White House Meeting On Strikes Seen

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—President Truman was given a new report on the steel-coal strikes today but the White House said there still are no plans for presidential intervention in the paralyzing industrial shutdowns.

Despite this announcement, some steel industry sources expected the President to summon all parties to the steel pension dispute to the executive mansion for a conference by the end of this week.

These sources doubted that such a parley could take place before Friday since CIO President Philip Murray, who also heads the steelworkers union, now is in Cleveland getting ready for the annual CIO convention and on Thursday has an address scheduled for New York.

Report Is Made

An up-to-date analysis of the strike picture was made available to Mr. Truman by Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching who conferred for 45 minutes with Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to the President.

It was Ching's first visit to the White House since his unsuccessful four days of mediation meetings with U. S. Steel corporation executives in New York.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel, said today in New York that if the steel strike results in a depression "the fault lies solely with Philip Murray who ordered the strike."

Olds said that there is no immediate end in sight for the strike. He estimated that the strike has caused U. S. Steel a loss of production of approximately 2,200,000 tons of steel. This, he added, would be about 1,500,000 tons of finished steel.

He placed the wages lost by U. S. Steel employes now on strike at about $46,000,000.

Support Is Voted

The lack of optimism for an early settlement of the steel walkout was reflected at the CIO executive board session in Cleveland where "full moral organizational, and financial support" was voted for the half million idle steel workers.

The 51-member board unanimously adopted a resolution by Walter Reuther, president of the auto workers, pledging the CIO's aid to the steel union.

Steel workers have been on strike 25 days, while the walkout of John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal miners is in its sixth week.

CIO To Support Steel Walkout

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25 (AP) — The CIO's left and right wing factions got together today on one issue: They pledged full support to Philip Murray's 25-day-old steel strike.

The 51-member executive board, meeting to prepare for next week's free-swinging showdown between the leftists and anti-Communist leaders in convention, adopted a unanimous resolution on the strike.

It pledged "full moral, organizational and financial support in this strike which the steel industry, on orders from Wall Street, has forced upon the steelworkers and the American people."

Walter Reuther, red-headed leader of the United Auto Workers and sometimes regarded as possible successor to Murray, introduced the resolution.

To back up his resolution, Reuther's own UAW executive board voted to a man to contribute $100,000 to the steelworkers' strike fund as a starter.

Negro Serves On Lubbock County Jury For First Time

A negro served on a county court jury here Tuesday for what was believed to be the first time in Lubbock history, officials have announced.

County Judge Walter Davies said the man, Julius Conner, a porter at the Hub Motor company, was the first of his race to be selected for jury duty in that court. A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, told newsmen that "to my knowledge," no negro had ever served on a district court jury here.

The jury, headed by Foreman R. L. Elms, acquitted Jose Anaya, 39, of Lorenzo of a charge of liquor law violation. The verdict was returned at 5:45 p.m., after 30 minutes of deliberation.

The prosecution had attempted to prove that Anaya, charged with illegal transportation of beer, had been caught Aug. 20 at Slaton with 15 cases of the beverage in his possession.

Details Of Session Are Kept Secret

Service Heads Hold 'Harmony' Meeting

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — Bitterly estranged admirals and generals sat down around the table today in what Gen. Omar N. Bradley called a "harmonious" meeting of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff.

Just what they said to each other was kept secret. But the fact that they met at all was considered news, because there had been predictions that they might never work together again.

Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, was among those present. At House hearings he and other admirals assailed the handling of the unified defense setup. Gen. Bradley, who is chairman of the joint chiefs, thereupon struck back at "fancy dan" admirals.

Bradley Quizzed

When today's three-and-a-quarter hour meeting ended, reporters asked Bradley:

"How did things go, General?"

"Fine, fine," the chairman replied.

Was the meeting harmonius?

"Sure," answered Bradley, poker-faced.

Was the testimony before the House committee brought up?

"I have no statement," Bradley answered. "It was just a normal meeting of the JCS."

Bradley left the conference room by one entrance, most of the remaining members by another, but Bradley hastened to discount this.

"The fact that they went out the other entrance has no significance," he said. "They always go the other way."

As he walked down a corridor of the huge Pentagon building, Bradley threw an arm about the shoulder of Rear Admiral Arthur C. Davis, director of the joint staff. They talked and smiled.

Admiral Denfeld left in the company of Vice Admiral Arthur Scruble, the deputy chief of naval operations, and Lt. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, Army deputy chief of staff for combat plans and operations. Denfeld was grinning.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, came out with Gen. Muri Fairchild, vice chief of air staff who represented Gen. Hoyt

Houston Students Will Continue To Use 'Banned' Book

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 25.—Housto High school students probably will go right on using their banned civics course textbook—at least temporarily.

The school board member who had the book banned by the board admitted tonight this appears necessary in that no other texts are available.

Besides, said Attorney Ewing Werlein, civics classes for this term already have studied the section containing a paragraph which the board found to be objectionable.

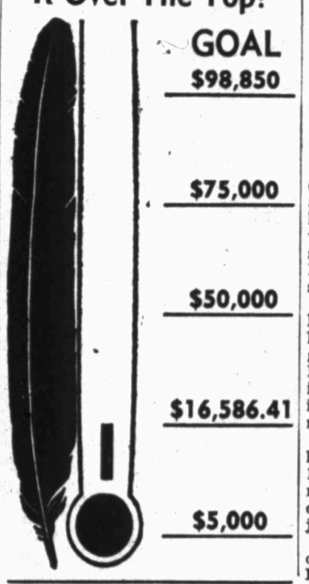

The board banned Dr. Frank Magruder's "American Government" last night after Werlein read the paragraph and said it might cause students "to think socialism and communism are good."

The board also took the action without taking note of

Man Is Charged In Shooting Incident

LAMESA, Oct. 25. (Spl.)— Robert Murray, about 25, of Ackerly about 25 miles south of Lamesa has been charged with assault with intent to murder as the result of the wounding of several Mexican cotton pickers from a shotgun blast.

Murray, a gin worker who is at liberty under $1,000 bond, allegedly fired several shots from a 12 gauge shotgun into a group of Mexicans as they were climbing into a truck near his apartment in Ackerly about 11:30 Sunday night.

Three of the harvest hands were hospitalized at Big Spring where 13 shots were removed from one man and nine from another. None of the group were seriously injured.

County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock and Deputy Sheriff Sam Floyd investigated.

School Board Makes Advance Plans For Future Expansion

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

ADVANCE plans for inevitable additional expansion of the Lubbock public school system were made last night by the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent School district at its regular meeting in the school business office, 1007 Texas Avenue.

The building committee of the board was authorized to inspect possible school building sites in several different sections of the city with an eye to necessary expansion of the school system within the next few years.

At last night's meeting, incidentally, a seven-year precedent was broken. It was the first regular meeting of the board since October, 1942, at which there were no resignations of teachers reported or new teachers elected.

Routine business occupied board members during most of last night's session. The board accepted Supt. R. W. Matthews' statistical report for the month of school and attended to routine financial matters for the school district.

Dr. Joseph A. Chatman appeared before the board as spokesman for numerous property owners in

Atom Progam Expansion Set

BY LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The Atomic Energy commission today announced detailed plans for a $300-million expansion program which indicated that the U. S. is assured of continued large supplies of scarce uranium—heart material of the A-bomb.

An AEC spokesman disclosed that $260 million of the $300 million will be spent in expanding production facilities at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., where natural uranium is refined into uranium 235 and plutonium.

The spokesman declined to say what the remaining $40 million would be used for during the three-year expansion program.

Two Elements Used

U-235 and plutonium are the two fissionable elements either of which can be used as the explosive power in the atomic bomb.

Asked whether the expansion at the two laboratories which produce these materials indicates a big stockpile or assured large receipts of natural uranium, the AEC spokesman said:

"You should be able to draw your own conclusion."

The AEC spokesman said that $235 million will be spent on Oak Ridge—$185 million for direct expansion and $50 million for the Tennessee Valley authority to furnish additional power.

Twenty-five million dollars will be spent on Hanford, which produces plutonium, considered preferable for bomb building. Oak Ridge produces both U-235 and plutonium.

To Boost Cost

The Hanford expansion will bring to about $825 million the total spent on that installation, which cost $350 million to build and which was already undergoing a $450 million expansion.

Oak Ridge cost $500 million to build and $64 million had been previously requested for expansion.

Neither expansion program will involve an increase in productive employes, although more construction workers will be needed to erect the new facilities.

A statement to this effect by the AEC spokesman served further to bolster the indication that

Johnson Warns Co-Op Leaders

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 25 — Senator Lyndon B. Johnson advised Rural Electrification co-ops to beware of the wolves of alien radicalism.

He also urged them to stay out of such fights as the recent Senate battle over nomination of Leland Olds as Federal Power commissioner.

"For your political life as for your business life I recommend a four-word slogan: Stay out of the red," Johnson said in a speech at a meeting of REA co-ops from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Warns Against Radicalism

"As you would not permit REA to become a mat upon which selfish interests wipe their feet, neither must you permit REA to become the lamb's skin in which the wolves of alien radicalism cloak themselves."

Governor Allan Shivers, who speaks to the group tomorrow, arrived by plane. He accepted for the state two National Guard vehicular storage buildings. He and Johnson were entertained at an informal gathering in the afternoon, and were guests of honor tonight of the county Democratic executive committee at a dinner.

Before Johnson spoke the REA meeting heard Clyde T. Ellis, executive manager of the Natural Rural Electric Co-operative association, declare power companies are seeking "to kill off" electric co-

Amvets Chief Raps Gambling, Disenfranchises Six Posts

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 25. (INS)— Arthur W. Wermuth of Wichita, Kan., national vice commander of the American Veterans of World War II, cracked the whip over six Montana Amvet posts today.

Known during the war as the "one-man army of Bataan," the former Army major lifted the charters of the posts on his official charges of "operating the posts solely for gambling purposes."

He said the post club rooms were selling liquor and operating slot machines.

Wermuth conferred this afternoon with Attorney General Arnold Olson of Helena, who has been attempting to crack down on slot machines operating under the so-called non-profit club franchise.

Texas Flood Threats Fade

(By The Associated Press)

FLOODED streams went down and temperatures went up in Texas Tuesday. A short-lived cold snap got caught in the middle.

The streams began receding after near-cloudburst rains gave way to a cold front that chilled the Panhandle with the first sub-freezing weather of the season. But a bright sun killed the cold snap almost by the time you could say Brrr.

Thousands of wild geese honked southward ahead of the norther. It dropped the temperature to 26 degrees at Dalhart and 30 degrees at Amarillo. But Dalhart reported a 69-degree high before the end of the day.

Dallas Has Low Reading

Dallas had the day's low maximum temperature, 55 degrees. The highest reading was 71 at Corpus Christi. The weather bureau said the whole state would be warmer Wednesday.

The little rain that fell Tuesday was scattered, mostly in South Texas. No more rain was forecast for at least 48 hours.

Flood threats were definitely over in the Dallas, San Antonio and San Angelo areas.

The Trinity river at Dallas rose 33 feet and was expected to crest at 35 feet early Wednesday. No further damage was expected. High levees protected Dallas.

Creeks at San Antonio were back in banks after a Monday night rampage in which two brothers were drowned. Twenty families had to flee their homes. The greatest damage was to streets. Commissioner James Knight said the damage would run into "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

The South Concho river was

Two Face Kidnapping Charges At Lamesa

LAMESA, Oct. 25. (Special)— Two men have been charged with kidnapping in the case of a 13-year-old Lamesa girl who was missing from her home for over 24 hours before officers in Big Spring picked up the trio there late yesterday.

Nolan Reding, 19, and his father, J. E. Reding, were charged on a joint complaint signed by Paul Forsan, father of the girl, Mayedell Forsan, County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock reported.

Adcock said the girl left home about 2:30 p. m. Sunday with young Reding, and that the youth told the girl's mother that they would return by 7 p. m.

A description of the pair and of Reding's car was broadcast over radio Station KPET Monday. Forsan reported to local officers that his daughter was missing Monday morning.

Adcock said that the father and son told him they had been "all over Texas" before coming here from Post. The senior Reding said that he had formerly been an REA employe. They were living in a tourist camp here as are the Forsans.

He said the penalty for kidnapping was 5 to 25 years in the penitentiary or a maximum fine of $2,000.

Four-Family Apartment Building Wrecked

Fourteen Injured In Explosion At Dallas

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 25. — A gas explosion tonight wrecked a four-family apartment building in a housing development, injuring 14 persons.

Police said only 14 persons were in the building when the explosion came. All were accounted for. Only three remained in the hospital.

They were David Ballard, 6, Virginia Ballard, 28, and Michael Stanton, 4. The two children had head injuries. Virginia Ballard suffered burns.

Battalion Fire Chief J. W. Owens said he had no idea what caused the explosion and wouldn't for some time.

Buildings Rocked

The blast rocked buildings in a five-block area. Some persons were thrown out of bed in nearby units of the Cedar Springs housing project, one of the first low-cost developments in Dallas.

Leroy Shannon, 28, said the explosion occurred in his apartment. He said it was caused by leaking gas.

Shannon said he and his wife were in the rear of their apartment at 10:30 p.m. when a terrific blast knocked them down. Shannon said the explosion was accompanied by a blinding sheet of flame and he and his wife were partially buried under plaster and other debris.

Bob Smith, 20, a Navy man home on furlough and occupying a front apartment, said, "I don't know what happened.

Navy Man Hurt

"It suddenly went blooie. I was knocked out for about 15 minutes."

Smith suffered facial cuts.

The police department said it had no new details. An officer said units of the project house from four to 16 families each.

At least five ambulances were sent to the scene.

Rescuers Discover Burning Plane At Sea Is Fish Factory

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—A fire in a fish factory off Port Monmouth, N.J., set off a large-scale rescue operation tonight in the false belief that an airplane was in trouble at sea.

Police headquarters at first said it received a report that a "plane" was in trouble at sea.

Three police launches converged on the waters off Coney Island while an emergency truck and several radio cars stood by in the rain. Coast Guard boats joined the search.

The Coast Guard finally said it had located the fire in the fish factory.

Motley Dedicates New Courthouse

MATADOR, Oct. 25. (Special)— Motley county's new $250,000 courthouse was formally dedicated here tonight, with District Judge Alton B. Chapman delivering the principal address.

More than 200 county residents and visitors gathered in the district court room of the new courthouse for the ceremonies.

The courthouse was completed in August to replace the former building which burned on Sept. 29, 1944, 40 years to the day after the cornerstone was laid.

Pictures Are Presented

Judge Chapman presented to the county framed pictures of all former district judges who have served Motley county since it was organized in 1891. The pictures will be placed in the district courtroom.

District Attorney John Stapleton of Floydada also gave an address. C. E. Hamilton, pioneer attorney of Motley county, gave a history of the county.

The program opened with J. R. Whitworth leading group singing of "America." Invocation was by the Rev. R. L. Jameson.

Continued Cool Is Forecast For Plains

Continued cool morning readings with clear, dry weather was forecast for the South Plains late last night, a boon to area cotton farmers slowed in their harvest work the past few days by wet, fall weather.

A low of between 35 and 38 degrees with possibility of some frost in exposed areas was foreseen for this morning by the Weather Bureau station near Lubbock.

The mercury dipped to a chilling 33 degrees Tuesday morning and a heavy, but not killing, frost covered most of the city and surrounding area. Agriculture experts said Tuesday they doubted that Tuesday's frost would be a killing one, although some tender plants might be affected.

LUBBOCK's hand of welcome went out to personnel of Lubbock Air Force base last night, with the Allen Brothers American Legion Post No. 148 presenting a talent-filled variety program in the base theater.

More than 600 airmen, their wives and children gathered in the theater for the "Welcome to Lubbock" program, which was followed by coffee and doughnuts in the base service club.

"Better than a USO show," was the comment by Col. George H. Blase, base executive officer, who took the stage to thank the Legion and the Lubbock visitors.

Highly informal throughout, the program had Joe Meador and Charles Whitacre alternating as master of ceremonies.

Night-flying planes roared over the base during the show, but the noise was considerably less than the applause that approved several numbers.

Russia Hurls 'Spy' Charge

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Wednesday, Oct. 26. The Soviet Union said today it has demanded the recall of the Yugoslav ambassador to Moscow because he is guilty of "spying and subversive activities" against Russia.

The action followed Russia's renunciation last month of her treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia. It brought Moscow perilously close to a full diplomatic break with Marshal Tito's government.

The Russian ambassador to Belgrade has been absent from his post for many weeks.

Squeeze Was On

The economic squeeze put on Yugoslavia by Russia and her eastern satellites was in full effect. Moscow dispatches at the time said only a minor Russian protocol officer was sent to greet Mrazovic on his arrival.

The Moscow radio, which announced the demand for the recall of Mrazovic, said it was contained in a note handed to the Yugoslav embassy in Moscow yesterday.

The text of the note:

"The ministry of foreign affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has been authorized by the Soviet government to inform the Yugoslav government of the following:

Evidence Cited

"During the Budapest trial of the state criminal and spy (Laszio) Rajk and his accomplices it was established that the present Yugoslav ambassador in the USSR, Mrazovic, had for a long time engaged in spying and subversive activities against the Soviet Union, and while being Yugoslav ambassador in the USSR, had come out in the Yugoslav press with slanderous fabrications against the Soviet Union.

"In view of this the Soviet government considers it impossible for Mrazovic to continue to be Yugoslavia's diplomatic representative in the USSR.

U. S. Diplomats Urge Aid To Tito

LONDON, Oct. 25. (INS)—America's diplomats to the iron curtain countries agreed unanimously tonight that Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government "must be preserved at all costs."

A high-ranking U. S. diplomat revealed the decisions of the ambassadors and ministers to the countries of Eastern Europe at the end of a two-day conference in London on charting U. S. strategy against Communism propaganda.

This spokesman said that Tito's resistance to the Kremlin has boosted prospects of similar revolts in other Balkan countries and in Poland.

Italy Announces Plan

(In Rome, Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza said that Italy would ask for aid under the Atlantic pact if Yugoslavia should be attacked and overrun.)

Diplomats from the various satellite nations said that Yugoslavia's success in obtaining a seat on the United Nations Security Council despite the strongest Russian opposition proved a "shock" to Moscow and her satellites and its repercussions already have been felt.

They said that Nationalist groups — including Communists — in the countries controlled by Russia are now the most optimistic they have been since 1946 that they can throw off Russian domination without U. S. aid.

RUSSIAN EXPLOITATION BLAMED

U. S. Envoys Report Dairen Is Caught In Grip Of Depression

BY SARAH PARK
INS Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Oct. 25. — The former American consul in the Soviet-controlled port of Dairen said today that Chinese and Russian workers are forced to bear the crushing burden of Soviet economic repression in the important Manchurian port city.

Paul Paddock, the former consul and his vice consul, Culver Gleysteen, told a news conference in Seoul that a depression is "rampant" as the result of the Russians' exploitation in the once prosperous port.

Paddock and Gleysteen reached Seoul several days ago after they were ordered to close the consulate in Dairen Friday. They are now enroute for Tokyo.

U. S. Blamed For Depression

They said the Soviets blame the depression on "American imperialism," Japanese sabotage of industrial machinary in Dairen during the war and the current Chinese Nationalist sea blockade.

Paddock declared, however, that the Russians are selling the products of Dairen industry at prices "way below" those charged in the port itself and that it is the worker who pays the freight.

The consular officials said the average diet of Chinese in the city consists primarily of corn which sells at about 40 Kwantung yuan per pound and that the average dock worker, for instance, gets only 800 yuan per week. That is the equivalent of about 80 cents in American money.

Motorcycle Top Luxury

Paddock and Gleysteen said the highest form of luxury to a Chinese or Russian resident of the city is a Soviet-made motorcycle.

The Communist puppet government in Dairen, said Paddock, has established a state store carrying such luxuries as English textiles American cosmetics and fountain pens at outrageous prices. He said one American pen sells for the equivalent of $35.

Russia acquired 30-year-port rights in Dairen under the Sino-Soviet treaty of 1945 but she has subsequently assumed full control of the strategically situated port on the Manchurian peninsula and set up Chinese Communists in office.

Chinese Taxed Heavily

Paddock has said that Russia's claim that she recognizes Chinese rights are "pure fiction." Both officials brought out that the Chinese in the city are taxed so heavily to meet the city's mounting deficits that their property is frequently confiscated.

They said business has slowed to a snail's pace. Shipping has declined from a pre-war average of 40 ships in port a day to only three and the port's industrial output dropped sharply when the Soviets stripped factories of much of their equipment.

Private individuals are allowed to make consumer items like soap and fishnets but they are not permitted to employ more than 20 persons.

Paddock said practically all of Dairen's business is carried on by four major trusts — supposedly operated jointly by Russians and Chinese — and the Red puppet-owned Dairen Trading company.

The officials said that Russian workers for the industrial trusts are paid twice as much as the Chinese. The trusts control power plants, the manufacture of chemicals, the fishing industry and the tourist trade from Russia.

REDS PUSH JET FIGHTER OUTPUT

British Journal Reveals New Facts On Russian Jet Planes

By CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—New disclosures about Russian jet bombers were taken here today as further evidence of the respect the Soviets gained for strategic air power after examining bomb-wrecked Germany.

But information from the latest edition of the authoritative journal, "Jane's All the World's Aircraft," left unchanged the prevailing opinion here that top priority in Russia is still on fighter-interceptors, that is, on air defenses.

Only last week Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, told Congress that America's long-range air power has "accomplished a tie-up of enemy men and planes and many millions of dollars in their radar equipment and fighter-interceptor equipment . . ."

"Jane's," published yesterday in London, said the Russians have in production two big four-jet bombers apparently able to carry atomic bombs. One is a German copy being produced in units of the Junkers plant removed to Russia and probably under German supervision. The other is the Ilyushin, said to be able to carry a bombload of more than 5,000 pounds and fly 1,500 miles.

Two jet bombers are in production here. One is the B-45 which came along shortly after the war. It can carry at least twice the bombload mentioned for the Ilyushin, has four jets and is classified as a light bomber.

The other is the six-jet B-47 which can carry a 10,000-pound bombload, fly close to the speed of sound and probably equal or surpass the wartime range of a B-29 Superfortress. It will go into the Strategic Air command as a medium bomber.

In the design stage is the B-52 which is eventually to replace the B-36 superbomber. Informed sources believe it may have a range in the order of 8,000 miles. The B-36 itself is being equipped with four jet engines to augment the power of its six 3,500-horsepower piston engines.

Two Anti-Allergy Drugs Released For Use Without Prescription

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—Two drug firms today announced that anti-allergy drugs to fight the common cold had been released for public sale without prescription.

Both belong to the family of drugs, called antihistaminics, used to combat hay fever, hives and other allergies. Their use for colds is passed upon recent findings that colds often start by an allergic reaction, and that colds may be stopped or eased, if the antihistaminic drug is taken early enough.

Both firms said their drugs had proved effective in treating colds, and were safe enough to use without a doctor's prescription.

One of the drugs is neohetramine, with the trade name of anahist. It was announced by the Nepera Chemical Co., Yonkers, N. Y.

The other drug, trade name inhiston, was announced by the Union Pharmaceutical Co., Inc., Bloomfield, N. J.

Quarantine Lines Set Up Around Outbreak Of Disease

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25. (U.P.)—Quarantine lines today were thrown around the first new outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Mexico since July.

The disease appeared near the village of Chicoloapan, Mexico state, the joint Mexican American foot and mouth disease commission said.

Gen. Harry Johnson and Oscar Flores, heads of the commission, said that although the outbreak occurred among animals vaccinated for the second time "there is no cause for alarm."

They said that commission workers were slaughtering the sick animals, disinfecting farms and stables in the area and revaccinating suspectible cattle in the immediate region.

Johnson and Flores, who only last week pointed to the fact the disease had not reappeared behind second and third rounds of vaccination as an indication of probable success of the campaign, expressed confidence the outbreak will be confined to the Chicoloapan area.

Yule Tree Stampings Barred From Christmas, Fla., Letters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—The post office says it's sorry but the postmaster at Christmas, Fla., has to quit stamping tiny green Christmas trees on letters mailed from there.

Even an appeal from Sen. Holland (D-Fla) failed today to get an exception of the regulations in favor of the spirit of St. Nicholas.

If the folks from Christmas want evergreens on their mail, they'll have to put them on, officials said firmly today.

It's all right for the chamber of commerce or a local organization to set up a booth for that purpose, they said, but the regulations forbid postmasters to take time to dress up envelopes.

Mrs. Wanneta S. Tucker has been adding the tiny trees each holiday season for 15 years, ever since she became postmaster. But her idea was too well liked. Snowed under by 150,000 pieces of mail last Christmas, he called for more help with the rubber stamp.

The post office raised the town from fourth class status to third, boosting Mrs. Tucker's pay, and then began checking up on its yuletide popularity.

The officials explained today that with some 42,000 post offices, some of them just aching to use a special stamping, they don't dare make exceptions.

Reserve Training Offered At LAFB

Mobilization assignments under the air reserve training program are now available at Lubbock Air Force base according to information released by Capt. J. H. Powers, wing air reserve coordinator.

Personnel in the Lubbock area who hold reserve commissions are eligible to fill the 209 positions made available in the table of distribution for this base. Reserve officers meeting the qualifications of grade and military occupational specialty, will be eligible to receive training pay for 48 training periods a year and 15 days active points toward promotion and retirement.

Eight Hours Weekly Available

Those selected for the mobilization assignments, will take their training at LAFB and may utilize as many as eight hours per week "on the job" for training purposes.

In addition, two weeks active training will be taken at the base at the option of the individual concerned and the department with which he trains. This training of reserve officers is to maintain their efficiency so that in the event of "M" day (mobilization day) these officers will step into their duties with a minimum of difficulty.

Among the job specialties urgently needed are those of medical officers, including: doctors, dentists, veterinarians, dieticians, physiotherapists, medical administrative officers and nurses. Reserve officers in these categories are urged to apply under the provisions of the career compensation act. Medical officers in the above categories may still apply for transfer to the Air Force and then secure mobilization assignments with the 3500th pilot training wing, Lubbock Air Force base.

Mobilization assignments will start at LAFB on or about Nov. 15. Already approximately 150 reserve officers have been assigned to the training program. Further information on assignments and training may be received by calling Capt. Powers or one of his assistants, Master Sergeant L. Halpern and Staff Sergeant W. M. Wood, at extension 143-J or visiting in person the reserve office in building 146.

GENUINE ARTIST

WE'LL always be grateful to Leonard Warren for using the same voice in Lubbock that he sings with in operas at the Metropolitan. Only a genuine artist does the best he can wherever he is.

In times past, and some of them in the not too distant past, at that, musicians who have appeared before Lubbock audiences have not sung their best. Jussi Bjorling, as an example, did not project either voice or personality beyond the footlights. The voice that supposedly had thrilled New York audiences fell flat on the stage of the High school auditorium.

When Lauritz Melchior sang here last year he had a terrific cold and if his voice didn't break on one of the highest notes of "Because," then we just didn't hear him correctly.

Warren is an intelligent person. He knows that the time is past when one can go to the so-called hinterlands and make a token of singing or playing the violin or whatever your talent. We may be rather far from the crowded centers out here, but we don't want one's second best when we go to hear a performance.

Speaking of the Lubbock Symphony concert we wonder if others share the opinion that one should not cheer after The Lord's Prayer is sung. There is an argument that it's a song and when it is presented in a concert, such as the other night when Warren concluded his encores, it should be applauded.

We disagree. It's still a prayer where we are concerned and when it is sung there should be a reverential hush, rather than wild cheering and a few bravos!

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER:

What I want to know is, where this increase in rent is going to stop. Some four room houses are renting now for $100 per month. After rent is paid what has the poor family man to live on?

I also would like a good chow-chow recipe.

Thanks.

CONVENIENT FEATURE

AMERICAN women use about $687,000,000 worth of cosmetics each year. Many of them find themselves wishing for a convenient, attractive place in their own homes where they can don some of those beauty aids without climbing to an upstairs bathroom or bedroom. For housewives, the wish is coming true in the shape of a downstairs powder room.

Many crowded homes have nonproductive space that can be converted into an attractive powder room at little effort and expense.

Many women have found the downstairs closet, usually just a storage space for raincoats and vacuum cleaner, can be made into a powder room by installation of a light fixture, vanity table and bright wall coverings.

At either end of the "dance floor" were leaning poles, topped with brightly colored balloons. At the base of one of the tinselled poles of silver and maroon were blue and pink orchids amidst an arrangement of chartreuse and blue-plumed trees. The other pole was of silver and chartreuse tinsel, surrounded by red orchids and plumed trees of green, aqua, orchid and pink.

Crossfire Of Criticism Hurled At British Austerity Program

BY J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Caught between consumer demands and the need for an adequate arms to back foreign policy, Prime Minister Attlee's new program of British austerity pleases no one.

Many of Attlee's own Labor party are unhappy because of reductions in many food subsidies. Prices are going up.

The Socialists traditionally oppose military preparedness. But their own Ernest Bevin pointed out the importance to the foreign ministry of at least a minimum defense establishment to back its policies.

Defense Cut Below Average

Whereas the general cut in spending runs about eight per cent of the total budget, the defense cut is only about four per cent.

The conservative opposition immediately tagged the economy program too little and too late.

The government, often attacked for vast spending on public welfare services, retreated only in establishing a small fee on medical prescriptions.

Reaction among Americans in London coincided with that of the home critics. There was a question as to whether the $784,000,000 saving was enough to have the desired anti-inflationary effect.

No matter what their general attitude toward the Socialist government has been, observers heretofore have expressed general sympathy for the party pursuing its politically-difficult austerity program for the British people. Now Attlee is being criticized for being more gentle with the government budget than with the housewife's purse. That is a particularly onerous charge as the time before election grows shorter and shorter.

It's the old ring-around-the-rosy, with the central question remaining. Will all of these things that Britain is trying relieve her financial situation, or will she be forced completely through the wringer?

Guards Released After Two Escape

HOUSTON, Oct. 25. (AP)— Two Central Prison farm guards were fired today after the escape of two convicts.

H. L. Slaughter, warden of the Sugar Land prison farm, said the convicts fled about 5 p.m. yesterday but that no one at the farm knew about the escape until Houston police contacted them at 3 a.m.

The two guards, Slaughter said, failed to notice the convicts' absence during each of four roll call periods.

He named the guards as Otho Rice, 55, and Answel Richardson, 53.

The firings came after Slaughter and prison system general manager O. B. Ellis had investigated the escapes.

Four Mistakes Too Many

"A man can make a mistake once," Ellis said, "but four times on the same offense is too much."

One of the two escapees still was at large this afternoon. Houston police, aided by bloodhounds from the prison farm, were searching Houston's east end for James H. Mitchell, 20, serving a five year sentence for automobile theft from Harris county.

James Buren Little, 29, under a 12-year sentence for the same offense from Harris county, was captured by police patrolmen early today.

Police also were seeking another prisoner who escaped last night from the Retrieve farm near Angleton.

Guy Brantley, 35, under a life sentence for murder from Bowie county, escaped by crawling into a garbage can.

Injured New York Man Still Unconscious From Wound

HOUSTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—Allen Sturges II is unable to read a "get well" telegram received today from New York friends.

The 26-year-old New York society playboy still is unconscious in a Houston hospital where he was admitted Saturday night with a bullet wound to the head. Police said the wound was self inflicted.

Hospital attendants this afternoon said Sturges' condition continues very critical.

The "get well" telegram was addressed to Sturges in care of Houston police.

Lt. Owen Martin said he has advised the sender, Miss Joy Louise Harte, Hastings-On-The-Hudson, N.Y., the telegram will be held until Sturges' condition improves.

TWO GIRLS SOUGHT

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 25—(INS)—State police tonight were still searching for two Tucumcari girls who disappeared from the San Jon school yesterday. The girls are Fay Baucom, 16, and Peggy Helton, 15, who were last seen driving west in a 1934 Willys sedan, police said.

Divorces granted in London last year totaled 37,075, compared with 47,041 in the peak year 1947.

SCHOOL GETS MAJOR OIL HOLDINGS

College Agrees To Teach White Supremacy For $50 Million Gift

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 25. (U.P.)—Jefferson Military college has agreed to teach white supermancy and states' rights in exchange for an endowment which it was estimated would exceed $50,000,000.

The endowment was given to the school by Judge George Armstrong after the school agreed to several provisions including one to "teach and disseminate through every medium possible the true principles of Jeffersonian democracy and the constitution, Christianity, and the superiority of the Anglo-Saxon and Latin-American races."

The 102-year-old prep school is located at nearby Washington, Miss.

Conveys Oil Holdings

The endowment includes one-half of Judge Armstrong's mineral rights on 42,000 acres in Adams, Jefferson and Wilkinson counties in addition to 26,000 acres conveyed outright to the school.

Several oilmen have estimated that the endownment would eventually exceed $50,000,000 since three producing wells are now located on the land. Other producing wells are expected to be drilled in the near future.

One provision agreed to bind the school to the teachings of states' rights. It amended the charter to dedicate the school to the teaching of "the true principles of American constitutional government and the rights of the states."

Reds Are Excluded

Another excludes as instructors or employes any known Communists or anyone with Communistic connections, "and any person of African or Asiatic origin."

It was further specified in the provisions which the present school board of trustees agreed to that the "faculty and student body will be primarily constituted of persons of Anglo-Saxon or Latin-American origin and of the Christian faith." It also was specified that they must be "advocates of free enterprise."

Run-Off Elections To Be Needed To Decide Tech Races

Run-off elections will be required for all but three honorary positions for which primary balloting was held Tuesday by students at Texas Technological college, the elections committee said Tuesday night.

Names of the three winners plus those who win in the run-offs to be held Monday, will not be released until a later date, perhaps until the student yearbook, La Ventana, is released next spring.

Candidates for junior and freshman boy favorites and Mr. Texas Tech were declared elected by sufficient margins following a ballot counting which lasted into the night Tuesday. Acting Elections Committee Chairman Bob Salem, Sudan, announced that all other favorite positions, two vacancies to the student council and Miss Texas Tech must be filled by the run-off election.

Area Students Included

Barbara Scott, Shamrock, and Margaret Clark, Van Horn, will campaign for the Miss Texas Tech position in the Monday elections, to be held from 8 a.m. until noon. Ben Willis, Dallas, and Brodie Hutchinson, Littlefield, will fight for a student council vacancy from the Arts and Sciences division, while Tommie Jean Wall, Waco, and Janet Crandall, Lubbock, will battle for the home economics position.

In the senior class boy favorite run-off will be Bill McCasland, Lamesa, and A. J. Bishop, Winters. For the girls, second-primary candidates will be Alice Hicks, Abernathy, and Katheryn Witty, Hamilton.

Lubbock Girl In Finals

In the freshman girl favorite run-off will be Albertine Foster, Lockney, and Pat Montgomery, Lubbock.

Twenty-one per cent of the student body voted in Tuesday's balloting, compared to about three per cent last year, according to La Ventana Editor Roy Grimes, Lubbock. Winners of the favorites and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech honors will be featured in the 1950 edition of the yearbook.

Present plans are to keep final results of the elections secret until the yearbook comes out next spring, according to Grimes. However, that policy could be changed should the student council vote accordingly, he said. The Monday run-offs will be staged in all the main campus buildings during the morning only, the elections committee announced.

Cochran County Negro Given Prison Sentence For Burglary

MORTON, Oct. 25. (Special—R. E. Starr, a 21-year-old Cochran county negro, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty of burglary, court officials have announced.

He waived trial by jury and entered his plea before District Judge Dan Blair.

The charge accused him of breaking and entering Forrest Lumber company at Morton July 9, 1948.

Another case, charging I. G. Golden, an elderly negro, with murder with malice, was passed when defense counsel did not appear. The attorney lives in another section of the state.

E. G. Pharr, an assistant district attorney of Lubbock, represented the state.

Judge Blair will try civil actions this week in Cochran county.

HIGHWAY LOCATION IS PROTESTED

Court Action Threatened In Dallam County Road Dispute

BY MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—Possible court action was threatened here today in Panhandle feuding over location of a proposed farm to market highway between Dalhart and the New Mexico border.

Col. E. A. Simpson of Amarillo called on the State Highway commission at a public hearing to urge relocation of the proposed route of the farm road 808 from Dalhart west to serve 48 farmers instead of six ranchers he said the route presently agreed on would principally benefit.

Simpson asked the commission to write the Dallam county commissioners court notifying them of the protest and asking their consideration of changing the routine. If no change is made, Simpson said, the protesting group would consider a possible court mandamus to force a change.

Petition Is Presented

He presented a petition signed by 33 persons urging the road follow a more southerly route than presently designated.

Development of a new east-west route in Matagorda county from Blessing to Placedo was urged to the commission by a delegation headed by C. S. Mitchell of La-Ward. He said that bonds for a bridge over part of the route are being voted in this week. The commission promised consideration of the proposal.

A new bridge over the Guadalupe river on state highway 80 near Belmont was asked by a large delegation from Gonzales and nearby counties. Gonzales County Judge W. P. Midkiff described as "wasted" the funds spent in improving highway 80 on both sides of the bridge until the bridge is completed. The present temporary facility is limited to 5,000-pound limit and is a traffic hazard, he said.

Bridge Project To Be Studied

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer told the delegation that the highway department realizes that "the bridge must come" and that it would be given study.

Two additional farm-to-market designations were asked for Dimmit county under the state- county cooperative financing plan. County Judge J. L. Mogford and delegation requested 2.7 miles of road from state highway 85 one mile east of Carrizo Springs to U.S. highway 83 three miles east of Carrizo Springs and another 2.8 miles from U.S. 83 four miles southeast of Carrizo Springs southwest. The commission took the requests under advisement.

A farm-to-market road or better was asked by a Gonzales county delegation from state highway 29 eight miles north of Gonzales to the Gonzales Warm Springs foundation hospital for crippled children and the town of Ottine.

Need For Road Outlined

Hartwell J. Kennard, Gonzales Chamber of Commerce secretary-treasurer, said the road was needed to serve 66 employes at the hospital in addition to regular deliveries and other services to the hospital. The present winding road was described as "scenic but dangerous."

A Lavaca county delegation headed by Sen. Gus Strauss of Hallettsville asked the commission to consider extending a farm road under the state-county cooperative plan eight miles to serve traffic to and from a new recycling plant.

A large Jefferson county delegation requested some kind of a bridge facility on spur 215 between El Vista and Port Arthur. Charles Davidson, Jefferson county engineer, and Charles Comfort, chairman of drainage district No. 7, suggested that either a pontoon bridge be provided or a permanent facility be undertaken soon. The project was promised commission study.

A Fannin county group asked a farm-to-market designation and survey of a road from Bugtussle to Dial for future development. The county offered the commission $20,000 toward financing the project.

Former Senator H. L. Winfield and Fort Stockton Mayor Elbert Boatman asked for reconditioning of U.S. highway 285 through Fort Stockton. The commission requested that curbing be completed and promised consideration of the requested work.

Air Hostess Given Chance To Write Story For Lana Turner After Annoying Director

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—You can never tell when you might get a chance to write a screen story for Lana Turner. That's exactly what happened to Pug Wells, an air hostess, who gave William Wellman, the director, so much attention she annoyed him.

Finally, Bill asked her for heaven's sake to stop pestering him. Eyes blazing, Miss Wells told him what an air hostess has to do, and that her attentions were only a part of her job.

"Tell me about it," said Bill. She did, and at his request put on paper some of the stories about these girls who always hope the knight in shining armor will ride in their plane.

To make a long story short, Pug came to Hollywood, lived with three other air hostesses, and told her story to Ruth Flippen, who wrote it with the title "Three Guys Named Mike."

Now it will star Lana Turner, according to Armand Deutsch, who said Dore Schary had approved it.

RKO Grabs Story

It is not surprising that RKO grabbed "The Marriage Mill," by Leon Gutterman and Edwin Westrate, since there's a big idea back of it.

It's the story of a minister who crusades against quick divorces and marriages in Las Vegas, and most of the picture will be filmed there.

Lew Ayres has been wanting to play a minister for a long time. Cary Grant has also expressed himself as being interested in this idea.

Houston Sparks Movement

Jane Wyatt's appearance in Houston in "Time of Your Life" is the start of a nationwide movement to have important stars appear in a play with local talent. Eddie Dowling, who will direct, will select the rest of the cast in Houston.

Jane opens the New Houston Civic theater. Her appearance is a part of the plan started by the National theater in New York to develop theaters and at the same time to discover talent. Burgess Meredith, Franchot Tone, and Ray Milland are other stars who have expressed interest in this project.

Actress Side-Steps Press

I find it hard to believe that Marlene Dietrich, who has always been cooperative with the American press, has been trying to pull a Greta Garbo in Paris. Yet, it's said that when she appears in public with Michael Wilding, who is as young as her daughter, she is loath to have her picture taken or give interviews.

Marlene will become a grandmother for the second time early in 1950.

I always say they'll do anything in the movies, at least once. A best seller in England is "I'll Get You for This," a story about American gangsters operating in Florida.

The fact that the author, Jame Hadley, has never been in America, has never seen a gangster, and that he uses all the old cliches from the Capone era, hasn't deterred Joe Kaufman from buying it for the screen.

Perhaps, Kaufman, who was a production executive on "It Happened on Fifth Avenue" and George Raft's "Red Light," intends it for a comedy. Now, to cap the climax, he's signed William Bowers to do the screenplay. Bill has changed the location to Cannes. No—Bowers has never been in Cannes, either. This is a picture I want to see.

Romance May Bloom

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Is Paramount trying to build a romance between Elizabeth Taylor and Montgomery Clift? They were at the opening of "The Heiress," and later at the party William Wyler gave.

Craig Stevens has gone to New York to look for a play. Again the old rumors crop up that all is not well with him and Alexis Smith. This I do not believe.

Ronald Reagan takes the brace off his leg next week, and he's certainly happy.

Imagine Gracie Allen's surprise to have a gold pen she lost at the London Palladium returned to her after all these weeks.

Frank Sinatra, Dinah Shore, Doris Day, Harry James, and other friends of the late Buddy Clark, will do an album of records in Buddy's memory, for Manny Sacks, of Columbia records. The proceeds will go to Buddy's widow and child. All the top singers will be heard in a chorus singing Buddy's favorite number, "My Buddy."

Texans Who Boost State Are Praised By New York Man

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 25. (AP). Texans who boost their state were praised as setting a good example for the rest of the country when Ed Wimmer, New York, trade expert, addressed the Southwestern Venetian Blind Manufacturers' convention here today.

Wimmer is vice president of the National Federation of Small Business, Inc.

"If every American would boost America like Texans boost Texas, there would not be standing room for one Communist in the United States," he asserted.

Morton Grand Jury Will Convene Today

MORTON, Oct. 25. (Special)—Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court signed an order today providing for convening of a grand jury here Wednesday to consider "such matters as may legally come before it."

Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, who will come here from Lubbock to work with the grand jury, said the grand jurors would be asked to inquire into the fatal shooting Oct. 14 of 28-year-old Mrs. Leo Nichols at the Nichols home near Whiteface. Her husband, 37, has been held since the shooting in lieu of $20,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder, awaiting action of the grand jury. Body of Mrs. Nichols was buried today.

Crucial Class A Games Set This Weekend

Districts Boast Top Notch Teams

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you want to see some really fancy scoring football teams, wander through Texas and pick out a Class A High school game.

You can find more than one point-a-minute teams in this vast schoolboy division. Undefeated, untied teams are in every section.

The single A clubs — schools with less than 500 students but more than 250 — are about ready to move into the home stretch.

New Braunfels, Dalhart, Mount Vernon, Leverett's Chapel, Dekalb, Hereford, Kermit and Kaufman are among the high scoring, undefeated, untied teams shooting for district titles and the state playoff.

Mount Vernon is a point-a-minute team. New Braunfels is almost. Mount Vernon has scored 311 points to 38 for six opponents. New Braunfels, a finalist last season, has rolled up 276 points to 46 for six foes.

Some crucial games are on this week, games that can make or break bids for district honors.

Dalhart Meets Hereford

Dalhart, which dumped undefeated, untied Phillips last week, 39-20, takes on Hereford, another club with a perfect record. This is the big game in District One.

Lefors, another team with a clean slate, and McLean are leaders in District Two. Little Lefors had to beat Tulia, 20-12, in the final period last week, while McLean had an open date. Wellington stayed right behind the leaders.

Floydada jumped to the front in District Three, with an assist from an eligibility ruling which wiped out its only loss. It tied Matador, 12-12, last week, but won the agem on penetrations. This week it faces Lockney, a team virtually eliminated last week by Ralls, 12-6.

Sudan and Littlefield are heading for a showdown in the north zone of District Four. Sudan won its third district game last week, beating Morton, 32-13. Littlefield was idle, but takes on Sundown this week while Sudan rests. In six games, Littlefield has scored 221 points against 27.

Post, Slaton Tied For Lead

Post and Slaton are tied for the lead in the south zone of this district.

Tommy Bailes of Littlefield is the plains country's top Class A scorer with 87 points. Joel Combs of Lefors has 83, and Melvin Eldridge of Phillips and Billy Cessnun of Dalhart 82.

Kermit needs two more victories in district five to win the title. It could get one this week by dumping Monahans, defending state champion. Monahans, beaten by Andrews last week, 19-14, is out of the running.

Kermit's tilt with Wink, another strong team, may decide the championship in a couple of weeks.

Wink beat McCamey, 39-6.

New Braunfels beat undefeated, untied Lockhart, 40-6. The Unicorns take on the team that shares the District 24 lead, Gonzales.

Erlyn Murphey scored five touchdowns against Lockhart to boost his total for the year to 16 and 96 points. He's gained 733 yards in 85 carries.

Mt. Vernon Game Reset

Mount Vernon's game with Pittsburgh was rained out last week and reset for Nov. 18.

Leverett's Chapel is the only team in District Ten which has a perfect record. It has scored 169 points to 13 in district games. Last week it barely beat New London in the mud, 2-0.

Dekalb and Kaufman are other unbeaten teams and pace Districts 14 and 17 respectively. Kaufman, in seven games, has 235 points to its opponent's six.

District 18's championship may be decided this week when Grand Saline and Wills Point tangle. Grand Saline leads and Wills Point is its biggest opponent.

French of Beaumont, Nederland, Cameron, Brenham, Franklin, Mexia, and Mesquite are top threats for titles in districts through central and south Texas.

Fishermen Catch 735-Pound Black Marlin In Mexico Waters

LA PAZ, Mex., Oct. 25 (AP)—A 735-pound black marlin, believed to be one of the largest catches ever made by sports fishermen, was double-hooked in the Gulf of Lower California Sunday.

The big fish, 15 feet, 4 inches long, was pulled in by Dr. A. Franklin Beggs, Long Beach, Calif., physician, and Charles Hietz of Blue River, Ore.

They were fishing from a boat off LaPaz when the marlin took both their hooks. It required 35 minutes to bring the catch in.

Tech Meets Powerful Rice Owls Saturday

Raider Offensive Being Sharpened

Saturday is supposed to be a day of reckoning for Texas Tech's Red Raiders, but if it is, they don't know about it.

On that day, Coach Dell Morgan's eleven is due to meet the powerful Rice Owls of Houston in that humid city and, as any grade school kid can tell you, the Owls only last week dumped Texas 17-15. It doesn't need repeating that the Longhorns stomped the Raiders 45-0 for the worst defeat in their history and if Rice could beat the Steers like that, not much hope is in sight for the Raiders.

But the Tech squad doesn't look at it that way. They have an idea that maybe the Owls will be ready to do some sleeping this week and they'd like to make it permanent. They believe that they have a real chance and that this is the best possible weekend on which they could play them.

Offensive Play Sharpened

In keeping with that thought, Coach Morgan yesterday spent all afternoon sharpening the Raider offensive, trying to put teeth into it. Not all the emphasis was on running. Quarterbacks Ernest Hawkins and Bill Lyman threw a lot of passes and the Raiders were mixing up their plays well.

Given any kind of a break Saturday, Tech could play Rice a tough ball game. They will be outweighed heavily by a stout Owl forward wall and the Raiders can't match the Rice backfield in speed. But if the Owls still are gloating over their victory over Texas, Tech might slip up on them.

The squad is in better physical shape, with Halfback Bill Barbee ready to go again and other backs over minor bruises and sprained ankles. The line also is in good condition, and return of End Jack Davis to full time participation strengthens the passing attack.

Rice won't be at full strength. Last week's game with Texas was a bruising clash and out of it they lost four players for indefinite periods.

Van Ballard, right halfback and one of their top backs, broke a collarbone, Gerald Weatherly, the big center who caused Tech so much trouble here last year, badly sprained an ankle. Guards Carl Schwartz and S. J. Roberts both have injuries bothering them. Schwartz is out with an extremely sore knee and Roberts has a rib separation. End Bill Howton of Plainview, a reserve, also has a knee that probably will keep him out of action.

But Rice still has Quarterback Tobin Rote, Fullback Bobby Lantrip, Halfback Gordon Wyatt, Center Joe Watson, End Froggy Williams and a host of other players. Most of them were prominent in the 14-7 defeat of Tech here last year.

In the junior game, Eldridge registered six points for McAdoo, while Leota Mosley chalked up 11 markers for the losing Petersburg aggregation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Washington Redskins pro football team today rehired defensive Center Dick (Moose) Stovall. General Manager Dick McCann said the Abilene (Texas) Christian college veteran was put on the payroll again because the team plans to change its defensive set-up.

CURL MAY JOIN COPS

H-SU Team Faces Miners Saturday

ABILENE, Oct. 25. (Spl.)— The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys will reel off their last home game of the 1949 season Saturday against undefeated and untied Texas Western college Miners.

Both teams are undefeated in loop play. The Cowboys suffered a 27-21 defeat at the hands of University of Cincinnati and a 27-27 tie against the Cougars of Houston University last Saturday.

The game, which will be played on the turf of Parramore Stadium may easily settle the dispute as to who will wear the Border Conference football crown. Texas Tech, winner of the crown last year, also enjoys a clean slate against family teams and is also a strong contender for the crown.

Holding the only undefeated record in the conference, the Miners won a 7-0 victory over New Mexico Saturday in a game that was played in a down pour rain. They have five other wins to their credit, having defeated University of Arizona 28-0; Brigham Young 47-6; University of Hawaii, 14-7; and West Texas State, 34-7.

During the last dozen years that the Cowboys and Miners have faced each other, the Cowboys have won eight of the games and tied one.

The Cowboys opened their 1949 rodeo with a 13-7 win over North Texas College Eagles. But the following week the Baptist found themselves on the short end of the score and short by less than a yard for a touchdown when the final gun sounded. The Cowboys then stampeded over Arizona State 34-12, University of Arizona 35-0, and New Mexico 34-7.

Wilton (Hook) Davis who features the Baptist running attack, out with injuries for the past two weeks, is expected to be ready to go Saturday against the Miners.

Wollfarth Schoolboys Trounce McWhorter Team In Flag Game

George Wollfarth schoolboys won their crucial flag football game with McWhorter school, 33 to 0, at McWhorter schoolgrounds Tuesday afternoon.

By winning Tuesday's game, the Wollfarth men, copped the championship of their quatrant and will meet Sanders school for the north half title of the city.

High point men for Tuesday's game were, Harvey Cooley, who racked up 3 touchdowns and Norman Womack, with two touchdowns.

Goldman Wins In City Open Play

Lindsey Telford, defending champion in the City Open golf tournament, fell by the wayside Tuesday as he dropped a 2-and-1 decision to Jimmy Goldman in a brilliantly-played match at Lubbock Country club.

Goldman fired a sparkling 32-34—66, five under par, to oust Telford who scored a 34-33—67, from the 1949 tourney.

Except for a double-bogey six on No. 15, Goldman might have tied the course record of 64, held jointly by Don Schumacher, Reynolds Smith, Lofton Burnette and Gene Towry. His scorecard listed seven birdies.

Goldman held a two-hole lead at the turn, and stretched his margin to four-up after 11 holes. The diminutive Telford rallied to win 12, 13 and 15, but Goldman bounced back to win 17, ending the match. Playing out the final hole, both carded birdies.

The triumph moved Goldman into the semi-finals of the 32-man bracket, where he will meet the winner of the Al Holton-R. J. Dempsey match.

Other championship flight quarterfinalists are Dick Jennings, Manson Allen, Chick Trout, sr., and Raymond Marshall.

Tourney results not published previously include:

Suit Seeks To Halt Charles From Boxing

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25 (INS)—Heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles was named as a defendant in a $43,000 law suit today which also sought to halt him from participating in future matches without the consent of three Cincinnati businessmen.

Charles Dyer, Eugene Elkus and George W. Rhein claimed in a petition filed in Hamilton County pleas court that they were Charles' co-managers.

The trio said $43,518.51 was due them as their share of Charles' last fight with Pat Valentino in San Francisco. The three asserted that this sum was owed them under terms of a contract signed Sept. 25, 1948.

They declared Jake Mintz was to receive only 10 per cent according to the contract but that Charles signed another agreement with Mintz naming him as sole manager. The businessmen said Charles took part in several matches without their signature.

Seagraves, Morton Juniors Battle To 6-6 Grid Deadlock

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 25 (Special)—Seagraves and Morton Junior High school football teams battled to a 6-6 deadlock here tonight before a small crowd.

Seagraves drew first blood in the third quarter when Buddy Johnson plunged two yards for the score after a march down the field.

Morton came back the same period to deadlock the count when they pulled the illegal "sleeper" play. Wayne Bush hid out on the sidelines and took a short pass, running 40 yards for the tally.

Post Junior High school will play here Monday night with seventh and eighth grade teams meeting in a curtain raiser.

Meet Lamesa In 3-AA Test Friday

Westerners Polish Up Offensive Plays

Offense came in for the lion's share of attention yesterday afternoon at Chapman Field, where the Lubbock High school football squad was sent through its second day of practice in preparation for the Lamesa game here Friday night.

The Golden Hurricanes, sporting one of the better records in the state, will present the first District 3-AA conference hurdle for the Westerners. And it's apt to be a high hurdle. The Hurricane rec-Westerners has plenty of respect for Harrell and for Lamesa. He says that the Friday night visitors will come here with the fastest backfield that the Westerners have faced so far, one that rivals Odesord is impressive and Coach Bob Harrell has built a strong football machine this year.

Coach C. R. Pattison of the sa in speed.

Moreover, the Golden Hurricanes have one of the state's better quarterbacks in Bobby Hawkins, younger brother of Ernest Hawkins, Tech's signal caller. Hawkins is a fine passer, completing 19 of 40 attempts last week against Pampa.

Several of the Hurricane linemen are rated among the best in the state and they may give Lubbock's line more trouble than Amarillo did. Certainly, the first conference test for the Westerners will be one of the hardest and Coach Pattison is working the squad hard to guard against overconfidence.

The Westerners came through the Amarillo game in good physical condition. Billy Wright, Westerner right end, suffered a slight charley horse in his left leg, but was working out yesterday and taking his regular turn. Otherwise, the squad will be in peak condition for its first conference test.

Full Time On Offense

Yesterday's workout was similar to Monday afternoon. Coach Pattison, along with Coaches Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor, worked the first team full time on offense, polishing plays that have proven to be successful this year. The second team was used on defense and gave more than token resistance with the scrapping getting heated at times.

After a long drill for the varsity, the reserves were sent through a good scrimmage, with emphasis on timing and blocking assignments. The Westerners looked good, although there were still a few rough spots.

The quasi-scrimmage followed a long session on punting, passing and running, all designed to keep the Westerner squad in top condition. Finally, in the quickly increasing darkness, the squad was sent in.

More of the same, with more emphasis on defense, is in store for the Westerners again today.

Derby Director May Be Named

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 25 (INS)—A new director of the Kentucky Derby to succeed the late Col. Matt J. Winn probably will be named Friday.

Selection committee chairman William H. Veeneman announced today that recommendations will be made at 11 a.m. CST, Friday to a joint board meeting of the American Turf Association and Churchill Downs race track.

Col. Winn, who died on Oct. 6, was president of both the American Turf association and Churchill Downs, site of the famed American racing classic. He operated the Derby in his joint capacity.

The successor must be approved by the boards of the two organizations.

Bill Corum, nationally famous sports columnist for the New York Journal-American and International News Service, reportedly is the No. 1 choice of the selection committee.

Veeneman refused to comment upon the identity of the probable successor to Col. Winn. He said the committee "has interviewed several men its members considered desirable and available."

Others who supposedly are leading candidates include George (Brownie) Leach, veteran Churchill Downs publicity director, and Rep. Tom Underwood of Lexington, Ky., a former state racing official.

GIRLS' LEAGUE GROWS

GATESVILLE, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Texas High School Girls Basketball league already has more than 300 entries for 1949, Director L. C. McKamie said today. The field is certain to be higher than last year when 351 teams competed. Deadline on entries is Nov. 1.

Five people were killed before troops were called into a fight at a wedding at Ahmednagar, India.

Snead, Palmer Meet In Pinehurst Golf

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 25. (INS)—Sammy Snead and Johnny Palmer, two of golfdom's top money-winners this season, will vie on the Pinehurst links Nov. 1 to 3, at the North and South Invitation Open Golf Championship.

Other ace players scheduled to tee off in the $7,500 tourney include Gene Sarazen, Horton Smith, Lew Worsham, Claude Harmon, Clayton Haefner, Bobby Cruikshank, defending champion Toney Penna, and at least two of the Turnesa brothers.

Four national titlists have accepted invitations to play in the amateur meet, which will run concurrently with the professional matches. They are:

Dick Chapman, Canadian amateur titlist; Frank Stranahan; Skee Riegel; and Robert Sweeny, former holder of the British amateur title.

CENTRAL WARD WINS

Coach Clyde Gee's Central Ward team outscored Cottage school, 26-7, in an elementary school "flat football" game played at Roscoe Wilson field. Central Ward held a 20-0 lead at halftime.

Baylor, TCU In Homecoming Tilt

WACO, Oct. 25 (AP)—A sell-out crowd of 20,000 is expected here Saturday when Baylor, one of nine undefeated, untied teams in the nation, meets Texas Christian in the feature Southwest Conference game.

This game marks the second homecoming in a row which Baylor has entered undefeated. Last year the Bears barely edged Texas A & M 20-14 before the alumni.

Baylor will pit its great passer Adrian Burk against TCU's Lindy Berry. Burk has completed 58 passes out of 89 thrown for a net gain of 677 yards and eight touchdowns. The other half of the famed combination, End J. D. Ison of the Bruins, has snagged 24 out of 27 thrown to him in Baylor's five games for a net gain of 260 yards and three touchdowns. Two of his misses were against the Aggies last week in the mud. Berry leads the conference with 1032 yards on 75 completions in 142 attempts. His favorite target is Morris Bailey, who tops the Conference in pass-receiving with 28 catches.

As honored guests for the homecoming tilt will be the Baylor baseball team of 1923 and the football teams of 1922 and 1924, the last teams to win conference titles in those sports for the Bears.

Muleshoe High Girls Play Rough Football

MULESHOE, Oct. 25 (AP)—It was rough, tough football when the senior class girls of Muleshoe High got together for their second annual football game.

The Jennies beat the Shoes 12 to 6 as the girls scorned full football equipment last night and chose only jerseys and headgear from the school's athletic locker.

The girls had practiced a week and had a working knowledge of the game.

Miss Margie Moore, 23, English instructor at the high school and senior class sponsor played on the Jenny squad and led her team to victory.

A graduate of Texas Tech, she is planning to get her master's degree in the next year or two.

"Might even play a little professional football, if I can get a good offer," she said today.

Olton's Mustangs Face District 3-B Test In Meeting With Anton

2,000 Expected At Homecoming Tilt

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

OLTON, Oct. 25—Olton's Mustangs, currently stampeding toward the District 3-B grid championship, encounter one of the biggest obstacles in their title path Friday night when they tangle with Anton's dangerous Bulldogs.

The clash with Anton marks Olton's annual homecoming, and an overflow turnout of well above the 2,000 mark is expected to see Coach T. M. Cox's Mustangs go after their seventh successive conference victory.

So far, nothing in the Class B ranks has been able to check the Olton club, which is only three games from its first district football championship since 1939. Olton fell before the powerful Class A Andrews squad in the season opener, but since that loss the Mustangs have been running wild.

Clears Dimmitt Hurdle

Most 3-B observers agreed that Olton cleared its stiffest hurdle when it blanked Dimmitt, 13-0. But the Mustangs still have games with Anton, Friona and Hale Center to win before they can lay claim to the championship, and all three of these teams are potential upsetters.

Cox, who took up the coaching reins here this year after two seasons at Claude High school, has turned out a scrappy T-formation club that offers plenty of razzle-dazzle. He has employed just about everything in the books to roll up 193 points in the six conference games to date.

The Olton players rank with the most versatile in the area. For example, five players share passing duties. Quarterback Jimmie Millsap carries the bulk of the burden, but he receives frequent —and able—assistance from Fullback Huck Nichols, Halfbacks Gerald Allcorn and Ed Burrus and Left End Don Franks. Many of the Mustang passes are thrown on plays which start as double reverses or end-arounds, and this long-distance aerial attack has proved quite effective.

Allcorn (who sees only limited service in each game because of high blood pressure), Nichols and Jerry Maynard have been the team's top runners, while Millsap and Franks do the punting.

Squad Nears Full Strength

Early in the season, the Mustangs were hampered by a numerous injury list, but Cox reports that the squad now is nearing full strength for the first time in several weeks.

Although his reserve power is somewhat limited, Cox uses something closely akin to the "platoon system" in the line. He describes his offensive line as light in weight "but as scrappy as they come," the defensive linemen are considerably heavier. The coach is particularly proud of his two "watch-for guards," Joe Hall and Max LaDuke, who weigh only 130 and 126 pounds, respectively.

The support given the team this season has been remarkable. Capacity crowds have been on hand for both home games to date, while an auto caravan of more than 350 cars journeyed to Dimmitt to witness the crucial clash with the Bobcats. Another caravan, numbering 150 cars, made the trip to Farwell last week to see Olton rack up a 40-6 victory.

With a corking good ball game, homecoming and formal dedication of the new Olton Memorial stadium all on this week's "triple feature" attraction, another full house is virtually assured Friday night.

Olton Squad Roster

The Olton "A" squad roster, with weights, classifications and years—if any—as lettermen:

ENDS—Don Franks (145, Sr., 2L); Garland Rose (148, Sr., 1L); Kenneth Gullett (130, Fresh.); Harley Holloway (135, Fresh.).

TACKLES—Max Malone (168, St., 1L); James Ellis (145, Jr.); Lonnie Smith (170, Soph.); Oscar Duncan (168, Soph.); John Watt (165, Soph.).

GUARDS—Joe Hall (130, Jr., 1L); Max LaDuke (126, Jr., 1L); Earl Powell (215, Soph); Jackie Lee (150, Jr., 1L).

FULLBACKS—Huck Nichols (150, Sr., 1L); Jerry Maynard (172, Soph.); Denton Baucum (135, Sr.).

COACHES—T. M. Cox (Texas Tech) and Aubrey Lester (Hardin college).

SPORTS Slants
BY CHOC HUTCHESON

It is altogether probable that the air above Jones stadium will be full of pigskin between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock Friday night.

Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes blow into town that night to see what they can do about stopping Lubbock's Westerners. Consensus is that the answer is "Not much," but it's a safe bet that the Lamesans will give it an all-out-try.

Which means that the owls had better stay out of the sky unless they want to risk getting hit by a flying football. Those Lamesa lads like to toss that oval.

Against Pampa last week, the Golden Tornadoes unleashed a salvo of 40 forward passes, of which 19 were completed for a gain of 268 yards. At the same time, they picked up only 6 yards net on the ground, which gives you some idea as to how passminded the Lamesa crew is.

Also, it's no secret that Lubbock is quite fond of flipping that football around. Except for the Childress opener (when they were playing "under wraps"), the Westerners have not hesitated to take to the air when the occasion arises.

Looks as though both clubs had better send up a balloon barrage!

In view of the potential aerial fireworks, Friday night's game should prove interesting.

Lubbock, of course, is a top-heavy favorite. The Westerners beat Pampa, and Pampa beat Lamesa, so anyone who can count his change can see that the locals figure to win.

But this Lamesa club is one that shouldn't be sold too short. This year's Tornado team is the best to come out of Dawson county in a number of years. It has experience, good backfield speed and a fighting spirit. Until the Pampa game, it had yielded only one touchdown all season, which indicates that its defense isn't too leaky.

Moreover, Lamesa elevens always have made things more than interesting for Lubbock grid squads in past years.

All this, coupled with the mounting enthusiasm resulting from last week's crushing defeat of Amarillo, leads me to believe that—with fair weather—this week's turnout should be near the 10,000 mark.

Baseball banter from The Sporting News:

Tommy Butler, the young southpaw who came to Lubbock's Hubbers late last season, has been officially recalled by Denver of the Western league . . . Albuquerque's ace righthander, Frank Shone, has been bought by Hartford of the Eastern league (which should be music to the ears of hitters around the WT-NM loop) . . . The San Francisco Seals, who finished seventh in the Pacific Coast league, currently are the rage of Japan, where they're staging a post-season exhibition tour. A game between the Seals and the Tokyo All-Stars drew a record crowd (for Japan) of 63,000 fans. . . . Paul Hinrichs, the ex-Hubber now in the Yankee farm system, is making good his promise to help the Lutheran church of his father, Rev. D. C. Hinrichs, at Millard, Iowa. Paul has given the church $1,500 for educational purposes. As a result, they now have a motion picture projector. . . The annual WT-NM directors' meeting is to be held here Nov. 6 . . . Owner Jack Corbett of the El Paso baseball team next year will seek to discourage fans from rewarding home runs with cash donations. Corbett thinks his players have developed a mania for circuit swats. . . There's talk of a new Class D league to be organized in Central Texas . . . Paul Dean, the Clovis owner-manager, is rumored to be interested in the Muskegon franchise in the Class A Central league. . . Hershel Martin has signed to manage Albuquerque again in 1950.

This sports staff Tuesday received a clever birth announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barnett (He's the Tiger assistant coach). On the front is the exclamation, "We scored!" Inside, "The latest in fullbacks . . . William Kenneth Barnett II . . . Size: 18 inches . . . weight: 7 lbs. 2 oz. . . . Reported for practice 10:23 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 27 . . . I'd like to extend the staff's belated congratulations to the Barnetts . . . Seminole Junior high's grid team is still going strong. The Papooses chalked up their sixth straight victory last week by stopping Kermit, 26-0. Jackie Soarks, Jon Wilson, Paul Sublett, Brad Crawford, James Jackson, Charles Hargrove, Danny Phillips, Marcus Crow, Lemoyne Livingston, Ronnie Phillips and Coy Lee Booe played big roles in the Seminole triumph. The Papooses play hosts to the Wink juniors Thursday night. At present, Seminole is leading in the north half of the District 5-A junior division, while one-beaten Pecos is settting the pace in the south half.

All-Star Cagers Will Meet Lakers

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (INS)— The 1949 basketball season officially gets underway in Chicago tomorrow night when the College All-Stars clash with the world professional champion Minneapolis Lakers in the 10th annual game.

A crowd of approximately 17,000 spectators is expected to witness the contest between the 16 All-Americans and the team that has proved itself the best in professional basketball the past two years.

All-Star Coach Adolph Rupp will probably use the "fabulous four" who played under him at Kentucky and Vince Boryla of Denver in the starting lineup. Kentuckians Alex Groza, Wallace (Wah-Wah) Jones, Cliff Barker, Ralph Beard and Boryla were members of the United States basketball squad which won the Olympic tournament.

Coach Johnny Kunda of the Lakers is likely to have lanky Jim Pollard of Stanford and Gene Stump of DePaul at forwards; "Large Jarge" Mikan of DePaul at center, and Don Carlson of Minnesota and Herman Schaefer of Indiana at guards.

The All-Stars have won six of the previous nine charity games sponsored by the Chicago Herald-American. The Lakers whipped the Collegians 62 to 48, however, last year. That was the first time that either team had won by more than six points.

Billy Sisson Paces McMurry Grid Team

ABILENE, Oct. 25. (Spl.)— A major factor in McMurry's keeping Abilene Christian outside the Indian 29-yard line Saturday night was the play of Billy Sission, guard from Littlefield.

Sission, a freshman, has started the Indians last two games — a 39-14 win over previously undefeated Texas A&I and a 21-0 drubbing of the Indians' crosstown rival, ACC.

Besides getting in hard tackles, Sisson helped pave the way for McMurry's 485 rushing yards.

"Sission's play this season is all the more significant," Moore declared, when it is considered that he is only a freshman. The first college game he ever played was against the University of Tulsa.

Sission played nearly a quarter against the Golden Hurricane, who nipped the Indians 27 to 26. Tulsa went on to chalk up a 21-18 victory over high-flying Villanova.

"I'd like to have credit for developing Sisson," Moore said. "But he came to us well-grounded, a product of good high school coaching."

DOOR SWEEPER—Gene Hermanski, left, fields cigar ashes from the Yankees' Phil Rizzuto as the Brooklyn outfielder begins paying off a World Series bet. Hermanski will sweep the floor nightly in the Newark, N. J., clothing store where both are employed as salesmen during the off season. The Yanks won the World Series, in case there was any doubt in your mind.

Kasaboski Tangles With Stranger

Grey Mask Will Make Debut Here Tonight

The man without a name, "The Grey Mask", makes his debut in the ring at Sled Allen's wrestling arena tonight, but he takes second billing to a meeting of two old roughnecks, Al Getz of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Herb Parks of North Bay, Ontario.

The Grey Mask faces Alex Kasaboski in the semi-final event, while the night's grappling is opened by Charley Carr of Shreveport, La., against Salvador Flores of Mexico City, Mexico.

An advance ticket sale is being held today from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at the arena. The first match is scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Getz and Parks will meet in a two out of three falls match with a one hour time limit. It's the main event and should be a good one. Getz was challenged by Parks last week after the Canadian had watched Getz get no better than a draw with Kasaboski.

Dutchman Mad

The durable Dutchman, who never wears thin and whose ring behavior is that of a skilled Thespian with a touch of roughneck, is said to be made over Parks' challenge. Getz said that he resents the challenges, as though he were slipping. He claims that he's better than ever and will be out to prove it tonight.

The Grey Mask is an unknown quantity. He's been wrestling on the West Coast and has a good reputation. Allen said that he didn't know his identity and would have to go on press clippings, which shows the grappler to be more than able to hold his own.

Kasaboski, the mad Russian, returned to local rings last week and showed up well in holding Getz to a draw. It was a free scrap and Kasaboski more than held his own. He says that he will take the masked man apart.

It will be a two out of three falls match with a 45-minute time limit.

Carr returned to the local ring last week after a long absence and made a good showing against Bill Brooks, whom he beat in 15 minutes. This week he gets a sterner test in Flores, who has been wrestling here for a long time. It was be a one fall or 20-minute time limit match.

Southwest Conference Schools May Set New Attendance Record

SMU Shows Large Gain Over 1948

(By The Associated Press)

The Southwest Conference is on the way to an all-time football attendance record. Indications are that last year's [illegible] 1,099,171 will be eclipsed by close to 200,000.

Twenty-one home games played to date have brought 684,871 paid admissions at the seven schools. Last year in the same period 16 games had drawn 398,178.

The average this year is 32,613 per game. Last year it was 24,761.

There are 19 more home games to be played, including Texas-SMU at Dallas Saturday, Texas A. and M.-Texas at College Station Thanksgiving and SMU-Notre Dame at Dallas Dec. 3. All already are sellouts. Dallas seats 72,000, College Station 40,000.

Baylor, Texas, SMU, Arkansas, TCU and Texas A. and M. show increases this season. Texas is more than 60,000 ahead but the biggest gain is by Southern Methodist which is more than three times greater than in 1948.

SMU has played four games this year compared to two for the same period last season but the total is 229,000—an average of more than 57,000 per game. Last year it was 75,000—an average of better than 37,000.

Here are the comparative figures (number of games in parentheses):

SCHOOL	1948	1949
Baylor	23,382 (2)	25,494 (2)
Texas	120,000 (3)	186,000 (4)
SMU	75,000 (2)	229,000 (4)

WALKER TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (AP)— Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's flu-ridden football star, may be discharged from the hospital tomorrow, his physician said today. Matty Bell, SMU coach, said he is not banking too strongly on Walker's return to the lineup in time for Southern Methodist's Southwest Conference game Saturday with the University of Texas.

WHO SAID POOR FISH?—Yes, we know it's about time for the hunters to be taking over, but there's always time for just one more good fishing picture. And who is there to say that this isn't a good fishing picture? Anyway, it's Dorothy Jewell, 19, of Phoenix, Arizona, who obligingly posed while casting lure into an Arizona stream. Who wouldn't want to be caught?

TURKEY AREA CLOSED

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 25. (INS) The Jonson Mesa area in Colfax county will be closed to turkey shooting. State Game Warden Elliott Barker said today the action follows the previous closing of five other areas.

Recall Of Slav Envoy Demanded

feud between Yugoslavia and the Cominform — the Soviet-led association of eastern Communist nations which has accused Tito of being anti-Russian and deviating from the true Marxist line.

Started In 1948

It started in June of 1948 with the original Cominform denunication and has waxed hotter ever since.

Diplomatic sources in London speculated Monday that Russia was planning new moves in a cold war of nerves against Yugoslavia. But these sources discounted rumors that Russia was planning direct military action.

The Soviet Union suffered a defeat on the diplomatic front last week when Yugoslavia was elected to the United Nations Security Council over Czechoslovakia, the latter a faithful member of the Cominform.

In dragging up testimony from the Rajk treason trial in Hungary the Russians were falling back on a device used when the Cominform nations scrapped their treaties of friendship with Yugoslavia last month.

Plot Is Alleged

The Cominform nations cited testimony in the trial to sustain their allegations that Yugoslavia was plotting against Russia and the other "people's democracies."

When Czechoslovakia served notice on Yugoslavia that it was ending the friendship pact the Czechs also demanded the recall of the Yugoslav ambassador to Prague. The other Cominform countries did not go that far.

None went so far as to sever diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia, and it appeared that even Russia was not doing this in her latest move.

The Soviet ambassador to Yugoslavia, Anatole I. Lavrentiev, was promoted last month to the job of deputy minister of foreign affairs.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, made no announcement at the time of a successor to Lavrentiev in Belgrade. Thus while the post in Belgrade remains vacant, diplomatic relations can continue through minor officials.

School Board Meets

Carver Heights who want the new negro elementary school to be constructed on some site other than immediately south of the Dunbar school.

He cited facts and figures to prove the need of a school some other part of the Carver Heights area, and submitted alternate sites for the consideration of the board.

Face Two Proposals

Since the property adjacent to the Dunbar school is completely settled, the board is faced with the alternative of purchasing outright the necessary property from the owners or going through condemnation proceedings.

However, the board felt that the most practical plan is to build the new school on the site south of the Dunbar school even though it may involve heavier costs, since it will place the negro school plant close together and reduce future operating and maintenance costs.

The board also authorized A. C. Jackson, school district business manager, to accept bids for landscaping of grounds of the O. L. Slaton and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools and the P. F. Brown and M. C. Overton elementary schools.

Work To Start Soon

The planting and landscaping is to be done within the next few months during the proper season for such work.

The board also authorized a paving project between the sidewalks and the streets surrounding Lubbock High school. The paving will allow for off-street parking.

The board discussed, but took no final action, on a plan to employ a crew of repairmen to refinish and repair old-model school desks and tables which are still usable.

Supt. Matthews reported that the final application for the Foundation Program was submitted to Austin earlier this month and has been tentatively approved.

Would Realize Gain

Under this Foundation Program a net gain of $425,955 on total scholastics would be realized by the school district over the old scholastic plan.

The net gain would be divided as follows: To teachers, increase in salary, $105,185; savings to local taxpayers, $320,770, or the equivalent of 45 cents per one hundred dollars increased tax rate.

In other words, the $320,770 would be a saving to local taxpayers in that this amount would keep the tax rate from being raised.

A resolution also was passed commending Mrs. Ross Ayers, school publicity director, and Dora Nell Carroll, director of cafeterias in the Lubbock schools, on an article, "Cafeterias By the Dozen," describing the local school cafeteria system, which was recently published in The Nation's Schools, national school magazine.

Board members present at the meeting were Clyde G. Tatum, president, Don L. Jones, G. C. Dowell, W. H. Evans, Glenn Woody, Ruel Martin, and A. C. Jackson and Supt. Matthews.

DIFFERENT JENSEN

'Banned' Book

the fact two editions of the book are being used by the 2,221 civics students.

Most of the students have the 1945 official version, but others have a 1947 revised edition.

Werlein's paragraph came from the 1947 revision. The paragraph is not included in the 1945 version but similar material is included in a footnote.

Revisions In New Books

A spokesman for Allyn & Bacon Publishing company, Boston, Mass., publishers of the book, tonight said revisions carried in a 1949 edition probably would satisfy the Houston board.

Werlein replied he might be willing to have the book remain in use, if later editions changing the paragraph were brought into use.

He said the entire matter probably will be settled at a November 14 Austin meeting of the state textbook committee.

"I haven't read all the text," he said, "but if the rest of it is all right, and the board votes for it, I guess it would be all right."

"We can't very well leave the children without any sort of book," he said. "They might use it until we can get other books."

This makes it an administrative problem, he added, explaining that city Superintendent W. E. Moreland is trying to get a new text as quickly as possible.

A check of state laws today had prevented Moreland from carrying out the board's ban immediately.

Moreland tonight was seeking to contact state education officials in Austin to determine what his next step should be.

School officials explained the state law says that once a school district had adopted a text from a multiple choice of five as approved by the state textbook committee it cannot change until the text goes out of adoption.

Local school districts must agree to use the selected book six years.

Houston schools in 1944 adopted the 1945 edition of Magruder's book, but increases in enrollment forced purchase of revised editions.

Books Reported Different

The 1949 edition, he said, is entirely different from that in 1945.

The official 1945 edition, the one most students have, contains this comment as a fine print footnote at the bottom of Page 36:

"The government of the United States has some socialism and a bit of Communism. The postal system, power projects and progressive taxes are socialistic. Public free education is Communistic. . . ."

The 1947 revised edition does not have the footnote but the board found the following paragraph, printed as part of the text matter on Page 37, objectionable:

"The United States is called a capitalistic country, but it does not have pure capitalism. It has capitalism subject to increasing governmental control as our manner of living becomes more complex. The country is capitalistic with strong socialistic and even Communistic trends. The postal system, power projects, and progressive taxes are bits of socialism; and public free education and old age assistance are examples of Communism. . . to each according to his need."

ONE VERSION OF BOOK USED IN SCHOOL HERE

Lubbock school officials last night in commenting on reports that one version of Magruder's "American Government" civics book was being used in Lubbock High school indicated that no unusual action would be taken such as that at Houston.

One spokesman with the school said that the 1945 edition of the book had been in use here and in numerous other cities for some time but that no complaints on its use had been received.

U. S. Ambassador to Belgrade Cavendish Cannon and other European experts reported, however, that the Russian economic boycott and blockade of Yugoslavia has been more effective than is generally realized.

They were agreed that Yugoslavia is at the moment in no direct danger of military attack but maintained that economic support should be rushed to Tito to prevent any economic collapse.

Sudan Child Narrowly Escapes Death When Run Over By Truck

SUDAN, Oct. 25. (Special) — Haynes Lee Melton, two-and-one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Haynes Melton of Littlefield, miraculously escaped death when run over by a heavy dual-wheel truck here about 1 p.m. today.

Taken to South Plains Cooperative hospital at Amherst, the youngster apparently had no more serious injuries than severe bruises on his legs and lower body and a possible fractured pelvis.

Attendants said the child was resting well, but would be kept several days for observation.

Mrs. Melton, mother of the child, was in a laundry on Main street when Haynes Lee slipped out and ran between parked cars into the street.

The rear dual wheels of the truck, driven by E. L. (Bud) Whitmire, passed over the body of the child.

Melton is a farmer near Littlefield. Mrs. Melton was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hardy, who live north of Sudan.

H. Duveen, 70, oldest blood donor in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, says it has done him good and cured his rheumatism.

Atom Program

ample uranium supplies are assured. Relatively few productive workers are needed to supervise the uranium separating process, no matter how extensive it is, after the separating equipment is available.

Employes Reduced

This was borne out by AEC employment figures showing that the number of productive employes at Oak Ridge has been reduced since 1947 from 11,400 to 4,700, with a comparable cut at Hanford to about 5,000 workers.

Announcement of the expansion program indicated that negotiations with Britain for continued large receipts of uranium from the Belgian Congo are proceeding satisfactorily.

The largest known deposits of the scarce material are in that country and are controlled by British-owned companies. Recently the British government reportedly asked for a revision of the agreement under which the U.S. gets at least half of the Congo uranium.

Changes Proposed

Under the proposed revision, England would receive a larger share along with the latest American A-bomb building know-how, cut off since the war by the U.S. atomic energy control act.

Thus Britain would be in position to build its own up-to-date atomic bombs. The U.S. Atomic Energy commission announced last July that this country was mass-producing "new and more effective" atomic weapons.

The $300-million expansion program, first disclosed last week by the Congressional Atomic Energy committee, will be financed with $50 million authorized from present funds by President Truman, and a supplemental appropriation of $250 million to be requested from the next Congress.

ing passenger train traffic 25 per cent because of the growing emergency in coal supplies goes into effect at midnight tonight.

Two railroads, the Pennsylvania and New York Central, announced they would cancel a total of 249 trains.

If the mine shutdown continues much longer, the government's next moves to conserve coal may be to embargo non-essential railroad freight and order a "brown-out" of unnecessary electric lighting.

Ching and his aides were uncommunicative after the White House meeting.

There was some prospect, however, for an announcement later in the day from Ching's office to indicate the government's course of action in the steel strike.

Steel Has Priority

Federal labor officials feel that the steel dispute must be settled before the government could have any success in solving the coal strike.

Southern coal producers and John Ownes, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers' union, resumed their deadlocked contract talks this afternoon at Bluefield, W. Va., but operators said they are not hopeful of any progress toward a new mine wage agreement.

Northern and western soft coal operators broke off bargaining sessions with the UMW last week and now are awaiting government intervention in the dispute. The old coal contract expired last June 30.

UMW President Lewis was at his headquarters in Washington today but was silent on prospects for a break in the coal controversy.

Czech Communist Government Banishes Second U.S. Envoy

PRAGUE, Oct. 25 (INS) — The Communist Czechoslovak government stepped up its anti-American campaign today with the second expulsion of a U. S. diplomat in five days on charges of spying.

The Czech foreign office ordered John Heyn, an embassy attache, to quit the country within 24 hours, the same banishment it demanded last Friday for Isaac Patch, another attache.

As with Patch, the foreign office charged that Heyn had tried to get Czechoslovak citizens to conduct espionage for him.

The embassy said that Heyn, who had been in the country only a few months, is presently out of the country for a short vacation.

Motley County's Indian Uprising Quelled By Deputy

MATADOR, Oct. 25. (Special)—Motley county's "Indian uprising" was under control today, with a big buck from Oklahoma sleeping it off in county jail here after too much "fire water" of the denatured alcohol variety.

The Indian, who came to Motley county to pull cotton with a group of Indians from Oklahoma, had been on a rampage in and near the Flomont community in northwest Motley county, "demoralizing" his fellow cotton pullers, officers said.

Deputy Sheriff Jinks Wilson rode trail Monday and brought in the rampaging Indian. The Indian reportedly slammed a jail door last week at Quitaque, cutting off the finger of a deputy sheriff.

Wilson said that the Indian's final remark to his tribesmen as he was being hauled away to the Matador jail was:

"Me like MacArthur. Me return."

Earlier in the day Secretary of Defense Johnson talked over the armed forces row with President Truman, but later kept silent about a possible shakeup in the Navy high command.

DENFELD RETIREMENT SEEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (INS)—A reputable Navy spokesman said tonight that Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations and foe of some unifications policies, will be retired Wednesday.

This authority said that Denfeld will be retired because of "ill health" and will be succeeded by Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, commander of the Sixth Task fleet.

Although the spokesman declared the announcement has been scheduled for Wednesday morning, there was no official confirmation. All other sources declined comment.

Forrest Sherman, commander of the U. S. 6th Task fleet in the Mediterranean, would succeed Admiral Denfeld as chief of naval operations.

During recent hearings before the House Armed Services committee, Denfeld was one of the Navy's strongest critics of policies of the unified defense setup. He and other admirals charged the Navy's power was being dangerously weakend.

Once again, Johnson announced a hands-off policy about a court martial for Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin, exponent of naval aviation, who touched off the investigation.

Crommelin Notified

Admiral Denfeld notified Crommelin yesterday that in releasing "confidential" documents to the press on Oct. 3 he had violated "military law."

Johnson told reporters there was no significance in the fact that Navy Secretary Matthews accompanied him to the White House today — the first time Matthews has talked with Mr. Truman since the angry hearing on Capitol Hill.

He said he reported to Mr. Truman on an earlier meeting at the Pentagon with top civilian defense chiefs. He said he told the President of their discussion of all the testimony aired before the House Armed Services committee, "and the lessons to be learned from it."

He would not comment on any decisions reached from the "lessons."

He said the Pentagon discussions "covered the whole field" of charges and counter charges fired by the admirals and generals during the three-week inquiry.

Negro Farmhand Held After Woman Found Decapitated

GREENVILLE, Miss., Oct. 25—(INS)—A 22-year-old negro farmhand was spirited to an undisclosed jail tonight after police said he confessed to the decapitation-murder of a pretty, 27-year-old divorcee and mother of two children.

Police Chief C. A. Hollingsworth reported that farmhand Robert Sanders admitted he killed Mrs. Irma Franklin on the banks of the Sunflower river about 25 miles from Greenville Monday afternoon.

The woman's head was severed. It remained connected to her body by a thin shread of flesh little more than an inch wide.

A doctor who examined the body said there was evidence that the young mother had been criminally assaulted.

Prominent Horseman Among Four Killed In Plane Crash

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Oct. 25. (AP)—A private plane exploded in the air tonight, killing millionaire horseman Henry L. Straus and three others.

The twin-engined Beechcraft crashed to earth in a ball of fire, not far from the spot where 53 persons lost their lives on Memorial Day, 1947, when a large airliner plummeted into a woods.

The other dead were identified by State Police as Wally Mayer, the pilot, of Palm Beach, Fla., Delton R. Osbourne of Palm Beach, the co-pilot, and A. J. Johnson of Baltimore.

Straus, who was in his early 50's, had been president of Tropical Park race track, Fla., since 1941.

Jewelry Theft Is Probed Here

Officials Tuesday were investigating theft of a quantity of Jewelry from a Lubbock residence.

A pair of genuine pearl ear screws in black enamel and other properties were taken in the burglary, reported to the sheriff's department by F. Hughes of 3901 Thirty-fourth.

The remainder of the reported loss included a gold bracelet, two watches, a belt buckle, and a gold picture frame. There was no estimate of value.

Intruders entered the residence through a rear door.

Bigbe Transferred

A $13.95 coat was reported stolen from J. W. B. Hale, from 706 Broadway.

A bike was reported stolen from Don Gillispie of 2112 Fourteenth.

The sheriff's office said custody of John Henry Bigbie, jr., 21, of Columbus, Ga., was surrendered by Lubbock county officials to Weatherford. He is under six-year sentence here for forgery, and will be tried under a similar charge there, officials said. Bigbie recently was surrendered to Lubbock officials by Bowie county.

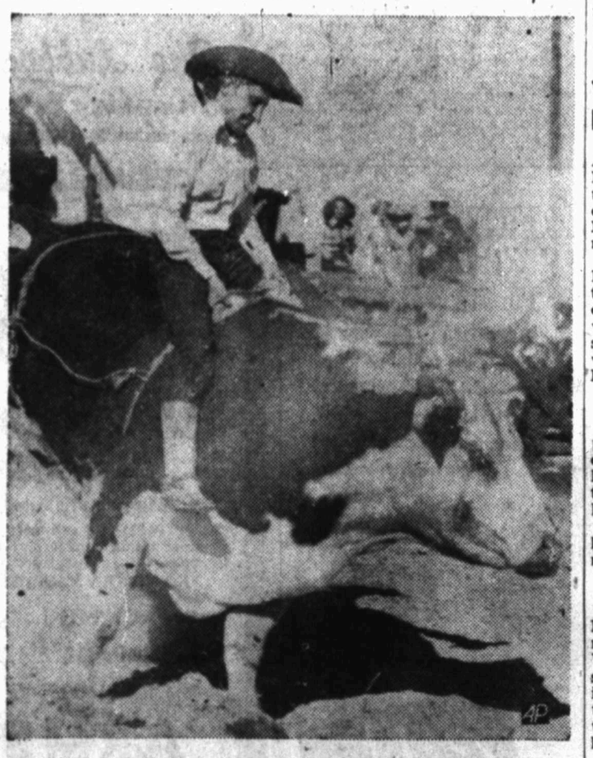

Wayne Hamilton, jr., 31, of 1200 block Ninth, posted bond of $750 in the court of Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson where a felony charge of drunk driving had been filed agains him. A misdemeanor charge of drunk driving naming Edwards will be dismissed, the district attorney's office said.

The felony charge was substituted for the other when, as alleged in the new charge, it was learned that the defendant was under final conviction of April 2, 1948, for drunk driving. The judgment was signed in the county court of Potter county, it was alleged in the most recent charge sworn to by Jim Riddles, state highway patrolmen, before A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney.

The sheriff's department said Edwards had pleaded guilty of two other misdemeanor charges filed against him late Monday. They were: driving on the left side of the road and failure to leave information at the scene of an accident. He was fined $25 and costs on each, it was announced.

Floyd Visitors Attend

Among the visitors from Floyd county were County Judge G. C. Tubbs and three commissioners, Fred N. Clark, W. N. Counts and T. L. Hart.

Hamilton, in his history of the county, pointed out that the only known picture of Dr. William Motley, for whom the county was named, had been destroyed in the 1944 fire. Dr. Motley, a native of Kentucky, died of wounds received in the battle of San Jacinto.

Later, Douglas Meador, editor of the Matador Tribune, informed Hamilton that the newspaper would attempt to reproduce a picture of Dr. Motley from a zinc engraving of the war hero, believed to be the only likeness of Dr. Motley still in existence.

steelworkers against a conspiracy of the steel monopolies is the fight of all workers and the fight of all Americans to win a measure of security in the late years of their lives." Reuther said.

Reuther Heads Committee

Reuther was chosen chairman of the powerful resolutions committee for the convention, starting next Monday. That means he and Big Joe Curran, head of the National Maritime union and secretary of the committee, will have a lot to say about what happens to pro-Communist forces in the CIO.

Reuther and Curran both have been successful in battling Communist-sympathizers in their important auto and sailors' unions.

One of the big fights certain to erupt on the convention floor involves the "ultimatum" of the United Electrical Workers. The demands were that unless Murray ousts the worst critics of UE's left-wing leadership and orders a stop to raiding of its ranks by right-wing unions, the UE will hold back its per capita tax to the CIO.

UE, the CIO's third largest union, holds contracts to represent about 600,000 workers in the radio, television and electrical manufacturing fields.

Johnson's Warning

operatives.

Ellis asserted a desperate battle is being waged with this aim.

Johnson had this to say about the Olds fight:

"The grave-yard of good intentions is filled with the remains of individuals and organizations who nosed into affairs which were not their own.

"Recently, in Washington, a man who represents your co-ops called me to discuss the nomination of Mr. Leland Olds to the Federal Power commission. As you may recall, I had some interest in Senate action on that appointment. During my discussion with this man who telephoned me, I told him that on the basis of Mr. Olds' record I personally could not approve his renomination and that the Senate would not approve it.

"Smokescreen" Hit

"I tried to point out that a clever but deceitful propaganda campaign was underway to high-pressure me and high-pressure the Senate into confirming Mr. Olds. The propagandists pretended that Mr. Olds was a martyr being crucified by the big power companies and the big gas companies. That was simply not true—it was the same old smoke-screen behind which many men hide when they need to hide their records. By my standards, however, a man must do more than have one run-in with the utilities to justify confirmation for high public responsibility.

"There was no reason in the world for you or your co-ops to become involved in that fight. But two days after my conversation, a man purporting to speak for all of you went on record publicly with an endorsement of the nomination.

"Shortly afterward, the Senate turned down the nomination by a vote of 53 to 15.

Shouldn't Have Been Involved

"Because of one man's endorsement, REA co-ops were associated permanently with a discredited and disreputable propaganda campaign in which REA should not have been involved.

"I tell you sincerely: You have a bigger job to do than serve as a tool of the smear artists and the propagandists who want you to fight their battles for them by smearing the senators who are for you."

Johnson listed five major objectives for REA co-ops: Lights in every farm home, reduction of southwestern power rates, state committees to "keep an eye" on state boards controling power and water policies, rural telephones for all who want them, running water in every home served by REA.

Experiment Successful

"REA stands today as democracy's most successful experiment in faith and hope—and there is no charity involved," Johnson said. "In little more than a decade, we have turned on the lights in more than 3,000,000 American farm homes—and it hasn't cost the taxpayer a cent."

Three state co-operative groups elected officers late yesterday. They are:

Arizona—Mike Bennett of Wilcox, president; Bud Williams, vice president; Charles Seeman of Pima, secretary. All were reelected.

Texas—C. M. Lester of Stamford, president; Garland Pennington of Tahoka, vice president; M. G. Hyltin of San Marcos, secretary-treasurer; and A. L. Duncan of Decatur, Allen Burditt of La Ward, Weldon Groves of Hamilton and D. B. Lancaster of Douglasville, directors.

Miss Lubbock Sings

After one false start, Joyce Wendborn, Miss Lubbock of 1949, came through with a couple of songs, but whistles and wolf calls from healthy young men indicated a large portion of the audience was doing more looking than listening.

The American folk classic, "Frankie and Johnnie" was sung by Bob Parkison, Tech student, and the audience demanded more, which it got when he returned for "Harvest Moon."

The Noteables, local quartet, was encored back to the stage. The quartet is composed of Tiny Jones, Jim Black, Ray Dickey and Dick Richards.

At the piano for the performers was Lawrence Ivey.

Brief Talks Made

Appearing on the program were Robert W. Sisson, Veterans administration chief of the Lubbock regional office; Sid Lowery, state Legion service director; Wayne Groce, Legion post commander; J. A. Raley, jr., and Mrs. Orville Drake, Legion auxiliary president.

Colonel Blase, who occupied a front row seat with his wife, also spoke.

The program began at 7 p. m., and adjourned to the service club at 8:30 p. m. for coffee and doughnuts, with the Legion post members serving.

As is customary at military installations, the airmen automatically fell into a long line for refreshments.

However, one rebel in uniform took one look and headed for the PX, saying: "That's the first line I ever passed up."

30,000 Army Draftees To Get Release After Year's Service

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 25.—(AP)— Secretary of the Army Gray today disclosed plans to offer discharges from the Army to 30,000 men who entered service under the draft law.

"Upon completion of 12 months' service, these men will be offered immediate separation, beginning December 1," Gray said in a speech prepared for the annual conference of the National Guard association. "We anticipate that most of these men will take advantage of our offer."

Johnson Okays Plan

These men had entered under the draft law's requirement for 21 months' service. Gray said the earlier release had been approved by Secretary of Defense Johnson, who has power under the law to shorten the period of service.

The Army secretary made the announcement in telling of steps being taken to reduce the Army from 656,000 men to 630,000 by next February. He said:

"The main cutback in strength will be accomplished — and this is the first announcement concerning this action — the main cutback will be accomplished by release of 21-month inductees and enlistees who came into the Army as a result of the selective service law.

"Upon completion of 12 months' service, these men will be offered immediate separation, beginning December 1."

Gray said the Army was giving new proof that it would not abuse the draft law. He noted that generally it has not been used for the past eight months.

He urged that the law be kept on the books for use when and as needed.

Tech Dairy Judging Team Fails To Place In California Contest

Texas Technological college's dairy manufacturing judging team failed to place in the Collegiate Student's International contest in judging dairy products at Los Angeles this weekend, according to a telegram received Tuesday from J. J. Willingham, acting chairman of the dairy manufacturing department.

The team, fresh from victories at the State fair of Texas where they won top honors in intercollegiate competition, was able to garner only one place as high as tenth—that in cheese judging competition.

In the all-products classification, Tech placed 15th, in butter, 14th, in milk, 12th, and in ice cream, 17th. Students making the trip with Willingham include Clarence Darter, Childress, Royce Jackson, Quanah, Harold Sawyer, Evant, and Terry Smith, Roby.

Hallowe'en Motif To Be Featured In School Cafeterias

Food and decorations stressing the Hallowe'en motif will be enjoyed by children in Lubbock's 14 cafeterias for the next four lunch periods, according to Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, cafeteria director.

Cafeteria managers and helpers are using seasonal decorations in most schools, and some are even wearing Hallowe'en hats and aprons. At K. Carter school the sixth grade room of Mrs. L. C. Cravens is taking the decoration of the cafeteria as its project.

Menus beginning this morning and continuing through Monday will be as follows: Wednesday, swiss steak, parsley buttered potatoes, spiced apple sauce, muffin, open face raisin pie with cheese pumpkin, one-half pint milk, and butter; Thursday, chicken croquettes with cream gravy, buttered potatoes, prune and cheese salad, hot rolls, orange and chocolate layer cake with orange frosting, butter, and milk; Friday, Italian spaghetti, buttered English peas, glazed carrots and raisins, orange muffin, chocolate pie with orange whip topping, butter and milk; Monday, beef noodle stew, buttered green beans, hot buttered peaches and prunes, tomato biscuit, honey raisin cake square with orange frosting and raisin face.

Special appetizers, salads and desserts to be served throughout the week will include: sliced orange with raisin face, doughnut shaped orange jello with prune filling, peach halves with clove faces, orange juice, mixed orange and prune juice, congealed carrots and raisin salad, orange jello faces, ambrosia in orange cups, orange pear salad, and prunes and orange cocanut.

San Antonio Officers Seek To Identify Amnesia Victim

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 25—(U.P.)—Police sought to learn the identity today of a cultured and well-dressed man who had no memory of events prior to a week ago.

He hailed an officer in downtown San Antonio last Tuesday and asked to be taken to police headquarters, saying, "I don't know who I am."

He had no identification papers, but wore a tie clasp with the initials "C.A.B." His belt buckle was initialed "J" and his trousers had a cleaner's mark of "Kuykendall."

His expensive suit coat bore a Ventura, Calif. clothier's label, but police said it had led to no clue toward identification of the amnesia victim.

He apparently was about 38 years old. His weight was 145 pounds and his height, five-foot, eight inches.

He had straight black hair and a moustache. His right forefinger was missing at the second joint and there was a long scar on his back apparently from an operation.

HE SUPPORTS EIGHT WOMEN—Milo Barus, a Bavarian "human power machine," really has a load on his chest. But the merry-go-round loaded with eight frauleins only tickles the ribs of the 225-pound muscle man at Rastatt, Germany. Widow Tells Of Paying Man $5,000

Engel's Love, Money Making Technique Described In Court

BY LEE FERRERO
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—An attractive 39-year-old widow told a jury today of the mesmerizing love technique of Sigmond Engel, the aged Lothario whose winning ways reputedly knocked unsuspecting women of three continents for a loop and their money.

Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, red-haired and bitter, testified in the swindle trial of Engel that the 82-year-old lover's line was as corny as Kansas in August—but admited that she was impressed to the tune of $8,700.

Technique Is Disclosed

A rapt jury and courtroom heard the Chicago widow disclose intimate details of loving Sigmund's ways with woman.

She testified before the criminal court jury that Engel met her last May on Chicago's Michigan avenue with the startling opening remark:

"It's amazing. It's amazing. It's amazing. I mean your resemblance to my dear dead wife. Please have a drink with me while I gaze on your classic features'."

Mrs. Corrigan testified that Engel made rapid progress, and Engel boldly acknowledged the truth of her remark by winking at her openly.

Engel knew he was the main attraction, and pirouetted and preened. And if Mrs. Corrigan's estimate of Engel's love technique is so, then corn is king. For the courtroom was packed by elderly women who sighed at his every move, and outside the courtroom awaited at least three of his alleged swindling victims, who reportedly fell for his blandishments.

Withdrew $5,000

Mrs. Corrigan testified that after she had known "Sam" for a while they went to the Continental Illinois National bank where she withdrew $5,000 from her account at Engel's insistence. She said:

"At Engel's orders, the teller counted it out in $100 bills. I reached for it, but Engel beat me to it. I never got my hands on it, and he grabbed the currency and thrust it into his pockets."

She told how he posed as a millionaire movie producer, promised her "millions of diamonds" and came through with flying colors on his boast that he "loved and loved" her. She testified:

"After we shopped for diamonds, that night at my home he kissed my fingers, my eyes, my ears, my neck, and my toes as he crooned:

"'I just want you to be with me forever and ever'."

She looked at Engel with more than a trace of tenderness and the sighing of the audience was audible in the moment's silence.

She directed a question to Engel seated at the defense table:

"You remember those words, don't you?"

Engel grinned weakly.

In his opening statement, assistant State's Attorney James Brown charged Engel was a direlict Casanova preying on lonely women, and branded him a glib pretender who disappeared after leaving with money he obtained on promises of marriage.

Engel said he is waiting his day in court, and that the women he met were out to get his money first.

Weslaco Man's Civic Project Saves Letters From Trash Can.

WESLACO, Oct. 25 (U.P.) — A young civic-minded businessman here said today that he'd keep right on doing his duty . . . even though drawing startled expressions from passer-bys.

The altruist, Alton R. Baker, referred to his self appointed job of going through the trash can in front of the post office. Barker said he goes through it every time he visits the post office. That's every day.

Further, his constant vigilance has been rewarded. In his searching he has found nine letters that absent minded residents "mailed" in the green official-looking can

Barker removes them and carefully places them in another green receptacle—inside the post office.

Tech Dean Honored By Music Magazine

Mrs. Margaret Wible Walker, dean of women at Texas Tech, is featured on this month's cover of the nationally-circulated Musical Leader magazine as president of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority.

The cover was drawn by Fred Beasley, local artist and recent graduate of Tech, with an insert photograph of Mrs. Walker. Miss Margene Fry, secretary for the Tech Ex-Students' association, wrote a full-page article about Mrs. Walker and the sorority for the magazine.

Described by editors of the monthly publication as "outstanding," the cover portrays a piano with raised lid, a music stand, and the sorority's emblem of the musical lyre.

The article inside the magazine lists officers of the sorority and gives a brief history of it. Mu Phi Epsilon was organized in 1903 and now has 65 active chapters, 28 alumnae chapters and 16 alumnae clubs. Membership is limited to students of music and professional musicians.

As head of the National Council for the sorority, Mrs. Walker is a graduate of the School of Music at Williamette university in Salem, Ore., and has degrees from the University of Southern California at Los Angeles.

Actress Bette Davis Files For Divorce

Sherry Hopes Psychiatrist May Solve Marital Problem

By JAMES PADGITT
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25 — William Grant Sherry said today that he will undergo a complete psychiatric treatment in an attempt to save his marriage to screen actress Bette Davis from ending in divorce.

The husky painter of marine scenes and landscapes told International News Service that he would be psychoanalyzed at the suggestion of his actress-wife, famed for her neurotic screen portrayals.

Bette, he said, had told him that she would delay the divorce proceedings until he had been psychoanalyzed.

Furthermore, he insisted that he did not blame Bette for "getting fed up with my horrible temper and leaving me."

He told International News Service:

"I don't blame her one bit. I have a horrible temper and I would fly into a tantrum at the slightest provocation — sometimes without any provocation.

"She told me that she just couldn't take it any more. She said that if she were just a housewife it wouldn't make any difference — I could fly into a rage any time I wanted.

"But because she is a big star in films, she had to have what she called 'peace of mind.' She also said that my tantrums were undermining her self respect."

"I always thought that this psychiatry stuff was silly, but Bette insisted that I be psychoanalyzed. She said that if doctors are able to solve this cause of my tempers, she will come back to me and the divorce action will be canceled."

Sherry said that he has yet to make an appointment with an eastern psychiatrist.

He said that he will not appear in Santa Ana superior court Friday when Bette seeks a restraining order against him. The screen star charged that his tempers were so violent that she was afraid that she and their three-year-old daughter, Barbara, might suffer bodily harm.

Sherry, who lives alone at Bette's cliffhouse overlooking Wood's Cove in Laguna beach, said that he was going into the "psychoanalysis thing" with an open mind.

He said that he would do anything to get Bette back. He insisted:

"I believe everything will work out all right. We still love each other. She is going to give me a chance to make good too."

Czech Bishops Give Ground In Bitter Church-State Dispute

PRAGUE, Oct. 25. (AP)— Czechoslovak Roman Catholic bishops gave ground in the church-state fight today. They said priests may swear loyalty to the Communist government and accept government salaries — with reservations.

President Klement Gottwald named his Communist son-in-law, Justice Minister Alexei Cepicka, to head the cabinet office set up by recent laws to control church finances, appointments, administration and pay. Cepicka has declared opponents of the laws will be "broken as an enemy of the state."

Many Priests Jailed

The bishops took their new stand to permit the country's 7,000 priests to stay out of jail. Church sources say nearly 300 priests already have been put behind bars for opposing the church legislation.

The bishop's statement, sent to all priests, said "it is necessary to defend you against possible consequences and save you for the spiritual care of the faithful."

It offered, "if invited," to participate in the church sections of the regional executive committees which administer government affairs. It was reported that church and state leaders might try to resume negotiations of a church-state agreement. Negotiations were broken off last spring, when the bishops declared they would not be resumed until the government stopped its "hostile campaign".

11 Bishops Sign Statement

The statement was signed by the 11 bishops, headed by Archbishop Josef Matocha. It was not signed by Archbishop Josef Beran, primate of Czechoslovakia, who says he has been interned in his place since June 19, when Communist hecklers drove him from his pulpit.

The statement was filled with declarations of steady fidelity to the church and religious freedom. It reiterated "regret" passage of the new laws as contrary to the country's constitution and freedom of the church. It said the bishops themselves would not accept the new salary scales.

(At Vatican City unofficial sources said the concessions were on superficial matters so as not to endanger the church's spiritual mission. The sources said negotiations for a concordat would have to be directly with the Vatican.)

The new church law requests the clergy to take an oath "that I shall be loyal to the Czechoslovak republic and its people's democratic regime and shall not do anything which would be against its interests' security and unity."

The bishops said priests, in taking this oath, should add the oral or written reservation "unless it is in contradition to the laws of God and the church and the rights of man."

Newsmen To Be Taken On Tour Of Texas State Hospitals

AUSTIN, Oct. 25. (AP)— State hospitals will be given the once-over next week by Texas newsmen.

Mental hospitals and special schools are on the itinerary for an inspection tour announced today by Gov. Allan Shivers' office. The six-day tour starts with the San Antonio State hospital and winds up at the Austin State school.

The following week, a team of U. S. Public Health service experts will make a technical survey of the eleemosynary institutions at the request of the state hospitals board.

Needs of the institutions will be the major problem facing the legislature when it meets in January.

India considers this "an inopportune time" to abolish capital punishment.

GROUNDBREAKING CEREMONIES CONDUCTED AT SITE

Sundown Lions Club Takes First Steps In Plans To Construct New Community Club House For City

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

SUNDOWN, Oct. 25.—The Sundown Lions club today officially undertook a major community project, one that will require hard work and co-operation from every member and from the community as well.

In a brief groundbreaking ceremony shortly after noon, Lion Pres. R. P. Brouthertin turned the first shovelful of earth at the site where a new $8,000 Community house is to be erected within a year.

Officials Attend Ceremony

The ceremony was attended by Mayor Lester S. Dudley, Bill Hall, superintendent of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company, which donated the land; several officers of the three Sundown women's clubs who have pledged their support to the project, and members of the Lions club.

To be located in the southeast part of town, the Lion-sponsored project, when completed, will have an auditorium forty feet square, a kitchen, rest rooms, and a storeroom. The building will face north with space remaining on the east side for additions later on.

Lion Hugh Elledge will supervise construction of the building. He will be aided by members of the building committee, E. G. Black, Enloe Thomas, E. E. Smith, and Herb Nunnelly.

The Women's Garden club headed by Mrs. L. L. Buck, the Women's Study club headed by Mrs. Lester Dudley, and the Women's Music club headed by Mrs. Terry Stark, plan to take an active part in the erection of the building.

Brouthertin said it would be necessary for the entire community to take an interest in the erection of the new Community house, and to help in its completion in order to assure the success of the project.

He said the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company which already has donated the land, was prepared to donate 300 sacks of cement to the project, and indications are that a considerable amount of lumber to be used in the building also will be donated or provided at a very low cost.

The idea for the project was brought up in July when Brouthertin first took office as president of the club.

Ladies present at the ceremony were Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Dudley, Mrs. Elledge, and Mrs. Brouthertin.

Lions present and not including those already mentioned were O. W. Gordon, Matt Thomas, S. D. Glascock, Ed Oden, J. G. Blevins, Charlie Akin, Leroy Nix, R. E. Horne, Royce Womack, J. W. LaMar, and Billy Key.

South Plains Ginnings Get Slow Start

Weather Slows Area's Harvest

South Plains cotton ginnings, slowed by a late-maturing crop and wet weather, totaled only 42,163 bales on Oct. 1, compared to 57,040 bales at this time last year, figures of the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, revealed Tuesday.

The ginnings were reported by 15 counties of the 19 cotton counties of the South Plains area, no reports on ginnings in Floyd, Parmer, Castro and Briscoe having been compiled.

Dawson Leads Report

Dawson county, with 13,616 bales, was leading the area, compared to 4,723 bales at the same date last year. Only three other counties, Scurry, Garza and Gaines, reported more ginnings on the same date this year as last year.

Ginnings in the area were just beginning to start on Oct. 1, however, and the next report is expected to see a substantial increase over the 1948 figures, cotton men said.

Reports of ginnings by counties for this year and last follow:

OTHER PARTS OF TEXAS PASSES 1948 GINNINGS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Texas is ginning cotton at a faster rate than last year, the Census Bureau reported today.

The Lone Star state ginned 2,716,092 bales of cotton up to Oct. 15—670,231 bales more than had been ginned at the same time last year. This was a reversal of the national trend.

Nationally, 7,723,799 bales of cotton from the 1949 crop were ginned up to Oct. 15.

This compared with 2,163,021 bales ginned to the same date last year and 6,719,945 bales a year ago.

Ginnings of American-Egyptian cotton totaled 398 bales compared with 849 last year.

Ginnings by states this year and last, respectively, included: Arizona 128,812 and 87,004 bales; California 285,447 and 124,311; New Mexico 63,651 and 95,946; Oklahoma 173,729 and 178,478; Texas 2,716,092 and 2,045,861.

Jury Rules For Warren In Suit

A 99th district court jury of which O. C. James was foreman answered eight special issues favorable to the plaintiff, Drew Warren, late Tuesday in Warren's suit on note action against Charlie M. Cravy and W. W. Smith.

Based upon the jury's answers, Warren's counsel, the Lubbock law firm of Vickers and Vickers, will ask Judge G. V. Pardue for judgment of $3,000 on the note, as well as interest and court costs.

Paid $1,000 On Franchise

A $4,000 note dated Aug. 16, 1948, and maturing Feb. 16, 1949, had been signed by Cravy and Smith, both of Morton, payable to Warren for a Cochran county franchise to sell Kaiser-Frazer cars. They paid $1,000 on it Dec. 11, 1948, and after maturity date of the note Warren instituted suit asking judgment for the $3,000 unpaid.

The defendants in their answer asked that the balance on the note be canceled and, in a cross-action, that the $1,000 paid be recovered, alleging fraud and failure of consideration inasmuch as, they pleaded, Warren actually had held no dealership rights to sell Kaiser-Frazer automobiles in Cochran county.

Jury Findings Revealed

The jury found that:

1. Warren held the dealership rights in Cochran county; 2. Warren relinquished his right to the defendants to sell the cars in that county; 3. Warren was the efficient and procuring cause of the defendants' receiving a dealership in the cars from Carter Motor company or Fuller Motor company; 4. Warren, at the time of the execution of the note, represented to defendants that he was the owner of a franchise to sell the cars in Cochran county and vicinity; 5. Warren, in making the statement that he had the franchise, did not make the statement knowing it to be false; 6. Warren made such statement to the defendants for purpose of having them believe it; 7. Cravy and Smith did believe such statements; and the defendants were not induced to sign the promissory note by false statements.

Regular steamship service now exists between Gdansk, Poland, and Helsinki, Finland.

Alaskan Sourdoughs Are Told Only Gold Find Can Hold Claims

By JOHN DRUCKENBROD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. — Uncle Sam has a word of warning today for the modern sourdoughs who are flocking to the banks of the Yukon by jeep, plane and taxi in the 1949 Alaskan gold rush.

The word:

Claims being staked out in the vicinity of Fishwheel, Alaska, are subject to immediate "jumping" unless the original staker-out can prove that he actually has found gold.

Gold Validates Claim

An Interior department spokesman explained for the benefit of the 20th century Dangerous Dan McGrews:

"Our lawyers tell us that a claim is not legal until an actual discovery of gold has been made on it.

"A prospector can rush around and take out claims, but unless he can find some of the yellow stuff right away it won't necessarily be a case of the early bird getting the golden worm.

"Another fellow can come along and take over. About all the claim jumper has to do is say, 'Whar's the gold on this land, stranger?' If the original prospector can't produce it, the claim jumper can move right in — if he's man enough, that is."

Of course, the Interior official went on, there's a little more to it than that.

Must Make Improvements

The prospector must put in $500 worth of improvements "of a mining nature" before he can obtain a "patent" to the property.

Or, if he wants to maintain the right to work the property without a patent, he must put in at least $100 worth of work annually.

The Interior department set at rest rumors that the rush was illegal because the land involved had been withdrawn from public ownership and therefore was ineligible for claiming.

The spokesman said it has been determined that the area in which the latest gold strike is centered is in the public domain and therefore open to all comers.

Interior officials said they understood that the lure of gold has lost none of its magnetism and that fortune-seekers by the hundreds are converging on Fishwheel in the best Robert W. Service radition, complete with gambling gents and lights o' love.

As far as the Fishwheel strike itself is concerned, government experts said they had no information on its value, adding that it will take a lot more than the one Clifton Carrol before that matter property can be assayed.

Suspect Sought In Mexican Shooting

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 25—(AP)—Local police intensified their search today for a crippled Mexican engineer who shot and killed Richard Campbell Cowing of Houston, a foot and mouth commission worker.

Police said eyewitnesses identified the killer as Angel Gonzales. They said the two men quarreled in the bar of the Imperial hotel over attentions Cowing paid an unidentified "beautiful woman."

Bar employes insist that Cowing "elbowed" the Mexican, who walks with a limp, and that Gonzales drew his pistol to defend himself. Cowing reportedly was unarmed but became enraged when Gonzales fired two shots into the air to intimidate him and charged the Mexican.

According to the witnesses Gonzales fired four more shots, all of which hit Cowing. The Texan fell to the floor and died before police arrived on the scene. Police medical authorities, however, said Cowing's body bore five bullet wounds.

Gonzales fled from the hotel bar in the confusion and boarded a passing cab in which he escaped.

Cowing, a native of Dallas, made his home in Houston. He served in the Army as a major during World War II.

YOUTHS ARE HELD

They were held for Colorado authorities. State Patrolman Alfred Nogo said the youths told him they picked up the girl in Rangely, Colo.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP) — Walter Reed hospital said today that a private physician will make any examination of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) to determine whether he is able to stand trial on fraud charges.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff proposed an examination at Walter Reed when attorneys for Thomas asked yesterday for a postponement of his trial, now set for Nov. 7. The lawyers argued that Thomas' health would be endangered if the trial was held as scheduled.

It represented a payment of $4 per capita on 1,584,029 scholastics, based on the school census as of Sept. 28.

It was the first payment on the $48 per capita authorized by the legislature for 1949-50.

HAWAIIAN 'ATTACK' LAUNCHED

Troops Hit Beaches As Pacific Maneuvers Roar Toward Climax

By FRANK NEILL
INS Staff Correspondent

WITH THE ASSAULT WAVES OF THE WESTERN TASK FORCE ON OAHU, Oct. 25. (INS)—The first waves of the western task force, spearheaded by the crack Marine trained Second Army division stormed ashore on the island of Oahu today in the nation's biggest peacetime amphibious maneuver.

Guns and planes of the 100-ship armada maneuvering six miles off shore softened up the beach at Pokai bay with a furious dawn bombardment.

Then the initial wave of the infantry hit the beach under a protective canopy of 4000 thundering carrier planes in an attempt to oust a mythical "aggressor force" of 12,000 men from the island.

The "aggressors" are assumed to have captured the Hawaiians in a surprise attack.

14 Casualties Counted

Fourteen actual casualties on four beaches on the north and west coasts of Oahu were reported in the first hour of the "invasion." None of the injuries which included three broken legs were critical. Eleven appendectomies have been performed since the maneuver began.

More than 30,000 ground troops were participating in the landings and shock troops appeared to have gained a foothold on Oahu's beaches several hours after the first assault was launched.

Supporting artillery, jeeps, tanks and bulldozers, however, were bogged down because of the steep beaches and a running surf.

Brass Pleased With Attack

Army and Navy brass, veterans of every beach landing in the Pacific during the war with Japan, termed "Operation Miki" one of the most effecient and warlike operations they had ever seen.

As the Great fleet approached to within striking distance of the island, "enemy" submarines "sank" the cruisers "Helen" and "Toledo" and destroyed Skipper, Cmdr. Frank Parker was rushed to a hospital ashore with a critical heart attack.

The land fighting is expected to end Thursday while the first phase of the operation closed at midnight as the giant fleet jockeyed into position for the dawn assault.

The operation changed its entire character when Rear Adm. B. J. Rodgers turned his command over to Rear Adm. P. K. Fischler who is directing the beach assault.

For the last ten days the task force has been harassed by an "enemy wolfpack of submarines which, operating jointly with attacking airplanes, have "sunk" nine of "our" submarines, four carriers, six destroyers, two troop carrying transports and three other ships.

The invasion force has retaliated by knocking out 18 "enemy" subs and shooting down 29 planes.

The climax of the entire maneuver comes when the umpires will determine whether "American" troops have been successful in establishing their all-important beachhead.

Chicago Girl Finds Tulsa Cafeman Is Quicker On Draw

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25. (INS)—A 19-year-old Chicago girl, beaten to the draw by Tulsa cafe owner A. R. Russell, was under arrest today with her four companions.

Police officers recovered $14,000 in U. S. bonds, jewelry, clothing, and other merchandise from ten suitcases at a Tulsa tourist court where the five were living.

Russell said the girl, Martha Lorrain Quinlin entered the cafe and asked him for a job. The cafeman said she looked suspicious when she began to draw something from her purse.

Russell pulled his own gun from under the counter and told her:

"Drop it sister, or I'll fill you full of holes."

He said the girl calmly laid her weapon down on the bar and sat down to wait for the police.

The other four picked up shortly afterwards were Robert Ware, 28, wife, Gladys, 31, of Tucson, Ariz.; Patsy Santoras, 22, of Chicago, James Red Perry, 25, address unknown.

Wares was loading a car when the police arrived at the courts.

Tulsa Police Chief J. W. Hillingsworth said the five are wanted in Chicago for fur and jewelry burglaries.

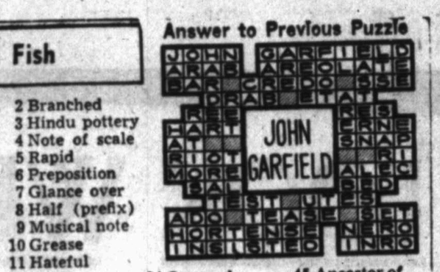

The gang is believed to have made forays at points in Kansas, Missouri, and Illinois.

Unemployed Movie Maker Hits At Fickleness Of Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25. (INS)—B. P. Schulberg, pioneer movie maker who once was a $9500 a week studio executive, lashed back at the fickleness of Hollywood today in a full page job wanted advertisement in a trade magazine.

Schulberg, father of novelist Budd Schulberg, declared:

"Industry loyalty in Hollywood is a two-way street. Some of my friends who are not top executives tell me that doors are closed because I have in my time talked back to some of the big boys. But I cannot believe that men as narrow and narcissistic as this can undertake to entertain and instruct the world.

"This is the only business I know. I am able to work as hard as anyone in it, and as proficiently as most."

The one-time executive added that it seemed "we always wait until a productive pioneer is found dead in some obscure Hollywood hotel room before you reflect upon an indifferent and forgetful industry."

Schulberg developed such box office names as Gary Cooper, Clara Bow, William Powell, Cary Grant, and Fredric March. He drew his last paycheck in 1943.

Baptist Official Is Speaker At Wayland

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 25. (Spl.)—The challenge of world missions was stressed in Wayland college chapel here today by Dr. M. T. Rankin of Richmond, Va., executive secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission board.

"You are inescapably world citizens," he said, "This applies equally to members of small rural churches and anyone who is a citizen of the United States."

Dr. Rankin noted how practically everyone helped with the war effort during recent hostilities, following the slogan, "If it doesn't help win the war, it doesn't count."

Even larger global responsibilities fall on Christians, the speaker said. "If what you do is not helping win the world for Christ, it doesn't count."

A frequent traveler in Europe, Asia and other parts of the world, Dr. Rankin, outlined how events in one country could affect the security of "our own families and homes."

He said the Baptist board he heads was helping Christians in 25 countries in the projection of their programs of world missions. The board has 714 missionaries in these countries and an annual budget that has averaged about $4 million in recent years.

Texas Cities To Receive Emergency Housing Units

FORT WORTH, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Twenty-four cities in six Southwestern states will become owners of 1,815 temporary emergency veteran housing units constructed in 1946 on Nov. 1, B. F. Vinson, field office director of the Public Housing Administration announced here today.

San Antonio will receive the largest number of units, 535.

Twenty additional applications for transfer are in the area office here and another 40 cities in the southwest are eligible.

Most of the units were built on city owned or city-controlled land and rent has ranged from $20 to $40 per month. The cities will now receive the rent income. The unit cost of construction for the housing was estimated at $3,000.

The only string attached, Vinson said, is that the cities must now be responsible for deciding when the units will be demolished. The demolition was a clause in the Lanham act which provided the units.

Texas cities which will become owners on Nov. 1 and the number of units include Haskell, 20; Decatur, 20; Austin, 218; Denison, 39; Waco, 140; Bonham, 18; Santa Anna, 17; Alvin, 20; Stamford, 20; Dencer, 500; Mercedes, 20; Plainview, 21; Cisco, 20; Albany, 20; Brenham, 20; Ranger, 6; Graham, 20, and Olney 20.

IT MUST GO ON

Our Paving Problem

It is safe to say that, if the citizens of Lubbock should be polled on the proposition, they would favor overwhelmingly the continuation of street paving in this City as rapidly as possible.

They will disapprove, if, for any reasons, the City commission should discontinue, or sharply curtail, this type of improvement.

Members of the commission and City Manager Steve Matthews said in a meeting the other day that finances may necessitate a sharp cut, if not a complete stop, in pavement. And, unquestionably, a financial problem is involved.

But it is a cinch that solving the problem will cause nothing like the headaches in official circles which would result from a decision to stop or reduce the paving program.

Hundreds of property owners want pavement because of the convenience it represents and the value it adds to bordering real estate. These people are willing to pay for the improvement, provided they are given a reasonable time to meet the payments.

Many cannot pay all cash. They could pay in five annual installments, which has been the plan followed in Lubbock for at least 25 years and which has done more than anything else to make this one of the best paved cities in the country.

Most citizens would probably arrange to pay in three installments, which is a new plan the City commission put into force recently. Since then, members of the commission have said they may have to stop paving entirely, or put such improvements on a cash-on-the-barrelhead basis.

Neither of those plans would be satisfactory to the great majority of the people of Lubbock. The only plan that would be satisfactory is to provide without unnecessary delays the paving that is wanted and for which the property owners can pay in reasonable installments.

It doubtless may require a good deal of study and ingenuity on the part of already overworked City officials to keep the pavement going. But assuredly a way can be found to continue forward progress if sufficient diligence is applied to the search.

Everybody Loses

THE statement often has been made that no one wins in a war. It could be applied with almost equal truth to strikes, with the Missouri Pacific railroad walkout, ended Monday, as the latest proof to support it.

Approximately 5,000 employes of that railroad were idle by choice for 1½ months. If they had won every issue in controversy, it would have taken nearly two years for the increased compensation and benefits they sought to equal the pay they lost. Actually, their spokesmen tacitly acknowledge that they will win, at most, little more than a token victory on any controversial issue. The wages they deliberately sacrificed are a dead loss — and railroad workers rightfully are among the best paid of craftsmen in this nation.

This does not take into consideration the losses by the railroad and its patrons; nor the losses represented by the more than 20,000 people, outside MP ranks who were forced into idleness because ither employers could not get materials with which to operate; nor the cost to the taxpayers because of the unemployment compensation most of the 20,000 were able to draw since their joblessness was not of their own making.

The Missouri Pacific experience, in gist, is further evidence to support the fact that thinking people recognize that some better way exists and must be found of settling labor troubles than by strikes.

A liberal's idea of a reactionary is a man who asks, "Where are you going to get the money?"

Uncle Sam's Chinese policy is also Chinese to the man in the street.

Someone To Love

BY IRENE LONNEN ERNHART
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan has nearly bogged down with difficulties, not the least being the arrival of twin sons, and Tod's inability to forget Liz Conover, who jilted him. After Tod's graduation from college, they live in the guest cottage of an old chum Rick Morris, while Tod commutes. Tod suspects that Rick is in love with Jenny. Meanwhile, Tod's mother, who dislikes Jenny, suggests that Tod stay in the city all week, returning home at week-ends. Then Tod stays away one week-end. Jenny borrows Rick's car and finds a squalid basement apartment in the city—so she can live with Tod. Tod thinks it's all right—for something "temporary.")

XXI

JENNY had though Tod's restlessness and discontent through the summer had resulted from commuting back and forth, and the strain of acclimating himself to his job. She had even wondered if his jealousy of Rick had something to do with it. And now that they were settled in the basement apartment on Randolph street, she looked for a change in him.

But there was none. His irritability and moodiness increased instead of lessened.

"Tod, are you worried about something?"

"No. Of course not." He picked up a book and opened it at random.

"You seem to be worrying over something. I thought maybe it was something I could help with. Is it money?"

"Does anybody ever have enough money?" he said, almost too promptly.

A short silence, then Jenny said, "I know this apartment costs more than it's worth, but if we're together, you and I and the babies, it's a great deal."

Tod snapped the book shut impatiently and rose.

"Are you worried about your mother?" Jenny asked.

He went over to the closet and took out his hat. "Yes, I'm worried about her." A thin hint of irritation threaded his voice.

Jenny watched in silence as he put on his coat and went out, muttering something about cigarets.

Tomorrow, she decided, she would see Mrs. Duncan. She could ask the landlady to sit with the twins for an hour.

TOD walked briskly down the street, guilt washing through him in sickening waves. He couldn't stand to have Jenny turn those brown eyes of her on him so sympathetically, asking what was troubling him.

For months now, ever since he had gone to work for the firm, he had been seeing Liz Conover. She was working for her father's advertising firm, which handled Tod's company's business. He saw Liz nearly every week. She brought over the advertising copy personally, instead of sending it by messenger.

He had thought he would tell Jenny casually of having seen Liz. But there had never seemed to be an opportune moment in the beginning. And now seeing her had come to be something different, something he looked forward to with trembling hands and a thudding heart, and a feeling of contempt for himself. He couldn't mention Liz casually to Jenny now.

He was stirred up. And that was what Liz wanted. He was sure of it the day his boss, Mr. Freytag, said, "Duncan, Miss Conover from the advertising agency says you ought to be handling our advertising layouts. She told me you were good at that sort of thing, that her father had tried to get you into their firm."

He admitted he had been interested in advertising, and from then on it was settled. He had conferred with Liz over the copy. Each meeting had been more tense and the one before. Liz knew her power over him.

As he walked along now through the night he wondered if it wouldn't be best to make a clean breast of it. Why not say, "You see how it is, Jenny—having been in love with her once I feel upset over the contact. But I'll get over it. She doesn't mean anything to me really. Just be patient with me, Jenny."

No, that wouldn't make sense. He'd been married to Jenny for a year and a half now, and if Liz still had the power to tear him to pieces inside, there wasn't any use in trying to explain it to Jenny.

No wonder Jenny knew something was tormenting him.

THE next day Jeny put the babies to bed with bottles for their naps at 2 o'clock and asked Mrs. Slattery, the landlady, to sit in the apartment while she took a taxi to the Madison street apartment where Tod's mother lived.

Mrs. Duncan didn't seem to be home. One of the neighbor women in the building talked to Jenny about her.

"She's always takin' nerve med-

See SOMEONE TO LOVE Pg. 7

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IN yesterday's column I mentioned that speech I made in Norristown, Pa., the day before.

Have you ever made a speech? And if you have, did you talk to a lot of women?

BRANDEIS

Or, if you didn't, have you ever spent an hour or so in a lion's den?

Please don't misunderstand me.

I like women. We've got to have them.

But the trouble with women is that you can't fool them.

I have never claimed to be a speaker. Most writers are awful speakers, anyway.

Writing and speaking are two different professions. Writers should be read but not seen and heard, and actors should be seen and heard but not read.

Some writers, to whose speeches I have listened, have talked the most awful drivel on the platform, and some good actors have written some terrible nonsensical stuff — particularly when they overlap into politics, science or philosophy.

Here is another point. I know, because I used to do the promotion for my syndicate for a good many years.

In that work I had to send pictures of our writers and artists to the newspapers, so that they could publish them when the occasion arose.

When they were too baldheaded to have their pictures published in decency, we simply had our art department put some hair on them, make their clothes look as if they had been recently pressed and they appeared almost as good in print as Carey Grant or Robert Taylor.

So, whenever I have to make a talk, I know darn well that my audience is going to be dissapointed before I even open my mouth.

Naturally I had seen to it that all my pictures make me look as I would like to look.

But in reality, as my mirror and my common sense tell me, I am somewhat a combination of a Gargoyle and one of the seven dwarfs.

BUT that Norristown audience was wonderful.

As I got up, I could see a he'smore-to-be-pittied - than - scorned expression on most of the faces.

Too, there were quite a few mothers among them, and I am sure that some have sons who won't be any better looking than I am when they get to be my age.

Norristown is not a large city—around 50,000, according to the Chamber of Commerce.

But you should have seen the way these women dress! You'd think that Madame Schiaparelli had just been there.

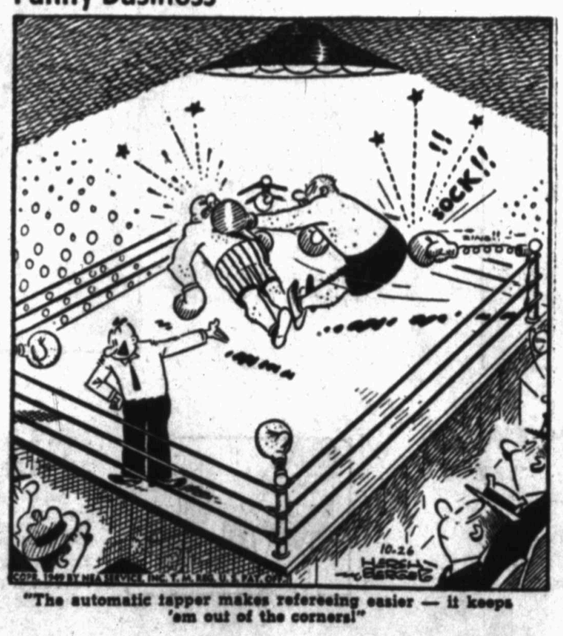

And the intelligence of that audience!

It seems to me that as long as we have women like the Norristown women in our country, America is safe and will go on progressing.

And fortunately there are many Norristowns in our country.

No, you can't easily fool women. They look behind the retouched picture and behind retouched talk.

AS HST OPPONENT

Byrnes Is Darkhorse

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—"Why is former Justice Byrnes running for Governor of South Carolina after having had such bigger positions in government?" asks A.W.W. of Spokane, Washington.

Answer: Although press reports hinted that Byrnes would throw his hat into the ring, he has not yet decided whether or not he will make the race to succeed Governor J. Strom Thurmond, the famous Dixiecrat.

All retired politicians after a time yearn to get back into the political limelight. Perhaps the ex-Secretary of State has the same hankering and looks upon the governorship as a less strenuous public service than his former Washington tasks.

Byrnes has become greatly disturbed by the encroachments of the federal government in state and private affairs. By running for governor he can more easily dramatize the issue than as a retired public official. The principles of states rights are deeply ingrained in anyone from the home state of Senator C. Calhoun, the early American champion of these particular rights—even though Jimmy forgot such ideas when he was cosely associated with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the arch exponent of Big Washington.

PRESIDENCY: In Senate cloak-rooms there is some talk that the former Senator may be toying with the idea of taking another fling at the Presidency. His eye was on the White House in the latter Roosevelt days.

The dream may not be as far fetched as it seems on first notice. The conservative forces of the country, regardless of party labels, are looking for a Moses to lead them out of the wilderness. Byrnes has many qualifications for the mission.

Hitherto the right wing never could translate the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition, often effective in Congress, into a national Presidential campaign. No northern Republican candidate has appeared acceptable to the voters below Mason and Dixon's line. No southern Democrat has inspired the support of northern G.O.P. political workers.

AGE: Both groups could unite on Byrnes. Even if he didn't carry the Democratic national convention, he might receive the honor of leading the Republicans in some sort of national unity arrangement. And the Dixie that went in part for Thurmond would go even more for Byrnes. He not only has great prestige but also exceptional political know-how.

The drawback, of course, is his age, 70 last May. But his friends point out that Vice President Barkley was picked as a potential President and he is two years older than Jimmy. Churchill is 75, Stalin is 70, General MacArthur is but a year younger. All these are active in top government posts.

COST: In keeping with the discussion about the cost of national defense, brought out in the Army-Navy-Air hearings in Washington, several writers have asked for the facts on the expense. This reply is specifically to K.D. F. of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Answer: The requested appropriation for the Department of Defense is about $15 billion. The proposed expenditures for the fiscal year 1950 include $14.3 billion for the department. Other expenditures connected with wars past and future are: $6.7 billion in international affairs, $5.5 billion for veterans, and $5.5 billion interest on the national debt.

The sum is approximately 76 per cent of the total national budget for 1950. To this might well be added various transportation, communication and federal highway costs, properly charged to overall military necessity, and we find that 80 per cent of all government appropriations are for items connected with war.

Now that Russia has the atomic bomb, various new protective measures must be taken and new means of long range attack provided. These will cost plenty. Our whole economy will be loaded down for years because of certain persons named Kaiser William, Hitler, Mussolini, Tojo and now Stalin.

UNIONS: "How well organized is labor to fight the congressional elections next year?" inquires L.R.D. of Akron, Ohio.

Answer: Unions everywhere are trying to pool their resources to elect candidates favorable to labor leaders. In previous campaigns the scattered units often acted somewhat independently.

At present the chief political action movements are the Political Action committee of the CIO (CIO-PAC), Labor's League for Political Education, (an AFL outfit), Nonpartisan Political League of the International Association of Machinists and Railway Labor's Political League.

ALLIES: So far, these various setups have been allies but not team-mates. They have a common cause in demanding the scalp of members of Congress who refused to vote for the Taft-Hartley repeal. But although the bigwigs frequently talk about uniting in one grand labor movement, most of this speculation never has gone very far, as the different unions—approximately 75,000 in the U.S.A.—have local disputes that keep them apart.

Labor leaders appear united against Senator Taft and in favor of former Governor Lehman as New York's next senator. But if the big strikes antagonize the public and create friction among labor chieftains, the effectiveness of organized labor political action may not be as great as its bosses now anticipate.

Military Spending Hikes Budget

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The 81st Congress at its first session appropriated some 34, 35 or 36-odd billions, according to how various estimators figure it. But, anyhow, plenty of taxpawers' money—your money.

Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of Hous Appropriations commitee, set it around $34,400,000,000. Then he added, in explanation of the deficit financing into which our government now enters:

STOKES

"This is, in fact, a military budget and you can't balance a military budget under normal conditions."

Election Issue Soon

He spoke the truth, a hard truth of these tense times. But, as a politician, he also was cushioning himself and his party in advance for the issue that Republicans have indicated will be a major issue for next year's congressional elections. That is "spending."

In that simple terminology, all tallied up into a sum that is, indeed, staggering for peace times, it is a persuasive issue. Presented that way it has its sure-fire appeal to an increasingly tax - conscious people. Spending and taxes were the chief topics in grievances listed by the folks back home to members of Congress during the last few weeks of the session that ended recently, and members probably will hear plenty of complaints, firsthand, face to face, in the next few weeks.

BUT it is not a simple issue at all and, politics or no politics, Mr. Cannon put his finger on the complexity.

For some three-fourth of this huge sum, or around 26 billions, is for military and defense costs, past, present and future. Sixty-five percent of this 26 billions, is for arms of all sorts. The bulk of the 17 billions is for our Army, Navy and Air Force and the rest, 1.3 billions, is for arms for our Western European allies. The remainder of the 26 billions goes for care of veterans of past wars, for continued ECA aid to Western European nations to build up their economies as a bulwark against Communism, and for interest on our 270 billions of war debt.

Under our bipartisan foreign policy, both Republican and Democratic parties in Congress approved this huge outlay for our military establishment and for still-remaining costs of the last and previous wars, and for economic and military aid for Western European nations in the "cold war" with Russia.

By all logic, then, this major part of our expenditures should be removed from the domain of partisan political controversy, though individual members of both parties, it is true, quarreled with the size of some of the items as, in fact, did President Truman who wanted less for airplanes than Congress finally voted.

Argument Lines Drawn

That would leave political argument to the nine or 10 billions for other expenses of government, including normal operating cost of the civilian departments and agencies and for services that Congress has decided government should provide its people to promote the general welfare. There is, of course, room for argument here, though this would not seem greatly excessive of itself for a nation with a 200-billion annual income.

There is, of course, a little logic in political campaigns, so it is hardly likely that much attention will be paid to the distinction between military and ordinary expenditures. The lump-sum treatment is most effective for the spending issue in a campaign.

* * * *

BUT, politics aside, it would be wise if the citizen would consider hom much of his tax money is going for wars and therats of wars and would keep it constantly before him as a reminder that the only way out of this dilemma is to get a peaceful world. While the threat is in the world, he will just have to keep on paying out for security and go without some of the other things that he could have with his own money and with the money he contributes to his government.

Every individual can do something to remove this war burden by keeping the pressure on the politicians and diplomats who could do something about it. He can do it individually and he can do it by joining with others in a colective way through various organizations that are working for peace and are geared up to influence politicians and diplomats.

Connally Says Talks Has Eased Tension

Texas Senator Sees No New War 'Soon'

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. —Sen. Connally (D-Tex), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said today that "the general international picture is pretty good assurance there will be no World War III right away."

Connally made the statement after exchanging views with United Nations officials in New York. He accompanied President Truman to the UN cornerstone-laying ceremonies Monday.

The senator said he found the UN atmosphere "good." Asked to what he attributed the "brightened picture" the foreign policy leader replied: "talk." He explained in an interview:

Talking Is Praised

"As long as you talk and argue you are not going to war. The talking has a fine international effect. You get to thinking about it and asking (yourself) why not adjust this thing without fighting."

Connally said he doubts Russia has any intention of going to war in the foreseeable future. He said that Russia's idea is "to conquer by infiltration and not by arms."

The man who steered the administration's foreign program to Senate passage explained that he feels Russia would count on the collapse of democratic economies to help her in her aims. He added: "I may be wrong but I think it will be a long time before she tries to conquer by arms."

Connally disclosed that he favors abolishing the UN veto except on use of military force.

Charter Revision Urged

Senate GOP policy leader Taft, Ohio, called in a Toledo speech Monday night for revision of the UN charter. Questioned regarding Taft's remarks, Connally replied:

"We may have to do that later on. The UN is only four years old and you can't revise its charter right away. I favor abolishing the veto except when it comes to use of armed force. In deciding the issue of war, we ought to have that little veto."

Connally revealed that he has warned State department officials to cut down on foreign spending programs next year.

He said he would like to see the State department itself shrunk in size but he expressed doubt this could be accomplished.

The senator pointed out that when he first came to Congress 30 years ago, the entire State department appropriation ran to only $10 million or $12 million. The State department's present program, including foreign spending, costs $6,225,305,656.

icine, Miz Duncan is. She goes around to different drug stores gettin' that prescription filled."

"She does?" Jenny was shocked.

"Yeah. She's always doped up with it. I said to her the other day I said, 'Miz Duncan, why do you take so much of that there nerve medicine. You know it ain't good for you. What if the doctor found out?' And she said, 'Nobody's gonna tell him!' And I says, 'But why do you take so much of it?' and she says, 'Because it makes me feel like I'm floatin' on a cloud. I fergit my troubles. I fergit I don't feel good and none of my kids come to see me no more.' "

Jenny escaped after a while. After she had told Tod he went that night to see his mother. But there was little he could do. Three weeks later, in December, she fell down a flight of stairs and was taken to the hospital and then to a nursing home.

Tod was relieved in a way, because he knew the medicine habit would be broken, but on the other hand with money being paid out each week to the nursing home his financial situation became more and more desperate.

LSO Group Will Hold Programs

Reactivation of the Lubbock Service Organization committee of the chamber of commerce to arrange a recreation program for the personnel of Lubbock Air Force base was approved at a meeting in the chamber directors' room Tuesday.

The first activity will be a Hallowe'en dance at the base next Saturday night, according to Miss Leona Gelen, who was named executive secretary. She was director of the wartime LSO.

Events Are Planned

Events planned next month include a formal dance downtown, a Thanksgiving dance at the base, a hayride and a barbecue.

The committee also approved the reactivation of the Hub-Ettes, an organization of Lubbock girls who served as hostesses to service men.

Mrs. J. H. Stiles was named sponsor of this group and asked former Hub-Ettes desiring to reenroll to telephone No. 9998 Thursday or later. Other girls wishing tot join should call the same number.

Members of the committee are Chas. Whitacre, chairman; Mrs. J. D. Hassell, jr., Dr. Jack M. Lewis, A. C. Hamilton, G. C. Dowell and Mrs Stiles.

Drink Is Blamed In Farmer's Wounding Of Nine Persons

WATERFORD, Mich., Oct. 25. (INS)—"Drink" was blamed today for the shooting up of two Waterford taverns and the wounding of nine persons by "Farmer Joe" Runyon last night.

The 57-year-old man committed suicide after repeatedly firing a shotgun through the windows of Stanley's bar and the Waterford hotel bar.

Runyon's son, Joseph, jr., told police officials that "my dad wasn't crazy. He was just drinking."

Police, however, believe Runyon may have developed a "persecution complex" similar to that which prompted Howard Unruh, Camden, N. J., war veteran, to slay 13 persons recently.

Dr. Wilson McTeer, Wayne university psychologist, said it was easily possible Runyon's shooting spree was inspired by the mass killing in Camden.

Five of the wounded persons remained in Pontiac general hospital today, with only one of them reported in serious condition.

One Man Is Blinded

Dale Palm, 28, one of those shot down in Stanley's bar, was blinded in both eyes.

Police said that two notes found in the farmhouse indicated Runyon's actions were premeditated. Both of the messages apparently were intended for his son, Joseph, jr. The first one read:

"Take over Joe. Dad's quit work."

Scrawled below it was the other message which foreshadowed the shooting spree. It read:

"Look in, Joe. I'm going to shoot up the town."

Henry Ford Interests Buy Drilling Firm

SNYDER, Oct. 25. (Special)—Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II and associates today announced the purchase of the Caraway Drilling company, formerly operated by Bud Caraway of Big Spring.

Doswell, with his associates, has opened a vast new area of canyon reef pay in the Knapp community 18 miles southwest of Snyder.

The old Caraway well will be renamed the No. 1 Cantrell wildcat project. It is located in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 22, block 32, T6N, E. L. and RR company survey.

GAVEL CRACKS ON VISHINSKY

Romulo, UN Assembly President, Curbs Long-Winded Delegates

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The passing show (UN department):

Peppery, emotional little Brig. Gen. Carlos Romulo, who worked with MacArthur in the early days of the Pacific war, is gaining new fame as the best president of the UN General assembly in that organization's short and often unhappy life.

The Filipino soldier-statesman-writer pulled his gavel on fire-spouting Andrei Vishinsky last week and told him, in realistic diplomatic language, to pipe down; that he was out of order. Winded by this unbelievable "effrontery," Vishinsky piped down.

Interpreters Get Order

Then Romulo instructed UN's multi-tongued interpreting staff (speeches in UN are simultaneously translated into French, Spanish, Russian and sometimes Chinese) to stop working whenever he (Romulo) ruled that a delegate was out of order.

He further has asked all delegates to submit their speeches to him in advance, in the hope that he can shorten them. He has stuck editorial pins into such wind-jamming orators as Malik of Lebanon, Vishinsky of Russia, and Eban of Israel. His editing has improved all of their remarks, and they agree that they (and other long-term speakers) hold their audiences much better when they are concise.

Changes Many Customs

Romulo has eradicated the whole UN system of having delegates make speeches telling why they voted this way or that. He keeps them in session until they accomplish something each day, a novel innovation, and has brought about a closer relationship among member nations than any of his predecessors.

He gives frequent small dinner parties and has as his guests such delegates as have bristled recently. Each Tuesday he is host at a luncheon for the heads of the six main committees, and he invites them to let down their hair.

He even succeeds in getting enough tickets to "South Pacific" to treat various delegates to a night out, and sometimes takes them on to the Stork club. Even talked the Russians into spending an evening at Rodgers' and Hammerstein's capitalistic operetta. .

The Philippines hold a tough presidential election on Nov. 8. Whatever the outcome—and it will be close—Romulo will remain in his job as the nation's ambassador to the U. S. The busy little man is, among other things, a fine politician, and a first class boon to UN.

UN Peace Note

Anachronism of the week:

Immediately after the cornerstone-laying of UN's permanent headquarters last Monday, and an hour of lofty speeches in behalf of peace a great flight of F-80 jet fighters, fully equipped, whined over the site at 600 M. P. H

The big Chinese delegation to UN, sent here by the Chiang Kai-shek government, goes through the motions each day at Lake Success. They await what they consider their doom, as officials, with an unblinking Oriental calm. They feel certain that Britain soon will follow the lead of the USSR and its satellites and recognize the Communist government of China, and that when the U. S. follows suit they will be removed.

Their chief current concern, well concealed, is the belief that one among them may be a "plant," and be tapped by the Communists as the head of the new delegation. They are acutely aware of the wholesale switch to Communism recently made by Chiang's consular staff at Paris.

Some in the delegation believe, however, that the Communist who succeeds the strongly pro-western Tsingfu Tsiang as chief of delegation will be chosen from one of the two Chinese Communist papers now printed in New York. By next year, China probably will be the second veto power on the security council, thus saving Russia the trouble of constant naying.

In the meantime, it is a delegation of sidelong glances.

Czech Delegate Unhappy

Unhappiest delegate in UN, however, is Dr. Vladimir Clementis, Czech foreign minister and pal of the Gottwald mob. Moscow recently denounced him as a "deviationist"—which means his number is up at home. But his anti-American speeches in UN have been so vitriolic that he might have considerable trouble talking U. S. authorities into giving him sanctuary as a political refugee in case his boss in UN, Vishinsky, thumbs him out of the game and orders him to return to Prague . and terrifying uncertainty.

Near Capacity Crowd Hears Met Performer

Lubbock Symphony orchestra played to a near capacity crowd Tuesday night at Senior High school auditorium in the second performance of their opening 1949-50 season concert starring Met baritone Leonard Warren renowned opera singer

William A. Harrod, conductor of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra, alternated symphonic arrangements with classics. The program opened with Overture from "Abu Hassan" (Weber) and closed with "Chicken Reel."

Solos were offered by Fred Herring on the French horn and William A. McClatchy on the clarinet.

Warren earned the applause of the pleased concert-goers and their many encore requests with the ease with which he sang selections such as "Eri Tu" from Verdi's "The Masked Ball", the popular prologue from the opera "Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo), the aria, "Largo al Factotum," from Rossini's "Barber of Seville," and "On the Road to Mandalay."

He was accompanied by William Sektberg on the piano.

Four Teen-Age Boys And Girl Held For Colorado

POCATELLO, Idaho, Oct. 25. (AP)—Police arrested four teen-age youths and their 14-year-old girl companion today and held them for Colorado authorities. State Patrolman Alfred Nogo said the youths told him they had picked up the girl in Rangely, Colo.

The boys, two 17, one 18 and one 19, gave their home as Raymondville, Texas.

"IT'S OFF TO WORK WE GO . . ."—Dressed like fugitives from the Land of Oz, these underwater demolition experts head into action during "Operation Miki," joint Army-Navy maneuvers off the Hawaiian islands. The "frogmen" are highly trained swimmers who scouted enemy beaches from Normandy to Anzio and from New Guinea to Japan prior to invasions in World War II.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today on active commission house and trade buying, although the market turned quiet in later dealings. Aggressive mill buying centered in the old crop deliveries.

Some strength was added by the recent improvement in cotton goods sales and the increase in the flow of cotton into government hands, although loan entries are still far below their levels a year ago. Commission house and New Orleans buying was attracted to the new crop positions by prospects of a high government support price next year and acreage and marketing controls on the 1950 cotton crop.

Futures closed 40 to 85 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP) — Profit cashing and scattered hedge selling reduced grain prices from their best levels at the board of trade today.

At the start of the session trading was rather broad with limited offerings. As prices advanced some profit taking developed, and for a time was easily absorbed.

Later in the session prices were off enough that most deliveries of wheat were at new lows for the day.

At the close wheat was ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower than yesterday's close, December $2.14⅛-15. Corn was unchanged to ¾ higher, Dec. $1.18¼-⅜. Oats were ⅜ higher to ½ lower, December 72⅛-¼ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.46. Soybeans were ¼ to 1 cent lower, November $2.29¾-29. Lard was 5 cents a hundredweight higher, November $10.42.

LATE SPURT BOOSTS STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—A last-hour increase in buying jerked the stock market out of a narrow price rut today.

Closing prices were up fractions to more than a point, with most at the best levels of the day. Rails and selected industrial issues tended to be a bit balky.

The market got off to a wavering start as traders waited for a new turn in attempts to solve the coal and steel strikes. Faint efforts at a rally cropped out during the day although most issues showed mild, if any, response.

Turnover of 1,190,000 shares compared with 1,240,000 Monday.

U. S. Steel Corp.'s quarterly earnings report, and news that Jones and Laughlin directors had postponed dividend action, came after the close of the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .3 of one point to 67.3, which compared with the 1949 high of 67.5 touched on Oct. 13. The industrial group led the way. A minor gain put the utility group at the year's high while rails were unchanged on average.

A total of 1,070 individual issues changed hands of which 492 advanced and 281 declined.

Benguet Consolidated Mining, the Philippine gold producer, headed the active list, rising ⅛ to 2½. Du Pont, a late starter but second most active issue, gained ⅞ at 55⅝.

U. S. Steel and General Motors were also late favorites, with big steel up ⅛ at 24½ and GM ⅜ ahead at 66.

International Paper jumped a point to a 1949 peak in the first response to news of a proposed split-up of the common. Almost immediately, however, the gain was lost and the stock ended ⅛ down at 63⅞.

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line, on the other hand, ran up 3½ to 67 on word that directors had proposed to split the stock two-for-one.

Procter and Gamble, apparently under the influence of rumors of a split-up or higher dividend, bounded 2¾ to 78¼.

Others up included Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, American Woolen, Standard Oil (NJ) and Gulf Oil.

Profit taking clipped Douglas Aircraft for a 1¼-point loss at 70¼.

Also down were Montgomery Ward, Philco, United Gas Corp., Homestake Mining, American Cyanamid, Southern Pacific American Airlines, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Higher in the curb were Massey-Harris, Pacific Sound Pulp, Calgary and Edmonton, Curtis Mfg., Cities Service, and Imperial Oil. Lower were Menasco Mfg., Schulte, Technicolor, and Kaiser-Frazer. Sales of 290,000 shares were even with Monday.

Railway issues leaned ahead in the bond market. Long-term U. S. governments finished unchanged to 2/32 of a point higher in over the counter dealings.

Well Drilling Plans Revealed By Firm

PONCA CITY, Okla., Oct. 25. (AP)—Continental Oil company will spend $36,000,000 this year on well drilling and exploration, according to L. F. McCollum, Conoco's president.

This program, he told a group of some 50 newspapermen from all sections of the country, yesterday will include $20,000,000 for drilling and $16,000,000 for exploration. The exploration total represents an increase of $4,000,000 over the sum originally budgeted for that purpose.

oCntinental has just completed a 2½ year refinery expansion program at a cost of some $37,800,000.

Although this city has long been the headquarters for Continental, McCollum and six other of the company's key executive will move their headquarters to Houston, Texas, early next year in order to be nearer to the center of the company's exploration, production and marketing activities.

Freight Service Resumed On Missouri-Pacific's Lines

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25. (AP)—Freight service was resumed by the Missouri Pacific railroad today on a system-wide basis, and normal passenger service will be restored tomorrow.

A 46-day strike by operating employes, longest ever conducted against a major railroad in this country, was settled Sunday night. But the return to full service was delayed by technical problems. All of the idled locomotives had to be inspected before they were put back into service.

Freight trains were moving all along the 7,200-mile route.

HOUSING MEASURE SIGNED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Legislation providing $2,275,000,000 of new government authority to insure or purchase mortgages on homes was signed by President Truman today.

Water Held Key To State Growth

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Oct. 25 — If Texas wants to grow up and become one of the great industrial regions of the world, it will have to control and increase its water supply.

This is what water conservation leaders would like to get over to the public. Unless the public realizes the problem, they point out, it cannot be expected to support the measures necessary to build up our water supply.

The water problem, however, is something that doesn't have to be explained to about one-fourth of the public. Nearly that many Texas adults are conscious of a current water shortage in their own communities. It affects them most often, when they have to stop watering their lawns and gardens. And sometimes, believe it or not, some families cut down on washing and bathing because there isn't enough water.

Poll Indicates Concern

A statewide survey by The Texas Poll indicates that people in West Texas, the Panhandle-South Plains area, and the Southwest Texas and valley region are most concerned about the water shortage.

The survey recently put these questions to a representative cross-section of adults:

Is the supply of water around here always enough to meet the needs of this community?"

	Yes	No	Don't Know
All Texans	72%	23%	5%
By districts:
Panhandle-South Plains	63	35	2
North Texas	73	24	3
East Texas	78	16	6
South Texas	93	5	2
Central Texas	76	24	0
Southwest & Valley	53	37	10
West Texas	51	40	9

All who said there was sometimes a shortage of water in their community were asked:

"When there is a shortage of water, what do people around here do? That is, in what ways do they cut down on their use of water?"

Stop watering lawns and gardens	46%
Use less for household purposes, washing, bathing, etc	13
Just cut down on consumption generally	17
Stop washing cars	2
Miscellaneous other answers	5
Don't know	17
	100%

Three out of every four who are conscious of a current water shortage realize that steps are being taken to build up their community's supply. They point out new dams are under construction, new wells are being dug, storage tanks and reservoirs are being enlarged, larger water mains are being laid, and more pumps are being installed.

It is these water-conscious Texans who may provide the backbone of support for a systematic statewide program for which conservation leaders are aiming.

Car Reported Stolen Found Burned On Country Road

A 1948 Lincoln automobile was destroyed by fire on a country road northeast of the city shortly after 7 p.m. Tuesday, records of the fire department showed.

The car was reported stolen by its owner, Herman Scarbrough, of Dallas, a short time after the fire was discovered. Firemen also answered a call to a minor car fire at 2433 Nineteenth at 2:55 p.m., it was reported.

A LOAD OFF HER CHEST—After searching frantically for two hours for her five-year-old son, Ronald, Mrs. Melvin Murray of Pond, Mo., found him sleeping blissfully in a dresser drawer with his little gray kitten. Ronnie explained that he put the kitten to "bed" in the drawer the night before, awoke in the morning and climbed in with it, pulling the drawer almost shut.

300 Persons Are Given X-Ray Examinations As Survey Gets Underway At Texas Tech

Approximately 300 students and faculty members of Texas Tech filed through Aggie auditorium Tuesday for examinations by the state mobile x-ray unit.

Examinations were to continue today through Friday on the Tech campus, moving downtown next Wednesday to the American Legion hall for free x-rays of all Lubbock county residents.

Designed to locate tuberculosis or show it not present in every person over 15 years of age, the x-rays are offered as a free public health measure and not as charity.

Student Checks Continue

Collegians with names beginning with the letters G through L will report for examinations today, M through R Thursday and the remainder Friday. Those whose names begin with letters A through F were examined Tuesday.

Approximately five minutes, at the most, is all the time required to take the examinations from the moment of entering the room until the picture is snapped. Only coats and costume jewelry must be removed for the checks.

All information taken from the photographs is strictly confidential, state officers emphasize. Persons suspected of having tuberculosis are subjected to a second x-ray and, if results are positive, are advised to take curative measures for the disease. One of the best cures for TB, according to physicians, is early discovery and rest.

Sponsored jointly by the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and the Hub City Kiwanis club, the examinations are being given Tech students from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. daily, except Thursday, when the unit will close at 4 p.m. Persons receiving them leave their names, addresses, age, and names of family physicians. The latter are notified if results are positive.

The downtown examinations for all county residents over 15 will extend from next Wednesday through Nov. 12.

EASTERN DEMAND HIKES MARKET

Choice Steers Set 1949 Price Record At Chicago And Omaha

BY JOE STAHULAK
INS Market Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. — A new 1949 price record for choice steers — $40 per hundredweight — was recorded in Chicago and Omaha today and the rest of livestock market emulated the old saw about the man who jumped on his horse and rode off in all directions.

Veteran market traders predicted that the confused market would continue through the fall.

One load of prime, corn-fed steers sold for $40 per hundredweight — the highest price this year and only $1.50 below the all-time top cattle price — and conversely lower grades were finding few takers as the price was steady to 50 cents per 100 pounds lower.

Average Prices Hold

Market observers said the high price of the top grade steers was not pushing the average price, now $29.50 per hundredweight, higher because these cattle made up only 20 percent of the receipts of the 12 major midwest markets.

They said two factors were responsible for the soaring price of prime grades:

1—A scarcity of so-called highly finished steers, that is animals carefully fattened up on grain in midwestern feeding lots; and

2—A board demand for prime steers from eastern consumers, mainly hotels and night clubs.

Lower Grades Steady

These observers pointed out that the 80 percent of the cattle constituting the lower grades and making up the bulk of the meat supply in retail channels has shown but little price change in the past three months.

The supply of cattle is about normal for this time of the year. Receipts at the major Midwest markets today totaled 54,800 as against 60,000 a week ago and 49,400 a year ago.

As a matter of fact, 400,000 more cattle were slaughtered at inspected markets during the first nine months of this year than were slaughtered in the same period last year.

Some traders are inclined to attribute the higher prices for top grades of beef to the fact that economic conditions generally have improved bringing more money into circulation.

No Major Decline Seen

One livestock specialist, Francis Kutish, of Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., predicted today that prices of grain fed cattle will not decline for several months and that the decline, when it comes will be only moderate.

He added, however:

"Cattle prices might tumble. Meat prices are sensitive to changes in consumer income. Labor troubles can't continue without affecting weekly pay checks on a growing scale."

Hog receipts continued heavy but the price held steady at around $18 per hundredweight.

Fresh egg prices at Chicago and New York fell 4 cents a dozen in the face of a virtual standstill in storage egg business, attributed to consumer resistance. Today prices, 52 cents a dozen for mixed eggs and 57 cents for white eggs, were off as much as 16 cents a dozen from mid-September prices.

Three Groups Hit Attlee Program

LONDON, Oct. 25—(AP)—Three parties—conservatives, liberals and independent leftists—called Prime Minister Attlee's economy program too timid tonight and demanded the downfall of his Labor government.

Attlee went to Buckingham palace for a private audience with King George. It was his second audience in eight days.

Vote Slated Thursday

The House of Commons is to vote on four motions Thursday after a two-day debate on the economy program announced yesterday—a 25 per cent cut in dollar spending for imports and an eight per cent cut in the government budget outlay for the year.

That program already has drawn down on Attlee the hardest criticism from the press since he took office in 1945. Critics said Attlee's economy was "too little and too late."

The first motion is by Attlee, demanding a vote of confidence.

The second is an amendment by Winston Churchill's conservatives, declaring the government is "taking no sufficient measures" to prevent inflation and restore the national credit abroad.

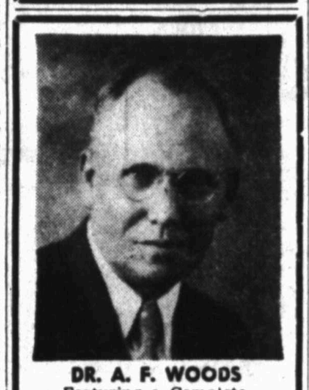

Liberal Group Protests

The third is by the Liberal party's 10 members in the House of Commons. It "condemns the inadequacy" of the Attlee program.

The fourth is a motion of censure by the independent labor group—a half dozen left wingers ousted from the Labor party—which objects to the mere four per cent slash in the outlay for defense.

The leftists demanded a 400,000,000 lbs. ($120,000,000) trimming of the arms budget—contrasted with the 30,000,000 lbs. ($84,000,000) reduction ordered by Attlee.

Truman Signs New Airport Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP) — President Truman today signed legislation under which the states stand to get increased federal aid for airport construction this year.

The allotments by the Civil Aeronautics administration for this fiscal year may be as much as 47.26 per cent more than originally made available for the year.

However, this does not take into account the provisions in the legislation that states which within 90 days have not obligated airport aid funds apportioned to them during the last three years will lose the former allocations.

The legislation provides that all unobligated previous airport aid funds for the 1947, 1948 and 1949 construction programs revert to the treasury to be redistributed for use this fiscal year, ending next June 30. Twenty-three states stand to gain on an overall basis, with 25 and the District of Columbia losing due to reversion of the past funds.
