Governor Moody To Address Solons On Legislation Today

Senate Gets Flood of Bills Soon After Opening; Walter Woodward Is President Pro Tem

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—The forty-first biennial session of the Texas legislature, which convened this morning, will hear from Governor Dan Moody tomorrow afternoon. Speaking to a joint session of the two houses, he will deliver his message giving an account of his stewardship of the past two years and suggesting legislation on several important subjects.

Governor Moody will be inaugurated for his second term next Tuesday, after another joint session has canvassed the vote for governor and lieutenant governor and declared the result.

Whatever bitterness that might have existed as a result of the warmly contested race for speakership of the house and president pro tem of the senate, vanished almost instantly after the votes were counted.

W. S. Barron of Bryan, entering his third term in the legislature, was elected speaker over W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg. The vote was 87 to 59.

The vote for president pro tem of the senate was closer, Senator Walter R. Woodward of Coleman, receiving 16 votes and Senator Gus Rusk of Schulenburg, 14.

Almost the same argument was used by backers of the leadership candidates in the two houses with different results. Friends of Montgomery emphasized his willingness heretofore to co-operate with the administration and his position as Senator Woodward inferred in their campaigns that their candidate was and had always been in sympathy with the legislative programs of the administration.

(By Associated Press)

TEMPLE, Jan. 8.—After appointing a committee of three to counsel further with Rev. H. G. Kenney of Cameron in regard to his purported "modernist" beliefs and preachings, the Central Texas Presbytery which met in executive session here today, to investigate heresy charges against the Cameron pastor adjourned without taking definite action.

Appearing before the twenty-three members of the Presbytery today, Rev. Kenney made a two-hour address in which he explained the origin of the charges against him and gave in detail his beliefs. He declared the charges were the result of misunderstandings. He said he frequently had been misquoted or had been quoted only in part giving the wrong meaning to his words.

Rail Extensions May Give Lubbock New East Outlets

Attorney General Pollard Approves 112 Miles of Extensions In Section; City May Get New Line

With the announcements made from Austin and Fort Worth Tuesday, telling of the permission of the Frisco Railway system to extend its lines more than 100 miles in West Texas, belief was expressed here that the Quanah, Acme & Pacific railway is planning to extend its line from Floydada to Lubbock. Basis for this belief is the report that the Q. A. & P. has permission from the Santa Fe Railway to run trains over its rails from Ralls to this city.

Such a permission from the Santa Fe would enable the Q. A. & P. to extend its line to this city with the construction of only a few miles.

New State Highway Along Denver Line To Silverton Is Being Sought Here

Route Will Give Nearer Interstate Connection To Oklahoma; Delegation of Lubbock Men Go Over Proposed Designation In Cars Yesterday

Finding enthusiasm along the route of the proposed new state highway from Lubbock to Silverton, which is planned to connect with an interstate highway from there to Clarendon and on to Oklahoma City and the north and east, at a high point of interest at every town visited, a group of Lubbock men Tuesday went over the proposed route, as much as could be done by automobile; met with representative citizens of each town and discussed plans for securing the designation of the road.

The proposed highway is proposed as starting from Highway No. 53, either at a point immediately to the west of Idalou or half a mile east of that city, running north to the Fort Worth and Denver railroad. It will run along this railroad, it is planned, practically all of the distance from north of Idalou to Silverton, through the towns of Section, Petersburg, Lockney and to

Tillotson Cites Bills for State Highway System

Representative Member Of Moody's Committee Of Thirty-One Proposes Two Plans for Road Network

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—A resume of bills which he asserted "would provide for advancement of a progressive program of state highway construction and maintenance from current revenue," without plunging Texas into a debt of considerable proportions was made today by Representative Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, a member of Governor Dan Moody's advisory highway committee of 31.

The measures, Representative Tillotson pointed out, not only would insure an adequate state road system, but would assure counties additional funds sufficient to provide for a progressive program of lateral county road improvement.

Plans Independent Fund
One of the revenue raising bills sets out that it shall be the policy of the state to build roads from an independent state fund raised in accordance with the principle that traffic shall bear the cost of traffic facilities, and that local property owners shall be relieved of the cost.

Tillotson's second proposed measure would boost the state gasoline tax from three to four cents. "The third bill," Tillotson said, "does not provide for a reduction in motor vehicle license fees but does better than that by recognizing the judicious rule of indicating sources of revenue independent to state and counties, assuring a program of state and county development co-ordinated in purpose. The suggested division of funds will yield a sum in excess of $10,000,000 in 1929 for maintenance and double that for construction."

New Directors Chosen For Two-Year Period; Report Of Secretary Shows Work Of Various Natures

SLATON, Jan. 8.—(Special)—Recording a here-tofore unequalled record of progress and looking forward to even better years in the future, between 125 and 150 citizens of Slaton gathered here tonight, in the annual banquet and program of their chamber of commerce. The event, interesting and lively throughout, was held in the Community Club house and weathered general over the Plains kept all visiting delegations save that representing Lubbock away, the rain failed entirely to dampen the ardor of those present.

The address of Dr. James Marcus Gordon, dean of the School of Liberal Arts at Texas Technological college, and the annual report of Lloyd A. Wilson, who is starting his third year as secretary of the Slaton chamber, were the high spots of the program, which was presided over by W. H. Smith, railroad official and member of the directorate, in the absence of President John W. Hood. Mr. Hood was called to the bedside of his parents, both of whom are seriously ill yesterday, and was unable to attend.

Senator Tom Love Introduces Bills On Pledge Of Party

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—Memories of the bitter political strife in Texas last year in which thousands of demonstrators voted for the republican presidential nominee were recalled by three bills introduced in the senate during its first session today. The measures were proposed by Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, candidate for the democratic nomination for Lieut. Governor last summer, whose name was left off the ballot in a number of counties on the grounds that he declared his intention of voting against Governor or Alfred E. Smith.

Styled "Freedom" Bill
One of Senator Love's proposals was styled "freedom of conscience" bill. It provided in effect that no party pledge should be binding on a voter's conscience, that no one should have the power to order omitted the name of any candidate who had conformed to the requirements of the law and that nobody should have the power to bar a candidate or voter any one from a party primary because that person had previously "scratched the ticket."

The other two bills introduced by the Dallas solon were similar and were designed to provide that any one who ordered illegally certified candidate's name left off a state ballot might be prosecuted in any county of the state.

Under the guidance of Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, the senate sped along in high gear on opening day. Election of Walter C. Woodward of Coleman as president by a unanimous vote, appointment of committees, selection of numerous officers and employees of the senate, introduction of 27 bills and two constitutional amendments.

The Woman's Day

By Allene Sumner

Madame Violette Morris, French woman driver, sees the Federation of Woman's Sports to uphold her right to wear trousers and to swear. It seems that because of both these propensities the federation was trying to expel Madame Violette. Women haven't yet learned due, no doubt, to their comparative newness in the world of outside-the-home, that personal department is one thing and achievement another. If Madame Violette qualifies through her job as a member of this organization, her modes and morals are grist for some other organization, whose tee is composed of Mrs. J. T. Shaver, Mrs. G. M. Crosby, Miss Dorothy Leslie and Mrs. E. B. Wheelock.

business it is to pass on such things.

OUR "TEMPERAMENT"

Women will never succeed, so far as dollars and cents are concerned, because of their "temperament," according to R. Le Clerc Phillips, writing in a current monthly. She quotes figures to prove that men are almost invariably paid more for the same job than women. Moreover, she decides that the battle cry of "equal pay for equal work" is most futile. Woman's only economic salvation she claims, consists in going after jobs which she does not want.

The whole trouble is not only that women have "temperament" which makes it impossible for them to view their jobs objectively as men do, and that they exploit their own personalities at the expense of the job, but that they don't even recognize this "temperament" as a handicap but are rather proud of it, according to her theory.

To which I can only murmur, "Oh, I don't know about all that." I am inclined to class this business "temperament" of women with so many of our sex myths. Most any of us have seen manifest quite as much male "temperament" in business as female.

The whole world got beautifully sobby the other day when a mother of ten children was sentenced to prison for life because of her fourth conviction for selling liquor. The judge, the jury, the prosecutor, were represented as arch fiends and the ten little children were pictured as utterly unconsidered and left to the hap-hazard mercies of a cruel world.

HARD-BOILED THEORY

Perhaps, I'm hard-boiled, but—after all, ten little children in care of a woman who would deliberately break the same law, any law, four times, and confess that she couldn't support her children any other way, plus the fact that there are ten children, moves me to tears much more than the idea of mama being taken away and the ten offspring cared for in some other way.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

I have called the exercise which I am going to describe "graphic exercises." I am using the term because I think that it best describes this series, which hope will bring mental pictures to your mind. I think it is very much easier to exercise when your interest and imagination are aroused through being able to visualize, not only what you are accomplishing, but the methods employed in that accomplishment.

Before I go into my first description, let me suggest to you one of the most successful ways of creating self interest in the routine of daily exercise. Try to organize a group, either a family group, several women of your own age, women perhaps in a club of which you are a member, or some other similar organization, and plan a regular hour when you are to meet and go through certain prescribed exercises.

It is very much more interesting to do things in company than alone. Not only that, but it does away with the possibility of boredom, and the lack of interest that results from doing the same thing every day without even the inspiration of company.

The first of my graphic exercises is the "washerwoman," and, as the name implies, it is to develop the muscles which would be called into play when you actually bend over scrubbing and scrubbing away at your clothes. I believe that the accompanying illustrations are sufficient.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton

Is Junior to have a new baby sister or brother?

Has it been a case of blue heaven at your house—Junior and me and Junior make three for several years? And are you worried for fear your small son will resent the intrusion of a stranger into his private paradise? Well—the way he receives his new relative will depend entirely upon you. If you begin early, or even late, to get his mind in the proper condition there isn't going to be the least doubt in the world about it.

Prepare His Mind. And the way to get his mind in the proper condition is to tell him about it beforehand.

But just telling isn't enough. There are several ways of telling. You can make Junior hate his new baby brother like Cain hated Abel if you allow any member of the family to tease him about it. "Just wait! You're not going to be Mother's baby any more! You'll not sleep in her room and sit on her lap at the table any more. And your daddy won't ride you on his shoulder either. You won't be in it all when the new baby comes!" Silly, cruel, mean and ignorant! Mothers aren't likely to be so foolish themselves; they should watch carefully lest maids, older children or practical-joking uncles get in their work when they are not around.

The telling should come from the mother herself. Say to Junior some fine day when he is happy—I shouldn't choose one of those cuddly moments, either, when the tie between mother and son seems particularly close—"I have the nicest thing to tell you, honey! You and Daddy and I are going to have a present some day, the very thing we've been wanting."

Of course he will be all ears at once. "Don't you remember when we were talking one day and we all thought it would be such fun if there were four of us instead of three? Such a lot more fun. Well, that's just what there is going to be—a baby."

Later let him help you get ready. Let him fetch and carry little things when you are dressing, and making things for the layette.

BREAKFAST—Halves of grape fruit, cereal, cream, creamed finnan haddies on toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON—Scalloped sausage and apples, shredded cabbage in cream dressing, whole wheat bread, old-fashioned bread pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Boiled corned brisket of beef, stamed potatoes, creamed turnips, banana and peanut salad, individual caramel custards, milk, coffee.

Scalloped Sausage and Apples. One pound link sausages, 4 apples, 1-2 cup dark brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon.

Pan broil sausages until brown on all sides. Arrange in a casserole and pour about 4 tablespoons boiling water over them. Cover with apples pared and cut in slices. Sprinkle apples with sugar and cinnamon. Cover casserole closely and bake in a slow oven for one hour. Serve from casserole.

Choose tart quick cooking apples.

ANTS WORRY BANK ELMER, Mo.—Whole ants are undermining the Exchange Bank Building here. Wooden portions of the floor and foundation are being devoured by them. So far efforts to dislodge them have been futile.

Women Hold Meets In Washington

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The capital city will play host—or hostess—to two different groups of women in two important gatherings in the very near future.

The annual mid-winter meeting of the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at headquarters here January 9-11, with Mrs. John F. Sippel, new head, presiding. The board consists of the officers, state directors, department chairmen and trustees from 48 states and the District of Columbia.

The other conference is the fourth national conference on the Cause and Cure of War. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will officiate over this conference, which will convene January 15-18.

The international relationship program which Mrs. Sippel submitted to her executive committee, and for which she received unanimous and enthusiastic approval, will be one of the most important subjects under discussion at the first gathering. As Mrs. Sippel has been traveling continuously the last few months, feeling the pulse of the organization, so to speak, she feels assured of whole hearted support by the board in this contribution to peace to be made by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

One of the interesting features of the discussion of this part of the program will be the reading of letters from women of other lands who are interested in and have given encouragement to the project.

At the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War Mrs. Catt and her associates will urge ratification of the Kellogg peace pact by the senate. "In organizing public sentiment throughout the United States for the pact," grateful for what she has done and says Mrs. Catt, "we have adopted the slogan: 'Build friendship, not warships, for national defense.'"

Thousands Throng Garden To Pay Tribute To Rickard

Body of Famous Promoter Lies In State Where Squared Circle Was Placed for Many Boxing Contests

Thousands from Every Walk of Life View Remains Of Sports Genius; Funeral to Be Held Today In Garden

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—On the spot where the ring is placed when boxing contests are held at Madison Square Garden the body of Tex Rickard rested tonight, awaiting funeral services tomorrow afternoon and burial.

Before the final words are said in praise of the genius of the sports promoter who built the great arena where his body lies, thousands of men and women from every walk of life will pay their silent tribute. Tomorrow other thousands will be admitted until 1:30 o'clock, half an hour before the funeral service is held.

For three hours tonight the doors of the Garden were swung open to admit the public to pass the massive bronze casket holding the body of Tex.

"Best People" Mourn
In his rise to the front rank of promoters, Rickard was continually striving to bring the "best people" to the ringside for his shows and if not to replace the tight fans of olden days, whose uniforms was a cap and a sweater, at least to push them farther back in the picture.

In death of the "best people" in their high hats came with the boys nervously touching their caps in their hands to pay tribute to a man who succeeded in making boxing respectable.

Boxing champions and title holders of other days were in the throng, several white haired men who held belts before Rickard ever saw a gloved lead or counter, coming to pay respectful tribute to a man whose like was not seen in their day.

Hockey Players There
Hockey too was represented, for not only does the body rest near the ring posts for a boxing bout, but on a surface that also resounded the clang of skates on speeding feet. Boxing was the promoter's first and fondest love, but hockey was second in his affection.

At the funeral tomorrow boxers, hockey players and officials will join with enthusiasts for both sports in saying a final "well done."

At 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the many doors of Madison Square Garden will be closed and only holders of cards will be admitted after that hour. Card holders will include friends of the family, men prominent in sport, especially boxing and hockey, and officials of the Madison Square Garden corporation, of which Tex Rickard was president and general manager.

Baptist Minister To Preach
The service in the Garden will be conducted by the Rev. Caleb Moor, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church and it was expected that a eulogy would be pronounced by Mayor James J. Walker. The Mayor as a state senator was the father of the Walker law restoring boxing to favor in New York state. He was long a friend of Tex, and occupied a ringside seat at nearly every big fight in the Garden.

The body of the promoter reached New York from Miami this morning and was carried through a large crowd at the Pennsylvania Station direct to Madison Square Garden, accompanied by a police escort. An inspector, his deputy, 20 sergeants and 200 patrolmen were assigned as the body lay in state.

A haggard and worn Jack Dempsey escorted Mrs. Rickard, bordering on collapse, to her New York home. The former heavyweight champion showed signs of suffering at his friend's death almost as pronounced as those of the widow.

CARL MAYS IS CONFIDENT
After spending the past few weeks in Florida getting his arm in shape for the 1929 baseball campaign, Carl Mays, New York Giants' hurler, says he will be in prime condition next summer.

Coach Frank Bridges' Simmons University eagles have made an impressive showing in early practice games this season and now loom as the outstanding contenders for the Texas Conference title. By their showing against Southwestern conference and T. I. A. A. teams the past week, the Cowboys have every reason to be pleased with their showing. Open their schedule against T. C. U. the Baptists held the undefeated Horned Frogs to a 30 to 27 victory. Going from Fort Worth to Denton, the Cowboys sprung a surprising defeat of the North Texas Eagles, conquerors of S. M. U. and Baylor. The Simmons star, Fitzgerald, continued his stellar playing by scoring 17 points against the powerful North Texas aggregation.

Having walloped the Baylor University five in two games successively, the Canyon Buffaloes seem headed for another championship in the T. I. A. A. Games Wednesday and Thursday will bring together these outstanding teams in the two minor conferences. Although Coach Burton's Buffs are favored to win over the Cowboys the Bridges crew may do the honors in the final game. The Panhandle team has been on a long road trip and may not be at their best when they tangle up with Simmons tonight.

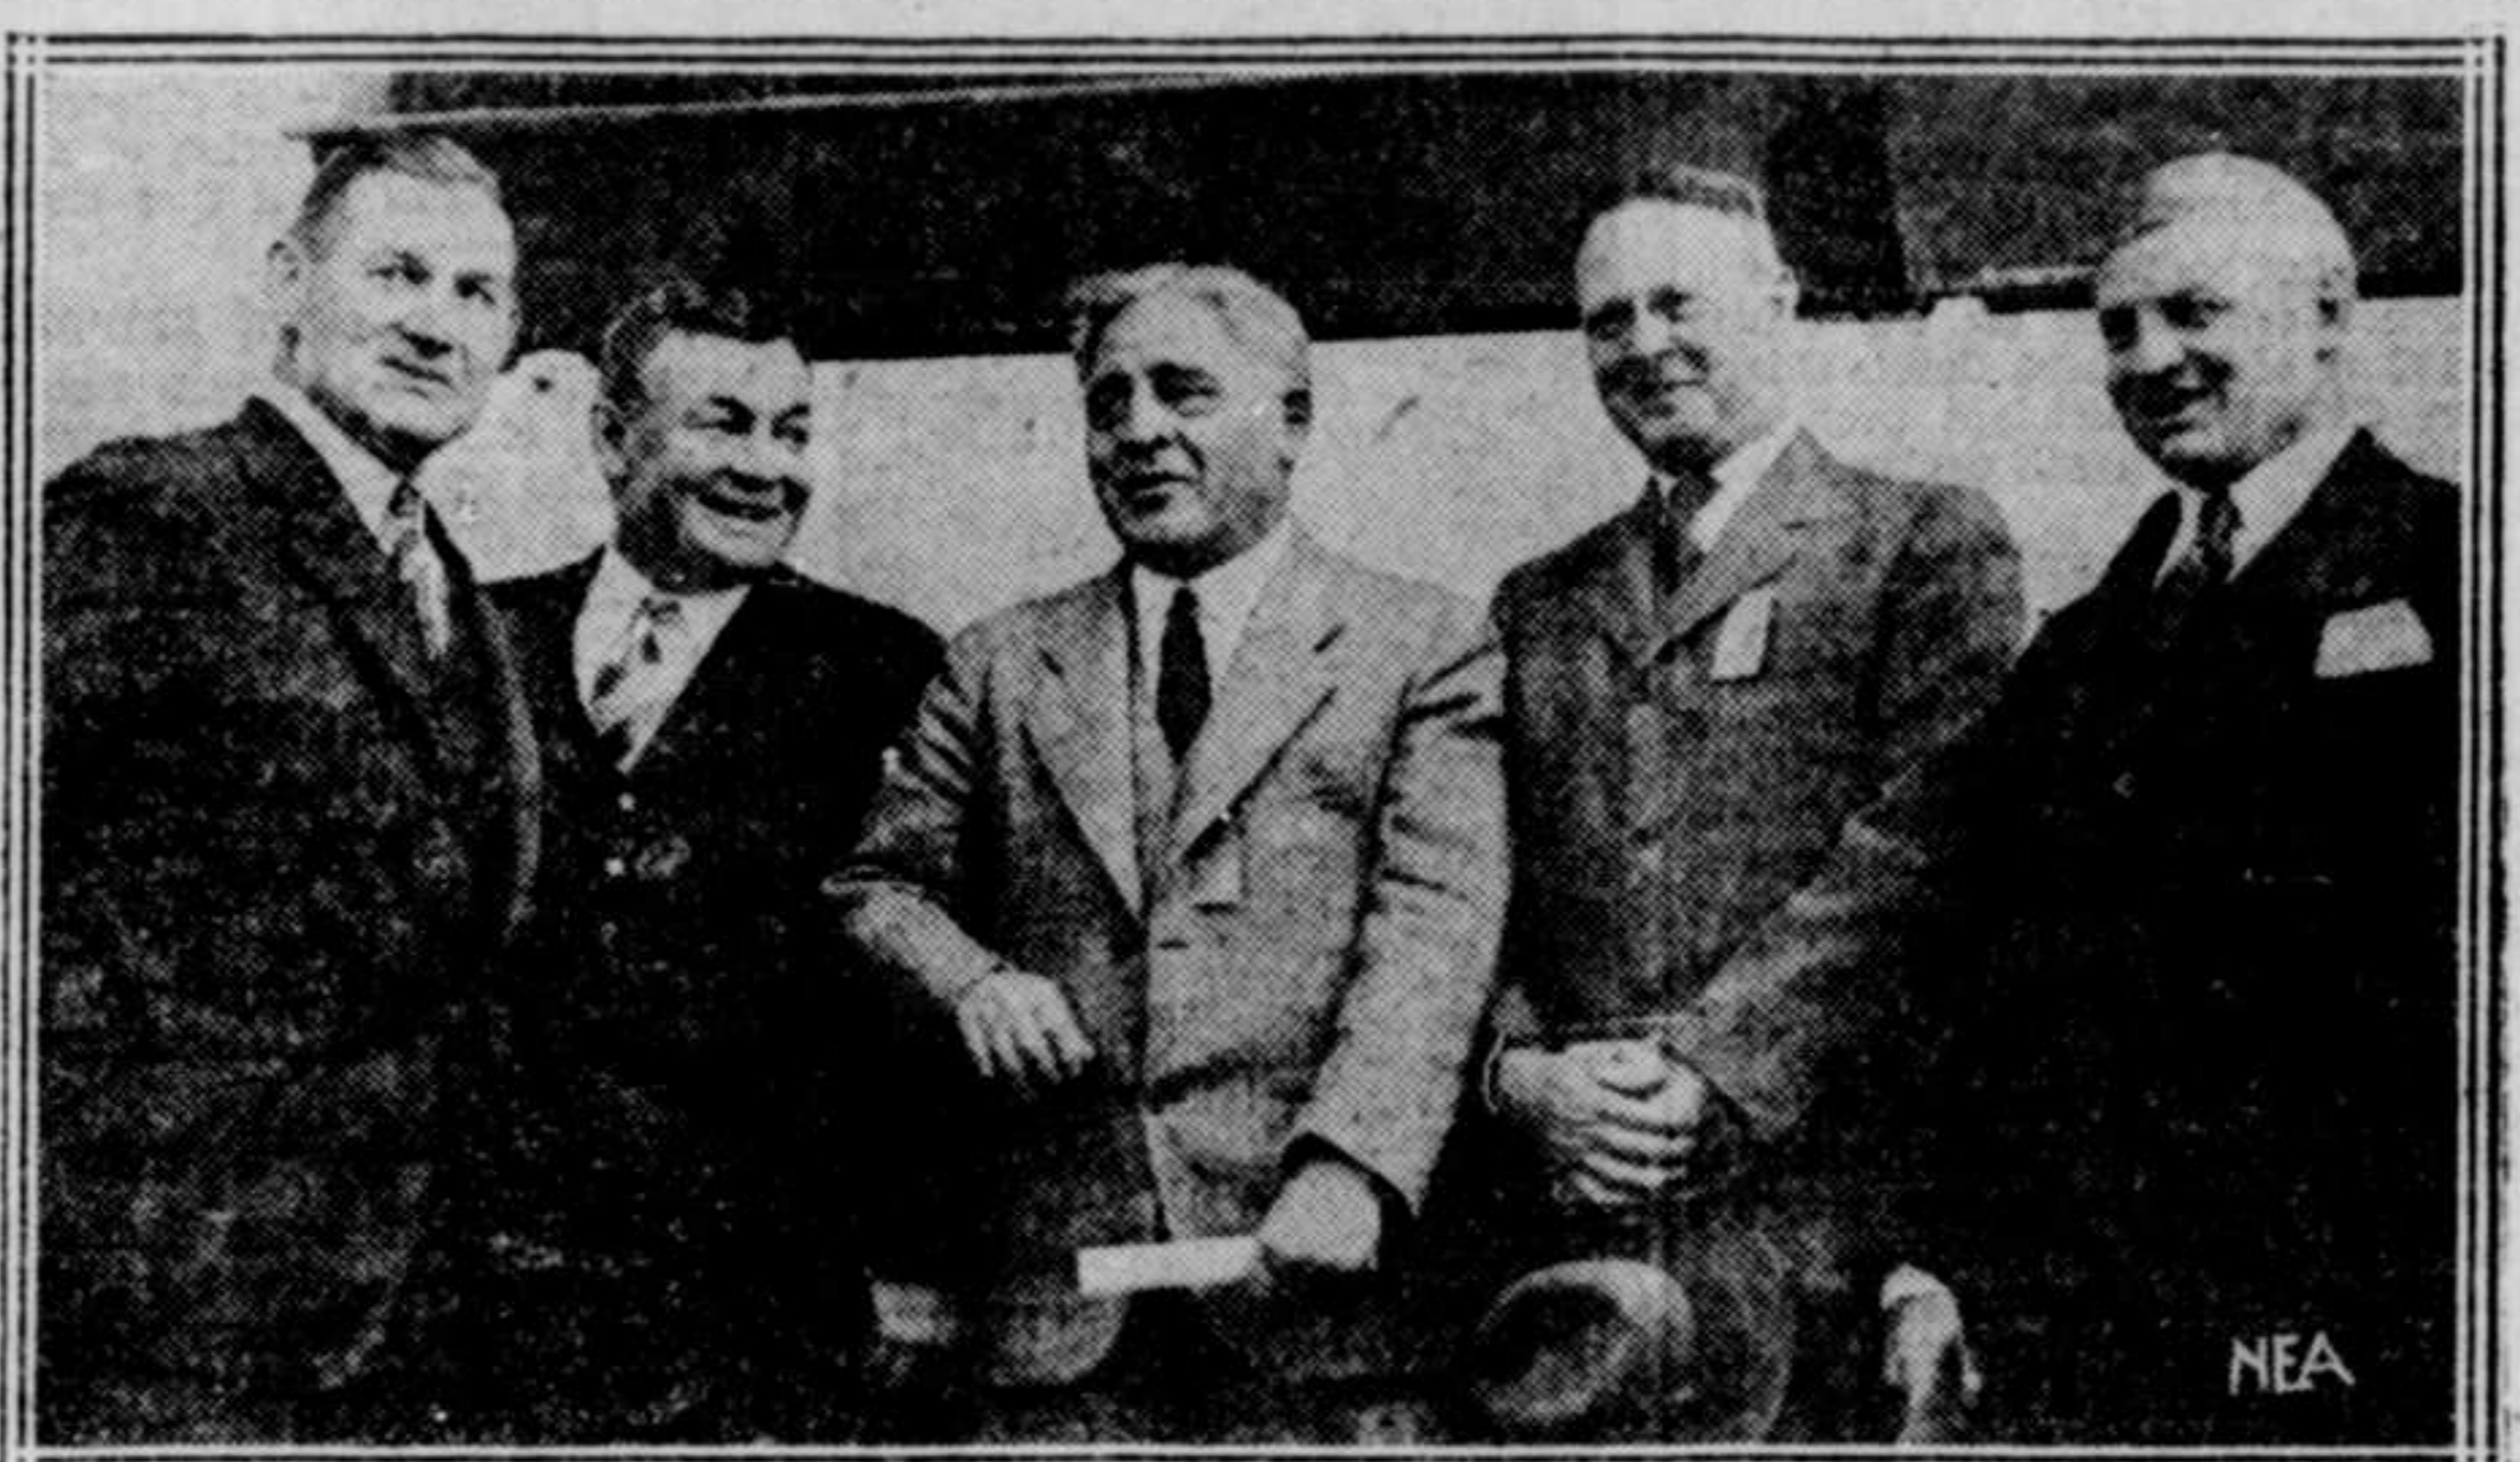

The A. C. C. Wildcats who come here this week-end for two games with the Matadors were added to the string of victories hung up by the Southwest Teachers of Weatherford, Okla., during their invasion of Texas colleges. Fourteen players were sent into the melee by the Christian mentor in an effort to stem the tide, but a whirlwind passing attack by the Oklahoma could not be denied. Apparently Coach Dalton Hill is just about as lacking in veteran material as Coach Payne. For some reason, Matador quintets of the past have little success with Wildcat basketeers, although they have been able to defeat stronger teams rather consistently. The manner in which the locals are going through their practice sessions this week indicates the Ahlene crew will meet a determined host of Scarlet clad basket loopers when they take the floor Friday night in the first encounter.

Since Rey Reigels of the California Bears pulled the classic bonchard in the New Year's day game with George Tech and gained nationwide publicity therefrom, other athletes have adopted this means of breaking into print. The latest was a stunt pulled by Wash Coons, Abilene Christian forward, in the game last week with the Southwest Teachers of Weatherford, Okla., shooting from the center of the court, the Abilene forward sank a perfect goal in the visitors basket to add two points to the already top-heavy score of the Oklahomaans. The Weatherford team would have won anyway, but nevertheless the play stood out distinctly about the rest of the game.

The long training grind for the cindermen of Abilene Christian college, champions of the T. I. A. A. last season, has started down Abilene way and Coach Weems is tickled pink over his prospects for the coming season. The A. C. C. track mentor says that the outlook for the coming season looks better than they did a year ago, and that's saying a great deal. Not only did his team of last year win the conference championship, but established two new records and tied another. Tech will meet the Wildcat track stars first in a quadrangular meet in Abilene on April 13 and on May 4 will come to Lubbock for a dual meet with Coach Payne's Calhoun elads.

"Handsome Ransome" Walker recently returned from San Francisco where he appeared in the East-West football derby, reports a wonderful reception at the hands of the coast officials. The Tech backfield was not only the recipient of a number of valuable tokens for his services on the Western eleven, but was given a trip to Pasadena to witness the Georgia Tech-California tussle in the Tournament of Roses on New Year's Day. Walker broke into print in a number of the metropolitan dailies of the east and middle west as a result of his performance in the inter-sectional clash. A card from a Chicago daily informed him that his name and picture appeared in a certain issue of the paper and that he would be sent a copy if he would remit fifty cents. Needless to say, Walker failed to bite and the long list of suckers missed a promising member.

The Former Heavyweight Champ to Carry Through Plan of Sharkey-Stribling Bout In Miami

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Ass'd Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(P)—Grief-torn and weary, but still very much in the active fight picture, Jack Dempsey came back to New York from Miami Beach today with the body of Tex Rickard, to help work out the tenuous plans the great promoter had for him for this year.

Bereft of the guiding rudder of Rickard's friendship and advice, Dempsey could only hope "to do things Tex wanted done, the way he wanted." Tex wanted him to fight again for the heavyweight championship and clear the muddled situation left by the retirement of Gene Tunney, twice his conqueror, and this, Dempsey intimated, is just what he will do.

Open Tournament Draws Thousands To Coast Matches

Cream of Nation's Golfers Will Fight for Big Money Offered in Los Angeles Tournament
BY VICTOR G. SIDLER, Ass'd Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—(P)—Golfing legions, recruited from virtually every district of the country by the magnet of gold and glory, swarmed over this section's courses today in final practice skirmishes before swinging into action in the $10,000 Los Angeles Open.

Bright and early tomorrow morning a knickered army of approximately 300, split up into threesomes, will march up to the first tees of six courses in this second battle for 36 holes of qualifying play. This pre-tournament battle will cut down the field to 74 low scores and ties, and this force will battle it out with 72 others who are exempt from the qualifying test because of their showing in the recent National Open and last year's $10,000 Open. In a 72-hole drive over the Riviera Country Club layout, near Santa Monica, Calif., Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Open, crux of a coastwise string of tournaments, has drawn from far and wide an entry list not only great in numbers but outstanding as to individual performers. Names that are famous in the realm of golf will figure in the event. Walter Hagen, peer of professionals and the greatest money winner of all time; McDonald Smith, the Scot who will be defending the Open title; Leo Diegel, National Open Champion; George Von Elm, the blonde amateur from Detroit and Horton Smith, the tall, 21-year old Joplin, Mo., marvel, are but a few.

Car Registration 5,000 In County

Approximately 5,000 cars had been registered in Lubbock county by closing time of the county tax collector's office last night.

The last license plate issued from the office was number 5123, although this number does not include 500 license plates allotted to the sub-station at Slaton. No report has been received from E. C. Priest, deputy tax collector in charge of that station, as to the number sold, but it is thought that the entire number will be granted.

Registration here has calmed down considerably and the line of car owners seeking license plates has dwindled down to only a few at a time.

Simplicity of cooling system is a feature of the new Ford

A COMPLETE water plant is a part of every automobile as it is a part of every modern city.

The purpose of this water plant is to keep the engine cooled to a temperature that will make it efficient in operation. If it were not for this, the cylinder walls would overheat and the pistons would refuse to operate.

The cooling system of the new Ford is particularly interesting because it is so simple and reliable.

When the radiator is full of water, the engine of the new Ford will not overheat under the hardest driving. Yet the action of the water is so regulated that it will not impair engine operation by running too cold in winter.

The cooling surface of the Ford radiator is large and there are four rows of tubes, set in staggered position so that each receives the full benefit of the incoming air.

The fan is of the airplane-propeller type and draws air through the radiator at the rapid rate of 850 cubic feet per minute at 1000 revolutions per minute of the motor.

The hot water around the cylinder head is drawn to the radiator to be cooled by a centrifugal water pump of new design.

The entire cooling system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little attention.

The radiator should be kept full of water, of course, and drained once each month so that sediment will not collect and retard the free passage of water. In cold weather a reliable anti-freeze solution should be added.

As owner and manager of this important water plant, you should also see that the water pump and fan shaft are properly lubricated and the packing around the pump shaft kept in adjustment.

The hose connections may also need replacement after long, continuous service. For those little adjustments, it pays to call on the Ford dealer.

He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to do a competent job at a fair price.

Forty-First Legislature

The Forty-first Legislature opened for business Tuesday morning and it will be among the most important sessions that has ever convened...

To do this a number of proposals will be submitted—the most outstanding of which will be a bond issue...

Next in order of importance on this problem but with the policy of paying for the roads as they are built, will be a proposal for a gasoline tax...

The legislature will have scores of new members at the coming session, nearly all of whom have definite ideas about solving the highway problem...

Everybody is agreed, however, on the fact that the roads would be good for the state.

Granted that we could get an honest, efficient and speedy administration of the proposed bond program, this solution appears to be the most business-like...

THIS HAS HAPPENED ASHTORETH ASHE Boston stenographer taking a cruise to the West Indies.

Her roommate, MONA DE MUSSET, is a rather incredible creature, about whom everybody on shipboard is conjecturing.

Ashtoreth is very beautiful herself, and though she looks extremely sophisticated, is actually rather naive and conventional.

Ashtoreth and Jack Smythe are walking together about the wind-blown deck when he tells her she looks like a goddess and she retorts that he looks like the Prince of Wales.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV Ashtoreth was not the first person who had told Jack Smythe he looked like the Prince of Wales.

His eyes were like the Prince's, and his hair (though they say his Highness is getting a little bald)...

He was of average height, no slight. With a weary look about his wise, young eyes. And an air of sophistication, greatly admired by young girls.

The movie producer had contemplated starring him in a film called "Royal Love," in which a prince loses his heart to a common girl...

Ashtoreth was still looking at him with unforgotten admiration. "Ever since Valentino died, I've been simply crazy about the Prince," she confessed.

Today's Poem

DOLCINO TO MARGARET cold And the night will hallow the day...

And the sun shines follows the rain; And yesterday's sneer, and yesterday's frown, Can never come over again, Sweet wife: No, never come over again. For woman is warm, though man be cold.

And the night will hallow the day; Till the heart which at even was weary and old Can rise in the morning gay, Sweet wife: To its work in the morning gay.

There in the blackness, Smythe took Ashforth in his arms. And forcing her head back, kissed her on the mouth.

She struggled to free herself, pitting her strength against his. Then she went taunt in his grip, so that it was as though he held a girl of ice. Yet scarcely ice—for ice will melt. Steel, perhaps, or graven stone.

He kept his lips on hers, until it seemed that all the breath had gone from her body. Then, breathing deeply, he stepped away. And, quick as lightning, she had slapped him across the face. He took her hand then, and kissed it. "Spitfire," he said. "Little Yankee spitfire."

He put both hands on her shoulders, and, holding her from him, looked into her face.

"Girls shouldn't be so beautiful," he admonished. "Particularly American girls who travel alone. They're bound to get in trouble."

Ashforth was trembling with cold fury. "I hate you! You—you cad."

"Love he told her solemnly, that has eyes to see."

Sees now only Ashforth, Ashforth alone.

"And they say," she scorned, "that English are chivalrous!"

He tried again to take her in his arms.

"A kiss?" he parried. "A little kiss? And I have offended you? Don't tell me that an American girl values a kiss so highly."

But she wrenched away from his embrace.

"Everybody pets in America," he reminded her.

"I don't," she told him, wheeling furiously. "And don't you ever speak to me again."

She left him, and ran ahead down the deck.

In a moment she was in her stateroom. Mademoiselle de Musset opened the door when she knocked.

For a moment Ashforth wondered what she was wearing. A short chiffon skirt edged with lace and over it a sleeveless blouse of sheerest loveliness.

The skirt was pleated from a fitted waist band, and the blouse caught at the waist with a girdle of shirred salin. Except for its utter transparency. It was like a little dress. Mademoiselle pirouetted like a ballet dancer, and her full skirt, swirled about her.

"You look at my nightgown?" she asked. "It is adorable, eh? Soon they will be the vogue—the little gowns that have petticoats and blouses. I have twelve of them—the first ones ever made."

She was rummaging through her bags. "You like them, eh? Eh, bien! I will give you some. Half for you, and half for me."

She tossed her things about. Soft and light as baby clouds.

"Ah, here they are! White. Mademoiselle. And black. And now any color you choose. Yellow? Orchid? Pink like a rose?"

Ashforth was dumbfounded.

"But Mademoiselle!" she stammered. "I—you're awfully kind. But I can't do that. You're too generous. Indeed you are. I can't take them—truly. But thank you—thank you so much."

The Frenchwoman's quick glance had darted about the room.

"Pout," she cried, and raising the cover of Ashforth's hat box dropped her lovely nightgowns in.

She sat on the edge of her berth and rubbed, great quantities of cold cream on her face, dipping her fingers in an enormous onyx jar.

"Monsieur Jack Smythe," she remarked idly, "likes American girls."

Her fingers caressed her cheeks, with little upward motions, as though she were inscribing circles.

"He is a bad man," she added. Her voice was soft and lazy.

"A bad man?" she repeated. And began, leisurely, to wipe away the cream.

More about the mysterious lady in the next installment—and more too, about this fascinating young Smythe.

GRILLED TOMATOES

Ripe tomatoes are so inexpensive in summer they should be used continuously. A good change is to serve grilled tomatoes, on toast, with cheese sauce topping them. A slice of grilled ham between the toast and the tomato adds zest.

FLAKY CRUST

A squeeze of lemon juice, or a quarter teaspoonful of vinegar mixed with a few drops of olive oil and added to the water used to mix pastry makes it flakier.

BOWEN'S DRUG STORE WINS BIG AGENCY

Award Announced After Lengthy Conference Between Martin and Associates

First Allotment of Sensational New Treatment To Arrive Today

Organize the sensational new treatment which has been meeting with such phenomenal success...

The decision to appoint Bowen's Drug Store exclusive Organate representative...

"Everywhere you go," continued Mr. Martin, "you will find Organate is distributed by the most reputable and progressive druggists in each city."

"Everyone is elated," stated Mr. Bowen, with a broad smile, "to be awarded the Organate special agency is an honor which any firm would feel proud to have attained."

"To guarantee the fair and impartial distribution of such a remarkable preparation as Organate, which involves handling hundreds of individual purchases every day, and to see that each person receives personal attention, is no small undertaking."

In order to meet the enormous demand for Organate that is anticipated here, an order for a big shipment of the medicine has been placed by the Bowen's Drug Store...

Full and interesting facts about the new medicine will be announced from day to day starting tomorrow it was stated.—Adv.

enced by a belief that recent liquidation had been sufficient to improve the technical position of the market.

Talk of a somewhat steadier spot basis was accompanied by complaints of a poor demand, but appeared to make some impression on sentiment and probably contributed to the afternoon advance.

NEW YORK STOCKS NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The sinking spell on the stock market was less acute today, but bullish operations in a handful of issues failed to revive confidence.

Trading fell off markedly, and the peak of the selling movement appeared to be past. Total sales aggregated but 3,850,000 shares, as compared to 4,795,000 yesterday.

Statements of the heads of large banks holding stockholders meetings were hardly of a sort, however, to encourage speculative enthusiasm.

Call money held at 7 percent all day, and although a rate of 4 percent or lower has been normal at this time in recent years, bankers now look for an average rate of 7 percent for some time to come.

The day's news was largely favorable, but not of a character to affect the market. Despite hope of reduced activity on the stock market for a time, a seat sold at the record price of $600,000, which is $5,000 above the previous record.

"Why so solemn everybody?"

"We're not solemn. Just green with envy. You serve such good coffee." "That's no reason to hate me. Just use the same kind I do. It's perfectly simple with M-J-B."

Many people find that with M-J-B, the strong blend, they use slightly less coffee. But whether you make it strong or weak, M-J-B has a flavor that only the strong blend can give.

Now it comes to you in an improved friction top key-can available only to M-J-B users, packed by our own vacuum process.

What Would You Do Without Electricity?

WHAT IF WE HAD TO START A FIRE WITH FLINT AS AS THEY DID OF OLD?

We are living in the greatest of all ages—the Scientific age. Merely push a button and the family wash is under way, the dishes are being washed, the floors and rugs are cleaned, food prepared and many other conveniences too numerous to mention.

All of these services are yours for a very nominal cost, in fact, so nominal that it often times proves more economical to have them than to not. They are yours and this Utilities company stands ready to give the proper assistance in modernizing your home on a plan that is adaptable to you.

Each of the subjects hold a wealth of interest among the presidents, directors, and other members of the chambers of commerce on the South Plains as well as to the secretaries and for this reason an extra effort is being made to bring a big per cent of the directors and other members of the chambers of commerce to the meeting.

Legislature

Governor Moody.

The senate effected permanent organization with little delay, and a flood of bills, including the appropriation bills, totaling $56,000,000 inclusive of the rural aid measure and the "time honored" mileage and per diem bill calling for an appropriation of $185,000 to pay railroad fare and salaries of the legislators, poured into the hopper.

The house worked until nearly supper time before it could clean the slate of nominating and seconding speeches for aspirants to minor offices.

Today's assembling of the legislature was witnessed by large crowds in the galleries of both houses. The house drew the greatest gallery, attracted by the hot fight for the speakership.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, the second woman to preside over the legislature, called the house to order and wielded the gavel until Speaker Barron succeeded her.

The attendance in both houses was unusually good, there being only four absentees in the house, with 146 members answering the roll call. Thirty of the 31 senators were present, there being but one vacant desk, the one occupied herebefore by the late Senator H. F. Triplett of Beaumont, who died recently.

Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller entered upon his third term as presiding officer.

Charles N. Shaver of Huntsville nominated Montgomery for speaker and Fred H. Minor of Denton presented the name of Barron.

The vote in both houses was secret, each representative and senator voting his choice for speaker and president pro tem on a blank ballot and depositing it in a hat. Speakership result was announced. Many rushes across the hall to congratulate Barron.

Above the uproar and the sound of Mrs. McCallum's gavel rapping for order, could be heard the voice of representative Montgomery trying to get recognition.

"I move to make Representative Barron's choice unanimous," he shouted.

There was assent and a chorus of eyes on the speaker.

Barron Pleads for Harmony

In a brief speech, Speaker Barron pleaded for harmony and said he bore no malice or ill-feeling against any one who opposed his selection.

"Above all, I hope you will lend your co-operation to the governor," he said, the remark provoking a round of applause.

"As I approach the duties of the speakership, I do so with a deep sense of obligation and responsibility," he continued. "I want to render worth-while service to the state and I will try to be fair to every member of the house, to the interests of every section of the state and to the people as a whole."

Immediately after convening the house, Mrs. McCallum called upon Mrs. Louise Snow Phinney, chief clerk, to administer the oath to the membership in a body, the members of which they had not since the adoption of the state constitution, "fought a duel with deadly weapons within this state nor out of it, nor have I acted as second in carrying a challenge, or aided, advised or assisted any person thus offending."

Among the officers elected by the senate were Bob Parker, secretary; Wendell O'Neal, Journal clerk; Captain Albert Holt, sergeant-at-arms; W. V. Howerton, calendar clerk; Mrs. Ann Polgass, mailing clerk; Mrs. Theodosia Bell, librarian; Mrs. M. N. Brown, post mistress; Rev. W. H. Doss, chaplain; William Comberry, notary clerk; Warren Freund door keeper; C. K. Walters, general custodian of the senate; A. M. Birch, general stenographer.

Gov. Brown of the University of Texas, all-Southwestern conference football tackle of 1928, was elected first assistant sergeant-at-arms.

House officers selected today included: Mrs. Louise Snow Phinney, Austin, chief clerk; Joe W. White, San Antonio, sergeant-at-arms; A. C. Dunn, Marlin, reading clerk; Ed C. Harrell, Waco, assistant reading clerk; James L. Robinson, Austin, Journal clerk; Miss Gladys Nichols, Austin, calendar clerk; Mrs. Bess Odell Beaman, Austin, engrossing clerk; Mrs. Bergine M. Pugh, Breckenridge, enrolling clerk; Phil C. Clements, Mills county, door keeper, and Rev. J. C. Mitchell, Austin, chaplain.

Robinson, Journal clerk, began his thirty-seventh year of service in the house.

Bryan Death

when the wheels of the vehicle struck against the curb, the force of the impact turned the truck over. The truck made on complete turnover and landed on its right side, the bottom part of it jammed against the burning building, before it came to a stop.

Bryan was extricated from the truck, where it is said he was pinned down, with the steering wheel broken in several pieces and part of it hanging around his neck. He was unconscious when placed in a Byrum Brothers ambulance and carried to the West Texas hospital.

Glenn Smith, who was riding in front seat with Bryan and keeping the siren sounding, was injured also, but only slightly, reports from the Lubbock sanitarium, where he was taken, stated.

The fire is said to have started when heat from a gas stove set the wall paper on fire, the house being almost completely burned together with most of its contents. Four Tech students, who roomed there, lost practically all their belongings.

One of them, Oval Robinson, of Childress, stating he left about $25 in currency in his room which was undoubtedly fed to the flames.

Besides Oval Robinson, the other Tech students were, his brother, John; Gordon Anderson and Earl Guidrey, of Woodville.

New Railroad

from Floydada to Ralls. Such extension would give Lubbock another main route, this one connecting with the Frisco system and leading directly to Oklahoma City, Tulsa, and on to St. Louis.

New Road Here Likely

Permission is also understood to have been given the Quannah road to use the Santa Fe's rails from Floydada to Plainville, but it is also more than likely that both routes would be used, Lubbock having plausible expectations of seeing the Frisco system come here with the development of oil fields to the southwest in New Mexico, as well as the opening up of new lands throughout the entire section west, south and southwest of this city.

Line From Vernon To Seymour Is Approved

AUSTIN, Jan. 8.—Extensive future railroad development in the northwestern section of Texas, involving 112 miles of construction on two proposed extensions and the absorption by the Frisco system of the Gulf, Texas, and Western railway, was revealed here in approval by the attorney general of amendments to the charters of the railroads.

The St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas railway company today had its charter amended to permit it to construct and maintain an extension 42 miles in length from Vernon in Wilbarger county to Seymour, in Baylor county, where it will connect with the Gulf, Texas and Western railway.

The Gulf, Texas and Western railway yesterday obtained approval of an amendment to its charter authorizing the construction of a 70-mile extension from Seymour, through Baylor, Knox and Foard counties to Pecos in Goliad county, where it would connect with rails of the Quannah, Acme and Pacific railway, owned by the Frisco system.

W. Frank Knox, Sr., of Dallas, president of the G. T. and W. announced that the Frisco had contracted to buy his railroad subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The two extensions will give the Frisco, he advised, its outlet from the Gulf to the coast, and will be approved through connections from the Texas Panhandle to Dallas, Fort Worth and Tildewater on the Gulf.

DIRECTORS MEET

Regular Monthly Meeting Is Delayed by Banquets

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce will be held in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce at the city hall this morning at 9 o'clock.

Because of the annual meetings of the chambers of commerce at Slaton and Tahoka Tuesday night, and the desires of several members of the Lubbock chamber of commerce, the regular meeting of the directors was postponed until this morning.

Dr. Paul W. Horn headed a delegation of Lubbockites to Tahoka, where he was to deliver an address to the annual banquet of the chamber of Commerce. Others making the trip included W. W. Royalty, Jack Randall, Tom Garrard and Garnet Reeves.

ROADS MADE HEAVY

Rainy Spell Hits the South Plains; Cold Forecast

Lowering clouds and temperature during Tuesday lent reality to the threat of rain Tuesday afternoon and night, starting with a light mist and resulting in intermittent heavy downpours throughout the night.

Roads throughout the South Plains were made treacherously slippery and difficult to travel, the rain being evidently general over this entire section.

Weather report for today promises colder and continued rains.

HOUSTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—R. L. Young, 58, appointed regent of A. and M. college during the administration of W. P. Hobby as governor died here today after a brief illness.

berman; Minter W. Uzell, clothier; A. J. Payne, merchant; J. A. Elliott, utilities manager; O. Z. Ball, clothier; P. P. Brevis, furniture dealer; I. M. Brewer, banker, and Dr. W. E. Payne, physician. Lloyd A. Wilson, secretary, was re-elected on November 1, 1928.

Directors whose terms came to an end tonight were C. F. Anderson, druggist; P. G. Stokes, motor car dealer; Sam E. Stags, insurance agent; J. T. Overby, realtor, and W. B. Hestand, wholesale grocer. W. H. Smith and Horace Hawkins, whose terms also expired, were re-elected.

Elect President Soon

President and vice-president for the coming year will be elected by the directors at a meeting scheduled in two weeks time.

The program got under way with the pronouncing of the invocation by Rev. S. J. Berry, of the Church of Christ, after Secretary Wilson led the assemblage in the singing of the last verse of "America". Presbyterian ladies, headed by Mrs. Joe Rogers, were given a rising vote of appreciation for their efforts, and visitors made up of President B. Sherrod, of the Board of City Development; Dean Gordon, Tom A. White, Chas. A. Guy, all of Lubbock, and George H. Harris, St. Joseph, Mo., were introduced.

Wilson Makes Report

Secretary Wilson's report of the year's accomplishments, including work in agriculture, industry, commerce, highways, publicity, public relations, civic projects and miscellaneous lines, was read and adopted unanimously, without change and with the thanks of the members of the organization.

With Miss Jeanette Ramsey at the piano, Miss Frances Guffin made up of President B. Sherrod, "The Spanish Dance" and Kreisler's arrangement of "The Old Folks at Home", after which Dr. Gordon, whose subject was "How Big Will Slaton Grow", made the principal address of the evening.

Sketches Growth of Cities

Sketching the growth of St. Louis, Chicago and Tulsa as outstanding examples of American progress, Dr. Gordon, told his hearers that Slaton, to become the city that it should be, must incorporate "Farsighted Citizenship", a "constructive program", must have "Intelligent Cooperation" and must be a "City with a Soul". He assured his listeners that if Slaton follows the program he outlined that the "end will ultimately be right."

Short talks were made by Mrs. Lillian Green, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association; Rev. Thomas D. O'Brien, Rev. Ben G. Holloway, Rev. M. M. Short, Rev. James Rayburn, and Rev. F. J. Berry, Slaton pastors; George H. Harris, St. Joseph, Mo.; Roy A. Baldwin, attorney; C. Lem Son, superintendent of schools; Mrs. M. A. Pember, president of the Civic and Culture club; B. Sherrod, Tom A. White, Chas. A. Guy, all of Lubbock; T. E. Wright, high school coach; J. B. Caldwell, ward school principal; and Will P. Florence, dairyman.

Tribute Paid Slaton

All paid tribute to the progress and spirit of Slaton. Mr. Sherrod, of Lubbock, particularly stressing the friendship of his city for its neighbor, the Santa Fe Center of West Texas.

Between two of the talks Mrs. Lillian Butler, member of the public school faculty, sang "The Harp of Delight," accompanied by Miss Ramsey.

Cards, upon which financial pledges were written, were passed out to members and slips of paper upon which were written suggestions for the 1929 program of work were also circulated.

Wilson's Work Praised

Upon motion of Sam E. Stags, a resolution of thanks to Secretary Wilson for his untiring efforts and his success in behalf of the organization, Mr. Wilson thanked the members and renewed his pledge of service.

The meeting was the largest of its kind ever held here, which fact was all the more marked when it is considered that the organization was closing the most successful year and directors of the organization hope to raise a budget of twice that much for carrying on the civic campaign during the coming twelve months.

At the close of the meeting Secretary Wilson urged that members "forget self and think of Slaton, thereby helping ourselves, others and future generations" and the adoption of the slogan "Sell Slaton to Slaton People."

invitation of towns on the route. At Idalou they were joined by W. L. Brashear, Lubbock county commissioner; Taylor Allen, city secretary; J. B. Teal and Rev. Joe Wilson.

At Lockney an enthusiastic meeting was held with representative men of that city, cooperation being pledged to assist in securing right-of-way for the highway through Floyd county, and a group of Lockney business men, headed by Artie Baker, joining the trippers to Silverton.

Late in the afternoon the motorists arrived in Floydada and conferred with citizens there relative to the plan for having that city included in the highway routing with a road leading from the Denver road routing to there by way of Mickey.

Lubbock county's part of the proposed highway is practically assured as to right-of-way. Just a few miles through the southeast corner
