Fast Driving Desperado In Toils Of Law

Caught Near Sherman While He And Companion Were Trying To Escape With Loot Taken From A Small Bank

Heavy Guard Set

Alleged Woman Partner Being Held At Amarillo; Trap Had Been Set In Panhandle City For A Week

(By The Associated Press)

SHERMAN, April 25. — Slippery Raymond Hamilton, bank robbing expert of the notorious Clyde Barrow gang of outlaws, fell into the hands of officers here late today while trying to escape with the loot of a small town bank—his favorite prey in a spectacular career of crime.

Fast driving—the tactics used by the Dallas desperado so successfully in former getaways — failed to keep him out of reach of the law and he was abruptly halted at the little farming community of Howe, seven miles south of Sherman.

Loot Is Recovered

With him in the stolen sedan he was using for the latest of his bank holdups, was T. R. Brooks, 21-year-old Wichita Falls man who claimed this was his first arrest. In the car was about $1,000 taken from the First National bank at Lewisville, Denton county, less than two hours before.

Using a favorite system, Hamilton entered the bank alone, covered the president and assistant cashier with an automatic pistol and calmly gathered up available cash in the cashier's cage. Then he dashed out the side door, jumped in a car which his confederate had waiting outside and sped away to the northeast.

Drives At Top Speed

Driving the car at top speed, Hamilton tore through Little Elm, 15 miles northeast of Lewisville, seven minutes ahead of pursuing officers. At Frisco, in Collin county, he was leading his nearest pursuers 15 minutes. Then he turned onto the highway leading toward Sherman and as he raced into Howe, he found his way blocked by a party of officers which had driven to head him off.

Offering no resistance, Hamilton and Brooks surrendered their loot and two automatic pistols and were brought to jail here under heavy guard.

Killed In Wreck

Howard Gunter, assigned to drive the robbers' stolen car into Sherman became involved in an automobile wreck as he reached the business district and he was injured fatally,

Dallas Men To Visit In City

Improved Highways To Be Discussed At Meeting Set Here Saturday; Other Delegates Invited To Attend

Improved highways, particularly state routes 24, 7, 137, and 8, will be discussed at a meeting in Lubbock hotel Saturday night.

A delegation of Dallas men will arrive tomorrow for Lubbock. The group will spend Friday night in Abilene and come here Saturday.

Seek All-Weather Road

Special attention will be given to plans for improvement of highway system in the east half of Dickens county and through King county. Pavement in those counties would give South Plains residents all-weather roads from Lubbock to Dallas. It also would give the lower South Plains section paved highway to Oklahoma by way of Seymour and Wichita Falls.

Representatives from towns between Lubbock and Dallas and on the highways 7, 84, 24, and 137, have been invited to attend.

Highway commissioner W. R. Ely of Abilene, Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer of Austin, and Highway Commissioner C. E. Mauldin of Clovis, N. M., have indicated they will be here.

Straw Hats Are Best For Today

Summer, as far as the well-dressed man is concerned, officially will begin here today—Straw Hat day in Lubbock.

Local merchants have displayed the latest styles in ladies' hats for buyers, and most of them have advertised their stocks.

Straw Hat day has been proclaimed officially by Mayor Ross Edwards. Derbies, felts, and caps will be beyond the pale this morning.

World Waits Anxiously For U. S. Opinion

Washington Remains Silent On Jap Pronouncement Of Monroe Doctrine Policy To Be Pursued Toward China

(By The Associated Press)

The strained international situation caused by Japan's pronouncement of a "Monroe Doctrine" policy toward China was brought before President Roosevelt yesterday but Washington remained silent.

It was one of the subjects for discussion between the chief executive and Secretary of State Hull.

U. S. Attitude Awaited

What step, if any, the United States would take on the delicate question was awaited anxiously in London, Tokyo, Nanking and other capitals.

Great Britain's request for an amplification of Japan's statement was formally delivered in Tokyo.

Earlier, a spokesman for the Japanese foreign office said, "our statement has been made. Let others read it as they will."

London made no commitments pending a reply from Japan to its request. Newspapers viewed the development in the Orient as omnious.

Japan was accused by Chi Tsai-Hu, Chinese minister to Switzerland, of violating the nine-power treaty with regard to China's independence.

In the meantime, comment was caused by information reaching congress that Mr. Roosevelt would ask it for power to decide when to reenforce the navy, bringing it up to treaty-limit strength.

Testimony In Lamesa Trial Probably Will Close Today

LAMESA, April 25. (Special)—Testimony in the trial of Deputy Sheriff Johnson of Lynn county for murder probably will be completed in 106th district court Thursday noon, Judge Gordon B. McGuire said tonight.

The defendant this morning testified directly 45 minutes and underwent an hour and a quarter of cross examination.

Johnson is on trial for the slaying of B. O. Best.

George Dupree of Lubbock, special prosecutor, will conclude the state's case, as a result of injuries suffered in an accident yesterday by District Attorney G. H. Nelson.

Kidnapers Hope Victim Will Bear No Ill Will In Case

FORT WORTH, April 25. (AP) — Their chief concern that their victim bear them no ill will, the two ex-convict abductors of C. M. Kella, 28, were returned to Fort Worth from Mount Pleasant today.

The men, Homer McCoy, 30, and Joe Burleson, 26, were returned by city detectives who identified them in the Titus county jail after their capture at Winfield.

Meanwhile, the search for the third of the kidnapers, who commandered Kella's car Monday in Fort Worth, continued unabated.

DIES OF BURNS

WACO, April 25. (AP)—Carl Buice of Waco died in a hospital here today of burns suffered when a gasoline drum exploded at Speekleville. D. D. Short of Speegleville, severely burned in the same accident, was expected to recover.

Sheriff Gus White Is Making Inquiry; O'Donnell Man Has Broken Leg; Funeral Rites Are Not Arranged

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, April 25.—One man was fatally injured and two others were hurt in a head-on automobile collision a mile north of here on highway 9 about 6 o'clock tonight.

Porter Treadway, 50, of Tahoka, died in Lamesa sanitarium at about 11 o'clock.

District Attorney Hurt

District Attorney G. H. Nelson, also of Tahoka, suffered a skull fracture and possibly internal injuries. His condition was not regarded as critical.

Mr. Treadway's right arm and right leg were broken, he suffered chest and head injuries, and severe shock. Because of his condition, no X-ray examination was made.

Two Cars In Collision

A new model Chevrolet sedan driven by District Attorney Nelson was in a collision with a Ford V-8 occupied by M. G. Barrow and Clay Warren, both of O'Donnell. Barrow suffered a broken leg.

Mr. Nelson and Mr. Treadway were en route to their homes from Lamesa. Mr. Nelson was prosecutor and Mr. Treadway a witness in the trial for murder here of John Johnson, a Lynn county deputy sheriff. Barrow and Warren were driving toward Tahoka.

Nelson's fracture was above his right eye. He was conscious, and

District Attorney To Seek Death Penalty For Hamilton

DALLAS, April 25. (AP) — District Attorney Robert Hurt said tonight he would seek immediate indictment and assessment of the death penalty against Raymond Hamilton in connection with the recent robberies of the Lancaster and Grand Prairie State banks.

"Hamilton already has 263 years of prison sentences against him," Hurt said, "and we believe he deserves the death penalty and that a Dallas county jury will give it to him."

Postoffice Department Will Ask For Bids On New Routes

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—The postoffice department will ask for bids in a week or 10 days on seven or eight additional air mail routes covering 4,092 miles.

Postmaster General Farley announced this today at about the same time as Chairman Black (D.-Ala.) of the special investigating committee was defending in the senate cancellation of old contracts.

Arizona Child Kidnaped And Family Is Ordered To Pay $15,000 Ransom

Daughter Of Wealthy Tucson Residents In Hands Of Abductor; Note Sent Parents

(By The Associated Press)

TUCSON, Ariz., April 25. — June Robles, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Robles, and granddaughter of Bernabe Robles, one of Pima county's wealthiest citizens, was kidnaped as she was returning home from school here this afternoon and held for $15,000 ransom, police reported.

The little girl was picked up by a man in a "little black car" about 3 o'clock but it was not until two hours later it became known she had been abducted.

Note Demands Cash

Just before 5 o'clock a small boy, Rosalio Estrada, appeared at the Robles Electric company, operated by the girl's father, with a note telling of the kidnaping and demanding $15,000 ransom.

The note, roughly printed, gave detailed instructions for delivery of the money in $20, $10 and $5 bills and warned Robles not to reveal contents of the missive to authorities. Robles later notified police but refused to let them read the note he had received.

Cousin Is Witness

Barney Kengla, 6-year-old cousin of the kidnaped girl, told police she was walking a short distance behind him en route home from school. He saw a "little black car" drive up and heard the driver call to June. The girl, he said, went over to the car and he saw her get in and watched the car drive away.

Immediately upon being informed of the kidnaping, Colby S. Farrar, Pima county undersheriff, assembled every available deputy sheriff and police officer and placed guards over all roads leading out of the city. Then he launched a search within the city for the kidnaper.

Wanted An Answer

The boy who delivered the ransom note to Robles told police a man he had not known had given him 25 cents to deliver the message. The man instructed the boy to obtain an answer, saying he would wait for

Federal Agent Says Outlaw's Days Numbered

Desperado Must Show Up And Fight Soon, In Opinion Of Officers; New Tips Are Run Down By Pursuers

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 25.—The troop of federal agents stalking John Dillinger through the midle west believed tonight that the outlaw could be only a few hours ahead.

Meantime, citizens of Mercer, Wis., whence Dillinger and his henchmen escaped Sunday, were signing a petition condemning the effort to capture the outlaw at the Little Bohemia resort as having been bungled.

Must Show And Fight

With every law officer of the central states on the alert, and thousands of private citizens equally watchful, the No. 1 desperado must before many hours show up and fight, his pursuers believed.

With the hunt in full cry, one of the federal officers made a determined prophecy. Said Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office, whose removal was asked in the Mercer petiiton:

"We'll get him soon. There's more evidence than ever before."

Tips Run Down

Police squads in middle western cities ran down new "tips" that one or more members of the band had been sighted. It was unsafe for small-time holdup men to operate, since the squads were expecting Dillinger and were armed to make it a decisive engagement.

The Twin Cities were alive with the aces of the federal government's detective bureau, eager to notch their guns for Dillinger, his lieutenant, John Hamilton, or George "Baby Face" Nelson, the three most

Floyd Hamilton Denies He Aided Brother To Escape

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—Emphatic denial that he participated in the plot to liberate his brother, Raymond Hamilton, from Eastham state prison farm, was made today by Floyd Hamilton.

Floyd Hamilton asserted there was no truth to a statement in which James Mullen, en-convict, named him as the man who "planted" two pistols under a bridge at the farm a few days before the break.

SUSPECT IS HELD

TUCSON, Ariz., April 25. (AP)—Police at 10:15 o'clock tonight arrested a man who they said tallied with the description of one offering a newsboy $10 earlier in the evening to take a letter to Fernando Robles, father of June Robles, 6-year-old girl, kidnaped and held for $15,000 ransom.

Roosevelt To Ask Congress For Navy Fund

Administration Expecting To Start Building 20 Of The 95 Ships Needed To Bring U. S. To Limit

Plan Latest Types

When Work Is Completed Navy Will Be Second To None In World; Huge Amount Of Cash To Be Expended

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Within four months, the administration expects to start building 20 of the 95 ships needed to give the United States a fleet second to no other navy in the world.

President Roosevelt let it be known today that the billion and a half dollar appropriation bill he will submit to congress shortly would provide money for initial construction in the treaty navy program.

$40,000,000 First Year

The bill, said Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.) of the house naval committee, will carry about $40,000,000 for the first year's work on six submarines of 1,300 tons, 12 destroyers of 1,500 tons and two destroyer leaders of 7,850 tons.

"We expect to spend actually only about $37,000,000 the first year," Vinson said, "but the $40,000,000 would provide a safe leeway."

"The $40,000,000 either will be appropriated directly for naval construction, or the president will be given the right to allocate the money for that purpose."

Long-Time Program

But, said Vinson, it will be 24 to 30 months before these 20 ships can be launched—ten from private and ten from navy yards.

Meanwhile, he continued, the government will start building some of the 75 other ships needed. Of these, 21 will be submarines, 51 destroyers, two cruisers and one an aircraft carrier.

Unless present plans are abandoned and unforeseen speed is applied, it would be around 1940 before the United States had a fleet as big as existing treaties permit. Japan already is at treaty limits and Great Britain is near the maximum.

Plans Are Altered

The navy recently has altered its plans for the ships to be built. At first it figured 102 vessels would be needed. That total included 1,130 ton submarines, but these were found unsatisfactory. So, to make possible greater cruising ranges and to provide more stable submarines, it was decided to increase their size to 1,300 tons.

The ships to be laid down in the first year program, for which the president expects funds to be supplied soon, would cost around $112,000,000 exclusive of aviation. Airplanes, catapults and other such equipment, would bring the completed cost of the initial program to $137,000,000.

Additional construction soon is necessary, Vinson said, because many ships, especially the destroyers, are becoming over age.

Eleven Texas Convicts Are Given Clemency By Governor

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today granted two conditional pardons and nine general paroles to Texas convicts.

Carroll Hackley, Galveston county, murder, and Lloyd Ranels, Harrison and Montgomery counties, burglary and theft, were conditionally pardoned.

General paroles granted included: Wysom Brides, Hopkins county, burglary of a private residence at night; John Morton, Gregg county, burglary; William Dollar, Montague and Wichita counties, burglary; Pablo Ruiz, El Paso county, criminal assault; W. L. Turner, Bowie county, burglary.

Robbers Enter Postoffice In New Mexico; Safe Taken

TUCUMCARI, N. M., April 25. (AP)—Robbers broke into the postoffice at Ima, N. M., 40 miles southwest of here, early today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money after carrying the safe away and blowing it open.

The robbers loaded the safe into their automobile and took it several miles out on the prairie. Officers found the safe and trailed the car as far as Tucumcari where all trace was lost.

Claims Snakes Are Best Pets

HOUSTON, April 25. (AP)—Mrs. Bruce Reed of Port Arthur created a sensation today among women attending the convention of the fourth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, when she emphasized with a demonstration her contention that snakes make good pets.

When Mrs. Reed, who was lecturing on wild life, pulled a few of the "pets" from her bag several delegates shrieked and ran from the platform, and the president was forced to rap for order to end the confusion.

Allowing the snakes to entwine themselves about her arms and neck, Mrs. Reed stated that they are "the cleanest, most economical and satisfactory pets obtainable."

Panama Canal Is Guarded As Ships Arrive

Conspiracy To Thwart Swift Passage Of Flotilla Reported; Censorship Invoked As Precautionary Measure

(By The Associated Press)

COLON, C. Z., April 25.—As the United States navy fleet of 111 vessels completed its 48-hour transit through the Panama canal today, it was learned that war-like conditions during the movement were made necessary by fears that attempts might be made to interfere with the maneuver.

Authorities received information from the army intelligence service several months ago that a conspiracy seemed in progress to thwart the swift passage of the flotilla through the locks.

Soldiers On Guard

Consequently, heavy guards of soldiers patrolled the locks and a small force will remain indefinitely, it was said, to supplant guards stationed at the vital parts of the canal late in March.

In view of the reported plot, naval officers withheld their announcement of plans to send the ships through in a hurry until the last moment. Censorship was invoked as an extra precautionary measure.

One Minor Mishap

Only one minor mishap occurred, however—the aircraft carrier Saratoga knocked down two concrete lamp posts at the Pedro Miguel locks.

Commander-in-Chief David F. Sellers expressed himself pleased with the clock-like work of men and ships.

"The continuous transit of the canal by the fleet as a unit has been a very valuable experience for all hands and it is believed that very useful data has been obtained," he told the Associated Press.

Lexington Is First

First to go through the canal was the airplane carrier Lexington, which left Balboa at 5:11 a. m. Monday. The Melville, the last, cleared Gatun locks at 5 a. m. today.

Officers had hoped the movement could be completed in half that time, but a heavy rain, the first

Officers And Employes Of Bank And Patrons Are Forced To Lie On Floor During Holdup; Later Locked In Vault

(Special To The Avalanche)

LEVELLAND, April 25. — Four gunmen who robbed First National bank here of about $1,280 this afternoon apparently had planned their get-away as carefully as they executed the holdup.

Trail of the bandits' V-8 Ford tudor coach, which sped rapidly over evidently familiar South Plains sideroads, was lost north of Anton.

Locked In Vault

Four bank officials and six customers were forced to lie down during the robbery. When the hijackers left, after about 15 minutes of ransacking money shelves and counters, they locked up the 10 persons in the vaults.

John Doyle, president; Harry Mann, vice president; Mrs. Irene Ellis, cashier, and Miss Martha Bradley, bookkeeper, officials, and Douglas Witt, ginner, and George Cotton, customers, were in the bank when three armed men entered about 2:10 o'clock. Cotton met the three men at the door, but he preceded them inside the building.

One Guards Door

One man, of whom no description was available, stood guard at the door; another guarded the prisoners, and a third took all money in sight. While the robbery was in progress Otis Burson, Ford dealer; W. B. Little, merchant; George Keeney, farmer; and Miss Opal Carter, telephone company manager, entered the bank. They were forced to lie down at the rear of the building. Fifteen dollars which Miss Carter was to deposit for her company was taken from her.

A fourth hijacker remained in the automobile, parked south of the bank, facing west.

Witt and Mrs. Ellis were in the rear of the building. Witt said first he knew of the robbery was when one of the men nudged him with a gun.

Wanted No One Hurt

Apparently the men ran to preappointed positions immediately after entering the bank. One man told the group that the trio was in the bank "on business" and that they did not want to hurt anyone.

None of the men resembled Clyde Barrow, Texas' No. 1 desperado, said Mrs. Ellis. A picture of Barrow is hung in the bank.

Miss Bradley, in the directors' room, said she saw the bandit car drive up and saw two men get out at first. The man who guarded the door had a money sack used in

Hamilton Says People Have Him All Wrong; Declares He Is No Killer And Would Always Give Up At A Showdown

(By The Associated Press)

SHERMAN, April 25. — Raymond Hamilton, of the Barrow gang of terrorists, came to a friendly parting of the ways with his gang chieftain, he revealed while propped on a bunk in the death cell of the Grayson county jail tonight.

"Clyde and I are not enemies. Our split was friendly, I just had some other business," the blond, young bank robber said.

"Clyde and I parted at Terre Haute, Ind. After the Lancaster bank robbery. Clyde would not stay at a house, always wanting to get his sleep on the run. I had to rest and wanted to stay at a house for a while.

"Two old heads helped me in the Grand Prairie bank robbery. Who were they? I couldn't say. But I will say my brother Floyd had nothing to do with it."

"People have me all wrong. I'm not a killer. I'd always give up at the showdown instead of fighting it out."

This remark he substituted for an assertion earlier in the afternoon that if "I had had a machine gun this afternoon I would have shot it out with them."

The jovial attitude he had maintained for several hours after his arrest quickly changed to one of uneasiness when he was informed that Mary O'Dare, his alleged companion in a McClennan county bank robbery had been captured at Amarillo.

"Well, I guess I got her into trouble. It looks like I have gotten my whole family into trouble."

Floyd Hamilton, brother of the notorious criminal, has been charged with the robbery of the Grand Prairie State bank and with complicity to murder and aiding a convict to escape in connection with Hamilton's spectacular delivery from the

CRYING BABIES

HERE is the other letter:

"Dear Miss Turner: Can't something be said in your column about infant children at public gatherings, especially at crowded lectures or theaters where hearing on the back rows, is difficult enough without the mumbling and even crying of restless babies?

Wouldn't it be better for one or two parents, with small children, to miss the lecture entirely than for three or four rows of other people to be unable to hear because of the infants?

And wouldn't it be far better for the child to keep him, when he is too young to enjoy or even understand the lecture or show, at home where he can have a drink of water or feel free to play and talk all he likes and where he is free from contagious germs which must be prevalent in a large crowd during this season of measles, whooping cough and pneumonia?".

WE'RE AFRAID TO SAY

WE SHALL not attempt, in this column, to tell parents how to rear children. We are afraid that our giving advice to parents would make them react as a girl does when her old maid aunt tries to tell her how to court her best beau.

We would add, however, to the reader's letter that we have experienced, offtimes, the same difficulty in the theaters and at public gatherings. The thing that bothers us the most is for the disinterested tiny tots to play with the gadgets on our hats or to sit practically astride our necks as we sit, trying desperately to feed our starved imagination at the moving picture theaters.

Your Tennis Rig

Sporting days are here again! You'll be needing a little tennis rig like this. Why not have it?

It's so remarkably inexpensive and simple to make. Brown linen made the shorts. The skirt is yellow cotton broadcloth. For a smart change, make another of striped seersucker.

Pattern No. 3247 includes pattern for blouse and two styles of shorts; either plaited or plain fronts. It cuts in sizes 12, 14, 16 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 1 5-8 yards of 39-inch material for blouse with 1 1-2 yards of 39-inch material, for shorts.

Order Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Fashion Bureau, 200 Fifth Avenue, New York City, N. Y. Price of pattern 15 cents. Spring Pattern Book 10 cents. Send stamps or coin (coin is preferred).

Look out! These 5 danger signals warn you of COSMETIC SKIN

You can use all the Rouge and Powder you wish, yet guard against ugly COSMETIC SKIN this modern way

"WHAT'S WRONG with me . . . my skin looks so coarse and dull—and I could cry about those horrid little blemishes!" Have you worried this way? Then you may have a modern complexion trouble, distressing, yet easy to guard against—COSMETIC SKIN.

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Don't blame cosmetics! They're harmless unless they are allowed to choke the pores. Many girls who think they're removing make-up thoroughly actually leave bits of stale cosmetics in the pores day after day. Then the pores become clogged, enlarged—soon the warning signals of cosmetic skin appear.

Soldier Of Fortune Is A Free Man Ready To Tackle Whatever Bobs Up

FORT WORTH, April 26. (AP) — Tracy Richardson, soldier of fortune, was a free man today, with nothing particularly in mind but "ready to tackle whatever comes along."

A mail fraud case against him was dismissed in federal court for lack of evidence, on recommendation of United States District Attorney Clyde Eastus.

Samuel Moore, indicted with Richardson and two others on charges of mail fraud in connection with the alleged promotion of a gold mine in Mexico, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years imprisonment at the federal reformatory at El Reno, Okla. He also was given a three-year sentence suspended for five years.

E. W. Jarman, a co-defendant who was promised immunity to testify, also was dismissed. The court had not acted at noon on the similar immunity plea of C. E. Simmons.

Richardson, neatly dressed in a gray suit and carrying a brief case under his arm, was sitting at the rear of the court room when his case was dismissed.

He had no plans for the future, but smilingly added:

"You'll be hearing from me."

Shakeup Seen For Far East

Brigadier General Frederick L. Bradman Is Recalled To States; Was Slated To Take Command Of Marines

BY MORRIS J. HARIS
Associated Press Foreign Staff

SHANGHAI, April 25. (AP) — The United States naval organization in the far east has undergone a shakeup, it was learned today.

Brigadier General Frederick L. Bradman of the marine corps, who arrived only Monday to take command of marine detachments in the orient, has been recalled to the United States.

Upham Is Silent

Admiral Frank Upham, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, under whom General Bradman was slated for service, was silent on the matter.

Bradman's sudden recall, it was believed, is partially explained by Washington's desire not to become involved in the far east political crisis in any degree beyond that necessary.

Chief Of Council

As commander of the marines in Shanghai Bradman, as a result of his rank, which is above that of commanders of defense forces of other nations, here, became chief of the Shanghai defense council, composed of the commanders of various defense forces here.

As American interests in Shanghai are sharply below those of Great Britain and Japan it is felt Washington considered it unwise and undesirable that an American officer occupy a responsibility regarded as rightfully belonging to others and therefore decided upon a quick withdrawal of Bradman, leaving Colonel J. C. Beaumont to continue in command of the local marine force.

Cubs Win Seventh Straight; Westerner Exes Outplay 1934 Eleven, 20-0

Chicago Team Is Surprising National Loop

Unfortunate Cincinnati Reds Victims Of Comedy Of Errors As Pat Malone Hurls Six-Hit Game For Winners

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 25. — Charlie Grimm's surprising Cubs were still one thousand per centers tonight—undefeated.

Their seventh straight victory in the National league pennant chase was stuck up in the big green score board at Wrigley field today as they slapped down the unfortunate Cincinnati Reds in a comedy of errors by the decisive margin of 6 to 1 behind a six-hit pitching performance of their former bad boy, big Pat Malone.

While their vaunted power and fielding deserted them as the Cubs made three errors and collected but seven hits off Paul "Hard Luck" Derringer and Ray Kolp, they swooped in to take full advantage of five Red misplays.

BOSTON 4; BROOKLYN 1

BOSTON, April 25. (AP)—With a home run and a double which accounted for five runs, Hal Lee, obtained from Philadelphia in a winter trade, personally escorted the Boston Braves to a 9 to 4 victory over Brooklyn today for their third straight triumph.

Lee cracked out his home run in the fourth with two mates on base to tie the count and then broke the deadlock in the sixth, when with two mates again on the bases, he hits his double.

Jack Van Bebber Licks Canadian With Furious Attack In Final Falls

Olympic Champ Uses New Hold On Rod Fenton

Jack Van Bebber pinned Rod Fenton with a hold of his own invention to turn the tide of battle against the snarling Canuck clouter in the three-fall main event at the auditorium arena last evening.

Van Bebber's hold, which won for him the second fall and which has never been officially christened or patented, is a combined alligator clutch and front crab with elements of a jack-knife split. It apparently came as a rude surprise to the bitter bundle of biceps from the lumber-camps.

Lightning Rod had won the first fall with a fusillade of drop-kicks after 17 minutes of grunting, grappling and grimacing.

Fenton Opens With Punch

Fenton, characteristically, opened the second heat with a whistling right cross to Jack's chin. Jack retaliated with a flying tackle and Rod scampered for the protection of the ropes. Van Bebber attempted to pull Fenton back on the mat but was himself kicked to the floor from the west side of the ring. Rod disengaged himself from the ropes and began to deliver an address to the crowd. Jack crawled under the platform, came up on the south side and caught Fenton with his defense down. Van Bebber then delivered a series of body blocks and butts, and then used his pet hold to win the second fall after only five minutes of mingling.

The deciding fall was a sore trial to Referee Cazzel. Fenton started off with a body scissors which he held for four minutes. Then he added a strangle hold to the scissors and was crow-barred loose for his pains.

Jack Wins Final

Jack scooped up a double leglock, spun Fenton about, and then stomped on him like a horse killing a rattlesnake. Rod rowed out of the ring, rested on the apron of the mat for a spell, and then timidly took his usual place in a corner, swiping at his nose the while.

Van Bebber attempted to break up the corner stand, but failed. Fenton lay Jack back against the ropes and administered a severe mauling. Referee Cazzel parted the tin-ears, slamming Fenton to the canvass, and Van Bebber swooped down for a body smother to take the last fall in 11 minutes.

In the semi-final, Billy Hallas, New Mexico, licked Ed McMillen, of Colorado, after 17 minutes of turgid mat-work.

Hallas attempted to cross-up his gangling opponent by loping swiftly about the ring on his knees after the manner of a street mendicant. McMillen scored with bottom-nudges and back scratches that caused the homely little Greek to behave like a man with the hives. Toward the denouement, Billy began to haul McMillen about the canvas with an arm pull and shoulder bump, incidentally, with great loss of hide to the Coloradian.

Hallas grabbed a McMillen leg, started a whirl with a rasping take-off from the mat, and then fell on Ed to take the bout in 17 minutes.

Jittery Joe Baffled

Jittery Joe Bauer, monkey-faced mauler from Coblenz, Germany, and Don Carver, nee Fred Philcot, of Capitan, New Mexico, grappled to a 20 minute stalemate in the curtain-raiser.

Matadors, Struck By Ineligibility, To Play Sul Ross

Eighteen Matador gridmen will be left at home because of scholastic difficulties Friday when the Texas Tech football squad embarks for their spring game Saturday at Alpine with the tough and talented Sul Ross Teachers.

And the Bull-fighter coaching staff was looking at the ground with tight-drawn mouths yesterday.

"We have had only 15 days of actual practice. Six boys have been out all week with the measles. Several others are only recuperating from pneumonia. The academic troubles hit some of the best material on the team. We expect to make a terrible showing.

"We will try to shake loose but the odds look too great. A lot of untried boys are going to get some experience under the guns this weekend."

McKeever At Full

No regular fullback is able to make the trip. Leonard Curfman and Jimmy Neill are on probation, and Baze, brilliant transfer from Shriener, is on his back with the measles. Therefore Ed McKeever, first string quarterback of last year's team, will get the nod at the fullback slot.

Louis Spears and Braxton Gilmore are due to start at the ends with Prim and Johnson as their understudies. Alvin Katrola and Burt Williams will divide time with Billy Holcomb and Joe Barlow at the tackles.

Lawrence Priddy is the center-designate, but "Tox" Wigginton will be sent in when he gets tired. Two little men, May and Nichols are probable starters at guard. Gaines Davis is only recently recovered of the measles but he will make the trip and may see considerable service at guard, as will the sophomores, Crow and McWilliams.

Good With Aerials

The starting backfield will probably include, besides McKeever, Beauchamp at field general, and McElroy and Dowell at halves. Clark is the next in line at quarter, and Reese and Winters will get the second call at halves.

Sul Ross has the best team in their history and since Saturday is the occasion of their homecoming they will be doubly formidable. The Teachers have been preparing for the game since the break of winter and are said to have developed a particularly effective aerial attack.

Cavalcade Wins Shenandoah Purse At Havre De Grace

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—With a smashing record-equalling performance, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Cavalcade, highly regarded eastern candidate for the Kentucky Derby, justified his short odds in the future books today when he soundly whipped six other eligibles in the Shenandoah purse at Havre De Grace, Md.

Starting his three-year-old campaign, after a successful juvenile career, Cavalcade sped around the mile and 70 yards in 1:41 4-5 to equal the track mark hung up by Osculator in 1932. At the finish he was breezing two lengths in front of Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agrarian, second in the Florida Derby. Another four lengths to the rear followed C. V. Whitney's Filly Jabot.

Cavalcade looked like a champion under the guidance of "Uncle" Mack Garner as he came from off the place to score as his rider pleased.

Cats Eke Win From Indians In 9th Frame

Fort Worth's 5-0 Lead Nearly Goes Glimmering As Oklahoma City Uses Five Men On Mound Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, April 25.—Hits by Harry Moore and Fred Tauby in the ninth inning with none out gave the Fort Worth Cats a 6 to 5 victory over Oklahoma City here today. The Indians used five pitchers, who issued 10 walks, while Fort Worth needed a pair of moundsmen, who gave up eight free tickets to first.

The Indians overcame a 5 to 0 lead to tie the score, but couldn't halt the Cats in the ninth.

DALLAS, 2; TULSA, 1

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—The Dallas Steers made it two straight over the Tulsa Oilers today, 2 to 1. Hank Thormahlen, chunky Tulsa southpaw, held the Steers hitless and runless for seven innings but the Steers won the game in the eighth on a clean single to left, a bunt that was scored a hit when Hale failed to cover first, and two errors that accounted for two runs.

Elam Vangilder, big righthander, opposed Thormahlen and was in numerouos holes but managed to be at his best in the pinches. He allowed nine hits. An estimated crowd of 250 persons saw the game.

West Dixie League Is To Open Today

LONGVIEW, April 25. (AP)—The West Dixie league will open tomorrow in three East Texas cities with one of the brightest outlooks of any Class C organization.

Opening days will be: Longview at Paris; Henderson at Tyler; Palestine at Jacksonville. Friday the teams will play in reverse order to give opening days to other towns. Paris, Palestine and Jacksonville are new members of the league.

Fred Nicholson, formerly with Baton Rouge, and Wayne Windle, former Texas league infielder, will co-manage the Paris team. Ray Fleskamper will pilot Longview. Clarance Roper will manage Henderson. Bobby Goff, last year with Oklahoma City, will lead the Palestine Pals. Wray Query, former Texas and Southern league catcher, will manage Tyler, and Wally Dashiel will be skipper of Jacksonville.

The favorite remark of Francis Schmidt, new Ohio State football mentor, when being told of the tremendous ability of some grid foe, is "remember, all those fellows put their pants on one leg at a time."

Former Stars Too Powerful For '34 Boys

Morris White, Erwin Gear And Charles Calhoun Do Some Fine Running; Nelson, Blagg Shine Brightly

Presenting a powerful line-up including many former all-district players, former stars of Lubbock High school football teams triumphed over the 1934 Westerner edition, 20 to 0 at Fair park Wednesday afternoon. The Exes scored three touchdowns and kicked two try for points while keeping their own goal line uncrossed.

In the middle of the first period, Dalton Blagg, dimunitive end of the 1931 team took a 20-yard pass and ran 20 more for the first counter. Bill Davidson, another member of the '31 team, kicked the try for point. In the second quarter Barnes, a guard for the Westerners blocked an attempted quick kick and carried it to the six-yard line but the Exes' defense was too powerful and kept the younger boys from scoring.

Westerners Show Up

In the third quarter, the Westerners staged a nice drive but could not score against the defensive play of the Exes. Morris White, Erwin Gear and Charles Calhoun did some nice running but a fumble recovered by the Exes halted the drive. Nelson, fullback for the Exes, broke loose and ran 60 yards for the second marker. The try for point was missed. The Westerners could not stage a sustained offensive drive but were in scoring position once due to a brilliant 35-yard return of a punt by Morris White. "Possum" Blackwell took a pass from Nelson for the final score. Nelson added the try for point.

The Westerner defense led by Barnes, Dixie White and Aycock did some good work. The superior weight and experience of the Exes proved to be a big factor in their win. Bob Crawford, Mack Scoggins, Bill Davidson, Rufus Ryan, Joe Nelson, "Red" Doherty, Ernest Dowell, Dalton Blagg, Tol Terrell, Hodges, Wimberly, Waymond, Newton, Jesse Granberry, Sam Bradley, Ed Simmons, "Stumpy" Bradshaw, Harold Jenkins, Bob Vaught, Haskell Speer, George Janes, Maurice Snyder, "Cotton" Welch, "Sunky" Stovall, Wayne Prather and others were the Exes who took part in the game.

Aggies Leading Southwest Race

(By The Associated Press)

The four-team Southwest conference baseball pennant race will go into another lap this week-end when the Texas A. and M. Aggies invade Waco Friday and Saturday to play Baylor and the Texas Christian Frogs go to Austin the same days to play the University of Texas.

The teams are in the home stretch with the Aggies holding the inside track with five wins and one defeat. However, Texas Christian and the University of Texas retain a chance to win the bunting. The Baylor Bears surprised last week with a 4 to 3 victory over the Longhorns in the final of their two-game series at Austin.

The conference campaign will close May 14-15 with the Aggies playing the Longhorns at Austin. The Baylor Bears and Texas Christian Frogs will close shop May 10-11 in a two-game series at Fort Worth.

Yankees Take Second Game From A's Behind Smart Hurling Of MacFayden; Tigers Lose Second In Five Starts

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 25.—Behind the smart pitching of Bespectacled Danny MacFayden, the New York Yankees today took their second game from Philadelphia, 3 to 2.

MacFayden, who also defeated the A's last week in Philadelphia, gave the Mackmen only eight scattered hits, two of which came in the ninth inning, when the former Red Sox hurler squelched a budding rally with Jimmy Foxx on second base with the tying run.

Alton Benton, Rookie, right hander up from Oklahoma City, pitched well enough to win most games but one streak of wildness in the fourth inning proved costly.

What proved to be the winning run was scored in the eighth inning off Bob Kline, another pass to Ruth and a pair of singles by Gehrig and Chapman producing the tally.

CLEVELAND, 5; ST. LOUIS, 1

ST. LOUIS, April 25. (AP)—Timely hitting behind Monty Pearson's fine pitching gave the Cleveland Indians their second straight victory of the series over the Browns today, 5 to 1.

Until the eighth inning, when the Indians scored three runs, it was a spirited pitching duel between Pearson and Big George Blaeholder, although Frank Pytlak and Joe Vosmik had driven in runs in the third and sixth innings with singles.

CHICAGO, 3; DETROIT, 2

DETROIT, April 25. (AP) — Detroit's Tigers lost their second game in five starts with the Chicago White Sox here today when two wild throws put the Sox in position to nose out Mickey Cochrane's club 3 to 2.

After the Tigers had taken a 2 to 0 lead in the seventh inning, the Sox tied the count in the eighth when Goslin threw wide to the plate trying to catch Hayes at home. In the same frame, Pitcher Frasier let loose a wild pitch and Swanson romped home from third with the tying run.

In the ninth the Pale Hose pushed across the winning run when Appling singled, and came home on Hayes' single.

Press Freedom Is Unimpaired

ewspaper Publishers Said To Have Good Code; ANPA Will Meet; President Of Group Offers Report

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Asrting that the constitutional arantee of freedom of the press mained unimpaired under the ily newspaper code, Howard avis, president of the American ewspaper Publishers association, iced the belief today that "newsaper publishers of this country ve a godo code under which to erate."

Reporting successively as presint of the A. N. P. A. and chairan of the code committee before e first regular session of the asciation's annual convention, Davis ated that the code constituted the ost important problem confront- directors of the association dur- the past year.

Freedom Vital Factor

"The vital factor of successful ewspaper publication is an unmpered and uncensored press," said in the president's opening dress.

"Freedom of the press, one of the st cherished possessions of this tion, is guaranteed by our constiion, and in the belief that no act ours should lessen or impair that arantee, your board and (code) mmittee felt it incumbent upon em to insist upon its specific resvation in the daily newspaper de. Notwithstanding violent opsition, our position was maintned and the code was eventually proved including such reservaion."

Reviews Events

As chairman of the newspaper de committee, and a member of sub-committee handling negotions at Washington, Davis reewed events leading up to final esidential approval of the daily wspaper code and the graphic s code February 24.

During the negotiations subseent to presidential approval ree points developed, Davis said. One was maintenance of the wspaper boy delivery and sales tem; two demands or organized or representatives for a wage le; and, three, the request of the rly organized newswriters' guild for recognition in the code.

Maintain System

"It was the committee's position from the outset that the newspaper boy delivery system should be maintained," Davis told the publishers.

"Your committee did consent to a modification of the original provision respecting the employment of newspaper boys, which limits the hours of work in street sales at night to those under 16 years of age and prohibits such night selling by persons under 16 years of age after 7 o'clock in the winter months and 8 o'clock in the summer months.

"With respect to the demand of certain labor leaders for wage scales, your committee from the outset took the position it was impossible to accede to such a demand, insisting that the difference in the cost of living conditions, respective earnings and established trade customs, made it not only impracticable, but impossible to do more than follow the maximum hours and minimum wages contained in the code. As a result * * * the code * * * sets forth no wage scales as such. * * *

"Conferences were held with the guild representatives after the hearing, as a result of which the code committee ordered a survey of hours, wages and working conditions of newswriters and approved a provision in the code authorizing such action as the code authority might approve to fix maximum hours and minimum wages as a result of this survey.

"The survey has been completed, but the problem is now that of the code authority."

Spring Styles Are Displayed As An Annual Beauty School Ends In City

Seven young women, with specially designed hair dress, modeled spring sports frocks and afternoon and evening dresses Wednesday evening at a style show that brought to a close the third annual spring beauty school sponsored by Russell Morrison and company. Dresses were from Jarett's Cinderella shop. The showing was at the Lindsey theater.

Miss Theo Bender of St. Louis, Mo., who lectured and gave demonstrations at the school, was mistress of ceremonies.

Models Listed

Models were Misses Floyce Apperson, Eldora Hill, Mary Burke, Carlene Ince, Rosalie and Charlotte Cousins and Dorothy Vandagriff.

The hair styles showed the new stream line and windswept coiffures. They were designed by George Scoggins and Louis Barton, lecturers at the school.

The sports suits varied from angel skin to a white linen, corded crepe, cellenase and imported linen crash. Simplicity prevailed in the fashions.

Rose Favored Color

Rose was a favored color in the afternoon dresses of sheer silk pique, printed cellenase, and crepe. One model wore a navy sheer and tafetta dress and another a linen lace with brown linen jacket.

An imported seersucker organdie evening dress was shown. Mousseline de soie led in favored fabrics. Three dresses, pink, white and blue, were of this material. Another was of printed crepe and still another of starched chiffon. Sashes were much in evidence.

Miss Bender wore a lace dress over yellow with purple jacket.

PLANS CAMPAIGN

WICHITA FALLS, April 25. (AP)—Tom F. Hunter, candidate for governor, announced today that he would campaign in North and East Texas, starting at Cameron on April 27.

His itinerary for this region included Waxahachie and Kaufman on April 28; Bonham, April 30; Clarksville, May 1; Gilmer, May 2; McKinney, May 3, and Gainesville, May 4.

An Independence, Kas., taxpayer returned an assessment blank listing household goods at $30 and two dogs at $200.

Samuel Insull Relates Story

Fugitive From Justice Tells Of His Detention In Turkey And Says It Was Own Fault That He Got Caught

By JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff
(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

S. S. EXILONA, April 25—Headed out to sea again, on the last leg of the voyage which will end with his trial in Chicago, Samuel Insull, sr., today revealed his personal story of his detention in Turkey.

The aged man, who eluded American authorities 18 months, was up early despite a slight heart attack which he suffered last night before the ship sailed from Casablanca Morocco.

In Good Health

He appeared in good health again.

Looking back on events, Insull was quick to admit that his decision to halt his escape ship, the S. S. Maiotis, during its passage of the Black Sea was the error that precipitated his downfall. Nevertheless, it was understood that his ship would have been stopped by the Turks if it had not heaved to of its own accord.

Legally, he insists, the Maiotis' position was sound under the terms of the Bosporus Straits treaty which gives ships stopping for less than 24 hours the privilege of transit and accompanying guarantees.

Turks Are Accused

He accuses the Turks of obliging him to remain in the harbor at Istanbul beyond the 24-hour limit by placing policemen aboard and thinking up pretexts to delay the departure. He says his original plan was to stay at Istanbul only three hours.

Insull says he virtually gave up hope of avoiding delivery to American authorities the moment he was obliged to set foot on shore after the ship had overstayed its transit limit.

Traffic Resumed Over Rail Line

PADUCAH, April 25. (AP)—Traffic was resumed today over the stretch of railroad track where a passenger train was derailed yesterday, injuring the engineer and fireman.

The train left the track at a crossing where hard rains had covered the rails with mud and gravel. The engine overturned in a deep cut, pulling the baggage car over on its side and derailing other cars.

Wrecking crews worked all night clearing away the obstruction and repairing the line.

Bill Norman engineer, and Joe Shaw, fireman were recovering at their Quanah homes today from a severe shaking and cuts and bruises. They stayed in their cab as the engine overturned in the cut.

There were no passengers on the train and the baggage clerks escaped injury. There were only two coaches beside the baggage car.

The wreck occurred on the Quanah, Acme and Pacific railroad line four miles west of Paducah.

Patton Funeral Services Held At Clovis On Tuesday

CLOVIS, April 25. (Special)—Funeral services for the late Perkins L. Patton, son of Judge and Mrs. Harry L. Patton, who died in a Lubbock hospital Sunday morning, were held at the First Presbyterian church here Tuesday afternoon.

Young Patton, born at Bentonville, Ark., November 29, 1900, was ill for nine months before his death. He was taken to Lubbock recently for a blood transfusion. He was a graduate of the Clovis high school, the University of New Mexico and George Washington University, Washington and was admitted to the bar in 1926. He was a law partner of his father then later of the then Judge Carl A. Hatch, now U. S. senator from New Mexico.

Besides his widow and his parents, a son, Harry Lee, three, a brother, William Henry Patton, and a sister, Mrs. Edwin G. Hobbs, survive.

Mayor W. H. Thompson Chosen As Brownwood City Manager

BROWNWOOD, April 25. (AP)—Mayor W. H. Thompson, who has served temporarily as city manager the last two weeks, was elected to that position last night by the Brownwood city council. In addition to his duties as mayor and city manager, Thompson will serve as city police judge.

Former Mayor W. A. Butler, who did not seek re-election this year, served two years as city manager during his term of office.

Eighteen Men Are Enlisted In Army From Lubbock Post

Eighteen men have been enlisted in the U. S. Army through the Lubbock recruiting office so far in April. Sergeant James R. Maples, local recruiting officer, said last night in announcing enlistments were still open.

The men came from Ralls, Slaton, Levelland, Ropesville, Girard, Abernathy, Amherst, Happy and Shallowater. They were assigned to either the cavalry or the field artillery at Fort Bliss. "There are still vacancies in both branches," Sergeant Maples added.

Recruits were: B. L. Whitehead, Ralls, D. G. Hendrix and C. M. Mitchell, Slaton; M. M. Clark, L. D. Culbert and J. D Price, Levelland; V. A. W. Bates, Glen Brooks and V. P. Brooks, Ropesville; John R. Brooks, Girard; E. W. and J. R. Nunn, Abernathy; J. E. Parker, Amherst; C. E. Rucker, Happy; John V. Oar, Shallowater, and Alvin W Blanton, Charles W. Oliver and J. D. Murphy, Lubbock.

NEW MORTON BUSINESS

MORTON (Special)—Bill Davis, of Levelland, has announced his intentions of starting a barber shop here. Recently he has been driving a bread truck from Levelland. He is an experienced barber.

Agricultural experts say horses and cattle often become infected with internal parasites when grazed on the same pasture year after year.

Double Tragedy

Climaxing a nervous breakdown Robert B. Newcomb (below), prominent Cleveland attorney, hacked his wife (above) to death with an axe and then committed suicide.

Declares Wife Drew A Pistol

Thomas Gilcrease Testifies In His Divorce Suit; Says Wife Preferred Her Wine To Caring For Child

PAWHUSKA, Okla., April 25. (AP)—Thomas Gilcrease, wealthy oil man, testified in his divorce suit today that Mrs. Norma Smallwood Gilcrease, 1926 "Miss America," turned a loaded pistol toward him when he broke into a room of their home at Tulsa in 1932.

"I kicked the door down after she had kept me out all day under the pretext she had no key, and while I was looking about she drew the pistol," said Gilcrease.

Took It From Her

"I demanded the pistol and when she refused to give it to me I took it from her.

"Later I found the weapon had five loaded bullets in the chamber."

The pearl handled pistol was introduced in evidence.

Gilcrease testified he had tried to get into the room to change to other clothes stored there and that Mrs. Gilcrease told him her mother, Mrs. Mahala Smallwood Dickerson, had the only key.

Is Locked Out

After several hours' delay waiting for the mother, Gilcrease said he would break in and his wife dashed upstairs ahead of him, opened the door with a key she had in her purse and locked him out.

It was then that he "kicked the door down," he testified.

Earlier Gilcrease had testified to many minor incidents which he said led to filing of the divorce suit. One, he said, was his wife's alleged preference for wines to caring for their child.

On one trip to join him abroad she arrived with liquor on her breath, Gilcrease said, and when he went with her to the purser's stateroom for farewells he saw her picture there.

On another occasion in the home at Tulsa, she spoiled a business deal by dancing in front of the prospective customer with her skirts raised, the oil man said.

Two Sisters Are Lodged In Jail On Charges Of Robbery

HOUSTON, April 25. (AP)—Estelle Davis, 21, and Dorothy Davis, 23, sisters, were lodged in jail here today on charges of aiding in the $675 robbery of the Willis State bank at Willis last week.

Officers alleged the girls went to Montgomery county on the day of the robbery and brought away the loot and the actual robbers, Robert Johnson, and Vernon Stiles. Dorothy Davis termed the arrests "persecution" and said she and her sister had nothing to do with the robbery.

Estelle claims to be the wife of Earl Joiner, notorious bank robber. She was with him when he was captured near Houston a few weeks ago.

STAY OF EXECUTION

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today granted a 30-day stay of execution to Nathan Brooks, Houston negro, whose electrocution was set for April 27 at Huntsville.

Brooks was convicted of fatally stabbing his common law wife, Ollie Lee Morris, May 5, 1933. Clemency was urged by 10 of the jurors in the case.

NEW SPUR LAUNDRY

Japan Pictured In The Costume Of A Social Worker, Not That Of Warrior

GENEVA, April 25 (AP)—Japan in the costume of a social welfare worker—not in the grim garb of the warrior—is the picture drawn by Masayuki Yokoyama, Japanese consul general here.

He outlined the picture in elaborating on his previous enunciation of Japan's policy of "Asia for Asiatics" and of opposition to foreign meddlers in Chinese affairs.

The youthful envoy expressed regret that other powers should see Japan as planning the conquest of eastern Asia.

"We do not want to drive away foreign peoples from the Far East," he said.

"We intend to respect treaties. And remember, the Japanese influence in China is good not only for China but for the interests of foreign nations.

"Japan has no intention of obstructing the interests, the integrity, and the independence of China. Japan has no intention of blocking the interests of other powers if they pursue useful, and economic relations with China."

Yokoyama added firmly, however:

"I am authorized also to say that Japan nevertheless can not accept and will oppose any form of assistance to China which is contrary to peace in eastern Asia."

blood will tell—

ONE of the mysteries of life is how much care a man will take of thoroughbred animals—noting when they are "off"... and toning them back to the "pink of condition" to increase their daily usefulness... yet will shamefully neglect his own run-down condition.

Yet some people just hope when "run-down" that they will "come around."

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in restoring deficient red-blood-cells and a low hemo-glo-bin content. If your condition suggests a blood tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite... your color and skin should improve with increased strength and energy.

Protecting Consumers

WHETHER advantage has been taken of the NRA by some manfacturers and dealers to boost prices unreasonably is a question raised in connection with the recovery program. Charges of profiteering have been made.

The administration has promised to see that the consumer is not victimized by being made to pay higher prices than conditions justify. Prices of practically everything have advanced since the recovery plan was inaugurated. This was to have been expected and was necessary to take care of the increases in wages and other costs of manufacture caused by the recovery program. The problem of preventing prices from advancing faster than wages has been recognized by the administration.

In an effort to keep a closer check on the situation and to protect the consuming public, the national emergency council has established a consumers division. Experimental local consumers' councils will be set up and a coordinating agency established for the advisory board of the NRA. One of the functions of the consumers division will be to conduct a survey of the prices under codes, in connection with other governmental departments, especially the bureau of labor statistics. What constitutes fair prices will be a question studied. The experimental local councils will be directed by the 48 state directors of the national emergency council. They will consist of seven volunteer members.

This action will have the effect of assuring the consumer that his interests are not being neglected by the recovery administration. If prices generally are to be held within reasonable and proper limits, it will be necessary for an official eye to be kept on them.

LAWYERS CLEAN HOUSE

The St. Louis Bar association seems to have taken seriously the recent demands made upon the legal profession by some of its own members to clean house. Its example is one that should appeal to other similar organizations throughout the country. If followed generally, it would have the effect of relieving the bar of some of the criticism which has been leveled at it in connection with the wide prevalence of crime in America.

The St. Louis association, noting that an unusually large number of receiverships were being handled in St. Louis courts, was moved by a wholesome curiosity to see if all was well. It, consequently, named a special committee to conduct an investigation. Here are some of the things it discovered: Represensible practices had been permitted by several members of the St. Louis circuit court; "grossly excessive" fees had been allowed in some cases; more receivers were appointed than were needed, with attorneys being allowed for each; in the selection of receivers lawyers were picked without particular regard to their knowledge of receivership procedure, and "politicians, officeholders and others equally unfitted were made receivers, without notice to defendants, and receiverships were granted by consent.

The association was not satisfied with uncovering these abuses. Steps were taken promptly to prevent their recurrence by setting up permanent machinery for investigations.

Receiverships offer a wide and profitable field for abuses, and disclosure in recent years have shown that the opportunity is one that has been taken advantage of in cities other than St. Louis. Bar associations could do much to clean up this situation if they would follow the example of the St. Louis body. Similar vigilance in other directions also would be rewarded with gratifying results.

Such activities serve not only to keep the profession of law clean but are important in their relation to the public interest.

A transfer of property is genuine only when the wife could legally hold it if she got mad.

Being unable to pace the floor dosn't seem to handicap the Roosevelt thinking apparatus.

After all, the best explanation of modern youngsters is their youth.

FIFTH STEP IN WORSHIP

"And the publican smote upon his breast saying . . ."—Luke 18:13.

The fifth step in worship is to formulate in clear and comprehensive words the readjustment of my thinking and acting which I have discovered is required in order to solve the problem confronting me. The word statement should be repeated many times until it becomes a subconscious pattern for thought and action.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT continues to be very coy on the question of international debts. White House callers get the same old answer that his message to congress on the subject is just that much nearer.

As reported here on previous occasions the message—when it finally does come—will be simply a factual report rather than a suggestion for any new method of downward revision.

Still there are indications it will clear up two interlocking points that have kept foreign capitals and international bankers guessing for some time.

Congress may count on being advised as to just how valid "token payments" are. Its members have wondered about this ever since Great Britain and other nations started sending us a dime on account with notice to cuff the rest.

Clarification of the status of nations making token payments will automatically interpret the Johnson Act which forbids Americans dealing in bonds with, or loaning money to, any government in default of its debts to us.

So far the State and Treasury departments have persistently declined to define all the angles to a "default." The White House says it doesn't know—yet.

Men with good diplomatic contacts believe this government will continue officially to regard token payments as acknowledgment of indebtedness.

They reason that the British, who started the practice, would hardly have again budgeted us out of our next-due installment without a gentlemen's agreement on the inside. The British are proud on the point of meeting obligations.

Not that they expect really to pay up. They're waiting for another scaling down that will cut the heart out of the present bill and maybe give them a receipt in full. Unfortunately for London this can be promised but congress must stamp the receipt.

GARNER: At the recent Gridiron dinner Vice President Jack Garner watcher a skit in which a Senatorial Marc Anthony "buried" him in the upper house of congress. It was well done, good fun, and in keeping with the idea that any man who becomes vice president undergoes political embalming.

Yet careful tour of the senate halls would incline one to believe that Cactus Jack hasn't anywhere near reached the oblivion of some of his predecessors.

To a far greater degree than the two Charlies—Curtis and Dawes—Garner sits with the inner circle and helps keep the senate wheels rotating.

As a minority leader in the house Garner learned a lot of inside strategy. Later, as speaker, he added to his bag of parliamentary tricks.

The result is he sits constantly with the administration Senate leaders—particularly when some feared piece of legislation is marked for slaughter. Senate reporters attest he knows the legislative future better than most members who circulate freely in executive committee meetings.

In the chair Garner gives the senate an occasional touch of his old house days. He gavels through legislation so fast the floor doesn't know what it's all about. He can't try it often because senate rules are so elastic that the opposition can get reconsideration when it wakes up. But he does it every so often just to keep in trim.

Garner has done one big thing with the vice presidency. He has taken it out of the Washington social whirl.

Whereas in recent years the vice president was counted upon to eat all the dinners the President couldn't attend, it is a rarity when you catch Garner out after dark. He lives pretty much on a schedule which has a 9.30 bedtime. And Mrs. Garner, who acts also as a faithful secretary, does her best to see he follows it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NOW that the hubbub about the Lehman utility bills is over New York utilities are pinching themselves to see whether they are still all in one piece. Somewhat to their surprise they find they are.

They still don't like the Lehman laws but expert analysis interprets them as having more bark than bite. They expect to pay through the nose for the Public Service Commission's new privilege of assessing the costs of investigation against the utilities investigated. But the amount involved will be annoying rather than ruinous.

The bugaboo of municipal ownership is less frightening at close range than it was at a distance. After all municipalities still have to win popular referenda before they can go into the power business. Any town that tries it will find a battle on its hands. The utilities were driven out of their front trenches but their second line of defense is very strong.

CONTEST: The only Lehman measure likely to produce a legal contest is the one which authorizes the Public Service commission to order a temporary rate reduction to a 5 per cent return. If the commission uses this power several groups are prepared to bring immediate suit against the state in the federal courts for confiscation without due process of law.

What's more—despite the Supreme Court's pro-New Deal decisions—they are optimistic about the outcome. They point out that the Supreme Court laid stress on the emergency as a justification for the Minnesota mortgage and New York milk decisions and contend that in their case it's not an emergency question but a matter of permanent principle.

STRATEGY: Several influencial New York City Republicans want to center this fall's state campaign on the Tammany issue and leave FDR and his policies out of it as far as possible. They think the President is still too popular to be a good target. Governor Lehman would be represented as a nice fellow but helpless to control the Tammany-dominated Democrats in the legislature.

Of course there are many Republicans who thirst for a chance to assault the New Deal. The authors of the state party platform will have a lot of fun trying to please everybody.

TAMMANY: The Tammany situation is shaping toward rule by a triumvirate. Curry will be officially out but it's likely that one of the triumvirs will be a loyal buddy to the ex-boss. Farley will have nothing to do with the organization officially but you can paste it in your hat that he'll get along all right with the new leadership.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

CHURCH OF THE PAVEMENT STONE

Tsar Alexander II was assassinated by a nihilist on March 13, 1881. An expiatory church was erected on the spot which is the most sumptuous in all Leningrad. It is all marble, silver, gold and precious stones, richly ornamented. At the entrance under a baldachin of precious marble, lies the bloody pavement stone and a piece of the balustrade on which the Emperor leaned when he was struck down. This is the most important exhibit in the church and the grandiose edifice was built for the purpose of housing it.

CHAPTER XLVIII

The maples flew red banners against a sky of heavenly blue. The air was crisp and bracing here under the old trees with a boy of four spread-eagled in a sand pile and two or three white-capped workmen loitering among the shavings.

Two women came out of the house and stood on the porch. One was slight, with flyaway dark curls and an apricot flush on her cheek. The other had crisp hed hair under her white felt hat. She was smiling.

"I think you've done wonders to the place," she said eagerly. "Who would have thought of making that old barn into a studio? It's perfect."

"The school will be open next week," said the dark-haired one with animation. "I have two helpers already. Of course it's an experiment so we can't promise much in the way of money. We have three groups. The juniors, from 13 months to two and a half; and the runabouts who can go from that to four. (David is in that.) And then the seniors. They're the real kindergartners, of course—the average pre-school children. Why don't you come in?"

"Oh, I'd love to, Gypsy," cried Sue Gibson. "I wonder if I could! I don't know a thing about the work but I was wondering what on earth I'd do with myself this winter. Of course while Hunt and I were in Mexico I was busy—it was fascinating. I learned Spanish. I even took a course in archaeology, although half the time I didn't know what Professor de Mores was talking about. But it was good practice."

"Well, talk it over with Hunt anyway," said Gypsy, encouraging. "You'll be in an apartment, so if you don't go in for golf or bridge or something you'll have time on your hands."

"Plenty of that," said Sue soberly. "Gypsy, he really is a pet—Davy, I mean. You don't know how I envy you!"

"He's sweet." The dark-haired young woman's eyes shone. "But do you know, if I could have been out here that first year instead of in an apartment everything would have been different. I used to think I would go crazy, cooped up there in the city, with nothing to look out at—nothing to do, really, although Davy's needs kept me busy enough. That's the trouble with the first years of marriage," she mused. "You're getting used to an entirely different kind of life—no one really prepares you for it. Somehow you have a feeling that it's just going to be a continuation of the parties and showers everyone has been giving for you. And then suddenly you're cook and chambermaid and nurse and you don't know what it's all about."

"You didn't seem to have any bumps the first year, though," Sue said, pulling her white gloves on. "You and Tom always got on beautifully."

"Didn't I, though?" Gypsy's eyes crinkled reminiscently. "Well, I was pretty silly and half-baked, I can tell you. I used to go to Lila's to a party and come home and be discontented for a week. Tom was sweet. He knew it was bad for me but he didn't say a word. Then when he was working hard, trying desperately to get a foothold in the office, I'd crab if her were kept late. I'd be horrid and suspicious and jealous. Don't be jealous, Sue," she interrupted herself to say. "It spoils everything. Half the time it's something manufactured out of your own head. It I'd had some work that interested me—or if I had been able to get away from the baby oftener, keep my brains dusted off, I never would have been like that. That's what we hope to do for the girls around here. They won't have to worry about their children four mornings a week. We're keeping the fee down so that almost anyone can afford it. And we're going to have lots of fun."

"How did you happen to find this place?" Sue wanted to know, leading the way to her little car, parked under the big sugar maple which was already shedding its autumn effulgence all over the driveway.

"Well, we were in the market. I don't know whether I ever told you—the cabin at Wading Hollow burned down. That village idiot who frightened me out of my wits barged in there one night when the place was empty and upset the oil stove. He was"—she shuddered over the words—"he was horribly burned and died. We had a little insurance but not much and we were just sick over it. Then the state went around, buying up land for Whipple Beach (I guess you haven't heard of that; it's been done since you went to Mexico). Anyhow, it's a marvelous stretch of beach—belongs to the public. They made a bid for our place and it was wonderful, getting the money in one fell swoop. That was just about the time Tom has his promotion—a year ago—and we started out at once in pursuit of a house. Tom doesn't mind the commuting and he thought it would be grand to be near the family."

"Nice he gets on with them so well," Sue murmured.

"Oh, Mums adores him. If he were her own son she couldn't be fonder. Well, we found this place. The house wasn't in bad shape. It's 100 years old; you know, but it had been remodeled about 20 years ago by some artist and his wife who had to go west. The barn was a big old ramshackle place but it had fine beams and a good foundation. We concentrated on the house first. Paint and plumbing and whatnot. Whipple Beach was our fairy godmother."

"It's charming." Sue glanced back at the white house, crouched in the shade of arching trees. The veranda was furnished with deep chairs and scattered tables.

"Then I had this brainstorm about the nursery school. It will be fun for me and maybe some day I'll make some money. Tom is as enthusiastic as I am. He spends week-ends hammering and sandpapering. We've just about finished. Come around a week from Monday and I'll show you our student body. All in pink rompers."

"I will," Sue promised. She was

AUSTIN, April 25 (AP)—There will be another quick shift in the office of state relief director if the courts uphold R. L. Holliday of El Paso in his fight against removal from the Texas Relief commission.

Adam Johnson was removed as director by the commission majority after Holliday had been unseated by vote of the commission and replaced by Col. Julius Dorenfield of Amarillo. Should Holliday's claims be sustained Johnson would again be placed in the position, a member of the commission said.

"We asked him to take the job in the first place and he will go back in if Holliday wins this law suit," the commission member added.

If Holliday's ouster sticks, Miss Marie Dresden, who succeeded Johnson as relief director, likely will continue.

"Executive Session" Trouble

The old trouble of "executive session" is again besetting capitol newspaper men.

To be met at the door of a committee room by the asertion "executive session" was no novelty a few years ago. By vociferous protests and strenuous demands the newspapermen about broke up the practice. In several instances when legislative committees souoght to bar them newsmen refused to leave and challenged the committee's authority to hold closed meetings.

Soon Abandoned Them

Committeemen finally were convinced that press representatives were determined to protect their freedom and abandoned executive meetings.

Recent closed sessions of the Texas Relief commission have irked reporters. The session at which Adam Johnson was discharged as relief director was behind closed doors.

An attempt was made after the meeting to deny reporters access to the official motion on which Johnson was ousted. The newsmen protested and the commission majority made the unsatisfactory gesture of authorizing its secretary to make a statement to the press.

The vote on Johnson's ouster was supposed to be kept a dark secret. Newsmen had it from authentic sources within a few minutes after they were refused the official record.

This usually is the case. Few things happen in an executive session that are not found out by reporters.

As Teiryo Murakami was about to burn some old papers in Tokyo he discovered one was an issue of the New York Herald announcing President Lincoln's death.

Boy Abductor Of Baby Is Jailed

As prosecutors debated their course of action, 13-year-old G. Rogalski of Chicago was held in jail after a coroner's jury recommended he be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. The boy admitted abducting two-year-old Dorette Zietlow and leaving her in an abandoned building. As a result of exposure she died soon after she was found. (Associated Press Photo)

THE SON OF TARZAN, No. 76

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tantor, the elephant, flapped his big ears lasily as he slowly walked through the teeming midday jungle. Now and then he would reach for some juicy morsel with his trunk. On his broad back lolled Korak, the ape-man. They made but a few miles each day. What matter to Korak. He had no place in particular to go. Since the years before when he had lost Meriem life was meaningless. He was content with food and sleep.

Today he had come upon the trail of the Sheik's band but it did not interest him. All he wanted was never to see a human face again. Men always brought him sorrow and misery. It had been years since he had come this far north and the sight of a river aroused him somewhat from his apathy. For a while he busied himself fishing, then curled himself in a tree to sleep. Numa, roaring beneath him, awoke him. He saw that night had fallen.

Presently something else caught his attention. He listened. Was there something in the tree beside himself? Yes, he heard the noise of something trying to clamber above. Then the click of a crocodile's jaws in the waters beneath! Korak gazed downward. Against the faint luminosity of the water he saw the figure of a man clinging to one of the lower branches. Silently the ape-man clambered toward him. He felt a hand beneath his foot.

Korak reached down, clutched the figure beneath him and dragged it up among the branches. It struggled weakly and struck at him; but Korak paid no more attention than would Tantor to an ant. He lugged his burden to the higher safety and greater comfort of a broad crotch, and there propped it against the tree's trunk. Numa, below, roared in anger at being so robbed of his prey. Thus Korak, the ape-man, saved Morison Baynes.

Lubbock Evening Journal
Lubbock Morning Avalanche
Sunday Avalanche-Journal
(Sunday Morning)

All classified advertising will appear in both the Morning and Afternoon papers—both papers counting one insertion. All classified advertising is printed in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche first and the Daily Journal of the same date, no classified originating in the afternoon paper.

Classified for Sunday's issue will appear in the Avalanche-Journal counting one insertion, as this paper is sent to all subscribers of both the afternoon and morning papers.

AVALANCHE-JOURNAL
Combined Rates:

Minimum words per insertion, 10.
One insertion, per word 4c
Two insertions, per word 6c
Three insertions, per word 7c
Seven insertions, per word 12c
Thirty insertions, per word 45c

These rates are for consecutive insertions only. Additional consecutive insertions over 30 times, at 1½c per word each.

All out-of-town ads, received by mail must be Cash with order. No exceptions. "NO REFUNDS" on ad stopped after it has appeared in paper.

PHONE 13 OR 14

Our experienced ad taker will receive your ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the following day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for our patrons and for one day only.

No advertisements accepted on an "until forbid" order. A specified number of insertions must be given.

We reserve the right to place an advertisement under the proper classification and reject unclean or objectionable copy.

Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rates.

The publishers are not responsible for copy omissions, typographical errors, or any unintentional error that may occur, further than to correct it next issue after it is brought to their attention. All advertising orders are accepted on this basis only.

Classified advertising accepted until 3:30 p. m. on week days, and 9:00 p. m. on Saturdays, and all advertising received after 6:00 p. m. will be placed under "Too Late To Classify."

Ionian Quartet To Be Presented

The Ionian quartet will be presented in a concert in Lubbock High school auditorium, at 8:15 o'clock tonight, Prof. W. R. Waghorne announced yesterday.

The program replaces the cancelled appearance here of Mme. Matzenauer, contralto. Persons who do not have tickets may purchase them from the college business office, from Professor Waghorne, or at the boxoffice tonight.

Members of the quartet are Harold Dearborn, first tenor; Albert Barber, second tenor; Baldwin Allan-Allen, baritone; and Hildreth Martin, bass.

ficials believe that most of the rural families can be put in a position this year, or next, to take care of themselves.

Will Use Surplus

Any surplus they produce may be used for the relief of the needy in the cities.

In turn, if the proposal to reopen plants for the urban unemployed is found practical, they will produce goods to be used by the farm and small town dwellers now getting relief and for the city poor as well.

The entire operation would be supervised, or managed, by federal agencies in cooperation with the states.

Despite improved conditions, persons on federal rolls number approximately 4,700,000 as compared to about 4,500,000 at this time last year.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Stocks were sluggish today and found little comfort in a late recovery of wheat and silver futures. Bonds seemed fairly steady, but the day's activity was rather negative, notwithstanding evidence of further trade betterment. Prices with a diminished volume in sales went an irregularly lower movement. A few issues were fairly weak and a few advanced quietly.

Peoples Drug, California Packing, Harbison Walker preferred, Illinois Central preferred, Universal Pipe preferred, The Fair preferred, American Snuff preferred, McLellan preferred, Revere Brass preferred, Eastman Kodak, Ward Baking "A" and National Steel advanced one to several points. Textiles turned soggy on a reduction in rayon prices. Rails were little changed while motors looked easier. Several steels sagged slightly. Westinghouse was firm. Utilities went mildly lower. Transactions totaled 983,980 shares.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 25. (AP)—Cotton prices continued yesterday's decline in active trading today on liquidation induced by the first notice day for May, which brought out tenders of 33,100 bales here and 25,000 bales in New York. Easier outside markets spurred the reaction and although there were temporary recoveries the close showed net losses for the day of 21 to 22 points.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables were better than due. First trades here showed gains of 1 to 2 points and prices rallied slightly after the opening on shorts covering. May traded up to 11.33, July to 11.38, October to 11.54 and December to 11.56 or 4 to 7 points above the close of yesterday.

The market soon turned easier, however. It rallied 16 to 17 points in early afternoon on satisfied shorts' covering but renewed liquidation developed in the late trading and prices slipped back again. May made a new low at 10.94, 28 points below the previous close. July closed at 11.11 or 22 points net lower and October and December each closed 21 points net lower.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 13 to 14 penny points down.

Port receipts 14,185, for week 56,063, for season 7,086,726, last season 7,886,513. Exports 33,903, for week 52,305, for season 6,313,397, last season 6,397,289. Port stock 2,041,700, last year 4,304,615. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 103,830, last year 197,382. Spot sales at southern markets 5,457, last year 12,189.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Continuing its recent trend, cotton declined a further $1 a bale today.

For the first time since January, May contracts sold below the 11-cent level, while July sold off to 11.10 or 22 points net lower, and about $8 a bale below the high price of last February.

Offerings tapered off somewhat at these figures, but rallies of 10 or 12 points from the lowest failed to hold, and July closed at 11.13 with the general market finishing barely steady at net declines of 19 to 22 points.

Opening prices were unchanged to 3 points higher. There was a good deal of "stop" liquidation incident to the circulation of the first delivery notices, estimated at about 30,200 bales.

Trade interests were buyers of the near position, and there was covering in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables with active months selling about 5 to 8 points net higher during the first few minutes.

The May liquidation continued, however, while houses with Liverpool and continental connections were sellers here on the differences, and scattered selling became more active following early weakness in wheat and silver.

Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which carried May off to 10.83 and October to 11.27. Closing quotations were within 2 or 3 points of the lowest for the day and movement.

Exports today 31,374 making 6,498,811 so far this season. Port receipts 14,227. U. S. port stocks 3,434,000.

dangerous of the band.

As they checked every rumor and report tracing the gang, a guard was thrown about the Ramsey county jail to make sure Dillinger did not attempt to rescue his companion, Evelyn Frechette, At Madison, Wis. three other girls whom the Dillinger band left behind were charged with concealing the toy gun desperado.

At St. Paul, police were tipped that four men and two women had raided a farmer's home and seized a "fresh" car.

The looting of a bank at Akron, Ohio, made officers alert against the chance that Dillinger might make an attempt to rescue three pals held in the Ohio state prison at Columbus.

Tommy Carroll, Dillinger henchman, was "seen" at St. Louis park, Minneapolis suburb; John Hamilton, another, was "seen" at the Indianapolis airport. Scores of "tips" came to middle-western police that crews of there to five men, armed, had been sighted in one city or another, usually traveling with one or more women.

In Washington, the house judiciary committee hastened to arm the federal government with new power to fight criminals. It approved laws by which robbing a national bank or assaulting or killing a federal officer would be federal offenses.

Unsuccessful in grabbing Dillinger, his pursuers were closing in on his funds, as well as his girl friends. A Racine, Wis., detective located $3,000 in Dillinger loot in a Chicago bank. It was securities taken last November in a machine gun raid on the American Bank and Trust company.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 25. (AP)—Grains were slow today. Estimated receipts: wheat 19 cars; corn 1; oats 3, and sorghums 4.

Prices were quoted as follows by the grain price committee of the Fort Worth grain and cotton exchange, based on bids, offers and actual sales to midday basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to delivery points:

Delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: wheat No. 1 hard 76 3-4@80 3-4. Barley No. 2 nominally 52@53; No. 3 nominally 51@52. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 1.03@1.04; No. 2 milo nominally 1.06@1.02. No. 2 kafir nominally 92@94; No. 3 kafir nominally 90@93.

Delivered Texas common points or group three—corn No. 2 white 65 1-4@65 3-4; No. 2 yellow 62 1-4@62 3-4.

Oats No. 2 red 39@40; No. 3 red 38@39.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—An outburst of buying just before trade was ended gave an upward whirl to wheat today and more than overcame almost 2 cents earlier loss.

The late buying was attributed largely to eastern sources, and caught the wheat market in an oversold condition. Reports of a new dust storm in Nebraska and of the biggest flour purchases in several months at Minneapolis, together with a recovery of silver future quotations, were late incentives for wheat buying.

Wheat closed nervous at about the day's top 1-4 to 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn varying from 1-4 decline to 3-8 advance, oats 1-8 off to 1-8 up, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 10 cents.

Hamilton Talks

Eastham state prison farm January 16.

Hamilton, speaking freely, told of staying at a New Orleans hotel for several days recently. He would not say whether Mary O'Dare had been with him.

After he left New Orleans, Hamilton said he travelled "in style" to St. Louis, occupying the Pullman car of a fast train. Upon his arrival in St. Louis, Hamilton said he assumed another alias and went directly to a hospital, where he underwent an operation to have a bone removed from his nose.

Back in Texas, Hamilton said he "stayed most of the time in North Texas."

Hamilton admitted he robbed the United States government armory at Ranger, obtaining a machine gun and several rounds of ammunition. Presumably, his visit to Dallas was for the purpose of leaving the "little arsenal" there, for the stolen arms were later recovered at a Dallas residence.

He remarked that "they got my machine gun in Dallas."

Questioned about the identity of the youth caught with him today, Hamilton said:

"Oh, I just picked him up on a freight train."

Except for the visit to New Orleans and St. Louis, Hamilton said he had not been out of Texas since his delivery from the Eastham prison farm. He told officers that he spent last night at Ranger and had stolen the car used in today's robbery two days ago at Henrietta, Texas.

Hamilton was reluctant to talk about Clyde Barrow.

"Bonnie and Clyde didn't have anything to do with springing me from the prison farm. I didn't have a gun. When the time came to run, I ran. Hilton Bybee (who fled at the same time but was later captured), just ran because it seemed like a good idea at the time."

Hamilton refused to divulge arrangements made for the prison break. He merely remarked:

"They knew I was good so they split me in on it."

Bank Robbing Expert Caught

Raymond Hamilton Is Caught Near Sherman After Small Town Bank Robbery; Offers No Resistance

dying in a Sherman hospital a short time after the accident. Gunter had been one of the men pursuing Hamilton and Brooks across Collin county.

Officers here said Hamilton and Brooks would be taken to the Dallas county jail at Dallas for safe keeping.

Hamilton has been at large since Jan. 16, when he fled from Eastham state prison farm in a daring break planned by Clyde Barrow. A guard, Major Crowson, was fatally wounded in shooting at that time and another guard was seriously hurt.

Others Made Getaway

Along with Hamilton, three other convicts made their getaway. They were Henry Methvin, who is believed to be with Clyde Barrow at the present time; Hoe Palmer; and Hilton Bybee, who has been recaptured.

Hamilton was sent to prison to serve sentences aggregating 263 years for bank robberies, filling station hold-ups and other robberies.

Hamilton said the belief that Barrow and Bonnie Parker freed him from the Eastham state prison farm was "all wrong."

Bought Way Out

Hamilton remarked he "bought his way out of that prison farm." He would not amplify this statement. He said he did not have a gun when he fled the Eastham farm.

"When the shooting started I just ran like hell," he said.

Hamilton was emphatic in his statement that he was in Houston at the time two state highway patrolmen were slain near Grapevine several weeks ago and said he knew nothing of the double killing.

Hasn't Seen Clyde

The expert bank robber said he had not seen Barrow and Bonnie Parker "since the Lancaster bank robbery."

"I'm not saying I robbed that bank—understand. I'm just saying that I haven't seen Clyde and Bonnie since it was robbed."

Hamilton and a deputy sheriff became involved in an argument when the Grayson county officers stripped him of his clothing and made a minute search of his body.

Hamilton remarked:

"When they shake 'em down in this jail, they really shake 'em down."

Crowd Storms Jail

While Hamilton and Brooks, surrounded by scores of peace officers, sat in the death cell and chattered, more than 1,500 persons stormed the entrance to the jail, anxious to have a look at the notorious killer.

Hamilton admitted that he wrote a letter to Albert Baskett, Dallas attorney, which contained word of his split with Barrow. He also said that he enclosed the $100 bill which Baskett said he received in the letter.

While Dallas and Denton county officers debated as to where the slippery terror should be confined, Hamilton grinned and remarked:

"I'd like to go to Dallas. I've never been in the Denton jail and I don't want to go there now."

Alleged Partner Of Bandit Also Arrested

DALLAS, April 26. (AP) — District Attorney Robert Hurt said here tonight that Mary O'Dare, former companion of Raymond Hamilton and alleged partner of his in the robbery of the West, McLennan county, bank, had been arrested at Amarillo.

Special Investigator M. L. Miller of the district attorney's staff telephoned Hurt of the woman's arrest immediately after news of Hamilton's capture near Sherman was received. The woman was arrested Monday but had been held in strictest secrecy by officials in the hopes that she could shed some light on his whereabouts.

Expected Return

Officers had expected Hamilton to return to Amarillo for the woman. Hurt quoted Miller as saying Amarillo officers knew Hamilton was planning to rob another bank but did not know where.

Miller said he, Special Investigator Denver Seale, Ranger Captain D. E. Hamer and Rangers Jim Shown and W. R. Todd "had been waiting at Amarillo a week to put Hamilton on the spot."

Mary O'Dare was reported to be the woman Hamilton associated with in New Orleans recently. It was at that time that he wrote Albert Baskett, Dallas attorney, who represented him in Dallas trials, that he had severed connections with Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

Mary O'Dare once was the wife of Gene O'Dare, now serving a 99-year sentence for bank robbery. O'Dare and Hamilton were captured together in a Bay City, Mich., skating rink early in 1933 after they fled Texas with the loot of the Carmine State bank robbery.

Sheriff Gus White was investigating the crash.

Funeral services for Mr. Treadway, who was employed in the Tahoka relief office, are pending arrival of two daughters, Misses Marie and Iris Treadway, who were visiting in El Paso. Two other daughters, Miss Euna Treadway of Lamesa and Mrs. Ira Krebb of Tulsa, and one son, Vance Treadway of Tahoka; three brothers, E. J. Treadway, T. G. Treadway, and W. A. Treadway, and his father, A. M. Treadway, all of O'Donnell, were other survivors.

Wireless Pioneer In Best Of Health On His Birthday

ROME, April 25. (AP)—Guglielmo Marconi, "in the best of health" and "busy as can be," celebrated his 60th birthday today by receiving the wishes and plaudits of the world.

There were so many congratulatory messages from all parts of the globe that when he had finished reading some of them the wireless pioneer said he needed a rest and took the usual Roman siesta.

Case Of Bishop Cannon Is Likely To Reach Jury Today

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Disagreeing in the usual vigorous manner of opposing counsel, prosecution and defense attorneys alternately told a jury today that Bishop James Cannon, jr., was hiding "behind a woman's skirts," and that the churchman and Ada L. Burroughs were being persecuted.

The case probably will go to the jury tomorrow.

carrying away the loot.

Made Pretty Speech

"They made a pretty speech about not wanting to hurt any of us," Mrs. Ellis said. "They were calm and polite.

"Mr. Witt and I were in a cage on the south side near the back when two young men came back to us and held us up. They marched us back to the safe and then got Mr. Doyle and Mr. Mann. They made us lie flat on the floor."

Mr. Mann was ordered to get up and unlock the safe and then forced to lie down again.

Careful In Search

The man at the door, apparently in command, asked if a thorough search had been made. Then he suggested the bank and safe be ransacked again. Following a second search, he asked for the third time if the search had been complete.

Despite efforts to get all the cash, about $1,500 was left in a cage, Mrs. Ellis said.

All money in the safe, $590, was taken. Mrs. Ellis said about $2,200 was at the window, and of this money only about $690 was taken, preliminary check showed. Exact loss, covered by insurance, had not been determined.

Descriptions Given

Men who were completely inside the bank were about five feet 10 inches tall, were dark complexioned, and were slightly built. Both had dark eyes and hair. All were unmasked.

The alarm was spread from a telephone in the bank vault, but before officers arrived the car had disappeared. Weldon Johnson, county attorney, who was in the sheriff's office when the call came, said the car had disappeared before he could run to a courthouse window opening on the bank building.

The car sped away west, turned north at the edge of town, raced north until the railway tracks were crossed, and then turned east into the Littlefield-Levelland highway. A mile south of Witharral the car turned directly east. Officers reported the car was last seen near Anton, in northeast Hockley county.

Lubbock Officers Take Part In Hunt

Two automobiles carrying Lubbock officers joined the search for the bandits as soon as a report was received here.

Sheriff Tom Abel, Deputy Sheriff Cap Moore, and John L. Croft, a police plainclothes man, were in one automobile. They went to Shallowater, Anton, and Levelland.

The other car carried Policemen Bill Earnest, Don Reeder, George Stringer, and Bill Mabray. They went to Anton and Olton.

Highway Work Is Considered

Conferences Are Started Between Texas Relief Leaders And State And Federal Road Engineers On Projects

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Conferences were started today between the Texas relief commission and state and federal highway engineers on plans for expenditure of the balance of an $8,900,000 federal allotment for emergency relief road construction in drought, storm and flood stricken sections of the state.

Counties in which the work will be done and some of the projects approved likely will be announced after another conference tomorrow, Miss Marie Dresden, state relief director, said. Results of surveys made by the relief commission in areas in which relief road work is needed will be given highway department officials tomorrow, she said. The highway department will give the relief commission information concerning construction costs.

A revised agreement between state and federal officials for expenditure of the federal allotment was obtained recently in Washington by John Wood, chairman of the Texas highway commission, and Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer.

Participating in the conference today were Gilchrist, T. H. Webb, assistant state highway engineer; C. E. Swain of Fort Worth, regional engineer of the United States bureau of public roads; Miss Dresden, C. B. Braun, assistant relief director; E. A. Baugh, chief project engineer of the relief commission, J. K. Keeley, assistant project engineer, and H. L. Davis, chief field relief supervisor.

Judgment For The State Is Upheld

AUSTIN, April 25. (AP)—Judgment of $31,975 in favor of the state against V. O. E. Wright, operator of the V. O. E. Refining company in Gregg county, for unreported taxes on gasoline and for penalties was affirmed today by the third court of civil appeals.

An act of the last legislature making taxes a preferred lien on properties of refiners and distributors of gasoline was upheld in the decision.

The appellate court reformed a Travis county district court judgment to deny any personal judgment against Wright's wife.

On evidence, much of which was circumstantial, the appellate court held "the jury was authorized to find that oil shown to have been run to or in the possession of said refinery, the disposition of which was not accounted for on the books of the refinery, was refined into gasoline and sold by the refinery."

The state sued for taxes and penalties on more than 750,000 gallons of gasoline allegedly sold without tax payment between November 1, 1931, and September 1, 1932.

Evidence showed the refinery's gasoline output, "for the most part, was sold for cash and hauled away in trucks, and "inadequate records" were kept, the court's opinion said.

Dallas Man Named President Of Retail Furniture Group

GALVESTON, April 25. (AP)—B. F. McLain of Dallas was re-elected president of the Retail Furniture association of Texas at the closing session of the annual convention here today.

Other officers elected were: L. B. Brown, jr., Fort Worth, first vice president; Burton Stayton, Wichita Falls, second vice president; John C. Weston, Houston, third vice president; J. O. Yeargan, Dallas, treasurer, and H. E. Dill, Dallas, secretary.

J. W. Hill, Amarillo, was elected director for one year. Archie Bean, San Angelo; J. B. Blaurgrund, El Paso; Willard Wigley, Waco; D. A. Campbell, Lufkin, and Frank C. Allen, Corpus Christi, were elected directors for two-year terms. Holdover directors are S. J. Miles, Corsicana; Perry Pace, Port Arthur; T. H. Bowman, Austin, and T. B. Revell, Paris.

Selection of the city for the next meeting place will be decided upon later.

leaning on the car door now and Sue reflected to herself that really she did not look a scrap older than on that gala day five years before when she had walked up the aisle of the little church in Blue Hills, Tom Weaver's bride. Her brown curls were as flyaway as ever and the apricot flush still lingered in her rounded cheeks. She was wearing her working costume today—dark blue slacks and a striped jersey shirt. She looked almost like a rosy boy, the kind of figure you see in posters advertising the Breton countryside. Only when she turned and swooped the overalled child by her side into her arms and buried her face in his sunburned neck you saw she was not a boy at all, but a woman, warm, eager, loving.

She sighed again. "If I had a child . . . ."

"You will," Gypsy prophesied. David struggled to be free and she set him squarely down upon his feet and he grinned at her engagingly.

"Doesn't like to be babied," Gypsy said inaudibly.

"I'm goin' to build a house myself," the boy boasted. "Bettern' the men."

"Of course you are," Gypsy surveyed him with pride. "Call me when you've finished. I want to see." The child strutted away, proud and zestful.

Sue lingered, her hand fumbling for the ignition key. "I declare I wish I hadn't promised to go to Elsie Wilbur's tea," she said. "I'd like to stop here all afternoon. We haven't talked things out. There are dozens of people I want to know about. By the way, what ever became of Lila Bliss? The last I heard of her she was cutting a great swathe abroad."

Gypsy shook her head. "Poor Lila! She felt miserable about being mixed up in that English divorce case. It wasn't in the least her fault."

"Well, maybe not," observed Sue. "You always had a soft spot for her. I must say I couldn't see her, ever."

"She was undisciplined—we all were," Gypsy defended. Sue burst out laughing. "You talk a greybeard, my dear. You must be all of 27."

"I've learned a lot, Gypsy told her soberly. "I've learned to keep quiet and smile when I feel like flying into a temper. I've had to learn lots, for David's sake. That's one thing motherhood teaches you—self-control."

"Well, you're an angel and I love you. Look for me some day next week." Sue flung back as she started the car. The last glimpse she had of Gypsy was a dark blue figure silhouetted against the clear haze of the September sky, as she argued tempestuously with a carpenter. Was it possible, Sue thought, driving off, that she had ever been jealous of her friend? Ridiculous and yet true. She had suffered torments over it. Now Hunt was hers. Gypsy had been married five whole years. They were all getting staid and settled. No more flurries . . . no heartbreaks . . .

Marriage changes us all, Sue thought. Some for the worse (there was Lila!) and some for the better.

In the candlelight, with Clytie's second daughter, Annie, coming to and fro with hot food in the blue dishes, Gypsy told Tom about Sue's visit. Gypsy had changed her slacks and jersey for an organdie frock striped and plaided in pale green. Her lovely neck and shoulders were bare. The old dining room, with its white paneled walls and dark old mahogany, was a pleasant setting for the untroubled meal.

"Sue's restless," she told him. "She's like me, some time back—before I really found myself."

Tom's ready laugh rang out. She was so solemn about it.

"So you've done that, have you? Nobody would ever guess. I thought you were still groping."

"Don't make fun of me, darling. I'm a better wife than I used to be."

He smiled at her, suddenly serious. "You were always," he told her, "everything a man could wish."

They were alone with the coffee things now. Annie was muttering to herself in the kitchen, the child asleep in his big room under the eaves. The blue haze of twilight lingered.

Gypsy tilted the silver coffee pot, filled his cup again. It seemed to her the night pressed close to enfold her happiness in this house, with her man, her child. Marriage was the great adventure—no doubt about it. Lila might roam the high seas, might taste romance in far places, but she would never know anything surer and sweeter than this. She would never see any lovlier lights than the lights of home.

AMBULANCE MARTIN FUNERALS

Approval Of Dam Project Is Given

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—The Mississippi valley flood control advisory committee was said authoritatively today to have recommended to the public works administration, approval of the $5,000,000 Fort Reno, Okla., dam project.

The committee disclosed yesterday that a report had been made, but official information as to what it contained, was lacking. However, it was learned the recommendation was favorable with these two conditions:

1. That local interests agree to act for the government in securing right-of-way, and

2. That they agree to maintain the improvement after it is completed.

The project, which would involve a dam over the North Canadian river at Fort Reno, 35 miles west of Oklahoma City, has been approved in the past by every administration agency which has considered it.

Meanwhile, sponsors of another Oklahoma program, the Hula dam near Bartlesville, expressed confidence that it too had received committee approval on the project, as well as the Fort Reno improvement, official information could not be obtained.
