Wichita, Archer, Clay And Wilbarger Farmers Endorse Long Cotton Plan

GROWERS VOTE 125 TO 12 FOR 1932 HOLIDAY

Drastic Measures Advocated by Speakers From Four Counties

STERLING NOTIFIED

Farm Board Considers Plan To Buy 1931 Crop At 12 Cents Pound

The cotton moratorium plan of Gov. Huey Long of Louisiana was endorsed by an overwhelming vote of more than 150 farmers and landowners of this section who gathered at a mass meeting here Friday night to determine the attitude to be taken on proposals for the regulation of cotton planting in 1932.

Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas was advised by telegram immediately following the meeting that the body recommended the calling of a special session of the legislature to enact laws prohibiting the planting of cotton in 1932.

Speakers Approve Plan

The Long plan is that a "cotton holiday" be declared for 1932 in all cotton growing states of the South, through the passing of laws in each state prohibiting planting. Laws passed under the plan are to become effective only in the event that three-quarters or more of the cotton growing states join in the move. The plan is expected to increase cotton prices, now at an extremely low level, by shutting off production for one year, allowing consumption to overtake the present surplus. An appreciable increase in the price of cotton grown in 1931, the present [illegible] pected with the adoption of the Long plan.

Coming from Wichita, Archer, Clay and Wilbarger counties, farmers and landowners attending the meeting Friday night hardly waited for the gathering to be called to order before declaming their faith in the Long plan as a solution to their burdensome agricultural ills. Their attitude was expressed in the words of C. J. Sherrill, Clay county state representative, who said "It takes drastic measures to meet drastic times."

The plan calling for a reduction only in cotton acreage in 1932 was favored by a slight few. On the vote, the Long plan won out 125 to 12. A number present did not ballot.

Quit "Fooling Around"

Discussions were heard from speakers representing each county, for and against each plan presented. The majority refused to consider any compromise and assumed the attitude of "no quarter" in favor of the Louisiana governor's proposal. All, however, were of the opinion that "something should be done."

Dick Coffey of Vernon, the first speaker, predicted the passing of laws in conformation with the Long plan by the Texas legislature if it is called into extraordinary session.

J. W. Humphrey, who introduced himself as "an Oklahoma cotton picker," declared that cotton farmers "have been fooling around for 10 or 15 years, talking cotton acreage reduction." The cotton price predicament into which farmers have themselves will never be remedied until the farmers, themselves, do something about it, he declared. He urged that farmers of the South "forget about cotton next year."

Claude Miller, Wichita Falls merchant, was a principal speaker of the meeting and ardently supported the proposed cotton holiday. He pleaded for diversification of farming as an offset to the ills that might accrue with the abandonment of cotton for a year. He described how, in 1907, when cotton was burned in the streets when prices fell. He predicted that the price of cotton will go to 12 cents or more when six states have passed laws prohibiting planting in 1932. Cotton acreage of this section is worn out, he declared, and urged that now is the time to give it a "rest."

J. C. Keller, Electra, opposed the Long plan on the grounds that the forcing of certain "sand farmers" to abandon cotton would be selfish. There are many farmers, he said, who have land on which nothing but cotton can be grown. What, he asked, are they to live on during a cottonless year?

The motion for the resolution endorsing the Long plan and calling on the state legislature to adopt the

East Texas Threatened By Typhoid

KILGORE, Texas, Aug. 28. (AP)—The threat of a typhoid fever epidemic stalked through the East Texas oil field today.

Discovery of four cases of the disease in Kilgore led physicians to open a drastic preventive campaign. One case was found in the camp of national guardsmen enforcing the martial law shutdown order.

Dr. L. L. Allums, Kilgore health officer, believed the distribution of free serum for inoculations would prevent an epidemic. Several hundred Kilgore citizens were inoculated yesterday when the outbreak was discovered.

Most of the militiamen were considered safe from contracting the disease. They were nearly all inoculated with anti-typhus serum before assuming their patrol duties in the field.

However, physicians were taking every precaution to avoid an outbreak among the civilian population. There were reports of cases in the immediate vicinity of Kilgore, but these had not been confirmed.

RUFUS KING LOSES SHOOT

Dark Horse Grabs Title At Vandalia

By JAMES L. RENICK

VANDALIA, Ohio, Aug. 28. (AP)—A dark horse of clay target shooting galloped across the traps of the Amateur Trapshooting association today to win the Grand American handicap, the most highly prized honor in the gun world. [illegible] United Brethren minister from McClure, Ohio, an "unknown" until late today, battled against great odds to force his way into a tie for first position with Fred Harlow, Newark, Ohio, and F. Willbaum, Greenville, Ohio, with scores of 96. Roebuck shot from the 17-yard line, Willbaum from the 19, and Harlow from the 22.

The handicap proved too much for Harlow, who won the Grand American in 1908, and he dropped five targets in the first event of the shootoff to take third place. Willbaum and Roebuck fought it out to the 75th target, the minister winning 68 to 65.

Miss Jeanette Jay, Waverly, Iowa, winner of the North American women's championship earlier in the week, led the women shooters today with a 92. Miss W. Stillwagon, of Trenton, N. J., was second with 91, and Miss Belle McCord Roberts, Long Beach, Calif., was third with 89.

Rufus King, the 15-year-old Wichita Falls, Texas, boy, who won the Grand American title last year, labored under a double handicap today. He had a broken right foot and was handicapped four yards. He shot an 82, far out of the money.

R. A. King Sr., shooting from the 24 yard line, shatered only 88.

Young King was defending champion and that fact brought a huge crowd around him when he took to the traps. He was plainly nervous, missing five out of his first 10. He then cracked 15 straight. He fell down in the first and 13th targets of his second 25, in his third set he cracked only 20 again and then failed in six on his last round.

NEW PRORATION ORDER MAY BE POSTED TODAY

Commission Ends Hearing On East Texas Waste Late Friday

OIL-GAS RATIO DUE

Observers Believe Output Of Area Will Be Held Below 300,000

AUSTIN, Aug. 28. (AP)—A new proration order regulating production of gas and oil in the East Texas field, sore spot of the national oil industry, probably will be issued late tomorrow. It probable will be made effective next Tuesday.

Introduction of testimony at the railroad commission hearing on the field was concluded today. The hearing started Tuesday and masses of data are poured into the record, much of it calculated for use in an appeal from the projected order.

Conferences Today

Conferences on the new order will be started early tomorrow morning.

Pending issuance of the order, the field was completely shut down under a martial law proclamation of Gov. R. S. Sterling. Before the new regulations can be made effective martial law must be modified or lifted. It was generally believed among oil men that Governor Sterling would not lift troop rule but would adopt the order of the commission in lieu of his original proclamation and maintain troops in the field to enforce the order.

Should this be the case, court action would have no effect on the order. Attorneys stated the only court that could assume jurisdiction is the United States supreme court and that only with a full membership present and during a regular term. The United States supreme court will not meet before October.

Speculate on Allowable

The order will be the first issued under the new conservation statute passed at the recent special session of the legislature.

Predictions of oil men on the allowable production that would be permitted from the field ranged from 225,000 to 375,000 barrels daily. A majority of them believed it would be under 300,000 barrels.

Members of the commission would give no indication what the order would contain. R. D. Parker, chief of the oil and gas division of the commission, said every effort would be made to get the order out tomorrow and that he believed the effort would be successful.

That the order would contain a rigid oil and gas ratio and would provide for larger spacing between wells was highly probable.

Offset Provisions

Recommendation that drilling of offset wells within 400 feet of property lines be prohibited and that wells other than offsets be drilled not closer than 660 feet with a maximum spacing of 1,320 feet was made to the commission by several witnesses.

That the order would be attacked in court was deemed a certainty, two major companies having laid the predicate for appeal from the orders. They were the Gulf Production company and the Sinclair Oil and Gas company. Both read into the record a list of their wells and put on witnesses who testified they had not caused physical waste in the past and would not in the

Hoover Keeps Hands Off In Ship Line Dispute

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (US)—While attempts have been made to draw President Hoover into the battle over disposition of the United States lines he has kept and will keep hands off, it was officially stated today.

The shipping board is now considering the rival bids of the Chapman Dawson-Dollar interests and of the International Mercantile Marine for the vessels now operated by Chapman.

Air Daredevils Gather Today At Cleveland for Sky Races

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 28. (AP)—Expectations of world famous racing pilots that the world's land plane speed record of 278.8 miles an hour will be broken during the national air races opening here tomorrow, soared high on the strength of a 250-mile an hour dash made by Lee Schoenhair here today in his new Laird racer.

Schoenhair made his fast speed without widely opening the throttle. "The engine is new," he explained.

Approximately 100 other noted pilots are here for the races and other aviation events which will continue through Labor day.

Major James H. Doolittle, "the flying Hellion" who also plans an attack on Adjutant Bonnet's record, will fly a Laird plane in the Thompson race, which was built for a 300-mile speed.

Schoenhair and Doolittle are scheduled to fly in the $15,000 Bendix trophy transcontinental free for all which is to start at Los Angeles Monday, and end at Cleveland the same day. Others expected to race in the Bendix event include Jimmy Hall, Art Goebel, Capt. Ira Eakj, Roscue Turner, Lou Reichers, Walter Hunter, Harold Johnson and "Dark Horse" entrant.

Some of the pilots said the Bendix race may develop into an assault on Capt. Frank Hawks' Los Angeles to New York mark of 12 hours and 25 minutes. When the Bendix fliers sweep down on Cleveland airport, some of them intend to soar again without stopping and continue to New York if their arrival time at Cleveland gives them hope of bettering the record of Captain Hawks.

CAN MR. HOOVER BREAK A HABIT?

While rejoicing over Mr. Hoover's relief plans don't forget the old king who yelled:

"Bring me my revolver and sword. I'm going to fight the Baloochians."

His prime minister explained, "Why, your majesty, we're not at war with Baloochia. We're at war with Scrammola."

Whereupon the king hollered louder than ever:

"I know it. But I like to fight the Baloochians."

And around December we may discover that Mr. Hoover still loves to feed the Belgians.

CLOSUIT RITES TODAY AT 2

Wichitan Found Dead On Picnic Grounds

Funeral services for Paul Closuit, 65, who was found late Friday morning shot to death in the picnic grounds of the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, will officiate. Pallbearers will be G. D. Fox, F. L. Randel, Harry Albitz, Fred Malacord, Dave Gouchie and W. A. Pickering. Burial will be in Riverside.

Mr. Closuit, a resident of Wichita Falls for 19 years, was said to have been despondent since the death of his wife last December.

The man's body was found near the golf grounds by a caddy, Olin Thomas. A shot had been heard a few minutes before, about 11:45 a. m.

Mr. Closuit left his home, 2011 Lucile street, early Friday morning. Two caddies at the club said that he had walked with them up the road leading into the course at about 10:30 a. m.

When discovered, the body was lying on the ground. His hat and spectacles were on a bench nearby. A bullet of a .32 caliber automatic pistol had gone completely through the head.

Mr. Closuit was a native of Martign, Switzerland. He came to the United States when 20 years of age. The greater part of his 19 years residence in Wichita Falls was spent as a bookkeeper for the Wichita Falls Window Glass factory.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. H. H. Hensley, 2011 Lucile street; a son, E. M. Closuit of Dallas; and two grandchildren, Jeannine Hensley and Jean Closuit.

Two Boys Carved By Negro's Razor

Cut with a razor wielded by a negro, two white boys were attended at the Wichita General hospital late Friday night for long gashes on the body. The negro was sought by police.

The two boys, Joe Donohoe, 18, of Archer City, and Charles Powell, 16, 1803 Elizabeth street, were not seriously injured. Powell received a six-inch wound on the chest. Donohoe received a two-inch gash on the chest. Neither wound was deep.

They told police that they were returning from downtown with two other youths, Ralph Welch of Granite, Okla., and Clem Macklin, 1524 Seventeenth street, and met a negro on the sidewalk in the 2300 block on Ninth street. They gave room for the negro to pass, they said, but the black's shoulder crashed into one of them. Blows followed. The negro used the razor.

Terms of U. S. Wheat Offer to China Told

SHANGHAI, Aug. 28. (US)—The Nanking government today revealed the details of the United States farm board's offer to sell 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China. The Chinese government will have from two and a half to four and a half years to pay for the wheat at four and a half per cent interest.

Half of the wheat is to be milled in China. The Nanking government is holding up reply to the American offer in the hope of obtaining a lower interest rate and longer credit.

QUIZ REVEALS G. O. P. AID FOR CANNON FUND

Claudius Huston Donated $5,000 to Anti-Smith Campaign

PAIR WON'T TESTIFY

Ada Burroughs and Sidney Peters Refuse to Give Information

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—A new source of Republican money for Bishop James Cannon in his anti-Smith Democratic campaign of 1928 was revealed today by the senate campaign funds committee in concluding its inquiry into what use the bishop made of the funds entrusted to him.

Testimony disclosed the bank account of Claudius Huston, later the chairman of the Republican national committee under President Hoover, yielded one $5,000 check to the anti-Smith Democrats of North Carolina after a request for funds to Bishop Cannon. It showed $183,356 deposited in Huston's account just before the 1928 election.

Two Defy Committee

Two of Bishop Cannon's associates on the anti-Smith Democratic headquarters committee of 1928 refused to testify today—Miss Ada L. Burroughs and J. Sidney Peters, treasurer and secretary, respectively. They were warned by the committee of the consequences their refusal might entail.

As throughout the hearings, the committee room today was jammed to the doors with an intensely interested crowd. Spectators leaned forward to catch the softly spoken words of Miss Burroughs as time after time in response to the committee's questions she said:

"I decline to testify."

Bank Accounts Aired

Finishing an intricate and involved investigation of the eight bank accounts maintained by Bishop Cannon during the period of the 1928 presidential campaign, the committee was told by Basil Manly, its expert, that Miss Burroughs' records showed she had repaid $10,607.61 more to Bishop Cannon than she had reported he had loaned to the anti-Smith Democrats.

Manly said he could find no record that Huston reported the contribution.

Manly further said approximately $10,000 of the loans reported to have been made by Bishop Cannon to the anti-Smith Democrats were traceable to checks drawn by the bishop on the "political fund" he maintained in the Continental Trust company of Washington.

Asks Explanation

Chairman Nye at the close of the hearings said:

"I think the record made here calls for an explanation under oath by Bishop Cannon and by his as-

U. S. Cotton Exports To East Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (US)—Exports of American raw cotton to the far East increased 17 per cent during the first half of this year over the corresponding period of 1930, although general conditions in the Orient were unfavorable to trade on a large scale, the commerce department reported today.

Financial readjustments improved basic conditions to some extent, but world-wide unsettled trade and low prices for native commodities cut the purchasing power of the people.

Governor Roosevelt Breaks Custom In Personal Demand for Jobless Aid

New York Executive Tells Lawmakers State Can't Wait On Uncertain Steps of Federal Government

By WALTER BROWN
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28. (AP)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is regarded as a possible presidential candidate in 1932, today wrote a prescription for New York state unemployment involving a $20,000,000 appropriation to be raised by increased income taxes.

Breaking a precedent, the governor appeared before the legislature, in the gallery of which sat his wife, and spoke vigorously for an hour, urging the passage of a six-point program he had spent weeks in drawing up. When he concluded, an ovation was given him by the legislators.

U. S. Aid Unlikely

He declared that it was idle to speculate on what the federal government might do; that New York state must not wait for Washington to come through with a definite constructive program.

The plan he advanced, which will be considered by the legislature next week or the week following, provides:

1.—Appropriation of $20,000,000 to be distributed for relief among the municipalities and counties of the state, and to be spent wherever possible for the employment of men during the winter on public works.

2.—An increase of 50 per cent in all state income tax rates to raise the $20,000,000, the increase to be retroactive so it may be collected on tax reports already filed for 1930.

Emergency Board

3.—Creation of an emergency relief board of three members appointed by the governor to administer the fund.

4.—Allotment of $548,000 of the $20,000,000 for the payment of state bonuses to ex-service men who have

M'DONALD OUT AS LABOR HEAD

Party Names Henderson As National Leader

LONDON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald, who has devoted his life to building up the British labor party, today was stripped of its leadership and only his young son Malcolm, among all of labor's rank and file, defended his action in forming the national emergency government to deal with the nation's financial crisis.

Arthur Henderson, affectionately known as "Uncle Arthur" to British labor, was given Mr. MacDonald's mantle and will lead an almost solid force of 280 members of the house of commons against the new government when parliament assembles in special session Sept. 8, to press through the economy program for Great Britain's financial salvation.

$600,000,000 Cut

Against that force of men and women Mr. MacDonald will marshal the combined conservative and liberal members.

Tonight he appeared assured of success for the economy program, which calls for a cut in the nation's expenditures of $600,000,000 to produce a balanced budget.

The conservative party conference today unanimously approved Stanley Baldwin's action in joining Mr. MacDonald's new government. The liberals, also in party conclave, approved their leaders' support of the new administration.

Still there were rocks ahead for the government since some liberal members were reported to be with-

'Shoot to Kill' Orders Given Police After Chicago Theaters Are Bombed

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (US)—Orders of "shoot to kill" were given the police today by Commissioner John H. Alcock as a result of bombings of independent motion picture theaters.

Three of the theaters already have suffered in the blasts. The acts of terrorism are regarded as the answer of the Motion Picture Operators' union to the refusal of about 100 small theaters to employ two union operators in each place, as demanded by the union.

Instead, the owners have defied the union and reopening with non-union operators, one to a theater.

Shortly after the bombings early today, three arrests were made, one prisoner being a steward of the Operators' union and the other two former operators in theaters that were bombed.

Mayor Cermak assured a delegation of 40 women, wives of the independent theater owners, that he would see that adequate police protection was furnished each theater.

Thomas E. Maloy, business agent for the operators, was reported in New York today. He is accused by the theater owners of being "out to break them at whatever cost."

BODIES TAKEN FROM DITCH NEAR GARAGE

'Modern Bluebeard' Held After Letters Reveal Wooing

MONEY IS MOTIVE

Matrimonial Agency Romance Ends In Violent Death

QUIET DELLS, W. Va., Aug. 28. (US)—The bodies of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and her three young children, Greta, Harry and Anabel, of Park Ridge, Ill., were found wrapped in gunny sacking and buried in the shallow earth today near the garage of Harry F. Powers, alias Cornelius O. Pierson.

As feeling ran high here and in Clarksburg, six miles away, Powers was transferred from the Clarksburg city jail to the stronger county jail for fear that violence might be attempted.

Suspected as a modern bluebeard, Powers is said to have wooed Mrs. Eicher, widow of a well-to-do Park Ridge silversmith, that he might get her wealth and property. The widow and her children disappeared from Park Ridge early in July soon after Mrs. Eicher had made Powers' acquaintance through a matrimonial paper.

Admires Numerous

Letters found in Powers' home in Clarksburg revealed that the married mail-order romeo had numerous other admirers among the feminine sex and that he was telling them fanciful stories of his wealth as he had the susceptible widow, Mrs. Eicher.

Her body was the first found today. Suspicion had been directed to the garage through the finding of a trail apparently of blood stains leading from the floor of the garage down to a sub-basement. A mattress in the sub-basement also apparently had been soaked in blood.

Then a woman's garments were found. Powers admitted under a merciless grilling that they belonged to Mrs. Eicher.

Examination of ashes in a nearby ditch, running down to a stream, disclosed what appeared to be strands of hair. Rusted hair pins also were found.

Ditch Excavated

Then digging began in the ditch. When Mrs. Eicher's body was found it was in such a condition that identification could not be established at once.

When finally her body was removed, beneath it were found the bodies of her three children. They were huddled together face downward in the earth.

The ghastly disposal of the bodies evidently had been done in furtive haste by the criminal.

The children's bodies had been placed first in the shallow ditch and then the mother's body pressed down hard upon them. Hardly more than two feet of earth covered them.

Suspect Panicky

Powers at the jail was pale and cringing when the news was

Boy, 5, Crushed Under Car Here

After being knocked down and run over by an automobile near his home early Friday night, Eugene Knight, 5, was in a serious condition with a concussion of the skull at the Wichita General hospital.

The boy was struck by a machine driven by Miss Margie Gilmore, 2512 Fillmore, as he started across the street in front of his home, 403 Burnett street. Witnesses told Earle Brooks, motorcycle officer who investigated, that the driver of the automobile drove a short distance after the machine had passed over the child's body before stoppin. Miss Gilmore said that she knew that the car had passed over something, but did not know what it was until after she had decided to stop and return to see what the object was.

The boy is the son of Mrs. Junietta Knight.

The meeting was called by the Wichita Falls Junior chamber of commerce for the expressed purpose of giving farmers of this section an opportunity to express their views. The meeting was presided over by Frank Wolf, chairman of the Junior chamber agricultural committee.

GEORGE PLAN GIVEN U. S. FARM BOARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (US)—The plan of Senator George of Georgia to raise cotton prices by curtailing production next year was taken under consideration by the farm board tonight, following a three-hour hearing.

Accompanied by six other senators from cotton-growing states, Senator George explained his plan in detail to Carl Williams, the board's cotton member, and to Commissioners S. H. Thompson and Charles S. Wilson.

Buy at 12 Cents

The George plan provides that the federal farm board buy all the cotton that farmers will sell at 12 cents a pound. The board is to pay the prevailing market price in cash and give certificates for the balance which will be due next fall, provided the holders of the certificates plant no cotton next year. Otherwise the certificates will be void.

George estimated that the board would take over half of this year's cotton crop by that method and that would cut down next year's production to half. He estimates the board will only need $35,000,000 to carry out his plan as the rest can be borrowed at the banks by giving the cotton as security.

Senator George also pointed out that farmers who receive certificates can borrow money on them and will not need to wait until next fall to receive the full price for their cotton.

Six Senators Attend

When the session adjourned Williams said:

"We discussed the cotton problem of the South. The meeting was harmonious. The board will consider Senator George's plan, for we give due consideration to every suggestion that is made to us. More than 200 plans to solve the cotton problem have been submitted."

No future meetings were arranged. Senator George was accompanied by Senators Harris, of Georgia; Black and Bankhead, of Alabama; Burns, of South Carolina; Fletcher, of Florida, and Ashurst, of Arizona.

Meanwhile Minister Sidarouss of Egypt laid before the state department a suggestion by his government for an international conference to consider the world cotton situation. The attitude of this government toward such a meeting was not disclosed.

SPECIAL PLANE TO BRING LONG BILL TO STERLING

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 28. (AP)—Gov. Huey P. Long will lose no time in passing the Louisiana anti-cotton planting bill to other southern states, if the measure, already approved by the house of representatives, is endorsed by the state senate.

Legislative leaders planned an after-midnight session of the senate tonight to consider the bill on the third day of its reading.

Predicting its passage, Governor Long said his signature would be attached "at an early hour Saturday morning," and "before the ink is dry" a certified copy would be placed aboard an airplane headed for Austin, Texas, addressed to Gov. Ross Sterling.

The Long plan to prohibit the planting of cotton in Louisiana in 1932 by legislative action is contingent on similar action by states having 75 per cent of the cotton acreage in 1930 and Governor Long is particularly desirous that Texas take favorable action on the plan, since Texas raises one-third of the crop in the United States.

MASS MEETING HELD AT ELECTRA

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 28.—Sen. Ben G. Oneal, Oral Jones, and County Agent G. C. McGown, Wichita Falls, addressed a mass meeting of 125 farmers in the Electra vicinity Friday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to allow farmers to express their opinions relative to the proposed cotton acreage reduction and whether or not they favored the calling of a special session of the legislature to remedy the situation. E. R. Brown, president of the chamber of commerce, presided, discussing the purpose of the meeting and introducing the speakers.

The body adopted resolutions recommended by a committee composed of H. J. Flusche, J. Tom Haynes, S. S. Marshall, Ferd Keller, and W. E. Palmer, as follows: That Governor Sterling call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting such law or laws to limit the acreage planted in cotton to one-third of the land in cultivation on each farm in the state of Texas for the season of 1932.

McGown did not advocate a special plan but suggested a united effort of cotton farmers to make a plan and stay with it as did Senator Oneal, who promised to do all in his power to carry out the recommendations of the majority if possible. Mr. Jones expressed his sympathy with the farmers and belief in the integrity of Texas leaders.

A number of prominent farmers expressed their views, some favoring the Long plan and others ac- [illegible]on. Farmers also voted to wire Governor Sterling asking him to sign resolution number six originated by Oneal providing for a tax survey committee.

Hoover Urges Fire Caution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—President Hoover today proclaimed the week of Oct. 4 as fire prevention week and solicited "the assistance of each citizen to help lessen the loss, needless waste, and suffering from fires largely preventable."

The president said fires in the United States last year caused a direct property loss estimated at nearly $500,000,000, an increase of $40,000,000 over 1929, and that deaths and injuries resulting from fires exceeded 35,000 in 1930.

The proclamation follows:

"It has become customary for the president of the United States to request an annual observance of fire prevention week throughout the nation to stimulate the interest and cooperation of officials, organizations, and citizens in diminishing the losses of life and property by fire.

"Last year fires in the United States caused a direct property loss estimated at nearly $500,000,000, an increase of $40,000,000 over 1929. These direct losses affected home owners, farmers, business men, and working men. There were many more millions of indirect losses in rentals, broken contracts, unemployment, and interruption to business.

"Deaths and injuries to men, women and children exceeded 35,000 in 1930. The majority of the losses of life and property were the result of carelessness and lack of preventive measures.

"The purpose of national fire prevention week is to focus attention on the hazards of fire and to promote preventive measures to reduce this devastating waste.

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the week of Oct. 4, 1931, to be observed as fire prevention week and earnestly solicit the assistance of each citizen to help lessen the loss and needless waste and suffering from fires which are largely preventable."

New Proration Order Due Today

future if operated on an efficient oil and gas ratio.

Opponents of proration contended at the hearing the commission did not have the authority to prorate production and that physical waste must be determined only on an individual well basis.

Questions asked by Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general assigned to the railroad commission, indicated he held this same opinion. He prefaced one of his questions with the statement the commission faced the initial task of regulating each well separately. Upchurch will be called to assist in drafting the order.

At the same time the new order goes into effect, efforts will be made to enforce the strengthened pipe line law, officials indicated. The law requires pipe line companies to take ratably from producers in a field and requires common purchasers of oil to buy equitably from each producer.

DOLLAR ASSURED IN KANSAS FIELD

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 28. (AP)—Threat of a shutdown of two more fields, the partial lifting of the lid clamped on one and definite assurance of $1 a barrel for some of the state's oil production were developments today in the Kansas petroleum industry.

Promise of one dollar a barrel oil will materialize next Monday for some of the producers in the Ritz-Canton pool in McPherson county, shut down since last Monday under a public service commission order which brought Kansas in line with the state enforced curtailment programs in Oklahoma and Texas.

The Standish Oil company, purchasing unit of the Phillips Petroleum corporation, notified the commission late today that beginning Aug. 31 and until further notice it would take an average of from 1,000 to 1,500 barrels daily from the Ritz-Canton.

Earlier in the day Thurman Hill, member of the commission, announced after a conference with Chat well operators in the area they would be permitted to open up their wells up to 10 per cent of their potential.

He also announced the commission's oil advisory committee had been instructed to make an investigation of conditions in the east Borough and Voshell pools "with a view to determining whether a shutdown order would be issued against them."

FEE CHARGES NAME SHERIFFS

Auditor Accuses Three Of Excess Claims

AUSTIN, Aug. 28. (AP)—T. M. Markham, assistant state auditor, today filed felony charges against three Central Texas sheriffs serving in counties in the 21st judicial district.

The sheriffs were Woody Townsend of Bastrop county; Clint D. Lewis of Burleson county, and J. J. Burtschell of Lee county. The charges were filed in justice court. Whether the sheriffs would waive preliminary hearing could not be ascertained.

The sheriffs were charged in the complaints with having "unlawfully, extorsively and wilfully demanded and received from the state of Texas higher fees than are allowed by law."

One complaint is filed against Townsend; five against Lewis and two against Burtschell.

Allegations in the complaints were based on evidence presented to the house of representatives during the recent investigation of Judge J. B. Price of Bastrop, judge of the 21st district. Articles of impeachment were voted against Judge Price and he will be tried by the senate. The articles charge Judge Price with negligence and incompetency and with having unlawfully approved the accounts of the three sheriffs named in the complaints filed today.

RATE INCREASE PLAN OPPOSED

Mid-Western Business Men Ask Reduction

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28. Transportation of gasoline by pipe line as a counter move in event the proposed 15 per cent freight rate increase is granted was suggested before interstate commerce commissioners today hearing objections to the hike.

H. L. McReynolds, traffic manager of the White Eagle Oil and Refining corporation of Kansas City, said his company had determined it would be profitable to construct an 800-mile gasoline line in case freight rates are raised.

Specifications and estimates for the line from Augusta, Kan., to Omaha, Sioux City, Minneapolis and St. Paul by way of Kansas City are being studied, McReynolds testified.

"Construction is being held up pending the outcome of this rate matter," he added.

"We have found that we could profitably build such a line. Our freight bill now is at a rate in excess of $5,000,000 a year. The proposed increase would add $750,000, a year to it.

FARM INTERESTS OPPOSE RAISE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28. (UP)—Testimony that mid-western agricultural conditions warranted a reduction in freight rates instead of the proposed 15 per cent increase was presented before two interstate commerce commissioners here today.

Evidence was a continuation of the picture of actual distress in the farming industry. Witnesses opposed to the proposed increase told the commissioners that the Midwest is unable to bear an additional freight burden.

Arnold Berns, cattleman of Peabody Kan., suggested a 15 per cent cut as a solution to the rail problem.

Clyde M. Reed, former governor of Kansas, representing 20 farm organizations protesting the increase, called to the stand George W. Lemon, banker and farmer of Pratt, Kan. Lemon testified he moved to Kansas 45 years ago and conditions are the worst he has seen during those years. Most of the farmers of his territory are insolvent, banks are in distress and farmers face an emergency of actualities, he testified.

Net income on his six banks, several elevators in Kansas towns and 25,000 acres of farm land will not exceed two per cent this year, Lemon told the commissioners. Tenants will make no profit whatsoever, in his opinion.

Advance in freight rates would contribute to an already losing livestock business, three cattlemen placed on the stand by Joseph Mercer, secretary of the Kansas Livestock association, testified.

Much of the testimony presented here will be supplemented in the nation-wide hearing that will start in Chicago on Aug. 31. Farm organizations will present their full cases there.

Railroads presented their side of the case to the commission in Washington, beginning Aug. 10. They are not expected to offer a rebuttal here.

Trip to Old Home Proves Too Much For Tillman Man

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Aug. 28.—Although T. W. Jenkins had been critically ill the past few days, his death which took place at 12:45 p. m. Thursday, came as a shock to his numerous friends here and elsewhere. Mr. Jenkins had been in failing health for nearly a decade from leakage of the heart and complications, but death was due to pneumonia which he contracted while on a recent trip to his old home in Alabama and other places.

For many years he had been planning a visit to his birthplace, but it was not until about two weeks ago that his wish bore fruit. Together with Mrs. Jenkins he accompanied his son, Henry Jenkins, the latter's wife and two sons of Amarillo, Texas, making the trip in the son's car. A delightful time was spent with old-time friends but it is believed the trip was too strenuous for him. They returned last Friday, Henry Jenkins and family continuing to Amarillo. Hearing that his father was sinking, Henry hurried to his side and arrived shortly before he died.

Tarleton Woodall Jenkins was born in Mobile, Ala., July 7, 1856. When 14 years of age he moved to Bayou La Batre; four years later he came west, settling at Decatur, Texas. He engaged in business for himself at Denton, Texas, in 1890. Together with his partners branch establishments were located in Bowie and Plano.

He married Miss Ola Elizabeth Eads at Denton in 1892. In 1908 the family, which had increased to two sons, moved to Frederick where he established the Jenkins Dry Goods store. For 14 years this remained one of the most successful independent stores in Southwest Oklahoma.

FAIR LEADERS MEET TUESDAY

Plans for Iowa Park Exhibit To Be Pushed

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Aug. 28.—Department heads for the Wichita County fair will hold a meeting at the Iowa Park chamber of commerce Tuesday evening, Sept. 1, to give detailed reports of the progress of their work and to make plans to stimulate activity during September.

E. C. Knox, H. R. Overbey and Carl Williamson of the livestock committee said that the entries will outnumber last year's exhibits, and that the large livestock building erected last year will be filled with high grade animals. Sam Williams, chairman of the poultry division, says that things are getting under way and that the exhibits promise to be interesting.

The Live-At-Home contest will need spacious quarters to show the evidence of the year's labor, and a separate display is being arranged for this new feature. The 4-H clubs are coming stronger than ever and it will require more room for this department.

An entire building will be assigned to the woman's department, which shared space last year with the home demonstration club displays.

W. R. Bradford, director of the educational department, and H. V. Williams, superintendent of the department, state that the building will be crowded but that exhibits by every school in the county desiring to enter displays will be cared for.

A special tent will be used to house the agricultural exhibit this year. The agricultural committee has been collecting specimens for some time and favorable weather conditions have caused a general intensified and diversified production and the agricultural display will be the largest ever shown in Wichita county.

Jewelry Worth $15,000 Brings Suspect $400

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—After realizing, police said, only $400 on $15,000 worth of jewelry stolen two weeks ago from the home of Ernest Du Pont at Wilmington, Del., Walter Ludwig, 34, a chauffeur, was charged today with receiving stolen goods.

Solomon Cook, a jeweler, is free under bail on the same charge. Police said Ludwig admitted receiving the jewelry from a maid employed by the Du Pont family, who after working for the Du Ponts two days, left, taking $50,000 worth of jewelry and turning over to him $15,000 worth to be sold.

The girl, whose name was not revealed by police, has been arrested in Chicago.

Wife Accused Of Slaying Husband

HOUSTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Moore, 26, was under $1,000 bond on a murder charge today while funeral arrangements were being made for her husband, Earl R. Moore, 35, parking lot proprietor, shot to death at the Moore home yesterday.

Moore was shot one time as he stood in the kitchen with a group of friends. Mrs. Moore, with eyes blackened and face bruised, claimed she shot her husband after he beat her and threatened to kill her.

Justice Campbell Overstreet returned a verdict of "death from gunshot wounds inflicted by Mrs. Lilliam Moore." Following the inquest, Mrs. Moore was charged with murder and immediately released on bond pending an examining trial before Overstreet Sept. 2.

Confessed Slayer of Teacher Alters Confession, Accusing Two Women

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Aug. 28. (AP)—John Schopflin, charged with the murder of Enid Marriott, Wiggins, Colo., school teacher, has repudiated his confession that he killed her, authorities announced today.

A new statement made by Schopflin implicates two married women of Wiggins, Colo., Sheriff Rufus A. Johnston said.

"He now states," the sheriff said, "that at the request of one of these women he removed the body of Miss Marriott from a bean stack located in a field east of the Bijou canal, west of Fort Morgan, and then placed the body in a ditch just below the head gate a short distance west of the point where it was later found."

The body of Miss Marriott was found in a ditch of the Bijou Irrigation canal on Jan. 19, 1931, two months after she disappeared as she left a train at Wiggins, Colo., where she taught school.

An extensive search was made for her and several persons were arrested in connection with the case. Schopflin's trial was set for early in September. Authorities from time to time have questioned him in an effort to clean up certain details of the case.

Reynolds Plans Flight to Orient

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—Officials of the American Aeronautical corporation today confirmed a report that Smith Reynolds, North Carolina sportsman, and his small amphibian plane were hoisted last Wednesday aboard the Berengaria on the first stage of a trip to the Orient.

Reynolds, son of the late president of the American Tobacco company, told the Cunard Steamship company nothing of his plans to take a plane with him when he engaged passage, they say. Late in the afternoon of the day the ship sailed, he landed alongside her North river pier and asked to be lifted aboard.

He told the aircraft manufacturers he intended to start his flight from Southampton, England, and planned an overwater circumference of Africa, and a flight across Arabia, Persia and India to Bombay.

He will decide after reaching Bombay whether to continue to Java, Sumatra, Borneo, China and Japan.

Reynolds, 26, has been flying four years.

Stephens County Insists on Local Labor in Highway Construction

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Aug. 28.—Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, told County Judge Jesse R. Smith this week that no employe on highway 67 construction work is supposed to be from out of this county. Judge Smith reported the statement Thursday after returning from Abilene, where he presented Judge Ely with two petitions bearing the names of approximately 200 local citizens, urging employment of local labor on the highway job and asking that machines used in the construction work be replaced with man power.

Judge Smith said Chairman Ely said that if any man was working on the highway job, other than regular state highway employes, from any county but Stephens he would be laid off immediately.

In reference to displacing road machinery with man power, Judge Ely said this would be uneconomical at this time as estimates for the road work were based on the use of machinery now in use. However, he said that if in the future it was possible, man power would be used instead of machinery.

COUPLE HELD IN BOY'S DEATH

'Precipice Murder' Hearing Held for Pair

DURANGO, Colo., Aug. 28. (UP)—Accused of having cast his small son, Billy, over a precipice on Battle mountain, to his death, Jesse Cooper has been bound over to the October term of the district court.

His wife, Leah, also was bound over, charged with complicity in the plot to kill the boy for his insurance.

The action came at a preliminary hearing on the charges. They were held under $5,000 bond, which had not been furnished today.

The couple were arrested shortly after the battered body of the boy was found on the rocky canon floor beneath Battle mountain. He had fallen almost 700 feet down the mountainside.

They claimed the boy had stepped over the side of the precipice. A rope which the father claimed he had tied to the boy originally, to prevent such an accident, had been removed shortly before his death, they said.

 "A Ply is one of a number of layers of rubberized cotton fabric—either cord or square woven—extending from bead to bead and forming the body of the tire." Definition of the National Better Business Bureau.
Any fabric merely under the tread of a tire is a breaker strip and not a ply.

ALLSTATE tires have full ply construction. And ALLSTATE has as many plies as any other first-quality tire. Directly under the tread, in every ALLSTATE cross section, you will see another layer of fabric. Some people call it a ply. But Sears, Roebuck and Co., the National Better Business Bureau and the majority of good tire manufacturers call it a breaker strip. We are willing to accept the standard set for the tire industry.

ALLSTATE Tires are built with plies of cotton that has been carefully selected for elasticity — "super-elastic" we call it. Read the laboratory* analysis on the left. See what experts learned to be the truth. See the ALLSTATE cross sections at any Sears store. Notice the double woven breaker strip in addition to the plies. Then make up your mind that the next time you buy tires you'll buy ALLSTATE—America's greatest tire value!

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has the only antimony smelter in the United States and one of the few anywhere in the world. The smelter at Laredo, built at a cost of about $100,000 in 1930, handles ore principally from mines in Mexico, although some small part of its ores comes from Texas mines.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Miscellaneous improvements continue over Texas . . . Permit is issued at Amarillo for a $25,000 nation guard armory, contract is being let for a $400,000 Publix-Paramount theater with 1,800 seating capacity, agitation started for a new union station in the place of the several now serving . . . Morris Plan bank, Dallas, is erecting a handsome edifice in downtown Dallas . . . Company organized at Abilene, $36,000 capital, to build a medical arts office building . . . Sites for $152,000 postoffice at Plainview and $200,000 at San Angelo have been selected, contract for actual construction being the next step . . . Fort Worth announces that employment for between 300 and 500 persons will be provided by the $1,350,000 federal narcotic farm now being built there, and that the Sinclair company will spend $2,000,000 on the rehabilitation of the old Pierce refinery . . . Plans are ready for the 15-story office building of a Tyler bank . . Port Isabel Methodists are buildings a new church, as are St. John's Lutherans at Bartlett—the latter one of the handsomest churches in a town of that size in the State, costing $35,000 with $7,000 for furnishings in addition . . . Of interest in Texas is completion of the gas pipe line from the Texas oil fields to Indianapolis, formal ceremonies marking the "tying in" of the two ends of the line with a silver collar studded with gold spikes.

Earl Carroll Opens Brilliant Theater

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (UP)—Earl Carroll, who began his theatrical career as a Pittsburgh usher and worked up via Atlanta prison after a famous bathtub party, opened his brilliant $4,500,000 theater here last night with his ninth edition of "The Vanities."

The premier of the producer's famous revue formally dedicated "The Earl Carroll Theater" to a low price policy intended to revive interest in the legitimate stage.

The musical revue is probably the most beautiful and costly of all Carrol's shows, but it did not overshadow the beauty of the theater.

Musical shows such as "Vanities" now cost anywhere from $100,000 upward merely to put on the stage, and prices for these shows have been over $6. Carroll, however, has set a $3 top which he hopes to make pay because of the 3,000 seats, twice as many as any other legitimate New York theater and by giving 10 performances a week instead of the usual eight.

WELLINGTON REVIVAL

Fruits of Depression

RECORDS of the city health department, compiled for the Record News to cover the first three months of the years 1929 and 1931, reveal clearly the growth in substitutes for a normal economic distribution during a period of acute depression

During January, February and March of 1929, a carefully estimated total of 1,167 persons received medical service at the hands of the city physician and his assistants. In the corresponding portion of 1931, similar services were requested and received by 2,295 persons.

The 100 per cent increase in a two-year period has a double cause, according to Dr. H. D. Fillmore, city physician. Not only were increased numbers of families unable to employ physicians, but the frequency and seriousness of bodily ailments were greatly increased by reason of insufficient and improper diet.

The local situation is duplicated in every city in the country. It points one of the most serious phases of a general economic congestion. The more able members of a city's population are heavily burdened to provide aid which at best can not meet the full needs of those who seek help. As a result, thousands find their privileges of life seriously mortgaged by permanently impaired health. It follows that no part of a given population can enjoy maximum good health, civic or physical, if another part is seriously diseased.

Airplane vs. Train

RAILROAD passenger business has declined enough in the past decade to cause many gray hairs to sprout on the aching heads of railway executives. Now comes Captain Frank Hawks to add a few more to the crop.

Flying from Chicago to New York in three hours and 49 minutes, Captain Hawks knocks 16 hours off the fastest scheduled railway running time between the two cities.

Of course, Captain Hawks in a crack speed plane is a great deal faster than a large passenger carrying airplane. But his trip shows the potentialities of aviation. If and when the time comes that airplane companies offer regular four-hour service between New York and Chicago at rates no higher than railroad rates, the railroad men will find themselves with a new and extraordinarily difficult problem on their hands.

Speedy Justice

THE speed with which the state of Michigan caught, sentenced and imprisoned the three wretches who robbed and murdered an auto party of two young girls and their escorts ought to be a model to law enforcement agencies all over the country.

A few hours after they had been arrested the three criminals were on their way to the penitentiary—to stay there for life. Here is one case in which justice moved with encouraging speed and precision.

If the law moved that way regularly our "crime waves" would diminish to gentle ripples. The criminal does not fear severity of punishment half as much as speed and certainty. Contrast the Michigan case with the ordinary one, in which months elapse between arrest and trial and more months elapse between conviction and imprisonment.

Stupid and Cowardly

NOTHING better illustrates the cowardice and the idiotic stupidity of the city gangster than the tragic machine-gunning in New York City in which five children were shot down when gunmen tried to put a rival racketeer on the spot.

The job was conducted according to the best gangland traditions. A touring car drove down a busy street, machine guns and revolvers were leveled at the victim, the mob opened fire, and then the car sped away.

But the intended victim escaped unscathed—and five children were shot.

Is it possible for any one to pretend that gangsters are bold, romantic and colorful fellows in the face of a miserable episode like that?

Legacy

I doubt that fate has much in store for me,
For I have played and loitered on the way;
The narrow path holds little ecstasy
For one who figures life a holiday.

If I must make my bed beneath the moon,
And filch my food from any passing hand,
I still will count my heritage a boon—
And keep my faith—and strive to understand.

But you must have the best—a laughing lad
To turn a latch unerringly at night;
Sweet, dimpled children who will make you glad
You once erased a vagrant from your sight.

Cool, sky-blue days—and just occasionally
The time to wonder what became of me.

—DON WAHN.

A Form of Criticism

Take it from Sidney Blackmer of the Lenore Ulric tribe. A disgruntled actor was standing near the Ace music hall where Lou is the Holtz show.

He saw a former pal (an actor who was working) ankle by. The pal didn't pause to even say "Howdy," so the idle one groaned: "Oh, boy! If I had a coupla eggs and a few slices of that guy I could have a marvelous breakfast!"

In Other Words

We all make mistakes, observes David Murray; that's why the police stations stay open all night.

Gag

An old couple, after 45 years, were seated in front on an open fire one evening. The sweet old lady, rocked in her chair and suddenly cooed: "John, don't you think it's about time we got married?"

"Yeh," mournfully mumbled John, "but who'd want us now?"

Tee, Hee!

The telephone company now gives you the correct number by striking a gong. Izzy Elinson, however, wishes they'd try giving the correct number by striking the operator!

Observation

It was in a speakeasy and a lad was buying beer for his friends and drinking two-bit whisky. Some of us overheard him moan about conditions—and how he didn't know from where his rent coin was coming.

Which reminded one of us of O. Henry's passage: "The poor are notoriously temperamental, and when they get money they exhibit a strong tendency to spend it for stuffed olives and enlarged crayon portraits instead of giving it to the installment man!"

Lou Meltzer added that a good slogan for the girl shows would be: "Give the tired business man a swift kick and a coupla shakes!"

Boff!

They tell of the ham who complained long and loud to the producer about the size of his name in the lights.

"Oh," groaned the actor, "I know I'm not a star, but I do think that my name should be featured, at least. Why don't you mention the name of the show plus the principals, and then before my name put: 'and—'?"

"And!" screamed the fed-up producer. "Why not—'but'?"

Merciless Truth

From the letter of an insurance man to a prospect: "Protect yourself—because there always is an army of people who will do nothing to help you—unless it is tar the pole they've been feathering!"

Newspaper Man Stuff

The newspapers were desperate for a photo or a likeness of Mary Dale, the white "heart" of the Jap importer who disappeared so mysteriously from the Belgenland while it was cruising.

The rags learned that Russell Patterson, the renowned artist, was also on that liner. The papers offered Patterson from $500 to $1,500 if he would draw a likeness of the girl from memory. Mrs. Patterson objected, and Russell could not oblige the craft.

An enterprising reporter, however, finally dug up a snappy snapshot of the woman in the case, revealing her in a one-piece bathing suit. The reporter paid only $50 for it.

Very Likely

A chap was limping along Broadway wrapped in bandages.

"Hmmm!" hmmm'd an observer, "there goes a guy who was talking when he should have been listening."

Novelette

They would have you believe it is an old tale. Nevertheless: A man was motoring along a lonely country road when a tire went foooffff! He had no tools with him and could not change a shoe, any how, so he sat there and sighed.

Along came a stranger in a flivver, who paused and asked: "Can I help you?"

"I wish you would!" pleaded the fellow. The stranger changed the tire for him in a jiffy and then motored away.

The grateful one was musing: "Gee, that was nice of him," when he discovered that his watch was gone. He immediately gave chase to the stranger and when he caught up to him, he whipped out a pistol and growled: "Give me back that watch!" The stranger handed over the watch. Then both motored off in opposite roads.

Later the pistol-waver found his watch on his office desk.

And they punch time clocks!

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MIRACLE OF THE CROSS—The "Miracle of the Cross" happened near Moutlouvon in the famous Chateau Thierry sector which was the scene of embittered fighting in the spring and summer of 1918. The ancient church was utterly wrecked, but none of the thousands of shells touched the crucifix at the entrance. Amidst the ruin and desolation caused by heavy bombardment the image of Christ alone escaped unharmed. This suggestion won a prize in the recent "Believe It or Not" radio contest for George J. Anderson of 411 Chesapeake avenue, Newport News, Va., who took part in the famous drive of July, 1918, and who was one of the first to view the miracle.

THE 432-FOOT HOMEWARD BOUND PENNANT—In the spring of 1931 when the U. S. S. Pittsburgh left Manila, P. I., bound for Norfolk, Va., she had a 432-foot "Homeward Bound Pennant" streaming out from her main mast. Supposedly it contained one foot of length for each member of the crew, and one white star on each commissioned officer. However, the crew of the Pittsburgh is over 700, but they were unable to obtain 700 yards of silk in Singapore. When the company of a ship carrying the pennant breaks up, each member of the crew takes a portion of the banner as a souvenir.

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberly Farrell, shiftless, young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Clair and Jack Maldon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night, he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtains a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire.

As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father.

Kim is restored to his old position which he had lost due to money irregularities. When his salary is increased, Mary Faith tells him to buy new clothes.

Mary Faith sees Kim walking with a girl from the neighborhood library. She accuses him of being a fast worker.

Clair Maldon tells Mary Faith that she should step out and be gay if she wants to hold Kim's affections. Kim again begins his visits to the Maldon flat.

Kim returns late one night, wet and ill. Mary Faith realizes he has been on a wild party.

CHAPTER XXXVI

Jack Maldon had come up behind Mary Faith. "Let me take your coat," he said.

"Thanks, Jack." They confronted each other gravely in the midst of the confusion and the crazy din, exactly as two people who spoke the same language might have faced each other in a crowd of foreigners.

"Do you want to come out to the kitchen while I wash glasses?" he asked.

"That's a great idea," said Kim raucously. "You and Mary Faith go out and do your 'hewers of wood and carriers of water' act, and while you're doing that, I'll dance with your wife."

"Oh, come on and dance then and don't talk so much, handsome!" Claire interrupted. With troubled eyes Mary Faith watched them dance across the room. She felt just then that she would cheerfully surrender a year of her life to be able to do what Claire was doing—to dance Kim away from everybody else, and make him like it.

For there was no doubt that Kim did like it. He followed Claire around the flat like her shadow all the rest of the night. Mary Faith watched them thoughtfully, jealously, and with a kind of sick despair, whenever she emerged from the hot kitchen where she and Jack were cooking the breakfast that everybody demanded along toward 4 o'clock.

"Gosh, I'm tired!" he said, opening a can of tomatoes for the omelette that Mary Faith was preparing. He sounded tired. Tired and discouraged. "I wish this crowd would clear out and let me get some sleep. Claire can do this sort of thing every night in the week. I don't know how she gets away with it."

"She doesn't work all day the way you do," Mary Faith reminded him.

"Sandy works all day," Jack said, "and he's as fresh as a daisy right now." He nodded his head in the direction of the living room. "Listen to him."

Mary Faith had been listening to Kim for the past five minutes. He had been singing "Frankie and Johnnie" for the crowd, and he was on the last verse now:

"This story has no morals—
This story has no end,
This story only goes to show
That there ain't no good in men—"

"The whole place smells like a brewery, too," Jack went on, and then suddenly he laughed.

"I'm not a very good host, am I, Mary Faith?"

Mary Faith turned from the stove and faced him. "The trouble with you and me, Jack, is that we aren't 'good sports.' The only difference is that you try to be one, and I don't. I know there's a side of Kim that likes this sort of a good time, and I don't even pretend to understand that side of him."

It was the side of him that she had never known until long after she married him, she reflected a little later, watching him and Claire feed each other bits of toast and omelette. He was almost like a stranger to her, this loud-talking, laughing man, with his bloodshot eyes and rumpled blond hair.

He scowled when she begged him to start home as soon as breakfast had been eaten and the crowd was beginning to dance and drink again. And it came over her suddenly that he had always treated her with something between dislike and indifference when he was with Claire Maldon and her crowd.

"No, I'm not going home," he told her. "I'm having a good time. If you want to leave, it's more than okay with me. . . . You sure do know how to put the graveyard touch to a party."

Mary Faith wondered how he could find this one of Claire's so entertaining. It was so like all the other gatherings in the Maldon flat. The same drinks and games and dance-music. The same people—the red-haired woman who always wore pink, the one named Sally who always did a solo dance called "the mess-around" that she had learned, so she invariably explained, on a plantation in the South one year when she had wintered there, the little black-mustached man who could sit on a stone jug and light a match stuck in the toe of his shoes without falling off the jug. To Mary Faith it was all very dull and very silly.

Mary Faith finally telephoned for a cab and went home. It was broad daylight when she was awakened by the sound of coughing. She opened her eyes to find Kim standing beside the bed, trying to get out of his coat and vest. When she tried to help him, she found that his clothes were damp and that there were drops of moisture on his hair.

"What happened, Kim? You're wet."

He had to think for a minute before he answered her. "Raining, outside," he said finally. "Raining and snowing. My car stopped on the way home. Couldn't get it started again."

He refused to take the hot bath that she got ready for him, and by the time she had made him a cup of hot coffee he was sound asleep, breathing in an uneven rapid way that made her remember the way he had breathed a few weeks before when he had bronchitis.

He slept all day. Even the cough that shook his body every few minutes did not rouse him. At 10 that night Mary Faith sent for the doctor, who said that Kim was in for another siege of bronchitis.

The next morning he was worse, and on the third day his fever rose to a hundred and four degrees. Mary Faith called the doctor and by the time he arrived, Kim was delirious.

"Pneumonia," Dr. Thatcher said gravely. "I've been afraid of this. You see, he never properly recovered from the first attack of bronchitis."

Day after day Mary Faith nursed Kim, hovering over him with medicine or the little clinical thermometer that told the story of the fever that was torturing him. One night when his temperature ran very high, he began to call for her. She was sitting beside him and she laid her hand on his arm and asked him what he wanted.

"I want Mary Faith," he muttered, in the thick voice of delirium.

"So, 'way down deep in his heart, I'm the person he thinks of and wants," she told herself as she sat there through the long hours of the night. He might flirt with a pretty girl, might go out to places like the Golden Pheasant tavern for an evening's pleasure, or wander up to the Maldons' flat for a Dutch supper and a highball. But all those things were simply cheap excursions away from her, she mused. She and the baby and this little home of theirs were the important things in his life. She was tranquilly certain of it.

On the ninth day the fever broke and Kim was "out of the woods." A week later he was well enough to sit up, and Mary Faith hung over him, her face tender and radiant with the happiness of being near him and taking care of him.

The baby, who adored Kim, spent half his time in the room, trotting about on his small unsteady legs, or rolling his red crochet ball up and down the counterpane of Kim's bed.

"It's so wonderful—you're getting well and the three of us are here together, safe and happy," Mary Faith said one bright snowy morning as she put Kim's room in order. She leaned over him and laid her rosy cheek against his white one for a second. But in that second she felt him draw away from her.

"If you're through fussing around in here, I'd like to lie down and be quiet," he said levelly. "Take the baby with you when you go."

He could not have hurt her more—or surprised her more—if he had struck her. He had seemed so wholly hers during the past week or two. But she knew now that that was only because he had been weak and passive in his illness.

Washington is the world's greatest storehouse of all kinds of knowledge. You can draw on it free of charge through our bureau there. Any question of fact you may ask will be answered promptly in a personal letter to you. Be careful to write clearly, give your full name and address, and enclose two-cent stamp for reply postage. Send your inquiry to the Record-News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Does a person have to get a permit to write under a non de plume?—A. R.

A.—One simply assumes a nom de plume.

Q.—What is the distinction between burnishing and abrading?—D. B.

A.—In burnishing an object, a smooth, glossy surface is obtained by polishing or rubbing. In abrading, the surface is actually worn off by the friction.

Q.—Where did the Sally Lunn get its name?—J. F.

A.—The tea cake Sally Lunn was named for the hawker who once sold them in the streets of Bath, England.

Q.—What does "to cross the Rubicon" mean?—M. A.

A.—It means to take some step from which it is not possible to recede. The Rubicon was a small river separating Italy from Cisalpine Gaul, the province allotted to Julius Caesar. In B. C. 49, when Caesar crossed this stream, he passed beyond the limits of his own province and became an invader of Italy.

Q.—How much did the United States pay for Florida?—E. M.

A.—The Floridas were bought from Spain in 1819. No actual money payment was made to Spain, but the United States assumed and paid the sum of $5,000,000 in satisfaction of claims of citizens of the United States against Spain.

Q.—Are the words "more perfect" as used in the preamble of the constitution perfect English?—C. L. D.

A.—The term, more perfect, is condemned by some grammarians but every adjective of this kind that means an absolute degree becomes gradually weakened in force in colloquial use and a secondary meaning is developed. In that sense adjectives of this kind may be compared. More and most perfect have been employed by some of the greatest English writers.

Q.—When was the fox trot first danced?—H. N.

A.—The fox trot has been danced since about 1913.

Q.—Please tell of the origin of lock-making.—F. J. K.

A.—The history of the locksmith's art is probably as old as civilization and references to it are found in the early literature of every nation. Wood was undoubtedly the first material used in the construction of locks but the Egyptians at an early date employed brass and iron. The Hebrews and Greeks used crooked keys with ivory or wooden handles. The similarity of primitive locks made access to the house easy and led to the improvement of methods, resulting in the so-called Lacedaemonian lock. Among the ancient nations lock-making made little progress in advance of what had been done by the Egyptians. Even the Romans used very simple locks. The tumbler lock was probably first invented and used by the Chinese.

Q.—How many times was the Liberty Bell rung before it cracked?—S. E. G.

A.—The Liberty Bell which was brought to America in 1752 cracked at the first ringing after its arrival. It was then recast and cracked again on July 8, 1835, while being tolled in memory of Chief Justice Marshall.

Q.—What former member of congress was nicknamed Old Bullion?—E. D. C.

A.—Thomas H. Benton.

Q.—When was the rule made against spitball pitching in the big leagues?—C. S.

A.—In 1920. Pitchers then using the spitball were permitted to continue to do so, but new pitchers in the major league could not. Seventeen pitchers were thus exempted, but the number has now dwindled to four, three in the National league and one in the American.

Q.—How long is the Akron supposed to fly without refueling?—D. H.

A.—It is built to be able to fly over 10,500 miles at 50 miles per hour without refueling.

Q.—What is a quadruplex?—F. H.

A.—It is a set of electrical instruments and apparatus, invented in 1874 by Thomas A. Edison, by means of which four telegraphic messages may be sent and received simultantously over one wire, two in each direction.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on the Use of Words

This is a concise guide to correct speech and writing in English, treating of words frequently mispronounced, misspelled or misused by the average person. Because slips of the tongue are more numerous than slips of the pen, especial care should be taken to avoid them. When one speaks, one should speak clearly and naturally. Slovenliness in speech is a badge of vulgarity that can be removed only by eternal vigilance. Similarly, misspelling words reflects upon one who is guilty of it.

GULF OPENS BRECK OFFICE

Zone Headquarters Moved From Burk

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Aug. 28.—Twenty new families will be moved to Breckenridge by Sept. 1, it was revealed by local Gulf Oil company officials Thursday, bringing some 30 or 35 new residents here to make their home.

Breckenridge in the future will be the headquarters for zone seven of the Gulf company in Texas, according to G. A. Poole, present assistant district foreman for this zone. Headquarters are being moved from Burkburnett to Breckenridge, Mr. Poole said. Gulf officials are of the opinion that Breckenridge offers a more centralized site for operations in the seventh zone, since the Gulf has disposed of much of its property near Burkburnett.

J. E. Eubanks, now stationed at Wichita Falls, will be district foreman of zone seven with his headquarters here. He expects to move here with his family about Monday. Others to be transferred here will move within a week. The employes being transferred to the district office here are office workers and field men. Most of the new residents will be required to find homes in Breckenridge, since the homes at the Gulf camp northwest of town are already filled with approximately 90 regular families maintained here by the Gulf company.

The Gulf company will operate its properties from the local office as far north as Wichita county and south to and including Eastland county.

Farmers Appeal To Huntsmen to Stop Fowl Loss

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Aug. 28.—When hunters go out into the fields of Stephens county farmers next Tuesday and for the rest of the bird season—to shoot doves—they are urged to be careful with their shooting, D. G. Fambro, Necessity farmer, said Thursday on behalf of every farmer in this county.

Mr. Fambro said hunters do thousands of dollars worth of damage each hunting season in shooting rabbits, birds and other animals and leaving them there to rot and be eaten by the farmers' turkeys. The farmers are urging hunters to carry away every bird or animal they shoot.

When turkeys eat the decayed animals they often become sick with ptomaine poison or "limber neck," as it is more commonly known, according to Mr. Fambro. Fambro said that he alone lost more than 30 turkeys from this cause last year. One farmer, he said, lost more than 150 turkeys.

Turkeys on Stephens county farms are just now more than half grown and the farmers stand a heavy loss when they lose their stock at this time of the year.

Few farmers absolutely prevent shooting on their places but they do urge the hunters to be careful.

This Baby Gets Classy Care

No wonder, 11-month-old baby Jack is becoming "tubby." He has all the girls in the senior home economics class at Drexel institute, Philadelphia, to care for him. One girl is his nurse for four weeks at a time, feeding him, dressing him, and supervising his social development.

Human Bones Found Under Memphis House Baffle County Officers

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Aug. 28.—Officers here are still baffled to explain the discovery of a part of a human skull, three jaw bones, one of a woman and two of men and 35 caliber .30 U. S. A. army rifle shells, wrapped in a copy of the Denver Post and deposited in a gunny sack, found by Mrs. Earl Gilcrest under one of her husband's rent houses, near the Memphis compress early this week. City and county officers were notified and the bones were taken to the Memphis hospital for examination.

The rent house had been vacant for about two days, it was stated. It had been rented by a man who was hauling material for the new highway. He is said to have left the house last Friday, taking his belongings with him, without telling the owner that he was going. The man had occupied the dwelling for about two weeks.

Mrs. Gilcrest noticed a sack protruding from under the house. She took it out and untied the string to discover the contents and found the bones and skull and notified her husband who notified the police.

Two of the jaw bones belonged to the skull of a man, according to O. R. Goodall, bone specialist, while the third is supposed to belong to a woman. Parts of the bones, where the muscles were attached, were found to be more developed on two of the bones than on the other. Several of the teeth in the man's jaws were in place but were very loose. In the bones that were supposed to be those of a woman, the teeth were missing and the bone around the molars was decayed.

The bones were not more than 15 years old, Doctor Goodall stated.

The shells were in seven clips of five bullets each. None of them had been fired and the steel points could be removed from most of them. Part of the powder was removed and officers said that when a match was touched to it it barely ignited.

The bones and shell had evidently been under the house a short time, as the paper in which they were wrapped was dated March 8, 1931. The gunny sack was in good condition and showed no signs of wear or abuse, officers stated.

FLIERS EAGER TO START HOP

Pangborn and Herndon Want to Span Pacific

TOKYO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Eager to start a non-stop flight of 4,400 miles across the Pacific to Seattle, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon today urged American diplomats here and in Washington to obtain early permission from the Japanese government for the start from here. They wished to take advantage of the full moon.

The fliers made application through the American embassy here Aug. 18. Because of delayed action the American state department four days ago sent a representative to the Japanese embassy to explain the full moon angle.

Ambassador Debuchi cabled the American request to Foreign Minister Shidehara here. The latter's department has taken a somewhat sympathetic attitude concerning the difficulties of Pangborn and Herndon, who were fined here for taking photographs of Japanese fortifications during their flight from Siberia.

Other departments, however, have been slow to move. The application for permission to fly was said by a foreign office spokesman to be in the control section of the communications department.

100,000 Cans Used For Childress Food

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 28.—Local hardware dealers report that almost 100,000 tin cans were shipped into Childress county this season, practically all of which have been sold to local farmers. With glass jars and old tin cans it is estimated that from 100,000 to 150,000 cans of vegetables have been canned by farmers of Childress county. With good fall gardens canning will be under way for two or three weeks. Later the canning of beef and poultry will be taken up, with at least 25 beeves being canned. Several hundred cans of poultry will be prepared.

Miracles of the Mind

Every once in a while we are thrilled by reading about miraculous cures taking place through the power of prayer, faith, or the laying on of hands. Such cures, ordinarily termed miracles, are believed in by thousands of people, and have been told about ever since mankind learned the use of language. In some parts of the world today you will find springs in which it is said one can take a bath and be cured of anything from dandruff to clubbed feet. There are bones in sacred shrines which, it is rumored, the paralyzed one has only to touch in order to be able to walk again. Such stories are often written about in the daily press as the newspaper men have learned that this kind of a story is always interesting to the reader. Some may believe, and some may scoff, but all will be interested.

It is well to understand that all such penomena, which are not totally fictitious, can usually be explained by any one who will keep up to date with the investigations of physical and psychical phenomena. Disease only exists because there has been an interference with health. This interference is usually manifested by a congestion or a lack of functioning in some part of the body, and the causes are sometimes mental and sometimes physical. It is easy to understand that when the body has not been properly exercised and one has not followed the correct habits of living, disorders of metabolism will result and weaken the resistance, bringing about a condition where the blood stream is charged with waste products.

The cure of such conditions depends upon the body being freed of toxemia, and good results can usually be obtained in a short time by using an eliminative treatment, which will throw off the physical impurities which are clogging up the various channels of the body. Such methods of treatment, as a fasting cure, scientific dietetics, manipulative therapy, hydrotherapy, and electro-therapy, will assist the body in increasing elimination and as a result bring about some marvelous cures in a very short time.

Many of the amazing cures by "miracles" are effected in cases where the congestion in the body or lack of functioning of a part has been caused by some error in the mental habits. Destructive thoughts of all kinds and the repression of normal emotions and desires will bring about a sluggishness of the circulation and an auto-intoxication, which are just as effective in producing diseases as bad physical habits. If psycho-analysis, hypnotism, prayer or the visit to some sacred shrine can suddenly remove these inhabitions and destructive attitudes of the mind, it is then possible for the natural creative forces in the body to bring about a marvelous change as soon as the proper mental attitude is adopted.

In many cases of paralysis, loss of vision or hearing, etc., the patient continues to be under the delusion that these diseases exist when the natural forces of the body have already brought about a change to the normal. Many a patient, who has had his arm paralyzed, has been slowly cured by the natural creative forces which exist at all times in the body. The trouble is that the patient often does not know that this change has taken place, and the arm remains unused and in a weakened condition. If this is true, any doctor, healer or evangelist who can give the patient a certain mental picture of being cured will be abel to cause a sudden change for the better, which is termed a "miracle."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Explanation of Olive Oil Treatment

Question—Mrs. Y. says: "I used the grapefruit fast with olive oil as you suggested. The first five treatments of this brought away dozens of gall stones of different sizes, but lately there have been none. I mentioned this fact to my doctor, but he says that this is not gall stones but merely bile in a thickened form and advises me to have the gall bladder removed as he says that olive oil cannot reach the stones. I feel much better except for an occasional pain in the front part of my ribs if I stoop very much."

Answer—The olive oil given in my treatment for gall stones is not intended to reach the gall bladder, which is impossible. It simply stimulates the flow of bile, so that the bile in the gall bladder may become more diluted and in this way dissolve the gall stones. This, of course, takes considerable time and the use of the curative diet for several months. The lumps you noticed are thickened bile mixed with the olive oil, which forms a kind of soapy substance. If the treatment is bringing this about, it is a good indication, as it shows that the bile is flowing more freely. I would suggest that you continue the diet and repeat the fast and treatment for about a month, and then have an x-ray taken to see if there is any difference in the size of the gall stones. If you feel some relief at the present time, that is a very favorable indication.

Canning Program Assures Food for Winter in Floyd

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Aug. 28.—That Floyd county farmers will not go hungry this winter is indicated by a survey that has just been made by chamber of commerce officials and Miss Martha Faulkner, county home demonstration agent. Never before in the county's history has there been so much summer canning. Practically every farmer has raised excellent gardens this year and many have already planted fall gardens. Two thousand cans donated by the Red Cross did not last but a few days. It is estimated by merchants who have had cans for sale that more than 100,000 cans have been filled this year already and indications are that many thousands more will have been filled before the canning season is over for vegetables, and then the canning of meat products will begin which will also fill several more thousand cans. It is almost impossible to find any one in Floyd county that has not canned from several dozen cans to hundreds of cans of various food stuff.

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

There were rumors last night that this Surebest Bakers team from Dallas, meeting Bailey-Moline this afternoon, includes on its roster five ex-Texas league players, and that one of them is none other than old Pete Lapan, the ex-Spudder catcher!

The rumors could not be verified.

Scoop Scharein is coming back. He will rejoin the Spudders next Tuesday, President William E. Huff announced.

The quarterfinal match between Johnny Doeg and George Lott, national doubles champions, and Sidney Wood and Frank Shields, Davis cup singles stars, was interrupted by rain Thursday, and is to be finished Monday. The match stood at one set all, and the champions had a 4-3 lead on service in the third when the downpour drenched the courts at Brookline, Mass., where the national doubles tournament is under way.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn advanced to the semifinals, as did Bruce Barnes and Clifford Sutter. Allison and Ryn defeated Frederick Perry and George Patrick Hughes, British Davis cup pair, while Barnes and Sutter beat Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gladhill in a sensational upset.

Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., and Berkeley Bell, Texan now living in New York, also advanced to the semifinals, defeating Edward Jacobs, Baltimore, and Wilbur F. Coen Jr., of Kansas City.

This is all by way of introduction. The point of it is that Wilbur Allison, Berkeley Bell, and Bruce Barnes, each of them on a team in the national doubles championship, got their start in tennis under the tutelage of a professor at the University of Texas, a professor who is just now receiving the notice he so long has deserved.

Hubert MeWhinney, a friend of the writer, and no mean tennis player himself, who is on the Associated Press staff, writes an interesting sketch of this scholarly tennis tutor. We recommend it to all followers of the sport. The sketch follows:

"He is the greatest college tennis coach in the country, but the husky young whirling dervishes he tutors have never called him 'coach.'

"'Dr. Penick' is their salutation, delivered with the sedate dignity appropriate to a university classroom. For he is a Ph. D., this Dr. D. A. Penick, and a professor of the classical languages at the University of Texas. He knows even more about attic hexameters than he knows about backhand crossing shots.

"Somehow or other, none of the doctor's boys has ever won at Longwood or Forest Hills, though they have taken enough cups in the intercollegiates and the major invitation tournaments to load a fair-sized truck. Allison and Van Ryn have twice won the doubles at Wimbledon, England—the equivalent of the world's championship—but so far have been unable to take the American title from Lott and Doeg. This time, the doctor's young men would appear to have three chances out of four.

"This Dr. Penick looks far more like the coach of the college chess team than the man who developed Bell and Allison. He is a tall, scholarly looking man, a bit elderly now, and very quiet of speech, as are most professors of the classical languages. Sometimes he instructs his young men by word of mouth and sometimes by demonstration. He still plays a sound game of tennis. Naturally, he lacks the flashy speed of Allison or young Barnes, but his strokes are rhythmically timed and executed in perfect form.

"A calm, almost scholarly, demeanor is expected of the lads who play on the varsity courts here, named after the doctor. Loud shoutings are taboo and if a man dubs a smash, "Aw, shoot!" is about the strongest language permissable. The doctor is old-fashioned in a good many ways. He used to ride to the campus on a bicycle every morning. Later, admirers presented him an automobile, but it is rumored that the bicycle is still somewhere about. He has never taken pay for producing tennis champions, pointing out that to do so would cost him his amateur standing.

"He is very quiet, but seldom flattering, in his criticisms. One day young Barnes volleyed an easy one into the net and then tossed his racquet away in picque. The doctor waited quietly until the set was finished.

"Now, Bruce," he said, "throwing your racquet away doesn't help you a bit—nor the racquet, either.'"

The Morning Mail

Another reason why sports writers turn gray young is contained in a letter from Mutt Lowe of Henrietta. Mutt wants a decision on this one:

The pitcher heaves one across. The batter swings at it and misses. The ball lands in the catcher's mitt, but bounces out. The batter's swing was hard, and as the bat makes the backward swing it hits the ball which has bounced out of the catcher's mitt. The ball rolls toward first base.

Mutt wants to know what about this, and can the man from third score?

The man on third is not entitled to score. The ball is dead after it hits the catcher's mitt. The batter is charged with a strike.

Lewen Davis of Chillicothe wants to know what year it was that Eddie Moore knocked the most triples, and what his total was for that year.

He adds that it's a treat to watch the Chillicothe Eagles in their football practice, and says the school has the brightest prospects for a winning team in years.

Eddie Moore bagged the most triples of his Texas league career in 1929, when he hit 30 of the babies.

He started off with three in 1926. This grew to 13 in 1927. It shrank to a dozen in 1928, but in 1929 he went gunning for 'em.

In the 1930 season he hit only seven triples.

"Uncle Jake," Dallas sports writer, was found guilty of this:

"Papa's cappin' bottles;
Sister's lcyin' bets,
Brother's helping mother
Malk th' family cigarets."

BUFFS WIN 10-INNING BATTLE, 3-2 TO SWEEP SERIES

Rally in Ninth Ties Score And Robs Vincent of Five-Hit Shutout

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

Two were out in the ninth inning, and Stormy Fred Vincent had a 2 to 0, five-hit shutout over the Houston Buffs virtually cinched, but at the last minute he weakened and a vital part of the defense cracked, allowing the Buffs to score two runs and tie the count. Then with a bit of hustle they pushed over a run in the tenth inning to defeat the Spudders here yesterday afternoon, 3 to 2.

The loss can be charged to Red Badgro just as much as it can to Vincent, for a scatter-arm throw from left field in the ninth allowed Carey to score with the tying run. In the tenth, the customers enjoyed a circus. Selph led off with a single. Medwick flied to right. Peel singled to right. Fuss heaved to third, but Selph being safe there, a play was started for Peel between first and second. There was much tossing back and forth between the infielders, and Peel was finally out in the chase, Allday making the putout, but in the melee Selph scored with what proved to be the winning run. In the last of the tenth the Spudders failed to threaten.

And so it's goodbye Houston, for this season. Their clean sweep of the short series here marked their last appearance in Spudderville in 1931. Today the club plays host to the Beaumont Shippers, who will be here through Monday for four games, a double-header being planned Sunday.

—Thursday's game with the Buffs was played in stifling hot weather. Yesterday a light topcoat would have been comfortable, and an abortive shower made its appearance. A strong wind blew, making it difficult for the batters to get the ball past the infield.

Dizzy Dean did not pitch. Charlie Breeden started, but gave way toward the last to George Payne and Hanson.

Spuds Check Threat

The Buffs got two on in the first as the result of Selph's single and Medwick's double, but they didn't profit by it. It remained for the Spuds to draw first blood in the second frame when Badgro singled, went to third on infield outs by Bradbury and Fuss, and came home on a wild pitch.

The Buffs loaded the bases with two out in the third on a single by Smith, a pass to Selph, and Medwick's single, but Peel forced Medwick at second to end the threat. The Spuds went down in order.

Sprinz' single was the only interruption of the regular order of outs in Houston's fourth. The Spuds again bit the dust. After three Buffs had gone down in the fifth, the Spuds made their other counter. With Fuss and Euller on as the result of walks, Vincent poked a single through the box, scoring Fuss. With two out in the sixth, Sturdy walked, stole second, and took third on a passed ball, but Myers fanned. Stanton singled in the Spudder half, but nothing came of it.

Myers Stars

Sanders batted for Breeden in the uneventful first half of the seventh, and George Payne took the mound in the Spudder half. Myers, Buff shortstop, made two fine plays to retire Fuss and Bloxsom, and Euller grounded out, pitcher to first.

Vincent continued his air-tight pitching in the eighth, retiring three in order. After Smith had flied to right and Selph had popped to short, Gerken made a good catch of Medwick's high fly to center. Payne got a workout in the last of the eighth. He stopped Vincent's hard drive for Hock to field, and himself fielded Gerken's hit to the box. Then he "threw his leg" at Allday and the Bear grounded out, second to first.

Buffs Tie Score

In the ninth, Peel fouled out to left. Sturdy singled to right. Myers fouled out to Bloxsom, who made a great run to the left field foul line. Sprinz walked, Sturdy taking second. Carey went in to run for Sprinz. Funk batted for Payne. He lifted a Texas leaguer behind short, Sturdy scoring and Carey taking second. Hock singled to left, Carey scoring, and Funk took third on Badgro's poor throw to Bradbury. Smith popped to Allday.

Hanson went to the box in the last of the inning. The Spudders made warlike gestures, but proved tame. Stanton drew a pass. Badgro, attempting to bunt, fouled out to the pitcher. Bradbury flied to left. Fuss singled through the box, Stanton taking third. Bloxsom flied to left.

Then followed the 10th inning side-show.

CARDS WHIP PIRATES, 6-4

25,000 Welcome Champions to Home Lot

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28. (AP)—Welcomed by 25,000 fans from their successful eastern tour, the St. Louis Cardinals entertained the home folks by coming four runs from behind to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 4, in the first of a four-game series here today.

For six innings Larry French was invincible but the Cards found their batting eyes and put across two counters in the seventh and four more in the eighth. After the champions had tied the count, Sparky Adams, league leader in two-base hits, doubled to give the Cardinals the margin of victory. Score:

Howell, Wolfson And Holton 1931 Coyote Managers

Neville Howell, Isadore Wolfson, and Cecil Holton will compose the managerial staff of the Coyote football team for the 1931 season, according to announcement Friday by Barry Holton, head coach of Wichita Falls high school.

Howell will assume the duties of head manager with Wolfson and Holton his assistants. This season will be Howell's second complete season at handling the equipment and doctoring the injured players, while this is the first year for the other two members of the staff.

If the responsibilities of this department prove too much for the three managers, a fourth will probably be added later in the season, Holton said.

Panthers Give Wyatt His Second Beating

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28. (AP)—W. Harris pitched the Fort Worth Panthers to a 1 to 0 victory over Whitlow Wyatt and the Beaumont Exporters here tonight. He was staked to the one-run lead in the second inning and was forced to do some airtight pitching in the later innings to hold his advantage. The defeat was the second of the season for Wyatt, both of which have been sustained from the Cats. Score:

South Chicago Wins Junior Series Opener

HOUSTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Jimmy McKirchy, scrapping little Irishman from South Chicago, here Friday night pitched his team to a 13 to 4 victory over Columbia, S. C., in the first game of the junior world series, sponsored by the American Legion. McKirchy, a right-hander with a sharp-breaking curve, allowed only six hits, and fanned nine.

Coach C. O. Applegram's South Chicago boys hustled in great fashion. Leo Tiati impressed with his work at first; Wally Holem, big catcher, turned in a splendid game; while Pabczynski, center field, shared hitting laurels with McKirchy, each getting three blows.

"Country" Kneece, big southpaw who started for Columbia, had a lot of stuff on the ball, but was wild, and his support was ragged.

The teams will tangle here Saturday afternoon at Buffalo stadium, starting at 3:30. Al Lawler probably will pitch for South Chicago, with Kirby Rigby going to the firing line for Columbia.

Dallas Sandlotters Meet City Champions Today

Bailey-Moline Ready To Open War For State Title

DALLAS, Aug. 28. (AP) — First round games in the elimination series of the Texas Amateur Athletic federation for the 1931 Texas amateur baseball championship will be played tomorrow. Four games are scheduled, two in the northern division and two in the southern division. Each series calls for three games.

In the northern division, the Surebest team of Dallas journeys to Wichita Falls to play the Bailey-Moline team of that city, 1931 City league champions. Waco champions will invade Fort Worth to battle the Pantherville champions.

In the southern division, the Austin Gassers go to San Antonio to play the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Alamo City champions. The series between Houston and Galveston will be split between the respective cities.

HARDWAREMEN READY FOR BATTLE TODAY

By MACK TURNER

Bailey-Moline Hardware company is prepared to enter the Dallas series here Saturday with one of the greatest teams to ever win the flag in Wichita Falls. Bailey-Moline won this right last Wednesday when Cy Hills turned in his great four-hit shutout over the scrappy little Sullivans Grocery nine. Bailey-Moline goes into the Dallas playoff with the knowledge they defeated one of the most colorful teams in the state of Texas for the right to meet the Dallas Bakers. Back in the days of old, the Twilight league was classed as one of the fastest class D baseball leagues in the state, but they never produced a team more colorful than the Sullivans Grocery team that went down before Bailey-Moline after sweeping through an undefeated half of the schedule to win the last half. No team ever gained the glory and fame that Sullivans gained over the whole country in their famous 25-inning battle with Star Transfer when Steve Franklin and Lefty Robertson went the route. This game gained mention in almost every leading newspaper in the nation.

Bailey-Moline defeated this team in the playoff, only after Sullivan Grocery forced them to play four games, even after taking the handicap of losing the first game. The courage of this team in fighting back from behind time after time caused Bailey-Moline no little worry, and there is not a man on the Bailey-Moline club who will not praise every Sullivan player for the clean manner in which he played the game right down the line until the last game of the City league season.

Bailey-Moline goes into the battle Saturday with Dallas with the hearty support of every player and manager in the City league. The hustling club is one that carries the hopes of Wichita Falls against the invading horde from Dallas. Fandom is expected to give the club a hearty sendoff in this series as it will be their last appearance here in any stiff competition for the remaining state playoff games will be on the road should Bailey-Moline be able to get past the strong Dallas club.

Bailey-Moline has produced but few players of the flashy type this year, but have played all year in the same rut, steady and dependable all the way. The team as a whole is made up of experienced City leaguers who have taken their time and done a thorough job on every play game in and game out.

The game will be called at 4 o'clock today. It will be played at Katy park, on the Burkburnett road.

Bell Serves Notice That Aggies Will Be Tough

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Aug. 28. (AP)—Coach Madison Bell of Texas A. & M. college served notice on competitors today that the Aggies would have a fighting football club in the field for the coming season.

"We may have a bunch of scrappy 160-pounders in there at times, but there will be plenty of competition offered," Bell asserted in a talk at the closing session of the Aggie summer coaching school.

In commenting on the requirements of an effective football player, Bell named the ability to fight as a prime requisite.

Certificates of attendance were issued to 137 coaches who attended the annual two-week course.

Frederick Plans Night Football This Season

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Aug. 28.—Football enthusiasts who were present at a meeting in the office of the local chamber of commerce Wednesday night appeared to favor the proposition of illuminating the gridiron with electric lights for the coming season. Henry Gack of the General Electric company proposed to install a 48,000-watt system for not to exceed $1,000, one-half of which is to be paid by Dec. 1, 1931, and the balance in one year with interest at six per cent. Business men would be required to underwrite the payment.

Pul Allen, former coach and present principal of the high school, said he believed the extra attendance would easily pay this sum. Heretofore all games have been played on Friday afternoons, which keeps many business men of Frederick and neighboring points and farmers from attending. The system Gack proposes to install is equal to the one at Lawton where night games have proven very popular.

L. M. Wagnon, secretary of the Frederick Chamber of Commerce, presided. The following committee was appointed to make arrangements to have the system installed: Wagnon, Bob Cull, Pat Harper, John Zumwalt, Paul Allen and Skivey Davis.

A'S DEFEAT YANKS, 5 TO 4

Ruffing Chased by Rally In Seventh

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28. (AP)—Staging a typical three-run rally in the seventh inning, when they drove Charley Ruffing from the box, the Athletics came from behind today to defeat the New York Yankees 5 to 4, in the first of a two-game series. Roy Mahaffey was credited with the victory, his 15th of the year against two defeats. Mickey Cochrane, back in the game for the Athletics after a short rest, banged three singles in four trips to the plate. Score:

Hill Joins Pressler In Women's Golf Finals

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 28. (AP)—Kansas City's famous golfing mother, Mrs. O. S. Hill, conquered the wind and one of the biggest threats of the fairways in a dramatic battle today to join Mrs. Leona Pressler, San Gabriel, Calif., as finalists in the struggle for the women's western golf championship.

While Mrs. Pressler hauled out her magic irons to rout her less experienced rival, June Beebe, Chicago, 5 and 4, Mrs. Hill came from behind with a stirring finish to defeat Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, one up, in a match that travelled 19 holes.

The finalists, who have held the title between them three times during the past four years, will meet over 36 holes tomorrow with Mrs. Pressler the slight favorite because of her great iron shots. Mrs. Pressler held the title in 1927 and 1928 with Mrs. Hill her successor in 1929.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Rallies from a slight opening decline in cotton today were attributed to some trade buying and covering promoted by the continued absence of southern hedging, prospects for further showers in the South and the better tone of the stock market.

December contracts sold up from 7.19 to 7.35 and closed at 7.33, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 8 to 12 points. Prices reached the highest levels of the day in the late trading. October advanced to 7.15 and March to 7.66 and the closes was within 2 or 3 points of the best.

The prospect for further showers in the South came in for considerable attention as likely to cause a further delay in new crop movement and this combined with the better tone of the stock market, was the factors most generally mentioned in connection with the advance. A private end-August crop report was issued making the condition as of Aug. 25, 67.1 and the indicated crop at 15,512,000 bales compared with a report by the same authority a month ago making the condition 70.6 and the indicated yield 12,981,000 bales. These end-August figures were without apparent effect upon the market, but it was said that the decline in the end-August condition was less than average for the month.

Increased receipts at Houston today attracted some comment with the opinion expressed in some quarters that they might reflect movement of old crop cotton to fill September engagement, rather than the increase in new crop receipts.

Liverpool cables said that continental liquidation had been absorbed by covering in that market and reported moderate cloth sales to the Argentine, but inactivity in yarns. Exports today 7,313 making 153,622 so far this season. Port receipts 33,822. U. S. port stocks 2,760,839.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28, (AP)—Although the cotton market was rather quiet today prices developed a moderately upward trend. Liverpool cables were indifferent which was responsible for a loss of 4 points in early trading but the market soon improved with stocks which induced further short covering with contracts rather scarce as there was little hedge selling.

The better tone was helped by rather bullish weekly statistics particularly mill takings which were larger than last week as well as the corresponding week last year. A private authority estimated the crop at 15,512,000 bales.

Liverpool cables came in 1 to 2 penny points worse than due and private cables stated that the market was influenced by continental liquidation. Manchester cabled that there were moderate cloth sales to Argentina but that yars were inactive. October closed at 7.10 and December at 7.32, both months showing net gains for the day of 9 points. Liverpool was due tomorrow 2 to 3 penny points up on New Orleans.

Port receipts 38,403; for week 85,930; for season 172,488; last season 552,386. Exports 10,815; for week 34,584; for season 148,936; last season 244,11. Port stock 2,757,023; last year 1,883,073. Opening prices were 1 to 5 points lower, although cables were slightly better than due. The market worked gradually higher, but later eased off a little. Rain fell in northern Arkansas and western Tennessee and along the Carolina coast. The forecast was for scattered showers.

Market Disconcerts Speculators By Assuming Upward Trend

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (US)—The stock market turned upward today, much to the dismay of the majority of the speculators, who had been predicting continuance of the decided sluggishness of the previous day. Perhaps this very attitude was in large part responsible for the market's firmness, since it conceivably created a rather bullish technical condition.

It is known that short-selling had become more popular by reason of the market's inability to make much progress during the early part of the week. However, there was evidence that rather large shorts were looking with disfavor upon the crowing company of small bears and covering by the big fellows undoubtedly helped create the stronger price tone.

Advances for the day were not particularly large, but they were sufficient to be impressive. Volume did not materially expand and still remained under a million shares, so that it was logical to presume the market was still responding chiefly to technical influences.

Consummation of the credit to Great Britain was looked upon as a distinctly favorable sign. The attitude previously expressed here, that the credit represents satisfaction among bankers with respect to Britain's earnest effort to attain stabilization, was more widely accepted.

England provides a very logical starting-point for bankers' efforts toward world stabilization and if they are successful in England, what would be more natural then that they should expand their efforts? The British problem might well be portrayed as the greatest of all, and with success attained there, constructive measures in other directions would be relatively easier to achieve.

Attempt was made to explain the market's firmness as reflecting bankers' activities "preparation for the British financing." Actually, the present banking measure involves only a short-term credit and the public is not being invited to participate, so that no building-up of public sentiment is at all necessary.

Virtually all groups participated in the way's firmness, the breadth of the upturn, rather than its extent, being one of the most encouraging elements of the session. Speculative issues very naturally enjoyed the best gains.

Motion picture stocks were in favor, with pool activity evident in some of these issues. Loew's was particularly well-bought and report persisted that a higher regular dividend is in order, possibly through making the $1 extra payment part of the regular distribution. Loew's is expected to earn about $7 a share for its current fiscal year, and the ration of about 7-to-1, of price to per-share net, is being stressed by the stock's friends.

Steel, American Can and other leaders were all in demand, and even Kreuger & Toll recovered with the remainder of the list. Trans-America continued among the most active group on sustained aggressive sponsorship.

One rather impressive feature of today's market was the evidence of covering by important interests. It is known that one of the most influential capitalists associated with market activities today reduced his short committments, including part of his short line in U. S. Steel. This capitalist is understood to feel that under the circumstances a very small speculative position in the market is advisable. Furthermore, his opinion seemed to reflect the possibility of encouraging news developing in the near future.

Prohibition was more freely discussed as a potential market factor, some of the reports going so far as to forecast inauguration in the near future of a governmental-inspired campaign to emphasize the benefits which might accrue from some alteration of the law. One of the most powerful bankers in the country includes amendment of the prohibition law as one of the essential units in his plan for restoration of prosperity.

Commodities generally were quiet. The bond market again held strong, with rails in better demand. Action of the bond market is being closely observed by stock market interests, especially that element interested in stocks who have persistently argued that no lasting upturn could develop unless led by bonds.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Heavy selling of all grains, particularly September corn, broke a promising bull market today and shoved prices generally below yesterday's closing figures. Coarse grains scored substantial advances early on good buying by commission houses and speculators who were influenced by unfavorable Nebraska and Iowa corn crop reports, the mid-month Nebraska report showing a decline of 34 points in corn condition as compared to a month ago. Wheat was sluggish and was influenced largely by corn strength.

Corn closed weak at almost the day's bottom figures, unchanged to ⅜c lower than yesterday's finish, wheat was ⅛@¼c down, oats uneven ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher and provisions showing 10@27c advance.

The present condition of the Nebraska corn crop was given as 57 per cent of normal, as compared with 91 a month ago and 75 at this time last year. The official Aug. 1 estimate was 71 per cent. Heavy rains in parts of Iowa were apparently believed too late to help drouth stricken regions. Forecasts of frost tonight in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and parts of Wisconsin were also bullish influences.

Corn prices advanced steadily after minor losses at the start until just before the close. A barrage of selling orders broke the rally and liquidation by earlier purchasers hastened the decline. There was a better eastern demand. Oats stepped up with corn early, also meeting some selling at the finish.

Wheat failed to draw much support, although Liverpool closed strong, ⅜@⅝c higher. Clearances of only 3,359,000 bushels from North America for the week took the heart out of bulls to some extent. Weather conditions in Europe were more favorable, but it is believed the recent long spell of wet weather caused irreparable damage in Western Europe. Argentina shipped 1,625,000 bushels for the week and Australia 1,751,000. Chinese buying on the Pacific coast has slackened because of possibilities or purchases of farm board wheat.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept. 46⅛@¼, 47⅛@¼; Dec. 50¼@⅜, 51½@⅝; May, 55¼, 56⅛@⅜. Corn, Sept., 40⅝@¾, 43⅝@¾; Dec. 38⅛@39⅞; May 43⅞@44⅜.

TRADE TRENDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"The present period is somewhat of a transitional time for retail trade. Demand for summer goods is about at an end, while it is yet somewhat early for full activity in the fall lines. One seasonal factor, however, has been an aid towards sustaining volume. This is school supplies buying, which is noticeably mentioned in the reports to Bradstreet's from 40 leading centers of the country. Cooler weather in many cities is also mentioned as a favorable factor, and it has hastened other preliminary fall buying. On the other hand, many stores are still running large "sales" in a continued determined effort to dispose of summer stock."

Dun's tomorrow will say:

"The urgent need for merchandise in some of the lines of trade causes greater activity in preparation for the fall, as the dullest month of the year draws to a close, and this in spite of a continuance of reactionary tendencies. Foreign financial conditions have now been relieved for a time at least. A general note of cheerfulness pervades the reports in many parts of the country regarding business conditions. Concrete evidence of improvement is present in some localities, while in others a change for the better in sentiment is noted. Advances in activity are pronounced particularly in New England, and in the canning and tobacco districts of the South."

Weekly bank clearings $5,543,864,000, a decrease of 23.1 per cent from a year ago. Outside of New York there was a decrease of 21.1 per cent.

MRS. BASSETT OFFERS HELP

Charities Head to Aid in Investigation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28. (UP)—Mrs. Mabel Bassett, commissioner of charities and corrections, late today offered to cooperate with Gov. W. H. Murray's ministerial committee, appointed to investigate state eleemosynary institutions.

She announced, however, she would request the committee to investigate the institution for feeble-minded at Enid first.

Mrs. Bassett said she would submit to each member of the committee a copy of the investigation she made.

"I believe all these men are fair-minded and I want them to thoroughly investigate conditions that have existed at the Enid institution, she said.

"I will give them a copy of my own investigation and shall request they question the same witnesses I used in my probe."

Mrs. Bassett's announcement followed a conference with Dave Bucher, Garfield county attorney and Attorney General J. Berry King, relative to the removal of Ed Andruss, superintendent of the Enid institution.

Bucher said ouster proceedings against Andruss must be brought through a grand jury.

INMATE NAMED IN INQUIRY ESCAPES

ENID, Okla., Aug. 28. (UP)—Herman Parmer, the center of the controversy in Mrs. Mabel Bassett's charges of brutality at the Institute for Feeble-minded at Enid, escaped from the institution last night, Supt. Ed Andruss said today.

"Parmer spread propaganda that discipline would not be enforced at the institute," Andruss said. "I figured on transferring him to another institution. When he learned my plans, he escaped."

Andruss dispatched word to peace officers to have the fugitive inmate detained.

Big Oil Plant Fire May Burn a Month

HANKOW, Aug. 28. (AP)—The Texas Oil company's big plant afire here may burn for a month, with a loss of about $4,000,000 Mexican ($900,000 gold).

Nearly 100,000 barrels of oil were stored in two warehouses which took fire yesterday, while several junks were removing barrels.

The junks also caught fire and sailed out on the Yangtse river, where they burned to the waters edge. Their crews were unharmed.

Hankow was covered with a pall of black smoke today. It rose in ever-increasing volume but surrounding property was believed not endangered. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Estelle Dempsey Bars Jack From Making Sale

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28. (AP)—A temporary injunction restraining Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, from disposing of any property in the Manhattan Trust company and the Barbara corporation was dissolved because of technical faults today in superior court. The injunction was granted Dempsey's estranged actress-wife, Estelle Taylor.

Miss Taylor brought suit for divorce against Dempsey here after the boxer filed a similar suit in Reno.

Center of Population In U. S. Moves 22.3 Miles In Ten Years

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (US)—Steadily moving westward and southward, the center of population is now in Stockton township, Greene county, Ind., the census bureau announced today.

Thus in the past ten years it moved 22.3 miles westward and 7.6 miles southward from Washington township, Indiana.

Although moving westward, the population center has been located in the state of Indiana since 1890. Prior to then, it was in Ohio for 30 years. In 1870, when the first decennial census was taken, it was located 23 miles east of Baltimore.

The term "center of population," as used by the census bureau, is that point which may be considered as the center of gravity of the United States.

Frederick Relief Board Makes Survey

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Aug. 28.—A check of unemployed by the citizens relief committee, which was recently organized to help take care of the local situation, showed 125 heads of family are out of work, mostly men, according to J. L. Newland, president. Work is only to be given to those who can not find something else to do and to encourage those unemployed to get other jobs if possible only $1 a day is given, payable in groceries.

Through cooperation of Mayor J. J. Rogers of this city and Oliver Ball and Frank Patterson, county commissioners, 40 men were put to work on public improvements Thursday, the greatest number to date.

A grocery store is maintained by the committee which buys goods wholesale. This enables the $1 a day employes to really get $1.50, explained Dr. T. F. Spurgeon, one of the officers of the citizens relief committee.

Hawks and McKeel Deny Demo Split

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28. (UP)—State capitol rumors that a split existed between the two Democratic members of the state highway commission were denied by Chairman Sam Hawks and Commissioner J. F. McKeel.

The split was reported to have developed over a plan to include a 30-cent minimum wage provision in highway contracts, which McKeel maintains the commission can not do.

"I don't know of any disagreement between us," Hawks said.

McKeel refused to comment, except to say:

"Nothing to it. It's all politics. Hawks and I are doing our best to get things done and we're being fought, that's all."

Lew Wentz, Republican member, said he and Hawks favored a 30-cent per hour minimum scale and that McKeel definitely opposed the plan.

M'DONALD OUT AS LABOR HEAD

holding final judgment upon the MacDonald program until it is completed. Some observers, however, tonight estimated the national government would have a majority of 50 votes in the house of commons, which has 615 members, despite possible defections. This would be sufficient to carry the budget balancing campaign to victory.

Mr. MacDonald was resting today in his home at Lossiemouth, Scotland.

Concerning the action of the labor party in removing him from the leadership, he remarked it was of no assistance in dispelling the present national crisis.

FRANCE MAKES BRITISH LOAN

PARIS, Aug. 28. (US)—France today realized her ambition to step into the foremost rank of the international world of finance when an agreement was reached in Paris to grant the British treasury a loan of 5,000,000,000 francs (approximately $200,000,000).

An accord on the credit was reached this evening, it being explained that New York was granting London a credit of the same amount at an interest of four and one-fourth per cent, over a period of one year.

The agreement followed two days of negotiations at the Bank of France between representatives of the British treasury and the Bank of England, in which Finance Minister Flandin and Budget Minister Pietri likewise participated.

French financiers do not conceal their desire to have the credit ultimately converted into a long term loan, of roughly 20 years, to be floated on the French market.

The French arrangements call for $100,000,000 of the credit to be extended by French bankers, the remainder of the French share being taken up by the sale of British treasury bonds.

The loan is generally regarded as greatly strengthening France's political as well as her financial prestige.

With the coming Geneva meetings in September, plus the disarmament conference next year, this is considered particularly timely from the French viewpoint.

Arrest Ends Woman's Career of Swindling

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28. (AP)—A confessed 12-year career of bad check transactions and sumptuous living from New York to San Francisco was ended today in the county jail here for Roberta Venida Hall, 45, well dressed, dignified woman, who said she is a writer and widow of a former diplomatic attache.

She was held in $4,000 bail for investigation as the result of her arrest and her story yesterday at Ventura. She was taken into custody there on a charge of giving a $60 worthless check.

At Ventura, Assistant District Attorney Don Holt said the woman told him that her husband, Stephen Gansan, formerly in government service in the Philippines, died in New York last January.

Alfonse Hamann, Balboa druggist, doesn't have to tell his friends about the one that got away. He not only has the picture, but is going to have the catch mounted. Roosevelt Asks Relief Measure never collected the money voted to them in 1924.

5.—A five-day week for men engaged on state and municipal public works.

6.—Authorization for the issuance by cities and counties of three-year bonds to raise money to be spent on relief of the distress of persons who have lived in the state for at least two years.

State Can't Wait

"It is idle to speculate on actions the federal government may take," the governor said, as his audience sat listening without a whisper. "It is true times may get better. It is true the federal government may eradicate some of the causes of our present trouble. It is true the federal government may come forward with a definite constructive program. And it is true it may start the wheels of industry, but the state of New York can not wait for that.

"The time for platitudes has passed.

"It is time for action."

CITIES TO HANDLE JOBLESS PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. (AP)—Reports indicating that most cities expect to be able to handle their own unemployment relief problems next winter were being compiled today for a committee of the United States chamber of commerce.

The committee, which will meet here Thursday to draft a report on unemployment, has conducted a survey of more than 1,000 cities to determine their expected relief needs and resources.

On the basis of this survey it may be possible for the committee to estimate the total relief funds needed next winter.

Trade bodies in each city were asked to report the amount of money spent for unemployment relief last winter, the comparative amount expected to be needed this winter, and the probable ability of local authorities to handle the situation.

Inquiry Reveals Help By G. O. P. Leader

sociates who had knowledge of these expenditures and who refused to testify."

He added the committee probably would reconvene in October to draft its report to the senate and that nothing was contemplated meanwhile.

Sent Post Dated Check

Another feature of the hearing involved Cannon's settlement of the estate of Mary C. Moore, a Virginia widow, for which he served as executor and residuary legatee. Investigators for the committee testified that Cannon settled the estate from funds drawn from a political account and sent a post-dated check to one of the beneficiaries against a bank account before he had opened it.

Lewis B. Willis, a farmer of Orange, Va., who, with his two sisters were beneficiaries under the will of Mrs. Moore, said in regard to the transaction:

"I was astonished to receive a check dated seven days ahead of the day it reached me."

The testimony of Conrad C. Pabst, vice president of the International Trust company of New York, and W. H. Wood, a member of the North Carolina anti-Smith Democratic committee, drew Huston into the picture and disclosed that he handled a personal bank account of $183,356.86 during the period of the 1928 campaign.

An effort was made by Nye and Basil Manly, committee investigator, to link the Huston fund with the $172,300 contributed to the Republican cause by E. C. Jameson, of which $65,300 went to Bishop Cannon. They emphasized the similarity of dates of several banking transactions.

Check's Travels

It was brought out that Frank R. McNinch, head of the North Carolina anti-Smith Democrats and now a member of the federal Power commission, advised Wood to ask Cannon for a contribution. On October 19, 1928, Cannon advised Wood that money would be sent to him and on Oct. 24, Wood wrote Cannon acknowledging receipt of a check for $5,000. Pabst testified that the check was returned to his bank on Oct. 26 and charged against the account of Huston.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, sponsor of the resolution under which the Cannon inquiry was conducted, issued a statement in reply to the bishop's lengthy cable from London. Glass insisted that Representative Tinkham, whom he called Cannon's "former political affiliate," had brought the charge of "embezzlement" against the bishop.

Woman Is Nervous

Glass, however, charged that Cannon had "run off to Europe to hide his culpability behind the skirts of a woman secretary." This was a reference to Miss Burroughs, Cannon's former secretary.

This middle-aged woman, plainly dressed and wearing horn-rimmed glasses, was extremely nervous when she took the stand. She was given permission to read a prepared statement in which she said that all the books, accounts, and records of the anti-Smith committee had been turned over to Bishop Cannon and that she had "no knowledge of their present whereabouts."

She then challenged the authority of the committee and "respectfully declined to testify." Senators Nye, Dill of Washington and Wagner of New York plied her with questions but to each one she repeated her refusal to testify. Peters went through a similar performance. Members of the committee warned both of them that their refusal might lead to contempt proceedings.

Bill Blewett, member of California's "wonder team" of 1923, has given up coaching after five years and will return to California as a student to obtain a degree.

Marriage this season of three players has caused the Little Rock baseball club to consider changing the name from Travelers to "the bridegrooms."

Earth Yields Four Victims

brought to him of the discovery of all four bodies.

Already he had told a score of contradictory stories. When faced with new developments, he mumbled an incoherent story of a mysterious "Charles Rogers of Pittsburgh." Rogers, he said, had gone to the garage on frequent occasions, and had opened a box at the Clarksburg postoffice where Powers got his mail under the name of Pierson. He was not able to give any further information of the man "Rogers."

Warrants charging Powers with kidnaping and manslaughter were on their way here from Park Ridge, Ill., the woman's home, but the basis on which those warrants were obtained was not revealed.

All four victims apparently had been killed with an ax, their heads crushed as if by terrific blows. All four were wrapped in burlap and hurled into their muddy graves.

Mrs. Luella Powers, the prisoner's wife, and her sister, Belle Strother, were arrested tonight and taken to the county jail for questioning.

Officials indicated a special term of court might be called next week to receive Pierson's plea.

POWERS WROTE TO WOMEN EVERYWHERE

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 28. (US)—From Canada, from the sunny South, from the East and from the West, Harry F. Powers, alias Cornelius O. Pierson, mail order Romeo and suspected bluebeard, recruited his trusting and devoted admirers of the fairer sex.

The range in the ages of his mail order sweethearts was at least from the 19 years of a lass up in South Edmonton, Alta., to the 45 years of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher. The romantic widow of Park Ridge, Ill., whose body and those of her three children were unearthed today near Powers 'garage in Quiet Dells, near here.

The trail of his wooing was uncovered through love letters and photographs sent him by a dozen women.

A box full of correspondence was found among his effects. In each instance Pierson obtained the addresses of the correspondents through a matrimonial agency, the letters indicate.

Among the missives were a series of nearly a dozen notes from an ardent subscriber to the matrimonial agency, known as "the American Friendship society." These letters were signed "Bessie" and postmarked Olean, N. Y., and carried a return address, 116 N. Clinton street.

One letter dated the twentieth of this month comes from Colbert, Okla. one paragraph says:

"Through the F. A. Society I am writing you. Your little article rather suited me for I am a 'one man woman' as you say. I think if there is anything that is wrong it is for a married woman to be paying attention to some other man."

CHEST FAILS TO FIX BUDGET

Second Meeting of Board Called Monday

Members of the budget endorsement committee of the Community Chest failed in a four-hour session Friday to complete the final setup of the financial program of the organization for the ensuing year, and will not adopt a definite budget until Monday, according to Mrs. Orr Bentley, executive secretary.

Progress was made Friday, it was said, in revising the individual budgets of several participating organizations within the Community Chest. The finance plans for at least two such units, however, have not yet been completed, it was stated.

With Linden Brooks of the American city bureau in charge, the annual campaign for funds will begin next week, according to C. E. Basham, newly elected president of the Community Chest. Mr. Brooks will arrive Monday and is expected to begin his work of campaigning and publicity at once.

When Norma Shearer played in "A Free Soul," she did the part given her quite as well as it could be done. Who can star beautifully in a degenerate character? But though the play was her starring vehicle, Lionel Barrymore stole it from her.

It was Barrymore's first appearance in talking pictures; he had been winning fame as a director. But the dissipated old lawyer, alcoholic in all his brilliancy, professing belief in absolute freedom for man or woman, could not have been played more vividly than by Lionel Barrymore.

It is again as a lawyer he will appear in "Guilty Hands." The previews that have been shown give glimpses of his wonderful acting that take the glory of the play from beautiful Kay Francis and Madge Kennedy.

Midnight matinees, we suppose, draw larger crowds when they are mystery stories. One gets the creepy thrill that comes in walking past a cemetery at night and youth, in particular, hunts thrills.

All through the picture the question is, whose are the guilty hands? There are the slender, tapering hands of the siren, Kay Francis; the firm outdoor hands with rounded nails that belong to Madge Evans, the lovely daughter of the clever father; the agile, artist's hands of Barrymore himself.

Barrymore as the veteran prosecutor and attorney, facing the necessity of killing a man himself, is said to rise above all the dramatic heights of his lifetime.

Polly Moran is in the story, bringing the laughs that must light even the most weird dramas.

The action is said by all critics to be baffling and blood-curdling and the climax comes with startling suddenness and such amazing conception that the audience does not guess it.

The midnight matinee will be given at the State at 11:30 Saturday night; the show will open for regular showing Sunday through Wednesday.

RADIO TALKS TO BOOST AREA

Junior C-C Invites 30 To Give Programs

Invitations to about 30 towns in this section to participate in the weekly radio programs of the Junior chamber of commerce here were extended Friday by Paul Hines, radio chairman.

The local organization presents a 30-minute program every Saturday night over KGKO. Towns invited to participate were asked to furnish entertainers and a speaker for one program. Broadcasts will be named for the town providing the program on its night, and the complete period will be turned over to representatives of the town.

Invitations were extended to the chambers of commerce of the following Oklahoma and Texas towns: Iowa Park, Electra, Vernon, Childress, Quanah, Paducah, Crowell, Haskell, Munday, Knox City, Seymour, Archer City, Olney, Graham, Jacksboro, Henrietta, Bellevue, Bowie, Nocona, Gainesville, Chillicothe, Texas, and Temple, Waurika, Walters, Lawton, Altus, Grandfield, Frederick, Ryan and Terrell, Okla. Other towns are expected to be added to the list within the next few days. Cities of this section desiring to prepare a program for a broadcast and which do not have a chamber of commerce may present their programs through any other civic organization, it was said.

The new arrangement for Junior chamber broadcasts will be commenced as quickly as acceptances are complete, Mr. Hines said.

SUIT ATTACKS PEDDLERS' TAX

Court Asked to Halt Enforcement Here

Local opposition to the recently enacted legislative measure imposing an occupation tax upon peddlers was brought into the courts Friday when a petition was filed by Wayne Somerville, former county attorney, seeking an injunction to prevent collection of such a tax by Wichita county officers.

Holding that the new law is unconstitutional, the petition asks that Arthur C. Howard, tax collector; Sheriff Perry Browning, District Attorney Sam B. Spence and County Attorney Louis V. Abernathy be enjoined from enforcing the measure.

A hearing on the petition has been set for 9 o'clock next Monday morning before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court.

Grand Jury To Meet Each Month

Trial of felony cases will be speeded up here in the future by having the county grand jury meet every month instead of every three months according to Sam B. Spence, district attorney, who announced plans for the new system Friday.

A grand jury session each month will remove the necessity of holding some prisoners in the county jail three months awaiting grand jury action, Mr. Spence stated.

Grand juries have been impaneled in October, January, April and July during the past year by Judge Allan D. Montgomery of the 30th district court, who is on the bench for the criminal docket in this county during those months. The remaining eight months of the year is given by the 30th district court to Young and Archer counties.

Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court will impanel the next grand jury, which meets in October. Cases set for trial during that month will be transferred to the 30th district court. On the first Monday of November and of December the jurors again will be assembled by Judge Martin, in whose court cases set for those two months will be tried.

WOMEN REPLY TO WOODCOCK

What's Fit for Men Is Fit For Women, They Say

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28. (AP)—Answering Prohibition director Woodcock's defense on his ban on the employment of women as informers, the Business and Professional Women's Council of Maryland asserted in a letter made public today that if prohibition enforcement "is not fit for women it is not fit for men."

The organization protested against the order earlier this week as discriminatory. A reply from Colonel Woodcock said he believed the purport of his order had been misunderstood.

The new protest against the ban was drafted at a meeting of the executive council last night.

CRIME INQUIRY ASKS REPEAL

Grand Jury Finds Little Police Corruption

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (AP)—A special grand jury which spent eight months and $50,000 to investigate charges of police graft and alliances of politics with crime reported today it has found irregularities only in few instances but was unable to return indictments because there was not sufficient evidence to prosecute the men.

Its conclusion was that there was little graft in the police department and its existence could be "traced directly to the enactment of the national prohibition law and nothing, in our opinion, would go so far in raising the standards of the police department as would the repeal or modification of the prohibition law."

The report said that a few captains of police had bank clearings out of proportion to their incomes and when questioned, "they gave explanations so ridiculous and childish that no amount of credulity on the part of the grand juror would permit belief." It urged impounding of the officers' testimony for future use.

The first of the five recommendations made by the grand jury urged discontinuation of the special grand jury system, except in cases of dire emergency, as "uneconomic, unscientific, archaic and utterly futile."

Climate-Conscious Californians Claim Thermometer Is Heated

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Aug. 28. (AP)—Charging the United States weather bureau with taking its readings here from a steam heated thermometer, the San Bernardino chamber of commerce and newspapers today noted an exception to official reports showing a maximum of 108 degrees yesterday and 115 degrees for the preceding day.

Defenders of the local clime protested to Col. H. B. Hersey, government meteorologist in Los Angeles, that the official thermometer was within reach of the steam heated atmosphere of a nearby automobile laundry. They presented reports, allegedly readings from three other tested thermometers in various parts of towns, showing a maximum of only 102.

The San Bernardino Sun also disclaimed knowledge of any egg-frying by the sun's rays.

A break in the heat wave started to materialize yesterday, according to the Los Angeles weather bureau, but did not get far.

It was 94 at Los Angeles at 2 p. m. Other points in Arizona and Southern California reported temperatures of 112 down.

Rip tides claimed another victim as hundreds of persons sought relief at the beaches.
