Seventh District Delegates Expected To Be Here Today For Voting; Speakers Will Appear This Morning

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Woman's Editor

WITH annual balloting scheduled for this afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock, the subject of elections and candidates is paramount in the minds of several hundred delegates to the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in session here. Under an apparently calm surface, politics has been seething since the opening of the meeting on Tuesday morning.

In spite of persistent rumors that she might withdraw, Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco remains a candidate for the presidency, along with Mrs. J. W. Fincher of Houston. Seventh district women are expected to swell the attendance today because of the voting late in the afternoon.

Speakers Carded

Preceding the election, there are to be regular business sessions through the day. Speakers this morning include H. W. Stanley, director, trade extension division, Dallas Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. H. W. Morelock, president Sul Ross State Teachers college. Dr. Annie Webb Blanton and R. J. Murray are scheduled for afternoon talks. Dr. Paul W. Horn and Judge Marton L. Harris of Smithville are to talk this evening in a program celebrating the Washington Bicentennial.

The feature of the afternoon session was a talk by Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, pleading for cooperation between town and county women and for the organization of

Plan For Special Train Abandoned

Failure to dispose of the required number of tickets necessary to guarantee special service from Plainview to Lubbock and return, for the Plainview-Lubbock high school football game today, caused abandonment of plans by Plainview fans for a special train, it was announced late yesterday by E. A. Tusha, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe.

High school officials of Plainview, Mr. Tusha added, said that so many people were planning to drive to Lubbock because of the fair weather that the sale of tickets fell off.

"There will be at least a thousand people here from Plainview, I was told by high school officials," Mr. Tusha added.

Establishment Of Laboratory Proposed Here

State Seed Analyst Meets In City Tuesday With Lubbock Group For Discussion Of A Campaign Plan

Many thousands of dollars would be saved each year to growers of grain sorghum seeds over the South Plains and an increased demand for their seed would result, if a proposal to establish a laboratory for a seed analyst here is approved by the state commissioner of agriculture and Governor Ross Sterling, local people were told yesterday by Miss Wynona Robbins, state seed analyst.

"We believe that our present work at Austin saves the farmers of the state more than the cost of the entire department of agriculture there," Miss Robbins told the local committee. "The probable cost of the office, if one is established here, would be about $2,500 a year. The farmers of this territory would save several times that amount."

Three Claimed As Victims In Suicide Pacts

Baffling Series Of Deaths In Texas Town Leaves No Trace Of Cause; Relatives Grope For Some Motive

Victims All Young

Two Briefly Scribbled Notes Of Farewell Are Left; All Were Acquainted; Poison Is Used By Pair

(By The Associated Press)

ELKHART, Nov. 10.—A baffling series of suicides, which had claimed the lives of two prominent boys and a girl today, left friends and relatives groping for a motive.

Although the three youthful victims had apparently chosen to die at almost the same time, there seemed to be no discernable link connecting them. Investigators were assured that they were no more than casual acquaintances, possibly village friends.

In death they left no explanations of their act, two scribbling brief notes of farewell, the other coming to the end silently.

Victims Listed

The dead: Ernest Miller, jr., who would have been 17 years old tomorrow, senior student and football player at the Elkhart high school and member of the Elkhart band.

Doris McCann, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, who live on a farm three miles south of Elkhart.

B. Clyde Kennedy, 19, native of Elkhart, who had lived for the last year in Oakwood, fourteen miles distant.

Sale Of Poppies Nets $237 Here

Lubbock citizens contributed $237 Tuesday to aid disabled former soldiers in a Kerrville hospital and children of indigent Lubbock families. This sum was raised through sales of imitation poppies by the American Legion Auxiliary in an all-day canvass.

Sales would have been at least $25 more, but the supply of 1,050 poppies was exhausted, Mrs. J. Ray Dickey, chairman of the drive, said Tuesday night.

"The auxiliary certainly appreciates the wonderful response given by everyone," Mrs. Dickey said. "The money will be used for an excellent cause. One half the proceeds will be used here and the remainder will be used in aiding the disabled veterans at Kerrville." Sales last year totaled $167.

Women Ordered From Courtroom As Incest Case Opens; Man Is Convicted

C. E. ALEXANDER, charged with incest, was convicted by a jury in 99th district court Tuesday afternoon and given a six year term in the penitentiary.

The jury received the case at about 4:10 o'clock and returned a verdict 35 minutes later. Alexander did not indicate in court Tuesday whether he would accept sentence. Jurors were W. R. Dean, M. A. Holloman, E. P. Nix, J. W. Boyce, O. P. Kelly, George Gilkerson, W. D. Logan, C. F. Welty, E. F. Alford, G. C. Peters, W. T. Sessum and J. S. Waller.

The man's 16-year-old sister, Gladys, was the complaining witness. Alexander served as his own attorney and questioned his sister for more than 30 minutes the first time she took the stand and with more brevity the second time she occupied the witness chair. The two formerly lived at Snyder, they said.

Alexander was accused of improper relations with the girl in a tourist camp cabin in which they passed the night here last September after hitch-hiking from Snyder. He denied the allegation. Gladys Alexander testified to similar episodes prior to the alleged act here.

Judge Clark M. Mullican ordered women from the courtroom before the trial began, saying the case was "not fit for any lady to listen to, or any gentleman for that matter." About 60 men remained in the courtroom in addition to court attaches, witnesses, and newspaper reporters.

Castaways Are Discovered On Caribbean Sea

Touching Picture Of Helpless Group Of 13 Described; Pilot Circles Spot Sending Out An S. O. S.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A new and touching picture of 10 persons—one apparently a woman—drifting in a lifeboat, two men clinging to a makeshift raft and another floating on a fuel drum in the storm whipped Caribbean Sea while an airplane circled helplessly overhead was radioed here tonight.

The revised information was given Pan American Airways by its pilot, Captain Frank Ormsbee, who sighted the castaways yesterday as he flew from Cristobal, Canal Zone, to Barranquilla, Colombia.

Rag Is Signal

A rag fashioned into a distress signal flew from an oar held aloft in the lifeboat. A ship's hatchway converted into a raft carried the two men just behind the boat. Another lifeboat—empty—was nearby. From 50 to 100 fuel drums littered the vicinity. On one was perched the 13th castaway. A 25-mile wind, the tail of a Panama storm, tossed

Oil Dictatorship Report Is Denied By Association Head

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP) — E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute, denied tonight that directors of the organization had offered Vice President Charles Curtis the post of dictator for the petroleum industry or "have ever considered such an action." At the same time, Reeser said he himself had been offered a postion as "coordinator" in California by that state's petroleum industry.

No Date For Election Will Be Named Before Thursday

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—No date for the election of a congressman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach (R) was set today by Governor R. S. Sterling.

Returning to his office late today from Houston, Governor Sterling announced he would not select a date for the election before Thursday.

Small Children Burn To Death

(By Associated Press)

IRAAN, Nov. 10. — Marlene Sanders, 5, and her 19-months-old brother, Bobby Ray Sanders, were burned to death tonight when their home two miles west of Iraan was destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The mother, Mrs. W. H. Sanders, had put the children to bed and was in town for groceries. The father is in the East Texas oil fields.

The mother, prostrated, was brought to a hospital here late tonight. G. H. Mitchell, justice of the peace, was holding an inquest at the house and the bodies had not been moved at 11 o'clock, two hours after the blaze.

Speaker Urges Rural Contact

Mrs. Phebe K. Warner Sounds Plea For Development Of All Women At Tuesday Session Of Club Meeting

Saying that the mission of the federation of women's clubs today is the development of women, Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, sounded a plea to urban women to reach out a helping hand to their country neighbors Tuesday afternoon before the Texas Federation of Women's clubs assembled in annual convention here.

When country women have the week after week regular contacts with each other that the city women have, when they have the opportunities for study and for cultural influences that city women enjoy today, their standards in health, citizenship and living will approach those of the city women, she said.

The ideals and latent talents are among the country women, she said, waiting for the agencies that shall unfold them. Much of this development lies in organizing them and, so far, the greatest thing that has been introduced has been the system of home demonstration agents. Most of the 6,000,000 farm women in the United States do not have the opportunities for contacts with other women that their sisters in the city enjoy, she continued.

The time is ripe for a united sis-

Americans Are Endangered As Battle Breaks

Situation Grows Worse With Shelling Of Tientsin And American Mission; City Is Plunged In Dark

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 11. (Wednesday) — Three hundred Chinese and three Japanese were killed and 77 Japanese were wounded yesterday in a clash between Japanese and Chinese troops near Kuchengtzu, Manchuria, dispatches to the newspapers Asahi and Hochi Shimbum said today.

TOKYO, Nov. 11. (Wednesday) (AP) Fighting between Chinese and Japanese broke out in Tientsin, China, early today, a dispatch to the Rengo news agency reports.

Chinese cut electric wires, plunging the city into darkness, according to the Japanese report, then attacked the Japanese concession.

PEIPING, Nov. 11. (AP) (Wednesday)—A mob of 250 ruffians clashed with police in the vicinity of Nankai university at Tientsin early today, says a telephone message to Manchurian headquarters here.

A shell fell on the Keen's girls school in the American Methodist mission in Tientsin, the report said.

The fighting began at 2 a. m. and the situation was reported growing worse.

Baptist General Convention To Be Opened In Waco Today

WACO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Delegates from 3,000 Baptist churches representing a membership of 500,000 were gathering tonight for the Baptist general convention of Texas.

The opening program tomorrow will be featured by a memorial service for Dr. Samuel Palmer Brooks, president of Baylor university for many years, who died since the last convention. Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, was to preach the main memorial sermon.

Scores Of Cities On Plains Plan Programs; Lubbock Has All-Day Affair In Prospect

Breakfast This Morning Will Open Activities And A Joint Program Will Close Events; Many Attractions Will Be Sandwiched In Between; All Business At Standstill

LUBBOCK and the South Plains today joins with state, nation and the entire world in commemoration of Armistice Day, a date which 13 years ago was marked by the order "cease firing" and, as the notes of bugles died away in echoes in "no-man's land," the greatest war in all history was ended.

The observance will be joined alike by ex-service men, veterans of other U. S. wars, patriotic organizations, civic groups, citizens and students. Every detail of the all-day program, opening with a breakfast at 6:30 a. m. and concluding with a joint program of legionnaires and auxiliary members, has been arranged, Dr. E. P. George, committee chairman, said Wednesday night.

All stores, schools, banks, county and city offices and the postoffice will be closed for the day. Many other organizations, which require full time service to the public, are arranging shifts to permit their employes to take part in the celebration.

Program Series Held At Lockney

(Special To The Avalanche)

LOCKNEY, Nov. 10.—Commemoration of the Armistice is being observed in Lockney this week, with a series of programs.

The Rev. H. W. Hanks, Methodist pastor, preached a special sermon Sunday morning, at which ex-service men were the honored guests.

Plans for entertaining V. Earl Earp of Sweetwater, state legion commander, were made Tuesday night at a meeting of the post. Earp will address the Rotary club here Friday. Wednesday afternoon ex-service men will accompany the Longhorns to Floydada to attend the annual Longhorn-Whirlwind football game.

Plainview Will Hear Judge Pharr

(Special to the Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 10. — Judge Homer L. Pharr of the 72nd district court will be the principal speaker for Armistice Day here.

The Roy Blakemore post, American Legion, has planned a service at the Plainview theatre. All ex-service men are urged to attend. Following the program the legion members are planning to attend the Plainview-Lubbock game in Lubbock.

Two Draw Lake Is Banquet Scene

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, Nov. 10.—A banquet at Two Draw Lake will be served at noon Wednesday to ex-service men and members of their families. The day has been proclaimed a holiday by Mayor D. C. Williams. Proclamation Of Mayor Is Issued

Mayor J. J. Clements Tuesday proclaimed Armistice Day an official holiday in Lubbock. The proclamation follows:

WHEREAS, the President of the United States has called upon the people of the Nation to observe Armistice Day, November 11, a national holiday; and,

WHEREAS, th egrateful and patriotic citizens of our country will celebrate on that date the glorious achievements of the Nation's patriotic sons and daughters made possible by their sacrificial service during the World War; and,

WHEREAS, the people of Lubbock desire to join in commemorating the past for the purpose of keeping alive the principles of patriotism and loyalty, and to inspire the highest ideals of loyalty:

THEREFORE, I, J. J. Clements, Mayor of the City of Lubbock, by virtue of such office, hereby call on the citizenship of Lubbock to close their places of business and join with the American Legion and others in the observance of Armistice Day.

This the 10th day of November, 1931. J. J. CLEMENTS.

Case Of Rodney Key Goes To Jury Tuesday Evening

Defendant Takes Stand In Own Behalf As His Sister Testifies As State Witness

(Special to The Avalanche)

POST, Nov. 10.—Case of Rodney Key, charged with the slaying December 20, 1930, of his brother-in-law, Roy Bennett, was given to a jury in 106th district court at 9:40 o'clock Tuesday night after Key took the stand in his own defense during the day and had heard his sister testify for the state.

The defendant said he shot Bennett after his brother-in-law cursed him and made a movement toward a gun. Key told of trouble growing between them over liquor allegedly owned by Bennett. The shooting occurred in a small building near Justiceburg where the men were living while doing ranch work.

Theory Is Advanced

Mrs. Roy Bennett, in New Mexico when her husband was killed, was unable to throw any light on the trouble which resulted in Bennett's death.

It was the state's theory that Bennett, killed by a bullet wound in the back of his head, was shot while writing a letter to his wife. A pencil and paper were found near his body; on the paper the word Saturday was written, it was brought out in testimony. Key said he shot Bennett while he was groping on the floor for a rifle.

Testimony today indicated Key and Bennett had had trouble in Justiceburg about sundown on Saturday before the latter was slain that night. Trial of the case was begun before Judge Gordon B. McGuire Monday.

Criminal Attack On Woman Results In Death Penalty

DAINGERFIELD, Tex., Nov. 10. (AP) — Barney Lee Ross, 23, negro, was sentenced to death by a jury that found him guilty today of criminally attacking a white woman at her farm near Daingerfield, Nov. 6.

The date of execution was fixed at Dec. 18. Ross was recently freed from the Texas state penitentiary after serving a term for automobile theft. He came to Daingerfield from Abilene.

APPROVE ISSUE

AMARILLO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Amarillo voters tonight approved an $864,000 refunding bond issue by a vote of 908 to 25. The city commission will at once advertise for bids on the issue to refund outstanding bonds and warrants.

Pitiful Tale Of Love, Blighted Romance And Of Death Is Bared By Sorrowing Girl Left Behind

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. — Miss Rose E. W. Allen, for whose love Francis A. Donaldson, 3d, was slain by her brother, Edward H. B. Allen, today told police she held her brother and her father responsible for what occurred.

"My brother ordered me out of our home," she was quoted by the police, "Now I'm out and I'm going to stay out."

Donaldson, 25, son of a prominent Philadelphia family was shot to death by Allen, 23, also of a socially prominent family, in the Allen apartment at the green Hill Farms hotel last night.

Miss Allen is 18. Her mother died last spring. Her father is Horace Allen, a retired woolen manufacturer. Father and brother objected to Donaldson's attention to Miss Allen. The young suitor went to the Allen apartment last night to try to patch up differences between her and her father and brother. An altercation followed. Blows were struck by Donaldson and young Allen in the presence of Allen's father and A. H. H. Lucas, a friend of Donaldson.

Young Allen left the place, returned a half hour later with a double barreled shotgun and as Donaldson was leaving the Allen apartment with Lucas, fired one barrel.

Late today Allen was held without bail on a charge of murder. The hearing lasted five minutes and the only witness was Police Captain Ignatius Mullin.

"For some time," said Miss Allen according to Captain Mullin, "my father has been against Francis. He took a dislike to him about a year ago, and trouble has been brewing

Hoover's Brother-In-Law Is Jailed On Pro Charge

Husband Of President's Sister Charged In Possession Of 19 Pints Of Liquor

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Nov. 10.—Charged with possession of a gunny sack containing 19 pints of liquor, C. Van Ness Leavitt, brother-in-law of President Hoover, was at liberty today under bail of $250.

Leavitt, who is 57, was arrested late yesterday as he attempted to leave a grocery store owned by a friend, C. R. Dailey, 43, also accused and released under similar bond.

The two men appeared in police court today, pleaded not guilty and were ordered to stand trial November 16, for alleged violation of the Wright act, California's liquor statute.

In a signed statement obtained by Carr, Leavitt was quoted as saying the liquor did not belong to him. The statement said Dailey saw the officers approaching and snatched the sack, placing it in Leavitt's hands ad saying: "Here, fix this real quick; here comes Carr." Leavitt said he did not know what the sack contained until officers told him. Leavitt could not be reached today for a statement but his wife, Mrs. Mary Hoover Leavitt, sister of the president, said.

"He was a victim of circumstances. We formerly traded with Dailey and Mr. Leavitt was just there talking to him."

LOVED TO EAT, AND NOW SHE CAN!

Much of the suffering from so-called "indigestion" or acid-dyspepsia could be avoided if everyone could know what thousands like Miss Lillian Ralston have learned. This New York City business woman, who lives at 1160 Park Avenue, says:

"I suffered from headaches and heartburn after meals; couldn't sleep like I should; never felt right.

"For five years I experimented with medicines and treatments, until I learned about Pape's Diapepsin. I have used three packages now; have gained five pounds, and feel fine."

If you, too, suffer from sourness, gas, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, or pain after eating—either regularly or just at times, get a box of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist. Then you need never worry again about what you eat.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

. . . THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

Accident Victims Will All Recover

No change was reported late Tuesday in condition of J. W. Luke, injured Sunday at Buls, Bailey county, Lubbock sanitarium attaches said. Luke's throat was cut from side to side and his windpipe cut when an automobile, which he cranked while it was in gear, jammed him against a fence.

Mrs. Ruby Lover, 26, received at the West Texas hospital Tuesday an hour and a half after she took some carbolic acid by mistake, believing it to be a mouth wash, was resting well last night and the attending physician said her chances to recover were good. The acid was taken on a farm near Slaton and the woman was brought here by H. D. Burtram, a farmer.

Mrs. J. W. Burleson, 74, suffering from a fractured hip injured when she fell at her home, 2308 Eighteenth street, Tuesday, was reported resting comfortably Tuesday night at Lubbock sanitarium.

Condition of M. C. Eakin, hurt in an automobile-freight train accident Monday at Ropesville was reported as good at the Lubbock sanitarium.

Incest Trial

Burton S. Burks, conducting the examination, charged Alexander with leading his sister to illicit relations with other men. The girl, blonde and fair skinned, said she would return to her mother if given "just one more chance."

Trial of G. J. McCleskey, charged with burglary of a Slaton store, was completed shortly before noon and the jury's verdict of a two-year penitentiary sentence with recommendation that it be suspended was handed to Judge Mullican just before the Alexander trial began. The judge suspended the sentence. McCleskey lives at Big Spring.

No cases will be tried today as it is a holiday.

Tale Of Love

ever since.

"In August there was an agreement between Francis and my father whereby Francis was permitted to see me twice a week. But at every opportunity father would say something disagreeable about Francis.

"I told father that I was in love with Francis. These arguments had been going on for some time, all of which led up to last night. Last evening my brother and I had an argument. My brother told me that I could meet Francis in the lobby of the hotel, but that if he came up to the apartment he would blow Francis' head off.

"One word led to another. My brother said he was running the house from now on and said, 'if you don't like it, you can get out.' I said 'I don't like it and I am going to get out.'

"I packed my bag and went to the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. I called Mr. Lucas before I went and told him to tell Francis to call me up. Francis called me up a little later, and I made an appointment to meet him at the Bellevue-Stratford.

"We talked things over and Francis called Lucas to come down to the hotel, and after his arrival they decided to go out to my father's apartment and talk the matter over with him, to see if father would not treat me as a daughter, or whether he was going to continue treating me as he had been."

Miss Allen arrived at the Ardmore police station this afternoon and told her story to Captain Mullin. She did not see her brother in a cell a short distance away. Her father visited her brother earlier in the day.

Edgar E. Witt Is Unable To Attend Club Sessions Here

Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt, who was scheduled to appear on the program of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, was unable to come to Lubbock to address the convention, because of pressure of state business, Mrs. Witt said Tuesday.

"I had a message from Mr. Witt in which he stated that he was detained in Austin by state business and that he would be unable to come to Lubbock," Mrs. Witt explained. "He expressed his personal regrets at being unable to make the trip."

Mrs. Witt added that she personally was disappointed at her husband's inability to be present for the convention.

An armored car appeared from the Japanese concession and exchanged fire with Chinese police about an hour later.

The firing appeared to have started at 9 o'clock last night, when gangs of between 30 and 50 Chinese gunmen began shooting within the 300 meter limit around the Japanese concession.

Larger groups appeared near Nankai university at 1:45 this morning and began attacking the police.

French troops were called out of the French concession.

Firing, in which it was believed artillery was being used, continued at three o'clock and the armored car rolled out of the Japanese concession 20 minutes later to exchange shots with the Chinese police.

In regard to marketing, Mrs. Warner pointed out that city women are the greatest purchasers in the world and that country women are the greatest producers and suggested that these two combine in a gigantic commercial organization to buy and sell to each other.

AFTER 40

bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

State Arson Investigator Confers In City Tuesday

James Byrne, state arson investigator, is in Lubbock conferring with local officials relative to investigation of fires of a suspicious origin. Mr. Byrne conferred with Wiley Metcalfe, city fire marshal, and Wm. H. Evans, assistant county attorney, Tuesday.

"Hereafter all fires in which there is any suspicion as to their origin will be investigated thoroughly by the state," said Mr. Byrne. He will remain here for several days, he said. He arrived Sunday.

WELLS COMPLETED

KILGORE, Nov. 10. (AP)—Thirteen new oil wells were completed in the East Texas field in the 24-hour period ending at 7 a. m. Monday. Seven were in the Lathrop area, two in the Kilgore area and four in the Joiner area.

To "Point-Up" Appetite Just Stimulate Bowels

Whenever the end of the day finds you out-of-sorts; food doesn't tempt you and won't digest; breath is bad; tongue coated, just chew a candy tablet before bedtime. Tomorrow you'll be a new person!

A candy Cascaret clears up a bilious, gassy, headachy condition every time. Puts appetite on edge. Helps digestion. Activates bowels.

Cascarets are made from cascara, which authorities say actually strengthens bowel muscles. So, take these delightful tablets as often as you please; or give them freely to children. All drug stores sell Cascarets for a dime, and no dollar preparation could do better work. —Adv.

Tech Picadors Tangle In First Local Game Friday With Canyon Freshmen

Local Fish Team Seeks Revenge For Defeat

While their big brothers, the Matadors, are resting and recuperating from the effects of a long ride and a hard game at El Paso, the Texas Tech Picadors will tangle with the West Texas State Teachers college Buffalo Yearlings Friday night at the Tech field. The game is due to start at 7:30 o'clock.

Free to train and practice according to their own way this week in the absence of the Matadors, the Tech freshmen are going through daily workouts designed to perfect an offense that can crash the big boys of Canyon. In a recent meeting of the teams the Picadors held their heavier adversaries to a deadlock.

Due to the fact that they have been forced to make trying stands against the Matadors in frequent scrimmage sessions at the field while the latter were preparing for scheduled games, the Picadors have had little time to perfect their own offense. Coaches Del Morgan and Weir Washam are losing no time this week.

The game Friday night will be the only weekend grid attraction in Lubbock and the first opportunity for local fans to see the first year men in concentrated action. After less than a week of practice early in the season, the Matadors and Picadors tangled in a scrimmage which saw the latter score a touchdown over the men of experience and otherwise play a creditable game. Friday marks their first appearance of the year, however, on the home field against opposition of their own class.

To Oppose Tech

MABRY - GUARD

Bill Mabry, 190-pound guard on the University of New Mexico grid team, will be seen in action here one week from Friday when the Matadors oppose the Loboes at Tech Field. The game features Texas Tech's annual Homecoming Day program.

Mobile Franchise May Be Purchased

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 10. (AP)—Under an agreement reached at a meeting of the Southern League directorate yesterday the much buffeted Mobile franchise will pass to an unnamed buyer wholly satisfactory to the league providing three fourths of all the stockholders in the Mobile baseball corporation consent.

Announcements that a buyer had been found was made by John D. Martin, league president, at adjournment of the annual meeting of the directors last night.

The announcement said the offer was made in confidence, that the buyer was rated by the league directorate wholly capable and with ample financial backing to operate the franchise and the terms offered were acceptable to the majority stockholder, Byrd Douglas, president of the corporation.

Other action taken by the directors included the reduction of the player limit from 18 to 17 and the fixing of April 12 as the opening date of the coming baseball season.

Sudan Sportsman Displays Big Fish Here; 72-Pound Catfish Arouses Applause

W. G. McGlamery of Sudan was in Lubbock Tuesday distracting courthouse officials from their work with the picture of a 72-pound yellow catfish taken recently from the Rio Grande river. Wiley Puckett of Lubbock accompanied McGlamery on the fishing trip.

McGlamery also exhibited pictures of other fish caught. "How much do they weigh?" he was asked.

"Oh, those? They're small ones. That one weighed forty pounds and the other one twenty," he replied.

The large fish, caught in the Rio Grande on Boy Babb's ranch near Del Rio, was brought to Sudan and provided a fish feed for 76 people. Courthouse attaches who viewed the pictures invariably asked, "Now, how do you get down there?"

Tornadoes To Meet Post In Semifinal Go

Game At Lamesa Holds Light As Southern Half District One Championship At Stake; Floydada Seen As Strong

The Class B pendulum swings over District 2 today in one semifinal and one quarter-final game of the 1931 district championship. Three teams will be left in the running for highest honors following today's contests.

At Lamesa Coach P. T. McCollum sends his undefeated Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa High against the strong Post High school eleven, coached by "Ox" Emmons. The game looms as a colorful affair, both teams having won their subdistrict titles in the southern portion of the district. Today's contest will determine which team shall meet the winner of the northern half in the final championship game.

Floydada Undefeated

Over at Floydada today the Floydada High school Whirlwinds meet the Lockney High Steers in a quarter-district conflict. Floydada has been undefeated in Class B competition and looms a favorite over Lockney. The winner of the game will meet Littlefield next week for the championship of the northern half of the loop.

Odds favor Lamesa to down the Post Antelopes today. The Tornadoes have looked powerful in Class B competition and are given a decided edge over the Emmons crew, though the natives look for a good ball game. Both teams have been in intensive training for the past week in preparation for the game, last week's work being free of contests. The Tornadoes won their quadrant two weeks ago with a victory over the Brownfield High Cubs.

Floydada has defeated Paducah and Matador in its district and only Lockney stands in the way of a subdistrict title. In other games this season, the Whirlwinds have defeated Brownfield, Littlefield, Silverton and Canyon, and are likely to meet Littlefield again in a bi-sub-district tilt. The only defeat suffered by the charges of Coach L. T. Barksdale came at the hands of the Lubbock Westerners in the first game of the season. In that contest Floydada scored a touchdown, one of the only two their opponents have been able to score against the Lubbock team so far this season. Floydada has tied Plainview and Clarendon.

Due to the failure of many schools in the district to open at the usual time or because some schools had to close down for two or three weeks it has been impossible for the Class B race to be participated in by many teams. The athletic executive committee of District 2 has ruled that a school which begins late or which is dismissed for as much as two weeks after opening automatically forfeits its right to compete for the district title.

The rule is now under some debate, but since it was passed upon by the state executive it is likely to stand in the face of fire. Several Class B schools opened their doors again last week after nearly a month of idleness and are claiming admittance to the race. Crosbyton, for instance, has questioned the authenticity of the announcement that Post and Lamesa would play today for the championship of the southern half of the district, claiming that its team is working out daily and expects to give somebody trouble in the finals. The ruling, as interpreted by the Morning Avalanche, makes Crosbyton ineligible to compete further for the district title.

Sammy Mandell Hangs Up Mits

Former World's Lightweight Champion Quits Ring After Thrilling Career; Purse For Last Fight Is Paid

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, once lightweight champion of the world, and for 10 years considered the greatest boxer of his day, is through with the ring.

Heeding the pleas of his friends, the "Shief of Rockford" decided today to hang up his gloves forever—an old young man of 27 years.

Mandell made this decision when the Illinois State athletic commission, ordered his purse of $1,250 paid, after it had been held up pending review of his pitiful showing against Ralph Lenny of Union City, N. J., last Wednesday, in the Chicago stadium. The bout was stopped in the eighth round and declared "no contest."

Twin Brothers Are Elected Co-Captains Of Track Team

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 10. (AP) — Twin brothers, Edward and Delbert Dunkin of Brownwood, Texas, who are almost identical in looks as well as in ability on the track, have been elected co-captains of the University of Missouri two-mile team, coach H. J. Huff announced here today. On the cinders the brothers compete in any distance from the springs to the two mile run, although their forte is the quarter and half mile run.

Southwest Conference Teams Jubilant Over Victories, Point To Next Games

Steers Get Ready For Frog Tilt On Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 10—Heartened by their first conference victory and with hope of finishing above the .500 mark, the University of Texas Steers went through a long scrimmage session today in their preparation for the game Saturday with Texas Christian University. Coaches were concentrating on an offensive they hoped would penetrate the tight Frog defence.

The return of the morale of the Texas team was the main factor upon which Longhorn supporters were depending to carry the tide of battle.

Five regulars were on the injured list, three of whom may not be able to play against T. C. U. The most seriously injured are Dutch Baumgarten, guard and captain; Ox Blanton, tackle; and Johnny Furrh, end. Stafford and Burr, halfbacks, were nursing injuries but probably will be in the lineup.

T. C. U. Declares A Holiday Saturday

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP)—Virtually the entire student body of T. C. U. and several hundred other rooters are expected to ride the special train to Austin for the Frog's game with the University of Texas Saturday.

A holiday has been declared for the students.

The special train will leave here at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning, arriving in Austin at 12:30. The return trip will be made shortly after the game, leaving Austin at 7 p. m. The football team will return on the special.

Coach Francis Schmidt has announced that he will leave here Friday morning with about 28 members of his squad, with a workout planned for that afternoon on the Longhorn gridiron. The remaining members of the squad will accompany the student body Saturday.

Bruce Barnes Ranks Second As Intercollegiate Netter

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Keith Gledhill, intercollegiate tennis champion from Stamford, has been named number one on the intercollegiate ranking list filed with the United States Lawn Tennis association by Prof. Burnham Dell of Princeton, chairman of the intercollegiate committee.

Gledhill, doubles mate of the national champion, Ellsworth Vines, won the intercollegiate title at Haverford, Pa., last June from Bruce Barnes, of the University of Texas, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Barnes is number two, followed by David Jones, Columbia, Earl Taylor of Texas tenth.

Barnes and his doubles partner, Karl Kamrath, were ranked number one in doubles.

FURLOUGHS GIVEN

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP) — Six inmates of the Texas penitentiary were furloughed by Governor R. S. Sterling today. They were Manuel Turner, Tarrant county; Frank G. Sheppard, Colorado county; Henry Hoffman, Wichita county; Frank Preise, Blanco county; B. W. Hudgins, Dawson county, and James O. Campbell, Harrison county.

Matadors Are Given Edge In El Paso Game

Team Arrives In Time To Work Out Yesterday; Miners Said To Be Crippled But Able To Start With Best Lineup

(Special To The Avalanche)

EL PASO, Nov. 10—All pepped up with the hopeful thoughts of avenging a certain grid defeat suffered last year at the hands of the Texas College of Mines eleven, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith and their band of 27 Texas Tech Matadors arrived here this afternoon in their special bus after spending the previous night in Roswell and most of the day in travel.

The Matadors clash with Mack Saxon's Miners tomorrow afternoon in the annual game between the clubs. The contest will feature El Paso's Armistice Day program.

Arrive Late

Arriving later than had been anticipated, Cawthon hurried his gridders into uniforms and out to Dudley Field where he put them through limbering up exercises and signal practice to take the kinks out. All of the players stood the trip well.

Coach Cawthon indicated he would follow the plan used in other games this season and start his "shock troops" in tomorrow's game.

Vivid posters urge from every fence and barn, "I want YOU!" . . . tailored whipcord and shining cordovan at Ritz teas . . . "issue O. "Yanks Smash On". Thin echoes of an ancient saga in another world, long, long ago.

Through all those stirring days c o u r s e d a magnificent idealism. An unquenchable s p i r i t of self-sacrifice that transcended all other motives and transfigured mere nationalism into a glory of patriotic devotion that the world has seldom seen.

Today in misguided sophistication we brand as childishly emotional that idealism; its elan and fervor are wrongly consigned to the same pit wherein our wartime hatreds lie forever buried. Shamefaced, we talk of "mob psychology" and of "1918's national hysteria." "Let George do it, guy. Patriotism? . . . Well . . . " Smug, cold America speaking.

Perhaps. The U-Boats are rusty at Scapa Flow. No national enemy threatens. Only . . . smugness, c o l d ness, indifference.

They are insidious foes. Fortified by those symbols of a failing faith in American destiny, our national economic problems are just that much harder of solving. Met with Courage, America's traditional weapon, forged in a flame of idealism and tempered with the strength of constructive planning these problems would be swiftly overcome.

To carry on . . . such is our larger d u t y to the thousands whose sacrifice preserved intact o u r American heritage. Should we fail them in that duty, our silent salute on Armistice Day becomes an idle empty tribute.

Resignation Predicted

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—When President William Howard Gardiner of the Navy League of the United States launched his recent attack against President Hoover for the administration's policy of naval limitation, he naturally wanted all the publicity he could get out of it—publicity being the life's blood of such activities.

Wm. H. Gardiner

And in fact, he expected to attract a certain amount of attention, according to information available at the league's headquarters in Washington.

But never in their most optimistic day dreams, the big navy folk admit, did they dare to hope that President Hoover himself would make what newspaper men call "a major story" out of the affair by coming right back at Mr. Gardiner with a fierce counter-attack, thus starting a regular campaign which bids fair to continue all winter, perhaps merge itself into next year's national politics and maybe figure as an important issue in the 1932 election.

PROSPECTS are that hostilities will open up in congress before the lawmakers have been long in session, beginning December 7.

By that time, presumably, Mr. Hoover's own investigation, by a commission of his own creation, into his own naval policy will be well in progress, or possibly it already will have arrived at a vindication of the course the administration has pursued in its handling of naval problems.

However, it scarcely is to be anticipated that the findings of a board of inquiry so organized will be accepted as conclusive by congressional big navy-ites.

That they will demand an investigation of their own is one of the safest of predictions.

OF COURSE, whatever the result of it may be, this will mean a desperate controversy.

It inevitably will be raging full blast when the Geneva armament limitation conference opens in February (if it does open according to schedule) and can hardly serve as a harmonious accompaniment to negotiations at the League of Nations' capital.

Prophesies are even made (with how much justification is a matter of mere guesswork) that the row will lead to the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, due to disapproval of the administration's program of economy in warship construction.

His statement that pacifists had put a false light on navy figures was taken in New York to indicate he was ready for a break with the administration.

WHATEVER Secretary Adams' personal views really may be, there is no question that the commissioned personnel of the navy is fairly bursting with barely-smothered fury at the cuts decreed by the White House in the 1932-'33 fiscal year's estimates for fleet maintenance and replacements.

From senior admirals on down through the service officers literally are panting for an opportunity to effervesce the indignation which they cannot otherwise express, as witnesses before a congressional investigating committee.

In the natural course of events, too, such an inquiry, if decided on, is likely to be held under the auspices either of Chairman Frederick Hale or Chairman Fred A. Britten, respectively of the senate and house of representatives' naval affairs committee, both of whom are on record in opposition to Mr. Hoover's drastic retrenchment plans.

ABOUT two years ago the president had, indeed, decidedly the advantage of the investigation which, angered by thrusts at his armament reduction efforts at the last London conference, he forced upon Chairman Hale's committee.

An inquiry today, however, might not parallel the earlier one.

In the previous instance, criticism of the White House, as quickly was brought out at the hearings, was inspired by American warship-building concerns, whose interest in preventing a decline in the volume of their orders was so evident as completely to discredit attempts on their part to base them on patriotic grounds.

Mayhap, to be sure, they were as genuinely patriotic as they professed to be, but it was difficult to make the public believe so.

AMONG Navy league members, so far as appears, there can be no suspicion of profiteering motives.

With the exception of a few retired naval officers (those on the active list are excluded and even the others are barred from official positions) the organization's roll of supporters includes no names of individuals who can reasonably be supposed to have the slightest relationship with the service.

Many are widely known; President Gardiner notably is a close friend of Secretary Adams; the league's endowment includes a gift from the late Theodore Roosevelt.

It can properly be described, perhaps, as aristocratic in its make-up, and probably Tory in its sympathies; certainly not as commercial.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

WHEN A TEAM WAS "GIVEN" A TOUCHDOWN:

On October 26, 1929, a play was enacted in the Washington-Oregon game at Seattle, which recalled the famous Roy Riegels' reverse run in 1926.

With Oregon backed up against their own goal line and a touchdown in sight for the Washington Huskies in the second period, Bobby Robinson, Oregon halfback, intercepted a Washington pass on his five-yard line and was away in a flash. As he neared the Washington 30-yard line, far ahead of his opponents, Westerweller, Washington substitute, flung off his blanket, tore into the field, and brought down the fleet-footed Robinson.

However, the touchdown was conceded to the Oregon Webfooters even before the referee had time to make a decision.

RECITED THE LORD'S PRAYER ONE MILLION TIMES:

In July, 1911, the German Government despatched the cruiser "Panther" to Agadir, Morocco, and almost precipitated a world war then and there. To avert the threatening conflagration Martin Dupin, a shoemaker of Lille, France, vowed that he would recite the Pater Noster (Nord's Prayer) a million times to induce a providential aversion of the menace of war. He took 321 days to fulfill his vow, or at the rate of about 3000 a day. When he finished the Italian guns were thundering before Rhodes in the Italo-Turkish war of 1912.

Gems of Peril

©1931 BY NEA Service Inc.

BRIEF HERE TODAY

Old MRS. JUPITER, wife of the millionaire automobile manufacturer, gives an engagement dinner and dance for her secretary and protege, MARY HARKNESS, who is to marry DIRK RUYTHER, son of a blue-blooded family.

Mary receives a telephone call from her scapegrace brother, EDDIE, saying he is in trouble and must see her. The house is strictly guarded against "gate-crashes" because Mrs. Jupiter is wearing the famous Jupiter rubies.

Mary arranges for Eddie to be admitted secretly. When she goes upstairs to meet him she finds Mrs. Jupiter robbed and murdered in her room. Running to find her fiance, she finds him in the garden with CORNELIA TABOR, his childhood sweetheart.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

Mary was too surprised to move for an instant. What could be the matter with Cornelia, that she should behave like that?

Dirk growled, "Don't make a damn fool of yourself, Con, and keep your voice down, will you? Do you want everybody to hear?"

"I don't care!" Cornelia subsided into childish sniffling. Just then she looked up and saw Mary watching them. Mary thought she had never seen anyone look so silly in her life. Cornelia hadn't expected interruption, that was sure, from the dumbfounded look on her face.

At Mary's call, Dirk wheeled about so abruptly that the clinging girl toppled and almost fell.

"Come quick, Dirk! Something terrible has happended!" Without a backward look, Dirk came running and took the steps to her side in a single bound.

"What's wrong? You look scared to death, honey," he asked worriedly. The terror in her eyes stabbed him with concern. His arm went about her protectingly. They drew away, out of Cornelia's hearing and lowered their voices somewhat.

Mary poured out her story in an excited jumble, almost crying with the joy of relief.

"Do you think it's anything to do with Eddie?" she asked anxiously.

"Listen," said Dirk, "who is this Eddie you're talking about? You don't mean the kid brother?"

Mary said yes, of course.

"But what has he to do with it?"

"I don't know—nothing, I suppose. But he may have been in the house—he was in trouble—"

Dirk laughed and patted her shoulder. In spite of herself, Mary felt reassured. Dirk seemed to wipe the whole night mare away.

"That kid? Why, you're all mixed up. This is something else. That kid wouldn't hurt a fly!" He pressed her hand comfortably and they started for the house.

Dirk called sharply, "Coming, Connie?"

Cornelia, still standing where he had left her, moved forward convulsively at his command.

They had reached the loggia when Teddy Doulton lumbered toward them out of the darkness, cursing carnestly, and seized upon them as an audience for his griefs.

"Damned idiot!" he exclaimed fervently, rubbing his drooping shoulder. "Ran into me down in the bushes and knocked the breath out of me. And not a word to excuse it—not a word!"

They did not listen. "Have you seen Mr. Jupiter?" Mary paused to ask.

"Have I seen him? No. Ask me if I've seen Jack Dempsey. Yes! Who was the fool, anyhow? Whaddaya ask such people for?"

"Who?" They could not wait for his answer. It was all meaningless chatter anyway — he was drunk enough to have collided with the side of the house.

The ballroom was deserted now, except for the musicians, who were packing up their instruments. The subdued babble from the dining room indicated that supper was still going on.

In other parts of the house, however, activity was intense. Two men in uniform pounded up the staircase in the wake of the butler, creaking with leather and breathing as if they had run. Police, in the sacred precincts of the Jupiter mansion! One of them turned and called to a third who remained behind, "Don't let anybody leave the house!"

Dirk squeezed Mary's hand reassuringly. "They'll find whoever did it. Those boys work fast. Don't worry. It will be all right."

Mary had cause to be grateful for the steadiness that came to her magically at Dirk's touch, for there were bad moments ahead of her in which she needed all the composure she could muster.

It was all at once a topsy-turvy

Conference To Open Thursday

Attendance Of 350 Delegates Being Expected For Session At Vernon; All Plans Have Been Completed

(Special To The Avalanche)

VERNON, Nov. 10.—Estimating an attendance of 350 official delegates, beside many hundreds of other visitors, committee representing the Vernon Chamber of Commerce and the First Methodist church here have completed plans for entertaining the annual sessions of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference which opens here on Thursday, November 12 for a five-day period to be devoted to business and assignment of pastors for the coming Conference year.

Dr. W. M. Pearce, pastor of the local church; U. S. Davis, local board of stewards chairman; R. H. Nichols, Vernon, lay leader of the district; T. Edgar Johnson and P. L. Massie, chairmen of the entertainment and publicity committees of the Vernon Chamber, have been active leaders in laying the plans for the coming Conference sessions. Rev. R. A. Stewart, Vernon presiding elder, also has been busy with Conference plans.

Board To Attend

Bishop H. A. Boaz, of Houston, and other high church officials will take leading roles in the conference here.

Pulpits of several Vernon churches of other denominations will be filled by visiting Methodist ministers on Sunday, Nov 15. Many of the visiting delegates will be entertained in homes of Vernon people during the Conference.

Letters of welcome were mailed by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce to all prospective delegates several days in advance of the Conference opening.

Seven Ralls "City Boys" In Fields Show A Good Record

RALLS, Nov. 10. (Special)—Seven Ralls boys, all of them classed as "city boys" to distinguish them from boys raised on the farm, picked eight bales of cotton in a week. The boys were employed on the farm of the Ralls estate operated by P. L. Lewis.

All of the work was done alone, no grown person being with the boys to prod them along. The group consisted of: Raymond and Emery Ralls, Herbert and Jiggs Burkholder, Al Ray Cooper, Arnett Ware and Waymon Sowell. All of them reside within the city limits.

Becton Plans For County Gathering

Tentative program for the monthly meeting of the Lubbock County Farm Bureau Federation, to be held Friday night at Becton, gives a prominent place on the program to the achievement day for the girls of the 4-H club there.

The local program has not been completed, but there will be entertainment by members of the Becton community. Miss Ruth Stockton, home demonstration agent, will outline the 1932 program for the club in its meeting.

"A Farm and Home Program," is the subject. Speakers for the meeting include: D. F. Eaton, county agent, who will discuss Reports of Farm Records; Prof. J. O. Ellsworth, professor of agricultural economics and farm management at Texas Tech who will speak on "The Farm Inventory" and Miss Stockton, who will talk on "Household Accounts."

George C. Cooper, county president, will be in charge of the meeting.

world. The Jupiter mansion no longer belonged to its owner, in effect, but to Inspector Kane, and the men who came with him from county police headquarters. The cream of Southampton's younger set found themselves herded into the ballroom for questioning along with a frightened huddle of servants. It was hours before the questioning, the running up and downstairs, the choking breath of flashlight powder, the hurrying to and fro, ceased.

The murderer, it seemed, had got clear away. Search of the grounds had failed to show any evidence of his coming or going; both the manner of his entrance and of his exit were unaccounted for. This much they gleamed from what they could overhear. Whoever the intruder was, he had done a clean-cut job of it. As the checking of evidence went on, it began to appear that no one except Mary had direct evidence of any sort.

And that was pitiably little and of no practical use.

"I can't," Mary was forced to admit, in reply to Inspector Kane's earnest urging to recall the man's voice she had heard in the murdered woman's room. "It wasn't a voice exactly—it was just a growl, a—ah, I can't explain it. It was just a sound anyone might have made in his throat if he were angry. You'd say if you heard it that he was mad enough to kill."

"It didn't remind you of any voice you'd ever heard before?"

"Why, no!" She was obviously startled.

The inspector frowned thoughtfully.

"What I am getting at," he was kind enough to explain to them both, in a lowered tone, "is the possibility of an inside job. The butler—do you trust him?"

"Absolutely!" It was a relief to be on safe ground.

The inspector sighed.

"Well, I do, too. I think he's on the level when he says he kept everybody out that hadn't been invited. He had a real argument with one man, he says—nearly threw him out. But Lord, there are a dozen loop—holes. Nobody checked on cars that came and went, and there were plenty of windows open. Those doors over there," he indicated the French doors opening onto the loggia "were open when I came in. What do we know about those black horntooters? Not a thing." He shook his head.

If he had meant to throw Mary off guard by this confidential moment, he succeeded, for she changed color when he asked abruptly: "What were you doing upstairs, Miss Harkness? When you heard the sounds you speak of, and the shots?"

"Why, I—" Panic seized her.

"You had been dancing a moment before, hadn't you? Why did you leave the ballroom and go upstairs?"

"I went up to see how Mrs. Jupiter was," Mary faltered. "Someone told me she was tired and had gone to her room to rest."

"You were—alone, up there?"

"Why, yes." What did he mean, Mary wondered fearfully. What did he know?

But his question had had a different meaning, she soon saw from its effect on Dirk. He turned first red, then white, and jumped to his feet. He drew a deep breath.

"She certainly was alone," he said angrily.

"All right, all right," the officer returned, pacifically. "We've got to think of everything, you know. And two witnesses would be better than one."

"I see no reason nor excuse," Dirk said stiffly, "for your thinking of such a thing."

The detective was not riled. Mary was hiding something, he thought, but it was not a love tryst. For the moment he was ready to give over questioning her further, until he heard from the others, who had been rounding up what evidence there was.

"Listen, buddy," he told the glowering Dirk firmly, "stranger things happen every day. No use having tender feelings. I'm just trying to find out what's what."

He tilted his head toward the jiggling, milling mob of girls and men who were surging about a young officer named Hayes, whose job it was to take down their names and addresses before letting them go. The indignities of search were over.

"Look at that mob. Unless we get fingerprints, and I doubt it, we got about as much chance of finding the guy who did this as if it never happened. The crook that pulled this was smart. I'll say he was.

"Everything set to cover up for him. Nobody even heard the shots, except Miss Harkness here, and a few that didn't know what they were when they did hear 'em.

"Any one of them smart kids could have pulled the trick, and hid the gun. And how are we gonna find out who did it?"

"But how about the jewels?" Mary asked.

"We'll find 'em," the officer said gloomily. "We got to. That's every damn thing we've got to go on. But it's going to take time, waiting for them to turn up."

He looked like a man in the last throes of depression, but Mary was not sure he was quite sincere. His keen eyes, roving the room, watching the movements of his assistants, the way he pricked up his ears when anyone entered, gave an impression of alertness that his easy-going air belied. For all his conversational attitude toward Dirk and Mary, he had not let them go yet—officially.

Detective Byrne came straight to Kane and reported that every car had been searched before leaving the grounds, with no results.

"Any of them Lorimors?" Kane asked.

Byrne snapped his fingers regretfully. "Damn! I forgot to look for that." He thought a moment intently. "No. I'm positive there wasn't a Lorimor in the lot."

Inspector Kane prepared to move off.

"Well—no offense, young lady?" He got up off the gilt chair he had been straddling. "Have a cigaret?" He held out a crumpled pack, which Mark declined. "Don't smoke, eh?"

Mary shook her head. "Well, lotsa girls don't. My wife don't." He appeared to be trying to cover up any awkwardness he had caused.

When the rush for wraps and homeward-bound motors had cleared the room, all that remained were the group of officers, Mary and Dirk, the housekeeper, Mrs. Warren, and, busily speeding the parting guests, Spence.

Once Inspector Kane asked in a low voice, "Where's the old man? Up there?" pointing to the ceiling. Byrne nodded. "Let him stay."

The servants, those who remained, were released and sent off to bed. The sight of their scurrying backs momentarily confounded Mary. She had forgotten all about Bessie. What had Bessie told, if anything?

As if he read her thought, Inspector Kane turned to one of his men, whose job had been quizzing the servants.

"They don't know nothing," was the other's disgusted report. "They're like a lot of sheep."

"Get 'em all? Sure you didn't miss anybody?" he asked sharply.

The detective retrieved a list from his hip pocket, where he had just stuffed it, and scanned it.

"Two," he said. "A maid named Bessie and a chauffeur. Nobody knows where they've gone."

FRIEND SAID TRY CARDUI

"A FEW years ago, I was in a miserable, run-down condition," says Mrs. M. M. Brett, of 806 Albany Ave., Waycross, Ga. "I was so weak, I could hardly go. I was nervous and all out of heart, getting very discouraged with my condition.

"A friend of mine, seeing how miserable I was, told me to try Cardui. I have never ceased to be grateful, for I felt better from the time I began taking it.

"I kept on taking Cardui until I felt well and strong. I was less nervous and was soon enjoying good health."

Cotton Cotton Activity Is Only Moderate Livestock Cattle Receipts Show Increases Grain Wheat Continues In Good Demand

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10. (AP) — The cotton market, although only moderately active today developed a reactionary tendency. The downward trend of prices was due to liquidation on weakness in stocks and wheat and a sharp drop in silver futures in New York, although bar silver in London had closed higher at 21 9-16D.

After opening practically unchanged despite lower Liverpool cables, prices gradually sagged until by early afternoon they showed losses of 19-21 points from the previous close. The fact that tomorrow will be a holiday here, Armistice Day, while New York will remain open probably added to liquidation.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—A slight opening advance in cotton today was followed by declines under a little more southern selling combined with reselling by recent buyers.

January contracts broke to 6.66 and closed at 6.71, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 8-14 points.

The opening was steady 1-6 points higher on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement which again seemed to include some covering and trade buying believed to be partly for Liverpool and Japanese account. December advanced to 6.77 and March to 7.01 on this demand, but the buying was supplied by some southern and local selling and prices soon turned easier.

Recent Speculators Accept Profits And Securities And Grains Go Down

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP) — Recent speculators for the advance accepted profits in financial markets today, giving a lower direction to security and grain prices.

Wheat's reaction had been quite expected here; some brokerage houses were surprised that it had not come sooner. Therefore the losses of around 3 cents a bushel, accompanied by larger declines in rye and somewhat smaller recessions in corn, caused little concern, although the immediate effect was a sympathetically heavy share market. Bonds, too, gave ground after their advance of eight day's duration.

Bar silver advanced a cent and a half to 37 1-4 cents an ounce, but heavy realizing was encountered by futures which spent a busy day. Rubber lost more than half a cent a pound.

Local Markets

These prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry — Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Dairy Products—Bell Ice Cream company; Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company, following prices being asked by Lubbock grain dealers. Cotton—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

Tech is given an edge to win over the Miners tomorrow. Handicapped at the start of the season with only a few players, Saxon's team had been continually crippled by losses through injuries and eligibility rules. In spite of this condition, the Miners tomorrow will have a stronger team to put on the field for the Armistice Day classic than they have had in any former game this season.

Seed Analyst

at the suggestion of the commissioner of agriculture, J. E. McDonald, to find out sentiment among seed growers and dealers, on the establishment of a branch in this part of the state. It is the belief of the commissioner, she said, that such a work would add greatly to the service to farmers.

Miss Robbins said she was assured by G. E. Lockhart, state representative, that he would do all in his power to help secure an appropriation for the establishment of an office in this section.

At present the state department of agriculture does not have an appropriation for such a work away from Austin. However, it is believed that a way can be found to take care of the expense until the legislature meets.

"I was offered a space at Tech by the school of agriculture for a laboratory," Miss Robbins said. "Every assistance possible was accorded me by officials of the school. They have some equipment there and we can use it for our work."

Seed men have for some time been working on the plan. The chamber of commerce and Dean A. H. Leidigh of Texas Tech have been discusing it, along with others interested in the work.

Conclusions After Probe Of Records Will Be Given City

Conclusions of D. D. Martin, city accountant, regarding entries he has found in books and records of the West Texas Gas company and the South Plains Pipe Line company here, will be handed to Lubbock city commissioners meeting Thursday.

Preliminary investigation of the gas company's books was begun by Martin last week, the result of a conference of the commissioners and counsel for the gas company late in October.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP)—Receipts of cattle at eleven markets totalled 39,600 as compared with 39,156 last Tuesday. Strong to 25 higher prices prevailed on a few loads of choice fed steers and yearlings but on the close a weak to 25 lower trend was noted on better grades at some points, indicating that demand for beef will soon drop off in favor of poultry as the Thanksgiving holiday approaches. Short feds, which made up the bulk of the supply, were slow to move and values were unevenly weak to 25 lower. Several loads of choice fed steers and yearlings around the circuit brought 11.50@12.00. Bulk of short fed steers made 5.25@6.25. Stockers and feeders held steady, most repiacement steers at 4.25@6.25 and stock steer calves at 5.50@7.50.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP) — Hogs 700; truck hogs steady to strong; no fall hogs offered; truck top 5.60 to small killers; bulk choice 180-250 lb. truck hogs 5.50; few packing sows 4.25@4.50, or steady.

Cattle—3,000, including 1,600 calves; all about steady; grass slaughter steers around 3.50@4.25; some fed grades unsold of value to move 5.75@6.00; better fat yearlings practically lacking, medium to good slaughter yearlings 4.00; butcher heifers around 3.00@4.50; fat cows up to 3.65; butchers mostly 2.50@3.85; low cutter sorts 1.25@1.75; bulls scarce; stock cows 2.25@3.25; 2 year old feeder steers 3.25; one load good stock heifer calves 4.50; other purchases good stock calves, heifers and mixed sexes, 5.00@5.25; heavy slaughter calves on packer account 4.00@4.50; cull sorts around 2.50@3.00.

Armistice Day

by Allen Brothers Post No. 148, American Legion, and Texas Technological college. Dr. E. F. George is chairman of the committee, and other members are Ben Kucera, post commander Judge Clark M. Mullican, A. C. Jackson, Col. Charles A. Davis, Alex McDonald, J. A. Raley, A. M. Scott, Charles Whitacre, H. D. Woods and Capt. Ben F. Condray.

Dr. A. B. Cunningham will address an audience at the Tech at 11 o'clock, for the chief speaking event of the day. Dr. Cunningham is an ex-service man and novelist. Two other big events planned are the parade, starting from Texas and Main at 9:40 o'clock, and the football game at Tech field between the Westerners and the Plainview Bulldogs at 3 o'clock.

Parade Units Formed

Units to march in the parade include Confederate and Union war veterans, to ride in the same automobiles; United Daughters of the Confederacy; Daughters of the American Revolution; the high school band, Tech band, American Legion, Auxiliary; National Guard, regimental headquarters and two batteries; R. O. T. C. cadets from the Tech; Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, girls' riding class, gold star mothers, Spanish war veterans and other organizations.

The paraders are to assemble near the city hall on Texas avenue. Line of march is west on Broadway to Texas Tech, where, at the flag pole in front of the administration building, a flag ceremony will be held at 10:40 o'clock. Ben Kucera will direct the ceremony.

Breakfast Carded

J. A. Raley will be in charge of the breakfast for ex-service men, to be served at the Hilton hotel. Directing the parade will be Captain Thornton and Traffic Officer C. E. Luce.

World war veterans will be guests at a stag chow line at the legion hall at 12:30 o'clock. Alex McDonald and A. M. Scott will direct the affair. A 25-cent charge will be made.

A. M. Scott will direct a joint meeting of auxiliary and legion members at the hall in the evening. Twenty-five cents will be charged for the dinner.

One Mail Delivery

Invitations have been sent to members of adjoinng legion posts and a large attendance of the veterans is expected.

One mail delivery in the business district and rural deliveries will be made today by postal employes, Postmaster John L. Vaughn said Tuesday night.

There will be no residence deliveries of mail nor of parcel post. One collection of mail from the business district, at 6 p. m., is planned. No postoffice windows will be open.

Castaways

all the objects about at will.

From the confusion, the drift and the small area in which the debris floated, Ormsbee concluded the castaways were survivors of a vessel which had unexpectedly exploded.

Taps Out SOS

Again and again he circled the position. But he had two passengers and mail aboard and the churning sea would not permit his seaplane to alight and take off again with a cargo as heavy as the combined weight of the castaways.

Quickly he tapped out a distress message on the radio of his plane. When he reached Barranquilla yesterday afternoon he supplemented the message, broadcast for the benefit of all ships in the vicinity, with dispatches to his company.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10. (AP) —Wheat continued in good demand on the cash grain market today but other commodities were only fairly well bought.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 69@70; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 70@71; 14 per cent 74@75; 15 per cent 78@79; 16 per cent 82@83.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 46@47; No. 2 white 27 1-2@48 1-2; No. 2 yellow 51@53.

Barley, No. 2 nominally 42@46.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 88@90; No. 2 kaffir 86@88.

Delivered Texas group three: oats, No. 2 red 26 1-2@27 1-2.

Report On Roads

This report is furnished daily by the South Plains Automobile club, local branch of the American Automobile association.

Roads throughout South Plains are in good condition.

Highway No. 137, 21 miles detour from Lubbock to Hockley county line on account of paving—good when dry, difficult when wet.

Seven mile detour from Lubbock to Lynn county line, between Lubbock and Tahoka, bad in wet weather.

Best route to San Antonio: Follow State road No. 7 from Lubbock to Snyder; No. 83 from Snyder to Anson. From Anson go to Abilene, Coleman, Brady, Mason and San Antonio—440 miles.

Route recommended to Oklahoma City, due to detours on U. S. Highway 66. Follow State road 53 to Dickens, State road 106 and 24 to Seymour, No. 277 from Seymour to Wichita Falls, State road 79 to Devol, Oklahoma, same road to Waurika, Oklahoma. U. S. highway 31 to Chickasha, going to Oklahoma City by way of Amber, Tuttle and New Castle. Paving east to Chickasha, detours most gravel.

Best route to Dallas: Follow Highway No. 4 to Post, No. 84 from Post to Clairemont, No. 84-A from Clairemont through Rotan to Roby. State road 83 to Anson, No. 18 from Anson through Albany to Breckenridge, No. 1-A to Mineral Wells and U. S. No. 80 to Dallas.

Club Elections

women in rural communities, bringing them the advantages of association that city women now enjoy.

Winners Announced

In a fine arts program Tuesday evening, winners of annual prizes were announced. An award went to the chairman of art exhibits in fifth district, Mrs. William King of San Antonio, for having the most art exhibits during the year. Mrs. W. W. Withrow, Teague, representing third district, received first place for having the most programs on art appreciation. Winner in the best year book contest was San Angelo Women's club, for the best short story was Mrs. E. E. Davis, Arlington, and for the best feature story was Mrs. Guy E. Brown of Houston.

Lexie Dean Robertson of Rising Star and Lucille Gill of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, read some of their poems following an address on "Literature of the Southwest" by Miss Rebecca W. Smith of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth.

Reports Are Heard

The distinctive literature of the Southwest that has grown up in three centers was discussed by Miss Smith. Colonies of writers at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and the University of Oklahoma and the growth of interest in folklore are the three great influences in shaping the sectional literature, she said, mentioning some of the outstanding writers.

F. A. Kleinschmidt talked on art in Texas at the evening program Mr. Kleinschmidt is a member of the architectural department at Texas Technological college.

During the morning session, reports from the president, Mrs. R. P. Lindsay, and the first vice-president, Mrs. J. L. Young of Mineral Wells, and several other officers and district presidents were heard.

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman talked on the summer institute for club women at the College of Industrial Arts, Denton, an institution which Mrs. Lindsay pointed to as unique in the United States. The establishement of this institute is the greatest accomplishment of this administration, according to the president.

Gragg Is Speaker

Hon. R. B. Gragg of Austin, commissioner of labor, talked on women in industry at the morning session.

The financing of a permanent club house in Austin and of the Texas Federation News until 1934 were other outstanding things in the present administration of two years, according to Mrs. Lindsay. In her report she pointed to the policies that have been promoted: An aggressive public health program, education, beautification, a dean of women for every high school, betterment of Texas prisons.

During the day, the convention accepted constitutional changes that were approved by the board of directors on Monday. These will dispense with a corresponding secretary, change the year book publications to biennial instead of annual ones and reorganize the executive board.

Audit Is Limited

Other recommendations approved during the day will limit the auditing of books to once for each administration and cause a paid secretary to be bonded and have charge of paying all bills for the federation.

The Pioneer dinner in the evening honored three past presidents, Mesdames W. R. Potter of Bowie, Henry Redmond of Corpus Christi, and J. U. Fields of Haskell, and two life members of the directorate, Mrs. J. L. Lovejoy of McKinney and Mrs. G. R. Scott of Corpus Christi.

During the present administration 5,000 new members have been received in the federation from 140 clubs and during the last year, there have been 63 new clubs with a membership of approximately 3,000, according to the report of Mrs. Young. In this latter list was the Shapespeare club of Lubbock and seven clubs from seventh district.

Howard Speaks To Local Lions Club

Real patriotism is sane thinking for the best interests of one's country and not willingness to bear arms in battle, L. A. Howard, Lubbock attorney, told members of the Lions club at the luncheon Tuesday.

"Patriotism," said Howard, "is only love of one's country and its best interests. And it is thinking for the best interests in times of stress that is real patriotism. We've had very few patriots in the history of the United States. There are many whom we count as patriots but when the facts are known their acts were the result of selfish interests and viewpoint. In time of stress we are prone to follow the masses and going to war is one of the results."

W. H. Evans was in charge of the program. Mrs. Jerome Merrill, accompanied by Mrs. W. D. Benson, jr., gave two accordion selections.

Ring out the scum!
Ring in the soft water!

Good news! Water need no longer be hard, even in this hard-water country. Scum need no longer form in the bathtub! Dirty rings need no longer be scrubbed from tubs, dishpans or washbasins!

Use Mel'o to soften hard water! It prevents the forming of the dirty ring. It makes water delightfully soft. It saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap ordinarily used. It makes soap much more effective. With or without soap, water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

NEWS BRIEFS

Funeral services for Martha June Dilton, aged 14 months, who died in a local hospital early Tuesday were held at the Lubbock cemetery at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Bradner J. Moore, rector of St. Paul Episcopal church, officiated.

The child died of pneumonia contacted after a cotton seed lodged in her throat last Thursday, was removed here Friday afternoon. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Dilton of Enoch, survive. The Rix funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Sheriff H. Stirling of Bailey county and Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller of Lamb county were in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon investigating a theft case.

Speck Marquart, convicted in county court of theft of $33 was given a one-day jail term and a fine of $1 Tuesday.

Evidence showed that the money was returned the day after it was reported taken. The defendant was given credit for ten days already spent in jail, the sentence assessed him actually amounting to eleven days.

Suicides

the three young people never had been closely associated.

Kennedy, who operated an ice-sub-station at Oakwood, was found dead in his hotel room there at 3 p. m. yesterday when his brother, W. T. Kennedy of Elkhart, arrived in Oakwood with a load of ice and went to the hotel looking for him.

He was lying in bed. A bottle that had contained poison was on the dresser. A physician examined the body and said Kennedy had been dead since before noon.

He left a note saying, "Goodbye and good luck to my family and friends—Clyde." There was no other explanation. Justice Carl Johnson returned a coroner's verdict of suicide.

While Kennedy's death in Oakwood was still unknown, Miss McCain left her father's home during the morning and went to the high school in Elkhart to see a friend. She quitted the school at noon and walked downtown, stopping at a drug store and purchasing a dime's worth of poison which she told the druggist her mother needed to "kill some cats." She walked home and told her mother she was hungry. Shortly afterwards, she was found lying on a bed, suffering convulsions. She died soon afterward. She left no note and had said nothing which might have indicated her motive.

Young Miller, whose father is a traveling machinest for the Gulf Pipeline company, left school when classes were over for the day but did not return to his home until 7 p. m. Not long afterward his family heard a shot. He was found lying in a bedroom, a bullet wound in his head. His father's pistol lay near him.

He left a note which said, "Goodbye, mother and dad. It's better for me to die now than to disappoint you in life. Tell Madee (his younger sister) not to marry too soon. (Signed) Ernie. P. S. Tell Miss Hardwick (his school teacher) I appreciate the kindness she has shown me."

LAS LEALES INITIATE

Ten new members were initiated into Las Leales, girls' social club, Monday evening. The initiation, which was in the form of a candle-lighting ceremony, was held at the home of Hazel Gruver, and following it the club members enjoyed a theatre party.

Girls who became members of the club were: Neva Deen, Lyra Armeling, Christova Sawyer, Ruby Rae Williamson, Ena Armstrong, Evelyn Baker, Eva Rob Watkins, Maetta Mounts, Ruth Thompson, and Wilma Bartlett. Old members are Hazel Gruver, Alice Beckett, Hilma Bartlett, Mary Jo Cagle, Geraldine Clewell, Lizzie Belle Clements, Lilah Gaye Rodgers, and Pearl Harrison, president.

TOREADOR OUT TODAY

This week's edition of the Toreador will appear this morning, instead of Thursday, because of the Armistice day holiday.

Joe Jackson, associate editor has supervised work on the publication during the absence of the editor, Marshall Formby, who went to El Paso to attend the Tech-Texas Miners' game.

COWBOY DINNER TONIGHT

Visiting members of the Texas Federated women's clubs are to be guests at a chuck-wagon feed this evening from 6 to 7 o'clock. The meal will be served just outside the stock judging pavilion, which is southwest of the administration building. The menu will be typical of the chuck wagon meals served on the range, including son-of-a-gun and barbecue.

Mrs. W. O. Stevens is chairman of the committee which arranged the affair.

AMARILLOANS COMING

Plans are being made now for the annual home coming for Tech graduates and former students, November 20. Ethridge Eagan of Lubbock is president of the Alumni association and urges all students to send invitations to alumni to return on that date.

Already a number of Amarillo students have signified their intention of being here, Dr. P. W. Horn has announced.

TO MAKE INSPECTION TOUR

All mechanical and textile engineers are invited to go on the inspection trip planned by the A. S. M. E. for Saturday. The group will leave the engineering building at 1 o'clock and go to Tuco where they will visit the Texas Utilities plant.

Hill Garrison is president of A. S. M. E. The following faculty members will accompany the students: R. E. Lewis, H. F. Godeke, V. L. Doughtie, and C. C. Schmidt.

SIMMONS SENDS TICKETS

A large delegation of Tech fans is expected to be in Abilene Thanksgiving day to see the Tech-Simmons game, according to the Brand, college publication of Simmons University. A thousand tickets to the game have been forwarded the Tech athletic department by Simmons, the paper also states.

EXTEND TIME LIMIT

Because of the large number of students who have been having their pictures made at Brown's studio for La Ventana during the past week, Red Huff, editor, announces that the time has been extended from November 10 to November 24, the day before Thanksgiving.

Fifty students were photographed Tuesday.

PLAN PARTY, INITIATION

Scurry county students held their regular club meeting this week and planned for an initiation ceremony for new members which will be held sometime soon. They also made tentative plans for a party. Buford Browning, Fluvanna, is president.

CONVOCATION IS TODAY

Convocation of Tech students and faculty members is scheduled at 11 o'clock this morning in observance of Armistice day.

Texas Technological college and the city of Lubbock will join in the program, with the American Legion in charge. Dr. A. B. Cunningham, a member of the English department and a veteran of the World war, will make the principal address.

The program will be given in the college gymnasium, beginning at 11 o'clock but all classes are to be dismissed at 10:45 for the day. Members of the Glee club and Choral club are reminded of the required attendance at convocation. There will be no Wednesday evening hehearsal, however.

CLUB WOMEN VISIT TECH

Several groups of club women who are attending the convention have visited the college during the past two days.

In commenting on their visits President P. W. Horn said, "We are always glad to have visitors and we especially welcome the delegates to the Texas Federated clubs convention."

STATE WORKER TO COME

J. H. Henry, executive secretary of the state committee of Y. M. C. A.'s will visit the local organization early in December, according to Jack Boyd, secretary.

It will be his first visit to Lubbock, as he has only been working in Texas since last January.

HOLD WORSHIP SERVICES

Worship services are being held each afternoon this week from 5 to 5:30 by the Christian associations in connection with similar services held by other colleges throughout the country in observance o the World's Week of Prayer.

"The Urgent Needs of the World" is to be the theme of the meetings, and Carroll Thompson, chairman of the committee in charge, invites anyone interested to attend.

Work is progressing on the canal from Marseilles, France, to the Rhone.

ARMISTICE

We Pay Homage To The Heroes Of War

WE COMMEMORATE
THE COMING OF PEACE

On this Armistice Day we glorify Peace, not War. We honor the nation's heroes as men who gave their lives not to win a war, but to win an everlasting peace. They were brave, fighting hearts that bled for a noble cause. We can well cherish the memory of their deeds. But in remembering let us also pray that our youth and the youth of the world will never again meet on the battlefield.

Is the Modern woman going Antique?

YES, the girls wear Empress Eugenie hats—but that seems to be the only noticeable tendency that the modern woman is going antique.

Isn't it rather hard to imagine yourself tearing down the street in an old surrey, say at 3 miles an hour? Picture, if you can, a modern woman reading a true story by the light of a kerosene lamp.

No, you wouldn't want to live like they used to.

Perhaps one of the things you would miss most would be the telephone. Wonder what Grandma did when these things happened: pouring down rain, and not a grocery in the house; no way to order quickly . . friends, haven't seen them for days; no way to reach them . . noise in the basement; burglars, maybe! . . no telephone book with the names of friends, relatives, business houses . . relatives in a distant city; are they well? . . a child's face, pale against a pillow; a doctor, quick!

It is hard to do without a telephone. Why should you, when the service costs so little?

What? A Telephone in the Kitchen?

Forget to order something?
If you're like lots of women, you may find you're out of something right in the middle of preparing dinner. That's when the handy kitchen telephone meets another emergency.

Or perhaps a portable telephone
It plugs into the wall like a lamp. Move it from one location to another as you need it. Ask for details at the telephone office. Extra charge for installing sockets.

Like to sleep late?
Folks may think you're lazy . . . but why not make or answer calls from your bed? Mighty nice when you're sick, too . . . saves jumping up from afternoon naps . . . adds a distinctive touch to your bedroom.

For sale . . . One step saver
One man stayed with the baby while his wife went shopping. Before she got home he'd ordered an extension telephone. "Saves at least a mile a day," he declares. An extension telephone saves many, many weary trips.

Call the Home Town Folks Tonight

You may be surprised at how little it costs to talk from your home to out-of-town folks. These rates are not specials . . . they apply every night after 8:30 on station-to-station calls.

"Station-to-station" means that you tell the operator you'll talk to anyone who answers. Average time for connecting long distance calls, no matter how far away, less than 2 minutes.
