GERMAN PEOPLE LEARN TEXT OF NEW PROPOSALS

Imperial Government Makes Public Terms of Pact It Wants U. S. to Bring to Attention of Allies.

New Step Taken Not Because Huns Fear Further Penalties, but Because of False Views.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, April 26.—The German people now know the new proposals which the German government submits to the allied powers through the medium of the United States. The terms of the proposals were made public today as well as the accompanying assurances forward to President Harding.

Germany, declaring that the peace and welfare of the world are dependent upon a speedy and just solution of the reparations question, assures the president that it will do everything in its power to enable the Aemrican government to direct attention of the allied governments to the matter.

As previously outlined, Germany proposes to pay the allies an indemnity extending over a number of years which will amount to two hundred billion gold marks, equivalent to about $50,000,000,000; she will co-operate to her utmost in the reconstruction of devastated regions; she will place immediately at the disposal of the reparations commission one billion gold marks; she is willing to assume the allied obligations to the United States, and she will issue an international loan, the proceeds of which will go to the allies.

Wants Penalties Stopped

But, in return she makes the condition that the present system of penalties shall be discontinued immediately, that she be given freedom of trade and that she be freed from "all unproductive outlays" now imposed on her.

The German foreign minister, Dr. Simons, explaining the counter proposals in the Reichstag, declared that the new offer sent through the United States must not be taken "on the basis of an increase over the previous German offer, but only on a different basis."

The new step had been taken by Germany, the minister explained not from fear of new penalties, but owing entirely to the false views entertained abroad regarding the reparations question. President Harding was appealed to on the principle of justice, and the American answer was awaited at any moment.

Text of Note.

The text of the note forwarded by Germany to the United States for transmission to the allies, concluded with the following points:

1. Germany fixes her total liability at 50,000,000,000 gold marks payable in suitable annuities to total 200,000,000,000 gold marks.

2. Germany will immediately issue an international loan in which she will participate, and of which the value rate of interest and scale of redemption shall be subject to agreement, the proceeds of the loan to be put at disposal of the allies.

3. Germany will pay, according to her capacity, in labor, interest and redemption, the total sum to be paid which is not covered by the international loan; she considers in this connection, that it will be possible to pay only four percent annual interest.

4. Germany is disposed to permit the allies to share in an improvement of her financial and economic situation. The redemption of the remaining sums will have to take, therefore, a variable form, depending upon improvement. It would be necessary to draw up a scheme to be based on an index to be used, should the situation become worse.

Huns Willing to Co-Operate.

5. In order to clear herself as quickly as possible of the balance, Germany is willing to co-operate with all her strength in the reconstruction of the devastated regions; she regards reconstruction as the most urgent basis of reparations and the most direct remedy for mitigating the hardships of the war and the hatred between peoples. She will reconstruct towns, villages and townships designated, or co-operate by supplying labor and material, or in any other way agreeable to the allies.

6. With the same object in view, Germany is disposed to pay in kind to states about where were victims of the war, in addition to reconstruction, according to a scheme as far as possible purely commercial.

7. In order to give undeniable proof of her good faith, Germany is prepared immediately to place at the disposal of the reparations commission 1,000,000,000 marks, comprising 150,000,000 in gold and and silver in foreign exchange and 850,000,000 gold marks in treasury notes, redeemable within three months in foreign exchange or foreign securities.

8. In the event the United States and the allies so desire, Germany is

County Attorney Will Prosecute if Sunday Shows Are Attempted

Picture show owners who attempt to operate their places on Sunday will be vigorously prosecuted, according to a statement from E. L. Fulton, county attorney, who also said that he had made this statement to members of the local ministerial association Tuesday morning.

"Any way you go, it is against the law," declared Mr. Fulton.

Members of the ministerial association discussed at length the plans of the moving picture men to open their shows on Sundays, starting shortly, as told in the Record News of Sunday, and appointed a committee to urge the officers here to vigorously prosecute all violations of the Sunday statute.

One member of the association, who withheld his name, declared that moving picture men, at the time the former cases against them were dropped, pledged themselves not to attempt to reopen until the statute was changed.

COURT RULES ALLEGED WILL OF ORMER LOCKLEAR INVALID; WIDOW IS NOW SOLE HEIR

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, April 26.—Testimony of a handwriting expert that the alleged will of Ormer Locklear, daredevil aviator, who lost his life in a crash near Los Angeles, Calif., last August, was not in the handwriting of the aviator, was largely responsible for the probate court's refusal today to probate the will, advanced by the parents.

"In my opinion Ormer Locklear did not write this will," J. C. Shearman, hand writing expert of Wichita, Kan., said from the witness stand.

The validity of the will was being attacked by Mrs. Ruby Locklear, widow.

The will, which allotted $5,000 to the aviator's mother, Mrs. Odessa Locklear and a similar sum to a brother, Osman Locklear was advanced for probate by J. C. and Mrs. Odessa Locklear, father and mother of Ormer Locklear.

Ormer Locklear was killed on August 4, 1921, while performing dare devil stunts for the movies near Los Angeles. He was blinded while making a long nose dive and did not right his ship in time.

He was the first man in America to change ships in mid air and to walk around on the wings of his plane, while flying.

According to officials here, the decision of the court today leaves the estate entirely to Mrs. Ormer Locklear.

INCREASE IN WOMEN CLUBS IS ENORMOUS

Reports at Convention Show 22 Clubs and 3200 New Members Joining Federation in Year.

Delegates Say Wichita Falls Conference Largest and Best Held by First Texas District.

Thirty-two hundred new members have been added to the First District of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs since last years convention, and 22 new clubs are proving potent factors in the life of the Texas northwest. Two principal ideals are found in these new clubs and in the new work of all the old clubs, the vision of a broader life for the rural women and the more thorough Americanization of the family, whether in the city or in the rural home.

These items formed the high lights of the Tuesday morning program, when the first district opened formally what the state president, Mrs. F. C. Floore, declared was the best attended district meeting held this year and the best district meeting she has ever attended.

The auditorium of the First Methodist church was filled with delegates, visitors and local club women and the enthusiasm and feeling of inspiration which was engendered by the opening remarks of Mrs. Floore, and the district president, Mrs. Mark Henry, continued throughout the day.

As each club delegate made her report, and each chairman told of special work in the district, it was clearly evident that the vision of wider service, which was asked by the state and district presidents, was already the inspiring scheme of activity for the federated club women of the first district.

Local Membership Largest.

Mrs. Lee C. O'Neil's report as chairman of the Club extension was cheered to the echo, her figures showing the startling growth set out above. Twenty-two new clubs added and a total membership of 3,200.

Wichita Falls has the distinction of contributing the largest single membership, 1,300 in the City Federation, one of the most recently organized. Oklahoma-Texas Line Dispute May Require 9 Months for Settlement

BY B. N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 26.—That a master will be appointed to hear evidence of the peculiar habits and tendencies of Red River and to report back to the Supreme Court, when it resumes its sitting in October, following a summer recess, seemed today the next step in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary matter..

If this course is followed, the court would then render a decision on the big matter, "where is the south bank." Following that, the court would then appoint a commission to mark the boundary on the ground.

Although the Supreme Court has indicated that, because of the great property value involved, it is anxious to settle the case as soon as possible, a good guess today was that nine months is the earliest a settlement can be expected, with eighteen months as the maximum amount of time that will be required.

While delegates from the Federated clubs were discussing the place of woman in modern civilization, Indian squaws were placidly driving stakes at the command of their bucks on the ground back of the baseball park where the third annual roundup of Wichita Falls will be held, beginning Thursday.

No defiance, no sentiment of subjection by male brutes, nor no protests were made by these Indian women. They were dressed in cheap calico wrappers, did what they were told to do, hewed the brush from a nearby ravine for their beds, packed in driftwood for their fires and only occasionally called on their husbands to hand them a rope, which they couldn't reach.

No Boarding Houses.

Only a few of the 75 Comanche Indians, which will be one of the main features of the round-up had arrived Tuesday afternoon, but true to type they haven't sought boarding houses. They're not in tepees for they now have canvas tents, figure eight style and will arrive in a body tomorrow, "Fog Horn" Clancy of the round-up said Tuesday.

No wicker baskets on the back of women were seen but little slips furnished the only covering for the progeny of the owners of America at one time. The men wear standardized trousers and cheap gingham shirts, hair in braids and are surly and indifferent to opinions of the people of this city or any other, whether through ignorance or whether through divine given knowledge, attributed to them by romantic authors, is not known. According to Clancy, Tom Burnett is the only man who could have moved them from their reservation near Lawton, to partake in such a "stunt" and to him, is their presence attributed.

Just a Beginning.

While the round-up is the third of the kind ever held here, Jerome S. Stone of the Chamber of Commerce's committee on the round-up, declares that this is but the beginning of the rodeo attractions of the city and that in the years to come the attraction will increase in popularity and interest and that the manifestation of the old west and its interests and customs will be preserved to posterity through entertainments of this kind. Mr. Stone tendered the use of his offices to the round-up and the Chamber of Commerce has been back of the proposition since the first, according to him.

"This must be made an annual event. We've had two, each one better than the last, but this will eclipse all former efforts. Every big attraction is here. The prizes are munificient, and there's a keen sense of rivalry in the contests. If sufficient interest is displayed, a permanent site for such attractions will be provided and these will prove a drawing card to the town and county.

"The spirit of the old west, the real west, which we have veneered by superficial civilization, still exists and in the veins of every man, woman and child born of parents who knew Indians when they were real fighters and considered mean, warms to an event of this kind. It's an institution that should be perpetuated. It's part of our history and I'd kinder like to ride a bronc myself, but I know I wouldn't have"—and he lapsed back to boyhood slang—"no luck."

Financial Prospects Bright

Ray McKinley, auditor for the attraction arrived in Wichita Falls Tuesday and announced, after consulting with Fog Horn Clancy that all boxes were sold. In speaking of the business standpoint of the Round-Up he declared that it should run $7,500 per day, and that at normal cost it would have been $20,000. He said the Round-Up as it stood would probably pay five thousand dollars to the

ARREST ONE FOR MURDER OF WHITMAN

J. B. Malone of Bridgetown Held for Death of Local Tailor, Shot on Night of April 8.

Officers Express Belief Prisoner Killed Deceased Through Mistake in Identity.

Believed by officers to have shot and killing John Whitham, local tailor, through mistaken identity on the night of April 8, J. B. Malone, alias Ed S. Rolen, alias John Moore, of Bridgetown, was arrested here Tuesday afternoon on Eighth street as he stood talking to a service car driver.

The arrest by Deputy Sheriff Windham, followed a period of several days during which county and constable officers have been on the constant lookout for Malone.

A warrant for Malone's arrest on a murder charge was sworn out several days ago.

The arrest is the first to be made in connection with the killing of Whitham under circumstances which baffled police and county officers for several days.

According to statements of several officers Tuesday, they are working on the theory that Malone shot Whitham thinking he was in company with his wife from whom the accused has been separated for some time.

Officers state that they have definite information to the effect that previous to the shooting, Malone had made threats that he would kill any man that he found in company with his wife. According to officers, Malone had been watching the action of his wife for several days prior to the night of the tragedy.

With Wife's Sister.

Whitham on the night of the shooting was in company with Miss Cecil Hester, sister of Mrs. Malone.

The fatal shot was fired from a Ford roadster as the two were crossing Barwise street near Second.

Whitham died without regaining consciousness. Miss Hester was never able to state who was in the machine and whether or not the shot was actually fired from the machine.

On the night of the tragedy police officers were searching for two men who were alleged to have burglarized a house in that section. Just previous to the firing of the fatal shot officers had fired several shots at the Ford roadster one of whose occupants is believed to have killed Whitham. It was thought at first by some that the fatal shot had been fired by one of the officers, but this was disproved when the shot was removed from the head of Whitham. The shot was a .32 caliber and all officers concerned in the shooting carried .45 caliber revolvers.

Several Clues.

Since the shooting it is known that officers have been working on several clues.

Last week Sheriff Smith and Constable Morgan went to the home of Malone near Bridgetown to arrest him in connection with the shooting. They were told that he had left a few hours previous for Duncan, Okla. A further search was made of that section. His arrest Tuesday was made a few hours after officers had received information to the effect that he had returned here.

When arrested Malone gave his name as Ed S. Rolen. According to officers he denied having a wife living here. The accused laughed when Mrs. Malone was brought to the sheriff's office late Tuesday evening and identified him as her husband whom she had always known as J. B. Malone.

"There's a Reason."

"There's a reason for it," he declared when asked by officers as to why he had the two names. Asked by officers he conceded that he had been under arest in Oklahoma, Louisiana and Mississippi. He said the arrests were made for drunkenness and fighting, and similar offenses.

He denied having any connection with the shooting here and was noncommittal on several other questions that were asked by County Attorney Fulton, who conducted the investigation Tuesday. Several details in connection with the arrest are withheld.

Rotan, Henrietta Vernon. Childress, Post City, Tulia, Weatherford, Wichita Falls one each and two in Wellington.

Rural Extension

Home demonstration work, and the extension of club work to the women in the rural district played the most important part in the reports of both the individual clubs and the district committees both during the morning and afternoon.

It was not only the rural and small town clubs that stressed this phase, but the clubs in the larger cities. The morning's discussion of the importance of the rural work was led by club women from Fort Worth, including Mrs. M. P. Bewley and Mrs. R. E. Buchanan, two of the most prominent figures of the convention and Mrs. D. C. Webb also of Fort Worth. The complete independence of city and rural district was fully realized from the trend of each speaker's remarks.

Mrs. Maggie Barry, of the Texas A. & M. extension department, member of the National Federation board and one of the outstanding figures of work of this sort in the entire country spoke Tusday afternoon on the subject of her work, following the report made by Mrs. Carl G. Goodman of Abernathy, chairman of the Home Demonstration work for the district.

Demonstration For Mrs. Goodman

Mrs. Goodman is one of the nominees for the post of president and her appearance on the platform Tuesday afternoon was the signal for a demonstration that was continued as well as enthusiastic.

In addition to her candidacy she is interesting from the fact that she is one of the very youngest of the workers in the district federation and the youngest chairman.

Her department is also the newest addition to the list of activity of the district. She made a visible, splendid impression upon her audience Tuesday afternoon in speaking of the work of the home demonstration department, her face lighted with enthusiasm as she presented plans and achievements with an ease and earnestness that any seasoned veteran of conventions might well have envied.

Truth About West Texas

"All the bad that happens is spread all over the country, the good stays at home," said Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, as she seconded the appeal of Mrs. C. F. Clarke of Graham, chairman of Literature for the district, that the club women take upon themselves the responsibility, as far as they are able, to give to the outside world the correct information about West Texas, and also give the children of the west a real history of their native section.

Mrs. Clarke in her report showed the committee furthering the work of native writers, of prose and poetry, by offering prizes in various departments of work.

She told of the results that have been accomplished by clubs of women writers in the state, and urged the women of the district to do all in their power to see that the real West Texas is presented to the reading public, the new west with all of its ambitions and good works, and not the wild west of the past, which for the most part exists only in fiction.

Direct From Program

The program as announced for Tuesday was only partially adhered to. The delegates were enrolled. Mrs Walter Keith of Stamford, chairman of the credentials for the district, presiding in the registration room. There were one hundred and forty-one delegates and visitors registered at the opening session, at 9:30, and a number of others were added by later arrivals on noon and afternoon trains.

Dr. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church gave the invocation, following the organ numbers Miss Blanche Potter, local artist. "America" was sung by the entire audience.

The routine reports of the district secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Carter were given, and Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Floore, district and state presidents, respectively made short talks, in the nature of reports on activities, both inside the state, and in other parts of the country, which would be of special interest to club women.

Details of federation of individual clubs matters of elections and other business affairs were discussed by Mrs. Floore. Mrs. Walter Keith Stamford, chairman of the credentials committee, and Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie, chairman of program, made their reports. This was followed by reports from the various clubs, taken up in aphabetical order.

Owing to the absence of a number of those on the morning's program it was necessary to rearrange the numbers. The report of the club extension committee, as given in detail above, featured the morning's session.

City Beautiful Monument.

Mrs. M. P. Bewley ,always an interesting speaker, gave a thoroughly enjoyable, as well as instructive talk on "Civic Arts." Cities and towns are now employing experts in making a beautiful place in which to live, she said, going into details as to the city planning system which many towns in Texas are undertaking. The value of tree planting campaigns also received important notice.

In Fort Worth alone, she stated, many thousands of trees were planted this spring, through the agitation of club women, and men interested in the beautifying of the city. She urged the women of the first district to take this city beautiful movement home with them, particularly the tree planting idea.

The district and state chairman of art, Mrs. W. S. Douglas of Hamlin, delivered an address Tuesday morning, "Art Past and Present," in which she reviewed the causes of art, both of ancient and modern times. Mrs. Douglas has arranged an exhibit in the rear of the auditorium of copies of famous paintings, which is attracting much interest. This exhibit is the property of the First District, and she has asked that each club in the district make use of it at some time during the year.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was opened with an organ selection by Mrs. A. J. McNeese, Wichita Falls musician. The club reports were continued, the list being completed down to the S's in alphabetical order.

The first committee report was that on thrift, given by Mrs. W. L. Wheat of Memphis, chairman. A discussion followed this report, led by Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, the state chairman of thrift.

The report of the committee on parks and playgrounds, submitted by Mrs. H. J. Gould of Amarillo, the chairman, was read by Mrs. J. L. Young of Mineral Wells, state chairman.

Reports on the committees on civic service reform, Americanization and public health were made by the respective chairman, Mrs. W. E. Dickey of Memphis, Mrs. W. T. Coffield of Bowie and Mrs. J. Frank Potts of Hereford.

Mrs. Bacon Saunders of Fort Worth gave her address, "The Wonder Story and the Child" Tuesday afternoon, a change from the announced program which had this feature address for Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Saunders, who is well known over the state for her special gift in story telling, and her study of the child nature, and the tales that particularly appeal, made an especially interesting address, interspersing stories suggested for a child. She especially urged the Bible as a source of stories for children, stories which appeal to the child's love of the beautiful and true, in deed and thought.

Mrs. Buchanan Honored

The afternoon's program was concluded with the parliamentary lecture by the district parliamentarian, Mrs. R. E. Buchanan of Fort Worth. At the conclusion, Mrs. Buchanan was presented with a handsome fitted traveling case, the gift of the district, as a token of their appreciation of her faithful services, extending over 20 years' time.

The Aowakiya Camp Fire girls of Junior High school held their ceremonial exercises Tuesday afternoon at the High school building.

Declaring that two negro women had held him up at the point of a pistol and relieved him of $60, a white man appeared at the police station shortly before 12 o'clock Tuesday night and reported the incident to the police. The occurrence is said to have taken place at Tenth and Burnett streets.

promoters if favorable weather is had.

"If it hadn't been for Tom Burnett and his mania for getting the best at any possible price, the show could have been staged for $14,000, but you know Tom as well as I do. It's a sport to him but it's a business to some of these fellows. But I don't regret it. Tom, he took and ordered a circus tent to cover the fancy animals and when it arrived we found it was too big for the grounds, but we'll put it up, as a matter of fact it's going up Wednesday morning, and all the fine, trick and high school stuff is going to be sheltered under this tent.

"Oh, Tom Burnett's a real fellow but this could have been staged for lots less money than he insisted on spending—but then he always did want the best," and Major McKinley sighed complacently, for he is a business man and a show man.

Major G. W. Lillie (Pawnee Bill") is due to appear at the Round-Up Wednesday, according to a telegram received at headquarters Tuesday.

willing, according to the extent of her ability and capacity, to assume the allied obligations to the United States.

Wants To Bargain.

9. Germany proposes to negotiate, with the assistance of experts, as to the way in which German deliveries for reparations will be reckoned, as against the total of Germany's debt, particularly respecting the way in which the price value will be fixed.

10. As security for the credits accorded her, Germany is willing to pledge public revenues and properties, in a manner to be determined between the contracting parties.

11. With the acceptance of these proposals, Germany's other reparations and obligations will be annulled and all German private property in foreign countries will be released.

12. Germany declares the present proposals only capable of being carried out if the system of penalties is discontinued forthwith and she is freed from all unproductive outlays now imposed on her and that she be given freedom of trade.

Urges Commission.

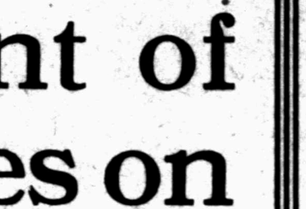

In the event of differences of opinion, arising from an examination by the proposals, the German government, recommends that they be submitted for examination to commission of recognized experts acceptable to all the interested governments.

She declares herself ready in advance to accept as binding any decision reached by their commission.

Should any other form of proposals in view of the American government facilities further negotiations on the question, the German government would ask to have its attention drawn to any points in which alteration is, in the opinion of the American government desirable. The German government would also adopt other proposals from the American government.

Finally the note says: "The German government is too deeply convinced of the fact that the peace and welfare in the world are dependent upon a speedy, just and fair solution of the reparations question not to do everything within its power in order to enable the American government to direct the attention of the allied governments to the matter."

THOMAS MIGHT RUN FOR PLACE IN U. S. SENATE

Although he declared that it was premature to make a formal announcement for the United States senate, Cullen F. Thomas, of Dallas, who was in Wichita Falls Tuesday and made an address before the University club and the federated women's clubs in convention here, told a representative of the Record News that he has received such flattering encouragement from all over the state that he could not do other than take the matter under serious consideration.

"Later," Mr. Thomas said, "I will make public my intentions."

The office for which rumor connects Mr. Thomas' name as a possible candidate is that which has been held by Senator Charles A. Culbertson for near four terms.

Other prominent Texans who have either made formal announcement or been mentioned as having given some thought to running for the same office are: Former Governor Hobby, O. B. Colquitt, Thomas B. Love and Congressman Lucian W. Parrish. In this connection, it is not known whether or not Senator Culbertson will be a candidate, although persistent rumors have said that his health will prevent him from being a candidate.

Mr. Thomas made clear his attitude on some phases of national and international politics in his talk at the University club Tuesday noon, speaking on the subject of disarmament. A prominent part has been taken by Mr. Thomas in Texas politics for the past 20 years. During the past governors campaign, he traveled over the state in the interests of the Neff candidacy.

Upon the question of discontent in West Texas and talk of possible division, Mr. Thomas said:

"I am heartily in favor of redistricting the state. It is justice to West Texas long delayed."

"As to the demand for a West Texas A. & M. college," Mr. Thomas said "I was chairman of the Dallas delegation in favor of a plank in the platform providing for a West Texas A. & M. college."

"I trust that those at the helm of the state will so treat every section of the state that all discussion of division will disappear," he said.

While here Tuesday, Mr. Thomas was honored with a breakfast at the Kemp by the officers of the University club attended by the following: J. A. Kemp, P. A. Martin, C. A. Kleinman, Guy Rogers, Senator Rodgers of McKinney, A. H. Brittain, C. W. Reid, E. M. Mann, J. A. Akin, C. F. Spencer and F. G. Swanson.

MINERAL WELLS MAN APPOINTED COURT REPORTER

Rene Allred Jr. of Mineral Wells will succeed his brother Ben P. Allred as court reporter for the 80th district court, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Judge P. A. Martin. The new appointee served here as court reporter last fall and has held a similar position in Mineral Wells.

Ben P. Allred, appointed last week as assistant federal district attorney, will leave for Fort Worth the latter part of the week.

Students Prepare for Commencement

Preparations of lists of books for the next scholastic year and of students, especially seniors, for the end of school and commencement exercises is reported as the principal outside occupation of students as teachers in the city schools at the present time.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, on Sunday May 22, at the First Baptist church and the commencement address will be made by W. J. Bullock of Fayetteville, Ark., on the evening of Friday, May 27, at the senior high school chapel, according to present plans, Superintendent Lee Clark announced Tuesday.

Mr. Pollock was a resident of Wichita Falls for a number of years, Mr. Clark said, and was at one time president of the local school board. He is at present operating a large apple orchard near Fayetteville, where he resides.

Members of the graduating class are to take their final examinations and have their records completed in time to permit them to use the last week of school practically at their own pleasure, teachers say, and elaborate plans are being laid by the students for a week of the social activity, that makes graduation times a bright and pleasant spot in the memory of all who have been so fortunate as to participate.

Numerous programs by students in various lines are being coached and will be given at intervals during the closing weeks.

Students, who are to take part in the Texas Interscholastic contests at Austin, as representatives of this district, will leave that Wednesday, according to Miss Jeannie Kinney, who is coaching practically all the speaker and debater entries, and will accompany the teams to Austin for the final contests.

Professor J. M. Hall, who has coached the athletic entries and a part of the scholastic entries also, will accompany the Wichita Falls teams.

The students, who will attend from Wichita Falls are: Misses Gwendolin Walters and Etta Maddrus, girls debating team; Miss Marguerite Fisher, senior girl declaimer; Sam Bushara, junior boy declaimer; Clifton Haines and William Powers, tennis players; Luke Wilson, pole vaulter and Leo Baldwin, high jumper.

Cullen Thomas Makes Appeal For International Disarmament In Address to University Club

Declaring that the energies of America should be marshaled for peace instead of war and that in time of peace this country should prepare for peace, Cullen F. Thomas, of Dallas, possible candidate for the United States senate, made a stirring appeal in favor of disarmament on the subject of "War Dreads and Dreadnaughts" Tuesday before the University club.

"America should take the lead in securing peace for the future generations," the speaker declared, "and if the United States, Great Britain and Japan would enter an agreement to limit armaments the rest of the world would have to follow suit.

"The biggest question before the nations of the earth today is limitation of armaments. The present feverish haste for naval supremacy is a crime against civilization. Viewed solely as an economic question, it challenges the leading governments of the world for speedy solution," Mr. Thomas said.

"The peoples of the earth are groaning under the burden of taxation from the world war. Wheels of industry are locked. The army of the unemployed increases. Agriculture is prostrate.

"How can the world so soon forget? What mind is not staggered by the two hundred billion dollars of property destroyed? What heart is not wrung as it thinks of ten millions of rotting corpses, victims of the butchery of war? Who wants again poison gas and liquid fire?

"The people of America are reeling and all but revolting because of the burdens of taxation. They cry aloud for relief from the load of federal appropriations. Where must the blow for economy be struck if not against the military budget? Who is not startled to learn that $50 out of every $100 levied for federal taxation are spent on wars that are dead and wars that we dread.

"Whom are we preparing for war against? Is it England, our friend for 100 years? Are we to fight England because of oil claims in California or Mesopotamia? Was it by blood and slaughter that the oil controversy between Oklahoma and Texas was settled? If two sovereign states may appeal to a supreme court, may not two great nations set up some similar forum?

"Are we making ready for war against Japan? Shall these two great nations redden the waters of the Pacific with human blood because of Yap? Will two great nations in the twentieth century enter a death struggle over a barren rock in the ocean? Has not a Japanese school boy in a letter to the president of the United States shamed the statesmanship of the world in his simple plea for peace.

"I have said that disarmament is the biggest problem in the world. It is also the simplest of solution. History furnishes ample precedent. Shortly after the close of the war of 1812 the United States and Great Britain entered into a short one-page agreement for disarmament on the Canadian border. For more than 100 years, on the boundary line 3,800 miles long between this country and Canada, the peace has been kept without soldiers, forts or battleships. If this plan works between Great Britain and the United States on land, why not such an arrangement on the high seas? If it is good with Great Britain, why not with Japan? Why should not the representatives of the five leading powers of the earth meet around a table as friends, and enter into a solemn agreement to stop the mad race for military and naval power? Will not another war mean bankruptcy of governments and the death blow to civilization?

"Why should the United States wait for some other nation to issue the call? Why should not this country covet the honor of leadership for peace? Why should not the people who fight the war and pay the taxes demand of those who occupy the seats of the mighty to take this step? Why should not this be done this year and not in some far off year? This question will be solved not by many leagues, war councils or boards of strategy. Generals and admirals are trained to the trade of war. It will not be solved by the gun makers or the powder manufacturers or armor-plate industries. These grow fat on the propaganda for war. Aroused public opinion that shall be heard in Washington is the way out. Let pulpit and press thunder against the insanity of war. Let the business interests of the country teach the economic crime of war. Let the toiling ranks of labor set their faces as flint against those in high places responsible for needless war. Let the motherhood of America resolve to be spared if possible, the agony of future wars.

"As for me, I believe that the security of America rests not in battle ships or dreadnaughts, but in world leadership for world peace."

The fact that Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas is regarded as a probable candidate for the United States senate next year lent added interest to his address here today on "War Dreads and Dreadnaughts." Mr. Thomas spoke by invitation of the University club with a representative audicence of both men and women.

Judge P .A Martin introduced the speaker of the day, paying a tribute to his character, as a man who was pure in life and who never dodged an issue and who always fought for what he believed to be right.

At the close of the talk a request was made of the large crowd present for all who indorsed the remarks to rise and practically the entire audience arose.

Vocal duets by the Misses Mc Murty ,accompanied by Miss Henryetta Pyle were heartily applauded. Music was furnished during the meal by Katz orchestra.

W. B. Hamilton was announced as the speaker for next week on the subject of "Whatever You Put Into the State You Must First Put in the Schools."

C. A. Kleinman, vice president of the University club, and chairman of the program committee, has been receiving many compliments on the recent programs which have been given at the weekly luncheons and it is said to be due largely to his untiring efforts to secure prominent men like Mr. Thomas, Frank Kell, Nathan Adams and others that the attendance at the luncheons is the largest of any club in the city.

Jim Jones returning home late one night was hit over the head by a tramp ,then relieved of his watch and chain and all his money. As he got up the tramp gave him back one of his own dollar bills.

"Here's for you, bo," he said. "My pal's down the road, and if he meets you and you ain't got any money he might hurt you."

In the year 1836, for the first time in history, the United States found itself out of debt and with a comfortable surplus in its treasury.

To the motorist who has quit guessing about tires—

ALONG about this time of year a man finds his motoring neighbors getting anxious about their tires. With folks expecting old tires to "pop" any minute, there comes the question of what kind of new ones to buy.

U. S. Tires are answering a lot of questions like this nowadays.

The U. S. Tire following embraces two kinds of tire buyers.

Those who started with quality first, and have never bought anything else but the quality standard tire.

Those who came to quality first only after dabbling with "bargains," "rebates," "job lot" and "surplus stock" tires.

Getting one hundred cents value on the dollar in tire buying is a straight-forward business proposition—not guess-work or a game of wits.

The most essential man for you to know today is the local U. S. Tire dealer who is concentrating on a full, completely sized line of U. S. Tires.

He gets his U. S. Tires straight from his neighboring U. S. Tire Factory Branch—one of 92 such Branches established and maintained all over the country by the U. S. Tire makers.

He is the man who can give you fresh, live tires—not stuff shipped to him from some point where it did not sell, but new tires of current production.

Giving the same quality, selection and price-advantage to the owner of the medium weight car as the big car owner gets. With equal service and buying opportunity whether he lives in the smaller localities or the greater centers of population.

THE U. S. NOBBY TREAD

Where the going is specially heavy with snow, mud or sand, in hilly country where maximum traction on the road is a factor, no other tire tread yet devised is quite so effective, or so wholly approved by motoring opinion, as the U. S. Nobby Tread.

Its very simplicity—two diagonal rows of oblong studs, interlocking in their grip on the road—is the result of all the years of U. S. Rubber experience with every type of road the world over.

"The most essential man for you to know today in the tire business is your local U. S. Tire Dealer."

THE KING'S ENGLISH.

Why is the English language literally murdered by graduates of American secondary schools, both public and private? A committee of New Jersey teachers, under the directorship of Prof. Osgood of Princeton, has spent a year in investigation with the idea in view of answering that question. Its conclusions are now published and distributed by the association of teachers of English of that state.

The committee finds that classes in English are so large and hours of instruction so long that little time is afforded for personal conferences. English teachers are loaded up with so many teaching periods that little or no time can be given in school hours to reading and correcting written themes.

Perhaps a more serious finding of the committee is that principals in too many cases regard English instruction as an easy and subordinate position, with the consequence that more poorly trained teachers are found in that field than in any other. "Anybody can teach English" is a sentiment too often expressed by certain school administrators. But "anybody" teaches students to speak and write in a manner indicative of a much lower standard of education than that actually existing.

A further difficulty not touched upon in the report is that parents frequently make no attempt to correct the spoken language of their children. As a result only those with a special aptitude and interest in the subject ever think outside of the class room of proper forms of expression. The majority consequently grow up to pass on to their own children the same slovenly and careless methods of writing and speaking.

English instruction in the public schools of this country, with a large element of newly arrived Europeans speaking a foreign tongue, is of course difficult, but the difficulties will not be insurmountable if the proper emphasis be placed upon it by school authorities. A general public demand for better instruction in the schools would doubtless go a long way in the direction of promoting a purer form of English than we are accustomed to hear on the streets and in the shops.—Cleveland Plain Dealer. TINKERING UP THE OLD MACHINE.

A country business man who has had a weather eye out for signs of returning prosperity remarks pointedly that the public "is not particular how the financial experts tinker up the business motor, but mightily concerned about getting her going full time once more. If they can get her going minus one spark plug, all right. If not, the best thing to do is to get a brand new spark plug. Should the plug factory be shut down for inventory, and no new plugs available, as a last resort I would suggest that they stick in the old plug and get the thing going even if she does backfire a little."

This business man, who obviously has had something to do with obstreperous "tin-Elizabeths," declares that the only way to resume business is to resume. It is time, he thinks, to stop arguing about this theory or that theory of commercial and industrial depression and recovery and get to work on what is left from the wreck—to "get it moving." He declares that high prices are not a cause, but a result, the result of a gigantic added industry—war supplies. That industry died a natural death. While it lived it lifted the basis of prices, and since it died, says this rural commentator, we have been trying to maintain that basis without any real supports to hold it up. A prop was suddenly kicked out from under every industry in the country; no wonder there have been a few tumbles and that the industries are a bit unsteady.

Thus he argues. Meanwhile, in his own case he is practicing what he preaches—getting his business under way again even if the spark plug is a bit shy and for a while the whole machine will sound like a "one-lunger." And as he tinkers away, making what progress he can, he is constrained to give a little advice, wholly aside from the volumes which the theorists and experts are disseminating. He thinks it worth while, he says, to let in on the situation a little of "the illuminating light of ignorance." Just how far he will get he isn't sure but he knows that he will get farther by keeping down to brass tacks, as he puts it, and plugging away, than he will by spending his time moping and mourning over what has been, or standing idly by until the theorists come along to tell him what to do.—Salt Lake City Deseret News. SALARIES WILL BE FIXED BY COUNCIL TODAY

Meeting of the city council in executive council is expected to be called Wednesday morning in an office building, according to one of the commissioners.

At this time it is planned to go over the personnel and salary list of the city.

Widespread reductions in pay are not expected, according to this commissioner. The policy will be to put the employes on notice that salary reductions may be expected when times justify them. That the city is paying fifty cents more per day than are general contractors for certain classes of work was the assertion of a commissioner Tuesday.

"It will not be the policy of the city, as far as I know, to begin with the so-called 'under dog,'" he said. Everyone knows that a reduction in wages and a reduction in rents, food stuffs and other things is coming. It hasn't absolutely materialized yet, but when things are on a basis that will justify it, it will be the policy of the council, as I understand it, to make reductions in wages.

"There will be no cutting off of heads or anything of that sort. Some departmental men will accept a cut I believe. It's going to be gradual. The city commission believes in paying good men the best possible wages for best possible work. Cheap men with inferior work is a farce and a penny grasping policy as far as wages are concerned is poor economy."

Results of the meeting to be held Wednesday morning will probably be announced at the meeting of the council Monday night, though it is not impossible, the commissioner said, that they would not be made public at all.

Mail All Letters Early Asks Local Postoffice Head

Mister Wichita Falls business man, do not let your correspondence pile up until the end of the day and then dump all at once into the postoffice, for working and sorting at the time when the smallest force of the 24 hour shifts are on duty?

If you do you are contributing your share toward, what postmasters all over the United States find the most embarrassingly difficult to eliminate of all the irregularities, that postal authorities have to combat, according to a statement of Postmaster Ed Howard.

According to Mr. Howard, approximately 25,000 pieces of first-class mail, letters and postal cards, are handled daily through the local office and on one evening during the last week about 15,000 letters and postal cards were mailed after 6 o'clock.

This entailed more work than the regular night crew of clerks could handle, said Mr. Howard, causing a large number of the letters to lay over until the next day.

To obtain the surest and fastest service from the postal service, Mr. Howard suggested that it would be advisable for business men to send out mail before noon, and try to get another portion out before 5 o'clock in the afternoon, thus having the bulk of the matter off before the night crew comes on duty and insuring the business man that his mail will catch the train he wishes it to.

Electra Church Completed and Town Celebrates

Completion of the new Methodist church at Electra was celebrated by the congregation and friends with a big barbecue Tuesday, on the church grounds, and more than $14,000 was subscribed to apply on the building fund.

There were around 2,000 persons present, acording to reports from Electra. Several former residents of Electra, now residing in Wichita Falls were in attendance.

The new church building is practically ready for occupancy, waiting only on the furniture. It is to be thoroughly modern in every particular and the congregation is very proud of its new home.

HENRY INSPECTS IOWA PARK ROAD

District Federal Engineer Henry returned to Fort Worth Tuesday after inspecting the lake road and the road under the process of construction between this city and Iowa Park. He spent Monday inspecting the two roads.

Mr. Henry stated that the work on the roads in the county was satisfactory and expressed himself as especially pleased with the progress that is now being made in the construction of the Wichita Falls-Iowa Park road.

He made no complaint against the grade of stone being used in the construction of the road. Investigations have recently been made by certain county officials regarding the presence of mud balls in the stone shipments.

Out of a total of forty designs submitted by thirty corporations and individuals in the first open airplane design competition conducted by the navy department, five designs for a new type of naval plane were accepted.

Electra- K. M. A. Road Now Open For Traffic

The new road giving direct connection between Electra and the K. M. A. field has been completed and is now open to traffic, according to information Tuesday from H. H. Haynes, county commissioner from Electra. The road has been graded and is said to be one of the best dirt roads in the county.

The construction of the road started several months ago after the city of Electra had requested that they be given a more direct route to the K. M. A. oil field. Starting at a point three miles south of Electra the road branches off through the Waggoner and Burnett lands crossing Beaver creek at the Rock Point schoolhouse.

Commissioner Haynes said Tuesday that application had been made from the Electra postoffice asking that an additional rural route be established which would include all farm dwellings along the new road.

Poultry Club Reorganized Tuesday Night

Reorganization of the North Texas Poultry association was set on foot Tuesday night when 15 members of the association, which "rather quieted down" in boom years, assembled in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening.

O. P. Maricle acted as chairman of the meeting and I. B. Brown, 1201 Scott street, acted as temporary secretary.

May 10 is the date set for the election of officers and a show is planned to take place in December, according to Mr. Brown.

Eight different breeds were represented at the meeting Tuesday evening, some breeders and raisers and some fanciers.

According to Mr. Brown, some four or five years ago Wichita Falls, or the North Texas Poultry association was one of the big organizations in Texas. People from as far as Kentucky exhibited here, Mr. Brown says, and the show to be held this fall is sure to go over big.

Consolidation Of Banks Will Be Celebrated

The first anniversary of the consolidation of the City National Bank and the National Bank of Commerce and the move into the new building will be celebrated next Tuesday night, May 3, with an informal entertainment in the bank quarters. The officers and directors will entertain their friends and the employes of the bank and their friends. Dancing, cards, dominoes and various other amusements will make up the program of entertainment.

LOCAL PEOPLE SHOW INTEREST IN ADA WELL

Much interest is aroused among Wichita Falls oil men who have investments on the Ada field, by the well being drilled by Roy I Carter, B. A. LaSalle, G. E. Nance, Bob Fisher and others, 11 miles northwest of Ada, Pontotoc county, Oklahoma. This well got an oil sand last week at 1730 feet according to the reports, and several very good flows have been made, though a controller has been on, and no effort made to see what the well would do before it is drilled in.

It is to be drilled in Thursday or Friday, according to reports here Tuesday. Developments will be well worth watching, since the well is a genuine wildcat, and is also in territory that has been somewhat expensive previously to some local operators. The Magnolia put down a test not far from this location a year or two ago, going down to 3300 feet and abandoning. Eighty feet of sand was reported showing in the log starting around 1750 feet.

Ada is about 175 miles from Wichita Falls, reached by a circuitous route through Waurika. A number of Wichita Oil men, the owners of the new well, and others interested have been at the scene of the new strike since last week, and are reported to have bought heavily, and to still be buying.

NOSING 'ROUND WASHINGTON

BY ROBERT CORTES HOLLIDAY Author of "Walking-Stick Papers," "Broome Street Straws," "Men and Books and Cities,"

My friend and I had not yet seen Mr. Christian. Had that morning called upon Mr. Tumulty on a matter of business. Found he had set up shop in a business structure called the Southern building. Transom legend: Law Offices. . . . . Joseph P. Tumulty. On entrance door: Joseph P. Tumulty, Charles H. Baker. Outstanding feature of antechamber a lifesize cream plaster bust, on tall polished wood pedestal, of Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Tumulty, stocky of stature, driving in manner, bustled forth from his private office. Exhaled atmosphere of ruddiness.

My friend at times (I fear) speaks with some circumlocution. Our real business here settled, he was ambling on toward the expression of his hope that we might possibly be able sometime, just for a moment, to see, just get a glimpse of . . . .

"The president," Mr. Tumulty cut in with an anticipating nod. My friend looked a bit confused as (I could see) the words "the ex-president" were about to come from him. But, undoubtedly, both of them meant the same gentleman.

In the executive offices we trailed along with the newspaper men for their daily afternoon interview with Mr. Christian, my friend bathing himself in tobacco smoke as complacently as any of the party. Entered a sort of council chamber. Long table down the middle. Conspicuous ornament of the apartment, on a mantel a plaster cast of a humorous Uncle Sam in a dress-coat, holding aloft an American flag and flanked by a turkeyfied looking eagle.

Congregation pressed close about the table, behind which in a swivel chair sat in a relaxed and rather pensive attitude an angular figure, swinging leisurely looking legs which terminated in very white sox and low-cut shoes. A rather thick thatch of graying hair, large aquiline features, a rather melancholy cast of expression, eyes cast downward at the table, clothes not recently pressed and which no one would be inclined to call dapper. Mr. Christian in general effect suggested a good deal one's impression of a somewhat dusty "reference librarian" at the information desk of the New York public library being besieged by an unusually large number of questioners.

"Well, gentlemen," he uttered very quietly and slowly, "what have you got on your mind?"

"George," asked a figure with pad and pencil in hand, "what about this?" Mr. Christian appeared to ponder the matter a good while, and the upshot of his cogitation appeared to be that there wasn't much of anything about it. "And what is there to that?" inquired another. Well, at length there didn't seem to be much to that either. A few items of information were given. And the audience briefly closed.

When we had filed out with the company from the room my friend and I took seats in the corridor. He had given his letter to the doorman. A couple of soldiers in uniform, a group of very spruce, robust and cheery-looking Catholic priests, an elderly individual of very dejected pose, and a miscellaneous assortment of humanity also were waiting. The doorman was being continually accosted. "Just want to shake hands with him, that's all," and "Just want to say how de do," were solicitations frequently overheard.

The doorman beckoned to us and told us to go into an apartment which he indicated and "take a seat." Probably my friend didn't hear that instruction, as he marched straight up to Mr. Christian directly upon entering the room flooded with afternoon light pouring through an imposing row of tall and beautiful windows. Mr. Christian slowly arose from his desk, coming gradually to his full height, and yielded a cautious hand to my friend. He looked at the bright and somewhat flustered countenance of my friend rather sadly, as it seemed. Though at some sally of my friend's about the pronunciation of his name he smiled with considerable natural human warmth. Then very gravely he stated that with so many appointments at present to be made, and with the multitudinous labors now upon him, and so forth and so on, it was hardly possible that he could just now arrange for my friend to have a word with, as he said—"the Senator."

My friend was, obviously, a bit taken aback by the term, as his mind had been careering along with visions of his seeing no less a person than the president. But there was no doubt that both he and Mr. Christian were referring to the same gentleman.

CLUB WOMEN ENTERTAINED WITH BUFFET LUNCHEON

More than 300 visiting and local club women who were attending the First District meeting of Federated clubs in session at the First Methodist church, South ,were served with a delightful buffet luncheon in the First Christian church parlors Tuesday at noon.

Attractive decorations carrying out the pink and green color scheme were used and a dainty luncheon course consisting of chicken loaf, combination salad, new creamed potatoes, hot rolls ,tea, pie and mints was served.

A feature of the luncheon was an address made by Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, who had previously spoken at the University club luncheon. After praising woman's idealism and speaking of the four great scourges of the race, poverty ,disease, intemperance and war, Mr. Thomas said, "men have struggled 6,000 years to run the world and have made a mess of it, and I am glad to give women a chance to rebuild civilization."

Mrs. E. B. Gorsline was hostess for the affair with Mesdames J. O. A. Guest, Fred T. Couper and O. E. Maer assistant hostesses.

NEW CENTURY CLUB CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY

In connection with the twentieth annual meeting of the First District of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs now in progress in Wichita Falls, it is interesting to note that the New Century club is celebrating similarly its twentieth birthday as a federated club, being the pioneer in federated clubs in Wichita Falls.

It was organized in 1901 and immediately on organization federated with the state and district.

Mrs. S. H. Burnside, one of its early presidents, was honored with the district presidency ,the only Wichita Falls club woman so honored thus far.

The New Century club's "daughter," the Pathfinder club, organized by Mrs. Burnside, was one of the first activities of extension work undertaken by the local clubs, and this club of younger women continued its organization until it was disbanded during the war, and its membership was broken up by removals, and by home duties.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

The sudden plunge from the paradise of her courtship days, to the antagonistic atmosphere of her mother-in-law's home almost wrecked Cherry Lawrence's sweet romance. And in "A Wife in the Making" Phyllis Phillips tells of Cherry's trials in her first year of marriage. You'll want to read about her.

Here is a brief synopsis of Miss Phillip's serial:

Cherry Lawrence, who designs hats for a famous milliner in Chicago, meets Edward Randell, a young business man of Wellsburg, a small western town, and marries him, after a short but ardent courtship.

Randell, who has been in charge of the Chicago office of a factory in his home town, is called back, while still on his honeymoon, to take charge of affairs there. He installs his bride in the old home, where live Mrs. Randell, Sr., Jane, Edward's sister, and Jack, his young brother.

THE HOME COMING.

A young couple stood swaying with the movement of the train, as it rushed through the foothills of the eastern mountains. A sudden swift bend in the road caused them to cling to each other for support, with many a laugh and flutter. Then with a final snort the engine slowed down with many grunts and grinds, and one low, prolonged wail, which was its way of announcing to those within that they had arrived at Wellsburg.

With a little gasp of excitement the girl detached her arm from that of the boy, smoothed down her skirt and pulled her small traveling hat into its proper place above her radiant eyes.

"Ned, Neddy, boy, we're here. We're home, and I'm so jumpy and sort o' scared and everything. Honest Injun, I am. Please stay right close to me every moment, won't you, dearest?" She clung once more to his arm, and looked up pleadingly into his determined young face, and at his look of complete love and understanding she patted his hand contentedly, straightened up proudly, and waited for the great moment to arrive.

"This is it. This is Wellsburg, lady-bird," whispered her husband into the girl's ear. "And how I hope that you are going to love it as much as I do."

"Course I am, silly. Anything that you love, your Cherry is going to love, too. Trust me for that, always."

"And you're quite sure that you are not going to mind living in the old house with the family for a few months, till the dear little dream bungalow is ready for us?" he questioned anxiously.

"Not a teeny bit, Neddy," she assured him. "I just know that we're all going to get on splendidly. So cheer up."

Edward Randall peered out from the window nearest to him as the train stopped, seeking eagerly for some of the familiar faces that would surely be there to meet him and his bride. Then catching sight of some one he knew, he shook Cherry's arm excitedly, as he told her that there was a "bunch" down to welcome them.

"Of course mother's not there; she's too busy getting our breakfast ready, and fixing things up for us, to dare to leave the old place even for a moment," he explained. And deep down within her, Cherry acknowledged to herself that it was quite right that Mrs. Randall had not attempted to meet the train and all that. Yet she wished somehow or other that her Ned's mother had felt that this was enough of an occasion for her to sacrifice house and all the small duties connected with it, to throw everything to the winds, and come to the station to meet her daughter-in-law. After all, daughters-in-law didn't happen every day in the year and household duties were eternal as life itself!

Being a clever little person, she showed nothing of the conflict going on within her to her husband, and it was a bright and smiling Cherry, who, a minute later, stepped off the train and stood blushing as she received the warm welcome of the young people who had come down in a body to receive them and offer their congratulations.

Edward Randall drew his wife's arm possessively through his, as he led her up to where his sister Jane stood waiting for them.

"Cherry, dear, this is your new sister, Jane, and one of the best sisters ever born," he said proudly, as he introduced the girls. Cherry put out a small hand and smiled into the eyes of Miss Jane Randell confidently. Then the three of them climbed up into the waiting auto, and followed by the cheers and shouts of the rest of the crowd, proceeded swiftly up the sunny road towards their home.

With the Women of Today

Madame Alla Ripley.

Men designers of women's clothes are far more numerous and more successful than women designers. The reason for this, according to Madame Alla Ripley, who is one of the foremost designers of the country, is because women have heretofore gone into business with the idea of working but a short time. Madame Ripley, however, is a shining example of what women can do in the field of costume designing.

She started in some twenty-five years ago as a very, very young girl to learn the dressmaking business. She determined to learn all she could about her business and worked days and went to night school. She learned to sew, by actual apprenticeship or work and then she studied drawing and designing. Today she is one of the most noted women designers and modistes. She also holds the enviable position of president of the Fashion Art League of America.

She believes that there is a big field for women in costume designing and she asserts that women, modern, up-to-date women, insist upon suitable and comfortable clothing because of their new activities which are taking them out of the home.

Here are a few hints which Madame Ripley would give to young girls who would take up fashion designing.

"Money should be the dressmaker's secondary thought. Perfection is the main idea.

"Design and trimming must be secondary to construction and line.

"The natural figure lines please all rules of art and last longer, so why design clothes which distort these lines?

"The artist who puts art above construction will never be able to

"Fashions or styles must be established through individuals, then manufacturers take them up and make them for the masses."

This latter is what Madame Ripley does. She creates a wonderful costume from costly fabrics and the well-groomed woman who wears it sets the style which in turn is copied by manufacturers.

School Health Crusade.

A nutrition study made of 3,913 children in fourteen public schools in Washington, D. C., showed that almost one-third of the pupils are 10 per cent or more under the weight normal for their years, and 15 per cent of the pupils are ten pounds or more under weight. The make a gown anyone will want to wear, or better, which everyone will want to wear.

"Don't scorn learning to sew on hooks and eyes and buttons in the right place and the proper manner.

"Designers know lines and artists know color. A costume designer must know both.

weight of each child was recorded once a month for three months on a card which also showed what the child should weigh, and bore simple instructions how to gain the correct weight. After the examination of each child the parents were notified of the defects that were found and the cases were followed by the school nurses to secure the correction of the defects.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Farina with Butter Sauce.—Cook one-half cup farina with two cups salt water in double boiler. Melt one tablespoons butter, mix one-half teaspoon cinnamon and four tablespoons sugar. Pour melted butter over each service of farina and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixture. This is delicious and a change from regular cereal.

Southern Steamed Ham.—Fry a thick slice of ham (with a little lard to prevent scorching) in hot skillet. When nicely browned on both sides add three tablespoons brown sugar and one teaspoon dry mustard. Pour over water almost to top of skillet, place over low fire and cook slowly for three hours. This requires little watching, as it must boil very slowly, but in three hours should be boiled down to a thick syrup. Remove ham and add thickening for gravy.

Pineapple Salad.—One cup diced canned pineapples mixed with four or five diced marshmallows, one banana and a few chopped nuts. Moisten with a thick sweetened mayonnaise, added just before the rest of the meal is served.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

If the larger pieces of the ironing, such as sheets, counterpanes, etc., are folded and used as a pad, while the smaller pieces are being ironed, much time can be saved, as the large pieces will need little more attention after you get around to them.

Potatoes have a much better flavor if cooked in an iron pot.

Ivory handles of knives and forks can best be cleaned by going over them occasionally with wet baking soda and drying them quickly with a clean, soft cloth.

For pie crusts for lemon, cream or chocolate pies that are not baked evenly, take writing paper or any white paper, fold it lengthwise the height of pie crust, cut it in sections, fill in the low places between crust and pie plate. Put in filling and put meringue on top, and you will have a perfect pie.

Plant parsley seed in one of your house jardinieres. It will make an attractive plant for the house and when grown can be used for the table.

FORT WORTH, April 26.—One big inning, the seventh, in which the Panthers made four runs on five hits, a walk, and helped along by Kraft's fly which Ruth dropped, gave the Spudders the losing end of a 5 to 1 score this afternoon. Clark's home run in the fourth frame accounted for the only Spudder score of the game. Danny hitting over the right field wall. The ball was first called foul but Umpire Kane called it fair and the hit went for the circuit. Pate held the Spudders to six wallops and was never in danger.

"Babe Ruth played centerfield for the Spudders taking Jake Miller's place the latter suffering from the effects of being hit by Kraft with a baseball in the eighth inning of the last game at Wichita Falls. Ruth made one single but was partly responsible for losing the contest, dropping Kraft's long fly to center when the bases were loaded in the seventh.

Pate vs. Marshall

Pate and Marshall went the distance, both pitching superb ball although Marshall was touched for twice as many hits as the lefthander. Only 12 men faced the "Rube" in the first four innings. Three singles in the fifth allowed the Panthers to tie the score. The bases were loaded in the sixth but Marshall managed to pull through without being scored upon in that frame.

The crowd which numbered approximately 1,500 saw McDonald make the first hit of the contest in the first inning when after Rothfuss had struckout on three pitched balls and Tanner went out to first, Taylor walloped the pill to right for two bases. Clark tried his best but Taylor grabbed his long fly, ending the inning. For the Panthers, Coombs led off with a strikeout but Phelan singled to right. Sears sacrificed and Kraft lifted to Ruth.

Both clubs got a man on the bags in the second by virtue of a base on balls but neither were able to score. The Spudders went out on strikes in the third, Marshall, Routhfuss and Tanner fanning. A single by Moore opened the Panther's half. Pate went out to first. Moore was out at third and Coombs got on by a fielders' choice. Coombs was out a minute later trying to pilfer second.

Spudders Score First

The Spudders broke the ice in the fourth when, after McDonald dribbled to Kraft for the first out, Clark slammed on of Pate's shoots over the right field wall for a full trip around the bags. The field ump called the ball foul but Kane behind the bat reversed the decision allowing Clark to add another homer to his string. Ruth followed with a single but Works struckout, and McElwee flied to Phelan.

Salm's men went out in order in the fifth and sixth. The Panthers managed to squeeze the tying run over in their half of the fifth stanza. Marshall struck out three men in this frame but was touched for three hits all singles that pushed Haley over the plate.

Two hits in the seventh gave the Spudders a chance to score after two were out but Marshall was unequal to the task, flying to center. The Panther's winning runs were scored in their half of the inning.

Helpless in Finals

Rothfuss got on in the eighth with a single and Works managed to stick at first for a while in the ninth when Phelan fumbled his hit but the others couldn't help and the Panthers failed to take their last innings.

Glancin' 'Round The Sport World

WITH VAN

Stocker Brothers have set up their Star player's board at the Plaza again this year and have a direct wire from all the parks the Spudders visit to tick off the games ball by ball and play by play. The board was worked for the first time since last season, yesterday afternoon and, the some hundred spectators got almost as much enjoyment out of the game as it was shown on the board as if they were seated in the grand stand rooting their heads off for the local club to win.

Marshall got away in the first four innings in the best of shape setting the Panthers back in order but fared worse as the game progressed. Ruth's error in the seventh when the "Babe" dropped Kraft's fly with the bases full gave the Panther's several runs that they should not have had but Marshall allowed enough hits to be beaten, despite the costly error.

Doak Roberts is going to investigate the Kraft-Miller setto now that he has heard or read about the fracas here. The prexy wants to hear Fort Worth's side of the case, but who told him the Wichita Falls side? Perhaps the fact that Miller was given all the best of the fight by the sport writers caused Roberts to think Kraft was being picked upon. If the truth comes out however, Roberts will learn that although Miller provoked Kraft into throwing the ball, it was Kraft who started the trouble by his sneering remark made when Miller was returning to the players' bench after he had made a wonderful catch in centerfield. Manager Salm is the only man who heard all of the actual conversation and it is up to him to give Roberts the true data.

Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane probably will defend his title in New York on Decoration day. The Velodrome, which will open on that date, has been negotiating with the Cleveland hermit for some time, and Kilbane appears to be willing to fight. The champion says he is going to take on the three leading contenders, and will begin with Charley Beecher.

Kilbane evidently is anxious to tackle Beecher. When Tex Rickard tried to sign the champion for a bout at the Garden early in the spring "Killy" picked out Beecher. The two were virtually matched when Beecher lost that close decision to Andy Chaney. Rickard then decided that it would not be a wise thing to give Kilban $40,000 for meeting the youngster, and the match was dropped for a time. Rickard thought that Beecher deserved a draw, and if that had been the decision the match with Kilbane would have been made, but under the circumstances the promoter decided not to take a chance.

DOAK WANTS TO HEAR PANTHER'S SIDE OF FIGHT

FORTH WORTH, April 26. Jake Miller, center fielder of the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league, will be unable to play for several days as the result of a blow from a thrown ball, which struck him in the shoulder yesterday. The ball was thrown by First Baseman Kraft of the Fort Worth club. Miller said today that he would not appear against Kraft and would drop the case.

President Doak Roberts of the league sent word here today that he would come to hear the Fort Worth player's side of the fight before taking any action.

FEDERAL OFFICERS START GENERAL ROUND-UP OF ALL MEN INDICTED IN SCANDAL

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Arnold (Chick) Gandil, one of the former Chicago White Sox baseball players, indicted in connection with the alleged "throwing" of world's series games in 1919, was arrested here tonight at the request of the state's attorney's office in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A general roundup of men indicted in connection with the 1919 world series baseball scandal has been started by state officials and federal aid will be sought in apprehending several persons who have not yet given bond, it was announced today at the states attorney's office following reports that some of the alleged conspirators had fled to foreign countries.

George E. Gorman, assistant states attorney, tonight said he had information that Abe Attell, former champion featherweight fighter, and Joseph J. (Sport) Sullivan, had fled to Canada. Others in the case were reported to have made plans to go to Mexico or to be there now, Mr. Gorman said.

Mr. Gorman said that since there were no treaties with Canada under which a man could be etradited for a misdemeanor, federal officials would be asked to request the Canadian government to deport Attell and Sullivan as undesirables if they are found in that country. President Ban Johnson of the American league, now is en route to Washington to make this request, he said.

To Go After "Prince Hal."

Detectives will be sent tomorrow to San Jose, Cal., to bring back Hal Chase, arrested there yesterday. A warrant has been sent to Texas for the arrest of William Burns, former major league pitcher.

Chick Gandil, another player, is reported in Texas and has sent word that he will come to Chicago and give bond.

OUTFIELDER MAKES RECORD TRIPLE PLAY

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 26.—George Smiley, center fielder of the Pioneers, Knoxville's team in the Appalachian League, earned a place in baseball's hall of fame yesterday when he made an unassisted triple play against Jellico. With a man on first and second, a drive that had the ear marks of a sure hit, was laced over second. Smiley came in fast, caught the drive, stepped on the just vacated second bag and touched out the runner from first. This is believed to be the first unassisted triple play which an outfielder ever made.

ULSTER NATIONALIST CONDEMNS CRAIG VIEWS

BELFAST, April 26.—Joseph Devlin, who has returned to Ulster to direct the nationalist campaign, in an interview today termed the recent proclamation issued by Sir James Craig, the Ulster unionist leader, as "greatest example of political bankruptcy I ever saw."

Spring Is the Time to Purify Your Blood

Most people stay indoors and eat so heavily in winter their systems get clogged with impurities—real poisons—that should have been cast off.

This is why itching, torturous outbreaks of the skin are common in spring. The blood, which normally disposes of these impurities, gets so overloaded it cannot work properly and is trying to get rid of them by extraordinary means.

You should regard these spring outbreaks as signals to look to your blood at once, for they are sure signs something is wrong within. The poisonous impurities have collected in your circulation until the danger point has been reached.

For this cleansing thousands rely on S.S.S., a remedy made of herbs which the Indians discovered centuries ago would purify the blood. It has been serving the white man now for fifty years in a better form than the Indians had it.

Don't delay a day longer, but get a bottle of S.S.S., and start right now to free your blood of the winter accumulation of impurities.

Your druggist can supply you with S.S.S., and if you want individual medical advice free, write about your condition to Chief Medical Advisor, 858 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

WICHITA.

Marguerite Keeler and Homer B. Mason, who have given vaudeville its brightest farce, come to the Wichita today with a new vehicle written specially for them by Porter Emerson Browne, entitled "Oh!" "Oh!" is described as a farcial improbability for which the author offers this explanation: "We are aware that a bolshevik does not always wear whiskers, also that bombs are seldom round, and that the situations in this play are hard to believe, but that's our story and we're going to stick to it." That doesn't matter they go to make excellent farce which is the mission of Mr. Mason and Miss Keeler.

Johnny Burke returns to vaudeville after a year's absence during which time he was starred with the "Passing Show." Back again in vaudeville, he is continuing his military burlesque idea. His latest vehicle is "drafted" on the stage one never expects Johnny Burke to be serious. He is there to contribute to the mirth of nations and he is a big factor.

Step Lively with Mildred Rogers, another of the better dancing acts with the assistance of a male quartet, offers a dance cycle which is speed from start to finish.

Jean Boydell, a mere girl, is one of the best arguments in favor of the theory that accomplisment is a matter of birth rather than of experience. Miss Boydell is an eccentric comedienne and with word and song she contributes materially to the world's good humor.

Beeman and Grace are presenting something in the surprise fine. They are experts in their line, "You'll Be Surprised." A news weekly, topics of the day and an unusual musical program by the Wichita orchestra promise another splendid combination for this week program.

A fad of the moment among young women in New York is having minute portraits of special friends painted in fast colors on the finger-nails.

So secluded are the women kept in Korea that they are almost prohibited from speaking to their own husbands.

MOVIELAND

Mary Astor.

Ten years ago the wife of a college professor decided that her little daughter would be a beauty and so she deliberately began training her to be a motion picture star. This girl so carefully trained is now sixteen years old and has been presented at the Paramount-Lasky studios. She was immediately put under contract. Her film name is Mary Astor and those who have seen her predict a great future for her.

ROB ANITA STEWART.

Anita Stewart was robbed of $11,000 worth of jewelry the other day by a man who represented himself as being an electrician. He secured entrance to her home by telling the butler that he had come to look over the wires. Anita and her husband were at the studio at the time, and when they returned they discovered that the safety boxes had been broken open and their valuables stolen.

The theft occurred while the pseudo-electrician had sent the butler for a ladder that he might fix the lights.

The insurance company verified the value of the jewels.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING.

Bessie Barriscale is appearing on the stage in Oakland, Cal., in "Two Betty," written originally as a screen vehicle for her by Howard Hickman, her husband.

Wheeler Oakman worked for days before he evolved a make-up of three grease paints and a powder that would give him the right swarthiness for an Indian in "The Half-Breed."

A film version of "The Wandering Jew," made in Europe and starring Rudolph Schilgraut, is ready for release in this country. Now Louis B. Mayer announces that he will film the same play. Belasco will produce it on the stage next season, with Tyrone Power in the principal role.

Sydney Chaplin, brother of Chas. three years absent, has released a comedy he wrote, starring himself. It is called, "King, Queen, Joker."

Louise Fazenda is working now on a series of two-reel comedies with Chester Conklin. Their first is "Money Flies."

Hope Hampton is featured in "Love's Penalty."

Harry Carey and Helen Ferguson are featured in "The Freeze Out."

Benjamin B. Hampton has completed a movie of William Allen White's novel, "A Certain Rich Man."

Life of the people who live on the edges of the Sahara is pictured in a Pathecolor to be released May 1.

One scene of "Deception" shows 500 horses and knights in armor and 7,000 extras.

Since Doug Fairbanks has grown a mustache for "The Three Musketeers" everyone around the studio is growing one.

NEW YORK COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The chief feature in the market for coffee futures today was further liquidation of May contracts in preparation for possible notices tomorrow. This was more in the way of exchanges from May to later months at just about the recent differences, and after opening unchanged to 1 point higher, prices fluctuated within a range of 6 or 1 points. July contracts sold between 5.83 and 5.90, closing at 5.90 bid, with the general market closing net unchanged to 8 points higher. Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7s 5¾@5⅞c; Santos 4s 8¾@9¾.

NEW YORK SUGAR.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The raw sugar market was weak and prices were reduced ...c by the committee to the basis of 3⅞ for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 4.89 for centrifugal. At this level there were sales of 150,000 bags of operators and refiners with more available.

In refined prices showed further weakness with fine granulated now quoted at 6.75 to 7.00 or lowest prices recorded since 1917.

Continued weakness in raw and refined led to further selling in futures with prices at one time showing declines of 7 to 17 points, although near the close there was a slight rally on covering with final prices 5 to 15 points net lower. May closed at 3.80; July 3.97; September 4.0? and December at 3.82, all bid.

When the Ainu women in Japan are growing up, what resembles a mustache is tattooed on their lips, for without this decoration their matrimonial prospects are poor.

IMPORTS JUMP AND FOODSTUFF EXPORTS SMALLER

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Raw material imports during March exceeded exports by more than $10,000,000 while foodstuffs exports were about $28,000,000 in excess of imports, department of commerce figures published today disclose.

March imports of raw material totaled $81,417,201 compared with $216,641,395 last year, and exports $69,163,728 against $225,083,249 in 1920.

March foodstuffs imports were $81,107,000 compared with $149,906,000 last year and exports $109,265,000 as against $186,209,000 in 1920.

Imports of manufacturers in March totaled $87,038,000 compared with $152,835,000 in 1920, exports $190,263,000 as against $398,801,000 the previous year.

MAY TENDERS GIVE COTTON BETTER TONE

NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—Smaller May tenders than expected gave the cotton market a rising tendency today. Buying was also stimulated by unfavorable weather conditions in the belt and a better spot demand. On the close the active months were 17 to 21 points up net.

This was first notice day for May and it brought tenders of but 6,000 bales. The general disposition was to look for larger tenders and on the opening call, prices were 2to 4 points down because of uncertainty as to how tenders would be received.

When it became evident that large firms were stopping notices, the market commenced to do better.

Too much rain in the western belt, particularly in some sections of Texas, and the threatened cold weather to follow the rains, caused uneasiness about young cotton.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The cotton market was generally steady today owing to increasing optimism over prospects for a settlement of war reparations, more favorable reports from the dry goods trade and continued unfavorable weather for an early new crop start in the south. July contracts sold up to 12.74 and closed at 12.72, with the general lists losing firm at a net advanceo f 2 to 15 points. May notices issued today were comparatively light and estimated at only 6,000 to 7,000 bales and proved no burden on the market. Rather indifferent Liverpool cables caused irregularity at the opening and first prices were 2 to 7 points lower, but the market soon firmed up on the stopping of May notices. After showing net advances of about 4 to 13 points prices sagged back to last nights closing quotations under realizing and scattered southern selling.

The latter was much less active than it was yesterday, however, and the market touched the best figures of the day in the late trading. May sold up to 12.13 and October 13.38. New Orleans reported a good spot demand, but local spot brokers said that bids were generally too far below the market to result in actual business. Exports today 5,104, making 4,017,314 so far this season. Port receipts 23,141. United States port stocks 1,474,866.

LIVERPOOL, April 26.—Spot cotton quiet; prices unchanged. Good middling 8.65; fully middling 8.10; middling 7.45; low middling 6.40; good ordinary 5.15; ordinary 4.40. Sales 5,000 bales, including 4,400 American.

EXCHANGE UNCERTAIN AND DULL

NEW YORK, April 26.—The stock market was comparatively dull and uncertain in the early stages of today's session, but became more active and irregularly stronger later. Improvement was ascribed to Germany's latest indemnity overtures and the probable success of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific financing.

There were a few conspicuous exceptions to the further advance, notably in the food group, sugars breaking sharply on another cut in the prize of the refined product and reports of more acute economic conditions in Cuba.

In most other commodity, market price tendencies showed greater stability. An advance was reported in the questions for lead and the firmness of coppers coincided with a better demand for those and allied metals.

As usual, the great part of the day's operations centered in oils, steels and equipments, together with shippings, motors and related specialties. Rails were lethargic. Average prices were at highest levels in the last hours, steels then superseding all other issues at gains of 2 to 4 points.

Seasoned bonds of the railway division were adversely affected by the more attractive terms of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, offerings and Liberty issues were heavy with a low record for the registered 3½'s.

WHEAT TAKES UPWARD TURN TO STRENGTH

CHICAGO, April 26. — Export buying on a large scale turned the wheat market today from weakness to strength. The close ,although unsettled was half to 1 cent net higher with May 1.26½ to 1.26 3-4 and July 1.05½ to 1.05 3-4. Corn finished at 1-4 cent net decline to 5-8 and 3-4 cents advance, oats gained 1-8 and 1-4 to 3-8 cent and provisions 10 to 50 cents. Estimates were that wheat export business in the last 48 hours had totaled as high as 2,000,000 bushels. During the first half of the day however the bulls were at a disadvantage.

General selling in small lots took place and moderate declines resulted, with bears putting stress on talk of a big strike by American seamen. New complications in the British strike tended also to weaken values. Subsequently much more notice was given export dealings. As a result highest prices of the session were scored after mid-day with profit taking at the last dealing to something of a reaction.

Further export demand for corn helped to strengthen that cereal and oats as well. Besides, primary shipments of corn were in excess of receipts.

Packer buying did a good deal to bring about the upturn in provisions.

PROTECTION OF BEES IS SOUGHT IN HAWAII

HONOLULU, Hawaii, April 26.—If you keep bees in Honolulu you must provide them with sustenance and comfort to which as bees, they are naturally accustomed, according to a bill which has been introduced in the Territorial Legislature of Hawaii. The bill is designed for the purpose of prohibiting apiaries in districts where there is no natural food for the bees, compelling them to invade the property of others for their sustenance.

A fine of $1,000 is proposed for a violation of the law.

How the Dry Cleaner Cleanses Your Garments

—A scientifically compounded soap which lathers freely in benzol refined to the satiny softness of newly fallen rain-water—a gentle sousing in this rich, fluffy suds—that's the secret of the renewed life and freshness so much admired in clothes that are dry-cleaned.

—Of course, there are many other processes, and there are different formulas for fine party dresses of silk and satin and rare old lace; for white and light colored things; for flannels and Palm Beach cloth—and there are still others for the cleaning of gloves of kid or suede.

—But the principle's the same.

—And it's surprisingly simple and wonderfully efficient, as you will learn if you have your outer garments dry-cleaned as regularly as you send your more intimate wear to the laundry.

—What have you for us tomorrow?

44 LEGAL NOTICES

SHERIFF'S SALE.
The State of Texas, County of Wichita.
By virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the honorable district court of Wichita county, on the 4th day of April 1921, by G. A. Smoot Sr., against Park Pool Oil company and Diamond Louisiana Oil company for the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty-seven and 19-100 ($2,757.19) Dollars and costs of suit in cause No. 9373-C in said court, styled G. A. Smoot, Sr., versus Park Pool Oil company et al. and placed in my hands for service, I, Fred E. Smith, as Sheriff of Wichita County, Texas, did on the 4th day of April 1921 levy on certain interest in real estate situated in Wichita county, described as follows, to-wit: 173-3.000 undivided part of the oil and gas mining leasehold estate covering the following lands in Wichita county, Texas, to-wit: First tract: The east 20 acres of the 32.22-acre tract out of Block No. 30 of the M. F. Roberts survey as shown by the Wichita Valley Oil company's plat of said block, said 20 acres being described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning 500 feet west of the northeast corner of said block No. 30; thence west 1,148.3 feet for a corner; thence south 1,254 feet a stake; thence east 1,146 feet a corner; thence north 1,101 feet to the place of beginning. Second tract: The west 20 acres of the north 35 acres of the west 85 acres of Block No. 32 of J. A. Kemp's Wichita Valley lands as shown by his subdivision thereof; together with a similar undivided interest in and to the oil well thereon and all personal property and equipment thereon, situated and appurtenant thereto and used in connection therewith. Said leasehold estates being the same described in a certain assignment from the Park Pool Oil company to the Diamond Louisiana Oil company recorded in Vol. 157, page 223 deed record of Wichita County, Texas, and to which reference is here made, and levied upon as the property of said Park Pool Oil company and Diamond Louisiana Oil company, and on Tuesday, the 3rd day of May, 1921, at the courthouse door of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. I will sell said property at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said Park Pool Oil company and Diamond Louisiana Oil company by virtue of said levy and said order of sale. And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in the Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita county. Witness my hand this 4th 11th day of April 1921.
Fred E. Smith, Sheriff Wichita County, Texas.
W. B. SCOTT, Deputy.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
The State of Texas to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Taylor Hudson by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the County court of Wichita county at law, Wichita County, Texas, to be holden at the courthouse thereof, in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in June A. D. 1921, the same being the 6th day of June, A. D., 1921, then and there to answer a puetition filed in said court on the 21st day of October, A. D., 1921 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 4157, wherein the Nash Automobile and Truck company, a private corporation organized under the laws of Texas, doing business in Wichita county, Texas, is plaintiff and G. A. De Vien, C. Wood, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson are defendants, and said petition alleging: That heretofore, to-wit, about the 27th day of March, 1920, defendants, De Vien and Wood, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff their certain promissory note in the sum of Nine Hundred Seventy-one and 77-100 ($971.77) dollars, due in monthly installments; among the installments being one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 97-100 ($161.97) Dollars, due Aug. 27, 1920; and one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 92-100 (161.92) Dollars, due September 27, 1920, which note bears interest from maturity of each installment at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and provides for an additional 10 per cent of the amount due as attorney's fees, if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or sued upon. That to secure the payment of said note, a chattel mortgage lien was retained by plaintiff upon one Nash 7-passenger automobile, being Model 682, Serial No. 153,826; Motor No. 41758; said automobile is now of the value of Nine Hundred ($900.00) dollars, and is now in the possession of the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, in Wichita county, Texas; that all of the installments on said note have been paid except the two above mentioned, due August 27, and Sept. 27, 1920, both of which are past due and unpaid; that said note and mortgage provided that in the event of failure in payment of said note in whole or in part the holder thereof shall be entitled to remove said automobile and sell the same, and that by virtue of said fact and the failure of payment of the above installments, plaintiff is entitled to the possession of said automobile; that these installments are past due and unpaid and the defendants, De Vien and Wood, refuse to pay the same, and it has become necessary to place the same in the hands of an attorney for collection and attorneys fees, are now due thereon; that the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, are made defendants herein, because they have possession of the automobile, and are claiming some interest therein, which interest, however, is in all things subordinate to the rights of plaintiff. Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 5th day of April A. D., 1921.
W. T. HARRIS, Clerk County Court of Law of Wichita County, Texas.
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

D., 1921 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 4157, wherein the Nash Automobile and Truck company, a private corporation organized under the laws of Texas, doing business in Wichita county, Texas, is plaintiff and G. A. De Vien, C. Wood, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson are defendants, and said petition alleging: That heretofore, to-wit, about the 27th day of March, 1920, defendants, De Vien and Wood, made, executed and delivered to plaintiff their certain promissory note in the sum of Nine Hundred Seventy-one and 77-100 ($971.77) dollars, due in monthly installments; among the installments being one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 97-100 ($161.97) Dollars, due Aug. 27, 1920; and one for One Hundred Sixty-One and 92-100 (161.92) Dollars, due September 27, 1920, which note bears interest from maturity of each installment at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and provides for an additional 10 per cent of the amount due as attorney's fees, if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or sued upon. That to secure the payment of said note, a chattel mortgage lien was retained by plaintiff upon one Nash 7-passenger automobile, being Model 682, Serial No. 153,826; Motor No. 41758; said automobile is now of the value of Nine Hundred ($900.00) dollars, and is now in the possession of the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, in Wichita county, Texas; that all of the installments on said note have been paid except the two above mentioned, due August 27, and Sept. 27, 1920, both of which are past due and unpaid; that said note and mortgage provided that in the event of failure in payment of said note in whole or in part the holder thereof shall be entitled to remove said automobile and sell the same, and that by virtue of said fact and the failure of payment of the above installments, plaintiff is entitled to the possession of said automobile; that these installments are past due and unpaid and the defendants, De Vien and Wood, refuse to pay the same, and it has become necessary to place the same in the hands of an attorney for collection and attorneys fees, are now due thereon; that the defendants, R. H. Graham and Taylor Hudson, are made defendants herein, because they have possession of the automobile, and are claiming some interest therein, which interest, however, is in all things subordinate to the rights of plaintiff. Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 5th day of April A. D., 1921.
W. T. HARRIS, Clerk County Court of Law of Wichita County, Texas.

City Will Take Over White Way, Harrison Says

Within a short time the entire downtown street lighting system which has been paid for by the property owners, under the management of the Chamber of Commerce, will be turned over to the city of Wichita Falls to control and maintain, according to an announcement from General Manager Harrison.

The last details of the ornamental street lighting system, covering 41 blocks of the downtown section of Wichita Falls, are being completed this week by J. L. McClure of the Martin-Wright Electric company of Dallas. All of the 324 lights except two are rendering service. These two are out of commission, temporarily, on account of damage to globes.

"The Chamber of Commerce is well pleased with the service rendered by the Martin-Wright organization and by Mr. McClure personally." Mr. Harrison says that the work of the Martin-Wright company and of Mr. McClure have been such as to win general commendation in Wichita Falls.

HARRISON IN FORT WORTH ON ROAD MEETING

Hubert Harrison, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is in Fort Worth attending the meeting of delegates from the towns on the Colorado-to-Gulf highway meeting. The meeting is for the purpose of interesting the cities along the route in preparations to care for the tourists which will follow this route during the summer, and will last for two days.

Wichita county's concrete road to Iowa Park, which will be completed by summer is expected to prove very popular with tourists.

A very beautiful display of beaded work is seen in the exhibit of California Frank's in the window of Baum & Gardner. Almost every conceivable combination of beads, with regard for color and arrangements, can be found in this Indian handwork.

Deny Reports Over Japan's War Attitude

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, April 26.—Japan being in a disadvantageous position on account of the difference in nearly everything between the east and west, is made to appear a warlike nation, Viscount Uchida, the foreign minister told a meeting of the Japanese League of Nations society here today.

"Nothing can be further from the truth," Viscount Uchida added. "Japan has never waged war except under compelling circumstances."

The foreign minister expressed the opinion that the League of Nations had come to stay. Japan, he declared, should do her utmost to assist the league, thus adding to the national prestige.

Resolutions were presented declaring the question of the Yap mandate and the American contentions concerning it, and also the Shantung questions were within the scope of the activities of the society, which should help in their solution.

M. Kamei, a Japanese newspaper correspondent stationed in China, denounced the maintenance of Japanese troops in Shantung, declaring Japan had pledged her honor to return Shantung to China, but showed no signs of fulfilling the pledge.

"What do we gain by making ourselves the object of hatred?" he asked. "Did we really fight by the side of our allies with our hearts and souls in the cause? Did not many seek to take advantage of the confusion in Europe? We are in a hole today and I think this is a just retribution for our behavior in the war."

An indignant critic of a certain action of congress rushed into the presence of Senator Lodge with the exclamation: "Why, senator, that is purely a matter of sentiment." The senator gazed at his caller for a moment, then handed him this significant reply: "Sentiment, did you say? True enough, but then you know sentiment rules the world."
