FIFTY-NINTH YEAR — Sonora, Texas, Friday, February 25, 1949 — NINETEENTH WEEK

Anyone who doubts the decisive role air power will play in any future war would have been disillusioned at the air show held at nearbly Andrews Field last week.

Before an audience which included President Truman, members of the cabinet, and members of the House and Senate Armed Services Committee, the Army Air Forces put on the biggest show of its kind ever held.

It was a parade of power and speed, featuring the jet driven B-47 which streaks along at nearly the speed of sound - more than 600 miles per hour. (The speed of sound at sea level is 760 miles an hour.) The F-86, holder of the official world's speed record 670 MPH - was shown, as were a half-dozen other jet models.

The exhibit also included the Air Forces's two biggest bombers, the B-36 with the longest range and greatest speed load capacity of any bomber in the world, and the YB-49 eight-jet bomber. making its first flight to the eastern seaboard for this review. A formation of B-29s, which bombed Tokyo and dropped the two atomic bombs, flew in from a base in South Dakota. This plane is now considered obsolescent and is being replaced by the faster, longer-range B-36s and B-50s.

The show reminded us of the importance of long-range planning for future air plane progress. Every plane that was used in the recent war was on the drawing boards before Pearl Harbor. The B-29, for example, which went into large-scale production and was first used in 1944, was begun in 1937.

Now less than four years after the war's end, every plane used during World War II is today considered out of date.

The B-36, manufactured only at Ft. Worth, is a favorite of Secretary of Air Stuart Symington. It can fly well above 40,000 feet. At this altitude, because of the rarity of the atmosphere, any fighter developed to date maneuvers only with great difficulty, and therefore becomes an excellent target for the defensive guns of any bomber.

It is significant that the B-36, equipped with heavy cannon, is by far the most heavily armed bomber yet known.

The B-36 is capable of flying 10,000 miles with a 10,000 pound bomb load. Over a shorter distance it recently carried two 21 ton bombs -- a total load of 84,000 pounds!

All of which illustrates clearly that only by making provision now for future aircraft development can we purchase that time so priceless if any agressor should attack the United States.

With that in mind, our Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, is pressing for the earliest possible accomplishments of a 70-Group Air Force, along with an ever-expanding research and development. There must, of course, be a well-balanced ground force and Navy. But in this jet-propelled atomic age increasing importance is being attached to our air power.

Without a doubt, the greatest deterrent to any possible future war lies in the maintenance of a military structure capable of instant and devastating retaliatory action against any possible agressor.

SWING OF SOUTHWEST MARKETS

Most southwest farm products held about steady to strong during the past week, but some easy spots appeared, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Southwest cattle prices ranged largely from 50 cents to $2 above a week earlier, although some clases showed little change. Houston moved cutter cows at $15 Monday. Canners and cutters brought $12 to $16 at San Antonio, $11 to $16 at Fort Worth, $13 to $16 at Oklahoma City, and $14 to $15.50 at Denver.

Lambs gained $1 to $2 for the week, and ewes changed little. San Antonio bought common and medium fresh shorn lambs at $17. Fort Worth took medium and good grades at $21. Top slaughter lambs reached $23.50 at Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Tryon Lewis of Fort Stockton left Sunday after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Fields, and family.

W. W. Wendt To Take State Job In Galveston

FOUR YEARS' SERVICE HERE ENDS IN JUNE

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wendt, popular members of the local schools faculty since 1945, resigned their positions Wednesday afternoon effective at the end of the present term. Wendt said Thursday that he had accepted a job with the State Tuberculosis Association and the University of Texas Medical School to set up and direct a model school in Galveston to train medical students, nurses and public health workers, with emphasis on control of tuberculosis.

W. W. Wendt

Although Mr. and Mrs. Wendt and son, Harvey Lee, will live in Galveston, the new job will include work with schools, industries and civic orgnizations in different parts of the state, and with emphasis on TB control.

Wendt is a 1940 graduate of Baylor University, where he served later as dean of men. He and Mrs. Wendt taught in Lockhart and Gonzales before coming to Sonora. In Sonora, Mrs. Wendt taught Spanish and was librarian at the High School and later taught the first and third grades in the Elementary School.

Wendt, whose specialty is in speech and dramatic work, never lost a district debate and last year turned out a state champion debate team, the first state champion team of any kind in the Sonora schools. In addition to this, he directed two summer youth programs, the school annual and newspaper, organized the student council and was instrumental in starting the Sonora Annual Invitation Speech Tournaments, to be held this year Madch 18 and 19. He is also active in church affairs, having served two years on the board of vestry of St. John's Epsicopal Church.

Mrs. Wendt is a graduate of the University of Texas and was also active in the summer youth proram here, having charge of the crafts class and story hour. Her home is in Galveston, where her mother, Mrs. Stella Billiedeaux, lives.

"It has been a real pleasure to be associated with the people of Sonora and particularly the students," Wendt said Thursday. "Both Mrs. Wendt and I regret leaving, but the new position offers a field of work in which I am intensely interested."

"Perfect" Rain Blankets County This Week

A genaral rain, described as the first February rain in many years which was not accompanied by cold weather, fell over Sutton County Tuesday night and Wednesday, giving ranchmen high hopes for good range conditions this spring and summer.

From an inch to 3 inches of moisture was measured over the county, with the heaviest fall coming near the Edwards County line. Bryan Hunt reported 4 inches at his lower ranch in Edwards County and the Ranch Experiment Station got over 3 inches. The rain fell slowly, giving deep penetration with little runoff and warm weather helped loosen the soil.

In town, the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company reported 1.45 inches. Rain reports were also received from the following ranchmen: Elmer Wilson, 1.25; Roy Valliant, 1.30; Wallace Brothers, 2.5; Libb Wallace, 1.5; Lowe and Wallace, 1.5; S. S. Shanklin, 2; Sam Logan, 1; Auther Simmons, 1.15; Dee Word, 2.

Wells, superintendent of local schools, left Thursday night for Dallas, where he will board a special train to attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators in St. Louis. The convention, which starts Sunday, is to last 3 days and Wells expects to return here Thursday.

Wells was a Texas delegate to the convention two years ago in Atlantic City, and said that the organization had now grown so large that no single city could handle its annual meeting. Other conventions are being held this year in San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Wells added that he intended to spend part of his stay in St. Louis looking over furniture and equipment for the new Elementary School.

Veterans To Ask For School Here

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL TRAINING CLASSES PLANNED

Fifty-two Sutton County veterans met Friday night in the District Courtroom to talk over ways and means of starting a veterans school here. Meeting with the group were Pete Jacoby, head of the Kimble County sbchool and W. R. Marrs of the University of Texas.

The veterans were advised by Marrs to start a branch of the Kimble school, since this would make organization easier and cut down on red tape and expense. Those present approved of this and will be given an opportunity to enroll as soon as an instructor is hired.

In all probability, two types of training will be offered: cabinet making and a general business course. Classes will be held three nights a week for a total of 12½ hours, and the school will be classified as a "half-time" school. Veterans attending this type of school are entitled to half the normal subsistance pay.

Meanwhile, anyone wishing further information may write Pete Jacoby, Junction, Texas, or see Louin Martin here.

The Board of Education here has approved the school and will furnish classrooms if the school is started.

Warner Const. Co. Low Bidder On Teacherage Job

Warner Construction Company of San Angelo, contractors for the new Elementary School, was awarded the contract to build the new four-unit teacherage on a low bid of $26,985. Bids were read Wednesday afternoon at a called meeting of the Board of Education.

Plans call for a building 102 feet x 40 feet, ranch style, to contain two large units and two small ones. Thus two teachers with families and four single teachers could be accomodated. Frontage of the lot is 186 feet with an average depth of 100 feet.

The new teacherage will face south and will be built about 200 yards from the highway in the Lomax addition. A 4-car garage will be built at the rear of the building and sidewalks and gravel drive-around are also planned.

According to the contract made with Warner Company, work must start within 15 days and be completed within 120 days.

Other bidders on the job include: J. R. Caldwell, Sonora, $33,000; Cameron Roofing Company, Waco, $31,361; H. H. Meyers, San Angelo, $28,879; Moore Lumber Company of Junction, $28,024.

The drive will be handled on the same basis this year as last, according to Clay Puckett, drive chairman, and an attempt will be made to raise the $455 quota in a two-day campaign.

Half of all money in excess of the quota will remain in Sutton County for local work, according to Mrs. Maysie Brown, treasurer.

Local committee members include R. C. Vicars, Dave Locklin, Joseph Vander Stucken, Cashes Taylor, A. E. Wells, S. M. Loeffler, Mrs. George Wynn, George E. Smith, H. V. Stokes, Alfred Schwiening, O. M. Skipper, Pete Ballard, Faustino Bautista, Theo Virgen and Amador Castillo.

Soil District To Distribute Grass Seed To Ranchers

The Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District is packaging grass seed this week for distribution to interested cooperators in the district. The seed consists of KR bluestem, slender grama, blue panic and Boers lovegrass.

These scarce grass seeds are being furnished the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District by the Soil Conservation Service, and while in fairly small amounts represents a sizeable money outlay. KR bluestem retails for approximately $3.50 per pound and Boers lovegrass for about $5 per pound.

Grass seed of this value are not recommended for range broadcasting, but rather for trial plots in small protected areas in old fields and traps. If successful, these original plantings can be increased later to furnish cooperators their own seed for broadcast reseeding in pastures.

At their recent meeting the District Supervisors provided for equal distribution to all cooperators in the district. Each interested cooperator will receive approximately 1 pound of KR bluestem and 2 pounds of slender grama for trial plantings.

The Soil Conservation Service work unit staff is arranging schedules for planting district-furnished seed as well as seed purchased from the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company. A special grass planter and drill has been provided the district for the first two weeks in March, and it is planned to get the majority of grass and legume plantings made during that time.

To Tour Southern States

Leaving Saturday on a three weeks trip through the Southern States are Mrs. Bill Gibbs of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. D. Wallace, Mrs. Libb Wallace and Mrs. R. D. Trainer.

The State Highway patrol has been requested to enforce regulations governing parking in safety and fire zones and following fire apparatus and has advised that this will be done. Particular emphasis will be given to the fire zone in front of La Vista Theatre. Recently the city marked off this zone with metal buttons in the pavement and with red paint on the curb. Movie goers ignored the zone so the Highway Patrol will take a hand. If a fire should break out during a movie, a solid line of cars in front of the building would ge a great hindrance to firemen. Cases will be brought before Justice of the Peace Court.

In answer to several queries we have had recently regarding a school zoning ordinance: A zoning law has been adopted by the Board of Education zoning the city into two school districts. Children living in one district will go to the Elliott School for their elementary education and children in the other district will go to the Elementary School for their classwork.

Why have a zoning ordinance? To make fullest use of a school plant. In other words to prevent one school building lying idle, while another is overflowing. School zoning is nothing new. Zones are used in San Angelo, San Antonio, Houston, Toledo, Ohio and Springfield, Missouri, to name a few that this writer is familiar with.

When will the zoning ordinance be put into effect? Theoretically it is already on the books, but it will not see full usage until the September term begins and for two very good reasons: 1. Students have already started work for this term and any changes in schools will be worked out better between terms. 2. The Sonora Elementary School is already too crowded for maximum efficiency, and the new building should be finished by September.

Will the zoning ordinance cause many students to change schools? Very few. Those who will be required to changes chools next September have already been advised of this.

What are the boundaries of the two zones? Roughly, the two zones or districts are set apart by legal boundaries, ie. streets, natural boundaries, etc., and generally follow a north by northwest line across the southwestern section of the city. When a map showing the exact course of the line is worked out, the Devil's River News will publish a picture of it.

This newspaper is one hundred percent behind the Board of Education in its decision to adopt a zoning ordinance because we feel that it was passed on the theory of doing the greatest good for the greatest number and because it will enable us to make the fullest use of our school system.

Couple of weeks ago we mentioned a Sonora boy, Charles Lee Cusenbary, who won his letter at the University of Texas in freshman football. At that time we did not know that another Sonora High School star, Frankie Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond, had also won his letter at the university in freshman football. Frankie, who played halfback on the same team Charlie centered on, was also named all-district while a high school junior and was easily the most elusive broken-field runner seen here in many years.

There may be another feed store in Sonora before long. Directors of the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company, at their annual meeting held recently, voted to open a feed store and authorized Fred T. Earwood, manager of the company, to make the necessary arrangements. Earwood is in Washington at present attending the mohair hearings.

Thomas Morriss is completing field and diversion terraces this week on his New and South Fields. Cooperating with the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District, Morriss is buildng these terraces to District specifications as laid out by engineers of the Soil Conservation Service.

Approximately 3,000 feet of diversion terraces have been completed and at present Ford Allen is rebuilding about 4½ miles of

YOUR HEALTH

As a safeguard against the serious and disabling disease known as undulant fever or Malta Fever, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises Texans to drink milk only from approved sources. Undulant fever is usually acquired by human beings as a result of consuming raw milk or raw milk products from cows infected with Bang's disease.

Raw milk or milk products can be consumed with safety only when they are known to be produced by cows tested and found to be free of Bang's disease. Pasteurization, of course, will kill the germs if present.

To assist in lowering the incidence of undulant fever all dairymen should remove cattle infected with Bang's disease from their herds as soon as the disease is discovered. Even if the milk is made safe for human consumption by pasteurization, infected cows are still a menace to health since they can transmit the disease to healthy animals and to their owner and other persons who handle them.

"Undulant fever from cattle," Dr. Cox said, "is one health hazard we can eradicate in our State through absolutely safe milk supplies from dairy herds free from Bang's disease.

"Unless a herd is known to be free from this infection, only pasteurized milk should be used so that the disease cannot be passed on to the consumer of milk and dairy products.

THESE RED FLANNELS WERE ENOUGH TO STOP A TRAIN!

Alertness on the part of employees of the Santa Fe Railway plus prompt action of a farmer and a pair of long-handled red flannels prevented possibility of a freight car derailment recently and earned the recognition of J. P. Cowley, vice president and general manager.

The incident came to light after Section Foreman A. N. Nelson, scanning wheels and trucks of an extra freight train at Stephenville discovered that a large section of flange had been knocked off one wheel. The break was on a rear car and the discovery was made too late for him to attract the attention of the crew.

Nelson dashed to the office of Agent L. J. Smith at Stephenville. Smith called a huddle with G. F. Bishop, the dispatcher. The next telegraph station was Granbury 36 miles distant. A call there would be possibly too late. The only telephone close to the right-of-way was Fallin's Grocery at Bluffdale 17 miles north of Stephenville. Mrs. Roy Fallin was contacted. She went into action and enlisted the aid of J. M. Crow, a retired farmer visiting the store. He grabbed the red flannels off a stack, rushed to the track and flagged the train. Inspection by the train conductor disclosed that 12 inches of steel flange had broken off a wheel.

Railroaders said there was the possibility of a derailment north of Bluffdale due to the many curves in that area.

Superintendent A. B. Clements of Temple to whom the incident was first reported promptly cited Road Foreman Nelson and the others. Action was also taken to acquaint Mrs. Fallin and Crow of the appreciation of railway officials.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How's Your Listening Time?

Buck Howell and I were in Baleville last week. Dropped in at Bob's diner where some friends were sitting around talking about whether to sell hogs now or wait.

Buck plunges right into the discussion. He's lecturing away when suddenly they all stand up and start stomping their feet like it was an Indian war dance.

I'm flabbergasted. But Buck only looked sheepish and explains, "Guess I was talking again, when I should-of been listening. When a person's talking time gets out of line with his listening time around here, the gang reminds him by standing up and stomping."

From where I sit, that's a good system. Everyone has a right to his opinions—but others have a right to theirs, too—whether it's deciding between to sell or not to sell, apple pie or cherry pie, or a glass of mellow beer or cider. Life's more interesting that way, and hang it if you don't sometimes learn something!

SOL MAYER

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES, JR.

PRESIDENT OF BOB JONES UNIVERSITY GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

All too often our perspective is wrong, our sense of values is distorted. We are so occupied with perishable things. We spend precious time on houses and clothes and food and physical comforts. Clothes wear out, and houses fall down, and food is consumed and forgotten. The body which we care for and dress up and make comfortable dies and goes back to dust. We neglect our souls. They go unfed and uncared for. We are not concerned about them. Yet, they are the only part of us which lives forever.

The Lord Jesus Christ condemned such an attitude when He commanded those who follow Him to seek first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and He promised them that all these needful things shall be added unto them. He emphasized the stupidity of spending a lifetime in the pursuit of wealth and the accumulation of earthly possessions at the sacrifice of more important things when He asked, "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36). There are men who think themselves too smart to sell any piece of property without realizing a profit on their investment, but who set a very poor price on their souls. One night of pleasure, one word of approval from godless men, is the pittance for which they sell the immortal part of themselves. There are women who spend hour every week and more money than they can afford on clothes and beauty treatments who never have a moment for study of God's Word and the contemplation of His love with which to increase the soul's beauty. While they hang in their closets more dresses than they need, they neglect to provide for themselves a robe of righteousness.

The body goes to dust but the soul lives forever. The residences which men build for themselves on the earth grow old and deteriorate in value. Fire consumes them; age destroys them. Death comes and takes away the ones who dwell in them. Infinitely more important is a "building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (II Corinthians 5:1).

How much happier we would be if, viewing our lives in the light of eternity, we would obey the Word of the Lord, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal" (Matthew 6:19, 20).

Miss Jane Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bryant of San Angelo, is the bride-elect of Billy Riffe Shurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Shurley of this city. The wedding date has been set for Monday, March 21.

Engagement Of Miss Jane Bryant To Billy Shurley Told In San Angelo

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Douglas Bryant of San Angelo announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Billy Riffe Shurley at a luncheon given Saturday in the Gren Room of the St. Angelus Hotel.

The announcement was made by the use of a miniature bridal scene of a home wedding. The mantel was topped with two candles and held the parchment scroll lettered with "Jane Bryant and Bill Shurley, March 21, 1949." Before the fireplace stood the doll bride and groom, the same figurines used at the wedding of Miss Bryant's sister, Ann, and Gus Allen. Flanking the scene were Grecian pitchers holding small white blossoms and fern, and miniature candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

Bouquets of white tulips and huckleberry greenery, and silver appointments completed the table arrangements. Places were set for 24 guests, including Mrs. Edgar D. Shurley and Mrs. Collier Shurley, both of Sonora. Place cards were wedding bells.

Miss Bryant is a graduate of the San Angelo High School, attended Southwestern University and the University of Wyoming. She is a Delta Delta Delta. Shurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Shurley of Sonora, is a Sigma Alpha Epsilon at the University of Wyoming, where he will graduate in June. He attended Texas A&M College and was in service two years.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS

BLACK SPOT SCALE CAN RUIN PECAN HARVEST

There's a small, ashy gray insect with a black spot that may keep you fom harvesting pecans next fall.

But you'll have plenty of pecans for pies, candies and for roasting and salting if something is done about the obscure scale. This is a small insect covered with a circular waxy scale. They are found on the bark, says Allen C. Gunter, associate extension entomologist of Texas A&M College, but you won't see them moving around over the tree.

These small scale insects feed on the juices by injecting a small, needle-like beak through the bark. Many times large limbs - and once in a while the whole tree - will be killed. But the scale does not bother the leaves or the pecans.

Control of the scale is pretty difficult, says Gunter, because it is so well protected. The best control can be had by thoroughly spraying the trees during the winter or dormant season with a 3 percent dormant oil. However, Gunter cautions pecan growers not to use the 3 percent dormant oil spray if there are leaves on the trees.

The care and management of a pecan grove isn't complete without insect control. When the right variety of pecans is growing on good soil, it's possible to harvest mor pecans practically every year when a crop is set if the insects are controlled.

And it's possible to control the insects if pecan growers have good equipment for spraying, and follow the recommendations as given for each insect, says Gunter.

Either the insects or the pecan grower get the pecans. Which one, depends on the extent of the insect control by the pecan grower.

ever drink a cup of rain?

You wouldn't like it, although the nearest to 100% pure water is rain as it falls over the ocean. Nobody likes "pure" water—not even castaways—because it takes flat. Palatable water, and above all, safe water, is the great achievement of America's water supply systems. Water that is sterilized for safety; soft enough to save soap and washable fabrics; mineralized enough to taste good; yet delivered to convenient faucets for less than a dime a ton (240 gallons). Over 5,000 water systems treat water to make it safe, soft, or taste better.

To the vigilant and efficient service of water supply systems—all too often taken for granted— much credit must be given for the virtual banishment of typhoid and other water-borne diseases.

1,300 Entries In Fat Stock Show

Entries in the 1949 San Angelo Fat Stock Show total more than 1,300, according to unofficial figures released this week. Last year's total was 1,586.

Twenty-one boxes remain to be sold to the sixteenth annual rodeo held in conjuction with the Fat Stock Show, Ray Willoughby, general chairman of the organization, reports.

The rodeo will be staged by Everett Colborn, world-famous producer, of Dublin. Performances are scheduled at 2 o'clock each afternoon.

Friday and Sunday seem to be leading ticket sales day, but there are plenty of tickets remaining for all performances. San Angelo day will be observed on Friday at th show.

Several nationally-known trick and fancy riders will perform along with the famous twin-riding act by Byron and Lee Hendricks, Stunt Kings, who will thrill spectators with their Roman riding act without strapping their horses together.

Among the dstinguished vstors to the annual ahow will be thirteen members of the United Nations Military Staff Committee, Gov. Beauford Jester, and a number of area commanding and staff generals.

Timely Tips

1. A sure method for baking a ham is to use a meat thermometer.
2. Insert thermometer in thickest part of the ham. Be careful that the tip does not touch a bone. Bake in moderate oven until the thermometer registers the degree of doneness your prefer.
3. The family as well as friends will appreciate as pecial meal on Valentine's day. Valentine suggestions: Use lacy red doilies under the dessert dish. Stick cupid darts into individual cake squares.
4. Ice a white cake with white fluffy icing. Sprinkle crushed red candy generously on the sides and up to the top of the cake. Across the top of the cake print "I Love You" with more crushed red candy.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

I was the young editor of a weekly paper in a small town. Being a stranger, I wanted to become acquainted and of course make as many friends as possible. Most of the people showed a friendly spirit but there was one fellow who seemed to be a natural grouch and he was downright rude.

Finally, I got tired of it and one day while of a bunch of us were waiting in the postoffice for the mail to be put up, I asked each man his opinion on a subject--that is, each man but the killjoy. He said, "You didn't ask me for my opinion." I snapped, "No, because nobody gives a durn what it is!"

His face lighted in a board grin; he stuck out his hand and said "Shake! I didn't think you had it in you."

And he became one of my best friends.

Howard Peak in his book, "A Ranger of Commerce," (Naylor Company, San Antonio) said a traveling man told this story:

"I was stopping at a boarding house and, in the evening, while out on the stoop smoking, I heard a little boy in an adjoining room crying, to the accompaniment of a descending slipper. I eased to the open window and, looking into the room, saw the mother with a small boy across her lap, administering a pretty warm chastisement. Nearby was a baby in the throes of laughter. I heard the boy cry out:

" 'What are you whippin' me for, mother? I ain't done nothing'." The mother answered, 'I know it, sonny, but the baby has got to be amused.' "

A while back, your columnist interviewed an old-timer and then I was talking to a mutual friend and remarked, "He is 79 years old and his mind is as clear as mine." My friend said, "Yes--at least that clear."

Mark Twain declared, When in doubt, tell the truth as it will confuse your enemies and amaze your friends.

And Mark also once remarked, "Few of us can stand prosperity. Another man's, I mean.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luckie spent the weekend in Crane visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Luckie, and daughter, Lenora. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker in Midland.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS Sonora, Texas, Friday, February 25, 1949 PAGE SEVEN from the ranch country

Son-of-a-gun

The drought is broken.

These words have brought new hope and cheer to the ranchmen of West Texas. Even in far West Texas, rains have been favorable. Moisture penetration in the San Angelo country on the good condition ranges is 16-18 inches. A. H. Walker, extension range specialist of Texas A&M, says ranchmen are pleased with range prospects, and many are thinking now of restocking their ranges. With livestock prices good and the numbers low, ranchmen figure they can't lose.

The drought and overgrazing have severely reduced the stand of the better grasses and heavy grazing this spring will keep grass from coming back.

Perennial grases must build their top growth each year from plant food stored in the roots, and the better grasses, already weak, can't stand too much heavy grazing.

The poorest condition pastures should be rested this spring and summer, giving the desirable kind of grasses a chance to make a seed crop and re-establish themselves, says Walker.

—(?½$?)—

These days it's different from what it used to be on the Texas ranges. Today's cattlemen are doing the same job their granddads did, but they're doing it a little differently.

For instance, the jeep and the pickup are fast replacing the cow ponies in many ranch operations. And, too, the old dipping vat is giving way to the portable power sprayers in insect control.

Other mechanical equipment that is coming into the picture are the mineral dispensing machines, pushing the mineral boxes for supplying phosphorus supplements into the background. Calf tables for dehorning, castrating, and branding have replaced many a "heeler."

The maximum use of grazing crops such as small grains, sudan grass and re-seeded pastures have taken the place of dry-lot finishing of cattle for slaughter purposes.

There's a noticeable trend toward more crossbred cattle in Texas, particularly in the southern and eastern part of the state. This crossbreeding is to increase the market weight of cattle. As a result of the crossbreeding work, the King Ranch has developed the Santa Gertrudis breed, the only breed developed in the western hemisphere.

On Texas ranches cattlemen are practicing more rigid culling of herds, and stocking their ranges with less cattle. They realize the pounds of beef rather than the number of cattle is the secret of profitable production.

In the continuous fight against animal parasites, many new insecticides are being used today that were unknown just a few years ago. Rotenone, DDT and BHC have replaced the old standbys of arsenical dips in controlling lice, ticks cattle grubs and horn flies. Chloroform has been replaced by Smear 62 in the control of screw worms. Phenothiazine has proved more effective in controlling stomach worms than the bluestone used by cattlemen of a generation or two ago.

Texas 4-H Club work has been responsible for a generous share of these "new-fangled" ideas in beef cattle production. Club boys seeking information on raising beef calves have learned better and faster methods of feeding and management through the county agents and animal husbandmen.

In doing so, they have pushed boys' club work in beef calf, sheep and goat production ahead in the lines of selection, rations, care and management, control of animal parasites and fitting for show and marketing.

good telephone manners are fun!

Most children enjoy doing things right. When they're shown the right way to use the telephone with proper consideration and courtesy—they're naturally better telephone users. Telephone neighbors will appreciate their consideration—and each member of their own family will enjoy a fair share of telephone service. This assures friendlier and better telephone service for everyone.
