Winter's Worst Storms Leave 49 Dead

★★★ Texas Cold Eases Grip ★★★

By The Associated Press

Arctic cold started easing its icy bite into Texas again Thursday.

Official temperatures hit overnight lows varying from 5 degrees above zero at Dalhart, in the Panhandle, to 38 at Brownsville, at the state's southern tip. Skies were generally clear and the only fresh moisture consisted of .01 inch of rain at Texarkana and Beaumont.

Weather observers traced the southerly edge of the freeze belt to a line extending from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, which each recorded low marks of 32.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley once more escaped freeze damage. The coldest readings there were Rio Grande City 30 and Edinburg and McAllen 31. Most other readings in the area were in the middle 30s.

Temperatures started creeping upward in the Texas Panhandle soon after midnight, when Dalhart registered its lowest mark. Winds switched back to southerly in that area.

Forecasters said a slow warm-up would take place Thursday over the state's western half, spreading eastward to the rest of Texas by Friday.

All highways in the Panhandle were reported open, although many remained glassy slick with ice or snow. Schools reopened in the Dumas area.

Dumas' lowest temperature during the night was 9 above zero. By 7 a.m. the mercury had climbed to 18 degrees there.

Overnight lows at other points included Amarillo 9, Wichita Falls 12, Abilene 13, Lubbock, San Angelo and Texarkana 15, Fort Worth 16, Dallas and Waco 18, Midland 19, Lufkin 20, San Antonio 22, Austin 23, Beaumont 25, Houston and Victoria 26, El Paso 27, Galveston 31 and Laredo 36.

On the Gulf Coast, the Weather Bureau ordered small craft warnings lowered from Brownsville to Lake Charles, La. Warnings for northerly winds of 20 to 30 m.p.h., gradually diminishing Friday afternoon, remained up from Lake Charles to St. Marks, Fla.

The Lone Star Gas Co. curtailed deliveries to industrial firms by 50 per cent early Thursday in Dallas and a northeast Texas area around Paris. Company officials said the deliveries would be back to normal by afternoon if the predicted warmer temperatures arrived.

Mikoyan In Visit With Danish Chief

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan paid a surprise call on Danish Premier Hans C. Hansen today for an hour's talk that was shrouded in secrecy.

The unscheduled meeting came a few hours after Mikoyan arrived here early today on his delayed trip home from the United States. Soviet press attache Viatcheslav Tschernov acted as interpreter.

Though newsmen saw Mikoyan arrive at the office and he and Hansen posed willingly for photographers, the government asked the state-run broadcasting station not to mention the talk in its noon newscasts. The station complied.

Mikoyan was a luncheon guest of the Danish-Soviet Friendship Society. He was to speak tonight at a public meeting sponsored by the society.

Mikoyan's secretary said Mikoyan will fly on to Moscow aboard a special Soviet plane Friday.

Mikoyan and his fellow passengers spent 17½ hours at the U.S. Navy base in Argentia, Nfld., after two engines on their airliner from New York went out over the Atlantic Tuesday night. A relief plane was sent from Copenhagen.

Thousands Flee Floods

By The Associated Press

Winter's worst storms eased off today but intense cold added to the suffering and shivering misery of millions of Americans.

Thousands were homeless in flooded areas in Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

And 49 deaths were reported in the territory hit by heavy snow, ice storms, slashing rains or tornadic winds—a territory that extended from the Southwest to the Atlantic Seaboard.

Arctic air spread south and east. It increased the misery of residents of the storm zones, but it checked the run-off of waters into flooded streams.

Flood damage ran into many millions.

The bitter cold checked Ohio's worst flood in 25 years. Thousands of evacuees began trickling back to their homes. But thousands of others stayed in schools and other emergency quarters.

The crisis was over in Mount Vernon, a city of 16,000 population that experienced the worst inundation of central Ohio communities. Flood waters began to recede in other sections.

The cold air mass moving in from the west also was a break to the flooded areas of New York state.

Hundreds of families were forced from their homes in the Buffalo section Wednesday night and today. States of emergency were declared in Salamanca and Lackawanna. In South Buffalo, an ice jam in Cazenovia Creek broke and sent a five-foot wall of water through residential streets. Several persons were injured.

The swirling Hoosac River undermined the supports of two bridges in North Adams, Mass., and they tilted at dangerous angles.

Rivers and creeks gushed out of their beds in many parts of western Pennsylvania. Hundreds fled from their homes.

The Allegheny River was the big troublemaker in Pennsylvania, and the worst situations were north of Pittsburgh.

The Shenango River spilled over into Sharon. Most downtown business houses were closed because of water in basements. Some industrial plants shut down. Damage in Sharon was estimated at two million dollars.

Kittanning, a community of 10,000 that is 45 miles north of Pittsburgh, was cut off for several hours when an ice jam in the Allegheny sent 5 feet of water coursing over 30 blocks.

Meadville, 90 miles north of Pittsburgh, had the worst flood in its history.

The 200 residents of Forksville, Pa., got out of a strange watery trap. An ice jam backed up the water from Big Loyalsock Creek, which virtually surrounds the little town. Then rain broke the ice jam and the water receded, leaving chunks of ice in streets and yards.

Martial law was declared in Madison, Ind., where 100 families were forced from their homes by overflows from the Ohio River.

Disaster plans were put into effect and National Guard troops joined civilian workers in some of the inundated sections.

Small streams in the Wheeling, W. Va., area were out of their banks.

It was the wind that wrought the havoc in the South. Hail the size of baseballs shattered school and church windows and damaged automobiles in Hartselle, Ala.

Juveniles May Be Jailed In Lieu Of Bond

Minors charged with any moving traffic violation can be jailed if they fail to make bond, according to a ruling made by Attorney General Will Wilson for George Killam, county attorney here.

Killam said he asked for the opinion on behalf of the city police department and corporation court. New juvenile laws passed in the last Legislature strengthened enforcement for minors, but parts of it could not be interpreted locally.

According to the opinion, a minor who is charged with any moving traffic violation, if he fails to make bond, can be jailed in lieu of bond, as provided by special exceptions to juvenile statutes. This covers boys who are 14 but not yet 17 and girls who are 14 but not yet 18. Those over those ages are not covered by juvenile statutes.

The violations would include such things as driving while intoxicated, speeding, contesting for speed, running red lights, failure to yield right-of-way, or other moving violations.

One sentence of the summary sent to Killam by Wilson said, "Juveniles being charged under penal code Art. 802e (which covers penalties for juveniles convicted for moving violations) are subject to the same laws on bonds as adults and may be incarcerated upon failure to make bond."

McLaughlin Heads SCIF

Mark McLaughlin, head of the Diamond M Foundation here, yesterday was elected president of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation by the foundation's board of directors.

McLaughlin, who is also an attorney, is president of the Scurry County Bar Association.

Other officers elected in yesterday's board meeting were Wayne Boren, first vice-president; Claude McCormick, second vice-president; Roger Mize, treasurer; and Bill Brown, secretary.

McLaughlin succeeds Lyle Deffebach, insurance agent, as president. Other former officers were Herbert Feather, first vice-president; H. H. Eiland, second vice-president; Fred Auforth, secretary; and H. W. Cargile, treasurer.

The board changed its meeting times to monthly instead of quarterly. The meetings will be held at 3:30 p.m. each third Monday at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The new president urged each member of the board to contact industrial prospects for Snyder and Scurry County in their travels.

Board members, other than the officers, are Roy Dunlap, Harold Bennett, Cargile, G. B. Clark, Jr., Eiland, Theo Lamb, and John Sentell.

Pyle Leaves Ike's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Howard Pyle as a White House aide.

Pyle, former Republican governor of Arizona, is leaving to become head of the National Safety Council. He has served the last four years as deputy assistant to the President in charge of intergovernmental relations.

In his letter of resignation, Pyle said he is reluctant to leave but that "there is a challenging new opportunity for service open to me" with the Safety Council which has headquarters in Chicago.

Pyle's salary as a presidential aide has been $20,000 a year. There was no word on how much he will receive as head of the Safety Council.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said no successor has been selected.

Most Texas Highways Are Open To Traffic

AUSTIN (AP)— The Highway Department said the only roads in Texas with ice today were in the northern half of the Panhandle.

Highways in the southern half of the Amarillo District as well as in the Lubbock, Childress, Fort Worth and Dallas districts were reported clear.

Unions Map Plans For More Boosts

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders, spurning President Eisenhower's renewed plea to curb wage increases, meet today to chart a new drive for pay boosts.

Al G. Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, said in advance of a meeting of the AFL-CIO Economic Policy Committee he does not agree with the President's wage-price policies.

Saying prices and overly high profits are to blame for inflation, Hayes added that "I don't agree with the implication that decent wage rates are responsible.

"It is misleading to the American people."

Hayes is a member of the AFL-CIO policy group headed by United Auto Workers chief Walter Reuther. Its position has been that wages are too low in relation to costs and profits.

The President's annual economic message to Congress Tuesday said most indicators are pointing upward but renewed inflation could retard recovery prospects.

Eisenhower urged business to keep down prices and labor to confine wage increases to improve output.

Similar Eisenhower pleas for moderation have fallen on deaf ears in the past. Both consumer prices and wages are now at record highs by the government's measurements.

Labor already is hitting for hefty new pay boosts in 1959. Sizeable new coal wage increases went into effect this month. Oil workers are in the process of negotiating a per cent raise, their first increase in two years. Phone workers have posed a strike threat next week in six midwestern states.

After that come labor negotiations in a batch of key industries, including steel, chemical, rubber, aluminum, electrical manufacturing and railroads involving more than three million workers.

About three million more workers are due to get automatic wage raises averaging about eight cents an hour under previously negotiated contracts.

Fate Of Airline Service Unknown

Whether Snyder will lose its airline service this week or later still remained a question this morning.

The temporary permit held by Continental Air Lines for service here expires Saturday, and Continental several weeks ago announced intention to discontinue service here at that time.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, which is conducting an investigation of air service needs of many smaller communities in the Southwest, said several weeks ago there would be a 60-day extension of service in the smaller communities during the investigation, according to the Associated Press.

Continental's announcement of intention to discontinue service on the expiration date came after the CAB announcement. No word has come since from the Continental headquarters, which leaves the airline service question unanswered.

Jim Babcock, local manager for Continental, said neither he nor Continental managers at other cities in this area which are to have service discontinued have received any new word.

Sweetwater, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, and Plainview are among other cities in the area which will lose service.

Babcock said he had not by this morning received any definite word as to where he will be sent by Continental.

MISERABLE MISTAKE

Hedy Asks Money From True Love

HOUSTON (AP)—Hedy Lamarr, who is suing oil man Howard Lee for support money, said today that "he was the only man I ever really loved."

She discussed her broken marriage in a telephone interview with the Houston Chronicle from her home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Lawyers for the actress filed a $51,000 Federal Court suit yesterday alleging the Houston oil operator is $9,000 behind in monthly payments due Miss Lamarr under a separation agreement signed last August. They were married Dec. 22, 1953.

"I loved Houston, but it was a miserable mistake," Miss Lamarr said. "I made many friends in Houston. . . I tried so hard but they wouldn't accept me."

She declined to elaborate.

"Howard is now three months behind in his payments and he didn't even send me a Christmas card," she said.

A recent seige of pneumonia, she said has prevented her from accepting a number of stage and television offers.

"I've been too ill to take them," she said. "I'm wearing high heels for the first time in weeks. At present my only means of support is from Howard."

The court suit said Miss Lamarr's serious illness and a bicycle-automobile collision in which a son by a previous marriage was injured critically have caused a severe financial strain.

Lee could not be reached for comment.

Castro Continues Drive To Justify Cuban Executions

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — With the shouted support of more than half a million Cubans, Fidel Castro continues today his campaign to justify to the world the execution of Batista henchmen.

The author of dictator Fulgencio Batista's downfall appears before hundreds of foreign newsmen at a news conference.

Later today, Havana's first showcase trial of Batistans charged with murder and atrocities opens. The capital's first defendants are three officers in the dictator's army, and the scene is the 17,000-seat Sports Palace which Batista built.

Nearly 1,000 witnesses wearing the colorful clothes of their rural areas were in town for the trials.

American newsmen wanted to ask Castro at the news conference about his statement to the big throng Wednesday that "Cuba will ask a revision and nullification of numerous concessions given foreign enterprises by the government of Batista."

Castro singled out only the Cuban Telephone Co., part of the estimated billion-dollar American investment in Cuba. This company, an affiliate of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co., got permission from Batista two years ago to raise its rates to justify expansion investments.

"Telephone rates are going to be lowered," Castro said.

The rally in front of the Presidential Palace attracted a large part of Havana's 1,200,000 residents, plus many more from outlying provinces of this island republic of 6,410,000.

Castro referred to the mass as numbering a million. Unofficial observers guessed between 500,000 and 750,000 jammed the park in front of the palace and streets for blocks on each side.

Castro asked last week for a turnout of half a million to support the executions, despite foreign criticism, and to back demands for extradition of some Batista followers.

"All those who demand that gunmen be punished raise their hands," Castro shouted. A sea of arms waved back as the crowd roared.

The revolutionary chief also told the crowd that the new government would demand that the United States return Batista associates who had fled there so they could be tried for crimes ranging from torture to murder. He added Cuba is seeking to extradite Batista — whom he called "the Hitler of Cuba" — from his refuge in dictator Rafael Trujillo's Dominican Republic.

Proposals To Raise Money Dominate Bills In Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—New proposals to raise money — and more new ideas to spend it — dominate bills filed by members of the Texas Legislature as they began an extra-long weekend today.

The House will resume at 10 a.m. Monday the Senate at 10:30 a.m. The members left without agreeing on how to pay their own salaries, those of their employees and other expenses. The payroll for the first two weeks was estimated at $100,000.

On their 4-day holiday, legislators apparently will seek home town views on Gov. Price Daniel's tax message. He suggested higher taxes on automobiles, natural gas, liquor and an increase in franchise taxes to make up the state deficit.

Charles W. Alcorn, Houston oil operator and president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., immediately criticized Daniel's tax proposals.

"We are sorely disappointed in the failure of the governor to recognize the fiscal situation of the state government for what it is—a crisis that demands a totally new and different tax structure to assure adequate programs for education and other necessary services in the future," Alcorn said.

"He has resorted to dangerous patchwork and procrastination."

Legislators' views on Daniel's proposals ranged from full support to complete rejection. Some started tossing out their own tax-producing ideas.

Dollarwise, the biggest bill tossed in the basket was a proposal by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Palestine. It would levy a one per cent tax on the gross receipts of manufacturers and importers of manufactured products.

Sadler estimated it would raise 400 million dollars, with one-fourth earmarked for the available school fund and the remainder for the General Revenue Fund.

San Antonio lawmakers filed two other major fund - raising proposals. Rep. Frates Seeligson dropped in an 88-pager measure whose main aim was revising and clearing up the tax laws. He said it also would raise about 11½ million dollars in new tax money. Rep. Marshall O. Bell had 20 co-signers on his bill to allow the state to take over hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of unclaimed property.

The bill carrying the most authors was one that came up in a past session, calling for Tarleton State College at Stephenville to be expanded to four-year status. Rep. H. A. Leaverton of Evant had 46 co-signers on the bill.

Most of the South Texas members joined in offering a bill to establish a medical branch of the University of Texas in San Antonio.

Navy Marks Time On School Plans

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Navy marked time today on plans to put itself in the school teaching business amid mounting talk that Virginia may try to set up a private education system to avoid racial integration.

The Navy announced Wednesday night that plans are set to provide schools for children of government personnel living on military installations in the Norfolk area.

These plans, the Navy said, "will be put into effect if local schools are not reopened within a reasonable time." The Navy didn't say what it meant by reasonable time. Six Norfolk secondary schools have been closed since being ordered last fall to accept some Negro students.

In a filmed television program Wednesday night, Virginia's Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. proposed a system of private education for localities that would not permit racially mixed schools.

However, Almond said he saw no alternative to limited integration in some areas. And he pledged that the state will try "as far as possible to save public education wherever it could be saved in Virginia.

Almond expressed these views in an interview with commentator Edward R. Murrow on the CBS television show, "The Lost Class of '59."

The program was filmed Jan. 8, 11 days before the State Supreme Court and a three-judge federal panel in Norfolk struck down the state's massive resistance laws.

Nine white public schools in Norfolk, Charlottesville and Warren County were shut in September under the now unconstitutional school closing law. There have been no moves to reopen any of the closed schools.

Browning Is Named Draft Registrar

Buford Browning, county superintendent, has been appointed registrar in the Snyder area for the Scurry-Nolan-Fisher County draft board.

As registrar, Browning succeeds Forrest Beavers, former county superintendent.

Browning's office is on the main floor of the courthouse.

A registrar is provided in this area so young men will not be required to travel to Sweetwater to register. The draft board's office is in Sweetwater.

Young men who reach the age of 18 can register by going to Browning's office from 9 a. m. to 5 p.m. any day Monday through Friday.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state director of the draft system, expressed appreciation to Beavers for his service in the past and to Browning for accepting the post. Schwartz said Browning will do the work without pay as a public service.

All males are required to register under the draft law on their 18th birthday or within five days afterward. Maximum penalties which can be applied for failure to register are $10,000 fine, or five years in prison, or both.

Report Egan Resting Well

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) William A. Egan, Alaska's young Democratic governor who has been hospitalized since his inauguration, was reported resting comfortably today.

Dr. Henry Bosshard, resident surgeon at the hospital where Egan underwent an emergency operation Tuesday, said he looked in on the governor late in the evening and found him "holding his own."

Egan, given only a 50-50 chance to recover when he was operated on for a bowel obstruction and paralysis of the abdomen, showed some improvement Wednesday afternoon.

"So far it looks encouraging," Dr. Joel W. Baker, head of the surgical team which performed the operation, said at midafternoon.

Egan remained on the hospital's critical list, and doctors said it would be several days before the outcome was assured.

Red Chinese Purge Seen

LONDON (AP) — Some British experts on the Far East say they think a purge of impatient young men from Red China's new communes is coming up shortly.

The informants say the house cleaning is likely to shift over-enthusiastic young functionaries from administrative jobs to manual chores in fields and factories.

The object would be re-education of younger party officials who have ruthlessly pushed development of the communes—vast labor batallions run on military lines — without taking time to adapt them to Chinese family and peasant traditions.

British analysts, studying reports from China, feel the young men have driven China's peasants to water, but have been unable to make them drink

The observers say the young firebrands are being blamed.

British analysts say party boss Mao Tze-tung intends to devote extra time now to perfecting the commune system. They speculate this is why he offered to resign his nominal post as head of state last month.

Foreign Cars Pour Into San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Foreign cars are arriving at San Francisco in such numbers the port facilities should be expanded to handle them, says Henry Thiemann, port traffic manager.

Nurse Course Test Passed By 28 Here

Twenty-eight women are still in the running for places in the year-long vocational nurses training program, which will begin here next month.

The training program, first ever offered here, will begin Feb. 2 under joint sponsorship of Cogdell Memorial Hospital, the Snyder schools, and the Texas Education Agency.

Bill Newsom, superintendent at the hospital, said that aptitude tests were given to applicants for the course last week and results from the tests were received here today. Of the 29 women who took the exams, 28 passed.

Those 28 still must meet a number of other qualifications before they can start the course, including physical examinations. X-ray procedures and laboratory tests began on the applicants yesterday, and when that is complete they will have examinations by physicans.

Newsom said there will probably be 25 or 26 actually taking the course.

The course, which will be taught under supervision of Mrs. Mary Smith, registered nurse, will include both classroom instruction and practical experience. The classroom instruction will be in a room at the Travis Junior High School, the clinical and practical training at the hospital.

Sea Of Humanity Waits For Castro

By WILLIAM GLOVER

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Even Fidel Castro had trouble seeing it all.

Long before he spoke, the leader of the revolution arrived for the giant rally in front of the Presidential Palace Wednesday. But he remained out of sight of the ocean of humanity waiting to hear him.

Occasionally the lanky man in battle fatigues craned up on tiptoe to look. Then he would turn and talk to those nearby in the surrounding throng on the speakers' platform. Once in a while he would lift a field canteen to his lips for a drink of water.

At 5 p.m. he stepped forward to speak, and the emotional dam which had been building up through the long afternoon broke. The sea of humanity roared with countless voices, banners swayed, and upraised arms swung in rhythm.

The dominant mood all the way, however, was that of fiesta rather than fanatic fever. This was a crowd in a holiday spirit. Packed tight, they ate oranges, swapped chatter, and quietly listened to speakers who preceded Castro.

The vast plaza began filling at noon as all business in Havana shut down. The broad main highways and narrow streets in the old city soon were jammed with the converging horde.

They came by jitney, bicycle, motorcycle, bus, and in marching companies. Nearly every group had banners—"We are with you", "We ask justice", "For murders we condemn war criminals." Some were painted on bedsheets, others crudely made on cardboard.

Some cars had loudspeakers which blared similar sentiments.

The throng filled every inch of space for blocks around the Presidential Palace, trampled shrubbery, and crowded onto rooftops.

An hour and a half after the announced time for the rally the program got under way. When the man all called Fidel stood up, he talked for 85 minutes.

Castro speaks with sparse gestures — usually the right arm swung wide, the forefinger raised. Occasionally, as his voice grows louder, he punctuates with his left arm straight out, the fist clenched.

The high point came as he called for those who felt as he did to raise a hand. Two arms shot up over every head.

A dark-eyed girl veteran of a women's army group fell off a pedestal in the excitement and leaped right back up.

Some others in the throng found the heat and congestion too much. Every once in a while, out from the sea of faces, someone who had fainted would be lifted on a litter and carried off.

There were a few cases of hysteria. Once someone caused a localized stempede by firing an old cannon on a nearby roof.

Girl Won't Be Separated From Friends

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Karen Hunt and her ffiends had won their point today, and won't be separated after all.

Karen's "friends" are her dogs, Curly and Charlie. They all left home here Tuesday night because Karen, 13, thought she would have to get rid of the dogs.

Karen rode her bicycle all night, with the dogs trotting along beside her. They made it almost to Floresville, 30 miles away, before a motorist persuaded her to return.

Today all was forgiven. Karen won't have to give the dogs away. She attended a birthday party last night and today went cheerfully off to school.

Juvenile officers said Karen's fear of losing Curly and Charlie probably were exaggerated. Her mother, Mrs. Rosie Hunt, said Karen's unhappiness probably stemmed from the crowded condition of their home. That has been corrected, she said, explaining that Karen's aunt and her five youngsters have moved from the residence.

Curly and Charlie were in fine shape today, too. They showed no ill effects—not even sore paws—from their 30-mile trek.

If anything is given away at their house, Mrs. Hunt says, it will be those cats she recently acquired to catch rats. As rat catchers, they're flops, and Mrs. Hunt plans to replace them with some traps.

Suit Filed By Bus Firm

ST. LOUIS (AP) — American Bus Lines has filed a two million dollar damage suit against the union which is on strike.

The petition was filed in Federal Court yesterday against the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America.

The suit said the figure represented the amount of money the company had lost because of the strike, which began July 1.

The suit also asked for $10,000 a day damages for as long as the strike lasts.

American operates in 28 states. Except for limited operations in Iowa, it has been idle since the strike began.

The union, representing drivers, maintenance men and terminal personnel, struck after rank and file members rejected a proposed new contract. Company and union negotiators had agreed on the contract.

Jr. High P-TA Holds Panel Discussion Monday

The Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association met Monday evening at 7:30 in the school cafeteria for an interesting program.

The overall theme of the evening was "Community Cooperation for Effective Action".

"Looking in on Your School" was the specific theme for the evening with Ralph Laswell as panel moderator. Each panelist spoke from 3 to 5 minutes on his subject, followed by answering questions from the audience.

Panelists and their topics are as follows: T. E. McCollum — "The main goal of our local school system is to see that each child gets the best education possible. Snyder has already reached the goals that other communities in Texas are seeking in education, but that is no reason for us to stop or even let up".

Pat Falls — "We seek to develop a curriculum to meet the basic needs of each child. To develop work-study skills as well as alligience to moral and spiritual values".

Jiggs Falls — "Quality teaching opens windows onto the world. Snyder has qualified teachers."

Doyle Stokes — "The guidance and counciling service of the schools helps the child adjust to the different levels of education. It also gives the child help in selecting subjects that will greatly benefit him in his chosen field."

Harold Bennett — "Our city is always willing to cooperate in regard to the needs and activities of the schools. Our business men sponsor a Teacher Appreciation banquet each year. When the schools and Parent-Teacher Association units agreed that we needed more protection from possible traffic accidents around the schools, the city was quick to cooperate. The city limits were extended to take in approximately 140 acres of land in order to protect and give service to the new Junior High School".

Max West — "The responsibility of the school board is to establish the policies of the school. Personal qualifications of a board member is mainly his interest in the schools. The school board is legally independent of the county and city governments. School board elections are held separate from city or other elections to keep out politics. Board operates under a written statement of policy. All meetings are open to the public. Agenda published in advance of meetings. Reports to the public are made through the regular news channels but mainly on the school children's report cards. Also the P-TA's are a good means of communication with the public".

Mrs. Fred Beaty — "The Parent-Teacher organization does not seek to dictate the policies of the school, but to stand by, ready to cooperate and help when help is needed. Our unit is a member of the P-TA City Council and two of our members are on active committees in the council. Our unit sends delegates to district and state P-TA conventions and workshops so that we may be better informed and thereby may better serve our schools and community. We strive to create more public interest in our schools. We work closely with school officials. We try to include each phase of Junior High work and talent in our programs and projects. Two representatives from the Junior High Student Council attend each of our executive and regular meetings. We believe that both parents are needed in planning activities for our children."

Mrs. Bob Womack Presents Cosmorama Club Program

The Cosmorama Club met Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. C. V. Thompson, Jr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson as hostesses.

Mrs. Clyde Hall Jr. president, presided over the business meeting at which time election of officers was held. They are: Mrs. W. W. Park, president; Mrs. James Kincaid, first vice-president Mrs. Lyle Alexander, second vice-president; Mrs. Bill Eiland, recording secretary; Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Jr., corresponding secretary and Mrs. Lee Smyth, treasurer.

Mrs. W. W. Greif, public affairs chairman, read a thank you note from a school boy who was assisted by the club in purchasing a hearing aid.

Mrs. Robert Schultz introduced the guest speaker Mrs. Bob Womack. She developed her program around the history of Italian opera, the most characteristic form of Italian music.

"Opera had its earliest beginnings in the Renaissance, when a group of intellectuals, calling themselves the camerata, met in Florence for the purpose of restoring ancient Greek dramas. Their first efforts were Dafne and Euridice, the poetry being written by Caccini and the sing-song chant-like music by Jacobi Peri."

As the program progressed, Mrs. Womack sang excerpts from the various operas to illustrate developments in style. To illustrate the creative style of Peris operas, she sang the "Invocation of Orpherus" from Curidice.

"The first school of opera composers was founded in Venice by Montruerdi whose music-drama Orfer was a milestone in the history of opera. It was important because of the inclusion of duets, arias and trios". To illustrate the style of Montruirdi, Mrs. Womack did a part of his "Ah, Trappo a Duro."

The word "opera" was first applied to the works of Cavolli, student of Montruerdi, in 1639.

"With the Neopolitan school came such important composers as Alessandro Scarlatti, Galuppi, Piccini, and even Saxon born Handel.

"The comic opera was developed around 1730 by Pergalesi, and reached greatness in the works of Rossini, whose "The Barber of Serville" was a model for all later writers of comic opera, or opera hubba.

"Christoph W. Gluck set out in 1770 to restore simplicity and sincerity to Italian opera, and with his works scored a decisive victory over the exponents of the traditionally more flourid style.

"Following Gluck were two of Italys greatest composers of opera-Giuseppe Verdi and Giacomo Puccini." To illustrate their styles of composition. Mrs. Womack sang 'Verdis' "Stride La Vampa," from se Trovatore, and Pucinni's "Mi Chiama no Mimi" from La Boheme.

Twenty-four members were present.

"You are richer tonight than you were this morning, if you have taken time to trace the handiwork of God in commonplace things of life, or if you have learned to count out the things that really are unimportant, or if you have been a little blinder to the faults of friend or foe.

"You are richer if a little child has smiled at you, or if a stray dog has licked your hand; if you have looked for the best in others and given others the best in you.

"You are richer today than you were yesterday".

Don't be dismayed when the nuts rise to the top while pecan pie is baking; this is supposed to happen and the pecans form a nice crust.

Seasonings For Pork

Sage, ginger, garlic, mustard, thyme and rosemary are the herbs to use with pork. For a 5-pound roast, mix 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and ¼ teaspoon ginger together and rub over the surface of the uncooked meat. Or make 5 or 6 slits into the roast and stuff a piece of garlic into each slit. Sprinkle your favorite herb and salt over the top. Carving tip: allow a 15-minute rest period when the roast comes out of the oven. The meat will slice easier and you'll have time to make the gravy while the roast relaxes.

Party Must Awaken, Ike Warns Panel

By JACK BELL

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — President Eisenhower told the Republican National Committee Wednesday that the GOP must not become a "hibernating elephant" that awakes only at election time.

In a message to National Chairman Meade Alcorn, the President called for a sustained year-around program of Republican campaigning which would imprint the image of "progressive leadership" on the party.

This was in harmony with Alcorn's own recommendations to the National Committee in its initial meeting of a two-day session that the party "preach and practice an enlightened Republicanism 365 days a year."

Saluting Alcorn's proposal for formation of a year-around campaign staff, Eisenhower said the sessions here should become 'the first step in a continuous work program of the Republican party that will never cease."

"I deeply regret that some people look upon our party as a kind of hibernating elephant who wakes with a mighty trumpet blast at election time and then rests calmly until the next campaign," Eisenhower said.

"Political activity must be a matter of unremitting effort. It must go on 365 days a year if we are to maintain the vitality that has made our nation great. Only 658 days remain until the next national election. We must make each of them count. Every day we lose is one we can never get back."

Eisenhower called for action to induce a "clear understanding of our long-range objectives." Only in this way, he said, "can we lift creative Republicanism to new heights of national achievement."

In this connection, the President said the party must make certain that "candidates are capable, vigorous, personable and dedicated; that finances are secured on a continuing and satisfactory basis; and that every Republican and every friend of Republicanism keep everlastingly at the job of recruiting for the party."

Alcorn announced to the party's executive committee Tuesday that Eisenhower had approved a plan for continuous campaigning by the Republicans, financed by monthly dues payments from contributors.

In a report prepared for the National Committee, Alcorn said that to put the party back in the business of winning elections the Republicans must undertake to obliterate their "big business" label.

Alcorn was authorized by the executive committee to lay before it's parent group a proposal that the party finance a weekly television program the chairman said would cost more than $800,000 a year.

If this program is produced, Alcorn said it will be moderated by a well-known television personality and would have as star performers GOP leaders such as Vice President Nixon, Cabinet members, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, senators and House members.

The executive group also approved a proposal to put out a monthly Republican magazine to compete with the "Democratic Digest."

No Violation Of Anti-Trust Found

DALLAS (AP)—Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson acquitted the Harte-Hanks newspaper group and three of its individuals yesterday of charges of violating anti-trust laws in the purchase of the Greenville Herald.

In granting a defense motion, Davidson said the government had failed to prove its charge the group conspired to restrain trade and set up a newspaper monopoly in Greenville.

The charge "is therefore withdrawn from the jury and judgment entered for the defendants," he said.

In a 6-page written opinion the judge in effect agreed with the defense when he said:

"There must be space and room and subject matter involved to afford a competition such as the law requires, and where these things do not exist, then discontinuance of competition, it has been held, is not a violation of the anti-trust law."

The Harte-Hanks group contended that Greenville, a city of 17,000, could not support two newspapers. Testimony at the trial showed that both the Banner, which the group purchased first, and its rival, the Herald, lost money and as a result the Herald was sold to the banner for $300,000 and merged.

Chief government prosecutor Henry M. Stuckey argued that "It wasn't a fair fight. The chain sought to put the Herald out of business. It is the same type of case, in principle, as the one in Fort Worth last year involving Safeway Stores in which some officials pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) and were fined. It was a case of the chain putting the little fellow out of business through unfair business practice."

Judge Davidson, however, agreed with a defense contention that the Greenville merger was similar to that of several small telephone companies that once competed in small cities.

"It was a great relief to the public to see one of the concerns buy the other out and take one of the unnecessary phones off their tables," he said.

In addition to his comment on the nature of competition and the size of the Greenville market, the judge said:

1. No evidence was shown that the Banner sought to drive the Herald to the wall.
2. That advertisers and readers were getting a greater bargain after the merger than when the papers were competing.
3. The nationwide trend is toward newspaper mergers.
4. Mergers in certain instances are for the public good.

The facts agreed to by both parties in the case were so clear, Judge Davidson said, that he was "unable to find any well defined issue of fact that may be submitted to the jury that has not become a question of law which the court must decide."

On questions of law, Judge Davidson said, "Justice Holmes has said that a man has a right to set up a shop in a small village which can support but one shop of the kind although there may be one shop of the kind in town. It naturally follows that one of the two will have to go down. This is one of the penalties of freedom of enterprise."

Judge Davidson said, "Our higher courts have held that even though there is a consolidation of papers in larger cities that a violation of anti-trust law does not necessarily follow."

He noted that production costs and competition of other media have caused a trend toward newspapers mergers.

The Federal Government introduced letters written by Harte-Hanks executives and argued they showed the group sought to drive the Herald out of business.

Judge Davidson said the letters only showed the competitive situation and could place the Herald in financial difficulties. "We are not prepared to say (this correspondence)...was a planned design to destroy competition to the detriment of the advertising public," he said.

The defendants were Harte-Hanks Newspapers Inc., Abilene; Herald-Banner Publishing Co., Greenville; Harte-Hanks and Co., a partnership, Abilene; Houston Harte, San Angelo; Millard Cope, Marshall; and Bruce Meador, Abilene.

Underground Atom Tests May Be Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States might touch off a peaceful use underground atomic explosion next year, even if it still isn't making atomic weapons tests.

Chairman John McCone of the Atomic energy Commission told a news conference Wednesday this country could be ready for such a test explosion by late summer but would delay it at least until next year.

He said this country is under no injunction to forego underground blasts to see how feasible they would be for such things as carving out harbors and tapping new sources of oil.

McCone indicated this would hold true although:

1. The United States has said it will not conduct weapons tests for a year from last October if the Soviet Union did not test during the same period.

2. Negotiations are going on in Geneva aimed at determining the feasibility of a weapons test suspension under an international detection system.

But before making such tests, he said, the AEC would like a complete clarification at Geneva on the subject of peaceful use blasts to avoid any criticism.

In the heart of Paris there is a late-night place called The Crazy Horse. It is a French version of an American Wild West saloon.

It's Too Late For School In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Most Little Rock high school students and their parents apparently are resigned to finishing this year without public schools, despite recent court moves to reopen the facilities immediately.

"It's too late to do any good this year," said one mother. "My Billy is settled at a private school, and he'll probably stay there because we couldn't be sure the public schools would stay open if they are reopened."

The speaker was representative of thousands of parents who first looked on school closing as a tempory measure but who now are prepared to extend emergency educational provisions indefinitely, certainly through this school year.

Caught in a massive battle between federal and state governments on the school integration question, 2,000 Little Rock students this week finished first semester work in schools in other communities. Some 1,100 more are nearing midterm at newly organized private schools here.

About 700 students, including 450 Negroes, remain out of classes altogether.

Community sentiment is divided on the school issue. Many prefer that the schools remain closed if integration is the only alternative.

Students apparently continue to take the situation in good spirits. The novelty of attending new schools, even at great inconvenience, has not worn off. Many said they prefer the new schools to the old, mainly on grounds that they are smaller, more friendly.

Pasternak Is Willing To Go On Tour

LONDON (AP) — Boris Pasternak, the Russian author called a traitor by Soviet authorities after winning the Nobel Prize for Literature, reportedly is willing now to make a six-week lecture tour of the United States and Britain.

Jose Vilallonga, noted Spanish author, and Prof. Philip Hallie of Vanderbilt University are seeking to arrange the tour.

Vilallonga, who lives in Paris, said Wednesday night he had assurances "through diplomatic channels that Pasternak would be willing to come."

The Soviet government warned Pasternak last November that if he left the oviet Union to accept the Nobel prize, he would not be allowed to return. The 69-year-old writer renounced the prize and said he could not "imagine my fate apart from Russia and outside her. . . . To go beyond the frontier of my motherland is to me equal to death."

Pasternak was designated last October for the Nobel prize primarily because of his novel "Doctor Zhivago," which paints a grim picture of Russian life under communism. The Kremlin retaliated by unleashing severe criticism of the writer and his novel, which has been published in 13 languages abroad but is banned in the Soviet Union.

Hunt Starts For Widow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Police started east today with Larry Lord Motherwell, still hoping to find some trace of a missing widow.

Motherwell, 42, is charged at Frederick, Md., with murdering his daughter, 14-month-old Heather.

The fate of the widow, Pearl Putney, 72, remained a mystery.

Mrs. Putney has been missing since last summer when she drove to Las Vegas with Motherwell on what she called a last fling. Motherwell says he last saw her in Las Vegas in August.

Two Frederick officers planned to stop at Flagstaff and Tucson, Ariz., and in Texas on their way with Motherwell, hoping to pick up clues to Mrs. Putney's whereabouts. The prisoner has said he visited those places since seeing her.

Top Movie Maker Gone From Scene

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A giant has gone.

The heart of Cecil B. De Mille stopped Wednesday morning, erasing the most colorful movie maker from the Hollywood scene he had dominated for 45 years. De Mille always invited superlatives: his films were the biggest, made the most money, were seen by more people throughout the world.

Superlatives aside, what kind of a man was he? The answer is best told in his own words.

Despite his outward assurance, he said he faced his job with trepidation.

"I have never made a picture without being frightened," he said. Of what & Of my own ability. Of whether I squeezed the most out of my material. Of whether I created something that would wring the public's heart."

He prepared his scripts with infinite pains. "A good story is everything. If you have that, the director and the stars do not make much difference. They can help a picture a little or hurt it a little. But they can't make a good script into a bad picture, or a bad script into a good picture."

CECIL B. DE MILLE
. . .man of superlatives

He supervised even the smallest details in his films. "What did the people wear and eat in those Biblical times? Did they eat roast beef or lamb chops or what? It would be as bad to show them eating the wrong thing as it would be to show them dressed in tails and tophat."

He made pictures for the public alone, though the disdain of the intellectuals stung him. "I have often wondered why critics are hostile. If the people are entertained, that should be enough. Every time I make a picture, critics' estimation of the public drops 10 per cent."

He demanded loyalty from his ever-present retinue but denied the legend that he hired only yes-men. "I pay pretty generously, so why should I pay a man more than 20 dollars if all I wanted him to say is 'Yes'& On the other hand, I don't want an aide who continually 'noses' me. He'd be just as worthless. I want assistants (and I have them) who can give me good reasons for disagreeing."

He was a stern taskmaster and could wither an extra at a hundred paces. "I have been called a tyrant, a despot and a martinet because If I lose my temper when I see someone playing checkers on a set that cost $40,000 a day when he should be paying attention to his job. It's the same with alibis. I don't have enough time on this earth to listen to alibis."

He had faith that the movie business would continue despite its ills. "They've been saying the theater is doomed for 6,000 years. My belief is that if our material is good, we won't have to worry."

He wanted to die in the saddle. "I don't suppose I will ever quit unless I am forced to. If you are a good story teller—and Mrs. De Mille and I believe that I am — I think you should stick to your trade as long as you are able."

He had been planning two more productions on a schedule that would have taken him to the age of 85 — "and then they'll have to come and wheel me away." But after returning from a strenuous tour for his last picture, his heart wore out before he could conclude his work.

Dispatcher Has No Time For Own Woes

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—W. C. Wadelich, dispatcher for the city's snow removal crews, worked through the night sending out plows and trucks and handling hundreds of telephone calls.

Then his wife called up to report: "The car is stuck in the driveway, Honey."

"Don't bother me now," said Wadelich, "you'll have to get it out yourself."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex) was appointed chairman of the irrigation and reclamation subcommittee of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee yesterday.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

COACH O. W. FOLLIS OF Lamesa isn't taking anything for granted in tomorrow night's contest with the Tigers here.

Follis passed up a chance to personally scout the Lake View Chiefs Tuesday night to get a look at the Tigers. Lake View was playing at Colorado City Tuesday night while the Tigers were entertaining Sweetwater here.

Lake View is the district favorite and the Tigers are supposed to finish no better than fifth place in the five-team loop.

Yet, Follis came to Snyder Tuesday to scout the Tigers. The Tornadoes are given the best chance to wrest the 3-AAA title away from Lake View and now Follis won't get another chance to personally scout the Chiefs before having to meet them next week.

Comparing the two games with Sweetwater, Lamesa apparently doesn't have too much to worry about in tomorrow's tilt here. Lamese clobbered Sweetwater, 53-31, while the Mustangs turned around and downed the Tigers 51-42.

Tigers Suffering From 3rd Quarter 'Jitters'

Except for the third-quarter "jitters" the Tigers might be undefeated in 3-AAA play to date. The Bengals have led at halftime in both district starts to date only to fall behind in the third quarter and never to catch up.

Oddly enough, the halftime scores of the two Tiger starts in district play to date have been identical. The Black and Golders led both Colorado City and Sweetwater by 22-21 at halftime.

But in the third quarter against Colorado City the Bengals scored nine points and only six against Sweetwater in the third, enabling the Wolves and Mustangs to pull ahead to stay.

Another item that was quite similar in the Tigers' two district games was their shooting percentages. The Bengals had a shooting percentage of 30.7 (16 of 52) against Colorado City and 30.6 against Sweetwater (19 of 62). These shooting percentages easily explains the Tiger downfall in the two district outings.

Although the Tigers have dropped both of their 3-AAA starts to date, we believe they've done some better than expected.

Played 'Em Close To Belt Thus Far

The Tigers stayed in contention almost to the end in both games and with a little luck they could have won. Sweetwater, in fact, held only a 3-point lead with 2:30 to go before the Ponies braced to hold off the Wardmen.

The difference in the Sweetwater game was the unsually hot shooting of John Witt. Witt ranks far down the line in the Mustang scoring chart but against the Tigers he hit 12 points, all from beyond the foul circle.

Witt drew a blank in the Mustangs' district opener against Lamesa.

The Tiger cage roster now includes three sophomores. Jimmy Don Robinson, who drew a starting role against Sweetwater; Larry Patterson, who started against Colorado City and Charles Gladson.

This is the most sophomores Ward has had in his top 10 boys since taking over the Tiger reins.

The other seven players are made up of two juniors and five seniors.

In the event we may have confused you in this space yesterday concerning the selection of two Tigers on the Prep All-America Honorable Mention list, we'd like to straighten it out.

The two Tigers selected were guard Mickey McGrew and quarterback Richard Mahan. We had it right in one place but in another place we had Bill Rinehart instead of Mahan.

We extend our apologies to those concerned over the "bobble."

Baylor Assistant Takes Skulboy Job

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP)—Harden Cooper, an assistant coach at Baylor University, took a new job today as head football coach at Brazosport High School here.

Cooper, 36, a Texan who played college football at Tulsa University, has coached for 11 years in the state. He has been an assistant at Baylor to Sam Boyd, who resigned under fire last month.

Brazosport, serving several towns in this Gulf Coast area, hired him under a three-year contract paying $8,400 a year.

Cooper succeeds Kenneth Wilson, who resigned last month to become high school principal here.

MOST VALUABLE—Chicago Cubs shortstop Ernie Banks smiles brightly after learning he had been chosen the National League's Most Valuable player for 1958. Auburn Wins 23rd Straight

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's 23 in a row and happy anniversary for Auburn's basketball Tigers, who came of age a year ago today after turning a blunder into a blessing and haven't been stopped since.

Auburn's 66-55 victory over Geogia Tech Wednesday night climaxed a year of winning that began on Jan. 22, 1958, with the Tigers' 80-72 whipping of Tech.

The Tigers won their last 11 last season and now have bagged a dozen this campaign.

It all started, coach Joel Eaves says, when a cameraman filming Auburn's offense in a game aginst Tulane six years ago absent-mindedly let his camera wander onto the Tulane patterns for about five minutes.

Reviewing the films, Eaves' eye was caught by a pattern originated by former Oklahoma and Olympic coach Bruce Drake. Eaves tracked to his bookstore for a couple of Drake's books on the pattern, called the "shuffle," and a new era at Auburn began.

Villanova nailed its 12th victory in 13 tries, 62-46, over Drexel Wednesday night. Niagara made it 10-2 with a 94-34 walloping of Buffalo State; Army rallied to beat Ithaca 79-68, New Hampshire defeated MIT 77-72, and DePaul beat Western Michigan 76-65.

Four players hit between 10 and 14 points for Villanova, beaten only by St. Joseph's (Pa) and ranked 19th in the latest weekly AP poll. Sophomore whiz Al Butler's 29 points paced Niagara's rout and Darryle (Sammy) Kouns had 26 for a season total of 241 in Army's eighth victory in 13 starts.

Howie Carl scored 21 points for DePaul, which pulled away in the last six minutes from a Western Michigan team that was seeking only its second triumph in 13 games.

Pro Gridders Seek Player Pensions

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Football League owners and representatives of the players association meet face-to-face today on the warmest issue between the two groups—player pensions.

The players, led by Bill Howton of Green Bay, have asserted that if the association accomplishes nothing else it will fight for a pension for pro football players.

Advised by Atty. Creighton Miller and with the help of such insurance executives as former pro football star Bill Dudley, the association is prepared to show the owners that a plan is feasible.

On the other side of the fence, Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL has said flatly the owners cannot afford a pension. He says such a plan for pro football "just isn't feasible."

Bell insists the slightly over 4-year career of an average pro footballer is too short to warrant a pension. He winds up his oration on the subject with the pertinent question: "Who is going to pay for it"

The commissioner says the clubs can't pay for it, pointing out that in 1958, the best year attendance wise in the league's history, one team lost money and two others were on the border line.

Howton and Miller claim to have the answer. They asked Bell and the owners to take time out from their annual winter meeting to talk things over. The commissioner obliged.

Mantle Frowns At New Pact

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Mickey Mantle is busy with the opening of his new bowling center, but not too busy to let it be known he doesn't like the contract the New York Yankees offered him.

"I feel fine. I've felt fine all winter, haven't had any trouble with my knee or anything. I really feel good and I think I'm going to have as good a year as I've ever had, and I've had some good ones," said Mantle Wednesday.

"I want a substantial pay increase," he said flatly.

He denied he was offered a pay cut, but said he wanted more than he was offered.

"We don't discuss prices," he said, but his salary last year aas estimated at $75,000 and he reportedly wants at least $85,000 this year.

I asked f he expected to win the triple batting crown this year, as he did in 1956, he said "I don't know about that, but I'll win a couple of them."

Last year, however, his average slumped to .304 from the .364 he hit in 1957. He led the American League with home runs at 42 last year.

He said he was too busy on plans for his new bowling alley to worry about mailing the contract back to New York. But, he said, it would go back unsigned.

Oscar Holds Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, like most of the nation's other college basketball players, took a week off for midterm examinations.

But he was given a passing grade today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau for his first semester work on the hardwoods through games of Saturday, Jan. 17.

Robertson, last year's scoring champ, topped all scorers with his 32.5 points per game average. A 40-point splurge against Drake last Saturday beefed up his average. He has 390 points in 12 games, a better than three-point lead over Marshall's Leo Byrd and Mississippi State's Bailey Howell, each with a 29.2 average.

Byrd has 380 points in 13 games and Howell has 409 in 14.

Robertson is among the leaders in two other departments too. He is No. 20 in field goal percentage with .524. St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith leads with a .623 average. Robertson is tenth in rebounds, with a .178 rate, hauling down 188. Leroy Wright of College of the Pacific leads with a .229 rate with 359.

Granville Williams of Morehead State is the free throw percentage leader with a .936 average.

Blue Devils, Frosh Host BS Tonight

Snyder Junior High's Blue Devils and the Tiger Freshmen will entertain Goliad of Big Spring here tonight.

The Junior High games will be played at Junior High Gym, starting at 6:30 with the 7th grade tilt, to be followed immediately by the 8th graders.

The Freshman game will be played at Tiger Gym, starting at 6:30.

Season records for the local teams show the Tiger Frosh with 8-3; 8th graders with 9-0; and 7th graders with 7-1.

The Tiger Freshmen will journey to San Angelo tomorrow for San Angelo's annual Junior High Tournament. The locals will meet North Junior of Abilene at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in their first tourney game.

Welter Champion In Non-Title Match

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World Welterweight Champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles makes his first ring appearance since dethroning Virgil Akins when he steps into the ring at the Olympic Auditorium tonight in a 10-round non-title match.

Jordan meets Alvaro Gutierrez of Mexico City, a brawling, bruising young man who goes by the nickname of "Guts."

Jordan is the more polished performer. Gutierrez simply wades in, throwing leather from all directions.

Boys Club, PW Win City Openers

Boys Club and Poe and Wasson won opening games in the City Basketball League last night at Junior High Gym.

The Boys Club won the easy way, drawing a forfeit from Brooks Oil who didn't have enough players on hand.

Poe and Wasson defeated D&H by 89-37.

Next games on schedule are next Tuesday with D&H meeting Brooks at 7 p.m. and Boys Club playing Poe and Wasson at 8:30.

Ira Bulldogs Edge Past Fluvanna 38-34

The Ira Bulldogs edged past the Fluvanna Buffs in a district basketball game Tuesday night, 38-34.

Donnell Eubanks tossed in 15 points to lead the Ira attack. Jeff Martin was high for Fluvanna with 14.

Fluvanna led 15-14 at halftime but Ira moved ahead 34-24 after three quarters and then staved off a late Fluvanna rally to preserve their lead. Martin and Miles Eckert sparked the blated surge of the Buffs.

National Slates Record Nite Tilts

CINCINNATI (AP) — There is a lot of night work ahead for members of the National League's baseball clubs.

The loop's 1959 schedule, made public Wednesday night, showed the seven clubs which have lighted fields have arranged a record-breaking 296 night games for the coming season. The previous record of 274 was established last year.

The Chicago Cubs are the only team without a lighted field so they will do all of their night duty in foreign parks.

As had been previously announced, the schedule showed the season openers would be played April 9 and 10 — the earliest opening date in 46 years.

Pittsburgh will be at Cincinnati on April 9 so the Redlegs can maintain their record of always opening at home. All eight teams will be in action on April 10 with Cincinnati at Philadelphia, Milwaukee at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Chicago and San Francisco at St. Louis.

Milwaukee, Los Angeles and San Francisco will play their home openers on April 14.

The 1959 program also calls for Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Philadelphia to make four trips to the West Coast. St. Louis and Chicago made four trips last year but the others made only three.

The schedule makers also got away from the early closing date for several clubs in some cities. In 1958 some clubs made their final appearances in other cities as early as July 20. The 1959 schedule, however, calls for all clubs to entertain every other team in the league at least once during the last six weeks of the season.

Godih Wins Split Decision Over Perkins

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lahouari Godih of Algeria is very well pleased with this nation's capital after jabbing out a mild upset victory over young Eddie Perkins.

Perkins, the Chicago lad who lost a split decision to Godih here last night, wants no more of Washington.

Perkins, his lightweight ambitions at least temporarily set back, sat glumly in his dressing room with an ice pack soothing his neck after losing the nationally televised 10-rounder. His manager, Frank Tomaso, was on foot and yelling.

Godih, who won his first bout in the United States in the same Capitol Arena ring last April, had been voted a 99-96 edge on points by Judge Harry Volkman and a 97-95 winner by Judge Joe Bunsa. Only Referee Charley Reynolds among the officials went for Perkins, 95-93. The Associated Press card had Perkins ahead, 95-92.

Scoring was under the 10-point-must system, with the winner of a round getting 10 points and the loser nine or fewer.

"That guy Volkman gave my kid one round," Tomaso wailed. "I want to take this up with the boxing commission."

As it happened, Volkman stopped by Perkins' cramped quarters to pick up his coat and calmly introduced himself.

While Tomaso voiced his low opinion of officiating in Washington and promised never to return, Volkman snapped: "I was probably in the fight business when you wore short pants." He slammed the door on his way out.

Perkins occasionally jabbed Godih with single shots to the head. But Godih kept his shorter opponent off with a tireless left jab.

Jersey Jones, Godih's U.S. representative, said he wanted to match the 29-year-old Algerian with Kenny Lane as soon as possible. Lane won a split decision from Godih last November.

Yanks, Russia Win Opening Cage Tilts

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The United States and Russia still were favored to battle it out for the World Amateur Basketball Championship today after chalking up opening-round victories in the round - robin tournament matching teams from seven countries.

The United States, represented by personnel from the Air Force, edged previously unbeaten Bulgaria 63-58 Wednesday night for its fourth straight victory and Russia, after a shaky start, downed Puerto Rico 84-55.

Free Institutions Thrive

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

When Benjamin Franklin came out of the constitutional convention he was asked what kind of government the new nation had. He replied, "A republic—if you can keep it."

It was a profound reply. There had been relatively few republics in the history of the world, far fewer than tyrannies under absolute monarchs.

Do nations have to get old, and tired, and cynical? Do free peoples necessarily come to a time when they prefer to avoid responsibility and accept bondage in return for promises of material security? Promises made by demagogues and self-appointed supermen who claim that their personal capacity to govern is superior to that of the total genius of the people?

Do republics have to become transformed into empires or dictatorships? Does there come a time of the life of an aging nation when government has to take over virtually all responsibility, regulating everything?

Sometimes in recent years it has appeared as if this might be the inevitable fate of nations. In this century we saw Italy embrace fascism and Germany accept national socialism. More than one third of mankind is living today under Communist dictatorship.

But—communism has never been voted in by a majority of free people. Always it has come to power by coup or military force.

And today free institutions are on the march again. Germany is a democratic republic that is casting off the vestiges of socialism and state control, Italy is a republic. Britain has retreated somewhat from her nationalization program and there are evidences that she will throw off more of the shackles of statism. France, which at one and the same time made a fetish of liberty and embraced excessive bureaucracy and government red tape, is putting her house in order.

In our own country we are subsidizing this and that, pressure groups seek advantages from government and too many persons' votes are cast solely on the basis of what they take to be self-interest instead of on principle. Carry those trends far enough and our government could degenerate into dictatorship, even totalitarianism.

We can keep our republic if we keep Franklin's implied warning in mind. Growing federal aid, subsidies, pressure group selfishness, all lead away from the republican form. Full and informed citizen participation, devotion to sound principles, freedom of enterprise, and keeping government close to the people preserve republics.

Here's The Latest From Boyle's Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The more you like our fellow man the easier it is for you to hold our job. The biggest single reason for dismissals in the business world is this: "He couldn't get along with other people."

If you're looking for the perfect weekend guest for our country place, don't overlook Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He tells friends that washing dishes on vacation is his idea of "sheer recreation."

Speaking of vacations, someone overheard this remark "The major trouble with this world is that the average woman wants a little more out of life than the average man can afford."

We brag about our cleanliness, but it is estimated there are still 8½ million U.S. homes without private bath or shower.

Remember when nearly every city man dreamed of retiring to the country and making an independent living off five acres? It's more of a nightmare today. The cost of farm land has risen 50 per cent since 1950—and in some areas it has tripled in the last 15 years.

While in Hollwood, says Lisa Kirk, she overheard a 10-year-old boy tell his girl friend: "I really love you. When we grow up, I want you to be my first wife!"

News note: "Woman faint and cry, and live longer for it." But putting up with it sure kills off us men.

No wonder a baby grows at its highest rate during the first year of life. Here's what it eats on the average 765 cans of baby food, 37 cans of evaporated milk, 22 pounds of sugar and syrups, 30 cans of juices—plus all the crackers it doesn't throw on the floor.

Can you name the biggest college town in America? It's New York which now has 233,000 college students.

It was Edmund Burke who observed: "All that is necessary for the forces of evil to win in the world is for enough good men to do nothing."

Reservoir Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill was offered by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) yesterday to authorize construction of Bardwell Reservoir on Waxahachie Creek as part of an improvement plan for the Trinity River and its tributaries. Estimated cost is $6,922,000.

Thin Hope Basis For Ike's Theme

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's two main themes this week—keep down spending and avoid inflation — are both based on the thin foundation of hope. It's thin, indeed.

The budget he sent Congress Monday—ironicall, it's the biggest of all peacetime budgets but still not big enough to please everyone—called for spending 77 billion dollars in the next fiscal year.

Along with it Eisenhower dangled before the country the prospect that if spending can be kept down to 77 billion, the government will take in just a little more than that in revenue and thus balance the budget.

This is a nice thought, even though it calls for razor-thin figuring. But it's strictly a hope, for two things can go wrong and knock the arithmetic through the roof:

1. The revenue may not turn out to be as high as he hopes. That would throw the budget out of balance and mean red ink even if Congress keeps spending down to 77 billion.

2. Congress may decide his spending figure is much too modest to meet national needs, up the spending, and throw everything out of balance, even if revenue turns out to be 77 billion.

Then in his Economic Report to Congress Tuesday Eisenhower, holding out the vision of a surging and prosperous year, said that inflation could spoil the rosy outlook.

So he called for self-discipline and restraint by business in raising prices, and labor in demanding higher wages. He seemed to imply that both groups had better use their heads or else.

But he was less specific Wednesday at his news conference.

"If the desired results cannot be achieved under our arrangements for determining wages and prices, the alternatives are either inflation, which would damage our economy and work hardship on millions of Americans, or controls, which are alien to our traditional way of life. . . ."

That was Tuesday in his Economic Report. At his Wednesday news conference he was asked what controls he had in mind.

"No, I don't have controls in mind . . . because I despise them," he replied. "And I believe it is not truly a free economy if we are going to have federally imposed controls, and I want to try every single thing that is possible.

"But I do say if you get mounting inflation and we will not discipline ourselves, then something will have to be done."

He didn't say what that something might be.

But even as he talked, the AFL-CIO was getting ready to reject his call for holding the wage line. The big labor organization is expected to say soon that workers don't earn enough now in relation to the rest of the economy.

Across the country labor unions were reaching out for good-sized wage boosts in aircraft, chemicals, rubber, steel, aluminum, electrical manufacturing, maritime and railroad industries.

Labor agreements covering around three million workers run out this year. With business improving, as Eisenhower noted, unions are apt to set their sights higher. If wages go up, it's a pretty safe guess prices will, too.

Many 'Friends' Seeking Dollars

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam is having a spate of friends or guests these days seeking credit or trade pacts. None seems to be worrying about the health of the U.S. dollar. What they'd like is more of them.

Anastas I. Mikoyan is on his way home to Moscow after talking trade and credit with government officials and bankers and other businessmen from coast to coast. What the First Soviet Deputy premier got, if anything, isn't known.

There have been rumors that he made some deals. Most of these have been denied promptly. The chairman of one of New York City's largest banks — Chemical Corn Exchange — has assured the annual stockholders meeting that he made no commitments for a loan to the Soviet Union when he and other bankers entertained Mikoyan at lunch.

Washington officials have scoffed at much change in the volume of trade with the Soviet Union, saying there is little it has to export that we want, and that what it mainly wants here comes under our embargo list of strategic materials.

As for credit, these officials have said that Moscow's credit is no better now than it has been, in view of past defaults on loans. Some of the bankers and industrialists with whom Mikoyan talked also still have unhonored claims on the Soviets.

Our friends are faring better here.

Dr. Arturo Frondizi, president of Argentina, is here for a state visit designed to emphasize the good will this country and Argentina have for each other.

Argentina's good will towards us has just been enhanced by some 329 million Yankee dollars. These came from U.S. government lending agencies, the International Monetary Fund in which Uncle Sam is a prime factor, and from private American banks.

U.S. corporations have also been exploring actively the possibilities for more American investment in Argentina. All this is helping Dr. Frondizi to stabilize Argentina's economy. And that is linked to U.S. foreign policy.

The Latin American president is reported seeking no further government loans. But Argentine business leaders in his party are reported seeking some private credits from New York bankers and trade agreements with U.S. companies.

President De Gaulle's government this week got a two-year stand-by credit of 200 million dollars from 21 American banks. The fund is to be used if the French franc needs further stabilization.

The same day in Paris the French Ministry of Finance showed its belief that the French franc can stand on its own feet at present by further liberalizing the terms on which nonresidents of the franc zone can get their home currencies when liquidating their investments there.

Chops Rate Feature Spot Over Nation

By The Associated Press

Bargain-hunting food shoppers will find leg of lamb at reduced prices in many of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Lamb chops and a combination offer of roast, chops and stew meat also are being offered. Prices vary widely in the New York metropolitan area, ranging from 39 cents a pound for the combination deal to 99 cents for loin chops. Legs are quited at 59 cents a pound.

Increasing supplies of lamb are behind the lower prices and sales.

Fresh and smoked hams are featured in a number of stores. Specials on beef are few and far between. Chickens also are scarce, with prices marked up 2 to 4 cents a pound.

Eggs cost 2 to 6 cents a dozen more than last week.

Snap beans, peppers, eggplant and yellow or green squash were marked up this week.

Best buys are endive, escarole, potatoes, mushrooms, Danish cabbage and such "root" crops as beets, carrots, parsnips and purple top turnips. Lettuce is a good buy. Other good buys include onions, pascal celery, spinach, new cabbage and broccoli.

Florida oranges, grapefruit and tangerines should not be too high.

The most popular apple varieties are excellent buys, along with limes. Rated as good buys are California's navel oranges, lemons and grapes. So are Oregon pears.

Army Makes Super Tube

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—The Army says it has developed a tube that may last longer than any radio or TV sets the tube serves.

The tube was fashioned jointly by the Signal Research and Development Laboratory here and Tung-Sol Electric Inc., Bloomfield, N.J.

The Army said in an official statement Wednesda, that the development is the first major break through in basic tube design in more than 30 years.

The new tube is cold; the Army said, in contrast with the hot cathode tube. It consists of a tiny nickel cylinder coated with dried milk of magnesia and glows blue instead of red. It uses less than a tenth the power of a standard hot tube.

Unlike an ordinary tube, it needs no warm-up period after being turned on.

The combined state police forces in the United States today total some almost 22,000 men.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Are there any prehistoric animals on earth?

• • •

ANSWER: The great days of the dinosaurs are gone but on the earth today are still a few unusual creatures who look very much as their ancestors did millions of years before the first man ever appeared on earth.

Many lizards, for example, have skeletons similar to those of ancient dinosaurs, even if smaller. The big kimodo lizards in Burma are much like monsters of another time. Some huge snakes found in tropical spots must be very like those that slithered about in prehistoric ages.

The fish were the first vetebrates (animals with internal, bony skeletons) to appear on earth. The types of the warm-blooded mammals that appeared in prehistoric times have been changed by gradual evolution into the animals we know today. There are several species of fish, that scientists believe have hardly changed in the last 50 million years.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture of a lizard who looks very much like a small dinosaur.

• • •

Bicycle Safety Test Scheduled Tomorrow

Snyder School children will receive an all-inclusive test on bicycle safety Friday in conjunction with Bicycle Safety Week in Snyder.

The bicycle safety program which is being sponsored by the city council of the Parent-Teacher's Association in cooperation with the Snyder Public School System and the Snyder Police Department, is intended to teach safe bicycle riding rules and habits.

Herman Trigg, chairman of the program, said each child will receive the test if the child's parents consent to his participation in the program. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Elmo Crowder and Mrs. Fred Beaty.

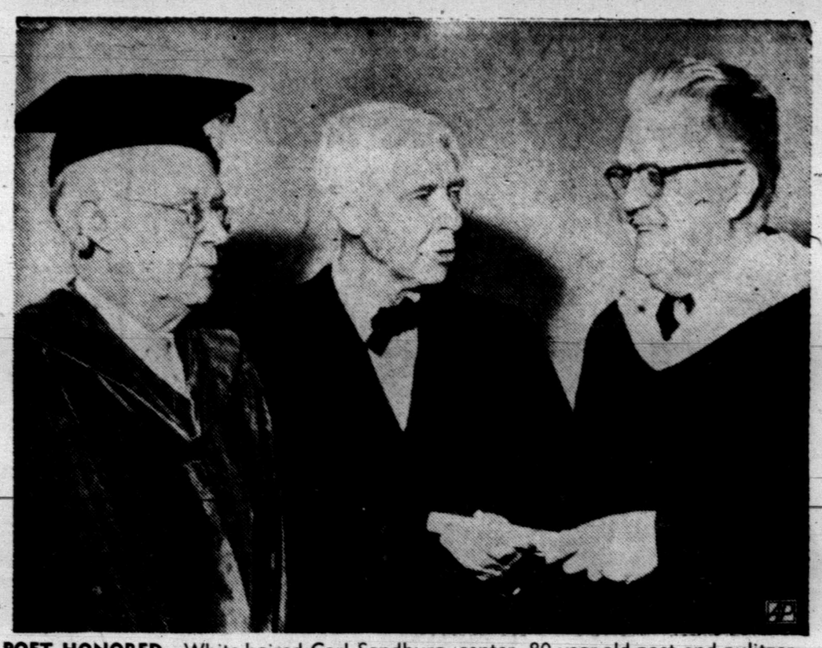

The test is written in simple words and the 24 statements can be answered "true" or "false."

The statements are:

1. A bicycle should be ridden on the right hand side of the street or highway.
2. Bicycle riders should observe and obey all traffic signs, stop-and-go signals, and other traffic control devices.
3. Bicycle riders should try to crowd ahead between cars at a signalized intersection so as to be in front when the ol light changes.
4. Pedestrians do not have the right of way on sidewalks or crosswalks.
5. Bicycles should be "walked" across heavily traveled streets.
6. Night riding without a front light or rear reflector is unsafe.
7. Bicycle riders hitching to a moving vehicle may be struck by other vehicles.
8. A bicycle in poor condition is safe if the rider is skilled.
9. It is safe and proper for a bicycle rider to carry a passenger.
10. It is safe to ride bicycles three abreast when riding in a group.
11. Hitching or holding on to moving vehicles is safe if the rider is watchful.
12. Bicycle riders should never carry bundles unless there is a bundle carrier on the bicycle.
13. The headlight of a bicycle should be visible from a distance of 500 feet.
14. Riding in single file is the sensible thing to do.
15. The proper way to make a left turn is to cut the corner.
16. It is a safe practice to enter the street from the sidewalk without observing whether a car is coming.
17. Bicycles should keep to the right while riding in the street.
18. Bicycle riders should give hand signals before making a turn.
19. A cyclist should always be concerned with the safety of pedestrians.
20. Icy or slippery streets are dangerous places to ride a bicycle.
21. A bicycle rider should look only straight ahead when crossing an intersection.
22. It is safe for two people to sit on a bicycle if one sits on the handlebars.
23. It is desirable to ride at least three feet away from parked cars.
24. On a country highway cyclists should keep to the left side of the road.

Mrs. Wilton N. Jones, publicity chairman for the bicycle safety program, said that a list of things to be inspected on all bicycles will be published later this week so that children can have time to make any repairs their bicycles need before the inspection date. The inspection and riding tests will be given by officers of the Snyder police department.

All children who successfully pass the written test, riding test and whose bicycles pass the safety inspection, will receive an operator's certificate, and all bicycle serial numbers will be recorded at the police department so that stolen or misplaced bicycles can be returned to their owners, Mrs. Jones said.

Stamps Cost More, But Have A Value

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey shows that customers pay more for food at supermarkets which give trading stamps, but the added cost is more than offset by the value of the stamps.

The Agriculture Department, reporting this today, said its study in 21 cities showed that food prices in stamp-giving stores averaged six-tenths of one per cent more than those in nonstamp supermarkets.

But the value of the stamps amounted to about 2 per cent of the money spent at stores giving stamps, the studies showed.

The survey covered the period from November 1953 to March 1957. In a report on the study, the department said: The use of stamps apparently has no significant effect on prices paid to the farmer. But it noted this potential gain for purchasers:

"If the consumer pays six tenths of one per cent more for food in the stamp-giving store but redeems his stamps at the rate of 2 per cent, he benefits by the extent of this difference. That is, if you don't count the time and trouble it takes to save and redeem these stamps."

The survey was made because of widespread use of stamps and because of legal and other controversies surrounding them.

The department estimated that in 1956, retailers spent 375 million dollars on stamps. It said about 168 billion stamps were distributed by these retailers on sales totaling about 20 billion dollars.

Solon Caught In Opening Whirl

BY OMAR BURLESON, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — AS USUAL, THE 86TH CONGRESS opened with ceremonial fanfare and with many big question marks in front of it.

AFTER A FEW DAYS IN SESSION, the first burst of activity accompanying an opening session of Congress dies down and the routine of assigning Members to various committees begins. This is no small task because of the great increase in Democratic members. The next step of activity is the meeting and organization of the committees, and a review of bills already introduced and referred to the committees.

IN THE EARLY PART of any session there is a flood of legislation introduced, much of which will never see the light of day. Many carry out a political commitment on the part of the Member of Congress when he was running for election. He may be wholly sincere in the introduction of his particular measure, but he may find it is easier to promise than to actually fulfill.

MORE THAN TWO THOUSAND bills were introduced on the opening day. At the last check on the number, it had reached between 2500 and 3000.

IN THE TWO YEARS OF THE LAST CONGRESS there were about 20,000 pieces of legislation introduced, but only about 1800 were finally passed to become law.

A COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN will naturally introduce more bills than an average Member, but it is with some degree of pride that of all the measures I presented in the last Congress, all were finalized into law. It should be added, however, it is the first two-year period this has happened during my tenure of office.

LEGISLATION GENERALLY IS DIVIDED into two broad categories. One deals with peace and security, which comes under our foreign affairs, and the other is our domestic economy and social welfare.

UNLESS OUR NATION GUARANTEES its safety from enemies abroad, the second of these propositions becomes unimportant. With national defense as foremost, then the many problems dealing with our domestic welfare fall into their proper place.

THE DOMESTIC ISSUES ARE usually the ones which make the politics of our nation. In some instances this is unfortunate, but nevertheless, it is true and has always been true.

AS TIME GOES ON IT WILL BE MY PURPOSE to discuss the various issues as they arise, and seek the views of the people whom I represent in the Congress. In the meantime, your opinions and your sentiments will be welcomed and respected.

MENTIONED AT THE BEGINNING of this column was the fanfare and tumult with which the Congress opened. A few days after opening, President Eisenhower appeared before Congress with his State of the Union Message. Since the roar of the opening has somewhat subsided, it all reminds me of Kipling's "Recessional" commemorating Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897:

"The tumult and the shouting dies; The captains and the kings depart! Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, an humble and a contrite heart. Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet Lest we forget — Lest we forget."

THERE NEVER WAS A TIME in the history of our Country when we should be more conscious of the tremendous obligations on us all, now when we should ask more fervently that the Good Lord be with us.

Pork, Turkey, Chicken On Bargain List

By The Associated Press

Pork, chicken and turkey were prominent at Texas meat counters this week. Although broiler prices were up, the supply of all three is so large they make natural price leaders.

A number of fresh fruits and vegetables also are being supplied consumers in a large volume. Principal among these are apples, avocados, bananas, celery, citrus, pears, potatoes and turnips and rutabagas, says the Agriculture Marketing Service.

Citrus prices, especially on grapefruit, are off some from last week. Prices on other items mentioned are fairly stable as dependable supplies arrive at most markets. Celery from California and Florida is becoming plentiful.

Several vegetables are selling higher. Among these are pole beans and eggplant from Florida and Mexico; corn; corn; lettuce; onions, both white and yellow; peppers from Florida; radishes and cabbage. Squash is considerably higher and emperor grapes went up some.

Tomatoes and cucumbers worked toward lower prices but cucumbers remain high. Temple oranges from Florida are coming to Texas markets in good supply. New crop round red potatoes from Florida also are arriving quite consistently.

Egg prices are reasonable at retail, as Texas producers are receiving 38 to 42 cents a dozen for grade A large offerings.

Zsa Zsa Finally Sets Date For Wedding

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor finally has set the approximate date for her marriage to wealthy contractor Hal B. Hayes.

"We will be married in about three months," she said Wednesday night as they arrived by plane from Albuquerque, where she had accompanied Hayes on a business trip.

Both she and Hayes denied their marriage plans had been held up by a dispute over whose house they would live in after the wedding. Each has a beautiful home.

"We're going to build a new house," said Zsa Zsa.

Curious Cow Hikes Experiment Cost

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—A government experiment may cost 210 additional because of what it did to a curious cow.

Farmer A. L. Starkey sent a bill for that amount to Weather Bureau officials who, in turn, forwarded the message of the cow's death to Washington.

Weathermen sent a balloon to the earth's outer atmosphere. It burst and then settled back to earth—in a pasture occupied by Bessie, a 3-year-old polled Hereford.

She munched on the equipment and despite efforts of a veterinarian, she died.

"You can call Bessie a victim of the space age if you want to," said Starkey. "But she was worth $210—maybe more."

Students Expelled After Bomb Threats

MIDLAND (AP)—False bomb threats made to Midland and Odessa schools last December resulted in three Midland high school students being expelled and six others placed on probation. School officials were told that bombs in the school were due to go off at certain times. The calls were hoaxes.

Goldwater Is Selected To Head Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators accepted Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) as their 1959-60 campaign chairman Wednesday after opposition from self-styled liberals among them had wilted.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass), chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the group had given unanimous ratification to his appointment of Goldwater to head the campaign committee.

That action was taken after the conference rejected a proposed change in the method of selecting the chairman.

Saltonstall also named these other members:

Sens. Alexander Wiley (Wis); Homer E. Capehart (Ind), Frank Carlson (Kan), Wallace F. Bennett (Utah), Prescott Bush (Conn), J. Glenn Beall (Md), and Norris Cotton (NH).

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (Ky) had led the opposition to Goldwater. He had contended publicly that selection of the Arizonan might invite Democratic allegations that Republicans are anti-labor. Goldwater says he is not antilabor at all.

The liberals never did announce support of any candidate of their own for the chairmanship.

Search For Tot Halted

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Authorities have given up hope of finding Willard Jones Jr. 3, alive.

The boy has been lost in this Ozark Mountain area since Saturday. Searchers, numbering some 5,000 at one time, haven't found a trace of him.

Temperatures in the area have been freezing or below since he wandered away from his farm home 10 miles south of Lebanon. Snow blanketed the area Tuesday night.

The search was stopped Wednesday. Sheriff Neil Brown said the hunt will be resumed when the cold weather breaks, but he thinks the boy is dead. Police have speculated that Willard either fell into a stream and drowned or froze to death after crawling under brush to escape the cold.

His parents have eight other children.

Alfalfa Of 'Our Gang' Film Fame Is Slain In Shooting

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—Actor Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, 33—a freckle-faced, wide-eyed movie star as a boy—was shot to death Wednesday night. Police said the shooting had occurred during an argument with another man over money.

Switzer was a favorite of moviegoers a generation ago when he appeared in "Our Gang" and "Reg'lar Fellers" comedies. He became known again with reissue of the films to television under the title "The Little Rascals."

But in recent years his movie parts had been minor, and he worked as a bartender and hunting guide when not acting. He realized nothing from reissue of the old films.

Police said Switzer had gone to the home of a friend, M. M. Stiltz, 38, Wednesday night in an effort to collect a $50 loan.

Detectives Louis Bell and Ernest Johnson said Stiltz told them that an argument had developed and Switzer hit him on the head with a clock. Stiltz got a gun, and it fired harmlessly while they struggled, Stiltz said Switzer drew a knife, and Stiltz shot him in the abdomen the latter said.

The shooting was witnessed by Jack Piott, 37, who had accompanied Switzer to Stiltz's home, and Mrs. Rita Jane Corrigan and her three children, who were there when Switzer and Piott arrived.

Stiltz was held for questioning.

Switzer began his movie career in 1933. He and his young colleagues pranced through a long series of "Our Gang" comedies and then, as they grew older, appeared in the "Reg'lar Fellars" series.

Some of Switzer's pictures in those days were "Too Many Parents," "Wild and Woolly," and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

After 1942 Switzer's career went into eclipse along with those of most of the other kids who had appeared in "Our Gang" and "Reg'lar Fellers." Jackie Cooper was one member of the gang who went on to success as an actor.

Switzer continued to act, but the parts were sparse. Among his more recent pictures were "Going My Way," "State of the Union," "Island in the Sky," "High and the Mighty," "Dig that Uranium," and "The Defiant Ones."

Just a year ago Switzer was slightly wounded in a mysterious shooting near his home. A sniper winged in the arm. The police never learned who the sniper was.

Switzer was divorced in 1954.

Learning of his death, one of Switzer's fellow child stars, George (Spanky) McFarland, said he was "shocked, to say the least." McFarland, who now has a TV show in Tulsa, Okla., said he and Switzer had been close boyhood friends but that they had only infrequent contact in recent years.

Source For Interview Kept Secret

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Murrow has refused to disclose to police the sources of his radio broadcast linking big business with call girls.

First Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy spent less than 10 minutes with Murrow Wednesday in the latter's CBS office.

Murrow said after his Monday night CBS show, "The Business of Sex," that participants is the program had been promised anonymity.

After Kennedy emerged from his chat with Murrow, newsmen said they assumed he got nothing from Murrow.

"That would be fair," replied Kennedy.

However, Kennedy added, police are planning to question all girls who have been arrested for prostitution.

Murrow, asked if he knew the girls' names, said: "If I did, I wouldn't say."
