BY SUE CANNON

Mrs. Ben Henson sent in some little quips that gave us a lift when we read them so, we'll pass them on to you.

Caught for speeding through the village, the tourist was taken before the justice of peace and fined $20. He pulled four $10 bills from his pocket and threw them on the roll top desk.

"Wait a minute!" said the J. P. "I said $20 and you've given me $40."

"I know," said the departing tourist, "Keep it! I aim to get out of this town just as fast as I came in!"

Before going to bed, five-year-old Mary asked for a banana. Her mother told her that bananas were indigestible at night and would keep her awake.

Mary then asked, "But, how do bananas know whether it is day or night?"

The Secretary of Agriculture speaking before the National Press Club in Washington, D. C. on April 3, 1973 made a very important statement that should be repeated many times:

Housewives who are boycotting food: take your placards and your signs, take your pickets and your lines, take your microphones and march to the doors of Congress. There you will find those budget breakers, those spenders, those financial irresponsible people who have raised the price of your grocery cart - raised the prices of your family car - raised the prices of your medical care - raised the level of your rent - raised the level of your interest rates - and raised your taxes. Unless these spenders are sobered by your uprising, they will raise both your cost and your taxes once again.

Probably one of the largest contributors to the cost of food outside of inflation is the many laws passed by Congress outlawing the use of certain chemicals and added cost of production due to pollution control requirements.

Debra Sweatt Wins At State

Achievement of a coveted state award is a dream come true for Deborah Sweatt, OHS senior. Miss Sweatt's impressive 99.8 score in shorthand competition brought laurels for herself and Olton High School.

Competition was determined by school rank and five first place winners were named. Miss Sweatt's score was the highest of the five winners.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Sweatt, Deborah is only the second OHS student to win first place in literary competition on the state level Sandee Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gregory, won first place in journalism in feature writing in 1968.

Miss Sweatt became interested in shorthand last year after watching others writing. She was modestly surprised to be a district winner. She went on to take the regional win at Odessa and earn the right to compete in last weekend's contests in Austin.

The state contest is five minutes dictation at 100 words per minute which must be transcribed and typed. Judges consider the typed work for accuracy and, in the event of a tie, then determine the winner by the time of the contestants.

The new state winner hopes to find a summer job in Amarillo and enroll this fall in Amarillo College. She plans to study to become a medical office secretary.

Miss Sweatt was accompanied to Austin by her instructor, Mrs. Don Spain and by high school principal Robert Sivley.

FIRST PLACE STATE WINNER - Deborah Sweatt finished on top in Class AA division competition in the State UIL shorthand contests last Saturday in Austin. She holds the championship plaque which will be displayed at the school and is shown with her certificate and medals.

Ambulance Runs To Continue Here

A unanimous vote by councilmen Tuesday night in regard to ambulance service for the area assured another year's service for local residents.

Councilmen agreed to pay Parsons Funeral Home the sum of $400 per month for the next twelve months so that ambulance service might be continued.

Percy Parsons, speaking to the council, said that with pending legislation concerning ambulance service that it would be necessary to review this agreement after the twelve month period.

"If the bill passes which is in legislature now, we can live with it for a year. Then within the next three years, major adjustments would have to be made. After a period of five years, following passage, a new car would have to be purchased to meet requirements."

In other action, the council heard a request from R. J. Turner, Turner Shamrock, concerning an adjustment on the bid price of gasoline for the city's use.

Turner stated that with the increases which he had received in the past few months and the possibility of other increases in the future, that he would like for the council to agree to make adjustments accordingly so that he might maintain a small percentage of profit. Council agreed unanimously.

Purchase of street signs were discussed and a resolution adopted concerning these purchases. Traffic safety signs (yield, stop, etc) will be purchased in cooperation with the State and cost of installation will be paid by the State. Resolution was adopted unanimously.

In final action, councilmen gave Orian Hackler the "go-ahead" to purchase a mosquito fogger at a cost of $1295. Earlier plans for a fogger had failed to materialize and the city is left with only the "duster" machine.

"I'm against taking the money, but we simply cannot continue to operate with a deficit and we certainly don't want to leave the community without service," Parsons told the council.

Watering Regulations Now In Effect For City

Summer watering regulations have been adopted by the city council once again in order to conserve the city's water supply.

Persons living on the west side of Main will be allowed to water lawns and gardens each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Those on the east side of Main will water on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Sunday will be open for everyone to use water.

Water regulations will apply not only to residences, but to churches and schools, councilmen said.

Beef Mobile To Make Stop Here Friday

The Texas Beef Mobile will make a stop in Olton Friday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., according to Mrs. Charles Koontz, member of local Cowbelles Association.

The unit will be parked west of Kelley's on the "square" and everyone is invited to come by and register for a prime cut of beef which will be given away at a 5 p.m. drawing. Persons 18 years of age and older may register for the free cut of beef, and do not have to be present to win. Free recipes will be distributed also.

The Beef Mobile is sponsored by Radio Station KGNC, Texas Cattleman and The Cowbelles. Assisting at the mobile unit will be Mrs. Jay Pike and Mrs. Koontz.

Former Olton Woman Seeking Success In Exciting Career

A formidable but exciting and challenging career as the area's first woman commodities registered representative is being eagerly and capably pursued by an Olton native, Mrs. W. Fred Borden, the former Carolyn Osthus.

Mrs. Borden took her commodities examinations last summer and received registration in late autumn when she joined A. G. Edwards and Sons Inc. when the firm opened its Lubbock office in January.

A 1964 graduate of Olton High School and an alumna of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, Mrs. Borden entered the world of economy speculation through a series of jobs, each lasting two to three months.

With each job, she says, came the opportunity to learn a new and different field. Her interest in the field of commodities was born while she was working as a brokerage house secretary.

She spent a year preparing for her initial exams, studying materials as they became available to her. "It ordinarily doesn't take that long," she says. "I was more of less familiarizing myself with the markets."

"The more I learned, the more I wanted to know and the more I knew the more my interest intensified."

"I determined," she says, "that here is a field in which I wouldn't be limited to a set salary, set hours or set anything... my time would be my own."

"Very soon," she says, "I will enter a six-month training program in preparation for my examination as a stock broker also."

By virtue of her trading papers, she is currently allowed to deal "strictly" in commodity futures - a situation easily rectified by successful completion of the additional education.

Caprock Water Ass'n. Meeting To Be Held Here

Olton will be host city for the annual Caprock Water association Meeting, scheduled for May 17.

The meeting will get underway at 6 p.m., with a meal to be served at 6:30 p.m. A program on environmental control will be presented.

Lamb County hail suppression program has begun and Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ball, Mrs. Borden plies her skills amidst a world of male customers and cohorts.

"Early in conversation with prospective clients they quickly detect if you know what you're talking about," she says. "When they feel secure, there's no problem."

Customers and contemporaries have "completely accepted" her, she says, and treat her with equal respect.

Mrs. Borden is careful not to let business supplant her life at home with her husband and two small children, Cory, five, and Robin, three.

She confesses to being "career minded" but says her husband initially encouraged her to seek the occupational fulfillment.

"The opportunities are virtually unlimited," she avows, "and when I put forth my best efforts, the results are certainly there."

"I hope I'm still selling futures when I reach age 65."

continued protection will be offered for the next six months.

A total of 960 square miles has been designated as the area to be covered by the program.

Acquired at a cost of $100,000 approximately, two planes will be available, plus a new radar system. The planes will be based at Littlefield.

Dear Editor

To the people of Olton.

It is difficult to find words to say thank you for the many things you have done for us through the years.

These last few days have been the most joy-filling of all. One forgets how many nice people there are in his or her community until a time like this.

Olton will never have a nicer or more professional group of teachers as well as the ex-teachers who worked to make our reception a success. Others were included in this, too.

We consider it our good fortune to have had the privilege of working and serving in Olton Community these many years, the best years of our lives.

May God bless and help Olton to remain an ever growing community. We thank you so much.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Sunday is a special day - a day which should be celebrated every day of the year and not set aside for that once-a-year observance.

Mothers have been described so beautifully by many writers - people who have such marvelous talent for putting together just the right words.

And, yet, mothers are so very frequently taken for granted by those of us who accept God's greatest blessings as ours by design.

An old Jewish proverb says it well, "God could not be everywhere, so He made mothers."

The following is copied from an old, old Mother's Day card I found in my mother's keepsakes.

"A mother is a wonderful creature constructed almost entirely of love and this she can express in a million ways, from hugs and kisses, and good cooking, and patient listening to stern lectures, strict rules, and repeated use of the word 'No!'"

Like snowflakes, no two mothers are alike, but they have a number of things in common.

Name anything...a mother can be found washing it, roasting it, polishing it, getting rid of it, repairing it, spanking it, packing it, teaching it, redecorating it, loving it, or talking it over at PTA.

A mother cares about and for almost everything: gardens, pets, the state of the nation, the worn spot in the rug, hungry people, and most of all, "Father" and her children. For these she can do anything, dare anything, and fight for anything necessary to their happiness.

A mother is not always an angel. She will often disagree with you...expect too much of you...question your choice of friends...and bring up the subject of work when you feel the least energetic. But she's always ready to help when you need her.

You don't always tell a mother how much you love her, or how much you hope the most wonderful things in the world will come to her because there are no words that express feelings so deep and sincere.

Somehow, though, you feel she understands what's in your heart.

Mothers always do!"

Religious Count To Be Made

A religious census of the city and outlying area, including most of the school district, will be conducted Sunday afternoon, May 20.

Churches participating in the census are Church of the Nazarene, Assembly of God, First United Methodist, First Baptist, Trinity Mission, Hope-well Baptist, Main Street Church of Christ and Cumberland Presbyterian.

Volunteer workers from the participating churches will conduct the canvass. Workers will meet at 12:30 in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church for lunch, instructions and assignments.

The census will begin at 1 p. m. and should be completed before 4 p. m. Persons who know they will not be at home during that time are asked to fill in the census blank printed on page 2 of this paper and leave the blank on their door for workers to collect.

After completion of the census, workers will return to the Methodist Church and cards will be sorted and distributed to the participating churches.

MRS. ORIAN HACKLER

Recipes Of The Week

Recipes are shared this week by a mother and grandmother who also claims a school bus load of boys and girls as her "kids". She is very quick to describe those boys and girls as "the best kids on the best route."

Edisy Hackler has compiled nine years as a bus driver although they are divided into periods of three and six years with a separation of time dividing. Her route is to gather children from the Hart Camp Community

Step-daughter of Mrs. Jettie Lawson and daughter of the late Pink Lawson who holds the record for the most years service as a bus driver for Olton schools, Edisy has lived at Olton since she was 10 years old. She came here with her family from Oklahoma.

Edisy's own children are grown and married. Her sons, Max and Kent Wozencraft, live in Riverside, Calif. Max and his wife, Monda, have two sons, Bobby and Devin. Kent and Nancy are the parents of three daughters, Kim, Lisa and eight-month-old Tammy who stayed with her grandparents about three months early this year while her mother recuperated from surgery.

Jolene, Edisy's eldest daughter, lives with her husband, Freddie Burgess, and daughters, Sherry, Janice and Danette, in Big Spring. Nora Lee Martin is the mother of two daughters and a son, Rhonda, Keith and Kayla.

One of Edisy's favorite hobbies is keeping an album of photos made of her husband's paintings. Orian, a self-taught artist who completes a painting in very short time, keeps few of his paintings so Edisy's album is really a history book of his work.

Edisy also likes to sew and enjoys playing cards.

The Hacklers have two Chihuahuas, Tinker Bell and Tinker Bell II. Their most recent addition to the family is a small black poodle, named Bridget. Getting Bridget provided Edisy with the unusual experience of meeting a plane in Lubbock for the arrival of three California-born poodles, sent by Kent to his mother and sisters.

Edisy says the recipes she shares are easy ones and some which have become favorites with her family. The banana cake is a recipe she just recently got during a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Tom Lawson of Guntersville, Ala.

Mrs. Roye Aikman Directs Continued Study Of India

Mrs. Roye Aikman presented a continuation of the study of "India" at Monday evening's meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First United Methodist Church.

Education was the primary topic of study. Mrs. Aikman pointed out that education in India today seeks more toward reaching the practical needs of the people, instructing them in ways to make a living, rather than "textbook education."

Caste system is changing in India, she said, because of education. Less than 30 percent of India's people are literate.

Newspapers are restricted to the cities and are government controlled. Papers which print information not approved by the government are cut off from newsprint and forced to cease publication or print what the government wants made public.

Twenty-seven persons read one copy of India's largest newspaper turning its 160,000 circulation into something approximating four million readers.

Only one percent of the people, those in power or high-ranking Indians, read English.

Thick As A Brick

By Max Moss

We're sorry about last week's column, but somehow our efficient approvers didn't turn it in. Well the 1973 and the 1940 Athletic Banquet is over. Steve Lewis received the Fighting Heart, Best Student Athlete, and Best All-Around Football Player Award. Tim Givens received the Most Valuable Trackman and the Best Basketball Player Awards. For the girls basketball awards, Susie Culwell received the best forward and J Carol Criswell received the best guard award. Donna Hodges got the Most Valuable Girls Trackman. Keith Workman was offered the FCA Award, but he turned it down in protest to the Wounded Knee incident, so Mark Gunter received it. Best Defensive Football Player was Jimmy McCurry. Kenneth Burgess was named Most Valuable Golfer.

The 1973-1974 Cheerleaders were also announced at the banquet and they are Robin Criswell (Head), Jenny Lynn Gunter, Cindy Neinst, Kathy Ahrens, Brenda Lawson, and Janet DePrang. Congratulations to all you young beauties and good luck in the upcoming seasons.

O.H.S. is extremely proud of Debra Sweatt. She won the State UIL Shorthand Saturday in Austin. You might think that Debra is a book worm, but she's one of the coolest girls in school, so don't get the wrong impression. Congratulations Debra!

Well, its finally getting close to the end of the dulltest thing in the world, school! No joke you couldn't sharpen this place with a Ronco knife sharpener. We're all gonna be a bunch of basket cases before graduation. In case your wondering, a basket case ain't no picnic.

Just think folks, summer time. That's a nice thought-parking under trees on main street, playing with frisbees and footballs and finally growing your hair out of a flat top. But that's not all, there's going to the show and parking behind a pickle truck, getting run out of the pool hall or getting your windshield knocked out at a baseball game. Face it there ain't nothin' like it, but its always so short. I mean you look forward to it for 9 long months and it's always over before you've had a chance to get untracked. But its always still the best time of year so don't be pessimistic.

Do you know why the skeleton wouldn't cross the road? Because he didn't have the guts!

Little spider on the wall, Ain't you got no sense at all, Can't you see that walls been plastered, So get off that wall you stupid spider!

"The column was short and sweet but thoroughly enjoying, wouldn't you say so Max?" "Absolutely smashing Keith, I believe I would say so!" O. K. then, say it!" Alright, Alright it was thoroughly enjoying!" Adios Space Ghost
