Prominent Archer City Woman Dies After Injury In Highway Collision

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Over on Ohio avenue—the number is 608-610—stands the fire wreck of one of the landmarks of Wichita Falls, a building erected many years ago by O. W. Bean, a pioneer merchant of Wichita Falls.

In the ordinance book of the city of Wichita Falls are various ordinances for the protection of health and life and limb of the people of Wichita Falls and visitors within its gates.

Between the two theories is a connection—or rather an apparent lack of t—that is a reflection upon the city. Several years ago this building, a substantial two-story structure was wrecked by fire. The upper story had been occupied by a rooming house, the lower by a restaurant and confectionery store. The fire burned off the roof and burned out some of the walls. Some of the flooring was torn up and the whole of the building including its contents left open to the elements.

Rain and snow and sleet and hail seep down through the partially burned and rotting mattresses and the other debris onto the first floor and down into an open cellar. On the lot back of the building weeds grow in noisome profusion, or did until a few days ago when they were cut and thrown into an open well at the back of the building.

Take this Talker's word for it, the wreck of this landmark is as menacing, noisome and unsightly a place as you could imagine and you had better imagine it than visit it as he did a few day ago. It isn't pleasant even to write about it and the only purpose in these paragraphs is to bring about some application of the ordinances of the city in order that a fire hazard and health menace may be removed.

Reading carelessly, as so many of us do, or maybe it was because I didn't have on my glasses, I misread a thought in a headline in yesterday's Record News to mean that somebody had said we ought to surrender laughter to anxiety, when the headline read something entirely different. We need more of humor in life and laughter that is our expression of appreciation of it.

One day last week down on the camp grounds near Holliday, two octogenarians met on a platform and held what may the last meeting of Stonewall Jackson camp of United Confederate Veterans. It was a sort of a "last man" affair. One or the other of the two veterans might have said to the other: "This may be the last time we'll ever see each other." Instead John Woodhouse addressed George Norwood and asked: "George, shall I call you to order, or will you call me to order?" George Norwood replied to his comrade, and said, "John let Judge Scurry—who was on the platform—call us to order and I'll move to adjourn," and so it was done.

It was my good fortune to have John Woodhouse in my car both going to and returning from the campground and he was the liveliest passenger in the car keeping the others entertained with his humorous comment. I think all of us felt better after that ride with Mr. Woodhouse. I cannot help but feel that he has lived as long and as happily as he has in spite of many hardships because he has given expression to the warmth within his heart.

After the frosts that destroyed most of the fruit crops of Texas, Ball brothers fruit jar plant in Wichita Falls opened up for what was expected to be a very short run. But instead of closing at the end of a few weeks they have been running at full heat ever since and have had one of the best seasons in their many years of operation here.

And it hasn't been because there was any improvement in the fruit crop, or that there was much more of products to be canned than in other seasons. It was because the people went to work to can what they had instead of allowing it to be wasted. The result is that there are millions of dollars worth of delicious foods in cans in the pantries and cellars of Texas housewives to reduce the cost of good living during the coming months. If there is any moral to be pointed out in this it is that there is just about as much food that can be preserved in cans every season.

MRS. H. A. POWER FATALLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Pioneer Archer County Resident Succumbs In Abilene

HUSBAND IS INJURED

Former Banker Sustains Fractured Vertebrae In Highway Smash

Mrs. H. A. Power, prominent Archer City woman, received fatal injuries in an automobile accident near Abilene Sunday afternoon, according to information received here Monday. She died in an Abilene hospital Monday afternoon.

Mr. Power, formerly cashier of the Power Banking company which recently discontinued business, and their small granddaughter, Frances Power, were in the automobile with Mrs. Power. Mr. Power received minor injuries and the child was unhurt, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Daniel, occupants of the other colliding car were slightly injured.

Mrs. Power's death was attributed to a heart condition caused by the shock and a fractured vertebra.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers and their two daughters had gone to Hereford, Texas, to visit a son, Marion Power, a rancher. Returning from Hereford, their automobile was in collision with the Daniel car at Tye, near Abilene.

G. B. Purcell of Archer City left immediately for Abilene on receipt of word of the mishap. In a telephone conversation with friends here Monday night he said Mrs. Power's body would arrive in Wichita Falls at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after which it will be taken overland to Archer City, where funeral services will be held.

Funeral Today

Definite funeral arrangements had not been made Monday night, although Frank Power of Archer City, brother of the injured man, said that he expected funeral services to be held Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Power had resided in Archer City during the past 38 years. Mr. Power had been engaged in the banking business there for the past 25 years.

Mrs. Power was prominent in the work of the First Christian church of Archer City. Both she and Mr. Power were interested in the civic affairs of their city and county. Both are widely known, and have many friends and acquaintances in this section of the state.

In addition to the husband, two daughters and son, survivors include a brother, D. L. Wolf of Olney, and several sisters who reside out-of-state.

Illinois to Probe Gas Rate Cut for Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—The Illinois Commerce commission has suspended the new lower gas rate proposed for Chicago by the People's Gas, Light and Coke company until Jan. 23 to permit time for investigation, the city counsel's offices said today.

Experts for the city and the commission will seek to determine if the 3¼ per cent reduction in gas prices to domestic purposes proposed by the company is to the public interest. The proposed reduction for gas used in heating is 22 per cent. The company said it was made possible by completion of a pipe line from Texas carrying natural gas to be mixed here with manufactured gas.

Youth Held in Chicago For Lubbock Car Theft

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker today ordered Wayne Rogers, 17, held for removal to Lubbock, Texas, to face a charge of violating the Dyer anti-motor theft act.

Commissioner Walker left the order in abeyance until Sept. 8, when it will be signed by a federal judge. This will allow the youth to be released on his own recognizance.

Rogers and his young wife, an expectant mother, drove to Chicago, the youth said, in an automobile he rented in Lubbock.

SIR HALL CAINE

DEATH CLAIMS SIR HALL CAINE

Lung Congestion Fatal To English Novelist

LONDON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Sir Hall Caine, noted British novelist, died at 10:50 p. m. tonight.

Sir Hall had been in a serious condition for several days, due to lung congestion. His health had been poor since more than a year ago, when he was forced to stop work on his "Life of Christ," which even then was spoken of as an outstanding literary effort although not completed at his death.

Derided, laughed at and condemned because of some of his early literary efforts, Sir Hall Caine attained success the equal of which few authors could boast.

His English-speaking public on both sides of the Atlantic was larger than that of most writers and novel readers generally were eager for his latest work.

With a considerable leaning towards the eternal triangle, critics declared some of his plots crude and the result usually clumsy when, on rare occasions, he attempted to introduce a humorous passage. Nevertheless, Sir Hall gave ample evidence of his ability for fluent, graphic writing.

It would seem that Sir Hall always had in mind a dual purpose for his work—to please the reading public and then present the same subject dramatized so that it would appeal to theater-goers. Many of his book successes attained even greater popularity when presented on the stage.

In 1907 he was declared by the manager of the Lyceum theater, London, to be the wealthiest novelist in the world. His theatrical

The county shortage was revealed in an audit filed last week by J. B. Allred, Wichita Falls certified public accountant. At the same time the comptrollers department in Austin reported the alleged state shortage to County Attorney R. D. Oswalt.

The county commissioners court Monday afternoon accepted Miller's resignation and appointed R. J. Thomas, Crowell city marshal and tax collector, to fill the unexpired term.

Father Held After Fatal Gun Battle

CENTER, Texas, Aug. 31. (UP)—John Adams, farmer of the Halbert community near here, faced two charges of assault to murder tonight, as the result of a pistol battle Sunday night in which his son, Jodie Adams, 16, was killed and Ralph and Buford Tatum, father and son, were wounded.

More charges, including one of murder, are to be filed, when officers complete their investigation of the shooting.

The elder Adams himself is wounded. The pistol battle, begun when the quartet emerged from Sunday night church services, is said to have climaxed a quarrel and blows between young Tatum and young Adams. Tatum accused Adams of cutting the tires on the Tatum automobile.

The fathers took up the quarrel, and bystanders said shots fired by the elder Adams wounded both Tatums after young Adams had been shot fatally.

The fire is said to have started when a small gasoline heater exploded in a hardware store on the ground floor of the hotel building.

Robert A. Lyons, operator of the hardware store and Galveston county Democratic executive committee chairman, was one of the four burned. He was in a semi-conscious condition at a hospital tonight.

MAIL-ORDER KILLER CALLED LEGALLY SANE

Expert Says Powers Is On 'Border' but Knows Right From Wrong

TO PLEAD INSANITY

Slayer of Five to Base Defense on Mental Disease

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 31. (UP)—Convinced that the bodies of Harry F. Powers' victims have been found, Harrison county authorities tonight proceeded with plans to prosecute the man who used his matrimonial agency to lure two women and three children to their deaths.

He corresponded, they believe, with 115 women, but all of them except Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and Mrs. Dorothy Lemke, whose bodies were found in trenches near Powers' garage, apparently escaped the man who made a business of killing for profit. The bodies of Mrs. Eicher's three children also were found near the garage.

Dr Edwin E. Mayer, University of Pittsburgh alienist who served in the Harry K. Thaw case, examined Powers today and found him "on the border line of insanity but capable of distinguishing between right and wrong."

Grows Reticent

Police already have obtained a confession from Powers, who operated his matrimonial agency under the name of Cornelius O. Pierson, but Mayer found him reluctant to discuss the details of the crimes. He talked freely of other matters, however.

"I asked him about sadism," Mayer said, "and explained that people sometimes enjoyed seeing others bleed and be in pain. He said he had no such tendencies. I went over him physically to see if he might have diseases liable to cause violent outbursts.

"He is perfectly normal as to physical brain diseases. Powers is a psychopathic personality. He is not insane but has been a borderline case all his life. He is capable of distinguishing between right and wrong."

J. Edward Law, Powers' attorney, indicated insanity would be the defense at the trial, the date of which is still undetermined.

Wife Loyal

Mrs. Powers revealed today she married her husband after a "mail courtship," and said she still loved him "from the bottom of my heart."

Mrs. Powers furnished the money with which her husband built the garage.

"He wanted a place where he could make blueprints," she said. "He wanted to make plans for houses, and said he had to have a place where he could use acids to make blueprints. I loved that kid. He was good and kind to me and I loved him from the bottom of my heart."

Samples of Powers' letters also were found. They revealed he had a form letter with which he answered queries from women. He used phrases from "advice to the lovelorn" columns and often picked up a bit of sentimental poetry and wrote it into his letters.

FAMILY RELIEF HEAD TO LEAVE

Mrs. McHam Takes Post At Bartlesville

Mrs. Effie McHam, executive secretary of the Family Relief association of Wichita Falls during the past five years, will assume general direction of the Bartlesville, Okla., Welfare association on Oct. 1, according to Associated Press dispatches received Monday night.

Mrs. McHam left this city Saturday afternoon in order to confer with officials of the Bartlesville organization after having received from them a wire asking her consideration of the proffered post. She will return Tuesday at 1 p. m., according to a telegram received Monday afternoon by J. E. McHam, her husband.

According to Mr. McHam, the national organization of family relief societies recently recommended to the Bartlesville association that Mrs. McHam be obtained to take charge of the work in that city. Information to that effect was conveyed along with Saturday's request that she come to Bartlesville for a conference, Mr. McHam said.

Mrs. McHam talked with T. C. Scott, chairman of the family relief board, before leaving Saturday, Mr. Scott said. She was quoted as saying that she would be inclined to accept the Bartlesville position if conditions proved satisfactory. The press dispatch received by The Record News and the message received by Mr. McHam were construed as indicating definitely her acceptance.

Mrs. McHam has established herself firmly with local charity organizations through an unusual efficiency and economy in operation of her department. Prior to her acceptance of the position she now holds, she had given her time more largely to nursing. Her experience had included prolonged periods of service in Peoria, Ill., and in Purchase, N. Y.

STATE TO SET PRODUCTION AT 350,000 BBLS.

New Regulation Holds Each Well to Maximum Of 225 Barrels

MARTIAL LAW PLAN

Governor to Modify Shutdown Order to Allow New Rule to Work

AUSTIN, Aug. 31. (AP)—The giant East Texas oil field, closed down by a martial law proclamation of Gov. Ross S. Sterling Aug. 17, will be reopened tomorrow under a new order of the Texas railroad commission.

The order will be presented to the commission at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The commission announced late today it had reached an agreement on the new order governing the field. Members refused to make known the terms of the order until tomorrow.

To Modify Martial Law

Commissioner Lon A. Smith said an "understanding," had been reached with Governor Sterling whereby martial law in the 1,260,000 acre field would be modified to permit the order to become operative. A limited number of troops will be maintained in the field to aid the commission in enforcing the order, Commissioner Smith said.

Under this procedure, projected court attacks on the order would have no effect, the authority of the military superceding that of civil authorities.

C. V. Terrell, chairman, said the order would be made effective when signed by the commission. It will be presented to the commission at 10 a. m. tomorrow for final approval.

Commission in Accord

Commissioner Smith said the commission was in accord on the new order. Commissioner Pat M. Neff has dissented from the past several proration orders.

It was learned from a reliable source that the order would be issued on a flat well basis that would permit each well in the field to produce 225 barrels per day.

There are approximately 1,700 wells in the field. Figured on this basis the field as a whole would be allowed to produce 382,500 barrels per day.

It was developed at the recent hearing of the commission on the field that numerous wells were incapable of producing this amount. This would reduce the production to between 325,000 and 350,000 barrels daily.

225 Barrel Maximum

It was learned that 225 barrels daily will be the maximum allowed any well and the differences in the wells incapable of producing this amount will not be distributed among the wells capable of producing more than the allowable figure. Several of the wells have a daily potential in excess of 20,000 barrels.

Production in the field was variously estimated at between 750,000 barrels and 1,400,000 barrels daily immediately prior to the martial law shutdown.

Field Broke Market

The heavy production from the field, thrown on an already burdened market was generally credited with the collapse of the national crude oil price structure. Shortly before the martial law shutdown,

Sterling Wants More Expressions From Lawmakers on Cotton Plan

AUSTIN, Aug. 31. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling said tonight he would not call a special session of the legislature until he had obtained a more definite committment from members of the legislature on the plan of cotton acreage control they would favor.

The governor said he had received replies from 70 members. Of this number, 14 favored the "1932 cotton holiday" plan of Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana, approved by the Louisiana legislature, or cotton acreage reduction.

Only three favored the Long plan above any other; 39 were for reduction of 50 per cent in acreage; 15 had replied they favored a session without committing themselves to any plan; two were doubtful and 18 were against the session.

There are 150 members of the house and 31 senators. Sixteen votes in the senate could block any legislation.

Governor Sterling received a telegram from Gov. I. C. Blackwood of South Carolina stating the farmers of that state were strong for legislative action but that the call for the legislature had been withheld pending the action of Texas and Oklahoma. Governor Blackwood

Houston Pair Shot to Death At Breakfast Table as Radio Plays

HOUSTON, Aug. 31. (UP)—While a radio filled their luxurious apartment with strains of "The Anvil Chorus" at noon today, C. A. Jones and his wife, Mrs. Jane Jones, were shot to death. Police, believing the couple had been "put on the spot" learned that Jones was three times an ex-convict, and began seeking a Dallas man whom Mrs. Jones' father said "could tell all about it."

Apparently the Joneses were enjoying a late breakfast when shot down. Jones, about 30, was still breathing when officers arrived at the call of neighbors who heard shots. He was slumped in a chair near a table on which were breakfast dishes. Mrs. Jones' body was found just inside the entrance to the apartment. Both husband and wife were clad in pajamas.

Jones had been shot four times, and his wife three times. A pistol was found in another room, but it had not been discharged in some time and there was no trail of blood leading from it to either husband or wife.

Finger print records revealed that Jones had eight aliases and had been sent to the Texas penitentiary three times for burglary and robbery with firearms. He was sent to the penitentiary last in 1926, from Dallas, and had been investigated, at the same time, on suspicion of taking part in the $17,000 Jefferson Bank and Trust company holdup there.

ETEX FIELD TO REOPEN TODAY

State Holds Production To 225 Bbls. a Well

oil was being quoted in the field at as low as five cents per barrel.

The new order will be the first under the conservation statute enacted at the recent special session of the legislature, called by Governor Sterling when crude oil prices tumbled. Since the field has been closed down, the price of crude has rebounded rapidly, quotations on oil in storage ranging from 50 to 70 cents per barrel.

Court assaults will be made on the order as soon as it is issued, it was indicated. Two major oil companies laid the predicate for attacks on the order at the hearing when they read long lists of wells into the record and introduced testimony to the effect they could be produced in excess of 300 barrels daily without causing waste.

Under the new statute the commission is prohibited from considering anything except physical waste or its imminency in its orders. The statute expressly prohibits consideration of economic waste or market demand.

Court Protection

The statute prohibits a court from granting a temporary injunction against the order without a hearing. Under the old procedure, a temporary injunction could be obtained on an ex-parte hearing. This led to numerous injunction suits that tied the hands of the commission and permitted its orders to be violated with impunity.

The new law also requires persons seeking to enjoin the commission to post bond in the amount deemed necessary by the court to protect adjoining property owners against damage in the event the orders are held valid. Suits involving the commission also are given right of way in the trial and appellate courts, insuring speedy disposition.

A proposed order of Commissioner Neff whereby no one would be employed by the commission without the unanimous vote of the members was turned down. The order was aimed at stopping appointments by "political grace." It was brought out at the legislative investigation of the oil industry that appointments to positions with the commission were divided among the members.

Asks 20-Acre Unit

Neff voted for the order and Smith and Terrell voted against it.

S. A. Guiberson Jr., of Dallas, chairman of the East Texas steering committee, claimed to represent 95 per cent of the independent operators, said the committee sought an allowable of 300,000 barrels daily on a 20-acre unit basis.

He said production on a well basis would work a severe hardship on the "little fellow" and aid the large companies. A well basis will force extensive drilling, he said, predicting that within a few days there would be 2,000 producing wells in the field and 2,500 within 10 days.

WOLTERS PREPARES TO ENFORCE ORDER

KILGORE, Texas, Aug. 31. (AP)—In anticipation of an early reopening of the East Texas oil field, Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters today issued a general order with a view to expediting action when his instructions arrive from Gov. Ross S. Sterling.

The order, applying to the entire field which has been under martial law since Aug. 17, requires all operators to report to general military headquarters here not later than noon Wednesday all oil in lease storage. By keeping a record of these figures military authorities will be able to guarantee a careful check when wells are reopened to prevent any production in excess of the proration allowable fixed by the state railroad commission.

General Wolters ordered his staff to mail out the order tonight "if you have to stay up all night to do it."

The order read: "All operators in the military district of Rusk, Smith, Gregg and Upshur counties will, on or before 12 noon Sept. 2, report to military district headquarters in Kilgore the number of barrels of crude petroleum oil in lease storage, by lease and survey. Operators having no oil in lease storage will likewise report this fact.

"Until the military authorities have this information no well can be permitted to be opened under any plan provided by the state railroad commission or the order of the governor of Texas."

General Wolters issued his order after a conference with A. B. Capers, who will be the chief of the commission's proration staff in the field.

On the basis of reports from Austin that the proration order will permit 225 barrels daily production per well, the total daily production of the field will be in the neighborhood of 405,000 barrels a day when reopened.

General Wolters estimated there would be 1,800 producers in the field by Thursday. Drilling has not been interfered with during military occupation of the field.

Capers will have five supervisors to assist him in proration work, according to information received at military headquarters. There will be 20 other supervisors on various other tours of duty in the field.

Sterling Awaits Cotton Reports

said he was ready to call the legislature when these two states had acted.

Whatever action the governor might take was regarded as having significance in the nation and in the world, since Texas produces one-third of the American cotton crop and one-fifth of the world crop.

The governor suggested that farmers who have been deluging his office with requests for a special session direct their demands to legislators as the best method of obtaining results.

"I can call a special session of the legislature but I can't make the legislature pass a law," he said.

J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, predicted other cotton growing states would fall in line with whatever action was taken by Texas, in view of its dominance of the cotton market.

"Texas should be conservative in its action," he said.

BOARD REFUSES TO BUY COTTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (US)—The federal farm board will not buy any more cotton under any consideration, it was announced today by Carl Williams, acting chairman.

This declaration put an emphatic end to the plan of Senator George who proposed last week that the board buy half of this year's crop at 12 cents a pound, provided the farmers raise no cotton next year.

It was also an implied admission that the board's stabilization operations in wheat and cotton have been failures.

"The board has discovered and hopes the American people have learned that stabilization operations are only valuable in temporary emergencies," Williams said. "Such operations are useless in the face of continual over-production and continuous increases of surplus.

"The only remedy is reduced production which is in the hands of the farmers and no one can apply that remedy except the farmers themselves."

Williams said the board has been cushioning the farmers against price declines for two years and now has large holdings of wheat and cotton that are frozen on their hands.

Jimmy Doolittle To Seek Speed Record

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31. (UP)—James H. Doolittle announced today that he will attempt to better Frank Hawks transcontinental air speed mark when he flies east, probably Tuesday, in the Los Angeles-to-Cleveland race.

Doolittle said he planned to take off with the other race fliers, touch the wheels of his new speed plane to the ground at the finish line in Cleveland, and then continue on to New York without stopping.

Skeleton Dating Back To 3000 B. C. Found

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31. (AP)—Discovery in Persia of the complete skeleton of a woman, dating back to 3,000 B. C., was reported yesterday by the University of Pennsylvania museum. Eric Schmidt, head of the museum expedition to Demghan, Persia, unearthed the sarcophagus containing the skeleton surrounded by rich burial gifts which the museum said denoted existence of an advanced civilization at that time.

DEATH CLAIMS SIR HALL CAINE

royalties from America and England up to that time amounted to $450,000, the manager revealed, and it was said that the sales of his novels had produced an even larger income.

Sir Hall Caine was born May 14, 1853, at Runcorn, Cheshire, of mixed Manx and Cumberland parentage. At an early age he went to live with relatives on the Isle of Man where his boyhood, spent in a condition of poverty, considerably influenced his imaginative writings in later years.

His foster parents eventually sent him to Liverpool with the idea of making him an architect and he was educated with that object in view. He never practiced that profession, however, turning to journalistic work upon completing his studies, when he became a leader writer on the staff of the Liverpool Mercury.

Mere newspaper writing became so unsatisfactory to Hall Caine that it is related he petitioned for shorter working hours and a reduction in salary so that he might devote more time to novel writing. After six years in Liverpool he went to London on the invitation of D. G. Rossetti, with whom he lived and acted as secretary and companion to the poet-painter until the latter's death.

The islanders, proud of the history and traditions of their birthplace, were annoyed at the liberties which the author took with time and place. In "The Manxman," for example, he mixed 18th-century customs with the paraphernalia of the modern excursionist from Lancashire in a most happy-go-lucky manner.

Others of Sir Hall's better known works include "The Christian," "The Eternal City," "The Prodigal Son," "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," "The Bondman," "The Scapegoat," "The White Prophet," and "The Master of Men."

He wrote "Darby and Joan," as an original film story and in addition "The Christian," "The Manxman" and "The Prodigal Son" were filmed in Great Britain, while "The Eternal City," "The Deemster," "The Christian," and "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," were shown on the screen in the United States.

Aged Steeple Jack Clings to Ledge Two Hours After Comrade Falls

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 31. (AP)—A breaking scaffolding at the top of a 150-foot chimney tumbled one steeplejack to his death today but his 63-year-old companion escaped because he was able to face almost certain death for two hours without fear.

Gondolfo Di Primo, 40, and James Kemp, 63, had been working on the outside of the chimney of the Yawman & Erbe Manufacturing company's plant, and today had pulled themselves on the frail board flooring of their scaffolding to the very top when the ropes slipped.

Di Primo cried out in alarm and the next moment was hurtling through the air. He was dead when picked up on the ground. Kemp, warned by his comrade's cry, grasped a rope and instead of plunging outward from the chimney landed on a 10-inch ledge eight feet from the chimney's top.

The fire department was called out but the ladders fell far short of the spot where the man hugged the bricks. Planes were pressed into service and attempted to lower ropes to the prisoner but a stiff breeze frustrated this plan. While police stood about the base of the chimney holding life nets the coast guard arrived and went into action with a rocket gun.

At last a slender line was tossed over the chimney's top and Kemp, who by then had been balancing on his perilous wind-swept perch for two hours, cautiously reeled in the line and a heavier rope attached to it. A swing was sent up and seating himself in it the old steeplejack was lowered to the ground.

The man who had been helping with the ropes at the base of the chimney fell unconscious from nervous strain as Kemp was saved. But the aged man stepping from the swing walked unaided into the emergency room of the manufacturing company.

"I knew better than to let the thing scare me," he said. "I could have stayed up there a couple of hours more if necessary, because I wasn't nervous."

PROHI 'DECOYS' TO BE BANNED

Woodcock Frowns on Use Of Informers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Prohibition Director Woodcock said today he favored elimination of the use of paid informers by federal dry agents in every section where this practice could be abolished without disturbing federal dry law enforcement efforts.

The prohibition director's indication of his new policy followed a general order by the prohibition bureau last week banning the payment of any federal funds to women informer, and prohibiting their employment as "blinds or "decoys."

Woodcock said he believed the use of informers in dry law enforcement was declining naturally as agents became more efficient, but added that in some sections, such as the District of Columbia, agents and police believed their use necessary and the prohibition bureau paid the bill. Informers' pay, he indicated, ranged from between $5 to $10 a day.

A saving of $150,000 through economies in dry enforcement during the past year was announced by Woodcock as partly due to the elimination of informers and the more effective placement of agents together with cooperation by district attorneys to prevent agents appearing unnecessarily as witness.

The prohibition bureau's request for appropriations for the next fiscal year already has gone to the budget bureau, he said. But he would not disclose whether the sum requested was an increase or decrease from the $13,000,000 obtained by the bureau last year.

RAILROAD VET TAKES TO AIR

Retiring Engineer Takes Flying Lessons

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 31.(AP)—Retiring soon from the precise occupation of operating a railroad locomotive, Wyatt Warren Shortt, now 70 years old and eligible for a pension, plans to take up a slightly more exacting science—the vocation of "skyway engineering."

The veteran Santa Fe engineer soon is to become a pilot. He has passed the government physical examination for a private pilot and in another month will be taking ground school work here.

Passing the 70-year mark a month ago, Shortt became eligible for a pension after operating a Santa Fe engine on passenger and freight trains in Texas for the last 40 years and being with the railroad for more than 45 years.

"Too old to take up golf," he says, "so I think I'll take to the sky."

So a man who was firing a locomotive here when troops were stationed at Fort Concho—and who knew Judge Roy Bean, the famed "Law West of the Pecos"—is to learn about the most modern transportation methods.

While working on the Southern Pacific in Val Verde county, Shortt became acquainted with Judge Bean at Langtry. He tells a Roy Bean story which he believes has not been published before.

A steam shovel engineer, it seems, had a pair of shoes repaired at Langtry. He took them to a cobler, visited a saloon and when he came back had no money left to pay for them. But he took them any way, after an altercation with the cobbler.

Both were arrested and court was quickly "in session," the evidence heard and the engineer apparently guilty of assault.

Judge Bean ordered every one out of the combination court and barroom except the members of the jury.

"Now gentlemen," he said after setting up a round of drinks, "we've got to use common sense. This railroad man has no money and we have no jail for him. It ain't a hanging case. But, gentlemen, the cobbler has money. Now I wouldn't have it said this court ever influenced a jury, but I trust you gentlemen will act wisely," he concluded.

The engineer was found not guilty and the cobbler fined.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Aug. 31.—A good number of people from several communities attended a picnic at Lake Valley, east of Sunset, last Friday. Ball games were among the main attractions of the picnic. The games were between Lake Valley and Stony Point, and Lake Valley and Alvord teams. Lake Valley won every game played during the day.

Beneficial showers of rain fell here Friday night and Saturday. They put a sufficient supply of moisture in the ground for growing crops, the planting of fall gardens and to revive the grass in stock pastures.

A revival at the Sunset Church of Christ is making good progress and is being attended by people from all of the surrounding communities. The preaching is being done by Elder Garner of Amherst.

Mrs. Jim Harry, residing a few miles east of here, suffered a stroke of paralysis Friday evening and is reported as being in a serious condition. She has been in ill health for a long time.

A Holiness revival at Dewey, northeast from here, is being attended by large congregations. A foot-washing service Saturday night attracted the attention of many. The meeting is being conducted by Revs. Harvey and Woodie Huddleston of Marlow, Okla., and Rev. Mrs. McAdoo of Rush Springs, Okla.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31.(UP)—The board of equalization today raised the assessed valuation of eight public service companies and left the valuation of another the same as last year.

The Eason Oil company, Enid, Okla., was assessed $240,762, the same amount as last year.

The Sapulpa Gas company's valuation was increased from $75,000 last year to $78,570 for 1931.

The board boosted valuation of the Tidal Pipe Line company from $768,580 to $896,917 and the United Power and Light company, Oklahoma City, from $16,439 to $35,339.

The permanent assessment for the the Lincoln Utility company, Oklahoma City, was increased from $11,568 last year to $46,534. No protests were made.

American 'Entaglement' Inevitable, Berenger Says

GENEVA, Aug. 31 (AP)—The warnings of Washington and Monroe against "foreign entanglements" have lost their force, Senator Henry Berenger, former French ambassador to the United States, today told the committee formulating a constitution for a European economic federation.

"American entanglement in world affairs is now complete," he said, "the penetration of American capital since the world war has made a 'European bloc' impossible, and provincialism appears to be a thing of the past for continents as well as for nations."

Panhandle-Plains Fair Attracts Record Agricultural Exhibits

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 31.—There will be no sign of a depression in the agricultural building at the Panhandle South Plains fair Sept. 26 to Oct. 3, inclusive.

The building will be filled with agricultural exhibits showing some of the best products ever raised in Texas.

The county exhibit division with $1,275 in prizes and $200 for first place will have strong competition.

The community exhibits division for Lubbock county communities will likewise have many entries and strong competition. Two hundred dollars will be awarded in this division, $50 worth of trees going to the winner.

The general agricultural exhibit, for individual entries, is expected to be the largest and best in the history of the exposition. A great deal more interest is being manifested this year in this division.

A total of $1,756.50 is being awarded in the entire agricultural department.

A substantial portion of these premiums is to be awarded to entries in the individual exhibit class.

Twenty-four dollars will be awarded to winners in the division for cotton.

The grains and seeds division has $57 in prizes posted for wheat, oats, barley, rye, spelta, peanuts, cowpeas, sudan grass, alfalfa, sorghum, millet, milo, kafir, feterita, hegari, and seeded ribbon cane.

Mortgage Holder Sues to Halt Sale of Cattle for Back Taxes

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 31.—Efforts of Sheriff E. R. Young to collect more than 1,000 delinquent tax warrants, representing unpaid taxes from 1925 to 1930, has resulted in the filing of an application in district court here for a restraining order to prevent the sale of 40 head of cattle levied on last week under a tax warrant.

S. H. Cowan, Stillwater loan man, who is seeking the injunction, alleges that the sheriff levied on cattle owned by W. A. Gann, farmer living east of Marlow, to satisfy a tax claim of approximately $500. Cowan claims that Gann mortgaged the cattle to him prior to the levy and that the mortgage is a prior claim over taxes and that the levy is illegal unless the mortgage is paid.

Judge Eugene Rice has taken the case under advisement. The sale is set for next Saturday and Judge Rice said he would announce his ruling before then.

Sheriff Young said that if the contention of Cowan was upheld that he would have considerable difficulty in collecting delinquent taxes, as most personal property owned by the defaulting taxpayers is mortgaged.

Court action is expected also as the result of the sale last week of a 55,000-barrel crude oil storage tank to satisfy a tax warrant for around $3,000 held against the Amerada Petroleum company. Officers said other property of the company would be levied upon unless the back taxes were paid. The tank was sold to the Duncan-Wichita Falls Pipe Line company for $686.

SLAYER FIGHTS DEATH PENALTY

Harris Takes Appeal To Higher Court

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31. (UP)—A. M. Harris, 48-year-old Oklahoma City slayer facing death in the electric chair, carried his plea for freedom to the criminal court of appeals today.

Harris was convicted in the slaying of Ed Martin, Marlow, as Martin sat at the bedside of Mrs. Harris in University hospital, Aug. 17, 1930.

Harris pleaded "the unwritten law," charging Martin was trying to break up his home. Evidence showed a divorce already had been filed. The jury sentenced Harris to death. He is in death row at McAlester penitentiary but the execution date will not be set pending ruling of the appellate court on the appeal.

Season Finds Few Doves In Hardeman County

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Auf. 31.—Open season for mourning doves opens Sept. 1 with fewer of these birds in this section than for many years. Hunters say the nesting season this years has apparently been ideal and feed is plentiful, but the birds have not appeared in the large numbers of former years.

Some sportsmen say that too many gunenrs are able to get to the gentle slow-flying doves who cannot reach quail or ducks, and the inroads made on the dove crop each year greatly outnumbers the newly hatched birds.

BURK BOOSTS FARM TRADES

Goods to Be Auctioned In Meet Saturday

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Aug. 31.—A rodeo and farmer's trades day, expected to be the greatest event of its kind ever staged in North Texas, will be held in Burkburnett on Saturday, Sept. 5.

Farmers from far and wide will gather in Burkburnett, bringing produce of all kinds to be "swapped" or sold by auctioneers, who will perform the service free of charge. Oats, wheat, cotton, horses, mules, cows, hogs, etc., will be traded by the farmers for other commodities of which they are in need. Local cow hands will ride or "ride at" any animals brought in from the surrounding country for the rodeo.

The trades day grounds will be located on the corner of Avenue A and Fourth street, behind the Barrow-Grace Chevrolet building. Corrals, hitching racks, etc., have been provided for the use of large numbers of farmers expected to attend the rodeo. Any farmer with an oversupply of one commodity who is in need of another product will have an opportunity to trade with other farmers who have plentiful supplies of the materials of which he is in need. Auctions will begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

A repetition of the rodeo every month for the purpose of bringing traders together is being considered.

Gen. Hines Says Vets Need Work, Not Charity

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 31. (INS)—Employment, rather than additional aid from the government, is the greatest need of world war veterans, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, declared in an address before the national convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars today.

"I am sure every able-bodied veteran would much rather be gainfully employed than to receive help of any kind from the government or from any other source, but assistance is needed in obtaining such employment," said Hines.

"It is far more conducive to the maintenance of a man's self-respect, far more in keeping with our American traditions of independence of the individual and of the nation, to give him an opportunity to earn his way, than merely to provide some form of payment which he has not had the privilege of earning."

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 31.—George Brewer, one of Quanah's active golfers, says presents are usually "found" on one's birthday, but in his case the custom was reversed, as on his birthday Sunday he not only "lost" the golf game played on the Vernon links, but on the way back to Quanah lost his bag of clubs valued at more than $100. One of the clubs was later restored to him by a Quanah man who had seen a Vernon filling station employe knocking rocks with it and bought the iron for 75 cents. No trace of the remainder of the clubs has been found.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas has the largest shrimp shipping town in the world—Port Lavaca with annual shipments of 2,500,000 pounds of the delicacy; the largest spinach-shipping town—Crystal City, which shipped 3,729 carloads in 1930 and more this year; the largest helium gas plant—at Amarillo; the largest chili and tamale manufacturing plant—at Austin; the largest rice packing plant—at Beaumont; the largest single oil refinery—at Port Arthur; the largest custom smelter—at El Paso; the largest grain elevator—at Galveston—to enumerate only a few of its "largests."

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Texas farmers and truck growers are making major contributions to the production of new wealth in Texas, in the face of record low prices they are receiving for most of their products. . . . P. L. Miller of Farmersville, said to be the largest grower of Bermuda onion seed in the United States, is threshing 15,000 pounds of seed on his farm in the Winter Valley region for the growing of sets that have made North Texas black lands prolific producers of that crop. Three years ago when he began his experiments practically all the Bermuda onion seed planted in the United States was imported from the Teneriffe islands, and he has revolutionized the industry, onion-growers say, by supplying home-grown seed. . . . Brown county wheat farmers, with 25 cents a bushel offered for their wheat, are finding a new outlet for the grain, canning it and putting it on the market as a most palatable and nutritious breakfast food at 25 cents a can. Processed under the steam pressure canning methods, the food has only to be warmed to make it ready to serve. . . . Jacksonville reports over 50 carloads of fruit jars and tin cans received in Cherokee county this season for the canning and preserving of more home-canned fruits and vegetables than that county ever saw before, and the same is true in many other truck-growing counties.

Learning to Die

A GOOD soldier should know how to meet death gallantly; and it appears, from a recent United Press dispatch, that John J. Fitzgerald of Boston, formerly a soldier in the A. E. F., knew this as well as any soldier that ever lived—even though death did not come to him until nearly 13 years after the war ended.

Fitzgerald—in case you didn't see the story—lay in a veterans bureau hospital in Pennsylvania. Shrapnel wounds and gas had wrecked his body. He had only a fortnight to live, and he knew it. Also he had some $380 in ready cash.

So, a few days ago, Fitzgerald left his bed, dressed quietly, and went A. W. O. L. from the hospital. He went to Pittsburgh, with his cash in his pocket. There he made for a mission where the down and out were cared for.

Quietly, the ex-service man mingled with the jobless men who were living on charity. He talked to them and learned their needs. To one man he gave the price of a ticket home. For another he bought new shoes. For a third he bought food.

So it went. Presently he had just 75 cents left.

He went to a cheap rooming house, rented a room, and lay down to die. Death came, very speedily. His body went to the city morgue, and was identified just in time to prevent burial in the potter's field.

The great ones of the earth, after all, aren't the ones that give the rest of us the courage and faith that we need if we are to go on living. Those things come from the humble ones—the unnamed and unnoticed private soldiers, who prove that unselfishness and simple bravery can triumph over death and the fear of death. There is more encouragement in this little story about John Fitzgerald than in a dozen sermons or a hundred novels. Humanity that can handle its last hours as he handled his is not, after all, so very far below the angels.

Most of us do not like to think about death. We are afraid of it. But that fear can be conquered, just as this man conquered it—by thinking, not of one's own fate, but of the help that one can give to others. A soldier has to learn that lesson so thoroughly that it is a part of him. This Boston Irishman learned it, and when the test came he met it gallantly.

Need Old Hand Signal

NO ONE can drive very far on American roads these days without reflecting on the decline of an extremely useful custom—the custom of signaling with the left hand to the driver behind you whenever you are going to stop or make a turn.

For a time this custom was widely observed, and it was very handy. In the last few years it has been almost abandoned. Cars are equipped with stop lights these days, and the motorist probably depends on this flashing gadget to convey the information to the fellow behind him.

But the light can't do it all. It can't tell the next driver whether you are going to turn or stop, or whether you simply put the brake on for a second because you saw a speed cop in a side street. It helps, but it doesn't help quite enough. There ought to be a revival of the old hand signal. It would make traffic a good deal safer.

U. S. Intervention in Cuba

ALTHOUGH the Cuban revolt has proved more serious than early reports indicated it would be, the United States government has not yet given any indication that American intervention in the island's affairs is even being seriously considered at Washington; and there is encouragement in that fact for those who want to see more cordial feelings between the United States and Latin America.

The American government would have ample legal excuse for intervention, of course; but the act would create an abundance of ill-feeling in the republics to the south, no matter how good the United States' case was. It is far better to let the Cubans settle their own troubles—violently, if necessary—than to arouse more ill will by a new display of official paternalism.

Meeting Gun With Gun

THIS business of being an innocent bystander on the streets of New York seems to be advancing to the status of very unhealthy occupations.

New York has a lot of quick-on-the-trigger gangsters. To cope with them, the police have been ordered to be quick on the trigger, too. The net result is that when cop meets gangster bullets fly with a wild abandon, and anybody within the adjoining three blocks can consider himself lucky if he doesn't stop one.

For a long time it was Chicago that gave the nation an object lesson in the fearful plight a city can get itself into by tolerating its gangs. Now, apparently, it is New York's turn to present the lesson. So far the nation's leading city has been presenting it very graphically.

Leaders Arrive For Rubio's Annual Address

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31. (AP)—Military commanders and governors from all parts of the country were arriving today to hear President Ortiz Rubio read the annual presidential message at the inauguration of the new congress tomorrow.

The ceremony, first planned for the national stadium, will take place in the chamber of deputies as the result of refusal by congress to permit an open-air meeting in view of recent political disturbances and the difficulty of guarding the stadium against possible disorders.

Mexican Labor Law Provides Equality

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31. (AP)—Wages must be the same regardless of age, sex or nationality when the work performed is of the same quantity and quality under the terms of the national labor law just promulgated.

The law also provides against garnisheeing of salaries.

A blow is dealt to cabarets and liquor vending establishments where women or minors are employed. The law prohibits this class of employment and establishes penalties for offending proprietors.

Third Act

So we agreed at last to say goodbye,
For love was dead and we were strangely old;
A listless moon rode slowly through the sky,
And looked on us, austere and proudly cold;
I took your hand and held you close again,
And whispered words that meant so much before;
And, suddenly, we quite forgot the pain
That parting brings—and at your little door—
We kissed and clung—I brushed away your tears,
And smoothed your hair, and looked into your eyes;
We dwelt again on old departed years,
When we had made the town a paradise;
And though of course we both were insincere,
I think we did it rather well, my dear!

Rivalry

Lew Brown, one of the "Scandals" authors, was fretting because Mark Hellinger, a rival sketch-writer for the "Follies," had written a lukewarm line about the Brown skits. "What makes you think so?" we asked Brown.

"Oh," said Lew, "he wrote that he saw 'Scandals' at Atlantic City, but that he didn't think it ought to be criticized while the show still was out of town—in Atlantic City, and he would wait till the show played Broadway."

"Did you see Mark's sketches in the 'Follies?'" Lew was asked.

"Yes," was the retort, "but it would be unfair to criticize them while they're still playing on 6th avenue."

O, Mr. Wilstach

James Whelan's simile is swell—looka—"She was faster than a one week's vacation!"

A Slur?

It was during the premiere of the season's first show, "Three Times the Hour," and Harold Heaton, one of the better actors in it was the subject of discussion.

"That Heaton chap," remarked one of us, "talks exactly like Dudley Field Malone, the lawyer."

"Yes," replied Walter Wanger, "but he is hardly as good an actor."

Are Printers People?

Yesterday it was recorded here that at the dedication of the new Earl Carroll theater everybody concerned had to enter the house by walking under a ladder. Little did we suspect that ill luck would follow so soon.

Terrible confusion, however, in the seating accommodations is anticipated at the inaugural performance this evening. The printer, it appears, printed more tickets than there are seats, and many of them were sold.

The critics probably will be the only auditors who will be seated in their right pews, for their locations are on file.

And they drown sorrows!

Add Sillies

Observed over the bar of a West 49th street speakeasy: "Why do Santa Claus and Coolidge look alike?"

"I give up—why?"

"Because they both have beards except Coolidge who hasn't any!"

Novelette

He is one of the town's toughest characters. You've read about him a lot lately in the public prints.

He is having a mess of girl trouble, however. One of the "Vanities" babies has him a little dizzy. Because he was busy straightening out gang matters he assigned a handsome bodyguard to escort the girl. The bodyguard is too good-looking. And he is married!

Some person connected with the show (who was born with a police whistle in her mouth) informed the bodyguard's wife that the pair were carrying on plenty. The wife visited them at the seashore, in the surprice manner, and when she was finished sweeping the floors with the intruder, she informed the gang boss about her husband stealing his woman.

So there ought to be another murder in a day or two. They say, also, that the bodyguard looks better by candlelight anyhow.

Reminder

It is just as dangerous for a married woman to come home without rouge on her lips—as it is for a married man to be caught with it on.

Don't Wake Me Up!

(I'm Dreaming)

Hello Mr. Dreiser. I just saw you leave the Criterion where "American Tragedy" is playing. Like it? You did?—well, pow!...You mean, Ethel Barrymore, that that chap is your new beau? He's a dramatic critic? Mymymy!...What a headline that is—looka: "Harry Richman Finally Marries the Girl!"...Imagine!...Look! There's Earl Carroll at a rehearsal and he isn't wearing a smock!...Why, did you say? Because it made people titter? I'm glad you said titter...And, of all things! Here's Robert Garland giving Jack Pearl of the "Follies" a good notice! After all these years!...Mygahd! A first-night and no autograph askers!...Sardi's at dinner-time! And only people there you like to meet!!!" it again!

First-Night

The first First-Night of the 1931 season: John Anderson, the critic, is putting on tonnage. He used to be thinner than a Broadway promise...Percy Hammond has a new idea—white starched collars on soft blue shirts...That chap in the butler uniform carrying on things and taking them off so mysteriously in the new play is really Brock Pemberton's auditor. All year around he sits in a tiny office and juggles numbers...And that Heaton chap, they say, was one of the first cartoonists to make a comic strip when the Chicago Inter Ocean was a big paper...Doesn't seem like a typical first-night crowd—where's Fannie Hurst?—there's Fannie Brice!...George Jean Nathan's cravat has class...Wonder who that attractive girl is in the tiny red hat?...Gosh it's my sekkaterry!...No show, it seems, is complete without the line: "Pull y'self together, kid," which has been in almost every play since "Broadway"...Oop! There it goes

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberly Farrell, shiftless, young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Clair and Jack Maidon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night, he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtains a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire.

As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father.

Kim is restored to his old position which he had lost due to money irregularities. When his salary is increased, Mary Faith tells him to buy new clothes.

Mary Faith sees Kim walking with a girl from the neighborhood library. She accuses him of being a fast worker.

Clair Maidon tells Mary Faith that she should step out and be gay if she wants to hold Kim's affections. Kim again begins his visits to the Maidon flat.

Kim returns late one night, wet and ill. Mary Faith realizes he has been on a wild party.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Kim stopped then and looked at Mary Faith, clearly waiting for her to make some sort of answer. But she simply stood looking at him, silent and perplexed, with a look of pain in her deep eyes.

How could he come to her like this and casually tell her that he was through with her, tired of their marriage? How could he suggest that all he had to do was to pay her off, month by month, as if she were a pensioner, and that that would settle whatever debt he owed her and the baby? He was cruel and indifferent. She realized that, but it did not alter her love a bit, or lessen it.

"Jack and Claire Maidon have split up, and all she's taking is a third of Jack's salary," she heard him say. "She says she doesn't intend to make him pay through the nose all his life for the mistake they made in getting married. You don't expect more than half of my salary, do you?"

Claire Maidon! . . . The name leaped at her out of all the other things that he had just said. She heard nothing else. She needed nothing else but that name. It told her instantly why Kim was sitting before her now, calmly demanding a divorce—why he had been irritable and indifferent ever since the beginning of winter.

"Why didn't I know it?" she murmured.

"Know what?"

"That Claire Maldon's at the bottom of all this. . . . Wouldn't you think that I'd have guessed that some time or other during all these weeks when you wouldn't talk to me or come home to meals or pay any attention to the baby?"

She began to laugh suddenly. A bitter little laugh with a break in it.

"When I think of all the nights I've lain there on that couch wondering what was wrong!—Trying to tell myself that you were worried about your business, or that you stayed away from home so much because you were playing cards downtown with the men. Wouldn't you have thought I'd have guessed that it was because of some woman, as usual? Some girl in an office or a drug store—or some married woman like Claire Maldon!"

Kim stared at her in bewilderment.

"I hope you're not going to be dramatic about this," he said, with all a man's fear of a scene in his voice. "We can settle it quietly, can't we? And sensibly?"

"If you mean that we can arrange a divorce, my answer is 'No.'" There was no hesitation in Mary Faith's voice. "If I knew that you were honestly in love with her and that she was honestly in love with you, I think perhaps I'd let you go, Kim. But I don't know either of those things. The only thing I'm certain of is that Claire never will care very much for anybody but herself. And if you—"

"I don't see why Claire has to be dragged into this," Kim broke in violently. "I haven't said that I'm in love with her."

But a dull red flush crept under his blond skin, and he threw back his head defiantly, like a wayward boy who has been found out in some stupid deception.

"It just happens that I do think a lot of Claire, though," he added awkwardly, as if he were half-ashamed of what he was saying. "I wasn't going to tell you this—but you've asked for it, so here goes. I've been crazy about her ever since I've known her—"

"But that's not true, Kim!" Mary Faith cried. "You were in love with me when you asked me to marry you two years ago, and you knew her then. And you knew her two years ago when you were so infatuated with Janet McCune—and this fall when you had some sort of affair with that girl in the drug store. You got over those affairs, and you'll get over this one, Kim. You're like that. I don't say one woman is just the same as another to you, but almost. If there's anybody you're faithful to, you're faithful to me—in a way. You always do come back to me. Don't you?"

He wouldn't answer her. He stood looking at her for a minute or two longer, swinging his head from side to side.

"But even if you are in love with Claire," she went on, "you can't think entirely of yourself now. You have a son and you've got to stick to him. In a few years he'll be growing up, and I won't be able to do the things for him that a boy's father ought to do. I won't be able to tell him how to take a punch on the jaw in the schoolyard, or take him fishing, or explain baseball games to him—or do any of the things that your father should have done for you, if he'd wanted to make a man of you."

Kim's face flushed a dark angry red.

"I suppose you're telling me that I'm not manly enough," Kim said sullenly.

Mary Faith looked at him steadily.

"I think you'd understand fair play better than you do, if you'd been allowed to lead a regular boy's life when you were little," she said coolly. "You've told me, yourself, how you were tied to your mother's apron-strings, how you had to lie to her to get away with the other boys. . . . Yes, I do think you'd be more of a man, if you'd had a father to bring you up."

And all at once she was crying wildly, so that she could hardly hear the angry things he was saying to her.

"Kim, let's not quarrel like this," she sobbed. "We can talk this over in a day or two when we've both calmed down a little—"

"I've said everything I want to say," he cut in, "and I've made up my mind as to what I'm going to do. I'm clearing out, and the only way you'll get any money out of me is to sue for a divorce and ask the court to give you alimony. I've tried to be fair, and you've refused to let me be fair. From now on you can fight for what you want, understand?" And shaking with rage, he flung himself out of the flat.

"Well!" Amazed by the suddenness of the calamity that had befallen her, Mary Faith sank down on the rug before the fire, put her hands to her head and tried to think clearly. . . . It came to her gradually that the storm that had just burst had been gathering for a long time. All the last weeks the clouds had been gathering. . . . Weeks ago she ought to have seen what was happening and tried to stop it somehow. She ought to have gone to Claire and appealed to her. Reminded her that Kim had a little baby, as well as a wife and mother to support.

"But it probably wouldn't have done any good," she decided. Claire was just as selfish and spoiled as Kim was. She couldn't see Claire giving up anybody or anything that she wanted—

At half past six Mrs. Farrell came home, carrying an empty shopping bag and wearing upon her massive bosom a large bunch of lavender sweet peas. Mary Faith saw at once that she was laboring under some kind of powerful excitement. There was color in her usually pallid face, and she actually wheezed with excitement. What on earth could have happened to her, to whom nothing of importance had happened in so many, many years?

"M-Mary Faith!" Her voice shook and she gave a nervous little laugh. "Mary Faith, you'll never believe me—I'm going to be married!"

She turned and glanced toward the dining room. "Is Kimberley here? I suppose I ought to let him know first."

"He was here, but he's gone."

"Hmm—" She gave Mary Faith a sharp look. "He's on the catarampus again?"

"Something like that," Mary Faith answered.

"Well, I'm sorry he's not here. I'd have liked him to have my news first of all!" Triumph and pride glaimed in her eye. "Yes, Dr. Thatcher and I are going to be married in the morning—at his sister's house. And we're going to Florida for our honeymoon! My, I never dreamed of such a thing happening to me when I walked out of this flat this morning!"

She rambled on and on all evening. She was far too excited to settle down to anything, and Mary Faith did most of her packing. Only once did she come down to earth, and that was she came into Mary Faith's room to say good night.

"Doctor's house looks awfully bare to me," she said. "So I've decided to move most of this furniture into it when we come back from the South. . . . It's old stuff, but it's solid walnut and I can have it done over. You and Kim never did like it much anyway."

Mary Faith did not tell her that Kim had left the flat and was not coming back. She realized that Mrs. Farrell was gloriously happy for the first time in years, and she was not going to do a thing to shadow that happiness.

"I'll clean everything while you're away," she said, "and it will be all ready for you when you get back."

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

What are you going to do when you're through with school?" I heard some one ask a girl in her 16th year this morning. "What do you want to make of your life?" She did not know. "I think I will teach for a while," she said, "until I know just what I want to make my vocation." Poor pupils!

It has become the habit now for young people in high school to begin thinking of future careers and when they do not know just exactly what they wish to become, they feel they are lacking in purpose—forced into that idea because of remonstrating elders.

It is not quite so hard on the feminine sex as on the masculine. That branch of the human family considers that when its members become married they should at least cease careering. Lots of scandal comes when they do not.

All the dear old-fashioned folks who said a woman's real career is being a good wife and mother haven't passed into oblivion yet; though if you will take notice, when a woman with a husband gets a nice position that pays a good salary, he doesn't divorce her for not quitting it.

Modern as I am in my own views, I believe that a woman with children should bring them to years of maturity if she is able to do so without leaving her home. A mother's influence is worth more than words can say with growing children.

But the poor men; an added family only makes necessity for a proper career stronger. The more mouths to feed, the better paid the career should be—though I must say it is not always that way. Look at numerous poor ministers.

Man must be an unselfish creature to tie himself down for a woman and a group of children, anyway. If I were a man—for which I see little chance—I would think a long time before I would give up my freedom.

I wonder sometimes if all the young lawyers who are graduating will be able to do anything with the many unnecessary laws on the statutes. Just interpretation would be a boon to the world.

With as many doctors as are studying in proportion to the population, there's really no excuse for sickness. At that, I think the proper plan is to pay the doctor when one is kept well; let him pay insurance for illness.

Selecting a career is almost a career in itself. Men know exactly how women should manage their lives and women know better than men how the masculine sex could make life an almost perfect thing. Many theories are well worked out.

It has become so serious a thing in our family, that I hesitate at any time to question any one concerning a career. Old tombstones look good to me. "He fought a good fight. May he rest in peace."

U. S. PLANS NEW AVIATION AID

Addition Weather Reports To Be Furnished

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—The Chicago weather bureau was planning today to inaugurate an additional service to aviation in October, C. A. Donnel, principal meteorologist announced.

The new service will consist of summaries every three hours of weather conditions along the main routes, visibility, ceiling height, wind direction and velocity, etc., and what might be expected during the next three hours.

The summaries, Donnel said, are already supplied by bureaus of Cleveland, Omaha, Oakland, Salt City, Atlanta and Dallas—a service which consumes one-third of the annual appropriation of about $5,000,000.

The following routes will be covered by the Chicago forecasts: Chicago-Omaha, Chicago-Kansas City, Omaha-Cheyenne, Kansas City-Denver, Kansas City-Amarillo, Kansas City-Dallas, Omaha-St. Louis, Chicago-Evansville, Chicago-Cincinnati, St. Louis-Columbus, St. Louis-Tulsa, and St. Paul-Pembina, N. D.

Ceiling heights and visibility are the principal data desired by pilots, Donnel said. The ceiling height is ascertained by a new instrument called the clinometer, which employes a powerful light beam. In the daytime the ceiling height is learned by sending up toy balloons filled with hydrogen gas. The speed of these balloons is known, so that by observing when they disappear from view, the height of the ceiling may be ascertained.

Visibility is computed by observing fixed objects, the distances between which are known.

Murray to Fill Road Post Soon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31.(UP) —Gov. W. H. Murray will appoint a state highway engineer soon, Chairman Sam Hawks said.

The appointment will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of A. R. Losh who recently was named Oklahoma City manager. Losh has been attending to the chief engineer's duty pending appointment of a successor.

"This major appointment will be made personally by Governor Murray," Chairman Sam R. Hawks said.

The chairman said, however, the engineer's salary would be reduced. He did not say how much the reduction would be. The present salary is $12,000 annually.

It was reported that Charles Wilson, division engineer at Woodward, was being considered as a likely appointee for the post.

Nine Misdemeanor Cases Filed in County Court

Nine misdemeanor complaints were filed by the county attorney's office Monday, two alleging violation of motor vehicle laws, two charging vagrancy and narcotic law violations, and five naming aggravated assault as the alleged offense.

One man was charged with tampering with a motor vehicle, being accused by city officers of having begun operations upon a car parked near a revival meeting on Indiana avenue Sunday night. Theft of a casing was said to have been his apparent intention, the officers said.

A second defendant was charged with driving a motor vehicle on the public highway without proper brakes.

A man and his wife were charged with vagrancy and violating the state anti-narcotic law.

The five aggravated assault charges were taken Sunday by County Attorney L. V. Abernathy against five negro women accused of having combined forces against a sheriff's negress about midnight Saturday. The complaints were filed in justice court Monday morning.

Home Canning In Wichita County Features Report

Canning activities of Wichita county farmers and housewives featured a report made for the month of July by Miss Ethel Luise Webb, county home demonstration agent, to the commissioners court Monday morning.

The display of canned fruits, vegetables, etc., viewed by thousands in the City National bank during the past month was reviewed by Miss Webb in her report. She stated that the Long-Bell Lumber company furnished the shelving for the exhibit. The model pantry contains 630 cans and jars of food sufficient to provide for an average family over a period of five or six months.

On one day during the month, a community canning school was conduced in Burkburnett, according to the report. Corn, peaches, tomatoes, okra, carrots, squash, chicken, steak, roast and liver paste were among the commodities canned.

Miss Webb stated that during one week women in this county canned 107 cans of chicken in connection with the live-at-home contest.

The report of Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk, for July was received and referred to the county auditor.

The next meeting of the commissioners court will be on Tuesday, Sept. 8, it was voted, Monday being Labor day.

Ad Club to Resume Regular Meets Today

Members of the Wichita Falls Advertising club will resume regular meetings Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel in the form of a birthday party honoring Albert E. Kelly, past president and a director of the organization.

An elaborate program in celebration of the anniversary of Mr. Kelly's birthday has been planned under the direction of Lester Jones, it was said.

The club hereafter will meet regularly on the first Tuesday in each month.

Wichita Man Seeks Wife; Child Is Sick

C. H. Carpenter, Wichita Falls mechanic, sought the aid of officials and newspapers Monday in an effort to locate his wife, Mrs. Nettie Carpenter. Carpenter said he wanted to inform her of the illness of their 2-year-old baby.

The mother left the home here Thursday, taking with her a year old baby and a 12-year-old son. Carpenter said she weighs about 150 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes and her complexion is fair. Their home is on Front street.

Water District Picnic Program Arranged

Plans for the annual picnic for employes of Wichita County Water Improvement districts Nos. 1 and 2 are now being made, according to G. A. Remington, general manager.

The picnic is to be held next Saturday on the Remington farm, three miles east of Holliday on Holliday creek, and it was predicted that about 100 persons are expected to participate.

All employes of the district are invited, Mr. Remington said.

MOONEY ASKS ANOTHER TRIAL

Prisoner Claims Conviction Was Fraudulent

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 31. (INS)—Fourteen years after his conviction, Tom Mooney, who has been termed America's most famous prisoner, today filed suit in superior court here for a new trial.

Mooney was found guilty of murder in 1917 for complicity with Warren K. Billings in causing the San Francisco preparedness day bomb outrage in 1916 in which 10 persons were killed and score injured.

Mooney, now in San Quentin prison, contended in the suit today that his conviction was "fraudulently conceived and produced" through the connivance of the district attorney's office.

Chronic Bronchitis

Those, who have a tendency to catarrh, often develop chornic bronchitis. This trouble may also be the result of several attacks of acute bronchitis, or it may come from the irritation of gasses or dusts with those who already have a tendency to bronchial affections. There are, however, thousands of people with chronic bronchitis who have never been exposed to irritating gases or dusts, so that the fundamental cause in these cases is not exposure or any particular climate, but probably the presence in the body of toxins which are discharged through the bronchial tubes.

Whenever one has the chronic form of bronchitis, he usually has a remembrance of many coughing spells which occurred during the cold weather of previous years. The symptoms are somewhat similar to the acute form, except that there is not as much difficulty in raising the sputum. When chronic bronchitis exists over a period of time, there are always changes in the bronchial tubes, causing them to become thickened or in some cases even ulcerated. Often, too, the trouble is aggravated by diseases which affect the circulation, such as Bright's disease and heart trouble.

In the chronic form of bronchitis it is always advisable to use a short fruit fast in the beginning of the treatment. This helps to loosen up any mucus which has accumulated in the lungs or bronchial tubes and cleanses the patient's blood stream of any toxic substances which may be continuing to irritate the mucus membrane. Usually the fasting treatment aids the patient in overcoming the difficult breathing and wheezing so that within a few days he can start on the systematic health building exercises.

The treatments with the deep therapy lamp are very useful in bringing a greater flow of blood through the lungs and bronchial tubes. Other eliminative treatments, such as shower baths and skin friction rubs, are helpful as well as the use of hot applications over the chest and back, if the deep therapy lamp is not obtainable.

After the fast the diet must be very sarefully regulated so that the amount of acid forming foods is restricted to the minimum. The best results are achieved when the starches, sugars, and fats are temporarily entirely eliminated. Milk and cream should also be avoided for a time. Every effort should be made to build up the patient's general strength and vitality through systematic exercises, corrective treatments, sun baths, a non-acid forming diet, and other hygienic measures. Energy should not be wasted at parties or staying up late nights, but the endurance slowly increased through daily walks starting with short distances and gradually increasing the time and distance each day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question—A. Q. writes: "I walk with a crutch, and in this warm weather where the crutch rubs gets so very sore that I rub the skin right off if I walk much. I weigh 190 and put lots of weight on the crutch. What can I use to harden the fish under my rams?"

Answer—About the best method you could use for relieving the irritated places under your arm is to wash the areas with soap and warm water, and rinse with cold water, dry carefully, rub on some alcohol, and then dust with talcum powder, and use talcum powder frequently, especially when you notice any irritation.

Growth, Mole, and Superflous Hair

Question—Flora asks: "I have a small growth about a quarter of an inch around under my nose. It started in red like a pimple, but instead of rising like a pimple, it flattened out with a lump in the middle. The doctor says it may be a small cyst. How could it be removed safely? Is the electric needle a good way to remove the superfluous hair from the face? I have only five thick hairs on the face, one being in the center of a hair-mole. I pull them out with tweezers now. Is that a bad thing to do?"

Answer—You should have the growth under your nose treated as soon as possible as such things may develop into more serious trouble if allowed to continue. Any doctor acquainted with electro-therapy should be able to remove it. The manently remove superflous hair, electric needle is a safe way to per- It is not so expensive if you only have a few hairs to be removed. It does not hurt to pull the hair out with tweezers, but it will grow back again. As to the hair growing in the mole, you should have the mole removed electrically as it might be irritated by pulling the hair out.

Alfalfa Profitable On Hardeman Farm

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 31.—That alfalfa can be threshed and a fair profit made from the sale of the seed in Hardeman county has been demonstrated by O. O. Gilliam on on experimental tract on his farm three miles northeast of Quanah. Mr. Gilliam has a tract of about 30 acres of alfalfa each year for the hay, but this year left an acre to go to seed and threshed it.

From this one acre he gathered five and a half bushels of seed, and has the straw left for hay. Alfalfa seed sells for $8 to $10 per bushel.

Mr. Gilliam states that usualy a special attachment has to be bought for threshing alfalfa, but he made a workable attachment for the combine out of 50 cents worth of screen wire, and the threshing was a simple matter.

Several farmers in Hardeman county who live near Groesbeck creek plant alfalfa each year, but none has gone into it on a large scale since the closing of the big irrigation farm near Damsite. W. I. Tabor who lives near Goodlett in the western end of the county planted over 100 acres this year, and has a good stand.

Capture of Escaping Convicts Halts Break

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 31. (UP)—Officers today subdued two fleeing prisoners and prevented what they termed a plot at wholesale delivery of 130 prisoners in the Greene county jail when they found the pair after they had sawed their way out of their cells.

G. E. Stone of Tulsa, bank bandit, was felled by a blow from Sheriff Marcell Hendrix's gun and his companion, "Cockeyed" Jones, alleged robber, then surrendered.

Officers said Stone had a gun and Jones a two-foot two by four concealed in bed clothes they were carrying. Jailer Willey and Sheriff Hendrix caught them as they bore down on a trusty cook.

SPUDDERS LOSE FINAL WITH SHIPPERS IN TENTH, 6-5

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

If there is anything that's not news, it's the fact that the Houston ball club is still winning games—plenty of them.

But considered from another angle, it is news of the most readable sort. The usual thing for a club so far in the lead is a let-down. In the manner, alas, of last year's Spudders.

The Buffs are losing very few games these days, and when a defeat is inflicted it is because Skipper Schultz is using a young, inexperienced pitcher, or because one of the veterans experiences one of those off days.

It is our opinion that the Buffs, in maintaining their hustle and spirit despite the fact that the league pennant is virtually theirs, offer a pretty good argument for the honesty of the split season.

We don't hear the growls and expressions of disgust that invariably follow a first-half champion club that wilts in the second half.

This is no intimation that dishonesty in baseball itself prompts a first-half champion outfit such as the 1930 Spudders to hit the downgrade in the later stages of the race.

It is not dishonesty in the league or the game, but it is dishonesty on the part of the individual players. Usually they are capable of playing better baseball than that. Larry Bettencourt, for instance, a mighty slugger who ripped the fence boards the first half of the 1930 season, was simply not honest with himself on the frequent occasions that he fanned three and four times in a row in the second half. Maybe dishonesty is not the word. Maybe it was laziness. Maybe it was over-confidence.

Whatever it was, it is not apparent on this year's Houston club. They are out to win every game. There was never a club that was more deserving of a championship.

About Hunters

The dove and prairie chicken seasons open today. Those intending to journey to the Panhandle for the allowed four days of chicken hunting will experience for the first time in months the thrill of following bird dogs who know their business. There are few thrills that excel that of following a good dog through the brush. The excitement of watching the faithful worker follow up a scent, climaxing with the great moment when he goes down to a perfect point is well worth the expense of a trip.

Among the Wichita Falls hunters who plan a trip to the Seminole within the next few days in quest of prairie chicken is A. C. Ansley. Ansley has two fine thoroughbred bird dogs.

Those who cannot get away for a chicken hunt are anxiously awaiting the quail season. Several hunters are now taking their dogs to nearby fields for the purpose of ferreting out quail. There is no hunting, of course. The owners merely wish to get their dogs in trim, so they will be more efficient in their work when the season opens.

Rather Sour-castic

"The fans," of Electra. That's the way the letter is signed. This particular group of fans doesn't seem to be exactly riotous in their praise for the Electra Shavers. Their letter says it is rumored that Steve Franklin, ace of the Sullivan's grocery nine of Wichita Falls, is to pitch for the Shavers, and appended to the letter is the following "Ode to Mr. Franklin":

Mr. Franklin we welcome thee
To the Shavers' lineup with glee
We will watch the stands bellar
As you pitch them out of the cellar.

But pity to you, old dear,
For when the crisis is near
You will need some scoring room,
The infield will "faw down, go boom."

But if one should happen to stick
As if by miracle or by trick
Next day's paper will have to run
That fast fielding by the shortstop won.

Old boy, you will have to admit
Pitching for the Shavers is wholly unfit
Notwithstanding you are the berries,
You'll have to pitch no runs, no hits, no errles.

Bailey-Moline Gets Whipped

Our sandlot champions didn't last long with the Dallas Sure Best Bakers. But in losing two out of three games in the quarter-final series, and thereby losing a chance at the state amateur title, our boys have the consolation of knowing that it took a Texas league pitcher to eliminate them.

This Red Roberts that set the Hardwaremen down 9 to 2 in the first game of Sunday's double-header didn't exactly set the Texas league afire, but he was a fairly good relief hurler with the Fort Worth Cats the tail end of last season. He pitched against the Spudders several times with wavering luck, and was at least good enough to be used in the play-off series between the Spudders and the Cats.

True, he didn't last but one-third of an inning in that third game of the play-off, but the fact that he was even sent in was testimony that he had lots more stuff than the ordinary sandlotter.

Maybe if Bailey-Moline had been fortunate enough to pick up a Texas league pitcher, they would be in the state race, too.

Cubs Owner Hopes Wilson Is Ousted

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—Owner William Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs today said he "hoped that Hack Wilson will not be a member of the Cubs next season." He said the wish was a personal one, and that President William L. Veeck and Manager Rogers Hornsby would be permitted to do as they think best in the pudgy outfielder's case.

The owner of the Cubs said he liked Wilson personally but he did not want a man on his club who failed to deliver. He pointed out that Wilson, who batted around .360 last season and set a new National league record of 54 home runs, was batting about 100 points below his 1930 figure, and had hit only 13 homers.

Indians Open Final Series Today; 'Two-Bit' Bargain Offered Wednesday

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

The breaks were plentiful for both teams, but the Beaumont Exporters showed more facility in taking advantage of them, and the Spudders yesterday afternoon lost a hard-fought contest that was decided in the 10th inning, 6 to 5.

Izzy Goldstein and Dick Florrid went the long, long route and battled on about even terms as the lead changed hands time after time. Twice the count was deadlocked, the last time in the seventh, when the Spudders pushed over their fifth tally after Beaumont had scored in their half of the inning to break a previous deadlock. Old Pound 'Em Paul Easterling was the big boy at bat for the Shippers. His home run with Taylor aboard in the fifth tied the score for the first time; his single in the seventh put the Shippers ahead; and he scored the winning run in the 10th after he had been given a life on Euller's boot of his grounder. Euller's misplay had much to do with the Spudders' loss.

The Spudders fought bravely in the 10th, getting the sacks loaded with one out, but the golden opportunity went up in smoke when Bloxsom hit into a double play.

And so, winners of three games out of four in their last stand at Spudder park, the Beaumont boys left to be seen no more this year. Today the San Antonio Indians are here on their last invasion.

The Spudder offices announced that the three-game San Antonio series would be concluded in a double-header Wednesday, when fans of this section will be offered the best bargain of the season. The admission for the twin bill will be 25 cents, the ticket to be good for any seat in the park except those boxes reserved by holders of season tickets.

Thursday will be an off-day as the result of the double-header. Friday the team plays in Galveston.

Foes Take Lead

The Shippers scored two runs in the first inning, but Florrid could have done a lot worse. Taylor singled. Schuble fanned. White beat out an infield hit to second, and Taylor slid into third safely. On Easterling's infield out Taylor scored. Fritz then plastered a hit through the box, scoring White. Hughes and Holley walked in succession to inundate the bases, but Florrid pulled out of this deeper hole by striking out Wise.

The Spuds managed to score one in their half. Gerken walked but was forced at second by Stanton after Allday had hoisted to center. Badgro doubled to center and Stanton scored. Bradbury rolled out, short to first.

Wise Injured

Florrid steadied in the second and retired three in order. Bloxsom doubled in the Spudder half but got no further. Catcher Wise of Beaumont was painfully injured when Euller's bat tipped his fore finger but he stayed in the game. But in the next inning, the same finger was tipped by Gerken's bat, and the plucky Beaumonter was forced out of the game. His finger bled profusely. Lorbeer replaced him. In the last of the third, the Spuds took the lead. With one out, Allday beat out an infield hit to short, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Stanton's triple to left center. Badgro beat out an infield hit to second, scoring Stanton. Bradbury fanned and Fuss flied to center.

The Shippers didn't threaten either in the third or the fourth. In the last of the fourth they muffed a perfect chance for a triple play, with the result that the Spuds scored again. Bloxsom walked and took third on Euller's single. Florrid hit into a double play, pitcher to short to first, and Bloxsom slid in home safe under Fritz' high throw from first. Gerken popped to second for the third out.

They Tie Score

The Shippers tied the score in the fifth. Taylor singled and swiped second. The next two went out, but Easterling pounded one over the left field wall, scoring Taylor ahead of himself. Fritz singled to right. Hughes did too, but Fuss, Spudder right fielder, heaved to third to force Fritz for the third out.

In the first of the sixth, Holley beat out an infield hit to short, and got to third on two infield outs, but Florrid tightened and fanned Taylor to retire the side. In their half the Spuds went down in order.

The visitors resumed the lead in the seventh. Schuble walked and Joyner White, the fleet of foot, beat out a bunt toward first. Easterling singled to left, scoring Schuble, White taking third. Easterling went to second on a wild pitch. Fritz hit a high infield fly which Bloxsom caught behind second. He then pegged to Bradbury to retire White in a pretty double play. Hughes filed to left.

It's Tied Again

The old game grew intense in the last of the seventh, when the Spuds scored to knot the count for the second time. With one out, Florrid walked and took second on Gerken's single. Allday forced Gerken at second but Stanton doubled against the 343-foot yard sign on the left field fence and there was an argument about whether the sign is considered a part of the fence. The umps ruled it was, and no home run was allowed. Badgro was walked purposely, filling the bases, but Bradbury forced Stanton at third, Schuble unassisted.

In the eighth, Florrid set the Shippers down in order. Goldstein was just as considerate of the Spudders in their half.

The Shippers failed to score in the ninth. Taylor grounded out, third to first. Schuble was thrown out tsealing. Bradbury to Allday. The Spuds likewise failed to break the tie. Florrid rolled out to first, Gerken fanned, and Allday lined out to left.

The Winning Run

The Shippers scored in the tenth. Easterling got a life on Euller's boot. Fritz walked. Hughes bunted toward the box and all hands were safe when Florrid tried to get Easterling at third. Holley forced Fritz at third, Euller unassisted, Easterling scoring. Lorbeer hit into a double play, short to second to first.

The Spuds got the breaks in their half. Stanton walked. Badgro bunted and both runners were safe when the pitcher tried for Stanton at second. They advanced on a wild pitch. Bradbury fanned, Fuss was walked intentionally to load the sacks. The stage was all set, but the boys didn't take advantage of it, for Bloxsom hit into a double play, pitcher to catcher to first.

DIZZY GETS PLAYER AWARD

Buff Ace Named Most Valuable Player

HOUSTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, star right-hand pitcher of the Houston Buffs, was picked by Texas league baseball writers today as the circuit's most valuable player.

On Labor day when Beaumont plays here, President J. Alvin Gardner of the league will present Dean a check for $100 and a scroll setting forth the honor paid him.

Dean received a vote of 33 points, according to Ralph Anderson, sports editor of the Houston Press, commissioned by President Gardner to tabulate the vote of the baseball writers in the eight cities of the league.

Carey Selph, Houston second baseman, was second with 15 points.

Dean and Selph were the only players named for first place. The sport writers of six cities gave first place to Dean, while Selph was first choice in two cities. Dean received one second place vote, while Selph received two third places and one second place vote.

Ray Radcliff, hard hitting Shreveport right fielder, was third in the balloting with six points; Dick McCabe, Fort Worth pitcher, was fourth with four points; while Eddie Taylor, Beaumont shortstop, was fifth with three points.

Other players to receive votes were Stebbins, San Antonio; White, Beaumont; Stanton, Wichita Falls; Engle, Fort Worth; Medwick, Houston; April, Galveston.

FERRELL LEADS CHARGE

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—Wesley Ferrell personally led Cleveland to a 15 to 5 victory over the White Sox in the first game of the series today. Ferrell held the Sox to six hits, but as good as his pitching was, it was far from being as sensational as his batting. In racking up his 18th victory of the season, the Indian right-hander slammed out two home runs and a single, batted in five runs and scored two himself. Score:

200-Pound Tackle Prospect Joins Coyote Squad

Former Fort Worth Lineman Seeks Berth Here

By BILL JENKINS

Coyote prospects for 1931 were given a material boost Monday when Harry Lucius, 200-pound giant from Central High school, Fort Worth, lunged up to Barry Holton and asked when practice would start.

Questioning revealed that Lucius, although a player of but one year's experience, played in most of the practice and conference games with Central High last year at the tackle position. Central High, guided by Coach Winkleman, has ruled the Fort Worth territory for years. Lucius was out for spring training this year at Fort Worth, and so will be in good shape at the start of training here.

Coach Holton, in a preliminary examination, could find no indication that Lucius will be ineligible to play here his year. His father, who runs a grocery store, moved to Wichita Falls about a year ago. However, final announcement of the bulky prospect's eligibility will await the transfer of his credits here from the Fort Worth school.

Rated as Senior

Lucius scholastically is rated as a senior. He is 17 years old, weighs 200 pounds au naturel and is a little more than six feet tall. Should his eligibility be established, and his performance in the training period warrant it, he should team well with Max Sepkovitch, last year letter man, at the tackle positions, Coach Holton said.

Training starts at 9 a. m. Thursday. This, according to the egregious Barry Holton, head coach of the school, does not mean 8:59 or 9:01 a. m. Lucius, the newcomer, was properly impressed with this fact, and Coach Holton desires that other members of the squad be likewise well informed, for equipment will be issued at that hour. Following there will be a talk by H. D. Fillers, superintendent of city schools. Then will come the first workout, in the cool of the morning. A blackboard drill will follow, and then the hopefuls will be allowed two hours to disport in the knife and fork league.

It has been arranged that players who live far away from the school may have their lunch (dinner to some of us) at the school building. Those living in easy distance, however, will be allowed to go home for their eats.

No Sleeping Quarters

The players this year will not sleep in the usual quarters at the school. In former years, the squad was billeted in the gymnasium. In doing away with this practice Coach Holton said he would place each player on his honor to keep reasonable hours. (None of these midnight dates, you young scoundrels!)

Each day during the practice season a regular routine will be followed, morning and afternoon—an early morning drill, followed by the skull practice. In the afternoon, skull practice again, and then, in the cool of the late afternoon, another field drill.

The locker rooms in the school building have been completely renovated. New lockers have been provided. And Monday Coach Holton ordered new apuipment, this to be issued shortly before the first game of the season. This, incidentally, will be Sept. 18, with the practice foes the Temple, Okla., Tigers.

Stories of the excellent condition of the playing field in the rear of the school building have been published in the newspapers. It takes close inspection to tell the old gridiron from a golf green. That is, compared to what is was last year.

A wad of about 100 candidates is expected to be on hand Thursday morning. Eligibility cards, to be received from school officials Thursday morning, will be the only admission ticket to the camp. After the first few days, however, it will take more than an eligibility card to hold one's own in the race for the honor to represent Wichita Falls High school this year on the gridiron.

Houston Buffs Blank Cats, 4-0

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31. (AP)—For seven innings Bill Harris pitched great ball, but in the eighth his defense wavered a little and he followed suit in the ninth for the Houston Buffs to romp home with a 4 to 0 victory in the fifth and final game of the series here tonight. It also gave the Buffs their farewell stand of the season against the Cats, 3 games to 2. Charley Breeden opposed Harris. Score:

Dove and Chicken Seasons Open Today

New Hunting and Fishing Licenses in Effect

Gentlemen of the rod and gun were prepared today to open a new fiscal year in the realm of their favorite sports, the dove and prairie chicken seasons opening simultaneously with the expiration of hunting and fishing licenses issued last year.

Local hardware and sporting goods stores, and Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk, reported a fairly steady demand for the legal documents necessary for another season's fling in the wide open spaces. Huntsmen, of course, dominated the picture and from the volume of business reported by dealers in guns, shells and other hunting equipment, Wichita county will be well represented this year in the ranks of the dove and chicken hunters.

The dove season includes September and October, while the chicken season is a brief affair, lasting only four days, through Sept. 4, throughout the state except in Wheeler and Collingsworth counties, where there is no open season on the fowl. Several parties of Wichita Falls hunters were reported en route to Seminole, Texas, and other choice spots near the New Mexico border, where the chickens abound. They are scarce in this territory.

Pre-season foragers in outlying fields predicted a plentiful supply of doves this season, assuring plenty of sport for those unable to make the long journey to the chicken hunting grounds.

To many hunters, the dove and prairie chicken seasons are mere warming-up periods preceding the duck and quail seasons. The duck season, curtailed to one month all over the United States by President Hoover recently, will open Nov. 16 and last through Dec. 15. The quail season opens Dec. 1 and expires Jan. 16.

Resident and non-resident hunting, fishing and trapping licenses expired at midnight last night. New ones may be obtained from the county clerk's office, sporting goods stores, or game wardens at the following prices:

Resident hunting license, $2; non-resident hunting, $25; artificial lure license, $1.10; non-resident fishing, $5; five-day fishing, $1.10; resident trappers, $1.10.

Alvin Gardner Boomed as President Of National Baseball Association

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31. (AP)—J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, was suggested today for the presidency of the National Association of Professional Baseball Players.

Ted. W. Robinson, president of the Fort Worth baseball club, said he would go to the national baseball meeting in New York in December prepared to fight for the election of Gardner.

"The minor leagues are facing hard years," said Robinson. "Unless some one steps in and takes an active part in holding them together, many will be unable to start next year. Therefore, I'm going to the national meeting in December, prepared to fight for the election of Gardner as president.

"I haven't a thing in the world against Mike Sexton, present president. In fact, I'm in favor of retiring Sexton with pay. He's served the minor leagues well, but he isn't able to take the active part that a younger man would.

"Gardner has made the Texas league a wonderful president in his two years as its head. He isn't directing the league for the money that may be derived. He doesn't need that. He's doing it because of his love for baseball, a game that he's always held close to his heart. . . .

"As president of all of the minor leagues, Gardner would be of even greater service. . . . "

"THANKS, TED," SAYS TEXAS LEAGUE HEAD

Commenting on the suggestion of Ted Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club, that he be nominated as president of the National association of Professional Baseball players at the winter baseball meeting, J. Alvin Gardner, Texas league president, said last night:

"I would not think of running against my good friend Mike Sexton, present minor league head, unless I had reason to believe he intended to resign. He has served baseball faithfully.

"I am deeply grateful to Mr. Robinson for honoring me with his suggestion. However, there are many great baseball men who undoubtedly would merit more consideration than I. If Sexton is to vacate the post, it seems to me that William G. Bramham, president of the Piedmont and Sally leagues, and a very learned lawyer, would be his logical successor. Also, Tom Hickey, president of the American association, and George Belden, president of the Minneapolis American association club, should be given serious consideration."

Mr. Gardner said that in the event of his election as national minor league head he would maintain his office in Wichita Falls.

GIANTS DOWN BRAVES TWICE

Fitzsimmons and Mitchell Turn in Wins

BOSTON, Aug. 31. (AP)—Fred Fitzsimmons and Clarence Mitchell pitched the New York Giants to a pair of hard-earned victories over the Braves today, 3 to 2 and 4 to 3, the second going 10 innings before Mel Ott drove Bill Terry across with the winning run. Fitzsimmons let the Braves down with six hits in the opener while his mates were collecting eight off Fred Frankhouse, who forced in the winning run in the ninth by walking Eddie Marshall with the bases loaded. NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (AP)—Cotton was lower today. Prices reached the lowest levels of the day in the late trading. December sold off to 7.14 and closed at 7.15 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 25 to 26 points.

Declines in stocks and wheat may have been reflected by some Wall street and western selling, while Liverpool and the continent were credited with some of the early selling, and according to some observers there was a little more southern hedging late in the day. October sold off to 6.94 and March to 7.45 and the close was within a point of the lowest.

Except for little spurts of activity from time to time, and a little more toward the close, trading was quiet during the day and the market was said to be waiting for fresh developments or for a better line on the end-August crop reports.

Liverpool cables attributed the decline in that market to hedge selling and liquidation and said the market for cotton cloths in Manchester was inactive with buyers cautious. Exports today 24,248, making 195,777 so far this season. Port receipts 16,735. U. S. port stocks 2,742,064.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31. (AP)—Cotton prices again moved downward in today's moderate trading.

Liverpool cables were lower than due at the start and as a result the market opened 4 to 5 points down. Prices continued to ease off during the morning owing to lack of support from trade or investment buying, and there also was a marked falling off in covering by shorts. Moreover, stocks were somewhat easier. Prices gradually eased off with only insignificant rallies until after mid-session the level of values was 21 points under Saturday's close. The approach of the next government forecast is beginning to cause hesitation among traders.

The market continued to ease off in the late trading making new lows at the end 24 to 25 points under the previous close. Weakness in the stock market and hedge selling influenced the decline. The market closed barely steady showing net losses for the day of 24 to 25 points.

Liverpool came in 4 penny points worse than due and private cables said there had been hedge selling and liquidation. Manchester cabled that the cloth and yarn markets were inactive.

The additional bonds have been so selected that the smaller and larger averages, kept experimentally for some time, have run almost exactly parallel. While the larger average is expected to make little, if any, immediate change, it is expected to prove more sensitive in the long run.

Speculators Turn Glumly From Boards As Stocks Dive to Lower Quotations

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. (US)—On a turnover of 700,000 shares, the stock market today slipped to lower levels, although any significance which might be attached to the price tone is immediately canceled by the limited volume of transactions.

From the speculators' viewpoint, the market performance was rather discouraging, since it had been the hope of the bull forces that the strength of the closing markets of last week would be maintained. Also, there was a rather important testing point reached for the purely technical speculators, who were awaiting the market's action at the peak prices of former uptrend. Many leading issues backed away from these former peaks. Nevertheless, there was a tendency to disregard the day's price movements as part and parcel of the to-be-expected backing and filling area until the market more definitely establishes a trend.

The most influential week-end development was the government offering of upwards of a billion dollars of bonds and treasury certificates, and attempt was made to place a bearish interpretation on the news. There is no question but that the offering comes sooner than expected, and the size of the financing also is higher than preliminary estimates, but apparently the treasury is anxious to consummate its immediate needs in one lump operation. There was a confused reception of the financing, the bearish viewpoint leaning to the emphasis placed on the sizeable governmental deficit.

From the strictly stock market standpoint, there was greater significance to the well-founded rumors that Great Britain had mobilized a half-billion dollars in American securities for possible use during the crisis preceding the $400,000,000 credit. Far-seeing American interests had weeks ago expressed concern over such a development possibly leading to heavy selling but if the English financial situation improves further this danger may be entirely removed.

Concentration of trading interest was evidenced by the fact that 15 most active issues accounted for more than half the day's total trading. Particular pressure was evident against Shattuck, Montgomery-Ward, American Can, Westinghouse, Purity Bakeries, 17 stocks making new lows for the year.

Selling of Shattuck was attributed to an investment trust liquidation, but one of the leading statistical services encouraged some buying of the stock by expressing belief it has entered an attractive buying area. Shattuck has always proved one of the leading "prosperity" stocks.

Westinghouse was affected by renewed doubts concerning its dividend. The same was true of Purity.

Montgomery-Ward and Sears-Roebuck were both heavily sold by speculators on official announcement that their merger negotiations are "definitely off." The denial came as somewhat of a surprise in view of the repeated official denials that any consolidation was even being considered. Buying of both stocks, however, was only partially based on the merger prospects; long-pull demand primarily being attracted by belief both companies have complete control over expenses and will show improvement in earnings unless general conditions take a drastic turn for the worse.

Railroad shares were in supply but not particularly weak. Nickel Plate slumped to a new low, as did Southern railway preferred. Many railroad dividends come up for consideration in the near future and are likely to be lowered. New highs for the year were established by three issues two of which reflect pool operations. Endicott Johnson, the third to reach a new high, was favored by relatively high rate of operations in the shoe industry.

Additional evidence was forthcoming today that some of the hitherto most powerful bear leaders have of late virtually withdrawn from the market. One of the greatest of the bear pools has broken up because of the difference of opinion among its members concerning profit-making possibilities on the short side from now on.

This pool, however, made a colossal fortune out of the bear market, and was one of the principal factors in the weakness of a great many stocks. Its members are now divided in their opinions regarding the market, with none of them an outright bull, but at least a few doubtful of vast profits to be made immediately out of the short side. At least one participant has been actively engaged on the constructive side of late, although his operations have been mainly of the option variety.

The exceedingly wealthy capitalist to whom reference was made here last week as covering his short line was one of the two master minds of the great bear pool.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31. (AP)—Fair demand was reported today for wheat and grain sorghums on the cash grain market but other commodities were slow. Exporters were bidding 44 to 45c for wheat delivered Texas gulf ports.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis delivered gulf export or group three points:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 48@49½c; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein, 49½@50½c; 13 per cent, 50½@52c; 12 per cent, 51½@53c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 45@47c; No. 3 white 48@50c; No. 2 yellow 56@52c.

Oats—No. 2 red 23@24c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 76@80c; No. 2 kaffir 77@80c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 31. (AP)—Wheat prices tottered uncertainly today as persistent liquidation by discouraged holders drove quotations steadily downward to the lowest levels for the current crop. All deliveries were affected, with September establishing a new all-time low of 45c a bushel, the lowest price any future delivery ever sold at on the board of trade. Cash wheat sold for 45c a bushel in October, 1852. The December delivery crawled beneath the 50c a bushel mark, leaving only the deferred March and May contracts above. Corn was erratic and weakened because of uncertainty over the deliveries that probably will be made on September contracts tomorrow.

Wheat closed weak at slightly above the day's bottom figures, ⅝@1¼c below Saturday's close, corn finished mixed, ¼c lower to ⅛c higher, oats ⅛@½c off, and provisions unchanged to 35c decline.

World shipments for the week totaled 16,352,000 bushels, with on passage stocks decreased 960,000. Advices from Germany placed the 1931 crop yield at 168,845,000 bushels, compared with 139,300,000 last year. Estimates on Germany's import needs this season were placed at 4,410,000 bushels, against 31,164,000 last year and 79,528,000 in 1928-29. Unofficial estimates on the size of the 1931 Canadian crop in the three prairie provinces were 225,000,000 bushels compared with 374,000,000 harvested last year. The department of agriculture said that Russian harvest operations were about 65 per cent completed, with every indication of a much smaller crop than a year ago. Present stocks offered for export come from the excellent crop in the Ukraine.

Corn turned weak after scoring a brisk early rally. Free selling met the advances, but there was considerable commission house buying on the setbacks, as well as some short covering. September corn was extremely erratic with a range of around 3c.

Oats and rye were unsettled with other grains, bullish crop news being ignored.

Provisions were weak with grains, despite an advance in hog prices.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept. 44⅞; 46¼@⅜; Dec. 49⅛@½; 50¼@⅜; May 54@54⅛, 55¼. Corn, Sept. 40¾@45⅝; Dec. 38⅜@⅝, 40⅛; May 43⅛, 45¼.

BERLIN MAKES GRAIN LOANS

Government Backs Advances on Stored Crop

BERLIN, Aug. 31. (AP)—The government has moved to alleviate the economic difficulties of the farmer by placing into operation a scheme for lending money on stored grain, thus slowing down the flow of grain into the market and giving the market a chance to digest current offerings.

Effective today, farmers holding grain in excess of their needs and desiring to hold on for better prices may store it in warehouses or on their farms under bond, the government advancing 50 per cent of the current price by certificates negotiable for loans at 4 per cent interest. Provision is made also for additional loans on a government receipt for the stored grain.

Under this plan the farmer may realize 75 to 90 per cent of the value of his grain without putting any additional strain on the market. It will give him the money he needs to pay his taxes and meet his farm pay roll.

Regulations dealing with the possibility of exporting Germany's export wheat also have gone into effect. Under this plan exporters of wheat in the present low priced market will be granted certificates entitling them to import a similar amount at a nominal tariff fee whenever they feel that a break in the market warrants importation.

Russia has the largest canal in the world. Starting at Leningrad, it reaches the frontier of China, and has a total length of near 4,500 miles.

Court Grants Injunction Against Enforcement of Peddling License

By agreement of attorneys representing the several defendants in the case, Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court Monday morning granted a temporary injunction restraining Wichita county officials from enforcing the recently enacted peddling license bill pending the outcome of litigation already inaugurated elsewhere to determine the constitutionality of the measure.

County Attorney L. V. Abernathy Sheriff Perry Browning, County Tax Collector Arthur C. Howard and Sam B. Spence, district attorney, were named as defendants in the petition filed last Friday by Wayne Somerville on behalf of local persons affected by the new statute.

It was stated to the court Monday by Mr. Abernathy that numerous other suits already have been filed in various counties, and that one action has been filed in federal court. Since the attorney general's department did not wish to send a representative to each such seat of litigation on the law, Mr. Abernathy said, local officials are willing to wait until the status of the measure has been established elsewhere.

The peddling license bill imposes both a state and county license fee upon any person peddling merchandise. The tax is on a sliding scale, according to the population of the county.

The state tax ranges as follows: Motor vehicles, $5 to $20; horse-drawn vehicles, $3.50 to $10; food peddlers, $2.50 to $5. The county tax in each case is half of the amount of the state tax, and is payable in addition to the state fee.

COUNCIL HEARS LIBRARY PLEA

Growth of Institution's Service Is Told

Growth of the service rendered by the Kemp Public library during the past eight months was reviewed and its present financial requirements were outlined before the city council Monday night by a committee representing the library board.

With Walter D. Cline acting as spokesman, the six representatives of the library presented a plea for the maintenance of its present budget if such a policy could be followed by the city in view of the general budget reduction now being effected.

According to Miss Lucia Powell, librarian, the local institution has 25,000 volumes, instead of the 40,000 volumes stipulated as normal by library standards for a city of this size. With the 25,000 books on hand, she said, the circulation in 1930 was 153,000. This is approximately the circulation stipulated as standard for a stock of 40,000 volumes, Miss Powell said.

Maintenance of branch service in two outlying portions of the city increases the library's circulation, it was explained. Miss Powell said that 800 books daily are distributed and 800 returned, on each of the two days weekly on which the branch stations operate. Mr. Cline, and others of the committee, declared that the proposed reduction in budget for the library would compel a discontinuance of this service, as well as making the purchase of new books impossible for a considerable time. The council took the matter under advisement.

Aside from Mr. Cline and Miss Powell, the committee present consisted of Mrs. J. A. Richolt, Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, and George Thorburn.

Following the announcement made last week that the city tax rate would be $1.40 for the year 1931, the council instructed City Attorney Thelbert Martin to prepare an ordinance setting such a rate. It will be divided as follows: Interest and sinking fund, 52 cents; operation of park department, 10 cents; general fund, 60 cents; street 15 cents; and library, three cents.

The ordinance requiring installation of asbestos or its equivalent to protect combustible walls from the fire boxes of water heaters was passed on its second reading.

J. B. Bentley, 1518 Eleventh street was granted a permit, subject to the city engineer's approval, to erect a fireproof structure at that address to be used as a gasoline filling station.

All members of the city council were present except R. O. Harvey.

SHERRILL HITS AT LONG PLAN

'Cotton Holiday' Opposed By Kiwanis Speaker

Unqualified opposition to the proposal of Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana to forbid planting of cotton in the United States in 1932 was voiced by Joe N. Sherrill before members of the Kiwanis club Monday noon in a brief review of the various proposed solutions of the cotton problem.

Because more than 2,000,000 families in this country depend upon the raising of cotton for a livelihood, the speaker said, the cutting out of the entire industry for one year is not feasible.

Two violin duets were played by Misses Ruth Lucille Snyder and Ruth Lucile Crouch, accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Crouch.

J. L. Jackson Jr., announced the district Kiwanis convention to be held next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Oklahoma City, and urged local members and their wives to attend. Charles E. Easton of Oklahoma City was present and extended an invitation from the club there to Wichita Falls Kiwanians. R. C. Thomas of Tulsa also was a guest at Monday's luncheon.

Legionaires to Hear Year's Work Reviewed

Work of American Legion Pat Carrigan post during the past year will be reviewed, reports of the 1931 state convention held last week at El Paso will be given, and new officers for the ensuing year will be installed at the meeting of the post to be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Memorial auditorium.

Roy J. Daniel, elected early this month to succeed Dr. Austin F. Leach as post-commander, will be installed Wednesday night, along with other new officers.

Approximately 60 representatives of the local legion post attended the state meet at El Paso, and carried away conspicuous honors both in elections and in drum and bugle corps competition. Activities outlined by the state organization for adoption by local posts in the ensuing year will be discussed Wednesday night, it was said.

STIRMAN RITES SET AT 10 A. M.

Wichitan Succumbs After Lawton Accident

Funeral services for Oscar Stirman, 30, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Lawton Saturday, will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Church of Christ. The Rev. L. S. White, the pastor, will officiate.

Stirman died in a Lawton hospital Sunday night. The body was returned here Monday. Fred Key, who was with Mr. Stirman when the accident occurred, said that Stirman was driving the automobile in which the two were riding, and that apparently he lost control of the machine as it was making a turn. Key was uninjured except for minor lacerations and bruises. They were returning to Wichita Falls after having spent the day at the Indian fair at Craterville. Stirman sustained a fractured skull, several broken ribs and internal injuries. Both men resided on the Charlie road here.

Arrangements for the funeral are in charge of the Hines mortuary.

Surviving are the widow; his mother, Mrs. E. A. McCluskey of Iowa Park; two sisters, Mrs. Geneva Lundey of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Mary Buster of Houston; and two brothers, Jack Stirman of Phoenix, Ariz., and R. L. Stirman of Wichita Falls.

Chest Publicity Director Arrives

Linden E. Brooks, publicity director for the annual community chest drive, arrived in Wichita Falls shortly before noon Monday and announced that the next three weeks will be devoted to thorough preparation of both the chest organization and the public for a short and effective campaign.

Frank Jaynes, educational director for the campaign last year and selected for the same post in the coming campaign, is expected to arrive late this week, it was said.

Most of Monday afternoon was consumed by the budget and executive committees, it was said, in a further study of the individual budgets for the granting of which the chest drive will be made. The final details of tentative distribution of funds for charitable relief through the many member organizations have not yet been completed, Mr. Brooks said.

TAX RECEIPTS GAIN IN AUGUST

City Collection Higher Than Year Ago

Receipts of the city tax collector's office during August, 1931, were greatly in excess of those recorded in August of 1930, according to W. R. Hyer, tax collector.

During the past month, city taxes paid amounted to $20,082.26, in comparison with $6,063.41 on similar rolls last year in August. A total of $8,172.-4 was paid on school taxes last month, Mr. Hyer said, while in August a year ago $4,351.47 was paid on school taxes. Aboard Airliner
Eastern Air Transport

Smoking compartment, Washington-New York plane. Hostess offering Chesterfields. Photos by courtesy Eastern Air Transport, Inc.

"Dear Peggy

I'm almost too excited to write, and there's so much to see, both inside the plane and out. We've left Washington behind now, and I've just had a Chesterfield in the smoking compartment—they serve them on every ship.

"Among the eighteen passengers there's a senator and a foreign diplomat, and I'm surprised at the number of women. The trip is two hundred miles and the meter in the cabin reads two miles a minute, think of that.

"For me, the Chesterfields were the nicest touch of all. I was just dying for a smoke, and when the hostess passed them (and my favorite cigarette at that) everyone else seemed as tickled as I was. And my—they did taste good!"

Chesterfields are served in the smoking compartments of all these planes—the largest and most luxurious in the East. With the fast growth of air travel, Chesterfield makes many new friends each day, here as in city streets and country homes—wherever good taste counts.

A mild cigarette—delightfully mild and smooth—with a tobacco fragrance all its own.

Whether you're air-minded or not, you'll always find Chesterfield on the air-line to taste—the quickest way to get there. They Satisfy!
