the purses. In addition to winning six races at Columbus recently and five at Lexington, Murphy drove Arion Guy to a new four-year-old record of 1:59 1-2 and set a new world's record of 1:57 3-4 with Peter Manning—and perhaps he held the reins over good horses, but I rather think Tommy Murphy must also be a pretty nifty, heady, shrewd old driver to boot.

Johnny Buff, it is said, has agreed to a match with Joe Lynch in the near future, which will give Lynch another shot at the bantamweight championship he lost to Pete Herman in Brooklyn last July. You've got to hand it to those little fellows for their willingness to put their titles in danger any old time.

Incidentally, Johnny Buff seems to have forgotten about his other title, that of flyweight champ. Frankie Genero, who won the amateur flyweight championship of the world at the Olympic games, has come out with a challenge to Johnny. These two midgets should put up a rattling good bout. Genero has not lost a fight since he turned professional, and he was going big last winter when he broke his right arm.

GRAHAM, Oct. 28.—J. F. Pickle, Wichita Falls oil operator, received a verdict for $40,000 damages in the District court of Young county today in a suit against the North American Oil & Refining company on alleged breach of contract on the Burgess lease in the Southbend field. Lackey & Humphrey of Wichita Falls and Elmer Graham of Graham were attorneys for the plaintiff.

The defendant was represented by Arnold & Arnold of Graham and Capps, Cantey, Tanger & Short, attorneys of Fort Worth.

This is said to be the largest verdict in this character of case ever received in a local court.

AUSTIN COLLEGE ATTACK TOO HOT FOR H.-B. ELEVEN

HOWARD PAYNE RUNS AMUCK AT ABILENE WINNING 56 TO 0

By Associated Press.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Oct. 28.—Howard Payne college smothered the Abilene Christian college eleven here today, 56 to 0. The game was replete with sensational runs, forward passes and brilliant tackling despite the one-sided score.

Canada, measuring nearly 4,000,000 square miles, is the largest British possession. The smallest is Gibraltar, less than two square miles.

RED AND BLACK AND HENRIETTA TANGLE TODAY

Wichita High is off today to walk all over Henrietta—at least the red and black battlers possess the keen desire to trounce the Henrietta eleven good and proper and will bend every effort toward doing that little thing. Injuries will keep several regulars out of the game, but Coach Harry Viner has some good substitutes ready and willing to plug the holes and if the local eleven shows the same fight and dash it has been displaying in recent practise scrimmages Henrietta's players will be traveling backwards before the first quarter ends.

Although Viner has been greatly handicapped by lack of equipment and suitable practice grounds, he has accomplished wonders in developing a scoring machine, and the red and black's two recent victories can be traced directly to his work in building up the eleven's offensive play. With a line that averages slightly better than 150 pounds from wing to wing, the local high school should be able to hold Henrietta on the defense.

Coach Viner stated last night that a game has been arranged with the powerful Devol, Okla., high school team in this city on Armistice Day, November 11th. This should be one of the best games of the season, as Devol has been cleaning up on other Oklahoma elevens, while the Wichita High machine should be running prettily in another two weeks. The only regret the high school players and students now have is that Electra cannot be talked into a return game.

Electra high is due to tangle with Bowie at Electra this afternoon. Conley, of Quanah, will referee the game, with Pate, of the Austin school in this city, as umpire, and Luffkin as head linesman. The sectional championship now lies among three teams, Electra, Bowie and the North Side High school of Fort Worth.

SCHWAB OPTIMISTIC AS TO CONDITION OF U. S. BUSINESS

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 28—Charles M. Schwab, addressing the annual banquet of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association last night, said he was not alarmed about business depression.

"We have been on a great business spree and we are now in the cold, cold gray dawn of the morning after" he said. "The business depression will place us in a firmer, surer position for the future.

"As long as I can borrow money I am going to bet every dollar of which I have control on American industry. I believe that this great nation of ours is going to be the workshop of the world.

"We are on the eve of the greatest development in our history. If I had my life to live over again, I would choose the present day for beginning a career. We have all learned to live extravagantly, but it doesn't mean anything. I don't give a rap for money except insofar as I can use it to circulate it through my plants and develop them."

Discussing industrial conditions, Mr. Schwab said:

"Wherever I go, I hear the theme that labor and capital should co-operate, but I have yet to find a man who can tell me how it is to be done"

DALLAS U. BEATS MARSHALL 14 TO 2

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 28.—Dallas University defeated Marshall College here today, 14 to 2, the local eleven clearly outplaying its opponents. The line play of the University men featured. Marshall's score was made on a safety when University men mixed signals.

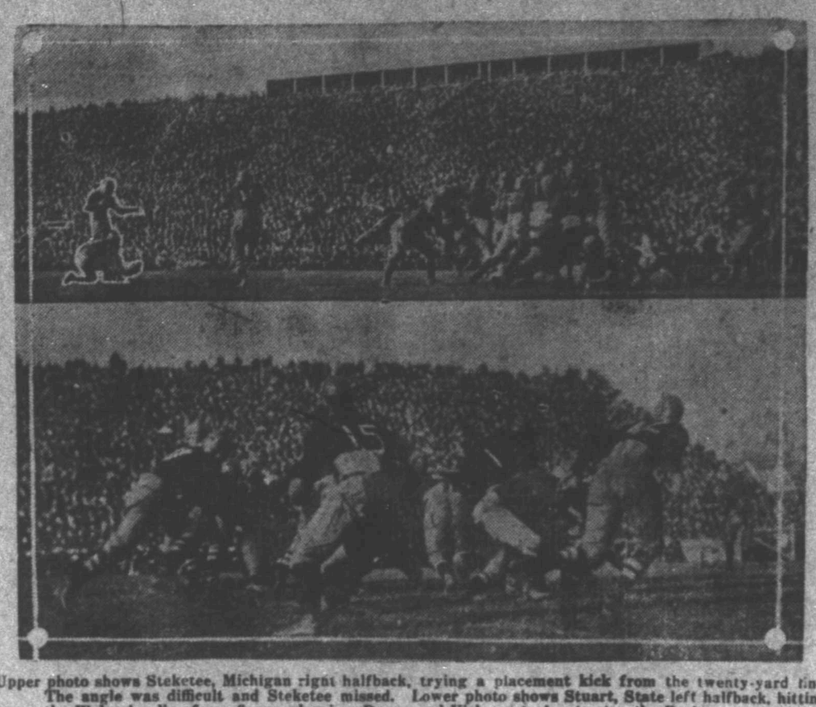

A Ban on Fairies

Fairy tales are no longer allowed to be told to children in Russia. The minister of education for bolshevists has issued an order that fairies or princely heroes are not to be mentioned in fairy tales. They are wicked, and do harm, and are therefore forbidden.

Instead of fairies, children must be told of "scientists and leaders who have served humanity."

Aladdin must not be misrepresented as a good hearted prince who used his magic lamp for the good of all the people around him; he must be shown in his "true colors," for he was a prince, and therefore "an oppressor and a despot."

WHEN OHIO STATE BLASTED MICHIGAN'S GRID HOPES

Upper photo shows Steketee, Michigan right halfback, trying a placement kick from the twenty-yard line The angle was difficult and Steketee missed. Lower photo shows Stuart, State left halfback, hitting the Wolverine line for a five-yard gain. Dunne and Vick are trying to stop the Buckeye star.

Ohio State's 14 to 0 victory over the University of Michigan was one of the most interesting contests that week-end afforded in football. It was a great disappointment to Michigan adherents, who believed Yost's team would win after bowing to State the last few seasons. Failure of Steketee, all-American fullback last year, to come in form and the brainy playing of Stuart State left half, were the outstanding features of the game. Stuart picked up one of Steketee's punts in the second period and ran thirty-four yards for a touchdown.

SUSPECT ARRESTED BY PARIS POLICE IN BOMB MYSTERY CASE

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The police investigating the attempt against Ambassador Herrick, have arrested a chemist, Raymond Robin in whose possession they found ten grenades loaded with cheddite. These are said to beidentical with the one received through the mail at the American embassy, addressed to the ambassador.

Robin denies all knowledge of the Herrick bomb.

Robin is a Frenchman and is employed as a traveling salesman. He says the bombs found in his house were brought by him from the war zone.

THEY LIKED LEEKS.

It is owing to the fondness of the Celtic tribes for the leek that their descendants, the Welsh, retain it as an emblem of their nationality.

The leac or leek was an important table vegetable among the Anglo-Saxons, for they called their gardens "leac-gardens," and the gardener was a "leek-ward."

As other species of the same tribe were introduced into the country, they also were called "leeks," with a prefix denoting some peculiari of the plant. Thus, garlic was formerly "gar-leac," or "the leek with a spear" from the spear-like stem and head of the seed pod. The onion was "en-e-leac," or "one-leek," because it did not throw off side-bulbs.

TEXAS AGGIES WHIP SOONERS EASILY 23 TO 7

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 28.—The Texas Aggies surprised the Oklahoma Aggies and gridiron followers here today 23 to 7. In the first three minutes of play by a forward pass, Weaver to Hassbrook, Oklahoma made its only score. Texas scored in the first, second and third periods. In the second quarter Morris, quarterback, Texas, made a placement kick from the 20-yard line. The rest of the scores were on touchdowns. Texas made ten first downs to three for Oklahoma.

Wants a Rebate

An inquiry sent in to a New York City newspaper requested information on an income tax point. The writer said he had purchased three cases of supposed whiskey from a boot-legger, paying $100 per case. He tested a samle and found it good but when the "whiskey" was delivered it was undrinkable. His query asks whether he can deduct this $300 and put it down to profit and loss when he makes out his next tax return.

PINNED UNDER TOURING CAR; NOT INJURED

Pinned beneath a five-passenger touring car, which landed wrong side up Thursday evening about 7:30 o'clock, after striking another machine parked by the curb on Lamar street and between Tenth and Eleventh, B. B. McDaniel, escaping serious injury by a miracle, suffered only slight cuts on the back of his head and on his right hand, according to physicians who attended him at the Wichita General hospital.

Stunned by the shock, it was at first feared that McDaniel was probably fatally injured, according to Patrolman Smart, who assisted in freeing the victim from his predicament.

McDaniel was released from the hospital immediately after receiving treatment for his wounds.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES TO START SOON

Vocational training classes in which men may receive expert instruction in various trades from experienced and skilled workmen free of all costs will be opened in Wichita Falls in the near future, according to an announcement made Thursday by Lee Clark, superintendent of city schools.

Preparation for the courses was made last year by Scott McGinnis, now at Fort Worth, who organized classes where local skilled workmen were given courses in methods of instruction. The courses are planned to be held evenings, and for a period or two during the day hours at local business houses and manufacturing concerns. The instruction is to be practical in every respect with none but men of practical experience acting as instructors, according to the announcements.

The expenses of the schools are borne, under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act, half by the government of the United States, one-fourth by the city in which the school is being conducted. The courses have been found successful in other cities and with the enthusiasm with which the move is being received here, teachers declare they expect the classes to become even more popular than the night classes being conducted at the high school.

ENDEAVORER CONVENTION IS SUCCESS

The greatest convention in the history of the organization is the report brought back by members, who attended the meeting of the Wichita District of Christian Endeavor societies held last week at Henrietta.

Wichita Falls was well represented by speakers from Presbyterian and Christian churches and a number were present from other cities among whom were: Colby D. Hall, H. B. Brous, formerly of this city, C. C. Dooley, E. S. Goodner and Dr. Evans of Graham.

The delegates were entertained on Friday night at the home of Jack Dale. On Saturday at noon the delegates were the guests of Henrietta endeavorors at a picnic lunch, and at a theater matinee in the afternoon. They also were again entertained Saturday evening at the home of Jack Dale.

Delegates declare the convention merely mirrored the success being attained by endeavor workers and urge preparation for a still greater convention at Graham next year.

SAMPLES OF WORK IN LOCAL SCHOOLS TO BE EXHIBITED

Samples of penmanship and art work done by Wichita Falls school children will be placed on exhibition at the conference of the State Teachers' association which meets in Dallas, November 24, 25, and 26, according to an announcement made Thursday by Lee Clark, superintendent of city schools.

The invitation for Wichita Falls to place work on exhibition there came with an invitation for Miss Dixie Crabtree, supervisor of penmanship and writing in Wichita Falls schools, to deliver an address before the meeting. Miss Jenne Roberson, supervisor of fine arts courses in the local schools, will have charge of preparing the art exhibits.

PRISONERS RETAKEN AFTER SENSATIONAL FIGHT AND ESCAPE

By Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 28.—A pitched battle on the matamoros, Mexico plaza occurred tonight when four prisoners walked out of the jail, selected rifles from the stack near the door, ran across the street and opened fire upon the astonished soldier guards. The soldiers returned the fire without effect and when the prisoners had used up their ammunition they scattered in all directions.

One was later wounded and captured in this city's outskirts by a customs guard, two others were retaken and one is reported to have crossed the Rio Grande to this city. About forty shots were exchanged during the fight.

EVELYN SWALLOWS OVERDOSE MORPHINE TO EVADE EVICTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Evelyn Nesbit, one time wife of Harry K. Thaw, took an overdose of morphine today and screamed to a marshal posted outside her apartment to evict her, that she had swallowed enough poison to kill 20 persons. She will recover, a physician said, after making a hurried call and using the stomach pump. Recently her theater district tea room was closed.

Senate "Irreconcilables" Fear League Will Be Banquo's Ghost At Disarmament Conference

By J. BART CAMPBELL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Senate "irreconcilables" are convinced that the League of Nations will prove the Banquo's ghost at the armament limitations conference.

Their fears and alarms have been increased by confidential advice they have received from overseas that the British, French and Italian delegates to the conference will come fully prepared to discuss changes in the League Covenant which would make it fit in with President Harding's idea of an "association of nations."

Senator Borah republican, of Idaho chief spokesman of the senate element whose watchword is "No entangling foreign alliances" is of the opinion that, economically and financially, the United States is being slowly and secretly eased into the league. It is known at the capitol that it was chiefly under British and French pressure that the recent Geneva convention of the League carefully sidestepped the moot question of world disarmament. It was decided to await developments at the Washington conference.

This, in Borah's judgment, was in line with the avowed policy of the British and French governments to have the League wait on the Washington conference before attempting to dispose of the major world problems confronting the former.

It is no new thing for the British and French to be anxious to make concessions to the American government if the United States were willing to be drawn into a League modified in accordance with American ideas.

Will President Listen?

The hub of the situation is, of course, how far the president would listen to the pro-League suggestions of Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of commerce Hoover, or how far the president would be able to persuade the senate to agree to a modified League covenant.

Another determining factor of the situation is the historic fact that former President Wilson promised much at the Versailles conference, but was able to perform nothing when he returned home and found the senate standing in the way of the entry of the United States into the League.

But Mr. Wilson's party was in the minority in the senate. President Harding's party is not, although it does not command the two-third's vote essential to the ratification of a treaty or an international agreement. President Harding's influence with most republican senators is an open question where foreign relations are involved. He was, however, able to win nearly all of them—and even some of those "irreconcilably" opposed to the League, like Johnson, of California, and Brandegee, of Connecticut—over to ratification of the German, Austrian and Hungarian treaties. They split on the Borah proposal for free tolls for American coastwise vessels using the Panama Canal, although warned by Senator Lodge that there were "compelling reasons" why the Administration did not favor it on the eve of the Armament Limitation Conference.

Underwood Favored Treaties.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, the senate minority leader, supported the German, Austrian and Hungarian treaties, but he was unable to line up many democratic senators for them. How far his sympathies would lend themselves to whatever suggestions for an "association of nations" the conference in which he is to participate may evolve is problematical. The recent treaty fight in the senate indicated that Underwood's influence with a number of his democratic colleagues is negative when pitted against the element in the democratic party represented by Mr. Wilson.

But ratification of the treaties demonstrated beyond peradventure that enough democratic senators are no longer susceptible to the Wilson influence to permit an almost solid republican majority to carry out the administration's foreign policies. Senator Underwood and the democratic senators who usually share his view of foreign questions in reality hold the balance of power on the democratic side despite the swing of the Wilson element in the direction of the Versailles treaty, and of the anti-Wilson element, as typified by Senators Reed, of Missouri, and Watson, of Georgia, away from it.

Without democratic support it, is patent that the ratification of any international pact, the president and the state department may negotiate is impossible, but the "irreconcilables," like Borah, of Idaho, and La-Follette, of Wisconsin, are now so few on the republican side as to be almost negligible, and comparatively few democratic votes are therefore necessary to insure ratification.

Senate Different Now

The senate situation is accordingly obviously different so far as the present administration is concerned with foreign affairs than it was when Mr. Wilson presided at the White House and directed the activities of the state department and replaced one secretary of state with another whenever he failed to grasp the Wilsonian purpose and viewpoint.

And it is knowledge of this changed situation which is believed to have rekindled the hopes and desires of Great Britain, France and Italy for participation in the League of Nations—not a Wilson-Lloyd George-Clemenceau League, but a Harding-Hughes-Hoover-Lodge league—by the United States as a sequel to, or perhaps the direct outcome of the armament limitation conference.

It is not denied that the representatives of these nations are coming to the conference not with these hopes and desires merely as by thoughts for verbal suggestion or discussion, but in the form of carefully prepared and strictly confidential memoranda as to how far the British, French and Italian governments are prepared to accede to structural charges in the league covenant.

WOMAN AND CHILD BURNED TO DEATH, JONESBORO, ARK.

By Associated Press.

JONESBORO, Ark., Oct. 28.—Mrs. A. O. Sagle, wife of a farmer and her six-year-old son were burned to death at their home near here late yesterday when the child's tricycle to which he had rigged a can of fire in imitation of his father's tractor, overturned, the fire igniting his clothing and that of his mother when she went to his aid.

NEW POLITICAL UNIT PLANNED IN NEBRASKA

By Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28.—The formation of a third political party in Nebraska, the name of which is to be adopted at a meeting tonight, was unanimously endorsed here late today at an informal meeting of representatives from all sections of the state with the independent progressive committee.

A resolution introduced by Judge A. C. Wray of York, Neb., defeated gubernatorial independent candidate in the Nebraska primaries last year, putting the conference on record as favoring the third party formation, was unanimously adopted following nearly three hours of independent party expressions, all of which were optimistic on the time being ripe for the party's inauguration.

ELIASVILLE IS BUILDING BACK SAYS MILLER

Eliasville is beginning to show the effects of a rebuilding campaign following the disastrous fire there some time past and is constructing quite a few business houses of fireproof material, mostly brick and stone, according to R. W. Miller, general superintendent of the Wichita Falls & Southern railway who returned Friday from a trip on the line.

The business men of the town, in spite of heavy losses are not daunted in their determination to make a city, Mr. Miller says.

WEST TEXAS SNOWSTORM IN EVIDENCE

A "West Texas snow storm," as a sand storm in this section is sometimes called, visited Northwestern Texas and Southern Oklahoma Friday, later turning into a cold drizzle in the northern section, according to reports from the dispatchers offices of the local railroads. The velocity of the wind storm was said to have been greater in Oklahoma, especially at Elk City and Forgan and the temperature was considerably lower at these points than in this city.

Predictions made by local railroad men a temperature as low as 40 degrees before morning Saturday. Preparations are now being made, according to railroad officials, for a real cold spell and the customary warnings to shippers of perishable produce are being sent out.

Attorneys Win Action Against C. B. Farquharson

Attorneys fees totaling $2,500 were awarded Judge Guy Rogers and Art Dawson, local attorney, against C. B. Farquharson, local oil operator, by a jury in the 78th district court Friday morning following a two-day trial of the case. The fees allowed the attorneys was that asked by them in their petition.

According to the evidence introduced in the trial of the case, the firm represented Farquharson in several legal matters over a period of several months. Expert testimony was introduced as to the value of the legal services.

HAYS ORDERS GUARDS ON MAIL TRUCKS IN NEW YORK BE ARMED

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fire arms that lay unused in the New York postoffice when automobile bandits held up and robbed a lone, unarmed mail truck driver of $1,454,129 last Monday night were today on the persons of guards who accompanied similar treasure trucks through the city's streets.

Postmaster General Hays discovered, when he arrived here to take charge of the investigation of the robbery, that guns bought to arm all postal employes after a series of mail robberies in other cities, still were in their shipping cases. He ordered the munpacked and also ordered an investigation to determine who had been responsible for their non-delivery to employes.

Postoffice inspectors increased in number to fifteen after Mr. Hays' arrival, were bending every energy to unravel the tangled maze of clues leading to the hold-up men, and recapture their rich haul before they could dispose of it. The inspectors indicated arrests might be expected soon.

NON-PARTISANS OF NEBRASKA EXPRESS LOYALTY TO CHIEF

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 28.—Members of the non-partisan league in Nebraska announce their belief in the loyalty of the league's president, A. C. Townley, to the government in a message sent to Townley today by the Nebraska executive committee of the league.

J. D. Ream, chairman, despatched the message to Townley who is under jail sentence for inviting disregard of the draft laws in Minnesota. The message said: "Kings, Kaisers, Czars and the agents of big business have used prisons to perpetuate their reign in every age but ideas and principles cannot be jailed. The lofty ideals for which you stand will continue to live. Sixty thousand league men and women in Nebraska believe in your loyalty to this government and fully appreciate the splendid fight you have waged in the interest of the common people."

DR. SELECMAN TO PREACH TO METHODISTS

The "folks" of the First Methodist Church, South, corner of Tenth and Lamar, may count themselves fortunate in having Dr. C. C. Selecman pastor of First Church, Dallas, to fill Dr. Knickerbocker's pulpit Sunday, says the regular church announcement. Dr. Selecman was formerly pastor of Trinity church at Los Angeles, California, and is so well known through the great work he has done in Texas since joining this conference, that he needs no introduction to the people. He is one of the strongest men of our church and a rare treat is in store for those who hear him Sunday. The features of Sunday's program are as follows:

A. News from the Annual Conference in session at Dallas by special messenger, Dr. Selecman.

B. Brilliant lecture to men by Judge John C. Kay, at the Olympic theater at 9:3 a. m.

C. Mrs. Fred C. Barron will sing a solo at the Olympic at 9:30.

D. Mrs. J. W. Akin, Jr., will give an organ solo portraying a storm scene, vivified with special lighting effects, at the Olympic at 9:30.

E. "Praise the Lord, h, Ye Nations!"—Demarest; "More Love to Thee, O, Christ."—Coerne—anthems at morning and evening service.

F. "Hold Thou My Hand."—Solo by Miss Ruth Hill at morning service.

G. "Wayside Cross," sung by male quartette as accompaniment to illuminated cross at evening service.

H. Special Hallowe'en program at the Senior league at 6:30

I. Every available corner of the church filled with happy folks at Sunday school at 9:30.

UNIVERSITY CORPS GIVEN CREDIT FOR DEFEAT OF CHARLES

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—Former Emperor Charles' return to Budapest met an effective barrier at Budaors last Sunday morning when a band of university students, armed with machine guns, held up his progress until the regular Hungarian forces wheeled into line. Hungary's fate hung in the balance during that time, it is asserted here.

The students had entrenched themselves along the ridge of hills and received forces supporting Charles with a hot machine gun fire. Military leaders of Charles' expedition, reporter that the students' position must be bombarded but Charles was loath to issue orders to this effect.

"I am sorry for the poor boys," he is quoted as saying. "Try to persuade them that resistance is hopeless."

Parleys began but in the meantime government troops were hurried forward from Budapest and occupied the ridge held by the students. As a result, it was found when Charles gave the order to attack that the battle was already lost.

PASSENGERS SAVED WHEN JAP STEAMER SINKS IN PACIFIC

By Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—The Japanese steamship Fukui Maru sank 375 miles off Cape Flattery, Wash., at midnight last night, but all her passengers and crew were picked up by the freighter West Ivan, according to a wireless message received by the Harbor department here early this morning.

The message said the vessel went down in a hurricane. Her position was given as 52 degrees 29 minutes north, 155 degrees 37 minutes west.

The Fukui Maru was bound for Seattle from Kobe.

The West Ivan was bound for Japan and will continue to the Orient, the wireless stated.

Although the list of those aboard the Fukui Maru is not available here, she is believed to have carried few passengers.

No further details were received from the West Ivan.

The Fukui Maru of 3,087 tons was built in Liverpool in 1890. She was owned by the Yamashita Kisen Kaisha and had been on the trans-Pacific run for many years.

China has only seven wireless stations.

CHOPS WOOD AT 100 AND LIKES IT, TOO

According to Joseph Gillette, the centenarian woodchopper of the Berkshires, who lives near Florence, N. Y., his father was not an old man when he met with an accident at the age of 90. He admits however, that his aunt was somewhat advanced in years at her death, which happened in her ninety-eighth year. Gillette, who is 100 years old, makes his living chopping wood five days of the week and delivering it to his customers on Saturday. He says he likes it. He is hale and hearty, smokes tobacco, and thinks that too much food and too little work are responsible for the death of many today.

NEW YORK GIANTS WILL TRAIN AGAIN AT SAN ANTONIO

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The New York Giants, baseball champions of the world, will do their spring training in 1922 at their old camp, San Antonio, it was announced today. The Detroit American League team also is expected to condition in the Texas city.

It was reported also that the New York Yankees were considering abandonment of their Shreveport, La., spring camp and were seeking a location in another town in Louisiana.

Policeman Takes 19-Year-Old Girl Dressed as Boy as She Prepared to "Bum" Train Ride

Policeman H. G. Howell, who patrols the Union Depot beat, has eyes and uses them entirely too well, according to the belief of a comely 19 year old woman, dressed in overalls, man's coat and cap and looking for all the world like a 14 year old boy, who was hailed before Night Chief McDonald Friday night.

The young woman, who was accompanied by her husband, told officers that they arrived here three weeks ago with $50 and that while she had been able to obtain work as a waitress the man had been unable to find employment. With only one at work they declared that their funds dwindled so rapidly that with but $7.75 they were making a desperate attempt to "beat" their way to some northern city in the hope of finding employment for both.

The girl told officers that they had attempted to catch one freight train but that it was moving too fast for her to mount even after she had watched her husband get on it. They were waiting for another one when the officer found them, according to the woman.

They were detained at the city hall by Night Chief McDonald, who declared it wouldn't do to turn them loose "for a while" as he didn't feel the woman should be permitted to attempt such a trip. She told officers that her home was Hartford, Conn., and that she wished to ultimately reach that city.

The woman insisted that it was her first effort either to masquerade as a boy or to ride the "rattlers."

GENE LEWIS-OLGA WORTH COMPANY GETS MORE POPULAR EACH DAY

The fact that Wichita Falls does want a stock company and will support a good one has been proven this week as the houses are larger at each performance of "Turn to the Right." There are few cities that will support a bad show of any kind. But with such an excellent organization as Gene Lewis has, there is little doubt but what before the end of next week they will be playing to capacity at each performance.

There is one thing that we will have to say about this company, there is not a bad actor in the entire cast, and judging from this week's production of "Turn to the Right," we don't believe that any expense is spared in the building of the scenery and effects.

"Turn to the Right" will be presented again, matinee and night, today, and the house should be packed at each performance.

Starting next Monday the company will present a farce comedy and one that has pleased many in the past, "Sick-a-Bed." This will give you a chance to see the entire company in an entire different line of work and farce comedy is considered by stock actors to be the hardest work of all. However, any play in the hands of Mr. Lewis, Miss Worth and their company will be well taken care of.

Next week Mr. Lewis has announced a change in the matinees. During the balance of the engagement there will be only two matinees each week, one on Wednesday and one on Saturday.

Seats are now selling for all performances of "Sick-a-Bed," which opens Monday evening.

WACO YOUTH ESCAPES HIS KIDNAPERS

WACO, Texas, Oct. 28.—Dick Deter, 14 year old Waco boy, who was yesterday kidnaped, supposedly by Mexicans, who were seen forcing him to board a train, escaped at Fort Worth tonight by jumping from a moving train on the Katy line, according to telephone dispatches here.

The lad made his way to the home of the Rev. O. P. Maddox, in that city and told his story. Maddox telephoned the parents, who started a statewide search for the boy late last nigh, when he failed to return home after spending the day at the Cotton Palace exposition here. A telephone message late tonight from a boy giving his name as Albert Hunt, told of seeing the boy board the train. No trace of such a boy could be found here.

METHODISTS OF WICHITA FALLS ARE HONORED

Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, Judge P. A. Martin, Rev. S. M. Black General Conference Delegates.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 28.—Election of delegates to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, featured today's session of the 55th annual conference of the North Texas district. Among those elected were Rev. R. G. Mood of Gainesville, Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, of Wichita Falls; Rev. S. M. Black of Wichita Falls; Rev. C. A. Spragins, Sherman; Judge P. A. Martin, Wichita Falls; M. R. Sherwood, Sulphur Springs; R. Scott Fulton of Van Alstyne. Mrs. John S. Turner of Dallas was named, the first woman ever chosen as a delegate to the general conference by the North Texas conference.

On the second ballot taken, Judge P. A. Martin of Wichita Falls was selected Thursday at the conference at Dallas, to represent the North Texas District, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the general conference to be held next May at Hot Springs, Ark. John Wesley Barton of Dallas and M. R. Sherwood, Sulphur Springs banker, were also selected Thursday as laymen representatives. The other three of the six lay delegates are expected to be announced Saturday.

Dr. H. D. Knickerbocker, although backed by considerable support, failed on the first ballot in the selection of ministerial delegates to the conference. It is expected by some that Dr. Knickerbocker may be named as a representative from North Texas.

WORTH OF SALVATION IS SUBJECT

The importance of salvation and its worthiness of all the struggles we can make were stressed in a powerful sermon delivered Friday night by Dr. J. T. McKissick at the First Christian church. "How Shall We Escape If We Neglect So Great a Salvation" was the text from which the speaker builded his address, in which he held up the greatness of salvation, its universality, its eternal lasting and how it is worth every effort man can make.

The sermon for Saturday night will be, it was announced, based on "The Healing of Naaman." This address, it is promised, will teem with life and will refer to the Hebrew maid, the muddy Jordan, the angry Naaman and other interesting facts of that day and time. This was declared by Rev. J. Lem Keevil, to be one of the most powerful sermons delivered by Dr. McKissick, "one which he had heard years ago and which still lingered fresh in the memory of the hearer."

A bible class rally is announced for Sunday morning at 9:3 o'clock at the church, when no less than 600 are expected to be present. Dr. McKissick is scheduled to preach at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and again at 7:30 in the evening.

Your Heart Does This Every Day

A wonderful announcement that science is on the eve of far-reaching discoveries which may reveal the secrets of heart disease was recently made in the house of commons by Captain Elliott, when speaking against the Dogs' Vivisection bill, which threatened to stop further experiments.

It has been proved that the heart-beat in man and the heart-beat in a dog are almost identical); and investigations of the secret of the rhythm of the heart and the disturbance in that rhythm prove the cause of heart disease.

These remarkable discoveries, which may bring about a complete revolution in medicine, are the work of Dr. Thomas Lewis, of University College Hospital, London. Although under forty, Dr. Lewis is one of the greatest living authorities on the heart.

Like most great men, he does not court publicity and had it not been necessary for the nature of his discoveries to be disclosed in order to defeat the Dogs' Vivisection bill, which threatened to stop his work, the world would not have heard of them.

We have Dr. Lewis' assurance that the animals experience no suffering of any kind, the operations being performed under surgical anesthesia.

Few people realize that the human heart is a marvelous pumping engine. Its work, from a man's cradle to his grave, is incessant and stupendous. On an average each human heart beats about 4,500 times an hour!

Every single minute, after its seventy-five heart-beats, this wonderful engine has pumped 750 cubic inches of blood. This means that the heart pumps over 225,000 cubic feet of blood every year.

Think of the heart as a water pump. By the same reckoning it would pump approximately no less than 7,000 tons of water in the course of a year.

If it were possible to collect in a cubical reservoir all the blood pumped by a human heart in one year, that reservoir would be about 61 ft. square—large enough to contain about 1,700,000 gallons of water.

There are about 1,700,000,000 people in the world. If all the blood pumped in one year by these seventeen hundred million hearts could be collected into one reservoir, that reservoir would have to be 72,840 ft. square.

Some idea of its size may be gathered when it is remembered that Mount Everest, the highest peak in the world, would, with its 29,000 ft. of height, be dwarfed beside a reservoir 72,840 ft. high!

Better Knowledge Of Students Is Aim at Junior Hi

An organized effort to bring the teacher closer to the student as a means of better supervising the instruction and development of the youth in their charge in the form of an advisory system, found successful in other schools and junior high schools, was announced Thursday at Junior High school.

Under this system the students of the school are divided into groups of about 30 each with one teacher assigned as their advisory faculty member. Under the plan of the system the teacher is instructed to make a careful personal study of each student in his group and be prepared to at any time make a report on any or all of his charges.

WHERE ARE THE MOVIE STARS OF YESTERYEAR?

What happens to motion picture stars after they cease to star?

This is a question often asked by film fans. Names of a score or more of actors and actresses can be mentioned who were popular idols hardly a dozen years ago, and today where are they? Maurice Costello, the highest salaried motion picture star of his time and winner of the first popularity contest, is now hunting for work in New York and will probably have to take a subordinate part. Lillian Walker, famous for her dimple, is now engaged in the business end of the motion picture business. Ella Hall has retired to play the part of wife in her own home, and it is rumored that Mary Fuller has done the same. Grace Cunard is playing fragmentary bits of character parts in various pictures, and Beverly Bayne has left the screen to play vaudeville circuits with her husband, Francis X. Bushman, who flickered out of movies after his divorce.

GAINSBOROUGH'S MASTERPIECE IS SOLD FOR $663,000

Reproduction of "The Blue Boy."

Gainsborough's masterpiece, "The Blue Boy," a costume portrait of John Buttall, son of a wealthy ironmonger, which for years has hung in Grosvenor House, Mayfair, the London seat of the wealthy Duke of Westminster, has been sold to Messrs. Duveen of New York for 170,000 pounds sterling, or approximately $663,000 at present exchange. The painting is coming to the U. S.

SWINDLERS' NEMESIS CALLS ON GOVERNOR FOR REIMBURSEMENT

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28.—The final chapter in a chase that started in December, 1919, and ended only last week and which covered nearly every state in the union was enacted in Governor Neff's office late today when J. Frank Norfleet, deputy sheriff and ranchman of Hale county, Texas, called on the governor seeking reimbursement for expenses of chasing down five criminals of nation-wide reputation.

In November and December, 1919, Norfleet was swindled out of $45,000 by five swindlers at Dallas and Fort Worth. Starting from his home in Hale Center, he started on the trails of the swindlers and with the arrest of Reno Hamlin last week near Topeka, Kansas, he has brought the entire five before the bar of justice. Three others among which is Joe Fury, are now serving terms in the state penitentiary, while another committed suicide in Washington. Hamlin is held at Fort Worth under indictment.

Norfleet appeared before the finance committees of the legislature and sought compensation for his expenses. Today he called on the governor for the money. He understood the legislature had allowed his claim of approximately $6,000 and that the governor had been authorized to pay him out of a fund appropriated for enforcing the law. However, it developed in the conference with the governor that he had not been so authorized. He announced following the conference that he had the matter under consideration.

Place of Courage in Everyday Life Theme of Judge Kay in Sunday Lecture to Men's Class

The example set by the courage of Paul and other leaders of the primitive church to their modern disciples in meeting the trials of their present life, was the theme of Judge John Kay Sunday in another of his series of lectures to his men's Sunday school class at the Olympic theater.

Why is it that men call the lion the king of beasts? The biggest tiger is much stronger than the biggest lion; the leopard is much faster, ordinarily more dangerous, but the reason that the lion is called the king of beasts is because when he is wounded he keeps on coming, he never quits just as long as there is one spark of life trembling in him he will reach forward one paw to move on one inch.

And that is the reason the Saviour was called the lion of the Tribe of Judah, notwithstanding his bruises, his injuries and his wounds, he never turned his back on his duty but kept going forward. There is a great difference in big men: I am not talking for the moment necessarily about good men; some of them will have this attribute and some another, but from Captain Kidd, Jean LaFitte, George Washington and Napoleon back to Julius Caesar and Samson, everyone of them had courage.

That is the one fine thing that puts us forward! Did you ever stop to think the men that knew the most about the Saviour and lived the nearest to him were the greatest believers in him? Paul said he had seen Him at one time. Does this discourage him when his friends say, 'You are going to be tied up there at Jerusalem, you are going to be chained up there at Jerusalem, you are going to be killed up there at Jerusalem.' He said, 'anyway I am going on up there.'

A Time in Every Man's Life

We live a sort of an easy, slipshod life at times, but there is going to come a time in your life and in every man's life when he is going to face a situation that demands the highest moral courage. It is not to be anticipated, you are going to come to it some time.

It takes courage for the situations of life. Why did Paul want to go up to Jerusalem? Ah, it was because he wanted to do something worth while! If I could have my way about it I would stay down in Bay of St. Louis, Mississippi, in the winter time and in the New Mexico mountains in the summer time and have a big time, but there is something more to do in life than that.

What does Paul say to the people when he went from boat to boat and from Greek Island to Greek Island? We talk about labor troubles. Every man that moved the oars on one of these Greek ships that Paul was riding on was chained to that oar and his chains were fastened to it and there was no getting away from it by day or by night, and if the ship went down he went down.

The galley-slave was moving that ship along; he was chained; there was no escape, but he must continue stroking with that arm until its development was higher than the other and his body was all deformed. He died on the ship! Some of these isles that Paul passed where they had the tin mines and the Greek mines, the shafts going to the quartz were so narrow and thin they let the slave down with rope tied to his ankles to unknown depths where he worked with his head held down in order to take out this metal.

The institution of marriage was unknown, or if known, was not regarded in every island he passed. There were no public schools, no hospitals for the insane, no institutions of charity and he saw it was going to take a greater religion to pull the people out of a situation like that.

In the Hearts of the People.

We talk about the fact that we are going to make some new laws, elect some new officials and build a new platform. What we need is righteousness in the hearts of our people.

I wish the church had men in it like it used to have, noble. Look at the old songs we sing. What is that that starts off so mild, when you get into it, but in the next two lines; 'Hast thou a foe before whose face I fear thy cause to plead?"

Paul did not have fear in his heart. Now fear is the worst wild animal loose in the woods. Ah, that is the reason you fail in this project and in the other one! Afraid you will starve to death, as I said last Sunday. Afraid the bank will not lend you some money; afraid they will make you pay it back; afraid your wife is going to quit you; afraid she will not quit you.

All these fears are fears of yourself. He didn't have it. You know I wish I was a good man. Do you know what kind of a good man I would like to be? I would like to be a man that could tie up everything he had in one of these red handana handkerchiefs and walk out of this town if necessary in order for me to be decent. I have never been tried that way. Could I do it? I don't know. That is as much as Paul and Peter and the Saviour had with each of them. Afraid! No, he was not afraid! Are we afraid? Paul was looking at something more than these people could see. He was not only going to Jerusalem, but was going down to the great Roman civilization of Rome; he was going to stand before Agrippa; he was going to make one of the greatest speeches there in the world. He had some big things coming to him as well as persecution; he would not think of turning back.

Some Little Bit of Thing

You know some times some little bit of a thing will happen to us and we will complain about it all of our lives. I don't like the Yankees because they killed my grandfather's mule during the war. I don't believe in life insurance because the company went busted one time. Don't like the church because they like to make me pay up.

He did not complain; he had been suffering; he had been beaten with a stick; he did not complain. What was it he saw all the time; not his friendships; not his comfort, but saw the winning post over yonder. He had fought all the way in reaching it. In another chapter he saw he was going to reach the goal and he said "The end, I have fought a good fight."

God help the man who wants to go through life easily and comfortably. For such a man there is no prize, there is no fame, there is no reward. All of you are all in and all gone when you say I am fixed so that I can take it easy. I fought a good fight and his last thing to say about it, men. Verily there is laid up a good crown where righteousness prevaileth. That is the thing that took him up to Jerusalem; that is the thing that let him work for the Roman soldiers; that is the thing that let him go up to his crucifixion at last.

How many of you fellows would join the church if they were crucifying and hanging and burning some of the members of it every day? That is the reason she grew so fast, because when she is crucifying them and burning them at the stake nobody ever joins them but an honest, courageous man.

Courage! There cannot much happen to you.

Charles Kingsley—Somebody got after him for killing one of the heroes in one of his books too soon. (It happened in the Thirteenth or Fourteenth Century). He said you ought to let him live to be old.

He wrote back and said, "he would be dead now anyhow."

"Do You Want to Live Forever?"

I think the finest thing that happened in that European war is when that sergeant crawled out of a trench and shouting to his men, said, "Come on, do you want to live forever?" Why do we have to have courage? Why did Paul have to have it? Because the enemy, the forces of evil have got it. It is not confined to good men; it is not confined to good causes. Evil courage is watching for you, waiting to destroy your children.

What do I want to get before you this morning? I want you to go out of here—if I may have you do so—with more courage in life; do not be afraid you will go broke; do not be afraid somebody will criticize you. Why, that is the breath of life to a man that is doing anything. The only thing in the world that I am afraid of along that line is that they will not say anything about me.

Do not be afraid! Young man, do not be afraid to marry and set up a household; do not be afraid to join the church and take your stand with the forces of righteousness; do not be afraid to buy a home on credit; do not be afraid to go into any righteous undertaking, because all the prizes and all the victories are and always have fallen into the laps of men who had courage.

They were burning two old bishops over in England; burning them at a brush heap fire, and one of them says to the other, "How are you feeling," and he says, "We are going to build a fire in England that is going to light the world today."

St. Paul was not afraid of things like that. You ought not to be. Courage! Just to stand up and be strong and look things in the face, is one of the finest things you can do.

Could You Do It?

A great big man from Young County came into our office the other day; an old fellow that I had known for thirty years, straight as an Indian, weighing two hundred pounds, not an ounce of fat on him. He had one of these little army signs with two gold stars on it. He was cheerful, he was strong, was not complaining. This year his wife was buried; last year his only remaining son was killed in an accident, and two of his boys were slain in the high tide of battle in France and buried over there so that there remains to him not chick nor child, and yet he was strong, cheerful, going on down the road of life with his heart beating strong because he was a big, fine man.

Could I do it? Could you do it? I do not know! Men, when we confront the real affairs of life, let us confront them like men; let us go out strong with our eyes open, with our faces to the front, with our faces to our duty.

TRAIN CRASH BOUNCES HAYS FROM BERTH

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Postmaster General Hays and a score of passengers on the midnight express of the Pennsylvania lines for Washington, were badly shaken up early this morning when the express crashed, in a heavy fog, into the rear of a local train at the Manhattan transfer in New Jersey.

Pennsylvania officials declared there had been no serious injuries, although Mr. Hays expressed fear that Rush Simmons, chief inspector of the postoffice department, who had been here with Mr. Hays investigating the $1,500,000 mail robbery, had been more seriously hurt than this report indicated. He said he saw Mr. Simmons being treated at Manhattan transfer and that he appeared to be severely hurt.

Mr. Hays and a number of other passengers on the express were brought back to New York on an inbound train. A physician who examined the postmaster general said that aside from some strained muscles and a general shaking up, he had suffered no harm.

Describing the crash, Mr. Hays said he was just dozing off in his berth when he felt a shock which hurled him to the floor. Several others in his car also were pitched from their berths, he added.

Mr. Simmons, whose injuries were found on examination to be slight, took a morning train for Washington.

WOMEN ADVISED TO JUMP INTO SEA OF PRECINCT POLITICS

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Women were advised to mix in precinct politics and not to consider themselves "superior to such things as politics," by Miss Alice Robertson, representative in congress from Oklahoma, in a Roosevelt day address here last night.

"I used to say that not one woman in one hundred knew anything about politics," Miss Robertson continued. "It was one of the old arguments of the antis. I've since found out that not one man in a hundred knows more than the women do. The remedy for that is for the women to make the men interest themselves more. Clean up your precinct politically. If you don't you can never be assured of the best government for your city, your state or your country."

"I have had it said to me that I do not represent the women of America because I oppose all class legislation and especially sex legislation such as the Sheppard Towner bill. That is true. I do not represent the women alone. I represent all of the people of the second district of Oklahoma. I was elected by the men as much as by the women and the women have no right to seek special legislation any more than the men have."

CENT A MILE RATE TO KANSAS CITY TO LEGIONNAIRES ONLY

By Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 28.—The one cent a mile rate on railroads for convention of the American Legion here is granted to only members of the American Legion and their families it was pointed out here today. Legionaires coming from more than 200 miles away must begin their journeys toward Kansas City not later than October 31. Those within a 200 miles radious of here may start as late as November 1.

Some confusion arose when it was announced a few days ago that delegates and visitors to the convention might take advantage of the one cent a mile rate. The rate is available only to members of Legion and to members of their families coming here for the convention.

Wire Flashes

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 28.—The State Bank of Quincy, in Greenwood county, was robbed last night of currency and securities. The amount of loss was not reported.

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Colonel E. B. Cushing of Houston was elected president of the Texas section, American Society of Civil Engineers, here today. E. E. Sands of Fort Worth, was elected vice-president.

DETROIT, Oct. 28—Married women on the city's payroll whose husbands are employed are to be asked to resign their positions to make way for men out of work, Mayor James Couzens announced last night.

TERRELL, Texas, Oct. 28.—The First State Bank of Elmo, at Elmo, seven miles east of Lere, was closed yesterday by State Bank Examiner Eubanks. Poor crops and unfavorable collections were assigned as the reason for supension. It was believed depositors would be paid in full.

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Death from gunshot wounds, self-inflicted, was the coroner's verdict last night after an inquiry into the killing of J. E. Watkins, 50, Royse City farmer, at his room here. Police at first believed Watkins had been murdered.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 28.—Dick Deter, fourteen years old, the son of Rev. A. B. Deter, a Baptist missionary, disappeared yesterday and his parents fear foul play. The boy looks older than fourteen and weighs 165 pounds. He speaks Spanish. His father is well known in missionary circles.

PRAGUE, Oct. 28.—Contracts giving the Standard Franco-American Oil company of Paris, exclusive rights in developing oil territory and in trading in petroleum products throughout the greater part of Czecho-Sloval is have been approved by the cabinet. This firm is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

HOUSTON, Oct. 28.—Carver H. Palmer, 28, was found dead under a tree near his home here today with a bullet in his heart and a revolver lying near him. He had been despondent for weeks, it was said, over inability to obtain work. A verdict of death by wounds self-inflicted was given. Palmer leaves a widow and child.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 28.—A tide, closely approaching a tidal wave beginning late yesterday and swelling beyond bounds during the night, played havoc with property along several miles of the beach at Tybee, a resort near here. Residences were wrecked, both houses washed away, boardwalks destroyed and the pavilions attacked.

MONTEVIDEOP, Uruguay, Oct. 28.—Special guards were placed around the United States legation and consulate here today in anticipation of possible disorders during a general strike this afternoon in protest against the conviction for murder in Massachusetts of Nicolo Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti. The strike was to begin at noon.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28.—W. H. Coffey confessed to the police today he killed two women yesterday, as a result of an illicit love affair, complicated by corn whiskey, it was announced. The two women, according to the confession which the police say Coffey made, were Mrs. Margaret Franklin and Mrs. Minnie Springer.

DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Approval of President Harding's inter-racial speech at Birmingham Wednesday, was voted here last night by the Texas conference of Congregational churches. The conference, in annual session, also approved the coming disarmament conference and designated Sunday, November 6, as a day of prayer for its success.

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 28.—The testimony of T. J. McKinney, former farm instructor at the Gatesville juvenile training school before the board of control today was merely his version of why he left the employ of the institution. He claimed that he was in a way discharged over money he had received for personal labor.

ENID, Okla., Oct. 28.—Two men giving the names of Henry M. Mashore and Grady McGhee are held here by federal authorities charged with participating in the robbery September 28, of a small car on a Santa Fe train near Edmond, Oklahoma. The men were arraigned today and remained to jail in default of $25,000 bond each after pleading not guilty.

MARKET REPORTS

Local Market

A drop of 50 cents a box in the price of grape fruit, making the present price $5 a box was the only change reported Friday in the fresh fruits lines in the Wichita Falls wholesale markets. Other fruits are reported steady in price and in demand.

String beans have gone down to 12½ cents a pound from the mark of 16 cents a pound in effect yesterday. This is the only change in the fresh vegetable lines which local commission houses have announced as taking effect in Saturday's business.

Fresh eggs and poultry has not changed in the past few days, maintaining a steady tone in spite of the apparent scarcity of eggs.

Grocery lines are the same as they have been for several weeks, there being only minor fluctuations in some lines of canned goods to report.

The following quotations were obtained Friday from local jobbers and wholesalers and although liable to the market fluctuations can be relied on as official:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The raw sugar market was quiet and unchanged at 4.06 to 4.11 for centrifugal. Sales were reported 80,000 bags of Cuban.

Raw sugar futures were firmer, closing at the best of the day or from five to nine points net higher, except October, which was unchanged. The advance was due to covering and buying by trade interests with offerings light. December closed at 2.57; March 2.40; May 2.50 and July 2.60.

The market for refined was unchanged at 5.20 to 5.30 for fine granulated. The demand was moderate but it was mostly prompt shipment, which refiners in many instances were unable to make.

There were no transactions in refined futures and closing prices were unchanged to 10 points net higher. December closed at 5.45; March and later months 5.30.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The coffee market showed renewed activity and strength today but early advances were followed by reactions under realizing. The opening was 2 to 19 points higher and the more active positions sold 15 to 33 points above last night's closing figures before the end of the first hour, with December relatively firm on continued buying by brokers with Brazilian connections. The price of that delivery advanced to 8.18 making a new high record for the season, while March sold up to 8.40, compared with 7.50, the recent low level. Profit taking then became active and there were reactions of 20 to 25 points from the best, with March selling off to 7.83 in the late trading. That delivery closed at 7.84 with the general market closing irregular, net 23 points higher to 14 points lower, later months being relatively easy. Sales were estimated at about 117,000 bags. October 7.93; December 7.90; January 7.92; March 6.84; May [illegible]; July 7.96; September 7.96.

Stocks

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The stock market today responded to the abandonment of the proposed railroad strike by an active session in which sales approximated one million shares and leading rails, industrials and many specialties scored extreme gains of 1 to 3 points.

Shorts contributed largely to the movement, covering contracts in almost every branch of the list, but commission houses reported a substantial investment inquiry from local and out of town sources.

Steels, equipments, motors, coppers and a wide variety of miscellaneous issues contributed their proportion to the day's large and diversified operations under professional guidance. Domestic oils, the real features lately continued to move forward, California issues again being most prominent. Profit taking sales made little impression until the final hour between reactions by one or two points resulted in an easy close.

Relaxed money conditions accelerated the upward movement. Call money declined from 6 per cent to 5 per cent at midday. In private negotiations demand loans were made at as low as 4 1-2 per cent, 30 and 60-day accommodations also showing slight concession.

Ally important foreign exchanges were lower, sterling reacting 3 1-2 cents from the week's highest quotation, with the decline of 3 to 10 points for the more active continual remittances, excepting French, which was comparatively steady.

Railway bonds strengthened on the strike settlement and domestic industrials were moderately better. Victory notes closed at advances. Leaders of the foreign division were at highest quotations of the year and most Liberty bonds closed at advances. Leaders of the foreign division also strengthened. Total sales (par value) $14,875,000.

Livestock

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28.—Fully steady prices were paid for calves today and the cattle market was active. Receipts were small, around 1,000 head of cattle and 1,000 calves comprising the offering. Good steers brought $5.60 and $5.65, cows in carlots sold up to $4.10, and some calves made $8.25.

Buyers forced hogs to lower levels, the decline amounting to just about 15 cents. An order buyer took over one choice car at 7.75 and packers made purchases at $7.50. Bulk sales ranged around $7.25 to $7.50. The best pigs cleared at $7.25, the market being 25 cents lower. Hog house receipts were close to 800 head.

Steady prices were received for the 200 head on sale in the sheep division. Most of th run consisted of stockers.

DRY GOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Cotton goods in the grays were firmer and there was more buying. Yarns were steady. Wool markets were firm. Spring underwear sold more freely. Silks were quiet. Jobbers reported a good advance business with house trade seasonably quiet and confined to small lot orders for prompt shipment. Burlaps were easy.

BRADSTREET'S TRADE CONDITIONS REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Bradstreets tomorrow will say:

Pending final action by the railway labor board and the unions on the announced intention of some, not all, of the railway employes to go on strike and disorganize transportation, the rest of the country this week went about its business with surprisingly little hesitation, and with a good deal of confidence expressed that the threatened tieup would not occur even if the strike did. The confidence has been borne out by evidence, the strike having been called off.

Irregularities have been visible, some of them due to strike talk, but more of them growing out of varying weather conditions, seasonal needs for foodstuffs and fuel, predictions of lower freight rates affecting prices of important staples and uncertainties as to yields or prices, or both, of leading farm products, notably cotton and grain.

On balance wholesale and jobbing trade has been rather better, strike talk as a whole being still somewhat of a stimulant to buying and prices, especially in livestock and foodstuffs, some lines of dry goods and coal. Retail distribution has been very irregular but probably slightly above that of the week before and industry has been more active, with unemployment again slightly decreased while collections have been a shade better. Weekly bank clearings $6,218,501,000.

Grain

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Wheat took an upward swing today, helped by the calling off of the railroad strike. Closing quotations, although unsettled, were 1 1-2 to 2 1-2c net higher, with December 1.08 to 1.08 5-8 and May 1.13 1-8 to 1.13 1-4. Corn gained 1 1-8 to 1 3-8 and 1 1-2 and oats 7-8 to 1 1-8. In provisions the outcome varied from 25c decline to 5 advance.

Moderate strength showed in wheat at the opening and buying was far from being aggressive. Later bulls displayed more confidence and there were material gains with practically all the advance being held at the finish. Aside from the rail strike settlement the chief stimulating factor was an estimate that the yield this season in 30 counties was 154,000,000 bushels less than last year's totals. Complaints of dry weather continued, especially from the Southwest.

Corn and oats rose with wheat.

Provisions were lower most of the time in line with hogs. January lard, however, was in demand for outside packers.

Future delivery trading in cotton seed oil was begun here today. Sales totaled 300,000 pounds, at 8.65@8.75 for May.

Oats No. 2 white 32@32½c; No. 2 mixed 31@31½c.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—An early advance on the calling off of the railroad strike was followed by reactions in the cotton market today. January sold up to 19.28 during the morning, or 3 points higher than the best price on the census report last Tuesday, but then eased off to 18.81, closing at 18.82, compared with 19.03 at the close yesterday.

The general market closed steady at a net decline of 10 to 22 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 10 to 13 points. There was a good deal or realizing by recent buyers who had anticipated the outcome of the Chicago conference, but these early offerings were absorbed on reactions of 8 to 10 points as a result of covering, New Orleans buying, commission house and trade support. December advanced to 19.41 and March to 19.10 with active months generally showing net gains of 24 to 25 points during mid-morning. Bullish private crop estimates and reports of steady Southern spot markets contributed to this improvement, but the higher prices met some hedge selling and the market weakened during midday owing to closing declines in Liverpool. Liverpool selling and renewed liquidation. The weakness of foreign exchange was an unsettling feature and while there was another rally during mid-afternoon on bullish week-end figures, prices reached lowest levels of the day in the late trading.

December sold off to 18.95 and March to 18.69, closing within a few points of the lowest. A local authority reports 91 per cent of the crop picked and has estimates from its correspondents pointing to a crop of 6,800,000 bales. Southern cotton men in convention at Birmingham, Ala., estimated the crop at 6,400,000 bales and the world's consumption of American for this season at 12,000,000.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 28.—Very rapid fluctuations carried the price of cotton up and down within a fairly wide range today without any positive trend developing, the closing showing net losses of 13 to 17 points. The market influences of the day were decidedly at conflict and a trading market of unusual activity resulted.

In the early trading favorable railroad strike news of overnight was the main factor and it put prices 20 to 31 pointts higher before offerings became large enough to check the rise. Recessions came about but they were not wide until the market was filled with rumors of financial troubles at London. Toward noon the early gains were completely wiped out and the market went under the level of yesterday's close. For a while the tone was weak but in the early afternoon a very rapid rise got under way following the posting of the weak end figures which carried large mill takings.

In the late trading there was another slump to new levels, under rumors of a hitch in the strike settlement and cable messages from Liverpool to the effect that Manchester trade accounts were depressing and that some cotton mills were closing down. At the highest of the day prices were 31 to 37 points over the close of yesterday and at the lowest they were 13 to 17 under, the close being at the bottom. December traded as high as 19.02 and closed at 18.51.

Mill takings for the week of American cotton were put by Hester at 335,000 bales against 223,000 this week last year and 256,000 this week two years ago.

For the three weeks ending today the world had taken 1,024,000 bales of American cotton and bullish traders pointed out that the world could continue such a rate for any great length of time with supplies curtailed by the crop now being harvested.

LIVERPOOL SPOT COTTON

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 28.—Cotton spot moderate business; prices steady. Good middling 13.17; fully middling 12.72; middling 12.32; low middling 11.12; good ordinary 9.82; ordinary 9.07. Sales 8,000 bales, including 7,100 American.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Active demand from shorts, combined with light offerings of both crude and refined and the steady tone of lard, brought about an advance of 5 to 17 points in cottonseed oil, after which a setback took place under realizing sales. November closed 5 points lower and the balance 7 to 10 points net higher. Sales 23,800 barrels. Prime crude 7.25 sales; prime summer yellow spot 8.25@8.75; December 8.91; March 9.21; May 9.40, all bid.

Dumb-bells were first used, it is said, in the time of Queen Elizabeth, the earlier forms being sticks loaded with lead at the ends, these being bell-like in shape.

TOTAL LOSS FROM FLORIDA HURRICANE NEAR FIVE MILLION

By Associated Press.

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 28.—Definite reports from all parts of the Florida peninsula swept by the tropical storm of Tuesday put the total losses in the neighborhood of five million dollars, of which beween $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 represents the loss in Tampa and suburbs which bore the brunt of the hurricane.

Damage was done by wind over a fifty-mile wide path to fruit, truck crops and buildings, while this and other coast cities suffered severely from floods due to the torrential rains and high tides which accompanied the storm. The loss of life remained at eleven today, five in this city, two at St. Petersburg and four members of the crew of the yacht Jona wrecked at Mayport.

SECRETARIES MAY GATHER HERE IN 1922

The next session of the Southern Commercial Executives association may be held in this city during the coming year, according to Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce who returned Friday from a several day session of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries held at New Orleans.

According to Mr. Harrison, several members of the Southern association while at New Orleans expressed preference for this city as the next meeting place of the association. It is probable that a formal invitation will be extended to the association later.

A general optimistic feeling as to the improvement in business conditions was apparent at the New Orleans meeting which was attended by two hundred secretaries from all the larger cities of the United States, according to Mr. Harrison.

"Crack Down" Is Alleged Answer; Sues Gas Co.

"Just crack down with your law suits any time you get ready. Law suits cost me nothing."

Such was the reply received by J. W. Cushman, 2105 Kemp Boulevard, from an employe of the North Texas Gas company when he threatened suit if the company did not at once connect his home with gas after several requests, according to the petition of Cushman filed Friday in the 78th district court in which he asks for $2,500 damages.

Judge W. E. Fitzgerald, special judge of the 78th district court granted a temporary injunction against the company which in effect orders the gas company to at once furnish gas for the Cushman home, pending a hearing as to whether the injunction shall be made permanent.

According to the plaintiff's petition he moved to his present residence on October 18, and at that time rented the defendant company to make a gas connection and remove the meter to his new home. The plaintiff alleges that the company refused stating that they would not do so until they had paid a back bill of $39.00. According to the plaintiff he presented receipts showing that he had paid the bills for the last months, the company then stating that the bill was for February. In his petition he denies owing the bill and also alleges that the company owes him $10 on a deposit.

The damages asked by the plaintiff are based on the alleged injuries resulting from his failure to have the gas connection. He alleges that he was unable to cook food and as a direct result of the exposure due to a lack of fire his wife and three year old child are now ill.

Congratulated On Birthday at Moment of Death

Acute indigestion was said by physicians to have caused the death of Thomas K. Day, 1417 Twenty-fifth street Thursday afternoon, who died within a few minutes after he had entered his home about 4 o'clock, apparently in good health and bearing a telegram in his pocket from his brother, bearing good wishes for his 45th birthday.

The body was shipped Friday night to Dallas for burial. The deceased had lived here for a number of years and at the time of his death was employed by A. G. Deatherage as a stone cutter. He leaves a wife and two brothers, both residing at Dallas.

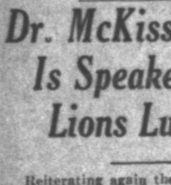

Dr. McKissick Is Speaker for Lions Luncheon

Reiterating again the importance of optimism as the best of the guardian spirits for pushing the ambitious man to the success that lasts, Dr. J. T. McKissick, president of Midland Christian College at Midland and well known evangelist who is conducting a series of meetngs at the First Christian church, made the principle address of the day at the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions club Friday at noon.

Dr. McKissick was followed by the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the First Christian church, and Dr. L. D. Parnell who announced their plans for future programs.

A cash gift of $50 for the playgrounds of the Travis school was voted at a short business session of the club and indication given that some other school may be selected to receive a similar gift in the near future.

Irrigation Directors to Meet Waggoner

In response to an invitation from attorneys representing W. T. Waggoner, a part of whose land will be required for the Big Wichita irrigation project, a committee of directors of the water improvement district left Friday night for Fort Worth, to confer with the ranchowner, with a view of making an amicable settlement.

Mr. Waggoner has been greatly opposed to the irrigation project, from all visible indications, the latest being an attack through a circular issued by his Vernon manager, R. L. More, and this invitation to the directors to discuss a deal for the land necessary was taken as an agreeable indication by the directors.

The district has the power to condemn the land necessary for the project, but the directors did not wish to take such drastic steps, and had been hopeful of making a satisfactory deal, to all concerned. The committee went to Fort Worth empowered to close the deal, if possible. The committee is composed of T. B. Noble, vice president of the board, F. N. Lowton, manager and J. S. Bridwell.

Three hundred and fifty eight pounds of blank bonds, for the district, totalling 4,500 separate bonds, each with a valuation of $1,000 arrival from the printers Friday. They will be kept in safety deposit here until time for delivery to the purchasers.

INSURANCE AWARD IS SUSTAINED

The action of the state industrial board awarding Ford Stuart of Electra approximately $6,000 against the Texas Employers Insurance Association for injuries sustained at Electra while employed by the Gulf Production company was upheld by the verdict of a jury in the 89th district court Friday afternoon after a two day trial of the case in which the insurance company sought to set aside the award. The case was tried about six weeks ago in the same court resulting in a hung jury.

The case hinged on whether or not aceteleyne gas used was poisonous when inhaled. The award of the state industrial board was based on the contention of the defendant in the case that he was permanently injured in October of last year when he inhaled a large amount of the gas. The insurance company in their testimony contended that the gas was not poisonous, introducing expert testimony to that effect.

The award made is to be paid in a lump sum.
