Kittrell Sentenced To 18 Months In El Reno Reformatory

'I've Learned My Lesson,' Youth Tells Judge

Lighter Sentence Is Given Because Of Leniency Plea Of Banker And Attorney

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 1.—Burns Kittrell, 26-year-old Lubbock bank clerk, was sentenced to 18 months in the El Reno, Okla., federal reformatory here today when he pleaded guilty to absconding with $11,000 belonging to the Lubbock National bank March 6.

"You broke a trust in taking this money which is in some ways worse than if you had taken it by breaking in the bank," Federal Judge T. W. Davidson said. "On the face of it you deserve a much longer sentence. I'm giving you this lighter sentence on the recommendation of your former employer and of the federal district attorney."

Maedgen Makes Plea

C. E. Maedgen, president of the bank, made a plea for leniency for Kittrell in a letter to United States District Attorney Clyde Eastus, which was turned over to Judge Davidson.

Eastus said Kittrell spent nearly $1,700 in the three weeks he had the money. He said more than $8,300 was returned to the bank.

Kittrell was arrested last week in Arkansas.

"I've Learned My Lesson"

"I've learned my lesson and when I get out I'm going to start over right and go straight," Kittrell said.

Kittrell, who was arrested at McGehee, Ark., asked to be brought to Dallas so he could plead guilty and start his sentence immediately.

He said he hardly knew how he managed to spend nearly $1,700 in the three weeks he had the bank's money.

He said he lost $150 gambling, went out with a girl one night and bought a motorcycle for $450. The rest just got away in the unaccountable way that such money does, he said.

Officials And Relatives Surprised At Action

Lubbock officials and friends and relatives of Kittrell were of the opinion trial would be Monday.

His father, W. E. Kittrell, surprised to learn that his son already had been sentenced, said he and C. E. Maedgen, president of Lubbock National bank, where young Kittrell was bookkeeper, had planned to go to Dallas to attend the trial.

Maedgen, on learning of Kittrell's sentence, declined to make a statement.

Kittrell's father said he was grateful for assistance and cooperation

U. S. Bonds Drop After Statement

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—Many millions of dollars were lopped off quoted values of United States government obligations today in an accelerated decline which followed Secretary Morgenthau's assurance federal agencies had sufficient funds to make an "orderly" market.

The decline was checked in late trading by formidable buying support, after losses ranging up to about $12.50 per $1,000 face value bond had been recorded.

The drop was the widest of the decline from the peaks of the big dull market in gilt-edged bonds touched toward the close of 1936 and one of the most severe in recent years.

Driver's License Law With Fee Passed In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1. (AP) — A drivers' license law with a 50-cent fee attached passed the Oklahoma senate 32 to 4 today.

The bill goes back to the house for consideration of senate amendments.

The senate revenue and taxation committee amended the two per cent sales tax bill to make it a permanent rather than a two-year act, exempted pipelines and express companies and reported it out for senate action.

Life Span Governed By Eating

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—The average Americans now living can lengthen their own lives by eating the right "protective foods," Dr. Henry C. Sherman, of Columbia university tonight told the New York Academy of Medicine.

How many years they can add is not predictable, but for their children they can reasonably expect an additional seven years.

Dr. Sherman gave the academy, one of the most distinguished medical organizations in the country, what he said is proof that heredity alone need no longer be considered the only important factor in long life.

The "protective foods" are those containing vitamins and 10 or more essential minerals. They include mostly milk, eggs, green vegetables, yellow vegetables and fruits.

Victory Claims Made In Spain By Loyalists

(By The Associated Press)

Warring Spaniards last night ranged far afield from long-beleaguered Madrid, which hailed the spreading action as added safety for itself.

Far north, insurgents launched a well-mapped offensive against the Basque capital of Bilbao while government forces moved against the erstwhile insurgent seat of Burgos.

In the south, government armies which beat back an insurgent drive toward Ciudad Real's rich mining region pushed 13 miles into Cordoba province on the heels of their routed foe.

Parade In Madrid

Jubilant militiamen paraded in the streets of Madrid, singing and shouting at the government's victory reports, which they believed spelled at least temporary safety for the shell-torn capital.

Optimism extended beyond the borders of the war-wracked land.

A French foreign office spokesman in Paris avowed that the French government "is more optimistic that the Spanish war will not entangle Europe than at any time since the war began."

Control To Operate

Both French and British sources predicted that an effective control of the European "hand-off Spain" scheme will be in operation within 10 days.

France, meanwhile, instructed her warships to use force, if necessary, to prevent search and seizure of French ships by Spanish vessels.

The navy ministry announced "rights of belligerents" cannot be used by either side in the Spanish conflict "in present circumstances."

Girl To Accept Legacy Which Bars Her From Family

TROY, N. Y., April 1. (AP)—Vera Jean Howard, 15, will accept a $60,000 legacy left by her grand uncle, with its provision that she remain away from her relatives, the girl's mother, Mrs. Margaret Howard, said today. She said she had talked with the girl today.

Vera Jean was adopted when a child of three by her grand uncle and his wife, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Nichols. Nichols' will, admitted to probate yesterday, established a $60,000 trust fund for Vera Jean, providing she does not live with any of her kin except the executor, former Mayor James Johnstone of Rensselaer.

Relief Is Seen As 'Ax' For Court Plan

Suggestion Causes Lively Debate In Hearing On Proposal Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A suggestion that relief expenditures may influence senate votes on the Roosevelt court bill produced a lively dispute today between two Democratic members of the senate judiciary committee.

The suggestion, made first of all by John T. Flynn, economist and writer, on the stand opposing the measure, was repeated by Senator Burke (D-Neb), a leading opponent of the bill, and immediately denied by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyoming).

About To Ask Funds

Burke said that a "high official of the government" told him the president was about to ask for a new $1,000,000,000 relief fund, and that because of the prospective distribution of that amount the senator in for a "losing battle" against the court bill.

STRIKE OPPOSING BLOWS

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt and his old liberal ally, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), struck opposing blows in the Supreme court conflict tonight.

Mr. Roosevelt hammered away at his contention that a liberal interpretation of the Constitution is necessary to permit federal action upon changing problems.

The Montana senator suggested that, if the president's proposal to reorganize the high tribunal is adopted, the court's independence will be impaired.

Flynn suggested that members of congress might understandably be timid about opposing anyone who controlled the expenditure of such a sum of money, but before he could complete his statement, O'Mahoney indignantly interrupted.

Refused To Name Official

He demanded that Burke either name the government official he had quoted, or withdraw the statement. The Nebraskan steadfastly and a little amusedly refused to do either.

"I shall not be deterred from bringing to light any consideration in connection with this bill," he said.

As the exchange grew more heated, Senator Hatch (D-NM) presiding in the absence of Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz), pounded his gavel for order, and, with a broad smile suggested that nothing was to be gained by pursuing the argument. The controversy died as suddenly as it had risen.

It flared again, however, just after the committee recessed. Burke said "every mayor and governor" would feel his community had a "better chance to get the relief money if his senators go along" on

Scout Executive In Rest Home

SAFFORD, Ariz., April 1. (AP)—Robert M. Miller, 23-year-old Safford Boy Scout executive who blamed a "spat with a girl friend" for his week-long disappearance and fabricated story of being kidnaped, entered a Los Angeles rest home late today.

Announcement that Miller, who appeared yesterday in El Paso, Tex., had been taken to Los Angeles was made by his brother, Charles Miller, by telephone from Los Angeles.

The elder Miller, assistant auditor for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, did not disclose the location of the home in which the young scout executive was placed.

Accompanied by another brother, George F. Miller, Phoenix, Robert went by train from El Paso to Los Angeles.

The confession that a quarrel with a girl caused him to abandon his car at Duncan, 42 miles from here, March 24 and disappear was obtained from Miller this morning by Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso.

"Selective Family Wage" Advocated By Popenoe In Address At Tech

Director Of Family Relations Institute Gives New Ideas On Marriage In Lectures Thursday

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche Staff Writer

A "selective family wage" which would adjust salaries on the basis of marriage and number of children was proposed by Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles last night in Horn hall, in the final of three addresses he delivered here Thursday on love and marriage.

The present system of paying a set salary to bachelor and married man alike is "economically unfair, socially unjust, and eugenically ruinous," said Doctor Popenoe, who is director of the Family Relations institute.

Through a selective family wage plan, a basal salary would be set and additional allowance made for a wife and each dependent child.

"It would be impossible for anyone to make money by childbearing, since the allowance would merely cover the cost of the child."

The present wage system pays the same salary to a bachelor and a man with a wife and four children. But the latter must deduct from his pay check the cost of supporting his wife and children, which may amount to 80 per cent of the total. So he may be actually getting $600 a year from the same job that pays a bachelor $3,000."

Would Make Allowances

Additional allowance of 20 per cent of a salary for a wife and 15 per cent for each dependent child was suggested by Doctor Popenoe.

Most of the student body of Texas Technological college and many town persons attended the three lectures given here by Doctor Popenoe. He spoke in a convocation in the gymnasium Thursday morning and in Doak hall that afternoon. The college YM-YWCA sponsored the lectures.

Other Angles Discussed

Other economic angles of marriage were discussed last night under the subject, "Can Young People Marry Without Jobs?"

"Young people can no longer be asked to wait for a certainty of economic security," he said. "Such security is uncertain for too many of the older generation at present. It goes without saying that they should not marry without some prospect of self-support, but they can properly take greater risks today than would have been thought desirable 20 years ago. If they are not willing to take some risks, there will be many long engagements, which are undesirable from every point of view.

Better Than No Marriage

"The commonest way of meeting the shortage of jobs and inadequacy of salaries is for both husband and wife to work. This has the disadvantage of preventing mother-

Tricks Are Played On Thursday

TELEPHONE company testing—service will be discontinued for three minutes—please place cover over mouth of phone as poisonous gas may escape." On receiving this message an operator of a PBX board in a downtown business establishment hastily followed instructions and warned other employes to keep clear of the phones. The operator and her boss sought safety from the gas while the others found hiding places to give way to laughter at another April Fool prank."

Hoodlumism ruled. Residents were leary of purses with strings attached, brick lined boxes, and bitter candy. Shy girls found handsome dummies in their closets. Hotels and drugstores reported many fake calls. A Lubbock pastor reported a murder on Tech campus. One Tech coed put her father in a whirl with a note saying she was off to be married. These are only a few of the traps laid open for the gullible.

Up to late last night no casualties had been reported, but pranksters had their fun and victims have a year to plan revenge.

No Joke Here

BAY CITY, April 1. (AP)—"It's no joke," was City Marshal Frank Carr's April Fool's greeting to Constable Arthur Moore as he handed him a traffic violation tag.

The constable realized the truth of Carr's assertion when he paid his $4.50 fine.

Courts Slowed Down

DALLAS, April 1. (AP)—Operations of two criminal courts here were being slowed down by April Fool day.

Bailiffs were telephoning witnesses to come to court. In almost every instance they met the same rebuff:

"Oh, yeah," the party called would respond. So you're calling from the sheriff's office? well, you're not April Fooling me."

And bang would go the receiver.

Repetition of the calls with threats of fines for contempt of court finally brought most of the witnesses into court.

Governor Gets Quota

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—All Fools Day brought its usual quota of gags for Governor James V. Allred.

Mahon Offers Bill On Vets' Hospital

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Representative George H. Mahon of Colorado, Texas, proposed today a $1,050,000 appropriation for a 300-bed veterans' administration hospital in West Texas within the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 21st congressional districts.

Pease River Tax Remission Bill Is Approved

Allred's Declaration To Veto Ignored; Narcotics Measure Passes

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 1.—The legislature sent Governor James V. Allred another tax remission bill today in the face of his declaration he intended to veto such proposals until measures to raise additional revenue were enacted.

The bill would remit state ad valorem taxes to Foard, Wilbarger, Hardeman and Cottle counties for two years to aid the Pease River flood control district.

Another Bill Recommended

At the same time the house state affairs committee recommended a flood control bill containing a remission of half of Bexar county taxes for ten years.

The governor's batting average was heightened, however, by unanimous house passage to the senate of a bill strengthening the anti-narcotic laws. Action was taken a few minutes after a message from the governor urging enactment.

Ranger Bill Killed

A bill by Rep. L. M. Kenyon of Galveston to prohibit the use of state Rangers in gambling raids and suppression of other minor crimes unless their presence in a community was requested by local authorities or citizens was killed, 12 to 1, by a house committee.

Rep. Bob Alexander of Childress introduced a second proposed enabling act for the constitutional amendment divesting the governor of much of his clemency power and placing it in a non-partisan pardon and parole board. Allred vetoed a previous proposal.

Would Interview Convicts

Alexander's bill would require two board members to spend at least half their time interviewing convicts. One of the governor's objections to the other bill was that it forced the board to spend too much time talking to convicts.

After amending it considerably, the house passed a senate bill to require examination and licensing of construction engineers. Advocates said its purpose was to raise the standards of engineers.

House Passes Senate Bill

The house passed a senate bill baking an emergency appropriation of $53,000 to the adjutant general's department. It also approved a senate bill sponsored in the house by Rep. Homer L. Leonard of McAllen to permit cities to refund their indebtedness even though

STILL HAS INFLUENCE

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP) — Rep. Coke Stevenson of Junction, twice speaker of the house, demonstrated again today that he still has vast influence in that body.

He succeeded in killing a local bill for Dallas county, the type of bill which usually is passed without debate.

The proposal would have given Dallas county district judges an additional $1,800 a year each for service on the juvenile board. Each of them already receives $1,500 annually for such service.

The former speaker said he disliked to oppose a local bill but that enactment of such laws led office-holders in other parts of the state to demand salary increases.

Malodorants Bill Is Approved By Group

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—The senate state affairs committee today lost little time in approving a bill making mandatory the use of malodorants in natural gas to permit easy detection of escapage.

The proposal, by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, who participated in the military inquiry into the cause of the New London school explosion, would authorize the railroad commission to make rules and regulations and enforce the act.

Constitution Revision Bill Is Defeated By Committee

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment providing a convention for redrafting the Texas Constitution tonight failed of favorable recommendation in a house committee.

The resolution would have permitted the people to vote on whether 150 delegates should re-write the 61-year-old document. The vote was 6 to 4.

Gedeon Held In Murder Probe

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 1.—While police sought five mystery women in his life, Joseph Gedeon, father of the slain model of Beekman Hill, was clamped into jail tonight on a charge of owning a pistol without a permit.

His formal arrest followed 24 hours of almost continuous questioning on his movements Easter eve and Sunday morning, before he burst into the apartment of his estranged wife to find her, their daughter, Veronica, and a male roomer brutally done to death.

Seek Awl-Like Weapon

Even as police lodged the charge against him, a thorough combing of the city's sewers was underway in the Beekman hill section. Police groped for the awl-like weapon with which Frank Byrnes, 35, a roomer in the artist model's home, was stabbed, time and time again, as he lay in his bed.

Gedeon, wiry and unfaltering in face of the barrage of questioning, laid down by relays of detectives, was taken tonight from the East 51st street police station where a year ago the slayer of Nancy Evans Titterton confessed his crime, and rush-

New Contract Conference Deadlocked; Chevrolet Workers Walk Out

(By The Associated Press)

FAILURE of operators and miners' representatives to agree last night on wage provisions of a new contract made effective a strike of 400,000 miners in the soft coal industry.

When, still deadlocked, the conference was adjourned in New York until this afternoon, officials of the United Mine Workers said their members would refrain from work today and would not return until a contract was signed. Operators estimated a 30-day supply of coal was above ground.

Chevrolet Workers Strike

Nearly 12,000 more workers were added to the ranks of the nation's strike idle by a union walkout at Flint, Mich., which suspended operations in all units of the Chevrolet Motor company there.

It brought the number of idle employes of General Motors corporation to about 30,000 and made doubtful whether other Chevrolet employes who were thrown out of work yesterday would return to their benches today, as was scheduled.

FDR Might Step In

Informed sources watching the coal negotiations said President Roosevelt might lend his influence to settlement of the disagreement unless a contract was reached soon. Wages was the only point in dispute, operators being divided on whether to meet a demand for time and a half overtime pay.

Governor Frank Murphy, himself caught in a renewal of the hotel strike in Detroit yesterday, awaited resumption today of his conferences with Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the Chrysler Corp., and John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization. About 60,000 Chrysler employes are idle.

Prime Topic In Capital

Industrial unrest was a prime topic in the national capital.

Representative Taber (R-NY) asserted the president lacked "the courage and the patriotism" to take positive action in the strike crisis.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC) called for a "declaration of national policy" against sit-down strikes, but Representative Harlan (D-Ohio) defended them as "the most harmless" of "all steps that have been taken by labor."

Coal miners were idle yesterday in celebration of John L. Lewis day, set aside to commemorate the eight-hour day in the industry.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, said they would not resume work until the

Demonstrations In India Thursday

CALCUTTA, India, April 1 (AP)—British India assumed autonomous government today with a general strike and widespread demonstrations.

There was no violence, but millions observed the day in mourning and protest against the new constitution which granted the measure of self-government to the eleven provinces.

There were arrests in various centers, as followers of the congress party, which bitterly opposed the constitution, demonstrated in the streets.

The congress party members still looked to their former leader, Mahandas K. Gandhi, who has hinted he has a new plan in mind for fathering independence grants to India.

Elaborate "Throne Car" Uncovered By Officers

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—Flabbergasted federal officers ran across a $25,000 "throne car" today in their search for John Hunt, 33-year-old college graduate and West coast leader of the Father Divine movement, on Mann act charges.

The huge and wondrous chariot was under construction at a Pasadena coach works, apparently for the joint use of Hunt, alias "St. John, The Revelator," alias "Jesus Christ," and Father Divine, the Harlem negro cult master known to his votaries as "God."

Christian Bohman, co-proprietor of the works, said the 10-passenger gasoline chariot is being financed from New York and Hunt has met payments promptly as construction proceeded. Ultimate cost will be between $20,000 and $25,000, he said.

The vehicle is to have an ornate throne mounted in the center of the back seat. The top of the tonneau enclosure, Boh-

French Party Has Same Trouble La Salle Had

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 1.—Some 30 prominent residents of France, in Texas to follow the trails made by Robert Cavalier De LaSalle 250 years ago, are having the same trouble with the site of the explorer's first settlement that he had with the Mississippi river. They can't find it.

But while the delegation, commemorating the 250th anniversary of LaSalle's death, found historical trails cold today they found a hot feud raging between two Texas counties.

Jackson county and Victoria county, fronting Matagorda bay, are good neighbors except on one issue—each has an "official" site where the claim LaSalle established Camp St. Louis, the first deliberate European settlement in Texas.

Jackson county claims the site was on the west bank of the Lavaca river and has historical documents "to prove

Woman's Angle

...ve time? Americans have ...passion for saving time. Some ...ple think that we overdo it. But ...arles M. Ripley, says that time-saving is the essence of our prosperity. More important than that, time-saving has given new ease and dignity to American life.

"Let those who complain of the monotony of the present machine age, consider briefly," says Ripley in The Nation's Business. "What was more monotonous than following the old walking plow, or carrying a hod of brick, or bending over a wash tub? Time-saving machinery has ended these monotonies. The Man With The Hoe was a poetic figure but he had little inspiration and little economic hope for the future."

Many times we sit in contemplation of where all the speed in modern life is taking us. Few of us ponder the question deeply enough to see that by mastering time we acquire the leisure that enables us to contemplate it.

A PLEASING BARITONE

ROLLIN PEASE, handsome bass baritone from Tucson, Arizona, who is to appear in concert tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium, sang before an enthusiastic audience here two years ago. He's really good. Of his interesting appearing program there are two selections that we'd walk five miles to hear: "It Is Enough" from Mendelssohn's 'Elijah' and "How Do I Love Thee" Browning, with music by Hadley.

There's one thing we notice in a prevue of the baritone's program, he gives credit to the writers of the words as well as the musical composers. Clippings from papers in many cities in the United States show that Mr. Pease is cordially approved as a singer. There's nothing flighty, dramatic or temperamental about him. He has a good voice—he knows it—and he uses it.

INVEST IN YOURSELF

SOMEONE has laid down several first principles which include:

Be prompt.

Do a full day's work.

Study the function of the business in which you are engaged. If you are a stenographer, do not be content merely to type good letters. Know the purpose of the letters you type. Whatever your job may be, try to find a relationship between it and the main business of the company. If you work for an electric power and light company, your wages are paid by the users of the current. Your ultimate function is to serve them. Skillful work is not enough. You must know the object of your skill.

However humble your job may be, you can use it to stimulate improvement in yourself. If you are a telephone operator, why not be a good one. Learn to enunciate well, and to speak good English. Any improvements you can make will be useful to you as long as you live. Cultivate a pleasant disposition, learn to identify people by their voices, make callers feel important. This will be helpful to your employer, but it will be more helpful to you.

Patience will reward you more than genius. Do not look for lucky breaks. Be grateful if you can avoid lucky breaks. Have faith in the principle of compound interest. A slight improvement every day, like a small deposit every week, will win distinction for you.

Learn to enjoy life as you go along. You can buy comfort with money, but you can't buy happiness. The capacity to live happily can be cultivated. The time to start is right now.

ON CLOCKS AND TIME

WHY do people keep clocks that don't run? Why do people invariably say their watches are too slow, or too fast or probaly not correct when you ask the time of day? Why do people set their watches up or back whenever they see time that is different to theirs?

IT'S...NO SURPRISE

ELTON PLOWMAN, talented sophomore student of Tech and voice student of Miss Myrtle Dunn, won first place in a state contest sponsored at a meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in Dallas, March 19 and 20. He defeated a baritone from Dallas, winning a cash prize of $15.00. The second day of the meeting he competed in an inter-district contest with a baritone from Stillwater, Okla., but lost.

Mr. Plowman said the only other ex-Tech student competing in contests at the meeting was Miss Madeline Ely of Ralls.

As far back as our memory serves us in such matters, it seems that pupils of the Misses Dunn have been consistent winners of state honors.

Mrs. T. M. Wiley, a missionary to India, spoke on "Costumes and Food of the Hindu and Mohammedan People." She stated that these people eat bread and rice chiefly, and as their water is impure they drink hot tea. Lack of sanitation causes much sickness and death, and the children are all undernourished, she said. Mrs. Wiley discussed the position of the women, who are absolutely possessed by their husbands and have no privileges whatever. The natives like bright colors so well that the missionaries often put red coloring in their medicine to induce them to take it.

A new member, Mrs. H. V. Edwards, was present at the meeting. Mrs. Vernon Henderson of Shallowater was a guest. Members of the club present were Mesdames Everett L. Price, W. J. Whittaker, M. B. Cranford, L. L. Miller, O. H. Gooding, G. G. Stringer, J. T. Pountain, Claude Martin, T. S. Cranford and Chas. Ross.

The next meeting of the club will be April 15 at the home of Mrs. Gooding, 1919 Nineteenth street.

Mount Rainier, Washington, one of the highest peaks in continental United States, was once a volcano. It was discovered in 1793 by Vancouver, who disregarded its Indian name of Tacoma, and named it after Admiral Rainier of the British navy.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION
You have to correct the cause. Simply taking a pill now and then is just temporary—and often harmful.
Most constipation is due to meals low in "bulk." Put enough "bulk" in your diet and you can really correct common constipation.
That's why millions of people eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day. This cereal furnishes "bulk" which does not "break down" in the body. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, gently sponges and cleanses the system.
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Besides "bulk," it has vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream. Three times daily in severe cases. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Tree Planting Project Is On

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 1. — Approximately 1,000,000 trees are being set out by the Resettlement administration on its 17,000 acre land utilization project in Fannin county, D. P. Trent, regional director, says about 500,000 have been planted and enough to complete the million ordered. Part of the trees are coming from the United States nursery maintained in cooperation with the Louisiana State conservation service at Woodworth, La., and approximately 55,000 pines are coming from the Texas state forest service nursery near Lufkin.

The Louisiana trees include black locust and some oaks and walnut. Planting probably will be completed within the next thirty days, he says.

Gullies Are Blocked

The first lake completed on the Fannin county project is clear, blue water in an area where others are muddy, Trent says. This is because every gulley draining into this lake has been blocked with some sort of check dam to stop erosion which, in effect filters the water which runs into the lake. Large check dams of brush were built across the main gullies, and in the smallest gullies the same purpose is achieved by strips of heavy sod. On the slopes where there are no gullies, "contour ridges," or terraces, were built. The contour ridges and terraces on the 17,000 acres have a lineal measurement of more than two hundred miles, the engineer reported.

Part of the project on which eleven stone cabins, a bathing beach, a bathhouse, and other recreational facilities have been built, probably will be thrown open to the public early in the summer, Trent says.

To Be Sanctuary

"Large numbers of wild ducks, geese, and other game birds and game animals are reported seeking refuge on this project, which will be a wild life sanctuary as well as a soil conservation and recreation project."

Tom Tolmie, progress engineer from the Washington office assigned to check southwestern land use projects of the RA, visited the Fannin county project recently and said that it was one of the most outstanding among the 94 being developed by the Resettlement administration throughout the nation, Trent says.

'Musts' In Daily Living Will Make For Happy Family

BY JOAN DURHAM

(AP) Feature Service

Are you one of those funny-paper characters who spend a full hour in the bathroom while the rest of the family lines outside the door—firmly resolving to beat you to it tomorrow morning?

Are you caught by callers at 4:30 in the afternoon with curlers in your hair and a feather boa around your shoulders?

It's the little things in family life that keep up the family morale. Every woman who has any concern for her family's general well-being ought to insist on schooling everybody in those extra niceties that pay handsome dividends in family happiness.

For consideration in the home is the backbone of successful family living.

Get Down To Breakfast

Getting down to breakfast on time—fully dressed and with something besides a grouchy disposition—really isn't so difficult, once the habit has been established.

Teaching everybody to answer the family telephone politely and take messages carefully makes it much easier for all concerned. (A convenient memo pad and pencils will help.)

Cigaret Problem

From the youngest member of the menage right up through and including the two heads of the house it ought to be thoroughly understood that being polite to all guests in the house is a not-to-be-violated rule. That goes for Ginny Zeis—who comes to see nine-year-old Anna Marie Bundy—just as much as it does for Mama and Papa Bundy's guests.

Resting cigarets on the ash trays meant to hold them — and not burning holes in the living room furniture or casually dumping the remains into soiled dishes — is something which requires just a dash of extra thoughtfulness on the part of the head of the house.

Always standing when the older members of the family or their visitors come into the room . . . teaching Earnest, jr., to pull his sister's chair out at the dinner table . . . instructing sister to pause long enough to say hello to company in her rush through the living room to get her skates in the kitchen—all of these little considerations should be "musts" in every family's etiquette routine.

Dallas Man, Found Dead In Creek, Buried Thursday

DALLAS, April 1. (AP) — Funeral services were held here this afternoon for James C. Allen, 58, found drowned yesterday in Turtle creek. He is survived by his widow; five brothers, W. J. Allen and G. L. Allen of Dallas; F. M. Allen, Hoboken, Ga.; H. A. Allen, Weatherford, Tex.; D. R. Allen, Lovington, N. M.; and two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Wiggington, St. Joseph, Mo., and Mrs. J. H. Hallmark, Fort Worth, Tex.

Allen a resident of this city 21 years, was sales-service manager for the Otis Elevator Co. He had been missing since Saturday when he telephoned home that he would return in "a couple of hours."

The body was found near Stone creek drive approximately 20 feet from his submerged automobile. Police believed his death was an accident, although a murder theory was being investigated.

Modern Cooler

When engineers at Chattahooga wanted a dungeon for the new county workhouse, they thought of "cooler," and evolved this modernistic bastile that looks like a mechanical refrigerator. It is 10 feet high, made of thick concrete, reinforced with steel. Nine holes admit air, but no light. It has no seat, no bed. Cornbread and water are shoved through a double-locked door at the bottom. Inside it is dark, day and night.

Federal School Aid Is Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Representative Wright Patman of Texarkana, Tex., urged today federal aid for public schools and government ownership of the Federal Reserve banks.

Patman testified before the house education committee in support of the Black-Harrison-Fletcher bill. The measure would provide $100,000,000 federal aid for schools in the next fiscal year, with a $50,000,000 annual increase until a $300,000,000 maximum had been reached.

"I am very much in favor of this bill," the Texan told the committee. "I believe it the duty of the national government to help educate the boys and girls. No child should be denied an education because he lives in a poor community."

Patman suggested, as a means of financing the proposal, that the government "take a firm grip on the money monopoly."

The government, he said, would have $800,000,000 a year by taking over the 12 Federal Reserve banks, now privately owned, and in this way quit paying interest on its own obligations.

Ropesville Man's Hen Lays Unusually Large Eggs

HOW many eggs do you like for breakfast?

You do? Not three like that exhibited in Lubbock this week by R. B. Bradshaw of seven miles west of Ropesville.

An ordinary egg will weigh approximately two ounces. That shown by Bradshaw weighed six! Three times as much!

Measured lengthwise, the huge egg was nine inches, and in girth it was seven and one-quarter inches!

He suspects one of his Rhode Island hens, said Bradshaw.

"It's the biggest egg I ever saw," he said. "Looks like one an ortrich pullet might have manufactured."

New Uses For Old Words Learned In City Trial

Discovery of a "jumper" fitted in "spuds" secured by "couplings" of a meter "pulled" after a "cutoff" spelled trial and acquittal for E. R. Reese, Lubbock contractor, after an all-afternoon trial before a jury in the corporation court of City Recorder C. E. Luce Thursday.

Which is another way of saying that Reese was found not guilty on a charge of tapping a city main to supply his home with water after his meter had been removed for alleged non-payment of bills.

The jury in the case returned its verdict quickly after having learned new uses for old words during the testimony of water department employes and officials who applied terms of their own in detailing the accusation against Reese. For judge, jury, City Attorney Durwood Bradley and Defense Counsel Hill Stewart it was a profitable afternoon insofar as learning was concerned.

Terms made more or less clear, and considering further testimony that delinquent electric bills figured in the water cutoff at the Reese home, the jury required less than 15 minutes to return its verdict.

New Reserves Of Oil Are Sought

By ALFRED WALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., April 1. — Its general business bowling along on an even keel, the oil industry is focusing a major portion of its attention on research for new reserves underground.

"This country," said an authority here today, "is being raked over as with a fine tooth comb for likely drilling spots. Every method of geology and geophysics is being brought into play and territories long passed up are being scrutinized as possible productive areas."

Barely Kept Pace

It was pointed out that in 1936 discoveries barely kept pace with demand for crude. The year before only a moderate amount of new reserves were uncovered.

Among the reports of new oil play receiving attention here were those telling of heavy leasing in Illinois. A survey showed that 1,200,000 acres in 16 counties were under lease by major companies and independents. Shallow production in the Patoka field in Marion county was the original attraction.

Another Area Watched

Another area being watched was the Arkansas-Louisiana-Texas division where recent showings gave indications that the North Rodessa field might extend into Arkansas, forming a tri-state field.

Older producing areas in Oklahoma where valuable new production has been found through late methods of repressuring and redrilling came in for considerable attention.

Among leading executives there was no fear of a crude oil shortage but they generally were in agreement with the consensus of geologists that while plenty of crude oil reserves are to be found, the search will be wider and the costs of production higher.

Industry Is Pleased

The industry was pleased by senate passage of the Connally "hot oil" bill, which, while perhaps not needed at the moment, was regarded as an excellent safety valve that would prove its worth in case of a major discovery of flush production.

The markets for both crude and refined products remained unchanged and demand was good. Verbal speculation on price increases in the near future persisted.

In keeping with the mounting inventories of crude and refined resulting from the heavy production of March, major producing states set allowables which indicated April production probably would be smaller than that of March.

A number of pool extensions were recorded by the wells completed during the week. Completions totaled 365, which was 41 more than the week before.

Former Chambermaid Happy Over Supreme Court Ruling

WENATCHEE, Wash., April 1. (AP) — Happy because she won her long court battle to recover $216 due her under the state's minimum wage law for women, Mrs. Elsie Parrish, 43, said today she believed the United States Supreme court's validation of the law would "make things easier for other women."

Mrs. Parrish, a grandmother who lives with her daughter at Omak, Wash., wondered when she would collect the $216, the amount she claimed represented the difference between her salary as a hotel chambermaid and the minimum of $ 4.50 a week required by the 24-year-old law.

WELCOME, STRANGERS

SEWARD, Alaska. (AP)—Well heeled with gold and platinum, a party of miners has sailed for Juneau en route to the United States. They plan to cash in their bullion, have a big time of it this winter and return for a new stake next year.

Of all the world's millions of insects, not one specie lives in the ocean.

A FARMER BOY

ONE of the best known medical men in the United States was Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, New York, who was born on a farm in Pa. He noted daily in his medical career that many of his prescriptions prepared from roots, barks, and herbs, such as his "Favorite Prescription," produced astonishing results.

He early founded a Clinic and Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y. Advice by letter is free.

For young girls growing into womanhood, for women in middle life going through the "change," or those who suffer from backache, headache, nervousness and discomforts associated with functional disturbances, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just the vegetable tonic needed. It stimulates the appetite. New size, tabs. 50c., liquid $1.00 and $1.35

Gold Theft Plot Is Uncovered

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, April 1. — Beulous stories of gold stolen from the worlds' largest mine, the Homestake at Lead, S. D., led to underworld plots and counter-plots to obtain the loot. Rowlind K. Goddard of the secret service said today, announcing five men admitted they tried unsuccessfully to obtain the gold.

"As a group," Goddard said, "the five men made arrangements for contacts with the actual thieves.

"But, while plotting together as a group," he added, "as individuals they made plans for 'hi-jacking' the proposed shipments."

To Face Charges

While not under arrest in the case, Goddard said, the men "are available at all times" and charges of conspiring to violate the gold act of 1934 will be filed against them.

The men who admitted attempting to run the stolen gold, Goddard asserted, had no connection with three miners arrested last week and held for trial at Deadwood, S. D., on grand larceny charges.

He branded the men held at Deadwood as "small fry", contending "they stole gold ore that had not yet been milled."

After Real Thieves

"The real thieves that we are after," he said, "are the ones that stole gold amalgam from the Homestake mill in small quantities and stored it up."

Gold amalgam is a gold-mercury combination obtained during gold refining.

At the time of the arrests last week Goddard announced a hunt was in progress for Parks du Pont, self-styled former member of the French Foreign Legion, whom the secret service man characterized as the "brains" of a conspiracy to sell gold stolen from the mine.

A major mystery always has been what happened to the gold amalgam stolen—or "high-graded," as mining men term it—from the Homestake.

Authorities assert only a fraction ever reached government mints or commercial channels.

Secret service men and mine detectives have hunted it unsuccessfully for three years. The men Goddard said admitted trying to buy it contend they never saw it.

The belief prevails it is cached somewhere in the scenic Black Hills, not far from the mine.

What A Come-Down!

For years the 100-foot chimney proudly reared its head above its surroundings in London. And, as pride goeth before a fall, it was in for a big comedown when the city fathers decided to put an extension on the nearby Bethnal Green Town Hall. You can see for yourself that the demolition was a crackling fine job.

Imports Exceed U. S. Exports

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1. — The commerce department reported today that American purchases aboard exceeded sales by $63,826,000 during the first two months of this year.

This so-called "unfavorable trade balance" compared with a $331,000 balance of exports in the same period a year ago.

In the 1937 two months, exports totaled $454,375,000, increasing $73,788,000 over the same period a year ago. Imports were $518,201,000 imports, climbing $187,945,000.

In February, exports totaled $232,504,000, falling $45,301,000 short of the $277,805,000 aggregate of imports. The department said that in every month since the end of 1934 imports had increased in value over the corresponding month of the previous year. Exports increased in all months but four.

Suggestions For Safe Driving

CURVES AND TURNS

No matter how perfect the condition of the car, the DRIVER is the most important factor in safe driving.

Be careful when passing cars, especially if another car is approaching.

Passing cars on turns and corners involves additional as passing a string of cars 300 feet long.

Don't "wonder" if you can make it—take no chances.

Passing cars on turns and corners involve additional dangers.

Turning curves on highways that are not "banked" increases the hazards.

You can't take liberties with natures laws of momentum and centrifugal force. Study them.

Stalin Calls For Extermination

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, April 1.—Joseph Stalin called upon Russia today for "merciless" extermination of all Bolshevist enemies in what was interpreted as a virtual death sentence for hundreds under arrest as counter-revolutionaries.

The demand of the Soviet leader, regarded as an ultimatum to the Communist party, was made in the Kremlin March 5 before the closing session of a plenum of the central committee of the party and was published today.

Have Lost Their Influence

"I think it is clear," the secretary of the central committee declared "that the present wreckers and diversionists—no matter whether they have masked themselves under the flag of Trotzkyism or Bukharinism—have lost their influence in the worker's movement and have become simply an unprincipled and idealless band of professional wreckers, diversionists, spies and murderers.

"It is quite clear these gentlemen should be destroyed, exterminated mercilessly as enemies of the working class and enemies of our country.

"This is clear and does not demand further interpretation."

PRO-MODERN

A foremost exponent of modern architecture is William Lescaze.

By CHARLES NORMAN
AP Feature Service Writer

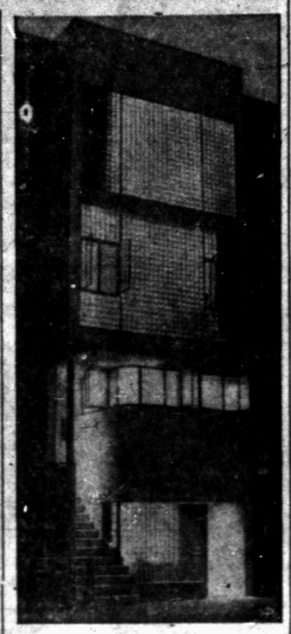

NEW YORK, April 1. — Like Shakespeare's rustic philosopher, William Lescaze sees "sermons in stones"—the kind that make buildings.

"Modern architecture," he says (and he's one of its foremost exponents), "is not a form versus another form, but a process of thinking versus a total lack of thinking."

He sees modern man, able to project himself great distances via the plane, the automobile and the radio, cramping himself in houses that served his forebears in a "horse-and-buggy" era.

"Basically," he says, "it is a question of approach or reaction to: 'What is it all about?' The modern architect wants to create a new form of shelter in keeping with modern life. He is more interested in creating space than in creating patterns. I think we give people more of house for the dollar spent than any other form of architecture."

If there is a destiny "that shapes

HOME

Outdoing the three little pigs, Lescaze built his house of glass.

men's ends," it is probable it had a hand in the career of the 41-year-old, Swiss-born architect. In appearance he seems a typical "modern man." Tall, broad-shouldered, urbane and smartly tailored, his face and figure present an impressive structure of massive, yet simple planes in which his brown eyes are vividly alive.

He lives in a glass house he designed, and has his offices on the ground floor. His own office, with one wall gray, another white, and a third dark gray, gives him an environment in which space and utility combine with dramatic effect. A deep but narrow drawer in his desk serves as a scrap-basket. Like the ordinary variety, it has to be emptied, but it doesn't take up floor space.

"If walls are all painted alike," he says, "they give you the feeling of being inside a box. On the other hand, if you study what's going to happen in a particular room, you find out quickly a reason for accentuating certain places."

First Modern School

At present he is looking forward to completion of what he terms "the first modern school in the country," which he designed for Ansonia, Conn. It is a high school, with a capacity of 1,000 children.

In an article he wrote, he quoted from Sacha Guitry's autobiography:

"Why should all schools give off the atsmosphere of prisons? The architects who put up such horrors should be punished."

"I think," adds Lescaze, "he should, in all fairness, have said the architects and the boards of education."

He has no hobby but his life work, and when an article about him appeared in a magazine he was visited by a woman who tried to sell him an accordion.

"You should have a hobby," she told him.

Valley Is Using Variety Brands On Its Citrus

BROWNSVILLE, April 1. (AP) — Although lower Rio Grande valley citrus is grown in a narrow strip approximately 70 miles long, it is packed and shipped under more than 351 brands and tradesmarks for grapefruit, oranges, and other citrus, a list prepared by Hart T. Longino, supervisor of inspection for the Texas-Federal shipping joint inspection service, shows.

The purpose of the registration is to indicate the grade of fruit shipped under the various brands. For example, a shipper registers a brand as representing U. S. No. 1, and other brands as representing other grades. Receiving markets being provided with lists of registered brands know they represent certain grade fruit. Grades packed under brands may not be changed after registration.

There also are unregistered brands and trademarks, but in these cases shippers are required to stamp the official grade of the contents on the container along with the trademark or brand. Registered trademarks or brands, however, are sufficient markings. Each shipper has from one to seven registered brands, and some co-operatives have master brands in addition to those for member associations.

Very few of the brands or trademarks identify the area in which the fruit is produced, Longino says. "Gold," "Sweet," and variations of "Texas" and "Rio" are favorite tags.

Standard On Wool Shrinkage Is Proposed To Department

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Rep. Paul R. Greever of Cody, Wyo., proposed today the agriculture department conduct investigations to establish a government standard by which wool shrinkage would be estimated.

Greever said he seeks protection of wool producers who often suffer severe losses through "erratic methods of shrinkage estimates" made by wool buyers who pay clean wool market prices after the shrinkage estimate has been deducted.

Greever and Representative Charles L. South of Coleman, Tex., asked a house appropriations subcommittee to provide a $50,000 fund enabling the bureau of agricultural economics to conduct the survey over a period of years.

Senators Listen With Humility To Testimony

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP) —Senators on both sides of the Supreme court controversy listened with humility today to Dean Henry M. Bates of the University of Michigan law school—because he once lectured leaders of both factions in the same class room.

As Bates began his testimony before the senate judiciary committee, Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz) disclosed he and Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) a fiery critic of the president's court bill, had studied under Bates in 1903.

"And he marked me down many times for being unprepared," the chairman added.

Today the investigators found numerous fragments of bones among pottery, shells and flints exposed by erosion and the plow.

Hearing Is Set On Land Case

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1. — Rep. Phil Ferguson of Woodward, Okla., announced today the house public lands committee will conduct a hearing April 6 on his bill governing disposition of land in a boundary territory between the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

Ferguson's office said the interior department approved the measure. It would provide that a citizen who can show he has held public land south of the Cimarron base line in Oklahoma and north of the "north line" of Texas "in good faith" for not less than ten years may enter a tract of not more than 160 acres, and receive a patent for $1.25 an acre.

Would Relinquish Title

The federal government would relinquish title to present owners of townsite land.

A strip 150 miles long and up to 500 feet wide is involved in the land in question was withdrawn from sale or settlement by executive order in April, 1934, pending legislation authorizing disposal.

"There are many improvements within the strip, most of which are the property of Texas land owners," Acting Secretary Charles West of the interior department said in a letter to the committee.

WESTERNER SAYS: NOW I EAT CABBAGE AND BEANS SINCE I TOOK VAN-TAGE!

"But Before I Found Van-Tage My Stomach Would Swell With Gas To Twice Normal Size After Every Meal!" Says Texan. "Now I Am Relieved!"

"I never would have believed there was such a medicine!" That is what people all over this section are saying about VAN-TAGE, the Amazing Mixture of Nature's Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients now being introduced to the local public at The Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway. Day after day, Widely-Known men and women continue to come forward and publicly endorse this Great Compound. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. Lemuel J. Earl, of 2910 Alabama St., Dallas, Tex., made the following statement:

Stomach Swollen With Gas After His Meals

"I found Blessed Relief from long-time suffering by taking Van-Tage, and I want to give you my statement and publicly endorse this Great Medicine to others who are in misery like I was," said Mr. Earl. "After every meal that I ate I would bloat up with gas, in fact, my stomach would swell until it was twice its natural size. So you can imagine how miserable I felt! If I tried to eat such foods as cabbage or beans I would be in agony. A sour, burning liquid would rush up into my throat from my stomach and would strike the roof of my mouth like a regular fountain of scalding water.

"The worst thing was that it looked like nothing could help me, so I was badly discouraged when a friend came to me one day and told me about Van-Tage. He urged me to get it. So finally I did so and that was one of the best things I ever did in my life, for this medicine has given me relief. It cleared so much gas and sourness from my stomach organs that my awful bloating went down and I can even eat cabbage and beans now and not suffer afterward. Davis Declares Time Not Yet Ripe For International Disarmament Parley

War Tension Is Reason Given

By JOHN MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 1.—Norman H. Davis, America's ambassador at large, said tonight he will discuss world economic and peace cooperation with British statesmen, but that the time is not yet ripe for an international disarmament conference.

Tension created by the Spanish civil war and widespread suspicion in the European mind made disarmament impracticable now, he asserted.

His disavowal of any United States intention to propose an armament conference now, coincided with that of Secretary of State Hull in Washington.

Follows General Reaction

It came after general reaction in European capitals against such a conference at this time, a stepping up of Franco-British aerial armaments, and new efforts by those two nations to settle the question of foreign volunteers in Spain.

An apparent softening of the Italo-German attitude inspired France and Britain to urge again that non-Spanish fighters be withdrawn from the Spanish civil war.

A French foreign office spokesman avowed that the government "is more optimistic that the Spanish war will not entangle Europe than at any time since the war began."

Revolt Inspires Move

An effective neutrality control scheme will be in operation within ten days, both French and British sources predicted. Some observers thought the new effort to get foreign fighters out of Spain was inspired by reports of dissension and revolt against Italians fighting in the insurgent army.

Demonstrations against the insurgent regime were reported today from Valladolid and Algeciras; and reports still persisted that there was serious reaction against General Francisco Franco in Spanish Morocco, where he staged the beginning of his fight to overthrow the Spanish republic.

Some French officials anticipated withdrawal of foreigners in Spain, but felt Italians in the insurgent army might attempt one more offensive before agreeing to go back home.

Davis noted a slight relaxation in the Spanish tension and added his view that the civil war had "a sobering influence" on all Europe.

Here for the international sugar conference opening Monday, Davis said he intended to discuss all matters pertaining to key points in American foreign policy, economic cooperation, peace, disarmament.

Unique Contention Made In Insurance Action

A father's contention that his son played "hookey" from school and thus never learned to read was made the basis for a suit on an insurance policy filed late Thursday in Lubbock county court.

Plaintiff in the suit is Luther P. Taylor, as father and next friend for Jessie H. Taylor, described in the petition as incurably ill with tuberculosis, against the Mid-Continent Life Insurance company. Judgment for $285 allegedly due under a disability clause, for $34.21 in interest and $150 in attorney's fees is asked. Taylor is represented in the action by M. S. Rayburn, Slaton attorney.

Failed To Present Claim

The petition contends that when Jessie Taylor became ill of pneumonia which developed in tuberculosis early in 1935, he failed to present claims under which he would have been entitled to $10 per month disability because the son "as a boy, refused to go to school, and when sent played hookey from school, and is unlearned in the English language unable to read and barely able to write his name."

The father contends that the son's lack of education forbade his making application for disability until two years after he became helplessly an invalid. The judgment sought allegedly covers the period between the time of the origination of the son's illness and the filing of formal notice of his condition with the insurance company nearly two years later.

War On Dogs Is Continued Here

Although no new cases of Lubbock children bitten by dogs possibly mad were reported to city health officers yesterday, war on dogs was continued by police and officers of the sanitation department and anxious parents continued to report to police stray dogs.

Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, said there were no new developments since a second dog Wednesday afternoon was found to be affected by rabies.

Six children are being given antirabic serums.

Fear of a possible epidemic was aroused Tuesday when five children were bitten by an animal found by the city laboratory to be mad.

As a precaution against an epidemic, city officials have issued warnings to dog owners to have their pets vaccinated immediately and obtain licenses for them. Dogs found without licenses will be placed in the pound and if not claimed in three days will be killed, officers said.

Scholastic Census Is To Be Taken To Ascertain Toll

NEW LONDON, April 1. (AP)—A scholastic census will be taken in about two weeks here to ascertain the toll in the March 18 blast. Classes are to be resumed tomorrow morning in buildings that escaped the explosion.

Two days have been spent in reorganization and enrollment.

Superintendent W. C. Shaw said today the total number of students and teachers killed would be "about 300."

"Our surveys, roll calls and other efforts to determine the correct number of dead lead us to believe the final result will be about 300," he said in a signed statement.

"The published lists containing 455 names had many discrepancies, which, I am sure, could not have been avoided in a disaster such as ours.

"We thank God that those reports were wrong."

NEGRO SPIRITED AWAY

MARION, N. C., April 1. (AP)—Sheriff Grady Nichols spirited a negro youth out of the county early after a crowd surrounded the jail where the boy was held on a charge of ravishing a 12-year-old white girl.

The sheriff said the "situation looked bad" when he slipped the negro out of the McDowell county jail and whisked him in an auto to the 15-story jail at Asheville, in adjoining Buncombe county.

Mississippi farm income in 1936 exceeded $300,000,000.

Jesse Jones Indicates Extension Of Liquidation Deadline For Loan Cotton

RFC Chief Says Action Likely

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, announced today 1,150,000 bales of cotton on which the Commodity Credit corporation had made 11 and 12-cent loans had been liquidated through April 1.

The corporation had made loans on approximately 3,000,000 bales, but on February 1, last, notified farmers they might sell this cotton at a price based on the average price at 10 designated spot markets.

The period for liquidating the cotton automatically ends with the close of business today, but Jones said the time could be extended without difficulty.

Jones said he did not know what the corporation would do with the remaining 1,850,000 bales on which the government has loans, but indicated farmers would be given further opportunity to liquidate their holdings.

Comparatively calm and with a cloudless sky, the day was comfortable from early to late hours. The day's minimum recording was 39.5 degrees. Maximum wind velocity was 18 miles an hour.

In And Out Like Lamb

The heralded wild month of March came in like a lamb—and went out like a lamb. Records at the state experiment sub-station near Lubbock disclosed that month's total precipitation was 1.81 inches, a departure of .89 plus over the 25-year average of .92 inch.

A fact that could have influenced the comparatively few sandstorms of March is found in figures showing the total windrun was 5,498 miles, as compared with a normal of 6,558 miles. This fact, together with more than average rainfall, possibly was significant.

Other Data Given

Other weather information, as shown in reports of Don L. Jones, station superintendent:

You'd Hardly Think It Was Supposed To Fly

Even the inventors, Louis Chiquet and Henri van Zandt, call the "Aerial Phantom" revolutionary. Wingless, propellerless, rudderless, they also call it an airship capable of flying. Motive and lifting power, they explained to spectators at New York, are supplied by the revolving drum (center) and the lifting blades at each side.

WHEAT NOT DAMAGED

PERRYTON (AP)—Although Ochiltree county suffered from the effects of several dust storms in February, it is believed the wheat crop was not seriously damaged. Sunshine after a general snow fall resulted in considerable growth that is expected to hold the soil and check further wind erosion.

The rocks which make up the Palisades in New York are 150,000,000 years old, according to geologists.

Sit-Down Strike Fails To Gain Holiday At Abilene

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, April 1.—Three hundred grade school pupils were left a little dizzy but unpunished late today by developments in a sit-down strike which failed to gain them an April Fools' holiday.

Nor will they be punished, announced W. D. Gulledge, principal of the Central Ward school. He was inclined to laugh off the incident.

Cannon Is Fired

The demonstration, part of a city observance which was marked by the mysterious firing of a seldom-used World War cannon on one of Abilene's three college campuses and a full holiday at another, wound up with laughs for everybody.

Principal Gulledge confessed that the strike, the first sit-down ever staged here, fast had him ruffled.

"But they were quite gracious when I asked whether they were ready to end their fun and go back to work," he reported. "Of course we would have been forced to punish some if they had refused to obey their teachers then."

Plan Last Laugh

Gulledge and other instructors planned to claim the last laugh after reluctantly answering a reporter's questions about the demonstration.

"Will this story be broadcast on your afternoon news report?" asked Mrs. Mickey C. Miller, a central teacher. She referred to 4 o'clock newscast of KRBC, (the Abilene Reporter-News station.)

"Very likely," she was told.

"Well, we'll just keep 'em in until time for the broadcast," Mrs. Miller chuckled. Classes ordinarily end at 3:15 o'clock.

Changed Their Minds

But the school officials changed their minds after having their fun another way. There wasn't any detention for the sit-downers.

Gulledge told it this way:

"Afternoon classes begin every day at 1 o'clock after an hour for lunch. Pupils began to fidget about 1:30 o'clock when the bell hadn't rung for them to start work again.

"And one youngster's eyes bugged out when I sent him to find out why the teacher who rings the bell hadn't done so. He came back to tell me: 'She said you told her to go on a sit-down strike.'

Classes were resumed shortly afterward.

Ringleaders Denied

The principal denied there were any ringleaders in the strike.

"If there were, I don't know about them," he said.

It all began when the 300 sixth and seventh graders, who occupy the second floor of the Central school, refused to open their books this morning. Three hundred fifty other pupils on the first floor were not involved. The strike continued until about 11 o'clock without disorder.

Then participants grew hot and thirsty and uncertain whether they would be allowed to leave for lunch. They abandoned demands for a holiday, went to work, and were ready to leave at noon.

Possibilities seen by one mother failed to materialize.

"They can't sit down if you paddle 'em," she asserted. "What would we do if they started that at home?" she added.

Apparently Principal Gulledge saw it another way. You can't paddle 'em if they're sitting down, either.

Extending Life Span Possible

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 1. — The average length of human life could be stretched another 10 years, Dr. Thomas Parran said today, if advantage were taken of available medical knowledge.

Dr. Parran, surgeon-general of the United States public health service, said that in the last 80 years the average length of life of men has increased from 38 to 61 years and of women from 40 to 64 years.

Confident Of Extension

"I feel confident another 10 years could be added to the life expectancy," he said, "entirely aside from the possibility of discovering an effective preventative for cancer or major heart diseases."

Diseases of the heart cause more deaths than any other affliction of mankind, he explained, the death rate being more than double that of cancer.

Many Cases Treated

While no effective general treatment is available, he said, many cases are being successfully treated and the length of life prolonged.

"Great progress in reducing the incidence of heart disease will be made in the present drive to control and eradicate syphilis, since syphilis is the cause of a large percentage of heart ailments," Dr. Parran added.

Considerable progress in lengthening the lives of cancer sufferers, he said, may be expected in the next few years through the present campaign to educate the public to the fact that early cancer is curable.

Faculty Members, Students Of Junior High Invited To Attend Dallas Meet

Faculty members and students of the Lubbock Junior High school, have been invited to participate in the fifth annual junior high school conference to be held at Southern Methodist university April 30 and May 1, according to Dr. G. O. Clough and Dr. C. L. Wisseman, who are in charge of the meeting.

More than 1,500 are expected to attend the conference which is designed to let each junior high school know what other similar institutions are doing. Much attention will be devoted to active participation and demonstration on the part of the students.

Outstanding speakers at the conference will include Dr. George W. Frasier, president of Greeley, Colorado, State Teachers College, and Eli Foster, assistant superintendent of the Tulsa, Okla., schools.

Technical Testimony To Be Taken In Green Estate Case

DALLAS, April 1. (AP) — Commissioner Raymond Prime of New York awaited technical testimony today before ending the Texas hearings in the legal dispute over the late Col. E. H. R. Green's vast fortune.

He said he wished to get opinions on Texas laws before taking the hearing, held at the direction of a New York surrogate court, to Miami, Fla., where Col. Green sometimes lived before his death last year.

The New York court ordered hearings here and at Terrell, in an effort to decide if the late son of Hetty Green had his legal residence in this state. New York, Massachusetts, Florida and Texas want inheritance taxes from the estate, while Green's widow, Mrs. Mabel Harlow Green, and his sister, Mrs. Sylvia Wilks of New York, are contending over the bulk of the estate, estimated as high as $80,000,000.

There are now 95,000 motion picture theaters in the world, an increase of about 8,000 in the last year. Soviet Russia accounted for 4,290 of this increase.

Three Blocks A Day Is Best Traveling Missing Pig Does; In City Pound

Three blocks a day proved too slow for an outlaw pig to remain free from the clutches of the law.

A stray shoat reported in the 3000 block of Twenty-second street about 9 o'clock Thursday morning late yesterday afternoon was seized by members of the police force and transported to the City pound. The animal was "picked up" in the 3000 block of Nineteenth street.

The pig is believed to be the same as one reported lost Wednesday afternoon by 15-year-old Cortie Coffman, son of C. E. Coffman of Ropesville. Young Coffman purchased a 175-pound Hampshire gilt at a sale at the Plains Quality Meat show Wednesday afternoon and started home with him. On arrival at his home, Coffman found the gilt had jumped from the trailer. The pig was tagged No. 100.

Police said the animal found yesterday was tagged, but they did not know the number.

Investigators Believed On Right Track In Bomb Probe

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., April 1. (AP) — Col. B. Marvin Casteel, superintendent of the Missouri highway patrol, announced today he believed investigators were "on the right trail now for solution" of the automobile-bomb explosion in which Mayor Gail A. Jacobs was injured critically.

Colonel Casteel said the investigation would be "long drawn out," and at the same time announced investigators had discarded a theory that a disgruntled coal hauler may have made an attempt on the mayor's life.

The mayor's condition was reported improved today.

Unusual Requirement Placed On Church In Texas City

TEXAS CITY, April 1. (AP) — At the Church of Christi of Texas City women are forbidden to speak on any occasion by the terms of a deed filed recently conveying ownership of the church property to the congregation.

The unusual deed requires: "1. That no female person shall be permitted to teach or address any assembly of the church or any part thereof in the capacity of a teacher or preacher on any occasion, regardless of the day or the time thereof.

"2. That no organ, piano, or other musical instrument shall ever be used or kept on said premises.

"3. That there shall be no dividing of any assembly of the church or any number of its members into classes to be taught the Bible by either male or female teachers as is done in the modern Bible school or Sunday school.

"4. That there shall be no uninspired literature used as textbooks in the teaching of any assembly of the church.

"5 That worship on the premises will be characterized by a meeting on the first day of each week to 'break bread,' at which meeting the church shall be taught and edified by the male members speaking one at a time 'one by one.'"

Rheumatic Pains Yield To Gly-Cas

Mr. Zollicoffer Finds New Herbal Remedy Just What He Had Been Needing For Years; Entire System Toned

"For years before I knew of Gly-Cas kidney and stomach trouble had allowed my entire system to become clogged with poisons," said Mr. E. A. Zollicoffer, 302 North Georgia St., Amarillo, Texas.

MR. E. A. ZOLLICOFFER

"Soon rheumatism settled over my body, especially in my right knee. It became so stiff and sore it was almost impossible for me to step up on the sidewalk. Then too, my arms were so sore I practically lost the use of them. My stomach was in such a miserable condition for after every meal I was sure to suffer dreadfully with severe gas pains and bloating. A good night's sleep was almost out of the question and I seemed to be fast losing hold of my health in general. But a short trial of Gly-Cas soon corrected all of this for me."

"Never have I seen a medicine do its work as well as Gly-Cas," he continued. "I can walk with ease for that dreadful rheumatism has been driven from my body. My stomach and kidneys no longer bother me. I eat what I wish and suffer no ill effects afterwards, sleep good and am really an entirely different man I feel so well again. And to think, at my age of seventy-eight, that a single medicine like Gly-Cas could change my whole outlook on life by giving me back my health."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Mineral Wells Invitation Is Set April 29, May 2; Course Is Improved

MINERAL WELLS, April 1. — The annual invitation tournament of the Mineral Wells Golf and Country Club will be opened with qualifying rounds Thursday, April 29 and match play through Sunday, May 2, according to announcement made by Frank Mahurin, chairman of the tournament committee of the club.

This annual tournament has proven extremely popular throughout West Texas in past years and has, more or less, inaugurated the West Texas tournament season each year. Local committees in charge of the various events claim they are going to make the 1937 invitation the best meet ever held and that indications point to a record aggregation of golfers even at this early date.

Recent rains and work on the course, a thorough grooming, the planting of additional shrubbery, special attention to the greens, is putting the course in fine shape and making it very attractive—a month later should find the layout in wonderful shape for the invitation tournament.

An invitation is extended to clubs and individual players and a program will be mailed out in the near future, Mr. Mahurin stated. "We are planning an elaborate program that will attract the best talent in West Texas to Mineral Wells at this time," he stated.

Wilcy Should Know; He Has Hurled In Both Leagues

WESLACO, April 1. (AP) — Wilcy Moore, 40 year old Kansas City Blues pitcher and former big league star, said today at the McAllen training camp that it is easier to pitch in the American League than the American Association.

"In the big leagues a pitcher has better fielding behind him, parks are superior and other conditions more favorable," Moore said.

He broke in with the New York Yankees in 1927 at the age of 30, winning 19 games.

Moore said his old team was sure to repeat for the American League pennant and he said Kansas City had a good chance to win the American Association flag.

Moore, who is the center of attraction at the Kansas City training camp, said his arm was in good condition and that he expects to have a big year.

Puerto Rican Lightweight Is Ordered To Box Eddie Ran

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican lightweight contender, has been instructed by the New York State Athletic commission to go through with his postponed match with Eddie Ran of Poland at the Star Casino April 15. The match originally was to have been held last Thursday night but Montanez suffered a leg injury in training. The Puerto Rican's next start will be against Lou Ambers, lightweight champion, in a ten-round non-title match in Madison Square Garden next Monday night.

John Tarleton Cagers To Be Honored At 'Homecoming'

STEPHENVILLE, April 1. (AP) — Hundreds of ex-students and honored guests gather here tomorrow night to honor the John Tarleton junior college basketball team, winners of 78 consecutive games in four undefeated seasons.

Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president and a new member of the college board of directors, was invited to make the principal address.

Players who helped build Tarleton's great string, now students at senior universities, planned to return for the banquet.

Because of congested conditions in the Michigan State college gymnasium, the backs and ends of the football team are getting their winter training in a barn.

Creditors Of Negro's Estate Win In Inning In Controversy Thursday

For more than five years, the Lubbock county court has given puzzled attention to the involved affairs of the $2,000 estate of a negro man who died in 1932.

Thursday afternoon, the battle was renewed before County Judge J. J. Dillard in the nearest thing to a decisive engagement since the problem became a matter of legal controversy.

At the conclusion of the hearing, attorneys agreed that the case may be finally settled, perhaps within the next few years.

Amount Comparatively Small

The amount is comparatively small but Judge Dillard and Attorneys G. V. Pardue and Hill Stewart, the central figures of Thursday's proceedings, were as one in asserting that estate cases have been few which have presented more involved ramifications.

The upshot of the hearing was the issuance by Judge Dillard of an order removing Dovie Jo Williams, negro woman once prominent in the "flats," as administratrix of the estate of her late brother, Earl Johnson, whose death five years ago marked the beginning of the controversy. The same order by Judge Dillard named Attorney Stewart as administrator, as sought by Mr. Pardue, attorney for a number of creditors with claims of approximately $750 against the estate.

Dovie Goes To Pen

Dovie wasn't present for the proceedings, having departed only the day before for the state penitentiary to spend a year following conviction on an assault to murder charge.

The controversy had its inception, according to statements and evidence before Judge Dillard, with the death of one Buck Johnson, negro whose holdings in the "Flats" included an entertainment parlor, dance hall, rooming house and small rent houses producing a revenue stated by Mr. Pardue at approximately $100 a month. Earl Johnson, brother of Buck, the only known heir at the time and supposedly inherited the entire estate. But he died soon after, and Dovie Jo then appeared, convinced the county court she was the sister of Buck and Earl Johnson, was declared heir of the property and named administratrix to close the affairs of the brother, Earl.

Mr. Pardue, who was retained only a few weeks ago as attorney for a number of creditors of Earl Johnson, contended at the hearing Thursday that although Dovie has been diligent in collecting revenue from the property, she has failed to apply any of the proceeds on debts created by or on behalf of the brothers. Pardue's contention resulted in the appointment of Mr. Stewart to clear up the tangled problem.

The proceedings, as explained by Judge Dillard, theoretically leaves Dovie Jo and the heirs of Earl Johnson to share equally in the property. However, the prospect of an early settlement of the case was darkened by Mr. Pardue's announcement that he expects to proceed against that portion of the estate claimed by Dovie in his demand for an accounting of revenues during the last five years.

Effort To Move Up Wagering Repeal Bill Is Defeated

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—A move to set for consideration April 7 a bill to repeal a law legalizing wagering on horse races in Texas failed in the senate today.

Other members promptly objected when Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur sought consent to move that the measure be taken out of its regular order on the calendar.

His maneuver came in the closing minutes of the day's session when another senator had the floor. Under such conditions, unanimous consent was necessary to make a motion.

Ralph Guldahl Fires 68 For Second Place

Par Broken Or Bettered By 12; Bobby Jones Shoots Dismal 79; Is 42nd

By KENNETH GREGORY

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 1. (AP)—Byron Nelson, a 25-year-old bashful youngster from Reading, Pa., gave par and his fellow professionals a terrific beating today in the opening round of the $5,000 Augusta National tournament as Bobby Jones, one-time king of the golf world, all but shot himself out of the running in his fourth comeback attempt.

Under perfect playing conditions, young Nelson, Metropolitan open champion and ninth among the winter money winners, shattered the competitive record for the course with a sensational 66, six under par.

Putter Won't Work

Jones, unable to regain the concentration that carried him to 13 major titles, suffered a miserable case of putting "jitters" to fall far behind with a 79, seven strokes over par and in a tie for 42nd place after the first 18 holes.

Trailing the Pennsylvania professional was slender Ralph Guldahl from St. Louis. Guldahl unloosed the greatest comeback of the inaugural round to clip four strokes from standard figures on the second nine after a one over par 37 going out.

Exactly a dozen professionals equalled or bettered par 72, as Jones, outwardly disgusted with his game after four-putting the par 4 third hole, wound up behind three of the oldest players in the game and in next to last place in the field of 46.

Cooper Falls Behind

Par ahead of the retired "grand slam" champion were Tom Kerrigan of New York with a 75, George Sargent of Atlanta, pro at Jones home course at East Lake, with a 76 and the veteran Jock Hutchison of Evanston, Ill., with a 77.

Favorites were left in the wake of the dust kicked up by the Nelson and Guldahl par-shattering exhibitions.

Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago finished in a six-way tie for 13th place with a 73.

Ed Dudley of Philadelphia, home course professional, put together rounds of 35-35—70 and was tied for third position with smiling Wiffy Cox of Washington, D. C., and Lawson Little of San Francisco, Calif., the former amateur champion of two continents who turned professional here a year ago.

Horton Smith from Chicago fared badly in his attempts to romp through for the third time. Horton scored an even par 36 on the outgoing nine, but went three over on the other side for a 75 and a five-way tie for 25th place.

Tony Manero of Salem, Mass., the National Open King, beat par, but Denny Shute, the P.G.A. titleholder, could not do better than a 74, two back of the card.

Bracketed in deadlock at 71 with Manero and still within striking distance of the lead on the second 18 here tomorrow were Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., Johnny Revolta of Chicago, and Ray Mangrum of Oakmont, Pa.

LAKELAND, Fla., April 1. (AP)—Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, who at 37 is the oldest player on the Cincinnati Reds' roster, suffered a fracture of the left cheek bone today during an exhibition game with Detroit which the Tigers won 4 to 2.

Cuyler collided with second baseman Alex Kampouris just as the latter caught a fly in short center field hit by Detroit's second baseman, Charley Gehringer, in the sixth inning.

Hubber Workout Is Scheduled Here Sunday

Second official workout for candidates for the Lubbock Hubber baseball team of 1937 is scheduled Sunday afternoon at the local park.

Skipper Sled Allen will not be present for the drill, having left last night for Marlin where he is to "take the baths" and otherwise get my system in shape" for the season. A supervised workout, however, will be conducted, and all hands are invited out.

The field is now in a state of repair but if conditions do not warrant practice on the field proper batting and throwing practice will be held on the "wide open spaces" near the park.

Entries Arriving For Texas' Big Relay Carnival

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Entrants in the Southwest's great track and field carnival, the Texas Relays, began to arrive in Austin today led by the Chicago university and Michigan State teams.

Gene Venzke, one of the five U. S. Olympic representatives scheduled to appear, also was on hand and other groups were expected to unload from every train.

Besides Venzke, Pennsylvania's great miler who will stage an exhibition mile duel with Blaine Rideout, one of North Texas Teachers' crack distance running twins, the Olympic performers will include Don Lash of Indiana, to be paced by Wayne Ricker and others in the 3,000-meter event, Alton Terry Hardin-Simmons' javelin expert, Sam Francis, shot putter from Nebraska, and Harold Cagle, quarter-mile flash of the Oklahoma Baptist team.

Total entries soared over the 1,000 mark with the addition of those from four more high schools, Alamo Heights of San Antonio, Donna, Evant and Lufkin. Sixteen university aggregations and as many college teams were on the list.

Track And Field Meet Scheduled For Tomorrow

The high school track and field meet for Lubbock county interscholastics will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, County Athletic Director Homer Bentley has announced.

Championships in both Class A and B divisions will be established as well as for junior high school athletes.

All entries are required to be at the Texas Tech field at the announced time tomorrow morning.

Winners will compete in the district meet here April 16-17.

Bunny Martin In Arlington Win

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 1. (AP)—Bunny Martin, fleet 4 year old filly of Mr. R. O. Burns, stepped away from a fast field of eight to take the fifth and feature race at Arlington Downs today.

The winner ran the six furlongs in 1:15 3-5, finishing a length in front of Trinchera, the Woolford stock farm entry. Comahee, the Butzy Hernandez color carrier, was third, one and a half lengths back of Trinchera.

Daily Double Pays Off

Never far back after the start, Jockey B. Neal permitted his mount to race evenly until nearing the wire where he took command of the situation and piloted Bunny Martin to victory.

The winner rewarded his backers $4.70, $2.50 and $2.70. Trinchera, also heavily favored, paid $3.00 to place and $3.30 to show. Comahee paid $5.

The daily double players who chose Caleb in the second race and Sanlu in the third were rewarded $71.80 for the $2 investment.

Rice Triumphs Over Baylor; T. C. U. Wins

Owls Spring Upset When Southwest Diamond Race Gets Under Way

HOUSTON, April 1. (AP) — Floyd Mechler of Hondo, sophomore right hander for the Rice Owls, set the Baylor Bears back a notch here today.

Mechler limited the pre-season favorites for the Southwest conference baseball title to three safeties as Coach Cecil Grigg's Owls dealt out a 7 to 0 shellacking to Coach Morley Jennings' team.

Meanwhile, the Rice hitters, led by Jake Schuehle, also of Hondo, and Hank Hurley of Houston, jumped on Captain Jelly Sorelle, Baylor ace, for nine safeties. The Owls started with two runs in the first inning and climaxed their scoring with three in the seventh. Schuehle and Hurley accounted for two hits apiece.

Lloyd Russell got Baylor's only clean blow, while Doc Henslee got credit for two infield blows. Baylor got only two men as far as third base, each time with two out.

Score by innings:
Baylor ..... 000 000 000—0 3 3
Rice ..... 200 110 30x—7 9 4
Batteries: Sorelle and Henslee; Mechler and Morgan.

It was the first conference game of the season for both nines. The second game will be played on the same diamond Friday afternoon.

The Frogs laced out 15 more or less solid base knocks in the opener off Hughson, a young righthander. The Steers nicked big Aubrey Linne for nine safeties. But the Steers made only three bobbles to six costly mistakes for the Frogs. And Hughes fanned eight Swingers, walked but one. Linne whiffed one but walked four.

Y., playing in her first major tournament, defeated strong opponents in the semi-finals today and tomorrow will meet in an 18-hole match for the North and South women's golf championship.

Miss Guilfoil, a sophomore at the University of Syracuse, came from behind to score a 4 and 3 victory over Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., a finalist last year.

Mrs. Page, who won the medal in the 1936 national, played a steady, consistent game to defeat the veteran Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia, also by 4 and 3.

Cincinnati, which seemed to have a monopoly on last place in the National league before Powell Crosley jr. bought the club, rose to sixth in 1935 and fifth in 1936.

You Don't Suppose This Is Max's April Fool Joke?

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—All-fool's day in the heavyweight situation found a lot of long distance doings between a train carrying champion Jim Braddock to Chicago and cables from Germany reopening the offer of a Berlin fight with Max Schmeling.

Braddock had barely pulled out of Pennsylvania Station with Manager Joe Gould and a squad of handlers and manhandlers, when along came Schmeling's cable to his American representative, Joe Jacobs, announcing that the titleholder could still have $350,000 to fight the German in Berlin in June if he wanted it.

Some More Jokes

But, in ignorance of the new German and despite Madison Square Garden's action in the New Jersey federal courts to stop the Braddock-Joe Louis fight in Chicago June 22 the champion's manager, Joe Gould, said he was going ahead with all details of the Chicago bout.

"This is the end of all dickering—we're through fooling around from now on," he announced. But that was before Schmeling's cable arrived.

"Have succeeded in getting German offer opened again," he wired Jacobs today. "German promoters ready to guarantee Braddock $350,000, free of German taxes and will post money as Gould wants. $35,000 in Sweden and $325,000 in Canadian bank. Ready to give Garden $50,000 for full release of fight, but up to Gould to get release and make his peace with Garden.

Telegram Forwarded

Today's cable came just too late to catch Braddock at the station, so Jacobs wired a copy of it to Gould aboard the train, and announced that he would phone the titleholder's manager when he arrived in Chicago.

From Gould's attitude before he left, however, it appeared he was intent only on getting things ironed out for the Schmeling-Louis fight in Chicago.

Mucho Gusto Cops Maryland's Race Season Opener

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Md., April 1. (AP)—Mucho Gusto, five-year-old Arabo stable's sprinter, turned on a burst of speed down the stretch today to win by a head the $5,000 added Rowe Memorial handicap, main event of a program opening Bowie's spring season.

The big bay horse overhauled Zoic, H. E. Enger's brown gelding, in the last furlong to score in a photo finish before 15,000 fans, largest opening day crowd in Bowie history.

Mucho Gusto's time for the six furlongs was 1:13 3-5. Third among the favorites in the betting, he paid $12.90 for $2 to win, 5.20 to place and $6.50 to show.

Favorite Drops Out

Alfred Vanderbilt's Speed To Spare, the favorite, ran himself out after leading for a half mile.

New Deal, coupled in the betting with Mucho Gusto, was slow in getting under way but rallied near the end to take show money, two lengths behind Zoic. A. C. Compton's Weston finished fourth, a couple lengths farther back.

Speed to Spare finished fifth, a length behind Weston. Rudie, another well liked in the betting, was out-run.

Today's victory was the first win of the year for Mrs. Walter E. O'Hara's horses and earned her $4,125.

Hendrix Is Defeated, Grand Wins In Atlanta Tourney

ATLANTA, April 1. (AP)—Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, Calif., sprang the only upset so far in the Atlanta invitation tennis tournament by blasting Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., out in the quarter finals while other seeded favorites advanced today.

Sabin, ranked 17th nationally, eliminated Hendrix, ranking number ten man, 6-2, 7-5.

Bryan M. Grant of Atlanta, top seeded in the tournament and number three in the nation, breezed by Walter Senior, of San Francisco, Calif., 6-0, 6-2.

Landis Postpones Decision On Tom Henrich's Case

NEW ORLEANS, April 1. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis said today he didn't know just when he'd decide about Outfielder Tom Henrich.

Henrich, 21, asked the judge to tell him whether he belonged to Zanesville, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Cleveland or was his own boss.

High Commissioner Landis took off his coat, rolled up his shirt sleeves, locked the door of his hotel suite, and listened and talked for almost four hours today to baseball big-wigs interested in the case.

The "Cause" Is Absent

Conspicuously absent was Billy Evans, head of the farming interests of the Boston Red Sox, generally credited with being the indirect cause of the mixup.

Henrich read an article by Evans saying he was worth $15,000 to any major league club and started wondering why he was sold by New Orleans, along with Ralph Winegarner, to Milwaukee for a combined total price of $7,500.

He suspected he was being "covered up." "Covered up" is explained as a practice in which a major league club sends a capable player to a minor league until he is needed.

Swim Records Due For Rough Ducking In AA Tourney

KANSAS CITY, April 1. (AP) — Missouri Valley AAU swimming records appeared due for a ducking tomorrow night as approximately 100 mermen and mermaids literally will plunge into action in the sixth annual meet at the Kansas City Aathletic club pool.

With one national junior AAU champion and a half-dozen meet champions competing, Harold Schmelling, K. C. A. C. swimming instructor in charge of the meet, predicted today marks in virtually every event would be periled.

Preliminaries are scheduled tomorrow night. Finals will be held Saturday night.

The Buffs today turned five rookies over to the Jacksonville club of the East Texas league. They were Wysock, a catcher, Peterson and Gilbert Turner, outfielders, Phinney, an infielder, and Bob Thomas, southpaw pitcher.

Stoneham Likes His Giants In National Race

Young President Looks 'Em All Over And Decides The Giants Have Best Edge

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 1.—President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants, admittedly a little prejudiced, was back from a tour of the baseball camps today with the prediction that his Giants will win the National League pennant, even if their first base situation is not all it might be.

"We had three problems when we went South," said the youthful New York prexy," said at least we've solved two of them. The catching situation and third base are okay now, but Terry's not quite satisfied with first base."

Help For Mancuso

Stoneham said his manager was pleased with the improved showing of Harry Danning, relief catcher. "The way it looks now, he'll take some of the burden off Gus Mancuso."

The possibility of a deal between the Giants and Cincinnati is out for the present at least, according to Stoneham, but he "intimated" Terry might still be interested in dealing with the Phillies for First Baseman Dolph Camilli.

Stoneham also intimated the Giants would not return to Havana next year to train.

"It's a great place to get in shape all right, but it lacks some of the things a permanent training base should have." He did not indicate where the Giants might land.

The return to form of Pitcher Hal Schumacher and the improvement of Lou Chiozza at third base are the two changes on which Stoneham builds his hope.

Wildcat Test Has Heads

HEADING six times Thursday, the first head flowing about 30 barrels of oil in eight minutes, apparently the Texas company's Bob Slaughter No. 1 Hockley county wildcat, will be a pool opener.

Drilling was said to be below 5,017 feet, still in the lime. Some 5,000 feet of oil was reported in the hole. There is reported 50,000 cubic feet of gas with the oil. The oil is coming from a showing at 4,968-73 feet, with an increase from 4,980-93 feet. Whether there was any increase from the latter depth to last reported, 5,017 feet, was not indicated by reliable reports. Drilling was resumed after a shut down.

Heads in 6 1-2 hours totaled an estimated 100 barrels of 31.9 gravity crude. Full of oil, the wildcat was shut in early this afternoon for the erection of storage. It is bottomed at 5,022.

The test is on the Bob Slaughter tract, labor 83, league 38, Zavalla county school land. It is near Sundown and about 15 miles southwest of Levelland. The test is the first oil production in Hockley county and is 10 miles east and two south of the Cascade-Honolulu-Devonian No. 7, Cochran county pool opener.

The Hockley discovery was staked after geographical surveys indicated a structure.

P. N. Wiggins, jr., Dallas and C. E. Hyde, Fort Worth, announce a test in Cochran county 1,320 feet south of the line of league 92, and midway between the east and west lines of the league, Lipscomb county school land. It is in labor 26, about five miles northwest of the Cascade-Honolulu-Devonian No. 1 on land owned by Mrs. Carrie Slaughter Dean. There is a block of some 8,000 acres on which spreads have been sold to some of the major companies. Operations are to start within 90 days after titles are checked and approved. Bottom will be 5,200 feet.

TAPS BROWN LIME

Bond & Harrison No. 1 William Cameron, Cochran county wildcat between Whiteface and Morton topped the brown lime at 3,760 feet and had passed 3,800 feet at last report. It is 14 miles north of the Duggan, in labor 1, league 85, Greer county school land. Elevation is given as 3,700 feet.

April Fool Spirit Lacking As School Resumes Classes

NEW LONDON, April 1. (AP)—Survivors of the New London school explosion resumed their classwork today. Their ranks thinned by the blast of March 18, the spirit of All Fools day was lacking on the playgrounds.

Classes were held in the gymnasium, bandhouse and the home economics building. Many pupils sat on improvised seats but additional desks were to be installed.

Textbooks were sent here by the state department of education. Teachers who survived the blast will comprise the teaching staff for the remainder of the term, according to Troy Duran, principal.

Although the equipment is not up to state standards, students will be given full credit for the work the remainder of the term, Duran said he had been advised.

Redistricting At Austin

LUBBOCK leaders learned the other day that another legislative redistricting bill has been introduced in the house of representatives at Austin.

Then they yawned, along with most of West Texas.

The explanation of their attitude was that they have seen too many similar bills introduced and beaten during the last 14 years to permit any enthusiastic hope that West Texas at last is to be allotted a measure of the legislative representation to which its population entitles it under the constitution.

While copies of the bill have not been received here, the Associated Press outline suggests an attempt at redistricting based on population, which would mean a sharp increase in the number of representatives from West Texas. A proportionate cut in the number of legislators from spotted sections of the state which failed to keep pace with the growth in western parts would be the inescapable result.

Of particular interest to this immediate section is the proposal in the measure that Lubbock county be made a legislative district all its own. At present, Lubbock combines with Crosby, Hockley, Cochran, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson and Gaines counties into the 119 district.

Civic leaders rightfully decline to enthuse over the proposal to give Lubbock county a representative all its own unless the measaure also provides that this entire territory, and the rest of West Texas also, be given a proportionate representation. And they are frankly skeptical of the success of any endeavor to secure the passage of a measure of that kind, citing figures in support of their contention that considerably less than a majority of the state's citizenship elects considerably more than a majority of the representatives. They see little possibility of that majority surrendering the legislative control it now has.

MEANWHILE, authoritative sources here cite Lubbock and the South Plains territory as being an example largely typical of West Texas' inadequacy of representatoin in the legislature. They explain that the constitution provides for the creation of districts of as nearly equal population as possible. It provides also for redistricting after each decennial census, the last one having been completed nearly seven years ago.

It was explained that under those provisions, each legislator should represent somewhat less than 39,000 of population. The official federal figures at that time credited Lubbock county with 39,104 inhabitants. The legislative district of which Lubbock county is a part contained more than 100,000 population which, according to the constitution, should give the area two and one-half legislative house votes instead of the one the district has had for 14 years in spite of repeated attempts to correct a situation of which most of the South Plains and a large portion of the western area is the victim.

Representative Lubbock citizens will watch with interest the progress of the new redistrieting bill. But they are reserving cheers and celebration until the governor has been given the opportunity to attach his signature to a law giving West Texas a square deal.

With Our Contemporaries

"It is said that in the hill country of Kentucky they have what they call "the 11th commandment' and when you say that you never heard of but 10, they tell you that the 11th commandment is 'mind your own business,'" W. M. Curry says in the Crosbyton Review.

"Our hard luck story," says A. V. Short in the Meadow Star about why his paper was short of special features. "As the readers will see we are short of features in this issue. On arriving at Ropes Tuesday we learned that the depot had been robbed and our papers were among the stolen articles."

"Some day we will wonder while we waited so long to take light, (meaning electrical energy and all the conveniences that go with it), to the farm homes of the country," Homer Steen points out in the Floyd County Hesperian.

The One-Minute Sermon

Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: everywhere and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

I can do all things through Christ which strengthened me. Philippians, IV, 11, 12 and 13.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR U. S. PRESIDENT

Two women were candidates for President of the United States. The first was Victoria Woodhull 1838-1927), who ran on the Equal Rights Party's Ticket in 1872. The second was Belva A. Lockwood of New York (1830-1917), who was nominated in 1884 and 1888. At the election of 1884, Mrs. Lockwood in addition to a considerable popular vote, received the electoral vote of two states Indiana and Oregon. These two states then represented a total electoral vote of 16, which is double the 8 electoral votes received by Landon in 1936.

The HOLIDAY MYSTERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOB GRAHAM, tire salesman, driving over a desert road in New Mexico during a snow storm, is halted by an accident to his car. Two strangers, RAMON VASQUEZ and ANGELIQUE ABEYTA, invite him to go with them. Ramon and Angelique are on their way to the de Forest hacienda, "Thunder Mesa," for a Christmas party.

They reach the hacienda and are welcomed by PEARL JOHN DE FOREST, youngest of three brothers. PEARL SAM is the oldest and PEARL PIERE next. Bob wonders about these curious names. Other members of the household are TANTE JOSEPHINE, old and an invalid; BETTY WELCH, her companion; and PROFESSOR SHAW, archeologist. Bob senses something strange about the place. Alone in his room, he is startled to hear a noise at the window. He opens it and finds Betty Welch outside. She says, "Can you take me away with you? I'm afraid!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

Christmas dawned dark and lowering. The family did not meet for breakfast, since trays were sent to each room. Bob tried to talk to the stolid Mexican who brought his, but the man either could not or would not answer his questions. However, the meal was well served and hot, and when the servant went away with his soft, shuffling steps, Bob felt more optimistic.

Perhaps his misgivings of the night before were all unfounded. Living up here, all alone on the mesa, was enough to make any family seem a bit strange. Certainly nothing had been left undone to make Bob himself comfortable. He liked his young host, Pearl John. "Put him any place where he had half a chance," Bob thought, "and he'd prove a pretty good egg."

Bob arose and dressed, deciding to have a look around the place, even if the others of the household were not yet stirring. Perhaps Betty Welch would be up and he could talk to her. Bob whistled softly as he brushed his hair. There was a girl he'd like to know better! None of the fur and claws about her that there was about Angelique.

The snow had stopped falling when he went outside, but the clouds hung so low they gave the effect of a dark curtain. Bob shivered, though he did not feel especially cold.

"Rummy place," he muttered as he looked off at the bare snow-covered mesa. Only a few huge rocks broke the flat expanse. Why in the world should anyone want to build a house up here, he wondered.

The house was adobe, very large, and seemed to hunch menacingly against the gloomy sky. It was Spanish-type, built around several courtyards, all of which were enclosed in high adobe walls, with innumerable verandas connecting the rooms. Servants' quarters and kitchens seemed to take up the back portion. He could hear the soft voices of the Mexican servants as they padded in and out of the yard that seemed to be their particular enclosure. Curls of smoke rose from the chimneys in that part. Evidently fires had not yet been started in the front rooms. Guests at Thunder Mesa probably were not expected to get up very early. Bob decided to go inside and look around. Maybe Betty—

Seen in the cold daylight, the living quarters of the hacienda lacked what warmth and color the fireplace and candles had given them. Huge hand-hewn wooden rafters spanned the ceilings, and the gray walls were ornamented with bronze sconces holding candles. In the little niches here and there were some really fine examples of ancient Santos—the hideous emaciated little religious figures which the early friars put in their churches. Tanned skins and excellent Indian blankets covered the floors. Bob examined the furniture closely, remembering how uncomfortable it had seemed the night before, and found that it, too, was handmade from peeled poles. The seats and backs of the chairs and couches were tanned rawhide, fastened in place by narrow thongs.

But footsteps were coming down the hall. Bob turned, as Betty's bright face appeared around the doorway.

"Oh you!" she exclaimed with a little laugh. "Merry Christmas! I was just wondering if any one would be up so I could say it."

"I was hoping to see you," he told her. "Can you spare me a few minutes now?" This may be Christmas, but those evergreens look about as cheerful in here as they would on a tomb. Come in and talk to me."

He led her to a window seat and pushed a cushion made of an Indian saddle blanket, behind her. "Now this is better." He looked at her admiringly. "I've been wondering about what you said last night. Not much chance to talk with the wind whistling down your neck and your feet freezing. If you could be a little more explicit maybe I can get a better lineup on the situation. You see, all this has happened so unexpectedly; my mind was doing a flip-flop last night and maybe I didn't get it over to you that I'm really anxious to help you if I can."

"I'm sure you are," she answered, "I've been wondering about you, too. You said last night you aren't here as a guest."

"Just an honest tire salesman, trying to get along," he explained, and went on to tell her about Ramon Vasquez picking him up on the canyon road.

Betty smiled, then sobered as she moved nearer and lowered her voice. "As I told you last night, I got this job through an agency in Santa Fe. I was a stranger there and had to get something to do. You see, I brought a friend out for her health, and we had only been there a few days when she died."

A shadow passed over the girl's face. "I didn't have much money left. That's why I was glad to come here. But now—well, I must get away, though they're all awfully nice to me, and Tante Josephine seems to like me."

"Pearl John didn't seem to exactly dislike you, either," he reminded her.

"He's very nice," she went on hurriedly, "but the others—and this place—give me the creeps."

She brushed back the bright curls from her forehead and laughed nervously. "That's why I asked you to take me away."

"And, remember, I promised I would." Bob patted her hand reassuringly.

* * *

"As I said last night," Betty went on, "I'm almost sure my mail is intercepted. I haven't had a letter since I came. And every time I suggest that they get someone to take my place, there is some excuse made why I should stay. I've been here on the mesa a whole month now without seeing anyone from the outside until Pearl John decided to have this Christmas party."

"He doesn't seem much like the other brothers," Bob remarked.

"He's not, and he only stays because they keep him here. I'm sure he'd like to get away, too. But Pearl Sam seems to have some strange hold over him. I can't understand it."

"He's the oldest, isn't he?" asked Bob. "The one who wears that odd signet ring on the little finger of his right hand? It cut my finger when I shook hands with him last night." He rubbed the sore spot as he spoke.

She nodded. "He's the head of the household, and, except with old Tante Johephine, the only one who dares to defy him, he is a regular despot, though he goes at it quietly. He seems to take full charge of all the expenses of the house. Apparently the other brothers are dependent on him for their allowances, though what they need money for up here, I wouldn't know! You can see they have plenty and live very well. Pearl John hasn't spared expense on the party he's going to give tonight either, but generally Pearl Sam pays for everything and tells everybody on the place what to do."

"The Professor, too?" Bob asked. "Is he here all the time?"

"No. He's only been here since I came. He goes poking about over the mesa, making measurements of things. I think he's writing a book on some scientific subject. He and Pearl Sam discuss things together a good deal."

"Well, there are probably a lot of nuts in this world, only you don't usually see 'em bunched up, as they are here. Come on. Get your coat and let's go outside. A brisk walk in the snow will blow the vapors out of our brains. I'd like to take a look at that road we came up last night."

The walk toward the mesa's edge did set their blood tingling, and brought a becoming flush to Betty's cheeks that was not lost on her companion.

"If worst comes to worst, you know," he told her, "we could hoof it down this trail I suppose and—"

"Back. Go back!" ordered a gruff voice. They turned, startled, to face the Indian who had met Roman's car the night before. Now he stepped directly before them. "Not allow anyone this way." He said it as though he meant it.

"But why?" began Bob.

"Danger! Go back." The man pointed sternly toward the house.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

CORDELL HULL has been severely assailed by undercover enemies for permitting the Export-Import bank to underwrite the sale of $3,600,000 worth of cotton to Italy. He has been pilloried by foes within his own department for violation of the Johnson act.

The incident illustrates the difficulties confronting Mr. Hull in handling foreign affairs at this critical period, and the general ignorance on our keep-out-of-war policy. The Johnson act does not apply to purely commercial transactions like the cotton deal, or to "government agencies" like the Export-Import bank. The neutrality ban imposed during the Italo-Ethiopian conflict expired long before the cotton sale was negotiated. New York banks really hold the bag, and they extended credit only after gimlet-eyed study of prospects of payment.

Final approval was given by R.F.C. Chairman Jesse H. Jones, who actually manages the Export-Import agency, and he has never been accused of making bad bargains out of sentimentality. And if the United States refused to deal with all the countries directly or indirectly involved in breaking treaties or sabotaging world peace, it wouldn't have a customer in the world for the next decade.

TEMPORARY: Marriner Eccles' proposal that the government reduce tariffs as an antidote to price inflation didn't cause a ripple of excitement among prospective victims—major manufacturers—for the reason that it won't work under present trade conditions.

For some years the United States has not been an importing nation, with the exception of farm products needed because of the drouth's inroads. With Europe re-arming, this country's major products will be flowing outward for at least two years—possibly more. The industrial nations—Great Britain, France, Belgium etc.—will ship no goods westward on which the duty can be lowered as a competitive threat to domestic industries insistent on raising prices.

It is understood that F.D.R. will toy with the idea of using the Eccles weapon, and probably propose it in a White House statement. But the effect will be purely psychological among those with an inside knowledge of trade trends, and it will make no lasting impression.

PROFIT: President Roosevelt has returned to the White House with another "fireside chat" written on his cuff—subject unannounced. Insiders suspect that he will lay the blame for economic and industrial unrest directly on the doorstep of the Supreme court, as he does in private conversations.

F.D.R.'s disappearing act is part of his strategy. While absent from Washington on his recent Warm Springs trip, he kept in daily telephonic touch with White House advisers, Senate leaders, Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan and his "brain trusters" at the capital. He directed the moves on all fronts. In his next "fireside chat" he will try to stir up the folks back home, and then go away again—probably on a fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico.

F.D.R.'s radio talks, incidentally, are extremely profitable to his enemy, the so-called "power trust." It is estimated that additional revenue from customers who sit up late to hear the President totals almost $500,000 for each "My friends" oration; that comes from extra electricity consumed for lighting homes. Since he has made eight stay-up-late addresses, gross receipts to the private utilities approximate $4,000,000. They'd sacrifice that take if he'd let them alone!

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORKERS in close touch with leading farm organizations learn that there is considerable off-the-record annoyance among the officials of those groups at the strong-arm tactics being used to force them into line for the President's Supreme court proposal.

Pressure exerted by Edward A. O'Neal of the American Federation of Farm Bureaus is a special irritant. He is an old friend of Secretary Wallace and the two have worked together consistently to support and strengthen each other. Mr. O'Neal is the only important farm leader who is an active advocate of F.D.R.'s court program, and his reputedly tactless efforts to convert his colleagues have got him (and Mr. Wallace) into hot water.

Most of the recognized spokesmen for agriculture are still hedging on the court issue publicly. Privately they are far more hostile to Mr. Roosevelt's plan than is generally realized. Further attempts to smoke them out may boomerang violently.

MISTAKE: Government officials who have been secretly yearning to receive a flattering offer for their services from private industry might as well pack their hopes away in mothballs. Current sentiment among business chiefs is all against hiring anybody on the strength of his political connections.

The sad fate of the liquor people was interpreted as a pointed warning from the administration. Right after they engaged Forbes Morgan—Treasurer of the Democratic National committee—at a fabulous salary, they were given the works. As our Washington column reported at the time, Alcohol Administrator W. S. Alexander called them to the capital and talked to them plenty rough.

There is certainly no sense in paying big dough to get yourself kicked around, which seems to be the gist of the lesson. Liquor leaders are sore at themselves for being so naive as to think that Morgan could smooth their contacts with the government. Other industries are most unlikely to imitate their mistake. It looks like a bear market for New Dealers seeking outside jobs.

TREND: A recent Metropolitan Life Insurance report indicates that business written in 1936 amounts to almost exactly 10% of the total amount in force today. The amounts paid to beneficiaries for reasons other than death are roughly double the death benefits paid.

This trend is marked among all the leading insurance companies. Insurance buyers are giving more thought to cashing in on their own savings during their lifetime than simply to creating an estate. Year by year the public becomes more responsive to reserve and annuity plans—which is a profitable development for the insurance companies.

DISABILITY: American owners of Mexican properties say that employers who are upset about concessions to labor in this country should take a look at what is happening south of the Rio Grande. More and more drastic legislation for labor's benefit is being enacted all the time.

Workmen's compensation is already established by Mexican law on an extremely liberal basis. A partially disabled worker must not only be indemnified for the disability but kept on the payroll at some job he is able to perform.

Now the Cardenas government proposes a new measure which would entitle a worker to a yearly revision of his disability status. If incapacity increases with time, so would indemnification until the latter reaches 100% of wages formerly earned. A disability claim can be based on disease as well as on accident.

Hamon Decries Oil Levies

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, April 1.—Jake L. Hamon, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association, said here today the 21 taxes on oil were like a runaway team.

"With these tax horses it is not only one but 21 of them, all heading in different directions!" Hamon said. "These multiple, unchecked forces are endangering the economic life of the people of Texas, jeopardizing their present source of tax revenue, and the vehicle—oil—is being slowly dragged to destruction."

Lists Taxes On Oil

Hamon, speaking at the spring meeting of the southwestern district, A.P.I. division of production, listed the taxes on oil production as follows: gross production tax, gross receipts tax, franchise tax, pipe line regulatory tax, unemployment tax, gasoline tax, car and truck license tax, state ad valorem tax, county ad valorem tax, common school tax, rural high school tax, independent school district tax, road tax, water improvement tax, drainage tax, levee improvement tax, irrigation tax, navigation tax, conservation and reclamation tax, fresh-water supply tax and city tax. In addition, he said, huge taxes are paid to the federal government.

"Figures collected and analyzed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association show that Texas oil producers are paying $5.39 in taxes for every dollar of tax paid in 1922," Hamon said. That means the tax bill has increased 439 per cent, he explained, while the market value of Texas oil has shown an increase of only 147 per cent over the same period.

Cites Figures On Support

The speaker cited figures to show the oil industry's contribution to the economic life of the state. Hamon said that improvements in refining and that conservation measures would prolong the state's oil reserves, assuring the taxing units a source of income over a longer period.

Hamon warned, however, that "high taxes have worked a serious hardship upon independent oil producers who own and operate about 40,000 pumping wells in the state." He said that the effect of imposing too heavy a tax burden on industry was shown by the results in Wisconsin, Massachusetts and New York. Many industrial plants have moved to other states, the speaker stated.

Needs New Industries

He said Texas needed new industries and new capital for old industries, including the expansion and development of the oil industry.

"Advocates of higher gross production taxes on Texas oil should carefully consider the effects of making taxes reach the stage where they become unbearable and drive oil out of the state," Hamon said. "A number of other states are now bidding for Texas oil men. Alabama, Mississippi, Nebraska, Arizona and Canada are all offering state appropriated bonuses, for oil discovery and the chances are strong for major discoveries in some of these very states."

Officers Working On Clues In Robbery At Wolfforth

Although no arrests in connection with burglarizing of the Telford Lumber company of Wolfforth Wednesday night had been made yesterday, members of the Lubbock county sheriff's department and City of Lubbock's police force late Thursday were working on possible clues.

Missing from the store were several Stiltson wrenches, a "good many" pocket knives, pipe threader and cutter and dies, a cheap watch, a brace and probably several bits.

Entry was through a pried-open window.

It was believed the merchandise was carried from the building in a large lard bucket, said Sheriff Tom Abel and Police Identifications Officer Don Reeder.

Several articles believed to have been handled by the burglars are being investigated for fingerprints, Reeder said.

Dallas Chief Issues Order For Probe Of 'Late Birds'

DALLAS, April 1. (AP)—R. L. (Bob) Jones, chief of police, issued an order today for policemen to investigate persons found on the streets between midnight and day light. He said numerous cases of petty crime led to the order.

Until fairly recently, news events could not be sent by television experimenters because they could not be "picked up" by the transmitter as they could by an ordinary camera. Invention of the iconoscope, a new type of tube, corrected this.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 65

By Edgar Ri

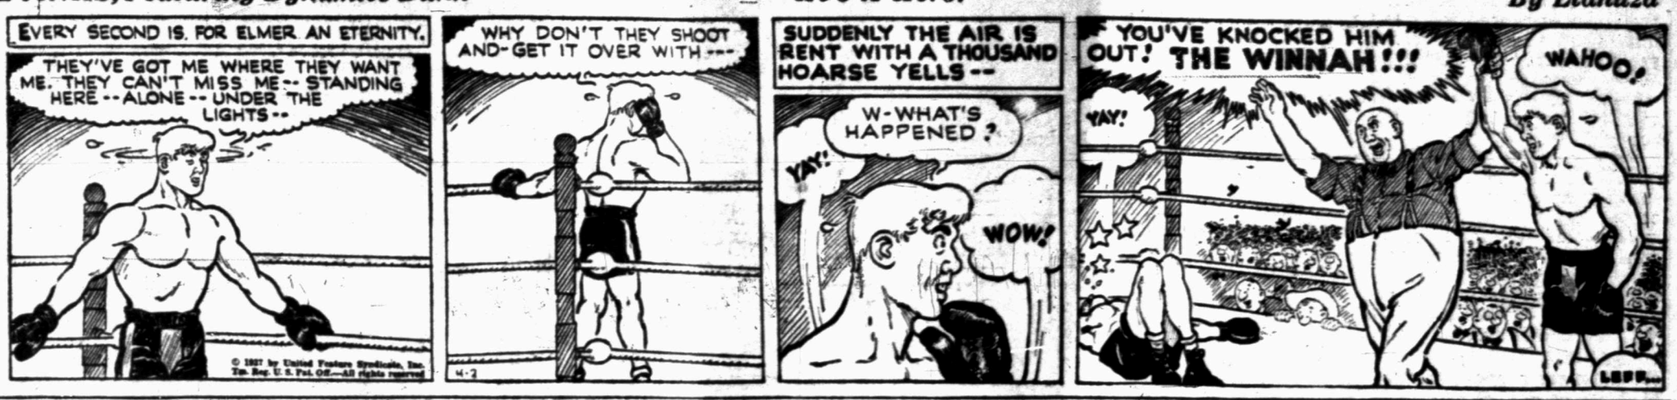

Paco was deliberate in his movements. It was not often he had the pleasure of killing an enemy with no danger to himself, and he enjoyed every moment. But just as he was about to let the cleaving machete fly, arms shot like lightning from the dangling figure.

Tarzan had been feigning unconsciousness merely to lull his foe into a false sense of security, but now his steely hands clutched the arm which held the murderous weapon. The half-breed dropped the machete and screamed as if he had been seized by a ghost.

Paco recovered quickly from his shock. After all, he should certainly be a match for a man who hung by his feet! With his free hand he struck out. Tarzan bobbed his head sidewise to escape the blow, then he lifted Paco from the ground and flung him against a tree.

The half-breed dropped senseless to the ground. But hardly had the handicapped apeman rid himself of his human enemy than he heard an ominous rustle in the undergrowth. Then a sharp-fanged, cat-like beast burst from the brush and bounded toward its prey!

Tech Band Members Present Concert In Levelland

Approximately 60 members of the Texas Technological college band with the director, D. O. Wiley, presented a concert in the Levelland high school gymnasium last night under the auspices of the Levelland high school band.

Gurthal Gilligan and Joe Foote presented a trombone duet. Solo numbers were given by William E. ...ady, piccolo, and Robert Fielder, baritone.

Several contest numbers which the Levelland band will play in the West Texas School Band and Orchestra contest to be held in Lubbock April 30-May 1 were given.

Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Texas combined contain more than one-fourth of the 1930 high schools in the United States.

Wall Street..

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Stocks loafed into the backstretch of today's market for losses of 1 to 3 or more points.

Nervousness over fresh labor developments, coupled with another sharp drop in U. S. government securities, brokers said, inspired selling in the leaders.

At the same time a handful of oils, amusements and specialties managed to finish on top.

An encouraging feature from the standpoint of analysts was that the volume dwindled on the retreat.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped .7 of a point at 71.7. Trading was not particularly broad.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 1. (AP) — Cotton prices see-sawed back and forth today in a narrow range, but the buying side received a little added weight in the last hour that lifted prices 7 to 9 points.

The purchasing incentive was furnished by a Washington announcement to the effect that 1,150,000 bales of loan cotton had been sold from January to April 1. This definite indication of the current heavy demand for American staple induced an increase in buying and lifted all options.

May finished at 14.55, July at 14.42, October at 13.88, December at 13.92 and March at 13.97. Middling spot cotton moved ahead with futures and finished at New Orleans at 14.95 cents a pound.

Trading did not reach the volume of recent sessions, but a good amount of buying developed on all dips.

The trade put a few hedges in old crops months during the morning and when speculative demand dried up this served to unsettle prices. But the lower trend did not persist and at the finish the market was on the upgrade.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Cotton moved irregularly today. Declines from early advances were recovered partially in late trading. July, which had eased from 14.53 to 14.33, closed at 14.44 with final prices 5 to 9 points net higher.

The market opened 8 to 13 points higher in response to steadier Liverpool cables and on an overnight accumulation of trade, foreign and Wall street buying. Prices reacted 11 to 20 points from the highs to levels which were met unchanged to 6 points lower under hedge selling and liquidation. Covering and trade buying developed on the decline and prices easily responded to moderate orders.

The chairman of the Reconstructed Finance corporation was quoted in Washington reports as saying that during the next few days a decision would be reached on whether to extend the cotton loan sale program which expired today. Exports today 62,670 making a total of 4,619,583 for the season thus far. Port receipts 26,606; U. S. port stocks 1,839,020.

Hunt is accused of bringing Delight Jewitt, 17-year-old Denver girl, to his Beverly home for immoral purposes and betraying her calling himself St. John The Revelator and her the Virgin Mary, mother-to-be of the New Messiah. The girl, now in New York, has told her story to federal agents.

From Palm Springs today came a report that two white disciples of Father Divine, a man and a woman, appeared at El Mirador hotel there in an expensive automobile last Christmas Eve and registered as "Jesus Christ and the Virgin Mary."

The management asked better identification and, on being refused, turned the couple away.

A few minutes later, they drove up to the Desert Inn in another expensive chauffeured car of different make and went in to eat. They asked the waiter to set an extra plate for "God." The waiter set the plate and served a full third meal, after which "Virgin Mary" produced a roll from her purse and paid the bill.

They went to the Estrella Villa where they registered under their Biblical names and spent the night. They departed in one of the automobiles, the other following.

Asked where these fancy cars came from, the man "Jesus" replied:

"I dont' know. They just come. They just come."

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 1. (AP)—Largely because of augmented estimates of the United States 1937 probable harvest of winter wheat, Chicago wheat values fell 2 cents a bushel maximum today.

Adding impetus to the downward swing of the wheat market here was a good deal of notice taken of big tumbles yesterday in wheat quotations at Buenos Aires, Argentine wheat prices today, however, showed little if any fresh disturbance.

The average of today's forecasts by five widely known Chicago unofficial crop experts indicated 655,000,000 bushels domestic yield of winter wheat this season. A month ago, the same authorities said the likelihood then was for a crop of 629,000,000 bushels.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ¾ to 1⅜ cents under yesterday's finish, May $1.41⅛@1.41¼, July $1.26⅛@1.26½, Sept. $1.23⅛@1.23¼, corn varying from ¼ off to 1 cent up, May $1.21⅛@1.21¼, July $1.15¼@1.15⅜, Sept. $1.08⅝@1.08¾, oats ⅛ to ⅜ down, May 48⅞, and rye showing ⅝ to 2¼ cents drop, May $1.33¼. Provisions closed at 12 to 20 cents setback.

Busy Day For Office Ended

When members of the lubbock county tax assessor-collector's force ended the season for payment of automobile registrations at 12 o'clock last night, they had passed last year's totals and had had a "very busy day," said chief Deputy Collector H. B. Bryan.

Although registrations Thursday did not total so much as the figure for the preceding day, totals for the season surpassed last year's mark by 350 and had brought up to expectations the aggregation for this year, Bryan said.

Increases Over 1936

In round figures, including registrations made at branch offices at Slaton and Idalou, 7,500 passenger cars, 75 commercial vehicles, and 75 farm vehicles had been registered. Increases this year over last year were: 200 passenger cars, 75 commercial vehicles and 75 farm trucks.

Remaining open recently during noon hours and until late each night to accomodate tardy car owners, members of the office force said Wednesday was the "biggest day" of the season when licenses were issued for 900 passenger cars, 150 commercials, and 20 farm vehicles, aggregating nearly 1,100 registrations.

Must Have Licenses

Licenses for motor vehicles still may be obtained without penalty, Bryan said, but if car owners are found operating automobiles now without 1937 licenses, they will be fined and forced to pay license fees and penalties. Automobiles operating since midnight last night must have 1937 licenses.

A considerable number of owners, Bryan said, have cars they may not drive for days, weeks or even months. In such cases, the deputy collector said, owners should wait until they plan to operate the vehicles and then obtain licenses without payment of penalty. The license fee for the year is reduced a twelfth at the end of each month.

YWCA Secretary To Talk To Students This Afternoon

Miss Fern Babcock, secretary for the Southwest region of the student YMCA-YWCA with headquarters in Kansas City, will speak on further phases of family relations in room 320, Administration building, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Babcock, sponsored by the Texas Technological college Y associations, discusses subjects parallel to those brought to Lubbock audiences Thursday by Dr. Paul Popenoe.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock she meets with the Tech "Y" cabinet to make program plans and discuss plans for the Southwest regional student conference to be held in Hollister, Mo. in June. The group meets in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Archie J. Bahm, 2411 10th Street.

In room 321 Administration building Miss Babcock will be available for student consultations this afternoon, Dr. Bahm said.

French Mission

it." Victoria county claims the settlement was on the west bank of Garcitas creek and likewise has historical documents "to prove it."

Strangely, both counties base strong arguments on the same documents — particularly the maps of Joutel, LaSalle's faithful companion, and Douay, member of LaSalle's expedition. Both "sites" tally exactly with the descriptions of Joutel and Douay.

Dr. Marcel Moraud of Rice institute, an authority on French influence in Texas, steering clear of the controversy and suggesting that the counties "bury the hatchet," explains:

"There is a peculiar group of similarities. Both streams run more or less in the same direction. The streams bear the same name, as Garcitas becomes the French Lavaca river, on which all French maps and documents of the time place Camp St. Louis, and the other becomes the Spanish Lavaca. (The Spanish are supposed to have founded a mission at the site of the Camp St. Louis).

"We have on the east of each river a lake bearing the same name—the small Red Fish lake of the Garcitas, or French Lavaca, and the large Red Fish lake of the Spanish Lavaca."

That's the situation the touring French found when they arrived in Texas from New Orleans today.

However, the visitors were sure of their ground in one place—they stopped in Liberty county to unveil a market honoring the memory of Napoleonic war soldiers.

The delegation will be honored in a round of activities here tomorrow and then go to Austin, by way of Navasota on the Trinity river, where historians say LaSalle was killed by his own men while vainly trying to relocate the Mississippi.

Headed by Andre Chevrillon, active head of the French academy in Paris and President Raymond-Laurent of the municipal council of the City of Paris, the mission came to the United States to retrace the trail of LaSalle on his expeditions. Several women are with the mission.

The mission was appointed by the French and Canadian governments. The Canadian delegation joined the French group in Alabama. In addition to honoring the memory of the great French explorer who brought European civilization to Texas, the mission was created as a good-will gesture. It will proceed from Texas to cities in the north and east parts of the nation and to Canada.

Debate College Bill

Representatives engaged in long debate on a bill to transform North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington and John Tarleton at Stephenville into senior colleges. John Tarleton finally was stricken on a point of order that its inclusion was not germane. The original bill applied only to the Arlington school.

Proponents contended additional four-year schools were needed in the areas to be served while opponents maintained Texas was in no financial condition to establish any more senior colleges. The bill still was pending when the house recessed.

The house liquor traffic committee reported favorably tonight a voluminous measure intended to tighten up the present liquor control act.

The committee hiked the cost of package store permits from $50 to $125 and approved high license fees for plants bottling beer brewed outside of the state.

by public officials and friends of him and his son.

"I am proud of the attitude my son has taken in facing the charge," the father said. "I am disappointed not to have seen Burns before the trial, but I have no complaint to make against the court.

He also expressed his appreciation for Maedgen's assistance in obtaining clemency of the court. Maedgen had asked of the United States district attorney, Clyde O. Eastus, that Kittrell be given what mercy is consistent with his alleged infraction.

Had Planned Conference

Maedgen had indicated he would confer with the district attorney Saturday relative to lightening the 26-year-old former bookkeeper's punishment.

A petition had been circulated yesterday asking mercy for Kittrell. It was addressed to Eastus. Prominent residents of Lubbock, including officials of the Citizens' National bank and First National bank of Lubbock, had signed the document.

Had Written Him

Burns' father had written him (Burns) Wednesday urging him to admit the charge and "throw himself on the mercy of the court."

"It has been wonderful to me and your mother," he said, referring to "friendship and confidence" of the public.

Having communicated with his son before the trial, the father said, "We did not talk much about the missing money. I just told him to confess everything he was guilty of, immediately."

ed to the East 35th Street station, where he admitted owning the gun.

Will Permit Custody

His booking will permit his being kept in further custody.

The self-sureness that marked his speech and action since the discovery of the slaying was gone. He had been trailed by milling crowds and hauled and pushed by detectives through a day of rapid-fire developments that included these:

1. A city-wide search for five "attractive" women described by Lieutenant Harding as frequent visitors at Gedeon's upholstery shop, where he took up living quarters after separating from his wife several years ago.

Charge With Possession

2. The charge of possessing the unlicensed revolver, based on the finding of the weapon.

3. Disclosure by Captain William T. Reynolds that police have several awls and needles, any one of which could have inflicted the fatal head wounds found on Byrnes' body, but authorities not yet satisfied they had found the missing weapon.

4. Several short threads of red knitting yarn embedded in a strip of adhesive tape on the model's nude body at the police laboratory for study, termed an "important clue."

Search For Suit

5. Police searching for a brown suit which disappeared from Gedeon's wardrobe, and looking for his hat, which he said he lost while drinking beer Saturday night, and for the mate to a man's glove picked up in the murder apartment.

6. Burial of Miss Gedeon and her 54-year-old mother, Mary, both of whom were beaten and strangled to death by the intruder who plunged a punch-like blade into Byrnes' head as he slept.

Gedeon, who liked to swagger through East Side bar rooms boasting of his strength and his prowess at bowling, daubed briefly at his eyes when he attended the funeral services of his slain wife and daughter.

Miners Strike

Appalachian agreement, which sets the standard for other areas, was reached. The strike order already was out for 20,000 U. M. W. A. members in Illinois.

Without an agreement, the only bituminous coal production would be in those areas not controlled by the UMWA, principally the Illinois mines worked by the Progressive Miners of America, who decided to continue working during negotiations.

One Demand Is Obstacle

The union's demand for time and a half pay for overtime work was reported the last obstacle to the Appalachian agreement.

The latest interruption of work in General Motors plants affected more than 14,000 wage earners in Pontiac, Mich., and several thousands more at Flint, Mich. Union executives hastened there and urged the men to abandon the strikes in favor of negotiations as provided by the Feb. 11 agreement.

Several hundred employes in the 21-story Book-Cadillac hotel at Detroit stopped work. City police appeared, informed strikers the "day of the sit-down is over," within two hours the strike ended. Governor Murphy, in the dining room when the Book-Cadillac strike began, was denied service, and left. Negotiations over the previous strike were in progress at the time.

hood and resulting in small families in some instances, but it must be regarded, during an economic crisis, as at least better than no marriage at all."

Another bad effect of general entrance of women into jobs is that "it trains the two sexes for competition instead of cooperation with each other. Marriage demands cooperation."

The marriageable male is not seeking a "business-like executive as a life partner, but a romantic associate. Working girls with the best chances of marriages are therefore those in positions where sex-appeal is an asset, such as actress and stenographer."

Hundred Marriages Studied

A study of 100 student marriages in co-educational institutions revealed that three-fourths were successful, although in most cases one partner usually gave up a college degree to work. More frequently the wife made the sacrifice so that her husband might prepare for a better job.

In Doctor Popenoe's afternoon lecture, answers were given to the question, "How Can You Tell When You Are Really In Love?"

Prerequisites to successful marriage are a biological mating impulse, comradeship, sound economic relationship (division of labor), and mutual interest in children, he said.

Traces Development

He traced development of the individual's love life through the following stages: babyhood; love for parents; gang or Boy Scout and Girl Scout age; adolescent; and adult.

The baby loves himself, the older child loves his parents, the gang age child loves his playmates, the adolescent loves love, and the adult loves a life mate.

Some grown men are babies, not loving anyone but themselves, he said. "Some grow up and marry a baby doll who can't say anything, but Pa-Pa, and neither is happy."

Depends On Attitude

In his morning speech on "Preparing for Marriage in College," the lecturer said successful marriage depends on attitude toward marriage, choice of a mate, and "possession of the necessary amount of technical information." He divided technical information into three phases: use of leisure time; mechanics of homemaking; and sexual adjustment.

Home, school, and church, the three great educational agencies, have shirked their duty in preparing young people for successful marriages, he said.

Radio crooners, bill boards, movies and newspaper headlines have too often served to "educate" young people for love, with the result that an attitude bound for failure has been built up in young people.

Doctor Popenoe is author of literature on family life and has lectured widely on the subject.

Dr. Popenoe Is Speaker At Kiwanis Club Thursday

Advocating a sliding scale of wages and salaries for industry and professional work, abolishment of exploited child labor, sterilization of persons unfit for parenthood, and correction of marriage age laws, Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles Thursday told Kiwanians the situation at this time was largely economics.

Readjustment of population flow from farms to cities, by increasing the income of farmers, was mentioned. Dr. Popenoe pointed out that cities take from the farms a million young people a year. "Cities do not produce—they destroy," he pointed out. "The farms produce children for the cities."

Certain Amount Necessary

The speaker differentiated between necessary child labor, and exploited labor in certain industries, saying a certain amount of labor by children in the homes was necessary. Reduction of the birth rate in families where it is not possible to give proper care to the youngsters and increasing the rate in families able to properly train and educate children, were stressed. Likewise, raising of the marriageable age of girls to 16 years, was proposed.

President B. Sherrod opened the meeting. Dr. Fred W. Sparks and C. V. Bullen were co-chairmen. W. L. Stangel spoke briefly.

Sheriff Refuses To Quit Office

SHAWNEE, Okla., April 1 (AP)—Sheriff Elza Evans reclined on a cot behind the barricaded door of his office in the courthouse last night and announced he refused to yield to a successor appointed by the county commissioners.

A county grand jury indicted Evans on a perjury charge and declared his recent appointment void.

"I'm going to stay in this office until I'm removed by an order of the supreme court," Evans declared.

"Two other men and I are sleeping here. We'll eat and sleep here until this thing's all blown over."

Rufus Lyon, city commissioner named to succeed Evans, said he planned to visit Evans today and demand keys to the office.

Evans' indictment charged him with making a $1,500 bond for M. O. Parr, Oklahoma City, Dec. 18, by listing property on which he was not the record owner.

Flood Control Message From President Being Expected

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP) — Legislative leaders said today they expected President Roosevelt to send congress a flood control message within a few days, calling for a nationwide system of conservation agencies similar to the Tennessee valley authority.

Bank Anniversary To Be Observed

Twenty years ago Saturday the Federal Land bank of Houston was chartered and entered its career of aiding farmers of this district in the purchase of farm homes. Robert S. Rodgers, jr., assistant secretary of the Lubbock National Farm Loan association, said yesterday.

On observance of that event, officials of the bank will broadcast a half hour program Saturday from 10:30 to 11 o'clock, over the Texas Quality Network, with KFYO cooperating. Persons interested, especially those who have cooperated with the bank, are urged to tune in on their radios. A play will be given, retelling the history of the bank.

Chartered April 3, 1917

The Houston bank was chartered April 3, 1917. The Lubbock farm loan group was chartered the same year.

S. A. Lindsey, now of Tyler, was the first president. He resigned shortly after the bank was opened, to become chairman of the board of directors, a post he still holds. The late Judge M. H. Gossett succeeded him, resigning in 1933. He was second to serve as president of a bank, in point of service, completing 16 years as head.

The Lubbock association now has over 915 loans in effect, with about 600 commissioner loans. It is one of the strong groups in this part of Texas.

A. C. Williams, Houston, now president of the bank, has visited in Lubbock a number of times. He is personally known to many farmers and bankers of this area, through contacts here.

Insanity Defense Planned For Boy

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 1. (AP)—Attorneys planned an insanity defense today for Tommy Smith, 18 year old newsboy accused of stabbing a neighbor girl to death.

The cool, sometimes gay youth pleaded innocent today when arraigned on a first degree murder charge in connection with the knife slaying seven weeks ago of Mary Ellen Babcock, pretty 18 year old south Buffalo girl.

Police Commissioner James W. Higgins said Smith also had confessed jabbing an icepick into another girl's back last Sunday night.

On his way to the hospital, Smith leaned comfortably back in the sheriff's car and said to Deputy J. J. Tanner:

"Go slow, please, this may be the last ride I'll take for a long time."

"Gee, I'd like to drive this car and low the siren."

He was permitted to touch the siren button.

Oklahoma A. & M. Editors Suspended From Their Jobs

STILLWATER, Okla., April 1. (AP) Two editors of campus publications at Oklahoma A & M. college were under suspension from their jobs today by order of the student publications board because they had been placed on "social probation."

Four staff members of the college daily newspaper, The O'Collegian, said they would strike.

The board removed Danny Harbour, Oklahoma City, as editor of the paper, and Elbert Bowen, Stamford, Tex., as editor of the college yearbook, The Redskin.

The college disciplinary board said the two were among six students who attended an "authorized" party off the campus as it put the six on "social probation."
