Judge recesses juror selection

No new jurors were chosen Thursday as District Judge Gene Dulaney recessed the selection process shortly before 2 p.m. in the capital murder trial of Dorsie Lee Johnson Jr.

The individual interviews of prospective jurors will resume at 9 a.m. Monday in 132nd District Court.

District Attorney Ernie Armstrong and defense attorney Frank Conard interviewed only three potential jurors Thursday.

To date, seven jurors have been chosen--exactly one-half of the 14 required. Fifty-eight of the original 117 prospective jurors have now been interviewed.

Of the 14 to be chosen, two will serve as alternates and will be seated in the event one of the original 12 jurors cannot hear all of the trial testimony.

Johnson is charged with capital murder in connection with the March 23 killing of Jack Huddleston of Snyder during a robbery of the Allsup's store on College Ave.

He faces a possible death sentence if convicted.

Stephen Henry, in the Levelland News-Press, said the following was displayed on the billboard at the Sundown State Bank:

It may not be a record, but it was sure big enough to make an impression on us. A recent photograph in the Seminole Sentinel showed two Gaines County men displaying a snake they had captured and killed near Andrews.

The rattler was 62 inches long and weighed 6½ pounds.

O. G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, told about the husband who came home from work one evening to find the house in complete shambles.

Amendment would affect insurance

(Editor's Note: This marks the third in a series of four articles outlining constitutional amendment proposals which will be decided by Texas voters during the General Election Tuesday.)

The third amendment proposal on Tuesday's ballot would authorize political subdivisions to purchase life, health and accident insurance from mutual companies providing the political entity is not liable for assessments.

Under such insurance agreements, the purchaser becomes a member of the mutual organization. Since the members own and control the mutual, they are entitled to share its surplus and are responsible, within limits, for its obligations.

This is contrary to the Texas Constitution, however, which prohibits municipal governments from lending money to individuals, associations or corporations or to become stockholders in corporations or associations.

The history of the constitutional law this amendment seeks to reverse dates back to the 1870s. At that time, political subdivisions such as the state actively loaned money to private companies. This occurred primarily because of the lack of capital for investment.

As a result, however, considerable debt was owed to the state.

In 1876, post-Reconstruction Democrats included a restriction

Q. — Is the Snyder school board planning to appoint two members to replace the vacancies on the board?

A. — Not at the present time, says Mike Jordan, school board president. He notes the board is under no rule that says they must replace the members, and naming replacements would require the candidates be approved by a federal judge's order.

OPEC moves

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Saudi Arabia's new oil minister has called for an emergency meeting of OPEC's pricing committee to begin the process of raising the price of oil.

Hesham Nazer made the call Thursday in a statement to the official Saudi Press Agency, hours after the surprise announcement that he had been named to replace Ahmed Zaki Yamani as oil minister of the world's largest oil exporting nation.

Latest prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices for crude oil and refined products were higher today, following the sacking of Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani as oil minister of Saudi Arabia and a new Saudi initiative aimed at pushing levels higher.

In early trading at the New York Mercantile Exchange, contracts for December delivery of West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark U.S. crude, opened at $15.50, then eased back to $15.34 per 42-gallon barrel. On Thursday, the price closed at $15.04, which was up $1.31 over Wednesday.

Prices for November delivery of refined products were also up significantly.

In early trading, heating oil, which opened at 40.60 cents a gallon, had moved up to 40.70. It closed Thursday at 39.57 cents a gallon, up 2.8 cents over Wednesday's price. Unleaded gas opened today at 41 cents.

Anti-drug...

Mexicans outraged by law

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican newspapers Thursday staunchly backed the government in protesting the United States' new anti-drug law, charging that the singling out of Mexico revealed U.S. ignorance or even a plan to undermine the government.

The new law, signed this week by President Reagan, "implies improper interference in our affairs and shares in absolutely false and slanderous assumptions," the government newspaper El Nacional said in its editorial.

Excelsior, a respected Mexico City daily, said sections of the law that mention Mexico "smack of hiding other aims, namely that of taking advantage of the drug-trafficking problem ... to make the country more penetrable by foreign interests."

A State Department report issued last week said Mexico in 1985 was "once again the largest single-country source of heroin and marijuana imported into the United States" as well as a growing conduit for South American cocaine.

Mexico's Foreign Ministry on Wednesday sent the State Department a protest note over parts of the new law containing "threats" against Mexico.

The note cited a provision urging the president to formally warn Americans of the dangers of Mexican travel "unless substantial progress is made in the near future" in the investigation of the kidnap-murder of one U.S. drug agent and the alleged torture of a second.

Also protested was the inclusion of a "sense of Congress resolution" stating that the approximately 80 airplanes the United States has provided Mexico for drug eradication "have not been used efficiently."

Another section, which does not mention Mexico but could create problems for the heavily indebted country, would end U.S. support for loans to drug-supplying countries from international development banks.

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said Thursday the Reagan administration did not support the sections of the legislation mentioned in the protest note.

Producers seek ease of controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas producers feel they could take a $5 billion bite out of the federal trade deficit annually if the government eased price controls and mandated access to the country's interstate pipeline network.

Figures released by the Commerce Department on Thursday showed the trade deficit for September was $12.6 billion, with oil imports accounting for $3.1 billion, or about $12 billion a year.

Nicholas J. Bush, president of the Natural Gas Supply Association, said in a prepared statement that at least $5 billion could be cut from the oil import figure each year with greater deregulation.

"The inability of natural gas producers to get their gas to markets has been an important contribution to the U.S. balance of payments deficit since 1982," Bush said, citing a study prepared by his organization.

The NGSA study concludes government price controls on natural gas cannot keep up with the rapidly fluctuating prices of the global oil market. Foreign producers have no such restraints and can undercut U. S. producers.

Price controls on domestic natural gas apply only to fuel produced before 1978, called "old gas," according to Robert Isaac, a spokesman for the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

The Department of Energy has asked FERC to look into rule changes that would ease those controls in order to give domestic gas producers more freedom on the open market, Isaac said.

Bush's study also blames restricted access to interstate pipelines for choking off the sale of natural gas equal to 1 million barrels of imported oil per day.

Neighbor Who Lends Helping Hand Ends Up Getting Burned

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I felt sorry for my neighbor, so I let her use my telephone when hers was "out of order." She would come over here as early as 7 a.m. and as late as 11:30 p.m. and talk sometimes for an hour or more.

She had no consideration for my rest and privacy. I have a 3-year-old child and am expecting again in two months.

I finally got fed up with her coming over here at all hours to talk on my phone, so I made excuses, lied and finally refused to let her in my house. I thought my troubles were over. I was wrong.

I just got my phone bill and found out that the telephone calls she made on my phone were all long distance. Her phone wasn't out of order; the telephone company disconnected it because she failed to pay her bill.

Now I am stuck for over $200 — an expensive lesson for a woman in my circumstances. Although I could take legal action against her, she's living on welfare and has nothing.

Please warn your readers, Abby. I wish somebody had warned me.

SOFT TOUCH

DEAR SOFT: Thanks for the message. Readers, if your neighbor wants to reach out and touch someone, make sure it isn't you.

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion for people who loan money to others and never get it back. Send them this poem:

I think that I shall never see
The dollar that I loaned to thee;
A dollar that I could have spent
On many forms of merriment
The one I loaned to you so gladly
Is now the one I need so badly.
For whose return I had great hope
Just like an optimistic dope.
For dollars loaned to folks like thee
Are not returned to fools like me.

DEAR HAROLD: Thanks for the witty ditty. I'll bet a lot of folks who have been clipped will be clipping this one.

DEAR ABBY: A number of years ago Life magazine had a story about a decapitated rooster (chicken) that lived a number of days after being decapitated, delaying a Sunday dinner that had been planned by the person who decapitated it. To everyone's amazement, the rooster lived for two days with its head chopped off.

I read this in a doctor's waiting room in the early '50s. I have repeated this story to several people, and the way they looked at each other, I am sure they thought I was nuts or the world's biggest storyteller.

How can I get a copy of this magazine, or some information in support of this story, which I am absolutely sure I read in Life magazine? Please help. My reputation is riding on this. Maybe one of your readers remembers it, and can back me up.

NEEDS PROOF IN JACKSON, MICH.

DEAR NEEDS: Life magazine ceased publication in 1972, but if anyone out there can provide me with any information on the decapitated rooster, it will be something to crow about.

LEWISVILLE, Texas (AP) — An elderly couple has been reunited after two congressmen intervened to unravel a case of Medicare red tape.

Will Reagan blitz help?

By Jim Drinkard
Associated Press Writer

With voter turnout likely to be the key to some of the country's closest elections Tuesday, Republicans are relying on their most potent weapon — Ronald Reagan — to energize with personality a campaign the candidates have been unable to enliven with issues.

A poll suggests more than half the voters are not particularly swayed by the president's appeals on behalf of individual candidates, but that his personal popularity is even higher than it was two years ago when he scored a landslide re-election victory.

With several tight contests likely to hinge on which camp can get its supporters to the polls next week, Republican leaders are hopeful a Reagan campaign blitz will reap dividends even if it falls short of changing minds.

Reagan has devoted the last week before Election Day to almost constant campaigning, and today he was visiting the home territories of two of the Senate's most endangered Republicans: Steve Symms of Idaho and Slade Gorton of Washington.

The potential impact of the Reagan effort was underscored by a prediction Thursday that turnout across the country will be down from the last off-year balloting in 1982.

The Committee for the Study of the American Electorate said that while voter registration is up slightly, turnout is "almost certain to go down in 1986."

A recession four years ago helped spark electoral interest and an increase in turnout that year stood in contrast to consistent drops over the past two decades. Curtis B. Gans, committee director, said lack of a national theme and low voter interest in high-population states led to the prediction of relatively low turnout.

Government will honor Walker's plea bargain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department intends to honor its plea bargain with convicted Soviet spies John and Michael Walker although some officials believe polygraph tests show John Walker has not told the whole truth about his 17-year-long spy ring in the Navy.

Two government sources, who declined to be identified by name, said Thursday that top Justice officials have decided the Walkers should be sentenced as planned on Nov. 6 under an agreement calling for John Walker to receive a life prison term and his son, former Navy Yeoman Michael Walker, to get 25 years in prison.

To obtain these sentences, the Walkers pleaded guilty and promised to tell all they knew about the spy ring that allowed the Soviets to read 1 million classified Navy cables.

Nevertheless, the sources said polygraph tests of John Walker and his brother, former Navy Lt. Cmdr. Arthur Walker, also convicted in the case, have produced suspicions about when the spy ring began, who started it and whether others were involved besides the four already known.

Justice Department spokesman John Russell refused to comment on the case, but the sources said the department would let today's deadline for any motion to back out of the deal pass without action.

The bargain was attacked publicly by Navy Secretary John Lehman as too lenient, because John Walker could be considered for parole in 10 years. It is considered virtually inconceivable that he would be granted a release then, however. Michael could be considered for parole in eight years and four months.

It's the bottom line that counts

By James Jacoby

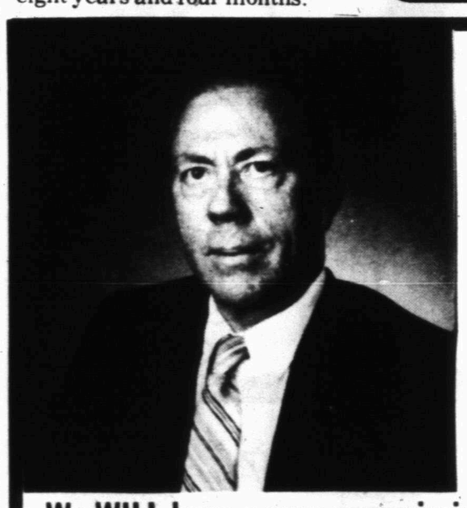

It's no surprise that the right contracts are often not arrived at when enterprising opponents deprive you of your bidding room. Today's deal was played in a team-of-four match, and East opened with a two-club bid that was strong and presumably artificial. Even though South was vulnerable, the freakish distribution of his hand warranted coming in with two hearts, and North was delighted to give him a boost to four. East now took a conservative view and bid five clubs. South and West both passed, and North carried on to five hearts.

That was good news for East. By passing, he was telling his partner, "It's all right to bid six clubs if you have any useful cards." But that was where the ball was fumbled. West might have realized that a useful king (diamonds) was enough for him to bid a slam in clubs, but he thought he needed something more, so he doubled. That was 850 to North-South, and certainly a result that left the East-West pair somewhat frazzled.

In the other room, the bidding was more spirited. There, East-West bid to seven clubs, and North was anxiously waiting to double for a diamond lead, but South saved at seven hearts. That was doubled and set 500, but the team still gained 350 total points, since their teammates had plus 850 from making five hearts doubled. That's running in good luck, when you are minus 500 instead of plus 100 and still gain on the result as a team.

LAFF-A-DAY

"This is the last time we let YOU organize a costume party, Marcie."

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

Two ailments are very different

DEAR DR. GOTT — Are chlamydia and Candida albicans the same thing?

DEAR READER — No, they are different.

Chlamydia are considered to be a type of specialized bacteria. They can affect the eye, causing conjunctivitis or trachoma. They also can be spread sexually, causing a venereal disease called lymphogranuloma venereum, which is characterized by swollen lymph nodes in the groin, genital ulcers, headache and fever. A rare type of chlamydia that infects birds can be transmitted to people in the form of psittacosis (a variety of pneumonia). Chlamydia has been reported to be spread, during birth, from the mother to the infant, causing pneumonia. A recent study showed that chlamydia can cause pharyngitis and laryngitis in otherwise healthy university students; the infection was spread nonsexually.

Candida albicans is a fungus normally found in the mouths, digestive tracts and birth canals of healthy people. In patients with ineffective immunity, Candida can cause disease. For example, it produces diaper rash, dermatitis and thrush in newborn infants. Diabetics have a tendency to develop serious Candida infections, as do patients whose immunity has been suppressed by anti-cancer drugs. Women on antibiotics commonly develop Candida vaginitis, because the drugs kill off bacteria that are natural yeast antagonists. Candida infection of fingernails and toenails can be resistant to treatment.

Lately, there has been much public interest generated by self-styled experts who have written books claiming that chronic Candida infection is a common scourge. These authors believe that Candida can cause an enormous array of human ills. To date, these claims have not been scientifically validated. Candida appears to be an opportunistic yeast; that is, it sets up infection if the environment is suitable.

DEAR DR. GOTT — When counting calories, should one take into consideration all of the calories consumed, or just the "fat" ones?

DEAR READER — You have to consider all of the calories. If you were performing a mileage check on your car during a trip and used a tank of regular followed by a tank of high-test, you would have to make your calculation based on both tanks of gas, not just the high-test. Calories are a measure of energy; in determing your daily intake, you have to consider calories from protein, vegetables, grain products and fat.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, WEIGHT CONTROL THROUGH CALORIE CONTROL, which offers tips on weight loss, diet and exercise. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've been having trouble with an itchy rash on my back, anus and vulva. One doctor says it's herpes, but I wonder if it might be caused by the medicines I take: Apresoline, Lasix, Aldactone, Lanoxix Hydroxyzine and Halcyon. What do you think?

DEAR READER — I think that one or more of your medicines may be the cause of your rash. Ask for a dermatologist's opinion.

Narcotics growers targeted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department officials, backed by tough new law enforcement powers, are vowing to wipe out thousands of tons of marijuana grown on clandestine plantations deep in the national forests.

A 500-member unit will investigate marijuana growers representing a "highly organized criminal element" and guarding their forest enclaves with snipers, attack dogs and lethal traps, officials said Thursday.

Agriculture Department agents will be equipped with see-in-the-dark spy scopes and other high-tech devices in the war on growers who produce $1 billion worth of marijuana in the national forests annually, amounting to 20 percent of the U.S. crop, the officials said.

They said the danger to tourists and forest rangers from the growers has become so great that 940,000 of the national forest system's 191 million acres are now under "constrained management," meaning federal workers try to avoid them and warn tourists they are too dangerous to enter.

"I consider this to be an intolerable situation," Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng told a news conference that included a videotape of agents in camouflage combat fatigues launching a military-style assault on a hut surrounded by forest.

It also depicted agents ripping out cannibis plants and feeding them into a fire that produced clouds of smoke. It showed another group tacking up a "pot-buster" poster showing a green marijuana leaf with a red line through it and warning that growing it was illegal.

"Our goal is a very simple one — we hope to make the national forests free of marijuana," Lyng said.

The National Forest Service, an agency of the Agriculture Department, made public a map showing heavy marijuana growing activity in Northern California, Southern Illinois and the Ozarks, among other places.

George Dunlop, the assistant secretary of agriculture for natural resources and environment, told the news conference that the growers were part of a "a highly organized criminal element."

"These aren't just casual counterculture-type folk who are back in the woods," said Dunlop, a former Marine and one-time aide to Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.

Dunlop will spearhead the drive, which was authorized at a level of $20 million by the newly minted anti-drug law.

In pea-soup weather, sailors often don their pea coats — but the coat's name isn't derived from the weather. Sailors' heavy coats used to be made out of pilot cloth, a heavy twilled blue cloth with a nap on one side. The cloth was sometimes called P-cloth, from the initial letter of pilot, and the garment made from it came to be called either a pea jacket, or later a pea coat. The term pea coat has been in use since the 1720s.

No more U.S. coal at bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 25 years, the Defense Department is free to stop shipping U.S. coal to West Germany to heat U.S. military bases, a program critics have charged is one of the government's oldest boondoggles.

The department still will have to buy 302,000 tons of Pennsylvania anthracite a year, but it no longer is barred from converting bases in West Germany to other fuels.

"We win and the Germans win," Jeffrey Jones, director of energy policies at the Pentagon, said in an interview Thursday.

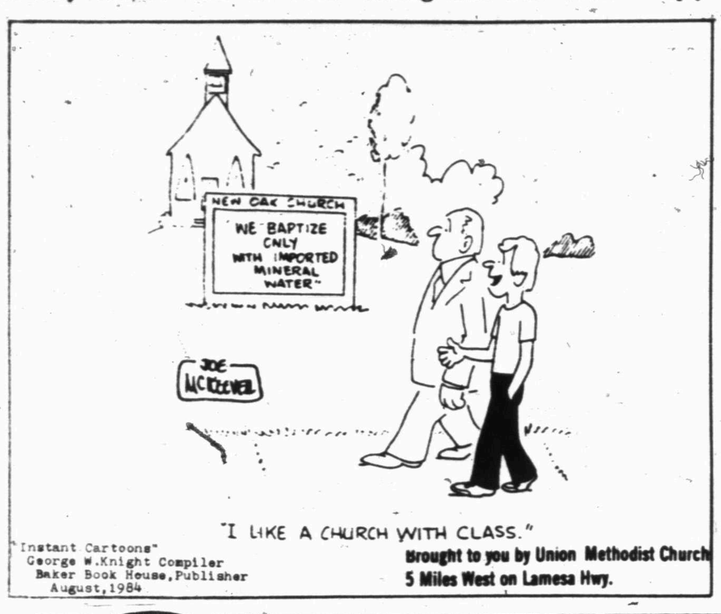

West Germany has been insisting that U.S. bases comply with its air pollution laws, which Jones said would have meant "millions and millions of dollars" in pollution controls on coal-burning facilities.

The Pentagon could not switch from coal, however, because of a congressional mandate that banned converting the West German bases to other fuels.

In the face of the West German air pollution demands, the Pentagon last year proposed a trade: If the congressional restrictions on fuel-switching were dropped, the Pentagon would burn more coal at bases in the United States.

The department listed 37 domestic installations that might be switched from oil or gas at a conversion cost of $1.4 billion.

Congress liked the idea so much that it required the department to more than double its coal use at bases in the United States by 1994, adding 1.6 million tons per year.

Private funds recommended for overrun

AUSTIN (AP) — West Texas State University has to come up with $211,000 in private funds to cover part of the cost overruns on its new $991,000 president's home, the College Coordinating Board has decided.

The man now living in the home at the Canyon campus told the board the school does not have the money.

"We don't have money on hand through private sources at this time," WTSU President Ed Roach told the board Thursday.

The 18-member board, meeting as a committee, Thursday supported its staff's recommendation to make WTSU pick up some of the overrun costs. A final vote was set for today.

In October 1984, the board OK'd $494,900 for the new house. WTSU officials said they spent the additional money without coordinating board approval because they misunderstood board construction cost policies.

"Our board believed in the beginning, and continues to believe, that that project is a good and valuable addition to our campus. In retrospect, we believe our interpretation of coordinating board procedure left something wanting," Roach told the board.

Houston woos Democrats for 1988 national convention

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Gov. Mark White and Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire insist the nation's fourth-largest city is prepared to host the 1988 Democratic National Convention.

"We plan to convince the Site Selection Committee there can be no other choice," Mrs. Whitmire said Thursday night at a $1,000-a-plate fundraiser kicking off four days of briefings and wining and dining for 56 delegates from around the country who will decide on a site for the convention.

"We have full buildings and not so full buildings," White said. "We're ready for you. You are in the city of the future.

"We also have the spirit that we will translate victory in that convention to victory in November (1988)," he said.

"It's not just the civic leadership of Houston, but the eyes of Houston are upon you," added U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas. "No state in the union will extend more hospitality. Even though times are a bit tough, Houston has its head up and colors flying."

Democratic National Committee Chairman Paul Kirk said White's re-election to a second term next week, while a factor in the decision, would not be the major item in the process.

"It helps," he said of White's bid for a second term. "But I think it will be a moot point," he added, predicting a White victory over Republican challenger Bill Clements.

"Every city has its pros and cons," he said. "We'll weigh all the factors and take an accounting. Until that time the process is wide open."

Kirk, however, criticized Republicans for what he called a limp-wristed policy on trade, callous policy on agriculture and no policy on energy.

He said Clements was "looking at the future through a rearview mirror."

"I'd like to think Mark White is making some tough choices today to invest in the future," Kirk said.

The Site Selection Committee and its entourage, which with party officials and guests swells to about 120 people, already has visited Atlanta and Kansas City.

Landfill idea nixed

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas needs a new state policy to outlaw landfills in hazardous waste disposal, says a report of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

"Proven, cost efficient alternatives to land disposal exist today," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower told a news conference Thursday "and a concerted effort by industry and the state can move us away from outmoded, dangerous, expensive land disposal methods."

Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, said the Senate Committee on Natural Resources would meet in Lake Jackson Nov. 19 to begin making recommendations for the 1987 Legislature.

Ex-employees are charged

DALLAS (AP) — A Mesquite contracting company and five individuals, including four former employees of Warner Amex's cable television system, have been charged in connection with alleged kickbacks and rigging bids for cable construction.

After a lengthy Internal Revenue Service investigation, felony conspiracy charges were filed Thursday against Global Contracting Co. Inc. through its president, Don Laney; Stephen W. Magnuson, a cost-analysis manager in Warner Amex's construction department; and Nicholas A. Shammas, described by federal prosecutors as a "middle man" who formed a dummy corporation to launder kickbacks from Global, which is no longer in business, officials said.

Willie H. Walls, Julian N. Kelly and Carl N. Underwood, all former cable construction inspectors for Warner Amex in Dallas, were charged with misdemeanor blackmail charges for allgedly demanding money from Laney for not informing on him, Assistant U.S. Attorney David B. Lewis said.

According to the charges, Magnuson, Laney, Walls and Kelly began meeting in March 1983 to establish secret interests in a cable construction company.

District 2-4A roundup...

Tiger-Pony tradition goes way back

SWEETWATER – When the Ragin' Tigers and Sweetwater Mustangs square off at the Mustang Bowl tonight it will be for the 40th time. The rivalry goes back to 1925 and is one of the longest in the area.

Sweetwater, the defending state champion, is a 21-point favorite over the Tigers, who take a two-game winning streak into the 8 o'clock ballgame.

Game captains for the Ragin' Tigers tonight will be Chris Garrett, Brad Gartman, Cotton Merritt and Toby Ubando.

Snyder will be without lead tailback Michael Riggins, who is sidelined with a foot injury. He'll be replaced by Jeff Rose.

"We'll start Jeff and probably spot play three or four tailbacks in there," said Snyder Coach Dennis Tomlin, whose Tigers have been decimated by illness at the tailback position this week. At one time, five tailbacks missed practice.

One of the tailbacks used could be 5-10, 160 sophomore Kenneth McClain, who was moved up to the varsity squad this week.

Tonight's contest will also mark the starting debut of Roland Romo at quarterback. Romo played half of the game against Andrews and most of last week's contest with San Angelo Lake View. Brad Gartman will continue to play some quarterback - primarily on short-yardage situations - and will also start at a defensive halfback position. He intercepted two passes in Snyder's 10-6 win over Lake View.

Sweetwater owns the series, 23 wins to Snyder's 15. There has been one tie.

Sweetwater is 6-1 for the season and 4-1 in District 2-4A play while the Tigers are 2-5 and 2-3.

In another 2-4A game which could have a bearing on the playoffs, 6-1, 4-1 Monahans is at 6-1, 5-0 Big Spring. Also tonight, 5-3, 3-3 Pecos is at 2-5, 1-4 Lamesa and 2-5, 2-3 Andrews is at 3-5, 1-5 San Angelo Lake View..

Junior varsity club blanks Sweetwater Mustangs, 26-0

Snyder junior varsity picked up a big win here Thursday evening as the young Tigers blanked Sweetwater 26-0 at Travis Field.

Snyder benefitted from a Sweetwater fumble in the first quarter and marched 29 yards before Pete Madrid scored on a three-yard pitch play. The kick-after by Stacy Kellums was wide left.

Later in the period, Tracy Odom stepped in front of a Sweetwater pass and raced 28 yards for another Tiger touchdown. Lee Fletcher ran the sweep for the two-point conversion.

Snyder drove to the Sweetwater 10 in the second quarter from where Madrid again took a pitch and raced into the end zone. Fletcher cleared the way as lead blocker. The run for two points failed, but Snyder led 20-6.

The Cats got on the board again early in the fourth quarter. Fletcher did the honors on a nine-yard sweep. The conversion was no good, but Snyder had its 26-0 victory.

Roy Gutierrez led the Tigers on the ground with 85 yards on 16 carries. Fletcher picked up 58 steps on 14 tries.

"Sweetwater was 5-2 going into the game so we knew we had to play well to win," said Coach Rick Howell. "We had 193 yards of offense to their total of 46. It seemed they had more, but they suffered several key quarterback sacks. Our defense set the tempo of the game with some great hitting. We forced several fumbles and had the interception for the TD.

"Offensively, we blocked well and Gutierrez and Fletcher ran well," added the coach. "I was pleased, since Kenneth McClain was moved up to the varsity this week, to see Fletcher play well at tailback instead of his normal quarterback spot. Tracy Odom handled the quarterback chores well also."

Howell also said Thomas Wesley blocked well at guard. Defensively, the coach listed Nelson Carthel, Justin Derryberry, Chad Hall and Odom as having a good game.

"Our guys played very emotional, fired-up football just like they should when they play Sweetwater," noted Howell.

Snyder is 5-3 and plays Big Spring in Big Spring next week.

Freshmen jolt Colts; host Big Spring next

Snyder freshmen put the goose egg to Sweetwater at Travis Field here Thursday, winning 14-0.

The victory brings the Cats' record to 6-1 as they prepare to host Big Spring next week.

"It was one of our typical games were we've made the big play on offense and our defense came through and made the turnovers. Our second score came following a fumble recovery and two of their drives were stopped by a fumble and the interception," said Coach Larry Scott.

Snyder scored on the first offensive play of the game as Toby Goodwin hit Randy Morris on a 20-yard pass and he ran another 60 yards to score. The conversion try failed, but with 16 seconds gone in the game Snyder led 6-0.

Snyder's other touchdown came in the third period when Morris scored on an eight-yard run. Jayson Presley ran over the two-point conversion.

Snyder managed 131 yards rushing and 84 passing in the game. The Cats were two-of-three in passing, had seven first downs and eight yards in penalties. Goodwin picked off one Sweetwater pass and Charles Guynes, Jody Iglehart and Lee Hamilton recovered a fumble apiece.

Presley led the ground game with 70 yards on eight carries.

Sweetwater had 67 yards rushing and was 7 of 15 through the air for 97 yards and the interception. The Colts tallied eight first downs and 35 yards in penalties.

Westerners claim opener but Spradling not pleased

It was a typical first game. Western Texas College's Westerners won, but you couldn't tell it by Coach Phil Spradling.

"This is not the kind of basketball I want Snyder fans to see," he said, despite Western's 96-73 victory over McMurry College junior varsity. "Probably the only positive thing was the win. We've got a lot to work on."

Most of Spradling's comments could probably be centered around the first half, when Western shot 19 of 43 from the field, 10 of 19 from the line and was out rebounded 31 to 18. Still, the hosts led 49-48.

"I think we may have taken them for granted because they were smaller than us. We can't do that," said the coach.

Western played with more intensity in the second half. The squad hit 11 of its first 13 shots while McMurry missed nine field goal attempts in a row. A better defensive effort held the Indians, which shot 21 of 50 in the first half, to just 11 of 43 in the second. McMurry still won the board game, but only 21 to 19.

"At halftime I told the guys that for every point over 70 McMurry scored we were going to run in practice. They'll have to run some, but they did give a better effort," Spradling noted.

Amos Jones scored back-to-back buckets to give Western a 68-56 lead and Alvin Lee and Kevin Kendrick got in the act as well as WTC got its fast break going. The result was a 72-56 advantage with over 12 minutes still to play in the game.

"We finally got some rebounds and you have to do that if you're going to have an effective fast break," said the coach.

Spradling cleared the bench with 3:14 left when Snyder led 88-71. Everybody played, and 11 scored.

Western was led by 6-1 sophomore guard Alvin Lee, whose 37-point effort got the returning all-region talent off to another good start. Jones scored 18 while Kendrick and Darrel Nelson notched 9 each, Igor Gojanovic 7 and Harvey Marshman 6.

"Alvin is a real help to us. He plays hard the whole game and he never gets tired," said Spradling. "I thought Amos and Harvey did a pretty good job too. You can always seek out a couple of players that played well but the team effort wasn't there tonight and we are a team, not a bunch of individuals. I'm disappointed. Hopefully we can play better ball for the fans on Monday night."

The Westerners host Cisco at 8 p.m. Monday. A women's game is slated for 6 p.m.

Tony Strange, a 6-6 freshman, paced McMurry with 18 points. Ron Wells bagged 15 and Earnest Smith added 14.

Ladies finish v-ball season here Saturday

Snyder's Lady Tigers play their final volleyball match of the season here Saturday.

The Tigers entertain Monahans in a tri-header at Snyder High School Gym. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Concessions will be available.

Action gets underway at 12:30 p.m. when Snyder's 15-4 freshmen host the young Loboettes. At 2 p.m., the local junior varsity, 20-9 on the season, takes the floor.

Varsity play is slated for a 3 p.m. start. Snyder's Lady Tigers are 16-14 on the season and 6-9 in District 2-4A competition.

WTC in 3rd at Texarkana tournament

TEXARKANA -- Western Texas College shot a 309 to hold down third place at the halfway mark of the Texarkana Collegiate Fall Golf Tournament here Thursday.

The 36-hole tournament concludes today.

Paris Junior College took an early lead with a 304. Odessa College shot a 308.

There are 16 teams competing in the two-day tournament, including Grayson County and Lon Morris, which shot 313s; Shelby State, Tenn., which carded a 315; and Henderson County, which came in at 320.

Chris Adams turned in a 76 to lead the Westerners. Scott Sawyer and Joel Fults notched 77s while Matt Smith shot a 79 and Wes Skaggs an 81.

The medalist race is locked in a three-way tie between Greg Hamilton of Lon Morris, Rob Cummings of Paris and Joel Sims of Texarkana, all with 74s.

WTC Dusters rip second opponent

WACO -- Coach Kelly Chadwick doesn't want anyone to start packing their bags for nationals or even regionals yet, but after two ballgames, he will admit the Western Texas College Lady Dusters might be a contender.

"I think we're as good defensively right now as we were when the season ended last year," said Chadwick, following the Dusters' 72-45 spanking of Temple Junior College here Thursday night. "We're playing very good defense and getting a lot of offense off of our defense. We'll find out a little more tonight when we play McLennan, I think."

That's what he said Friday morning, after bombing San Jacinto 103-54 on Wednesday. McLennan is 0-2, but lost by only 66-64 to South Plains and 70-68 to Howard.

In Thursday's other game, South Plains tagged San Jacinto 98-52. The action here is taking place at the McLennan Community College Highlander Gymnasium.

Western was led again by 5-11 sophomore Brenda Welch, who scored a career-tying best of 35 points. Bonnie Detrixhe tossed in 11 and Dee Ann Marr added 9. Nine Dusters put points on the board.

"We're getting a lot of people a lot of playing time. Everybody is playing and almost everybody is scoring," said Chadwick. "We're still not consistent offensively. We're a little errratic but that can be expected with a lot of freshmen."

Chadwick praised the play of Welch, Detrixhe, Marr, Kayla Thompson and Gi Gi Robinson.

"I've really been pleased with this whole group. We've got a lot of team spirit. We've still got a lot of areas to work on. For instance, we're not always taking real good shots but part of that is because we seem to be a more aggressive team than we were last year. I think that will really help us, especially on defense."

Tonight's game with McLennan has an 8 o'clock start. Howard plays San Jac at 4 p.m. and South Plains takes on Temple at 6 p.m.

SWC roundup...

Texas Stadium tough for Aggies

by The Associated Press

Defending Southwest Conference football champion Texas A&M is riding high going into Saturday's meeting with Southern Methodist, but the Aggies have to overcome their Texas Stadium jinx to stay on top of the league race.

The 10th-ranked Aggies are 0-3 in Texas Stadium since SMU moved its home games from the Cotton Bowl. SMU hasn't lost a homecoming game since 1978 when the Mustangs fell to the Aggies.

It was four years ago in Texas Stadium that Aggie Coach Jackie Sherrill, after his team was shelled 49-7, said "the other teams in the conference had better get their licks in now. Our day is coming."

The last three A&M-SMU games have been decided by a total of 13 points. SMU downed A&M 10-7 in 1983 and nicked the Aggies 28-20 in 1984. Last year, Eric Franklin's 48-yard field goal with less than two minutes to play gave A&M a 19-7 victory.

A&M is rated a four-point choice over the Mustangs in their 2 p.m. clash.

In other SWC games, Arkansas is a 27-point choice over Rice on homecoming in Little Rock at 1 p.m.; Texas Tech was a 1-point favorite over Texas in a noon (Raycom TV) game in Lubbock; and Houston was a 4-point nod over TCU in a 7 p.m. game in the Astrodome.

Texas A&M is unbeaten in SWC play while SMU is coming off a 27-24 loss to Texas. The Mustangs are on NCAA probation and ineligible for the SWC title or a bowl game.

Texas and Arkansas each have one SWC loss.

The Longhorns will be facing former defensive coordinator David McWilliams, who is the Red Raiders' new head coach.

Tech, which upset Arkansas 17-7, is coming off a week of rest. With two losses the Red Raiders are eyeing a possible bowl bid.

"It's a very important game for both of us," McWilliams said.

2 mishaps Thursday both involve injuries

Minor injuries were reported to four individuals involved in two major traffic accidents in Snyder Thursday.

Listed as injured in the first — at 8:25 a.m. in the 1900 Block of 26th St. — were David Crockett Hayes of 401 34th St. and M.L. Duke of Rt. 3, Snyder.

They sustained minor injuries when Hayes' 1979 Chevrolet pickup owned by Lone Star Gas was in collision with a 1985 Chrysler driven by Duke. The wreck occurred at the intersection of Ave. R and 26th St.

Hayes was taken to a doctor's office by private vehicle while Duke reportedly declined medical treatment offered at the scene.

At 6:04 p.m., the driver and a passenger in a 1983 Ford reported injuries also, said sustained in a two vehicle collision in the 1900 Block of College Ave.

Taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by units of Aid Ambulance-Snyder for treatment of minor injuries were Johnnie Fisher McNew of 301 36th St. and Ellen Welsh of Snyder.

They sustained their injuries when the 1983 Ford driven by McNew collided with a 1981 Buick driven by Rose Vasquez of 1904 Scott St.

Welsh was treated and released from the hospital emergency room while McNew was admitted for tests to determine the extent of her injuries.

Hasenfus goes before tribunal today

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — U.S. mercenary Eugene Hasenfus gets a chance today to tell his side of the story to a revolutionary tribunal trying him for terrorism and conspiracy for his role in aiding Contra rebels.

The 45-year-old former Marine from Marinette, Wisconsin appears before the People's Tribunal, composed of a lawyer, truck driver and laborer, to respond to the leftist Sandinista government's charges and to examine the evidence against him.

It is his first appearance at the tribunal offices, a half mile from the U.S. Embassy, since he was arraigned on Oct. 26. He is being held in a prison outside Managua.

Hasenfus was a crewman on a rebel supply flight shot down Oct. 5 over southern Nicaragua by Sandinista forces. He was captured the next day and faces 30 years in prison if convicted. The other three crew members — two of them Americans — died when the C-123 cargo plane crashed.

The tribunal's decision to have Hasenfus appear was announced Thursday afternoon, after Attorney General Rodrigo Reyes asked that he be brought to the court.

The tribunal said it would hear Saturday from Jose Fernando Canales, the Sandinista soldier who shot down the aircraft with a shoulder-held surface-to-air missile, making him an instant national hero.

Next week, the tribunal is to hear from various Sandinista military and Interior Ministry officials and will view a videotape of the CBS program "60 Minutes" in which Hasenfus was interviewed by Mike Wallace.

President Daniel Ortega, in separate appearances before three labor groups Thursday night, made no mention of Hasenfus, limiting his remarks to domestic matters.

Amendment may affect insurance against such practices in the Texas Constitution. In 1936, the Texas Supreme Court adopted a judgment that a political subdivision could not belong to a mutual insurance association.

This because the insurance agreement required policyholders to pay potential assessments to cover losses of the association.

Today, most mutual companies qualify under law to issue nonassessable policies and avoid this possibility by charging advance premiums which develop sufficient surpluses.

Regarding the amendment proposal, an identical amendment, proposed with a different ballot proposition, was defeated by the voters on Nov. 6, 1984.

ARGUMENTS FOR

—Since the amendment continues the prohibition on the purchase of mutual insurance with a liability for assessments, the original constitutional policy continues to be served. The amendment simply widens the marketplace in which political subdivisions can shop for insurance, with the resulting benefits that competition brings both for the political subdivision and the mutual insurers. The amendment may be of significant benefit and poses no risk.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST

—This is another example of constitutional tinkering. Although the current provision may exclude a certain class of insurers from competing for the business of political subdivisions, there is no compelling reason to amend the constitution with yet another example of an exception to a general rule for a particular interest group. Amendments of this type are often the reason for the criticism that the Texas Constitution is too highly detailed and too often amended.

estimated at $400.

Dan Epley of the WTC dormitory filed the second vehicle burglary report at 3:27 p.m.

He told police that four speakers had been taken from his 1982 Chevrolet pickup while the vehicle was parked at the college.

Lori McGee, also a dorm resident, filed a misdemeanor theft report at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

She said an undetermined amount of money had been taken from her dorm room.

In other action Thursday, police arrested a 74-year-old female shoplifting suspect at Lawrence IGA grocery and jailed a second female suspect on misdemeanor warrants Thursday afternoon.

United Way dollars don't go away. They stay to benefit:

—Boys Club: Since 1955, the Boys Club has offered "somewhere to go" to boys age 7-18. The club averages 60 youngsters served per day.

—Buffalo Trail Council of Boy Scouts: Snyder Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts take advantage of these United Way dollars. Scurry County counted some 350 boys and 100 adult leaders this past year.

—Noah Project: A new United Way agency effective this year. This organization offers a temporary resting place for battered wives and their children. This past year, the center became a temporary home for 31 women and 65 children. Out of shelter help was given to another 49 women and 71 children.

—Snyder Child Day Care Center: The center offers parents in need of work a "daytime home" for their children at costs geared to their income. Often, the center also serves as a refuge for children victimized by abuse or neglect. Some 56 kids are helped daily.

—West Texas Girl Scout Council: Girl Scouting in Scurry County now equals some 26 troops representing 263 girls. They are aided by 75 adult leaders.

—Oil Patch Foster Parents: Some 26 youngsters are now served — each homeless because of circumstances they cannot control. Coming to their aid are 16 county families.

—Red Cross: In addition to its disaster relief, both swimming classes and CPR first aid courses are available locally at no charge. Some 267 individuals took advantage of these this past year.

—Salvation Army: The random and desperate individual is helped by the Salvation Army. In addition, eight local youth were sent to Camp Hoblitzelle this summer.

—West Texas Rehabilitation Center: The Abilene-based center continues to support Scurry County. Estimates for this past year include 876 treatments administered to Scurry County residents.

Economic issues dominate endorsements

DALLAS (AP) — Texas newspapers cited the state's downtrodden economy as a key theme in their endorsements in the governor's race, and the bitterness of the campaign between Gov. Mark White and challenger Bill Clements concerned some editors.

In making their choices, some newspapers expressed reservations with both Democrat White and Clements, the state's first Republican governor since Reconstruction, who was unseated by White in 1982.

The Austin American-Statesman, ndorsed White, said both candidates have drawbacks.

"White tends to shift positions with the polls. Clements has a strong personality and is consistent — but his consistency is on the wrong side of the issues," the newspaper wrote.

The Abilene Reporter-News, which endorsed Clements, suggested the campaign styles of the two candidates were not of service to the voters.

"Texans have a difficult choice in this race, not because both candidates are highly qualified to serve as governor, but because neither has distinguished himself in a lackluster, non-informative, often dirty campaign," the Reporter-News said.

The Lufkin Daily News declined to endorse either candidate, writing, "The final month of campaigning has been characterized by mudslinging TV ads geared to appeal to the intellect of the village idiot."

Several newspapers that backed Clements pointed to his experience in the private sector as a needed component in the fight to balance the state budget.

"Clements is a businessman. He understands the bottom line, efficiency and waste, much better than White, a man with a background in law and politics. It's going to take someone well-versed in budget realism to help Texas out of this financial quagmire," wrote the Beaumont Enterprise.

"Clements also is tough enough to stand up to the Legislature without fear of hurting himself politically," the paper said.

The El Paso Times, which endorsed Clements, said Texas needs "a tough, even abrasive governor who will encourage — no, require — the Legislature to deal with the economics of this state and who will require state bureaucracy to reduce itself to a manageable level."

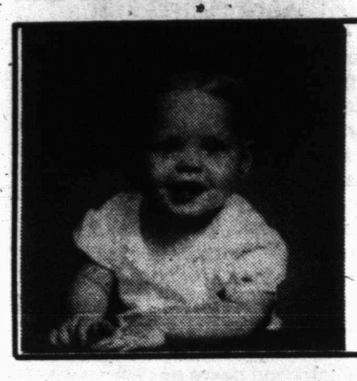

But the San Angelo Standard-Times, in endorsing White, said the incumbent was better suited to the state's changing economic environment.

"Texans live in a different state from the one they called home in 1982," the Standard-Times said. "It is the same one in most of the obvious ways ... but its economy and its problems have undergone a sea change that outdates old approaches to leading state government."

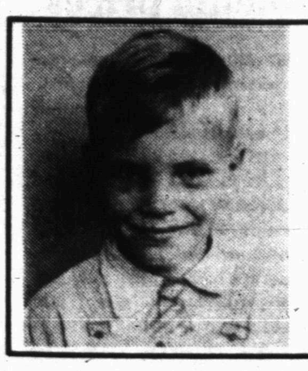

The Houston Chronicle, which also threw its support behind White, concurred, saying, "Texas can't go back to the days when the price of a barrel of oil was $38, with talk of it going to $50."

Other newspapers backing White praised his leadership during the state's budget shortfall.

"Difficult circumstances call for tough leadership," said the Amarillo Globe-News. "We believe Clements is the best candidate."
