Keeping tab on our neighbors:

Walker Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter got to thinking about Dawson County's No. 1 product, fed some information into a computer and came up with the revelation that from 1917 to 1975 no less than 5,443,608 bales of cotton have grown in Dawson County fields.

There are no actual records for all of the years since 1917, which was the beginning of cotton production in Dawson County, but the computer printout is believed to be fairly accurate, says Buckel, because "the computer calculated the variables, the increases, decreases and projections in arriving at its compilation."

The idea evolved from a search for a major Bicentennial project. They were hoping for a "Six Million Bale" celebration in '76. Now it looks as if the six millon mark will come closer to '78, but it made interesting reading, anyway.

Jim Cornish of the Post Dspatch observes that "This has been the coolest summer since we came to Post some 18 years ago.."

There have been only four 100-degree days there this summer and these came during a mid-June hot spell.

"In fact, the daily high in July and August hasn't even reached 90 degrees 50 per cent of the time," says Cornish. "But the humidity—wheeew, that's another matter."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, August 22, the 234th day of 1975. There are 131 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, during World War II, Nazi troops reached the outskirts of the Russian city of Leningrad.

On this date:

In 1654, the man who has gone down in history as the first Jewish emigrant to America, Jacob Barsimson, landed in New Amsterdam.

In 1762, the first American woman newspaper editor, Ann Franklin, went to work at the Newport Mercury in Rhode Island.

In 1776, during the Revolutionary War, British General William Howe landed 10,000 soldiers on New York's Long Island.

In 1846, the annexation of New Mexico as U.S. territory was announced at Santa Fe.

In 1910, Japan annexed Korea.

In 1956, a Republican National Convention in San Francisco renominated President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon for second terms.

Ten years ago: National Guard troops with fixed bayonets lined the streets of Springfield, Mass., as civil rights marchers moved peaceably through the city.

Five years ago: Vice President Spiro Agnew left for the Far East to assure friendly nations the U.S. would stand by them while lowering its profile in the area.

One year ago: Panama and Cuba re-established diplomatic relations, ending a 12-year break.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION BICENTENNIAL 1776-1976
RECOGNIZED BY AMERICAN REVOLUTION BICENTENNIAL ADMINISTRATION

IT'S OFFICIAL NOW— Joel Horton, assistant director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, displays the Bicentennial flag during presentation ceremonies Thursday evening making Scurry County an official Bicentennial Community. Seated at right is State Sen. Ray Farabee, guest speaker at the presentation ceremonies.

Scurry County Becomes Bicentennial Community

"Normally, you would receive a certificate when you have completed a job. Today, you receive a certificate for starting a job."

Thus, Scurry County officially became a Bicentennial Community as Joel E. Horton, assistant director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, presented a certificate and Bicentennial flag in brief ceremonies Thursday evening on the courthouse square.

The certificate was presented to Truett Bryan, mayor pro tem of Snyder, and the Bicentennial flag was presented to County Judge Preston Wilson.

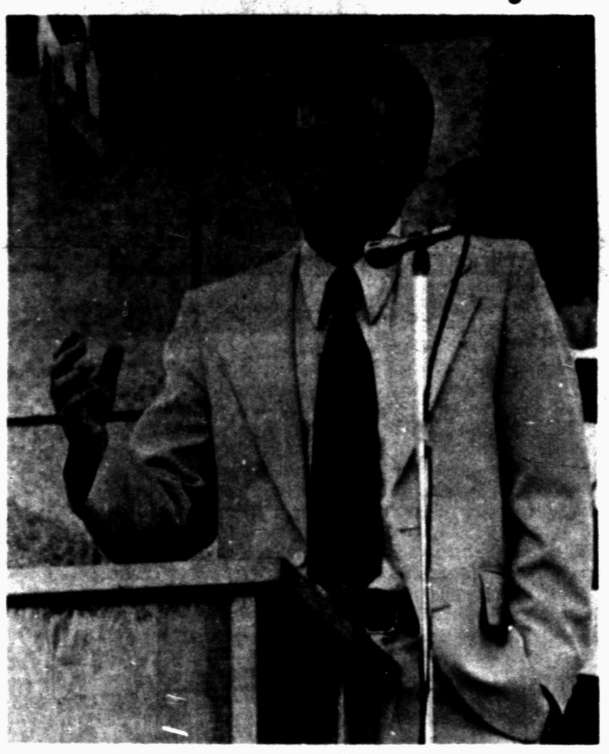

Following the presentation ceremonies, State Sen. Ray Farabee told some 200 persons who had assembled for the occasion that the Bicentennial is not significant merely because of "where we have been," but also for "where we are going."

Farabee emphasized the role this area has played in the development of the nation.

"This is not a television set and air conditioning area, but rather one that has produced food, fiber and energy," he reminded. These contributions, he said, have been vital to the country and are worthy of attention as the nation celebrates its 200th year. Moreover, he said it is the spirit of the people who developed this area that will assure that the country endures for another 200 years and 200 more beyond that.

In his remarks during the presentation ceremonies, Horton noted that the citizens of Scurry County had declared their interest in celebrating the greatness of the country and its 200th year of existence.

"You have declared that you will re-affirm the ideas and ideals that built this country. Therefore, it is my honor to present this certificate on behalf of the governor and the Bicentennial Commission of Texas declaring Scurry County as an official Bicentennial County in the State of Texas. Also, from the Federal administration, in the name of John Warner, this certificate declares Scurry County as a National Bicentennial County," said Horton.

SENATOR OPTIMISTIC— State Sen. Ray Farabee, guest speaker at the Bicentennial flag presentation ceremony here Thursday, said he was optimistic that the nation would continue 200 more years and 200 more beyond that because of the productive capacity of areas like West Texas.

Noting that only those counties that pledge to observe and celebrate the Bicentennial are eligible to fly the Bicentennial flag, Horton said that Scurry County was joining 5,000 other areas in the country and more than 300 in Texas who can fly the flag.

"So, in the name of he President of the United States, may I present this to you. Fly it proudly...."

The program featured special music by the Bicentennial Orchestra, a local group that played vintage tunes for the occasion, and a singing group from New Hope Baptist Church which was presented by the Rev. Urias Hill, pastor.

Delbert Downing, general chairman of the Scurry County Bicentennial and Centennial Commission, presided. He introduced Dr. Ben Brock, Scurry County Bicentennial coordinator; Jean Everett, Scurry County Centennial Coordinator; Vera McSpadden, Bicentennial Festival chairman; John Jarrell, Bicentennial Heritage chairman, and George Patterson, Bicentennial Horizons chairman.

Farabee was introduced by State Rep. Mike Ezzell, and the Rev. Otto Schaufele, pastor of First Christian Church and president of the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance, gave the invocation. Dr. Brock led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Following the ceremonies, the Chamber of Commerce Gold Coaters served lemonade.

'Bunch More' Arrests Due In Oil Theft Ring

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

Sheriff Don Atkins of Ballinger says "there will be a bunch more" arrests made before authorities complete their investigation of an alleged oil theft ring that might be of interstate proportions.

Three men have been arrested so far, and arrest warrants have been sent to Abilene and Houston for three more.

Atty. Gen. John Hill personally entered the investigation Thursday, saying:

"We are going to stay on it. We will be following up all these leads. Our role, as I see it, will be to coordinate the investigation."

Hill said he expected to bring in the state auditor to examine books of one or more refineries that bought oil—apparently without knowing that it was stolen—to obtain further information on the amount of oil involved.

"We certainly want to get some idea of the volume," he said.

Texas Rangers, local law officers, Hill's organized crime division and the Texas Railroad Commission already are in on the probe. Hill said he probably would call in the FBI and the Louisiana Conservation Commission because of a possible Louisiana connection.

"We do have reason to believe it is an organized ring," Hill said. He was careful, however, to avoid any implication that it might be connected with a pre-existing crime syndicate.

Roy Payne, director of the railroad commission's field operations division, said Wednesday he had information but no definite proof that the hot oil ring was based in Louisiana.

Payne said Texas City Refining Co. bought at least seven tanker trucks full of oil—1,300 barrels—from the alleged thieves but appeared to have been "an unwitting purchaser."

'Some Progress' Reported After Talks In Israel

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

ALEXANDRIA Egypt (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger made "some progress" today in five hours of talks with the Israelis on a new Sinai pact, then flew from Jerusalem to Alexandria for talks with President Anwar Sadat.

Kissinger said he would return to Jerusalem Saturday night after a stopover in Damascus "to continue the talks with an attitude of hope."

Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon reported "some progress in clarifying certain important points, which makes me more hopeful." Kissinger and Allon declined to predict, however, whether the shuttle would end in success.

Speaking to newsmen, the two leaders said the talks were friendly, and indicated the rift in U.S.-Israeli relations caused by the failure of Kissinger's shuttle last March was over.

Shortly before dawn, several hundred demonstrators drove by Kissinger's hotel, shouting anti-American slogans through loudspeakers. Police drove them away.

As Kissinger met with the Israeli negotiating team, hundreds of right-wing demonstrators opposed to the expected Israeli-Egyptian accord in Sinai blocked traffic in Tel Aviv and fired guns into the air until the police dispersed them.

Meanwhile, in Damascus, Syria and Jordan, the two Arab states lagging behind Egypt in U.S. sponsored peace negotiations with Israel, formed a political command to "take joint decisions on war and peace."

The new alliance was disclosed in a joint communique following five days of talks between King Hussein of Jordan and Syrian President Hafez Assad.

The communique said the two leaders would coordinate policy and "carry out the recommendations and proposals made by a high ministerial committee" formed during Assad's visit to Jordan last month.

Syria has expressed reservations about Egypt's willingness to negotiate a second stage disengagement agreement with Israel in the Sinai Desert.

Assad has enlisted the cooperation of Hussein in an obvious effort to exert pressure on Cairo not to go too far in making unilateral deals with Israel.

Syria and Jordan both feel Israeli withdrawals on the Sinai front should be linked to similar disengagement agreements in the occupied Golan Heights and the west bank of the Jordan River.

Kissinger's step-by-step approach is aimed at securing a Sinai pact first, followed by the Golan Heights and then the west bank.

Argentine Navy Ship Blasted

LA PLATA, Argentina (AP) — Leftist terrorists set off an explosive charge early today inside an Argentine navy missile frigate being built in La Plata, causing damage but no casualties, the navy said.

The navy at first reported erroneously that the charge blew up the ship and sank it, but later said "the ship showed some damage which did not endanger the vessel."

Other sources, however, said the damage was considerable.

The attack came on the third anniversary of the deaths of 16 guerrillas at a navy base in the Patagonian town of Trelew and security forces were placed on full alert expecting violence.

The frigate, the Santisima Trinidad, was rocked by the explosion at 3 a.m. at the Rio Santiago shipyard, 25 miles south of Buenos Aires. The navy said an underwater demolition charge went off in the engine room.

Sources quoted by La Plata newspapers said the leftist Montopero guerrillas claimed responsibility for the explosion.

The Montoneros and the People's Revolutionary Army, the second big leftist guerrilla group in Argentina, claim the guerrillas who died in Trelew three years ago were murdered. But the navy claims they were shot while trying to escape.

Anthrax Cases Confirmed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Anthrax cases have been confirmed in five Texas counties, according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University.

Dr. William Sippel, executive director of the laboratory, said cases were confirmed in livestock in Harris, Medina, Tom Green, Victoria and Falls counties. A major outbreak was reported in Falls County last year.

Sippel and Dr. J.B. Young of the Texas Animal Health Commission said the number of cases this year is "about normal."

Both urged livestock owners to continue yearly vaccination of animals in areas where the spores that carry the usually-fatal disease are known to live in the soil.

First Utility Board Named

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced the appointment today of the first state public utility commissioners in Texas history.

They are George Cowden of Dallas and Pearsall, Alan Erwin of Baytown and William Garrett Morris of Fort Worth.

Cowden, 44, will serve a two-year term, Erwin, 30, a four-year term and Morris, 60, six years. The three commissioners will elect a chairman.

Cowden, a former House member from Waco, is general counsel and senior vice president of the Great American Reserve Insurance Co. He was first assistant attorney general under Crawford Martin and also was chairman of the State Insurance Board.

Erwin currently is serving as director of the office of state-federal relations in Washington, a job to which Briscoe had appointed him. He is a former assistant to the editor and publisher of the Beaumont Enterprise-Journal and a former administrative assistant to Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex.

Morris, a lawyer, is a member of the State Welfare Board and is a past member of the State Highway Commission and the Department of Public Safety Commission.

"These appointments," Briscoe said in a statement, "are the result of one of the most intensive efforts of my 2½ year administration to find exactly the right people for the right job. The standards that I set were high."

The commissioners go to work Sept. 1 at an annual salary of $40,500 each but state regulation does not actually begin until September 1976.

The commission was created by the 1975 legislature.

The commissioners must hire a director, accountant, engineer, research specialist, general counsel and other employes to deal with the complexities of regulating public utility rates and services.

For the first two years, the agency will regulate all intrastate telephone rates and service and electric, water and sewer utilities in incorporated areas.

After two years, cities could turn over their regulation of electric, water and sewer utilities to the commission. If they make that choice, cities would have to live with it for at least five years.

The law specifies that cities must continue to regulate natural gas utilities, except in unincorporated areas where the Texas Railroad Commission retains jurisdiction. The railroad commission also would maintain jurisdiction over natural and synthetic natural gas pipelines.

Cities could obtain consultants without cost from the utilities commission, and the cities' cost for any litigation involving utility rates would have to be borne by the utility.

Strikers Ignore Order By Court

By BOB ROBINSON
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Southern West Virginia coal miners ignored federal court orders and the pleas of union officials today and remained on strike. Miners in parts of Kentucky, Ohio and Virginia joined the wildcat walkout in apparent sympathy.

At the heart of the 13-day-old strike is concern by miners over judicial processes and what they contend is the slow implementation of new grievance procedures. Miners say coal companies refuse to arbitrate disagreements promptly but rush into federal court when workers strike.

A spokesman for the 17,000-member United Mine Workers District 17, which is centered here and covers much of the southern part of the state, said there was no back-to-work movement despite a temporary restraining order issued Thursday by a federal judge.

A UMW District 29 spokesman said there was no indication that miners in that area, centered in Beckley southeast of Charleston, planned to obey the court order to halt picketing and return to work.

The West Virginia Coal Association estimated today that some 35,000 miners, more than half the total number of miners in the state, have joined the walkout.

Miners in the Appalachian area traditionally will not cross any picket line, but there were no reports of picketing today, the last regular work day of the week.

About 300 miners gathered near the federal building in downtown Charleston today to protest the court action in connection with the strike. They carried signs and milled peacefully around the building for a short time before moving in front of the West Virginia Coal Association's offices. No incidents were reported.

Several coal companies asked courts today to issue further restraining orders against the strike.

A spokesman for the striking miners said they want a stop to all federal court injunctions, a right-to-strike clause and amnesty for persons fired, fined or jailed during the current strike.

Pre-Marital Affair Still Haunts Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I am able to appreciate the wisdom of your advice to the girl who was reluctant to tell her fiance that she had undergone an abortion before they met.

The adage "honesty is the best policy" can, in some cases, hold nothing but regret for the wide-eyed innocent who is eager to start married life with no secrets.

As a naive 19-year-old, I confessed to my fiance that there had been another man in my life before I met him. And I foolishly told him who it was.

Thirty years and four adult children later, my husband still throws this man in my face periodically, even though I have been a devoted and faithful wife.

How much better off we both would have been had I not made that confession.

I hope you will print this for others who might be inclined to tell all. Silence is indeed golden.

IDIOT WAR BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Silence is not always golden. It is sometimes "guilt."

DEAR ABBY: I would like to be cremated when I die. Is that possible? I am a Catholic.

Also how much is involved, moneywise? Please answer in your column. There must be others wanting the same information. Thank you.

WANTS CREMATION

DEAR WANTS: Catholics may now be cremated. The cost will depend upon your funeral director, but it shouldn't cost any more than $300 to go up in smoke.

DEAR ABBY: Veneral disease is now SECOND on the list of communicable diseases. The first is the common cold.

Most people don't know that if V.D. goes untreated, it can affect the heart, and spinal cord, and can eventually lead to death.

The National Community Service Corps has established a national hotline that can be called FREE from anywhere in the U.S.A.

It is operated mostly by teenagers who have all the answers concerning V.D., including the symptoms to look for as well as where to go for free examination and treatment in your own community.

The number to call is 1-800-523-1885.

JO-ANNE IN MASS.

DEAR JO-ANNE: I checked it out without disclosing my identity and received straight, accurate and easily understood answers to all the questions I asked about V.D. I highly recommend this service to anyone who has reason to believe that he (or she) has a venereal disease.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. IN ANCHORAGE: It is said that one does not look behind the door unless he has once stood there, himself. If I were you, I'd watch HIM!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

CPT Has Its 2nd Meeting

Concerned Parents for Teenagers held its second meeting at Grace Lutheran Church to discuss further the needs and possible solutions for troubled teenagers in Snyder.

Biggest problems CPT is concerned with are needs of youth who are on drugs, runaways, unwed mothers and teenagers with emotional problems or family conflicts.

Some of the suggestions made to CPT include a telephone "hotline," a big brother-sister program, and a counseling center staffed with trained personnel.

CPT plans to meet with representatives from several troubled youth-oriented agencies in Snyder to determine the best answer to the combined problems.

All interested persons are invited to attend the next meeting of CPT, which wiull be held at 7 p.m. Sept. 11 at Grace Lutheran Church. Anyone with questions may call the Rev. Henry Hartman at 573-2916 or 573-7507.

Motel Assn. Meets Here

Proposed increases in city sewer rates and plans for a booth at the Scurry County Fair were discussed at the August meeting of the Snyder Motel Association held at the Pal-O-Mar Motel.

Members noted that the new sewer rates will not affect single bath residence, but falls heavily on the SMA, with member motels having over 200 baths. However, City Manager George Patterson explained that the funds are needed if Snyder is to grow and meet the requirements of the Clean Water Act.

Members were so pleased with response to the booth at the fair last year that they voted unanimously to participate again this year.

Burch Bownman, special guest at the meeting, spoke to the group on prospects for oil development in this area and the motel trends that may be anticipated.

SMA members attending were Art Feinsod, George and Priscilla Hammerdahl, Mary Smelser, Sue Shipp, A.L. Rene and Catherine Williams. The next meeting will be held Sept. 14 at the TraveLodge.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't make any important decisions today. Your judgment and thinking are not clear. Be alert for carelessness.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're still in a cycle when friends can't fulfill your needs. In fact, they can prove to be expensive today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Avoid arguments at home today. Harsh words could inflict wounds that won't heal easily, and could leave lasting scars.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This could be one of your moody days. If you're not careful depression will control everything you think and do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're still spending much more than you can afford. If you watched your pocketbook, you'd have no cause to lose your temper.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Because you feel pulled in too many directions, your patience could fail. You might find yourself in a bitter argument.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're crabby today because work that you've ignored catches up with you. You'd rather be playing tennis or golf.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you just might say what you're thinking to another. Bite your tongue. You could lose a very good friend permanently.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) While trying to impress others with your sense of timing, you'll wind up doing just the opposite and play the bull in the china shop.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Put on your thinking cap if you're trying to remember people's names in introductions. You could offend someone important by mis-mouthing her name.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't try to match wits with the men who manage money today. You'll come up on the short end if you try to outsmart them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll be torn between the desire to do something that has to be done for a friend and the knowledge that you are probably being used in the process.

Space Colonies Viewed As Sources Of Energy

By MIKE DUNSTAN
Associated Press Writer

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — A $100 billion city in space that would house 10,000 people and beam solar energy to earth could be a reality within 20 years, according to a select team of scholars.

After a 10-week study, 28 scientists, engineers and students have recommended that the United States create space colonies using technology already available and minerals mined from the moon.

Findings were revealed in advance of a news conference today at Ames Research Center, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration facility.

The scholars said a space colony, once built, could transmit limitless solar energy to earth 24 hours a day.

Dr. Gerard K. O'Neill, a Princeton University physics professor, originated the space colony idea. The summer-long study session was sponsored by NASA and the American Society of Engineering Education.

In an interview, O'Neill said the first hurdle proponents face is convincing the government and public that living in space is no longer a dream, but an achievable goal.

"I'd say people have been planetary chauvinists," O'Neill said. "They haven't considered living anywhere but on earth because they've believed they couldn't live anywhere else."

As envisioned, the space colony would resemble a mile-wide wheel and have 10,000 inhabitants living in the outer rim. The vessel would orbit between the earth and moon, some 280,000 miles out in space.

Food for all residents would grow on 111 acres, with crops bathed in continuous sunlight. To maintain gravity similar to earth's, the craft would make one complete revolution every minute.

Residents would have a half-mile-long landscaped vista and pure water would be recycled from sewage. The air would be cleaner than that in any city on earth because of constant filtering.

O'Neill said construction could begin now, using present technology, and the first colony could be functional by the early 1990s.

"It would be an incredible undertaking to try to launch the space colony from earth, whether as a whole or by pieces," he said. "It would be much easier to lift construction equipment — less than 1 per cent as heavy as the entire station — into a lunar orbit with simple rockets used in the space shuttle program."

The space shuttle is a reflyable, rocket-powered ship which will ferry scientists and others into space. It is expected to be fully operational in the 1980s.

Despite the expense, the study said the project would more than pay for itself by offering unlimited solar power for earth and by easing population-and resource-related problems on earth.

'Weather War' Ban Proposed

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union are proposing a ban on an undeveloped method of warfare that has caused some public anxiety but appears to offer no threat to the world for years to come.

It is called "environmental modification techniques," which means manipulation of the structure of the earth, plant life, air and outer space to cause earthquakes, floods and changes in the weather, climate, ocean currents and other ecological factors.

The subject was first raised by former President Richard M. Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Breshnev at their July 1974 meeting. They decided experts from their governments should meet for a close look at the matter.

The United Nations General Assembly picked up the idea and referred it to the Geneva Disarmament Conference. Breshnev and President Ford discussed it again last Nov.23 in Vladivostok.

On Thursday, the American and Soviet cochairmen of the disarmament conference, Joseph Martin Jr. and Alexei Roshchin, presented a joint draft convention to ban environmental warfare.

Proposed as a basis for negotiations and likely to be changed in many ways, the draft contains no prohibition against development of environment-changing techniques for either military or civilian purposes.

Gray Service At Amarillo

Funeral services for Murray Gray are set for Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Saint Andrews Episcopal Church in Amarillo. Mr. Gray, born Dec. 23, 1917, died this morning in an Amarillo hospital following a short illness.

Survivors include his wife, the former Irene Taylor, of the home; two daughters, Mrs. Dewey Hicks of Tucson, Arizona and Mrs. Paul Cizon of Amarillo; one son, Mike Gray, of Oklahoma City; his mother, Mrs. R. Instrument Display Set At Jr. High

There will be an instrument display in the Snyder Junior High Band Hall at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The display is for all seventh grade beginning band students and their parents for the purpose of familiarizing them with the instruments available and for choosing the proper instrument for the student.

At this time, the band directors and the music dealer will work together with parents in determining the most suitable instrument for the student. Anyone not able to attend Monday night is urged to contact Sam Robertson or Lynn Cooper at the Junior High School between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Students who are not signed up for band this fall but are interested in doing so are also urged to contact one of the directors as soon as possible.

White Service Held At Lamesa

Funeral for Mrs. Minnie Mae White, 80, who died at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Leisure Lodge at Lamesa, was held at 4 p.m. today at Branon Funeral Home Chapel in Lamesa. Burial followed in the Lamesa Cemetery.

Mrs. White is the grandmother of Mrs. Tommy McMahan, Mrs. Valton Buchanan and Ronnie Fitzgerald and the great grandmother of Mrs. David Fish of Snyder.

Steam From Gulf Also Possibility

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Super heated water and steam trapped off the Texas Gulf Coast could be part of the nation's energy solution, the U.S. Geological Survey said in a study released this week.

Water and steam under great pressure off Texas' Gulf Coast contain dissolved methane and natural gas, the survey said.

Scientists singled out the Texas Gulf Coast as one of several hot spots off United States shores where high temperatures are found close enough to the surface to permit tapping.

The San Antonio Express-News' Washington Bureau reported the Geological Survey study Thursday.

Most other steam and superheated water areas in the United States, primarily off the West Coast, didn't contain the natural gas found in the Gulf Coast kettles.

That gas could be "a valuable by-product if sufficient quantities are present," the survey said.

Scientists said that if the United States geothermal energy were fully utilized, the hot water and steam could produce 42,000 megawatts of electricity continuously for 100 years.

The estimate was based on geothermal energy recoveragle at present cost levels to twice present cost levels, the study said.

United States electrical production capacity from all sources is 400,000 megawatts now.

Scientists from the Energy Research and Development Administration assisted the U.S. Geological Survey in making the geothermal estimates.

They said the estimates are preliminary because relatively little is known about geothermal system size, temperature or potential.

Schools Set Bus Stops To HS, Jr. High

Snyder Public School System has announced a schedule for buses which will be incorporated into the regular transportation of students from the Northeast and East parts of town to the Snyder Junior High and Snyder High School.

FALL-ING IN LINE

Children Demanding More Say About The Clothes They Wear

By JILL LESLIE SENFT

"Mother! I'd rather do it myself!"...is a refrain that has filtered down to childrenswear manufacturers. And for good reason.

Children are deciding what to put on in the morning, and what they will buy in the stores. Mother no longer makes clothing decisions for them on her own. Influenced by older brothers and sisters, by parents, by television and by national events, children are developing their own ideas about what to wear and when. And while younger children may continue to inherit their older sister's or brother's clothes, they still bring their own interpretations to dressing.

Child pshchologists, in fact, encourage parents to let children choose and dress themselves.

"There is nothing unusual for two children of similar ages, from the same family to have different approaches to clothing trends." However, some mothers overlook this fact of individuality.

Manufacturers are aware of junior's influence and one admits that when designing clothes he concentrates on price and easy care for mothers and appeal for the younger generation. No sedate cloors–just bright, comfortable clothes.

The Spirit of '76 and the Nation's focus on the up-and-coming occasion has been gobbled up by American designers. Like numerous other trends passed along to the younger set the look of Early Americana is having its influence. Boosted also by television, especially the tremendously popular "Little House on the Prairie," the calico look or, as one designer referred to it, "our heritage clothes," dominate the market. It adapts well to jumpers and pinafores which are extraordinarily popular. Even separates reflect the covered wagon look. They transcend the boundary of dressy and casual, expressing a leisurely, comfortable air. Although denims and other ultra-casual separates are still strong, skirts are recapturing a healthy chunk of the market from pants, and dresses are important once again. They are soft and more feminine – a whole different feeling from the denim look.

If it's not Americana, other ethnic influences such as the Tyrolian prints peep through. Calicos, quilt copies, patchwork and wallpaper motifs dominate - - printed on cottons and glazed cottons, some with natural backgrounds but most on dark with vibrant colors in the prints, plain or quilted, along or paired with gauze-like fabric. The look is feminine–all the way.

Naturals and denims are around and burgundy, burnt orange, bottle green and other bright classic fall colors are important. Lace trims often pick up color reinforcing the idea that little girls should be litle girls.

As in the past few seasons, coordinated separates are prevalent. Tee shirts are as big a part of the children's market as they are for men and women. Sweaters – solid, striped, patched, printed appear as cardigans, pullovers with crewnecks, turtlenecks, in fact every kind of neck – layer over shirts or other sweaters and all coordinate or match with skirts, pants or jumpers. Big dresses and smocks are around but are mostly in high-styled., fashion-image stores.

Little boy's outfits too, even those created for dressy occasions, have a more tailored look. For special occasions, there are still the suits and elegant blazers which are gaining popularity. But more than ever, the leisure suit is the national trend. Just as in the girl's market, the fashions for the adults in the family are an influence.

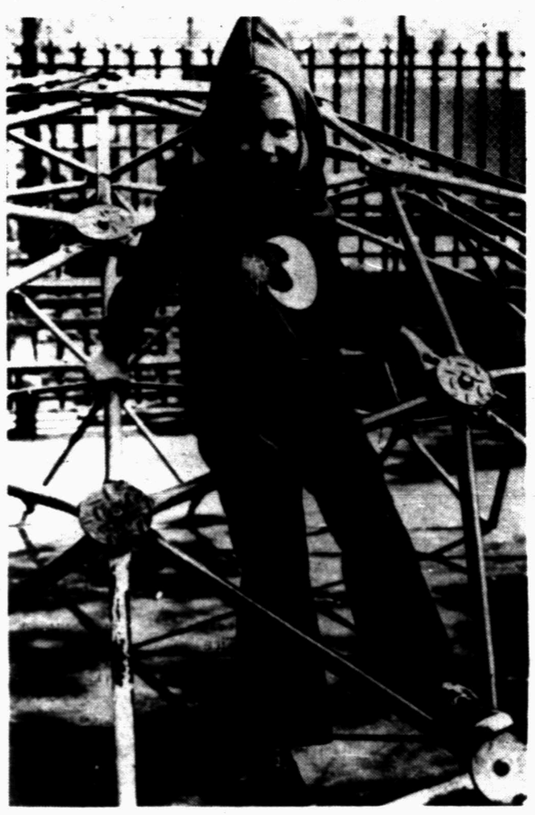

Especially for boys, choose anything made with denim and you can't go wrong. Slacks with matching or coordinated tops pair with printed shirts. Good basics to choose from are tee shirts with anything from Superman to football numbers. fitted shirts and sweaters which are casual but classic.

The clothes that children like must be with it and, even more important, colorful and comfortable. And, that's exactly what's available this year.

Goodman Named Swing Era King

NEW YORK (AP) — At a concert by Benny Goodman and a combo at the Schaefer Music Festival in Central Park, a proclamation from the office of Percy Sutton, borough president of Manhattan, was read.

The group gave a long concert, with Goodman in top form. The music got as hot as the weather during "Back Home Again in Indiana."

Couple Married 76 Years

BOONESBORO, Md. (AP)— "Remember, this is a lifetime job," Annie Hutzell recalls her father's admonition. "You promised the one up above you'd stay together."

It was on her wedding day, 76 years ago Sunday.

Friends and relatives of the Hutzells — she's 93, husband Charles, 95 — have been invited to celebrate the anniversary at an open house at the Boonesboro Fire Hall.

"I can't help it we lived another year," Mrs. Hutzell said. "But since we did, we'll let them have an open house. But I told them not to have too big a set-out.

"I can still keep a-going. I'm not too bad yet. I might go on another year. Then, I might settle down after that."

"I feel real good," said her husband, a carpenter by trade who worked until three years ago reproducing antiques.

The couple met at a one-room schoolhouse in nearby Zittlestown and were married at Sharpsburg in 1899 when he was 19 and she was 17.

Hutzell recalled walking 10 miles and working 10 hours for $1 a day as a carpenter around the turn of the century.

The Hutzells live alone in an apartment, where they are visited frequently by a son and a daughter who live nearby.

"We love each other," Mrs. Hutzell said. "We had our ups and downs, but we worked them all out."

Nutritious Snacks For Preschoolers

Nutritious snacks give an extra boost to help preschoolers avoid teeth decay, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutritious specialist, advised this week.

"Celery cut in fan shapes, carrot curls, radish roses, lettuce leaves or raw califlower will tickle a preschooler's imagination—and satisfy his hunger pains," this specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Serve fresh fruits such as melon balls, plums, apples, oranges, grapefruit, lemonade or other juices.

Meat, boiled eggs or cheese cubes or wedges add protein for the hungry child and do not hasten tooth decay, she reminded.

"Tooth decay results from chemical reactions in the mouth. Starchy foods supply the food required by germs or bacteria in the mouth. This results in acid formation, which takes aywhere from 10 seconds to 30 minutes after eating candy or other starchy foods. Thus the result is tooth decay.

"The longer this acid remains in the mouth, the morelikely the tooth is to decay. This is why hard candies kept in the mouth a long time are actually more harmful than a chocolate bar or chocolate mint.

"The sugar and reaction of the bacteria on the teeth produce more acid, because hard or sticky candy remains in the mouth longer," Mrs. Sweeten explained.

She reminded that brushing teeth immediately after eating concentrated sweets is most important also.

Hermleigh Is Hoping To Repeat As 4-B Champs

HERMLEIGH — Coach Clarence Spieker of the Hermleigh Cardinals had good luck in his first season at Hermleigh last year, winning the District 4-B (Six-Man) football crown. The 1971 graduate of Angelo State University played Six-Man football himself at Wall, and he knows a lot about the game.

But, graduation losses were heavy, and the Cardinals will have trouble repeating as district champs. For one thing, the district is stronger this year with more teams in it. Highland, a team the Cardinals clipped, 39-34, last season in bi-district, will compete in 4-B this year along with McCaulley, Ira, Trent, Hobbs and Hermleigh. Highland will be favored to win district.

Hermleigh had one of its best seasons ever last year under Spieker's guidance. The Cardinals lost to Marathon, 45-27, in the semifinals. That game with Marathon was costly as All-District offensive end Raymond Holdridge sustained an ankle fracture in three places. He'll miss action this year due to the injury.

Graduation wiped out Hermleigh's entire offensive backfield of last season, including All-Staters Steve Mason and Ronnie Roemisch and All-District Robert Luna. Mason was a quarterback, and the other two were running backs. Roemisch made All-State as linebacker.

Only two starters return off last year's team. They are Mike Kruger, 235-pound senior offensive center and defensive down lineman, and Tim Peterson, 155-pound junior, who was a defensive down lineman. Peterson will be a halfback on offense and a linebacker on defense this year.

The Cardinals have several other lads who won numerals in '74. They include defensiveman lineman Ricky Stahl, a 212-pound senior; Alan Culp, a 155-pound junior, who plays center on offense and end on defense; Joe Roemisch, a 135-pound junior quarterback; Caroldon Burleson, a 145-pound offensive sophomore halfback; David Cole, a 145-pound sophomore halfback; and, Britt Fuqua, 105-pound sophomore offensive end.

The quarterback job will go to either Roemisch or to Wesley Kruger, a 140-pound freshman, who also plays defensive back.

The only other senior on the team is Tracy Lynch, a 130-pound halfback. Three other juniors on the roster are Keith Ward, 170-pound offensive end and down lineman; Danny Soules, 255-pound down lineman; and, Tim Dacus, 150-pound offensive end and defensive back.

Other sophs include Joe Don Williamson, 165-pound offensive end; Doug Jones, 105-pound offensive end; and, Kevin Bollinger, 105-pound offensive end.

Other freshmen include Larry Brock, 179-pound defensive lineman; Stanley Warren, 140-pound end and linebacker; Larry Bridges, 130-pound center and defensive end; James Williamson, 170-pound down lineman; and, Clayton Riley, 105-pound quarterback and defensive back.

Joe Don Williamson and Larry Brock are newcomers who have perhaps the best chance of breaking into the starting alignment.

Offensively, Coach Spieker plans to use the T and I alignments with a 2-3-1 defense.

He said the team has good depth, but that his main concern is the offensive backfield.

If the Cardinals can generate as much enthusiasm as they had last season, they may well repeat as district champions.

Ken Law, a 1975 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, will be assistant coach this year. The Cardinals were to scrimmage Water Valley at Blackwell at 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 22. Another scrimmage at Hermleigh against Blackwell is on tap for 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 29.

The schedule:

Sept. 5— O'Brien.
Sept. 12— Open date.
Sept. 19— At Guthrie.
Sept. 26— Benjamin.
Oct. 3— At Weinert.
Oct. 10— At Lueders-Avoca.
Oct. 18— Hobbs. X (Homecoming).
Oct. 24— At Highland. X
Oct. 31— McCaulley. X
Nov. 7— Ira. X
Nov. 14— At Trent. X
(X - Denotes district games).

Tigers Scrimmage At Odessa

The Snyder High School football teams will scrimmage Odessa Ector in Barrett Stadium in Odessa today.

The sophomore squads were to tangle at 5 p.m. today, followed by the junior varsity and varsity scrimmages.

Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges said a couple of more injuries have cropped up. Roy Gill, swing man and cornerback, has a cracked kneecap bone and probably will be out for about a week. Terry Scarbrough, quick tackle, has a mild concussion. Both are squadmen. The only starter who probably will miss action in tonight's scrimmage for the varsity is Tim Flynn, senior tailback, who has an ankle injury.

"We'll probably keep Tim out of the action so as not to risk further injury," Hodges pointed out.

The veteran coach listed probable starters for the varsity as follows:

Offense: Steve Green, quarterback; Bobby Thompson, tailback; Mitchell Smith, fullback; Larry Gee, halfback; George Miller, center; Dusty Land, quick guard; James Smylie, strong guard; Charles Hammond, strong tackle; Gary Greenlee, quick tackle; Kenny Thompson, swingman; and, David Rice, strong end.

Graduation losses have been heavy, but Coach Hodges is hoping some of the younger boys can live up to their potential. By the time district starts, the Tigers could be strong contenders for another 3-AAA crown.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Tiger Booster Club will hold its first meeting of the new football season at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 26, at the West Elementary cafeteria.

President Milton Ham urged all Tiger boosters to attend the meeting since plans for the season will be discussed.

Texas Christian Looks To Future

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Here is an unsolicited opinion about the 1974 Texas Christian Horned Frogs from another Southwest Conference football coach who will remain anonymous for obvious reasons:

"They had some of the worst defensive techniques I've ever seen in college football...it was kind of pitiful. Of course, it was a new world for Jim Shofner coming out of the pros. I imagine he learned some things."

Shofner, a former Horned Frog great and an assistant at San Francisco under Dick Nolan, is the first to admit he learned a few lessons himself last season about football collegiate style.

"We learned some lessons the hard way," says Shofner, a candid soul. "There's no use dwelling in the past."

One thing TCU is going to do differently this year is quit gambling defensively and go to a solid four-down linemen setup.

"We won't try to be too fancy, but just line up and try to whip the guy across from us," says Shofner.

TCU should have some upfront strength but will be weak at the linebacker spot. The secondary could be relatively sound.

"We are very high on our four-down men but none has played much," says Shofner, speaking of J.G. Crouch, Scott O'Glee, Marshall Harris and Alan Teichelman. "We think they are going to be something else."

Joe Segulja is the best of the linebackers. In the secondary, Shofner is counting on junior college transfer Richard Hein to help.

Offensively, TCU has some bright hopes. There's tight end Ronald Parker whom Shofner says "is one of the best blockers I have seen. He can play for anyone."

Quarterback is in the hands of Lee Cook and Jimmy Dan Elzner. Cook led the SWC in passing last year in TCU's pro-style offense.

"We have two outstanding quarterbacks," says Shofner. "Lee is a fine passer with an extremely accurate arm. Elzner possesses potential greatness. He has good size and speed and can really whip the ball."

Running back is questionable because Bobby Cowan and Ronnie Littleton have yet to make it through a season without injury.

Receiver Mike Renfro, a split end, is rated all-conference material by Shofner.

Shofner says he has good depth in the offensive line.

TCU again has a killing schedule, playing Arizona State, Nebraska and Alabama after an opener against Texas-Arlington. Then comes the SWC campaign.

"We're looking to the future," says Shofner, bravely.

After 81-16 beatings by Texas and 41-3 by Alabama in a 1-10 season last year, Horned Frog fans agree 100 per cent.

Golf Tourney Slated Here

There will be a Labor Day Couples Golf Tournament at Snyder Country Club, Sunday and Monday, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

Entries are being received now. Entry fee is $30 per couple, which includes a dance Saturday night. To call in entries dial 573-7101.

Competition will be based on the point-par system with teams to be flighted after Sunday's round.

Shotgun starts are set for 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. each day.

An 18-hole sweepstakes is on tap for couples arriving in time to play a practice round Saturday.

McNairs Are Top Seeded

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred McNair and his son, Clay, are top seeded in the 1975 National Father-Son Clay Court Championships opening today at the Cincinnati Tennis Club.

The McNairs, of Chevy Chase, Md., were runnersup in the doubles tournament last year.

Thirty-two teams are entered in the event which ends Sunday.

Former OU Back Is Under Bond

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former Oklahoma fullback Waymon Clark, a 1,000 yard rusher in 1973, has been charged with rape, aggravated rape and attempted rape.

Police said Thursday they are reviewing evidence to see if Clark, 22, might have been involved in 150 to 200 other rapes and burglaries.

Police identified Clark as a former star schoolboy player at Austin Reagan and at OU, where he transferred from Tyler Junior College.

After Clark, 6-foot and 198 pounds, rushed for 1,014 yards and scored six touchdowns as a junior at OU, he was dismissed from the squad for disciplinary reasons, missing his senior year.

He was in jail under $75,000 bond.

Geiberger Takes Lead At Colonial

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "It was," smiled Al Geiberger, "sort of a funny round." Not funny ha, ha. Funny weird.

He missed greens, visited bunkers, romped through the wilderness, muffed short puts, explored the "boon docks" and shot a remarkable four-under-par 66 Thursday.

He tamed Colonial's terrors with birdies on four of his five closing holes and seized the first round lead Wednesday in the $250,000 Tournament Players Golf Championship.

"I was very lucky," he grinned.

The lanky sharpshooter speared an 18-foot putt at the last hole to sweep past Jack Nicklaus, Hale Irwin and Bob Dickson in the race for the $50,000 grand prize.

That trio was in at 67.

Nicklaus, the defending champion, finished dramatically four hours before Geiberger and held the lead alone most of the sultry, serene afternoon.

Big Jack knifed through the par 35-35—70 Colonial course like a killer shark, slashing four shots from par through 16 flawless holes.

He squandered a bit of glory in a jungle at the 17th hole, taking a double bogey six, then struck back with a near eagle at the 434-yard 18th green for a sparkling 67.

"I played a fine round of golf," said Nicklaus somewhat quizzically. "I really did."

Irwin, playing with Geiberger and Arnold Palmer, also committed but one major miscue, and it cost him a share of the lead. He was four under par at the time.

"I tried to play smart golf by hitting a three wood off the tee at No. 6 but I smarted it right into the left rough," he confessed. It cost him a bogey.

Dickson, admittedly floundering a bout in "quite an off year," said he entered the first round totally without confidence but that his game suddenly and somewhat mysteriously crystalized.

"BE OUR GUEST" FOR 1,600 MEALS!

Now you can air condition your home and save both electricity and money—when you buy a new Payne model RCUH or RCUHL high-efficiency system. These models are up to 28% more efficient than standard models. That means they use only about three-fourths as much electricity. In fact, an average family could save enough electricity in one year to cook up to 1,600 meals on an electric range—or run their color TV free for up to three years.*

PAYNE HIGH EFFICIENCY AIR CONDITIONING

The new Payne high-efficiency system may cost you a little more to buy—but real quality always does!

OPEN HOUSE

...for the new District Headquarters,
400 E. 24th St., Big Spring, Texas

Sunday, Aug. 24
2:00 p.m. — 4:00 p.m.

After 25 years of working, planning and building to meet the water demands of this area today and for years to come, the District now has paused to build its own headquarters.

While this primarily is to equip its personnel to serve more effectively, this handsome building, we hope, will be as bright and as attractive to all as is the future of this vast, pulsating section of West Texas between the Colorado and the Pecos.

J. E. Connally Dies Thursday

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—James Edward Connally, 66, president and chairman of the J. E. Connally Oil Co. here, died Thursday in Houston, where he had been in a hospital since May.

Connally was a leader of Democrats for Nixon in 1972 after being chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee from 1962 to 1968.

A prominent oilman, he was a member of the Texas Mid-Continental Oil and Gas Association and the West Texas Oil and Gas Association.

Connally is survived by his widow, Dr. Virginia Boyd; two daughters, Mrs. J. D. Roberts of Midland and Mrs. Edward Johnson of Plano; a son, Aubrey Connally of Beaumont' and four brothers.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF
PUBLIC HEARING
LOCATION AND DESIGN
U S 84 AT ROSCOE

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will conduct a public hearing on Tuesday, September 16, 1975 at 8:00 p.m. at the Boys Club Building in Roscoe, Texas for the purpose of discussing the construction of U.S. 84 from the intersection of I.H. 20 east of Roscoe to 1 mile northwest of Roscoe. The proposed highway project will reroute U.S. 84 around the City of Roscoe.

The proposed ultimate project will be a four lane divided highway with 64 ft. center median, asphalt paved travel lanes, and paved shoulders. Normal right of way width is 380 ft. with additional right of way for grade separations at the T.&P. Railroad, Cemetery Road, F.M. 608 and the intersection with U.S. 84 west of Roscoe, with the initial construction being a two lane road providing for two way traffic and grade separations at T & P Railroad and Cemetery Road.

Maps and other drawings showing the proposed location and geometric design will be displayed at the public hearing and together with environmental studies and any other available information about the proposed project are on file and available for inspection and copying at the District Office of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation at the intersection of U.S. 83 Freeway and F.M. 2404 north west of Abilene. Also, the drawings showing the proposed geometric design have been placed on file with the Mayor of Roscoe and the County Judge of Nolan County.

The State's Relocation Assistance Program, the benefits and services for displacees and information concerning the relocation assistance office will be discussed. Tentative schedules for right of way acquisition and construction will be discussed. All interested citizens are invited to attend this public hearing. Written statements and other exhibits may be submitted to the District Office, but must be received not later than 10 days after the public hearing.

Mobile Home Bond Pool Is Sought

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Mobile home makers and dealers will hold six statewide meetings Aug. 26 and 27 to discuss a joint bond pooling arrangement they hope will ease the sting of a new law effective Sept. 1.

"Without some type of bond pool program established within the next two weeks, approximately 85 per cent of the mobile home dealers in Texas will be forced to close their doors," said Frank Hopkins, chairman of the Texas Mobile Home Association's board.

Hopkins said the meetings were scheduled Aug. 26 in Lubbock, Arlington, Harlingen and Houston, and in Longview and San Antonio on Aug. 27.

Under requirements of a new state law effective Sept. 1, all mobile home manufacturers, dealers and sales persons in Texas must post bonds ranging from $100,000 for manufacturers to $2,000 for salesmen.

Hopkins aid "ambiguities" in the law made it difficult to obtain bonding through normal channels because some bonding companies required evidence of net worth up to 10 times the face amount of the bond and in some cases requirement of 100 per cent cash collateral.

Hopkins also said that the board of directors has authorized an attempt to obtain a court order that would give dealers and manufacturers time to obtain their bonds.

Association president Les Bearss said plans were being made to challenge the constitutionality of the new law in federal court.

The association said there are about 700 mobile home dealers and about 65 manufacturing plants in Texas with an estimated $700 million impact on the state's economy.

Disagree On Hospital Plan

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — One group opposed to the creation of a Gainesville hospital district and the issuing of $4,955,000 in bonds has been proposing a profit-making corporation build a hospital in the city.

Still another plan has been offered by a former hospital administrator, Blair Ferguson.

Ferguson sold a portion of the hospital, which allegedly does not meet state standards today, to the hospital authority in 1962. Ferguson this week proposed to remodel some of that area of the hospital and add a wing for $600,000 to $700,000.

Ferguson, his architect, and a hospital consultant have stated that the old section will meet accreditation standards.

Architects for the hospital authority, on the other hand, believe otherwise and state that the older portion of the hospital "should be demolished at the earliest possible date."

Ferguson is advocating the defeat of the bond issue and the scheduling of an election in 60 days using his proposal.

Three To Face Nepotism Charges

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) — Three school board members face nepotism charges after the school superintendent they fired earlier this week filed a complaint against them.

Amancio Cantu, fired a superintendent Monday, charged nepotism against school board president Raul T. Flores and trustees Ramon Garza and Mrs. Mercedes Casarez.

The complaints alleged that the three voted for the appointment of persons to school district positions who were related either to the board members or other board members, a misdemeanor.

Justice of the Peace Frank Moreno Sr. set bond at $1,000 each for Flores and Mrs. Casarez and $200 for Garza.

Garza became police chief at Crystal City on Aug. 14.

The National Automobile Club says that motorists started buying gasoline by the dollar rather than by the gallon in 1933 with the addition of a "cost" gauge to gasoline pumps.

Histoplasmosis is caused by fungi

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Would you give us some information on histoplasmosis?

My husband had a routine chest X ray, and it revealed a spot on the right lung, and we were referred to a specialist. The test and X rays he ordered showed a calcium deposit on the lung, and he reacted to histoplasmosis tests.

Neither the specialist nor our family doctor gave us any cause for this. If any treatment is effective none has been prescribed. They say that they do not think it is malignant, but he must have X rays each three months to check on it.

DEAR READER—Histoplasmosis resembles tuberculosis in many ways, but it is not. It is caused by fungi. The spores are inhaled into the lungs, and they set up housekeeping there. The lungs immediately react to stop the growth of the spores just as the body sets up mechanisms to wall off TB germs.

The process leads to formation of spots of calcium where the spores are walled off and usually die. This may lead to many small areas of calcifications in the lungs or large spots of calcium. Then when an X ray is taken, the spots of calcium are apparent even if the patient has effectively already recovered forom the infection.

In some case the problem is to be sure it is just the old fungus infection and to be certain, if it is just one spot, that it is not a tumor or cancer, but to be sure the spot is histoplasmosis and not a spot caused by a cancer. That is why old chest X rays ar often so helpful. If the doctor can document by the old X rays that a spot has been there a long time he won't need to worry about the possiblity of cancer.

Histoplasmosis infections usually cause no symptoms at all. When symptoms do occur initially, they are similar to a respiratory infection and may be passed off as that. Then as the spores of the fungus are walled off the symptoms disappear.

The fungi are found commonly in caves where there are droppings from bats and birds or in chicken roosts. Cleaning out a hen house is one way to get the disease. The spores are in the dust that is inhaled.

Rarely the spores will get spread throughout the body and set up a generalized infection. In other cases they can cause cavities in the lungs. This again is similar to the way tuberculosis can affect the body.

In most cases the infection is localized and walled off. This is surely the case with your husband. No treatment is necessary for such cases and that is why neither doctor prescribed any medicine for him. In cases with complications, medicines are available to control the infection.

Histoplasmosis is not contagious in the same way tuberculosis is. It is not spread from one person to another. The spread is mostly by dust containing the fungi. The old fungi in your husband's lungs are walled off and dead, so you needn't worry about that.

Send your questions to me in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. For more information on your lungs send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents and ask for The Health Letter number 2-4, Keeping Your Lings Fit.

Texas Lags In Solar Energy

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The state of Texas, despite ample sunshine, trails most of the South and Southwest in developing solar energy as an alternative fuel source, says a consulting engineer from Dallas.

"Texas is a rather severe wasteland in terms of solar energy accomplishments and interest," said Jack Brady, solar energy consultant for the city of Dallas.

Brady said that while nearby states, such as New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, have taken the lead in innovative uses of solar energy, Texans have shown little interest either in research or application.

One reason, he suggested, might be the state's tradition as an oil and natural gas capital.

"There's a lot of oil and gas produced in Texas," he said, "but there's also a lot of sunshine, so solar energy is definitely feasible.

"I expect Texas to come on stronger soon in their solar energy efforts."

New Service Center Opens

EULESS, Tex. (AV) — Helping Northeast Tarrant County residents with family and marital problems is among the functions of a new family service center to open here Sept. 2.

The center, to be called the Northeast Branch of Family Services-Traveler's Aid Association, is jointly sponsored by the City of Euless and United Way.

The center will be operated by social worker Rod Hickman.

Fees will be charged on a sliding scale of from $1 to $20 per hour depending on family income.

Army Suddenly Finds It Has Surplus Of People

By SYLVIA RIOJAS
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Some veterans who want to jump back in the Army find they are not wanted.

Recruiting officers say the door is not always open these days for the GI who left the service and felt recession's pinch.

"They get out looking, and they find out it wasn't so bad," says Maj. Thomas Kirksey, executive officer of the U.S. Army District Recruiting Command here. "But we can't take them all back."

In four of five Army recruiting districts in Texas, reenlistments by those who have been out of the service for months or even years have increased during the first six months of this year over the same period last year.

"It doesn't mean that everyone that got out wants to come back because of the economic situation," Kirksey said. "But there are a lot of people looking back to us or to other services."

One young man who looked back is Bill Stephens.

Stephens, 26, joined the Army in 1965 and "swore up and down" he would never go back in after 11 months of combat duty in Vietnam.

However, he reenlisted for 16 years five years after his discharge. He says his limited experience kept him in poor civilian factory and handyman jobs.

Recently, he was laid off from a job. The job was called a utility position by the company but Stephens called it a "flunky" job.

In San Antonio, a reporter asked several reenlistees why they returned to the service. They did not emphasize effects of the recession in their decision, but 1st Sgt. Art Blagg of their unit disagreed.

"A lot of guys we get back are deeply in trouble, deeply in debt," Blagg said. "As a matter of fact, I've sent lots of them up to our Financial Assistance Community Center on financial matters."

Blagg's 507th Military Assistance to Traffic and Safety unit was five times over its recruitment quota in July. Blagg says the unit consistently missed quotas two and three years ago.

Some older men reenlist to finish their military careers so that they can qualify for retirement benefits.

However, Blagg said, "I think most of your first-termers come back in because they're having a real tough time on the outside.

Increases in Army reenlistments have resulted in manpower ceilings, Kirksey said. A continued increase would cause the Army to exceed the total number of soldiers authorized by Congress.

"We have a lot more applicants than we can put in," he said.

The Navy also has manpower ceilings on prior enlistees, but it is not showing a general increase in such reenlistments in Texas.

"We're limited to how many can join, and thus we can be choosy," said Lt. Cmdr. Ron Beougher of the District Main Recruiting Station in Dallas.

"People who come to us are treated just like they're applying for a job any place. It depends on the test scores, openings and whether they're trainable if they get the job," Beougher said.

Child Found In Bottom Of Pool

HURST, Tex. (AP) — Rachel Embry, 3, is listed in critical but stable condition at Parkland Hospital in Dallas after being found in the bottom of her backyard swimming pool this week.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Beverly Embry, told police she was feeding her daughter and left the girl for about five minutes while she dressed her other children in a back bedroom.

When Mrs. Embry returned to the front of the house, she found the child in the swimming pool.

FIRST DAY OF School

It's sad to leave an old friend. The first day of school brings a lot of changes, but it brings a lot of challenges, too. Is your child prepared to meet these challenges? Have you made the Bible's teachings a source of strength in their lives? Take your children to Sunday School and Church service. It will make a difference in their lives, and in yours, too.
