Iranians Scoffing At Embargo Plans

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)-The Iranian leadership today scoffed at U.S. plans to mobilize an international economic embargo against Iran and said the Soviet Union would never go along with such a move in the United Nations.

Iran remains adamant in its demand - the exiled shah must be returned before the 50 American Embassy hostages are released, government spokesman Abolghassan Sadegh said.

"If the world wants to climb on Iran's back for the sake of 50 people who are not, in my view, in any danger, the whole thing is completely out of proportion," Sadegh said.

A spokeswoman for the militants holding the embassy said, meanwhile, that the hostages will be allowed to receive Christmas cards, or at least some cards.

She said, "Yes, of course," when asked whether cards would be passed along, and she said some had already been given to the hostages when that they told that the U.S. postal officials report a buildup of almost 100,000 pieces of mail addressed to points in Iran, she paused and said, "Well, I think that would be too much. We'll just have to see."

NATO foreign ministers, meeting in Belgium, issued a statement denouncing the hostage holding, and Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance said the European allies showed "solidarity" with U.S. plans to slow down or block trade with Iran if the hostages are not released soon.

Iraq Attacks Reported On Iran

LONDON (AP)—Iraqi forces launched attacks today at locations along the border with Iran, the official Tehran Radio reported.

The report, monitored here, gave no further immediate details.

In Washington, Defense Department officials said they were unable to confirm the report.

The two neighbors have long had tense relations that periodically erupt into small-scale border violence.

Since the revolutionary victory of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's forces last February, the Iranians have accused Iraq of providing support to the anti-Khomeini Arab minority in southwestern Khuzestan province and to Kurdish guerrillas in the Kurdistan region of western Iran.

The Kurdish region overlaps the Iraqi-Iranian border, and over the past year Iraqi forces have struck into Iranian Kurdistan, apparently searching for bases of Kurds conducting operations against the Iraqi government.

3rd Day Of Ice Tough On Trees, Power Lines

Icy weather endured for the third day in a row over the Snyder area and the buildup on trees and utility lines was causing more and more problems.

With temperatures hanging around the freezing mark and light rain falling intermittently, the expanding ice coat was snapping tree limbs, which in turn were pulling down electric power and telephone lines.

Crews of the electric and telephone companies were busy, some of them throughout the night. And the problem was reported even worse in rural areas. City crews also were busy removing broken limbs from streets.

Meanwhile, a snow belt narrowly missed Snyder, according to reports this morning. Six inches of snow was reported at Lubbock and three inches at Andrews as a snowstorm moved out of New Mexico. Light snow fell last night as far south as Fluvanna and some was on the ground today.

The National Weather Service said the winter storm activity was triggered by an upper air disturbance which was located early this morning just east of Hobbs, N.M. It was reported drifting to the east northeast at about 25 mph.

And for the third day in a row, forecasters predicted that some warming could be expected. Forecasts called for the snow to end over Northwest Texas by noon today, with temperatures expected to climb into the 40s. It never got above 33 degrees Thursday in Snyder and the low overnight was 31 degrees. Rainfall in the official gauge at the city water plant totalled .79, pushing the total for the year to 20.12 inches.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Thursday 33 degrees, low 31 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. today 32 degrees; precipitation .79; total precipitation for 1979 to date, 20.12.

West Texas - Travelers advisory in effect for southern Panhandle, central and south sections today. Cloudy most sections with occasional snow southern Panhandle and South Plains and snow mixed with rain south. Snow accumulation of 1 to 2 inches possible in southern Panhandle and an additional 1 to 2 inches over South Plains today. Decreasing cloudiness and cold tonight. Mostly fair and warm Saturday. Highs 40s except mid 50s Big Bend valleys. Lows mid 20s mountains and north to near 40 extreme south. Highs Saturday near 60 except mid 60s Big Bend.

Featuring a cast of 85 students, the show will feature talent from the high school and other performers from the community as well. Extravagant staging, lighting, and decor have all been created to add a great deal of spectacle to the show.

Director Jerry Worsham has attempted to create a show which will appeal to the entire family. A comic ballet of "The Night Before Christmas", a staging of "White Christmas" complete with snowfall, and a hunting "Cowboys version of The First Noel" are among the numbers to be featured.

The show will play again on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of next week at 8 p.m. Tickets prices will be $1 for students and $2 for adults. Pre-schoolers with an adult will be admitted free.

OTTAWA (AP)-Prime Minister Joe Clark, his 7-month-old Progressive Conservative government defeated in a parliamentary no-confidence vote, announced today that the Canadian Parliament has been dissolved and new national elections have been set for Feb. 18.

3 Americans Shot In Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)-Unidentified gunmen today shot and killed three Americans in a resort area near Istanbul, the state radio reported.

The shooting occurred in Florya township.

The radio said one American died at the scene and the other two at a hospital later.

Oil Companies File Suits

HOUSTON (SP)—Forty-three oil companies have filed 22 federal court damage suits alleging antitrust price-fixing violations by two major manufacturers of offshore drilling equipment.

Named as defendants were Brown & Root Inc. of Houston, and J. Ray McDermott & Co. of New Orleans, two firms that entered no-contest pleas a year ago to federal criminal antitrust charges.

The two firms drew $1 million fines in federal court in New Orleans last year and two Brown & Root and four McDermott officers drew fines.

The suits filed Thursday seek no specific monetary awards but most asked for amounts tripling actual damages once they are determined in court.

Defense Hike Plan Sincere

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Harold Brown today rejected suggestions that the Carter administration's plan for increased defense spending is a temporary ploy to win Senate votes for the SALT II treaty.

Testifying for the second day on President Carter's five-year defense spending program, Brown told the Senate Armed Services Committee that attacks on the sincerity of the administration's plan were unwarranted.

Brown said senators have demanded that the administration "come up with an adequate defense budget" and then say, "Well, you don't really mean it."

The secretary, quoting a statement Thursday by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., told the committee, "The time comes when it's appropriate to take yes for an answer."

Brown was asked how the rapid deployment forces that are emphasized in the president's plan would have changed the U.S. reaction to the Iranian crisis.

"With respect to hostages, it would have made no difference whatsoever," Brown said. He added that the forces would give the United States increased military capability in remote trouble spots.

Brown turned aside questioning about the sincerity of the Carter defense plan Thursday by calling it a "long-term commitment to steady and sustained increases in the defense program."

The Carter proposal is for $157 billion in military budget authority for fiscal 1981, an increase of 5.6 percent over fiscal 1980 after discounting for inflation.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Orlin Brewer of the Vernon Record says a petition has been circulated and "fired off to ABC television seeking to have Howard Cosell banned from Monday night football."

There is no indication that the petition will be successful, but "how do you know if you don't try?" asks Brewer.

We had thought about such a petition, but ruled it out. Howard may serve a purpose on those Monday night games. He comes in handy as a target when your favorite team happens to lose.

However, we must confess that we can tolerate Howard much easier when Dandy Don Meridith is by his side than otherwise. Meridith has that knack of putting Howard in his place at least three or four times each game.

If you believe that those who are governed least are governed best, these figures picked up by Kim Pease of the Rotan Advance could be a matter of concern:

Congress has more than doubled the number of votes it takes in the past few years. In the 86th Congress which covered the years 1959 and 1960, Congress cast 180 votes. In the last full Congress, the 95th, more than 1,500 votes were cast.

And it seems that every time Congress votes, it costs the taxpayer. In 1960, Congress was spending $100 billion, but this year, Congress will spend $549 billion.

Walt Finley of the Big Spring Herald tells about the Arkansas hillbilly who described himself as a "go-getter."

Asked to explain he said, "My old lady works at the laundry and when she gets off work, I go-getter."

Q--Since the 55 mph speed limit has been back in the news recently, I was wondering how much time a driver saves by traveling 10 mph or more above the limit.

A--If you are going 50 miles, you will save nine minutes by going 65 mph instead of 55 and if you are going 100 miles you will save 17 minutes, provided, of course, you are not hailed down by a highway patrolman and don't have a wreck.

More Racquetball Courts Discussed

Scurry County Junior College District trustees this morning accepted the annual audit presented by Anderson and Anderson and authorized the administration to continue work on a proposal to add some racquetball courts at Western Texas College.

Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president, said a preliminary meeting to test community interest attracted about 50 racquetball enthusiasts and as many more had indicated interest in subsequent contact with college officials.

A tentative proposal would offer memberships at an initial fee of $100 each with monthly dues of $20. Dependents' dues would be $10 per month each. However, the dues could be reduced to $200 per year for a member and $100 for a dependent if paid annually instead of monthly. This would entitle the member to the use of golf and racquetball facilities.

The board approved an increase effective next March 1 in golf fees. Daily green fees will increase from $3 to $4 on week days and from $4 for $5 on weekends. Golfers may enroll until March 1 for an initial fee of $50 and dues of $15 per month.

Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, will sign up golf-racquetball members, contingent on development of the proposed new facility. The board indicated that it would approve the facility if there is sufficient interest to take care of financing. No tax funds will be used in the project.

changing lifestyles

O.K. So you already know that franchising has been one of the hottest business operations of the '70s.

But do you know what is currently the hottest franchise product?

If you answered burgers, tacos, photo prints or massages, you're out of date.

It's the suntan - or, more precisely, technology's counterfeit of nature's real thing.

Tanning salons - establishments consisting of a number of fluorescent lamp-lined booths - are springing up across the country, according to a Wall Street Journal report. Business for most is brisk to booming as the public responds to the appeal of a golden glow without the bother of all that time and sweat in the sun.

Business is even better for a clutch of companies (with inspired names on the order of Plan-a-Tan and Tantrific) doing the franchising. For an initial fee of $15,000 and up plus a percentage of the gross, they set an independent entrepreneur up in business. And with any business sense at all and a decent location - usually a shopping mall - he can recover his stake in a few months of operation.

There are, however, some drawbacks to this rush of the pale-skinned public to fry itself like franchised chickens. Medical authorities and the Food and Drug Administration, which has new safety regulations pending, are concerned about excessive exposure to ultraviolet radiation, the effects of which include wrinkling, premature aging and potentially cancer.

Actually, as one critical dermatologist points out, for all that a golden tan may cannot affluence and sophistication it is nothing but the body's reaction to injury from ultraviolent radiation. It does nothing for you - "except maybe as a status symbol."

And there you have it - the explanation of the entire phenomenon if not the bottom line of the entire decade.

judicial show business

This quarter's award for unprofessional conduct goes to the civil rights lawyers af the U.S. Justice Department. Several weeks ago, they filed an extraordinary lawsuit against the mayor and other top officials of Philadelphia, alleging a "pervasive pattern of police abuse."

Mayor Frank Rizzo and others contended at the time the charges were unsupported by evidence and in some instances were based on nothing more than newspaper clippings.

It now develops that Rizzo and other critics of the Justice Department action were absolutely right about the evidence, if not about the actual truth of the charges.

The "pattern of police abuse" part of the lawsuit was thrown out of Court. U.S. District Judge J. William Ditter Jr. said, "there exists no authority, express or implied for the bringing of this lawsuit. This complaint must be dismissed without ever testing the merits of its deeply serious charges."

Judge Ditter said he met with lawyers eight days after the complaint was filed and suggested a schedule which would have brought the case to trial Oct. 15.

"I was immediately told by government counsel that my schedule was not reasonable; no testimony under oath had been taken, that no documents had been copied and that an unknown number of witnesses would have to be located, interviewed and prepared for court..."

In short, the government filed a widely-publicized lawsuit with no evidence worthy of the name that could be introduced in support of the charges.

This does not mean there have been no abuses in the Philadelphia police department. Some of the vague, unsubstantiated charges made by the government lawyers might have been proven if the lawyers had taken the trouble to gather evidence and arrange for witnesses before filing their suit.

But the Justice Department lawyers did what they sometimes accuse policemen of doing: They shot first and asked questions later.

The implication is that the lawsuit was more a show business type of publicity stunt than a serious legal action.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

Only eight shopping days remain before Christmas. Its time for some serious searching for most of us.

Why is it that all year I see things that would make wonderful gifts but come Christmas my mind is blank?

And it works both ways. All year long I see things I yearn to possess but when someone asks, "What do you want for Christmas?" I'll be doggoned if I can think of a single thing.

The young are not plagued with this problem. Christmas comes easy to them and some people even claim that children actually look forward to it. I guess anything is possible.

I took my niece to a store to buy something for her mother. She led me straight to the fish and animal section and pointed to the first guinea pig what wriggled its furry nose at her.

"That one," she declared, "that is what I want to get momma for Christmas."

I wanted to explain that perhaps something else would be more appropriate for a working homemaker with three children. The only words I could think of that a 6-year-old might relate to were: "Why don't you get her something she won't have to clean up after?"

And with such innocence that it ought to be a sin she replied: "She doesn't mind. She cleans up after my brothers' (hamsters) all the time."

Her fascination for the fish and all the charming little beasts soon wanned but before I could get her interested in a frying pan she took a fancy to a certain dress.

It was one of those slinky affairs displayed on a rather shapely mannequin that looked something like Farrah Fawcett.

A sister of mine in that? No way!

Once again I tried to reason with the woman-child.

"Look, you or me either one don't know the right size and if it doesn't fit she will have to come all the way back to Snyder just to exchange it."

When she didn't answer right away I thought I was finally getting the hand of that child psychology stuff. Then she put her hand on an extended hip, cocked her head and with all that crazy logic females are born with, asserted: "She can always use it in a garage sale stupid."

It was such good news I couldn't believe it was in the newspaper.

A group of Boston doctors reported in the Journal of American Medical Association that "moderate" consumption of beer, wine, and liquor may reduce the risk of heart attack.

Is that only wonderful? Have you any idea how long it has been since anything people enjoyed was declared good for them? Year in and year out for the last decade, we have seen "living" go from a pretty good alternative to a condition that is injurious to your health.

I immediately called my father, who is always shopping for a doctor to tell him what he wants to hear.

"Did you hear about the doctors who said people who had a little drink each day may be less likely to die of coronary disease?"

"I heard," he said, "and I don't trust 'em."

"You didn't say that when you shopped for a doctor who said exercising caused itching."

"That was different."

"What about the dentist you found who told you you'd have healthier teeth and gums if you smoked a lot of cigars?"

"This isn't the same."

"Why not?"

"Doctors who recommend things you enjoy don't go public. Can you imagine what would happen if you found a doctor who put you on a 4,500-calorie-a-day diet and told you to cut out carrots and cottage cheese? He'd be swamped. Besides, it's not man's nature to like things that are good for him. It isn't any fun anymore. How long do you think people would eat chocolate if they thought it would clear your skin up? Or party all night if they though it would get rid of a cold? Do you really think people would eat a pizza just before going to bed if it put them to sleep?"

"I don't understand you at all," I said. "I thought this piece of news would make you happy. Why don't you just toddle off and have a nice glass of wine before dinner and relax?"

"Do I have to?" he pouted.

letter to editor

To The Daily News:

On Saturday, Dec. 1, 1979, about 10 a.m. a little blonde cocker spaniel puppy was taken from 504 28th Street there in Snyder. The little dog was only 2 months old and the young man who put her outside his back door for a total of 3 minutes had just purchased her on the previous Tuesday paying a very substantial amount of money for her. He has gone door to door over an area of about four blocks and no one seems to know anythng about the little dog. He is offering a generous reward for her return.

I would like to ask the citizens of Snyder, and especially of that particular area of town to please watch for this little dog and if you find out anything about her please call 573-3930 after 5 p.m.?

If someone has taken her, wouldn't that be the same as robbery or shoplifting? I'm sure every parent in Snyder would not want to think their children would steal, or pick up something that does not belong to them, but if it happened, wouldn't you agree that this is exactly that?

If someone has found the little dog wandering around and has taken it into their home we would appreciate hearing from them and we will be glad to reimburse them any expense they have incurred.

Thank you so much for printing this letter.

Sincerely,
Mrs. James E. McAnally

Vinegar won't help

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read that taking three teaspoons of vinegar in a cup of water three times a day will reduce the measurements of a person's waist in two or three months. The article also mentioned that vinegar is a good bowel regulator. Is vinegar harmful and does this practice reduce the measurements of the waist?

DEAR READER — Vinegar is acetic acid. It is a mild acid compared to the acid your stomach normally produces. It has no medicinal effect whatsoever. It won't harm you and it won't help you.

About the only way it could reduce your waistline measurements would be if you drank water with the three teaspoons of vinegar in it instead of eating foods that provide calories. In that case the decrease in calorie intake might be helpful if you happen to be overweight.

As far as the bowels are concerned, if you don't drink much water or liquids, it might be a minimal aid but, other than that, I don't think you need to expect much in that department either. Adding bulk to your diet as well as using plenty of liquids such as ordinary water would be more effective.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-7, Girth Control. Avoiding the Big Middle, since apparently that's what you're really worried about. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The best aid you have in reducing your waistline measurement is weight control, accomplished by proper dieting and sensible exercise.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am the mother of five and the grandmother of six. I didn't take my children to the doctor for everything — just for emergencies. And I don't insist that my children do either. My youngest grandchild looked yellow to me and since babies do get jaundice, I suggested to my daughter-in-law that a visit wouldn't hurt. She took the baby and was told it was from eating carrots and squash.

I don't think I've ever heard that before. Why does that happen with a yellow or orange vegetable and not with others like beets or peas? I just can't believe that food can change the color of your skin. I do hope you can give me an answer.

DEAR READER — The yellow pigment in carrots can cause an orangish-yellowish discoloration of the skin. That does not mean that a reasonable amount of carrots in the diet isn't good for a child. But whenever you see any color change, such as you've described, it does mean that the child is getting too much of those kinds of vegetables. You don't see a discoloration with beets or peas because they don't have an orangish-yellowish pigment that the body absorbs and uses in this manner.

The pigment that causes the problem is called carotene. It's also found in sweet potatoes. When there's too much in the bloodstream, it's called carotenemia. It is not at all the same thing as jaundice and it's very easily cured by simply cutting back on the carrots and yellow vegetables.

Hostages Getting Christmas Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are sending tens of thousands of Christmas greetings a day to the 50 hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Iran, and some of the mail is apparently getting through.

"There has been a considerable increase in mail in Iran," with most of it addressed to the embassy, Postal Service spokesman Lou Eberhardt said Thursday.

At John F. Kenney Airport in New York, where most of the mail to foreign destinations is sorted country-by-country, there were 70,840 pieces addressed to points in Iran.

Old Man Winter has surely come in with a blast, after such a lovely fall. Hopefully the ice and snow will help eliminate some of the allergies which have plagued many in this area.

Saturday Most Dangerous Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Saturday is the most dangerous day of the week, according to the American Council of Life Insurance.

It says, "More deaths resulting from motor vehicle accidents and homicides occur on Saturday than any other day of the week. Government statistics show that motor vehicle fatalities in the nation average around 191 on Saturday, compared to an average of 107 deaths on Tuesday, the 'safest' day of the week.

"At the same time, homicides on Saturday average around 76, compared to an average of 44 homicides on Wednesday."

Balsa wood flourishes in the jungles of Ecuador. Ninety percent of the world's supply grows there. This is largely because the balsa grows too fast -- as much as 16 feet a year -- to be overwhelmed by vines.

Combine remaining ingredients. Add to flour mixture, stirring until just blended.

Pour into 2 greased loaf pans (8½-by-4½-by-2½-inch).

Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until done. Cool in pans 10 minutes, then remove and continue cooling. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 loaves.

South's two-heart response to North's diamond bid meets with our full approval. South only has 15 high-card points, but his heart suit represents six sure tricks and he has a fine fit for diamonds.

North's three-diamond rebid is also correct. The hand may be a heart misfit, but in that case diamonds look good and he wants to show that he has a real diamond suit.

South simply continues to three hearts and North at this point decides to bid three spades. He wants to keep three notrump open, but he does not want to give South a chance to stop there unless South decides not to go any further at that stage of the proceedings.

Now comes the key bid of the hand. South jumps to five diamonds. This bid announces slam interest, but shows two quick club losers. It tells North to bid six if he can handle the second club lead. Note that six hearts is going to be in jeopardy if North holds K x x of clubs, but six diamonds is still safe.

Now North shows his club ace to invite seven and South bids seven hearts since he can counts at least 13 top tricks.

Easy and simple and also a near top score in any match point game. It would become a top if North continued to seven notrump.

Tigers Ambush Stephenville

GRAHAM--Coach George Byerly's Snyder Tigers recorded an easy 82-45 victory over Stephenville here Thursday, improving their season record to 8-3 and advancing to second round action of the Graham Tournament.

Snyder will play again at 5:30 today, taking on the winner of a Burkburnett and Graham JV contest.

Mark Preston heaped the basket with 29 points and Eric Arnold and Kyle Short added 10 and 9 points each as Snyder won by its largest margin of the season.

Ten Tigers put points on the board, including 8 from Kris Seale, 6 each by Thomas Selmon, Brent Taylor and Barry Blackmon, 4 from Brad Richardson and 2 apiece from Keith McClain and Dayton Robertson.

Stephenville stayed close through the first quarter as Snyder tallied a 20-17 lead, but fell behind by 10 points in the second period and was down 63-37 going into the final stanza.

Manley led the Yellow Jackets with 13 points. Weldson had 11.

Should the Tigers win here today, and in the championship game Saturday, it would be their second consecutive tournament Championship. Snyder won the annual Canyon Reef Tournament last weekend.

Oakland Needs Help For Pro Playoff Spot

By The Associated Press

While everyone has been looking at the top of the American Conference's divisions to see who's in or out of the playoffs, the Oakland Raiders have been steadily, quietly nestling themselves into position for a postseason berth.

And with some help on Monday night they can clinch one.

They face the Seattle Seahawks on Sunday, a team which beat them 27-10 early in the season but a team now out of contention.

If the Raiders win their fourth straight game, it'll put them halfway toward their goal of a playoff position. The other half will be decided Monday night, when Denver and San Diego play for the championship of the AFC West. If the Chargers win, they take the title and Oakland eases into a wild-card berth. But if the Broncos take the game, they win the crown, the Chargers settle for the wild card and Oakland goes home empty-handed.

"We're fighting for our lives," says Raiders Coach Tom Flores, completing his first season as John Madden's successor and trying to guide Oakland back into the playoffs they missed last year for the first time in seven seasons. "It's been a crazy year. A lot of things still can happen."

Also on Sunday it's Cleveland at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Houston, Buffalo at Pittsburgh, Washington at Dallas, Kansas City at Tampa Bay, St. Louis at Chicago, Baltimore at the New York Giants, Minnesota at New England, San Francisco at Atlanta and New Orleans at Los Angeles. Saturday's games are the New York Jets at Miami and Green Bay at Detroit.

Flores says Oakland is humming with anticipation. "The whole town became alive," Flores noted. "Suddenly it's kind of like the old days here."

In Cleveland, the fans are thinking playoffs, too. "Everywhere I go," says Browns defensive end Lyle Alzado, "people come up to me and they don't say, 'I hope you go to the playoffs.' They say, 'You better go to the playoffs!'"

The Browns really need help to sneak into the playoffs. They need losses by Denver and Oakland. "We've had one foot on a banana peel and one foot in the graveyard, but we've stayed alive," says Cleveland Coach Sam Rutigliano.

Philadelphia and Houston are each guaranteed a playoff position but each wants more, namely a title. The odds of either team getting one is slim, though.

The Eagles not only have to beat Houston but they need a tie in the Washington-Dallas game -- and there have only been three ties in the 1,190 games played since the NFL went to sudden-death overtime during the regular season. It's more likely the Cowboys or Redskins will win and take the National Conference East crown.

Westerners Get Job Done, Take Well-Deserved Holiday

The number one team in the nation tends to get judged by a straighter rule, and if that's the case, Western Texas College's Westerners did not form a perfect line last night.

Yet the Westerners convinced some of the viewers at Scurry County Coliseum.

"He has a great bunch of guys, doesn't he?" said New Mexico Junior College coach Ron Black after the Westerners chalked a 107-89 victory over his Thunderbirds. "We just didn't have enough to stay with them."

Maybe it was New Mexico's lackluster 6-6 record that lulled the Westerners into a dream-like state through much of the game, or perhaps it was thoughts of the upcoming holiday vacation, which caused their thoughts and intensity to wander.

But despite the less than spectacular overall performance, the Westerners placed five players in double figures to win their 14th game of the season, a fifth consecutive WJCAC victory.

Bill Patterson, who basketed 15 second-half points, led the team with 19. Phil Spradling shoved in 18, and David Brown, getting 10 in the second half, scored 16. Greg Stewart scored 12 and Paul Pressey notched 10. Ronald Portee hit for 9.

WTC jumped out to a quick 10-point lead, but after substitutions were made, lost it quickly. New Mexico, led by the shooting of Ricky Serkin and Ronnie Rodriquez in the first half, kept close behind until the Westerners broke out again with about four minutes to go until intermission.

Jimmy Swope, a 5-7 guard, was a key figure all night for the Thunderbirds. Swope made some fine passes inside to Serkin, and basketed 20 points himself for the game.

Despite numerous turnovers, Western Texas had only minimal trouble with the visitors. WTC broke out by 13 at halftime, and to over 20 points mid-way through the second half.

Spradling and Patterson led the Westerner detensive effort, which, though not dazzling, kept the Thunderbirds working all the time. Spradling collected five player control fouls against New Mexico players, while Patterson zipped off nine steals.

After the game Coach Nolan Richardson admitted his team didn't play a great ball game, but made allowances for it.

"I don't know, maybe we've created a monster," he said. "People are expecting us to come out and smoke and blow every time we play. It's not enough to beat somebody anymore. We have to win by 30-40 points or everybody wonders what's wrong. Well, we're not going to do that all the time. We're no super team. We're not going to do that every game.

"Some of the teams that have beaten New Mexico this year we've beaten by 30 points. The kids know that. So how are you going to get them up for the game? I think we've done well this season. We didn't look real good last night, but I'm happy with the win. When you look at the score five years from now you won't remember how you beat a team. You'll just know that you won."

The victory gave the Westerners a 14-0 record in completing the 1979 fall season. Richardson's team will open up play again Jan. 10 at the ABC Classic in Big Spring.

"I think the kids have done a great job, getting up as well as they have for 14 games now. They deserve a break. They need a break. I need a break," he smiled. "We all need to get away. Finals are coming up and they need time to get on the books. It's time to let basketball alone for awhile, take these finals, and enjoy the holidays."

Felines Stave Off Odessa

BIG SPRING--Snyder's varsity Cats leapt out to a 16-9 team here yesterday and hung on to get past Odessa High, 61-56 in round-one play of the Hawk Queens Tournament.

Paced by 24 points and 16 rebounds from Tracy O'Day and 11 and 10 points from Jamie Hataway and Sandy Sewell, the Felines improved their season record to 9-3.

Odessa High pulled within a point, 42-41 at the end of the third quarter, but Coach Ken Housden's girls tallied 19 final-period points to shut down the comeback try.

"We played pretty well," commented the coach. "We started off well, but went into a slump at the end of the third quarter and beginning of the fourth. Other than that, we played good ball."

The Snyder defense, led by Sewell and Hataway with 8 and 7 steals respectively, kept the opponent in check most of the game, despite an offensive letdown in the third period.

Snyder was to play at 3:30 today against a Midland High either El Paso Parkland.

Bullets Stop Cleveland Cavs

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP)-The Washington Bullets dominated the Cleveland Cavaliers in nearly everything except hustle Thursday night.

The Bullets won the National Basketball Association game 115-113 in overtime, but the tenacious Cavaliers simply refused to let them get anything easy.

It took a pair of free throws by forward Elvin Hayes with three seconds left in overtime to finally put the Cavaliers away after they had overcome leads of 17 points in the second quarter, nine points in the fourth quarter and six points in the overtime.

Jazz 144, Spurs 114

Adrian Dantley's 36 points led Utah over San Antonio, the fourth straight victory for the Jazz. Ron Boone, Terry Furlow and Tom Boswell aided the Jazz cause with 22, 21 and 19 points, respectively, as Utah took control early and blew out the Spurs in the fourth quarter, 44-29.

Church Begins Lectureship

A three-day lectureship, centered around the theme Action '80, begins Friday at the 37th Street Church of Christ in Snyder.

Several well-known ministers from the West Texas area have been invited to participate in the program.

Loy Mitchell, minister from Odessa and former missionary from Rhodesia, will speak at the 7 p.m. Friday service that begins the lectureship.

Saturday activities begin at 9 a.m. First speaker will be Doug Allee, new minister of the East Side Church of Christ in Snyder.

He will be followed by Bill Looney, minister of the Southside Church of Christ in Brownfield. Looney is a former Snyder resident and was an employee of Chevron when he lived in Snyder.

Mitchell will speak again at 11 a.m. and then a noon luncheon will be held at the Western Texas College cafeteria. Speaker at the luncheon will be Abe Lincoln, faculty member at the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock.

Looney will speak again at 2 p.m. session followed by another address by Lincoln at 3 p.m. Saturday. The Saturday sessions will recess until 7 p.m. when Richard Rogers, minister of the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock will speak on commitment.

The Action '80 theme will be carried out during the regular Sunday activities. All adult Bible classes will meet in the auditorium at 9:45 a.m. to hear Tex Williams also a member of the Sunset faculty.

Doyle Gilliam, also of Sunset, will speak at the 10:45 a.m. worship service and Williams will speak at the 6 p.m. worship service. A congregational singing at 5:30 will precede the evening worship service.

A nursery will be provided during all Saturday activities, and the public is invited to attend, according to Pat Abbananto, minister of 37th Street congregation.

Methodists Presenting 'Messiah'

Handel's "Messiah" will be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church.

The presentation is the work of a 60-voice community choir involving a dozen Scurry County churches.

Featured soloist will be Jim Fletcher of Fort Worth, singing bass. Other soloists will be Robert Clinton, tenor; Verna West, alto; Kay Kenner, soprano; and Jane Womack, soprano.

The presentation lasts one hour, and a reception will be held afterward. Admission is free.

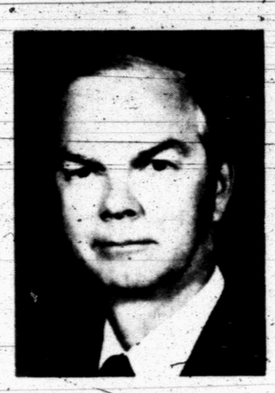

"We really want the community to come and help make this an ecumenical experience," said Chuck Weatherford, who will be directing the "Messiah."

"It promises to be one of the musical highlights of the holiday season," he added.

The presentation will also include the musical accompaniment of harpsichords, a piano, an organ, tympani, and brass instruments.

First Baptist Plans Musical

A combined choir of youth and adults, approximately 65 strong, will present "an Old-Fashioned Christmas" Sunday at 10:45 a.m. at First Baptist Church. "This Christmas musical written by Don Wyrtzen contains many old favorites like "Silent Night", "O Holy Night", "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", as well as others, both old and new that are sure to please," says Jerry Neill, music director.

Under the direction of Neill, the musical is accompanied by a brass choir, five keyboards and a percussion. Kim Lunsford plays the dramatic role of Elizabeth Fleming and Glenn Polk serves as narrator-host.

Soloists are: Ralph Trevey, Darrel Clawson, Kim McPherson, Kay Hopper, Pam Pierce, and Susan Minor.

"Make your plans now to attend this exciting presentation Sunday Morning or for those unable to attend Sunday morning, a special community presentation has been planned for Monday night Dec. 17 at 8," said Neill.

The Monday performance will include "Christmas 2001, a musical drama by Pre-Tech Choir from First Baptist.

Spanish American War Veteran Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP)- Abraham "Charlie" Martin, a 105-year-old veteran of the Spanish-American War who attributed his longevity to "drinking, smoking, chewing and having a helluva good time," died Saturday.

Assembly Ended By 'Witnesses'

Area Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their semi-annual Circuit Assembly held on the weekend at Abilene Civic Center.

Mardoqueo Maestas, local congregation spokesman, reported "a practical and spiritually edifying program directed us to examine very closely the kind of Christian 'fruits' we are producing as Jesus Christ said in the Bible at John 15:8.

The peak attendance was reached for the public address entitled, 'Whose Disciple Are You?', when 1466 listened to E.R. Brandt, district overseer.

PONY EXPRESS SUCCESS-A stewardship campaign at Trinity United Methodist Church, dubbed Pony Express, netted pledges of $49,230 from church members, reports Rev. James Merrill, pastor. "With this estimate," he said, "the church will be able to underwrite one of the largest budgets in its history." Above Bill Starnes general manager of the campaign receives an award of appreciation from the Reverend. Watch for story in Sunday paper. (SDN Staff Photo)

Dr. Cannata At Colonial Hill

Dr. Samuel Cannata, a doctor who practiced medicine in Africa for 20 years, will speak in the morning worship service Sunday at Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

Dr. Cannata was arrested in Ethiopia last year and spent several weeks in prison due to anti-American feeling in that African nation.

The morning worship service will begin at 11 a.m. and the public is invited. For persons who cannot attend, the service will be televised on Channel 2 of SCAT, the local cable system.

In 1959, the United Nations unanimously approved a Canadian proposal for global study of atomic radiation.

No Fuel May Cost Farmers Crops In '80

AUSTIN (AP)—Many Texas farmers may lose their crops next year because they cannot obtain enough diesel fuel for normal farming operating, members of the House Agriculture Committee said today.

"Unfortunately, many farmers cannot afford to pay the higher prices on the spot or open market," said Rep. Forrest Green, D-Corsicana, chairman of the committee which has been conducting hearings on the problem.

Pantsuit Foes Get Belted Back

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Never did I think I'd be writing to you, but I am completely fed up with the despicable people who write in to criticize women who wear pantsuits!

Two years ago when we moved to this small community I was eager to join a church. I asked someone if it was acceptable for a woman to wear pantsuits to church. I was told, "No, it is frowned upon."

That's when I decided to have my own worship service in the living room of my home—in front of my TV set. God knows I'm sincere.

You see, Abby, for 20 years I've had terrible varicose veins, causing me constant pain, so I always wear heavy surgical stockings. For this reason I feel so much better in pantsuits. Thank God for them!

People should think twice before criticizing the way I dress.

MRS. B., DE FUNIAK SPRINGS, FLA.

DEAR MRS. B: Or they should withhold comment until having walked 20 years in your surgical stockings!

DEAR ABBY: You seem to get a lot of letters from people who place far too much importance on sex. I know it's important, Abby, but it's not nearly as important as most folks make it out to be. There are a lot of people in this world who manages to live without any sex at all. For example, look at all the nuns and priests. And what about some very fine unmarried people?

SPENCER, IOWA

DEAR SPENCER: And some very fine married people, too.

DEAR ABBY: How would you deal with a situation like this? Whenever our adopted daughter mentions an aunt or uncle, her husband says, "You have no relatives. You're adopted!"

It really hurts our daughter.

TORONTO

DEAR TORONTO: Your son-in-law is not only unbelievably ignorant, he's cruel as well. He should be informed that an adopted person has twice as many relatives—the families of her adoptive parents and the familes of her biological parents.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a widow, 57, and I've been asked to some nice parties by a very fine gentleman. He's 53. Do you think he would like me less if he knew I had to wear a hearing aid? I wore it when I was with him the first time but I'm not sure he knows I wear one because I combed my hair over it.

How do men feel about this?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Many people wear eye glasses, which are an aid to better vision, so don't be embarrassed by a hearing aid—which is an aid to better hearing. If he's a "fine" person, he won't like you less for it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WHY ME, LORD?" If I knew the answer to that I'd be a latter-day Solomon: Don't let the mistakes of yesterday and the dread of tomorrow ruin the only day you have—which is today.

Three Mishaps Reported Here

Three minor traffic accidents were worked Thursday by officers of the city police department.

The first occurred in the 4200 block of College Ave. at 10:50 a.m. and was worked by Sgt. Jerry Parker. Involved in it were a 1962 Chevrolet pickup driven by Kenneth D. Pitner and a 1979 International truck tractor driven by Calvin Hood of Zanesville, Ind.

The next wreck was at 12:04 p.m. at the Walls plant. There, a parked 1977 Mercury owned by Gary Smith was struck by a vehicle which left the scene. That accident was investigated by officer Kerry Fritz.

Robert Harbin investigated the final accident. It was reported at Western Texas College at 11:30 p.m. Reports indicate a parked 1978 Chevrolet owned by Lesa Sterling was struck by a vehicle which left the scene.
