Honolulu Drilling New SW Lubbock Wildcat

Honolulu Oil Corporation has started drilling on a 5,300-foot wildcat in Southwest Lubbock County, 10 miles southwest of the city of Lubbock.

The prospect is Honolulu No. 1 W. C. Ratliff. It is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block A-2, E-2-R survey.

Sun And Ohio Stake NW Scurry Venture

Sun Oil Company and The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Sally Helms is slated to be a 7,300-foot wildcat in extreme Northwest Scurry County, about 20 miles northeast of the town of Snyder, and almost on the west line of Fisher County.

It is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 336, block 97, H-2-C survey, and two miles north of Ohio's No. 1 J. W. Neal, a deep failure drilled early in 1948.

Ellenburger Test In Tom Green Spotted

J. J. Perkins, of Wichita Falls, and Sun Oil Company are to drill a 7,000-foot prospect, to try to locate and test the Ellenburger in West Tom Green County, four miles west of the city of San Angelo.

It will be 680 feet from south and west lines of section 1, A-B-M survey. Operations are to start at once. Contract to drill the project has been let to the Western Drilling Company, of Longview. Drilling equipment is now being moved to the location.

The development is on a block of about 12,000 acres acquired about two years ago by Perkins. A deal has been worked out for Sun to have a half interest in the wildcat and in the block.

Cities Service Prospector Indicates Dual Extension

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-Y University, approximately one and one-half miles north of the initial producer from the Devonian in the multi-pay Shafter Lake field, in North-Central Andrews County, flowed a total of 242.64 barrels of oil in three hours and 10 minutes, during a drillstem test at 9,735-9,810 feet.

The tool was open for a total of three hours and 40 minutes. Gas showed at the surface in five minutes. Drilling mud flowed at the top in 25 minutes, and oil started flowing out of the drill pipe in 26 minutes.

The flow was turned to tanks at the end of 30 minutes. Gauges were taken each 30 minutes during the flowing. They were: 22.6 barrels; 41.36 barrels; 38.8 barrels; 41.36 barrels, and 33.08 barrels. No water was indicated. Operator was pulling the testing tool at last report.

More Oil Shows On DST At Magnolia Discovery

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TXL, in North-Central Upton County, 30 miles south of Midland, ran a two-hour and five minute drillstem test in a Pennsylvania lime and shale section at 10,135-10,170 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in seven minutes. Maximum gas volume reached 660,210 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 200 feet of 44.8 gravity oil and 260 feet of heavy oil and gas out drilling mud. No signs of water were developed.

Surface flowing pressure was 25 pounds. Bottom hole flowing pressure was 300 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 4,025 pounds.

This possible new field opener from the Pennsylvania is making hole below 10,222 feet in shale. Has Considerable Section.

This venture has shown for clean oil from 10,095 feet to 10,170 feet, in streaks of lime and shale, and has not encountered any water in that formation.

Interested observers think there is a fair chance that the pay sections already drilled through might be completed for some sort of commercial production. The well is slated to continue to between 12,500 feet and 13,000 feet to test into the Ellenburger.

The drillsite is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

Scurry Prospect Swabs Oil In Ellenburger Top

Magnolia No. 1 Winston, South-Central Scurry County prospect, four miles southwest of Snyder, and 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, Kirkland and Fields survey, No. 37, swabbed dry natural, on perforations in the top of the Ellenburger at 7,840-82 feet.

UN To Open Paris Meet Tuesday

Something's Gone To Their Heads

If you like 'em, you can have 'em, girls—at $30 a copy. They're the latest hair-do's by New York designer Mark and they come in six different colors. At left, Doris Dean models "Noah's Ark," with top hair shaped like a boat containing tiny animals. Ball fringe in French blue circles the forehead. At right, Ann Louise Kutz shows the "Bird's Nest." It features a diamond-shaped bang over the forehead and a coil of braided hair around the crown. From the center of this coil a heavy six-inch shock of hair shoots upward. That is the body of the "bird." Jutting out from the right temple are the "bird's" neck and head.

Red Coup Reported Brewing In Germany

BERLIN —(AP)—An anti-Communist newspaper claimed Monday that Communists in Eastern Germany are arming illegal shock troops for an eventual attempt to seize power in Berlin and all Germany by force.

Montag's Echo, organ of the rightist Liberal Democratic Party, charged that these shock troops are composed of armed civilians who are being organized as auxiliaries of the Communist-controlled Eastern German police.

So-called workers police battalions being formed in the Russian sector of Berlin and throughout the Soviet occupation zone, the newspaper said. This was the latest of several recent reports in the Western-licensed press that German Communists, with Russian aid, are building up their forces for an eventual armed fight for Germany.

Meanwhile, the Communists have been propagandizing Russian proposals that all occupying forces be withdrawn from Germany. If that should happen, Western sources said, the Communists alone would have armed forces at their disposal to work their will on German anti-Communists.

The newspaper charge came shortly after Communist patrols raided newstands in the Russian sector of Berlin Sunday, ripping and scattering anti-Red newspapers in an apparent showdown over the free dissemination of news.

The strong-man tactics were denounced by American military government officials, who are considering a counter-embargo on Soviet-controlled publications. The Americans said the Communist raids were a violation of four-power agreements for the exchange of information throughout Germany.

While Communist police stood idly by, the Red Squads moved swiftly from one newstand to another in the Soviet sector, tearing up the Western publications. They made dealers promise to stop selling the anti-Communist papers in the future, under threat of "other measures." Asked what these measures would be, they pointed to gasoline cans, apparently indicating incendiary intentions.

Retail Credit Course Opens Here Monday

A Retail Credit Procedure Course for Midland merchants, their employees and other interested persons will open at 7:30 p. m. Monday in Studio A of KCRS, sponsors announced. The school will continue through Friday, with classes scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. nightly.

The course is sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association, the Distributive Education Department of Midland High School, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Sterling S. Speake of Austin, a representative of the University of Texas Division of Extension, co-operating with the State Board for Vocational Education, will be the instructor. He is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Business Administration and has had several years experience in the retail credit field.

All phases of retail credit operations will be covered during the 10-hour course.

Man Fined After Sunday Collision

A Midland man was fined $10 in city court here Monday as the aftermath of a collision Sunday at the intersection of Missouri and L Streets. Officers reported the man ran a stop sign.

Johnson To Attack Court's Jurisdiction

FORT WORTH —(AP)—Lyndon Johnson's attorneys will attack the right of jurisdiction when U. S. District Judge Davidson opens a hearing Tuesday on Coke Stevenson's motion for a temporary injunction to prevent Johnson from being listed as the Democratic senatorial nominee on the general election ballot.

Raymond Buck, one of the Johnson attorneys, said Monday the action would be based on the grounds that the Senate itself is the exclusive judge of such contests.

Stevenson based his motion for the injunction on an allegation that fraudulently counted votes in Jim Wells and Zapata Counties were responsible for Johnson's scant 87-vote victory in the second Democratic primary.

Secretary of State Paul Brown Monday told the Star-Telegram that if the court dissolves the restraining order Tuesday or Wednesday morning, he will be able to get the name of Johnson on the sample ballot now being prepared for presentation to the election boards of the 254 Texas counties.

Brown added that should he get relief from the restraining order at a later time, he would supply the election boards with a supplemental certification.

Gulf Hurricane Heads Toward Florida Coast

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)—The master of the stricken British freighter Lochmonar reported Monday the 73 persons aboard were believed safe as a hurricane with winds of over 100 miles an hour moved away from the ship and closer to the Cuban coast.

South Florida from Miami through the keys was placed in the "danger zone" of the storm which Sunday trapped the Lochmonar, a 9,000-ton vessel. The Weather Bureau warned South Floridians to stand by for possible hurricane warnings by nightfall.

The Coast Guard received a message from the Lochmonar stating: "Consider passengers and crew safe on vessel until weather calms. Do not think ship will break up. Vessel settled more and pounding eased. Holes in five fuel tanks. Three holds taking water slowly. Auxiliaries working. Sky clearing and winds easing slightly. Tug Cub standing by."

South Florida Alerted

The Lochmonar is hard aground on Little Cayman Island south of Cuba.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said the Florida area under the alert was from Miami south on the East coast and from Everglades south of the West coast. He said the Florida Straits should begin feeling the first effects of the hurricane Monday afternoon. Strong winds from a northeaster buffeted the keys over the weekend.

The hurricane was located 175 miles south of Havana and 400 miles south southwest of Miami. The center was expected to reach the vicinity of the Isle of Pines about noon and the South coast of Cuba by late afternoon.

Reds Announce Plans To Withdraw Troops From Northern Korea

MOSCOW —(AP)—Russia will pull all her troops out of Northern Korea by the new year, an official statement said Sunday night.

The announcement indicated the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the Far Eastern trouble spot, apparently will be unconditional, although it called on the United States to move American troops out of Southern Korea.

The news agency Tass announced the decree of the Presidium (executive) of the Supreme Soviet.

The Russian move caused surprise in American diplomatic circles, where some informants predicted the Soviet would not actually carry out the plan unless the Americans evacuate their area of Korea.

Bernadotte Report Urges UN Stop War Between Jews, Arabs

PARIS —(AP)—A posthumous report by the murdered Count Folke Bernadotte declares the United Nations should step in to end the Palestine war if the Arabs and Jews fail to make peace.

May Be Mediator

(NEA Telephone)

Paul Van Zeeland, above, may become the next UN mediator in Palestine. He would succeed the late Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated in Jerusalem. Van Zeeland, a Belgian, was the alternate choice when the Swedish count was first appointed.

Israel Starts Crackdown On Terror Groups

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL —(AP)—Israel adopted emergency regulations Sunday night to deal with terrorist organizations and took first steps to smash the Stern Gang, accused of assassinating Count Folke Bernadotte.

Both sides indicated strongly that if the Davidson ruling goes against it, the matter will be taken to other courts.

A ruling against Johnson to all indications would result in application to the U. S. Supreme Court for a writ of prohibition. Such a writ would by-pass the action of the Federal District Court, making it possible for Johnson's name to be inserted on the ballot.

Any way the court rules, the people of Texas still will not know who is their junior senator. Both Stevenson and Johnson have stated that the Senate is the ultimate authority in the matter and that if necessary they will carry the bitter fight there for final decision.

Indonesian Republic Faces Civil War After Communists Nab City

BATAVIA, JAVA —(AP)—The fledgling Indonesian Republic, her third largest city lost to the Communists, is facing civil war.

The Communists seized Madioen, in Central Java, Saturday and broadcast defiance Monday, accusing the republic's government of "selling the country to the imperialists."

A parliamentary working committee of the republic gave President Soekarno power to "take any measures he sees fit" to safeguard security.

An informed source in Jogjakarta, the Republican capital, declared that a document had been found in Communist Party files stating that a Communist coup in Java was to follow within three months of the beginning of rebellious activities in Malaya, to form an integral part of the spread of Communism in Southeast Asia.

Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said mass arrests were made Sunday in Jogjakarta as an aftermath of the Communist coup at Madioen.

Mrs. Fleda Collom Dies In Midland

Mrs. Fleda Collom, 67, a Midland resident the last five years, died Sunday morning in a hospital here. She resided at 707 North Carrizo Street.

She was born Feb. 21, 1881, at Prescott, Ark., and moved to Midland from Little Rock, Ark. Funeral services were to be held at 3 p. m. Monday in the Ellis Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was to be in Fairview Cemetery.

Palestine And Berlin Crises Are Top Items

PARIS —(AP)—Secretary General Trygve Lie will demand urgent formation of a United Nations guard to forestall such acts as the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte and to maintain order in disturbed areas.

As soon as possible after the 58 nations' delegates assemble Tuesday, the UN administrative chief will ask for a United Nations constabulary of from 1,000 to 5,000 men backed by "the full authority of the United Nations."

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin both have arrived for Tuesday's opening. Problems arising out of the tense situation in Berlin and other factors in the cold war between East and West overshadow the conference.

A meeting of the three Western foreign ministers, Marshall, Bevin and Robert Schuman of France, was expected with the possibility that the Berlin crisis may be laid before the 58 nations.

Both Bevin and Marshall will have their top advisers on Germany with them by Monday night. Berlin dispatches said American Military Governor Gen. Lucius Clay would fly to Paris to report to Marshall Monday afternoon. His British colleague, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, was going to confer with Bevin.

Moscow Envoys Due

They were to be joined in the French capital by W. Bedell Smith, U. S. ambassador to Russia, Moscow dispatches said, and Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy who has been participating in talks with the Soviet on the future of Berlin.

Marshall and Bevin arrived at Orly Field in President Truman's plane, the Independence, after an uneventful 15-hour and 50-minute flight from Washington.

He went directly to the U. S. ambassador's residence, where it was announced he would remain most of the day.

Accompanying Marshall were his wife, Charles E. Bohlen of the State Department; Gen. Bohlen; Brig. Gen. Marshall S. Carter, the secretary's special assistant; Frederic Reinhardt, a State Department political officer; and Lt. Harry Piser and Sgt. Clarence A. George, military aides.

Truman's Denver Speech Billed As 'Mean And Tough'

ABOARD TRUMAN CAMPAIGN TRAIN —(AP)—President Truman moved into Colorado Monday for what one of his top level advisers said was a "mean and tough" speech at Denver on conservation.

This associate, who asked that his name not be used, said Truman would use some of the sharpest language of his campaign in criticism of what he will call Republican obstruction of public power, reclamation and irrigation projects.

His Denver speech—the second major address of his current 9,500-mile Western bid for reelection—was set for Monday afternoon from the grounds of the capitol.

It was to be among at least seven talks during a day almost as strenuous as his 14-speech campaign Saturday from the Rock Island, Ill., across Iowa and into Missouri during which he took his election plea to thousands of voters.

Threats Feels Better

Truman himself estimated he spoke to from 100,000 to 110,000 farmers at Dexter, Iowa, at the site of the national plowing match and said his total audience for his dawn to darkness tour ran into several hundred thousands.

He started out fresh Monday after a restful Sunday at his home at Independence, Mo. He said he was feeling prime and that his throat was better.

The President's voice showed the effects of the bid on his throat from his grueling speaking schedule Saturday.

Four Monday's talks were scheduled for Denver. Others were to be made at Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Canon City from the rear platform of his special car.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy with scattered showers Monday night and Tuesday. Maximum temperature Sunday 88 degrees, minimum 67 degrees. Minimum Monday 73 degrees.

New Champs Reign In U. S. Tennis Circles

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(AP)—A new era had dawned in American tennis Monday as the national singles championship passed into the hands of Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, a 20-year-old power player from the busy, year-round courts of Los Angeles.

Gonzales, one of the youngest net stars ever to wear the crown, captured it Sunday when he whipped Eric Stultgens of South Africa, 6-2, 6-3, 14-12, in the finals of a tournament which was marked by the passing of the game's old guard, at least from the championship scene.

Gonzales, ranked eighth in the tournament and 17th nationally, was the only seeded American to reach the semifinals. The only other American to reach the round of four, was still younger, 19-year-old Herbie Flam.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne DuPont of Wilmington, Del., twice a runner-up but never a winner in the nationals, became the feminine champion to complete the upheaval.

She bounced back after a first set defeat to outlast the defending champion, Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 4-6, 6-4, 15-13.

Major Leagues— Indians Clip Sox Margin

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Win, lose or draw, Lou Boudreau, shortstop manager of the Cleveland Indians, rates as the outstanding player of the major leagues.

It is largely through his efforts—at bat in the field and on the bench—that the Indians are only half-a-game out of the American League lead Monday, with an excellent chance to win their first flag in 28 years.

Lou blasted his 15th and 16th round trippers Sunday to account for both his team's runs in Cleveland's second game 2-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The pair of victories, coupled with the double setback handed the Boston Red Sox by the Detroit Tigers, 4-3 and 8-6, boosted the Indians within half a game of the pace-setting Yankees.

The Indians also vaulted over the New York Yankees into second place when the Bronx Bombers were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Browns in St. Louis. The hustling Browns took the first game 8-5, New York won the second 9-6.

Braves Practically In
In the National League, only a complete collapse can stop the Boston Braves from winning their first flag in 34 years. The Braves defeated the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 Sunday. They lead the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals by six games.

The Cards moved into a second place tie with the Dodgers, scoring two victories over the Giants in New York, 4-3 and 3-1. The Dodgers whipped the Chicago Cubs in Brooklyn 8-1.

Philadelphia all but eliminated the Pittsburgh Pirates, trouncing the Bucs in a twin bill, 9-6 and 5-3. Pittsburgh trails by eight games.

The fifth-place Giants are only two games away from being mathematically eliminated.

A paid Cleveland crowd of 75,382 saw Larry Doby slam a dramatic ninth-inning home run with Joe Gordon on base to break a 3-3 tie and give the Indians their first-game triumph.

Siege Gromek permitted only three hits in registering his ninth victory against three defeats in the nightcap. Dick Fowler allowed the Tribe only five hits, but two of these were those payoff circuit swats by Boudreau.

Overtime Battles
The Red Sox went 12 innings before punting to the Bengals in the opener. Stubby Overmire, fourth Tripe pitcher, singled home the winning run with two out in the 12th. Ted Williams' 24th home run had tied the game in the ninth with two out.

The second game was called after eight innings because of darkness. Detroit's biggest throng of the season, 55,235 fans, saw Dick Wakefield break up a 6-6 deadlock with his second home run of the day to win the second game for the Tigers. Rookie Lou Kretlow, who allowed one hit in three scoreless relief innings, singled in the clincher.

Al Zarilla's two-run homer in the sixth was the opener for the Browns against the Yankees. Fred Sanford, who gave way to Cliff Pannin in the seventh, was the winner. Joe DiMaggio led the Yankees to victory in the second game, piling his 37th and 38th home runs, each with a man on base.

The Washington Senators ended their 18-game losing streak, defeating the cellar-dwelling White Sox in Chicago, 10-7 and 8-6.

Mexican Baseball League Closes Shop
MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The Mexican Baseball League, which lured a handful of major league players into five-year suspensions and tempted dozens more with fabulous offers, has quit.

An official of the circuit, who would not permit use of his name, said Sunday night the league gave up because of money losses and player desertions.

Other officials declined comment, but the league has no further games scheduled. It was to have played until October 24.

Astronomers agree that the span of the universe is at least 300,000,000,000,000 miles.

Schoolboy Field Cut To 33 With Perfect Records

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football campaign rolls toward October with almost three-fourths of the original field of 110 teams having tasted defeat or tie.

In the City Conference only eight teams have perfect records. They are Adamson (Dallas), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Milby (Houston), San Jacinto (Houston), Reagan (Houston), Austin (Houston), Jeff Davis (Houston) and Brackenridge (San Antonio), the school that won the state title last year.

In the Class AA Conference 25 are unbeaten and untied while one—Brownfield—has not yet played a game. The undefeated, untied teams are Amarillo, Pampa, Wichita Falls, Midland, Sweetwater, Austin (El Paso), Bonham, Gainesville, Greenville, Highland Park (Dallas), McKinney, Brownwood, Stephenville, Gladewater, Henderson, Kilgore, Texarkana, Waco, Corsicana, Port Arthur, Orange, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Alice and Edinburg.

Mighty Kerrville Falls
The most notable eleven to fall last week was Kerrville. One of the state's highest rated teams, The Antlers lost to Brownwood, 12-0, thus taking a plunge out of the top bracket and shoving Brownwood up to the favorite's position in its Class AA district.

Odeesa showed power in licking North Side (Port Worth) 20-7, and Brackenridge edged into the favorite's spot in the City Conference as it whammed Abilene 28-7.

Lufkin, a perennial power, lost to South Park (Beaumont) 19-0. That was noteworthy since it marked the first time in years Lufkin had failed to break into the win column in the first two games. Previously Lufkin was tied 13-13 by Longview, which last week was whipped 25-0 by Port Neches.

KNICKS TRAIN IN SAME SPOT
NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Knickerbockers of the Basketball Association of America will open training October 1 at Bear Mountain, where they have prepared for the last two pro cage campaigns. Coach Joe Lapchick will take at least 20 players to camp.

Bulldogs Begin 'Austin' Drills

The Midland Bulldogs went to work Monday—hard. The Purple plays Auglin High of El Paso there Friday night. Austin, the powerhouse of District 4-A, has won two games thus far this season. Midland has won one and was idle last week.

After its comeback victory over Yaleta 21-29 in the opening game of the season, Midland has been more highly regarded in state schoolboy circles. Austin opened the season by beating Cathedral High of El Paso 29-7 and last Friday dumped Class A Kermit 21-9. But don't let the last one fool you.

Austin has a big, bruising ball club with co-captain Fred Edens at 262 pounds in the backfield and 225-pound tackle Fred Villalba in the line. Buster Lehman, a fine back, is the "man down under" in the Panther T-formation. Billy Walsh is the Austin ground-gaining artist.

Midland has an inexperienced but fighting ball club with no stars and plenty of teamwork. The Bulldogs are determined to win one at El Paso.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

This football season will begin the tenth year of the Interscholastic League's study of athletic injuries in Texas high schools. Hundreds of schools and thousands of boys are covered in this study. During 1947, 437 schools participated in the injury study covering 13,374 boys out of the total of 24,228 taking part in League football.

There were 1,421 boys injured in the 437 reporting schools, or 10.6 per cent of the ones covered in the survey. Last year the percentage injured among reporting schools was 9.6.

The parts of the body injured most frequently in football are: knee, ankle, leg, shoulder, head, and arm, and in that order.

Head injuries involve the eye, lip, tongue, neck, nose and teeth. During the 1947 season there were two deaths reported, one occurring in Spring practice and the other during the regular season. The death during Spring practice resulted from kidney injury while the one occurring during the regular season was caused by a neck and spine injury.

We have always found the Midland coaches very attentive to injuries of the local boys and very alert to prevent injuries when possible. Excellent care is given an injured Midland boy.

2—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 20, 1948

PLAY FIFTH GAME MONDAY IN VERNON—

Vernon Takes Another Game In 11 Frames

The Midland Indians and the Vernon Dusters, all tied up in their Longhorn League Shaughnessy playoff finals of the Longhorn League at two wins each, meet in the fifth game of the series at 8:15 p. m. Monday in Vernon.

Midland won the first two games at Midland. Then Vernon came back and took the second two at Vernon.

The sixth game will be played in Indian Park here Tuesday night. If more games are needed, they will be played here.

There is wide speculation as to pitching assignments Monday night. Vernon may throw Roland Trip, who is due by turn, or the Dusters may gamble and pitch Gerald Fahr to try for the third win. Trip and Fahr lost to Midland at Midland in the first two games.

Vernon may save Fahr for the deciding game. The Indians are short in pitching, what with Nelson, Crissman and Van Hooser all tied. Webb may pitch Dick Willenburgh Monday as a gamble or try Nelson again. Nelson pitched 6 2/3 innings Saturday night.

VERNON—The Vernon Dusters took a second straight 11-inning battle from the Midland Indians here Sunday 1-0 to pull up even with Midland in the Longhorn League playoff finals at two games each. Saturday night the two clubs battled 11 innings and Vernon won 5-4.

Sunday's game was real baseball with pitchers Carter of Vernon and Crissman of Midland pretty well masters of the situation.

Vernon won the thrilling encounter in the last of the eleventh frame. Cotton McCaskey led off with a double. Cowser hit a fielder's choice and McCaskey was called safe at third. Rigby hit a fielder's choice with Cowser out at second. Gonzalez bunted a grounder along the third base line. Melillo scooped it up and throwing to the plate hit McCaskey with the ball, which was an error for Melillo and a score for McCaskey.

And that broke up the long and hard-fought ball game.

Carter Beats Crissman
Carter, who hasn't won a half-dozen ball games all year and who is Vernon's second-string pitcher, bested Midland's ace, Crissman, in the pitching duel. Each struck out three. Carter walked five but gave up but five hits. Crissman walked three and gave up seven hits.

Very few ball players of either club got past second base in the course of the longest ball game. Frazier got to third for Midland in the second inning after walking and advancing on Pressley's bunt and Perry's fly out.

McCaskey was the thorn in Midland's side with three hits in four trips. Scherling got two safeties for Vernon. Midland's scattered five hits were by Collins, Jakes, Prince, Flarito and Pressley.

Could Cash In
In several innings, Midland got the first man up on base but failed to punch him around. The Indians got two hits in the sixth but couldn't cash in. And in the seventh, Perry led off with a walk and then three Indians popped out, all to the catcher.

The box score:

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(AP)—Bob McCurry, perennial captain of the Michigan State College football team—this is his third year in that post—also leads his mates in scholarship.

McCurry racked up a 2.81 average in the Spring quarter, returning five A's and a B. A perfect mark is 3.0. Average for all returning football lettermen was 1.58, substantially above the 1.38 average for all students. This record was compiled in spite of one of the toughest Spring training sessions in the school's history.

Texas League— Cats Eliminate Sports To Gain Berth In Finals

By The Associated Press

Fort Worth is in the finals of the Texas League's Shaughnessy playoff, but will have to wait until at least Tuesday night to find out its opponent.

The Cats eliminated Shreveport 6-3 Sunday in the sixth game of the scheduled seven-game series.

Tulsa handed Houston a 2-0 licking behind the three-hit pitching of southpaw ace Harry Perkowski. The victory gave Tulsa a three games to two advantage. The sixth game of the series will be played Tuesday night at Tulsa. The seventh, if needed, will be played Wednesday at Tulsa.

Perkowski allowed only seven Houston players to reach base. He gave up singles to Don Bollweg and Bud Hardin and a double to Eddie Knoblauch.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE— Steer-Tarheel, SMU-Pitt Wrangles Top Grid Menu

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Everybody is in on the act this week in the Southwest Conference, but the main show centers around Texas and Southern Methodist University.

The terrific Texas Longhorns, victors over Louisiana State 33-0, go to Chapel Hill, N. C., to take on revenge-bent North Carolina.

Southern Methodist, like Rice and Baylor, will be playing its first game of the year this week.

The Mustangs turn loose probably the best backfield in the conference against Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh.

Rice opens against Sam Houston State and Baylor takes on rough Tulsa University.

Texas Christian, which squeezed by the University of Kansas 14-13 last week, meets Oklahoma A&M. Texas A&M, loser to powerful Villanova 34-14, and Texas Tech tangled at San Antonio. Arkansas continues to warm up by meeting East Texas State. Last week, the Razorbacks walloped Abilene Christian College 40-6.

The Texas-North Carolina game shapes up as one of the best in the nation.

Charley Justice, highly touted North Carolina back, and the rest of his teammates are openly aiming to avenge the 34-0 licking suffered at the hands of the Longhorns last year.

Texas displayed tremendous power on the ground in swamping LSU. The Longhorns' seemingly endless supply of tested linemen held the Bengals to a net 38 yards on the ground and a host of Longhorn backs piled up 296 yards rushing.

Southern Methodist's hopes for a second straight conference championship may bloom a little brighter if touchdown threats all-American Doak Walker and sophomore sensation Kyle Rote come through in good style against Pittsburgh. Aggies Nurse Wounds

A&M came back from its trouncing by Villanova with four injured players. Halfbacks Ralph Daniel and Preston Smith and tackles Jim Flowers and Dwayne Tucker are nursing hurts.

Coach Harry Stiteler indicated the Aggies' aerial game would get a stiff going over.

Oklahoma A&M is a tough hurdle for Texas Christian to get over. The Frogs were sluggish against Kansas.

Baylor carries a lot of high hopes into its game with Tulsa. The Bears are gunning for a better record this year.

Rice, expected to be one of the strongest entries in the conference, may give every phase of its offense a trial against Sam Houston.

Arkansas had little trouble with ACO last week, as expected, and shouldn't have too much to worry about in East Texas this week.

Man Who Came To Dinner' Will Open Thursday

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday, and the curtain will rise Thursday on the eighteenth production of the Midland Community Theater, the first production for this season.

The play chosen is a comedy which enjoyed a long Broadway run and then was popular on the road and in the movie version, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." It will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the City County Auditorium. Curtain time is 8:20 p. m.

In Rosamond Gilder's review of the play for "Theatre Arts" in 1939, she commented that the authors, Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, took their friend Alexander Woolcott, added a beard, landed him in a wheel chair in a middle-western town and programmed him as Sheridan Whiteside, lecturer, writer, and friend of the great.

Leon Valdes will be seen here in the taxing role of Whiteside who, as an unwilling dinner guest, finds himself by the accident of slipping on the ice an infuriated inmate of the ordinary household where he came to dine. The household is turned upside down, strange guests and even stranger gifts pour in, and the comedy develops.

The ticket sale will begin at 9 a. m. Wednesday at Tallorline, 113 North Colorado Street.

The cast, an unusually large one for a Community Theater play, includes 36 persons, some of whom appear only briefly. Eight of the 36 have appeared in previous Community Theater dramas.

Many In Cast

Children's Theater Enrollment Is Under Way Through Week

Children from the first grade through high school are invited to enroll this week in the Children's Theater, a division of the Midland Community Theater, which had its first meeting of the year Saturday to start registration.

Art Cole, director of the Community Theater, is in charge of the children's groups. He announces a new plan of grouping and a new schedule of meetings for 1948-49.

Three groups will be formed, according to age, and each will meet once a week. The members study stagecraft, set designing, costuming, speech, stage direction, and make-up in a program culminating in actual play production.

By selecting, casting, staging and presenting their own plays, the youngsters learn how a play appears from both sides of the curtain, and learn drama appreciation.

Group One, formed of children from the first, second and third grades, meets from 3:45 to 5 p. m. every Monday. Group Two, from the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh grades, meets from 4 to 5:30 p. m. on Fridays. The Junior Workshop, with students from the eighth grade and through high school, meets from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

Scoby; Mr. Stanley, Lee Flood; Maggie Cutler, Elizabeth Pennebaker; Doctor Bradley, Richard Connally.

Harriet Stanley, Edelle Dalley; Bert Jefferson, Terry Ansell; Professor Metz, played by the director, Art Cole; an expressman, Waldemar Dressel; Lorraine Sheldon, Sally Hull; Sandy, Joe Moore; Beverly Carlton, Tom Brown; Westcott, Bill Joyce; radio technicians, Walter Beardsley and Jim Wilson, and Banjo, Vic Chancellor. Other roles are those of choir boys, luncheon guests, and other visitors who add to the confusion in the Stanley home.

Eggs Aid Target

One incident of Henry Wallace's journey through North Carolina symbolizes the third party candidate's hostile reception in the South. A man was seen to hoist a boy of about 8 onto his shoulders so the youngster could get a clearer shot at the target of his eggs and tomatoes.

Most of the egg, vegetable and rock throwing seems to have been done by kids of teen age and less. But they must have had the moral support, as the little boy had the physical support, of their elders. None who took part in these exhibitions, whatever their age, behaved with much grown-up foresight. If they had they would have seen that they were defeating their own purpose.

For they forgot to consider that eggs and tomatoes have this peculiarity as political weapons: they can be used so much more effectively by those who are hit than by those who do the throwing. So the Carolinians lost the battle when they fired the first salvo.

Maybe Wallace didn't exactly enjoy the sticky sensation of being smacked by an egg or the instinctive humiliation of being jeered and pelted in public. But his behavior during most of the onslaught showed he was shrewd enough to realize he was collecting political advantage at the same time that he was collecting yolk stains on his shirt.

Wallace can't really hope to get far in the South. But every time some egg-slinging young'un in Dixie makes him look slightly messy he also makes him look slightly martyred. And for a man who can only try for a good showing, the few votes picked up as a result are all to the good. Thus he can almost welcome anything that tries to deny him the right of free speech by force. Such undemocratic actions offend a lot of people who would never think of voting for Wallace. Probably they also win the support of some slightly emotional Northerners who had been undecided before.

But Wallace's hostile reception was more than undemocratic. Egg-throwing isn't a sign of power or righteous wrath.

If his Carolina trip had been without incident, people might have taken a longer look into one of the biggest pork barrels in our political history. A billion dollars a year—that's what Wallace was offering for the Southern vote. He would collect this huge sum by a special, discriminatory tax on the profits of big corporations with capital invested in the South.

People might have wondered how long those corporations would stay in the South under such conditions. They might have wondered just how the South would have benefited if those corporations pulled out, or if they were taxed so heavily that the region's further industrial development was stifled.

But the illogic of Wallace's billion-dollar boondoggle was lost in the confusion, and the third-party standard bearer emerged as a rather dramatic figure beset by the rabble. For that kindness—perhaps not wholly unexpected—Wallace can thank his ill-wishers down in Dixie.

Incomplete Understanding

Some disappointment has been expressed in Washington over the failure of European countries to get the Marshall Plan going in high gear. Perhaps it should be made clear to those countries that when the ERP funds were offered, the "Help yourself" that went with them was an admonition as well as an invitation.

The greatest drawback to a budding love affair is the blooming expense.

One-half of the world never knows how the other half lives—until someone starts talking.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Spastic Colitis May Be Caused By Worry And Nervous Tension

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Vague discomfort in the abdomen and alternate periods of constipation and diarrhea are common signs of a condition called spastic colitis. It seems to be a disorder of civilization. It is rare among "uncivilized" people which suggests that it has a nervous origin related to the strain of present-day life.

Often patients report that they have suffered for a great many years with recurring attacks of discomfort or pain the lower part of the abdomen. The attacks may last for several minutes, many days or even off and on for months. Pain of a crampy, gripping nature is often present. Frequently the abdomen feels bloated and gives characteristic gurgling sounds. These symptoms may be enough to disturb the sleep.

Constipation is often blamed for the trouble, but diarrhea may be present, too, at least off and on. Unusually worry or anxiety often precedes an attack. People who keep themselves at high tension are especially liable to trouble. Fatigue and exposure to cold, tobacco, various foods, laxatives and many other things may also bring on attacks.

Treatment is medical rather than surgical. The mental worry or tension which is making the colitis worse must be tackled. Vegetables and many fruits usually irritate the irritation. Cooked cereals, milk and milk products, eggs and fish, custards and similar foods usually make up the bulk of the diet and decrease the irritability. Several medicines are helpful though not curative.

QUESTION: What are the disadvantages of diuretics in the control of clotting inside the blood vessels?

ANSWER: Diuretics are a useful drug but takes some time before its action is apparent. It is also difficult to adjust the dose so that it will have exactly the desired effect without causing too much delay in clotting.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the origin of "news" as applied to newspapers?

A—It was the custom in early times to place on the first page of the paper the four cardinal points of the compass, indicating that the paper contained reports from the four quarters of the globe. They finally placed the letters in a straight line, N-E-W-S, and the sheets were then called "news-papers."

Q—Is there an animal that bears its young in litters all of one sex?

A—The peba, or nine-banded armadillo, bears its young in litters of four and the members of any given litter are invariably of the same sex. So far as known this is a characteristic of no other animal.

Q—What is the difference between stalactites and stalagmites?

A—Stalactites are ice-like formations which hang from the ceiling of a cave. Stalagmites are ice-like formations which grow up from the floor of a cave.

Q—Which is the oldest state seal in America?

A—It is the Great Seal of Maryland, ordered cut in 1644 by Cecil Calvert, the Second Lord Baltimore.

Q—Is there any direct reference to religious liberty in the Constitution of the United States?

A—There are two: in Article 6, Clause 3, and the First Amendment.

HOOVER SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

WASHINGTON—(P)—The condition of J. Edgar Hoover was reported "slightly improved" Monday. The FBI chief has been ill with bronchial pneumonia for a week.

magazine out of her unrelenting fingers and departed with dignity to his study, carrying his tea.

"There!" said Aunt Effie reproachfully. "Now he won't come out for hours. Sit down and eat your breakfast, Sabrina."

"Yes, Auntie, I—"

"You haven't touched your plate. It's wasting good food."

WITH her eyes flooding helplessly with tears, Sabrina subsided into her chair and began to choke down mouthfuls of cold bacon.

She snubbed defeat when she met the Father was on Aunt Effie's side, he always was, and Aunt Effie had made up her mind with the terrible obstinacy of the habitually indecisive. Nothing but the end of the world would save her now from that Swiss school which Aunt Effie had set her heart on.

When at last she was able to get away from the table, she climbed the stairs to her own room and stood idly, just inside the closed door, feeling beaten and sick and bewildered—and worst of all, trapped. The impulse to escape surged up in panic. How if, when they came to take her away, she could not be found? Her small square chin came up. Yes, of course—there was still time to disappear.

She seized a hat from the wardrobe, threw a coat over her arm, hurried to the dressing table for her handbag. One's weekly allowance piled up at Nuns Farthing where there was no need to buy dowers or books or cakes for tea. She had accumulated something over two pounds. One could get a job as a waitress or something.

On her way to the door she paused. There was something about luggage. You had to have luggage in order to get into a hotel. She had a sudden idea. She was dressing case out of the wardrobe and swung overnight necessities into it. Then, with her coat draped over it the best she could, she tiptoed to the door and down the stairs. Aunt Effie would be in the kitchen now, doing the ordering. If one could get out of the grounds and catch the bus at the crossroads...

Quitting Is One Of Life's Hardest Jobs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(P)—One of the hardest things in life for any man to master is the fine art of quitting.

This 24-karat truth is pointed up anew by the decision of Joseph Louis, the eminent pugilist, to resume his former calling.

At the ripe old age of 34, having amassed enough gait to cushion his declining years, Joe announced he was through with his precision fist-bombing. He decided to trade in his gloves on a typewriter and launch a new career as a columnist-commentator for a Harlem newspaper.

Trying a new job was no mental hurdle to Joe. He was a newshound, shipped shoes, ran errands, delivered ice and worked in an automobile factory before he found how easy he could quintuple his income merely by doubling his fists.

But now Joe has changed his mind again—as have many champions who wanted to quit at the top—and he's going to try one more fight next June, when he'll be 35. Just One More.

It's hard to resist that plea. Sometimes the plea comes from within a champion's own heart.

More often it comes from his retainers and the men around him who want to keep him in action to finish feathering their own nests.

It's true of politicians, businessmen and warriors as well as athletes. There's always a group that wants them to stay in there pitching after their own minds tell them it's time to step down.

To the ordinary man an enforced retirement isn't just a blow to his ego—it's usually a catastrophe caused by illness or accident. And planned retirement is to him a goal near the end of his life's run—death grabe him.

It's hard to quit. Perhaps the most gracious "quitter" of our day is Winston Churchill. He quits every time the voters toss him out.

He goes off and writes some best-selling memoirs and paints some pictures.

Then, refreshed in spirit, Churchill rides back again into high public office on the changing tide, smiling and eloquent as ever, holding no resentment against the voters.

Uncle Sam's Draft Law

(One of a series of questions and answers on the second peacetime military training program. The information was prepared under the direction of Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, Texas Director of Selective Service.)

QUOTAS AND RESERVE

Q—How will quotas of men to be inducted from Texas be determined?

A—Quotas will be determined on the basis of the actual number of men in the states, territories, and possessions who are liable for training but who are not deferred after classification.

Q—Say a certain area covered by a draft board already has an excellent representation in the armed forces. Will this have anything to do with quotas for that area?

A—Yes, under the law, credits will be given such areas when quotas are determined.

Q—Can any member of the reserves be ordered into active duty under this law?

A—Yes, some can. If they are not members of organized units participating in scheduled training periods, and have had less than 90 days continuous active service in the armed forces, exclusive of periods of active training duty, the President of the United States is authorized to order them in for a period of not more than 21 months.

Q—How many scheduled training periods does a member of an organized reserve unit have to attend each year?

A—According to the announcement of the Secretary of Defense he may not be absent from more than 10 per cent of the scheduled periods.

Q—Can a member of the National Guard be ordered into active service under the law?

A—Not unless the governor of the state consents to it.

Midland, Area Men Pledge Fraternities At Texas University

AUSTIN—Five Midlanders are among the 466 pledges to 27 University of Texas social fraternities, according to announcements made at the end of "rush week" preceding the Fall semester registration.

They are William Monroe Kerr, and John Fisher Warren, Phi Kappa Psi; William Henderson Gilmore and Albert Joseph Sevier, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and William Bundy Shaw, Sigma Nu.

A numbers of area students also pledged fraternities, including Tommy Edward Rodman, Odessa, Phi Kappa Psi; Russell Mahan, Lily, Wink, Phi Kappa Psi; Harold Fred Kleinman, Odessa, Sigma Alpha Mu; and Gerald William Currie, and James Richard Currie, Garden City, Sigma Chi.

Billiard balls are made from the tusks of female elephants, since this ivory is superior to that of the males.

Watch For 'Social' Upheaval If GOP Takes Over Capital

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Washington Correspondent
(Peter Edison is on vacation)

WASHINGTON—A really significant straw-in-the wind has just been revealed. It has discouraged the Democrats about as much as anything that has happened since Mrs. Perle Mesta became known as "Two-Party Perle" by starting to entertain the Republicans.

The special board in charge of the publication, "The Social List of Washington," is preparing to put out a supplement in November, after the election. The significance of this is obvious. It means that the brainy members of this board believe that the Republicans stand a pretty good chance of winning. Their record on predictions is pretty good. Two years ago they made plans for a supplement, anticipating the Republican landslide in Congress.

When there's a political upheaval in the country the sensitive tenor of Washington social life is immediately affected. Women who may have been social lions yesterday suddenly become cocktail party cast-offs when the ungrateful voters fail to reelect their husbands.

Turnovers Shake Up Green Book
After the GOP captured Congress two years ago the supplement to The Social List of Washington, called the Green Book, included about 500 deletions and additions.

Miss Carolyn Hagner Shaw, the woman who supervises the printing of the Green Book, with the advice and consent of the board, estimates that if the Republicans do win, the supplement will have to carry close to 3,000 changes. There are about 5,000 names in it in all. Miss Shaw is already pretty distressed about the number of changes which have to be made in the regular issue about to come off the press. She says:

"It's just dreadful what death and divorces have done to Washington social life. And the way the unfortunate military people here have been transferred, out of town is shocking. Nobody'll know anybody else at parties this Fall, I'm sure."

In New York and other large cities, it's usually family background which determines a place in the social register. In Washington, according to Miss Shaw, that's important, too, but she admits frankly that official rank is the deciding factor. A change in administration therefore would remove approximately 2,000 persons automatically from the Green Book. The other 1,000 likely to be affected are the relatives of the officials who would lose their standing.

Keep An Eye On Pearl
Shrewd political observers are going to watch carefully the entertaining which Mrs. Perle Mesta does during the Fall season. She's the town's top hostess. Mrs. Mesta always has shown an uncanny ability to honor persons whose political prominence is on the upgrade. Soon after Harry Truman was elected vice president she began tossing elaborate affairs for him and his family. Later that gave her a key to the White House front door.

She got the title of Two-Party Perle when she suddenly switches her inexhaustible party budget last year in behalf of certain prominent Republicans. An elaborate whining for Speaker Joe Martin was the first. If she starts to give the cold shoulder to the Democrats this Fall, they might as well throw in the towel, the experts believe.

It has been so long since a Republican-dominated social season has existed in Washington even the memories of the old-timers are a little fuzzy about what to expect in case one comes. Generally, in the past, under GOP administrations, the social whirl has been fairly conservative. That, however, was before that magic medium of melee, the cocktail party, was discovered. Big formal dinners were the favorite indoor sport and the guests stuffed as much on the fine food, the alcohol intake was limited. Bicarbonate of soda was the next-day remedy instead of bromo seltzer.

If Mrs. Mesta's shift in political affection, however, doesn't find her at the top of the social heap, there is interesting speculation on who might take her crown. Again, if the Republicans win, it's possible that Alice Roosevelt Longworth might once more become queen of the city. She crawled into an exclusive social clique when her cousin Franklin Roosevelt first took permanent residence in the White House. Another candidate is Mrs. Robert Low Bacon, widow of a socialist congressman from Long Island.

Whatever happens the experts predict that the season will produce its usual quota of good clean fun.

GOP Leaders Move To Help Rope Texas Into Dewey-Warren Camp

DALLAS —(AP)— The possibility of bringing Texas into the Republican fold was No. 1 reason for the presence here Monday of the GOP National Committee chairman.

Hugh D. Scott, chairman of the Republican National Committee, told a reporter:

"I came down to Texas because we believe Texas is about ready to send a Republican ambassador to Washington."

He also offered the help of the national committee in carrying Texas as for Dewey and Warren as well as assist in electing a United States Senator.

Scott was invited to attend a luncheon here Monday for about 200 Dallas people and 50 Republican leaders from over the state. Harold E. Talbot, chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, and Larry Sullivan, member of the publicity division of the national committee, were with Scott.

Several prominent Texas Republicans conferred with Scott Sunday. They included R. B. Creager, Brownsville, national committeeman from Texas; Henry Zweifel, Fort Worth, Dewey-Warren campaign manager in Texas and chairman of the State Executive Committee; and R. P. (Dick) Wall, Dallas, national Young Republican chairman.

Texas Weather Gets Back In Rut

By The Associated Press
Texas weather was back in a rut. What the Weather Bureau called a cold front sliced across the Panhandle and a portion of West Texas Monday, but the bureau said it made very little difference in temperatures.

The forecast called for "not so warm" in the Panhandle Tuesday.

High temperatures Sunday went to the upper 80's and low 90's with a 95 at Tyler the hottest in the state.

Del Rio was the coolest spot with 84. Showery weather covered the Del Rio-Laredo area Sunday. Little or no rainfall was reported elsewhere.

Two Die In Plane Crash At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— First Lt. Hawood Korney, pilot, and Cpl. Andrew Pangrac, crew chief, were killed near here Sunday when their P-82 fighter plane crashed.

The plane had been flown here for an acrobatic exhibition during the celebration of Air Force Day.

The two flyers were based at Kearney Air Force Base, Kearney, Neb.

The game of shuffleboard was known in England as early as the 15th century.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★ Mother, Put The Kettle On, It's Meat Nite At The Bijou

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—The handwriting is on the wall—in red ink.

Continuance of the movie box-office slump has convinced the movie barons that the condition is not temporary and cannot be remedied by popcorn and candy in theater lobbies.

Exhibitors finally have learned that people won't go to the movies to see a popcorn machine and they can't sell enough chocolate bars to make up for a bad picture.

Via the radio, it has become plain that if the public can't get entertainment, it wants washing machines, automobiles, refrigerators or cash.

The four leading radio shows today are all "give-away" ideas and are being closely studied by the movie chains.

It looks like we can all get out our old shopping baskets. Bank Night is coming back and with it Dish Night, Bingo Night, Meat Night, Grocery Night and everything but Movie Night.

Howard Hughes has great plans for Jane Greer. He's ordered full speed ahead on Jane and her new picture, "Stations West," which was to be released in January, will hit the theaters early in October.

Diana Lynn will try television shortly. The program will be called "The Diana Lynn Music Shop." No doubt it will be a musical show.

Tough Times
Marie Wilson was complaining to a friend about the current high prices. The friend pointed out that Marie should be the last to complain.

"Between Ken Murray's 'Bla' outs' and your radio show, 'My Friend Irma,' you're making $5000 a week," he told her.

"I know," said Marie. "But after I put that in the bank, what have I got left to live on?"

Gloria DeHaven and Jerry Lewis have discovered each other.

... Ditto Karen Tedder, who sings with Red Ingle's Natural

Seven, and Louie Zaharis... Ingle, by the way, has another potential hit coming up with Jo Stafford on the vocals. (Remember their "Tim-tay-shun") This time it will be "I'm Just a Prisoner of Love." ... Also, watch for his "I Surrender Dearie, Body and Soul."

Good-Will Garbo
People who should know are saying that the signing of Greta Garbo to a picture by Walter Wanger will do more than a dozen negotiations from Hollywood to help the foreign film situation.

She's Hollywood's most popular star in foreign lands.

Frankie Laine will make his film debut at Columbia singing "On the Sunny Side of the Street" in "Make Believe Ballroom." Gall Russell's brother, George, is the reason she's watching the stage show so often at the Last Frontier in Las Vegas. He plays guitar with "The Bachelors."

"Let's Talk Hollywood" is climbing in the radio hit parade, with every star in town aching for a guest spot.

Overheard by Eddy Howard: "He wanted to become a bartender but failed to get the job because he didn't know how to repair a television set."

Bob Walker is looking for a prizefight story. He's eager to do a tough-guy role. The story may be Pal Shoa's "The World Is Mine," about a featherweight champ who is a heel with his women and his ring pals.

... As a publicity stunt, Tex Ritter's film horse, White Flash, played "host" to a flock of prominent nags in Washington, D. C., at a "brunch." But with their noses in the oat bag it must have sounded more like a "crunch."
