WORK IS BEGUN ON PLAN OF BCD CHIEFS

TWENTY-ONE SECTIONS OF CITY TO BE MADE CLEAN UNDER PLAN

Hoes and rakes aslant over shoulders like muskets, approximately 300 Lubbock men early this morning marched and rode to work—the first work many of them had obtained since last fall.

Work of cleaning vacant lots throughout the city got underway when the three hundred reported at about 8 o'clock to foremen in the 21 districts in which the city has been divided for the program.

Paid $2 Daily

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, which adopted the program to be directed by the emergency employment committee of the chambers, estimated that jobs would be furnished 300 men for two to four weeks at $2 a day. A work-day will be eight hours.

Billy Clark is general foreman of the work. John Dalrymple is chairman of the emergency employment committee.

Alleys Included

Lot cleaning was scheduled to be started Tuesday morning but was deferred because of condition of the ground as a result of snow. Alleys also are included in the program, which includes both residential and business areas. Debris which cannot be burned will be hauled to the city dump grounds by truck.

Work orders were issued from an employment bureau at United Charities headquarters in Labor Temple building, 710 Thirteenth

MURRAY TAKES DICTATORSHIP

GOVERNOR ASKS THAT OIL ORDER IN STATE BE RESCINDED

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 5.—Governor W. H. Murray today moved in as virtual dictator of oil production in Oklahoma when at his request the state corporation commission took action to rescind its order of yesterday increasing allowable flow from the Oklahoma City field.

All three members of the commission were agreed to follow the request of the governor. Paul Walker, chairman, informed Murray the former allowable flow of 125,000 barrels daily would be substituted for the newly permitted 150,000 barrels.

C. C. Childers, member, consented. E. R. Hughes, third member, had favored the low run at the outset.

No Evidence Found Of Assault In Case

VALPARAISO, Ind., Mar. 5. (AP)—Dr. Joseph Springer of Chicago, testifying today as a defense witness, declared there was no mutilation of the body of Arlene Draves to indicate that she had been attacked, one of the charges against Virgil Kirkland, on trial for the girl's murder.

Springer yesterday aided at a post mortem in Reynolds, the second since the girl died after a Gary drinking party last November.

The physician asserted he did not find indication of assault by Kirkland and the four other young men who later will be tried for Miss Draves murder.

W. L. WARE SAYS STATE IS FORGING AHEAD IN ALL LINES

Texas has been called "marvelous" by a man who has been in "every state in the union," and West Texas is his choice of the commonwealth.

The man is William L. Ware, who today conferred with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce as trade commissioner of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Since January 6, Mr. Ware has visited virtually every section of Texas, gathering data pertinent to its cities and the Lone Star state generally.

Impressed by what he termed "a combination of the spirit of the west and the courtesy of the south" as found in Texas, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce representative particularly is interested in Lubbock and West Texas.

LEGGE SAYS NO ACREAGE CUT

FARM BOARD CHAIRMAN SAYS PRICE TO BE AS LOW AS EVER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. —Referring to the failure of growers to cut acreage, Chairman Legge of the Farm board said today the cotton farmer "is still trying to put the price down to five cents" and the wheat farm will "quit growing wheat when it gets down to 25 cents."

When it comes to acreage reduction, he said, farmers are too willing "to let George do it."

Asked if he saw any immediate possibility for 5c cotton, Legge said "There is no question but if they raise as much this year as they have been, the price will be lower than anything they have yet seen."

He believed, however, there would be some reduction in cotton acreage this year, but "not as much as it ought to be."

New Orleans' best-looking "jail birds" are Virginia Catlin, below left, and Sara Forsythe, who appeared on Newcomb College campus wearing stripes and carrying a ball and chain in protest against a ruling that they should remain within the college grounds for two weeks without dates because they remained out too late one night during the Mardi Gras celebration. "It was just like solitary confinement," Miss Catlin said, "so we decided to wear stripes and carry a ball and chain as convicts do."

Sheriff Bill Thompson refused to say where the negro was held and denied that threats had been made but indicated the transfer was a precautionary measure.

More was killed shortly after he had going into a hotel at 2 a. m. yesterday in search of two friends. His two companions told investigators Moore was shot almost without warning and without provocation.

District Attorney E. W. Thomerson said the negro's trial would be expedited, probably being held next week.

Operating Radio, Phonograph Too Loud May Be Crime

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—Representative Bounds of Hubbard likes his sleep and doesn't want it disturbed to any great extent. Especially by the wailing of a radio or phonograph in the dead of night.

So he introduced a bill in the house today making it a misdemeanor to operate a phonograph or radio in a loud manner, classifying it as a disturbance of the peace.

The maximum fine would be $100.

POSSESSION OF LIQUOR WOULD BE VIOLATION

ONLY MEDICINAL USE WOULD BE ALLOWED UNDER NEW BILL

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 5—Possession of liquor for other than medical purposes would be made a misdemeanor in a bill introduced today by Representative Forbes of Weatherford. Conviction would be punishable by a fine of from $25 to $1,000 and one year in jail.

Forbes said it was against the public policy of the state and nation to possess liquor for beverage purposes but that there was no state law to punish for possession, the law covering only manufacture, sale and transportation. Many violations of the spirit of the laws have gone unpunished for want of a statute making it unlawful to possess liquor, Forbes said.

AIR MAIL WILL BE TALKED

REPRESENTATIVES OF TOWNS OVER AREA HERE TUESDAY

Whether or not sustained effort will be made to obtain airmail service between Amarillo and Big Spring via Lubbock probably will be determined at a meeting here Tuesday of South Plains Airway association. John L. Vaughan, Lubbock postmaster, is temporary chairman.

The meeting, which will be attended by representatives of towns on the proposed airmail route, will begin at a luncheon at noon at the Hilton hotel. Executive session will follow immediately, reports of airmail poundage from towns on the proposed line being presented and the data compiled.

Potentialities Factor

Potentialities of airmail poundage as evidenced in the compilation of current figures will be the major criterion for determining whether the association will continue to work toward airmail service on the proposed route.

South Plains Airway association was organized February 11 at Big Spring. The proposed line would extend from Amarillo to Big Spring and would include Canyon, Tulia, Plainview, Lubbock, Tahoka and Lamesa. Representatives from all of those towns are expected to attend Tuesday's meeting.

From 17 to 24 hours would be saved in mail delivery to some points by effecting the line, which would bridge the northern and southern transcontinental routes, Mr. Vaughan said.

Gerald Wren of Lubbock is secretary of the association.

UNITED FRONT IN ELECTION IS ASKED

CHEERS GREET RASKOB AS HE CALLS FOR UNIFIED PARTY

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A call for the Democratic party to sponsor state control of liquor in the next presidential campaign was sounded today by Chairman John J. Raskob. Speaking at today's meeting of the national committee and party leaders, he proposed that the Eighteenth amendment be retained but that a new amendment be adopted permitting any state to direct and control the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquor.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—Harmony spread over the Democratic national committee meeting today as Chairman Raskob, in calling for a united front in 1932, assured the apprehensive party hosts he would seek no commitment of the committee on issues.

The cheers greeting this pronouncement had barely died down before Jouett Shouse, executive director, drew more applause with the declaration that the Democratic organization was interested in no individual candidacies and was prepared to carry through to a Democratic victory in the presidential campaign a year hence.

Snaps Tension

Mr. Raskob's declaration snapped a tension which was apparent, due to some uncertainty whether any effort would be made to have the committee take a stand on prohibition.

Adjournment was taken for luncheon after a two hour meet-

INSIGNIA PREPARED

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The worn, stained and much-patched overalls that were twice displayed in the senate to show the plight of the country's depression victims are to be recalled in celluloid on a campaign button. Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, today had the garment photographed. He announced the picture would be placed on a button of generous size to be circulated everywhere. "Paramount issue of 1932" will be inscribed thereon.

COLD WEATHER IS PREDICTED

SREEZING WEATHER AND SNOW PROPHESIED FOR NORTH TEXAS AND PANHANDLE; WARNING IS ISSUED FOR STOCKMEN; WIND TO BLOW

Freezing weather, with the minimum temperature to go as low as 18 degrees in some portions, was predicted today for most sections of Texas for tonight and tomorrow by the United States Weather Bureau at Dallas.

Rain will turn to snow in the northern half of the state according to the prognostication. Concern was expressed for blooming fruit trees but it was not likely the extremely cold weather would penetrate as far south as the citrus orchards in the Rio Grande valley.

West Texas' minimum temperature tonight was expected to be 18 to 26 degrees with a strong north wind blowing. Stockmen in the Panhandle were notified to protect their stock.

The temperature in a radius of 300 miles of Dallas will probably go as low as 20 degrees, the bureau said.

DEATH CALLS PIONEER TAYLOR COUNTY COUPLE TODAY; WIFE'S PASSING GOES ONLY FEW MINUTES BEFORE HUSBAND

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, March 5.—Death today entered one of the oldest farm homes in Taylor county, to take two lives.

At 2 a. m. Mrs. Millie Frances Hardison, 74, smiled up at her son and three daughters gathered about her bedside, then died. The sorrowing children moved noiselessly into an adjoining room where their father, Newton A. Hardison, 83, lay unconscious. His passing followed that of his wife by only 35 minutes. Ten days ago he became ill with influenza and his wife, nursing him, fell victim to the same disease, pneumonia developing.

A double burial service will be conducted here Friday afternoon.

The Hardisons were Tennesseans (Maury county), and sweethearts in childhood. They were married in 1885 and emigrated to Texas the same year, coming to this county on their honeymoon. They settled on a farm southeast of Abilene at a time when farmers were greatly outnumbered by cattlemen, and spent the balance of their lives on that place.

The annuity to the "first lady" is to be known as the "Henry G. Freeman, Jr., pin money fund" and "shall continue in force so long as this glorious government lasts," the will provides.

CHICAGO, Mar. 5.—Marriage, says Paul Whiteman, is a middle-class institution.

Dance This Evening To Climax Day Filled With Club, Social Events

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

DR. MYERS

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

BE PREPARED WHEN OTHERS ARE WORRIED

Sometimes when I ought most to be sympathetic and good natured I am most likely to be inconsidearte and irritable. So are you.

My wife, this evening, is weary from a strenuous day or some of her most cherished plans have gone astray; or, for reasons she nor I are conscious of, she is very easily annoyed. Unless I am on my guard I grow more irascible, making her more so.

As she is more ready than usual to become provoked by my inconsiderateness or fault finding, I grow more inconsiderate and find more fault. I easily am annoyed at little things she does or says which at other times would pass by entirely unnoticed. Curiously enough, I am angered by her being easily irritated at me.

If I were wholly guided by my reason I should be most chivalrous at such times. I should try hard as I could to avoid doing anything which would have a likelihood of ruffling her. I should even do things which I knew would please her and talk of things which would make her feel more happy. I should mention her achievements, her accomplishments and attractive traits. I should get her thinking of her own successes. When guided by my reason, I should so behave also toward my child when he is out of sorts. Sometimes I am; sometimes I do.

But I am a human being; so is my wife. Therefore, my feelings are inclined to guide me, and their way is often very selfish.

Why do I tend to grow more irritable myself, grow more inconsiderate of my wife, find more fault with her and do more other things annoying to her when she feels least happy toward the world and toward me?

Because I expect her to think so well of me and defer so much to me as not to be angered at anything I say or do. It is all very well for her to let other people get on her nerves. But I am her husband. Anything I say she should welcome for her good. Any adverse criticism, which I offer she should cherish as a precious opportunity to improve her personality. What a privilege she has to be my wife. Now that she shows no appreciation of my helpfulness but spurns it instead, she spurns me. I am aroused to anger.

Feeling so, I naturally think of ugly things to do and say to her. Of course, she, in turn, is incensed that I should be so rude, so mean as to find fault with her or to be displeased at her behavior.

While I am writing this and, during the weeks and months before my wife again appears to me a little less lovable and sweet than is her custom, I have the opportunity to prepare myself to be more sane and worthy on the next emergency.

Those parents who are mutual lovers do not purposely annoy each other at any time. But as surely as they breathe they will do it occasionally, and very often, perhaps, unless they employ effort at self-discipline. It is a good thing for us to stand off as another person once in a while to observe our own bad behavior. Then if we really care to do so we can improve ourselves. Our success will depend upon how much character we individually possess. None of us, of course, will look for miracles.

If It's Your Favorite Color, It's The Smartest You Can Wear Now

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, March 3.—This coming spring season promises to be one of sheer individuality and will consecrate and exalt one of the most attractive qualities of woman — the charm of her own personality.

While the general silhouette offers no drastic change except in questions of detail, every fashion creator has chosen to interpret the new mode in his own particular way. No two couturiers have thought alike so far as colorings, skirt length and fullness are concerned. There are models to suit every conceivable type of woman so that the day of the "typical" Channel, Vionnet or any other famous couturier's dress, reproduced many thousands of times, and worn indiscriminately by all types, is definitely passed.

The diversity of colorings and the combining of several hitherto unthought-of-shades is a very important feature of the new styles. Here again women will be able to assert their type by being able to wear the color that becomes them best without being confined to the few dull, lusterless shades that used to be considered distinguished and the correct thing. The more general color combinations are nigger-brown and white, nigger-brown and blue and nigger-brown and green, green and grege, plum and green, nasturtium and green, rust red and beige, green and yellow and violet and mauve. Black still figures conspicuously in many ensembles, combined with white, as usual, but often added to by a vivid touch of color like red, green or orange. Navy blue fashions many of the smart street dresses, which are usually enlivened by touches of white pique at the collar and cuffs.

Plaids fashion a great number of informal dresses but these are usually worn with a plain colored jacket or coat. There are a few fancy jersey weaves but scarcely any tweeds. On the other hand, many of the morning tailleurs are made of fine English men's suitings and are impeccably tailored. The blouse then supplies the necessary, feminine note as well as the touch of color now considered indispensable.

There is no set rule for skirt lengths, which have to be governed to suit each particular type. Some couturiers show a tendency to a general lengthening of skirts for day wear, as against last season.

Both long and short sleeves are sponsored by Lelong, the main interest in this fashion detail being the way in which these are set in the bodice. Variations of the raglan sleeve, or yokes that extend well over the top of the arm, go a long way to imparting a new look to a bodice. Intricate nervures adorn many blouses and bodices.

Cotton fabrics are featured quite extensively in the spring styles not only for daytime wear but also for the evening. Delightfully youthful evening dresses of embroidered muslin in white and delicate pastel shades lend a very festival note.

For the afternoon, plain materials are more numerous than the prints. Crepe remain is a much favored medium for the more formal afternoon ensemble. Some remarkably artistic printed mousselines are used by Jane Regny for evening gowns, one outstanding model being a harmony of beige, brown and rose. She also has two or three attractive black lace or tulle evening growns. The evening wraps in this house are profusely trimmed with fox fur, one-sided cape effects or original collars being very popular.

Coral Red Is Important

Here coral red is stressed throughout the collection in such shades as red, rose and antique coral. Pale blue, yellow and green vie in favor with a deep, rich plum color.

Slashed skirts are in again and are shown in many houses, differently interpreted, though, by the various couturiers. Chantal offers agreen romain evening dress with a long apron effect in front that is slashed up the back to reveal a narrower and shorter slip of the same material.

Maggy Rouff has skirts in her afternoon ensembles that have several rows of ruched Valenciennes lace that simulate a petticoat, a fashion feature to be seen also at Irene Danna's. Redfern trims a printed chiffon evening dress with five or six rows of minute lace flounces at the hem and around the decollete.

Why we spend $2,000,000 to put CAMEL cigarettes in the new HUMIDOR PACK

WE have been in the tobacco business a long time down here at Winston-Salem and we take a lot of pride in the quality of the cigarettes we make.

While we have spent a good many million dollars advertising Camels, we've always held to the old fashioned idea that the thing that really counts is what we put into our cigarette and not what we say about it.

If we know anything about tobacco, and we think we do, Camels contain the choicest Turkish and the mellowest, ripest domestic leaves that money can buy.

In fact we have every reason to be proud of the quality of Camels as they come from the factory, but the remark of an old friend of ours from Denver some time ago emphasized a point that has been the problem of the cigarette industry for years.

As he inhaled the smoke from a Camel we gave him in our offices one morning, he sighed with very evident enjoyment and then asked jokingly, "What is this, a special blend reserved for Camel executives?"

"Certainly not," we told him. "This package of Camels was bought at the corner store this morning."

"Well," he said, "I've been a dyed in the wool Camel smoker for a good many years, but upon my soul I never got a cigarette as good as this in Denver. If you would give the rest of the world the kind of Camels you sell here in Winston-Salem, you ought to have all the cigarette business there is."

THAT statement simply emphasized again the cigarette industry's most important problem. The more we thought about it, the surer we were that he was dead right, and that somehow, something must be done.

Denver wasn't getting a fair break. Neither in fact was any other town. The only people who really knew how good Camels could be, were the folks right here in Winston-Salem.

That was due to a factor no cigarette manufacturer had ever been able to control.

Naturally there is no difference whatever in the quality of the tobacco in Camels, whether you buy them in Winston-Salem, Denver or Timbuctoo. But up to now there has been a very real difference in the condition of the cigarettes by the time they reached the smoker.

The flavor and mildness of fine tobacco depend upon the retention of its natural, not added, moisture content which is prime at about ten per cent.

In spite of our great pains always to make sure Camels left the factory with just the right amount of natural moisture, no cigarette package had ever yet been designed that could prevent that precious moisture from drying out.

THERE are three things about a cigarette that can sting the tongue and unkindly burn the throat.

(1) Cheap tobaccos.
(2) Particles of peppery dust left in the tobacco because of inefficient cleaning methods.
(3) A parched dry condition of the tobacco due to loss of natural moisture by overheating or evaporation.

Always certain of the quality of our tobaccos we had already made Camel a "dustless" cigarette by the use of a specially designed vacuum cleaning apparatus exclusive with our factory.

Now, if we could perfect a package that would actually act as a humidor and retain the natural moisture content, then Yuma, Arizona, could enjoy Camels as much as we do here at Winston-Salem.

We knew what we wanted. We tried many things. We asked the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory to help us.

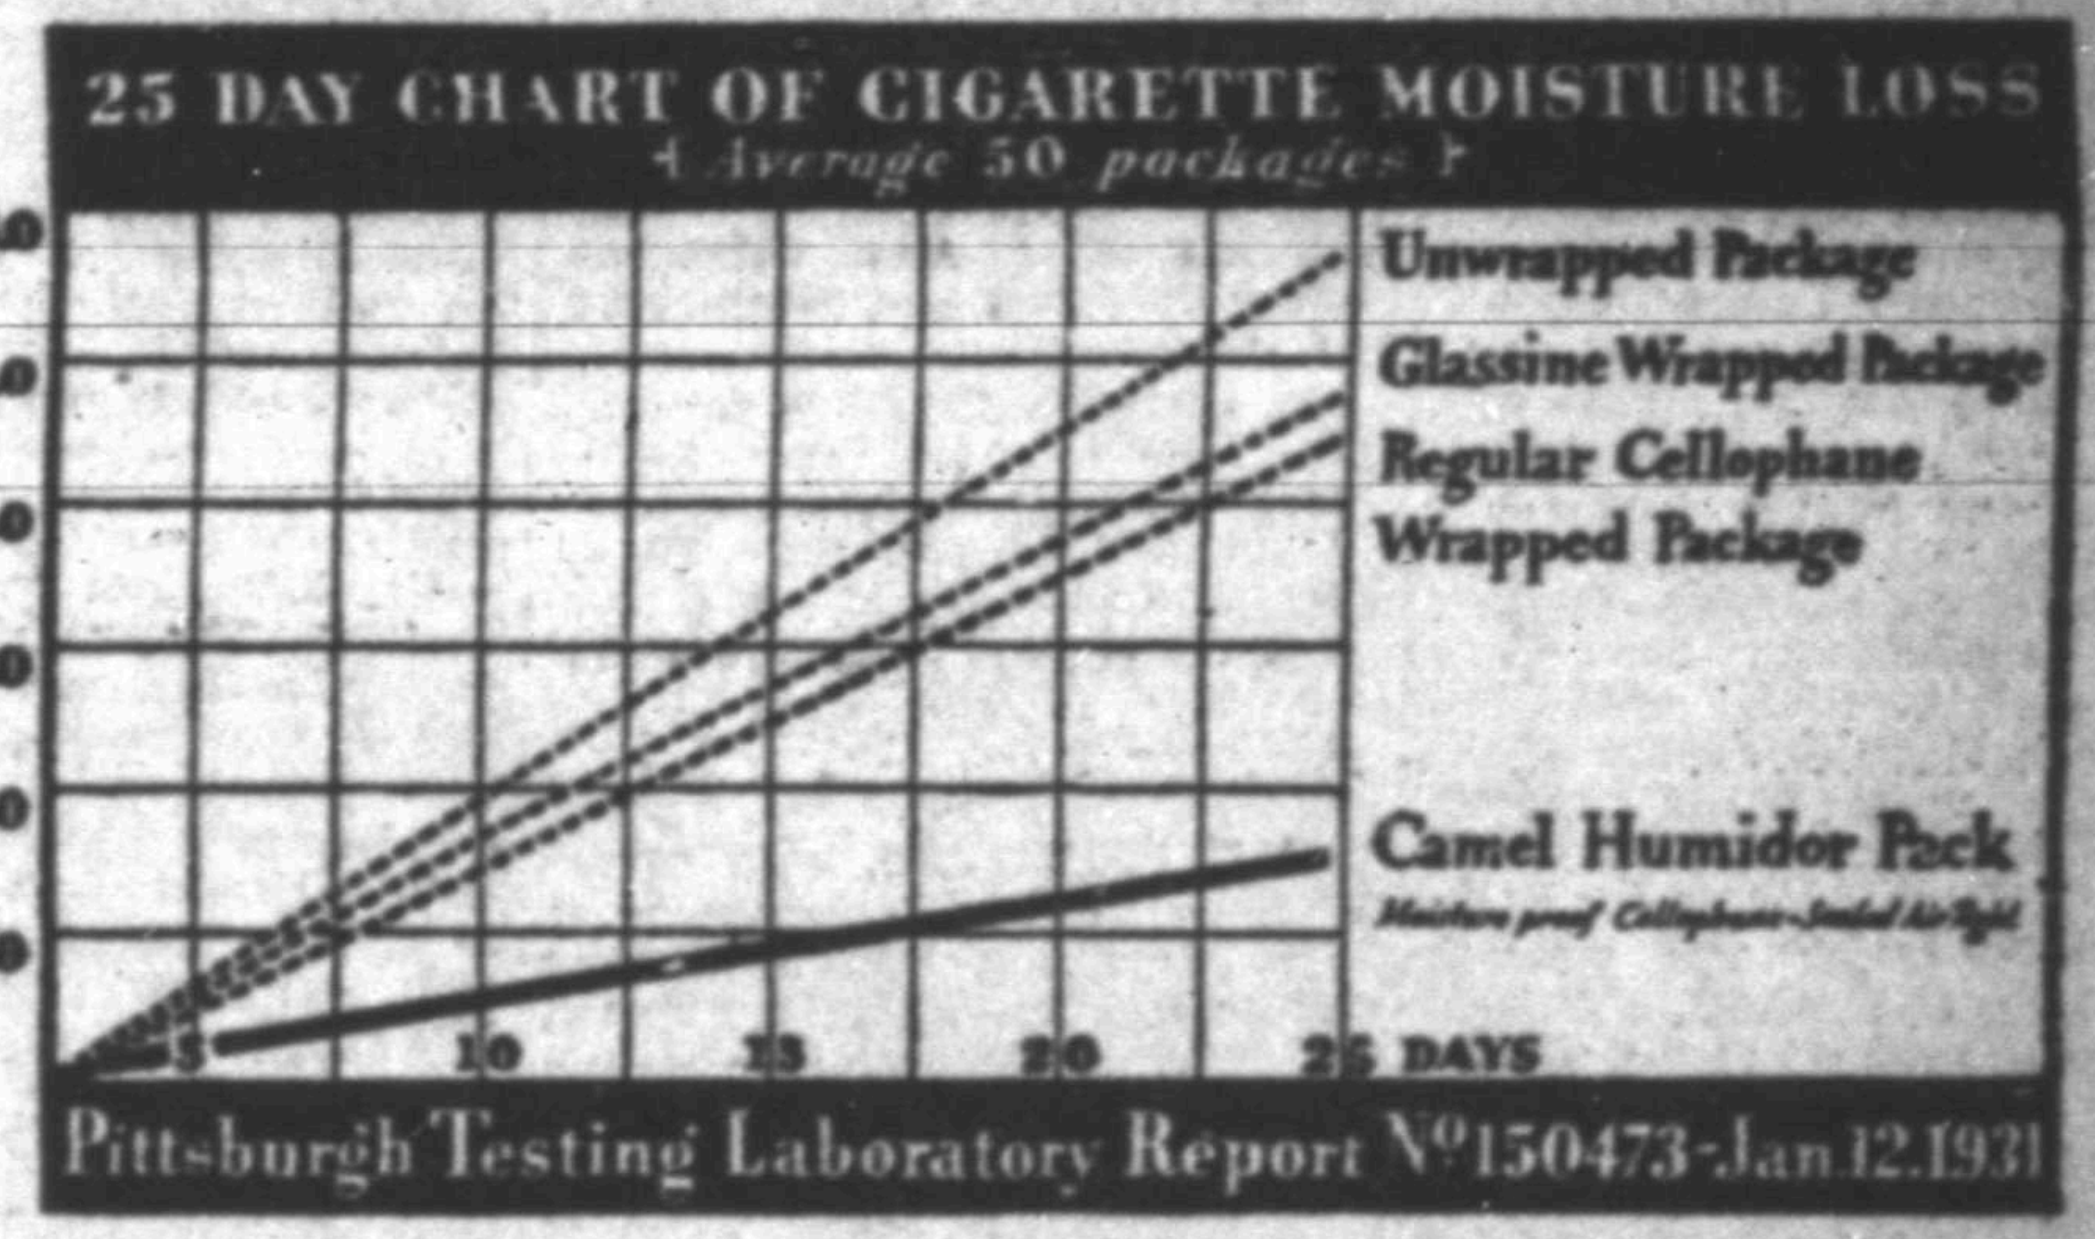
After many experiments and humidity tests covering all methods of packing cigarettes came the detailed report of which this is the net:

(A) No existing cigarette package, including those wrapped in glassine paper or ordinary cellophane, gives anything like adequate protection against evaporation.

(B) All cigarettes so packed tend to dry out rapidly from the day they are released from the factory.

(C) Only a waterproof material with a specially devised air-tight seal could give the desired protection. (D) This measure, while costly, could be relied on to keep Camels in prime condition for at least three months in any climate.

If you have a technical bent, the graph below made by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory will show you the exact results of their exhaustive study.



Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

YOU may be sure we gave this report a lot of careful study. We checked it and re-checked it and then we went ahead. We tried this device and that. At last we met success. The air-tight wrapping involved the designing of special processes, special machines.

That costs a lot of money, more than $2,000,000 the first year, but after you have tried Camels packed this modern new way we are sure you will agree it is a fine investment.

For some time now every Camel that has left our factory has gone out in this new Humidor Pack.

We have said nothing about it until now, to make sure your dealer would be able to supply you when the good news came out.

Camel smokers of course have already discovered that their favorite cigarette is better and milder now than ever before.

If you aren't a Camel smoker, try them just to see what a difference there really is between harsh, dried out tobacco and a properly conditioned cigarette.

You can feel the difference, you can hear the difference and you certainly can taste the difference.

Of course we're prejudiced.

We always have believed that Camel is the world's best cigarette.

Now we know it.

Just treat yourself to Camels in the new Humidor Pack and see if you don't agree.

Costly Stupidity

A glimpse at current history sometimes makes one wonder if ordinary human stupidity and incompetence do not cause more trouble and more suffering than all of the malice and wickedness in the world put to gether.

An example of this is found in Winston Churchill's "World Crisis," that fascinating description of the World War as a member of the British cabinet saw it.

Churchill, as first lord of the admiralty, was the moving spirit behind the ill-stared Gallipoli adventure, and the misfortunes of that costly expedition were hardly his fault. The expedition was crippled by dumbness and failure from the start; and nowhere was this more clear than in the tragic Sula Bay landing.

French and English troops had already obtained a foothold at the lower tip of the peninsula. Farther up the peninsular the Australians had come ashore and established themselves. In neither place was it possible to make much headway against the strong Turkish trench system.

So a flank attack was planned. Under cover of darkness, a division of troops was thrown ashore at Suvla Bay, several miles up the coast. This division was to press forward promptly, cross the peninsula, and take the defending Turks in the rear. If it succeeded the peninsula would be taken, Constantinople would fall and the war would soon be over.

The division got ashore at dawn. In the foothills to oppose it was a scant batallion of Turkish troops. The division had only to move quickly to gain its goal. The Turks could not possibly stop it.

But stupidity and incompetence now entered the scene.

The general commanding the division was a stolid and sedentary gentleman acustomed to caution and methodical, bit-by-bit movements. Instead of ordering his men forward as soon as they got ashore he had them dig trenches on the beach to prepare to repel an attack. In the afternoon hundreds of them were dismissed and allowed to go in bathing. All in all, this man wasted 24 priceless hours before he set his troops in motion.

By that time it was too late. The Turks had had time to bring up reinforcements. A large percentage of the British division was sacrificed, and the objective was not reached. Gallipoli held out, Constantinople was not captured, and the war lasted three years longer.

All of this—a price simply staggering to contemplate—came because one man in a position of authority was either stupid, incompetent, or both.

Could there be a more dreaded testimonial to the mischief that those two qualities can create?

Manners

There are manners even among thieves, it appears. Mrs. Anna Nicholas, of Washington, D. C., was handed back the money and jewels which a man had taken from her, when the man recognized her as someone he knew. Evidently it wasn't in his code to rob people whose lives came in contact with his. So long as he didn't know the party from whom he was taking property he had an impersonal attitude about it.

This spirit is found in larger forms of banditry. Swindlers have been known to risk the money entrusted to them by thousands of unknown victims. The money was something impersonal. If they had known the sacrifices and struggles back of each fraud they might have been more careful.

The human touch, to which moralists and teachers and preachers refer continually, becomes a money saver sometimes.

Dorothy thinks that the Romance languages are the baby-talk conversations of love-sick youths.

THEY'RE telling a story on Clarence Luce, the big, good looking fellow who makes up half of Lubbock's motorcycle patrol. It may be true—and maybe not—so you'd better not try it on Clarence when he rides up next time to give you a ticket.

Clarence had stopped a motorist and was writing the bad news on his pad when a woman who was with the motorist angrily snapped:

"Didn't I tell you not to speed? But you kept right on, speeding all morning, getting out of line, not blowing your horn and everything else. Didn't I tell you we'd get arrested? Didn't I?"

"Who is this lady?" Clarence asked.

"My wife," the motorist answered.

Clarence tore up the ticket he was writing and kicked his motor off center.

"Go on, my boy," he said, "you've had enough bad luck already."

The Plainsman was amused at a story in The Journal the other day—the story which told about the 'collectivizing' of farmers of Russia and quoting the Soviet government as having recorded a 'wonderful victory'. The Soviet included in the report that the campaign against individual holding of land was gaining momentum and that the country people were taking to the idea of collective farming.

OF COURSE the Russians are 'taking to collective farming'. They face lashes, bullets or Siberia if they don't.

Imagine farmers of the South Plains 'taking to collective farming'—being made to farm for the government and getting nothing for their individual efforts except mediocre clothes, mediocre lodging and mediocre food?

Oh yeah! The Russians are taking to 'collective farming' by the same method The Plainsman would take to collective newspapering or Doctor Horn would take to collective educating—by force of arms.

Someone recently said that America could start worrying about the spread of Communism in America when some American names cropped out among the leaders. And while that may be a little exaggerated, The Plainsman takes the same general idea. Americans just don't fall for the kind of fluff that the great majority of Communists embrace.

* * *

DR. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Tech, has recently aroused considerable interest in the spread of Communism through his speeches before local civic clubs on that subject. Following one of Doctor Jackson's addresses The Plainsman read the complete report of the Congressional committee, which under the direction of Congressman Fish, investigated the activities of the Third International.

After reading 20 pages of the United States Daily, a newspaper dealing with national affairs—privately owned and edited—The Plainsman has come to the conclusions that there's nothing to grow hysterical over in spite of the fact that some gain in strength has been noted in the Communist party. Particularly in the South, where white supremacy is still revered, the Communists can't be expected to get very far. Not many people in this neck of the woods could be flimflammed into accepting the negro as a social and intellectual equal—and intermarrying with him.

THAT is only a small part of the objectionable features of Communism. There are many others, including the fact that Communism is opposed to religion. And while on the subject, The Plainsman wants to pay respects to Organized Labor in the United States for having spurned the advances and stood firm against the efforts of the Communists to enlist the American worker within their ranks.

Had Organized Labor been clubbed or co-erced into accepting the tenets of Soviet Russia, America would have had its hands full in halting the advances of the Third International. But Organized Labor, sensible and patriotic, has not only refused to be contaminated but has fought the efforts of Communism to creep into its strongholds. Organized Labor as the first line of American defense, has done a big job, for which the just and constituted government of our country should be and is thankful.

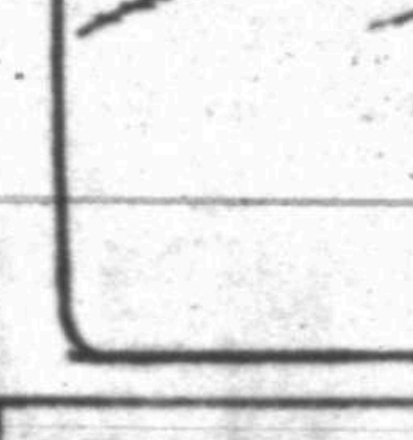
Economic Councils Similar To That Proposed For The United States Have Proved Valuable To Other Nations

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Other countries have established national economic councils to advise on their increasingly serious problems of social and economic welfare and so, says Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, should the United States.



Economci councils are groups which operate in close relationship with executive officials and legislating bodies, serving as advisory and investigative bodies in connection with proposed legislation, and they also help co-ordinate and make more efficient a nation's economic activities.

Something, and perhaps quite a lot, will be heard about the economic council idea in Congress because LaFollette does not introduce bills and then forget them.

Lately in introduced the bill for such a council, to [illegible] 15 members appointed by the president and selected [illegible] lists submitted by groups of organizations representing the industrial, financial, agricultural, transportation and labor interests of the United States.

Three members would be chosen from each of the five groups. Their terms would run for four years and they would be paid on a per diem basis. The council would have powers of subpoena, with penalties for anyone who refused to testify for it or to produce a document.

Would Suggest New Laws

The council's duties, LaFollette proposes, would be to keep advised on general economic and business conditions, consider problems affecting the economic situation of this country and its citizens and formulate proposals looking to their solutions, make annual reports to the president and Congress with recommendations for any necessary legislation and from time to time submit reports dealing with particular economic questions.

LaFollette's determination to push his bill was evidenced when he followed its introduction with a resolution calling for an investigation of and hearings on the proposition by the Senate commerce committee.

France, Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Spain and Japan are among nations which have created economic councils, providing representation at the respective seats of government for varied interests and bringing into play the specialized knowledge of various groups and individuals through their advisory and consultative powers.

France organized her council in 1925 and it has functioned successfully, putting through a comprehensive plan for co-ordinating and putting on an efficient basis all elements entering into the republic's economic life. Organized labor demanded this council until it was established by decree. Its members are appointed by the government on nomination of the interests represented, giving it a great degree of freedom from government domination.

Public Represented

The council consists of 47 members—30 from labor and industry, nine representing consumers and the general public and eight representing capital. Its recommendations are submitted to the premier, who acts on them, recommends them to Parliament or returns them to the commission for further consideration. It works in close co-operation with government departments and parliamentary committees. It began with a study of the housing problem, developing some plans of wide scope, and then undertook to cover all phases of the national economy to map out action and determine methods essential to put the country's "national equipment" into fullest operation.

The British government last year announced that it would form an economic advisory council, as a standing body reporting to the cabinet. The prime minister is its chairman and its membership includes certain other members of the cabinet, the president of the Board of Trade and other persons appointed by the premier because of their special knowledge and experience in industry and economics.

The purpose is to bring politicians and economists together and make them realize both political difficulties and economic necessities, according to the Manchester Guardian. The work and reports of the body are confidential.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

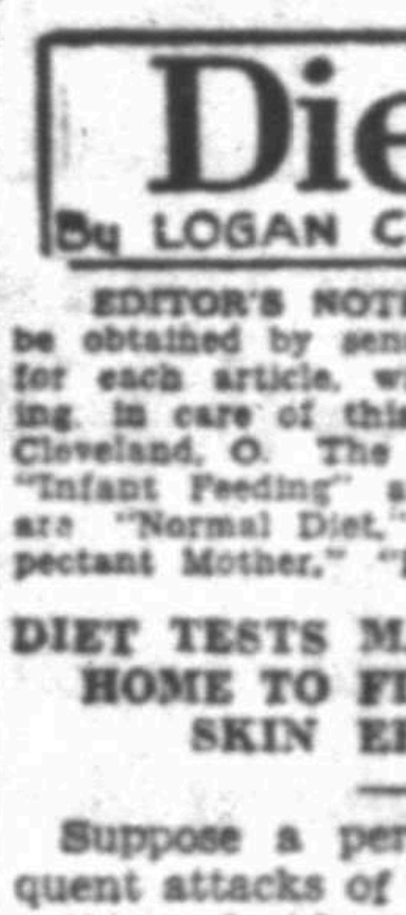
EDITOR'S NOTE: Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

DIET TESTS MAY BE USED AT HOME TO FIND CAUSE OF SKIN ERUPTIONS

Suppose a person who has frequent attacks of hives or attacks of asthma decides that these attacks are due to sensitization to some sort of food he eats. He does not know what food it is and wants to find out for certain. How does he go about it?



Dr. Clendening

The doctors who specialize in this kind of work usually do it by skin tests. It was found that in people who are sensitive to foods the skin will give an inflammatory reaction if the offending substance is scratched into the skin. These skin tests are however long drawn out and necessarily expensive. They are also, as has lately been suggested, not always reliable (in an article by Feinberg—Uses and Limitations of Skin Tests in Allergy," Journal American Medical Association, November, 1930). With these disadvantages in mind it is possible for the patient to test himself with the so-called elimination diets of Rowe.

These diets are based on the principle that certain foods frequently cause the allergic symptoms and others seldom do. The latter are selected to be used in the diet for some time. If no asthma or hives appear during that period it may be assumed that they were caused by foods not in the diet. Other foods are then cautiously added to the diet. When the offending food is added the symptoms should appear. The villain is then unmasked and can forever be avoided.

Let us see how one of these diets works in practice. Several of them were given in the article yesterday. We will choose Diet No. 2.

Cereal: Corn, tapioca; bread: corn pone; meat or fish: bacon, chicken; vegetables: squash, asparagus, peas, artichokes; fruits and jams and fruit drinks: pineapple, apricot, prunes; miscellaneous: sugar, olive or corn oil, salt, corn syrup.

It will be noticed that all classes of food are represented—cereals, bread, vegetables, meats and fish, fruits and condiments. So a reasonable variety is possible.

One important warning is necessary. The patient must get enough to eat. Sugar never gives allergic symptoms and olive or corn oil seldom does. So here we have a carbohydrate and a fat—both good energy producers and both should be eaten in sufficient amounts to prevent weakness or loss of weight.

The olive oil should be substituted for butter in cooking the foods.

Well, for breakfast you can have sliced apricots or pineapple; corn meal mush; a crisp slice of bacon. For lunch: chicken, peas, corn pone, artichoke salad with French dressing (using corn oil) and apricot preserves. For supper: Chicken broth, chicken and bacon, hominy grits, asparagus, fruit salad of apricots, pineapple and artichoke, and prunes for desert with sugar.

Corn pone is made with cornmeal, salt water and vegetable fat.

If after a few days trial of this nothing happens, diet No. 1 can be added in toto. This gives a larger variety. Rice and rice bread can be used alternately with corn and corn bread. Lamb for another meat, lettuce, spinach and carrots for other vegetables, and lemons, pears and peaches for other fruits.

Then with diet No. 3 added there is enough variety to suit nearly any taste. The articles missed most will be wheat bread, eggs, milk and dairy products and tea and coffee. If, however, after a trial of some weeks there are no symptoms, these should be added to the diet one by one. They are the most frequently offending substances, and if a person is sensitive to any one, the familiar symptoms will return as soon as it is added to the diet.

JEFFERSON, Mar. 5 (AP)—R. R. Farmer, vice president and general manager of the Louisiana and Texas Railroad, was in Jefferson today to make a location for a 800-foot switch to be built for handling materials for Sinclair Oil company. Farmer said the location would be made on property owned by the railroad and would be started as soon as possible.

SWAN

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

RABIT.— Having introduced my readers, at one time or another, to Manhattan slang, it seems but fitting that I supply some sort of code for the language distributed through subsequent and current columns in North Africa.

Thus, whether I live to use the words or not, ballaic, or balek, means get out of the way."

A "bab" is a city gate.

An "asr" is a prayer, but try to pronounce those "sr" sounds.

An "asha" is a prayer after the sun has set .. otherwise an evening prayer.

"Allah Akbar," as chanted by the mezzins, means "great is Allah."

When you want a camel to squat, you merely sneeze out this one: "Adar-ya-han." . . . Try it on your own camel if you don't think it works.

If you care to say "good morning to someone, you scratch your vocabulary a couple of times and take this out—"aselamu aleikum." Don't ask me how you do it!

And if, even as myself, you happen to be an unbeliever, you're a "giaour," whatever that may be.

Since the Frenchmen are here in large quantities, they are known to natives as "Franzwai," which isn't so difficult. But a mosque is a "djamaa," which is tougher, and a greeting is a "bilshifa," which isn't so good either.

Tomorrow is always "bokra" and there's plenty of "bokra" around these parts, if you were to ask me. And if you would have some "pork and—" you ask for "cherchem." But you'll get no pork with them. However, I'd advise the Moroccan national dish, known as couscous, which seems to be a pigmy rice, but actually is a homemade product.

My notebook also reminds me that, at last, I've discovered what happens to old tires.

In Marrakech, Meknes, Oran, Fez and way points, the wise ones take the tires that have blown out and strip them into squares of about six inches each, or more. These are then turned into water-carrying pouches of first-class rubber, and a great improvement over the clumsy goat skins now in use.

And the answer to what becomes of ancient oil cans is to be found in the "tin can city," which lies on a hill just outside of Casablanca.

This is, far and away, the last word in filth and economy. There are perhaps, some 1,000 families living in "tin can city." Their homes are built of cast-off oil cans, rescued from the back lots and the waterfronts. They are placed like so many bricks and filled in with a clay-like composition.

The spaces between homes happens to be but a foot or two, and there are neither sewers nor water systems. With the result that the 10,000 humans, or more, who populate this strange hilltop city, are filthier than any animal, including the well known pig.

Yet, on a sunny day, their little city shines bright in the sun, and somehow they manage to escape plagues and diseases in general.

Officers Searching For Florida Bandits

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Police combed southeastern Florida today for four masked bandits who looted a dinner party last night of $1,500 in cash and $42,450 in jewelry after lining up the diners with a sub-machine gun and pistols.

The robbery took place in an exclusive apartment house. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

An eastern university is paying students to swallow balloons in a diet experiment. And to think that in a few months baseball pitchers will blow up free of charge!

Big Bill Thompson, mayor of Chicago, is Boston born. His recent political opponents, however, probably didn't notice any special refinement in his speech.

If Cal Coolidge accepts that $1,000,000 job as head of the New England dairy interests, he'll doubtless make his own hay while the sun shines.

"Butler Would Speak to Aid Unemployed," Headline. Would you call that idle talk?

It is the hope of every baseball manager, of course, to make jack of all trades.

"NOW that we've seen the diamond mine, I think that it would be just fine to travel on our way again," said Mister Travel Man. "In some new spot we'll try our luck. Let's hop aboard our trusty truck." "All right," replied the Tinies. Then out to the truck they ran.

The engine started with a roar and they were on their way once more. "Where are we bound for?" Coppy asked. "This road's a winding one. It seems that in the distance there is naught but woods and open air." The Travel Man replied, "Don't fret! We'll have a heap of fun.

"It's Zululand we're heading for and there some new sights are in store. The roads are rather bumpy, but we'll get there just the same. You may be jogged around a bit, but that will keep you feeling fit. Before the trip is over you'll be mighty glad we came."

And so they traveled all day long and not a single thing went wrong. Poor Clowny once kicked 'bout the heat, and 'twas real hot, at that. But Scouty said, "Oh, make the best of what we have. You're coolly dressed. Why don't you try and shade yourself beneath your spreading hat?"

When nighttime came they all camped out. 'Twas cooler then and just about the finest sort of night to sleep. Each one had needed rest. At dawn they started out again. Someone soon spied a hut and then wee Scouty saw some natives who were very queerly dressed.

"What are they doing?" Scouty cried. The friendly Travel Man replied, "That is a roof they're building. Maybe you can lend a hand. To make sure that the roof's not wrong, they make it first and good and strong. And then they build the walls on which the funny roof can stand."

Some critics deny Charlie Chaplin is a genius. But what would you call a movie actor who dines with a prime minister and rates a Legion of Honor award from the French government?

As profound as Einstein sometimes is, there's no denying he goes light on most of his theories.

GOTHAM FACES WATER FAMINE

NINE INCHES OF RAIN NEEDED TO BRING SUPPLY NORMAL

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 5—Nine inches of rain are needed in the Catskill country to bring New York City's water supply up to normal.

Unless it comes, firemen won't be turning on fire hydrants to cool off the youngsters of the lower East Side this summer. Pavements and sidewalks will have to go unwashed and it may be necessary to turn off the water all over the city for a while every day.

To Affect 8,000,000

In all, about 8,000,000 persons will be affected—population of Greater New York and Weschester county.

An energetic campaign by Commissioner John J. Dietz of the department of water supply, gas and electricity and William W. Brush, the department's chief engineer, has cut down the consumption of water in New York City in the last six weeks about fifty million gallons a day.

Not Enough

That is not enough, they both said today.

Right now the Catskill system, from which all five boroughs get most of their water, contains less than 20 billion gallons of water. The normal supply for this time of the year is 110 billion gallons.

The history of New York's water supply may be written in three chapters. First the water came from local wells and reservoirs through wooden pipes. In 1842 the Croton system was developed and completed with cast iron pipes. The Catskill system was begun in 1884 and completed in 1917.

Since then there has been no increase save for the present development of some wells on Long Island which will furnish 150 million gallons a day to the suburbs.

Mansion Awaits Chewnings Despite Elopement

Margot Couzens Chewning, daughter of the wealthy Republican senator from Michigan, and her husband, William Jeffries Chewning, above, former bank clerk, who startled Washington by eloping to Baltimore last year, will live in the $50,000 home, above. Washington whispers that the senator made negotiations for the purchase despite his intimation, following the marriage, that the impetuous young couple would "be strictly on their own," financially.

Gas Wells Are Found In New England Area

ITHACA, N. Y., Mar. 5. (AP)—An unexpected $1,000,000 mid-winter crop is under harvest by the farmers of this section. The crop is leases on rights to gas nearly a mile below the surface.

These reservoirs lie principally in and about Stuben county, New York, and Tioga county, immediately south in Pennsylvania.

Twenty-four live gas wells suddenly have transformed the quiet old agricultural community into a boom territory, but the native stock of Yankee settlers and Pennsylvania Dutch is not putting on any wild west trimmings.

The latest sensation is typical. It is the biggest well of them all, belching wild from an eight-inch pipe nearly 100,000,000 feet of gas a day. Its roar is heard five miles. It draws hundreds of sightseers daily.

BONDS APPROVED

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. —(AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today approved the following bond issues: City of Fort Worth, street improvement bonds, $600,000; City of Fort Worth, airport bonds, $100,000, and Brazoria county, road district 29, $500,000.

Haubner said Orlof confessed making counterfeit money in Marshall, Texas, Little Rock, Ark.; St. Louis, and Paducah, Ky. Orlof, William Lloyd, John Bailey and Elmer Buck, the latter three of Duquoin, were arrested last night on a charge of possessing and passing counterfeit quarters here.

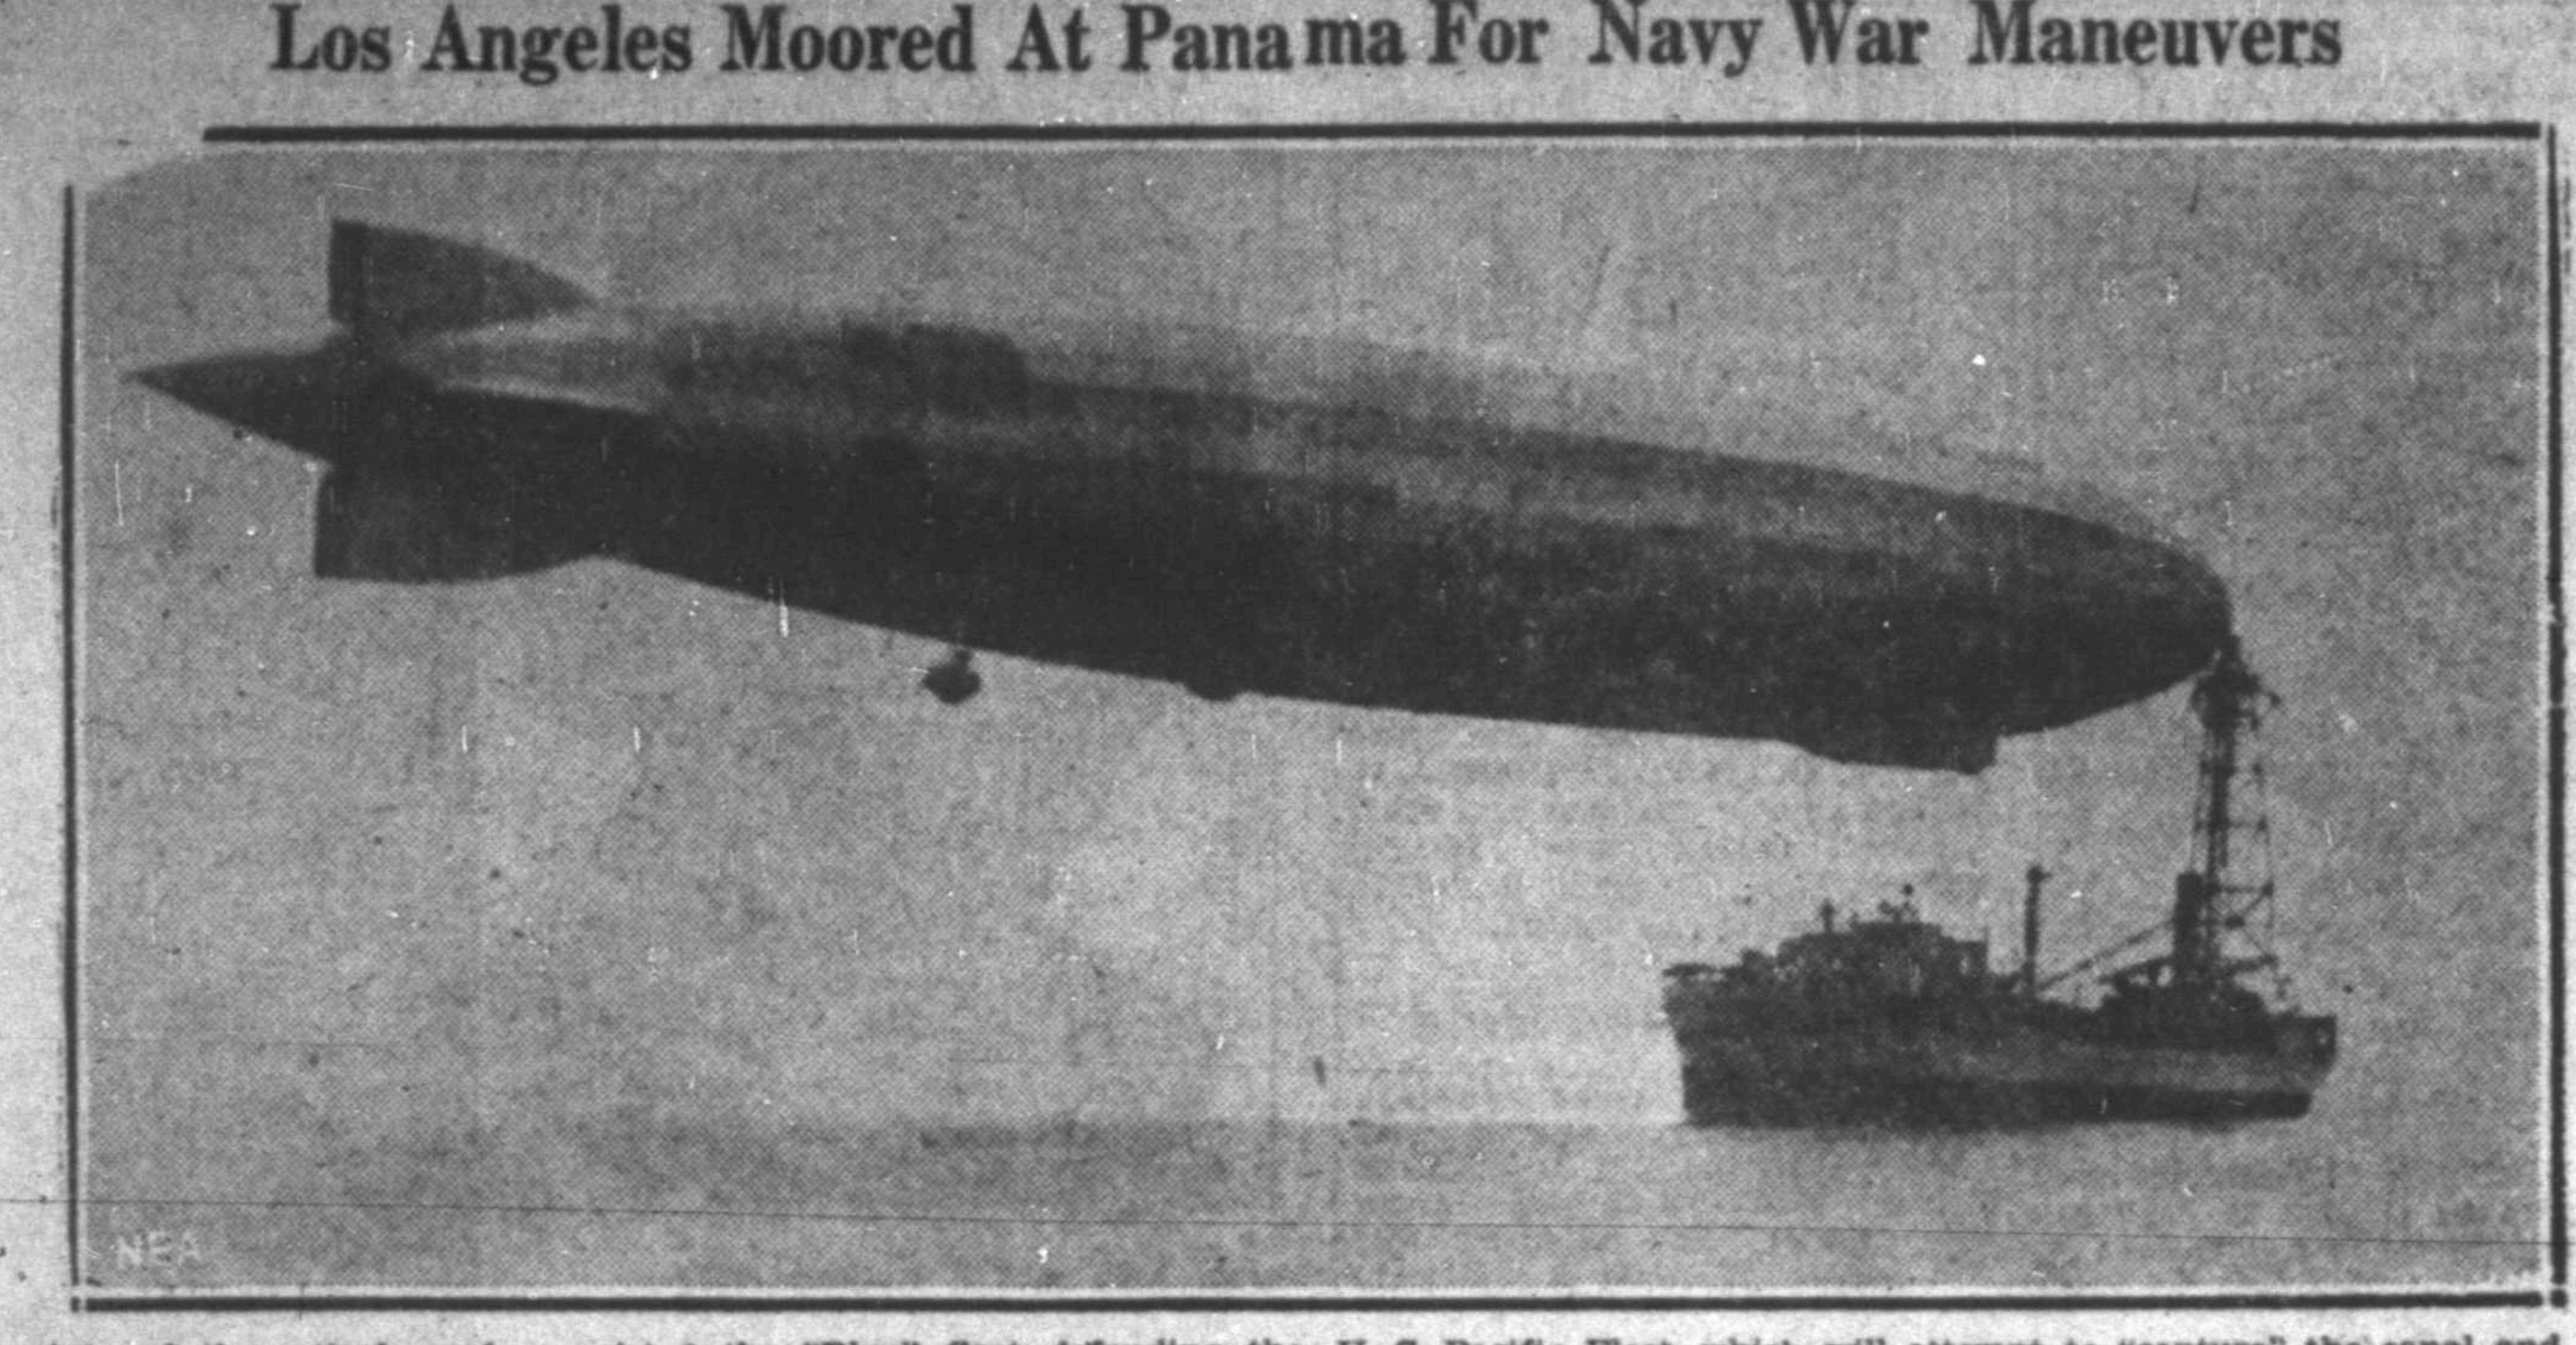
Los Angeles Moored At Panama For Navy War Maneuvers



A state of theoretical warfare existed the "Blue" fleet defending the Panama Canal and the "Black" attackers when this striking picture, showing the gigantic navy dirigible Los Angeles at its mooring ship, the Patoka, was taken in Panama Harbor. The "battle" is to be that of an inferior fleet with a superior force of surface craft, represented by the U. S. Pacific Fleet, which will attempt to "capture" the canal and land an armed force. After a day of radio silence, in which the friendly enemies took their positions, the dirigible scouted the edges of Panama Bay and moved off to seaward in an effort to locate the "Black" ships.

ferring to Vanda Hoff, the dancer he married in 1922 "I'm married to a dance band."

A sigh traversed his 250-odd pounds.

A Wonderful Girl

"She was always right—a wonderful girl. She always said I took more interest in other people's affairs than I did in her's. For instance: the boys in my band. My work is my life and I can't allow anything to interfere with it.

"It's hard for two people in the show business to be happily married. Anyway, I found it impossible. It isn't a normal existence. It's a very intense life."

Think Of Actors

"Think of the movie actors in Hollywood. You think they have a snap until you face those big lights and mocrophones and cameras. I believe they get more happiness out of one or two years of marriage than an average person does in a lifetime. They are forced to travel at high speed, under great pressure, just as they work."

The rotund conductor whose spherical figure, tiny mustache, and round face have been caricatured everywhere, preserved a serious look in his brown eyes.

"No, two 'show people' cannot always be good audiences for each other. Yet when one leaves the profession something else is lacking. 'Van' said she would keep up her dancing but she dropped it a week after we were married. Paul Junior was born. I was on the road for five years consecutively. We had no home.

"I can't remember ever having had a home," he said after some deliberation. "I haven't lived more than two months in any one place for years. 'How to be happy though successful—' that's been my problem. I've been a flop in my private life and I'm not blaming anyone but still I can't blame myself entirely either."

Fingerprints Used For 1st Time Here

Fingerprints were introduced for the first time in history of Lubbock county courts Wednesday afternoon and proved to be a major factor in obtaining conviction in seventy-second district court of A. G. Graves, a negro, on a charge of burglary.

The negro was convicted of prying open a safe in Frye Rubber company's station at Avenue H and Thirteenth street and taking about $33 in cash.

George Eubanks, police identifications officer, testified for the state in connection with introduction of the fingerprints. Eubanks said the prints had been taken from a filing cabinet, which had stood at the left of the safe, and that they corresponded to those of Graves' left hand.

Three Billion Loan To Italy Is Studied

PARIS, Mar. 5. (AP) — The Paris edition of Chicago Tribune today said American financiers probably would be called upon to shoulder almost in its entirety a projected three billion dollar loan to Italy, negotiations for which have been under way simultaneously with the naval conversations.

The Morgan interests were said to be taking a lead in plans for floating the loan in America, probably by popular bond issue.

TRADE EXPERT

moments this morning was "the most complete and accurate survey of a city and its trade territory that I've been able to obtain in Texas." He had been in El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and other metropolitan centers before arriving here.

Lubbock is the thirty-sixth city on his Texas itinerary, which includes 38 cities. Mr. Ware expects to complete the work at San Angelo next Monday or Tuesday, he said. His surveys included the citrus groves and the Rio Grande valley generally, Texas' seaports, the newly opened oil fields in East Texas, and virtually every other aspect of the state's commercial, agricultural and civic life.

Finds Courtesies

In Texas, Mr. Ware found "capable business men who yet have time for little courtesies."

Californians are known for their state consciousness. The Los Angeles man, however, said that he "came from California with a perfectly good California speech which has been in the bottom of my trunk since my first meeting here" and "has been talking Texas ever since."

Mr. Ware would revise Horace Greeley's famous advice to a young man to "go to West Texas, buy some property, even though only small lots—and sit tight."

Invading the East Texas oil fields in the vicinity of Marshall, Tyler, and Longview, the Californian said he "found the wildest sort of oil excitement and yet the most practical hardheaded business men I've met in Texas."

Mr. Ware, who appeared to speak as an individual without promotive airs, explained the purpose of his trip to Texas.

Depends On Trade

"Economic prosperity depends upon reciprocal trade between our respective communities," he said.

"Los Angeles bought more than $2,500,000 worth of food products from Texas last year. By buying Los Angeles products you help the growth and development of one of your best customers, thereby increasing its purchasing power.

"We desire to cement more closely friendships and business contacts which have been formed between Los Angeles firms and Texas buyers during recent years.

Mr. Ware commended work of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. He appeared particularly impressed by plans for the third semi-annual West Texas Market week which will be held here March 16, 17 and 18. Mr. Ware formerly was manager of the domestic and foreign commerce department of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

COLD WEATHER

Oklahoma by nightfall.

Despite sunny skies and moderate temperatures this morning, indications were that the southeast breeze would shift northwest by early afternoon, J. P. Slaughter, U. S. meteorologist, said.

Looks For Wind

Slaughter looked for a 40 mile wind, snow and subfreezing temperatures tonight. The cold weather is coming from the snow-swept rockies, he said.

Relief agencies in Oklahoma City made ready for the cold snap, preparing to house the needy in vacant buildings and at fair park.

WINTER HATES TO SAY GOODBYE IN ROCKIES

DENVER, March 5. (AP)—Winter is reluctant to say goodbye to the Rocky Mountain region.

Making up for neglect of its duties during a good portion of December, January and February, snow whipped three states last night on the wings of a sharp, chill wind.

A blizzard swept Wyoming from the northwest.

Stockmen Warned

Drops in temperature were accompanied in Montana by snow in the western and southern portions of the state and a light precipitation in other sections. Stockmen were warned of the possibility of a blizzard. A wet driving snow fell over Colorado.

Transcontinental airplane schedules were disrupted by the storm in Wyoming, and no one was encouraged to do any motor travel. Train schedules were not affected.

Dish Menu Given In Demonstration At Acuff Session

A dish menu was demonstrated at a meeting of the Acuff Women's Home Demonstration club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. P. Reeves, according to Miss Ruth Stockton, Lubbock county home demonstration agent.

The main dish consisted of meat, potatoes, tomatoes, and onions. Two salads were prepared to show what could be done with the vegetables available. Carrot-raisin and carrot-turnip-onion salads were made and placed on lettuce leaves. Sandwiches of home-made cheese also were served.

"Acuff has many fresh vegetables in the garden now," Miss Stockton reported.

"Vegetables now growing in the gardens include carrots, turnips, lettuce, onions, Swiss chard, spinach, and mustard. All of these could be grown in a hotbed no matter what kind of winter we might have.

"In addition to those vegetables, which many club members have, Mrs. Moore has stored collards and cauliflower. These were turned upside down in a trench and earth thrown over them.

"These women report having fresh vegetables since early last spring. This is due partly to the unusual winter, but every one can have these vegetables in their hotbeds."

DEMOCRATIC SESSION IN CAPITAL IS FEATURED BY HARMONIC EXPRESSIONS

ing. Upon reassembling later, the committee was slated to hear Chairman Raskob's own statement in regard to party policies.

Smith To Attend

Alfred E. Smith, Democratic standard bearer in 1928, sent word he would attend the afternoon session.

The meeting took on the appearance as well as the spirit of a regular party convention.

The spacious dining room of the Mayflower hotel was lined with row after row of seats. Banners on standards designated the seating places of the committee men. A phalanax of Democratic congressional leaders attended Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader and vice-presidential candidate in 1928, sat on the front row.

Would Not Ask Resignation

Watt T. Brown, Alabama committeeman, who had announced he would offer a resolution seeking the resignation of Chairman Raskob, said he would not do this "unless conditions justify it."

Representative McDuffie, Democratic whip of the house, was the other Alabama representative at the meeting, holding the proxy of Mrs. Charles J. Sharp, national committee woman.

Seated together on the second row, three Texans, Tom Love, Maury Hughes, and Col. R. E. L. Knight of Dallas, were set for anything that might happen. Love had an Oregon proxy. He is an Anti-Smith man. Knight had the proxy of Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier of Austin, while Maury Hughes has that of Jed Adams of Dallas.

Sticking Together

Love said that if the prohibition issue were discarded and the party went on record for enforcement that it would have a good chance to win in the 1932 election along economic grounds. The three Texans said they were "sticking together so we can watch each other." Senator Tom Connally of Texas joined their party.

In the absence of the secretary Charles A. Greathouse of Indiana Raskob appointed Bert New, also of Indiana, as secretary.

Patrick J. Haltigan, veteran house reading clerk, read the call of the meeting—"to discuss plans and policies to govern us during the next fifteen months."

Referred To Debt

The call referred to the committee's $631,000 debt and stated the John Price Jones corporation of New York had been employed to aid in the campaign of raising the funds.

Election of the new committee members was approved quickly.

Mr. Raskob, diminutive and mild of voice, stood to one side of the platform before a microphone as he directed the opening movements.

Representative Cannon, of Missouri, an expert on parliamentary procedure, sat just behind Mr. Raskob on the platform.

The roll call showed 45 of the 96 committeemen and committeewomen from the 48 states represented by proxy and two absent and not represented. All the territories were represented by proxy. Most of the Democratic congressional leaders had proxies. Senator Connally held one from New Mexico, giving the Lone Star state at least four representatives with votes. Representative McClintic of Oklahoma, was another proxy holder.

Telegrams Read

A telegram from John W. Davis, presidential nominee of 1924, was read by Raskob. Davis' praise of the Democratic leadership drew applause.

Raskob said before the next meeting of the committee, either later this year or early next, sufficient time will have elapsed to permit of mature consideration of policies. Then, he added, time would have elapsed in which to measure public opinion and resolutions could be adopted looking forward to the next convention.

The chairman turned over to Haltigan a resolution from the Texas legislature for reading. Its condemnation of the Republican administration stirred shouts, applause and some laughter, for Texas went for Hoover in 1928.

G. O. P. Faces Defeat

Jouett Shouse then took the platform. He recalled that in 1928 "the largest popular vote ever given a minority party" was registered.

Shouse declared the Republican administration "swept into power in 1928 is now facing, in the middle of its term, the patent fact that it has lost control of the legislative arm of the government."

He referred to the 1930 congressional elections as "sweeping" and said it was a greater victory than it appeared on the surface.

Going back to history Shouse said that inevitably when the party in power lost congress it lost in the next presidential election.

As for individual candidacies, Shouse said "we shall refuse to be connected with individual candidacies of any man in the party—we shall do all we can to build up the party."

Again, applause rang out.

MURRAY SAYS HE'S TO STOP 'LEGGING OF OKLAHOMA GAS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 5. (AP)—If there is nocturnal "bootlegging" of gasoline in Oklahoma, Governor W. H. Murray is going to try to uncover it.

He said today he felt sure "bootleg" gasoline traffic was going on at night in an effort to evade payment of tax, and that he was investigating.

The Oklahoma governor also said Attorney General J. Berry King should bring action to collect the tax from companies he knows to be escaping collections. King, in a letter yesterday said numerous distributors were evading the four-cent per gallon levy. He cited the gasoline "war" in Oklahoma City which has lowered prices to 10 and 12 cents.

Murray, who has called a second oil relief conference for Texarkana, Ark., next Monday, announced he had been advised the Standard Oil companies of Indiana and New Jersey would participate in a conference regarding limiting of oil imports if President Hoover sees fit to call such a meeting.

This followed a request from the governor's oil relief meeting at Ft. Worth, Texas, Sunday, that the president intercede with importers of foreign oil with a view to curtailment.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR THIRTY-TWO YEARS, HE STILL IS ABLE TO MAKE LIVING FOR HIS FAMILY IN MINING WORK

By NEA Service

KIMBOLTON, O.—For 32 years Homer Shipman has been paralyzed from the waist down, unable to use his legs, because of an accident in a coal mine.

Yet through all of those 32 years he has earned his living as a coal miner, going down into the mine shaft daily and swinging his pick as lustily as a normal man. He has raised a family of six children. He supports himself, his wife and his youngest child today.

But don't get the idea that it has been fun. Shipman, who is now 55, has not stood erect since the accident. When he goes about he has to drag himself along in a sort of crawl. His Christmases, especially, are always dark and cheerless; for he is just able to make both ends meet out of what he earns in the mine.

The mine, a small shaft in a hill side, is his own, situated about a mile from his house. Because that mile is too far to crawl he has a little shack by the entrance to the shaft, and he sleeps there six nights a week. Each morning he crawls into the shaft with his son-in-law, and they do not come out until evening. They get, on an average, 60 bushels of coal a day, for which Shipman gets 10 cents a bushel. His expenses run around $2 a day, so that his net income is about $4 a day.

The accident occurred in his own mine, six months after his marriage. A ton of rock fell on him and broke his back. For a time doctors despaired of his life. But he recovered—partially. He has never walked, and he never can.

But he has worked, and raised a family, and supported himself.

"We never have any luxuries and sometimes we hardly have enough to eat," he admits. "I don't know what'll become of them after I'm gone. But there's no use complaining, although I sometimes wonder just why the Lord keeps me alive."

Mrs. Shipman stays at home to care for their 10-year-old son while her husband works.

"Homer works so hard," she says. "He says the pain and misery don't seem so great when he works—kinda forgets about the things he'll never have, I guess. I guess we have enough to eat. But that isn't all in life. Ever since Homer and I were married we never had anything to brighten our lives."

She has not been away from home since the accident.

"I feel that so long as Homer has to work, I must do my share," she says.

So Christmas time, for the Shipmans, is just another day.

At left, Homer Shipman sits up to be photographed. Right—how he squats down to swing his pick.

Tech Student Writes Article For World

"Effect of the Twist" is the title of an article that appears in the current issue of the Textile World written by Winnifred A. Wardell, senior student in textile engineering at the Texas Technological college.

The information for the article was compiled by Mr. Wardell while working in the college spinning and textile department. Mr. Wardell has determined the relation between the twist per inch and strength on a specified size of yarn.

These tests were performed as part of Mr. Wardell's senior work. The information may be of value to the textile mills over the country according to Professor Carl Brandt head of the textile department.

Progress

In Individual Transportation

Aeons ago, long before the dawn of history, there lived a great inventor—the genius who gave us the wheel. A simple wheel it was, just a circular wooden disk, but it has evolved in our days into that marvel of modernity, the 1931 Automobile.

From such humble ancestors as the primitive ox-cart groaning over rutty cow-paths, and rickety careening Roman Chariots down through the London post-chaise of Fielding and Sterne and Boswell, through the "One-hoss shay" of Oliver Wendell Holmes, through the two-cylinder horseless carriages of the budding century, the motor car of today has evolved a marvel of speed, smoothless and luxury.

If only that nameless father of the wheel could come to the Auto Show—how his eyes would grow wide—how his jaw would drop! How he would gap at the wire-spoked decendants of his invention, encased in jolt-proof rubber; at the gleaming chromium plating; at the luxurious upholsteries! How he would tremble with awe if he saw this godlike thing flying down a concrete road a mile a minute!

You, dear friend, are not a savage of long ago. With blase familiarity you motor about the land. But even you thrill with the wonder of these new models—will revel in the grace of line, the luxury of interior, the velvety power of motors displayed in these modern marvels of motordom. All convened together, beneath the roof of the Uptown Dance Palace, are the models you have been waiting to see—all the leading cars of America in an unforgettable array.

PIPELINE INTO AREA TALKED

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE TO CONSTRUCT 210-MILE LINE

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 5.—The Dallas Morning News says construction of a pipeline from the Lathrop area in Gregg county, in the new east Texas oil field, to the coast is probable, if negotiations of the Yount-Lee Oil company for the interests of John Farrell and associates in the Farrell-Lathrop well and leases go through as expected. It was estimated the pipeline project would cost more than $3,000,000.

The report that construction of such a pipeline was being considered followed the sale of 32 1-2 acres to the Morgan and Moody-Seagraves companies for $81,250, by W. A. Moncrief, associated with Farrell in ownership of the well and leases nearby. This land included the west 17 1-2 acres of the east 35 acres of the Thrash 80-acre tract, and west 15 acres of the east 30-acres of the south 60 acres of the Giles tract.

Would Go To Coast

Should the sale be consummated it was believed the Yount-Lee company and Morgan and Moody-Seagraves interests would combine in laying a pipeline to the coast, terminating either at Beaumont or Houston.

Such a pipeline would be approximately 210 miles long, and would greatly increase the amount of oil which could be moved from the field. The daily total is now about 35,000 barrels.

The Sabine Syndicate-Burton drilling company No. 1 B. S. Florey, in the northern Rusk county, is regarded by Dallas oil men as proving the width of the East Texas field for at least two miles. The field's length already has been shown to be more than 30 miles.

The well is one and three-fourths miles northwest of the Bateman No. 1 Crim, one of the largest East Texas producers.

SINCLAIR BUYS LEASE

JEFFERSON, March 5. (AP)—Confirmation of the sale of a lease to the Sinclair Oil company of a tract of land in Marion county containing 4,112 acres was given today by L. G. Braden of the firm of Wright and Braden, Jefferson realtors. Braden said the lease was made to J. W. Cullough, agent for the Sinclair company. The tract is about 8 miles west and north of Jefferson.

It was indicated the resolution would not be carried to the house on a minority report.

The committee reported out favorably a resolution by Representative Moffett of Chillicothe proposing to limit the number of representatives in any one county to five.

NO MORE TWITTING...

'Men Are Strange Creatures'

WHAT AN unmerciful twitting they give women about their bargains! And how they love to harp on "vain as a woman" when wives and daughters are successful in looking their best! . . . But to hear them at the office is another story. It's "my wife this, and my wife that"—with evident pride.

Vain? There's nothing quite so vain as men who have attractive and accomplished wives. How their wives manage the home—how they plan and buy—is a source of constant wonderment and appreciation. Nothing pleases a man more than the knowledge that his wife is a shrewd manager and a deft hostess.

But what is so amazing to men is commonplace to women. Women know that shrewd management and good taste are not matters of chance, but qualities to be cultivated—personal qualities that depend upon a thorough knowledge of style and value.

It is not difficult for them to obtain this knowledge. Every day they read the advertisements in the newspapers — printed statements of style, price and value. Statements that are sponsored and signed by companies known for business integrity and style authority.

Guided by this knowledge, women choose wisely—receive for their money the highest in quality, the utmost in style—through advertisements in the Avalanche and Journal.

SENATE GROUPS PLAN PROBES

SIX INVESTIGATIONS OF CHARGES TO BE MADE IN NATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—Six senate investigating committees prepared today to share the spotlight forfeited by congress for the next nine months.

They will carry on investigations into lobbying, campaign funds, postoffice leases, economic conditions, banking facilities, and the condition of the Indians.

To Study War Burden

In addition, a joint congressional committee will inquire into unemployment insurance and a commission composed of members of congress and cabinet officers will study methods of "equalizing the burdens of war" by universal draft and otherwise.

With the adjournment of congress, members of the committee prepared to start the inquiries which are expected to develop more than the usual between session activity on Capitol Hill.

The lobby committee probably will be the first to go into action. Chairman Caraway said today it will open next week its inquiry into published reports a senator received $100,000 or more from a domestic sugar company while congress was considering the tariff bill.

Davis Asks Probe

Senator Davis, Republican, Pennsylvania, asked for the investigation and appeared before the committee to characterize the charge a "lie" if it referred to him.

Chairman Blaine of the committee probably would not resume its hearings until the lobby committee had finished its work. Blaine plans to continue the inquiry into the lease for the St. Paul commercial station postoffice in which a grand jury found evidences of fraud.

Hearing in the banking investigation have been completed for the present, but Chairman Glass said today he plans during the next few weeks to draft legislation on the basis of the hearings and then call in leading bankers and economists for consultation.

Another senate investigation—of Ralph S. Kelley's oil shale charges—died with the congress. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, instigator of the inquiry, said today it was apparently "defunct". He said a report may be made at the next session, however.

HE HAS IDEAS

* * * * * *

He Couldn't Get His Daughter's Boy Friend Home

CHICAGO, March 5.—(AP)—Henry Magis is a fellow who has ideas.

One of them concerned a plan whereby he figured he could induce his daughter's boy friend to go home a little earlier and it might have worked if it had not been for his neighbors. They had him hailed into Judge Joseph Graber's court for setting up a mournful yowling like a dog.

"And what," asked the court, "was the idea?"

"I was just trying to scare away my daughter Katherine's boy friend," he said. "He stays so late."

But the court felt it was not within Magis' province to fix the calling hours of Katherine's boy friend and suggested to Mrs Magis that she destroy any liquor she might find about the house. Then he set Magis free.

hell Is Claiming Deepest Oil Well

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 5 (AP)—The eepest oil well in the world was laimed today by the Shell Oil ompany when its derrick at Memiopic, 50 miles northwest of Baksfield, drove a drill down to 9,- 9 feet.

Shell drillers said the hole would drilled to the 10,000 foot mark. was estimated the temperature of e earth at the present depth was 0 degrees Farenheit.

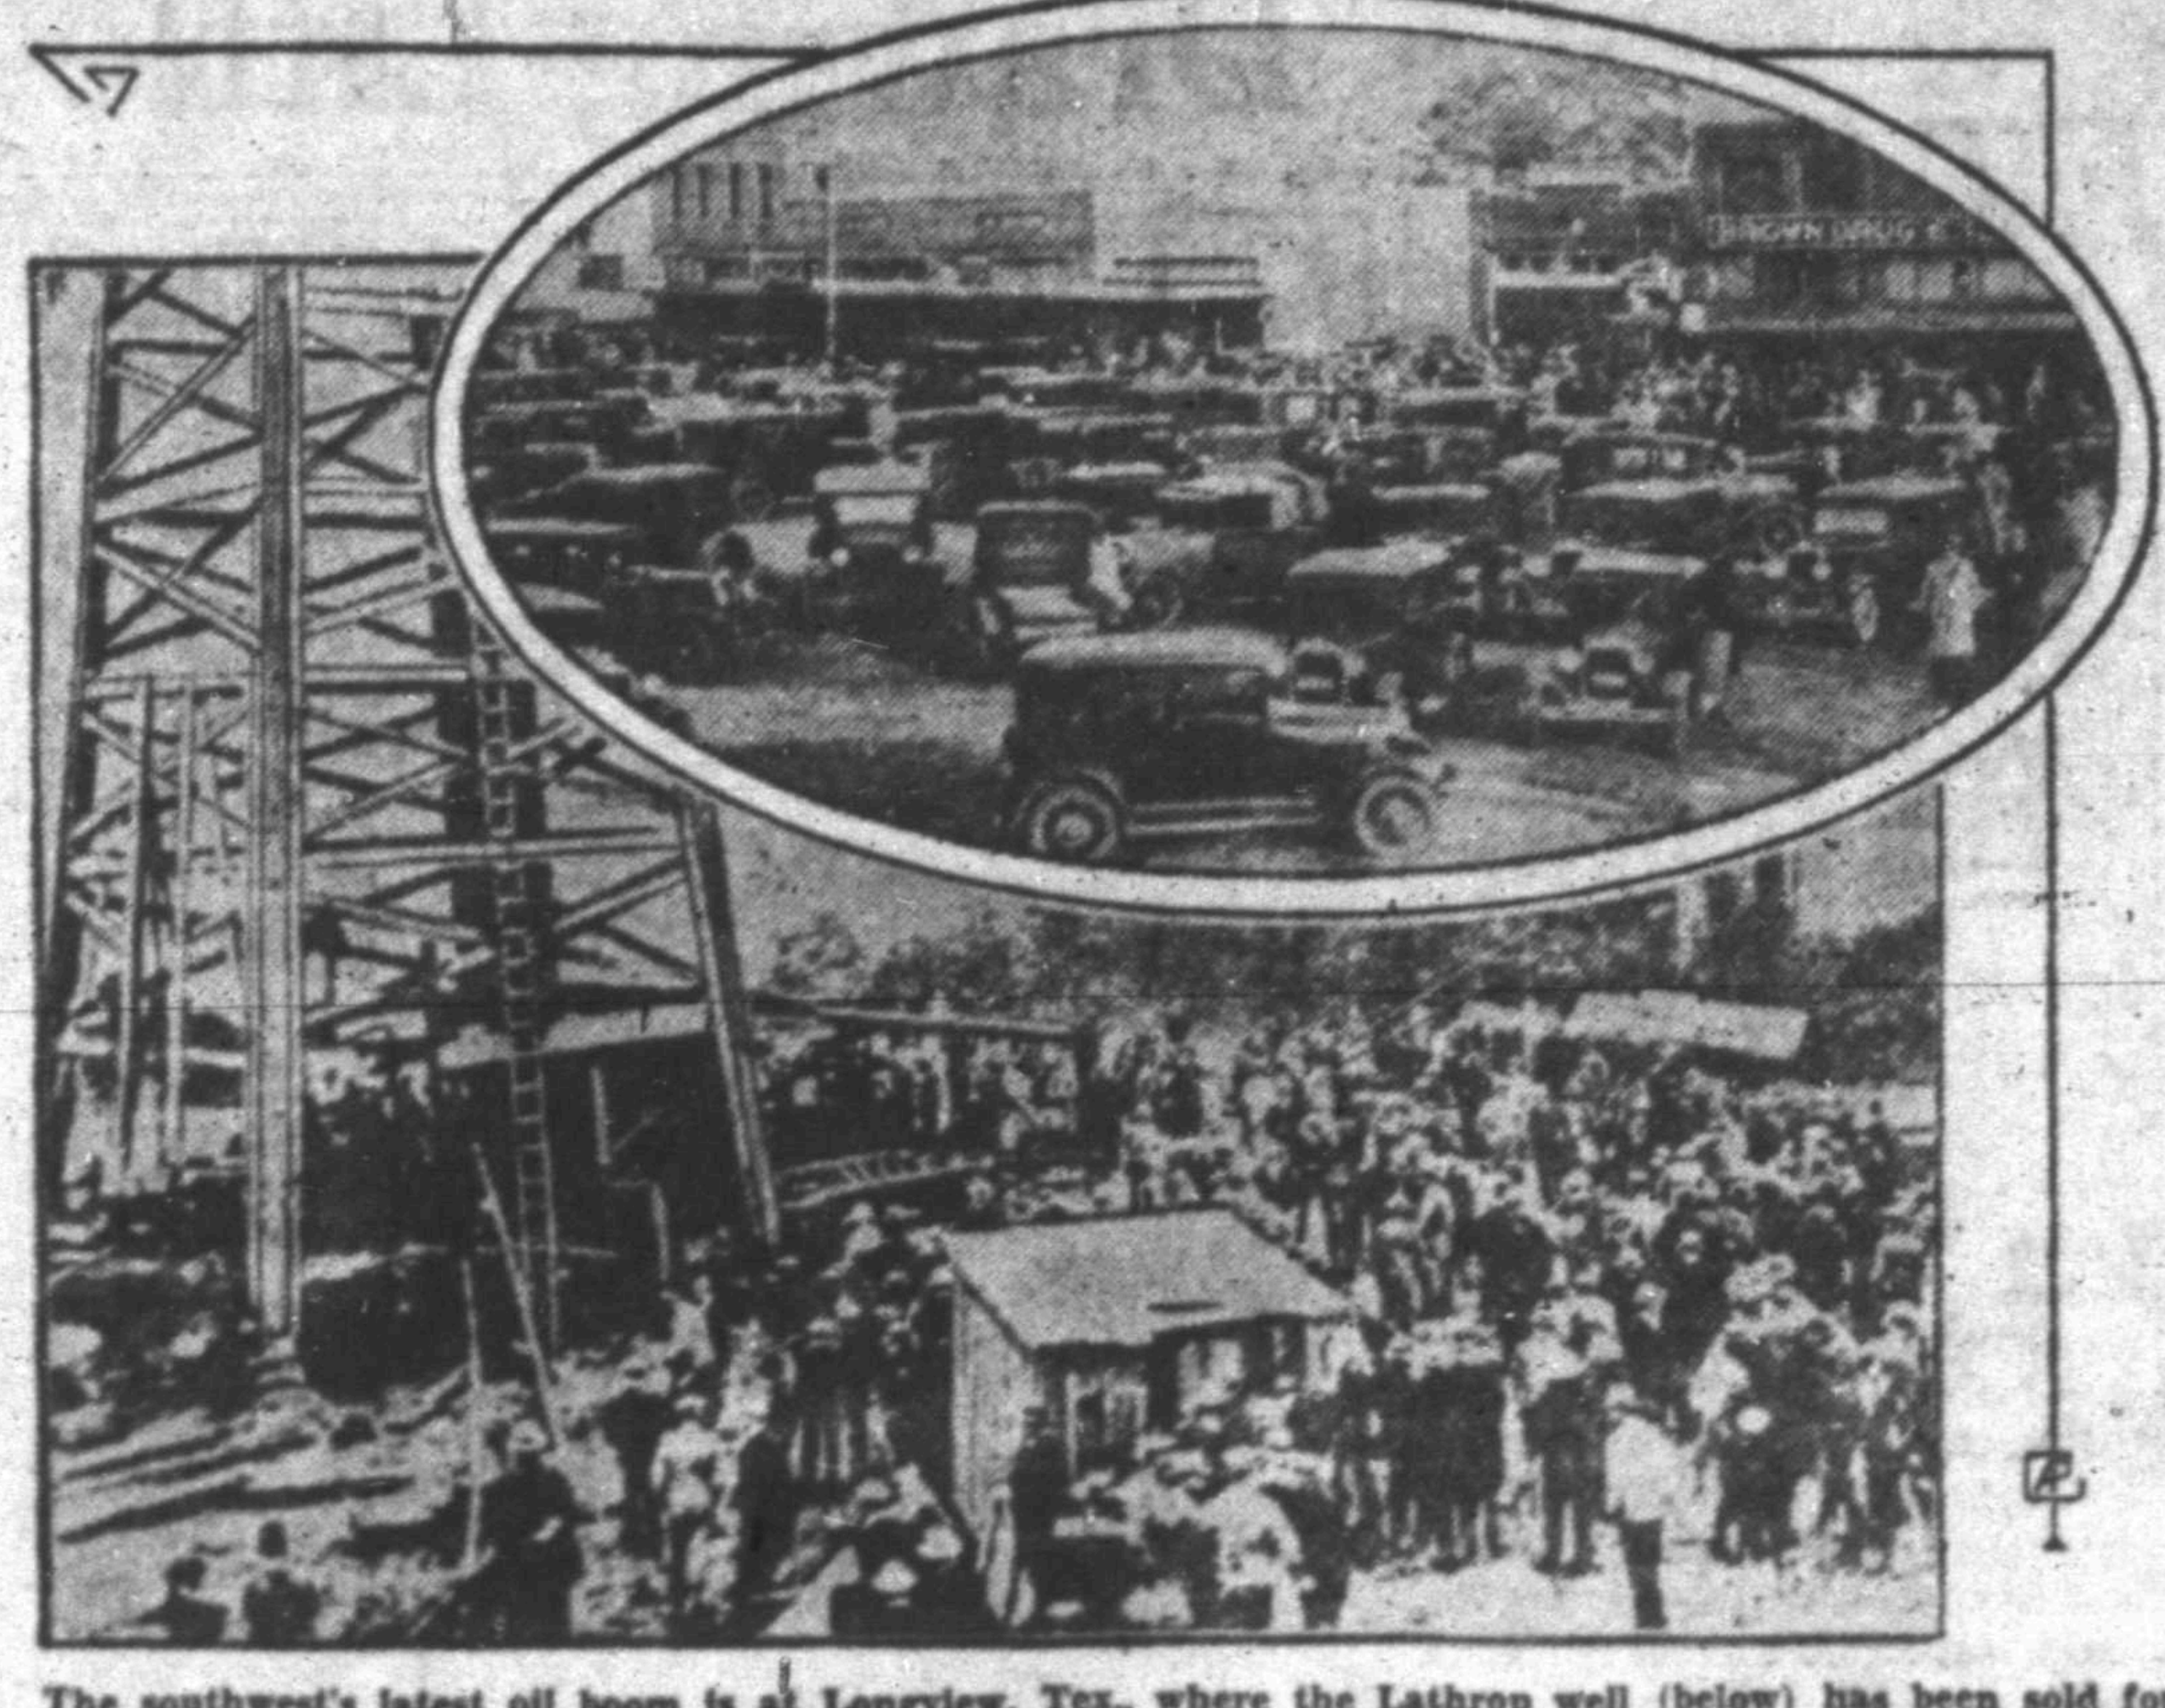
OIL BOOM STRIKES SMALL VILLAGE, CITY SPRINGS UP



The southwest's latest oil boom is at Longview, Tex., where the Lathrop well (below) has been sold for $3,500,000. Above is a scene at Kilgore, Tex., where the current boom started. Hundreds of fortune-seekers have flocked to the territory in the hope of striking other new producers.

LONGVIEW, Tex., (AP)—Less than two months ago this little city in east Texas lay dozing in the center of an agricultural community.

Crop failures, business depression and the removal of railroad shops had conspired to discourage its inhabitants. The new census figures showed a loss of nearly 700, dropping the town almost to the 5,000 mark.

Today every hotel, every house in town is filled to overflowing Population has grown to between 20,000 and 25,000. Bank deposits have almost doubled. On every hand are excitement, enthusiasm, hustle and hurry.

Such a sudden transformation has been wrought by the opening of a new oil field—a field Harry Sinclair is quoted as describing as "the biggest he ever saw in the making."

Three days after Christmas, a wildcat driller near Kilgore, 16 miles southwest of Longview, brought in a 22,000-barrel well from a depth of 4,000 feet on the farm of J. Malcolm Crim.

On January 26, a second gusher on F. K. Lathrop's farm, 20 miles to the northeast of the discovery well, came in with a 40,000-barrel flow.

Then the rush was on in earnest.

Once quiet streets rang with the blare of traffic, automobiles lined curbstones and highways for miles. The excess of visitors, unable to find accommodations at the center of things, crowded every town within a radius of 25 miles.

Longview's force of telephone operators was doubled, telegraph facilities trebled.

Hospitals have been thrown open to the newcomers. The newest hotel is starting a 64-room addition. Another newspaper has been launched. Several large office buildings are planned.

Four pipe-lines are being rushed to the new field, and work is to start at once on at least three refineries.

The boom has brought its fantastic stories of quick riches and fortunes that might have been.

J. Malcolm Crim, general store owner, sold the discovery well on his property for $2,100,000 and that day sent receipted bills to every customer, some of whom owed him hundreds of dollars after the years of drought. F. K. Lathrop sold his holdings for $3,500,000.

A year ago a young newspaper man bought a lease on sixty-two and one half acres for a small sum. Unable to finance a renewal, he sold out for $2 an acre in December, only to see the buyers of his lease within a few weeks dispose of their holdings for $1,000 an acre.

Old-timers cannot remember such active bidding for leases as the Longview boom has brought.

MISSION SAN JOSE TO BE RESTORED TO ORIGINAL FORM AND FRIARS WILL HOLD SERVICES THERE ONCE MORE

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, March 5.—Mission San Jose, world-famed architectural gem and historic shrine of two centuries, will be restored to its original form, and a large monastery erected near it for the accomodation of Franciscan Friars who are returning to hold services in San Antonio after an absence of nearly 100 years.

This announcement was made today by Very Rev. Vincent Schrempp, O. F. M. Provincial of the Chicago province of the Franciscan order, when he arrived for the bicentennial celebration.

APPLICATIONS TO BE SENT TO FORT WORTH OFFICE

Mailing of first applications for federal drouth relief production loans from Lubbock to the newly established southwestern office at Fort Worth was expected today. J. B. Shannon, chief of the local office, indicated as much Wednesday.

"I have been holding up applications for several days and I expect to send those that have been approved to Fort Worth," he added. "I saw in the paper where the new office had received several hundred applications.

"My understanding is that the applications will be acted upon promptly and that it will take only a couple of days to get returns back."

Up to Wednesday the number of checks received here had reached 24. Of these, 18 were received Monday and six last week. None were received Tuesday.

Attention Asked

Mr. Shannon is holding up about 25 applications that have not been completed. "People do not seem to realize that these papers should be attended to at once," he said. "Especially, if they expect to get any money."

The St. Louis office has apparently set a minimum of $20 per animal for work stock for feed, Mr. Shannon pointed out. On all checks received so far, the committee has reduced to that amount for the rest of the crop planting season, the money allowed by the committee. Several applicants had asked $25 or more, but these were all slashed.

Total number of applications approved is 225, with a large proportion of the blanks filled out at Slaton sent to other counties because the applicants live outside Lubbock county.

Cochran county has been included in the drouth relief area and is eligible for loans, according to a telegram received from Senator Pink L. Parrish at Austin.

Mr. Shannon and members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce have been working several weeks in conjunction with a committee from Cochran county to obtain drouth relief. George E. Lance of Morton was in St. Louis recently in the interest of this work.

More than 50 applications for relief were made out last week at Morton by Mr. Shannon in anticipation of the drouth relief being granted Cochran county.

SNYDER, Mar. 5.—(Staff Special)—Regular session of the Four County Singing convention, comprising Fisher, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry counties, will be held here Sunday, March 8. An attendance of 1,000 or more is expected. The chamber of commerce will assist in entertaining the visitors J. W. Scott, secretary, reports.

His newspaper suspended and his deportation ordered by the Cuban government, John T. Articles in his paper unfavorable to the present Cuban administration were reported to have caused his expulsion. Though an American citizen, he has lived in Cuba for 20 years.

YOUTH SERVES PRISONER-GUEST ROLE

SHERIFF TAKES KANSAS MAN TO LIONS CLUB LUNCHEON WITH HIM; IS HELD PRISONER

FORT WORTH, March 5. (AP)—The dual role of prisoner and guest was played at noon Wednesday by a young man, whom Sheriff J. R. Wright arrested on suspicion and then took to the Handley Lions club luncheon as his guset.

The sheriff was motoring leisurely along the Fort Worth-Dallas pike when he saw a youth pass in a car with a Kansas license plate. Things didn't look just right and the sheriff pursued, halting the young man.

Both sheriff and the prisoner went to the luncheon and the sheriff introduced the prisoner as his guest. The youth became the "luncheon prisoner" after confessing to the sheriff he was driving a stolen car.

It happened that the young man was being sought by Wright's deputies at the time the arrest was made but the sheriff didn't know it. The youth earlier in the morning drove into a filling station here and obtained fifteen gallons of gasoline and drove off without paying for it. Officers of Wichita, Kansas have been notified of the arrest.

McGRAW TO STAND PAT ON HIS GIANTS

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

News of West Teas' and Lubbock's first coaching school is attracting wide attention and is getting favorable publicity from all parts of the state. Pete Cawthon's mail box is daily filled with letters from coaches of high schools and colleges of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Taylor county in reply to questionaires and invitations mailed by the Tech mentor.

Nearly all of West Texas' coaches are expected to be here for the first two weeks in August to enroll in the school conducted by Wallace Wade and Jimmy Phelan, and a number from other sections of the state and from other states have already signified their intentions to come. Cawthon is in receipt of a letter from Jack Meagher, Rice Institute head coach, in which the Owl mentor says "reserve me a desk in Phelan's classroom" with accompanying words of encouragement. Meagher belives other East Texas coaches will come to Lubbock.

Thanks to the fine goal tossing of "Too Tall" Dietzel and Doc Sumner and the equally fine defensive work of these and other men of the team, T. C. U. won its first Southwest Conference basketball championship Tuesday night when the Frogs flashed their best form to lick the Methodist Mustangs in the final game of the season. When he registered nine points Tuesday, Dietzel set an all-time conference scoring record for a season with a total of 168 points. It bettered the previous one set in 1929 by the sensational little Holly Brock of the University of Texas Longhorns by three points. Jake Reynolds of S. M. U. followed with a season's total of 154 points, while Sumner came in for third honors with 130.

For the first time in six years the rangy lads of the Ozarks and the University of Arkansas failed to cop the pennant. They were forced to third place, in a tie with the Baylor University Bears with a season's record of five games lost and seven won. The Frogs won nine and dropped three, while the Methodists, second place hoopsters, stand with eight won and four lost. The Aggies rest in fourth place, having lost seven, with the lowly Owls getting the better of the University of Texas to come in for fifty place honors. The Steers lost ten games during the season, their worst record in many seasons.

Not all good athletes make good when they leave the realm of sport. They may be of local, state, national or international fame but they may land on the rocks when they assay to undertake other phases of life, just as men of any other business or profession. The greatest football player of all time and once holder of the title of world's best all-round athlete has literally landed "on the rocks".

He is Jim Thorpe, the once mighty Indian of Carlisle, football, baseball and track star de luxe, who, almost single handed cornered Olympic honors for America in 1912 only to relinquish his trophies later under charges of professionalism. Thorpe is working in Los Angeles as a common laborer with pick and shovel for $4 per day. But he still grins, and his wife and two kiddies grin with him.

Possibly no other man in recent history has scored as many athletic victories, Bobby Jones and Jack Dempsey notwithstanding, as the great Thorpe. A huge book in his modest library is the most popular volume in his meager cottage. It is filled with clippings and photographs. There is a picture of the king of Sweden giving Thorpe a trophy for winning the decathlon and a picture of a bronze bust of the Swedish king, which went to him for winning the pentathlon. "Guess it's an old story," he explains now. "I liked to be a good fellow with the boys. But I'll come out of this. And I'll do some saving when I do."

Del Morgan, boxing promoter of Texas Tech and football coach and freshman basketball coach in season, is getting ready for a big fight program next week. The mats are being overhauled and placed in the gymnasium where on Monday afternoon there begins an intramural schedule of eliminations that should bring out flocks of local fans. Lubbock and Tech men who have attended the fun night programs sponsored by the athletic department of the college have been well entertained by the abbreviated boxing and wrestling bouts.

"Strong Man" Greer Frizzell, one of the leading heavyweight candidates for intramural honors, is doing a daily practice stint in preparation for a return bout with "Cowboy" Al Simpson, the mighty mauler. Frizzell and Simmons met for the first time last month before nearly 1,500 yowling male fans and Frizzell took the count before the echoes of the opening gong had ended.

MASTER MIND IS PLEASED WITH CLUB

HEAVY - HITTING ONE OF MAIN BOASTS OF LINEUP

This is the eighth of a series of first hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, March 5 (AP)—Boasting one of the heaviest hitting lineups in the major leagues last season, the New York Giants could finish no better than third. The veteran master mind, John J. McGraw, blames the loss of a pennant on the weakness of his reserve troops and the fact that several capable pitchers, for some unaccountable reason, failed to win.

Thus, instead of making some wholesale changes, the little Napoleon has decided to stand pat and see if he can't rectify things in preparation for the 1931 National league race. He visions a hit five-club battle for the title and is girding for the fray. He reached camp earlier and is working harder than he has in years. He has failed to win a pennant in six years and doesn't like it.

Pitchers Must Deliver

Unless some youngster strikes the McGrawan mind mightily, there likely will not be a change from the 1930 line-up. It is a flag contender as it stands, providing the pitchers come through. They didn't last year.

With Memphis Bill Terry, the league batting leader, at first; Hughie Critz at second, Travis Jackson at short and Freddie Lindstrom at third, the Giants have one of baseball's great infields. They hit, respectively, .401, .260, .338 and .379 last year. What Critz didn't hit, he made up in fielding brilliance. McGraw was thinking of shifting Lindstrom to the outfield and inserting Urban Pickering, a lusty hitter from Birmingham, but some of the best minds doubt he will do it. Eddie Marshall, who hit .309 in 78 games last year, again will hold the utility role. Sam Leslie, last year's Texas league batting leader, and John Vergez, a third sacker, from Oakland, complete the infield array.

Centerfield May Be Open

There isn't a chance of breaking into two outfield jobs. They will be patrolled by Melvin Ott and Fred Leach, a pair of the best. The third post, centerfield, promises to fall to Charles "Chick" Fullis if he has recovered from an early injury last year. If Fullis is not ready to step in, there are some capable reinforcements. Leading the list is Ethan Allen, the former Cincinnati Red, who finished in the utility role last year. Harry Rosenberg, a .330 hitter from San Francisco; James Bryan, from Springfield, and Joe Moore, who came up from San Antonio, also are on hand.

Fred Fitzsimmons, Carl Hubbell and Bill Walker form the nucleus of McGraw's pitching staff. Between them, they turned in 53 victories against 34 setbacks last season and were listed among the topnotchers of their league. Pete Donohue, Joe Genewich, Joe Heving, Clarence Mitchell and Herbert Pruitt round out a veteran corps of flingers. Donohue and Genewich were disappointments to McGraw last year, both finishing in the red, but the Giants boss is counting on them strongly this year.

Two Are Promising

Of eleven other various and assorted hurlers the most promising are John Berly, leading pitcher of the Rochester club last year, and Leroy Parmelee, a fast baller who was on the bench most of 1930. Jim Chapin, who won two out of eight starts late in the year, also is a responsibility.

Francis Hogan and Bob O'Farrell again will be the bulwarks of the catching staff. They divided duty last year, Hogan slamming the ball at a .339 clip and O'Farrell for .301. Francis Healy, with Bridgeport last season, and Francis Laveque from San Antonio, battle it out for the third string job.

Three Texas Teams In National Play

KANSAS CITY, March 5 (AP)—Although the entry list for the National Amateur athletic union tournament to be held here next week was due to close last night, the list will be held open for benefit of teams which may win a place in competition as the result of tournaments now being held in various parts of the country, Dr. Joseph A. Reilly, national chairman announced.

Forty-five entries had been received at a late hour last night. The pairings for the first round will be held Saturday.

Entries received include: Canyon Teachers, Canyon, Texas, Dallas Athletic Club, Dallas, and Missouri Pacific Lines, Houston.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

AT ROCHESTER.—Louis "Kid" Kaplan, Meriden, Conn., stopped Tommy Crowley, Pittsburgh, (7). Ock Till, Rochester, outpointed Garfield Johnson, Buffalo, (6).

AT OAKLAND, CALIF.—Young Jack Thompson, Oakland, knocked out Babe Anderson, San Jose, Calif. (9).

CONNIE SAYS A'S DUE TO REPEAT IF THEY FORGET ABOUT OTHER 2 FLAGS; SWETONIC OUT; BABE BUYS MORE BATS

FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 5. (AP)—Walter Johnson's tip-off that the Philadelphia Athletics will need more winning pitchers this year if they hope to beat Washington, brought this reply from Connie Mack, boss of the two-time champions:

"Washington has a powerful team and is sure to be in the race but I feel certain the Athletics will repeat if they forget they won two flags in a row and hustle. If the players are in the proper mood and do their best I'm satisfied we will be in another World series next fall.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 5. (AP)—If Goose Goslin proves himself as good a teacher as he is a batter, the St. Louis Browns' attack this year should show some power. Goslin has taken it upon himself to instruct Larry Bettencourt, the Texas league home run king, in the finer points of the art of hitting and the results so far have been satisfactory to Manager Bill Killefer.

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Mar. 5. (AP)—Pitcher Steve Swetonic is lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, at least for the early part of the season, Manager Jewel Ens announced today. Physicians said Swetonic will not be able to pitch for two or three months. An injured right elbow failed to respond to treatment and x-ray photographs taken yesterday in Los Angeles, disclosed a fluid formation near the joint. Doctors said an operation probably would be necessary. It is likely Steve will return to Pittsburgh for the operation.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 5—(AP)—With the exception of three of last year's regulars, the roster of the Phillies is about complete. First Baseman Hurst and second Baseman Mallon reported yesterday, but Chuck Klein, Pinckey Whitney and Barney Friberg are still among the absentees. Mallon came up from Texas this season and is expected to succeed Fresco Thompson, traded to Brooklyn.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 5. —(AP)—Freddy Lindstrom, former third baseman of the New York Giants, thinks he knows a lot about his new role as right fielder now. Freddy had one fly ball hit his way yesterday and lost it in the sun.

"That settles it," he commented. "I'm a natural outfielder. I feel like Hack Wilson."

Lindy also said he had sent for a football helmet to wear until he got a little more experience.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 5. —(AP)—Babe Ruth has 33 bats, but because "there isn't a good one in the lot," has ordered six more.

The more Manager Joe McCarthy sees of his New York Yankees, the better he likes them. Yesterday he expressed considerable satisfaction at the power in Catcher Bill Dickey's batting and in the flashy work of Bill Werber, young shortstop who came to the Yanks from Duke University, by way of Albany.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 5. (AP)—(AP)—After a few experiments with his batting order, Wilbert Robinson, portly pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has just about decided to have Johnny Frederick lead off this season and Fresco Thompson follow him. Frederick is an expert at getting on base while Thompson is a skillful batter who could advance him.

AVALON, Calif., Mar. 5. —(AP)—Whatever improvement the Chicago Cubs show over last season, if any, apparently must come from the pitching staff and the return of Manager Rogers Hornsby to the lineup.

The infield will be just as it was expected to be last season before Lester Bell and Hornsby were injured. They will be at third and second, respectively, with Woody English at short, and Charlie Grimm at first base.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 5. 5—(AP)—Manager Donie Bush is becoming pensive over the question of who will play first base for the Chicago White Sox this year. Ray Radcliff, from Selma of the the late Southeastern league, is the only bona fide candidate. If he fails to produce it is likely that Johnny Watwood will be called in from the outfield for the job.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Mar. 5. (AP)—Manager Shano Collins of the Red Sox is using real honest to goodness hard work to get the stiffness out of his boys.

Yesterday, Earl Webb, Tom Oliver and Bob Reeves took the cure. They had been in camp just one day and were pretty stiff and sore but Shano just smiled at their protests and sent them into the game.

The Sox manager has given up attempts to make a first baseman out of Long Tom Winsett. He played out in the outfield yesterday. Shano figures that if he's got to teach him a position he might as well work on him as an outfielder.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 5. —(AP)—The rookies are still raising ructions with the regulars down at the Braves' camp.

Some of the tribesmen's hard hitters of last season haven't got their batting eyes tuned up yet and the rookies, who are pushing them hard, are taking the opportunity to break into the limelight. Earl Clark was the Brave who yesterday saved the honor of last year's aggregation. He got three hits, one a two bagger, and robbed Young Walters of a three bagger by a sensational one handed catch in left.

BILOXI, Miss., March 5. (AP)—Determined to strengthen the nation's backstop detail, Manager Walter Johnson has singled out Cliff Bolton, young Southern Association catcher, for special tutoring.

Coach Patsy Gharrity has been given the task of developing him.

RICHARDS SETS LARGE PRICE FOR TILDEN

SERIES IS ASKED TO BE LIMITED TO 9 MATCHES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.— Vincent Richards, national professional tennis champion, wants $50,000 to renew his court feud with Big Bill Tilden. Richards called on Promoter Jack Curley yesterday to talk over terms for a series with his former rival, now turned pro, but insisted that figure was his minimum. He also asked that the series be limited to nine matches.

"This barnstorming around the country is not my line," Richards said. "I did it for five and a half months two years ago with Kozeluh and the $18,000 I got out of the whole trip wasn't worth it."

Don George Wins From E. Marshall

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 5. (AP)—Don George, the former Wolverine who is claimant to the world's wrestling championship, put Everitt Marshall, La Junta, Colo., heavyweight, on the mat twice out of three attempts in an exhibition here last night.

George won the first fall in 29 minutes with a body scissors and arm lock, Marshall took the second in 21 minutes with an airplane spin and George took the deciding fall in 13 minutes, 15 seconds with a body slam.

CARNERA TO OUTWEIGH MALONEY BY 65 OR MORE POUNDS

BY ALAN GOULD

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 5. (AP)—To the somewhat fantastic fistic history of this famous winter playground, the boys were prepared to add the 10-round battle of the cracked rib tonight, featuring the ponderous puncher from Italy, Primo Carnera, and the Irishman from Boston, Jimmy Maloney.

Miami and its ocean front neighbor, Miami Beach, have known the peak of boxing's boom days. Tw years ago the Stribling-Sharke bout drew over $400,000. The downward slice then has been marke by the Sharkey-Scott fiasco, a losing venture of 1930, and the financial distress attending the Walker-Risko show a week ago in the Madison Square Garden stadium.

No Stimulation

Carnera's return joust with Maloney has failed to stimulate eithe the local fistic pulse or the ca customers from elsewhere.

Promoter Frank J. Bruen continued optimistic today in the hope might at least break even. An unseasonable drop in temperature h chilled the prospects for tonight.

Primo will have upwards of a 6 pound pull in the weights, a doct in his corner to treat his damag rib and instructions to try for early knockout.

The preliminary card is head by an eight-round match betwe Maxie Rosenbloom of New Yo lightweight champion, and Ma Gallagher of Washington, D. Rosenbloom's title is not at stake.

TUFFY GRIFFITHS AND THE KINGFISH TANGLE TOMORROW NIGHT IN CHICAGO

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 5.—Along with fighting to settle Chicago's west side heavyweight question tomorrow night, Tuffy Griffiths and King Levinsky will battle for a bout with Tommy Loughran, former world light heavyweight titleholder April 19 in the Chicago stadium.

Both the Tough One and the Kingfish have finished the serious part of their training for the bout and both, to hear them talk, are certain of winning. Levinsky, the former fish merchant, is sure his murderous right hand will tip Griffiths over. The latter doesn't see how he can miss at least outpointing the King.

Griffiths is expected to be a slight favorite, and advance sales indicate an attendance of as many as 19,000, with gross receipts of $65,000.

The New Spring Suits For Men At $35

Are so good that we have had to reduce our last year's $50 suits to the same low price range. We thought we had a most wonderful suit at $50 last year and we did. They were hand tailored where it counted—made of the best of woolens—silk lined.

The new suits (WITH TWO PAIRS OF PANTS) at $35 offer you hand-padded collars, front and lapels. A new lining, not silk, but one that wears better. Fabrics of a better quality than you found last year in $50 suits. An assortment of patterns that will surely satisfy you. A complete range of sizes from 36 to 44.

Citizenship Not To Be Forfeited By Law

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Legislation to assure American women they would not forfeit their citizenship in marriage regardless of the race or nationality of their husbands was on President Hoover's desk.

It was approved by congress after advocates said it would remove "the last remaining discriminations against women," in United States nationality laws.

The action ended in a nine-year campaign for the legislation. Women's organizations united in support of it.

The bill provides specifically that "a woman citizen of the United States shall not cease to be citizens by reason of her marriage unless she makes a formal renunciation."

Largest Attendance Of Music Festival Is In Lubbock Today; Concerts Feature

With several hundred children and adults from over the South Plains joining with Lubbock people, the spring festival of music is in full swing here today. Teachers from 12 towns in the section are here with their pupils entered in the contests and judges have been drawn from some of the principal schools of music in the state.

The eighth annual Festival opened here Wednesday to continue for three days. Today's attendance is expected to be the largest and, although the roads are heavy with mud from the snow last week-end, many are here from out of town. The South Plains Music Teachers Association, of which Mrs. Lillian Butler, Slaton, is president, is sponsoring the festival.

Two Concerts Given

Two concerts were given yesterday. Miss Hazel Griggs, Houston, played in a piano recital during the afternoon at the High School auditorium. In the evening, Miss Flossie Lee Harper, Dallas, and Miss Ruth Lasley, Abilene, were in joint soprano and violin concert.

This evening there is to be a student ensemble program at 8 o'clock at the Tech gymnasium. Vocal numbers, string and wind instrument music will be heard.

Other features of the Festival program are more social in nature. Following a luncheon served at 12 o'clock Wednesday for the guests by the South Plains Music Teachers Association, there was a refreshment hour last evening following the concert. These affairs were at the Adcock residence on 19th street. The Chamber of Commerce was host with a lunch at noon today to the members and guests.

Teachers Attend

In addition to Mrs. Butler and Mrs. M. E. Ware, Ralls, who is secretary of the music teachers association, a number of other members are here. These include Mrs. W. H. Dallas and Miss Gertrude Rosco, of Brownfield; Mrs. E. E. Thomas of Floydada; Miss Pinson, of Hale Center; Mrs. M. H. Edwards, Mrs. R. L. Richardson, Mrs. J. K. Applewhite and Mrs. Ruby D. Suddarth, of Tahoka; Miss Margaret Thompson, of Abernathy; Miss Pauline Buck, of Crosbyton; Misses Leslie Head and Jeannette Ramsey, of Slaton; Miss Juanita Nugent, of Levelland; Miss Lucile Hoeflinger and Mrs. Frank Perkins, of Lockney; Miss Carrie T. Bier, of Plainview.

Judges for the contests include Robert H. Berryhill and Wallace R. Clark, of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon; Miss Griggs; Miss Harper; Miss Lasley; Mrs. Lila Austin Meyers, of Amarillo College of Music, Amarillo; Miss Camilla Marrs and D. O. Wiley, of Simmons University, Abilene; W. R. Waghorne, Texas Technological college; David C. Hansard, Miss Elizabeth Leake and Olga Leaman, of the College of Industrial Arts, Denton; E. Clyde Whitlock, Fort Worth Conservatory of Music, Fort Worth.

To Make Awards

Highest awards for violin, voice and wind instrument contests will be made this evening at the program at the Tech. Classifications of blue and red ribbons will be posted on the bulletin board in the educational building of the First Methodist church and highest average awards for piano contests will be made Friday evening at the massed piano concert at the Tech gymnasium.

Today's contests are in piano, violin, voice, wind instruments and bands and hymn playing. These contests will include a number of large choruses.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. (AP)—Stocks were generally heavy in the earlier trading today, although efforts to rally the steel shares offset in part the continued weakness of the rails. Trading turned dull, however, when prices were advancing from their lows.

New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Frisco, Atchison, Lackawanna and Frisco dropped about a point and failed to show much recovery. There was also some selling of utilities and coppers, with Anaconda and American Telephone losing a point.

Strength in the steel group was particularly evident, Transue & Williams and Superior going up 3, Bethlehem rose one and U. S. steel regained an early loss of 3-4. Mullins Manufacturing was a prominent specialty, the Common soaring 7 and the preferred 9.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 5. —(AP)—The cotton market had a fairly steady opening today despite rather unfavorable Liverpool cables. First trades here showed one point decline to two points up. The market improved after the start owing to prospective bad weather at the end of the week and the reported delays to planting the early crop in South Texas. May traded up to 11.49 and October to 12.02, or 3 to 4 points above the opening figures. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and at the highs.

The market ruled fairly steady all morning and prices fluctuated narrowly and without any very definite trend prices gradually eased off near noon to 11.42 for May and 11.96 for October, or 6 to 7 points below the early highs. At noon there was more of a steady tone and prices had recovered a point or two from the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today, 1 to 3 points higher in response to the steadiness of the later cables from Liverpool, which promoted covering, while there was also some trade and commission house buying.

Trading was comparatively quiet at the start, but became a little more active with New Orleans a buyer here, while offerings were relatively light. May contracts sold up to 11.49 and October to 12.03 making net advances of about 4 to 6 points on the active positions by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported that buying by the continent had been supported by realizing and weakness in Egyptian and reported fair cloth buying by the British home trade and South America. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 19 to 52 points lower. A few additional March notices were issued here this morning without any apparent effect on the immediate market.

The volume of business tapered off after the early advance of about 5 to 6 points and the market was quiet later in the morning, with prices holding fairly steady. March after selling up to 11.25, eased off to 11.21, or within a point of yesterday's closing quotations, but later months held about 3 to 6 points net higher at midday on some further covering and trade buying.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Mar. 5. —(AP)—Corn prices tended upward early today and wheat down. Weather conditions promised to hinder country movement of corn, but to benefit winter wheat. Opening at 1-4 cent decline to 3-8 advance, corn later showed all around gains. Wheat started 1-2 lower to 1-8, 1-4 higher, and afterward held near to initial limits.

Primary arrivals of corn promoted price upturns, totaling 721,000 bushels, compared with 975,000 a week ago and 798,000 at this time last year. Chicago receipts, 204 cars were also smaller than a year back. In contrast, wheat primary receipts were large, 1,485,000 bushels against 1,303,000 a week ago and 880,000 on the corresponding day of 1930.

Helping to check wheat declines were reports that the grain stabilization corporation had been making daily sales to continental European buyers. Notice also was taken that the corporation soon would move 500,000 bushels out of Chicago to provide additional storage for future arrivals. Another strengthening influence was talk that a severe frost would damage domestic wheat by catching the crop in a period of abnormally early growth. Oats were easy, governed by wheat. Provisions demand was slow.

Dallas Tech Exes Form Association

A Tech Exes association has been formed at Dallas by residents there who formerly attended Texas Technological college, according to Jack Maddox, Technological college alumnus, of Dallas.

The body will be composed not only of graduates of Texas Tech but ex-undergraduates as well.

Charlie Wooldridge of the class of 1930 was elected president of the Dallas association, and Anthony J. Grinkle was elected vice president.

SINCLAIR LEWIS DEFENDS AMERICA, HIMSELF AND WRITINGS; DECLARES LONDON AUTHOR SAYS QUEER WORDS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. —Sinclair Lewis—defender of the honor of his native country.

Well, believe it or not, the tall, lanky red head from Sauk Center essayed that role when he returned on the Europa today with the Nobel prize for literature in his pocket.

"So J. B. Priestley said New York has the noisiest street?" he asked. "Well—London has the noisiest lecturers!"

Priestley is a London author and lecturer now touring America.

Defends Self, Too

Mr. Lewis defended himself, too. He had read all the things said about his speech of acceptance at Stockholm and he was "shocked and surprised."

"I'm not anti-American," he declared hotly. "Why, I was careful to explain in the speech that any criticism I made of America could be made equally well of any country in Europe. I spoke of the American scene because I know most about that."

Until he arrived he had not heard that Priestley told a Brooklyn audience Sinclair Lewis' career virtually was over.

Must Be Brooklyn

"It was Brooklyn," Lewis decided. "People have said some mighty strange things when they found themselves in Brooklyn. It must be the sea air.

"If Priestley says my day is done, I suppose that means I had a day. That's more than I would say about some others. I wish Priestley would take over all the writing there is to be done. Writing novels is the dreariest and greasiest job I know of. If Priestley would take the job over there wouldn't be any more criticism. I'd much rather read his books than mine, anyway."
