Herter Expects More Pressure

HER DIPLOMA A BADGE OF COURAGE—Jeanette Kosiba looking over her high school books, smiles brightly at the prospect of getting her high school diploma. A victim of muscular dystrophy since she was 10 months old, she is allowed to sit up only 15 minutes at a time. She will use those 15 minutes to go to Leland, Ill., high school to join her graduation class as valedictorian. She has never attended the school having received all her class work over an intercom connected from school to home. (AP Wirephoto)

New Flare-Up Is Due In U. N.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States braced today against another attempt by the Soviet Union to get the U.N. Security Council to censure American spy flights.

A new showdown shaped up on a resolution sponsored by four smaller members of the council appealing to the Big Five to resume negotiations and to all U.N. nations "to refrain from any action which might increase tensions."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, defeated Thursday in an attempt to have the council condemn U.S. spy flights over the Soviet Union, tried to achieve his end by implication. He proposed an amendment to have the small-power resolution read "refrain from any action which might increase tensions, including the dispatch of their aircraft into the airspace of other states."

In a 50-minute speech, the Soviet foreign minister said President Eisenhower in his radio-TV report Wednesday and broadcast to the whole world "a broad program of espionage and sabotage activity against the Soviet Union" and had, in effect, announced a continued "policy of dangerous provocations which, indeed, place mankind on the brink of war."

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge in a statement Thursday night called Gromyko's charge "fantastic" and declared: "One could only wonder what might cause the Soviet government to say such atrocious things."

The Soviet resolution accusing the United States of aggressive acts was thrown out by a 7-2 vote with only Communist Poland lining up with the Soviet Union. Ecuador and Tunisia abstained. The other members of the 11-nation council voting against the resolution were Britain, France, Nationalist China, Argentina, Ecuador, Italy and the United States.

Gromyko's amendments to the new conciliatory resolution were clearly aimed at the United States in proposing a censure of overflights and charging the incursion of foreign military aircraft into any country was a threat to peace and incompatible with U.N. principles.

The hard core of the move was to get a resumption of big-power negotiations on outstanding issues to avoid the threat of war.

Lodge announced that he would vote for the resolution as originally put forward. Delegates from Britain and Italy joined with the Ecuador and Tunisia in expressing hope that it would be adopted unanimously.

Gromyko indicated that if his amendments failed, he would abstain rather than veto it. He said the Soviet Union favored negotiations and again charged the United States "bears the responsibility for the wrecking of the (Paris) summit conference."

Dynamite Is Found In Airman's Car

DENISON (AP)—Ten sticks of dynamite were found planted beneath the driver's seat of a Perrin Air Force Base man's car today. He narrowly escaped death because the ground wire became detached.

The Air Force withheld the name of the man asserting that this would aid the investigation by Air Police and the Office of Special Investigation.

The man had been off the base Thursday night in Oklahoma, and returned parking his car among many others in a parking area outside one of the main dormitories. As he drove away this morning, the man heard something dragging.

Investigation showed it was a loose wire. Demolition crews found the 10 sticks of dynamite wired to four explosive caps and attached to the ignition system.

Air police said the only thing that prevented an explosion when the starter was turned was the detached ground wire. They said the job looked very professional and that the dynamite would have had the explosive force of 15 pounds of TNT.

Probe Panel Begins Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned Congress today that in the aftermath of the summit conference collapse the United States must be prepared "to withstand aggressive pressures from Russia" in Berlin and elsewhere.

Opening a full-dress Senate hearing into the summit failure and the related spy flight row with Russia, Herter said the most important lesson of the Paris explosion two weeks ago "is fresh realization of the dangers we face," and the need for the Allies to close ranks.

At the same time he advocated a "calm and resolute" posture toward the Soviet Union. He urged that the nation avoid "rigidity and damaging recriminations" over what has happened.

The inquiry is being conducted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A pledge that the senators will "strive to avoid bitter partisan debate" was given by committee Chairman J. William Fulbright.

While few in the free world doubt that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev bears the chief blame for destruction of the summit hopes, Fulbright told Herter, "there are many who believe that our conduct has not been without fault."

The hearing was conducted behind closed doors, but with an arrangement whereby censored transcripts were to be delivered to newsmen as quickly as possible.

The initial documents reporters received were Fulbright's opening statement and a prepared statement by Herter.

The inquiry, Fulbright told Herter, would focus on these four areas:

"First, the events and decisions resulting from the U2 incident; second, the effects of these events and decisions upon the summit; third, the policy of our government regarding the summit meeting; and fourth, the policy of the United States in the future and possible improvement in the execution thereof."

Herter said that initial statements by the U.S. government were designed to keep the intelligence mission secret and to protect the pilot. He said that up to May 7 "statements followed the general line of the cover story and thereafter were adjusted to the situation as it developed."

He said that, since the U2 system had been compromised, "it was discontinued as any other intelligence mission would be in such a case."

Elaborate precautions were taken against any eavesdropping on the hearings.

A security guard with an electronic device that looked like an oversized black table tennis paddle checked the big hearing room floor by foot to make sure no microphone or other hidden device had been planted.

The device was connected by a long cord to earphones worn by the operator.

Khrushchev arrived in Paris on May 14, two days before the scheduled opening of the summit session May 16. His purpose, Herter told the committee, was "to divide the Allies and isolate the United States."

Herter said that in spite of Khrushchev's conduct at Paris there has been no "radical alteration" of Soviet policy.

With this he coupled a new plea for congressional support of full foreign aid appropriations asked by President Eisenhower.

Yet Herter cautioned that Soviet leaders "operate behind an Iron Curtain with the power to act suddenly and without warning."

Therefore, Herter said, it is important to be on guard against a "surprise."

We must remain prepared to withstand aggressive pressures," Herter said, "not only in Berlin but also elsewhere. I trust that our evident readiness will deter such pressures."

"Among the lessons of Paris, the most important for the free world including ourselves, it seems to me, is fresh realization of the dangers we face and consequent need for closing of ranks and moving ahead with our own and our allies' programs for strengthening the free world.

Southerners To Fight Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inclusion of an antisegregation amendment raised questions today about Senate acceptance of the first general school construction bill ever passed by the House.

A long, wrangling session ended in a 206-189 House vote Thursday to authorize $1,300,000,000 in federal grants over a four-year period to help with construction of public school classrooms.

Sponsors had hoped for quick approval by the Senate, which already had passed a more comprehensive measure.

But before passage, the House voted 218-181 to deny the funds to any school judged to be in defiance of court integration orders. That amendment was sponsored by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY).

Southern Senators were expected to object strongly to that provision. And efforts to work out a Senate-House compromise would have to be cleared through the House Rules Committee, which had held up the bill for months.

The bill would authorize 325 million dollars a year to the states for each of four years, with the states required to match all federal funds received. For the first two years, local school funds as well as state money could be used for matching purposes.

Rejected were amendments to permit funds to be used for teachers' salaries and to authorize construction loans to private and parochial schools. Both proposals were ruled out of order on parliamentary points and did not come to a vote.

As finally approved the money would be allocated to the states on the basis of their school-age population and could be used only for school construction.

Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. (D-NJ), author of the bill, said it should provide for more than 50,000 classrooms.

The vote on the Powell amendment found 100 Democrats and 118 Republicans favoring the anti-segregation clause and 160 Democrats and 21 Republicans in opposition.

On final passage 162 Democrats and 44 Republicans voted for the bill and 97 Democrats and 92 Republicans voted against it. A loud cheer went up from the winners when the vote was announced.

Crash Kills Midland Trio

MIDLAND (AP)—A car skidded sidewise and smashed broadside into a parked gravel truck today, killing three men.

The dead were Rufus Glendenning, 17, his brother, James, 21, and Robert Lee Hodges, 20. Hodges died an hour and a half after the crash three fourths of a mile southeast of Midland.

The brothers, Hodges and Arthur Strickland were in the car which crashed into the two-ton gravel truck. Strickland was gravely injured. Earl Tyra, who was walking from a cafe behind the truck, was hit by the car and also seriously hurt.

The men in the car worked for Prilico Inc. an oil drilling concern.

SUCCESS STORIES GO INTO FUTURAMA ISSUE

One couple started off with $600 cash, a mortgagedr pick-up and a "strung out dating on their in'oices" and grew from a 1250-square foot store to one that occupies close to 11,000 square feet, doing 10 times the business and ofering 35 times as much selection in a veritable "hard goods department store."

This is just another of the spectacular "success stories" you'll find in the Futurama Issue of the Daily News—coming June 12. Watch for it for identities and details — there are hundreds of such enthralling feature stories.

Armed Forces Take Control Of Turkey

By GARVEN HUDGINS

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's armed forces today took over control of the nation in bloodless coup d'etat sparked by mounting public dissatisfaction with the strongman rule of Premier Adnan Menderes.

The military rebels promised to hold free elections then hand over the government to the winners.

The army move followed a month of unrest which began with student demonstrations against Menderes and his government's oppressive measures against the Premier's chief political opposition, the Republican People's party of former President Ismet Inonu.

Reports reaching London said Menderes was captured on the Kutahya road. Kutahya is near Eskisehir, where Menderes addressed a meeting Thursday.

Ankara radio, monitored in Belgrade, reported Menderes had been caught and taken to Ankara. The broadcast announcement was signed by Gen. Cemal Gursel, General of the army, on behalf of the National Unity Committee.

Gursel's identity was not clear —some reports identified him as a Brig. Gursen. On May 5, Lt. Gen. Cemal Gursel resigned as chief of Turkish army ground forces during a period of enforced leave for an undisclosed reason. At that time he issued a statement warning his troops to stay out of politics and "protect yourselves from this nefarious atmosphere."

The rebels were quick to assure the West that Menderes' overthrow meant no change in Turkey's staunch alliance with the West against Soviet communism. An Ankara broadcast said Turkey, Middle Eastern anchor of the Western defense line, would remain loyal to its membership in the North Atlantic and Central Treaty (CENTO) alliances.

In broadcasts over Ankara radio, Turkey's new military rulers called on all persons to stay at home and to obey the instructions of the military.

The military group said it had acted "because of the crisis through which democracy in Turkey is passing" and "to avoid national fratricide."

It said it would stay in power until "free and honest elections" could be held, then would hand over the nation's administration to the winners of the election.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had been informed that all branches of the Turkish military participated in the revolt.

The British Foreign Office said its reports from Turkey indicated that the country was quiet.

Telephone communications with Istanbul were out.

All commercial communications with the outside world appeared to have been cut off summarily this morning.

Despite the word from Turkey that the coup was bloodless, one report to the British foreign office said the takeover was preceded by shooting in the streets of Ankara before dawn.

Snyder Set For Holiday

Many Snyderites today will begin a long weekend respite from their daily chores, as the city prepares to observe the Memorial Day holiday on Monday.

Most retail business firms, along with government agencies and banks, will be closed Monday. Memorial Day is one of the holidays recommended for observance by the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee.

Meanwhile, local veterans organizations have made plans for their annual tribute to Scurry County's war dead. Flags will be placed on graves of all veterans Monday at 8 a.m. and the annual memorial rites will be conducted at 4 p.m. Monday at the Snyder Cemetery. The Rev. Edward Chrisman will speak at the memorial service.

Cotton Surplus Is Expected To Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reserve and surplus supply of cotton appears likely to drop to the lowest level this year since 1953.

An Agriculture Department report predicted the carryover of old crop cotton Aug. 1 will be 7,800,000 bales, down 1,100,000 from a year earlier.

This estimate is based upon the expectation that domestic usage and exports will exceed last year's crop of 14,500,000 bales and draw on supplies from the surplus stocks.

Reserve and surplus stocks climbed to 14,326,000 bales by the end of the 1955-crop season. Increased exports have helped to bring the oversupply down.

Fireman Hurt In Fluvanna Blaze

A Snyder fireman was burned when hot oil spurted into his face as he was trying to shut off a valve feeding oil to a raging fire three miles west of Fluvanna at noon Thursday.

Regular fireman Bill Chambless suffered burns described as painful but not serious at an oil fire origination when a pipe on the shipping pump feeding oil from a storage tank to the main line burst. The oil ignied from the exhaust of the pump.

Oil sprays gushed 15 feet to either side with flames rising about the same distance, according to witnesses.

Snyder firemen fought the roaring blaze for almost two hours before the heavy foam spray succeeded in controlling the flames sufficiently to allow Chambless to rush in and cut off the feeder valve.

The oil station is owned by the McWood Corporation of Abilene. No estimate of damage has been made.

Firemen also extinguished a small fire in the garage of the Bond residence at 3004 Forty-second Street. The family had used the barbecue grill and stoped it in the garage believing the fire to be out, but winds fanned the coals to a blaze and scattered them about the garage, causing slight damage to one wall.

Millions Take To Highways

CHICAGO (AP) — The first of 1960's three warm weather long weekends lured millions of Americans to the highways today.

The National Safety Council estimated nearly all the nation's 73 million automobiles will be in use sometime during the period from 6 p.m. today until midnight Monday.

The expected heavy traffic volume brought the dire estimate that unless extreme care is observed as many as 375 persons could lose their lives in crashes during those 78 hours.

This the council said would compare with 310 deaths occurring in a weekend of the same days when there is no holiday.

This is the first three-day Memorial Day holiday since 1958. That year there were 731 traffic deaths, a record for a three-day Memorial Day period.

July 4 also falls on Monday this year and Labor Day perennially falls on Monday.

State's Population Likely To Exceed 9½ Million Mark

By The Associated Press

Latest census figures Friday give Texas a population of 9,456,735 and indicate the state will pass the 9½ million mark when the final figures are in.

The city of Garland, just northeast of Dallas, showed a tremendous growth of almost 400 per cent in 10 years. That city grew from 10,571 in 1950 to an estimated 38,103.

The Census Bureau announced that Grand Prairie, also near Dallas, grew from 14,594 to 29,791.

Figures for Galveston County showed a gain of more than 25,000 over the 1950 figure of 113,066. The latest count gave the county 138,196 people.

Three counties still have not had formal census bureau counts announced. They are Harris County, which includes the state's largest city, Houston; Dallas County and Fort Bend County.

Houston's drive to get every resident counted is still being conducted on an all-out basis. The city hopes to show a final figure of 950,000. Harris County is expected to show a population of 1,214,000.

Houston Congressmen Reps. Bob Casey and Albert Thomas joined in a request that Houston and Harris County be given more time to complete their count. Casey said it was his understanding that June 3, the announced deadline, is not mandatory.

The census director for Houston, Hargrove Smith, said the response to get every man, woman and child in the city counted has been excellent but perhaps thousands won't get counted.

Smith summed up the situation by saying, "I could just cry."

Smith said he has not been informed the June 3 deadline will be extended so that the city's estimated 46,000 "missing persons" can be counted.

Reliable estimates for Harris and Dallas counties indicate the state should show a gain of almost 2 million over the 1950 figure of 7,711,194.

Dallas County has been officially estimated at 944,513. Fort Bend County, swelled by workers who commute to Houston factories, had 31,056 in 1950 and is expected to show an increase.

Grimes County dropped from 15,135 in 1950 to 12,498.

Minor revisions in more than a dozen counties' figures were announced Thursday by the regional census office in Dallas.

Texas City showed a growth from 12,620 to 32,127 and LaMarque jumped from 7,359 to 13,584.

Long Lines In Quake Area Wait For Medicine, Food

By THOMAS J. STONE

PUERTO MONTT, Chile (AP)—A long line of women, children and some men inches along the sidewalk of this earthquake-shattered port in southern Chile.

They have been waiting for hours and some will wait hours longer to get typhoid shots and powdered milk.

Inside the frame building through the day and into the night the confused, stunned Chileans bare their arms for the needle, then take the milk powder from Red Cross workers.

"We've vaccinated more than 1,000 and we have thousands more to go," said pretty but weary Teresa Bazan, leaning against a door jamb for a few minutes of rest.

"The only hospital in town was destroyed. The sick and injured are in schools, churches and any place else where there is a roof over their heads or a cot on the floor."

Scattered at these aid stations throughout the city are more than 300 injured.

In the line outside stands a young mother, bareheaded, with a baby in her arms.

"I have been in line three hours now," she said tiredly. "The baby is getting heavier every minute but she has not had any fresh milk for three days. I have been feeding her a little warm soup, some mashed potatoes and anything she will take. She is eight months old but she doesn't seem to complain."

The baby looked up at her exhausted mother and gurgled. The young woman straightened the child's knit sweater and moved along in line.

Dr. Luis Edensperger stood on the sidewalk in front of his apartment house and looked across the street at the ruins of the state bank.

"It will take us 50 years to rebuild Puerto Montt," he sighed, then added reflectively, "but at least it will be modern."

The bank's funds were safe. "There's 30 million escudos (28 million dollars) in that safe over there," said the doctor.

In the city of 45,000, between 30 and 40 people were killed, 70 or more are still missing and 300 are homeless.

CRMWD's Board Re-Elects Slate

Officers of the Colorado River Municipal Water District were re-elected at a meeting of the directors in Big Spring Thursday.

They are: Charles Perry, Odessa, president; R. L. Cook, Big Spring, first vice president; Dr. John Blum, Snyder, second vice president. Joe Pickle, Big Spring, was renamed secretary and treasurer. P. C. Harbour and W. E. Bruce, Odessa; R. L. Cook and R. W. Currie, Big Spring, and Dr. John Blum and W. A. McGlaun, Snyder, qualified for terms expiring May 31, 1962.

E. V. Spence, general manager, reported on progress of studies seeking to solve a salt problem on the Colorado River below Lake J. B. Thomas. He said that investigations so far were narrowing the points of salt intrusion and that it might be necessary for the district to construct some low water detentions to intercept the normal flow of the river and to reinject the salt water or otherwise dispose of it. Some 2,800 pounds of salt are going down the river daily, but he predicted that the preponderance of it could be intercepted and disposed. This would leave flood waters free to flow down an unpolluted river channel and be impounded in a proposed lake in southern Mitchell County as highly potable water.

The board also made plans for attending a hearing in Austin on June 20 when the State Board of Water Engineers will consider the CRMWD's application to impound a 403,000-acre-foot lake a mile and a half north of the Coke County line.

The board instructed the general manager to present the contractural arrangements for furnishing consumers on the main supply lines. In general the board reaffirmed its policy of not serving additional customers and not to serve consumers who may be in effect subdividing. The matter will be considered more fully at its next meeting.

12 Hurt As Auto Slams Into Band

MADAWASKA, Maine (AP) — "Children were tossed into the air and all over the place. It was terrible, — one of the most tragic scenes I've ever witnessed."

That was what Gov. John H. Reed saw Thursday when an automobile hurtled through a high school band massing for a parade. Twelve children were injured.

Three of the youngsters were dragged beneath the car as it careened through a municipal parking lot, smashed through a guard rail, and plunged down an embankment.

Their names were placed on the danger list at a hospital in nearby Edmundston, N.B.

The driver, George Pelletier, 62, an unemployed construction worker, told police he lost control when the car's gas pedal stuck.

He was booked on a drunken driving charge and released in $5,000 bail.

Also injured was bandmaster Edward Murphy, who was knocked down by the car just as he was signaling the band to march.

Gov. Reed, here to dedicate a new U. S. Customs Service building, looked on in horror as the car, which was waiting for the band to move out of the parking lot—lurched forward and plowed through the group of 71 children.

The car had to be lifted so that two of the youngsters it dragged along could be pulled from beneath it.

Testimony Begins In Trial Here

A jury of one woman and 11 men heard testimony starting in district court Thursday afternoon and continuing at noon today in the case of A.A. Behringer, Sr., who is seeking $15,200 for injuries, mental and physical, suffered by his wife in a fall at Furr's, Inc., local store in Snyder in June of 1958.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Behringer testified that Mrs. Behringer slipped on pea hulls at the vegetable counter in Furr's and that these pea hulls had been on the floor for over an hour when she fell, and that the management by neglect in not clearing the hulls away were liable for all expenses incurred, for the pain in Mrs. Behringer's left hip and leg, and for the mental suffering she had had and would in the future endure.

Attorneys for Mrs. Behringer, Forrest Bowers and John Maner of Huff, Splawn and Bowers of Lubbock, had for other witnesses Mrs. Leslie Hudman, Mrs. Otis Craig, and Jim Woods who testified to the health and well-being of Mrs. Behringer before the fall. They also questioned Charles White, local Furr's manager as to the duties of a store manager.

On the other hand, Furr's, represented by Max Addison and Cecil Kuhne of the Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam law firm of Lubbock, has claimed that the fall was caused by the personal neglect of Mrs. Behringer or another customer and not the fault of the store.

Jury hearing the case includes Ted Jones, Fred Bullard, John Lynch, W. E. Lepour, R. J. Rossin, LeRoy Brown, Grady Williams, M. A. Davis, C. M. Lyons, M. O. Patrick, Mrs. Herman Stokes and J. G. Galyean.

District Judge Sterling Williams is presiding.

Roller Coaster Car Jumps Track: 5 Hurt

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A roller coaster car running without an attendant on duty jumped the track Thursday at Lesourdsville Lake Park near here and injured five West Alexandria High School students.

Judy McCarty, 18, was hospitalized with a possible brain concussion and multiple bruises.

The other youths, treated and released, were Carol Smith, 13, Dennis Cole, 47, Roger Dolph, 14, and Sharon Sutton, 13.

Mrs. John Bitner, cashier at the ride, said the youngsters had bought tickets and entered the car. It suddenly started moving, made a circuit of the ride and then jumped the track after failing to stop.

Park officials said the incident occurred while David Bradenstein, the ride attendant, was away for a few minutes. Bradenstein said he had shut off the ride mechanism before he left.

Parts Of Texas Get Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains drenched portions of Texas Thursday night and hail up to four inches deep damaged cotton and wheat crops in some areas.

Thunderstorms hit from Junction in West Texas north to San Angelo, Brady, Brownwood and Comanche and along the Rio Grande south to Laredo and east to Alice.

Stamford, north of Abilene, got 1.50 inches of rain and about four inches of hail fell at the city's airport. Two inches of rain and light hail fell in the Junction area. Hail and rain hit New Hope and Avoca north of Abilene damaging cotton crops. Wheat in the Stamford area was damaged.

Early Friday skies were partly cloudy over the Texas coast with some fog reported. The rest of the state had clear skies except in the San Antonio and Austin area where skies were partly cloudy. Temperatures ranged from 59 at Dalhart to 75 at Brownsville and Laredo.

In the 24 hours ending at 6 p.m. Thursday, Longview got .70 inch of rain, Fort Worth .66, Tyler .48, Dallas .47, Lufkin .39, Waco .60 and Austin .06. Brownwood got 1.5 inches of rain as the storm moved through that West Central Texas city. The rain forced Brownwood High School officials to move the commencement exercise from the football field to the school auditorium.

High temperatures Thursday were mostly in the 80s and 90s with Presidio recording a 103 degree reading.

The five-day forecast issued Friday calls for temperatures 2 to 5 degrees above normal throughout Texas. In eastern and central Texas as precipitation is expected to be generally light in widely scattered mostly afternoon and evening thundershowers. In western Texas no precipitation is expected west of the Pecos Valley and locally moderate precipitation is forecast in widely scattered mostly nighttime thunderstorms elsewhere through the weekend.

CIA Agent's Assailant Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Central Intelligence Agency official was stabbed and beaten early today by a man he said he met Thursday night at a cocktail lounge, Police Capt. Nunzio Bonaccorsy of the robbery detail said a 22-year-old Negro is being sought for questioning.

The victim, James D. Pembroke, 42, was reported in critical condition at a hospital with stab wounds in the back and head injuries. Police said he is an administrative assistant in the intelligence and espionage organization.

Police Lt. Robert S. Shuttleworth said he found Pembroke unconscious at about 1:25 a.m. on a northeast Washington street. A trail of blood indicated he had staggered and crawled a block from the scene of the attack.

Police said Pembroke recovered consciousness at the hospital and gave an account of his movements.

As quoted by police, Pembroke said he met the Negro as he left a cocktail lounge about 10:30 p.m. They visited another bar, then drove in Pembroke's car to see a friend of the second man. Pembroke said the chance-acquaintance attacked him when he refused to enter the apartment house where the friend was said to live.

Pembroke's wallet was found near the attack spot.

Four Scientists To Open Coffee House

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—Four Los Alamos scientists have joined in what they hope is a successful venture—a coffee house.

They open the doors next Thursday.

John Holladay, Stanislaw Ulam, James Tuck and another, who wishes to remain anonymous, say their aim is merely to meet expenses.

The four also are cooperating in seeking peaceful uses for atomic energy.

Young Moderns Want To Be Popular? Here's How

By VIVIAN Brown
AP Newsfeatures Writer

HOW CAN one break the popularity barrier?

Every young girl wants to be popular, and failure to achieve the goal can make her miserable, affect her school work, her disposition and her attitude toward life.

Other girls have had this problem and have conquered it. If the timid girl could just talk it out she'd find the answers. But somehow she can't.

Here are ways other girls reacted to the situation:

Shy Type

Carol, 16, for instance, was the shy type.

"I wanted to be friends with everyone, but didn't know how. I sat around waiting to be asked to join organizations or to be invited to parties. One day my father told me that I should try to make friends, as one of his club members told him that young people thought I was nice, but very distant. I decided to stick around school more, and get involved in the activities. In no time at all, I had lots of friends."

Mary, 17 says her trouble was the braces she had to wear on her teeth.

"I used to think everyone was staring at me all the time. One day I overheard a boy say that I was pretty but never seemed to be happy. After that I decided maybe no one noticed the braces, and I practiced smiling so that my braces did not show. I decided it didn't make any difference whether I wore them as long as I had friends. I broke the ice by inviting people to a party at my house, and after that, I had a good time with everyone."

Clothes Problem

Judy, 17, suffered chagrin because of her clothes. She was embarrassed because her mother made her clothes. Then one day she says:

"A boy commented that my dress looked so original, and he always admired my clothes. It gave me a tremendous lift, and I decided that I have been very silly, envying the girls who had clothes from the stores."

Sandy, 17 had a height problem:

"All the boys I liked were short, and gave me an uncomfortable feeling when I was with them. I decided to beg off all dates with these boys, and wait for taller boys to come along. I soon realized I would be an old maid unless I took my chances with the nice boys I knew. This happened when I was 16. The boys are all taller now, and if I hadn't continued those friendships, I would have lost out completely."

Rich Girl Blues

Joanne's suspicions that everyone wanted to know her because she had material assets made her doubt that she had anything else to offer her friends.

"Every time I dated a boy and he suggested I bring my car, I would beg off, thinking that he just dated me for my car. Then every once in a while when I was with the girls I would get stuck for a major share of the bill, and I thought that perhaps it was the only reason they had invited me. I soon found that this wasn't so, that these incidents happened to others who were not as well off, and that some of it was merely the long arm of coincidence. When I started to enjoy my friends, I became more popular, and attracted many young people to my group who were richer than I."

Ethel, 17 says that she was a snob, and didn't realize it. "I just went along with the idea that I was better than the other young people in my community, and pretty soon I had no friends. When I made up my mind to know them better, I found they were very lovely young people, well bred and intelligent."

Every Girl Needs Room Of Her Own

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

EVERY TEEN - AGER should have her own room. It is not always possible, of course, particularly if the family is large and rooms in the home are at a premium. But it is something to think about, because it will pay off in many ways.

How can you have your own room, even if you must share it with one or more sisters?

One way is by partitions, so that each has an area she can call her own, even if the space is tiny. This can be achieved in a number of ways, but the folding screen that runs on a ceiling track is the most convenient method of acquiring privacy. This can be pushed aside when you feel in the mood for company.

Other possibilities are shoji screens or other folding screens. The disadvantages of these could far outweigh the advantage, however, as they are likely to clutter up a small room. Bamboo shades are inexpensive, can be hooked to the ceiling and raised and lowered at will. Many young girls like that idea.

A girl who has her own room is likely to spend more time in it studying, reading or concentrating on hobbies. The proper screen arrangement will permit the playing of records without annoying others in the room, if the room is being shared.

A girl's room should be attractively and cozily decorated, whether for one or more persons. Some girls like the truly feminine bedroom, with dainty colors — blue, pink, yellow and hyacinth. Other girls prefer the bed - sitting room with contemporary furniture and a tailored look with bright, off-beat colors.

Either type can decorate her room inexpensively these days. An enchanting girl's room can be decorated with matching fabric and wallpaper, with the additional fillip of wallpapering the window shade. And what is there about a dust ruffle to match the print of the wallpaper that always makes a young girl feel like a princess? It is a must for any young girl's room.

Mrs. Pollard Hostess To Church Circle

The Training Circle of the Wo- First Baptist Church met with Mrs first Baptist Church met with Mrs Bob Pollard Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Deral Lambert conducted the business meeting. She read a letter from South Texas Baptist Children's Home at Beeville thanking the circle for the clothes they had sent. The letter also stated items that the home was always in need of such as shoe polish bandaids, sheets, fowles, bath soap, and notebook paper.

Margaret Glass read the minutes and called roll. Each member answered with a Bible verse they had memorized.

Mrs. Lambert gave an interesting devotional on the Bible. She said, "One of God's good gifts to us is the Bible. The Bible can be our gift to others and our children. Each time we open the Bible we receive something such as spiritual guidance and comfort. The word of God is a gift that will live forever."

The group made plate favors for the hospital jail and nursing home. The favors had religious pictures on them with Bible verses written inside.

Mrs. Pollard served refreshments of orange cake frosted strawberries and an orange slice with cokes or coffee to nine members and four visitors. Visitors were Carolyn Dennis, Retha Holman, Barney Jo Turner, and Barbara Luedecke. Members present were: Eloise Lambert, Wanda Adams, Anneace Wood, Janie Caskey, Jeanne Waggonor, Betty Bearden, Janell Pollard, Betty Courtney and Margaret Glass.

Chicago Miss Leaves For Madrid To Play Salome

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Story-book plots still come true here in America.

The heroine of our latest true-life story tale is 15-year-old Brigid Baker of Chicago, who two weeks ago was a typical high school sophomore, boning up for final exams.

Today Brigid is enroute to Madrid, to play the exotic role of Salome, complete with the dance of the seven veils, in the new movie production of "King of Kings," now being filmed in Spain.

Dressed in proper schoolgirl blue serge, accompanied by her longtime chaperone, Miss Margot Richter, a friend of her mother, Brigid paused briefly in New York between planes, faced photographers, press agents and reporters, blinked her wide blue Irish eyes and said:

"I really don't know how it all happened, but I'm going to do my best."

Brigid is the daughter of Maggie Daly, Chicago TV commentator and lecturer. The family moved to Chicago from Fond Du Lac, Wis., with her late father when Brigid was kindergarten age. She attended parochial schools and was a sophomore at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel in Chicago when her fairy godmother appeared with her "magic" wand, Samuel Bronston, producer of the new version of "King of Kings," decided he wanted an American teen-ager to play the role of "Salome," previously portrayed by Rita Hayworth.

"Two weeks ago we got a wire saying I was to take the first plane for New York," says Brigid. "I was sitting in this office for about an hour, and I was telling about how I had done some children's parts in television shows and then a man came out and said, 'Have you got a passport?' Then go get one right away, with a visa for Spain."

Slightly dazed by it all, Brigid says she thinks her own private Irish leprechaun has always seen that she was in the right places at the right time. When she was about 12, she was spotted playing hopscotch on the sidewalk by Frank Pacelli, a TV producer who lived in the same apartment house. He told her mother, "That little girl of yours looks just right for a part in my new television serial." Brigid got the job, and later played in another similar television series, "The Blue Fairy," for which she received the George Foster Peabody Award. But TV acting was just sort of like helping mom to Brigid, who never took acting or dancing lessons, and never played in a movie or stage production.

Western Allies Also Share Misery On Domestic Scene

By INEZ ROBB

One of the world's truest and most-selfish aphorisms is the doleful dictum that misery loves company.

For whatever consolations it may be to us U.S. taxpayers, our neighbors seem to be suffering from the same 20th Century migraine as we. Or, at least France and England, the two countries from which I have just returned are wrestling with problems that we are apt to think of as distinctly local.

It was impossible to pick up the English or the French paper even during the hullabaloo over the wedding and the anguished obsequies for the summit without encountering stern articles on the obvious fact that traffic congestion threatens to choke the life out of London and Paris.

(Author's note: I never dreamed that traffic conditions anywhere could be as impossible as in New York, but London and Paris have New York lashed to the mast.) Motor carnage on the highways, particularly during holiday periods is a national problem and scandal in both nations as at home. English authorities have just established a flat speed limit of 50 miles per hour during the next holiday week end, in an effort to check fatalities.

Both nations are undergoing the same grave doubts about the efficacy of their free school system as any American PTA-er. Lofty letters to the London Times question teaching methods curriculum, teachers' salaries, the building program (slowness of) and (1) too much emphasis on and (2) too little emphasis on training the gifted child.

In France, there is the same hue and cry as here over strengthening the school curriculum in science and mathematics.

For what comfort it gives, we do not have a monopoly on juvenile delinquency. The french and English papers are full of youthful crimes and misdemeanors.

Learned commissions abroad struggle with the problem of juvenile anarchy and seem to come up with no more workable solutions than similar commissions at home.

Gangsterism, always prefaced with the adjective "american," is abroad in England and France, too. While I was in London, the paper were filled with a murder trial right out of the Capone days in Chicago, shady night club, shady girls, intimidated witness, et al.

There was a kidnapping in both England and France (thank God, both children were returned safely to their parents) with the usual flurry of crackpot telephone calls and notes to the distracted parents as accompany such horrifying affairs in the U.S.A.

On the subject of taxes, it is difficult to decide whether the English or the French are more voluble. But their press is deeply concerned either with the fact that people are paying too much in taxation to permit adequate economic expansion, or too little to support improved schools, welfare programs and necessary defense (I felt I had never left home!)

As an ultimate proof of the misery that binds us all, there are pigeons. They have all but taken over London and there are great public outcries for their control. Trafalgar Square is now the biggest pigeon lot in the world, even more densely populated than St. Mark's Square.

In Paris, before the summit meeting, President DeGaulle had his official residence, the Elysee Palace washed whiter than snow for the conference. But cynical Parisians said this was a challenge that Paris p i g e o n s would adequately meet within another 12 months.

Secretaries Tired Of Hearing This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that business secretaries get tired of hearing:

"Oh, I don't have to worry about my secretary ever leaving me. She's wedded to her work."

"Take a letter, please, Miss Tiggly."

"Is it true the boss has bony knees, Eloise?"

"If you don't hurry back from your coffee break, you'll be late going to lunch."

"You know, for a girl your age, Miss Tiggly, your figure isn't half bad."

"I guess she really does deserve a raise, but now that she's joined the office pension plan do you think it's really necessary? She isn't likely to leave now."

"If my wife calls tell her I'm in an important conference and can't be disturbed."

"What is a pretty girl like you doing working in a great dismal swamp like this?"

"If you can get me in to see your boss in the next 15 minutes, there'll be a couple of tickets waiting for you tomorrow night at the box office of the best show in town."

"Are you going to spend all your life being a typewriter jockey? Why don't you wake up and live?"

"Hey, Eloise, the next time the boss is out of town how about letting me have a peek at my personnel file? I'd like to see what the old goat has on the record about me."

"I don't know how they taught you to spell 'accommodate' where you went to school, Miss Tiggly, but at Cornell I am sure we spelled it with only a single 'k'."

"Isn't it funny, Miss Tiggly, how everything seems to pile up on Friday night? I hope you didn't have anything special planned."

U. S. Bewildered By Krush Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bewilderment, past and present. The American government didn't know what the Soviets were up to and doesn't know what they're up to now.

Pull the pieces together — before and after the summit disaster — and this is what it comes to:

The Eisenhower administration could only guess why Premier Nikita Khrushchev raised such a rumpus over the U2 American spy plane and it was shocked when he used that as a springboard to wreck the summit meeting.

One of the guesses was that Khrushchev was under pressure inside the Soviet Union. But there is, so far as this writer knows, not a shred of evidence to support such a theory.

Now Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is described as expecting "further spectacular action" by the Soviets but uncertain as to what direction it may take.

Behind closed doors Herter talked Thursday with the House Foreign Affairs Committee which was hardly being more than curious. Its chairman, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa), says it plans no formal investigation.

The formal investigation — into the plane incident and the summit crak-up — is being undertaken today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which, also behind closed doors, will question administration officials whose agencies had anything to do with the plane or the summit.

Morgan, after his house group had talked $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours with Herter, issued a statement which he said Herter read and approved.

It said: "The secretary indicated that the behavior of the Soviet leaders since Paris may be interpreted either as a desire to avoid bringing on a war crisis or as psychological in order to pull the wool over our eyes prior to some threatening act. He anticipates further spectacular action by the Russians in the months to come."

But Morgan said Herter didn't think the Soviets would make a warlike or definitely hostile move. So it adds up to this: The Soviets have the Eisenhower administration guessing.

White Sox Whop Yanks In FL Fray

Bally Ache would have had to take a back seat to the Farm League White Sox last night. At least he couldn't have held out as long as they did.

Final score: White Sox 35, Yankees 8.

The opener for the night was more of a "pichers' duel," it being a 15-3 victory by the Indians over the Athletics.

The White Sox battered Wade McCarty and Mike Todd for a total of 32 base hits in their top heavy victory, while Sammy Dorman and Larry Tatum teamed up to take the win.

Frank Parsons slammed out the only home run of the tilt for the winning nine, it being a first inning blow.

Highlighting the game was the first inning action which saw no less than 20 Sox batting, picking up 15 runs in the process.

The game was called after three innings due to the 10-run ruling.

Benny Garrett took the win in the Indians' 15-3 conquest over the Athletics, with a late inning assist by Russell Loven. Ralph Cockrel was charged with the loss.

Seven of the 15 hits as registered by the Indians went for extra bases, with Larry Bailiff and Kenneth Neeper each poling a pair of doubles. Terrell Austin of the A's also collected a pair of two-baggers.

The line scores:

Athletics	200 01—3
Indians	045 24—15
Yankees	413——8
White Sox	15 16 4—35

Yankees And Giants Take LL Contests

The Little League Yankees rode the good arm and bat of Ronnie Bates to victory last night over the Athletics, marking up a 7-4 victory.

Bates went the route in registering the win, giving up only three hits, and in addition banged out a double and triple in his two plate appearances for a total of three runs batted in. First baseman Danny Stokes also accounted for three RBI's for the winners, while Kirby Corbell brought in a pair for the losers with back to back singles in the first two innings.

Donnie Newman clouted a two-bagger in the first frame for the Yanks, also.

Spicing the action was a fourth inning triple play as garnered by the winners' Ted Winters to Newman to Stokes, which quelled a two-run outburst on the part of the Athletics at that stage of the contest.

Switching to the National League action, the Giants edged out the Braves by 4-2 behind the combined three hit chunking of Mike Presiar and Bill Greif.

A two-run single in the bottom of the fifth by Tom Duke brought in Murray Bowden and Eddie Greenfield with the winning markers for the Giants.

The hit was one of only two as picked up by the winners, the other being a fifth inning single by Steve Moffett.

Shining mound duties for the Braves were Roy Taylor and David Holt, Taylor being charged with the loss.

The line scores:

Athletics	020 200—4
Yankees	013 03x—7
Braves	000 200—2
Giants	000 22X—4

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Wednesday's regional opener in Odessa produced another story-book finish for Snyder's opportunistic Tigers which was reminiscent of their second bi-district tilt against Mineral Wells. The pattern of procedure was identical in both contests, including the final score of 8-5 in each.

Both games saw the Snyderites stumbling in the early stages (they trailed by 4-0 going into the sixth inning at Mineralville and by 5-0 going into the fifth at Odessa) only to come back like a house afire to snatch victory from what looked to be sure defeat. An exciting team to watch and one which refuses to be counted out prematurely.

Although Snyder was still a run short of the Eagles following that big four run fifth frame, the psychological pendulum had definitely swung over to their first base dugout at that point, the fuse to the powder keg having been lit and the automatic timer seemingly set for the big seventh.

A sketch of the playing field would probably help in the reconstruction of the wacky turn of events which enabled the Tigers to bounce back so impressively. Ector Field, which adjoins the school proper, is lop-sided.

First of all—left field. The wire fence enclosing the playing area can hardly be seen with the unclothed eye due to its distance from home plate. Possibly that is where the term "way out in left field" originated, for this fence stretched out in front of a group of tennis courts which looked to be a good 600 feet from the platter.

Center. It tapered in to what looked to be approximately 400 feet, having as a backdrop the well-tanned Austin-stoned Ector edifice.

Right? Still closer, the mind's eye measurement down the foul line being in the neighborhood of 320 feet. It was lined with poplar trees and a trailer court.

It's Quiet Now, But Watch This Space

THINGS WERE CALM and collected as Spencer Dyer came to bat in the fifth. Man on first, one down, and no sweat. Prior to that time the Eagle starter, Mike Kropp, had had the Bengals in a futile, frustrating fix. He had allowed the Snyder batsmen only a sole hit through the first four innings, baffling them with a good assortment of drops, out-curves, risers, and change of pace pitches, all of which were served up with a peculiar and unorthodox carousel-kick. Jerky, but effective.

Dyer latched on to a blooper-type single over short, the concensus as it dropped being that Ronnie Wylie, who was the runner perched on first, would have to hold up at second. A quirk of fate undermined said theory, though, as left fielder Doc Rowell over-charged the pellet, which took a high, wide, and handsome bounce over his head, rolling all the way to the fence. Which is a pretty fair roll, if you'll recall the dimensions. Dyer traversed the horn, never slowing down, and gained credit for a home run to add to his already illustrious stable of base knocks for the year.

Mike Moffett followed up with his climactic clout later in the inning, as he pounded a two-run round tripper into the poplars, swinging left against the right handed offerings of Kropp. It was one of those high floaters, well-tagged, which left little doubt as to its ultimate destination.

Prior to the game's start I was passing the time of day with one of the ealderly Ector fans, and commented that the right field fence could prove to be vulnerable to a couple of our boys, referring specifically to the left-handed likes of Moffett and Ronnie Jones.

"Nobody'll knock one over THAT fence," he pooh-poohed. "Why, I'd give five dollars to any kid who did that!"

Didn't mention it to Mike, of course. For it reeked of professionalism. It nevertheless proved to be a rock-ribbed testimonial to his prowess, however.

Altercation Flares In Final Frame

A near rhubarb simmered but failed to erupt in the last inning after the smoke of the Tigers' winning four-run outburst had cleared. Wylie, who had made first thanks to a high-and-insider which had caught him in the upper vertebrates, attempted to pilfer second.

The throw was to shortstop Charlie Thompson who was covering, and was in time. He missed the tag, though, and—on being called out—Wylie brought same to the attention of the base ump.

Thompson next made a comment which implied that Wylie's sanity was below par, to wit: "Aw, yer crazy!"

Naturally, Wylie begged to differ, at which time both came within a gnat's eyelash of taking a jaunt to Fisticuff Corners. They were separated, however, but almost hooked up again at the game's end when there was another brief but sharp exchange.

Before leaving Wylie, a pat on the back and vote of confidence to possibly the most unsung but deserving backstop in the area.

A go-getter from the outset and a dependable performer in every way, he once again demonstrated his degree of "hustle-ability" in his play of Wednesday, as, for instance, he sprinted down the base line following grounders hit to the infield for the purpose of backing up the throw to first. Such a performance often makes the difference in a tight contest.

Guys like him are good to have around. Here's hoping that he and another "solid eight" Tiger performers wind up the series today. It could—and should—happen.

Going For No. 9

IN REGIONAL CLASH

Ector Is Tiger Foe Here Today

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Snyder Tigers will play host to the Ector (Odessa) Eagles on the Towle Park diamond, as they shoot for the Region 1-AAA title clinch.

Snyder scored a come-from-behind 8-5 victory over the Eagles in Odessa Wednesday in the initial game of the series. Should the Tigers drop today's game, the third and deciding encounter will be played at Towle Field Saturday beginning at 3 o'clock.

The series victor will gain a berth in the state tournament, which is slated for Austin June 2 and 3. Four teams will be competing for the championship at that time, with each nine playing a two-game slate. The first day winners will play the following day for the championship, while the losers will lock horns for a shot at third place.

Gladson To Chunk

Norman Gladson (8-4) will be Coach Speedy Moffett's pitching choice for today, with Ector expected to counter with Charlie Thompson (6-2). Both throw right.

Going in to today's tilt, Snyder possesses a 19-12-1 record for the season, while the Eagles are 16-7.

Starting for the Tigers will be Spencer Dyer, left field; Steve Free, shortstop; Mike Moffett, center field; Ronnie Jones, right field, Bubba Fleming, second base; Jerry Guthrie, third base; Bennie Greenfield, first base; Ronnie Wylie, catcher; and Gladson, pitcher.

Kropp was an all-state selection last year in the state tourney, as the Eagles lost to South San Antonio in the finals, 7-1. He is currently leading the team in the home run department with four, and is tied with Thompson for the triples leadership with three.

For the Tigers, Moffett, Jones, and Fleming are deadlocked for the roundtrip laurels, each having clouted a pair.

Jones represents the leading Tiger batter at .483, having collected 28 hits in 58 at bats.

Jordan Lays Title On Line

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Welterweight champion Don Jordan risks his title tonight and the smart betting moneymen say he will lose it to 20-year-old Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba.

The nationally televised match is scheduled for 15 rounds in Las Vegas' showy Convention Center. It goes on at 7 p.m. (PDT) with NBC doing the telecast and radio.

Jordan, a highly unpredictable young man of 25 from Los Angeles, figures to be about a 5-7 underdog in this, the third defense of the championship he won from Virgil Akins in Los Angeles Dec. 5, 1958.

NOT A PREDICTION

Bridesmaid Jim Overdue In '500'

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Rathmann is overdue to win the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race Monday.

That's an observation — not a prediction.

The soft-spoken 31-year-old veteran from Miami has finished second three times, the last by 23 seconds to Rodger Ward last year.

He has a fine new Watson car, owned by Ken Rich and Paul Lacy of Dallas, with Chick Hirashima as chief mechanic and Smokey Yunich as pit crew chief.

Hirashima rode with Rex Mays in the days of two-man cars and turned the wrenches on George Robson's 1946 Indianapolis winner.

Yunich also is a race car builder.

Rathmann isn't the first man to drive brilliantly on the Speedway and repeatedly miss the big pot in close finishes.

Harry Hartz took three seconds and two fourths in one five-year span, 1922-26. Then he built a car for Billy Arnold, who led all but the first two laps of the 1930 race.

Rathmann, a native of Los Angeles, got his start in roadster races at Carrell Speedway in 1946. He went on to Chicago with the Hurricane Hotrods, then moved into big league racing with his brother Dick, Pat Flaherty ('56 Indianapolis), the late Bob Swiekert and other postwar standouts.

Experts picking Jim to win Monday include Bill France, president of the Daytona International Speedway, where the younger Rathmann set a world closed course racing record of 170.261 miles an hour last year in the only Indianapolis-type race ever held there.

Jim a year earlier set the world record at 166.72 on the Monza Autodrome in Italy.

"Jim Rathmann definitely will be the driver to beat Monday," France insisted.

Braves And Buffs Take Teen Tilts

Teenage League activity at Towle Park last night found the Buffs clipping the Rebels, 10-3, and the Braves nipping the Sports, 7-5.

Tommy Winters and Adam Romero shared mound duties for the Buffs, with Romero taking credit for the victory. Jimmie Featherston absorbed the loss for the Rebs.

Slamming out the big blow of the game was Carl Foree, a bases-loaded triple in the third frame. Romero and Tommy Christian of the Rebs pounded out doubles for the other extra base knocks of the game.

Teaming up to hurl the Braves to their won over the Sports were Jimmy Wilson and Albert Rainwater, with Leslie Brown going the distance for the losers.

Harley Bynum was the big noise in the Braves' batting attack, as he clouted a triple and single in three appearances. Brown and Ronnie Chauncey also slammed three baggers for the Sports.

Doubling for the winners were Rainwater, William Robinson, and Lupe Lopez.

The line scores:

Rebels	010 020—3
Buffs	127 00X—10
Braves	003 120 1—7
Sports	010 031 0—5

Bowers Leads Rio Grande

By The Associated Press

Tommy Bowers is one of the big reasons Rio Grande Valley is leading in the Texas League race.

Bowers not only is doing well on the mound but he's a good one at the plate. Thursday night Bowers pitched his sixth triumph of the season and his perfect bunt brought in the insurance run as the Giants beat Victoria 4-1 and took a 5-game lead.

San Antonio was beaten 4-0 by Austin to give Rio Grande Valley the widened lead. The Missions couldn't handle Cecil Butler, who threw a 4-hitter at them. He retired 15 batters in one stretch.

Lefty Whitey Ford Baltimore Bugaboo

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

They can be the league-leading Baltimore Orioles or a bunch of second division birds, either way they're dead ducks against Whitey Ford.

The stubby southpaw, bothered by elbow trouble and home run balls, looked as good as ever Thursday night, pitching a three-hitter as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 2-0 and eased the Orioles out of the American League lead.

The loss ended the Birds' winning streak at four and dropped them to second place, .012 percentage points behind idle Cleveland. It's the first time the Indians, with an 18-12 record to Baltimore's 20-14, have been alone in first place this season.

Chicago's third place White Sox moved within a half-game of the lead, ending their slump at four games with a 3-1 victory at Kansas City. Washington defeated Boston 5-2 in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco padded its lead to 1½ games with a 9-0 victory at Philadelphia on Jack Sanford's four-hit pitching. Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 4-1. No other games were scheduled.

Ford gave up a second-inning double by Brooks Robinson and a third-inning single by losing pitcher Skinny Brown, then didn't allow another hit until rookie Ron Hansen tripled with two out in the ninth.

The Yankees beat Brown in the first inning on Tony Kubek's leadoff single, a walk and Bob Cerv's two-out single. Singles by Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson got the other run home in the seventh.

Dick Brown's two-run homer and an RBI triple by Minnie Minoso gave the White Sox their runs in the first three innings against Dick Hall (4-1). Gerry Staley who came in with the bases loaded and one out in the seventh and got pinch-hitter Hank Bauer on a doubleplay ball, saved the victory for Bob Shaw (4-3), who gave up four of the A's five hits.

Space Behavior Causes Concern

By JOE BENHAM

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Scientists are confident they can send a man into space and get him back safely. But they aren't sure how he'll do while he's up there.

They are particularly concerned about the effects of weightlessness and isolation.

"The void that remains, the human element, cannot be determined until a significant number of astronauts have returned from flight through space," Lt. Col. Bernard E. Flaherty of the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine said.

He spoke Thursday to 350 scientists attending a symposium of effects of space travel on the mind and body at Brooks Air Force Base.

Flaherty quoted the observation of Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, that "man" is a sea-level, low-speed, one-G, 12-hour animal," and described man as "the weakest link our aerospace development to date."

Other speakers expressed concern about the astronaut's ability to adjust his schedule of working days and sleeping nights to the demands of space travel, and his capabilities for standing up under long periods of stress.

Dr. Mortimer H. Applezweig of the University of Montreal, Canada, cited experiments with animals in which "damage to the heart, the kidney, the liver, the blood vessels, the bones and the skin have all been produced" as a result of stress exposure.

"It is possible that critical situations in space flight may overload a man in space," Dr. James G. Miller of the University of Michigan Mental Health Research Institute said.

"As a result of this overload, he might be unable to process information adequately, and a serious breakdown in performance might result."

Four speakers described experiments in which men in simulated space cabins and capsules had hallucinations—Seeing such things as pigs and Indians peering from the instruments and a hole opening in the floor, hearing voices when they were alone deciding they had been poisoned and fearing the cabin was aflame.

Fraternities Given Edict

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three University of Pennsylvania campus fraternities have been ordered by university trustees to end racial and religious discrimination in selecting members.

The three are affiliates of Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega, all national fraternities. Membership in Sigma Chi is limited to "bona fide white male" college and university students. Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Nu limit their memberships to white Christian males.

It was disclosed Thursday the national fraternities were told to either strike the discriminatory clauses from their constitutions or grant the Penn chapters exceptions from these clauses.

The three fraternities will consider resolutions against the clauses at their national conventions this year.

Penn officials say only three of the school's 39 fraternities have discriminatory clauses.

Contract Extended

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The contract between Hollywood actors and major producers of television films has been extended 30 days.

The Screen Actors Guild contract with the Motion Picture Producers and the Alliance of Television Film Producers now will expire on June 30.

It originally ran out April 30, but was extended once earlier. Producers have been busy negotiating with the Writers Guild of America, on strike for 19 weeks.

The Writers Guild Tuesday night turned down a new contract offer, and the producers' associations Thursday night withdrew the offer — a movie guild spokesmen termed a "propaganda move."

No negotiations are now set between the writers and the producers.

Texas Solons Oppose Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas congressmen voted Thursday against a federal-aid school construction bill which the House passed and sent to the Senate.

Rep. John Dowdy of Athens said Texans would pay $4 in taxes for each $1 received under the proposed program.

Also voting against the bill were Texas Reps. Alger (R), Beckworth, Brooks, Burleson, Casey, Fisher, Ikard, Kilday, Kilgore, Mahon, Patman, Rogers, Rutherford, Teague, Thomas, Thompson, Thornberry, Wright and Young.

Paired against the bill was Rep. Poage.

"A case for nationwide appropriation by Congress for education for any purpose cannot be made," Dowdy said. "If there be a few areas so far below the general average as to warrant selective assistance, that might be a different case."

Midas Has Gone Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — Something has gone wrong with the new Midas satellite, which is supposed to spot instantly the launching of any rocket or missile beneath it.

The Air Force said Thursday night the telemetry equipment was not working properly, and unless it can be set right by commands radioed from the earth, "the detection system cannot be tested in connection with scheduled missile launches and ground flares."

The Midas was to be tested in a few days during swings over Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. Both missiles and giant sodium flares were to be tried.

The satellite, launched Tuesday, is equipped with an infra-red sensing device that can detect the heat from such a firing and radio the information back to earth.

In Memoriam

They have not died in vain... those who paid with their lives the last full measure. Today, Memorial Day, is the day to remember Lexington, Gettysburg, Santiago Bay, Chateau Thierry, Coral Sea, Okinawa, Palermo, Normandy and Korea. We need only to look at the cemeteries of the world to realize the supreme sacrifice that was called for, that we might be secure. It called for the giving of life itself for many a man; for untold sorrow and heartache for friends and loved ones. As they bravely died, so we must bravely live. God has a destiny for us, for America, and only eyes of faith can read that destiny. Each drop of blood spilled from Bunker Hill to Iwo Jima, is a deposit in the bank of our country. One hundred sixty-five million Americans can do no less than dedicate ourselves anew. With our Alabaster Ointment of thankfulness, let us nobly remember those who laid themselves between our country and her foes. This is Memorial Day.
