CONDEMNED MEN LOSE PLEAS TO SUPREME COURT

MOTIONS FOR REHEARING ARE DENIED TO TWO

MCKENZIE AND WELLS, CHARGED IN MURDER, FAIL ON APPEAL

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—John A. (alias Pete) McKenzie of Bexar county, and O. C. Wells of Coleman county, convicted of murder and given death in each case, today lost motions for rehearings before the court of criminal appeals. District court judgments had previously been affirmed.

Mckenzie was charged with the murder of Chief of Detectives Sam Mitchell, of San Antonio. Wells was convicted for murder of W. W. Cameron, of Williamson county, carrying a gun, and for the murder of Robert Gardner, of Williamson county. The killing took place at Sealy in September, 1922, during a street fight over differences provoked by the Ku Klux Klan, uppepmost in Texas at that time.

Scout Course Is Held At Lorenzo

A. C. Jackson, local Scout troop committee man, and W. P. Knox, area executive of the Boy Scouts, last night held a one night adult Scoutmasters training course at Lorenzo.

GREEN AGAIN LEADS LABOR

TORONTO, CANADA GETS NEXT CONVENTION OF FEDERATION

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—William Green was re-elected unanimously today as president of the American Federation of Labor.

Toronto, Canada, was chosen for the next annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

All other officers, including Frank Morrison, secretary, were re-elected at the convention adopted a resolution opposing the use of public schools to spread propaganda of special interests.

The resolution, which was introduced by Florence Curtis Hanson of the American Federation of Teachers, said:

"Exposures of the federal trade commission have shown that the special interests are seeking every opportunity to use the public schools to spread their propaganda and it has also been shown that there is gross misuse of the commission's research institutes posing as research institutes being in reality propaganda institutes subsidized by special interests."

Aged Negro Faces Prohibition Trial

Aged and decrepit, a seventy-four-year-old, grey-haired negro, facing the first charge of his life, will go to trial for violation of the prohibition laws during the first session of the Lubbock division of the Federal court, which opens here December 10.

The negro, Ed Dickson, known throughout the city as "Frenchy" because of his former association with the French people and the French accent in his speech was one of the first, if not the first negro resident of Lubbock.

He is charged with selling beer to some students from his home on the "fifts" last summer.

Formerly scheduled for trial a week of criminal court in the 99th district court, the case has been transferred to the Federal court.

Three Near Death After Train Crash Near Austin

THANKSGIVING HERE WILL BE QUIET AFFAIR

Thanksgiving Day observance in Lubbock promises to be quiet and peaceful with everyone thankful for something or other, except the turkey.

With all members of the Retail Merchants association, all banks, schools, and the post office presenting closed doors in observance of the holiday, little excitement is expected.

Several hundred local football fans will go by special train and by automobile to see Tech's final football game of the season with the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes at Canyon.

The play-at-homes closed doors in observance of the final local gridiron battle between the Lubbock high Westerners and the Vernon Lions.

Special church services will be held at all of the local churches, with Thanksgiving breakfasts having been served at the churches.

Nelms Is "Guilty" On Swindling Count

Refusing to allow Judge Clark M. Mullican to appoint a defense counsel for him, G. W. Nelms, facing two charges of swindling, was found guilty by a jury in 99th district court yesterday and sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary.

Nelms defended himself and stated his intention of appeal following return of the verdict. He was advised by Judge Mullican that he would be provided with an attorney if he so desired, and that he might enter an application for a suspended sentence, but he refused both offers.

Following the trial of this case the jury was dismissed until Friday when the trial of several other liquor cases is scheduled. The court will not be in session on Thanksgiving.

Final Pep Rally To Be Held For Tech

Students of Tech will hold their final pep rally of the season tonight at 7:30 at the college gymnasium to generate enthusiasm for the clash tomorrow between the Matadors and Buffaloes. A special program has been arranged for the occasion, Scott Posey, yell leader announced.

In addition to the regular entertainment furnished by the college band and pep squads, the entire membership at the football squad will be present as will Coaches Freeland and Payne. Coach Freeland will speak.

PASSENGERS INCLUDED SCORES BOUND FOR BIG GRID CLASH

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—The engineer, the fireman and the brakeman of an International Great Northern south-bound passenger train were injured, probably fatally, and at least seven passengers were hurt, more or less seriously, at 6:30 a. m. today, when the train crashed into a freight engine one-half mile west of Hutto.

The accident occurred in a dense fog. The injured were taken in ambulances to a hospital at Taylor. The freight engine was backing a string of cars off the main line on to a siding. Practically the entire train was off the main line, but the engine was on the tracks when the passenger train drove into its side.

Both engines were virtually demolished and track was torn up for more than 150 yards on the main line. A number of freight cars were smashed and their contents scattered; one baggage car was split open and another turned over; and two chair cars were thrown from the rails. The pullman cars stayed on the tracks.

A large number of football fans coming to the Texas-Aggie football game tomorrow were passengers. Passengers said the local was moving at a relatively slow pace, but that the smash came without application of brakes. Glass in the case windows was shattered and all passengers, many of whom were asleep, were dumped from their seats.

The king's physicians issued this bulletin shortly before 11 a. m. today.

The king passed a quieter night. His temperature and general condition remain as before.

Public anxiety tended to increase because the bulletin told nothing about the progress or abatement of the lung congestion or pleurisy.

It was generally realized that pleurisy and congestion had not been overcome yet and that as long as they persisted there was a possibility of more serious development.

Denver Officer Is Killed By Nurse

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 28 (AP)—Robert K. Evans, Denver policeman confined in the Denver general hospital by wounds received in a gun fight last week, which cost the life of his companion, Patrolman Harry Ohle, was shot and instantly killed as he lay in bed, shortly after five a. m. today by Miss Parive King, a nurse at the hospital. Miss King then turned the gun on herself, inflicting a wound expected to cause her death.

Costa Rica Gives Welcome To Hoover

PUNTA ARENAS, Costa Rica, Nov. 28 (AP)—Herbert Hoover was given a noisy welcome when he landed here at 8:30 a. m. today on his good will mission. Shore batteries exchanged salutes with the U. S. Maryland.

Ships in the harbor, including the British vessel Salvador, were decorated with flags. A large crowd, held back by militia, was on the wharf and quays and the native police band played as the visitors came ashore.

Vernon Man Dies In Well Accident

VERNON, Nov. 28 (AP)—H. L. Battles, 35, Vernon, was injured fatally today at Farmers Valley, when struck on the head by a ball which fell on him when a hook broke at an oil derrick on which he was working. He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Plane And Three Men Picked Up

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Sinclair Oil company was informed today that its tank ship Madrona had picked up three men and a disabled airplane off the Florida coast this morning. The wireless message from the tanker gave no details.

CONDITION OF KING IS SHOWN TO BE SERIOUS

PHYSICIANS ANNOUNCE RULER SUFFERING DUE CONGESTION

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 28.—A letter from the king's physician, Lord Dawson of Penn, submitted to the cabinet this morning and ordered published said his majesty was suffering from inflammation—congestion—of the right lung, with extensive plastic pleurisy on the right side.

There must be anxiety, the letter said, due to the infection, which naturally must be serious. The condition of the lung, however, was somewhat improved and the letter pointed out that the king's strength had been maintained.

Lord Dawson stated the illness thus far was being controlled and its force lessened and that he hoped its duration would be curtailed.

WALES CANCELS AFRICAN TOUR

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Because of the illness of King George, the Prince of Wales has cancelled his African tour and is returning home with his younger brother, the Duke of Gloucester. The king today apparently was holding his own in his own in his struggle against pleurisy.

The king's physicians issued this bulletin shortly before 11 a. m. today.

The king passed a quieter night. His temperature and general condition remain as before.

Public anxiety tended to increase because the bulletin told nothing about the progress or abatement of the lung congestion or pleurisy.

COMMITTEE MOVES ON TO SAN ANTONIO TO HEAR NEW PROTEST

(By Associated Press)
McALLEN, Nov. 28.—After hearing more testimony on the handling of general election returns in Hidalgo county, the congressional house committee from Washington closed its inquiry in South Texas today and proceeded on a visit to Brownsville, from where it will go tonight to San Antonio to investigate another dispute in the 14th congressional district.

Counsel for the Hidalgo county democratic administration officials, whose re-election is being contested, had by an independent faction on

Buckhorn Saloon Founder Is Dead

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Alfred Friedrich, founder of the Buckhorn saloon, one of the show-places of the southwest, is dead. A cold, caught on a deer hunt, developed into pneumonia and Friedrich died yesterday. The Buckhorn Saloon was founded 45 years ago. After prohibition it was changed into a curio store. The chief feature of the store was a magnificent collection of the heads and horns of deer and other animals.

Kidnaping Feared In Disappearance

DETROIT, Nov. 28 (AP)—Belief that Benjamin Jacobs, 38, head of a bottling works here, who was kidnaped from his office late yesterday by three men, is held for ransom, was expressed today by police. Samuel Jacobs, brother of the victim, witnessed the kidnaping. He said the three men entered the office, drew revolvers and forced his brother to accompany them to an automobile. They then drove away.

Theft Of Harness Here Tops Small Crime Wave

Memories of the distant past were echoed here this morning with the report of a stolen set of harness.

Bob King, who lives four miles from the city, reported to both the police and sheriff's department that a new set of leather harness, valued at approximately $50, was stolen last night.

According to local officers this was the first report of harness theft for some time, since accessories, etc.

The usual run of thievery was exemplified by a wave of petty theft throughout the city last night. One Gruen watch was stolen from Clover Hill from the Tech College Gymnasium, a report to police headquarters shows. One new bicycle was stolen from in front of a local theatre, and one Indian Scout motorcycle was stolen from Bill Blagg. The motorcycle was parked near the Alpine hotel.

FUTURE PROSPERITY DEPENDS LARGELY ON GOOD ROADS, IS STATE COMMISSIONER'S WORD

Advising his listeners to 'get out, go to work and carry this bond issue' and characterizing the building of hard-surface highways 'the greatest piece of work being done in the State of Texas today', Judge W. R. Ely, of Abilene, West Texas' representative on the State Highway commission, was the feature speaker at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at noon today.

JUDGE PRAISES COUNTY PLAN OF ROAD WORK

Wants State System Pointing out that he has no wish to enter into Lubbock county's family fuses and that to help build a connected and correlated system of paved highways for Texas' is his prime objective as a highway commissioner, Judge Ely, invited here by the Lubbock County Good Roads association, the county-wide organization sponsoring the passage of a $2,000,000 bond issue for the construction of a system of hard-surface highways, covered all phases of good roads construction.

Lateral roads, which have been the subject of organized opposition in Lubbock county's proposed system, received their share of the judge's comment. He declared that the lateral roads would serve the

This is the opinion of Judge W. R. Ely, of Abilene, member of the Texas State Highway Commission, who was in the city this morning in the interest of Lubbock county's $2,000,000 bond issue, which will be settled at the polls Saturday.

Judge Ely branded as erroneous the opposition to the lateral roads on the basis that they would wear out long before the bonds expired.

"Roads around San Antonio and in various parts of the state, of cheap construction than the ones planned by Lubbock county, are holding up remarkably well under heavy traffic," he said.

"Several counties in the eastern part of the state," he continued, "have realized the importance of lateral county roads and are planning paving projects similar to the one proposed in this county."

Judge Ely arrived in the city last night, speaking at a joint Kiwanis-Rotary club meeting at noon today, under the auspices of the Lubbock County Good Roads association. Tonight he will speak at Staton in the interest of the bond issue, going from there to Plainview.

"The highway commission is not satisfied with the present system of paying for paving," he said. "The commission wants an arrangement whereby the cost of paving will be taken from real estate and placed on the traffic which uses the highways."

It is not only the commission (Turn to Page 10, Column 1, Please)

Settlement Made For Wendel Suit

Settlement was reached by means of compromise yesterday in 72nd district court before Judge Homer L. Pharr in the $25,000 damage suit of Mrs. Barbara Wendel against the Gulf, Colorado, and Santa Fe railway company. The case was settled without a jury for $6,000 damages, of which $5,500 is to go to Mrs. Wendel and the remaining $500 to her young daughter, who was named as one of the plaintiffs in the case.

The suit was an outgrowth of an accident at Ballinger last September in which Jack Frank Wendel, husband of the plaintiff, was fatally injured when a Santa Fe train struck the car in which he was riding.

Life Term Is Given On Fourth Offense

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 28 (AP)—Chandler Tripp, 37, of Flint today was sentenced to life imprisonment following conviction of a fourth violation of the prohibition law. The sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Fred W. Brennan, under the new criminal code which makes a life sentence mandatory for a fourth felony conviction.

Fred Palm of Lansing was sentenced to a life term on conviction of possessing a pint of gin several months ago following three felony convictions.

DETROIT, Nov. 28 (AP)—W. W. Christie who was injured in an automobile accident east of Combs Sunday evening, died in the Big Spring sanitarium yesterday afternoon. His car was struck by a car driven by a Mexican. Mr. Christie was taking his wife to a sanitarium in Temple when this accident occurred.

STOCK TEAM IS OFF TO CHICAGO

GROUP WILL COMPETE IN CONTEST THERE THIS WEEK-END

The Texas Tech stock judging team left today for Chicago where it will compete in the International Students Livestock judging contest there Saturday.

Headed by Ray C. Mowery, the team will arrive at Chicago Friday, arriving here the following Wednesday. Although the team has completed in two national contests this year at Wichita and at Kansas City, this will be its first competition in an international contest. Twenty-three teams representing the leading agricultural colleges in the United States and Canada will compete in the show.

The team from here, which recently competed at the Kansas National Livestock judging contest at Wichita and at the Royal Stock Show at Kansas City, is composed of J. H. Burroughs, Bernis Carmichael, Vaughn Corley, Curtis Crimes, J. A. Jackson and Ronald C. Tom, in addition to the instructor, Ray C. Mowery, assistant professor of animal husbandry of Tech, who will accompany the team to Chicago.

Man-on-the-Moon Gets The Shivers

The fabled man in the moon discarded his usual asbestos tuxedo yesterday and donned his red flannels and fur-lined overcoat as the temperature of that planet experienced a 414-degree drop.

Exposed from the sun's rays by the earth, the temperature of the moon fell from 338 degrees Fahrenheit to 178 degrees below freezing, a point near the temperature of liquor air.

Dr. Earl L. Thompson, mathematician, professor and astronomer authority of Texas Tech, explained that the usual extreme hot temperature of the moon changed immediately into one of the coldest temperatures possible when the earth revolved directly between that planet and the sun.

STORM BREWS OVER EUROPE

NO RELIEF IS SEEN FOR DISTRICTS ALREADY RAVAGED BY FLOOD

PARIS, Nov. 28.—With the lowlands of Belgium and Holland flooded, another storm appeared to be brewing over Western Europe today.

Mountainous seas prevented pilots from reaching ships off the French Coast with the result that many vessels were forced to remain in harbors outside Havre, Bordeaux, and other ports.

Deceived by a temporary lull in the storm, ten fishing boats put out to sea from Grandport, a little Mediterranean port. They were caught in a squall. Eight got back to port, but two sank and three were drowned.

In the low countries of Belgium and Holland, where dykes were down, the waters of the sea swept over wide stretches, demolishing houses, flooding fields and drowning livestock.

The death toll in Holland alone was 58, including 27 members of the crew of the Italian steamer Sauro which went to pieces off Zaandvoort almost in sight of the coast.

There were six feet of sea water in many places in Belgium and several weeks will be needed to drain off the flood. Small gaps in the dykes were being repaired and sand bags were ready to stem any inland rush of the sea.

The Belgium towns of Termonde, Gremberghen and Moersbeke were almost under water and provisions were becoming scarce for their beleaguered inhabitants.

In Antwerp restaurants and hotels were running low on food supplies. There was a famine of drinking water due to the breaking of pipes undeterred by the flood, and portable water sold for four cents a quart while an exorbitant price was charged for mineral waters.

Additional testimony that the negro firemen mutilated was given at the steamboat inspection service inquiry. Ernest Smith, second refrigeration engineer, and other engineers testified the stokehold crew refused to turn to after the ship took the dangerous list and that officers who should have been on deck directing the work of launching the lifeboats were forced to stoke the boilers.

A new theory as to what caused the fatal list of the liner was given by Harry Wheeler, superintendent of the Lampert and Holt line, the owners.

He said it was his opinion that when a big wave hit the liner Sunday afternoon, eighteen hours before she sank, coal in the upper port side bunkers shifted to the starboard and this caused the increased list.

Advance word is confusing. Floydada having lost to Paducah, with Floydada holding the Post eleven to Slaton beat them 13 to 6 and Slaton beat Post 19 to 6, followed by a 6-0 tie. In the annual conflicts for the past four years Slaton has defeated Floydada three times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President and Mrs. Coolidge turned to Virginia today for a Thanksgiving holiday.

The Swannanoa Country club, a short distance from Waynesboro, had been given over to the chief executive for his stay in the Old Dominion and a special train had been arranged to carry him and his party to the scene of his short vacation.

In Mr. Coolidge's party were his personal aides, Colonel Osman Latrobe and Captain Wilson Brown, and Colonel James F. Coupland, the White House physician. Indicating that perhaps the president did not intend to devote his time entirely to pleasure, Congressman E. C. Geisser, also was included. There was a staff of ten of the White House household employees.

Mueller Company Suit Is Pacified

Mueller Brothers Manufacturing and Art company accepted a verdict of "non-suit" in the case against O. W. McLeod, local laundry operator, in Lubbock county court before Judge Charles Nordyke yesterday.

SHIP OFFICER SHIELDS CHIEF

SECOND IN COMMAND ON VESTRIS SEEKS TO DIVERT BLAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The second officer of the British liner Vestriss, just recovered from injuries received at the time of the sinking, gave testimony to federal investigators yesterday tending to clear the name of Captain Carey.

He said he believed up until the time the Vestriss sank that she would float for hours, and expressed the opinion that the captain shared this belief. All the information he had from the federal investigator Adams he said, was "treasoning" the engineer reporting that his efforts to pump out the water in the bilges apparently was succeeding.

A new theory as to what caused the fatal list of the liner was given by Harry Wheeler, superintendent of the Lampert and Holt line, the owners.

He said it was his opinion that when a big wave hit the liner Sunday afternoon, eighteen hours before she sank, coal in the upper port side bunkers shifted to the starboard and this caused the increased list.

Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will attend Thanksgiving services in Charlottesville and afterwards will be guests of honor at a buffet lunch at the home of President Alderman of the University of Virginia. Later they may be spectators for a few minutes at the Thanksgiving football game between the Universities of Virginia and North Carolina.

A census of traffic, recently taken on all main roads of London, called for the services of 15,000 men working in relief.

EPIDEMIC HITS MOVIE COLONY

THIRTEEN ACTORS AND TWO DIRECTORS ARE VICTIMS OF 'FLU'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 28.—Thirteen motion picture stars and two directors were confined to their beds today with attacks of influenza. What was described as a "mild epidemic" struck the film colony Sunday when Clara Bow and John Gilbert, screen actors were brought down with the disease.

Others under physicians' care include Lois Wilson, Monte Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barthelmess, Mary Philbin, Loreta Young, Sally Phipps, Jean Arthur, Ruth Taylor, William Haines and Buster Keaton, actors, and F. W. Murnau and Edward Sedgwick, directors.

In the metropolitan district of Los Angeles 802 new cases of influenza were reported yesterday, bringing the total for the month to 2,163 cases. Deaths total 41.

In San Diego, Dr. A. E. Lessen, city and county health officer, announced he would issue an order today closing the city schools for an indefinite period beginning December 2 because of the prevalence of influenza among the students.

The absence of 12 per cent of the students from classes at the state college in Fresno has caused the closing of that institution until next Monday.

PARIS.—A new instrument, capable of recording the altitude of airplanes to within one foot of the ground, has been installed on French aircraft. The instrument is for use in foggy weather. An arrangement under the plane makes a series of explosions. Electric sound detectors pick up the echo from the ground and the height of the plane is gauged therefrom.

LONDON.—A letter received in the postoffice here bore the following address: "To the Chemical Cleaners who are dying on overcoat for Arthur Lewis. Near the bridge same street as the Market is in, near top of St. James Road, Southport." The letter was delivered.

AUSTIN, Nov. 27.—The Hunt Development company today was authorized by the board of water engineers to appropriate $41,000 acre feet annually for power purposes from the Guadalupe river.

CLEVELAND.—Although the colorful deed wasn't laid to a Halloween jamboree, the nearness of the season caused Steve Kven to believe witches had been abroad again. He went out to his barn to find three of his horses painted blue, green and red, while seven of his 12 saddle horses were striped all colors of the rainbow.

Georgia Banks Have Difficulty

MAFON, Geo., Nov. 28.—The affairs of eight Georgia banks were in the hands of the state banking department today as a sequel to the closing of the Fourth National Bank of Macon Monday.

The Macon bank was their federal reserve agent. In each case officers assured depositors of protection and announced that reorganization and reopening would be effected as soon as possible. Heavy withdrawals brought about a "financial scare" over the condition of the Fourth National, were blamed in every instance.

"Mystery Shot" That Killed Boy Probed

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—"The Mystery Shot" which killed Windo Pettito, 7, as he was eating supper in his father's home last night has been explained. Windo's brother, John, 14, told police today he fired the shot. He was cleaning a pistol, he said, when it was discharged accidentally.

SEVERES HIM RIGHT

LONDON.—A lesson to motorists of England was given in court recently. A man, arrested for driving while intoxicated, was fined $125, and was prohibited from ever driving an automobile again.

PAL OF SLAIN GAMBLER HELD IN NEW YORK

GEORGE McMANUS, WHO CALLED ROTHSTEIN TO DEATH, CAUGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—George McManus, who summoned Arnold Rothstein to the hotel room where he was wounded mortally, was charged with the gambler's murder today.

He refused to talk beyond pleading not guilty to a short affidavit charging him with murder in the first degree and was held without bail for formal hearing Friday.

Police had sought McManus without avail ever since Rothstein was shot November 4. He notified them last night that he would surrender this morning in a Bronx barber shop. When the appointment was kept by a detective on the district attorney's staff McManus already was in the barber shop, getting a shave.

Rothstein, a slow-pay gambler who gave I O U's but took cash, was sitting in Lindy's restaurant in the white light district on the night of Nov. 4 when he was called to the telephone. When he hung up the receiver, he got his hat and coat and went away.

"George McManus wants me over at the Park Central," he told the restaurant cashier. He asked the man to keep his pistol for him until he got back.

But he never went back for in room 349 of the Park Central, a George Richards' which police say room rented under the name of an alias adopted for the occasion by McManus, he was shot through the groin and two days later he died.

In room 349 police found several bottles and glasses, and an overcoat with McManus' name in the collar. So they went to the home of McManus, the burly brother of a police lieutenant and an intimate of Rothstein, widely known in the gambling haunts along the fringe of the underworld but he was not there. Nor did he go there any more and detectives could not find him.

There was no suggestion during all the three weeks search that McManus was wanted for anything more than questioning. District Attorney Banton said repeatedly that he did not believe McManus killed Rothstein, but that he undoubtedly knew who did.

So it came as a surprise today when the short affidavit sworn to by the arresting officer stated that the detective was "informed and verily believed" that McManus fired the shot from which his gambler pal died.

Defendant Not Worried

But though today's murder charge was a surprise to almost every one else, no trace of emotion showed on the ruddy face of the defendant. He smiled his way into the court of general sessions, where he was arraigned, and then into a cell in Tombs prison.

During the arraignment he surrendered what change he might have had of eating his Thanksgiving dinner outside of prison so that court officers and the district attorney would not have to work on a holiday.

A person can only be held without bail for 48 hours on a short affidavit, which would have necessitated holding the formal hearing on Thursday, but McManus waived the point with a smile and agreed to let himself be held in prison until Friday.

After McManus had been led away his lawyer issued a statement saying that his client had not been a fugitive at any time and would have surrendered himself immediately had it not been for his sense of innocence.

Successful poultry production depends in a large measure upon good housing. A carefully planned, properly constructed poultry house maintains the health and activity of the farm flock by providing warm, dry, light, well-ventilated living quarters.

The new booklet "Modern Poultry Houses" presents the best ideas in poultry house construction. It shows in detail many plans (all based on designs recommended by state agricultural colleges) which have proved thoroughly practical and economical in use.

SLATON TO MEET FLOYDADA SQUAD

SLATON, Nov. 27.—After inflicting a 40 to 20 defeat upon Brownfield last Friday, the Slaton High Tigers are pointing for the annual Turkey Day battle with Floydada at Floydada next Thursday. A special train, with 500 Slaton people, will go to Floydada, says J. H. Brewer, Slaton banker in charge of ticket sales and C. L. Stone, superintendent of the Slaton schools.

Advance word is confusing. Floydada having lost to Paducah, with Floydada holding the Post eleven to Slaton beat them 13 to 6 and Slaton beat Post 19 to 6, followed by a 6-0 tie. In the annual conflicts for the past four years Slaton has defeated Floydada three times.

"Honor Thy Father"

HAMILTON, O., Nov. 28.—James Buckner, 26, must write 1,000 copies of a selected Bible verse and the fourth commandment as punishment for striking his 52-year-old father. Municipal Judge Paul suspended a $50 fine yesterday with the remark "A fine in money would not be recompense for an act of frater committit against the laws of God."

'Spirit Lover' Fired

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 28.—Charles W. Hitchcock mentioned by Miss Elfrida Knaak as her "Spirit Lover" when she lay dying from Burns mysteriously inflicted in the city hall furnace last month has been asked to resign from the village police force.

Barney Rosenbagen, the chief of police whose orders to a janitor resulted in finding Miss Knaak badly burned, was discharged last night by the city council.

The port of Edmia, Poland, partially open to navigation since 1927, is the newest port on the Baltic.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President and Mrs. Coolidge turned to Virginia today for a Thanksgiving holiday.

The Swannanoa Country club, a short distance from Waynesboro, had been given over to the chief executive for his stay in the Old Dominion and a special train had been arranged to carry him and his party to the scene of his short vacation.

In Mr. Coolidge's party were his personal aides, Colonel Osman Latrobe and Captain Wilson Brown, and Colonel James F. Coupland, the White House physician. Indicating that perhaps the president did not intend to devote his time entirely to pleasure, Congressman E. C. Geisser, also was included. There was a staff of ten of the White House household employees.

Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will attend Thanksgiving services in Charlottesville and afterwards will be guests of honor at a buffet lunch at the home of President Alderman of the University of Virginia. Later they may be spectators for a few minutes at the Thanksgiving football game between the Universities of Virginia and North Carolina.

A census of traffic, recently taken on all main roads of London, called for the services of 15,000 men working in relief.

PAL OF SLAIN GAMBLER HELD IN NEW YORK

GEORGE McMANUS, WHO CALLED ROTHSTEIN TO DEATH, CAUGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—George McManus, who summoned Arnold Rothstein to the hotel room where he was wounded mortally, was charged with the gambler's murder today.

He refused to talk beyond pleading not guilty to a short affidavit charging him with murder in the first degree and was held without bail for formal hearing Friday.

Police had sought McManus without avail ever since Rothstein was shot November 4. He notified them last night that he would surrender this morning in a Bronx barber shop. When the appointment was kept by a detective on the district attorney's staff McManus already was in the barber shop, getting a shave.

Rothstein, a slow-pay gambler who gave I O U's but took cash, was sitting in Lindy's restaurant in the white light district on the night of Nov. 4 when he was called to the telephone. When he hung up the receiver, he got his hat and coat and went away.

"George McManus wants me over at the Park Central," he told the restaurant cashier. He asked the man to keep his pistol for him until he got back.

Miss Glen Stanton is Bride of Turner Kirby In Ceremony Read By Rev White

In a simple ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stanton, 1909 15th street, Miss Glen Stanton became the bride of Turner Kirby of Pampa, this morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. E. E. White, of the First Methodist church, officiating. Friends of the bride and groom, relatives and intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a dress of navy blue transparent velvet and erpe with other accessories in blue and carried a bride's bouquet of rose buds. Before going away she donned a grey coat and hat and had other traveling accessories in harmonizing shades.

To Live in Pampa
Mr. and Mrs. Kirby left immediately after the ceremony on a short honeymoon and will be at home in Pampa after December 6.

Preceding the ceremony reading, the bride's cousin, Miss Mary Alice Stanton, sang "At Dawning", accompanied by Mrs. Mammie I. Neal who played the wedding march. Miss Stanton wore brown velvet.

The ceremony was read before an altar that had been improvised in an arch in the living room of the home. Greenery and flowers were decorations.

Former Tech Students
Mrs. Kirby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stanton who live about eight miles northeast of Lubbock and is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stanton. She is a graduate of the Lubbock high school and has been a student in Technological college. The groom was a junior in Tech last year and is a rancher in the Panhandle. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Kirby of Pampa.

Mrs. Kirby is a graduate of the Clearfork high school and attended Northwood Academy in Lexington, Mo., and the Haskell Institute in Kansas before she entered the college here.

Living and Loving

HUSBAND KILLS WIFE'S LOVE BY CONSTANT FAULT FINDING

Isn't it queer how selfish some men can be? Before marriage he does everything he can think of to please the girl of his choice—she thinks she is getting a prince. Then, scarcely have the wedding bells ceased to peal, than he demands that she shall devote the rest of her life to pleasing him. And the funny part of it is he expects the girl to go on loving this selfish stranger that he has become in place of the charming sweetheart she thought she married.

Can you tell me of any good reason why a wife should stay with a husband such as the one depicted in this letter?

"My Dear Mrs. Lee: I am married to a man who, through constant fault finding has killed the love and respect I once had for him. It seems like nothing pleases him, and yet I believe he loves me as much as anyone of his selfish nature can. Because of that, and also because I didn't want to hurt my family, I told you so. I have lived with him this long. During the most of these years I have been—and now am—supporting myself.

"I have no children, but that is not my fault. My husband has discouraged all friendships with young couples of our own age, so I have led a lonesome, dreary life until about a year ago, when we made the acquaintance of a young man five years my junior. He came to me and I enjoyed his company, but I swear I thought of him only as a friend. But my husband got jealous and ordered him off the place. That was the beginning of a secret friendship. Dear Mrs. Lee, there is no wrong doing in our friendship. We see each other about once a week, sometimes not so often. We are real pals, tell each other all our troubles, all our interests and thoughts. Really, our friendship is more like that of two girls. We like the same things, have the same ideas and ideals. But, Mrs. Lee, I don't like the slipping out and secrecy, the sneaky feeling of it all. I like to be open and above board, but how can I give him up? Tell me what to do. Am I doing wrong? I am one who is trying to be happy though.

"MARRIED."

If your love is dead, and you have no happiness in living with your husband, you are self-supporting and have no children, I cannot see why you should continue to live with him. Why not have a talk with him and tell him just how you feel—leaving the young man out of it? If you had a little plain of your own you could entertain friends and lead a more normal life. To tell your husband that his selfishness and fault finding have killed your love, and to ask for your freedom might wake him up and show him that he must change if he is to get anything out of life. No matter how innocent clandestine meetings may be, they certainly do make one feel mean, don't they? And as long as you are a wife I think you should discontinue them, because of the construction your husband and others could put on them. Such things are bound to get out sooner or later, and the reputation of each of you will suffer, and such things are hard to live down.

Mrs. W. H. Trice Is Club Hostess Mrs. J. D. Peters Is Club Hostess

Mrs. W. H. Trice was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of the Jolly Dose club in her home at 1921 18th street and progressive forty-two was the diversion of the afternoon. A Christmas party was planned for December 18 with Mrs. A. H. Travis.

TOLL HEAVY IN ISLAND STORM

MANILA, Nov. 28.—The toll of human lives taken by the typhoon which swept through the central part of the Philippine Islands last week was fixed at forty known dead today, with estimates of the total fatalities running as high as 300. Ten thousand persons are reported homeless in the provinces of Sorsogon, Albay and Masbate.

Preliminary reports from the cruiser Milwaukee, surveying the devastated area, indicated the need for emergency relief was not as great as was feared.

The Milwaukee went to Leyte Island today after having visited the island of Samar, leaving Red Cross workers and relief supplies. Previous reports indicated that there were about ten thousand homeless on Leyte. The Milwaukee has reported that no extra relief work was needed at Legaspi.

Governor General Stimson issued an executive order authorizing provincial governors in the stricken area to assume control and fix reasonable prices on privately owned supplies of staple food.

Thought For Today

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing.—Ecc. 3:1

Day follows on the murkiest night, and when the time comes, the latest fruits will ripen.—Schiller.

Hero

Sometimes it seems as if it takes a great tragedy to reveal the fundamental nobility of the human race. The story of the sinking of the steamer Vestra has not been pleasant reading. But through the dark paragraphs of terror and death there have been bright gleams of courage and fidelity that are worth going far to get.

Michael, the chief radio operator, made a name that should be remembered for a long time. To understand the nature of his heroism, you must fix in your mind a picture of the situation on the sinking vessel. The Vestra was lying far over on its side, its decks slanting as steeply as the roof of a house. It was sagging lower in the water every minute, with long waves lashing it deeper as they broke over its nearly submerged bows.

In the little cubby-hole of a radio room sat O'Loughlin. Perhaps "sat" isn't the word; the room carried at such an angle that he had to brace himself against the wall to keep from falling. He knew that at any moment the ship might turn completely over, or slide down into the depths without warning. To be cooped up inside under such circumstances hardly could have been pleasant.

But there sat O'Loughlin, keeping in his hand the little key that was the steamer's sole contact with the rest of the world. Hour after hour he stayed there, ticking out the signals that were bringing help across the hostile sea. Lower and lower the ship settled; at last the lifeboats splashed down the slanting side. Still O'Loughlin stuck, guiding the rescue ships to the scene. The power generators were flooded, and he had to send his signals on the emergency code, but he kept at it.

The scientists are fond of telling us that we are ruled by fundamental instincts which cannot possibly be broken. The strongest of these, they say, is the instinct of self-preservation. Oh, how they like the race!

Self-preservation! O'Loughlin could easily have left his post after once making sure that help was on the way. He could have stepped outside, made his way to a lifeboat or raft, straddled a life about his waist and made sure of his own safety. No one could have blamed him for refusing to die like a drowning rat in a sinking cage. But he didn't.

Things like that happen oftener than we realize. An ordinary, un-distinguished man finds himself face to face with terror and death; and without any flourish or heroics, he calmly ignores them and does the duty that presents itself. He may die as a result; yet the blindest materialist alive must admit that a man has eternally conquered death. He has proved that it cannot frighten him; and the aspirations of the race are thereby vindicated.

Private Planes

Whenever it is suggested that the use of privately owned airplanes in this country will presently rival in extent the use of privately owned autos, the objection is made that the average citizen will never be able to get the use of a landing field.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says That Girl on Broadway says if we all had as much sympathy for the other fellow as we have for ourselves this would be a better world.

Have your children any old toys? Is there a discarded doll, wagon, top, doll carriage or some other kind of a jimcrack around the house that the kiddies have gotten tired of and which will be forgotten when Old Santa calls around again?

If there are, get in touch with Captain F. C. Scott, of the local unit of the Salvation Army. He has plenty of use for them all.

It doesn't matter so much if the toys are bent or partially broken if the dolls have a leg or an arm pulled loose or if there is a wheel off the discarded doll buggy. Captain Scott and his co-workers can mend them just the same. They'll mend them, add a touch of paint here and there, perhaps and some little boy or girl who has no father or whose family has no funds, will have a happy Christmas.

You know it's against all the ethics of the newspaper fraternity to advertise in gulf and editorial columns but The Plainsman doesn't care a bit if it is. You folks who have some toys laying around forgotten by your kiddies, take them to Salvation Army headquarters, 1904 Avenue H, or call Captain Scott at phone number 1630 and he'll come or send for them. Lubbock's children must be taken care of this Christmas and there are a lot of us who can lend a hand if we only will.

Just suppose your kiddies faced Christmas with never a chance for a toy! Just suppose there was never a trinket. Laid up for your girl or your boy. Believe me you'd feel kinda gloomy.

That God's sunshine had darkened the world to night.

Plan today to please somebody's baby— Plan to scatter the Yule-tide light! There is only one dollar can help you when in your own coffin you lay, And that lone dollar to help you is the one you have given away!

Now you old boys who pay your income tax in three, four and maybe five figures, read the little vestra above again. And if you haven't any broken toys around the house go down town and buy a few and give them to Captain Scott. The poor kiddies will like new toys just as well as they will the old ones!

That Man on Avenue Q says being a good fellow by slapping your friends on the back is all right for the balance of the year but it doesn't mean anything around Christmas.

By golly The Plainsman is tickled pink! He's going to get to lap a lip over a hunk of venison for the first time in two deer seasons. Yes sir! Real venison.

A friend dropped into the office yesterday, all full of pep after a most successful deer hunt near Kerville, with the announcement that after thinking the matter over very carefully he had decided to present this poor, benighted, heathen with a venison steak. He was "taken up" on the proposition so quick that it made his head swim.

If there's anything in the world The Plainsman likes better than venison it's more venison and the 16th Street Boarding house where he occasionally has time to change his shirt, was thrown into an uproar when the announcement was made.

The only reason the name of the benefactor is being withheld is because The Plainsman is afraid that this sounds quite reasonable. The ordinary citizen can't hope to keep a plane in his back yard, but if he can join a club that will have plenty of space for such activities he'll be just as well off as if he had his own landing field.

Roberts' Job Owen Roberts, retiring as special government prosecutor in the oil fraud cases to resume private practice, deserves the whole hearted thanks of his fellow countrymen.

For a number of years Roberts and Atlee Pomeroy have had the thanks of oil men for their work in the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills cases. They have restored both of these vast reserves to the government and if Messrs. Fall, Sinclair and Doheny are not in jail today, at least they were held into court and revealed to everybody in their true colors.

The work of the special prosecutors has been ably done. The highest commendation is due Mr. Roberts for his services.

Chilean Ambassador, A Real Live Wire, Will Be An Aid To Hoover In His South American Trip, Dutcher Thinks

BARB'S New income tax figures show 283 paying income tax on $1,000,000 a year. A profit is not without honor in this country.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Senator Dr. Don Carlos Davila, ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from the Republic of Chile, was instrumental in not brief-ly responsible in the matter of arranging President-elect Hoover's visit to Latin America.

Until he was sent on his mission to Washington he was a newspaperman. He has been here long enough to determine whether he would rather be in that or a diplomat. But he was so long in the editor of the morning newspaper in Santiago that he still does a great deal of his work at night from force of habit.

His journalistic reputation in Chile was so great that it was assumed that his diplomatic achievements could never quite create another reputation to equal it. But there begins to be some doubt about that. Few new comers in the corps during recent years have made such a favorable impression. Conversation with Davila reveals that he knows far more about the United States—its business, politics and history—than the average American.

We found out just how up-and-coming Senator Don Davila was last spring when he flew to the Foreign Trade Convention at Houston and back. The ambassador threw a luncheon in honor of the Latin-American good will flyers which was attended by War Secretary Wilbur. They were telling him of their attempts to make the country air-minded. It appeared that Don Carlos had habitually hopped into an airplane as unthinkingly as one might mount a bicycle, a buggy or motor car. So he was offered an army plane to take him to Houston.

It was rather surprising that Chile didn't lose a perfectly good ambassador, as things turned out. He flew first to Fort Bragg and then toward Montgomery, Ala. Forced down by a low cloud, he proceeded by motor to Maxwell Field, but meanwhile he was lost to the world and there were serious fears whether he would be seen again alive. However, Don Carlos flew on in a new plane from Maxwell Field, bound for Houston.

Enroute he ran into a tornado which subsequently nearly destroyed a town or two in its path and had a miraculous escape from that. But the tornado hurried him on to Houston and he made the 650 miles in five hours.

At Houston he made a speech which the Foreign Trade Council deemed worthy of several printings. He demonstrated that the remarkable growth of our trade with Latin America was not due to war's fortuitous assistance, but to a cycle of development originating from the powerful expansion of American production and merchandising. This rather general impression among business men that the war really was responsible.

Leaving Houston Friday night the ambassador had to get to New York Sunday noon to see his wife and children off for Europe. He sent his army plane on to New Orleans and went himself on a sleeper. At 7:30 a. m. he took off for Montgomery, had coffee and gasoline there, and flew on to Fort Bragg, where he dined and took another sleeper landing in New York early Sunday morning.

Once, in Santiago, Davila was a mere reporter, covering fires, bun-deras, murders and all such matters. He was promoted to ambassador in the foreign editor and he was so good that he became managing editor,

Aerial Instructor Is Killed By Bomb RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 28 (AP)—Lt. Commander Paul Casador of Maryland, member of the American naval mission to Brazil, and an aerial instructor with the Brazilian fleet, was slightly injured during maneuvers today by the premature explosion of an aerial bomb which killed two Brazilian officers and wounded three others.

Butterflies recognize one another at a distance of six to eight feet, according to scientists. Butterflies, however, do not borrow from one another.

whereupon he introduced ideas of journalism and built La Nacion up to its present commanding position. As editor and publisher of La Nacion he founded an afternoon tabloid, Los Tiempos. He raised newspaper salaries and affected a journalists' retirement fund under which, with government administration, each employe of a newspaper contributed five per cent of his salary to be matched by five per cent from the owner plus 20 per cent of the paper's annual profits.

Davila was always strong for close cultural relations with the United States and as importantly instrumental in making Chile a good friend of ours. Meanwhile he and numerous other Chileans were becoming disgusted with their government and Davila fought for a new deal.

A general house-cleaning was effected in 1926 and when they asked Don Carlos what position he wanted in the new government he asked for the ambassadorship to Washington, hoping that he could promote some more Chilean-American friendship and do something to clean up the Tacna-Arica mess in which his country and Peru have been embroiled for these many years.

He has been doing well at both jobs. He got the Peruvian and Chilean delegates together at Havana and was responsible for restoring diplomatic relationship between the two countries after a lapse of 17 years. The Tacna-Arica question remains unsettled, but the outlook has become considerably more hopeful.

In New York By Gilbert Swan NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Ten o'clock on Wall Street. . . . Another 3,000,000-share day is starting. The sun swings slowly up from the river. . . . It finds its way to the tips and turrets of the skyscrapers. . . . It splashes over upon the streets, making bright, golden eddies on the floors of the narrow canyons where gold is a drug on the market, yet hidden from all eyes.

Ten o'clock on Wall Street. . . . Clerks lie stretched out on tables, the clerks lie with dictionaries as pillows. Clerks lie with heads propped on telephone books. . . . Clerks lie collapsed at their tables. Heads numbly collapsed into piles of papers, rows of figures. . . . Clerks come listlessly through the doors. . . . Their faces are pasty white. . . . Their eyes are lined and drawn. . . . Their eyes circled. . . . But their collars are white and their lips spottedly clean. . . . Clerks snap automatically into place, like the puppets of a mechanical ballet. . . . The sun finds its way to the tips and turrets of the skyscrapers. . . . They rush from their mahogany caves. . . . Dapper, well groomed, pressed pants, carnations in button holes, they rush to the floor of the exchange! . . . .

Ten o'clock on Wall Street! Another of "those" days has begun. The flood is on. . . . The tickers are swamped before they can start. . . . Shares by millions. . . . shares by tens of thousands. . . . Get your bids in! Get your sales in! . . . Get the orders! . . . Get the orders! . . . Get the orders! . . . Get your bids in! Swap the tickers! . . . There is an air of madness about it all.

Ten o'clock on Wall Street! Men sit comfortably in the ticker rooms of brokerage offices. . . . Men sit comfortably and smoke Coronas, pass cigarettes one to the other and watch the antics of a "board boy" as he placards a wall with the market quotations. . . . Men sit comfortably and smile at themselves. . . . "Up five points this morning." . . . "Yep, I'm carrying 2,000." . . . "Umm. . . ten grand in two hours! Not bad, my boy!" Men sit comfortably and take their profits from their losses, without any further exertion than handling a big paper to a messenger or going to a telephone. . . . Men make fortunes between 10 and noon, and do not leave their chairs. Men make fortunes while other collapse for them. . . . The customers must be served!

Afternoon on Wall Street! A general ring! The doors close! Men more vitally than their earnings make their way out. The sun has long since swung over. The air is chill. It bites through their overcoats. Behind they leave the swamped tickers and the swamped clerks. The swamped clerks face armies of figures. Stenographers, clerks, bookkeepers, tired and worn. Two weeks extra pay, boys! . . . . And a hot tip on a sure thing tomorrow. . . . So into the night. . . . With lights blinking from the smothered caves and collapsing men going out for coffee or a "shot" at the speakeasy. . . . Night, and a moon swinging over from the river. A moon that drops puddles of gold at the feet of men too weary to see its transient beauty.

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D. Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children" Reducing Without Exercise Mrs. P. wants to reduce. She owns a store and is walking practically all day. She wonders she can reduce by diet without adding extra walking. Her abdomen requires a little special thought.

Ear Popping L-Popping in the ears, and other head disturbances, such as you mention, may be due to a catarrhal condition in the ear, especially in the case of a cold. . . . I imagine that if your store is well ventilated, you need not add extra walking. Mrs. P., although good brisk walking in the open air would really give more benefit. You will need special exercises for the abdominal muscles which I tell about in our article. The Abdominal Wall.

Yes, most of the reduction has to be done through diet, but exercise is necessary to keep one toned up and supple. And, of course, the more you exercise, the less you have to limit your diet. However, one can reduce by diet alone. It's the biggest part of the reduction regime in any case. . . . feed Tea and Lemons Mrs. S.—No, lead tea is improved by lemon rather than harmed, because lemon juice has the necessary vitamin. The overeating should take his lead tea unsweetened. . . . Whether tea is worse for you than coffee is an individual question. An over-consumption of either may be harmful, and even in moderate quantities they are harmful to some.

No, there is no truth in the belief that eating lemons will help reduce. Lemons have no effect of "thinning the blood," as you have been told, unless they are substituted for more solid food. They do contain more solid food. Those who are over-eating should be over-charged with sugar and other products of digestion from over-eating. . . . We have an article on Balance Diet which you may have. . . . Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in postage for each article. For the pamphlet on reducing an article, 10 cents in coin, with full self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. Address: Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. . . . Tomorrow: A Way to Express Thanksgiving.

The World And All BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL SELFISH MOTHERS To advantage in her novel, "The Invaders," published by Harper's, who lavishes her affection and sympathy upon her son. . . . He will never marry as long as she lives. . . . So there thrives a queer twisted love between mother and son, the selfish mother always fearful lest some young woman should come along and steal him from her in spite of the promise. . . . It's a good novel theme, and a good theme for mothers and sons to think about while both are still young. . . . Parents must realize, if they are going to fulfill their appointed mission, that they must give the children liberty to live their own lives and rear their own families for the children were created for life that is to continue after the parents are dead. . . . Each generation must respect the rights of the generation that follows, and not demand that all the respect shall be given to the reverse order.

FUSS ECHOES PROPOSAL OF LABOR SCHOOL

BROOKWOOD COLLEGE IS BOTH UPHELD AND CRITICIZED

(By Associated Press.)
 NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—A proposal to establish one or more labor colleges in the United States produced spirited debate centering around Brookwood Labor College today at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.
 Charges that communism is taught at Brookwood College at Katonah, N. Y., were hurled and denials were made. When the convention adjourned, A. J. Muse, dean of the school, issued a statement saying some of the statements made on the floor were "absolutely incorrect."
 Matthew Wolf, fourth vice-president of the federation, told delegates he had been appointed by President William Green to investigate Brookwood College and said he had found the school "was teaching propaganda against the American Federation of Labor." He added that he found three teachers were Communists and one an Anarchist.
 Defense of Brookwood was voiced by Tobias Hall of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, who said he was there three times, had seen no indication of communistic teachings, and by Charles L. "Red" of Salem, Mass., who said he was a Brookwood graduate.

Republicans Will Hold 1930 Primary

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 28 (AP).—Republicans in Texas, for the second time, will hold a primary in 1930, on the basis of figures on the recent election.
 Under the Terrell election law parties which poll more than 100,000 votes for state office are entitled to hold a statewide primary.
 W. H. Holmes, republican gubernatorial candidate this month polled more than 100,000 votes. With 46 counties not yet included in the official count his total is approximately 115,000.

AUDITOR WILL BE ADDED FOR COUNTY STAFF

STATUTES STIPULATE OFFICIAL MUST BE EMPLOYED HERE

Appointment of a county auditor to look after the business of Lubbock county will be made at some date in the near future by Judges Homer L. Pharr and Clark M. Milligan.
 Applications for the position will be received by the two district judges after December 1. Addition of an auditor to the county's business department is authorized by the Texas statutes which state that a county with assessed property valuations of more than $15,000,000 must have a full time auditor. The last tax roll of Lubbock county places the assessed valuation at $22,000,000, necessitating the appointment.
 A recent ruling of Attorney General Claud Pollard received by the two district judges, declared that the appointment of an auditor in the near future was mandatory. Salary of the auditor, as fixed by the statutes, is $125 for each $1,000,000 valuation, making it for this county about $2,750 for the year.
 Applicants are requested to show their qualifications and experience in applying for the position. The required qualifications are specified in the statutes as follows:
 "Must be a man of unquestionable good moral character and intelligence, thoroughly competent in public business detail, and he must be a competent accountant of at least two years experience in auditing and accounting."

The New Buick is Capturing the Country!

Every member of the family... short or tall... enjoys perfect driving comfort in Buick's new adjustable front seat....

Everyone... not only the "average man" for whom ordinary automobile seats are designed, but everyone... enjoys complete driving comfort at the wheel of the Silver Anniversary Buick.

Buick's new adjustable front seat, in conjunction with the adjustable steering column, makes possible a made-to-measure driving position for any individual... "stout or slender, short or tall." Simply turn the seat regulator and the entire seat moves forward or backward to the exact position desired... even when the seat is occupied... even when the car is in motion!

A tremendous advance beyond common practice... a vast improvement in driving ease... yet only one of the numerous comfort features in this newest and finest of Buicks. All who drive it appreciate the new twin-blade electric windshield wiper... Buick fingertip steering... improved grouping of instruments and controls... and many other refinements not combined in any other automobile at any price!

These wonderful new comfort features, in addition to its vivid beauty and unrivaled performance, have won nationwide acclaim for the new Buick—made it undisputed leader in its price field—as well as America's favorite family car!

LAST PRACTICE OF SEASON SLATED FOR MATADORS TODAY

TECH WILL MAKE URGENT BID FOR BERTH IN CONFERENCE

FIVE TECH MEN PLAY LAST TILT AGAINST BUFFS

TEAM WILL TRAVEL TO CANYON ON SPECIAL WITH STUDENTS

When the Tech Matadors don their moosekins in the final workout this afternoon for the Thanksgiving game with the Canyon Buffs, the Buff Fighters will take the field for the last practice session of 1928. Coach Freeland and Payne will send their charges through a light signal drill.

Brisk weather has put new vigor into the daily workouts of the Matadors and the game tomorrow will find the Tech eleven in top playing form for their final appearance of the season. With the entire squad in the pink of condition for the tussle with Coach Jones' aggregation, fans who make the trip to Canyon will see a determined Matador machine take the field.

Likely Line-Up

Although Coach Freeland could not give the starting lineup for the game tomorrow the following will likely be favored.

Ends—Payne and Barfoot; tackles—Knowles and Carpenter; guards—Reed and DeWitt; center—Durham; quarterback—Walker; halves—R. Walker and L. Walker; fullback—Woodbridge.

Last reports from ticket sales indicated that a record delegation will leave here tomorrow morning on the special train bound for the scene of the football classic of the Panhandle. Headed by the college band and pep squads, the Tech boosters will arrive in Canyon shortly before noon in time to stage a parade in the downtown section of the city. Canyon officials are expecting the largest crowd at the game tomorrow ever to witness a contest on the Buffalo field. A crowd of 5,000 is expected.

The Matadors will accompany the special train to Canyon with the entire squad aboard.

HIGH SCHOOL TILTS FEATURE

DISTRICT HONORS ARE AT STAKE IN MANY OF STATE CLASHES

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—Thanksgiving can hardly be dissociated from football and the Thanksgiving season has brought its attendant series of games among member high schools of the Texas Interscholastic league. The following contests have been announced for Thanksgiving week by Roy Henderson, athletic director of the University of Texas league bureau:

Nov. 28—North Dallas vs. Highland Park (Dallas); Jefferson at Henderson, Coerman at Sulphur Springs, Greenville at McKinney, Athens at Nacogdoches, Tyler at Marshall, Texarkana vs. Texarkana, Ark., Galveston at Beaumont, Laredo at Harlingen, Alamo Heights vs. Harlandale (San Antonio), Dalhart at Clayton, Littlefield at Otton, Big Spring at Lamona, Crowell at Seymour, Tahoka at Brownfield, Paris at Commerce, Borham at Honey Grove, Royse City at Rockwall, Milne at Wintersboro, Gilmer at Longview, Gladewater at Troup, Odessa at Stanton, Pecos at Midland, Colorado at Snyder, Comanche at De Leon, Rising Star at Gorman, McGregor at Gatesville, Timpan at Center, Jasper at Kirbyville, Junction at Kerrville, Victoria at Beville, Corpus Christi at Robstown, McAllen vs. San Benito at Harlingen.

Nov. 29—Sunset (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Spearman at Perryton, Alpine at Marfa.

Dec. 1—North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Central (Fort Worth), Forest (Dallas) vs. Cliff (Dallas), Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs. Main Avenue (San Antonio).

SNYDER TO MEET ROBY HIGH LIONS

SNYDER, Nov. 28.—Contracts were signed here today for the appearance of the Roby high Lions against the Snyder Tigers on Thanksgiving day. The original schedule called for the Colorado Wolves but the district committee ruled that the district championship game should be played Thursday between the Colorado and Anson high teams. The winners would then play Odessa the following week.

HALFBACKS? CAN'T BEGIN TO NAME ALL THE GOOD ONES

WITTMER Princeton; GLASSGOW Iowa; THOMAS Southern California; BANKER Tulane; CAGLE Army.

BY BILL RITT Sports Writer for Central Press

Finding good halfbacks is just about the easiest job facing an American football team picker. Selecting the two best in just about the hardest.

The reams of copy written about Christian Keener Cagle, the Army ace, will undoubtedly give him just about the best chance of the halfbacks of landing on the real All-American team. Many writers call him the greatest back since Red Grange.

But crowding Cagle are a host of really great halfbacks.

Bound to get consideration are Sloan, Nebraska's big boy; Ed Wittmer, the terror of the Princeton Tiges; Bill Banker, of Tulane; Willis Glasgow, of Iowa; and Lloyd Thomas, of Southern California.

Georgia Tech is unique this year in having not only two great halfbacks but three! The Rambling Wreck is willing to match the wonderful Warner Mizell, Father Lumpkin and Stumpy Thomason against any other trio now tramping over goal lines.

The South is unusually supplied with fine halfbacks this year. Besides those named there are Captain Roy Witt, of Tennessee; Bill Covington, of Kentucky; Campbell, of Alabama; Walker, of North Carolina State; Walker, of Mississippi; Goodbread, of Florida; Zobel, of South Carolina; McEver, of Tennessee; Turxworth, of Auburn, and Smith of Alabama.

In the Southwest Redman Hume has been galloping along at a great pace for Southern Methodist. If you've been reading sport pages recently all these names should be familiar to you, as they belong to halfbacks who have distinguished themselves this season.

Trix Bennett, of Princeton; Paul Scull, of Pennsylvania; Kan Strong, of New York U.; Captain Art French, of Harvard; Al Marsters, of Dartmouth; Bob Mehle, of Missouri; Oran Pape, of Iowa; Chuck Bennett, of Indiana.

Loud, of Yale; Traugott, of Iowa State; Connell, of Detroit; Lloyd, of Navy; Niemic and Chevigny, of Notre Dame; Williams, of Pittsburgh; Creedon, of Boston College; Lewis, of Stanford; Reghardt, of Princeton.

Gerber, of Marquette; Guarnaccia, of Harvard; Calderwood, of Northwestern; Shea, of New Hampshire; Eby, of Ohio State; Welch, of Purdue; Rowe, of Brigham Young; Garvey, of Yale.

Kumpf, of Columbia; Laihart, of Washington State; Dwyer, of Georgetown; Couch, of Utah; Sebo, of Syracuse; Brockmeyer, of Minnesota; Faunce, of Indiana; Letzelter, of Carnegie; Timm, of Illinois; Behr and Lusby, of Wisconsin; and Garty, of Brown.

INJURIES DIM LUSTER OF MANY GRID STARS

By ALLAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—So uncertain are football's shifts, so likely are mishaps or injuries to beset the path of any gridiron star that it's rare when any performer can weather the storm with a consistently brilliant record.

Now and then an Oosterbaan, a Cagle, Strong, Pann or "Dutch" Clark comes along to do the Iron Man stunt, but they do not come very often. They are the exceptions to the rule that usually finds even the greatest of stars having their off days or jinxes.

This year bad breaks have affected the all-American prospects of at least a half dozen outstanding players. Redman Hume of Southern Methodist looked like one of the best backs in the land when he came north to play the Army in October. He outshone Cagle that day and it's pretty well known what Cagle has been doing since then. But Hume was put out of action in the battle with Texas a month later, although the points he rang up earlier were sufficient to keep him in the southwest scoring lead.

Great Tackle Handicapped

Two of the greatest tackles, Captain Sprague of Army, and Captain Hibbs of Southern California, also have been handicapped by injuries. Sprague was knocked out of three or four of West Point's games although he has been a tower of strength whenever in the game, whether groggy or not. He has worn a special nose guard most of the season.

Hibbs saw little action throughout the early stages because of back and knee ailments but he has come strong at the close of the campaign to help Southern California lift the Pacific coast conference crown.

Al Lassman, giant New York university captain and tackle, who broke his leg in action over a year ago, was carried off again in the great game with Carnegie, this time with a concussion but not before he saw his team well on the way to victory in its next to last game.

GIGANTIC PEP RALLY TO PUT TEAM ON EDGE

WESTERNERS ARE DUE TO PLAY BEST GAME OF YEAR HERE

Westerners of Lubbock laid aside all work on their own plays yesterday afternoon and began a final two-day session on a drill for a defense against the style of attack the Vernon Lions are expected to spring against them here tomorrow in the Thanksgiving day battle for second place honors in the district. Lubbock is out to avenge a defeat from Vernon last year.

With the cannon fodder running the Lions' formations, the regulars were put through a strenuous session in breaking up the overhead game that the Lions are certain to use in the contest tomorrow. Another afternoon of such practice will end the 1928 training season for the high school gridirons. This afternoon the Westerners will make their last jaunt to Merrill park until another football season rolls around. A good night's rest has been ordered for tonight, and tomorrow the sturdy gridirers will make their farewell appearance of the season on the Tech gridiron as the Lions invade the city to capture the runner-up honors for district I.

In the last game of the current season, the Westerners will likely be seen at their best form. After a rather slow start, the high school eleven has hit its stride in the last few games and should be in shape to display a sterling brand of football tomorrow.

A gigantic pep rally has been set for tonight at the high school auditorium at which time members of the 1928, '27 and '28 teams will gather in a reunion. The homecoming of these former stars will be climaxed at the game tomorrow when each team will take the field between halves and go through a short signal drill. These former Westerners will be guests of honor at the contest.

WINNING ELEVEN AID STUDENTS

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 28.—Does a football team affect the studies of the school as a whole? Knute Rockne thinks so. And, like everything else this noted football coach thinks and says, it is worth paying attention to.

"A winning team helps the scholastic standing of the whole school," he observed here recently. "When the team is winning, the student body moves along in its studies with slip and pep, but when the team is losing the students slump in their scholastic work."

BY BRIAN BELL Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—The South holds the center of the stage in number of football games played tomorrow. Every state in Dixie has a feature attraction. Interesting battles will be fought in other sections, notably in the East, but nothing can be offered to compare to the parade of the Southern Conference. All 22 members of the conference are in action, 20 playing among themselves and two engaging outsiders.

The outstanding games are at New York and Philadelphia where the tricky Oregon State team meets the powerful New York University aggregation and Cornell tries conclusions with Pennsylvania for the 35th time since 1889.

The Mid-West Schedule Light

The Mid-West has a light schedule but one that is important to the athletes engaged. Nebraska must dispose of the Kansas Aggies to win the "Big Six" title and Missouri and Oklahoma, while not playing for a championship, will play as hard as if numerous titular honors were involved.

In the Far West, the University of Utah needs only to stop the Utah Aggies to win the Rocky Mountain Conference title.

Georgia Tech will play Alabama Polly with the Yellow Jackets odds on favorites. Florida's conference record far outstrips anything Washington and Lee has to offer. Tennessee is apt to run into plenty of opposition from Kentucky and Louisiana State, and the favorite over Virginia Military Institute.

The Longhorns of the University of Texas can win the championship of the Southwestern Conference by defeating their old rivals from Texas A. and M. Southern Methodist will play Texas Christian University and watch the scores from the Texas and Aggies battle at the same time.

POST AND RAILS CLASH TOMORROW

RAILS, Nov. 28.—The Jackrabbits, Ralls High school football team, have had a most successful season thus far, having won every contest game played except two, one of them being a "conditional forfeit" to Post and the other a tie game with Floydada.

The Jackrabbits have scored during the season 121 points, while the opposing teams were making 41.

The big game of the season for Ralls will be played at Post on Thanksgiving Day. If Post wins this game its team will be the undisputed champion of this district in Class B circles. If however, Ralls wins, then Post, Slaton and Ralls will be tied for the championship.

MANY FROG AND MUSTANG MEN PLAY LAST TILT

NINE TOADS AND 13 OF MUSTANGS IN FINAL GAME AT DALLAS

(Special to The Journal)

PORT WORTH, Nov. 28.—Coaches Matty Bell and Ed Kubale at Texas Christian University began their last week of work with their 1928 football squad Monday. For nine Frogs the tilt to be played with the S. M. U. Mustangs in Dallas Thanksgiving Day will be their last day in a purple jersey.

These men are: Captain J. C. Williams, Merlin Toler, Jim Eddieleman, Harry Ackers, "Buzz" Morgan, Ock Thompson, Fain Reynolds, Mack Clark and Bob Alexander. On the Mustang team thirteen men will check in their uniforms after the same never to don them again. The S. M. U. graduates are: Baccug, Brown, Daniels, Fincher, Hume, Knell, Love, Ray, Reed, Roach, Scherdel, Trigg and Watters. These

In the Far West, the University of Utah needs only to stop the Utah Aggies to win the Rocky Mountain Conference title.

Georgia Tech will play Alabama Polly with the Yellow Jackets odds on favorites. Florida's conference record far outstrips anything Washington and Lee has to offer. Tennessee is apt to run into plenty of opposition from Kentucky and Louisiana State, and the favorite over Virginia Military Institute.

The Longhorns of the University of Texas can win the championship of the Southwestern Conference by defeating their old rivals from Texas A. and M. Southern Methodist will play Texas Christian University and watch the scores from the Texas and Aggies battle at the same time.

POST AND RAILS CLASH TOMORROW

RAILS, Nov. 28.—The Jackrabbits, Ralls High school football team, have had a most successful season thus far, having won every contest game played except two, one of them being a "conditional forfeit" to Post and the other a tie game with Floydada.

The Jackrabbits have scored during the season 121 points, while the opposing teams were making 41.

The big game of the season for Ralls will be played at Post on Thanksgiving Day. If Post wins this game its team will be the undisputed champion of this district in Class B circles. If however, Ralls wins, then Post, Slaton and Ralls will be tied for the championship.

WINNING ELEVEN AID STUDENTS

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 28.—Does a football team affect the studies of the school as a whole? Knute Rockne thinks so. And, like everything else this noted football coach thinks and says, it is worth paying attention to.

"A winning team helps the scholastic standing of the whole school," he observed here recently. "When the team is winning, the student body moves along in its studies with slip and pep, but when the team is losing the students slump in their scholastic work."

TEXAS GAMES FEATURED IN CARD FOR DAY

ALL SOUTHERN CIRCUIT TEAMS IN ACTION ON THURSDAY

BY BRIAN BELL Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—The South holds the center of the stage in number of football games played tomorrow. Every state in Dixie has a feature attraction. Interesting battles will be fought in other sections, notably in the East, but nothing can be offered to compare to the parade of the Southern Conference. All 22 members of the conference are in action, 20 playing among themselves and two engaging outsiders.

The outstanding games are at New York and Philadelphia where the tricky Oregon State team meets the powerful New York University aggregation and Cornell tries conclusions with Pennsylvania for the 35th time since 1889.

The Mid-West Schedule Light

The Mid-West has a light schedule but one that is important to the athletes engaged. Nebraska must dispose of the Kansas Aggies to win the "Big Six" title and Missouri and Oklahoma, while not playing for a championship, will play as hard as if numerous titular honors were involved.

In the Far West, the University of Utah needs only to stop the Utah Aggies to win the Rocky Mountain Conference title.

Georgia Tech will play Alabama Polly with the Yellow Jackets odds on favorites. Florida's conference record far outstrips anything Washington and Lee has to offer. Tennessee is apt to run into plenty of opposition from Kentucky and Louisiana State, and the favorite over Virginia Military Institute.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness
The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you eat food and digest it properly.
Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.
Mr. James F. Campbell, of 1012 W. Fifth St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I had bloating after eating. My rheumatism was so bad I could hardly raise my arms. Now I can eat anything and do a good day's work."
If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach, or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Sales 1,500 bales, 3,900 American; receipts 11,000, American 8,900.

STOCKS AND MONEY
WALL STREET PRICES
NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—The stock market experienced one of the quietest openings in weeks today, upward. Wright Aero opened with a jump of 5 points, and Union Carbide of 2. Some of the rails were fractionally higher, including Canadian Pacific and New Haven National Biscuit, however, fell about 2 1/2 points and Yellow Truck yielded a point. The transactions were comparatively small, in contrast to the opening turnover of blocks of 5,000 to 15,000 shares of recent seasons.

Grain Market

CHICAGO PRICES
CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Reports of rains which were needed in Argentina tended to ease down the wheat market today during the early dealings. On the other hand, corn developed firmness owing to unfavorable weather in the corn belt, likely to hinder the movement of the crop.

FEDERAL COURT JURY IS NAMED

THIRTY-FIVE MEN FROM OVER SOUTH PLAINS ARE LISTED

The petit jury for the initial session of the Lubbock division of the United States Federal Court, Northern District of Texas, which opens here December 10, consisting of thirty-five men from over the South Plains, was announced here yesterday by Mrs. Olive Fluke, deputy district clerk. Mrs. Fluke, U. S. Marshal E. P. Harper, of Amarillo, selected the jurors from a venire of 500 names compiled recently by the clerk and three local lawyers, licensed to practice in the federal court. The jury will report to the court at 10 o'clock on the morning of December 12. No grand jury will be used in this term of court here. Jurymen selected are as follows: H. B. Nicolaisen, Seagraves; Roy Moreman, Plains; Victor Plummer, Crosbyton; J. M. Barrett, Lamesa; E. C. Patterson, Hermleigh; M. F. Bradshaw, Plainview; Leonard Miller, Morton; Harry Sherwood Crosbyton; O. W. Smith, Lamesa; L. A. Harral, Sr., Abernathy; G. C. Futrell, Lamesa; H. M. Martin, Fritch; J. P. Koonsman, Dickens; Lewis Britton, Plainview; A. F. Pitts, Tahoka; Clay Anderson, Lubbock; A. D. Higginbotham, Hermleigh; W. O. Shubert, Lockney.

Earth In Turmoil

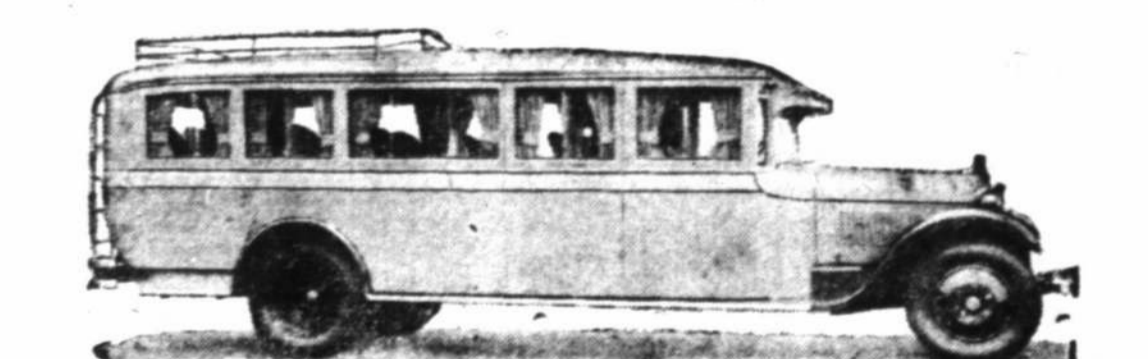

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Evidence of great earthquake producing stresses in the earth's crust between North and South America has been brought to Washington by Dr. F. A. Venning Meinesz, world famous Dutch geologist, after a two-months' cruise with the navy scientific expedition aboard the United States submarine 8-21. With this evidence, much of it hitherto unknown to science, comes a suggestion that the two continents are pressing, imperceptibly, but with incalculable force, toward each other. It discloses clearly, Dr. Meinesz says, that the same kind of stresses which, in past geologic ages, piled up mountains and left deep scars on the continents until equilibrium was reached, are still exerting their power beneath the ocean.

Thanksgiving

To our minds, no Holiday has quite the appeal that Thanksgiving has for it is both typical of America and also of a civilization that is not too self-centered to pause on at least one Day each year to be thankful to a guiding providence for its many advantages.

OUR STORE WILL REMAIN CLOSED ALL DAY THURSDAY FOR THANKSGIVING

This year, we of Lubbock and the South Plains have numbers of causes to be Thankful—causes that are both personal and community. It is well that we pause on this day to consider them for such a wonderful country and such wonderful people are indeed unusually blessed.

ed that from the financial standpoint the schools in the loop. Better railroad facilities leading into Lubbock from the east are also calculated to further the cause of the Matadors.

Although the 1929 schedule for the Matadors has not been completed, Tech will likely meet three members of the major group.

In addition to games with T. C. U. and Texas, the Matadors will play on the Cotton Palace gridiron in Waco next season with the Baylor University Bears as their foes. Tech has taken the place of Centenary on the Baylor schedule. The game comes on the first Saturday in November.

Various phases of the situation now existing in the Southwest conference have been advanced with reference to the chances of Tech as a new member. Reports that Arkansas University has been asked to withdraw from the conference have been advanced, refuted and reiterated. President Penick of the Southwestern Conference recently stated to the writer that nothing official had been brought up about the matter and that so far as he knew the Texas members of the group did not want the Porkers to take out.

Simmons University is also making a strong bid for a berth in the conference. If the Cowboys do gain entrance into the group, it would not necessarily mean that Tech would be counted out. With both Tech and Simmons in the conference, basketball and baseball teams could conveniently make hops from Abilene to Lubbock.

that is sponsoring the proposed state wide $350,000,000 paving bond issue but progressive, forward-looking citizens from all parts of the state. Many other states are voting issues of this kind, five this year having passed bond issues placing the cost on the sale of gasoline.

"Should the proposed $350,000,000 bond issue be submitted and passed, a three cent gasoline tax would take care of them within a period of thirty years. Bonds of this amount would also be sufficient to assume all of the bonds on state highways which have been voted by counties. It is estimated that between fifty and sixty million dollars in bonds are outstanding at the present time.

Illness Curtails Flight To Havana

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 28 (AP)—Having flown entirely across the United States from North to South, only to miss his actual goal by a mere ninety miles, Leonard S. Pio, who started from Walkerville, Ont., forward to continuing his trip to the Cuban capital, and planned a return non-stop flight.

Landing here late yesterday when a stomach disorder forced him to abandon his non-stop attempt, Pio was taken to a hospital where it was found caffeine tablets, taken to ward off sleep, had disagreed with him.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER URGES PASSAGE OF COUNTY'S ROAD BONDS

farmer in connecting him with the centers of population, that they would promote better and diversified farming and that the type of construction planned for them in Lubbock county would, in his opinion based upon experience with similar roads in Texas, make good roads for Lubbock county.

Lateral Roads Fringed
Construction of the lateral roads as planned, he said, would place Lubbock in a similar position to Wichita Falls and Dallas, both of which have become larger and more centralized business points as a result of them. Produce, he pointed out, is brought into the city by lateral roads year in and year out, in all kinds of weather and serve the farmer as no other road can well do. He cited present conditions in his home county, Taylor, where he said, citrus were sorry to note that they had not passed bonds for the construction of $1,000,000 or instead of the $300,000, which they passed in conjunction with their hard surface highway campaign.

Using as an example the thriving communities fringed by the railroads when they cut off railroad lines in previous years, the commissioner said that the city which will prosper in the future is the one which will place itself on the highway trade routes. "Cities must improve their highways or be left on the wayside of time," Judge Ely warned, and it behooves Lubbock county to improve its highway situation because there is no factor in business today which means as much as good highways.

Not Second To Tech
"I congratulate you upon the Texas Tech which Bill Bledsoe brought to Lubbock," he said. "It means a great thing for you and this section. It means the education of your young people. But I do not put the construction of an adequate highway system of hard surface highways second even to the Tech. Highways are the arteries which carry the life-blood of commerce."

Citing Lubbock county as a strategic point in the construction of hard surface highways in West Texas, the commissioner pointed out that other counties in this section will follow Lubbock's lead if the bonds are passed here. "Since the formation of the state highway commission in 1917 more than $80,000,000 of the state's funds have been spent," he pointed out, "but less than 10 per cent of that sum has gone into West Texas. West Texas has been lagging in the matter of good roads but it is waking up now."

Believes Change Will Come
Judge Ely expressed his belief that before long the state would turn the construction and maintenance of highway of the land owners and the counties and "place it upon the traffic where it belongs." He cited the plan of R. S. Sterling of Houston, the executive of the highway commission, to pass a statewide $350,000,000 highway bond issue and pay for it in 30 years through a three cent gasoline tax. He pointed out that more than $50,000,000 of the total would be available for making roads in the county. "I believe," he said, "that the state will build here on the Plains another Dallas. The city of the future on these plains will be the one which builds good roads into it."

Believes in Lubbock
"I think," he said, "that Texas will be surprised, if Lubbock county, that has always been a little more progressive than the other counties in this section, votes 'no' on this proposition to put Lubbock in the front rank and keep it there."

The speaker told of Dallas' committee of eleven men, everyone of them "big enough to be the mayor of their city," who meet weekly to discuss Dallas' highway problems. They have a paid man, he said, to look after Dallas' highway interests in New Mexico to the West, Oklahoma on the North and half way to Houston on the South. Fort Worth, he said, is doing the same thing. Dallas, said the speaker, is planning a belt line of hard surface highways all the way around the city. "If you in Lubbock county, build the roads as proposed in this plan, you will have half of your belt line, from south to north in the east part of your county already constructed. I cannot see why every progressive woman in Lubbock county doesn't seize this opportunity of beginning its belt line and vote for this issue."

Prosperity is Stressed
"I am glad to be here," Judge Ely said, "because I feel it my duty to help in any way to get more hard surface highway in West Texas. In this particular section Potter county, and in places near Borger are the only hard surface highways yet constructed. Future prosperity depends upon good highways more than on anything else. I'd like to stay here—and I would if I were younger. But I wouldn't want to live in Lubbock county if I thought that the majority of people here were opposed to good roads."

Passage of the proposed issue, which will be voted on Saturday will leave Garza county the only one on highway 7, between Lubbock and Waco which is unfinished, he pointed out, and he also laid stress upon the work which has already been done on the Gulf coast road.

from the Panhandle boundary line to the Gulf and on the Fort Worth road by way of Kings county.

At the conclusion of Judge Ely's talk he was thanked by J. A. Rix, head of the Lubbock County Good Roads association, the man who introduced him. J. O. Gordon of Albany, Shackelford county commissioner and brother of Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Tech, made a few remarks stressing the satisfaction hard surface highways had proved to his home county.

The meeting was in charge of Jerry Clements, vice president of the Rotary club, who presided in the absence of President Bob Murray. At the opening of the program, President Fred W. Standerfer of the Kiwanis club, announced that Rev. E. E. White, for the past four years pastor of the Methodist church here, and recently transferred to Abilene, had been voted an honorary membership in the local club by a unanimous vote of the directorate. Mr. White, vice president of the local club, responded and thanked the directors for their action.

The meeting was closed in a burst of applause for the speaker and by the singing of "The Eyes of Texas are Upon You."

grounds of alleged irregularities, declined today to put any rebuttal witnesses on the stand. D. W. Glasscock, lawyer, called attention to the fact that the administration forces had not been allowed to cross-examine complaining witnesses to lay a foundation for rebuttal testimony. In behalf of his clients, including county commissioners court, which threw out the Wealaco box, thus completing the defeat of all major independent candidates, Glasscock entered an "explicit denial" of all the charges involved in the hearing.

UNCLE SAM TO KILL 30,000 GOBBLEERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Uncle Sam is going to eliminate approximately 30,000 gobblers tomorrow. The heads of that many turkeys will fall to give the Army and Navy their annual Thanksgiving dinner.

The doughboys sit down to mess he will start with green onions, deploy on turkey and Waldorf salad and hold bayonet drill with buttered asparagus tips and lady fingers. Casualties will be counted with fruit punch and then hospital to county roadhouse.

The menu reads much better than the one given soldiers under George Washington at Valley Forge on Thanksgiving Day, 1777. That food list was: Fresh beef, flour, dried peas, rice, beer, fresh milk, and soup.

Honest Bootlegger Is Discovered

SILVER CITY, N. M., Nov. 28—Antonio Cruz of Santa Rita, escaped bond in court for being an honest bootlegger.

Prohibition Officer W. L. Hill was on duty at Santa Rita Monday with a search warrant. He found a large quantity of mash but was unable to locate the still.

"You come to jail at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and bring the still with you," the officer told Cruz.

At 10 o'clock yesterday there came a rapping at the sheriff's door and there stood Antonio Cruz.

"Where is that still Hill told you to bring along?" Sheriff Charley Morrill asked.

"Well, bring it in," the sheriff ordered, and a few moments later Cruz reappeared carrying a five-gallon copper affair.

"Any man who would present himself in court on his own recognition under those circumstances doesn't need a bond," District Judge Carl P. Dinlton declared.

"Show up in court Monday."

Officials Are Found Dead In Mine Shaft

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Nov. 28 (AP)—The president, general manager and mine superintendent of the Glogora Coal company, of Huntington, were found dead today in the Himler mine at Himler, Kentucky, 20 miles west of Williamson. They apparently were victims of a local gas explosion.

The three officials were believed to have sustained the fatal injuries during an inspection. The workings had been closed for some time and it was thought the Glogora company was considering purchase of the property. The mine was started Saturday in order to prepare the place for inspection. The search for the three men was begun late yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Munday of Amarillo and formerly of Lubbock will be Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Farris.

CLOSED THURSDAY IN OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING

Truly we of Lubbock and the South Plains have more to be thankful for than millions of people not blessed with our good fortunes.

It is very appropriate that Thanksgiving be a Day set aside to give Thanks to HIM who has so generously favored America.

It is our Wish that you will make of this great day—one of reverence and Thanksgiving—that you attend the Church of your choice in its program.

SUPER PLANE BEING BUILT

SECRECY SURROUNDS CONSTRUCTION OF VAST AIRCRAFT

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, (AP)—While the merits and drawbacks of the Graf Zeppelin are discussed, the Dornier construction works on the Lake of Constance, an affiliation of the Zeppelin Works, are completing a superplane for Trans-Atlantic service.

For months the construction of this plane has been going on with all the secrecy of wartime at the shops of Altenrhein.

This new plane is not intended as an actual enlargement of the Dornier Superdual, but rather as a revolutionizing type with which it is hoped to solve the question whether the airship of the airplane is to be the trans-oceanic conveyance of the future.

The body of this plane is not a boat but a substantially constructed ship fit to weather the most tempestuous ocean waves when it may be found necessary to go down on the water. Twelve motors arranged in tandem formation, six in front and six behind the wings, will supply a motor energy totalling 6,000 horsepower.

The crew will comprise a captain, two pilots and two wireless operators, one navigation officer, two mechanics and two stewards. There will be room for 50 passengers and for 20 tons of freight. Its maximum speed will be 118 miles an hour and it will have a flying radius of 1900 miles.

Scout Applications Are Being Prepared

Application for the Boy Scout winter camp to be held at the Post Memorial camp, December 28 to 31, are being prepared at Scout headquarters.

The applications require permission from the Scout's parents, school teacher, and Scoutmaster. Troops throughout the area are working on the camp program. Attendance at the camp will be limited to fifty boys, who are to be selected on the basis of merit.

William Allen White, well known journalist, will appear here December 8 as scheduled, for the first number of the Tech Artists course.

Mrs. Roland Schenck Dies In Fort Worth

Mrs. Roland Schenck died in a Fort Worth hospital last night after an illness of about ten weeks, according to word received here and Mr. Schenck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Schenck of this city, left this morning for Graham where funeral services are to be conducted. They were accompanied by Dillard Schenck of Lovington, N. M., Roland's twin brother.

The deceased has visited in Lubbock a number of times and had held in the district court room Friday night when they will seek advancement of rank. Eight of the boys became second class Scouts and two first class.

A similar board of review will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall tonight in preparation for the November Court of Honor to be held in the district court room Friday night when they will seek advancement of rank. Eight of the boys became second class Scouts and two first class.

Mrs. Schenck underwent an appendicitis operation about ten weeks ago and had been ill since that time. After spending some time in Graham, she was moved to Fort Worth where another operation was performed and she was thought to be convalescing very well until yesterday afternoon when she became worse, dying last night.

FIRST WARNING

Vaughn Urges Early Mailing For Christmas

In order to insure prompt and efficient service, Postmaster John L. Vaughn urges the mailing of Christmas mail as soon after December 1 as possible.

"It is to the advantage of the public more than it is to the workers in the post office that Christmas mail is posted early," Mr. Vaughn said. "People do not take into consideration the enormous receipt of mail that we have to handle in addition to the large amount that is sent off."

He stated that Christmas mail should be in full swing by December 18. "Of course there will be a lot of people who will wait until the last day to mail packages and then expect prompt and immediate delivery."

Requirements For New Service Met

Persons affected by the new sixty-three-block extension of the daily free mail delivery service are rapidly meeting the necessary requirements, according to Postmaster John L. Vaughn.

He stated this morning that the property owners were securing mail receptacles, and were filing their change of mail address at the post-office.

The deliveries over the extension have increased rapidly since the beginning of service Monday, and the persons along the new route report satisfaction with the new service.

SCOUTS STAGE REVIEW BOARD

TEN LOCAL YOUTHS TO SEEK ADVANCEMENT AT HONOR COURT

Ten local Boy Scouts attended the Scout board of review at the city hall last night in preparation for the November Court of Honor to be held in the district court room Friday night when they will seek advancement of rank. Eight of the boys became second class Scouts and two first class.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Disregarding a renewal rate of 8 percent on call money, the stock market started on another wild "bull" rampage this afternoon, when more than two dozen issues were whirled upward $5 to more than $20 a share. Radio was the spectacular feature, soaring $30.50 to a new high record for all time at $39.
