OPERATION OF CORPORATION SEEN SOON

INCORPORATION LOOMS WITHIN 48 HOURS, BANK HEAD SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Hoover's plan to ease the financial strain on the nation's banks moved swiftly today toward actual operation.

He was informed by Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve bank that the proposed $500,000,000 credit corporation was expected to be incorporated within 48 hours and that details of the completed proposal would be laid before every clearing house and banking group in the country at once.

Operations National

The plans contemplate a director for the institution from each of the twelve federal reserve districts. Its operations will be national and not regional in scope.

Meantime, it was disclosed the plan had been discussed by the president with a group of New York bankers last Sunday night at Secretary Mellon's apartment and that they agreed upon it then.

While the bankers expect to have their organization completed soon it was described as hardly possible to put the plan in operation in that time.

The plan presented by President Hoover to amend the federal reserve act to permit broader classes of paper to be eligible for rediscount at federal reserve banks was said to be designed to replace and take over the work to be carried on by the bankers' organization which was regarded as only a temporary affair.

The form the changes in the federal reserve act will take was described as a question to be determined by congress.

CAMPAIGN FOR VOTES BEGUN

MACDONALD MAKES AN APPEAL OVER RADIO FOR SUPPORT

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 8—Prime Minister MacDonald's radio appeal for support of the national government will be followed tonight by general election manifestos from the conservative chieftain, Stanley Baldwin, and Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of a liberal faction.

David Lloyd George, titular head of the liberal party, is expected to broadcast his views on campaign issues shortly from his sick room in the Surrey hills. Labor's leader, Arthur Henderson, already has sounded the battle cry with the statement "the decaying fabric of capitalism cannot be patched up any further and they must go forward decisively to a socialist society."

MacDonald asked the voters in a nation-wide broadcast last night to elect candidates who would stand by the national government and to give him a mandate "which can be weakened by no faction or opposition, organized or disorganized."

He warned them that failure to do so might in the coming months of uncertainty "involve this country and other nations as well in financial panics, social distress and perhaps even revolution. Your duty is plain—the nation first."

Gas Rate Row May Be Discussed Today

Additional maneuvers in City commission's fight for lower natural gas rates were expected to emerge from a commissioners' meeting this afternoon at City Hall. Mayor J. J. Clements and Acting City Manager W. H Rodgers indicated new developments probably would result from the assembly.

A proposed ordinance which would forbid public speaking on Lubbock streets was to be considered this afternoon.

CONVICTED OF THEFT, MAN SUICIDES

FINANCIER TAKES OWN LIFE AS VERDICT IS RETURNED

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8—A moment after a jury had returned a verdict convicting him of sixteen counts of grand theft and violation of the state corporate securities act, Harry S. McCormack drew a pistol and shot himself to death in court here last night.

The 63-year-old Glendale, Calif., financier was convicted of having handled the affairs of two large finance and real estate companies so as to have caused loss of $345,000 to approximately 200 investors.

Shot Through Heart

As the jury's verdict was read, McCormack arose from his seat at the end of the counsel table, threw back his head, drew the weapon from a coat pocket and fired a shot through his heart. He dropped, dying, at the end of the table.

There was no disorder. Judge Elliott Craig asked jurors and spectators to remain seated. Court attendants quickly removed McCormack to the judge's chamber. He was dead when police and surgeons arrived.

Two envelopes were left on the counsel table by McCormack. One was addressed to the judge and the other a newspaper. The former was empty, but the note in the latter declared the writer guiltless of any attempt to defraud investors.

PEIPING, China, Oct. 8 (AP)—J. G. Thomson, British manager of Peiping-Mukden railroad, reported today that 12 Japanese airplanes had dropped thirty-six bombs on the town of Chinchow, 150 miles south of Mukden, inflicting an undetermined number of casualties.

He said the bombs were directed chiefly at the university buildings which temporarily house the headquarters of the Manchurian provincial government. One bomb was said to have hit a railroad service car and killed two Chinese servants while another struck a locomotive shed. Telegraphic communication with the town was interrupted.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 8 (AP)—The first general snow of the season has fallen in Wyoming and South Dakota.

Man Beaten And Tortured After Being Kidnaped

ST. PAUL STORE PROPRIETOR RELEASED AFTER BEING HELD THREE DAYS BY ABDUCTORS

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Oct. 8.—Tortured and beaten, Morris Rutman, 27, women's dress shop proprietor, was released by his kidnapers early today after being held prisoner three days at a White Bear lake cottage near here.

From a hospital bed where he was taken after making his way home Rutman said a gang of seven men and a woman had poured alcohol over his body then touched matches to it, burning him severely.

They demanded a ransom of $50,000, he said.

Chief of Police Thomas A. Brown said, however, $10,000 was demanded for his freedom but "not one cent was paid."

Friends reported some money had been paid by relatives but this could not be verified.

Rutman was abducted from his home Monday night as he chatted with his wife. A masked man, wielding a pistol, ordered him from the house and forced him into an automobile where, Rutman related today, three other men waited.

They beat him over the head, trussed him with rope, and covered him on the floor of the car with a blanket, he said. As near as he could determine, he was taken to a cottage near White Bear lake, where three more men and a woman waited.

They tortured him when he refused to talk, he said. The woman treated the burns and bandaged his leg and shoulder which were severely burned.

Rutman refused to reveal what arrangements, if any, were made for his release. This kidnaping was the second in less than two weeks here. Leon Gleckman, St. Paul politician and finance company head, having been abducted September 24 and released eight days later. Five of his kidnapers are in jail. A fifth is dead.

MOTHER WEEPS ON STAND

MRS. SYMONS HEARD IN YARBERRY'S TRIAL TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

SINTON, Oct. 8—The frail mother of Dorothy Dorcas Symons, pretty choir singer, wept today under the strain of a severe cross-examination by defense attorneys at the trial of Newton Yarberry on a charge of murder for the girl's death.

Yarberry was accused of taking the life of Dorothy, his 18-year-old sweetheart, whose body was recovered Aug. 1 from a seaweed-strewn grave near the Aransas Pass seawall two days after she disappeared.

Tells of Habits

Mrs. Howard Symons sobbed while defense attorneys asked her about her dead daughter's habits and her last trip from home the night she went to choir practice.

Defense Attorney M. C. Nelson sought to question the association of the girl with a woman at Aransas Pass to whom he referred as "that old woman," and again as "that woman." Mrs. Symons maintained she had no objection to the association, such as it was.

Dorothy, her mother said, smoked cigarets, drank beer, took a drink of wine occasionally. Under the prompting of the defense attorney, Mrs. Symons said she had seen Dorothy take a sip of whisky now and then.

Mrs. Symons, on direct examination, completed her somewhat involved story, begun yesterday, as to how Yarberry and Dorothy were sweethearts. She offered testimony

CAPONE TRIAL UNDER WAY

GOVERNMENT CLAIMS HOODLUM ADMITTED TAX LIABILITIES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—The government attempted to introduce into the records of Al Capone tax trial today a mass of documents purporting to show that the gang chief had admitted a tax liability and attempted to settle with the revenue department.

As the first witness was called and the prosecution asked him to identify one of the documents, defense attorneys announced "this is a line of evidence to which we object strongly and are prepared to argue a point of law." The jury was excused and Assistant U. S. District Attorney Samuel G. Clawson read to the court what he expected to introduce as evidence.

This included the alleged statement by a Capone attorney that the gangster admitted he owed "some tax" and would be willing to settle on the basis of the following income: $26,000 in 1926; $40,000 in 1927; $100,000 in 1928 and $100,000 in 1929. Prior to 1926 the scarfaced big fellow made only $75 a week as an employe of Johnny Torrio, the attorney was quoted as telling the government.

FINESSE IS WORKED AGAINST THREE ROBBERS AT WOMEN'S BRIDGE PARTY

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—When the three robbers who visited Mrs. Anna Jason's bridge party yesterday read about the finesse that was worked against them, they are apt to be somewhat peeved.

Mrs. Jason's twelve women guests were sitting at their bridge tables when the trio entered.

"Put your heads on the tables and no fair peeping," one of the three intruders ordered.

He stood guard over the women while his companions made a futile search of the other rooms of the house for jewelry. During their absence the women furtively slipped off their jeweled rings and concealed them in the folds of their dresses.

When the three were together again in the bridge room they gave an order for the women to raise their hands, but to continue to keep their faces pressed against the tables.

Up went thirteen pairs of hands, unadorned except for wedding rings.

Finessed, they walked out of the house, with only about $70 stolen from the women's handbags.

Edison Survives Restless Night; Holds Strength

AMAZING VITALITY IS SHOWN BY INVENTOR IN LIFE BATTLE

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 8—Thomas A. Edison spent a very restless night but did not appear weaker today, his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, announced in his morning bulletin.

"Mr. Edison passed a very restless night," the bulletin read. "He ate a fair breakfast and does not appear to be weaker than last night. His vitality is amazing."

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 8. (AP)—Thomas Alva Edison grew steadily weaker today while President Hoover and a nation of close friends inquired constantly for any change in his condition.

The 84-year-old inventor was nearer death as the day went on. His physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, said the end was inevitable, as he was unable to take any liquids, by which he might fight the uremic poisoning, swiftly permeating his system.

Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone, close friends and fellow-vacationists of the inventor, telephoned frequent inquiries about his condition.

EDISON ONCE SHOT AT BY POLICEMAN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8. (AP)—Thomas A. Edison, who worked as a telegraph operator here in 1866, was shot at by a policeman and was discharged from his job for puttering with chemicals.

Mrs. Charles Smith, whose husband, now dead, worked with Edison here, told today how the now famous inventor's head was grazed by bullets fired by a policeman suspicious of a bundle Edison was carrying.

The young telegrapher, who was carrying home magazines he had purchased at auction, was startled by bullets whizzing past his head. Turning, he found a belligerent policeman holding a smoking pistol. The officer had ordered him to halt, but Edison was partly deaf and had not heard.

His term of service here was terminated when Edison, who had been granted permission to use the company's small chemical laboratory, spilled sulphuric acid and it leaked through to the office of the manager of the floor below, ruining a desk and carpet.

CARDS ESCAPE ACCIDENT

TRAIN SWITCHED FROM MAIN LINE AS CAR WRECKED; 2 DIE

(By The Associated Press)

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 8.—The special train of the St. Louis baseball team was saved from delay and possible accident last night by a signal towerman who switched it off the main line after an automobile had plunged onto the tracks near here, killing two men and critically injuring a third.

The car left the highway at Paradise, when a tire blew out. Informed of the crash, the towerman threw the block signal lights to "slow" just as the train roared into sight. As the engineer slowed down, the towerman threw a switch, the train went past the wreckage on a parallel track and then was shunted back to the original track without delay.

The dead were identified as Louis Goldstein, 55, and M. M. Beck, 50, both of Pittsburgh. The injured man is Sol Goldstein, 46, a brother of Louis. Police said they had tickets for the sixth game of the world series and were driving to St. Louis to see it.

LUBBOCK FAIR FINANCIAL SUCCESS

ASSOCIATION IS ABLE TO PAY ALL BILLS AND PREMIUMS

The 1931 Panhandle-South Plains fair was a financial success.

That was the announcement made this morning by Homer D. Grant, president of the fair association, following a meeting of the board of directors in the offices of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in which a report of the fair's expenditures and revenues was made.

Everything Paid

"The fair association is able to pay all bills and premiums", President Grant announced. "We won't owe a thing on this year's operations".

All premiums will be paid just as soon as the clerical work can be finished, officials of the association said. Checks will be mailed out to all successful exhibitors as soon as possible. Exhibitors in the livestock and county departments were paid fifty per cent of their premiums last week and checks for the other half are being mailed out today.

The board expressed appreciation for the support given the fair by the citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains and lauded the work of President Grant, Manager A. B. Davis and other officials in the 1931 exposition.

Attendance Smaller

A total of 79,343 people visited the fair grounds during the six days of the exposition. This was 18,683 smaller than last year. In spite of this and the fact that the premium list was larger, the officials were able to "make both ends meet and give the people of the South Plains a creditable fair display", Grant's announcement said.

Board members talked over plans for the 1932 exposition this morning and preliminary plans for a "bigger and better" show will be announced soon, it was learned.

AMOS 'N' ANDY BLAMED FOR PRISON DISTURBANCE AS TIME IS CHANGED

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 8 (AP)—On top of all their other troubles, Amos 'N' Andy today were blamed by federal prison authorities here for a disturbance among the convicts which ceased early today after jeering, catcalling and the smashing of window lights.

Abandonment of daylight saving time was a teammate of the pair in causing the disorder, the authorities said.

Heretofore the prisoners have been permitted to follow the vicissitudes of the proprietors of the Fresh Air Taxi company, which began at 9 p. m. Central Standard time.

However, with the abandonment of daylight saving time in favor of standard, the program does not go on the air until 10 p. m. Central Standard time, forty five minutes after the radio must be shut off in accordance with prison rules.

PRICE FIXING PRIVILEGE RETAINED

WILL ALLOW FARMERS TO WITHHOLD CROP FROM MARKETS

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—The Texas Cotton Cooperative association today announced the creation of a new co-operative pooling plan known as the "suspense pool" in order that growers desiring to temporarily withhold their cotton from an unwilling market might take advantage of co-operative classing yet retain the privilege of fixing the price on their cotton at any time.

General Manager R. J. Murray said many growers are undecided how they wanted their cotton handled by the association, whether in the seasonal pool or in the optional pool, and are, therefore, holding their cotton pending the advent of indications pointing toward a more substantial and steadier market.

To meet that situation the suspense pool was set up, in which cotton may be placed until Dec. 1, at which time conditions should enable the grower to decide whether to sell outright, place it in the optional pool for the remainder of the season or have it transferred to the seasonal pool. Initial advances in the suspense pool, Murray said, would be the same as optional pool advances.

COTTON HOLDING MOVEMENT BEGUN

WACO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Resolutions designed to aid in returning the cotton industry to a normal condition were adopted at a state-wide meeting here yesterday, called by J. E. McDonald, state agricultural commissioner.

Enactment of a federal law prohibiting futures trading in farm products unless the seller actually at the time owned the article.

Appointment of a committee of 18, one from each congressional district, to organize the farmers of Texas and to meet at Waco, October 22.

CANNON PROBE UNDER WAY

POLITICAL ACTIVITIES OF BISHOP BEFORE GRAND JURY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—The political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., today went under grand jury scrutiny.

Just before examination of witnesses began, counsel for the southern clergyman filed a brief with District Attorney Rover Denying there was any legal ground for prosecution.

Former Senator Joseph F. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and E. C. Jameson, New York financier, each of whom contributed thousands to the bishop's anti-Smith work in 1928, headed the 21 persons subpoenaed. Volumes of records on the cleric's financial transactions also have to be studied.

The grand jury will be called upon to decide whether indictments should be returned for violation of the corrupt practices act. The proceedings were ordered after the senate campaign funds committee had taken voluminous testimony on financial transactions by the bishop and his co-workers.

The bishop and Miss Ada L. Burroughs, who assisted him in the anti-Smith work, have declined to testify in the senate's inquiries into that work.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

SUNDAY SCHOOL

ON THE Atlantic coast an adult department rarely exists in the Sunday school, I am told. In the middle west, there are numerous Sunday schools with large attendance by adults.

From the angle of parent education adult classes are indispensable to a good Sunday school. It seems to me that children are really not the most important members of a Sunday school anyway. The parents are, particularly the parents of young children.

In the best Sunday school, children cannot get much religious training. Whether parents know it or not, the child's religious attitudes, whatever they may be, are, for the most part, acquired at home.

Of course, parents concerned about religious nurture of their children can go to church on Sunday to get their spiritual batteries charged for the week. Assuming that these batteries don't run down by having the lights on to omuch or by too frequent starting on cold mor-lights on too much or by too lem for the parents to get their children to ride with them.

To date not much has been given in church sermons to help parents in the happy guidance of their children. Very little, indeed, in adult classes of the Sunday school. Nevertheless, there are scattered signs of a beginning in this direction.

It seems to me the Sunday school offers a rare opportunity for parent education of a most practical sort. Certainly the motive should be there in the parent and the pastor; in them that they might be better parents and in him that his parishioners might prepare themselves to win their children to church membership.

Curiously enough, the average preacher seems to have overlooked the promise in parent education for building of a stronger church. Most have done nothing more than to scold parents when they get a whack at them before some club or P.T.A. Usually the pastor is more discreet when he talks from his pulpit. He hardly is aware then that any parents are in his congregation.

The Parent-Teacher association, whose membership is pretty generally composed of church members, has been leading off in parent education.

Why should the church be so far behind in the movement? One reason, I guess, is to be found in tradition and in the fact that the average preacher all these years has had his attention on immediate soul-saving, in holding and increasing his membership at once, and not in building for the future.

No matter how regularly parents go to church or how demonstrative their religion is at home, their children will want to emulate them in religion only in proportion as they genuinely esteem their parents. In addition to being good and religious, as traditionally understood, parents need to be able to live daily with their children and to guide them with the least possible annoyance to both parents and children and the greatest possible family enjoyment by all.

In the future parents who are concerned about the religious education of their children will not send their children to Sunday school. They will go to Sunday school with their children and they will learn at Suhday school how to be better parents—how to make good religion work at home.

The importance of contrasting blouse and skirt is attested again and again in the new models for the 1931-32 season. Light blue tops with navy skirts and white tops with black skirts are two favorite combinations, but many others are noted.

Even evening frocks use the theme, one charming lace model seen at the Central Park Casino Gala event recently having a surplice camisole top of white lace with a long, slimly full skirt of black lace.

Combinations of materials, too, are unusual this year, one of the more unique being velvet bodices allied to crepe skirts. Cloth and velvet and cloth and satin are other combinations.

Smart and extremely wearable are the dresses pictured mostly of light-weight woolen, but some of silk. All have a touch of color contrast somewhere about them, often in the neckline, sometimes in collar and cuffs.

In all the new fall colors the first dress may be obtained — brown, green, wine or navy. It is fashioned of one of the new woolens, a soft crepe knitted fabric, light in weight. It has a pique collar in diagonal line and closes with three metal buttons, has a seamed hip yoke, two front plaits and one in the back, and is belted.

The second model is a silk with two-toned contrasting bands finishing the neckline and sleeves. The material is brown Canton crepe with cream and green bands. The skirt is seamed diagonally and has a slight flare.

Figure number three, center, wears the hit of the season, the frock with the light top. It is developed in silk with brown skirt with green, rust or beige blouse, or in black skirt with white or French blue blouse. The revers of the blouse match the skirt in color, and the diagonal line of the blouse is trimmed with buttons. The skirt is on a belt and yoke with plaits front and back.

A one-piece jersey dress is next in line. It has an inner, detachable crossed vest of white pique, wide, detachable cuffs also of pique, wide, crushable patent leather belt with ring buckle. The collar is notched and turned back in a narrow revere. A hip yoke gives a slenderizing effect to the skirt, and a group of plaits in front admits fullness.

A coat dress in a soft wool crepe is shown at the extreme right. Diagonal seaming is again used on the skirt, and the collar is made of two tones of ribbed silk.

The bolero jacket has an important place in the season's mode. One treatment of a bolero to be worn over a long sleeved dress is to give it short sleeves instead of three-quarters or sleeveless.

Trimmings consist of cut-out wide suede belts, stitched leather belts, clip pins, lacing and large metal or wooden buttons.

McKEE DENIED REHEARING

CONVICTED SLAYER TO DIE IN CHAIR IF STAY REFUSED

Ira McKee's motion for a rehearing in his conviction for the murder of W. R. Billingsley, Sparenberg merchant, was overruled Wednesday by the state court of criminal appeals and the former Ballinger man must die in the electric chair unless he receives executive clemency. McKee was dealt the death sentence by a Dawson county jury last April.

McKee was convicted of murder in June, 1930. After hearing testimony for several days, the jury required only seven minutes to find a verdict.

Shot After Robbery

Billingsley was shot several times by a man who was attempting to make his getaway after robbing the filling station and cafe owned by Mrs. Mary Bryce and her son. The daughter of the family, just about to enter the cafe, saw her mother and brother standing with uplifted hands while an armed man was taking what money she had. Hurriedly, the girl crossed the street and warned Billingsley of the robbery. He grabbed shotgun and started across the street, arriving at the front of the place as the bandit was about to emerge. The bandit struck him down with a bullet and then fired others into the man's body.

McKee was captured after an extended chase through West Texas after evidence had connected him with the Dawson county visit.

The date for McKee's execution has not been set it was said last night.

RALPH LEWIS IS IN ENGINEERING DEPT. AT THE COLLEGE

Ralph E. Lewis who received a master's degree from the University of Illinois last summer, has joined the mechanical engineering department headed by G. P. Godeke at Texas Technological college. Lewis succeeded Elmer Hall who resigned from an instructorship to take graduate work in the Massachusettes Institute of Technology. Roger Clapp, Elton Smith, and Sam Hooper are assistants in the department here this year.

The engineering school has a decided decreased enrollment this year from last year however the electrical engineering department has a larger enrollment. There are 20 juniors and 13 seniors. The main feature of the department is a new dynammeter set.

The C. E. department's assistants for the fall term are Bernard Dean, Duan Orr, Travis Parker and J. P. Rhuman. The assistants in the drawing department are Frank Hale and W. T. White.

The freshman engineering lecture class will meet for the first time Thursday afternoon and it is very important that all Freshmen attend because one unapproved absence is failure in the course.

Plans World Flight

Aspiring to be the first woman to fly around the world, Edna Mae Cooper, of Los Angeles, former film actress and a prominent aviatrix, plans to do all her land travelling by air while she will ship her plane across the oceans that lie in her path.

DOOLITTLE TO MAKE FLIGHT

DAWN-TO-DUSK HOP TO MEXICO FROM CANADA PLANNED MONDAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Major James Doolittle, speed pilot, has announced plans for a "dawn to dusk" flight Monday connecting the capitals of Canada, the United States and Mexico.

Set for Columbus day, to commemorate the discovery of America the flight will start at Ottawa, include fuel stops at Washington, Birmingham and Corpus Christi, and end in Mexico City.

Doolittle will use the same little racing biplane with which he set a west to east transcontinental record September 4, of 11 hours and 15 minutes.

"Weather permitting," he said, "I will take off from Ottawa at the crack of dawn, and I hope to reach Mexico City in less than 12 hours."

He estimated the flight would cover 2,500 miles, slightly farther than his 2,454 mile transcontinental flight.

Doolittle arrived in Washington this morning by plane and spent the day conferring with state and commerce department and customs officials for clearance over the borders.

If weather does not permit the flight Monday, he said he would make the attempt on the first succeeding day offering good weather conditions.

BANKERS OKEH HOOVER PLAN

ASSOCIATION JOINS HANDS TO AID IN CREDIT PROGRAM

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 8 (AP)—The American Bankers association joined hands with President Hoover yesterday to loosen the estimated $4,000,000,000 in frozen assets throughout the nation.

The association's convention approved the president's proclamation on the subject and voted approval of the words of Vice President Francis H. Sisson of New York, who read it, saying:

"I believe that the plan called for by the foregoing communication is based, as it manfiestly seems to be, upon the considered views and judgment of the nation's banking and business leaders and that it calls for our approval and for the support of the whole banking profession."

Then, in a resolution, the convention said:

Heartily Approved

"We heartily approve the plan of the president of the United States under which a $500,000,000 bank pool is being created for the purpose of meeting the discount demands of bankers who find it advisable in supplying the needs of the public to obtain funds from collateral of a character which, though sound, is not eligible for rediscount directly or indirectly with the federal reserve banks.

"The operation of this pool which would be available for use by all sound banks, both state and national, should immediately remove the restriction upon credit throughout the nation that has been the cause of so much anxiety to bankers and the public and should serve to re-establish confidence throughout the length and breadth of this country."

In other resolutions the association suggested the government immediately begin negotiations toward accomplishing an extension of the international debt moratorium, emphasizing the moratorium should not be cancelled until it is shown "adjusted" payments can be resumed.

ATHLETICS, CARDINALS RETURN TO ST. LOUIS TO END SERIES

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

IF PEPPER MARTIN doesn't get another hit, he is still the hero of the 1931 World Series. He beat the A's almost single handed yesterday, furnishing the offense to make Wild Bill Hallahan's defense stand up. So far it has been pitchers and Pepper Martin against the world champions, and lucky for us Cardinal supporters, Martin is with the National League champions of Sportsman's Park. The former Oklahoma sandlotter may even get a contract for next season.

Martin once played in the old East Texas League with Greenville. Dirty Waller, erstwhile manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, was a member of the team when Pepper played in Texas and Dirty tells us "that Martin kid" was pretty hard to get out then. Remarks were frequently made, half in jest, half seriously, on the Greenville bench that Pepper would be in the big show some day. Pepper laughed it off then, just as he probably is laughing at Grove and Earnshaw and Walberg and Hoyt and Rommel this afternoon as he rides back to St. Louis with the Cardinals.

What struck us as being dumb baseball was played by the Cardinals yesterday in the fourth inning. They had a one-run lead but one run is not much when there are six innings coming up, and particularly in a World Series. Martin singled as he came up first in the fourth and Hafey went down swinging. Then Bottomley singled, Martin going to third. It was a fine time for a squeeze play, from all appearances, but Wilson, Card catcher, who is not the leading hitter in the senior league, tried to hit rather than sacrifice. He hit into a double play. As the game finally turned out, the Cards had nothing for which to feel sorry, but it strikes us that it would have been smarter baseball to try to score. Runs, according to the rules, are what determine victories in baseball games.

Aha! Now we know why Oklahoma didn't beat Rice any worse than 19 to 6 last Saturday. (That was about 14 points too much for us) The Sooners fumbled too frequently. And do you know why they fumbled? Simply because the football was pumped up too tightly and because the center put too much stuff on the snap-back. Like Lefty Grove, as it were. At least that's the alibi sent out to all the world by the Sooner athletic publicity department.

A dark cloud is slowly but surely gathering around the Texas Tech Matadors as they click off the practice hours before playing their next game. Early next week they go, cloud and all, to Dallas, where it is hoped they will let burst a storm of pent up fury upon the Indians of Haskell Institute. The game next Tuesday at the State Fair Park bowl is due to be one of the most colorful in which the Matadors have ever engaged. A local railway company is offering attractive round trip rates to Dallas for the game and it wou'd behoove the true Matador supporter to board the special train which pulls out Monday evening and be with the gang in the big bowl at Dallas. You can spend the morning looking over the fair grounds, but be sure you keep enough in the sock to pay for a ticket to the ball game.

Among the major league records created this year was one of 195 double plays by the Cincinnati Reds. A glance at the Reds' standing at the end of the campaign would indicate that they did not enact any of those double plays with men on the bases.

LUBBOCK FACES SLATON HERE FRIDAY

MARTIN GIVEN CREDIT FOR CARD LEAD

A'S ARE CONFIDENT EARNSHAW WILL SAVE SERIES

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

ABOARD THE CARDINALS SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8 (AP)—The one man show that is the world series of 1931 moved westward out of American league territory today and into the land of the St. Louis Cardinals, practically the personal property of John Leonard "Pepper" Martin.

Never in all world series history has a single individual so taken unto his own eager, irrepressible self a drama of the magnitude of this world series struggle of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Red Birds from the banks of the Mississippi.

Martin Given Credit

Five games have flowed under the baseball bridges since the World Champion Athletics, overwhelming favorites to win their third straight crown and set a new record for series conquests, tangled for the first time with the National league champions just a week ago in St. Louis. Today, as the series sped westward, the Cardinals lead three to two in games and restlessly waiting to administer the coup de grace is the same "Pepper" Martin, just about the cause of it all.

There has been pitching by the big moose of the Athletics, George Earnshaw, that for studied, painstaking brilliance has never been surpassed in these annual interleague struggles. The great warrior of the game, snarling, bitter, uncompromising Burleigh Grimes, hurled another two hit masterpiece. And Wild Bill Hallahan, a superb little left hander, round of face and frail of body, twice has conquered the champions of the world, once without a run, allowing only three hits, and again yesterday, 5 to 1.

Pepper Holds Spotlight

These are prodigous world series feats and more amazing they came in succession. Yet the wonder of them fades and all the glory that would be theirs alone if it were not for this same Pepper Martin pales in the brilliance of the wild wahoo from Oklahoma.

Singlehanded he has won two of the three games that now belong to the Cardinals.

All told Pepper has driven in five runs, scored five himself, hit for a total of 19 bases and a grand average of .667 for the world series so far.

EARNSHAW MAY START FRIDAY, SATURDAY

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

EN ROUTE TO ST. LOUIS WITH ATHLETICS, Oct. 8 (AP)—The World Champion Athletics sped westward today for the concluding world series drama, looking and acting like anything but a club possibly on the verge of being shorn of its's title.

They must win the sixth game tomorrow at St. Louis to prolong the fight but they are already talking about the fun they will have with the Cardinals in the seventh and deciding contest. To a man they consider the sixth game and another deadlock theirs for the simple reason they do not see how George Livingston Earnshaw can lose.

Mack Confident

Connie Mack smiles and says "yes, I have a lot of confidence in George." The players think Earnshaw certainly will pitch Friday and if he wins, they regard it likely the famous right-hander will start the seventh game Saturday, with Lefty Grove in reserve both days.

"The way I look at it," said Mickey Cochrane today. "Earnshaw has shown he can over-power the Cards—that is, all but this Martin. He has shown he can do the iron man stunt. He told me yesterday he felt like pitching. He pitched successive games in both the 1929 and 1930 series with only a day in between."

You hear plenty about a young gent named Martin in the gabfests of the world champions.

"When Martin came to bat about the third time yesterday," remarked Cochrane, "I said to him: 'Say, kid, don't you ever pop out?' He came right back: 'I'm just in there swinging and getting the breaks'."

It is a new experience for the A's—this business of being raided, harrassed and generally made to appear a trifle foolish by a rookie—but it has gone far enough now so that they can laugh about the sheer audacity and brilliance of the Cardinal outfielder. There may be a bit of worry behind the laughs but the A's have the gallantry to take their hats off to a youngster able to come through as Martin has done with every resource of a great team and famous manager put against him.

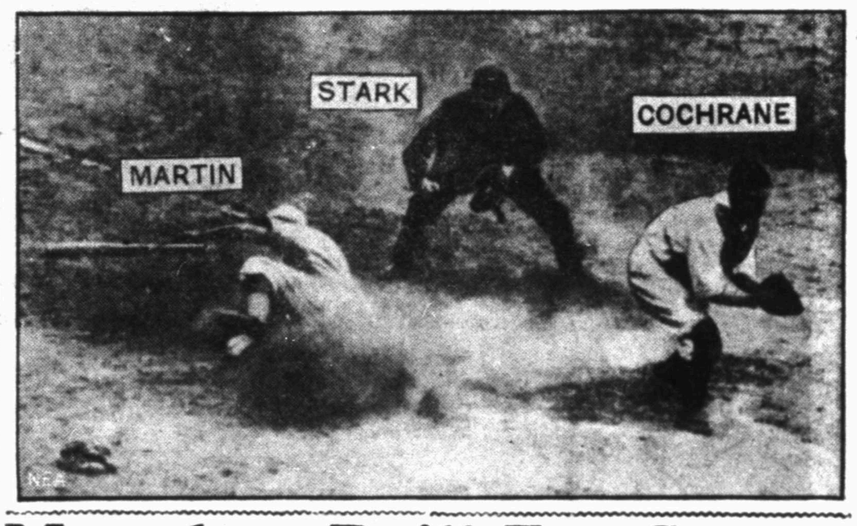

"I don't know how to stop him," admitted Cochrane. "He has hit everything we have tried against him, high or low, fireballs or slowballs."

New buildings in Birmingham, Ala., constructed during the fiscal year ending August 31, cost $2,470,000.

AS PEPPER MARTIN SCORED IN THIRD GAME

Retaining his place in the spotlight of world series fame, John (Pepper) Martin, fleet Cardinal baserunner, is shown here scoring from second on Grimes' single in the fourth inning of the third game of the 1931 baseball classic, at Philadelphia. Martin came in so fast that he almost overtook Hafey, who was on third, in the race for the plate. Catcher Cochrane of the Athletics is shown just as he received the ball, with Umpire Stark watching the play.

Sun Beau To Face Final Race Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Sun Beau, the money winning champion thoroughbred of all time faced the final race of his long career today in the $25,000 added Hawthorne gold cup, and sought to say adieu with a third straight victory in the rich event.

For one of the few times since he became the country's greatest handicap performer, however, the son of Sun Briar-Beautiful Lady, was not the overnight favorite. The handicappers figured A. C. Bostwick's Mate, the technical three-year-old champion of the season, as a better bet over the mile and a quarter journey. Mate was quoted at 6 to 5, while the figure on Sun Beau was 8 to 5.

Sun Beau won the cup in 1929 and 1930, setting the record of 2 01 3-5 in his first victory.

Building of a railway to the top of Ben Nevis, Scotland's highest mountain, is being urged.

FATALLY INJURED

LONGVIEW, Oct. 8 (AP)—L. A. Grim, 23, contractor, died here last night, shortly after being struck by an automobile near Willow Springs. Grim had just stepped from a truck.

COACHES ARE PLEASED WITH PRACTICE FOR GAME AT DALLAS

Apparently pleased with what they characterize "the most sincere work and attitude shown this year" by their Matadors, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutch Smith of the Tech staff are taking advantage of the attitude to get in a lot of hard work this week on defensive principles which shall come into use next Tuesday when the Matadors face the Haskell Indians of Kansas in a feature grid game at the Dallas state fair.

While most of the practice this week hinges about the perfection of a defense tended to stop the shivvering line smashes of Fullback Walter Johnson and Halfback Louis (Little Rabbit) Weller of the Indians, there is also time for brushing up on offense. Tuesday's game will see the famed Warner double wing-back system as featured by Lone Star Dietz Indians against the popular Rockne shift style used by the Tech coaches.

"Stop Weller"

"Stop Louis Weller" is the warcry on the Tech field this week second to none, because if Weller is stopped successfully, it will be easier to stop the rest of the Indian crew. Truett Owens and Bennie McWilliams, outstanding tackles on the Matador club, each tipping the beam at 200 pounds and a bit above, face one of the toughest assignments in their young lives when they attempt to stop the line plunges and off-tackle thrusts of Weller and Johnson. It is up to these big sophomores to bear the brunt of line defense, to rip and tear the forward wall of Haskell's Tribe.

Shorty France and Harrold Crites are spending much of their time in punting, for it takes well-placed and long-distance punts, as well as good blocking and swift tackling, to keep "The Rabbit" from returning them for touchdowns. France and Crites are aiming for the sidelines near the goal line with their toes this week. Smith, who scouted the K. U.-Haskell game last week, says that either France or Crites can punt as well as Johnson of Haskell, but that Weller beats anything on the Tech field in running back punts.

Durham Back At Work

Captain Jack Durham, who has been on the sick list since the season started, probably will be ready to go against Haskell. His spirit and his enthusiasm, as well as his work, this week is one of the most pleasing incidents to Coaches Cawthon and Smith. Durham, captaining the Matadors for the second consecutive year, will play at the guard position this season. His blocking and tackling, his aggressive spirit and his charging is counted upon as a valuable asset to the Tech crew.

Slick Close, the recruit from Wayland College, is showing a lot of stuff this week and may get the call over O'Leary or France in the Haskell game. An injury suffered by Carl McAdams, second quarterback, has given Close an opportunity to get in a lot of valuable work at quarterback position. As things now stand, however, Jim O'Leary will get that call, with Crites and France at halves and Yancy Price at fullback.

HARD GAME IS EXPECTED BY WESTERNERS

TIGER TILT TO OPEN CONFERENCE FIGHT FOR LOCAL TEAM

There is no foolishment to the story that the Lubbock High school Westerners are pointing, have been pointing for a week or more, to the game tomorrow night with the Slaton High school Tigers. For two reasons the practice has been tough this week. That Slaton always plays its hardest against Lubbock is no secret here, though not many of the present Westerners have appeared against the neighboring Tigers. Since the game sees the opening of the championship season is another reason for the extensive preparation.

The game will start tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock on the Tech field. There is every indication that the contest will be handled as smoothly and as swiftly as the first night game with the Woodrow Wilson Wildcats of Dallas, what with attempts on the part of coaches and officials to keep things moving. The Dallas game has drawn much favorable comment from fans because of it's swiftness. There was not a lagging moment in the game.

Practice At Tech

In order to toughen his charges a bit and give them work against strong opposition, Coach Weldon Chapman, at the invitation of Pete Cawthon of Tech, took the Westerners to Matador Field yesterday and sent them into a scrimmage against Cawthon's varsity men. Since Chapman employs the Warner double wing-back and C-formation in his offense and since that is the style the Matadors will face next Tuesday against the Haskell Indians at Dallas, the workout yesterday was profitable to both sides. Especially did the Westerners benefit, because they had the opportunity to brush up on their offensive plays against overwhelming opposition.

With the exception of minor bruises and scratches, the Westerners will be in top form tomorrow night to open the district 1 championship race against the Slaton Tigers. Gene Barnett, fullback, has been ailing a bit with a slight knee injury and others of the squad have sustained lesser injuries in practice and in the Lamesa game. Coach Chapman said last night he expected his best eleven to be ready for the battle.

The Westerner mentor probably will start Barnett at full, O. H. Britton at quarter, Mack Scoggin and Cecil Merrill at half back posts tomorrow night. The line will consist of the usual seven men, Dalton Blagg and Will Ed Watson at ends, Rosser Abbott and Bert Williams at tackles, Melvin Griggs and Cotton Welch at guards and Captain Bob Crawford at center. Bill Davidson will be ready to go in at one of the halfback positions when the Westerners start their aerial game, and Coach Chapman maintains that they will use the ether waves a great deal of the time.

Reports from Slaton indicate that the Tigers are to be in top form when they get here for the game, and with past records to consider, the game should be a battle all the way through. Slaton is due to play its hardest against Lubbock. When the team was in the Class B division it always gave Lubbock one of its hardest tussles. The last game was played in 1929, resulting in a victory by a single touchdown for the locals.

Slaton will be well represented by its football rooters, indications show. The highway will be kept hot Friday afternoon with incoming traffic as the Santa Fe town moves to the Lubbock capital. Banners are waving, posters are out and there is an air of holiday over the smaller city.

LONGHORN HOPES DIMMED BY INJURY TO BAUMGARTEN AND THE RETURN OF BERT MUELLER TO RICE OWLS LINEUP

(By The Associated Press)

The best news to greet Rice Institute football players came yesterday when Bert Mueller, brilliant halfback, reported for practice. He will play against the University of Texas at Austin Saturday in Rice's initial 1931 Southwest conference game.

Mueller did not play last week against Oklahoma because of an injured leg. Rice drilled on vicious tackling and blocking yesterday. The full squad of sixty players will make the trip to Austin.

Where good news greeted Rice, it was the reverse at the University of Texas. Maurice Baumgarten, captain and guard, will not start against Rice. Baumgarten received torn knee ligaments last week against Missouri. Texas continues to polish off rough edges of its running attack.

With Bob Gilbert, regular quarterback, on the sideline with an injured heel, Southern Methodist will be off for Fayetteville and their first Southwest conference game this season. Confident its forward pass defense will stop Southern Methodist, Arkansas drilled yesterday to perfect a running attack.

With Willis Nolan, first string Texas A. and M. center, suffering from injuries, Coach Bell plans to switch his lineup for the University of Iowa game in Dallas. Earl Rudder probably will replace Nolan.

Baylor, following yesterday's workout, announced it was ready for Centenary college Saturday at Shreveport. Texas Christian regulars are not expected to see much service against Austin college Saturday at Fort Worth.

Hull, England, has just opened its new $1,300,000 North bridge.

DEATHBED STATEMENT IS INTRODUCED IN MURDER TRIAL

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 8 (AP)—Introduction of a deathbed statement by William E. Johns, motorcycle officer, featured the opening day of the trial of Frank Bracken, charged here with the murder of Johns. The officer was shot July 24 and died August 2.

The statement, which related circumstances of the shooting on the streets of Gainesville in which Johns and Walter Clements, city fire marshal, were killed was introduced over objections of the defense. The document was signed by Johns in pencil.

In his statement Johns said he and Clements received a call that Bracken had been trying to get into a negro's house with a shotgun. Through unable to find Bracken at the time they located his automobile and took a shotgun from the machine. Later they arrested Bracken, who was drunk, according to Johns' statement.

The statement continued that on release from jail Bracken insisted the gun be put back in his car. The officers offered him his gun two or three times but he refused to take it, insisting it be returned from where it had been taken. Later, Johns related in his statement, he was driving along the street when he heard shots nearby. Turning he saw Clements sinking to the ground, firing his gun as he fell. Bracken then turned toward him and started to fire. In the meantime Johns said he had been loading his empty gun.

Johns concluded his statement by saying one of Bracken's shots struck him in the side and he fell to the street.

Bracken has been indicted also on the charge of murder of Clements but date of trial has not been set.

Back seat driving is done by telephone in the world's largest road vehicle, pictured here. There's a communication line connecting the drivers in the front and back of the colossal truck. Capable of carrying a 100-ton bulk load, this mammoth transporter, developed in England, has fourteen wheels and the load is always evenly distributed between the axles. There's no possibility that the vehicle will be helpless if its driving wheels sink into a soft spot in the road, for provision has been made for lifting the driving wheels of the motive unit clear of the ground, so that steel plates can be placed under them. There is a steering gear for the rear carrier wheels.

SHEPARD PLEA IS GRANTED

CONVICTED SLAYER TO CARRY HIS CASE TO HIGHER COURTS

DENVER, Oct. 8 (AP)—Pleading he is a pauper without funds to carry on an appeal, Major Charles A. Shepard, Fitzsimons hospital army surgeon convicted of the murder of his wife, asked the federal government to finance his case in a higher court.

Judges of the United States circuit court granted the surgeon's plea.

Shepard was convicted of murder following death of his wife at Fort Riley, Kas., in 1929.

Friends and relatives already have exhausted their funds on his behalf, he set forth, adding he has no property or income except his salary as an army officer of the United States army. This salary, it was stated, is pledged for more than a year to come for expense already incurred.

Major Shepard, who is at liberty on bail and is on duty at Fitzsimons general hospital here, was accused of slaying his wife by poison because of an infatuation for Miss Grace Brandon, a stenographer at Brooks field, San Antonio. Numerous letters exchanged between Miss Brandon and Major Shepard were read during the trial.

TRAFFIC PATROL IS IN OPERATION

A schoolboy traffic patrol is in operation at each Lubbock public school, Jack Douglas, general manager of the South Plains Automobile club, said Wednesday.

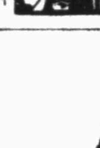

Billy Crenshaw, president of the student good citizenship club at the high school, is helping organize the high school, patrol.

The boys are to aid in the dismissal of schools, directing children across the streets where traffic is thickest. Each member of the patrols is designated by a white belt and badge and motorists are being asked to cooperate with the youngsters in seeing that more care is paid to driving in the school zones.

A careful watch should be made by drivers at all intersections near schools to see that no children are in the streets or are about to cross, Douglas pointed out in announcing a drive for safety observance among drivers here.

After lifting a heavy safe through the fanlight of a baker's shop in Covent Garden, England, and opening it in a field several miles away, thieves found only $15.

Tell Long Distance: "I want New York, Main 4097," or "I'll talk to anyone who answers at the home of (name and address of your friends)."

Usually the operator gets them while you hold the line. It takes less than 2 minutes to complete the average long distance call and you'll hear them as clearly as though they were across the street.

Low rates at night

After 8:30 p. m. station-to-station calls (when you call a telephone rather than a specific person) usually cost little more than half the day rate.

You save money placing station-to-station calls after 8:30 when you're reasonably sure the person you want is near the called telephone.

For example: three-minute visits after 8:30 p. m. station-to-station

Live with relatives?

If you do, have your name listed in the directory with their telephone number so friends can reach you easily. Ask for an additional directory listing. Cost . . . 25 cents a month.

Your line busy?

With an individual line, your telephone never will be in use except when you or some member of your family is using it. Privacy is assured. Costs slightly more than party-line service.

Hearing impaired?

An amplifying set helps many who hear with difficulty. The amplifier is cut off with a key when others use the telephone. Demonstration free. Cost . . . $2 a month additional.

Miss important calls?

You can hear the telephone ring easily, if you have an "extension gong" in the basement, or near the back of the house. They cost little.

Talk in privacy

A "cut-off key," for those with more than one telephone, "cuts off" one telephone while you talk in privacy over the other. It also silences upstairs telephone bells during afternoon naps.

6 reasons for having a Telephone

The best reason for having a telephone, as one telephone user says, is not having one. Consider the many things a telephone does for you:

1. Brings the grocery boy . . . when the weather is bad outside . . . when you've forgotten something . . . when you're tired.
2. Breaks the monotony of long afternoons, when you visit with friends and relatives.
3. Puts your name in the telephone book to direct friends to your home.
4. Gets the doctor quickly when there's illness in the family.
5. Tells out-of-town friends about the baby, about sickness, about having fried chicken when you drive up this week-end.
6. Tells police there's a burglar in the house . . . firemen there's a blaze in the basement.

You feel much safer with an extension telephone at your bedside. Especially when you're alone at night. And the bedside telephone is a comfort when you nap in the afternoon, when you decide to sleep late mornings, when you're ill for a few days.

An extension in the kitchen or living room is a step saver, too.

Or, you may prefer the portable telephone. It plugs into a socket at convenient locations, like a lamp.

WCTU HEAD IS REELECTED

MRS. CLAUDE DE VAN WATTS AGAIN NAMED TEXAS PRESIDENT

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. (AP)—Mrs. Claude De Van Watts of Austin, president of the Texas W. C. T. U. for the past nine years, was reelected by a large majority by the 50th convention here yesterday.

All other officers were reelected. They were: Mrs. J. B. Ammerman of Fort Worth, vice president; Mrs. Eula Twichell of Austin, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Lawson of Ennis, recording secretary, and Mrs. Francis Dean of Dallas, treasurer.

The convention ends today with selection of a host city for next year and a tea at the governor's mansion with Mrs. R. S. Sterling as hostess.

Judge W. Erskine Williams of Fort Worth, president of the board of managers of the Texas Anti-Saloon league and vice president of the American Bar association for Texas, scored epots that the American Bar association had endorsed repeal of the 18th amendment at its recent national convention.

Judge Williams asserted the lawyers took no affirmative action relative to the prohibition question and the only "prohibition vote" was the report read by the secretary concerning a mail ballot taken the year before.

Judge Williams also scored newspapers in general and the New York Times in particular for what he termed "distortion of the news in headlines."

COSMOPOLITAN HAT

LOS ANGELES—The most traveled hat in the world has just made its second appearance in this city. It is an old battered derby which an express clerk tagged and started on its voyage around the world. Express tags show that it has been in every state of the Union, Canada, and has crossed both the Atlantic and Pacific.

BULK OF SIR THOMAS LIPTON ESTATE GIVEN TO SICK, NEEDY OF ENGLAND

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 8. (AP)—The money of every land which came to Sir Thomas Lipton in exchange for his tea and other commodities was passed on to the sick and needy today by his will, which was read by the executors a few minutes after his body was lowered into the grave.

The bulk of his estate, which is estimated to exceed 1,000,000 pounds goes to hospitals, infirmaries and old men's homes and to London and Middlesex charities. By today's London exchange rate, 1,000,000 pounds is about $3,910,000.

Sir Thomas never married and had no immediate relatives to remember, but there were several requests to members of his domestic staff, including John and Shamrock, the Singhalese servants who always were with him.

The gold loving cup presented to Sir Thomas by the people of the United States after his last unsuccesful attempt to win the America's cup, was left to the New York Yacht club.

"I would like to add a personal note that they are the very best of sportsmen and I appreciate very much the many kindnesses shown me by them," the will said.

Milling Plant To Be Installed Here

Production and marketing of corn meal from Lubbock's first corn meal milling plant will begin in about three weeks, W. W. Lam, head of the new organization, said. The Lubbock Grain and Feed company has bought machinery for the plant.

Grinding equipment to be installed will produce both corn meal and whole wheat flour, Mr. Lam said. Corn meal milled in the plant will be marketed over a wide territory under the Diamond Dot trade mark of the Lubbock Grain and Feed company.

The plant will produce a local market for corn in this area, according to Mr. Lam, who said corn of proper quality and in sufficient quantities is raised in the territory surrounding Lubbock.

Quentin Bellomy, an experienced miller from Littlefield, will be associated with Mr. Lam in the new project.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Two members of the knot-hole gang were watching a baseball game free through holes in the park fence. Not content with their vision, they cut a huge hole in the fence just as Sergt. Farm Board Support Given By Farmers

In meetings at Lamesa and Tahoka, Wednesday afternoon and night, 250 Dawson and Lynn county farmers unanimously resolved to continue support of the federal farm board, the agricultural marketing act and the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

The meetings were held under sponsorship of the cooperative association, the principal address being made by B. S. Burgess, field service director. Burgess urged farmers to hold their cotton, either by putting it in the various pools of the association, in warehouses or keeping it on their farms.

FARMER SUICIDES IN LIQUOR RAID

WACO, Oct. 8 (AP)—John Mikeska, young farmer near here, committed suicide Wednesday shortly after being arrested by federal prohibition agents in a liquor raid. Officials reported two barrels of mash were found in his home.

Mikeska had been allowed to enter his home to change his clothes. As officers waited on the porch they heard a gun report. They found Mikeska wounded and after an examination started to summon a doctor, they testified at the inquest. Before they had left the yard another shot sounded. On returning they found Mikeska dead.

Justice of the Peace S. W. Janek returned a verdict of suicide.

Selling Cigarets To Minors Flayed

Lubbock merchants were asked by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, Wednesday, to exercise more care in selling cigarets to minors. The county attorney said several mothers of schoolboys had complained that their sons were being sold cigarets.

"Under the state statutes, it is a violation of the law to sell cigarets or tobaccos to any person under 16 years of age unless the minor has written permission from his parents or guardian," Wilson said. "Merchants who violate this law are subject to a $100 fine."

"Hereafter, complaint will be filed when parents complain of this condition," he said.

He had to be patched up in a hospital.

Excel in Speed—and Looks

The girl's relay team of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, in speed trials on the Long Beach, Calif., outdoor swimming course, created a new American record for the 400 metre relay, navigating it in 4 minutes, 54 seconds. ANNUAL TWO-DAY TECH AGGIE RODEO WILL BEGIN TOMORROW; THRILLS SEEN Individual, team novelty, and special class events are on the program announced for the 1931 Aggie rodeo at Texas Technological college. The two-day slate of range sports will begin Friday and bucking horses, bawling calves, and youthful collegians turned buckaroos will be in an arena on the Matador campus.

Coronation of Miss Virginia Wester, 16, a graduate of Las Vegas High school and a freshman in agriculture, as la Reina del Rodeo will open the two-day event at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. B. E. Snyder, rodeo manager, of Moran, has announced.

A mounted parade of contestants, steer riding, calf roping, and broncho riding will be conducted each day. The three events are open to individual students. A women's riding contest, open to students in college riding classes, will be held each day. Liberal arts and engineering teams will meet in a musical chair contest Friday, a mounted wrestling match and a quick change race Saturday.

Saturday afternoon's program will be preceded by a parade of performers through the downtown district and will begin at 2:30 o'clock with a parade of college livestock in the arena.

Farmers To Gather Saturday At Anton

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 8 (Special)—To discuss means of obtaining higher cottonseed and lower cotton ginning prices, farmers of Lamb, Hockley, and Hale counties will meet Saturday at Anton.

The farmers in this territory are of the opinion that the present price of cotton seed is ruinous and they think concerted action can bring about better prices. An effort will be made in the meeting to set 20 cents per hundred as the standard price for ginning.

MARKET WEEK ENDED HERE

SOME JOBBERS STAY IN LUBBOCK AFTER SESSION CLOSED

Some jobbers' representatives who arranged displays here for the fourth semi-annual West Texas Market week which ended Wednesday night probably will remain in Lubbock through Friday, it was indicated last night.

Although no estimate of the number of retail merchants attending the market was available, officials in charge of the affair said the interest shown was very pleasing. Numbers of retail firms attended each day. The largest group viewing the displays, however, came Sunday afternoon, on the eve of the opening of the market.

TWO ARE CHARGED AFTER KIDNAPING

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Charges of kidnaping and attempting to extort money from Carl P. Groos, San Antonio bond salesman, were filed yesterday against Clifford Gaston and Edward Scalhorn who were arrested early Tuesday.

One of the men was claimed to have made a written statement to F. N. Flores, chief investigator for District Attorney Walter Tynan.

The arrests followed the kidnaping of Groos at the City-Central building here last Thursday by two men who held him four hours in an attempt to obtain $5,000 ransom. Groos was taken to an isolated house and held prisoner while one of the men left with a note to his employers. Delivery of the note spread the alarm and after holding Groos four hours the men gave up hope of a ransom and released him.

Groos said he gave one of the kidnapers, who accompanied him a short distance after his release, $5.

VETERAN COWBOY MAKING LEISURELY TRIP FROM JOPLIN TO CALIFORNIA IN WAGON DRAWN BY MISSOURI MULES

On a jaunt from Joplin to Los Angeles in a wagon drawn by two Missouri mules, J. B. Muse, 50 years old and a veteran cowboy, pulled up in front of Lubbock's only wagon yard late Wednesday afternoon, hopped from the hack and declared he was "going to see how Toby and Kit are makin' out before we run on out to the west coast."

Muse explained that he was "leisurely traveling about a bit to find out just how bad conditions really are." Toby and Kit are two mules which the oldtime cowman acquired at Joplin.

"Seems rather odd that I should have chosen such a rig to make the trip in, especially when I have a good automobile in New Mexico, but I wanted some sort of an arrangement so I could take my time, stop and chat with the farmers at the turn rows, pull to a gin and get the ginners' views of this depression," the veteran range rider said. "Then too, it's been a long time since I camped out and I sure get a kick out of it.

Had Stored Hack

"I bought the hack up in Missouri about 13 years ago, because it struck my fancy. I was traveling in an automobile then and couldn't very well take the rig back to New Mexico, so I stored it. A few weeks ago I decided I ought to get some benefit out of that vehicle so I bought Toby and Kit at a bargain, got a side of bacon and some coffee and started out.

"I ain't selling nothin', not working for any prizes and I ain't trying to set any freak record," he continued. "I am just out traveling and finding out about conditions."

Muse left Joplin on September 16 and had averaged 35 miles, or more per day, except on two days when he had to lay over at Wichita, Kans., and Chickasha, Okla., to get Toby and Kit new shoes. "The pavement is mighty hard on mules' feet," he said. He expects to arrive at Tia Juana, Mexico, about Thanksgiving.

Was In Movies

Muse said his reason for going to California, in addition to the quest for information in his private economic investigation, was to renew acquaintances made during his six years in Hollywood as an extra for western movies.

"The boys used to go down to Tia Juana on Thanksgiving so I thought I might strike a few of them there," he said. Muse said he had worked with most the famous stars of western thrillers. He doubled for Tom Mix quite a bit during the making of the "Riders of the Purple Sage" a few years ago.

"Of course, I was kidded a great deal on my trip down from Joplin, but I was able to hold my own," the cowboy continued. "I told most of them that the Hoover administration was responsible for me having to trade my automobile for a hack and span of mules.

In Bad Shape

"I found the farmers in pretty bad shape generally," he said. "Those in western Oklahoma seemed to be in for the greatest amount of suffering. High priced farm machinery, federal farm loans and low prices obtained for their products were the reasons most of them gave as the cause for their troubles. The farmers between Lubbock and Vernon seem to be better off than those of southern Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. I found more activity between Crosbyton and Lubbock than in any other locality."

The weather-beaten cowboy got off of economic questions long enough to complain that all was not fun in making a trip in 1931 as a '49er.

"You wouldn't think that wagon yards have passed plumb out, but they have. As far as I could find out there is only one between Lubbock and Joplin. It is located at Paducah. Those mules of mine are good steppers, but they're terribly 'hifluatin'. The critters won't drink water out of a trough or eat out of a wooden or steel bin. I have to carry 'em water in a bucket and put their feed in a tub.

Muse said another problem he was studying on his tour is the maintenance cost of two mules and a man. Thus far, his expenses have amounted to about 60 cents a day, including axle grease, oats, iron shoes and his own food.

The traveler's father is a prominent ranchman of Roswell, N. M. Muse said he might go by to see him on the trip out west. He plans to leave today for Lamesa.

"It is good of you to say those nice things," she replied.

reflect rich, red blood cells

NATURE has its own way of making a strong body and a clear skin . . . by its use of the red-blood-cells.

So often the pressure of work and worry or some sickness "burn up" these precious red-blood-cells—then the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter."

If this is your trouble, why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning . . . so are pimples, boils and paleness.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial. Thought For Today

Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shall call thy walls salvation and thy gates praise.—Isaiah 60:18.

It is some compensation for great evils that they enforce great lessons.—Bovee.

Riches

In Mississippi there is a 75-year-old lady who is suing for a share in New York's $50,000,000 Wendel estate; and the other day, talking about the lawsuit, she remarked plaintively, "I'll wish I was younger, if I'm going to get the money."

There is something very human about that remark, and something rather pathetic. To come into great wealth is the buried dream of all of us; but we want it while we still have desires to satisfy and dreams to fulfill and years to waste. To grow suddenly rich at 75 is better, probably, than not to get rich at all, but it is not a great deal better. For youth is not on the market, and when the last flicker of youth is vanished there is not a great deal else than the ordinary person wants to buy.

Indeed, this attitude explains a great deal, when you stop to think about it. It explains why get-rich-quick schemes always have flourished, and always will. It explains why there are always plenty of people to buy lottery tickets, and dream of the lucky stroke of chance that may enrich them. It explains why decent young men occasionally turn into embezzlers and defaulters. It explains why a gold rush will recruit men from all over the world.

An industrious and gifted man can very often make a huge fortune in business. But he can't make it all at once, and that is the whole trouble. For, when we dream about being rich, we don't put it far in the future. We want it now, while we have vigor and long years and bright hopes to squander. The long climb up the ladder, looked at from that angle, sometimes seems impossibly tedious.

And this is true, too, whether one's desires are noble or base. The man to whom a fortune is only a means for gratifying his appetites will quite naturally want the money while he is young; but so, too, will the person who wants money for the leisure it will bring him, for the release that it will mean from petty cares and mean demands, for the doors that it will open to the things of the spirit.

And that, of course, is where life always seems hard and cruel. Unless a man is the especial favorite of the gods, things won't work out as he wishes. We dream of money, which is another way of saying that we dream of complete freedom; but we have to put in long years of service first, and if we can't find our compensations in serving we are out of luck. Riches and youth do not go hand in hand.

Textile Workers

The textile workers in England's Lancashire district seem to have established, once more, their reputation for being fair.

Mahatma Gandhi, scheduled to address them, was warned he might be lynched. His boycott movement in India is largely responsible for the depressed condition of the English textile industry. Due to him, many textile workers have been without jobs for months and months.

But Gandhi went through with it—and the unemployed textile workers cheered him to the echo.

During the American Civil war the blockade on southern cotton almost ruined these same Lancashire textile workers. But while England's upper class openly favored recognition of the Confederacy, the textile workers were ardent supporters of the Union. British aid for President Davis would have revived the textile trade. But the textile workers hated human slavery.

The Soviets, says a pastor, wouldn't tolerate a "Follies" show. Probably would be more than they could bare.

The government is lining up to prosecute tax plotters. Well, maybe the line had to be drawn somewhere.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says one of the obstacles to getting an education now-a-days is finding a place where the school boy can park.

Reports that better business is 'just around the corner' have given rise to the thought that most of us are approaching the corner by going backwards on an esculator.

FATHER Gregory Boeckman, priest at St. Joseph's Catholic church, frequently drops around to see if Rev. Joe Haymes and Rev. Jack Lewis are doing a good job in looking after The Plainsman's spiritual needs. He apparently realizes that Jack and Joe have a big job on their hands to keep The Plainsman in the well known straight-and-narrow path.

Anyway, after paying a pleasant visit here a day or so ago, Father Boeckman uncorked a story that should be passed along.

It seems that he had completed a sermon one Sunday morning and one of his communicants tarried to make a request.

"Father," the man said, "I enjoyed your sermon. And I'd like to have you say something about my floating kidney next Sunday."

Puzzled by the request, Mr Boeckman asked:

"Why in the world should I say something about your floating kidney?"

"Well", returned the communicant, "I think I have it coming. You took up 15 minutes this morning talking about the loose livers."

WHOOPEE! Let 'er buck! The annual Aggie rodeo of Texas Tech will be held here tomorrow and Saturday as the students of the school of agriculture move to help their stock judging team raise expense money to go to big livestock shows. There's going to be trick riding, roping and what-have-you, along with a string of broncs from the Johnston ranch—broncs that will "break in the middle".

While it is frankly advertising, The Plainsman is glad to help advertise the Aggie rodeo—not only because it is good clean sport but also because the money thus gathered will go for a good cause.

Tech's stock judging teams have hung up fine records at the big shows and have given the college much good publicity in papers everywhere. On top of that, it is an activity which should be pushed for the good of a college located in and destined to serve an agricultural and livestock section.

Go to the rodeo—go for the fun of a good show and also to help send the stock judgers to Wichita, Kansas City and Chicago!

MAURICE Chevalier, (Shee-vah-yay to the high-hats) has made fifty million females forget Valentino, Wallace Reid and John Gilbert in a big way and in a short length of time. But if he doesn't watch his step he may find he can slide down the ladder as rapidly—or more so—than he climbed it.

The versatile Frenchman with the winning \s and broken English, is quoted as pulling a faux pas and, if he really did, has managed already to place himself in a bad light with many of the natives.

"The Americans", he is quoted as declaring, "work me as the Arabians work their donkeys".

And while the comparison is clear to many male theater-goers, the statement comes with poor grace from the cinema star who spends only two percent of his income in this country.

Personally, The Plainsman enjoys performances of the personable Mons. Chevalier and finds his cocky grin contagious. The conductor and motorman of this column is looking forward to the star's next appearance here in "The Smiling Lieutenant" and expects to be on one of the front rows at the local premier of this fillum.

However, and notwithstanding, the above statement accredited to the Parisian is not calculated to increase his popularity in this particular quarter. Nor in many others, for that matter.

ONE of the things wrong with this country, to use a highly popular phrase of the times, is the fact that foreigners can come over here load up on our dough and, with a picturesque thumbing of the theoretical nose, are permitted to run back with the swag.

The practice, of course, is not calculated to do the party of the first part—which is the contributing party—much good in the long run.

Whenever there is a practice of "all going out and nothing coming in", somebody is going to get hurt and it's always the end of the line that is contributing the where-withal.

For that reason there should be a ways and means committee to see that the proper sort of retribution is concocted—there should be some way of prohibiting these foreigners from getting away with everything they can grab on this side of the big drink.

WHETHER the retribution should take the form of a national tax or not, The Plainsman is not prepared to say. But if you think American actors and artists are permitted to go to Paris and then slip out with a couple of bales of francs each week, you're wrong as Satan.

While this column holds no brief for Texas Guinan and her youngsters, it cannot be forgotten that they were not permitted in France due to the law that foreign performers cannot be employed while French performers are out of work.

If the law works so nicely in France, it is not at all out of line to suggest that some sort of steps be taken here to safeguard the jobs of our own performers or at least the outgo of American dollars to the other side of the pond.

Entire Nation Being Organized For George Washington Bicentennial Celebration To Extend For Nine Months

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two stories on the George Washington Bicentennial celebration which will be celebrated in every community next year.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—The most sweeping centralized propaganda campaign in history is far under way for the greatest, prolonged demonstration of patriotism the world has ever known.

DUTCHER

It is the George Washington Bicentennial celebration which will run for nine months—from Feb. 22 to Nov. 24, 1932.

The celebration will mark the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Congress has appropriated about $750,000 to put on the show. President Hoover is chairman of the commission. Sol Bloom congressman of New York is the director. Bloom is the works. He has direct charge of phases of the celebration all over the country.

There will be something doing every day during the nine months, and a few of these things will be unsurpassed for magnitude and spectacularity.

The George Washington Bicentennial celebration will be observed everywhere but the national capital plans to stage a mammoth show for the country to which it expects to attract millions of spectators and participants.

Arnold Kruckman, a wizard in organization and promotion is director of the District of Columbia Bicentennial commission to which Congress gave $100,000 to put on the capital's own show. Kruckman devised his huge program and then proceeded to recruit the government departments, states, national organizations and a large galaxy of national celebrities to put it over. The high spots of that program as now scheduled are as follows:

After a few minor preliminaries the Bicentennial season begins when President Hoover, standing at the Washington Monument at noon, gives a signal to arrest traffic throughout the country for two minutes while every man, woman and child physically able joins a multitude at the monument in ringing two verses of "America." Dr Walter Damrosh, the famous maestro, leads the singing when Mr. Hoover gives the signal and John Philip Sousa leads an accompaniment of mass bands.

Railroads, bus lines and trolley companies are agreeing to stop their trains and vehicles for those two minutes while passengers burst into song. All foreign ambassadors and ministers will attend the monument ceremonies and at night they will join with all high government officials in a colonial costume ball at which the descendants of all presidents will participate in a pageant.

On St. Patrick's day the national Irish-American organizations will be here to emphasize the Irish-American contribution to American progress, especially for such Irishmen as were closely associated with George Washington. The Arlington Memorial Bridge and the Mount Vernon National Highway, of which you have heard, will be dedicated here about the middle of April and a great review of modes of transportation—everything from the Indian Drag to the modern automobile and locomotive—is planned.

Bowing deeply to Mother's Day in early May Kruckman has organized a national search for the nation's oldest native-born mother. She will be brought here as the nation's guest and be the central figure of a national Mother's Day celebration in which Gold Star Mothers, mothers in of famous men and various women's organizations will function.

Flag Day is another peak day and most of the state governors and patriotic or uniformed organizations of the country have agreed to be represented by floats or marching units in a night parade of 100 floats or more. The Army, Navy and Marine bands will furnish the oompah-oompah and President Hoover will review the parade from the capitol.

Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, David Warfield, Elsie Janis, Irene Bordoni and Bill Hart are among the stars who have agreed to do their stuff in person in the Washington pageant play to be enacted by 5000 persons, 2000 choristers and massed bands of 500 pieces, under supervision of R. H. Burnside, foremost American pageant maker. The country is now being combed for the man to play the part of George Washington—a man who looks like Washington and acts like Washington. This man will be retained for the season and will be honored guest at the Colonial Ball on Feb. 22.

TOMORROW: The second and last story on the George Washington Bicentennial celebration and how the entire nation will participate.

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene" "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

A very significant fact is that during the present epidemic of infantile paralysis it has been found that the serum of any adult can be used for the treatment of an early case — so long as the adult has lived in the city. Heretofore only the serum of those individuals who were known to have had the disease was used.

Dr. Clendening

What does this mean? It means that the germ, or virus, of infantile paralysis is always present where there are plenty of human beings. Most of us take it into our bodies in an attenuated form and kill it off with our own body fluids, before it does us any harm. We develop an immunity to it without having any symptoms, without having an attack.

This is true not only of infantile paralysis but of nearly all the contagious diseases of childhood. We can check our knowledge of this in the case of diphtheria by the Schick test, which determines whether the individual has developed immunity to diphtheria. During the first year of life the baby has an immunity in its blood which came from the mother. Towards the end of the first year this begins to wear out. From the second to the fifth year of life about half the children who take a Schick test show that they would catch diphtheria if exposed to a virulent case. From that age on the number diminishes every year until by the age of twenty barely one person out of fifteen is susceptible.

They have all acquired what is called contact immunity. Without actually having the disease they have been exposed to enough people who harbor the germs of the disease to have had a few mild infections. The result is the blood reaction is the same as a person who has had a real attack.

It will be noticed that the age when the immunity begins to increase is the school age. The numerous human contacts that occur at this time give ample opportunity for the development of this type of immunity.

That is the bright side to the picture of epidemics of contagious disease in school. Those epidemics drive parents and school authorities gray headed. There is a real danger to life even from such usually mild diseases as measles, mumps and whooping cough. Some authorities hold that it is nonsense to say that the child might as well have these and get them over with.

However that may be it is certain that some of the worst cases of measles occur in adults who have lived their youth on a farm free from frequent human contacts. When such individuals finally do meet one of these contagions in adult life it goes hard with them. So perhaps it is as well to be exposed to the dangers of school contact, hoping that contact immunity rather than contagion immunity will develop.

The problem of isolation of pupils who have made contacts with cases of contagious disease in school is a different one. To exclude them from school entirely is often unjust and wasteful. In one instance studied 3,737 attendances were lost by excluding pupils exposed to measles from school yet no case of measles developed among them. Separate rooms for contacts has been suggested as a solution.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Well, girls, even your gowns will have a theme song this year. I agree, this theme song thing has gone a bit too far for ordinary patience.

But, after all, there doesn't seem to be any good reason why a particularly comfortable pajama outfit shouldn't be donned to the tune of "She's Such a Comfort to Me." And I've seen many an evening dress that could be described by "Sweet and Low." To say nothing of "Sweet and Lovely."

At any rate, Elizabeth Hawes, the clever young fashion designer of the Fifty-seventh street belt in Manhattan, has started the vogue and there's no telling where it will end.

Miss Hawes informed me at her salon the other day that she never could pick out names to fit her creations. Most designers merely number their gowns, but Miss Hawes considers that quite too unimaginative.

I arrived just as a pretty model was walking about in a lovely thing-um-bob with a grand white doo-rickey at the collar and when the pianist played "Fine and Dandy," I recognized the gown at once. A sport suit merits a few bars of "Frankie and Johnny" and certainly no one needs to be given further information when the band strikes up "Button Up Your Overcoat."

"Home, Sweet Home," of course rates one of those comfy looking tea-gowns—and we'll leave you to guess what you'd wear to the tune of "After the Ball." Rhapsody in Blue"—and—well, perhaps you better figure out a few of your own.

Scores of young artists continue to "starve in garrets," just as they have been pictured as doing these many years. Somehow, most of us had relegated this notion to the "La Boheme" period.

But the other day, I dropped in to look at the newest and most modernistic of New York's art galleries, "The L'Elan." The proprietors explained that they were trying to give the young American painters, sketchers and sculptors a chance.

"To much fuss has been made about the young French artists," I was informed. "Our own boys and girls have been terribly neglected. You hear that the youngsters here are not serious and sincere—very well—I happen to know better. On these walls you will see three paintings by a young man who is getting his first break. We heard about him and went to his studio. He was using a blanket on the floor for a bed. He was eating off an old box and had one stool and a few unframed pictures on the wall. That was all!" And he was about to be ejected the first of the month for non-payment of rent."

So it seems that there really are starving young artists in Manhattan.

A newspaper paragraph in a morning journal quotes a New York University professor as saying that "only morons whistle."

That puts a crimp in my style. Each morning to show the boys and girls in the office that I've been to the latest music hit the night before I come in whistling the tunes. I'll admit they look pained, and all that! But now—!

And George Clark, the cartoonist, always whistles off key. What does that make him?

I'll bet that Columbia prof can't even whistle "Yankee Doodle."

A German chemist has discovered how to make edible bread from cotton. And many a new husband, sampling the biscuits, will wonder if his wife has heard about it.

Times are so bad in New York that the panhandlers are said to be using paper instead of tin cups.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The crocodile was 12 feet long. Said Clowny, "I'll bet he was strong." "You be he was," replied the guide. "'Tis well I hit him square. The real smart hunter always tries to hit them right between the eyes. If he had reached our boat he would have tossed it in the air."

Then Scouty said, "What is your plan? I 'spose you'll take him, if you can, back to your home and save his skin." The guide said, "You are right." It took them just a little while to load the bulky crocodile. Flopped in the bottom of the boat, it made a startling sight.

They slowly paddled back to where they started from. "That trip was rare," said Scouty to the kindly guide. Then they bid him goodby. That night the Tinies slept real sound, all tired from covering so much ground. At dawn the Travel Man exclaimed, "Another trip we'll try.

"We'll take a boat and move right on until we reach the Amazon. That is a real strange river and it's wild as it can be. We'll hike part way along the shore and then hop in a boat once more. It will be fun to camp out and some startling things you'll see."

It wasn't very long until they reached the river bank. "We'll fill some boxes full of things to eat," exclaimed the Travel Man. "Upon a mule we'll put the stuff. Then traveling won't be so rough. You Tinymites will have to walk, and do the best you can."

A sparsely settled place was found and after they had looked around they found a very husky mule. "We'll take him," Coppy cried. The owner gladly took his pay and watched the bunch start on their way. The mules was loaded down with boxes, tied on either side.

Louisiana Uses Cotton Surplus

Determined to aid in using the surplus supply of cotton in the south, folks in Louisiana are lying awake nights thinking of uses for the downy commodity. Above, Governor Huey P. Long is being presented with a cotton tie, by Miss Iris Davenport, clothing specialist with the state university agricultural extension division. Below, Miriam McMillan of Acadia parish, Louisiana, offers two bales of cotton in payment of her student fees at Louisiana State university. The cotton will be held by university officials and if it advances in price Miss McMillan will be given credit. The university has extended the privilege of paying fees with cotton.

MOYLE AND ALLEN ARRIVE IN U. S. TO TELL OF EXPERIENCES ON OCEAN HOP

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 8 (AP) — Moyle in Tacoma after a flight from Nagway, Alaska, Don Moyle and Cecil Allen told today of their experiences while flying over the Bering sea in an attempt to make a non-stop dash from Japan to America.

The California aviators arrived here Tuesday night, just a month after leaving Samushiro Beach Japan. Moyle said they struck a storm and headwind the first night out which cut their flying speed to around 30 miles an hour.

Wasn't Afraid

"We flew on through that night and the next day, expecting any minute to be our last. Funny thoughts strike a man at a time like that. I wasn't afraid to die, but—there was a girl down south, my fiancee, and my folks, and I knew how they would worry."

Moyle said they sighted an island in the Aleutian chain when they had gasoline left for only about nine hours flying and he landed the plane in a creek valley.

"We were there five days," he said. "There was no food, and we were getting weaker all the time. Finally we made a slingshot out of some rubber bands with a pair of pliers for the crotch, and shot two sea gulls. Cecil found some mussels when the tide was out, and we had a feast and got back enough strength to get our motor going."

They headed for Miano Pilgino, Siberia, and landed by a salmon cannery. The Russians gave them food and clothing.

"The only thing we could get for fuel," Moyle said, "was some sort of stuff they used for thinning paint on the salmon cans, so we loaded up on that and managed to get the motor started."

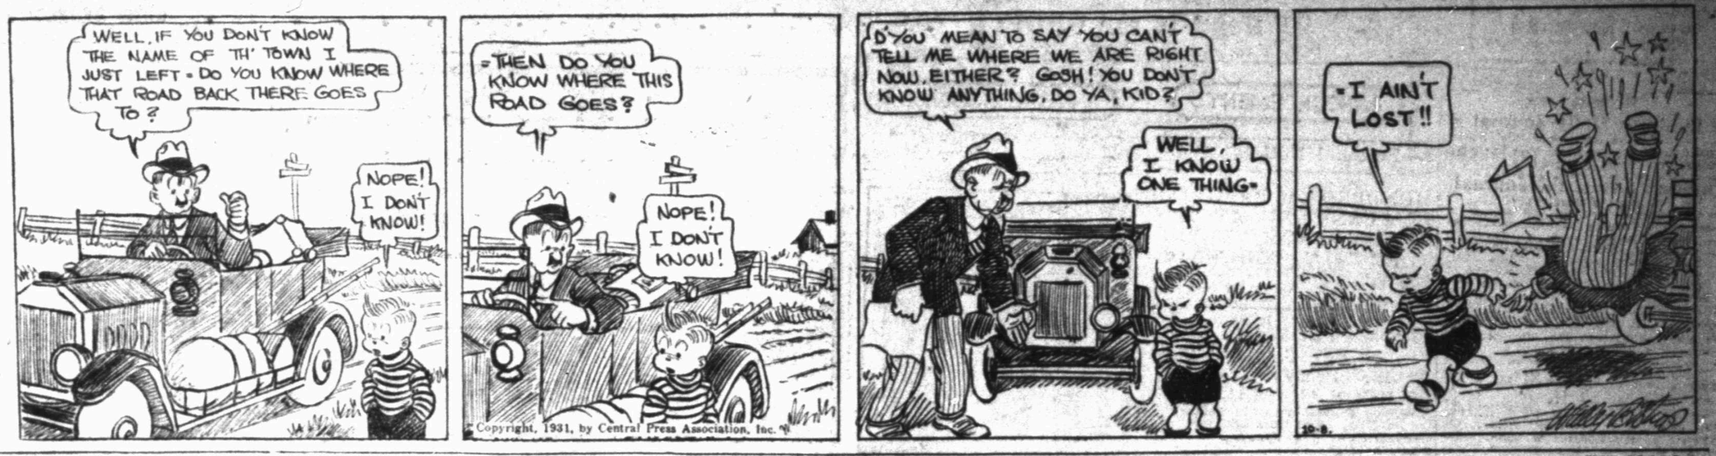

They flew later to Nome, Bad weather delayed their trip from Alaska to the United States.

First Skyscraper To Be Torn Down

The 12-story building, left, at LaSalle and Adams streets in Chicago, built 47 years ago and claimed to be the world's first skyscraper, will be razed and a 42-story structure, containing more than a million square feet of floor space, will be erected on the site. An architect's drawing of the new structure, which will be Chicago's largest office building, is shown at the right. The old building is called the first skyscraper because it was the first of its type in which skeleton metal framework was used.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Cotton had an easy opening today although Liverpool was rather better than due. Pre-bureau liquidation and hedge-selling were responsible for the early decline.

First trades showed losses of 7 to 10 points and the market eased further after the start. December dropping to 5.58 and January to 5.70, down 11 to 12 points from yesterday's close.

The government estimate was due at 10 a. m. and the general expectation was for a total in the neighborhood of 16,000,000 bales.

Near the end of the first hour, the market rallied 2 to 3 points but the undertone continued unsettled.

At the timethe market recessed to receive the bureau report, prices were 15 to 16 points under yesterday's close. With December at 5.555 and January at 5.65. The immediate effect of the government estimate of 16,284,000 bales was a decline of only 3 to 7 points, which later was increased to a total decline of 9 to 10 points, with December at 5.45 and January at 5.56. This brought the price level down 25 points from yesterday's close.

The slight decline on a larger estimate than expected developed that there were heavy buyng orders under the market on the impression that the large crop would not all be picked. This buying later carried December up to 5.68 and January to 5.78, or 22 to 23 points up from the lows of the morning, and just 2 to 3 points under yesterday's close. Near mid-session the market was quite steady and only a few points under the top.

The census bureau made total ginnings to October 1, 5,408,302 running bales, compared with 6,303,895 bales the same date last year

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today, at a decline of 9 to 10 points under southern selling and relatively steady Liverpool cables and reports of showers in the eastern and central belt sections. December sold off to 5.61 under the initial pressure.

After the initial offerings had been absorbed the market steadied slightly on covering. Bulges of two or three points were checked by continued liquidation or southern hedging, however, and the market sagged off to 5.60 for December and 5.88 for March by the end of the first half hour, or about 11 to 13 points net lower.

Liverpool cables attributed the advance in that market to local and continental buying on easier sterling, but said the cloth demand from China was sustained. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early sellers here.

Prices sagged off another few points before trading was suspended to receive the government crop report.

The official crop report proved slightly above expectations, placing the indicated yield at 16,284,000 bales while ginnings reported prior to October 1st amounted to 5,408,307 bales. These figures brought in a spurt of selling which sent December off to 5.47 and March to 5.76, or about 11 points below the prebureau price and 21 to 25 points net lower, but the offerings were absorbed by trade buying on scale down orders and prices rallied later in the morning. The midday market showed rallies of 15 or 20 points from the lowest and was within 5 or 10 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady today: Oct. 5.55-asked; Dec. 5.63; Jan. 5.71; March 5.86; May 6.09; July 6.26.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady: Oct. 5.50; Dec. 5.63; Jan. 5.73; March 5.91; May 6.10; July 6.27.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Grain prices tended upward early today, helped by stock market gains and by Liverpool reports of better milling demand for wheat. Black sea wheat shipments showed a decrease both as compared with a week ago and a year ago. Opening 1-8 to 1-2 cent up, wheat later kept near the initial limits. Corn started at a shade decline to 1-8 to 1-4 advance and afterward gained all around.

MARKET REOPENS FAIRLY STEADY

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Cotton reopened fairly steady after publication of the crop report today, although the government figures were higher than the trade had expected.

Quotations at the reopening were 30 cents to $1.10 a bale below last night's close, with Oct. selling at 5.38 cents a pound, Dec. 5.55, Jan. 5.65, and March 5.85, down 16 to 21 points.

However selling and pre-bureau liquidation had accounted for declines of 55 to 65 cents a bale prior to publication of the bureau report.

The government report estimated a crop of 16,284,000 bales, as of Oct. 1, an increase of 599,000 bales over the indicated yield reported as of Sept. 1. The trade had expected an indicated crop of slightly less than 16,000,000 bales.

designed to show Yarberry was jealous.

Through her testimony state attorneys also attempted to show that Yarberry was at times a callous lover. Mrs. Symons testified on one occasion her daughter became ill by drinking wine at the Yarberry family home.

She said that after the girl returned to her own home, Yarberry, when asked to assist her, threw her roughly across a bed.

Progress Made In Right-Of-Way Work

Satisfactory progress in obtaining additional right-of-way for highway No. 137 was reported Wednesday by County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson.

While three suits condemning property have been filed in the last two months, only one remains on the court docket, he said. The other two were settled satisfactorily by juries of view. A jury of view was empaneled Wednesday to take up matters pertaining to the right-of-way, according to the county attorney.

CHANDLER HEARD IN PRICE TRIAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—H. Grady Chandler, professor of law in the UNniversity of Texas, formerly an assistant attorney general, testified before the Texas senate today in the impeachment trial of District udge J. B. Price of Bastrop, that he had warned the respondent some of the items he approved in a claim of the late Sheriff John T. Carlisle of Lee county were illegal.

Chandler said he made a trip with several others to Bastrop in an effort to straighten out a compromise claim of $7,912.10 for mileage and witness fees made by Sheriff Carlisle and approved by Judge Price. The claim originally aggregated approximately $18,000 for fees charged for services during two terms of the Lee county district court but previously had been scaled down to the smaller amount.

BOAZ PREACHES

Bishop Hiram A. Boaz of Houston preached at 10 o'clock this morning at one of a series of revival meetings at the First Methodist church. Quinn's Counsel To Request New Trial

NEWKIRK, Okla., Oct. 8 (AP)—The jurors who gave Earl Quinn the death penalty for the murder of Jessie Griffith, slain with her sister, Zexia, on a highway last December, were sumoned to appear in district court here tomorrow as counsel made ready its motion for a new trial.

"We will ask that jurors be called to the stand and tell if they read newspapers during the progress of the trial and if they separated," said James Mathers, Quinn's lawyer, today.

Floodlighting of famed Durham Cathedral during the Faraday centenary in England had to be abandoned at the last moment after all arrangements had been made because the $5,000 necessary could not be raised.

SOUTHERN UNION TO HELP COTTON FARMERS URGED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Southwide union in cotton relief legislation through a conference of delegates from legislatures of cotton producing states was proposed today to the special session of the Arkansas legislature by the house committee on agriculture. The house also received from the commission recommendations for passage of bills embodying the cotton "holiday" plan of Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana and the Texas cotton acreage reduction act.

The legislature, in the second day of its special session called by Governor Harvey Parnell for consideration of cotton relief legislation and extension of the power of the state highway audit commission, moved toward its goal rapidly today. Bills patterned after both the Louisiana and the Texas plans were introduced yesterday in both houses.

The "southern unity" resolution provides for the naming of five legislators to meet with similar commissions from other cotton producing states, with all committees backed by the "moral pledges" of their legislatures to pass any cotton relief plan agreed upon by a majority of the cotton conference.

Reversal Of Death Sentence Is Asked

AUSTIN, Oct. 8 (AP)—John L. Green, negro, today appealed to the court of criminal appeals for reversal of the death sentence assessed him on conviction of a charge of murder in connection with the death of Frank Kempf, white, in Medina county, June 15, 1931.

Kempf was killed when struck over the head. The indictment named both Green and Ernest Johnson but Johnson was granted a change of venue.

Green claimed his case should have been transferred to another county owing to the high feeling against him and that it was impossible for him to receive a fair trial in Medina county.

GOTHAM HEADS ARE PROBED

BANK ACCOUNTS UNDER INVESTIGATION OF COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Hofstadter committee poked its legislature-powdered prod today into the bank accounts of three Democratic city officials.

It sought, in private session, to find out how these officials were able to bank $788,459 on salaries which aggregated only $167,459.

It wanted to know the source of the $510,527 banked by James A. McQuade, register of Kings county (Brooklyn); of the $143,756 deposit shown in the bank books of Michael J. Cruise, city clerk; and of the $135,061 deposited by Harry C. Perry, chief clerk of the city court.

The annual salaries of each of the three was not over $12,000 for the period covered by the questioning at yesterday's public hearing at which the men were witnesses. Cruise and Perry are Tammany Hall leaders.

Their testimony followed closely that of Sheriff Thomas Farley who told Tuesday of deposits totalling $360,000, the sources of which he failed to explain to the satisfaction of Samuel Seabury, chief counsel for the committee.

McQuade's explanation yesterday of his deposits was that they were mostly borrowed money. Cruise said "the bank must have made a mistake." Perry said he won a few bets and made a lot of loans.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Porter, who have been living in Amarillo, were here Wednesday visiting their niece, Miss Wynona Swepston, Tech student. The Porters are moving to Slaton.

ASK CONGRESS FOR ACTION

LABOR FEDERATION IS TRYING TO LESSEN UNEMPLOYMENT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 8 (AP)—Political reprisal was said by speakers before the American Federation of Labor here to be inevitable unless the coming congress takes steps to alleviate unemployment. Labor also was lauded for its "courage" in attacking prohibition.

Edward Keating, editor of "Labor" and former congressman from Colorado, Representative Ralph A. Horr, congressman from Washington, Spencer Miller, secretary of the workers education bureau, and A. B. Swales, fraternal delegate from British trade unions, spoke.

Repeats Statement

Keating, while he made no direct reference to the address of Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania, former secretary of labor, repeated one of the senator's phrases with a directly opposite interpretation.

Davis indicated he believed heavy taxation of wealth was futile and inadvisable because it would force wealth into hiding and deplete "the resources of the nation."

"We would not be eating our seed corn," Keating declared repeating Senator Davis' language. "We would simply be taxing the Godless profits wrung from millions of workers. Go before congress and urge it to remain in session until it has done what it can to relieve the existing situation.

"What can congress do? Well the United States employes 600,000 men and women. Is there any better place to start the five day week?

Roll Call Urged

"The non-partisan program of the American Federation of Labor has not been in vain, and you will get a sympathetic ear from congress. Demand a roll call on every measure—and if congress betrays you, you will have the record as a weapon to bring about a political revolution in 1932."

Miller said the unemployment situation must be relieved "or social revision will sweep Europe, and there will be social unrest in America."

Freedom for the Philippines, expansion of public works, including immediate development of the Columbia basin irrigation project were favored and military training in public schools was opposed in resolutions presented.

Usually it's the father who lays down the law to his daughter, but in the Hicks family of Hewlett, L. I., Helen, the pretty 20-year-old daughter establishes the law of what's what to her father—when it comes golf. Here's Jarvis Hicks, prominent banker, getting tipped off to some valuable pointer in golf by his daughter. And why not? Isn't she the new women's national champion? We'll say! And what a champ!

Saints Upset Dope To Down Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 8 (AP)—The St. Paul Saints, champions of the American association, may have to yield the "little world series" title to Rochester but it won't be without a struggle.

Beaten four times in a row and apparently on the run, the Saints came back yesterday to trounce the International league champions, 9 to 3, and send the series into the seventh game.

Despite their easy triumph, however, the Saints still were in a precarious position. Rochester, leading four games to two, needed to take only one of the three remaining contests to clinch the title.

Hello Everybody

MOSCOW — "Hello everybody." It was S. L. Rothafel, (Roxy to you, United States) addressing his characteristic greeting to a radio audience composed of Soviet Russia's millions. When he signed off it was with his usual, "goodnight, God bless you." His address was translated into Russian.

Society Note!

LONDON—Hyde Park society note—after the arrests, refreshments were served. A crowd hooting police after an unemployment riot, camped about a relief food wagon in the park and were served meals by a red headed girl with an American accent, who said, "for once in your lives you are going to be waited upon."

To Serve Free

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Citizens of Arkansas are going to get some free legislation. Members of the legislature have pledged themselves to hold a session without pay or expense allowance to consider cotton relief.

Criminals Favored

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.—Criminals seem to be getting more attention than children. W. Howard Pillsbury, superintendent of schools in Schenectady, says four times as much money is being spent in the United States to catch law breakers as is spent for education.

Wrong House, Maybe

NEW YORK—John Muldoon banged on a neighbor's door and shouted, "come on out and fight. I can lick you any day." His neighbor accommodated him. When an ambulance surgeon had patched him up, John found himself under arrest. His neighbor was Patrolman Frank Adams, heavyweight champion of the police department.

Dwarfing the man beside it with its six feet seven inches of height, the giant "amorphophalle" is truly a giant of the flower kingdom. The flower is grown in Java and some parts of Asia. The bloom, a member of the Aroidees family, has a flower cup measuring more than 40 inches in diameter and a flower cluster reaching from five to seven feet in height.
