Energy, Ford On Calendar

WASHINGTON AP-The nomination of Gerald R. Ford to be vice president and energy legislation share top billing this week as Congress returns from its Thanksgiving recess.

The Senate, starting debate today on the Ford nomination, is to vote on confirmation Tuesday.

No senator has announced he intends to vote against the nomination, unanimously approved by the Senate Rules Committee after its examination of Ford and his record.

The House Judiciary Committee, still conducting its hearings on President Nixon's selection of Ford to replace Spiro T. Agnew, is expected to act later in the week.

The House, meawhile, is scheduled to vote this week on a bill requiring year-round Daylight Saving Time on an experimental basis until April 1975. The measure is a response to part of President Nixon's legislative program to cope with the energy shortage.

After voting on Ford, the Senate is to take up a bill to roll back the salary of the attorney general in an effort to make Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, constitutionally eligible for appointment to the Cabinet post.

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported the bill last week without recommendation. It had received conflicting testimony on whether the measure could overcome a constitutional ban on the appointment of a Congress member to an office for which the salary has been increased during his elected term.

Saxbe, whose term does not expire until Jan. 3, 1974, was a member of the Senate in 1969 when the salaries of Cabinet members were raised from $35,000 to $60,000.

Also slated in the Senate is floor action on a House-passed bill to raise the limit on the national debt to $475.7 billion through June 30, 1974. A bipartisan effort is being made to attach a measure for public financing of federal elections to the bill.

The present $465-billion temporary debt ceiling expires Friday, and without new legislation the Treasury would run out of operating funds in about a week.

And the House is expected to take up a bill providing for a special Watergate prosecutor. It would require the prosecutor to keep the House Judiciary Committee informed of any facts relevant to its preliminary inquiry into possible impeachment proceedings against Nixon.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Nov. 26, the 330th day of 1973. There are 35 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1940, the half million Jews in Warsaw, Poland, were forced by the Nazis to live within a walled ghetto.

In 1832, the first streetcar railway in the U.S. began service in New York City, with the horse-drawn trolley running between City Hall and 14th Street.

In 1857, the first Australian parliament opened in Melbourne.

In 1925, Germany ratified the Locarno Treaty, pledging to guarantee the French frontier.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Chinese President Chiang Kaishek ended a wartime conference in Cairo.

In 1949, India adopted a constitution as a federal republic within the British Commonwealth.

In 1970, a Bolivian disguised as a priest tried to kill Pope Paul VI in the Philippine capital of Manila, but the Pope escaped injury.

Ten years ago...a county grand jury in Dallas indicted Jack Ruby in the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Five years ago...France canceled nuclear tests planned in the Pacific and slashed the military budget in economy moves to bolster the franc.

One year ago...an unidentified submarine escaped to sea from Norwegian territorial waters, where it had been pursued for two weeks.

BUT WILL COMPLY WITH SUNDAY CLOSINGS

Gas Station Owners Upset

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer

Service station owners reacting to President Nixon's energy message say they will for the most part voluntarily close on Sundays. But many of them are either skeptical of the effects Sunday closings will have or upset because they say their income is being cut.

Reaction to Nixon's speech also came quickly from homeowners, politicians and businessmen. But gas station owners were the most vocal.

"A Sunday sales halt probably will effect some fuel savings, but will kill off marginal gas stations," said Walter F. Stein of Columbus, the Ohio representative to the National Congress of Petroleum Dealers.

There were station owners who echoed Phil Benson, a Shell station manager in Phoenix. "We'll just have to tighten our belts a little. This is an emergency," he said. "There is a shortage, and if we don't cooperate now, when the government comes down hard, we'll have nothing at all."

Most station managers contacted after Nixon's Sunday night address said they would comply, but some were upset.

Some said the 15 per cent cut in gasoline production which Nixon will order will cut their profits unless the government allows them a greater profit margin. Others said the production cut would run them out of business. Representatives of dealers associations said that since the great majority of stations are closed anyway on Sunday the closing would have little of its anticipated effect.

Nixon also said Sunday night that he wants legislation to set mandatory speed limits of 50 miles per hour for cars and 55 m.p.h. for buses and trucks. He also said he will sign legislation cutting heating oil by 15 per cent to consumers, 10 per cent to industry and 25 per cent to commercial businesses.

Govs. Tom McCall of Oregon and David Hall of Oklahoma applauded the President's actions; but they said they doubted the public would observe 50 m.p.h. speed limits if they see buses and trucks whizzing by them.

Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp urged an immediate ban on all American oil exports and a restriction on oil company prices. He said unless such a restriction was imposed, "then the people are being asked to sacrifice more than the oil companies."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., a leading congressional proponent of strong government actions to deal with the energy crisis, said Nixon's actions were "phase one of what looks to be another string of phases. More and stronger action must follow this."

Homeowners and businessmen contacted after Nixon's speech were generally supportive of his proposals.

Ban On Sunday Gas Sales Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he is cutting 15 per cent from deliveries of gasoline and home heating oil to stave off severe fuel-shortage damage to the nation's economy.

The moves will mean homes six degrees cooler than normal this winter and not enough gasoline to go around.

To start saving gasoline, Nixon asked filling stations to stop selling it on Sundays, and pledged he would order such a ban once Congress gives him the authority.

In a radio-television address Sunday, Nixon said deliveries of airline jet fuel also will be cut 15 per cent, industries will be denied 10 per cent of their oil wants and commercial buildings must do without 25 per cent of their heating oil.

These and other measures announced Sunday would reduce an expected 17 per cent petroleum shortage to perhaps 7 per cent, Nixon said, but the remaining shortage will require additional measures to close the energy gap and avoid economic damage.

Nixon continued to hold in reserve, as a last resort, the possibility of direct consumer gasoline rationing or high fuel taxes.

Under existing authority, Nixon announced these steps:

—Publication, due Tuesday, of regulations to take effect next Jan. 1, ordering heating-oil dealers to sell householders 15 per cent less heating oil than they got in 1972, commercial establishments 25 per cent less; and industries 10 per cent less. This move imposes consumer rationing, but without the complications of issuing fuel coupons.

Proposal of regulations in December to impose controls on distribution of gasoline to wholesale and retail dealers, cutting deliveries 15 per cent below the anticipated demand for the first quarter of 1974.

Refineries will be asked to start making such cuts immediately on a voluntary basis, the White House said.

—Government-controlled allocations of jet fuel to airlines will be cut Dec. 1, limiting international lines to their 1972 fuel consumption and domestic lines to 95 per cent of their 1972 levels. All airlines will be cut back 15 per cent below last year's supplies starting Jan. 7.

—Final regulations were scheduled for publication Tuesday, to take effect Dec. 7, forbidding coal-burning power plants from switching to oil.

Nixon pledged to take the following steps as soon as Congress passes emergency legislation authorizing them:

—A ban on gasoline sales from 9 p.m. on Saturdays to midnight on Sunday nights. Nixon asked filling stations to adopt such a ban voluntarily in the meantime, beginning Dec. 1.

—Establishment of nationwide highway speed limits of 50 miles an hour for automobiles and 55 miles an hour for long-distance trucks and buses.

—Bans on ornamental residential lighting and on non-essential commercial lighting.

—Reductions of fuel deliveries for general aviation, imposing a 20 per cent cut on fuel for air taxis and industrial flying, 40 per cent on corporate jets and other business flying and a 50 per cent cutback on flying for pleasure or instruction.

Nixon warned that "additional actions will be necessary to further offset the anticipated shortage."

"Above all," he said, "every step will be taken to insure that any disruptions to our economy which may occur are short-lived, and that they do not cause lasting damage."

Nixon Addresses Seafarers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon moved today to drum up public support for his solution to the energy crisis, and declared that his long-range goal is to put this country "in a position where nobody can cut our lifeline."

Speaking at a convention of the Seafarers International Union, AFL-CIO, the President reiterated his goal of making the nation self-sufficient in energy by 1980 and linked it with efforts to build a strong merchant marine.

The United States will "never be dependent on another part of the world when there is a crisis," if his proposals succeed, Nixon said.

The speech was Nixon's first public appearance since his national radio-television address Sunday night in which he unveiled his plans to deal with the energy crisis.

The President also repeated his intention to remain in the White House, referring to himself as the captain of a ship whose job it is to bring that vessel safely home.

"I'm going to stay at that helm until we bring it into port," he declared.

Hijacked Plane Lands In Malta

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)-A Dutch jumbo jet hijacked by Palestinian guerrillas arrived from Libya this afternoon.

A spokesman for the airline in Amsterdam said the plane carried the original 247 passengers and 17 crew.

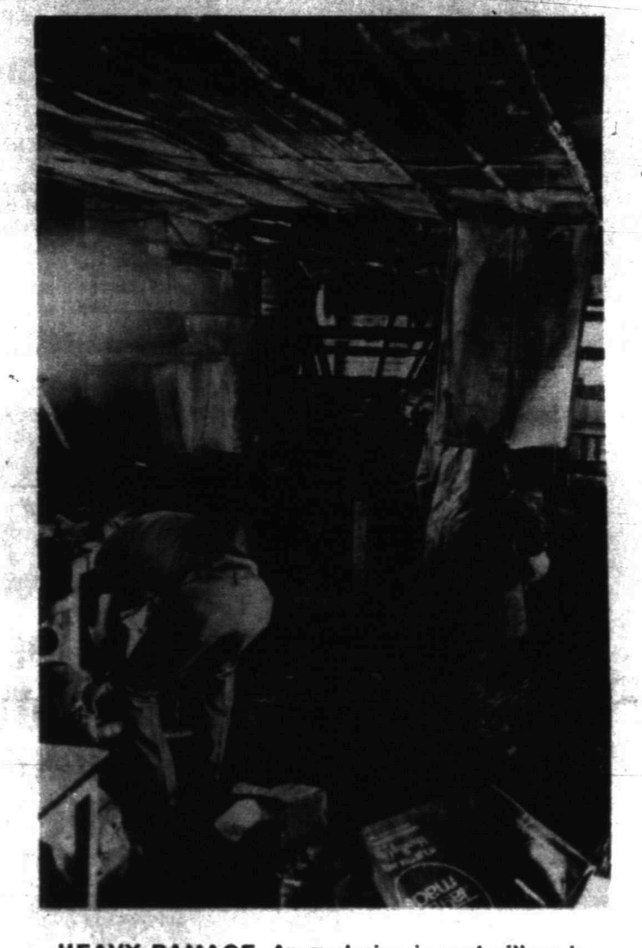

It was understood the decision to bring the hijacked aircraft to Malta was made this morning during talks between Libyan President Moammar Khadafy and Maltese Premier Dom Mintoff.

Earlier, the airline spokesman said the airline's head and a flight crew were flying to Libya, presumably to negotiate with the hijackers.

A spokesman for KLM in Amsterdam said the DC9 carrying President Sergio Orlandini also carried the airline's flight operations head, A. W. Witholt, a doctor and a male nurse.

He said the doctor and male nurse were being sent as a precaution, but didn't say against what. He also did not disclose the mission of Orlandini and Witholt, but presumably they were sent to negotiate with the hijackers.

The spokesman said the hijackers have communicated their demands to the Dutch government, but a Foreign Ministry spokesman refused all comment on them.

HEAVY DAMAGE--An explosion in a sterilizer is believed to have caused a fire which destroyed Dunnam Mattress Company, 2302 College Avenue, about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The blaze caused an estimated $10,000 damage to merchandise and the sheet iron building. Two employes in the front of the store at the time of the explosion escaped without injury. Firemen were able to save several mattresses and some machinery in the front of the building.

Boston Strangler Stabbed In Cell

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — Albert DeSalvo, who confessed to being the Boston Strangler of the 1960s, was found stabbed to death in his prison cell today, corrections officials reported.

Although DeSalvo confessed to killing 13 women in the Boston area between 1962 and 1964, he later retracted the confession and was never convicted of any of the 13 deaths.

The former handyman was serving a life term at the maximum security prison for assaults on four other women.

A prison spokesman said DeSalvo's body was found about 7 a.m. in a cell in the prison's hospital section where DeSalvo worked as an orderly.

DeSalvo, 42, died of multiple stab wounds in the chest. No weapon was found and there were no suspects, the spokesman said.

During DeSalvo's assault trial in January 1967, his lawyer, F. Lee Bailey, attempted to get the confession to the stranglings entered into evidence. He was able only to present such testimony from psychiatrists whom DeSalvo had told he was the strangler.

DeSalvo was convicted of burglary, armed robbery and sexual molestation.

State authorities have long maintained they did not have evidence to prosecute anyone for the stranglings.

The case of the Boston Strangler caused a worldwide sensation. The victims ranged in age from 19 to 75. Most had been associated with health care, either as nurses, hospital volunteers, workers in physicians' offices, or friends of nurses and doctors. All lived within a 26-mile radius of Boston.

The biggest manhunt in Massachusetts' history was touched off on Feb. 24, 1967 when DeSalvo and two other inmates escaped from Bridgewater State Hospital a month after DeSalvo's assault trial.

DeSalvo, who had been at the hospital awaiting an appeal, was captured 1½ days later in a Lynn, Mass., clothing store, where he had asked to use the telephone.

DeSalvo was at the hospital before the trial, undergoing observation for an alleged sexual molestation offense.

United Way Reports Gain

More contributions to the United Way campaign trickled into campaign headquarters over the weekend, increasing the total to $10,889.06.

The Utilities Division continued to set the pace. However, new gains were reported in Commercial and Oil and Industrial Divisions.

The campaign is seeking $40,000 to support 13 participating agencies in the operations for 1974.

The campaign box score:

| DIVISION | Reported In | Goal |
|---|---|---|
| Advance | $550.50 | $8,800 |
| Professional | —— | 2,000 |
| Utilities | 2,562.81 | 3,600 |
| Rural | —— | 2,000 |
| Educational | 1,926.50 | 4,400 |
| Public Employes | 946.75 | 2,000 |
| Commercial | 1,764.50 | 9,200 |
| Oil & Indust. | 2,103.80 | 6,000 |
| Branch House | 1,035.00 | 2,000 |
| Totals | $10,889.06 | $40,000 |

Watergate Tape Analysis Filed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House filed with U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica Monday a 22-page analysis and index for the subpoenaed Watergate tape recordings and other materials and claimed that two of the tapes should be withheld from the Watergate grand jury in their entirety.

The White House analysis claimed in the case of the two tapes "the conversation is subject in its entirety to a claim of executive privilege in order to protect the confidentiality of advice given to the President."

By claiming executive privilege the White House is asking Sirica to withhold the two tapes from the grand jury.

One of them is of a conversation between the President and John D. Ehrlichman on June 20, 1972 — the first part of a taped conversation that the White House says is marred later by an 18-minute hum.

The hum occurs three minutes and 40 seconds from the start of a conversation between Nixon and H.R. Haldeman, who was then White House chief of staff, according to the White House information supplied to Sirica.

The White House said it is believed the hum "was caused by the impression of a record button during the process of rehearing the tape, possibly while the recorder was in the proximity of an electric typewriter and a high-intensity lamp."

The White House said it did in court, that the delay in discovering the missing portion was "due to the ambiguity of the language of the subpoena."

The White House said it had understood the subpoena from Watergate prosecutors covered only the conversation between Ehrlichman and the President from 10:25 a.m. to 11:20 a.m. in the President's Executive Office Building suite.

Haldeman met with the President from 11:25 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. that day, the legal paper said.

The White House said an examination of the President's log for June 20 showed there was no meeting in which both Ehrlichman and Haldeman participated, although it points out the two back-to-back meetings nearly coincided.

The brief said that not until Nov. 14 of this year, when the analysis was being prepared from duplicates of the tapes, was the hum discovered.

Jaworski Accused In Leaks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House Monday accused the office of special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski of responsibility for what it termed two recent news leaks, one it labeled as staggering.

It was the first open criticism by the White House of Jaworski's operation since he took over the office from which Archibald Cox was fired Oct. 20.

One of the published items cited by White House Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren was a report in this week's issue of Time magazine that Jaworski's office is investigating a $100,000 contribution to the 1972 Nixon campaign by the Seafarers International Union. Nixon addressed the union's convention Monday.

The second item cited by Warren was a column, appearing in many Monday morning newspapers, in which Rowland Evans and Robert Novak reported that White House lawyers had pleaded in vain last week with Jaworski to agree to a delay in disclosing that an 18-minute segment of a taped presidential conversation had apparently been obliterated.

Warren, reminded that the White House had accused Cox of a breach of ethics after he acknowledged he inadvertently was the source of a published report linking President Nixon with administration handling of an antitrust case against ITT, was asked if Jaworski was guilty of violating ethical standards.

Holiday Traffic Toll Over 500

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 500 persons died in traffic accidents during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 625-725 persons would die as motorists traveled to spend the holiday with friends and relatives.

At the end of the counting period, which ran from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday to midnight Sunday, 527 persons were reported killed.

A year ago the toll was 658.

Friend thinks widow's mourning is too much

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a good friend [I'll call her Nellie] whose husband died on Christmas Day four years ago. They had been married for more than 60 years, and Nellie is still mourning for him. She keeps crying: "Harry, why did you leave me?"

Abby, I have been a widow for 22 years, and I loved my husband as much as Nellie loved Harry, but I realized feeling sorry for myself and making everybody else miserable by crying all the time wasn't going to help, so I just put on a happy face and accepted it.

Nellie tells me that one of her friends wrote: "Cry as much as you feel like it, until you are all cried out."

I don't agree with that. I think if she would quit crying, and thank God for the 60 good years she had with Harry, she would be better off.

What do you say? GRANDMA IN FLORIDA

DEAR GRANDMA: I say, how one handles his grief is a very personal matter. [Some never are "cried out."] Putting on an "act" of courage often builds strength. And it certainly is an act of charity to one's friends.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest your opinion of wife-swapping. Thank you for saying: "To me, the sexual expression of love is a beautiful, private thing between two people, and using sex to achieve the ultimate in a thrill which could conceivably include the whole neighborhood is for animals."

Now, may I relate my own experience in that regard? After my husband and I had been happily married for 10 years, he suggested wife-swapping. The idea was disgusting to me, but he kept insisting it would improve our relationship, and even tho I thought our relationship was fine, because I loved him and wanted to please him, I agreed to try it. It was the most foolish decision I ever made.

The result: Two divorces, and five beautiful children who now miss their daddies.

Contrary to what the swingers say, there can be no sex without some emotional involvement. Because I loved my husband, I went too far to please him, and lost my self respect. TOO LATE

DEAR TOO LATE: My mail concerning wife-swapping is running 20 to 1 against it.

DEAR ABBY: Our problem concerns our son [age 30] who gave a 25-year-old girl an engagement ring last winter in anticipation of a June wedding.

His fiancee's sister [age 20] has just announced her engagement to a young man, 21, and therein lies the problem. The parents of these sisters have talked the girls into having a double wedding to save expenses.

My son doesn't want to upset his fiancee, or get on the wrong side of her parents, but he says the idea of a double wedding turns him off. Frankly, it doesn't appeal to us either. The girl he is marrying has a large family, and the other bridegroom, we are told, also has a lot of relatives. They are talking about 700 wedding guests and a bridal party of 30!

Abby, we feel that a three-family wedding of this size will be more like a three-ring circus.

Please tell us how our son should handle this without alienating his bride or her family. No names or city, please. MOM AND POP

DEAR MOM AND POP: Your son should make it plain to his bride that he doesn't want to share his wedding day with another couple. The fact that YOU are writing about your son's problem may say something about his reluctance to speak his piece. You can't run interference for him all his life. It's his problem. Let him handle it.

Astronauts Study Sun

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — While many nations wrestle with the energy crisis, the Skylab 3 astronauts concentrate on a study of the sun that could help develop an endless source of pollution-free energy.

After a midday check of instruments, solar physicist Edward G. Gibson planned to aim the space laboratory's $121.2-million set of eight telescopes at the sun.

This will be repeated many times during the 84-day mission, as it was on the first two Skylab flights, to give researchers a clearer idea how this sphere's hot gases and turbulent energy control what happens on earth and throughout the solar system.

Gibson, commander Gerald P. Carr and William R. Pogue all plan to operate the telescope console, but the bulk of the work will be done by Gibson.

The three astronauts finally finished setting up housekeeping in the space station on Sunday, freeing themselves to begin scientific research in their 11th day in space.

They were to have started with an earth resources photography pass over the United States today, but that was cancelled because of heavy cloud cover. The solar study, which was to have started Tuesday, was moved up a day.

In an interview before the flight, Gibson said the sun is the ultimate source of all energy on earth. It produces its energy through thermonuclear fusion, a technique scientists around the world are working to perfect as an inexhaustible, pollution-free power source.

The goal is to harness the hydrogen bomb reaction to generate power by fusion using lithium and deuterium, which are in such abundance on earth that they would last millions of years.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

Irvin Sam Cross, 64, of Loyd Mountain sustained a cut on the chin in a two-car collision on the Old Loyd Mountain Road eight miles northeast of Snyder at 2:50 p.m. Sunday

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said Cross was driving a 1970 Model Oldsmobile that was in collision with a 1969 Model Ford operated by Russell Earl Loyd, 26, Route 3, Box 176, Snyder.

Officers said there was considerable damage to both vehicles. They also said Loyd is a dairyman employed by Cross. Loyd was going to work and Cross was driving home when the mishap occurred.

Incorrect Listing In Court Case

A listing in the public records column in the Nov. 18 issue of The Snyder Daily concerning a suit for divorce should have reported that a restraining order had been issued rather than that the divorce had been granted. The incorrect listing in the case which had been filed as Othelda Clark VS. Fonza Clark, was brought to the attention of the newspaper today. The Daily News regrets the error and is happy to make this correction in the first issue after it was called to its attention.

Blood Drive Set Thursday

The Snyder Jaycees will sponsor a blood drive Thursday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The blood will be taken by Blood Services of Lubbock, which serves 37 hospitals in the South Plains area and approximately 3,500 patients in the area who require 12,000 to 15, 000 pints a year.

A shortage of voluntary blood donars has been reported nationwide and a similar shortage exists in the South Plains area, it was reported.

Each donor who gives blood will be given six months protection for himself, his wife and his children against blood service fees incurred, except for hemophilia.

The Blood Services Center serves as the intermediary agency where the blood is given, processed and furnished to the hospital.

Auto Damaged In Fire Here

Fire caused considerable damage to the 1963 Model Oldsmobile of Ellis Sims of Bronte at 6:47 p.m. Saturday. Firemen said the blaze occured at Thirtieth Street and Avenue M.

City firemen also answered a call to the Paymaster Gin at 3:50 a.m. Sunday when a bale of cotton caught fire.

Laurence Harvey Dies Of Cancer

LONDON (AP) — British movie star Laurence Harvey died of cancer at his London home Sunday night, friends reported today. He was 45.

The actor with the soft, suave manner had been ill for the past 18 months. Friends called on him repeatedly in recent weeks.

Harvey was married for the third time at the end of last year. His bride was fashion model Paulene Stone, mother of his 3-year-old daughter Domino.

The marriage was at Beverly Hills, Calif.

Harvey's previous wives were American millionairess Joan Cohn and British actress Margaret Leighton. Both marriages ended in divorce.

Harvey never attained the highest ranks of international stardom but his performances in such movies as "Room at the Top," "The Manchurian Candidate" and "Darling" established him in the United States as well as this country.

His bride of less than a year tended the Lithuanian-born actor during months of illness at his elegant London home.

Harvey, born Larushka Mischa Skikne, underwent surgery and cobalt ray treatment in Los Angeles last May.

During the last months at home Harvey worked on a script for a film he wanted to start shooting early next year. Among the recent stream of callers were Elizabeth Taylor, Rex Harrison and one of his closest friends, playwright Wolf Mankowitz.

Friends said Harvey will be cremated at a private ceremony in Golders Green, London, on Wednesday.

Harvey, a chain smoker, always tried to live like a jet set star with stylish clothes, a big-spending manner and a fund of showbiz anecdotes.

On the screen he was more effective in roles that gave him the chance to exude quiet, well-bred menace.

Opera Premieres

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "The Truth about Windmills," a chamber opera composed by Alec Wilder to a libretto by Arnold Sundgaard, had its premiere here. It was a benefit performance for the Preparatory Department of the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music.

Proceeds will establish the Alec Wilder Scholarship Fund for the teaching of precollege youngsters. Wilder, a native of Rochester, has an affinity for children. Among his many works for them is "The Children's Plea for Peace," composed in 1968.

OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Hal Tucker Sr., 2802½ Thirty-seventh Street, were honored at a dinner Saturday evening in observance of their 60th wedding anniversary. They were married on Nov. 6, 1913, at San Antonio, but the 60th anniversary observance was delayed until Saturday, so that out-of-town relatives could attend. He is a native of Upshur County and she is a native of Paint Rock. They have two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Fellows of Laguna Miguel, Calif., and Mrs. W.D. McNair of Snyder; a son, Hal Tucker Jr. of Washington, D.C.; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Following their marriage, they made their first home in Dallas and later lived in Houston before returning to San Antonio where they lived 50 years before moving to Snyder in 1970.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON

Weed control experts have been told that the effect from certain combinations of weed killers becomes 10-20 times greater than when such chemicals are applied individually. And the required dosage in such a mixture is many times smaller.

Scientists call this harnessing "synergistic response" and report that it could minimize the danger of soil pollution and chemical residue buildup in crops. Cornell University researchers who worked out the combinations say the method requires only ounces of two or more weed killers (herbicides) in one gallon of fruit spray oil per acre to control a wide range of pests in corn.

Two chemicals, including atrazine, were used in fruit spray oil, a reportedly harmless petroleum product used widely for insect control on apple and citrus fruits. Chemicals successfully tested in combinations included the herbicides Lasso, diphenamid, nitralin, 2,4-D and trifluralin and new herbicides.

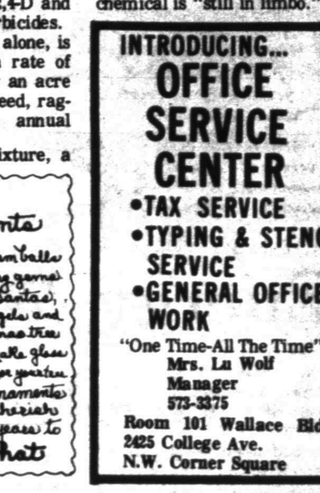

Atrazine, when used alone, is normally applied at a rate of two to four pounds for an acre of corn to control pigweed, ragweed and mustard, annual broadleaved weeds.

With the Cornell mixture, a variety of annual grasses spch as foxtail, crabgrass and barnyard were controlled effectively, whereas they are much more difficult to control with atrazine alone.

"The results were almost unbelievably good," and Prof. Robert D. Sweet. "What's really sensational is that these combinations greatly reduce the amount of chemicals required and yet they wield far greater weedkilling power. Therefore the finding is a nice answer to the danger of soil pollution and chemical residues in crops resulting from heavy use of herbicides."

Sweet says the new technique may revolutionize the principles of herbicide usage. He tried hundreds of different chemical combinations.

The recipe cannot be recommended right away, Sweet explains, because while the federal government clears individual herbicides, its attitude toward mixtures of more than one chemical is "still in limbo."

AND DIOGENES THOUGHT HE HAD A JOB!

Energy Worried Public Overlooked Living Hike

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The only relief from one economic problem appears to be the distraction of a newer one. Because of their concern about energy, that is, a lot of people overlooked still another rise in living costs.

More accurately, they overlooked the government report on rising prices which came on schedule and contained no surprises, even though the timing, on the day before Thanksgiving, might have been inappropriate.

The over-all rise of 9.6 per cent was noteworthy in itself, but of even greater interest and concern was the realization that it represented a sharp acceleration from the 3.6 per cent rise in September.

Food prices rose, although only moderately, and some components of the food index, such as red meat, poultry and eggs, actually declined, which comes as no news to shoppers who are now more price conscious than ever.

But a new factor, the price of energy, introduced itself as a powerful inflation factor and will, in all liklihood, pace future increases in the cost of living. It's impact could be far greater than that of food.

While a 3 per cent increase in gasoline and a 5.7 per cent rise in heating oil-coal are large in themselves, they in turn can ignite explosive increases in other areas of the economy. All industries are energy-dependent.

As energy prices rise, therefore, they can spark increases in such varied segments of the consumer economy as food, transportation and housing, to name only those most basic to the human condition.

Producers everywhere will find their costs of business higher and will try to pass them on in higher prices. It will cost more to heat and illuminate plants, run the machines and deliver the products.

The energy shortage will produce strains elsewhere too. The Cost of Living Council, to illustrate, is seeking to remove price controls — to get the government out of the market — at the very time the situation is becoming incendiary.

More realistically, the council will be needed more than ever, not so much to keep prices down, which it has been unable to do, but to bring order to the avalanche of price pressure that is almost certainly coming.

Costs Billions To Use Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's tab for processing checks and using money runs about $10 billion a year.

Since the mid-1960s, the number of checks processed has jumped from 16 to 23 billion and the amount of currency in the economy has grown nearly $20 billion, the American Bankers Assn. says.

It takes 10 "hands on" steps to process the average check and the processing costs about 16 cents a check. By 1980, total check volume is expected to top 40 billion.

More than 72 per cent of all checks handled are written for less than $100 and represent 2 per cent of total dollar volume. Five per cent of all checks handled are written for more than $1,000 and account for 92 per cent of all dollar volume.

Liz Taylor To Undergo Tests

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor is scheduled to undergo three days of tests at UCLA Medical Center to determine whether she needs exploratory abdominal surgery, her press agent says.

The 41-year-old actress, who is reported to have complained of severe stomach cramps, was scheduled to be admitted today, the press agent said.

Junior Editors' Quiz on JOAN OF ARC

QUESTION: Who was Joan of Arc?

* * *

ANSWER: Joan of Arc, or Jeanne D'Arc, the great heroine of France, known historically as the Maid of Orleans, lived from 1412 to 1431. In her short life span, she did much to unify France and strengthen the monarchy. France at this time was engaged in the Hundred Years War with England. The struggle revolved around the attempt of the English Kings to seize the throne of France. Joan, a simple peasant girl of great religious conviction, aroused the national spirit of the French and led the French troops to victory at Orleans in 1429. The French claimant to the throne, King Charles VII, was crowned through her leadership.

After the crowning of Charles, Joan wished to return to her home, but was urged to continue as leader of the troops. She was captured by the Burgundians, turned over to the English, imprisoned and finally tried as a witch and heretic. She was burned at the stake and her ashes were thrown in the Seine. In 1920 she was canonized as a saint by Pope Benedict XV. She was loved by the French and considered a martyr.

Guide To Check Your Standing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the surest ways to oblivion in this country is to fail to check your image regularly.

If your prestige slips, you drown — at least socially. Therefore it is better to keep your best foot forward at all times.

How can a man be sure of how he rates? By taking stock of himself at regular intervals.

For example, you have no need whatever to worry about your standing if —

Every national bank in town closes to celebrate your birthday.

Howard Hughes phones to ask you to tide him over on the weekends when he runs a little short of cash.

Everybody wonders when your name will come up in the Watergate hearing.

Aristotle Onassis has named a new ship in your honor — and naturally it's a supertanker.

You may go to church only one Sunday out of four, but on the Sabbaths when you are absent, no other member of the congregation would dare to sit in your usual pew. Anyway, the ushers wouldn't let him.

You have the only gold key to your mistress's apartment. All the keys she gave to other guys are made of brass.

The energy crisis doesn't worry you, because your assistant was thoughtful enough last spring to have a five-year supply of both gasoline and heating oil stored in the private tanks on your country estate.

Your wife had a hard time delivering your son and heir, because the kid was born with two gold spoons in his mouth.

Yes, there's no doubt that a man in your situation is up to his armpits in clover. But what about the unfortunate guy who doesn't have it made? How can he be sure of that?

Well, you probably should begin to suspect you're on the skids if —

Neither, you nor your dog knows where your next meal is coming from.

Your pastor makes you turn your pockets inside out before and after helping take up the Sunday church collection.

It has been two months since you had enough garbage to go to the bother of taking it out.

You can't play a game of golf until you first walk around the course and find a lost ball.

The jailer at the town drunk tank saves a cell for you every Friday night.

All you inherited from your father was a good name — but that's more than you'll leave your own son.

Your credit rating is so bad that the hardware store won't even advance you enough rope to hang yourself.

On your birthdays all the neighbors feel so sorry for your mother they send her get-well cards.

Citizen Crusade Against Fed Corruption Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal crime commission today appealed for a citizen crusade against government corruption and the street crime it promotes.

"The system of criminal justice will break down unless citizens come forward as complainants, as witnesses, and as jury members to participate actively in the prosecution of official corruption," said the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals.

The tools of reform "can be effective only if the public is determined to rid the nation of governmental corruption," the commission said in the sixth and final report prepared during a two-year study financed with a $1.75 million grant from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The 364-page report was based on the work of a task force headed by Jack Michie, director of the Michigan Division of Vocational Education.

Enlisting citizen participation in a broad range of anticrime efforts, the commission encouraged such projects as prison counseling, youth recreation, and drug treatment centers.

It also said teachers must abandon arbitrary discipline and practice justice in the classroom if children are to learn respect for democratic procedures.

But much of the report concerned the corruption tainting many state and local governments.

Acknowledging the absence of accurate measurements of the pervasiveness of corruption, the commission said even the cases already disclosed are alarmingly numerous.

Further, the report said, "Official corruption breeds disrespect for the law ... As long as official corruption exists, the war against crime will be perceived by many as a war of the powerful against the powerless."

The commission urged citizens to band together and demand such reforms as these:

—Ethics codes for state officials, enforced by a state-appointed board of private citizens with power to conduct investigations, subpoena witnesses and evidence, and conduct public hearings.

—Legislative limits on political campaign spending and a ban on political contributions from individuals who do business with the state.

—State laws at least as strong as the 1971 Federal Election Campaign Act which requires regular public reports of the money received and spent by candidates and campaign committees.

—Laws requiring public officials to disclose their personal and financial interests.

—Creation of central purchasing agencies staffed with well-paid professionals as a move to combat bribery in the awarding of state contracts.

—Tighter regulations on zoning, tax assessment and government licensing so public officials will have little room to exercise their own discretion and perhaps succumb to illegal payoffs.

Arrest Two After Bank Robbery

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Two members of the Black Liberation Army sought in California and Louisiana were arrested after a bank robbery here, the Douglas County sheriff's office has reported.

Deputies identified them as Ray Michael Boudreaux, 30, of Beaumont, Tex., and Henry Watson Jones, 35, of New Albany, Miss.

Boudreaux and Jones have been sought for almost two years in connection with a raid on a San Francisco jail, a sheriff's office spokesman said.

Boudreaux was being held in the jail on charges of robbing a supermarket and in connection, with the deaths of several policemen when a group of blacks entered the jail, killed the desk sergeant and freed him, the spokesman said.

The men also were being sought by Louisiana authorities on charges of bank robbery and murder.

The spokesman said the two men were arrested a few minutes after a holdup Friday of the Southern Federal Savings and Loan Association.

He said an alert issued for the two by Sheriff Ron Cain was heard by Sgt. Tommy Latham and Detective C. L. Goodwin, who were driving on Interstate 20 toward Atlanta. Seconds later they spotted two men walking in a drainage ditch.

"They were trying to get away over a fence into some woods," Goodwin said. "But when we got out with shotguns and identified ourselves as police officers, they put their hands up and surrendered without resistance."

Officers said neither of the men would identify himself. Their identities were learned over the weekend during checks with FBI files.

Kennedy Ahead

PRINCETON, N.J. — The Gallup Poll says its latest survey of Democrats puts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts far ahead of other possible contenders for the party's 1976 presidential nomination.

The poll indicated that Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine were the next leading choices, though far behind Kennedy.

In the Nov. 2-5 survey, 627 adults who identified themselves as Democrats were asked the following:

"Here is a list of people who have been mentioned as possible presidential candidates for the Democractic party in 1976. Which one would you like to see nominated as the Democratic candidate for president in 1976?"

Kennedy was the choice of 41 per cent of those surveyed. Wallace had 15 per cent, and Muskie had nine per cent

Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington were tied with six per cent. None of the other six potential candidates had more than four per cent.

The polling organization noted that a survey this fall indicated Kennedy would defeat Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California by 30 per cent to 43 per cent in a presidential election. Reagan was the top choice of Republicans in a Gallup survey on the 1976 GOP nomination.

Questions, Answers On Nixon's Energy Action

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced on Sunday night a series of steps intended to cope with this winter's energy crisis.

Here are some of the questions consumers might be asking as a result of the President's action, and the answers based on information from the White House and other administration officials:

Q. What did the President do?

A. The main points he announced are a movement toward banning Sunday sales of gasoline coupled with a mandatory allocation program for gasoline at wholesale and retail levels, an extension of the mandatory allocation system for middle distillate fuels — including home heating oil — to the end user, and a reduction in jet fuel available for airlines. He also said he would impose a 50 mile-per-hour speed limit for cars and a 55 mph limit for buses and trucks, if Congress gives him the authority.

Q. How would the Sunday gasoline sales ban work?

A. The President is asking service stations to halt Sunday sales voluntarily beginning Dec. 1. The ban would become mandatory after Nixon receives legislation pending before Congress. All retail gasoline sales would be banned from 9 p.m. Saturday to 12:01 a.m. Monday. This applies to cars, trucks, pleasure boats, private aircraft and recreational vehicles. Service stations could remain open on Sunday, but they could not sell gasoline. The idea, officials said, is to prevent long weekend journeys while allowing people to use their cars when necessary on Sundays.

Q. What about the allocation program for heating oil?

A. The program will reduce the amounts of heating oil available for residential heating by 15 per cent, for commercial heating by 25 per cent and for industrial uses by 10 per cent.

The regulations will be effective on Jan. 1, but officials said voluntary compliance is expected sooner. Enforcement will be handled by state-level committees and by the Interior Department's Office of Oil and Gas.

Q. How would a householder know what to expect and what to do, if his home is heated by oil?

A. Detailed regulations should spell it out, but it looks like a simple 15 per cent reduction from last year's supplies for the home owner. If you know how much fuel you used last winter, subtracting 15 per cent should tell you about how much you can expect to get this winter. The President said that much oil could be saved by lowering thermostat settings about six degrees.

Q. Will homes heated by natural gas or electricity be affected?

A. Not officially, but the government is urging these consumers to turn down their thermostats to 68 degrees or less to avoid severe shortages. No formal controls are being applied because of the difficulty in regulating how much electricity or natural gas goes to each home or business.

Q. But aren't some uses of electricity being banned?

A. Yes. The President said when he gets congressional authority he will ban all window display lights, billboards and all exterior and interior ornamental lighting by commercial establishments, as well as residential gas and electric yard lights, outside Christmas lights and other decorative lights. Business firms will be allowed to have lighted outdoor signs during the hours they are open. Voluntary compliance was urged until the legislation is signed into law.

Q. What about the new speed limits?

A. When the President gets the legislation, he said he would set a 50 mile-per-hour speed limit on all roads and highways under his control, and is urging states to do the same. The speed limit for intercity buses and for "heavy-duty, over-the-road trucks" would be set at 55 miles per hour.

Q. Will there be a cutback in airline flights?

A. Yes, since domestic airlines will face a 5 per cent cutback in fuel allocations effective Dec. 1 and a 15 per cent cutback starting Jan. 7. Thus, airlines will be forced to cut back on flights, although specific details weren't available immediately.

Q. Will the Sunday gasoline ban bar long weekend trips?

A. Not if you have enough gasoline to drive where you are going and back. There also is the alternative of taking the bus or train. Public transportation generally has its own supply depots and will have a priority on diesel fuel. But buses or trains may be more crowded because of the cutback in fuel for airplanes.

Highlights On Energy Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, at a glance, are the highlights of actions announced or proposed Sunday by President Nixon to cope with the nation's energy crisis:

HOME HEATING OIL — Home heating oil will be rationed beginning Jan. 1. Deliveries to residences will be cut 15 per cent, to commercial establishments 25 per cent and to industries 10 per cent.

SERVICE STATIONS — Beginning Dec. 1, the President asked service stations to stop selling gasoline between 9 p.m. Saturdays and 12:01 a.m. Mondays. He said this will be made mandatory when he is given authority by Congress. Gasoline deliveries to wholesale and retail dealers will be cut by 15 per cent.

JET FUELS — Jet fuel allocations to airlines will be cut five per cent to domestic lines on Dec. 1, while international lines will be held to 1972 levels; on Jan. 7 fuel allocations to all airlines will be cut 15 per cent below 1972 levels. Fuel for private aviation will also be cu when Congress gives him authority.

SPEED LIMITS — Nixon said that when he is given authority by Congress he will impose nationwide speed limits of 50 miles per hour for automobiles and 55 for trucks and buses.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTING — Nixon said he will ban residential ornamental lighting and unnecessary commercial lighting, with congressional approval.

Greek Military Rulers Control

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's new military rulers pulled most tanks and extra troops out of Athens today, indicating firm control of the country, and began removing pictures of ousted President George Papadopoulos from public buildings.

The ousted strongman who as an army colonel engineered the 1967 military takeover was reported under house arrest at his seaside home near Athens. He was deposed Sunday by a group of conservative generals in a bloodless coup.

No disturbances were reported anywhere in the country; activity in Athens today was normal, and the traffic was heavy as usual.

In one of his first official acts, the new president, Lt. Gen. Phaedon Gizikis, freed three former politicians who had been put under house arrest last week in the wake of the student uprising in which 13 persons were killed.

The three — ex-Premier Panayotis Canellopoulos and former ministers John Zighdis and George Mavros — had expressed support for the students demanding the overthrow of Papadopoulos.

Despite this overture to the foes of military rule, the new regime indicated it was junking Papadopoulos' promise of a return to limited parliamentary government next year. The generals said they could not stand by while the country was being "dragged into an electoral adventure" and was threatened by "anarchy, chaos and vandalism," an apparent reference to the student uprising.

Gizikis, who commanded the 1st Army, and his associates moved swiftly against those considered loyal to Papadopoulos.

They ousted the commander-in-chief of the armed forces, Gen. Dimitrios Zagorianakos; the army chief, Lt. Gen. Michael Mastrandonis; the air force commander, Air Vice Marshal Thomas Mitsanas; the Athens police chief, Nicholas Daskalopoulos, and Premier Spyros Markezinis and his cabinet.

The navy chief, Rear Adm. Petros Arapakis, was the only service chief to escape the purge.

The new regime was also reported purging the hierarchy of the vast state police network that Papadopoulos built up in the seven years after his colonels' junta overthrew Greece's last parliamentary government.

Adamantios Androutsopoulos, who had been finance minister, was named premier. He heads a cabinet of retired generals, a retired admiral and conservative politicians.

Gizikis, who is in his mid-50s, is described as a rightist, a staunch supporter of Greece's membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and a friend of ex-King Constantine. But there was no indication that the new president would reverse Papadopoulos' abolition of the monarchy last June.

Some observers expressed belief that Gizikis is not the real power in the new government. There was speculation that the architect of the coup and the new strongman is Dimitrios Ioannidis, the military police chief.

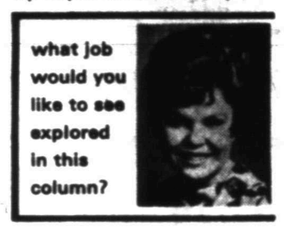

Some sources said Papadopoulos had tried unsuccessfully to ease Ioannidis out. Ioannidis was also said to have been infuriated when Papadopoulos waited for four days before moving to put down the student uprising.

Women Behind The Badge

Career Corner

by Joyce Lain Kennedy

Dear Joyce: I am writing a career report for school and having an impossible time finding out about policewomen who do the same work as policemen. Any information would be appreciated. — G.S., Kansas City, Mo

Most police departments still restrict women to such jobs as juvenile officer, matron or secretary. But about 100 police agencies in the U.S. have some kind of program which slots women in the same jobs as men, according to Assistant Director Catherine Milton of the Police Foundation, a nonprofit organization that aids police agencies implement promising new programs.

THE BIGGEST PROGRAM is operating in Washington, D.C., where roughly 100 policewomen are working on patrol and traffic assignments. It started in spring of last year. The program includes a comparative performance study of 80 rookie policemen with 80 female recruits who started at the same time. (The other some 20 women officers were reassigned from inside jobs.)

A PRELIMINARY REPORT has been published by another nonprofit group, the Urban Institute, and charts the first 4 months (A single free copy of the Urban Institute report, "Policewomen on Patrol," is available to interested readers; send your request to me on a postcard at this newspaper.) A follow-up and final study is due from the Urban Institute early next year.

AMONG FINDINGS in the preliminary report on the program in the Nation's Capital:

• All entrance requirements - except weight - are the same for women as men. (In many police agencies, women applicants are required to have a college degree while men are accepted with only a high school diploma.)

• No special beats, designations, or other special considerations are given to patrolwomen. In early program stages, officials were fudging on equal assignments, giving women a heavier share of station duty.

• Attitude surveys (anonymous opinions) showed patrolmen had gloomy feelings about patrolwomen before the program started. About half thought their wives would object to their having a female patrol partner, and over half thought women would get favored treatment. Negative attitudes persisted after women were put on patrol. About half said women shouldn't be on patrol work. But opinions varied greatly by race and age -- blacks and younger patrolmen were more favorable toward policewomen. About 82 percent of the patrolwomen themselves felt that women belong on the regular patrol force.

• More negative points expressed by patrolmen and officials is the belief that men are more calm, cool, courageous, persuasive, strong, decisive, aggressive, observant and emotionally stable. Also, that women can't drive as well. (In actual practice, the rookie patrolmen had 6 car accidents and the rookie patrolwomen had none.)

• Positive points felt by patrolmen and officials is the belief that women are more understanding, compassionate and intelligent.

• Community reaction to the use of patrolwomen is good. Researchers polling at random said more than two-thirds of the people are either neutral or approved having women on patrol.

• In an evaluation of the rookies, commanders rated women as equal to men in some skills (ability to deal with the public, to handle an accident, and to make a crime report), and only slightly less competent than men in general patrol skills. But women were scored less well on their ability to handle disorderly males, public fights and other violent situations. The lowest rating the women got was on their ability to protect a partner from violence.

THE WOMAN motorcycle cop or patrol car officer frisking a suspect for weapons is still a novelty, but may well be a common sight in years ahead.

Climber Found Frozen

MENDOZA, Argentina (AP) — The frozen body of a Houston, Tex., mountain climber remained on Mt. Aconcagua, highest peak in the Western Hemisphere, today awaiting police to examine it and make a report.

John Cooper, 35, and Jeannette Johnson died nine months ago as they attempted to scale the 23,080-foot peak. Both were on an expedition organized by an American mountaineering club.

The body of Cooper, an engineer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was found at an altitude of 18,000 feet by a group of Argentine climbers.

The woman's body has not been found.

The chest of Cooper was pierced by "a deep cylindrical wound which had bled profusely," said Miguel Alfonso, leader of the Argentine climbers.

The Argentine climber, whose group left Cooper's body at the 9,000-foot mark for police, theorized that the American might have fallen on a spike that came off his shoe when he slipped.

William Zeller, a member of the U.S. expedition, told police after the accident occurred that Cooper's body last was seen on its knees in almost a praying position.

The Argentines said they found the body stretched out on its side with one hand clutched to the chest wound.

Denver Leads In West

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That is not a mistake in the National Football League standings. The Denver Broncos really are in first place.

The Broncos, accustomed to less glamorous surroundings, climbed to the top of the American Football Conference West Division Sunday by beating Kansas City 14-10. Denver turned the trick on a pair of touchdown passes 81 seconds apart from Charley Johnson to Haven Moses.

That moved the Broncos one-half game ahead of both Kansas City and Oakland, who are tied for second place. The Raiders moved into that deadlock with a 31-3 romp over San Diego.

Elsewhere, Cleveland closed to within one-half game of Pittsburgh at the top of the AFC Central Division, beating the Steelers 21-16. In the same race, Cincinnati moved only one game behind, defeating St. Louis 42-24.

In other games, Los Angeles defeated New Orleans 24-13, staying one game ahead of the Atlanta Falcons in the NFC West. The Falcons whipped the New York Jets 28-20. Minnesota belted Chicago 31-13, Buffalo downed Baltimore 24-17, New England shut out Houston 32-0, and Philadelphia topped the New York Giants 20-16.

In last Thursday's holiday games, Washington shut out Detroit 20-0 and Miami beat Dallas 14-7.

Green Bay's nationally televised game at San Francisco tonight completes the NFL's 11th week of action.

Broncos 14, Chiefs 10

Even losing Coach Hank Stram couldn't feel too badly about losing to the resurgent Broncos, who have become winners for the first time in the franchise's history.

"I'm almost glad to see this franchise come along," said Stram, after his Chiefs bowed to the Broncos 14-10. "They've worked so hard and their fans have been so loyal over all these losing seasons."

Stram's Chiefs blanked the Broncos for most of the game. But Johnson's scoring pitches of 18 and 40 yards to Moses in the final two minutes of the first half proved decisive.

Browns 21, Steelers 16

Greg Pruitt's 19-yard TD run with 61 seconds left, turned around Cleveland's game against Pittsburgh and gave the Browns their 21-16 decision. Moments earlier, he had caught a 42-yard pass from Mike Phipps to set up the winning score.

Vikings 31, Bears 13

Minnesota's NFC Central Division champions mauled Chicago 31-13 in a game they dedicated to longtime Viking defensive back Karl Kassulke, who was paralyzed in a preseason motorcycle accident.

Kassulke, confined to a wheelchair, made his first public appearance since the accident, shaking hands with the players during halftime ceremonies.

Bengals 42, Cardinals 24

Ken Anderson pitched three touchdown passes, leading Cincinnati to its 42-24 victory over St. Louis. It was the Bengals' best scoring show of the season. Even though it came against the league's poorest defense, Anderson was glad to see it. "We finally got our offense untracked," the quarterback said.

Raiders 31, Chargers 3

George Atkinson returned an early recovered fumble 59 yards for a touchdown and Ken Stabler passed for two more Oakland scores in the Raiders' 31-3 romp over San Diego.

Rams 24, Saints 13

Los Angeles maintained its one-game lead in the NFC West by coming from behind to overtake New Orleans. John Hadl threw two TD passes for the Rams, the second one putting LA in front to stay late in the third period.

Falcons 28, Jets 20

Bob Lee passed for two touchdowns and Eddie Ray ran for two more, giving Atlanta its 28-20 victory over the Jets and keeping the Falcons one game back of Los Angeles.

Bills 24, Colts 17

Buffalo came from behind with a pair of touchdowns 23 seconds apart in the final 71 seconds of the game to defeat Baltimore 24-17. Dwight Harrison returned an interception 31 yards for the deciding score.

O.J. Simpson, zeroing in on Jim Brown's alltime single season rushing record of 1,863 yards, gained 124 in 15 carries. That pushed his season total to 1,448 yards, 416 short of Brown with three games to play.

Patriots 32, Oilers 0

Jim Plunkett passed for a pair of touchdowns and New England wiped out Houston 32-0. Plunkett moved the Patriots to a 24-0 halftime lead and they coasted after that. He gained 175 yards passing before leaving the game. Houston, meanwhile, managed only 184 total yards.

Eagles 20, Giants 16

Philadelphia's Tom Sullivan churned out 155 yards in a ground-oriented attack that carried the Eagles to their 20-16 victory over the New York Giants.

49ers, Packers Meet Tonight

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Green Bay Packers and San Francisco 49ers, two teams with momentum in the wrong direction, meet in tonight's nationally televised National Football League game.

"We have to get that consistency back," says 49ers Coach Dick Nolan, referring to the winning ways which carried his team to three straight National Football Conference West titles.

The San Franciscans currently are 3-7, and four straight losses have put them out of playoff contention. They have never won a Monday night game, losing 26-16 to Los Angeles last year and 26-17 to Kansas City in 1971.

"The Pack is Back," slogan of Green Bay fans became a reality last season, with a 10-4 record and NFC Central title. But Coach Dan Devine's team is 3-5-2 now, with just one victory in its last six games.

"We've had so many things go wrong," Devine said after last week's 33-24 loss to New England. "Now is the time we'll get a test of people to see if they have football character."

The Packers' offense still depends heavily on the rushing attack led by John Brockington. The former Ohio State star, shooting for a third straight 1,000-yard season, has 715 yards this season but was held to 35 on 16 carries last week.

MacArthur Lane, the other regular running back, missed the New England game because of a sprained knee but may start tonight.

Jimmy Thomas, although not starting, is averaging 5.9 yards with 234 yards on 39 carries. He is one of the 49ers Nolan is looking at closely, with next year in mind.

Another is quarterback Joe Reed, a two-year taxi squad member who will be making his third straight start tonight. The opposing quarterback will be second-year pro Jerry Tagge of Green Bay.

Playoff Tilt Slated Here

Rankin, champion of District 6A, and Holliday, champion of District 7A, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Tiger Stadium in a regional football playoff game.

Last week, Rankin defeated Plains 16-14 and Holliday bested Albany 27-9 in bi-district action.

NAIA Title Game Set

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Huntington, W. Va., will be the scene of the Division II championship football game of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Saturday and will match Northwestern College of Orange City, Iowa, and Glenville, W. Va., State.

Northwestern reached the finals last Saturday by routing William Jewell College of Missouri 28-2, and Glenville advanced by downing Carthage of Wisconsin 14-7.

HONG KONG (AP) — Peter White of Britain took first place in the 18th international 505 class world yachting championships, beating out Dennis Surtees of the United States.

White, with John Davies serving as his crew, captured the event with 48.7 adverse points after six races. Surtees, a four-time North America champion, was assisted by Steve Owen and picked up 54.4 demerits.

Yves Pajot of France was third with 54.7.

Jeff Brauch was the only other U.S. yachtsman in the top 10, finishing seventh.

Raiders Finish Second

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oh, how Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen yearns for September and just one more crack at the Southwest Conference football champion Texas Longhorns.

Asked to summarize the season Saturday after a 24-17 victory over Arkansas to give the Red Raiders second place and a 10-1 season, Carlen said: "I'd like to play Texas again."

But he quickly added "But then again I guess Darrell (Royal) would like to play Oklahoma and Frank (Broyles) would like to play teams which beat him.

"I was hoping we could be undefeated at the beginning of the year, but I'm like that every year. That's one reason I don't make predictions ... I want to win them all."

Tech finished just where the pre-season experts said they would—second behind powerful Texas which will play Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

However, before the experts get all puffed up, it would be best to glance at the ledger of the Rice Owls before they host Baylor Saturday in Rice Stadium.

The Owls, should they defeat Baylor, would finished third—no small feat by Coach Al Conover's men. Rice was generally picked to finish last or next to last.

Rice downed Texas Christian 14-9 Saturday at Amon Carter Stadium. The game was the last home contest for TCU Coach Billy Tohill who has been fired effective this Saturday. Lightning struck the stadium and held up play for 10 minutes. No one was injured. Carl Swierc provided Rice's own brand of lightning with a 99-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

The game ended with Rice on TCU's one-yard line and Conover hoping his team wouldn't score.

"I really didn't want to score that last touchdown," Conover said. "Billy is a great friend of mine ... we had to have the win, but I wouldn't do anything to hurt Billy. I don't see how you can help but like that guy."

If Baylor loses to Rice Saturday, the Bears will finish in the cellar all alone. Southern Methodist ripped Baylor 38-22 Saturday and the Bears are now 0-6 in SWC play.

The big concern at Texas is whether All-America fullback Roosevelt Leaks' injured knee will respond in time for the New Year's clash with Nebraska in what many are dubbing the "Sympathy Bowl" because both teams were clubbed by Oklahoma.

Leaks was at home over the Thanksgiving Holiday with the knee in a cast.

Conover was asked after the TCU game what magic formula the Owls had found to defeat Arkansas, Texas A&M and TCU on consecutive Saturdays.

"We stuck to our plan that beat Arkansas and A&M," Conover said. "We just don't have the personnel to do things fancy. We play conservative and look for the breaks."

Both Carlen and Conover would like to see September all over again.

Eastern Shades WTC In Finals

DENSION—Dallas Eastfield fought off a furious second half rally by Western Texas College here Saturday night to claim a narrow 72-71 decision and win the championship of the Grayson County Basketball Tournament.

Western fell behind by 19 points with 8:40 to go in the first half. Dallas managed to take the big lead with some hot shooting. However, WTC began to press man-to-man and rallied in the last part of the first half and during the second half. They actually took the lead, 53-50, with 9½ minutes remaining. The lead then changed hands several times. Eastern got a 3 point lead with 20 seconds left, but Danny McDaniel, who led WTC scorers with 29 points, stole the ball and went in for a layup to cut the margin to one point. Eastern threw the ball away with one second left. WTC threw it inbounds to McDaniel who got off a 30-foot desperation shot at the buzzer, but it was short.

Only one other Westerner, Eugene Harris, was in double figures. He scored 11 points. WTC had its worst game of the season from a shooting standpoint, hitting only 30 of 78 from the floor for 38 per cent.

Eastern had only eight field goals in the second half, but they managed to beat WTC at the line. Eastern had only 27 field goals for the game.

James Campbell led Eastern with 32 points. Richard Koonce put in 17 points, and Jon Boyd hit for 15.

Rebounds were about even in the first half, but Western had a decisive edge in the second half. Eugene Harris led in this department with 11.

Coach Mike Mitchell of WTC said:

"We didn't reach the emotional peak prior to the game that we had the first two nights. It's hard to get up three nights in a row. They came out with a hot hand shooting, and we fell behind by 10 early in the game. We lost our poise a little bit, but we battled back well in the 1st six or seven minutes of the first half and in the second half. There was just too many combinations of things to overcome.

WTC hosts Angelo State junior varsity at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the WTC gym. Coach Mitchell said he was undecided about a starting lineup.

WTC now is 5-1 for the season.

"ELECTRICITY WILL BE COSTLIER." LIFE MAGAZINE

"A 50% INCREASE IN RATES OVER THE NEXT 5 YEARS BECOMES A REAL POSSIBILITY." David Freeman, White House Advisor on Energy Policy

"By the year 2000 we will require 8.5 trillion kilowatt hours of electricity per year." LIFE MAGAZINE

"IF WE CONSUME MORE ELECTRICITY WE ARE OBLIGATED TO MAKE IT AS NON POLLUTING AS POSSIBLE." "IN 1940 IT COST $700 PER MILE TO BUILD ELECTRIC LINES. TODAY IT COSTS $3500 PER MILE." Business Week

"70% OF U.S. POPULATION PAID MORE FOR ELECTRICITY LAST YEAR THAN YEAR BEFORE." Report released by Federal Power Commission in 1973 covering power costs survey of 1970.

"Looking at future costs for environmental controls, higher construction costs and higher financing rates, I can't see anything which will lower the cost of electricity to the consumer in the future." Jacob Haugaard, president of Utah-Idaho Power Association (UPA)

"Kilowatt hour consumption has increased by 16 times since 1940." Donald C. Cook, chairman American Electric Power

"THE DAYS WHEN THINGS WERE EASY IN THIS INDUSTRY...ARE GONE FOREVER."

Regardless of what the future holds, you can be sure that power from the electric cooperative will always be a bargain buy.
