MORRISON SHOOTING IS DESCRIBED

Fighting Breaks Out In New Orleans Car Strike Flare-Up

CITY COUNCIL ROOM RUSHED BY HUGE MOB

ACTING MAYOR OBJECT OF ATTACK; POLICE QUELL TROUBLE

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13 —Open fighting broke out in the city council chamber this morning when a union labor committee presented to the body a petition signed by thousands asking that the ordinance placing a ban on jitneys in the street car strike be revoked.

The fight started over remarks made to a policeman who directed tear bombs at a mob that stoned street cars last night near a mass meeting of union sympathizers.

Fire Several Shots

After the mob had been quelled fires continued to mill about the corridors, and several hundred who collected on the outside attempted a second storming of the building but were driven off by police with tear bombs.

The victims were Irwin Durvery, 15, shot in the foot, and Dan Young, 50, striking motorman, hit in the body but not believed seriously hurt. They were carried to a hospital.

None of the commissioners was seriously hurt.

Would Consider Plea

Acting Mayor Walmsley as spokesman for the council, told the dele-

MORE RAINS FALL IN AREA

CROPS BELIEVED GIVEN BENEFIT; TOWNS REPORT FALL

Following Sunday's precipitations, rains spotted the South Plains area in varying degrees Monday, reports last night indicating the moisture was hardly of sufficient extent to be of considerable benefit to crops.

New Mexico reports indicated heavy falls in practically the whole eastern section. From Clovis to Albuquerque roads are said to be in bad condition while that section from Clovis to Sudan received ample moisture. Showers continued from Sudan all the way to Lubbock.

Floydada Has Half Inch

Floydada reported one-half inch of rain Monday. Southland, Slaton, Tulia, Amarillo, Happy, Plainview, Childress, Levelland and Clovis reported beneficial rains during Sunday and Monday.

Covering a section which badly needed moisture, a precipitation of one inch fell in the northern, western and southern parts of Lynn county. Only a light shower fell at Tahoka, the county seat.

RACKETS GAIN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug 13 (AP)—The bomb and the racket, twin terrors to small merchants and tradesmen, have shown a sharp gain this year over last, the employers' association has found out.

Rackets cost the city $186,000,000 in 1928, according to computations by Joseph Neilsen, assistant secretary of the association. This represents an average cost of $36 for every man, woman and child in Chicago. Figures for 1929 indicate the final total for the year will be even higher.

The bomb, which serves racketeers as a lash to whip racket victims into line, is more dangerous than the bomb of a year ago The average damage of each bomb in 1928 was $1,214. The 71st bomb of 1929 was thrown Sunday night, 46 days earlier than bomb No. 71 was set off last year.

The employers' association has catalogued 94 organized rackets now operating in Chicago.

IN SPOTLIGHT

The eyes of the world are focused on Philip Snowden, below, British chancellor of the exchequer, who has refused to accept for Great Britain the terms of the Owen D. Young Reparations settlement. A Labor member, he draws more respect and support from members of other parties than any other official in English history.

GIRLS STILL IN CRITICAL CONDITIONS

KELLY GIRL REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS; NEGRO HELD

Condition of Madeline Kelly, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelly, 410 Avenue U, and Winta Stubbs, 13 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Stubbs, 2102 Tenth street, who were critically injured in an automobile collision Sunday, remained unchanged early this afternoon, according to an announcement from the Lubbock sanitarium.

Miss Kelly, most seriously injured of the two, regained consciousness today, but her general condition indicates no improvement, hospital attendants announce.

The Stubbs girl is still unconscious. She sustained a severe blow in the mishap which resulted in concussion of the brain.

Minnie D. Kelly, sister of Madeline, and Iva Lee Bynum, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bynum, 2024 Tenth street, were injured slightly in the accident, which occurred at the intersection of Texas

DEPARTURE OF ZEP DELAYED

DR. ECKENER DECIDES TO DELAY START OF TOUR

(By Associated Press)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 13.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, after a "cabinet meeting" with his chief officers today decided to postpone the start of the Graf Zeppelin for Tokyo on the second lap of its round the world flight until the early morning hours of Thursday.

Weather reports received during the night indicated a low pressure area over Siberia moving eastward more rapidly than had appeared yesterday. With a day's delay there was still hope Dr. Eckener might be able to choose the great circle route west of the Bohemian mountains to Koenigsberg into Russia. Even should this hope be disappointed, and he must, as yesterday seemed inevitable, choose a route along the Danube, the Zeppelin officers are convinced another day's wait will prove advantageous.

Colored Baptists Meet Here Tonight

One hundred members of the clergy and messengers are expected to assemble in Lubbock tonight, beginning at 8:30 o'clock gor the opening of the West Texas District Baptist Association (colored) meeting. Rev. S. H. Winston, pastor of the First Baptist church (colored) of this city announced today.

The meeting will continue through Sunday.

Problems concerning the clergy and educational matters of the church will be discussed at the assembly, Rev. Winston said.

A splendid chorus of 35 voices of the church of which Winston is pastor entertained an audience of 500 persons at the First Baptist church, Broadway, last night.

FIFTY NEIGHBORS DIG HUGE BURIAL PLACE FOR VICTIMS

(By Associated Press)

MESQUITE, Aug. 13. — Attended by many residents of this little Dallas county town, funeral services were held today in the small cemetery near here for Mrs. Iva Badgett and her seven children, who were killed Sunday in one of Texas' worst grade crossing accidents.

After the services, the bodies were placed along side each other in a huge grave, dug by volunteer workers.

Late today the cemetery will be the scene of another similar ceremony, when the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McHenry and their three children, victims of the same crash, will be laid to rest in another grave.

As services were held, the lone survivor of the accident, the small daughter of the McHenrys, lay in a Dallas hospital, suffering a broken leg and other injuries.

The accident that nearly wiped out the two families occurred as the party was returning home from a picnic in a Dallas park. They were within sight of the Badgett home when a fast Texas and Pacific passenger train crashed into their motor truck as McHenry presumably stalled the motor on the track.

SENATOR DEBERRY VISITING IN CITY

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bagota was visiting in Lubbock today enroute to his home from Clovis, where he has been the guest of his brother, Ed DeBerry. A cousin, John Gaines, of Lubbock, and Senator Pink L. Parrish were his hosts here.

"I've got two constituencies," Senator Deberry told The Journal, "One back around home and the other here. I'll bet I can name forty families right around here from my neck of the woods and there are at least ten right here in Lubbock."

Senator DeBerry has been in the legislature for the past eight years. His last visit to Lubbock was made last spring when a group of Senators and Representatives inspected Texas Tech and the state experiment farm in Lubbock.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO MEET FRIDAY

"I want to urge every trustee of every district in Lubbock county to be present at the district trustees meeting Friday at Hurlwood," Miss Mae Murfee, county superintendent of education, announced this morning.

The meeting is scheduled to start at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The feature of the meeting will be an address by L. Hensley of the rural division of the state department of education.

A basket dinner will be spread at noon.

"I am anxious that trustees take cognizance of the importance of this meeting, for we plan to finish up our program for the coming year," said Miss Murfee.

Agents Searching For Opium Source

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Federal narcotic agents were seeking the source and destination today of a ton of raw opium, which they seized in a downtown warehouse.

The opium, valued by its captors at $100,000, wholesale, or $1,000,000 bootleg prices, was confiscated after truck drivers directed the agents to the storage place to which they ha dmoved it.

Two men were taken before United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle for questioning. One of them was released, while the other, Moe Alpert was held for further questioning.

RADIO CASE IS DECIDED

PLAINTIFFS WIN CASE ON INFRINGEMENT OF PATENTS

(By Associated Press)

WILMINGTON, Aug. 13—A judgment said to involve approximately 90 per cent of the country's radio manufacturers and an estimated $20,000,000 in back royalties has been given here by Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris against the Radio Corporation of America.

The judgment, announced yesterday, affects three beneficiaries, Francis W. Dunmore, employed in the bureau of standards, Washington; P. D. Powell, former bureau employe, and Dubilier Condenser Corporation of New York, all appearing plaintiffs.

The decision is the result of a suit brought in 1927 against the Radio Corporation of America, alleging infringement on patents owned by plaintiffs for the manufacture of instruments for radios which eliminated the necessity of storage batteries and made it possible to operate from standard residence lighting systems.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

I have heard it said that the art of conversation is dead. We listen to the radio, play bridge go riding, etc, but how many people can get together and carry on an interesting conversation—so interesting that they keep it up for hours and feel rested and refreshed by it?

It has always been my ambition to invite my friends to what used to be called a conversation — a party given for the express purpose of talking about worthwhile things, like art, literature, philosophy, etc. But it always seems when I ask just the right people something happens — the most important guests can't come, or something. We always have a good time—at least I do—but I realize afterwards that it hasn't been just what I had in mind.

What constitutes conversation, anyway? We all chatter a lot. But do we really TALK? Most women don't talk seriously to their men friends for fear of boring them, and most men think women only like frivolous chatter and being made love to.

However, I've been asked to advise a young girl how to converse with the boys. Here is her letter:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: One problem that is bothering me this summer is how to converse with a group of young gentlemen at a summer resort. I never seem to be able to get the attention or interest of a gentleman. You know it is hard to converse with one about his hobby or his future because a summer resort is a place for gaiety. I am a girl in my teens. A FLAT TIRE."

An ability to chaff or "kid" as the slang goes, is one's best asset in miscellaneous conversation at a summer resort. The heart interest stuff goes over better when you and he are alone together.

Talk about anything, the weather, the tennis, bathing, picnics, moonlight, boating, anything to keep up a light chatter. Or follow the boys' lead and just answer. The chief thing is to forget yourself, and that is always the most difficult when one is young and shy isn't it?

There are a few girls who never seem to have any bother with self-consciousness. They are always poised and sure of themselves. But most of us have to grow up in this respect, so don't get discouraged if it doesn't come easy. You have plenty of company.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a girl 17 years old, am good looking and dress neatly. Everybody compliments me on how nice I always look. Still the boys do not seem to like me. They never ask for a second date. I do not pet. Is that the reason? They treat me as a good pal and lots of them bring their love troubles to me. But I would like to have sweathearts myself. Would thank you so much for advice, because I get so lonely when I see other couples together. LONELY."

It's just a matter of time, Lonely. You'll have plenty of boy friends soon. You've got a good start, and sooner or later they'll wake up and want you for a sweetheart. Some boys might not want to go with you because you won't pet, but the most worthwhile prefer your kind of a girl. Maybe you're a bit too impersonal and don't make enough demands on them. Let it be known that you are open to dates as well as confidences.

ALICE: Your letter puzzled me. You are in love with a man, you say, who has apparently gotten over his love for you and goes with another girl, which hurts you, of course. He "jollies" you along, telling you he loves you, but still goes with the other girl.

His actions give the lie to his words. And then, just when I'm feeling sorry for you and wondering what I can say to help, you say, "We're both married." Well, if that is the case, either divorce your husband or put other men—any other—out of your mind. How can you expect a man to be true to you who is not true to the wife he promised to love and cherish and how can you be true to him when you are not true to your husband?

TINY. Yes, write to the boy friend again and remind him of your promise to each other, and tell him to let you know if he has found someone he likes better.

BLUE EYES: If you really think the boy still cares for you, it would be all right to write and try to have him make up. And as to the girl "friend", I think I'd rather have a pal I could trust.

Frisco Locomotive Makes Run of 7,148 Miles In Form

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 13 (AP)—Frisco engine 4113 pulled into the Frisco station here Monday afternoon having completed a total of 7,148 miles without having its fires drawn or major repairs made.

The engine will have made five round trips between Kansas City and Birmingham, Ala., when it arrives in Kansas City at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The crew of the record-breaking engine declared it was "as good as when it started the trip."

erator, and Mrs. Walsh, a widow, were returning from a vacation trip when they were hailed by the two young men near Limon, Colo., they said. The youths, about 20 years old, were well mannered and asked for a ride, saying they were returning to their home in Kansas City. The attack, the women said, came without warning.

Overpowering the women, the youths slashed them with a razor, bound them with rope and cast them into the pasture. Stripping them of their clothing and money, the youths drove off in Mrs. Walsh's car. They have not been captured.

defense maintains was made on Dr. Snook by Miss Hix immediately before the killing. Both physicians participated in the examination which was made last Friday. Dr. Dunn also described the bruise as being of such nature as to indicate it could not have been made by Miss Hix in the manner described in Dr. Snook's testimony.

Denied Testimony

After Dr. Dunn was excused Chief of Police Harry French resumed the stand. He denied Dr. Snook's testimony that Prosecutor John J. Chester, jr., had struck Dr. Snook with his fist during the questioning that led to his confession. Chief French said the blows were struck by the open hand.

Chief French testified Dr. Snook had described the details of cutting the girl's throat, that the next day he cleaned his car and attempted to clean the blood spots from his clothes. This also was in contradiction of Dr. Snook's testimony. He denied the defendant's charge that Prosecutor Chester had dictated the confession, declaring the prosecutor dictated only the introduction which determined the location of the crime as being in Franklin county.

Chief French left the stand just before noon. Chester then announced the state rested its rebuttal, and court recessed for lunch. The defense ha dsome sur-rebuttal testimony ready for the start of the afternoon session, after which the arguments were to start.

SAN ANTONIO PHILANTHROPIST HAS DIFFERENT VIEW AFTER LAW BREAKS INTO HIS PALATIAL HOME BREWERY

(By Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Aug 13—San Antonio had a philantrophist who was different, until the law interferred.

Now he is charged under the Dean law with possession of liquor, possession of equipment designed for manufacture.

Find Complete Still

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dickson, who are threatened by the courts because the sheriff's department found in the attic of their palatial home what was one of the most complete and sanitary distilleries ever seen in San Antonio, are refugees from Mexico.

Mrs. Dickson is the daughter of General Jose Gonzales, commander of the garrison at Nuevo Laredo, and Dickson is a native of this city.

"This is the only law I have ever broken," Dickson said after his arrest. "I do not believe in drinking. Most particularly I do not believe in young people drinking. I have never sold anything to young men and women.

Best To Break

"The prohibition law is one that the best people of this country break every day," Dickson said, "and they are going to drink no matter how vile the stuff is.

"For those who knew moderate drinking before prohibition and who still want their liquor, I think that it is right that someone should save them from poisoning themselves. So I have given to my friends, all older people or married couples, chemically pure liquor.

"The moment that the people of this land observe that law and do not fill themselves with poisonous liquor, I would observe it also.

"The don'ts that prohibition has put on drinking has made the young people curious. They want to find out all about it. Instead of spending millions of dollars, in an attempt to enforce prohibition, this country should spend its money in educating the young people to understand the evil of drinking. At every opportunity I have tried to point out to the young people the harm that is in drinking."

Children Will Play In Pageant Tonight

A group of local children will appear in a pageant this evening on the lawn of the J. E. Vickers home at 1908 13th street. The performance, which is a scene chosen from Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" and is to be given by the Shakespeare Story Telling club, is being sponsored by the Junior Little Theatre.

Misses Lula Mae Cravens and Bernice Phipps are directing the performance.

A contribution is to be made to the milk and ice fund of the city, the directors have announced.

Marcus Priddy and Mary Geniece Hardberger have leading roles in the program, a feature of which is to be a dance by Lucille Walker.

gation of more than 200 labor men who presented the petition that the body would give due consideration.

The session became noisy, and the acting mayor adjourned the meeting. As the commission council began to file out of the chamber of their offices, a woman stopped Walmsley with a remark, and a crowd of men rushed him.

During the pandemonium of shouts, booes, fist-flying and shots, a dozen policemen were assaulted by the mob.

Captain Henry Nelson of the police department was set upon, stamped and beaten about the head before other officers could break up the mob.

Guns Levelled

With the commissioners safely in their offices, Detective Fred Williams jumped on a counter in the corridor with levelled guns and succeeded in quieting the enraged crowd for a while.

Rioting then was resumed on the outside and a cordon of police with shotguns and pistols held off the second assault.

Superintendent of Police Theodore Ray who arrived on the scene during the major disorders summoned heavy guards from all precincts in the city to break up the rioters in front of the building.

A mob storming a street car in front of the federal building on the opposite side of Lafayette Square from the city hall was scattered by United States deputy marshals in automobiles.

The marshals acting under federal court injunction protecting the street car property charged the mob in their automobiles.

United States Marshal Victor Loisel ordered deputy marshals to patrol the street car line on Magazine street in the vicinity of the riot.

Willougby Kelly and Juanita Kelly, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Kelly of Ranger, who accompanied the other girls, were unhurt.

ACTION AWAITING GIRLS' RECOVERY

A court of inquiry, investigating circumstances surrounding the accident in which the four girls were injured Sunday night when struck by an auto driven by Robert Austin, negro, was conducted Monday afternoon in court of Justice G. R. Scott.

No charges were filed against Austin, alleged by witnesses to have been speeding when his car hit the one containing the six girls. Further steps will be held in abeyance awaiting developments as to condition of the injured girls, Justice of the Peace Scott announced this morning.

Five witnesses testified at the inquiry that Austin had been speeding and fled from the scene of the crash.

STATUS OF YOUNG REPARATIONS PLAN IN QUANDARY AS SNOWDEN MAKES NEW STEP FOR SETTLEMENT; INTEREST HIGH

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The American government was declared by high officials to be maintaining a "hands off" policy in connection with the Hague reparations conference and to be contemplating no official move to avert a collapse of the negotiations.

Reports in Washington that Ambassador Dawes would be sent to the Hague emphatically were denied by the highest administration authorities. It was said that the American government has not considered sending anyone to the conference except Edwin C. Wilson, the unofficial American observer now at the Hague.

May Be Done

During the day Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee said although he had no official information, he thought the attendance of Dawes at the conference might be a likely step.

FRENCH PRESS AMUSED OVER SNOWDEN'S MOVE

PARIS, Aug. 13 (AP).—The French Press after being first exasperated by Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the exchequer, for his part in the Hague conference, was then furiously angry, but now seems to be amused.

This is the result of Snowden's proposal today for postponement of the work of the finance committee until Wednesday. Only two days ago Snowden was insisting that this commission vote on his proposal to probe the Young plan again because he said he did not want to spend the rest of his days in the Hague.

Settlement Foreseen

There were hints in the Paris afternoon papers today that an effort to bring the British and French delegations together for negotiations before the nex tplenary session may result in finding some way in appeasing the British without wrecking the Young plan itself.

Already, however, Paris newspapers firmly declare that if the British are to be satisfied it must be done by some other means than by demanding new sacrifices from France.

ALL BRITAIN BEHIND CHANCELLOR'S WORK

LONDON, Aulg. 12 (AP).—The question agitating all Britain tonight was "Will Mr. Snowden succeed?" the Chancellor of the exchequer must be astonished at the complete unanimity not only of the nation but the empire, not only among political ends but among political enemies in supporting the labor minister in such a grave question of foreign policy as demanding reconsideration of Britain's share of reparations as fixed in the Young plan.

Last week, an undercurrent of apprehension existed that Snowden's bold stand at the Hague might wreck the conference.

When the news came today that on Snowden's own motion the financial commission of the conference had adjourned until Wednesday, people began to feel easier and believe that the conference after all would not break down. The adjournment was regarded here as being intended to give time for private talks among the delegates with a view to finding some way out of the impasse.

Tech Professor's Demand Carried Out By Student

A dillar, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar, may mean one thing in the primary jingle, but it means an entirely different thing to a certain psychology class at Tech college.

This class meeting at the early hour of 7 o'clock found many stragglers. The teacher was nonplused, and finally announced that a tardy student must bring a cigar.

A remarkable change took place. The class met as one. This morning, however, one member was absent at roll call. At thirty minutes past the hour she arrived bringing a cigar which she placed on the teacher's desk amidst the laughter of the class.

With apologies to Kipling we might add that "a tardy is only a tardy, but a good cigar is a smoke."

Tarwater Feted In Plainview Dinner

(Special To The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 13.—A. B. Tarwater, representative of the 120th district in the State Legislature of Texas, was honored with a dinner at Plainview Saturday evening attended by over seventy-five representative business men and farmers with their wives.

R. A. Underwood, vice president of the First National bank of Plainview was toastmaster. Music was furnished by Mrs. Lee Clark, and daughter, Helen, and Carl Mangum. Speakers included W. A. Nash, Mayor Tom Shelton, J. E. Swepton of Tulia, Fritz Inglehart, R. B. G. Gain, J. Frank Triplett, W. J. B. Gouldy, W. P. Damron, J. D. Steakley, Meade F. Griffin, Maury Hopkins and A. B. Tarwater. Tarwater was praised for his work in the past three sessions of the legislature and especially for the part he took in getting industrial gasoline used on farms exempted from the four cent gasoline tax. Mrs. A. B. Tarwater was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the guests present.

Oklahoma Barber Is Released In Case

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 (AP)—A bewildered barber from Ardmore Okla., was released from jail last night after proving to officers he was not Jake Fleagle, Kansas desperado and ring leader in the Lamar, Colorado, bank robbery in 1928, in which four men were killed and $283,000 stolen.

The suspect and his wife were arrested Monday.

Fingerprints of the man, who gave his name as W. J. Schlein, were taken. A telephone conversation with Colorado authorities revealed that the index classification of Fleagle prints and those of the man arrested here were wholly dissimilar.

Work Starts On New Municipal Airport

Actual work toward the installation of Lubbock's new municipal airport was started Monday when 15 men were engaged for grubbing of the field, according to City Manager Gus McCleary.

THREE MEN CHARGED IN SHOOTINGS; ONE MAN IS VICTIM

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 13.—Wylie Patterson, who was shot through the left side of the abdomen in a store at Eagle Ford, near here, Saturday night, died in a hospital here late Monday and J. W. Christian, a cook, was charged with murder. The cause of the shooting is not known.

Patterson told officers who took him to the hospital that Christian was his best friend and that he knew of no reason for the shooting. The men had once been partners in a cafe and had worked together for years. Both were employed by Sam Turner, a store owner and the only witness to the shooting. Turner said the pistol used belonged to him.

PRISON WORK FACES STATE LEGISLATORS

SOLONS LEAVE ON TOUR OF INSPECTION OF PROPERTIES

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 12 (AP).—The vastness of the undertaking has just been realized by legislative members of the commission created to centralize and modernize the Texas penitentiary system. The nine members of the prison board have understood the immensity of the task for some time, and the question now troubling the commission is whether the big job can be well done within the limit time granted by the legislature.

The legislature stipulated that the survey of proposed prison sites and recommendations of the commission—composed of the nine members of the prison board and nine legislators—should be ready for submission to the governor not later than December 1.

Leave On Inspection

The commission left Saturday on a jaunt of inspection to "model" prisons of other states which will keep it on the go for at least 30 days.

John F. Wallace of Teague, member of the legislative end of the commission, believes it imperitive that it be ascertained positively what kind of industrial works the Texas prisoners should be engaged in before choosing the site for the new, centralized system. He pointed out that railroad facilities should prove a deciding point when the selection is at hand, depending, of course, on the nature of industries involved.

Make Case Study

Wallace has been making a study of the systems of a number of states which have made rapid strides with their penitentiaries.

"There is at least one system that we have been urged to visit as an eample of mismanagement," Wallace said. He refused to divulge the name of the state.

Wallace, a business man, asserted that legislative members of the commission had not realized the bigness of the job assigned to them until they delved into it.

"Everyone has entered into it seriously and I am confident that given plenty of time we can present a report and plan of reorganizing the system that will give th elegislature something to think about," he said. "It is an undertaking that should not be unnecessarily rushed to completion. We should have ample time to work out and perfect our plans."

"It is taken for granted that most of the prison farms in south Texas will be retained by the system and that while considerable farming will be done, some kind of industrial occupation will be adopted.

Governor Moody is said to favor the manufacture by prison inmates of clothing, furnishings and other commodities used by state institutions. Also, possibly, printing and bookbinding, especially rebinding of free text books, will be recommended as an occupation.

If the state should attempt to get very far into the manufacturing business, organized labor, as well as organized capital, could be expected to protest. Already, that objection has come to the surface. Agitation for the manufacture of cement by the state for road construction, some of it from official sources, soon vanished during legislative sessions when taxpayers interested in the cement industry voiced their objections.

The centralization commission comprises W. A. Paddock of Houston, Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple, Joseph Wearden of Goliad, J. B. H. Holderby of Fort Worth, E. H. Astin of Bryant, Lee Simmons of Sherman, Rabbi Henry Cohen of Galveston, Fred H. Horton of Greenville and Frank L. Tiller, all members of the prison board; Representatives A. H. King of Throckmorton, John F. Wallace of Teague, Coke R. Stevenson of Junction, E. T. Murphy of Livingston and Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, and Senators Nat Patton of Crockett, J. W. Stevenson of Victoria, W. A. Williamson of San Antonio and Edgar E. Witt of Waco. Mr. Paddock is chairman, Representative King, vice chairman and Bob Barker of Fort Worth, executive secretary.

Sooner Moonshiner Is Wounded In Raid

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13 (AP)—George Baker, suspected of being a moonshiner, was shot late yesterday by Milo Beck, deputy sheriff, while running from a still near Mulhall in Logan county. The wound was not considerad dangerous.

Although two federal enforcement officers were in the raid, Bee De Monbrun, district prohibition director, said they had no part in the shooting.

A six hundred gallon still, equipped with one 800 gallon vat and seven 500 gallon vats, was seized, and Baker and two other men were arrested.

The shooting occurred after the Stallworth women had marched Mrs. Morrison before them for more than a block, purportedly to take her to the police station.

State Calls Witnesses

The state has 10 or 12 witnesses that may be called and the defense has 25, most of whom are character witnesses. The case was brought here on a change of venue after a hung jury had resulted in Mrs. Stallworth's first trial at Amarillo.

Poor Clowny, still atop the pole, looked 'round and said, "Well bless my soul. I guess that I'm marooned up here. There's no one round about. But, up here in the sun all day I know that I will melt away. I'll have to call for help, I guess. I hope they hear me shout."

And then he cried out loudly, "Hey, you Tinymites, come round this way. I'm up here on the main tent and I simply can't get down. I came up here to fix the tent and then away a big rope went. Of course it left me stranded. Oh, have mercy on this clown."

He waited. Then he heard a cry. "All right," yelled Scouty in reply. "We're coming and we'll help you down, if we can find a way." And then the Tinies ran up near and Coppy shouted, "Well, look here. Poor Clowny's way up in the air, but doesn't want to stay."

"I know a way to give him aid" said Carpy, "If he's not afraid. The rest of you stay here and I'll return with a surprise. I have a very brilliant hunch that I am sure will please the bunch. Just wait and it will be a treat for everybody's eyes."

Then Carpy scampered on his way. When he returned the bunch yelled, "Hey!" Where did you get that queer giraffe, and just what good is he?" King Carpy answered: "His long neck will do much more than you expect. He's going to let wee Clowny slide right down it. Wait and see!"

The giraffe then held his neck in air and slowly walked right up to where poor Clowny hung onto a post. The Tinies gathered 'round. It wasn't long till Clowny tried the funny neck. My, what a slide. He whizzed along and shortly landed safely on the ground.

TEXAS PRISON COMMISSION VISITS ALABAMA ON TOUR OF PENAL UNITS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Texas prison centralization commission, on a tour of inspection, Monday visited the Kilby prison here.

Members of the commission were shown through the penitentiary and explained its working by Charles A. Moffett, president of the Alabama board of administration, and Hamp Draper, head of the state convict department.

The commission arrived Sunday night, and before leaving Alabamo to visit prisons of other southern states will inspect other divisions of Alabama's penal system.

The tour is to enable the commission to gather data with the view of bettering Texas' penal system.

WEEKLY CABLE REVIEW

BY FRANK HAVILAND KING,
Cable Editor, The Associated Press

After only four days of deliberation the Hague conference to settle the reparation question was deadlocked over the week-end, and the slow upward curve of world economic and political reconstruction was seriously threatened.

Important as were other events of last week, particularly the Graf Zeppelin's record Atlantic crossing, renewed rumblings of trouble in the far east, advances toward Egyptian independence and toward Anglo-American naval accord, the reparations stalemate emerges as the most significant and far-reaching development in the news from foreign fields.

Zepp's Hop Thrills

For sheer thrills and drama of the air nothing compared with the great German dirigible's Lakehurst-Friedrichshafen dash. Riding before the winds the craft made the first leg of her world cruise in 55 hours, 24 minutes, now she heads for Tokyo-Los Angeles and back to Lakehurst.

Hailed as a meeting to finally liquidate world war problems, states men of the great powers gathered in the neutral atmosphere of the ancient Dutch capital last Tuesday. For seventeen weeks this spring the committee of experts sitting in Paris under Owen Young of New York cudgeled their brains on the plan that bears his name. It was to replace the Dawes plan. And be the allies final bill to Germany for the world war.

Has No Legal Status

But until the conference of statesmen approve it, the Young plan has no legal status. Great Britain opposes it bitterly. She demands a Dawes-plan slice of reparations instead of the reduced percentages of the Young plan.

Philip Snowden, labor chancellor, launched the British attack, and over the week-end the conference came nearer breakdown than any of the thirty odd similar msetings preceeding it.

In other sections Britain's relations were more conciliatory. Foreign Secretary Henderson announced a new draft treaty embodying Egyptian independence. Military occupation wil lend except in the Suez Canal Zone where empire communications are guarded.

Still another change occurred in the empire fabric when South Africa third dominion unit to create its own diplomatic relations, followed Canada and Ireland in naming a minister to Washington.

Two other candidates for commander have announced, Ben J. Dean of Breckenridge and Ernest C. Cox of Corsicana.

LIONS MAKE PARK PLANS

BENCHES TO BE PLACED ON SQUARE; LAMESA LIONS HERE

Notification of the Lubbock county commissions court, in acquiescing to the petition of the Lions club, in throwing open the use of the east half of the court house square to the public, and decision to start immediately at work securing benches to make the place comfortable, featured today's regular weekly luncheon meeting the Lubbock Lions club, at Our Cafeteria.

Four Lions from Lamesa were visitors of the club, talks being made by T. S. Christopher, president, and Walter Evans, in which the Lubbock Lions were invited to attend the Lamesa club's charter night, on the evening of Thursday, August 22.

Charter Night Set

Charter night for the Lubbock Lions will be next Tuesday evening, August 20, at 7:30 o'clock, the regular luncheon next week being called off because of that gathering. Large delegations from other South Plains Lions clubs and from other service clubs are expected.

Talks were made today by J. J. Kaberna, Jess C. Levens, Vaughn Wilson, Allan Barwise, Cliff C. Lindsey and Harold Gelin, musical numbers being offered by Lawrence Gelin.

Rev. Jack M. Lewis announced the annual convention of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis clubs, at Tulsa, September 1, 2 and 3, urging the Lions to assist the Lubbock Kiwanians in securing next year's convention of this district.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 13 (AP)—A 15-year-old girl and a man, 23, were killed in an amusement park here last night when they were thrown from a car on a roller coaster as it made a turn at the top of an incline, 40 feet above ground. Two employes of the device were arrested.

Picturesque Texan Takes Up Abode On Broadway And Starts Movie Version Of His Sleuthing Career

Following an announcement made by J. Frank Norfleet, formerly of Hale Center, to the effect that he would portray his experiences in trailing a gang of "fleecers" in motion pictures, while he was visiting several weeks ago in Lubbock, the latest issue of Variety, theatrical publication, has the following to say of the picturesque Texan:

"Tired of Scotland yarding the world for the gang of swindlers that took him years back, Frank Norfleet is turning from sleuthing to picture producing.

"The Texan, who got his men, has sunk the rewards he obtained with several of the captures in a production company. He's living on Broadway, and in the last few days started shooting a sequence in Jersey on what he hopes will be the screen dramatization of his bracelet snapping career.

"Otto Backer applied for the megaphoner's chair. Frank, who heads his outfit, called Frank Norfleet Productions, with his daughter in as secretary and budget guard, sent out scouts to investigate. Otto got the job."

MAJOR LEADERS APPEAR CERTAIN FOR WORLD SERIES

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Next Sunday about fifty high school grid candidates will leave for the Boy Scout encampment grounds near Post to begin a two weeks training camp prior to the opening of the 1929 football season. Coaches Henry Frnka and Del Morgan plan to start the youngsters off with light work this year and increase the stiff practice sessions as the squad rounds into shape.

The local coaches and the gridders themselves testified at the end of the 1928 season that the time spent last year at Two Draw lake was the most valuable of the entire training season. There is no doubting the fact that these preliminary camps play an important part in the success of the football season.

This year the Westerners are staying in camp a little longer than last season and this means the squad means serious business. A drive will be made this week to raise a nominal sum to defray the expenses of the football candidates while in camp. Such common necessities as food, ice and water together with a place to sleep cannot be overlooked. If Lubbock business men are looking forward to another great season for the Westerners, and are willing to let their money talk, they will certainly be given an opportunity to express themselves.

With the race in the two major leagues virtually cinched by Philadelphia and Chicago, there remains to be decided the positions in the first divisions. The first two places in the American league have just about been definitely settled as belonging to Philadelphia and New York. Connie Mack still enjoys a comfortable lead over the struggling Yankees and the men of Miller Huggins appear strong enough to retain their runner-up post.

Thus a scrap is under way for third place in the junior circuit between the St. Louis Browns, the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers. Peckinpaugh's Redskins are making a definite bid and should the Browns continue slumping and the Tigers recover, it would not be surprising to see the Howleymen pushed out of first division. The rise of Cleveland has been one of the outstanding developments of the American league. A crop of youngsters have given the Indians added punch and they are certain to make trouble for the leaders next season.

This week's schedule finds the Indians facing a series of engagements with the Athletics and Yanks, and these clubs may make it a little tough on the ambitious tribe. It would be too much to expect the Indians to take either of these series and in the meantime the Browns should better themselves at the expense of Washington and Boston.

The name of Oscar Eckhardt appears in the Baseball World under the classification of "Minors Worth Watching." This publication has the following to say concerning the former Amarillo star:

"Since trading Manush to St. Louis, with Heilman apparently on the decline, the Tiger outfield has been composed of just an ordinary trio. This is the reason Owner Frank Navin has ordered Oscar Eckhardt to report for duty next spring. Boasting a .353 mark, and said to be the makings of a second "Heilmann," Eckhardt will have a big task assigned to him. However, according to all reports, he will be able to fill the bill.

"Detroit bought Eckhardt from Amarillo, Tex., (Western) last summer, after he had amazed ivory hunters with his swat prowess. Oscar led the circuit in batting until the final two weeks, when he fell into a slump, and finished at .373. It was his first season in organized baseball and a most unusual feat. Unlike most slugging giants, Eckhardt is fairly fast in the field and on the paths, which makes his chances of retention appear brighter."

The Chicago scribe who gives the story on Eckhardt is slightly off in his statement concerning Oscar's first year in organized baseball unless the Cleveland Indians cannot be classed as organized baseball. Following his graduation at Texas university, Eckhardt received a call from Tris Speaker to report to the Cleveland club and spent a full year in the Indian camp. This was previous to his great year with Sied Allen's Amarillo club.

SANTA FE LOSES TO ROSWELL NINE

(Special To The Journal)

ROSWELL, N. M., Aug. 13.—The Santa Fe club of the Lubbock City League found itself overmatched again here Monday afternoon and the local aggregation handed the visiting team the second shutout of the three game series. Yesterday's score was 3 to 0.

In Sunday's double header the Roswell sluggers slammed everything the Lubbock hurlers had to offer, winning the first game 15 to 7, and taking the nightcap, 5 to 0.

The Lubbock nine was clearly outclassed in each of the three games, winning each contest handily.

Bill Hargrove, manager of the Lubbock team, failed to make the trip with his club and Robinson served as field captain.

SPORTS SLAM OUT TWO VICTORIES MONDAY OVER STARS

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

For several weeks the boys who go in for such things have been predicting that the Wichita Falls pitching staff, badly over-worked, was due at least a partial crack-up. There were indications today that the long-awaited slump of the Spud moundsters might be just around the corner.

Determined to push his club into a play-off with Dallas, manager Jeems Galloway has been driving his hill corps unsparingly. George Payne, in particular, has put in much overtime during the Oilers' drive of recent weeks. He apparently has thrived upon it, but the team's two other aces, Steengrafe and Wiltse, are finding it a little tough on their ancient arms.

Stars Falter.

Yesterday the Sports slammed out a double victory over the two Spud stars, defeating Steengrafe, 8 to 5, in the first encounter, and licking Wiltse, 3 to 2, in the afterpiece. Seldom this season has the twain been treated in such manner. The leaders, facing a somewhat crucial four-game series with the Cats starting tomorrow, possibly had some valuable wind taken out of their sails by the twin reverse.

In the meantime, the Panthers picked up a game in their pursuit of the Spudders by breaking even a double attraction with Dallas, losing the first, 7 to 6, but coming back behind Lil Stoner's superb hurling to capture the nightcap, 8 to 1.

Cubs Sweep Series

The Cubs swept their series with Houston by taking the final, 8 to 4, adding further to the discomfort of the Junior Cards since they hit the trail a fortnight ago. Today the Bisons were in San Antonio on the last lap of their hegira, with the possibility they have found a team they can trim.

It was with regrets that the Exporters quitted San Antonio. By sweeping the series Robby's men ran the Indians' string of defeats to 19 in their last 20 games. Yesterday it was 6 to 3, and the Indians were reported to have excelled their previous best efforts for peculiar base running.

BUSH IS GREAT AID TO CHICAGO

BY JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press

That the Chicago Cubs are gradually and irresistibly closing in on the National league pennant this season, a thrill they have not experienced since 1918, is due in a large measure to the great pitching of Guy Bush, the tall, lean and wiry native of Aberteen, Miss. He has won 16 games, losing his second of the season yesterday.

Bush has spent nearly his entire baseball career with th eCubs, but did not find himself as a pitcher until last year, when he won 15 and lost only six games for Joe McCarthy. He first joined the team in 1924 and after being farmed out to Wichita Falls returned in 1925 to stay.

After that it took the tall pitcher three years to get started. In his first full year with the club he was used mosly for relief duty, but started a few games of his own, breaking into a total of 42 games. He averaged six victories and 13 defeats that season. In 1926 he won 13 and lost only nine, but fell down to the .500 mark in 1927 with 10 games won and as many lost.

But during all tnis time manager Joe McCarthy, conscious of the wealth of natural ability stored in Bush's slender frame, was slowly bringing him to the front. And Bush needed a man like McCarthy to bring out the best that was in him.

Guy is a high strung pitcher whose effectiveness may easily be reduced by the wrong kind of handling. He needs dencouragement when the breaks went against him and he got it. McCarthy is a master at knowing when to pat a player on the back and when not to.

WAYLAND WILL HAVE NINETEEN LETTER MEN BACK FOR GRID SEASON; AUGUST 28TH IS OPENING DATE FOR TRAINING

(Special to The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Aug 13—Nineteen of last year's Wayland college football squad, fifteen of them letter men, will form the nucleus of a Jackrabbit grid gang this season that is expected to be the best that has represented the school in many years.

Coach Frank Kimbrough is not satisfied with the size nor quality of his prospective grid men however. The excellent prospects of a team of veterans has only seemed to make him more ambitious and he is active in the field looking for new material. He has visions of a squad of at least thirty men before the season opens.

Camp Opens Aug. 28

The pre-school training camp will be conducted from August 28 to September 7, when the football boys are to meet the West Texas State Teachers' college in the first game of the season. The game is to be played in Plainview.

The members of last year's Jackrabbits returning this fall are headed by Edgar Close, captain and halfback. He hails from Shamrock, Texas, and in 1928 received the most valuable player award. Kirby Kirkpatrick, tackle, and co-captain of the team will also be back from Haskell. Dick Cross of Plainview, Cotton Leatherwood of Crosbyton, Elzie Lloyd of Floydada, and Elmer Sanderson of Paducah, experienced linesmen are returning. Obed Wilbanks, who has lettered the past three years at Wayland, Red Mobley, of Quitaque, will give Wayland five proven performers for the end stations.

Backs to Return

Backfield men who earned letters last year in addition to Captain Close are Elber Jackson of Anton, Vernon Close of Shamrock, Raymon Burrows of Crowell, and Don Kleiff of Plainview. These will make a nice nucleus to build a fast offensive Kimbrough says.

Four linesmen who just barely missed lettering last year are reentering school this fall. Two of them are two hundred pounders, and all four are expected to be used frequently during the season. They are Jim Stephens of Knox county, Monk Watson of Wellington, Grady Stevens of Plainview and Clive Crume of Tahoka.

Roy Johnson Said To Be Fastest Man

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. (AP)—The answer to the question, who is the fastest man in the American league—Carl Reynolds of the Chicago White Sox or Jack Rothrock of the Boston club—may be Roy Johnson of the Tigers.

Reynolds and Rothrock have been threatening for some time to match speed in a sprint race to decide who is the fastest runner in the league. While the race is postponed from one cause or another, friends of Roy Johnson have come forward with offers to wager that the Detroit player not only can outfoot either Reynolds or Rothrock, but could beat both of them, running as a relay team over the sprint distance.

GABBY HARTNETT'S ARM IS SOURCE OF WORRY TO BRUINS; TEAM MAKING GOOD PROGRESS DESPITE ABSENCE OF STAR

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—There continues to be a difference of opinion as to the status of Gabby Hartnett's throwing arm which has been lost to the Chicago Cubs throughout the season's chase of a National League pennant.

Hartnett still complains of a pain in his shoulder and is unwilling to attempt to burn the ball from the plate to second base. Manager Joe McCarthy, however, inclines to the belief that Gabby trouble is more imaginary than real.

Veterans Are Aided

Despite Hartnett's failure to handle the behind-the-plate job this year, the Cubs have managed unusually well by the services of the veterans Gonzales and Taylor, aided and abetted at various times by rookie talent.

New threats to the lineup continue to appear in reports from the eastern front on which the club is now performing. Hack Wilson's slender ankles are beginning to evidence their annual rebellion against carrying the weight of the bulky centerfielder. Wilson is slightly less speedy in the outfield and on the bases and limps somewhat when running.

Cuyler has been an irregular for more than a fortnight because of injuries. With McMillan and Beck out of the game, Blair remains the only available man for third base. In the event he, too, should be incapacitated, Manager McCarthy would be compelled to bring Riggs Stephenson from the outfield to wrestle with grounders, thus presenting a patchwork lineup which might bring anxiety to the pennant-hoping folks back home.

Sweetser Starts Toward West Coast

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jess Sweetser is first of the metropolitan's golf stars to head for the west and the National amateur championship at Pebble Beach, Calif., Sept. 2-7. Sweetser, who held the title in 1922, left New York for the far west yesterday. He plans to combine business with pleasure spending some time in the middle west before continuing his jaunt to the Pacific coast. He expects to arrive at Pebble Beach about ten days before the championship opens.

ANOTHER BUNDY IS TENNIS STAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Another budding star of the courts has arisen to carry on the Sutton-Bundy tradition of United States tennis.

Dorothy Bundy, 12-year-old daughter of the famous May Sutton Bundy, made her eastern debut in a senior tennis tournament at the eastern grass court championships at Rye yesterday and acquitted herself well in eliminating Mrs. Marquis James, of Rye, in straight sets.

The chances are against Dorothy going much further in the present championship for she was matched with Mary Grief, No. 2 in the national girls' ranking in the second round, but the well-rounded game she exhibited against Mrs. James promises well for the future.

Dorothy comes of famous tennis-playing stock. Her mother, as May Sutton, won the national singles title in 1904 and the British singles championship in 1905 and 1907. Her father, Tom C. Bundy, gained his chief tennis renown as the doubles partner of the California comet, Maurice E. McLoughlin. This pair held the national doubles title in 1912-13-14.

LEAD OF TWO CLUBS TO BE HARD TO CUT

CUBS ARE 8 GAMES IN FRONT; MACKS HAVE 11½ ADVANTAGE

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Asciated Press Sports Writer

The day of miracles may not be over, but it would take a highly trusting nature to bet that Chicago and Philadelphia will not meet in the world series this fall.

With two months to go before thte season closes on Oct. 6, the growling Cubs Joe McCarthy has developed at Chicago held an eight-game lead over the National League field while Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics had to look back 11 1-2 games before they could see their closest rivals, the New York Yankees.

Leaders Are Beaten

The Cubs ran into Ben Cantwell when he was at his best yesterday and dropped a 4-3 decision to Boston in 10 innings. But this slip meant nothing for both Pittsburgh and the New York Giants were beaten.

Johnny Frederick's homer with Gilbert on base in the tenth gave Brooklyn another triumph over Pittsburgh, 4-2. Clise Dudley was yanked in the first half of the tenth when Paul Waner doubled to open the frame and Johnny Morrison retired the side without a score.

Donohue Is Stingy

A double by Kelly, single by Pittenger and Horace Ford's home run in the eighth gave Cincinnati three runs and a 5-2 verdict over the Giants. Pete Donohue limited New York to five hits.

St. Louis downed Philadelphia, 7-5, in a free hitting game at Baker bowl.

A's Stretch Lead

In the American League, the A's stretched their lead a full game by beating Detroit 6-0 while the Yanks were losing at Cleveland. Rube Walberg gave up only five hits against the Tigers while the A's bunched eight hist of George Uhle.

Babe Ruth's 31st homer couldn't save the Yankees from an 11-7 trouncing by the Indians. Ruth's round trip blow with two on in the third couldn't offset weak pitch-

[THE NEW EMBLEM DEDI-CATED TO BETTER MOTORING]

CONOCO

What the MARLAND CONTINENTAL Merger MEANS TO MOTORISTS

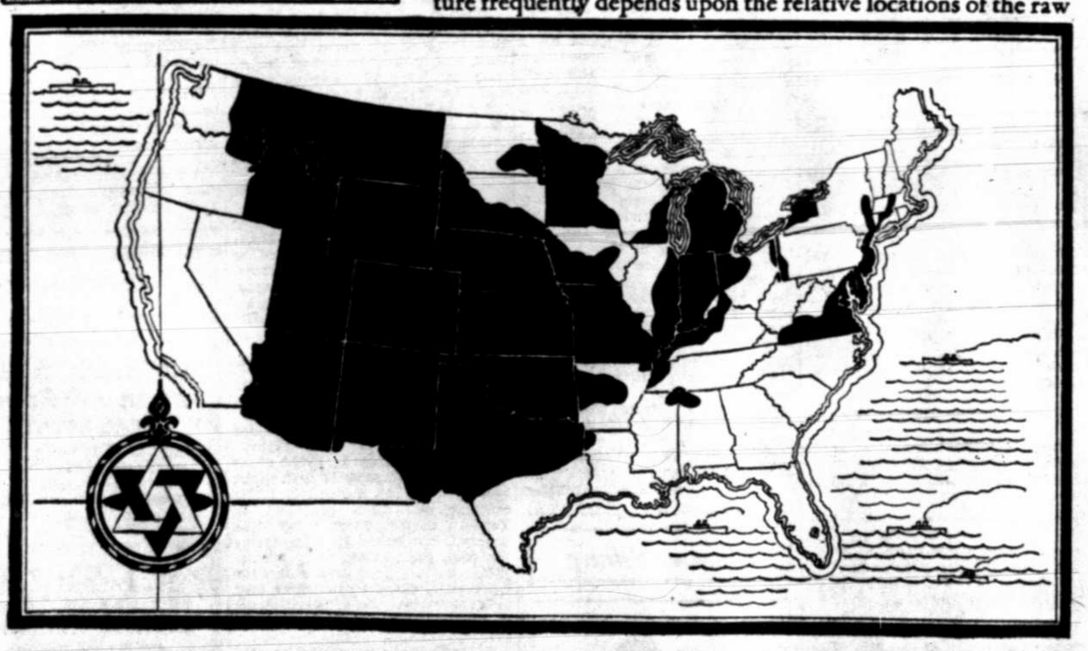
THE consolidation of the resources and facilities of the Marland Companies and the Continental Oil Company, under the latter's name, is more than a corporate merger. It is a happy union of well balanced production, manufacturing and marketing operations from which will come a host of unusual advantages to the millions of customers and thousands of distributors.

Wide Field for Crude Selection

Out of a total area of more than two and one quarter million acres in eight states, Continental selects the crudes best suited for its manufactured products. Raw materials for oils, greases and gasolines may often come from widely separated regions. Continental controls its own crude supply and chooses the best for each refining operation and thus assures a standard uniform output from year to year.

Strategic Location of Eight Refineries

Economical and efficient operation of petroleum manufacture frequently depends upon the relative locations of the raw product, the refinery and the market. Continental is fortunate in that its eight modern manufacturing plants are well placed to afford prompt and economical delivery both before and after refinement. These properties are located at Baltimore, Maryland; Ponca City and Sapulpa, Oklahoma; Artesia and Farmington, New Mexico; Wichita Falls, Texas: Florence, Colorado; and Glenrock, Wyoming.



Exclusive Processes Insure High Quality

Continental refinery engineers enjoy a national reputation in the oil business. Not only have they adopted the newest and most efficient mechanical equipment for these big refineries but they have designed machinery and developed processes which are exclusive to this company. Under centralized control, these facilities now are made available in the manufacture of petroleum products of exceptional quality.

Conocoland Covers Tremendous Area

More than forty years marketing experience has spread the distribution of Conoco products over an area which reaches from the western slope of the Rockies, far east to the Mississippi River. Practically half of the United States is dotted so closely with Conoco Stations that a motorist may drive anywhere in that tremendous area without introducing other than Conoco products to his car. The outposts of Conocoland range from the Pacific Northwest to the shores of the Great Lakes and from the Atlantic Seaboard to the California boundary.

Prestige Established in Foreign Lands

The Continental coastwise and export fleet operate from terminals at Texas City, Texas; Newark, New Jersey; Baltimore, Maryland; and Norfolk, Virginia; to a dozen foreign countries. Petrol pumps deliver Conoco gasoline to automobilists in the shires of England and Conoco motor oils lubricate industrial plants in north Europe, South America and the Orient.

In brief, the joined forces of these two great companies afford greater, better service to the users of motor fuels and lubricants wherever the sign of the Red Triangle is displayed.

He that can not forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself; for every man has need to be forgiven.—Lord Herbert.

Amusement Parks

Every thinking citizen of this country ought to be compelled to go, at least once a year, to some big city amusement park. Having arrived, he should be required not to ride on the roller coaster or the chute-the-chute, but simply sit down on a bench and watch the swarm of men, women and children about him.

To do that is often rather depressing. But it does lead to some useful reflections.

The average amusement park hasn't a great deal to recommend it.

On the edge of a city in the midwestern steel belt, for instance, there is a very small lake. This lake, indeed, is so small that most people would call it a pond. A good golfer could drive a ball across its widest part.

An amusement park, however, has been built around it. There is a dance hall, a "bathing beach", a dock where rowboats can be rented, a roller coaster, a merry-go-round and similar diversions; and there is a straggly grove of trees at one end with tables beneath, where basket parties can picnic if they wish.

All in all, it is about as dismal a pleasure resort as you could find. Yet all through the summer the place is crowded. On Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons hundreds of autos jam its parking places, and people move about so thickly that the discomfort of a hot inland summer day is increased tenfold.

Visiting the place, you wonder why on earth people visit it. The men are sweaty and worried looking, the women are irritable and tired, the children are worn out and fretful. The whole thing seems to give most of them more unhappiness than recreation. Yet they come back, day after day and week after week, as long as summer lasts.

Then, when you stop to think it over, you make a discovery. These luckless people visit this place—as people like them visit places like this, all over the United States—simply because they haven't any place else to go.

They live in the city; not in the pleasant, grass-grown suburbs where the "white collar" folks live, but down on hot, noisy streets, in dreary frame houses with hard dirt yards or in gloomy apartments that are sticky and smelly from the middle of June until the middle of September. When they get a little spare time they have to get away—they have to get where they can see a sky that isn't marred by a veil of smoke, where they can see a few real trees, walk around in the open air, look on a little stretch of water, engage in some sort of amusement that will make them forget the city for a little while.

So they go to the amusement parks. What they find there isn't what they really want, but it's the nearest thing to it that they can get, and they make the best of it.

The modern city is generally a bright-looking place, with tall buildings, bustling crowds on the streets, gay shop windows and all. But, for most of its inhabitants, it is a poor sort of place to live. The crowds that jam the second-rate amusement parks testify to that fact.

The Pennant

You probably have read recently that the Mauretania has had to haul down the blue pennant, emblem of the speed championship of the Atlantic, and that the new champion, the Bremen, has hoisted it.

That's all very well, but if you happen to visit the Bremen, now or in the future, don't ask to see that pennant. You'll only get laughed at. There isn't any such thing.

The "blue pennant," famous as it is, is non-existent. It is, in its way, like the raspberry, which is often given to a man, but which never takes any tangible form. The lucky ship that has it is very proud of it—but this cherished flag, nevertheless, is one that never flutters from any masthead.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says people who profit by keeping their eyes and ears open don't have time to keep their mouths in the same way.

The religious forces of the city are being marshalled for the rapidly approaching city-wide revival and if this year is a repetition of former ones a successful meeting will probably result. The Plainsman believes that figures will show Lubbock to be a strong church-going city, and, further than that, there are many people here who will support a revival much more willingly than they will their individual church. The psychology, in this case, is a revival is intensified, over a shotr period of time, and church services, one day each week, are pretty much the same, year in and year out.

Some people think revival campaigns, under the direction of an evangelistic party, are of great and lasting benefit. Others take an opposite view and church people, in a good many places, have become divided on the subject. However, since the community campaign has been decided upon it is to be hoped that everybody's shoulder will go to the wheel and that the city, as a whole, gets as much out of it as is humanly possible.

For the past several years The Plainsman has been courting a proposition which he believes would be of benefit to the city. The proposition is in the form a city-wide, co-operative revival with the preaching and other ministrations bein ghandled by local pastors and laymen, working in unison. The plan has never been tried here, at least in recent years, but that fact does not indicate that it couldn't be well accomplished.

Perhaps you haven't stopped to consider it, but in our local pastors we have a very appreciable array of talent. The Plainsman is of the opinion that Lubbock pastors, taking turn and turn about, could stage just about as beneficial a revival campaign as can an evangelist and accomplish the task with considerable less expenditure.

The Plainsman hasn't heard all of the pastors in Lubbock. But he has heard a number of them—probably more than the average citizen, who if he attends church attends only that of his own denomination. There are a lot of Methodists, for instance, who have never listened to a serman delivered by Dr. Jack Lewis, of the First Presbyterian church. Likewise many Presbyterians have never heard Rev. H. L. Munger. The same situation holds good with the Baptists and the Methodists, the Nazarenes and the Cumberland Presbyterians and so on, all the way down the line. It is not unlikely, as this writer sees it, that one or two messages from every pastor in the city would be beneficial to the city as a whole and broaden the influence of the individual ministers in the local field.

After the approaching campaign is completed—say about next spring—The Plainsman would like to see the churches of Lubbock get together on a co-operative revival with the local preachers doing the preaching, local musicians directing the choir and the song service and, in other words, a Lubbock revival all the way through. The experiment couldn't do any harm and there is a big chance that it might prove highly successful.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says an average driver is one who thinks he has done his bounden duty when he honks his horn just before running someone down.

Women who are doing everything from rolling to dieting to decrease their weight rarely stop to realize that they can derive the same benefit by pushing a broom.

Ever since the ladies quit doing all work around the house except that which can be accomplished by pushing a button, they have been worrying about their weight. They'll go without meat and potatoes, they'll drink bitter reducing tea, they'll do radio exercises but suggest work around the house, like sweeping, "worshin' and arnin'" or something similar, and you've got yourself into a jackpot.

Six-chinned sisters with a waist measure that sounds like a cotton crop estimate, will raise a mean eyebrow and inquire concerning your mentality if you suggest exercise that will accomplish something as well as cut down obesity but they'll make all kinds of saps out of themselves trying to discover 'how to keep slim though lazy.' What this country needs is fewer diets and more duties—especially those around the old family stomping ground.

The County commission has granted the plea of the Lions club to put benches on the east side of the courthouse square where people may sit around while not busy. The idea is a good one but The Plainsman thinks he owes it to the public to make a complete report on where the idea began.

There is a fellow by the name of Alfred Marvin Hill, better known as just 'Al,' who belongs to the Lions club and is on the payroll of the Avalanche-Journal. He has the reputation of being the holder of the world's sitting record—and that doesn't mean flagpole sitting either. It means plain and fancy, right and left hand, buck and wing sitting as it is best accomplished—on a nice chair under a cool fan.

Well, it was Al's idea to put benches on the courthouse lawn and not caring to stand the expenditure all by himself he has rung the Lions club in on it. Inasmuch as his few duties make his calling at the courthouse a regular thing, rumor is rampant that he got his idea through an unquenchable desire to sit down whenever and wherever possible. The Plainsman hate to indicate that Al has put one over on the commissioners and the Lions but it sure does look that way.

Washington Always Knows When Employment Is Slow For Job-Seekers Flood Capital Looking For Work—Dutcher

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 — Washington is always aware of the fact when employment conditions are bad over the country. When work is scarce elsewhere the situation is reflected by the thousands who come here looking for federal jobs, more often than not depending on a congressman to help them out.

A good percentage of them wind up at the federal employment service station on Pennsylvania Avenue. There one learns that although more applicants have been provided with jobs here this year than last year, there haven't been nearly as many persons calling around for jobs.

There were more than 61,000 persons who registered at the office during the year ended July 1, but last year there were nearly 80,000. And the greater percentage of placements is shown in the fact that this year jobs have been found for 32,500 persons, as compared with only 27,105 in the year before. This government agency, it appears, has lately been placing half the applicants instead of only a third as before.

Lately the attraction at the capital has been the government's big building program. Many workers appear to have come with too much confidence in an assumed demand for building help which doesn't exist. Some jobs have been open, of course, but the building is going on slowly and there is always a surplus of building labor here. The work is let out to private contractors who generally bring in their own crews.

Conferring on President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson of the Peruvian Order of the Sun reminds your correspondent of a story heard in Peru last year which dates back to the early days of that illustroust and artistocratic order.

The Order of the Sun gave a large banquet to celebrate its gift to one of Lima's many cathedrals of a massive pair of solid silver candlesticks, which were displayed proudly on a table.

A strong gust of wind came along suddenly and blew out all the lights. When the windows had been closed and the lights restored it was found that one of the valuable candlesticks had disappeared.

A priest quieted the brethren and suggested that before anything drastic was done, the lights be extinguished again for two minutes, during which the thief would be permitted to return the loot. So the lights were put out.

When they were lighted again the other candlestick had disappeared.

This story was vouched for, but no one seemed to know whether the sticks had been recovered.

The new Democratic publicity bureau, operated by Charles Michelson under the general direction of Jouett Shouse, is producing results with its daily attacks on the Republicans and their tariff efforts. One would hesitate to suggest just how much effect this propaganda barrage is having on the tariff makers, but it certainly is getting into the papers.

The Michelson method has been to send the correspondents at least once a day a denunciatory statement from some member of Congress anent some phase of the proposed tariff legislation. The Democratic newspapers are eating it up and playing this material on page one. And so are quite a few of the Republican newspapers.

Goodness knows how many of the ideas and words are provided for Democratic senators by Mr. Michelson—probably a lot—but no propaganda effort in Washington for a long time back has been so successful from the standpoint of newspaper space. Large piles of marked newspapers at Democratic headquarters attest the fact.

Mr. Deets Pickett, the energetic research secretary of the Methodist Board of emperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, has been kind enough to send your correspondent a clipping showing Swiss postal cancellation marks attacking the alcohol evil. The postmark shows a bottle labeled "Schnaps" and marked with skull and crossbones, alongside the warning "Der Schnaps vernichtet Familie and Volk!" which is translated into "Drink ruins the family and the race." Of course, we have prohibition on our own statutes, but our government has never stamped such propaganda on our mail.

Mr. Pickett's stamps says the Swiss government stamps such a design and inscription "on every letter passing through the post." Inquiry at the Swiss legation, however, elicits the word that attaches do not remember receiving mail so marked and the guess that the special cancellation mark must have been used temporarily at some time in honor of some dry congress or conference, the Swiss government being accommodating that way. So this is still a pretty good story, but not as good as it might have been.

Those were the days! . . . But aren't they always?

Still and all, I found myself wandering about Broadway the other night like a lost soul. Broadway in San Francisco, some 15 years ago—and, I assume, before that—was the capital of American Bohemia.

If it bothered me just a little to hear jazz bands playing on corners that were quiet haunts in the "days when," put it down as age creeping in.

The rendezvous was Bigin's. There, in true Parisian fashion, we ate and drank from day to day. To pay for our food, some kindly artist would paint a mural and this would tide us over for many days.

Within a few years, the walls of the place were covered with paintings which fed us all—some 10 or 20—during four lean and grouping years.

There was Winkler, who went about lighting the picturesque street lamps, as a means of getting a livelihood. Today, "Wink" is a world-famous etcher. His work is known throughout Europe and, if I am not mistaken, he ranks among the best. And there was Heine, who surely would have been one of the great painters had he survived the war. . . . He, too, lighted lamps for room rent. . . . In fact, most of the struggling artists did. . . . There was George Sterling, the poet who just missed genius, who died tragically by his own hand not so long ago. . . . There was Mahlon Blaine, whose illustrations are to be found today in books and magazines—and a score of others. Most of them figure in the surviving legends of San Francisco's Bohemian days.

Today the old Bigin's wears the names of "The Follies" and an array of square wooden tables has taken the place of the old long "round table." Bigin has moved "uptown." The old-timers have, like myself, scattered hither and yon—chiefly yon—rayon electric signs now flash from the familiar old places.

Pisco John's famous the world over for its "punches" and for its little room which was, perhaps, the only bar where women could go, is now a business block. Here Robert Louis Stevenson had put his foot upon the rail many times, and there was an old bartender who never tired telling us tales of the great story spinner—

RETIRED MINISTER MAKES A SUCCESS OF LARGE SCALE FARMING IN YOAKUM COUNTY; STORY READS LIKE FICTION

BY AL HILL
Avalanche-Journal Staff

STANFORD VALLEY, NEAR PLAIN, YOAKUM COUNTY, Aug. 13.—A preacher, age 52, having accumulated a modest home in a small city, and the possessor of two registered Jersey cows, decides to farm. Selling his home for enough money to purchase a small farm in another county, he begins, his only capital and farming implements being an indomitable faith in agriculture and a dynamic energy.

Ten years have passed since this preacher was 52. During this decade, he has achieved a higher pinnacle of success than most men do in a lifetime. Today, he is operating 2,000 acres of farming land; working 11 families, in addition to his own, and has carved out a romance of agriculture that is, perhaps, unexcelled anywhere on the South Plains.

Is Active At Sixty-Two

This preacher, the Rev. H. D. Heath, of the Stanford Valley community, located 10 miles northeast of Plains, in Yoakum county, at the age of 62, actively directs all the farming operations on his plantation. And it is, indeed, a plantation.

Furthermore, Rev. Mr. Heath is doing what seems to be the impossible—he is achieving intensive farming on an extensive scale.

A close scrutiny of his 1,300 acres planted to cotton, and of his 700 acres planted to corn and grain sorghums, reveals as clean a checkerboard of growing crops as may be found anywhere. Rev. Mr. Heath's fellds are, in truth, as clean as his smooth-shaven face. He is so very meticulous with his crops that no sucker-cornstalks are to be found in these level acres.

Barren Stalks Are Cut

"Instructions to my men," he remarks, "were to obliterate every stalk that did not promise to bear."

Many Texans know this preacher. He has held positions on the faculties of such Baptist institutions as the San Marcos Baptist Academy, the Decatur Baptist college and the Wayland college, of Plainview. His fervent exhortations have been heard from a hundred or more pulpits, in Baptist churches located across the wide sweep of Texas soil, from the small country chapel to the big city edifice.

"After passing 50 years of age," Rev. Mr. Heath relates, "I realized that I could never be financially well off, as a minister. Having been reared on a farm, in East Texas, I decided to become a farmer. I sold my home in Plainview for enough money to buy 240 acres of land in Lynn county.

"Not Even a Hame String"

"Upon our arrival on this farm, we had only our two Jersey cows. No work stock. No farming implements. No meats to place in our larder for the months ahead, until the first crop could be made. Didn't have a hame string, nor a horse.

This preacher-farmer did not cease to preach, however. Only two appointments at country churches, some 30 miles away, did he miss, the five years he farmed in Lynn county. And these were missed because of unavoidable circumstances.

"The first year in Lynn county, I bought six gilts, several old mules here and there. It was a hard year. But I sold $550 worth of meat and pigs. Kept enough meat and lard for the year ahead and still had six sows off of the six gilts left. I have never bought any meat since that first year, and have sold it by the carload several times since."

Made Five Bales the First Year

Five bales of cotton were made on this Lynn county farm that first year, and lots of feed. The second year witnessed 17 bales gathered, and lots of feed. Then he bought 320 acres on credit, next to his original 240, and gather 41 bales of cotton, and lots of feed. The fourth year saw 82 bales, the fifth year 149 biles, and lots of feed.

"When I was offered $65 an acre for my Lynn county holdings, and had discovered, through visits to this section, that the land here in Yoakum county was better adapted to the raising of corn and feed crops, fitting in better with livestock raising, which I wanted to build up along with general farming, I sold out and moved here."

Started Four Years Ago

It has been four years, last February 1, since the Heath farming operations were started in Yoakum county.

"There were seven pasture gates between my farm and Plains," Heath tells, "when I first came here. And there were 12 such gates between here and Brownfield. Little farming had been practiced in Yoakum county. Even today, this county is not looked upon as farming area. But, today, there are no gates between here and Plains, or Brownfield. County roads now lead to all directions. Farm development is obtaining in great portion of eastern Yoakum county."

No corn, grain sorghums, or cotton, to be found anywhere on the South Plains, has a better appearance as to stand and prospective yield, than these crops of Heath's farm.

Average 20-40 Bushels of Corn

"I have made as much as 40 bushels of corn to the acre, on this farm," he stated. "The average has varied from 20 to 40 bushels. Cotton yield has averaged from one-sixth to one-third of a bale per acre."

This extensive agricultural institution, maintained in an intensive manner, is divided into three major farms. On one there are between 1,000 and 1,100 acres in cultivation. On another there are about 500 acres being cultivated, and in the other approximately 470 acres.

Eleven different tenants are employed. Each of them sign a written contract with Heath, with clauses to the effect that they will farm according to his ideas. This is carrying out his policy that no institution can succeed, if it does not have one head.

Not a Tractor Is Used

A striking thing about Heath's plan of operation is the fact that there is not one tractor used. Two-way plows are utilized, however. Of his lack of tractors, he says:

"I use 65 mules to work the farm. Long ago I came to the conclusion that I could raise feed stuff for work stock, but it is impossible to raise gasoline."

He has 2,500 acres of pasture land rented, where he keeps these work animals, never permitting them to be turned into his fields for grazing, at any time. In this pasture he raises all of his work stock, having at this time some 70 Percheron mares bred to a registered jack.

All Animals Registered

All of Heath's animals are registered stock. Always he has kept pedigreed animals. During the many years he was preaching he kept at least two registered Jersey milch cows. One of these, now 14 years old, has returned to him $1,637 from her offspring, not counting the value of milk produced. This cow is Beauty's Jersey Girl, registry number 326981. Her sire was Potia's Carl, the dam, Decatur's Beauty; was born December 5, 1914, and registered on February 9, 1915.

A splendid Jersey bull is owned by Heath, the mother of which is Golden Rochette's Princess, of the premier Jersey show herd of America. It's name is Lady Rosette's Prince's Lad, number 279220, and its sire is Lady Rosette's Prince.

Proudly will he show one the registry papers of these fine dairy cattle. And he is as proud of his registered jack, his Percherons and even of his registered English greyhounds.

Cream Checks Monthly

Some 20 or more dairy cattle comprise his dairy herd, 10 cows being milked on the average at all times. Cream checks come in monthly to the Heath farm, averaging $100 every 30 days.

Not a foot of fence existed on this place, four years ago, when the Rev. Heath moved onto it. Not a building existed. A small shack was first erected. Now every tenant is supplied with a home, fences are modern and plentiful.

The gin at Tokio, 11 miles south, and gins at Brownfield, 35 miles southeast, seperate staple from seeds and deliver the finished balé to the Heath brand, each cotton season. Farmers and stickmen of the South Plains of Texas, and of points in New Mexico, as far removed as Roswell, know the Heath brand of yellow corn, carried in many truckloads every fall and winter.

As active as any man of 45 years, Rev. Mr. Heath oversees this unique plantation personally. His enthusiasm is evident and his success is something of which all Texans might well be proud.

Mr. Edge has been named ambassador to France. He'll have to be pretty sharp to put anything over on those foreign diplomats.

A North Carolina editor walked down the street attired in pajamas. Aha! Another editorial exposure!

Outlaws Of Air Are Bother To Airport Watchmen

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 13 (AP).—On moonlit nights the Phantom of the skies can be heard throbbing low over the outskirts of the city.

Thinking that the throbbing motor may belong to a plane seeking to land at Winburn field after dark, the nightwatchman runs from his hangar at Winburn at the municipal airport and scans the starry skies.

But there is never anything in site; just the noise of a throbbing motor as it wings over the fields and mesquite thickets on the edge of the city tells that a plane is alone in the air.

Wayne Parks, manager of the field, explains these unseen "ships that pass in the night."—"They are outlaws of the air, dealers in bootleg, both bottled and human contraband. There are several of these planes being operated from the border, evidently, and they pick the moonlit nights in order to be able to land on some lonely flat stretch of land unseen."

Lack Of Publicity

NEW YORK — Man's inhumanity to man apparently is due to lack of publicity. Local papers carried the pathetic story of a mother watching over the body of her 12-year-old daughter at the morgue because she lacked burial expenses, and within a few hours contributions totaling several thousands of dollars had been made, several burial plots offered and material aid for the mother arranged.

There were 40,960 marriages performed in Indiana during 1928, according to the U S. Department of Commerce. This is in contrast to the 41,112 performe din 1927.

STOCKS HAVE IRREGULARITY

PROFIT-TAKING RESULT OF BRISK RALLY ON MONDAY TRADING

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP).—The stock market developed irregularity at the opening today as a result of profit taking inspired by yesterday's brisk rally. U. S. Steel common opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 229 7-8, up 1-4 and a new high record. Sears Roebuck advanced 2 1-4 points and New Haven 1. Westinghouse Electric dropped 2 3-8 on the first sale and New York Central, Frisco common and Atchison yielded a point or so.

Selling increased as trading progressed and many early gains were cancelled. A number of issues sagged 1 to 4 points below yesterday's final quotations.

Steel Goes Higher

U. S. Steel common set a new high at 230 and then slid off nearly 2 points before the end of the first half hour. General Electric dropped 3 1-2 points, American Can 2 and American Water Works, International Telephone, Standard Gas and Electric, Radio, Johns Manville, American Locomotive, Dupont and General Refractories yielded a point or more.

Oils were in fairly brisk demand on unofficial mid-continent advices that the proposed decrease in crude oil in that territory had been delayed for at least 30 days. Pan American B opened with a block of 5,000 shares and Standard Oil of New Jersey with a block of 8,000 shares, both up fractionally. Houston Oil ran up more than 2 points.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with cables unchanged at 4.84 13-16.

Lubbock Business Man Endorses Orgatone

"I'm Grateful For the Health and Happiness It Has Brought To My Home."

"I'm one of the happiest men in Texas, today, and I just want to tell my friends what Orgatone has done for my wife," said Mr. J. T. South, of 1613 Sixteenth street, Lubbock, Texas, who owns and operates the J. T. South Gin company.

"She had suffered so for the past 15 years," he continued, "with that we had almost given up hope stomach trouble and indigestion, —she had very little appetite and what food she did eat would stay in her stomach and make gas and misery for her, her nerves went all to pieces, and she got weak and run-down and would have to lie down and rest during the day while trying to do her housework. She was very restless and could hardly sleep, lost weight and felt despondent and downhearted all the time. Her liver was in a bad condition and she never found any kind of medicine that would give her much relief until we found Orgatone.

"She is getting wonderful results and we both think Orgatone is the best medicine in the world. Her stomach trouble and indigestion is a thing of the past now and she has such a big appetite that she can hardly get enough to eat. She sleeps good every night and is enjoying life better than she has in a long time. I'm certainly grateful for the happiness Orgatone has brought to my home by restoring my wife's health. I honestly believe it will help everybody."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents. Adv

COTTON PRICE STEADY TODAY

OPENING HAS ADVANCE OF 3 POINTS; RAINS ARE INFLUENCE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13 (AP) — The cotton market opened steady first trades showing no change to three points up compared with yesterday's close. Favorable cables and reports of too much rain in the east were influences behind the firmness. October sold up to 18.12, December 18.43 and January 18.41, or 9 to 12 points above yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market continued steady and prices were near the highs.

Values continued to gain owing to unfavorable weather, expectations of a bullish consumption report tomorrow and an unfavorable weekly weather and crop report. Under covering and trade buying October traded to 18.20, December 18.47 and January 18.48, or 14 to 17 points above yesterday's close.

At mid-session the market was steady and at the top.

OPENING IS STEADY ON NEW YORK BOARD

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 2 to 6 points on buying which appeared to be based on an unfavorable view o fthe weather.

Offerings were light, and the market worked up to 18.22 for October and 18.77 for March inearly trading, or about 9 to 14 points above yesterday's close. Some trade buying and covering were reported on the advance.

The advance extended to 18.27 for October and 18.82 for March later or 15 to 20 points above yesterday's close. Some further Wall Street and local buying was reported but general business continued quiet and the market was a few points off from the best at midday under realizing.

MORE IRRIGATION IS URGED FOR AREA AROUND PLAINVIEW; MILLION COULD BE ADDED IN CROPS, HOLBROOK SAYS

(Special to The Journal)

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 13 (AP)—Another million dollars could be added to Hale county's annual crop values by the further development of irrigation around Plainview, according to Captain Winfield Holbrook, general manager of the Texas Land and Development company, in an address before the Plainview Kiwanis club Friday, when irrigation was discussed by Holbrook and Chas. A. Malone.

Holbrook says that under the present system of farming, with large acreages devoted to wheat and cotton, the county is approximately eighty per cent developed insofar as population is concerned, but that with more intensive farming such as irrigation would make possible, the county is capable of supporting thousands of families more.

Malone Gives Story

Chas. A. Malone told of his farm northwest of Plainview where he is installing eight pumping plants all operated by electricity from a two hundred horsepower Deisel type engine. He is producing energy at a cost of half a cent per killowatt, not counting the interest on his investment. A 990 gallon capacity well cost him six cents per hour for operation on this current, and labor cost is running $8 per day, and fuel $1.50. When his project is completed he will have eight pumps on the farm each housed in a brick building with a concrete slap top with an opening for pulling the pump for repairs.

Malone is now putting his fourth crop of alfalfa this year. He has 400 acres in alfalfa.

OIL NEWS NOTES

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 (AP).—Four hundred and seventy one producing oil wells in Texas were recorded with the Oil and Gas division of the railroad commission during July, according to a compilation released today. There were 282 dry holes and 39 gas wells listed for the month. Eight hundred and ninety six permits to drill were issued.

Of the producing wells 58 were in Wilbarger county, 46 in Wichita county, 41 in Archer county, 37 in Gray county, 29 in Caldwell county, 28 in Pecos county, 24 in Shackelford county and 19 in Winkler county.

LULING, Aug. 13 (AP)—Penn Company's oil well on the John Manford farm four miles west of Luling blew in this morning with a production estimated between 6,000 and 15,000 barrels. The production is from the Taylor Marl. Oil and gas have broken from the ground in four places 100 yards from the well and the ravines nearby are filling with oil.

It is on a line with the Luling salt flats field and the Dallas Wilson well.

ing by Pipgras. Pennock and Sherid.

Danny MacFayden was in form, and the Boston Red Sox blanked Chicago 3-0. MacFayden yielded only three hits while Ted Lyons was beaten as early as the first inning when two walks, a triple by Rothrock and a double steal gave Boston three runs.

Doubles by Judge and Rice in the ninth gave Washington a 3-2 triumph over St. Louis.

BETTING BAN PUT ON TEXAS RACES

DALLAS, Aug. 13 (AP).—Making a success of a $100,000 turf meet, which will be minus betting, is the aim of W. T. Waggoner, whose Panchio ran third in the 1929 Kentucky derby.

A modest admission will be the only source of revenue.

To Run 10 Days

The $2,000,000 Three-D stables at Arlington, west of Dallas, will be the scene of a ten-day meet this fall. Waggoner and his sons, Guy and Paul, seek to attract nearly 500 of the nation's leading thoroughbreds for 70 races—seven each day.

Texas laws prohibit betting, and the Waggoners say the races from November 6 to 16, inclusive, will be operated strictly within the law.

Bradley to Enter

Col. E. R. Bradley, owner of the Idle Hour farm, is one of several sportsmen who have announced positively they will send entries for this first Texas racing meet in years. Others are Senator J. N. Camden, W. R. Coe of the Shoshone stable; J. P. Headley, owner of Paradise Stock farm; Col. W. S. Dudley and P. T. Chinn, owner of the Himyar stable.

Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas stable and Harry Payne Whitney's Green Tree stable probably will send representative strings, the Waggoners have announced.

Prizes High

Purses and prizes exceeding $100,000 already have been posted. No race will be worth less than $1,000, and several will pay $5,000 or more. There will be at least two rich cup events.

Three tracks and a huge steel grand stand will be erected at the Three-D farm by October, and new stables are being built to accommodate 500 horses.

Cox Is Suspended Until August 16th

DALLAS, Aug. 13 (AP)—Larmon Cox, Fort Worth right fielder, has been suspended without pay for three days and will be ineligible to participate in Texas League games until August 16, according to an announcement made at the League's office here today. The statement said the suspension of Cox follows a verbal barrage fired by the player at Umpire Donnelly Monday after Cox was called out on strikes.

"NOBODY KNOWS" IS EXPLANATION OF CAUSE AND PROBABILITY OF SHOCKS

(By Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—Inquiry of Dr. George C. Ashley, state geologist as to the cause and probability of a repetition of today's earthquake in the Lake Erie region drew the reply that "nobody knows."

The only possible surmise, he said, is that it is associated with recent earth movements.

The state geologist explained that 7,000 to 15,000 years ago following the great glacial period, an upheaval or upward movement of the earth's crust took place in the lake Ontario regions, geologists believe that this movement took place slowly. Whether it still is in progress is not known. If it is the movement would seem to be the most plausible cause for Monday's temblor. If that be the case then other quakes may be so slow that centuries may pass before sufficient stresses and strains could accumulate leading to adjustment in the form of another earthquake.

MILL STOPPAGE IS CONTINUED

MANCHESTER, Eng., Aug 13 (AP). With practically all of the operatives' organizations steadfastly opposed to direct negotiation as a solution of the Lancashire cotton industry stoppage and only a few of the employers inclined to arbitration, the stoppage entered its third week today and with little sign of an end.

The dispute arose over the demand of the employers for a reduction in wages of 12 1-2 per cent.

Court Rules Man Must Sing Twice Daily To Wife

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP).—Once more the neighbors of John Ropavac will hear the golden voiced tenor of the West Side singing "My Angeline" in the morning and possibly also at night.

The singing will be done by court order.

Mrs. Ropavac testified that she married her husband because of his voice, but that he never sang any more, and that he frequently got drunk.

The court ruled that any woman who marries a man for his golden voice has a right to hear him sing, and ordered Ropavac to sing to his wife twice a day.

Untin Bowler Crew Returning To Home

THE PAS, Man., Aug. 13 (AP).—The crew of the Chicago to Berlin plane Untin Bowler, which was lost in the ice floes of northern Labrador, were on their way down the bay line today and were expected to arrive here Wednesday. The men, Robert Wood, Bob Gast and Parker Cramer, are enroute to Chicago.

Oklahoma Benefited By Series of Rains

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13 (AP).—Showers over Oklahoma last night and today broke long droughts in many areas and drought relief, temporarily at least, from a prolonged heat wave.

Practically all sections of western Oklahoma were visited by much needed rains yesterday and last night, and today corn crops were reported to have taken on new life. All crops were helped by the showers, but late planted corn reaped the most benefit.

In some sections wind and electrical storms accompanied the showers. Minor damage was reported.

Food Poisoning Is Result of Picnic

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 13 (AP).—Between 50 and 75 persons, including members of the 51st service squadron, Brooks Field, and their families were recovering at their homes and quarters Monday from the effects of food poisoning suffered during a picnic Saturday afternoon.

STATE HIGHWAY PROGRAM LOOMS AS ISSUE IN NEXT TEXAS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

C. OF C. MOVE FOR ROAD PLAN HOLDS INTEREST

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Organization of an association of members of regional chambers of commerce to advocate the state-wide bond issue principle of constructing permanent highways aroused considerable political discussion around the capitol.

Probabilities are a political tinge was given to the organization meeting here and endorsement of a bond issue plan because there is a considerable movement — although quiet—on foot to induce R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the highway commission, to become a candidate for governor.

Amendment Refused

Sterling probably was the staunchest advocate of the bond issue constitutional amendment the legislature refused to submit to the people last February.

"Mean" politicians have gone so far since the regional chambers of commerce decided to "educate the people" to the wisdom of building highways with the proceeds of a state bond issue as to intimate that designing friends of Sterling's gubernatorial candidacy planned the organization to further (beneath the surface) the highway commission chairman's chances of being elected.

Should Sterling enter the gubernatorial campaign his chief platform plank is bound to be the state bond issue principle of building highways.

Has Good Excuse

It could be said that were Sterling ambitious to become governor of Texas he would have—right now—a splendid excuse for entering the race.

"Why, he could step right out and tell the people that he is making the race on his bond issue platform and in support of his belief that this is the quickest, cheapest and fairest way of constructing a system of permanent highways in Texas," a friend of his remarked. "He does not need a regional chamber of commerce organization as a subterfuse to further his campaign. He is sold on the bond issue plan and if he had a mind to he could stump this old state from a to z and succeed in selling the taxpayers on the idea."

Announcement Expected

Political "knowalls" claim Sterling's announcement for governor will be forthcoming as soon as it is decided definitely Gov. Dan Moody will not aspire to a third term in order to try to elect a legislature friendly to his income tax (to replace the ad valorem levy) and public utility regulation proposals.

It is taken as a foregone conclusion that should Sterling run, his candidacy will have the approval of Gov. Moody.

Another almost certatinty is that should Sterling run, Robert Lee Bobbitt of Laredo, former speaker of the House of Representatives, will wait for another time to make his race.

Want Fair Officials

Speaking of the formation of the association to further the bond issue brings into daylight the organization of the Southeast and West Texas association, effected at Galveston some time ago by state leaders, including Mayors C. M. Chambers of San Antonio and Walter Monteith of Houston, for the announced purpose of standing for the election to state offices of men who will give the Southeast and West Texas sections a "fair deal" in the matter of administering public affairs.

The strange part of it is the participation of Mayor Monteith, for whose election to the office of mayor of Houston, Sterling strove tirelessly. Mayor Monteith was made temporary chairman of the organization and Mayor Chambers almost forthwith began an attack upon the official acts of Sterling. Mayor Chambers through interviews in the public prints said the highway commission had discriminated against San Antonio and as an example held up the long delayed paving of a 17-mile stretch between San Antonio and Corpus Christi. He said publicly and unmistakably that he would not support Sterling for governor.

An interesting phase of the whole matter will be the appearance of Sterling as the principal speaker before a session of the organization in San Antonio soon.

JONAH MOCKED

Snake Is Born In Calf; Kept In Alcohol

GRAND SALINE, Aug. 12 (AP)—Jonah is the name given to the dead snake which L. Davis, local veterinarian, is preserving in alcohol. He calls in Jonah, though the whale in this instance reputedly was a six-months old calf and the unwelcome and unusual passenger was a snake instead of a man.

Dr. Davis was called to the Elvin E. Swain home near here to examine a calf which seemed to be choking. Fearing that the calf had swallowed something that had lodged in its throat the veterinarian said he inserted a pair of forceps and extracted a snake about ten inches in length.

The snake was dead. Dr. Davis said he believed the calf while grazing, had swallowed a snake egg which hatched.

DALLAS MEN BUY FAMOUS RANCH

DALLAS, Aug. 13 (AP)—One of the noted cattle ranges of north Texas, known as the Three Circle ranch near Bluffdale, Erath county, has changed hands, it was learned here with announcement that the sale had been closed with Bellows and Macjay of Dallas for consideration of about $250,000.

The ranch of 14,114 acres was owned formerly by the late E. E. Baldridge of Fort Worth, who sold it to G. E. Cowden and son in 1915. The Cowdens operated it since.

Philadelphia Hit By Lightning Display

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (AP)—An unusual display of lightning flashed over Philadelphia last night.

The Atlantic Refining company's plant in South Philadelphia was struck twice, a 50,000 gallon tank of gasoline and a 50,000 gallon tank of fuel oil being destroyed.

A bolt struck a house in the northern part of the city and knocked Frank Graham, sr., and his son Frank, jr., from their chairs. It then passed out a window and struck Michael Lafferty as he walked along the street. None were seriously hurt.

BOY'S FATHER SOUGHT

MILFORD, Conn., Aug. 13 (AP)—Finding of the body of three-year-old Albert Mikenas, missing since July 29, has caused intensive search by police authorities for Peter Mikenas, Ansonia baker, father of the child.

The boy disappeared at Myrtle Beach, where he had gone to enjoy a holiday with his mother. His body, a deep gash in the head as from an axe, was found by a lifeguard yesterday two miles from the beach.

LABOR GROUP FAVOR STRIKE

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF FEDERATION GIVES APPROVAL

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 13.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor meeting here today endorsed the action of the general executive board of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union in authorizing a strike of 45,000 workers in the dress and waist industry throughout New York City. According to President William Green, president, the strike has been ordered for December 1 with the National organization rendering full support to the garment workers.

The Executive council approved the strike after listening in executive session to Benjamin Schiessinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, who reported on the economic situation within his organization and stressed especially the situation in the past four months.

No mention was made by President Green who spoke for the council as to whether or not the executive board also approved the garmen workers strike threatened in many other cities throughout the country.

Stranded Fur Ship's Crew Awaits Rescue

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13 (AP)—Stranded on the bleak Arctic coast of Siberia, 300 miles east of the Kolyma river, the crew of the Norwegian fur ship Elisif today awaited the arirval of the Russian freighter Stavatoll.

The three masted motorship was beached by its crew of twenty men to prevent its foundering. A radio message said the men had plenty of provisions and that good weather prevailed.

Captain Evan Larsen of Brevik, Norway, commanded the ship which was owned by the Swenson Fur Trading company of Seattle.

Recently freed from a year's imprisonment in the ice pack off North Cape, the ship was westward bound toward the Kolyma river when again caught in the grinding ice Saturday night. It was so badly damaged that the captain decided she had to be beached.

Brown Is Selected As Commissioner

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 13 (AP) — Temporary appointment of Judge G. O. Brown, San Antonio attorney, to the position of U. S. Commissioner which was vacated by the death of Commissioner B. M. Siddall, 53, early Monday, was announced Monday afternoon following receipt of a telegram from Federal Judge Duval West, in Colorado.

Commissioner Siddall died suddenly at his home here following a heart attack, members of his family said.

Fireworks Cause Big Loop Blast

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Fireworks piled in a school yard as part of a celebration arranged for a church festival exploded shortly after midnight Monday, injuring 10 persons and shattering windows in nearby buildings. Several hundred men and women attending the festival fled for cover when the explosion occurred.

A burning cigaret was believed responsible for setting fire to the sky rockets, Roman candle and elaborate set pieces which had been placed in the middle of the yard.

Oil Well Fire Is Out After 6 Days

BEAUMONT, Aug. 13 (AP)—The fire in the Republic Production company's well, Dolbear No. 36 at Hull-Daisette, was extinguished early today after a fight of six days. The main flow of oil was diverted through a six-inch pipe and a specially constructed asbestos lined steel cap was placed over the main pipe.

Company officials estimate the loss at $250,000.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.
