Records Broken For Attacks On Single Target

Fires From Seven Previous Raids Still Burning

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A great fleet of the RAF's biggest bombers returned to battered Hamburg last night and gave that once-thriving German port its eighth pounding in 10 days to break all records for sustained attacks upon a single target.

Fires set in the last assault on Hamburg Thursday night were still burning as the RAF swept over the city to add to the havoc created by some 8,000 tons of bombs dropped in the seven previous raids.

200,000 NAZIS DEAD

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — The newspaper Aftonbladet, in a dispatch from Copenhagen, today quoted a member of the Danish consulate at Hamburg as estimating that about 200,000 Germans had been killed in last week's record Allied air attacks on the Reich and that 2,000 of 5,000 Danish workers in Germany were among the dead.

Thirty bombers were reported lost in the raid, which was carried out in great force and was accompanied by attacks upon other objectives in northwest Germany, an announcement said.

Other Targets Blasted

An Air ministry communique said that in addition to the raid on Hamburg, other bombers blasted objectives in the Ruhr valley, and that Beaufighters and Mosquitos from the fighter command flew deep into Holland and northwest Germany. Airfields and targets at Sylt and Cuxhaven were bombed, but results were not announced. Two fighter command planes were reported missing.

Royal Australian air force hampdens of the coastal command operating off the coast of Norway, torpedoed an enemy supply ship, the communique said.

The assaults broke a two-night lull in the great Allied aerial offensive which was launched on Saturday, July 24 when American bombers blasted the German base at Trondheim, Norway, by daylight.

Before the massed raids started Hamburg had accounted for about one-third of the German submarine output.

Governor Finds Opposition To Finance Plan

Possibility For Special Session Becomes Clouded

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 3—The possibility for a special session of the legislature became clouded today as Governor Coke R. Stevenson reported opposition by some members of the legislature and representatives of school teachers to his proposal for shuffling school finances.

He asserted at a press conference that unless his plan was approved he would not order a session for any other purpose.

One element of his proposal concerns reducing the general fund property tax from 33 cents to 30 cents per $100 valuation and the automatic tax board has withheld setting the 1943 rate until the governor makes a decision regarding a session.

May Boost Taxes

Should the governor abandon his plan a larger property tax reduction could be made.

The governor asserted opposition arose through misunderstanding of his proposal. Some opponents held it would not give available relief to property tax payers but the governor countered that small property owners would not be penalized because few of them do not receive a homestead exemption which wipes out payment of the state property tax.

"Most of the tax is paid by large property owners," he said.

Revising a preliminary estimate, he declared the rearrangement of school financing would relieve the general fund of a $5,000,000 drain each year and reduce the deficit by $10,000,000 in the next two years.

Apportionment Hike Favored

The governor said teacher representatives favored increasing the scholastic apportionment from $25 to $30 but did not take to the idea of allocating the $5 increase toward payment of rural schools.

Allocation of the $5 would reduce general fund expenditures by $5,000,000 a year since rural aid is paid out of that fund and apportionment is paid from the available school fund, which has more revenue in sight than it needs to meet a $25 payment.

The governor reserved his decision on a special session pending further discussions with schoolmen and legislators.

His explanation was that he wanted to determine fully the views of these two groups before

Fergusons Sue For Damages

AUSTIN, Aug. 3. (U.P.)—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson has suffered a complete nervous collapse, his wife, Former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, says in a $200,000 damage suit filed here today against publishers of the Tyler Morning Telegraph for alleged libel in an editorial published last March.

The petition complains that the editorial opposing return of the pardon power to the governor's office by inference reflected on their respective services while governors of Texas.

Too Ill To Prosecute

The suit asks judgment for $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages for each of the former Governors Ferguson, and says that James E. Ferguson is ill and physicaly unable to prosecute the suit, which is styled in his name against T. B. Butler Publishing Co. et al.

The petition says the two former governors were entitled to spend their declining years as highly respected citizens of the state without being molested, defamed or vilified by publishers of newspapers or any other persons whatsoever.

Defendants Named

Individual defendats named are: Mrs. Sarah C. Butler, Miss Sara Butler, Mrs. Emma Clyde and her husband, Calvin Clyde of Tyler, and Mrs. Carrie Bothwell and her husband, Sam H. Bothwell of Fort Worth. They are sued as owners of the T. B. Butler estate, which the suit says, owns the Tyler Morning Telegraph.

The suit was filed in 53rd district court.

Inequality Cited In Freight Rates

(By The United Press)

KANSAS City, Mo., Aug. 3.—Midwestern governors, agreeing to any gasoline sacrifice necessary to win the war but not merely to "appease" the East coast, hammered at the Clark senatorial committee today with a warning that the so-called "equality of sacrifice" demanded by the East would lead to an intensive battle for equality in other things, particularly in freight rates.

Spearheaded by Gov. Andrew Schoeppel, (R., Kan.) and Gov. Homer Adkins, (D., Ark.,) governors and spokesmen for other chief executives in the midwestern area told a committee headed by Sen. Bennett C. Clark, (D., Mo.,) that solution of the entire problem lies not in curtailing rations in the breadbasket area of the nation but in increasing the price of crude oil to a point where strippers and wildcatters will resume operations.

Schoeppel, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission, read from a 13-page prepared manuscript as he highlighted the opening session of the two-day hearing, attended by 200 persons, including more than 35 witnesses.

Equality Works Two Ways

"If our territory is expected to suffer the quality of sacrifice so frequently mentioned," Schoeppel declared, "then it is entitled to an equality of opportunity.

"If we are to have equality in some things, then let us have equality in all. I particularly have in mind the matter of freight rates on manufactured articles. If there ever existed any legitimate

U-Boats Strike Convoy; 2 Sunk

LONDON, Aug. 3. (AP)—British warships and planes sank two of a force of between 25 and 30 U-boats trying to intercept a big Allied convoy and probably destroyed another, a British communique announced today.

So successful was the British defense that the great force of U-boats were unable to launch a single attack, the Admiralty said. The convoy was east bound.

The fight between the warships and planes on one side and the submarines lasted three days. The action occurred some weeks ago.

Fogs, Icebergs Added Hazards

Icebergs and dense fog added to the convoy's hazards in the early part of the trip. When the weather cleared coastal command Liberators operated at great distances from their bases sighted three submarines on the surface and attacked one, sinking her.

The attack took place just before dawn and from that moment on for the next three days aircraft and warships were engaged in continuous assaults on both surfaced and submerged submarines.

Outstanding Achievement

"Successful passage of the entire convoy was an outstanding achievement because the enemy force had been built up over a period for the purpose of launching a major attack," the communique stated.

The two other submarines listed as destroyed or probably destroyed were accounted for by Royal Navy surface craft.

In at least one instance the submarines, which were always kept out of striking range of the convoy, attacked British frigates with torpedoes, but failed to hit them.

The submarine wolf pack finally lost contact and the third day without having fired a single torpedo at the merchant ships.

Search Pressed For 5 Escaped Convicts

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Law enforcement officials in the Houston area today searched for five convicts who escaped last night from the Blue Ridge state prison farm near Sugarland.

Five others who escaped at the same time were captured by prison authorities a short distance from the farm.

The five still at large: Alfonso Morante, 34, serving 99 years from Jim Wells county for murder; Juan Mendiola, 42, under a life sentence from Hidalgo county for murder; Alfonso Jac Luna, 27, serving 10 years from Bexar county for murder; Ignacio Rodriquez, 24, serving 25 years from Victoria county for robbery; Raymundo Ramirez, 22, under a 22-year sentence from Val Verde and Crockett counties for burglary.

Death Toll In Storm Rises; Body Is Found

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — The death toll from the Texas Gulf coast's $10,000,000 tropical hurricane rose to 20 today with announcement the body of a man, believed to be a crewman form the ill-fated tug "Titan," had washed ashore at High Island.

H. A. Goodman, an official of the Intracoastal Towing and Transportation Co., operators of the tug, said the body was decomposed to the extend that identification would probably be impossible.

Three other members of the crew are still missing from the tug that went down in the gulf storm last Tuesday while en route from Corpus Christi to Port Arthur.

McCREARY ON BOARD

AUSTIN, Aug. 3. (U.P.) — The state board of education today announced the board's election of Irvin McCreary of Temple to be member of the board of trustees for the teacher retirement system for a six-year term. McCreary will succeed Dan Rogers of Dallas. McCreary is former state banking commissioner and a former member of the board of education.

Ickes Endorses Plan For Fuel Experiments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP) — Declaring that declining oil reserves make it impossible for America to "continue to rip and roar through an endless golden age of gasoline," Secretary Ickes today endorsed a congressional move to build demonstration plants for the extraction of motor fuel from coal and coal shales.

Ickes, petroleum administrator for war, told a Senate public lands subcommittee that America's proven oil reserves are only 19 or 20 billion barrels—a 14 or 15 year suppy at the present rate of consumption.

Yanks Aiming Climactic Blow At Munda Base

Many Japs Killed In New Assault; Resistance Lags

(By The Associated Press)

Admiral William F. Halsey's headquarters announced today that American troops, supported by flame-throwers, tanks and artillery, had advanced 500 to 1,200 yards and stormed "close to the eastern edge of the field" in a climactic assault on the Japanese air base at Munda, New Georgia.

Many Japanese troops were killed in the attack, a headquarters spokesman said, and enemy resistance showed signs of flagging.

Other good news came from the left flank of the two-way Allied offensive, in New Guinea, where Allied artillery rolled up close enough to bombard the big Japanese stronghold at Salamaua for the first time.

Bombers Join Assault

Allied heavy bombers joined in the assault, dropping 84 tons of explosives on the town of Salamaua, and started huge fires at Lae 10 miles up the coast.

Dispatches from Allied headquarters said Japanese dive bombers attacked American positions on Rendova island, opposite Munda in the central Solomons, and lost three planes without inflicting any damage or casualties.

Tokyo's version of the attack asserted that Japanese raiders sank a destroyer and 11 transports, damaged a cruiser and set fire to harbor installation.

A portion of Bilbo hill, enemy strongpoint defending the northeast approach to Munda, was captured in the American onrush, the spokesman said. He disclosed that tanks, flame throwers and artillery supported Marine and Army units in their advance.

Many Japs Killed

Many Japanese were killed in the attack. Although there was no indication of retreat, Japanese resistance was not as strong as heretofore.

Simultaneously, Allied forces in New Guinea brought the Japanese stronghold at Salamaua under artillery bombardment for the first time.

These new successes were recounted today in a communique which also told of a one-sided aerial victory over the Japanese,

Lewis Presents Miners' Cause

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — With John L. Lewis sitting placidly before the War Labor board he long defied and ignored, counsel for his United Mine workers began today their presentation of arguments for portal-to-portal pay —and a fatter pay envelope—in the coal industry.

Lewis, invited by Chairman William H. Davis to present the union's case, introduced Crampton Harris, Birmingham attorney who represented CIO iron ore miners in a portal-to-portal case upheld by a southern circuit court of appeals.

Seek "Model" Contract

The immediate issue was board approval or disapproval for a contract between the UMW and the Illipois Coal Operators association, but the UMW is seeking to make this a "model' contract for the Appalachian and other coal areas. The Illinois contract provides $1.25 portal-to-portal pay and an extra hour's production work at time and a half rates. Together they would amount to $2.75 or more a day. New Polio Cases In Texas Are Reported

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP) — The state health department today announced 105 new cases of infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) reported for the week ending July 31., bringing the year's total to 649.

Median for the week was seven cases.

In the last four weeks the number of cases has fluctuated between approximately 90 and 100 weekly.

Allies Take Five More Towns In Decisive Fight

Axis Defenses On Island Are Crumbling Rapidly; Bulge In Enemy Line Is Wiped Out; Prisoner Total Soars Over 90,000

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Allied troops racing to deliver the knockout blow in the battle of Sicily were officially credited today with smashing through the center of the enemy's 55-mile Mt. Etna defense line, capturing at least five more strategic towns and wiping out a bulge of 70 square miles.

Axis defenses appeared to be crumbling rapidly.

"Our troops, fighting hard, are forcing their way through rugged and roadless country," the Allied command announced.

Peace Offer By FDR Reported

Seven-Point Plan Described By Axis

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP) — A DNB broadcast of a Geneva dispatch to Il Popolo di Roma, recorded by the Associated Press, declared today President Roosevelt had advanced a seven-point armistice proposal to Italy.

The Axis account, without confirmation from Allied quarters, listed the points proposed as follows:

1—The Italian army and navy are to cease all resistance.

2—Collaboration with Germany must cease at once.

3—Italian troops in Greece, Albania, France and former Yugoslavia are to be withdrawn at once.

Hand Over War Materials

4—War materials must be handed over to the Allies undamaged.

5—An Anglo-American - Soviet military government will be established in Italy until the end of operations.

6—The arrest of all war criminals.

7—The release of all Allied prisoners of war on Italian soil.

Bridgehead Established

"A substantial bridgehead north of the Dittaino has been established," Allied headquarters announced.

Soviets Start Decisive Push

BY HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 — Front line dispatches said today that the "decisive" battle for Orel had begun and the Red Army was mopping up the last German strong points northeast and northwest of the city.

Three weeks to the day after the Russians stormed the German salient around Orel in their first summer offensive of the war, military quarters said the capture of the keystone base now was a foregone conclusion.

Fighting Is Renewed

After a few days of relative relaxation for regrouping of forces, the fighting blazed up to a new peak of intensity as the slowly but steadily advancing Red Army shock units pulverized one German strong point after another.

Russian columns were closing against Orel from three main directions — northwest, east and south—and had narrowed considerably the westward corridor between the points of the assault are hugging the city.

The Army organ Red Star said the fiercest struggle was going on north of Orel, where the Red Army, intensifying its attacks, drove the Germans from several vital defense positions and occu-

Testimony Taken In De Marigny Trial

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 3. (AP) —Capt. James O. Barker of the Miami police testified today that "considerable hair burns" were found on the hands and arms of Alfred De Marigny after the bludgeoned body of his father-in-law, multi-millionaire British Baronet Sir Harry Oakes, was found on a fire-charred bed July 8.

Previous testimony at a preliminary hearing for De Marigny, charged with murder, had established that Sir Harry's body and bed had been sprayed with an insecticide and a blaze started.

"Anyone in the room at the time of the fire would have had burns on his hair," related Barker, one of two American experts called in by the Duke of Windsor to help solve the crime.

"Mr. De Marigny volunteered to undergo a microscopic examination He removed his shirt. We examined through a microscope the back of his fingers, his hands and forearms, and found on both hands and both arms a considerable quantity of hair burns."

Harlem Quiet Today After Damaging Riot

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Order returned to New York's Harlem today but authorities remained on the alert to prevent a possible recurrence of yesterday's rioting which left in its wake five persons dead, 545 injured, 509 arrests and an estimated $5,000,000 in property damage.

As 6,000 police and 1,500 members of the city patrol corps patrolled the streets only a few isolated disturbances were reported last night in the heavily-populated negro section.

U-BOATS SAID ACTIVE

LONDON, Aug. 3. (AP)—A DNB broadcast from Berlin today said German U-boats "have resumed their attacks on a large scale" after being equipped with "special machinery necessary to escape enemy observation." The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

Mercury Hits 104 In City

Lubbock and South Plains residents are sweating through the hottest weather in several years, if thermometer readings mean anything — and in West Texas they do mean plenty. Reading was 104 at the West Texas Gas company station at 1:30 p. m. today.

Monday's temperatures skyrocketed to a three-year record of 105 at the state experiment station here and to 109 at the West Texas Gas Co. station. Air-conditioned buildings afforded the only relief during the day. Last night was hot until a late hour. Electric fans blew hot, but not cool.

Today's sun continued the sweltering process, while pavements reflected the heat as a mirror does light. Shrubbery, trees, and all plant life curled their leaves and withered in a beating heat wave which brought much discomfort.

Cotton Doing Well

With moisture in the fields, from earlier rains, cotton is growing and fruiting in maximum form, and farmers are taking advantage of the sun to rid their crops of weeds.

Many towns are suffering from shortage of ice. Lack of delivery service, coupled with unprecedented demands, have created a condition which manufacturers in every town have had to cope with inadequately by operating 24 hours each day.

TEXANS PROMISED SLIGHT RELIEF IN HEAT WAVE

(By The Associated Press)

Little relief was in sight today for most of Texas after yesterday's searing heat broke records at several points.

At Snyder, Scurry county, the mercury touched 111 for a new record .Abilene's 109.2 degrees was the highest there since the 109:6 of Aug. 11, 1936, only slightly less than the record of 110 set in 1888 and equalled in 1907.

San Angelo had 109, a season's record, and Austin recorded 108. Big Spring's 107 was the highest

Texas Legislators Working In Factory

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3. (U.P.) — Five state legislators who have agreed on one thing—war work —are now working at Consolidated Vultee aircraft's Fort Worth plant helping to build B-24 bombers and Liberator express transports.

They are Arthur Cato of Weatherford, now a mechanic on stabilizers; Robert Avant of Marshall, working in fuselage tail; Omar Burkett of Cisco, L. W. Harris of Whitney and Dan Dove of Groesbeck, all three working in the production control department.

The five men have been in the Texas House of representatives together for several sessions.

Said Harris:

"It's about the first time we ever got together on anything."

Condition Of Veteran Policeman Critical

MARSHALL, Aug. 3. (U.P.) — J. W. Campbell, 79, oldest member of the Marshall police department in point of service, was in a serious condition in the Winnsboro hospital today from a gunshot wound in the chest.

Campbell was found in the Winnsboro cemetery yesterday, near the grave of his wife. Mrs. Arthur Millican, jr., his daughter, said Campbell had been despondent because of failure to hear from his only son, Staff Sgt. J. W. Campbel, jr., who is stationed in England.

Salesmen Of Future May Cover World-Wide Market By Air

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 3. (U.P.)—A picture of the future in which perishable vegetables will be flown from Oklahoma to Chungking, China, in three days was painted here last night by L. Welch Pogue, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics board.

He told an aviation meeting that air freight woud cut trips of five or six weeks by surface transportation to three days or so.

"It will be no more unusual for the salesman of the future," he predicted, "to take one of the daily services across the Atlantic and spend a week in canvassing Europe than it was recently for the salesman to take his automobile and spend a week in canvassing the provincial markets of a county."

Market To Be Expanded

Pogue declared that the speed of the airplane would establish "a foreign market for perishables as close as, and closer, than our domestic market by surface transport."

Great strides, he continued, are being made in reducing the per pound cost of commercial shipment by air. For one thing, he reported new methods of packing for air travel had reduced the weight of many articles up to 15 per cent.

Sales Tax Discussions Start Again; Treasury Opposes Levy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the tax-forming House ways and means committee cut short his vacation and returned to the capital today amid renewed discussions for and against a sales tax as a source of extra money for the war effort.

Doughton came back from North Carolina earlier than he had expected to, anxious to check on the treasury's ideas for new and higher taxes to meet President Roosevelt's demands for $12,000,000,000 more than now is collected.

Coinciding with his arrival, some congressional tax sources said they thought there was too much sentiment against a sales tax for such a bill to become law.

The treasury itself has been against a sales levy and its opposition was assailed anew today by Senator Byrd (D-Va) who said:

"It is entirely inconsistent for the treasury to urge enormous increases in taxes without incorporating in such a program a sales tax, which I look upon as a proper and just war tax."

Doughton himself has said he

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

"Accent the cheerful news" the Office of War Information advises those who write to service men.

The advice is fine, but it doesn't go far enough. Why accent news only in letters to men in uniform? Why not accent it in our daily lives here at home?

We don't have to be a nation of nit-wits or foolish optimists to do that.

We all know that we have plenty to worry about, plenty to cry about, plenty to fear.

But when we reach out toward another person, why not make it as cheerful a communication as possible? Why dwell on our sorrows, our fears, our worries?

Good things still happen to us. We still have things to be thankful for. We still have things to laugh about. Why not accent those things?

The persons who do are the ones we like to be around these days. The good, but always depressed, we avoid because they get us down.

"HAVE MORALE"

Most of us work hard and do a lot of worrying when we are alone. When we have a chance to talk to other people, we welcome the opportunity to see the funny side of things, to laugh, to hear good news so that we can say for a change "Isn't that wonderful" instead of ::Isn't that a shame."

The OWI was all right in warning us to accent the cheerful news when we write to soldiers. Now it ought to warn us to accent the cheerful news when we talk to each other. It may not be as important as the soldiers'—but we civilians have morale, too, and a little good news and laughter won't hurt it a bit.

Bible Lessons Studied By Calvary Baptist WMS

Circles of Calvary Baptist WMS studied Bible lessons in the homes of members Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. R. Sprawls, 1910 Avenue P, was hostess to Lottie Moon circle, with 3 in attendance. Mrs. Sprawls taught the lesson.

Miss May Horn taught the Bible lesson when seven members of Mewshaw circle met in the home of Mrs. A. A. Bratcher, 2109 Twenty-fourth street.

The hostess, Mrs. J. H. Comer, taught the lesson, when members of Livingston circle met in her home, 1614 Avenue Q, for a mission study. Four were present, and it was voted to meet at 4 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock as they have formerly met.

Miss Morone Womack Is Bride of Petty Officer

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Morone Womack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Womack of south of Lubbock, and Petty Officer, 3/C. Clarane French, of Jacksonville, Fla., and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. French of Olustee, Okla., which took place Friday with Rev. Mr. Wood reading the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with black accessories. The couple was unattended.

Guests included Miss Arlene Womack, sister of the bride, Miss Edith Webb, and Adrian Huckabee.

Mrs. French is a graduate of Cooper High school.

The couple will leave this morning for Jacksonville, where Petty Officer French is stationed.

Hardin-Ratheal Marriage Is Read In Plainview

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ratheal of McAdoo are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Winnell Ratheal, to Eugene Hardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hardin, which took place July 26 in the home of Rev. J. Lowell Ponder in Plainview.

The bride wore a beige alpaca suit with brown accessories. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Winegar.

Mrs. Hardin is a graduate of Crosbyton High school and was a student in Draughon's Business college in Lubbock prior to her marriage.

The couple will make their home on the East Plains.

Mess Sergeant Can't Complain Any Longer

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (AP)—Sgt. Lecil J. Comer complained of being "underweight" when he was inducted into the Army June 11, 1942.

Well, they made him mess sergeant at Fort Worth Army Air field last January and today he tips the beams at 311 pounds.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Franklin Dunn, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Dunn of Abernathy route 1, was considered satisfactory in condition this morning in West Texas hospital, where he is receiving treatment after suffering compound fracture of both bones in his right arm when he fell from a tree Sunday at his home. Two other boys who suffered fractures in accidents Sunday returned home from the hospital Monday afternoon. They were 10-year-old Ross Dean Hinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Hinson of Spur route 2, who suffered fracture of his right leg when he was kicked by a horse, and 15-year-old Billy Joe Short, son of Mrs. Vonie Short of 1505 Twenty-second street, who received fracture of the right hip when he jumped from a horse.

Notification that L. Earl Hunt, general agent here of General American Life Insurance Co., has been made a member of the company "leadership club" was reported here Monday.

Dick Green, pharmacist's mate second class, who is now visiting in his home, 2914 Twenty-first street, is under orders to report for duty at Beeville Friday. Mrs. Howard Pardue and Miss Alma Green, sisters who reside in Shreveport, La., also are visitors here.

T. H. (Bo) Williams of San Angelo, former business manager of athletics at Texas Technological college, has been appointed a deputy supervisor of the oil and gas division of Texas Railroad commission, succeeding B. C. Davis, friends here learned Monday.

Pat Farris, former high school and Texas Technological college football player and now an aviation cadet at Ellington field, Houston, is spending a 10-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Chattie Farris, 2122 Seventh street, and grandmother, Mrs. George M. Boles, who was injured seriously when thrown from a horse recently.

Mrs. Norman B. McCullough returned to duty as city hall PBX operator this morning after spending a month's leave of absence with her husband, a former assistant city engineer who now is engaged in defense work in Carlsbad, N. M.

Funeral services for Cpl. Michael Bynum, 31, were conducted at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, with Rev. Wm. H. Foster, assistant pastor, officiating. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery, under direction of Rix Funeral home. Cpl. Bynum, resident of Lubbock since 1929, died at 2:25 o'clock Monday morning in the post hospital at Lubbock Army Air field after several days' illness.

J. K. Wells, 35, of Tahoka paid a fine of $50 and court costs, aggregating $74.40, for aggravated assault on a woman. County Attorney Syrian E. Marbut told County Judge G. V. Pardue in open court he had been informed that Wells boarded a bus where the woman and her four children were occupants and that he forced his attentions on the woman despite her protests. Wells at first pleaded innocent, then changed his plea after Judge Pardue had set bond of $1,000.

This complaint, received this morning by police, sounded like old days: "Two cars speeding side by side on the Levelland highway." No arrests had been announced.

Park Activities To Be Resumed Friday

Amateur night contests for war stamp prizes are planned in five of the city parks Friday night at 8:30 o'clock, according to announcement this morning by Miss Effie Lou Keaster, director of the parks summer recreation project.

Scenes of the programs will be Pioneer, Carlisle, Rollie Burns and Mackenzie State parks for white people and Booker T. Washington park for negroes. Talent is needed. Miss Keaster has asked those wishing to appear on the programs to report to supervisors of the individual parks as soon as possible.

After a lapse because of the polio scare, activities in parks will now be resumed as rapidly as conditions will permit, she announced.

Ribbentrop Reported Hunting For Villa

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, is trying to swing a deal to gain possession of a villa in Switzerand, Sir William Davison, member of Parliament declared today.

Davison indicated he would ask Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden whether he had any knowledge of Von Ribbentrop's plan and also whether neutral nations have replied to Allied notes warning them against allowing asylum to Axis officials who are charged with war guilt.

Texas Gas Cut Is Minimized

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The average Texas motorist, in the opinion expressed by two Texas congressmen here today, should not be seriously affected by gasoline equalization regulations expected to go into effect in the next few weeks.

Representative Patman (D-Tex) expressed belief that local rationing boards would be given considerable latitude in granting "B" coupons to motorists in the nation's No. 1 oil-producing state.

Representative Gossett (D-Tex) said he felt confident that some means would be found of seeing to it that motorists in Texas continue to receive substantially the same amount of gasoline.

Plenty Gasoline Available

"The folks in Texas know that there is plenty of gasoline available down there. It is neither a question of supply nor transportation in Texas. Personally, I believe that the situation will straighten itself out satisfactorily. If the new regulations actually do curtail our allotment I intend to protest."

Following talks with War Food Administrator Marvin Jones and Economic Stabilization Director Fred Vinson, Patman, expressed an opinion that Congress upon its return here would approve food subsidies as the only alternative to increased living costs.

No Farm Contracts Due

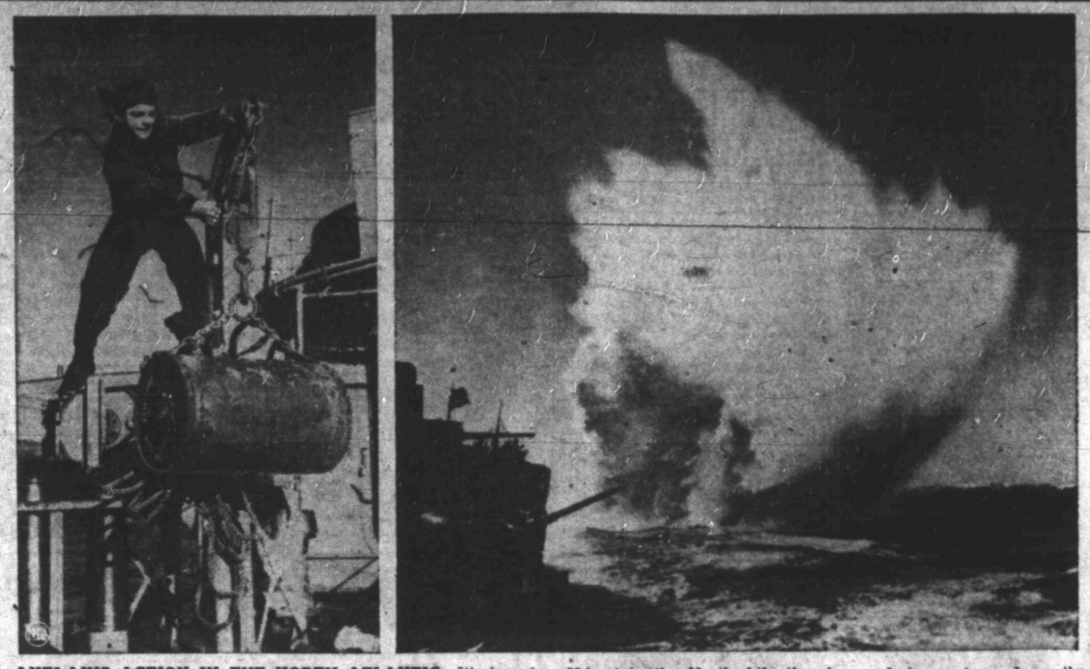

WFA Administrator Jones assured him, said Patman, that there would be no contracts required of farmers in regard to planting of next year' crops and that there would be no regimentation of farmers concerning the cotton program. He gave this answer, based upon his conferences here with Jones and other officials:

"The law requires the Commodity Credit Corporation to grant a loan of 90 per cent of parity on cotton. The July 15, 1943, price will be used to determine the 90 per cent loan value; at that time, the average price of cotton in the local markets was 20.46 cents per pound. It can safely be said that the loan value of the average cotton in our country will be between 18 and 19 cents."

SPAR Sub-Station Opened In Lubbock

A recruiting station has been opened in Lubbock for the SPARS, women's auxiliary of the coast guard, according to announcement Monday.

Seaman 2nd C. Martha Porders, who recently completed her training at the SPAR training station at Palm Beach, Fla., has reported for duty as recruiting officer. Prior to enlisting June 28, she was a bookkeeper in Lebanon, Ky.

Another SPAR is to arrive next week and others will join the recruiting staff later, it was announced. The sub-station, located in room 217 of the federal building, is to serve the South Plains and Panhandle. It is one of four SPAR sub-stations in the state.

Enlisted women will be processed in Lubbock and sent to the training station at Palm Beach. Officers will be given preliminary examinations here and then will be sent to Dallas for processing.

To qualify as an enlisted woman, an applicant must be between ages of 20 to 36, inclusive, must weigh at least 95 pounds, be at least 5 feet 4 inches tall and have two years of high school education. Height and weight requirements for officers are the same, but they may be between 20 and 49, inclusive, and must have a college degree.

Have A Camelburger? It's 'World's Worst'

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3 (AP) — If you've never eaten a camelburger you've never tasted the worst food in the world, avers Capt. Frederick J. Ziegler, jr., of the Army Air corps.

The 23-year-old Portland flier, who has spent the last 10 months ferrying supplies into China from India, said today he had what he hoped was his final camelburger 13 days ago in China.

"Some Army cook invented this culinary monstrosity," he said in an interview. "It's main ingredient is stringy camel hump.

Shift In Personnel At Jail Announced

Changes involving employment of a new night jailer at county jail were announced Monday afternoon by Sheriff Tom Abel and his chief deputy, Parum Posey.

Edgar E. Gray was given day duties as a deputy sheriff, Raymond Land, four years with the police, replacing him as night jailer.

The change was occasioned by recent resignation of Grady Harrist as deputy sheriff to accept a position with the city meat inspection department.

Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, will shift into the investigation slot Harrist had exercised, and will assist Posey "on the outside." Gray will aid the courts and serve processes.

Gray is a former county commissioner of Precinct 3.

Land left the police force for employment with Pan-Tex Ordnance plant in Amarillo and returned to Lubbock to sell insurance.

Seven Are Killed In Enamel Plant Blast

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3 (AP) — Seven war workers were killed and eight others injured late Monday in an explosion at the Ferro Enamel corporations east side plant.

Capt. William N. Noble of the Army's chemical warfare service, said cause of the explosion was not determined and property damage was slight.

The list of injured included two city firemen who inhaled poisonous fumes. Others were burned or cut by flying glass.

The concern manufactures war chemicals under Army contracts, Noble said.

Harris First County With 2 Grand Juries

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Harris county today became the first county in the history of Texas to have two grand juries at the same time, said W. K. Richardson, assistant district attorney.

To complete its investigation of alleged policy rackets, the May term grand jury last week asked for and received a 30 day extension under terms of a law passed by the last session of the legislature. Sworn in today, the new grand jury was adjourned until Sept. 8.

Hale Center Couple Gets Card From Son

HALE CENTER, Aug. 3. (Special)—A post card dated Dec. 19, 1942, has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Ray of Hale Center from their son, Pvt. George Ray, a prisoner of the Japanese.

Stating that he is well and safe, he added that he has received no word from home since November, 1941.

The Rays also have received letters this week from all parts of the nation, from people who reported they heard the Ray boy broadcast over Japan's shortwave radio station on July 25. In his talk, he reported more information than his postcard gave, saying again that he was "well and safe," and that he needed toilet goods, food, clothing and all things that the American Red Cross would allow to be sent to him. His radio broadcast reported he had written three letters home and still had heard nothing from his relatives here. One correspondent writing the Rays reported he had made a phonograph recording of the broadcast.

George was at Clark field in the Philippines and his parents had heard nothing from him since Christmas of 1941. The first definite news of the plucky aviation mechanic's whereabouts came in a telegram from the Red Cross early in July that George was a prisoner of the Japanese. Previously the Rays had talked with a member of the heroic 19th bombardment group at Pyote, Tex., just returned from the Pacific war theatre, who told them George had escaped with a band of Americans to one of the hundreds of islands in the Philippines.

OEW Analyst Says Dance Not Ballet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — John Bovingdon, $5,600-a-year analyst with the Office of Economisc warfare (OEW), wants Rep. Dies (D-Tex) to understand that it wasn't the ballet that he danced, but rhythmic gymnastics.

Furthermore, the trim, 53-year-old Bovingdon explained today, he took up rhythmic gymnastics for his health, studied economics at Harvard for his education and believes that he obtained both.

Dies, chairman of the House committee on un-American activities, objected to Bovingdon's recent appointment to OEW. Dies said "this is no time for the appointment of ballet dancers to fill positions which require the best of brains and ability from our people."

Most States To Call Fathers In October

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Only a handful of states can get through October without some drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers now that selective service has lifted the ban against it, an unofficial survey indicated today.

Many states reported they were scraping the bottom of the manpower barrel and if they are to meet October quotas, fathers heretofore deferred for dependency reasons alone must go into uniform.

Draft headquarters authorities asserted every means would be exhausted first before general induction would proceed. None would predict however that men with families would still be civilians much after November 1, unless of course they are engaged in essential occupations, or farming, or local boards ruled their induction would bring severe hardship to their wives and children.

McNutt Announces Action

Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt announced yesterday the lifting of the ban on induction of fathers whose children were born before Sept. 15, 1942. He emphasized however that the local boards should call up fathers after October 1 only to the extent "absolutely required" to meet their quotas.

Quotas for August and September call for inducting 275,000 men each month. The armed forces are counting on 625,000 for the last three months of the year. Of that number however 150,000 can be obtained from the ranks of youths newly turned 18 and another 175,000 from single men still in civilian life.

The Army is shooting for a top strength of 8,200,000 and the sea services have a goal of 3,100,000.

TEXAS TO DELAY MOVE AS LONG AS POSSIBLE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3. (AP)—The selective service system is seeking to delay as long as possible drafting of Texas' pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, says Brig. Gen. J. Watt Page, state director.

These fathers are described as those living with and supporting children born before last Sept. 15.

Local draft boards were authorized by selective service at Washington yesterday to call up these fathers after Oct. 1, but only to the extent "absolutely required" to meet their monthly quotas.

Visiting here at the time the Washington announcement was made, Page said it was unlikely any of this state's pre-Pearl Harbor fathers would be called until late in October or some time in November, and added:

"We are endeavoring to divide the calls so that draft boards with plenty of 1-A men can supply the necessary quotas. However, some of them will be pressed to meet their quotas in the fall in spite of all we can do.

Man Is Free On Bond In Childress Shooting

CHILDRESS, Aug. 3. (AP)—Ira Zuber, 23, is free under $1,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of Capt. Stephen Patterson Moorhead, 28, pilot at Childress Army Air field. The complaint was filed by Childress County Attorney C. C. Broughton.

Capt. Moorhead was wounded critically by two shots from a .22 caliber pistol at 3 a. m. yesterday in the back yard of the house where he and Mrs. Moorhead have an apartment. Zuber resided in a house in the rear of the same lot.

Broughton quoted Zuber as saying he made his bed in the yard and mistook Moorhead for a prowler.

Ethiopia Happy At Downfall Of Mussolini; Wants A Share In Peaceful Post-War World

[EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch is perhaps the man with the best right to comment on the fall of Benito Mussolini and the collapse of Fascist Italy. Mussolini's armies invaded his remote, east African kingdom in 1936 with no other motive than that of conquest. They used bombing planes and tanks against native armies whose weapons were mainly spears and Mussolini's own son wrote of the "glory" and "beauty" of dropping bombs on primitive native villages. The emperor was driven into exile. In 1941, British armies drove the Italians from his country and restored him to his throne].

BY HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY HAILE SELASSIE
Emperor Of Ethiopia
Written For The United Press

(Copyright, 1943, By The United Press)

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 3.—Here in Ethiopia the news of Benito Mussolini's resignation was received with very great satisfaction.

It marks the complete collapse of all his hopes as the leader of victorious Fascism. Already it is raising men's hopes in enemy-occupied territories and it may well be the first sign of a rapid deterioration in the morale of the Axis forces everywhere.

Many Serious Crimes

The duce's crimes have been many and serious. Having been one of his victims, Ethiopia sees in Mussolini's passing the beginning of the vindication of those forces of justice and humanity he has so brutally defied for 21 years. He bears a heavy responsibility for the many crimes committed under his order both in Ethiopia and Italy and outside his own country.

Mussolini was the first to introduce banditry methods into present day European politics. His crimes have been equally as heavy as those of Hitler. Mussolini, who did not hesitate to use poisonous gas through Badoglio (Marshal Pietro Badoglio, leader of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and Mussolini's successor as Italian premier) against defenseless people and order the wholesale massacre of an innocent population, should certainly not be permitted to end his days in safe retirement.

Justice For Future

I have been asked if in the postwar international criminal court, Ethiopia will ask to be permitted to punish Mussolini. My reply is that however important it is that Mussolini should be punished, this is only the negative aspect of re-establishing the principles of international justice. Ethiopia is less interested in vengeance for the past than in justice for the future.

It is much more important to Ethiopia to be given the opportunity to share the building and maintaining of international institutions which will prevent the rise of political bullies trampling on the rights of small nations. We have suffered too much not to be aware how necessary it is to cooperate in policies which will arrange respect for the rule of law among the nations.

Mussolini's downfall only clears a path for the forces of justice to emerge. In itself it is not the guarantee that justice has triuhphed. It is an opporunity, just as the downfall of Hitler and Japanese imperialism will offer an even greater opportunity, to refashion the foundation of our society with justice.

Shipments Of Texas Cattle Are Increased

AUSTIN, Aug. 3. (U.P.)—Texas ranchers have not been holding back the meat supply, a bulletin of the University of Texas business research bureau revealed here today.

Carloads of cattle sent to market from Texas during the first half of 1943 exceeded by 7,500 the number of cars for the first half of 1942.

Tuttle Twins Will Be Buried This Afternoon

Graveside services for infant twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Tuttle of 1634-A Tenth street were scheduled for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Tahoka cemetery, with Plains Funeral home of Lubbock directing burial.

The babies died at 12:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in Lubbock General hospital, about two and one-half hours after birth.

The funeral of the late King George V cost about $125,000.

Welfare Board In Discussions

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP) —A special House committee investigating Texas Old Age Assistance administration scheduled further testimony today after being told by a member of the board of public welfare that he would like to see a new executive director of the welfare department chosen "in the next two weeks."

Dr. Tom Taylor, board member from Brownwood, testified yesterday he would like for the board to replace J. S. Murchison, resigned at once. Taylor said he would do all he could to bring it about.

Murchison consented to serve until a successor was chosen. He resigned several months ago.

No Decision Made

Marvin Leonard of Fort Worth, board chairman, said there were approximately 20 candidates for the job but that the board had not yet made a decision.

"Mr. Murchison is pressing us to relieve him," Leonard asserted. "It's going to be pretty hard to do."

Leonard told the committee he interpreted a telegram from the Social Security board at Washington as suggesting the department hire additional employes, but Leonard said this was not contemplated.

Taylor testified he favored smaller salaries or fewer employes, with all administrative payments to come out of federal funds, if the Social Security board would approve.

Fred Snites Parents Of Second Daughter

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—A second daughter was born today to Mrs. Teressa Larkin Snite, wife of Fred Snite, jr., the 33-year-old infantile paralysis victim who has been encased in an iron lung for more than seven years.

The child was born in Chicago Lying-In hospital where she and her mother were reported in good condition.

Their first daughter, Teressa Marie, was born Sept. 22, 1940. Snite observed his 33rd birthday Saturday.

American Test Pilot Shatters Record In 25,000-Foot Dive

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Aviation experts are studying the possibilities unfolded by the feat of an American test pilot who shattered all world records when he succeeded in diving a P-38 Lightning plane 25,000 feet, or nearly five miles, and achieved a speed of more than 780 miles an hour —approximately the speed of sound.

Is Awarded DFC

For his achievement the flier, Lt. Col. Cass S. Hough, of Plymouth, Mich., technical director of the Eight Fighter command of the United States Army Air Forces, was given the Distinguished Flying Cross by Brig. Gen. Frank O'D. Hunter, commander of American fighter planes in the European theater. Hough's citation said the award was made for special attainment in "independent flight research."

Hough's dive is believed to be the longest in aviation history. It was made in September, 1942, when he took his P-38 up to 43,000 feet and power-dived for 25,000 feet before leveling off at 18,000 feet. Five months later, in Feb. 1943, he went up to 39,000 feet in a P-47 Thunderbolt and power-dived to 18,000 feet. Both feats were performed in England and were undertaken voluntarily in quest of scientific information for the aid of fighter pilots.

POLIO VICTIM DIES

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — The Fort Worth infantile paralysis death toll stood at 14 today with the death of Archie Joe Wheat, 12. He died yesterday at a Fort Worth hospital.

Top-Ranking Officers Are Killed In Crash

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Aug. 3 (AP)—Six persons were killed and one was injured when an Army bomber crashed yesterday at the airport here.

Army officials said that the plane, which crashed on the take-off and burned, was from Dallas, Texas, and enroute north on a mission.

At Wright field, Dayton, Ohio, Lt. A. H. Pearson, public relations officer, reported several of the men killed were high-ranking officers from the Air Forces' experimental laboratory.

He identified three of the dead as Lt. Col. John E. Davis, 51, of Columbus, O., and Capt. Wendel P. Lester, 33, of Baytown, Texas, and W. W. Cummins of Solon, Ohio, a civilian technician at Wright field.

IF YOU ARE UNFORTUNATE ENOUGH TO LOSE ONE OF YOUR RATIONING COUPON BOOKS

If You Lose Your Rationing Coupons—
Board Outlines Procedure In Getting Duplicate Book

Persons who lose their ration books henceforth will be required to advertise their loss three times in the press, before they can obtain new books.

This requirement was announced Wednesday following a conference of Lubbock county rationing board officials, and applies to gasoline and sugar-coffee rationing books and to other rationing books which may be issued in the future.

They explained the procedure as follows: When a book is lost, the first thing the owner should do is to insert a newspaper advertisement. After the ad has run three times, the newspaper supplies the owner with an affidavit attesting to proof of publication. He should take this with a clipping of the ad to the rationing board office, 1215 Texas Avenue, where he must make application and a sworn statement that the book has been lost.

Officials emphasized that it will be needless to go first to the rationing board, that the initial act should be the insertion of the newspaper advertisement.

The plan is designed, they said, to aid the holder in locating his book and to protect him from use of the book by some unauthorized person.

INSERT A "3 DAY AD" IN THE LOST & FOUND COLUMN

A Small INEXPENSIVE "10 Word Ad" in the Lost and Found Column of the Avalanche-Journal, published for three days, will comply with the ruling now in force. Here is all it will cost to place such an ad in the Avalanche-Journal—

10 WORD AD PUBLISHED FOR— 3 Days WILL COST YOU ONLY— 80c

IF Within THREE DAYS your RATION BOOK is not returned, the Avalanche-Journal will furnish you with an "Affidavit of Publication" This signed and notorized statement contains a copy of the ad, and certifies that you have complied with the Rationing Board's advertising regulation. Just attach it to your application for replacement.

Plea To Streamline Congress Sounded

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — Red-haired Rep. Charles M. Lafollette, freshman Republican congressman from Indiana, today joined Sen. Robert M. LaFollette (Prog. Wis.) in pleading for a "streamlined Congress that can meet modern needs.'

Just before the present congressional recess, Senator La Follette introduced a bill providing for such streamlining. Two such measures already are pending in the House—one by Rep. Albert Gore (D. Tenn.) and one by Rep. Everett Dirksen (R. Ill.) It is to the latter measure which so far has been pigeonholed, that Congressman Lafollette addressed himself.

"Six months in Washington convinces me that we as a people have fallen into the grievous error of assuming that because the constitution provides that Congress is the policy and lawmaking body we need do nothing more about the matter," Rep. Lafollette said.

Error Is Obvious

"The error is the obvious one which always exists when people forget the injunction that 'eternal vigilance is the price of liberty.' Freedom, which can only exist when the laws are created by the regularly elected representatives of the people, is more fully in danger now than at any time in the history of this government.

"And the bulk of the blame for this danger to our freedom rests squarely upon the members of Congress. To me it is both futile and cowardly for Congress to yelp about bureaucrats and protest against the growth of policymaking power in the executive branch of the government, when the only effective way of meeting this encroachment is for Congress to equip itself to perform its function with the complicated society which now exists in America.

Congress Is Representative

"Congress still is a rather representative cross-section of the people. Generally it is equipped with men capable of constructive thinking, capable of analysis and capable of effective action. But the problems of policy which confront the members of Congress are so numerous and complex that no one man, even though he be an expert in a certain line, can find the time to gather the factual data and give the necessary intensified study to work out a completely coordinated piece of legislation, even upon a specific policy of government."

Only adequate staffing of Congress by experts can solve the problem and something like the Dirksen or the La Follette bill must be adopted, the Hoosier congressman said.

Tools Are Needed

"What is needed is to provide Congress with a set of tools to perform its duty of equal caliber and efficiency to those now possessed by the executive branch," he concluded.

"There must be set up an agency of Congress a body of lawyers who can be called upon to thoroughly brief questions of law: a body of economists, who can be called upon for impartial information; a body of statisticians, engineers and other experts. They should be solely employed by and answerable to Congress. They should be instructed to render to the best of their ability impartial, factual, expert opinions upon any questions submitted to them by Congress, its committees and its members."

Senator La Follette's bill proposes that the Senate's 33 sprawling standing committees be cut to 12 and these equipped with the tools for proper functioning.

Bo Williams Named 7-C District Deputy

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 3 (AP) — T. H. (Bo) Williams is to succeed B. C. Davis as deputy supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission in district 7-C here, Beauford H. Jester, commission chairman, has notified the men.

Davis, former real estate dealer here, was appointed by Jerry Sadler and has held the post since Aug. 7, 1939. Williams has been here as statistical clerk since Feb. 7, 1939.

Long-Sought Owner Of Bike Is Neighbor

DENISON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Four months ago Patrolman Clarence Faecke recovered a stolen bicycle.

He searched all Denison trying to find the owner but to no avail.

Then his next-door neighbor, Don Barkley, complained that he couldn't go bicycling because someone had stolen his wheel.

Patrolman Faecke checked up. Yes, it was Don's bicycle.

TANK CARS FOR A FIGHTING FRONT—Tank cars are fixed to deck of a freighter on a special superstructure at an east coast port for transport to an unrevealed fighting front. Upon arrival, they'll be mounted on railroad trucks which have been detached and placed in hold. It's a possible reason for oil transportation difficulties in the United States.

Manpower Studied In Effort To Delay Drafting Fathers

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3—Selective service is looking in every direction for enough manpower so that it can continue to delay general drafting of men it defines as fathers.

Right now the drive for draftees is concentrated on getting all the men possible out of the nearly 3,000,000 currently classified as 4-F (rejectees.)

Rejectees Checked Closely

Newest angle of the drive is pointed at those rejected for syphilis. Local boards have been told to check on these men closely—working with public health agencies—and call them up without delay if they refuse to take treatment which would make them fit for service. Then, of course, they would be sent to camps for treatment.

Another major part of the drive is aimed at psychiatrist rejections. Induction station psychiatrists have been rejecting 23 per cent of recent examinees—virtually all of them physically fit—on the basis of belief that they are unable to stand the mental strain of shifting from civilian to military life.

The current aim is to work out more uniform standards for judging the general stability of the individuals examined.

Shaking Out Plant Workers

Pretty well-under way is an effort to shake out of war plants and other civilian work more than a million single and childless married men who currently are deferred for occupational reasons—as essential or key workers in essential industries.

Too, selective service officials see a strong possibility that, after the harvest season, local boards which find themselves pinched to meet quotas will reclassify into 1-A many of the 705,000 single and childless married men now deferred as necessary workers on farms.

Limited Service Plan Changed

Another recent move has been a change in procedure so that men who meet limited service standards won't be turned back at induction centers just because the limited service quota for the day they report happens to be filled before the examiners get around to them.

Aside from the youths reaching the age of 18, there's still another factor in the calculations: The recruiting for the women's auxiliary services. These are looking ahead to great expansion—and, in effect, the women enlisting take the place of men in the draft.

Solon Very Unhappy Over Gasoline Pinch

KEARNEY, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP)—"If the equalization of gasoline rationing does not take place within the coming week," Representative Hartley (R-NJ), said today, "I propose to call together my 135 colleagues in the House and the 24 senators from the 12 eastern states, and, believe me, all hell will be let loose."

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Military Money Makes Debut

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Anglo-American military currency made its bow in the Allied occupation of Sicily to provide the monetary pattern for future occupations in Europe.

A joint Treasury-War department told the story today of how Great Britain and the United States decided on a distinctive, vari-colored money to be carried into enemy lands. It told, too, of the secrecy that cloaked every step in its production and of the first sevent-ton shipment flown from Washington to Sicily in two huge transport planes.

The first issue, which the departments said spoke "a 'lira' language that will be understood by every Sicilian trader and consumer," presumably will be followed by issues speaking the 'franc,' 'reichsmark' and other money languages now familiar to the millions under the Nazi heel.

Replaces Other Moneys

The Italian issue is intended to replace previous invasion moneys —American forces in North Africa used regular United States currency with a distinctive gold seal and the British used a "military pound."

The currency is in two sizes. For the Italian series the smaller size —about half that of American notes—was printed in denominations of one, two, five and ten lire. A wheat field scene in brown appears on the face, with the denomination printed in the center. Blue, lavender, green and black borders identify the respective denominations.

The larger size, comparable to American currency, was used for notes of 50, 100, 500 and 1,000 lire denomination with borders and design in blue, lavender, green and black respectively, against a pale background.

Four Freedoms Listed

The words "Allied military currency" and "issued in Italy" appear on all notes, while on the reverse side the "four freedoms"—freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want and freedom from fear—carry the message of the Atlantic Charter to the liberated lands.

The Treasury made no announcement of the exchange rate, but dispatches from Allied headquarters in North Africa said the rate had been set at 100 lire to the dollar and 400 lire to the British pound. The money already is being used in payment of all Allied troops on Italian soil and for purchase there of supplies.

FALL PROVES FATAL

SAN SALVADOR, Aug. 3 (AP) — Dr. Juan Arnesto Vasquez, 48, widely known economist and public official died of injuries received in a fall from a horse.

Roosevelt-Willkie Ticket Suggested

DETROIT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) suggests Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie as the New Deal's candidates for president and vice president in 1944.

"Inasmuch as this administration believes in the remaking of America, and as a former Democrat and one-time candidate on the Republican ticket would out-Roosevelt Roosevelt, let me, as a Republican, most humbly suggest that the New Dealers name as their next candidates Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie."

Hoffman addressed a meeting sponsored by Gerald K. Smith's committee of one million and his speech was billed as an answer to Vice President Henry A. Wallace's recent Detroit address.

The Michigan representative assailed Wallace for making a trip to South America advocating a "good neighbor policy" and then "turning on his good neighbor Jesse Jones, calling him a liar and accusing him of aiding the enemies of our country."

Peter Krug, Famous Prisoner, Out Again

GRAVENHURST, Ont., Aug. 3 (AP)—Peter Krug, German prisoner of war who was befriended by the Detroit restaurant owner Max Stephan and who testified against him later at Stephan's treason trial, was reported today to have made another escape from prison camp.

Krug, a lieutenant and bomber pilot who has escaped several times before, was swimming with fellow prisoners at an officer's camp in the Gravenhurst district today and did not report at roll-call afterward. If he fled the camp, it probably was in swimming shorts unless he had cached clothes somewhere in anticipation of the break.

After fleeing April 17, 1942, and being aided by Stephan, Krug roamed the United States for weeks, covering 3,000 miles and visiting Chicago and New York before his capture at San Antonio.

MINERS WALK OUT

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 3 (AP)—Sixteen hundred workers at the Huber colliery of the Glen Alden Coal company at nearby Ashley went on strike Monday, demanding the removal of recently installed mechanical mining equipment.

The average fat has a content of about 10 per cent glycerine.

SPAAF First In Handling Cases

South Plains Army Air field ranks first in the entire Army Air Forces Gulf Coast Training center in speeding action on special courtmartial cases, it was announced from Randolph Field headquarters in San Antonio.

Judging the various fields upon the time elapsed in the handling of courts cases, the bulletin pointed out the speed and efficiency with which the trial judge advocate's office at SPAAF has been working during the month of June.

Campaign Cuts Violations

The notice was received by Lt. William P. Camp of San Antonio, trial judge advocate, and emphasized a recent report on activities of the office which has waged a successful campaign to cut down not only on law violations but court cases and the time required to handle those cases.

At that time, Lt. Camp said that "SPAAF has a record of giving men a trial almost twice as quick as the average time for other fields in the entire training center, thus cutting down on the time their case is delayed and the time they must await trial."

Credit for this record goes to Lt. Camp and his assistants, Staff Sgt. Shelby P. Boling of 2407 Twenty-first street, Lubbock, and Mrs. Billye A. Wills of 512 Avenue O, secretary in the office.

Board Is Stumped By War Worker's Reply

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 3 (AP) — The tire rationing panel was puzzled when a refinery worker wrote in his application papers that he transported "two and a half" riders.

They checked with the applicant and he explained that he carried three men to work but made the return trip with only two.

Football Is Assured At Tech This Fall

Practice Will Begin Sept. 5

Imposing Schedule Being Arranged

Continuation of football this autumn at Texas Tech was definitely assured Monday following a meeting of President Clifford B. Jones, members of the athletic council, athletic director and the head football coach.

The Red Raiders will start practice Sept. 5 for an imposing schedule which includes the Texas Aggies, Rice Owls, TCU Horned Frogs and probably SMU. The complete schedule is to be announced soon by Athletic Director Morley Jennings.

Others At Meeting

Those who attended Monday's meeting included President Jones, W. L. Stangel, chairman of the athletic council, H. C. Pender, H. F. Godeke, both members of the council, Jennings, Head Coach Dell Morgan, and Bill Parker, director of Tech sports publicity.

President Jones said that Tech had realized an ambition of long standing by scheduling several Southwest conference teams last year and this year and the school should continue its football plans and benefits by the good will the Raiders now enjoy in the conference.

Although Tech, like many other institutions, faces a shortage of prime grid material, Coach Morgan said he would have enough huskies from which to shape a formidable team.

None of the pre-flight students on the campus are eligible for college football.

Cleveland To Claim Klieman

CLEVELAND, Aug. 3 (AP) — Ed (Specs) Klieman, the Baltimore Oriole sinker ball sensation, will be claimed by the Cleveland Indians by Aug. 15 under a working agreement with the International league club, Cleveland Vice President Roger Peckinpaugh announced today.

Peckinpaugh said the Indians-Orioles arrangement permits Cleveland to pick two Baltimore players before Aug. 15, at a price of not more than $10,000 each.

The Baltimore front office rates its 19-game winner in the $50,000 class.

OWNERSHIP OF KLIEMAN IS COMPLICATED CASE

BALTIMORE, Aug. 3 (AP) —The complicated case of who owns Ed (Specs) Klieman, at present baseball's leading game winner, is enough to make the Indians hit the warpath, meaning the Cleveland variety.

It's all very confusing, even to Specs, whose sinker nosedives about 10 inches when it breaks into the plate and International league batters' hearts.

To date, Klieman has won 19 games, and it seemed certain that the ownership question would wind up in the lap of Commissioner K. M. Landis.

Cleveland sold Klieman to Baltimore for $750 last spring. An Oriole-Indian working agreement permits Cleveland to claim two Baltimore players before Aug. 15, with a stipulation that the price of each will not exceed $10,000—mere chicken feed when the Oriole front office starts talking about its star right-hander.

"If Cleveland isn't in on the deal," Manager Tommy Thomas said, "you can bet we'll have a fancy price." Cleveland hasn't said.

And what about $50,000? "Well, that's a good figure to start at," replied the former Chicago White Sox hurler.

Sewell's Slow One Has Lobbed Bucs Into Second Place

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Speed is the essence of American sports so it's something to talk about when slowness makes a champion—as in the case of Truett Banks Sewell of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sewell's inertia isn't of the type that makes most of us miss that 8:15. It has to do with the matter of tossing a spherical object, known as a baseball, the 60 feet from pitcher's box to home plate slower than anybody else in the business.

The Alabama athlete, better known to the trade as "Rip"—and more recently by a lot of other more emphatic names—has mastered this pitch so well that he is credited with single-handedly lifting the Buccaneers into second place in the National league. On the strength of this newly-developed slow one, Sewell at 34 is assured of his best season since coming up to the majors in 1938. His best previous year was last season, when he won 17 and dropped 15, but with the season only slightly more than half over he has won 17 against only two setbacks.

Started As Warmup

Rip was warming up one day late last season, lobbing them up to the plate, when the possibilities of the pitch struck him. And now it's the talk, as well as the despair, of the entire league. Labeled a balloon ball, a butter ball, a blooper—and several unprintable ways—it's the wackiest thing in baseball at present.

Sewell spent hours learning to control it—during spring training. The pitch crawls 15 to 25 feet into the air in an arc that parachutes down through the strike zone in a manner practically impossible to hit. The batter either strains a ligament trying for a "piece" of it or simply stands there open-mouthed and swears it can't be done.

Top Tosser Of Year

But mixed with a respectable fast one, a slider and a sinker, it has made Sewell the top tosser of the year. They get their share of safeties off him but when the chips are down, Rip comes up with the blooper and a change of pace that usually settles the issue. The best evidence is the fact that Sewell has won his last 11 in a row and every time he's scheduled to climb the hill the opposition prays for rain.

The Chicago Cubs have been his chief victim, losing five in a row to Sewell's slants. The last time they nicked him for 11 hits but he still scored a 2 to 1 victory. The Phillies have swung lustily, and uselessly, against him four times, while the Giants, Reds and Dodgers each have fallen twice.

The Braves and Cardinals were the only clubs to beat him this season, each winning one game out of two starts. The Cards belted him for 13 safeties the last time they met—and still Sewell ballooned home a 9 to 5 winner.

Brownies' Rise, Fall Feature In American

St. Louis Team Skids To Seventh

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Messrs. William (I Used to Play for Yale) Cox and Bucky Harris will step into the laundry closet to continue their debate on who is the "All-American jerk," the meeting will take up the rise and fall of the Brownies of St. Louis. Especially the fall.

A couple of weeks ago, they zoomed into the American league's first division and were getting along fine.

Then the bubble busted — and Luke (Laughing Boy) Sewell found there's nothing to laugh about. Or can you see something funny in seventh place?—That's where the Brownies are after having dropped their fifth straight decision. This one was a 4-3 shiner pinned on them by Southpaw Milt Haefner and the Washington Senators last night.

Nats In Virtual Tie

Milt's six-hit win put the Washington's in a virtual second place tie with the Chicago White Sox in the American league, since James Joseph Dykes' Windy City warriors had a lot of the wind taken out of them in Philadelphia. There the Athletics put on a two-run rally in the eighth to take a 5-3 verdict, which left the Nats only one percentage point out of the second slot.

In the only other big league lawn party, Frankie Gustine singled home a ninth-inning marker to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-4 win over the Boston Braves and move the Bucs up to 10 1-2 games away from the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league parade.

The Brownies' five game losing streak isn't even the half of it. They've now blown 12 out of 16 since they hit fourth place on July 17.

Stephens' Batting Slumps

The chief reason the Brownies have come apart is that Vern Stephens' bat has become a bouquet of sweet pats for Susie.

In two weeks, his average has skidded from .336 to .302.

But that's hardly the only ailment.

In that 16-game flop-ola, only three elbowers have managed to go the full nine innings.

Three One-Run Losses

Bot mostly it's not getting on the scoreboard often enough. In their slide, the Browns lost three games by one run and another trio by two tallies.

For comic relief yesterday's leading laugh came when Harris, the deposed manager of the Phillies, announced that, in his opinion, William (I Used to Play for Yale) Cox, the Phils' president, was "the all-American jerk." To which William (I Used to Play for Yale) replied that Bucky must have been looking in the mirror when he made that remark. Bucky, however, claims priorities. He said it first.

Branch's One-Hitter Wins For Baptists

Baptists Tuesday routed 309th 14 to 1 behind a sparkling one-hit game by Pitcher Leeman Branch.

The army team made its lone score on an error. Branch struck out nine.

LAAF sub-depot won its fourth straight victory by trouncing Whiteside Laundry 9 to 4.

A pitchers duel looms Wednesday night when Branch and his fellow-Baptists tangle with Tech Pre-Radars. Branch, who has chunked two no-hit tilts this summer, will be opposing Earl T. Gregory, who also has two no-hitters under his belt.

Jack Chase Annexes California Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — Jack Chase of Walsenburg, Colo., reigned as California middleweight champion today for the second time in three months after an easy victory last night over Archie Moore of St. Louis, in a 15-round bout at civic auditorium. Chase weighed 157½, Moore, 159½.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3. (AP)—Rudy Golomb, former Chicago Cardinals guard who was captured in Tunisia, has written his old employer from a German prison camp asking for cigarets . . . But only nearest of kin are permitted to send packages to war prisoners and the Army and the Red Cross don't tell outsiders the addresses of those relatives . . . So if the nearest of kin will get in touch with the Cards, maybe Rudy will get some smokes.

Rules Announced For Dove Shooting

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—White-wing dove shooting regulations were changed this year in fairness to hunters who do not live in the Rio Grande valley where most of the birds are found, Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game commission, said today.

Some hunters were reported as objecting to the new regulations which provide consecutive day shooting from Sept. 13 through 19, noon to sunset, compared with a staggered season which permitted shooting only on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays last year.

Tucker said he had not received any protests over abandonment of the staggered day system.

"The consecutive days were provided in fairness to hunters from other parts of the state who in the past had to spend three days in the valley to get in two days shooting," Tucker asserted.

The commission also had in mind the visiting hunter when it raised the possession limit of white wings from 10 to 20 this year, Tucker said.

Boxing To Be Started At Bombardier School

BIG SPRING, Aug. 3. (AP)—It won't be long before all the boys at the Big Spring bombardier school will be fighting each other with gloves.

Pitching Earns Yankees' Lead

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Connie Mack, ancient sage of the Philadelphia Athletics, once said that pitching is the corner stone of every truly great baseball team. The current record of the New York Yankees today has made the Shibe park tactician look like a major league oracle.

The Yankees play two games against the Detroit Tigers today—only team to hold a season edge over them. It will be their last appearance at the stadium until they return from their final western trip on Aug. 28.

Lead Is Sure

Regardless of what happens in their twin-bill with Detroit, which has won five out of nine from the Yankees, the Bronx ball club will head west via Philadelphia with a comfortable American league lead built almost solely on good pitching.

Of the 57 games won by the Yankees, 25 have been taken by one-run margins, which in short, adds up to superb pitching and little hitting. They turned back the recent invasion of the western clubs by scoring 10 triumphs in 15 games and, in that stretch, 12 pitchers went the route — nothing too remarkable but still better than anything the remainder of the clubs can show.

No. 1 Fan Makes Self Known In Loud Way

BOSTON, Aug. 3. (AP)—The lady with the big megaphone in the first base stands at Red Sox and Braves games is Mrs. Lillian (Lolly) Hopkins of Providence, R. I., probably the nation's No. 1 woman baseball fan.

For many years now, Lolly has been making her presence known to every one in the parks.

The megaphones—she has three of them, grayish-green, red and blue—were presented to her five years ago by a sporting goods salesman who wanted to "save her voice" after hearing her a few times. There was no saving it—the megaphones only amplified it.

The grayish-green megaphone she uses at Red Sox games, the red one at Braves battles and the blue she reserves for occasional road games she is able to attend in New York and Philadelphia.

Billy Southworth, Jr. Is Awarded DFC

LONDON, Aug. 3 (U.P.) — Capt. Billy Southworth, jr., ball-playing son of the manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross on completing a tour of operations as pilot of the Flying Fortress "Winning Run," the U. S. Army announced today.

His citation said Southworth displayed "great courage and skill and materially aided in the success of each mission." His actions, it said, were "an inspiring example to his fellow fliers."

Aim To Win, Norton Advises Candidates

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 3 (AP)—"Set your goal to win," Coach Homer Norton told 125 Aggie football candidates who reported today.

Practice will be informal, with no uniforms used, no training rules and no excuses from physical training classes until regular practice starts Aug. 20.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—

The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 300 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

ROACH CONTROL

Dear Plainsman: I was interested in the letter from the lady who is bothered with roaches and sympathize with her as I hate them, too. As I have had to move around a good deal with a soldier husband, I have had to fight them many times and wish to pass my remedy on to others.

I use sodium fluoride, sprinkled on cabinet shelves, then put papers over it and also sprinkle it anywhere else that roaches infest. It is very effective and has been recommended by the United States government.

Directions should be read and followed as it is very poisonous and should be kept away from children and pets, but it gets rid of the roaches. It dosn't lose it's strength as so many powders do so can be kept on shelves indefinitely without the bother of changing too often.

It is best to leave it out all of the time in order to keep rid of the little pests.

Thanking you for passing this on.

Mrs. R. T. H.,
Lubbock.

(Dear Mrs. R. T. H.—Thanks for your letter and the prescription for roach control. I am sure it will be helpful to others here. Very truly yours. The Plainsman.)

COMMENTATORS

Dear Plainsman: In your column in the Lubbock Journal in answer to a query from a reader, you discussed the merits and demerits of some of the leading radio commentators and finally selected Gabe Heatter as top man. My wife and I wish to indorse your selection 100 per cent. When a woman comes home from visiting or shopping and looks at the clock and very dejectedly says "We've missed Heatter," you do not have to guess as to her choice of commentators. Wife thinks so little of the crass, egotistical deliverances of Fulton Lewis, jr., that she will not listen to him. In addition to having the best radio voice, Gabe Heatter dramatizes without overstraining for effects what he has to say that you feel as though he were present. Also like the intense humanity of the man.

Would like to see a vote taken in Lubbock somewhat on the order of a Gallup poll by your readers to ascertain their choice of best radio commentator. This could be done by writing to you and naming choice.

Another thing I don't like about Fulton Lewis is that he sets himself up as an authority on pronunciation. Any one who poses as an authority on pronunciation should not say wuz and whut. He is also the person who started the pronunciation of rayshun for rashun. At the first he would have to correct himself. At times he would forget and say rashun. Lots of the little fellows have been copying him in this pronunciation, but every official from the President down who has anything to do with rationing pronounce it rashun.

A Reader.

MISSES LUBBOCK

Dear Plainsman: I guess you will be surprised to hear from me at this time, as I have not been in Lubbock in what seems to me a very long time. I think January 9, 1942, was the last time I was there, but I often think of you and the rest of the people I knew there. My dad at the postoffice sends me your column when you write something he thinks I would enjoy. I look forward to every one of them.

I have been in the Army almost seven months. Have just finished 15 weeks of desert training and they were tough ones. I am expecting a furlough most any time now and hope to get to Lubbock.

Two years ago I was in Miami, Fla., and I happened to see a big street fight between sailors and soldiers. I asked someone how come they were fighting and they said, because they had nothing else to do. I cut this article out of the L. A. Times, by Ernie Pyle. I thought I would pass it on to you to let you know they are celled together now. I had often wondered how they were getting along since we were all in this thing so deep. Ernie Pyle's home is about four blocks from me in Albuquerque, so naturally I watch for his column in the Times.

I must close now before the lights go out.

Sincerely,
Pfc. William C. Barnett, jr.

(P.S. Pfc. means praying for corporal and the $16 extra!)

(Dear Bill: Thanks for your letter. It's good to hear from you, and from all the boys who occasionally drop me a line from their Army and Navy stations around the world. I know where Ernie Pyle's place is in Albuquerque. It's a nice place but Ernie never gets to spend over a couple of weeks per year there. Take care of yourself. The Plainsman.)

ON ROACHES

Dear Plainsman:

A Lubbock friend sent me the clipping about roaches, signed by Mrs. Millie Munson.

You are very lucky not to have roaches and never to have had them. Lubbock is not unusual. Texas is no different from most other states. We all have roaches and they are not a sign of uncleanliness but it is considered unclean to keep them.

There are many species of these pests-German, American, Australian, Orential — most common found in this country.

They are not only destructive, but unsanitary.

Once a house becomes infested its almost necessary to employ the service of an experienced pest control operator to exterminate them. "Putting powder around" is very dangerous as roach powder is usually very poisonous and seldom gives results when used by a householder. Many deaths have occurred from roach powder thus used.

All first class public places such as cafes, hotels, groceries, dairies, bakeries, hospitals, etc., employ professional pest control operators to keep their places clean and sanitary.

Sincerely,
Ada Williams,
Albuquerque.

Lightning Hits Army Plane; 5 Known Dead

MASON CITY, Ia., Aug. 3 (AP)—Lightning today struck an Army two-engine Douglas plane, ripped off one wing and sent at least five men to a fiery death.

Four bodies were pulled from the plane's burned wreckage, and a fifth was found 100 yards away. Searchers said they believed a sixth body remained in the debris.

Lt. Stewart H. Jones, public relations officer at the Sioux City, Ia., air base, said the plane was from Baer Field, Fort Wayne, Ind. Jones said he did not know how many were aboard.

SHOOTING STARS APPEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The annual display of shooting stars in the northeastern skies will reach its peak on the night of August 11-12, the United States Naval observatory reported today. It added, however, that the perseid meteors probably will be seen best on the preceding night from 1 a. m. until dawn. The meteors appear regularly each year. Frequently 30 or more can be seen speeding through the skies in a single hour.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a lot of lies are made necessary by people who will not take "no" for an answer.

Aw, cheer up. Even if it is true that the worst is yet to come, you may not be here when it arrives.

AS everyone knows, there is a manpower shortage in this country.

There is not a business man or farmer in Lubbock, or over the South Plains area, who will not attest that one of his most pressing wartime problems—if not his No. 1 problem—is getting and keeping enough workers on hand to operate his business or farm.

This is true everywhere. The federal government and all its leaders realize the fact. They have even made motions indicating that they might like to do something to remedy the condition.

This nation-wide, war-born manpower shortage attacks not only small and so-called "non-essential" businesses.

As it attacks the farms, it also attacks other endeavors absolutely necessary to the successful prosecution of the war.

Therefore, we believe the rank and file of Americans in general, and of South Plainsmen in particular, will be interested in a situation which bobbed up the other day in Bisbee, Ariz.

OPERATORS of a copper mine—and the production of copper certainly is among the essential businesses of the nation—were ordered by an agency of the U. S. government to discharge between 150 and 160 miners.

There was no question regarding the quality of service these men were giving their employer, or their government, in the mining of copper.

There was no question about the fact that their employer, and their government, needed copper; that mining company would like to have even more workers to mine more copper for essential uses.

These men weren't charged with being disloyal, or treasonable; or as the perpetrators of a crime.

But they were ordered discharged because they hadn't paid their dues—their tribute—to the union which has a contract with the mine operators.

In other words, the government of the United States—supposedly the government of all the people, and not merely the segment of the people who like and believe in unions — told these men they couldn't work; couldn't support themselves and their families; couldn't pay taxes or buy war bonds, because they hadn't paid their union dues!

That's how far things have gone in the U. S. in the unholy political alliance between the President of the United States, the party he heads, and the czars of union labor.

The right of the individual to work—unlike his right to worship, or to speak—as he pleases, is gone for millions. It will be gone for you, too, if the union bosses—backed by the power of the New Deal administration—can put it over.

In short, ugly words:

The New Deal government has traded the authority of the people to the czars of union labor in return for support at the polls.

YOU might mark down, for reference in 1944, just this:

No man can vote for a New Dealer, from Franklin Roosevelt on down, without placing his personal stamp of approval on the principle that a man can be legally forced off a job for declining to cut back part of his earnings to a union.

That's why high-sounding guff about "the four freedoms" falls so flat upon the ears of thinking people.

They can't forget another important "freedom"—freedom from being forced to pay tribute for the right to work in what is supposed to be a free and democratic country.

Let no man blame Franklin Roosevelt, or Murray, or Green, or Lewis, or Tobin, or Hillman—or anybody else for the sad state of affairs regarding democratic rights in this country.

Let no man look further than his own mirror to point the finger of guilt—assuming he is one of the majority who has with his vote aided and abetted the policies of the New Deal government.

If you, as an individual, approve of this sort of thing, all well and good. That's your business and we have elections in this country by which people can register their approval and disapproval.

But if you're one who disapproves, that's something else. And the only way you can do anything about it is by refusing to be bumfuzzled by party labels the next time you enter a polling place.

That Man on Avenue Q says after all is said and done, the best way to stop worrying is to lie down and go to sleep.

THIS may not be a very politic thing to say, but the fact is American women are now keeping themselves attractive through use of a derivative of coal, instead of coloring made from insects.

Dictated by war, rouge and lipstick no longer get their coloring from the tiny cochineal, once scooped up by the millions (it takes 70,000 of 'em to make a pound) in foreign countries. Coal tar, coming from the bowels of the earth, take their places and 250,000 pounds of these dyes now are being used annually by manufacturers of cosmetics.

The content of face powder has been changed, too. High grade talc once available from Italy, France and India, now comes from mines in North and South Carolina.

This domestic talc must be all right. We haven't heard any kicks from the ladies and certainly most of them look as well as they ever did.

OFFHAND OBSERVATIONS: The trouble with growing old is, it seems to take such a short time to do it . . . A working man and his wife should take separate vacations. Then he'll have three: his own, his wife's and the boss' . . . At the rapid rate at which laundry service is becoming overtaxed, there soon will be no white collar class . . . Everybody is lopsided mentally, especially the other fellow . . . Strangely enough, eating bread he didn't earn nearly always causes a person to bellyache . . . The person who is most bored with himself is never-the-less usually delighted when you talk to him about himself.

THOSE who should know, after years of experience in the clouds, say persons whose stomachs are none to strong should never take on stimulants of any kind before getting into an airplane.

Not only included are hard liquor and beer but, in some instances, also coffee and soft drinks containing "lifters" like cafeine.

However, some plane-riders apparently pay little attention to advice, judging from a story that is going the rounds.

A drunk ambled into an airline office and bought a ticket.

"You'd better sober up some before leaving time," warned the clerk.

The drunk drew himself up with as much dignity as he could command.

"Misten, lister," he said, "I've only had tee martoonis, and I'm not as much under the affluence of inkohol as some thinkle may peep. But the drunker I stand here, the longer I get!"

GHOST OF OLD SMOKY

CHAPTER XVII

Inside the bottle there was a liquid known as Old Smoky, a distillation much in vogue along the Brooklyn waterfront. Its effect was not unlike a tap on the jaw from Joe Louis.

The depth charge improved Mr. Slyncniski's outlook vastly. He began bumbling about the grounds of Wildover.

He arrived presently at a peculiar-looking building. Even in the gloom the place had the appearance of an extravaganza in hot dog stands. The structure offered sanctuary from the mild chill of the night. He tried the door. To his gratification, it was unlocked. Mr. Slyncniski entered.

The room in which he stood was well-furnished. There were easy chairs, rugs and, at one side, a bookcase.

Someone, Mr. Slyncniski perceived, had set up a small movie screen. And across the room, on a low table near the bookcase, was a queer-looking cameralike machine. It differed from a camera, however, by virtue of a small set of coils at one side of it.

Mr. Slyncniski was a born tinkerer. Shielding his flashlight with one hand, he advanced to the cameralike arrangement. He twisted a knob here, a gadget there. All at once, the coils gave off a tiny shower of blue sparks. Light appeared on the movie screen. Hastily Mr. Slyncniski turned off the machine.

The simple pleasure of home movies denied him, Mr. Syncniski sank into a chair. But he could not relax. Then, suddenly, he thought of the bookcase.

In the main, Mr. Slyncniski eschewed reading. An occasional dip into Daily Racing Form was enough to satisfy his literary cravings. But now time hung upon his hands. Covering his torch with one great paw so that only a trickle of light emerged, he selected a book at random.

Without glancing at the title, he opened it in the middle and forthwith, laboriously, began to read.

That a manifestation of ectoplasm, a white vaporous substance not unlike mist normally precedes the return of a departed spirit is accepted by the highest authorities.

Many such instances have been recorded. But perhaps the most spectacular of all is the case of Douglas Cotterby, a farmer living near a lonely moor in the west of England.

Douglas Cotterby was alleged to have murdered his wife, Anastasia, with a meat cleaver. But at the local assizes a jury, considering the evidence insufficient, returned a verdict of not guilty. Douglas Cotterby walked out, a free man.

"Beat da rap, huh!" muttered the Cracker, more interested now. He was finding Douglas Cotterby a sympathetic character.

But one stormy might, a year later, as Douglas Cotterby sat before the fire in his isolated farmhouse, he was suddenly afflicted with a weird feeling. It was as if something, a presence, were with him in the room.

"Geez," exclaimed the Cracker, and, unconsciously, he reached up and felt the hair on his own neck. In so doing, he had inadvertedly brushed against a knob on the cameralike machine that stood on the low table. But the Cracker didn't notice. He was enthralled by Douglas Cotterby and somewhat befogged with Old Smoky.

At that juncture the Cracker glanced at the title of the book. Through the barrage of mist that Old Smoky had laid before his eyes, he made out the words: CAN THE DEAD RETURN? The late Mrs. Calvin Meggs, dabbler in spiritualism, had spent many happy hours poring over his volume.

Joe the Cracker shifted uneasily and turned a page. What he read next was not reassuring.

The widows had been closed, against the storm. Yet—incredible circumstance!—one of the long dark curtains was moving, rippling. And suddenly a dry scream tore itself from the back of Douglas Cotterby's throat.

Something white and insubstantial, like a ghostly feeler, was emerging from behind the curtain. It seemed to leap across the room, wavering tenuously in the uncertain light from the fireplace. Douglas Cotterby, his face ghastly, could only watch as, slowly and inexorably, the thing resolved itself into a spectral and reaching hand. . . .

Joe the Cracker gasped, and grabbed for Old Smoky. He took a prodigious drink. But, about to set the bottle down, he paused. His vision was cloudy and his brain slightly benumbed. Even so, he was aware of light in the room, more light than could come from a partially blacked-out pocket torch.

Wonderingly, the Cracker turned his head. The next instant he gave a hoarse yell and leaped up. A spectral hand was reaching toward him.

Like the fabled lotus, Old Smoky had the power to induce forgetfulness. The libations that Mr. Slyncniski had taken had obliterated from his mind all memory of the movie screen; of the camera on the low table. Further, he was quite unaware that his hand had brushed a little knob in the camera and set in operation the working model of a device known as the Terrible Eye. And he could not, of course, have been expected to know that the Terrible Eye, strangely enough, was bringing in a picture of the arm and hand of Miss Meath, stretching snakily for a $40,000 tiara from behind a curtain in the den of Henry L. Channing.

None of this formed part of Mr. Slyncniki's working knowledge. All he knew was that the same thing that had happened to Douglas Cotterby, adept with a meat cleaver, was now happening substantially to him. And there seemed but one thing to do about it. That, in the words of Kipling, was to arise and get hence.

Mr. Slyncniski had already arisen. Now he got hence.

He sailed through the door of the Taj Mahal at a pace that would have shamed a MacMitchell. He skimmed over the grass like an outsize in hedgehopping swallows. He put distance between himself and that ghastly clutching hand. And then, he made a fatal mistake. Like Lot's wife, he turned.

Something white was moving behind him.

Today's Journal Editorial

NO 'WHITEWASH' FOR WAR CRIMINALS

Objections may not be raised if the new Italian government plans, as reported, to try Mussolini and his gang for war crimes against Italy. But certainly, such trials must not be considered dispositions of charges which result from the crimes of those hoodlums against humanity.

Mussolini crimes against Italy do not interest the United Nations greatly. After all, Italians share his guilt. They are war criminals, too. If he was winning, they would be hailing him as a hero.

The masses of the United Nations are interested in the fascist crimes against themselves. They are the crimes for which Musso & co. will have to answer. Repercussions might be violent of the fascist criminals should escape with trials in Italy by Italians—unless, of course, the criminals should be executed there.

Possibly, the United Nations intend to see to it that the criminals are made to answer for their crimes. Still, there are many Italio-American citizens in many of our politically doubtful states. No one knows the lengths to which our national administration might go in its attempts to appease and gain the political support of such voters.

If the administration should attempt to buy Italio-American votes in this manner, then other Americans should see to it that, for every vote so gained, many will be lost by the responsible politicians.

H-Hour Like Watching Tennis Game Played With Red Balls . . .

Everything Just About Perfect On Invasion

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal Roving Correspondent

WITH THE U. S. NAVY IN THE MEDITERRANEAN — (By Wireless—Delayed) — In invasion parlance the day you strike a new country is called D-day and the time you hit the beach is H-hour. In the invasion contingent for which I am a very biased rooster H-hour was set for 2:45 a. m., July 10.

ERNIE PYLE

This was when the first mass assault on the beach was to begin. Actually the paratroopers and Rangers were there several hours before. The other two large American forces which travelled from North Africa in separate units hit the beaches far down to our right about the same time. You could tell when they landed by the shooting during the first hour or so of the assault.

It seemed to me out on our ship that all hell was breaking loose but now that I look back upon it from a firmer foundation, actually knowing what happened, it doesn't seem so very dramatic.

German Guns Fire Faster?

As I've said before most of our special section was fairly easy to take and our naval guns didn't send any fireworks ashore until after daylight. The assault troops did all the preliminary work with rifles, grenades and machine guns. Out on ship we could hear the bop, bop, bop of the machine guns, first short bursts, then long ones.

I don't know whether I heard any Italian ones or not. In Tunisia you could always tell the German machine guns because they fired so much faster than ours but that night all the shooting seemed to be of one tempo, one quality.

Fascinating Sight

NOW and then we could see a red tracer bullet arcing through the darkness and I remember one that must have ricocheted from a rock for suddenly it turned and went straight up into the sky a long way. Now and then there was the quick flash of a hand grenade.

There was no aerial combat during the night and only a few flares shot up from the beach. To be factual, our portion of the night assault on Sicily was far less spectacular than the practice landings I'd seen our troops do back in Algeria.

A more spectacular show was in the sector to our right, some 12 or 15 miles down the beach. There the First Infantry division was having stiff opposition and their naval escort stood off miles from shore and threw steel at the enemy artillery in the hills.

It was the first time I'd ever seen tracer shells used at night in big guns and it was fascinating.

Like Watching Tennis Game

From where we sat it was like watching a tennis game played with red balls except all the balls went in one direction. You would see a golden flash way off in the darkness. Out of the flash would go shooting a tiny red dot. That was the big shell. It covered the first quarter of the total distance almost instantly. Then it would uncannily begin a much slower speed as though it had put on a brake.

There didn't seem to be any tapering down between its high and low speeds. It went from high to low instantly. You'd think it would start arcing downward in its slower speed but instead it amazingly just kept on in an almost flat trajectory as though it were on wheels being propelled along a level road. Finally, after a flight so long you stood unbelieving that a thing could still be in the air it would disappear in a little flash as it hit something on the shore. Long afterwards you'd hear the heavy explosions come rolling across the water.

Everything About Perfect

OUR portion of the American assault went best of all. The First Division on our right had some bitter opposition and the 45th on beyond them had some rough seas and bad beaches. But with us everything was just about perfect.

Our Navy can't be given too much credit for putting the troops ashore the way they did. You can't realize what a nearly impossible task it is to arrive in the dead of night at exactly the right spot with your convoy, feel your way in through the darkness, pick out the very pinpoint of an utterly strange shoreline which you've been told long beforehand to hit, then put your boat safely ashore right there. In our sector every boat hit every beach just right.

They tell me it is the first time in history that it has ever been accomplished. The finest tribute to the Navy's marksmanship came from one soldier who later told this to Maj. Gen. Truscott, his division commander.

"Sir, I took my little black dog with me in my arms and I sure was scared standing in that assault boat. Finally we hit the beach and as we piled out into the water we were worse scared then ever. Then we waded ashore and looked around and there right ahead of me was a white house just where you said it would be and after that I wasn't scared."

War Library Is Open To Public

Several hundred bulletins, pamphlets and books on numerous subjects are now included in the War Information library in the press building at Texas Technological college and are available to schools, service clubs, churches and other organizations and individuals, Cecil Horne, head professor of journalism, announced Tuesday.

The War Information library at Tech was established in 1942 under auspices of the United States Office of Education as one of the key centers in Texas for distribution of information on various subjects related to the war.

Since that time, material has been received from the Office of Education and various government agencies and other sources.

The material may be used in the journalism reading room on the second floor of the press building, open from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 o'clock daily, or may be obtained by mail if the borrower will pay postage both ways.

The material is classified under the following general subjects: American Civil Liberties union, American Library association, American Public Affairs, Australian Information, Belgian Information, Business Education, Britain, Bulletins from Britain, Canada, Child Labor, China, Civilian Defense, Civil Service Work, Czechoslovak Information, Danish Information, Democracy, Domestic Resources and Economics, Education, Federal Agencies and National Defense, Filipino Information, Free French Information, India, International Affairs, International Labour Office, Latin American Relations, Lend-Lease Operations, Negro Race Relations, News Serices, Norwegian Information, Office of Price Administration, Pacific Relations, Polish Information, Post-War Planning, Propaganda, Public Housing, Publications of the National Policy Committee, Religion and the War, Recruiting Material of the Armed Forces, Selective Service, United Nations Information Office, United Nations Review and Inter-Allied Review, U. S. Chamber of Commerce Publications, U. S. Office of Facts and Figures, War Information, War Posters, War Production and Production Management, World Alliance News Letter and Yugoslav Information.

Prof. Horne is chairman of the War Information library committee, other members of which are F. A. Kleinschmidt, Miss Ruth Spalding, Dr. Mina Lamb and Mrs. James G. Allen.

Soviets Advance

pied dozens of communities.

Formidable German forces were stationed below Bolkhov, captured Bastion 32 miles north of Orel, in a dense network of defenses. They bitterly resisted Soviet efforts to seize the Bulkhov-Orel and Bolkhov-Karachev highways.

The Germans threw all available reserves into counter-blows, but finaly yieded to the Red Army pressure and fell back southwestward. It was in that region that the Russians took Znamenskoye, where Red Star said the attack was so unexpected and powerful that the Germans abandoned quantities of vehicles and munitions in their flight.

Gap Is Widened

The fall of Znamenskoye, 27 miles northwest of Orel, opened a wide gap in the German defenses and bared the outskirts of the city itself.

The most effective German resistance was anchored on a knot of fortified villages about nine miles northeast of Orel, constituting the last outer defense line before the city. The Russians stormed the entire line, smashed the first belt, then reduced each village individually.

He declined to discuss a statement by Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee that further drastic increases of individual income taxes might destroy the nation's "little men."

"Of course there's a limit to which you can go without injuring the individual and drying up industry," he said.

Modern China began when Sun Yat Sen in 1911 overthrew the last Manchu emperor.

Produce Market

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 3 (AP) — Produce and poultry unchanged.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP) — Persistent purchasing of wheat today, first by mills and later by interests acting for industries, gave the market a firm tone. Prices advanced initially when buying orders could not be filled until quotations had advanced more than a cent a bushel, and reactions were minor, for most of the session.

Moderate hedge selling was reported on price bulges, but there was no pressure on the market from any source. Trading was rather quiet after the early advance.

Wheat closed firm and ⅝-¾ cent higher than yesterday's finish. September $1.44⅝, oats unchanged to ⅛ up, September 69⅛, and rye ⅛-⅜ advanced, September $1.00⅝-¾.

STOCKS RALLY TODAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP) — Stocks rallied today after some erratic swings in the early part of the session.

Most of the industrial blue chips which were under heavy pressure yesterday showed consistent recovery tendencies, but such groups as steels, rubbers and rails blew hot and cold before joining the upturn. Final hour gains, well distributed in most departments, ranged from fractions to more than a point. Transactions amounted to around 1,200,000 shares.

Among the best gainers near the close were Westinghouse, General Electric, Dupont, Goodyear, Goodrich, Johns-Manville, Douglas, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced here today on trade buying and expectations that the government weekly cotton report will mention storm damage to the Texas crop. Closing prices were steady 30 to 35 cents a bale higher.

May	19.78	19.81	19.78	19.81

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP) — The cotton market marked time today in narrow trade as announcement was awaited on the basic 1943 cotton crop loan and the government weekly weather report tomorrow. Small price fixing and covering were supplied through hedge selling.

Futures closed (old contracts) 9 to 15 cents a bale higher.

	High	Low	Last
Oct.	19.98	19.93	19.96
Dec.	19.81	19.76	19.80

Hamburg Ruins Are Described

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 3 (AP) — An indication of the way in which the wheels of Hamburg's war industry have been halted by the Allied air attacks was given today upon the arrival of the Danish consulate secretary in Copenhagen from the stricken city.

"All obligations to work are suspended at the moment," he said.

Another eyewitness report of the shambles to which Germany's greatest seaport has been reduced was given by a Danish worker quoted in the Svenska Dagbladet, who said:

Saw Only Ruins

"After the attack nothing was the same as before. I saw only ruins. The city was burning everywhere—even the streets. Many persons were as good as naked. Some wore only underclothes.

"Whoever didn't see this devastation can't begin to imagine it. Bodies were lying everywhere and what was worse, almost all had their eyes open. They died from air pressure of giant bombs and their clothes were torn from their bodies."

Merely Clearing Paths

Dispatches from Copenhagen said the Germans were merely clearing paths through the debris-choked streets and that the ruins continued to smoulder.

Meanwhile the German press, as quoted in Swedish dispatches, admitted that "we face the question of whether the German people also are invincible."

Invincibility of Germany on all the war fronts was stressed in this comment.

Hog Breeders' Meet Set In Plainview

A banquet in Hilton hotel in Plainview tonight at 8 o'clock has been called by officials and members of the Panhandle-Plains Poland China Breeders association.

The association is to conduct its first auction sale of registered animals in the dairy barn at Plainview tomorrow. The meeting tonight will be presided over by W. L. Stangel, of Lubbock, as toastmaster. Others from here who will attend are Ray Mowery, also of Tech college, and L. M. Hargrave of Wofforth, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

A number of talks will be heard, and it is understood here that a field representative of the American Poland China Record association will attend and speak. John Adams of Tulia, president of the association, also will have something to say.

Battle For Munda

of the firing of an enemy destroyer, and of a heavy bombing of the Buin-Faisi harbor and the Kahili airdrome, the enemy's major operating base in the Solomons.

Yanks Near Airdrome

The Munda advance, a general movement along the whole line, took the Americans to within at least 1400 yards of the airdrome and may have carried them as close as 700 yards.

Fourteen Lightning fighters, escorting bombers hunting barges along the southern coast of the Huon peninsula, pounced upon an equal number of enemy fighters. Eleven Zeros were shot down in flames. The Lightnings and the bombers all returned to base.

While artillery was pounding Munda airdrome, heavy bombers dropped 84 tons of explosives on the town itself. Numerous fires were started and damage was heavy.

Transport Set Afire

Army and Navy planes joined in a heavy blow at the Buin-Faisi-Kahili triangle. A large freighter-transport was set on fire, many grounded planes were damaged, eight barges sunk and a tanker hit.

A night reconnaissance plane set fire to a Japanese destroyer off New Britain. Australian-manned warplanes destroyed and damaged anti-aircraft positions at Gasmata, New Britain, and attacked barges and jetties along the coast.

Hamburg Hit Again

Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet said Sunday that the devastation wrought in Hamburg had caused more consternation in Berlin than almost any other event of the war.

The British raiders were said to have encountered heavy weather last night and strong anti-aircraft defenses.

While the RAF's heavy bomber crews were resting up yesterday, U. S. medium bombers were busy over France, attacking German airdromes at Merville and St. Omer and returning without loss.

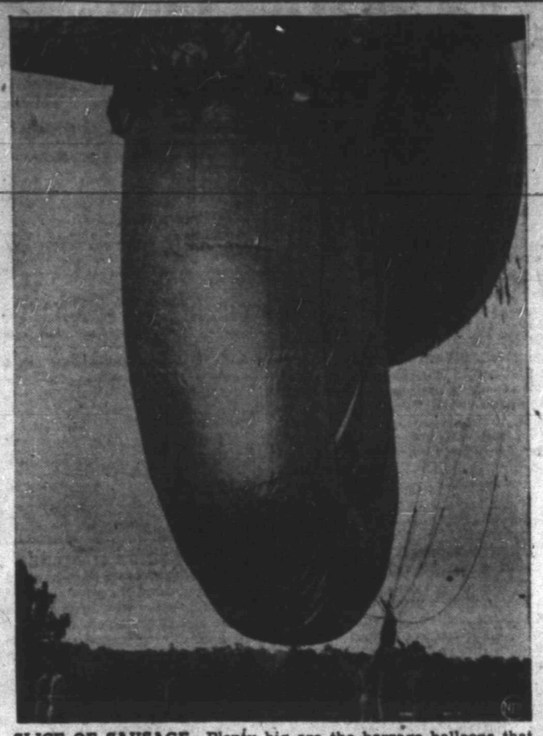

Since a week ago Sunday U. S. medium bombers have been in the air over European targets every day with the exception of one, centering their attentions largely on the chain of fighter bases on which the Germans depend for protection from Allied bombing raids.

Negro Held By Police On Charge Of Forgery

A negro, James W. Dunn, 23, alias C. H. Brown, was held by county officials this afternoon after his arrest by Parum Posey, chief deputy sheriff, on a charge of forgery.

Posey said the negro had made a statement indicating he had scattered five such checks. That in which he was formally named by Burton S. Burks, district attorney, had been signed with the name of R. L. Burdette, prominent Lubbock county farmer and stockman for whom the negro had worked approximately 20 days, Posey said.

The Arctic wolf weighs as much as 175 pounds; the Texas wolf as little as 30.

Brief Bits Of Local News

An appeal for magazines in the downtown billeting office for Lubbock and South Plains Army Air fields was made this morning by Sgt. A. P. Smith, who is in charge. The office is at 1210 Broadway, telephone 4822. Sgt. Smith also asked for additional listings of furnished and unfurnished houses and apartments available for rental to men stationed at the two bases.

Last rites for Charles Stewart, 72, who died at 10 o'clock Sunday morning in St. Mary's hospital, were conducted at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in Plains Funeral home chapel, with Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Interment was in Lubbock cemetery. Mr. Stewart had been living at the Kelly hotel here. He had been a patient in the hospital 11 days.

A purse containing $20 and valuable papers was reported stolen from Violet Baugh of 2116 Thirteenth street, in Mackenzie state park, police said today.

Norman M. Lockhart, 32, of 1713 Twenty-seventh street and Bennett C. Wells, 44, of Lubbock route 5 were drivers of automobiles that were in collision at 8:30 o'clock this morning at Twenty-seventh street and Avenue T, police said.

A window peeper was reported Monday night from 1500-block Avenue M.

Police this morning continued investigation of reports the Homer Ball residence at 2007 Avenue R had been burglarized when Ball and his family were on vacation. Two watches, two fountain pens and a chain were taken, valued at $65.

Firemen this afteroon had been able to advance no theory explaining the loss by fire this morning of a double-garage, wash house and upstairs living quarters at rear of Mrs. J. S. Johnson's residence at 2002 Broadway. There was on insurance. "There was nothing in the garage where firemen said the blaze originated, except an old mattress," Mrs. Johnson said.

Sgt. John Hollyfield and family, of 2202 Sixth street, have returned from vacation spent in San Antonio, Houston and other cities of that section. Miss Dorris Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Arthur of Spur, has returned from vacation spent in her parent's residence and at Waco and Fort Worth. Sgt. Hollyfield and Miss Arthur are employed by the state highway patrol.

equipment—would bring the total to about $3.

Likewise arguing for board approval, George F. Campbell, president of the Illinois Coal Operators association, declared the contract would "bring peace to the industry and will provide more coal to win the war."

Will Enforce Demands

With Lewis sitting at the head of a table facing the board he has frequently criticized as a "court packed against labor," Harris said the miners had prepared and were ready to file suits to enforce their demands for portal-to-portal, or travel time, pay. The litigation, he said, was withheld because of Lewis' desire to obtain a peaceful settlement and restore normal operations in the industry.

"If we could bring peace to the industry, we felt that it would be a genuine public service," he declared.

deciding. This was because he did not wish to jeopardize the success of his plan for shuffling school finances and reducing the general fund deficit.

With full assurance of cooperation from the lawmakers, the session idea might be dropped, he had indicated.

Members of the legislature with whom he had conferred generally favored his proposal which he estimated would reduce the general fund deficit by $7,500,000 a year for the next two years. He said he wanted to consult additional members.

The refinancing of schools would be the principal if not only subject submitted, it was indicated.

The governor made no comment on requests to submit legislation regulating the slaughtering of livestock for human consumption and liberalizing old age assistance.

Axis Line In Sicily Smashed

iately south of Catania.

Underlining Gen. Eisenhower's warning that Italy would be brought under devastating aerial assault, the Italian command reported today that Allied bombers struck again at Naples, Italy's greatest port, and raided other points in southern Italy and Sardinia.

Fires Raging In Oil Field

Meanwhile, first eye-witness accounts of the American raid on Rumania's war-vital oil fields Sunday declared that German and Rumania fire fighting services were battling gigantic fires raging in the entire petroleum area near Ploesti.

On the Italian home front, Premier Badoglio maintained his silent defiance of the Allies' invason warnings, and dispatches from Madrid said there was talk of an impending "peace march" on Rome.

Anti-Fascist forces inside Italy were reported gathering strength to force Badoglio to capitulate.

An Algiers broadcast told the Italian people bluntly that Badoglio was betraying them as they had been betrayed by expriemer Mussolini, and declared: "Our land forces will soon begin an offensive on the Italian mainland."

London dispatches described the new premier as feverishly striving to maintain his government at all costs, telling the Italian people on one hand that he was doing everything in his power to gain a fair peace, and on the other hand issuing veiled threats of continued defiance for consumption abroad.

reason for so great a disparity in our class rates, it would appear that the reason has long since ceased to exist.

"With all of the natural advantages that are ours, our opportunities have been stifled by this barrier."

No Pleasure Driving

The committee—composed of Sens. Clark, Clyde M. Reed, (R., Kan.,) and Kenneth Wherry, (R., Neb.,)—was told by the chief executives and their representatives that the Midwest does no pleasure driving, that its entire gasoline ration is used to carry on its duties in the war picture.

It was told that the agricultural Midwest uses its allotments to maintain its economy, based for the most part on the automobile. But all spokesmen declared the midwest was willing to cut its gasoline use if it could be shown that the Army and Navy needed its supplies.

"Appeasement" of the East, however, drew only the fire of the early witnesses, who included also Kyle B. Williams, representing Gov. Forrest C. Donnell of Missouri; W. J. Holloway, representing Gov. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma; John A. Ainley, speaking for Gov. Dwight Criswold of Nebraska, and E. B. Haedke, representing the Minnesota chief executive.

Read Quotation

Senator Reed occasionally interrupted testimony to read a quotation from the Maloney Senate committee report urging equalization of rations. The statement, spoken with sarcasm, had to do with the need of eastern war workers for gasoline in order to reach cooling beaches and summer resorts.

Clark said, after several witnesses pressed the need for higher crude oil prices, that his committee had recommended such a hike but that it was buried in a "typical governmental piece of buck-passing."

The gasoline phase of the hearing was taken up first, Clark pointed out, because of the "emergency situation."

Karper Tells Of Grain Sorghum

The South Plains would not be here today as a great farming and improved livestock producing area if it had not been for the introduction of sorghum grains, R. E. Karper said today in a talk before Lions at their luncheon in Hilton hotel.

The improvement in the type and quality of these grains began in 1906, Karper said, and through experimental work carried on by the state and by individuals the 15 distinct varieties have been developed for their various uses.

Karper said the grains now have been bred to fit a harvest machine, and in the process the plant has gained many advantages in uniformity of stalk and grain, but has lost most of its foliage. To supplant this loss of foliage he recommended the growing of Sudan grass and other forage crops to supplement the grain.

Another interesting development, more recent than others, he said, is the development, after about 10 years of study and experimenting, of a waxy endosperm sorghum grain which has been bred to the blackhull kafir, that promises a very great increase in use of the grain, provided milling facilities can be provided near enough at hand to produce the finely ground starchy flour which the food, paper, textiles, and glue manufacturers need.

Karper said General Foods Corp. contracted 20,000 acres on the South Plains this year, having bought all the seed, but that crop losses since planting time have reduced this acreage now to about 5,000. He said the company has a representative here, and 30 million pounds of the grain is badly wanted this season.

Inquiries also are coming in from other manufactures in addition to those in food processing, and Karper said if the proper mills can be provided there is no telling to what extent the demand may go for this new grain starch which comes nearer than anything else thus far in taking the place of cassava starch formerly imported from Pacific islands, but all of which, he said, was milled by the Dutch before it was imported to the United States.

Mahon Speaks Today At Optimist Club

"We can glory in the exploits of our men, but we are compelled to understad that we have a long way to go, particularly in the Pacific," Cong. George Mahon said in a address before Lubbock Optimist club members and guests today at the organization's luncheon in Lubbock hotel.

He emphasized that, "We, too, have a part." It would be well, he said, "if Congress, the president, and civilians would ask themselves, 'What would the soldier think?'"

The speaker offered praise both for the fighting men and the home front. "Our country, on the whole, is doing a great job," he said.

He was emphatic in deploring wartime strikes and at the same time offered praise for those who have been loyal. "In looking at the one per cent, we must not disparage the 99 per cent who have been loyal."

The speaker was introduced by J. W. Chapman. O. W. McGuire, club president, presided.

there in ten years and the same figure at Wichita Falls also was a record for the season. Lubbock's 105 was the hottest in three years.

105 At Amarillo

Other high temperatures were Amarillo 105, Fort Worth and Del Rio 104, Brady 103, Dallas 100.

Brownsville and Corpus Christi registered 94, Houston 95, Galveston 89, El Paso 90, Waco 97, and San Antonio 99.

Temperatures not quite so warm were predicted today for the Panhandle and South Plains region of West Texas and for the extreme northwest portion of East Texas, but elsewhere little change was expected.

The first symptom of a cold is a sensation of burning and discomfort in the part affected.

Civilians May Expect Ample Supply Of Wool

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — Barring unforeseen military demands, civilians can expect increased quantities of wool fabrics, but with some of the pre-war variety missing.

Wool manufacturers, the War Production board (WPB) reported today, are sacrificing novelty to step up production of staple items. It's part of the WPB aim to make clothes rationing unnecessary.

Apparel wool output for civilians now is running at an annual rate of 240,000,000 yards, about the same as last year.

Raw wool, no longer on the critical list, is described as in sufficient supply to meet all military and civilian demands.

SUB GETS SHIPS

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The Netherlands government-in-exile announced today that the Dutch submarine Dolfjin had scored a torpedo-hit on a 5,000-ton Axis supply ship and sunk two schooners by gunfire in recent operations in the Mediterreanean.

A recent survey showed that about 70 per cent of the persons with dominant right hands also have dominant right eyes.

Poage Raps Aides Of FDR

WACO, Aug. 3. (AP)—Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex) says "our economy is shaped by those over whom neither Congress nor any one of us has any control."

He made this assertion to a Rotary luncheon yesterday and continued:

Regales FDR's Aides

"Mrs. Roosevelt was never elected to direct racial problems or our domestic economy, but she has assumed that duty. Harry Hopkins—I don't know how he makes a living—is in position at the White House to whisper in the President's ear all suggestions pertaining to our domestic affairs, obsessed in giving directions that are not getting maximum results. Justice Felix Frankfurter is in position to give the President advice on problems that affect every man, woman and child in the United States."

Poage said the beef subsidy had caused a drop in the price paid for livestock and of subsidies in general, he declared.

"If you ever get this thing called subsidies hung around the necks of the American people, you'll never find an administration, Democratic, Republican or Socialist, with nerve enough to strike it out."

Aged Men Die After Unusual Accident

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 3. (AP)—Two 75-year-old men died at a hospital here last night from injuries received when one of them fell from a fifth floor window of a bank building and struck the other.

The Rev. C. E. Moore, pastor emeritus of the First Christian church, fell and hit N. R. Sadler, a retired telephone company lineman.

LAUNCHING IS FRIDAY

TO DISCUSS POLIO

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (AP) — The spread of poliomyelitis in Texas is to be discussed in Austin today by Mrs. G. H. Pittman, state representative of the national foundation for infantile paralysis, Governor Coke Stevenson and Dr. George Cox, state health officer. Mrs. Pittman announced the conference scheduled here yesterday.

A survey of 10,000 rural homes in 33 states showed that 87 per cent of the women on farms never had vacations.

MORCO COTTON HARVESTERS

The C. E. Morris Company thanks the farmers of the South Plains for the fine response they have given the MORCO COTTON HARVESTER.

If you plan to harvest 50 bales of cotton or more this season, it will pay you to investigate the MORCO COTTON HARVESTER as there are only a few left—these will be given as wide distribution as possible over the South Plains to the farmers who have enough cotton to keep the machines busy.

Showdown Likely In European Area

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Fast-moving crisis on all fronts combine to give the impression of a Europe which is rushing headlong for the show-down—not that the end necessarily is imminent but that the final phase of Armageddon is close at hand.

Italian Marshal Badoglio's delay in dealing with the Allied demand for surrender is reported to have given Hitler the opportunity to establish a line of perhaps a quarter million German troops right across northern Italy as a buttress against an Allied drive from the south. The Nazis also are said to have occupied the great port of the Trieste at the head of the Adriatic, thus closing one important gateway to the Balkans.

Move Is Questioned

It isn't clear whether Badoglio connived at this, or whether he was forced into it unwillingly by threats of reprisals against the Italian population by the Nazi war lord.

The fuehrer's move is, of course, purely defensive. He expects the United Nations to overrun the lower two-thirds of the Italian peninsula. However, that no longer is useful to him and he probably doesn't intend to offer much opposition until the enemy reaches his first line of defense, which Madrid reports may be anchored at the naval base of La Spezia on the west coast and run eastward to the Adriatic. That would be about 200 miles north of Rome.

Hitler's main line will be a hundred miles farther north, taking advantage of the strategic fortifications along the River Po. Here he will dispute the Allied rights of way to France, Germany or the Balkans.

To Force Stalemate

The purpose of the Nazi chief's move is to stand the Allies off while he makes final preparations to defend his so-called inner fortress, into which he will retire if the pressure continues as at present. This is the circle within which he proposes to make his last-ditch stand to safeguard the reich and such of the occupied territories as he thinks he can hang onto.

With this concentration of power, and a vast shortening of his now interminable communications, he will battle to force a stalemate.

The all highest's plan is a scheme of desperation. This is emphasized today as the Anglo-American forces race for the coup de grace in Sicily, as the amazing Russians continue their slaughter of Nazis in the fierce Orel offensive, and as the Allied bombers deal crushing blows to great German cities while fear spreads throughout the reich.

THE WINNAH!

LOS ANGELES — "This is Whitey," said a voice on the telephone. "Put $50 to win and $50 to place on Profile in the seventh at Arlington."

District Attorney's Investigator Chet Sharp, who took the call while raiding the bookmaking shop, says Whitey can collect $295—if he'll come to the district attorney's office.

Profile paid $7.60 to win and $4.20 to place.

BEFORE BEDTIME, TOO

SAN FRANCISCO — Contractor Robert McCarty decided to do something to relieve the housing shortage that handicaps servicemen who crowd into the city on week-ends.

So he built an 88-bed dormitory in civic center and gave it to the city.

He began work at 8 a. m. yesterday, finished at 5:30 p. m.

ECONOMIST

SEATTLE, Wash.—A burglar alarm sent eight policemen dashing to Day and Night Safety Vaults, Inc., with firearms ready.

They didn't fire a shot. A vault attendant said he'd turned in the alarm because a man was beating his wife.

The man told police he was beating her because the $1,000 he had placed in the safety box in her name had dwindled to $100.

FRENCH-BUILT HAMBURG IS ALLIED AIR TARGET—Once a city of stately buildings ancient and modern, of proud boulevards, of buys harbor basins teeming with ships a-building and ships a-sailing, Hamburg today has been blasted to rubble, the target of 98 Allied air raids. Ironically, Germany's greatest trade city was fathered by a Frenchman, Charlemagne, who a thousand years ago built a fort at the swampy head of the 75-mile Elbe river estuary where the city now stands. In 1888 Hamburg joined the German customs union and since then the story of German trade has been the story of Hamburg. In 1938 Hitler self-sufficiency shut out most of the nearly 19,000 ships which moored there annually, and the pre-war population of 1,680,000 turned to making warships, U-boats, seaplanes, and explosives instead of hydraulic and electrical machinery, chemicals, furniture, good beer and bad cigars. The short-lived battleship Bismarck was built there, as were the famous liners Bremen, Berengaria, and Europa. Two water taxi-dotted lakes divide the city, with canals that finger its 36 miles of quays giving it a Venetian touch. Industrially, normal Hamburg compares with Brooklyn, N. Y., though a million smaller.

Draft Case Up To High Court

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP) — The Supreme court was asked today to decide whether a draft registrant who claimed to be opposed to war was legally taken into the Army by reading to him the induction oath which he refused to take.

Arthur Goodwyn Billings, a former teacher at the University of Texas, raised this question in seeking review of a ruling by the Tenth Federal circuit court.

The circuit court said military regulations provide that "refusal to take the oath shall not alter in any respect the selected man's obligation to the United States," and that induction of Billings was completed "when the oath was read to him and he was told that he was inducted into the Army."

Billings sought release from military custody at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where he has been confined in the guardhouse for a year, in order to turn himself over to civil authorities "for arrest and imprisonment for refusal to report for induction.'

A write of habeas corpus was denied by the Federal District court for Kansas, andby the circuit court.

Billings said he was denied classification as a conscientious objector by his Ottawa county, Kan. draft board on the ground that his objection to war was "rational rather than religious."

When he reported at Fort Leavenworth for the final physical examination, he said he intended, if he passed, to refuse to be inducted and submit himself to civil authorities.

Instead, he said, the oath was read to him and then he was locked up for court martial on a charge of refusing to obey an order to submit to fingerprinting. Later, he added, he was charged with the additional offense of refusing to load scrap iron.

EDISON COACH NAMED

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 3. (AP)—H. R. Weir, former Charlotte High school coach and brother of W. C. Weir, Schreiner institute mentor, has been named coach of Edison high here, succeeding Joe Ward, who resigned and now is athletic director of the city YMCA. Weir is a graduate of Southwestern university.

Suspect your Eyes!

Your eyes are connected directly with your brain. When they don't see well and easily, when they tire and jitter, their fatigue is communicated to your whole nervous system.

That accounts for much of the nervous exhaustion that shortens working hours and prevents evening recreation.

Why put up with it? Almost all visual defects can be corrected. If you have the slightest suspicion of your eyes, a professional examination and expert eye care are called for at once.
