To the Voters of Houston County

It will be impossible for me to see each voter in Houston county before the primary election, as I haven't any conveyance in which to canvass the county as I would like to. I am doing my very best under present circumstances. Will try and see as many as I possibly can. Should I not get to have a personal talk with you do not feel that I have over looked you. I am greatly interested in my campaign and want your vote. If you will give me your support it will be highly appreciated and if elected I promise you faithful service.

I am yours very truly,
Mrs. R. D. (Ethel) Calhoun
(Political Adv.)

Musical Recital

Mrs. A. O. Riall presented her pupils in a musical recital at the auditorium last Thursday night. There were twenty-three numbers on the program and each pupil executed his piece in a manner that showed he had had careful training. A large crowd was present to enjoy the program.

Whiskey Still Captured and Negro Arrested

Local officers went out to the negro settlement Friday night and took into custody Oscar Hart, colored. Hart was arrested at his home and was just in the act of running off a little home brew when the officers interfered. They destroyed about ten gallons of sour mash and a small quantity of whiskey.

Hart was brought to town and placed in the calabose and the still was left on the sidewalk in front of Smith & Ryan's drug store, but next morning the evidence had been destroyed and Hart had made his escape from his cell by prizing loose the iron bars.

Some time Saturday he returned to his home and sent the officers word he would be there when they wanted him.

UNION DOTS

Union, May 29.—Many from this community attended the Children's Day affair at New Prospect yesterday. All report a fine time and plenty of good dinner.

Prewitt DuBose, who has been teaching school at Hemphill, is now at home mingling with old friends.

Chris Chaffin has returned home from west Texas.

The Union Literary Society, which was supposed to meet last Friday night, was postponed one week. We regret that we had to do this on such short notice, but it was almost a necessity since one of the characters in the most important part was sick, and also because of the commencement exercises at Grapeland. However, we have improved our program and are going to make up for lost time. So be sure and come Friday night if you want to enjoy yourself.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haltom visited Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pennington Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Chris Chaffin and Miss Jonnie DuBose left Saturday for Dallas, where they will visit relatives a few days, and from there they will visit Mr. John Killion and family at Lamesa.

Graduation Exercises Held Friday Night

The Grapeland school for the 1921-1922 has now passed into history, the last of the exercises having been held at the auditorium last Friday night when the graduates received their diplomas.

Friday morning at 8 o'clock, graduation exercises were held for the seventh grade, when they were given diplomas passing them into the high school. Mr. W. A. Riall addressed the class and delivered diplomas to the following:

Leon Clewis, George Adair, Pete Murchison, Mulkey Owens, Guy Newman, Rosalie Howard, Lena Clewis, Anna Cecil Lively, Edwina Haltom, Marjorie Leaverton, Julia Luce, Pearl Murchison, Ruby Haynes, Ardis Murray, Harry Jones, Mary Sam Howard, A. B. Guice Jr., Louise Hague, Myrtle Collins, Guy Ed Brewton and Mae Belle Williams.

The exercises Friday night were very inspiring and enjoyed by a capacity audience. The main feature of the program was the address of Dr. J. L. Clark, head of the History Department, Sam Houston Normal.

Frank Granberry delivered the welcome address and delivered the key of knowledge to the juniors, which was accepted for them by Miss Ida Mae Herod. Miss Zelda Herod gave the class history: Miss Elizabeth Leaverton delivered an address as president of the class. There were papers by Miss Gladys Beeson and Lawson Payne: a poem by Miss Elma Lea Tyer; class prophecy by Ottis Pelham. Spurgeon Payne was the giftorian and Rencher Brewton delivered the farewell address. Mr. W. D. Granberry, president of the school board, in a few well chosen words, gave the graduates their diplomas.

SALMON ITEMS

Salmon, May 29.—Bud Glinn was transferred to Phelps Monday of last week, where he took charge of that section for the I. & G. N.

A good number of our people attended the children's day service at New Prospect Sunday. All report a nice time and a splendid program and lots of good dinner. The writer has been laboring with these big dinners every Sunday in this month and have an invitation to several others. Think we can do a pretty good part by them if we can just get there.

Since we started this letter we learn that another house burned in Salmon. The house belonged to grandfather LaRue, and was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Percie Smith. The fire was said to have originated from a spark out of the stove pipe. It caught about 12:30 o'clock Monday and burned to the ground. Practically everything in the house was burned as Mr. Smith was away from home. Brother Campbell and Odis Salmon came to the scene and helped to save a few things.

E. C. Glinn went to Houston

Sunday School Report From New Prospect

We all enjoyed our "Sunday School Rally" very much. Every one acted their part well, and also enjoyed a nice dinner.

There were visitors from several communities and we appreciated their attendance. There were several songs sung by some of the visitors. We were very glad to have their help in our singing.

There will be a play entitled "The Conversion of a bad man," in three acts. Everybody is invited to come and bring someone with you.

Good Advice

A portly woman had, by mistake, taken a seat in a railway coach reserved for smokers. With unconcealed indignation she saw the man next to her fill his pipe.

"Sir," she said in frigid tones, "smoking always makes me ill."

The man calmly lit his pipe and puffed contentedly, and at the same time replied:

"Does it, ma'am? Well, take my advice and give it up."

Gentlemen, we have got to fight the boll weevil. I was riding home last night in my car when a boll weevil hopped onto my shoulder and said:

"Let me drive a little."

"No!" I said.
 "Aw, come on! Lemme drive," he persisted.

"Absolutely nothing doing," I said.

"Might as well let me drive your old car," the boll weevil drawled, "cause I'm going to take it away from you next year, anyhow."

Seven Miles Either Direction
 A man driving across the country in western Kansas met a farmer hauling a wagon-load of water. "Where do you get water?" he asked.

"Up the road about seven miles," the farmer replied.

"And you haul water seven miles for your family and stock?"
 "Yep."

"Why in the world don't you dig a well?" asked the traveler excitedly.

"Because, stranger," the farmer said firmly, "it's just as fur one way as the other."

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

TAXI FLAPPERETTE MAKES HER BOW

Miss Katherine Gilgore—who is she? No matter, she startled even Atlantic City, N. J., when she appeared in her black and white knickerbocker costume and was immediately dubbed "The Taxi Flapperette," as she strolled the famous boardwalk.

The Crime Wave

Crime is on the increase regardless of the statements of clerical pulpit parasites who say the world is getting better. There are unmistakable reasons for the increase.

First: Your children are not taught the Bible. Less than twenty-five per cent of the children of the country can recite the Ten Commandments correctly. Ignorance of the Bible increases crime.

Second: You have preached that damnable crime producing lie, namely, "there is no sin," until its effect is now felt in the wave of theft, arson and murder.

Third: You have yielded to the infamous, demon-possessed-feminine-maudlin sentiment which looks upon the criminal as a hero and the jails as rest resorts until you have destroyed the idea of punishment. Consequently, crime increases.

Fourth: Your lax, criminally lax, enforcement of law has increased crime. Your juries are without judicial conscience or a penal backbone. Their sentences are a curse to law and an encouragement to the criminal.

The time has come to demand that all people, and especially the courts and their officers, shall respect law and enforce its stern demands upon criminal regardless of political fear or favor.—M. A. Matthews.

Reducing the Cost

When a manufacturing firm discovers some other firm is manufacturing goods cheaper they immediately begin an intensive campaign to reduce the cost of their own production so as to meet competitive prices with a margin of profit. The farmers of Texas can well profit by this spirit. He may not be able to control the market, but he has much to do with acre-production so vitally connected with the cost of production. By following such cultural practices as will build up the soil and enable him to produce forty bushels of corn on one acre instead of ten bushels and one bale of cotton to the acre instead of one-third of a bale the farmer may greatly reduce the cost of production and thus be in a better position to make a profit at a much smaller price per bushel of corn or pound of cotton than the man who produces only ten bushels of corn to the acre. This by no means makes it necessary for him to cultivate the usual number of acres, but makes it possible for him to greatly reduce the number of acres cultivated and consequent labor losses, etc., and yet harvest the same amount of produce. The farm is one of the biggest businesses in each community and when business methods are applied better results will be obtained. Increased quality and acre production are in the hands of the farmers and these are vital elements in the prosperity of our rural communities as well as the congested centers.—A. & M. Farm News.

A Wonderful Tree

What is said to be the most valuable pecan tree in the United States is owned by A. B. Roth, a farmer living near Concrete, Texas. Mr. Roth is planting the nuts of this tree for a 100-acre pecan orchard. When the little pecan trees that have grown from these nuts are two years old they will be grafted with buds from the parent tree. This will insure that the 1600 trees on the 100 acres will bear nuts of the same quality as the parent tree. Mr. Roth has refused $1000 for this parent tree. Authorities on pecan growing say that the tree should make a fortune for Mr. Roth in ten years.

A man passes for what he is worth. What he is, engages itself on his face, on his form, on his fortunes, in letters of light. Concealment avails him nothing, boasting nothing. There is confession in the glance of our eyes, in our smiles, in salutation, and the grasp of hands. His sin bedaubed him, mars all good impressions. Men know not why they do not trust him, but they do not trust him. His vice glasses his eyes, cuts lines of mean impression in his cheeks, pinches his nose, sets the mark of the beast on the back of his head, and writes: O fool! fool! on the forehead of a king.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Everything a Good Drug Store Should Have

W. B. DuBose of Route 1 recently made a trip to his old home in Alabama, where he spent several days amid scenes of his childhood days. Mr. DuBose left Alabama when seventeen years of age and this was his first visit since leaving. He said the country had made such a change that he hardly recognized anything.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

Sale Opens Friday, June 2, at 9 O'clock

$21,000 Stock of Merchandise Bought for a Little over $5,000

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE! was the cry from everyone when smoke was seen coming out of the upstairs of R. D. Thompson & Sons Dry Goods Store. The fire boys were on the job, and in less than five minutes had a stream of water going in the upstairs windows. Some of this water leaked through, but did very little damage, as most of the goods were protected by show cases and shelving. The insurance companies paid Thompson & Son more than half for this small damage and gave them the stock.

This $21,000 Stock was sold by Thompson & Sons for a Little over $5,000

This is why we can sell you $10.00 worth of goods for $4.00 and then make money. The most colossal sale ever pulled off in Houston County. CUT! SLASH! Regardless of what it cost, out it must go and out it will go! Just a part of the stock was damaged—there were thousands of dollars' worth of good, clean, new merchandise that was not touched by water. Silks, ribbons, ready-to-wear and shoes that did not have a drop of water on them, WILL BE PUT OUT AWAY BELOW HALF PRICE! There was not a dime's worth of merchandise burned, the only damage was by water. The goods that were wet will be SOLD FOR A SONG, and you may sing the song. Take this merchandise home, iron it and you will find you have saved SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS ON EVERY DOLLAR you have spent. The goods that were wet did not fade, this shows the class of merchandise handled by this firm.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1922.

CAPPER TEARS OFF THE MASK

Senator Capper is making a gallant fight for the farmers in connection with tariff legislation, tearing off the mask of the American valuation plan, which he describes as a cloak to hide the enormous tariff imposed in the interest of certain manufacturers. These manufacturers, Mr. Capper explains, want still higher duties and the only way they expect to get them is to have them appear in the guise of higher values. Thus in one fell swoop, the Kansas Senator has punctured the spurious patriotic cry for an "all American tariff." The cheap appeal, he says, must not influence the decision of the lawmakers. There have been too many blunders made as a result of popular clamor aroused by some catch phrase. American valuation by increasing the height of the tariff wall, would limit the exportation of American agricultural products in exchange for the manufactured goods bought in foreign countries. It is the old battle—the manufacturer against the farmer—the battle that has been won by the manufacturer for years, because the farmers were unorganized. Conditions, however, seem to be changing. Senator Capper appears as a new Richmond in the field and unless all signs fail, he will win a victory for the men who produce the wealth of the nation. If American valuation is to be used as a method of concealing increases in protective tariff rates, then it is inimical to the farmers and should have no place in our government system.

The best way in the world to stop crime is to punish criminals. Enforce the law!

Of course the Volsted act should be repealed, because it is an infringement on personal liberty. The law against murder, theft, arson, rape and sedition should be repealed on the same ground. Every thug and bandit that is jailed is having his personal liberty cut right off short.

UNWELCOME NEWS

Come in, Old Friend, an' chat a while—I love the latest news, pervided they're encouragin' to drive away the blues. There's nothin' like a neighbor's voice to cheer a feller's soul that somehow longs fer sympathy on things beyond control. Fer instance, when the weather's bad, or, when the fruit's all killed,—or, when a heart's so empty that it's hard to get it filled,—or, when it seems impossible to break out in a smile. I'm powerful glad to see ye Bill, come in, an' chat awhile!

The Widder? No. I hadn't heard. I never heard. I never knowed she drank. An' cigarettes you say? By George, now, that's a-gettin' rank! Well,—let her go the subject's one that I don't keer to handle. No,—Good-bye Bill,—I never could indulge in any scanle.

Love is not only blind, but it is also wholly ignorant of arithmetic, says Robert Quinlen, when people marry in times like these.

Press dispatches state the kaiser is threatened with religious mania. Probably that is what he had when he imagined he and God were partners in the war business.

The radio-phone is a great invention, but it is fraught with dangerous possibilities. When we go to the door or window for fresh air we breathe in radio songs, market reports, political speeches and jazz.

There is a fire every minute, day and night, in the United States. There are five schools fires each day of the year. Fires cost twenty thousand lives a year, and cause a property loss of $300,000,000. And the chief cause of fire is carelessness!

If the radio-phone had been in existence in Paul Revere's time that wild ride on a horse would have not been necessary at all. He would have bawled his message into the broadcaster, then the rest of us would have jumped into our autos and airplanes and gave 'em fits.

Smith county was advertising for 2000 berry pickers recently. In portions of Smith county the farmers have learned that the blackberry crop is the most profitable crop for which the soil of Eastern Texas is suited. It seems that this crop never fails, is easily cultivated, grows on any kind of soil, and is always in demand for good prices. There may come a time when farmers in other countries will be convinced that something besides cotton will aid in the payment of debts.—Rusk County News.

The folks around Grapeland are getting interested in the blackberry business. It looks now like there will be a large number of acres set out in berry plants

CONFEDERATE REUNION

(Author Unknown)

Get my knapsack ready, Mary,
 And my uniform of grey,
 Get my battered helmet, Mary,
 For I'll need them all today.
 Get my canteen and my leggins,
 Reach me down that rusty gun,
 For I'm going out parading
 With the boys of sixty-one.

Never mind that blood stain, Mary,
 Never mind that ragged hole;
 It was left there by a bullet
 That was seeking for my soul.
 Brush away those cobwebs, Mary,
 Get the bonnie flag of blue,
 For I'm going out parading
 With the boys of sixty-two.

Those old clothes don't fit me, Mary,
 As they did when I was young;
 Don't you recollect how neatly
 To my manly form they clung?
 Never mind that sleeve that's empty,
 Let it dangle loose and free,
 For I'm going out parading
 With the boys of sixty-three.

The "boys in gray" are our guests today. Their ranks are thinning and ere long the last one will have passed over the river to rest in the shade of the trees. The Messenger is glad to give space to the above poem as a loving tribute to those who "wore the gray" in the sixties.

Pull my sword belt tighter, Mary,
 Fix the strap beneath my chin;
 I've grown old and threadbare, Mary,
 Like my uniform, and thin.
 But I reckon I'll pass muster
 As I did in days of yore,
 For I'm going out parading
 With the boys of sixty-four.

Now I'm ready, Mary, kiss me;
 Kiss your old sweetheart good bye;
 Brush away those wayward teardrops,
 Lord! I didn't think you'd cry,
 I'm not going out to battle,
 Cheer up Mary, sakes alive!
 I'm just going out parading
 With the boys of sixty-five.

Soon we'll all be parading, Mary,
 In the land beneath the stars,
 On the bright Celestial shore
 With the good old stars and bars.
 But before we go there, Mary,
 We'll meet the boys once more,
 And practice for parading
 On the bright and shining shore.

next fall and winter. The business men are interested and will encourage their customers to plant a few acres to berries.

Ain't it so?

Here it is the first again. Life is just one bill collector after another.

RHYME AND REASON

I met Jim Brown the other day,
 Puffed up with self-regard;
 A radio bug had come his way
 And stung him good and hard.

You want to know what a man's habits are before being impressed with his claim that he is regular in them.

Bill Jones received an awful jar,
 He is completely broke;
 He mortgaged home to buy a car,
 And both went up in smoke.

Legislation may not reform a man, but it should warn him against making a nuisance of himself.

If any man can earn his pay,
 It's farmer Henry Brown;
 He's up to work at dawn of day
 And quits when sun is down.

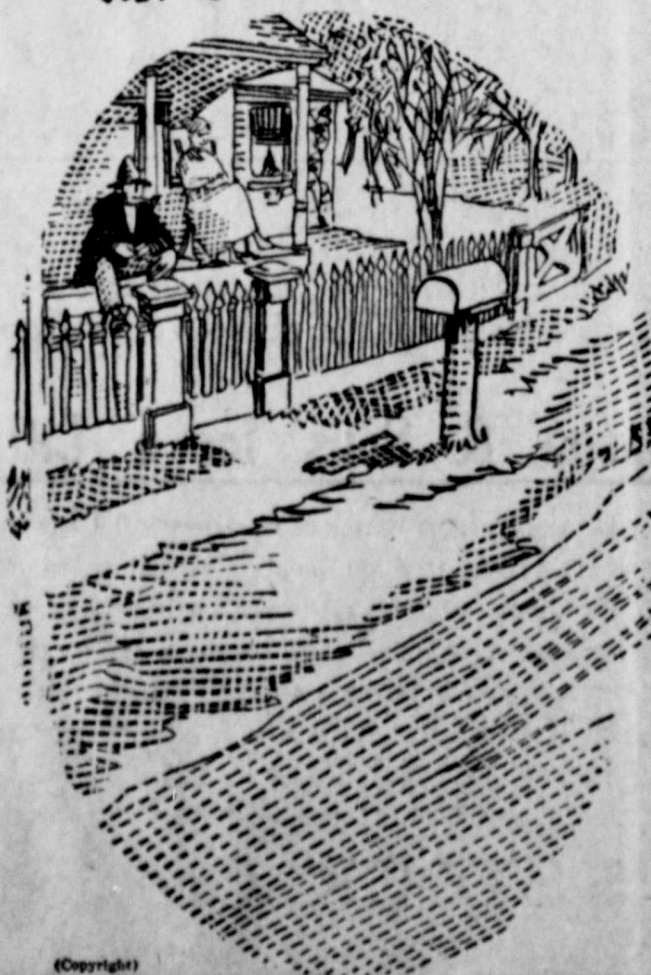

It seems easier to pay a lawyer to sue another man than to pay a preacher to try to save him.

Life means a lot
 To any folks
 If they will not
 Treat it as jokes.

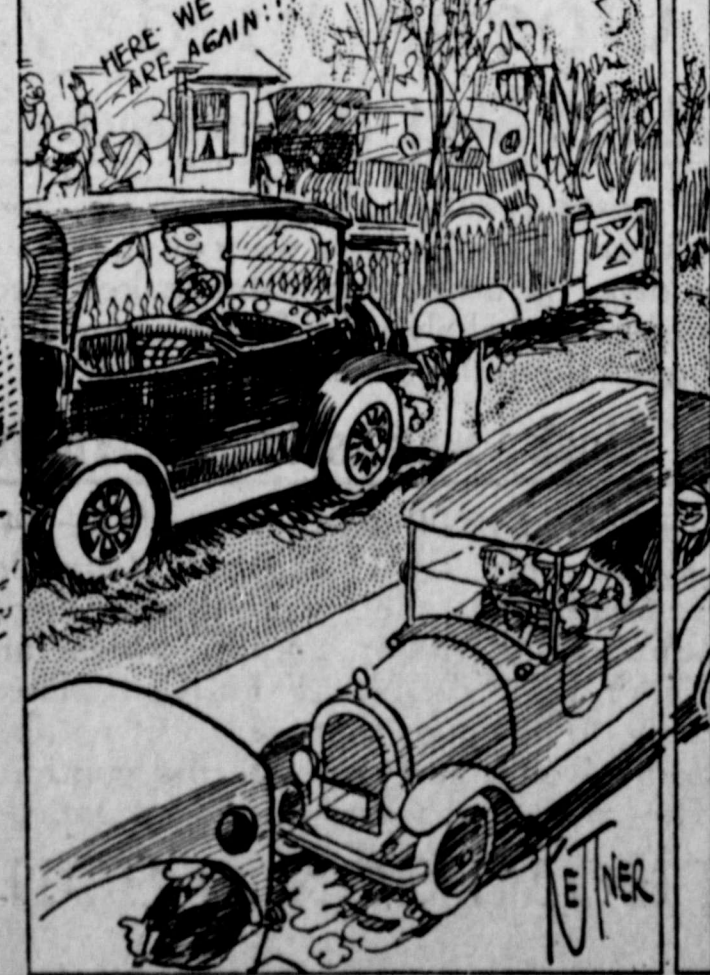

Some folks are so smart they keep out of trouble, and others find their smartness gets them into it.

Student Wins Wager in Walking Contest

Austin, Texas, May 30.—A new pedestrian stunt and feat of endurance was put on record last week at the University of Texas when W. Bennett Flanagan, student from Palestine, took a "hundred dollar hike" from Austin to San Antonio, making good his wager to walk the distance of some 85 miles in 48 hours. He set out from Austin at 12.30 Monday night for the Alamo city shortly after a purse of $100 had been made up by his fraternity brothers, of Sigma Chi, following his assertion that he could walk to San Antonio by Wednesday night at 12.30. He arrived in San Antonio with two and a half hours to spare, and he spent 12 hours of the time in sleep in New Braunfels, so that the actual walking time was much less than 48 hours. No check was placed on Flanagan except that he was required to give his word of honor that he walked every step of the way.
