Workings Of Atomic Reactor Are Revealed

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 21 (AP)—Some of the workings of the world's fastest atomic reactor were disclosed today after more than two years of secret operations.

Although the achievements of the 18-million-dollar pile of concrete and complicated machinery are spectacular in a scientific way, they have to do more with the atom of the future than with immediate problems in that field.

Specifically, the high-powered instrument is spelling out for nuclear scientists some of the things they can and cannot do when they build the reactors of the future—the atomic ovens which are being counted upon to make power cheap and plentiful everywhere.

This instrument is called the Materials Testing Reactor. It is one of five main installations at the Atomic Energy Commission's national reactor testing station on a desolate sagebrush-covered plain 55 miles west of here. It was shown for the first time yesterday to newsmen in an AEC-conducted tour.

Although the heart of the MTR—the part which contains enriched uranium as fuel—is only about the size of two large suitcases, it can produce radiation faster than anything else on earth except an atom bomb or a hydrogen bomb.

This charge of uranium runs the reactor for two to three weeks, producing astronomical numbers of neutrons, which are the most important particles in atom smashing.

But even after the charge is "spent" and removed from the reactor it radiates enough X-rays to kill 40,000 people in one hour if they could be brought close enough to it.

So intense is the radiation inside the pile that it would turn a clear glass bottle almost black in three minutes. Steel becomes brittle when left in the beam of the radiation. Flexible plastics turn inflexible.

Tests such as these are telling scientists what materials will be needed and how they can be used to build reactors that will withstand the terrific and continuous onslaught of radiation in power installations of the future.

The tremendous output of neutrons from the MTR tops everything previously reported—500 trillion per hour, compared to 50 trillion produced by the Canadian heavy water reactor at Chalk River, Ontario.

This fantastic number is of great value to scientists because they will be dealing also with huge numbers of neutrons when they build more reactors, and it is the neutrons which are responsible for the radiation that might destroy their installations unless they plan carefully now against the known possibilities.

Another strange thing about the MTR is the terrific job it does in keeping itself cool. The temperature at some spots inside the uranium fuel charge reaches the tens of millions of degrees, yet the water which cools it never goes above a lukewarm 111 degrees.

The reason for this is the enormous amount of water used. It pours down a tube six feet in diameter and swirls past the hot core at the rate of 20,000 gallons a minute. It comes from the nearby Snake River.

Officials Say Program Okay

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Two federal agriculture officials said today they have the "utmost confidence" the emergency drought relief program will work if given time to work out the early rough spots.

They said they flew to Austin because Gov. Allan Shivers had advised Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson the program "was not working too well."

"He (Shivers) doesn't make those kind of statements unless he has something definite in mind," K.L. Scott, director of agricultural credit services of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, told reporters at a press conference.

Scott and his companion, administrator R.B. McLeaish of the farmers Home Administration, planned to meet with Shivers following his return from a day of Gulf Coast campaigning in his race for reelection.

With them was Walter McKay, state director of the FHA, which is the federal agency responsible for rules and regulations under which the drought aid program operates.

The rules for drought relief have been under fire from State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, and Shivers has asked that eligibility rules be replaced with those used in 1953.

Showers Dot Scurry Area

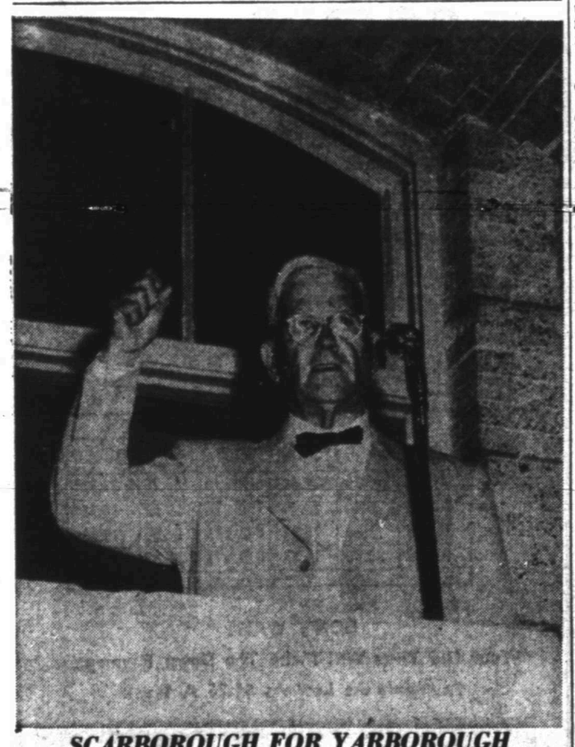

Showers fell on Scurry and surrounding counties yesterday and last night in varying amounts.

The rainfall ranged from sprinkles at Hermleigh and Ira before 8 o'clock last night to about 1.5 inches by that time at Gail.

In Snyder, an estimated .2 had fallen by that time. This is the second rain in August and the first measurable amount in about two weeks. It brings the total for the year to about 8.5 inches.

Fluvanna, up to late yesterday afternoon, had about .2 of an inch, while more fell about five miles northwest of there, reported to be one-half inch or more.

Lamesa was reported to have had about .60 of an inch by late yesterday afternoon.

SCARBOROUGH FOR YARBOROUGH

Dallas Scarborough, Abilene attorney, is shown above as he appeared on the west steps of the Scurry County courthouse last night to speak in behalf of Ralph Yarborough for governor of Texas. Alton Chapman, Floydada, district judge, Pat Bullock, Colorado City, former state senator; and Warren Burnett, Odessa, district attorney, also spoke. A Saturday night crowd of several hundred persons heard the rally speakers denounce the administration of Allan Shivers, who is seeking Democratic nomination in the second primary for another term as governor. Seven Vehicles In Two Wrecks

Two wrecks at the same location involving a total of seven vehicles occurred about five minutes apart early yesterday morning, one accident happening as a result of the other.

Officers of the sheriff's department estimated total damage to one late model Chevrolet sedan and about $500 damage to all the other vehicles involved. Investigating the two accidents, which occurred shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning were sheriff's deputies Bill Love, Buddy Norris, and Lowell Holt.

Here's how the accidents happened, according to the deputies:

Two vehicles, driving on the dusty, narrow road which runs west from the city limits to the rodeo grounds, were meeting at about the time the rodeo dance ended. Heavily traveled at that time, the road was very dusty and vision of the drivers was cut down. The two cars sideswiped as they met, so the drivers stopped.

The road was too narrow for the cars to get out of the driving lanes. More vehicles were on their way toward Snyder from the rodeo grounds, and a driver, as he approached the scene of the accident through the dust, did not see the two cars until he was very close. He stopped his car abruptly when he saw the cars in the road.

Four more vehicles were traveling close behind the first, and all of them piled up. One of the middle cars buckled and was damaged most. One car had no damage. Another was pulling a trailer with a horse.

None of the cars was travelling very fast, the occupties said, and no one was injured.

To Tour Soviet Union

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 21 (AP)—Twenty-five Indian dancers, musicians, dramatists, educators, artists and other cultural leaders plan to leave here Tuesday for a six-week tour of the Soviet Union. The visit will return a tour here earlier this year by a large Soviet delegation of performers and cultural leaders.

Power Pact Negotiations Made Public

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration tonight made public a blow-by-blow account of the negotiations and high-level arguments over its proposed private power contract in TVA territory—a contract it defended as "the best solution for everyone concerned."

The mass of letters, memos and other documents showed the Budget Bureau, backed by the President, pressing for the contract in the face of hot opposition from the Tennessee Valley Authority and some members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

But the Budget Bureau emphasized that President Eisenhower did not know until April 24—long after the contract negotiations were started—the names of the private utility officials proposing to enter into the contract.

This was by way of reply to a charge by Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell, that Eisenhower pressed for a contract in which a close personal friend—grandslam golfer Bobby Jones—had an interest.

Jones, now an Atlanta lawyer and business man, is a director of the Southern Co., one of two private utilities which would contract with the government to supply power.

The Southern Co. is headed by E. A. Yates as chairman of the board. The other company which would take part in the power contract is Middle South Utilities, Inc., of which Edward H. Dixon is president.

The combine, known as the Dixon-Yates group, would build a new power plant in the Memphis, Tenn., area. The AEC would buy the power and turn it over to the Tennessee Valley Authority in exchange for power the TVA delivers to the AEC installation at Paducah, Ky.

The proposal was made in view of statements by the TVA that it needed more power to meet the needs of consumers of various kinds.

TVA, vast government agency which among other things is in the public power field on a big scale, wanted to meet the greater power needs by building government-owned steam power generating capacity but the administration contends that in this instance a private contract is more in line with the free enterprise system.

The contract proposal came under hot fire recently in Congress, where backers of TVA accused the administration of seeking to hem in and nibble away that government project. This the administration denied. In the recently passed atomic energy legislation, the private power contract was authorized, though with certain limitations.

One of the documents made public tonight was a letter dated April 16 this year, in which AEC commissioners Eugene M. Zukert and Henry D. Smyth protested to the Budget Bureau that the Yates-Dixon contract "would involve the AEC in a matter remote from its responsibilities."

"In an awkward and unbusinesslike way, an additional federal agency would be concerned in the power business," they said.

"The present proposal," they wrote, "would create a situation whereby the AEC would be contracting for power, not one kilowatt of which would be used in connection with the commission's production activities. The creation of such a contractural relationship would place upon the commission a continuing responsibility during the 25-year life of the contract for stewardship in respect to matters irrelevant to the mission of the commission."

The two commissioners added, however, that if the President or Congress decided the AEC should accept "such a responsibility" they would attempt to carry out the directive.

Later, testimony before the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee disclosed that AEC Commissioner Thomas E. Murray also opposed the proposed contract for similar reasons.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Commissioner Joseph Campbell, Eisenhower appointees, said they favored the contract.

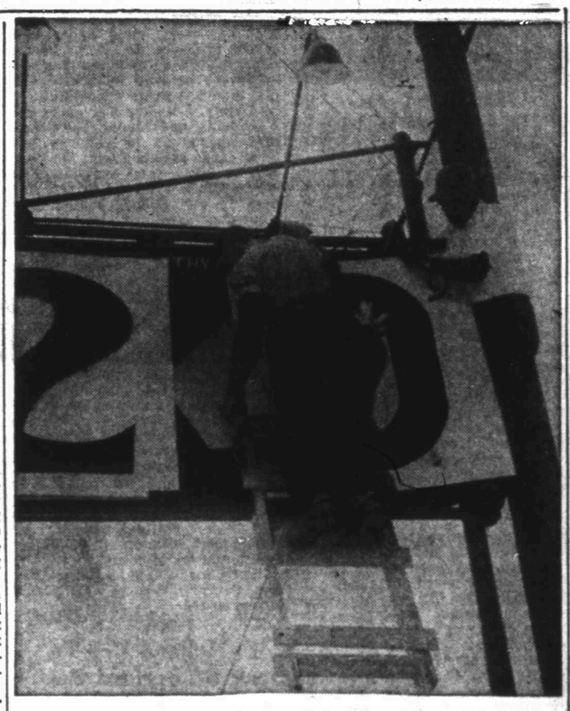

AEC Manager K. D. Nichols testified that, in view of this 3-2 stand against the proposal, the commission was proceeding to carry out negotiations only because of President Eisenhower's directive.

Waco Transit Firm Gets Strike Notice

WACO, Tex., Aug. 21 (AP)—Waco Transit Co. employes have given notice of intention to strike Sept. 1 unless their contract with the bus firm is improved.

They are asking a 5-day, 40-hour week with the same take-home pay they now receive for a 6-day, 57-hour week.

They are members of the Transit Workers of America (CIO).

UP GO DOWN SIGNS

The owner of a service station here is shown at right above helping put up a new sign marking down the price of his gasoline for the second time within a week. On the ladder is a station attendant. They were reducing prices to 18.9 cents per gallon for regular, and 20.9 cents per gallon for Ethyl gasoline. A gasoline price war which started early last week is being enjoyed by motorists who are able to save as much as 10 cents per gallon on gasoline. Major brands yesterday were selling for 20.9 cents per gallon for regular, and 22.9 for Ethyl gasoline, with the price reductions being absorbed by the manufacturers. (Lee Watson photograph)

U. S. Envoy In Europe Parley

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 21 (AP)—A rift deepened tonight between France and her five continental partners over the shape of the European army even as a special American envoy sought to save their conference.

Defense, economic and political experts had been assigned by the six foreign ministers early today to try to reconcile the French plan fense Community treaty with EDC's original version. But there were reports from conference officials that some differences simply could not be settled.

It appeared the ministers, if they are bent on reaching an acceptable formula, will have to carry their negotiations into next week—or call a new conference soon. That might spell yet another postponement of the French parliamentary debate on ratification, due to start Aug. 28.

David K. Bruce, special U. S. envoy to European projects, conferred separately with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France; West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer; Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak, the conference chairman; and others.

Bruce's talks and purposes were cloaked in secrecy. There were unconfirmed reports he was sounding the ministers on a possible new compromise formula.

The United States position toward EDC remains unchanged. The Eisenhower administration wants quick implementation of EDC as it is now so as to hurry along a contribution of a half million West German troops to the barricades of the free world.

Minor amendments might be accepted, but none of the basic principles should be touched, the Americans feel. Bruce presumably was talking today within this field.

Military experts of the six powers failed to agree on three of Mendes - France's revisions to EDC's defense arrangements.

They tossed the issues back into the laps of the ministers who resumed work at 8 p.m. They were:

The EDC treaty provides that the six-nation Commissariat (or Executive) set the general rules for appointment and promotion of all officers in the pooled, one-uniform army. Mendes-France insisted, however, that this provision must be exercised by the Commissariat only in the case of German officers.

The EDC treaty provides for the pooling of the six member-nations' resources throughout all their territories. But France wanted this pooling only on German soil, to start with anyway.

The EDC treaty provides that the six will contribute troops to the pool on the basis of a defined quota. Mendes - France accepted this. But, in the teeth of the opposition of his colleagues, he still insisted if France is forced to withdraw any of her t:en from the pool to serve abroad, then the other five also must withdraw a proportionate number.

David K. Bruce, special U.S. envoy and a specialist on the European Defense Community drove to the Belgian Foreign Ministry where the deadlocked ministers have been meeting since Thursday in an effort to reach a compromise on French demands for drastic revision.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France has declared that EDC, the originally French-sponsored dream that was to rearm Germans for defense of the West but hold a checkrein over any German aggressive tendencies, was dead in France so far as its chances of ratification by Parliament were concerned.

But the other five prospective allies in EDC rejected Mendes-France's proposed changes on the grounds that he would leave only a hollow shell.

Bruce, who arrived in Brussels from Paris late Friday, joined the six ministers just as they broke a three-hour session for a recess.

Presumably the ministers wished to consult him on American angles relating to EDC.

Connection With John Case Hinted

BONN, Germany, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Red East German radio announced tonight that a parliamentary member of Chancellor Adenauer's party had gone over to the Communist side as security chief Otto John had done four weeks ago.

The report hit the West German capital like a thunderclap.

Chancellor Adenauer was notified at Brussels, Belgium, where he is a leader in the final efforts to bring France around to agreement on the European Defense Community pact.

The Communist broadcast said Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack, a member of the Bonn Parliament, and his wife and daughter had gone to the East and asked for political asylum.

The radio said the request had been granted.

The Soviet zone news agency ADN said the right of asylum granted to the Bonn deputy includes "the self-evident" right of political activity in the East Zone.

Franz-Josef Strauss, Minister without portfolio in Adenauer's Cabinet and a CDU leader, told a reporter:

"Without doubt Schmidt-Wittmack's defection is connected with the John case. For this reason it is good that the cards are being uncovered."

The Bonn government thus quickly accepted the radio report as true. In the case of Dr. John, the security chief who had worked with the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency in the past, the government was reluctant to believe he went over to the Communists willingly. It contended for several days that he was kidnaped.

The ADN agency did not say when Schmidt-Wittmack crossed the Iron Curtain and gave no details of the circumstances.

Strauss said Schmidt-Wittmack was in Bonn the past week, apparently vacationing.

"Several days ago he informed another CDU deputy that he planned to go to Berlin," Strauss said. "Since then nothing more has been heard from him."

A government official said Acting Chancellor Franz Bleucher may call a special session of the Cabinet Sunday to consider the reported desertion.

Adaneuer would be consulted before a decision on this is taken, he said. Officials agreed that the newest reported defection would plunge the government into an even deeper crisis. John's defection had led to the greatest criticism of Adenauer since the formation of the West German government in 1949.

John, who crossed the Iron Curtain in Berlin on July 22 with the mysterious, pinkish Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, was given his security job in the Bonn government as a British protege.

He had participated in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, and his brother lost his life in the plot. Later, he escaped to Britain and engaged in anti-Nazi propaganda.

Rueful Westerners now agree that John probably was Russia's master German spy. Only two months before he deserted he had conferred in Washington with Allen Dulles, CIA director, and other officials.

A 6-foot, blue-eyed lawyer with a liking for cloak and dagger action, John is now suspected of all manner of treachery. Only today Prince Hubertus Zu Loewenstein, a member of the Bonn Parliament, told newsmen he had evidence that the turncoat John gave Hitler a list of the people who took part in the 1944 bomb plot. Presumably this would have included the name of his own brother.

Aug. 30 Set As Date For Panel Verdict

By WILMONT HERCHER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Senators who sat in judgment on the McCarthy-Army controversy agreed today to return their verdicts by Aug. 30.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), chairman of the special Senate subcommittee, reported that it met behind closed doors this morning but failed again to settle on one set of findings.

Indications were that there would be probably more than two reports made on the hectic, 36-day investigation.

Aug. 30 is the same date on which another Senate group headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) is scheduled to begin consideration of a list of charges made against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to support demands that he be censured by the Senate for his official conduct.

Watkins announced after a private meeting with McCarthy's lawyer, Edward B. Williams of Washington, that the hearings would start on schedule as far as he knows now. The two men discussed procedural matters.

Mundt announced that by unanimous vote of six members present, the subcommittee has "set the date of Aug. 30 at 5 p.m. for submission of additional statements of viewpoint." He said the group gave final approval to a summary of the evidence and testimony taken during the hearings, adding:

"We agreed unanimously on a statement which will follow the narrative summary of the evidence."

Once the reports are in, they will probably have to be correlated before being made public.

The hearings were a public airing of charges by Secretary of the Army Stevens that McCarthy and his aides exerted improper pressure to get favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, and countercharges by the McCarthy camp that Stevens and Army counsel John G. Adams used Schine as a "hostage" in an attempt to thwart McCarthy's probe of alleged Red infiltration of the Army.

Train-Truck Crash Claims Three Lives

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A train-pickup truck crash today took the lives of three Gulf Coast men. The truck was so badly smashed two wreckers worked an hour to pry open the truck's cab.

Killed were Pete Perez Maldanado, 18, Baytown; Thomas O. Capetillo, 26, Texas City; and Alfred Benites Garcia, 32, Baytown.

The train was a Southern Pacific Freight en route to Galveston. The crash occurred at the intersection of the tracks and old Highway 146.

Snyder Group Told How Reds Caused Strife In Port Arthur

A group of Snyder citizens Friday afternoon heard a first-hand report on how a handful of Communist-inspired antagonizers virtually took over a Texas city of 67,000 population.

Three citizens of Port Arthur, who said they preferred to remain anonymous, "because that's our home town," told the "Port Arthur Story" at a gathering in the district courtroom.

Port Arthur, they said, had lived in complacency for many years. In the midst of a heavily industrialized area, a great number of its citizens were affiliated with organized labor. This, however, had proved to be a healthy condition, because the union members, as well as the non-union residents were civic-minded and public-spirited, the Port Arthur people related.

Then, an abrupt change occurred last November. They said a labor organization new to that area, the Distributive and Processing and Office Workers of America (DPO), suddenly announced that 50 business firms would be struck.

The strike was actually carried out at 22 firms, the Port Arthur people reported, but it wasn't a strike of types the citizens had witnessed previously by reputable AFL and CIO units.

Representatives of the union simply entered the business firms and announced that they would give everybody (employes and customers alike) five minutes to get out.

Then pickets were set up in front of the buildings.

The Port Arthur people said it was learned later that most of the pickets had never worked in the establishments they were picketing. In fact, many of them did not even live in Port Arthur.

This information came to light, they explained, after the Port Arthur American Legion post, officials of the attorney general's office and other investigators determined that the DPO was communist-dominated, and that the leaders of the strife in Port Arthur had come from Washington, Brooklyn and other points far removed from the scene.

Customers who crossed picket lines to enter struck business firms were subjected to telephone calls at intervals during the night, and threats were made if the same person crossed picket lines more than once.

The Port Arthur citizens said the imported leaders of the movement even refused to permit a service club to hold a banquet for the high school football squad in a hotel which had been struck, and that professional baseball players were barred from the hotel.

Later, they reported, the movement spread to the schools. That developed when a member of the coaching staff was dismissed. The DPO leaders helped a group of students in organizing a strike, complete with picket lines and pamphlets. Students who crossed the lines were the object of abusive language and threats.

"We have seen neighbor turned against neighbor, and church members turned against each other," the group said. A visiting evangelist at one church was not permitted to occupy a room which had been reserved for him at a hotel, which caused a heated wrangle among the deacons, they disclosed.

"The leaders of this union are hoping that Allan Shivers will not be reelected Governor of Texas, because Allan Shivers came to our rescue and ordered an investigation that exposed their communist ties," the Port Arthur citizens declared.

"They are working constantly for Gov. Shiver's opponent, and we know that they have exacted some promises because that is the only way they operate.

"We want to warn other Texas cities not to be complacent," they declared.

"Snyder is much closer to Port Arthur than Port Arthur is to Washington and Brooklyn," they reminded.

DO IT YOURSELF

This handsome planter desk is just the design for that novice woodworker, yet it has unusually smart, modern lines which will add an expensive look of beauty to any room. It requires only a few dollars for materials, and you can build it in your own workshop in a few hours with the assistance of Bill Baker's extra-simple pattern No. 103. In the desk you'll find a deep storage area, reached by a drop-front door secured by chains. A wide writing surface is featured, along with a unique planter box where you'll be able to keep living plants. To get your planter desk pattern, send your name and address clearly printed, along with $1 in cash, check or money order to Bill Baker, Snyder Daily News, Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, Calif.

Churchmen Study Racial Segregation

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 21 (AP)—A world team of Christian leaders went to work today to frame methods for cleansing churches of what was called their "great scandal"—racial segregation.

But there were differing shades of view on how it should be accomplished.

With a critical finger pointed particularly at practices in churches of the United States and South Africa, speakers laid the problem before the Assembly of the World Council of Churches.

Dr. Benjamin Mays, of Atlanta, Ga., said it was up to churches to recognize "the urgency of the situation" and find means to end racial barriers that "scar the soul" and violate the "law of God."

"To proclaim one thing and act another is sheer hypocrisy," he said.

Dr. Ben Marais, a Dutch Reformed Church leader from the racially explosive region of South Africa, stressed complexities of the problem, and said churches might sometimes have to accept segregation temporarily.

But he added this could be "justified only on the ground" that excessive haste might wreck efforts to achieve "the ideal of a church in which all men who believe in Christ shall be at home."

The Dutch Reformed Church in South Africa, newly admitted to the Council, has generally espoused the government "apartheid"—segregation—policy. There, Dr. Marais made clear, he opposed it.

He and Dr. Mays, Negro president of Baptist Morehouse College, presented reports from a commission on "intergroup relations—the church amid racial and ethnic tensions," one of six major subthemes of the assembly.

A special section now goes to work on the subject with its recommendations to be brought before the world body next week.

Shutting the door of the church to anyone because of race, said Dr. Mays is like saying: "You made a mistake, God, when you made people of different races and colors."

He told 1,500 church representatives from 48 countries and 163 denominations that local congregations are waiting for a word of guidance on "how to deal" with a condition that defies gospel teachings.

All kinds of world gatherings have condemned segregation, he said, but "the scandal remains," a blight on modern Christianity.

"It will be a sad commentary on our life and time if future historians can write that the last bulwark of segregation based on race and color in the United States and South Africa was God's church," he said.

Shrine Circus Set Sept. 8

The Snyder Shrine Club, in cooperation with local merchants, again this year will bring the Gil Grey Shrine Circus to Snyder for performances at 3:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. on Sept. 8 at the rodeo grounds.

Aim of the local Shriners is to see that every child under high school age sees the circus as the guest of local merchants, absolutely free. The free tickets will be distributed to every school in Scurry County, including Fluvanna, Ira, Hermleigh, and Snyder. The tickets that are given to children will have cards attached with the merchant's name and address. The cards will be returned by the children to the donor, telling him what they like most about the circus and how much the tickets were appreciated.

Any merchant who gave tickets last year can remember what a thrill it was to get one of these cards back from a child who attended the circus as his guest, Pat Moore, co-chairman of the Shrine Circus, reminded. Any adult who desires to see the same show will be admitted for only $1. There are no other charges for adults after the one Price of admission is paid. The children have only to present their free tickets at the gate for admission.

Merchants and individuals who wish to make donations for the children's tickets are asked to contact Walter Suttle by telephoning 3-3591, Mel Andress at 3,6757, or Joe Robinson at 3-3441.

"Let's make Sept. 8 Circus Day for Scurry County Children," Moore urged.

Two Midland Men To Seek Rutherford Post

MIDLAND, Tex., Aug. 21 (AP)—Two well - known Midland men, Fred Wemple and Len G. McCormick, today announced they will seek the 29th District state senate post to be vacated by J. P. Rutherford of Odessa.

Wemple, a businessman, is a former Texas Highway Commissioner and former member of the State Board of Education.

Two Districts To Nominate Congressmen

By The Associated Press

Texans in two districts will select new congressmen in the Democratic runoff primary next Saturday.

The races are in the Corpus Christi (14th) district in South Texas and in the Dallas (5th) district.

Two state senators—John Bell of Cuero and William Shireman of Corpus Christi—are the opponents in the 14th district race. Bell finished less than 7,000 votes ahead of Shireman in a 5-man race in the July primary in which nobody got a majority.

The Dallas opponents are Wallace Savage, a Conservative former state chairman of the Democratic party, and Leslie Hackler, a liberal. Both are attorneys. Savage led Hackler by some 12,000 votes in the 5-man first primary race.

The South Texas race has been a heated one of personalities. Bell has pushed the idea that Shireman would represent only Corpus Christi and not the entire district. Shireman has claimed that Bell would not fairly represent either Corpus Christi or the district—only himself.

This was the vote in the first primary: Bell 30,976, Shireman 23,523, State Rep. Gabe Garrett of Corpus Christi 16,337, Roy A. Scott of Corpus Christi 6,398 and DeWitt C. DeWitt of Yorktown 205.

The fight in the Dallas district is on a basic issue in Texas. Savage is the candidate of the conservative Democrats who swung to President Eisenhower in 1952. Hackler represents those who stuck with Adlai Stevenson and the national Democratic party.

The count in the first primary: Savage 27,768, Hackler 13,365, Dick Connally 10,712, Lamar Holley 5,567 and Leslie Jackson 5,333.

The winner in the 14th district will replace Rep. John Lyle of Corpus Christi. The 5th district winner will take over from Rep. J. Frank Wilson of Dallas. Neither incumbent ran for reelection.

Candidates Heading Final Week Appeals

By The Associated Press

Texas' two Democratic candidates for governor campaigned all day Saturday and made preparations for one final week of appeals to the voters.

Saturday, Aug. 28, is the day of the runoff primary—the day when either Gov. Allan Shivers or Ralph Yarborough will get the nod from Texas Democrats.

Yarborough said again Saturday that he would accept an invitation to meet Shivers face to face in a debate on campaign issues.

Shivers was in Southeast Texas, where he issued a statement saying he expected the largest runoff vote in Texas history, adding "the larger the vote, the larger our majority will be."

Shivers said Texans have rallied within the past three weeks "to make a valiant fight for Texas."

Before he left Beaumont, Yarborough said he had accepted five invitations "to stand face to face, eye to eye on the same platform with my opponent before a jury of Texas." He said Shivers has failed to accept any.

The latest invitation for a debate, Yarborough said, came from W. H. Bryant, Tyler, who offered a statewide radio hookup from Tyler for Wednesday, Aug. 25, at 8 p.m.

Yarborough Saturday made a handshaking campaign up from Beaumont through Cleveland, Conroe, Huntsville, Crockett and Centerville to a night rally and barbecue in Palestine.

Shivers visited in Angleton, Freeport, Hitchcock, Lake Jackson, Brazoria and West Columbia and made the dedicatory speech at a new highway bridge opening at Velasco.

Both candidates scheduled rallies at the Alamo in downtown San Antonio during the coming week.

Shivers will be there Monday night for what has been billed as a giant "Meet Me at the Alamo" rally on a statewide radio and television hookup.

Yarborough will be there Thursday night for another rally and statewide radio and television hookup, with delegations expected from all over South Texas.

Their announced schedules so far:

Yarborough—in Dallas Monday at 6:30 p.m. for a statewide TV talk and Fort Worth that night for a rally and statewide radio talk; in Houston Tuesday morning, Galveston that afternoon, Texas City rally at 6:15 p.m. and statewide radio speech at a rally in Houston at 8 p.m.; in Bryan Wednesday morning, Wichita Falls that afternoon and 8 p.m. rally in Tyler; Thursday in San Antonio.

Shivers—in San Marcos, New Braunfels and San Antonio Monday; Tuesday in Comanche and Goldthwaite and a night rally at Brownwood; Wednesday in Georgetown, Killeen, Belton, Temple and a night rally in Waco.

Ike Starts His Vacation

DENVER, Aug. 21 (AP)—A beaming President Eisenhower arrived today with golf clubs, trout rods and a crowded docket of work for a long business-and-play vacation.

The chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower—Denver is her home—stepped happily from the presidential plane Columbine at 12:33 p.m. after a 6-hour and 8-minute flight from Washington.

Stock Market Highest Since Days Of 1929

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—The stock market ended this week at its highest level since the days of crisis in October, 1929.

But in extending the bull market into its 12th consecutive month, there were scattered signs of diminishing vigor.

Brokerage houses generally agreed that this was a week of consolidating gains. Investment quality issues, which have participated fully in the upswing of the past 11 months, had difficulty gaining ground.

But the so-called secondary issues—medium and low priced stocks of a speculative nature—attracted more and more buyers. Stocks yielding 6 per cent or higher have begun to find favor. Most market analysts now claim that if strong demand develops for these secondary issues, it will provide the basis for a new advance by the market's traditional leaders.

This week the New York Stock Exchange disclosed that short interest at the middle of the month had climbed to 3,079,590 shares—most since April 4, 1932.

The higher short interest position was generally viewed as a bullish factor.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were Packard up ⅛ at 2⅞ on 218,000 shares; Graham Paige up ⅛ at 1⅜; Columbia Gas up ⅞ at 15⅛; Montgomery Ward up 6⅝ at 74½ and Northrop Aircraft up 5¼ at 48⅛.

Margaret Still 'Fancy Free'

BALMORAL CASTLE, Scotland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Princess Margaret celebrated her 24th birthday today behind the mist-shrouded walls of Balmoral Castle, apparently still fancy free in her heart's choice for a husband.

One of her guests was handsome 27-year-old Colin Tennant, whose name has been linked romantically with the slight, blue-eyed princess. But as the day ended there was nothing to back rumors Margaret would soon announced her engagement.

In fact, as dozens of newspapermen and curious onlookers wandered in the area of the castle, Lady Pamela Glenconner, Tennant's mother, tended to dash the engagement talk.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving And Improving Hair

The new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Snyder, Texas, Tuesday only, Aug. 24, 1954. These private demonstrations will be held at the Manhattan Hotel on Tuesday only, Aug. 24th, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 15—In an interview here today D. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts, Inc. said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Collins firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Collins said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee. "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

Hopeless Cases Discouraged

First the Collins experts are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

Free Examinations

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Collins firm in Oklahoma City, and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Collins firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

No Cure-All

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Collins emphasized. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Collins wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Hair for Lifetime

"If clients follow our directions during treatment and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Collins said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

How's Your Hair

If it worries you call Trichologist C. H. Southerland at the Manhattan Hotel in Snyder, Texas on Tuesday ONLY, Aug. 24, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

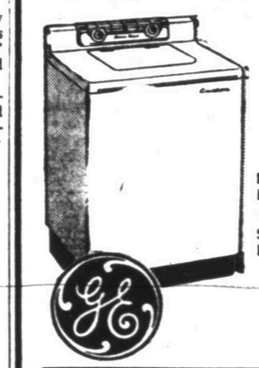

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.—Adv.

Child Is Unaware Of Legal Storms

CLOVIS, N.M., Aug. 21 (AP)—A tiny handful of femininity with the biggest brown eyes you ever saw plays happily here, unaware of legal storms swirling about her.

She is the subject of what promises to turn into a bitter custody suit involving some prominent names in New Mexico. She is also the expectant heiress to part of a fortune which has been estimated at 12 to 30 million dollars.

She is Kathryn Rae Brandenburg, a mite of three years who is more interested in her dolls than the court struggles involving her.

Kathy, a brown-skinned lass with the sproutings of pigtails in her blonde-brown hair and just a hint of a pug nose, is a survivor to wealthy oilman and philanthropist Ellis Hall who was killed last year in Alaska. The same crash took the life of a daughter, Mrs. Hall and her daughter, Joann Walter Brandenbenburg, Kathy's mother.

Joann, in turn, is the granddaughter of former New Mexico Gov. and Mrs. A. W. Hockenhull who have had custody of Kathy since Joann's death—almost a year now.

Pending in court in this eastern New Mexico city is an application for custody of Kathy by her father, James Brandenburg, a suit brought after his divorced wife's death. The suit already has been once to the New Mexico Supreme Court indications are that it may be involved in the courts for some time.

Also pending in a Federal Court in Texas is a controversy in which Kathy, were she old enough, would have more than passing interest. It involves Hall's estate and whether it should be settled in New Mexico or Texas. He had estate and bank holdings in both states.

Kathy's life is wrapped up in her great-grandparents, her pet duck, Billy, a tiny figurine of a skunk which she calls Kitty, and a Raggedy Ann doll which she calls just that.

An unusually alert child, Kathy plays with nearby children, paddles around in her wading pool, goes to Sunday School every week, and is building up quite a collection of books and records and trinkets. Her room is littered with toys that belonged to her mother and with all the other things of childhood.

She's on the talkative side and if she had her way probably would go without shoes the rest of her life.

"This is Kathy," she said repeatedly as she showed off pictures of her recent birthday party.

Kathy hasn't been told the details of what happened to her mother and grandmother. She senses they won't come back.

Final Performance Of Rodeo Is Held

The final performance of the first annual World Championship Junior Rodeo was to be held here last night and champions of each event declared.

The show, one of 85 sanctioned in the U. S. by the three-year-old American Junior Rodeo Association, was staged by the Snyder JRA, headed by Sidney Johnson.

Each year the Snyder show will be the last to be held in the point award year. More are held during the same year following the Snyder show, but the juniors then accumulate points for the next year.

In the Friday night show bullrider Mike Askew of Graham was slightly injured when a bull rammed him in the side. His condition was good yesterday

Last night 10 bareback bronc riders were to go into final competition for belt buckles. The top six only were eligible to receive their point totals in riding in this show were Ferrel Rhine, Fort Worth, 285; Harold McQueen, Wetumka, Okla., 284; Jerald Chaffin, Vernon, 280; Sharkey Rinker, Graham, 270; Ralph Roberson, Mesquite, 265; Bud Ham, Andrews, 264; Bud Jones, Floyd, N.M., and Don Mitchell, Lubbock, 263; E. M. Holt, Navsota, 262; and Tooter Shanklin, Rocksprings, 260.

The top 10 bullriders going into finals last night were competing under the same conditions as the bareback riders. They were E. M. Holt, Navasota, 262; and Tooter Andrew, 281; Tooter Shanklin, Rocksprings, and Sidney Johnson, Snyder, 279; Billy Rodgers, Gatesville, and Sonny Edgar, Snyder, 271; Ferrel Rhine, Fort Worth, and Bill Baker, Rocksprings, 269; Jimmy Clary, Purcell, Okla., 264; Jim Sealy, Snyder, Ralph Roberson, Mesquite, and Jackie Hunnicutt, Fluvanna, all 262.

Calf ropers in the tie-down event who led Friday night were Doyle McSpadden, Rotan, 14.2 seconds; Monte Griffin, Lamesa, 14.6; Marlin Stephenson, Braggs, Okla., and Don Mitchell, Lubbock, both 15.0. Leading that night in ribbon roping were Bobby Goodspeed, Wetumka, Okla., 10.2; Sam Shanklin, Rocksprings, 12.3; Delbert Hataway, Snyder, 12.6; and Doyle McSpadden, Rotan, 14.2.

Leaders in Friday night's barrel racing were Peggy Sanders, San Angelo, 18.1 seconds; Janelle McGilvary, Robert Lee, 18.6; Betty Connell, Snyder, 19.2; and Candy Goode, Fort Sumner, N.M., 19.3.

Going into finals last night in the flag race were Jane Mayo of Okemah, Okla., Walter Arnold of Silverton, F. J. Douthitt of Henrietta, Ronnie Huckabee of Andrews, Sonny Beauchamp of Fort Worth, and James Myers of Richmond. They were those who came out the top two in the first three shows.

In the kid pony race, finalists last night were to be Jerry Harlin of Slaton, Jane Ford of Abilene, John Billy Koonsman of Snyder, and Skeet Whatley of Snyder. Jane Ford and John Billy Koonsman came in first and second Friday night.

Band Twirlers Are Selected

Karen Crooks was selected as head twirler for the Snyder High School band for 1954-55 in high school and junior high school competition for the twirling posts.

Out-of-town judges selected Sittie Harrell, Jo Ann Hamblen, Joan Miller, and Toni Best to complete the high school twirling team headed by Miss Crooks.

Linda Beth Ramsey was selected as head twirler for the junior high school band, and will be assisted by Sharon Morgan and Betty Ford, Adaleen Soles is the junior high band's drum majorette.

Peggy Spence was selected as first alternate for the junior high school twirling posts.

Also selected Wednesday were vocalists who will perform with the high school stage band.

Deborah Smith and Martha Robbins tied for the position of female soloist, and they will share the honors through the season, Malven Montgomery, band director, said.

Jimmy Don Boyd was selected as the male soloist. Kent Fields and Roy Ford were other male vocalists selected. All the vocalists will be used in various combinations with the band, Montgomery said.

Judges in the elimination contests Wednesday were: Bill Woods, Seagraves: Sarah Ellis, Abilene Christian College: Arleen Durkee, Howard Payne College, and Odis Claxton, Abilene, coordinator of the judging team.

Placard Ordinance To Get Attention

Walter Suttle, police chief, warned yesterday that members of his department will enforce the city's ordinance which prohibits placing placards and posters along Snyder streets.

Suttle said the city ordinance prohibits placing campaign posters, signs, and posters on all public utility poles along streets within the city limits.

"We will attempt to enforce the ordinance to the fullest extent," he said.

Rites Held For Wreck Victim

Funeral services for Marvin Andrew Moats, 1903 Coleman, who was killed Friday in an automobile accident, were held at 10:30 yesterday morning in Colorado City.

The Rev. E. K. Shepherd, pastor of the Muleshoe First Baptist Church and former pastor of the Snyder First Baptist Church, officiated at the services, held in the Kiker and Son funeral chapel. Burial was to be in Ada, Okla.

Mr. Moats, 42, a partner in the Marcum Drilling Co., had been a resident of Snyder since Dec. 1, 1951. The wreck in which he was killed occurred near Silver when Mr. Moats' automobile crashed into the rear of a truck driven by A. E. Smith, also of Snyder. An automobile which had been traveling between the Moats' car and the truck had run off the road and overturned in a field just before the crash. A third autmobile struck the Moats' vehicle from the rear.

Mr. Moats is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Moats, and two daughters, Marla Jo and Judith Ann, all of Snyder; his mother, Mrs. Florence Moats of Shawnee, Okla., and his father, W. J. Moats of Oceanside, Ore.; four sisters, Mrs. Leon Barnett of Beaumont, Mrs. Mildred Mann of Dallas, Mrs. Harry Kenyon of San Antonio and Mrs. Carl McGinnis of Shawnee; four brothers, Dan Moats of Phoenix, Ariz., and Kenneth Moats, Pat Moats and Buddy Moats, all of Shawnee.

Phineas T. Barnum, showman and circus owner, was born in Bethel, Conn.

Garland Parks, who farms about four miles north of Snyder, was one of the farmers in the county who had enough cotton to make a first bale but had no laborers to pull the early crop. Estimates of this year's crop in the county range from 15,000 to 20,000 bales. Two more bales of cotton were ginned at Hermleigh yesterday. (Lee Watson photograph)

FIRST BALE THIS YEAR IS EARLIER THAN USUAL

John Roemisch, Jr., Hermleigh area farmer who brought in Scurry County's first bale of cotton Thursday, had the earliest bale here in several years.

The earliest prior to this year in the last several years was the bale in 1952, which came in Aug. 23.

Roemisch, who was awarded a $300 premium for his bale by the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce, had a 521-pound bale ginned from 1,900 from about 20 acres. It was ginned by D. V. Merritt, Sr., at Planters Gin.

Several farmers in the county had cotton ready to pull at the same time but did not get to the gin early enough for the first bale. Most of them could not find workers this early for the harvest.

Last year, the first bale was harvested by J. O. Hudnall of Camp Springs and ginned on Aug. 26. That was 464-pound bale from about 18 acres. The first bale of 1952 was raised by L. T. Nail, who farms about two miles south of Snyder, brought in Aug. 23. It weighed 586 pounds. The first in 1951 was a 491-pounder raised by P. A. Ware, one mile east of Snyder, brought in Sept. 7. In 1951, the first bale was brought in Aug. 26 by F. J. Murphee, Cottonwood Flat, and weighed 492 pounds.

Observers in the county are now estimating this year's crop will be somewhere between 15,000 and 20,000 bales. Last year the crop was about 12,000 bales, while it was some 1,200 in 1952, 10,000 in 1951, 39,245 in 1950, and 54,129 in 1949. The biggest crop in the last 30 years was 55,589 bales in 1932.

Appropriations Pared Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress voted a mere $53,909,000,000 to run the federal government this fiscal year — the smallest total since before the outbreak of the Korean War.

At the same time, the lawmakers cut only about $2,600,000,000 from the $56,554,000,000 in new cash requested by President Eisenhower in his budget for the year ending next June 30.

This year's appropriations fell about $5,500,000,000 below the $59,498,000,000 voted by Congress last year after the Republicans returned to power.

And they were only about half of the post-World War II record total of 101 billion voted in 1951, the year the nation started in earnest to rebuild its military might after the Red attack on South Korea.

General Farm Tour Scheduled Friday By C of C Committee

Plans were mapped out in the last few days for the first annual general farm tour, which will be held Friday as the first of two agricultural tours to be held this year.

The tour Friday is being planned by the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee, headed by Max West. Oscar Fowler, county agent, is head of the tour group and will be master of ceremonies during the farmer-businessman get-together. Sponsoring the tour will be the Snyder National Bank, West Texas State Bank, and Sweetwater Production Credit Association.

The chamber committee has invited all businessmen and agriculturists to attend the tour, which will start from the livestock barn in the county park Friday morning, with the group gathering at 8:30 o'clock. The group will view crops, new farming ideas, and other aspects of the farming industry here.

School buses will be used for the touring group which will make two stops Friday morning. The first will be at a dairy farm in the Fluvanna area. There are more than 20 dairies now in Scurry County, all of which have their milk picked up and delivered to Lubbock for processing before it is sold on the open market. Many of the dairy farmers have new types of equipment and barns. The tour will also take in use of silos in this county. On the way back from the dairy unit, the group will stop by one of about eight irrigated farms in the county. Irrigation has not been proved practical for all the county yet, but it is done in spotted areas. There are about two spray-type systems, one flood-type, and five row-type in the county. The spray system will be shown on the tour.

After seeing irrigation in practice, the group will return to the livestock barn for lunch. Barbecue and fish will be served, each dish with all the trimmings, and the group will hear a talk by O. F. Armstrong of Abilene, member of the state oil conservation board.

After lunch, the tour will continue, this time going to the Hermleigh area to see how naptha is used for Johnson grass control. The basal spray of naptha, which has come into use in this area this year, requires several applications but in many cases is said to kill the hardy Johnson grass in one season.

Also in the Hermleigh area, the group will see how bench leveling is done to allow outside water into fields from roadside ditches. That is done now to a small extent here because of the scarcity of rainfall. The project to be shown was carried on alone by the farmer with his own equipment. If there is time, the raising of guar will also be shown on the tour in that area. Guar is planted on some 2,000 acres of land here as a soil builder.

Coming back toward Snyder, the group will stop by one of the three caged hen farms in the county. On these farms, layers are kept in cages, where they are fed and where they lay their eggs. Operators of this type farm say they get better production because they can befter cull the flock and better quality eggs because the diet can be controlled.

The last stop on the tour will be at a farm which has a three-year-old planting of perennial blue panic grass, which is used here in crop rotation. The grass, which grows fast and high, provides grazing during dry years while native grass has no grazing left. On the same farm the group will see where the farmer has planted black-eyed peas as a soil builder. Many farmers here have planted the peas this year on a total of about 4,000 to 5,000 acres.

Throughout the tour, the group will see crops of cotton, the county's largest money crop, and grain sorghums.

Another tour, one on range condition and conservation, is scheduled for later this year.

FARM AND RANCH

A South Texas rancher, always plugging for conservation, has put forth this idea on conservation being a big job.

The way this rancher figures it, there are 150 million people in the U. S., 52 million of them over 65. That leaves 98 million to do the work, but he subtracts those 21 or under, 54 million, leaving 44 million to do the work. Of those, however, 21 million work for the federal government, 10 million are in the armed forces, and 12,800,000 are in state and city offices. That leaves 200,000 to do the work. From that figure he subracts the 126,000 persons in hospital and insane asylums, leaving 74,000, then takes off 62,000 bums and others who won't work, leaving 12,000. There are, he said, about 11,998 persons in jail, so that leaves only two to do the work.

"Just two," he said, "you and I. And you'd better get on the ball, brother. I'm getting pretty darned tired of trying to do this conservation job alone," he added.

WEEPING LOVEGRASS

Cattle do not take to weeping lovegrass when other grasses in the pastures are producing plenty of grazing, according to Tommy Sterling of the Ira community, but when pastures get short they are satisfied with that grazing.

Sterling's father, T. J. Sterling, has a successful planting of weeping lovegrass on 20 acres of deep sandy soil. The planting was made with the two-row planter owned by the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District in 1950. Rows were spaced about 40 inches apart. It is now thriving well on that soil and has been used to advantage by the cattle in late summer and fall months.

The main reason cattle prefer other grasses to this is that the lovegrass is somewhat tougher making it less palatable than native grasses. The younger Sterling said "We had this real sandy field that was a sore spot and a problem to us. Something had to be done to keep down wind and water erosion. The field was in an out-of-the-way place, hard to get to with equipment, and we knew that we had no business cultivating the deep sand, so we put it in this grass. That was apparently the most practical thing that we could have done."

Weeping lovegrass is adapted to deep sandy soils of this area.

PANIC DOING OKAY

Buford Sterling, another son of T. J. Sterling, has about eight acres of blue panic grass which was dry planted in the spring of 1951. It got half an inch of rain fall in a week and came up to a fair stand. Sterling has grazed this grass during the dry years and has obtained much more grazing than could be expected from sudan under the same conditions. He chisels alongside the panic rows twice yearly to loosen the ground for better water penetration.

SILAGE FOR FEEDING

Floyd Merkett of the China Grove area is now putting up ensilage for his dairy cattle. He has already stored about 100 tons and is shooting for 400 tons before frost.

Merkett says he would have to get more rain, however, to reach that tonnage. He is one of a not-too-large group of men sold on the silage idea for cattle feeding in West Texas.

Tenant Turns Tables On Scheming Landlord

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Aug. 21 (AP)—A Beirut landlord who tried to play an ancient trick for fooling tax-gatherers had the tables turned on him by his tenant with an equally ancient trick. The landlord asked the apartment dweller to sign three leases which he himself had already signed: one 25 per cent higher than the rent she'd actually agreed to pay and which he wished to show any prospective buyers of the property; one showing the actual rent—intended to be the valid lease; one 25 per cent lower than the rent she'd agreed to pay—for the tax collector. The obliging tenant signed all three but then tore up the first two. She now pays 25 per cent less rent.

H. G. Burchett

Manager Of ASC Office Begins Duties

H. G. Burchett, 31-year-old former Muleshoe man, has assumed duties here as manager of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office.

Burchett had been at Muleshoe with the Bailey County office since early in 1949, serving as a field man, office clerk, and in other duties.

Before going into work with the federal government, he owned a grocery store in Lubbock for 10 years.

A four-year veteran of the Air Corps during World War II, Burchett spent two years on foreign duty in South America and the South Atlantic.

A native of Lubbock, the new manager attended high school there as well as one year at Texas Tech. He is married and has no children. He and his wife now live at 2701 Avenue X.

The ASC is now conducting voting for community committeemen. Ballots must be in or postmarked by midnight Wednesday. Those elected chairmen of each of the four community committees, who will be those getting the largest number of votes, will serve as delegates to the county convention, which will choose a county committee. The county convention, originally scheduled for next Friday, will not be held until the following week. Present county committeemen are Glenn Tate, chairman; Charlie Bley, vice-chairman; Audry Head, regular member; Milton Winter first alternate; and John Lane, second alternate. The new office manager reminded farmers in voting for community committeemen that those in community offices cannot succeed themselves.

The new committees will take office at the next regular meeting after the county convention.

One of Burchett's duties as he takes over here is working with farmers on cotton allotments. The ASC has almost completed its measuring program. Those farmers who have overplanted are being notified, and they must plow the extra acreage of cotton up within 20 days after the notice to qualify for cotton price supports under the CCC loan program.

GI Farm Loans Being Denied

Applications for Texas GI farm loans are now being turned down by the Veterans Land Board, recent reports indicate.

According to reports made by L. C. Jackson, executive secretary of the VLB, the board has accepted anough applications to encumber the entire balance of funds available to the program, including the final 10 million dollars of bonds which will be sold in September.

Additional applications were accepted to be used in replacing cancellations and absorbing collections on closed contracts, Jackson said.

Bonds totaling 90 million dollars had already been sold and the money all invested except a cash balance estimated to be sufficient to carry the board until receipt of funds from the September sale.

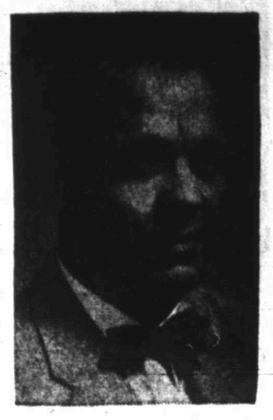

The constitutional amendment providing for a 25 million dollar bond issue to care for the veteran land purchase program was adopted in 1946. It was amended in 1951 to increase to 100 million dollars and in 1952 to permit Korean veterans to apply. The last amendment resulted in many more applications than were expected.

Law Signed To Extend Training By GI Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill extending by a year the time within which a Korean War veteran may start and compete a course of training under the GI bill of rights.

The legislation also extends to July 25, 1960, the time within which some disabled World War II veterans may complete delayed rehabilitation training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Loyan H. Walter of Abilene, manager of the agriculture and livestock department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been named executive director of tthe newly - formed Texas Beef Council. Active in agriculture for 15 years, he will help open the headquarters of the council Sept 1 in the Will Rogers Coliseum at Fort Worth. The council was formed to promote consumption of beef in Texas.

No Dior For Russia

MOSCOW, Aug. 21 (AP)—Paris designer Christian Dior's "flat look" has little chance of catching on in Russia, but something Western and almost as revolutionary is coming into men's styles. It is trousers narrow at the cuff. For years Soviet men have been going around in pants almost bell-bottom in cut.

THE QUESTION:

Shall We Put Our Faith In Our Democratic Form Of Government or in One Man's Rule?

The Founding Fathers Understood

In 1832-33, a man sought the presidency of Mexico by proclaiming democratic principles. Because he proclaimed himself a democrat, this man, Santa Anna, was supported by Texans (as witness the Turtle Bayou declarations). After he was elected, this man betrayed his democratic supporters, suspended the democratic constitution of 1824, and took power in his own hands.

From Santa Anna, the men who became the founding fathers of Texas learned a bitter lesson about the dangers of trusting a turncoat and the evils of one man rule.

When Texas had won its freedom from the one-man rule of Santa Anna, through the heroism of Texans at the Alamo and San Jacinto, the founding fathers of the Republic and of the State of Texas organized our government in such a way as to provide special safeguards to protect future generations against one-man government.

Our Constitution and laws provide a system of watchdogs to guard our liberties.

Our legislative, judicial, and administrative officials are required to seek election independently of one another, thus guarding against one extending control over the others.

And since any aspirant to one-man rule was most likely to appear in the administrative branch of the government, our founding fathers took special precautions to prevent one-man domination in that branch.

As a final, all-important safeguard against one-man rule, the bulk of our state government has been placed under the administration of 81 boards and commissions with a total of 475 members which conduct the affairs of 135 state agencies. And most of these boards and commissions are set up in such a way that members are appointed for six years with over-lapping terms so one third of the members are appointed by the governor in each new term of office.

Guardian of Integrity

Thus, in his first term, a governor has one representative on each typical three-man board. If the people return him for a second term, a governor's appointees make up two-thirds of each board and he has a solid working control—BUT there is still a third member on each board who is a hold-over, not picked by or obligated to the governor in office—experienced, informed, and responsible to the people alone—who can sound the alarm against any outrageous attempts at corruption or dictatorship in that branch of government.

There is always one man on every board or commission who can stand guard over the integrity and democracy of our government—UNLESS a governor is elected to a third consecutive term.

Our whole system of government—the constitution and laws of the State of Texas—is based on the idea that no governor should ever be given a third term.

A Third Term Is a Radical Step

In our 109 years of statehood, no man has been elected governor of Texas for three terms. Our greatest governors—Sam Houston, James Stephen Hogg, and all the rest—recognized the principles on which our democracy is founded and refused to seek a third term.

In 1954, we are asked to abandon the two-term tradition.

We are asked to abandon the safeguards our forefathers provided and entrust a third term to a governor.

So when we go to the polls this year we must answer this question:

Shall we put our faith in our democratic form of government or in a man who demands that we abandon its safeguards and trust him with powers our forefathers have forbidden any other governor to have?

We are asked to take this radical step of abandoning our safeguards and the wisdom of Texas tradition.

Why?

Is he a superman—irreplaceable? Is he a better man than Sam Houston or Jim Hogg? Is he immune to temptation? Does he infallibly subordinate personal interest and ambition to democratic practices?

The evidence suggests no such thing.

A Governor Appoints a Third of Each Board or Commission in Each Term

WHICH? WHICH? WHICH? WHICH?

Fighter for Democracy

The people of Texas are commonsense people. On August 28 they will restore Texas tradition and re-establish the safeguards of our laws and constitution—by electing Ralph W. Yarborough our next governor.

Ralph Yarborough is an old-time, conservative Democrat, a Texan, a Christian gentleman in the finest sense of the terms.

He offers us a new, democratic administration, responsive to the people, spurred by fresh minds, and deeply dedicated to the service of Texas.

The Man

Judge Yarborough, grandson of a Confederate officer, was born in 1903 at Chandler, Henderson County, Texas.

After graduating from Tyler High School and Sam Houston State Teachers College, Ralph Yarborough went on to graduate with highest honors in 1927 from the University of Texas Law School.

A devout Christian all his life, Ralph Yarborough has served as Sunday School teacher and Trustee of the First Baptist Church in past years. Judge Yarborough's record of fairness and understanding exemplifies the Christian way. He began his illustrious career as Assistant Attorney General, serving successively as lecturer on land law at the University of Texas, member of the Board of Directors of the Lower Colorado River Authority, District Judge, Presiding Judge, and one of Texas' leading attorneys in private practice.

A combat veteran with the 97th Infantry Division in World War II, serving under Eisenhower and Patton in Europe and later as a military governor under MacArthur in Occupied Japan, Judge Yarborough won commendations and awards for his services in both theaters of war.

His Program

Insurance Reforms—Judge Yarborough is pledged to clean up the insurance scaldals that are fleecing the people of Texas—causing legitimate companies to suffer for the inconceivable acts of the "fixers" and "influence peddlers" now operating in Austin.

Better Education—Judge Yarborough believes that Texans deserve the best. "Texas can afford for her children the best public schools and college systems in the world, and at the same time lessen the tax burden on homes, farms and small business men.

Highways — Judge Yarborough strongly believes that Texas must continue to expand its farm-to-market road program, build more rural roads and construct more highways if the system of highways and roads is to keep pace with the remarkable growth of the state.

Soil and Water Conservation—Judge Yarborough stands for strengthening the soil conservation program and setting up a comprehensive program for water conservation.

Help for the Aged—Judge Yarborough stands for removal of the constitutional ceiling so as to permit payments large enough for our elder citizens to live decently.

The Campaign

No evidence supports the claim to superhuman abilities which would merit unprecedented power and honors for the governor who is seeking a third term.

So his political machine is grinding out an expensive campaign of lies, distortions, and distractions intended to confuse the voter and dodge the issue. Enormous sums are being spent on radio, TV, newspaper advertising, literature, group letters through the mails, and hired rumor mongers in an attempt to fog the air so as to obscure the real issue.

But . . .

Texas' choice is being made with clear minds despite the campaign of fear, smear, and hate—the alphabet soup charges, the cynical enflaming of old antagonisms, the character assination and the other stock devices of frightened power.

There is a swelling tide of democratic victory rolling from the forks of the creek to the main stems of our metropolitan cities—victory for our democratic form of government, for Texas tradition and common sense—for Ralph W. Yarborough!

Conley To Greet Tiger Grid Hopefuls On Friday

The starting of fall workouts are less than a week away for the high school football squad. They are scheduled to start here Friday.

Two workouts daily will be held from that time until school starts, according to head coach John Conley.

All seniors, juniors, and sophomores who are interested in football have been asked by Conley to report to the gymansium at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning for checkups by the squad's physicians, Drs. Tom Hartley and Carl Dillaha.

One scrimmage is on the schedule for the week preceding the beginning of the football season. That will be held on the night of Sept. 3 in the Snyder stadium against Colorado City. The C-City team, picked this year to win its district, has its entire list of 1953 personnel returning. That includes the speedback, Hollis Gainey, who was top scorer for the team last year.

The football season will get underway Sept. 10 when the Tigers go to Ysleta for their first meeting with that team. Conley scheduled Ysleta last spring for a one-year stand. An open date is set for Sept. 17, then the home team will host Bowie of El Paso in the second game of the season on Sept. 24. This will be the first year of a two-year contract with that team and the second year for the Tigers to meet the team. The locals will go back to El Paso on Oct. 2 to take on Thomas Jefferson in the last game of a two-year contract. Last year the Tigers downed Bowie 14-12 and Jefferson 61-0. Ysleta replaces Fort Worth Tech on the schedule. Snyder beat Tech 26-0 last year. Bowie is favored to win the El Paso district this season. It opens its season against Las Cruces, N.M., Sept. 17, while Jefferson will meet Cathedral of El Paso on Sept. 16. Snyder is Ysleta's first match.

In pre-district play, Big Spring, defending champion of the district, will be matched with Andrews, Stephenville, and Ysleta, Levelland, which is starting its first year in this district after coming up from Class AA, will meet Brownfield, Littlefield, and Phillips, while Sweetwater will take on North Side of Fort Worth, Abilene and San Angelo. Plainview plays Lubbock, El Paso High, and Amarillo. Lamesa has Midland, El Paso High, and Seminole, and Breckenridge will meet Wichita Falls, Brownwood, and Abilene. Vernon is to play Wichita Falls, Pampa, and Lawton, Okla.

District play will begin Oct. 8. Sweetwater has been picked as favorite of the district by the district's coaches. The Sweetwater team, coached by Pat Gerald, lost very few players by graduation last year. Big Spring, Breckenridge, and Plainview have also been viewed as first division teams, and many obsevers pick one of those teams rather than Sweetwater. The Snyder team will go to Levelland on Oct. 8, to Sweetwater on Oct. 15, host Vernon Oct. 22, meet Plainview here Oct. 29, have an open date Nov. 5, host Breckenridge Nov. 12, go to Big Spring Nov. 19, and travel to Lamesa for the Thanksgiving Day game Nov. 25.

This will be Conley's first year of coaching in Texas after coming here from Ellinwood, Kans., to replace Speedy Moffett, who resigned the head coaching position and became baseball coach here. Conley, in his five years at Ellinwood, won 35 games, lost nine, and tied two. He took two district titles, two second places, and one third. Last year, he had the highest scoring team in Kansas with 408 points to opponents' 51. The team was undefeated in its nine games. High school competition there does not include state playoffs.

Aiding Conley with the high school teams will be Hal Battle, line coach, Horrace Bostic, backfield coach, and Jack Dillon, B team coach. Dillon is starting his third year here. Bostick his fourth, and Battle his fifth. Charlie Storrs and Roy Carter will be junior high football coaches. Storrs came here last year, Carter this year. Coaching the freshman football team will be the high school basketball coach, who has not yet been hired. He will replace Gene Gibson, who resigned and became assistant basketball coach at Texas Tech.

Nine varsity lettermen, three reserve lettermen, nine with B team experience, and six off last year's freshman team are expected among those who will start workouts Friday. The lettermen include Alan Snead, a junior who has been switched from halfback to end; Frankie Minton, senior who has played at offensive and defensive tackle positions; Doug James, senior center; Steve Blair, senior, and Norman Grimmett, junior, the top guards on the squad; and four in the backfield, Jack Spikes and Joe Baxter, juniors, and Gerald Crawford and Bernie Hagins, seniors. Crawford, Hagins, and Blair have been playing varsity football since they were freshmen. Hagins has served all that time as quarterback. Last year he completed 28 of 74 passes for 387 yards. Baxter, running from a halfback position, tied Jackie Grimmett, a graduate, for the top scoring spot with 36 points. Hagins and Crawford had 24 each, while Spikes and Snead had 18 each.

Reserve lettermen are ends Don McNew, a junior, and Wayne Shuffield, a senior, and guard James Parker, a senior. Coming up from the freshman squad are end Milton Ham, tackle Wiley Denson, and backs Powell Berry, Ronnie Smith, and Bobby Joines. Floyd Blackwell, one of the top prospective halfbacks, has moved to Garland. Other ex B team players are ends George Herring and Don Savage, tackles George Jennings and Eddie Joyce, guard Hal Holladay, centers Joe Reeves and Robert James; and backs Doug Smith and Bill Fowler.

Part of the workouts before school starts may be used for specialists only, Conley said. Among those specialized are Hagins, Baxter, and Berry on passing, Snead on punting, Blair and Minton on extra points, Spikes and Minton on kickoffs, and Snead, McNew, and Ham on pass reception.

Last spring this squad downed a team of exes 13-0 at the end of spring drills. Spikes, Crawford, and Hagins led the backfield on the offensive, while Blair, McNew, and Jennings headed up offensive blocking. On defense, Doug James, Baxter, Snead, and Balir topped the remainder of the squad.

Weaver Due Here For Booster Meet

A Snyder unit of the Texas Tech Red Raider Club will be organized at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night when interested football fans and Texas Tech exes gather at the livestock barn in Towle Memorial Park for a watermelon supper.

DeWitt Weaver, coach of the Red Raiders of Tech will be here for the meeting to speak to the group, according to Bill Holmes, athletic publicity director for the school. Weaver will also show a film of the Gator Bowl game played this year, which Tech won 35-13 over Auburn.

DEWITT WEAVER

The Tech team, which last year was rated one of the strongest in the nation, scored 443 points during the season. It had already been named national scoring champion of the season. It was rated as the twelfth team in the nation on an Associated Press national poll.

Ernest Sears of Snyder, an ex-student of Tech, is heading local arrangements for the meeting. Sears said there are about 150 Tech exes in Snyder and Scurry County, some of the former members of the Red Raider squad. In addition to those are several hundred persons who attended other colleges but consider themselves Tech boosters or many persons who did not attend college who follow Tech games.

Texas Tech, Sears said in urging attendance at the meeting, is the only major college in West Texas and the nearest to Snyder. Consequently Lubbock is usually the only place most persons living in the Snyder area can go to see major colleges play football. Several hundred persons from here attend at least one Tech game each year, while there is an estimated group of close to 50 persons who regularly attend. At home this year, the Red Raiders will meet West Texas State, Oklahoma A&M, Texas Western, University of Tulsa, and University of Houston. In out-of-town games, they are matched with Texas A&M, Louisianan State, College of Pacific, University of Arizona, and Hardin-Simmons University. The Red Raiders are members of the Border Conference.

Sears said several out-of-town guests including several from the Tech athletic staff, are expected at the meeting, which is being held mainly to organize the booster club here and elect officers. This club, Sears said, will be able to get films on Tech games soon after the games have been played. Through club meetings, members will be able to arrange car pools to attend the games, he said.

Weaver this year is starting his fifth year as head coach at Tech. He succeeded Dell Morgan. He played football under Gen. Bob Neyland at Tennessee and was captain of the 1936 Tennessee team. He was chosen an All-Southeast Conference guard. He coached the freshmen at Tennessee one year, the line at Centre for three years, the line at Mississippi State for three years, and the line at Tulsa two years.

Service Clubs Tangle Friday

Tickets are now on sale here by members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs for the annual Kiwanis Duster-Rotary Rainmaker softball game, which will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night.

The two teams will meet on the field at Veterans Park. The tickets cost 50 cents each, and each serve as a stub for a drawing to be held at the end of each inning. Proceeds of the game will go into the clubs' projects for underprivileged children.

Last year the two teams played to a 16-16 tie, got tired, and quit.

In 1952, the Rotarians edged the Rainmakers 37-17. In that game, Rex Miller, now Rotary president, hit four home runs in five times at bat to bring in 10 runs. He was walked the fifth time up. Other members of his team hitting homers were Clyde Hall, Broadway Browning, and Billy Fisher. Harold Grant hit the only homer for the Dusters. That game will be remembered as the one in which Ra L. Duggar, local dress shop operator, made his famous slide. Duggar slid almost to first base on his nose but still did not get on base.

The Rainmakers are favored over the Dusters in the game, mostly because the Dusters cannot keep their good pitchers and hitters in Snyder. In 1952, one Kiwanis pitcher was Harold Grant, who was also the nine's only home run hitter. George Frazier and Dawson Moreland also pitched for the team. Moreland is the only one of the three still living here. Fisher pitched two years ago for the Rainmakers.

The first annual Speedboat Jamboree will be staged at Lake Thomas on Labor Day, Sept. 6, by the Snyder Lions Club, the club has announced.

Six professional events with boats with speeds from 45 to more than 70 miles per hour will be held by the National Outboard Association under sponsorship of the club.

The club is now working on arrangements for a possible amateur race for fishing boats operated by local persons, according to Phil Burns, who is chairman for the club on arrangements for the races.

The races will be held near the west end of the lake. Attendants will go to the races through Vincent to the south side or out the Lamesa highway and south by the Murphy School to the north side to get to the racing area. Burns said his landing field on the south side will be available to those who want to fly planes to the races.

Admission to the public will be sold by club members at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

About $900 in prizes will be awarded the professional racers, who travel around the country to various races sanctioned by the national association. First through fourth place prizes will be awarded in each of the six classes, which include classes A, B, and D runabout and A, B, and D hydroplane.

Included in boats entered will be those in the class D hydroplane class, which is set up for 25-horsepower motors with 40 cubic inch displacement and travel in excess of 70 miles per hour. All the boats are classed by horsepower, displacement, and potential speed. Two heats will be held in each race.

Rockets Have Best Hitters

By The Associated Press

It's a pretty safe bet that Roswell's Rockets are the heaviest-hitting second-place team in baseball.

The Rockets have eight men hitting over .300 according to latest Longhorn League figures, and are hitting .308 as a unit.

They've got the one-two men in the league percentage-wise, Stubby Greer with .397 and Joe Bauman, .384.

Bauman leads the league with 57 home runs. His 160 runs, 365 total bases, 185 runs batted in and 131 bases on balls are also league-leading marks.

Carlsbad's Ike Jackson has the most hits with 184 and the most doubles with 44. Elias Osorio and Duke Henderson of Carlsbad are tied for triples with 14 each.

First-place Artesia leads in team batting with .321.

The circuit lost one of its top pitchers last week when Mike Rainey of Big Spring was sent to Tyler of the Big State League. Rainey rolled up 18 victories to tie Carlsbad's Bob Weaver for the lead in games won.

Midland's Julio Ramos tops the strikeout lists with 192. Bill Ewen of San Angelo has worked 221 innings to head that column.

Roswell leads in fielding with .951.

Stokes Keeps Batting Edge

By The Associated Press

Plainview's Don Stokes seems to have the West Texas-New Mexico League batting championship almost in his pocket.

Stokes has 183 hits in 450 times at bat for a .407 average, 27 points ahead of Amarillo's Frosty Kennedy. The gap between Kennedy and the next two players is only five points, Kennedy having .380, Bob Fernandez of Lubbock .379 and I. B. Palmer of Pampa .375.

Stokes leads in hits with 183 and total bases with 307. Palmer in runs batted in with 117 and two-base hits with 47. Pampa's Curt Hardaway is the leading scorer with 134 runs.

Kennedy and Hardaway set the pace in home runs with 30 each. Gil Valentin of Albuquerque tops in triples with 15.

Pampa is tops in batting, hitting .309.

Pitching leaders are Red Dial of Clovis and Eddie Locke of Amarillo with 21 triumphs each. Dial has lost 10, Locke 13. Dial also sets the pace in strikeouts with 213 in 223 innings.

Team fielding leader is Plainview, with a .951.

Tri-Service Takes Its Second Victory

Tri-Service took Magnolia 18-14 Friday night in the second game of the City League's series for the 1954 baseball championship.

That gave Tri-Service two wins in the four-out-of-seven series. The two teams were scheduled to meet last night in the third game and tomorrow night in the fourth.

M. L. Galloway pitched the team to the win. Going the entire game, he allowed 17 hits, struck out six, and walked three. Starting for Magnolia was Johnnie Claybrook, who was loser. In three innings, Claybrook gave up five hits, walked seven, and fanned four. His relief was Zeke Strange, who went four innings for five strikeouts, three walks, and five hits.

Tri-Service started scoring in the first inning when one walked to his base, two got on by errors, and one singled. The second inning saw the Tri-Service team mount the score to five runs when two walked and one singled. Magnolia also began to score in that inning with two runs on two walks, a single, and a sacrifice.

In the third, Tri-Service loaded up the bases, got one run in, and reloaded the bags before Don Huddleston hit a home run. Magnolia opened its time at bat in the third with Bill Hanks hitting a homer, then Bill Valentine brought in another run with a double. By the end of that inning, Tri-Service was leading 11-4. J. M. Sterling homered with two in for Tri-Service in the fourth, and Mutt Thompson brought two in with a double.

Hanks opened the fifth for Magnolia with a triple and then went home on Strange's homer. Tri-Service was leading 18-9 at the opening of the seventh. Magnolia, in its try to catch up, scored five runs in that frame and got two more on base before the third out was made.

Pros Tee Off In Clovis Tournament

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 21 (AP)—Twenty - seven professionals teed off today for the second 18 holes in the first round of the 54-hole medal play of the Clovis invitational golf tournament.

Defending champion Dick Turner of San Angelo, Tex., held a one stroke lead over favorite J.D. Taylor of Santa Fe as play got underway.

Turner blasted a six under par 66 first round score yesterday at the end of the first 18 holes. The last 18 will be shot Sunday. Taylor shot a 67 but was tied by Bill Dill of Weatherford, Tex.

Bill Keith, Carlsbad pro, was forced to drop out of the running due to illness yesterday after carding a 39 on the front nine.

Protest Piling Up Against FPC Edict

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Protests are piling up against Federal Power Commission (FPC) orders for regulating the price of all natural gas flowing into interstate commerce.

At least a dozen petitions have been filed from within the industry for reconsideration of the orders, issued after the Supreme Court in effect directed FPC to widen its control over natural gas prices.

Some of the objectors contend the orders are unconstitutional.

The orders prescribe rules to govern the estimated 4,100 independent producers and gatherers of natural gas affected by the court's decision.

The regulations among other things provide that no rate increase can be made except with FPC approval and that applications for authority to transport and sell gas in interstate commerce must be filed by Oct. 1.

Some producers argue the FPC orders were issued without a hearing in violation of provisions of the Natural Gas Act and that they deprive producers of property in violation of the constitution.

The commission has 30 days after the date of filing to act on such petitions. The first of these—a group of three—were filed with the FPC Aug. 11 by Magnolia Petroleum Co., Ohio Oil Co. and Humble Oil & Refining Co.

Since then petitions for reconsideration have been submitted by American Republics Corp., Houston Oil Co. of Texas, Union Producing Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and Gulf Refining Co., George J. Darnelle of California, Tidewater Associated Oil Co., Kerr McGee Oil Industries Inc., Oil and Gas Property Management Inc., and Llano Grande Corp.

An FPC official said this week the commission's work to carry out the court's ruling doubtless would be slowed by failure of Congress to provide $300,000 for some 60 additional employes to handle the added duties. But he said the commission can not ignore the court decision and therefore will "do the best it can" with available manpower and money.

Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, reports oil and gas producers are "greatly concerned" over the court decision and the FPC orders.

They "may have a bad effect," he said, perhaps affecting the volume of natural gas reaching interstate markets and consumers.

This could come about if independent producers should close down gas wells rather than come under FPC jurisdiction, but Brown said that so far he knew of no such threats.

One thing that has helped the situation some, he said, is appointment of a top-level committee by President Eisenhower to study gas, oil, coal and other problems.

But Brown expressed belief that "confusion" created by the court decision may "have to be cleared up by legislation."

DRILLING REPORT

Sid Katz and R. H. Venable No. 1 R. B. Masterson and others, 15 miles northeast of Guthrie and in Northeast King County, is drilling in lime below 5,428 feet after a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian from 5,278-313 feet. The tool was open one hour, recovering 150 feet of muddy salt water with no shows of oil or gas.

The No. 1 Masterson was started to drill to 6,500 feet. It is in section 4-2-T&NO.

• • •

Harper & Huffman No. 1 Sears, Nolan County exploration, is drilling in Ellenburger dolomite below 7,535 feet. The project found slight shows of oil in the top of the Ellenburger and then encountered salt water. It is to continue drilling to the Cambrian sand.

• • •

Warren Petroleum Co. and Robert S. Lytle No. 2 Frank Stewart, 12 miles northwest of Clairemont, has spudded to 244 feet and is preparing to set and cement casing there. It is projected to 6,500 feet for a test of the Pennsylvanian.

General Crude Oil No. 1 Davenport, Fisher prospector, is drilling in shale and sand below 5,719 feet. Lester & Duffield, Inc., and Plymouth Oil No. 1 Rimmer is drilling in lime below 3,070 feet.

Southern Minerals and S. C. Herring Drilling Co. of Abilene No. 1 J. M. Sedberry, Stonewall County wildcat seven miles southeast of Aspermont, is drilling below 2,385 feet in shale and lime.

Two Fields In Scurry Report Completions

Completions of two Scurry County field wells have been reported to the Railroad Commission.

Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 6 P. R. Ainsworth is a new producer in the Diamond M-Canyon field. It was finaled for a 24-hour flowing potential of 256.82 barrels of 42.1-gravity oil. The flow was through a quarter-inch choke with gas-oil ratio 1,328-1. Tubing pressure was 340 pounds.

The production is through perforations in the casing from 6,632-674 feet which had been treated with 300 gallons of acid. Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 6,684 feet, total depth.

The No. 6 Ainsworth is 1,549 feet from north and 2,288 feet from east lines of section 99-25-H&TC.

Cresienn Oil Co. has completed the No. 5 Hardee Morrow in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field for 88 barrels of 28-gravity oil. The final test covered a 24-hour pumping period. No water was present. No gravity was reported. Pay was acidized with 7,000 gallons.

The new oiler is 990 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 99-97-H&TC.

Oil Is Swabbed From Ward County Wildcat

Tucker Drilling Co., San Angelo, swabbed 10 barrels of 41.2-gravity oil hourly on production test at its No. 1 Mary N. Rogers, wildcat in Northwest Ward County.

Oil is from the Clear discovery through perforations at 2,801 to 2,824 feet. The test was made after pay had been re-acidized with 1,000 gallons of acid. Earlier, 500 gallons of mud acid had been used.

Testing continued.

Location is 16 miles north of Fort McKavett, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 5, block B, GH&SA survey.

Rain Falls Promptly After Prayer Offered

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 21 (AP)—The Rev. John L. Dodge, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the invocation at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday and in closing offered a prayer "for rain to end the drought and cool the parched earth."

Moments after he spoke, a thunderstorm broke over this resort city and drenched the area with its first rain since July 18.

Over Supply Problem May Be Letting Up

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—There was indication this week the oil industry's problem of over supply is easing a bit.

Texas cautiously reversed a trend of two months and authorized a September increase of 67,235 barrels daily in crude allowables.

Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., after four cuts since November, boosted wholesale gasoline prices in 11 North Atlantic Seaboard states eight-tenths of a cent a gallon.

Gasoline stocks continued a gradual decline as refiners placed emphasis on heating fuels while preparing for the winter season.

Only last month there was fear excess gasoline stocks might lead to general instead of spotty price cuts. There also was fear the flood of gasoline might force a cut in crude prices.

Texas crude purchasers last week indicated they would need less crude in September than in August. By the time the Railroad Commission held its statewide proration hearing Thursday purchaser desires had switched in favor of a minor increase.

Ernest Thompson, commission chairman, announced the September increase but said:

"I'd hate to see us go off overoptimistic and have to cut back again."

Thompson said the state's July-August cutbacks totaling 320,000 barrels daily resulted from excessive national crude and gasoline stocks.

The September allowable will be 2,792,276 barrels daily, compared to over 3 million at the end of the fighting in Korea.

Gasoline stocks have been reduced nearly 30 million barrels since April 1 but still are some 14,600,000 barrels above year earlier levels.

In two weeks gasoline stocks have declined 2,074,000 barrels while the three other principal products—kerosene and light and heavy heating fuels—have increased 10,236,000.

Wildcat Set In West Scurry

Texas Crude Oil Co. and B. L. McFarland Drilling Co., both of Midland, have announced plans to drill their No. 1-288 J. N. Brumley as a wildcat 10 miles west of Snyder.

The project is to drill to 7,500 feet to test through the Strawn lime. Location has been made 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 288-97-H&TC. That is about one and one-half miles northwest of the nearest producer in the Kelley-Snyder Canyon reef field. Operations are to begin at once.

Completion Rate Stands Far Above 1953 Figure

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Completion of new oil wells in Texas stood more than 17 per cent above the year-ago total as 260 wells were brought in this week, the Railroad Commission reported today.

New wells for the year totaled 7,711 compared with 6,570 a year ago.

Also completed were 29 gas wells, raising the year's figure to 803, up 234 from the total at this date last year.

Operators plugged 118 dry holes.

Of the 260 new oil wells, only eight were drilled by wildcatters. There were only four wildcat gas wells, while 71 of the 118 dry holes were wildcat.

The total average calendar day crude allowable as of today was 2,748,536 barrels, a big increase of 23,495 barrels daily from a week ago.

Water Crowded Out

CEDAR GAP, Tex., Aug. 21 (AP)—Out here in West Texas E.B.Kidd's water pump quit.

Repairmen found a dead snake and a bird's nest inside.

The pump works now.

Weight Shift Is Cause Of Earth Wobble

By GORDON BEARD

GAITHERSBURG, Md., Aug. 21 (AP)—Every time you get in the family car and speed down one of America's superhighways — especially on a holiday when all your neighbors are doing the same thing — you're doing your part to make the earth wobble.

Well, maybe that's a bit of an exaggeration, but it's Earl L. Williams' way of saying a major cause of the earth's wobbling is shifting weights.

Williams should know. He is one of the five men in the world who scan the heavens almost every clear night of the year to check on latitude shifts.

His little observatory here was set up by the International Latitude Service to watch the variability of the earth's latitudes in relation to the stars.

The organization's central office near Turin, Italy, correlates the reports of Williams and his counterparts in California, Japan, Soviet Turkestan and on an island in the Mediterranean.

The results are issued to astronomers and other scientists the world over.

The five stations were established in 1899, shortly after the variability of the latitudes was discovered. The wobbling follows no fixed pattern, so astronomers decided the shifting required constant watching. In a 14-month cycle, the axis at the North Pole may shift as much as 40 feet.

Billions of tons of snow from an unusually heavy snowfall in any part of the world could cause the earth to wobble. And the globe will shift if clouds pick up huge amounts of water from one part of the earth and dump it in another.

But whatever the cause, Williams and his colleagues must find out how much the earth wobbles. They do it by charting stars.

The "wobble watchers" know exactly when certain stars should come into the fixed telescope's field. If the earth has wobbled, they won't show up at the scheduled time.

East Coke Field Has Its Second Producer

The Rawlings 5500 (Cambrian) field at East Coke County has gained its second producer and a half miles south extension with completion of Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 5 M. A. Rawlings and others.

The well was finaled for a 24-hour flowing potential of 340.84 barrels of 47.8-gravity oil through a quarter-inch choke and from open hole at 5,535-5,559 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 146-1. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds and casing pressure, 130 pounds.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 733 feet from east lines of section 397, block 1-A, H&TC survey, three miles north of Bronte.

Rites Set Today For Local Man's Mother

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in Brownwood for the mother of Cord F. Johnson of Snyder.

Mrs. Johnson, 84, died Friday night in a Brownwood hospital. Mr. Johnson was with his mother at the time of her death. He is employed by the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline Co. here.

Lawyer Dies After Award Is Presented

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—George Maurice Morris, 65, died last midnight—one night after he received the American Bar Assn. medal for "conspicuous and unselfish" service as an attorney.

The former ABA president died of coronary thrombosis at his home here. He was stricken two hours after his return by plane from Chicago, where on Thursday the ABA cited him.

Morris was president of the ABA in 1942-43. He was chairman of the committee which raised money for the American Bar Center in Chicago, The Center was dedicated Thursday.

Morris was born in Chicago. He received degrees from Dartmouth College in 1911 and the University of Chicago in 1915. During World War I he entered the Army as a private and rose to lieutenant.

Texan Makes His Transatlantic Hop

SHANON, Ireland, Aug. 21 (AP)—A tall Texan in a cowboy hat stretched an hour's flight over Canada in his single-engine plane into a transatlantic hop today that took him to Ireland by way of Paris.

Thomas H. Danaher, 30, in leather jacket and fawn trousers, arrived at Shannon airport from the U. S. Naval base at Argentia, Nfld., after a 13½-hour flight marred only by bad weather about 1,000 miles off the Irish coast. The distance covered was about 3,100 miles.

Some Canadian red tape barring flights of single engine planes farther than gliding distance of the Atlantic shoreline appeared to have been disregarded. Maybe the Argentia base could be considered U. S. soil. Canadian officials at St. Johns, Nfld., refused to say whether any regulations were actually broken, one explaining:

"We are not at liberty to discuss the flight."

The flight of Danaher, a 6-footer from Wichita Falls, Tex., recalled the feat of Douglas (Wrong Way) Corrigan, who piloted a used plane from New York to Iceland in 1938 after being refused permission to head out over the Atlantic.

Corrigan insisted later he was headed for California and got his directions mixed. All Danaher said was that he was going up for an hour's flight.

The Texan, a former U. S. Marine jet pilot who mines for uranium around Moab, Utah, wouldn't comment on how he stretched the hour's flight into the long ocean hop. He evaded questions about Canadian regulations on planes of his type.

But U. S. Naval officials at Argentia, noted Danaher had loaded up auxiliary gas tanks in his single-engine Beech Bonanza with enough fuel for a 22-hour flight. Shannon officials had been advised not to register surprise if Danaher landed there.

Actually he was aiming for Paris. He got over Paris in the dark, but couldn't land because his plane lacked adequate night-landing equipment. He decided then to come on to Shannon.

Danaher said the flight was something he always dreamed about during his wartime experiences in World War II and in Korea.

He told reporters it was "an excellent flight," and that the only time he became worried was about 1,000 miles off the Irish coast, "when I ran into real bad weather."

The Atlantic weather ship "Charlie" said it had been in contact with Danaher.

"The trip added 10 years to my life," Danaher declared.

Today he took off by automobile for a trip to Cork to visit the birthplace of his father, who emigrated to America 50 years ago.

He will fly to Paris by daylight tomorrow, seeking a reunion with some wartime buddies. Then he plans to fly back to the North American mainland, perhaps with a stopover in Iceland. His family expects him back home around Sept. 1.

Regulations won't bother him here. The Irish don't care who flies the Atlantic, and he won't have to worry about taking off in any direction he desires.

Miss Truman Loses Route

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21 (AP)—Margaret Truman got lost in the park yesterday.

The daughter of former President Harry Truman was en route from New York for her appearance in "the autumn crocus" which will have a two week run at Philadelphia's Playhouse in the Park in Fairmount Park.

Miss Truman, accompaneid by her secretary, Faith Waterman, drove into Fairmount Park, one of America's largest natural parks, during a driving rain. She took a wrong turn at the art museum.

A filling station attendant finally put her back on the right track and she arrived at the tent, scene of many fine summer stock plays, for a scheduled press conference. Her appearance here will be Miss Truman's first attempt at "Theater in the Round." She opens Monday night.

She prepared for the changed setting by taking last week off and rehearsing in New York on a stage similar to the Playhouse arrangement. She plays a prim school teacher who falls in love while on a holiday in the Tyrol.

She told the press her father was doing very well and had driven his car to the office yesterday for the first time since his recent illness. She said he would have liked to come to Philadelphia to see her perform but is not ready for such a long trip.

P-TA Planning To Evaluate Comic Books

A project dealing with the problem of comic books on newsstands in Snyder was adopted last week by the Parent-Teachers Association city council and will be presented to PTA units at each school here for possible adoption.

The council, headed by Mrs. Amon Weaver, passed the adoption on proposals made by a committee which began studies in May.

The committee, made up of Bill Ballard county probation officer; Bob Crowell, Chamber of Commerce manager; and Warder K. Novak, minister of the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ, suggested a program having to do with the evaluation of comic books now on sale. Some books considered unfit and indecent have been on sale throughout the U. S. An evaluation has been made on 386 comic books by a national organization, the Committee on Evaluation of Comic Books, which has its main offices in Cincinnati. The committee, using 90 trained reviewers placed books in categories of "no objection," "some objection," "objectionable," and "very objectionable." Those in the first two categroies are considred suitable for use by children and younger teen-agers.

This list will be put to use here by the PTA, which has included in the program to mail the lists to the homes of parents here, with each local unit bearing expenses. The executive committee plans to discuss the program in each PTA unit at a regular meeting.

The PTA plans to acquaint the public with the program, partly by securing speakers to appear before civic groups and organizations for discussion of the program. It also plans to work with and through local dealers who sell comic books, as well as the wholesalers who supply them. They will contact dealers to determine their willingness to participate in the program. If the dealer is cooperative, he will be encouraged to use selective purchasing of only the comic books deemed desirable. Wholesale dealers will be contacted, with approval of local dealers, and requested for cooperation in the program. They will be requested not to leave the undesirable rated books on the stands and to encourage publishers to cooperate.

Boy And Dog Spark Action

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—If you think a small boy and a big dog can't cause a lot of commotion, just check with the San Diego police, the Coronado, Calif., police—and the U.S. Navy.

Yesterday the police received a number of calls that a boy and his dog were crossing and recrossing busy Harbor Drive, fouling up the traffic.

They picked up 8-year-old Steve Thompson and his dog Barney. He didn't know his home address but he did know where his father, H. E. Thompson, a navy chief, was.

"Where?" said the cops. Aboard the submarine Hammerhead, said Steve.

So the San Diego police began to look for his mother, and had the nearby Coronado police help too.

Unable to locate Steve's mother, they contacted the Navy. The Navy checked its records — and found the submarine was en route to Mary Island, Calif.

The Coronado police finally got results — they located Steve's mother, Mrs. H. E. Thompson, who said he had run off with Barney that morning, apparently because he was spanked for starting the family automobile.

Interpretations Of Congress Box Score Posted By Parties

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower's team won 19 and lost only seven major legislative contests in the Congress which ended yesterday but whether it gets the political pennant depends on the Nov. 2 playoff at the polls.

After a session that ground out nearly as many bills in August as in the previous seven months, Eisenhower's lieutenants contended they had enacted the "dynamic, progressive program" the President has advanced as the major issue in the fight for control of the new Congress.

Democrats replied that some of the Eisenhower victories were politically hollow and others were attained only with their help. They said the net result would contribute to their attempts to win a majority in both houses.

The controversial farm bill hammered through Congress with White House pressure could be crucial. Some politicians regard it as the one issue most likely to determine which party takes over on Capitol Hill next January, or whether there is a division of control with one house Democratic and the other Republican.

This issue involves substitution of the system of flexible price supports favored by the President for rigid, high level props under basic field crops.

As a sample of how Republican and Democratic candidates will meet the issue, Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich) and Humphrey (D-Minn) gave a newsman previews of what they intend to tell the voters in their states.

Ferguson, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he is going to call the attention of the farmers to the fact that rigid, high level supporters were "born out of war and the necessity to produce food and supplies for our allies."

"Now we have to get back to a peacetime farm program, one of flexible price supports in which we can dispose of our surpluses in such a way as not to destroy the farmers' income.

"We intend to give the farmers freedom from restrictions on their operations and parity without huge surpluses hanging over their heads."

Humphrey said he intends to tell Minnesota voters "this little story that I think illustrates this Republican administration's philosophy:

"Secretary of Labor Durkin, who asked the President to keep his campaign commitments to labor, resigned when those promises were broken; Secretary of Agriculture Benson who counseled the President to break his commitments to the farmers is still in the cabinet."

Humphrey contended that the President promised continued high level supports in the 1952 campaign. Eisenhower has said he never committed himself to any fixed figure.

Congress refusal to consider revision of the Taft-Hartley Act actually was dictated by Senate Democrats who sent the bill back to committee because they did not like the amendments the Republicans proposed.

Eisenhower's failure to win a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, with power to lower some tariffs, apparently also will be heard from in the campaign. Congress extended the act for only one year without changes in the tariff authority.

Other major presidential proposals which went down the drain included statehood for Hawaii, a government health reinsurance plan, the vote for 18-year-olds, a wire tapping bill and postal rate increases.

Dulles Named Aviation Man Of The Year

BOYS TOWN, Neb. Aug. 21 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was named "Aviation's Man of the Year" today.

The Air Force Assn. conferred the title, and its Gen. H. H. Arnold Trophy, upon the Cabinet official for "leadership which has given needed recognition and expression to the concept of the importance of air power as an instrument of our national policy."

Previous winners over the past six years have been the late Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, former Air Force chief of staff; Senators Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming; Gen. Curtis E. LeMay and the personnel of the Strategic Air Command; United Nations airmen in the Far East; Maj. Gen. William H. Turner and the men of the Berlin airlift, and W. Stuart Symington, former secretary of the Air Force.

At a banquet here the AFA also conferred its annual flight trophy upon Maj. Charles Yeager, famed research pilot, and its science trophy upon Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, who recently rode a rocket-propelled sled to a new record for surface speeds, at 421 miles an hour.

Yeager, first man to fly faster than sound, and more recently the first to fly more than two times the speed of sound, was honored for "courage, daring and professional proficiency."

Yeager, who has been stationed Calif., is to be transferred Oct. 3 to 12th Air Force headquarters in Germany.

Stapp is chief of the Aero-Medical Field Laboratory at Holloman Air Development Center, N. M., where his rocket-sled experiments have been conducted.

The citation noted that the research into problems of high-speed flight had been conducted at grave personal risk.

The Hoyt S. Vandenberg Memorial Award for distinguished service in contributing to public understanding of the air age was presented to Gill Robb Wilson of New York, editor and publisher of Flying magazine.

The Arts and Letters Award, for distinguished service to air power in the writing field, went to Charles J. V. Murphy, Rye, N. Y., an editor of Fortune magazine. Murphy formerly worked for The Associated Press, the New York Sun, the New York Evening Post and the New York World.

VOL. 5, No. 97 — SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 22, 1954 — SECTION B

Instruction in the 4-H Club creed and ethics was led by Alma Nell Hillis, standing left, and Ethel Hundsnurcher. Newer club members at the encampment were grouped and each rotated to periods of the various phases of instruction and games. Studying the creed above seated from left are: Karen Lue White. Kay Byars, LaVetta Bouldware, Patricia Kubena, Ona Thomason, and Linda Staton.

Cooking three meals a day for the more than 50 4-H Club girls at their annual summer encampment was a big chore, but the quartet of cooks for the event shown above made sure no one went hungry. From left are: Mrs. Buford Light, Hermleigh; Mrs. C. D. Burrow, Fluvanna; Mrs. Theo Soules, Hermleigh; and Mrs.H. W. Butts, Snyder. Mrs. Butts is the mother of Miss Ruby Butts, Scurry County home demonstration agent. (Lee Watson photographs)

WORK AND PLAY MARK 4-H CLUB ENCAMPMENT

Grooming was one phase of instruction received by the girls in the 4-H Club encampment last week. The grooming instruction was led by Lorita Stirling, second from right. Shown manicuring their fingernails from left are: Sharon McCright, Linda Darden, Lorita Stirling, and Darla Bryant.

Sleeping space was a problem for the 52 girls at the 4-H Club encampment which was held Monday and Tuesday in the Ennis Creek school house. All the girls took bed rolls, but by the time all were stretched out the entire floor was covered. Three of the newer girls in Scurry County 4-H Club work are shown making their beds above. From left they are: LaVatta Bouldware, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bouldware, Fluvanna; Cayrene Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Cummings, Snyder; and Robyn Beaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beaver, Fluvanna.

In one of the game sessions at the 4-H Club encampment the group of girls above blinded members and had them try to identify the other girls by the touch system. Shown with the blindfolds above are Jonelle Light, and Betty Pylant. Others clockwise from left are: Violet Davis, Mary Ellen Grossman, Virginia Rose Williams, Sadie Fern Hillis, Betty Staton, Barbara Thornburg, Gayrene Cummings, Darlene Lemons, Peggy Brown, Lois Doonan, Jean Ethredge, Margaret Clinkinbeard, Sandra Leech, and Jacqueline Martin.

american designer's pattern

by Joseph Halpert

This dress pattern by Joseph Halpert is in many respects very French for it combines inverted pleating over the bosom with a moved over shoulder line and a skirt cut in three pieces, whose back fullness is quite unique. The back talk here is arrived at by two deep pleats on either side. Noteworthy, too, are the pocket tabs which come out from the bottom half of the slot to button over the top. Originally in a silk and wool mixture, it is a good dress for flannel or any of the wools, faille or even linen or chambray. This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements. Please state waist, bust and hip measurements when ordering this pattern. Size 12 requires 4¾ yards of 39 inch material for dress and ½ yard of 1-inch grosgrain ribbon for interfacing. To order Pattern No. 1192, address SPADEA SYNDICATE, INC., P. O. Box 535, Dept. S-13, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. Add 4 cents for handling, if paid by check or money order.

Beautification Is Urged As Prelude To Convention

Snyder will have an opportunity to put its best foot forward early next spring when federated club women from the Seventh District meet here for their annual convention.

Advance planning for the convention has already begun, and one major project under discussion is yard beautification. All Snyder residents are being asked to cooperate in the program, and one particular task which can be undertaken soon is the planting of bulbs. Bulbs will furnish early spring flowers which make an attractive display when few other plants are ready to bloom, and are more hardy than their fragile appearance would indicate.

Late October and early November are usually the best days for bulb planting in this area, Garden Club members say. Daffodils, tulips and irises are all suited for planting here, and the bulbs range in price generally from 50 cents to $1.25 each so that a fairly large bed can be planned at a moderate cost.

Mrs. J. A. Kendall of Amarillo, an active garden club member and successful gardener herself for several years, has compiled this list of daffodil varieties recommended for planting in this area:

Long trumpet: yellow—King Alfred, Lord Wellington, Robinhood; bi-color — Spring Glory (yellow and white); white — Mrs. E. H. Krelage, the white King Alfred, Roxane; pink — Mrs. R. O. Backhouse, Lovenest.

Large cupped: yellow — Carlton and Scarlet Leader; bi-color — Dick Wellband, Hades, John Evelyn

Small cupped: Diana Kasner

Triadrus: Thalia

Jonquils: Trevithian, Jonquilla Simplex, Odorus Rugulosus

Poetaz (bunch flowered): Laurens Koster, Geranium

Double: Inglescombe (especially good for corsages and arrangements), Irene Copeland, Mary Copeland

Mrs. Jason Robberson, also an Amarillo flower enthusiast, has covered a vacant lot next door to her home with tulips. The blooms caused virtual traffic jams as drivers paused to admire them. These varieties are recommended by Mrs. Robberson.

Pink: Clara Butt, Princess Elizabeth

Yellow: Inglescombe Yellow

White: Carara

Orange: Prince of Orange

Purple: The Bishop

Bronze: Louis XIV, Bronze Queen

Rose red: Farncombe Sanders

Red: City of Haarlem, Pride of Haarlem.

Iris varieties recommended by Mrs. Kendall include the following:

White: Winter Carnival, Snow Flurry, Jake, New Snow, Southern Snow

Yellow: Ola Kala, Golden Spike, Cloth of Gold, Arcadia Buttercup

Light yellow: Treasure Island, Pale Primrose

Cream Yellow: Misty Gold, Springtime Madonna (better than Golden Fleece)

Pink: Pink Cameo, Twilight Sky, Cherie, Pink Sensation, Pink Formal

Orchid pink: Harriet Thoreau, Pink Ruffles, Pink Bountiful

Rose pink blend: China Maid, Tea Rose, Three Oaks, Miogem

Rose: Lighthouse, Red Amber

Red: Solid Mahogany, The Red Douglas, Ranger, Relentless

Light blue: Gloriole, Great Lakes, Helen McGregor, Cahokia

Medium blue: Sierra Blue, Blue Rhythm, Chivalry

Darker blue: The Admiral, Danube Wave

Blue-purple: Mrs. J. L. Gibson, Nightfall, Sable, Indiana Night

Purple: Indian Hills, Mulberry Rose, Elmohr

Plicate (white or yellow ground with dots or markings): Tiffany, Firecracker, Fire Dance, Los Angeles, Claribel, Blue Shimmer, Love Affair, Marquita

Veriegata (yellow standards and dark falls): Persiam Prince, Staten Island, Gypsy, Older City of Lincoln

Yellow - bronze: Bucksin, Old Parchment, Aztec Copper, Russet Wings

Brown and bronze-red: Mexico, Bryce Canyon, Sunset Blaze, Lockwood, Pretty Quadroom, Tobacco Road, Casa Moreno, Treva

Amoena: Wabash (Amigo and Lothario have blue standards instead of white)

Plum color: Grand Canyon, Plum Pretty.

Most of the pink irises are still nigh priced, Mrs. Kendall said, but many of the others can be secured for very nominal cost.

Dress Revue Set At Gail

A county-wide 4-H Club dress revue will climax an evening of activities in Gail Thursday night.

The dress revue is to start at 8:30 Thursday night in the high school adutiorium in Gail, Mrs. Edith Hughes, Borden County home demonstration agent, said. About 40 garments are to be modeled in the revue, with 10 girls modeling dresses. All the garments have been made during the summer, and each will receive a blue, red or white ribbon when awards are made at the end of the revue. One of the dress models will be selected to represent the county in the district dress revue in Lubbock in September.

A 4-H rally is to start at 5 o'clock at the school. Demonstrations are to be given and reports made on activities of the year. A picnic supper will precede the revue.

These cowgirl sisters, Amy, on the left, and Janelle McGilvray, relax and rest between performances when contesting in a rodeo. When asked if either of them had ever been injured, Amy replied; "I was once—the only time Mother ever ate peanuts in the arena!" There is a strong superstitution among cowboys and girls that peanuts in the arena are bad luck. (Lee Watson photograph)

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Cowgirls Have Lots Of Fun Entering Rodeos

By ANITA HALL

Participating in rodeos began as a hobby for AMY and JANELLE McGILVRAY of Robert Lee, who were contestants in the Junior rodeo here. They have progressed so well that their hobby gives them a good income annually.

Their mother, Mrs. BUD McGILVRAY, said, "The girls have lived most of their lives on ranches because their father is a cowboy." They each started riding horses alone when they were 2½-years-old. As they grew up, they helped their father with his ranch duties and quoted him as saying he would rather have the two of them help him than three or four cowboys.

Amy began participating in rodeos when she was eleven years old and has continued to enter them each year since. She has won three saddles, 14 buckles, watches, hats and many pairs of boots. She participated only in barrel-racing at the Junior rodeo just held here.

Janelle started her rodeo career when she was only six years old. She, too, has won watches, hats and boots. She has ridden cutting horses in rodeos but, in the one here, she entered the barrel-racing and ribbon roping.

Mr. and Mrs. McGilvray always accompany the girls and he coaches them while she keeps a record of their time, money earned, etc. In 1949, he was injured in an accident that made him unable to work at that time, so the family toured the rodeo circut from February until November. Mrs. McGilvray tutored the girls to enable them to keep up their school work.

That was the year that Amy won the title of All-Round Girl Champion of the Girls' Rodeo Association. Janelle won third place honors at the same time. This was the last Junior rodeo for Amy because 19 is the age limit.

They have entered rodeos in Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and all over Texas. They hope that someday they can enter the one in Madison Square Garden in New York.

Amy attended TCU last year but she is undecided about which school she will attend this year. Janelle will be a Junior in Robert Lee High School.

The twin sons of Lt. and Mrs. VERN McGREW, born Friday the thirteenth in Houston, made their bow to the public early in life. They were "guests" on a Houston television show — and a sports show at that.

John James and William Martin are the names selected for the twins. Mr. and Mrs. V. V. McGREW, 3602 Avenue V, the paternal grandparents, have already had a first-hand look at them. Lieutenant McGrew, who is now stationed at Fort Hood, is to be released from the army in time to re-enter the University of Texas law school early in September.

Tea Honors Bride-Elect

Doris Sterling, who is to be married to Fort Spikes on August 27, was honored at a gift tea Wednesday afternoon in the C. V. (Whitt) Thompson, Sr., home at 2304 Thirtieth Street.

Hostesses were Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. C. U. Bishop, Mrs. E. L. Kubala, Mrs. T. T. Swan, Mrs. L. D. Logan, Mrs. O. T Richardson, Mrs Ray Herring, Mrs. Dan Burns, Mrs. Collie Fish, Mrs. Frank Strom, Mrs. Marvin Key, Mrs. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Don McDonald, Sandra Cooper, Mary Alice Richardson, Janeene Smith, Jane DeWald, Ann Fish and Carla Swan.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Thompson were Miss Sterling and her mother, Mrs. T. J. Sterling, and Mrs. Sam Spikes and Mrs. Russell Shannon of Big Spring, mother and sister, respecitvely, of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Sterling wore a formal gown of white with a trim of sequins and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Kubala presented piano selections during the receiving hours. Pat Taylor sang two solos, "Indian Love Call" and "Little Things Mean A Lot." Miss Swan was at the refreshment service.

The refreshment table was spread with a white cutwork cloth with the silver punch bowl at one end. A large white fan of lace and net, outlined in pearls and veined with vanda orchids, was placed at the opposite end. Beside the fan were candles and a bowl in which orchids floated. Ribbon streamers scattered with orchids extended to the punch bowl.

Other house decorations included a fan-shaped bouquet of purple crown asters on the mantle and a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and daisies on the registry table.

About 90 guests called during the receiving hours.

MR. AND MRS. DAVE HOUSTON
. . . on wedding trip

Joyce Wendland Becomes Bride Of Dave Houston

Joyce Wendland became the bride of Dave (Corky) Houston in a candlelight ceremony read at 8 o'clock Friday night in the North Side Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simpson of Brownwood. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Houston, 1611 Twenty-eighth Street, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Earl Creswell, pastor of the church, officiated at the wedding. The church was decorated with an arch of greenery and bells of various sizes hung from the arch, and plaques of fern and palm leaves with white bows were placed on either side of the arch. Candelabra holding white tapers flanked the plaques.

A prelude of pre-nuptial music was played by Mira Caswell, pianist. Mrs. Bobby Ray Newton sang "Always," and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The figurine bodice was enhanced with re - embroidered seed pearls edging the Peter Pan collar and tiny buttons from the throat to the waist. A matching lace Juliet cap embroidered in seed pearls held the tiered, waist-length veil of imported illusion. The bride's bouquet of white roses with a shower of split mums and white ribbon was arranged on a white Bible.

Jeanneane Simpson served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Connie Longbotham of Snyder and Jackie Darby of Lubbock. Barbara King and Billy Sellars lighted the candles. Becky Bailey was flower girl.

Gowns for the feminine attendants were identical frocks of pink, blue, yellow and aqua slipper satin, designed with waltz-length skirts and shirred necklines. Each carried a white colonial bouquet.

Eddie Bayouth of Hamlin was best man. Ushers were Gene Wendland, brother of the bride, and Marlin James.

A reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keenan followed the ceremony. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Fort Worth the bride wore a navy sheath dress with a brief white jacket and white accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Houston will be at home at 1208 Twenty-seventh Street. Mr. Houston is employed at Snyder Tailoring Company.

Mrs. Houston, a 1954 graduate of Snyder High School, was a candidate for Texas Distributive Education sweetheart last spring. Mr. Houston is also a graduate of Snyder High School.

A gift tea honoring Joyce Wendland, who was married Friday night to Dave (Corky) Houston, was given Monday in the home of Mrs. F. F. Keenan, 3111 Avenue A.

Guests were received by Mrs. Keenan. Jeanneane Simpson presided at the bride's book, where about 100 guests were registered.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue in the honoree's chosen colors and held a centerpiece of roses and greenery. Mrs. Don Snider and Mrs. Marvin Smith served guests. Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Mrs. Bill Snider and Mrs. Doug Burney arranged gifts for display.

ORANGE TAPIOCA SOUFFLE
. . . light as a summer breeze

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-8488.

Souffles, long a staple of French culinary art, seem to have taken the fancy of American cooks. Although it has a reputation of being hard to master, actually a souffle is a simple and useful everyday dish.

In souffle making, the size of the backing dish is of utmost importance. Put a souffle in a casserole that is too large for the recipe, and no matter how carefully you have combined the ingredients, it will never rise to any great heights.

You may separate the yolks from the whites when you take the eggs from the refrigerator, because they separate best when they are cold. Never beat the egg whites until just before you are ready to combine them with your other ingredients.

In this recipe you use quick-cooking tapioca instead of flour for an American-type souffle. Adding the tapioca is no trouble at all; simply combine it with part of the liquid called for in the recipe and bring to a boil. Then add the rest of the ingredients.

Offer the Orange Tapioca Souffle with sliced fresh peaches.

ORANGE TAPIOCA SOUFFLE
1-3 cup quick-cooking tapioca
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 cup strained orange juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 eggs (separated)

Put tapioca, sugar, salt and water in saucepan. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in orange rind and juice; remove from heat and stir in butter. Allow to cool slightly while beating eggs. Beat egg yolks with rotary beater until thick and ivory colored. Add topioca mixture to egg yolks and mix well. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold tapioca mixture into egg whites. Turn into buttered 2-quart backing dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 60 minutes or until souffle looks firm. Serve at once with sliced peaches.

Texan Dies In Florida

DALLAS (AP)—Clifford Brown, Sr., 56, president of Brown Land and Royalty Co., died in Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday.

Mr. And Mrs. Littlepage Are Now At Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Littlepage, Jr., are at home here following their marriage August 14 in the New Zion Baptist Church.

Mrs. Littlepage is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hulon S. Pearson of Savoy. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Littlepage, 3607 Avenue U.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Clayton Hicks of Bells as the couple stood before an archway of greenery. The arch was flanked on either side by candelabra holding white tapers and by baskets of white gladioli. Mrs. Jimmy Spann of Fort Worth played traditional wedding music and accompanied Ada Raudy of Ector who sang "I Love You Truly."

Candles were lighted by Miss Rhudy and Mildred Rhudy, Laura Pearson, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

For her wedding, the bride wore a street-length frock of blue with navy accessories. Her bouquet of gardenias and stelphanotis with white streamers was carred on a white Bible.

Jo Ann Lumpkin of Commerce and Jimmie Barrett of Simms attended the bride. Tommy Russell of Fort Sill, Okla., a college classmate of Mr. Littlepage, was best man. Jess Everett of Snyder, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was groom man. Ushers were James Rhudy of Ector and Clue Peek of San Angelo.

A reception in the church parsonage followed the wedding. The refreshment table was laid with an Irish lace cloth over white and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Littlepage is a graduate of Savoy High School and East Texas State Teachers' College. She has taught at East Elementary School here for the last two years. Mr.

Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Neal Buchanan are on a wedding trip to points in South Texas following their marriage August 15 in the Union Baptist Church.

Mrs. Buchanan is the former Anita Louise Burris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Burris, Lion Oil camp. Mr. Buchanan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buchanan, 2112 Twenty-sixth Street.

The Rev. Jack O'Neal, pastor of the Green Hill Baptist Church, read the double-ring ceremony. The couple stood before an altar flanked by bouquets of pink gladioli and candelabra. Myrtle Scott, organist, presented wedding music. She also accompanied Bill Poe as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length frock of white Chantilly lace over white taffeta. Seed pearls edged the small Peter Pan collar and lace-covered buttons trimmed the bodice. Her mitts matched the lace of the dress, and her fingertip-length veil of illusion fell from a pearl tiara.

The bridal bouquet of stephanotis and white carnations was bound on a white Bible.

Ramona Thompson, maid of honor, wore a princess type dress of pink polished cotton with matching hat and shoes. Her bouquet was a colonial nosegay of pink gladioli. Barbara Buchanan was flower girl and wore a full-skirted dress of aqua taffeta.

Doyle Buchanan, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Gene Thompson and Buddy Buchanan were ushers.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated in her chosen colors of pink and white.

For traveling, Mrs. Buchanan choose a beige linen sheath dress and black and white accessories. The couple is to be at home at 2116 Twenty-sixth Street. Mr. Buchanan is employed by the Buchanan Air Conditioning Service.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. W. O. Campbell of El Dorado, Ark., grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Allen Greene and Mary Cammack of Camden, Ark.

Tip for new cooks: when a recipe directs you to simmer (not boil) a ham or a smoked tongue remember to keep the heat adjusted so that bubbles form slowly and collapse below the surface of the cooking liquid.

Never Held Office Here

In a story published Thursday, Aug. 19, concerning the appointment of Raymond M. Cavness as president of San Angelo College, it was reported in the Daily News that Cavness was a long-time friend of Mrs. Willie Farmer, a former county treasurer. Mrs. Farmer has called attention to the fact that although she frequently spent much time in the courthouse several years ago after she organized the Merchants Credit Association, she never held public office.

Girl Sky Sprayer Flies Into Work; Competition Is Nil

By BILL ACATZ
AP Newsfeature Writer

FORT WASHINGTON, Pa. — Women tackle practically every every kind of job these days, but attractive Mary Willcox doesn't have much competition in her field —yet.

At 26, Mary is an experienced sky-sprayer. That means she has to be a topnotch flier and know a great deal about fighting weeds with chemicals.

In the off-season, she bones up on the latest developments in herbicides at an experimental farm near here.

Then during the three summer months she puts this knowledge to practical use for Canadian ranches. Flying a few feet off the ground at more than 85 miles an hour, she sprays miles and miles of Alberta wheat and other grains.

From her small open cockpit biplane, Mary can spray an acre in 15 seconds. The operation kills the weeds chemically, an estimated 40 times faster than ground methods. It costs the farmer $1.25 an acre—but don't call on Mary if you only have an acre or two.

When she lands for the chemical, her business partner, Canadian rancher Frank Young, pumps the spray solution into a 40-gallon tank in the plane. From this tank the spray is distributed to a total of 12 nozzles under the wings—six on each side. Flow is controlled by a trigger on the stick, similar to the device which fires machine guns on a fighter plane.

Once loaded, Mary takes off and does a couple of rolls to mix the solution.

Two helpers stand in the field, serving as markers for the swath she'll spray. As she approaches, they dive flat to the ground to avoid being clipped by the plane. Then they run across the field to mark the next swath while Mary does a sharp turn for the reverse flight. This procedure is necessary because the chemical does not leave a plainly-visible mark on the crops.

The pretty flier who likes to ski and play squash rackets in her leisure time, has logged more than 2,500 hours in the air without a crackup.

GETTING READY
. . . Mary Willcox prepares to take off for a spraying operation over a Cannadian field.

Legionnaires Plan Barbecue

The local American Legion post is set to entertain some 75 out-of-town visitors at a barbecue and social event Monday night at the Legion building.

C. R. Agee, post commander, said a large delegation from the Brownfield post is due here for the event. The Snyder Legionnaires will be paying their penalty for losing a membership contest, which were agreed upon by the two Legion posts, the unit signing the fewest members is required to fete the other post at a barbecue. The Brownfield post won the contest, and 75 of its members will be here for the event is Bill Abbott of Midland, state vice-commander of the Legion.

Agee said all local Legionnaries have been urged to attend.

New Seat Of Kent County Back To Clairemont Pending New Decision

The Kent County seat will be returned to Clairemont — temporarily, at least — Mark Cave, a county commissioner, said.

Records of the county, which have already been moved to Jayton, the new county seat, are to be returned to Clairemont by Tuesday morning, Cave said. The county commissioners court is to meet in Clairemont at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The court has now agreed that moving the county records from Clairemont to Jayton without the court's approval was illegal. (Three of the county's four commissioners refused to attend meetings in Jayton until the court had approved the move.)

Commissioners who opposed the moved to Jayton and then refused to designated a new location there have agreed to set a new location "within a reasonable period of time" if the records are in Clairemont Tuesday morning, Cave added.

Fun Ends For Thrill Killers

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn's four thrill-killing teen-agers, once boastful about their deeds of violence, turned sick and shaken from the sight of one of their hapless victims.

The "fun" was over for Jack Koslow, 18-year-old leader of the brutal foursome. He wept when confronted yesterday with the battered, water-soaked body of a Negro victim and told detectives, "I feel sick."

It was Koslow who two days earlier had allegedly given police details of this slaying and other savage attacks of the night before. At that time he told them:

"Last night was a supreme adventure for me."

One by one the four youths were brought onto a Brooklyn waterfront pier to identify the body of Willard Menter, 34, who ran afoul of his killers in a Brooklyn park McKay night.

Police knew nothing of the slaying until after the four youths were arrested early Tuesday on an assault complaint and told of beating a man, burning his feet with cigarettes and throwing him into the East River. Police began dragging the river and yesterday recovered the body. An autopsy showed he drowned.
