FOR RE-ELECTION

Councilmen On Ballot

All 3 city councilmen whose terms expire this spring will be candidates for re-election. The trio made known their intentions this week when they officially filed at City Hall for places on the April 5 municipal ballot.

They are:
Mayor Trevor Crawford, Cosden Petroleum Corporation's supervisor engineer at Col-Tex Refinery.
Mayor Pro Tem Garland Green, who this week resigned as manager of Baker Hotel.
Sie Hamm, member of the staff of Colorado Drug Company.

Crawford will be seeking his fourth term as councilman and Hamm will be a candidate for his third. Green will be seeking his second term.

The three councilmen are the only candidates who have filed for ballot places in the city election.

Deadline for candidates to file for places on the municipal ballot is March 5, 30 days before the actual voting.

Dr. Oscar E. Rhode and Dr. H. Jene Steakley remain the only candidates for the Colorado Independent School District trustee election April 2.

Rhode is board chairman and completing his second 3-year term. Steakley, secretary of the board, is finishing his first 3-year term.

Deadline for candidates to file for places on the school ballot is March 2.

5 Lone Wolf Delegates At Convention

A delegation from Lone Wolf Electric Inc. is in St. Louis, Mo., this week for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association's annual convention.

The convention opened Monday and continued through today.

In the delegation are Raymond Perdue, Lone Wolf manager; Herbert Cooper of Roscoe, president of the board of directors; Linden Solomon of Cuthbert, A. K. McCarley Jr. of Buford and Raymond Althoff of Roscoe, directors.

Perdue left by train last week in order to meet with the national association's resolutions committee prior to the convention. He is a member of the committee—composed of 10 members from 10 regions of the U. S.

Others in the delegation left by plane from Abilene Sunday.

The convention is the 18th annual meeting of the NRECA and comes when the rural electrification program is observing its 25th silver jubilee year.

Lone Wolf's group are among 7,000 delegates attending from 1,000 cooperatives.

Thirteen states have contestants in the convention's "Miss Rural Electrification" competition and Texas is represented by June Johnson of Lubbock. Convention speakers include Senators Olin Johnson of South Carolina, George D. Aiken of Vermont and Frank E. Moss of Utah; REA administrator David A. Hamill and NCREA general manager Clyde T. Ellis.

Bright Future Seen For West Tex Agri-Business

Convention Roles For 3 Educators

Three Mitchell County educators will be among convention leaders when District 4 of Texas State Teachers Association opens its sessions March 3 and 4 in Big Spring.

They are Supt. Frank Wilson and Mrs. Gerald Gordon of Colorado City and Supt. Herman M. Parsons of Westbrook.

Mrs. Gordon is secretary of the 14-county district and will be one of the busy officers at the convention.

Wilson is responsible for preparation for presentation of new business at the house of delegates action Thursday night, March 3, and is a member of the district's nominating committee.

The Westbrook superintendent, Parsons, is president of Mitchell County unit of Texas State Teachers Association and will chairmen the small school administrators study group at the convention.

A total of 3,100 paid registrations already have been counted for next week's convention from teachers and school administrators, according to S. M. Anderson of Big Spring, district vice president and chairman of convention arrangements.

Speakers for the general sessions will be Frank G. Clement, former governor of Tennessee, and Dr. James H. Jauncey, El Paso, clergyman of many talents. He has 10 academic degrees, and has had over 20 years of experience in science, engineering, psychology, education, religion and journalism.

The major event of the Thursday, March 3, meeting is the house of delegates banquet in the Hotel Settles dining room. President Floyd McCrury of Odessa will be in charge of the 200 member of official body.

Friday's 2 general sessions, 8 departmental luncheons and 41 sectional meetings will engage the association members in their 25th annual meeting (first meeting of District 4 since District 13 was split off to take care of growing numbers.)

District 4 of the TSTA now includes Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Crane, and Upton counties.

2 Additional Shallow Tests For County

Grace & Company, which acquired control of Cosden with acquisition of majority stock during recent weeks.

Banker Tells Conference Here Friday

An official of The Bank of the Southwest here Wednesday tabbed West Texas' agri-business future "bright spot" for the state.

But he tied the prediction to 2 specific actions: (1) when farmers of the area realize their potential of utilizing their main crops through feeding, livestock, and (2) when they increase their integration or custom operations to large scale.

O. (Dooley) Dawson, vice president of Bank of the Southwest, mapped the potential, and problems too, of West Texas' agriculture in a concluding feature of Colorado City's third annual Agri-Business Conference.

Approximately 135 persons — a crowd cut short by snow and heard Dawson and other experts throughout the day in Civic House report on agri-business conditions.

All 5 — Dooley, Dr. Gerald Thomas of Texas Tech, Earl Seargent of Wichita Falls, John G. McHaney of Texas A&M and Bruce Frazier of Big Spring — emphasized the factor of constant change in the agricultural picture.

At the same time, they reported that agriculture still is the dominant factor in the nation's health and economic welfare, international relations and survival, itself.

Dawson told the conference that vertical integration — a means, usually through contracts, for controlling 2 or more stages in the chain of producing, processing and distributing farm products — is moving more and more into Texas agriculture.

"This is a step toward a stable supply and demand basis," he said.

He cited the field of animal agriculture in which integrated programs account for 90 per cent of all broilers, 50 per cent of all turkeys, 20 per cent of eggs, less than 10 per cent of hogs, 25 per cent of all sheep and from 10 to 20 per cent of cattle (which means these cattle are either fed contract or custom fed).

"We in the United States," Dawson said, "are fortunate that we have the best farmers in the world. But they have their problems.

"Our farm people in the U. S. are less than 1 per cent of the world's population, yet they produce a fifth of the world's output of red meat and nearly one-third of the world's milk."

He reported 9 per cent of our nation's farm population is 65 years old and over, compared to 5 per cent 30 years ago. And inflated prices are making it more difficult for young people to acquire their own farms.

"While the rise of land values represents a valuable reserve for the farmer ready to retire," the banker said, "it does not enhance the position of the operating farmer.

"It makes it difficult for him to expand his operations to a more efficient level. He either has to marry or inherit a farm, then inflation in operating costs affects him."

But, inflation and the need for an even flow of products and improvement of quality makes the future of agri-business in West Texas look bright, according to Dawson.

"With the shifting of row crop farming, mainly cotton, to West, Texas and the increased growing of grain sorghum, alfalfa and oat crops under irrigation," the banker official stated, "agribusiness here perhaps has a very bright future in West Texas."

WINTER'S LOW

Temp Dips to 8 With Snow, Ice

Winter's late thrust knocked Colorado City's temperature to a icy 8 degrees Thursday morning.

That's what the reading was on the official U. S. Weather Bureau gauge on Courthouse square at 7 a. m.

It was the third straight morning that the chill had been far below freezing.

Just the day before, Wednesday, when snow flurries covered Mitchell County most of the day, the temperature hit a low of 16 degrees.

And the weather wasn't much warmer, Tuesday, when the low point was 21 degrees.

Actually, the late February cold wave has been around for more than 2 weeks. You can count the days and 9 out of the last 15 have felt the temperature below freezing.

Those 6 days when there was no freeze, the thermometer usually was close to the 32-degree mark. In fact, the warmest low reading was 42 degrees Saturday.

Here's the way the low temperature has been recorded during the last 2 weeks — 33 degrees Feb. 11, 28 degrees Feb. 12, 31 degrees Feb. 13, 24 degrees Feb. 14, 32 degrees Feb. 15, 32 degrees Feb. 16, 22 degrees Feb. 17, 22 degrees Feb. 18, 35 degrees Feb. 19, 42 degrees Feb. 20, 22 degrees Feb. 21, 34 degrees Feb. 22, 21 degrees Feb. 23, 18 degrees Feb. 24, 42 degrees Feb. 25.

Mrs. Weaver Presents Book Review to Zetagathian Club

"A book, 'The Lost Joy,' with special meaning to one of our members, will be the topic of my program today," stated Mrs. Martin Weaver to members of the Zetagathian Study Club when it met Friday in the home of Mrs. Henry Lewis.

"The book belongs to Mrs. Bunky Girvin and was given to her by her mother. She read and reread the book during her growing up years," Mrs. Weaver continued.

"All day the soft wind played with her hair, and the young, young, face looked across the water," read Mrs. Weaver. "She was waiting—she was waiting; but she could not tell for what."

"Then a keel grated on the sand, and then a step was on the shore—Life awoke and heard it," she continued. "A hand was laid upon her, and a great shudder passed through her," said Mrs. Weaver. "She looked up and saw over her the strange, wide eyes of Love—and Life now knew for whom she had sat there waiting," said the speaker.

"One day Life and Love lay down to sleep and when they awoke, it was gone; only, near them on the grass, sat a little stranger, with wide-open eyes very soft and sad," the speaker continued to read. "Oh, our Joy, our lost Joy, shall we see you no more forever?"

Mrs. Weaver stated that when, on the sharp stone life cut her feet, he wiped the blood upon his garments and kissed the wounded feet with his little lips.

"The grave, sweet, tender thing—warm in the coldest snows, brave in the greatest deserts—its name is Sympathy; it is the Perfect Love," said the speaker.

Mrs. Weaver stated that the "Lost Joy" is an allegory with intimate objects taking the place of real characters.

"In our story we have Life, Love, Joy, Reflection and Sympathy," said the speaker.

Mrs. Weaver was introduced by Mrs. Eldon Mahon.

Guest of honor was Mrs. J. W. Watson, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs.

The refreshment table was laid with a cutwork linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of daffodils. Silver appointments were used for serving.

Mrs. W. S. Rhode presided at the tea service.

Those attending were Mrs. Henry Lewis, Mrs. Clarence Collins, Mrs. Trevor Crawford, Mrs. James Trammell, Mrs. Girvin, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. Mahon, Mrs. Sam Majors Jr., Mrs. Don Mecoy, Mrs. Rhode, Mrs. Bob Robin-

Rural Electrification...good for All Americans!

Business is better today—paychecks fatter, jobs more secure in every American city and town. And—there's a good reason why.

This year 16 million Americans, now served by non-profit rural electric systems, will buy over a billion dollars worth of electric appliances—made, sold and serviced in these cities and towns. That was impossible 25 years ago. Then only one of ten American families, outside the city limits, had or could get electric power. That's when rural Americans, by working together, began to serve themselves with this necessity of modern living.

So—we cordially invite all Americans to share our joy as we celebrate the 25th Birthday of rural electrification. We are proud to have played a small but important part in bringing this "miracle" about. We are happy that rural electrification has proved to be "good for ALL Americans."

BY MRS. CRICKET TAYLOR

Methods of Laundering Told To Home Demonstration Club

Mrs. Cricket Taylor, Mitchell County Home Demonstration Agent, was featured on the program of the Carr Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon in the City Recreation Center.

Mrs. Travis spoke on the use of modern laundering materials.

"The 2 basic facts in washing our clothes are we want the white clothes white and the colored clothes bright," she said.

She said that we once dumped lye in our wash water to break or soften the water but now with our modern washing machines and materials to use in washing machine, our ways of washing have changed.

"Your water should be from 140 degrees to 160 degrees before you use it for washing," she explained.

She said that there is no need to use a water softener in either the wash or rinse when a synthetic detergent is used unless the water is over 21 grains hard.

The speaker said that if the water is 21 grains harder, then it may be helpful to use a non-precipitating type of water softener in the wash.

"Don't use soap and detergent together in the same wash as one will work in opposition to the other and your wash will be a failure," she stated.

She explained that if you use soap in hard water (in contrast to detergent) use a water softener to get cotton clothes clean.

"As the soap unites with the minerals in hard water to form a soap curd that clings to fabrics and leaves them a gray, dingy appearance," stated the speaker.

The speaker stated that you can remove this dingy look if your clothes have accumulated a buildup of lime soap by washing them in hot water with a non-precipitating type of softener.

Serving as hostess for the group was Mrs. F. A. Langley.

Mrs. Louis Rees was in charge of a quiz game and Mrs. Ruth Airhart conducted a song.

Mrs. D. G. Rollins, president, presided during the business session during which the roll was called and answered with "habits I want to break," being given by each member.

Mrs. O. J. Buchanan was elected candidate for delegate for the district meeting in Littlefield.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. C. C. Buchanan, Mrs. Rollins, Mrs. Bohanan, Mrs. Louis Rees, Mrs. C.N. Adams, Mrs. Tom Jackson, Mrs. Airhart, Mrs. John Latty, Mrs. Langley and Mrs. Taylor.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Louis Rees March 4 at 2 p. m.

TRADE

is a Builder (Does your trade build for you?)

Trade built this community . . . its homes, its churches, its schools, its business houses, its jobs, its pleasant way of life. Without Trade . . . the exchange between neighbors of labor's fruits for goods and services . . . none of these would — nor could — exist here.

Quite naturally . . . more trade builds better communities. Every single additional dollar that is spent here at home does its bit to bring greater prosperity for you and for all of us who live here.

As a matter of fact, Trade builds wherever it exists. Spend your money at home, the trade it creates builds here. Spend it in the city, the building takes place there.

There is contentment, security and opportunity in a growing community. These are the most important things that your trade dollar buys . . . but they can't be wrapped up and taken home with you from a city store.

The dollar you spend in another town or city buys more real benefits for somebody else than it does for you. You get a bit of goods; the folks who live there get more prosperity . . . paid for by your money

"It may be the best of any section in the state. "I make this statement on the following basis: When farmers of this area realize their potential of utilizing their grain, ensilage and cotton byproducts through feeding cattle, hogs and other livestock, this area should become one of the meat processing, packing and distribution centers in America.

"This step calls for an increase in agri-business or integration on a larger scale." Dawson said great strides have been made in developing scientific methods for agriculture, production, but there is a serious lag in the development of good business organization and methods, cost analysis and record keeping.

And he believes that development of West Texas agriculture to its fullest, which would require more integration, would bring improvement along this business side of agriculture.

"When your livestock are finished, processed and marketed from this area," Dawson said, "agri-business will develop to its fullest.

"And before this comes about the pros and cons will be discussed from every angle."

The Bank of the Southwest vice president, however, told the conference that contract farming really is nothing new to the American farmer.

"Contract farming is nothing new to the American farmer," he explained, "because he has been farming under contract with the government for 27 years and my knowledge.

"And the sugar beet grower and vegetable grower in certain areas in the state have been contract farming for years."

Dawson said important forces behind future development of agri-business in West Texas include: (1) efforts of slaughterers and distributors to a sure themselves an adequate and stable supply of livestock, poultry or meats; (2) efforts of processors and distributors to control the quality of livestock, poultry and meat; (3) efforts of farmers to spread or reduce risk and reduce cost; (4) efforts of farmers to improve prices and create new markets; (5) need of additional capital by farmers.

110 TO 53 OVER KIRBYVILLE

Win No. 61 Wraps Up State Title for Wallace

Wallace Wildcats won consecutive game number 61 last weekend and captured the state Class B championship for the second year in a row. The Wildcats, consisting of Charles Lindsey, David Miles, Tony Jones, Clifton Lee, Melvin Williams, Archie Biggers, Curtis Scott, Willie Taylor and Henry Burton left Colorado City on a cold Thursday morning seeking another state championship. The following Saturday in Prairie View they reached their goal.

Coach Harris' boys swamped Kirbyville in the finals, 110-53.

In order to get to the finals, the Wallace team blasted Alvarado, 98-54 behind Lindsey's 26 points and Lee's 22 points. Wallace then locked up in a defensive battle with a rough and tough Detroit team and edged the East Texas team, 48-46 in a thriller.

That game was tied at the end of first frame, 13-13 and at the half, 25-25. The steady shooting of Charles Lindsey and David Miles kept Wallace ahead by at least 2 points in the last half. J. Savage, a Detroit giant was a constant threat throughout the contest.

In the final game, Charles Lindsey made 41 points for the high score. Others and their scores were Curtis Scott, 21, and David Miles, Tony Jones and Clifton Lee with 16 points each.

The final game was never a contest since Wallace made 22 points to Kirbyville's 8 in the first quarter. The Wildcats had a 22-point lead at the half, 46-24.

Melvin Williams played a very good defensive game as usual.

There was additional glory for the Wallace team as it claimed its second state championship in 2 years.

Two of its foremost players were named to the All-State Tournament Team.

Taylor, Jimmy Ritchy, Coach Bill Everett, Peter Garrett, David Taylor, Terry Redwine and Richard Smith.

In addition, Coach W. D. Harris received the honor of being named all tournament coach at the weekend tourney. The Wallace team holds a very impressive record in statistics. Among outstanding facts are the 28 games played and won this year and the 61 consecutive victories counted by the team. Not many teams can truthfully boast 61 games won since meeting defeat.

The Wildcats have scored 2272 points in their 28 games this year while opponents

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros."
—Tom McCall, Mechanics Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the bedroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars."

—L. H. Hoack, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles so beautifully and is so safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . It is a great car."

Would I Do This To My Brother?

Perhaps no other problem facing humanity is so in need of solution as the bigotry, latent and active, which besets men and nations. It has existed ever since ancient times.

The Man of Galilee recognized this when he admonished "That Ye Love One Another." The progress toward realizing the ideals of the commandment over the centuries has been slow, but perceptible.

No person, except perhaps those who pride themselves upon their prejudices, can for one moment doubt the high cost to the human race in the lack of Brotherhood.

That bigotry and intolerance do exist is one of the saddest commentaries on man and the social order, particularly in a Nation which prides itself in its high standards of economic and political progress.

We spend billions for material and physical means with which to wage defense and even as we do this there is a cancerous ill of hate and prejudice dividing us in some degree.

A nation girding its loins against any aggressor must first have completely cohesive forces in the realm of the spirit and in the brotherhood of its people.

Yet, what is true brotherhood?

The question is timely, for this is National Brotherhood Week, and for this short period of seven days the word will be used freely, in speeches, in editorials and in general conversation.

If it is to mean anything to us in America and throughout the world, the brotherhood of men must be more than a word. It must come from the heart, not from the lips; it must not be a topic of conversation for a brief week, but a way of life for generations. Its measurement must be in the final effect upon the lives of others.

What does one do for his blood brother? A man defends his brother against all enemies; he helps a brother who is in trouble; he makes allowances for a brother's errors and shortcomings. But most of all, he loves his brother.

The fundamental concept of true brotherhood was given us centuries ago in the simple commandment: Love one another. And it was founded in the fundamental concept of our belief in God—that God is the father of all men and, therefore, all men are brothers under God.

If brotherhood is to be more than an empty word, we must obey this commandment in all our dealings with our fellow men. If the brotherhood of man is to spread throughout the nation and the world, we must begin with ourselves, in our homes, teaching our children to respect and to honor all others, without regard for differences in race, religion or social status.

Infants in a nursery are true brothers. They know no differences in color of skin or creed until they are taught discrimination by adults. All the hatred and bigotry that plagues our lives could be eliminated if older generations were to stop transmitting these afflictions to their children.

Brotherhood will come alive in our homes and communities only if it is a living force within ourselves. When we can ask ourselves, "Would I do this to my brother?" and "Would I permit this to be done to my brother?" and let the answers guide our actions, only then will we know the meaning of the word and make it live.

Learning Youth

Governor Price Daniel has by official proclamation designated the week of March 5-12 as 4-H Club Week in Texas and has asked all citizens to participate in the observances being planned by 4-H members in the communities and counties of Texas.

The Governor in his proclamation said, "Learn, live and serve through 4-H is the 1960 challenge to Texas 4-H Club members. Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States Government in 1914 more than a million young Texans have received its benefits."

"An expanding 4-H program not only teaches the latest practices in agriculture and home economics, but emphasizes character, development and good citizenship. Club members learn by conducting result demonstrations and participating in 4-H activities. By putting into practice their homes and communities what they learn, club members live and serve through 4-H."

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Finance Plan Has More for Missiles

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek claims he has solved the problem of financing an adequate defense program. It's doubtful.

Dear editor:

"Where's we gonna get the money?" seems to be the main problem confronting the experts who contend the United States ought to spend more for defense.

Some of the top missile and space scientists have testified they could do a lot more and close the missile gap if they had more money to work with, but on the other hand expert economists have testified that balancing the budget is important to survival too. There is such a thing as getting a nation too far in debt.

Since everybody is in favor of a balanced budget, everybody in Washington seems stumped, they don't know where to turn to get more money for guided missiles, so I took off from work out here on my Johnson grass farm the past week and thought:

I now have a solution to the problem. Don't know why nobody has thought of it before.

The way to finance the guided missile program is to do it on the installment plan. Here's the situation: most Americans seem to be on the installment plan; two-thirds of the cars sold are sold that way, three-fourths of the refrigerators, nine-tenths of the television sets, etc. Nearly everybody has weekly and monthly installment payments to meet, and how they do it nobody knows.

But they do it. Take television. A few short years ago, before television came in, everybody was loaded to the gills with installment payments, yet here came television and everybody bought a television set. They just added it to the load and kept grinding.

So, all Washington has to do to finance the missile program is pass a law adding say five dollars a month to everybody's installment payments. I figure that'd bring in about four billion dollars extra a year, and everybody knows survival is worth five dollars a month.

If not, have them look at it this way: If Russia, figuring we're unprepared, sends over its batch of intercontinental ballistic missiles and blasts this country, some of them are bound to hit most of the electrical power plants, and did you ever stop to think what life would be like every night with the electricity off and no television?

Yours faithfully,

Proven Principles Hike Store Sales

By ROY V. FOX
Record Co-Publisher

What is good retail advertising? The best answer to this question would vary with the nature and objectives of retail firms.

However, there are certain proven principles which may be applied by nearly any retailer. These principles were effectively summarized by the vice president of a great department store during the 25th anniversary celebration of the firm.

Morris Markowitz of Alexander's Department Stores, New York, indicated that good retail advertising starts in the local newspaper.

"The founder had complete faith in newspaper advertising. Since our first ad, the original store has been enlarged on 33 occasions. This growth would not have been possible without the ability to tell our story in strong, clear, dramatic merchandising messages to people who read newspapers."

"Because newspapers are the most economical form of advertising, we have been able to give our customers some of the best values in town."

Alexander's policy, according to Mr. Markowitz, has been complete honesty in presentation of merchandise. It recognizes the use of simple and direct words in describing goods, and faith in the customer's ability to judge values.

"All we do is give the facts. We do not have to say that we are underselling any other store. The customers catch on soon enough," he said. Although the store does not run special sales, comparative prices are consistently listed.

The department store executive believes that the use of dominating space in newspapers is important. Full pages are sometimes given to single items in Alexander's advertising. An individual item rarely gets less than one-third of a page.

Many things are not what they seem—like that little guy at the end of the bar who teaches judo.

Senate Committee Starts Study For State Government Economy

By VLEN SANQUIR
Texas Press Association
With an eye on the growing cost of government and need for new taxes, a committee from the Texas Senate has launched an economy study.

Overall state budget for the present two-year spending period is $328,000,000 more than for the previous two-year period. It was an increase of about 11 per cent. There is every indication that the next Legislature will be faced with demands to raise salaries and expand and improve state services in approximately the same proportion.

Some of the cost increase is attributed to sheer quantity. With Texas population increasing an estimated 26 per cent from 1950-60, there are more youngsters to educate, more patients for state hospitals, more cars wearing out the roads.

More significantly, the percentages of oldsters and youngsters is increasing faster than the percentage of middle-aged people. Older and younger people generally pay revenue needs—for welfare benefits and schooling—but contribute less in taxes than income-earning middle-agers.

Some of the increase in costs results from a drive for quality—better schools, hospitals and highways.

With undeniable money needs so great, the Senate committee was set up to seek out any indications of extravagance or waste and see if we are getting our dollar's worth for the money we're spending.

As a starter, the committee, headed by Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney, agreed to hold its own expenses to the bare minimum.

BRIDGES LOW—State Highway Department Engineers are faced with the task of redesigning bridges for the interstate highways to conform with a U. S. Defense Department requirement for a 10-foot clearance.

Texas has 254 bridges in the interstate system which do not meet the newly announced overhead clearance requirement.

U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, which works with the Highway Department in planning the joint federal and state road system, has specified only a 14.5 foot clearance.

Bridges cost approximately $140,000 apiece and redesigning to meet the new standards would cost about 35 per cent of the original cost. Expenses for transport of missiles and other defense equipment are being considered.

WATER HEARING—When the subject is water development, Texans always seem to have a few million well-chosen words to exchange.

Hearing before the State Water Board over whether Houston and the Trinity River Authority shall receive a permit to build a new Trinity reservoir is one of the longest ever held. It has been in progress off and on since November.

Main opponent is the San Jacinto River Authority which wants Houston to use its money developing the San Jacinto rather than the Trinity.

SJRA witnesses contend the Trinity water will be inadequate in amount and unreliable for domestic use.

OIL CUT—Texas Railroad Commission set the March oil allowable at 2,900,568 barrels a day.

This is 120,988 barrels a day less than February allowable. It continues February's 10-day production pattern.

Most of the industry testimony before the Commission was gloomy. There is an over-supply of oil now, said some spokesmen, and another month of over-production would be disastrous.

RECOGNITION—Cities of Harlingen and West University Place (Harris Co.) are to receive awards for their water and sewage plants on March 2.

Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner, will present cups to representatives of the cities at a banquet sponsored by the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association.

Harlingen will be recognized for having the "most attractive water treatment plant in the state" and West University Place for the "most attractive sewerage treatment plant."

Presentation will be made during a short course for city water and sewage plant personnel to be held Feb. 28 to March 5 at Texas A&M College.

CARE FOR OLDSTERS—Texas' need for more mental hospital space has focused attention on the number of state mental hospital beds occupied by persons not mentally ill.

In a talk before the Texas Association for Mental Health, Gov. Price Daniel said, "One of our toughest problems now involves those 5,000 hospital patients whose only illness is advanced age."

"Senility is not insanity," said the governor, "and a concerted effort must be made to enable these aged citizens to be cared for in nursing homes or in their own homes."

State Hospital Board Chairman French Robertson called it "a sad thing that people send their old people to mental hospitals when they don't want to take care of them."

PATROL EXAMS—Young men between 21 and 35 years of age will have an opportunity in April to seek admission to one of the nation's most highly regarded law-enforcement agencies.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Department of Public Safety, announced that entrance examinations will be given April 12, 13 and 14 for candidates for the State Highway Patrol.

Applicants must be high school graduates, in good physical condition and of high moral character. They must be not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches tall and weigh not less than two pounds nor more than three pounds per inch of height.

Applicants should contact regional or district DPS offices or write the Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin.

BIBLE COMMENT

Bible Should be Natural Reading

Too many persons, surprised by a friend as they read the Bible, have shown embarrassment—self-consciousness at their literary taste.

In this age of best-sellers and television, it becomes the custom for many to apologize for reading the best of all times.

Because of nonreading, misreading and careless reading of the Bible, it can be argued that the Book, despite its wide distribution, has done little to spread the word of Christianity. Of course, it is not the Book that is at fault but the people who pick it up carelessly or self-consciously, or those who deposit it in a lower drawer in the living room, with other unused papers.

Involved as we are in great issues of our times—control of delinquency, crime, the search for a method to end war and to find individual peace in a world of restless forces—it should be natural for us to turn to a book that would provide comfort and a chance for self-inspection.

To absorb deeply and intelligently the meaning of the Bible's pages is an effort that should deserve at least the same amount of time each day as we may spend watching, say, a television wrestling match.

Instead of smiling an apology when a friend walks into the room, offer him the Book you are reading, that he, too, may have a chance to find peace in a disturbed age.

WASHINGTON REPORT

When Is Federal Agency a Judge?

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

Several months ago we called attention to the fact that members of government agencies frequently sit as judges in important cases without observing judicial procedures required under the Constitution.

We pointed out that if members of those so-called "independent" agencies are to exercise judicial powers granted them by Congress they should be subject to the same rules as judges in an established court of law.

This view was reemphasized recently when Louis J. Hector resigned as a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board and wrote President Eisenhower that it is absolutely necessary for board members and commissioners, in determining policy to discuss the subject before them with all interested parties.

In many cases a government agency investigator testifies under oath the defendant who is not permitted to have his attorney present or to secure a copy of the testimony. The prosecutor investigating them is not subject to the same rules as the defendant.

es in preparing a summary and presents his version of the interpretation of the board members. The members then may invite the defendant in for a conference or, in some cases, they may decide against him without a conference.

After the defendant has stated his side of the case, the prosecutor meets the agency board, or with its chairman, the defendant being excluded, and argues against the points made by the defendant. The defendant cannot confer with the board of its chairman during the time the case is pending because "he must treat them as judges."

The prosecutor, however, does not act as if the board members were judges.

Former Justice of the Supreme Court of Florida, E. K. Roberts, wrote us about an impeachment trial where the defendant's attorney, comments and personal remarks were not allowed.

"The Aeronautics Board," was introduced by a person of my own acquaintance who was present when many of the members were reading newspapers in very obvious distraction. Yet, when the roll was called, all of the members voted.

Weekend Of Sports on Tech Campus

LUBBOCK — If, after next week-end, someone claims Texas Tech didn't have the busiest campus athletically speaking, he won't get any dispute from Red Raider officials. They'll probably be too weary to argue.

In a space of 33 hours, beginning at 1 p. m. Friday, there will be three high school regional basketball tournaments involving 14 games, a varsity cage game, a freshman contest, a football coaching clinic, and an intra-squad grid exhibition.

Region One, Conference, 3-A, gets the high school action started at 2 p. m. Friday in the Coliseum as Brownwood plays Monahan, followed by Lamesa and Dumas. The two losers meet Saturday at 2:30 p. m., the winners at 4 p. m.

Competitors in the Region 1A and 2A tournament Saturday will be survivors of this Tuesday night's bi-district play.

Conference 1A pairings pit the Sudan-Idalou bi-district winner vs. Plains-Stanton winner at 8 a. m., the Sunray-Letors winner vs. the Junction-Marfa winner at 9:30 a. m., with the championship game set for 7:30 p. m.

In Conference 2A, the Post-Seminole winner meets the Cisco-Granbury winner at 11 a. m., followed at 12:30 p. m. by the Dimmitt - Aberrathy winner and the Childress-Hamlin winner. Title contest is at 9 p. m.

Texas Tech basketball teams take the floor Friday night. The freshmen meet the Wayland College frosh at 6 p. m., followed by the varsity against Texas A&M in a game that could make or break the Aggies' Southwest Conference title hopes.

Meanwhile, back at the new athletic office building, Hank Stram of the Dallas Texans and Warren Woodson of New Mexico State will be guest lecturers at a football clinic that starts at 1 p. m. Friday. Sessions will also be held Saturday, which will feature the intra-squad game at 2 p. m.

"THE GAZEBO" AT PALACE

Pigeon Stars in Mystery Comedy

Hollywood has had its dog stars, cat stars and horse stars, but now a pigeon is winging its way toward movie stardom.

His name: Herman—eighteen ounces of pouter pulchritude, who helps Glenn Ford solve a murder, expose a blackmail and thwart the kidnapping of Debbie Reynolds in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new mystery comedy, "The Gazebo," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre.

Co-starring in the movie is television's popular Carl Reiner, with leading supporting roles played by John McGiver, Mabel Albertson, Doro Merande, Bert Freed, Martin Landau, Robert Ellenstein, Richard Wessely and of course, Herman, a pigeon who is a scene stealer if there ever was one.

Ford is seen as Elliott Nash, who has a successful career as one of television's top writers; an adorable actress wife, Nell (Miss Reynolds), a charming home-in-Connecticut and a dead man buried under his gazebo!

Carl Reiner is the DA who thinks this is the kookiest crime he ever looked into and who is intrigued by two forms, Nell's, and the one buried under the gazebo.

Thus ensues a cockeyed laugh adventure which involves not only murder and blackmail but even an attempt to kidnap Nell.

Not to be overlooked in the comedy of merriment is a musical production number in which Miss Reynolds sings and dances to a new song written especially for her, "Something Called Love."
