More Negroes Will Seek To Enter Schools

Mass Meeting Is Staged At Austin To Draft Plans

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—From six to eight applications by Texas negroes for graduate school work will be made soon, an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People declared here last night.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said a wide-open attack on segregation laws is "very close." He told some 400 persons, mostly negroes, that it had not been decided whether the applications—and follow-up law cases—would be filed together or separately.

To Be Straightened Out

Marshall, also counsel in the Oklahoma case in which the NAACP is backing the fight of Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, 23-year-old negro, for entrance to the Oklahoma university law school, said:

"If the issue is straightened out in Oklahoma, it will be straightened out down here in Texas, too."

The mass meeting held last night by state NAACP officials came on the eve of the hearing of arguments by the third court of civil appeals on the application of Heman Marion Sweatt, Houston negro, for a writ of mandamus against University of Texas regents, seeking to force them to admit him to the law school.

Marshall said he thought the last time he was in Texas he had "straightened out the Sweatt case and what the negroes are after." He declared that "we are still after the same thing—breaking down segregation."

BREAK IN OKLAHOMA LAW TO BE SOUGHT

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 29. (U.P.)—Six negroes launched a new attempt today to break down the Oklahoma law segregating negro and white students.

The six filed applications for admission to Oklahoma State university. They asked to study in widely varied fields.

Decision Is Delayed

Dr. George L. Cross, university president, delayed a final decision on the applications after conferring with the three men and three women who filed them. He said he would call a meeting of university

Car Stripped Of Its Tires

One new automobile was reported stolen here this morning, and another was recovered after it had been stripped of five new white-wall tires, police reported this afternoon.

Police were broadcasting description this afternoon of a blue 1947 De Soto sedan, license AN 8796, that was stolen from Kerr Auto sales.

Auto Is Recovered

A 1947 light automobile stolen from Milly Ray Smith of 1802 Ave. G was recovered this morning after Jack Stone of Myrtle drive had reported to R. O. Christesson, police patrolman, that it had been stripped and abandoned in the industrial district.

All tires and wheels were removed, and it was left flat on the chassis, officials found.

The sheriff's department reported arrest of Ben Guzman, 49, a Mexican, who had been sought on a grand jury indictment charging desertion of minor children. A desertion complaint was filed against another man who allegedly had "left town."

Discovered making "ardent love" in a bus station, a 22-year-old Denver, Colo., man and a 17-year-old girl were taken into custody. The man was to be questioned to determine whether he had violated Mann act statutes, officials said.

A negro woman who was released from a hospital after treatment for poisoning said she had been drinking with two negro men a a hotel. A routine investigation had not been completed, police said.

Car Is Overturned

Police were investigating the "flipping" of a car owned by Eddie Girard, they said.

Disabled Ex-GI Is Ready To Kiss His Daughters Goodbye

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29—A jobless, disabled ex-GI was ready to kiss his two young girls good-bye today.

The veteran, Thomas F. Ward, hoped someone would adopt the girls, Barbara, 11, and Mary Ann, 9, because he is not able to provide them with a good home on his $36 monthly disability pay.

He placed the following ad in a Fort Worth newspaper "personals" column:

His Heart Is Heavy

"Have two small girls, ages 9 and 11, for adoption in good home."

His heart was heavy when he placed the ad. His wife left him more than a year ago, and so he gave two younger children, three and four years old, to the care of a family in Decatur, from where he came to Fort Worth, looking for a home and light work.

Barbara and Mary Ann have not been able to enroll in school because they have no winter clothing. The father and two daughters are staying with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McKinney, a couple who took pity on the destitute family and "love the little girls to pieces."

Love Them To Death

"Barbara is a regular little housekeeper and a lot of company," Mrs. McKinney said today. "Mary Ann is a good, sweet child."

"We just love them to death and feel so sorry for them," Mrs. McKinney added. "I just don't know what to do and I wouldn't see them go anywhere but to a good home for anything. I want to keep them but I know I can't."

Ward was injured in August, 1946, while going home on a bus from an army induction center at Carnegie, Okla. The family lived in Hobart, Okla. Then he suffered a broken arm, a back injury and internal injuries. He has been in and out of government hospitals for treatment ever since.

"I can do light jobs or work with my hands," Ward said. "But I can't hold down a good enough job to take care of the children. I'm just at my wits' end and don't know what to do."

Keep The People Fully Informed!

The Gas Shortage

THE gas shortage which yesterday paralyzed business and many other day-to-day activities on the South Plains generally was taken as it should have been taken; in good spirit by most of the thousands of people affected.

The condition was not local, or even sectional. Some parts of the U. S., gripped in the worst cold spell of the season, were much more sorely affected than our own area.

Co-operation over the South Plains was good. People "made out" with the least grumbling possible. Gas company officials were not unfairly blamed in most quarters for conditions brought on by the war, and continued into the post-war period, over which they had and have no control.

We are fully aware, as are most citizens of shortages in pipe and other materials which have kept the gas company from keeping up with added patronage due to the growth of population all over its Northwest Texas system. To "raise hob" with the company would be unfair and would do no good.

THE time is here, however, for the West Texas Gas Co. to redouble its efforts to bring its service up to a point where repetition of Wednesday's experience will not be necessary after this Winter. The time is here for the gas company to take the people into its full confidence and to ask for aid in getting materials from city governments and other organizations which are more than ready to give any aid they can.

We must not face a future in which repeated shut-downs are certain to come, or are always threatening. We cannot take a chance on water systems going out in case of an even worse emergecy than that of Wednesday.

Like all other business institutions of today, including public utilities, the gas company must expect to pay more for the materials it needs and must accept the necessity of combing markets as it never has done before.

So long as the people are kept informed of the company's efforts, and are convinced that every possible effort is being made to bring the gas system to a point demanded by public needs, co-operation in time of emergency will be forthcoming. But unless the people are kept informed, and are convinced that the company is leaving no stones unturned, future difficulties will only result in dissatisfaction and storms of protest.

Immediate Controls On Meat Are Asked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (U.P.)—The administration today asked Congress for immediate price controls on meat and all related products.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan told a Senate subcommittee that "the time is now" for price control on meat as well as meat rationing.

Brannan said rationing would be a step in the right direction but "we need price control as well."

He said controls would have to be extended also to such products as lard- butter, oleomargarine, poultry and eggs, fish, milk and cheese.

Business College Founder Succumbs

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Henry Edward Byrne, 77, educator, writer and publisher, died today in a Dallas hospital.

Byrne was founder of the Byrne Commercial college and the Byrne Publishing company here. He founded the Tyler Commercial college at Tyler in 1898 and originated the Byrne simplified shorthand system.

He came to Texas from Missouri in 1896 and became a member of the faculty at Patterson institute in Hillsboro. He also had served at one time as mayor of Tyler and served on a delegation appointed by President Woodrow Wilson to form a League of Nations prior to World war I.

General Hap Arnold Reported Very Ill

RALO ALTO, CALIF., Jan. 29. (AP)— Gen. H. H. (Hap) Arnold, wartime chief of the army air forces has been suffering an "acute illness" at his Sonoma county ranch home, his attending physician disclosed here today.

The general's illness, the nature of which was not revealed, has been sufficiently critical to bar him from any activity for the next several weeks.

WAGE EARNER STATEMENTS URGED

Federal Employes Would Be Affected

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Two senators pressed for action today on a proposal to force all government employes earning more than $9,000 a year to open their financial books to the public.

The resolution is sponsored by Sens. Wayne Morse, (R., Ore.,) and Glen H. Taylor, (D., Ida.) It would require all senators and congressmen, federal judges and executive branch employes, who were over the salary limit, to file annual statements on their income and on any dealings they might have had in securities and commodities.

Thomas Has Plan

"This method," said Taylor, "will put us all on the spot equally, and eliminate the unfair system of selecting special goats."

At the same time, Sen. Elmer Thomas, (D., Okla.,) said he would offer a resolution that would force all senators to bare their financial transactions. Thomas, who admits speculating in commodities during most of his 26 years in Congress, already has turned over his records to the Senate appropriations subcommittee investigating speculation.

But he said that's as far as he's going to go. If the subcommittee calls him as a witness, Thomas said, he won't show up.

"I'm not going to let them make a Roman holiday out of me," snorted the 71-year-old lawmaker.

He said he would "stand on my congressional immunity." Chairman Homer Ferguson, (R., Mich.,) of the speculation subcommittee said earlier he would hold public hearings on Thomas' market ac-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—President Truman has prepared a special message to Congress asking continued power for the government to say how much grain can be used for whisky-making.

Present government power to control distillers' use of grain will end Saturday. Congress voted it last fall because of the grain shortage and the Truman administration's campaign to save grain for food for Europe.

The Senate has passed a bill to continue the power through February, but the House banking committee has pigeon-holed it.

Consumers Of Nation Facing 2-Week Limit

Gas Production Is To Be Curtailed; Plan Voluntary

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.— The petroleum industry began pooling its resources today in an effort to rush fuel oil supplies to cold-ridden areas.

Government officials also expected the industry to start off today on a two-month program to (1) limit consumers, wherever possible, to two-weeks' supplies on hand, (2) step up fuel oil output by sacrificing gasoline production and crude oil inventories, and (3) work seven days a week loading and unloading tank cars.

All To Cooperate

Federal officials as well as spokesmen for the National Petroleum Council—an 85-member industry advisory commitee—said "all companies" are expected to go along on the voluntary program.

The industry got a blanket "go-ahead" from Attorney General Tom Clark yesterday to pool supplies of fuel oil and gasoline and transportation facilities in order to meet emergency demands. Clark gave his assurance he would not bring anti-trust action against the industry on the pooling program.

Meanwhile, other government quarters predicted that an embargo on U. S. exports of petroleum products as suggested by some members of congress would:

Increase Aid Cost

1. Increase the cost of the Marshall plan by causing factory and railroad shutdowns in Europe in "less than a month."

2. Lose this country as much—and perhaps more—in petroleum imports from the Carribean area and endanger Middle East supplies. This, they said, could endanger our position as the world's principal refining center.

Under the petroleum industry's emergency program, companies will pool supplies and transportation facilities on a local basis, in coopgration with state fuel coordinators and local fuel committees.

How It Works

For instance, if a dealer or a consumer in Bostol runs out of fuel oil and can get no more from his regular supplier he should appeal to the state fuel coordinator or local fuel committee. They, in turn, call in all companies in the area.

If the companies cannot scrape

Wage Boost Proposed For Railway Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—A Presidential emergency board recommended today that 18 short line railroads grant a 15½ cent a hour wage increase to non-operating employes.

The White House made public the recommendation, which is similar to a recent arbitration reward for non-operating employes of trunk line railroads.

The boards' report, filed with the President by Chairman Grady Lewis, proposed making the increase retroactive to Sept. 1, 1947.

Oilman Launches Tirade Against Jones

Millionaire Claims Houston Publisher And His Aides Trying To Run The City

HOUSTON, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—Hugh Roy Cullen, millionaire oilman and philanthropist, today leveled an attack on Jesse Jones for trying "to run our city" as he announced he was withdrawing from civic activity.

The 66-year-old independent oilman who established a $160,000,000 foundation from his vast oil holdings said he was resigning as chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Houston and as a member of the huge Texas Medical center. He has given millions of dollars to both institutions.

The blast against Jones came over Houston's zoning proposal which will be voted upon on Saturday. Cullen criticized Jesse Jones' Houston Chronicle for publishing "only the side of the news that its publisher is interested in."

Cullen's statement sent to the editors of Houston's three daily newspapers read in part:

"Yesterday's Chronicle had a dozen stories in support of zoning,

Schools To Reopen Friday; Snow And Sleet Forecast For Section Tonight

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

Snow and sleet were forecast for this afternoon and tonight in Lubbock vicinity, but gas pressure had been built up to extent the general business holiday in 44 towns was declared at an end early this morning and announcement was made this afternoon schools could operate Friday.

The holiday still applied at 2 o'clock this afternoon among industrial users—including compresses, oil mills, cotton gins and others classified as industrial—and later announcement was to be made when the holiday was ended for that group.

The gas company continued to ask that gas be used sparingly to conserve supply until end of the cold period.

Temperature dipped to 1 degree above zero—the lowest recorded this winter — between 7:30 and 8:30 a. m. at the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock but began to rise immediately afterward and was 19 degrees at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Amarillo Has Snow

Snowfall began at Amarillo this morning and was continuing at 12:30 o'clock. The Lubbock and vicinity forecast is: Mostly cloudy and not quite so cold this afternoon, tonight and Friday; snow or sleet this afternoon and tonight; minimum temperature expected Friday morning, 10 to 15 degrees.

New snow, sleet and rain storms in different parts of Texas were reported by the Associated Press and evidently came "as a final blow from winter's worst attack on Texas in many years."

The gas situation for towns served by West Texas Gas Co. improved during the night as pressure raised following Wednesday's co-operation of residents in observing a business holiday and using less gas in homes.

Emergency Is Over

The increased pressure and improved weather outlook together gave rise to assurance that without unexpected mechanical failures the emergency is over, it was reported from the gas company.

This was the gas company announcement made regarding schools: "The West Texas Gas Co. announced at 1 p. m. today that all schools which had been closed because of the gas shortage had been released to operate tomorrow as far as the supply of gas was concerned. However, they continued to stress the importance of using gas sparingly and to conserve gas until termination of the present cold spell. No announcement has been made concerning industrial users."

Supt. R. W. Matthews of Lubbock immediately announced schools of Lubbock Independent School district will be open as usual Friday. Buses will operate, school cafeterias will be open and regular school work will be conducted.

The gas company announcement applying to business houses had been made at 6:30 a. m. today, stating that "the emergency holiday placed into effect yesterday has been lifted insofar as supply

ICY SPELL ON WANE IN MIDWEST

Thousands Idle In Bitter Cold Wave

(By The United Press)

More than 241,000 workers in Michigan, Ohio and western Pennsylvania were forced out of work by the cold wave today, but the weather bureau promised the spell of cold weather was on the wane in the midwest.

No relief was in sight for the east coast, however, where the weather bureau said a new cold wave moving down from Hudson's bay would keep temperatures below freezing for an indefinite time. Temperatures throughout the northeast were expected to rise to near freezing today and then plunge to new lows tonight and tomorrow.

Plants Are Shut Down

Approximately 200,000 workers were laid off in the Detroit automobile area at midnight last night when industrial plants shut down again in compliance with a request by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

The company said it did not have enough oil to make sufficient artificial gas for the area. Domestic users may be hit hard "within a few days," the company said, unless they cut down wherever possible.

The East Ohio Gas company limited northeastern Ohio's heavy industrial section to 50 per cent of normal fuel supply. In Dayton and East Liverpool, no gas was allowed for industrial use and only limited amounts were available for commercial users. At least 20,000 workers were laid off at Dayton, Akron, Massillon, Cleveland, Youngstown, Niles and other cities. At Buffalo, N. Y., more than 1,000 workers were idled by

Lubbock Men Are Charged

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 29.—Charges of theft and burglary have been filed here against two Lubbock men in connection with burglary of the Furr Food store here on Dec. 22.

Charged are David (Jelly) Lester, about 30, and Raymond Adams. The two men are being held in jail at Eastland on felony charges, said Hale County Sheriff Ted Andrews who filed the charges here Tuesday before County Attorney Lee Nowlin.

Arrested In Waco

Andrews said the men were picked up recently at Waco for the Eastland officers. The two were apprehended in a Waco store, Andrews said. One had $1,400 on his person and the other had $300 when arrested. Found in their possession was an assortment of tools.

The charges were filed here after Andrews made a trip to Eastland where he conducted an investigation.

Both Lester and Adams have criminal records, Sheriff Andrews said.

Safe Is Broken

Entry to the Furr store here was gained through a back window. The small safe which was located against the glass front of the store was broken open and its contents of $5,800 in cash and checks taken. About half the amount was in currency.

Officers at Amarillo were checking to see if there was any connection with similar burglaries there and the Furr burglary here.

Firemen Bring Gas Well Under Control

MISSION, Jan. 29. (U.P.)—Asbestos-clothed fire fighters from Houston yesterday brought under control a blown out gas distillate well.

The well, located in Cecil field at the western edge of Hidalgo county, blew out Sunday at 5,915 feet. Driller W. H. Hotland and a crew were unable to sap the spewing gas and distillate of the well.

Knutson Opens Debate On His Tax Slash Bill

Indirect Pay Hike For Wage Earners Claimed Provided

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Rep. Harold Knutson, (R., Minn.), urged the House today to approve his $6,500,000,000 income tax slashing bill "to give an indirect pay boost to wage earners, combat inflation and preserve the American system."

Opening debate on a measure that promises to be a hot election-year issue, Knutson said the tax cut would be helpful to wage earners troubled by the high cost of living.

Equals Wage Boost

"Assuming that the average family consists of a man, his wife and two children, that the breadwinner works 40 hours a week and earns $3,500 a year," he said, "(this bill) is the equivalent of a 6-cent an hour wage increase."

Knutson told the House that "we must reduce taxes and not increase them as advocated by the President."

Debate on Knutson's bill is scheduled to last through tomorrow with a vote to be taken Monday. Democrats and Republicans agreed that the bill pass but not by the two-thirds majority necessary to override a presidential veto.

Veto Is Promised

President Truman has virtually promised that he will veto the GOP bill, a move that would set the stage for a bitter partisan battle in this election year. Although the Senate is expected to change the House bill to soften the loss of government revenue, Mr. Truman has indicated his opposition to any substantial cut in taxes at this time.

Knutson chided the Treasury for underestimating tax collections in the last two years and urged the House not to be "misled" again. He said government revenue would be more than ample to permit a $6,500,000,000 tax cut.

Tax Exemption Rule Is Given

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP)— City residents over the age of 60 were warned today a recent court decision makes it imperative for them to renew their poll tax exemptions to be sure of qualifying as voters.

Attorney General Price Daniel said a recent decision by the Eastland court of civil appeals had in effect overruled the opinion of a former attorney general who had held that annual renewals by voters above the age of 60 in cities with more than 10,000 population were not necessary.

Daniel said the Eastland court '31 ruling applied to exempt voters past 60 in cities of more than 10,000 population who have not obtained exemption certificates since Feb. 1, 1947.

Collectors Notified

He notified all tax assessor-collectors in counties having such cities that public notice be given that "those over 60 could no longer safely rely upon their permanent exemption certificates.

"After reviewing the Eastland court's opinion and the opinions of my predecessor, the only safe procedure is for exempt voters in such cities to get a new certificate of exemption before Feb. 1," Daniel said.

Voters over 60 who live in cities of less than 10,000 population, or in the country, do not have to make annual renewals.

Anglo-French Allies Dallied As Russo-German Treaty Made

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The U. S. State department's disclosure of details of the pre-war Russo-German negotiations, resulting in the non-aggressian pact that precipitated the world conflict, has brought this column an inquiry as to what the Anglo-French allies were doing while Hitler was achieving this coup and had Moscow offering to join him against the Western Allies—for a price so high that he wouldn't pay it.

The answer is that Britain and France missed the boat. Actually they had a mission in Moscow trying to make a treaty when Stalin signed with the Fuehrer.

British Explain

The tragic Munich agreement of September, 1936, under which the Western Allies sold Czechoslovakia down the river to Hitler, was the beginning of the end of appeasement by London and Paris. Then in the following March when the Nazi dictator marched troops into Czechoslovakia, England was shocked into a realization of the dangers facing Europe. As a result Britain and France decided to meet force with force is necessary, and by April of '39 we find Britain negotiating with Russia for a mutual assistance pact, France already having one with Moscow. From then on, negotiations dragged until brought to a sensational end by the Hitler-Stalin non-aggression pact.

"The British (and French) have justified their failure to conclude a pact with Russia on several grounds," says the Encyclopedia Britannica Year book for 1939." It has been said that Poland refused to accept Russian military aid, that the Russian military aid would in fact prove to be a liability, that the Allies could not join Russia in domination of the Baltic states, and finally that Russia had no desire to help the Allies.

Soviet Was Suspicious

Again, Russia had been excluded in the negotiations at Munich and the Soviet suspected the sincerity of British and French proposals for either diplomatic or military agreements.

And what would have happened if Russia and the Western Allies had come to terms? You tell me that, and I'll tell you what would have happened if Eve hadn't eaten the apple in the Garden of Eden.

However, it is a safe bet that no agreement of any description would have altered Moscow's policy of waging world revolution for the establishment of Communism. That's an immutable policy, and we would have had to come up against in due course.

Moreover, Hitler was bent on conquest and would have struck sooner or later, no matter what sort of Russo-British-French pact threatened him.

Jan. 31 Is Deadline For Crop Insurance

Lubbock county farmers apparently believe that the crop insurance proposal offered by Congress through the Federal Crop Insurance corporation is not the answer to their production insurance problems.

Yesterday with only three days remaining before the Jan. 31 deadline, about 50 of them—one-fourth of the 200 required—had signed applications for production protection under the program, it was announced by Walter Y. Wells, county administrator.

This county is one of 56 in the nation selected to participate in the experimental program, Wells said, but the law requires that a minimum of 200 farms in the county must participate before the program can go into effect. He said that farmers generally seem to feel the premium rates are too high for the proffered protection. In this county, rates are $1.95 per acre to guarantee a minimum of $25 in cotton production on irrigated land, and on non-irrigated land the rate is $2.80 per acre to assure $17.50 crop income.

Wells said community committeemen have information and application forms, and that his office will be open Saturday for convenience of those interested in the program.

Woman Slayer Given Parole

TEHACHAPI, Calif., Jan. 29 (U.P.)—Mrs. Annie Irene Mansfeldt, serving a seven-year sentence for killing her husband's girl friend, today was ordered paroled by the board of trustees of the California institution for women.

Mrs. Mansfeldt was convicted in 1946 for the Oct. 4, 1943, slaying of nurse Vada Martin, 36, whom she suspected of stealing the affections of her husband, Dr. John Mansfeldt, who committed suicide a few hours after the shooting.

Conduct Praised

Mrs. Helen Legg, chairman of the board of trustees, announced the parole. She said the board voted unanimously in favor of releasing Mrs. Mansfeldt. The parole will be effective on or about Feb. 17, she said.

"Her conduct was such that we felt she had earned her parole," Mrs. Legg said.

The board chairman stressed that there had been no special handling of the case because of the notoriety it received and the parole application was acted upon as a regular order of business.

No comment was available from Mrs. Mansfeldt who had been termed a model prisoner at this institution for women. Her sentence was for a term of from one to 10 years but the prison trustees on July 23, 1946, set it at seven years.

Husband Took Poison

Mrs. Mansfeldt is now 48-years old. She was tried in San Francisco on a manslaughter charge, found guilty and then tried on her second plea of not guilty by reason of insanity and also convicted.

Mrs. Mansfeld took the nurse for an automobile ride on Oct. 4, shot her and then drove to a San Francisco hospital with the body in her automobile. Dr. Mansfeldt disappeared a few hours later and at a lonely spot took poison. His body was discovered the following day.

During the sensational trial, Judge Edward P. Murphy held there was no unwritten law in California giving a wife special rights because of alleged intimacies of her husband with another woman.

Mrs. Mansfeldt left San Francisco for the prison here Jan. 7, 1946. She said she hoped after finishing her term that she could "repay" her children for the harm done them. The Mansfeldts had three children, Terry, John and Irene, all teen-agers.

Progress Report On Lamb Feeding Given

A preliminary progress report on the 1947-48 lamb feeding experiments at Texas Technological college has been announced by Ray C. Mowery, professor of animal husbandry, who is directing the experiment.

The feeding project, which has been conducted during two previous years also, is directed toward determining relative values of Plainsman milo and Martin milo for fattening lambs, finding the value of shelter during the fattening period, and determining the value of allowing fattening lambs to harvest Plainsman milo. The current project was started Oct. 31 with 110 grade Rambouillett lambs and will be concluded Feb. 13.

During the first 84 days, 50 lambs harvesting a five acre field of Plainsman milo with an estimated 1,500 pounds of grain per acre, averaged .29 pounds gain per head daily. Two lambs in field feeding died from over eating.

Twenty lambs fed in dry lot on Martin maize showed an average gain of .29 pounds per head daily as compared with an average gain of .31 pounds per head daily of twenty lambs fed Plainsman milo in dry lot. Both lots were sheltered. Another group of twenty lambs fed Plainsman milo in dry lot, without shelter, gained an average of .29 pounds per head daily, as compared with the .31 pounds per head daily by the lot under shelter. All maize feeding was supplemented with alfalfa hay, salt and limestone.

Many Wistful Backers Of Ike Now Support Harold Stassen

By CHARLES T. LUCEY
Special Correspondent

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 29.—The Eisenhower buttons—"I'm for Ike"—come off hard. Proudly they still shine from the jackets of the more stubborn. In some old New England attics they're being tucked away tenderly, in their chaste blue-on-white, with the daguerreotypes and old lace. Wistfully their owners face the question: Where do we go now?

For many, since the General bowed out as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, the answer has become Harold Stassen.

GOP Leaders Quiet

The young ex-governor of Minnesota, pushing his political road show among the New England mountains this week, brought many former Eisenhower people over to his side. Some of General Ike's old leaders seem sure the soldier's withdrawal will help Mr. Stassen more than Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whom he will oppose in the New Hampshire primary only a few weeks away now.

Whatever he gets he will need. Tom Dewey is strong in New Hampshire. Some top Republican leaders are playing cozy and declining to take sides publicly now, but they've been friendly to Mr. Dewey in the past. Mostly they're vague when asked whether the edge in the primary test lies with Mr. Stassen or Mr. Dewey.

But Mr. Stassen beyond doubt helped himself this week, and yesterday he aggressively knocked down any notion that he was about to sidestep a head-on contest with Mr. Dewey in the approaching primary. The issue arose on a technical matter involving New Hampshire primary law, and hinged on whether Mr. Stassen would enter an out-and-out pledged slate or would support an unpledged slate, friendly but not irrevocably bound to him.

For strategic reasons Mr. Stassen has decided to go for the friendly unpledged slate. Did he then—so speculation went—fear to meet Gov. Dewey with a flatly pledged Stassen slate?

Stuff and nonsense, said Mr. Stassen in effect. He pointed out he had said in November he would go for an unpledged slate here, and promised that the Stassen-supported slate would provide opportunity for a test of "nation wise significance" here in New Hampshire. He called it "one of the important tests of the nation" between himself and Mr. Dewey.

Debate With Dewey

Then, along came a challenge from Wisconsin for Messrs. Stassen and Dewey to meet in debate on the issues prior to the Wisconsin Presidential primary in April. Mr. Stassen said he'd be delighted to debate the issue with Mr. Dewey—in Wisconsin or anywhere else.

Here in Maine—which Mr. Stassen counts as his strongest New England state—the Eisenhower people have come out for the big Minnesotan. In New Hampshire, the Stassenites said their tally sheet showed seven of the nine delegates who had filed for General Eisenhower now have switched to their man. Two came over yesterday. Earlier, Leonard Finder, Manchester publisher to whom the General's famous "no" letter was written, said he believed more Eisenhower people would go to Mr. Stassen than to Mr. Dewey.

Covers All Issues

Mr. Stassen, appraising his New Hampshire visit, asserted he had been "very much encouraged" and that he expected to win "a majority" of the state's delegates. Yesterday as he spoke at Exeter, he drew from William Saltonstall, principal of Exeter academy, the introduction. "I've been hoping for two years I'd have a chance to vote for Harold Stassen and I think the time is coming nigh."

Mr. Stassen this week has covered almost the whole range of today's public issues—and the ones he don't bring up he gets tossed at him in the question and answer periods. Yesterday he placed heavy emphasis again on support for the Marshall plan and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's foreign policy position.

Texans Reminded Of Fireplace Hazards

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall warned today that the fireplace—a good place to be sitting near in sub-freezing weather—also may burn the house down.

He urged Texans to check the chimney, especially for cracked flues which let heat and sparks escape into house walls. Feel the walls around the chimney, he said—if any spot is uncomfortably hot for your bare hand, call in a repairman.

Before prohibition in the United States, the eatjng of turtles was associated with liquor consumption and the market was only partially regained after repeal.

Local Residents Are Visitors In Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Increased federal aid for farm-to-market roads was urged today by Runnels County Judge E. C. Grindstaff of Ballinger, Tex., president of the Texas County Commissioners and Judges association.

Here attending the American Road Builders conference, the Texan said that expenditure of more funds on rural roadways would be a sound investment on the nation's economy.

After attending a luncheon with Texas congressmen, he talked with various members of the House, urging their support for more federal aid for highways when legislation comes up.

The guest of honor at the luncheon was the recently appointed assistant Secretary of the Navy, Mark E. Andrews, Houston, Tex., businessman.

Andrews said he returned to Navy duty at the request of House minority leader Rayburn (D-Tex).

Other visiting Texans present at the capitol luncheon included Joe Ogden, Brady chamber of commerce manager; Joe Bryant and DeWitt Landis, both radio men, Joseph B. Jackson, jr., and Ray Chappell, a Texas Tech faculty member, all of Lubbock; E. L. Williams and Dr. A. A. Jakkula, Texas A. and M. college faculty members; Col. John Weber of San Antonio, and C. J. Crampton, San Antonio chamber of commerce manager; Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac, president of the Texas Water Conservation association, and Ben Calhoun, Houston insurance man.

Boy Accuses Father In Mother's Slaying

DENVER, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — A tousled-haired seven-year-old boy faced his father, John J. Berger, across a police desk today and told how he saw "poppa kill mommy."

Berger, 30-year-old paroled convict, sat hunched over in silence while the youngster accused him pointblank of strangling his mother early Tuesday in their home here.

The son, Robert, said he saw his father choke his mother in their bedroom following a quarrel.

"Then mommy screamed and he put a pillow over her head," the youngster said.

Berger steadfastly denied the slaying of his wife, Pauline, 29, mother of Robert and three other children. But Detective Captain James J. Pitt said a lie detector test given Berger bore out a coroner's report of "asphyxiation by strangulation or choking."

Divorce Received By Dancer Ann Miller

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — Movie dancer Ann Miller, 24, received a final divorce decree today from steel heir Reese L. Milner, 32.

Three hours after the decree was signed by Judge Orlando H. Rhodes, Milner took out a license in Beverly Hills, to wed Virginia S. Norcross, 30-year-old divorcee. Milner said they would be married Friday.

Local Doctor Named Secretary Of Board

Dr. Marshall Harvey of 2311 Thirty-first was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Texas State Board of Chiropody Examiners at its first semi-annual meeting held in the Blackstone hotel in Fort Worth Jan. 26 and 27.

Other officers elected include Dr. C. H. Robinson of Fort Worth, president; and Dr. G. A. Scuddy of Beaumont, vice-president.

New members appointed to the board by Governor Jester who were in attendance at the meeting were Dr. Kenneth L. Rice, El Paso; and Dr. Oran M. Murphy, Tyler. Dr. E. H. Kott of Austin, also a board member, was the sixth member in attendance.

Only routine business was conducted at the two-day session, Dr. Harvey said, and pointed out that the next meeting of the board will be at Fort Worth in June at which time candidates for chiropody license in Texas will be examined.

Two Seriously Burned In Gasoline Blast

EUNICE, N. M., Jan. 29. (U.P.) — Two men were in the hospital here today with burns received in an explosion at the Skelly Gasoline plant, four miles south of Eunice.

The explosion occurred during mid-morning yesterday when a tank exploded in the compressor room of the Skelly plant where the two men were working. A blaze resulted, and fellow workers fired bullets through nearby gasoline tanks to permit the fuel to escape and prevent possible explosion.

A. E. Whitney of Eunice suffered severe burns and is not expected to recover. A. R. Pickard, who resided at the plant site, is given a good chance to recover from third-degree burns on the hands and face.

Perfect pie crust in 5 minutes!
with new "Pastry-Blend"
ARMOUR★ LARD

First new pie crust recipe in years! You don't use ice water. You don't use boiling water. Mixing ingredients at room temperature makes the difference! Quicker-blending, better-keeping "Pastry-Blend" makes it possible! For "Pastry-Blend" is pure lard in Armour's new, exclusive formula that keeps without refrigeration. Easy as 1, 2, 3.

1 "Pastry-Blend" Lard makes the flavor rich! Measure 2 cups all-purpose flour without sifting. Sift with 1 tsp. salt. Add ⅔ cup new "Pastry-Blend" Armour Star Lard that you have kept at room temperature. Remember, "Pastry-Blend" Lard keeps its mild, delicate flavor, always. It gives the rich taste to your pie crust!

2 Light handling makes it flaky! Blend mixture with pastry blender, 2 knives or your fingers. Here's where "Pastry-Blend" goes to work for you! It blends with flour like lightning. And, less handling means flakier crust. Stop mixing when the lard is cut into pieces the size of small peas. It won't be long!

3 Scant water makes it tender! Add only 4 tbsp. water (room temperature). Sprinkle over flour mixture—pressing mixture with knife until it just holds together. The smaller amount of water you use with "Pastry-Blend" gives you more tender crust. Divide mixture into 2 portions. Roll out on pastry canvas or lightly-floured board. Makes one 9-in. double crust pie. Bake apple (or any fruit) pie at 450° F. for 10 min., then at 350° F. for 30 or 40 min.

"Pastry-Blend" Lard comes in 1-lb., 2-lb., 4-lb., and economy-size 8-lb. cartons.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Idyllic Social Life Of Young Girl Is Spoiled By Hate-Campaign Started Three Years Ago

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This is an appeal for help in understanding my daughter's problem and aiding her to happiness. Clare, now 12, was absolutely happy until three years ago. She made friends wherever she went and her teachers said she was the best adjusted, most beloved child in her group.

In her family contacts she has been "a good kid." She loves her two brothers devotedly and they reciprocate. She has always been tactful and modest about her accomplishments; and persons who know her outside of school speak of her graciousness and "that something" that denotes a fine home feeling.

She is a fine pianist, an outstanding conscientious student, draws exceptionally well and is excellent in sports, a real tomboy; preferring boys to girls, as she had only boys to play with most of her life. But at present she is in the ugly ducklings stage, wears braces and glasses and her nose is out of proportion. I try to assure her this is only temporary.

GIRLS JEER HER, SEND VILE NOTES

THREE years ago Clare's class, where she was so well liked, was joined by two girls of very dominant, persuasive, jealous disposition. One especially can sway a group, and as she couldn't stand not being the center of attraction she started a whispering campaign against Clare.

It was vicious, jeering, based on falsehood, but it was clever and effective. Clare was constantly told that she is ugly, that her clothes are dizzy (they are beautiful) that she walks funny, etc. The girls started to draw the rest of the class away from her, and now they are turning the boys against her too.

She has gotten the filthiest notes from some of the girls, supposedly of good homes, and today she came home almost sick. She said, "Mother, am I really so ugly? They say I stink, that I am lousy, and such awful things." I tried to comfort her, but I too suffer from the purgatory she is going through and my going to school to look into the picture and speak to her teachers hasn't helped.

The more she is praised by teachers or put forth as an outstanding performer, the more unbearable the girls treat her. But she doesn't want to be transferred, as she will graduate next Spring, so what can be done to restore her self-confidence? We want her to be able to stand on her own feet. Where have I failed her?

Signed E. R.

SEEMS MOTHER ISN'T REALISTIC

DEAR E. R.; Certain clues afforded by your long letter here condensed suggest that you haven't frankly unveiled the most vicious aspect of the campaign of revilement organized against Clare: which I infer to be a Nazi-type assault on her personality for being of Jewish blood.

If this is a fact and you failed to mention it when purportedly presenting her problem for discussion, then the second inference must be that this same evasiveness characterizes your total reaction to that aspect of "man's inhumanity to man" in the larger world; that you hide from it even in your own thoughts, and as a result aren't helping Clare to evaluate her experience realistically and digest its connotations as part of her education for living.

Assuming my inferences are correct, and I think they are, it appears you most failed Clare by failing to prepare her to deal ruggedly with the dross in human nature, successfully but with no loss of decency, dignity or self-respect on her part.

GIRL STRANGER TO REAL WORLD

Rather, it seems, you kept her in concepts of life as softly encased as in a jewel box; assiduously conditioned her from the first to take for granted, modestly and graciously, a role of supremacy in an ideal world, where honors, deference, love and idyllic treatment presumably might be won on merit -- if one conscientiously demonstrated a high order of gifts and virtues.

In so doing, you made her not only a conspicuous, but also a mentally defenseless target for cut-throat rivals -- and it was only a matter of time until they would close in to test her mettle.

So now what? To find herself, get her bearings, see life in true perspective and go forward undaunted, with full confidence restored in her intrinsic value as an exceptionally gifted human being.

Clare needs indirect help that, in the circumstances and at her age, can only come from parents whose own minds are straightened out, and whose souls aren't afraid of the problems she must take in stride. And in my opinion, a psychoanalytic review of the situation is the best means of acquiring such light to pass on to Clare.

No Decision On Training Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said today the House Republican leadership has made no decision on compulsory military training legislation and is not likely to do so for some time.

"That hasn't come up at all," Martin told newsmen when asked about reports that the leadership has decided to shelve the UMT program, recommended by President Truman and approved by the House armed services committee.

Will Be Discussed

Martin said the legislation probably will be discussed at a future meeting of the House GOP steering committee which shapes party policy and which Martin heads. He emphasized that party heads have not taken a stand one way or the other.

Chairman Andrews (R-NY); of the armed services committee has requested clearance for the legislation from the rules group but Chairman Allen (R-Ill) of the rules group said there are no present plans for hearings and that the UMT bill will be considered later as part of the over all legislative picture.

Expert Reveals List Of Cities Having Best-Dressed Women

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)— A lady who says she is a "Beauty Engineer" has done the traveling bachelor a favor.

She's come up with a list of ten cities where she says you can find the best dressed women.

Low Ratings Given

This baedecker of American style-conscious communities has been compiled by Mrs. Vernoica Dengel, president of the American Women's institute. Mrs. Dengel, who is 46, five-feet-eight inches tall and darkhaired, has written books on "Hold Your Man" and other problems of the harried sex. Her institute does a mail order business in advice to fashion-lorn damsels who can't get to the big city.

A poll of 500 fashion leaders throughout the country, she said, disclosed that the three cities with the lowest rating for well-dressed women were:

(1) Boston—"Slow; too cautious, never catching up until a fashion is well established."

(2) Chicago—"A mixture of good and bad fashion where East and West meet."

(3) Palm Beach (Yes, Palm Beach)—"Surrounded by beauty in clothes, but not properly affected by it"—Whatever that means.

Now to get on to the places where a fellow can make a date and be fairly sure the gal will show the most "ingenuity in dress, newness of style and wear proper fashions best suited" to her personality. Here they are in the order Mrs. Dangel lists them in her own fashionable prose:

Dallas' Piquant Look

(1) New York City—"The sophisticated New Look"—where women who are the nation's fashion leaders accept new styles and try them willingly.

(2) Atlanta—"The Soft Southern Look"—"They couple smart fashion with Southern grace and dignity.

(3) Miami—"The Provocative Look"—They adapt the new and colorful in fashion to their colorful city needs.

(4) Detroit—"The Mature Look"—"The women are anxious to improve constantly in fashion consciousness just as their city is improving in its national importance

(5) Washington—"The Refreshing Look"—Here the business girl proves it is possible to dress well on a budget when one plans carefully.

(6) Philadelphia — "The Pert Look"—The quiet smartness of their city is reflected in the unerring choice of beautiful, wearable clothes.

(7) Dallas—"The piquant Look"—beautiful girls and beautiful clothes in a beautiful city.

(8) San Francisco—"The Intriguing Look"—Western charm with Eastern flair for distinctive dressing.

(9) Salt Lake City—"The Wholesome Look"—simple, casual living, in clothes with a fashion rightness.

(10) Seattle — "The Exciting Look"—A plus quality in a city where everything seems to be a little extra."

Well, boys, there's where the best-dressed clothes horses dwell—according to Mrs. Dengel and her poll pals. But they name no community where a man with a slim pocketbook can find a lass and keep her in the finery she wants to become accustomed to.

Inhabitants of New York City consumed 150,000 carloads of fruits and vegetables in a single year.

Tired, "All-In"— Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

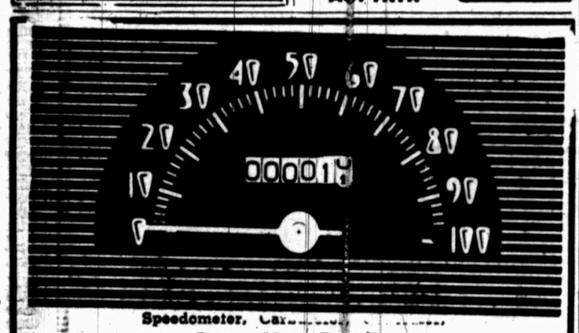

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv.

Fire Damages Corpus Christi Building

CORPUS CHRISTI, Jan. 29. (AP)—Two floors of the Administration building of Corpus Christi College academy were badly damaged by fire late yesterday.

No one was injured. All classes had been dismissed a few minutes before the fire was discovered.

How Much Did You Make Last Year?

That's not an easy question. Profit can't be determined by arithmetic — but only by accounting. And accounting requires informed and expert judgment. It means sorting and arranging all the complex transactions of business, and presenting them in an orderly manner to show the results fairly.

But even experts can honestly disagree on the amount of profit for a year. Optimism or conservatism can influence their judgment.

That's why the Certified Public Accountant was born. As an independent, professional auditor, he brings to the job a disinterested judgment, and a sense of responsibility to everyone who may rely on the opinion he attaches to financial statements.

Heman Sweatt Case Resumed

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—The question of whether or not Texas can constiutionally segregate negro and white students in its public schools came before the Third Court of Civil Appeals today.

On appeal and set for oral arguments was Herman Marion Sweatt's legal battle to force University of Texas officials to admit him as a law school student.

Denied Admittance

The fight started nearly two years ago, after the Houston negro mail carrier had been denied admission to the University Law school. He was informed that he qualified as a student in every respect, except that he was a negro.

Sweatt originally brought suit for a mandamus compelling his admission in a Travis County District court. It finally denied his plea, and he appealed to the Third Court of Civil Appeals. This case was sent back to District court for development of new facts after the 50th Legislature established the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston, with a law branch at Austin.

Following the new trial in 126th District court, at which Judge Roy Archer refused to grant the writ compelling the University of Texas to admit him, Sweatt again appealed to the intermediate court. He said he would carry his fight to the United States Supreme court if necessary.

Attorneys for Sweatt in their briefs have contended that a racially segregated law school is unconstitutional. The state has contended such segregation is constitutional where equal educational opportunities are offered.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barocentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Adv.

154 Golfers To Tee Off In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 29 (AP) — Plagued by continuing sub-freezing temperatures a field of 154 golfers from seven countries was to tee off today in the opening round of the 72-hole $10,000 Tucson open.

Thermometers hovered around the 20-degree mark and the weather forecast was for continued cold throughout the day with the high likely to get a few degrees above yesterday's 41.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, started out as co-favorites but it would be no major upset if any one of a dozen pros copped first money.

This week's cold wave, that yesterday caused cancellation of the pro-amateur event, has had a leveling effect upon the entire field. No record breaking scores are looked for today.

Demaret was convinced that the 72-hole, 16-under-par record score of 264 he hung up last year will stand intact.

Amateurs are attracting much attention in Tucson. Doug Ford, New York, caused raised eyebrows when he led a field of 97 in the qualifying round with 68, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., is a local favorite.

At the end of today's play the field will be cut to 90 pros and 10 amateurs. The tourney is being played under regular PGA rules.

Judges For Golden Gloves Mitt Tourney Here Get Instructions

If present plans go as scheduled, contestants in the Golden Gloves tournament, to be held Monday through Thursday in the Texas Tech gym, will know the results of each fight almost before the last blow is swung.

Judges and other Golden Gloves officials met last night with Tournament Director Morley Jennings in the Hilton hotel to go over the rules of judging, as well as other problems.

Draw Decision Out

Jennings directed the judges to be certain that each round was scored either for, or against, each fighter and that no draw was to be given, either for a round or for a fight. Each judge will mark a card immediately after each round.

When the fight is over, each judge will count up rounds won and lost, award the fight to the man winning two rounds and hand the slip to the referee. The referee will then hand the slips to the announcer, who will indicate the winner over the public address system, while the referee raises the winner's hand.

The slips used by the judges will then pass to the clerk of the fights, who will hold them until the night of fighting is over. They will then be attached to the respective Golden Glover's physical examination report and the entire lot will be placed on file. Thus, each 1948 entry's history will be kept on file for future reference.

The American Athletic association scoring system will be used. Briefly, it comprises these points: 1. At the end of each round, the winner is given 20 points; 2. The loser's score is determined by first subtracting the number of points he scored from those of the winner and then by dividing this number by three, with the latter number subtracted from 20; 3, For each infraction of the rules, three marks shall be deducted; 4, Points are scored as one for each clean blow landed, two for a staggering blow and five for a knockdown.

Scoring Plan Cited

Fighters entering the regional tourney also are warned that rounds will be scored first on clean blows landed; secondly, on defensive tactics; and thirdly, on aggressiveness or leading-off.

Present for the meeting, besides Jennings, were Babe Curfman and Elmer Tarbox, judges; O. J. "Bo" Sexton, referee; E. J. "Pinky" Lowrey, timer; Wes Youngblood, announcer; and Joe Holmes, general manager.

Getz Wins In Arena Tussle

Neither Jack Kiser nor the weather could stop the bad man from Pittsburgh, Pa., Al Getz, in the main event at Sled Allen's wrestling arena last night and the burly grappler won two out of three falls with a crashing crescendo that could be heard above a train whistle.

The large crowd, which braved cold weather and a light snow to see the weekly session, certainly received its money's worth from Getz, who put on his usual pantomime "have mercy" act. In between Getz took advantage of every trick to stomp Kiser into submission, although the Oregon grappler won the first fall in 20 minutes on a hammer and face lock.

Couldn't Stand Pace

Kiser couldn't keep up the pace and dropped the second fall to Getz in nine minutes, the coal belt grappler using a cradle to win the fall after using a fine assortment of mayhem. The third fall also went to Getz on a smother in seven minutes, after Referee George Lopez made him take off a protective armband. Getz had used the elastic band effectively across Kiser's face, much to his discomfort—and the crowd's.

Pierre LaBelle wasn't up to taking Gordon Hessel last night and dropped two of three falls. Hassel copped the opener in 13 minutes on a flying scissors, dropped the second to LaBelle in nine minutes on a double grapevine and came back to win the third with a reverse headlock in three minutes.

Dory Funk and Johnny Carlin put on a good show in wrestling 20 minutes to a draw in the preliminary bout.

Sundown Will Hold Tourney

SUNDOWN, Jan. 29 (Special)—The seventh annual Sundown High school invitational bsaketball tournament will get under way at 6 p. m. tonight.

Limelight teams of the tourney were Levelland high's Lobos and the Sundown high team, the defending champion, and which only Monday night took Levelland to a 48-33 cleaning.

Favorites among the eight girls teams were New Home and Whiteface.

Seminole High's Indians, another strong Class A team, always capable of upsetting the dope, was considered among the strongest entries.

But there are other stronger teams among both boys and girls entries. In addition to Sundown and Levelland the boys division will include Littlefield, Three Way, Spade, Morton and Smyer.

Other girls teams are entered from Three Way, Morton, Lamesa, Post, Sundown and Smyer.

Levelland and Sundown are even in their series thus far this season. Earlier the Lobos beat Sundown, but Monday night found Doug Ethridge right and he bagged 20 points to even up the issue. Levelland also beat Seminole earlier in the season.

Officials said the tourney would get under way at 6 p. m. Thursday turned "unreasonably" rough.

Two strong girls teams, the Three Way and Post sextets, open the tournament with a game at 6 p. m.

Seminole's Indians get their first tourney test in a 7 p. m. joust with the Three Way five.

The New Home and Smyer girls meet at 8 p. m., and at 9 p. m. Levelland goes against Spade, a team which has given other strong Class A quints trouble all season.

Play will be resumed at 1 p. m. Friday, and the tournament will be concluded Saturday night.

Sundown is currently deadlocked with Tahoka for the District 4-A south zone lead. Levelland is running second to Sudan in the north zone.

FAVORED QUINTETS WIN FIRST ROUND

FLOYDADA, Jan. 29 (Special)—Favored quintets survived first round competition in the Floydada independent basketball tournament here last night, with Petersburg, Flomot, Tulia and Idalou chalking up wins.

Petersburg elimoinated Lockney in the opening tussle of the meet, 43-39, then Flomot edged Crosbyton, 38-33. Tulia's five eked out a 34-32 triumph over the Plainview Jaycees and Flomot beat Ralls, 35-34, to complete the first night slate. Idalou gained a 2-0 win over Brownfield when the Terry county crew failed to appear for their scheduled clash.

Pairings Thursday night send Floydada aginst Kress at 7 o'clock nd Flomot against Petersburg at 8. Tulia battles Idalou at 8 o'clock and Matador tangles with Pnducah in the final tussle at 10.

Joe Louis To Appear In Exhibition Bout

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)— Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion, who will appear in a four-round exhibition match in the coliseum tonight opposing young Bob Foxworth says "I'm gonna be trying to hit somebody like I didn't hit Walcott."

It will be the champion's first appearance in a ring since he was awarded the disputed 15-round decision over Jersey Joe Wilcott in New York last Dec. 5 and Louis says it will also be his last appearance in a Chicago ring. He plans to retire this year.

Abilene High's 1948 Grid Schedule Tough

ABILENE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Abilene High school doesn't know how it could be any tougher unless it played Notre Dame and Michigan.

Coach P. E. Shotwell has mapped a schedule that includes these opponents:

Breckenridge (San Antonio), defending state champion.

Breckenridge and Wichita Falls, two 1947 quarter-finalists.

Odessa, state semi-finalist.

Amarillo, district 1 champion.

Midland, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Big Spring and San Angelo round out the 10-game schedule.

HUSBANDS KNOW BEST

BOSTON (U.P.) — Mrs. Veronica Dangel, voted one of the nation's 10 best-dressed women, told a Boston audience that a husband's judgement on his wife's clothing is usually best. "He is more objective than women friends," she explained. "They may tell you that your new hat looks terrible, then hike off and buy one just like it for themselves."

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Judges at the regional Golden Gloves fights in the Texas Tech gym Monday through Thursday—as well as Referee Bo Sexton—felt better last night following a meeting at the Hotel Hilton. With the memory of past years, when some judges were attacked by disgruntled fight fans, the judges were not entirely convinced that they had a good job.

But Joe Holmes helped to reassure them by announcing that four policemen would be on duty at the fights. Then, as an after thought, he added that he had discovered that Clyde "Bulldog" Turner of the Chicago Bears was a licensed referee. He also wondered whether the judges would like to have him in the ring? There was as complete unanimity of thought as we've ever seen and the great professional football center will be on hand for the bouts.

Bo Sexton had the group laughing with his recounting of an experience he had in a nearby town. There were some amateur bouts and Bo was serving as refree, although he did not act as a judge. After one particularly close fight, a spectator attacked him for the decision, which had gone against his favorite. Bo declared that the man didn't land a blow, but scratched his cheeks so badly that he could not shave for two weeks.

Golden Gloves officials are enthusiastic over indications that this year's show will be the grandest ever staged. There are 69 entries at the present time and such schools as Lockney, Littlefield and others have not sent in team entries yet. The entry blanks reveal that 40 fighters fall in the novice class, while the other 29 will fight in the championship bracket. The welterweight and middleweight divisions boast the greatest number of entries, with the heavier divisions the slimmest.

Of course there are phonies, as there are always. Some people delight in trying to make additional work for officials, a type of humor difficult to understand and more difficult to tolerate. Such names as Peter Panther, I. G. Farben, and the like, merely make it more difficult to keep entry lists straight. More often than not the names are sent in to look funny in print and sometimes the names are real, in which case they are for the purpose of kidding friends.

Actually, the entry blanks do not assume full importance until the applicant weighs-in Monday afternoon, at which time the entry blanks become official. After that, the pairings are made. Despite the fact that probably nine, or more, of the present entry blanks are phony, additional entries this week certainly should provide at lease a total of 80 entrants, the largest number ever to fight here.

Rumor has it that LaVern Roach is to have a "Warmup" fight Feb. 9 in New York, the same night that Marcel Cerdan fights a similar bout in Europe, previous to the two boxers meeting in Madison Square Garden on March 12 . . . Bad news comes for baseball opponents of Hardin-Simmons from Abilene, where Wilton "Hook" Davis is a diamond candidate. If he plays baseball the way he does football, look out . . . The Texas Aggies may meet Army on a home-and-home basis in 1950 and 1951 . . . Polk Robison takes his Texas Tech cagers to Lubbock High school next week for practice, due to the Golden Gloves. An exhibition game might give each squad valuable practice.

Everything Tossed At Basket Goes In

Weird Triple Overtime Game Ends With Score Of 118-116

GALLIPOLIS, O., Jan. 29 (AP)—"Just about everything the boys threw at the basket went in."

That's how Rio Grande, (O.) coach Bob Stoneburner describes the weird 118 to 116 triple overtime decision his team took from winless Wilberforce Church university last night.

"I've never seen anything like it. Every player on each team seemed to be coming through with the greatest scoring night of his career."

The game, played at Gallipolis—Rio Grande's home—ended at 104-all after the regulation 40 minutes. And after the first five-minute overtime the score was 114-all.

The weary players rested a couple minutes, went at break-neck speed for three more—and the score was still tied—at 116.

The two school coaches put their heads together and decided the first team to score two points in the third overtime would win, although collegiate rules permit five-minute overtimes until one team is ahead when an extra period ends.

Guard Jack Canady of Rio Grande was fouled immediately after the last overtime began. He sank his charity toss. A few seconds later Newt Oliver — Rio Grande's one-man scoring gang—was "hacked."

He calmly sank the free shot—and his 59th point. That was the ball game.

Eight Cage Teams In Fort Worth Tourney

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Eight top-ranking high school quintets have entered the first annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Invitational Basketball tournament scheduled here Friday and Saturday.

Teams to compete include Childress, Vernon, Electra, Quanah, Wichita Falls, Bowie, Nocona and Olney. Bowie is the defending champion.

Youth Movement On March In Baseball

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP) — The youth movement definitely is on the march in the major baseball leagues.

In sharp contrast to the war years when grizzled and fading veterans were the prime requisites in order to keep baseball alive, big league club owners are launching a drive for young blood which promises to produce the biggest turnover in history.

10-Year Men Reduced

Already it has resulted in reducing the number of 10-year men in the majors to the lowest total in years. The 16 big league spring training camps will present more freshmen than ever before.

Of the approximately 640 players (40-player limit per team) on major league rosters for the coming season, 62 are rookies. A majority of these have never appeared at a big league training camp before. Others have had brief trials but were sent to minor league farms for further development.

Eager to make room for these newcomers, the owners have handed pink slips to 30 men who have graced big league rosters for 10 or more years. This wholesale pruning leaves only 40 members of the select 10-year group, 21 in the American league and only 19 in the National.

Has Been Radical

The National, which in past years often was accused by American league partisans as being "an old man's institution," has been much more radical in its trend toward the younger set than its rival circuit.

Of the 262 major league fledglings, 140 will be wearing National league uniforms when the teams begin preparations next month. The Chicago Cubs, for instance, have 15 players who never before have even been near a big league spring training camp.

LaVern To Get 25 Percent Of Purse In Cerdan Match

PARIS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, French holder of the European middleweight championship, signed today for a ten-round match Feb. 9, with Jean Walzack at the Palais Des Sports.

Meanwhile Cerdan's camp announced the ex-sailor was signing for 30 per cent of the gate to meet LaVern Roach of Plainview, Tex., at Madison Square garden March 12. The former United States Marine will get 25 per cent of the take which is expected to pass the $100,000 mark.

In New York, the Twentieth Century Sporting club said it was negotiating for the match but no contracts had been signed.

Bad Weather Halts Westerner Drills

Lubbock High's Westerners, slated to battle Plainview and Amarillo in important District 1-AA clashes this weekend, were handed a defeat by "Old Man Winter" Wednesday afternoon when a schedule practice session had to be called off because of the unheated Senior High gym.

Coach Harvey Dunn's cagers may not be able to drill today, since the gas conservation measure is still in effect, and the loss of two periods is certain to hamper he Lubbock offense. An intensive drill had been planned to smooth the Westerner floor play and to increase shooting accuracy.

Dunn said last night that the loop tussle with the Plainview Bulldogs Friday night is still slated for the Senior High school gymnasium, but in the event it is unusable the school might ask Tech officials for permission to stage the tilt in the Raider gym.

The Westerners open the second half of the double round-robin circuit competition Saturday night against the Golden Sandstorm at Amarillo.

Occupation of Silesia has changed Poland from a primarily agricultural nation to one with a high industrial potential.

Cash Offered Cage Victors

LEVELLAND, Jan. 29 (Special—South Plains basketball teams don't usually play-for-pay.

That's the way it will be for at least three teams entering the Levelland Junior Chamber of Commerce's second annual independent tournament here.

For the Jaycees this year are going to give the winner of its annual independent cage tournament, which opens Feb. 5 and continues through Feb. 7, $60 in cash as the top prize. The second place five will get $40 and the one placing third $20.

Truett Rattan, Levelland High school coach, is director of the tournament.

One of the first teams to enter was the Hilton Hotel five of Lubbock. Rex Hardin, a Texas Tech student, is that team's manager.

Tournament officials announced Wednesday that the first 12 teams sending in the $10 entry fee and complete roster of players would make up the tourney entry list.

This is the second annual cage tournament to be sponsored by the Jaycees. It will be held in the Levelland High school gymnasium.

Tourney officials had previously considered setting a deadline on entries, but Wednesday ruled that the first 12 entering would round out the list. Each entrant must send along the entry fee and player roster, of course.

Levelland itself has two strong independent teams. There are a score of such strong cage contingents over the South Plains. Two or more teams from Lubbock are expected to enter.

Texas Guard Units Hampered By Inadequate Armory Facilities

By LLOYD LARRABEE
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—The Texas National guard is banking its hopes for housing for the present on towns which build quonset hut armories.

That is the declaration of the State Adjutant General's department in a report on armory facilities, which it admits is "far from encouraging."

Facilities Inadequate

Texas has accepted allocation of 288 guard units, and the 190 federally-recognized units now have a housing situation in keeping with the times.

The guard outfits are put up in warehouses, second stories, barns and stables at county fair grounds, American Legion halls, obsolete city and county facilities—such as weatherbeaten city halls and jails—and quonset huts, army camps and air fields.

Besides the fact that these meeting places are inadequate, the adjutant general's department points out that generally they are too far from town to attract new recruits or keep full attendance for regular enlistees.

In fact, the State of Texas has possession of all or part of only four national guard installations. They are:

Camp Mabry at Austin, which houses the clerical staff of the adjutant general's department.

Parts of Camp Hulen at Palacios and Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells.

The light guard armory at Houston, about 25 years old, which the Adjutant General's department classified as "thoroughly adequate" except that a residential area has moved in around it and there is no training ground.

Guard Units Hampered

The department took a side swipe at the Legislature in referring to its appropriation of the "small sums" of $328,918 for armory maintenance and rentals for the fiscal year to end Aug. 31.

That amount, however, is boosted to $392,972 for the following year, anticipating an increase in the number of units by then.

One thing which has hindered expansion of the Texas National guard, the Adjutant General's department indicates, is the legislature's specific prohibition against use of money appropriated by it for construction of armories.

The department reports that the money actually has been spent largely for security measures to safeguard government property, required by the Departments of the Army and Air Force.

There are now 15 to 20 potential units without homes which cannot get authorization to organize because there is no place to put them, the department's report states.

The greatest success Texas has had recently, the report adds, in providing elbow room for National Guard units is in quonset huts

These armories consist of a cement floor and quonset walls and roof, and the armory board pays rent on them monthly. The state hopes that the rent money may be applied to the building cost, and that some day the state will own them.

Demand For Huts

The quonset hut armories cost about $14,000 apiece, and some 25 towns are in the market for them. A single unit hut now runs 40 feet wide and 120 feet long and 10 have been built.

Looking forward to the time when permanent armories are constructed in these towns, the department's report states the quonset huts then will become subsidiary facilities.

The Adjutant General's department, in addition to its mild slap at the Legislature for low appropriations, also ribbed the federal government for more money.

The report stated that "Texas does not need for its own protection" the 30,110 troops allocated to it. The department added that they were added in the interest of national security and the federal government should pay its way for armories, paying "several dollars" to each state dollar.

Catholic Student Raffle Criticized

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—A complaint that a Catholic student organization was "selling raffle tickets" was filed today in Travis County Court at Law.

The complaint was directed against the Newman club, composed of University of Texas students, and charged it was participating in a raffle in connection with a fund-raising campaign for a new Catholic student center here.

The club, said the Rev. Thomas F. Tierney, assistant pastor of St. Austin's chapel and chaplain of the Newman club, is using four automobiles in the cmapaign. The cars are to be given away March 31.

Rev. Tierney added that the club does not plan to call off the campaign and declared the complaint were filed for ministers of other denominations who oppose the campaign.

Physician Describes Sinus Afflictions

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29 (AP)—A Cornell university neurologist has a theory that sinus trouble may be less prevalent in the Southwest and South than in the bustling, highly competitivve North.

Dr. Harold G. Wolfe, of New York, told the International Post-Graduate Medical assembly of Southwest Texas here yesterday that San Antonio's popularity as a resort for persons afflicted with sinus trouble may be due to the easy-going and genial way of life as well as to its usually balmy climate.

He said he had noted in his hospital practice in New York that persons suffering from complaints of a more or less "nervous" origin frequently dated the beginning of their symptoms back to the time of their arrival in "Yankeeland."

So called "sinus infection," he said, is often the result of nervous tension and general dissatisfaction with life.

Dr. Wolfe said it is quite possible that nervous troubles in general may be less prevalent in the Southwest and South than in the bustling and highly competitive North.

Emergency In Area Is Over

of gas for business houses is concerned. However, it is important these business houses use gas sparingly and continue to conserve gas until termination of the present cold spell." At that time, the company stated it was not in a position to give clearance to industrial consumers or schools using gas. The clearance announcement for schools was given after continued study of weather conditions and gas pressure.

No town has been without gas Wednesday or today—the only interruption during the cold wave having been about six hours' interruption in about 60 per cent of the homes of Levelland Tuesday afternoon and night. "It couldn't have been done without the cooperation — which has been as nearly 100 per cent as anyone could ask for," said C. I. Wall, vice president and assistant general manager of the gas company.

Appreciation Expressed

The gas company appreciation to customers was expressed as follows: "Through your cooperation you have helped us and yourselves. Except in the case of the short interruption at Levelland, you have made it possible for residential gas service to continue without interruption. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding."

Snowfall which began at 7 o'clock Wednesday night measured less than an inch at the weather station here.

Other Temperatures

Temperatures in other towns at 7:30 a. m., as reported to the weather station here, included: Amarillo 11 degrees; Big Spring, 10 degrees; Abilene, 17 degrees; Wink, 5 degrees below zero, and El Paso, 1 degree below zero.

El Paso and Wink were the state's coldest points this morning, having recorded a minimum of minus six degrees, the Associated Press reported.

A fresh sleet storm added to the paralysis of Northeast Texas as the Dallas weather bureau predicted a break soon in the long-drawn cold wave, the Associated Press reported from Dallas.

The latest sleet storm cut morning traffic to a snail's pace in Dallas, with street conditions the worst in the week-long attack of snow, rain and sleet. Buses were out of operation this morning and overloading of streetcars slowed that only means of public transportation to a crawl. Power failures were frequent.

Plenty of Bang Left

The Dallas weather bureau predicted that the cold spell would begin to lose its grip by Friday night, but a forecaster warned:

"There's still plenty of bang left in the current cold spell."

Snow was falling this morning in the Panhandle and South Plains and snow and sleet were general in the north central and northeast sections.

Freezing rain fell in South Texas. Temperatures at 6:30 a. m. included:

Presidio, 10; Pampa and Wichita Falls, 15; Dallas and Fort Worth, 20; Texarkana and Tyler, 21; Waco and Austin, 23; San Antonio, 25; Corpus Christi, 28; Houston and Beaumont, 29; Galveston, 30.

Eleven deaths were blamed directly or indirectly on the current cold spell in Texas. Suffering and loss of weight in cattle were reported from various sections.

Vegetable Loss High

At Houston, County Agent Dan Clinton said Harris County vegetable growers have lost $250,000 in crops because of the storm. Citrus growers in the lower Rio Grande valley believed no harm had been done their crops by 12 hours of below-freezing temperatures, but vegetable growers said a few days would be necessary to determine what damage they had suffered.

Mayor C. A. Bestwick gave the green light for the re-opening of retail business at 6:30 o'clock this morning after having been advised by West Texas Gas Co. that the critical stage of the emergency appeared to have passed.

Warning Is Given

He joined in the gas company's warning, however, that a return to emergency measures might be necessary unless consumers conserve fuel as much as possible. Business operators were asked to hold temperatures to a maximum of about 60 degrees. In homes occupants were urged to heat only necessary rooms and shut off others.

The mayor and the gas company agreed that another serious cold wave would require a return to emergency conservation.

Mayor Bestwick was warm in his praise for the consumer response to the appeals to conserve gas.

"Without the instant and almost 100 per cent response," he commented, "the crisis would have been critical."

Commends Gas Company

He also commended the gas company for its handling of the emergency. At the same time, he said, he has asked the company officials for assurance they are doing what they can to expand their distribution system as a precaution against similar emergencies in the future.

"I have asked the gas company for a report on its expansion program, the progress being made and the prospects for future progress," the mayor asserted. "We understand, of course, that the company has been handicapped by shortages of materials. But that situation is improving. It seems reasonable to expect the gas company can improve the worst of the present inadequate distribution facilities by next winter at the latest. If the company cannot do that, I, for one, want to know why."

From Lamesa, information was received that an estimated inch of snow fell during the night. Many firms were open this morning but industrial users were remaining closed.

Ice At Orange

Sleet fell as far south as the Gulf in the extreme southeast. Orange reported the first serious ice storm in the memory of old residents.

At Austin the state highway department said that practically every road in the state was ice-glazed or sleet-covered, but passable, "if you use chains and care."

Somewhat warmer weather for forecast for the entire state tomorrow. The center of extreme cold had crept southward today from the Panhandle to El Paso.

The natural gas crisis which forced a shutdown of fuel to industries and schools in hundreds of Texas towns yesterday was somewhat improved today. The Lone Star Gas company said in Dallas today that pressure conditions were improving, but that the industrial and school ban would remain in effect for that company's users as long as severe weather continues. Lone Star serves 333 towns in Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

At Laredo, police kept five cars running constantly during the night, carrying hundreds of the city's poor to warm refuges in the courthouse, schools and other public buildings as the unprecented cold caused suffering. The mercury fell to 28 degrees this morning after a low of 27 yesterday.

Car Stripped

driver, of 314 Ave. G. Andrews, a brother, Gene Andrews, 14, and Dale Harris and Willie Stowe, both 17, suffered only head bumps and minor abrasions when the car overturned twice in snow at an underpass near Meadowbrook Golf course on the Plainview road.

The same car, officials said, allegedly when driven by Jeff Mason Cox, 23, of Lubbock, had figured in a mishap a day earlier. Cox posted $100 bond returnable instanter in connection with corporation court charges of negligent collision and failure to leave information at the scene of an accident.

Investigation into the most recent mishap had not been concluded at 2 p. m., officals said.

Negro Is Held

Capt. Pat Davidson and Lee Rice, of the city detective department, held a negro, about 25, for investigation into his alleged possession of a radio taken approximately a month ago from the residence of another Lubbock negro. The radio was recovered.

Another radio was reported stolen. Complainant was J. D. Peters of 1826 Eighth.

Police said they were investigating informal charges of Charles Hansford that a truck and semi-tractor had collided with his car in 2200-block Ave. H and that the driver had failed to stop and leave information at the scene. Description of the truck was supplied to officials.

Joe B. Garcia, a Mexican of Littlefield, informed police that a distributor had been stripped from his car when it was parked on a Lubbock street.

Segregation

regents as "soon as possible" to consider the requests.

The U. S. Supreme court ruled recently, in the case of Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, that states must provide equal educational facilities for whites and negroes although it did not say that they could not be segregated.

A state law makes it illegal for white and negro students to attend classes together.

Was Denied Entrance

Mrs. Fisher had been denied permission to enter the Oklahoma university law school until the Supreme court passed its ruling. Then the state regents set up a separate law school at Langston university, the state's negro college in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Fisher now is appealing to the high court to order the state to enroll her at Oklahoma university immediately.

Fuel Resources

up the necessary emergency supplies, they are authorized to get or borrow supplies from companies in nearby states, as well as the transportation facilities to carry them.

In shortage areas, companies will spread supplies according to the state of local fuel authorities' recommendations of need.

The present program is temporary. Secretary of Interiar J. A. Krug said he will call a public hearing soon to work out a formal industry-wide allocation program to deal with an expected gasoline shortage next summer and fuel oil shortage next winter.

Fannin County Jury To Get Case Today

BONHAM, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — A Fannin county jury today was expected to begin deliberation on whether Woodrow Pritchett is guilty of assault with intent to murder Mayor Dick Self of Honey Grove.

The defense nearly completed its testimony yesterday, and the case was expected to go to the jury sometime today.

Mrs. Vera Pritchett, wife of the defendant, testified yesterday that her husband did nothing to harm Self until officers sought to arrest her husband after the couple started a fight. The assault allegedly occurred last May 29.

State witnesses included Self, Chief of Police J. R. Godwin of Honey Grove and Texas Ranger R. L. Badgett.

The Japanese have been using salted whale meat and blubber in their diets for many years.

Sinful Names For Perfumes Have Appeal

Scents Which Have A Single Flower Odor Are Preferable

BY BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—A woman can get more sex appeal out of a bottle of rosewater than from all the exotic perfume bottles on the shelf, a man said today.

Most of the heavy scents with sinful names were designed to appeal to women rather than men, he said.

Heavy Scent Taboo

This challenger of the provocative perfume ad is Ralph Taylor, vice-president of the Caswell-Drug store, which has been selling perfumes with the toothpaste to assorted Vanderbilts, Goulds and Morgans for most of its 196 years.

"If women really want to get hep," Taylor said, "they should learn that the scents which men associate with feminine attractiveness are light, floral and fresh."

He thinks she ought to know that when a perfume smells exciting to a woman it's probably because it's suggesting a man to her subconscious. It will suggest the same thing to the man she's trying to attract, Taylor said. That's not exciting.

A woman doesn't have to smell of a particular flower to be feminine, of course. But if she wants her perfume to be appealing to men, Taylor said, it should be one in which either a single or a blended flower odor is predominant. She should avoid like the plague the heavy, musky scents. They're strictly male, Taylor said.

Fragile Femininity

Taylor said men know these things without being told. They never buy florals for themselves, he said. But the most masculine of them will buy heavy scents which differ more in name than substance from the exotic things put up to lure the women to the cash register.

And women, he concedes, are learning. Caswell-Massey, which makes its own perfume and probably carries a larger stock of other fine perfumes than any other pharmacy, sold more floral than heavy scents last Christmas for the first time in years.

Taylor attributes that to the change in fashion and the new accent of fragile femininity.

As a man, he's all for it.

Situation Gets Worse

The Ohio river valley was one of the coldest regions in the nation today, and the situation there was getting worse. More than 20,000 steelworkers, miners and rivermen were idled in the Pittsburgh area for the third consecutive day.

Eleven coal mines shut down in western Pennsylvania when ice choked the rivers and prevented barges from hauling out coal. Production was cut by an estimated 40,000 tons a day.

Thousands of homes were without heat throughout the nation. In many cities, gas companies asked residents to shut off their hot water heaters and conserve fuel any way possible.

Colder On Friday

The extreme cold extended eastward and southward from its center in the Ohio river valley today. Philadelphia experienced its coldest weather of the year. It was expected to remain cold in New England through tonight and turn colder Friday. The temperature in the north and central portions fo New England was generally near zero or below, with a minimum of -19 reported at Presque Isle, Me.

but not one story in opposition to zoning. That means that Mr. Jones is just interested in showing one side of zoning—his side.

"I don't like a policy of that sort in a newspaper, and I don't think other good citizens like it. I'm not going along.

"Founding the University of Houston and helping put on the medical center is a big, uphill job. I don't see any reason to keep on helping these things when Mr. Jones can elect his mayor as soon as he gets back from the East and things in the city immediately go rotten.

"It has beena pleasure to help build this city up to now, but Jesse Jones has been away from here most of the time for the last 25 or 30 years and has come back to Houston and decided with the influence of the press here to run our city, so I am going to give the city to Jesse and his crowd."

Saturday Midnight Deadline On Taxes

Those who have not obtained poll taxes or exemption certificates—or who have not paid ad valorem taxes to the state, county, city and school district—must do so before Saturday midnight, if they get under the deadline wire.

Steady payments were reported this afternoon at all tax-levying units.

J. B. Johnston, county tax assessor-collector, said the number that had obtained poll taxes and exemption certificates "is approaching 15,000." Two poll tax sub-stations, in Mark Halsey Drug store No. 1 and at Wylie's Drug store, were assisting his office, Johnston said. That at Senior High school remained closed pending reopening of school after a gas conservation holiday, but will be operated Friday and Saturday.

Theft Suspect Given Suspended Sentence

James Lewis, 30, was allowed suspension of a five-year sentence this morning for felony theft by bailee.

He waived a jury and pleaded guilty before Judge G. V. Pardue of 99th district court.

He had been returned here Tuesday afternoon from Atlanta, Ga., to face a grand jury indictment charging he, on Oct. 10, converted a pistol of Harry W. Hubbard to his own use and benefit. He had contracted to repair and refinish the weapon, the January term indictment further charged.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said Jack Brooks, 23, of Dallas, may be tried this week on a burglary indictment.

Brooks, on March 27, broke and entered C. D. Shamburger Lumber company yard here. He was arrested and brought here Tuesday by Texas Ranger W. E. Renfrow.

George T. Bridges of Corsicana, charged in connection with the same burglary, was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary here Oct. 23, then was delivered to Amarillo for trial of another felony charge.

Two other men, both of whom reportedly are held by another state, also are charged with the lumber yard burglary, as well as burglaries in other places.

Young Convict And Girl Friend Found In Abandoned Mica Mine

BAKERSVILLE, N. C., Jan. 29. (U.P.)—A 23-year-old escaped convict who hid for 14 months in abandoned mountain mineshafts and lived on the meat from stolen cattle he butchered for himself was back in prison today.

Officers captured Fred Lowery, convict from Three Mile, N. C., and an 18-year-old girl who reportedly had been living with him in a deserted mica mine near here after a brief gun battle near the mouth of the mine.

Trapped In Mine

Sheriff Sam C. Gouge said that the girl, Lillian Autrey, was being held for questioning.

Lowery, who was serving eight to 20 years for murder and forgery when he escaped from a prison camp Nov. 20, 1946, gave himself up when officers trapped him in the mine.

"He wanted to fight a little," Gouge said, "but he surrendered when we shot at him."

The convict came out of the mineshaft, the sheriff said, his face heavily bearded and his clothing dirty and in tatters. But the girl barricaded herself in with a Winchester rifle and apparently intended to shoot it out with the officers.

Girl Is Stubborn

"She wouldn't come out till we shot down the shaft a few times," Gouge said, "and then she told me, 'I should have shot you'."

Gouge said officers had been searching for over a year for the convict they knew was lurking in mines and terrorizing the countryside. Apparently Lowery kept alive by breaking into houses for food and killing cattle.

Inside the mine officers found bedding, a fire and a side of beef.

Gouge said the girl had been living with Lowery for about two months, apparently having met him through her brother, also an escaped convict.

The sheriff said the girl was unclothed when she was captured at the mine.

The company has asked the Federal Power commission for permission to extend its facilities through Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts to Boston.

Mexico Dope Ring Is Said Smashed

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—The attorney general's office today acted quickly to smash the northern Mexico dope ring allegedly headed by Cesar Lavafigno, multimillionaire hotel and apartment house owner, who was arrested here yesterday.

The attorney general's office announced the arrest of one of Lavafigno's alleged partners, who was identified only as a "man of good social position" and a "well-known businessman."

Meanwhile, Lavafigno and his bodyguard, Felipe de la Roca, were reported to have submitted statements to authorities in Mazatlan, where they were taken after their arrest yesterday. Contents of their statements were not revealed.

Lavafigno and De La Rova were picked up by police as they were about to board a train for Sonora state.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29 (AP)—U. S. members of the joint Mexican-U. S. Foot and Mouth Disease commission are withholding judgment on a vaccine produced by Mexican scientists to fight the disease among cattle.

U. S. members said until the vaccine, a Mexican government project, is tested in the field "we will not be able to say what, if any, value it has."

No U. S. veterinarians were invited to take part in development of the vaccine nor were any consulted.

Paul Henreid, Now A Producer, Wants More Realism In Films

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29 (AP) — At a time when most film stars are hunting for social and career security, Paul Henreid is climbing out on a limb with his own production.

The actor is producing "Hollow Triumph" at Eagle—Lion, and I mean producing. He is not the swivel-headed type of producer-star who assumes the post for reasons other than artistic. A serious-minded gent, he is making his own decisions. When I found him in his office, he was up to his thighs in problems.

Stories Diluted

One of his main concerns is protecting the script from attacks by the Johnston office and Eagle-Lion higher-ups.

"This is the story of an outlaw who commits a series of crimes because he is naturally bad," Henreid related. "They want us to include some justification for his actions, but there can be none. He is driven to crime by his warped personality."

The actor is aiming to turn out an adult drama, he declared.

"The tendency today is to cut or dilute a strong story to make it suitable for both adults and children. Producers are forced by censors to omit or water down episodes in which sex, crime or unhealthy emotions are strongly portrayed. Thus, the public has to go to books and plays for realistic drama.

Powell Drama

Bogart and Bacall plan to race their boat from San Pedro to Ensenada, Mexico, in March. . . . Jim Davis, Bette Davis' new co-star, nixed Warners and strangely enough, wasn't put on suspension. Maybe it was his attitude: "If they don't like it, I can always go back to the oil business.

"To the ends of the earth" (Col.) carries the semi-documentary technique of adventure yarn to a world-wide stage. A believable cast headed by Dick Powell makes the story (an international chase after a narcotics ring) a thrilling event.

Longview News-Journal Innovation Makes Rain-Soaked Papers A Thing Of The Past

BY BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

"The New Look" has become such an over-worked phrase that it isn't new anymore. But when a newspaper gets said New Look, it's news.

When rains came to East Texas recently, subscribers of the Longview News-Journal virtually had to wring out their papers before they could read them.

Wrapped In Wax Paper

But Circulation Manager Benny Barrett came up with an idea to remedy the situation. Now when weather is bad, the Longview papers are delivered to subscribers wrapped in heavy wax paper to protect them from the elements.

The "New Look" in headlines: The Bexar County Commissioners Court recently let pay day for county employes roll around before they had acted on the budget for the new year.

The San Antonio Evening News summed up its story on the situation with a headline reading: "County's Neros Fiddling While Employes Burn."

And the Edinburg Valley Review carried a story the other day about a window-smasher who took five shoes from a store. Read the headline: "2.5 Pairs Shoes Stolen Here."

Edited In A Cave

The Santa Anna News, which celebrated its 62nd birthday recently, has come a long way to gain any New Look which it might have.

Founded in January, 1886, by Walter Weldon, the newspaper first was published in a cave on the north side of West Santa Anna mountain.

Wayne Laroux hitched his horse to a parking meter in Tyler the other day and allegedly failed to deposit a coin in the gadget.

Says the Tyler Morning Telegraph, "Had Laroux been given a ticket, it would have been interesting to see just what the courts of this atomic age would have ruled."

Raise In Pay For Government Workers Is Talked In Capital

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — There's talk in Congress of raising the pay of government workers. It's not very excited talk.

That would include those making under and over $10,000 a year. The $10,000 is pretty much a dividing line.

No one can come up through the government's civil service system and, while still a civil service worker, make more than $9,975. That's tops.

To make $10,000 or more an official has to be elected or appointed. He can't be in civil service.

Named By President

For example: The three commissioners who run civil service were appointed by the President. Each makes $10,000.

There are 1,360 who make $10,000 or over, including the President.

Today in the government's executive branch, and that includes the President, there are 2,022,229 workers.

(This figure does not include people who work for Congress or around the courts. They're not in this story.)

The average pay of the government workers is between $2,800 and $2,900 a year, according to the Civil Service commission.

This will show the range of pay in the civil service system:

It runs from the lowest pay—$1,756 for typists and messengers and $2,168 starting pay for stenographers—to $9,975 for bureau chiefs.

Those civil service workers get paid according to the classification in which they work, since there's a fixed pay for each classification.

Got Raise In 1946

Civil service workers got a raise of about 14 percent a year in 1946 from Congress. Postal workers got a little more.

There are bills in congress now to give the civil service workers, and that includes postal workers, another raise.

Yesterday Agriculture Secretary Anderson told the Senate's civil service committee that those getting $10,000 and more should get a raise. Why?

To get good men to work for the government—a number making $10,000 a year have quit for better pay in business—and to meet high living costs since some of those $10,000-and-over jobs have been frozen for years.

For example: since 1847 the pay for collector of customs in New York has been $12,000.

Other Figures Cited

The President's pay is $75,000 a year. It's been that since 1909. Pay for members of the Federal Trade commission has been $10,000 since 1914.

And the pay for members of the President's cabinet has been $15,000 a year since 1925.

In 1946 Congress gave itself a pay boost from $10,000 a year to about $15,000.

Bills are being readied in Congress now to raise those $10,000-and-over people from $1,000 to $5,000 or more a year. But that doesn't mean Congress will ever do anything about the bills.

Arvelo Denies Plot Charges

GUATEMALA, GUATEMALA, Jan. 29. (AP)—President Juan A. Arvelo called "completely false" today charges that he was helping plot a revolution in Nicaragua.

The accusations were made yesterday in Managua, Nicaragua, by Anastasio Somoza, Nicaraguan minister of war and former president. He said Guatemala was the focal center for a revolutionary plot.

Wants Freedom

"Emiliana Chamorro, Toribio Tijerino and Gustavo Manzanares, with the aid of President Arevalo, are planning an invasion of Nicaragua," his statement said. "We are ready for it.

President Arevalo said he was not interested in any revolutions outside his own country, but only in preserving freedom for Guatemala's people.

The Guatemalan Ministry of Foreign Affairs said Somoza's statement was without foundation.

Specie Of Tree Which Belonged To Era Of Dinosaurs Found In Central China Valley

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 29 — Trees from earth's earlier ages, supposed to have become extinct with the last of the dinosaurs, will soon be growing in American botanic gardens. Seed collected from survivors found in a hidden valley of Central China have been brought to the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard university, and will be planted there and in nine other tree collections in this country, as well as two in England.

The tree, which is a fairly close relative of the Redwoods or Sequoias of California, has long been known from its fossil remains, for it had world-wide distribution millions of years ago. Metasequois was the name given to it by botanists on the basis of these fossils. No living Metasequoias have been found.

Rare Treasure

The discovery was first announced about two years ago, by Chinese botanists who at first thought the tree was a peculiar kind of fir. As soon as identification of their specimens showed what a rare botanic treasure they had found, Prof. E. D. Merrill, long director of the Arnold arboretum, arranged for an expedition to collect seed for planting in as many places as possible, to insure continued survival of the species.

According to the Chinese descriptions, Metasequoia trees grow over one hundred feet high and have trunks seven and one-half feet in diameter. Unlike the American Sequoias, but like the American Larch or Tamarack and the Swamp Cypress, they shed their foliage in winter.

Church Fund Gaming Devices Condemned

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP)— Members of the Episcopal church in the Dallas Diocese have been asked by Bishop C. Avery Mason to refrain from using "gambling devices" to raise church funds.

Bishop Mason told an annual Diocese convention lasts night:

"There is the problem of lotteries and other gambling devices to raise funds for the church. The fact is that members of the church have been injured and hurt. It has always appeared unseemly and strikes at the very core of stewardship."

People Seek Wallace "Influence" In USSR

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (U.P.)— Henry Wallace, third party candidate for President, complained today that letter writers keep begging him to use him "influence" with the Soviet Union.

"Some assume I have spent a considerable part of my life hobnobbing with the Politburo," Wallace protested in the New Republic. "A Minnesota man, who has produced more than 10,000 strawberry seedlings, wants me to get some special Russian varieties for him. Another man wrote wanting me to help him get his Russian wife out of the USSR. What these people don't realize is that I have no influential friends in Russia."

Wallace also complained about what happened to his hat the last time he checked it in a New York hotel.

"When I reclaimed it, he said, "I found somebody had thoughtfully inscribed in it, 'Moscow, December, 1945, Joseph Stalin.'"

REFLECTION COSTLY

WEST MINOT, Me. (U.P.)—Reflection of the sun from bright metal strips on his plane's wingtip cost Roland R. Maheux, airport owner, $7,000. The rays focused on the fabric of a nearby plane, starting a fire that burned four planes and a hangar.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv

Russia Protests At Air Base's Opening

Violation Of Italian Treaty Is Charged; Soviet Protest Is Sent To Sec. Marshall

LONDON, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—Russia has protested to the United States and Great Britain that reactivation of the Mellaha air base in Tripoli violates the Italian treaty, Radio Moscow said today.

The United States announced two weeks ago that it would put Mellaha field, officially known as Wheeling field, back into operation as an Air Transport Command refueling station. The field is in the North African desert a few miles outside Tripoli.

Moscow said the Russian protest was made to Secretary of State George C. Marshall on Jan. 21 by Alexander S. Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador to the U. S. A. similar protest was addressed to the British government at the same time.

Moscow, quoting a Tass dispatch from New York, said the Russian protest "called attention to the fact that the conclusion of a separate Anglo-American agreement on establishment of a United States military air base in the former Italian colony placed under temporary British administration, contradicted terms of the peace treaty with Italy.

"In view of this, the Soviet government believes the afore-mentioned agreement to be unlawful."

The reason the field was being reactivated, U. S. officials said, was to help handle the heavy transport traffic to Greece, Turkey and the Middle East. East of Mellaha are other bases at Cairo and Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

MOTORISTS CAN AID SHORTAGE

Use Of Regular Instead Of Premium Gas Is Suggested

AMARILLO, Jan. 29. (AP)— Col. Earnest O. Thompson, head of the Texas Railroad commission, is of the opinion that Texas motorists can help ease the heating oil shortage by using regular instead of premium grade gasoline.

In a speech here yesterday, Thompson said he believed that "consumers and producers, refiners and marketers, all working together can meet this challenge in typical American fashion."

Clark Commended

"The refining industry, I am sure will immediately turn out more heating oil and less gasoline at the moment," he said.

"The consumers of gasoline can contribute to this great conservation move and save 35,000,000 barrels of crude oil annually by using regular gasoline instead of premium. No added mileage or horsepower is given or even promised by the use of premium gasoline. You can save two cents a gallon on your gasoline bill and can thereby contribute your part toward the saving of 35,000,000 barrels of crude oil per year, which immediately can be made into heating oil."

He commended U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and the Justice department for a ruling that the industry may school resources to meet the current fuel soil shortage.

Thompson was in Amarillo for a gas proration hearing or proposals to line Sherman and Hansford counties to the Hugoton field of Oklahoma and Kansas. Decision on the testimony yesterday will be announced later.

Physicist Works On New Musical Gadget

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — The symphony orchestra is being mechanized.

Physicist R. B. Watson of the University of Texas research laboratory said today he is working on a musical instrument producing the combined tones of all instruments in a symphony orchestra.

Work on the instrument is still in the early stages, Watson said. And when it is completed, there will be another drawback: Finding somebody who can play it.

Watson hoped someday the "thing" becomes part of an all-electrical symphony orchestra. He uses a television camera and electrical circuits to produce tones on the instrument, and hopes to produce complete cnotrol of tones in terms of fundamental pitch, volume and quality.

Tire Firm Employes Get Salary Raises

BAYTOWN, Jan. 29 (AP)—The General Tire and Rubber company has granted approximately 350 employes at its Baytown plant an additionl cost-of-living bonus of 5½ cents an hour, Manager Ted Lyman revealed in a notice posted on plant bulletin boards today.

Hourly employes already were receiving a 36-cents an hour bonus in excess of their base pay.

New Cabinet Is Formed In Iraq's Crisis

BAGHDAD, Jan. 29. (U.P.)—Mohammed El Sadr, former president of the Iraqi senate by appointment of the crown, formed a new cabinet today to carry Iraq through a violent wave of anti-British rioting.

The new cabinet was reported to include three former premiers among other political figures who had been national leaders for the past 20 years. Sadr, a shiek of the Shia sect, is regarded as a moderate.

Flees In Disguise

The new cabinet replaces the fallen government of former Premier Saleh Jabr, who fled in disguise to Amman, the capital of Trans-Jordan, to escape arrest yesterday for signing the Anglo-Iraqi treaty.

The new cabinet appeared to throw Iraq completely into the anti-British camp despite the fact that Britain has huge oil concessions and two RAF bases in the country.

Under the constitution of 1925, the senate is appointed by the king. However, King Faisal II is only nine years old and the duties of the throne have been assumed by the regent and heir apparent, Crown Prince Abdul-Ilah.

Repudiation Revealed

It was the crown prince who announced Iraq's repudiation of the treaty, signed by Jabr at Portsmouth, England, on Jan. 15. He also announced Jabr's resignation Tuesday during anti-British rioting by 100,000 demonstrators in which 20 persons were killed and 235 wounded.

Four members of Jabr's cabinet resigned with Jabr just before he fled the country. They remained and heavy police guards were placed around their homes.

One of the events that led to Jabr's resignation was a radio warning to the rioters that the demonstrations would be quelled with force if necessary. This enraged the Iraqi and demonstrations increased.

Poles May Get Savings Edict

WARSAW, Jan. 29 (AP)—A law to make the Polish people save for what they need was expected to be enacted by parliament today.

The Finance ministry proposed the law yesterday. It did not estimate how much would be saved each year under the plan.

Held In Special Fund

The compulsory community savings measure would require workers earning 240,000 to 400,000 zlotys ($2,400 to $4,000) a year to save one per cent of their incomes, or 2,400 to 4,000 zlotys ($24 to $40).

Those getting up to 600,000 zlotys would save two per cent; those making more, three per cent.

Private industrial and commercial enterprises would be compelled to save 3.7 per cent on a quarter of a million zlotys annually and up to as high as 18 per cent on 6,000,000 zlotys or more annually.

The compulsory savings would be held in a special fund. When a depositor wanted to buy furniture or a home or needed medical attention, he would be permitted to draw upon his savings. Private businesses might draw upon their deposits to expand.

UNITED STATES HAS ALL KINDS

Weatherman Comes Out With Explanation Of Odd Doings

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — The weatherman came forth today with an explanation.

He explained why there is a drouth in California, a heat wave in Alaska, and why there have been cold waves just about everywhere else.

Gordon E. Dunn, senior forecaster of the U. S. weather bureau here, said that most of the cold weather in the last six weeks has descended from central Canada, instead of Alaska.

North winds have been unusually strong, he said, and have driven the masses of frigid air further south than usual as a result, cold weather has threatened Florida's citrus crop, five inches of snow has fallen in parts of New Mexico, and subfreezing temperatures have covered all of Texas.

The drouth in California, Dunn said, is due to a high pressure area over the plateau region of Idaho and Nevada. This has diverted storms blowing in off the Pacific ocean far to the north.

These storms, Dunn said, usually bring warm, moist air to California. But this year they are moving into Alaska and sending temperatures there to abnormal peaks.

Meanwhile, California has been getting dry northwesterly winds.

Dunn said it all added up to "bad weather."

Too Many Women Ruin Stickup Plans

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29. (AP)—A stickup man took too many women along when he robbed a Canal street jewelry store, and an hour and 22 minutes later police had arrested one man and two women in connection with the affair.

The police also had recovered all the loot — between $50,000 and $70,000 in unset diamonds.

Superintendent of Police A. A. Watters said one of the woman, surprised when she saw a holdup develop from what she had believed was a shopping trip, sneaked out of the store and went next door to notify police while the robbery was still in progress.

New Laws And Cash Required

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester returned here today from his two-day inspection trip to Texas' prison system apparently sold on recommendations for a completely revamped penal program that would require new laws and more money.

The program which General Manager O. B. Ellis recommended to bring the state's criticism-trafied prison set-up out of "antiquation" is one calling for physical improvements, a stabilized financial plan, and a merit system for promotion and demotion of prisoners.

Accord Is Indicated

As the governor treked through mud, rain and ice during the past two days for a first-hand view of nine of the state's thirteen prison units, he indicated complete accord with Ellis' recommendations.

The new manager apparently pulled no punches in describing certain equipment such as the prison foundary as "so much junk" and pointing to unsanitary conditions such as open commodes adjoining kitchens as being on his eradication lists.

Ellis called for better housing and better salaries for employes, more fences both for security and to provide outdoor recreation for inmates, more laundries and bath houses, better refrigeration facilities, and a diversified industria alnd agricultural program that could furnish most of the prison's needs.

Asks For Profit

He asked for laws that would permit the prison to sell its production to other state institutions at a profit margin to the prison and a savings margin to the other institutions. At present the prison must sell on a cost basis.

Ellis recommended that Central farm be industrialized in to a model prison that would provide "a hope" for prisoners elsewhere to work toward as a reward for a good record. The Ramsey agricultural farm would be converted into a proving ground for such "promotions" and the "walls" at Huntsville would be converted in to an isolation unit for "incorrigibles" whom the state might consider non-rehabilitative.

In his two-day tour, Jester visited the Huntsville headquarters, Wynn, Goree, Ramsey, Retrieve, Clemsn, Darrington, Harlem and Central farms.

Called Very Sound

He repeatedly referred to Ellis' recommendations as "very sound."

Jester's inspection yesterday centered at Central farm where he viewed the prison's dwindling food stores where authorities estimated only a three-months' supply of

That Girl on Broadway says self-admiration often proves the old saw that there's no accounting for tastes!

* * *

We see in the papers where a Missouri man has been using the same razor blade for two years.

He probably just hasn't figured out how to get rid of it!

PREFERRING to listen to Mister District Attorney and/or Archie the Bartender, we didn't hear Mr. Jester's recent radio oration about what a great governor he is. Therefore, we don't know how interesting the speech was, or wasn't.

However, our guess is that more interesting would be the fact about who paid for the costly radio network time, and why.

That likely would be keenly interesting, especially since this is a campaign year!

"This is the season of the year," snarled the Office Grouch, "when I would be enjoying a breathing spell from my hay fever—if I didn't have sinusitis!"

A GOOD many people, judging from the number of queries, are wondering how it feels to fly the ocean.

Despite the fact that thousands of people have hopped the "big drinks" on both sides of our country, a lot of those who haven't seem to think there is some trick to it, or that the act should scare the pants off the passenger.

The unvarnished truth is ,that flying the ocean—any ocean—is more comfortable for the passengers than flying over land, and in some instances is less dangerous.

It is more comfortable, because the air over the water isn't as frequently rough as it is over land. Ocean flying is less dangerous than flying over mountainous country.

Furthermore, since most ocean flying is atop the overcast, the passenger sees very little of the water and, psychologically, is prevented from thinking about what would happen in case of a forced landing at sea.

As a two-time short-snorter, we must confess that the most perturbing thing about flying the ocean with the Army is the "briefing" you get before boarding the plane.

Everybody who jumps the ocean with the Army Air Transport Command has to listen to a lecture about what to do in case of a landing at sea; has to learn how to wear and operate a parachute, a Mae West (which is an inflated jacket to keep one afloat in the water) and how to pump up rubber life-rafts which are standard equipment on all overseas planes.

Then the prospective passenger sees a talking movie of an actual crash at sea; what is done and when; who bosses the proceedings and how plane-wrecked people keep themselves alive while bobbing on the ocean awaiting rescue, if any.

It's all very interesting and more than a little disconcerting, especially when one considers that bellying a plane down on the ocean is a rough as a similar operation on the ground.

The fact that you clamber aboard the plane and head for the ocean immediately after the lecture and movie also is further troublesome to the individual with any imagination.

FLYING to and from Europe by way of Bermuda and the Azores, the navigators and pilots have to hit two islands which, when compared to the expanse of water between the coasts, are little more than dots.

But navigators, like pilots, have become very proficient in recent years and a good one rarely misses his shot by more than a few miles.

Going into Lagens Field, in the Azores, for instance, Chief Navigator Joe Baliga, an AAF captain, lost less than 10 miles, due to wind drift. The airline distance between Bermuda and the Azores Island of Terciera is 2,144 miles, or almost as much as the longer hops in the Pacific.

As a matter of fact, the flying around the European continent done by members of the European Command inspection party of which I was a member, was infinitely more dangerous than our over-water winging. Over the continent the weather most of the time was very "soupy" and at times one could look out a plane window and not be able to see the wing-tip. All our landings, save two or three, were by direction from the tower, via the AGC.

Of course, it would be very embarrassing, indeed, if something went haywire 1,000 miles from land. But, for that matter, running into mountains is not calculated to lengthen a life-span.

If we had an invitation to observe occupation conditions in the Pacific, we'd go in a minute, despite the long over-water flights entailed. After all, it's a good, old Presbyterian custom to remember that "what is to be will be, and you can't rub it out!"

BY DREW PEARSON: ARMY FAVORED OVER NAVY AT WHITE HOUSE

Ex-Solon Lobbies For Power Companies

WASHINGTON — For thirteen long years under Franklin Roosevelt the navy had the inner track at the White House. Now, under ex-captain Harry Truman, former commander of Battery D, 129th Field artillery, the situation is reversed.

PEARSON

Political reports from various parts of the country indicate that Truman's loyalty to his personal doctor, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, will cost him perhaps a million votes. The public seems to resent the fact that Graham, sitting at the right hand of the President, speculated in the grain market even more than they resent the speculation of Ed Pauley, who wasn't so close to the President. Nevertheless, Truman remains loyal to the army doctor.

Meanwhile, almost unnoticed by the public is the fact that Rear Adm. James Foskett has left the White House for "sea duty." Admiral Foskett is the President's former naval aide. Actually the reason for his exit is not necessity for going to sea, but the fact that he had a row with the army—the army in this case represented by Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan.

General Vaughan, a former manufacturer's representative in St. Louis, who used to train with Truman in the Missouri National guard, has got the President into all sorts of personal pickles. But despite that fact, he continues to be one of the most influential White House hangers-on.

Ex-Congressman Jones

It looks as if Ex-Congressman Robert Jones of Ohio wanted to have his cake and eat it too. Though now a member of the highly important Federal Communications commission, Jones went back to Congress last week to help lobby through a piece of legislation which is God's gift to the power companies and also strikes a body blow at western reclamation.

Last week this same issue came up for debate in the House of Representatives after a compromise had been worked out by GOP Congressman Dick Welch of San Francisco and unanimously approved by the Public Lands and Surveys committee.

But old guard Republicans, backed by a powerful private-utilities lobby, opposed the compromise. For some time the debate seesawed back and forth. On every vote the power lobby lost. Finally, Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana, sympathetic to the power lobby, moved adjournment.

That night, the power-lobby boys took advantage of the lull. They rallied their forces and had all their congressmen on deck when debate opened next day. Also on deck was Ex-Congressman Robert Jones of Ohio who for years had fought the power-lobby battle on the appropriations committee, but now is supposed to be spending all his time on the Federal Communications commission.

Jones appeared on the floor of the House and held whispered consultations with key congressmen.

In the end, he got his way. The power lobby, defeated the day before, rallied enough votes to send the compromise reclamation bill back to committee.

Jones and his power-lobby friends were so strong that the reclamation program was set back even to the year 1902, at which time Teddy Roosevelt first started in earnest the water development of the west.

THE communist newspaper in Paris, Humanite, recently published a violent diatribe against this columnist and the Friendship Train, among other things accusing the people of Strasbourg of spending more money on Friendship Train posters than the cost of Friendship food. Here is the reason why the Communists were sore.

When several floods hit Eastern France, the Friendship Train committee in Paris rushed several truckloads of flour to Strasbourg and the surrounding area. This flour was made into small loaves of white bread and distributed to the homeless with a label which read "From The Friendship Train." The people of Strasbourg were so delighted at getting this food that they themselves took the initiative and printed these labels.

Following this, a group of Strasbourg citizens set up a committee called "Pain de L'Amitie," which has been producing 10,000 "Petit Pain" (White rolls) each day from flour brought in by the Friendship Train. These rolls are given to school children daily, together with a small portion of sweet milk which arrived on the Friendship Train, plus soup made from Friendship Train dried beans.

This program will last approximately two months and should have an important effect upon the health of the children. Apparently the Communists also thought it would have an important effect upon their future friendship with the United States.

Auburn, N. Y., is famous for its stay-at-home folks. Guests at the huge state prison there are at-home practically all the time. However, Auburn allowed two of its leading citizens to migrate to Washington, D. C. and Washingtonians would gladly give one of them back to Auburn.

He is John Taber, chairman of the House Appropriations committee and watchdog of the federal budget. The other Auburnite is Taber's secretary, Amelia Aveduti, and Washingtonians are quite happy to have her around. In addition to being one of the prettiest and most popular damsels on Capitol Hill, Miss Aveduti also is a slogan-coiner.

The other day, hoping to get her boss in a good mood so he would excuse her from work early, she concocted a new slogan for Taber's main obsession, the Republican party. On a big cardboard poster, which she placed prominently in the office, she wrote:

Don't Be a Blam Fool Vote Republican in 1948.

HER plans, however, backfired. For the slogan reminded Taber that he had to write a long letter to the Republican National committee. Miss Aveduti dutifully took the long dictation, though it caused her to miss a dinner engagement. But the following day she really hit the ceiling.

When she looked at her slogan, she discovered that some mischievous visitor had inserted "and" before the word "Vote."

THE business leaders down at Seminole have adopted a couple of unusual policies of late, policies which might well be followed in other cities, including Lubbock—which ain't too big to try some new things occasionally.

First and foremost, the Seminole Chamber of Commerce makes honorary members of individuals living away from Seminole who have at some time or another, given a boost to Seminole. An annual membership card, noting the bestowal of the honor, is sent each individual chosen for such attention.

Another thing Seminole is doing is, in the form of a greeting to new arrivals—to babies, that is, born in the Gaines county capital.

To each baby making an initial appearance in Seminole goes a card from Mayor D. H. Starling. It reads:

"On behalf of the Citizens of Seminole, Texas, the City officials, and the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, we wish to take this timely opportunity of welcoming you into the world, through the portals of our City.

"Birth in Seminole is a privilege we feel confident you will proudly treasure through the years and we know you will justify the confidence reposed in you by progressing to purposeful maturity and good citizenship and patriotism, wherever you may live."

Not bad, eh?

A dignified looking man got on a Lubbock bus the other day carrying a pair of women's shoes. Evidently, he had collected them from a repair shop and was taking them home to his wife.

A man sitting across the bus aisle appeared interested. Finally, he leaned over, tapped the dignified gent on the knee and, with a knowing wink, said:

"That's the stuff, brother! Don't let her gad about!"

By the way, gents, speaking of women's shoes, have you checked your wife's clothes closet lately?

Five'll getcha 10 she's got enough shoes to start a shoe store!

ONE Man's Opipion: Mayor Clarence Bestwick will run for a second term if he is convinced there is a general demand for his continuation in office. He has been a good mayor. He has worked hard at his job. He has faced issues, on the whole, squarely and, with the balance of the commission, has tackled some of the knottiest problems in Lubbock's history.

If you believe Mr. Bestwick has done a good job and that his knowledge of municipal conditions is such that Lubbock will profit by his staying on the job another two years, tell him so.

To be perfectly honest, we expect to do just that next time we happen to run across Hizzoner.

Don't Look Now, But Your Slip Is Showing

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"EVERY wife ought to work for one week in her husband's office," says a wife who did just that, and was glad to get back to her job as a full-time housewife. "If she did," the correspondent added, "she would ever afterwards meet him at the door in the evenings with a chair ready to carry him into the house."

MILLETT

It IS too bad that most wives have so little understanding of the demands the breadwinner's job makes on him in the course of a day.

Going downtown to an office sounds so simple to the woman who stays home.

She can't understand why he comes home at night tired out, and more in a mood for peace and quiet than for chatter. Or why he dislikes stepping out.

If she could work beside him for a week she would be more understanding.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

BUT, of course, it works both ways. No man, without spending a week running a house, managing one or more small fry, cooking the meals, washing the dishes and doing the laundry, can possibly understand why his wife gives him a dirty look when he comes home at night and asks innocently, "What have you been doing all day?"

The reason why husbands and wives don't have more respect for each other's jobs is simply that they actually know so little about them.

GOLD HELPED MAKE THE UNION

Far more important than the monetary value of the discovery of gold in California 100 years ago last week was its result and assurance that the United States would become a nation spreading from coast to coast.

When flecks of the yellow metal were found in the south fork of the American river near Coloma, Calif., on Jan. 24, 1848, the population of the present state numbered fewer than 10,000, mostly Indians and Mexicans. News of the discovery of gold spread slowly at first, then like a prairie fire. The greatest rush of its kind in history got underway in 1849. In 1852, California's population exceeded 250,000.

At that time, many prominent Americans in the East doubted the practicability of extending the Union to the Pacific. They had opposed the Louisiana Purchase some 45 years earlier and the admission of Texas in 1845. The theory of the opposition was that transportation as then existing was too slow to permit solidarity in a nation as large as the United States was becoming.

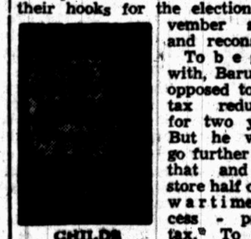

However, practically all of California's new people were from the East and Middle West. As a whole, they had no thought except that California would become part of the Union. Without them, many historians believe the state might have continued a part of Mexico, or might have become a British dominion.

But the discovery of gold eliminated those, and other, possibilities. It diverted American history into the channel it has followed and insured the destiny of the United States as the greatest nation designed by mankind.

Baruch Stresses Role Of U.S. Economy In World Peace Plan

WASHINGTON—In the midst of the political contest over tax reduction, Bernard M. Baruch has uttered some sobering common sense. It should make even the political fishermen baiting their hooks for the election November stop and reconsider.

CHILDS

To begin with, Baruch is opposed to any tax reduction for two years. But he would go further than that and restore half of the wartime excess - profits tax. To compensate somewhat for this move, he would allow industry to write off the cost of new plant, for tax purposes, at the accelerated wartime rate.

The Republicans are trying to persuade enough Democrats to go along with the Knutson tax cut so that it can be passed over President Truman's veto. Therefore, instead of the $5,600,000,000 cut proposed by the Knutson bill in the House, the final reduction will be perhaps a billion dollars less. The theory behind this seems to be that a little more inflation, although not quite as much as Chairman Knutson wants, won't do us any harm. For no one can be so self-deluded as to believe that a tax cut will not certainly send the spiral of prices and wages shooting up even higher.

Baruch's Proposals

The success of any European Recovery plan is directly related to the strength of the American economy. That was the point which Baruch stressed again and again in his statement, and it cannot be repeated often enough. Another boom-and-bust cycle would render the nation powerless to extended help beyond our shores. It would create such confusion and uncertainty that the country would be impotent.

That is why it is so important to consider steps that can be taken while there is still time. Baruch proposed as a first step that farmers agree to a "major cut" in present agricultural prices in return for a guarantee that they can sell all their crops at the price set for the next three years.

This would mean a roll-back in food prices. Labor would then be asked to hold the wage line. At the same time, production would be increased, business would take smaller profits, more commodities would be imported, and the fight against inflation would move forward on a uniform point.

Does this sound like Utopia? In the midst of the present grab-bag to see who can get the most, it does. On both sides of the political fence, however, there are enough responsible men sincerely interested in checking the inflationary spiral, if only there were not others with louder voices determined to make political capital out of the desperate race between wages and prices.

BARUCH asked the members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee to make plain to the world what we were proposing to do. It is not just a relief plan. It is a measure to reconstruct Western Europe, and it follows therefore that the United States must guarantee Western Europe against aggression. There is little point in shoring up a part of the world vital to our security and then seeing it go down before aggressors bent on world domination.

The important thing is to make this clear right now. Other nations, Russia in particular, should understand American intentions beyond a shadow of a doubt.

That was the chief tragedy of the '30s. Hitler and his henchmen were convinced that America was so divided and so inherently isolationist that there need be no limits on the ultimate expansion of Fascism. And a footnote to history is worth recording.

In 1938, Baruch returned from Europe convinced that Nazi Germany meant world conquest. In an interview on the White House steps, he said something like that, urging the United States to take the necessary steps toward preparedness and to make American intentions unmistakably clear.

Promptly Baruch was called a warmonger. All the resources of the Nazi propaganda machine in every part of the world were turned on to drown out his words and to persuade the timid that any preparedness would antagonize the dictators and therefore lead to war. The warning was lost in the continuing quarrel over what our intentions really were.

BICYCLE SQUAD

Since experts regard that means of transportation as best suited to streets crowded with traffic, a "flying squad" of London's police force is equipped with bicycles.

Farmer Killed In Car Mishap

LAMESA, Jan. 29 (Special) — Funeral plans were incomplete this morning for Willie A. Scott, 54, farmer who lived in the Five-Mile community, whose body was found yesterday on the ice-coated prairie more than 12 hours after an automobile accident that sent S. E. Hemphill, driver of the car, to a hospital in Andrews.

Scott's body was at the Higginbotham Funeral home here, where it was believed funeral would be held Friday, with burial at Five-Mile.

In Serious Condition

Hemphill was reported in serious condition at Andrews, where he was taken from scene of the accident in western Martin county, and little was known here of nature of the mishap. Hemphill told Martin County Sheriff Morris Zimmerman that he was so dazed by the accident he drove off after unsuccessful attempts to lift the injured man back into the car.

Hemphill, found driving aimlessly over the prairie hours after the accident, recalled only that the car turne dover, then righted itself. It was assumed the two were on a hunting trip. Friends took Hemphill to the hospital.

Scott's body was brought here late yesterday in a Higginbotham ambulance.

Survivors include two sons, Charlie of Lamea and C. W. of Lubbock; a daughter, Teddy Joy Scott, Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Wilcox, of Dublin, Mrs. Eva Norman and Mrs. Laura Holbrook, both of Farmersville; and five grandchildren.

January Meeting Of Club Is Cancelled

Robert Frairs of Saginaw, Mich., who was to have spoken and shown a film entitled "Mexican Holiday" at a Lubbock Knife and Fork club meeting Wednesday night, was unable to schedule another engagement here later and the club will not have a January meeting, Lewis B. Rix, secretary, announced.

The Wednesday night engagement here was canceled necessarily because of the natural gas emergency. Mr. and Mrs. Frairs arrived by car from El Paso Wednesday afternoon and went on to Abilene, where Frairs is to fill an engagement tonight and will go from there to Beaumont.

Next meeting of the Knife and Fork club will be on Feb. 26, when Dr. Vernon Nash will speak on "The Prospects for a Governed World." Dr. Nash, who has studied the history and government of different continents, founded the first school of journalism in Asia at Yenching university, Peiping, China, in 1924.

Lee Cain Funeral Services Pending

TAHOKA, Jan. 29 (Special) — Funeral plans were incomplete this morning for Lee Cain, 57, who was found dead at noon yesterday in a tent house in which he lived near the residence of Ted Clayton.

Arrangements were awaiting arrival of a daughter from California. Sheriff Sam Floyd said papers found in Cain's place indicated his father lives at Melvin.

Cain was believed to have been dead for some time before the discovery of his body, the Claytons having seen him alive for the last time about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He had been working for about three months on some rock work on the Clayton home, Sheriff Floyd said.

Dr. F. E. Seal, local physician, said death was caused by a heart attack. The body was taken to Stanley Funeral home here.

Butane Promised For Mississippi Areas

JACKSON, MISS., Jan. 29 (AP)—Gov. Fielding L. Wright said last night that Tulsa, Okla., butane dealers have assured him they will expedite butane shipments to Mississippi points where critical shortages exist.

The governor said the mayor of Ocean Springs, Miss., had declared a state of emergency in that city. Citizens there were resorting to kerosene stoves and any other means available to keep warm.

Wholesale Jewelry Is Opened In City

The Southwest Wholesale Jewelry Co., only concern of its kind in Texas west of Dallas, has been opened here at 1014 Avenue Q with L. D. "Pup" Thomas as president.

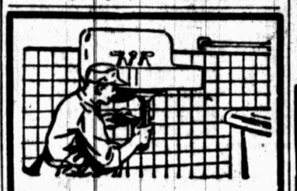

The firm will cover West Texas, New Mexico, parts of Oklahoma and Arizona. Its first two salesmen will take the road on Monday of next week. They are Bob Reynolds and H. A. Kemp.

Among various offerings in the jewelry field, the company will feature its own "name" watch, the "Skytimer," a 17-jewel timepiece of Swiss manufacture. It will be offered in numerous styles and cases, including one with calendar attachment.

The company also has the distributorship for Duralite cigaret lighters in both pocket and desk models, Mr. Thomas said. He said the lighter has a year's full guarantee and characterized it as "foolproof." It flames in the wind as well as indoors, he said.

The company's quarters are in a new building recently erected by Mr. Thomas for the purpose it now serves.

In 1870 Congress established the U. S. Department of Justice.
