Inspection Of Cars Lags As Deadline Nears

Deadline for auto inspection law is less than three weeks away, and inspection stations here have hardly dipped into the county's large number of vehicles.

A survey of Snyder's eight inspection stations indicated that about 4,512 inspections had been made, slightly more than a third of Scurry's 11,194 autos registered.

If a large number of Scurry motorists have not had their vehicles checked at stations outside the county, Snyder's eight stations must inspect more than 800 vehicles each between now and the Sept. 6 deadline.

The eight stations combined have inspected less than 1,000 vehicles in the past two weeks.

Average cost to the motorists, according to inspectors, is about $3, with most of them listing lights as the main expense in putting the auto in shape to pass the inspection.

The Snyder stations are Pollard Motor Co., Dupree Nash Co., Lamb Chevrolet Co., Pierce Motor Co., Ezell Motor Co., Stimson Motor Sales, and Lee Motor Co.

Army Sergeant Stoned By Reds

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Communist youths stoned an American Army sergeant and his Persian soldier-driver today while their jeep was stopped for a traffic light on one of Tehran's busiest streets.

Police charged the 100 or so young Reds with batons and dispersed them while the jeep sped away.

The U. S. Army mission identified the American involved as Sgt. James Hagan of Atlanta, Ga., and said he received only a glancing blow from a rock and was not injured.

The stoning today occurred on Istanbul Street, the scene of nightly skirmishes between pro-Mossadegh Nationalists and Communists. Last night Nationalist Street fighters set fire to a small stand there suspected of selling Red literature.

Apparently in retaliation, about 100 Communist youths gathered on the street this morning, shouting "down with the Mossadegh government" and haranguing passersby.

Eyewitnesses said at first the police did not bother the Reds.

Then the American jeep drove up and stopped behind four or five cars halted by the traffic light. When the Communists saw the American in the jeep, they milled around and started throwing rocks lying around from recent street repairs.

Witnesses said several rocks hit the jeep, the American and the Persian driver.

When the rocks began flying, the driver put the jeep into reverse, then sped through an opening in the traffic. Meanwhile the police dispersed the Reds.

Benton Takes First Round Of Big Libel Suit By McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Counsel for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) lost a fight today for postponement of pre-trial testimony from Paul G. Hoffman in McCarthy's two million dollar libel-slander suit against Sen. Benton (D-Conn).

U. S. District Judge Burnita S. Matthews overruled a motion for a delay.

Edward B. Williams, counsel for McCarthy, asked the delay on grounds that McCarthy has been ill and unable to confer with his attorneys.

Theodore Kiendl, representing Benton, argued that newspaper articles indicate McCarthy held a news conference recently on political matters. He contended that if McCarthy is well enough to talk politics he is well enough to confer with Williams.

With Judge Matthews' decision, Kiendl promptly headed for the Statler Hotel where Hoffman's testimony was scheduled to be taken.

Williams angrily announced in the court that he would not attend the pre-trial deposition hearing.

Kiendl announced that Benton hoped to use testimony from Hoffman, former head of the Economic Cooperation Administration and now president of The Ford Foundation, to disprove attacks McCarthy had made in the Senate against Gen. George C. Marshall.

The fight stems from McCarthy's big damage suit. He contends that Benton libeled and slandered him with unfounded charges of fraud, perjury and calculated deceit of the American people.

Theodore Kiendl of New York and Gerhard van Arkel of Washington, counsel for Benton, have made mystery of their reasons for calling Hoffman, a top adviser to the Eisenhower - for - President forces.

Edward B. Williams of Washington, McCarthy's lawyer, said he would use that fact in his arguments to the court. He has asked the court to forbid the examination of Hoffman until the ailing McCarthy can take a hand in cross-examining the witness or at least consult with his counsel.

Hoffman headed the Economic Recovery Administration (ECA) through which the Marshall Plan to combat communism in Europe was initiated, but Benton's lawyers have refused to tell in advance the nature of questions to be asked of him.

Mac's Name Put On Texas Ballot By Party

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's name will be on the Texas General Election ballot in November as a candidate for president, Secretary of State Jack Ross said today.

Ross said he has examined the petition of a new party that calls itself the Christian Nationalist Party and sees no reason why it should not have a place on the ballot.

The petition was presented to Ross yesterday by Party Chairman A. V. Grant of Saint Jo, Texas. It said the party held its convention last Saturday in Saint Jo, named MacArthur as its candidate for president. Jack B. Tenney of Los Angeles its candidate for vice president, and 23 Texans as electors for the party in Texas.

Ross had withheld until today his decision on the petition's sufficiency for a ballot position. He said he had wanted time to examine it first.

Signing the notarized petition with Grant was R. W. Donnell as party secretary.

Listed as the party's electors were George W. Armstrong, Courts Cleveland, Mrs. Roy Summers, all of Fort Worth; R. M. Mann, Maurice Sevier, H. C. Durst, B. O. Harrell, all of San Antonio; Ray H. Keasler, The Rev. Andy Cash, I Hugh Gano, all of Dallas; W. F. Rolf, Seguin; Bert A. Tribble, Lubbock; Robert B. Elliott, El Paso; William J. Bezner, Gainesville; F. J. McDonald, Merkel; Horace Sherman Miller, Waco; John S. Sorley, Plainview; D. B. Williamson, Rusk; P. A. Spain, Paris; William Heimer, Floresville; Henry Olejnik, Temple; A. Z. Jones, Dennison, and Mrs. I. A. Bird, Robert Lee.

Meeting Called Over Drought

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—Gov. Shivers today called a meeting for 3:30 p.m. tomorrow to discuss the Texas drought and the advisability of asking President Truman to declare the state a drought disaster area.

The governor's office announced Shivers had authorized the calling of the meeting in a telephone call from his home at Mission.

Special invitations were sent by telegram to State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who yesterday estimated the blistering heat has cost Texas farmers 68 million dollars since Aug. 1; to B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration at College Station; and to C. J. McCormick, U. S. Under-Secretary of Agriculture, who attended the West Texas drought conference at Abilene yesterday.

Shivers also invited all who are interested in or concerned about drought conditions to attend.

Brannan To Show Survey On How Farmers Like Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan may make public late this week the summarized results of a nation-wide survey showing overwhelming farmer indorsement of federal farm aid programs.

The survey was made a year ago and was subjected to sharp criticism by some farm organizations and Republicans. A department committee has just completed work summarizing about 3,000 reports of the survey submitted by county and state groups.

A summary of the survey, because of the timing of its prospective release to the public and its nature, may set up a controversial Brannan Farm Plan as a presidential election campaign target of the Republicans.

The summary will first be submitted to a closed meeting Friday of an advisory committee of representatives of non-government organizations, including farm, education, religions and social groups. If this committee is satisfied with the document, it will probably be made public.

The survey, which Brannan made public.

The survey, which Brannan called the "family farm policy review," was designed, he said, to find out what farmers thought of present farm programs and to get producer recommendations for possible improvements.

The survey was conducted by the department's own field agencies, including farmer committeemen who help administer the farm aid programs. Officials have stated, while withholding reports on the survey, that most farmers approve federal crop control, price supports and other such programs.

The survey drew particularly bitter attacks from President Allan B. Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Kline said the department was stepping outside its proper administrative field to organize and inspire "pressure" on Congress for possible new farm legislation.

Record Oil Allowable Is Granted For State

ROBBERS CHEATED BY SIGNALMAN

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 19 (AP)—An alert signal tower man saved the frontier mail train from being attacked by bandits Sunday.

He spotted 60 bandits near Itola station, 15 miles from Baroda, a short time before the train was due. The signalman sent the train past the station on its trip from Bombay to Armitsar.

The enraged bandits attacked the homes of railway workers and injured eight employes including the station master. They robbed women of jewelry, took household possessions and made their escape.

But the signalman escaped the bandits' wrath.

Superforts Hit Grenade Plant

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Fourteen Japan-based U. S. Superforts last night bombed a huge Communist grenade factory employing 2,000 workers in Northwest Korea. The factory was only 3 miles south of the Manchurian border.

Far East headquarters in Tokyo said the sprawling works was one of the 78 military targets the U. N. Command has given advance notice it will attack.

It was the first time the plant, at Nakwon, half way between Sinuiju and Namsidong, had been hit.

Results of the raid were not announced. The planes dropped 140 tons of bombs.

But the B29 pilots, skirting the edge of an erratic typhoon sweeping across the southern end of the Korean Peninsula, reported they met intense anti-aircraft fire. One plane was attacked by a Red night fighter but the Air Force said all 14 planes returned safely.

The plant reportedly produced 1,000 anti-tank grenades and 3,000 to 5,000 hand grenades daily.

The weather began clearing today over the battle front after the typhoon swept out into the Sea of Japan and headed for Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

No Leads On Boat Sabotage

TAHOE CITY, Calif., Aug. 19 (AP)—Police investigating the sabotage of two of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser's speedboats were hampered today by "a lack of good leads."

Constable Harry Johannson said whoever did the job left no fingerprints. Johannson indicated it may be a long job to find the person or persons who soaked the bilge and hull of one of the boats with gasoline.

The other speedboat's main drive shaft was discovered hacksawed part way through. Rags, nuts and bolts had been stuffed in its carburetor blower.

Kaiser who called the sabotage a "murderous attempt on my life" was scheduled to drive one of the boats in races Sunday on Lake Tahoe. His mechanic, Max Collins, discovered the sabotage before the start of the regatta.

Believes Truce Is Possible

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Maj. Gen. William Harrison, senior U. N. Command armistice delegate, said today he thought "an armistice is possible but I haven't the faintest idea when."

He made the observation at a news conference shortly after U.N. and Communist negotiators traded acid words for an hour at Panmunjom and made "no visible progress" toward settlement of the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange.

The delegations called a fourth straight week-long recess. Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate, protested, then agreed to setting the next meeting for Aug. 27.

On chances of the talks to succeed, Harrison declared;

Shipyard Sale To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Attorney General McGranery said today that circumstances surrounding the government's sale of the St. Johns River shipyard at Jacksonville, Fla., in 1946 will be presented to a federal grand jury here on Sept. 3.

The attorney general told a news conference last week that the matter should have been referred to a grand jury a long time ago.

A House committee investigating Justice Department affairs asserted recently that allegations of bribery and collusion were raised after the sale six years ago and were referred to the Justice Department then, but that no action resulted.

The shipyard, built at a cost of 19½ million dollars, was sold at public auction as war surplus. The successful bid for purchase —$1,928,500—was made by the Tampa Shipbuilding Corporation, owned by Louis E. Wolfson.

Wolfson also heads an investing group which bought The Capital Transit Company, operating street car and bus service in Washington D. C. several years ago, and is now chairman of Capital Transit's board.

Sister Of Canadian Official Involved In Immigration Fraud

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Justice Department today named a sister of Canada's Minister of Public Health and Welfare as among those involved in its investigation of alleged immigration visa frauds. She is Mrs. Aline Steigerwald of Windsor.

In a statement, the department said she is reputed to have acted as an advisor to Canadians seeking border crossing papers.

Her brother, the department said, is Canadian Public Health Minister Paul Martin.

The Justice Department is looking into the status of some 100 Canadians who have immigrated to the Detroit area.

Attorney General McGranery said 10 days ago that inquiry has established that many obtained visa to enter the United States by misrepresenting their financial situation to the American consul at Windsor.

The statement making reference to Mrs. Steigerwald announced the arrest of Lawrence E. MacKinnon, of Windsor, who it said has been commuting daily to his work in Detroit. He was charged with entering the country on a visa obtained through fraud.

This was the second formal arrest in the case.

The first was made last week when Everett E. Glassco, a Canadian, was picked up in Detroit and ordered deported.

At his hearing, the department said, Roy H. McBride, branch manager of the Provincial Bank of Canada at Windsor, admitted issuing false information as to the amount of money which Glassco had on deposit.

Over Quarter-Million Hike In Daily Flow

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—An all-time record oil allowable of 3,225,415 barrels per day was set for September as the Texas Railroad Commission today granted a tremendous 261,201-barrel increase.

The previous record allowable was 3,159,477 barrels per day on March 15.

The whopping jump in production will be achieved by allowing 22 statewide producing days, two more than this month. The big East Texas field will remain on 10 days but will also enjoy an increase because September is one day shorter than August.

The commission acted immediately after receiving testimony at the statewide proration hearing, at which Maston Nixon, president of Southern Minerals Corp. bitterly assailed a sharp rise in imports since June 21.

The Corpus Christi industrialist speaking on behalf of the import policy committee of The Independent Petroleum Association of America, accused importing companies of "breaking faith" with a policy they had agreed to in 1948.

That policy, he said, was one of importing foreign oil merely to supplement domestic production—not to supplant it.

With a majority of other witnesses urging substantial increases in the allowable, the commission announced the following exceptions to the statewide producing pattern for September:

Pantex field, 16 days, up 2 from August; Pickton, 6, unchanged; Hawkins, 15, and Millican, 9, down 1 each. West Texas fields connected to Phillips' Goldsmith plant will be on 17 days, one less than this month.

Chairman Olin Culberson was absent, on vacation, as the commission announced the record allowable.

The increase was opposed most strongly by Ralph Dietler of Tulsa, board chairman of Stanolind Oil Purchasing Company. He said his company recommended no increase for September since its own requirements could be met with only 17 producing days. This would have meant a decrease in allowable.

Nixon had nominated for September oil on the basis of an even greater permissive flow than was granted, seeking 23 days. However, he asked for only 22 days at the hearing.

Humble Oil and Refining Company called for 22 days, Sun Oil 23, Gulf and Phillips, 21, Sinclair 20 to 21, and Cities Service, 20. Shell Oil Company was on the cautious side with Stanolind recommending only 19 days statewide flow.

Democrats For Ike Meeting To Put His Name On Miss. Ballot

By KEITH FULLER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's Democrats - for - Eisenhower meet today to place the GOP nominees on the ballot with an independent slate of electors.

The group lost a skirmish yesterday with the forces of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, in the State Democratic Convention.

In Mississippi, any group may place electors on the ballot by getting a petition signed by 400 qualified voters.

The Stevenson victory in the State Convention yesterday was complete and tantamount to approval of the national Democratic ticket.

Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin, unofficial head of the Eisenhower supporters, said his group would meet at 11 a. m. and complete plans to a petition to get the Republican nominee on the state ballot as an independent—not a Republican—candidate.

Without qualification, convention delegates voted 222 to 51½ to pledge its eight electors to the Illinois governor and his vice presidential running mate, Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama.

The delegates turned back appeals to qualify and water down what amounted to an endorsement of the candidates. The Democrats-for-Eisenhower wanted the convention to go on record that pledging its electors "shall not be construed as an endorsement . . . of the two nominees."

Gov. Hugh White, personal supporter of Stevenson, led the fight to block qualifying amendments.

Former Gov. Fielding Wright, leader of the 1948 Dixie "revolt," made the first bid to qualify the convention's resolution pledging the electors to the ticket.

Wright "reluctantly" endorsed Stevenson "solely because under the circumstances I could see no other choice that we in Mississippi can make alone."

"I think," Wright added, "that this convention should elect a slate of electors pledged to the Democratic nominees and recess, subject to call if future events justify acts."

Wright's proposal was not followed.

Nothing New From Oil Cartel Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan declared today that a disputed government report on oil cartels, which the state department labelled as secret, is "neither new nor very surprising."

Ferguson, a Republican, said the report "for the most part is just a senate investigating committee a re-hash of the findings" of which he headed in the Republican-controlled 80th congress.

President Truman decided to lift the secrecy ban on the report after its publication was demanded by Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic nominee for vice president.

The report was written a year ago by Federal Trade Commission staff experts. It concerns international oil deals by an alleged cartel which has been charged with siphoning U. S. foreign aid funds.

Ferguson's statement, dictated from Detroit to his Washington office, said his special committee on national defenses had recommended in 1948 that the attorney general investigate the Middle East activities of some American oil firms.

The current report, he said, "is another case of the administration dragging its feet on important issues. This time there has been a four-year lag between the start of an investigation and the first administrative action."

The senator said his committee published a 35-page report and took 700 pages of testimony in 1948 on petroleum arrangements with Saudi Arabi and other Middle East countries.

The FTC report may have diplomatic repercussions and already has become fuel for a federal grand jury which will open next month an investigation of alleged price fixing and monopoly practices in the oil industry.

Sparkman urged its publication as head of the Senate Small Business Subcommitee. He said his group would make an investigation of its own before passing judgment on the FTC findings.

Texas Senators' Agreement On Issues Is Higher Than Average

Texas senators, Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, agreed, on 91 per cent of the issues on which both cast ballots during the 82nd Congress, a Congressional Quarterly report from Washington shows.

An analysis of the 331 record votes (202 during the first session and 129 during the second session) shows the two senators voted together on 267 roll-call votes and divided on 25. Their percentage of agreement for the 82nd Congress thus was 91.

Of the 331 Senate roll calls, 129 were taken during 1952. On those where both were recorded, Texas Senators agreed on 109, disagreed on 11, for a percentage of agreement of 91.

During 1952 there were 202 roll-calls and the Senators had an agreement percentage of 92 on those where both made their stands known.

The Congressional Quarterly found that the average Senate team stuck together 74. 8 per cent of the time. When the team was composed of two Democrats their records showed an average agreement mark of 85.6 per cent. State teams consisting exclusively of Republicans agreed 79 per cent of the time. The teams whose members were of opposite political faiths agreed about half (50.6 per cent) of the time on issues where both took stands.

No state team was in agreement on all the issues, nor was any delegation split 100 per cent of the time. Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee John Sparkman and his colleague, Lister Hill of Alabama had the Senate's highest harmony record. Their stands were the same 97 per cent of the time both were on the record.

Dividing the roll calls into four major categories C. Q. found that the number of votes on taxes and economic policy topped all the rest. On 111 ballots in this field Texas Senators agreed on 90 of them and disagreed on 14.

Texas Senators voted together 71 times and were split five times on the 96 record votes taken on appropriations measures.

There were 74 foreign policy roll calls. Texas Senators voted the same way 69 times and clashed on four votes. They agreed on 100 per cent on 17 military and veterans questions.

BRITISH FLOOD SCENE

Water from a swollen tributary, the aftermath of disastrous flash floods, pours down a hillside into Lynmouth, hardest hit of the resort towns along England's southwest coast. Furniture and battered cars, deposited there by the raging floods that made the town's main street a torrential watercourse, lie near one of the resort's hotels. Authorities have recovered eleven bodies and fear that the death toll in Lynmouth might reach 40 persons.

Protest Made By Israel To UN Council

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel last night ordered its ambassador to the United Nations to protest to the Security Council that a reported statement by Syrian dictator Col. Adib Shishekly constituted a threat to peace.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion told the Knesset (Parliament) yesterday the Cairo newspaper Al Ahram quoted Shishekly as saying, "The Middle East is not large enough for both Jews and Arabs."

The Israeli leader denounced the statement as a grave violation of the armistice agreements which ended the Palestine fighting. His government asked for an immediate meeting of the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commisson.

There was no immediate indication when the envoy to the U. N. Abba Eban, would present the protest. Israel has been technically at war with the seven Arab League states since the Palestine fighting and the U.N.-sponsored armistice governs its relations with the Arab countries.

In his speech, made during a parliamentary debate on a bill to increase draftees' Army service from 24 months to 36, Ben-Gurion expressed willingness to sign a peace treaty with Egypt's new reform government. But he got no immediate favorable response from Cairo.

Small Fire In North Snyder Last Light

A fire which started in the kitchen of a two-room residence at Avenue T and the Lubbock Highway last night did about $100 damages, Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said.

The fire was at the residence of Caralos M. Lopez.

Gatlin said all the wall paper was burned off the kitchen walls but that other damage was slight. A general alarm was sounded, but the fire was under control before fire fighting equipment arrived.

Cardinal Spellman Speaks At Meeting Of Knights Of Columbus

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A solemn pontifical mass today opens the 70th annual meeting of the Knights of Columbus Supreme Council with Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, among the participants.

Archbishop J. Francis A. McIntyre of Los Angeles was invited to deliver the sermon and Bishop Charles F. Buddy of San Diego to be celebrant.

In a preliminary to council sessions, Cardinal Spellman told an audience at a reception in his honor in Pasadena Civic Auditorium last night:

"It is time — far past the time — for us to realize that by our lethargy, we are responsible for encouraging Communists to increase their power and their foul plays until they believe that there is no limit to the humiliations and aggressions that Americans will tamely allow to infiltrate, develop, dominate and destroy our liberty and democratic institutions."

He declared that "secularist tendencies in education have taught a whole generation of young Americans that there is no meaning in life except what they can see and feel, and that the highest aim in life is to acquire a multitude of material things."

Registration Here Is Light

A total of 1,407 students — an estimated 40 per cent of the expected enrollment — registered yesterday, the office of Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, reported today.

School officials considered the registration light and said they were afraid some students and parents might not realize that this was the official registration and not a pre-registration such as the schools have sometimes held. Principals will work this week making schedules and room assignments on the basis of the number of students registering yesterday and today.

Registration according to schools was as follows: Central Primary, 160; Central Elementary 173; high school, 195; East Elementary, 242; West Elementary 304; North Elementary, 171; junior high, 162.

Bank Cashier Charged After Twenty Years

DIERKS, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Opal Simmington, 49-year-old assistant cashier of the Bank of Dierks, was known in this Southeastern Arkansas lumber town as a woman "everybody trusted."

The attractive, dark-haired divorcee had been in charge of the bank's bookkeeping department for 20 years. She was also city treasurer.

Today nearly $73,000 of the bank's funds were missing, the FBI reported.

And Mrs. Simmington was charged with making false entries.

She was arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Elmer Tackett of Hot Springs, Ark. After waiving preliminary examination, she was released on $7,500 bond.

The $72,990 shortage in the bank's books was discovered by examiners of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation on Aug. 11. M. W. McFarlin, chief of the FBI at Little Rock, said evidence showed the books had been manipulated for almost 20 years.

The FDIC examiners, FBI agents, a private auditing firm, and agents of the State Bank Commission worked throughout the night in efforts to clear up the situation.

Bids were called for on the purchase of the dirt loader although [illegible] offered to sell a loader to the city for $1,905. Bids are necessary on only purchases of more than $2,000, but members of the council felt it best interests of the city would be served by calling for bids.

Bond Frees Man Charged With Theft By Bailee

Joe Basham, 34-year-old trucker charged with theft by bailee, was released from the county jail this morning on $750 bond.

Sureties for the bond were Floyd Clark and J. H. Cardwell, both of Palo Pinto County, Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, said.

The charge was filed last week after W. R. Sanderford of the Post Office Cafe complained that Basham took Sanderford's 1949 Studebaker truck and converted it to his own use.

Basham was arrested on a warrant Aug. 11 in Palo Pinto County and returned here Aug. 12.

Greeks And Bulgarians Blamed For Shooting

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greek-Bulgarian Army talks, called to smooth over a recent border incident in which two Greek soldiers were killed, broke up last night in a word battle over who was responsible for the clash.

A Greek general staff communique said the Bulgarians promised to seek further instructions from their superiors and meet with the Greeks again.

The communique said the Bulgarians admitted killing the two Greeks Aug. 12 in the Mt. Belles area northwest of Salonika. Each side, however, claimed the incident occurred on its territory.

Second Lt. Betty Likes, at left on the front row, has had a part in "Battle Circus," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's film about the activities of a Mobile Army Surgical Hosptial in Korea. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Likes, Humble Camp. That's Keenan Wynn on her left.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

When BETTY LIKES joined the Army Nurse Corps last spring she probably had no idea she'd be starring in an M-G-M movie this summer.

But that's just what the young nurse did, according to pictures and information from Camp Pickett, Va. As one of camp nurses, she was recruited for the motion picture camera war entitled "Battle Circus." The film is about the activities of a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) in Korea. The nurses performed double duty during the filming, since they also had their work in the Camp Pickett hospital.

Among Lt. Likes' associates were Humphry Bogart, June Allyson and Keenan Wynn, who is in the picture above.

In the movie the nurses are members of Major Bogart's MASH unit in Korea.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. LIKES of the Humble Camp, Lt. Likes received her civilian nurse training at the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock and later was associated with Odessa Medical Center. Her basic military training was completed at the Army's Fort Sam Houston.

Maybe we can get some first-hand information about the movie, since the lieutenant is expected home Monday on her first leave. Her sister, Miss GLORIA LIKES a nurse at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, is also expected home the last of this month when she'll take her state board examination.

MADAME CHIANG WELCOMED

She will receive medical treatment at an American hospital. A large group of local Chinese were on hand to greet the prominent lady.

Big Maneuvers Right Under Russian Noses

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The free world will parade its military power along the North European rim of the Soviet empire next month in the biggest combined exercises ever staged by the Atlantic Pact nations.

From the Russian - dominated Baltic Sea in the south to the Norwegian-Soviet frontier in the far North, hundreds of warships and planes and thousands of troops will be thrown into "battle" against imaginary aggressor forces striking out from behind the Iron Curtain.

As preparations for "Operation Mainbrace" gathered speed and American minesweepers began clearing Danish waters to forestall any real warlike incidents Communist propaganda against the maneuvers screeched into high gear.

Describing the defense exercise as an "unheard-of provocation" against the Soviet Union, the Red press ominously hinted that "this new proof of Western aggressive intentions" might easily "lead to serious East-West complications in the Baltic."

Starting Sept. 13, "Operation Mainbrace" is scheduled to last for 12 days. The countries taking part are the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Holland, Portugal, Norway and Denmark.

The giant exercise will be touched off by an imaginary attack on Denmark and Norway. More than 150 warships and hundreds of planes will mass in the waters around Denmark for a quick, powerful counter-thrust designed to smash the attackers before they can occupy Denmark.

Military observers here privately describe the maneuver as a direct challenge to Soviet claims to supremacy in the Baltic, where the Red Navy and Air Force recently staged big combined exercises of their own.

Jews Claim Leader Was Victim Of Nazis

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Mourners with placards describing Philip Auerbach as a "victim of Nazi justice" battled police last night following the funeral of the Jewish leader who committed suicide after being convicted of embezzlement and bribe-taking.

One detective was injured and one demonstrator arrested in the clash in Munich's Jewish cemetery.

Auerbach took an overdose of sleeping pills last Saturday. A German court had convicted him of embezzling funds and accepting bribes while head of the Bavarian office for restitution of losses to Jews persecuted by the Nazis. The five-man court included three former Nazis.

First Ride On Pony Is Last For Youth

WESTTOWN, N. Y. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Clarence Arthur Horler couldn't wait to try the new pony his father had bought him.

So he and his father, also named Clarence, saddled the pony yesterdy. Then the father left for his farm chores.

Young Clarence took his first ride — and his last.

He was dragged over a stoney field and through a pond. He died shortly after he was taken to a nearby hospital.

It was not clear what happened, but the father said the boy had tied a rope from his waist to the saddle horn.

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Marshall M. Flanary, 41-year-old carpenter was in Springfield Hospital today for sanity tests which may determine whether or not he is to be flogged with 10 lashes for beating his wife.

Ike Workers Serious About Winning Women Voters Over

DENVER (AP) — Plans are being drafted for a concerted effort to woo the women's vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Some of his aides feel it could mean the margin of victory for the GOP presidential nominee.

Mrs. Roy F. Priest of Utah, assistant national GOP chairman and head of the party's Women's Division, is leading the movement. This tall, pleasant woman has been at Eisenhower's Denver headquarters nearly a week conferring with the general's top advisers.

Today, another 14 leaders of the party's women joined her for a round of conferences and a luncheon discussion with Eisenhower.

Republican strategists are not forgetting the large part women played in many sections in Eisenhower's drive for the nomination. Mrs. Priest is working to repeat that success on a larger scale.

Meanwhile, there were these other developments:

1. A member of the top-level Eisenhower team revealed that Eisenhower headquarters will be moved to New York City's Hotel Commodore next Sunday for the duration of the campaign. The reason: to be more readily accessible to party leaders in Washington and in the more populous Eastern states.

A skeleton headquarters will remain in Denver. The move will be simultaneous with Eisenhower's flight to New York to address the American Legion Convention next Monday.

2. Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, the Republican candidate for vice president, returned to Washington and will base his own campaign there.

3. Eisenhower formally accepted an invitation to speak at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in New York City the week of Sept. 14. The exact date will be picked later.

4. An associate, asking not to be named, said Eisenhower will make an informal appearance at a Labor Day picnic. He said it probably will be in Connecticut. James C. Hagerty, press secretary, said in response to questions that a Connecticut affair was "just one of three under consideration."

5. An Aug. 26 appearance is being planned in New Jersey. State Sen. Macolm S. Forbes said there is a strong possibility Eisenhower will address a meeting of the state's Eisenhower-Nixon Club officers. That is now scheduled for Forbes' home at Far Hills, N. J., but Forbes said it probably would be shifted to Atlantic City. An Eisenhower spokesman said the Forbes' invitation was just one of several still being considered.

6. Eisenhower will not attend the annual convention of Amvets in Grand Rapids, Mich., late this month but he is preparing a message to be delivered to the veterans' organization in his behalf.

7. The general's schedule today included meetings with a group from Louisiana, movie magnate Spyros Skouras and James A. Campbell, president of the American Federation of Government Employees. Eisenhower also was slated to make a recording for the Department of Defense to be played for all troops overseas before they cast absentee ballots. A similar recording is being made by Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson Democratic presidential nominee.

Yesterday, Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania, a key Eisenhower supporter, contended Stevenson had in effect declared the Truman administration is wracked by corruption. Duff pinned his statement on Stevenson's week-end reference to the "mess in Washington" in a letter to the (Portland) Oregon Journal.

Wyoming Gov. Frank L. Barrett, spokesman for a group of 64 Western agricultural leaders who talked two hours with Eisenhower, said they outlined their problems but asked no commitments. Barrett said the general promised to consider their viewpoint but declared he would try to solve their problems on the basis of "what is the best thing for the United States."

William C. Doherty, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL, said Eisenhower told him he is firmly behind the GOP platform plank pledging "a more efficient and frequent mail delivery service."

GARAGIOLA IS OUT

Joe Garagiola of the Pittsburgh Pirates slides into Chicago Cubs catcher Toby Atwell, who holds ball aloft after tagging Garagiola out at the plate in the third inning of the first game of Sunday's doubleheader at Wrigley Field, Chicago. Garagiola was out when he attempted to score from second on third baseman Clem Koshorek's hit to centerfielder Frankie Baumholtz, who threw to the plate. Chicago won the first game 5-2, and lost the second by the same score.

More Trouble For Giants As Durocher Suspended 5 Days

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Time keeps running out and trouble keeps piling up on the harried, injury-riddled and undermanned New York Giants.

Trailing the runaway Brooklyn Dodgers by a fat 7½-game margin, the defending National League champions no sooner arrived in Chicago yesterday for their final Western swing of the year when they were handed another severe jolt.

A telegram from League President Warren Giles advised Leo Durocher that he had been suspended for five days for his run-in with umpire Augie Donatelli last Sunday. A $100 fine also was plastered on the stormy manager of the Giants. The suspension begins today and lasts through Aug. 23.

Durocher, recognized as one of the best managers in baseball generally was credited with doing a magnificent job last season in leading the Giants to their first flag in 14 years. For bringing the team up from a 13½-game deficit as late as Aug. 11, he earned the Manager-of-the-Year Award in the Associated Press poll.

There were many who believed Durocher was doing an even better job of managing this year in keeping the Giants in second place despite such crippling blows as the ankle fracture suffered by Monte Irvin, the loss of Willie Mays to the service, the back ailment of Sal Maglie and the slumping of Bobby Thomson of 1951 playoff fame.

The Giants will have to struggle along without Durocher for six games. They engage the Cubs in a doubleheader today. That means Leo will miss the entire four-game series in Chicago and the two-game set in St. Louis. Coach Fred Fitzsimmons will be in charge during Leo's enforced absence.

In the meantime the Dodgers will open their Western swing in Cincinnati with a twi-night twin bill.

The New York Yankees return home tonight with a nocturnal contest against the Chicago White Sox. Cleveland engages the third-place Red Sox in Boston.

The Yankees took advantage of Cleveland's idleness yesterday, picking up a half game by defeating the Red Sox, 4-2, in Boston. Vic Raschi hurled a five-hitter for his 14th triumph against three loses. Dizzy Trout was the loser, the victim of two-run outbursts in the first and third innings.

In the day's only other action, the Cubs came from behind with a three-run ninth inning rally to nip the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3. Manager Phil Cavaretta propelled the winning blow, a pinch hit homer with a man on base to hand Murry Dickson his 17th defeat. Bob Schultz, in relief, was credited with his third win against one loss.

No Curfew In Texas League Is Kicking Back On Its Leaders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Joe McShane, president of the San Antonio Missions, laments over this fact:

He gets a big crowd out for a double-header featuring the Texas League queen contestants' parade between games and the first appearance in San Antonio of Oklahoma City's negro pitcher, Bill Gleason. So, what happens? The lights have to be kept on almost eight hours and that eats up all the profits.

The boys finish playing at 2:10 a.m. on account of the second game is 19 innings. The fans are worn out, the players beaten to a frazzle and nobody in the crowd is coming back the next night. Thereas a lot of sloppy work done in the San Antonio offices where those sleepy-eyed fans earn their living.

McShane is as responsible as anybody for such a thing. The Texas League voted against any kind of curfew this season. Games can run until daylight if it takes that long to decide them.

The Texas League claims it did this because the major leagues had done away with a curfew. But the majors quit later and voted a curfew back in. The Texas League however, didn't do anything about it—the fellows who guide the Texas League clubs don't want a curfew anyway.

The baseball leaders are worried over the fall-off in interest among the fans. This year they can't blame Gordon McLendon and his major league broadcasts. McLendon was put out of business by the major league clubs refusing to give him broadcast rights. The majors obviously were answering the call of the minors, who thought this was the main reason they were losing attendance.

Now the minors point to television—not the television of ball games but television itself. The fans stay home to see the shows on TV and don't go out to the ball park.

But perhaps TV isn't so much to blame either.

Such burlesques on baseball as playing until 2:10 a.m. and the stalling tactics used by players and managers these days are doing much to drive the fans away.

Some may call it color for the manager to curse the umpire for calling a strike, throw equipment into the air, pitch bats onto the field, kick dirt on the arbiters and have to be escorted from the park by the cops. But it isn't. It's just further slowing down the game and disgusting the fans.

There is no record so far as we know of an umpire ever changing his decision on a strike or a ball or a call at second base.

The club owners could stop this business if they'd just make the managers and players pay their own fines. There is a rule in the Texas League that calls for double the fine against any club that pays the fine of its manager or player, but there's no way to determine whether a club has paid the fine.

Then there is that routine of the batter stepping out of the box to dip his hands into the dirt or knock imaginary mud off his spikes. The pitcher has to step out of the box and again go through his routine of adjusting his cap, hitching up his pants, looking toward all the bases and then firing the ball.

Maybe baseball should check up on itself as to why it is losing fans and leagues. Maybe if it got its game in order it might halt the downward trend.

Blair Cherry, the man who quit as coach at Texas in 1950 then blasted college football and some sports writers in a magazine story, says he was against taking Texas Tech into the Southwest Conference while he was coach but now, since he has lived in Lubbock, he's for it.

The trouble with that kind of business is that Cherry can't do Tech any good now. Naturally a person who lives in that area and makes his living there is going to be for Tech. What Tech needs is backing from the people in the other areas.

Ball Incident Lead To Leo's Being Ousted

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants has been suspended for five days for a run-in with umpire Augie Donatelli during last Sunday's game against the Boston Braves.

The suspension, announced yesterday by National League President Warren Giles, hit the Giants a stiff blow in their race to overtake the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Durocher, who cannot return to the helm until Aug. 23, will miss six games — two doubleheaders against the Chicago Cubs tomorrow and Thursday and two games against the St. Louis Cardinals Friday and Saturday.

In addition, Leo was fined $100 and ordered to stay away from the press box, radio booth or the vacinity of the Giant bench in Chicago and St. Louis. In a suspension earlier this year — a three-day chastisement — Durocher sat in the press box and was reported to have directed his club with hand signals to his coaches.

The incident that led to the suspension occurred in the ninth inning of Sunday's first game of a doubleheader in New York. Boston won the game, 7-3.

When the Giants were changing pitchers in the ninth and Hal Gregg was heading for the mound, Durocher rubbed some dirt on the ball and tossed it to the reliever. Donatelli, working at second base, asked to inspect the ball. Instead, Durocher flipped it to Al Barlick, the plate umpire. Words flared between Durocher and Donatelli.

Suddenly Donatelli's right hand went up in a wide sweep, indicating that Leo was out of the game. Then Leo blew sky-high. It was only by the restraining actions of Charlie Grimm, Braves' manager, and the other umpires that Durocher was kept from taking a punch at Donatelli.

Both Leo and Donatelli raised their fists during the violent argument. Durocher later said he had no idea of striking Donatelli, that he was merely gesticulating.

Middlecoff Is Title Winner

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, followed the playoff route to the $15,000 Kansas City Open golf title for the second consecutive time yesterday.

He shot a 6-under-par 66 — the best round of the tournament — to beat Jack Burke Jr. of Houston Tex., by six strokes. The two wound up the regulation 72 holes Sunday with 276 totals.

Last year Middlecoff also finished in a tie at the end of 72 holes. In a three-way playoff, he took the title by edging Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.

Middlecoff is playoff conscious. Only last week he lost a playoff to Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., in the $25,000 "World" Golf Tournament at Chicago.

For yesterday's victory he pocketed $2,400 plus a share of the day's gate receipts paid by a crowd of 2,000. Burke's 72 brought him $1,800 in second-place prize money. He also shared in the gate receipts.

No Champions Left In National Amateur Golf Championship

SEATTLE, Aug. 19 (AP)—The men's National Amateur Golf Championship, the ranks stripped of its last two champions, swung into the second round of match play today with the remaining challengers crowding into the spotlight.

Belted to the sidelines in the day's two most startling upsets were the defending champion, Billy Maxwell from Odessa, Tex., and the 1950 kingpin of the nation's amateurs, Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y.

Dusk was settling over the Seattle country club's green acres when the familiar "unknown" Ira D. Gruber, a fine hitting, calm young man from Pottstown, Pa., disposed of Maxwell on the 21st hole.

Earlier in the day, Urzetta, whose 39-hole victory over Frank Stranahan at Minneapolis in 1950 was the longest overtime match in the tournament's history, fell before Marion (Sonny) Hiskey, 21-year-old player from Twin Falls, Idaho.

Cruber, a mere 18 years of age, and a sophomore at Duke, sank an eight foot putt for a birdie three on the 21st to win. Maxwell had missed his putt from 15 feet out.

Hiskey, a member of North Texas State College's National Collegiate team champions this year, and Idaho and Utah champion, ended Urzetta's hopes with a chip shot dead to the pin for a birdie four on the 18th green.

Maxwell's defeat carried on a jinx line string for the champions dating back to 1935. No champion has retained his title since California's great Lawson Little made it two in a row that year.

Today, in contrast to yesterday's organized confusion, 64 matches were on the schedule. Included in the field were the survivors of 72 matches yesterday, plus 56 fortunate individuals who drew first round byes.

Still on hand for today's play were some of the best amateurs in the world. Included were: Harvie Ward, Jr., the current British Amateur champion from Tarboro, N. C., Frank Stranahan, twice British champion, once runner-up for the U. S. title, and one of the finest week-in, week-out amateurs in action.

Mrs. Mary Redinger and Billy Redinger of Odessa were visitors ... Snyder Saturday ... with the O. C. Stanley family, Greenfield Addition.

Detroit Lions Win Pro Game

AMARILLO, Aug. 19 (AP)—Amarillo football fans didn't see much of their favorites, Doak Walker and Bobby Layne, here last night but they did see a fellow named Jim Hardy of Southern California, who stepped in to do much of the passing for the Detroit Lions in a 28-13 victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

It was Detroit's first exhibition game in the National Football League.

Layne went in to spark the Lions to their first touchdown in the first period. He threw 48 yards to Cloyce Box, the former West Texas State star. From then on Hardy did most of the quarterbacking.

Prophetic Pyramid Points To Aug. 20, 1953 As Big Event

CAIRO, Aug. 19 (AP) — What will happen on Aug. 20, 1953?

Will that day mark the beginning of World War III? An earthquake which will ravage half the world? The death of Stalin? The re-appearnce of Hitler

Some people are convinced the day will be a major historical event. Because, they say, Aug. 20, 1953 is one of the significant dates mysteriously pointed out in the construction stones of Egypt's Great Pyramid.

Others say there is nothing to it —that it's all nonsense.

The Great Pyramid, located just outside Cairo, was built some 5,000 years ago. It is the burial place of the Pharaoh Cheops. With two smaller pyramids — build under the Pharaohs Kephren and Mykerinos — and the Sphinx, it forms a compound which the ancients acclaimed as one of the world's seven wonders.

Egypt has 60 pyramids, but it is the Great Pyramid of Cheops that has intrigued generations of researchers and mystic thinkers.

Georges Barbarin, a Frenchman, in a book published in 1936 contended that the significant dates of history are figured in the Great Pyramid by the intersection of the lines of the ceilings, of the floors, the corridors or the rooms with the various axes of the monument, and the projection of thresholds and entrances or exits of the various galleries.

By Barbarin's calculations, the intersection of the ground line projected from the first ascending passage with the axial line of the entrance passage and the descending passage works out to April 4, 1486 BC — the date of the great exodus of Israel from Egypt. The date of the Nativity is represented by the level of the floor of the Queen's room.

J. P. Lauer, chief architect with the Egyptian antiquities department, rejects all the mystic theories.

In his book, "The Problem of Egypt's Pyramids," Lauer, a Frenchman, claims all calculations based on measurement of the pyramids are started on false or distorted date, Says Lauer:

"Our theorists are agreed to consider the end of the great gallery, that is the foot of its southern wall, and the beginning of the low passage leading tothe anteroom, as corresponding to the date of the outbreak of World War I — 1914."

Then Lauer lists these other dates "found" by the theorists: 1918, the end of World War I. Aug. 20, 1938 — Nov. 27, 1939— March 3 and 4, 1945 — Feb. 18, 1946, and Aug. 20, 1953.

None of these dates, argues Lauer, has marked any significant event. Aug. 20, 1953, of course, is still to come.

Lauer notes a cataclysm was predicted for 1920 and 1922 in the Mediterranean. Another mathematician figured the battle of Armageddon would take place in 1936 "after the Holy Land is invaded by Russia and its allies."

Strangely, Lauer continued, none of the pyramid prophets predicted the date of the outbreak of World War II.

But, he said, in 1942 the prophets said they had started it all wrong and again the calculations were undertaken. This time they came up with Sept. 2, 1939 outbreak of World War II, May 10, 1940 Hitler's invasion of Russia.

Unfortunately, other dates resulting from the new calculation are June 22, 1940 and Sept. 19, 1942, the latter supposedly marking an armistice in Europe. Those proved either insignificant or wrong.

Anyway, mark Aug. 20, 1953 on your calendar, and see what happens.

Omaha Man Constructs Own Year-Round Air Conditioning

OMAHA, Neb. Aug. 19 (AP)—An Omaha man, at an original outlay of around $300, has provided himself a system that heats his home in winter and air conditions it during the summer at an annual operating cost of less than $100.

Part of the economy secret is the 65-foot well which George Meester laboriously dug in his basement. From it comes water constantly at a temperature of 53 to 55 degrees. The water cools the house during the summer to a comfortable 75 degrees, even on hot days.

The economy comes also from small, inexpensively run motors.

The whole thing reflects the savvy of its builder, who had been in the air conditioning, heating and ventilating business for years until disability overtook him eight years ago.

Meester, 36, built the system 12 years ago and it has been doing the job ever since.

The main unit is a box 2½ feet by 4 feet and 3 feet high. Inside are (1) air filters, of the kind found in any forced air furnace; (2) a home made gadget for purifying and deodorizing the air; (3) a coil through which hot water passes in winter, cold water in summer; (4) the blower and a one-sixth horsepower motor that turns it.

Air from the basement enters one end of the box. It emerges from the other end —pure, odor-free, heated or cooled, moistened or dehumidified as the season dictates.

Ducts then carry the air to the home's five rooms.

Here's how the system works during the summer.

A pump, governed by an upstairs thermostat, pumps water from the well through the coil at a rate up to 400 gallons an hour. As forced air passes the coil it is dehumidified and cooled.

In winter, the well isn't used. Instead, Meester has a gas fired boiler. It uses just enough water to keep the pipes filled. A small pump keeps the water circulating through the coils. Water is heated only to 120 degrees and only minutes are required to bring the water up to this temperature.

Meester says he could not have built the apparatus at he low $300 cost had he not been in the air conditioning business. He scavenged for used materials, utilized wholesale connections and did the work himself. The coil, for instance, cost him $15. It would cost around $250 to replace.

A commercial air conditioning unit alone, to handle the job done by Meester's unit, might cost nowadays around $1,500.

Workers in Both Parties Try To Get Lazy Voters to Polls

WASHINGTON, Aug 19 (AP) — "Oh, my vote won't count."

That popular American expression will make workers in both Republican and Democratic headquarters see red just now.

In both offices they are trying to spur precinct workers on to new get - out - the - vote heights with stories of elections won and lost by tiny margins.

Republican researchers say that in 1884 an average of less than one vote in each New York precinct would have elected Republican James G. Blaine president insteda of Democrat Grover Cleveland. Blaine needed only 1,149 more New York votes out of the state's 1,125,159 to win the state and thereby the national election.

In 1916, the Republicans say, Woodrow Wilson won the election from Republican Charles Evans Hughes by less than one vote per precinct in California. Wilson's margin in California was only 3,806 votes in nearly a million votes cast. There were more than 5,000 precincts in the state.

The Republicans also dug up the votes in Ohio and California during the 1948 campaign, when Republican Thomas E. Dewey lost to Democrat Harry S. Truman.

Their study says that if those two states had fallen into the Republican column the election would have been thrown into the House of Representatives. There the decision may or may not have meant a Democratic victory. The House majority that year was Democratic.

Ohio was lost to the Republicans by 7,107 votes in 9,147 precincts and California by 17,865 votes in 16,802 precincts. In each state an average of about one more vote in each precinct would have meant victory for the Republicans.

The Republicans, who have done a more searching job on this narrow-margin problem than the Democrats, also list several governors' seats won or lost by a small margin.

They report:

In 1950 Democrat G. Mennen Williams won the governorship of Michigan by only 1,154 votes out of the 1,880,000 cast. An average of only one more vote in one third of Michigann's 4,360 precincts would have put a Republican in.

Commuter Comes Up With New Way Of Writing Congress

CHAPPAQUA N. Y. — A commuter has come up with a comparatively painless, completely non - partisan way to write your congressman.

William Cabell, a New York attorney who—like about a million other people—spends considerable time each day riding to and from his work, took to worrying a few months ago about his opinions and their lack of proper outlet.

"I'd get all steamed up in transit about UMT, or the Clark appointment to the Vatican, or about televising public hearings," he explained," and decide I'd write a letter to my Congressman. But by the time I got to the office or along and I'd never get around to home, something else would come it."

He decided long ago that there should be some way for elected representatives to have an idea about what people in their districts were thinking about issues.

He was, and is, an independent in politics and never has done anything more politically significant than polls-watching. But now he finds himself editor and publisher of a small, highly non-profit experiment called the "Voters Voce."

"Most people just don't take time and trouble to write those letters," he said. "I don't care what people think about things, but do think they should let what they think be known. Most Congressmen get mail from pressure groups. If a Congressman wants to get a general reaction, he has to depend on polls."

Cabell got his brother, R. A. Cabell, and a neighbor, C. L. Baldwin, Jr., interested in the idea as a public service. Working weekends and evenings, the three young men put together their first newsletter containing briefed-down descriptions of pending federal and state legislation of general interest. William Cabell watched the newspapers for cues and then researched the subject in tomes like the Congressional Record. Each item contains short, non-editorial summaries of pro and con arguments on the subject.

The last page of each monthly "Voters Voice" is a series of preaddressed communications to Congressmen, Senators and Assemblymen stating, for example, "I favor - oppose House Bill 5715 to increase G. I.'s pay because...." Then follows two blank lines for reasons, and room for the citizen's name and address.

"All you have to do, "Cabell said, "is fill in your own reasons, stick the note in an envleope and send it off."

Last month they sent complimentary samples to a few thousand persons living in their neighborhood in northern Westchester County. A year's subscription costs $1 (and doesn't cover costs). They received better than 10 per cent subscription returns.

"A lot of people are still suspicious of it," Cabell said. "They keep looking for an angle or a gimmick. It's so simple they just can't believe it's just what it proclaims itself to be."

Meanwhile, they informed their duly elected representatives in Washington and the state capital of the project. They have received very cautious, non-committal notes back.

"I guess they are afraid we have another pressure group in the making," he said. "If this thing really gets going, it might make a difference in the way they voted on things which affect us."

Rubber Type That Carries Own Ink May Change Printing

NEW YORK — A thirsty new rubber is bringing change into printing. This rubber is porous, and soaks up five miles its own weight in ink, becoming a non-spillable inkwell. Fashoned into type, it will print hundreds of times without re-inking.

A stamp with your name on it prints a half-mile of your own signature on letters, without touching an inking pad.

Wooden handles with rubber-type numbers on one end mark prices on canned goods, cucumbers, the wax paper of bread, moist frozen packages or other items as fast as a clerk can touch them.

Bank tellers are using pencils that stamp their initials on deposit slips, then put the pencil in their pockets without risk of soiling their clothes.

Special stamps can print in two to three colors at the same moment, without smudging the colors.

And coming are cash registers and accounting machines with wheels of rubber type that eliminate ribbons, inking rolls, and some of the space - taking mechanisms of present machines. Ink feeds from a reservoir through a tube to the rubber type.

Typewriters without ribbons, made of rubber type, also are envisioned.

The rubber was developed by the research laboratories of the National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio.

The rubber is a honeycomb of flexible rubber with interconnected pores that feed ink to the surface of the rubber plate by capillary or wick action. It feeds just enough ink to the surface for the next inking impression.

Special inks were developed for various purposes. Signature stamps or price-marking stamps are easily refilled when the rubber reservoir runs dry.
