Loboes To Meet Mavericks In Traditional Game Friday

TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE AFTER BUCKAROO GO

Cisco's Big Dam Loboes will invade Eastland to meet the Mavericks in their annual game on Welch field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Loboes have been working hard to get in shape for the game, since their 14 to 13 defeat at Breckenridge last week and are in good shape. Coach Dexter Shelley said this afternoon.

The Mavericks likewise will be in good shape, three first stringers returning to the game after an enforced absence because of injuries. The Cisco affair will mark the return of Capt. Garrison, Bagley and T. Brown.

The Loboes have been working on their running attack and a pass defense, it was reported this morning. The Loboes likewise have been polishing their plays and smoothing out their counter against the aerial game.

Coach Shelley announced this morning that he would start the same team against the Mavs that opened against Breckenridge last Friday. The boys are in good spirits, he said.

Watch Overconfidence

The Cisco coach was guarding against overconfidence on the part of the school and fans, but believed the boys had the right attitude.

The Mavs have never defeated a Lobo machine, but this year are bending every effort to the end of ridding themselves of the jinx that has been riding them for many years.

When Cisco fans watch the Mavericks they will be seeing for the first time an innovation in the methods of distinguishing players. Eastland letters its players instead of requiring them to wear numbers on their jerseys. The Loboes will wear the customary numbers.

The Eastland attack will feature Garrison and Tully, with a good many aerials thrown. Eastland has always been famous for its passing game.

The Loboes will probably have Caffrey triple-threat halfback, doing much of the ball totting and most of the passing, as well as kicking. The Loboes will use a six-man line against Eastland.

Tickets are on sale here at 25 and 50 cents. Eastland authorities have announced that there will be plenty of seating and parking space.

WEATHER

West Texas — Fair and warm in panhandle section; Friday warm in the east.

East Texas — Generally fair in interior, unsettled along the coast tonight and Friday. Frost expected tonight in north portion, warmer in north Friday afternoon.

OKLAHOMAN PROMISES TO BE CAL. AL'S NOISIEST FRESHMAN

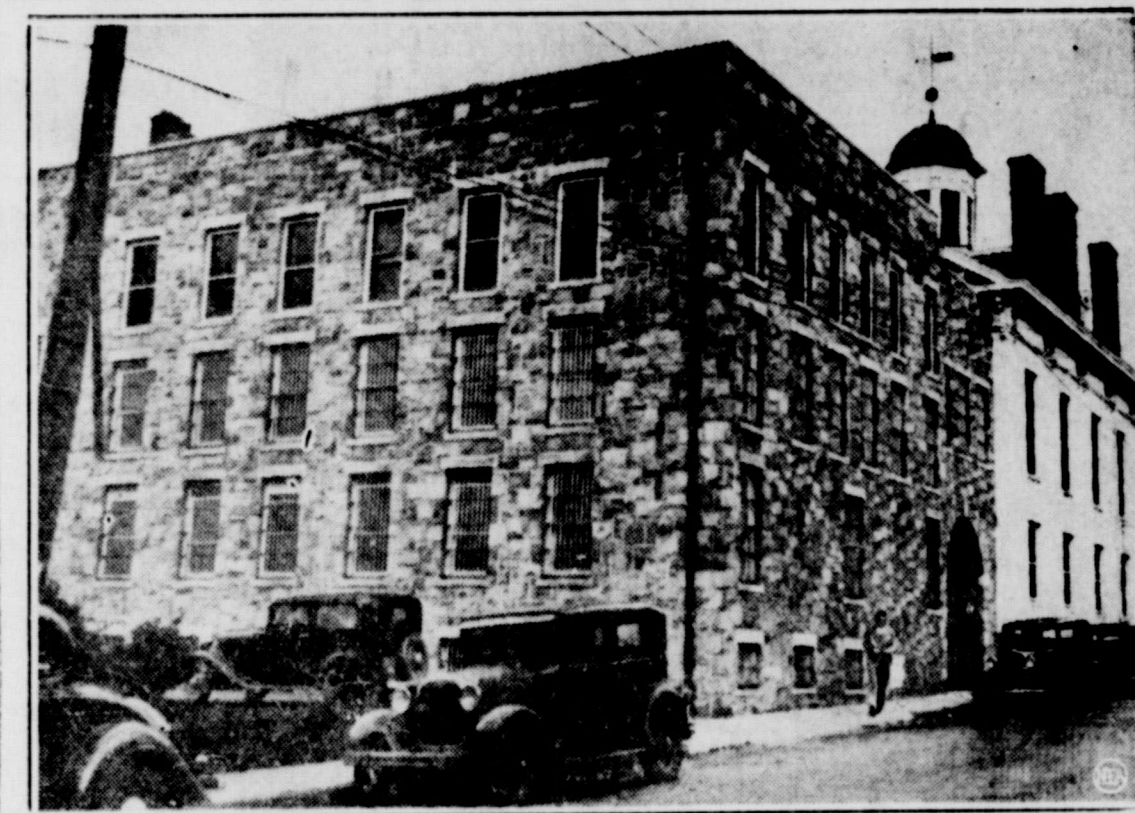

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 1 — With a promise to be "the noisiest freshman in Congress," Josh Lee, Oklahoma's fifth district representative will go to Washington in January to lead a fight for legislation that will draft wealth the same as men in time of war.

The former University of Oklahoma public speaking professor has carried his war against war for 15 years, keeping a pledge made over the body of his World War buddy in France—that his next fight would be against the war profiteer. The southwest and the midwest have heard his forceful oratory and people have cheered with terrified eyes as he described his simple remedy of taking the profit out of wars to prevent them.

Enlisting Aid

Since his nomination last summer he has traveled extensively, enlisting aid for his congressional campaign for university conscription. He carried his appeal to 20 Missouri counties under the auspices of the State Department of Education. After each appearance before a county teachers' association a resolution was passed urging legislation "to conscript money and materials as well as men" in time of war.

LABOR OPENS NEW DRIVE FOR IMPROVEMENTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 — Labor opens a concerted drive for higher wages and better living conditions for chain store employees throughout the east today in a move that may precipitate another momentous capital-labor struggle endangering President Roosevelt's recovery program.

The Grocery Chain Store Executives and Employees association will present its demands to the James Butler Grocery company which operates 666 stores in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut today. Officials of the association said this was "prelude to an intensive drive to unionize and improve conditions of employees in all chain stores — first in the east, then all over the United States."

OKLAHOMAN PROMISES TO BE CAL. AL'S NOISIEST FRESHMAN

In an unannounced address before the Missouri department of the American Legion the 42-year-old orator received a standing ovation of several minutes from weeping veterans and their wives.

"For 17 years," Lee told the Legionnaires, "this organization has been fighting for universal conscription. It hasn't gotten to first base. I'm going to Congress in January, and I'll be the noisiest freshman in Washington."

Three Steps

There are three steps:

1—Placing an embargo on arms.

2—Opposition to an intervention policy that would send soldiers into foreign countries to protect private investments.

3—Conscription of property as well as men in time of war.

He has seen the first two partially fulfilled. When war broke out in South America between Bolivia and Paraguay, he reminded, the United States placed an embargo on arms; encouraged by the example 18 other nations placed embargoes as far as that war was concerned.

When the recent Cuban situation arose, he recalled, the United States took the stand there should be no intervention since it was a domestic revolution.

Until his fate is decided by the jury of his peers, the activities of Bruno Hauptmann will be confined to the buildings shown here—the grim barred stone and steel Hunterdon County jail at Flemington, N. J., and the adjacent white courthouse, where he will be tried. The jail is a modern structure, making escape difficult, if not impossible, considering the precautions observed to prevent his receiving aid from the outside.

AUTOMOBILE MEN FORESEE BETTER YEAR

DETROIT, Nov. 1 — American automobile manufacturers prepared for a prosperous year today, increasing their production quotas and spending millions to handle the demand for more cars.

Ford stepped to the front with announcement of plans for at least a million for domestic use in 1935. Other companies planned to step up production, although they did not predict specifically how much.

Ford said it will spend $18,000,000 for a steel expansion program. Packard announced it intends to spend $6,000,000 for expansion. These and other firms are spending many millions for tools and production to meet the 1935 demand.

Automobile production this year for consumption in the United States and 107 foreign countries will total around 1,800,000.

"Our experience leads us to look ahead for a bright future and what we see in the future tells us that a year of improved business is ahead," Ford said.

Oak Celebrates 1,200 Birthday

ROUEN, France, Nov. 1 — The 1200th birthday of a huge oak tree in which there are two chapels large enough to hold 40 children, will be commemorated in July at the village of Allouville-Bellefosse, near here. The tree's exact age is not known.

Legend has it that the historic oak was visited by Charles II, King of England, and by Louis XV, King of France. In one of the chapels is a statue of the Virgin Mary presented by Empress Eugenie during the Second Empire.

The second chapel is located above the first and is made accessible by a wooden stairway that winds around the trunk of the tree. Nine men, with their arms extended are barely able to encircle it.

Perhaps the only tree in the world to boast a key, the oak is locked up at night by Emilie Belloncle, its custodian. This honor has been kept in his family for centuries.

Although it is impossible to determine its exact age, botanists who have examined it are agreed that it must be at least 1,200 years old.

Spaniards Planning Another Uprising

MADRID, Nov. 1 — Miners of the Asturias region are determined to revolt again and some of them have November 23 as the date for a new uprising, it was learned today.

CANADA'S VOTERS INCREASE

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 1 — Almost 1,000,000 more people will have the right to vote in Canada's next general election, expected to be held next fall, than in the last elections, election officials here report. In the last elections, 5,153,900 qualified voters were listed. In the next approximately 6,000,000 will be listed. The increase means that six out of every ten Canadians will have a vote.

OCTOBER DEPARTMENT STORE SALES SHOW 41 PER CENT GAIN

DALLAS, Nov. 1 — October department store sales in the principal cities in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district showed marked gains over the preceding month, the business review issued by the Federal Reserve Bank showed today.

The eleventh district comprises all of Texas and parts of New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Darkest spot in the report is the condition of agriculture, which has been relieved by adequate rains in only few "more favored sections," the report says.

Moderate to heavy rainfall during the month broke the drought in many sections, but absence of sub-soil moisture makes need for additional rains acute, in many parts of the district.

Cotton Estimate Low

The indicated cotton production for the district is 2,865,000 bales, a decline from the estimate issued earlier of 13,000 bales, and comparing with 5,114,000 bales produced a year ago.

Feed crop prospects in the district continue unchanged or show only slight improvement for the month. The indicated production of tame hay in Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico showed gains, but the prospects in Texas declined sharply.

Cattle ranges show some improvement but are still very spotted. The favored sections are along the coast and in South Texas where heavy rains have insured winter grazing.

The average condition of cattle ranges in Texas is rated at 54 per cent of normal by the Department of Agriculture as against a rating of 50 per cent normal last month.

Crude oil production in the district totaled 32,484,000 barrels in September against 33,108,000 in August and 34,501,000 barrels in September a year ago. The decline was more than accounted for by the shorter month as the daily average production gained 14,800 bbls.

There were 765 oil wells completed in September of which 526 were producers of oil with an initial flow of 1,900,000 bbls, showing only a slight decrease from the preceding month. The daily average increase was reflected in all fields but the North Texas, but most of it was in the East Texas field.

Building Below August

The valuation of building permits issued in principal cities in the district during September was 12.9 below August but it exceeded the low figure of September, 1933, of 61 per cent.

Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Port Arthur and Shreveport all showed increased building for September over August, while Wichita Falls and Beaumont showed losses of nearly 81 per cent from the preceding month. Both Wichita Falls and Beaumont showed substantial increases in building for the first nine months of the year compared with a similar period a year ago.

Textile milling in the district showed the effects of the general strike, and the consumption of cotton in the United States during September was only 295,960 bales compared with 420,040 bales last year.

September cotton receipts at Houston and Galveston showed large seasonal expansion compared with August but were considerably smaller than for last year.

Cotton exported from the United States during September amounted to 479,861 bales compared with 267,562 bales in August and 869,244 bales for September, 1933. During the current season exports of cotton to all countries which are important importers of American cotton showed large declines from a year ago.

Wholesale trade in the district was about the same for September as for August whereas normally September sales show a considerable decline.

The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks again reflected substantial expansion compared with the previous month. Loans and investments in member banks in selected cities showed noticeable gains between September 12 and October 10. The demand for reserve bank credit remained light and the loans to member banks at the middle of October amounted to only $57,000.

FRENCH FEAR NAZI PUTSCH IN THE SAAR

PARIS, Nov. 1 — News that French troops could enter the Saar basin within two hours in event of emergency brought the revelation today that there is fear of a Nazi putsch next January, even if the Saar plebiscite is in Germany's favor.

The danger, as viewed here, is that German Nazis, impatient to take over the rich little territory sliced from the German nation by the Versailles treaty may enter the Saar after the plebiscite under arms.

A Paris newspaper reported that the government was dispatching its garrisons at the military towns of Metz and Nancy so that they might enter the Saar quickly if necessary.

MASS BAPTISMS POPULAR

HAZENMOORE, Sask., Nov. 1 — Mass baptisms are coming into style here. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoehler were the first to think of the idea. They had two children of their own to be baptized and thought that their neighbors might have a few, too. So they sent out invitations to them to bring their offspring along. When the minister arrived, he found 30 children. He baptized them in a body.

"IRON HORSE" GOT REVENGE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 1 — The "iron horse" had its revenge here recently when the Union Pacific Railroad's new "Zip" train stalled 50 miles east of here and had to be hauled in for repairs. It was one of the puffing old type locomotives that steamed proudly into the yards here with the disabled streamlined flash in tow.

WEEPS AS HE EXONERATES ASSOCIATES

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 — Samuel Insull, tears rolling down his face, testified in federal court here today that the 16 men on trial with him were "not in any way responsible for the collapse of the $2,000,000,000 utilities empire which he built."

The government is charging Insull and his 16 former associates with mail fraud aggregating $143,000,000. Insull's exoneration of the 16 men, including Samuel Insull, Jr., created a flutter of excitement in the packed courtroom as he pointed a finger at the array of his onetime associates.

"If I feel some embarrassment at being here, I feel it infinitely more for these younger men, who have no responsibility whatever, in this matter."

"If the prosecution will excuse me these defendants have no more to do with this case than you have. These men were not in any way responsible for what happened."

Yesterday 15 of the men on trial with Insull attempted to gain the freedom by a directed verdict of "not guilty."

Insull wept as he told how he was brought from England an immigrant boy by the late Thomas A. Edison. His story of his friendship with Edison was in preface to his claim he never swindled thousands of investors in his Corporation Securities company.

River, Centennial Bills Lose Ground

TO RE-ISSUE CERTIFICATES IF ACT LASTS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 — Bills for furthering the Colorado river project and for financing the Texas Centennial lost ground in the legislature today.

In the senate a motion to refuse to concur in the house amendment to the Colorado bill and ask for a conference committee was denied and immediate vote postponed until Friday morning as a special item.

In the house a test revealed 67 members were interested in plans to finance the Centennial by means other than by state appropriation. Because only 75 votes are needed out of 150 to defeat it, the Centennial appropriations bill appeared likely to fail.

The decision to re-issue surplus 1934 cotton tax-exemption certificates in a style different from that used this year was reached after reports of illegal trading in the certificates had been received from the Cotton Belt and in order to avoid confusion.

When the re-issue is made, the new style certificates will be sent to the owners of the original certificates or to those persons who have come into legal possession of the certificates by purchase from the national cotton tax-exemption certificates pool or who have secured certificates through legal transfer within their own county.

This decision does not in any way affect the right of a producer to use his surplus certificates in the event that the Bankhead act is effective next year as he will be re-issued new certificates to the exact amount of his unsold surplus. It is merely a precautionary measure designed to make certain that it need arises the rightful owners of surplus 1934 certificates will have the use of this excess in 1935.

Plans Are Laid For Paris Coney Island

PARIS, Nov. 1 — Paris is going to have a Coney Island. It is all decided for the 1937 Arts and Trades Exposition.

Some call it a "super-lido," but the rose, by whatever name, will cost approximately $5,000,000 francs, and if they let the architect, M. Antoine Duffieux, have his way, Paris will be provided with all the facilities which its inhabitants pay dearly for and travel far to obtain—bathing, boating and gambling.

The French Coney Island will be set up at Choisy-le-roi, a short distance to the south of the capital. It will comprise a magnificent bathing beach, 300 feet wide and nearly a mile long; a sports training ground, and a stadium to seat 40,000 spectators. There will be a casino, in and outdoor restaurants, dance hall and air field.

An even temperature of over 68 degrees will be insured by means of a special heating apparatus during eight months of the year in an open-air swimming pool. At one end of the beach will be a small lake for boating, and in addition, it is planned to make a miniature sports ground with a swimming pond for children.

Kingsford-Smith Ready for Flight

HONOLULU, Nov. 1 — Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's dark blue monoplane was poised here for a takeoff at noon today (4:30 p. m. EST) for Oakland, Cal. and completion of the first west-to-east flight from Australia to the United States.

Clearing weather permitted the flyer to move up one day the time for attempting the last leg of the 7,200 mile flight.

FRIED DYNAMITE CAPS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 1 — Fried dynamite caps will be banned from the menu next time Lorraine Meyer, nine, and her sister, six play at housekeeping. The little girls were cooking a meal.

They found a box of dynamite caps and placed them on the stove to "fry."

The resulting explosion stunned them, and they were treated for severe shock.

CHEYENNE TRADE BOOMING

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 1 — An increase of approximately 30 per cent in the amount of money poured into trade channels in Cheyenne during September, 1934, over the same month in 1933 is indicated by the figures released recently by the Cheyenne Clearing House association. Checks totaling $5,321,402 were written on the two Cheyenne banks in September this year against $3,871,844 in 1933.

MEXICO READY TO PROSECUTE IN REBELLION

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1 — Attorney-general Emilio Portes Gil intends to present evidence charging sedition against his Roman Catholic priest and initiate proceedings against them, using reliable sources, said today.

Archbishop Pascual Diaz of Mexico and Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz, papal delegates now exiled at San Antonio, were understood to be among those against whom Portes Gil intended to take action.

President Rodriguez, in a letter to Portes Gil, charging that Catholic clergymen were inciting rebellion, ordered prosecution against any churchman so charged.

For years, Paris has not had adequate bathing facilities—that is, swimming facilities—and the new Coney Island is destined to prove a mecca for marine-minded mammals. Automobiles, trains and special buses will convey visitors to and from the Big Playground.

SEED CORN OPTION PURCHASE PRICE SET AT $1.25 PER BUSHEL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — Contracts for the optional purchase of between 500,000 and 1,000,000 bushels of seed quality corn, to be selected from corn sealed on farms under commodity credit corporation loans, will call for payment for such corn at the rate of $1.25 per bushel, on exercise of options, it was announced today by the agricultural adjustment administration.

It is expected that the contracts will be in the field within the next few weeks. The plan for optioning sealed corn, as a measure to prevent unsealing and feeding valuable seed stocks, originally placed the option price at $1 per bushel.

Under the seed corn conservation plan, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will select cribs of seed-quality corn in such states as South Dakota, Kansas, Minnesota, and Missouri where the seed corn situation is most serious, and where reports indicate that the supply of 1933 sealed corn suitable for seed may be threatened by the demand for feed.

Producers holding corn that meets the specifications for seed quality and is held under storage conditions that will preserve its qualities, will be offered on option contract which provides that in return for an advance of 20 cents per bushel, such seed will be held for sale to the agricultural adjustment administration at $1.25 per bushel, on or before May 1, 1935. The option may be exercised by the administration to acquire the corn, or in case of local demand for seed, producers may obtain written authority to sell the corn to private individuals, for seed use only.

Producers negotiating optional sale of their sealed corn will have received a total of 75 cents per bushel, including the 55-cent loan from the commodity credit corporation, and the 20 cents advance from the agricultural adjustment administration. The commodity credit corporation will act as the fiscal agent of the administration in the seed corn conservation plan, disbursing the option advances to farmers from an allocation of $500,000 made to it by the agricultural adjustment administration for this purpose.

MALARIA

Speedy Relief of Chills and Fever

Don't let Malaria tear you apart with its racking chills and burning fever. Trust to no home-made or mere makeshift remedies. Take the medicine prepared especially for Malaria—Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic gives real relief from Malaria because it's a scientific combination of tasteless quinine and tonic iron. The quinine kills the Malarial infection in the blood. The iron builds up the system and helps fortify against further attack. At the first sign of any attack of Malaria take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Better still take it regularly during the Malaria season to ward off the disease. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is absolutely harmless and tastes good.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic now comes in two sizes, 50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25 per cent more for your money. Get a bottle today at any drug store.—Adv.

BIG DAM CHATTER

Black and Gold. Maroon and Black.

The Cisco Lobos have always been the Big Dam Lobos as far as Eastland was concerned when the two teams clashed in a battle of color on the gridiron.

The Eastland Mavericks have never been able to turn back the great Black and Gold tide that sweeps them relentlessly before it and finally rolls over them in a Cisco victory.

The traditional supremacy, or jinx, which the Lobos have held over their Eastland foes had its roots twining about in the very beginnings of Oil Belt football. So strong has it been that when Eastland has appeared to have a superior team, the Lobos have managed to pull out with a victory that left the Eastland fans pondering just what this tradition stuff is in high school football.

Back in 1925 the Mavericks were due to "go straight through to the late title, although the Cisco Lobos appear to offer considerable opposition," as one of the larger sports phrased it. That year the jinx had their greatest team, with powerhouse attack led by the one-man steamroller, Ed T. Cox. The Lobos were thought to be of average strength.

When the game started Eastland was in a jinx, and turned out in great numbers for the good me which they believed was in store for them. The Lobos opened up with a passing attack aided and abetted by off-tackle smashes, threw a few dropkicks for good measure, and came off with a 30 to 0 victory. That was the game that, until now, settled the fact that Eastland was not a football town.

This year Coach Petty has another outstanding Eastland team. This year the Mavericks will be out to break through that jinx and upset all the traditional supremacy Cisco has over them.

And they are in the best position to do it that they have been in for many a season. The Lobos, for their part, will be out to uphold that supremacy. They will go into the game fighting, not only for the game itself, but for the tradition which Lobos in the past established. They will not be satisfied with just a good game. They will play a great game, a game to keep that string of victories unbroken.

THE NEW FANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

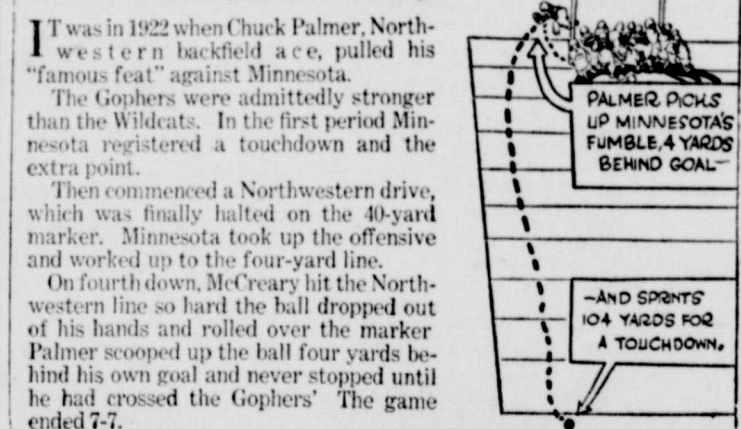

By COWAN.

Freckles and His Friends.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FEATS!

stadium, Welch field, and they want to dedicate it in a manner befitting a new era in Eastland football.

The Cisco fans, who want to see a real battle will be there too, filling the seats on one side of the gridiron. This is a jinx-breaking game, so far as the Mavericks are concerned, and a chance to uphold the honor of the Black and Gold for the Lobos.

The Maverick Shooter, Eastland sports scribe, has taken the Chatter to task for mentioning the new field in the terms used earlier in the week. He says that if Lobo fans fall off the stands, it won't be because the stands are rickety, that there are very few stones to bump the Lobos' noses, that dust clouds won't choke the fans and that it isn't going to rain. Then he made a copy of his column to Big Dam Chatter.

That just goes to show what a little effort to better the game does. Instead of being grateful, he resents the jinx taken at his field, says that there will be parking space for all 5,000 cars the Cisco fans come in, says there will be a knot-hole, and then invites both the Chatter and the Cisco populace to the game. That's appreciation for you.

BRULE, Neb., Nov. 1—What is believed to be a Nebraska record was established in a stubble field belonging to Gus Schulz when more than 500 rattlesnakes were killed in a week. The snakes were discovered when Schulz investigated after the death of one of his cattle. A portion of the field formerly was an old prairie dog town.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Courts of Honor

W. R. Usery presided at the court of honor held last Monday night in Carbon. He was assisted on the court by W. E. Trimble, and Edwin Allison. A good number of scouts appeared for advancement, and an attractive and interesting tenderfoot and investiture ceremony preceded the court of honor program. Following the presentation of awards, the program consisted of patrol stunts, and games directed by Professor Estes. Indian dances were put on by some scouts from Brownwood. The troop had an excellent display of handicraft work. The troop is led by Scoutmaster F. M. Wood and Assistant Scoutmaster J. V. Thompson. Several citizens present gave testimony of the appreciation of scout and the efforts put forth by the leaders.

Cdr. Minatra, chairman of Breckenridge court of honor, presided at court held at First Methodist church, where a large number of scouts made application for awards. The highest award made, that of eagle went to Alvin Highers of Troop 18. It is announced that the next court of honor is to be a public one with a special program.

Scouts of the various troops in Breckenridge took part in activities during the Breckenridge homecoming.

CCC HUNTERS WARNED

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 1—With the big game hunting season approaching, general warnings have been issued by rangers in the Black Hills that because of numerous CCC camps, hunters must be exceptionally careful this year. As no fires occurred during the early upland hunting seasons, Supervisor Theodore Krueger of the Black Hills National Forest decided not to close the area for the big game season.

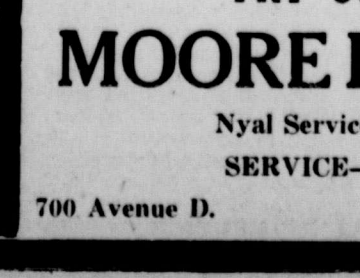

DEATH CANCELLED GAMES

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 1—Death of Bert Hedstrom, football player, caused cancellation of Deadwood high school's remaining games this season. H. S. Berger, superintendent of schools, announced Hedstrom was fatally injured in Deadwood's game with Edgemont, October 5. He would have graduated.

Troop Paper

Scoutmaster Henshaw, troop 29, sent a copy of a paper edited by scouts of his troop to this office the other day, which shows what a group of boys can really do when they set out with a real scout spirit to accomplish some objective.

Hikes

At 5:30 Friday evening nine scouts of troop 8 with their assistant scoutmaster, Robert Silverman, and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Roy Owens, hiked to a camp-site on the layout. The boys gathered wood enough to build a large camp fire, over which their supper was cooked. There was a story hour around the camp fire after the evening meal. At midnight the boys were awakened by Mr. Silverman who had prepared a surprise midnight lunch for them. The next morning after the scouts had cooked and eaten their breakfast, some games and drills were engaged in before camp was broken and the hike to town begun.

Scoutmaster Dan Gill of troop 2 and eleven of his scouts left their troop headquarters at 6:30 Saturday morning on a hike to the city park. Four scouts passed hiking tests during the hike. The non meal was "cooked" style. Before starting back to town the regular weekly meeting of the troop was held.

Appointments

During the regular Thursday night meeting of troop 8, Brownwood, Scout Roy Owens was appointed junior assistant scoutmaster. Also the troop was divided up into patrols. Scout Homer Allen is leader of the Hawk patrol, and Scout Charles Lockwood will lead the flying eagle patrol.

DON'T FIGHT Your Steering Wheel

YOU can't win the decision over a steering wheel that shakes and pulls out of your hands. You don't have an even chance with a car that steers hard. It wears you out soon after the first round and leaves plenty of openings for accidents and fatigue to get in a knockout blow.

If your car shimmies, wanders, steers hard or wears tires excessively then there's something wrong with your alignment. Don't sacrifice your safety and comfort with such conditions. Drive into our station tomorrow. We have complete Bear System Alignment Equipment which fixes every misaligned condition of steering, axles and frame. Let us give you a free check-up. No obligation on your part. Have your wheels Bear-aligned.

Russian Thistle As Fodder

Well, well, the curious things that do happen! The Russian thistle, regarded as a nuisance, develops into a commodity as hay and silage, with nutritive value equal to that of alfalfa, and keeps the starving Kansas herds alive during the extreme drought that has afflicted that hard-bitten state.

For many years Kansas has been fighting Russian thistle and fighting hard. But this year when rain ceased and the land became parched every form of vegetation disappeared save Russian thistle. It thrived and apparently the more arid the land the better the thistle thrived. No alfalfa could be grown, so why worry about the weeds—they grew—when nothing else could be found Russian thistle was cut for hay and also made into silage. Cattle ate it. Experiments we made with herds of cattle fed on alfalfa and herds fed on Russian thistle—the gains were about the same—then why not go back to Russian thistle instead of alfalfa? Farmers say that Russian thistle will produce but one cutting and must be cut at a certain stage, whereas alfalfa will make several cuttings under normal seasons and may be cut at a stage of longer term—that is alfalfa will wait several days after it is ready to cut and still be in prime condition.

So if next year is a normal year as to rainfall, Russian thistle will again become a nuisance and they will raise alfalfa in Kansas, but they have learned that Russian thistle may be depended upon in time of drought.

Thus we see that famine, pestilence, poverty—in fact all the ills of humankind, have their place in our lives and in the great scheme of the universe—Happiness could not exist were there no sorrow—no sweet without bitter—no education and development without lessons.

Who can say that the depression was not a blessing to the people of the whole world—for our good—for our development?

The Old-Age Pension System

The old-age pension system to be recommended by President Roosevelt on economic security in December will not be one of the cure-all types on which literature is now flooding the country.

New schemes are coming to light almost daily, most of them having the common feature that they are seeking contributions of sales of their literature. The response they are getting in some sections from destitute persons who have passed middle age is described by officials as "pitiful."

While it investigates each of these new plans to see if it contains anything of value, the security committee is working more to find some way of bolstering up the present old-age pension systems in use in 28 states. With many counties facing bankruptcy, their pension provisions have become ineffective. Some way by which the employer, employee and government could each pay their share to build up these funds is being sought. The committee is also giving attention to the feasibility of reducing the age limit from 70 to 60 for those eligible for pensions.

A plan which has struck the popular imagination in many sections of the country is the so-called Townsend plan, originated by Dr. Francis Everett Townsend, who lives in Southern California. Dr. Townsend advocates payment by the Federal Government of a retirement pension of $200 a month to every one over 60 years who gives up his job and is not a criminal. Each recipient must sign a pledge to spend the entire $200 within the United States 30 days after receiving it. Dr. Townsend is said to be on his way to Washington to explain his plan to the President, but even before he arrives the economists are throwing cold water on it. Dr. Edwin Witte, executive director of the President's committee, has found that the plan would involve an expenditure of $24,000,000,000 a year requiring a 12 to 15 per cent tax on all money transactions, including the payment of salaries.

Nevertheless the Townsend plan advocates are reported to be drawing crowds at meetings in various sections of the country. The committee on economic security is being deluged with letters recommending the scheme as a panacea for the depression. More than 1,000,000 persons are reported to have signed petitions in California in its favor and missionary work in its behalf is said to be just starting in the country at large.

A warning to elderly people not to be taken in by any of the numerous old age pensions associations has been issued by Representative David J. Lewis (D) of Maryland, a leading advocate of old age pensions in Congress.

HAPPY OVER WHEAT OUTLOOK

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—Canada is expecting France, Italy and Germany to come to Canada for most of their wheat imports this year. Good sales have already been made to both France and Italy—some of which will be shipped this month. In the past few years, Germany has been one of Canada's best customers for amber durum, and it is hoped that the German orders will be bigger than ever this year because of the reported crop shortage in Germany.

NEW ARRIVALS AT ZOO

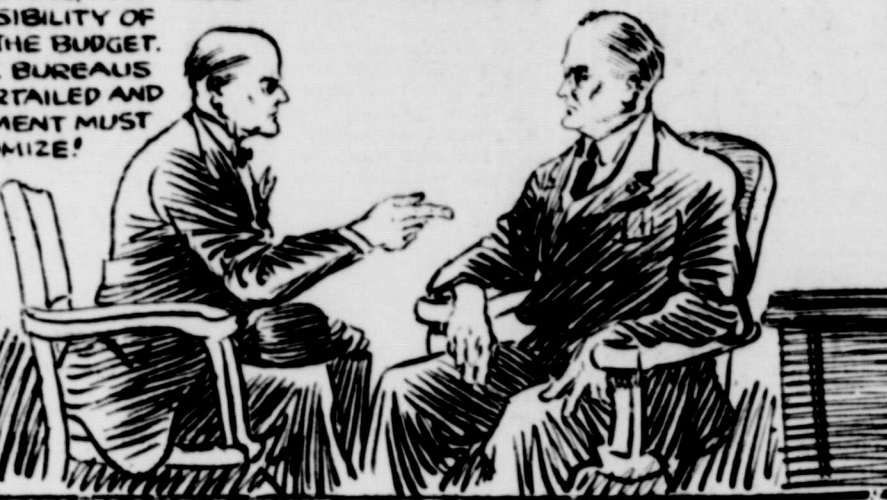

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 1.—New arrivals at the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo include a spotted laughing hyena and a harbor sheep both from Africa. The harbor sheep, unlike the domestic animal, has no wool. It has hair like that of a deer.

SO WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

IT IS ALL VERY WELL TO SPEAK ABOUT SELF RELIANCE, MR. HOOVER—BUT MORE FUNDAMENTAL THAN ANY POLITICAL DOCTRINES ARE THE BARE NECESSITIES OF LIFE. MILLIONS OF PEOPLE ARE WITHOUT ANY MEANS OF SUPPORT. THEY MUST BE FED AND CLOTHED AND SHELTERED. THE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS AND RELIEF AGENCIES EITHER WILL NOT OR CAN NOT COPE WITH THIS EMERGENCY. THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT MUST SPEND MORE MONEY!

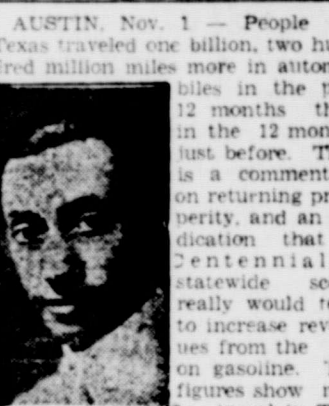

TRUE—THESE ARE EMERGENCY EXPENDITURES, MR. ROOSEVELT—BUT WHAT OF THE FUTURE? THE PEOPLE ARE COMING TO DEPEND MORE AND MORE ON GOVERNMENT SUPPORT. BUREAUCRACY IS SPREADING, TAXES ARE RISING, AND THERE IS NOW SCARCELY EVEN A POSSIBILITY OF BALANCING THE BUDGET. THE FEDERAL BUREAUS MUST BE CURTAILED AND THE GOVERNMENT MUST ECONOMIZE!

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS

BROOKS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—People in Texas traveled one billion, two hundred million miles more in automobiles in the past 12 months than in the 12 months just before. That is a commentary on returning prosperity, and an indication that a centennial of statewide scenic trails would really tend to increase revenues from the tax on gasoline. The figures show motor travel in Texas increased 9,300,000 passenger miles per day in the state's fiscal year up to August 31, over the fiscal year of 1932-33. The state gasoline tax jumped $4,000,000 as a result of the increase.

Busy with every-day affairs, Texans are content to let their children in the schools read of Plymouth Rock and the Plains of Abraham and to start reading of Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto.

The Centennial drive, even to preliminary stages of legislation, have opened the pages of two centuries' glorious history, virtually unknown to native Texans, virtually ignored by the historians of the state.

Through men like F. W. Studer of Amarillo and J. E. Pearce of the University of Texas, people are coming to learn more of prehistoric Texas, to trace back the story of life in this domain incomprehensible to antiquity.

These men have reconstructed the actual bones of animals—giant horses, camels, elephants, dinosaurs, mastodons, some of them to which 60,000,000 years would be the lowest estimate of their age here.

The two men emphasize there is more to history than a record of victorious armies or reigning dynasties.

If no further step should be taken about a Centennial, the minds of Texas people, and the future education of Texas civilization and a study of Texas resources of prohibitive materials.

Those who will sponsor the idea of a Texas bonus for the world war service of Texans will point out that three out of every four states of the nation have paid a state bonus.

They should not overlook that Texas also has done something for its returned veterans—it let them vote without a poll tax one year.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER

United Press Staff Correspondent. AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Rural rehabilitation face some queer situations, judge from reports they make to state relief headquarters.

"Helped bathe baby suffering with prickly heat," one practical supervisor reported. On the baby, bathing trip she also instructed one woman how to mend a wood heater with wire, stopping the cracks with clay that will harden. I told three how to wash feather pillows; how to wrap pears and how to keep milk sanitary. In the broader aspect, reports show that more than 200 leased houses are being repaired in Upshur county. In Harrison county, 115 leases have been signed. In Shelby, Jasper, Tyler and Orange counties, fewer clients have been placed in renovated houses.

"It's a crime and disgrace the way communities are trying to loot the treasury for things unconnected with the Texas centennial," Rep. Harold Kayton of San Antonio told the house of Representatives. "My own community is as bad as the rest." Kayton said. "It is asking for a park and a lagoon."

Last Tuesday was "Congressional Day" in Austin. Gathered were Congressmen Blanton, Buchanan and Mansfield, lobbying with state legislators on river bills. Former Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen was here for an address.

Bids on the next $1,000,000 issue of state relief bonds were to have been opened Nov. 3 under the original plan of the state bond commission. Prospective bidders, including Bob Garrett of Dallas, wired the commission reminding them that Nov. 3 is the day for the S. M. U. Texas football game.

"Let's make the bids on Nov. 2 and clear up the business so it will not prevent going to the game," the Dallas bond dealers urged Charley Lockhart, state treasurer. Accordingly the bonds were advertised for bidding Nov. 2, Friday.

The Brazos river project just voted upon by the legislature, is being cited to show futility of the proposed constitutional amendment to limit the amount of state expenditures. Advocates of the bill claim that it makes no appropriation. If it did under the present constitution, it could not be effective for more than two years. Instead taxes that will become due in ten counties for the next 20 years are diverted toward the river project. Similarly taxes could be diverted under the proposed constitutional amendment and not be a state appropriation.

That James V. Allred as governor will assemble a state brain trust to assist his administration has become apparent. He is consulting Dr. Robert H. Montgomery, professor of political economy in the University of Texas, on a program for regulation of public utilities. Allred, too, sides with Prof. George C. Hester, instructor in government at Southwestern university, in opposition to a sales tax.

Labels going upon relief canned goods cost too much, according to W. Crier, Austin accountant. He says millions of them have been bought at $1.38 a thousand when they could have been procured for $7 cents a thousand. He has sent Governor Ferguson and Senators copies of a letter offering to ferret out overcharges in relief purchases for a fee of ten per cent on what is recovered.

Texas senators will make a personal trip Sunday to San Antonio and Gonzales studying historical features in preparation for the Texas Centennial pageant. The trip will be by motor, following as nearly as possible the route used between those places when the Texas revolution was being fought.

RELIEF COMM'N TO REORGANIZE DEPARTMENTS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Readjustment of salaries and reorganization of the various departments of the Texas Relief commission into a more closely knit organization has been announced by Director Adam R. Johnson.

A new organization chart, drawn by the T. B. Trotter company of Houston, employed by Mr. Johnson to conduct a coordinating survey of the commission, has been adopted by the state board of control.

The chart lists ten departments, and under these, various other divisions and sections. Departments listed are the executive, investigation, field administration, engineering, social service, purchasing, rural rehabilitation, accounting, surplus commodities and transient.

"The basis of salary adjustments was position and classification," Johnson said. "Under the old system, inequitable salaries were the rule rather than the exception. Our survey showed that in some instances half a dozen persons in the same office doing the same work all were drawing different salaries. In our adjustments, we have attempted to correct that abuse. In some instances, salaries have been lowered; in others, they have been raised."

The administrative payroll for the past week numbered 732 persons, approximately half of whom are in the field as representatives of the engineering, rural rehabilitation, field administration and other departments.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—The political shenanigans which always feature a fight for the speakership began when congressmen gathered last August in Illinois for the funeral of the late Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

No other large gathering of congressmen was due before the January session, so many members made the most of it.

The present pre-election lull in the contest exists only on the surface. Canvassing and bartering continue right through the campaign. After election the fighting will get hotter and dirtier.

About 15 federal jobs are in the ring or soon to land there. Most of them are tossed by members who seek to control the votes of their state delegations and use them to trade for future favors—or who think a speakership candidacy impresses the voters and hence is elegant publicity.

Majority Leader Joe Byrns of Tennessee is distinctly in the lead for Rainey's job. Incidentally, old Joe is chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee and in a position to shove money and helpful speakers around for other congressmen.

That isn't exactly a handicap and, if you believe some of the other candidates for speaker, Joe has shown himself completely aware of the fact.

Rayburn of Texas and Bill Bankhead of Alabama, able fellows both, are runners-up of perhaps about equal strength. Used as propaganda against Bankhead is the fact that if he were promoted from chairmanship of the Rules Committee, that important post would go to John O'Connor of New York, a Tammany man whose two feet are often observed in the air at the same time.

The White House undoubtedly would prefer Rayburn. But it can't very well afford to stick its neck out into the fight, thereby risking damaging enemies and even the possibility of a seriously embarrassing defeat.

IT'S EASY to understand why Secretary of Labor Perkins is a bit bored by the demands that he get busy and deport a lot of alien Communists in the interest of law and order.

State and city officials, when strike violence has occurred, have been howling bloody murder at the "Reds." Often they are joined by a host of officials who seek to save their jobs from militant leaders or wish to escape blame for violence they themselves have instigated.

Then the police go out to mop up the "Reds" and beat up and arrest a lot of American citizens.

Confidential reports here show that:

After the textile strike bloodshed in Rhode Island, police arrested 55 persons in a "Communist roundup."

Of these 48 proved their citizenship, four claimed naturalization, and three were believed to be aliens. Rhode Island authorities have produced no evidence to show any of the three to be deportable.

San Francisco police, after the general strike, arrested 373 in "Red raids," of whom 272 were citizens and 101 aliens. Of the 101, only 14 were subject to deportation on any conceivable grounds and only one was shown to have advocated violence or belonged to an organization favoring it.

When local citizens get aroused to activity and take an active part in the making of better business and a better city, they will make their city forge ahead by leaps and bounds. They will make their city a progressive city by linking accomplishments with the sooting.

Fellowship in business does much to make better business and better business builds a city.

Everything should be done to keep a good feeling between business men in all lines of business.

Optimism should radiate from business.

A better country means better cities.

Cooperation between the city and the country helps both.

In unity there is strength. Boosting cooperation will do wonders.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRICK

WHEN CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for the Blade, found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher of the SHAWNEE CRIMINAL, a criminalist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the case of "THE CRIMINAL," a criminalist, to solve the murder.

"That's the only one that counts," he said. "It's a check payable to Kenneth Boone, for the entire balance on hand. It cleans out the account."

Griff nodded slowly. "The check," he said, "is dated on the day Charles Morden was murdered."

Bleeker spoke impatiently. "That's the only one that counts," he said. "It's a check payable to Kenneth Boone, for the entire balance on hand. It cleans out the account."

Griff took the letter. "Here," he said, "is a letter from the bank, stating that in pursuance of telephoned instructions they are sending her her canceled checks and statement showing that the account had been cleaned out."

Griff took the letter. "And," Bleeker pointed out, "the date of the telephone conversation is the day following Morden's murder."

Griff studied the letter, with his forehead in furrows of scowling concentration.

"It," Bleeker said, "we only had some way of locating this Kenneth Boone we could..."

"If," Griff interrupted impatiently, "you had followed my instructions by placing your men on duty at the Elite Apartment you would have known all about Kenneth Boone by this time."

Bleeker took a letter from his pocket. "There's a letter," he said, "sent to Esther Ordway. Apparently it's something in the nature of a love letter. It's signed Robert Chelton. It's sent from Summerville. It was sent out Sunday—that's yesterday—and arrived on the early mail this morning. It's rather ardent in its terms of affection."

The criminalist turned the letter over slowly in his fingers. "You have, of course, taken steps to find out about the writer of this letter?" he asked.

"I've taken the steps, yes," Bleeker said. "It's too early, as yet, to get a report."

"When you get a report," Griff said slowly, "you will find that Robert Chelton, registered at the hotel in Summerville; that the address which he gave was either so general it is of no assistance or that it was fictitious; that he remained long enough to write and mail this letter and that he then checked out of the hotel and so one knows where he went."

"You're already checked him?" asked Bleeker.

"No," Griff said. "I know who he was and why the letter was written and, without reading the letter, I am willing to wager there is some reference in it to her roommate, Alice Lorton."

"There is," Bleeker said. "Griff added slowly, "But aren't you going to read the letter?" asked Bleeker.

Griff shook his head and tossed the letter to the desk.

"Ah," he said, "a young woman who is out of her mind yet she makes rather large deposits. A deposit of $500. Then one of $750. And here's one of $2000!"

He picked up the checks one by one, suddenly stared at one of them.

Bleeker spoke impatiently. "That's the only one that counts," he said. "It's a check payable to Kenneth Boone, for the entire balance on hand. It cleans out the account."

Griff nodded slowly. "The check," he said, "is dated on the day Charles Morden was murdered."

Griff studied the letter, with his forehead in furrows of scowling concentration.

"It," Bleeker said, "we only had some way of locating this Kenneth Boone we could..."

"There is no need," he said. "It was a red herring drawn across our trail, but it arrived too late. However, one thing is certain. An attempt will be made on the part of Alice Lorton to get the mail from the apartment some time this morning. She will either return to the apartment or send some young man there with a key to the mail box. She will be anxious to get this letter with the checks."

"You mean Esther Ordway?" asked Bleeker.

"No," said the criminalist. "I mean Alice Lorton. Although Esther Ordway is probably her real name."

"They're one and the same?" asked Bleeker.

"They're one and the same," Sidney Griff told him. "Beyond any doubt."

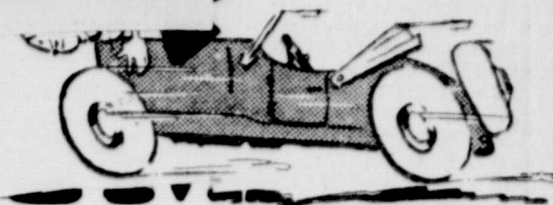

"But why should Alice Lorton report the disappearance of Esther Ordway?"

LOTIEF ASKS FOR OPINION OF PEOPLE ON TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Rep. Cecil Lotief today asked people of the 107th district for their views on the Texas Centennial to be held in 1936.

Rep. Lotief, in his statement, from Austin said that, while he favors the Centennial celebration, he does not favor the proposed $5,000,000 appropriation and the taxation which it would, if voted, entail. He is therefore passing the decision back to the people. Following is his letter:

"To the People of Eastland County: A great deal of interest is being taken by the people of Texas in regard to the Texas Centennial to be held in Dallas during the year 1936, and I am writing this letter in order to get the views of the citizenship of my district as to whether they favor this Centennial. The Centennial committee is asking for the sum of $5,000,000 and, while I am heartily in favor of celebrating the centennial, I do not feel justified in voting for such a large sum of money. However, if the people of my district will instruct me to vote for it, I shall be glad to carry out your wishes, as I have endeavored to do in the past. I feel that I am your servant, and not your master.

"I realize that a good many people will be attracted to Texas for this exposition in 1936, and I believe the state will derive a great many benefits from it. As I see the problem, though, Dallas will receive most of the benefits, since the Centennial is to be held in that city. I do not believe that the taxpayers in general would receive benefits in proportion to the taxes they would be forced to pay in putting on this big state fair in Dallas. Furthermore, the deficit of the general revenue fund is now about $7,000,000, and a total deficit of all the state funds is about $14,000,000. In addition, the state must pay off the $20,000,000 in relief bonds within the next few years.

"The subject of the Centennial, no doubt, will be one of the most important submitted to the legislature during this special session. I am not opposed to the Centennial, but I do not want to burden the taxpayers for something from which they will never receive benefits in return. It seems to me that the legislature should be more interested in relief for the hungry than in helping Dallas to promote a Centennial.

"CECIL LOTIEF."

AUSTRALIANS REACH HAWAII IN OCEAN HOP

HONOLULU, Nov. 1 — Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and Capt. P. G. Taylor landed their "Lady Southern Cross" at Wheeler field here Monday to complete the second phase of their trans-oceanic flight from Australia.

When they landed here the two flyers had negotiated a 3,100 mile jump from the Fiji Islands, started at 10:10 PST Sunday. The Lady Southern Cross landed at 10:55 a. m., PST.

HONOLULU, Nov. 1 — It was estimated today that radio messages from Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith that the Lady Southern Cross would land here early Monday afternoon.

After pulling the airplane out of a dangerous spin, Sir Charles found a new worry—a gas shortage—as the plane neared the end of a 3,100 mile flight from the Fiji Islands to Honolulu on its way to California.

"Gas running a bit low, but I think it will be okay," Sir Charles radioed at 3:15 a. m., Honolulu time (3:45 a. m., PST).

Sir Charles saved the ship from disaster earlier when it stalled and went into a spin during a heavy rainstorm.

A dramatic story of the flyers' battle against a forced landing on the waters of the Pacific came in radio messages from the plane.

Well past the halfway mark, the ship poked her nose into a severe rainstorm. Sir Charles tried to raise above it but couldn't clear it at an altitude of 15,000 feet.

While the storm raged and tossed, an airspeed indicator suddenly stopped functioning. The pilot reached down into the cockpit to fix it and at that moment the plane shot into a spin.

Not until after he had arrested the spin, after losing altitude, did Sir Charles discover the cause of that sudden drop toward the black waters of the ocean. He found that in fumbling the cockpit, he had thrown the switch attached to the wing flaps.

Bollworm Quarantine In Texas Amended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — Acting Secretary of Agriculture W. R. Gregg announced today an amendment to the pink bollworm quarantine regulations, effective October 31, 1934. The amendment increases the area under regulation by adding Dixie, Hamilton, Lafayette, Levy, and Taylor counties in Florida, as well as Andrews, Ector, and part of Midland county, Texas.

The Florida counties are brought under regulation at this time because of the recent finding of a light infestation of pink bollworm in Hamilton and Levy counties. Lafayette, Taylor, and Dixie counties have three brothers, W. O. Davis of Fort Worth, Allen Davis of Spokane, Wash., and David Davis, address unknown.

The counties in Texas are added as a result of the discovery of a few bollworms in part of Midland county, as well as in Ector and Andrews counties.

In addition to the counties added to the regulated areas at this time, Roundup want ads are a good idea.

this insect is known to occur in southern New Mexico, western Texas, and southeastern Arizona. Nine additional counties of north-central Florida and parts of three counties of southern Georgia are also under regulation.

The pink bollworm is a serious pest of cotton in other parts of the world, but with the exception of these very light infestations—where an eradication program is in progress—it is not known to occur in the main Cotton Belt of the United States east of the extreme western part of Texas.

TOOK PILLS FOR 30 YEARS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF

Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:

"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe, Box 219, Youngstown, N. Y.

Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. In serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

COUNTY MEET WILL BE HELD AT EASTLAND

EASTLAND, Nov. 1 — Eastland was selected as the city for the holding of the 1935 interscholastic league county meet by teachers of the county in meeting Saturday at Eastland.

B. E. McGlamery, county school superintendent, who presided over the meeting, reports that over 200 teachers attended the gathering, addresses by educators and instructors of the county and district were features of the program.

Those on the program included: address, "Ideal Teacher," Dr. James Cox, president Abilene Christian college, discussion of organization and work of P.-T. A. association, Mrs. W. B. Gunn of Pioneer, president of the Eastland County P.-T. A. association, Adult Training in Cisco, James Eddy of Cisco, director of vocational training in Cisco schools.

Curriculum revision committee members for communities were appointed by P. B. Bittle, superintendent of Eastland schools. Bittle is county chairman for the body. Committees will meet in December.

Directors of the contest events of the interscholastic league were named with W. P. Palm principal of Eastland high, as director general.

Those appointed: Declamation director, Albert Pierce, Carbon superintendent; debate, R. N. Chick, Cisco school superintendent; extemporaneous speech, Lewis Smith, Morton valley principal; spelling, R. B. Hodges, Alameda principal; essay, Carl Johnston, Seranton principal; athletics, S. J. Petty, Eastland high athletic coach; picture memory, Mrs. W. D. R. Owen, Pioneer.

PEACE AGAIN IS SEEN FOR ETEX FIELDS

DALLAS, Nov. 1—Control of the unruly East Texas oil field Tuesday appeared to be an accomplished fact. With control came apparent stabilization of gasoline prices at levels more than 100 per cent higher than prevailed a week ago.

Reinstatement of the distress purchase plan by the planning and coordination committee at Washington expected momentarily, apparently was the only remaining maneuver required to cement the new harmony among producers, refiners and marketers.

BANKERS STUDY INVESTMENTS FOR MILLIONS

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Nov. 1 — Means to promote the movement millions of dollars into investment channels were studied today by the Investment Bankers' association.

Encouraged by discussion of Federal securities regulations by Presdent Richard Whitney of the New York Stock Exchange the delegation adopted a friendly attitude toward the administration's regulation program.

Need for amendment to present law was advocated by some delegates but most concluded that the administration's program "was workable."

COMM'N OKEHS GRAVELLING OF CISCO STREETS

The city commission, in a meeting at the city hall Monday, endorsed a CWA project calling for the graveling of 42 blocks of Cisco streets.

The plan was to be given official approval by the Austin CWA office before work could begin.

The city, in carrying out its part of the project, would furnish money for certain materials, gravel in particular, and the state relief rolls would furnish labor as provided in the regular CWA program.

The streets to be improved are the following:

E avenue to J avenue on West Second street, J avenue to L avenue on West Third street, J avenue to Front street on West Fifth street; Fifth to Ninth street on M avenue; Han K avenues on West 10th street, Ninth to Eleventh street on J avenue, I to G avenue on West Twelfth street, South Boulevard to D avenue on West Eighteenth street, Fifteenth to Sixteenth street on Railroad avenue, Katy railroad to Texas and Pacific railroad on East Seventh street.

TRACE MURDER TO ESCAPE OF J. DILLINGER

CROWN POINT, Ind., Nov. 1 — State investigators today linked three murders here with John Dillinger "wooden gun" escape from the Lake county jail last March 3, the United Press learned today.

The murder claims followed the seizing two officials of the jail here and two others.

Those taken into custody were Lew Baker, jail warden; Ernest Bink, deputy sheriff; Harvey, Kelsner, saloon owner; and D. M. Dunn, Kelsner's father-in-law.

The slayings, committed in gangland fashion, occurred in Lake county. The victims were put out of the way because they knew too much about the escape which cost Dillinger $1,800 according to evidence claimed by investigators assigned to the case.

MANY FLOWERS PLACED ON GRAVE OF MRS. B. W. PATTERSON SUNDAY

Great banks of flowers were heaped over the grave of Mrs. B. W. Patterson at Oakwood cemetery Sunday following funeral services at the First Baptist church here. Rev. E. S. James officiated at the service, assisted by Rev. O. B. Darby of Eastland.

The funeral cortege left the family home at Eastland at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and proceeded to the church here, where the service was held. Green's funeral home had charge of the interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Patterson died at her home at 5 a. m. Thursday of a heart attack. Death came less than four days after that of John F. Patterson, father of Judge Patterson, who died in Cisco last Sunday.

The Pattersons Wednesday celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary. They were married in Cisco in 1894. Mrs. Patterson was born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Mrs. Patterson was an active worker in the Eastland Baptist church and a member of the choir there. She and Judge Patterson formerly were members of the First Baptist church here, where they lived until recently.

After her removal to Eastland, Mrs. Patterson was a frequent visitor in Cisco. She came here often to attend church and social gatherings and had many friends here.

All friends of the family were named as honorary pallbearers. Active pallbearers were the following members of the bar: R. E. Grantham of Cisco, Eugene Lankford of Cisco, Earl Conner, Sr., of Eastland, Carl Springer of Eastland, Allen D. Dabney of Eastland, W. S. Adamson of Ranger, T. M. Collier of Eastland, and L. H. Flewelling of Ranger.

Mrs. Dave Carlton only daughter been traveling in the east arrived by plane for the funeral.

Besides her husband and daughter, Mrs. Patterson is survived by three brothers, W. O. Davis of Fort Worth, Allen Davis of Spokane, Wash., and David Davis, address unknown.

One of the largest crowds ever to of Judge and Mrs. Patterson who has attend a funeral at Cisco was at the last rites said for Mrs. Patterson Sunday afternoon.

CHAIN STORES IN SQUABBLE WITH UNIONS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—The regional labor board stepped into the fight between the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and organized labor Monday in a final desperate to prevent removal of the grocery chain's 300 stores.

Workmen were stripping the company's two big warehouses of food stuffs and fixtures when Ralph Lind chairman of the regional labor board, evolved a six-point compromise peace plan.

He submitted the plan to the national labor relations board in Washington and received approval to submit it to company officials and union leaders for acceptance.

The A. and P. company, meanwhile, went about the task of moving saying it would rather quit business than to submit to labor demands for a closed shop. The decision, company officials said, was final.

Every store of the company here was closed. More than 2,000 workers few of them affiliated with the union whose demands had caused the crisis, had lost their jobs.

V-8 Leadership
Is Based on Engine Facts and Records

SOME things about an automobile are more or less a matter of opinion. But when it comes to the engine, you are dealing with the hard facts of power and its application. Either you have V-8 power or you don't have it.

You should know that experience and the records of performance are definitely in favor of the V-8 type engine. You need not depend on words—the record speaks for itself. It is something you can see as you "Watch The Fords Go By." Something you will realize even more fully when you drive the Ford V-8 yourself.

It isn't the difference between green or black or between velour and broadcloth upholstery, but a far-reaching difference in basic engine design. Only the V-8 can give you V-8 speed, power and performance. It costs more to produce, but Ford has made it possible to use this engine in a low-price car. Only the Ford gives you a V-8 engine unless you pay $2500 or more!
