Rusk Sounds Out Allies As Senators Demand Action Against Castro

For Yarborough Reception

Contractor Says Judge Bean Asked For Cash

DALLAS (UPI)—E. D. St. John, Dallas building contractor fighting bankruptcy, has said in sworn testimony that he paid former El Paso County Judge Woodrow Bean nearly $3,000 at Bean's suggestion while building the Sun Bowl stadium in the West Texas city, it was disclosed today.

Bean said St. John's testimony was "ridiculous."

Bean pleaded guilty to charges of failure to file income tax returns and was given a 5-year suspended sentence. He ran unsuccessfully for Congressman-at-large against Joe Pool of Dallas. Bean resigned as county judge.

St. John made the charge in bankruptcy court. He said part of the money was to pay for a reception for Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

"The way to get along is to take care of the boys down here," St. John quoted one of the architects who designed the stadium as saying.

Started Having Trouble

St. John said when he balked at payments, he started having trouble getting partial payments for construction work his firm did on the stadium.

". . . Judge Woodrow Bean told me that he was inviting Ralph Yarborough down for the groundbreaking for the stadium and that the so-called coffers of the local politicians were empty and they wanted me to pay for the reception which they were giving him on Friday night before the groundbreaking ceremonies," St. John said.

St. John said he thought the conversation about the groundbreaking was around Aug. 1, 1961, the day he was told he had been awarded the stadium contract.

St. John said he paid a $1,175 bill for the reception at the Hilton Hotel in El Paso and later paid another bill related to the reception for $50-$75. He said he knew of no other "way to get around it."

Asked About Others

St. John was asked if any other members of the El Paso County Commissioners Court asked him for money.

"Yes, they did," he testified. "Judge Bean in fact, I believe it was Mr. Smith, one of the commissioners. And also there was another commissioner there who owned a nursery. And also one of the architects, the county engineer and just about everybody connected with the job.

"I gave a check on Aug. 31, I believe it was, to Judge Woodrow Bean for $500 for a campaign fund which was the way he requested it," St. John said.

St. John said he gave Bean a check made out to him personally for $1,000 on another occasion but then began resisting other demands except those for "entertainment."

Official's Death, Estes Believed Not Connected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Department officials were reported today to have generally ruled out any connection between the Billie Sol Estes case and the mysterious death of Henry H. Marshall.

The prevailing theory was said to be that Marshall, who was a Texas official of the Agriculture Department, met death at the hands of cattle rustlers.

This became known today as the Senate investigations subcommittee recalled Estes' Pecos, Tex. lawyer, John Dennison, for a second round of questioning.

Dennison insisted under oath on Wednesday that he relied on advance approval by Marshall before executing contracts for sales of Estes' land to farmers in Oklahoma, Alabama, and Georgia.

The Agriculture department contends that the sales and resulting lease-back arrangements were a scheme to acquire the farmers' cotton allotments. The department has slapped fines on Estes totalling $554,000 for overplanting cotton.

Dennison insisted that the land sales were perfectly legal. But he said he would have advised Estes to avoid them if Marshall had ruled otherwise.

Marshall was the cotton specialist for the Texas office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. His superiors have vouched for his integrity and honesty.

He was found shot dead on his Franklin, Tex., ranch on June 3, 1961, six months after he, Dennison and other officials met to discuss the cotton allotment transfers.

Marshall's death was ruled a suicide at first even though he had been shot five times with a bolt action .22-caliber rifle.

When the Estes case erupted into national headlines, Marshall's body was exhumed. Texas Rangers now believe he probably was murdered.

The general conviction in the Agriculture Department that Marshall was killed by cattle thieves is based partly on information supplied by the Rangers.

Palm Room Work Being Completed

Workmen are putting the final touches on the remodeled Palm Room on the third floor of City Hall this week.

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said the new room, to be used as a meeting place for the City Commission, will be ready for next Tuesday night's session of the city fathers.

The air - conditioned council room will be equipped with microphones at each commissioner's seat and one for the speaker's rostrum. The new loud speaker system will enable persons anywhere in the council chamber to hear discussions being carried on among the commissioners.

Seating arrangements will accommodate larger crowds when needed at commission meetings.

The old commission room on the second floor, adjacent to the city manager's office, served as a meeting place for the commission the last time on Tuesday night.

Photographs of all of Pampa's mayors since the early 30s have been removed from the wall and taken to the new meeting place.

The old commission room has served as the meeting place for city officials since the City Hall was built in 1930.

City Manager Schmitzer said the old room will be petitioned off and used possibly as an office for the mayor and a conference room for city commissioners.

Three Commies Killed In The Korean Truce Zone

Second Violation Of Armistice Recently

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean troops shot and killed three Communist soldiers who illegally entered the southern portion of the truce zone Wednesday, it was announced today.

An Allied headquarters announcement said the three Communists engaged in a 30-minute fire fight with the South Korean soldiers before they were killed. A South Korean noncom was shot in the arm.

The clash occurred about 6 p.m. Wednesday about 300 yards south of the line that divides the 2½ mile truce zone. It was in the South Korean 1st Army's sector of the truce line, about 80 miles northeast of Seoul.

Second Violation

A spokesman said this was the second serious violation of the armistice agreement by the Communists within less than two months. The last incident occurred in July when seven Red soldiers fired on a South Korean Army detail cutting grass in the zone.

The Allied announcement said the South Korean soldiers involved in Wednesday's clash were members of a road-repair detail. There were two officers.

It said the Communist soldiers —one officer and two enlisted men—opened fire on the South Korean soldiers with rifles and automatic weapons.

The South Korean soldiers were armed with American-made M-1 rifles.

The Communists sent a group of 10 armed soldiers into the area about an hour later, apparently in an attempt to recover the bodies of the slain Reds.

Reds Return

Four Communist soldiers were seen returning to the northern portion of the zone before dark, but the other six remained. The spokesman said the Communist soldiers undoubtedly hoped to recover the bodies, which were left lying where they fell as evidence.

The announcment said "action is being taken to prevent recovery of the bodies by the North Korean Army until after an on-the-spot investigation by a joint observer team."

The spokesman said the Allies would call a meeting of the observer team "within hours" to investigate the violations of the armistice agreement by the Communists.

Ben Bellists And Opponents Still Exchanging Shots

ALGIERS (UPI) — Fighting raged today in a village near Orleansville between guerrilla forces of Willaya (military district) Four and troops loyal to Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella despite top-level efforts to enforce a cease-fire.

Orleansville prefecture officials said the fighting at the nearby village of Massena had taken a "particularly serious turn." They gave no further details.

The rival troops battled there Wednesday with mortars and heavy machineguns although their leaders had agreed to a cease-fire Tuesday night. At least a dozen persons were reported killed and several dozen wounded in the fighting Wednesday.

There were clashes between the opposing forces at two other places Wednesday.

Ben Bella and Col. Si Hassan, leader of the dissident Willaya Four, planned to visit Orleansville later today. They met this morning with Mohamed Khider and Rabah Bitat, members of the Ben Bella political bureau, and with Col. Tahar Z'Bli, Willaya One leader, and Yacet Saadi, leader of the Ben Bellist guerrilla forces in Algiers.

The continued fighting and known political differences between the Political Bureau and the military indicated that the two months of feuding was far from ended.

Today's meeting was called to iron out details of the cease-fire compromise reached Tuesday night between the Political Bureau and the two dissident military districts, three and four.

The agreement was announced after Ben Bella stated that the Political Bureau had won back control of Algiers from District Four, which includes the capital.

The cease-fire apparently did not register fully with rival troops confronting each other on the fringes of District Four. Fighting was reported Wednesday at Aumale and Berrouaghia, both south of Algiers, and at the western town of Massena, near Orleansville.

Casualties were reported heavy in the Aumale fighting.

Thurmond Cites State Department 'No Win' Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States sought today to sound out its Latin American allies on Cuba with senators demanding more action against the Castro regime.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has asked Latin American governments if they are interested in holding an "informal" foreign ministers' meeting in New York when the U.N. General Assembly opens Sept. 18.

Rusk made the request during an hour-long briefing he gave ambassadors of 19 Latin American countries Wednesday on the recent Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

Discusses Kennedy's Warning

Rusk discussed with the Latin American diplomats Kennedy's warning Tuesday that the United States would take any steps necessary to block Cuban aggression in the Western Hemisphere. Peruvian Ambassador Fernando Berckemeyer said reaction to the President's statement was "very favorable."

The meeting with the Latin American ambassadors followed a briefing Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara gave senators on Cuba and other trouble spots.

Sens. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio and Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., were openly dissatisfied with the Rusk-McNamara explanation of U.S. policy toward Cuba.

Thurmond said he thought the position taken by Rusk justified his contention that the State Department was following a "no win" policy. He also disputed Kennedy's statement that the Soviet weapons in Cuba were of a defensive nature.

Downgrades Defensive Label

Lausche said he was "stunned by the revelations of what is happening in Cuba." He also said he could find no consolation in the claim that the Communist arms in Cuba were "for defensive purposes."

Republicans 'Walk Softly' In New Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders, who called three months ago for "high powered deeds" to counter communism, walked softly today in the Cuban crisis.

They still may join in some new foreign policy declaration aimed at President Kennedy's handling of the Soviet arms buildup in Cuba. This could come in a session-end statement, now in preparation.

But at the moment it is every Republican for himself, and the leadership is hoisting the caution flag.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., made it clear he accepted the President's report that Russian military aid to the Castro regime had been primarily defensive in nature. Dirksen underscored for newsmen his belief that a quick military foray against Castro at this juncture might trigger more serious difficulty in already troubled Berlin. He doubted there would be any U.S. action until there was evidence of aggressive Cuban intentions.

Two Senate Republicans, Kenneth B. Keating, N.Y., and Homer E. Capehart, Ind., have been sharply critical of the administration's performance on Cuba.

It was in last June's "Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy," endorsed by all GOP members of Congress, that the party asserted:

"Despite this nation's position as the most powerful on earth, the bankruptcy of its leadership was shown at critical times in the past year. It was shown in Berlin and Cuba. It was shown in the hesitancy to resume nuclear testing when our national security demanded it.

"It was shown in the bluster followed by whimpering in respect to Laos.

"Republicans demand high powered deeds, not high-sounding words. We want and expect the cause of freedom to win."

Woman's Condition Is Good After Accident

Mrs. Edith Hiser, 720 N. Frost St., a bookkeeper at the Heard & Jones Drug store, 110 N. Cuyler, was reported in good condition at Highland General Hospital this noon following injuries received this morning when she was struck by an automobile while crossing the street at the intersection of Cuyler and Foster Sts.

Roy L. Kay, 400 E. Foster, manager of the Clayton Floral Co., told police he was blinded by the sun as he attempted to make a left turn into E. Foster St., and did not see Mrs. Hiser until the car struck her. Mrs. Hiser had been to the post office and was walking north across the street when she was hit. Mail she was carrying was scattered on the street.

The injured woman suffered minor cuts and bruises about the face and body but received no broken bones. An attending physician said she was still being held at the hospital for observation.

Fifteen-year-old Richard L. Patrick, 414 N. Gray, was cited by police for failure to control speed to avoid an accident yesterday when his car hit a parked station wagon owned by Pampa Office Supply Company, near the intersection of Charles and Virginia Sts.

Police said young Patrick apparently made too wide a turn as he turned left on Charles St. Damage to the station wagon was estimated at $400 and $150 damage was caused to Patrick's car. Police said Patrick was uninjured.

GETS FINAL FITTINGS

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear cargo-passenger ship, docked at a shipyard Wednesday for final fittings before leaving Sept. 13 for the World's Fair at Seattle, Wash.

De Gaulle, Adenauer Push 'Union'

BONN (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be rushing France and Germany toward political union despite advice of their allies to go slow.

Both Adenauer, 86, and De Gaulle, 71, are known to feel that political union of Western Europe is necessary to block Communist expansion and Wednesday night they said the time had come to start doing something about it.

"It is necessary to act now," De Gaulle told a state dinner.

"Those who are ready to act should act," Adenauer answered, "and I believe the others would join us."

It was not determined whether the two planned to sign some formal agreement before De Gaulle goes home Sunday night, or whether they just hoped to jar their Common Market allies into

Hoover Is Said Still Improving

NEW YORK (UPI) — Doctors caring for former President Herbert Hoover said Wednesday that the 88-year-old former chief executive was continuing to improve in his recuperation from surgery last week.

A tumor was removed from Hoover's large intestine. Doctors confirmed that the growth was cancerous, but said they did not expect any recurrence of the malignancy.

Riot Leaders In Solitary

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Leaders of a 197-man riot at the Bexar County jail were in solitary confinement today and all the rioters were being served bread and water.

The riot Wednesday stemmed from prisoner dissatisfaction with the jail's menu.

"We'll give you the bread. You know where the water is," Sheriff Bill Hauck said.

Four prisoners received minor wounds when deputies fired wax bullets and used high pressure fire hoses to break up the riot. The prisoners set mattresses on fire because they did not want to eat stew for lunch.

Hauck ordered rioters to be put on bread and water for three days.

Hauck, who took office Aug. 15 replacing the late Sheriff Owen Kilday, said the prisoners had been able to order the food they liked for the past two months.

Soblen Again Thwarts Return Effort

LONDON (UPI)—Runaway Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen again blocked plans to deport him to the United States today by swallowing an overdose of barbituates.

Soblen lapsed into unconsciousness in an ambulance taking him to London airport from Brixton Prison to board a waiting New York-bound jetliner. The ambulance turned back at the airport entrance and rushed him to nearby Hillingdon Hospital.

"Still Unconscious"

A Home Office spokesman confirmed that Soblen had taken barbiturates, and five hours later at 3:15 p.m. (10:15 a.m. EDT) a hospital announcement said:

"Dr. Soblen is still unconscious. Barbiturates have been found in his blood in a concentration which indicates an overdose.

"Another statement will be issued at 6 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT)."

It was the second time that Soblen had frustrated attempts to fly him to the United States. The first incident took place en route from Israel aboard an El Al airlines plane July 1. He then slashed his wrist and gashed his stomach with a knife, forcing officials to take him off the plane at London airport and treat him at the same Hillingdon Hospital to which he was taken today.

He said he was not trying to commit suicide when he stabbed himself, but was merely trying to keep from being returned to the United States.

After that, he began a long, involved legal battle in an attempt to avoid deportation to the United States and a life term in prison. His last hope expired Wednesday when the home secretary turned down his final plea for mercy and ordered the deportation carried out "as soon as practicable." He was booked aboard a Pan American World Airways flight for New York this morning.

Dramatic Twin

But then came the dose of barbiturates and a sudden new dramatic turn in the case.

Barbiturates, according to Black's medical dictionary, are all derivatives of barbituric acid and form one of the most extensive series of sedative, hypnotic and anesthetic drugs at present in use.

A Home Office spokesman said the hospital had not used the word "poison" in describing the barbiturate that Soblen had taken.

"They told us he has taken a drug of the barbiturate group, and nothing more," the spokesman said.

There was no immediate separate word from the hospital on what Soblen took, nor was there any immediate indication of how he obtained the barbiturate.

A hospital spokesman said only that Soblen was unconscious when admitted.

Official speculation earlier was that Soblen may have tried to kill himself with poison.

Soblen's reservation on Pan Am flight 101 was canceled and a Pan Am spokesman said no new one had been made.

Woman May Be Starving To Death

TYLER (UPI)— The search resumed at dawn today for a black-haired woman who may be starving to death in a wooded area near Tyler.

Cherokee County sheriff's deputies said at Rusk Wednesday night that the woman reportedly came up to a fisherman at Mud Creek Wednesday and begged for food.

When the man gave her a candy bar, she fled into a thicket, they said. The search area is in Cherokee County, but is near Tyler, which is in Smith County.

The deputies described the woman as white, in her thirties and of medium build. hey said they had no idea from where she came.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdwe. Adv.

lon Decides Not To Ask For nit To Deductions For Interest

ASHINGTON (UPI) — Treas- Secretary Douglas Dillon has led against asking Congress rohibit or limit tax deductions interest payments, it was ned Wednesday.

out 18.7 million taxpayers ned deductions of $8.4 billion heir tax returns last year for est they had paid, primarily ome mortgages.

eports have circulated for e time that the administra- s 1963 tax reform package nt include a proposal to deny ctions for interest, or at least mit them.

t responsible Treasury offi- have said this has been d out. Nor will there be any osal to change the present uctability of state and local property taxes, it was said.

Wants Loopholes Closed

President Kennedy has said he will ask Congress next year to cut taxes across the board, for individuals and corporations. He also said he would ask the lawmakers to close certain loopholes in the tax code.

By closing the loopholes, the administration hopes to reduce the revenue loss resulting from rate reduction and to introduce a greater element of equal tax treatment for taxpayers.

Among the more controversial areas of tax reform getting intensive scrutiny in the Treasury are capital gains, depletion allowances and stock options. The Treasury also is still interested in removing the $50 exclusion and the 4 per cent credit for recipients of dividend income.

Partly Motivated Politically

The decision to drop any idea of limiting deductions for interest payments appeared, at least in part, to be politically motivated.

Democrats in Congress have privately expressed to Dillon fear that even the possibility of curtailing interest deductions could be used against them in the election campaign.

The issue is believed to have a lot of political significance because of the millions of taxpayers, especially home owners, who take deductions for interest paid.

A home owner with a mortgage typically may pay as much as $1,000 a year in interest. If he is, for example, in a 26 per cent tax bracket, the deduction saves him $260 in taxes.

Youth's Body Is Found

LEAKEY, Tex. (UPI)— The body of six-year-old John Wayne McCandless was found Tuesday in Garner State Park, just before a massive search was to be called off.

The lad disappeared from his family's campsite at the park late Saturday. Searchers had combed the rugged 600-acres of the park with up to 1,000 men and two helicopters.

The body was found in a narrow sewer pit. The pit was 15 feet from where he was last seen.

An autopsy was conducted today in San Antonio. Authorities said the boy — dead for some 65 hours — drowned in the pit. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wayne McCandless of Corpus Christi.

Texas Ranger Capt. Alfred Allee of Carrizo Springs made the discovery.

'Brainy' Actress Insists On Intelligent Part On Television

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "I used to be in the newspaper game myself."

Now there's a quote that'll send any hard-working newsman back to his typewriter in a black mood. The guy who says it generally looks as if he'd just done a stretch at Alcatraz.

But when the statement comes from a beautiful actress it's enough to stop the presses.

The ex-newspaper gal is Barbara Rush who worked as a part-time reporter during her college days at the University of California in Santa Barbara. Now she is going to play a Washington correspondent in a new television series, "Saints and Sinners."

"When I was in school I attended classes in the morning and worked on the vital statistics page for the Santa Barbara News-Press," she said. "Once in a while the editor let me write news stories, too."

Thanks to this background Barbara, a classic beauty with more brains than a dozen other actresses, is well prepared for her new role.

"Most of the newspaper women you see in movies or TV are dressed in trench coats and beret," she added. "It's a Hollywood cliche.

"I agreed to do the show only if they allowed me to play an intelligent, feminine woman, which is something you rarely see in television these days.

"If you stop to think about it you'll see there are no series on the air built around a heroine who isn't either a stereotyped scatterbrain, a bland housewife or a neurotic sex pot."

To get her writers off on the right track, Barbara told them, "Don't write the part for a female. Write my role as if it were for a man, and then I'll go in and play it.

"With this in mind the writers won't come up with the same tired female type you see so often on the screen, and I can transfer the character into the kind of woman I want to play."

"I'm really seriously concerned about the lack of roles for actresses," said Barbara.

"And I don't know what the answer is. There are too few female writers to help the situation. After watching TV and movie heroines I find myself asking, 'What ever happened to the girl who went to college and didn't become a nut? Where is she today?

"We're all over the place — in industry, the arts, business and at home raising children. But you'd never know we existed from watching television."

The Benelux countries feel political union should be delayed until Britain has joined the Common Market. The sixth member, Italy, wants any steps toward unity to be slow and cautious.

Adenauer's press chief said the private talks which began Wednesday were concerned mainly with the political construction of Europe. What specific ideas they discussed were kept secret.

Original Usage

The word "bead" is derived from the Saxon word "bidan," which means "to pray." Originally, the word was used only in connection with the beads of a rosary.

Gray County Officials To Attend Meet

The Gray County judge and four county commissioners are expected to attend the Panhandle meeting of the County Judges and Commissioners Association to be held Tuesday in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

County Judge Bill Craig announced that Joe Clarke, Lefors, commissioner of Precinct 1; Nat Lunsford, Pampa, Precinct 2; J. M. McCracken, Groom, Precinct 3; and Truitt Johnson, McLean, Precinct 4, have made plans to attend.

John Connally, Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas, will deliver the main address during the one-day session.

Approximately 75 judges and commissioners are expected to attend.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and Connally will speak at 10 a.m. The meeting is scheduled to conclude at 4 p.m.

During the afternoon session, Col. William R. Calhoun, commanding officer of the 4128th Strategic Wing at Amarillo Air Force Base, will be the speaker.

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa is also scheduled to participate in the program.

During the business session new officers for the coming year will be elected. Jack Driscoll, County Judge, of Tulia, is president of the association.

Gas, Accessory Thieves Active Here Last Night

Gasoline and auto accessory thieves seem to have taken over where the prowlers left off in Pampa, according to reports filed with police.

Wayne Worley, operator of Wayne's garage at 1722 Alcock, reported to police this morning that sometime during the night thieves forced open the front door of the garage and stole auto equipment valued at $175.

The loot, Worley stated, consisted of an intake manifold and three carburetors for an Oldsmobile.

Mrs. Dorothy Wilcox, 620 N. Gray, reported she heard someone "fooling around" her car parked at the side of the house about 11:15 o'clock last night.

She said when she opened the back door, the trespasser ran up the street. Later investigation showed about five gallons of gasoline had been siphoned from the automobile tank.

A woman in the 400-block of Red Deer St. reported that between 12 midnight and 2 a.m. Wednesday she heard someone walking at the side of the house. A further check on the case revealed that a fan belt had been stolen from the car. The woman also reported that several nights ago a full tank of gasoline was stolen from her parked car.

A call from a youngster at home alone sent police investigating a prowler report in the 1900 block of N. Christy. The youth said he had heard a noise in the attic.

Patrolman Joe Brewer, who investigated, said he searched the attic from end to end and could find nothing disturbed.

At 2:15 p.m. yesterday a motorist reported that two small boys, each about two years old, were in the middle of the street stopping traffic at the intersection of West and Buckler Sts. Police the boys were gone when they rived on the scene.

Lie Tests Clear Theft Suspects

Two suspects in the safe bery at the M. E. Moses st 105 N. Cuyler, on the night Aug. 9 were released yeste afternoon following lie dete tests taken in Amarillo.

Police Chief Jim Conner the two suspects passed the p graph tests and were cleared suspicion in the case.

The safe from the Moses st containing approximately $1 was stolen by burglars wh police believed had hidden in the store before it closed for day.

Investigating officers said th was no evidence to indicate th had been a break-in. burglars, they said, appare unlocked the back door from inside and hauled the small outside to a waiting car.

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV's "Steel Hour," which Wednesday night offered a drama about the attempted robbery of a Nevada gambling casino, might well have heeded a solid poker rule: If you have nothing, sit it out.

With the shocking imprimatur of the Theatre Guild, the play drove another nail into the coffin of live New York television with a tale of a con man who tries to force a lady blackjack dealer and her student boy friend into allowing the haul.

Phyllis Newman played the lady; Johnny Desmond, a singer, was the con man; and John Kerr, who was too ill to appear in a recent "steel hour" presentation, portrayed the student. He is not likely to feel much better after Wednesday night.

The story began with Miss Newman and Kerr wondering how to get enough money to afford marriage. Miss Newman, who has heard that $250,000 will be accumulated in the cashier's cage on a certain day, suggests that possession of such an amount would be a lovely way to start married life. Dr. Samuel Johnson, who felt that "in matters of business, no woman stops at integrity," would have been proud of her.

Kerr, however, is not. He is horrified at the thought and talks her out of it. But Desmond, who has heard about the scheme, thinks it has merit and decides to pull the job himself.

Kerr theatens to shoot Desmond, which would have been a fine idea, although the scriptwriter was a more logical target. At any rate, no shooting is necessary because the FBI shows up at the last minute and saves the day by accusing Desmond of an old crime.

The acting was non-existent; the directing by Bruce Minnix was misdirected; and the writer, Harold Gast, should apologize. The view we were offered of a Nevada casino was so childish and ludicrous as to be astounding.

As for the scenery, it looked just like what a set designer who had never been to Nevada would imagine after reading bad stories.

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Harsh words have been exchanged these last days in Jakarta and other Asian capitals over an event originally intended as a festival of friendship.

This was an event known as the Fourth Asian Games, an athletic competition to which Indonesia played host, and under ordinary circumstances would have little place in any discussion of foreign affairs.

Being neither a participant nor regarding weightlifting as a great spectator sport, this writer would have been content to leave to the sports pages the muscular young men who go through the clean-and-jerk, the snatch and the military press were it not for circumstances which are not ordinary.

These circumstances neared an angry climax over the weekend, and weightlifting became a contributing factor when only the Indonesians showed up to participate.

Indonesian Threat

Results so far have included an Indonesian threat to bar future trade with India, unhappiness in Tokyo out of fear of the effect on the Olympic Games scheduled for Tokyo in 1964, withdrawal of the South Korean team from the Jakarta events and a sunburst of newspaper editorials.

Politics took over the games even before they started.

Indonesia excluded Nationalist China and Israel, even though are accredited by the Asian Games Federation. However, neither has diplomatic relations with Indonesia.

The International Olympic Committee and the International Amateur Athletic Federation withdrew recognition of the games.

The weightlifters refused to participate when the International Weightlifting Federation announced that athletes who competed would be banned from future meets, including the Olympics.

The Indian vice president of the Asia Games Executive Committee recommended that the Jakarta games be stripped of their official status.

The Indonesian government, regarding the move as a direct slap at President Sukarno, promptly instructed its trade officials to enter into no new deals with India.

Federation officials of Pakistan and Ceylon denounced the Indian vice president as "not a good Asian."

Reached Climax

The situation reached a climax Monday when Indonesian demonstrators broke into the Indian Embassy, damaged a few windows and art objects and tried to haul down the Indian flag.

In Manila, the Philippines Herald blamed the situation on the "vicious meddling" of Red China which, it said, had forced Sukarno to turn the games into a political football.

The Manola Times said the Philippines had "played right into the Indonesian position of neutrality" and should have withdrawn from the games.

In Japan, demands that Japan also withdraw from the games were countered by diplomatic fears of a break with Sukarno and by Japanese businessmen with interests in Indonesia.

In any event, as a goodwill builder the games were somewhat less than a success. They left the future of the Asian Games in doubt and proved that politics can be carried on in an athletic "T" shirt as easily as in the striped trousers of a diplomat.

First Skating Rink

World's first mechanically frozen ice skating rink was the Glacarium in London, built in 1876. It was a studio - type room, with an ice surface of 40 by 24 feet, frozen by means of a mixture of glycerine and water running through copper pipes and chilled by ether.

The Lighter Side

The Senate's Listing Of Jobs

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At three-month intervals, the U.S. Senate publishes a list of its officers and employees showing how much each was paid during the quarterly period.

Almost everyone, except maybe the officers and employees, thinks this open door policy toward the payroll is a good thing.

I certainly don't wish to quibble, but to me the list seems incomplete. I think it should reveal not only what the officers and employees earn, but what they do to earn it.

The list, to be sure, includes brief job descriptions and in some cases these are self-explanatory. It's easy, for instance, to guess what an "inserting machine operator" does.

The Senate has seven inserting machine operators who were paid $1,178.85 last quarter. At this time of year, there is always a lot of inserting to be done.

Raises Questions

In certain other cases, however, the job titles raise more questions than they answer, leaving a reader of the list feeling vaguely disquieted and unfulfilled.

I have spent considerable time seeking to surmise how John M. Price earned his $1,421.88. Price is listed as the "laborer in charge of private passage."

During a congressional session, many private bills come up for passage. But it seems unlikely there would be a laborer in charge of them.

More likely it means that Price is in charge of a private passageway somewhere on the premises. Presumably, he labors to keep it private and, if he does his job well, the public will never know.

According to the list, the "ladies retiring room" has two "female attendants," each paid $1,118.10. One is listed as Mary E. Scroggins and the other is James A. Mullally.

Mistake Obvious

Obviously, there is a mistake there. Mary E. Scroggins should have been listed as the "Male attendant" in the "gentleman's retiring room."

I was likewise puzzled by the job titles of George Smith and Louis A. Queen. Smith is listed as "wagonmaster" and Queen as "assistant wagonmaster."

I have spent a lot of time around the Capitol in recent years and I don't recall ever seeing a wagon on the grounds.

I have often heard it said that certain senators are "still living in the horse and buggy days." Not them now however, they drive Cadillacs to work.

The only thing I can figure out is that the wagons are kept in the private passage that Price is in charge of.

DOORWAY TO FREEDOM

MIAMI (UPI) — The paddy wagon pulled away from the police station Tuesday carrying 10 persons convicted of drunkenness.

Its passenger load had dwindled to five by the time it arrived at the county stockade. Someone, embarrassed officers admitted, forgot to lock the rear door.

RECLAIMS PET 'GATER

EXETER, R. I. (UPI)—Albert, the three-legged Alligator, was back in his wash tub today several pounds heavier.

Albert, the pet of John Logue, 19, of Columbus, Ohio, disappeared last July while Logue vacationed here. The 'gater emerged from a swamp onto a road Sunday, stopped traffic and brought to the scene police and Logue — with a forked stick to reclaim his pet.

Stuffed Breast Of Chicken With Ginger Pineapple

Castaway Sandwich Disguises Leftovers

Even the most experienced homemakers have trouble with leftovers. No matter how carefully you plan, it seems there's always something to put away for later.

Here's a way to disguise leftover roast beef, steak, or meat loaf in a delicious hot sandwich that's great for supper. A zesty stuffing made with the leftover meat and American blue cheese is baked in individual hard rolls for plain good eating the whole family will enjoy.

CASTAWAY SANDWICH
6-8 hard rolls
1 cup chopped leftover beef (roast, steak, meat loaf, etc.)
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 teaspoon chopped onion
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons red wine (optional)

With sharp knife, cut around tops of rolls, leaving a ½ to ¾ inch thick crust. Save tops. Hollow out centers. Combine one cup crumbs from center of rolls with remaining ingredients. Stuff rolls with mixture and replace tops. Wrap in foil and bake 30 minutes in 400 degree oven (or on charcoal grill).

If you don't understand something, saying "I'm sorry; I didn't understand" is much more gracious than "What?"

Ginger Pineapple Adds Gourmet Touch To Dish

Here are dishes to delight any gourmet. Perfect companions, both in and out of the oven, Stuffed Breast of Chicken and Gourmet Rice bake at the same time and temperature. Ginger Pineapple adds a very special complimentary touch to the Stuffed Breast of Chicken — so whatever you do, don't leave it out!

STUFFED BREAST OF CHICKEN WITH GINGER PINEAPPLE
6 chicken breasts, boned
½ pound sausage
1 green onion, sliced (top and all)
1 can (2 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 teaspoon sesame seeds
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Vegetable oil for frying
¼ cup dry white wine

Preheat oven to 350 degrees and measure ingredients for stuffing and sauce (set sauce ingredients aside to make later). Make stuffing: Brown the sausage and drain on absorbent paper, then combine with the green onion, mushrooms and sesame seeds. Put 1-6 of the stuffing on the inside (flesh side) of each chicken breast: Pull edges over stuffing and secure firmly with round picks. Dredge in a mixture of flour, monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper. Heat oil in skillet and brown all surfaces of chicken, then remove to baking dish and pour on ¼ cup of wine. Place uncovered in preheated oven; then make this sauce.

SAUCE FOR CHICKEN
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in ½ cup boiling water
¼ cup syrup from pineapple
¼ cup dry white wine
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 green onion, sliced (top and all)
½ cup sliced celery
½ cup light cream

Melt butter or margarine; add flour and stir until smooth. Add remaining ingredients and cook and stir until slightly thickened. Pour sauce over chicken in baking dish; cover with lid or foil and continue baking at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

GINGER PINEAPPLE
Place in a saucepan, the contents of 1 can (13½ oz.) Dole Pineapple Chunks (minus ¼ cup of syrup which has been removed for sauce recipe). Mix together ¼ teaspoon each of ground ginger and sugar, then stir into pineapple and bring to a boil to heat through. Arrange chicken on platter and heap hot pineapple in center. Makes 6 servings. Serve with "Gourmet Rice."

Extending wild rice by the addition of white rice is easier on the budget, but probably of even more importance to you is what happens to the color, texture, and flavor. The contrast of wild and domestic rice is interesting and exciting to the palate.

GOURMET RICE
¾ cup wild rice, washed
¾ cup long grain white rice
6 chicken bouillon cubes
3 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons soy sauce

Combine rices in a 1½ quart casserole. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water, add soy sauce; pour over rice Cover and bake in a 350 degree oven for 30 minutes, then remove cover and bake for 15 minutes more. If desired, garnish with parsley just before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Thanksgiving-In-September Perfect Way To Try Something Different For Family

September is the perfect month for the cookout planner to try something festively different from the usual summer fare — a "turkey-Q" And a "turkey-Q" is easy on the budget because the price of turkey this month is the lowest of the year. For family and friends it can be Thanksgiving-in-September — turkey and stuffing cooked on an outdoor rotisserie.

A "tuckey-Q" starts with the stuffing, and packaged herb seasoned stuffing used by itself or with favorite ingredients added will save time and will have all the flavor and goodness of home-made stuffing.

After the stuffing has been prepared according to the package directions, rub the body cavity of the turkey lightly with salt and fill with stuffing. Place a piece of foil over the exposed stuffing and tuck the edges in snugly. Cross the drumsticks and tie them securely to the tail. Fasten the neck skin back with a skewer. Flatten the wings over the breast and wrap around to hold the wings in place.

To mount on the spit, hold the back of the bird down and push the spit from the tail end of the bird toward the front, so that the point comes out between the branches of the wishbone as near the tips as possible. Insert the hooks firmly and screw tightly. Check the balance to see that the bird rotates smoothly on the spit. Then place the spit in the rotisserie and brush the turkey with soft fat or oil. Cook at slightly under 400 degrees F ("High" on some rotisseries), allowing one-half hour per pound cooking time.

To test doneness: breast meat near wing joint should be fork-tender and drumstick meat soft when thickest part is pressed between fingers (which should be covered by a protective glove).

Tips For Barbecuing At Autumn Cookout

For a good barbecue beginning it's necessary to start the fire 30 to 60 minutes ahead of time to make a bed of hot coals 4 to 6 inches deep. To prevent sticking rub the bars of the grill with suet or salad oil. Any excess fat should be trimmed from the steaks and then the fat should be slashed to prevent curling while grilling. The steaks are placed on the grill about 4 inches above the coals and turned once.

A 1-inch steak will require 6 to 10 minutes on each side to reach medium rare doneness. A 2-inch steak, 12 to 15 minutes for medium rare. For medium or well done steaks allow more time. To eliminate some of the guesswork let the color of the meat be your clue to doneness. With a small sharp knife make a slit in the steak. If the internal color is red, the meat is rare; pink is medium; and brown is well done.

Energy-Giving Meat Power Best Method To Tackle Appetite In Football Season

There's nothing like a rousing football game to work up an appetite. Whether you're the star fullback, a backyard quarterback or a fan in the stands, the best way to tackle that appetite is with energy - giving meat power. Beef steaks on the grill will score at an after-the-game barbecue and supply the necessary complete meat protein. The goal is a simple meal with a minimum of last minute preparation. Porterhouse steaks are a simple goodness because they need little attention while the fans are discussing the plays. A bowl of coleslaw, chilled before the game, is a crisp and colorful accompaniment.

Choose top quality porterhouse steaks 1 to 2 inches thick for grilling. A well - known brand is your best guide to satisfying results. In some areas a new pre-tendered beef, ProTen, is available from your meatman. Because all cuts of ProTen beef have increased tenderness, the familiar steaks with the blade and round bone are now tender enough to broil. The roasts that formerly had to be pot roasted may now be oven roasted.

Porterhouse Steaks
Colorful Coleslaw
Grilled Tomato Halves
Crusty French Bread
Garlic Butter
Basket of Fresh Fruit
Assorted Cheeses
Hot Coffee

COLORFUL COLESLAW
Yield: about 9 cups
½ head cabbage
1 cucumber, unpared
2 red skinned apples
Lemon juice
6 green onions
2 cups grated carrots
1 cup dairy soured cream
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dill seed

Shred cabbage. Chop cucumber and apples. Brush apples with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Finely chop green onions using the green tops. Combine cabbage, cucumber, apples, carrots, and green onions in a large salad bowl. Blend together sour cream, wine vinegar, sugar and 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt and dill seed. Pour sour cream dressing over vegetables and apples until all are coated. Serve well chilled.

CHILLED BEAN SALAD
Yield: about 4 cups
9 ounce package frozen French style green beans, cooked and drained
10 ounce package frozen wax beans, cooked and drained
2 cups kidney beans, drained
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup cucumber slices
½ cup dairy soured cream
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoons celery seed
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Place green beans, wax beans, kidney beans, and cucumber in bowl. Combine sour cream, wine vinegar, salt, celery seed, and blend. Chill well. Serve as accompaniment with porterhouse steaks.

MIRROR MAGIC

It takes but seconds, and a last - minute check of your costume before a full-length mirror is a sure - fire way to assure yourself that everything's perfect.

Touch of home for the girl who's away is this lightweight, homemade, three-panel screen, complete with mirror and family portraits. Hinges make packing no chore at all.

Unfamiliar Dormitory Brightened With Photos

KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Probably the first time a girl really cherishes good pictures of her family is the day she unpacks her suitcase in an unfamiliar college dormitory or boarding house. Seeing the famiiar faces is reassuring. I recall, when the pangs of homesickness hit.

As a gift for a daughter leaving home, a friend of mine designed and made a novel three - paneled, hinged, folding screen with a mirror in the center and new portraits of family and close friends on the sides. The cost, he reports, was about $13.

I haven't had time yet to make one, but the idea looks good to me. I hasten to share it with you. It would make a nice gift for a grandmother living at a distance, too.

Before I list his directions, I should add that, although he angled the top of his triptych—that's what he called it — a simpler version could be straight across. Instead of a mirror in the center a bulletin board might be substituted. The outside can be covered in fabric, paper, felt and decorated with a school emblem.

Materials include a mirror, 18 feet of molding, two sheets of cardboard, a half - pint of water gesso, six - ounce can of spray paint, two - ounce bottle of contract glue, bottle of rubber cement, two sheets of gift wrapping paper, four hinges, sandpaper and 32 small nails.

The size of this one closed is 25x16 inches, sized to fit into a 27-inch suitcase. Draw a paper pattern first to get your dimensions accurate. Use a miter box to saw corner angles on stock molding bought at lumber yard, or have the yard saw them for you. Glue molding together to make three frames, one twice as wide as the other two. After glue dries, drive small nails into each corner to nail together. Lightly sand frames and cover each with one coat of water gesso as a paint base. Sand and spray - paint.

To finish the center panel, take the frame or a paper pattern of it to the glass cutter and have him cut mirror to fit. Be sure to include in your calculations the rabbet, the groove in the frame that will hold the mirror.

Fit the mirror into the frame. Cut heavy cardboard exactly the same size and fit it in as a backing for the mirror. Glazier's points should hold mirror and backing in the frame. Finish by cementing brown wrapping paper the back edges of the frame.

To finish the side panel, cut a piece of cardboard to fit each frame. Then select 8 x 10 portrait photographs from the family album. Arrange the photographs on each piece of cardboard, cut them to fit and glue them on with rubber cement or glue.

Cover the front of the panels with fabric, gift wrap paper or what you will. Glue, then nail the panels into the side frame.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been very friendly with a certain couple (our neighbors) for the past 15 years. The man has recently retired and does nothing but sit around the house, watch TV and get in Margaret's hair. I went over there one morning last week to borrow two eggs. Margaret wasn't home, but her husband asked me if I would stay and keep him company. I told him I was in a hurry and started to leave when he followed me and gave me a pinch. I pretended not to notice. Yesterday I went back to return the eggs and Margaret was gone again. This time her husband grabbed me by the arm and asked me for a kiss. I struggled free, gave him a piece of my mind and left. Should I tell Margaret why I refuse to set foot in her house again unless she is home?

PUZJLED

DEAR PUZZLED: No, if "Margaret" is not home you have no need to be there either. Besides, she probably is onto her lecherous hubby and one more report won't give her any comfort.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to John for six years. When I wear flats we are about the same height, but when I wear heels I am taller than he is. He says it doesn't bother him to have me wear heels, but I think he just says that because he knows I feel more dressed up in heels. What would you do if you were in my shoes?

JOHN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If I were in your shoes I'd be sure they were flats. It's more important to look your husband in the eye than to feel "dressed up."

DEAR ABBY: I am fed up on being practically "married" to my husband's semi-invalid mother. She is a very difficult person to live with, but my husband is gone all day and he doesn't realize what I have to put up with. She has four children besides my husband, and none of them wants her, so we have had this burden for six years with no help (financial or otherwise) from them. I have three children and a big house to take care of. I can never go out and am sick and tired of having an old lady with aches and pains for company 24 hours a day. She has no money, and we have none to spare. What now?

EXISTING

DEAR EXISTING: Ask your husband to call a meeting of his clan and insist that the responsibility be divided equally. If they refuse to give their mother a home, each one should contribute something toward her keep in a nursing home.

Little Annoyances Cause Big Irritations

Is there anyone more annoying than the person who—

Won't take "no" for an answer, whether he's a door - to - door salesman or the life of the party who is determined that everybody is going to go on to some place else?

Keeps saying, "I really must be going" but doesn't go?

Listens to your most hair-raising story and then, unimpressed, says, "That's nothing; wait till you hear what happened to me"?

Always keeps other people waiting because h eis never on time?

Insists on doing you a favor and then never lets you forget what he did for you?

Can't resist navigating when he is a passenger in your car?

Says, "I wish you had talked to me first" when you tell him about a purchase you've already made, and then goes on to tell you how much better you could have done if you had only consulted him?

Insists on giving you a blow-by-blow account of his most recent illness, not sparing you a single depressing detail of all that he went through?

Takes half an hour to tell a boring story that could have been better told in a few sentences?

Goes through life tying to impress others not by what he is, but by the people he knows?

Unloads all of his troubles on you under the guise of asking your advice, but never, never takes it?

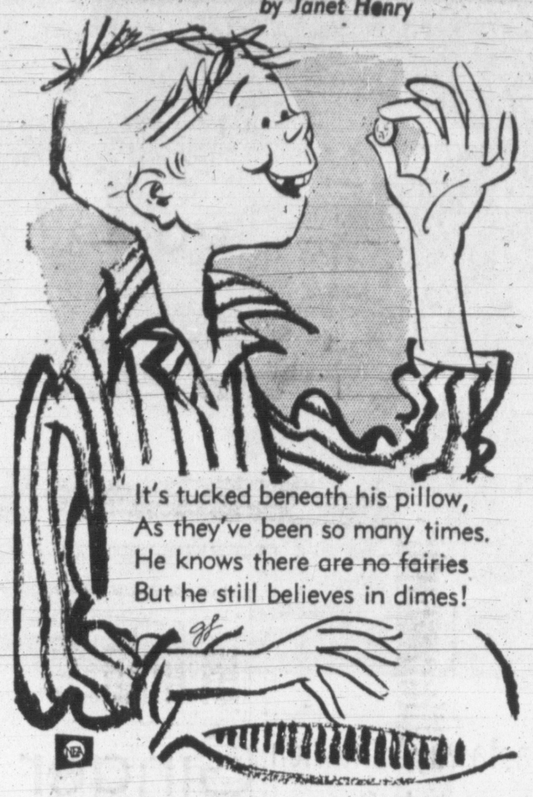

Insists on being mysterious about the most trivial matters in order to give the impression that he is "in the know"?

Says, "I'll bet you don't remember me" in a triumphant voice to the person who obviously doesn't?

Another annoying person is the guy who refuses to read Ruth Millett's booklet, "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Royal Says Longhorns May Rely On A Tough Defense This Year

By JOHN KNAGGS

AUSTIN (UPI)— Rambling Ray Poage is a bona fide All-America candidate, but the Texas Longhorns may rely on a rock-ribbed defense this year, coach Darrell Royal said Wednesday.

Royal, starting his sixth football campaign at Texas, said the "explosiveness" from last year's team departed with the graduation of James Saxton and Jack Collins.

Royal termed Poage "our best All-America candidate" and a player who "means a tremendous amount to us." That takes some saying when the likes of Pat Culpepper and Scott Appleton are returning.

Heads-up Defense

Culpepper, the deadly linebacker, and Appleton, the junior tackle who spent most of the Cotton Bowl game in the Mississippi backfield, head a powerful Texas defense.

Johnny Treadwell joins Culpepper to form perhaps the best linebacking combination Texas has had under Royal. Appleton will team with Ken Furguson, whom Royal termed "my most underrated lineman," at the tackle posts and other interior line standouts include guard Marvin Kubin and center Perry McWilliams.

Royal said a recent statistical survey showed Texas last year limited punt returns to a meager 1.9 yards. He said the average yard line an opponent put the ball in play after receiving a kickoff was the 26 yard line.

Koy Booter

"Our punt coverage will have to be faster this year," Royal said, "because Ernie (Koy Jr.) can punt a little farther."

Koy, the all-stater from Bellville, is battling with Joe Dixon for the starting assignment at wingback in Royal's "flip-flop" Wing T formation. Only Poage appears to have a backfield post nailed down as Tommy Ford and Jerry Cook are rated about even at tailback and quarterback candidates include Duke Carlisle, Johnny Genung and Tommy Wade.

Royal said Wade is "the best passer we've had here" and all three hopefuls have "more ability than Mike." (Cotten, last year's quarterback).

"We won't know how good they (the quarterbacks) are until things get tight," Royal said.

Fast on Rollout

Carlisle and Cook are outstanding defensive backs and Genung is rated slightly ahead in the quarterback race on all-round offensive ability. Royal said Genung and Carlisle are faster than Cotten and Wade has about equal speed.

Royal said Poage is a potential all-the-way threat but the fullback sweep, Poage's patented long gainer, is easier for a defensive backfield to stop short of a touchdown than the quick trap plays up the middle that Ford and Cook will be running.

Texas opens season play Sept. 22 in a night game against Oregon at Austin.

Former Area Man Wins Boat Race

LEFORS (Spl) — Raymond Jeffreys, son of Mrs. Adell Jeffreys, Lefors, is a winner again, having placed first to win the Championship in the Northern U. S. Speed boat world champion races last week in Midland, Mich., driving his X Hydro-plane.

In the same events, he took second place in the F Run - about and the F Hydro - plane, and also won the unlimited - run' - about "Tatum" trophy, which is the most coveted prize by all entrants.

Jeffreys, known as "a jiffy Guy" in the same events last month, took the southern championship in the F and D Hydroplane in races held in the state of Louisana.

A former Lefors boy, he graduated from Lefors High School, worked for Cabot, and resided in Wichita Falls for a number of years where he had his own Outboard Motor Shop. He is now chief mechanic for the Brady Marine Shop in San Antonio.

Married to the former Virginia Symonds of Pampa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Symonds, Jeffreys has two children, Mildred Glenda, 10, Raymond Larry, 14, who stayed in Lefors with their grandmother, while their parents were in Michigan. Mrs. Jeffreys and the children left last week end to see Jeffreys race in Claremore and Ponca City, Okla., races Sunday and Monday.

Boat racing is nothing new to a pro like Jeffreys, having held the 5-mile competition Record of the famed Terre Haute, Ind. Stock Outboard Races where he finished with 2nd place honors. He has raced on water since 1952 all over the United States, and in '55 finished second in his boat class at the World Championship Events at Knoxville, Tenn.

A drawing card to speed boat racing fans, Jeffreys is tagged as incomparable when herding the high powered little boats across the waters, and is a good example of a Lefors boy who did what he loved and made good.

SF Giants Gain Another Game

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

Suddenly, the San Francisco Giants look better than a million dollars again all because a pair of money players — Juan Marichal and Willie Mays — made the Los Angeles Dodgers look like small change.

More than that, they reduced the Dodgers' lead to 2½ games again by collaborating in a 3-0 victory Wednesday night that provided new pennant hope for the second-place Giants.

Manager Alvin Dark insisted before this series that his Giants would have to win three out of four to stay alive. They've taken two out of three so far and get their last crack of the season at the Dodgers tonight.

Mays was his usual magnificent self as he banged out three of the Giants' nine hits and drove in two of their runs with a pair of resounding doubles.

And Marichal, who gained his 18th victory, permitted only four singles before wrenching his right ankle while fielding Willie Davis' grounder in the sixth. Bob Bolin took over in the seventh and held the Dodgers scoreless on two hits the rest of the way.

No Bones Broken

X-rays taken of Marichal's ankle after the game disclosed that no bones were broken.

In other National League activity, the Cincinnati Reds climbed to within five games of first place by sweeping a pair from the Chicago Cubs, 7-5 in 10 innings and 10-3, the Milwaukee Braves blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, and the Houston Colts nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3, in the only other scheduled game.

The Minnesota Twins missed an excellent opportunity to gain ground on the rained-out first-place Yankees in the American League when they won the opener of a twin bill against Washington, 9-7, in 11 innings, but dropped the nightcap, 3-0. The Chicago White Sox nipped the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, the Detroit Tigers took two from the Baltimore Orioles, 5-2 and 6-0, and the Boston Red Sox crushed the Kansas City A's, 12-4.

Hubbs' String Ends

Rookie second baseman Ken Hubbs' string of consecutive errorless chances ended at 418 when he threw wildly on a double play ball in the eighth inning of the nightcap between the Cubs and Reds. Hubbs had eclipsed Bobby Doerr's major league record of 414 perfect chances in the opener, which the Reds won on Gordy Coleman's two-run homer in the 10th. Joe Nuxhall won his fifth straight game without a defeat in the nightcap.

Tony Cloninger blanked the Cardinals on five hits in gaining his sixth victory for the Braves. Loser Ray Washburn allowed only two hits in the seven innings he worked.

Jim Pendleton's run-producing single off reliever Diomedes Olivo in the seventh broke a 3-3 tie between the Colts and Pirates. Jim Umbricht won his first game of the season in relief and Vern Law suffered his seventh loss.

Power's Double Wins

Vic Power's 10th inning double gave Minnesota its opening game victory after Washington had tied the score at 7-7 with a four-run rally in the ninth. Claude Osteen set down the Twins on three hits for his eighth victory in the nightcap.

Ray Herbert scored his 15th victory for the White Sox with a five-hitter over the Indians. Loser Jim Grant yielded only four hits during the seven innings he worked but wild-pitched the decisive run across in the second inning.

Five homers paced the Tigers to their sweep over the in-and-out Orioles. Bill Bruton hit a three-run homer and Vic Wertz also connected in the opener while Al Kaline, Steve Boros and Rocky Colavito homered in the finale.

Pete Runnels and Lu Clinton each collected three hits for the Red Sox, who clinched their victory against the A's by kayoing Bill Fisher during a seven-run rally in the third inning.

Early Comer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frank Thomas of the New York Mets played only 41 games of baseball before playing in the minor leagues as a Pittsburgh Pirates' farmhand. His 42nd game of baseball was with Tallahassee.

Harvesters To Scrimmage Today

Hereford Whitefaces Provide Opposition

The Pampa High School Harvesters take to the field this afternoon at 5 o'clock to test their newly - learned offensive and defensive tactics against the AAA Hereford Whitefaces in a controlled scrimmage session.

The scrimmage, in which there will be no kickoffs, will take place on the practice field west of Harvester Stadium. Coaches of both teams will remain on the field to point out errors and do some on-the-spot coaching and there will be no score kept. Each team will have the ball for timed offensive periods and most players of both teams are expected to get into the fray before it's over.

Coach Otis Holladay, starting his first year at the Harvester helm, said today that his charges are, "really receptive to teaching. We are in a real good frame of mind with a lot of spirit."

Seeing action first for the Harvesters this afternoon is expected to be the following offensive lineup:

Others who will be getting large portions of the duty call are quarterback Donny Ayers, tailback Travis Tucker, ends Mike Bridges and Claude Middleton, tackle Shaun Hills and Ricky Goodwin and guard John Osborne. Others will get into the session too, coaches pointed out.

Following the scrimmage, the Pampa Quarterback Club is hosting a Pre-Season Barbecue to be held in the stadium area proper.

According to Forrest Hills, club president, the public is invited and urged to come out today, watch the scrimmage and stay for the barbecue. All club members are especially urged to be on hand, along with all sports fans and Harvester supporters, Hills said.

Tickets to the barbecue are $1.50 per plate. It is expected to get underway about 8 p.m.

On Friday of next week, the Harvesters get the season kicked off in a home game against El Paso Bel Air, a team which is expected to win its district, in a tilt which will start at 7:30 p.m.

Mickey Wright Against Field

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — It was Mickey Wright against the field today as the nation's top women golfers teed off in the $8,500 Eugene Ladies Open.

The 27-year-old swinger from Dallas, Tex., headed a field of some 30 professionals plus a large group of amateurs.

The 72-hole tournament runs through Sunday with 18 holes per day scheduled.

Miss Wright came here fresh from winning the Spokane Women's Open where she broke the Ladies Professional Golf Association 72-hole record with a 275. She has won $15,337 this year.

TWO JOCKEYS STAR

SALEM, N.H. (UPI) — Backers of jockeys Roy Parker and Hank Wajda may have had a profitable day at Rockingham Park Wednesday. Wajda rode both ends of the $12.00 daily double and Parker rode three straight winners — Miss Cha Cha ($10.00), in the fourth, Charlie Scott ($5.00) in the fifth and Lynnfield ($20.80) in the sixth.

Area Teams To Open Season Friday Night

Football season in the Top O' Texas gets underway in grand style tomorrow night with a full slate of games for area towns.

Most of the teams in the Pampa vicinity play each other with little travel involved for the season's inaugurals.

Headlining the slate will be the White Deer Buck - Perryton Ranger encounter at White Deer with two of the area's powers squaring off to give each other an early test.

The Bucks are rated high this year but step up into a tougher classification, AA, and tomorrow night's contest could "point the way" for the team this fall.

Perryton is not highly regarded in its own district but rumor has it that the team has been "overlooked" in an effort to find a ball club to halt the Dumas march toward a second 1 - AAA title.

White Deer is really stepping out, jumping from competition with A clubs for the most part last year to a start against a AAA team this fall.

Coach Colie Huffman's team is rated to be a strong contender in its district and tomorrow night's game could help in a large way to prove or disprove the team's ranking.

Injuries won't enhance the Buck chances Friday night as Carlton Alexander and Carroll Russell are injured . . . Alexander with an leg injury and Russell suffering from a kidney infection.

Coach Huffman also has plenty of respect for the "double tough" Perryton squad and is expecting a rough night.

In other area contests, Panhandle takes on AA Spearman at Spearman, Groom travels to Lefors, McLean will waltz over to tangle with the Shamrock Irish, Wheeler visits the Canadian Wildcats, Mobeetie is open and the 8-man squad at Miami is switching to 11-man football just for tomorrow night to play Boys Ranch.

Strong Field Opens Play At Denver

DENVER (UPI) — The strongest field in the history of the Denver Open — even without Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player — began swinging today for $35,000 in the four-day, 72-hole tourney at Denver Country Club.

The field of 120 pros and 22 amateurs included more "big names" than any previous Denver Open, which was a financial flop last year. Part of the attraction for this tourney could be the $20,000 in bonus money to be awarded the 10 leaders in this and four other western tourneys—Seattle, Portland, Las Vegas and Bakersfield. The top 10 will be determined on a point basis at the conclusion of the five tourneys under sanction of the Western States Golf Association.

But Palmer, Player and Nicklaus will be battling Saturday and Sunday in the "World Series of Golf" at Akron, Ohio, and will miss the Denver Open, which winds up on Sunday.

Tabbed as favorites over the par 35-35—70, 6,753-yard Denver Country Club course are Billy Casper Jr., Bob Goalby, Doug Sanders and Bruce Crampton, all among golf's top 10 money winners this year.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Detour Sign For Burglars

One of the best approaches to crime deterrent is being undertaken in the Panhandle by the law enforcement officer members of the Top O' Texas Crime Seminar which met in Pampa a couple of days ago.

The newly - formed group is made up of lawmen from police, sheriff and Highway Patrol departments.

Their immediate aim is to spread ideas and information throughout the Panhandle and western Oklahoma in an effort to throw a block into burglars and safecrackers.

Eventually the group plans to expand its activities to include southern Kansas, southern Colorado and eastern New Mexico.

We understand similar plans have been launched in the past but died aborning.

Texas Ranger Bill Henslee of Pampa is president of the new Crime Seminar and a more enthusiastic lawman you won't find anywhere.

One likes to think that under Ranger Henslee's push and initiative along with the officers serving with him and the advisory board that has been named, this plan will succeed and grow.

Anything will work if you work at it. Just as we feel the K-9 Corps would be a good thing to try out in Pampa, we feel that the Crime Seminar should be given every chance and all the encouragement it can get from the public and other law enforcement officers who have not yet joined up with it officially.

What better check-rein could you find than a systematic exchange of information about known criminals who have been operating in the area? The Crime Seminar's plan is to keep a constant day-by-day tab and vigil on the whereabouts and activities of these known criminals.

A system already has been set up to keep burglary offender history records of all known burglars in the Panhandle. If this plan is put into action by every police and sheriff's department, as is expected, it will serve as a crime library second to none on the movements of known criminals.

Certainly it will make burglars and safecrackers take a second look at their plans before moving into a "trapped" territory. The chances are nine out of ten they won't take the risk involved.

More or Less

Almost every man can do more work than he thinks he can. Also, almost every man does less work than he thinks he does.

The Big Squeeze

Ladd Plumley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, has been urging an immediate tax cut. President Kennedy has already stated that there will be no immediate tax cut.

But Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, the man in the Senate who has for years served as a conservative bell-wether, has also stated quite emphatically that this is no time for a tax-cut; rather, that government spending must be reduced before a tax cut could be meaningful.

Plumley and Byrd are both well - meaning and both are correct. What is needed, of course, is both a tax reduction of mammoth size and an even larger reduction in government spending.

But President Kennedy has chosen to go along with Byrd, even tho his reasons for so choosing are probably far removed from Byrd's cautious and realistic view.

President Kennedy, as the head of the largest government on earth (saving only that of Russia), wants the government to play an ever larger part in our scheme of living. Therefore, he wants to see neither a tax cut nor a reduction in government spending. Kennedy wants this nation to become more and more dependent on federal whim and federal control.

By such a process Kennedy's job gets bigger and bigger and his chances of being enthroned as a hero in history are enlarged. At least, this view is consonant with Kennedy's repeated posturing.

The trouble is that Kennedy appears to be indifferent to the problem faced by non - political America. If our energies are geared more and more to political reliance, it must follow that there will be fewer and fewer energies left with which to produce and distribute in the private sector.

But let us leave Kennedy out of the picture for the moment and consider Messrs. Plumley and Byrd. Each is speaking up in relation to a single side of the nutcracker which has American taxpayers in a vise-like grip. Plumley sees the fact of our over-taxed position and wants it rectified. Byrd recognizes that reducing taxes, unless federal expenditures are reduced at the same time, will only result in a larger debt than ever.

What we should see, as the painful jaws of this pincer close on our incomes and resources, is that we are caught in a double grip and that there is no way we can get out of the problem by following the same old, hallowed customs which have brought us to this predicament.

What we have done is this. We have granted to the government the power to tax us without limit (this is implicit in Article I, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution and did not require the 16th Amendment, which merely confirmed and extended the power) and in addition, we have ordered the government to pay ALL DEBTS for whatever purpose they may have been incurred.

The jaws of this nut - cracker have serrated edges. The further into the maw of confiscation we move, the less likely are we to extricate ourselves. What will be the outcome?

The American people are away behind the times if they fancy that by changing presidents, political parties, or by getting an occasional "good" man into office these facts can be overcome.

We are in the days predicted by Benjamin Franklin, who opined that this nation would end in a despotism when that was the only kind of a government the people would accept. We are in the period predicted by de Tocqueville, who gave the republic 200 years from the date of the ratification of the Constitution before it would become a tyranny.

We are experiencing the observation of Lord Macaulay, who advised that our Constitution was "all sail and no anchor."

If we are going to yet save our free market economy and the American heritage of freedom and liberty, it will have to be free men outside of government who bring about the salvation. And they will not bring it about by committing their scarce energies to further enlargement and reliance upon the political form which is doing us in.

In the drama being enacted, President Kennedy is more the pawn than the principal actor. And Byrd and Plumley are but symptomatic of the times.

It is the power in government that is our enemy. And we are fooling ourselves if we think that government is going to bring about a limitation on itself, when, in point of fact, there is no power on earth capable of forcing such a limitation, saving your willingness to be independent of the government and fully self-reliant.

More than ever before the future is being prepared by the little man, the taxpayer, who has it in his power to learn the effectiveness of moral force, and the potency of self-reliance.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. Marilyn Monroe was known throughout the world simply by her initials, M.M. That's a distinction Elizabeth Taylor never achieved —being known in headline or text as E.T. or L. T. Still, though, she's recognized everywhere just by the designation Liz. . .2. In earlier days many a Cabinet officer had no qualifications for his position. It's related that one newly - appointed Secretary of the Navy boarded a mighty battleship for the first time and the admiral conducted him on an inspection tour. As he descended below decks, the Secretary exclaimed in amazement, "Why, the damned thing's hollow!" Like many a landlubber, he had thought a dreadnaught was solid steel floating on water. . .3. Long before the cigarette that tastes good like a cigarette should was marketed, Ring Lardner, as radio critic of New Yorker magazine in 1932, was crusading against lyric writers who employed "like" for "as." But to Fourth Estaters "hard" news is solid, unembellished fact, not subjected to interpretation or analysis. "Hard" news, in fact, is the opposite of what many Washington columnists write. What those fellows bang out is known as "think pieces."

Caribbean Gov'ts Sound Out Pres. for Meeting on Cuba; Use of Force Proposed to Offset New Military Buildup

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Six Central American countries are quietly sounding out President Kennedy on whether he is willing to attend an emergency conference on the growing Cuban threat.

Guatemala, Nicaragua, Honduras, Costa Rica, El Salvador, and Panama propose that a heads - of - government meeting be held in Panama later this month or early in October.

These Caribbean nations want President Kennedy to discuss what collective action can be taken to meet the mounting threat to their country's security by the arrival in Cuba of new Soviet military equipment and technicians.

Ways and means of getting the Kennedy Administration's lagging Alliance for Progress program off the ground also would be taken up at the conference.

If President Kennedy agrees to this meeting, these Central American countries plan to organize the conference outside of the Organization of American States to keep Brazil and Mexico from taking part in the discussions.

Neither of these two Latin American giants favor using armed force against Cuba, while the six smaller Central American countries are now definitely leaning in that direction. They want the U.S. to join in using force to topple the Castro regime.

Secretary of State Rusk and Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin are both giving the proposal a cool reception. While they have not rejected the idea outright, these State Department officials have taken the position that the "timing" for a meeting on Cuba is not right. Also, if a conference on Cuba is held, they favor it within the framework of the OAS, with Mexico and Brazil in attendance.

Further, Secretary Rusk argues that no conference should be held until after Congress acts on the Administration's foreign aid program since it includes nearly $1.5 billion in loans and grants for Latin America. This aid program is now before the House Appropriations Committee.

President Kennedy is still undecided what to do. He has put off a decision until General Maxwell Tayor, this personal military representative, completes his special mission to the Caribbean.

Note: In addition to the six countries proposing the Cuban meeting, Haiti, Colombia and the Dominican Republic would be invited to attend.

THE PASSING PARADE — Prime minister Nehru of India plans to retire before the end of the year unless there is a miraculous improvement in his failing health.

The 72-year-old "neutralist" leader is suffering from a cancerous kidney.

He is going to London later this month for special medical treatment by one of Britain's leading specialists on Kidney ailments — a member of London's famed Harley Street group of doctors.

Nehru's trip is being planned in connection with the conference of Commonwealth Prime ministers in London. He will be accompanied by his personal physician and his sister, Madame Pandit, who is deeply concerned about the Prime Minister's health.

Reliable State Department sources report that Nehru's health failure has caused him to begin discussing his successor with top officials of the Congress party.

In these private talks, Nehru has singled out Morarji Desai, 66 - year - old finance minister as his successor. Desai, who is pro-U.S., is considered by U.S. officials, to be "very able" and a deeply dedicated person. However, these officials point out that no one on the scene in India today can approach Nehru as a national figure.

BATTLE BREWING — Desai's number one opponent for Nehru's job is Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who is supported by the left wing elements in the Congress party and the Communists.

The Communist party in India still remains the second largest despite that country's serious border dispute with the Chinese Communists. The Reds only have 29 seats in India's lower house of parliament but these could become important in the event the larger Congress party splits down the middle over Nehru's successor. The Congress party holds 356 seats and a majority of these members will support Nehru's choice.

U.S. State Department officials are concerned that the "changing of the guard" in India will cause a growing division among that country's political leaders. This could lead to new economic difficulties for that fast growing nation. Serious disintegration in India could pave the way for the Chinese Communists to take over that country and all of Southeast Asia.

INTELLIGENCE WIRE — Katanga's President Tshombe is now receiving arms, including aircraft and heavy artillery, from Portugal. This is the latter country's answer to the Congo government's decision to let Communist-led rebels from Angola set up a training base near Elisabethville, training base near Elisabethville. . .Prime Minister Macmillan is trying to get Australia, Canada, and New Zealand to postpone their meeting on Common Market problems until after the Commonwealth Foreign Ministers meet in London. . .Soviet ships enroute to Cuba are refusing to declare their cargo when they pass through the Turkish Straits. When demands are made, the Soviet skippers report their heavily laiden ships as empty.

Edson In Capitol

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Republican National Committee's Southern division under Chairman I. Lee Potter has premiered here a new National Federation of Young Republicans 12 - minute documentary sound film titled, "New Breed in the South."

It's to be shown at Republican rallies in the 12 southern states as part of the GOP's stepped - up "Operation Dixie."

One goal is to campaign for the election of seven Republican candidates for the U.S. Senate in the seven southern states where seats are at stake this year.

Another goal is to elect at least a dozen more GOP representatives in the 62 out of 113 congressional districts where Republicans are running.

They also hope to pick up a governorship or maybe two, elect far more state legislators, county and city officials than they now have. The big idea is to keep trying to establish a real two-party system in the South, if not this year, some time.

"New Breed in the South" puts its accent on the youth of the southern Republicans as compared to the age of Democratic statesmen. The film opens with quick takes of southern beauty and industry with the voice on the sound track saying that the Republicans are going to deliver the South from the one-party system and challenge the Democratic party for change.

The first close - up is of Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., the man who showed that a Republican could win in Dixie.

Next comes Sen. Thruston Morton, R-Ky., former GOP National Committee chairman. He makes an appeal to the South's tradition of conservatism. He says the Democrats in Congress may be conservative, but in their votes they surrender to the liberalism of Americans for Democratic Action.

"Send us conservatives who will vote Republican to run the country in Congress," is his final pitch.

Close - ups of Republicans now holding state and local offices in the South follow in short takes.

State Rep. Kenneth Kohler of Texas says, "Being a Republican hasn't hurt my small business one bit."

First Republican state legislator in South Carolina, Charles Boineau, elected in 1961, says, "The Democrats can't clean up their own party from within. We Republicans have to start at the local level and build up."

Atlanta Republican Alderman Rodney Cook says he was elected because, "Atlanta wanted honest, alert leadership."

Republican Mayor George McNally of Mobile says, "People take heart from Republican leadership in the South. A two - party system is necessary for the South's welfare."

Florida GOP Rep. William C. Cramer, a Harvard Phi Beta Kappa — defeated in his first try for Congress in 1952 but elected for four terms in a row since then—says he won because, "Republicans and Democrats formed a team to fight for conservatism."

This raises the question, what is the Republican party of Abraham Lincoln — who freed the slaves just 100 years ago—doing to attract Negro voters in the South?

The answer of Lee Potter, who has been working at this GOP Operation Dixie for five years—is that the Republican National Committee makes no mention of "race" in the South. It leaves that issue completely to local communities.

The American Way

THE BATTLE FOR AMERICA

By Harry T. Everingham

EDITOR'S NOTE: Harry T. Everingham is a national patriotic leader dedicated to non-partisan political action to combat Communist forces within the U.S.

For 30 years "Uncle Niki's" agents have infiltrated the various branches of our federal government and most of them are still there today (read Web of Subversion by James Burnham for authentic government reports).

For 20 years in the Department of Agriculture and other bureaus of the federal government, Socialist and Communist-minded officials have warped and distorted the U.S. Constitution by the regulations and edicts they have issued.

For 15 years socialistic pressure groups have been electing and dominating many of our members of Congress so they no longer represent the people.

For 12 years the U.S. Supreme Court has protected and freed convicted agents of "Uncle Niki" until the Attorney - General has now stopped giving orders for the F.B.I. to arrest them.

For the last two years young "liberals" from Harvard and other colleges have been appointed to run or advise our government. For the most part they are Fabian socialists and remind us of the "Brain Trust" from Harvard of 30 years ago. Out of this "Brain Trust" came Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White and other traitors who also called themselves Fabian socialists. America does not need such "economic planners" to tell us how to live and we will not accept such a ruling class to make us "Uncle Niki's" nephews!

FOR VICTORY

The "miracle of America" must be performed by the people of America. Just this year, with the aid of other patriotic organizations, WE THE PEOPLE! have helped to influence the public to write to Congress to defeat much of Kennedy's socialistic legislation.

We defeated Kennedy's unconstitutional Farm Control Bill, which would have produced many more "Billy Sol Estes" cases and imposed rigid socialistic regimentation upon American farmers.

We defeated Kennedy's unconstitutional Urban Affairs Bill, which would have given a Federal agency socialistic control over America's cities.

We defeated Kennedy's uconstitutional Medicare Bill, which would have imposed much higher taxes through social security and would have opened the door for Socialized Medicine.

Kennedy was furious with these defeats. Members of his own party in Congress have told us he is now using "blackjack methods" to bludgeon even the Democratic members into voting for his future legislation. He threatens to withdraw all appointments and contracts for public buildings and defense installations in their Congressional Districts. This, too, is unconstitutional.

Kennedy now says he will "take the issue to the people" in November to purge those members who voted against his measures — and there are many socialistic pressure groups who have huge funds and powerful influence to help him by electing new "liberals" to represent us in Congress!

TO BRING BACK UNCLE SAM

To prevent this purge of loyal American Congressmen, we, the people, must prepare for sound political action. Plans will be laid at the 8th Annual Constitution Day Convention of WE, THE PEOPLE!, which meets in Chicago, September 22 and 23. Every loyal American is invited to participate in this great Convention to plan and endorse the strategy to elect a conservative Congress in 1962 and defeat the New Frontier in 1964.

Sargent Shriver Believes Peace Corps Successful Organization

EDITOR'S NOTE: Baer... Shea... Vallenga... Butterworth. Tick off America's names and you have a measure of her diversity. Also her strength. These are names of Peace Corpsmen who responded to the plea to carry America's story and know-how to less developed nations. The first volunteers under the program left for Ghana a year ago. In the following dispatch, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, now in Singapore, gives his evaluation of how the program has fared.

By SARGENT SHRIVER
Written For UPI

One year ago the first Peace Corps group left to go overseas. They were secondary school teachers, these 51 first volunteers, and they were going to Ghana, a country which had often been critical of the United States.

At that time — a time when many people had their doubts about whether the Peace Corps would work — I warned these young men and women: "You are on trial in Ghana. You will make or break the Peace Corps."

How did they do? Let's let the facts speak for themselves:

Recently, on the first anniversary, a second group of Ghana volunteers—60 secondary and vocational teachers—arrived in Accra. Today, 1,513 volunteers are working in 19 countries as teachers, agricultural workers, surveyors, youth workers, engineers, home economists, nurses, and in many other fields. Today, in 31 American universities, over 2,000 men and women between 18 and 75, from all walks of life, of every race, color and creed, are being given expert training for Peace Corps projects overseas.

I think these are impressive facts.

Group Was Successful

I don't mean to suggest that the success of the Peace Corps is due solely to the efforts of the first Ghana group; but I maintain that had that group failed, the Peace Corps could well have failed.

What made the group succeed?

On my trip to Ghana in April of 1961, many Ghanaians worried about the Peace Corps and whether or not it was an instrument for subversion of the less developed countries into puppets of the American economic imperialism.

Nevertheless, I met with President Kwame Nkrumah in Accra. He called the Peace Corps a "bold and splendid Idea," and, asked for 50 to 75 secondary school teachers. The program was born.

Four months after my meeting with President Nkrumah, our first volunteers arrived on foreign soil. As they got off the airplane, one of the volunteers gave a brief talk —in Twi — the loal Ghanian language — the theme of which was that they had come to learn as well as to teach. Then the group sang a Ghanaian song — again in Twi — which they had practiced on the plane.

The impact was immediate. The education officer of the Ghana government, who had opposed the Peace Corps, led a spontaneous cheer for the Americans.

Everywhere the volunteers travelled during the next few days people recognized them as the "Americans who sang our song," who had come "to learn as well as to teach." These were the Americans who had taken the trouble to learn the local language before arriving. These were the Americans with a sense of humility.

Had Their Problems

I do not mean to suggest that all was smooth sailing for the volunteers. As they began their teaching assignments in schools throughout the country, they were faced with many problems and frustrations. Yet after one year on trial they have earned these words of praise from Ghana's minister of education, A. J. Dowuona-Hammond:

"Thanks to the good sense, open-mindedness and the freshness of the approach to the challenge offered the Peace Corpsmen, I am happy to learn that they have all settled down very well and feel quite at home in their new surroundings. In general, the heads of their institutions have spoken in glowing terms of their helpfulness and enthusiasm."

The volunteers have found that their duties and activities extend beyond the classroom into all the extra-curricular activities of a boarding school.

Perhaps the best indication of the effectiveness of the first group of volunteers is that the government of Ghana has asked for more.

Aware Of Standard

The men and women in this second contingent have a high standard to live up to, and they are well aware of it. How do they feel about going? Let me quote from one of them, Blair Butterworth of New Orleans:

"Now that our program is over and we are ready in every sense of the word to go, we have the greatest professional respect for the first group. After all, they joined the Peace Corps when it was really new. All they had were guesses. Their joining was an act of faith. They have made our coming a much easier thing. Now, all of Gahana will welcome us, the new group.

"I know, as we all know, that they are nervous about our coming. They are afraid that we will do something that will ruin their patience, good judgment, and hard efforts. We will not. We are full of admiration for them, but we will not sit and idealize them. We have come to do a job too, and we will do it."

I have every confidence that the second group, like the first, will be a credit to themselves and to their country.

Former Area Woman Doesn't Think Peace Corps Is So 'Hot'

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Janie Fletcher, a former home demonstration agent at Panhandle, was "booted out" of the Peace Corps last spring for, among other things, being physically unable to participate in certain Peace Corps training requirements. Mrs. Fletcher is 65 years old.)

By MRS. C. F. HOOD
Pampa News Correspondent

"I was under the impression that I was to spread Peace and not to go to War" Mrs. Janie Fletcher stated as she visited with Panhandle friends recently in the home of Mrs. T. M. Cleek.

Mrs. Fletcher, who had been home demonstation agent of Carson County for 5½ years, entered the Peace Corps on January 1 and after six weeks of training in Washington, D.C., was sent to Puerto Rico for further training for service in Brazil.

Mrs. Fletcher was accepted for the training of 4-H leaders but in Puerto Rico was required to take combat training under a 28 - year-old, $50 a day man, who "had no mercy for her 65 years."

When asked if she would go back into the Corps again if the allegations against her were cleared up, she stated that she would not, because she had thought she was going as a teacher and knew that she was not physically capable of doing the things required of her such as three day hikes with a 30 - pound pack, being required to swim with feet and hands tied, being pushed off of a cliff backward, taking setting up exercises at 6 a.m. and performing other feats required of 18-year-old Army recruits.

She stated that the tactics used were far from what she had been told were requirements for teaching youth and she felt that her physical exhaustion was "maybe for the best," for now she would have a chance to do something for youth. She began her work recently as counselor of women at Colorado College at Colorado Springs, Colo., where her first job was to train dormitory directors.

This college is a privately endowed one, founded in 1874, and teaches liberal arts, the sciences and the humanities.

Since returning from Puerto Rico, where she was hospitalized for several days, Mrs. Fletcher has been making her home with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Belew and family of Houston, and visiting other relatives and friends, including her son, Mr. and Mrs. Carney B. Fletcher and family in Baytown.

Mrs. Fletcher has protested the methods used in the Corps and told of the treatment she has received but the Corps has charged that she would not learn the Portugese language, which she had already done before she left Washington.

She said, "There is no use trying to change things, when the President's brother - in - law is in charge of the Corps and will not admit that mistakes have been made. The principle is right but the methods are wrong, and I would certainly not want a young person of impressionable age to be subjected to the language that I was."

Mrs. Fletcher was a recent week end guest of Mrs. T. M. Cleek at her home, 1405 Park, where open house was held for friends of Mrs. Fletcher to call.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The worsening ailment of the U. S. dollar invites the Republicans this year to make dollar sickness their No. 1 congressional campaign issue. They may just do that, too.

Republican politicians are beginning to get the word. The word is that U. S. citizens are beginning to worry about the bucks in their pockets and their bucks in the bank. High time. The U. S. dollar has been losing its purchasing power at an alarming rate.

The U. S. dollar as of mid-summer, 1962, was worth 90.459 in purchasing power compared with what the dollar would buy 23 years ago, in 1916. On comparison with the 1936 dollar, U. S. citizens are working today for a dollar that has lost more than half of its buying power.

Loses Five Cents

A more important calculation of dollar purchasing power accepts the average 1957-59 buying power of the dollar as a standard 100 cents. The Labor Department's consumer price index states that on the 1957-59 basis, the U. S. dollar had lost five cents in purchasing power by June of this year. The figure was $0.950. The most recent price index calculated dollar purchasing power as of last July at $0.948; more rotting in a matter of weeks!

Some economists and financial writers happily proclaim that the rotting of the U. S. dollar by currency inflation has ended. Moreover, they note that the U. S. wholesale price index has been steady for the past three years.

Decline in July

So be it. This, however, does not deny the fact that the bucks in your pocket and your bucks in the bank are worth less today in terms of baby shoes than they were worth a year ago. Moreover, those bucks were worth less in July than they were worth in June. Not much less, it is true, but less.

True, also, that the dollar rotting rate is less—much less—no than when Harry S. Truman was the free-spending guardian of the U. S. citizen's welfare, his pocketbook, his insurance money and his money in the bank. The First National City Bank of New York also calculates that the annual rate at which the U. S. dollar shucked its purchasing power in the 10 years 1951-61, Republican years, was 1.4 per cent.

At that rate of shrinkage, the United States could achieve the two-bit dollar in about 25 years, around 1987. That is, a two-bit dollar in comparison to the 100 cent dollar of 1939. The family man who is now 40 years old and who will be 65 and retirable in 1987 should ponder those figures.

The dollar rotting trend toward the two-bit dollar has been slowed but it has not been stopped. If the trend continues or resumes at the 1951-61 rot-rate, today's 40-year-old who retires in 1987 is likely to be in a bad way. His pension and savings dollars won't buy what he expected they would buy.

One of the major contributing causes of currency inflation is government spending beyond government income. The Republicans are not clean of guilt for irresponsible government spending. They are cleaner, however, than the Democrats. Clean enough that the Republicans are in a position this year to make campaign medicine for the dollar sickness that so menaces the welfare of the common man.

If the common man really gets the word on what has happened to his dollars he is likely to express some indignation at the pols.

HUNTING DOGS POISONED

AVEZZANO, Italy (UPI) — Farmers in the nearby mountain area were so disgruntled over what they considered an excessively early start to the hunting season that they poisoned more than 150 hunting dogs, police said today.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walt McKibben, editor of Investographs Stock Survey, attaches significance to the market's action since the 600 barrier in the industrial average was broken and says "We are now mildly bullish."

He thinks the market is rather cheap, that there will be no recession, that 1963 may be weak but not frighteningly so, and that there are numerous opportunities in the present market. But on the other hand, he adds, "There is no signal yet for a rapid upward move."

Oppenheimer, Newborg & Neu says, based on estimates of 1962 industrial earnings, the Dow average shows a present price-earnings ratio of 17½. "Although this is lower than the recent high of 24.2 established in the third quarter of 1961, it is still historically high. We again advise great caution when making new purchases."

The market's cautious behavior last week was comendable and should place it in a stronger posi-
