

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR BIG LABOR DAY AND FRATERNAL CELEBRATION

Plans are now complete for Wichita Falls' observance of Labor Day, and the celebration will be on a scale never before attempted here. A parade in the morning and a picnic at the lake in the afternoon are to be held and with practically everyone in Wichita Falls participating, and the promise of thousands of visitors from out of the city, the occasion bids fair to be a notable one.

Amusement Features. Among the day's particular features are to be motorcycle races, baseball games, skating, boating, novelty races, motion pictures and dancing. Most of these features will be provided on both Monday and Tuesday, for the labor celebration on the first day and for the log rolling of the Modern Woodmen of America on the second.

There will be a baseball game each afternoon at 2:30 between the Wichita Falls and Elberta teams. These teams have clashed several times this season with varying results and some excellent sport is promised.

The motorcycle races will also be exceptionally class, judging from prospects. Some of the best riders in the State will be here to participate; these races will start at 4:30 p. m.

The labor union committees have been hard at work for many weeks planning and arranging the details of the affair and they are expecting general participation on the part of Wichitans and the attendance of many visitors from neighboring towns, for whom low rates have been made by the railroads entering this city.

Parade Forms at Nine. The labor parade will form at the court house at 9 o'clock and promptly at 10 will proceed down Seventh to Scott, down Scott to Tenth, east on Tenth on Ohio, north to Ohio to Sixth, doubling back on Ohio to Tenth, west on Tenth to Indiana and north on Indiana to Sixth street. The following will be the order of march:

Mounted police.
Taylor's band.
City officials.
Fire department.
Laundry workers.
Ice drivers.
Blacksmiths and horsehoofers.
Stage employes.
Barbers.
Boilermakers.
Painters.
Broommakers.
Plumbers.
Printers.
Tailors.
Grocery clerks.
Carpenters.
Bartenders.
Electricians.
Machinists.
Railway carmen.
Dry goods clerks.
Fraternal organizations (eight to ten floats).
Merchants floats (about 25).
Decorated automobiles (about 100 expected).

Prizes Offered. Prizes have been offered for the best paternal float, for the best merchants' float and for the best decorated automobile. Eighteen labor organizations have agreed to march in the parade, this being a larger number than ever before participated.

Following the Labor Day celebration there will be on Tuesday the log rolling of the Modern Woodmen of America, which is expected to be a lively affair itself, with Woodmen coming from 22 counties in North Texas.

CORPUS CHRISTI VOTE CASES PRACTICALLY SURE OF TRIAL TOMORROW

Federal Judge Overrules Pleas of Abatement—Fifty Veniemen Summoned for Jury Investigation of Duval County Election.

By Associated Press. Corpus Christi, Tex., Sept. 4.—When Judge Burns this afternoon in the federal court overruled a plea of abatement for forty-one residents of Nueces county charged by indictment with alleged election frauds in connection with the general election last November, it was virtually assured that the cases will go to trial Monday. Fifty veniemen have been summoned to report when the court convenes at nine o'clock. Other motions, one that the indictments be quashed, will be presented by the defense and should it be overruled the selection of the jury probably will start by noon Monday.

On the same morning the grand jury which probed Nueces county elections last June, returning indictments, will again meet and begin an inquiry into the Duval county political affairs. While no detailed statement was forthcoming, it was assumed that in the last general election in the county will be the one investigated. Scores of witnesses have been summoned by the inquiry, which may last two weeks.

The defendants in asking a plea in abatement today set forth allegations that District Clerk L. C. Masterman of Houston and Acting Jury Commissioner of this district Claude McGill of Alice were not together and were not serving jointly when the grand jury that returned the indictments was drawn, the contents of the defendant being that it was mandatory, under the federal laws, for the clerk and the jury commissioner to act jointly in selecting the jury. The government contended that Deputy Clerk J. A. Mount of this city, who according to the testimony, acted in the absence of the clerk, was empowered to act with the commissioner in the drawing of the jurors.

The defense also set forth that it was a plain provision of federal statutes that the commissioner and clerk be members of an opposing political party and alleged that both McGill and Masterman were democrats. McGill was acting commissioner in the absence from the state of the regular commissioner, E. O. Lasater, of Fairburn, who at the time of his appointment was a Bull Moose, or a progressive. Both pleas were overruled.

MEXICAN WOMEN KILLED ACCIDENTALLY BY SOLDIERS

In Firing on Mexicans in Flight Bullets Enter House Killing Two Harmless Women

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 4.—A special to the Light from its correspondent with the border troops says:

"A posse of citizens, led by Sheriff Vann of San Benito county, in apprehending a small native house at Agua Negra ranch, shot and killed two Mexican women who ran and refused to halt, and found later that a young daughter of a Mexican named Ramirez had been killed by a stray bullet and her mother fatally wounded. The women were in the house which was in the line of fire."

The shooting took place about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the recent fight between soldiers and raiders Thursday afternoon. The two Mexicans were identified as local residents of the neighborhood. The officers say they had no intention of harming the women. The correspondent adds:

"Friday morning a detachment of the Twelfth Cavalry, under Lieut. Matt Bristol arrested five men near Nebraska Station, seven miles southwest of San Benito. One, mounted upon a mule, made a dash for liberty, but was shot down by the troopers. The remaining four men are held by the soldiers pending instructions. They are unable to give an account of themselves to the soldiers."

$5,000,000 BEING SENT DALLAS RESERVE BANK

$15,000,000 To Be Distributed Among Banks of Cotton States to Aid Cotton Producers

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Formal orders designating the federal reserve banks at Richmond, Atlanta and Dallas as government depositories were signed today by the treasury department and preparation made for dispatching $15,000,000 in gold to be used in aiding cotton producers. Each bank is to receive $5,000,000 and the shipments will probably start tonight on their journey. Treasury officials declined as a precautionary measure to tell what sub-treasuries will furnish the gold.

FOREIGN INFLUENCE WORKING TO BLOCK UNCLE SAM IN HAITI

GOVERNMENT INFORMATION ON MATTER, HOWEVER, HAS NOT BEEN MADE KNOWN FOR DIPLOMATIC REASONS

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED

Admiral Caperton Reports This Action Taken Because of Situation That Had Gotten Beyond the Control of the Local Government.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Foreign influences in Haiti, working to block plans of the United States to pacify the republic and rehabilitate its finances under American supervision have made it necessary to declare martial law in Port au Prince, the capital, and practically all but two of the country's open ports.

Rear Admiral Caperton acting with his general instructions, declared martial law today and declared the action was taken because of a situation which was beyond the control of the local government.

For reasons of international policy, the state department will not disclose the information it has received on the subject. There have recently been persistent reports of the activity of foreign agents and so marked has been the effect of their activities on the members of the Haitian congress that the state department found it necessary to hurry its policy of educating the people of Haiti to an appreciation of the benefits of American financial control with its protection against insistent foreign creditors.

France is among the largest of Haiti's creditors and has not only refrained from opposing the development of the American policy, but Ambassador Jusserand yesterday assured the state department of French approval of many plans which would result in the establishment of a stable government in Haiti, willing to discharge all proper obligations toward foreign nations.

The state department did not attempt to enunciate execution of its Haitian policy until it had received assurance that President D'Artigayne would be able to carry it through successfully and command the support of a majority of the Haitian congress.

Representative Men Summoned to Discuss and Organize for Prosecution of War.

By Associated Press. Petrograd, September 4.—A congress of Russian representative men and institutions summoned by Emperor Nicholas to discuss, organize and unify means for prosecuting the war to a successful conclusion, held its first session today in the imperial palace. The emperor presided and in a speech outlined the object of the conference. After the conference had been organized the members were entertained by the emperor and empress.

LIKE GREAT BEAR RUSSIAN ARMIES ARE NOW AT BAY

GREAT BATTLES BEING FOUGHT FROM BALTIC TO THE PRIPEL MARSHES AND TO SOUTH IN GALICIA.

GERMAN PROGRESS SLOWER

Teutonic Armies Forced to Fight for Every Yard of Ground They Gain—Allies Continue Heavy Bombardment on the Western Front.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 4.—Although the Russians continue their retirement in some sections and are being driven back in others they on the whole, have stiffened their opposition to the Austro-German advance and the German allies now have to fight hard for every yard of ground they gain.

Away to the north, just below the Gulf of Riga, a big battle is in progress for the possession of the River Dvina, and the Germans now occupy the western bank between Lennawada where they captured a bridge head yesterday and Friedlandstadt where another bridge head was taken by storm today.

RIGA THREATENED. These successes, if they can be carried to a conclusion by forcing the crossing of the Dvina must result in the evacuation of the town of Riga which already is being threatened from the west and south by Field Marshal Hindenburg's army. From Friedlandstadt south to the Pripele marshes, the Russians and Germans are engaged in a series of battles and while the Russians by a counter offensive along the Vainsa and counter attacks at other points are inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers they are being pressed back and the town of Volno which has already been evacuated by the civilians probably will soon be left behind by the Russian army.

To the south of the Pripele marshes another series of battles is being fought. The Russians along the Styra and Sereth rivers are making a stubborn stand, and the Austro-Hungarians in whose ranks there is a strong leaning of Germans, are finding their way eastward barred on most of the fronts. They have, however, forced a crossing of the Sereth river at its junction with the Dniester, so that now a very narrow strip of Galicia remains in Russian hands.

Finding it impossible to make headway in their frontal attacks on the positions covering the fortress of Dubno and Rowno which were bases of the Russian army, for their advance through Galicia, the Austrians are making an attempt to turn those positions from the south and claim that General von Boehm-Ermolli has broken through the Russian lines. There is no information where the new Russian lines will stand but from their strong defense, it is evident that they intend, if possible, to bring the Austro-German offensive to a standstill not far east of where they are now offering a most stubborn resistance.

RUSSIAN ARMIES STILL SAFE. So far as the Russian armies are concerned, it is apparent that they are safely safe from the encircling movement unless the Germans can quickly throw strong forces across the Dvina southeast of Riga. At present the Russians have a system of roads leading east and northeast, and as they have proven themselves to be masters of retreat, military writers here are confident that they will remain powerful long enough to be caught. The rear guards of course, occasionally fall in to the hands of the pursuers.

The French, British and Belgian artillery continues a consistent bombardment of the German trenches in the west but thus far the expected offensive has not developed and the designs of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, are not disclosed.

A heavy fall of snow has added to the discomforts of the Italians and Austrians in the Alps but they continue the bombardment of the opposing positions and both claim successes. The invasion of Roumania by the Austro-Germans with or without a declaration of war is being discussed as a possibility in the Balkan capitals and as no aid could be sent her in men and munitions until the Dardanelles are opened, it is expected the efforts to force the straits would be further increased by the armies and navies of the allies.

GERMAN LINES ON WEST MORE SECURE THAN EVER

German Overseas News Agency Emphatically Denies that Allies Have Broken Through

By Associated Press. Berlin, Sept. 4.—(By wireless to Sayville.) "Rumors that the French and British have succeeded in breaking through the German lines at Arras are absolutely untrue," says the Overseas News Agency. "On the contrary the German positions to the west are more secure and favorable than was the case several months ago. It is evident that rumors of this nature are being spread by agents of Germany's enemies in an attempt to influence public sentiment."

MEXICANS FIGHT ALL DAY BATTLE ACROSS RIO GRANDE WITH U. S. CAVALRYMEN AND TEXAS RANGERS

BORDER TROUBLES ADD TO DIFFICULTY

QUESTION OF PROTECTING BORDER FROM MEXICAN RAIDERS IS BECOMING SERIOUS.

STERN MEASURES POSSIBLE

Practically All of Mobile Army Forces Now On Border And Vigorous Action Probable.

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Border raids now approximating guerrilla warfare between Mexican and American troops and Texas Rangers have overshadowed the international political situation in Mexico and in view of the local officials have become a menace to the already strained relations between the two countries.

Although Major General Funston, in charge of the troops of the border, has practically all the mobile forces of the United States under his command, today's report of fighting across the frontier and encounters with the raiders led to discussions among administration officials as to whether some more positive measures should be taken. Army officers recall that General Taylor in 1846 took stern steps to quell a situation which was almost the same.

There were no official advices to support reports that Mexican troops were massing along the northeast border of Mexico, but the question of protecting the line was regarded with growing apprehension. Military commanders in that section deny that any of their men are among the raiders but it has been reported that some of those killed wore uniforms.

General Carranza's reply to the Pan-American peace appeal still was lacking today, and among his supporters here, it was predicted it would be a rejection.

PARLIAMENT OF LABOR MOMENTOUS GATHERING

Representatives of 3,000,000 British Trade Unionists Will Meet This Week.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 4.—The parliament of labor which assembles in Bristol, Monday promises to be one of the most momentous gatherings in the history of the trades union movements in this country. It will represent nearly 3,000,000 organized working men. Public interest will be focused on three points: the attitude of labor toward the war, toward conscription, and in regard to the matters affecting the working classes during and after the war.

The attitude of the trades unions toward the war has been a staunch justification of Great Britain's action. Unless all signs fail the attitude of labor will be just as emphatic against conscription. Much discussion will be devoted to the position of labor as affected by the war and the effects of employment of women in place of men during the war will be canvassed closely.

LOCAL MERCHANTS TO JOIN WITH THE TIMES IN FALL STYLE SHOW

The merchants of Wichita Falls aided by the Daily Times are planning a style show to be held some time this month. This will be the first style show ever attempted here. Heretofore the stores have had their fall openings independent of each other but this fall, in addition to whatever showing the stores may see fit to make later, a grand fall style show will be held, opening one night and extending through the next day. The 15th and 16th of this month have been practically decided upon but outside of this further and more definite details will have to be announced later.

AT LEAST TEN MEXICANS DEAD; PROBABLY MORE

Mexicans Reported Massing Near Scene Of Battle Last Night And Situation Wore Ominous Aspect

By Associated Press:

Brownsville, Texas, September 4.—With at least ten known dead and probably as many more bodies lying in the dense brush, the battle between 80 United States cavalrymen aided by a force of Texas Rangers and armed citizens, waged practically all day across the Rio Grande about four miles west of Hidalgo, Texas, ended at four o'clock this afternoon. One American trooper was injured.

At four o'clock the Mexicans withdrew from the south bank of the Rio Grande and had hidden in the brush awaiting another opportunity to attack the Americans. The number of Mexicans engaged was given at 40. When the fight ended the Americans were in possession of three crossings between Mexico and Texas in the vicinity of the battle. Old Hidalgo is about 65 miles west of Brownsville.

The Mexicans made no attempt to cross the river but opened fire early today apparently with the object of killing as many Americans as possible. The injured was John Salvini, private in Troop D, Third cavalry, who sustained a serious wound in the hip. He was taken to Mission, Tex.

MEXICANS MASSING AT SCENE OF BATTLE

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 4.—Massing of Mexicans on the river bank at the scene of today's battle has been reported here tonight, although it is not known whether there were any Carranza soldiers among the arrivals.

ITALIAN VIEW OF MOVEMENT FOR PEACE

By Associated Press. Milan, Sept. 4.—The Italian press thinks Germany's modification of her submarine policy and Pope Benedict's peace efforts expressing the view that Germany desires to have President Wilson further the wishes of the Pope. The Seculo remarks that the very reason which might make peace desirable for Germany would cause it to be disastrous to the allies.

"Peace at the present moment would be a victory for Germany," the newspaper says, "giving immunity to day and triumph tomorrow, for German militarism."

The opinion expressed by the Seculo, that President Wilson, while expressing appreciation of the Pope's move, will postpone any effort of his own for one or two years.

The plan is to have a grand opening night, when all of the stores will have their show windows decorated (and the display men of Wichita Falls know their business; many of the windows would do credit to any city); the latest fall and winter goods displayed in the stores and everybody who cares anything about style, and who does not?—is expected to come down to the big show. The opening will continue in the same manner the next day, except that goods will be sold as usual during the day while no sales will be made at night.

Captain J. C. McCoy, who commanded the American forces returned to Lincoln tonight. He reported ten dead Mexicans could be seen from the Texas side and that probably as many more Mexicans had been killed in the brush by shots fired from the Texas side. Earlier reports placed the Mexican dead at twenty-five to thirty.

Mexican's Fire Returned. American troops had gone on guard at that point yesterday, when they chased to the Mexican side a band of invaders who had looted stores on the American side. Forty Mexicans were counted. Before they began firing they were constantly maneuvering through the brush, continuing until they had spread up and down the tortuous river banks a distance of one or two miles. When the Mexicans opened fire, it was returned by the troopers who were soon joined by the rangers from Mission. Word was also sent to Mission by Captain McCoy and the balance of the two troops of cavalry went to the scene of the battle.

The trouble area today was confined to the Mission district and Brownsville. In the section surrounding this city, troops of cavalry and companies of infantry, besides more than fifty automobile loads of citizens worked unceasingly throughout the day, following all clues which might develop as to the whereabouts of the bandit gang.

Fighting Imminent Tonight. This afternoon a band of thirteen Mexicans was located north and south of San Benito. A detachment of cavalry was sent out in search and it soon developed that the Mexicans had headed for the Rio Grande. Post Brown then notified a detachment of infantry hidden in advantageous points near the Rio Grande five miles from Brownsville that the band would possibly come in that direction. Simultaneously a detachment of cavalry under Lieutenant Crittenden left Brownsville for the vicinity of the hidden infantrymen. The cavalry reached that vicinity just in time to prevent a crossing, but a citizen spoiled the game by firing a shot. The Mexicans thus warned promptly hid in the brush. At sun down, as the cavalry and infantrymen were stationed along the bank of the river to cut them off from crossing the river, five of the band were seen and thirteen were known to be in hiding. Fighting may develop at any time tonight.

Disposition of Troops. Headquarters of the lower border patrol will be shifted Sunday from Brownsville to Harlingen a railroad junction twenty-six miles north of here. Colonel Robert L. Buller of the 26th infantry will be in command. The 26th infantry will be concentrated at Harlingen and will be replaced at Fort Brown by the Fourth infantry, due to arrive Sunday from Texas City. The territory immediately around Brownsville will be guarded by the Fourth.

Mr. Barringer cut off the twig and brought the cluster downtown last night. He says there are about five bushels of peaches on the tree. They are of a cling variety.

COLQUITT OUTLINES SENATE PLATFORM

AGAINST NATIONAL PROHIBITION AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE ARE STATE QUESTIONS

WOULD STOP ARMS EXPORTS

If Elected He Will Vote Against Administration on this Matter He Declares

To the People of Texas: I will be a candidate for the office of senator from Texas for the term beginning March the 4th, 1917, and present herewith my views on some of the public questions about which the people are most concerned at this time:

1. I am opposed to the proposed amendments to the United States Constitution on woman suffrage and prohibition. The regulation of the liquor traffic, and of the rights of suffrage are matters properly belonging to the police powers of the States and are not questions over which the national government should assume control. To give Congress power to legislate on and control these subjects would nullify the principles of local self-government and be destructive of the rights of the States. The people of each of the forty-eight States of the Union are capable of dealing with these questions as best suits the temperaments and needs of their people, and to deny to them the right to settle these questions for themselves would be an abasing destruction of one of the fundamental principles upon which the several states forming the national compact, agreed to the establishment of the Union. The proposition would be a centralization of the powers of government at Washington and take it away from the people. The ultimate end of such a policy means the establishment of a strong centralized government and the abandonment of the principles upon which the States agreed to the organization of the federal government.

2. Our banking and currency laws should be so amended as to afford relief to the people as well as to the banks, in times of stringency and panic. This can be done by the enactment of a law making it the duty of the secretary of the treasury, upon proper showing, to deposit money belonging to the government in banks, to be advanced on cotton, wheat or other products, at low rates of interest to be prescribed by the treasury department. This course has been followed frequently to sustain prices in the stock market by depositing government money in New York banks. If the government can afford to use its funds to support the values of stocks of corporations, why should not the policy be good to support the values of cotton and wheat or other business interests? Further relief can be obtained for the people by amending the banking laws by creating a central reserve bank under the control of the national government and require national banks to keep at least half of their reserve with said central reserve bank. By this plan the reserve of banks could be kept active and be used by the government to relieve financial stringency in any part of the country without resorting to plans that would be opposed to sound business methods. These plans would simply make elastic the funds already in hand, but dormant and idle because of requirements of the law and would give practical relief in times of stringency and protect agricultural and all other producing and laboring classes from a fall in the value of their products, and of their labor.

3. I earnestly favor the enactment of a law by Congress establishing a system of rural credits whereby persons engaged in farming may obtain credit upon their products. With adequate warehouse system this can be done as already suggested, by needed amendments to our currency and banking laws. I also favor the passage of an act which shall set aside all money representing the purchase price for public lands, and the interest thereon, for the establishment of the land bank of the United States, or resale the principle and interest from the sale of public lands, as a special fund to be reloaned under proper safeguards, to citizens desiring to purchase and own a home of their own. Twenty-two per cent of the increase in the value of the land in Texas are tenants; likewise a large per cent of the laboring men in the cities and towns. Our statesmen should find a way to assist those frugal farmers and laborers who want one to acquire a home of their own. In the very beginning of our government one of the difficulties the States had in reaching common ground, for forming the Union, arose over the disposition of the vacant lands claimed by some of the States. To settle this the great Northwest territory was ceded by Virginia and other States to the federal government as common property of all the people. Since then the Louisiana purchase and the acquisition of other areas of land, has greatly extended our domain.

4. I have always been in favor of substantial internal improvements, especially where such public improvements result in general benefit to the public, either in protecting them from disaster or to give the people commodious and cheap facilities for the transportation of their commerce. Our harbors on the Texas coast should be deepened and generally improved; navigable rivers cleaned out and used for practical navigation, and adjacent lands reclaimed and protected from overflow. Buffalo Bayou to Houston and the Neches and Sabine Rivers to Beaumont and Orange should be made navigable for the largest freight carrying steamers, without delay. I am elected to the Senate I shall devote ceaseless energy to securing results.

5. During recent years we have had a surplus of legislation based upon impractical theories. The only noticeable result of these laws has been to disturb business conditions and shake the public confidence in the stability of public policy. We should stop manufacturing laws upon untested theories and return to the old-fashioned principles upon which the government was founded: With attention to the amending of the banking and currency laws as already outlined, so as to make them respond to the needs of the people and give credit to the masses on the products of their labor, and provide a way for the homeless man to acquire one, enough will have been accomplished to give the country a rest on legislation.

These questions will be discussed in more detail in the campaign which I shall make before the democratic primaries to be held on the 4th Saturday in July 1916.

The public honors heretofore conferred upon me by the people of Texas are gratefully acknowledged. The duties of public place have been discharged conscientiously and honestly, and without fear of critics, and in the interest of the masses. I have faith and confidence in the people and shall present my views to them for approval, and if elected will serve them fearlessly, as their representative.

O. B. COLQUITT.

Army headquarters announce today the capture of the bridge head at Friedland on the Dvina, about forty miles below Riga. The Germans captured thirty-seven officers and 3,325 men.

THREE FATALLY BURNED IN OIL FIELD EXPLOSION

Tulsa, Okla., Sept. 4.—As a result of an explosion of natural gas on the Quaker Oil Company's lease adjoining Oilton last night three persons were fatally burned and one person less seriously injured. Lights in the automobile in which they were riding ignited a pocket of gas and instantly covered the passengers in flames.

The fatally injured are Jack Wilson, a drifter and Mrs. Maggie O'Neal and Harry Pace. H. J. Mosse, a fifteen year old boy will probably survive. The women live in the oil fields and were being taken home by Wilson.

For three days the officers have sought industriously for evidence to corroborate the published statement attributed to the negroes. So far as made known, they have met with little success. The revolver with which the physician and his secretary Miss Olive Berger, were shot had not been recovered tonight. In their repudiation of confession, the officers stated that they would be found in a brook near the scene of the crime.

Mrs. Mohr from the first has stoutly maintained her innocence and explained the murder by saying that Brown had a grudge against the doctor since his discharge from his employment at the Mohr home, and that robbery was an added incentive for the killing. He also asserted that he had found in the doctor's car a letter from a neighbor in which the latter said he would fill the physician full of bullets if Mohr did not cease his attentions to the writer's wife.

Search for a will thought to have been made by Mohr has been futile so far.

ORIGIN OF LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

SAMUEL GOMPERS SAYS FIRST SUGGESTION CAME FROM LATE P. J. MCGUIRE

FIRST HOLIDAY IN OREGON

Day Made Legal Holiday in that State in 1887—Congress Acted in 1894

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Samuel Gompers, founder and president of the American Federation of Labor, gave out for publication today some interesting historical matter on the observance of Labor Day.

"Undoubtedly the first suggestion of setting apart a day in each year to be observed as Labor Day," said Mr. Gompers, "was conceived by the late P. J. McGuire, who was at that time secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters. The suggestion occurred during the period when the Knights of Labor was in existence, P. J. McGuire being a member of that organization.

"Writing for the American Federationist in 1902 P. J. McGuire had this to say:

"Pagan feasts and Christian observances have come down to us through the long ages. But it was reserved for this country, and for the American People, to give birth to Labor Day. In this they honor the toilers of the earth, and pay homage to those who from rude nature have deigned and carved all the comfort and grandeur we behold.

"More than all, the thought, the conception, yes, the very inspiration of this holiday came from men in the ranks of the working people, men active in uplifting their fellows and leading them to better conditions. It came from a little group in New York City, the Central Labor Union, which had just been formed, and which in later years attained widespread influence.

"On May 8, 1882, the writer made the proposition. He urged the propriety of setting aside one day in the year to be designated as 'Labor Day,' and to be established as a general holiday for the laboring classes. He advised the day should first be celebrated by a street parade, which would publicly show the strength and esprit of the trade and labor organizations. Next the parade should be followed by a picnic in some grove, the proceeds of the same to be divided on this semi-cooperative plan.

"It was further argued Labor Day should be observed as one festival day in the year for public tribute to the genius of the American industry. There were other worthy holidays representing the religious, civil and military spirit. But none representative of the industrial spirit, the great vital force of every nation. He suggested the first Monday in September of every year for such a holiday, as it would come at the most pleasant season of the year nearly midway between the fourth of July and Thanksgiving and would fill a wide gap in the chronology of legal holidays. Many were the cogent reasons he advanced and at once the idea was enthusiastically embraced.

"The first Labor Day parade and festival of the Central Labor Union of New York city on September 5, 1882, was simply an imposing success. From that day on it became a fixed institution in the United States observed to-day in every city of the land. The plan was next endorsed by the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, and the general assembly of the Knights of Labor. It spread rapidly from city to city and from town to town. City councils and state legislatures took it up and made it a legal holiday, until finally, June 28, 1894, it became a national holiday by act of Congress.

"The initial action taken setting apart one day in the year on which to review the activities and beneficial influence of Organized Labor occurred at the afternoon meeting of the third day of the fourth annual session of the Federation, October 9, 1884, the convention being held in Schloesser's Hall, Chicago, Ill. The resolution creating Labor Day was introduced in the convention by A. C. Cameron, a delegate from the Chicago Trades and Labor Assembly, and was as follows:

"Resolved, That the first Monday in September of each year be set apart as a laborers' national holiday, and that we recommend its observance by all wage-workers, irrespective of sex, calling, or nationality.

"W. J. Hammond, representing the International Typographical Union of New Orleans, La., was president of this convention. The accredited delegates to this convention numbered only twenty-six.

"The Federation held its annual convention at Columbus, O., Dec. 8-12, 1886. At this session the officers reported the following:

"At the fourth session of the Federation a resolution was adopted making the first Monday in September of each year labor's national holiday, and recommending its observance by wage workers generally throughout the country. This met with response that exceeded the most sanguine expectations. In our great manufacturing and distributing centers thousands of workmen marched in procession and participated in the festivities of the picnic grounds, where the most skilled mechanics and workers in professions and laborers united in a common celebration, exchanging friendly fraternal greetings while they listened to the champions of labor discussing the economic and political questions of the day. The good effects of this are so well understood that we recommend its more general observance still, until it shall be as uncommon for a man to work on that day as on Independence Day.

"In order that there be no misunderstanding with reference to the action of Congress in enacting legislation upon this subject it is well to state that the law passed by Congress on June 28, 1894, described above, as making Labor Day a national holiday only provided that Labor Day should be observed in the District of Columbia, as well as the then territories.

"Nearly all of the states in the union now have statutes making the first Monday in September a legal holiday, thus observing Labor Day.

"Labor Day was established in the various states in the order and on the dates named below:

1887, February 21, Oregon.
1887, March 15, Colorado.
1887, April 8, New Jersey.

1895, April 9, Missouri.
Mr. Gompers will speak at Marion, Ill., on Labor Day. The invitation to speak there was extended to him over a year ago, and one of the chief reasons that determined him to accept that invitation was that Marion is in a mining center and afforded him an opportunity to speak to a large number of miners, an opportunity that President Gompers has had only once before in several years.

About half a dozen of the neighboring cities will join Marion in the Labor Day celebration and will also participate in the parade. The addresses by labor speakers other than Mr. Gompers will be made by Miss Agnes Nestor, National President of the Glove Workers, Miss Agnes Burns, representative of the Women's Union Label League of New York, and Frank Farrington, State President of the United Mine Workers of Illinois.

Secretary Frank M. Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, will speak at Bloomington, Ill.

All United States soldiers were ordered to arms at Fort Brown tonight. An organized invasion at some point on the lower border is feared.

HORSE RACING MAY BE RESUMED IN FRANCE

By Associated Press.
Paris, Sept. 4.—Resumption of horse racing in France in the spring is being considered by the ministry of agriculture, and turf authorities say the Petit Parisien. It is proposed to hold private meetings with prizes provided from the reserve fund of the race track association, which, while far from amounting to the sums usually offered as purposes for the classic events, would be sufficient to enable breeders to continue to improve their stocks.

Announcement made yesterday that Edmond Blank would sell his stable evidently does not mean his retirement from the track. Monsieur Blank has been for many years one of the most prominent turfmen in France.

SOUTH ATLANTIC STATES ARE HIT BY HURRICANE

By Associated Press.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 4.—With four known dead and heavy damage to the crops the West Indian hurricane which today turned inland from the Gulf of Mexico on the western coast of Florida tonight was sweeping over western and southern Georgia. High winds and driving rains were reported from many places.

In Atlanta the wind reached a velocity unofficially estimated at fifty miles an hour; a number of plate glass windows were blown out in the business section and a dining room damaged to property in outlying sections.

The four known dead were negroes who perished in a tornado which swept through Marshallville, Ga., in the southwestern part of the state just shortly after noon. Considerable property damage was done there. The driving rain, it was said, did almost as much damage to crops as the wind. Cotton plants were laid flat against the ground and the bolls which were just beginning to open were stripped of their contents.

FIVE DIE WHEN ST. FRANCIS ORPHANAGE IS BURNED

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Sept. 4.—Fire early today destroyed the St. Francis Girls' dormitory, a Catholic orphanage, with the loss of at least five lives. When the flames were discovered, the children were marshalled and marched out of the building and it was believed all had escaped. First search of the ruins, however, discovered five bodies.

That $30,000,000 the government will advance for handling the cotton crop won't go far on a $800,000,000 crop, but it shows the right spirit, anyhow.

It is difficult to give too much publicity to ordinances of as much importance to the general public as that of the new traffic ordinance, and in addition to having the ordinance published in the newspaper selected by the city council for that purpose the city has gone to the further expense of having this ordinance published in pamphlet form, and copies are free for the asking. The council is to be commended for its liberality in this respect. If all the ordinances that affect the people's interest could be given the same wide and liberal publicity there would be but little cause for complaint.

More than a week has elapsed since Oklahoma oil prices advanced to 75 cents, and while the Northwest Texas quotation is also up to 75 cents, the five cent margin which this field is supposed to have over Oklahoma has not been re-established. Oil from Northwest Texas is worth more than that from the Mid-Continent field, because of its better grade, and the failure to maintain the margin makes it appear that some Northwest Texas producers got somewhat worked last January at Austin.

Two or three moderately good-sized transfers in city real estate were made this week, totalling $93,500, and so far as The Times was able to learn the parties selling took down a very neat profit over what the property cost them. The latest transfer was that of what is known as the McIntyre property, 50x150 feet on the southeast corner of Ninth and Indiana. Marvin Smith and associates are the purchasers, and the deal was made with a view of placing on the lot a large building to be used by one of the most reliable and substantial dry goods establishments of the city.

Far eastern treaties are as likely to be considered "scraps of paper" as some in Europe, judging from the course which Japan has been pursuing in China since the European war began. Riding roughshod over China, and totally disregarding all obligations to other nations, Japan has established herself in a position that threatens the very existence of China, according to an article in the "World's Work" of September, written by Carl Crow of Pekin. The contribution is of more than passing interest to Texans from the fact that Mr. Crow is a former Fort Worth newspaper man, and has several times visited Wichita Falls. Mr. Crow takes a very pessimistic view of China's future, and hints very broadly that unless the United States or some other nation interferes, Japan's imperialistic ambitions will not be satisfied until she has made a vassal state of the helpless republic of China.

When the Westland hotel, a beautiful five-story structure and one of the prettiest, most substantial and best constructed hotel buildings in the State was first constructed in this city six or seven years ago, there were those who predicted it would prove a poor investment for the owner, Mr. Wyatt. It now appears that Mr. Wyatt did make a very expensive mistake, but it was because he did not make it seven or eight stories high instead of only five. But he is going to correct that mistake right away—possibly before the year 1915 ends by adding two and possibly three more stories to his already fine structure. It's that way about nearly everything in Wichita Falls. With another railroad leading toward St. Louis, Wichita Falls can easily double her present population in the next five years.

Under the new traffic ordinance, it is not necessary for vehicles to go to the street intersection when desiring to turn around; a car may be turned in the middle of the block. The statement in the Times of Friday, that it was necessary to go to an intersection to make a turn was due to a misunderstanding of the ordinance, and those who objected to the ordinance on that score should now be satisfied. However, when a car is turned in the middle of a block, to be parked on the opposite side of the street, it should be turned so as to face in the direction taken by traffic on that side of the street. For instance, a driver turning into Ninth street from Ohio avenue, and wishing to stop at the north door of the postoffice, should make a complete turn so that his car will be headed east when he stops; it is a violation of the ordinance to cut directly across the street and leave the car pointed west. With a little forbearance and consideration, motorists will soon become accustomed to the new rules and will thereby enhance the safety of both themselves and pedestrians.

In bringing Germany to accept the American position on the sinking of unarmed merchant ships President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have accomplished the double feat of avoiding the prospect of war for this country and of modifying the temperature at which Teddy's blood boils. Waco Times Herald.

And yet there are those who say we have no really great men in our government today.

From now on all women in the employ of the State of Illinois will receive the same pay as men who perform similar service. This is the result of a law passed by the Legislature of that state last winter, and it is a good law—one that should be enacted by every state. In the Union, in Texas women can hold certain county offices, having been elected to these offices, and in every instance they are making efficient officials.—Wichita Times.

And they are drawing the salary prescribed by law for such service. If, in the discharge of official duties women are entitled to, and receive the same pay as is accorded males, there is no reason why they should not receive equal pay with men in other branches of employment when they perform the same labor. The reason they do not, possibly, is due to there being so many more women than there are jobs and necessarily forcing them to accept employment below a living wage. Just whether the Illinois law will remedy the situation or not remains to be seen and its operation will be watched with great interest all throughout the country.—Denison Herald.

SAYS THE GOVERNOR AND NOT THE LEGISLATURE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR EXTRA GANCE.

The Wichita Daily Times declares that Governor James E. Ferguson could have blue penciled $2,000,000 of Texas expenses account had he desired. Too late to kick now. This is a "business administration" materializing. "That are we here for?"

It was not the Times but the Hall County (Memphis) Herald that said the governor could have blue penciled two millions of dollars of the amount appropriated by the legislature, and because he did not do this some of the members, including those who introduced and voted for the passage of the bill, were greatly astonished. Senator W. A. Johnson, is editor of the Herald and doubtless knows what he is writing about. The fault is not entirely with Gov. Ferguson. The people elected the legislature, and its members enact the laws and recommend to the governor that he approve them as they are passed. The criticism passed on the governor by the Herald if the Times can read it right, is that Governor Ferguson took the legislature too seriously.—Wichita Times.

The editor of the Wichita Times is usually a very clear reasoner, and we recall very few instances in a series of years that we have not agreed with him in the positions he has assumed on questions of public policy, but his usual clear-cut statement of his position is not so well defined in his comment on the above subject. In the original article from this paper, it will be recalled we were commenting on an editorial by our good friend Adams of the Plainview News, to the effect that Governor Ferguson was not responsible for the high tax rate. We took the position then, and reassert it now, that he was very largely to blame, in fact more so than any other man in the State. The Times man first asserted that in this position we were perhaps not correct. Now he comes to the front and says "the fault is not entirely with the governor." Of course it is not entirely with the governor, but not entirely with the governor, but very largely with the governor, because the constitution makes his action a bill of the kind more powerful than any number less than two-thirds of the two houses of the legislature, for he can cut out any item he chooses and not less than two-thirds of the entire legislature can put it back. There were hundreds of items in the appropriation bills that members objected to, but the majority favored each item allowed. It was not only the privilege, but the sworn duty of the governor to pass on every one of these items, and in doing so he had a power and duty greater to the people than anything less than two-thirds of the legislature. Hence, when he sided with the members who objected to, but the majority favored each item allowed, he was responsible to the people. No one can successfully deny that $2,000,000 could have been cut from the bill. If it was not properly reduced by the legislature, because they could not agree upon the items to eliminate, certainly it was his duty to use his "blue pencil" and cut the bill to proper proportions.—Hall County Herald.

MUTILATED BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN FOUND AT HOUSTON
By Associated Press.
Houston, Texas, Sept. 4.—Boys playing around railway sheds here this morning found the mutilated body of a middle-aged white man hidden under the flooring of a shed. The head had been beaten into a pulp, and decomposition indicated the murder was committed several days ago. Blood marked bricks, men's footprints, a trail marked by blood spots to the railroad right of way were found. The only clue to identification is a badge of the National Newsboys Association, No. 12077 and a blank check from a Galveston bank.

WICHITA COUNTY PIONEER DEAD

E. REXFORD FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HIS HOME HERE ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

DEATH FROM HEART FAILURE

Settled on Gilbert Creek in 1879, and Was One of County's Successful Farmers.

Ensign Rexford, aged 73, one of the first settlers of Wichita county, was found dead in bed at his home at 1605 Ninth street Friday night. At a coroner's inquest Saturday it was found that his death was due to heart failure. Mr. Rexford has been living in the house by himself this summer. Mrs. Rexford having gone to Chicago some time ago. Recently he told Joseph Hund, his next door neighbor, that he had been having trouble with his heart and asked him when he did not see him about to come over and investigate. Friday morning Mr. Hund saw Mr. Rexford come from a bathroom which opens onto a back porch. He did not see anything more of him all day and at about 9 o'clock Friday night he decided to go over and investigate. He found Mr. Rexford's body in the bed. Death had evidently ensued hours before. There were no evidences of a struggle and it is probable that death came suddenly and without suffering.

Mr. Rexford is survived by his second wife whom he married several years ago and by two children, one a son, Burke, is at Miami, Texas, the other a daughter, Mrs. Lou Nix, lives in Oregon. Mrs. Rexford was reached by wire in Chicago Friday night and wired back that she was taking the first train for home. Word from Oregon last night indicated that Mrs. Nix would come for her father's funeral. In that event the funeral will not be held before Tuesday at the earliest. Mr. Rexford came to Wichita county from California. He arrived in 1879 settling on the farm which he owned at his death on Gilbert Creek not far from where the town of Burkburnett is built. At that time there were only a few families in the entire county and the country was one vast unbroken prairie. At that time when no railroad had reached this section of the state, to make a living from farming was out of the question and the first year Mr. Rexford took his team and secured employment in the building of the Texas & Pacific railway into Fort Worth. Later he helped build the Fort Worth & Denver into Wichita Falls. With the arrival of the railroad it became possible to make money farming. Mr. Rexford was for many years one of the most successful farmers in Wichita county and built up a comfortable fortune in this business. Several years ago he left his farm and made his home in Wichita Falls. His farm comprises about 800 acres and is one of the best in the county. A few weeks ago Mr. Rexford was one of a group of pioneers whose photographs appeared in The Times. Others in the picture were J. G. Hardin, M. Dodson and S. P. Hawkins, all having settled in the Burkburnett section within a few years of each other.

Following the game a tempting salad plate was served to Messrs. and Mesdames M. G. Langford, Gregg, Dobson, Dellis, Wilson, Hurst, Mesdames Langford, and Yates; Miss Ragsdale and T. B. Noble, Jr.

PICKWICK CLUB DANCE LAST FRIDAY EVENING.

Among those attending were: Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Blair, John Shaw, Piner Avis, Drinkard, Nat Wagner, Stith Moore, Proctor, Morris Marcus, E. L. Smith, Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. Bryan; Misses Annette Walsh, Margaret Noble, Reese, and Messrs. Marvin Smith, McMahon, Walker Hendricks, John Thomas, Linu Boyd, and W. N. Bonner.

SIX MERRY MAIDS MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The Six Merry Maids met Friday afternoon with Miss Dorothy Ziskind, three visitors being also in attendance. The girls sewed for some length of time, finally abandoning the needle for a short program of musical selections and readings. Following a delicious refreshment course of ice cream, cake and minis all repaired to the lawn and enjoyed several games of croquet. The guests were Misses Elsie Cohen, Lenore Thompson and Virginia Miller, the members present being Misses Ella Merle Mathis, Louise Hines, Madeline Thomas, Leona Maricle and Dorothy Ziskind.

YOUNGER SET DANCE AT ADICKES HOME FRIDAY.

A number of the younger set were entertained Friday evening with a dance at the home of Miss Audrey Adickes, the young men of the set acting as hosts. Dance music was furnished by an orchestra, and refreshments of peach sherbet and cake were served. The affair was in compliance to the young people, who are leaving soon for various educational institutions. Those present were: Misses Audrey Adickes, Dorothy Hensers, Berenice Jackson, Helen Stone, Ruby Moore, Frances Urban, Lorraine Sanders and Thelma Kahn; Messrs. Jim Barnard, Alfred Carrigan, Charles Nolen, James Martin Williams, Henry Robertson, William Robertson, Edgar Gorsline, Joe Carrigan, Robert Avis, Leslie Stringer, Victor Jungk, Carl Jungk, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bell.

MRS. B. T. BURGESS ENTERS TALES SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS.

Last Monday evening Mrs. B. T. Burgess assisted by Miss Agnes Leicham entertained the members of her Sunday school class with a "Sunflower Fete."

The decorations of the home were in yellow throughout, huge bouquets of sunflowers and festoons of yellow crepe paper being used in all the rooms to an excellent advantage. On arriving the guests were handed yellow cards on which were the words, "Keep Mum," also the name of an animal which they were expected to imitate by motions and actions. After much merriment "the band" started up and a parade of the menagerie took place. When all had guessed the animal represented by each a second parade was begun, which ended on the back lawn, where a bonfire was lighted. Fruit was served here and several out of door games were played, followed by indoor games. At a late hour the girls were invited to the dining room where again the sunflower scheme was featured. The center piece was formed of ferns and sunflowers and tiny streamers of yellow ribbon caught to the yellow festooned lights above the table extended to each cover. The ribbons ended in under a small sunflower and on the place cards which were embossed in gold with the initials of the hostess, were found the souvenirs of the evening, friendship bracelet links, tied to the card with yellow ribbon.

The ice course of peach sherbet and wafers further reflected the color scheme and a second course of iced watermelon was served. Those enjoying the evening were: Misses Winnie Crawford, Leila Mae Lawler, Helie Vaughn, Ida Belle Roark, Thelma Roberts, Hazel Miller, Earl Carter, Zelma Randolph, Thelma Taylor and Agnes Leicham.

MISS JOHNSON DINNER HOSTESS THURSDAY

The time is drawing near when farewells must be said to those of the boys and girls leaving for school, and social activities among the younger set take on a special importance. In a perfectly planned and executed dinner party Thursday evening Mrs. J. D. Johnson and her daughter, Miss Rose, paid a parting compliment to several young people leaving soon for various schools. The guest list included eight, only three of whom will not attend school out of town this winter, the hostess being included in this number.

In the dining room decorations and table service the decorative motif paid tribute to the name flower of the hostess, pink roses being used in profusion throughout the charming home. The table was centered with a huge tulip-tied basket of pink roses and was a most pleasing expression of the artistic taste of the hostess and her mother. Small crocheted nut baskets with bows of pink ribbon were at each cover and hand decorated score cards, bearing the nickname of each diner, rested beside the plates. Favors were small fire crackers, those of the guests who will remain at home being given crackers already exploded.

As the table was a delight to the eye so the dinner, served in six courses was equally a culinary treat from the fruit cocktail to the cafe noir and after dinner mints.

Victrola music was enjoyed during the dinner and the party, with the addition of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bell, visited the Empress Theatre for the film "The Warrens of Virginia" returning to the Johnson home for a brief season of dancing and music. The guests included: Misses Alice Prazier, Helen Hines, Berenice Jackson, Messrs. Ralph Pond, Gerald Pond, Lawrence Dougan and J. L. Jackson Jr.

T. W. SCOTT'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED FRIDAY

A number of friends of T. W. Scott spent quite a pleasant evening at his home, 1402 Scott Friday, September 3 in celebration of Mr. Scott's fifty-third birthday. The affair was arranged by his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Allen, who had quietly invited a few of his more intimate friends. The lawn was strung with electric lights and here tables and chairs were arranged for the game of forty-two. At this interesting game the time passed all too quickly for the players. A delicious ice cream course was served and it was not until the approach of the "wee sma' hours" that the guests took their leave. Mr. Scott was the recipient of a number of gifts and two prizes, boxes of dominoes were awarded to the winners in the game. The guests included: Messrs. C. M. Dodgen, E. A. Stroup, H. B. Hayes, J. J. Manley, E. E. Stipe, Andrew Scott, T. F. Hunter and L. W. Allen.

The Woman's Alliance of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the church. The four societies will have charge of the program. The meeting will be in the nature of a rally.

TRAFFIC INSTRUCTION

POLICE SHOW PEOPLE ABOUT THE NEW RULES

Letters Here For Automobiles and Bicycles and Registration Required—Rules Working Well

Enforcement of the traffic ordinance began yesterday, resulting in a busy day for the police department, which kept officers stationed downtown to see that the rules were obeyed. Numerous telephone calls from motorists and others asking questions about one provision or another were answered.

"Jay walkers" were given their first lessons. Attempts to cross the street, country style, were courteous ly but firmly blocked by traffic officers, who also found time to explain the traffic provisions to both pedestrians and motorists. The police played no favorites in preventing jay walking and ladies who attempted to take the short cut were politely required to retrace their steps to the corner and go across properly. A few folks got mad, but most people took the advice in the spirit in which it was given.

The supply of "C's" for automobiles arrived yesterday and motorists may now register their county numbers with the city tax collector, pay the dollar license and receive the letter, which is to be placed by the number on the car.

All bicycles in the city must secure new numbers and a supply of figures has been received. The old numbers were issued free, but the new ones cost 25 cents. After a few days have elapsed, those whose bicycles do not bear the official numbers will be arrested and penalties assessed under the ordinance. Some misunderstanding appears to have resulted over the manner in which cars may be turned around. It is not necessary, under the ordinance, to go to a street intersection to turn a car around, as the turn may be made anywhere in the block. Reports to the contrary caused some confusion Saturday. Wichitaans who are not clear as to the provisions of the ordinance may obtain a copy at the city hall with proper instructions printed and illustrated.

One provision which motorists seem inclined to disregard is that against driving past a standing street car. When an autoist or driver passes a car on the blind side, that is the side opposite the one on which passengers get off, he must bring his vehicle to a full stop until the car has passed on. In passing on the other side, he must go very slowly and with all due caution.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake Is Made By Many Wichita Falls People.

It's a common error to plaster the aching back. To rub with liniments, rheumatic joints.

If the trouble comes from the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney ills.

And are endorsed by Wichita Falls citizens. Mrs. Dora A. Redin, 1410 15th St., Wichita Falls, says: "I suffered for several years from symptoms of kidney complaint. Every time I took cold, over-exerted at my housework or stood for any length of time, my back became very lame and sore. A dull ache across the small of my back kept me miserable. When I lay down, I could scarcely turn over and mornings it was hard for me to dress. I used different medicines, wore plasters and rubbed my back with liniments, but nothing helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Five boxes of this medicine strengthened my kidneys, made my back strong and did away with all the other annoying ailments. My back has been in good shape ever since, although five years have passed."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Redin had. Foster-Milburn, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOLASTIC GAIN MAKES OPENING FOR SEVEN MORE SALOONS IN THIS CITY

Number May Be Increased From 27 To 34—Scholastic Census Indicates a Population of About 17,000 Now in Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls' saloons may now be increased in number from 27 to 34, as a result of the gain in scholastic population. So far, no new licenses have been issued, but it is probable that some of the seven additional permits will be taken up.

The scholastic census showed something over 3000 children of scholastic age in the Wichita Falls district and of this number over 2800 were in Wichita Falls. The state bases population on the ratio of six inhabitants to one child of scholastic age, which would give this city a population of about 17,000 not counting the factory district. One saloon license may be issued for each 500 of population so that a total of 34 licenses may be issued for Wichita Falls.

A number of licenses have been renewed by saloon men during the past few weeks.

W. H. MANN FATALITY STABBED AT HASKELL

Haskell, Texas, Sept. 4.—In a difficulty here between W. H. Mann and C. E. Fox, the former received such serious knife wounds that he died early yesterday. Effort is being made to have Governor Ferguson supplement the reward.

BANKS READY TO JOIN IN LOAN PLAN

LOCAL BANKS WIRE McADOO READINESS TO LEND DOUBLE AMOUNT

INTEREST AT SIX PER CENT

If Any Considerable Sum Deposited Here There Will Be Ample Funds For Cotton Crop

Wichita Falls bankers are ready and willing to do their part in financing the 1915 cotton crop in this section at six per cent interest, provided the federal government cooperates with them in the use of a share of the $30,000,000 fund which is expected to be available for financing the crop. In this connection, the following telegram has been sent to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo:

"I am authorized by all the banks of this city to say to you that in order to do our part in taking care of the distressed cotton, if you find it expedient to deposit any of the thirty million dollars with the national banks, for every one thousand deposited with the banks here, they will agree to lend double the amount at six per cent interest on cotton stored in warehouses. (Signed) J. A. Kemp, president City National Bank."

If any of the federal funds are deposited here, it will assure a substantial amount at six per cent to handle the cotton. For instance, if $50,000 is deposited here, the banks will put up twice that amount of $100,000 making a total of $150,000 to handle the cotton, and this sum would go far toward relieving conditions in the cotton market. No reply is expected from Mr. McAdoo for several days.

ATTORNEY FOUND FORGER WHO HAD STUNG HIM

Jack County Man Landed Behind the Bars After He Had Got $167 On Forged Check Here.

After sending several days in Jack county last week Attorney P. B. Cox located a man, who about two weeks ago, secured his endorsement to a forged check for $165. Mr. Cox not only located the man and saw him landed behind jail bars but got the $125 of the $165 which he had secured on Mr. Cox's endorsement.

Mr. Cox formerly resided in Jack county. A few weeks ago a man representing himself to be A. B. Brown of Jack county called on Mr. Cox. He had a letter addressed to "A. B. Brown, Wichita Falls, Texas," purporting to have been written by J. M. Kennedy, a well known cattleman of Jack county. The letter said that a check was enclosed for Mr. Brown for four steers purchased from Brown by Mr. Kennedy. The check bore the notation "For four steers." An accommodation to a resident of his old county Mr. Cox endorsed the check. The rest can be guessed.

When Mr. Cox went to Jackboro he could find no one by the name of A. B. Brown but he gave such a good description of the man to the Jack county officers that they finally located the purported Brown in the person of a man living at Newport in Jack county. This man finally admitted the forgery and after his arrest directed where a part of the money could be found hidden under a chunk in the yard at his home. One hundred and twenty-five dollars was recovered. It has developed since the arrest of this man that similar forgeries have been worked at Bowie and other places by a man representing himself to be a citizen of Jack county. The officers are trying to connect the man arrested at Newport with these forgeries.

124 DIVORCE SUITS; AND 283 MARRIAGE LICENSES

Rulings of Both District Judges Concerning Corroboration of Evidence a Detriment.

A total of 124 divorce suits have been filed in the district courts of Wichita county during the past six months, 58 in the 74th district and 66 in the 20th district. During the same period 283 marriage licenses were issued.

A great many of the divorce suits filed are never tried, as reconciliations are effected. There are probably a great many more than 124 remaining unsettled on the dockets of the district courts, as less than a score have been decided in both during the past six months. The rule laid down by both Judge Nicholson and Judge Akin, that the evidence of the plaintiff must have corroboration has tended to discourage the divorce industry to some extent.

If, in their judgment, you should have glasses, they will also tell you that, and then you are at liberty to go anywhere you wish to buy them, without feeling under the least obligation to us.

Our Prices Are Low

Operated in connection with our other business, we are able to furnish glasses at much lower prices than so called specialists ask for the same work, and much lower than firms who are forced to send out of town for the grinding. On account of the nature of the business we are unable to quote prices, but will gladly do so at the time we examine your eyes.

Amusing Incidents Mark First Day Of Traffic Rules

Some amusing incidents marked the enforcement of the "jay-walking" ordinance Saturday, and the public found considerable entertainment in watching the officers as they stopped one jay-walker after another.

A small boy on a bicycle turned a town corner, and turned it wrong, failing to circle the wooden marker in the center of the street.

"Hey," yelled another boy, "you had better go back and touch first base." At Seventh and Indiana, near where many of the Saturday crowd of farmers congregated, officers were kept busy enforcing the rule. As the country folks wanted to cut straight across, like a cow going to the tank. One old fellow who started slantwise across the street was halted and with some difficulty persuaded to go back to start afresh. He stalked back to the corner where he started, then turned and faced the officer.

"I didn't want to cross your old street nohow," he shouted defiantly and went back the way he had come. An officer would stand on a corner for two hours, enforcing the ordinance and within a half a minute after he would leave, folks would be jay-walking as of yore, more from force of habit, doubtless, than from any other cause.

FOUR WILL BECOME FULL FLEDGED AMERICANS

Oath of Allegiance Will Be Administered to Natives of European Countries

Four Wichita county residents will become full fledged Americans next Saturday, when they will appear before Judge Nicholson in the 78th district court and swear allegiance to the land of their adoption. The citizens to be are William Reitz and Fred Metzger of Electra, Julius Klein of Wichita Falls and John William Laukhuf of Wichita Falls. The first three are natives of Russia and Mr. Laukhuf is a native of Germany.

Mr. Laukhuf will be naturalized under a new law, whereby he was not required to take out his "first papers." He had been in this country since 1881, practically all his life and in such cases he may attain complete naturalization with less formality than those who have not been here so long.

Each of the men is expected to appear in court with two resident witnesses and the oath of allegiance, renouncing the old ties, will be administered by the judge.

"CHATT" ON THE FIRING LINE SENDS A MESSAGE

Thanks Those Who Have Helped His Family—Duty Calls Him to the Road Again.

A member of The Times staff has received the following, which is self-explanatory:

"I feel as though you understand a travelling man who is likened perhaps to a soldier on the firing line who is out fighting for his country without neglecting his family. Duty calls me away again in the near future so that I can mail funds to pay expenses.

"To those that have stated publicly that I neglected my family, I say, God forgive them, I never will.

"To those who, from their hearts, dictates, have helped my family, I say thank you from the bottom of my heart, and their future reward will be greater than my thanks; as Billy Sunday so ably says, if gossip would mind their own business, hell would be for rent and the devil himself would be hunting a job. Your friend, (Signed) W. A. CHATTERTON."

Our Men's Store

Paddling your own canoe is alright in peaceful waters, but when that canoe assumes the proportions of a big merchandising ship, and launches out into the troubled waters of the great "business sea," it takes team work to man it to the port of success. That team work is co-operation. This fact is foremost in every department of our store. It's there when we buy—it's there when we sell. In no way could we better demonstrate this than by ciphering you—

AT THE THEATERS

THE LYDIA MARGARET FEATURE-PICTURE PROGRAM

The Deloys continue at the Lydia Margaret this week, having just finished a successful week. Their short musical comedy productions are very pleasing. The Monday's program will be supplemented by three reels of pictures, a comedy, "The Tale of His Pants" and a two part drama, "The Flight of a Night Bird."

A millionaire gives up home, family and position temporarily in order to prove that he could make his own living, if hard put to it, in "The Flight of a Night Bird," a Gold Seal two reel drama. Goaded into showing his old family lawyer that he has the "makings of a man" in him, the young millionaire gives up his gay associates, starts to work unknown to any one in a west end hotel, the girl of his heart in the slums, and then goes back to his former social position with a pretty, intelligent wife and its responsibilities. The story of the play was written by H. G. Stafford and produced by Charles Giblin. Cleo Madison, Agnes Vernon, Hobart Henley and Ray Hanford enact the leading roles.

The play proves that in order to keep out of mischief we must all of us do something. The society woman with nothing but time on her hands finds that she can employ herself more usefully in settlement work or in charities than in dawdling away her day in massage parlors and Turkish baths and consulting bamboozling physicians with her imaginary ills. In fact, following the laudable example of the English grand dame, it is quite the thing nowadays for the woman of means to patronize certain institutions or to busy herself in alleviating the condition of the poor and those less fortunate than herself.

The society man is little known in this busy country; thanks be to our democratic ways, and the man whose sole interest in life is the acquisition of new dance steps and the latest style of collars is forced to go into business for want of male companionship in his idleness.

"HOUSE OF A THOUSAND CANDLES" WEDNESDAY

The Gem management announces that Wednesday, September 8, "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be the feature attraction. This picture comedy-drama, which features Harry Mestayer, the well known star of the legitimate stage, is said to be one of the cleverest mystery stories ever seen on the motion picture screen. It is an adaptation of the novel of the same title by Meredith Nicholson, which was widely read. The plot hinges upon a condition in the will of Squire Glenarm, which provides that his grandson, Jack must live on his estate for one year before he comes into the fortune his grandfather left when he "died." Jack manages to stay almost a year, but at last leaves the estate of the squire to attend a masked ball at a neighbor girl's home, he being in love with the girl. A treacherous lawyer attempts to steal the bonds which the squire has concealed in a safe, but the old man suddenly steps from his hiding place behind an old clock. He has not been dead at all, but has just been hiding to see how things would go on if he passed out of this life. He not only gives Jack his fortune but also tells him that he will be more than happy if he marries the neighbor girl.

"THE IDLER" AT THE MAJESTIC NEXT TUESDAY

"The Idler" is the Tuesday feature to be shown at the Majestic.

Never in the history of the photographic drama has such a cast been assembled as that which makes "The Idler" the greatest film ever shown on the screen.

The much-abused term "all star" may here be applied with strictest truth, for every one of the dozen principal parts is interpreted by an actor of ability and international distinction.

Theatre goers and movie fans in every civilized country on the globe are familiar with the following all of whom appear in this stupendous production: Charles Richman, Catherine Countess, Claire Whitney, Stuart Holmes, Walter Hitchcock, Maud Turner Gordon.

Mark Cross and John Harding meet in the far West. Mark, "The Idler" has left England after a quarrel with his father over a chorus girl marriage. Harding receives word one day that his father is dead. He returns to England and marries the girl who has cast off Mark Cross when she learned of the chorus girl. Harding, before he left the mining camp for England, has accidentally killed a man. This man's brother swears a feud against him. Harding's Nemesis and Mark Cross come to England. The dead man's brother tries to force a duel on Harding and Cross tries to induce Harding's wife to leave him. Ultimately "The Idler's" better nature asserts itself and the play ends with the sacrifice of his evil intentions.

MARY PICKFORD AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

The Monday offering at the Empress is "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" in five parts.

In Frances Hodgson Burnett's creation of Glad, the inspired and inspiring heroine of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," the Famous Players offer Mary Pickford a distinctive character of marked appeal. There was solid material on which to build—melodrama refined by a touch of religious symbolism—and Miss Pickford might well be selected as the ideal interpreter of the little girl whose soul rises above the sordidness of London slums; whose spirit is undaunted by dinky crimes and poverty. Her portrayal of Glad becomes much more than the display of a winsome personality, evident and of course, welcome in the earlier passages; but not the outstanding feature of the performance as the story advances to tense climaxes. In the main, Miss Pickford has a part of large emotional possibilities, in some ways reminiscent of "Tess of the Storm Country" and she acts, as she did then, with force and sincerity.

The theme of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," the optimistic message of hope imparted by a frail, ignorant girl, is clearly developed in James Kirkwood's artistic production. The characterizations ring true with David Powell, giving a well high flawless interpretation of Dandy, Forrest Robinson as Sir Oliver Holt and Robert Cain playing the dissolute nephew. In seeking the atmosphere of the London slums the director relied almost exclusively on studio construction, even for street scenes. Mr. Kirkwood made an exact replica of the buildings and alley ways described by Mrs. Burnett and they were peopled by unmistakably English types.

The plot is nicely calculated to emphasize the magical goodness of Glad, who without consciousness of extraordinary virtues becomes a messenger of cheer. Her poor little home is a haven for those in need. She prevents the suicide of the wealthy Sir Oliver Holt; she saves a friendless mother and child from starvation and in the most dramatic of all the incidents she saves her cockney sweetheart from punishment for a crime of which he is guiltless.

CHALMERS EXHIBIT AT CHILDRESS THIS WEEK

Harold Carpenter Will Have Good Display at Childress County Fair This Week

Harold Carpenter, agent in Northwest Texas for the Chalmers cars, is shipping an exhibit to Childress where he will exhibit at the Childress county fair this week. He has a special exhibition tent and will exhibit the several models of Chalmers cars together with parts. Mr. Carpenter had an exhibit at Quanah last week which attracted much interest. Yesterday he unloaded another carload of Chalmers Six 40's for distribution in this territory.

Thursday he sold a Chalmers Six to J. L. Roach, master mechanic for the Fort Worth & Denver at Childress. Mr. Roach spent several days here looking over cars. The new motor with overhead cam shaft was one of the features of the Chalmers Six which influenced him in deciding upon that car. Mr. and Mrs. Roach drove home in their new car Thursday night.
