A Special Report

Army National Guard's Mobilization Termed 'Most Successful' in History

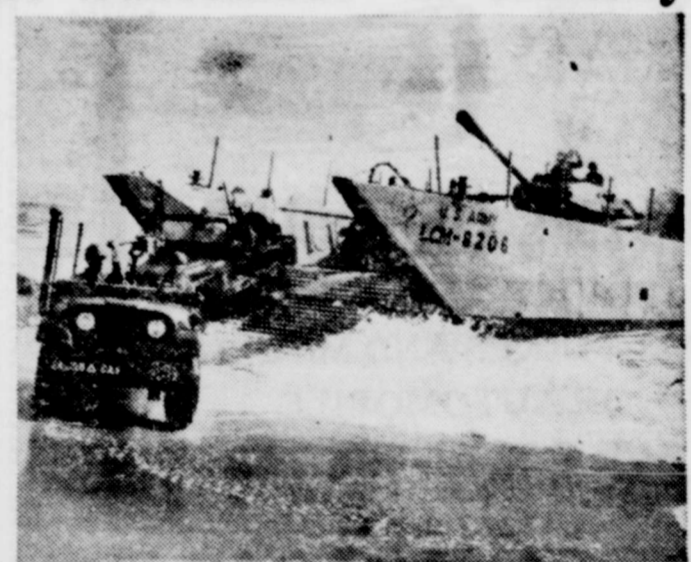

WASHINGTON—Now that the period of the "Berlin Mobilization" is coming to an end—now that the active services have had time to increase their striking power and the immediate need for the reserve forces is over—many people are asking: "How effective were these National Guardsmen and Reservists, anyway? How long did it take them to become truly combat-ready?"

The answer from one high Pentagon source: "This was the most successful mobilization in the history of the United States." Thus states Major General Donald W. McGowan, Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

General McGowan is a man who ought to know. He has spent a lifetime in the National Guard and has been through three mobilizations himself. His accomplishments include leading an armored cavalry regiment through the Normandy invasion, commanding a Guard combat division, and guiding the entire 470,000-man Army and Air National Guard through the most crucial—and fruitful—years of its existence.

"To see how well the Guard did in this mobilization," General McGowan said recently, "you have only to look at the record of the two divisions that were called to active duty: the 82nd Infantry Division of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored Division of Texas."

Here are the facts that bear out General McGowan's claim. Back in 1955, both the 82nd and the 49th were among six National Guard divisions selected for a new high-priority status by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, then Army Chief of Staff. General Taylor called this his "Six-by-Six" plan because he required these six divisions to be combat-ready within six months after they were mobilized. All but forgotten by the general public, the plan is significant now by the contrast that it offers to the events of the past ten months.

HIT THE BEACH!—Jeeps and tanks of the mobilized 150th Armored Cavalry Regiment of the West Virginia National Guard roar down the ramp of a landing craft at Ft. Miles on the Delaware coast. The swiftness with which the 150th became combat-ready last winter earned it a place in the Army's elite Strategic Army Corps (STRAC).

It was a grueling experience, not soon to be forgotten by the members of these units.

At Fort Polk, Louisiana, the 49th Armored was challenged in the dust and mud with rugged combat exercises requiring its tanks and men to maneuver and fire exactly as they would on the battlefield. At Fort Lewis, Washington, the 82nd was challenged in the tall pines and in the mountains, day and night, against a tough, clever aggressor who turned a routine tactical exercise into an infantryman's nightmare.

But all this seemed worthwhile when, immediately after being declared combat-ready, both divisions were assigned to the Army's Strategic Army Corps (STRAC), the first National Guard units ever to be assigned to this elite fighting force.

So impressive was the Guard's performance, in fact, that General James Van Fleet reported: "The quality of these units is far above any previous mobilization that took place in World War II or Korea."

Are there any specific reasons for such a marked improvement in our citizen-soldiers? "Yes," says Gen. McGowan, "and the primary one is the six months training program which provides active duty

BOYS and GIRLS - News and Notes

Boys and Girls

Boys and Girls:
This morning a little girl got out of bed and ran to the window. It was raining and she made her very unhappy. She wanted to play outside. Are you unhappy when it rains? The trees and trees need rain. Fruits and vegetables need you and I need rain.

One upon a time there was a white cloud that floated in the sky thinking of having a good time. He heard a tiny voice say, "Oh I wish I had a drink of water. I'm so hot and thirsty."

The little white cloud looked at the boy and said, "Who said that?" he said, "I did." The little cloud looked at the boy and there was a little growing by a house. It had been a pretty flower but now it's head was over. It looked hot and the little cloud began to look down. There was the tree that waved his green arms and made whistling noises. But he just drooped. His nice leaves were beginning to turn yellow. There was the brook. But he wasn't flowing and playing. He was dry. "How sad he must be," thought the little white cloud. "I wish I could help but I'm just a little cloud. It takes me longer than me to make another little cloud"

Chatter Matter

A group of Junior High students had wonderful time last week at the Methodist Camp at Bridgeport. They were Donna Greer, Sylvia McDonald, Debbie Bewick, Billy Arthington, Walter Craft and Buster Kennedy.

Doug Cheney and Jimmy Dunn have finished their stock car and have hopes of racing it soon. Good luck!

Cookie Sims, Peggy Anderson, and Linda Greer are finalists in KTRN's swimming pool contest. Friends are wondering where Barry Davey and Vicki went Monday night.

Vic Sandacz is at A&M for six weeks. He will be back in Burk for just a brief stop before returning to college for the fall term.

Rumors are that Jim Davey's best friend, A.S., is moving to New Hampshire. It is true, Jim?

Pat Mills visited in Fort Worth with JoAnn Middleton for a week. Then she stayed home just long enough to wash a few clothes before she left for Salina, Kansas. She went with Mrs. VanReenan to get Dixie who has been visiting in Kansas most of the summer.

Janet Mathis and Lee Robertson went deep sea fishing off the coast of Hawaii. Janet landed her fish but Lee's got away.

Heard at the swimming pool: When the cat's away the mouse will play. But what does that have to do with Frank Hodges' girl friend being away?

Love,
Aunt Gerry

Grass Roots Opinion

NEW HAVEN, MO., LEADER: "In the beginning, the United States was certainly what would today be called an under-developed country. Everyday life in the towns and cities of the colonies that had gained their independence from Great Britain was not much different from life in the towns and cities of the Roman Empire. Tools and methods had changed little in two thousand years. The new Nation had no net capital; in fact, it was heavily in debt and operating on borrowed money. There were no railroads, no factories, no steel mills. Many other countries were far ahead of us in the principal economic assets of the time. The United States had only one asset of major importance—and that was not an economic asset at all but a political one. It was the idea of a strictly limited government."

HILLSBORO, ORE., ARGUS: "Historians may well list inadequate depreciation as a major factor contributing to the decline of our industrial facilities unless that situation is remedied. American industries have been lagging for some time in the necessary plant expenditures for new equipment. Certainly a more liberal and realistic tax depreciation will stimulate a more favorable climate for industrial growth."

ALTOONA, PA., MIRROR: "Some folks leave a movie right in the middle of a picture. Could it be sleep walking?"

JEFFERSON, OHIO, GAZETTE: The Washington economic advisors have proposed that government continues its heavy spending program and at the same time cut taxes. It's a neat trick if they can do it."

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: Here is an illustration being circulated on Capitol Hill to show the enormity of President Kennedy's $92,500,000,000 spending program for next year: If you give your wife $1,000,000 dollars, and tell her that she can go away and spend it at the rate of $1,000 per day, she would be back in three years broke and asking for more money. But if you give her $1,000,000,000, and tell her to spend it at the same rate of $1,000 per day, you would not see her again for 3,000 years."

FLORENCE, ALA., HERALD: "The old saying: 'The government is the servant of the people' ought to be changed because the government, like servants, is getting too expensive for most folks."

LOSERS WEEPERS!

WHAT REALLY COUNTS

Shareownership in America has increased dramatically since 1952. In that comparatively recent year about 6.5 million Americans owned shares in the nation's publicly held companies. Ten years later, in the early part of 1962, the figure had jumped to 17 million—almost a 300 percent advance. Also an estimated two million additional people own shares in privately held companies only—that is, companies whose securities are not available to the public at large. Most impressive of all, there are indications that as many as 35 million non-shareowners are on the threshold of investing or interested in learning more about it.

These are some of the facts included in the New York Stock Exchange's just released 1962 Census of Shareowners in America. And this handsomely printed and illustrated booklet is full of other important and interesting information. The average shareowner certainly isn't rich—his annual household income is $8,400. Women shareowners outnumber men, but the margin narrows. More than a quarter of all shareowners live in the smaller communities.

So the story goes. It is a story of widespread public faith in the future of American corporate enterprise—in the multitude of companies which provide jobs, goods and services, a place for savings, income, opportunity. Beyond that, it is a story of faith in a system—the system we call free enterprise.

And that's what really counts. Stock values will go down, and stock values will go up, sometimes spectacularly, just as do the values of other kinds of property. It's the system that we must keep strong and unchanged.

AUGUST

AUGUST 2, 1858—The first street letter boxes were set up in Boston. Prior to this date, letter-writers in cities as well as villages had to take their mail to the postoffices.

AUGUST 4, 1735—Acquittal of John Peter Zenger of New York on the charge of libel was one of the most important events in the history of the freedom of the press in America.

AUGUST 5, 1945—The first atomic bomb used in warfare was dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, obliterating 60 per cent of the city's 343,000 people and almost two-thirds of the city.

AUGUST 6, 1926—Gertrude Ederle of New York became the first American woman to swim the English Channel. On the "trip" Miss Ederle floated on her back on seven different occasions while she was being served chicken broth from a trailing tugboat. Total swimming time: 14 hours, 31 minutes.

AUGUST 19, 1939—Congress passed a resolution authorizing the President to designate this date each year as National Aviation Day.

AUGUST 24, 1954—President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed into law the Communist Control Act outlawing the Communist Party in the United States.

Glue sandpaper to the sides of the bottle. Can't be mistaken for other bottles or jars. Helps you locate bottle without emptying pack.

HOW FAST CAN YOU GO IN A COFFIN?

Next time you are tempted to step on it, ask yourself this question! Last year, 40,000 died on our highways. In 3 out of 10 fatal accidents, drivers were speeding. Obey speed limits. Drive safely.

If we pound on an empty barrel it makes much noise. A barrel which is full will not make much noise. The air space inside of an empty barrel carries the sound back and forth, increasing the noise.

This is also true of people. Persons who have not learned much are always noisy. They do not think of the other people. They yell, talk, laugh loudly, tramp, and make all kinds of disturbance. When a person's mind is full of knowledge, of politeness, of culture and refinement, he remembers to do the right thing, and does not make unnecessary noise.—The Uplift.

W. Babson Weekly Report

Roger W. Babson

DISCUSSES GROWTH COMPANIES

is not an endorsement of "Growth Stocks." I do not recommend specific stocks in this column; I will, however, discuss ten companies whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange that have a bright future. Equipment Companies—concerned with social security, retirement pensions, etc. many of these women who are now in office work will retire in the next few years—with replacements. This means there will be an increasing demand for machines to do office work being done by these women, especially speeding up work.

Such companies I especially mention the Graph-Multigraph Corp., International Business Machines. I will also include Zenith who hopes to get one million of its TV cabinets into the public schools, hospitals, and of office buildings. I believe that TV will revolutionize teaching in our schools. Zenith Radio is also leading in color TV.

Camera Companies

These companies not only make a profit on the sale of their cameras and films to the public; but are also making large sales to the U. S. government. Families are not content to own one camera, but each member of the family wants one. The family also buys the latest models as they come out.

Among these the Eastman Kodak Company stands out most prominently. The Polaroid Corp. is very progressive and has many valuable patents for the use of which other camera companies must pay royalties if they want to hold their trade. It is rumored that the Gillette Company has some plans along these lines, using part of the huge profits made from their razor business. All three of the above should profit from the constantly growing population of the U. S., which should reach 230 million in 1975.

New Building Companies

Although the Corning Glass Works is best known for its "Pyrex" glassware, its great growth should come from new modern buildings. More glass is continually being used in new office buildings; while factories will appear as being built of all glass.

As new buildings of all kinds will need automatic heating, cooling, and ventilation systems the products of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator may be in great demand. I could include Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing in this general group due to their ingenuity and new products. This company is known as the "Three M's."

Drug Companies and "Home Products"

The drug companies probably spend more money on research than any other group. Furthermore, they are on the verge of making some very wonderful discoveries in connection with DNA and RNA; two chemicals which may provide living cells. My first choice is American Cyanamid Laboratories. I also think that Bristol-Myers Company has good growth possibilities and also Plough, Inc. of Memphis. However, perhaps the best of all is the great duPont Company of Wilmington.

My mention of "Home Products" in the above heading is because the American Home Products Co. has a very large sales force handling some products ordinarily sold by Procter & Gamble which could also be listed here. These are two companies that should profit by inflation—toward which we are surely headed. Let me add the steels, coppers, oils and natural gas companies; yes, most companies with great natural resources.

Rely on Overages

This makes fifteen corporations in all which I believe have distinct growth possibilities. I suppose my readers would like me to boil the list down to ten companies. I will not do this as so much depends upon the human factor of management which cannot be forecast. I feel, however, that some of the fifteen will turn out to be great disappointments, but no living soul can now tell which are the five that should be avoided. This leads me to emphasize

Hardin Club News

The Hardin Club journeyed to the Cooper-Friberg Club July 23rd.

The Cooper-Friberg Club entertained the Hardin Club with a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. T. Jenne.

We all enjoyed the picnic luncheon in Mrs. W. T. Jenne's beautiful yard.

The weather also co-operated. It was cloudy which made it pleasant.

After lunch, Mrs. Washington from the Ray Club gave a very impressive demonstration on craft, which we all liked very much.

Games were played and each Hardin Club member came home with a beautiful apron, and Mrs. O. J. Cooper gave each of us a pretty handkerchief which she had a tatting edging around. We thank her very much.

All members came home reporting a wonderful time. Those attending were Mesdames M. R. Hillis, Peggy Ferris, W. E. Goins, Carol Roderick, Kenneth Gage, C. M. Brayton, John Enderli, E. W. Roderick and Shirley Ann and Kitty Gayle McNish, Larry and Gary Roderick.

Burkburnett Riding Club News

The Burkburnett Riding Club attended the Rodeo at Archer City July 26th.

The club is proud of the younger members of the group. The youngsters are good riders and add great interest to the appearance of the club.

The youngest member riding at Archer City was Bill Gage, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gage. Mr. Gage is a member of the local police Dept. Others of the younger group riding at Archer City included Sandy Gage, 15 years, daughter of the Kenneth Gage's; Steve Cozby, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Cozby; Denise Cozby, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Payton Cozby; Berenda Goins, 8, and Terrill Goins, 14, children of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Goins.

The rest of the group included Major and Mrs. Paul Drake and daughter Sue, Queen of the club; Mr. and Mrs. Payton Cozby, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Goins and daughter Wendlyn Ann; Mr. Elmer Burns, Mr. Charles Brewster, Mr. Ruff Redman, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Negri, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gage, Mr. Jim Apel and Mrs. J. E. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin and daughter Gigi; Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Luke and son Billy and grandson, Delmar Lee.

once more the great importance of diversification. Those who had their money distributed over a large number of established companies during the recent great stock market decline have nothing to fear. The dividends need not be cut and prices should hop back. In fact, I believe that the combined average price of the ten "lucky" stocks among those discussed above will some day sell for over $1,000.

CUTTING TAXES

By Willis E. Stone
(Editor's Note: Willis E. Stone is author of the "Proposed Liberty Amendment" and Chairman, National Committee for Economic Freedom, Los Angeles, California.)

Just about everybody is getting in on the "Demand to cut taxes." It seems that the top organizations are at last climbing on the bandwagon. Even President Kennedy is proposing a tax cut right in the face of a gigantic deficit in 1962 and a similar deficit in 1963. To many it appears that we taxpayers are at last going to get a break instead of going broke, but others are more skeptical. They recall that the present tax load was developed by other plans, by the same people, with the same glorious fanfare and the same promised benefactions. Somehow the grand innovations always seem to backfire.

This would appear to be the case in the present situation. President Kennedy's "tax cut plan" seems to be based upon the idea that people need the money right now, and will somehow have more money later to pay the interest charges and amortization costs of the increased government debt. Be assured more debt is ahead. The debt limit has just been increased $8 billion. President Kennedy has himself authored 70 new ways of spending tax dollars or increasing the spending of tax dollars on projects already operating. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce made the headlines with a demand for a tax cut, but failed to propose a cut in the costs of government which make it feasible. It should be clear to this business group that the simplest formula of good business is to keep spending within income. To do otherwise for an indefinite period is fatal to a person, a family and a nation.

The AFL-CIO set up its demand for a reduction in income taxes while opposing efforts to reduce the spending of government and has ignored well established plans for controlling both taxing and spending. But labor, rank-and-file as well as the leadership knows the only valid means of tax reduction is through reduction in federal spending. The only function of taxes is to pay the cost of government. Politicians and their satellites have ignored this truth for years in their successful endeavors to spend it faster than the American people can produce it. For this reason the national debt is $240 billion greater today than it was 20 years ago—and it now requires twice as many tax dollars to pay interest on that part of the debt as did to run the entire government 30 years ago.

Tax reform and tax repeal are very popular subjects, but it should be clear to everyone that taxes are a result of spending, and that reform or repeal depends entirely on reductions in spending. Unfortunately big business, big labor and big government have failed to deal with this obvious fact although it has been before them with increasing impact for several years.

It appears that this sudden clamor for tax reduction is bending to a long pent up public demand, yet the public demand is increasingly, and insistently, for tax reduction balanced with reduced spending. Vast support has given the LIBERTY AMENDMENT because it resolves the whole problem.

The LIBERTY AMENDMENT provides for removing government from all fields of competitive with private enterprises of the taxpayer except those specified in the Constitution. Research indicates that by simply relinquishing its unauthorized function, government saving will amount to more than it collects from individual taxes.

Thus it becomes possible through the LIBERTY AMENDMENT to REPEAL federal individual income taxes completely while restoring fiscal balance to government.

The present clamor for tax reform indicates the LIBERTY AMENDMENT is close to victory. It is currently pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23, and has been formally approved by the States of Wyoming, Texas, Nevada, Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. It provides that:

"Sec. 1. The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution.
"Sec. 4. . . . Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, and or gifts."

Fallout

Planning

Last week we mentioned the "nonthreshold" concept which, simply stated, means that any radiation at all may be harmful to some people. This concept, which is the basis for planning by the United States government and many national and international organizations, generates the following statements. The extra radiation produced by the resumption of nuclear tests adds to the genetic (inheritable) effects in generations to come, and possibly to the risk of health damage to some people. It is not possible to say how extensive these ill effects will be nor how many people will be affected. At the present time the risk seems slight.

Federal and state authorities conduct periodic tests to determine the level of radiation in the air. The Public Health Service has established an "alert" level of 100 micromicrocuries. A micromicrocurie is a millionth of a trillionth of a curie; a curie is the quantity of radiation emitted by or equivalent to 1 gram (about 1/400th of an ounce) of pure radium.

More about fallout next week. Questions submitted by readers are appreciated and answers to those of general interest will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

PLASTIC FILM

CORRECT USE AND MIS-USE
CORRECTIVE HINTS TO PARENTS
THE PROBLEM:

In recent months a number of infants and small children have died as a result of the mis-use of ultra-thin plastic bags such as those used to protect your clothing after cleaning and laundering. For example, these bags were used as loose, makeshift covers for crib mattresses. The ultra-thin film adhered to the mouth and nose of the infants, causing suffocation. This is a tragic—and unnecessary—price to pay for the convenience of these new bags.

What You Can Do About It:
You can use caution and common sense. NEVER use a plastic bag as a makeshift cover in cribs, play pens, baby carriages, for mattresses or upholstery. NEVER give a plastic bag to a child as a plaything. It is not for children. It should be kept out of their reach. NEVER keep a plastic bag after it has served its intended usefulness.

WHEN THEY HAVE SERVED THEIR PURPOSE
TEAR THEM UP
OR TIE THEM IN A KNOT . . .
AND THROW THEM AWAY.

KEEP PLASTIC FILM AWAY FROM CHILDREN

When a garment is ready to be worn, tear off the film covering and discard it, unless it is to be reused for a similar purpose. Just as children are not permitted to play with pills and medicines, keep thin plastic film away from them.

STORE FISH HOOKS

Safety pins make excellent storage bins for loose fish hooks. Size variety lets you match right size pin to right size hook.

the flounce and slip them on the chair to finish drying. They can then be shaped to fit as well as when n/w and you'll save lots of ironing time. You may need to press with a medium hot iron along the most prominent seams.

Add beauty and increase the life span of rugs and carpets by observing simple rules of rug care, Thelma Wirges suggests.

Just follow these easy rules: Give light daily cleaning with a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner; do a thorough vacuuming once or twice a week, and arrange for professional cleaning at least once a year.

Miss Wirges also recommends that homemakers follow these directions on rug care:

Do turn your rugs around once or twice a year. This helps distribute the wear over the entire surface and adds extra years to their life.

Do clip with a pair of shears the little tufts that protrude above the surface of your floor covering—but don't pull them out.

Do lift furniture to move it. If you push heavy pieces across a floor covering, you may damage the fibers.

Do let your professional rug cleaner rebind worn edges of rugs and carpets. Attempts to trim off such edges may result in greater unraveling.

Don't use soap containing alkali on floor coverings. The dyes in your rug may be sensitive to alkaline solutions, and their use may cause discoloration or bleeding of colors and may damage fibers.

Don't shake or snap small throw rugs to dust them. The action may break the yarns in the rug backing.

Don't try to wash or clean rugs yourself. Residues from main from rug shampoo re-soiling and may damage fibers or even the fabric.

Cleanliness is one of the defenses against moth damage to rugs. Professional proofing of rugs is the best safeguard.
