Cures All—

To a child a band-aid is the quickest cure, and will heal and protect any wound. This is a wonderful trust . . . how wonderful it would be if we would place the same trust in the Lord. "Ye that fear the Lord, trust in the Lord: he is their help and their shield." Confidence and faith grows greater with practice. Attend church regularly, study God's word and . . . "they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LAST MEETING

"Music, Universal Language" Mrs. Martin Tells 1921 Club

"Music is the universal language," Mrs. W. R. Martin told the members of the 1921 Study Club at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. W. C. Hooks, 544 E. 13th St.

Mrs. Martin was leader for the meeting and Mrs. Hooks, Mrs. Lee Lavendera and Mrs. Doyle Hester presented the program on music.

Charles Griffes was one of the most gifted and individual creators of American impressionistic music, particularly for orchestra and piano," Mrs. Hooks told the members.

She said that "The White Peacock" was one of his most popular.

She also mentioned Nevin, Cadman, Chasins and Copland, other prominent American composers.

"Edward MacDowell was another eminent American composer and one of the most original and virile creators among his countrymen," she said.

"MacDowell was in fact the first important composer in America. He gave courage to many an American composer who came after him. Personally, he was a large souled and a good man as well as a man of finest cultivation and polish. Yet, his music is being heard less and less frequently," she said.

Mrs. Hooks supplemented her program by playing piano selections, "An Old Trysting Place" and "To a Wild Irish Rose."

For her part of the program, Mrs. Lavendera told of the hymn, "I Would be True."

"This rich and beautiful message, written in 1906, was never intended by its author to be a hymn at all. Rather, it was a poem that came directly from the heart of a young man, Howard Arnold Walters, when he was far away from home.

"This was a touching tribute to his mother. He sent this poem to his mother while he was in Japan and she was at home in New Britain, Conn.," said Mrs. Lavendera.

She told the members that Mrs. Walters felt that so fine a piece of work should be shared with other families, and sent it to Harper's Magazine.

"The poem is simple, yet it caught the whole philosophy of a young and courageous life. Howard Walters was only 23 years old when he wrote these lines, and perhaps that is why they express so splendidly the spirit of the youthful heart," she said.

Mrs. Doyle Hester told of the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," for her part of the program.

"The hymn was written in 1913 by George Bennard. The author was born in Youngstown, Ohio, in 1873. When he was only 16 years old his father died, leaving the responsibility for the care of his mother and four sisters to him," she said.

Mrs. Hester told the members that the author gives much credit for the inspiration which led to the writing of "The Old Rugged Cross" to his work in the Salvation Army.

"Into homes, meetings, hospitals, and prisons, everywhere the song took its message, with the power to teach and bring spiritual comfort and strength to the human heart. 'The Old Rugged Cross' has a mission and a message that will endure," she said.

Mrs. J. C. Garrett, guest soloist, sang, "O Lord, Be Merciful," by Bartlett and "Bless the Four Corners of this House," by Thompson.

Closing thoughts were given in song by Mrs. Garrett as she sang, "May the Lord Bless and Keep You."

During the business session Mrs. W. W. Rhode led in the opening prayer.

Mrs. Ed S. Jones read a letter from the district president.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. M. J. Dawson read a letter from the American Field Service, thanking the 1921 Study Club for support of their program.

Mrs. Lee Lavendera, yearbook chairman, read the study course for next year.

One guest, Mrs. Garrett, and the following members were present: Mmes. Martin, P. K. Mackey, Doyle Hester, Glenn Coon, J. S. Craddock, J. T. Pritchett, V. R. Trulock, Dawson, Pete Ainsworth, H. B. Broaddus, Jones, R. P. Price, Lavendera, Rhode, and the hostess, Mrs. Hooks.

All things computable
All things great or small
Mechanical brains so beautiful
Can now supplant them all—
Except one most important part:
Man's God-given spirit, man's gallant heart.

SAFE. Cooper Safe Aboard. Three words flash across a TV screen and the hearts of a nation pound. The eyes of a nation grow misty. In a crowd or alone, a nation's throats burst with cheers.

Cooper safe aboard! "God bless America, land that I love!"

God did bless America all through the hours of Wednesday, Wednesday night and Thursday.

AS SOMETHING of a non-conformist in every-which-a-way, last thing on earth we'd try to sound like would be a Sunday devotional.

But the truth is that the farther man goes into space, the surer is this one heart. Surer that "Still sitteth God in the shadows keeping watch over His own."

* * *

WHAT the writer meant by "the shadows" is not the important thing. Shadows could be beyond the vastness of His majestic universe.

Thing is, the more we learn about capsules orbiting the earth (knowledge which is still not enough to fill an eye-dropper) the more absolutely certain is the personal knowledge that God IS. Heaven IS.

* * *

SOME limited scientific minds now fret about what past generations referred to as "up yonder." Fret about where and how Heaven could be located now that man is on the verge of getting acquainted with planets and stars and moon.

What we're trying to say is—that never in all a church-reared lifetime have we, personally, been so impressed with the greatness, the immensity, the inconceivable grandeur of God's universe.

Never so sure that Heaven is where God is and God is where Heaven is, as we are sure since men started exploring space.

That isn't the scientific approach. It's a fundamental feeling.

Teen-ager Terry Myers, daughter of the Raymond Fullers . . . Selma Landau (Mrs. Willie) mother of '62 winning Tumbleweed beauty queen Sandy—who will be in the Miss Universe contest for this state's most beautiful.

Saw George Callender buying beans . . . Rae Ann (Hamm) Carlock in a lovely shade of aqua linen . . . Judge Eldon Mahon post officing in the gathering dusk . . . Ross Daniels coffee breaking . . . Ditto tall J. O. Wood, Boy Scout enthusiast.

W. H. SHELLEY (Bill) and his wife have moved to Austin. Shelley is a former West Texas area manager for Shell Pipeline, retired in 1954. The Shelleys reared two children in C-City mostly.

From '55 to '61 he served as consultant and construction superintendent for Anderson Brothers and Pipeline Technologists. Then he decided, says the Shell "Go-Devil," to just enjoy fishing and hunting. Sounds nice.

* * *

NEW MAN as Shell's Colorado City district superintendent is Ken Looney who'll move his wife Mary Ann and their three offspring here when shcool is out in Houston.

Ken's been supervisor of training, personnel and industrial relations dept., head office in Houston.

C-CITY has just won a moral victory over a computer, come to think of it. Won it, let it be known to all, through human influence.

From now on, a letter to the mayor from the telephone company promises in writing, long distance operators working with mechanical brains stationed in Sweetwater have one new instruction.

They've been instructed to say "Please have Mr. So-and-so call operator 21 in Colorado City," when the party on the other end of a call from here is out of his office or home. 'Til now the gals have been chanting "Call operator in Sweetwater." A downright humiliatin' arrangement!
