Amarillo Storm Damage Hits $3 Million

U.S. Tidelands Suits Okayed By High Court

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Supreme court told the government today it could sue Texas and Louisiana for oil rich tidelands off their coasts.

Millions are at stake—the millions which Texas and Louisiana collect annually from oil companies which lease offshore lands for oil production.

"Texas will fight all the way," its attorney general, Price Daniel, said in Austin. "We'll be ready."

He forecast continued efforts by the states in the present session of Congress to get action in their favor.

Texans Not Surprised

Governor Beauford Jester said he hoped Congress would go ahead with legislation giving the states title to tidelands.

Neither he nor other state officials in Austin seemed particularly surprised by the court's decision. Nor were Texas congressmen who commented here, expressing disappointment.

One, Rep. Lyle, saw "plenty of time to get together and pass legislation settling the controversy." He has proposed compromise legislation to settle the issue.

Deadline Set Sept. 1

Texas and Louisiana had argued the United States couldn't sue a state unless it consented to be sued—and they refused consent.

But the court authorized filing of suits with it in brief order. It handed down no explanatory opinions. Justice Jackson didn't take part in the case.

The order directed the federal and state governments file their cases and answers before Sept. 1. The court's next term begins Oct. 3.

A court official said that after papers are filed the court may decide to appoint a special master to hear evidence and submit a report. Or the court may hear the case in open sessions. It did that in the government's suit against California two years ago.

Claims Denied

The court ruled then that the federal government had "paramount rights and full dominion and power over" submerged lands off the California coast. The Justice department said the same thing applied to the Gulf seabed.

Not so, said Texas and Louisiana. They made these arguments:

California, by entering an ap-

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 16.—The House today approved ending all rent controls in Texas. The bill goes to the Senate now.

It then dug into its calendar and passed half a dozen more bills in an afternoon session.

The Senate scheduled an afternoon session but had to adjourn for lack of quorum. Over in the House a few members were grumbling about the Senate's failure to take up the big appropriations bills.

Debate on the rent decontrol bill was brief. Opponents had tried to get decontrol left up to the individual cities. Rep. Deno Tufares of Wichita Falls tried again today to put that provision in, but his amendment was ruled out of order. Vote on final passage was 93-41.

Pay Hike Bill Okayed

Bills passed this afternoon included:

1. Granting county commissioners power to raise salaries of county officers 25 percent and of their deputies or assistants 35 percent. The bill had been approved by the Senate but must go back for approval of House amendments.

2. Providing that one judge in each county shall be named judge of the juvenile court.

3. Allowing counties, by petition of the people, to levy some or all of the 30 cents state ad valorem tax which will be abolished Dec. 31, 1950. The funds could be used for soil and water conservation, flood control or county road building.

Liquor Law Discussed

A bill to set up a nine-man game commission instead of the present six-member group was laid on the table, subject to call.

The House adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow in the midst of debate on a liquor control bill. Its author, Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, said it was designed to tighten present liquor regulations. Some representatives, however, argued some provisions weakened instead of strengthened the law.

A plea to revive a veterans bonus measure was knocked down when the House voted 58 to 49 to leave the proposal by Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City in the same committee where it has been for two months.

CREEK FLOODS

Cleburne Hit By Rainstorm

(By The Associated Press)

CLEBURNE, May 16—Buffalo creek boiled out of its banks and flood waters threatened the western residential section of Cleburne tonight as torrents of rain and a windstorm struck the city.

The fire and police departments and volunteer workers built sand bag dykes about the threatened sections. Their work was hampered by continued rainfall after the worst of the storm had passed.

The creek runs through part of the town. Two of its five bridges had been washed away. All but one of the others were under water. Dead hogs and cattle, washed from small stock farms above the city and inside the city limits, tumbled down the stream.

Several homes between Cleburne and Godley, 12 miles northwest of Cleburne, were partly flooded as drainage ditches were swamped by the heavy rainfall. There were no reports of any persons injured. There was some wind damage to houses in Cleburne.

Battering Hail, Wind-Driven Rain Add To Toll Over Wide Panhandle Section

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

AMARILLO, May 16.—Damage estimates edged past $3,000,000 today in the wake of a tornado which whiplashed this Panhandle capital, killing four, and then skipped 80 miles north to flatten some of Texas' richest wheatland.

Eighty-three persons were injured and 350 homes demolished or heavily damaged by the skipping, howling twister which mangled 35 blocks in the southern section of this town of 90,000 last night.

Damage to homes alone was estimated by Mickey Maguire, president of the Texas Panhandle Home Builders association, at more than $2,500,000. Manager Shelby Kritser of the Tradewinds airport—where 40 planes were destroyed and 15 damaged—appraised damage there at $350,000.

Other Damage Inflicted

Other damage—to railroad equipment, public utilities, and the Massey-Harris implement house—was heavy. Massey-Harris estimated its loss at $100,000.

Wind-driven rain and bruising hailstones as big as a man's fist accompanied the tornado.

As communication was restored it became apparent a wide West Texas area had been struck by storms, heavy rains and lightning.

The Borger News-Herald, after sending reporters out by jeep, said "the entire area of Gruver, Spearman, Perryton, Morse and Dial was isolated." Nature Park also was struck.

"Wherever we looked," said reporter Bill McCorkle of the News-Herald, "it looked as if hail had demolished half the wheat." They found many farms flattened, miles of utility poles down, and streets flooded.

The weather still was ominously unsettled over much of Texas late today, but the Dallas weather bureau said conditions were not so unfavorable as last night. The bureau added, however, that "the threat hasn't moved out of the state."

Knocked-out telephone lines made it impossible to tell how much loss had been suffered by the Panhandle wheat crop. Only recently, farm experts had forecast a record crop for the Panhandle.

But at Dalhart—in the northwest corner of the Panhandle—hail damage was heavy. Eight miles southeast of Dalhart six farmers reported heavy losses. Another area of wheat damage was about 15 miles north of Dalhart.

Relief Agencies Take Over

Of the 83 injured brought to crowded hospitals here, 30 had been dismissed by early afternoon. Relief agencies were taking over care of the homeless. The Red Cross announced $50,000 was immediately available for emergency relief. The Amarillo Globe-News announced a fund for the tornado stricken passed $14,000. The Reconstruction

School Work Contracts Let

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

CONTRACTS totaling $217,585 for alteration and additions to Carroll Thompson Junior High school were let Monday night by the board of trustees of Lubbock Independent School district, the action following opening of bids at the school business office.

Contract for general construction was let to Sampson Brothers Construction company, who agreed to a $16,000 fixed fee over and above the actual cost of construction. The construction company guaranteed that the entire job would not exceed its base bid of $187,885, and any savings on that figure would be refunded to the school board.

Other Work Let

Tidmore Construction company was low with a base bid of $181,113 for general construction, but would not guarantee that cost of construction would not go above that figure.

Contract for plumbing and heating went to McKinley Plumbing company on a cost-plus basis, with their base bid of $17,975 guaranteed as the top cost. The contract for electrical work went to

Reds Tighten Shanghai Grip

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, May 16—Communist assault troops closed in on Shanghai's great international airport today and concentrated artillery fire at the besieged city's outskirts.

(Charles Gorry AP photographer who arrived in Manila, said that when he left Shanghai's Lunghwa airfield Monday morning, the Reds were only two miles away. The field is only four miles outside the city.

In the south-central China campaign, a showdown drew nearer with government abandonment of Hankow, Wuchang and Hangyang, the tri-cities 600 miles up the Yangtze west of Shanghai.

It is on that front, where Red forces are moving rapidly south toward the Nationalist's provisional capital of Canton, that the last big military action of the civil war is likely.

In reporting their retreat from Hankow, the official Central News agency said—perhaps significantly—that the Nationalist commander, Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, had set up his main headquarters not at Changsha as expected, but 100 miles farther south, at Hengyang.

With the Reds besieging the city, Shanghai residents waited with little outward show of concern. Most foreign airlines, including Pan-American and Northwest, have flown all of their planes out of the Shanghai area.

Eisler Refused Release On Bail

LONDON, May 16 (AP)—A British court refused bail today for bond-jumping Gerhart Eisler and sent the bespectacled Communist back to jail. He will spend at least eight days in a cell awaiting a hearing on whether he will be returned to the United States as a fugitive.

An involved international controversy developed around Eisler who had tried to flee American authorities by stowing away aboard the Polish liner Batory. Eisler claims he was a political refugee enjoying asylum under the Polish flag when he was "kidnapped" in violation of international law.

U. S. Threat Confirmed

Heartbroken Residents Return To Scene

Homes In Shambles After Storm Hits

BY JAY HARRIS AND FRED HARRELL
Avalanche Staff Writers

AMARILLO, May 16 — Several hundred Amarillo residents, heartbroken and weary after a day of digging through tangled debris of what was their homes, today turned their eyes toward tomorrow and started making plans for rebuilding yesterday's shattered dreams.

Stunned at first by the terrible impact and destruction of the tornado which in the space of a few short breaths smashed more than 75 homes into kindling wood and damaged 350 more, picked up still soggy, torn articles of furniture and clothing and looked ahead.

Many Escape Death

When many of them returned, under leaden skies that occasionally dripped rain amidst angry flashes of lightning early this morning, they saw an almost unbelievable scene of splintered homes, bashed in cars and twisted electrical lines.

These people—many of whom were not at home when the tornado hit about 8:40 p.m. Sunday and therefore escaped almost certain death or injury—met death and destruction at their own doorsteps. For moments that seemed forever, they and their city teetered on the brink of eternity.

A massive tornado, which apparently broke into smaller twisters, thrashed ominously just southwest of the city, then smashed in all its savage fury into blocks of cringing victims' homes. The area was heavily populated by veterans and their families.

Residents Were Overwhelmed

Today when some of them returned, the scene of devastation, the loss of lifetime earnings, homes, furniture, clothing, every-

State Rests Case In Murder Trial

The state rested at 5:15 p.m. Monday in the Arthur Lee Ivey murder case.

The defense probably will complete its evidence at this morning's session in Judge G. V. Pardue's 99th district court. A jury had been completed in that chamber at noon.

Ivey, 50, is charged in connection with the fatal stabbing about 3 a. m. Feb. 27 of Leonard Bailey, in the course of a gambling game in a Myrtle drive dugout. The victim was "about 47," it was related.

Witnesses called by the state were Osto Billy Ake and Curtis Ake, brothers, Butler Ralston, Grady Bradford, and Howard Jennings, all of whom testified they were in the dugout at the time Bailey was given his death thrust on the stairway leading outside; Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer who said the death resulted from a wound in the left chest; Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton, who said the defendant was not arrested until about 7 a.m., about four hours after the knifing; and Hazel Ake, mother of the Ake brothers, who said she saw the defendant after the slaying, at the nearby residence of a relative.

In addition, the state introduced a confession that had been executed by the defendant. It related the men quarreled before the stabbing and that Bailey grabbed Ivey by the hair.

The jury: Henry T. Young, Gerald Jarvis, A. W. Hawkinson, Roy E. Wheeler, R. J. Ledbetter, M. T. Gibson, W. E. Moren, A. D. McCullough, S. D. Kelley, Lelton Hilton, Aubrey Pounds, and O. L. Miller.

Ivey is represented by the law firm of Davison and Irvin. Prosecution is by E. G. Pharr and A. W. Salyars, the district attorney's staff.

RIVER BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—A bill to let Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico negotiate for a division of waters of the Canadian river passed the House today. It was sent to the Senate. The measure, by Rep. Worley of Texas, would give the states until June 30, 1953 to reach an agreement.

Six Airmen Killed In New Mexico Crash

ROSWELL, N. M., May 16. (AP)—Six persons were killed today when an Air Force C-47 transport crashed and burned 12 miles northeast of Walker Air Force base.

Staff Sgt. Chris Wentzel, Cooter, Mo., bailed out.

Col. John P. Randolph, acting commanding officer, said an engine fire caused the crash. The plane crashed at 12:30 p. m. (CST).

Names of the dead were not released.

Randolph said the transport was on a routine local training flight from Walker base.

All seven persons aboard were military personnel.

Sheriff George Wilcox reported burned bodies and wreckage of the ship were scattered over the hilltop on which it struck.

Randolph said there was only one witness to the crash—a farmer whose name he did not know.

Heavy Hail Reported In Area Near Spur

South Plains Lashed By High Winds, Rain

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

HIGH winds and lashing rains, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, poured additional water on Lubbock and elsewhere over the South Plains early Monday morning, but clear skies late Monday afternoon held some promise to a water-logged area that perhaps heavy rains and stormy weather had ceased for awhile.

Unofficial reports last night indicated that the Gilpin community, in the southeast corner of Dickens county, was the latest target in the current chain reaction of hailstones on the South Plains and adjacent vicinity.

It was reported from nearby Spur that two separate hailstorms descended upon the Gilpin community Monday afternoon and night. The first was about 5 p.m., while the second occurred at about 9 p.m. Reports were that hailstones were lying some five or six inches deep on the ground at Gilpin. It was feared that damage would be heavy.

Rain Hits Spur

Efforts to reach the community last night by telephone were to no avail. The community has one telephone extension from Spur and no person could be reached at that phone.

In Spur, rain estimated at between one and one and a half inches fell Monday afternoon and evening, beginning about 4:30 p.m., and continuing until about 10:30 p.m. No damage was reported.

The rain was accompanied by some lightning and thunder, but with little wind. Skies had almost entirely cleared by 11 p.m.

Despite the severity of the early morning storm Monday, no heavy damage was reported in the South Plains area.

Following Monday morning's rains in Lubbock and adjacent area, the "storm line" moved

KITCHEN CABINET REMAINS—All that remains of a once modern home in south Amarillo is a bare floor and leaning kitchen cabinet. The tornado that struck Sunday night ripped away the walls, room partitions, bathroom fixtures, and almost all other objects in the home except the kitchen cabinet. This strange action was common in the tornado area. Often a house, except the central core, would be razed leaving only the foundation and a few portions of the central building. UNDERCOVER AGENT TESTIFIES

Red Trial Defendant Identified As Teacher In Communist School

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — John V. Blanc, a government witness in the trial of 11 top U. S. Communists, identified Gus Hall today as an instructor at a super-secret Communist school conducted in rural Cleveland in 1946.

Hall, chairman of the Ohio Communist party, is one of the 11 defendants charged with conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. Government.

Soviet Support Promised

Blanc, who acted as an undercover agent for the FBI since 1944, said Hall was his sponsor at the school, held at Camp Solidarity, nine miles outside Cleveland.

He said students who attended were warned never to leave without permission and to make phone calls only from a gasoline station three miles from the camp.

Blanc said Hy Lumers, the educational director of the camp, promised students that Russia would be an ally of revolutionists in any attempt to overthrow the U.S. government.

He also quoted Hall as saying: "Socialism in this country can be achieved only by revolution."

Later in his testimony, Blanc identified Gilbert Green, another defendant, as a lecturer at a meeting of Communists in Chicago in the summer of 1946. He said Green told the meeting:

"The only place labor got a break was in the Soviet Union and the only way to have permanent peace is to bring about Socialism like they have in the Soviet Union."

Spur Prepares For Annual Jubilee

SPUR, May 16. (Special)—Bigger than ever preparations are being made for the annual Spur Cowboy Jubilee and Rodeo — scheduled for June 2, 3 and 4, in Spur.

President J. E. Swenson of the Jubilee association has promised the biggest and best show ever held in West Texas. Four performances will be held. A gigantic parade at 1:00 p. m. Thursday will start the ball rolling for the rodeo. Performances will be held Thursday afternoon, Thursday night, Friday night and Saturday night.

Citizens of Spur and Dickens county are preparing for the event. They will be dressed in some type of western regalia beginning this week to advertise the show. A booster trip to surrounding towns will be made. Directors of the association are constructing a "special down-town jail" for non-conformers to their "go-western" edict.

Over $2,500 in cash prizes will be offered to amateur performers in the eight divisions of the rodeo —bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, double mugging, bull riding, cutting horse contest, old-timers roping event and Cowgirl Sponsors contest.

Stock for the rodeo will be provided by "Goat" Mayo, well-known West Texas cattleman.

Basic Science Law Scored As Duplication Of Existing Statutes At Osteopathic Meet Here

"The Basic Science law is in a great state of confusion, duplicates existing laws and merely adds unnecessary boards and technicalities to the efforts for meeting the public demand for physicians," Dr. L. C. Edwards of San Antonio, president of the Texas Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons said in a meeting of district one osteopathic physicians and surgeons meeting in the Hilton hotel Sunday.

"We are concerned only with a fair administration of this unnecessary law," Dr. Edwards said to approximately 50 osteopaths and their wives. "Our greatest concern is in furnishing competent physicians to meet the great doctor shortage and to combat the growing efforts to force socialized medicine upon the people."

History Reviewed

Dr. C. Robert Starks of Denver, past president of the American Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, reviewed 75 years of progress in osteopathy. He praised work in the field of education and said the progress was made without benefit of tax money or large foundation grants. Osteopathic physicians, by their contributions, have in a large measure made the progress possible, he said.

Dr. J. Francis Brown of Amarillo, past president of the Texas society, presided at the luncheon meeting, followed by business sessions for the physicians and auxiliary. A technical program led by Dr. Starks was included in the business session.

Dr. J. H. Ballard, Pampa, president of district one, which includes the Panhandle-Plains, presided at the business session. Dr. Ed Whitacre, president and Dr. Horace Emory, secretary of the South Plains society, had charge of the local arrangements.

Auxiliary Heads Named

Mrs. J. Paul Price of Dumas was elected president of the district one auxiliary. She succeeds Mrs. Ed R. Mayer, jr., Amarillo, who presided at Sunday's meeting.

Mrs. Horace Emory, Lubbock, was named president-elect; Mrs. L. K. Cradit, Amarillo, vice-president, and Mrs. R. L. Vick, Tulia, secretary-treasurer.

The auxiliary voted to give $50 to the national scholarship fund for worthy osteopathic students.

A South Plains auxiliary was formed at the meeting with Mrs. Emory elected president; Mrs. G. G. Porter, vice president; Mrs. Richard M. Mayer, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Henry A. Spivey, parliamentarian.

Other members of the auxiliary are Ed Tompson, Ed Davidson, Sam Hitch, Ed Whitacre, D. W. Danks and F. W. Zachary.

Attendance Listed

Attending Sunday's meeting were: Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Maxwell, Dalhart; Dr. E. O. Nelson, Brownfield; Dr. and Mrs. Glen Robinson, Happy; Dr. and Mrs. Bob Vick, Tulia; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Abernathy; Dr. and Mrs. John Witt, Groom; Dr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts, Panhandle; Dr. and Mrs. E. Fort Worth Official Reports 'Nothing New' In Vice Probe

FORT WORTH, May 16. (AP)—Councilman M. M. McKnight said today he would have "nothing new" to tell the Tarrant county grand jury tomorrow in its probe of vice and gambling activities.

McKnight will appear before the body tomorrow when it resumes activities after a weekend recess.

He said he had received numerous calls after asking the city last week to request an investigation of rumored gambling payoffs in Fort Worth.

Most of the calls were anonymous, he said, and many of the tips appeared to be "wild accusations."

Oklahoma Residents Take To Cellars After Amarillo Tornado

WOODWARD, Okla., May 16 (AP)—This northwestern Oklahoma city which has tornado experience to spare, was still shaking in its boots today from a scare growing out of last night's twister at Amarillo.

Sirens sounded in Woodward shortly after 9 p.m., as local observers thought they saw the tornado signs. The highway patrol had alerted its northwestern Oklahoma troopers after receiving word from the Civil Aeronautics authority that the Texas Panhandle had been struck.

With the memory of the terrific twister of two years ago still fresh, Woodward ducked for its storm cellars. But nothing worse than a heavy rain and high wind came out of the skies.

At Alva, northeast of Woodward in Woods county, the alarm also was spread. Local theaters were cleared about 9:30 p.m., and some residents stayed in their storm cellars as late as 3 a.m.

NEED FOR ORGANIZED SETUP SEEN

Early Relief Work Confused In First Hours Of Amarillo Storm

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are two eyewitness accounts by Amarillo Globe-News staff writers of what happens when a tornado rips through a heavily populated portion of a large city. A lesson for all towns, Lubbock and others on the South Plains, may be found in Paul Timmons' article on the confusion which resulted from lack of a well organized disaster unit.)

By PAUL TIMMONS
(Amarillo Globe-News Staff Writer)

Need for a well organized and equipped disaster relief organization struck home to Amarillo last night.

Even an organized group to hold the curious, the ghouls and the looters out of the area would have helped.

But there was no semblance of organization. Scores of men climbed through wreckage until shoving back the crowds was a bigger job than searching the wreckage for dead and injured.

Houses on the fringe of the area, only slight damaged, were searched again and again while workers were still needed in the areas hardest hit.

All Streets Clogged

Efforts to keep even one street open for ambulances and emergency vehicles collapsed when side streets were filled with stalled, mired cars.

Most obvious need was for traffic control.

Searchlights and portable floodlighting equipment was the next need as early rescue work proceeded only with flashlights and a scattering of feeble, kerosene lanterns.

Next, and a serious need, was for heavy equipment—wrecker trucks, winch trucks and trucks equipped with winches and gin poles.

Heavy equipment was needed to lift walls in searching collapsed buildings.

Help Was Needed

First aid workers and equipment were badly needed—not only to treat minor injuries suffered by rescue workers. Hundreds of minor cuts and scratches suffered by relief workers went untreated.

Dozens of men who went into the area limped or were carried out as a result of stepping on nails protruding from splintered wreckage.

But one need stood out above all—the need for organization.

Precious minutes in removing the injured, and hours of anxiety for friends and relatives, could have been saved had Amarillo had a well knit organization of even 50 men who had studied the problems that would be encountered.

The need for such an organization was suggested many times after the Higgins disaster two years ago.

Nothing was done.

It must not happen again. Amarillo must have a disaster squadron.

Fire Chief Battled Curious Throngs In Disaster Section

By BOB FOIGHT
(Amarillo Globe-News Staff Writer)

I've just returned from one of the most horrifying sights in my experience.

With a captain of the Amarillo Fire Department I rode out to the scene of the destruction caused by the tornado which hit Amarillo at 8:35 o'clock tonight.

It took us 12 minutes to drive a length of four blocks. Water was fender high at the intersections, almost choking the fire captain's engine.

But the biggest obstruction to getting on the scene, where the captain could direct his crew in rescue efforts was the hundreds of idle curious.

Traffic At Standstill

Traffic was at a standstill.

I saw destruction, and misery and death.

I helped lift the body of a young woman from the debris that was, a short time before, a bedroom.

She was lifeless. But still I could feel life as we carried her to a waiting ambulance, because inside that body a baby struggled for life.

I saw that most despicable of all carrion . . . a looter loading jars of preserves and lamps from a home in the 4100 block of Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Moore, of 4114 Harrison, called for the aid of my flashlight as they searched through a shambles for clothing for their child. They were uninjured.

I stepped on a piece of board sticking up from the shambles of another house. My weight acted as a counterbalance and the other end of the board upended the last piece of furniture standing upright. It was a china cabinet. The owner said "Shucks, there goes the one dish we had left."

People everywhere were calling for friends who were lost from them in the total darkness through which a hundred flashlights, car headlights, and fire engine spotlights reached with probing rays to seek out more destruction and more dead or injured.

I saw destruction tonight. But I also saw a community army of volunteer workers helping policemen and firemen trying to bring order out of chaos.

TOO MUCH TALK

AUGUSTA, Me., (U.P.) — The Rev. Alfred Hendriksen of the Unitarian Church said in a prayer of invocation before the state senate: "Forgive us for talking so much and accomplishing so little."

Two Louisiana Women Drown As Husbands Attempt Rescue

KENNER, La., May 16. (U.P.)—Two young husbands who swam away and left their wives 100 feet from the bank of a pond told today how the women became terrified and drowned, clutching each other in a death grip.

The wives, Mrs. Emmitt McFerrin, 19, of Bogalusa, La., and Mrs. Tillman Stogner, 22, of Kenner, were sisters. Their hands were clasped when state troopers raised their bodies from 12 feet of water with grappling hooks.

McFerrin, 20, and Stogner, 23, told officers they decided they had had enough swimming and warned their wives that "we're going to swim off and leave you out here."

They looked back when they reached shore, they said, and saw their wives locked in each other's arms, thrashing about in the water.

The men plunged back in and tried to save the women, they said, but they could not break the sister's death holds. When the wives sank from sight, the men summoned help.

State Trooper Charles Cole said the drownings appeared to be entirely accidental.

Helpful Neighbor Mows Killeen Man's Prize Flower Garden

KILLEEN, May 16 (U.P.) — How good should a good-neighbor policy be?

"Not that good," D. L. Wood commented today.

Wood moved into his new home here Wednesday.

Thursday he mowed his lawn. Being neighborly, he ran his mower over part of the lawn next door.

Friday, Wood's neighbor discovered the "good deed."

Saturday, Wood was busy replanting his neighbor's prize flower garden.

Idalou Man Buys Registered Jersey Bull From Floydada Herd

COLUMBUS, O., May 16 (Special)—Frank A. Guess of Idalou, has purchased the registered Jersey bull, Amiable Volunteer King. The animal comes from the herd owned by W. O. Dear, jr., of Floydada.

The purchase adds to the steadily growing number in this area. Dairymen buy Jerseys because of the high quality of the milk they produce.

Purebred Jerseys are registered by The American Jersey Cattle club which has its national headquarters in Columbus, O. Several programs are available through The American Jersey Cattle club to help breeders get the most profit from their Jerseys.

Graduation Sermons Heard By High School Classes In Area

Graduation sermons were delivered Sunday to graduating classes at three South Plains high schools.

At Crosbyton, Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor of Crosbyton Methodist church, was the featured speaker before a class of 27 seniors. Graduation exercises are to be held Wednesday night with Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech, as guest speaker.

Carl Spain, Texas Tech Bible instructor and Church of Christ minister, delivered the Sunday sermon to the Shallowater High school graduating class. Commencement exercises are scheduled for Friday night, with Dr. Doyle Jaekson, professor of education at Tech, as speaker.

Lamesa High school seniors Sunday heard Dr. Julian Atwood, Baptist pastor. Graduation ceremonies at Lamesa will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

"I'm proud the name Kaiser is on the first really new idea since the self-starter...it's 2 cars in one...and I'd like you to see it!"

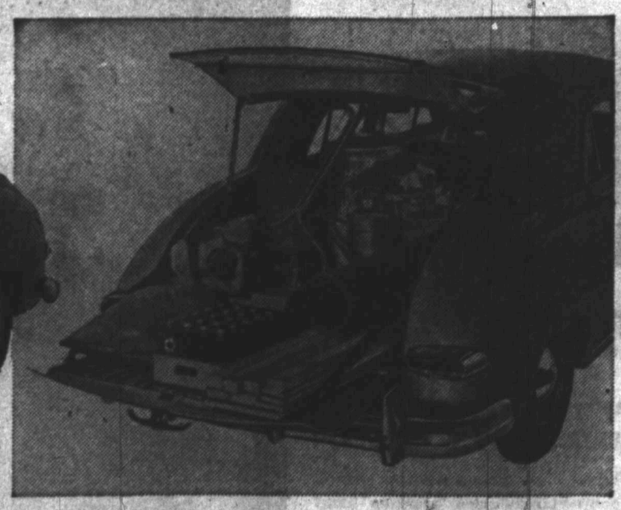

Henry J. Kaiser

The new Kaiser Traveler...world's most useful automobile!

Henry J. Kaiser
Chairman of the Board
Kaiser-Frazer Corporation

1 Here's what Mr. Kaiser says: "For a long time, I've had the idea that a great many Americans would welcome a practical kind of automobile that could do double duty as a passenger car for pleasure and a cargo carrier for work. I was thinking particularly of farmers, salesmen who have to carry bulky samples, merchants, housewives who do heavy week-end shopping, sportsmen and small businessmen.

"Station wagons aren't very practical. My own station wagon was hard riding, drafty and full of squeaks and rattles. It was hard to handle, and hard to work as a truck. If there was hauling to do, seats had to be wrestled out by brute force. It didn't carry enough cargo. It cost too much to operate, and more to buy than the average family can afford.

"So I talked to the boys of our engineering-production team, and the result was the all-new Kaiser Traveler. I believe that the Kaiser Traveler is the practical answer to the problem of thousands of families who really need two kinds of cars, but can afford to buy and maintain only one.

2 "At first glance, the Kaiser Traveler is a luxurious 6-passenger sedan, with a 125½ inch wheelbase, and nine feet, seven and-a-half inches of usable seating space. But in ten seconds, it becomes a sturdy cargo-carrier with a ten-foot-long, steel-shod hold, powered by the mighty Kaiser engine, with its high compression ratio of 7.5-to-1. You use no tools or bolts.

"You just fold down the rear seat, flip open the cargo-hatch and let down the tailgate. All but the youngest of my eight grandchildren can convert it easily (and he's just a little fellow six months old!).

"Of course, the springs and shock absorbers have extra muscles to carry a big load, but they are soft and cushiony and give a grand ride. The upholstery is long-wearing and easy to wash. The tailgate is held in place with a piano-type hinge, so that you can use it as a loading platform.

"With three people in the front seat, there is over 130 cubic feet of storage space in the cargo hold. And even with six passengers, you get more than 78 cubic feet of hold. That's room enough to carry almost anything!

3 "One of the things you'll like about the Kaiser Traveler is the price. It only costs $2088.* That's several hundred dollars less than the cheapest full-size station wagon, and is much more practical and satisfactory both as a pleasure car and a work car. It's really a great value.

"Now, before you buy any car at any price, I'd like to caution you to stop, look and listen. Stop in and see the Kaiser Traveler. Look at it carefully. Listen to what the salesman has to tell you. And then see if this isn't the one car that gives you everything you want...the comfort, the safety, the prestige of big car ownership, plus the extra advantages of owning a fine-performing cargo carrier that costs no more to operate than many much smaller, less useful cars.

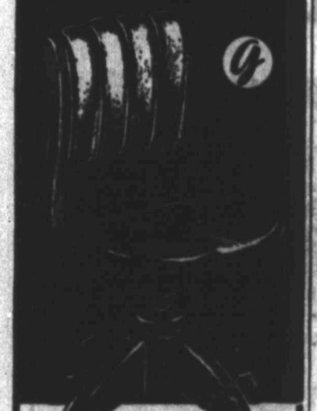

"When you do this, I think you'll decide to buy a Kaiser Traveler, and I hope you do. If you get half as much use out of yours as I get out of mine, you'll have made a very wise choice!

"After you've seen the Kaiser Traveler, please write me your reaction. Address me at Willow Run, Michigan. I'd really like to hear from you."

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

THIS column is about dogs and flower gardens, senses of values and property rights and a lot of other things.

We have neither a dog nor a flower garden, and think, therefore, that we are able to look at the property rights of those who have either or both with a properly disinterested eye. We think we can state, without stirring up too much of a controversy, that every person has a right to own a dog if he wishes, and also that every person has a right to grow flowers.

Every farmer today has the right to own a cow if he chooses. And if a farmer should see a neghbor's dog attack his cow, he would be within his rights to shoot the dog. If the cow should die, he could, if he wished, sue the neighbor and recover money to cover his loss.

This would be true, of course, only if the cow were in its own pasture. Should the cow break through a fence and be grazing on a neighbor's wheat, then the farmer who owned the wheat would be with his rights to send a dog out to chase the cow back where she belonged.

We are speaking, or course, of legal rights—fortunately most farmers get along with their neighbors better than this.

But the point is, that every man has a right to his own property if he keeps it at home. And every man has the right to protect his own property from invasion.

Now some people are very fond of dogs, and can't quite see why anyone else in the neighborhood wouldn't just love to have Towser or Rex come over for a visit even though the guest might tear up the tulips (in a charming, canine way, of course.)

Other people are very fond of their flowers, and can't see why anybody wants an old, dirty dog, or a noisy pup that digs up the roots. Some people think their small children should be free to play in their own back yard without danger of molestation from stray dogs. Some people who have neither flowers nor children just naturally don't like to see strange dogs playing on their front lawn. These people may be "ornery" and "no good," but calling them so doesn't change them. And although none of them would ever admit it, they sometimes set out poison to get rid of unwanted dogs.

Now we agree with everyone else in the world, that a dog poisoner is a low, sneaking individual, who probably beats his aging mother and robs the baby's bank to play poker. But with that settled, let's face the fact that some people are going to protect their own property, regardless of how many innocent dogs are poisoned along with the guilty.

Howls from all the dog owners and their sympathizers in town aren't going to change that fact. Obviously, it is up to the dog owners to protect their animals by keeping them at home.

The argument usually advanced by dog owners, other than that dogs are loveable creatures, is that their dogs are licensed, and therefore, should be free to do as they please. Obviously some people don't agree, that dogs are loveable in comparison with their flower gardens. And a car is licensed, too, but that doesn't give the owner the right to trespass with it on private property.

We hate to hear of a dog's death by poisoning. But we think it is high time that dog owners accept their responsibility to keep their cherished pets out of danger, by keeping them at home.

There's a lot of money lying around loose in Lubbock. Mrs. Mamie Little Friday afternoon lost a black billfold with "a lot of money" in it. She lives at 2416 Sixth, and may be reached at telephone 4060. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Otis Jones, telephone 2-3676, lost a natural leather zipper coin purse, containing some change and $25 in bills, money she had been saving to make a trip to visit relatives. And Mrs. Robert Wright, telephone 6293, Monday afternoon lost a green leather billfold, containing money and a driver's license, which she would much like to have returned. She believes she dropped the billfold in the 1300 block on Texas avenue.

Tourist's Return

Sight Of United States Is Thrilling Experience

BY MARGARET TURNER

Margaret Turner, woman's editor of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal publications, writes today from New York, immediately after docking after a two-month vacation in Europe.

NEW YORK—No book or motion picture has captured the thrilling emotion that one experiences when he returns to the United States after a trip abroad; whether the stay was for two months, such as ours, or for two years, the case of Anthony Accardi, a New Yorker who has spent that time studying hotel management at the Ecole Hoteliere of Lausanne, Switzerland.

Mrs. John D. Lynch, Ruth Ford, Tony and I went out on deck as the Nieuw Amsterdam approached her pier in Hoboken Friday afternoon. Through the perpetual green mist that seems to hover over the lady with the torch we saw the Statue of Liberty. Even at that far distance the monument appeared more beautiful than any statue we had seen in seven countries. We looked across the water and we glanced at each other. "It's been two months," we said. "It's been two years," Tony said, tears glistening in his eyes.

When we heard an announcement over the loud speaker for Americans to report for passport checking we yelled like wild Indians and ran whooping down the passage.

Many dramas must have been enacted after our baggage was placed on dock and visitors came to the pier. But when you are trying to assemble eleven pieces and then stand in line for one hour to get your customs inspector assigned, you do not think of drama; your thoughts are of your aching feet and whether or not you have properly filed your declaration. Our group got through in record time at that. When the writer was helping to thoroughly disarrange her luggage, the inspector, who had dated a Lubbock girl when he was in service and stationed in California, brought us up to date on the baseball scores, the fights and the election in New Jersey.

The Nieuw Amsterdam carried 882 passengers, among them Vice Admiral Alan G. Kirk, newly appointed ambassador to Russia, and Mrs. Kirk. We saw few Americans in the lounges and on the decks. Most of the passengers were from Holland, England and Scotland.

There was one youth, Max Treger from Antwerp, Belgium, who was the only member of his family who lived through the war. He was to be met by an aunt he had never seen and who wants him to take the place of an only son who was lost in service. There were mother-in-laws of ex-GI's who are coming to America for visits and who had brought immigration visas in case they want to stay. There were Dutch Americans who had been over for visits to the old country and who seemed very happy to return to their adopted motherland. And there were hundreds of Dutch people on their way to Canada to work on farms.

One of our companions, Hilly ven Dijkhuizen, explained that there are too many people in Holland today and many are anxious to get away and start life anew. In a later column we shall write of a few incidents she told in broken, but understandable English, when we were awaiting the dinner gong one night.

The return trip was not so exciting as the voyage over. Heavy mist enclosed our ship preventing us from enjoying a loll in deck chairs. Attempts to read or to play bridge in the lounges were blocked by chattering people of all ages. They gathered around our table. "Would you like to watch us play?" we'd politely inquire. They would shrug, smile and say "Don't speak English." Two boys brought their harmonicas and one young girl played an accordion and they accompanied their countrymen in songs of their land and in religious numbers. The noise was deafening.

Sitting there watching those people, many of them with sad faces, some of them apparently nervous at thoughts of the future, most of them wearing cheap, new clothing, we thought. There is nothing worldly about any of our shipmates, but they certainly are earthy. Strength and goodness fairly radiated from their scrubbed faces.

Today we are to meet Lt. and Mrs. Robert Smiley, whom we visited in Austria and who are en route to their new assignment in Fort Lewis, Wash. They are arriving this morning on the Goethals, which docks at Staten island.

After a two months' program that had almost every hour of the day scheduled, we feel a terrific lethargy. It takes effort to telephone our friends. Even with such fatigue we'd write a poem about the joys of returning to "mine own, my native land," if that had not already been done.

Auxiliary Schedules Luncheon, Initiation

Auxiliary to Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will hold a luncheon and initiation at 12:30 o'clock May 25 in IOOF hall, it was decided at a Saturday meeting in the hall.

Plans were discussed, also, for a memorial service for May 29.

Mrs. N. M. Lowery was hostess to Mesdames J. D. Mullins, D. R. Patterson, Clark Zachary, Lewis Hogan, Rafe Nabors, W. D. Donald, Lloyd Berry, J. A. Nunley, jr., and Arno Boyd.

Linda Diane Hensley Is Party Honoree

Linda Diane Hensley was honored with a party on her fourth birthday Saturday by her mother, Mrs. Homer Hensley, 1907 Twenty-sixth. Yard games were played and ice cream and cake were served to:

Larry Peters, Rosalind Hess, Eddie Greer, Sharon Leifeste, Ralph Rufus Rush, Ronnie Todd, Johnny Chapman, Steven Allen, Byron Felty and Sandra Lee Hensley.

Town Talk

MR. AND MRS. O. W. RIBBLE, 2220 Eighteenth, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday and were honored with a surprise dinner given in the Hilton hotel at 7 p.m. by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Al O'Brien and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Ribble, jr.

A group of the couple's friend attended the anniversary celebration. Silver and white were used in decorating the tables.

The honorees had returned Saturday afternoon from a few day's visit in Amarillo.

Bob Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Harvey, will marry Miss Pat Templeton of Sharon, Penn., in Sharon on June 12.

A 1948 electrical engineering graduate of Texas Tech, Bob will complete a year's training course with Westinghouse next month, and will accept a position in Pennsylvania for at least a year and a half.

DeWitt Harvey will be his brother's best man, and the Lubbock boy, along with his parents, will leave here on June 3, to arrive in the Eastern state in time for the ceremony.

Following the wedding, the R. C. Harveys and DeWitt are planning a month's vacation which will include an excursion into Canada.

Miss Alice Sweet, graduate of Lubbock High school and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Sweet of Austin, former Lubbock residents, is one of four junior University of Texas students chosen to become junior members of Phi Beta Kappa, international scholastic fraternity.

The group, along with other new members, was recently honored at a banquet held in the English Room of the university student union building.

Mrs. T. A. Turner, 2415 Twenty-sixth, and Wanda Henderson, one of her art students, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Durward Henderson, will be among the Lubbockites attending the second annual Texas Art Colony to be held in New Mexico.

The colony's classes will open May 30 and close June 25, with Mrs. Callie Baze, former teacher in Lubbock public schools, as head of the colony. The Baze Cabins, close to Noisy Water lodge, in Ruidoso canyon will be headquarters for the art meeting.

Mrs. Florence McNeil Hardy, famed artist, will head the staff, and other prominent artists will teach in the school. Entertainment will be provided for students during the evenings.

Pupils of Mrs. C. M. Kaigler will be presented in a program designed to represent a formal wedding at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the chapel of First Methodist church.

The program will be open to the public.

Those participating and the parts they will play are: Bride, Lois Marie Garren; bridegroom, Stephen Pat Magee; maid of honor, Khaki Homesley; best man, Brad Parkinson; bridesmaids, Linda McCauley, Martha Frances Blocker, Gayle Howard and Leslie Rogers; flower girls, Lyndell Hopkins and Priscilla Suttle; train bearer, Sandra Jean Harris; ushers, Akie Sanders, Phil Wilbanks, John Michiel Ritchey and Jimmie Underwood; father and mother of the bride, Sam Arnett III and Suzan McCauley; father and mother of the bridegroom, Arlette Arnett and J. C. Bacon; ushers, Martin Benson, jr., Robert Adams and Scotty Hastings.

Round-Up Is Saturday

Plainview Business and Professional Women's club will hold its 21st annual pioneer Round-Up in the Plainview city auditorium Saturday. The Plainview Rodeo association is to sponsor the Bar None rodeo during the following week, May 26-28.

Plans for the Round-Up as announced include:

An all-day reception will be held at the auditorium. At 11 a. m., Shelby Collier, of the Wayland college music department, will present musical selections for the pioneers. The Golden Wedding circle is to meet at 1 p. m. at the reception in order to make preparations for a parade.

Only decorated entries and those with the pioneer touch may be included in the parade. Everyone with a horse is invited to participate. Si Ramsey and his Texas Ramblers are to be in the parade and are to play for square dancing Saturday night.

A chuck wagon supper will be served at the auditorium from 6 until 8 o'clock. Guests will be registered and given badges designating the length of their residence on the Plains: all "mavericks" will be "branded."

At 8 o'clock, the mayor of Plainview will give the welcoming address, Miss Agnes Braley, president of Plainview B-PW club, will extend greetings from the club, and Mrs. Charley Ward of Houston, president of the State B-PW federation, will bring greetings from the state organization.

Awards will be made to the oldest pioneer present, the couple married the longest, the couple having the most children, the person coming the greatest distance, the man growing the best beard, the pioneer who dances the best jig, and to the best pioneer fiddler.

A surprise program, "Out of the Past," is scheduled for 5 p. m. A square dance to be started at 9:30 p. m. will be opened by the Abernathy Corner Swing club in an exhibition number.

A record crowd is expected to attend the celebration. Admission price is 50 cents.

Miss Jordan Feted At Kitchen Shower

Mrs. Ray Gares and her daughter, Miss Jennie Ozelle Gares, honored Miss Charlene Jordan, bride-elect, at a luncheon and kitchen shower Monday in the Party room at the Chicken Village.

Red and white, Miss Jordan's chosen colors, were used in decorations.

Attending were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. C. B. Jordan, Mrs. M. T. Davis and Mrs. Melton Fields of Slaton, and Mesdames Lilliam Butler, Bob Law, Cecil Hale, Mamie Neal, Dixie Lowe, H. C. Pruett, R. O. Bennett, Miss Maude Dean and Miss Dorothy Davis.

Fourteen Appear In Recital Tonight

Mrs. Vincent Carr will present piano pupils in two recitals, at 7:15 and 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Adair studio in the new Masonic building.

To be presented in the first recital will be Carolyn Key, Dana McWilliams, Gayden McLaughlin, Elaine Adams, Dale Howard, Jan Kerr, Ted Allen and Karen Spruiell. To appear on the second recital are Jack Douglas, Kay McLaughlin, Lequita Givens, Jerry Morgan, Patsy Robertson and Karen Kerr.

HD Members To End Tour

Home demonstration club women of district 3 will conclude their two-day tour of country homes in Lubbock county today.

Groups will leave the extension office at 1320 Ave. Q at 10 a.m. Cochran, Hockley, Terry, Yoakum, Lynn, Garza, Dawson and Gaines counties are to be represented on the tour today.

Homes to be visited today include the R. B. Boyd home at 10:30 a.m.; F. H. Griffin home at 1:30 p.m.; E. R. Evans home at 2:45 p.m. and George Hindman home at 3:45 p.m. The group will stop beside the road for lunch at 12:40 p.m.

Homes on Monday's visiting list were those of S. H. Robinson, E. B. Shipp, Ervin Grimes, D. T. Sisk and Floyd Blankenship.

MRS. BENN C. KINSLOW

Miss Hale Is Bride

Miss Lois Dean Hale of Route 5, Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Hale, became the bride of Sgt. Benn C. Kinslow, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Kinslow, Route 2, Lubbock, in a double ring ceremony read recently in the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Grady Scott, 3306 Twenty-fifth.

Rev. Brown C. Welch officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white suit with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

Miss Betty Jo Hale attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a lavender dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Aaron Kinslow served his brother as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. The table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The buffet was decorated with pink carnations and pink candles which reflected in a large mirror.

The bride is a graduate of Frenship High school and attended Texas Tech last semester. The bridegroom is a graduate of Frenship High school. He has been serving with the Marine corps in Guam and China for the past 18 months, and will report back to Barstow, Calif., for further orders May 27.

Breakfast Is For Sorority

Hostesses at a Sunday morning breakfast in the Hilton hotel Yacqui room for Kappa Kappa Iota sorority were Mesdames Mildred H. Taylor, G. E. Dawson, E. W. Reed, C. D. Eaves and Wesley B. Smith. Tables were decorated with red roses.

Mrs. Emil D'Acosta sang, "I Heard a Forest Praying," accompanied by Miss Dorothy Dale Kennedy, who also played, "Prelude in D Flat." (Chopin.) Mrs. D'Acosta and Miss Kennedy were sorority guests.

Others present were Mesdames C. R. DeArmond, Holt Holloway, J. L. Holt, D. M. Howell, Nina Lindley, Pearl Metcalfe, Eric Ming, Fred D. Nelson, Warren Powers, Lattie Rankin, A. J. Wallace, H. P. Watkins, J. Holland Cox, Earl A. Dye, Hal A. Lattimore, and Misses Margaret Bell, Noma Eakin, Winnie Hendrix, Lenora Nickels and Lela Puryear.

Vows Read In New York

Mrs. Effie B. Hendrix of 1710 Twenty-second is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Betty Romayne Hendrix, to John Robert DeAngelo, son of Anthony DeAngelo of Utica, N. Y., which took place recently at the First Baptist church in New Hartford, N. Y. Rev. Halsey W. Morgan performed a double ring ceremony before an altar arranged with baskets of spring flowers and candles.

Carol Garlich, organist, and Mrs. Earl Heller, soloist, provided wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Joseph DeAngelo, brother of the bridegroom, wore a white ruffled marquisette gown with a fingertip veil which fell from a bonnet-shaped headdress trimmed with lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade of lilies centered with an orchid.

Miss Congetta DeAngelo, maid of honor, was dressed in white marquisette. She wore a green picture hat and carried a cascade of spring flowers.

James DeAngelo served as his brother's best man.

A reception was given in Utica following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with flowers and tapers. Guests were from Boston, New York City and Long Island, N. Y.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the couple will be at home in Utica. The bride is a graduate of Southland High school and was formerly employed by Western Union and SPAAF. Mr. DeAngelo is a graduate of New York Mills High school.

Church Circle Members Hold Monday Meetings

Members of Lubbock church circles held regular meetings Monday.

FIRST METHODIST WSCS CONCLUDES STUDY

Approximately 75 persons attended the First Methodist WSCS meeting Monday afternoon when Mrs. William G. Dingus directed the concluding study of "On Our Doorstep," (Frank Mead).

Mrs. George Trenfield presented historical background of Puerto Rico, and Mrs. H. M. Hilliard, a returned missionary from the island, spoke on the work of the Methodist church there.

Chile circle, led by Mrs. Olen Crump, was hostess to a tea following the program. The serving table held a sand replica of Puerto Rico, including the mountains and shell-dotted beaches. Tropical fruits, dolls and photographs of the island completed decorations.

ASBURY WSCS HAS LUNCHEON

Members of Asbury Methodist WSCS held a covered dish luncheon at noon Monday in the church, followed by a program meeting.

Mrs. L. D. Marshall led those present in singing, "The Church's One Foundation," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. C. Price, who then offered special music. Mrs. C. A. Bickley brought the devotional.

Mrs. Russell Denison discussed, "God and the American People." Mrs. Elmo Collins spoke on, "Vice President in Charge of Doing Good." Mrs. W. D. Scales' subject was, "God's Underworld." Mrs. J. H. Hines spoke on, "Learn to Live Again." Mrs. King Sides spoke on, "You Can Change the World." Mrs. Denison led the closing prayer.

ST. JOHN'S WSCS HEARS MISSIONARY

Forty members of St. John's Methodist WSCS heard Tom Cleveland, Texas Tech student and missionary to Africa, discuss the mission field at a meeting at the church Monday afternoon.

The program also included a vocal solo by Mrs. C. H. Scales, and a duet by Mrs. Scales and Mrs. S. W. Brunson. C. E. Love gave the devotional. The program was preceded by a morning business meeting and a covered dish luncheon.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL HEARS REVIEW

Mrs. John W. Lynch reviewed, "Point of No Return," (John P. Marquand), at a meeting of First Christian church Women's council at the church Monday afternoon. Approximately 25 members attended.

FIRST BAPTIST WMS CIRCLES MEET

Mrs. O. W. English was hostess to 16 members of Annie Armstrong circle of First Baptist church Monday afternoon. Mrs. S. C. Cooper taught the Bible lesson. Mrs. W. H. Trice taught the lesson for nine members of Elouise Cauthen circle, meeting with Mrs. A. C. Dennig. Ten members of Ola Culpepper circle met with Mrs. J. B. Walker to hear Mrs. Grace Craig bring the Bible lesson.

Maudie Fielder circle meeting, attended by 19 members and a guest, met with Mrs. W. A. Robinson. Mrs. W. M. Petticolas brought the Bible lesson and Mrs. Morley Jennings offered the devotional. Mrs. Elda Mae Paulger was hostess to 12 members and three guests of Blanche Groves circle. Mrs. L. T. Stone brought the lesson. Four members of Lilly Hunley circle heard Mrs. Charles Moeser teach the Bible lesson in the home of Mrs. A. L. Bruce. Mrs. S. B. Hay was hostess to Lena Lair circle.

Eight members of Lottie Moon circle heard a lesson by Mrs. J. E. Alexander when they met in her home. Mrs. Roy Dopson presented a lesson to seven members of Ruby Hayden Parker and one member of Leta Rue Riddle circles when they met in Thirty-fourth Street Baptist church. Mrs. M. M. Ewing was hostess to 11 members of Ann Pettit circle, taught by Mrs. Mack Mead.

Mrs. E. J. Cowan taught eight members of Lucile Reagan circle meeting with Mrs. J. A. Goodwin. Eight members of Annie Jenkins Sallee met with Mrs. J. K. Miller to hear a lesson by Mrs. O. A. Tyner. Mrs. N. L. Ball was hostess to 16 members and a guest of Hattie Stallings circle. Mrs. J. E. Ward taught the lesson. Mrs. R. D. Amarillo Storm Victim Tells Of Spinning Through Air In House

Associated Press Staff Writer

AMARILLO, May 16.—"Our house started spinning through the air and I figured we were all dead ducks."

That's part of the dramatic story told today by I. J. Parks, victim of last night's tornado that blasted through a section of this Panhandle city.

Parks' home—now a part of the great shambled tornado area—actually was blown half a block and he and his wife and three children miraculously lived through the trip.

All Are In Hospital

All were in St. Anthony's hospital here today. Here is Parks' story:

"My wife and my three children were home during the hard rain and hail that came before the tornado. When the hail began battering our roof so hard that it sounded like brickbats I sensed something was coming.

"I had never seen strange weather like this. I got my family together and got them under a bed in the bedroom. I had our youngest child, Mike, 14 months old, huddled up to my stomach. My wife was holding Marilyn, she's three years old. And Mark, who is four, was there with us.

Twirling Through Air

"Then we heard a roar and then I felt the house being lifted up. We were twirling through the air. I don't remember the landing because it knocked me and my wife out.

"We regained consciousness at about the same time. Mark was crying. He had been torn away from us while the house was spinning. It was covered with lumber and boards, so was the rest of my family but I dug myself out. Then I dug them out of the lumber and mud and we got to this hospital.

Mark was the only one of the family with consequential injuries. He was black all over from bruises.

Ed William Gill, 22, hospitalized with a head injury, told of his amazing bout with the tornado:

"I was riding along the highway near Amarillo with two other fellows in the rain and hail when all of a sudden a big burst of wind picked the front wheels of the car up from the road. Then the wind let it down as easy as a hydraulic jack.

Then It Really Hit

"I pulled over to the side of the road, cut the motor, and pulled on the brake. Then the tornado really hit us.

"I remember the car rolling over once. I was really holding on that steering wheel. But that first roll is all I remember. There were eight more—and they found our car 300 yards off the highway. It knocked us out.

"The other fellows told me that I woke up and started running for the highway and got a ride to the hospital, but I don't remember anything about that. The first thing I do remember was the 'doc' saying "Well, this is the last stitch'."

J. W. Persefield, his wife and five children—Jimmie, 14; Gene, 12; Jane, 11; Sam, 9, and John, 4—huddled in the living room of their home while the house came to pieces.

They escaped after the roof blew off by running out under a tree. Persefield said:

Car Being Blown

"I have never heard such a roar. It was really trrific. After we ran outside I saw a car go up the street and back and tried to hail it, but then I saw that the car was not being driven, it was being blown."

S. M. Daniels, who lived behind Persefield, was at home with his son, Jackie. Daniels ran to the window and saw the tornado coming. He grabbed Jackie and rolled into the back yard just as the house collapsed. The house today was just a pile of lumber.

Daniels and his son received minor injuries from flying debris.

M. D. Arthur, Mrs. Arthur, and their little son, Gary Lee, had just moved into their new home three days ago.

"I heard the awful roar," Arthur, a small, be-spectacled man, said. "It sounded like a big freight train going right over you. My wife and son and I got flat on the floor and crawled for the bed. Then the roof came off and a chiffonier fell across the bed, pinning us to the floor. I was able to get up and get the chiffonier off the bed to release my wife. We weren't hurt."

In 1945 the Arthurs lost an infant son in an accident and another son died a few months ago.

"I know our bad luck will have to change some time," Arthur said.

Texas Solon Introduces Bill To Aid Aged Seeking Pensions

WASHINGTON, May 16 (U.P.) — Rep. Lindley Beckworth, (D-Tex) today introduced a bill that would make it unnecessary for an aged person seeking federal old age benefits to pay a fee to obtain proof of age.

Beckworth said many persons in his district pay a $1 fee for a Census bureau search of age records or a $3 fee if they want a speedy search.

How many of these Little Known Facts are

Eye Openers to You?

YOU use your eyes for just about everything . . . Let's see what you know about them!

WHO HAS PERFECT VISION? Only 2 persons in 100. Actually as many as 80 million Americans need assistance in seeing . . . 23% of teen-agers; 42% of 30-year-olds; 78% of 50-year-olds.

DOES SEEING AFFECT HEALTH? Yes. One quarter of your bodily energy is used by your eyes in seeing. No wonder that straining-to-see makes people tired . . . causes headaches, nervousness, stomach disorders, other ailments.

DOES GOOD VISION PAY ON-THE-JOB? Good seeing accounts for production gains as high as 20% . . . reduces absenteeism and fatigue. On the other hand, 37% of spoiled work is traceable to eyes which are not adapted or adjusted to the job. Good seeing does pay off.

DOES GOOD SEEING KEEP YOU SAFE? Most assuredly! Especially when driving a motor car. Too many people with nearsightedness, astigmatism or "tunnel vision" cannot see sharply or accurately or quickly enough to avoid accidents.

HOW DOES GOOD SEEING AFFECT READING? In a half hour of reading, the external muscles of the eye flex 113,000 times! Yet fast readers (good see-ers) tire less quickly and absorb more. How fast do you read? An adult should read about 300 to 350 words per minute; a high school student, 260 to 300 words; a 7th grade child, 230 words.

DOES POOR VISION HURT YOUR GOOD LOOKS? Peering and squinting (so unbecoming!) cause crow's-feet and wrinkles. Strain-free eyes are the most attractive!

DO VITAMINS HELP VISION? Vitamins, found in a number of foods and beverages, do help your seeing. Especially Vitamin A, a lack of which can contribute to night blindness. (Trouble finding your seat in the movie?—or driving at night?)

DOES THE 'PHONE BOOK STUMP YOU? Most persons of 45 and over find it difficult to read the names and numbers in the phone book. Many much earlier in life. Neglected vision!

SHOULD MOVIES BOTHER YOU? Not necessarily. Only persons with uncorrected visual errors get "wobbly-eyed," unduly tired or sleepy at movies or with television.

You can't know too much about Your Eyes!

But the most important thing to know is whether those precious, irreplaceable eyes are at their best. Only a professional eye man can tell you that. So Plan for an early check-up! The services and skills of the ophthalmologist and ophthalmic dispenser will assure you of good seeing.

Hubbers Bury Borger

Open Drive In Second Inning

BORGER, May 16. (Special)—Lubbock's Hubbers busted loose with their heaviest hitting attack of the season here tonight to bury the Borger Gassers under a 25 to 13 football score in a baseball game.

It was a brutal exhibition of base knocks, with the Hubbers opening the damage in the second inning on three home runs that drove in five of the seven runs that frame.

Joe Wisniewski hit his first circuit clout of the season with the sacks empty, John Dempsey, the new outfielder up from Pensacola hit one with a man aboard and Mike Dooley followed with a four-master also with a man on base.

Dempsey came back later, in the fourth, to slam his second circuit clout of the night and this also came with a man on base. The blow highlighted a six-run fourth inning.

Hubber bats were equalled, in minor proportion, by Borger. Ken Sears hit his fifth home run in three games, Clayton Fries slammed a fourmaster and John Littlejohn also homered. Sears pitched in a double, his third in three games.

Al Duarte, who has been in a slump, came out of it with an almost perfect night. He garnered six hits in seven trips and scored five runs, but Dempsey and Pepper Martin, two newcomers, were the most potent influences. Martin drove in six runs and Dempsey chased home five.

Fries, a pitcher playing leftfield, was thrown out of the game in the fourth inning by Umpire Simon for protesting a called strike.

Royce Mills, who came on to relieve Bill Grafton in the third inning, was the winning pitcher. Mills couldn't still Gasser bats, but he did a better than fair job of holding them in check.

The line score:

LUBBOCK	171 002 404	25	21 1
BORGER	120 122 001	13	16 1

Grafton, Mills (wp) and Dooley; Faccio (lp), Petersen, Carnett and Sears.

Blue Sox Trample Pioneers, 12 To 3

CLOVIS, May 16. (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers outhit the Abilene Blue Sox here tonight, but seven bobbles and some tight pitching by lefthander Jose Nakamura gave the visitors a 12-3 victory.

The Blue Sox scored in bunches of four, but only five of their runs were earned. The Pioneers went to pieces completely afield with runners on the bases. Newcomer Bill Rosinn, righthander obtained Sunday from Visalia, Calif., on option twirled good enough ball to win the average game, allowing only one extra base hit, a tainted double in the third, and striking out seven. He walked two.

Lack of support ruined Rosinn's fine pitching effort.

Meanwhile Nakamura was hit often, but two snappy Blue Sox double plays aided his cause greatly in the early innings. The Abilene portsider bore down with Pioneers on the sacks, twice retiring the side with all corners packed and no runs in.

Nakamura struck out eight and issued only two bases on balls.

The line score:

ABILENE	004 040 040	12	9 2
CLOVIS	001 000 011	3	13 7

Nakamura and Calvino; Rosin and Palmer.

HAMILTON HURLS GOLD SOX TO 14-2 WIN OVER OILERS

AMARILLO, May 16. (AP)—Luke Hamilton had a 10-0 lead before Pampa could break through in the sixth inning tonight, and Amarillo coasted on to an easy 14-2 victory over the Oilers in series opener, the veteran righthander's fifth of the season against a single loss.

Played on muddy Gold Sox field, the right field wall of which was levelled by Sunday night's tornado, the dull affair was witnessed by only 387 paying fans, smallest turnout in the park's history.

Roy Parker and Dick Lockwood, the Pampa pitchers, both were wild and were hit by the Sox in every inning. Hamilton didn't walk a man until he had one away in the ninth.

Dick Gentzkow homered for the Gold Sox in the seventh with none on base.

PAMPA	000 001 010	2	9 2
AMARILLO	100 301 12x	14	15 0

Parker, Lockwood (5) and Peduniak; Warren, Hamilton and Cowser.

Petersburg To Meet Vega In 3-B Playoff

PETERSBURG, May 26 (Spl.)—The Petersburg High school baseball team was forced in to the third game of the District 3-B playoff before downing a stubborn Springlake nine in a two out of three series.

The local team won the first game earlier, and the doubleheader was played today. Springlake took the first tilt, 13-7, with B. Lowrey on the mound. Delbert Holloway was the loser.

In the last tilt of the doubleheader today Petersburg took a close 8-7 decision to enter the bi-district playoff with Vega sometime this week. School officials were unable to contact Vega today.

Leading the hitting in the deciding game for Petersburg were Herbert Welch with three singles in four times at bat and Shorty Kirk with a triple and a single in four trips.

Senators Nose Out Red Sox Nine, 3-2

Mickey Haefner Gets Third Win

(By International News Service)

Washington's amazing Senators tied the Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics for fourth place in the American league Monday by defeating the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2.

Mickey Haefner, who recently held Cleveland to one hit, held the Sox to eight hits and chalked up his third victory in four tries this season. Jack Kramer, who has yet to win a game this year, went the route for the losers.

The veteran Buddy Lewis of the Senators orevented Boston from tying the score in the ninth when he caught a Red Sox base runner flatfooted for the final out with an unexpected throw to second base.

This was the only game scheduled in the major leagues. A light daytime program also is carded for Tuesday when the second intersectional round robin will get underway, with the eastern National league clubs invading the west and the western American league teams making their first eastern tour.

In the only daytime games, Brooklyn will make its debut at Chicago, and the Chicago White Sox will tackle the Red Sox in Boston. The other six games will be played at night.

The New York Giants optioned Jack Lohrke, brilliant utility infielder, and pitcher Andy Tomasic to their International league farm club at Jersey City, subject to 24-hour recall.

Bobby Hofman will be New York's second baseman. The rookie is leading the Giants in hitting with a .412 average.

WOOD TO BALTIMORE

ST. LOUIS, May 16. (INS)—The St. Louis Browns cut their roster down to the legal maximum of 25 players today by sending outfielder Ken Wood on 24-hour recall to their Baltimore farm team in the International league.

Russell Placed On Disabled List

Cotton Russell, Hubber righthander, has been placed on the disabled list and left last night for his home in Fort Worth, where he may remain for three to six weeks.

Russell had complained of a sore arm for several days, but x-rays failed to disclose bone chips or any other unusual condition in his arm. Yesterday he was examined by a St. Louis specialist, who was a visitor with Dr. J. H. Stiles, club physician.

RUSSELL

The specialist discovered that there was a knot condition in Russell's right shoulder and, while it was not advanced enough to form calcium deposits at this time, it was considered dangerous. Complete rest from three to six weeks was ordered and the Lubbock Baseball club had him placed on the disabled list.

Further information received from the local baseball club yesterday changed the complexion of the two players received over the weekend.

Dempsey Hitting .375

John Dempsey, the righthander, is an outfielder on option from Pensacola, Fla., of the Class B Southeastern League. Dempsey, who reported here yesterday, is a six foot, one and a half inch 205-pound youngster. He has been hitting .375 with Pensacola.

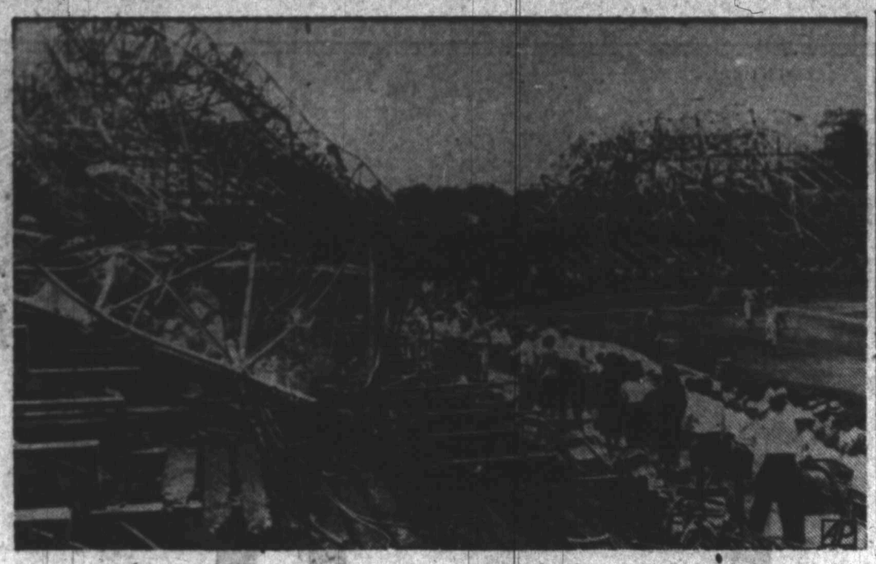

Last year with Petersburg, Va., of the Class D Virginia League, Dempsey, then a rookie, hit .268. He scored 52 runs, had 93 hits good for 140 total bases and drove in 42 runs. Among his hits were 18 doubles, seven triples and five home runs. His fielding was .908.

Robert "Pepper" Martin, on option from Greenville for a five-day look, is a veteran. He was with Odessa and San Angelo of the Longhorn League last year, hitting .303. He scored 85 runs, had 154 hits good for 201 total bases and drove in 95 runs. Among his hits were 21 doubles, four triples and six home runs. He also stole 26 bases.

Chick Fowler, Hubber leftfielder of the past two seasons, left last night to join the Greenville team. He was on option to the Hubbers and the option was recalled when Martin joined the local nine.

Game Set—If The Weather Stays Dry

Amarillo, Westerner District 1-AA Playoff Tilt Rescheduled

Hopes for settlement of the first District 1-AA playoff baseball game are envisioned at 3:30 p. m. today when Amarillo's Golden Sandies are again scheduled to play Lubbock's Westerners at Chapman field diamond.

Play was postponed Friday, Saturday, and Monday, but the game has been reset for this afternoon. Barring last minute rain, the game will be played. The second and third games of the two out of three series will be played in Amarillo Wednesday.

Coach Fred Taylor said Monday night that the field was very soggy but that he anticipated steady footing by game time today unless more rain fell. The field has no been completely dry since the torrential downpour that flooded the field weekend before last.

The first game of the series will be the crucial tilt of the whole playoff, and the team that takes the opener will probably win the district title.

Starting pitcher for Lubbock is expected to be Jimmy Hamilton, righthander, who has pitched steady ball all year. If Hamilton doesn't get the nod then Portsider Bennie Day will toe the rubber for the Westerners. Against the Lubbock nine Amarillo will start Walton Roberson, ace of the Sandie mound staff.

Lengthy hitting drills and infield practice were the main concern in the workout for the Westerners yesterday, and the boys were reported to have looked good at the plate and in the infield warmup.

Admission to the game is 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

EXPERIENCE COMPETES WITH YOUTH

Grads Meet Probable Varsity Red Raider Cage Squad Tonight

It will be experience against youth and hustle tonight at 8 in Texas Tech gym, when the graduating members of the Red Raider basketball squad play the probable Raider varsity squad of the 1949-1950 season.

This will be the third meeting between the two teams, or squads, and they each hold one victory. It will be a regular basketball tilt, with officials and regular game conditions.

The public, which ordinarily is not able to see Tech games because of the limited seating capacity, is invited to witness the practice game. There will be no admission charge and seats will go on a first come, first served basis.

Robison With Varsity

Coach Polk Robison will be on the bench with next year's varsity material, which is composed mainly of freshmen, a couple of transfer students and one or two holdovers from the squad that this past season finished behind Arizona university in the Border Conference race.

Playing for the seniors will be an all-star lineup that will be headed by Don Grove at center. Grove was unanimous All-Conference choice at center for three years. He will have able assistance at the forward positions in Whistle Banks and Wayne Bowles, both of whom played a lot of basketball for Tech. Ardis Barton and James "Wimpy" Hill will be at guards.

In reserve for the seniors will be C. W. Dukes, Ernest Hawkins and Bill Kelley. Hawkins and Kelley are former lettermen.

Coach Polk Robison's future varsity, which has been looking good this spring, will have in the starting lineup Gene Gibson at center, Jack Alderson and J. R. McAnaly at forwards and Jiggs Jackson and Ted O'Neil at guards.

In reserve for the varsity crew will be Verdell Turner, Jim Sharp, Jim Eddins, Don Bagwell, Weldon McClure, Irl Brown and Virgil Johnson.

Gibson, one of the better forwards in the Border loop last year, has been switched to the pivot post and has been performing more than adequately there.

Monarchs Nip Colts, 6 To 5

Amarillo came to Lubbock last night at Rosenthal Field but, unlike the Gold Sox, the Colts couldn't stand the prosperity of a lead and the Kansas City Monarchs slipped past them for a narrow 6 to 5 victory.

A good crowd of over 500 fans witnessed the game, which required less than two hours to play and which supplied some good baseball. Some of the fielding was sharp and all three pitchers in the game displayed a good deal of ability.

Three Long Homers

Three home runs cleared the outfield barriers last night, two of them by Monarch players. Alfred Cartmill, who also had a single, lashed a four master in the third with no one on. Curtis Hollingsworth, losing pitcher, slammed a fourbarger in the seventh for the Colts with the sacks empty. And Sam Goshay lifted one over the left centerfield barrier in the eighth with one on.

That homer got the Monarchs back into the game, after the Colts had widened the margin to 5-2 in the two-run seventh. And the Kansas City Club, the same one which gave Satchel Paige and Jackie Robinson to Organized Ball, won the game in the top of the ninth.

Lee Moody, one of the better Monarch players, drilled a double into rightfield and when the Colt shortstop let the throwin get past him, Moody streaked to third. He scored easily when the Colt second baseman booted Fred McDaniel's hard smash. McDaniel moved to second on a single and went to third on a sacrifice.

Foots Parker Colorful

James "Cool Papa" Bell, one of the more colorful oldtimers on the Monarch club, then pinch hit, rifling a single into leftfield that scored McDaniel with the winning run.

James Birdsong, who relieved Robert Keye in the eighth, was the winning hurler, getting past trouble in both the eighth and ninth innings.

Probably the most colorful and most entertaining player last night was Foots Parker, first baseman for the Colts. Parker kept the large crowd constantly laughing with his antics.

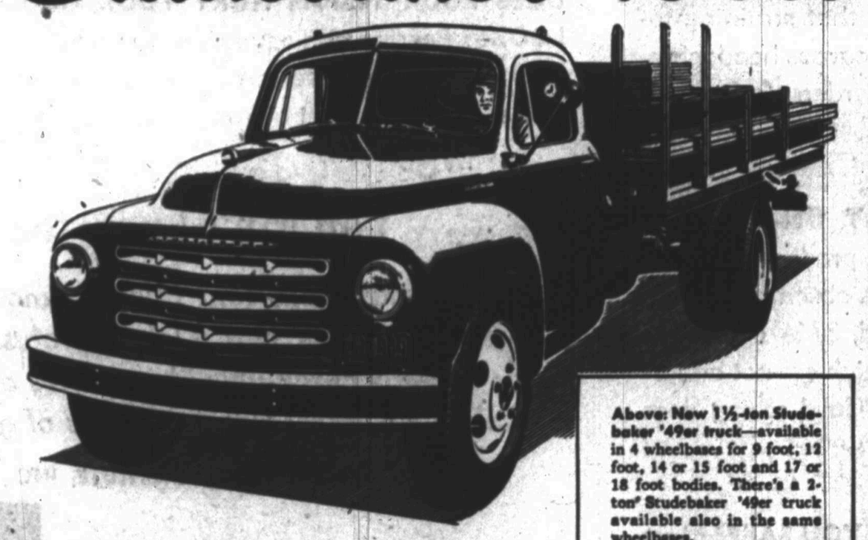

The line score:

KANSAS CITY	101 000 032	6	8 3
AMARILLO	000 200 200	5	8 3

Keye, Birdsong and Wright; Hollingsworth and Pagan.

SOX SEND HOME PLATE TO VEECK

White Hot Chicago White Sox Head For Eastern Invasion

CHICAGO, May 16 (INS) — Baseball's wonder team, the white hot White Sox, left on their first invasion of the east today after mailing their home plate to Bill Veeck so he and his Cleveland Indians could see what it looks like.

The point to that was, the Injuns certainly didn't find out yesterday before an all-time, record Comiskey Park crowd of 53,225.

The Tribe went down twice, 10 to 0 and 2 to 0, at the hands of Jack Onslow's madcap Sox, who thus moved into third place in the American league standings, half a game out of second.

This—the team that had just won a shutout doubleheader from the world champion Indians and swept a three-game series from the selfsame Cleveland club—was the same laughing-stock bunch that was settled at 200-to-1 in the prepennant race odds a month ago.

But as they left town today, the White Sox left not a little wonder and quite some respect in their wake—not to mention a fulsome rhubarb involving the Cleveland club.

The Chicago Herald-American said today that "dissension, for the most part concerned with Bob Feller's reported $72,000 salary this season and his comparatively nonproductive efforts to date, has invaded the wigwam of the Cleveland Indians.'

Feller, the Indians' veteran righthander and good will tourist was banged out of the box in two quick innings in yesterday's first game at Comiskey Park.

When reached for comment on the newspaper report, Manager Lou Boudreau of the Indians said, "It's absolutely untrue."

Just to make things lovely, general manager Frank Lane of the White Sox had the Comiskey Park home plate dug up and mailed to Indians President Bill Veeck, with this cheerful note:

"We won't be needing this again until Decoration Day and thought you and yours might like to see what it looks like."

Cat Home Games Moved To Dallas

FORT WORTH, May 16 (AP)—Three home games of the Fort Worth club of the Texas league were transferred today to Dallas for next weekend because of the $1,000,000 La Grave field fire Sunday.

Business manager Bobby Goff of the Dallas club said Fort Worth would be the home team in contests in Dallas Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Fort Worth officials said the club will carry out the rest of its home schedule at La Grave field, where 4,000 seats remain available. The main stands went up in smoke after the Saturday night game.

Club officials said all thoughts of using any other park in Fort Worth have been abandoned.

The club is at San Antonio for two games but will return to Fort Worth Wednesday to open a series with Houston.

"We'll stick to our home grounds and do the best we can with what we have left," President John Reeves said.

About 4,000 seats still are available at La Grave field. Three light standards were wrecked in the fire and they will have to be replaced if night ball is to be played.

The lighting system probably won't be ready by Wednesday. If not the games will be afternoon affairs.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, owners of the Fort Worth franchise and park, has said his organization will stay in Fort Worth and increase its interest in making the club successful on the field.

Plans for rebuilding the park on a permanent basis will have to wait. Construction can't be started until the season is over.

Williams-Bolanos Fight Is Postponed

LOS ANGELES, May 16 (AP)—The world championship fight between lightweight titleholder Ike Williams and Enrique Bolanos has been postponed indefinitely because of Williams' shoulder injury, Clayton Frye, chief inspector for the State Athletic Commission, said today.

Frye was present at a medical examination conducted by Dr. Francisco Bravo, who commented: "The shoulder has been causing enough trouble to warrant ... off of six weeks to two months." The fight was scheduled ... 26.

Post Loses Oil Belt Tilt

The closest game and the highest scoring game of the year were played Sunday in the Oil Belt league.

In a wild contest Seagraves downed Post, 29-8, and Denver City went 12 full innings before downing tahoka, 2-2. The scores of the other games saw Sundown defeating Brownfield, 14-8, and Slaton walloping Levelland, 9-4.

In the Denver City contest only five hits were made by three players. Harwick of Tahoka had two hits in five times up for the losers. Gorman had two for three, and Jones had one for five for the winners.

Both teams scored in the first inning and did not scratch again until the twelfth when Denver City pushed over two runs and Tahoka came back in their half of the inning to score a lone tally. But Epperson put out the fire and ended the game. Epperson was the winning hurler, and Bill Holcomb was charged with the loss.

Brownfield suffered its fifth straight loss in losing the Sunday tilt to Sundown. Leading the 19-hit Sundown attack were McChristal, third base with four for six; Joiner, shortstop, with three for five including a homer in the first frame; and Medford with two for four. Holder, Totem and Wright each got two hits. Lewis was the winning pitcher.

Vinson aided the Brownfield cause with two hits in three trips; Graham had two for five; and Anderson collected two for five. R. C. Morton was the loser.

Seagraves lost little time in smothering Post, scoring six runs in the first, eight in the second, and pushing runs across in every inning but the fifth. The game went through eight full innings.

The winning team collected 25 hits to 10 for the losers. Winning pitcher was Faulkner, and he collected five hits in seven times at bat including two doubles. Lawrence had three for six, including a home run and a double, and Goodman, Deatherage, Cope, Woods, Grace, and Hicks wielded strong bats. Greer was the losing pitcher.

Simpson got three for four for the losers, and Holland had two for four.

Shallowater Nine Captures 5-B Title

SHALLOWATER, May 16 (Spl.)—The final round of play in the District 5-B baseball tournament was held here today, and Shallowater took the district title by virtue of an 11-5 victory over Idalou.

In the consolation game, Lorenzo's Rector pitched his team to an 11-1 victory over New Home. Rogers was the losing hurler.

Shallowater will play the winner of District 6-B for the bi-district title at a later date. Time, place, and opponent are unknown at this time.

In gaining the finals and the championship Shallowater defeated Roosevelt, 3-2, in the first game; New Home, 18-4, in the second contest; and dropped Idalou in the final.

Idalou advanced by defeating Robertson, 22-2, and Lorenzo, 6-4.

Stranahan On Way To Dublin For British Amateur Tourney

NEW YORK, May 16 (INS) — Frank (Muscles) Stranahan, of Toledo, O., took off by plane tonight for Dublin, where he will defend his British amateur golf championship.

The tourney will start a week from today. Willie Turnesa, the U. S. amateur champion, already is on the scene. Another group of golfers from Boston, headed by the veteran Francis Ouimet, will leave later this week.

WATER SKIING IN PUERTO RICO—Muriel Schard performs a back bend and obscures Bruce Parker's vision as the pair demonstrate water skiing to Puerto Ricans at Luquillo Beach. Parker took an entire troupe of experts to Puerto Rico from New York City for the debut of the thrilling sport. It would seem that water skiing has its good points.

Pygmy And Pee Wee Teams Divide Games

Red Sox and White Sox Pygmy and Pee Wee teams in the Lubbock Boys club split games yesterday afternoon, the Pygmy Red Sox winning 9 to 7 and the Pee Wee White Sox capturing a 15 to 6 decision.

Roger Stanley and Buddy Shafner each had two for two for the Pygmy Red Sox, while George Smith had the same number for the losers.

In the Pee Wee loop game, Ray Turman had a home run and single in two trips and Keith Harrison had a triple and double in three trips for the White Sox. Gayle Boyd paced the losers with two singles in two trips.

This afternoon the Dodgers and Yankees in the Pygmy and Pee Wee leagues will collide.

Central Ward Girls Defeat Bean School Softballers, 31-10

Central Ward girls beat the Bean school girls 31 to 10 in a softball game yesterday afternoon that settled the city grade school softball title in the girls division.

Central Ward girls are coached by Clyde Gee, who is assisted by Miss Hooten.

HALSTEAD BUYS CLUB

McALLEN, May 16. (AP)—Earle Halstead, business manager of the McAllen club in the Rio Grande Valley league, has bought the club from Andrew J. Paris. Halstead said the entire assets of the club had been purchased and that offices would be moved from Paris' bubble gum factory to the Chamber of Congress.

Morton Drops Post Nine, 4-3

MORTON, May 16 (Special) — Morton defeated Post, 4-3, here today in a District 4-A baseball playoff game that ended the three-game series at one game apiece. The third game will be played Thursday in Lubbock at Chapman field.

In the eighth inning of the overtime game, scheduled for seven, Fred Stockdale, right field, doubled to lead off the inning, and Pitcher Bill McDaniel brought him home with another double to end the game. In winning the contest, McDaniel struck out 15 batters and gave up only five hits. In addition to the game-winning double, he collected a single also. Clifford Wails led the hitting with two doubles and a single.

Wade gave up 11 hits and struck out eight for Post in losing the game. Two rallies by Post tied the game at 2-2 in the second and 3-3 in the seventh, but the visitors could not hold their position.

Cage Star, O'Neal Weaver To Attend Tyler Junior College

TYLER, May 16 (AP) — O'Neal Weaver, the Marthas Mill basketball star who scored 1186 points last season, will enroll at Tyler Junior college in September, coach Floyd Wagstaff said today.

Weaver was one of the most widely sought athletes in Texas. Tyler is 30 miles from Martins Mill and Weaver had said he didn't want to get far from home where he resides with his grandmother.

RAILWAY WRECKAGE—Dozens of boxcars were lifted from their carriages on the Santa Fe tracks just east of the stricken residential area by Amarillo's Sunday night tornado. This scene which is looking south down the Santa Fe tracks shows some of the frightful damage wrought by the fierce winds. An oddity is that the cars were tossed into the opposite direction from which the tornado travelled. Signal towers near the wrecked cars were twisted as though by a giant hand and bent to the ground. TORNADO PLAYS TRICKS—Like a giant with a twisted sense of humor, Amarillo's tornado played many grim tricks, one of which is shown in the photo above where a mattress has been skidded beneath the rear wheels of the plank riddled automobile. Three persons reportedly were in the car when the storm struck but escaped without serious injuries. Planks were driven through the right rear tire, and other small timbers were jammed into the metal body. Houses near the automobile were stripped of roofs and siding but were left standing like half picked fowl. (Staff Photo.)

WOOD RAMMED INTO SMASHED CAR—The auto above was smashed into ruins by the tornadic winds which hit Amarillo Sunday, just one of several such cases in the battered area. Note the heavy piece of lumber shot into the side of the car by the winds. (Staff Photo.)

NO PLACE TO HIDE—Automobiles, long considered a fairly safe haven during a tornado, proved to be little if any more protection than ordinary wooden buildings during the Amarillo tornado. The vehicles were bent and twisted and often hurled many yards, or riddled with debris by Sunday night's terrible winds. This photo shows a crushed coupe in the yard of a smashed home. The car supposedly was blown from the adjoining block into the yard. (Staff Photo By Bill Hams.)

SURVEY WRECKAGE OF HOME—An unidentified couple survey all that remains of their home in south Amarillo after Sunday night's roaring tornado had ripped away all of the outer walls, leaving only this central core which consisted mainly of the two bedroom closets. Such sights were common Monday morning as badly shaken families returned to the devastated area to salvage a few battered pieces of furniture or clothing spared by the twister. (Staff Photo.)

PIG WANDERS INTO STORM AREA—The pig above had wandered far off his beat when he was snapped by an Avalanche photographer in Amarillo Monday. The pig was at least six blocks from a derailed freight train in which he was riding when the storm struck.

TREES STRIPPED OF LIMBS—The winds ripped branches from trees throughout Amarillo in Sunday's storm as evidenced in the photo above.

Damage Soars Over $3 Million In Amarillo; Many Homes Hit

Finance corporation made the stricken area eligible for disaster loans.

Amarillo was rebuilding already. Carpenters were reshingling some residences. Elsewhere—while state highway patrolmen, national guardsmen and police patrolled the disaster zone—property owners picked their way through the wreckage.

"The storm hit those who can afford it least," said Maguire. "About 90 of the homes destroyed belonged to war veterans. Few had insurance on their personal possessions and furniture. Much of it was smashed to rubbish."

The four dead were:
Mrs. Lois Martin, 30.
Eva McPherson, 56.
George McPherson, 97.
Mrs. Charles Maserang.

The tornado—first destructive twister in the 62-year-old history of the Panhandle capital—struck about 8:25 p.m. A rumbling like a dozen freight cars preceded it.

Rides In House

The I. J. Parks family took a flying trip—in their own house. Parks, his wife and three children crawled under a bed.

"Then we heard a roar and then I felt the house being lifted up. We were twirling through the air. I figured we were all dead ducks. I don't remember the landing, because it knocked me and my wife out," he said.

Parks regained consciousness to find his house had been blown half a block. The entire family was hospitalized but all escaped critical injuries.

J. W. Persefield told of trying to flag down a car which he saw go up and down a street near which his family was huddled. He quit trying—when he saw that the car was being blown, and carried no driver.

Countless pigs, released when the tornado smashed open three freight cars, rooted about among the acres of wreckage. Police cleared the area of curious sightseekers to enable workmen to clear away crumpled roofs lying in streets, downed trees, and scattered lumber and furniture.

Co-ordinating Group Set Up

Mayor Gene Klein and city commissioners established a co-ordinating committee to handle volunteer relief funds pouring into the Amarillo Globe-News office.

Mayor Klein said no construction workers are needed here—that local manpower is sufficient. Relief officials said "second hand clothing is not wanted—and will not be accepted."

Bill Gillstrap, division manager of the Southwest Public Service company, said preliminary estimates of utilities damage run to $50,000 to $75,000. Potter county's bill for tornado damage will total at least $60,000, County Auditor John Crudgington said.

Damage to buildings at the Tri-State fairgrounds was estimated at $20,000. The B. I. Barfield Lumber yard and planing mill estimated its loss at $125,000.

Damage to telephone lines was terrific—and was a major factor in the difficulty in learning of crop loss and damage in outlying areas.

Gruer Is Hit

Frank Welling, his wife, and his wife's mother, Mrs. J. B. Perkins, and Welling's son, Frank Edward Welling, were huddled in the living room when the house flew apart. Welling said:

"If a man doesn't pray during one of those things he'll never pray."

The tornado leaped 80 miles northeast of here to lash the villages of Nature's Park and Gruver. Neither village reported injuries.

The wind tore the roof off Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Nobles' five-room home nestled against a hillside on Palo Duro creek at Nature's Park, ripped the second story off their garage and smashed five small cabins used for storage.

It unroofed a rock home built in 1890 on the Cobles ranch half a mile northeast of the Nobles' house, destroyed corral fences and at least three outbuildings.

Half a mile farther, it knocked down more than a dozen telephone poles, and then smashed into Gruver, lifting at least one home from its foundation. Torrential rain flooded Gruver. Sixty-five gallon gasoline tanks floated in the streets at one time.

Rain Floods Streets

At Spearman, frightened citizens gathered in the basement of the courthouse, but the tornado missed the town in its hop, skip and jump across the Panhandle.

At Gruver, lightning struck a drug store and wind whipped a house from its foundations. Water from a five and one-half inch rainfall flooded the streets.

The greatest destruction outside Amarillo appeared to be at Nature Park, a small, isolated woodland community in the middle of a once-fine wheat crop. Borger News-Herald reporters found two miles of power lines down near Nature Park, all snapped off at the base. As far as they could see the road was blocked.

At Electra in north central Texas, 1.56 inches of rain fell during a hail and lightning storm today during which a transformer was knocked out. Power and telephone service was interrupted briefly.

The Dallas weather bureau said a cold front traveling aloft moved into Texas last night and by late this afternoon was hanging on a line from Wichita Falls down to Mineral Wells and back toward San Angelo.

"That doesn't mean there will be a storm in those sections, however," the bureau said. "The cold front apparently isn't strong enough to work its way to the ground, and it seems to be getting weaker as it moves east."

Rain fell at San Angelo, Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Abilene, Waco, Brownwood, and north of the weather station at San Antonio. Austin reported a trace.

Temperatures seemed highest along the Rio Grande, where Laredo reported 87 degrees today. Readings were in the 60's in northwest Texas.

Heavy rains dotted the San Angelo ranch country late yesterday and early today. They improved pastures already refreshed by April's heavy rains. They delayed planting, but brought bright prospects for cotton, small grains and other crops.

Plight Of U.S. Indian Discussed At Meeting

"The highest starvation rate in the world is in American concentration camps, the Indian reservations," Charles Eagle Plume told members of the Knife and Fork club Monday evening in the Lubbock hotel.

"An Indian may not leave the reservation unless he is educated, and there are school facilities for less than 25 per cent," Charles Eagle Plume declared. "Yet there is on the payroll of the U. S. Indian Agency one employe for every five Indians."

The speaker's dramatic appeal for Reservations Indians came during a question and answer period following his lecture on Early American Cultures.

Indian Contribution Cited

"It is unfortunate," he said, that American Indians whose ancestors developed 25 of the world's 32 commercially important vegetables, get not enough food to stay alive."

The meeting was presided over by Clarence Whiteside, president, who introduced the newly elected president Dr. A. G. Barsh, and announced that newly elected board of directors include Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, Dr. H. I. Robinson, and Dr. Barsh.

pearance in court in the government's suit, in effect consented to be sued. If the government can file suits against Texas and Louisiana, then similar suits may be filed against 19 other coastal states and seven states bordering the Great Lakes.

South Plains Lashed

south and East of Lubbock, leaving South Plains skies placid and clearing. There were numerous breaks in cloudiness by 1 p.m. Monday, and only scattered clouds by 2 p.m., the local U. S. Weather bureau station said last night.

After sunrise Monday morning, rains fell at Big Spring, Abilene, and other southeastern points.

Though skies were almost entirely clear in this area at dusk Monday, the Weather Bureau reported that scattered clouds probably would return during the night to distribute scattered showers over this area today. No heavy rains were forecast and skies were expected to be partly cloudy to clear today.

Rainfall Varies

Monday's rainfall, even in Lubbock varied widely at several measuring stations

The official measurement at the Weather Bureau station here was only .17 inch, bringing the official fall for the month to 7.07 inches; for the year to 14.05 inches. The only year in which May rainfall has exceeded this total was in 1941, when 12.69 inches fell in May.

However, the rain gauge at Texas Technological college measured .27 inches, the central fire station rain gauge recorded three-eights or approximately .38 inches, and the Lubbock experiment station east of the city measured .45 inches.

Power Knocked Out

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment station, said he was like everyone else—"I'm ready to see a 'rain check' on some of this rain so we can get our planting done."

Most—if not all—of the farmers in the area agreed with Jones 100 per cent. Housewives agreed, too, but for a different reason. They hoped for a period of clear, warm weather in order to get their laundry done.

A portion of south Lubbock was without electric power for about four hours Monday morning after storm winds blew lines together and burned them out. Truman Green, city electrical superintendent, said the damage was repaired by 8 a.m.

The swiftly moving storm line Monday morning blanketed the entire area with moisture of varying intensity.

At Littlefield the early-morning storm struck the town and surrounding area at 4 o'clock, bringing showers and hail. A high wind blew for a short time, said Lomer Nelson of the County-Wide News. Nelson said no damage from hail or high wind had been reported.

Brownfield received rain measured at 1.09 inches at about the same time, said Charles Didway, editor of the Brownfield News. Some hail and wind were noted at Brownfield.

The moisture in Lamesa was measured at .86 inch between 4 and 5:30 a. m. There was not much wind, but much thunder and lightning. The fall brought Lamesa's total to 1.31 since Friday, 2.01 for May and 7.29 for the year.

Rain Is General

The rain was general over Dawson county, with reports ranging from one-half to one inch. Midway community southeast of Lamesa reported one inch. Toward Ackerley, in the south part of the county, one-half to one inch was reported. Harmony community, in the northeast part of the county, reported one inch fall and to a point about five miles west of Lamesa three-fourths inch was reported.

Post received 1.7 inches in the swift-moving storm, Mrs. Evelyn Boyd of the Post Dispatch said. She had heard reports that some persons were frightened by a brilliant electrical display which accompanied the downpour.

Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport, said wind velocity got as high as 30 miles an hour. There was little indication that strong winds would be received this afternoon or tonight.

"A good hard shower" at Hale Center was accompanied by a startling electrical display about 4:30 o'clock this morning.

"The whole town was up waiting to go to storm sellars. There were a lot of people here this morning thinking about digging storm cellars today," recarked Vic Lamb, owner of an office supply business there.

Lamb said a small area five miles east of Hale Center was struck by a vicious hailstorm which reportedly saw stones as large as tennis balls. One farmer was reported to have received 100 per cent damage.

Lines Are Damaged

At Spaton, the Santa Fe dispatcher's office was hampered by damaged communication lines in the Clovis and Canyon areas.

That office reported last night, however, that Sunday night's and Monday morning's rainfall at Tulia was two-tenths, while Plainview had reported a half-inch. Happy received a quarter-inch.

Rains varying from one-half to one inch were reported along the railroad from Lubbock to Texico, N.M., and rains, widely variable, were reported from one-fourth to one and one-half inches between Slaton and Lamesa.

On the Seagraves-Lubbock line the fall varied from one-half to one inch. From Lubbock to Amarillo, the fall varied from one-half to three-fourths inches.

Residents Find Homes Wrecked

thing, was too much. Many wept openly. The tragedy momentarily tore down the resistance they had built up during the dark night.

That the death toll was not nearer 100 than four was little less than a miracle.

The utter destruction visited on those 35 blocks in the extreme south portion of Amarillo when those tornadic winds hit leaves one with the feeling of living a horrible nightmare—a nightmare in which what once was modern homes with children playing in the yards were turned into jutting, jagged, splintered hovels almost impossible of description.

Scene One Of Unreality

Against a background of a new cloud which occasionally flashed lightning over the eerie scene of tragedy early this morning, grim-faced firemen, ambulance workers, fully armed National Guard patrols, police and volunteers continued to look into all that remained of buildings in their weary search for possible additional victims.

The scene before dawn as one walked down darkened streets framed with broken tree limbs, soggy quilts, broken toys and furniture was one of unreality.

Rows of homes lay in ruins or near ruins . . .

Many were torn into splinters.

Heavy concrete and rock homes looked as though they had exploded.

Cars Masses Of Wreckage

Cars were rolled into near balls of metal—some of them with heavy pieces of wood shot through their caved in sides. A giant with a sledgehammer couldn't have done a better job.

One new car, with a two-by-four rammed almost completely through it sat near a wrecked home, soggy bedclothing and splintered furniture showing through windows which had completely disappeared.

A few feet away, another heavy auto had in some freakish way been lifted completely off the ground and a mattress neatly slid under, its back wheels!

Numerous others were on their sides, and tops, windows smashed, doors gone, tires punctured.

Homes in which families sat and listened to Sunday evening radio programs or read as the sudden storm struck almost without warning appeared as though someone had taken a huge baseball bat and systematically smashed in roofs, bashed in windows, picked up furniture and hurled it in every direction and finally in one last desperate blow ripped the very walls from their foundations.

One entire block of homes had sides ripped from them, only the background walls standing. Shingle type homes were left in bold relief, jagged edges jutting skyward. Heavy steel girders were bent like matchsticks. A freight train was toppled over on its side.

Pigs, which escaped from the train, wandered in the area, one even nuzzling through the heavy layer of mud and water which covered everything in the tornado area.

Residents Are Heartbroken

Heartbroken residents of the area and their friends attempted to go back in this morning.

One woman, upon returning to her completely demolished home, stood beside two smashed cars with mud up to her ankles, raised her hands to her face in anguish and cried:

"Oh my God . . . my home . . . my home."

Walking on up the debris littered yards she stopped again on the porch and burst into uncontrolled tears.

Finally walking into the torn living room, she shoved portions of furniture off what the day before had been a rose-colored sofa and slumped down in desperation, her blonde head falling into her hands, tears pouring down her cheeks.

Cars Heavily Damaged

"My home," she sobbed, "my furniture . . . everything we had. Ruined . . . Completely ruined..."

In that brief moment, all the tragedy of these savage tricks of nature came home to those standing nearby. It was a scene never to be forgotten.

The woman was Mrs. Gaither Miller of 4200 South Tyler.

It was the first time she had seen the damaged home after returning from visiting relatives at Kansas City, Kans.

Her husband, and his brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Day of Dallas, had arrived earlier the day of the storm for a visit and were at the home when the storm hit. Miller was attempting to close the front door, and was unable to force it to. He jumped outside and lay down beside the foundation of the house.

After the twister, he found a heavy bathtub, owner unknown, had fallen beside him. Neither Miller nor the Days were hurt. Miller's car, a sedan, was thrown on its side against the Day automobile. Miller's car was a total loss, he said. The other car was heavily damaged.

Freak Incidents Numerous

The young couple bought their cottage about a year ago. Miller is a veteran. He said he believed insurance would cover damage to the house, which was another of the many that brought the comment, "I don't see how anyone got out alive."

One of the more freakish pranks of the storm was the way in which wood was rammed into the ground, cars and homes.

At the Marvin L. Dick residence, 4118 South Tyler, two different sets of five pieces of lumber each—apparently sides of the house—were ripped from the home and driven with unearthly force into the ground—in two rows of five each! The wood protruded about two feet above the ground and could not be budged!

Family Hid Under Bed

The Dick family took refuge under a bed during the storm—until the bed collapsed. Marvin, 32, his wife and two sons, Ronald Eugene, 5, and Marvin L., jr., 6, began crawling under a bed when the huge hailstones began pounding the roof of their home. After the bed collapsed they took refuge in a closet. Their home was not demolished but practically every window was broken, and the structure otherwise was severely damaged.

It was in 4100 Tyler, only a few yards away from where two persons were killed, that the full impact of the tornado was seen.

Roy E. Mitchell, jr., 31, of 4114 Tyler, one of the hardest hit sections, told a story of horror and escape:

"The kids already were in bed when the storm approached.

"It was raining and hailing so hard you could hardly hear above the roar.

Gathered Up Kids

"I just barely had time to get my wife into the kitchen then gather up the kids," Mitchell said.

Mitchell has three young girls—Darlena Lou, six years old, Sharon Kay, who observed a fifth birthday she will never forget Sunday, and Sandra Jean, three years old.

"I gathered up the kids," Mitchell continued, "rushed into the southwest corner of the house and then it hit."

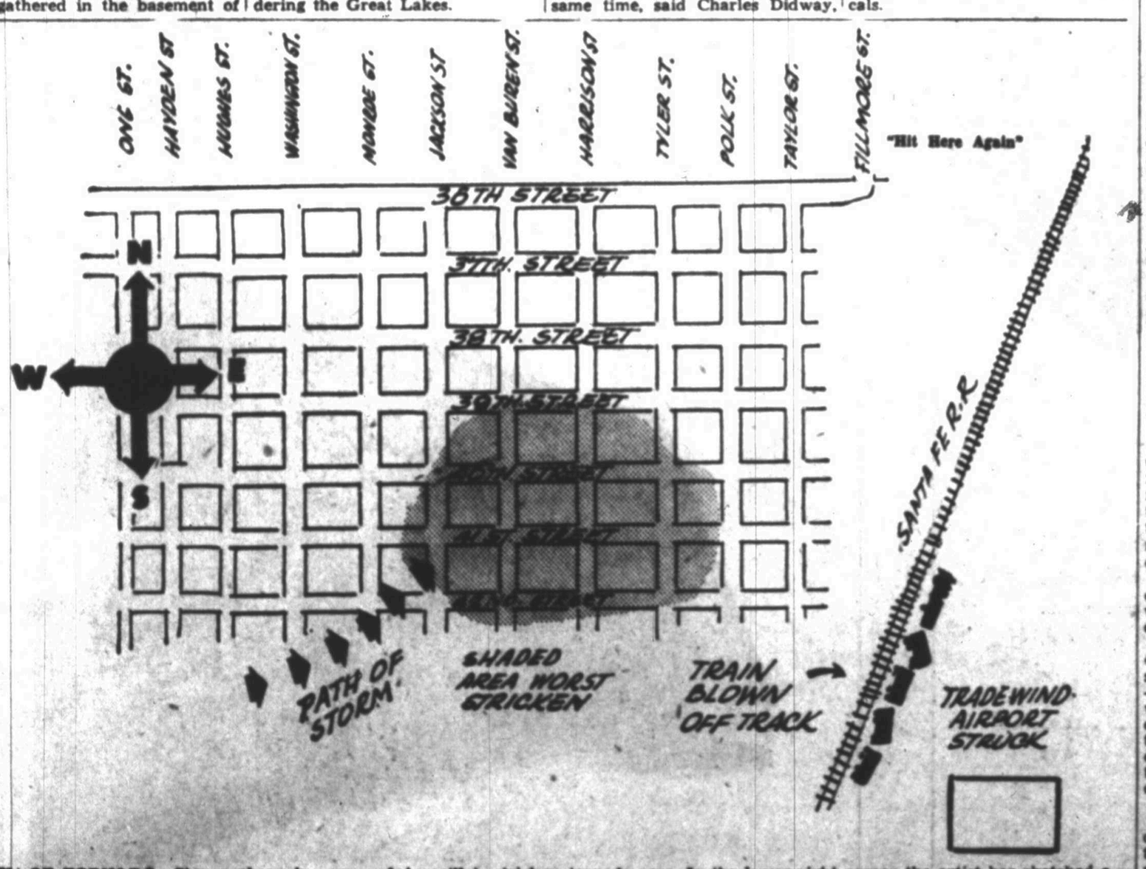

When it was over, Mitchell and his family crouched in a corner where a heavy rock wall careened in dangerously. The north side of the home also sagged in. The roof was gone and heavy pieces of the stone house lay scattered about the yard.

And to climax it all, a ton and one-half truck which had been setting in the front yard was picked up by the winds, hurled completely over the house some forty yards away and landed upright in the Mitchell backyard! It was almost a complete wreck—only the sign "Roy E. 'Smokey' Mitchell—The Singing Bricklayer—Masonry Contractor" standing in bold relief on the door.

"I don't have much to sing about now," Mitchell said as he looked over the scene at 3:40 a. m. this morning. Mitchell built the house himself three years ago after he got out of service.

But at that Mitchell considered himself lucky—after all only a few yards away, only a foundation remained of a home in which death struck.

Chilean unions have decided to demand two salary readjustments a year.

School Contracts

John C. Pickett Electric company, with $11,725 guaranteed as the top cost.

Saving Is Sought

Action on letting of the contracts followed more than three hours of "horse trading" on the part of school board members. They pointed out that bids on a remodeling project are naturally higher than those of a new project, since contractors are never certain just what difficulties may be encountered in altering an old building.

The board, in letting the contracts on other than straight bid basis, was attempting to guarantee a saving of needed funds should the difficulties expected not arise, and the contractors find that their base bids were higher than need be.

Additions and alterations to the school plant call for a new library, a sound-proofed band room, showers and locker rooms, and general alterations and additions to heating, lighting and plumbing facilities.

measures was completed:

1. The Senate agreed to House changes in a proposed constitutional amendment permitting rural fire prevention districts. The House had limited the tax which could be imposed for support of the districts to three cents on each $100 evaluation. The measure is the second proposed amendment to be readied for submission to a state-wide vote this session.

2. The Senate agreed also to House amendments to the bill changing the name of the Texas School of Mines at El Paso to Texas Western college of the University of Texas. It will become effective with the fall semester. The bill now goes to the governor.

The House passed and sent on to the Senate the $4,200,000 junior college appropriation bill. It provides payment of $175 per student.

NEWS BRIEFS

Beginning today, season tickets for new subscribers for the 1949-50 concert season of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra will be on sale at a ticket booth in the lobby of Hilton hotel. Season tickets admit purchasers to all five of the regularly scheduled concerts during the 1949-50 symphony season. Season tickets in the center section of the auditorium are $10 for adults and $5 for public school students. Tickets for side, back, and balcony seats are $7.20 for adults and $3.60 for children and public school students. The ticket booth in the hotel will be open through Friday.

Ray Lee Rutledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Rutledge of 2103 Seventh, has won an honorable mention for a poster on fire prevention which was entered in a state wide contest sponsored by the state board of Fire Insurance commissioners. Ray Lee is in the sixth grade at K Carter. His art teacher is Mrs. I. C. Cravens of 2704 Twenty-second.

Capt. Joe H. Smith whose wife and daughter Mari Jo, reside at 2424 Fifteenth, has recently arrived in Germany at the Celle RAF station. There, as pilot of a C-54 Skymaster, he will take part in the Berlin airlift.

L. M. Berryhill, about 35, was placed under $250 peace bond Monday after C. S. Fondy complained to Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn that Berryhill had threatened to assault him. D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace, set a peace bond of $200 for Jesse Garcia, a Mexican charged with having threatened his wife Eugenia.

Mrs. E. Hayes Sieber, widely known Lubbock resident, who has been living at the Lubbock hotel, died Monday in a San Antonio hospital it was learned late last night. Funeral arrangements are pending.

A program on nutrition will be presented at 9 a.m. today by Mrs. J. N. Michie, of the home economics faculty at Texas Tech, and Tech home economics students, at an assembly program at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

Funeral services for Levelland City Judge Frank Badgett, 67, who died Sunday of a heart attack, were held Monday in Levelland First Methodist church. Burial was in Levelland cemetery under the direction of George Price Funeral home.

Mrs. R. L. Goad, of 716 Ave. K, who has been confined to her home with bronchial pneumonia, has been reported much improved in condition.

Mrs. J. H. Babb of Post last night was reported to be in good condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital, where she has been receiving treatment after suffering a heart attack.

Boy Arrested

been reported earlier to police, were at 1723 Thirtieth and "that of a kid the defendant used to run around with," police said.

Approximately $10 in money was taken from two or three piggy and church banks found over that period, police said.

In addition, several articles were broken by the burglar.

In the Whitaker residence, for instance, he took a toy pistol and broke glass out of the back door, so he could reach in and unfasten the door.

Inside the house, he ransacked the kitchen and stole bananas and candy. He took down an old rifle and a Jap saber, and, with the saber, he cut up a camera. With the butt of the rifle he battered the face of a mantel clock.

A series of thefts also was under investigation, officials said Monday.

J. T. Russell of Hereford said his 1946 Ford two-docr black car, license AA 5711, was stolen here. He said he loaned it to a man who accompanied him here from Amarillo.

A tire and wheel valued at $12 were reported stolen from Hiram Parks, of 2826 Twenty-second.

A .22 rifle valued at $15 was reported stolen from Bob Church of 1518 Thirty-first.

Phillip Rosen of 1515 Ave. H said a $42.50 watch was stolen from a show case.

Simon Miller, 39, a negro, gave himself up at the sheriff's office Sunday, after witnesses said he fired three times with a pistol at his brother James. Simon told sheriff's deputies he had been having trouble lately with his brother's wife. He said she had cut him recently with a knife. Bond of $750 was set in a charge of assault to murder filed against Miller, officials said.

Carl Barrow, 21, of Lamesa, was released Monday afternoon upon his own recognizance, upon recommendation of District Attorney Lloyd Croslin in connection with a charge that he had stolen a 16 and a 16 horsepower outboard motor May 12 at Buffalo lakes.

He, a student there until last Friday, was one of three Tech students who were under investigation in the case, it was said at the sheriff's office.

The other two, of Amarillo and Corsicana, were ordered released on their own recognizance to await action of the grand jury, officials said, without charge.

The charge naming Barrow was filed Saturday in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace.

The three youths took the motors to Amarillo, then to Wichita Falls, where they attempted unsuccessfully to sell them without a bill of sale, officials here and in Wichita county said.

One engine, officials later were informed, was dropped in Lake Kemp, near Wichita Falls, and the other hidden at a milling company here.

The other suspects are 21 and 22, a deputy sheriff said.

Theft Of Chandelier Reported To Police

Burglary of the Neil Wright, jr. residence at 1634 Main and the loss of a $165 glass chandelier and $49.95 gas heater was reported to police Monday.

The burglary, Mrs. Wright said, occurred sometime between Jan. 1 and the present.

Mary Jane Lake, 26, of Borger, was charged Monday in county court with theft of $20 by false pretext, and was fined $50 and court costs, city detectives said.

According to official reports, the woman represented that she had made a $20 down payment on an apartment for another couple, exhibiting a receipt signed by a Mr. Ross. The couple reimbursed her for the money, but found that no apartment had been rented in their name, police said.

A 16-year-old juvenile negro boy was held in county jail last night for investigation in connection with theft of a watch from the Baker Jewelry company, 1316 Texas.

Reds Trailing In East Berlin Vote

BERLIN, Tuesday, May 17 (AP)—First scattered returns today from Eastern Berlin in the Soviet zone elections showed the Communists were taking a licking.

This was in contrast with the confident predictions of Communist politicians in the Soviet zone of occupation that an overwhelming majority of the voters would support them.

The voting took place Sunday and yesterday for a "people's congress" of 2,000 members, all handpicked by Communist-controlled organizations and put on a single ticket.

Heavy Vote Cast

The main election committee of the "people's congress" for Berlin announced that of 7,000 votes counted only 2,820 endorsed the list of candidates on the ballot. A total of 3,809 votes said no. Some wrote on their ballots "we won't vote for a police state and we reject Communism." About 350 votes were declared invalid.

The early returns from Berlin showed a majority of "no" votes—the only way the congress could be rejected since only one list of candidates was submitted.

Russian-controlled propaganda outlets gave no returns. They gave out reports only of a heavy vote being cast, ranging from 97.8 to 83.3 percent.

The "people's congress" would be the Soviet answer to the western state being set up in the western occupation zone by the British, French and Americans. It would back Russia in the four-power conference on Germany scheduled to open in Paris May 23.

Earlier, Eastern zone Communists had claimed they would roll up 10,000,000 votes in support of the people's congress for the entire eastern occupation zone.

Test Near Snyder Makes Good Showing

New Well Completed In Scurry County

Official completion of an oil well in central Scurry county, one and one-half miles northwest of the nearest producer has been reported for Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Eicke.

This development, located four miles west of Snyder and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97 H&TC survey, made a 24-hour potential of 166 barrels of 41-gravity oil, and no water flowing through a 10/64th inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 806-1. Flowing tubing pressure was from 775 pounds to 785 pounds.

Near Another Producer

The production is coming from four feet of pay between 6,774 feet and total depth at 6,778 feet. A string of 7-inch casing is cemented at 6,770 feet. The pay had been washed with 200 gallons of mud acid.

This producer is one and one-half miles northwest of the same company's No. 1 Moore, a Canyon producer on the west side of the Kelly field. The oil in No. 1 Eicke is also coming from the Canyon.

Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Wilson, Southwest Scurry county exploration, in the undeveloped area between the Diamond M field and the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, was swabbing to clean out, try to kick off to flowing, and test.

This exploration had drilled out plug on 5½-inch casing which had been cemented at 6,745 feet. Total depth is 6,761 feet, in the Canyon lime.

Oil Show Noted

The section being tested developed considerable free oil and no water on a drillstem test run before the casing was cemented.

The latest swabbing was still recovering some drilling mud, along with some new oil. No gauge or estimate on the amount of new

Loaded Bus Wins Race With Storm

How a loaded bus outraced the tornado which wrecked destruction on Amarillo was described Monday by W. C. Perry of 2512 Maple, driver of a Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches bus that rolled into Amarillo just before the twister hit Sunday night.

His bus left Lubbock at 5:30 p. m., arrived in Canyon at 7:45 p. m., and left for Amarillo shortly afterward.

"As I topped the hill just north of Canyon, one of my passengers noticed the tornado over to the left, probably about three or four miles away. After he called out, all the passengers watched it anxiously.

Rose, Fell Like Yo-Yo

"The twister was funnel-shaped and rising and falling like a yo-yo.

"We could see boards and papers and other things being whirled about in the air.

"The passengers all began talking anxiously about whether we should stop or try to outrace the tornado, with opinion being about equally divided.

"One of the Potter county deputy sheriffs happened to be aboard the bus, and he told me he thought we should try to outrace it to Amarillo since tornadoes travel 15 to 25 miles an hour.

"I speeded up the bus and headed into Amarillo."

Had To Wait Turn

Perry said he arrived at the Amarillo bus terminal and had to wait a few minutes to gain entrance to the terminal building. It was not more than five or ten minutes later that all the ambulances, fire trucks and police cars let go with a blast of sirens as the twister struck the south part of the city.

Perry offered his services since he had a lay-over and rode out to the scene of the disaster with a man in a pick-up. The police had barricaded the stricken section and sent them back to town, saying they already had more help than they needed.

Perry started his trip back to Lubbock about 2 a.m. Monday. Amarillo's Fillmore street highway was closed and he had to make a long detour by way of Seventh street.

FBI 'Watch' On Red Delegation At UN Revealed At Coplon Trial

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—An FBI man testified today at Judith Coplon's spy trial that he watched the Soviet delegation of the United Nations in his "official capacity."

The witness, Martin F. Carey, said his surveillance of the Russian headquarters had nothing to do with the Coplan espionage case. Miss Coplon is accused of stealing highly confidential FBI information to hand over to Valentin A. Gubitchev, a Soviet employe of the UN.

Carey said he did not recall when he observed the Soviet headquarters, but that it was sometime before Miss Coplon and Gubitchev were arrested in New York on March 4.

Defense attorney Archibald Palmer tried to ask Carey why the FBI was watching the Soviet headquarters, but the court shut him off when the prosecution objected.

Under cross-examination, Carey denied that the FBI practices third-degree methods on prisoners. When Palmer tried to continue this line of questioning, Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves, said sternly: "Just a moment. We won't go into that."

Carey testified that he searched Gubitchev for weapons of "my own accord" on the night of the arrest. He said Gubitchev was not armed.

Defense Counsel Rebuked

The court rebuked Palmer repeatedly for his method of cross-examining Carey.

The New York trial of Valentin Gubitchev and Judith Coplon on charges of espionage was postponed today until May 23 because Miss Coplon's trial in Washington on similar charges still is underway.

Gubitchev, a Russian citizen who formerly was employed by the United Nations in New York as a construction engineer, said he intended to go through the trial without counsel. Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman adjourned the case without giving Gubitchev a chance to make his usual speech charging that the court has no jurisdiction over him.

Gubitchev is free in $100,000 bail, which was provided by the Russian embassy.

Mexico hopes to sell $10,000,000 worth of sugar abroad this year, largely to the United States.

Ex-Friend Of Outlaw Given Prison Term In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, May 16 (AP) — S. J. Whatley, one time friend of Clyde Barrow, notorious Southwest outlaw, today was sentenced in district court here to three years imprisonment on five burglary charges. He also was sentenced three years, to run concurrently, on a narcotics charge.

Century-Old Church Rededicated In Ceremonies At Waxahachie

WAXAHACHIE May 16 (AP)—A 102-year-old Presbyterian church got its second-century wind today.

Shiloh Cumberland Presbyterian church, near Ovilla and 10 miles northwest of here, was rededicated at ceremonies yesterday.

Dr. Monroe G. Everett, president of San Antonio's Trinity university, and Dr. T. M. Hosford, newly named vice president of Southern Methodist university, spoke of their interest in rural churches and traced Shiloh's growth from a brush arbor in 1847.

Monument To General Tarrant To Be Unveiled In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, May 16 (AP)—Dedication and unveiling of a monument to Gen. Edward H. Tarrant, after whom Tarrant county is named, will be held here at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey, Eighth Air Force commander, will speak at the dedication.

Mexico To Nationalize International Airlines

CELAYA, Mexico, May 16 (AP)—Mexico will "nationalize" her international airlines, Communications Minister Augustin Garcia Lopez said today.

Garcia Lopez, accompanying President Miguel Aleman on a tour of central Mexico, explained that he means substitution of Mexican for foreign employes as soon as possible.

He said the change will take place "little by little," as Mexican pilots and other employes become sufficiently well-trained.

Actually, Mexico has only two international aviation companies, the Mexicon Aviation company and Guest airlines. The Mexican company flies into the United States, at Los Angeles, and as far as Havana, Cuba. Guest flies across the Atlantic to Lisbon and Madrid.

Almost all the employes of the two companies are Mexicans, though Guest uses several foreign pilots on its big Constellation transports.

Air Force Flier Killed As Plane Crashes In Panhandle Region

WHITE DEER, Tex., May 16, (AP) — A F-51 pilot, Lt. W. F. Haines, based at Bolling Field, Washington, D. C. was killed at 7:20 a.m. today near this Panhandle town when his plane crashed during a thunderstorm.

The pilot's death came less than an hour after he had refueled at Kirtland Air Force base, Albuquerque. He was enroute from Van Nuys, Calif., to Washington at the time of the accident.

New Outbreak Of Foot, Mouth Disease Threatens U.S. Border

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (INS)—A new outbreak of foot and mouth disease along the northern Mexico quarantine line today threatened to spread the dangerous cattle disease closer to the United States border.

Gen. Harry H. Johnson, co-director of the foot and mouth disease commission, said it was "the most serious setback in the campaign in the last eight months."

The outbreak, only 14-mile south of the northern quarantine line in Jalisco, may force the Mexican-American commission to move the line closer to the border.

The commission mobilized inspection, quarantine, disinfection and vaccination crews in the area and threw up an inspection line with a 50-mile radius around the new infected zone at Ojuelos De Jalisco, midway between San Luis Potosi and Lagos De Moreno, 384 miles southwest of Brownsville.

American cattlemen have declared the U.S. livestock industry could be "ruined" if the foot and mouth disease should spread across the border.

New Danger Stressed

Johnson said that the outbreak along the quarantine line "is strategically dangerous." He said that "every facility at the command of the commission will be brought into the battle to localize the new infection and stamp out the threat to the many thousands of head of clean animals in the area just north of the present quarantine line."

Already the infected animals which, the commission said, "had been vaccinated previously," have been slaughtered. Inspectors were attempting to trace their movements prior to discovery of the outbreak. It was not known if they came from the clean area north of the quarantine line, where they might have spread the disease to uninfected animals, or from the quarantined zone to the south.

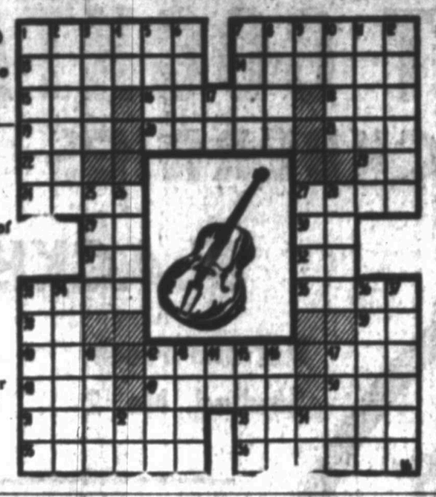

It was the second outbreak in the same area affecting animals which already had been vaccinated.

Services Held In Littlefield For Mrs. Effie Strange, 47

LITTLEFIELD, May 16 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Effie Strange, 47, were held at 3 p.m. today in Ninth Street Church of Christ.

Jack McCormick, Littlefield minister, officiated.

Burial was in Littlefield cemetery, under the direction of Hammons Funeral home.

Mrs. Strange, who had lived here about 20 years, died Sunday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. She had been in ill health for some time.

Survivors include the mother, Mrs. W. M. Yeary of Littlefield; four daughters, Mrs. W. L. O'Neal of Roswell, Mrs. J. W. Estep of Artesia, Mrs. A. D. Chaney of Amarillo, and Miss Gwendolyn Sue Strange of Littlefield; three sons, Charles David, Forrest Wade and Troy Dean Strange, all of Littlefield; a sister, Mrs. L. L. Brawley of Littlefield; and three brothers, Floyd Yeary of Long Beach, Calif., E. W. Yeary, and W. O. Yeary, both of Littlefield.

Insurance Men Hit 'Deductible Clause'

Opposition to the mandatory $100 deductible clause now applicable to all windstorm and hail policies written on dwellings since Sept. 1, 1946 was expressed by all members of the Lubbock Insurance Exchange, meeting in a called session at Hotel Lubbock Monday noon.

Every member present expressed his opposition to the clause and each expressed a hope that an equitable solution can be worked out at the public hearing to be held in Austin on June 2.

In the meantime, the exchange voted to invite Paul Brown, state fire insurance commissioner, to Lubbock for a regional meeting of agents in this section to discuss the matter. It was voted to send at least two representatives of the exchange to Austin for the state hearing.

Egypt is said to have imported $40,000,000 worth of goods from the United States in 1948.

"Command Decision" is a man's picture — a remarkable, stirring, strongly flavored authoritative tribute to men at war and aerial bombardment. It has an all-male cast —there's no love theme, not even the swish of a WAC's skirt. It's the study of a great man. It's filled with the kind of discussion rarely put on the screen. It should be a command decision of every broadwinner in these parts that his family see this mighty film. We unconditionally recommend it for your "must" list.

Wilkinson Is Chosen New Head Of Lubbock Jaycee Organization

Russell S. (Curly) Wilkinson Monday was elected president of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce for the coming year.

The annual election, held at the regular Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel, saw more than 100 votes cast in races for five club officers and 15 positions on the board of directors.

Other officers elected Monday included Weldon Gibbs, first vice-president; Joe Baldridge, second vice-president; Rufus Rush, secretary; and Harry Frank Woody, treasurer.

Elected to directors' posts were Waggoner Carr, Harold Chapman, Aries Graham, Arvol Hays, Clifton Haynie, Homer Hensley, Bill Linn, Linley Millsap, Jimmy Morris, Gordon Sanders, Rolan Simpson, Barney Stagner, Asher Thompson, Bill Tinney and A. C. White. In addition, all incoming officers automatically become board members.

A poll to determine the "Jaycee of the Year" also was conducted, with Asher Thompson, Gordon Sanders, Pat Wiman and Cliff Haynie as candidates. The winner's name will not be revealed until the annual installation banquet, scheduled for late June.

The election was held after club members had voted unanimously to amend their constitution to provide for election of officers by majority, rather than plurality, vote.

In the three-way presidential race among Wilkinson, and Harold Chapman and Barney Stager, a runoff between Wilkinson and Chapman was necessary.

All other officers were named on the first ballot.

Prior to the vote for each office, brief speeches were made for the candidates.

President Horace Gearhart, who presided at the luncheon, reminded members that next week's Jaycee meeting will be held in the Cactus Inn. The regular Jaycee meeting place in the Hilton hotel will be the site of a Lions club convention at that time.

Invocation at today's program was by Bill Tinney.

Essay Prizes Are Awarded To Three Dunbar Students

Three prizes were awarded Monday at Dunbar school to winners in an essay contest on "My America."

The prizes were given by the Nancy Anderson chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Kathleen Brown, chairman of the Americanism committee of the chapter, awarded the prizes. Mrs. Isabel Garrison, co-chairman of Americanism for the chapter, and Mrs. J. B. Logan, chapter treasurer, also attended.

Prize winners were: First, Mary Ford; second, Charles Watters; third, Ella Ree Gont; honorable mention, R. J. Givens, Octavia Middleton and Essie M. O'Neal. Prizes were $3, $2, and $1.

At the Golden Jubilee state convention of Daughters of the American Revolution held in Galveston in March, the Nancy Anderson chapter of Lubbock was awarded a prize for having the best report on Americanism for chapters in cities of similar size.

Interested observers expect the project to kick off and flow oil in commercial quantities in a short time.

Preparations were being made to acidize in the Fusselman section of the Silurian at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-E Cowden, outpost to the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews county.

Perforations were shot in casing at 8,645-99 feet with 216 shots. That section was swabbed dry natural. On last report, operator was preparing to acidize with 1,000 gallons.

Total depth is 8,792 feet. The Fusselman has developed free oil on drillstem tests at this venture.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 14, block A-52, psl survey.

Drilling was continuing at the three outposts to the Flanagan field of South-Central Gaines County.

George P. Livermore No. 1 Head, 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, psl survey, was beyond 10,012 feet, making hole in lime.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, another flanker, had reached 9,856 feet and was continuing in lime.

It is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey.

LOTS OF QUESTIONS

BOSTON (AP) — When Joseph Curley, 71, retired after 27 years duty in a downtown transit station information booth, he figured he had answered approximately 54,000,000 questions. The estimate was based an an actual test covering a day's activities.

WORST TWISTER

1936 Mississippi Tornado Killed 216

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — A tornado that ripped through Tupelo, Miss., killing 216 persons on April 5, 1936, was the most disastrous of its kind on record.

The following day, 203 persons died in a tornado at Gainesville, Ga.

Since that double disaster, the worst tornado on record was in Northwest Texas and northwestern Oklahoma April 9, 1947. Some 156 persons died there.

Last Jan. 3, 56 persons in Arkansas and Louisiana died in tornadoes.

Summer Session Editor Named For Tech Student Newspaper

Franklin P. Grant, senior journalism major at Texas Tech from Pyote, was chosen as summer editor of The Toreador, student newspaper, in a publications committee meeting at the college Monday.

Grant will assume his duties June 5 when the first term of summer school will open. He indicated that the first issue of the paper, which is published weekly in the summer, would come out around June 17. Other applicants for the position included Miss Rickey Archer of Grandbury and Jerry Henderson of Weatherford.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — A smart opossum moved into the basement of Randolph school and brought along six little 'possums after a preliminary inspection trip of housing facilities. The school children have adopted all seven animals as mascots.

Lamesa Graduation Exercises Set Today

LAMESA, May 16. (Special) — Graduation ceremonies of Lamesa Senior High school will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. Diplomas will be presented to 101 graduating seniors.

At the exercises, Frank Rose, salutatorian, son of Mrs. Eleanor Rose Campbell, will deliver an address entitled "Our Future." Bill Cox, valedictorian, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cox, will speak on "Looking Forward."

Other parts on the program include the processional and recessional, by June Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wright; invocation by Rev. T. L. Nipp; piano solo by Carroll Futrell; songs by the Senior Girls' trio, composed of Jean Seiler, Jane Ann Thompson and Patricia Blanton; and benediction by Rev. L. H. Simon.

Bryant Middlebrook, president of the senior class, will speak on "Lamesa Schools of Yesterday." Douglas Allen and Dee Robinson are to present a piano duet, and the assembled group will sing "My Alma Mater."

Ray Culp, principal of the high school, and L. B. Vaughn, president of the school board, are to present the diplomas. Superintendent G. B. Wadzeck will make the scholarship awards.

Rayburn Predicts Three Or Four Month Session For Congress

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) predicted today that Congress will remain in session for three or four months. But said reports that a special session will be held this fall are "non-sensical."

Rayburn also predicted, after a legislative conference at the White House, that a joint congressional committee will make an investigation of lobbyists.

The speaker said there was no reaction from President Truman on this score, however.

"Was a nervous wreck from agonizing pain until I found Pazo!" says Mrs. A. W., San Antonio, Texas. Speed amazing relief from misery of simple piles, with soothing Pazo. Acts to relieve pain. Helps instantly. Lubricates dry, irritated parts. Helps prevent cracking, reduce swelling. Don't suffer needless torture of simple piles. Get Pazo for comforting relief. Ask your doctor about it. Suppository form or tubes with perforated pile pipe. Pazo Ointment and Suppositories.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Irwin Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. A. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 86, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 248 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 192.

"I have taken off down right layers from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 185 or 190 pounds."

Texas Solons Believe Supreme Court 'Going Too Far' In Okaying Tidelands Suit Against State

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 16—Texas congressmen gave varied comment on the Supreme court's action in agreeing that the federal government could sue Texas and Louisiana for rich tide lands.

"Although there is some precedent in prior decisions indicating the right of the federal government to sue a state," said Rep. J. M. Combs, Beaumont, former judge of the Texas appellate courts, "I fear the extension of that principle. As I see it, the right of the federal government to assert a claim in court against an individual state is a governmental rather than a judicial question.

"It is one for the Congress as the representative of the people and not for the courts.

"The constitution does give the Supreme court jurisdiction of controversies between the states, but the right of the federal court to assert the superior power of the federal government against an individual state without specific authority of the people is a dangerous precedent. Carried to its logical conclusion, there would be no check upon the federal government over the states except what the Supreme court itself might prescribe."

Rep. Ken Regan, Midland, who as an oil man and former state senator first sold the state land commissioner on the idea of leasing the submerged lands along the Texas coast, predicted confidently that Texas would win its case. He praised Attorney General Price Daniel for the arguments he presented to the court and said he felt the Supreme court would rule for Texas finally, although Regan deplored the expense which Texas would be put to in the court fight.

Fears Bill Bottled Up

When this point was brought out in court by Price Daniel last week, Chief Justice Fred Vinson demurred and indicated he did not think Texas would be out so much expense because of this suit.

Rep. W. R. Poage, 11th district, Waco, does not feel that the court's decision will hurry along the pending legislation on tidelands. Poage fears that the suit to give title to the states is bottled up because of administration opposition and he likewise feels that enmity of the states is reason for the stalemate holding back administration bill to vest title in the government and to say how the submerged lands shall be administered.

Rep. Tom Pickett, Palestine, said: "It appears to me that the court has ignored the legal and constitutional basis of Texas' claims. I hope the effect will be a refutation and denunciation of administration bureaucrats who are trying to nationalize this country."

A traffic patrolman put a ticket on the judge's auto. Judge Kohnene paid the $6 fine before he opened court the next day.

Dedication Services For Newly Remodeled Sudan Church Planned

SUDAN, May 16 (Special) — Dedication services for the newly-remodeled interior of the First Baptist church will be planned soon, Rev. Wayne O. Perry, pastor, has announced.

Featured as a realistic background for the redecorated Baptistry at the front of the church will be an oil painting of a river by Mrs. Milton Wiseman, local artist. Mrs. Wiseman was commissioned to do the river scene in memory of Staff Sgt. Delbert Harvey, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey. S-Sgt. Harvey was among crew members of an Army Air Forces plane lost at sea off the Solomon islands in April, 1943.

A series of gothic arches have been built to adorn the interior front. Delmer Earl McCarthy and Homer Morris designed the new arrangement, which will involve a cost of $2,000.

It's important, Kids, that Hum-m-m. It's the dial tone. It means "Go ahead and dial."

Dollars to doughnuts the dial tone will be there by the time you get the receiver to your ear. If it isn't... you'd better wait—if you want your number, that is!

Dialing before you hear the dial tone will get you nowhere.

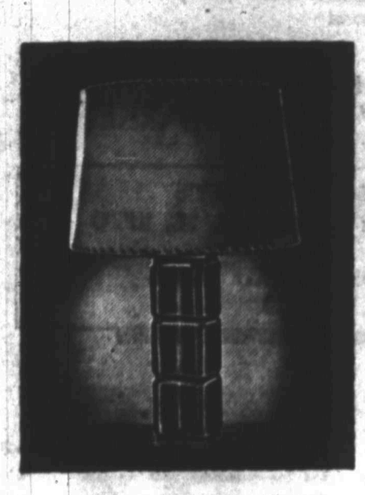

In these days of heavy telephoning, dial equipment is so busy that the dial tone is sometimes delayed; but usually not for long. A few seconds wait, perhaps, and there it is—ready for your call.

U.S. Prepares To Launch HST's 'Bold' World Economic Program

BY J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States is preparing to launch President Truman's "bold new program" in underdeveloped areas of the world with 60-odd million dollars which it hopes will prime the pump for a great flow of private capital.

The whole initial program is expected to come to about $125,000,000, with half put up by the U.S. and the remainder by other leading members of the United Nations and by the nations in which the work is to be done.

The idea is to prepare the way for private enterprise by starting long-range programs for public health, agriculture, reclamation, flood control, hydro-electric power, and the like.

Testing Grounds Picked

Latin America, the African-Middle East area and the Far East, are to provide testing grounds.

The $125,000,000 sounds pretty small for a project which it is hoped will produce such far-reaching effects. But this is not an emergency program, although born of the cold war. Its purpose is to expand world markets for better world living conditions, thus cutting the ground from under Communism and at the same time providing a cushion for U. S. industry as Western Europe approaches its goal of greater self-sufficiency. It is designed to take American capital to the far places of the earth as British capital went a century ago, but under a program of mutual benefit rather than imperialism. Thus the currently-projected program is merely ground-clearing for normal business.

Western-type development already is taking hold in many areas, like India, where natural resources have lain fallow and manpower has gone to waste because it was unskilled.

In Turkey, for instance, development is going forward rapidly and leaning heavily on the United States. This means inevitable establishment of trade ties.

Three Lubbock Residents Join American Optometric Foundation

Three Lubbock optometrists have joined the American Optometric foundation to help support research in visual care and advancement of the visual health of the nation. They are: Drs. C. M. Neel, Weston A. Pettey and Millard F. Swart.

More than 70 million Americans have eyesight problems which need professional care, according to Dr. William C. Ezell, president of the foundation.

"Although scientific visual care has advanced more in the last two decades than in all previous history, there is great need for further research, and for improvement of educational opportunities for young men and women who seek to become optometrists," he said. "The foundation was launched a year ago to deal with such problems. It will finance and administer projects in research, education, publication of technical literature and professional advancement."

The Lubbock optometrists are charter members of the organization, and Dr. Pettey and Dr. Swart are life members as well, Dr. Ezell reported.

Poland Assails U.S. Statement On Spain

FLUSHING, N. Y., May 16. (U.P.) Poland charged in the United Nations today that Secretary of State Dean Acheson's anti-Franco statement last week was "mere lip service to democracy."

Polish delegate Juliusz Katz-Suchy challenged the United States to vote against a Latin-American proposal to ease diplomatic sanctions against Spain if it really opposed Generalissimo Francisco Franco. Acheson indicated in his statement that the U.S. would not, in any case, return an ambassador to Spain now.

Acheson reiterated this country's intention of abstaining on the move to rescind the 1946 UN decree calling for withdrawal of ambassadors from Madrid.

WTSTC Head To Give Number Of Commencement Addresses

CANYON, May 16 (Special)—Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State Teachers college, has an extensive speaking engagement calendar for the next two months.

He was a speaker at the annual meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society, Friday, May 13 in Canyon. On Thursday, May 19, he will begin the first of seven high school commencement addresses at Happy.

Other commencement addresses will be at Hart, May 20; Groom, May 24; Big Spring, May 25 and Canyon High, May 26. The morning of May 26, President Cornette will participate in senior class exercises on the campus of WTSTC. He will make the commencement address at Vernon May 27 and at the WT Demonstration High school exercises June 1.

The morning of June 2 will be devoted to the WT commencement exercises and he will be at Phillips Junior college the same night.

July 29, Dr. Cornette will deliver the principal address at Western Kentucky State college, Bowling Green, Ky., summer graduation exercises.

Iran Sends Russia 'Bill' For Payment Of $30 Million Debt

TEHRAN, Iran, May 16. (AP)—Iran claims Russia owes her around $30,000,000 and has sent a dun for immediate payment.

Foreign Minister Ali Aschar Hekmet said the debt figures up this way: 11,196,575.30 grams of gold (about 12 tons, or $13,500,000 at the going rate in the United States) under an agreement of Jan. 29, 1942; $8,648,619.55 in dollars from the same agreement; 302,450,610.75 rials ($9,451,581) for customs duties and house rents; and 4,502,422.59 rials ($140,700) for transportation of Iranian railways.

The foreign minister told a news conference he knew of "no reason for Russia delay" in making payment.

The annual water shortage of Bogota, Colombia, caused unusual hardships this year.

Record Central Texas Barley, Oat Harvest To Begin This Week

TEMPLE, May 16 (U.P.) — The largest barley and oat harvest in Central Texas since pre-war days will get underway this weekend, grainmen predicted today.

Railroads prepared their facilities to handle a bumper crop this year.

Farmers in the region were encouraged by announcement last week of the price support program which will hold the oat market about 12 cents higher than it is currently.

Barley at the Blackland experiment station here was in the hard "dough" stage and oats were in the "milk." Corn and grain sorghums and cotton were reported making fast growths.

Founder Of French Religious Order Sainted At Vatican City

VATICAN CITY, May 16 (AP)—Jeanne De Lestonnac of France became a saint yesterday in solemn canonization ceremonies at St. Peter's basilica. Some 60,000 persons saw Pope Pius XII make the proclamation of sainthood.

Jeanne De Lestonnac founded the order of the Daughters of the Blessed Virgin Mary three centuries ago. She died in 1640 at the age of 64.

Bus Strikes Delayed In Two Gulf Cities

BEAUMONT, May 16 (AP) — Beaumont and Port Arthur got a three-day postponement of a bus strike.

A strike of drivers and mechanics set for midnight last night was postponed by union officials at the request of Mayor Otho Plummer of Beaumont.

Plummer told them that if they would postpone the strike he would contact officials of the National City Lines, Inc., in Chicago and ask them to send an executive here to meet with the union.

The strike is over working conditions in the company's shops and a 25 cent per hour pay increase.

Drivers are now paid $1.10 an hour and mechanics $1.22.

Glass Industry Threatened By Strikes As Negotiations Fail

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16 (U.P.) — A strike of 18,000 workers in ten plants of the Libby-Owens-Ford company and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company was threatened today.

Two weeks of negotiations between the two firms and the Glass Ceramic and Silica Sand workers (CIO) were broken off and a federal conciliator was called from Philadelphia to meet with union and company officials later in the day.

TORNADO LESSON

Organize To Aid!

AMARILLO'S tragic tornado experiences should awaken the residents of every community in Northwest Texas, and in many other places, to an urgent need nearly all of them recognize—and neglect.

Reports agree that conditions in Amarillo were made worse by the confusion which delayed rescue and relief efforts. Under the circumstances, the residents of that city did an amazingly quick and efficient job of organizing to cope with the emergency. But for a good while those whose sole desire was to help as much as they could got in each other's way. Some of the efforts doubtless were more harmful than helpful.

All localities above the Caprock, including those of the Panhandle and South Plains, will be negligent if they fail to learn from that lesson. Without exception, they need organizations which can swing into action immediately to coordinate the community's efforts if tragic necessity ever should require.

IT WOULD be wholly unrealistic for anyone in this area to try to kid themselves about tornadoes and their dangers. Probably the peril to any particular locality is exceedingly remote. The danger to the Panhandle and South Plains as a whole probably is no greater than most other territories of comparable areas.

But years seldom pass without tornadoes somewhere in this region. No one knows when or where the next one might hit. Victims often have little if any warning of their approach. Nothing can be done to prevent them. Little can be done while they rage.

Every community, however, can form an organization which could ease the effects after it is stricken, when lives might depend upon prompt medical attention. Such organizations also might function to sound alarms if a tornado approaches at night and to inform people caught in a storm what they might do to improve their chances of survival.

A mattress might afford some protection. The windward side of a basement or the most strongly braced shelter at hand, such as a doorway, would be better than no protection at all.

The best protection, of course, is to get out of the path of the tornado, if time allows. To do this, flee at a right angle to its approach, and not directly away from it. If it approaches from the south, flee east or west. Storm paths usually are narrow.

Those who see they cannot get out of the path and have no other shelter should stretch flat, preferably in a ditch or depression. Usually they will survive.

BUT THE only real preparedness that is practical on a large scale in connection with a tornado is for its aftermath. We can't stop them. We can't do much while they rage.

We can be ready for action after they pass, when minutes might mean life to the injured. The community which is not ready for action takes a chance which an ordinary sense of precaution cannot condone.

Don't Look Now, Boys—

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Disributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Four new arrivals on Spears Island have complicated Henry Gough Harding's attempt to establish a colony free from the influences of the outside world. Heretofore, Harding had been putting four lonely women, selected through a matrimonial club, to tests to determine which would become his bride. Now Fred Sillwell, a movie producer; George Bascombe, his aide; Mollie Stark and Nona McGuire, actresses, have been shipwrecked there. Harding has just informed the new arrivals that they are expected to follow "Spears Island rules of conduct."

Lilly Warren complained, "We would get a bunch of company when it's my turn to do the housework and cooking! Anyway I'm glad the two men got settled in that shed near the barn. And say, Bea, did you notice how grumpy Fred Sillwell is?"

"How could anyone miss it?"

"He's not used to doing without liquor. That's all ails him."

"It might be one thing ails him," Bea corrected.

"He's not always like that. He can be gay and jolly as the next one. But he needs whiskey."

"You knew him in Los Angeles?"

"I knew of him," Lilly admitted evasively "I know he has the reputation of being a good spender. As a matter of fact I may have been in the same night club where he was throwing a party—back in the days when I used to step out."

"You knew Nona McGuire, too?"

"That one? No I never knew her."

"All right. What are you leading up to?"

"I'm just trying to figure out a way to make things more pleasant. Maybe it won't be long before Henry gets the radio fixed, but I don't see why things shouldn't be as pleasant as possible meanwhile. And you're in charge of supplies this week."

"I get it. You want me to steal some whiskey?"

"Why not? You can do it without anybody noticing. I'll see he gets it and he doesn't even have to know you had anything to do with it."

"Harding would miss it eventually. Besides I don't even know where it's stored."

"I do," Lilly said. "And you could take a bottle or so out of a bottom case. It wouldn't be missed for a long time so nobody'd know you took it."

"So that's what you and Nona McGuire were talking about this morning?"

"You don't miss much," Lilly grumbled. "But it's the truth. She was telling me how irritable Fred gets."

"I'd like to help you out, Lilly," Bea said. "But why should I stick my neck out for Stillwell?"

Mrs. Warren eyed her speculatively. "It could mean something—but never mind. I can handle it myself. At least I suppose I can count on you not to blab?"

"That's something a schoolteacher learns early in life," Miss Cosgrove said.

At dinner that evening Stillwell's glumness was replaced by a vivacity which told of both accomplishment and not too strict rationing. Bea Cosgrove was not positive it was an improvement.

The third morning after the wreck of the Gullwing, Bea and George Bascombe walked along the trail to Fisherman's Beach. George stumbled over a rock. "As if it wasn't bad enough, being stuck on this dirtpile with a bunch of freaks, but to lose all my glasses!"

"Thanks," Bea said.

"Present company always excluded," he grumbled. "But when you think of the six spare pair of spectacles I had, you'd think I might have put one spare in my pocket!"

"You're lucky to be alive," she pointed out.

George Bascombe snorted. "Just after I got out of the water, felt the solid beach sand, I'd have agreed with you. Now I'm fed, rested and fairly comfortable. I can entertain doubts. Have you ever considered the life of a parasite?"

"Are you talking about your past or present life?" Bea asked. "Now be careful. We're coming to the steep part of the trial."

"The steep part. My toes are already pushed through the front end of these borrowed shoes. Let's stop here. The others salvaged all the loose wreckage from the Gullwing yesterday. And no glasses!"

"Harding thought that little blow might have broken up your boat."

"I suppose that guy never makes mistakes?" Bascombe asked.

"Yes," Bea Cosgrove said.

"You put some feeling into that word."

Watch where you're going!" Bea snapped. "Now, down this way—and there's the beach." A moment later she added, "And for your edification, it is now covered with wreckage."

"All right. You win! He wins! You're both wonderful and clever. Now if you'll just find a green case!"

George Bascombe walked slowly up and down the beach, in and out of the timbers and boxes, bent over so his eyes were within a few feet of the ground.

But Bea found a small green case, opened it, took out an unbroken pair of thick-lensed glasses and handed them to him. "Try

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IN one week I have spanned two centuries.

All on a Magic Carpet, about which I shall tell you toward the end of this column.

Last week I was in New York City. As usual I took a stroll down to the waterfront and did a bit of day--dreaming about going down to the sea in ships.

BRANDEIS

Suddenly an ununusual sight held me.

A trim, white brigantine came sailing down the river, rounded the Battery and anchored.

Being a nosy newspaperman I made some inquiries about the boat.

She was the Yankee, on the last lap of a 40,000-mile trip in which she called at 101 ports from Antigua to Zanzibar, and which had begun in November, 1947.

The ship's company consisted of twenty people, including Captain Irving Johnson and his wife.

They had visited Honolulu, Singapore, Bangkok, West Africa, Capetown, St. Helena and Bermuda and delivered supplies to the inhabitants of lonely Pitcairn Island.

My imagination went back to the stories about voyages 200 years ago when sailing vessels leisurely made their trips to strange lands, when two-year journeys were common occurrences, when they went after silks and satins and myrrh and frankincense.

That was last week.

But today was another story. Today I was invited by the American Airlines to come out to their "Open House" at the Bridgeport, Conn., Municipal Airport.

So out I went, and I saw thousands and thousands of people inspecting the sailboats of today and tomorrow, the sailboats of the air that can make the Brigantine Yankee's two-year-voyage in not more than the same number of days.

One of the line's new Convair planes took up many hundreds of Bridgeporters on thirty-minute trips.

I went along on one of them and spoke to some of the passengers who had never been in the air before.

THERE was a young married couple.

"How did you like it?" I asked.

"Fine," said the bride, who seemed a little dizzy, "but I think we'll stick to the rails and the road."

"How did you like it?" I asked an eighty-year-old man whose first air trip it was.

"Great," he replied, "I wish they had had these crates when I was young. I could have saved myself a lot of time."

"How did you like it?" I asked a six-year-old youngster who had been taken up by his mother.

"I'm going to get my own plane when I am old enough and fly all around the world," he shouted with the absolute positiveness of a six-year-old.

So you see, I spanned two centuries on my Magic Carpet in just one week.

It was wonderful. And, oh yes, I promised to tell you about that Magic Carpet.

You have one, too, and with it you can roam wherever and whenever you wish.

That magic Carpet is YOUR IMAGINATION.

BUSINESS OPTIMISTIC

Outlook Is Changed

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—American business men's expressed confidence in at least three years of good times ahead, possibly five, is based almost wholly on their belief that the present Congress will block or modify President Truman's far-reaching and costly legislative program, and that the voters will return an even more conservative national legislature next year.

Around the political corner they dare to hope for a Republican President in 1952 of the Robert A. Taft pattern. The very fact that the Ohioan has become their 1952 presidential model represents a tremendous change in the thinking of the nation's business moguls, as reflected in their private and public talk at the recent annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

TUCKER

WELFARE: Like Mr. Taft, who has moved from right of middle to at least a half-step over the politico-economic dividing line, American manufacturers, middlemen and retailers begin to recognize that the federal and state governments should underwrite some of the cost for education, health and assurance of protection against sickness, old age and death.

These same spokesmen of the private enterprise system, even during its period of apparent collapse from 1929 to 1933 (select your own years), fought Franklin D. Roosevelt's social welfare and economic control proposal.

Now they are willing to accept them in moderate form, although not as formulated by President Truman.

REASON: It was not difficult to ascertain the reason for this change of heart in close-up conversation with the industrialists and the business men who have infested the Capital for the last few weeks.

Aside from the fact that these "economic royalists" are human beings, and not the orges depicted by certain politicians, they want to make a success of our system largely because of the Moscow threat.

They have reached the realization, as they admit frankly, that the United States is the key nation in the current test of capitalism versus Communism.

ATTITUDE: Here is, in brief, the general attitude of the men FDR once assailed as "members of well-stocked clubs" toward the labor and welfare proposals now before Congress:

(1). They had no objection to the Senate-passed measure for annual federal aid of $300,000,000 toward our educational system. Many of them are members of local school boards, and they know the need for this sort of assistance.

(2). They do oppose President Truman's medical care and health insurance program, although on practical rather than philosophic grounds—and there is a great difference between those two attitudes.

REACTION: For instance, they think that any health plan should be restricted to those unable to pay the cost of doctors' and hospitals' bills. They prefer the Taft-Hill proposal, under which the federal government would finance families now unable to afford the charge for joining a voluntary hospitalization organization.

For this undertaking, and for appropriation of federal funds to expand hospital, medical education and research facilities, they would settle on an annual appropriation of about two billion dollars, as against the six billion a year which President Truman envisages for his all-out program, and the eighteen billion estimated as the annual cost by the American Medical Association.

Remembering the 1933 attitude of the "old guard" of business and industry, their present reaction represents almost a new birth.

RATIONAL: Their viewpoint on a new labor management law as a substitute for the Taft-Hartley Act is rather rational and restrained, to wit:

(1). They will be only too happy to accept the proposed amendment that they, as well as their employes, sign an anti-Communist affidavit. Having fought Communism all their lives, they have no hesitancy in publicizing their convictions.

(2). They believe that the provision giving Uncle Sam the right to stop a strike affected with a national and bread-and-butter interest should be retained. For preventing a collapse of an essential industry or public utility facility, they prefer to rely on the courts rather than on the politicians, Democratic or Republican.

(3). They think that any new law should give them the right ti discuss wage, hour and working conditions with their employes, which would be banned as "unfair labor practice" under Administration proposals.

FETISH: What burns them up is this:

From their everyday contacts with their men and women in the shop and the front office, they know that the average workingman has not suffered from the operation and administration of the Taft-Hartly Act. Its repeal has become, and this is generally admitted, a fetish with Administration politicians and the highly paid leaders—William Green, Philip Murray and John L. Lewis, not to forget their friends and cousins—of the labor movement.

U.S. Agency System Weakened

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Attention has been called here recently to the importance to the public of independent commissions and agencies created by Congress from time to time and delegated to administer and interpret laws passed by Congress to protect the public interest.

It has been shown how special private interests have sought to influence commission policy in their behalf through appointment of members sympathetic with their viewpoint, or by blocking appointees they did not like and how in this manner laws passed by Congress to protect the public interest can be diluted, weakened or, on occasion, even nullified in this commission area of government, which is powerful.

STOKES

Now a new wrinkle has come to light which Congress has been asked to investigate whereby private, outside interests have brought their influence to bear on these commissions and agencies under the guise of improving administrative procedure. They have operated strangely enough through the Civil Service commission, which is supposed to protect the Civil Service system and its personnel.

Board Is Named

It comes about this way. The Civil Service commission, under the administrative procedures act of 1946, appointed a board of examiners to which it delegated authority not contained in that act or given it by any statute, past, or present, to scrutinize every trial examiner employed by commissions and agencies, disqualifying those that do not meet the board's standards, and recommend new applicants.

Trial examiners are those who, in the first instance, do preliminary investigatory and exploratory work and conduct preliminary hearings for commissions and agencies and make examiners' reports, with recommendations.

This board, with the approval of the Civil Service commission, recently has disqualified numbers of examiners, most of them veteran, experienced officials, in various commissions and agencies who are to lose their jobs or be demoted, subject to appeal in which they are permitted only to submit "new evidence." Examinations were cursory in many cases, and information on which employes were disqualified is kept secret and the sources of information are withheld. Loyalty, it should be pointed out, is not an issue in these cases.

The personnel of the board gives an interesting clue. Aside from one Civil Service commission employe, Wilson Matthews, the other five are from outside government. Four are prominent members of the American Bar association, which had much influence in the administrative procedures act, two of them former ABA presidents. The connections of three of these, their attitudes and attitudes of the ABA Journal suggest background for their decisions on government employes.

Carl McFarland, the chairman, is general counsel of the National Manufacturers association, and represents big private interests before the government, as do two others, Joseph W. Henderson, who has represented industrial clients before the National Labor Relations board, and Willis Smith. The last two are former ABA presidents. The other two members are state supreme court justices, Laurance M. Hyde, Missouri, and Douglas L. Edmonds, California.

Petition Is Presented

A petition for a congressional investigation of the whole procedure involved has been presented to vice president Barkley and Speaker of the House Rayburn by the Association of Interstate Commission Practitioners, representing lawyers who practice before the Interstate Commerce commission. The petition bitterly denounces the dis-qualification of 12 ICC trial examiners, a fourth of the whole staff of examiners, veteran civil servants, describing the Civil Service commission's action as "subversive of constitutional guarantees and democratic principles and adding "the police state type of investigation has no place in American institutions.

Other expositions are expected from other quarters.

Mr. McFarland, the board chairman, in his approach to the problem of administrative agencies, emphasizes the interests of business and industry, while the ABA Journal in an editorial in its March, 1947, issue, said: "Agency heads understand that the act ought to mean, and sooner or later be made to mean, a deep revision of attitudes."

What sort of "attitudes?" These commissions are supposed to represent the public interest, not special interests.

POPULATION 'DISPERSAL' URGED

'Space' Is Only Defense Against Atom Bomb, U.S. Official Says

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16. (INS)—A top official of the National Security Resources board warned in San Francisco tonight that there is no defense against atomic bombing of the United States except space.

The official, Gayle W. Arnold, told the 53rd annual meeting of the National Fire Protection association that U.S. metropolitan and industrial centers are peculiarly vulnerable to bombing.

Arnold, assistant director of production on the board, ruled out underground installations as an adequate defense measure because of their prohibitive cost of construction.

'Dispersal' Urged

He called for dispersal of U.S. cities as the only practical defense and declared that such dispersal would be a great contribution to peace because it would make invasion too costly to contemplate.

Arnold said studies indicate that "concentrations of less than 50,000 population and less than five miles square—when separated by ten miles of relatively open country—may be assumed reasonably secure from attack.

However, he said, the "country's 140 metropolitan districts continue to absorb" an annual population increase "equivalent to 15 cities of 50,000 population each." He added:

"The U.S. would be much better off if it were building 15 cities every year instead of adding to the congestion that makes our big centers more attractive as targets for attack."

MARKET AGAIN BOOSTED

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—Continued buying enthusiasm pushed the stock market moderately higher today.

Electric power and light issues were up from 1 to 4 points to new highs for the year on a Supreme Court of the United States decision denying a stay of execution for a reorganization plan.

They fell back slightly before the close, and the common finished at 26½ up ⅛, the $7 preferred at 174½ up 3½, and the $6 preferred at 158½ up 2½.

Commonwealth and Southern, the day's most active issue, closed at 4, up ⅛, at a high for 1949. There were 132,500 shares traded.

Metals eased lower under early profit taking.

Steels sagged most of the day. Trade sources report the backlog of orders is diminishing. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained .3 of a point at 64.3, the best level in more than a month. The component for industrials was up .4 of a point, rails were unchanged, and utilities advanced .3 of a point.

The volume of trading reached 1,820,000 shares. Friday's volume was 780,000 shares.

The market was fairly broad with 971 individual issues traded.

Stocks going higher included Youngstown Sheet and Tube 65, General Motors 51½, Chrysler 83, Great Western Sugar 17⅝, Firestone 49, Western Union 15½, Consolidated Natural Gas 43¾, Anaconda 29⅝, Kennecott 48⅝, American Can 92, Du Pont 191, Allied Chemical 177, J. C. Penney 47⅝, International Paper 48¾, Liggett and Meyers 81½, Illinois Central 29½, Southern Pacific 41¾, Gulf Oil 65, and Twentieth Century-Fox 24½.

Lower were U. S. Steel (Old) 71¾, American Telephone 141¼, American Smelting 45⅛, Philips Dodge 42¾, Owens Illinois 85½, Santa Fe 89¾, Mission Corp. 47, and Bethlehem Steel 28⅝.

The curb market was mostly higher. Moving higher were Sunbeam Corp., Godchaux Sugar "A", Electric Power and Light second preferred "A," American Republics, Crystal Oil Refining preferred, New England Telephone and Telegraph, and Niagara Hudson Power. On the downside were United Gas, Pancoastal Oil, Pittsburgh Metallurgical, Blue Ridge and Cities Service.

Pre-Registration Set Wednesday For Tech Summer Students

Students who are now enrolled in Texas Technological college who plan to attend summer school will begin pre-registration Wednesday at the college.

W. P. Clement, registrar at Tech, said Monday that students would fill out cards to be turned in to the registrar's office. The day and hour to register will be mailed to the student at his Lubbock address.

Final examinations for graduating seniors will begin at the college Friday. All other students will begin their tests May 26. The baccalaureate sermon for the senior class will be held Sunday, May 29 and the commencement exercises will be in Jones stadium at 8 p.m. the following monday.

He took them eagerly, slipped them on. He snatched them off, polished their lenses on the tail of his shirt and gave a great sigh of relief as the nose piece fit into the deep groove on the cartilage of his nose.

"My savior!" He kissed her. "I'm a new man!"

Bea laughed. "The old one was quieter."

George stepped back a pace and stared at her. "My wonder girl! And a beauty! You're beautiful when you laugh. You're not a bit like I imagined. And they told me you were a schoolteacher!"

"I don't think I'd like to be something you imagined," Miss Cosgrove said. "Shall we get to work and see what we can salvage?"

SOLONS THREATEN TO CUT FUNDS

Committee May Expand Probe Into AEC Fellowship Program

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said today the congressional inquiry into how the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) deals with Communists in its fellowship program may expand into "other phases of commission operations."

"It may be necessary," explained the former chairman of the joint congressional Atomic Energy committee, "to examine the entire clearance program of the commission."

He referred to its program for clearing personnel for access to secret information. Hickenlooper, now ranking Senate GOP member of the joint committee, said that all employes of the AEC "should be above suspicion and most of them are."

Loyalty Not Enough

Hickenlooper stressed that loyalty to this government is not the sole qualification for clearance for access to classified material.

"It's loyalty, character and association," he said. "And while a man may be basically loyal, his character or associations, or both, might be subject to such criticism as to make him a poor security risk."

A man who couldn't keep his mouth shut, Hickenlooper opined, would not be a very good man to be permitted access to secret information even if his loyalty were beyond reproach.

The fellowship inquiry was touched off last week by Senator Hoey (D-NC). He told the Senate that a Communist was studying nuclear physics at the University of North Carolina on a commission fellowship. The student later was identified as Aans Freistadt, an admitted Communist.

May Cut Off Funds

Hickenlooped immediately said the committee should look into the whole AEC fellowship program.

"The sole responsibility is in the commission for these fellowships," he said in an interview. "The commission can't dodge it."

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), a member of the Senate Appropriations committee, said that unless the AEC agrees to "screen these people we'll see what can be done about shutting off the fellowship funds." Senator Russell (D-Ga), another appropriations committeeman, announced he would go along with such a move.

As of January 1, the commission had awarded 203 pre-doctoral and 42 post-doctoral fellowships. It had been the intention to expand the program considerably to provide the AEC with a reservoir of trained scientists from which to choose for atomic work.

AEC Handling Scored

The fellows are not now given access to classified information. But Hickenlooper said there is little use of the government spending money to educate these people if they can not be used for secret work when needed.

Hickenlooper expressed high dissatisfaction with the way the AEC has been handling the program. He said that only about 40 of the 245 had been investigated prior to obtaining fellowships, and hinted that changes in the atomic energy act may be found to be necessary to make such screening mandatory. He said one fellowship had been granted to a known communist other than Freistadt, but did not identify him.

Chairman David E. Lilienthal wrote Hoey that AEC clearance is required of fellows "only when they have access to restricted data or will work at classified projects." He said such checks are costly and indicated strongly that he thought them unnecessary.

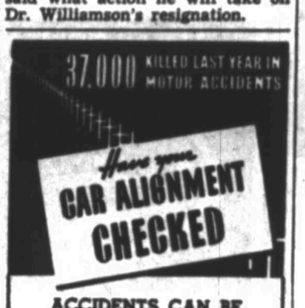

Chief Houston Veterinarian Resigns Health Department Post

HOUSTON, May 16 (U.P.)—Dr. J. W. Williamson, chief veterinarian for the City Health department, announced today he would resign May 31 to return to private practice.

Dr. Williamson, who has served the city since last July, said he felt he had fulfilled his mission—"to clean up the horse meat situation."

As a successor, Dr. Williamson recommended Dr. R. S. Martin, a veterinarian in the meat inspection division of the City Health department.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe has not said what action he will take on Dr. Williamson's resignation.

Lions Show Set At Seagraves Tonight

SEAGRAVES, May 16. (Special)—Members of the Lubbock Lions club will present their minstrel show here Tuesday night. The performance will benefit the proposed city swimming pool.

The show, which will be presented at the skating rink auditorium, is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p. m., and is under sponsorship of the Seagraves Lions and Rotary clubs.

The Lamesa Lions club orchestra will furnish music for the show. The entire Lubbock cast will be in the performance here.

The show here is the same one which the Lubbock Lions have presented in Tahoka, Amarillo, Roswell and Ruidoso, in addition to three performances in Lubbock.

Daughter Of Confederate General Dies At Home In Forth Worth

FORT WORTH May 16 (U.P.)—Mrs. Sallie Benning Hull, 94, daughter of the Confederate army general for whom Fort Benning Ga., was named, died at her home here today.

Mrs. Hull, a native of Columbus, Ga., was the mother of Herbert L. Hull, former Fort Worth city councilman. She first came here in 1907, later moving to Chicago and then returning here in 1919.

Mrs. Hull was a daughter of Gen. Henry L. Benning, the Confederate general.

The body will be sent to Columbus, Ga., for services and burial.

Lubbock Students To Graduate At H-SU

ABILENE, May 16. (Special)—Five Lubbock students will receive degrees from Hardin-Simmons university May 30 when 253 seniors graduate.

Receiving bachelor of arts degress are:

Frances Harvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Harvin of 2434 Twentieth, with a major in Bible and minor in speech.

Nell Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes of 3910 Ave. S, with a major in psychology and English and minor in French.

Lloyd Ray Pendley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pendley of 101 Ave. V, with a major in Bible and minor in Greek.

Receiving bachelor of science degrees are:

Willa Jeane Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reid of 2721 N. Third, with a major in elementary education and minor in English.

Glenn Willson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Willson of Lubbock route 5, with a major in Bible and minor in English.

Speaker for commencement exercises will be William J. (Bill) Murray, jr., member of the Texas Railroad commission, and former student of Hardin-Simmons.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday morning and Sunday night, with Dr. Perry F. Webb, pastor of the San Antonio First Baptist church, delivering both sermons.

Wonderful New Comfort

The Beautiful Chrysler | Silver Anniversary Model

New Convenience! Easiest car ever made to get into and out of. Women enter and leave with dignity. Common sense engineering of wider doorways, and natural step-in entrances make it seem absurd ever to have to wrestle your way in and out of a car.

New Yorker 4-door sedan with PRESTOMATIC FLUID DRIVE* TRANSMISSION
—drive without shifting

New Wider Chair-Height Seats! We don't fold you up like a "jackknife." You sit comfortably in seats the height of your easy chairs at home. We've more headroom, legroom, and shoulder room for you. And no other car has ever been so completely engineered from the fundamentals up for your comfort, your convenience, your peace of mind.

New Easier Steering! In one of the great advances since the war, we give you new "center control" steering. For the first time, tie rods of equal length give you balanced control. There's no wheel fight. There's greater road stability, easier handling, less road shock. Yes, and greater safety, too—for everything about this car is designed for safer driving.

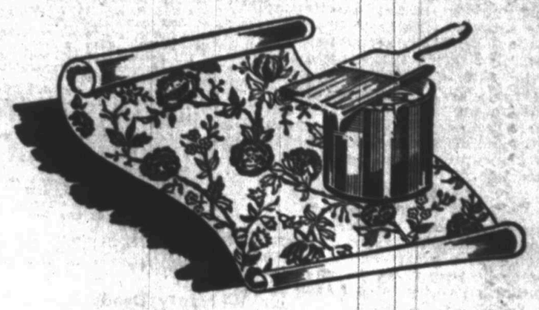

New Smoother Driving! Chrysler's mighty Spitfire engine now has still higher compression for faster acceleration, smoother response. And along with its better all-around performance goes an amazing new Waterproof Ignition System that's exclusive with Chrysler. You can drive through high water but it won't stall. You get quicker starting, even in dampest weather, smoother idling, longer life.
