

200 COPS LAND

To Enforce Exile Of 18 Mafia Bosses

FILICUDI, Sicily (AP) — Two hundred police in battle gear landed on the rebellious island of Filicudi today to enforce the exile of 18 reputed Mafia bosses. The residents promptly announced they would abandon the island in protest.

Unshaven and red-eyed after three sleepless nights, islanders watched impassively as the police disembarked at the main port after coming from Sicily.

Then their agitation committee issued a communique saying the inhabitants were "constrained by events" to leave the island if the underworld exiles remained. They made preparations to leave.

The 200 or so residents of this fishing island charge that the exile of Mafia suspects here will spoil tourism.

The police came after the Mafia chiefs and their police escort spent their second backbreaking night on chairs, tables and the floor of a lonely seaside cafe and a requisitioned hotel under construction.

The police landing was hampered by the refusal of local fishermen to help in the operation.

After the police landed, the residents caucused hurriedly. They rejected a proposal to strengthen barricades blocking the road into the village, and another to launch a guerrilla operation against the unwanted invaders — the police and the Mafia bosses.

Calling for "good sense" and nonviolence, the Filicudians' committee said it hopes authorities would change their minds and "recognize the just reasons of our people" in asking that the Mafiosi be sent elsewhere.

FBI To Check Drew Shooting

DREW, Miss. (AP) — FBI agents, under presidential orders, are checking to see if any federal violation was involved in the shooting death of a black high school honor graduate in this small north Mississippi town.

The slaying Tuesday night of 18-year-old Jo Etha Collier triggered rock throwing Wednesday and a peaceful demonstration Thursday.

Thirty-one Negroes also demonstrated Thursday in Ruleville, 10 miles south of Drew, and were arrested on charges of obstructing pedestrian traffic.

Whiteaker had said the first 15 bodies were of transient farm workers or drifters ranging in age from 40 to 63. All had been hacked and slashed to death on the back of the head by a machete or similar weapon.

There were no descriptions of the latest five bodies.

"We do believe there are some more areas that need to be checked out and searched," said the sheriff, who refused to discuss any aspect of Corona's involvement other than to say "we're certain he committed the murders."

Laird Alerts NATO Allies

BRUSSELS (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird warned the European allies today that a proposal by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield to cut U.S. forces in Europe could come up again twice in the near future.

He said this could be on the occasion of budget discussions in Congress, according to an official who attended the closed-door session.

U.S. officials said Laird also reported to defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the strategy of "realistic deterrence," especially as it applies to them.

The report was made in view of recent progress in the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks — SALT — with the Soviet Union and their response to Western offers to negotiate on force reductions in Europe.

The official said that Laird emphasized the need for all members to maintain their strength if they are to have a chance for successful talks with Moscow.

These will only be possible, he added, if the West keeps a strong deterrent through partnership and strength.

One American official defined "realistic deterrence" this way:

"In the face of the strategy, manpower, fiscal and political realities we face in the 1970's, the strategy of realistic deterrence by stressing greater contribution on the part of our friends and allies, seeks to establish a free world structure that can deter war and set the state for meaningful negotiations.

Laird said on arriving Thursday for the one-day meeting that some of American's European allies are falling behind in their defense commitments.

Bomb Destroys Radio Station

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Radio station WNOO was destroyed early today after a firebomb was thrown onto the roof of the building, police reported.

The incident marred an otherwise quiet night in Chattanooga, the site of the 1968 Democratic National Convention, which was held there last week.

Police said the radio station, which has a rhythm-and-blues and soul music format, went up in flames shortly after midnight.

WORST RAIL SMASH IN WEST GERMANY HISTORY

40 Schoolchildren Killed

WUPPERTAL, Germany (AP) — Forty schoolchildren and five adults were killed Thursday night in the worst train wreck in West German history.

Railroad officials said at least 24 other persons were seriously injured in the head-on collision of a special two-coach passenger train and a freight train.

The two trains crashed into each other on a single-track line between the Wuppertal suburbs of Oberbarmen and Radevormwald. The freight train engineer, who was not hurt, told authorities he had gotten a go-ahead signal from a station master up the line, but the station master denied giving such a signal.

Railroad officials suspended the station master, and an investigation into the cause of the wreck was under way.

The boys and girls in the wreck were 15 and 16 years old, seniors at the Radevormwald junior school. They were returning from a study tour of the North German city of Bremen.

Killed with them were two of their teachers, a chaperone and two railroad employees.

The children had traveled from Bremen to Wuppertal in a regular passenger train and then changed to the diesel coaches known colloquially as railbuses.

Officials said the freight train was on a regularly scheduled run from Radevormwald to Wuppertal, and the passenger coaches were headed in the opposite direction. The collision occurred shortly after 9 p.m.

The freight made a scheduled stop at the small station of Dahlerau, where the line has two sets of tracks to permit two-way traffic. The engineer said he took a sign from the station master as the signal to pull out, but the station master denied giving any such signal. He told authorities he tried in vain to signal the freight to halt, then alerted all rescue stations along the line of the impending collision.

The first passenger coach was crushed by the heavier freight locomotive.

Many parents were waiting at the Radevormwald station for their children. When news of the accident reached them, panic broke out on the platform. Parents ran to their cars and raced to the scene of the accident as firemen, police and volunteers were prying dead and injured from the twisted wreckage.

Body Count In Orchards Reaches 20

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — Eight more bodies have been dug up in fruit orchards near here, bringing to 20 the number found along the Feather River, law enforcement officers said.

"It seems there's no end to them," a weary deputy sheriff said as the toll mounted Thursday.

Sheriff Roy D. Whiteaker said three more bodies were found Thursday afternoon for a total of 15.

Later, a Yuba City policeman and a deputy sheriff said the number of bodies rose to 20 as night fell.

"Somewhere around here we've got one hell of a crime scene," the policeman said.

Both asked that they not be identified as Whiteaker directed that others not comment on the case. The sheriff refused comment on whether the additional five bodies had been found.

Whiteaker had said the first 15 bodies were of transient farm workers or drifters ranging in age from 40 to 63. All had been hacked and slashed to death on the back of the head by a machete or similar weapon.

There were no descriptions of the latest five bodies.

Isolated in a Yuba City jail and charged Wednesday with 10 of the murders was Juan V. Corona, 37, of Yuba City, who spent three months in a state mental hospital in 1956.

There still was no apparent motive for the macabre slayings.

The three bodies reported by Whiteaker were in crude, shallow graves in peach and plum orchards. "I have no idea" how long the search will continue, the sheriff said.

Officers worked in cool rain Thursday, using a tractor-driven trench digger, then shovels to find three bodies.

Suspected graves have been discovered during general searches by lawmen and farmers in a mile-square area along the Feather River five miles north of Yuba City. Whiteaker described them as "indentations" in the soil.

He declined to say whether officers had probed any suspected sites and found them empty.

"We do believe there are some more areas that need to be checked out and searched," said the sheriff, who refused to discuss any aspect of Corona's involvement other than to say "we're certain he committed the murders."

Quick 'Tag' By Kennard Snags Remap

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth invoked a procedural rule today that could hold up Senate action on new legislative and congressional districts until the final two days of the regular session.

His surprise move came shortly before the House began debate on the controversial bill carving new districts for state representatives.

Speaker Gus Mutscher's forces claimed late Thursday night they had 90 votes for a new redistricting plan which they hinted might be a little easier on the self-named "dirty 30" representatives than one unveiled Wednesday.

Only 84 hours remained in the regular session as of noon today.

Failure to redistrict the legislature by Monday midnight adjournment would leave the job to a five-man board of state officials.

Top Ten Senior Scholars Recognized At Graduation

A record-breaking class of 378 Big Spring High School seniors graduated in ceremonies Thursday evening in Memorial Stadium, while parents and friends shivered in a cool breeze following a thunderstorm which threatened briefly to move the ceremonies inside.

S. M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District, presided over the graduation exercises. Graduates were certified by John F. Smith, principal, and introduced by Harold D. Bentley, assistant principal. School board members Delnor Poss and Ralph McLaughlin handed out the sheepskins.

John M. Talmadge, assistant principal named Ranette Miller valedictorian and Kent Fish salutatorian.

THREE KIDNAP, TORTURE EX-NUMBERS CZAR

'Newsboy' Burned With Blowtorch

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — It's been nearly nine years since Joseph "Newsboy" Moriarty turned his back on a cache of $2.6 million in his numbers racket profits, after they turned up in Jersey City garages. But if he's forgotten the money, others haven't.

Once described as an honest man in a crooked business, Moriarty, 60, was recovering today from a beating and torture by fire at the hands of three unidentified kidnapers, bent upon burning him and where he has hidden additional money.

Seized here late Wednesday, Moriarty was handcuffed and a hood placed over his head. He was driven south about 60 miles along the Jersey shore. There his hands and face were severely burned with a blowtorch, his body covered with bruises.

When his abductors fell asleep, Moriarty managed to escape still in handcuffs. He staggered through some woods to a motel, where police were called about 4 a.m. Thursday. After treatment, Moriarty signed himself out of Jersey Medical Center and was dropped from sight.

REAL TOUGH GUYS

"We have no idea why he was kidnaped or who might be responsible," said Jersey City's deputy police chief, Patrick McGee. "Newsboy told us he was not sure he could identify the three men, and he didn't even know where the house was. He only said: 'They were real tough guys.'"

It was July 3, 1962, when Moriarty's millions were uncovered by accident. He had gone to prison four months earlier, serving 2-to-3 years on a numbers conviction.

Wreckers tore down the doors of an auto garage and came upon a 16-year-old sedan inside the car were stacks of $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills—$2,438,110 in all.

Subsequently, in a garage a block away, police found another cache, this one of $168,675.

Moriarty declined to claim the money, or even admit it was his.

A legal dispute over who was to get the board continued through the years, with litigation still pending in the 3rd U.S. Court of Appeals.

NO DIRTY STUFF

Money had been in Moriarty's hands since the age of 13, when he started peddling numbers. He picked up newspapers. Then he came back across the Hudson to hawk them in Jersey City. Before long he was picking up numbers bets, first as a sideline, later as a full-time occupation.

"Joe just took bets," a veteran Hudson County detective recalled. "No muscle, no violence, no dirty stuff. He didn't mix with narcotics, prostitution or syndicates."

And another officer said: "Moriarty was essentially an honest, industrious man in an illegal business."

Court records listed Moriarty's gross income in 1960 as more than $43,000 a day—better than $15 million a year. He was a loner in the profession and the profits were his alone.

TIP LEADS OFFICERS TO GRAVES NEAR FORT WORTH

Wealthy Mother, Daughter Unearthed

FORT WORTH (AP) — Investigators probing a shallow, secluded grave sought to recover today what they believe are the remains of a missing Oklahoma City woman and her teen-age daughter.

An excavation team uncovered human bones Thursday in the wooded area near here but postponed the recovery effort before nightfall. An anthropologist was summoned.

Sheriff Lon Evans said authorities acting on a tip, converged on the area in search of what they believe to be the bodies of Mrs. Margery Elston, 41, and her daughter Melinda, 18.

VANISHED IN '63
The women vanished Nov. 21, 1963, the eve of the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas.

Oklahoma authorities said the investigation at the time, jamming up police teletypes and precluding identification assists from news media.

Investigators at the scene raised a new element of mystery when they disclosed that efforts would be made to find still a third body believed buried at the site.

They would not elaborate. Investigative agencies involved in the case include the sheriff's departments of both Dallas and Fort Worth and the Oklahoma Crime Commission.

INHERITED $100,000
Thursday's development came less than six months after Mrs. Elston was declared legally dead in Oklahoma District Court. She left an estate of $162,000.

Mrs. Elston inherited more than $100,000 about a month before she and her daughter disappeared from the Elston home in suburban Warr Acres.

Investigators said the women, wearing furs and expensive jewelry, left the home for a short shopping trip, then visited briefly at the home of a friend. They had not been seen since.

Mrs. Elston's will provided for a trust fund for her daughter which was to revert to Mrs. Elston's husband should Melinda precede him in death.

The husband, Robert Gentry Elston, is a wealthy Oklahoma City businessman.

Although unconfirmed, Dallas investigators reportedly received the most recent tip on the location of the bodies from an informant not involved in the women's disappearance.

BIG HUNT
About two weeks ago, acting on a tip from the Oklahoma Crime Commission, sheriff's investigators unsuccessfully dug in the same general area.

Sheriff Evans said new information led investigators and work crews back into the area to resume digging. The bones were found about two feet below the surface.

The first report that the bodies were buried in this area-off a farm road between Dallas and Fort Worth—came several years ago. Warr Acres Police Chief Nelson Beckett said Thursday he came to the same spot in 1969 but found nothing. He said the investigation, which he said has been called "the most extensive in Oklahoma history," has led him and other officers from Arkansas to California.

Officers here could not confirm at once the bodies were those of the missing women. They would speculate neither on cause of death nor where the slayings occurred.

"From our information, though, it appears that they would be the bodies of the missing women," a spokesman for the Oklahoma State Bureau of Criminal Investigation said.

Without elaboration, he added that if they are the bodies of the missing women, "then we have a suspect."

NO TRACE OF CAD
Beckett said the informant directing officers to the grave did not kill the two although he knew where they were buried.

Officers speculated at the time Mrs. Elston and her daughter disappeared that they were kidnapped and slain by robbers. No trace of their Cadillac and furs worn by the mother was ever found.

Oklahoma authorities said they would use dental charts in trying to identify the skeletons. They added that a study of leg bones would help because the daughter had walked with a limp.

Livestock Feed Program Is Announced By Burleson

An emergency livestock feed program has been approved for Howard County, according to a telegram sent to The Herald by Rep. Omar Burleson Thursday.

In addition to assistance on feed grains, the program provides for emergency hay transportation assistance.

Official confirmation of the program, to be in effect through June 30, has not been received by the Howard County unit of the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office. However, applications for the program are available at the local office, although no action can be taken before official confirmation is obtained.

Any approved applicant who prefers to purchase feed grain in the form of grain cubes from stocks of an approved dealer may do so.

The following eligibility requirements are to be met by the applicant: (1) Sufficient feed (including hay) is not available for livestock for the authorized period; (2) A serious loss of his crops must have been suffered because of the emergency; (3) Feed purchases are larger than usual because of the emergency; (4) It would be an undue financial hardship to obtain sufficient feed through normal trade channels. A financial statement is required.

The Howard County unit of the ASCS still has funds available for deep plowing, chiseling and listing. Cost-share limits earned under the REAP program are separate and will not affect cost-sharing under the emergency program.

More information on the emergency livestock feed program can be obtained from the ASCS office in the Federal Building in Big Spring. Telephone number 287-2557.

The local office will be closed Monday for Memorial Day.

San Francisco Growing 'Smut Capital' Of World

By PAUL KERN LEE
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — From the bawdy Barbary Coast of Gold Rush days to the topless, bottomless dancers of the '60s, this permissive city never has lost its cool.

Its tradition of easy tolerance is still very much alive. But some citizens are making noises about the city's reputation as "smut capital" of the United States, and the latest phase of its pornographic production — dirty movies.

The current lewd manifestations began with little fanfare about seven years ago when enterprising bar and nightclub proprietors in the teeming North Beach entertainment area began to feature so-called topless dancers and waitresses.

BOTTOMLESS DANCERS

The topless dancers soon became bottomless as well.

The erotic movies, which established a foothold about 18 months ago and have proliferated enormously, are something else.

A warm public discussion has developed as exhibitors try to outdo one another with movies that make the "stag" films of another era look like kiddie matinees.

The city supervisors, the press, the police and some laymen have been talking about what can be done.

Newly on the scene are the Retail Dry Goods Association, the Hotel Employers Association, the Convention and Visi-

He's Physically, Mentally Tired, Not Incompetent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., says his doctors feel he is too physically and mentally tired to stand trial on federal charges of bribery and perjury.

Dowdy, 59, of Athens said he felt stronger on some days than others but is still weak.

"The doctors said it will be a long time—six months or more—before I'll be fully back to normal," Dowdy said in an interview.

He stressed that his doctors believe he is physically and mentally tired, not incompetent.

He said he's not sure how the Baltimore federal court controlling his trial matters interpreted his doctor's report.

Dowdy was indicted last year on charges of accepting a bribe of $25,000 from a now-defunct homebuilding firm here and lying to a grand jury about it.

tors Bureau and the Market Street Development Project.

These latest objectors, who pack considerable muscle, protest not so much on moral grounds as on the premise that business is being hurt.

'ANIMAL LOVER'

So far, however, the pornographic film houses have gone their merry way. Successive prosecutions under the state obscenity law brought a half-dozen hung juries prior to a mid-January conviction of the exhibitor of "Animal Lover," purportedly a Danish bestiality import.

Some 40 screening rooms, with names ranging from subdued to suggestive and accommodations from sleazy to plush, display the hardest of hard-core sex films in garish color for an estimated 6,000 to 10,000 daily patrons.

About 15 to 20 local producers grind out the films; others come from the Los Angeles area or are imported.

DEPRAVED

Undeterred by mistrials, Dist. Atty. John Jay Ferdon said his office intends to continue prosecutions of "these depraved filmmakers and exhibitors."

Police Chief Alfred Nelder declared, "We will continue to make arrests. . . . We already have 90 cases awaiting prosecution, and we hope the judges will act on them."

Sharpening competition may be a limiting factor. Some of the "porn" theaters which were charging $7.50 or $8 for a two-hour show have slashed prices to as little as $2.50, but still appear profitable.

Dianne Feinstein, president of the city Board of Supervisors, has been the most consistent foe of pornography. She recently presented to the board a private investigative report estimating the box-office take in excess of $7 million a year.

Mrs. Feinstein, calling San Francisco "the smut capital of the United States," has urged adoption of tough local laws and pressure on the state legislature.

The legitimate movie industry urged the city not to act on its own, but the Board of Supervisors finally got around to adopting two resolutions.

SEX ACTS

One asks the legislature to define and prohibit various sex acts from being shown in any motion picture theater.

The other asks that, if the legislature is unwilling to do so, it will allow local communities to make their own regulations.

The obscenity law pertaining to films is hard to enforce. As police Lt. Jerry Shaughnessy put it, the state law "is against doing it, not showing it."

An obscenity conviction requires a showing that the work goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor, appeals to prurient interest, and is utterly without redeeming social significance — all three.

Spot checks indicate that most viewers are middle-aged white men, with a few women and an occasional youth although the marquee proclaims that only adults will be admitted.

The San Francisco Examiner has traced the development from seven "soft" pornography houses in the summer of 1969 to 28 last autumn and 42 in February.

No Auto Liability Law For Texas Motorists?

AUSTIN (AP) — There will be no financial responsibility law for Texas motorists the next two years unless the legislature passes one this week or in a special session.

The Texas law is similar to one in Georgia which the U.S. Supreme Court struck down Monday because it failed to provide for a determination of fault before a driver's license could be suspended.

Such hearings would cost the state $780,000 a year, said Norman Suarez, legal counsel for the Department of Public Safety.

Suarez said he thinks anyone whose license has been suspended under the act could appeal on the ground of its unconstitutionality and get the license back.

The legislature must adjourn at midnight Monday. It would be difficult to get a new bill providing for hearings to determine fault passed in the final hours.

A bill now pending on the floor of the Senate provides for compulsory insurance, making a man prove he has insurance before he can get his license plates.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, sponsor of the measure, said Wednesday he would talk soon with Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes about getting it considered by the Senate.

If Brooks' bill fails to get through, it is likely that Gov. Preston Smith would include financial responsibility in his call for a special session. Only the governor may designate what items a special session considers.

When Smith will call a special session has been a matter of speculation for some time.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Be very careful and accurate in business dealings, otherwise there could be trouble later from contracts, sales, purchases. You find also that your attachment needs assurance of your affection. Do not get into arguments with anyone.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you permit desire for pleasure to overshadow duty in practical affairs, you can lose a great deal today. One with an eye on your assets could be especially impatient. Put talents to work.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Try to please family more at this time and improve harmony at home, otherwise harsh words could start big trouble. Find out what is at the bottom of any difficulty. Thank others for favors given you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you have facts and details right before you keep that appointment or take that little trip. If an associate wants to argue, don't take the bait. Keep cool.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You cannot straighten that matter out by simply spending money, but only by sticking to principle. A business expert should be consulted if you want to settle a practical problem, too. Control temper.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Any show of vanity or pride could gain disfavor of others now since their tempers are short and you could suffer loss. Improve appearance before going out socially. Make the right impression.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You feel like running away from responsibilities, but this would only make matters worse so get to work. The right mood sees you accomplishing a great deal. Forget pleasure now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You had better forget about taking up some controversial subject with others until a better time; otherwise serious trouble could arise now. Decide what you really want, since you are not yet sure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Avoid doing anything that will irk high-ups today or you get into all sorts of hot water. Following every regulation that applies to you is wise. Stop being a first budget.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to investigate new outlets you have in mind, since they could prove quite lucrative in days ahead. Don't lump into some new project proposed by a stranger, or you get into trouble. Follow own ideas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better get all that work done early before you go to trapping over to fun places that appeal to you. Antagonizing associate or loved one could start all kinds of arguments that are best avoided. Show you have wisdom.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have some creative idea which you want to discuss with another, but it is better to wait for a better day. Steer clear of partners now since they are in an irate mood. Stick to own knitting exclusively.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have to labor with care today or you could get into some serious trouble. If necessary, a fellow worker is in the mood to fight, don't let secret remarks get under your skin. Drive carefully.

LBJ'S PAL DROPS ROUND

AUSTIN (AP) — A former White House aide and longtime business associate of ex-President Lyndon Johnson lost a round in a suit involving control of the Bank of Commerce in Abilene.

The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals reversed a lower court decision that favored Jake Jacobsen.

Jacobsen and Ray Cowan were sued by Walter Woodrum, former president of the bank, for allegedly violating a 1965 contract that called for sharing the profit from any sale of controlling interest in the bank.

The trial court was ordered to determine the damages and award them to Woodrum.

TIA Finances Looking Better

HOUSTON — Texas International Airlines' first quarter financial results reflect a considerable improvement over the first quarter of 1970, according to W. Lloyd Lane, president of the regional carrier.

Passenger boardings increased 7.5 per cent over the same period in 1970 to 528,000. Revenue passenger miles flown in the first quarter totaled 166,808,000; an increase of 18 per cent, while available seat miles increased 6.6 per cent over the 1970 period.

The airline's Las Vegas subsidiary, Hotel Tropicana, showed considerable improvement with a pre-tax profit of $72,000 during the first quarter of 1971, compared to a $450,000 loss during the same quarter last year.

For the three months ended March 31, Texas International combined with the Hotel Tropicana sustained a consolidated net loss of $1,698,000 or $1.42 per share, compared to a 1970 first quarter loss of $2,973,000 or $2.48 per share; a reduction in first quarter losses of 43 per cent.

In addition to passenger traffic gains, Lane attributed much of the improved financial posture of the airline to a substantial increase in subsidy awarded by the Civil Aeronautics Board. The airline received $2,038,000 in subsidy for the first quarter of 1971, a 152 per cent increase over the $808,000 received the first three months of 1970.

FORBIDES PROSECUTION — A federal judge Thursday forbade the prosecution of Clay Shaw, right, by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison, left. Garrison has pressed charges that Shaw lied to the jury that acquitted him of conspiring in the assassination of President John Kennedy.

Lawyer Denies Evading Taxes

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Jasper lawyer Joe H. Tonahill denied with vigor Thursday any guilt in his income tax evasion trial.

Tonahill told chief prosecutor Robert Purl, "I'm not guilty of evading a dime of income taxes, and you know it."

With the jury sent out from the courtroom, U.S. Dist. Judge Jack Roberts of Austin overruled defense motions which would have wiped out the two remaining parts of an indictment charging "willful fraud" in Tonahill's income tax returns for 1961-62.

In a ruling Wednesday, Roberts approved a motion to strike the 1960 portion of the indictment on the grounds that the government has failed to prove fraud.

Tonahill was out of town for a lawsuit when the 1960 return was signed and filed by his accountant, James Griffin, and by Mrs. Tonahill.

Roberts also denied a motion by the prosecution to admit all evidence in the case, including that from the 1960 indictment that was dismissed.

Under questioning by defense attorney Donald Thomas of Austin, Tonahill repeated earlier defense allegations that he depended on his accountant to prepare his returns, and that he himself knew nothing of tax law.

"I just signed what my accountant, James Griffin, put in front of me," Tonahill said.

"It wouldn't have done any good to check his work, because I wouldn't have understood it anyway," he said.

Tonahill admitted signing his 1961 and 1962 returns.

Thomas examined Tonahill's background, questioning the Jasper lawyer about how he became an attorney.

Tonahill said he was graduated from a small law school in Washington and had failed the Texas State Bar exam twice before he passed it in 1946.

Using Tonahill's academic record, Thomas emphasized that Tonahill never had a course in tax law.

Purl, the chief prosecutor, asked Tonahill how it was possible for a prominent lawyer and a leading stockholder in the First National Bank of Jasper not to know more about filing income tax returns.

"I've just never fooled with it," Tonahill replied. "Since I first began filing an income tax return after World War II, I have never filed my own return."

As the defense opened its case in the presence of a jury, character witnesses, including State Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur and U.S. Dist. Judge Joe J. Fisher of Beaumont, were called to the stand.

Harrington said he had known Tonahill a number of years and that his reputation for truth and veracity is "good."

Fisher, Tonahill's former law partner, said he had known the Jasper lawyer since the 1930's and that he did not believe Tonahill is guilty of fraud.

"I think Mr. Tonahill is innocent and is being persecuted in this case," Fisher said.

THAN FOR AN HONEST MAN TO OPEN A BEER HALL Easier For Crook To Take Over Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's easier for a crook to take over a million-dollar bank than for an honest man to open a beer hall, says Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez.

The aspiring beer hall owner often has to prove, in a public hearing, he won't ruin the neighborhood or the community.

But there's not a furrow in the federal brow, the Texas Democrat says when a shady character buys out a respectable, established bank and begins to use its customers' money to line his own pockets.

ANGRY LETTERS

Since he says most takeover artists are borrowing money from one bank to control another, Gonzalez has proposed legislation prohibiting banks from loaning money for the purpose of buying shares in a second bank.

For his efforts, he's received many angry letters, he said in an interview.

But Gonzalez, a member of the House Banking Committee, is pushing for at least a modified form of his bill.

Gonzalez said he's heard out for speculative reasons and profitable operation. And they can unload bad paper on the bank taken over, leaving it with questionable or weak loans.

"Right now," Gonzalez said, "all the law requires for an insured state or federal bank when there is a change in management is to report to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. That's all. There's no power of review."

Gonzalez has been protesting the takeover of a San Antonio bank because this is a very

New Bishop Will Be Consecrated June 11

The first Episcopal bishop to be named in this area in a quarter of a century will be consecrated in ceremonies at Lubbock's Municipal Auditorium on June 11, it was announced by the Rt. Rev. George H. Quarterman, Bishop of the Diocese of Northwest Texas, who has offices in Amarillo.

The venerable Willis R. Henton, presently Episcopal archdeacon for Education for the Diocese of Louisiana, was named to succeed Bishop Quarterman at a diocesan election in Lubbock in February. Father Henton as Bishop Coadjutor will work with Bishop Quarterman until June, 1972, and at that time will become the diocesan bishop.

The Rt. Rev. John Hines, New York City, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, seventh largest church body in the U.S., will be the Consecrator. The consecration will start at 7:30 p.m. and be open to the general public.

Other church officials who plan to attend include the Rt.

Rev. Edward C. Turner, Bishop of Kansas and president of the six state Province of the Southwest, which includes 11 dioceses; the Rt. Rev. A. Donald Davies, Bishop of Dallas; the Rt. Rev. Iverson B. Noland, Bishop of Louisiana; the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, Chancellor of the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., operated by the Episcopal Church; and the Rt. Rev. Leonardo Romero, D.D., Bishop of Mexico.

The new Bishop-elect was born in McCook, Neb., and received his BA from Nebraska State Teachers College in 1949 and his degree in Sacred Theology from the General Theological Seminary, New York, in 1952. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1953. His background includes:

Missionary work in the Philippines for four years; curate of St. Luke's Chapel, Trinity Parish, New York, 1957-58; rector of Christ Memorial Church, Mansfield, La., 1958-61; and rector of St. Augustine's Church, Baton Rouge, La., until 1964. He is married and has a son.

The history of the 76,000 square mile diocese of Northwest Texas goes back to 1910, when the Rt. Rev. Arthur Temple became the first bishop. Only two other men, the Rt. Rev. Cecil Seaman and Bishop Quarterman, incumbent, have served during the more than 60 years the diocese has been established.

Several members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Big Spring will be attending the Consecration June 11.

This will come at 7:05 a.m. Monday (May 31) when the 29 members embark from Midland-Odessa air terminal for Dallas and a flight to Boston, from whence they begin their trans-Atlantic flight at 8:15 p.m.

The local group met here last Sunday at Furr's for their final briefing session in charge of the Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple.

Eight of the group will be from Big Spring under the direction of the Rev. Puckett, who will be making his second European-Holy Land tour. The others are from Abilene.

Big Springers booked for the tour are Mrs. Juanita Edwards, Mrs. Tiny Clawson, Mrs. C. B. Underwood, Mrs. Johnny Windham, Rev. and Mrs. Puckett, also Dr. and Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Sweetwater.

June 1 will find the three tour units arriving in Rome aboard a TWA plane at noon. After two days they move on to Athens, Greece, for two days, then to Cairo, Egypt, and on to Beirut, Lebanon. From there they go to Jerusalem, via Cyprus (for a brief stop), for six days touring the Holy Land. This will include a couple of days at Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee.

Afterwards, they move to Tel Aviv, thence to Zurich, Lucerne and Basel, Switzerland. There the air hops will be broken by a train trip to Paris, France, then on to London before flying home.

Rev. Craven Is Now Doctor Of Theology

The Rev. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, received his doctorate in theology May 13 from Bible Baptist Seminary, Arlington. He also holds a bachelor's of divinity and master's of divinity from the same school.

Dr. Craven has been pastor of Trinity for six years. During his ministry, attendance at the church has more than doubled, and the missions program has increased. The church now contributes to 64 foreign missionary efforts and seven home missions which includes Bible Baptist Seminary.

Other honors which Dr. Craven has earned include the presidency of the Baptist Fellowship of Texas and the chairmanship of the seminary board.

Dr. Craven was born in Wellington, Tex., and was pastor of a church in Fort Scott, Kan., for 13 years before coming to Big Spring.

Dr. Craven and Elizabeth, his wife of 26 years, have five children, two sons and three daughters. One son, Richard,

DR. CLAUDE CRAVEN

Craven, is a student at Bible Baptist Seminary. Residing in Big Spring are their son, Dana Craven, and two daughters, Mrs. Leonard (Jan) Moody and Mrs. Joe (Carolyn) Schaik. A third daughter, Mrs. Robbie (Pattie) Robertson, lives in Marietta, Ga.

Lee To Work With Hillcrest Youth

"I'm not going to be in my office much. I intend to be out talking to young people about the hope of their life, Jesus Christ. That's the only reason I came to work in the church," said Steve Lee, new youth director at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

STEVE LEE

Lee and his recent bride Sally arrived in Big Spring last Sunday to begin their work with the church. Lee graduated this May with a bachelor's of arts degree in religion from Baylor University. He is a native of Austin and graduated from Lanier High School.

The Lees were married four months ago. She is the former Sally Simpson of McGregor and is the daughter of the Rev. Curtis Simpson who is the pastor of the San Angelo church.

The Rev. Bryan Ross, area missionary, San Angelo, recommended Lee to Hillcrest church. Lee said that he felt that he was called to work with the local church and has planned several activities for the youth at Hillcrest.

"We won't just be meeting just to have something to do," said Lee. "Everything I want to do is an outreach. We won't just be promoting the church but will be promoting Jesus Christ."

Current plans for the younger members of the church include trips to Glorietta, N.M., attendance at the Youth Evangelism Conference in July in Fort Worth and Bible classes in the underprivileged areas and visitations to nursing homes in connection with the "outreach" theme.

Lee is also planning an activity center or coffeehouse for use by all young people, not just members of the church. A site has not yet been chosen, but the center will offer contemporary music and Christian discussion.

As director of the youth choir, Lee plans to add a contemporary sound to the services with music from "The Electric Church." The music is of the rock opera type and features drums and electric guitars.

Recreational programs are also being planned, such as softball.

Trinity Church Begins Bible School Monday

"God's Astronauts" will be the theme of Vacation Bible School at Trinity Baptist Church Monday through Friday at 9 to 11:30 a.m. The daily lessons based on the theme are planned to interest all youngsters from toddlers to teens.

Refreshments will be served each day, and prizes will be given to the boy or girl who brings the most visitors. A banner will be given to the department with the highest percentage of attendance.

On Monday, all youngsters will assemble in front of the auditorium at 8:30 a.m. to be divided into classes and registered. The youngsters will assemble in their departments at 9 a.m. for the rest of the week.

Departmental superintendents will be Mrs. J. R. Piper, toddlers; Mrs. J. R. Peity, beginners; Mrs. Jimmy Newsom, primary; Mrs. B. L. Eggleston, juniors; and the Rev. Randy Cotton, teens.

Leonard Moody will lead the singing during the assemblies, and he will be accompanied by Mrs. Moody and Janice Majors on piano and organ. Dr. Claude Craven and the Rev. Cotton will present the daily messages.

All parents are invited to attend the commencement exercises Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The church will be providing bus services for any youngsters needing a ride to the church, and anyone needing transportation to the church may call 267-6344, 267-6055 or 267-8739.

Saturday Is Holy Day For Baha'i Members

On Saturday, Baha'is all over the world will commemorate the Ascension of Baha'u'llah, Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith.

It was on this day in 1892 that Baha'u'llah died. He was born in 1817 and because of His teachings He spent more than forty years of His life in exile, banishment and as a prisoner.

Baha'is believe that Baha'u'llah is the latest in a series of Divine Messengers sent by God since the beginning of man's existence. They believe that He is the Promised One of all religions, and that His coming ushers in the Age of Fulfillment mentioned in all the prophecies of the past. They see His teachings and laws as those necessary to bring about world peace, world unity, and the Kingdom of God on earth.

The final years of Baha'u'llah were spent as a prisoner at Bahji, near the prison city of Acca in the Holy Land. The tomb of Baha'u'llah at Bahji is considered a Holy Shrine and a place of pilgrimage by Baha'is.

Baha'is do not have pictures of Baha'u'llah. He wished the Baha'is to worship God and not Himself, the Messenger of God. Baha'u'llah, when translated, means "The Glory of God."

The followers of Baha'u'llah, called Baha'is, are now established in nearly 43,000 localities around the world. The writings of Baha'u'llah have been translated into over 428 languages.

LITTLE GIRL,

After graduation today, Martha dressed her little sister, Amy, in cap and gown and let her walk across the stage. Amy chortled all the way home, "I graduated, just like Martha."

Martha is a sweet big sister. She lets Amy watch while she gets ready for dates, makes clothes for her dolls and invents endless games designed to please a four-year-old. On the other hand, Amy adores the ground her "Marthy" walks on and listens to her advice before all others. It was Martha who straightened her out when she rebelled against church-going. "We go," said Martha, "not because we have to, but because we love God and want to be good."

How glad Bob and I are that we have always gone to church and taken Martha with us! Love of God is an essential part of her life. Now she is helping us teach Amy a similar understanding and reverence.

Go to church, and take your child. Share with him the greatest wealth on earth.

Soviet Union, Egypt Sign 15-Year Treaty

By The Associated Press
The Soviet Union and Egypt signed a 15-year treaty of friendship and cooperation Thursday night, renewing their close alliance in the wake of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's purge of his rivals for power.

The pact signed by Sadat and visiting President Nikola V.
Podgorny provides for continued Soviet military, economic, political and scientific aid. The two governments also pledged
"noninterference in the internal affairs of each other," which would be interpreted as a Soviet abandonment of the leftist leaders ousted and arrested by Sadat in the recent Egyptian power struggle.

MORE ARMS
In the military sphere, the Russians promised the Egyptians arms and military training to enable them to win back the Sinai desert from Israel. The treaty said arms and equipment would be supplied to Egypt "with a view to strengthening its capacity to eliminate the consequences of aggression as well as increasing its ability to stand up to aggression in general."

The two governments also pledged to "concert their positions" if a threat to peace arises. Observers in Cairo regarded this as a Russian commitment of deeper—and perhaps even direct—military involvement if Egypt and Israel go to war again.

The treaty also calls for expanded cooperation in a vast number of fields: industry, agriculture, water conservancy, irrigation, development of natural resources, electric power, personnel training, trade, shipping, science, the arts, literature, education, health services, press, radio, television, cinema, tourism, physical culture, workers' organizations and cultural and scientific institutions.

ISRAEL'S RIGHT
Podgorny and Sadat signed the treaty at the end of a three-day visit by the Soviet president, who was returning to Moscow today. He had hurried to Cairo after the recent shakeup which removed some of the Kremlin's closest Egyptian allies, and the treaty was viewed as a Soviet endorsement of Sadat's continuance in power.

The two presidents also signed a communique accusing Israel of a "persistent expansionist policy." It said "a lasting, firm and just peace can be established only on the basis of Israel's withdrawal from all territories occupied in 1967 and the fulfillment in full volume of the Nov. 22, 1967, resolution of the United Nations Security Council."

The U.N. resolution calls for Israeli withdrawal and acknowledgment by the Arab states of Israel's right to exist within "secure and recognized"

borders. But the communique made specific mention only of the withdrawal aspect. In Tel
Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said he hoped the Cairo-Moscow pact "will not be the act which will kill the possibility of any interim settlement."

To Plan School At Corpus Christi

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) —
The Texas A&I board of directors named a committee Thursday to help plan the upper level school at Corpus Christi.

The school was approved by the Senate Thursday and awaits final approval by Gov. Preston Smith.

Named were J.C. Martin of Laredo, president; E.S. Joslin, vice president; and L.A. McNeil, both of Corpus Christi.

The three will meet with a group to be appointed from Corpus Christi, and A&I President James C. Jernigan.

Museum Search Still On For Ranch Exhibit Items

The Heritage Museum is still seeking items to include in its second rotating exhibit which will feature early ranching.

A number of individuals have brought in things, and several others have pledged materials.
Yet more will be needed to round out the displays, according to Daryle Hertz, who arranges the exhibits.

Things needed now include old ropes, old saddles, spurs, chaps, branding irons, bridles, in-gallon hats, old horse shoes (and shoeing equipment), rifles used from around 1880 to 1920, good pictures of early ranching scenes, chuck wagon paraphernalia, and any other items which might relate to ranching.

The museum will be appreciative of gifts of materials, but it also will accept gratefully other materials on a loan basis for duration of the exhibit.

Those who can help supply
these needs are urged to contact the museum at Sixth and Scurry or the acquisitions committee headed by Joe Pickle.

During the first 30 days it has been open, the museum has attracted more than 1,200 individuals, most of them school children on field trips. It is drawing an increasing number of adults, said Mrs. Jerry Atwell, who supervises the operation. Among out-of-town visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs.

John R. Anthony, Walnut Creek, Calif., who said they had visited small museums from coast to coast and were impressed most by the local one because of its modern appearance. They were fascinated by the collection of old photographs, said Mrs. Atwell.

The museum is soon to have an honor plaque on which memorial and other special gifts can be recognized.

Two outstanding features are coming during the fourth week of June. The Museum of Western Art is putting on a display of paintings by outstanding western artists, during the four days of the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, June 23-26, and Bart Mann, San Angelo collector and artisan, will display his fabulous collection June 25-26.

At the meeting Thursday, the members approved an amendment to the articles of incorporation which will permit the museum to have a tax-exempt status for gifts, said
Jerry Worthy, president.

He Says Prisoners Nude When Kicked By Officers

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — A Galena Park policeman has testified he saw Bobby Joe Conner being kicked last year in the Galena Park police station by two former Houston police officers.

Walter E. Sanders, 23, testified Thursday in the trial of Jack McMahon, 22, and Arthur
N. Hill, 28, accused of beating Conner to death while he was a prisoner.

Conner and Larry Taylor, 24, were arrested April 4, 1970, on traffic violation charges and taken to the Galena Park police station.

Conner died en route to a Houston hospital and Taylor underwent surgery.

Sanders said as he and other Galena Park officers were leaving the interrogation room,

glanced back to see McMahon kick Conner and Hill kick Taylor.

"I kept on going because it looked pretty bad," Sanders testified under cross-examination while on the stand as a defense witness.

He testified the prisoners were nude and leaning "spread-eagle"
on some shelves when Hill and McMahon kicked them on the side of their hips.

He said when he came back into the room about 10 minutes later, both prisoners were lying on the floor. He said another

Galena Park officer, Leland
Bolton, tried to revive Conner
by splashing water on his face.

Sanders said he called his supervisor and was told to take Conner to a Houston hospital.

club president Jimmy Harrison said that a manager will soon be hired and the club operated

Praise Heaped On Tower At $150-A-Plate Dinner

DALLAS (AP) — Friends of John G. Tower did him proud last night. They fed him a $150-a-plate dinner, heaped him with praise, and assured him of their backing as senior U. S. senator for Texas when he runs again next year.

Something like 1,600 guests attended the statewide bipartisan appreciation dinner marking, to the day, Tower's first decade as Republican senator.

Those who couldn't be there in person were there in celluloid. Outside faces—mouthed—praises from a movie screen behind the top table—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, minority leader, U. N. Ambassador George Bush, Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, and even President Nixon himself.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew sent a telegram.

Mayor Wes Wise of Dallas, speaking through Mayor Pro Tem Ted Holland, declared May 27 John Tower Appreciation Day.

Six U.S. senators were present to voice personal tributes—Paul Fannin from Arizona, Bill Brock from Tennessee, Henry Bellmon from Oklahoma, Peter Dominick from Colorado, Robert Griffin from Michigan and Roman L. Hruska from Nebraska.

With them at the top table were Reps. John Collins of Dallas and Bill Archer of Houston, seated with mayors from all over Texas.

When a defender plays high-low in following to the trump suit, it conventionally announces possession of a third trump. This signal is sometimes employed merely to give partner a count. On other occasions, it announces a desire to obtain a ruff. The common sense of the situation usually enables a defender to distinguish as to which message is being given. An interesting case is offered today where South was the declarer at four hearts.

West opened the jack of spades, declarer won the trick with the ace and immediately ruffed his small spade in dummy with the three of hearts. The ace of hearts was casbed, on which East played the five and West the jack. A heart was continued and East completed his echo by following with the deuce. South put in the ten and West was in with the king.

West paused to assess the situation. One trick was already in and he could reasonably expect to win a club trick with the king. If East had the ace of diamonds or the ace of clubs that would complete the defensive book.

West searched for a way to uncover the setting trick. His partner's high low in the trump suit alerted him to the fact that East held a third heart. However, the bidding had already informed him of that fact. North had employed the two club convention asking the opening no trump bidder to show a four card major and South responded by revealing that he held four hearts, thereby marking East with three.

West reasoned that the only legitimate reason East could have had for using the trump echo was to alert West to the possibility that East wanted to ruff something. The only suit where East could be short was clubs and West returned that suit when he was in with the king of hearts. East ruffed with the nine of hearts.

East cashed the ace of diamonds and exited with diamond and West subsequently scored the setting trick with the king of clubs.

Troops Battle For 'Rubber' Town

SAIGON (AP) — With a major assist from allied aircraft, South Vietnamese forces battled North Vietnamese troops for the third day today for the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Snuol, fighting also raged in South Vietnam's central highlands and around the A Shau Valley near the Laotian border.

South Vietnamese officials claimed more than 400 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed in the fighting Thursday and today, many by air and artillery strikes. But Saigon headquarters conceded part of the claim was based on reports from aerial observers, which frequently are inflated.

Incomplete casualty reports said at least 12 South Vietnamese were killed and 52 were wounded.

U.S. B52 bombers and helicopter gunships and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers took part in the battle for Snuol, 90 miles north of Saigon, and South Vietnamese spokesman claimed 219 enemy soldiers were killed in the fighting today, more than half of them by air strikes. Saigon casualties were listed as eight killed and 18 wounded.

Recycling Can Turn Garbage Into Metals, Tires Into Oil

HOUSTON (AP) — A recycling expert says garbage could become a mine of profitable metals and other products for cities.

Charles B. Kenahan, chief of solid wastes for the U.S. Bureau of Mines, said the lowly sanitary landfill is in reality a vast man-made mine. He said it could be a profitable source of metals and other products ranging from oil to bricks to remolded plastic.

He said old tires can be turned into oil and gas.

House Approves Whack In Car Insurance Rates

AUSTIN (AP) — House members passed a bill Thursday night designed to lower car insurance rates and conform Texas to U. S. Supreme Court decision on so-called "safety-responsibility laws."

The measure returns to the Senate for action on the amendment conforming to the court decision.

A major innovation in the bill would allow motorists to buy $250 deductible bodily injury and property damage liability policies. The $250 deductible would apply to hospital costs of an individual or to repair costs for damaged cars. There would be a deductible of $500 for bodily injury or death to two or more persons in a single accident.

"The only thing the insurance board has told me is that this will reduce rates 50 per cent on property damage and 13 per cent on personal injury liability," said Rep. Dean Cobb of Dumas,

AUSTIN (AP) — House members passed a bill Thursday night designed to lower car insurance rates and conform Texas to U. S. Supreme Court decision on so-called "safety-responsibility laws."

The measure returns to the Senate for action on the amendment conforming to the court decision.

A major innovation in the bill would allow motorists to buy $250 deductible bodily injury and property damage liability policies. The $250 deductible would apply to hospital costs of an individual or to repair costs for damaged cars. There would be a deductible of $500 for bodily injury or death to two or more persons in a single accident.

Always In Season and Seasoned To Please!

Beginning Of Beginning

The announcement by President Nixon last week of an agreement in the scope of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks with the Soviet Union has been compared with the beginning of the beginning of the breaking of the Ice Age.

But there has to be a point of beginning, however imperceptible. Herein lies the significance of the President's announcement.

SALT began in 1969 but stalled over whether to include both offensive and defensive missiles in the same package. (It should be noted that these are not disarmament talks, but are aimed at putting a limitation on the number of weapons on each side and avoiding a new and costly arms race.) Last January Mr. Nixon took the initiative which led to concessions on both sides. When the talks are resumed this summer, discussion will concentrate on limiting ABM (anti-ballistic missiles), but discussion of offensive missile limits will be held. If there can be any success in the ABM talks, then the two superpowers could concentrate on some similar limitation of offensive missiles.

Progress in both areas could enhance the chances for a mutual reduction of forces in central Europe. Like the ABM, this could have a profound effect on reductions of appropriations for defensive purposes, and it also might help somewhat on our deficit of payments which has the dollar in trouble in Europe.

The President properly put out caution flags on optimism about success of the SALT sessions. Much is to be done before firm pacts are reached, and past experience has underlined this. Still, as mentioned above, there must be a beginning if anything is ever attempted or accomplished, and the President is due credit for patience and initiative in bringing about this tiny sign of a thaw.

Fool On The Road

If you are boarding the family car this weekend for the Memorial Day holiday, please drive carefully enough for two — you and the other fellow.

The difficulty with long weekend holidays is that many people try to cram entirely too much in them. At some point they either move at excessive speeds, or they grow weary and perhaps sleepy following a punishing two or three days of what was supposed to have been "recreation." The result can be disaster.

Remember this: There may be a fool on the road. Don't let it be you; and don't let him hurt you and your family.

Crowded Britain

Marquis Childs

LONDON — This green and pleasant land has been enjoying a spell of fine spring weather such as the memory of the oldest inhabitant can hardly recall. In the Hyde Park, Green Park, St. James's Park, in all the small squares and crescents, sun worshippers are lying cheek by jowl to soak up the radiance out of a cloudless sky.

THIS WOULD almost anywhere else be unseemly crowding. But because the British value their privacy they have made civility a rule of life. That is how they have managed to live with such decorum in these overcrowded islands. How crowded they are and how overcrowded they are threatened to become is the subject of a Parliamentary report that created a sensation when it was released.

The population study of the Parliamentary Committee on Science and Technology warned that unless drastic measures are taken an additional 13,000,000 people by the year 2000 will create an intolerable condition of life. The sensational press read into the conclusions of the report an implied demand for family limitation by law.

THE CHAIRMAN of the committee, Airey Neave, a Conservative Member of Parliament, promptly denied that either the report or in a press conference he held was there any such implication. But the report does not sugar-coat the conviction that Britain must do far more, both through government and private family planning agencies, if intolerable overcrowding is not to destroy the quality of life in these islands and indeed threaten the existence of a people so dependent on trade with the outside world.

Kingdom is close to 56,000,000 — for England and Wales just under 50,000,000. What is startling to learn is that in the most-concentrated areas population density — 3.44 to the acre in that northwest, 2.56 in the southeast — exceeds the crowding anywhere in Europe. In the Netherlands, regarded as one of the most-crowded countries, the average person per acre is 1.27; for Belgium 1.28.

The Conservation Society pointed out that, in terms of being able to feed itself, Britain was already grossly overpopulated. This country grows only one-half its food supply. Fishing grounds off Britain's shores have been overfished and today, as the society noted much of the fish consumed here comes from distant waters.

THE SOCIETY, the principal organization concerned with the environment, urged a series of government measures to reduce the population increase to a minimum.

"The responsibility for insuring that we have a family planning service adequate for our needs rests with the government," the society said in a memorandum filed with the Parliamentary Committee. "And we urge the government to make the family planning service in integral part of the National Health Service, thus implementing the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Population in 1949."

EMIGRATION to Canada, Australia and elsewhere is one escape valve. But it is limited. The plain truth is that Britons like Britain. They like the civility, the sense of privacy, the slower pace. All the amenities may vanish with overcrowding, but that's for a future which few are willing to face.

THE POPULATION of the United Kingdom is close to 56,000,000 — for England and Wales just under 50,000,000.

Racial Tension

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Scarcely a day goes by that the American people are not told in their newspapers about one or more outbreaks of violence. Often widespread fighting develops between blacks and whites, resulting in the deaths of some citizens and injuries to others, as well as property damage. In many instances, the police are at hand and make arrests, and frequently National Guard forces are brought to the scene.

WHAT IS America going to do about this problem, whose gravity is challenging the people? The mere process of seeking out the ones who are guilty and subjecting them to punishment apparently isn't proving to be a preventive. What obviously is emerging is a conflict between whites and blacks which is not being dispelled by integration of schools or by the increased opening up of opportunities for blacks to get jobs which may previously have been denied them. A deeper resentment is involved. The trouble arises when individuals, who may be under the influence of drugs or alcohol, give vent to their feelings and provoke all kinds of incidents which lead to guerrilla-type warfare.

THE HOSTILE attitude between the races has appeared not only in business and private life but in the armed services. On Monday of this week, fights between black and white airmen spread over Travis Air Force Base in California culminating in a four-hour brawl. More than 400 servicemen were involved. A $40,000 fire at the officers' quarters resulted in one death. Ten airmen were taken to the medical center with injuries. Armed civilian police from nearby communities entered the base in large numbers to help deal with the situation. There were 135 arrests. It was admitted afterwards that the fighting had started with a racial incident at dinner on Saturday night, but later spread indiscriminately. A group of 35 to 75 black servicemen marched on the post stockade to try to get two black airmen freed.

THERE ARE more and more reports of troubles inside the military services between blacks and whites. This illustrates the extent to which emotions over racial problems have grown everywhere. Certainly it is time for greater thought and attention to be given to sources of racial friction. What is most urgently needed at the moment is the development of means to curb the outbursts of resentment which have become pronounced in the last few years and now are showing signs of becoming the biggest of the unsolved problems in America.

COMMUNITIES have been worried by the rise of racial incidents, but additional police protection has been the major policy thus far applied to try to maintain peace and order. Meanwhile, the undercurrent of bitterness remains in many areas, and racial feeling is intensified.

Relations between blacks and whites will never be improved until individuals have been taught to understand their responsibilities to the community. Organizations will have to be formed, perhaps through the churches, to reach the minds of those who harbor resentments related to race.

THE POLICE cannot do the job alone. Community action is essential. The clergy will have to work with citizens' groups to persuade people that they have a choice between living a life of unselfishness and permitting all human beings to enjoy equal advantages or else being subjected to the crimes and tragedies that leave their imprint almost every day on the communities of our land.

COULD MAKE HIM LEAN A LITTLE

Says Fed 'Sucked In'

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The resurgence of interest rates is threatening to collapse the nation's securities markets and smother economic recovery, a highly respected financial adviser has told the Nixon administration.

John Winthrop Wright, who advises many of the nation's largest brokers and close to 1,000 banks, as well as handling directly hundreds of millions of dollars in investments, compared the situation to the 1930s.

"This is exactly what happened then," he said in an interview. "I can't imagine they'd be so stupid as to permit it to happen again." He said in reference to the Federal Reserve Board, which has considerable power over interest rates.

Wright said the threatened collapse "is a danger which I do not presently predict," but which could occur at any time if the administration permits the trend to continue.

The Fed, Wright said, was being "sucked in" by European central bankers who have a tradition of higher rates and who argue that such rates must be used by the United States to redress its balance of payments deficit.

"The whole history of the United States is one of reasonable interest costs. They built this country. They're the reason why we went ahead of Europe," Wright said. He branded the deficit "made in Europe" and said the dollar was sound.

Interest rates on high grade long-term corporate bonds have now reached 8.25 per cent compared to a 15-year average of 5 1/2 per cent, and that home mortgages must come down to 6 per cent from about 7 1/2.

Wright said he has hopes that the threat of collapse will not become a reality because he is convinced that the Fed and the administration will see the light. But he insisted that time was short.

In a letter to Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, Wright said high interest costs "now constitute the greatest present danger to the U.S. economy, American securities values and the Nixon administration."

'Blonde' Coeds Turning Green

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Some coeds at Framingham State College say they take showers and come out green.

Others, who bleached their hair, say their locks turn green after a washing.

Other residents of the town say the same thing happens to them—and to their sinks, bathtubs, walls and clothes.

They blame chlorine in the town water, but Health Inspector George Smith says the chemical would not have that effect. The town has hired a consultant to look into the matter.

This Is A No, No Yarn

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Survival depends on the ability to say no.

It is often more pleasant to do everything anyone asks you to, but it can lead you into some of life's more disastrous byways—or even an early grave.

You are unlikely to live a long and happy life if you never listen to the still small voice of caution whispering urgently, "Stop. This is far enough."

How do you learn to say no? Simply by saying it in every situation in which you could wind up being a patsy. Here, for example, are some situations which, if accepted, are almost certain to lead to rue or ruin:

pretzel. Shall I teach you how to do a few?"

"Oh, go ahead and quit dawdling, George. The light will turn green before we're halfway across the street."

"Do you want to take a look at my hole card? It'll only cost you $10."

"I can't imagine what happened to my date. He told me to meet him at this bar half an hour ago, and he still hasn't shown up. Would you care to buy me a drink while I'm waiting?"

"I agree the flashlight is getting weaker but we still have more than half the cave to explore. How do you want to turn back now, do you?"

"You seem to be going my way, little lady. How about me giving you a lift?"

"Dad, can I borrow your car for tonight? I've got a new girl I want to impress. You can take Mom to the movies on my motorcycle. I'll show you how it works."

"The students are all carrying sticks and stones and are on the verge of rioting. Why don't you step out and calm them down, professor. Surely they'll listen to a man of reason like you."

"Will you marry me, Henry, Scout-honor to learn to cook, go on holding my job and bring my paycheck home uncashed to you every week?"

'Good Old Days' Around The Rim

Walt Finley

Printing pro Leo Gonzales, who wings to Mexico City Saturday with his wife to start a two-week vacation, asks:

Did you ever stop to think how difficult it must be to be a Know-Nothing?

LET US examine for a minute one reason why we look upon the past as "the good old days."

I'm still thinning-out my "files" and found a copy of a May 8, 1962, Tulsa newspaper and noticed a picture.

It showed three boys in Fayetteville, Ind., who had been kicked out of elementary school for the third time because they wore their shirt-tails outside.

The principal called them "night-gowns," and their mother insisted it was the principle of the thing.

You wonder what the principal is doing now.

The real reason the good old days seem best is not so much events of that type. It's really because those days are behind us, and cannot hurt us again.

THE UNIVERSITIES in this area are out running around like mad signing up "blue chip" athletes for the football team.

Do you suppose the University of Colorado calls them "Buffalo chips?"

If you want something to think about as you drive to and from work, stay within the speed limit and watch those rushing by intent on being the first to the next stop light. For that's where you'll catch them.

THE MORE LEISURELY style of driving will give you the opportunity to observe those scooting by you and you will be able to identify each of them.

Besides it gives you a saccharine feeling that lasts all through the day.

Various people keep pointing out that we work through May 10 for the government — It takes that long to earn our income taxes each year.

I told my boss if it was alright with him, I'd rather earn mine at the other end of the year.

Through the late summer, the football season and over Christmas, I'm not much good for anything anyway.

MOST-INTRIGUING paragraph lifted out of context from a wire service story about President Nixon flying to Key Biscayne for the weekend:

Greeting Nixon at his seaside complex of fence-ringed houses here was C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo. Sent ahead were two Nixon dogs, Irish Setter King Timahoe and Yorkshire Terrier Pasha.

ARE THE RERUNS of the New Andy Griffith Show now being shown on television from a New Andy Griffith show or are they from the old New Andy Griffith Show?

Well, someone's got to keep track of things.

THE OTHER NIGHT yours truly, a frustrated guitar player among other things, and a few ex-Big Spring High band members collaborated on a "thing" called "A concert is . . ."

Some of them were "inside," but these weren't:

A concert is music, man.

A concert is standing room only, on the stage.

A concert is rated G.P. — parental attendance requested.

A concert is knowing the score in advance.

A concert is when in theory we are all in harmony.

A concert is where a thousand dollars worth of lessons are blown.

A concert is the time a parent, after hearing solos at home, gets to put it all together.

Nixon And SALT

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — A few days after President Nixon and the Soviet Union announced they would press "this year" for an agreement to limit rival antimissile (ABM) systems, a ranking official of the Democratic National Committee put it in political perspective.

THE OFFICIAL, who is close to former Vice President Hubert Humphrey, fearlessly if anonymously announced that if the negotiations work out "Dick Nixon will be a helluva lot harder to beat next year." He explained that while he would spend the intervening 18 months working for the election of a Democratic President, "I'm pulling for SALT (strategic arms limitation talks) to succeed."

THIS IS, of course, practical patriotism. We are not going to see the numerous Democratic Presidential candidates extolling Nixon as a great President — ever. But one of the strengths of the country is that the "outs" are still capable of cautiously cheering on the "ins" when the issue is a matter concerned with world peace. If they prudently refrain from making speeches about it, the Humphreys, Muskie, McGovern et al want SALT to work out just as fervently as Nixon does, while sadly regretting that success would accrue to Nixon's political credit.

THE DEMOCRATS must be aware of an obvious development. It is that the Russians have decided it is possible to negotiate with Richard Nixon. They may not like him, on his anti-Communist record, but they also are practical politicians and their agreement to push disarmament negotiations is an acknowledgment that — at this point at least — they are satisfied with the concessions Nixon has made.

Presumably, too, the Russians believe they can wring further concessions from the President. On this score, they may be kidding themselves. But they can see that Nixon is willing to take a gamble on peace.

NIXON'S BIGGEST gamble was in accepting a vaguely worded "hope" that the U.S.-Soviet conferees also can conclude some form of agreement on some offensive nuclear weapons systems. Here, the President lowered his demand for limitations on Soviet missiles, land-based and sea-based. This will permit the Soviets to expand their existing ABM system around Moscow from four sites to six, while the U.S. cuts back to two its proposed four Safeguard sites.

BUT THERE IS another provision of the "agreement." It is the stipulation that if some limitation on offensive systems is not later accepted by the Kremlin the ABM accord would become inoperative. Thus, both sides will be under some pressure to be reasonable.

In sum, the bilateral decision to push negotiations this year represents a political plus for Richard Nixon. If even a limited, interim pact is concluded by year's end — or even early in 1972 — Nixon will be entitled to make noises like a peace candidate. At the same time, he can point to the continued, steady withdrawal of troops from Vietnam, a cutback of total U.S. military strength and, almost surely, a reduction in the Pentagon's budget.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I work in a large plant where Christians steal time whenever they can. I know Christians would never steal money, but isn't it just as wrong to steal time? I am not a Christian.

The Bible has many passages which make it plain that not only money can be stolen, but also time, talents and opportunities. As Christians, we are responsible for our conduct as well as for our profession of faith. An employer also has a like responsibility to pay a just wage for services received and to provide those facilities necessary for the comfort and health of those who work for him. We must always remember that our Christian faith should change our every relationship of life so that whether it be time, money or anything else, it is regarded as a trust and a responsibility for which we are responsible to God. Paul writes: "And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord and not unto men." One final word — you seem to be looking at Christians and judging them. What about your own heart? Look at the sin in it and let Christ make a new man out of you.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? Hope thou in God. (Psalm 42:11)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank You for the hope that is within us. If the days grow darker, increase our faith so that our hope may stand out as a beacon light to guide others to You, in Jesus' name. Amen.

Brock Spurs Cards With Sizzling Bat

By The Associated Press
This is the Lou Brock doll, a real beauty. Wind it up, face it toward the pitcher, any pitcher, and let it go.

It goes ... and goes ... and goes.

St. Louis' streaking left fielder continues to perform like a mechanical marvel, whistling three hits Thursday night to stretch his batting string to 23 games as the Cardinals decked the Chicago Cubs 10-0.

Brock's bash has victimized the National League's top pitching talent—the latest of which was hard-throwing Chicago ace Ferguson Jenkins. The right-hander didn't give Brock much of a selection, but it didn't matter.

In the night's other National League action, the Atlanta Braves beat the Montreal Expos 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates topped the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers trimmed the San Francisco Giants 5-1.

American League: Boston Red Sox 6, Washington Senators 2; Milwaukee Brewers 5, Minnesota Twins 3; Detroit Tigers 4, New York Yankees 3 and Cleveland Indians 10, Baltimore Orioles 5.

Brock's streak takes up where teammate Joe Torre's left off. Torre hit in 22 straight games prior to the start of the Brock charge.

Brock has hit at a .424 pace during his rampage, hiking his average to .374. Among other fancy statistics, Brock has scored 42 runs this year and stolen 19 bases.

Brock's sweet swinging made it easy for St. Louis starter Chris Zachary, who didn't make it easy for Chicago with a two-hitter. Zachary allowed only a third-inning double to Jenkins and a sixth-inning single to Chris Cannizzaro.

EARLY SURGE
Joe Torre's double with Brock and Joe Hague aboard triggered an early uprising by the Cardinals, who took a quick 2-0 jump. Brock, Matty Alou and Hague drove in runs in the second inning to give Zachary more than he needed, a 5-0 cushion.

Willie Davis of Los Angeles extended the National League's second best current hitting streak at 19 games, stroking a fifth inning single in the Dodger success over San Francisco.

Don Sutton, given a 2-0 lead on Richie Allen's first-inning single, pitched a four-hitter as the Dodgers salvaged the last game of the three-game set.

Bill Sudakis delivered a home run in the Los Angeles case.

Roberto Clemente and Manny Sanguillen ripped home runs as Pittsburgh whipped Cincinnati and handed winless Jim Merritt his seventh loss of the year. Merritt, a 20-game winner in 1970, has not won a game for Cincinnati since last Aug. 26.

Dock Ellis pitched a six-hitter and got support from Clemente's fifth homer of the year, a two-run shot in the second, and Sanguillen's bases-empty blast in the fifth, his second circuit clout.

Sonny Jackson's two-run single capped a three-run burst in the first inning and Atlanta rode Tom Kelley's four-hitter to the victory over Montreal. The Braves' decisive inning came with two out as Hank Aaron singled, Orlando Cepeda walked and Darrell Evans followed with a single for the first run. Jackson then chased home Evans and Cepeda.

L'I' LEAGUE Felines Win; Hawks Remain Atop League

Two runs in the fifth inning enabled the Cats to edge the Braves, 5-4, in Texas Little League play Thursday night. The win enabled the Tabbies to tie the Braves in the standings. The Cats are 6-4 in the standings, the Braves 4-6.

Wayne Pinkard stole home with what proved to be the winning run. Rudy Hernandez, on the mound for the Cats, surrendered 11 hits but kept them well spaced.

N. Rubio had three hits for the Braves while Pinkard, R. Gutierrez and J. Magers each had two for the Cats.

The Hawks remained atop the American Little League standings by nudging the Pirates, 13-7, here Thursday evening.

Won-lost record of the Hawks is 10-1. The Cubs skidded to 3-8. Steve Evans, on the mound for the Hawks, was tagged for five hits. Two of those were by M. Franklin.

Evans also banded off three of his team's eight hits. Two others came off the bat of Tommy Churwell.

The Hawks opened the game with nine runs in the 'hello' round but the Pirates came on to get seven in the second and make a game of it.

Phil Woods pitched the Cardinals to their tenth straight National Little League victory Thursday night, a 10-1 verdict that came at the expense of the Devils.

Woods limited the Devils to a solitary hit. That was by Nikolai.

Richard Battle and Woods each accounted for two safeties, the Red Birds getting seven in all.

A six-run third inning iced the decision for the undefeated Cards. Mike Warren scored three runs for the Birds.

The loss was the eighth in ten assignments for the Devils. Cardinals' 26 110-17 7 Devils' 601 0-1 4 Phil Woods and Richard Battle; Tim Taylor and Wright.

The Rockets won their sixth International Little League decision in ten assignments by edging the Comets, 9-8, here Thursday night. A run in the final inning turned the trick for the Rockets.

Robert Lacy pitched the win, fanning 11. He is now 4-0 on the year.

Mark Vieira had a triple and Tony Vieira two singles for the winners. Lacy powered a two-run homer to boost his own cause.

The loss was the Comets' fifth in ten starts. Rockets' 143 100-8 Comets' 222 401-9 WP — Robert Lacy.

The Astros won a National Minor League game from the Hawks Thursday, 17-6. Kevin McLaughlin and Ronnie Barker each had two hits for the Hawks, who collected nine blows in all.

For the Astros, R. Fannin, D. Barber, T. Worsham, W. McCurtain, B. Dominguez and G. Burgess each smashed two hits. One of Burgess' blows was a home run while C. Gresham bounced a triple off the wall for the winners.

The Astros are 5-4 in the standings while the Hawks receded to 4-5-1.

The Wildcats ganged up on Brave pitching to win a 17-3 National Little League decision here Wednesday night.

The Cats are currently 5-4 in the standings while the Braves are winless in nine outs.

The Wildcats drove off 17 assorted blows, including four by George Harwood. Craig Clark and Randle Jones each had three.

Dale Osborn clubbed a third inning home run for the Braves. Wildcats' 53 14-17 11 Braves' 617 0-1 4 Bubba Stripling, Randle Jones and Ricky Moore; Henry Currie, Dale Osborn and Steve Carr.

Donohue, Foyt Remain Co-Favorites In Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The month of May has seen record speeds, innovations in aerodynamics and electronics and a surprise pole sitter at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The story will be completed Saturday with the 55th running of the Indy 500, the premier auto race in the United States.

Thirty-three cars will begin the race at 10 a.m., CDT with Peter Revson of New York, in his bright orange Team McLaren Mark 16, on the pole. Revson surprised favored Mark Donohue, Media, Pa., two weeks ago by edging the boyish-faced graduate engineer for the inside spot on the first row with an average speed for the four-lap trial of 178.696 miles per hour. Donohue's speed, good enough for the middle of the first row, was 177.987.

Filling out the front row is Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., who drove his Eagle-Offenhauser to an average of 175.816.

Donohue, who became the first and only man to average more than 180 m.p.h. on a lap around the 2½-mile track, remains the co-favorite along with three-time winner A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex.

Foyt, driving a Coyote-Ford, will start the race on the outside of the second row, in sixth position. The man who won the Indy 500 in 1961, '64 and '67 qualified for his 14th attempt here with a 174.371 average speed for the four laps.

It was Donohue, driving his McLaren Mark 16 for car-owner Roger Penske of Philadelphia, who caused the biggest stir this month at the Speedway. The 34-year-old Donohue was consistently ahead of the rest of the field by as much as 10 miles an hour right from the beginning of practice, May 1.

Although practice times and speeds are unofficial, Donohue stunned nearly everyone when he pushed his blue Offenhauser-powered car to a 180.977 clocking on the Speedway's electric timer.

HAS SLIPPAGE
Donohue lost the pole spot and the approximately $20,000 that goes with it when the car, purchased from Tom McLaren, developed a slippage in the suspension which cost the veteran driver important stability in the turns.

The three men who have won the 500 since Foyt's last victory will all be starting the race in the first three rows of the 11-row field.

Bobby Unser won the race in 1968. His younger brother, Al, the pole-sitter and winner last year, will start between Foyt and Revson's teammate, Denis Hulme of New Zealand, in the second row.

Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., who won the 1969 race, will start on the outside of the third row. He'll be driving his new German-built McNamara-Ford, specially built for Andy Granatelli's team.

Winn Talley, the Garden City superintendent of schools, says the new coaching regime there has been alerted for the possible conversion to 11-man football.

Too few schools in the area, Talley says, are fielding eight-man teams, with the result that the Bearcats are having to go farther and farther for practice games.

The Kats could book any number of 11-man games closer to home.

Teen-Age Baseball Association officials issued an appeal for parents of players, asking them to lean to and help police the parks Saturday. One showed up to lend a hand.

There are about 195 players in the two leagues that make up the Association. Let's see now, that would total out to 390 parents — give or take a few. Many were busy elsewhere, but some could have spared the time.

The Teen-Age people are trying to keep boys occupied in a healthy endeavor during the summer.

In a substitute, some of the adults who bring players to them are saying: "Here, take them off our hands."

Pro Cage Leagues Await Showdown In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The National Basketball Association headed for its first on-the-court showdown with the rival American Basketball Association tonight with player of the year Lew Alcindor holding the balance of power over the younger league.

But what if Lew doesn't play in the game? That possibility arose Thursday night on the eve of the 7:30 p.m. CDT nationally televised clash when it was announced in Washington, D.C., that Alcindor would be married today.

Alcindor, the architect of Milwaukee's NBA championship, did not arrive here Thursday with other NBA stars but was scheduled to be on hand today for a workout before tonight's game.

Plans now call for Alcindor to catch a flight from Washington following the wedding in time to honeymoon in the Astrodome tonight—providing he makes flight connections.

The NBA would remain the favorite even without Alcindor because of its experience, but it would lose the prestige-hungry ABA a closer match.

In another move affecting the NBA lineup, the Baltimore Bullets announced they did not want Earl Monroe to play in the all-star contest. A club spokesman said if Monroe played the Bullets "could take whatever measures are spelled out in his contract—which includes suspension or fine."

But Monroe said he was packing for Houston. "It's a matter of principal that I play. I'll be there."

Bill Russell, the former Boston Celtic player-coach, will coach the NBA stars.

The ABA, hoping to achieve some recognition against the older league, is led by Rick Barry, the former San Francisco leaguer, rookie sensation Charlie Scott of Virginia, Zelmo Beaty of the Utah Stars, and Indiana's Mel Daniels.

Golf Business To Keep Larry In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — It looks like Larry Ziegler is going to miss the Indianapolis 500 for the first time in five years.

"I've never finished more than 27 holes here before, and I was always in Indianapolis by Saturday," Ziegler said Thursday after cutting out a remarkable 62 for the first round lead in the $175,000 Danny Thomas Memphis Golf Classic.

"I've played here four times before," the sometimes stock boy for the St. Louis Blues hockey team said, "and I always had to pull out—bad knees, bad elbows, bad head."

"I almost didn't come this year, but since they're going to plow up the course before next year, I thought I'd give it one more whack."

Ziegler's eight-under-par effort, his career best, matched the low 18-hole round on the pro tour this year and gave him a two-stroke lead over always-dangerous Frank Beard going into today's second round.

Beard, winner of the New Orleans Open four weeks ago, used a refund putting touch—needed only 26 strokes on the greens—en route to a 64 on the Colonial Country Club course, a 6,466-yard, par-70 layout that is one of the shortest the tourists play all year.

He had 10 one-putt greens, including one string of six in a row.

Lee Trevino and Chi Chi Rodriguez were two more strokes back at 66, with Deane Beman heading a quartet at 67. The others at that figure were Jim Colbert, Jerry Heard and Mike Reardon.

Gene Littler, winner of last week's Colonial National Invitational, had a 68 and Billy Casper was one of a large group at 69.

While most of the tourists found the little layout to their liking, Dave Hill had his troubles. The winner of this event three times in the last four years, Hill could manage only a 71, well back in the pack.

Abilene Can Sew Up Series Today

ABILENE — Abilene High seeks to insure itself a spot in the Region 1-AAAA baseball finals by defeating Carrollton Turner in a 2:30 p.m. game here today.

Abilene won the opening game of the set Tuesday in Dallas, 8-5. If a third game is needed to determine a winner, it will take place immediately following the first game.

Clint Thomas will likely hurl for the Eagles.

Oleta Young Wins

STANTON — Oleta Young won the Stanton Women Teachers Golf Tournament staged here the past weekend, shading Kay Kirkpatrick for the honor. The tournament will be held in conjunction with the men's meet in future years.

Boyer Is Looking For Pink Slip

ATLANTA (AP) — "We don't have the team, pitching or morale to win a pennant here," Clete Boyer said Thursday night as he arrived from Montreal with hopes of gaining today his release from the Atlanta Braves.

"You can't play baseball every day under pressure like it is here," said Boyer, who added that his disinterest with the Braves organization had been building for four years.

"You can't play baseball every day under pressure like it is here," said Boyer, who added that his disinterest with the Braves organization had been building for four years.

"Nobody has any enthusiasm. It's just all a lot of individual play," he said.

"I've just had all I can take." Boyer requested his release from the Braves earlier this week when he and Paul Richards, the club's vice president, traded verbal blasts publicly.

Richards summoned the slick-fielding third baseman to a telegram Thursday in which he said if Boyer failed to go by the Braves office by noon today "you will be suspended without pay indefinitely."

"I hope to hell I wake up in time so I don't get caught up in traffic," Boyer said. "I plan to be there at 11:59. I want to find out if his word is any good. I don't trust him."

The spat erupted Tuesday when the New York Post quoted Boyer as saying there shouldn't be any place in baseball for a man like Richards.

Richards replied, "For such a lousy player, Boyer does a lot of talking."

Richards said Thursday that any attempt at reconciliation would be "up to his attitude. Hell, I have no personal feeling about this. It'll be strictly professional as far as I'm concerned."

Asked if he thought the two could reach accord, Richards said, "Frankly, I doubt it."

Boyer left no doubt. Asked if there were any conditions under which he would agree to remain with the club, Boyer said, "Yes, one, if he'd let me take over the ball club and run it. I think I could. I think I know baseball."

Boyer said Richards had agreed to release him if Boyer would forfeit his 60 days severance pay—an agreement under which each would swap checks since baseball law requires the club to make the payment. Boyer said the amount was about $10,000. He said he signed this year for $45,000.

SOME STANDOUTS CITED Pan-Am Plays As Unit

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — It figures a baseball team with a record of 42 wins and seven losses would have a most valuable player, but Coach Al Ogletree of Pan American University refuses to single out any one Bronc for praise as the outstanding player.

The Omaha World Herald recently asked for a feature with pictures of Pan Am's outstanding player before the Broncs go to the College World Series in Omaha June 11.

"We don't have any single outstanding player," Ogletree said. "And we aren't going to pick one out."

James Tyrone, an All American center fielder, led the team in most statistical departments. He had 51 stolen bases, a .368 average and 56 hits.

But choosing him would slight Pan Am's lone .440 hitter, Ruben Garcia, who won some games as a utility infielder, Ogletree said.

Third baseman, Reggie Tredaway, who hit .302 and led the team in home runs—six—and runs-batted-in (36), also would be a strong candidate.

If a hitter were picked as MVP, the pitching staff must be considered. Lupo Salinas (12-1) beat Texas twice and outdueled All-American Burt Hooton, 4-0, in the only game he lost his only game this year on an unearned run, also blanked Texas with a clutch effort that left 15 Longhorns stranded on the bases, 4-0.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is a long story, but I need advice. Tom (not his real name) was 17 and I was 15 when we started going steady. We kept getting closer and closer, so what happened just had to happen. Well, it happened one night in a room over their garage. That place became sort of our hideaway until his mother caught us in the act. She called my mother and made a big stink. They made Tom and me break up, and from then on I was watched like a hawk and treated like a criminal.

Pretty soon I started getting calls from the most popular guys at school. I soon found out they wanted only one thing. I had a tooth missing in front so I thought it was kind of funny that the most popular guys in school wanted to date me. Then I found out that Tom had told them I was a pushover. All the boys I go out with think I have to let them do whatever they want because I have a tooth missing in front. I am going to have a tooth put in on May 24th, then I'm turning over a new leaf and I'll show them they are wrong.

Please tell me, Abby, how does a girl clear her name after it's been dragged in the mud?

MISSOURI GIRL: A girl clears her name the same way she messed it up. By the way she behaves. Don't expect to change your image overnight, but if you behave like a good girl consistently, the word will soon get around. (P.S. There is another valuable lesson to be learned from your experience. Boys talk!!)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 32-year-old divorcee and the mother of two. I am deeply in love with a 33-year-old man. He is kind and gentle and my children love him and he seems to love them. The problem is that he is not an American citizen and has been in this country for almost two years.

He wants me to marry him in September, and I would like to marry him, but my friends have told me to be careful because he may be marrying me just to become an American citizen.

LOVES HIM DEAR ABBY: If you love him and you believe that he loves you, don't let the doubts of your friends influence you. Your doubts are the only doubts you need consider.

DEAR ABBY: Do mixed marriages ever work?

CAL DEAR ABBY: Yes. But they work better if bigots don't mix in.

DEAR ABBY: Mike's letter telling you he might belt his wife for using his razor to shave her legs made me smile, a little sadly. I used to use my husband's razor, too. And even though I always carefully washed and dried it, he always knew when I had used it. And he hollered too, because I had my own razor.

I used to slip into my husband's robe and house slippers in the mornings, even though my own robe and slippers were within easy reach. Why? Because it made me feel close to him. As though his arms were around me.

Maybe Mike's wife is trying to tell him something? My husband is dead now, but I still remember the warmth of his robe. And the sharpness of his razor. His razor was always so much better than my own.

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain impetigo to me. I would like to know what it looks like and what to do about it. —C.E.

It is also essential to practice scrupulous hygiene. The child should have his own towels and washcloths, and should not touch those belonging to anyone else. Wash hands frequently; fingers can pick up germs from the pussy lesions and transfer them to other skin areas.

For the same reason, the child should not play with toys that are likely to be used or touched by others.

It's an unpleasant, ornery disease, and if it gets out of control it can be dangerous.

Treatment is with antibiotics taken by mouth, usually those of the tetracycline group.

Because the disease is so contagious, children with impetigo should be kept home from school, and contact with playmates should be stopped until the condition clears up.

three days, and in the middle of the month I would have a day when I would push tears all day for no reason.

A few months ago I began to have pressured feelings and found life so difficult for about five days before my period. The period cut down to a day and a half.

My doctor says it is the beginning of the change of life. My friends don't seem to believe it is. At how young an age can change of life symptoms begin? —Mrs. J. A.

I can't see much significance in what your friends "don't seem to think." While symptoms of menopause (the change of life) can vary a great deal from person to person, yours all fit into the picture, and I'd take it for granted that your doctor is right.

The age when the symptoms start also varies. For most women they start in the 40s — most any time from 40 on. In a few cases, it may be postponed until the early 50s. From time to time it can happen in the 30s and in rare instances (usually when a severe health problem is involved) it can even be before 30.

So at 40 you have no reason to be surprised.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

'A Gunfight' Costing Apaches $2 Million

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The curtains parted and the movie began, showing a brilliant sun rising over a stark New Mexico landscape. A man on horseback rode into view and the first credit appeared: "The Jicarilla Apache Tribe of American Indians Presents 'A Gunfight.'"

The audience burst into applause. Most of those applauding were members of the Jicarilla tribe, assembled for the premiere, Thursday of a movie in which the New Mexico tribe has invested $2 million. The tribe borrowed the $2 million to avoid dipping into its $13 million in invested assets. It will get the first $2 million in profits of the movie and 25 percent of the profits after that.

Charlie Vigil, the tribal president and originator of the idea to finance the picture, cited the monetary rewards of the partnership between the Indians and the industry that has produced hundreds of westerns depicting Indians as the losers in battle.

"This is one round where the Indians are going to win," he told guests at the premiere ceremonies.

The movie itself is not an Indian-white man confrontation, although it does have a Western setting. It is the story of two gunfighters down on their luck who agree to a shoot-out for pay. The two become friends as they try to attract a sellout audience for the winner-take-all gunfight.

The movie stars Johnny Cash and Kirk Douglas. Most of the filming was done near Santa Fe at a movie town owned by J. W. Eaves, who shared credit as producer with Ronald Lubin.

Dignitaries at the premiere included U.S. Indian Commissioner Louis Bruce, who traveled from Washington to be present, Cash, the producers and writer Harold Bloom.

But members of the tribe made up the bulk of the premiere audience. All 1,800 were invited, and about 500 were present.

Parents brought whole families and clasped the hands of wide-eyed youngsters under 30. Two of the younger girls had single feathers fastened neatly in their hair.

Group Auto Insurance Bill 'Dying' In House

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas says his group auto insurance bill is "dying" in the house.

"He urged Texans Thursday to contact their legislators in an effort to beat down the lobbying by the insurance companies trying to kill the bill. The opposition, he said, is an "indication of their selfish disregard of the public interest."

Apparently they feel that their pocket books are more important than the certain benefits of the group merchandising of car insurance to the citizens of Texas."

Mauzy said Texas insurance companies "are afraid of the competition that group insurance sales can bring to this state."

He said motorists in 14 states which have group auto insurance have saved 17 to 30 percent on insurance premiums.

Any member of a group is eligible, Mauzy said, and "There's not anybody in Texas who is not a member of one or two groups."

The employees of a business or the members of a Rotary Club or a P.T.A. or a church organization are all examples of the many Texans who would qualify for group coverage for themselves and their families."

The Senate passed the bill to the House Tuesday.

Trash Collectors Take Holiday

Workmen in the city sanitation department will take a holiday Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

The regular trash pick-up schedule will be resumed Tuesday, but those persons whose garbage is usually picked up on Monday will not have garbage pick-up until Thursday.

"This is the first time we have taken a holiday in a long time," Grady Grantham, superintendent, said, "and we want to see how this works out."

He said persons who are inconvenienced by this holiday schedule can contact him in his office (phone 267-6358).

Kennedy Center Opens Its Doors First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's newest culture showcase, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, has opened its doors for the first time: a high-society preview viewing party to benefit the disadvantaged.

Some 3,500 persons paid $40 or $100 each Thursday night to attend the party. Money will be used to make the Kennedy Center accessible to the young, old and poor, beginning with the Sept. 8 premiere of an orchestral work by Leonard Bernstein.

Looking around the center, where, unlike the culture centers in Los Angeles and New York, all the halls are under one roof, pianist Victor Borge said, "It's bigger than Denmark." Gazing at the 100-foot-high ceiling, he added, "And it's taller."

Patrons entered through the Hall of Nations, hung with flags of countries recognized by the United States. The parallel Hall of States was hung with state flags. Both halls led to the Grand Foyer and its outdoor terrace, which runs the length of the building, 630 feet, along the Potomac River. The opera house, between the two entrance halls, and the concert hall and Eisenhower Theater, at each end of the building, all open from the grand foyer.

Eunice Shriver, sister of the late president, trying to make a tour and constantly being greeted, said, "We haven't walked too far yet, but outside you see the trees of an island bird sanctuary in the Potomac and the river. I think it's a beautiful setting."

Rose Kennedy, the late president's mother, and two more sisters, Pat Lawford and Jean Smith, also were present.

So were Mamie Eisenhower, whose late husband signed the National Cultural Center Act in 1958; Mr. and Mrs. David Eisenhower, Marjorie Merryweather Post, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Martha Mitchell, Perle Mesta, Sol Hurok, George Romney, Arthur Goldberg, Capt. Lloyd Bucher, Eric Bruhn, Agnes de Mille, Otto Schlesinger, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, Rep. Hale Boggs, Henry Mancini, Count Basie, Lawrence O'Brien, Laurence Rockefeller, Otto Preminger, Rep. James V. Strydom, Henry Kissinger, Sen. Birch Bayh, Jack Valenti, Byron Janis, Robert Finch.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey was succinct about the center. "I love it."

Howard County Sheriff's Posse will have open play day Saturday in the posse arena on the Andrews Highway.

Registration is at 1 p.m., with events beginning at 2 p.m. Entry fee is 50 cents per event. All eight sheriff posse association events will be run. Points earned will go toward trophies to be given at the end of the play day season.

Excellent tracts for Texas Veterans — also good Farms and Ranches.

You'll be alive to pay the fine. Congratulations.

Congratulations for a traffic ticket? Think about it: A traffic ticket may cost a few dollars. An accident could cost more. Far more than money. Traffic accidents took the lives of more than 56,000 Americans last year. As new car dealers, we're naturally concerned with cars.

And as members of the community, we're concerned about people. We would like all drivers to be careful drivers. Because careful driving obviously is the best way to avoid accidents. Or tickets.

And remember, the officer who writes out the ticket is only trying to make the road safer. For everybody.

So, if you get a ticket, don't feel bad. You might even be grateful.

MATED FOR FALL

Can His Stripes Be Happy With Checks?

By ANN HENCKEN
AP Fashion Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — Designer Rudi Gernreich says his fall collection has a "more anonymous feeling." But the least anonymous clothes got the most applause.

grim feeling and gone to a "more lighthearted" line for Harmon Knitwear. "It gets to be a bore when you criticize everything," he says. His clothes are softened by his own special separates feeling, as well as color and pattern. Witness his yellow shorts, pink stockings, red shoes and multicolored cuffs on black sweaters. The big idea in the collection is the layered look: short sleeves bolero length sweaters over long sleeved ones. And these go over skirts, slacks and shorts. Sometimes he makes them all-in-one, in a tromp d'oeil effect. His combinations of mixed checks and stripes were big audience pleasers. He used them in the separates look in skirts and in full evening pants. Part of the realism in the collection was the real silver hardware "from a real hardware store," used on solid colored leather trimmed pants suits. He even strung deep necklines and armholes in matt jersey dresses with silver coiled springs.

Installation Of B&PW Group

Miss Movelda Rhine, District 8 director of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, installed the 1971-1972 officers of the local B&PW Club at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Big Spring Country Club. "Through the Door of Leadership" was the theme used by Miss Rhine as she presented each officer with a flower and symbolic gold key to use for "unlocking the door of leadership."

Tables in the Gold Room of the club were decorated by Mrs. A. G. Eitzen with green linen runners and ivy, interspersed with white candles in a flower and tulle base. Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, former president of the club, did a humorous pantomime sermon called "It's In the Book." Guests were Mrs. O'Neal, Mrs. Annabell Winn and Mrs. Pylre Bradshaw.

The officers are Mrs. J. B. Apple, president; Mrs. Charles Summers, first vice president; Mrs. Fred McGowan, second vice president; Mrs. Jimmie Mason, recording secretary; Mrs. Laura Boubek, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Delphia Gordon, treasurer. Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dowden who sang selections from "The King and I," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Show Boat." Miss Janice

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: H-E-L-P! What have I done to my plastic cups???? They had gotten so stained that as a last resort I used household bleach on them. It worked beautifully, but after several applications I find that my cups look horrible. . . . Karen F.

Dear Karen: Evidently, as is evidenced by the number of letters we have received from young wives, you are not alone in your dilemma. In fact, we have received so many letters in the past few months voicing such concern that I feel it necessary to repeat the warning I gave you several years ago. I want to caution you to NEVER use any type of steel wool, or household bleach on plastic cups!

Every manufacturer of plastic that I have talked with tells me that bleach ruins the finish and steel wool takes off the finish. All agree — and I'm sure from your letters you are aware of it — that by using these two items you have removed the coat of film on your plastic, and gals, this can never be put back on again.

The only thing that is recommended by the manufacturers of plastic dinnerware is: Take a soft cloth, dampen it, dip in BAKING SODA, and scour the cup. This does NOT hurt the finish. And some types of unabrasive silver-cleaners will also do the work.

Again, may I caution you — read all of Joe Blow's directions (the Joe Blow who manufactures each item) and you will find that NEVER, NEVER, NEVER has he said to use soap-filled pads for cleaning those plastic cups!

And ladies, if Joe Blow says it — you better believe it. Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have camped out in rustic cabins a lot in my life, but this is one of the neatest ideas I have come across in all these years of camping. My sister-in-law turned an ordinary outhouse into a pleasant place by putting a bit of linoleum on the floor. She used toilet seats on the wooden bench that had been covered with adhesive backed paper and, best of all, added an insulated gallon jug of hot water with a small spigot in it. This was placed on a small shelf about shoulder high so anyone could reach it. A dime store washpan, complete with a bar of soap and paper towels on a holder, added to the convenience. And the water stayed warm until time to refill the jug. All the comforts of home. . . . Mrs. V.L.S.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
Dear Heloise: When I send birthday or anniversary cards I make every effort to include a few lines. I have been thanked so often by people who say they enjoy the card so much more with a short personal message, not just the signature. As long as you have gone to the trouble to buy a card and mail it, adding that little personal message will take only a few seconds longer. . . . Mrs. C.W.

Dear Heloise: (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

'Firehouse' Gets Money From Club

The Opti-Mrs. Club made a contribution to "A Way Out, Inc." at Firehouse No. 6 during its final meeting of the season Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Jack Price, 604 George. Members also agreed to help sponsor events for local Little League baseball teams. The club plans to have family activities during the summer months.

A LOVELIER YOU 'High Pockets' Of Fat Stage Sit-Ins At Hips

By MARY SUE MILLER
Spot weight often finds the high hips an invulnerable hide-out. The sneaky pounds congregate, one by one, and stage sit-ins against dispossession. If you're a victim, nothing short of a counter-revolution will dislodge the pests. This plan guarantees results:

1. Lie back down on floor with arms extended to sides at shoulder level and legs straight up in air. Keeping legs together, slowly swing them 6 inches to right then 6 inches to left. Repeat 10 times without stopping; relax and repeat entire exercise again. Throughout, concentrate on rolling weight evenly and smoothly across high-hip pads. Also keep shoulders and arms flat on floor. Action is in hips and waist.

2. On back, stretch tall and extend arms as before. Now briskly swing left leg across right leg and try to touch big toe to right hand. Return to starting position and repeat 10 times. Then perform with right leg, swinging it to left and rolling weight to left. Again work for firm roll across high hips.

While awaiting improvement, be fussy about wearing anything that binds your waistline. A tight girdle or belt would only accentuate the difficulty. Eschew a bikini in favor of a one-piece, A-line job. But of course!

HIP REDUCING
You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hips is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, "Hip Reducing Routines." Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.
