R. A. Baldwin to Preside at W. T. C. C. El Paso Meet

The next District Convention of the West Teexas Chamber of Commercee will be held at El Paso on September 20, 1924, and promises to be one of the biggest and most interesting of any yet held, and interest is becoming ore wide spread in these meetings h a realization on the part of the ple of the wonderful work being ed by this organization in t Texas on the map and g for us our place in the sun.

Railroads are giving reduced fares. The T. & P. offers a round trip rate from Fort Worth of $15.00 and proportionately reduced from other points closer to El Paso. Other roads are giving rates of one and a fifth fare for the round trip. It is anticipated that a good delegation will go from Slaton to this meeting, for Slaton has always loyally supported the work of the W. T. C. C.

Judge R. A. Baldwin, of Slaton, has been asked by the officers of the organization to preside at this meeting, and he has consented to do so. The program is one of the strongest that has yet been mode for any District Convention.

Slaton Motor Company Sell 30 Cars in Two Weeks

The Slaton Motor Companw, dealers in the Ford Motor Company products, report the sale of 14 cars Saturday, August 23rd and 16 yesterday, making 30 cars in the past two weeks. Some car sales.

Mr. Harry Stokes, manager for this company received a check last week for a Ford car from a man at Robstown and requested that it be delivered to his mother-in-law at Post City. It seems that the Slaton Motor Co., is enlarging its territory.

Mr. Stokes states that the Ford Motor Co. contemplate no change in the model or price for 1925, but they will have the same model as for 1924 and the price will remain the same.

This company is doing a wondedful business and fall business has just opened up. This is perhaps due to the expert salesmanship of the several salespeople employed by this concern and the merit of the product they are selling. They just can't get Ford cars fast enough and have a long waiting list at this time.

Miller Inspects Foot Ball Squad Last Thursday

Great interest in being manifested in the bootball prospects for another year. As the first day for practice approaches the youngsters are talking school and football to the exclusion of everything. Even politics are to be forgotten and the fans to rally to the support of the gridiron stars of which Slaton has several.

Last year the boys were coached to play a clean, manly game, and win, or lose, conduct themselves as gentlemen. Throughout the season last year it was noted that true sportsmanship characterized the Slaton boys and won for them from their opponents compliments for their fair play.

Mr. Miller, their coach, came down Thursday to look oved the situation. He finds everything in fine shape and will begin to give some training to those who may be able to report Monday afternoon. Enough will be on hand to begin some real training. Others will be out later and get their chance to work out for the team.

We do not know of a single prospective player who has not been working this summer and most of them will come in excellent physical condition. In this respect the boys are in much better form than last year. Some of them were always out of form and scarcely ever was a game played with a full first team line up.

Of Interest to The Women

CONSERVATIVE CLOTH DRESS IS FORECAST FOR FALL WEAR

ALREADY in matters of dress are we anticipating autumn. If we are wise, in times of midsummer we prepare for coming fall weather. The stylish striped cloth frock in the picture answers the problem of what to choose for forthcoming cool days.

It is just such a costume as gives a smart appearance at the office, for shopping or for any practical daytime affair. If it is good to look upon in newspaper print, it is infinitely more so in the original of its rich brown, hair-lined with white. The straight tube-like silhouette is maintained, for fashion decrees long slender lines for the street coat dress. The collar and frill are of white crepe, the latter piped with brown satin. Long tight sleeves also give warning of their vogue for the immediate future.

The beltless silhouette dominates the fall showings of cloth and flannel street dresses. For practical everyday wear, flannel in solid bright colors or fancifully striped is one of the smartest among advance materials. Strict simplicity is adhered to in the fashioning of the one-piece flannel or cloth dress. Wool rep and heavy bengaline silk are also featured.

A novelty touch is the capelet, which is usually fitted into the shoulder lines. Glimpsing advance models, one notes interesting trimming details such as stenciled leather collar and cuffs, and buttons sewed on fancifully.

Many of the early dress models reflect the directoire trend.

Very fetching are the new gold leather belts, which appear on some of the imported cloth dresses. Gold kid, trimming a navy cloth rep, suggests fashions in store for autumn.

Fancy Shoe Going Out of Style; Is Fashion Edict

By MARIAN HALE

You might as well start in now and wear out all your pumps with the For style authorities say we are going to revert to the plainest of shoe styles, and that the oxford, long despised, is to be with us again.

This may be part of the propaganda to force gowns to be more elaborate. Recently we have worn fancy shoes, largely because dresses were so very plain and simple. Any elaboration could only come in the footwear because hats and dresses would have none of it.

With elaborate gowns, however, footwear must be subdued. Therefore for fall we find the tailored strapped or button oxford or kid for wear with tailored costumes and the apera, colonial, or the one-strap pump for dress wear.

Suede is said to be less fashionable than it has been, patent leather is holding its own, but soft kid is coming to the front as the most popular leather. It is liked not only in brown but in bronze and the beige tones.

With plainer pumps there is also to be a return to more conservative hosiery. The burnt orange and flesh tints that have been so common will give way to gun metal brown and very sheer black.

The vamp is neither long nor short. The whole idea is to keep the foot in proportion to the body. Heels on oxfords may be low or a modified Spanish, and those on pumps may be low or French, but there are no exaggeratedly high heels, or extremely curved ones.

Shoe dealers are going to inaugurate a campaign for appropriateness in shoes. They hope to impress upon women the desirability of keeping satin and fabric models strictly for evening or dress wear and to make kid or patent leather the only correct thing for street.

A Few Hints to Poutry Raisers

Sell off those old roosters. Buy you of high egg laying strain to head your pen. It don't cost much and you can breed your flock up this way.

—o—

No wis the time to commence conditioning your flock if you want winter eggs.

—o—

The average hen lays about six dozen eggs a year. By getting high strain cock birds, in two years you will be getting 12 dozen per year. Don't you think it would pay.

—o—

Swat the rooster, sell infertile eggs, they bring better prices.

—o—

Let's organize an egg association and stamp all egss sold with your name on them, stating that they are infertile. Cut out all the bad eggs on the market then we can get a better price. Somebody has to lose them, why not the one that produces them?

—o—

A chicken is a chicken, some think, but all hnes are not layers. Let's get layers. Layers is what pays the grocery bill.

—o—

You have seen flock after flock of chickens that have had the same cock bird for several years to head them. You are breeding down instead of up. Change every year. Get an egg laying record back of your cock bird.

INFERTILE EGGS

Producing infertile eggs will increase the vaule of Texas eggs 22 to 25 per cent. This is a very conservative estimate and is based on the fact that eggs that are guaranteed good brought that much more on the Dallas market according to the Kansas City Produce Packer, Kansas City, Missouri. The first stey, therefore, in improving the quality of our market eggs is to remove the male birds from our flocks. Infertile eggs will keep indefinitely, while fertile eggs spoil quickly at present temperatures. You may not receive very much higher prices this year for your infertile eggs but you will be helping build up the reputation of Texas eggs and as soon as buyers find out hat practically all eggs offered for sale in Texas are infertile they can and will offer better prices. Let us do uor part to improve the market price of eggs by removing the male birds, keeping our hen houses and nests clean, gathering the eggs twice each day, storing them in as cool dry place as possible and deliver them to market at least once a week, better twice each week. —Extension Service Farm News.

Scientists Analyze Earth From Tomb of Christ

That the earth taken from Christ's Tomb and analyzed recently by English scientists shows that no human body ever decayed there is their declaration upon completing the tests. This tomb still stands in a remerkable state of preservation near the scene of crucifiction as is shown by pictures made of it by Coleman Craig, associate editor of the Baptist Standard, while on his recent trip to the Holy Land.

Mr. Craig has long been a religious journalist of Texas, and made this pilgrimage to visit the many places made sacred to the hearts of all Christians by the life of Jesus. The location of the manger, Jerusalem, the Mount of Temptation, the River Jordan, the Garden of Gethsamane, Nazareth, the wilderness of Juda and many other historic places were visited and pictures taken of them.

These pictures will be shown by Mr. Craig during his lecture, "From Pyramids to Calveary" which will be given Sunday afternoon at the Slaton Baptist church at 3:15 o'clock.

No charge is made to Mr. Craig's lecture. Only a free will offering being taken to help pay his expenses from Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens and son, Kenneth, are here for a week's visit with Mrs. Steven's brother, Aticus DeLay, who resides southeast of this city.

LICE AND HONEY DEW DAMAGING COTTON

A species of the lice very similar to the lice which sometimes attack cotton in extreme wet weather, but which apparently are worse in those sections where least rainfall has occurred, are on the cotton in section of Floyd county, reports of this week indicate. with considerable damage to both plant and the fruit.

More or less infestation of the cotton crop of the county has been noted all spring in many fields, but the rapid growth of the plant has been expected to throw off the insect without material damage. Dry weatheer, which has been needed, it was thuoght to relieve the situation, has not helped any.

From some fields the "throw off" of the crop has been alarming, and it is believed if the condition continues to spread a material reduction in the crop will result.—Floydada Hesperian.

HERE'S HOW JIGGLY WIGGLY GOT ITS NAME

Many persons wonder how Piggly Wiggly stores got their names. Here's the explanation.

The founder first originated the scheme of doing away with clerks so as to reduce cost and enable purchasers to buy more cheaply. Then he conceived the idea of having a turnstile leading into aisles which would convey the customers through all parts of the store so that they would pass every variety of articles in the establishment, conveniently placed on shelves.

With the physical layout devised and the merchandising method standardized and simplified, a name was next in order. Since the presence of people strolling through the winding aisles suggested little piggies wiggling through fences in search of food, the name Piggly Wiggly come to mind.

CARE OF STRAWBERRY BED AFTER FRUIT IS GATHERED

It is advisable to set a new strawberry bed every spring, but in the small home garden, at least, it will often pay to continue the bed for a second and possibly a third seaso. The United States Department of Agriculture advises that if the bed is to be saved for another year any mulch and other refuse, such as weeds and straw manure that may have accumulated through the summer, should be raked off as soon as the crop is gathered. Then the older plants should be pulled out or removed with a hoe, leaving only enough of the younger ones to send out runners to make a new narrow or wide matted row, as desired. If the leaves on the plants left are spotted with disease, cut or mow them off and burn them.

A pound of nitrate of soda per square rod of ground scattered around the plants will start a vigorous growth. Put this fertilizer on when the plants are dry, fot n will injure any damp parts of the plant it touches. Handled in this way a bed may be kept for several years, because the new plants of one year are saved for fruiting the next. Old beds may be cleaned up, as just mentioned, by hoeing or plowing the spaces between rows and leaving the youngest plants in the row.

When industry slowed up, jobs became scarcer so that no one was really hurt but enough to make a sensible man think and realize that any movement or any agitation which interferes with normal industrial activity strikes first and hardest at the working man.

The brakeman or engineerr on a freight train should realize that his job depends on the "other fellow" who makes an article for transportation.

Lubbock County Tax Valuation Is Set at $15,508,000

The tax values of Lubbock county are $15,508,000 according to a report made by R. C. Burns, tax assessor, who completed the tax rolls Monday.

Mr. Burns also stated that there were 6,375 poll taxes paid in the county.

The county is in very good condition considering the vast amount of improvements that have been made during the past several years in road work, school building and other features of development that have made inroads upon the treasury, and with the above valuation to draw from, collections this year will exceed those made at any previous time.

Welcome to Young Peoples Class

Many young men and women who will teach in the public schools and others who will work in town and for the Santa Fe are coming in to take the places of those who are going away to school or to work in other towns.

We, the Young People of the Methodist church of Slaton, wish to bid farewell to you who are leaving and wish you all the success in the world. We hope that in your new home you will enter into the work of the Sunday school with the same zeal you have shown here.

To those who are coming to make their homes in Slaton we wish to give a herty welcome. If this is the church of your choice, come. We will be glad to make you one of us.

We have a splendid group of young men and women who meet regularly each Sunday morning in the choir of the Methodist church for their lesson. Mrs. Ragsdale very ably conducts the class and a great interest is taken by each individual in the discussions of the lessons.

Then, too, we are planning to make life pleasant for the young people of Slaton from a social view point. No trouble and expense will be spared in creating a happy, wholesome social life for you and your friends.

Remember, at 10:00 o'clock Sunday morning at the Methodist church, you are welcome.

LITTLE MISS PEVAY IS HOST

Wednesday, August 19th, Mrs. S. A. Peavy entertained her little daughter, Doris, and her little friends. It was Doris' birthday and quite a number of the little folks came to celebrate the occasion.

Games had been played for the children and they enjoyed them with the abandon so characteristic of childhood.

When the hour for leaving came the little guests were served with lemonade, ice cream and cake with dainty little baskets of candy as favors.

Although from playing so hard, the children were loathe to leave and wished that Doris had a birthday often.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. S. A. Peavy on Monday the 25th. The lesson was taken from the first 20 Psalms, ably led by Mrs. J. A. Owen.

TO "OUR LADY OF VICTORY"

Thelma and Helen Wisely will leave this week for Fort Worth to enter "Our Lady of Victory."

These girls finished their first year in high school last year. They were popular with their class-mates and will be missed greatly. They did good work with the high school orchestra, Thedma playing the piano and Helen a first violin.

Thelma and Helen will continue their literary work but will specialize in their different lines of music. If talent and hard work can bring success we are sure that others will hear from these young ladies.

"RECENT PRIMARY NO DEFEAT FOR KU KULX KLAN," DECLARES GRAND DRAGON IN STATEMENT

Dallas, Aug. 27.— Z. E. Marvin, grand dragon of the klan for the State of Texas, has issued the following statement relative to the results of Saturday's runoff primary:

"To the people of Texas: My reason for addressing this communication to you is that my name, during the recent campaign has been frequently used by the newspapers and speakers and others, in which statements I have been severely criticized by spokesmen for Mrs. Ferguson, and among whom at this same time there seems to be great rejoicing at what is termed by them "a defeat of hte Ku Kulx Klan."

"Viewing the recent primary runoff election from the standpoint of the Ku Klux Klan, if what those spokesmen above referred to have said is true, then I consider the approval of around 375,000 clean-cut American votes for the principles for which the Ku Klux Klan stands a very great victory.

"Elections come and go.

"Individuals are born to die.

"Honor and principle live on forever. Real men live on through defeat to the stronger fight for nonest principles.

Founded in Patriotism

"The principles of the klan are founded in patriotism to our country and respect to its flag. The Klan stands for the separation of church and state; for perpetuation of the free public schools; for the limitation of immigration (allowing influx only so fast as the immigrants can be Americanized). It stands for white supremacy, and for the control of America by Americans and thase whose elegiance is first and always America.

"The Klan of Texas knows no personality, is not a political organization and fas not a politicalAa zb tion and was never intended to promote the personal interest of any one, political or otherwise. The klan stands for and will fight for good government. Its immediate mission in Texas should be to fight Fergusonism. When the klan ceases to fight Fergusonism principles it deserves to die.

"If those who would fight the principles of the klan feel to gloat over last Saturday's election their glee will surely turn to remorse. The result is inevitable.

Forced to Fight

"During the time for which I accept the responsibility of the chief office of the klan in Texas it has been my earnest desire to keep the klan out of politics but in each campaign a candidate has thrown battle against the klan, forcing the klan to defend its principles through support of a candidate who had not attasked the principles of the klan, which principles no honorable American would fail to support except through misunderstanding or misinformation. It has always been and is the purpose of the klan now to refrain from seeking to participate in matters political, but if I know the temper of the red-blooded Americans who compose its membership it will never cease to fight when its enemies wage war against it as they have in the past.

"All Texas and the world may be assured that throughout my year of office I will not be found wanting or recreant to duty in the responsibility of my obligations. Others will follow and yet others more capable than I, each striving honestly to fulfill his like responsibility. There may be mistakes made but profiting by them we will better organized to continue the fight for the American principles for which our forefathers fought, bled and died, and which the klan insists shall forever obtain.

The klan prescribes no man's religion, believes in and seeks to protect every man in his constitutional right to worship God as he sees fit, and believes in the impartial enforcement of the laws of the land, including the Eibhteenth amendment. The klan stands for prohibition.

"Tevas may have lost in this primary, but the klan of Texas shall indeed have benefited. Some have thought there was little danger in Texas of growing conditions here as exist in other states where the need of the klan is openly admitted by all true Americans, but hundreds of messages have come in since Saturday's primary election from over the state, showing the realization now of the real need of the klan. Assurance from members and nonmembers are that the klan activities in Texas have now really only just begun.

"A fight for honest principles was never permanently won in a day and always those it affects are ever ready to adopt every conceivable plan to thwart its success even by personal slander and abuse, but true men fight ing for principles will then only fight the harder, and though I be personally maligned, ruined and even crucified, I will continue the fight true to my charge until the termination of my office and thereafter as a humble member in the ranks.

"I want no office, seek no glory, position, power or mention, need nobody's money and am not for sale. The only reward I hope to merit is that I shall be truly entitled to the love of my friends and I assure the world I am going to be entitled to the respect of those who, not understanding, have determined to dislike me.

"Analysis of Suaturday's election should be gratifying by comparative showing to those not too impatient. Robertson received over 100,000 more votes as compared with any previous campaign wherein the klan has been attacked, and this with the daily press of Texas almost unanimously fighting him and none actively supporting him. This with all six defeated candidates actively campaigning against him. This despite the manw foreign and other bloc votes against him. This with the anti-prohibition xote solidly against him, and with the support of probably around 100,000 prejudiced Republicans who Saturday voted in Texas for the first time in a Democratic primary.

"Fighting without money against an estimated expenditure for his opponent of around $200,000 from reported sources, some of which if true, would indeed cause those whose hearts ring true to 'heads up' and 'on their toes' to fight on until the true principles of Americanism shall be permanently established in Texas, to where the klan shall no longer be needed.

"Those who believe the Ku Klux Klan to have been defeated or in any wise discouraged by the result of the recent promiary election, are reckoning without any knowledge of the facts. For its history has been and is yet, the more you fight it, the bigger it grows. Saturday's election assures the need and the assured growth of the klan in Texas."—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Young Ladies Missionary Society

In the regular monthly social meeting the Young Ladies Missionary met Thursday at the Adams home with Misses Frances Adams and Margaret Smith as hostesses. A good per centage of the members were present.

There was a great deal of merriment in the fruit contest. In the Bible contest many of the girls were really dismayed at their lack of knowledge of the Bible. Mrs. Fred Tudor won in this contest and was awarded the prize of a nice book of poems.

The hostess served delicious sherbit and cake.

The entertainment was a decided success and the young ladies demanded a continuance of the weekly meetings after school starts.

An announcement will be made Sunday as to the place of meeting for next time.

H. G. Whitaker Has Old Friend Guest

C. E. Reeder, of Gail, Borden county, was in the city last Tuesday the guest of his old friend, H. G. Whitaker. Mr. Reeder was on his way to Lubbock, where he had bought some town property, and made preparations to move his family to that place in order to take advantage of their schools. Mr. Reeder has several boys and he plans to educate them in the "Tech" school when it is ready. He is carried away with the Plains country and will probably dispose of his extensive holdings in Borden county and re-invest in property on the Plains.

It will be our pleasure to state something of the qualifications of these splendid teachers as soon as we are able to tabulate the data. Suffice to say, Slaton has a wonderful aggregation of teachers of whom we shall be proud. They were selected for their special fitness for the work to be done and we are sure we shall not be disappointed.

All high school pupils report at West Ward.

All pupils who were promoted in the West Ward will report at that school unless they have moved clearly into the East Ward district. This territory has been designated as lying East of the street running North and South in front of the Methodist church and East of the street leading South from the Christian church.

All pupils promoted in East Ward except high school pupils will report there unless they have moved clearly into the West Ward district. This district, of course, lies west of the streets just designated.

All pupils promoted in Cenral Ward take notice.

Those promoted to sixth, report to other room in wooden building at West Ward. Those promoted to high third will report to West Ward; high fourth, second and first grades will report at Cetral.

All these plans are necessarily subject to change as we can't tell with any accuracy just where the overflow classes will appear. When the new high school building has been completed then we shall be able to settle down with some degree of system.

Some of our business men have ask the privilege of furnishing boog covers to the school free. This arrangement was made through the Wallraven people of Dallas who called on the local firms and sold them the covers. We have been asked by some of these genelemen to assist in distributing these covers. We shall be glad to assist in this throughout the year. Any others who have given orders may call on us if they wish our assistance.

We apprceiate this thoughtfulness on the part of these good people and on behalf of the kiddies thank them.

We again state that the Institue meets in Lubbock September 1-3 and that our work begins here September 8th.

District Court Grind Started Monday; Busy Term

Monday, the opening day of the August term of District court for Lubbock county. Immediately after convening the Grand Jury was empaneled and began their duties.

Cases Set for Tuesday Morning

A meeting of the members of the Lubbock County Bar was called Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, some 25 attorneys being present, and the most of the day was consumed in arranging and setting the cases down for trial. The first four weeks of the term will be devoted to the trial of Civil cases and the latter two weeks will be utilized in the trial of Criminal cases that require immediate trial.

At this meeting, in a short business session, the members of the Bar discussed the feasibility of asking the next Legislature to cut down the present seventy-second Judicial District, now consisting of ten counties, in order that the present and future congestion of the dockets would be eliminated. There are more cases on the docket now than at any time in the past, and more civil cases have been filed during the past three months, than were filed in twice the period last year. Likewise, litigation in all ten of the counties now comprising is rapidly increasing. At the present rate of filing, it will be an impossibility to dispense with court matters due to the limited amount of time assigned to each county for their respective terms.

To Ask Eight-Week Term

Immediately following the adjournment of the present six week term, it was decided that an eight week special term of the District Court will be called, to be devoted to the trial of Civil cases exclusively, in order that the dockets might be cleared before the commencing of the January term, 1925. Judge Mullican having terms of court coming on in the various counties in the district at that time, it will be necessary to secure a special judge to preside, and at this time no selection of the trial judge has been made.

Special Meeting of Attorneys Called

At the meeting Tuesday morning, it was unanimously voted that a meeting of all the attorneys of the 72nd Judicial District will be called in Lubbock on September 12th for a general discussion and drafting of a bill to be presented at the January session of the Legislature relative to a division of the present District, which will cause the creation of a separate District from the present one. The afternoon of the day will be devoted to business, while the evening will be reserved for a banquet for the attorneys and their wives. Entertainment will be a feature of the evening, and the arrangement of a program and banquet was turned over to a committee, consisting of Judge Jno. L. Ratliff, chairman, Richard Douglas and Homer L. Jharr.

Word Case Set for Sept. 22.

The murder case of Will (Peg-Leg) Word, was set down for trial on Sept. 22. Word is charged with the murder of Dr. S. H. Windham, near the Windham ranch in Terry county on April 21, since which time he has been kept in the Lubbock county jail. He was indicted by the Terry county grand jury on July 29th, and the case was immediately transferred to Lubbock county for trial at the present term. A special venire of 100 men has been summoned for that day, from which a jury will be selected. Some thirty or forty witnesses have been summoned from Lynn and Terry counties and will be present in court on that day. Judge Gordon B. McGuire, will be associated in the prosecution by G. E. Lockhart, of Tahoka, and county Attorney Owen W. McWhorter. O. W. McWhorter of Lubbock county, while Starnes & Howard are employed by the defense.

If we pull together as a nation success awaits us. If we fight among ourselves we court hard times and failure.

Rich Mineral Well Discovered At Post City

Post, Aug. 27.—Discovery of a mineral water of a quality superior to best known products on the market has been declared by G. Coury, of this city. It may in time verify the reports of Ponce de Leon. who stated that a truly marvelous foutain of youth was to be found in Texas terri'ory.

The new mineral water was discovered in a well put down by Coury. Laboratories at Battle Creek, Mich., and Fort Worth declare the water contains several minerals which must be added to most mineral waters to obtain perfect laxative. Plans are now under way to determine the volume of the source and to arrange marketing of the product.

FAST CAR DRIVING A KNOCK DEVELOPER

Don't think you can get away with such high speed and then go back to the dealer with a complaint about the knocks in your new motor. All he has to do is look at the white marks on the exhaust pipe to learn that the engine has been driven too fast and prematerially overheated.

YOU SHOULD BE CAREFUL IN SCRAPING CAR BEARINGS

In scraping the bearings the first consideration is the proper mesh of the timing gears. The front bearing controls the position of the crankshaft and its gear, consequently it should be fitted and scraped in first, the other end bearing being lined up with it at the same time. Then the middle bearings are fitted in.

DRIVER SHOULD KEEP HIS EYE ON THE ROAD

A driver of a car should always keep his eye straight ahead when driving forward and look back when in reverse. He should be on the constant lookout for traffic coming from side streets which may block his path. When making a turn his eyes should be kept on the course the car will follow.

WHEN ENGINE GETS OVERHEATED, STOP

As soon as you notice steam sizzling out of the radiator cap, stop. The engine is overheated and needs attention, or you will cause serious damage to it by going on.

Give the motor time to cool, then proceed slowly and carefully until you get home. Then follow this procedure and find and remedy the trouble:

Drain, flush and refill the radiator.

Tighten the fan belt.

Inspect hose connections against leakage.
