WELLINGTON FRIENDSHIP HOUSE

Here is the architect's drawing of Wellington Friendship House, a 17-unit complex for senior citizens which Tom Wilkins, right, and his brother, Glen M. Wilkins of Fort Worth, will convert from the old Thomas Nursing Home on 15th Street. Billy Moseley, left, executive vice president of City State Bank, is assisting with certain aspects of the project.

Council Holds Short Session Monday Night

The City Council disposed of the business on its agenda in a short session, and included in one part of the agenda a discussion of a subject that may have far-reaching effect on the town: the future development of vacant areas in northwest Wellington.

The council first studied the notice of a public hearing before the Railroad Commission to determine the accuracy of Lone Star Gas Company Transmission Division's October, 1975 statement of gas cost. This statement has been protested by the cities of Irving and Dallas, who filed motions for public hearings to determine the reasons for Lone Star's cost of gas increasing from $1.0421 per Mcf to $1.251 per Mcf.

The council's decision was that it will not send anyone to the hearing, as it will be

County Woman Will Publish First Book

Mrs. Lois Simpson, a teacher's aide in the Samnorwood School, has signed a contract with the T.S. Denison and Company, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., for publication of her first book of bulletin board designs.

This is a book planned especially for public school teachers. The title has not yet been settled on, said the author.

"We hope that we will be able to get the processing done so we can release the book next August," L.M. Brings, editor for T.S. Denison and Company, has written Mrs. Simpson.

This is a first book and the practical ideas for school bulletin boards were all used in the Samnorwood Schools. Many were of Mrs. Simpson's own design. Others were used by teachers, principally in the grades, over a 5 year period. The author credits Mrs. Glen Thomas, Mrs. Andy Henard, Mrs. Leon Myers, all teachers; Mrs. Jack Lowry, a former teacher; and Mrs. Paul Schaub, another aide, with many of the ideas.

LOIS SIMPSON

Mrs. Simpson showed the ideas contained in her manuscript at a Small School Workshop in Austin, attended by teachers from over the state. The results were most encouraging, she added.

Copyright on the book will be world wide.

"Usually we reject 7 of every 10 manuscripts that are submitted to us," Mr. Brings told the author.

Mrs. Simpson is in her 8th year of teaching.

New Complex for Senior Citizen Living Announced

Wellington Friendship House, a 17-unit complex that represents a new concept in senior citizen living in this area, was announced Tuesday, December 2 by two brothers who are partners in the project. They are Tom Wilkins, owner of Wilkins Furniture, and Glen M. Wilkins, executive director of the United Way in Fort Worth. The structure itself already stands, the former Thomas Nursing Home, bought recently by the Wilkins brothers from Thomas Nursing Center, Inc., which is owned by Mrs. Beatrice Thomas and her three children.

Construction on Wellington Friendship House is due to get under way in about a month, and its opening is projected for the early part of 1976.

Paul M. Deeley, Fort Worth architect, was retained to redesign the building, giving it a completely new exterior appearance, and a modern interior especially planned for those who will live in Friendship House.

Tom Wilkins acted as spokesman for the partnership.

A concept familiar to condominium dwellers will be incorporated, in that each tenant will own his or her room, but all meals and care of the units will be provided through a service contract.

Each unit will include a bed-sitting room, private bath and private enclosed patio.

"This is for healthy older citizens who do not want the responsibility of cooking or of caring for a house and yard, of taxes or monthly bills. It is as nearly carefree living as we can reach in Wellington," said Tom Wilkins.

It is not a nursing home and it is not a rest home, he emphasized, but an opportunity for comfortable living in which older citizens will be among their contemporaries.

A living room, 42 by 15 feet, with a free-standing fireplace, will be in the middle of the complex, where residents may gather for visiting or TV watching, etc.

Other facilities offered are a laundry and shop. Each room will have independent heating and cooling systems. There will ample individual storage. Rooms will be fully carpeted.

Those who live in Friendship House will in a large measure be its owners, and will have a voice in its operation and in the activities offered.

A meeting of all those expressing interest in this type of living will be held later, and the entire concept will be fully explained, both by the owners and the architect.

Several factors entered into the purchase of this site by the Wilkins brothers. One was the soundness of the existing structure, which was vacated only because the former owners had acquired the second nursing center then in Wellington and wanted to combine the two.

The location on 15th Street also appealed to them.

"It is within easy walking distance to Allsups, to church, Ellison Park, to the clinic and hospital, and to the high school, where many community activities and sports events are held," Mr. Wilkins pointed out.

Completion of Wellington Friendship House will also release a number of two and three bedroom homes for rent or sale to younger

Samnorwood Tournament Planned December 11-13

Play in the annual Samnorwood Invitational Basketball Tournament will get under way Thursday, December 11, at 9:00 a.m. and will continue until the boys and girls championships are determined Saturday night, December 13.

Team brackets were announced by Kenneth Martindale, high school principal and girls coach.

Eight games will make up the first round plan on Thursday, the last winding down about 10:00 p.m. Semifinals will take up all of Friday, December 12, again from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Saturday action will see the third place, consolation and championships determined.

Sixteen teams are entered, 8 in each the boys and girls divisions, coming from Briscoe, Quail, McLean, Wellington, Samnorwood, Estelline and Allison.

Championship, second and third place, and consolation trophies will be awarded. These have been donated by Wellington and Shamrock merchants, Mr. Martindale said. Assisting him with tournament plans is Dale Morris, boys coach.

Interest is running high, among both students and fans, and traditionally games in the Samnorwood tournament are consistent crowd-pleasers.

First round games will include:

No. 1 - 9:00 a.m. Wellington-McLean girls.

No. 2 - 10:30 a.m. Briscoe-Quail girls.

No. 3 - 12:30 p.m. Allison-Briscoe boys.

No. 4 - 2:00 p.m. Estelline-Allison girls.

No. 5 - 3:30 p.m. Mobeetie-Estelline boys.

No. 6 - 5:30 p.m. Samnorwood-Mobeetie girls.

No. 7 - 7:00 p.m. Quail-McLean boys.

No. 8 - 8:30 p.m. Wellington-Samnorwood boys.

Second round consolation games will be played at 9:00 and 10:30 a.m., 12:30 and 2:00 p.m. Second round games on the championship side are scheduled for 3:30, 5:30, 7:00 and 8:30 p.m.

The girls consolation finals will be played at 12:30 Saturday and the boys at 2:00 p.m.

The games to determine third place in the girls division will begin at 3:30 and the boys at 5:30.

The Saturday night session will feature the two championship games, the girls at 7:00 and boys at 8:30.

Allison boys are the defending champions. Erick, Oklahoma, girls, who won their division last year, are not entered this time.

Quail boys are top seeded, in the 1975 tournament, and

Bicentennial Christmas Sing-Song to Be Monday

A Bicentennial Christmas event will be the Sing Song Monday evening, December 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

This county-wide program will be in two parts, singing Christmas carols and songs by the audience, and special numbers—vocal and instrumental solos and ensembles by all age groups.

Interest is mounting, and many groups and individuals have already volunteered to take part, said Mrs. B.M. Sims Tuesday.

There is still time for others to become participants, and last minute entries will be considered through Saturday, and included on the program if possible, she continued.

The Sing Song is sponsored by three Wellington clubs, 1924 Study Club, 1954 Study Club, and Ko Shari.

"We do definitely want the whole county to come and be in the audience and take part in the group singing," said Mrs. Sims. "There will be a variety of interpretations of Christmas music. Altogether, we are "Here Comes Santa Claus" will signal the arrival of that jolly gentleman on his first visit to Wellington this season. Every child will have an opportunity to visit with him.

All present will then join the singing of "Silent Night"

Christmas Season Opens in Wellington on December 4

Wellington will open its holiday season with a tree lighting ceremony on the courthouse lawn, a visit from Santa Claus, and turning on the traditional Christmas lights in the business area. All of this will be Thursday night, December 4, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Several merchants around the square plan to remain open for holiday shoppers.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies, will give an old-fashioned Christmas program, planned around the tree lighting, to be followed by Santa's visit.

Sixteen new lighted Christmas decorations, will go up along 8th Street, from US 83 to the northeast corner of the square. It is the first time this street has been included in the holiday decoration program, said Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The decorations are identical to those used along Highway 83 through Wellington.

The tree selected for lighting is the evergreen located at the northwest corner of the courthouse lawn. Decorations that glisten by day, and reflect light by night, will be hung by Boy Scouts at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. These were made by Cub Scouts and Brownies.

Scouts will also conduct the flag ceremony to open the evening program, then lead the Pledge of Allegiance.

Pre-Christmas Good Will

Trades Days will be sponsored by Wellington merchants on three Saturdays of December preceding Christmas.

The annual drawings will be included, and these will be on the south side of the courthouse at 4:00 p.m.

Script totaling $300 will be given in the traditional holiday program to promote Wellington as an ideal place to shop in the southeast Panhandle.

Dates of the three drawings will be the Saturdays of December 6, 13 and 20.

Major changes have been made in the Trades Day Program, according to Mrs. Margaret Vines, Chamber of Commerce manager. Script in the amount of $100 will be given each Saturday and there will be only one drawing. The person whose ticket is drawn must be present to win. Should that individual not be in the crowd, another ticket will be taken from the hopper, and this will continue until someone present gets the $100.

Merchants will give tickets as in the past, but they will

Skyrockets Play in Paducah Tournament

Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes will play in the Paducah invitational tournament which opens Thursday, December 4 and will continue through Saturday, December 6.

Both teams have drawn Crowell as their first opponent, the girls at 2:45 p.m. and the boys at 4:00.

Crowell boys are one of the stronger Class A teams in lower Panhandle-North Texas area and are picked to win the District 7-A title this year.

They are just out of football, where they won their district, and altogether it appears as if the two teams will be evenly matched.

"This is a good opportunity to see what type of club we have to face teams who are capable of winning district," said Coach Robert Hicks.

The winner of the Wellington-Crowell game will meet either Knox City or Chillicothe in second round play Friday at 7:45. Both of these teams are also strong, and Chillicothe was winner in District 7-A last year.

Egypt Has Much to See, But Movement Limited

(This is one in a series of articles by Dr. Dorothy Jane Holman describing her visit to ancient civilizations of the Middle East and Mediterranean area.)

Dr. Holman, formerly of Wellington, is an associate professor at San Diego State College, San Diego, Calif. This account begins with her group stopping in Cairo.)

Shortly we reboarded our bus, reluctantly leaving the museum where with greater comfort we could have devoted several days to intense study and observation. We crossed the Nile to the West on the El Tahrir Bridge and our guide informed us that the Egyptians of the ancient civilizations thought that they must bury their dead in their necropolises on the west bank of the Nile, where the sun sets--indicating the end of the day, the end of life.

They built their temples and lived on the East side because the sun rose in the East. We traveled through many streets of teeming Cairo, where a population of six million people exist in this sprawling city crowded with the chaos of animals, people and vehicles coexisting in dust, heat, traffic, noise, pollution and the kind of poverty that is not known in the United States. Men were working in ditches and on construction of buildings in their long dresses called "Galabiyas" and wrapped heads for only a few pesetas a day.

It was all I could do to continue sightseeing with two hats, long sleeves, sun cream, and a bottle of water in my purse. Even then, I sought every area with shade to stand in whenever possible. The Egyptians accept the sun as a kind of deity, and adjust their lives around their great respect for its dominion.

Finally we reached the first pyramids we had seen and were assigned a camel and a driver to lead us to the pyramids. Although I found it a little difficult to climb on a kneeling camel with my dress and my large straw hat, the main problem was staying on as the animal arose to continue the journey up the hill! I held my hat with one hand, and my camera with the other, and still struggling to hold tight to the saddle part of the camel.

When I was sure I had succeeded in these tasks, I proceeded to allow the camel to move forward. After a street photographer started running from camel to camel taking our pictures, I was delighted when my driver motioned that he would use my camera to take my picture, and we paused momentarily for this.

When we reached the bottom of the pyramids, we dismounted and were met by an aloof, slender, elderly gentleman who carefully guided us through our climb inside the pyramid to the top.

Once again I found my short height to be an advantage because even in a crouched position, we climbed on boards nailed across long pieces of verticle wood to prevent our sliding. Descending was backwards, and there was human traffic both ways, and I had to hold on to the rail on my side only.

All the way up, at the top, and coming down, our pleasant guide continued to speak in articulate English of the history of how the pyramids were built, and espousing the architectural wonder which they are. Stone upon stone was placed to balance properly to the top peak. The small room for entombment at the top was large enough for about forty people to be standing in at the same time. Even ventilation holes were carefully designed to give the room a cool environment.

By the time we had returned to our bus, the middle of the day heat was becoming more intense, but we continued through these huge reminders of the past to see the Great Sphinx carved out of soli limestone and other pyramids. We were at the amphitheatre where they have the "Sound and Light" performances at night dramatizing the history of these periods of ancient civilization. Unfortunately for our group, the English-speaking performance was never one of the ones when we were in Cairo; however, we found we did not miss this entire experience because we were able to be present in Luxor at the Karnak Temples.

As we returned to our hotel, we passed a cigarette factory. I was soon to discover that smoking seems to be an acquired habit of every adult male in the entire Arabian union of countries. Also, we saw a secondary school, with a few trees, a high wire fence and very little vegetation. Again there was no way I could secure a picture from a moving bus, and I was disappointed in my lack of independent movement.

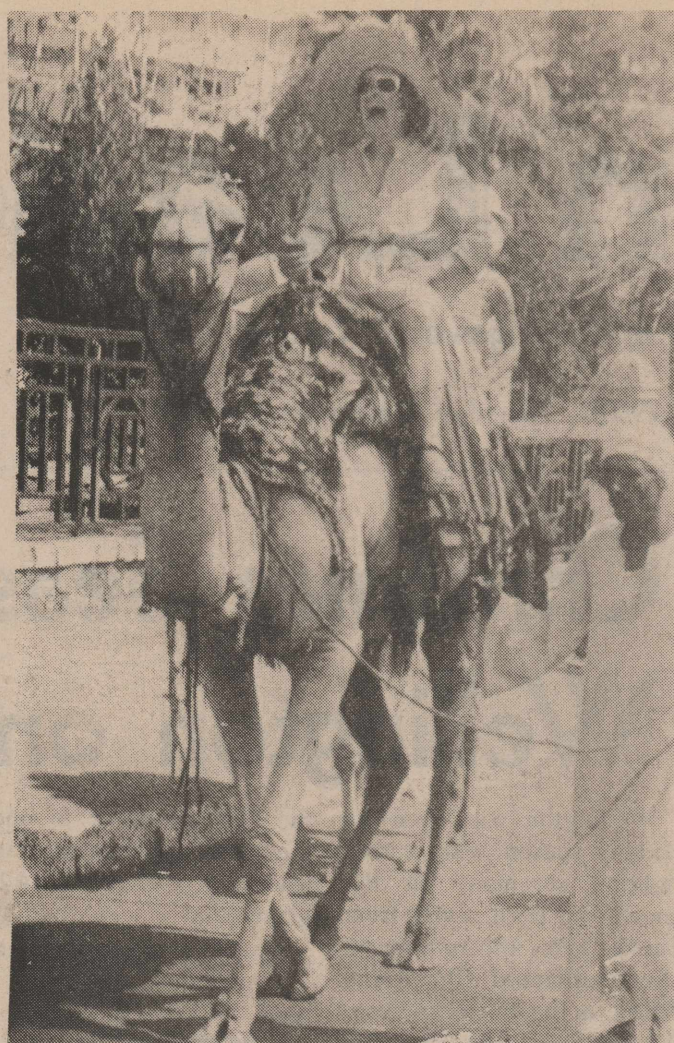

Everywhere in the outskirts of Cairo were buildings under construction, as we were to find in all the other countries we visited, but none appeared to be near completion, and the scaffolding was usually wooden and revealed that it had been there for some time. People rode bicycles with huge baskets full of farm products, but the most unique scene were the hundreds of women walking down the roads balancing jugs, baskets, and products on their heads, many times leading small children by the hand, and in some instances leading a burro with his back piled high with what looked like bundles of wheat, barley, or flax. The garments of the women are called "melayas" and can only be described as long black robes.

Because this was a Friday, our guide explained to us that on that day, none of the muslims continued to work past noon, because it was considered one of the "Holy Days" to pray, and all Muslims attended a mosque at noon Friday, praying toward the East. Every day they pray five times a day--morning, noon, four p.m., sunset, and at night, using their prayer beads, but only on Friday noon do they consider it necessary to enter a mosque. Saturday is also a continuation of their "Holy Days".

When we arrived at Sheppard's Hotel, we hastily secured our luggage and were transported to the Cairo Airport for the short trip south to Luxor. Again, Dorry expedited our passage through the still hundreds of people at the airport and almost unbearable heat.

Fortunately, I was assigned a seat by a window for this flight, and was to behold the real contrast of Egypt as we flew almost directly above the Nile to Luxor. Seeing the striking difference of the sand dunes to the greenery along the banks of the deep blue water of the Nile is a technicolor picture revealing why Egypt is so dependent on the river.

No map of Egypt can give you the full picture of its habitat without indicating that without water, neither

PYRAMID TRAVEL

Dr. Dorothy Jane Holman, the author of this series, rides a camel at the Pyramids of Giza, humans nor animals can survive. So little of its geographic land is habitable. There is nothing in the United States which can compare to the hundreds of miles of rolling desert sand I saw.

I was thirsty all the time--but nothing that is available to drink satisfies ones thirst. Ice cannot be used to chill drinks, and one was confined to having boiled water for hot tea, chilled bottles of cokes or orange drinks, or "Turkish" coffee that was so strong as to be indescribable.

On the plane I found I was sitting next to a neurosurgeon and a lawyer, who were accompanied by four other professional men from Cairo, on their way to vacation for a few days in the Near Winter Hotel in Luxor. I was soon to discover this was considered the best hotel in Luxor, and that Luxor and Aswan were considered the vacation spots of the well-to-do Egyptians. The physician reminded me of the publicity recently accorded the Near Winter Hotel because Secretary of State Kissinger and Mrs. Kissinger had been guests. He suggested that two language aids would be to learn that "Thank You" in Arabic was pronounced "Shokran" with a rolling "r", and "Masalama" meaning "Good-by" in English. I was therefore able to thank him in Arabic as we left the plane for the small terminal building at Luxor.

LUXOR, EGYPT

The small one-story terminal at Luxor facing east had a long covered area across the entire length of the building, and today we were surprised to see that several dozen of the village men in their long gowns and turban-covered heads were there to see the plane and its passengers arrive. We passed through them, the small 2-room building, and climbed into cabs for the short ride of 2 to 4 miles to Hotel Savoy.

As the cab speeded down the small roadway, we passed many of the village men who had been to the airport, and were now returning to their homes.

The farm land was inhabited by workers performing tasks with the simplest of tools, men, women and children riding burros from place to place for transportation, and all dressed in very bright-colored dresses similar to the ones worn by Americans, but few wore shoes. Luxor was a small village which indeed threw us into a further culture shock. Men pushed oxen-drawn carts down the street.

The Hotel Savoy is located on the street parallel to the Nile, facing the West, and surrounded by beautiful, tall trees. We were assigned rooms in their building across a city street to the north, and were delighted to find that a square of rooms, two-stories high surrounded a swimming pool! In only a few minutes most everyone was soaking and swimming in the pool. After our swim we had redressed and crossed the street to approach the dining room of the lobby, we became aware of the sunset on the blue waters of the Nile. Steps descended directly in front of the hotel and across the street to the water, and this gave you a clear view of the Nile and its West Bank. It was a beautiful sight!

Early the next morning we walked the short distance to the steps down to the Nile and boarded a small, old boat with a canopy-covered top, and a motor and steering gear guided by one gentleman squatted in the floor in the middle of the boat. Even though he looked uncomfortable in his long gown, his round-the-face beard framed a lined face that seldom if ever showed any emotion whatsoever. Our seventeen, plus a few other passengers, filled the boat to capacity, and we "put-putted" across the Nile to the west bank. This reminded me of the scene in the movie, "The African Queen", with Humphrey Bogart and Kathryn Hepburn stranded on a river in Africa, and I was suddenly thankful there were many of us on the boat, and that we actually made it across the river with no problems.

On trying to disembark on the west side, we were met with many young boys and men with jewelry and trinkets for sale at almost any price you were willing to pay. They would not take "no" for an answer, would follow you to the bus, throw the product through the window into your lap, and then bargain with you on the price. None of us were prepared for this kind of an onslaught of ambitious salespersons, but by the time we had returned from our morning visit to the west bank, we had become somewhat more sophisticated in saying "no" by learning the technique to avoid even eye contact.

In a few miles our bus stopped to allow us to see how alabaster was cut and molded into products of beauty in a small unpretentious hut, and an attached outdoor covered area. Dozens of beautiful vases, and other objects of art were sitting around on planks of wood and in one counter in the small room. Several men were seated under an outdoor cover attached to the house working on the alabaster stone with tools like potters use.

After we each selected something we chose to buy, then we had to barter with them on the price. In all the countries, especially Egypt and Greece, where this was the custom, I never got adjusted to it.

Our guide had explained that every artist and shopkeeper and salesperson expected this, and if you did not, they did not enjoy the sale. In the stores, you are always expected to have tea with the shopkeeper, and stay awhile and enjoy the bartering. This is a socializing custom for them, but here in this small place in the middle of the desert, where no growing vegetation was even visible, where women were walking for long distances to reach water each day, and return with the jugs balanced on their heads, and these men seemed to be such artists we should highly honor, and whose products would soon adorn the exclusive shops on mirrored and glass shelves across the world--I almost felt like a thief to attempt to lower their prices. I purchased two alabaster pieces and a "soapstone" carving of the head of an Egyptian Queen of the past. I took pictures of the women in the area before our bus left. Some had bright colored clothes, which seemed unusual.

Besides owning Wilkins Furniture and a commercial car wash, Tom Wilkins has other properties here and serves on the City Council. He is a church leader and civic worker.

Glen W. Wilkins grew up in Dallas and graduated from high school there before the other members of the family moved to Wellington. He began his career as a Boy Scout Executive, then entered the field of executive management, serving in Dallas, Cleveland, Ohio, and Pine Bluff, Ark. He then entered the field of executive management, and served as executive director of United Way in Houston before going to Fort Worth. He is a former executive vice-president of Alcon Laboratories, a pharmaceutical company, in Fort Worth.

He is currently on the public relations committee of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, which is involved in the fund raising campaign "8 by 80"--raising 8 million dollars by 1980.

Caroling will follow, with the children going to the four sides of the court house, facing those stores that are open.

A second visit of Santa Claus is planned tentatively for late in the Christmas season, and other groups will announce plans for Thursday night programs.

Jack Kennedy heads the committee in charge of hanging the Christmas lights, and his work will begin Monday. Co-operating in this are West Texas Utilities Co., Cablecom General, General Telephone Company and the City of Wellington.

The new lights along 8th Street will be hung on utility poles, just as they are along US 83. The new lighting on this street for the 1975 Christmas season is part of a continuing program for upgrading the town's decorations. This is done by the Chamber of Commerce.

Skyrockets: "The Greatest Team I've Ever Coached"—Williams

"The greatest group I've ever coached!"

After a few days to think things over, Coach James Williams' feelings about the Skyrockets are unchanged from the days immediately before the Bi-District game with Fritch. A large part of Collingsworth County agree with him.

"They did a tremendous job at bi-district. They didn't embarrass anyone by the way they played," he added.

He had more things to say about the boys--and his assistant coaches, and the Rocket fans.

"Overall, through the year our kids performed real well. Taking each player individually, they get along well together. They work for one common goal. They have presented no problems whatever.

"For one thing, we had some tremendous senior leadership that helped our team. They pulled everything together," said Coach Williams. Eleven of those young men will be graduating.

He noted that the players themselves called a lot of team meetings on their own, to work things out, with one goal, winning the next game.

"It was not only a team effort, it was a community effort. The Booster Club did a lot, and the people of the town. When you have a good year, the school is better and the community is better.

Anytime youth tries to achieve something, and achieves it, it is good. They are going to get something out of it."

This season, three boys came up from last year's B team. They demonstrated they are capable of playing good football.

"We hope for the same quality of leadership," Coach Williams continued. The boys who will be back are good athletes. They benefitted from last year's program, and they have found out what winning is like.

"We lost a lot of key people, and a lot of other people who backed up these players. Three years ago we began a rebuilding program, and in those three years we have had a record of 19 wins, 10 losses and two ties. That a cause for losing bi-district, it took some of the sharpness off the defensive attack.

Coach Williams praised The Wellington Leader for its coverage of football this year. "It gave the kids the recognition they deserve."

The off-season weight program began Tuesday, December 2, and this is to condition the boys for next year. "I had them out today talking to them and making plans for next year," Williams said.

"We're already looking at Hollis. That's our first objective for the off season and summer." The game will be played here.

There will be a lot of growth on the Skyrockets before that game. Some of them will put on weight and some will trim down a little. "Weight, agility drills, anything that will make them better football players, we do it," the Wellington coach summed up.

"Our players are as good as any in Texas!" declares Coach Williams. "They played a tremendous game against Clarendon, probably the best football game I've been associated with."

He considers it fortunate that Wellington came through the season without losing key people to injuries, considering the aggressive type of football they play. Those injuries that did come were in the Clarendon game, and although the coaching staff does not look to that as

RSVP News

By Mecca Manuel

Well, I guess everyone has just about settled down after the Thanksgiving holiday. Those who spent the day out of town have returned and those who stayed home just about have everything back in place after company left. The leftovers are about gone. Now we can start getting things ready for Christmas.

We at the center have been real busy today, calling our volunteers for their volunteer hours of service, and doing a hundred and one other odd jobs you have to do after being off two days.

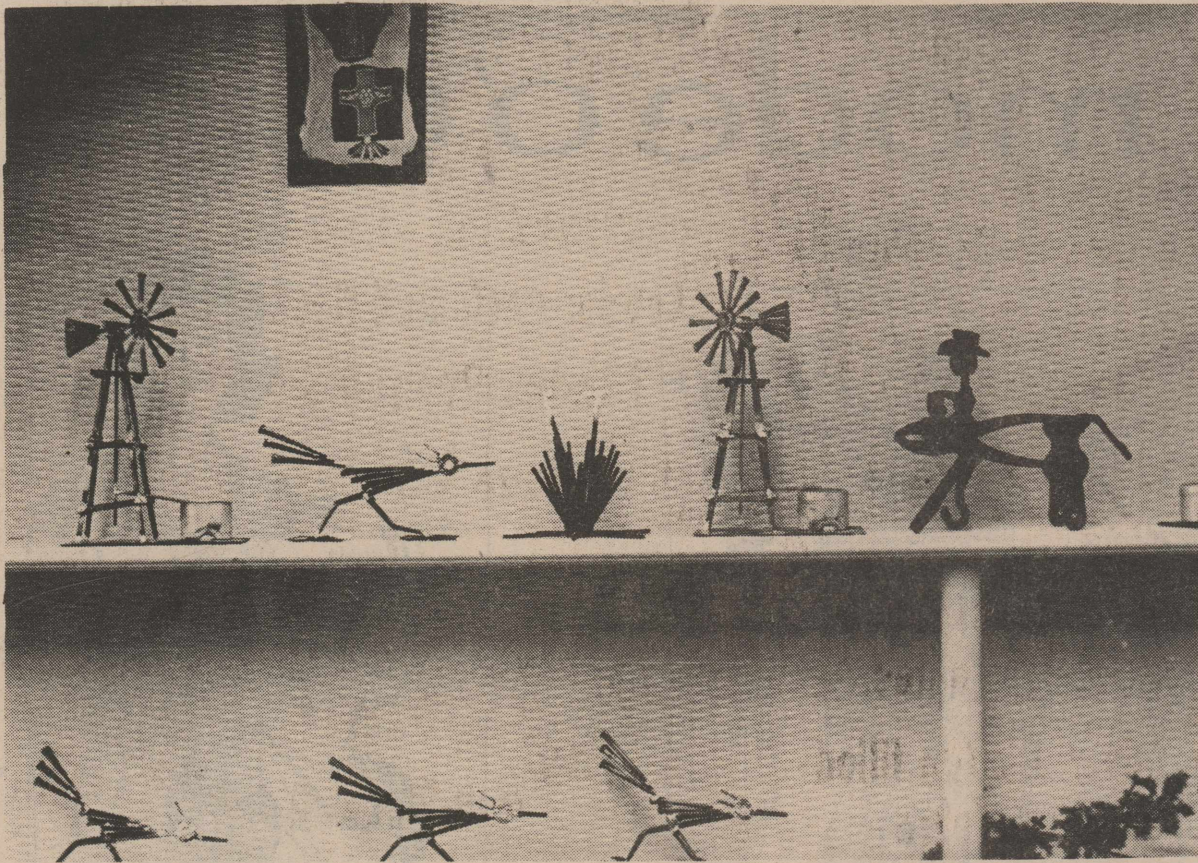

Our free blood pressure clinic will be December 10, from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., here at the center. Please come by and get your blood pressure checked.

There have been several of our volunteers who have been sick. Do wish them all a speedy recovery.

Those having birthdays in December are Mrs. W.E. Brewster, Mrs. Rebbie Snider and L.C. Keith.

LARRY OLDHAM SANDRA SKINNER

Sandra Skinner, Larry Oldham Plan Wedding During Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Luther B. Skinner of Iowa Park are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Larry Clayton Oldham, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wesley Oldham of Samnorwood.

The couple will be married Saturday, December 27, at the Iowa Park Church of God.

Miss Skinner was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is a senior at West Texas State University, with a sociology major. She has been a line twirler, feature twirler and head twirler with the 200-piece WTSU Buffalo Band and this year is a member of the WTSU Song Girls, a precision pom-pom squad which performs with the band.

She has served on the student senate, held offices on the dormitory councils and is a member of the Panhellenic Council. She was selected 1974 Miss West Texas State University and competed in the Miss Texas Pageant. She also was a nominee for 1975 WTSU Outstanding Woman of the Year.

Miss Skinner's other affiliations include membership in Tau Beta Sigma, honorary band society; Golden Heart (Little Sister) for Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. She is currently the president of Delta Zeta social sorority.

Her fiancé was graduated from Samnorwood High School and received a B.B.A. degree in accounting from West Texas State University in the spring. He was a member of Block and Bridle, Rodeo Club, T-Anchor Club, Accounting Club and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He was selected 1975 Outstanding Man of the Year.

He is presently a comptroller for Sigma Phi Epsilon and is employed as an auditor by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. in Amrillo.

Creditors must give new-home buyers at least a 12 day notice of closing costs of real estate purchases before the contract can be completed. Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

County NRTA Plans Luncheon

The Collingsworth Chapter, National Retired Teachers Association, will hold its Christmas luncheon Tuesday, December 9, at the Heritage Room. Hostesses will be Mrs. Charley Hill and Mrs. Bill Hill, and the luncheon will begin at 12:00 noon.

Each member is asked to bring a covered dish and a gift to exchange.

A Christmas program will be given by Debra and Vanda Wood, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Farris Wood.

Alice Dodson and Joe Deger Marry Nov. 26 at Plainview

Alice Dodson and Joe Deger were united in marriage Wednesday evening, November 26, at 7:30, in the home of Mrs. Linda Phillips, 1407 Travis, Plainview. Both formerly lived in this county. Dr. R.L. Kirk, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Plainview, officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Samnorwood, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Deger of Shamrock, formerly of Lutie.

Mrs. Phillips was matron of honor, and Dan Deger of Lubbock, son of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride chose an off white two piece dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pastel colored carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held honoring the couple and guests. The bride's table was laid with white lace over pink and centered with an arrangement of pastel colored carnations. Crystal candle holders with lighted pink tapers flanked the floral arrangement, and crystal and silver appointments were used. Mrs. Jack Deger and Joleta Deger served the guests.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Samnorwood High School. She received her degree from West Texas State University and at the time of their marriage was a

Linda Johnson, Jack Wardlow Marry in Mid-November Rites

Miss Linda Nell Johnson and Jack Earnest Wardlow III of Shamrock exchanged wedding vows in the home of Mrs. Beatrice McKinney, Justice of the Peace, Saturday, November 15, at seven in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Johnson of the Roundup Community. She is also the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Wardlow II of Shamrock, and he is the grandson of Leon Hoyt of Amarillo and Mrs. Essie Johnson of Amarillo.

For the ceremony, the bride wore a gown of champagne beige, designed with a sweetheart neckline and full sleeves, buttoned at the wrist. Smocking accented the shoulders and waistline. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a lacy crown and she carried a bouquet of pastel-colored flowers.

Attending the bride was her cousin, Miss Melinda Richie of Amarillo. She wore a pastel pink floor-length dress.

Barney Sherman of Shamrock was the best man.

The bride was graduated from Samnorwood High School and the bridegroom from Shamrock High School. He also attended Amarillo College of Technology, where he earned an associate degree in Police and Science Technology. After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home northwest of Shamrock.

Out of Town guests joining the couple and their parents for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Johnson, Miss Chrissie Wardlow of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dewit of Pampa, Bill Fincher and children, Gayla and Tena of Lefors,

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Richie, Karen and Teresa of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Banks of Amarillo and Boyd Hilt-bruner of Shamrock.

Holiday Dinner Entertains JFF

The traditional JFF Club Thanksgiving dinner was held Saturday evening, November 22, in Cherokee Inn Dining Room. Husbands of the members were guests of honor.

Holiday decorations were featured in the dining room. Games of 42 followed the dinner.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Masten, Mr. and Mrs. J.I. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Don Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Garner Altom, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belew, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sweat, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holton, Mrs. Jimmie Kelso, Mrs. Raymond Patton and D.C. Lacy.

Ted Gentry, Mrs. Bratcher Marry in Quiet Ceremony

Mrs. Suzan Bratcher and Ted E. Gentry, both of Garden City, Kansas, were married Saturday, November 29 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gentry, 1304 Bowie Street. The Reverend Elvis Pitts, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, performed the ceremony at seven in the evening.

The bride wore a floor-length blue velvet dress, with long sleeves, accented with white trim and silver accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Children of the couple were their attendants, Lisa, Laura and Blain Bratcher of Garden City, Tony and Troy Gentry of Goodnight.

A reception followed the ceremony. The table was laid with a lace cloth over pale blue and centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations. Crystal appointments were used. Miss Patsy Gentry, sister of the bridegroom, served the guests.

The bride received her education in Glendale, Calif. Her husband is a graduate of Quail High School and received his degree from Texas A&M University with a major in agriculture. He is regional sales representative for Eutectic Welding Supplies, with offices in Garden City, where the couple will make their home.

Others present for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyles, Mrs. Pauline Bias, and Rudy Bias; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bird and family of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Bill Carr and Terri of Albany.

Interlock Knits Great for Feminine-Looking Fashions

Interlock knits--one of today's newest fabrics--help create the popular soft, feminine lightweight fashions, but they require several precautions for success in sewing, Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist, says.

"Homesevers can find interlock knits in a wide range of solids and brightly colored heat transfer prints, and they often cost less than similar quality traditional double knits, because the knitting method is mechanically fast, efficient and easy.

Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"To identify an interlock knit, look at the cut edge along the width of the fabric. An interlock knit looks the same on both sides, with a back loop opposite each front loop, producing parallel vertical rows of loops," she explained.

"Most pattern styles suitable for soft, lightweight fabrics are appropriate for interlock knits, too. But avoid styles with many small pattern pieces such as yokes or insets," she cautioned.

To sew on interlocks, the specialist recommends using the same general techniques that apply to lightweight double knits--with a few additional safeguards.

"These are necessary because interlocks will run (like mylon hosiery) along the vertical loops in one direction only.

"To identify the direction of the run, gently spread the vertical loops apart at each end, and the problem end will show."

To prevent or check against runs, cut garment pieces--when possible--so that the hem edge is cut along the edge that runs. This way, if a small run starts in the hem allowance, it can be sealed easily with fabric glue or other products designed to prevent fraying.

"When handling the fabric after cutting, do not stretch the fabric along the cut edge that runs. Stay stitch or zig zag to stabilize this cut edge.

"And for best results, use sharp shears and fine, smooth ballpoint pins and machine needles."

The specialist reminded homesevers to handle the fabric gently during construction

Speech Students Give Program For B&PW Club Nov. 25

The Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club met for their Thanksgiving dinner on Tuesday, November 25. The Committee in Charge was Mrs. Mark Killian, chairman; Myra Hays, co-chairman; and Mrs. Tommie Murdock. Program booklets and decorations carried out the Thanksgiving theme and the subject of the program was "Perspective for Bicentennial."

Mrs. Bob McAlister presented her Speech I Class from Wellington High School in a play, "Too Many Cooks." This was based on the old saying: "Too Many Cooks Spoil the Pudding" and the setting was in Alabama many years ago with a family of 5 girls, Pa and Ma.

The girls and their mother were preparing a meal for Pa and their neighbors who were cutting wood. Ma asked about the salt and had to wait until one of the girls had finished with it, then one by one the girls and their mother, all put salt in the pudding.

Those in the play were: Ma, Darla Dodge; Pa, Ron Archer; daughters, Louise Key, Laura Gragon, Debby Hicks, Darla and Starla Anderson. The role of the preacher was taken by Robert Burba. Kay Mote introduced the characters and Cynthia Black, Cynthia Hernandez and Nannette Young were in charge of the properties.

Reports were given by club members and a partial report on the progressive dinner on November 11 showed 233 tickets were sold. The club will use part of these funds for the M.D. Anderson Cancer Clinic and

Club Studies Franz Liszt

A program on the composer, Franz Liszt was given for members of the Excelsior Club Thursday, November 20, when Miss Rama Camp was hostess and program leader in the home of Mrs. Sam Thompson.

She was assisted by Miss Kloette Camp, pianist, who presented several selections by Liszt.

Liszt was born in Austria and at the age of 14, played concertos at public functions. He studied in Vienna, but at the same time considered entering the priesthood, Miss Camp told the group.

He became, instead, the leader in the fashionable music world of Paris, and eventually all Europe. It was only in his old age that he returned to the spiritual and became the Abbe Liszt.

He fell in love many times. He also fostered the genius of Richard Wagner, who became his son-in-law.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. J.F. Michael, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Rose Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid, Mrs. Russell Yates, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Miss Rama Camp, Miss Kloette Camp and Mrs. Thompson.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Needham of Koppel are the parents of a daughter, Christina Ruth, born October 28 in Clifton General Hospital, Clifton. She weighed 5 pounds 14 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Needham, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Axe of Dimmitt. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Needham and Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Anglin.

Beavers Kin At Lubbock

Four generations of the J.G. Beavers family met Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock at the home of a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Beavers were there from Brownfield; another daughter, Mrs. Bill Wolf and her children, Linda Wolf and a friend from Tipton, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stanley, Sharlyn and Sonja of Arvada, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Wolf, Lecia and Lindi, Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wolf, Bill and Zane, Lubbock.

Another daughter present was Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Berryhill, Natalie and Alan of Brownfield. Others present were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Burns, James Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnston and Glen, all of Lubbock.

Raymond Ward Children Visit

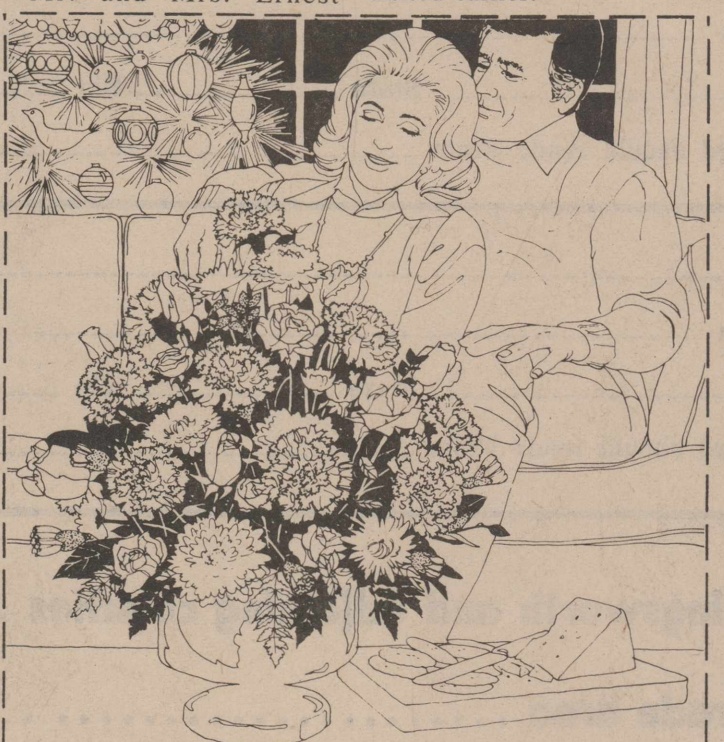

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ward visited them during the Thanksgiving weekend, except Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Ward and daughter of Carlsbad, New Mexico and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huntress and family of Pensacola, Florida.

Those here for Thanksgiving dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Neil Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fisher and Cherie of Tulsa; Gary Powell, Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Jones and Shane, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Barnett, Hank and Charlotte, Mrs. Jerry Lister, Carla and Sherry of Amarillo;

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lee Watts and Melanie; Mr. and Mrs. Nicky Watts, Robert and Mendy; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, Kirk and Kathy; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hernandez, Rhonda, Cindy and Tammie; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ward, all of Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Powell of Childress and Mr. Ward's mother, Mrs. W.H. Ward of Caddo, Oklahoma.

Harwell, Mrs. Pearl Harwell, Mrs. Lorane Harwell and Mrs. C.A. Kesler of Wellington joined the group.

Jack Harwell of Denton and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harwell of Wichita Falls visited earlier.

Juliana Baumgardner Initiated In Home Economics Honorary

Juliana Baumgardner, a sophomore in the College of Home Economics, Texas Tech University, was initiated in Phi Upsilon Omicron Sunday, November 23. This is an honorary home economics fraternity.

Membership is limited to students in the top 35 per cent scholastically in the college, who are above freshman level. Approximately 25 participated in the initiation into Omega Chapter. Afterwards the group had breakfast at Furr's Cafeteria and attended church services in a body.

One of the purposes of the fraternity is to promote interest in home economics. Omega Chapter has for its fund raising project a catering service.

Miss Baumgardner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Baumgardner and a graduate of Wellington High School.

At Texas Tech she was on the Dean's List for both semesters. She is president of Knapp Hall and a member of the student chapter of The American Home Economics Association. She spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her family here.

Thanksgiving Program Given Members of 1924 Study Club

Continuing a series of programs in keeping with the Bicentennial year, members of the 1924 Study Club paid tribute to Thanksgiving in a recent meeting.

Three members were speakers. Mrs. Kent Clark told "The Story of the Indian Who Made Thanksgiving Possible." This was Squanto, who during his life lived both as a native American and in Europe.

"Plymouth, England, Has Kept Ties with U.S.," was the topic for Mrs. Benson Long's discussion. From the time the Pilgrims sailed in 1620 until the present, this English seaport has had close association with the United States.

Mrs. Dee Coleman, the last speaker, in "Know Your America," spoke from the standpoint of the genealogist, explaining how one goes about tracing a family history and what one looks for.

During the business meeting, Mrs. R.R. Crawley and Miss Hattie D. Wells reported on the quilt and coverlet exhibit which they helped to set up in Collingsworth County Historical Museum.

Gifts were brought for Girls Town and the Vernon State Hospital. A new member was voted into the club, Mrs. Mark Fires.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason on December 11 and will be the Christmas party.

Attending were Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. R.C. McNett, Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, Mrs. Charley Hill, Mrs. Chester Fires, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. B.M. Sims, Mrs. Ralph Owens, Mrs. Rodney Kane and Mrs. Sandy Covey.

Judy Peters Honored With Bridal Shower on Tuesday

Miss Judy Peters, fiancée of Bruce Dollar, was honored at a bridal shower Tuesday afternoon, November 25, in the Heritage Room.

Mrs. R.L. Templeton received the guests and presented them to Miss Peters. Others in the receiving line were her mother, Mrs. Marshall Peters, Mrs. Billy Dollar of Farwell, mother of the prospective bridegroom and her young son, Dennis, and Mrs. Jack Lancaster, grandmother of the honoree.

Mrs. Ronnie Glenn registered the guests at a table accented with an arrangement of fall flowers.

After guests had viewed the gifts, they were directed to the refreshment table, which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement which also carried out the honoree's chosen autumn colors.

Miss Gency Morrow, cousin of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Billy Colson, her aunt, served the guests.

Calling hours were three

Dodson HD Has Program

Mrs. Fred Boyd was hostess to the Dodson Home Demonstration Club recently for a program on home nursing care. The guest speakers were Mrs. Foster of Childress and Mrs. McGough of Seymour.

Mrs. Thurman Crownover presided at the business session when plans were made for the Christmas party December 9. Mrs. Lynvel Black will be the hostess. Members told "What I am thankful for" in answering roll call.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Foster, Mrs. McGough, Mrs. Bob Cochran, Mrs. Vincent Hernandez, Mrs. Wayne Reynolds, Mrs. Crownover, Mrs. Purl Tippie and the hostess, Mrs. Boyd.

To keep soft fabrics from slipping off the surface while sewing, place a towel on the sewing machine surface to the left of the needle, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Extension Service advises.

Shadids Host Holiday Kin

Thanksgiving Day was the occasion of a family gathering in the home of George Shadid, Miss Marie Shadid and Miss Rose Shadid.

Coming from Memphis was their other brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Shadid and Terri.

Altus guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Shadid, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hawkins, Steven Shadid, Philip Shadid and Ned Shadid. Joining them was Miss Robin Shadid of Norman, Okla., a student in the University of Oklahoma.

Ag Finance at 20th Century Under Study

COLLEGE STATION--What will be the economic and political setting of the agricultural finance community at the beginning of the next 100 years of this nation? Texas bankers will take an in-depth look at this question during the upcoming Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School at Texas A&M University, Feb. 9-11, 1976.

"One of the key issues to be discussed will be the role, responsibilities and opportunities of the financial community in supporting the diverse and growing agricultural production and marketing complex in Texas," says Tom Prater, general program chairman and economist in management with the Texas Bankers Association.

The theme of the school will be built around the American Bicentennial--"Starting the Third Hundred Years."

Keynote speakers, with as much insight as they can muster, will be featured at four general sessions. A General Outlook session will include discussions on grain, cotton, livestock and the money market.

A second session will concern the implications for agriculture in the areas of politics, marketing resource control and financing.

Another session of the bankers school will deal with the role of bank examiners and the mechanics of making agricultural loans. The image of the banker in a community will also be discussed at this session.

A fourth part of the school is designed for the bank director and will deal with his overall responsibilities.

Following the school, a two-day in-depth Agricultural Credit Workshop will be conducted at which participants will analyze financial statements and reconcile farm records.

Gene Garrison, president of the Alice National Bank and Chairman of the Agricultural Rural Affairs Committee of the Texas Bankers Association, is working closely with Prater and other committee members in planning the annual event.

Law-Public Affairs Program at UT-Austin

AUSTIN, (Spl.)--The affinity of law and public affairs has resulted in a new program at The University of Texas.

A plan inaugurated this fall between the UT Law School and the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs will allow an individual to combine study in both fields so that at the end of four years a student receives both a law degree and a master's degree in public affairs.

Designed to produce more broadly trained persons who plan careers in the public sector, the new program is the only one of its kind

Shooting Road Signs Endangers Motorists' Lives

AUSTIN -- Trigger-happy gunmen are endangering the lives of motorists. Texas Highway Department officials report an upsurge of vandalized signs and safety markers in the last several months.

Self-styled "marksmen" have been shooting out reflectorized object markers, delineators, flashing signal lights and stationary signs erected to guide and direct motorists at danger points on the highway.

Motorists' lives are endangered when these safety devices are destroyed.

One woman was lucky to escape death when her vehicle was struck broadside at a highway intersection north of Del Rio. Witnesses say they had seen two men shoot out lens on all sides of the flashing signal at this dangerous intersection.

By coincidence, another "marksman" paid $344 for shooting out the lens on a flashing signal at Breckenridge about the same time the Val Verde County signal was damaged. A district court judge fined the man $150, added $44 court costs and then ordered him to pay $150 for replacing the lens in the light.

In addition to the flashing signals, object markers and delineators have been targets of the gunmen. The object markers (amber colored reflectors mounted both horizontally and vertically on roadside sign posts) indicate highway hazards.

Vertical markers indicate a culvert, tree or other object generally too low to see from the roadway. Horizontal amber reflectors mark a separation of Highway lanes at the beginning of a divided highway, bridge approach or other division of traffic into one-way lanes.

Clear white reflectors, usually mounted in series, guide motorists around curves or outline the crown width (driving limits) of the roadway after dark.

Destruction of either the delineators or the object markers removes built-in protection for motorists in hazardous areas.

Shooting up the face of signs, or stealing them outright, also is a threat to motoring safety. Many signs have been replaced after being badly damaged or stolen. Mileage markers and other signs also have been stolen.

Theft of a stop sign at the intersection of two main highways in East Texas resulted in multiple fatalities recently when one motorist didn't stop for the sign that wasn't there.

Vandalism costs the Highway Department about $750 thousand dollars a year -- money that could be spent building better highways rather than replacing safety devices.

Quail Teams Will Travel to Groom Tuesday

Quail Quails and Bobwhites will have an open date Friday, December 5, then travel to Groom Tuesday, December 9.

Groom boys, however, are still in Class B football playoffs, and should they win their Friday night game, the boys game will be cancelled, said Coach Bill Wilson.

The girls will play as scheduled.

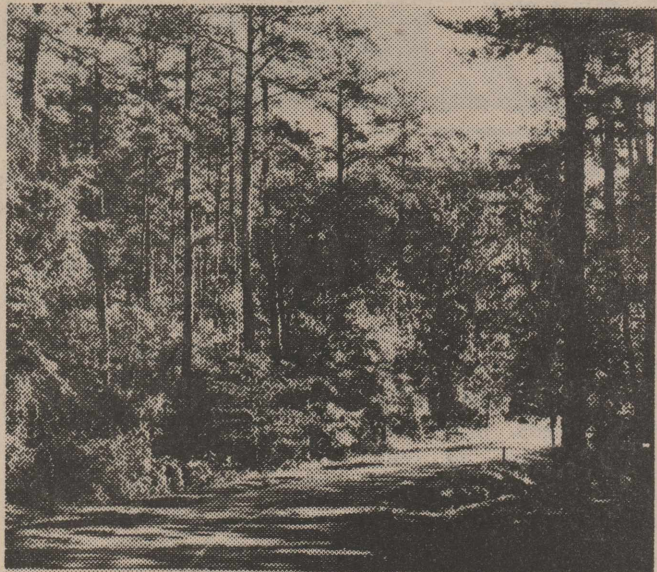

Quail is playing again this year in District 3-B, along with Samnorwood, Hedley, Lakeview, Estelline and Valley. District play will begin after the first of 1976.

Three Families Have McLean Thanksgiving

Children of Mrs. Marie Schaub of Shamrock were together for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Gene Thomason and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaub and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Waters and daughter and Mrs. Schaub enjoyed Thanksgiving Dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worsham in McLean.

Ben Karnes of Dallas and his daughter, Alexa Karnes, of Breckenridge, were guests of his mother, Mrs. R.L. Karnes three days last week.

TRAVELING TEXAS WOODLANDS—Texas tree farms provide a major source of agricultural income for the state and thickly wooded East Texas is also one of the state's biggest tourist draws. "The high price of gasoline and the possibility of future shortages makes fuel conservation a necessity," said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. "A vacation in the state is one way to save gasoline, and there's no better place to visit than the woods of East Texas."

Shamrock Seeks Tourist Bureau

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has been requested to place a new tourist bureau at the intersection of US 83 and IH 40 at Shamrock.

Some 40 representatives appeared before the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission at a recent meeting. Heading the delegation was State Representative Phil Cates, also Shamrock Chamber of Commerce manager.

The proposal also included a valuable donation of land, offered by the Worley Estate. Among the supporters of the Shamrock delegation were the Hon. Bill Clayton, Speaker of the Texas House, and Representatives Bill Bynum and James E. Laney.

Pvt. George Tipton of Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clark and Mary Ann. He has been in the Army since August.

Norwood Splits Close Games With Shamrock

Samnorwood Eagles defeated the Shamrock Irish in a close game 38-35 at Shamrock Tuesday night, November 25. The Eaglettes, however, lost an even closer game 59-57 in overtime play.

Both games were among the most hotly contested for either Samnorwood team this year.

Cindy Coleman was top scorer for the Eaglettes with 29 points.

Teague Named By Comptroller

AUSTIN--Comptroller Bob Cullock announced Friday he has appointed Bill Teague as manager of his Amarillo district office, effective December 1.

Teague, 49, is being transferred from the Comptroller's Brownsville office.

"I've made the promise that I will turn the Comptroller's office into the best agency in state government," Bullock said. "To do that, I've got to start out with the best people, Bill Teague is one of those."

A retired 21-year Air Force veteran, Teague has an associate degree in government and took 110 hours as an accounting major at the University of Texas at Arlington.

He and his wife, Charlene have two children--Ronald, 24, and Cheryl, 19, both living in Fort Worth.

Teague is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Elks Club.

Sugar Prices May Drop

COLLEGE STATION--Remember the high sugar prices and widespread hoarding just a short year ago. Well, if the current outlook for sugar production in the United States and rest of the world is accurate, sugar supplies will be plentiful during the coming year. So, consumers may see a slight softening in retail prices.

"U.S. production of both sugarcane and sugar beets should be up sharply this year compared to 1974," points out Dr. Russell McDonald, economist in marketing for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has estimated sugarcane output will be up about 14 per cent while production from sugar beets may be up 25 per cent from levels a year ago.

At the same time that production is expanding, per capita consumption of refined sugar in the U.S. is down, notes the Texas A&M University System economist. Each American may consume less than 90 pounds of refined sugar this year, the lowest amount since the sugar-short years of World War II.

"The decline in sugar use is mainly due to consumer resistance to high prices of sugar and sugar-containing products," believes McDonald. "Also, a new high-fructose corn syrup is becoming available in larger quantities and is competing with the sugar market."

The economist notes that the decreasing consumption of sugar is not unique to the U.S. alone. Demand is also expected to be down in Europe, Japan and Canada.

What effect will the larger sugar crop have on prices?

New Cotton Batting More Flame Resistant

RALEIGH--A highly resilient cushioning and bedding material that can meet present and anticipated federal fire safety standards has been developed by researchers on behalf of U.S. cotton producers.

The new batting has been assigned the trademark, "Flex-Xel." It is made from cotton lint, cotton motes--a low grade byproduct of ginning and milling--and other textile wastes.

The U.S. may drop as low as $17 per hundred pounds this fall," says McDonald, "after rising above the $23 level at mid-August.

"This means that consumers may see a little relief at the supermarket. But for those hoping for sugar at the bargain basement prices of several years ago, it's just not in the cards," contends the economist.

PUBLIC NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 406

AN ORDINANCE FIXING AND DETERMINING THE GENERAL SERVICE RATE TO BE CHARGED FOR SALES OF NATURAL GAS TO RESIDENTIAL, COMMERCIAL CONSUMERS AND INDUSTRIAL WITHIN THE CITY OF WELLINGTON, COLLINGS-WORTH COUNTY, TEXAS; PROVIDING FOR COMMERCIAL FEES AND MISCELLANEOUS GAS RATES ADJUSTMENT; AND PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER IN WHICH SUCH RATES MAY BE CHANGED, ADJUSTED AND AMENDED.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WELLINGTON, TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Residential and Commercial Service.

a. Effective with the first gas bills rendered from and after thirty (30) days from the date of final passage of this ordinance, the maximum general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the City Limits of Wellington by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas Corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

FIRST - 1,000 cu. ft. or less thereof $2.689 Gross; $2.42 Net

NEXT - 24,000 cu. ft. at $1.8000 per Mcf Gross; $1.62 per Mcf Net

NEXT - 25,000 cu. ft. at $1.6889 per Mcf Gross; $1.52 per Mcf Net

NEXT - 25,000 cu. ft. at $1.7889 per Mcf Gross; $1.61 per Mcf Net

ALL OVER - 75,000 cu. ft. at $1.4778 per Mcf Gross; $1.33 per Mcf Net

b. Until such time as the .04 cents adjustment per mcf totalling $13,413.00 permitted by the Railroad Commission of Texas in G.U.D. #588 has been reduced to zero, Lone Star Gas Company is authorized to charge .04 cents per mcf in addition to the rates authorized above. At such time as the $13,413.00 recovery permitted by the Railroad Commission of Texas has been reduced to zero by the additional charge of .04 cents, said .04 cents charge shall terminate. Lone Star Gas Company shall provide monthly statements showing the amount billed for the .04 cents per mcf additional charge, the amount collected and the amount uncollected hereof. If Lone Star Gas Company errs in billing said .04 cents, it shall refund any excess charge to the customer.

The amount of each net

monthly bill computed at the above stated rates shall be subject to the following adjustment: Plus an amount equivalent to the proportionate part of any new tax, or increased tax, or any other governmental imposition, rental, fee, or charge [except state, county, city and special district ad valorem taxes and taxes on net income] levied, assessed or imposed subsequent to October 24, 1975, upon or allocable to the Company's distribution operations, by any new or amended law, ordinance or contract. Each gross monthly bill shall be adjusted proportionately.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing dates; gross rate shall be applicable thereafter.

The above rate is applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per meter per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct, its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect.

SECTION 2: The rate set forth in Section 1 may be changed and amended by either the City or Company furnishing gas in the manner provided by law.

a. Any reduction in the intracompany city gate charge shall be passed on to the burner tip customers. Said reductions shall specifically include the reduction in cost of gas effected by the sale of natural gas by-products extracted from the natural gas which is eventually sold to the burner tip customers. Company shall supply to City records on a three (3) month basis, showing the revenue received from the extraction of by-products from the natural gas which is eventually sold to the burner tip customers.

b. Company shall pay City 3 percent of gross receipts for street rental and gross receipts tax purposes on all gas sold to residential, commercial and industrial customers located within the City Limits of the City of Wellington.

SECTION 3: The fact that there is an imperative public need for an ordinance fixing and determining the rate for gas and gas services furnished to the residential and commercial consumers creates an emergency and the reading and passage of this ordinance at three separate meetings is hereby suspended and this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force thirty (30) days from and after the date of its passage at a single meeting and approval thereof by the Mayor.

PASSED AND APPROVED on this the 24th day of October, 1975.

Grading

Harold Elbert

Deck's Didactics

—by Deskins Wells

Wellington is basking in the glow of another excellent crop of both grain sorghum and cotton and each crop is bringing a price that should increase the bank deposits to record levels by next March.

As was pointed out in this paper last week, the grade and price are very good. Fears of an unfavorable mike test have gone away on the sandy land as well as the heavier soil. This is only a guess, but it is based on acreage, expected yield per acre and price. Cotton alone may put between $7 million and $8 million in the banks before the crop is all gathered. Add to this the grain sorghum and you have quite an increase in bank deposits.

Certainly we had the best football team and we should have gone farther; but consider the frame of mind of the average Perryton fan. They had the best team and also played in the Bi-District playoff.

The Perryton-Pecos score was 0-0 at the half and the Rangers made it 14-0 with two hard-earned drives in the third quarter. The score stayed at that figure until Pecos made a touchdown with less than three minutes remaining in the game. Perryton still had a comfortable lead, 14 to 6, because Pecos' extra point attempt for two points failed.

Pecos kicked on-side to the Rangers and the short kick was recovered by Pecos. Pecos made another quick touchdown but once again their two-point try failed, and Perryton still lead 14-12.

With less than a minute of play Pecos made another short kick-off and again recovered. This started a drive which enabled them to make a field goal in the closing seconds of the game, and walk away with a 15-14 win.

Coach Don Beck, whose first head-coaching job was at Wellington, and who was coach here the last time the Rockets went to Bi-District, told friends that he would have to live with that score but that he could never accept it.

Quail Takes Double Header From Shamrock

Quail Bobwhites and Quails took a double header over Shamrock on the Irish court Monday, Dec. 1, with the girls winning a close 59-56 and the boys coming up victors 62-44.

Free shots made the difference in the girls game, said Coach Bill Wilson, as the Bobwhites made 25 of the 37 they attempted. The Irish Lassies seemed foul-prone, making 26 during the evening compared to Quail's 11.

The score was never more than a few points apart, with Quail leading 10-8 at the first period, and trailing a point, 26-25. The Bobwhites had stretched their lead by 5 points at the third, 43-38.

Kathy Guthrie led Quail's scoring with 23 points, while Sharon Childers made 15 and Carol Daves one.

Mindy Henley scored 20 for Shamrock.

Shamrock Irish are fresh from football and have not yet settled into their cage pace. Quail led 18-8 at the first period, 32-20 at halftime and 48-28 at the third. Although the Irish outscored the Quails 16-14 in the final period, this did nothing to alter the score.

Brian Barton had 18 points for Quail, Gary Wischkaemper 17, Tommy Caldwell 12, Johnny Needham 10, Harvey Oatman 6 and Charles Hall one.

A.R. VAUGHAN

A. R. Vaughan New Pastor of Assembly of God

A clergyman who grew up near Wellington has returned as pastor of the Assembly of God.

The Rev. and Mrs. A.R. (Raymond) Vaughan arrived late last week from Hobbs, N.M. to begin his pastorate.

After conducting revival meetings in this area several years, Rev. Vaughan entered full time ministry in 1941. His first pastorate was at Canadian, where he built the church, and also organized an out-station church and constructed a building at Mobeetie.

He followed this with pastorates at McCamey, then Mexia, where he built an out-station at Groesbeck. Returning to West Texas, he was pastor at Pecos, then moved to Lovington, N.M.

A heart attack forced him to give up that pastorate and the couple established their home in Hobbs, N.M. During 1973, they lived for six months at their home in Wellington, then returned to Hobbs and his work at Lovington.

Rev. Vaughan is a brother of Coy Vaughan and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vaughan of Rolla. He graduated from high school here.

Mrs. Vaughan, the former Vida Reeves, grew up east of Wellington and attended Grassbur School. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reeves.

The pastor and his wife have four children, all born in Collingsworth County: Leonard Vaughan of Lubbock, Mrs. Dave (Gwen) Lewis of Hamlin, Teddy Vaughan of Colombia, Mo., and Benny R. Vaughan of San Antonio.

1976 Conservation Student Essay Contest Announced

The 1976 Texas Conservation Awards Program essay contest for boys and girls is open and students of the Wellington, Quail and Samnorwood schools have been invited to participate, Billy Moseley, director, announced this week.

This contest has been held annually throughout Texas since the early 1950's and Salt Fork Soil Conservation District has had a number of winners on both the regional and state level.

Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District No. 133 is the local sponsor.

The essay subject this year is "Conserving Our Land After 200 Years," said Mr. Moseley.

Salt Fork SCD will pay $25.00 for the best school entry and $5.00 to each class winner. Winning essays will then be judged on the state level. Awards of $100 cash and a trophy will go to the state champion and three trophies will be awarded in each of the five state regions.

Students are to turn their entries in to the Salt Fork SCD.

Entries should be turned in by January 16, 1976.

Cunninghams Home From Fishing Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cunningham returned Tuesday, December 2, after a month and a half of fishing at Aransas Pass.

"Weather was beautiful most of the time, and we caught lots of fish. We met many old friends we had known before," said Mrs. Cunningham.

They returned through the hill country and found the trees especially beautiful, with leaves of every color.

Among the Wellington people they saw were Mr. and Mrs. Murl Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Horton, Mr. and Mrs. R.T. Savage, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Caison.

Mrs. Ratliff Home After Visiting Kin

Mrs. Ben Ratliff returned home Saturday from a visit with her children, during which she saw one grandson, Aaron Ratliff, play in the New Mexico high school semi-final football game.

The game came during the time she was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ratliff, Aaron and Carman, in Clayton, N.M. The group--along with most of Clayton--drove 300 miles to Dexter, N.M. to see the two teams play. Dexter won the game.

She also visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ray Ratliff and family at Shallowater, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Griffin, and children of Amarillo. The Griffins brought Mrs. Ratliff home.

They are to be not more than 300 words in length. Essays will be judged in the district and each district champion essay will be sent to Fort Worth for selection of the state and regional champions.

"This is an open contest to boys and girls 18 years and under, and does not jeopardize Texas Interscholastic League eligibility," declared Mr. Moseley.

Schools or individuals entering the contest who would like any additional help or information may contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Wellington.

Rockets Win Over Norwood in Opener

The Skyrockets defeated the Samnorwood Eagles 75-42 in Wellington's opener Tuesday night, December 2. The game was in Rocket Gym.

"It was good to see that many points scored the first game. I just didn't expect that much of the offense this early," said Coach Robert represented by TOAC.

Members then passed a resolution releasing a paving lien and tax lien on a piece of property, lot 19, block 193, requested by Bill Spillman, who is searching the title.

A judgement of $18.50 was assessed against this property in 1922-53 years ago.

It is another of the lots against which paving liens were assessed, which there is reason to believe were paid off. Yet there is no record of this. On such property, it is the city's custom to pass a motion releasing the lien to clear title.

As a part of this discussion, it was brought out that there are many vacant lots, especially in northwest Wellington, on which taxes are many years delinquent. Many are of doubtful ownership.

City manager Glen Taylor pointed out that the city has a contract with a firm of Amarillo tax lawyers for collection of delinquent taxes, but nothing is currently being done. The city can take no action against these lots until the contract expires, Taylor said.

"We've got lots over there grown up with rat-infested brush," and "We have $50,000 worth of water and sewer pipe in that no-mans land," were among the comments coming from the council.

Members agreed that when the city is free to act, it should file on these lots, take them over and clean them up.

Former owners would have two years in which to redeem their property, but at the end of that time, the city would be free to act toward the development of these areas, which include some excellent building sites.

No official action was taken on this.

Wolf Minister of Ft. Worth Street Church of Christ

Fort Worth Street church of Christ has hired Lynn Wolf as local evangelist on November 30. The church has been without a minister since Enock Fuller left in mid-September.

Mr. Wolf graduated from Wellington High School in 1965 and Clarendon College in 1967. He then attended East Texas State University, Commerce and is a graduate of GRACE (Garnett Road Academy of Christian Education) in Tulsa.

He taught and coached football at Estelline and also preached there for a year. He followed this with ministries in churches of Christ at Cache, Oklahoma, Tulsa, Oklahoma, Cherryvale, Kansas, McKeesport, Pa., and Bismarck, N.D.

His last place of service for the church of Christ was at Denver, Colorado, where he was director of a Christian camp.

Mr. Wolf has held evangelistic meetings in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. He has also held a number of personal evangelism workshops for various congregations.

Mr. Wolf is married to the former Linda Moore, now on the staff of The Wellington Leader. They have two children, Lelia, 6, and Lindi, two.

year at the Samnorwood School--where she was a member of its third graduating class, in 1937.

She has lived in the county since she was 8 years old.

Since becoming a teacher's aide, she has also begun work toward her bachelor's degree. She now has 49 hours of credit from Clarendon College, Texas Tech University, West Texas State University and Amarillo College. She laughs when she mentions the number.

Much of this has been extension courses or by correspondence, but she has had three summers of residence work and two courses offered over TV.

Additionally, she studied art a year under Ronald Howerton of Amarillo, in his Shamrock class.

The new author is the wife of John Simpson, and they live in the Lutie community. They have one son, Mark, and a daughter-in-law, Debbie.

Firemen Honor The Memory of Danny Greenway

Wellington Volunteer Fire Department recently sponsored a plaque in Memory of Danny Greenway, a member who died in a vehicle accident earlier in the year.

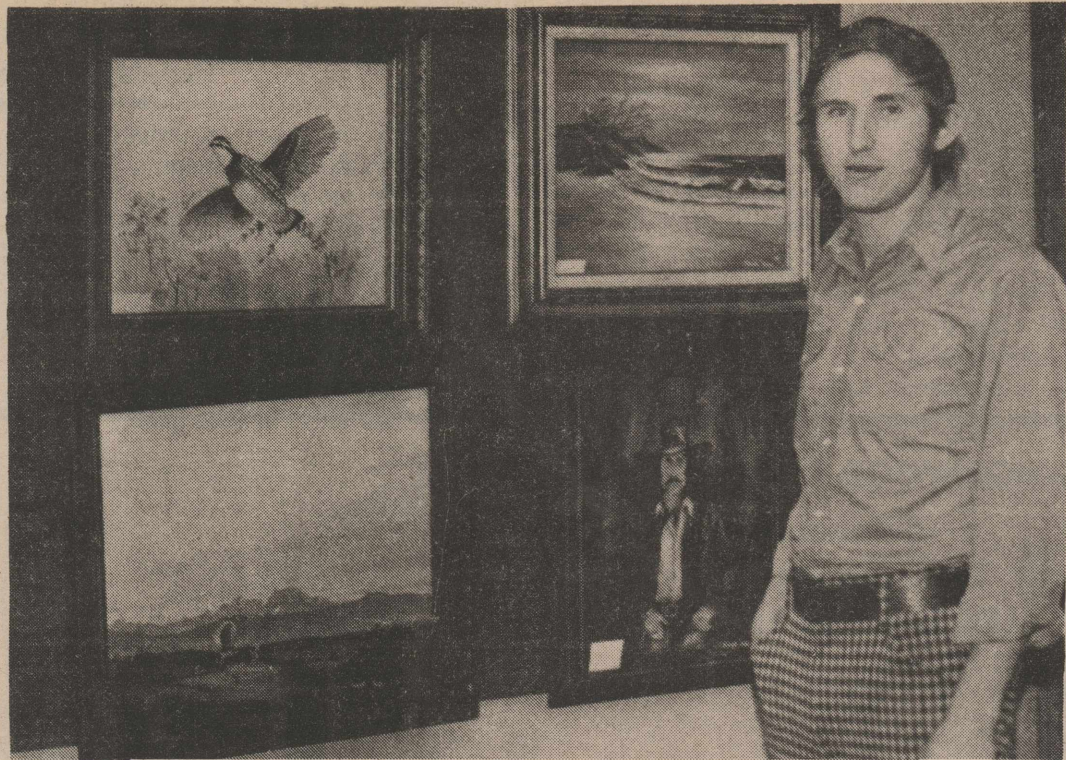

The presentation ceremony was held by the Firemen's Auxiliary recently, and the plaque was given to Mr. Greenway's widow, Judy, by Mrs. Jerry Settle, president.

Inscribed on it was: "In Memory of Danny Greenway, 1973-1975."

This was the period during which he was a member of the fire department.

Chief David Peters praised him as a "good fireman".

A tea for Mrs. Greenway followed the presentation.

NEW QUARTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Holland, owners of Livestock Supply, recently moved into this new western style building constructed especially for their needs. It is located on Highway US 83 South and is across the highway from their former location.

Voting Begins for 1976 C-C Officers

Voting is under way for 1976 Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce officers, with ballots going in the mail during the weekend, according to Mrs. Margaret Vines, manager.

The slate of officers presented by the nominating committee is unopposed.

Henry Wells was nominated for president; Lyman Daniel, first vice-president; Mrs. Esta Glenn, second vice-president; and Billy Moseley, treasurer.

Three directors will be elected from a slate of six, Denny Marcum, Dr. Mark Fires, Mrs. Judy Hall, Bob Bell, Trusten Thomas and Travis McGuire.

Sandy Parsons is the retiring president, while Mr. Wells is vice-president, Mrs. Glenn second vice-president, and Mr. Moseley treasurer.

Retiring directors are Mr. McGuire, Mr. Thomas and Mrs. Charlene Poteet.

Members of the nominating committee were Truett Holland, Bill Hatch and Jack Kennedy. Officers serve for one year, while terms of the directors are two years.

MR. & MRS. PETE FAST

Fast Directs Church Work in Four States

Mr. and Mrs. Pete W. Fast have resigned their work at Applewood Baptist Church, Denver, Colorado, and he has accepted the invitation of the Executive Board of the Northern Plains Baptist Convention to become an associate in the teaching-training division. His principal responsibilities will be in the areas of adult and youth work and music. He began his work December 1.

Mrs. Fast will be remembered as Naomi Slay, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Slay.

His new work covers four states, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana, and the couple will live in Rapid City, South Dakota. Fasts were at Denver four years.

Montana is his native state. He was born in Frazer into a Christian Mennonite home, and lived on a farm until he was 19. He holds degrees from Northwestern Bible School and Seminary in Minneapolis, Minn.; Hardin-

Vermillion Goes To DPW Office At Lubbock

Tom Vermillion, social service worker with the State Department of Public Welfare, has been transferred to Lubbock, in a similar capacity.

He began work December 1.

Coming to Wellington a year ago, Mr. Vermillion was with the child welfare protective service, which handles child abuse cases and family service. He will work only in family services at Lubbock.

Mrs. Vermillion has been a student at Texas Tech this semester and will graduate in May with a psychology major. Vermillion will enroll as a graduate student at the beginning of the second semester, studying in the field of sociology.

He holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Texas at El Paso, where his wife was a student. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club during the time they lived here.

Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Prior to going to Colorado the Fasts served churches in Odessa, San Benito, Port Arthur, Tulia and Houston. At Port Arthur, he directed all festivals of the music for the district and led his church choir in Handel's "Messiah" five consecutive Christmas seasons. He also directed TV programs sponsored by the ministerial alliance.

He was ordained to the ministry by Lamar Avenue Baptist Church, Wichita Falls, which he had previously served as minister of education and music.

Mrs. Fast, a graduate of Wellington High School and Hardin Simmons, is a talented musician in both organ and piano and has joined her husband in much of his work. The Fasts have one daughter, who is married and lives in Texas.

Her brother, Jack Slay, will join them in Rapid City and will be involved in the program for the handicapped.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson were their son-in-law, F.R. Hitchcock, of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dickey of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Beam, Cameron Brent, Leigh Ann and Linda of Amarillo.

JANET BROCK

Janet Brock Wins Honors

Janet Brock, 17, a senior in Portales, N.M. High School, recently was inducted into the National Honor Society. From a senior class of 146 students, she also has been nominated for New Mexico State Student of the Year by her school faculty.

With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brock, Janet visited her grandmother, Mrs. Bura Handley, over the Thanksgiving Holidays.

Her nomination for the honor society, made by her teachers, was based on her contribution to school, community and family affairs, scholastic achievement, good citizenship, etc. She has been an honor student four years.

Janet attended Girls State in the summer and as a delegate, she was speaker recently for Democratic Women. Using the theme, "Happy Birthday to the United States of America," she said in part, "This is my country. This land is my land. May we keep it steadfast, unflinching and calm, building bridges of good character, tolerance, kindness and love. To live here is a precious privilege. May we have the wisdom to pursue it."

Janet is on the staff of the school newspaper, the Rampage; the Ramettes varsity basketball team; has earned 7 National Guild awards in piano and is a member of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA.

Recently she was the Portales Kiwanis Club speaker on "American Leadership. She is active in the church of Christ.

Janet was born here and moved to Portales in 1967.

Mrs. J.F. Michael had as Thanksgiving guests her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Michael, Charles and Cathy, of Garden City, Kansas.

Billy C. Walsh Dies at Cisco

A former Wellington man, Billy Charles Walsh, 30, of Cross Plains, died unexpectedly at Cisco Wednesday, November 26. He was employed in road construction work.

Funeral services were conducted at the church of Christ in Cross Plains Friday, November 28, and burial was in Cottonwood Cemetery.

He was the husband of the former Patricia Young, whom he married here on July 1, 1968. The couple lived in Wellington during 1973.

Survivors are his widow; his mother, Mrs. Pauline Champion; and a brother, William Champion Jr., all of Cross Plains.

Going from here to the service were Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Young, Mrs. Peggy Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Null and David, and their daughter, Mrs. Bill Adams of Albuquerque, N.M.

pointment to head Nazarene Bible College at Thornlands, Queensland, Australia, to be totally responsible for its activities. He will describe its work and function.

Each church will make a deputation offering which will go to buy Dr. Bolerjack an automobile after he arrives in Australia, said the Rev. J.L. Jackson, Wellington pastor.

Representatives will attend from churches at Quanah, Dodson, Clarendon, Wheeler, Shamrock, Childress and Wellington. A time of fellowship and refreshments will come at the close of the service.

Joel Ross, a student in the University of Texas Permian Basin at Odessa spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ross of Quail.

Greer County Markers Honor Early Ranchers

Four granite memorial markers honoring pioneers of Old Greer County were unveiled at ceremonies in Mangum Friday, November 28. Two of these honored men who for many years had ranch holdings in north-eastern Collingsworth.

George W. Boys, cowboy, rancher and banker, had the Boyd Ranch in the Needwood community east of Lutie. He first came to Greer County in 1876 with buffalo hunters and established his own ranch. He was born September 12, 1859, in Coryell County, Texas. He founded the First National Bank in Mangum in 1900 and was active in the bank until his death in August 1937. His son Albert Boyd then owned the ranch, which now belongs to his estate.

Louis Tittle was born December 14, 1887, in Mangum, while Greer County was still part of Texas. He was said to have been the first white child born in Mangum. He grew up at the family home near Granite, known as "Tittle's Grove", finished high school in Granite and later attended a business college. For 20 years he was in real estate and insurance in Mangum. He also was a member of the Oklahoma Highway Commission for many years. Tittle's Lost Creek Ranch bordered the Oklahoma state line. Mr. Tittle died a few years ago and his family still owns the ranch.

Others honored Friday were Isaac Jasper Nelson, pioneer sheriff, and Ray Schaffenburg, the second living inductee into the Old Greer County Hall of Fame. The ceremony Friday brings to 8 the number inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Cotton Supplies Limited But Price Increases

Grower prices increased 75 to 200 points during the week ending Friday, November 28, according to T.J. Proske, in charge of the Memphis Texas Cotton Classing Office. Trading remained light, with supplies limited. Moderate demand was reported. Offerings were in mixed lots of mainly new crop cotton. Lots composed mostly of grades 31, 41, and 42; staples 30, 31, and 32; and 3.5 through 4.9 mike brought 46.50 to 47.00 cents per pound. Lots of similar grades and staples with 3.3-3.4 mike brought 45.50 to 46.00 cents. Lots containing lower mikes and/or lower grades brought 38.00 to 42.00 cents.

Grade 41 predominated in this weeks classing accounting for 41 per cent. Grade 42 made up 19 per cent. Staple 31 made up 52 per cent of the total while staples 30 and 32 comprised 25 and 20 per cent respectively. Mike readings were in the desirable range of 3.5-4.9 on 70 per cent of the samples classed compared to 64 per cent last week. The 3.0-3.2 and 3.3-3.4 ranges accounted for 12 and 15 per cent respectively.

Prices paid growers for cottonseed were reported at $80 and $90 per ton.

Approximately 4700 samples were classed at Memphis for the week ending Friday, November 28th. This brought the season total to 15,000 for the Memphis area.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

FARMERS AND SALES TAX LAWS

Austin—The Texas sales tax laws have some very good exemptions for agricultural purchases, but farmers and ranchers should be aware of certain limitations on those exemptions.

We have very few problems interpreting the exemption on seeds, fertilizers and animal feeds bought by farmers and ranchers. But there is frequent confusion about exemptions on agricultural machinery and equipment.

The law says the exemption applies to machinery and equipment "exclusively" used in producing food for humans or feed for animals. The law's use of the word "exclusively" puts strict limitations on the exemption.

A tractor purchased for use on a farm or ranch would be exempt from the sales tax. However, if the same tractor is used to level a lot for a friend who is building a house, the exemption is lost because the tractor is no longer used "exclusively" on a farm or ranch.

Likewise, fence posts and wire are not exempt because they are not machinery or equipment within the framework of the law. By the same token, baling wire and twine used for hay cannot be exempt to an individual baling hay for his own use.

A person who bales hay for sale to others may buy baling wire and twine tax exempt under the other provisions of the law regarding "packaging materials".

Repair and replacement parts for agriculture machinery and equipment are exempt from the sales tax—but only if the replacement part is designed "specifically" for the machine being repaired.

The equipment exemption is further restricted by sales tax regulations on real estate improvements—which is to say that if a feed bin is portable it can be exempt, but if it is "nailed down" so that it becomes a part of the real estate it is subject to the tax.

An example might be a portable loading chute which is capable of being moved from pasture to pasture. It would be exempt. But if you built the same type of chute and anchored its posts in the ground, it would be a permanent improvement and the sales tax would have to be paid on all the materials used.

The same rule would apply to portable or temporary buildings.

Finally, there are no exemptions for what are considered "expendable supplies"—including hand tools, oils and grease, rope, lumber, nuts, bolts, nails and latches.

A farmer or rancher making exempt purchases must sign an "exemption certificate" when the purchase is made. The exemption certificate is simply a statement in which the buyer says he will use the tax-exempt purchase in compliance with the sales tax law. These certificates are very important to the supplier when he files his sales tax return.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vineyard and Kevin of Manhattan, Kansas, were here for the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wilson. Vinyard is a ministerial student in Manhattan Bible College.

Thomas Handles Food Stamps for Hall County

John Alf Thomas, public welfare worker in charge of food stamps, has been given additional duties in charge of the food stamp office for Hall County, effective December 1.

He will be in Memphis each Monday and Tuesday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and in Turkey on the first and third Wednesdays.

Wellington office days will be each Thursday and Friday and also the fourth Wednesday, he said. Second Wednesdays of each month are reserved for staff meetings.

He replaces Jimmy Don Rothwell, who was transferred from Memphis to the Childress food stamp office.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blevins and Candace of Colorado Springs, Colorado visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Patterson, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Blevins, during Thanksgiving.

LETTERS from the People

Dear Deck,

Our only regret concerning the O'Neil Historical Building dedication was that we did not have a chance to visit with you.

It was a memorable occasion for all of us. The obvious hard work and extensive planning done by Mrs. L.C. Hill and Mrs. Clyde Drake, with the assistance of many other friends, resulted in a ceremony and reception flawless in every detail.

It was a "class" operation from beginning to end. Please convey our admiration and gratitude to all those involved.

My immediate family have kidded me a lot about being so loyal to my home town. (I still look first for the Wellington Skyrocket score on the sports page!) I am sure they understand a little better now why I am always proud to say "I'm from Wellington."

Best wishes to all.

The Spirit of Christmas Is in Our Holiday Events

Wellington approaches Christmas with a season full of entertainment, more perhaps, than in many years. And in the Wellington tradition, these are things of importance, but with variety to please many tastes.

Beginning Thursday night, there will be the tree lighting ceremony and carol singing by the Scouting groups. This is a pleasant interlude for those who will be shopping during the late hours planned by several merchants.

Eating is part of the festival of Christmas and women of First United Methodist Church will hold their annual dinner Saturday, December 6.

The relaxed, informal manner in which this is held each year makes it a time of visiting, and in fact, it is a place to see people whose paths don't cross yours.

Our Bicentennial Christmas observance comes Monday, December 8, with the Sing-Song at the High School. This will be reminiscent of community holiday singings that have been part of our heritage from the earliest days of our nation. Many of the songs will be old, but the newer Christmas music will have its place.

As Christmas approaches, the spiritual will become more apparent, and Christmas Cantatas will be given on two Sunday evenings. First United Methodist Church will present its traditional cantata on December 14, and First Baptist Church will feature its choirs December 21.

The people of Wellington and the surrounding area who have put together this joyful calendar of events deserve our congratulations.

5-Feet-6

Two years ago author James Michener spent a day in the museum at West Texas State. His host was Boone McClure, long time boss of the museum and authority of cowboys. Michener was doing a chapter in his book, "Centennial" on the cowboy.

Boone cautioned him not to make his cowboys giants.

"Most of the good ones were slight in stature," he told the writer. "More like little Larry Mahan, the rodeo champ, than like John Wayne."

Boone recalled for his guest a reunion of some of the old boys from the JA Ranch, in the shadow of which Boone grew up.

"I got three of them up on the platform with me and introduced them as the world's greatest. They were Jim Christian, Mitch Bell, and Fred Scott—all of them the same height as myself—five feet six."

Later Boone asked each of these old-timers privately to pick the best two cowboys of the JA. Each picked the other two."

Drinking Among the Elderly

Advancing years for elderly people can be among the most gratifying of their lives. The satisfaction and feeling of accomplishment one experiences, for instance, as he watches his family grow and mature serve to fulfill a basic human need.

Thousands of older citizens turn to alcohol, however, and it is not at all difficult to understand why. Unfortunately, for a certain portion of the older population, these years are clouded by depression resulting from loneliness, poor health, financial difficulties, and boredom.

The problem is identifying these people, who have been edged out of the mainstream of daily activities by a youth-oriented society, and then providing them with the special treatment and attention they need.

It is sometimes the case that a family is able to detect a drinking problem in an elderly member, but out of reluctance to show disrespect, remains silent. Some families actually encourage drinking among elderly members, believing that it makes them easier to deal with.

Much support has recently been given to the view that proper treatment administered to older problem drinkers yields highly favorable results.

AUSTIN — State health programs for the needy may have to be cut back after January 1 unless the State Welfare budget can be altered.

While the department may have $100 million or more in unspent state and federal funds for 1976-77, the money apparently cannot be transferred from other programs to health services.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said a health program deficit in fiscal 1977 may run as high as $76 million.

Welfare officials said they can operate within the overall appropriations available if they can move funds from program to program. However, the legislature has prohibited such transfers.

The State Board of Public Welfare authorized staff sessions with Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the Legislative Budget Board to seek transfer power.

The alternative, according to Welfare Budget Analyst Wes Hjernevik, is reducing or discontinuing nearly all health services for the aged, blind, disabled and other welfare recipients.

Most of the shortage, Hjernevik said, is due to spiralling medical care costs.

Welfare officials are contemplating reducing hospital stay maximums from 30 to 15 days, discontinuing intermediate care nursing home payments, limiting drug prescriptions to two per month and cutting off payments for glasses, dentures and hearing aids.

Control to State

Texas Air Control Board said the federal government is giving the state management of air sampling programs January 1.

The Board will collect for federal study air samples in 14 places — a job now done by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Matagorda County, Pasadena, Tom Green County, Austin, San Antonio and Wichita Falls are sampled areas. City workers will be called on to collect information. The Air Control Board samples air at 100 sites in a state program started seven years ago.

Blue Cross Extended

Blue Cross' Medicaid contract with the state was extended 60 days by the State Welfare Board, though the company won't permit audits of its administrative costs.

A company official indicated the state auditor may be permitted at last to check the "methodology" of its accounting system. But he did not say a real audit of the books would be permitted.

Carrillo Sentenced

District Judge O. P. Carrillo has been sentenced to five years imprisonment, five years probation and a $22,000 fine for filing false income tax returns.

Carrillo still faces impeachment trial by the Senate (now scheduled to begin January 5) and a removal proceeding before the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission.

An attorney for Carrillo and his brother, Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo, also sentenced on an income tax violation, said the conviction will be appealed.

AG Opinions

Waste disposal districts have authority to issue bonds for acquisition, construction and repair of disposal systems subject to review by the attorney general, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions, Hill said:

A city may grant automatic rate adjustments to a utility.

Contributions to pay expenses of the Southern Governors Conference in Texas do not have to be reported as campaign or lobby expenditures.

A state university cannot use either appropriated or auxiliary enterprise funds to purchase liability insurance for its administrative officers and regents.

The legislature may constitutionally vest control of the Texas School for the Blind in five members of the State Board of Education.

A lease of federal land to get the purchase price of parking facilities on the site conveys to the lessee no separately taxable real property interest in facilities.

Appointments

Ed Leach of Longview and Jack C. Kellam of Van were named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to the Texas Historical Commission.

Briscoe reappointed San Antonio Mayor Lila Cockrell and Fred N. Pfeiffer of San Antonio to the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. The Governor also picked Don Rogers of Austin and Pledge B. Cate Jr. of San Antonio to the Advisory Commission.

Briscoe placed Carl Smith of Flatonia, W. C. White of San Angelo and John Worsham of Corpus Christi on the Egg Marketing Advisory Board. Other recent appointments by the governor included Carl W. Swenson of Ganado, Hans R. Wittenberg of Edna and Joe Bonnot of Lolita to the Lavaca-Navidad River Authority Board of Directors; Mrs. Katherine M. Birkner of Maxwell to the State Health Advisory Committee and W. Sam Monroe of Port Arthur as Pilot Commissioner for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

Short Snorts

A three-judge federal court in Austin continued an order blocking implementation of Texas, new voter registration law until it is approved by the U. S. Justice Department.

Ernest Angel of Midland, Mrs. William Staff of Dallas and Ray Barnhart of Houston were selected co-chairmen of the Texas Ronald Reagan presidential campaign committee.

Services for Fred G. Hale Held Thursday

Funeral services for Fred G. Hale, 1108 Amarillo Street, were conducted Thursday, November 27, at 4:00 p.m. in the church of Christ, with Tom Anderson, minister, officiating.

Graveside rites were held Friday at 2:00 p.m. at Resthaven Memorial Park, Lubbock. Arrangements were by Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were James Hale, Tom Loop, Leon Chandler, Sid Bell, Victor Garza, Ronnie Blanton and J.R. Nelson.

Mr. Hale was dead on arrival at Collingsworth General Hospital about 9:00 p.m. Monday of an apparent heart attack. He was stricken at his home.

Mr. Hale, born September 10, 1906, at McMinnville, Tenn., was a retired farmer. He came here 6 years ago from Lubbock.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Ruth Hale of Wellington; a son, Fred G. Hale, Jr. of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Jo Gyles of Missoula, Montana; three brothers,

One of the most successful battles waged by industry against individual state legislation is the fight put up by the beverage industry against anti-litter laws. Only two states, Oregon and Vermont have anti-litter laws which require a deposit on all beer and soft drink containers. But, last week, the Environmental Protection Agency got into the act by announcing a proposed guideline of a 5 cent deposit on every bottle or can sold on federal property, such as federal parks and military installations.

The federal market isn't Elmos Hale of Las Vegas, Nevada, George Hale of Wichita Falls; and E.S. Hale, Jr. of Wellington; two sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Hall and Mrs. Veta Mae Scott of Ft. Worth; 7 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

VA Pamphlet Tells Changes

A new edition of a basic Veterans Administration pamphlet, "Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents" (IS-1 Fact Sheet), has been distributed to the agency's field offices.

The current edition, which has 55 pages, reflects latest changes in VA benefits that big a percentage of the total beverage market—only 2% to 4% of all beverage sales. But the precedent could have wide effects as the states quickly follow with similar legislation.

The industry says the deposit is a poor way to control litter and that it is expensive, too. It is threatening lawsuits against the EPA action while pushing the results of a one year pilot project which focused on litter collection combined with an educational campaign to convince people not to litter and a change in local trash disposal ordinances.

The container manufacturers are up in the air over the proposed legislation but no one seems to have figured out who gets the raw end of the deal. The Can Manufac-

Rummel to Speak During Beltwide Cotton Meeting

LUBBOCK—Fifteen scientists and specialists from the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center here will present technical papers at the annual Beltwide Cotton Production Research Conference in Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 5-7.

The group will also attend the Beltwide Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference Jan. 7-9, following the production-research conferences. Dr. Bill Ott, resident director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, says the meetings will draw some 900 scientists and cotton industry representatives from 13 states.

Those attending are Drs. Bill Ott, Levon Ray, Jack Gipson, Don Rummel, and John Abernathy with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Also, Elmer Hudspeeth, Alan Brashears, and Drs. Don Wanjura, Calvin Orr, Earl Minton, Jerry Quisenberry, and Bruce Roark, representing the USDA-Agricultural Research Service; and Dr. James Supak, Dr. Robert Berry and Marvin Sartin with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The annual gathering is actually a series of technical workshops and seminars in which cotton researchers and specialists from various disciplines exchange ideas and information on cotton production, primarily through progress reports of ongoing research. Most of the reports are results of experiments conducted the previous year, Ott says.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Scott were their two daughters and families. Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Terry came from Kermit, along with their son, Mark, a student at South Plains College, Levelland; and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harrell and David of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dyer were here from Perryton, with their son and daughter, Don and Kallie, both students in Texas Tech University.
