School Surveys Children Ages One to 18 Years

A survey of children one through 18 years of age in the Wellington School District is under way, Supt. Thayne Amonett announced. Special emphasis is placed on locating all pre-school children who do not have older brothers or sisters already attending school.

This will take the place of the school census, which in the past was held each year. Under recent legislation, a school census is mandatory only every five years.

Survey forms are being distributed by the school administration to all students. Parents are requested to list both school age and pre-school (ages one through 18) children, and

Humorist to Speak at TSTA County Banquet

The annual banquet of the Collingsworth County unit, Texas State Teachers Association, will be held Monday, Feb. 15 with Wellington teachers as the hosts.

The event will be in the cafeteria at 7:00 p.m.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Leon Hill, retired Baptist minister from Amarillo, and a nationally known dinner speaker.

Appearing on this season's Knife and Fork circuit, Rev. Hill spoke during the week end at Colorado Springs, and this week he goes to South Carolina. He will return to Dallas during the week end, before coming here Monday night.

Entertainment was announced by John Alf Thomas, president of the county unit.

Featured will be Nita Gay Wells and the Blue Ace Twirlers from Amarillo.

Nita Gay has won local and state honors, and will be presented twirling batons, flaming batons and swords. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Keith Wells. Her father grew up at Quail and her mother at Hedley.

Also appearing on the program will be the Singing Sweethearts from Hedley, Kim Woodard, Sherry Hill and LaMoss Springer. These little girls will present a program of gospel songs. Mrs. Letha Moss Springer will present vocal, piano and accordion music.

During the business session, new legislation of interest to teachers will be discussed.

Quail School Slates Pie Supper and Coronation

Highlight of the Quail school year comes Friday night, Feb. 12, when the big pie and box supper is held, climaxed by the crowning of Miss and Mr. Quail Grade School and Miss and Mr. Quail High School.

Winners will not be known until the time of the coronation, according to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, one of those in charge.

The gaily decorated boxes and the pies will be auctioned first, followed by the traditional comedy event, a pie eating contest for grade and high school boys.

The winners of the school titles are determined on a vote system. Those bringing boxes, cakes and pies, and those buying them will designate the contestant for whom the votes are cast.

The coronation will close the evening. Mothers of the school district are in charge of decorations which this year have a patriotic theme.

Candidates for the school titles are:

First and second grades: Kay Guthrie and Randy Langley.

Third and fourth grades: Donna Langley and Joe Martinez.

Fifth and sixth grades: Kathy Guthrie and Harvey Oat-

County Ginning Figure Set at 11,808 Bales

Collingsworth County harvested its 1970 cotton crop with just under 12,000 bales ginned, a check with gin managers and the Extension Service shows.

The final count was 11,808 bales.

There were plus factors to this crop, although it fell far below normal county production.

County-wide it produced some of the best quality of any crop in several years. The staple was excellent. This held up throughout the harvest, since there was no wet weather to lower the grade. It was one of the few crops of recent memory in which this was true late in the season.

Over much of the county, grades ranged from middling to a high percent middling light spot.

Generally, the staple ranged from 29/32 to a high of 1-1/16, and like the grade, this held through the season.

In the Dozier area, much of the cotton was in the 1" to 1-1/16 range.

It was noted here also that turnout was exceptionally good. Two thousand pounds of seed cotton could be expected to yield a 525-pound bale.

The price remained up and in fact got a little better late in the season.

Like the rest of the cotton-producing West Texas, cotton was characterized by the highest fiber strength ever and exceptionally good micronaire.

More than 90 percent of the Collingsworth crop—some said as high as 95 percent—was in the right micronaire range, possibly a record since micronaire became an official factor in the "green card class" in 1964.

The crop saw both high and low yields. Some irrigated land south of Dodson again produced as high as two bales per acre. With a considerable amount producing more than a bale. At the other end of the scale, there was dry land cotton where 15 to 20 acres had to be covered for one bale.

A major factor in the total production cut was the large acreage of planted cotton land that had to be abandoned due to weather.

The county had 43,946.7 acres planted to cotton, but harvested acres totaled only 33,366.1, according to records of the county ASCS office—indicating one-fourth of the acreage had to be abandoned due to weather conditions.

The harvested acres accounted for just under one-half the county's 67,512-acre cotton allotment for 1970.

Quota 110 Pints

Red Cross Bloodmobile Makes Collection Feb. 23

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Tuesday, Feb. 23, for the semi-annual blood collection. The center will be set up in Bura Handley Community Center.

The quota is 110 units (pints) for the county. The hours will be 11:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Chairman of this drive is Tommy Thomas, administrator of Thomas Nursing Home.

In pointing to the urgent need for blood donors, Mr. Thomas stressed that there is a local need, for St. Joseph's Hospital relies on the Red Cross for its supply of blood. There is also a need for blood to meet emergencies elsewhere, such as the major disaster of the Lubbock tornado last spring.

The need at this point is for volunteers to recruit blood donors in every part of the county—Wellington, Dodson, Quail, Samnorwood, and even the smaller communities, it was pointed out.

Those interested in working may contact Mr. Thomas at the Nursing Home, 447-2777.

Collecting blood for the Red Cross Bloodmobile is a matter of concern to every person in the county, not Wellington alone, Mr. Thomas pointed out. "The amount asked for represents about 4 percent of the total population," he said.

The twice yearly blood drives are the local commitment made in order that St. Joseph's can secure blood for its patients from the Red Cross Blood Center. The agreement was made after the number of walking blood donors could no longer supply the hospital's needs.

St. Joseph's receives as much blood as it needs, when it is needed, and in return the people of the county are asked to meet the blood quotas during the bloodmobile visit.

The county has never yet met its quota.

New donors are urgently needed in the Feb. 23 drive.

"It is a matter of record that most of the donors to the Red Cross Bloodmobile are repeaters," declared Mr. Thomas. "We have been asking the

Methodists to Observe Race Relations Sunday

The county's three Methodist Churches will observe Race Relations and Reconciliation Sunday on Feb. 14. Plans were announced by the pastors, the Rev. R. T. Dyess of First United Methodist Church and the Rev. C. R. Hankins of Trinity United Methodist Church in Wellington, and Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church at Dozier.

The guest speaker at First Methodist Church for the morning service will be the district superintendent, the Rev. Ted Dotts of Pampa.

Immediately afterward, a basket lunch will be served in the church dining room.

The evening service will be presented by the Collingsworth County Community Action Center under the direction of Mrs. Jimmie Sessions and her staff.

The Race Relations service at Trinity Methodist will be at 7:00 p.m. A Negro speaker will address the congregation and Negro young people will present the program, said Rev. Hankins.

W. E. Franks, mathematics instructor in Wellington High School, will be the speaker at Glen Davis Church at the 11 a.m. service, according to Rev. Hankins.

The public is invited to all these services.

Race Relations Day is observed on the second Sunday of February throughout the Methodist Churches, the pastors explained.

The special offering which will be taken in First Methodist will be divided between Houston-Tillotson College of Austin and the Reconciliation part of the program. This, Rev. Dyess explained, provides for Methodist work among Negroes in city ghettos.

The overall, church-wide reconciliation program calls for raising $25,000,000 over a four-year period.

Juniors Plan Talent Show

The Junior Class of Wellington High School will hold a talent show Thursday, Feb. 19.

A search for talent to appear in that event is now underway, and anyone wishing to participate may contact one of the class sponsors, Don Lacy, Louis Graham, or Miss Beth Bourland.

The deadline for entering is Wednesday, Feb. 17.

Registration of Voters Extended for One Month

Collingsworth voters who failed to register before the Jan. 31 deadline now have until midnight Feb. 28 to do so under a law passed by the Texas Legislature as the first act of the new session.

Mrs. Rita Owens, tax assessor-collector, was notified of the action in a telegram from Martin Dies, received Saturday morning.

Mrs. Owens, in a telephone conversation with the office of the Secretary of State, was told that the action was taken because it was believed that 18-year-olds did not have sufficient opportunity to register.

She pointed out, however, that any person who has not registered may do so during the extended period.

At the same time, she emphasized that both overs and unders must register if they wish to vote in any of the 1971 elections.

First of the elections coming up will be the city election on April 6, with absentee voting beginning about March 14.

Wellington Schools

Principals and Coaches Named, Elections Set

The contracts of Wellington School principals and coaches were renewed, and the date of the trustee election was set in a meeting of the board Monday evening, Feb. 8.

The election will be Saturday, April 3. Superintendent Thayne Amonett announced. Two places will be filled, that of the late Bill Wolf, and that presently held by Jones Singley, president of the board.

One candidate for the board has announced, John Coffee, the superintendent said.

Mrs. Nita Brantley, school tax collector, was appointed absentee voting judge, and ballots may be cast in the tax office. The dates for absentee voting are March 21 to 30.

The final day for candidates to file for a place on the ballot is March 3, and filing forms may be picked up in the office of either the tax collector or superintendent.

The contracts of A. A. McQuary, elementary principal, and Dick Hamilton, junior high principal, were renewed for one year.

High School Principal E. W. Clement has another year on his contract.

Mr. Hamilton also was named assistant coach and the contract of Don Lacy was renewed as basketball coach and Carroll Nunneley as junior high coach.

Head Coach Jimmy Forrester received a two-year contract at the time he was named to that post, which will extend his tenure to the end of the school year 1973.

Norwood Lions To Hear of CAC

Mrs. Jimmie Sessions, director of the Community Action Center, will be the guest speaker at the Samnorwood Lions Club Thursday, Feb. 12, at 7:00 p.m.

She will explain the functions of the CAC and the work that is being done in the center in Wellington.

County, City Seek Past Due Taxes

The county, City of Wellington, and Wellington Independent School District have entered into contracts with Purdue of Amarillo for collection of delinquent taxes for the three bodies.

Members of the Commissioners Court signed the contract on behalf of the county in their meeting Monday, Feb. 9. This contract must be approved by the Attorney General, because the collection of state taxes will be included, Judge Zook Thomas said.

As soon as approval is given, Mr. Purdue indicated that he will begin work. It is planned that collection will proceed in alphabetical order.

The fee for collection of delinquent taxes is restricted by law to 15 percent of the taxes collected.

The Wellington School Board signed its contract in the regular meeting Monday night, Supt. Thayne Amonett said. He said that Mr. Purdue could start to work as soon as he received the contract back.

On the City's part, its contract is continuation of one entered into with Mr. Purdue last year, according to Mayor John Coleman.

Judge Thomas said Mr. Purdue would probably work out of his office in Amarillo, coming here as it is necessary.

This is the first joint effort in recent years on the part of the three taxing bodies to collect delinquent taxes.

Police Get Raised Check

Police Chief Donald Nunneley has requested local residents who may have ordered magazines from out of town door-to-door salesmen recently to inspect their cancelled checks.

Chief Nunneley said that on Tuesday morning a check was turned in to him that had been raised from $1.00 to $10.00. It was found as the owner was going through his cancelled checks.

"We believe if one check was raised, others may have been also," said the Police Chief.

C-C Presents Annual Awards and Notes Accomplishments

The presentation of traditional awards at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet on Monday night, Feb. 8, honored three individuals for outstanding service to their community, and cited St. Joseph's Hospital for excellence in another civic field.

Accomplishments of 1970 were reviewed and goals for 1971 were defined.

Mrs. John Coleman, wife of Wellington's mayor, was named the person who has done the most for Collingsworth County. Her selection was based on her work with youth, guiding them in participation in the area's civic life.

James Morgan, an employee of Lewis Grocery, was named the most courteous sales person in Wellington. The importance of this quality in employees of local business houses was noted, for it is they who often determine the opinion strangers form about the town.

The award to St. Joseph's was its selection as being the most beautifully decorated at Christmas.

Presentation of the plaques was made by Deskins Wells, outgoing Chamber of Commerce president, assisted by Jack Sanford, retiring vice president, and Jimmie Kelso, a director.

J. B. Killian received the fourth award, as Outstanding Farmer in Salt Fork Soil Conservation District. The plaque was presented by Otis Emmert, chairman of the board of supervisors. Mr. Killian will be nominated in the statewide Save the Soil and Save Texas awards program.

Mr. Wells discussed briefly the major accomplishments of 1970. These included:

—Co-sponsoring with Lone

Star Gas Company the Industrial Development Course.

—Assisting in raising money for the installation of a heating-cooling system in St. Joseph's Hospital, which was made during the summer.

—Assisting in raising funds to send a delegate to Washington to seek a more favorable farm program.

—Sponsoring the 1970 Collingsworth County Fair, which in spite of the fact that this was the driest year the county has had, was one of the most outstanding Fairs ever held.

—Collection of funds for new bunting to decorate business houses during the Fair and other festive occasions.

—Continuation of the traditional Trades Day at Christmas.

—Sponsoring the Christmas lighting, for which Wellington

Travel by Cable Car

Warricks Home From Trip to Venezuela

Most people travel by cable car for short distances only, but Mr. and Mrs. Warrick and others in their 134-member party found it was the conventional method of travel from the coast of Venezuela to the 7,000-foot coastal mountains, then down to the capital city of Caracas, at an altitude of 3,000 feet.

The Warricks were guests of Pfizer Chemical Co., on a 5-day, mid-winter trip to Venezuela for Pfizer dealers and their wives.

Most had traveled together several times before.

Landing at LaGuaria Airport, they stayed first at Macuto on the coast.

"The people go out of their way to be friendly," said Mrs. Warrick. "They are nice looking, and most are of mixed Spanish and German descent. Their first days were filled with trips along the coast and into the mountains, one to an area which remains Germanic to this day, although their forebears came to the area around 130 years ago. The houses are of Bavarian style, the people are blonde, and many of the ways of their ancestors are kept. The group had lunch at the Black Forrest Inn.

Venezuela itself is about 570 years old, said Mrs. Warrick, and Columbus paid a visit on his third voyage to the New World.

On the Sunday of their tour, the visitors rode the cable car to Caracas. Starting at sea level, the 24-passenger cars rise at a steep angle to the 7,000-foot mountain crest, a 40-minute trip. They had dinner at the Humble Sheraton Hotel, government owned but leased to the Sheraton chain.

It took only 11 minutes for the cable cars to go down to Caracas.

This is the principal way of transportation, said Mrs. Warrick, and many people ride them from their homes on the coast to their work in Caracas.

The City of Eternal Spring, Caracas is very modern, as far as the buildings and businesses is concerned, she added. They visited the capital building, the birthplace of Simon Bolivar, liberator of Venezuela and other South American nations from Spanish rule. There are a number of monuments in memory of him and others of the liberation movement.

Visitors are encouraged to take pictures of all these, Mrs. Warrick remarked, but the bus drivers never had time to stop as they passed near the slums, the barrios of tar-paper shacks that climb the hillsides. For Venezuela is a country of the very wealthy and the very poor.

In Caracas, too, the women shopped for native crafts, and Mrs. Warrick bought rings of the native gold for her daughter and daughters-in-law. Mining, the group was reminded, ranks second to oil in Venezuela.

Returning to the coast, the Plainsmen traveled over the modern new $60 million toll road. It goes through three tunnels, two that are a half-mile in length and the third one mile.

Temperature varies little in Venezuela, and the group enjoyed five days when the weather was never very far from 85 degrees.

Rockets Defeat Electra Tigers, Bow to Quannah

Wellington Skyrockets rolled over the Electra Tigers 73 to 46 here Friday night, Feb. 5, but the Electra girls were victorious over the Rockettes 47 to 41 in the other game of the twin bill.

The Skyrockets had a 10-point lead by the end of the first period and continued an offensive game that gave them a 34-23 margin at half time and a 20 point lead, 54 to 34 at the third period.

Ray Shrubs led Wellington scoring with 19 points; John Marsh had 11 for Electra.

The Rockettes led 11 to 8 at the first quarter and were behind only one point, 27-26 at the half. A cold third quarter in which they scored only 4 points put victory out of reach. Cathy Singley led Wellington with 27 points; Beth Pierce had 23 for Electra.

The outcome of the other District 2-AA games Friday night was:

Childress over Quannah 59-41. Childress Junior Varsity over Quannah JV, 54-38.

Seymour boys over Shamrock 51 to 42.

Tulia girls over Shamrock Lassies 64 to 27.

Wellington-Quannah

The Skyrockets fell to the Quannah Indians 72 to 61 in a game there Tuesday, Feb. 2.

Wellington was behind 5 points, 17 to 12, at the first quarter, but the score was tied 34-34 at halftime. Quannah pulled ahead 54-46 at the third period and continued to run up points.

Bobby Saied and Ronnie Peneach scored 14 points for Wellington; Lee McDow had 36 for Quannah.

Home Study Participants Learn Furnishing, Planning Principles

By Leta Hill
Home Demonstration Agent

Thirty-six homemakers have enrolled in the home furnishings home study series and will be doing homework along with the youngsters for the next few weeks.

The women, all busy wives, mothers, homemakers and professionals, are engaged in a six-lesson self-study series to learn more about how to select and use interior furnishings. And like the kids, they have homework, too!

The first, and one of the most important lessons in the home study series, centers around home furnishings planning. It's a fact that a well-appointed home never happens by chance. It is always planned by someone with a great deal of know-how, whether by the homemaker herself or a professional designer.

"In furnishing a single room or a whole house, the rules of the game that assure success are basically the same.

1. Analyzing needs of family members is the starting place for a sound plan.

2. Plan on paper by using a scaled drawing of the room or area to be redone.

3. Making an inventory of furnishings items on hand as well as a list of what is needed is essential.

4. Furniture budgets vary in size from family to family and must be determined on an individual basis. Amount of income, size of house, size of family, stage in family cycle, plus values and goals, influence the furnishings budget.

5. Decide on a style that is in keeping with the family's way of living.

6. Functional requirements demand that furnishings serve their intended use, whether comfort, convenience, aesthetic or a combination of these.

7. Quality in furnishings depends not only on the quality of these ingredients, but the examination and application of these within the completed item. Generally a wide range of quality exists in every furnishings item — all the way from custom-order handcrafting through complete mechanization for mass production. Consumers must learn to read labels, ask questions and to examine each furnishings item carefully.

Before making a purchase, shop around and compare prices as well as the quality. Good design in furnishings is available in every price range.

Notes from Your County Home Demonstration Agent

By Mrs. Leta Hill

Husbands and Housework

How much time does the man spend taking care of his home? About an hour and a half a day, or 11 hours each week.

But, that amount doesn't appear to increase even when his wife takes an outside job.

A recent survey showed that husbands helped with cooking, marketing, and record keeping. Their housework of 11 hours was gauged against 51 hours for the full-time housewife. If the wife was employed outside the home, she still puts in 35 hours doing housework.

Teen-agers in the survey gave nearly three hours a day to chores when their mother worked and two hours when she was at home.

Labeling Laws of Rugs and Carpets

Labels on rugs and carpets are required by law and provide the consumer with important information.

The Textile Fiber Products Identification Act, passed in 1960, requires that tags list the generic names and percentages by weight of all fibers, the name of the country of production.

Carpets are also marked with registered trademarks of the fiber producer. When fiber manufacturers set up quality control programs, carpet makers must follow the standards of density of pile, quality of fiber and often quality of backing materials and methods of construction.

When selecting carpets, also look for "carpet wool" on the label. This term assures the consumer that the wool has been imported. American wool and apparel yarns are not strong enough to insure a long-wearing carpet.

Wool carpeting should be accompanied with a moth-proof label. Moth-proof labels are not required for synthetic or man-made fibers.

And a Bit of Spice

Make ordinary dishes sparkle by adding an extra dash of just the right spice or herb.

Spices and herbs not only add flavor but also color and aroma to mild foods.

Spices are the roots, stems, bark, leaves, seeds, fruits or buds of aromatic plants. Normally, "spice" means seeds and herbs which are either dried, whole or ground.

Herbs are the leaves of plants. They may be fresh or dried, whole, ground or crushed.

Effective use of spices and herbs is an art acquired through practice. Begin by experimenting with a few at a time.

Some spices and herbs seem to belong with certain foods. Sage is associated with pork dishes, dressings, and stuffings.

Mrs. Vaughan Hosts Club

Belles Lettres Club met on Tuesday, February 2, in the home of Mrs. Coy Vaughan. The president, Mrs. Dick Richards, directed the business meeting.

Mrs. C. T. Hubbard reviewed the book, "Woman at the Well."

Those attending were Mrs. C. T. Hubbard, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mrs. R. T. Dyess, Mrs. W. A. Harbin, Mrs. Bob Hightower, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Floyd Hitchcock of Amarillo and the hostess, Mrs. Vaughan.

Basil is used for most vegetables, especially tomatoes. Chervil and parsley go well in salads, stews and sauces. Cayenne and paprika are used in stuffed eggs, vegetables and salad dressings. Dill suggests pickles, and mint is good with tea, ice cream and candy.

To be sure your cooking has all the appetizing flavor you want, check the storage shelf occasionally. Certain spices and herbs may be down to mere tagends; others may need replacing because they've been mistakenly stored near heat or in direct sunlight. Even with the most careful storage, spices and herbs, especially in the ground form, lose their vitality after a time. That's the time to throw out and replace with a fresh and potent supply.

Mrs. Sam Russell of Willow, Okla., visited last week with Mrs. Otto Russell.

Sharon Gaston, Fred Sanford Covey, Jr. Marry in Chapel Rites January 29

The chapel of First Baptist Church in Memphis was the setting for the wedding of Miss Patricia Sharon Gaston and Fred Sanford Covey, Jr., both students in West Texas State University.

The Reverend C. H. Murphy, pastor of First Baptist Church and a long-time friend of the bride's family, performed the ceremony Friday, January 29 at seven in the evening before approximately 25 relatives and close friends.

The bride is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Leroy Gaston of Spokane, Washington, formerly of Wellington. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanford Covey.

Mrs. C. H. Murphy, organist, presented the wedding music.

Chapel decorations were an arrangement of blue gladioli before an arch of candles.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street-length white puff-lace dress with a fitted waist and a-line skirt, long full sleeves and a high neckline. Her veil, in three tiers, was attached to a headpiece of satin rosebuds, and she carried a bouquet of white baby roses on a white ribbon.

The bride was attended by Miss Claudia Corley of Memphis, who wore a turquoise faile street length a-line dress and carried a bouquet of blue carnations, tied with blue streamers.

Danny Reed of Pampa was best man to the bridegroom.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Wellington High School, he in 1968 and she in 1969. He is now a junior in West Texas State University, majoring in art education, while the bride is a sophomore social studies major.

The couple is at home at 2701 8th Avenue, Apartment 2, Canyon.

Junior 4-H Studies Food

Junior I 4-H foods and nutrition project group met in the home of Mrs. Creed Hill, home demonstration agent, recently to study the four basic food groups, meat, milk, fruit-vegetable and bread-cereal.

After discussing the meat group, the girls prepared a recipe of chili mac.

Those present were Linda Wolf, Lisa Wilson, Susan Kimbro, Peggy Popwell, Jeanne Morris, Cindy Hernandez, Tamie Lovell and Robin Amonett.

Rhonda Cason and Candy Cason of Abilene spent the week end with their grandmothers, Mrs. Charles Cason Sr., and Mrs. T. B. Wilkins. Rhonda attends Hardin-Simmons University, while Candy is a sophomore in high school.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Horton during the week end were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Alvin Horton of Arlington. Visiting in their home Sunday also were Mr. and Mrs. Sunday Bill Smith of Arlington.

Mrs. Bryan Denley of Floydada spent the week end here.

Arlie community until 1934, when they moved a few miles to the Loco community. The couple lived there until they moved to Wellington in 1961. Mr. Crawford continued farming until 1967, however.

Montague Directs Army Communications

Command Sergeant Major R. S. Montague, Jr., who was in charge of Strategic Communications in Vietnam during his third tour of duty in that country, is in Wellington for a short visit with relatives while en route to his new assignment.

He and Mrs. Montague will leave Friday for Taiwan, Republic of China, where he will be command sergeant major of the Strategic or Worldwide Communications on that island.

In Wellington they visited his mother, Mrs. R. S. Montague, Sr., and sisters, Mrs. Marie Ball, Mrs. B. A. Bledsoe and Mrs. Jake Leach.

"We handled all long-line communications in Vietnam—satellite communications, we had two, joint overseas, tropographic, microwave and long-haul radio, and we also had the submarine cable," he explained.

About 3,800 men were in this regional communications group, responsible for maintenance and operation of the system.

Montague had his headquarters in Saigon, but he was in charge of 52 communications units, located from the DMZ on the north to Camau in the south; from Taynhen just four miles from the Cambodian border, eastward to the Gulf of Tonkin.

Communications units are a favorite target of the enemy, he explained.

"When rockets hit one of your sites and destroys it, you have got to have it back right away, and while you're getting it back, you reroute the traffic," he continued.

Sgt. Major Montague went into Cambodia with units in April, penetrating about 20 miles into the country. Here his signal was always protected. He was there on and off about six weeks.

He left Vietnam Jan. 28, immediately before the invasion of Laos. He explained the mustering of troops along the Laotian border like this:

"You knew they'd all gone somewhere and you could guess."

There are many changes from his earlier tours in Vietnam, says Montague. Troop strength is decreasing, and there are lots of posts and camps that are "graveyards" now. Nobody is using them.

The Vietnamese Army probably can handle the war, with American advisors and air support logistics, Montague believes. In another 20 years, it will be a good army.

When he reaches Tiawan, he will not be a stranger there, for during the last years his duties have carried him over much of the Orient, to Taiwan, Hong Kong, Japan, and other points where United States troops are stationed.

While he was overseas, Mrs. Montague lived in Augusta, Ga.

CACTUS STORES WATER

The saguaro cactus' columns are fluted with accordion-like pleats that expand to store up to a ton of water which the plant quickly seizes from the desert's meager rainfall. Some of the cacti tower 50 feet, live 200 years, and weigh 10 tons.

Mrs. Polly DePauw and Mrs. E. L. Dennis of Amarillo were here Friday to attend to business and visit in the home of Mrs. Warren Carter.

Cards of Thanks

We would like to thank all our friends for helping so much in so many ways in our time of need. Words seem so inadequate to express our thanks and gratitude. You have made us feel blessed beyond measure in time of trouble.

May God bless and keep each and every one of you forever.

Dan, Bonnie, Kathy, Melissa, Mike, Kay and Robbie Guthrie

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to all those who were so thoughtful at the passing of our loved one. We do thank everyone for the many prayers in our behalf and for the beautiful flowers and cards expressing your sympathy.

We are especially grateful to Dr. Holcomb, Thomas Nursing Home, and the ones who prepared and served the food each day.

May God richly bless each of you.

Farm Safety

Accidents can be prevented! But, most of the 116,000 Americans who were killed and the 10.8 million disabled by accidents in 1969 failed to realize this simple fact. Farm people shared in these depressing statistics, too — more than 7,000 lives were lost and 600,000 were injured. Accidents cost our nation some $23.5 billion last year, and losses to farm residents accounted for $2 billion of this figure. The tragedy is that nearly all of this could have been avoided.

Although heart disease, cancer and stroke claim more lives, 2 out of 3 accident victims are under age 45. In terms of productivity and years trimmed from life expectancy, the seriousness of accidents looms much larger than its rank as the fourth leading cause of death in the U. S.

Even though safety information and protective equipment are readily available to farm people, accidents continue to pose a dangerous problem. To reduce this threat to life, limb and financial solvency, each should, and can, do much more to insure his own safety. Here are some thoughts that might help:

Make your homes and farms less hazardous by good planning and housekeeping. Use machinery guards on the job, and wear the personal protective equipment designed to save hands, feet, eyes and head from injury. Conduct your work, play and driving in ways to minimize chance of accident.

APPLES

Two apples up in a tree were looking down, on the world and the first apple said, "Look at all those people—fighting, demonstrating, killing. Some day we apples will be the only ones left — and then we'll rule the world!"

To which the second apple replied, grimly, "Which ones of us — the reds or the greens?"

AUSTIN.—According to a 14-month nationwide study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, the Texas Legislature ranks 38th among all 50 states.

Study reported that the Lieutenant Governor has too much power, and suggested that some of it be transferred to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

CCSL came out strong for annual sessions of the Legislature and found $15,000 a reasonable annual pay for senators and representatives (who now get $4,800).

Conference also suggested that Texas has far too many legislative standing committees (72 in all) and that 15 for each house would be plenty. A joint hearing by House-Senate panels would also save time, the study maintained.

Broad powers of the Lieutenant Governor, said CCSL, are a "hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing." Powers include appointment of committee chairmen, assigning bills to committees and casting tie-breaking votes.

States getting the best rankings were, in this order, California, New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Texas ranked 45th in ability to control its own activities, 43rd in the use of available information, 36th in accountability to constituency, and 17th in being representative of the state's varied interests and population.

Attorney General Opinions

State Building Commission has authority to contract for equipment as part of a modernization, remodeling or building-construction project, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin said that:

—Duties prescribed by the legislature for a position classification officer, state auditor, and a legislative audit committee, relating to a classification plan for state employees, are constitutional.

—Maximum compensation for the Grayson County chief deputy sheriff is $9,964; other deputies $8,737; and the base pay for two assistant county attorneys is $3,600 and other assistants $2,400.

—Anthony Independent School District may select as its depository a national bank located in that part of town which is New Mexico, but may not terminate the present contract until it expires.

—Woman's Club of Houston is not entitled, under facts submitted, to an exemption from ad valorem taxes as institution of purely public charity.

Auto Raet Rehearing

Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office is seeking a rehearing on car insurance rates that were ordered by the State Insurance Board in December.

Counsel for TAIISO and its 325 member companies filed official notice asking that the board re-examine the adequacy of rates it proposed to become effective Jan. 1.

Insurance industry urged average overall 27.7 percent increase statewide. Following hearings in Austin, Dallas and Houston, the Board agreed to grant a 14 percent hike. Insurance Board staff had recommended 18 percent.

Companies contend that "the use of a 25 percent limitation on rate increases by coverage, classification and territory, without a specific allowance for catastrophes, results in confiscatory rates . . . which is not in keeping with the Texas Insurance Code."

Registration to Re-open

Voter registration is due to reopen for the month of February.

Legislature passed a bill to extend the sign up beyond Jan. 31, and Gov. Preston Smith signed it into law.

Sen. Joe J. Bernal of San Antonio, who sponsored the measure, said that the bill shows the Legislature's good faith by getting in line with the Federal court decision. It threw out the annual voter registration requirement and criticized the gap between the end of the registration period and the election date.

A constitutional amendment proposal to wipe out Texas annual registration requirement by state action and other bills to authorize a registration-by-voting system are now pending in the Legislature. Main argument about the latter is over whether registration should be for a two- or a four-year period.

Special Election May 18

Four Constitutional Amendments were passed by the Legislature in overtime sessions and a special statewide election set for May 18.

Following amendments were approved for the May ballot:

SJR 5.—To remove the Constitutional ceiling on aid to the aged, blind and disabled and fix a $55 million maximum on aid to families with dependent children. An $80 million ceiling now applies to all four categories. Unless it is increased (via the May vote), reductions in AFDC will be necessary.

SJR 13.—To establish an official state commission to map ethical standards for state legislators and other officials and to set their pay. Critics lambasted the measure as a device of lawmakers to get a pay raise at a time when the public is demanding legislative reforms.

SJR 17.—Authorizing a $100 million bond issue to finance state aid to local units of government on water treatment plans.

HJR 21.—To permit submission of future constitutional amendment proposals in special as well as regular sessions.

First on the ballot, determined by public drawing, will be SJR 15. Second will be HJR 21; third SJR 5; and fourth SJR 17.

A key proposal of Governor Smith's to tap school land mineral lease-royalty incomes for current spending (depended on for $80 million toward balancing the new budget) fell by the wayside.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court held that the probate court of a county may not order a convict transferred from prison to a state mental hospital to receive treatment for drug addiction.

Jury trial was ordered by Third Court of Appeals in an insurance suit arising from a fire at the Atlas missile silo in Rannels County.

Supreme Court invalidated San Antonio zoning ordinance amendment which would have allowed doctors to build a clinic in a residential area.

Appointments

Jack R. Stone of Wells was nominated by the governor to succeed L. P. (Pete) Gilvin of Amarillo on the State Parks and Wildlife Commission when Gilvin's term expired Feb. 1.

Smith appointed Clyde White-side of Seymour to the Board of Pardons and Paroles, succeeding 18-year-veteran Jack Ross of Austin.

To succeed Whiteside, Smith nominated William H. Heatley, 26, of Paducah, as district attorney of the 50th district. Young Heatley is the son of State Rep. William S. Heatley

AUSTIN.—The natural scenery, history and geology of the 50 state parks of Texas are the subjects of a guidebook just published by the Bureau of Economic Geology at The University of Texas.

of Paducah, chairman of the House of Representatives appropriation committee.

Smith selected Lealand W. Greene of Snyder as district attorney of 132nd judicial district, replacing Tommie J. Mills of Snyder who resigned.

Governor re-appointed Otha F. Dent of Austin to the Texas Water Rights Commission. He redesignated Randy Pendleton of Andrews as director of the division of state-federal relations in Washington.

CROSSROADS REPORT

News is that passenger trains are fixing to be run by a government set-up similar to the Post Office. First move likely will be to raise fares and cut out Saturday, Sunday and holiday service. After a few fare and wage increases, it probably will take six weeks to cross the country in a zip-coded coach. And when the grocery business is taxed and regulated into government management, with prices up and service down, we may not miss any more meals than we do letters, but we could get away behind on them.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Was not the Spanish Inquisition one of the most cruel institutions in history?

Inhumanity is not a special prerogative of Catholic Spain; it was also characteristic of the cruel Inquisition of Lutheran Saxony, the Geneva Inquisition of Calvinistic Switzerland, and the English Inquisition of Elizabeth First, James First and Cromwell. Catholics, while sympathizing with the Spanish Kings in their desire for political unity, are just as vehement as Protestants in their denunciation of the cruelties and the injustice of the Spanish Inquisition.

Why is the Pope always an Italian? Could an American be Pope?

The pope is not always an Italian. There have been Popes from Germany, France, Austria, and even a fellow-Englishman of mine. One of the reasons the Pope is often an Italian is the fact that there are more Italian Cardinals than any others, and the fact also that since the Pope is also Bishop of Rome, it seems more suitable that the Romans (Italians) have a fellow countryman as their Bishop. An American could be elected, of course, and may yet be.

Army Commendation Medal Awarded Kitchens in Vietnam

U. S. Kitchens has received word that his grandson, SP/4 William N. Kitchens, now stationed in Vietnam, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal (first Oak Leaf Cluster).

Purpose of Baptism

BY GAYLORD COOK

It is often both interesting and helpful to compare various Bible translations when one is seeking to know the meaning of a passage. A good example of this is Acts 2:38 as it relates to the purpose of baptism. In the King James Version it reads, "Then Peter said unto them, repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." The meaning is quite clear in this rendering, but it is even more difficult to misunderstand the meaning in Williams Translation. This version says, "and as an expression of it, let every one of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ—that you may have sins forgiven." Goodspeed renders the later part of the verse, "in order to have your sins forgiven." Goodspeed did not personally believe in the essentiality of baptism, but he did recognize that this was the meaning of the Greek in this verse so he translated it that way. J. B. Phillips is just as plain with "so that you may have your sins forgiven." Have you obeyed this command?

Earl Hartman in Boy Scout State Ceremony

A Wellington Boy Scout, Earl Hartman, was among the 10 delegates from the Adobe Walls Area Council who participated in the 1971 Report to the State ceremonies held in Austin Feb. 6 at the State Capitol.

The complete activities lasted from Feb. 5 to 7. They included a parade down Congress Avenue, a visit to the University of Texas, a tour of the Department of Public Safety, and a luncheon.

A highlight was the gathering of delegates and alternates representing all 24 Texas Councils to report directly to Governor Preston Smith and to hear an address from him.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, was chairman of the 1971 Report to the State ceremonies.

Hartman, an Eagle Scout, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hartman and a member of Troop 32.

Man Sought on Forgery Count

Local law enforcement officers and the FBI are seeking a man who passed a forged check for $120 at Davis and Sons 66 Service Station recently, Police Chief Donald Nunneley reported.

He said that the check was in payment for three new tires which the man left carrying in the back of his pickup.

Three Injured in Accident

Three teen-agers were hospitalized and two other young men were treated and released following an accident about 10:50 p.m. Saturday night, Feb. 6, Police Chief Donald Nunneley reported.

Admitted to St. Joseph's were Ann Smith, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith; Sherry Gray, 14, daughter of Mrs. Sally Gray; and Larry Kane, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Kane of Dodson.

Rodney White, 17, and Ricky Brown, 20, were checked at the hospital but not admitted.

Chief Nunneley, who conducted the investigation, said that the car apparently went out of control as it pulled away from Cudd Brothers and struck a light standard in the 1200 block of Highway 83. The owner of the car, he said, was Steve Davis, who had gotten out to visit with a friend.

The car sustained extensive damage, he said, and the light was knocked off the pole.

Sheriff Rainey was driving only a block away and witnessed the accident. He loaded all five of the young people into his car and took them to the hospital.

Kane was released Sunday and the two girls on Monday.
