SNOW'S DEFENSE UNYIELDING

INTERSTATE R. R. RATES APPLY IN STATE IS RULING

Interstate Commerce Commission Orders New York to Accept U. S. Increases.

Rules Purpose of Congress Is Defeated by State's Failure to Conform.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In its first decision on the right of the federal government, under the transportation act, to require railroad rates within a state to correspond to the higher levels of interstate tariff, the Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered the railroads of New York to establish passenger and baggage rates on intrastate traffic conforming to advance interstate schedules.

Similar cases are pending affecting more than 17 states. The New York public service commission granted, the freight advance, except on milk, but denied the other increase within the state, and the carriers appealed to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The federal body held that there was a general obligation resting upon it "to exercise authority over intrastate commerce so far as it affects interstate commerce." Congress directed rates be allowed which would yield an aggregate return of from 5½ to 6 percent on the value of the railways' properties, the commission stated adding "there can be no doubt of the power of congress to devise and provide for carrying into effect a plan for assuring the nation's interstate railroads a fair return upon value of their property; and the full control of congress of this matter is not to be denied on the ground that the carrier's aggregate earnings are a commingling of intrastate revenue and interstate reveneue.

"The records show that the refusal of the state of New York to permit the carriers to increase the rates and fares here in conformity to the extent approved by us, to that extent the declared purpose of congress is defeated by rates maintained by authority of the state of New York.

A dissenting opinion was handed down by Commissioner Eastman, who contended the decision of the majority was beyond the lawful power of the commission.

Orders issued by the commission required the new rates to become effective December 18 on the filing of five days' notice to the commission and the public. Increases on commutation fares and charges on excess baggage carried in connection with such fares was expected from the general order and reserved for the future decisions by the commission.

SAYS DANCE HALLS ARE MENACE TO GIRLS

(By International News Service.)

DETROIT, Mich.—Suggesting a minimum age law for girls attending Detroit dance halls, Miss Virginia Mae Murray, head of the Travellers' Aid society of New York city, told Police Commissioner Inches these establishments were a menace to the morals of the city.

The report to the commissioner was the result of visits to dance halls made Thursday and Friday nights by Miss Murray, Miss Josephine Davis, Detroit policewoman and a patrolman.

Miss Murray said mere children were found dancing with men whom they did not know. Others were found waiting outside for men to "pick them up" and pay their way in. Commissioner Inches said that at present there practically is no police supervision of dance halls.

HARDING OFF TO SEE CANAL

President-Elect Appeals for Sober Thinking to N. O. Hearers.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18.—Sober thinking and an abiding faith in the republic during the critical period of the war reconstruction were asked of the American people today by Warren G. Harding, in an address delivered here just before he sailed to the Canal zone.

Some reverses and disappointments must come as the aftermath of the world conflict, he said, but he predicted confidently that all of them would pass away if the people would "only keep their heads" and hold fast to the old time virtues, to thrift and honesty and common sense.

Making his second formal speech since his election, Mr. Harding spoke in studied terms with a quiet earnestness betoking a full realization of the responsibilities ahead of him.

"A confident American," buttressed by resources never equalled before by any people and governed by a free representative government," was the ideal which the president-elect declared must be kept forever in view through time of transition. He said no one desired that the old order should return but he maintained that in building for the new order there must be no acceptance of "strong cure-alls and fancy theories."

Given at Luncheon.

The address was delivered at a luncheon of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, the central feature of a program of entertainment by which the city sought to show the president-elect that the partisanship of the campaign already had been forgotten. Great street crowds cheered Mr. Harding everywhere during his short stay and to a gathering of thousands in front of the city hall he expressed regard for the hospitality extended.

Following the luncheon Mr. Harding was the guest at an informal reception held at the Elks home where he was presented with a gold watch, the gift of the local lodge. His "little talk" promised the Elks developed into a 15-minute address before a crowd of several thousand gathered in front of the home.

He stressed the value of fraternities, asserting that without them there would be vastly more trouble and worry in governments and among the people in general.

Spent Five Hours.

The president-elect was in New Orleans about five hours. He arrived shortly before 11 o'clock in the morning from Point Isabel, where he spent the first week of his vacation and went aboard his steamer, the United Fruit liner, Parismina, shortly after 4 p. m. Soon after the steamer started on the four-day run to Cristobal.

Any possibility that the vessel would touch at a Mexican port on her way down, in response to an invitation extended to Mr. Harding by the Mexican government, disappeared when the steamship company notified president-elect that such a stop would carry the Parsimina thre days out of her course. She already had delayed her sailing one day to wait for the presidential party, and as she carries a number of regular passengers Mr. Harding would not approve a further change in plans.

Besides Mrs. Harding and his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., the president-elect is accompanied by a number of personal friends including Senators Hale of Maine and Frelinghuyser of New Jersey. The party will remain in the Canal zone about a week and will land on the return trip at Norfolk, Va., on December 4.

MEXICAN PACT FAKE; GERMAN WAR MANEUVER

Treaty of U. S., Britain and France Promptly 'Called' by Washington.

Provision Against Jap War Termed Foolish, Publication Malice.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Publication in Mexico City today of what purported to be the text of a treaty between the United States, Great Britain and France, signed in 1917 and dealing with certain rights claimed by those countries in Mexico, brought prompt official denial from the state department of the existence of any such pact.

Officials at the department were inclined to believe the published text was that of a falsehood prepared during the war by Germany for propaganda purposes in Mexico. There had been, they said, indications of the false document.

Jap War "Foolish"

The statement that one clause of the alleged treaty provided certain measures to meet possible Japanese hostilities was noted and characterized at the department as being as foolish as it was false.

On the other main subject dealt with in the spurious pact, continuation of the flow of oil of Mexican wells owned by nationals of the three powers, it was regarded as conceivable that some sort of informal understanding might have been reached by the three governments, necessitated by the war. It was said officially, however, that nothing of the kind had been reduced to writing.

British Needed Oil

It was recalled in this connection that Mexican fuel oil was essential to British naval operations during the war.

The suggestion that a written agreement existed was made last month in Mexico City papers, being attributed to Halirio Medina, acting minister of foreign affairs in the Carranza cabinet. It was promptly denied by Cuthberto Hidalgo, holding a similar post under the present provisional government, who declared Medina had brought about publication of a statement he knew to be false for the purpose of embarrassing friendly relations between the provisional government and the United States.

MEXICAN MINE STRIKE SERIOUS

Americans Flee Coahuila Where Workers Run Seven Mines.

EAGLE PASS, Nov. 18.—The strike situation in the coal mining area of the Mexican state of Coahuila, where striking miners have taken charge of seven mines, has become critical, and Americans are arriving here from the affected area by train and automobile, having been advised to leave the district by Governor Luis Gutierres. The Coahuila governor told the Americans he anticipated trouble in view of the government's determination to take charge of the situation.

Americans arriving here from the mining district are unable to explain the conditions in the affected area more than that they were told the situation is serious. The strikers are known as 'Unionists," refugees said, and claim to have the backing of one faction of the government.

The miners not only have complete charge of seven mines in the state, but are well organized with pickets on duty and observe strict discipline, observers arriving here tonight say.

One of the Americans who came here today from the mines did not regard the action of the strikers in seizing the mines as an instigation of organized labor, but said it was "Bolshevism." It was the wave of Bolshevism that is sweeping the world, and which just swept Mexico."

The seven mines affected are located at Rosiata, Cloete, Aguijita, Lampacitas, Escondida, Las Peranzas and Palau.

Reports that several persons have been killed in strike disorders could not be confirmed here.

ARK. SLAYERS GET LIFE TERM

Whisky Runners Convicted Are Rushed to Prison For Safety.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 18.—Tom Slaughter and Fulton Green convicted today at Hot Springs for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Row Brown of that city last month, and sentenced to life imprisonment, had made preparations for their escape tonight if the verdict had provided for their execution, according to guards who accompanied them to the state penitentiary here tonight.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 18.—Tom Slaughter and Fulton Green, convicted this afternoon in a jury verdict of first degree murder, this afternoon transferred under civil and military guard by motor lorry to the state penitentiary for safe keeping.

The state made a hard fight for the death penalty for the men. After the verdict, with sentence of life in the penitentiary, Attorney Whiting acting for the defendants, waived all rights that had been preserved in the trial of the case and the men stood up for immediate sentence.

Slaughter and Green, both indicated their satisfaction with the verdict under the circumstances, but after being sent back to jail to await transportation, declared that if they had more time to prepare for the trial they could have proved that where the shooting took place they were expecting another party by engagement to receive liquor and that they believed whe nthe officer in civilian clothing came up, they were being "stuck up."

U. S. TIGHTENS NET IN LABOR EXTORTION CASE

Adds Another Count to Indictment Against Brindell, New York Leader.

Witnesses Testify to Paying Thousands to Prevent Strikes or Trouble.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—While the joint legislative committee investigating 'building trust' was hearing further testimony today regarding alleged graft of payments to Robert Brindell, president of the BuildingTrades council, the government strengthened its indictment of yesterday and added another, charging the labor leader with extortion.

After pleading not guilty to the amendment indictment alleging attempted extortion of $250.00 and new charge, Brindell was granted his liberty on the $100,000 bail furnished yesterday.

Of witnesses heard today by the legislative committee, Albert Hirskowitz headed the list, having declared he paid $25,000 to Brindell to prevent a "rumored strike."

Next Paid $17,120.

Then came George Atwell, one of the city's largest demolition contractors, who said he paid $17,120 for jobs and protection.

Nietham Klomposs, a house wrecker, testified to giving Brindell $1,000 for "getting me men" and arranged for "protection from trouble" from Frank Milton, another contractor, which, he said cost $1,500. He said he also paid $200 for "privilege cards," in order that his men could work. Later Kloposs added, he gave $1,000 to B. Seigel to be given to Brindell to prevent interruption of work.

Joseph Goldblatt, building and sheet metal contractor, testified he paid $2,000 to Brindell's agents at the request of the labor leader to have a strike called off on one alteration job.

Feared Nothing.

When he said he threatened to fight the Brindell men, Goldblatt declared one Pike, a walking delegate, said "go as far as you like. We have got all the protection we want. We have got the district attorney and police force with us."

The hearing of the graft testimony was in peaceful contract to the unusual disorder that had marked the proceedings earlier in the day when Mayor Hylan was on the witness stand.

Several times the hearing was brought to a halt while the mayor and Samuel Untermyer, the committee's counsel, indulged in personalities.

ENDS LIMIT ON INDIAN LEASES

Secretary Payne Abrogates 4,800 Acre Restriction on Oil Lands.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—Oil men won a big victory today when Secretary of the Interior Payne, establishing a departmental record for quick handling of a case, handed down a decision abrogating the 4,800-acre restriction which has been enforced on Oklahoma Indian land.

Commissioner of Indian Affairs Sells, who sat with Secretary Payne during the hearing Tuesday, in transmitting the decision to newspaper men this afternoon said that he believed it would meet the approval of the oil men and at the same time be to the best interest of the Indian wards.

Most of the oil men who attended the hearing are still in the city. Judge Payne's statement was as follows:

"Secretary Payne today held that the 4,800-acre rule limiting holdings of all lessees should be abrogated as to the west side of the Osage Nation and modified by increasing the acreage on the east side of the Osage Nation to 20,000 acres. He also modified the 4,800-acre rule to all western Oklahoma Indian tribes so as to increase the acreage to 9,000 acres.

"Assignments of Osage leases may be made in unlimited acreage on the west side. On the east side, assignments shall be restricted to 4,800 acres as heretofore with an additional assignment of acreage not to exceed altogether 20,000 acres only where wells on any quarter section average not more than three barrels per day."

Want Part Explained.

Harry H. Smith, secretary of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association, announced tonight that the oil men were much pleased with the decision as it relates to the West Osages and the Indian lands to the west, but would ask for an interpretation of the ruling on the East Osage. Mr. Smith will confer with Secretary Payne on the Eastern Osage matter.

He hoped that what seemed like an objectionable feature of the ruling as applied to the Eastern Osages would turn out to be nothing more than faulty phraseology.

'THE CITY THAT FAITH BUILT'

TO INSIST STATE GIVE COMPLETE PICTURE OF RAID

Must Prove Death House Was Den; Question Officers' Authority.

Strong Point to Be Belief Raiders Were Robbers; Testimony Is Begun.

By ROB CURRAN

Cross examination by the defense of state witnesses at the outset Thursday afternoon of the trial of Doe Snow, who is charged in grand jury indictments with the murder of W. S. Toney and Marvin Caple in a Kemp City gambling den on the night of September 30, indicated that Snow bases his plea of innocence on the contention that he mistakenly believed that Caple and Toney were highjackers instead of peace officers.

The defense also made it clear that it would insist that the state disentangle from the confusion and wild stampede of the gambling house battle a clear-cut story as to exactly who did the shooting, even in such detail as whether the gambling house was in reality the home of a game of chance.

Cross examination also led to spicy questions, intimating irregularity on the part of the peace officers in the entire conduct of the raid, with particular challenge as to Joe Hancock's presence there. They sought in vain to make Deputy Constable Belcher admit that his commission as a deputy had expired weeks before the raid and that he knew he was not an authorized officer when he went on the expedition.

Blecher flatly denied this.

Three Witnesses Testify

Belcher, Deputy Constable Spiller and Wiley Smith, popularly known as "Smithey," one of the men under separate indictment on a charge of operating a gambling house at Kemp City on the night of the raid, were put on the stand by the state Thursday. "Smithey" was still testifying when Judge Martin adjourned court at 5 o'clock until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Spiller was the first witness.

"When you got there, whom did you tell the men you were?" he was asked.

"We told everybody that we were officers," he replied.

Q. "That is vague. Answer it again."

Came to "Raid Joint"

A. "We told everybody that we were Spiller and Belcher, deputy constables from Wichita Falls. I do not know just which of us spoke first, but I think it was Belcher. I think he said that we were officers, 'come to raid the joint.'"

"Belcher said to Smithey, 'Tell them who we are, Smithey.' Smithey rose from his box and said 'Men, they are Spiller and Belcher, deputy constables.' About that time the shooting began.

"Then I reached for my gun. Somebody knocked me down from behind. As fast as I could get up, some one else knocked me over."

There was a pause in the proceedings as the crowd saw the funny side of the grim situation and laughed.

Rush Forced Them Back

"Belcher knocked somebody over me. Then I got a gun in each hand. Belcher and I backed out along the partition corridor leading into the anteroom of the place and stopped them. Then we forced the crowd back along the path the rush had taken us and lined them up against the wall with their faces to the boards.

"We got about twelve revolvers off of some of the men. Hancock and two or three of the men stacked all the tables except one against the back doors and windows as a precaution against attack from the outside.

"Belcher took three or four men from the crowd and got Toney and Caple to adjoining buildings and called doctors. Toney was dead when he was picked up. Caple was still breathing. Toney was laying about three feet from the rear of the building and Caple was about four feet north of Toney."

The state asked Spiller if he knew where Caple had been shot, and this led to objections from the defense which revealed the minute detail in which they would demand that the state prove its case.

Insist on Identifying Wounds.

"He was bleeding pretty badly," Spiller replied. "Caple had been shot in the head over the left eye."

And Spiller tapped his own forehead to show where the bullet went in.

"Did Caple have other wounds," was the next question. Spiller started to say that he did when the defense interposed. They insisted that

Spiller should testify only as to wounds which he saw Caple had when his body was first approached.

"We don't know but what other wounds may have been inflicted in Caple's body after the time of the homicide," the defense insisted. In other words, they reserved the doubt that Caple might possibly have been shot again after his body was removed from the gambling house.

"What direction did the crowd take in its effort to get away when the shooting began," Spiller was asked.

"They tried to get out the front," he replied. "Belcher and I were forced into the outer room by the shine stand before we could check them."

Q. "What did you do then?"

Poked Pistol In Men's Ribs.

A. "I poked a gun in either hand into the ribs of the men in front and forced them back in the main room. We picked a man out of the crowd and sent him to the city hall. (Wichita Falls police station) to the night chief of police for help."

The state again reverted to the question of the time of the announcement of the officers' presence—an issue of fact which is looming large in the case.

When Was 'Law' Announced?

Q. "When did you ask Smithy to tell them who we were?"

A. "I asked him before the shots were fired. About the time he finished telling who we were the shooting began."

The defense took the witness for cross-examination. Attorney Shields Heyser conducted the examination. He began with a spicey effort to attack Joe Hancock, civilian who assisted the officers in the raid and an important state winess.

Q. "You selected Joe Hancock as an assistant, did you not?"

A. Yes, I met him at the city hall'

"Dog-Faced Joe" Under Fire.

Q. "Joe is known as 'Dog-Feced Joe?'"

A. "I never heard him called that. I have heard him called Pugs."

Q. "Did you know Joe's business?"

The state objected that this question was immaterial. Attorney Heyser talked in a low tone to Judge Martin in an effort to show that the testimony was material.

The defense started on a new track—a sensational one.

Joe in Den Before.

Q. "Did you know that Joe Hancock went to the Kemp City gambling house the night before the raid and lost a valuable diamond ring and $75 or $80 in cash?

A. "Yes, he told me that he was there."

Q. "Did you know that Joe Hancock told them that he was coming back to get his bunch and stick them up?

A. "I never heard that.

Q. "Were any of the boys with you on the raid drunk or had they been drinking?

Joe Got Line-Up.

A. "I did not see them drinking. I told Joe several days before to get an outline on the place."

The defense wanted to know if Spiller was sure that it was "several" days before. Spiller was certain that it was just a "few." He was forced to show that he was a bona fide officer at the time by testifying that he held a commission from Constable Nail.

Q. "What places did you go to before you went out of town?

Q. "Where did you go before you went to the City Hall?

A. "We went to John Davenport's office (Davenport is the county attorney).

Q. "Didn't he ask you to go later?

Davenport Missed Danger

A. "He said that some other business made it impossible for him to go that night. He was to have gone with us."

Spiller denied that Davenport had advised the "boys not to go then." Spiller denied that he himself went over to Sansbury's office and borrowed a gun and added that he furnished two revolvers. Spiller also denied that he was in the room at at the City Hall when an effort was made to borrow a gun from a policeman. Neither did he hear that a statement was made there that he "was going to stick up a joint."

Q. "Did you know about going to the Wichita Cafe and Bakery and asking the manager for a gun?

A. "I believe that was Belcher.

Q. "Did you know that he handed it back and said that it was 'too small?'

A. "No."

Calls Caple "Good Physically"

Spiller said he had known Caple for years. Asked if he knew that Caple had had several fights here, Spiller replied that he knew Caple was a good man physically and a brave one.

"Did you all go in the gambling hall together?

A. "I believe Joe went in ahead of us. The two boys, Caple and Toney, walked to the back end of the hall.

Q. "Did Toney or Caple have on a badge?"

Toney, Cable Had No Badges

A. "No, neither wore badges. Caple wore a dark shirt and dark trousers. Toney wore an army shirt and khaki pants. Caple had a 45 calibre revolver and Toney had a big one. I don't know just what size. Toney and Caple were to cut off escape by the rear.

Attorney Heyser interposed to review the warning of Smithey again. He said:

"And before Smithey could finish telling them that you were officers, the shooting began, did it not?

Spiller said "Yes, Sir," and the defense had scored a point in its attempt to show that Snow had no evidence before he began firing, if he did fire, that Toney and Caple were acting as officers and not as highjackers. Spiller said that there were about fifty persons in the room and that the room was about fifty feet long. He saw a dice game at one table, the first on the left.

Defense Claims Point.

Spiller could not say how much noise was being made. Asked if the room was filled with smoke, he replied, "possibly so, I could not tell." Then Spiller said that "As Smithey was making the announcement that the law was here," that the firing began. The defense gained another edge in its effort to prove no prior notice given of the officers' presence.

"Pugs" or "Dog-Faced Joe," as the defense was pleased to call him, got back in the limelight.

Where Was Joe?

Q. "Where was Joe Hancock when the shooting began?

A. "I did not see him again until after Belcher and I had forced the stampeders back into the main hall and he came to 'shake 'em down.'

Q. "You did not know that Joe ran out to the front and got into an autmobile?

"No."

Spiller said he knew "Smithey" and Frank Dodson, also under indictment in connection with the alleged operation of a gambling house on the night of the raid. He admitted that he did not know Snow. He also admitted that he did not see "Smithy" or Dodson take part in any changing hands of money. He said they had money stacked in front of them.

Jones Again Takes Witness

District Attorney Jones took the witness on re-direct examination. He was seeking to make clear the mooted point of whether Smithey gave notice of the law's presence before Snow shot, if he did shoot.

Q. "Did you misunderstand Mr. Heyser or myself in regard to the time of the shooting? When did the shooting begin in connection with Smithey's announcement?

A. "Smithey and I nodded to each other and I asked Smithey to tell them who we were. Smithey had said 'this is Spiller and Belcher, deputy constables, and then the shooting began."

For the second time Spiller showed the jury a drawing of the den.

Belcher on Stand

Deputy Constable Belcher took the stand. He revealed for the first time that Hancock had taken a gun off of a man who was in the anteroom of the gambling joint.

"Then we went in and watched the game," Belcher continued.

"Smithey was sitting on a box which raised him high above the level of the players around a table. I nodded to Smithey and told him, 'tell them who we are.'"

Called For Silence

"Smithey raised his hands like this", he continued and then stopped to elevate his own hands above his head in much the fashion that a speaker calls for attention from a crowd. In connection with the generally known story of the tragedy which followed, Belcher's striking illustration also was suggestive of a minister's gesture before men bow in prayer. The crowd of listeners grew very still.

Belcher again told the story of the shooting and stampede. When he came back he found Caple laying face downward. Blood was coming out from under his shoulder. Toney was laying across a table with his arm in a halfcircle over his head.

Belcher said he sent a chauffer back to Wichita Falls for help and then got a boarding house woman there to promise that she would also see that aid came. The raid began at 9:35, he said. Then he related that no one came until about 1:40 when two newspaper men came.

"Do not tell about that," District Attorney Jones interrupted. "Take up your story on the arrival of the sheriff and his deputies."

Challenge Belcher's Title

The defense took up its effort to challenge Belcher's authority as a deputy constable that night.

Q. "Is it not true that your commission was taken up on July 14th when you and Mr. Nail had some argument about an automobile theft case? (July14 was six weeks before the raid.)

A. "Not that I know of.

Q. "Didn't you know that the Wichita county records showed that your commission had been cancelled July 14?

A. "No. Nail came to me later and told me something about the commission. Nail came to me about November 9 and said that he remembered that my commission was out and asked me to renew it.

Denies Commission Expired.

Q. "Well, didn't you know, as a matter of fact that your commission had expired at the time of the raid?

A. "No."

Q. "Do you swear that to the jury?"

A. "Yes, solemnly.

The court held that this was improper questioning.

Toney Thought of Wife.

A. "We went to Mr. Toney's oil filling station. Then we stopped by a store because Mr. Toney wanted to buy a magazine for his wife."

Back in the rear of the crowd that packed the court room to standing capacity a woman began to cry quietly.

Again under fire, Belcher admitted that he and Spiller had not taken any warrants with them to Kemp City, that they did not deputize Joe Hancock or anyone else that night.

Q. "Did you even know who Joe was?

"No.

Didn't Know That Joe Was Jobless

Q. "Did you know that he had no job?

A. "No.

Q. "Did you know what Police Chief Huff thought about him?

A. "No.

Q. "Did you know that Kemp City was in the Iowa Park district?" (This district is out of Spiller's deputy constable district.)

The court overruled the answer on objection from the state.

Q. "Was Joe Hancock arrested and put in jail that same night by the sheriff?"

The question was overruled.

Belcher said he referred to Hancock by both that name and by the name of "Armstrong."

Says Toney, Caple Went Back

Belcher said that Toney and Caple walked from the front door, where all five men entered together, to the back of the room when they came in. He said he had instructed them not to say that they were acting as officers.

Heyser interrupted to ask if Toney wore a scabboard.

Belcher said he didn't, but that his gun was stuck in his belt.

Q. "How many shots were fired?

A. "I believe there were two, then three and finally one."

The defense came back to the front room and Hancock again.

Q. "You said only one man was in the front room when you all entered?

A. "Yes, we searched him and Hancock took a gun from him."

Asked If Joe Go $40

Q. "Did you know that Joe took $40 off of that man."

Belcher indicated that he knew nothing of that but the court overruled the answer.

Q. "I believe you stated that you fired your gun?

A. "No, sir."

Lost Sight of Hancock.

Belcher, too, couldn't account for where Hancock was just after the shooting began.

Q. "When was the first time after the shooting began that you saw Hancock?

A. "When we forced the men back into the hall and Hancock searched them.

Q. "You didn't see him anywhere in the interval?

"No, sir.

Wiley Smith on Stand.

Wiley Smith, under indictment on a charge of having operated a gambling house on the night of the raid, was the next state witness. He gave his home as Ranger. He has been around Wichita Falls for several years. A direct question by the state as to what he was doing when the raid took place was overruled on his appeal to Judge Martin in connection with the indictment pending against him.

Smith said he saw Belcher standing in the door. He said that a gun which he had in his own lap, was allowed to drop on the floor before he spoke to Belcher. Smithey said he called across the table to Frank Dodson and said, "there's the law?"

"Where are they?"

Somebody said "Hands Up!"

"Belcher told me to announce him," he testified, "and I raised up and started to tell them. About that time somebody said, 'put 'em up' and 'get your faces to the wall.' Two men whom I had never seen before were in the room. These other fellows said, 'put 'em up.' Then the shooting and scramble began.

"Spiller and Belcher went back through the door in the stampede. Some men put their hands up and went to the wall. Others rushed the front door. A table leading to the window gave an easy mounting place to an exit. I saw several men escape that way.

Snow Was In Rear.

"Snow was at the very back table of the room."

Smithey was called on to do some real life acting. First, he explained and demonstrated to the jury on a drawing how the gambling room looked.

Then he had to imitate just how loud a tone he used in telling Dodson, "there's the law." He said he spoke as low as possible in order not to create any "excitement."

Shouts "It's the Law!"

"But, when the shooting began," he added, "I stood up and shouted over and over as loud as I could:

"It's the law—the law!"

"People on the street outside heard me."

Smithey testified that before the firing began he had time to say nothing but:

"That's Mr. Spiller and Mr. Belcher——"

The "deputy constable" identification, according to his testimony, came after the shots were fired.

He said he could see Doc Snow.

Q. "Did you see him fire the shots?

A. "No. I saw him fire one shot.

Q. "Did you tell Doc Snow, 'don't shoot, it's the law?

A. "I do not know. I saw him shoot once and then gather up some money.

Q. "Did you see him go out the side window?

A. "I do not know that Snow did, but I didn't see him around there any more that night. Several men went out the window.

Q. "Do you know how many shots were fired?

"Three or four, I believe, or maybe five. I saw fire once toward the rear.

He was asked what Snow said. Smithey hesitated and then asked the judge if he should go ahead in the presence of ladies. He used an obscene term as having come from Snow.

The effect of it was, "don't kid me."

The case will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning.

PUT MAIL BOXES ON STREET CARS IN HAMBURG

(By International News Service.)

HAMBURG—Street car mail boxes hasten the collection of Hamburg letters and telegrams. Each street car has a mail box which is emptied once each trip. In this way letters are constantly traveling on their way to the post office from the moment they are placed in the box instead of waiting in a stationary box until the collector arrives.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF PRESENT DAY DRESSES? DR. ELIOT OF HARVARD SAYS, "HOW INDECENT!"

Two modern day frocks, at the left the "indecent" variety, and at the right the usual type found in the shops and in the drawing rooms of most American homes.

Dr. Charles W. Eliot of Harvard says the short skirted, low bodiced evening gowns of today's women are indecent. His remarks have caused a buzz of discussion. Some contend with the professor that modern gowns are vulgar while others assert that the scantier gowns are more healthful, more hygienic and good-looking than the more voluminous ones.

Pictured are two types of frocks worn by modern women. It is safe to say that the backless frock at the left with its very abbreviated skirt will scarcely be worn anywhere save on the stage, while the modest frock at the left and others like it are what one sees everywhere, in theater, restaurant and the home. Isn't the doctor unduly alarmed?

Irish Life Now One of Terror; Inquiry Opens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Eye witness report of disturbances in Ireland, connected with the movement for Irish independence were given today at the opening hearings of the commission of the committee of 100 investigating the Irish question.

Four witnesses, including Dennis Morgan, chairman of the town council of Thurles, Ireland, and three Americans who visited Ireland recently John F. Martin, of Greenbay, Wis., and two clergben, Father Marcel English of Whitehall, Mont., and Father James H. Cotter of Ironton, Ohio were heard by the committee.

Mr. Morgan said his home was riddled with bullets prior to his arrest and deportation to England, without any definite charges being preferred against him. With 200 other Irish republican leaders, he said he went on a hunger strike until they were released. He also told of "murders" of Irish citizens by constabulary and soldiers including the "black and tan" forces.

Stole Priests Papers.

Father English asserted that British soldiers had confiscated his papers. The military authorities derided his protest that he was an American citizen, he said, and he told of having witnessed the shooting of an Irishman, whose body, he said, was beaten into unrecognizable form.

Father Cotter, a catholic editor, told of the killing of a Galway civilian by a british soldier without cause, he said. The soldier, he said, was seized by another civilian and reprisals against the town followed an hour later. Soldiers shot up the streets "for several hours" he said. The aged priest added that he lay for an hour and a half under a window ledge of his hotel to escape the flying bullett. The military, he added, later set fire to two houses and fired into a Galway newspaper plant whose management was friendly to the republican movement.

Father Cotter and Mr. Martin, a Knights' of Columbus official, stated that sentiment in Ireland as they found it, was virtually unanimous for independence.

All For Republic

"Sympathies of every one I met, catholic and protestant, were for the republicans," said Father Cotter. The belief that religious prejudices or differences were involved in Ireland was unfounded, he added.

All witnesses said the civil court procedure was suspended in Ireland, coroner's inquests prohibited by the British government and that the only authority exercised, except for that of the British military forces, was that of the Irish republicans.

About 600 soldiers and 400 police are stationed constantly in Limerick, the Rev. Father English told the committee. Military raids through Penniswill, a Limerick district, were so frequent, he said, that it had been named the "Penniwill sector." He told of a fire started either by hand grenades or incendiaries, which damaged 200 houses in the Pennlwill district, and said he saw many marks of bullets and bombs.

Fired on Mayor's Sister

Father Cotter said he spent eight weeks in Ireland last summer visiting Cork, Galway, Queenstown and many smaller towns. In Cork, he said, a sister of Terence Macswiney, the late lord mayor, showed him a dum-dum bullet which had been fired at her but missed.

"Nights in Cork are made hideous with the shots of the military," said Father Cotter.

He and Father English told also of seeing intoxicated soldiers firing their arms in the streets.

In opening the hearing Chairman Howe said the committee was to conduct an "impartial inquiry" into all the facts both from Irish and English sources, and later send a committee to Ireland for further inquiry.

The teacher's last question was meant to be a scientific power.

"What is it that pervades all space," she said, "which no wall or door or other substance can shut out?"

"The smell of onions, miss," promptly answered the boy in the front seat.

Judging by the damage done, the rocks they throw, anyhow in Ireland are not sham.—Topeka Daily Capital.

Farmers' Union Head Urges All To Spurn Market

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 18.—An appeal to all farmers, whether members of the National Farmers' union or not, to uphold the policies adopted by the annual national convention which adjourned here today, was issued at the close of the convention by Charles S. Barrett, president of the union.

Specifically, the farmers were asked to support the movement for withholding farm products from the market until prices were again at a profit-paying level.

"Unless this movement is broadly supported," President Barrett said, "it will have no effect—it is in the interest of farmers everywhere and should receive their active support."

Hughes Defends Direct Primary

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 18.—Charles Evans Hughes advocated retention of the direct primary system in making party nominations for offices in states and lesser political units, in an address here tonight before delegations to the convention of the National Municipal league, of which he is president.

Speaking on "the fate of the direct primary," Mr. Hughes declared it was "the complement of the short ballot" and that it would be a mistake to throw over the system in favor of a return to the old convention system or its predecessor, the party caucus. He made plain his remarks could apply only to political systems under state jurisdiction, it not being possible, under the constitution, to provide for direct presidential primaries.

He said the primary system could be made an effective barometer of the parties when primary laws provided for strict enrollment of voters, thus insuring that nomination be strictly along party lines and within the ideals of the members of the parties in question.

Oil Institute Sees Enough to Last for Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An oil production sufficient to supply the world for several generations at least was forecasted today at the annual meeting here of the American Petroleum Institute.

Henry L. Doherty of New York, Thomas O'Donell of Los Angeles, professor of the institute, and R. D. Benson, president of the Tidewater Oil company, declared that the petroleum resources of the world were nowhere near exhaustion.

Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Dougherty both declared that the government regulation of the petroleum industry was likely to jeopardize the world's future oil supply by discouraging development of new fields.

Mr. Doherty predicted there would be sufficient gasoline for all automobile requirements for generations to come. He said scientists undoubtedly would find a new fuel extract, but the probability of finding an artificial substitute for petroleum was remote.

The immense capital needed for development of new oil fields precludes the possibility of the petroleum industry becoming a monopoly, the speaker said. More money, he continued, is being spent in the production of oil than is earned by producing properties. Between 1912 and 1919, the amount of capital invested in 250 American oil companies, the speaker said, exceeded the dividends paid by these companies by nearly nine hundred million.

STUDENTS IMITATED BIRDS IN TREE TOPS

International News Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Eight students at Ohio State university were up a tree.

This is a truism that is literal, rather than figurative.

This octette of red-blooded young chaps were being initiated into a fraternity.

Part of the initiation ceremony called for action in climbing to the top of the tallest trees they could find in the vicinity of the university campus, whose lowest limbs were sufficiently high to protect them from easy attack from the ground.

Taking their positions in the trees, the students were under orders to sing, all at the same time, but each man was to carry a different tune. The "sing" was to last from 7 p. m., until the birds started their music at dawn next morning.

The trees thus utilized were on the lawn of Common Pleas Judge E. H. Kinkhead. An hour of the bedlam was all the judge could stand. He called the police. It was about 10 a. m., however before a couple of tall patrolmen, unable to reach the young men, were reinforced by a patrol wagon load of policemen.

It was not until the officers threatened to call the fire department and turn the hose on them that the students got down off their perches.

All the way to police headquarters the students kept up their outlandish vocalising. But justice was tempered with mercy and they were let off with a reprimand.

Having no money they had to walk to the fraternity house, miles away.

GREEKS CHEER FOR RETURN OF CONSTANTINE

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—Athens turned out to celebrate this afternoon, the first natural expression shown here in many weeks, if not months. The crowds organized a parade in University street, marched past the tomb of the fallen Venizelos, swept on through Stede street into Constitution square to the king's palace, thence to the Stadium and back again, overflowing into the side streets.

The crowds were good natured, and made up of soldiers and young men and women. They were afoot, in carriages and automobiles, all carrying paintings or photographs of former King Constantine, and also of the former German Emperor.

The falling darkness brought carousing and disorders which were added to by soldiers.

Foreigners express the opinion that greater Greece is dead by her own hand, and reduced to a second rate power.

The Venizelos cabinet is packing up and hurrying to leave the mainland and retire to the provinces, although there and in palaces like Corfu and Saloniki the Royalists have already forcibly taken charge of the affairs.

Officer Dies With Miner in Clash

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 18.—A state trooper and a miner were killed tonight in a gun fight in the Mingo county coal strike region, according to a report given out here by the state department of public safety.

Col. Jackson Arnold, commander of the state police, who issued the report, said his advices were to the effect that Ernest L. Ripley of Huntington, a trooper, is the dead man. He added that the other slain was a union leader named Halfcid.

State troopers were sent into the strike zone several weeks ago to relieve United States soldiers who were withdrawn. The federal troops were called into the region by Governor John J. Cornwell, after numerous shooting affrays and disorders had occurred. While the army were in the field, the situation was quiet, but since they departed a number of attacks, directed upon coal properties, have occurred.

Five small children survive the mother.

The remains are being held at the parlors of the Hines Undertaking company, pending the word from relatives living in Arkansas. Mr. Gray is employed by the Magnolia Oil company in Burkburnett oil fields.

MOTOR FIRE LOSS RUNS TO $150,000

DALLAS, Nov. 18.—Fire this afternoon at the plant of the Lamberth Motor company caused a damage of $150,000. The plant, which is located on the corner of Main and Western avenue is in the center of the industrial district.

Eight men were employed when the fire started, due to the explosion of a paint oven. The loss of the plant, which is valued at $500,000, is fully covered by insurance.

WORR WOMEN'S CLOTHES MERELY FOR A LARK

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—Masquerading in women's garb, Joseph Strauser, age 35, stationary engineer, was arrested.

After alienists subjected him to a careful examination in probate court, Strauser was dismissed, the physicians stating he is sane.

They explained that his "out-of-the-ordinary idea of having fun" was responsible for his donning of female attire.

Strauser said he was "simply having a lark."

Stating that he and his wife, for some time, exchanged clothes, he identified a picture depicting him in women's clothing and his wife in a man's garments.

He admitted, also, signing Mrs. Joseph Strauser" to an unmailed letter he wrote to a Philadelphia beauty specialist in which he said he was "horribly disfigured" by a hairy growth in his face which necessitated daily shaving and asking for a remedy for the defect.

MICHIGAN IS SOAKING "WET."

International News Staff Correspondent.

LANSING, Mich.—Michigan is "wetter" now than it has been at any time since prohibition went into effect, says Fred L. Woodworth, commissioner of the state food and drug department, charged with the enforcement of the dry law for the state.

The condition of which Woodworth complains is due, he says, to a direct leak from the bonded warehouses to bootleggers. This leak, he says, has been very pronounced in recent weeks and its effect marked in large cities.

HARRY PILCER ENTERTAINS PARIS WITH NEW DANCE PARTNER, GABY'S SUCCESSOR

Harry Pilcer, famous for his dancing, and perhaps more famed as the dancing partner of the late Gaby Deslys, is appearing now on the Parisian stage at the Casino de Paris with Mlle Dherlhys, in the Revue, "Paris qui jazz," which is very much like our popular girl and music revues. Pilcer is known by many of the American soldiers and nurses who were in France, for both he and Gaby entertained them often by dancing and by inviting them to luncheons and dinners at Gaby's villa, which she later turned into a hospital.

FRENCH SOUPS

Delicious soups are a feature of French "cuisine." Most noted chefs have their own particular "potage," and many of the housewives are famous for their appetizing broths that can be obtained nowhere else with exactly the same flavor.

There are two kinds of "potages" in French cooking—"potage gras" and "potage maigre."

All potages gras are made from the bouillon or liquor of the "potau-feu" literally the "pot on the fire," meaning a dish always on hand and ready to serve. This is the national French soup—and must be made in an earthernware pan with a lid which is specially sold for the purpose.

All potages maigres are made with water and butter and various vegetables. The majority of Americans think that soup can be good only when made with meat stock—which is a mistake, for all soupes maigres are excellent if properly cooked.

Pot-au-Feu—Four pounds brisket of beef, one small head cabbage, two leeks, one large onion, two medium sized carrots, two sprigs of parsley, small piece of bay leaf and thyme, four cloves, twelve peppercorns, one tablespoon salt, six quarts cold water and one-half pound French bread.

Put meat in large kettle, add water and heat slowly to boiling point. Wash and clean vegetbles. Stick cloves in the onion, tie the cabbage and leeks together and add all to the meat. Cut carrots in pieces and add with the other seasonings. Cover and let simmer slowly for four hours.

Just before serving, cut the bread in small pieces, place in a hot tureen, add some of the vegetables cut in pieces. Remove meat from pot, season both to taste and strain into the tureen. Sprinkle parsley on top and serve. The meat and rest of the vegetables may be served as a separate course.

Potage Maigre—Leeks and potatoes are the foundation of this potato maigre. Peel and quarter six or eight large potatoes, chop finely five or six leeks, put them into a quart and a half of water with salt and pepper; boil for two hours; stir in a lump of butter and serve with small slices of bread. This soup may be passed through a colander before the butter is added, if desired.

FRENCH SALADS

Celery en Salade—Cut two fine heads of celery into thin strips about three inches long. Mix with chopped parsely and serve with French dressing.

Carrot Salad—Grate raw carrot on lettuce leaves, adding a little finely cut onion or chives; moisten with French dressing and sprinkle with paprika.

Cabbage and Peanut Salad—Shred the cabbage very fine and measure out two cups; cover with cold water and set in refrigerator for one hour. Drain and dry thoroughly between towels. Mix with one-half cup of boiled salad dressing or mayonnaise. Add one-half cup salted peanuts chopped and serve very cold.

TWO MEN SHOT; FINED $100 FOR 'TOTING' PISTOL

F. D. Conway, who was arrested Wednesday by the police in connection with the reported accidental shooting of A. B. Brown, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying a pistol before Judge Guy Rogers Thursday in county court-at law and was fined $100 and court costs. No other charge was made.

According to the story told by Brown to the police Wednesday night, he was standing in front of a restaurant on Mill street with two companions when several shots were fired in their direction by a man who had just left the restaurant.

One bullet passed through Brown's leg, causing a painful, but not serious wound, and another went through a part of H. G. Stewart's clothing, one of Brown's companions.

It was reported that the assailant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Two other suspects who were arrested a few hours after the shooting and were being held for investigation, had not been released at a late hour Thursday night.

ROOT AND HARDING

Mr. Root's recently published cablegram, sent to Marion during the campaign for the friendly enlightenment of Senator Harding, shows that that clear-sighted and exceptionally well-informed American was quite convinced that America could not possibly stay out of the League nor could she hope to reassemble the nations for the making of a new treaty.

In my opinion, he cabled, a new deal here from the beginning by abandoning the Versailles treaty is impossible. To attempt it would bring chaos and an entire loss or results of the war and geueral disaster involving the United States. The only possible course is to keep the treaty modifying it to meet the requirements of the Senate reservations and the Chicago platform and probably in some other respects.

Le Temps also dwells upon the absolute necessity of keeping the League in being. "Without the League of Nations," it demands, "how could the Versailles Treaty be executed?" There is the control of the Sarre, the fate of the German colonies, "the verification of the disarmanent of Germany after the Inter-allied Control Commissions shall have, some day, left German territory." Germany has already agreed to permit "all investigations that the Council of the League, voting by majority, may judge necessary." Is it certain that she would now grant similiar powers to a new body?

These are practical questions to be considered. America is a practical nation, and will perfectly appreciate the desire of Europe and of every American with intimate knowledge of the situation that nothing shall be lost to our Allies and ourselves in making the admittedly necessary rearrangements to meet American objections to the "Wilson Covenant." The leading powers in Europe are entirely willing that America shall absolutely fix her own terms for joining the League. There is every indication that they will stand out for nothing. But they will be amazed if they ultimately find that the notoriously practical American people are so hypnotized by the stubborn and ignorant prejudices of a small section of our politicians that they will insist on blowing up the whole elaborate edifice of the treaty, blasting out its foundations and releasing a far more dangerous Germany into the bargain, in order to correct a bit of carving in the cornice or even one of the pillars that sustain the roof.

The Root cablegram, projected into the fevers of a Presidential campaign with the perspicacity and pluck which mark its author out as a man possessing courage and leadership, shows again how admirably he is fitted to represent this nation in the delicate and yet vitally important task of amending the League Covenant to suit the final American judgment in the matter. He sized up European opinion precisely as it has since developed. He saw beforehand the attitude of the Governments of Great Britain and France. And he indicated with the unmistakable clarity of a searchlight mind just how we could best keep what was valuable and, indeed, indispensable in the treaty, and yet at the time secure for America the changes she felt to be essential.

This is obviously the man who should be pitted against the diplomats of London, Paris, Rome, Tokio and possibly Berlin in the supremely trying task that is coming, the making over of the League Covenant to enable us to enter the Temple of Peace with comfort, with the full freedom we covet and with the satisfying sense that we can do our duty by the modern world without betraying the splendid traditions of the fathers.—Philadelphia Public Ledger. Editorial Digest

When the people of California expressed their approval of the law which prevents land-holding by aliens in that state, despite the fact that this law has been the subject of protest from the Japanese government, the American press as a whole failed to detect war-signs in the west. Negotiations, discretion and compromise it is generally felt, will settle the trouble without offense to Japan or infringement of state rights. Whether or not the California law is constitutional must first be established by our courts.

This fact the reasonable Japanese recognize, in the opinion of the Newark News (Ind.) and the tranquillity following this last step to cut down the privileges of Asiatics in California, compared to the fuss over the Webb act, a milder form of similar legislation, proves to the News that there is no cause for worry ahead. The Pittsburgh Gazette Times (republican) considers it "unbelievable" that any of our state laws should be annulled and sees no danger except "ruffling the pride of the Nipponese." Says the Chattanooga News, (democrat.):

"There are features in the far east situation which involves possibilities of future trouble, but the California immigration question is a comparatively simple one."

The News further suggests that Japan's protests on this subject are merely hopeful attempts to secure concessions in other matters. The Brooklyn Eagle, (Ind. democrat) remarks on the fact that "it is significant that the actual passage of legislation in California has caused less trouble than the pre-election controversy. The Rocky Mountain News (Ind.) says:

"It may be said with some confidence that Japan will not prove unreasonable in such negotiations as may be necessary. Even were it her desire to make the issue an occasion for trouble the conditions are such that she would not no wfind it wise to follow that impulse. She is in no position to afford a war with the United States, nod could she borrow the money which would be required for an undertaking so costly and so hazardous."

The protest, the Wichita Eagle (Ind.) believes, is only a sop to Japanese public opinion as it is probably clearly realized that "the United States government is absolutely powerless to use coercion upon the state of California even if it were minded to do so." The situation is anomalous, it continues, for though the United States cannot give orders to California it would be the United States that would have to go to war if California caused the trouble. However, "the possibilities of war on account of this are exceedingly remote. The Japs will make their protest and in a few years it will be assigned to oblivion."

The Toledo Blade (Ind. republican), while it admits that the California demand "may contain the elements of injustice," thinks that if she becomes too insistent we may have "to inform Japan bluntly that she is meddling."

A few writers feel that it will come to threats. The St. Louis Star, (Ind.), sees the ground for California's attitude and believes that:

"The remedy lies in a new treaty, completely covering all points in disagreement and based upon the proposition that because of racial dissimilarity, not racial inferiority, there shall be no Japanese immigration into American territory. If California, in return for such a guarantee will not grant equal rights for Japanese lawfully resident in that state the United States should assert its paramount interest and compel equal treatment."

The Fresno Republican (Ind.) says that the Californians have "voted their feeling of antagonism" and they know that now "the question is largely up to congress," and the Sacramento Union (Ind.) that unless Washington acts favorably, "Californians, seeing their homes going and their own state being Japanized will be desperate and what may come from desperation when it reaches a certain pitch, no man can foresee." The Lynchburg News (democratic) explains that most of the country with the exception of the south, cannot hope to understand the problem of race friction resultant from "natural laws" which statesmanship cannot alter or overcome. Therefore:

"It is not so much a question as to how far California is mortally justified in her anti-Japanese policy, as it is, in what measure the friction growing out of race prejudice in that state can be relieved by a sensible policy of mutual conciliation and concession."

One paper that is unwilling to take for granted that California is in a position to demand the rewriting of treaties is the Springfield (Mass.) Union, (republican), which considers the legal angle carefully. It cities the fourteenth amendment of the constitution to the effect that no state can enact laws which "deprive any person of life liberty or property without due process of law * *" commenting that "'any person' might mean a Japanese producer of land in California." The precedents are not clear. If California were sustained, it concludes, a test case on the ground of self-protection, the matter would be quite out of the realm of federal treaty action. The St. Louis Post Dispatch (Ind.), thinks that unless the latter course is followed, there will be "some very determined opposition" to what it feels is infringment on state's rights. The Detrot Free Press (Ind.) however, passes over this phase of the discussion by saying "if the California enactments happen to be unconstitutional, they will fail whether the nation at large approves of them or not."

On the Spur of the Moment

THE WEDDING OF THE FUTURE

Society attended last evening the marriage of Clarence Reginald Pooch, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Witherspoon Pooch, and a popular debutante, to Miss Angela J. Caldwallader. It was a union to which society had looked forward for some time. Miss Cleopatra Handswich was the best woman, and the groomsman was Percy Frothingham Winsted, a seminary friend of the bridegroom. The flower boys were little Claude and Harold Pooch, nephews of the bridegroom. The bridegroom was attired in a simple going-away suit of Nile green, trimmed with sable, while the bride wore the conventional black. He was very beautiful and, in fact, one of the most charming bridegrooms of the current social season.

Amid a shower of rice the newly married pair left for the station for an extended honeymoon trip through the west. The bride has prepared a pretty home for the bridegroom on One Hundred and Steenth street. They will be at home to friends there after December 1. The bride is one of our most prominent young business women, and the bridegroom has long been regarded as one of our most charming young men.

A London society woman says: "The modern dance is bracing." Ah, er, do you not mean embracing?

LITHUANIA AS A ROUTE TO RUSSIA

NEW YORK.—"Lithuania must be the bond between Germany and Russia. From the moment the Germans wish to begin trade relations with Russia we shall not only raise no objections but shall facilitate communications through Lithuania." Foreign Minister von Puryckis of Lithuania is the sponsor of that statement, having made it in an interview granted the Konisberg Allegemeine Zeitung shortly before his return from Germany where he served as the Lithuanian Minister.

Other interesting denuls regarding the "historic friendship" of Germany and Lituhania are brought out in the Minister's statements. In Poland the conciliatory attitude toward both Soviet Russia and Imperial Germany which has been officially taken by he Lithuanians is regarded as a matter of the greatest importance to Poland's security, and is in itself held to be sufficient justification for the demand that Lithuania be cut off from direct contact with Russia by a Polish corridor.

Have Many Interests in Common

"The Germans and Lithuanians have many interests in common," continued the Foreign Minister. "The youth of Lithuania is hospitably received in German universities, and returns from Germany with a heart full of love for German culture. When the Lithuanian University can be enlarged we shall call for German professors and scholars, for Lithuanians are convinced of the extraordinary value of German scholarship.

"The friendship of Lithuania for Germany is highly irritating to the Allied powers. France desires that Lithuania cut off all relations with Germany and not allow Germany to communicate through her with the East. I do not think, however, that any forcible separation of Lithuania from either Russia or Germany can be made permanent, as the English are decidedly opposed to such action."

It is as a connecting link between Germany and Russia that Lithuania offers a danger to Poland.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Clothing prices now are on a stable basis, according to a statement issued tonight by the board of directors of the National Association of Retail Clothiers.

"Readjustment of prices has well run its course," said the statement. "Without taking into consideration costs or material values, the retail merchant has passed to the consumer price concessions that would have been delayed several months if the ordinary processes of trade trend were followed.

"With continued public confidence and favorable weather conditions, clothing stocks in the main will be well liquidated by the end of the season. The future of the industry is much brighter than at any time during the readjustment period."

The doctor angrily pulled him forward until his nose almost touched the placard.

"Well, can you read it now?"

"No, sir" said the old man sadly, shaking his head. "You see, sir, I never learned to read."

FIND BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN CITY IMPROVED

Local industrial conditions have made a decided improvement during the last two weeks, according to G. B. Raymond, manager of the Open Shop association and in charge of the employment bureau of the association. Mr. Raymond reports that more calls for men have been made during the last two weeks than for any corresponding period in the last several months.

During the first four days of this week the employment bureau, which has moved to the new Chamber of Commerce quarters at 806 Scott street has obtained work for 45 people. Thursday in addition to securing employment for 12 men Mr. Raymond secured contract jobs for five contractors in the city. One of the contracts in the building trades was one of the largest of its kind that has been let in the city for several months.

All contracts that were made call for open shop conditions, Mr. Raymond stated. There were calls Thursday night for plumbers, plasterers, pastry cooks and other kinds of employment that the employment bureau was unable to fill.

Many of the calls for work are from people recently arriving in the city, according to Mr. Raymond, who says that practically all permanent residents of the city are employed. The lack of employment in the industrial centers of the east and north where thousands of men are being discharged weekly accounts in part for the arrival of newcomers in this city.

"I believe this city now has the opportunity to get a large number of high class workmen for its permanent industries," Mr. Raymond said Thursday in commenting on the general employment situation throughout the United States. "High grade men in all lines are coming here seeking employment due to the shut-down of many manufacturing establishments in the east and north and we can get these newcomers as permanent residents if the industries will absorb them at this time."

"As I see it the conditions existing here differ from those in other cities where a slacking up with resulting unemployment was necessary for various reasons," Mr. Raymond continued. "There is no need of slacking up here and the industries should expand and take advantage of this exceptional opportunity to sign up the high-grade employes who will be real city-builders of the future."

C. W. REID TO HELP IN COTTON PROBLEM

C. W. Reid, vice-president of the City National Bank of Commerce will represent his bank at an important meeting of bankers in Dallas in connection with the organization of the Southern Cotton Export Finance Corporation, the object of which is to arrange a plan for handling distressed cotton and relieve conditions by arranging for its marketing in European countries. The large banks of the state are sending representatives to help solve the problem.

MRS. ELLA LEFTWICK, another Kansas City woman whose remarkable restoration by Tanlac has astonished her neighbors, many of whom have begun taking the Master Medicine. They all agree with me that it is the grandest medicine on earth," says Mrs. Leftwick.

"A number of my friends, after seeing the wonderful good Tanlac did me, began taking the medicine, and now they all agree with me that it is the grandest medicine on earth, said Mrs. Ella Leftwick, 722 Pile St. Kansas City, Kan.

"Tanlac completely restored my health," he said, "and just seemed to give me a new lease on life. If I could talk personally with every woman suffering as I did, I would urge them to take this medicine.

"For the first time in three years I am able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals every day and not suffer in the least with indigestion afterwards. I am never troubled now with the awful smothering spells that used to frighten me so much and the dreadful headaches that came upon me every day have been entirely broken up.

"I was extremely nervous and couldn't sleep well, now my nerves are in splendid shape, and I sleep like a child every night. My strength has been so wonderfully increased that I can now do all the housework in my eight-room house and attend to the children besides. I feel just splendidly all the time now. Tanlac is certainly worth its weight in gold."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by all druggists.

Stamford Mayor Gets no Salary And Pays to Aid

R. L. Penick, mayor of Stamford, probably wants the job more than any mayor who has visited these parts—and he wants it for none but the highest plane of reasons. That much the Wichita Falls Rotary club was convinced Thursday When Mr. Penick, who came here to ask the aid of Wichitans in organization of Rotary at Stamford, let it be known that he not only gets no pay for being mayor, but that he pays all the expenses of the office.

Mr. Penick has been devoting half of his time for 20 years to public work.

Mayor Cline made a hasty speech of welcome to Mayor Penick. J. Willis Stovall and other Stamford visitors before he hurried off to catch a train. President I. H. Roberts spoke of the real meaning of Rotary. Albert Myles developed this theme at length.

Rotarians assured the visitors that a Rotary club would be of great benefit to Stamford.

Among the ex-presidents and ex-secretaries of the club who attended the luncheon Thursday are, George Keith, T. B. Smock, Dr. Charles R. Hartsoock, J. M. McFall, Dr. Q. B. Lee, J. Wilkie Talbert and John Arnold

Miss Ruth Nolen entertained the club with a reading, entitled, "A Pleasant Half Hour at the Seashore."

In reviewing the activities of the Rotary club J. H. Roberts pointed out as one of the educational achievements of the local organization the fact that it is paying the expense of a young Wichita Falls woman through college. He said the club has built a playground here and has recently completed a campaign by which it subscribed $5,000 for work in the interest of needy children.

Kemper's 62-6 triumph over St. Johns Military Academy, Delafield, Wis., Tuesday, readily shows the strength of the Bulldogs this season. St. Johns rated as one of the strongest prep school teams in the Northwest, was taken off it's feet from the first whistle. The Kemper backs smashed the line and skirted the ends for long gains and it was only a matter of time as to how many points the S. M. S. eleven would score before the final whistle. Students at Kemper, proclaim this year's team the best that ever wore the yellow and black, and are confident that on Thanksgiving, Wentworth, bitterest of all rivals, will fall before the onslaughts of Coach Clingenpeel's charges. Two local boys, John Tanered and Earl Shappell are members of the squad and both are starring at left tackle and left half back, respectively.

Tex Rickard, Charles Cochran of London and William A. Brady, co-promoters of the Dempsey-Carpentier championship boxing contest have combined their interests in holding bouts in this country, it was learned recently through the granting of a charter at Albany to the "Dempsey-Carpentier Contest Company."

The three promoters are the only directors of the corporation, which will hold contests under the name of the "American Sporting Club." A. Cochran, it is understood, will look after the European interests of the corporation, in inducing foreign pugilists to come to this country.

John McGraw isn't going to break his neck trying to get Rogers Hornsby to play second base for the 1921 Giants. If he does get the National League's champion hitter from the St. Louis Cardinals he won't pay the price that he offered last year—$200,000, rumor has it.

Asked pointblank recently whether he had given up his effort to get Rogers, the Giants' manager said:

"It isn't our policy to keep driving after a man in a way to break up another owner's ball club. We made a fine offer for Hornsby last year when it looked as though we could win a pennant if we had him, and thus get back some of the money invested. We wouldn't make that offer at the beginning of a season.

"We have signed a number of youngsters, who will be tried out at second base at our training camp next spring. If none comes through in big league style we may have to make some kind of deal."

If Georges Carpentier is defeated by Jack Dempsey, he will retire from the ring and devote his attention to a motor company of which he is director.

Dallas Squad Defeats S. M. U.

DALLAS, Nov. 18.—The brilliant interference running of the Austin College backs, together with the broken field running of Jones and Morehart, completely demoralized the Southern Methodist University eleven in this afternoon's game and Austin emerged from the contest with the big end of 42 to 0 score.

S. M. U. won the scheduled game with the Kangaroos last year by the same score. Kitts, the speedy Mustang, was afforded few chances to make consistent gains because of poor interferences by his mates and the ability of the line to hold Austin College line men.

Time after time the S. M. U. backs were downed behind their line of scrimmage. The first quarter opened with Austin marching down the field for a touchdown. The Mustangs quickly brought the ball to within two feet of their opponent's goal, but the Kangaroos held them for downs and then punted out of danger.

The Mustangs did not threaten again. Five of the S. M. U. men were out of the game with injuries, the mainstays being among them.

CENTRE MAY PLAY ARKANSAS IN 1921

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 18.—Negotiations for a football game next year between Centre College and the University of Arkansas have been opened by the manager of the "Praying Colonels," and if a date mutually agreeable can be decided upon the game will be on the schedules of the two institutions, university authorities stated today. If arranged, the game will be played at Memphis early in the season.

TURKEY SHOOT AT GUN CLUB FRIDAY

The Wichita Gun club will hold a turkey shoot Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A turkey will be awarded to the member making the highest score in the handicap shoot.

Announcement was made Thursday of the annual Thanksgiving shoot which will be held at Houston November 25 and 26. Several members of the local club are planning to take part in the shoot in that city.

WASHBURN, KANSAS CHAMPS

TOPEKA, Kans., Nov. 18.—Washburn College won the Kansas conference football championship today by defeating St. Mary's College at St. Mary's 17 to 7, finishing the season with a record of four conference games won and two tied.

GLASS JAR FACTORY RESUMES OPERATIONS

The factory of Ball Brothers, engaged in the manufacture of glass jars, which has been shut down since the middle of August while repairs to the furnace were in progress, resumed operation Thursday morning. T. B. Smock, general manager of the company, announced that plant is once more running at full capacity with sufficient orders on the books to keep things humming for several months.

CHILD FIRE VICTIM IS CRITICALLY HURT

The condition of John Taggard, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Taggard, 1405 Britton street, who was seriously burned Sunday, remains critical. The child was burned about the shoulders and back early Sunday morning when his clothing caught fire from a gas stove.

The flames were put out by an older brother who was sleeping in the same room. The clothing was entirely burned from the back of the boy before the brother was able to throw a blanket around him to smother the flames.

Infants' rattles are athletic equipment, according to an official decision in Michigan. Why not musical News.

FIND NEW PAY 50 FEET UNDER TEXHOMA LEVEL

A new sand fifty feet deeper than that at which offsetting wells are producing has been struck at the Nos. 20 and 21 wells of the Texas Chief Oil Company in the Texhoma field. The No. 20 well was completed ten days ago at a depth of 1300 feet and is now producing at the rate of 60 barrels a day. The No. 21 test and offset to the No. 20 was drilling in Thursday from a sand struck at the same depth.

Both wells are on the Daniels lease of the Texas Chief Company which has several wells producing from the 1240-1250 feet depth. The Nos. 20 and 21 struck the 1250-foot sand but drilled through. It is now believed by officials of the company that the 1300-foot sand will show a larger production than the shallower depth. Texas Chief lease is 600 feet northeast of the Camp gasser, which came in several weeks ago showing an initial production of 35,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

PUMELY LINKED WITH DERNBERG BY WITNESSES

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Dr. Edward A. Rumely, charged jointly with Norvin R. Lindheim and Walter Kaufman with concealing alleged German ownership of the New York Evening Mail, within less than four months after the outbreak of the European war, requested an interview with Dr. Benard Dernberg, one of Germany's agents in the United States, according to testimony at the trial here today.

Miss Elsa Diner, Dr. Dernberg's private secretary from 1911 to July, 1915, said she had seen letters from Dr. Rumely to Dr. Dernberg and that one of these, dated November 20, 1914, asked for such an interview.

Dr. Dernberg answered the letter and, shortly after, Dr. Rumely called.

"After that," she said, 'Dr. Rumely was a frequent visitor."

Albert L. Cronimeyer, who was traffic manager here for the Hamburg-American lines, from 1891 to the summer of 1917, testified that he attended 12 meetings at Dr. Dernberg's office during 1914, where publicity matters pertaining to expression of the German point of view were discussed.

Cronimeyer said a "daily newsletter" was forwarded to the American line from Dr. Dernburg's office, giving "the truth about conditions in Germany and replying to flasehood which apparently emanated from foreign government sources."

BEATEN, GREEK PREMIER STILL LOVES PEOPLE

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, Nov. 17.—Former premier Venizelos, whose government was overthrown by this week's elections, before leaving Greece issued a statement to the Greek people telling them he was without hard feelings toward them because of their decision. The message read:

"I bear no bitterness on account of your vote, as I believe it would have been difficult for any other nation to have remained under arms two years after the armistice. My friends, I beg you to abide by the principles of the Liberal party and I thank you for your support. I always serve my country first."

Mr. Venizelos' destination is Nice, where his son, Zophocles, is to marry Mlle Zervoudaki, a wealthy young Greek woman. It was considered probable today that Queen Mother Olga would assume the regency.

EXANS CROWD OIL SESSIONS IN WASHINGTON

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Tex were much in evidence as the eral session and group meetings the American Petroleum Institute into session here today. Two of largest hotels in the city, the Wil- and the Washington, were used accommodate the general session the group meetings.

Oil men also overflowed in the Eb-, the Shoreham, The Raleigh and er downtown hotels. Among ans here were Charles W. Atkin- and J. F. Shannon, Fort Worth; C. Smith, G. G. Floeter, N. G. ith and B. F. McDonald, Houston, Charles E. Beggs, Austin.

Increase Is Problem

W. C. Teagle, president of the ndard Oil Company of New Jer- told the convention today that one problem of petroleum is in- ased production and this can be ob- ined only if there is maintained rywhere a free and fair field to with special governmental favor none.

Teagle said the petroleum interests ich are purely American, are not prehensive over the fact that for- n governments and their citizens acquiring new sources of supply t are frankly disturbed by the owed policy of the foreign govern- nts in reserving oil in their posses- ons to their own exclusive purposes.

U. S. Embargo Proper

Unless foreign governments change ir policy the United States will as a matter of self-protection, adopt measures reciprocally to conserve its petroleum resources for its own people. He said, however, he hoped no such measure will be necessary. Teagle said that the per capita consumption of oil in the United States is 220 gallons yearly.

He said in the United States during the next year, there would be consumed 445,000,000 barrels of our own production and an additional 120,000,000 barrels from Mexico.

Frederick G. Kellogg expressed the hope that when Obregon took office he would end the confiscatory Carranza oil law. Kellogg said that when de la Huerta took office, high hopes had been held that he would aid the oil industry but that he has proved a disappointment.

The Broadway grocery store, in Scotland addition, was the first to be broken into. Entrance was obtained through a rear door. Two dollars in cash and a quantity of cakes, candy, tobacco and fruit were taken.

A quantity of bananas and other "eats" was the total loss of the Parker store, just north of the Wichita river bridge, which wag the second store entered.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury! Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

ANNOUNCING THE FIRST SHOWING OF THE NEW—

Single Six Packard Touring Car

NOW ON DISPLAY AT OUR SHOW ROOMS

We have recently received our first shipment of new SINGLE SIX PACKARDS, including both Sedan and Touring car types.

The improvement of the SINGLE SIX over the present-day motor car is not founded on clever, unmeaning innovation in design, but rather on a thorough knowledge of staple developments. Economic motor car manufacturing is possible only when there is a nicety of balance between the visionary and the practical.

You will find in the SINGLE SIX PACKARD the combined effort of the Packard organization, which for over a quarter of a century has been responsible for the high quality which public opinion has placed upon all Packard products in the development of methods and processes beyond the reach and the necessity of the average manufacturer.

We have for immediate delivery these cars, which will please the most exacting member of the family, and at a price which seems unreasonably low.

EASY MONEY NO STAY TO STOCKS LOWER COURSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Liquidation of securities on the stock exchange made further perceptible progress today, the reaction being again accompanied by unsettlement in various branches of commerce and industry and additional confusion in the leading commodity markets.

Today's losses were sustained in the fact of the easiest money conditions known for many weeks. Call loans opened at 7 percent and relaxed to 6 percent during the mid-session while time funds were more freely offered than at any period since the early autumn. One of the significant developments of the day was the passing of the quarterly dividend on the common shares of American International. That stock suffered an extreme loss of 11 points.

United States steel made a new low record for three years at 80 3-4 and lost only 1 point in the day.

Heavy trading in bonds, including Liberty issues and Internationals, was attended by variable but moderate declines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Raw sugar was weaker and prices declined into new low ground for the season, closing easy at 5 1-4 cents for Cubas cost and freight.

Weakness in the spot market led to another downward revision in refined with practically all refiners lowering quotations to the basis of 9.50 for fine granulated, the lowest price touched this season. Sugar futures at one time showed declines of 20 to 30 points for active positions. Near the close there was a slight rally on covering and buying by Wall Street houses with final quotations of 18 to 25 points net lower.

WALKER PICKS UP 1800-FOOT SAND IN WELL

The Walker Consolidated Petroleum Company has picked up the 1800-foot Kemp, Munger, Allen sand in its No. 2 Ferguson, in block 22, according to information received from the local office of the company. The test is now being standardized to drill in and test this sand.

This is the second test in the Kemp, Munger, Allen district to get this 1800-foot sand, the Kemp, Munger, Allen Oil Company's No. 6 Munger, on the west side of block 30, having picked up this sand two weeks ago, while drilling deeper from the 1700-foot sand, regular K. M. A. depth which produced only salt water. The K. M. A. well made about 50 barrels daily with the bottom uncased, and is now setting a packer to cut off the water sand. The wall packer set first failed to hold, according to Thursday reports from the field, and a canvas packer is now being set, so that this sand may be given a proper test.

The Walker Consolidated has a producer from the regular K. M. A. sand depth in block 22, but the No. 2 showed up only a small amount of oil at this depth, hence the decision to drill deeper. The news of this second strike of this 1800-foot sand is of much interest, and if the tests pan out as expected, the new sand will prove of great importance in further developments of the field. The two wells now on the deeper sand are several thousand feet apart.

PREACHERS SORRY FOR JAPS ON COAST

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 18.—A resolution of sympathy for the Japanese in California because of the feeling manifested toward them in the recent adoption of the alien law by that state was adopted in today's session of the 47th annual meeting of the American Missionary Association.

The resolution was proposed by the Rev. Dr. George L. Caddy of New York and declared the Japanese were victims of "Un-Christian propaganda."

The meeting pledged co-operation to bring about harmony between the two factions in that state and to right what it professes to believe a wrong.

CHICAGO PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Butter unchanged. Eggs, higher; receipts 603 cases; firsts, 70@71c; ordinary firsts 59@63c. Poultry, alive, lower; springs, 22c; turkeys, 40c.

YOUNG COUNTY PRODUCER TOPS LIST OF WELLS

Young county's newest producer, the Oklahoma Petroleum & Gasoline Co.'s thousand barrel well brought in last week, ranks as the feature well of the Wichita Falls district for the week, and the largest well ever completed in Young county, also one of the largest completed in the district in many months. The new Young county well, as previously reported made a 600-barrel flow in less than 15 hours last Saturday, from the sand at 2,100 feet.

It is just a short distance north of the Brazos river from the Panhandle's McCluskey well, until this new well's completion, the largest in the Young county South Bend pool. The Panhandle sand is 2,540 feet. The No. 2 was reported in a sand last week at the opproximate death of the Oklahoma Petroleum & Gasoline Co.'s strike, but the report added that this sand would probably be passed up.

Occidental Second Well In.

The Occidental Oil company's No. 2 Munger constitutes the only Kemp-Munger-Allen pool completion reported in several days, this new well making from 50 to 60 barrels. The Occidental wells and the No. 1 of the Cline Oil company offsetting the Occidental lease, form the northeast corner of the pool in block 30, at present outlined.

Texhoma Pool Completions.

The No. 8 Roller of Emerich, Underwood & Danciger, is reported the best well of the week in the Texhoma pool, this well making 100 barrels. The No. 22 Willis of the Monarch Oil & Refining Co., and the No. 8 Beach of the O'Dell Oil company are reported 60-barrel wells. The E. M. F. Oil company's No. 6 Roller is reported an 85-barrel well and the Hobbs Oil company No. 20 Daniel and the Quanah Oil company No. 6 Roller are reported 50-barrel wells. The Pioneer Production company's No. 9 Roller is reported a 75-barrel well.

The Danciger test on the P. M. Myers failed to get the 1,300 foot production sand, it is reported, and will probably be abandoned without going any deeper. This is to the northeast of the Texhoma pool.

The Chisco Oil company's No. 1 Beach, which was originally reported as about a million foot gasser, is undersood to be failing to show up as a commercial producer.

Three Electra Completions.

The Gulf Production company's No. 3 Collett, the Planet Petroleum company's No. 6 Burnett, and the Lucky Thirteen Oil company's No. 2 Cato are three new wells reported in the Electra district. The Gulf well is a 125-barrel producer, from the 1,440 foot sand. The Planet Petroleum is an unusually good well, 150 barrels, from the 940 foot sand, and the Lucky Thirteen well is rated good for 25 barrels, sand at 850 feet.

DODSON RELEASED IN BAIL OF $2500

Frank Dodson, who was recently convicted on a charge of operating a gaming house and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, but who was allowed supersedeas bail pending appeal of the case, Thursday perfected bond of $2,500 for his release to await hearing of a charge of perjury contained in an indictment returned by the special grand jury.

The charge followed the filing of a complaint by County Attorney John Davenport in connection with Dodson's testimony in the trial of the case of W. F. Faggart, charged with permitting gambling to proceed on his premises.

It is charged that Dodson's statements to the justice of the peace the morning after his arrest at Kemp City conflicted with the testimony which he offered in the trial of Faggart.

WHEAT DROPS TO BOTTOM IN DAY OF SALES

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Wheat reached new bottom figures for the period which has followed the end of government control and the resumption of future delivery trading. Liquidation sales of corn and oats acted as a factor. Wheat finished 3 to 3½ cents lower with December $1.80½ to $1.80 3-4 and March $1.69½ to $1.69 3-4; corn lost ½c to 2 cents and oats ½c to1 cent. In provisions the outcome varied from 30 cents decline to 20 cents advance.

Wheat showed considerable rallying power until corn and oats began in earnest to give way to general selling that later forced both feedstuffs to the lowest prices yet this season.

In the corn market the weight of general commission houses selling was added to by a leading trader who has been on the bear side of late. Oats followed closely the action of corn.

Property Act Is Sole Bar to Mex. O. K., Fall Asserts

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 18.—Article 27 of the Mexican constitution is the only obstacle in the way of establishing and continuing the most friendly relations between the United States and Mexico; according to Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who passed through San Antonio today enroute to his home after a conference with President-elect Harding at Brownsville.
Senator Fall said that he was called to confer with Senator Harding on the Mexican situation and to discuss with him the matter of recognizing the Obregon regime soon after Senator Harding is inaugurated. Mr. Fall was chairman of the senate subcommittee of the foreign relations committee of the United States which conducted an investigation of Mexican conditions early in the year.
Mr. Fall said that he had recommended to Mr. Harding that the republican administration recognize the Obregon government, but he did not make clear whether or not Mr. Harding will insist upon an amendment or annulment of Article 27, as a prerequisite to recognition.

Store Robbed of $2000 of Furs

Discovery of a theft of about $2,000 in furs from the stock of La Petite Maison, 702 Indiana street, was made early Thursday morning when the store was opened for the day. The police were at once notified, but until a late hour Thursday night no arrests had been made and no definite clues established.
One fur, of sealskin valued at $2,500, and another of mink worth $3,000, together with several other high priced neckpieces, which were packed in the same lot with those stolen, were overlooked by the thieves.
Ten furs were taken, eight of which were valued at $75 each, and the other two at approximately $700 each. The failure to take the higher priced furs lead authorities to believe that the work was that of amateurs.
The burglars entered through a side door in an alley behind the building. A saw, hammer, chisel and file, found in the store Thursday morning, are thought to have been used in cutting away a panel. This improvised burglar's kit are the only clues which have been found.

CITY ALONE TO FIX PAVEMENT FROM NOW ON

All repairing of pavement brought about by any cause will be done by the city under the supervision of the city engineer's department in the future according to a statement Thursday by City Engineer Montgomery The previous practice of allowing plumbing contractors, the water works and gas companies and others to repair the streets after they have torn them up to lay pipe will be discontinued.

In many cases the repairs made by private parties have been unsatisfactory and has resulted in a large number of holes in the street pavements which the city has later been compelled to repair. In the future those wishing to tear up pavement will be compelled to secure a permit from the city engineer's department and pay for the repair in advance.

The repair of Tenth street from Lamar avenue to the end of the paving will be completed by the end of the week. The repair of the concrete paving which extends out from Brook street has been completed and the barricades torn down. The repair of the asphalt from Brook to Lamar streets will be completed today and will be ready for traffic next week. Part of the expense of the repair work is being paid by plumbing contractors who had torn up the street and not made repairs satisfactory to the city engineer's department.

Bids for the paving of the fifteen blocks recently authorized by the city council are now being advertised. The bids will be opened on December 6 and if accepted the work will start at once in order to relieve the congested traffic situation on Tenth street.

MIRACLE MAN TOPS CAST AT EMPRESS

Joseph J. Dowling, "the Miracle Man of the Screen" and one of the foremost character actors of today, heads the all-star cast of "The Kentucky Colonel," the newest Hodkinson release, which will be shown at the Empress Theater today and tomorrow.

Mr. Dowling declares that his role of "Colonel Remington Osbury," the gallant old Kentucky Colonel from whom the photoplay takes its name, gives him an even greater opportunity for characterization.

Whether shown as the smiling, kindly old man dispensing hospitality and the never-to-be-forgotten mint juleps from the cool white fastness of his old colonial home, or as the man who, wrongly accused by his boyhood chum, and driven from that same beloved home, is broken with grief and sorrow, this splendid actor comes up to expectations.

$900 JUDGMENT IS AWARDED SCHUYLER

A jury Thursday in county court at law found for the plaintiff and awarded judgment of $900 in the case of R. J. Schuyler against the Contractors Oil Company, the Burk Main Pool Company, and John P. Hogan.

The suit was for debt and the alleged false arrest of the plaintiff's foreman in connection with a deal between the parties of the suit to move some oil tanks.

A negro who had an injured head entered a doctor's office. "Hello, Sam! Got cut again, I see."

"Yes, sah. I done got carved up with a razor, doc."

"Why don't you keep out of bad company?" asked the physician, after he had dressed the wound.

"Deed I'd like to, doc, but I ain't got 'nuff money to git a divorce."

TENSE PRESSURE ON HER HEAD

"My Sides, Back and Head Pained Me Just All the Time," Says Alabama Lady Who Took Cardui And Got Well.

Uniontown, Ala.—"After the birth of my baby, I came near dying, writes Mrs. Maude Felts, of Uniontown. "I was in an awful conditioon. . . . It just looked like I would die.

"I couldn't bear anyone to even touch me, I was so sore, not even to turn me in bed. My sides, back and head all pained me, just all the time.

"We had the doctor every day and he did everything he knew how, it looked like. Yet I lay there suffering such intense pains as seems I can't describe.

"Finally, I said to my husband, let us try Cardui . . . He went for it at once, and before I had taken the first bottle the . . . came back, the soreness began to go away, and I began to mend. The intense pressure seemed all at once to leave my head, and before long I was up.

"I took three bottles and was well and strong and able to do my work. I believed Cardui saved my life . . . I cannot praise it enough for what it did for me."

TRIFLES DECIDE, THEME OF MOVIE

The great turning points in life are sometimes trivial things. Roger Folsom was in the far North and wanted more than life itself to get a letter to his wife, Lois, at Hemlock, without delay. He made a bet with the mail carrier of one hundred dollars, that he could not make the trip in record-breaking time. The weather seemed favorable to his journey and the mail carrier decided to travel light. He took his stove off the dog sled and left it behind. But, he was not many miles on his journey, when the great Arctic blizzard broke. He was blinded by the snow and frozen to death.

A year later, his bleached bones were found and the rotting mail sack with the letter from Roger to Lois. Because of that delay, husband and wife were separated by thousands of miles for more than a year and a great heart raged in utter loneliness in the far noth.

This is one of the many incidents used by Rex Beach in his latest picture, "The North Wind's Malice," which is an intimate drama of the North, told with fine sympathy and great imaginative power. It comes to the Olympic Theater for two days, beginning today.

CUBAN LOAN HITCH SENDS SUGAR DOWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Failure of banks to arrive at any definite conclusions in regard to a Cuban loan seemed today to have undermined sentiment in sugar to some extent and led to increased pressure in the market with both raw and refined making new low records for the season. Raws declined to the basis of 626 for centrifugal and refined to 950 for fine granlated.

SUES OIL COMPANIES FOR HALF-MILLION

Judgment of $500,000 is sought in a suit filed in United States district court Thursday by Charles West against Middle States Oil Corporation, No. 77 Oil Company, Dominion Oil Company and the Settled Production Company.

It is charged that this amount is due as a commission in the purchase of land from the defendant companies. It is asked that an accounting be made relative to the prices paid for the property.
