Strike Called In Rome Area By Red Group

Premier Deplores Act Of Assailant Seized By Police

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 14—Palmiro Togliatti, Italy's No. 1 Communist, was shot and gravely wounded today as he emerged from the Chamber of Deputies building.

Soon shouting, angry mobs of leftists clogged the square before the chamber building. Violence threatened to engulf all Italy. The Communist-led labor confederation called a general strike in Rome. Premier Alcide De Gasperi termed the shooting "the worst thing that could happen."

Heavy Firing Heard

Heavy firing echoed through the Piazza Colonna near the scene of the assassination attempt as police fought back the Communist-led crowds.

Police seized Antonio Pallante, 25-year-old fiery Sicilian nationalist, as the attempted assassin. He fired five bullets at Togliatti. Two penetrated his chest, one grazed his neck, and the other two missed their mark as 55-year-old Togliatti lay on the ground.

The first bulletin on the condition of Togliatti, one of the signers of the Cominform, said he was sleeping and resting. One surgeon expressed belief Togliatti would live.

Police Are Alerted

The Interior ministry ordered police throughout the nation to prevent any demonstrations.

Armored cars, tanks and jeeploads of police rushed to the square near the Chamber of Deputies building. The crowds were in an ugly mood, shouting "Viva Togliatti." Police fired numerous bursts in an attempt to disperse them. Agitators urged the demonstrators on, and police charged in jeeps and troop carriers.

Police swing rifle butts and clubs on men and women alike. Police reinforcements rolled up by the hundreds.

Soon between 2,000 and 3,000 police were on the scene. By sheer weight of numbers they succeeded in clearing the square. Police gunfire at the crowd apparently was aimed over their heads and no serious casualties were reported.

News of the attack on Togliatti spread quickly throughout the country. In Milan, a leftist citadel,

Floyd Well Is New Producer

Floyd county, on the northwest side of the Permian basin of West Texas, has its first commercial oil well, it was learned here this afternoon.

The development is at Robert Donnell et al No. 1 Carmichael, an east stepout to the discovery well of the Arick field. That well, General American Oil Co., et al No. 1 Byrd, is just across the line in southeast Hale county.

Is Near Petersburg

Donnell No. 1 Carmichael is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of the lease in the north half of section 18, block K, TTRR survey. It is in southwest Floyd county and about four miles northeast of Petersburg.

On a 24-hour pumping potential test gauge, the well made 405.72 barrels of 42.3 gravity oil, plus two percent water, from pay at 5,855-5,940 feet, through perforations in the 5½ inch casing. That zone had been acidized with 1,500 gallons. Gas oil ratio was 430-1. The well will flow a part of the time but will not flow regularly and the pump was installed to make possible steady production. The production is from a lime in the Pennsylvanian.

Cash Prizes For Fair Hiked

Directors Also Name Officials For '48 Show

Hereford Division Added; Plans For Exposition Made

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Approval of increases of more than 40 per cent in cash prizes offered exhibitors in the Panhandle-South Plains fair here Sept. 26-Oct. 2 were announced today by directors of the fair association.

They also approved the addition of a Registered Hereford division to the livestock department, as requested recently by the South Plains Hereford association.

Officials Are Named

The directors likewise announced the appointments of many of the key department officials who will serve in the fair.

Cash posted for premiums, as announced by the board, totals $9,163, as compared with $6,482 last year. The increase of $2,681 amounts to slightly more than 41 per cent.

Expectation is, however, that the total of awards actually will be larger than the figures announced because of special premiums. Fair officials are expecting, for example, that the National Hereford Breeders' association will put some cash for that department to be added to the prizes offered by the fair.

Record Total Last Year

The final aggregate of cash for which exhibitors will compete probably will be close to 50 per cent more than last year, which was a record total to that time.

The increases are spread over all departments, ranging up to awards in the women's department which are almost double those of last year. This was described as the largest proportionate increase of any department.

However, in one division, the cash available for prizes will be less than at the 1947 fair. This is for dual purpose short horn cattle. Last year, the state short horn breeders' association paid 25 per cent of the prizes in that division. Fair officials said they have been advised that the organization cannot pay anything this year. The fair association is making up some of this loss, but not all of it.

Top Prizes Increased

In addition to Herefords and short horns, Jersey and Holstein dairy cattle will be shown, as last year. Increases average about 20 per cent. Top prizes in individual competitions have been increased from $12.50 to $15.

In the swine department, Poland Chinas, Spotted Poland Chinas, Durocs and Hampshires will be shown as in the past. The Chester White division was discontinued because, directors said, no swine

Escaped Convict Is Captured After Slaying Deputy Sheriff

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 14.—An escaped convict was charged with murder here today following the killing of a deputy sheriff and one of Harris county's most dramatic manhunts in history.

Deputy Sheriff Eddie Shofner, 31, died in a Houston hospital at 7:10 a. m. He had received a bullet wound in the head shortly before 2 a. m. while waiting for his wife to be relieved from duty as a Southern Pacific telegraph operator at West Junction, just south of the Houston City limits.

Father-In-Law Beaten

Shofner's father-in-law, Bernard Beaman, 63, is under treatment at a hospital, severely pistol-whipped.

In the county jail, charged before Justice of the Peace Tom Decker with murder, assault to murder, felony theft, and two cases of carrying a pistol, is James W. Morrow, jr., 28.

Morrow, serving four sentences ranging from five to ten years each for robbery by assault from Tarrant county, was arrested in a prairie near the small West Junction telegraph station after 16 police, sheriff's department and Texas ranger patrol cars had converged on the area.

Escaped Last Night

He had escaped from the Blue Ridge prison farm, about four miles from West Junction, around 10 p. m. last night.

In a written statement to deputy sheriffs, Morrow said he went to the station to steal an one-day-old, 1949 Chevrolet belonging to Deputy Shofner and his wife, Mrs. Novita Shofner, 25.

"We were sitting there playing gin rummy," Mrs. Shofner said. "It was about 1:20 a. m. I looked up and I saw a hand reaching for the screen door. The door was latched.

"Eddie got up and turned toward the door and asked, 'what can I do for you?'

Fired Through Screen

"There wasn't any answer. The man outside just fired through the screen. Eddie dropped to the floor. The man fired again at Eddie. I fell to the floor to get out of the way and the man fired a third time, at me, but he missed me. Then he ran away."

Deputy Shofner was struck squarely in the forehead by the first shot. The second shot apparently missed.

Mrs. Shofner said she then heard Beaman, her father, walking across a small wooden bridge near the telegraph station.

Beaman, also a telegraph operator for Southern Pacific, was to

Wheel Chair Is Returned To Crippled Veteran After Long Argument With VA

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, July 14—It was all a mistake, says the Veterans administration, about a 58-year-old crippled veteran losing his wheel chair.

But it took a 22-day argument with the VA before everything was straightened out and Floyd H. Wilkins got his wheel chair back, after it was finally found in a VA supply room.

During the 22 days, says Policewoman Evelyn Lankford, the crippled veteran lay helpless upon a cot.

Vaux Owen, Georgia VA manager, explained the mix-up in this way: The wheel chair was put in the VA supply room when Wilkins applied for hospitalization and it was found that the chair was too large to go in the ambulance taking the veteran to Lawson General hospital.

At the hospital, said Owen, authorities wouldn't treat Wilkins because he is a peacetime veteran. Then, according to the policewoman, the VA "dumped" Wilkins, and sympathetic officers decided to help him.

But it took 22 days of prodding, they said, before the VA finally came up with the chair. The officers said

BASTILLE DAY IS OBSERVED

Labor Unrest For France Spreading

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, July 14 — France observed Bastille day today in an atmosphere of labor unrest. Walkouts have made 100,000 Frenchmen idle and threatened to affect 1,000,000 government workers.

The gloomy labor scene brightened slightly last night when strikers in French airports, who had slowed plane traffic almost to a halt, agreed to return to work. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

Meanwhile Premier Robert Schuman negotiated with union leaders to prevent a further spread of the walkouts.

Strikes Began Last Week

The strikes began last week when 60,000 workers attached to the finance and national economy ministries struck for higher pay. Nearly 30,000 other workers, most of them civil servants, joined the walkouts yesterday.

Government departments are so interwoven that strikes by a few groups could affect 1,000,000 government workers and bring all activities to a halt.

Strikers included all the clerks of Paris' law court and a number of employes of the public works ministry.

Nearly 10,000 dock workers in five French ports and 14,000 miners in France's potash pits were out.

Agreement Hoped For

Hope was expressed that Schuman might reach agreement with leaders of the anti-Communist workers' force, a federation of government employes, and smash the strike movement.

If the workers' force ordered a back-to-work movement it would be difficult for the remaining strikers, affiliated with the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor, to remain out

Student Kills Wave Officer

SEATTLE, July 14. (U.P.)—A university art student shot and killed the 13th naval district's highest ranking Wave officer during a lover's quarrel today and then critically wounded himself, King County Coroner John P. Brill, jr., said.

Brill said Vernon S. Allen, 42, fired a nickel-plated, sawed-off .32 revolver at attractive Lt. Cmdr. Margaret S. Jones, 41. The slug struck Miss Jones in the face and she died almost instantly, Brill said.

Try For Statement

Allen, a student at the University of Washington, turned the gun on himself and fired a bullet into his head. He was rushed to Harborview hospital where police were trying to get a statement from him.

Brill said cause of the shooting apparently was a lovers' quarrel. Allen drove up alongside Miss Jones who was sitting in a car with her sister, Esther, at about 7:30 a. m.

Witnesses said Miss Jones jumped from the car and started to run. Allen pulled the revolver from his pocket and fired, felling the woman, witnesses said.

Plane Crashes With 20 Persons Aboard

TOULON, France, July 14 (AP) A transport plane reported carrying 20 persons crashed today on the rocks of nearby Cape Sicie.

Six bodies were reported recovered and no survivors had been found near dusk.

One report was that the plane was a British Dakota but the British European air ways in London said none of its planes is missing.

One Killed, Two Are Hurt In Auto Mishap

CINCINNATI, July 14. (AP)—An auto plunged out of costrol across a lawn and struck two women as they sat in front of their suburban Sharonville home last night, killing one of them.

Mrs. Emma Lewis, 80, was killed and her daughter, Mrs. Jane Daley, 39, was reported in serious condition.

Police identified Sidney Duncan, 54, of Harlingen, Texas, as driver of the car. He was reported in serious condition at general hospital. Duncan, who wore braces on both legs, was thrown from the car by the crash.

Search Conducted For Hitch-Hiker

COLORADO CITY, July 14 (U.P.) Search for a youthful hitchhiker who wounded an Abilene school teacher in a robbery attempt last night near Loraine (Mitchell county) turned to the Odessa vicinity today.

R. P. Adams, 40, student at Hardin-Simmons university, suffered a minor wound in his left arm when he wrestled with the youth, who menaced him with a .22-caliber rifle.

Missing Water Taxi Arrives At Harbor

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 14. (AP)—The "Leading Lady," water taxi missing since late last night with 24 persons aboard on a charter run from Avalon, Catalina Island, to Newport beach, arrived at that yacht harbor today under her own power.

Skipper Frank Kiech, 38, said dense fog and a faulty compass forced him to cut his big motor midway in the channel last night, and with the small motor operating the boat reached oceanside, far off its course and 75 miles down the coast, before Keich turned it around and brought it back safely.

Aquatic Stunt Man Is Suicide Victim

GALVESTON, July 14 (U.P.)—An aquatic stunt man made careful preparations for his death yesterday afternoon, and then fatally wounded himself with a .30 caliber carbine.

His body was discovered by Mrs. Smith in the bedroom of their home.

Agreement Expected In Canadian Strike

OTTAWA, July 14. (AP)—An authoritative source said today Canadian rail unions have agreed to call off their strike on the basis of a 17-cents-an-hour increase. The only point still at issue is effective date of the increase, the source said.

The informant said the settlement might be nailed down this afternoon. Only about 14 hours remained before the deadline for the general rail strike.

The strike would affect 150,000 employes. It had been scheduled for 6 a. m. tomorrow.

Russians Now Claim Credit For American Achievements

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Now the Russians are claiming credit for the Golden Gate and George Washington bridges—plus "everything that is best in U. S. musical and theatrical life."

For weeks now Moscow radio has been saying that most modern industrial inventions are of Russian origin.

Here is the latest Moscow claim recorded by American government monitors:

"Carnegie Hall, Washington bridge over the Hudson river, the Golden Gate bridge in San Francisco, skyscrapers and a great number of dwellings and industrial buildings are the work of Slav, in particular Russian, engineers."

The special radio dispatch was distributed by the Soviet news agency Tass. It quoted an article in a publication called Slavyane as saying further:

"Everything that is best in U. S. musical and theatrical life has been created by representatives of Slav culture."

Convention Is Embroiled In Angry Debate

South Demands "States Rights" Plank; Leaders Hope To End Session Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 14—The Democratic convention fell into angry argument today over what stand the party's platform should take on "civil rights"—meaning anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and similar laws.

It threatened to leave the delegates both ill-tempered and weary by the time they got around to the main business — picking their informally agreed on Truman-Barkley ticket and hearing acceptance speeches from the nominees.

The platform-writing committee, headed by Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, brought out what some had hoped could be accepted as a "compromise." It was a general statement to the effect that the Democratic party believes everybody, regardless of race or color, should enjoy equal rights under the constitution.

SOUTH IS DEFEATED

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—The Democratic national convention today defeated a southern attempt to put a states' rights plank in the 1948 party platform.

The South was snowed under by a roll-call vote which followed sectional lines closely.

The votes to beat it were rolled up before the call of states got beyond Ohio.

Such border states as Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, and Oklahoma voted against the Deep South. Final tally was 309 for and 925 against.

South Makes Demand

But a group of southerners, led by Dan Moody of Texas and Chauncey Sparks of Alabama (both former governors), came out with a minority report. They demand the platform also say the party believes in "states rights."

The nub of the argument is that the southerners contend that anti-lynch laws, etc., would invade states rights.

Another group, led by Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis, demanded a more specific declaration for civil rights laws.

The whole thing was dumped before the convention and bitter argument flowed.

While the Truman-Barkley nominations appeared as sure as anything can be, some southerners still were fighting nomination of President Truman.

Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas was insisting he would put up Senator Alben W. Barkley's name for first place on the ticket. Barkley was protesting any such move. There were reports he

SERGEANT JAILED AT LUBBOCK

Hale Soldier Held In Theft Of Plane

A 25-year-old Goodfellow field staff sergeant, Loyd Curtis Terrell, was being held in Lubbock county jail this afternoon after he allegedly admitted:

1. That he took an advanced trainer, an AT-6, belonging to the government, and flew it this morning from San Angelo to Hale county, where he landed it on the farm of his parents.

2. That he took his father's automobile and was en route back to San Angelo when arrested by Special FBI Agent Curtis L. Perryman and Patrolman E. B. McKnight of the state highway patrol at 12:30 p. m. five miles south of Abernathy.

Officials said the sergeant told them he was "despondent."

He was described as 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighing approximately 225 pounds and to have been in service about six years. He was not believed to have an overseas record. He is married.

Plane Not Damaged

The plane was not damaged, except that one tire was "down," Perryman informed Goodfellow officials.

Army authorities said they would be here this afternoon from San Angelo.

A general alarm was broadcast over official radio stations KTXI of San Angelo, KKOR of Lubbock and KRKQ of Plainview, and road blocks were set up quickly on important highways radiating from Plainview after Plainview Chief of Police Hoyt Curry found the plane and radioed instructions.

Dismissal Is Asked

The state moved for dismissal this morning of a forgery complaint naming Roy Lynn King, 24, of Bellflower, Calif., after Archie Huckabee, complaining witness, said he could not identify King as the person who had presented him an $840 forged check May 27 for cattle.

Bond of $1,000 had been set in the case by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in binding the defendan'

Truman Ready To Accept Bid

WASHINGTON, July 14. (U.P.)—President Truman was ready to go to Philadelphia today to acept the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Tentative plans called for the President to fly to the Democratic National convention, deliver his acceptance speech tonight, and return to Washington by train shortly afterward.

However, an authoritative White House source said the weather and the speed with which the convention goes through the formality of nomination will determine whether Mr. Truman makes the trip by plane or train.

He was to be accompanied by his wife and daughter Margaret. A secret service detail already is in Philadelphia preparing for their arrival.

To Speak From Notes

The President planned to speak from notes, rather than from a prepared text. He found that form of oratory to his liking during his recent "non-political" tour of the west, and intends to rely on it in the forthcoming campaign.

Except for a brief visit from Grove Patterson, editor-in-chief of the Toledo, O., Blade, Mr. Truman spent most of yesterday mulling over the speech and considering suggestions from his advisers.

The Chief Executive is expected to deliver a ringing appeal for party harmony and to reemphasize the main points of his own legislative program. These include housing, social security, higher minimum wage and long-range farm legislation.

Minister Is Facing Charge In Slaying

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—J. A. Malone of route 5, Austin was shot to death today on the Manchaca road. A charge of murder was filed against J. R. Davis, listed at police headquarters as the minister of the Manchaca community.

Davis surrendered himself at the sheriff's office and turned over a .38 caliber pistol.

Davis said Malone had reached down to pick up a rock when the shooting occurred. Malone was shot once, but the bullet went through both legs and he died from loss of blood before reaching St. David's hospital here.

Two Men Are Dead In Cooper Shooting

COOPER, July 14. (AP)—Walter R. Jenkins, jr., about 25, and Ben D. Watson, about 45, were shot to death today at a downtown filling station which Watson sold to Jenkins yesterday.

Acting Sheriff Buck Toon and County Attorney Sam Ratliff said witnesses told them that Watson shot Jenkins and then killed himself with a shotgun blast through the neck. Toon said no inquest would be held.

Several persons saw Watson shoot himself. A negro porter at the station said Watson entered the station, picked up the shotgun and shot Jenkins without saying a word. The men had been good friends.

The announcement came today from President Gibb Gilchrist, who said Boatner will succeed Col. G. S. Meloy, jr., who will enter the general staff and command school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

Red Rejection Of Protest By Allies Hinted

Marshall Declines Comment On Reply Given By Russians

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Russia replied today to the western powers' protest against the food blockade of Berlin amid indications abroad the Soviets may have rejected the American, British and French demands.

Secretary of State Marshall flatly declined at his news conference to hint at contents of the Russian language document handed him 90 minutes earlier by Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin. Marshall said he received only a brief oral report on the message.

In Berlin, however, the Soviet military administration's official German newspaper, Taeglich e Rundschau, hinted at a Russian rejection. The paper described the western protests as "laughable" in an editorial it headed: "Whom do they think they are frightening?"

Message Contents Unknown

There was nothing in Marshall's discussions of related quesions to indicate that on the basis of what he knows he expects any quick break in the East-West deadlock over Berlin.

The secretary told newsmen a full typed translation of the note had not reached him by the time of his news conference.

He said publication of the document customarily would be up to the Soviet Union. He added that if the Russians do not release the contents soon the western powers might consider doing so.

Others Get Replies

Panyushkin delivered the note at 8:30 a. m. CST, only a few hours after similar replies had been delivered by Soviet envoys in London and Paris.

Panyushkin told reporters that he had delivered a note to the secretary and that it was an answer to a note of the State department dated July 6.

On that day, in separate but simultaneous dispatches, the three western powers sent notes to Moscow condemning Russia's policies in shutting off all surface travel to the western sectors of Berlin.

Pair Held In Taxi Slaying

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP) — A note scribbled by a taxi driver before he was slain in his cab has led to the arrest of two negroes charged with garroting him with an apron string for $17 loot.

Assistant District Attorney Karl Grebow said the prisoners signed confessions last night that they killed the driver, Michael Murphy, 42, early last Sunday.

Message Jotted Down

The driver, apparently suspicious of his two passengers on a long ride around Manhattan and Brooklyn, jotted this message on a trip record card:

"Two colored men—one is 'Duke' — wearing white coat—122nd street and Park avenue.

That was the last place Murphy was ordered to drive, and was where he was strangled, according to the purported confessions

Found Beside Body

The note—found beside his body in the cab only a few blocks from that address—was the only tangible clue in the hands of the 40 detectives and patrolmen assigned to the case.

The first break came when a suspect seized in another taxicab holdup named an accomplice as "Duke." Clue led to clue, and late yesterday police seized William McKinley Jackson, 22, nicknamed "Duke," and Floyd Arrington, 22. The two negroes were charged with homicide.

Sam Rayburn Attacks 'False Fronts' Of GOP, Wallacites

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP) — Rep. Sam Rayburn, the 66-year-old Democratic wheelhorse from Texas, feels that Govs. Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren are masquerading under "false fronts" for old-line Republicanism.

And Henry Wallace, Rayburn told the Democratic national convention last night, provides the front "which masks the Communist party."

The people will be fooled neither by the Republicans nor by Wallace's third party, the Texas congressman said, because:

"You can't blitz the American electorate the way you can blitz a Republican convention."

Privilege Front Attacker

The occasion for Rayburn's analysis of Republicans and Wallacites was his taking the office of permanent chairman of the Democratic convention. He tore into the record of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress and defended the record of the Democrats since 1932.

And on the basis of the two records, Rayburn concluded that the Democrats can and should win in November. The American people, he said, will reject the "front of privilege" from the Republican right, and the "pied piper of Politburo" from the Wallace left.

"Twenty years ago the American people—left to themselves—might have listened to either false god," Rayburn told the Democratic convention delegates.

"But today the American people in their educated common sense will reject both the right and the left. They are too wise for either the front of privilege of the front of Communism."

Rayburn, a veteran of 36 years in the House and three two-year terms as Speaker, lashed out at the Republicans from the same platform where, three weeks ago, Dewey accepted the GOP presidential nomination and Warren the vice presidential spot.

Grundy Machine Cited

The Texan said there is "nothing so dangerous as energetic, efficient people administering wrong ideas; that's why we have never wanted the administrative efficiency of the dictator."

"It is the damning history of American politics that the Republican party has never known how to do the big things well," he said. "It has been penny-wise and pound-foolish—long on money and short on human sense—ever since the party of Abraham Lincoln was hijacked the first time by Joe Grundy (Pennsylvania Republican leader) and the Pennsylvania Association of Manufacturers.

"And history repeats itself by last month's hijacking when the Republicans sent word down the line: 'clear with Grundy'."

The Republicans, Rayburn said, would never have had the courage to call for the construction of 50,000 airplanes, as President Roosevelt did early in World war II, asd would never have risked $2,500,000,000 to make the atom bomb. The Republican-controlled Congress tried to cut the appropriations for the Marshall plan, he continued, but the people wouldn't let them.

GOP Candidates Hit

"Only the Democrats see and face up to the big tough government problems of winning a war, winning a peace, and beating a depression," he said.

"But is 1948 a time when we can afford to take off four years to let these Republican tidy up the room?"

Rayburn said that neither Dewey nor Warren had been forced to express themselves on national issues until it was safe to do so. And then, he added, when they spoke they always did so "very discreetly."

"It is the peculiar value of the Democratic party that it stands today for the whole American people between two false fronts," he said.

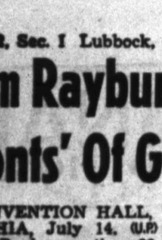

"One false front, Dewey and Warren, masks the Republican party as the continuing party of privilege. And the other, equally dangerous, is the front which masks the Communist party, the confused Henry Wallace who leads some well-meaning idealistic Americans yearning for peace into the slaughter-house of war and Communism."

Miss Truman Attends Philadelphia Party

President's Sister Is New Attraction At Reception For Democratic Big-Wigs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 — The reception was for wives of cabinet members and other Democratic party big-wigs, but a happy, smiling and very shy little spinster stole the show.

She is Miss Jane Truman, sister of the President.

The scene was the grand ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford hotel—public headquarters three weeks ago of Republican Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York but rarely used since then.

Last night seven women lined up in front of the stage as a long queue of Democratic women, dressed in their convention best, filed past.

Suddenly A New Attraction

Suddenly there was a new and more compelling attraction.

It was the little lady from Grandview, Mo.

Hatless, and conservatively attired in a black street dress with white pique touches near the throat, Miss Truman dropped into the reception unannounced. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Vivian Truman.

Immediately, and apparently to her confusion, Miss Truman was engulfed by well-wishers and autograph seekers.

"Yes," she kept repeating, "I'm Mary Jane Truman, the President's sister. No, I won't say anything . . . I've never been in politics. I'm just a homebody. I've always lived at home with my mother."

Miss Truman arrived in Philadelphia Sunday, she said, and has attended all but one session of the convention since.

Her First Convention

"It's my first convention," she said. "I've never been in politics. I live in Grandview. Oh, we haven't done much except a little shopping and sight-seeing. No, I've never been to Philadelphia before."

Is she proud of her brother?

"Well," she smiled, "What would you think?"

The crowd around her grew larger, and many invitation cards were thrust toward her for autographing. She tried to comply with a couple on the spot but then turned to a nearby wall.

"I'd better sign them this way," she apologized, "It won't look like my writing unless I do."

She left a couple of minutes later, still smiling and gay.

Guests File Past

Meanwhile, the line of guests was filing steadily past the receiving line. Mrs. Francis J. Myers, wife of Pennsylvania's Democratic senator, stood at the top, accompanied by Mrs. John W. Snyder (Treasury), Mrs. Tom Clark (Attorney General), Mrs. Jesse M. Donaldson (Postmaster General), Mrs. Julius A. Krug (Interior), Mrs. Charles A. Brannan (Agriculture), and Mrs. John Gibson, wife of the Acting Secretary of Labor.

Orange punch and petit fours were served. The party broke up scarcely in time to give the ladies a chance to get to convention hall.

"My," sighed a woman, reaching for a second glass of punch, "I'm from Colby, Kas. This is my first convention and it's every bit as wonderful as I dreamed it would be."

Ship Cancels Mutiny SOS

LONDON, July 14. (AP)—The battleship Missouri has messaged that "everything is under control" aboard the American freighter William Carson, the captain of which sent out a mutinq SOS Monday night.

U. S. naval headquarters here said Read Adm. A. J. McLean, commanding the Missouri, reported he had been in contact with the American tanker Hampton Roads, which received a mesage from the Carson that the situation was satisfactory.

The master of the Hampton Roads said in a message last night to the Associated Press that he passed the Carson about 35 minutes after the freighter sent the mutiny signal. He said the Carson's SOS was cancelled about 25 minutes after it was sent. The Hampton Roads passed close by the Carson and no signs of disorder could be seen.

The Carson's captain, E. W. Braithwaite of Savannah, radioed Monday night "crew mutinous Cannot control, please come at once."

McLean was directed by naval headquarters here to investigate the distress call which gave the freighter's position as 250 miles northeast of the Azores.

McLean's okay message was received as planes from the aircraft carrier Coral Sea prepared to search the Azores for the Carson and the U. S. coast guard cutter Campbell raced full speed toward the freighter.

The Missouri, Coral Sea and Campbell are part of a midshipmen's practice cruise squadron which sailed from Gibralter two days ago en route to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The Carson is a 7,000-ton liberty ship, operated by the South Atlantic Steamship company of Savannah, Ga. It is en route to Nova Scotia from Genoa, Italy.

Bomb Expert Takes Shell From Salmon

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—Maurice Barnett's war-time experience as bomb disposal officer came in handy today. He had to de-fuse a salmon.

The 23-pound salmon turned up in Barnett's fish shop with two cannon shells in its stomach. One had been fired. The other was a live 35 millimeter incendiary.

Barnett expertly removed the live one and touched it off with no casualties.

Skyrocketing Prices Outpace Increase In Consumers' Wages, Report Shows

WASHINGTON, July 14. (U.P.)—A steadily increasing inflation—with at least one brake on high prices due to loosen soon—was reported today by a congressional economic committee.

The monthly "economic indicators" issued by the Senate-House committee on the economic report showed an increase in income for Americans but added that it "hardly kept pace with the rise in consumers' prices."

What's more, the July report said, one of the big anchors on inflation—a large cash surplus in the treasury—soon will be lost. The treasury finished the last fiscal year July 1, a whopping $7,600,000,000 to the good. But next year, the committee warned, will bring a "close balance" between government income and expenses.

Prices, Profits High

The month of June saw economic records topple on all sides. Prices and employment figures zoomed to new peaks, and postwar highs were hit by profits, production and national income.

The report was compiled by President Truman's board of economic advisors from figures submitted by government agencies.

The council headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, will submit a mid-year economic report to the President later this month based on many of the same figures. With prices and inflation control already top presidential campaign issues, the forthcoming report may be a major source of political controversy.

Police Judge Accused Of Embezzlement Takes Place Beside Men He Sentenced

NEWARK, N. J., July 14. (AP)—A dapper, 38-year-old police judge who admitted he had embezzled more than half a million dollars took his place today in the county jail alongside some 40 men he himself had sentenced there previously.

Unshaven but still attired neatly in some choice selections from his 400-tie, 15-suit wardrobe, Judge P. James Pellecchia, jr., was assigned to a cell in the Newark street jail pending a hearing Friday on his possible release on bail

Father Board Chairman

Pellecchia, named recently by a haberdasher's trade organization as "the nation's best dressed jurist," pleaded guilty yesterday to 20 charges of embezzlement in a hastily summoned hearing before common pleas Judge Philip Hartshorne.

State banking Commissioner John J. Dickerson said Pellecchia admitted taking $630,000 from the Columbus Trust Co., of which he was a vice president and counsel. His father, Pellegrino Pellecchia, 72, is chairman of the bank's board of directors.

Governor Intervenes

The judge was quoted as saying he had rigged up a series of fictitious mortgages to obtain the funds in order to cover his losses in horse race bets.

State Attorney General Walter D. Van Riper said Pellecchia told him it was "nothing to lose $5,000 or $6,000 a week on the horses."

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll said at Trenton that he was ordering the investigation of the embezzlement continued along "several phases."

"Not the least of our interests," the governor said, "is how it was possible for a police court judge to gamble away that much money and where."

Graduates Of Tech Marry

The marriage of two former Tech students, Miss Frances Jean McGregor and James Edward Reed, was performed Saturday night in Dallas at the Cliff Temple Baptist Church Youth hall. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are to make their home in Amarillo following a wedding trip to Albuquerque, N. M.

Rev. Irby D. Bates officiated at the service which was read before an altar banked with palms, fern and pedestal baskets of white gladioli and baby's breath. Tapers burned in candelabra. Mrs. Louise Britton, pianist, Mrs. C. C. Kinsey, vocalist, and Miss Bonnie Simpson, flutist, furnished music.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McGregor of Dallas, was given in marriage by her father. Her dress of white eyelet organdy was fashioned with a fitted bodice, fitted bracelet-length sleeves, ballerina-length full skirt and a white organdy sash styled with a bustle. She carried an orchid surrounded by shredded carnations, lilies of the valley and streamers of white satin.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Nina Byrom Fessler, was dressed in pink pique designed with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves and ballerina-length skirt. She carried blue asters tied with blue satin streamers.

Don C. McGregor, brother of the bride, served as best man and Bob McGregor, another brother, and W. A. Windsor were ushers.

A reception was given following the ceremony. Among out-of-town guests were parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reed of Lubbock.

Mrs. Reed is a graduate of Sunset High school in Dallas and of Texas Technological college where she was a member of Sans Souci social club. Mr. Reed is a graduate of Crosbyton High school and played football with the Tech Red Raiders and was graduated with a bachelor of business administration degree. He is a Marine corps veteran.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a navy blue linen suit with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Prominent Lawyer Asks That Late Dinner Dates With 30-Year-Old Woman Be Kept Concealed

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 30, look much younger, am considered attractive and dress well. I have a job as assistant buyer.

About a year ago I met Tom, a prominent lawyer, 45, via office consultation. On the heels of a chance encounter a few months later he invited me to lunch and on this first date asked to see me again.

However, his parting words were, "This is off the record," which amazed me, and when I asked if he had a wife, he said no, but he didn't want his staff to know his business—another remark I thought uncalled-for.

Since then we've dated on an average of twice a month and the routine is always the same: late dinner at some hotel, club or inn, a drive in his car and then parking in some secluded spot for what (in my estimation) is rather passionate lovemaking.

SHE NEVER BEFORE PERMITTED PETTING

I HAD never before indulged in petting, which I believe to be morally wrong and psychologically harmful; and though I am lonely and enjoy these interludes of "affection," if you can call them that, they bother me. Other things bother me, too.

Tom never calls for me at home; I meet him after work in town. He never sees me on weekends or holidays, never suggests "another time" at parting, but telephones again in a week or two; never asks me to meet any of his family or friends; and when I suggest his meeting mine—all very nice people—he always says, "Some time."

He is always saying how sweet or lovely or attractive I am, that I have an excellent mind, etc.; so why, if he thinks so highly of me, does he persist in keeping our friendship such a deep secret?

He is of the same religious and racial background as myself, his success is due to hard work and natural brilliance, and he is very modest about his accomplishments, so I don't think he is a snob; but I am beginning to resent being treated as "the other woman" for no reason. My life has always been above reproach and I am afraid that I may get hurt by falling deeply in love with him. Please advice me.

Signed K. D.

MAN PATRONIZES HER AS DECLASSE

DEAR K. D.: In condensing your long letter, I've omitted much that is relevant to a clarifying discussion, including statements to show that you aren't sure Tom is a bachelor.

For instance, you say, "If he isn't married, then he is extremely marriage-shy and afraid that his name will be linked with any woman's." Also, "As he speaks of taking his mother various places, perhaps he is a victim of too much Mom."

As to that, he could have a wife and a vampire-Mom, too, and yet treat you as a lady if he felt that way about you and were strongly attracted to compatible qualities of your personality.

The fact is that, married or not, he bluntly labeled you declasse by his reckoning, disqualified to figure openly as a friend or heart-interest of his, right from the start of this sneak-flirtation, and he has been treating you as a pick-up ever since, vulnerable and tempting as a passing fancy.

GIRL'S INGENUE POSE DISHONEST

YOU know that. At your age, in your line of work, you can't be an ingenue. You swallowed his insolence and followed his lead not so much because you were lonely or thought he was Lochinvar, as because you were dazzled by his status, flattered by his notice, and willing to gamble that, given opportunity to sell yourself, you might make a real conquest of him.

Tom is a snob in relation to you, also a wolf, who discreetly covers his tracks to make a tight case for the record that you've never been more than an inconsequential acquaintance and offhand dinner companion when he works late. Alas for your hopes of conquest, you are trembling resentfully on the verge of losing both head and self-respect in the deal; and the only defense against total defeat is to ring down the curtain on Tom's monkey business. M. H.

THE LITTLE THINGS THAT MAKE A BIG DIFFERENCE

Mr. Chipmunk has found that, by stowing away a small number of nuts each summer day, he makes for his own comfort and satisfaction in the winter. Just so, the small details of service carefully observed by the Hilton Dining Room staff make for YOUR mealtime comfort and satisfaction. Such welcome elements as these add the Hilton touch to eating pleasure: a table carefully set and served . . . a menu filled with delicious foods . . . prompt attention for the little folks in your family . . . and individualized service that does not detract from the meal. You pay no more for these little things that make the Hilton Dining Room such a big difference in mealtime satisfaction.

World Crisis Finds Britain, U. S. Working Side By Side

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the outstanding aspects of current international crisis is the increasing American-British solidarity—a solidarity which forms the backbone of the bloc of Democratic nations.

We get a striking demonstration of this in the coordination of effort being displayed in the battle of Berlin. We see it again in the way London has veered around to the Washington viewpoint that the United Nations should use strong methods to halt the war in the Holy Land.

This intensification of unity is due to numerous factors. But foremost is recognition that it is essential for the defense of Democracy against Bolshevist aggression which aims at world conquest. Britain and America hold the balance of power in this conflict which involves the freedom of mankind.

Then, too, there is a mutual respect for integrity and ability to deliver the goods in emergencies. I'm reminded of a remark made to me the other day in a New York subway by a young Englishman—a stranger to me—who was trying desperately to figure out how to reach his destination.

"I don't see how you folk ever get anywhere," he said gloomily, "but you always seem to arrive, so I suppose you must be right."

That was a backhanded compliment to the U. S. A. It was almost identical with what I've heard Englishman say of their own country innumerable times:

"We British have an extraordinary faculty for messing things up—but some way we always manage to muddle through."

It's true that Americans frequently do "arrive" and that Britons as often "muddle through." Both countries recognize this quality in the other, and respect it. And if each also recognizes it in itself, what's wrong with that?

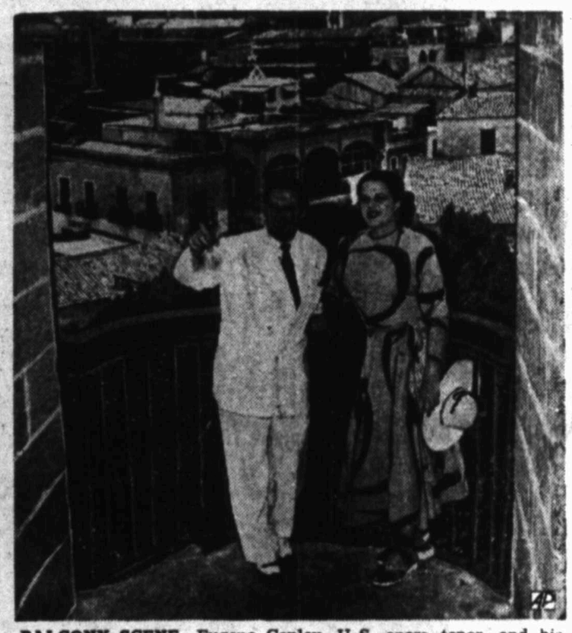

King Asks Cooperation

So it isn't strange that King George VI, in addressing the American and other bishops attending the Lambeth conference in London should appeal for close collaboration between the United States and Britain to assure world peace. We may not be able to maintain peace, but the consensus of observers seems to be that such collaboration will contribute more towards it than will anything else.

We assign the rank of "great power" to five nations today: America, Britain, Russia, France and China. Poor China is a stricken giant, and France suffered so greatly in the war that she is far from her old self. Britain, too, is in the grip of a fierce economic crisis, and it will be years before Russia fully recovers from the last war. America is the most powerful economically and militarily, and by that token has volunteered to aid the less fortunate democracies which are in danger of Bolshevist aggression.

In this Uncle Sam is motivated partly by althuism. However, he also is acting in self-defense, for our front lines lie in western Europe. There must be solidarity among America, Britain, France and the other western European democracies.

The trend of the struggle for Berlin hinges on this solidarity. The German people recognize this, as witness, banner lines in their newspapers proclaiming that "the whole world is watching the battle of Berlin." That is no exaggeration, for this may be the turning point in the conflict between Communism and Democracy in Europe.

Directors Increase Bank Surplus Fund

Foreseeing the need for larger financing accommodations in this area, directors of the Citizens National bank Tuesday afternoon voted to increase the bank's surplus fund by $200,000, thus giving the bank a total capital and surplus account of $1,000,000.

The move provides regular loan accommodations for commercial and industrial borrowers to the extent of $100,000 on regular terms.

"Realizing the fact that commerce and industry in Lubbock and the South Plains have grown to such proportions that they demand larger financing accommodations and with the firm determination that the bank will at all times keep pace with the progress of this section, the directors voted to transfer $200,000 to the surplus fund," Geo. E. Benson, president, said.

In addition to the $1,000,000 capital and surplus account, the bank still will have undivided profits and reserves of more than $200,000, giving it a total capital account of nearly one and one-quarter million dollars, Benson said.

Deposits totaled $31,008,888.30 on June 30, the bank's report of condition revealed.

Vets Attending Tech Session Must Report

Veterans who plan to attend the second semester of summer school at Texas Technological college must go by the veterans' coordinator's office in the Administration building and have their requisition books redated, H. A. Anderson, coordinator of veteran's affairs has announced.

Veterans attending school under part VII of the GI bill, who plan to enter the next summer semester at Tech, must report to the training center not later than July 23, according to Franklin Elkins, training specialist. Failure to make this report will delay the receiving of subsistance checks on time, Elkins said.

Welfare Donation Increase Approved

County commissioners Tuesday amended a Monday order, whereby $1,000, rather than $750, would be donated from the county's general fund to the child welfare unit of the state welfare program in Lubbock county.

As explained to newsmen, original plans were made to a joint meeting of the city and county commissions several weeks ago. It was proposed that the unit office would be established here under charge of a trained director, provided that the city and the county each would subscribe $1,000.

Since the city previously had entered an order donating its $1,000 portion, the county commissioners Tuesday amended Monday's action so that the county's funds would match.

The period covered by the donations would be from Sept. 1, 1948, to Sept. 1, 1949, the amended order provided.

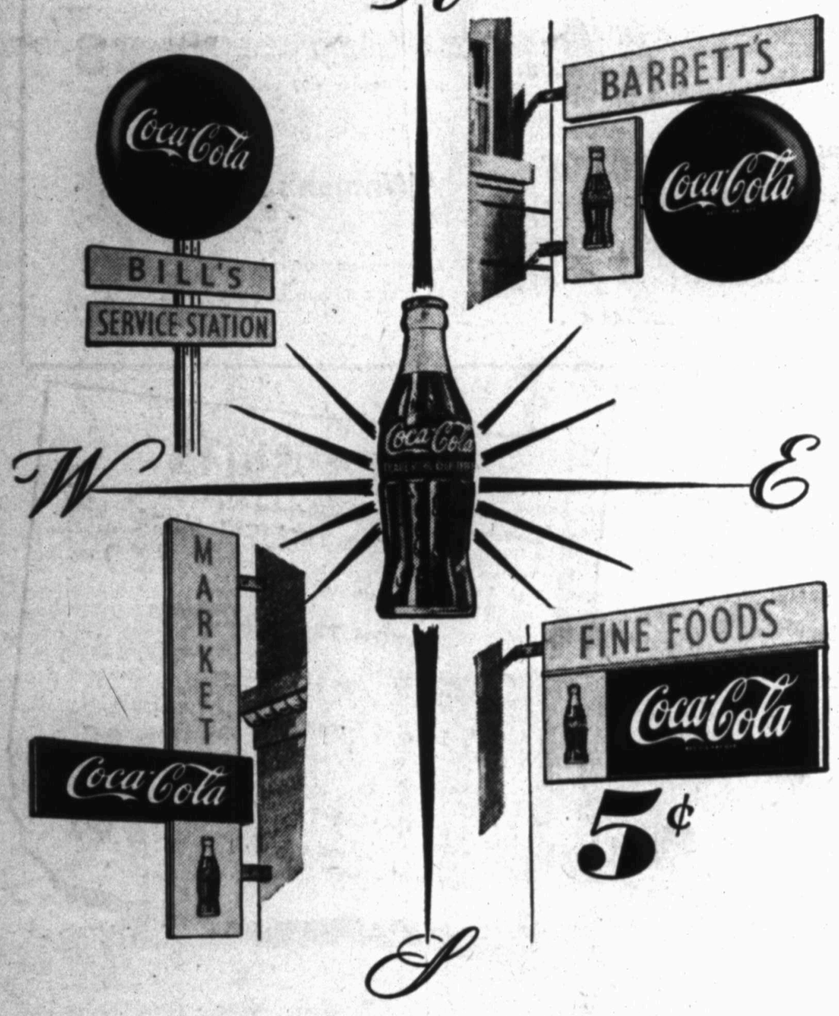

The vote stood as taken Monday: County Judge Walter Davies having decided a tie vote wherein Commissioners R. O. Short and Pat Cori.. supported the plan and Commissioners Ben Mansker and Ottis Isom voted against it.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

One of the finest extravaganzas for boys, the district tournament of the American Legion Junior League baseball program, is now in session. And a measly crowd of somewhere in the neighborhood of 200 persons turned out to see teams from Morton, Spur, Brownfield, and Lubbock battle. The winning team here meets another district winner in bi-district play and the four winners of bi-district play meet, the winner going to the state meet.

In other words, one of the teams now playing at Rosenthal Field has an excellent chance of going to the state tourney. This is worth your support. The boys don't like to play before a scattering of people. They would rather play before a well-filled grandstand. And they deserve that privilege. They don't play the best baseball in the world, but it isn't the worst, either. They are playing because they love the game and, for some, because there is a chance to go up in the baseball world through American Legion ball.

For instance, the winning pitcher in yesterday's All-Star game in the majors was Vic Raschi of the New York Yankees. He hurled a good game and his single in the fourth drove in the winning runs. Vic is a graduate of the American Legion program, as were the majority of the starters in yesterday's classic. We wonder how many persons today are saying, in this various home towns, "Gee, he had a chance to see him get his start and missed it."

Among those named to the American League roster, only five did not get their start in the Legion program. On the National League roster, the percentage is higher, with 15 of the 25 men never playing in the Legion program. However, for the overall picture, 28 of the 48 players chosen to play in the classic are graduates of the Legion baseball program. This is an average of .583, pretty fair in any league.

So on these beautiful summer evenings, when you have no place to go and the house is a little warm, why don't you take the family out to Rosenthal Field and see the Legion games? It won't hurt your pocketbook, you'll see better baseball than you'd expect and you'll at least know the kids are trying their darndest. Moreover, you'll be helping a highly worthwhile cause and will be making possible the improvement of mind and body in a lot of boys.

And not far from Rosenthal Field is Jumbo Webster Field, where the A. S. A. softball tournament is being unreeled. Games the last two nights have not been up to snuff, but the weaker opposition is being eliminated and plenty of good games are left. In fact, the games have been enjoyable even with the high scores, but the fans have been reticent about visiting the ball park. The Jaycees are sponsoring Webster Field this summer and you can rest assured that when they endorse a product, they are willing to stand behind it. Moreover, their endorsement is pretty good proof that it is worthwhile.

We're perfectly frank in admitting that as far as we're concerned, softball will never take the place of baseball. We enjoy the slower game that has more thrills. It's like watching a pair of flyweights battle after seeing heavyweights. It's interesting, but there's no thrill. Despite that, we have enjoyed the last two nights at Webster Field. For something different, something that is interesting and something with a few laughs, come on out. It's almost worth the pride of admission to hear Barney Stagner on the P. A. system.

Recently at the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club, Newcomer Bill Nowak scored his first hole-in-one, joining a notable list of other Lubbock golfers who have turned the trick this year. Nowak, from Los Angeles, was playing in a foursome of Bob Ewerz, Bob Kracroft and Clint Kirkpatrick when he holed his tee shot on the 115-yard 12th hole. He had never accomplished this virtual rarity in golf prior to his tee shot. He played most of his early golf in the Los Angeles area and has a brother who is assistant to Stan Kertes, a pro in Chicago.

The thin, fine handwriting on the wall might be seen by the Hubbers, as they lounge in Albuquerque, N. M., today, waiting for the third and final game of their three-game series with the Dukes.

The handwriting is pretty plain, too, after the Hub City men dropped their second straight tilt to the Dukes last night, 11-3. That defeat dropped them five full games behind the leaders and two and a half games behind Amarillo, which beat the Lamesa Loboes 11-2.

Pampa Moves Away

In other games in the West Texas-New Mexico League last night, Pampa moved farther away from Lubbock with a 7-5 licking of the Clovis Pioneers and Abilene's resurging Blue Sox kept the Borger Gassers away from the Hubbers by winning 16-3.

The stumbling, faltering Loboes certainly didn't do anything to enhance their reputation last night, handing the Gold Sox a good workout and an easy victory. Dick Gentzkow slammed a homer and Doug Lewis has three doubles in four appearances.

The victory for the Gold Sox moved then two and a half contests ahead of the Hubbers, the same distance by which they trail the Albuquerque Dukes.

Couldn't Hold Lead

The Hubbers again took a lead and then couldn't hold it, as Duke pitching stood the locals on their ears. The Hubbers could rack Virgil Butler for only six safeties, the only extra-base blow being a double by Don Moore in the eighth. By that time the damage was complete and final, except that three more Duke runs scored in their half of that frame.

Manager Jackie Sullivan got the Hubbers off to a 1-0 lead when Jackie Wilcox singled, moved to second on Gene Hixson's out and scored on Sullivan's single.

Butler tied up the game for himself in the second, singling home Ron Bowen, who had doubled. But the Hubbers virtually repeated their first inning run to take a 2-1 advantage. Wilcox walked, moved to second on Hixson's infield out and scored on Sullivan's single.

Sewed It Up

Albuquerque sewed up the game in the fourth when Manager Herschel Martin walked, Dick Dawson singled, Bob Chambers tripled them home and Butler doubled home Chambers. After that it was all Butler on the mound and the Dukes at the plate, four runs in the sixth clinching the tilt and three more in the eighth adding insurance.

Tonight the Hubbers will try to salvage one of the three games behind either Red Ramsey or Cotton Russell, while the Dukes go after a clean sweep behind Don Cantrell.

Cats Defeated By All-Stars

FORT WORTH, July 14 (AP)—For the second year in a row the Texas league leaders at the half-way mark have been unable to beat a squad recruited from the other seven clubs. Fort Worth's Cats made a gallant fight of it last night but couldn't get by the last inning and the All-Stars won 4-2.

A crowd of 12,636 watched as the All-Stars, managed by Al Vincent of Tulsa, banged out six hits for four runs in the ninth to take the game.

Vincent used six of his seven pitchers while Manager Bob Bragan of Fort Worth called on five. Vincent wasn't there at the finish, however. He was thumbed out of the game for protesting foo vigorously on a decision in the last inning.

Featured Great Fielding

The game was errorless and featured some great fielding, tops of which was an applause-evoking running catch by Homer Matney of the Cats of a hard drive by Sam Diblasi of Houston in the second inning.

The Cats got their runs in the sixth and seventh innings. The first one was on a single by Irv Noren that drove in Marionetti. The next was on a single by Marionetti with the bases filled.

The All-Stars went to work in a hurry in the ninth inning to win the game. Tommy Tatum of Tulsa, pinchhitting for Diblasi, singled. Johnny Creel of Dallas followed suit and Tom Jordan of San Antonio singled to fill the bases. Reynolds doubled in Tatum and Creel. Mike Garcia of Oklahoma City popped out and Jordan was out at the plate on an attempted squeeze but Jim Kirby of Shreveport doubled to bring in Reynolds and Hemus doubled to drive in Kirby.

Garcia, who worked the last two innings, was the winning pitcher. Carl Erskine, who pitched part of the eighth and ninth innings, was the loser.

Lone Star Pitcher Wins 15th Victory

(By The Associated Press)

Pitching took the spotlight in Lone Star league play last night.

Fred Hubbs of Henderson lost a 3-1 decision to Lufkin, but gave up only one hit.

Lee Roy "Stumpy" Jones of Kilgore won his 15th game of the year in holding Bryan to two hits while his mates pounded out a 14-0 victory.

Harry Fowle and Kardow limited Gladewater to three hits but came out on the short end of a 1-0 decision as Gladewater blanked Longview.

In the other game last night, Marshall's Tigers rallied for six runs in the seventh inning to take a 9-7 victory from Tyler.

DOUBLE BILL IN LEGION TOURNEY

Lubbock And Spur To Battle Tonight

Second round of the American Legion District 2 junior baseball tournament will be unreeled tonight at Rosenthal field, with the two losers of first night tilts—Morton and Brownfield—tangling in the twin bill opener at 6 o'clock.

Lubbock and Spur, the two winners of the first round competition, are scheduled to battle in the nightcap at 8:30.

Lubbock Win 10-2

The hard-hitting Lubbock "A" nine chalked up an impressive 10-2 victory over Morton in the opening game of the double elimination tourney bracket Tuesday night, while Spur outscored Brownfield, 23-19.

Lubbock clinched the victory in the eighth frame when Bob Brown doubled, Tatum was issued a base on balls and Guy blasted a home run against the Avalanche-Journal scoreboard—360 feet from home plate.

Meanwhile, Morton was unable to solve the righthand slants of slender Hulen Fowler, who gave up just one safety in the seven innings that he was on the mound for the Lubbock nine. Morton chalked up one run in the second stanza, when Corky Evans walked, went to second on an error and came home on another booted ball.

Another base on balls, this time to Bill McDanial, resulted in the final tally. McDanial stole second and scored on a wild pitch by Fowler.

Lefthander Jack McCabe relieved Fowler for the final two frames and shut out the visitors without a hit. One man reached first on a walk.

Spur notched an opening night victory in the second game of the twin bill by outscoring Brownfield, 23-19, in a wild encounter that lasted nearly three hours.

The Spur nine took a commanding lead early in the game with a seven-run offensive in the second inning, then added three more tallies in the third and five in a big seventh. But Brownfield rallied in the home half of the seventh to push across eight runs, and followed with two more in the eighth and seven in the ninth.

Melvin Lindsey, stocky catcher, was the big gun for the Spur team as he collected six hits in six official trips to the plate. Lindsey slammed out a triple, double and four singles to grab the spotlight. Don Anderson paced the Brownfield crew with a triple and bingle in three times at bat.

Golden Light, Baldridge Win

The Culligan Soft Water company softball team from Plainview and the Chapman Motor company nine from Abernathy will make their first appearance tonight in the A.S.A. softball tournament at Jumbo Webster Field.

Both teams drew byes in first-round play and will meet local teams that already have played and won one contest, Cloverlake Dairy and Thomas-Sunbeamers respectively. The first game will start at 8:30 p. m., with the other one following about 9:45 p. m.

Two more local favorites, Golden Light Coffee and Baldridge Bakery, had no trouble in winning their initial tourney games last night. Golden Light beat Levines 11-1, while Baldridge scored a lopsided 16-0 victory over the Baker-Fleming nine from Plainview.

Neither game went the route, being halted by the tournament rule which forbids one team trailing by more than nine runs after five innings of play.

Dewey Carr pitched fine ball for the Golden Light nine, letting the Levine team down on two hits. Eleven errors by Levines didn't help the situation any and Golden Light made 11 runs on only seven hits.

The winners never scored more than three runs in any inning, but it was enough to build up a big lead. Levines rallied momentarily in the fifth when, with two out, Losing Pitcher Pinkert doubled to drive in the lone counter.

Kiser Paces Bakers

The Baldridge nine lost no time in making certain of its game with the visiting Plainview team. Jim Kiser, working with a four-run lead established for him in the first half of the initial frame, never was in trouble. He fanned two of the first three batters and went on to scatter three weak hits for the victory.

Cloverlake Dairy, winner of a first round game Monday, will play Culligan's Soft Water team from Plainview in the first game tonight, starting at 8:30.

In the second game, the Thomas-Sunbeamers will entertain the Chapman Motor company nine from Abernathy.

Agriculture Staff Increased At Tech

Two additions to the Agricultural staff at Texas Technological college were announced Tuesday by Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department, in which the new men are to teach. They are scheduled to take up their duties at the college Sept. 1.

Alfred B. LaGasse Jr., who took his BS degree in landscaping architecture from Texas A & M in 1948, will instruct in horticulture, teaching landscaping design and floriculture. He is married, has two children, and his home is in Commerce.

Judd Morrow, who took his BS from Texas Tech in 1947, will be an instructor in agronomy. For the past year Morrow has been working on his masters degree at Tech, and hopes to have it complete by the end of the summer. His thesis was written on the use of 2-4-D weed killing compound, especially its use on yucca, or bear-grass, and mesquite. He is a part time instructor at Tech while working on his masters degree.

PRETTY GOOD HAUL—Roy A. Jordan, (center) 1906 Twenty-third, went fishing the other day in the Gulf of Mexico off Aransas Pass and the big fellow on the left is all he had to show for his day's work. But at that, his catch was said to have been the largest tarpon caught at Aransas Pass this year. The big fish measured six feet, 2½ inches long and weighed an estimated 120 pounds. Jordan had to struggle with the denizen of the deep an hour and 40 minutes before landing him. The tarpon at the right is another fish caught by Jordan's party which included his son, John Jordan, who lives at Corpus Christi. The trip was Jordan's first try at tarpon fishing. Cornell Wilde And Wife Film Team Not To Be Habit

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 14.—Patricia Knight will have to pursue her future film career without husband Cornel Wilde.

The Wildes currently are working together in "The Lovers," but their screen partnership won't become a habit. "This is my last outside picture," explained Cornel. "From now on, my contract belongs exclusively to 20th-Fox." Since he made his hit in "A Song To Remember," his services have been shared by Columbia.

Pat has several film deals cooking for her and still wants to pursue her own career.

Skelton Slapstick Hit

Tony Martin arrived back in town still dazed from his reception at London's palladium. "I don't claim to be a big name; I consider myself to be an in-between," he says modestly. "That's why I was amazed at the wonderful way the British crowds reacted."

The parting of MGM and Sylvan Simon, who directed Red Skelton's two latest pictures, was far from friendly. Despite "Fuller Brush Man's" big business, MGM said it didn't approve of Red's doing slapstick (both Red and Simon were loaned out for the film). Said one MGM bigwig: "Red should be doing love scenes."

The big beef came over Red's film on the home lot, "A Southern Yankee." Simon wasn't asked to do the retakes and has now requested that his name be taken off the film. Simon is now producing at Columbia.

Junior League All-Stars Do It Again 5-2

Fans Wonder If Sight Of American Loop Uniform Drains Power Of National Bats

ST. LOUIS, July 14. (AP)—Baseball fans are wondering today whether the mere sight of an American league uniform drains the power from the bats of the National league hitters or whether the senior circuit has simply developed a defeatist complex.

It may be a combination of both. Although the American leaguers went into the 15th annual all-star game yesterday with more bruises than one of Joe Louis' sparring partners, it had a comparatively easy time knocking off its "cousins" for the 11th time in 15 meetings.

Score Was 5-2

The score was 5-2. But for Stan Musial's first-inning two-run homer, the National leaguers would have suffered the added embarrassment of a shutout.

As a matter of fact, the reputed National league powerman have scored only three runs in the last three losing games, all on home runs.

In 15 games, they have scored exactly 45 runs, or three per game. In yesterday's contest the Nationals amassed eight hits to six safeties for the winning American leaguers.

Of all their defeats, yesterday's probably was the hardest to take. With the exception of Eddie Stanky, little Boston Braves' second baseman, and shortstop Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals, every member of the original 25-man squad was in splendid shape.

Riddled By Injuries

In sharp contrast the American league outfit was riddled by injuries. The "heart" of the attack, Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and George Kell, was slowed up with injuries. The two "money" pitchers, Bob Feller and Hal Newhouser, were hors de combat, the former of his own free will.

In addition, the National league mound staff was well rested. With the exception of lefthander Johnny Schmitz, all had at least a four-day rest. On the other hand, six of the eight American league pitchers had worked last Sunday. The other two pitchers Saturday.

Yanks Beat Tigers In Pee Wee Battle

Paced by Nelson and Jones, the Yankees went on to defeat the Tigers, 11 to 6 in a Pee Wee League tilt Tuseday at the Lubbock Boys Club, while in the afternoon's second game, the Junior League's Exchange Club pounded the American Business Club, 10 to 7.

The Tigers were sparked by Cricket Shirley, who fought behind his single that drove in two of the loser's runs, but the Yankees went ahead to out class them by staying ahead all the way.

In the Junior league game, Duane Ramphy had a double and two singles in four times at bat, while for the ABC nine, Lindle Bailey got two in four.

Tuesday's games marked the half way point in the two leagues playing season with the Yankees pacing the Pee Wee league with nine games won to one lost for an average of .900. The ABC's are at the top of the standings in the Junior circuit with seven wins to 5 losses for a .583 average.

The Pee Wee loop will open the second half of the season Wednesday afternoon with the Red Sox pitted against the White Sox, and in the second tilt, the JC's will meet the Rotary Club.

Weidner Will Tackle Carter

Bill Weidner of Boston and Jack Carter of New Zealand will be the main event attraction tonight at Sled Allen's arena when the two meet in a two out of three falls wrestling bout. The evening's entertainment will also include a preliminary and a semi-final bout.

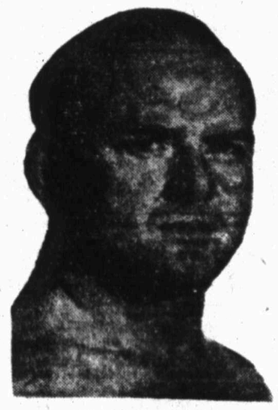

Carter, who started his mat career in the land of the Maoris is back at the local arena after spending the past year on the west coast where he downed Gil Knutson, of Davenport, Iowa.

Boston Bill Weidner, well known to local fans, has shown plenty of speed and has a good won and lost record in Lubbock, and is known as a clean fighter.

In the preliminary George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss., will tangle with Art Brady of Huntington Park, California. The Californian grappler has picked up weight since his last appearance here, when he was recovering from his overseas service and the Bataan Death March. While Curtis, who had been doing some fighting in his home state is a clean and scientific wrestler. Semi-finals will see Dory Detton and Pat O'Dowdy, both of Texas pitted against each other.

The preliminary is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m.

Leading Longhorn Teams Keep Spots

(By The Associated Press)

Big Spring and Odessa both took it on the chin in the Longhorn league, last night but the top two teams didn't lost much ground on the results.

Midland's 5-4 victory over Del Rio put it two games back of second place Odessa, but Ballinger's 8-2 victory over Odessa didn't cut the margin between it and Midland very much.

Big Spring lost a 5-3 decision to San Angelo, and in another game, Vernon downed Sweetwater, 6-4.

Housewives that find their biscuits are burning on top and still remain pale on the bottom can usually remedy the situation by using a small baking sheet. Too large a baking sheet tends to hold the oven from the burner to the bottom of the oven.

OMINOUS THREAT TO HARMONY

Democrats Set For Ill-Tempered Rows

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. —The Democratic convention came to its long-awaited showdown battle over the race issue today when Pennsylvania Senator Francis J. Myers asked the delegates to ratify a committee-drafted party platform.

Myers, chairman of the platform committee, read to the convention the 5,000-word document whose plank on civil rights was objectionable to Dixie leaders and some northerners.

Line Up For Debate

Grimly a group of southern leaders lined up on the stage for the debate. They sought to change the effect of the civil rights plank by adding a declaration of state's rights—supporting the right of states to deal with their own internal affairs.

The southern speakers were Dan Moody, former governor of Texas; Cecil Sims of Tennessee, Chauncey Sparks, former governor of Alabama, and Walter Sillers of Mississippi.

Myers won a suspension of the convention rules to extend the debate to one hour.

Will Attack Plank

Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis, also waited to attack the civil rights plank, which calls on Congress to protect minority rights "to the limit of its constitutional powers."

Humphrey wanted this plank to advoate specific federal laws against lynching, against restrictions on voting, and against discrimination in employment—after the manner of President Truman's civil rights program of last February.

The proposed platform at its outset called for a continuation of "Roosevelt-Truman" policies.

Walkout Threatened

An ominous threat hung over the drama-laden proceedings that some Dixie delegates would walk out of the assembly to convene later, nominate their own candidate for President and write their own platform.

Thus the outcome of today's impending battle could determine whether the southern and northern Democrats can become one cohesive party again.

The southerners lost in the resolutions committee early today both their battles—on civil and states' rights. They seemed almost certain to lose again on the convention floor. Votes of big northern state could overwhelm them.

Major Provisions

Major provisions of the platform presented by the resolutions committee included:

Civil rights—While refusing to single out President Truman's specific civil rights proposals—for anti-lynch, anti-poll tax, anti-Jim Crow and anti-job discrimination laws—the document contains language strong enough, some self-styled liberals said, to constitute an endorsement of the President's program in principle.

Southerners fought the civil rights plank bitterly in the 108-member committee. When they lost they turned to a state's rights plank designed to bar any federal interference in state affairs. They had the civil rights issue in mind. And again they were defeated.

Labor—Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act and a boost in the minimum wage law, from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

Strengthen The UN

Foreign policy—Strengthening of the United Nations, with the party pledged to "continue to lead the way toward curtailment of the (U. N.) veto" that has blocked many activities of the world organization. Establishment of an international armed force to back up U. N. decisions. Promising an international policy for world peace, the document says "we pledge a sound humanitarian administration of the Marshall plan."

Living costs—to "curb the Republican inflation" through President Truman's congressionally scorned anti-inflation program for stand-by price and rationing controls, among other things.

National defense—Maintenance of "an adequate Army, Navy and Air force" to assure security against aggression.

Atom bomb—effective international control of weapons of mass destruction.

News freedom—"We urge the vigorous promotion of world-wide freedom in the gathering and dissemination of news by press, radio, and television."

Agriculture—a satisfactory system of price supports and repeal of federal oleomargarine taxes.

Red Is Shot

workers quit without waiting for orders from their Communist labor leaders.

The assassination attempt caused both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate to adjourn their sessions.

When Communist deputies appeared for the afternoon meeting scheduled to open at 2:30 p. m. they tangled with police who barred their way.

Togliatti was cut down as he emerged from the Chamber of Deputies building. As he fell to the ground the assailant fired two more bullets, but both missed their mark.

Togliatti was rushed to a hospital, suffering gravely from loss of blood.

Had Planned Attack

Pallante told police he had long planned the attack on Togliatti. The assailant was described as an ardent Nationalist without party affiliation.

De Gasperi summoned his cabinet into special session. A resolution adopted by the ministers said the attack aroused "the horror and indignation of all Italians" and expressed the government's hope he would live.

The assassination attempt came at the height of the Italian left's renewed drive to upset De Gasperi's prdominantly Christian Democrat government from which the Communists had been excluded.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

STOCK GAINS SMALL

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—The stock market tried hard to work up enough steam for a full-fledged advance today but considerable opposition developed through the sesion.

The market closed with plus signs definitely in the majority but gains were mostly small and a number of issues refused to go along.

The day's total ran a little ahead of yesterday's 1,200,000 shares.

A minor sensation was the suspension, twice in a day, of trading in Curtiss-Wright corp. Common following a dividend announcement.

News that directors had voted two dividends of $1 each—after 25 cents was paid in 1947 and 50 cents in 1946—sent an avalanche of buying orders into the floor of the exchange. The smoke didn't finally clear away until the closing bell, when 39,000 share sold at 10⅝ for a net gain of 2¼ points. Earlier 80,000 shares had sold at 9⅞.

Higher prices were paid for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Jones & Laughlin, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast line, Richfield oil, Skelly oil, Curtis publishing, Goodyear, and Schenley.

Among the laggards were Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar tractor, Westinghouse electric, and United airlines.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—Cotton futures rallied into new high ground for the day in late trading on a flurry of short covering by traders who had though the market would decline when the July, 1948 futures expires. Futures closed 20 to 85 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

The final liquidation of the July position caused momentary excitement at the time of its expiration at 10 a. m. and that month dropped 184 points, or $9.20 a bale in its last stages of life.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 14. (AP)—The July corn contract showed the only real strength noticeable on the board of trade today. At times this delivery was ahead more than two cents with a good part of the buying coming from cash grain houses.

Action of wheat offered little cause for cheer. Both the July and May contracts sank below $2.28 a bushel at times, putting them under the government loan level here for cash wheat. The loan is $2.39 for No. 1 hard wheat.

As in the past, the government followed the market in its wheat buying program. It was bidding 5½ cents a bushel over the Chcago September future when that future sold at $2.29½ or below. This was a reduction of one cent in the premium and ¾ cent in the base price.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅝ lower, July $2.27⅞, corn was ¼ lower to 3½ higher, July $2.08¼-½, oats were unchanged to ½ lower, July 88⅛-89.

Demo Session

might come before the convention to say he wouldn't take anything but second place.

But Gov. Earle Clements of Kentucky said Barkley does not plan to make a statement of any kind, concerning either moves to win the top spot or second place.

Round Of Speeches

Preliminary to the platform argument, the convention heard another round of speeches praising the Democratic party's record and lambasting that of the Republicans.

There were cheers when James Roosevelt and A. F. Whitney, railroad union leader, shouted demands for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law. Its repeal is one plank in the platform draft.

Party leaders were aiming at a schedule calling for a windup of the convention tonight after an acceptance speech from President Truman.

Is Obviously Miffed

Although the Kentuckian obviously was miffed at Mr. Truman's previous misfiring bid toward Justice William O. Douglas, friends said they had no doubt that he would accept the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

In fact, some rebellious southerners were talking of Barkley for No. 1 man, largely because the 28-minute demonstration given him when he completed his keynote speech Monday night hasn't been approached in enthusiasm since.

Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas said he had been approached by Kentucky and California delegates to support Barkley as the No. 1 man. His reply: "Texas would be very much interested."

Dave Foutz, a golden state delegate, said "California would go for him."

Would Squelch Move

Barkley insisted, however, he would squelch any such move.

Handy Ellis, chairman of the Alabama delegation, said some of his group would walk out if they don't get what they like in the platform.

There was no doubt that the Dixie delegations didn't subscribe to what came out of a 108-member drafting committee on the explosive civil rights issue.

On that topic the platform pledged the party to "continue its efforts to eradicate all racial, religious and economic discrimination."

That was a far cry from President Truman's proposals that Congress enact specific law banning state poll taxes, job discrimination, race segregation and lynching.

Southerners Incensed

But the southerners were publicly incensed by the committee's reusal to include a states' rights declaration.

The question was: How much of a showdown fight would they actually make?

Southerners spawned minority reports against the platform committee's recommendations. Civil rights advocates promised some, too.

Two-Thirds Rule Dies

Nevertheless there remained the possibility that after they and the opposing side have aired their views, the platform might be approved on a voice vote with House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn, the permanent chairman, gaveling that revolt into oblivion.

An abortive effort to restore the two-thirds rule which until 1936 gave the South a veto over presidential nominations died that way last night under Barkley's hammer-like blows.

But any delegate who could make himself heard in the steaming, usually-packed convention hall, might force a vote on the issue.

For the finale there remained the South's much publicized revolt against Mr. Truman. It semed likely to add up, at most, to about one sixth of the 1,234 official convention votes.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) estimated that about 200 votes will be cast for other candidates when Mr Truman is nominated on the first ballot.

The President approached the showdown hour with no formal opponent in sight except Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas, the choice of some—but not all — Dixie groups. Laney's friends claimed 114 votes from Arkansas, South Carolina, Mississippi and Texas.

Senator Claude Pepper of Florida ended a 48-hour excursion into the Elysian fields of the presidential race with the observation that Democrats were watching their party go to pieces before their eyes.

Pepper, who dramatically tossed his hat into the ring on Sunday, jerked it back out late yesterday without further explanation. He promised to support the convention's choice.

Besides Laney, however, there was at least one other favorite Dixie son.

Pledged To Russell

Georgia pledged its 28-vote delegation to Senator Richard Russell.

A 22-vote Mississippi delegation, seated after a short flareup during last night's session, seemed likely to go solidly for Laney.

Any possible doubt that the convention nod would go to Barkley seemed to have been removed when Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney formally withdrew from the vice presidential race late yestrday.

And Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, another avowed seeker of the No. 2 spot, said he would pull out as soon as Barkley would say he was willing to accept.

89 New Cases Are Reported In Past Week

Texas Polio Claimed Worst In History

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP) — The polio situation in Texas is the worst it has ever been, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer said today.

He reported 89 new cases of polio for the past week, shooting the total number for this year to 736 in 87 counties. There were 391 cases in 77 counties for the comparable period in 1946, the worst previous polio year in Texas.

Dr. Cox noted that the number of reported cases last week was an increase of 22 over the previous week.

"There's no way to tell whether it has hit its peak," he said, adding that the 1948 total appears likely to surpass that of 979 in 1946.

"There are eight more weeks in which polio can be expected to occur, and if the disease averages sixty cases a week we will have well over one-thousand cases," he said.

Last week's cases included 32 in Harris county, 12 in Tarrant and 8 in Hidalgo. The disease still appears to be most predominant in the coastal and Southeast Texas counties, Dr. Cox observed.

Returned Here Tuesday

King was returned here Tuesday night from Wichita Falls, by Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank.

The check was signed E. L. King, the district attorney's department said.

Police said Emma Lewis, a negro woman, filed a charge today in connection with knife injuries suffered Tuesday night.

She told police she had been stabbed by Jessie Mae Webber, another negro woman. The Webber woman was fined $25 and county court costs for aggrevated assault.

Knife Being Held

Police held a butcher knife as evidence.

The women live in 100-block East Nineteenth.

J. Solon Lea, city recorder, said Warren Duvall Templeton, 40, of 2413 Main, had pleaded guilty of disturbance by window peeping and had been fined $50. When Sgt. Tom Everheart of the police answered a midnight call Tuesday he found that Fred Merrick of 415 Hub homes had captured Templeton and was holding him. Merrick said he and a woman had seen Templeton peering into two apartments prior to the capture. None but women were there, and they were frightened, police said they were informed.

Theft Is Reported

Police said Pat Hoover of Pinole, Calif., complained that a pair of shoes and an overnight kit had been stolen from his car, parked in Lubbock. Value was set at $40.98.

Justice Lynn indicated he would enter in inquest verdict of death from accidental causes in connection with his investigation into the finding early Tuesday of the body of Willie Jewright, 42, a negro. Presumably, Jewright had been struck by a train.

Extra-judicial measures were taken by officials who arrested a negro man and his wife and took them before Lynn on a disturbance complaints; they seized two pistols—"one for each of the principals"—and held them pending assurances the weapons "won't be used on each other." Fines and costs for each totaled $22.40.

Hit With Pistol

"I looked out the window and saw daddy coming," Mrs. Shofner told police. "I saw a man jump up from beside the bridge and start fighting with him. He hit daddy in the head with the pistol. Daddy broke away and ran and the man ran toward our car."

She said she took her husband's pistol from his holster and fired at the man four times.

Homicide Detectives L. L. Watts and Lloyd Barrett, working the south flank of the circle, heard a groan beside the highway.

Watts said Barrett ran toward the spot from where they heard the groan.

"Barrett hollered for him to come out with his hands up," Watts said, "and the fellow stood up slowly and walked to a fence where Barrett reached across and put handcuffs on him."

Police said Morrow received a bullet nick in his right ear.

Texas Plant Makes Better Type Rubber

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—A new synthetic rubber, which the manufacturer claims has superior wearing qualities, is being made in Texas at an unprecedented low temperature of zero fahrenheit, United States Rubber company reported today.

The new type, the company said, shows promise of being even better than that made at 14 degrees, which increases tire tread wear 30 per cent over the best natural rubber treads.

The synthetic is being made at the Borger, Texas, plant, which U. S. Rubber operates for the government.

Panyushkin answered "no" when he was asked to indicate what attitude the Soviet note took toward the American protest.

CAPITULATION URGED BY SOVIET PAPER

BERLIN, July 14. (AP)—American officials say the Allied air lift to Soviet-blockaded western Berlin has built up a four-week food bank for 2,000,000 Germans living there. This indication of the efficiency of the plane ferrying service came as Berlin's Communist press warned that the Russian siege may last into next winter.

L. T. Steck, American military government food chief, said last night that the western sectors of the city now have on hand at least a 28-day supply of meat, flour potatoes and other staples.

Reds Seek Capitulation

Russian-controlled newspapers sought to dampen German optimism as British and American planes continued their round-the-clock shuttle. The Neues Deutschland, organ of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party, said:

"If power curtailments are enforced already in July, what will happen in the winter? And if enough coal can't be flown into western Berlin in July, what will be done about heating homes in the winter? Think it over western Berliners."

The official Soviet army newspaper Taeglicher said capitulation would "save the German people suffering" even as earlier surrender at Stalingrad would have saved German soldiers' lives.

Most Berliners find the air lift so dramatic that they stand for hours just watching the big planes come and go. Yesterday American planes ferried 1,167 tons of food and supplies in 206 flights.

Records of the books are available from the library without charge, the only cost being that of shipping the machine. The machine is a different type from the usual record player. Band Students Play At Rotary Luncheon

A musical program by five men attending the Texas Tech summer band school, and a ten-minute film on the Red Cross blood bank, featured the Rotary club luncheon today at the Hilton hotel.

The musical program, presented by D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Tech band, was a woodwind quintet by R. A. Dhossche, flute; Michael Balnemones, clarinet; Lt. Norman Wiley, French horn; Charles Wiley, oboe; and Beryl Harris, bassoon. This part of the program was introduced by W. W. Rix.

The blood bank program, introduced by J. M. Carpenter, included a brief explanation of the needs, by Ruel Martin, speaking for the Red Cross. He said donors are needed, and particularly stressed the need for type A and B, RH negative, because the supply of these types is exhausted and the few known donors of those types here have all been used recently.

The film stressed importance of the project on a national basis, and urged blood donations through local Red Cross chapters.

James Malone, senior in the Arts and Science division in Texas Tech, was introduced as junior Rotarian from the college for the month. Club President Irving Jones presided, with invocation by Rev. Wm. F. Blakeslee.

West Texas C-C Charts Plan On Mexican Labor Problem

ABILENE, July 14. (Special)—Solution of the Mexican seasonal labor problem is seen in a request made this week by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Latin-American commission to the Texas Good Neighbor commission in seeking executive action by the governor. This action would include a proclamation by the governor, calling on all mayors and Chambers of Commerce in every town in Texas to use their efforts to prevent discrimination. The WTCC group also would have the governor issue executive orders to the Texas Employment commission to exercise greater control over movement of the Mexican workers, to prevent exploiting by "jeffes" and otherwise causing overloads on communities unprepared for the influx of seasonal workers.

Lift Of Ban Sought

This plan was presented to Thomas L. Sutherland at San Angelo by Claude Meadows, Sr., chairman of the WTCC group, after its preparation by General Manager D. A. Bandeen of Abilene. For more than a month the WTCC has been getting letters from city and Chamber of commerce officials in West Texas, outlining steps taken to provide accommodations. It was pointed out that these letters are from the highest official and civic authorities and speak with authority in their promises.

Sutherland has been asked to transmit the letters to the Mexican government in an attempt to have lifted the ban against importation of Mexican workers.

The following points were made in the presentation:

"1. That there are organized activities in every community to eliminate racial discrimination.

"2. That there are organized activities to provide necessary temporary and permanent housing, eating and entertainment facilities and many such facilities have already been extended.

"3. That educational and religious advantages are offered without discrimination.

"4. That there is a parity in compensation, and Mexican workers are paid on the same basis as any others for the same type of work, and the wage scale in West Texas is considerably higher than in Mexico.

Proclamation Asked

"On the basis of these pledges, we respectfully request that the Good Neighbor commission of the State of Texas.

"1. Urge the governor of Texas to issue an official proclamantion calling upon all city, county and Chamber of commerce officials of Texas to take necessary steps to see that no discrimination exists in the treatment of migratory workers coming from Mexico.

"2. Urge the governor by executive order to request the fullest cooperation of all state agencies, such as the Texas Employment commission, to exercise their every legal power to prevent discriminations and to establish a definite good neighbor practice.

"It is further recommended that copies of these proclamations and executive orders be transmitted through the Texas Good Neighbor commission to the proper authorities in Mexico, with the request that the ban against Mexican nationals entering the United States may be lifted."

Coach Is Speaker At Club Session

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club, meeting for luncheon today at Hotel Lubbock, heard Pat Pattison, new athletic director and football coach at Lubbock Senior High school, explain organizational plans for Westerners ball clubs of the future, and heard a plea by Miss Helen Fuller for the cooperation of local civic clubs in recently-announced plans to form a Lubbock chapter of the Mental Hygiene Society of Texas.

Pattison pointed out a dearth of experienced gridmen for this fall's squad but noted an excellent attitude and incentive among prospects; explained that he plans to keep junior and senior grid hopefuls playing in their own age and weight groups, and stressed that he is interested only in a boy's first name, and not in which side of the tracks he comes from.

Dr. Jim Reynolds, newly elected Exchange president, presided for the first time at today's luncheon. Announcement was made that the Exchange Club party and installation of officers will be held at 7:30 o'clock on Friday, July 23, at the Lubbock Supper club, with reservations to be taken at next week's luncheon. The East Side Kids were proclaimed victors over the Dead Enders, 1027-962, in a contest in which the club was split into two sections with points awarded for personal contacts with entrants and sponsors in the Soap Box Derby.

Bedford Raley was introduced as a new member. Thad Edwards and Joe Jones were guests, and Earl Manning of Fort Worth was a visitor. Invocation was by Roger Kuykendall.

The bank will be open on its usual Monday, Wednesday and Friday schedule of 5 to 7 p. m. today.

Type A negative and Type B negative blood especially are needed and persons who know they have those types and are willing to give blood were asked to notify blood bank representatives at the Red Cross, telephone No. 8534.

Those who have given blood since previous announcement of donors have been J. V. Beauchamp, W. H. Ellis, W. B. Rushing, M. E. Currie, Mrs. Maple Wilson, Lonnie Peele, Herschel Maxey, Robert P. Brown, Joe Bass, Jake Sparlin, Carl Bailey, Earl Kerr, Paul Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor, Jimmie Teague, Leon Harris, Orville Stewart, U. V. Blake, Terry Waldron, Ira G. Dunlap and Nat Mullins.

So far, blood taken from the bank has not failed in any case to cross match with blood of the recipient, although failure to cross match is not unusual.

Campaign To Raise Funds For Cerebral Palsy Center Begins

Preliminary plans for a campaign to raise $35,000 to $40,000 toward permanent quarters for Lubbock's recently-approved cerebral palsy treatment center were outlined and discussed at a meeting yesterday of the finance committee of the Lubbock Rotary club, which has underwritten the project.

The Rotary committee, of which Bob Fuller is chairman, decided that temporary quarters will be obtained. An invitation was given to the public to participate in the fund for the project which is under the joint sponsorship of the Rotary club and Lubbock Crippled Children's council.

Location Not Announced

The announcement said preliminary commitment has been made on temporary quarters, but the location was not announced pending signing of a contract. Meantime, Miss Esther Snell, physio-therapist who has had wide experience in public health and welfare service, director of the center, is assembling equipment and furnishings. It was anticipated that the temporary quarters will be open in two to three weeks.

For the permanent setup, the committee has outlined a long range program. Plans are to secure a large ground location, which may make it necessary to go to the edge of the city, so that in the future the center may be expanded into an all-round health center that would embrace nearly all phases of public health.

Contributions Pledged

It was pointed out that such a step appears inevitable if the city and area continue to grow, and the long range phase of the program was considered one of its more important aspects.

Concerning the financial campaign for the treatment center, the announcement brought the information that one member of the Rotary club, a staunch supporter of the project, has offered to pay for the ground on which the committee decides to locate the center. Others have signified intention to contribute $1,000 to $2,000 to the project.

Attending the finance committee meeting in addition to Fuller were John W. Broome, who represented both the crippled children's council and the sponsoring Rotary club; Rex Webster, immediate past president of Rotary; Irving Jones, Rotary president; Arch Lamb, Dr. Bill Gordon, Roy Furr, Joe Bryant, and Jerry Fulton.

Woman Is Arraigned On Narcotics Charge

NEW YORK, July 14. (INS)—Vera Milton, one-time showgirl known during the 1920's and 30's as "The Dumbest Blonde on Broadway," was arraigned in special sessions court today on a charge of possessing narcotics.

Her admission in court that she has been addicted to marihuana cigarettes, but "will never smoke them again," won her judicial leniency and she was paroled without bail for trial Sept. 28.

Now 39, Miss Milton said she had left the stage because "nobody wants to look at an old woman dancing." She said she become a baby sitter and makes 75 cents an hour.

As for giving up marihuana from now on, Miss Milton commented: "I may be dumb, but I'm no dope."

Girl Disappointed By Lyndon Johnson

ORANGE, July 14 (AP)—Senatorial Candidate Lyndon Johnson disappointed a pretty blonde girl here today.

The girl told a reporter that she was a campaign worker for another candidate and vowed she would put one of her candidate's stickers on Johnson's helicopter.

She tried, but when Johnson soared away she lamented. "the only time I got close to the helicopter, Johnson was there shaking my hand—the one with the sticker in it."

"C" Student Proves Ability At Selling

STEPHENVILLE, July 14. (U.P.)—A professor at John Tarleton Agricultural college beamed proudly when he got a letter from one of his students who apparently was doing quite well with his summer job.

"I sold $1,114.85 worth of Bibles in one week, leading all of our 278 salesmen," read the letter from Charles W. Sommer III to Prof. Zeddie Edgar.

"Imagine selling that many Bibles in one week," Edgar mused proudly.

Then he read on until he got to the punch line:

"And to think," the student chided, "you only gave me a C in selesmanship!"

Jerusalem's Water Shortage Relieved By Jewish Victory

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, July 14—Israeli troops appeared today to have made major progress toward relieving Jerusalem's water shortage by seizing Ras Al Ein, nine miles northeast of Tel Aviv.

The village is the terminus of the pipeline to Jerusalem. As a result of Jewish-Arab warfare the 100,000 Jews in the Holy city have been forced for some time to carefully conserve the limited amount of water available to them.

Jewish units took Ras Al Ein from Iraqui forces yesterday after light fighting. A Tel Aviv dispatch said pumping machinery in the village was virtually undamaged.

The capture of Ras Al Ein also removed an Arab threat to Tel Aviv itself and halted Arab shelling of Petah Tiqva, a suburb of the Israeli capital.

Police Station Captured

To the south other Jewish forces stamped out the last resistance in Lydda by capturing the police station, where a handful of Arabs had held out after the rest of the town surrendered.

It was in the Lydda area that the Jews were applying pressure from the west against Arab legion forces blocking the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway at Latrun.

Near the eastern end of the highway the Jews strengthened their position by capturing Suba. The town was taken without infantry combat after a bombardment drove the Arab defenders from a height above the vital road. Suba is five miles west of Jerusalem.

Arab planes were active yesterday. Haifa was bombed for the first time, and four raids were made on El 'Affule. A dispatch from Haifa said only slight damage was done in the northern port city.

An Egyptian communique said Egyptian planes scored direct hits on the headquarters of the two Jewish extremist organizations—Irgun Zvai Leumi and the Stern group—during a raid on Rehovot 11 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

An Israeli government spokesman said 14 persons were killed and 50 injured in Tel Aviv yesterday by bombs dropped from high-flying Egyptian planes. The bombs were estimated to be 250-pounders, the heaviest yet dropped by the Egyptians.

The Jews said scores of Egyptians were killed in southern Palestine when Israeli units launched an attack on a ridge between the Jewish-held villages of Negba and Julis. Negba is 16 miles northeast of the main Egyptian base at Gaza.

Referring to the same area, an Egyptian communique said 100 Jews were believed to have been killed in the night fighting.

A Damacus communique said Syrian artillery shelled Israeli forces attempting to fortify positions at Dan and Dafna in extreme north-eastern Palestine.

Syrian Spitfires set fire to wheat fields near Aiylet Hash Shahar, north of the Sea of Galilee.

At Lake Success, N. Y., it was believed the United Nations Security council would approve a United States demand for forceful action in Palestine. British support of the American resolution was said to virtually assure its passage.

The American proposal provides for a cease fire order which the U. N. would enforce, if necessary. It also calls for efforts to demilitarize Jerusalem.

Oil Man Back From Year In Ethiopia

Peace In Middle East Still Long Way Off, He Believes

An all-out Holy War is in the making in Palestine and the Middle East between the Mohammedans and Christians and it will be a long time before peace will reign over the land.

That's the opinion of O. G. (Tony) Barton, just back from a year in Ethiopia, where the Sinclair Oil company is attempting to develop oil resources of Haile Selassie's country.

One Two-Day Visit

Barton, you may remember, was the driller on the No. 1 Nairn, Lubbock county's first oil producer. He is here on a two-day visit with friends before reporting to his company at Tulsa for orders which may carry him to the four corners of the globe.

For since 1942, the young suntanned oil man has spent four years in Peru with Standard of New Jersey, drilled in Columbia and put down the discovery well in Alaska, three degrees north of the Arctic circle before going to Ethiopia.

Barton has praise for the Ethiopian emperor, who figured in the world news when his country was overrun by the Italians prior to World war II. He said Selassie was attempting to modernize the country, building highways and importing technicians from America for agriculture and industry.

Several From A. and M.

Included in the technicians are several boys from Texas A. and M. college, Barton said. He said most of the agriculture in the country is still conducted in medieval fashion—plowing with oxen pulling a wooden plow.

Camels still provide the main source of transportation for most of the country, especially in the Somalilands.

Barton won't talk much about his oil-well drilling experiences only to say that "unfriendly tribes ran us out, so that we couldn't get started." He said Sinclair had to leave nearly $2,000,000 worth of equipment until things get settled, but that the company planned to develop the 350,000 square miles of territory it has under lease from the emperor.

Barton displayed his passport, which was signed by Charles C. Gidney, jr., formerly of Plainview, who is now U. S. consul at Aden, Arabia, proving that it's a small world after all. The passport had been visaed in Columbia, Panama, England, France, Egypt, French Somaliland, British Somaliland and Italian Somaliland.

Officer Breaks Up Attempted Burglary

COMMERCE, Okla., July 14 (AP) A night policeman broke up an attempted bank burglary here early today, but the would-be burglars escaped and fled toward Missouri, the Oklahoma Highway patrol reported.

The attempt to enter the First State Bank of Commerce was interrupted by Officer Dale Proctor, who surprised the burglars at the side door of the building, on the main street of this northeastern Oklahoma town.

Packers Face New Charges

HOUSTON, July 14 (U.P.) — The Harris county grand jury returned new indictments today in Houston's horsemeat scandal, charging 11 Houston meat packers with violation of "the assumed name" statute.

Five of the men named were already under indictment for selling horsemeat.

Total penalties against the 10 men and one woman charged, at the maximum of $100 for each day of violation, could reach $372,600, District Attorney A. C. Winn.

One of the indictments was against Mrs. V. A. Wilborn, whose husband is under $1,000 bond as a result of last Friday's grand jury action. She was charged jointly with her husband for doing business without registering the company name with the county clerk.

Others Are Charged

Others charged with operating without registering their company names were William Siros, brothers Irving and Sol Taub, C. E. Riedel, Floyd Stevenson, Harry Silverman, C. R. Simon, Luke Listi and Sam Rucker.

Already charged with dispensing horsemeat were Wilborn, the Taubs, Siros and Silverman.

Silverman and Riedel, each charged with operating a total of 442 days without registering, faced possible penalties of $44,200 each, based on the maximum $100 fine.

Because the cases were made by indictment, they will be tried in county court. Although, like the horsemeat and sulfite-treated meat cases. Wilborn pointed out they fall in the class of misdemeanors.

Here's how to make each gallon of gas Go Farther

IF YOUR car isn't giving you peak gasoline mileage, you are wasting money every mile you drive.

Here's what it takes to cut down gas consumption and step up engine performance. First, the carburetor should be inspected and adjusted. Then check the fuel pump, timing and spark plugs—make sure they're right. Next on the list is a check for dragging brakes and incorrect tire pressure. When that job's done, you'll get better engine performance and the most out of every gallon of gas.

We suggest that you drive your car in today. Our competent mechanics are ready to serve you with the best in modern automotive service — original-equipment parts, dependable workmanship and approved service methods.

Sports Urged For Handicapped Persons

Four-Year-Old Polio Victim Will Be Taught To Play Golf

B YBARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 14 — Four-year-old Suzanne Campbell wears a full-length steel brace on her left leg, but she's going to learn to dance and play golf despite infantile paralysis which crippled her before she was 6 months old, her mother said today.

Dr. Winona G. Campbell, 37, director of the poliomyelitis teaching program at the University of Colorado medical school, is here for the first international poliomyelitis conference with a message for other parents of afflicted children.

Sports Found Advantage

Restrain the impulse to mother them too much, Dr. Campbell warns. Encourage them to take care of themselves and do the things which normal children do. Offer them every opportunity to find out what they can do. Encourage them to develop a competitive sport in which they can excell.

Dr. Campbell learned the hard way.

"Susie is my first, and my only, child," she said. "As a mother and a pediatrician, I had wanted perfection in my child. It was a terrific blow when I became sure she was going to be crippled."

Suzanne today rides a tricycle and climbs higher and more eagerly on the gymnasium equipment than most of her nursery school classmates.

Child Treated As Normal

"She falls a great deal," Dr. Campbell said, "but we don't pick her up. We never tell her she can't do a thing because of her leg. We let her try."

Suzanne probably can never play a good game of tennis, her mother said.

"But in two years we will have a set of golf clubs for her. She has good shoulders and arms, and we'll start her very early. It hurts to think she won't be able to dance well, but we have thought of sending her to dancing school when she is 6."

Suzanne, in the snapshots her mother pulled from her pocketbook, is a sturdy little girl with a smiling face, and a brace on her leg which her playmates, Dr. Campbell said, look at a little enviously.

Realistic Planning Urged

Dr. Campbell said her problem has been less difficult than that of parents whose children are stricken in adolescence, when the child himself can see too well what he is missing.

With those older youngsters, Dr. Campbell recommends direct and realistic planning for the future with the child as soon as it is certain that he will be permanently affected by the disease.

Ten to 15 per cent of children who have infantile paralysis do carry some crippling mark.

"What they want most is to be independent," Dr. Campbell said

Appeal Slated For Convicted Slayer

BEAUMONT, July 14 (AP)—Defense Attorney Sam Minter, plans to appeal a Jefferson county district court jury's decision yesterday that Riley P. McCaine, convicted slayer, was at this time sane.

McCaine, scheduled to be electrocuted next week, was convicted here in May, 1947, of slaying Miss Elnora Collins of Houston in the fall of 1945. Miss Collins' nude, partly burned body was found near here October 4, 1945. and McCaine was arrested in Seattle, Wash., in April, 1947.

The jury yesterday deliberated four hours before returning its verdict. On Minter's request a roll call poll of the jury showed it was unanimous in the verdict

Minter said Judge Lord's instructions to the jury to base its finding on whether McCaine knows right from wrong is not a valid or material test.

"The only test should be whether McCaine would understand the purpose and principle of society in executing him," Minter said.

Lady In Green Had Goose Pimples—And Heart Full Of Words

Democrats Accept GOP Glamor Challenge, It Is Helen Gahagan Douglas Vs. Clare Luce

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, July 14—The lady in green had goose pimples—and a heart full of words.

She also wore a pink petticoat, a big diamond ring bright as a firefly, and a solemn cocoa-colored makeup that crinkled as she talked.

But the thing that made Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas the toast of the Democratic convention last night was her mixture of mature beauty and her political earnestness.

Glamor For Demos

She was the Democratic answer to the glamor challenge raised by the Republicans three weeks ago when they featured Clare Boothe Luce as a convention speaker.

And Mrs. Douglas was ready to take up that challenge!

Men politicians may not learn from each other's mistakes—but smart political ladies do.

Whether Congresswoman Douglas or ex-Congresswoman Luce is the most glamorous gal in politics is a hair-pulling question among feminine supporters of the two ladies. And the two ladies themselves—it is reasonable to assume—are aware of their rivalry. Both are former actresses

Had Big Advantage

But last night La Belle Douglas had a big advantage. She had the edge that any experienced actress has after watching another actress perform under strange and new conditions.

The new element was the magic and sometimes cruel eye of television. That eye turned Mrs.

HELEN GAHAGAN DOUGLAS

Luce, a slender, blonde, white-skinned beauty, into a pale gesturing ghost on the television screen during her speech before the Republican convention.

Mrs. Douglas, chestnut-haired wife of movie actor Melvin Douglas, learned a makeup lesson from her rival. When she stepped to the speaker's table, she may have looked to the delegates slightly like Pocahontas getting ready to put in a good word for John Smith. But on television she was as pretty as Ingrid Bergman seen from the tenth row in the orchestra.

She Was Nervous

For all her public speaking experience, the Irish lady in the Kelly Green dress was nervous. She stood high on her toes and her pink petticoat slipped into view of those on the platform as she began pouring her speech into the microphone. Her arms trembled.

"She shakes and she shouts,' said one critical bystander.

The goose pimples—or duck bumps—came out on her firm, rounded arm. I counted them up to 125, and then they began to disappear, like little bubbles on a lake of pearl.

The lady had herself in hand Down the verbal road of New Deal loyalty she went, here whacking the Republicans, there calling upon Democrats to make a memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt through "service to humanity."

Calling for a bold expansion of the New Deal program to attain "new goals of human happiness and well-being," she cried in a clarion contralto:

Must Offer Security

"This century must concern itself with the welfare of the individual. If we are going to defeat Communism, or any other form of totalitarianism, and help lead the way toward a free and democratic society of nations Democracy must offer man not only political freedom but economic security—jobs, homes, and the right to raise families without fear."

It was the speech of a strong and aggressive man delivered with the finesse of a woman recalling her husband to forgotten duties. And she really stirred the convention with her electric fervor.

When she stepped back, the delegates leaped to their feet and gave her an ovation second only to that accorded keynote speaker Alben W. Barkley.

Californians On Job

The California delegation rushed toward the platform waving placards that said:

"Our Helen."
"We love her."
"Labor's friend."
"The housewives' friend."

While old party warhorses looked on in amazed silence at the demonstration, Mrs. Douglas flushed and exuberant, her goose pimples gone, waved and kissed her hands to the crowd.

But conventions are run by men. And the men had made a mistake. They had given her the last place on the program, and most delegates had already left the hall before she rose. Few left once she started speaking.

But the lady in green deserved a better house. And she deserved a better stage manager.

RANSOM

MARY F.: If you ever want to see your husband again, follow these instructions closely. Bake a heaping plate of Light Crust Biscuits and place them on the table with butter and raspberry jam at 8:42 A.M. Friday.

Steel Company Coal Miners Back At Work

PITTSBURGH, July 14 (AP)—The steel company-owned "captive" pits were speedily returning to production today following settlement of an eight-day strike.

The contract walkout at its height idled nearly a fourth of the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners. Forty thousand of the idle were employed at captive pits and 55,000 commercial diggers laid down their picks in sympathy.

Many of the commercial miners have returned to work by the time the captive miners agreed to new contract terms previously accepted by the other operators.

See Quick Return

United Mine Workers leaders in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia where most of the captives are located predicted immediate work returns by the miners. Other captive pits are in Colorado, Kentucky, Utah and Alabama.

The captive miners did not return to work at the close of the mine vacation July 6 because the steel companies had refused to sign the new mine contract. The companies objected to its union shop provision.

Under a compromise reached in Washington yesterday, steel accepted the contract with the stipulation the union shop provision will be modified, if court rulings require it.

John Busarello, president of UMW district 5 in the Pittsburgh area, termed the compromise agreement "another victory for Lewis and his miners." He added: "We're chalking them up one after the other."

The strike cost a total coal output loss of 1,350,000 tons in western Pennsylvania alone.

Lubbock Radio Firm Denied Merger Plan

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—Lubbock County Broadcasting company, Lubbock, Tex., yesterday was denied a petition which would have merged the company and station KFYO. The Communications commission, however, awarded the company a construction permit for a station using a frequency also applied for by Plains Radio Broadcasting company, license of KFYO at Lubbock.

The commission also refused a request by Western Plains Broadcasting company, Inc., Colby, Kas., that it reconsider its award of a construction permit to the Lubbock company. Western Plains holds a permit for a new station designated with the same frequency given to Lubbock county.

Jack Alderson At Big Baseball Festival

Big Welcome Given Youthful All-Stars By Arkansas Town

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Jack Alderson, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Alderson, 3222 Seventeenth street, is representing Texas on the National All-Star baseball team, preparing to play an exhibition series with the youthful All-Stars of Arkansas and Eastern Oklahoma. During his tenure in Van Buren, Jack will file a daily story to The Avalanche-Journal, so the "homefolks" may keep up with his doings.)

All-Star Baseball Player

VAN BUREN, Ark., July 14—The city of Van Buren is going all out to put over this National Baseball festival. The citizens have taken us players into their homes during our stay. I am staying with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Van Zandt, along with Dick Shelley, of Santa Fe, N. M.

Jack Alderson

Up to now a full program has been presented us. At the welcome banquet last night both the Van Buren All-Stars and our team, the USA All Stars received uniforms and jackets.

Today we had our second workout under the direction of Bully McLean of the New York Giants and Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Van Buren All-Stars, composed of boys from all Arkansas and Eastern Oklahoma, are supposed to be a classy team. Some of their pitchers are rated very highly.

It promises to be a very successful series.

Senate Race Is Due To Be Pared Today

(By The United Press)

The race for the junior U. S. senator's seat from Texas was headed for a scheduled cut today with eight men who have charged over expenditure of campaign funds planning to back one of their number against the "big three"—former Gov. Coke Stevenson, U. S. Representative Lyndon Johnson and Houston lawyer George Peddy.

The eight, who have charged that Stevenson, Johnson and Peddy have overspent the legal $10,000 allowed the campaign expenditures, planned a caucus at the Dallas county court house tonight. Out of their number, they hoped, the voters would select one to stay in the race. That one would receive the support of the other seven.

March Hurls Charge

Meanwhile, Gov. Beauford H. Jester, absent from the state and the race in which he hopes to succeed himself, was on the receiving end in Tyler of a flat charge issued by Caso March, the Baylor university law professor who is seeking the governor's chair.

March charged that the reason Jester refused to bolt the Democratic party at the Philadelphia convention was fear of the voters' wrath. His charge followed the action of the Texas delegation, which by a narrow margin voted to back Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas for the presidential nomination.

Jester had opposed the move because of the Brownwood convention's instructions to support the party nominee.

While Jester is in Philadelphia, March continued his campaign tour today to the extreme east section of Texas.

Homecoming Rally

Stevenson, meanwhile, carried his Senate campaign to Crockett, Huntsville, Madisonville and Corsicana, while Peddy was scheduled to attend a homecoming rally at Memorial theater in Houston.

In a campaign speech last night, Peddy stressed his stand on foreign policy, labor, old age pensions and veterans affairs.

Johnson, meantime, planned to be in Sour Lake, Silsbee, Lufkin, Kilgore, Gladewater and Tyler today.

In Navasota yesterday, the U. S. representative charged that a "stop Johnson" movement was taking shape and said that his opponents were getting "desperate" and telling supporters to "do anything to stop Johnson."

Police Force Expansion Due

Nineteen of the 30 men who took the examinations for positions on the city police force Monday afternoon at Central Fire station made passing scores, Argo V. Peek, city personnel director, has announced.

From these 19 passing, 14 positions on the police force will be filled, subject to final approval of the Civil Service commission this week.

To Announce Names Later

Applications to take the competitive exam were submitted by 41 men, but only 30 of that number were on hand to take it Monday afternoon.

The examinations were given to find men for 14 openings on the police force. The 14 positions will be filled with those men who made the highest passing scores,

Standard Oil Test Due For Scurry Area

Standard Oil Company of Texas is to start drilling in a few days on an 8,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Scurry county, about nine miles northwest of Snyder.

The project will be Stanotex No. 1 Jesse Brown. It is located 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard of Texas has a block of approximately 20,000 acres of lease surrounding the drillsite.

Slight Oil Stain

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Winston in Central Scurry county, about four miles south of Snyder, cored at 6,810-20 feet in a Pennsylvania lime formation.

Recovery was 18 inches of lime with slight oil stain and slight porosity. Operator is now taking a drillstem test. The section from 6,790 feet to 6,810 feet had a little free oil on a recent drillstem test. No water has developed in the formation.

The exploration is 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, survey 37, Kirkland and Fields survey.

New Discovery

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 9-19 University, on the west side of the Fullerton field, in Northwest Andrews county, has been completed as a new discovery for production from the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian, for that immediate area.

This new producer is 660 feet from north and 810 feet from west lines of the south half of section 19, block 13, University survey.

It made a daily flowing potential of 482.09 barrels of 44 gravity oil, from pay at 7,890-7,968 feet.

That zone had been treated with 500 gallons of acid. The pay showed no formation water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,812-1. The flow was through a 16/64th inch tubing choke.

Conservative Wins Labor Party Title

KINGSWINFORD, England, July 14 (AP)—Labor party officials in this Staffordshire community covered their confusion today with fitting chivalry.

They have found out that Crystal Nash, the 16-year-old school girl they acclaimed as a socialist beauty queen at a party rally, is the daughter of a prominent conservative.

Miss Nash got into the preliminaries as ward champion by mistake and then she decided to go through with it and won the title easily at the rally Saturday night.

The Laborites stuck to the bargain. She will get her prize—a permanent wave paid for out of Labor party funds.

Bonds Okayed At Levelland

LEVELLAND, July 14 (Special)—In what city officials called an "unusually light" vote, Levelland voters approved a $500,000 city bond issue Tuesday to expand water and sewer systems to meet demands of the rapidly growing city.

L. E. Mabe, city secretary, reported that 180 votes were cast in the election, which was concerned with two propositions.

Plans Are Given

The first which proposed to issue $200,000 in bonds for expansion of the water system carried 174 for and four against, and proposition No 2 which proposed to issue $300,000 in bonds to extend the present sewer system carried 176 for and four against.

Mabe said engineers' plans call for spending $260,000 for major sewer lines and disposal plant and $40,000 for smaller connecting lines. The water system funds would be used to build a new 400,000 gallon overhead reservoir, drill a new water well, and lay a large number of six and eight inch mains and connecting lines.

Taft-Hartley Repeal Asked

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (AP)—The Democrats made an all-out bid today for the votes of organized labor in November by slashing at the Taft-Hartley law in their 1948 platform.

"We advocate the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act," said the document approved by the party's platform committee. "It has failed."

Not all Democrats agree with that, but nobody on the committee filed a dissenting report on the subject, and the approval of the convention was taken as a sure thing.

Platform Is Quoted

The Democratic party, however, does not advocate the outright return of the Wagner act of 1935, which labor unions want re-enacted.

Instead, the platform says:

"We advocate such legislation as is desirable to establish a just body of rules to assure free and effective collective bargaining, to determine, in the public interest, the rights of employees and employers, to reduce to a minimum their conflict of interests, and to enable unions to keep their membership free from Communistic influences."

Such a law would be different from the old Wagner act, which dealt with the rights of employees only—not employers.

When the Taft-Hartley bill was passed, an overwhelming majority of the Republicans in both branches of Congress voted for it. In the House, a majority of the Democrats voted for it, too, though not so big a majority as that of the Republicans. Senate Democrats split evenly on the question.

Repeal Pledge Asked

Now, one year later, the CIO and the AFL asked both parties to pledge repeal

The Republicans didn't do it.

The Democrats didn't "pledge" but they did say "we advocate."

The Democratic platform had some hard words for the labor law. Such as—

"Enacted by the Republican 80th Congress over the President's veto . . . it has failed . . . the number of labor-management disputes has increased—it has encouraged litigation . . . poorly drawn . . . probably, in some provisions, unconstitutional . . ."

The Republican platform, adopted last month, doesn't mention the Taft-Hartley act by name. Instead it says:

"We pledge continuing study to improve labor-management legislation in the light of experience and changing conditions."

The Republicans also made

New Pricing Method Will Add To Cost Of Delivered Steel

PITTSBURGH, July 14. (AP) — The steel industry had a new pricing method today and steel consumers looked for new—and higher—prices.

The big steel producers, like U. S. Steel corp., formerly absorbed freight costs, or a big part of them, so they could compete on equal terms with other steel companies located nearer prospective customers.

Many prices were quoted on a "basing point" system just as though the mills were located at certain base cities instead of in Pittsburgh or Chicago.

But that method recently was ruled illegal by the U. S. Supreme court in a decision involving the cement industry.

Customers Pay Freight

Now the steel firms are quoting prices at the mills and the freight charges are paid by the customer. The mills can quote a delivered price as long as it includes freight charges.

The new pricing system is expected to add from $8.40 to $12.72 a ton to steel costs on steel shipped from Pittsburgh to such points as Boston and Chicago. The freight rate from Pittsburgh to Boston is 63.26 cents per 100 pounds and to Chicago it's 52.8 cents.

The new price policy would have the least effect on fabricating plants within a radius of 20 miles or so of a steel producing center such as Pittsburgh. One result may be that fabricators will tend to locate their plants in such areas where more steel is produced than can now be consumed locally.

New Policy Disliked

The steel producers don't like the new price policy.

Theodore F. Smith, president of the Oliver Steel and Iron corp., declared, "The Supreme court's decision is difficult to justify since the basing point method of price was one means which allowed the steel producers to equalize steel costs to consumers, regardless of location." In Chicago, Wilfred Sykes, president of Inland Steel corp., said some eastern steel firms may have to move their plants or face price difficulties.

Auto industry spokesmen said the new price policy undoubtedly would mean higher prices on cars but they would have to wait to "see how it works out."

A spokesman for the U. S. Steel corp., said Detroit automakers will probably find they are paying about $6 a ton more for cold-rolled steel from Pittsburgh.

A good rule to remember in serving green vegetables that have been steamed or boiled is to add a teaspoon of butter or margarine for each serving. The hot vegetable will melt the fat as it comes to the table.

Five Nuns Refuse To Sign Contracts

SANTA FE, N. M., July 14 (INS) Five nuns who have been teaching at Dixon, N. M., today refused to sign contracts for next year as the result of a suit to oust members of Catholic orders from teaching in the state's public schools.

The suit was filed by 28 residents of seven counties against a total of 200 persons, including Gov. Thomas Mabry and other state and school officials, last March 10.

The plaintiffs charged that the Catholic church assumed control of public schools in Dixon and other towns six years ago without the people's consent.

Counsel for the defendants revealed the sister's action in an answer filed today in Santa Fe district court. The answer also generally denied allegations of the complaint filed by the plaintiffs.

The Attorney General's office also filed an answer on behalf of the state officials named as defendants, contending they cannot be sued without their consent.

"Stop Johnson" Movement Is Underway, Candidate Claims

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., July 14 (AP)—Lyndon Johnson, candidate for the Senate, is telling east Texas voters that a "Stop Johnson" movement is underway in the senatorial race.

Johnson, who talks today at Beaumont, Sour Lake, Silsbee, Lufkin, Kilgore and Tyler, told crowds who gathered around his helicopter yesterday that:

"They're saying vote for either one of the other major candidates—vote twice. They can't make up their mind which one to vote for. They say "vote for either one of them but stop Johnson."

"When you are slipping you go to getting desperate. I'm going to get them out of the hotel rooms and in the sun the last week. The only thing that will stop Johnson is a strong headwind."

Candidate Makes Talks

The candidate made talks yesterday at Navasota, Conroe, Cleveland, Liberty, Orange, Port Neches and Port Arthur.

At Conroe, his pilot, Joe Mashman, put the two-passenger helicopter down on the courthouse lawn but he decided to take off from the narrow confines without the 200-pound candidate. He picked up Johnson again at the outskirts of Conroe.

At Port Arthur, Johnson accused his opponent Coke Stevenson of making two separate statements in West Texas on the Taft-Hartley law. He added that neither statement "said anything or put him in the position of standing up to be counted."

Republican Leader Is "In Great Shape"

Panama Coup Is Prevented

PANAMA, Panama, July 14. (AP) —Attempts to unseat President Enrique Adolpho Jimenez appeared today to have failed. Jimenez still remained in control of the government, with Panama's armed police rallied behind him.

Twenty-six of the national assembly's 51 deputies adopted a resolution Monday night, designed to oust Jimenez, automatically elect Henrique De Obarrio in his place and annul the recent presidential election which Arnulfo Arias Madrid won on the basis of complete unofficial returns.

Court Suit Filed

Jimenez' government has filed suit in supreme court to have the resolution declared unconstitutional.

Instigators of the attempted coup opposed former president Arias in the May election. Apparently they were motivated by a desire not only to unseat Jimenez, but also to prevent the return to power of Arias.

Arias has been a political refugee in the Canal zone since early this month, when a state of emergency was declared in Panama, because of political clashes that cost three lives.

No arrests have been made. One informant said the deputies who engineered the coup would enjoy parliamentary immunity from arrest, as long as they are members of the assembly.

Dedication Planned For Co-Op Hospital

LOCKNEY, July 13 (Special)—Two years of effort will be rewarded Thursday evening, July 15, when a new hospital building erected by the Floyd County Co-operative Hospital will be dedicated here.

The new building, measuring 113 feet by 25 feet one way and 94 feet by 25 feet the other, contains twelve patient rooms, five treatment rooms, operating, delivery, X-ray, laboratory, kitchen, nursery and other smaller rooms. It is plastered inside and has asbestos siding outside.

The Floyd County Co-operative Hospital was chartered in October, 1945. The past two years the organization has spent in selling memberships and struggling to get the hospital started. It began operation on April 1, 1947, in temporary quarters, under the supervision of Dr. D. R. Foster. They expect to move into the new building within two weeks.

The staff has been enlarged recently with Dr. G. A. McClelland of Gilmer coming to assist Dr. Foster. Joseph Holt, M. T. and his assistant, Miss Hazel Guerry have taken charge of laboratory and X-ray.

Thursday is the day set aside by the people of Lockney and Floyd county for celebrating the completion of the new building and for dedicating the building. The program will begin at 2 p. m. Thursday when the Plains Theatre presents a free movie. At 4 p. m. a street program featuring "Stuttering Sam" of radio fame will be presented on Lockney's main street. Musical numbers will also be presented.

At 6 p. m. Thursday a big free barbecue is planned and will be served at the Lockney Legion home. At 8 p. m. the dedication program with Dr. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lubbock as speaker, will be held at the hospital building.

Recreation Program For Tech Announced

The recreation program for the second six-week term of the summer session at Texas Technological college has been announced by the dean of men's office, and includes dances in the Recreation hall each Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, free movies at 9 o'clock Thursday nights on the Administration building green, and artist course numbers at 8:30 p. m. each Friday on the Administration building green.

The movies will include: Suez, July 22; Tales of Manhattan, July 29; House On 92nd Street, August 5, Stanley and Livingston, August 12; and Alexanders Ragtime Band, August 19.

On the artist course numbers will be: Maud Scheerer, one of New York's great character actresses, giving a complete current Broadway play; Frederic Balazs, Hungarian violinist; John Anglin, negro lyric tenor; and Tarbell, World's master magician and mentalist.

In the case of inclement weather, artist course numbers will be presented in the Recreation hall, and movies will be shown the following Saturday night. Admission to artist course numbers will be by season artist course tickets for students, and $1 for townspeople. Students will be admitted to the dances on presentation of their library cards, and others who wish to attend will be charged $1.25 per couple.

"Ridiculous Suggestions Of New Yorkers To Blame For It"

Man's Serene Business Career Is Disrupted After He Trades For Hitler's Private Auto

CHICAGO, July 4 (U.P.) — Christopher G. Janus lived in the seclusion of a successful but quiet business career until a month ago. Then he traded some ball bearings for Hitler's private car.

Now, Janus reported today, his whole life has been shaken loose from its quiet moorings.

The car and the "ridiculous suggestions of New Yorkers are to blame," he said.

The 9,500-pound armor-plated limousine arrived in New York from Sweden a few weeks ago. It received an enthusiastic reception. Since then, Janus said:

A newsreel company asked to take a picture of someone shooting at the car with him in it.

A New York sculptor wanted to make a bust of Janus because he thought the owner of Hitler's car was "an audacious man."

A psychiatrist wondered if Janus would mind being psycho-analyzed.

Several New Yorkers accused Janus of knowing the present whereabouts of Hitler.

A publisher asked Janus to write a book about the car.

Some people warned Janus not to have anything to do with the car. They said Hitler's ghost still lurked within and that the car had 13 keys.

Janus said he receives several hundred letters a day and dozens of telephone calls.

"Most of the misconceptions about the car and the rather ridiculous suggestions have come from New Yorkers," he said. "I don't know whether that means they have more imagination or less regard for the truth than Chicagoans, but anyway that's the story."

The New York Museum of Science and Industry is now showing the car for charity.

Two callers offered to buy the car for $50,000. Janus said no, he wanted the car for his own personal use.

Several offers of marriage also were tendered. But Janus passed them up, too, because he has "the most wonderful wife in the world."

"But one of the ladies sounded exceedingly pleasant," he said.

PARDON us for bringing up such a question on the eve of national elections, but have any steps been made thus far to draft capital and labor in the event of another war?

We have hedged against our manpower problem by passing a law drafting our young men for military training. That's all right. We're for it.

But if anything has been done about setting the stage for a draft of everything and everybody else in case of war, we've missed seeing it, or hearing about it.

If war comes again, everybody ought to be made to share in the responsibility of carrying it on. This means that everything and everybody should be "frozen" the minute the first shot is fired; that men in civilian clothing should be subject to the same discipline and authority that will apply to those in uniform; should be put to work wherever they are most needed.

What is more, profits of wartime business should immediately be plowed into payment for the war—which means that dollars, as well as men, should be drafted.

As the first of our new crop of draftees prepare to don uniforms, it would be good to hear from Democratic and Republican leaders along these lines.

However, we don't expect to hear from any of them—at least until after the first few days of November.

The world seems to have entered into a period of perpetual commotion.

THERE'S nothing like the Democrats and there's nothing like a Democratic convention—as you probably have guessed by reading the papers and listening to the radio, when you have had the time and inclination to do so.

The lads and lassies at Fooladelphia are having a lot of difficulties, not the least of which is keeping the convention going for the four days promised the business interests of the City of Brotherly Love when the latter put up the dough for the gathering.

Funniest thing that has happened at the convention thus far was the crack on Monday night, just as Richard Tucker stepped up to sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Over the mike came a raucus voice, yelling:

"Quit shovin'—or I'll knock you on yer can!"

* * *

The difficulty in rounding enough speakers to keep the convention going has been mirrored in numerous instances. But none of them has been more astounding than the appearance on the platform's boards of "Miss Frances Perkins." "Miss Perkins," who isn't "Miss Perkins," at all, but, instead, Mrs. Paul Wilson, was dug up out of the mothballs to kill a little time.

One of the most irritating evangels of the New Deal in its rip-roaring days, the Modom finally had to be ditched in the face of public opinion.

But they let her make a speech anyway, with some lady named Mrs. India Edwards, who apparently had been taking elocution lessons and hadn't quite finished the course.

EVERBODY knows that the unholy alliance made by the old New Deal with the ruthless political gangsters of (the big cities) has broken down, with such unsavory characters as Bosses Hague, of Jersey City Jake Arvey, of Chicago; Ed Flynn of the Bronx, afraid that their political rackets will be injured by a Truman defeat.

Well, if a Truman defeat does come about—and if it does clip the wings of the political racketeers—it won't be in vain.

The poor people who've been pushed around by the bosses will get a break, anyway.

From the strictly partisan point of view, the best thing that has come out of the convention was the keynote speech of doughty old Alben Barkley, the Kentucky senator.

He pulled out all the stops; wisecracked effectively at

BY DREW PEARSON: TRUMAN'S NOMINATION MEANS VOTES FOR HENRY WALLACE

1944 Description Of Demos Explains Confusion

PHILADELPHIA — The smoke-filled room that put Harry Truman into the White House was Ed Flynn's suite at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago in 1944. The so-called smoke-filled room "that tried to take Harry Truman out of the White House in 1948" was the club room at the Drake hotel in Philadelphia. Only it was filled with Coca-Cola bottles rather than cigar smoke.

In Chicago, Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, Ed Flynn of the Bronx and Bob Hannegan gathered to chart the Truman strategy, and to talk long distance to FDR on his special train en route West.

PEARSON

In Philadelphia, Kelly, Flynn, Hague and Hannegan were all unhappy about Truman's insistence that he run again. But the real plotting against Truman was charted by Bill Ritchie of Nebraska, Harry Carlson of New Hampshire, Barnett Hodes of Chicago, August Scholle of Michigan, Carl Rice of Kansas, Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, George Gooch of Florida, and Jack Kroll of Ohio.

Whereas the pro-Truman bigwigs met late at night and in strictest secrecy at the Blackstone, the anti-Truman plotters at Philadelphia met with half a dozen newsmen banging on the door demanding to be let in. They were not admitted.

Bill Ritchie, Democratic national committeeman from Nebraska, presided. He said he was tired of "Phantom candidates," such as Eisenhower, and wanted one he knew was ready and willing to run.

Jimmy Roosevelt's respresentatives—Irving Schulman and Joe Di Silva—reported that Jimmy had phoned Justice Douglas asking him to run not for vice president but for president and had urged Douglas to make a forthright statement publicly that he would resign from the court.

"Why Pick A Loser?"

Several present did not think Douglas would do that, and meanwhile they proposed Senator Pepper of Florida.

"Truman's renomination without a fight guarantees another 5,000,000 votes to Henry Wallace," warned Jack Kroll, head of CIO-PAC, who is also a delegate from Ohio. "The party is certain to lose with Truman," he continued, "so why pick a loser?"

The only man willing to run who could take several million votes away from Wallace, Kroll continued, is Claude Pepper.

"The Democratic party will be out of power for at least twenty years," Kroll warned, "If Truman goes unchallenged."

Joe Di Silva of California agreed.

"Why nominate a guy that you couldn't get enough names on petitions for to get him on the ballot?" he asked, adding that Jimmy Roosevelt had called him to ask that he get a petition signed for Truman in California.

"I had to put 16 men on the job and it took several days," explained Di Silva. "I don't deal with politicians or rich people. I deal with workers, and I can tell you they're against Truman."

Also present was Leonard Finder, New Hampshire publisher and initial booster of General Eisenhower.

"I speak as an independent Republican, not as a delegate, and as one who carried the flag for General Eisenhower as long as it could be carried," Finder told the Democrats. "I know that I am speaking for thousands of independent voters when I say that if the Democrats nominate Harry Truman they will forfeit any chance of winning independent Republican votes."

THE late, much-loved Josephus Daniels, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the navy gave this description of the Democratic party in 1944: "We are a party of minorities. There is the South, where the party is strongest. Yet no Southerner can be elected president. One of the biggest Democratic groups is the Catholics, yet no Catholic can be president. Another group is the Jews, and no Jew can sit in the White House. Finally there are the negroes, and they are excluded from being president. Thank God," concluded Daniels, "for Franklin D. Roosevelt."

That description explains the confusion at Philadelphia, for Roosevelt is no more.

Merry-Go-Round

First thing the South Carolina Democrats did when they moved into the Adelphia hotel was to rip down all pictures of Truman and hoist the South Carolina state flag instead . . . Democratic leaders tell you on the Q. T. that Truman will swing more than a million votes to Henry Wallace in New York state alone. The right-wing liberal party in New York will do its best for Truman but won't be able to stop the overwhelming tide to Wallace . . . Frank Palumbo, Philadelphia restaurateur, was the height of hospitality to the Democrats. He also bought an airplane, which he placed at the disposal of delegates for emergency trips home . . . After the Eisenhower boom fell to pieces, South Carolina's Senator Olin Johnston coined this phrase to prescribe the confusion: "organized inertia."

ONE prominent convention delegate is popular ex-secretary of agriculture Clinton Anderson, now running for the Senate from New Mexico. Anderson flew from Washington to Philadelphia with a group of his old cabinet colleagues, including Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, and Secretary for Air Stuart Symington.

The group was met at the Philadelphia airport by a police escort and a fleet of official cars. When the police lieutenant in charge read out the car assignments he made no mention of Anderson.

"Well, Clint," quipped Secretary Symington, "here's where you find out you're not a cabinet member any more."

The Illinois convention train, dubbed the "Eisenhower special," was about as good as its candidate arrived seven hours late . . . Chicago's ex-mayor Ed Kelly claims to have a $300 "atomic medical gadget" which will cure anything from rheumatism to gallstones . . . One newsman, reporting the dullness of the convention, wired his editor: "I hope you won't deduct my time here from my vacation." When Clint Anderson was secretary of agriculture, he gave an occasional ride in his government car to one of his assistants, Charles Brannan. Now that Brannan is Secretary of Agriculture, Anderson promotes rides from his successor . . . The Bellevue-Stratford hotel offered the Democrats a giant rubber donkey inflated by compressed air to decorate the Hotel Marquee. But the Democrats, mindful of how the G.O.P. elephant was repeatedly deflated by smoldering cigarette butts, declined with thanks. Instead, the Democrats trotted out a papier mache donkey with electric eyes that flash on and off.

OUR good friend, Ben Moore, sr., of O'Donnell, says this is a true story: "J. W. Not an egg was broken or cracked."

Mr. Moore, and Mr. Gates, too, give O'Donnell's new paving credit for the phenomenon.

The Feminine Viewpoint

NEWS item with a Salt Lake City dateline: "Carl Swenson, cab driver, sat patiently while his three feminine passengers 'divided' up a 35-cent fare.

"The fare couldn't be split three ways exactly. But the women nearly made it.

MILLETT

"Swenson accepted 33 cents—three dimes and three pennies — and two cents worth of Utah state one-mill tax tokens, seven each from two of the women, six from the third."

Perhaps this small incident will make women see to what ridiculous lengths they often go in their determination not to be "beholden" to other women.

DON'T BE TOO DUTCH

THE Dutch treat idea is all right the way men carry it out. But women carry it too far.

They sit at a luncheon table, arguing over how large (or rather how small) a tip to leave the waitress and then try to split it evenly.

Then they stand at the cashier's cage fumbling around while they decide whether it was Jane or Mary who had the extra cup of coffee.

With such carrying-on they have made the Dutch treat not only ridiculous but they have taken all the graciousness out of their get-togethers.

And it's not because women don't want to pay their share. It's because they want to be sure they pay their full share—but not one cent more.

"Try And Stop Me"

ACCORDING to Doug Fairbanks, Jr., his friend David Niven was assigned in his youth to a remote army post in India. Female talent was scarce, and the one really beautiful girl, unfortunately, was the wife of the colonel.

One morning at mess, the colonel suddenly asked, "Niven, are you in love with my wife?" Niven turned brick red and stammered, "Certainly not, sir." "Then, demme," barked the colonel, "stop telling her you are. It makes her nervous."

Presidential Race Is Due To Become Unusually One-Sided

PHILADELPHIA — Watching this slack and spiritless gathering reluctantly begin its foreordained business, you need no crystal ball to see what kind of campaign will develop in the fall. The contest will be more one-sided than any in our recent political history.

CHILDS

The Democratic organization will be virtually without funds. It is even now living from hand to mouth. The newspapers will be overwhelmingly for the Republican ticket.

The Democratic chieftains here for this convention see all too clearly how bad is their plight. But such an unbalance is bad not merely for the party that happens to be on the short end.

Under our two-party system, it is bound to be bad for the country and even for the Republicans, who are at this moment looking on with such smug self-satisfaction. There must be vigorous competition if the system is to produce truly representative government.

Republicans Make Effort

Already the effort is being made on the Republicans side to make it sound as though this were to be a contest between the individual and individual freedom, on the one hand, and the all-powerful state on the other hand. Nothing could be more false. A victory won on that ground would open the way to exploitation by interests more powrful than government itself.

In two fields it is already evident what this can mean. No. 1 is taxes. In this connection, a plank in the Republican platform deserves more study than it has received. The plank says:

"The federal government shall as soon as practicable withdraw or reduce those taxes which can be best administered by local governments, with particular consideration of excise and inheritance taxes."

This is an outright invitation to repeal the federal inheritance tax. State governments are far more subject to pressure from wealth and power. Moreover, the way would immediately be opened to rivalry, with some states deliberately trying to attract wealth by a low inheritance tax or none at all.

AT THE lase session the Republican Congress went a long way toward this goal. The new tax law permits the splitting of manner that income tax can now husband and wife in the same manner thatincome tax can now be split. In his message vetoing the tax bill, President Truman said that nearly all of the $250,000,000 annual reduction would go to 12,000 of the nation's most wealthy families. The new law, according to one theoretical example, would permit $1,000,000 to be passed on tax free.

You do not need to be an apostle of the soak-the-rich tax school to see where this can lead. Perhaps a truly objective study of our chaotic tax system would reveal that too great a share of the burden is being carried by wealth.

But a compliant Congress, willing to repeal or nullify the inheritance tax, could very quickly throw the whole structure out of balance. In finding ways to make up the deficit, the burden would be passed to those less able to bear it. Our inflation-ridden economy would be under still another strain.

Powerful exploiters hope to use a Republican victory in the field of public power and public land. As Bernard De Voto has shown so effectively in Harper's, a concerted plot seems to be aimed at turning over all public lands to the states and from there to private owners.

Forest Service Attacked

It has begun with a high-powers attack on the modest regulations of the Forest service which protects part of the public lands—your land over-grazing. Back of this is and mine—from ruin through seen the dim outline of an intention to break down all barriers, including even those in the national parks. This would be a repudiation of Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot, the crusading Republicans who long ago believed they had won the conservation battle.

In public power, the goal is to further federal power development and to turn all power distribution over to private utilities. The real gains

HAIL AND THE SOUTH PLAINS

It is understandably difficult for any farmer to see any bright side of the picture after a growing crop has been flattened by hail. The typical farmer takes his loss with stoicism as one of the hazards of his business. But a crop ruined by hail within minutes represents a loss in money and hard work that the city dweller is not likely to appreciate.

As it happens, there usually is a bright side of the picture when such misfortunes befall the South Plains—and there probably has never been a Spring or Summer without spotted hail damage. Usually, if one crop is wiped out, such as cotton, something else still can be planted, such as feed. If one prospective cash crop is wiped out, the farmer usually can turn to another. The South Plains farmer is more likely to salvage something despite misfortune than are those of most areas, where a late hailstorm is likely to mean no cash crop at all from the battered land during that particular year.

This certainly does not suggest that hail is a desirable visitor. But there is consolation in the knowledge that such visitations rarely are as much of a disaster on the South Plains as in most regions. It is, in short, just another of many reasons why the South Plains is one of the finest of all places to live.

Lieutenant Falls 26,000 Feet To Death When Bubble On B-29 Bomber Blows Out

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 14 (AP) — An air force lieutenant, who plummeted 26,000 feet to his death when the navigator's bubble on a B-29 bomber blew out, wasn't even missed by fellow crewmen in the excitement.

Walter H. Hilbert, 32, of El Paso, Tex., was the navigator whose body plumped into a wheat field so hard it dug a hole in the ground. The field was near the Mexican border.

The B-29 was on a routine flight from Biggs field, El Paso, to do radar bombing runs over the Pacific coast.

Back at Biggs field, Capt. R. L. Bell, commander of the bomber, said the first indication he had of a mishap was "a noise, and I felt a popping in my ears," then a bell warned that the bomber was losing its cabin air pressure and the crew rushed into oxygen masks.

Then, Lt. Albert J. Tower, who was instructing Hilbert in radar, looked for his companion—and discovered he was gone.

Bell blamed a faulty bubble for the mishap, explaining that at 26,000 feet nothing could have struck the bubble.

Labor Leaders Are Arrested

CAMDEN, July 14 (AP) — Four Texas CIO leaders were jailed here last night after attempting to speak at a meeting of lumber mill employes.

The four men were charged with violating a temporary injunction for trespassing on private property. They were placed in the Polk county jail at Livingstone.

The men are Robert Oliver, Dallas, regional director of the CIO, Carl Austin McPeak, Houston, area director; Henry Rabun, Dallas, state publicity director, and Paul White, Dallas, a CIO organizer.

District Judge Will Browder of ninth district court earlier yesterday had granted the Carter Lumber company an injunction restricting union organizers from trespassing on company property.

Leaflets Dropped From Plane

Union spokesman said last night's meeting of approximately 500 workers who had been called by dropping leaflets from an airplane.

The arrests were made as Roberts stepped up to make the opening talk before the mill workers who had gathered along a railroad spur track.

Immediately after the arrests, two other CIO organizers continued the meeting and handed out membership cards by driving up and down the streets of this little lumber town and making speeches from a public address system.

The streets are not included in the more than 200 acres of land covered by Judge Browder's injunction.

Ray Miller, reporter for radio station KPRC, Houston, said two regional representatives of the National Labor Relations board, Joseph Butler and Woodrow Green, Dallas, were present at the meeting last night.

Coal Strike

it lost a combined total of 52,000 tons of coal during the mine vacation and the strike. Carnegie-Illinois was operating at 76.5 per cent of theoretical capacity.

U. S. Steel Corp., said its daily steel production loss during the walkout was 4,000 tons and said that figure would continue until miners return to work and build up stocks.

Other steel firms, like Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., and Crucible Steel, were at peak production despite the coal loss. It was estimated stockpiles on hand would have carried the companies for another two to three weeks.

Government Okays Purchase Of Meat

DALLAS, July 13 (U.P) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture today had authorized purchase of up to 150 million pounds of canned meat during the next year after a purchasing program with northern Mexico meat plants.

More than 40 million pounds of canned meat was purchased during the past seven months for sale to foreign countries at cost.

The program is being continued to furnish an outlet for northern Mexican cattle. Some cattle are ready for market but cannot be exported except in processed form because of the foot and mouth disease in other areas of Mexico.

Officials of USDA said the program would help curb the dread disease by preventing the overstocking of cattle in the northern states of Mexico, thereby cutting the disease's chance of spreading.

Labor Vote

these labor statements in their platform:

GOP Labor Statements

"Collective bargaining is an obligation as well as a right, applying equally to workers and employers; and the fundamental right to strike is subordinate only to paramount considerations of public health and safety.

"Government's chief function in this field is to promote good will, encourage cooperation, and where resort is had to intervention, to be impartial, preventing violence and requiring obedience to all law by all parties involved."

The Democrats' platform, in addition to dealing with labor-management legislation, urges that the labor department be "rebuilt and strengthened," getting back the now-severed conciliation and employment services.

It also urges the creation of a labor education extension service in the Labor department.

The Republican platform doesn't mention the Labor department.

Marquis Childs

that have come to so-called backward regions from federal power could conceivably be reversed.

A victory won in part by default and on the false opposition of control vs. freedom would give the extremists far too much license; a license they are already preparing to use. In 1934 and 1936, the years of the new deal high tide, we heard a great deal about the need for restraint and effective opposition under the two-party system. That need may be even greater today, when the party in power for so long seems on the point of disintegration and is all but powerless to make itself heard.

Wheat Jam Shows Signs Of Easing

KANSAS CITY, July 14. (AP)—The wheat shipping jam, brought on by a deluge of grain from southwest harvest fields, showed further signs of easing today.

An embargo, put into effect last Friday on rail shipments of wheat to Kansas City, probably will be lifted by the end of the week.

Ralph E. Clark, manager of box car distribution for the Association of American Railroads, said conditions here were somewhat improved and that the peak of southwest grain movement had passed.

Approximately 8,000 cars of wheat still are waiting to be unloaded.

The heavy run last week hopelessly swamped grain elevators. The largest number of car workers have been able to unload in a single day is approximately 1,400.

Yesterday the shipping embargo also was extended to Hutchinson, Kas. An embargo was clamped on St. Joseph, Mo., Monday night. There was no indication these bans would be lifted by the end of the week.

Westinghouse Strike Ended

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (AP)—The Lester plant of the Westinghouse Electric corp. operated full force today with the end of a 24-hour walkout over dismissal of two workers for "security" reasons.

The plant's 6,000 CIO electrical workers started back to their jobs yesterday shortly after the executive board of local 107, United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers voted to request its members to return.

Frank Bradley, union business agent, said a conference between company officials and union representatives has been called today in Pittsburgh "to discuss and resolve the issue that resulted in the protest demonstration."

Subversion Suspected

A brief sitdown started the protest on Monday. Virually all of the production workers and most of the office force susequently quit their posts.

John Schaefer, local president, said the two men involved—Frank Carner, 30, an engineer, and Robert Hebert Lewin, 28, sheet metal worker — were "branded poor security risks" by the navy. The navy has contracts with the plant for construction of aircraft gas turbine engines.

The navy reported from Washington that it had reason to believe the two men were members of an organization listed as subversive by Attorney General Tom Clark. It did not name the organization.

A local spokesman quoted both Carner and Lewin as saying they never had been challenged before.

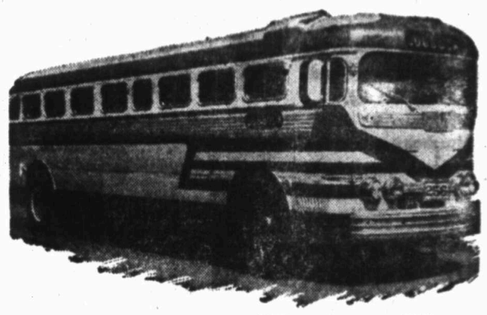

Established at Salem, Ore., in 1842, Willamette University, founded by a pioneer missionary, Jason Lee, is the oldest institution of higher learning west of Missouri.

Only Seven Germans Remain Under Rule Of 'Four Powers'

BERLIN, July 14 (AP) — They may not know it, but only seven Germans of some 60,000,000 remain under four-power rule today.

They are Rudolf Hess, former deputy to Hitler, and the six other surviving major Nazi war criminals. They are confined to grim, red-brick Spandau prison in the British sector of Berlin for terms ranging from 20 years to life.

There they are sitting out what has been called the "second battle of Berlin"—the Allied attempt to supply Berlin by air over a Russian-imposed land blockade.

Spandau has four governors, one from each occupying power, and guard personnel also equally provided by the Americans, Russians, British and French.

Lowest Ration Given

The prisoner's food is supplied from a four-power pool, on the lowest Berlin ration card. Since food for Germans in western Berlin now is being flown in by the Americans and British, it means also that 75 per cent of the diet provided for the former Nazi leaders is provided by the Allied air lift from western Germany.

Spandau became the last quadripartite island after the Russians walked out on the Allied Control council and withdraw from the Allied Kommandatura.

How much the former Nazi leaders in Spandau may know about the current Berlin crisis is one of the day's mysteries. Officially they are told nothing. They get no newspapers and the only mail they receive consists of censored letters from their relatives.

"However," one Allied official observed, "we have no way of knowing what information a Russian, French, British or American guard may slip them surreptitiously.

Allied Plot Denied

"For instance, as they work in the prison vegetable garden the prisoners may wonder aloud about that constant roar of planes overhead engaged in the Allied air shuttle to supply Berlin, maybe a guard has told them that these are American and British planes flying in food and fuel over the Russian blockade."

Hints in the Russian-controlled press that the Americans planned to remove the Nazi criminals to western Germany have been officially denied. Any attempt to do so, however, would likely raise an immediate howl from the Russians who have a share in Spandau's administration.

Spandau's inmates, besides the emaciated but still beetle-browed Hess, are: Armiral Karl Doenitz, former grand admiral Erich Raeder, Baron Constantin Von Neurath, Albert Speer, Walter Funk and Baldur Von Schirach. Most of them are reported in poor health, due to age and the effects of prolonged confinement.

Trio Seek To Keep School Properties

DETROIT, July 14 (AP)—Michael Muller, Makari Sinchuk and Dimitri Bayenski planned court action today to retain the $150,000 Clarenceville high school they bought at a bargain rate of $1,040.

Three years ago the trio, planning to start a small business, purchased a piece of land for delinquent taxes. When they examined the property, they found school district No. 5 had built a two-story school there in 1941.

The district had bought the land, it was found, but the property never was removed from the tax rolls.

Circuit Judge Theodore Richter vacated the sale yesterday and ordered the $1,040 returned. But the trio, preferring to keep the school, announced they would appeal.

Man's Divorce Suit Becomes Boomerang

A 22-year-old North Carolinian's Tuesday severance of marital ties, legal as the action was, nevertheless indirectly landed him forthright in another court.

Billie L. Gibson, obtained a 99th district court decree of divorce, but Deputy Sheriff Frank Mitchell arrested him on a fugitive warrant sued out in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, upon affidavit of Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton.

Horton's affidavit said that Gibson had been charged Feb. 24 at Shelby, N. C., with abandonment, non-support and assault, a felony offense. Complaining witness against him there was his wife. He is alleged to be the father of two minor children.

Sheriff Grady Harrist said that when process was served on Gibson's wife in connection with his divorce suit, the felony warrant came back with the return of service.

Gibson then was in New Mexico and could not be found.

But Mitchell was on hand when the defendant showed up for his divorce action.

Gibson late Tuesday sought to post $1,500 bond returnable Aug. 13, when he is to appear before Lynn.

Mrs. Gibson did not appear to contest the divorce action in court.

Two Men Burned To Death In Collision

HENDERSON, July 14 (AP)—Two men were burned to death when their gasoline and fuel-oil laden trucks collided near here on the Carthage highway yesterday.

Dead were Dale Weaver, about 45, of Henderson and J. C. Kyle of Winona.

The two men, employed by a safety tank company at Gladewater, were enroute to Henderson.

One truck reportedly was passing the other when the vehicles collided and went off the road. The gasoline truck, driven by Kyle, burst into flames.

Burning gasoline scattered over the highway blocked traffic for several hours.

Tomatoes and strawberries, when they grow too much foliage, lose vitamin C value.
