International Law And Its Enforcement Only Means Of Everlasting Peace

By O. H. TABOR

Given at Rotary Club, Friday Noon, March 19, 1943.

Civilization is passing through a "crisis," which has been brought about because the nations of the earth accepted the theory of nationalism as a basis of policy. In the past nationalism served a good purpose, in that it transferred the sovereignty of the kings to the people. Since the rise of nationalism, individuals have enjoyed more liberty, and representative government has spread throughout the world, but when nations make "rugged nationalism" their ideal on which all international relationships are based trouble is inevitable. During the past few years nations have refused to look beyond their own national interests, hence to cry, "disarmament" during the early years of the thirties was foolish. While the cry to disarm was being sounded by representative nations of the world, other nations who feared most, began to arm. Today we are mindful that thousands are dying because nations held to the theory of uncontrolled national sovereignty while disregarding the rights of other nations. This is selfishness among nations and leads to world war and chaos. We must learn that world organization governed by international law, with power provided to enforce that law, is the ONLY solution to the great problem of world peace.

OUR CRY OF YESTERDAY

In the past, the prayers of all has been for peace. We wanted peace, and we still want peace. We hate destructive war which leaves the nations, of the earth, paralyzed and hinders the onward march of civilization. But, we are now forced to change our idea as to how lasting peace can be attained. We have plead for the last twenty years, "Peace at any price," "Anything to keep us out of a shooting war." We can now see that the only sure way to have peace is not sit back and see treaties torn up, promises broken, but to enforce peace by the might of international law. This will require shooting, sometimes but the shooting will be on a much smaller scale than this world conflict we are now in. Peace-loving nations, of the world could have enforced peace, had they had an enforcement agency, when Mussolini invaded Ethiopia, with far less expense and loss of blood than we are going to be able to do this present job." A shell in times saves nine." We sat back resting in a false sense of security while the chance for real peace passed us by. The isolationists cried, "What has the war in far-off Ethiopia, to do with us in peace-loving America?" "We want peace." "We don't want to get all tangled up in foreign affairs," and the way they could say, FOREIGN would make one feel that Ethiopia was on Mars, rather than on the earth, when in fact, as we have recently come to know, is very close to us. Of course we tried to keep peace by sending diplomats to argue and debate the questions, but just that alone has never worked and never shall work. Suppose our nation had no way to enforce the national laws, which are written upon the pages of our statute books—no way to punish law violators—how long would it be until

Individuals Must Secure Only One S. S. Number

Elliott W. Adams, manager of the Social Security Board field office at Big Spring stated that a number of individuals applying for social security account numbers by mail stated that they had never before applied for an account number, and investigation showed that an account number had been previously issued to the applicant.

Adams stressed the fact that no individual should ever secure more than one account number. "To secure additional account numbers means possible loss in benefits to the individual as well as causing the government unnecessary expense in establishing a new account," he said. "Since no one number can be assigned to two different individuals, any employee for whom two accounts are established prohibits forever the Board using the extra account number assigned for anyone else."

Sales Of Butter, Margarine, Lard And Other Edible Fats "Frozen" For Week By OPA

CORRECTION

The twelve Dawson County men to leave for Induction into the Armed services this month, are to leave Lamesa on Monday, March 29, instead of Wednesday, March 31, as stated in last Thursday's issue of the Courier. This change in date was a mistake made by the Courier, and we are glad to make the correction.

The men to leave March 29 are, 10615 Matilde Salazer; 11317 Eugene Franklin Smith, volunteers; V544 Jesus Tapie Talvere; 1660 Gerardo Moreno; 2692 Domingo Rodriguez; 10974 Hershel Edward Raines; 11298 Rendon Ignacio; 11840 Bencente Gonzales; 13444 Eric Vester Dunn; 1205 Sabino Candillo; 12297 Forest Lee Meeks; 12113 Jowell Wright Ross, all transfers.

Car Sharing Clubs Must Be Formed

The Dawson County War Price and Rationing Board will place increased emphasis on car sharing in considering applications for "B" and "C" gasoline rations beginning March 22, 1943, Chairman of the Board, announced today.

His statement followed receipt of a letter from OPA mileage rationing officials pointing out that if passenger car mileage is to be reduced to the 5,000-mile-a-year average recommended by the Baruch Committee, "ride sharing must be made a universal practice." Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown last week appealed for full public cooperation in the renewed car sharing program.

"Car sharing has been a requirement for obtaining supplemental rations to drive to and from work since the inception of mileage rationing," it was announced. "The newly launched program, to be conducted jointly by the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Civilian Defense, was designed, merely, to give impetus to the ride-sharing movement. OCD, through its Local Defense Councils, will help people form car clubs in each community. OPA through its rationing boards and mileage rationing plan, will provide the gasoline rations to keep car clubs running.

"In fulfilling its part of the program, the Dawson rationing board has been asked to assist, beginning March 22, that applicants for "B" and "C" ration books for travel to and from work belong to a full ride-sharing club. This means an arrangement for carrying 3, or more, other persons regularly to and from work.

L. T. DAVIS PROMOTED TO CORPORAL

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of Lamesa have been notified that their son, L. T. Davis, who is stationed at the State University Officer Training School of Oxford, Mississippi, has been promoted to the rank of Corporal. He was at Boca Raton, Florida, before being transferred to Oxford, Miss.

Mrs. Bob Schmid, of Roswell, New Mexico, is visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Ola Tinkler.

The Office of Price Administration Sunday banned for a week all retail sales of butter, margarine, lard and other edible fats and oils, which go under point rationing, March 29.

The government order was issued Sunday afternoon without any advance warning and forbade retail buying of these foods between 12:01 a. m. Monday and the same hour, March 29, when they will be rationed along with meat, cheese and canned fish.

Restaurants are not affected by the order, said the Associated Press, and may continue to get butter and the other foods from their wholesalers.

"The retail sales freeze does not apply to any of the cheeses or meats involved in the new rationing plan and sales of these foods will continue as usual between now and March 29. Sales of canned fish and canned meat, which were frozen Feb. 18, will continue to be suspended until rationing starts. Mayonnaise and other salad dressings are not rationed and, hence, are not included in the sales freeze.

Point Values To Be Set

"OPA officials explained that suspension of retail sales of fats and oils was necessary because inventories of these foods are not large enough to support heavy public buying during the one week remaining before rationing.

"The one-week freeze will allow storekeepers to obtain supplies so as to be in position to make ration sales against red stamps from War Ration Book Two on Monday morning, March 29.

OPA will announce Wednesday the point values which will govern rationing of the fats and oils, as well as meats, cheese and canned fish. Starting March 29 each person will have 16 points a week, in the red stamps of Rationing Book No. 2, to spend for these products.

Generally, the most popular cuts of meat, such as steaks and chops, will require more points than such products as hamburger and spare-ribs. Likewise butter probably will use more points than oleomargarine.

"While it will be legal to buy any kind of meat desired, and average limitation of about two pounds a person a week will prevent many persons from achieving the more luxurious styles of prepared meats. Previously announced plans will restrict home consumption and impending rules are expected to limit restaurant portions, too.

Explaining why meat, cheese and the fats and oils are lumped together, OPA said:

"From the production or supply standpoint, meat products are converted not only into lard but also oleomargarine. Oleomargarine in turn can be manufactured from either animal fats or vegetable oils, or both. In dealing with the production of meats and fats, we do not have two distinct supplies, but a single total or overall supply which is, to some extent, divided into meats and fats according to the conditions of demand.

"Even from the consumer standpoint, meats and fats are to a certain extent substitutes for one another. Some people get a great deal of their dietary needs from fats by eating fat meats; others prefer lean meats and depend on butter (Continued On Page Five)

Anti-Loan Shark Amendment Gets Committee O. K.

AUSTIN, March 18. — Texas' loan shark problem is nearer solution. Unanimous approval has been given by a House of Representatives committee to Rep. W. W. Bridgers' constitutional amendment, permitting the legislature to pass a statute regulating the small loan business as has been done in nearly all other States.

Then individuals needing small, personal loans will not have to pay 240 per cent interest and more to foreign-owned chains that drain Texas of $30,000,000 a year. Soldiers, sailors and war plant workers are being victimized and public sentiment strongly favors ending the vicious, unpatriotic racket.

Tips For The New Rabbit Raisers

Good breeding and sound management provide the foundation of successful rabbit husbandry, R. E. Callender, wildlife specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, says in offering advice to the many families who are keeping rabbits for the first time.

The beginner, he says, may make the mistake of handling the rabbits too much, when they should be handled as little as possible. "Never lift a rabbit by the ears or feet, but take hold of the loose skin over the shoulders with one hand and place the other hand under the hind quarters so that most of the weight will be supported from beneath," he cautions. "Keep the feet turned away from your body so that you won't be scratched."

Fryers should be handled with especial care so they will not be bruised.

It will pay rabbit raisers, whether they are producing meat for their own table or undertaking a commercial venture, to keep records, the specialist says. Notations should be made of the time of breeding, time of kindling, number in the litter, deaths, number weaned, the date of weaning, expenses, and receipts and other pertinent information.

Mr. Callender has other suggestions on the care of litters. Hutches should be cleaned thoroughly a day or so before the young are expected, and the doe should be provided with a nest box containing plenty of straw. When the rabbits are a day or so old, the weak ones should be disposed of. The number of rabbits left in the litter should not exceed the number which the mother can feed, which will be about six or seven, he points out. Sometimes the extras can be given to a nurse doe.

Healthy does usually kindle six to 10 young.

NATIVE MEBANE COTTON--

I am placing again this year a limited amount of my State Registered Native Mebane Cottonseed on sale at Snell & Jacobs gin at Lamesa, both fuzzy and delinted. I am doubling my acreage this year in registered cotton and hope another year to supply the Lamesa trade with all the seed you want. If you keep your seed pure at the gin you need not buy new seed each year as the outstanding qualities of early maturity, high lint turnout and drouth resistance, with large easily picked bolls and storm proof. The staple is strong, fifteen-sixteenths to an inch that meets all government requirements. These qualities were all developed right here at Knott in Howard County over a period of twenty years by my method of cotton breeding, and as its name implies, it is a native of this climate and does not quickly run out. Last year was a very dry year in Howard County and yet I made a 517 pound bale for every acre of my allotment, planted in May and all ginned by October 30th, some two weeks or more before frost, and my seed tested 97 per cent germination. Get a start this year and save your own seed next fall.

MINERALIZED, IODIZED, VITAMINIZED: 15,000 Watkins Dealers are selling millions of pounds of Mineral Compound to American Farmers and Ranchmen yearly for Hog's, Poultry and Livestock. No fibers, no fillers and no waste. (99 per cent pure and 99 per cent digestible) and will give 25 per cent better digestion to any feeding ration. Better health, faster growth and quicker to market with 25 per cent feed saved. You save money when you feed Watkins Mineral Compounds. I have many satisfied customers in the County. Your business appreciated. Your friend, G. FRANK SMITH, Dealer, on Big Spring Highway near Club House. 20-21 pd

GOOD NEWS: After March 1, all motorists are eligible for recapping without certificate or any red tape whatever. Make an appointment with us now for your recap work after that date. We use the Bacon Equipment, the very latest type known as the best in the world for tire recapping. With this type of equipment and our skillful labor you cannot get a better job. We have not had a single tread to peel in over 3 years, and so why should you send your tires out of town, and take a chance of them being lost or mischanged for junk tires. We recap your tires while you wait. MILLER TIRE CO. 10 tfc

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW ABOUT A PAIR OF GLASSES?

The average person knows less about the Glasses he buys than he does about almost anything else he has to spend money for. Since this is true . . . isn't it safer to come to a place of established reputation, where you may take it for granted that your Glasses will be ACCURATE . . . STYLISH . . . COMFORTABLE.
