About HCJC Bond Issue

Local College Is Necessity, Not Luxury

(This is one of a series of three articles concerning various angles of the appeal to Howard county voters to provide a permanent home for Howard County Junior College—Ed.)

Contrary to popular conception, a college is more than ivy draped towers as a setting for close harmony on the "Alma Mater" song.

Broadly speaking, the college is an institution for advanced and special training. Even broader is the field for the junior college, such as the Howard County Junior College. It is in a large sense, a people's school.

For those aiming at higher formal education, HCJC provides two years of credit, transferrable to other colleges and universities in the state. Thus, those pointing for a career in teaching, business, etc., and in the professions such as engineering, law, and medicine, may take their first two years of work here at home.

Another major field directed toward meeting the immediate need of the people whom it serves, is that of terminal courses. These are vocational in nature. Interest is in becoming more proficient on a job, widening opportunities, quickening progress or even in gaining skills which will better chances at getting and holding a job. College credit is not of prime concern. Similarly, high school education is not a requisite for many of these courses.

A third field of service provided by Howard County Junior College is in basic preparatory work. Men (and women) who have had little or no classroom education are grouped with other adults with similar ambition to supply their need of education. These can make a grade every three months. Eventually they could work up to a high school graduate level. Many Latin-American students who did not attend or who left school too early are taking advantage of this type of program.

So flexible is the program for HCJC that when as many as 10 people ask for a legitimate course, and a qualified instructor can be secured, that course is offered.

Enrollment at the college numbers 443. It is about evenly divided as between veterans and non-veterans. It also is evenly divided between regular (day) and evening classes. The latter are popular because young working people can spend a day on the job and evenings in plus effort to improve.

One of the strengths in an instructional program is in the faculty. HCJC has 25 on its faculty currently, 16 of whom are full-time instructors. Of these, 13 possess master degrees and the remaining three bachelor degrees with considerable work toward the masters. The part-time instructors include two with master of arts degrees, two lacking only thesis toward that degree, and four with bachelor degrees.

With an extensive and flexible program, plus a well-trained faculty, Howard County Junior College feels it has won its spurs in its temporary quarters. What it is now asking is that the people provide it with a modern, permanent workshop for still better and enduring service to the people of this area.

STRICKEN WITH REMORSE

Stroble Admits Sex Slaying Of Child

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18, (AP)—Muttering "I don't deserve to live," pasty faced Fred Stroble, 66-year-old baker, braced himself in a county jail cell today for swift grand jury action in the sex slaying of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft.

Stroble, the grandfather of one of Linda's favorite playmates, poured out his sordid story to District Attorney William Simpson as a 48-hour fugitive search throughout the West and into Mexico wound up yesterday on a stool in a downtown Los Angeles bar—about five blocks from Central Police Station.

Simpson said Stroble, formally charged with murder, admitted that he strangled and bludgeoned the pudgy little girl to death when she resisted his improper advances. Arraignment is scheduled today in municipal court.

"I had been drinking all day—wine. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk," Stroble was quoted. Simpson said the ashen, gray-haired grandpa—who liked to buy kids ice cream and candy—then told of enticing Linda into a bedroom of the home where he lived with his daughter, her husband and their two children. The story:

"I was playing with her. . .(Simpson said this involved an act of molestation, but not rape). . .when she started to scream. She was resisting me.

"I strangled her first with my hands, then with a tie. She was quiet. I wrapped her up in the blanket and carried her out to the incinerator. . .I stabbed her with the ice pick, and then I slammed her with the flat side of the axe six times on the head. . .

"Then I went back into the kitchen and got a (butcher) knife. I remembered a trick I learned while watching the bull fights in Mexico. I stabbed her in the back just below the skull, between the shoulder blades. That makes death come easily and fast.

"The little girl did not suffer too much. She was dead within 8 or 10 minutes."

That was about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, Stroble said. Linda's body was found the next morning and the search started.

Stroble told how he boarded an and stayed in cheap hotels at the beach city for three nights.

He said he had thought about suicide, by jumping off the pier, but decided yesterday morning to return to Los Angeles and "give myself up."

Petersen Sanity Hearing Closes

By RAY CARPENTER
AP Staff

DALLAS, Nov. 18. — Closing arguments by attorneys wound up the sanity hearing of Keith L. Petersen today.

The 21-year-old defendant, who dramatically slew his girl friend when she decided to marry another man, yawned as lawyers discussed the state of his mind.

A 12-man criminal district court jury will try to answer two questions this afternoon.

1. Was Petersen sane or insane when he shot Carolyn Schofield, 20, to death in a downtown office building last Sept. 2?

2. Is Petersen sane or insane now?

Testimony in the case was concluded yesterday and the closing arguments began today after Judge Henry King had presented his charge to the jury.

Sam Donosky, attorney for the defense, referred to "this insane, diseased, abnormal mind of the insane defendant."

Henry Wade, assistant district attorney, told the jury that Petersen "knew right from wrong."

The court room was jammed More than 100 persons were standing.

Petersen was wearing a blue suit, a polka dot tie and a breast-pocket handerchief to match the tie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Petersen, Keith's parents, again were present in the courtroom. They have attended all sessions since the hearing began last Monday.

Vice President, Mrs. Hadley Take Wedding Vows

Quiet Ceremony Is Conducted in St. Louis Church

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 18, (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley were married today in a ceremony climaxing a romance that has been in the public spotlight for the past four months.

The vice president, who will be 71 next Thursday, and his attractive bride of 38 were wed by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of the Missouri area of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Hadley, who first met the vice president on a cruise down the Potomac last July, wore a smartly tailored woolen suit of "Barkley Blue."

Only thirty-three members of the immediate families and newsmen were in the chapel at St. John's Methodist Church when the ceremony began with the familiar words, "dearly beloved we are gathered here in the sight of God. . ."

Newsmen outnumbered the relatives.

The bride did not promise to "obey" the vice president. The Methodist marriage ritual hasn't included that word for 10 years.

They joined hands as they were pronounced man and wife. The bishop addressed them as 'Alben" and "Jane."

The wedding ceremony, first for a vice president in office, was concluded with the Lord's Prayer immediately after Bishop Holt declared:

". . .I pronounce that they are husband and wife togther, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Those whom God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

David M. Barkley of Paducah, Ky., Barkley's son by a previous marriage, was best man, and the only attendant. Mrs. Hadley chose her brother, William W. Rucker of West Palm Beach, Fla., to give her away.

Following the ceremony an informal family luncheon was planned at the home of Mrs. T. M. Sayman, friend of Mrs. Hadley with a limited number of press, radio and television representatives permitted to attend. A three-tiered wedding cake about 2 ½ feet high had been prepared for the bride to cut.

The newlyweds then planned to leave on heir honeymoon for 'Shangrila," as "the Veep" called it. Rumor has it that they are going to Key West, Fla., where they will shortly be joined by President Truman and his family.

After the honeymoon the couple will visit Barkley's Paducah home, "The Angles," and later go to Washington where a new and strange (to her) social whirl awaits the new second lady of the land.

Thanksgiving Will Be Real To Mother Of Asthma Victim

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 18. (AP) — Next Thursday will be a special Thanksgiving day for Mrs. Wilma Latsha.

Today she is thankful that her six year old daughter, Janet, is alive.

Janet was flown here from Oklahoma City a month ago for treatment for asthma which doctors said was killing her.

Now, she plays beside her bed. She hasn't had an attack in a week.

Mrs. Latsha is formerly of Nacogdoches. She's working as a dietitians assistant in the Catholic St. Joseph's Hospital here where Janet is being treated.

B-29S COLLIDE—Shown is the wrekage of a B-29 bombing plane that crashed in mid-ald with another bomber of the same type in Stockton, Calif. The other plane crashed into the ground two miles away. At least nine were known dead and nine missing in the collision. See story on page 14. (AP Wirephoto).

Signals From B-29 Survivors Are Reported

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 18. (AP) — Reports of two red flares and faint radio signals sent rescue planes and ships rushing today to an area 345 miles northeast of Bermuda, seeking survivors from the U. S. Air Force B-29 which crash-landed Wednesday with 20 men aboard.

Fifty or more search planes were scheduled to be in the air today, ed, and two U. S. Coast Guard cutters were on their way to the area.

Another B-29 crashed at Tampa, Fla., while taking off in the search, killing five airmen and injuring four. This brought to five the number of B-29s which have crashed since Nov. 3, when one fell into the sea off this island, killing 11 persons.

The flares were sighted just at dusk last night by one of the 80 planes which through the day had patrolled the Bermuda area. The missing England-bound bomber radioed Wednesday it was going to "ditch" in the Atlantic when its radio mavigation equipment broke down and its fuel supply ran out.

Soon after the flares were seen, another rescue plane heard faint radio signals. The searchers thought they could have come from a portable radio set carried in the B-29 life raft kits.

More search planes were ordered out from Kindley Field here as soon as the flares were reported sighted. But night searches failed to disclose any trace of the missing airmen.

Parked Truck Is Damaged in Mishap

A parked truck was damaged extensively in an accident at 100 Gregg street about 10 p. m. yesterday, police reported.

Roy C. White was operator of a car which figured in the mishap, officers said. The car was damaged slightly. Rudolph G. Kirby, driver of the truck, was eating supper in a nearby cafe when the accident happened, according to police.

DRIVE SLOWED SOMEWHAT

Chest Fund Mounts To $16,000 Total

An attack of weekenditis slowed the Community Chest appreciably Friday, but the total reported gained another thousand dollars.

Ted O. Groebl, general chairman, said the figure now stood at $10,000, still substantially short of he halfway mark toward the $37,000 goal.

The increase over Thursday's report resulted from an accumulation of miscellanbous contributions through the general canvass. Contacts were being made much slower than Chest officials had hoped, and some were turning in incomplete reports.

Booths were activated today in four downtown points for convenience of those who have not been contacted but who want to discharge civic ressponsibility. They will be at the State National bank, First National bank, Hemphill-Wells Co. and J. C. Penny Co.

Another school faculty joined the 100 percenters on the Day's Pay plan. Teachers of the East Ward school reported such participation across the board.

The Day's Pay appeal, to support the work of six agencies—YMCA, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Alcoholics Anonymous (home maintenance only) and a small amount for the Chest—for a year's time was being carried to Cosden, Texas & Pacific, school and other employes.

Groebl issued another appeal to all workers to renew their efforts enthusiastically, carrying the message of need for representative giving in supporting the key agencies and to report as promptly as work can be cleared. Firms with 100 per cent Day's Pay groups should call Chest headquarters (3444) so that workers can gather the reports promptly.

Truman May Use T-H In Coal Row

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — President Truman's statement that he will use the Taft-Hartley law in the dispute if there's an emergency brought an operator cry today that there already is one.

Mr. Truman took his stand at his news conference late yesterday; he would not say whether he thinks an emergency would come with another walkout of the miners Nov. 30. That is the end of the present working period decreed by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Assn., replied from Lexington, Ky., that "there already is a national emergency." Moody added in a speech that Mr. Truman "obviously is up against a Nov. 30 deadline even thought he denied the existence of a national emergency."

Mr. Truman's stand — keeping out of the dispute for the present — left the way open for a new peace meeting between Lewis and the operators before the present truce runs out. However, no immediate conference was arranged and Moody said he saw no present hope for resuming contract negotiations.

Defense Plea Of Double Jeopardy Is Turned Down

Ex-Government Girl, Red Friend to Be Tried Together

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. (AP) —Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled today that Judith Coplon must stand trial with Russian Engineer Valentin Gubitchev on spy conspiracy charges.

Ryan denied a motion by the ex-government girl's lawyer, Archibald Palmer, to hold that the trial would put his client in double jeopardy—that is, put her on trial twice for the same offense

Miss Coplon already has been convicted in Washington on a similar charge involving the theft of official secrets for passing on to the Russians.

The judge directed that she and Gubitchev must go on trial together next Tuesday.

And the sober-faced Gubitchev, who had refused up to now to enter any defense, changed his mind and decided to have a lawyer represent him.

Speaking in Russian, through an interpreter, Gubitchev said he hadn't thought there were "good reasons to start a trial" and had considered them as "merely a provocation."

"I think," he told Ryan, "it might be better for me to prepare my defense and take counsel."

Ryan also declined to strike one count from the four-count indictment against the petite, 28-year-old Miss Coplon and Gubitchev, a 32-year-old engineer now suspended from his United Nations post.

In an all-week series of motions and arguments designed to block a second trial, but all Miss Coplon has been able to get is an order that the government must return a lipstock and other personal belongings taken from her when she was arrested.

Ryan ruled yesterday that papers taken from her purse by the FBI at that time may be used as evidence against her.

Five Injured In Crash Near Here

Five people from the Welch community of Dawson county were injured in a car mishap eight miles north of here on U. S. 87 at 9 p. m. Thursday.

Involved were Mr. and Mrs. Renzil Biggerstaff, his brother, Alvin Biggerstaff, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Addison. Addison appeared most seriously hurt, suffering concussion. Mrs. Addison had slight concussion. Mrs. Biggerstaff and Alvin Biggerstaff were dismissed, and Renzil Biggerstaff was under observation in a Lamesa hospital, where all the injured were taken.

Officers here said that the car, a new 1949 Ford still bearing dealer's plates, was badly damaged. They said the machine apparently had taken around the right side of a truck and piled up in the ditch.

HUNT FOR GIRL'S KIDNAP-KILLER

BURLEY, Idaho, Nov. 18. (AP) — Blonde Glenda Joyce Brisbois, "a friendly little girl,' was criminally attacked before her body was thrown into an irrigation canal, police said last night.

An autopsy revealed the attack on seven-year-old Glenda who rode to her death in a dark blue sedan. The little first grader's body was found yesterday by a friend of the family, 18 hours after she had been kidnapped from near her home.

Cassia County Coroner Vern McCulloch, who with Sheriff Saul Clark, reported the autopsy revealing the girl had "definitely" been criminally assaulted, said "'we have two or three leads. . .to follow up . . ."

Hope for a quick capture of the girl's kidnapper faded yesterday after two men, one in Idaho and another in Utah, were picked up for investigation but released after questioning.

Glenda stepped into the car, which police said was driven by a round faced man in his twenties, at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Her beaten body was found yesterday in the canal, one mile southeast of this aroused and angry Idaho farming community of 5,300 persons.

Nearly a foot of water partly covered the small body which was fully clothed. Her head had been gashed deeply by three blows from a sharp instrument—police said it probably was a hatchet or an axe.

Burley Chief of Police Bill Williamms said a man's footprints were found on the canal bank near where Glenda's body was found, along with some automobile tire tracks from which plaster casts were made.

Police ordered that the canal be drained in hopes the murder weapon will be found on its muddy bottom. Also a roundup of all known sex offenders in southern Idaho was ordered.

Brothers In Marital Mixup With Teen-Ager

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. (AP) — Dan Cupid has stepped in to fashion a finishing touch to a marital mixup involving a teen-age girl and two young brothers.

The principals in the marriage and love affair are Joan Schettler, 19; her former husband, Thomas Henry, 17, and his brother and Joan's future husband, Neil Henry, 21.

Thomas, posing as his brother Neil, married Joan last July. Neil was away in the Merchant Marines and Thomas used his birth certificate and name as he was under age to marry without parental consent.

When Neil returned home last month he discovered the deception. He told Joan and persuaded her to seek an annulment. She left Thomas and sought the annulment. "I might want to get married myself sometime," Neil said.

In superior court yesterday, Joan told Judge Rudolph Desort that Thomas was a fine husband, treated her lovingly and she had no quarrel with him except for the deception.

Neil quoted his brother as saying he was "madly in love" with Joan and could find no other way to marry her.

Thomas' attorney asked for leniency for the youth and Judge Desort agreed. In annuling the marriage, he said: "This punishes the boy far beyond the power of the court. By his act of deception he lost the thing he wanted and cherished most — his wife."

A few hours later, Joan's attorney returned to court and asked Judge Desort to marry Joan and Neil. The wedding was tentatively set for Nov. 25.

Joan and Neil said their love blossomed shortly after they first met a month ago as they discussed plans to annul Thomas' marriage.

"'It dawned on me that Neil was the one I really was in love with," Joan said. "He's the one I thought I was marrying in the first place, anyway."

2 SANTAS PAY EARLY VISIT TO DYING YOUTH

XENIA, O., Nov. 18. (AP) — Two-and-one-half year old Tommy Pace, a victim of deadly leukemia, was going back to Children's Hospital in Columbus today. But for him that did not dim the fact he saw Santa Claus yesterday.

Twice, in fact. One was sent by Xenia business men. The second came from Dayton.

But two Santas were none too much for Tommy: He may never see another.

Physicians have told Tommy's parents he won't live until Christmas. So Christmas, in the form of Santa, friends and relatives bearing gifts, came to him prematurely.

There was a tree and a wreath in the window in the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pace.

Even the weatherman seemed to know it was Tommy's Christmas. Snow-flakes fell for a few minutes in the afternoon.

Tommy, weaker than usual yesterday, didn't say much, but his eyes grew bigger in the excitement of seeing Santa. He even opened a few of his packages.

He was very happy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Great Invitation Is Issued By Jehovah

Scripture—Isaiah 55, 56:6-8
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Modern man has more food and better for his sustenance than did his ancestors. He has more machinery and gadgets to lighten his labors; more luxurious means of travel, shorter working hours, more and better literature and means of educating himself.

Yet, with all these material things he still is in a feverish state of mind—restless, unsatisfied.

The child in the world of today is likewise better off in a material way. Instead of walking miles to school as his grandfather and grandmother did, he is transported in private automobiles or buses.

He has more modern and interesting methods of receiving his education, more pleasant play grounds. His teachers and his parents study up-to-date systems that will enable them to understand and help children to adjust themselves in life.

With all these advantages, is he any happier than he was when living conditions were primitive—according to today's standards? It is doubtful.

Today's lesson strives to show us that it is not material things that make for happiness, but a way of life that emphasizes right living, holiness—knowledge of God and His goodness, and earnest striving to lead the kind of life that would meet His approval.

Isaiah gives Jehovah's message to his people—the great invitation He makes to all the peoples of the earth to come to Him and learn to so live that whether one be rich or poor, well or ill, wise or ignorant, he can be really happy and enjoy the rich blessings of the earth.

Chapter 55 begins: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.

"Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not?"

"Incline your ear and come unto Me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David."

The children in the class will remember David, the shepherd boy who was chosen to rule over his people. He too sinned, but he repented so sincerely that he was forgiven and lived to write many of the beautiful Psalms that we have been studying.

"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found," wrote Isaiah. "Call upon Him while He is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

Then "ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clasp their hands."

That is Isaiah's poetic way of describing the joy that will come to us after we have attained knowledge of what constitutes real happiness and have adopted it as our own.

All the peoples of the world can attain this blessed state of mind. They need not throw away their modern conveniences; in fact, they can enjoy them more fully if they realize that they are after all, just gadgets.

They do not make life happier, except as we employ them for the good of mankind. Love, understanding, serving our fellow man as Jesus did and told us to do. These are the real things.

"Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the Lord, to serve Him, and to love the name of the Lord . . . Even them will I bring to My holy mountain, and make them joyful in My house of prayer."

The invitation extends to the outcasts—not alone those of Israel, but of all lands everywhere.

In our day the so-called displaced persons continue to be a problem in many lands. Homeless, with most—if not all—their possessions taken from them, they wander over the earth, trying to find peaceful homes and to begin life over again. They need the comfort of Jehovah's invitation more than any others.

This may seem a difficult lesson to teach to children, but it can be made interesting.

MEMORY VERSE

"My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples." —Isaiah 56:7.

Armstrong Seeks Charter For Texas Education Group

FORT WORTH, Nov. 18 (AP) — George W. Armstrong, industrialist-oil man of Fort Worth and Mississippi, is seeking a domestic charter to incorporate the Texas Education Assn.

He applied Wednesday to the secretary of state in Austin for the charter.

Beverly V. Thompson, Jr., of Fort Worth, one of three incorporators, is "to aid schools, colleges and universities advocating perpetuation of constitutional government."

Armstrong recently offered mineral rights on Mississippi holdings to Jefferson Military College, near Natchez, asking that the college agree to bar students and faculty members of Asiatic or African descent. He withdrew the offer when the school's trustees failed to agree to his terms.

THREE '50 MODELS READY

New Car Designing Is Slow Process

DETROIT — It takes time to design a new automobile.

Some cars that will not appear until 1952 already are on the drafting boards and in the clay model stage.

Three 1950 models yet to come—those of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—already have been completed. They await only the piling up of renewed steel inventories to get into volume output. The 1951 models for the most part are at that point where numerous changes still may be made before they go into production late next summer.

Indications are that the changes in the 1950 and 1951 models will not be drastic. Progress on the 1951 units has reached the point where drastic changes now would be expensive.

The car industry's model planning has to be farsighted. Provision has to be made in the styling and general designing for possible engineering advances already under development. Sometimes many months of planning on body design is scrapped because something new has popped up in the laboratories.

If it is something that can be safely delayed for another model year, no great loss is involved. It is something a competitor may have been thinking about, too, if can't be delayed.

The 1950 models yet to come will have a lot of eye appeal. Engineering-wise they are not likely to have much new other than the higher compression power plants and new types of automatic transmissions.

Steel Nationalization Is Big British Issue, Says Churchill

LONDON, Nov. 18. (AP)—Winston Churchill says the big issue in Britain's next national elections will be steel nationalization.

The conservative leader, already campaigning for return to the prime minister's post he held during the war, said Wednesday the election will be "almost a referendum" on whether the public wants the government to take over the nation's giant steel industry.

Churchill supported a Labor Government move in the house of Commons to delay putting steel under state ownership until after the elections. The latest the elections can be held is July, 1950, when the five-year term of the present Labor Government expires. Indications were that the election might be called as early as next February.

He promised, however, that if his party should be returned to power one of the first steps would be to wipe out the nationalization bill which will be enacted by the labor-dominated parliament in the next few weeks.

The government had moved the delay of the actual take-over, which it once held should be on May 1, 1950, as a compromise with the house of lords to ensure early passage of the bill.

The Labor Government of Prime Minister Clement Attlee is pushing passage of the bill so that it can show voters it has fulfilled its major nationalization promise made before the 1945 general election which put it into power.

The compromise calls for the conservative house of lords to pass the bill before the Christmas adjournment Dec. 16, but sets the date of the take-over back to Jan. 1, 1951.

In accepting the compromise, Churchill demanded once again that Attlee made public the date of the coming elections, declaring there is "no serious reason for keeping everyone on tenterhooks or on tiptoe."

He said the political importance of the nationalization issue in the coming elections was "the only explanation" for the timing of the government's compromise tactics.

Later, at a speech before the constitutional club, Churchill said the coming elections will be "undoubtedly one of the turning points in British history."

Federal Payroll Drastically Cut

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP)—An overall reduction of 62,955 federal employes in four months was reported Thursday by a Senate-House committee, thans to cuts in civilian employment by the military forces.

Civilian employment in the executive branch of the government totaled 2,057,064 in September, a reduction of 33,045 from the previous month.

BUREAU JUST SAID SNOW

OIL CITY, Pa. Nov. 18. (AP)—Residents marveled when they got the snow forecasters promise for western Pennsylvania Wednesday night.

The weather bureau hadn't said anything about it being black.

A torrent of soot flakes blanketed the downtown area for fifteen minutes. Police said they were unable to trace the source.

Oh, yes — they got a few flurries of the white stuff this morning.

Waxahachie To Provide For Its Negro Students

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP) — The Waxahachie school system has 30 days to provide equal opportunity for Negro students to study courses now offered white students there.

Federal Judge William H. Atwell made the decision Wednesday. He extended and clarified an order he handed down after a preliminary hearing Oct. 1 The judge told school officials to set up even courses that Negro students had not asked for.

Earlier yesterday he ruled against Negro plaintiffs in a similar case brought against the Addison (Dallas County) Independent School District, but he ordered that needed repairs be made on the roof and windows of the elementary school for Negroes at Addison.

The Negro parents who brought suit against the two school districts had asked the judge for a permanent injunction against "separate and unequal" schools.

They charged that both the courses of study and the physical plants at the schools for Negroes were unequal to those offered white students in the same districts, in violation of the Constitution's 14th Amendment.

The Negroes did not argue in either case for an order abolishing segregation. The original petitions had asked for an order declaring unconstitutional the board's policy o "providing facilities for Negro students because of their race and color."

After announcing his finding in the Waxahachie case, the judge said he had found no indication of bad faith on either side.

Special Federal Court Rules In Favor Of T&P Motor Transport

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP)—The Texas & Pacific Motor Transport Co. can go on giving truck service to towns not on the Texas & Pacific Railroad.

A special three-judge federal court ruled Wednesday that the Interstate Commerce Commission has no right to enforce its order that the company must stop that kind of service.

Federal Dist. Judge Benjamin C. Dawkins of Monroe, La., dissented, but he did not file a minority opinion.

Federal Judges William H. Atwell of Dallas and Edwin R. Holmes of New Orleans said enforcement of the order would be "confiscation. . destruction."

The transport company is owned by the T&P Railroad. The truck line has been operating in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico under ICC permits which allowed it to provide service that was "auxiliary to and supplemental of" rail service furnished by the T&P.

In January, 1948, the ICC ruled that the trucking company could not serve a point not on the rail line, that it must charge regular rail freight rates, and that it could not interchange freight with other truck lines.

The special ruling was to have gone into effect last Aug. 4, but it was held up until after the hearing.

The transport company attorneys claimed the firm had almost $400,000 invested in equipment and ICC permits.

"After permitting acquisition of these certificates, could ICC issue orders which destroy their value?", Judges Atwell and Holmes asked in the decision. "No one learned in the law could permit an affidavit answer to that question."

Washington Going Overboard To Court Shah, Iranian Resources

Official Washington is knocking itself out to honor the laddishb young Shah of Iran, formerly called Persia. Mohammend Reza Pahlevi is doing a 23-day tour of the nation, during which he will see the sights, be honor guest at many dinners and luncheons, and generally "get the wors" as guest of the nation.

The nation isn't exactly "courting" the Shah, but it isn't entertaining him for the fun of the thing. Iran happens to be rich in oil, and as next-door neighbor to Russia it becomes our special concern to be on friendly terms with its ruler and his 15,000,000 subjects. Under U. S. leadership, the UN once forced Russia to withdraw its troops from the country, and we have given direct military aid to the Shah's government. Also, American Army officers have been helping train the Iranian army.

The Shah's father was quite a character, rising from stable boy to supreme rulership of the country. Riza Khan Pahlevi rose to power as a general of exceptional talents. One of his first acts was to hire American financial experts to put Iran's economic structure into some semblance of sanity. He established the Pahlevi dynasty, and the present Shah is his son and successor on the throne.

Iran is one of the backward countries of which President Truman spoke in his Point 4 program. It is enormously rich in oil, which the British control, but its living conditions are primitive except in the larger cities, and even in these the sanitary arrangements are extremely crude.

With the money derived from oil, the Shah expects to revive and modernize his country. But the shadow of Russia hangs over the place, and the Shah's only hope of a future free from Russian aggression is to cast his lot with the Western World.

This westward look is not so strange, for the Iranians are Aryans, not Arabs. Their ruler is a Mohammedan, with Western ideas.

Roosevelt Boys May Be Hunting Governorship In Next Election

It is not beyond the bounds of possibility that opposite ends of the nation may see a couple of the Roosevelt boys pretending for governorships next year. Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. has been talked as a possible candidate in New York, and this week James Roosevelt announced as a contender in the California primary next year.

James Roosevelt, soon to turn 42, hopes to have the Democratic field to himself, but the hope may be vain. George Luckey, who managed President Truman's California campaign last year, is expected to seek the nomination too. If Luckey runs, it will present the White House with a problem. Roosevelt ignored Truman and touted Eisenhower before the Democratic convention last year, but turned quickly and climbed aboard the Truman bandwagon to render yeoman service. Luckey got right with Truman from the start, and is believed to have the inside track with the White House.

Roosevelt says he doesn't expect any White House participation in the California primary if two bona fide Democratic candidates are in the race, but does expect White House support if he's the only one.

You may be filled clear up to the gills with the Roosevelt boys, but the fact remains that the politicians of both parties are taking James Roosevelt's announcement seriously. He has his father's voice, and a capacity for accumulating friends reminiscent of FDR. Like all the Roosevelts, he is willing to mix it with all comers, and his presence in the California primary, where cross-filing is the vogue, insures one of the hottest campaigns in that state's history.

Umph For Business Office Is Urged By Interior Decorator

NEW YORK, (AP)—WHAT MARKS THE tired business man tired?

"His office," said Leonard Hutton, interior decorator.

"A man's office should be like his den at home—comfortable and relaxing.

"But what is the average office like? It has an oversize desk—that's to show he's an important man—a swivel chair, two stiff chairs for visitors, and a leather-covered sofa. On the wall is a map of the United States—with flags stuck in it to impress his customers with how many salesmen he has across the country."

HUTTON CLUCKED DISAPPROVINGLY.

"It's too sober—too dull. It gives him no lift. Badly designed rooms make people tired and nervous—but they don't realize why. A man can work more efficiently, and make a better impression on his associates, if his office doesn't look like an office."

Hutton is full of concrete suggestions to put a little umph in the American business office. He feels it should have some music, a hidden bar for entertaining prospects, no glaring lights, and colorful draperies that can be drawn automatically—by pushing a button.

If the business man must have files in his office, Hutton said, they should be recessed into the walls.

"Files only remind the visitor he ought to be back in his own office working. How can you sell him an idea if he isn't at ease?"

HUTTON THINKS THE TIRED BUSINESS man doesn't fare much better when he goes home to rest from his dingy office.

"He comes into a living room 'decorated' exactly in a what-do-they-use-these-days manner. Then the poor man has to sit in some uncomfortable reproductions of some ugly style that never was a style but just a period.

"There is no place for him to lie down, because his wife won't let him rest on her good living room sofa or on the bed—the bedspread might get wrinkled.

"So the man's unhappy at his office, unhappy at home—and that's why so much business is done in restaurants and cocktail bars."

Demos Speculate On Roosevelt Name's Pulling Power In 1952

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The possibility that a Governor Roosevelt of New York and a Governor Roosevelt of California will be standing by awaiting President Truman's decision to run or not to run in 1952 intrigues Democrats here.

James Roosevelt has announced his candidacy for Governor of California which was foreordained when Franklin Jr. demonstrated the pulling power of the name in a New York Congressional contest.

James is no favorite of Harry Truman since his pro-Eisenhower preconvention activities in 1948 but the President last week reiterated privately to a Californian that he would keep his hands off all California primaries. Democrats therefore expect Roosevelt's nomination and a real Republican split in the state encourages them to hope for his election.

A by-product of the intensive New York campaign was the effort of many Democrats, especially upstate, to persuade Congressman Roosevelt that he must run for governor next year to save the state for them. They professed fear that Governor Dewey would be ditched in favor of General Eisenhower by Republicans and that only Franklin Roosevelt Jr. could overcome the magic of the Eisenhower name.

Naturally this fell sweetly upon the congressman's ears. His best friends and severest critics hope he will resist the siren song until he has more experience but they have little hope of inducing a Roosevelt to do other than what he sees fit to do.

The Roosevelt-for-Governor talk represents a backfire against State Chairman Paul Fitzpatrick, who, wanting to be governor himself, dispatched Franklin Jr. to the smaller cities and whistle stops. Now the Democrats have done well there and Franklin Jr., already a victor in New York City, has every reason to feel confident of upstate popularity.

James Roosevelt has obtained the services of former congressman George Outland, now professor of politics at San Francisco University, as his campaign manager. Outland is a substantial citizen well able to concoct a solid New Deal frame for the display of the Roosevelt personality. Reports from the recent San Francisco Democratic meeting are that the said personality is in prime form.

Democratic hopes rest principally, however, on Governor Warren's quarrel with his legislature and his attorney general. Democrats have voted for Warren in large numbers to the point of giving him their nomination also in 1946. Now it is figured they can be convinced that Warren can't produce for them.

As usual, the highly individualistic California Democrats will all be on their own. Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, who proposes to take the senatorial nomination from the incumbent Sheridan Downey is not tying her campaign to Roosevelt's in any way. She is quietly stumping the rural areas now all by herself in an emulation of Truman's 1948 whistle-stop campaign.

Truman Practicing Vote Discrimination While Preaching Civil Rights For Dixie

LOS ANGELES — While President Truman has been preaching civil rights for the South, he has practiced exactly the same kind of vote discrimination toward groups of Young Democrats as he has criticized in Southern states.

The national convention of Young Democrats in Chattanooga this week illustrates this vote discrimination, and also highlights the fact that the Young Democrats, once a live wire, progressive organization, in many states has become a Charley McCarthy for Democratic bosses, sometimes bought and paid for.

The Young Democrats of New York State, for instance, are no more representative of the Democratic Party than Boss Hague of Jersey City. New York Democrats are not even permitted to hold an election. Their president is appointed, not elected—by Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman, who keeps an ironclad hold on the Young Dems for fear they will bolt to young Congressman Franklin Roosevelt.

Undoubtedly the great preponderance of Young Democratic voters in New York would definitely be in the Roosevelt camp—if they had a chance. Fitzpatrick had his eye on the governorship and he doesn't want control to slip into the hands of Franklin Roosevelt, a photential rival candidate.

CALIFORNIA CASE

The throttling of Young Dems in New York State is not Truman's fault. But definitely at Truman's doorstep can be laid an even more flagrant case of vote denial—this one in California.

In that state the Young Democrats of California, Inc., has disintegrated into a group of about 100 jaded party hacks who, in effect have sold the letterhead of their organization to any political faction that would reward them with jobs. When David Price and Edwin T. Thayer of the California Young Dems were given jobs by George McLain of the California old-age pension group, the Young Dems promptly lent their letterhead to promote McLain's old-age pension plan.

As a result, a rival group of Young Dems—"The California Young Democratic Clubs" has mushroomed up to 4,000 members, in contrast to fewer than 100 members for the old regulars. And on July 8, the new group officially applied for recognition by Washington. Their application was signed by Mrs. Edward Heller, Democratic National Committeewoman; James Roosevelt, National Committeeman; and Oliver Carter, California chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

WHITE HOUSE INTERVENED

Furthermor, it developed that the old and decrepit Young Dems had not paid their dues. They had borrowed $1,250 from Ed Pauley and Jimmy Roosevelt in 1947 to pay their dues, but something happened to their money—perhaps too much entertainment at conventions. Instead, a promissory note was deposited at headquarters for $1560 in lieu of dues. This promissory note was never paid.

Under the Young Dems' constitution, the state organization which pays for its dues is supported by the state committeemen and gets official recognition. But in the case of California, the White House mysteriously intervened.

Perhaps, however, it wasn't so mysterious. For Matt Connelly, secretary to the President, got a phone call from George Luckey, California cattleman friend of Mr. Truman's, asking that the new Young Dems not be recognized.

This was on July 8, and the application of the new group has cooled on ice until this week.

Roy Baker, national chairman of the Young Dems, has ordered recognition of the new California group. Billy Boyle, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had promised recognition on Sept. 14. The Los Angeles County central committee voted 189 to 1 for recognition. But, thanks to White House intervention, 100 old and shopworn "Young Dems" continued to represent the entire state of California until this week, while 4,000 new members remained out in the cold.

NOTE—One trouble with the Young Democrats in many states is that the party bosses don't want intelligent youngsters in the organization. If the youngsters are intelligent they are discouraged. For intelligent youngsters don't make good party hacks.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

With the coal and steel strikers returning to work, the labor outlook is brighter than in months. In spite of this, however, 33 critical areas are still harassed by hard times of which eight are worse off than during the depression. They are Lawrence, Mass., Jasper, Ala., Bristol, Conn., Cumberland, Md., New Bedford, Mass., Muskegon, Mich., Greensburg, Pa., and Pottsville, Pa. . . Elliott Roosevelt is planning to go to Moscow in April to interview Stalin again. . . . Tommy Manville, the millionaire playboy, is worried that his telephone wires are tapped; has offered $5,000 to anyone who can prove it. . . The American Medical Association has signed up the big insurance companies as an ally in its million-dollar propaganda drive against the President's health insurance program. . . The British general staff has just sent a highly important secret report to the American joint chiefs of staff stating that London could stand up under bombardment fom Russian A-bombs. The London subways, it is reported, are the deepest in the world and would escape atomic radiation. However, the subways will be reconditioned immediately. . . The real estate lobby is nibbling away at rent control in Los Angeles by pressuring suburban towns into decontrolling on their own. Gov. Warren, however, will not approve decontrol.

Young Family Planning 'Round-The-World Trip

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—Movie companies have been searching for ways to use up their money frozen in foreign lands. Robert Young has his own idea: He'll take his family on a 'round-the-world cruise.

Young's production company has racked up small chunks of money in countries which won't let loose of it. Since the firm has no immediate filming plans, he'll use up the coin with a junket for his wife and four daughters.

"I plan to go to each country and stay there until we use up the money," he said on the "Here Lies Love" set. "I don't think the countries will object, because we will be spending the money in the country. We might buy some antiques, too."

Young said he plans the trip for next summer, when his daughters are out of school. "I won't have a chance to change my mind when they read this," he sighed.

Twin Co-Op Solves Clothes Problem

SUN VALLEY, Calif., (AP) — The parents of five sets of year-old twins put their heads together and came up with a solution to the problem of how to keep their kids in clothes. Their answer a co operative.

The five sets of parents formed a twin club, and agreed to pass on to other mothers and fathers of double editions any clothes their children outgrow. In turn, they want parents of older twins to join the club and hand castoffs down to them.

Everything About Football Is Changed Except For Its Name

We wonder if the various authorities (many of them are self appointed) realize that they are tampering with the American way of life when they start whittling and amending football rules.

In recent years sportswriters, coaches and others apparently have recognized the end of a football season as a signal to start an overhaul job on the rules of the game. Now they don't even wait for the season to end, but start casting straws in the breeze and organizing their lobbies before the cheering has ceased for the opening games.

As a result, the football rule book now, when compared with its forerunner of even one decade ago, resembles the Texas constitution.

We are tempted to shout with genuine indignation whenever a coach comes out with a statement favoring a change in the rules, especially when it is determined that his team might have won its last game if such a change had been in effect at that time.

Mr. Madison Bell, the football boss at Southern Methodist, is completely contrary to form of course, in his cry for abolishing the point after touchdown. Accurate kicking from placement has written victory for SMU twice this season and many other times since Mr. Bell came to SMU.

But we are in hearty disagreement with his recommendation. Who wants to see a football game end in a tie? Count us out on the first ballot.

And another thing, such a movement would be just another step toward taking the foot out of football.

Four major college games in the nation would have ended in deadlocks last weekend if the extra point had been barred. In most cases we believe it reasonable to assume the team that stands up better under pressure wins such ball games. And who is going to say that a team which succumbs to pressure for a split second during a point after touchdown try deserves to win? It is true that a "bad break" can spoil an extra point try, but the same is true of a touchdown try.

With today's emphasis on offense, some teams seldom use their feet, except on kickoffs and tries for extra point. Take the extra point try away and the kick would be merely a formality to open the game.

But, on the other hand, maybe they intend to change the name of the game one of these days.—WACIL McNAIR. ...

Chinese Red Actions Preclude Any Present U. S. Recognition

SECRETARY OF STATE ACHESON was using plain, though unemotional, language when he said in Washington Wednesday that Chinese Communist treatment of American Consul General Ward, who is in a Mukden jail, with four of his staff, removes any present possibility of considering recognition of the new Red Chinese government.

This comes on the heels of repeated failures by American authorities to secure news about Ward and his colleagues, who are accused of beating a Chinese employe. Even Consul General O. Edmund Clubb in Peiping has been rebuffed by top Communist leaders.

IT ALSO COMES AT A MOMENT when the Red regime at Peiping, which is seeking recognition by the great powers, is boldly challenging the right of Chinese Nationalist delegates to represent the country in the United Nations. Thus far none of the members outside the Soviet bloc has shown any disposition to oust these representatives of the regime which still ranks as one of the big five in the peace organization.

The case of Consul General Ward and his staff has produced much resentment. Comment by observers has even bought a reference to President Teddy Roosevelt's handling of the historic Raisuli-Perdicaris case of 1904.

JPERDICARIS, A WEALTHY AMERIcan, had been seized and held for ransom by the notorious bandit chieftain, Raisuli. The message which went forward to the sultan of Morocco over the signature of Secretary of State John Hay was:

"Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

That got quick action. Incidentally this famous message was suggested by the late Edwin M. Hood, member of the Washington Staff of the AP.

Well of course nobody is suggesting the sending of any "Raisuli" message to Peiping. A firm and unemotional stand by the western powers may be expected to produce results in due course if for no other reason than that Communist China will badly need the assistance of the West in the rehabilitation of that vast country.

President Can Block New Coal Strike In Either Of Two Ways

WASHINGTON—On NOV. 9, WHEN JOHN L. LEWIS called his miners back to the pits after a 52-day lay-off, he said it would be until Dec. 1. After that date he may pull them out again unless:

1. He's reached a settlement with the mine owners. None is in sight. The two sides have been haggling on and off since last May and seem no nearer an agreement now than then.

2. The President acts to prevent a Dec. 1 strike. There seem to be only two ways in which he can do that: (a) By setting up a fact-finding board or (b) by using the Taft-Hartley Act, which Mr. Truman dislikes.

IN TRYING TO SET UP THE FACT-finding board, Mr. Truman probably would do this:

Ask Lewis and the mine owners (a) To let a fact-finding board, appointed by the President, look into their dispute and (b) Agree there'd be no strike or lockout for 60 days while the board worked.

The President has no power to force either side to accept this arrangement. Acceptance would be voluntary. If Lewis or the owners, or both, refused, that would be the end of that idea.

But—then, to prevent a strike Dec. 1, Mr. Truman could trot out the Taft-Hartley Act and declare a national emergency. Then, under that law, and whether Lewis and owners like it or not, Mr. Truman would have to setup a fact-finding board.

This board almost certainly would report back to Mr. Truman before the Dec. 1 deadline. Then Mr. Truman would take the next step provided for under the T-H law.

HE'D ASK FOR AN INJUNCTION, OR court order, forbidding a strike for 80 days. The purpose of the 80-day delay under the law is to give both sides in a labor dispute more time to settle it.

After that 80-day delay, though, Lewis would be free to strike. But these two courses open to Mr. Truman raise some questions:

What's the difference between the fact-finding board which the President could set up without using T-H—if both sides accepted—and the board he'd set up if he used T-H?

The first board would make a recommendation on what it thought was a fair settlement of the dispute.

The T-H board can't make recommendations but its findings are made public. So, in effect, its findings would amount to a recommendation.

WHY WOULDN'T LEWIS BE WILLING to accept that non-Taft-Hartley fact-finding board? He might accept.

But Lewis never has wanted a third party like the government to step into his affairs when there was a chance he might not get what he wanted.

Suppose Lewis and the owners accepted this non-T-H board and agreed there'd be no strike or lockout for 60 days.

Say the board was set up next Monday. Those 60 days would keep the miners digging coal into the middle of January, helping get the country through the winter.

But suppose at the end of those 60 days in mid-January Lewis refused to accept the board's recommendations. What then?

HE'D BE FREE TO STRIKE. BUT wouldn't that be the worst time for a strike—from the standpoint of the country? No, if by then enough coal had been mined to carry the nation through until spring.

But—if Lewis wanted to strike in mid-January and it would hurt the country, then Mr. Truman could use the T-H act, set up the T-H fact-finding board, get a court order, and delay the strike another 80 days.

That would prevent a strike until April, the beginning of warm weather. But couldn't Lewis defy the court order and let his men strike? He might, but maybe he wouldn't.

He tried that before. He and his union paid $1,420,000 in fines this week for contempt of court in a 1948 walkout. Lewis would think twice before risking that again.

Today's Birthday

CHARLES EDWARD WILSON, born Nov. 18, 1886, in New York City, son of a book binder. The career of this business tycoon—now president of General Electric Co.—is a colorful chapter in the romance of American business. His father died when he was three and he stopped school in the eighth grade to take a job in the Sprague Electric Co., now part of General Electric. After years of hard work and night schooling he reached the top. He left it to serve on the War Production Board in World War II and later returned to his old post. He is an active worker in the Baptist Church and an ardent sportsman.

Nudism Growing In Britain As Incorporation Move Is Okayed

By ARTHUR W. WHITE
AP Staff

LONDON, Nov. 12. (AP) — Nudism is booming in Britain. More people are walking around naked than ever before.

Not in public, of course—the law throughout the country.

Leaders of the open-air cult say frowns on that—but in flourishing happily they've never seen any "naturist" camps scattered thing like it.

Britain's few hundred timid pre-war nudists have grown into a lusty movement 50,000 strong. In 1938 there were 20 nudist clubs Now there are 60. Many non-club "naturists" enjoy life in the raw in the privacy of their own homes and gardens.

The British Sun Bathing Association (BSBA)—biggest nudist group—has just voted to incorporate nudity. It's forming a limited company of 200 shareholders.

Right now the clammy British winter has driven all except the hardiest "naturists" into long underwear. But the BSBA hopes next summer will be the best ever for the one out of every 1,000 Britons it says likes to frolic naked in the sun.

The burning question: will the sun co-operate?

It did in 1949. It was the sunniest summer for 16 years.

Mrs. Sylvia Bassam, 34, pretty Canadian-born secretary of the BSBA, says the association is campaigning for three things:

1. The legal right to bathe in the nude on approved public beaches;
2. More young women nudists;
3. To teach skeptics that "naturism" is "a healthy, wholesome way of life followed by intelligent people."

Mrs. Bassam, whose own suntan, she affirms, stretches unbroken from top to toe, says British nudists don't want mixed bathing with nudists and non-nudists taking the sun together. They want certain public beaches set aside.

The BSBA doesn't even like G-string swim suits.

Its insistence on complete nudity for all posed a problem this summer at a club near London. Naked customers in the restaurant couldn't tell who were the waitresses. They were unclothed, too. The hired help were given armbands.

At that club's entrance a sign proclaims: "This is a secluded pleasance in the heart of the woodland, remote from the busy haunts of men." There, as elsewhere, members swim, play tennis and picnic under the trees, wearing not a stitch.

Biggest pain in the neck for British nudist club directors, Mrs. Bassam says, is the unbalance of sexes. Far more males than females join, the ratio being about four to one.

"We get many many applications from single men but not enough from the right-type girls."

The BSBA and some other nudist groups are preparing a black list of undesirable characters who have been trying to muscle into the movement with unworthy motives. But the problem is not very acute, Mrs. Bassam said, nudists being a cut above the average in morality and integrity. So far the black list contains fewer than ten names.

The BSBA prizes propriety above all. No beer or liquor is sold at the camps, although many of the members love their pint of mild and bitter.

"If clubs applied for drink licenses, some people might think we're going in for orgies," explained Mrs. Bassam.

Missing Girl Is Back Home

ATLANTA, Nov. 18. (AP) — The "missing" daughter of a Cincinnati business executive was back in the lap of luxury today.

But, since last Monday, 16-year-old Dorothy Jennings had learned that a jail is no fun and a railroad station bench can be an awfully hard place to sleep.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Jennings was found yesterday by Policewoman Ruby Barrett, "broke, dead tired and sleeping in the restroom at the railroad station."

Mrs. Parrett said she knew that "she wasn't case for the juvenile home and that's why I brought her to police headquarters."

Miss Jennings subsequently was released to her uncle, R. A. Craighead, president of the Progressive Life Insurance Co.

When she left the jail, Miss Jennings was a tired, frightened child. Her fingernails had been bitten almost to the quick.

Interviewed just before her release, the girl said, "I just don't know" to questions about why she left home.

Her disappearance Monday set off a "feared kidnapped" alert in the Midwest which finally led to Chattanooga, Tenn., where she entered a hotel searching for relatives.

A relative said Miss Jennings had been feeling under par for some time and was worried about her studies at an exclusive boarding school. She was excused from her classes Monday when she said she was ill.

Government Promises To Summon Key Witness In Bridges Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17. (AP)—Government attorneys promised they will call a witness today in the Harry Bridges perjury trial who will "carry a real punch."

The broad outlines of the coming court battle took form yesterday as both prosecution and defense made opening statements to the middle-aged jury of eight men and four women.

First witness called for today when Defense Chief Vincent Hallinan finishes his opening statement, was Lloyd Garner, examiner before whom Bridges appeared for naturalization. F. Joseph Donohue, chief prosecuting attorney, declined to name his next witness, but members of his staff said his testimony "would carry a real punch."

The government, charging that the West Coast longshore leader perjured himself when he said he was not a Communist in his 1945 naturalization hearing, will attempt to prove he was actually a secret member of the Communist Party's powerful central committee.

The defense will attempt to prove that the present trial is part of a conspiracy to get the Australian-born Bridges out of the country.

Federal Judge George B. Harris called a conference of the attorneys at the end of yesterday's session, however, and told the defense he will limit the issue to the question of perjury and conspiracy. He said that anything happening at prior government hearings to deport Bridges is outside the present case.

Bridges and two fellow union officials, J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government through their testimony at Bridges naturalization hearing. In addition, Bridges is charged with perjury.

Four Important AA Skirmishes Slated Today

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Four "big games" are on tap tonight as Texas schoolboy football moves toward the playoff.

District titles go to the winner of these games in Class AA: Vernon-Wichita Falls, Temple-Corsicana, Austin-Corpus Christi and Baytown-Galveston.

Several other clubs in Class AA and City Conference can almost start making playoff plans with victories tonight. These include Conroe, Harlingen and San Jacinto.

Pampa, Paris, Highland Park of Dallas, Sunset of Dallas, Alice, Marshall and Sunset have already cinched playoff spots.

Corsicana is undefeated, untied and Baytown is unbeaten but tied. Both can very well get licked tonight.

Port Arthur, Wichita Falls and Lubbock are the only other three teams with perfect records.

Lubbock meets Midland tonight in a 3-AA contest.

Breckenridge runs into Mineral Wells; Abilene meets Big Spring; Conroe plays Palestine; Harlingen goes to Brownsville, and San Jacinto to tackle John Reagan and a Houston City Conference game.

Two games were played last night.

Crozier Tech of Dallas swamped North Dallas, 38-7, and Lamar of Houston knocked off Austin of Houston, 20-7.

While these big "two" divisions of the Interscholastic League are in the home stretch, Class A schools end regular season play this week.

Rosebud last night sacked up the 21-A title by blanking Cameron, 20-0, in a playoff game between these two teams. Last week, Cameron beat Rosebud, 7-0.

Edison of San Antonio beat Hot Wells, 20-13, for the 31-A crown.

There are fourteen undefeated teams in the vast Class A setup, though some have been tied.

The only meeting tonight between undefeated, untied teams in this division will match Del Rio and Uvalde for the 32-A title

Charles Dunagan Honored At Party

Charles Dunagan was honored with a birthday party given in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Dunagan, Wednesday.

Games were played. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Bob Daily, Charles and Curtis Handley Driv-Julian Ann Blackwell, Joyce Howell, Don Dorsey, Donald Dunaer, Bill Coats, Dickie Murphy, gan, Darla Sue Dunagan, Carolyn Wilson, Carolyn Halbrook, Charlotte Marstrand, Jimmy Foresyth, Terry McDaniels and Charles Dunagan.

Leo Barnhorst, Notre Dame basketball ace now with the Chicago Stags of the National Basketball Association, is one of the best softball pitchers in the country.

what happened to the price of coffee and why!

DURING the past several years, the world's production of coffee has declined, while consumption has been on the rise. Thus the demand has become slightly greater than supply on a world-wide basis.

In recent months a severe drouth in one major coffee growing country, coupled with hurricanes and floods in other countries, has damaged the crop to be harvested next year. The extent of that damage is not certain, but it appears that early estimates were somewhat exaggerated.

protecting your supply

Many consumers, reading and hearing of this crop damage, have laid away an extra supply in their kitchens. This "run" on coffee in stores has produced a few localized and temporary "shortages."

If you have been limited by your grocer in the number of pounds of coffee you can buy, more than likely that is his voluntary attempt to protect his stock of coffee—and yours—until his next shipment arrives.

Remember, not a pound of coffee is grown in the United States . . . it is an imported commodity. Coffee companies here must depend upon growers in foreign countries for their entire supply.

where coffee prices start

Recently these growers, for the reasons mentioned above, together with other contributing factors, have been in a position to demand—and get—more money for their green coffee than ever before. Thus the prices of green coffees have risen by leaps and bounds. So rapid in fact, has been the climb, that we have been selling coffee to grocers and grocers have been selling to you, at prices below what was called for by the actual prices we were paying for green coffee in the producing countries the same day.

Coffee companies in the United States operate on a volume basis. The profit on each pound of coffee is small indeed. Without a tremendous volume there would be no profit at all. Likewise, the grocers of today sell coffee on a near-cost basis.

The increased price you are paying for coffee originates in the coffee growing countries—not with the roaster or your grocer.

No one can foretell how far this combination of unusual forces may push coffee prices upward, nor how long the situation may continue.

But we at Folger's believe that there is ample coffee on hand and in sight to supply the normal consumer demand for this special Mountain Grown coffee.

and we make this promise

When you buy Folger's Coffee it will be the same wonderful coffee with the individuality of flavor that has always set it apart from all other blends.

Considering how much pleasure a cup of Folger's Coffee gives you—surely you must agree that penny for penny Folger's still provides the most pleasure you can put on your table.

The holiday season is here, and Mother has begun bringing home baskets of tempting food like the one above. One glance at the assorted nuts, the fancy preserves, the fruits, the puddings and cakes, remind us that Thanksgiving is at hand, and that we will soon be enjoying the treats of this festive season.

But enjoying our blessings is not enough. We must be thankful as well—and true thanks is possible only when we share with others.

When in the joy and excitement of the moment we stop to remember those who are less fortunate, we are not only bringing happiness to others, but we are making our own pleasures more genuine, more deeply felt.

In order to develop generosity—and indeed all virtues, we must join wholeheartedly in the work of the Church. Here we can learn how to serve our fellow men most effectively, and in so doing, enrich our own lives.

Mrs. Joe Lee Hitt Named Honoree At Shower In S. V. Jordan Home

Mrs. Joe Lee Hitt, nee Leta Cowley, was complimented with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. S. V. Jordan, 505 Gregg, Thursday evening.

Nuptial vows were exchanged by the couple Thursday, November 10, in Lovington, N. M.

Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Robert Hatcher, Mrs. L. B. Conway, Mrs. Ted Wegman, Mrs. Ellis Franklin and Mrs. Herbie Smith.

Those in the reception line included the honoree, Mrs. Hitt, her mother, Mrs. Inez Miller and Mrs. Conway. Mrs. Hitt was attired in wine crepe fitted dress with yellow shattered chrysanthemum corsage. Her accessories were brown. Mrs. Miller chose a black crepe dress with gold accessories and Mrs. Conway wore a brown crepe ensemble and gold accessories.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arangement of bronze wedding bells, interspersed with autumnal leaves and greenery, surrounding a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miniature yellow mums serve as clappers in the wedding bells. Lighted yellow tapers in crystal candlelabra flanked the centerpiece. Yellow napkins enscribed in bronze with "Leta and Joe," completed the decor. Crystal and silver appointments were used in the table setting.

Various other autumnal floral arrangements were placed at vantage points in the reception rooms. The bride's chosen colors of yellow and bronze were used throughout the decorative theme.

Those attending were Janice Yates, Mrs. A. M. Ripps, Mrs. Joe D. Williams, Martha Ann Cowley, Mrs. Lyndell Ashley, Mrs. C. C. Ryan, Jr., Mrs. L. Y. Moore, Mrs. Hazel Ruth Hill, Francys Cooper, Maxine White, Mrs. H. L. Baker, Bo Bowen, Stella Wheat, Jamie Bilbo, Mrs. Claire Tidwell, Mrs. D. P. Vice Presidents Are Presented

WACO, Nov. 18. (AP) — Four new vice presidents were presented last night to the Texas Convention of the Parents and Teachers Assn.

The new officers are Mrs. C. A. Cawthorn of Paris, Region Two; Mrs. I. M. Smith of Elsa, Hidalgo County, Region Four; Mrs. C. N. Bustin, Jr., Austin, Region Six, and Mrs. E. M. Pittman of Anson, Region Eight.

The new vice presidents were introduced by Mrs. H. F. Godeke, vice president from Lubbock.

Maurice T. Moore, New York City attorney, spoke at a dinner for the association last night.

Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, Jr., of Plainview and Mrs. N. H. Keller of El Paso led forum discussions.

This Woman Bakes Her Flower Bouquets

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Mrs. Mae DeLano slow-bakes her bouquets. The flowers last longer that way. Here's her recipe for a baked bouquet, suitable for framing: Cut flowers (preferably flat types), leaves and lacey ferns. Place in an oven dish, cover with clean white sand, and bake for 10 hours in a low oven. After baking, Mrs. DeLano removes the posies, cleans them with a camel's hair brush, and arranges them on a flat backing. She fixes them in position with transparent glue.

Then she carefully clamps a glass, airtight frame over the design and behold—a beautiful picture, painted in nature's own colors. Mrs. DeLano cautions imitators not to underbake. Then the blooms wither under the glass. And don't overbake. The colors fade or turn brown.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS
By Mildred Young

Those who saw the movie, "Kiss In The Dark", which played at a local movie during the past week heard a bit of philosophy presented in a rather amusing manner. However, that did not keep it from being true. A landlord was always telling his tenants and others, who would listen, to "hang on." He kept saying that there were thousands of people all over the land who were holding to ten-story buildings ledges by the tips of their fingers. As long as they kept olding on, he said, they were all right, but once they let go they fell to the ground and that was the end. Sounds rather true, doesn't it?

We heard someone add a bit to the landlord's philosophy which sounds just as true. They said that there were plenty of people who were willing to step on those fingers hanging to window ledges and watch their victims fall.

Reminds us of a story of one of the world's most famous atheists. One day when he was speaking with a good deal of force concerning his disbeliefs, someone called him to a halt by asking him what he thought of a man who would knock a crutch out from under a cripple who had no other means to stand. He replied that the man should be given all sorts of ill treatment and finally killed. Then the questioner told him that he was the man, that he was going about knocking crutches from under people who wouldn't be making their way in the world if it wasn't for a tiny crutch of faith in themselves, in their fellowman and in something a little greater than themselves.

Most people aren't as strong as they would like to picture themselves. A lot of them are hanging from window ledges by the tips of their fingers. They might have the courage to "hang on" if no one steps on their fingers.

If you're one who is standing on the ledge, it would be well to be careful.

Former Resident Is Denver Soloist

Mrs. Ruth Bickford Parsons, radio singer, teacher and former soloist at a New York City church, appeared last Sunday as soprano soloist at a vesper program at St. John's Episcopal cathedral. Mrs. Parsons is a former resident of Big Spring, and a past director of music at the local First Methodist church.

A native Texan, Mrs. Parsons has recently moved to Denver. She taught at Baylor University, appeared on various radio program and also served as choir director in New Orleans. She was a soloist at the First Presbyterian church in New York City and has sung with the New York Philharmonic Symphony.

Pioneer Clubwomen, Gov. Shivers Feted

AUSTIN, Nov. 18—Gov. and Mrs. Allan Shivers, Texas pioneer and junior clubwomen were honored at the Texas Federation of Women's clubs federated in 1929 at the Governor and Mrs. Shivers were guests of honor at the dinner complimenting the pioneer clubwomen and clubs federated in 1929 aat the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

The report of the nominating committee and a tea at the Governor's Mansion were also highlights of the day.

Special recognition at the morning meeting at federation headquarters, where general sessions are being held, was given the eight districts of the organization.

Women who served as district presidents from 1947 to 1949 gave their reports on building cornerstones within the districts. Greetings were extended by their successors.

The nominating committee presented the following state of officers to be voted on today: Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland, president; Mrs. T. M. West of San Antonio, first vice-president; Mrs. John O. Douglas of Houston, second vice-president; Mrs. U. L. Wilie of Matador, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Cantrell of Goldthwaite, secretary.

No nominations were made from the floor.

Delegates, without opposition, voted to increase their per capita dues from 55 cents to 75 cents.

Juniors met for luncheon and heard Mrs. Hiram C, Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, speak. Mrs. Houghton, first vice-president of the general Federation, listed four reasons that younger women should join womens clubs. They were for the joy of belonging, the joy of doing, the joy of knowing and joy of service.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Houghton participated in the program discussing building of better communities as seen through the General Federation's build a better community contest.

The Texas Federation's scholarship students were presented and Marion Fayet of Porto Alegre, Rio Grande de Sol, Brazil, spoke on the status of women in Brazil. A student at the University of Texas, she is a recipient of the federation's Latin American scholarship, which amounts to $800 annually.

Miss Fayet pledged her efforts to take back to Brazil the rich experiences and privileges that this country has to offer her, as well as to other South American students.

"Coming to this country on your scholarship and as an ambassador of good will, friendship and understanding between two nations, I feel the responsibility to do my share in making the bonds of friendship stronger between the United States and Brazil," she said.

The Thursday evening program included greetings by Governor Shivers, tributes to the pioneers and the featured talk, "Opportunity Old World and New," by Wesley Izzard, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe. Izzard based his address on his recent trip to Europe.

"The one big impression the American tourist gets of Europe is a feeling that there is a weary, wornout civilization," Izzard said. "The people depend on their governments for security and the governments are looking to Washington for their security. There may be an excuse for the Europeans to look to their governments for security but there is none for Americans."

Hyperion Club Has Luncheon Program Thursday

Mrs. L. S. Lilly and Mrs. Ray Clark were hostesses at a luncheon meeting of the 1948 Hyperion club held at the Settles Hotel Thursday noon.

Tables were centered with arrangements of fruit and chrysanthemums in pumpkins, carrying out the Thanksgiving theme. Huckleberry and bittersweet completed the decorations.

Mrs. H. W. Smith and Mrs. Zollie Boykin presented a program on "Texas Art and Artists." They discussed outstanding artists of the state and told to what extent their paintings were being shown through painting were being shown throughout the nation. Tom Lee of El Paso, was discussed.

During the business session members voted to contribute $30 to be used for floor covering at the girl Scout house.

Those present were Mrs. Zollie Boykin, Mrs. Otis Grafa, Jr., Mrs. Tom Guin, Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Jr., Mrs. Don Tenn, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Merle Stewart and the hostesses.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — You have to go back 34 years to find another marrige in high government circles that created as widespread romantic interest as the Barkley-Hadley nuptials.

That was the wedding of Widower President Woodrow Wilson and Widow Edith Bolling Galt, beautiful Washington socialite and descendant of Indian princess Pocahontas.

Wilson was 59 and Mrs. Galt 43 when they were married in the bride's home here the evening of Dec. 18, 1915.

Newspapers carried front-page bride and groom pictures four columns wide under such headlines as "Bound in Love's Golden Chains" and "Cupid's Happy Captives Hold World Stage."

Mrs. Galt wore a wedding dress of black velvet and a "stunning, black-beaver picture hat." She wore only one piece of jewelry, a "superb brooch of diamonds which was the gift of President Wilson."

There was no trappings of state at the ceremony. The President dispensed with the services of a best man and the bride had no attendants. Only members of the Wilson, Galt and Bolling families and a few intimate friends attended.

After the wedding, the couple eluded a large crowd gathered at the union station to see them start their honeymoon trip, by driving to Alexandria and boarding the President's private car there. They spent their honeymoon at Hot Springs, Va.

The only president to be married in the White House was Grover Cleveland, in 1886. He had decided that the guarded executive mansion was the best place to shield his young bride, pretty Frances Folsom, from nuptial publicity.

The Marine Band, led by John Philip Sousa, played at the Cleveland wedding, which was attended by members of the cabinet and their wives and a few friends. The bride wore a white stain gown with a train 15 feet long.

The wedding of Alice Roosevelt and Rep. Nicholas Longworth in the east room of the White House was probably the most popular and brilliant in the annals of the national capital. More than 700 guests attended the ceremony at high noon, Feb. 17, 1906.

"Princess Alice's" wedding-gown train of silver brocade was 18 feet long and she wore a bracelet which was the gift of the German emperor. She was given away by her father, President Theodore Roosevelt.

One unusual wedding present was a hogshead of popcorn from a manufacturing firm. Another was a $15,000 span of horses from the citizens of Cincinnati, Longworth's home town.

Another famous White House wedding was that of Nellie Grant, daughter of President Grant, and England's Algernon Sartoris in 1874.

Gifts to the bride were valued at $60,000 and among the refreshments at the wedding breakfast were woodcock and snipe on toast, and pudding a la nesselrode.

Barbara Reagan Class Banquet Is Held Thursday

Members of the Barbara Reagan class honored their husbands at their annual Thanksgiving banquet in the First Baptist church Thursday evening.

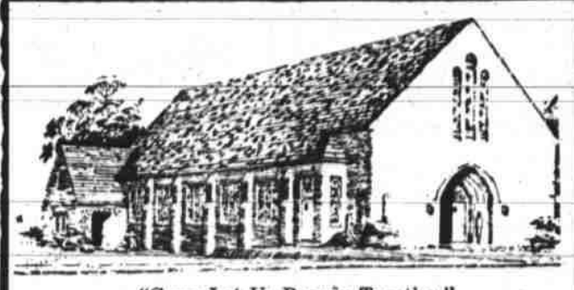

Dinner was served buffet style. The elongated service table was centered with an arrangement of yellow mums placed in an antique bread tray, and flanked by lighted green tapers. Pyracantha berries interspersed with green candles extended from the centerpiece to the outer edges of the table top.

The hostess committee included Mrs. Clayton McCarty, Mrs. Judy Mrs. Harvey Wooten, chairman; LaCroix and Mrs. J. B. Knox.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Knox, Mrs. Clayton McCarty, Mrs. Joe Tuckness, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Clayton, Jr., Mr and Mrs. Troy Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pickle, Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Cockrell, Mrs. E. E. Reynolds, and one guest, Mrs. P. D. O'Brien.

Goodies Ready At O'Briens

Housewives preparing to bake cakes, pies, cookies and other delicacies for the holiday season immediately ahead will find the O'Brien Grocery store at 1201 11th Place a convenient shopping place for all necessary ingredients.

George O'Brien, proprieter and manager of the store, has stocked his establishment with an ample supply of nuts, dates, fruit and other seasonal items for that reason.

Other food necessary to complete the menus which housewives are planning to offer families on Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day are also on display at O'Brien's. The finest in fresh meats and vegetables are shipped to the concern regularly.

All nationally advertised canned goods are made available to customers of the store.

Callers stopping at the store for the first time will find it conspicuous for its cleanliness. Too, the air of friendliness about the place inspire a return to the establishment.

O'Brien's maintains a delivery service throughout the day which reaches any point within the city. That service is as near as the closest telephone. Business number of the concern is 1622.

Complete Service Derington Feature

Complete automotive service, from cooling system to gasoline tank, is offered for all makes of cars at the Derington Garage and Machine shop, 108 N. Johnson street.

Derington's staff of trained specialists can skillfully and efficiently perform any mechanical repair or replacement job, no matter how large or small. Shops are equipped with the latest in repair and tune-up equipment and tools.

Pride of the motor department is the Allen Motor analyzer with accessories for testing coils, condensers, fuel and carburetion systems, distributors and spark plugs.

When an automobile is successfully checked through the Allen analyzer, it is ready for quick, sure starts on frosty winter mornings, Derington tune up specialists declare. When ignition and carburetion systems are working properly, motorists needn't worry about the performance of their vehicles, bad weather or good, they point out.

Derington also recommends that cooling systems be cleaned and checked prior to the installation of anti-freeze and winter water heaters. The Derington parts department carrys a complete line of radiator and heater hose, and furnishes thermostats for quick warm ups on cold mornings. It also has a stock of popular anti-freeze solutions.

If starters and generators need cleaning or adjusting for cold weather, Derington has a specialist for that task as well. A rebuilt starter and generator exchange service is also offered.

The Derington concern has a large stock of Ford, Chevrolet, and Plymouth motors which have been reconditioned throughout in the northside machine shop. A good line of parts, both wholesale and retail, are offered, as well as a complete line of new mechanics' tools.

Trailer Parts Stocked By Derington Garage

Farmers and other trailer users in the Big Spring area who have difficulty finding wheel bearings and other parts for trailers constructed on old-model automobile axles may find a solution to their problems at the Derington Auto Parts store, 309 N. E. 8nd street.

Floor Polisher Rental

Floor polishers can be rented by the hour or day at O'Brien's Grocery, located at 1201 11th Place in Big Spring. The best in floor polishes, complete with instructions on proper use, can be purchased at the concern. Persons planning to polish their floors will find they can usually get prompt service on the machines at O'Brien's.

Rowe Stressing Car Winterizing

There is not substitute for thorough and accurate service at the Rowe Motor Co., Big Spring's Packard dealer, located at 1011 Gregg street.

The Rowe Motor Co. boasts one of the most modern auto repair ships in West Texas, as well as a full staff of competent personnel.

Automobile owners who wish to put their vehicles in prime condition for the winter months will profit by a visit to Rowe's. The local concern's motor tune-up service includes a thorough checking of all vital parts of the automobile, with proper adjustments whenever needed. This service often forestalls engine troubles during the colder months.

The Rowe Motor Co. shop handles any type of repair work, ranging from minor adjustments to complete overhauls. A modern service station, featuring Humble products, is maintained for the convenience of the firm's patrons.

New Packards are always available for demonstration at the Rowe Motor Co., and some of the best used cars in this section can usually be found on the Rowe used car lot.

Packard offer motorists the opportunity to "make their own weather" throughout the year. A person can merely "dial" the temperature he desires and then breathe fresh, clean air that is changed every minute.

Packard, of course, offers a variety of models, including its famous station sedan and the Golden Anniversary sedan for seven passengers.

The station sedan has the lines and comfort of a regular Packard sedan, plus all of the heavy-duty utility of a station wagon. Roominess is an outstanding feature of the seven passenger sedan, which is equipped with a stepped-up 150-horse power Packard engine.

Further information and actual demonstration of these, as well as other famous Packard models, are available at the Rowe Motor Co.

Protected Plan Hedges Payments

Joa Doaks had committed himself financially through purchase of an automobile.

He had everything planned—everything but what happened. Joe landed in the hospital, flat of his back, and he remained that way for several months. But his car payments went right on and that was one thing that Joe didnt have to worry about.

The name is fictitious, of course, but the incident is not. In fact, it is straight out of the files of the R. B. Reeder Agency. The story could be multiplied many times.

Title for the story could be "protected loan."

That's what it amounts to. The Reeder Agency, which finances both new and used car loans, offers the protected loan feature. It is on a basis which figures along with the conventional rates and carries with it a sense of security.

The term simply means that if the borrower suffers illness or accident which stops his earning power the payments are carried right on as though he were at his job and able to pay them in person. When he is able to be back on the job, he picks his payment up right at that point. The intervening payments have been met for him. He then complete his contract and the obligation is met as though no difficulty had arisen.

Reeder Agency, headed by R. B. Reeder, offers immediate service on automotive loans. There is no waiting once the application is completed. The check is made out at once.

Loans, particularly those on new cars, are made at a savings to the borrower.

Reeder also offers a complete line of automotive insurance, backed by a record of immediate adjustment on all claims. Patrons have found that the agency is a convenient and dependable place for handling their trades in one package.

FIGURES BASED ON COMBINED LEVIES

Tax Expenses In County Take About Three Cents On Dollar

Expense of assessing and collecting taxes in Howard county amounts to about three cents on the dollaar.

This figure is based on the combined levies of the city, county, state, junior college and various school districts operating in the county, as against the total tax department budgets of the agencies.

Total of all the current levies is approximately $1,103,000. Aggregate of the tax department budgets is around $33,000.

If the courrent rolls of the agencies actually furnishing collectors are put into the total department expense, the expense figure is about 4.3 per cent. For instance, the combined rolls of the city, county, Big Spring Independent and Coahoma Independent School districts is $638,000.

The big difference in the per centage factors arises out of the multiplicity of collecting duties attached to the county tax office. Whereas, the county's current roll is $168,000, the office has responsibility of collecting on $328,000 in taxes.

Besides the county, there are such items as roughly $85,000 for junior college, $80,000 for the State of Texas and around $195,000 for Knott Independent and hte various common school districts. This is a total of $360,000 for other agencies. The state and various political sub-divisions pay back in fees or commissions for the assessing and collecting services. Thus, while they create more expense for the office, they also pay back to offset that expense.

Howard county shows a budgeted outlay of $12,515 for its tax department. This does not take into consideration its fees and commissions from other agencies for whom it collects on the one hand, or about $3,900 in assessing fees for oil, industrial and utility values on the other. The thing about balances out.

The Big Spring Independent School district, with a $315,000 roll, has a tax department expense in the neighborhood of $8,000 per annum. The City of Big Spring, with a $175,000 roll, has a tax department budget of $10,000. The Coahoma Independent School district has an $83,000 roll and a tax service expenditure of around $2,500.

Salaries constitute a major portion of tax department expense, approximately $24,000 of the total of $33,000. The balance is consumed largely in supplies, with other incidentals as bonds, boards of equalization, advertising, communications, etc.

Aside from its ad valorem collection duties, the county tax office anticipated collections of $152,000 yearly from sale of automobile license tags, plus with miscellaneous fees and licenses on occupations, sales of automobiles, etc.

The City of Big Spring tax office handles some additional $5,500 in occupation taxes, dog tags, franchise taxes on buses and taxis.

Returns and expenses involved in collection of delinquent taxes are not computed in collection of delinquent taxes are not computed in the totals shown at the outset.

Jack Robinson Award Winner

By JACK HAND
AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers, batting champion and second base spark of a pennant winner, has been elected most valuable player of 1949 in the National League.

First member of the Negro race to play in modern big league ball, the 30-year-old former UCLA collegian from Cairo, Ga., drew a total of 264 points to 226 for Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals. Robinson said he was "very happy" over his selection.

Twenty-four members of the Baseball Writers Association, three from each city in the circuit, acted as a committee. Each listed 10 players in order of their value and 12 of the 24 put Robinson on top.

Musial, who almost caught Robinson in the final stages of the batting race, drew five firsts. Enos Slaughter of the Cards and two of Robinson's Brooklyn teammates, Pee Wee Reese and Carl Furillo, each received two first place ballots. The other one went to Lefty Ken Heintzelman, the Phillies' 17-game winning pitcher. Only Robinson and Musial were on every ballot.

On a point basis, with 14 for first, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth, Robinson led by 38 with a final total of 264 to 226 for Musial. Slaughter with 181 was third and Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner, the home run king and runs batted in leader, was fourth with 133. Reese, Dodger captain and shortstop partner of Robinson's in a fine double play combination drew a fifth place total of 118 points.

Others among the top 10 in order were outfielder Furillo, a .322 Brooklyn batter; Warren Spahn, Boston's 21??game winning southpaw; Don Newcombe, who notched a 17-8 record for Brooklyn; Heintzelman and second baseman Red Schoendienst of St. Louis.

Robinson whose signing by Branch Rickey in the winter of 1945-46 surprised the baseball world, completed his third year in the big league by topping the hitters with a .342 average.

In addition to winning the batting crown, Robinson led the base stealers with 36. Included in his 203 hits were 38 doubles, 12 triples and 16 home runs. He drove in 124 runs, barely losing the division lead to Kiner when the Pirate slugger staged his home run rampage in the final month.

TALKS WITH RUSSIANS INVITED

Britain Taking Lead In UN Moves On East-West Issues

NEW YORK, Nov. 18, (AP)—Britain appeared to be taking the lead today in efforts to see whether Russia is willing now to compromise on some of the deadlocked East-West issues in the United Nations.

Thus far only tentative moves have been made. There is no specific indication that the Soviet Union is ready for conciliation.

Delegates noted, however, that Britain's minister of state, Hector McNeil, for the past two days has made it clear that his delegation would welcome talks with the Russians.

These cautious moves to determine the Russian present attitude on such issues as an independence treaty for Austria and the admittance of new members to the UN coincided with debate in a plenary session of the General Assembly on the Greek-Balkan dispute.

That debate continues today at the Flushing Meadow Assembly Hall with delegates of Yugoslavia, White Russia, the Ukraine, Turkey and Czechoslovakia listed among the speakers.

Yesterday Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said the Western Powers had provoked the Soviet Union into repeated use of the veto in the Security Council by proposing the same candidates for membership time after time.

Referring to that statement, McNeil said: "I thought this was as near as the distinguished Soviet delegate ever comes to a plea. If it was a plea, my (British) delegation would be the last to set it aside." McNeill added that if Vishinsky wants to discuss the membership question reasonably the British delegation is ready to talk things over.

Immediately after yesterday's adjournment Vishinsky conferred earnestly for 15 minutes in the empty assembly hall with McNeil. The Soviet foreign minister refused to say what was discussed — except maybe the weather, which was crisp — but McNeil said they had talked about an Austrian independ- consultations in New York among the big four deputies.

Greek Vice Premier Constantin Tsaldaris late yesterday made a new bid for peace with Greece's Communist neighbors. He said: "On several occasions we stretched a hand to them. We do it here once more."

Vishinsky was as adamant as ever in his argument on the Greek case. He said Greece's refusal to give up claims to northern Epirus, now part of Albania, had wrecked Balkan conciliation efforts.

The Soviet foreign minister described the Athens government as a "hangman's regime" and said that the reports of the United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans (UNSCOB) were full of distortions and lies. Those reports had accused Greece's northern neighbors of aiding the Communist-led Greek guerrillas.

Replying, McNeil said the Soviet Union repeatedly had fallen into the trap of assuming the assembly could be led to believe that "the angels are always on the side of the Soviet proposals and the cowardly devils are on the other side."

American Delegate Benjamin V. Cohen said the danger of a Balkan war has been substantially reduced.

"This does not mean that vigilance on the part of the United Nations is not necessary to see" that the guerrillas do not again take up arms, he added, however.

The assembly has before it two proposals on the Greek-Balkan conflict. A Russian minority proposal would provide for the liquidation fo the UN Balkans Commission and the withdrawal of al foreign troops from Greece. A western resolution provides for the continuation of UNSCOB and the imposing of an arms embargo on Albania and Bulgaria until they stop aiding the Greek guerrillas.

Suffocation Verdict Returned in Death

SOUTHLAND, Nov. 18. (AP) — A temporary verdict by Justice of the Peace J. D. King of Post said Mrs. Marvin Truelock, 41, died "from suffocation from the gag in her mouth."

The woman was found Wednesday in her home here, a gag in her mouth, a gas stove burning over her face, and her hands held behind her back with a rope.

King said "it is the only verdict I can give right now. And it could be changed if any new evidence is presented." He said he returned the non-commital verdict in order that the woman's body might be released to the family for burial.

Calvin Grantham, 13, a son by a previous marriage, found the body.

Mrs. Truelock's husband told a newsman that his wife was in good spirits when he left her about noon Wednesday. He said he suspected foul play.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 o'clock today in the First Baptist Church here, with burial in Southland.

DIABETES MELLITUS

Case History 121: A lady, age 61, had been diagnosed as having diabetes mellitus and low blood pressure, pain in chest and painful breathing. This patient entered a Chiropractic Clinic. A neurocalometer analysis and X-ray examination revealed the spinal nerve interference. Adjustments released the nerve interference, permitting a return to normal health. A comparitive glucose test was made and revealed sugar content normal. Patient was dismissed, free of all symptoms.

The offices of Dr. Page and Dr. McLaughlin are scientifically equipped for complete Chiropractic analysis.

Steers Play Season's Final Road Tilt In Abilene Tonight

Eagles On Way To 5AA Crown

Their season's toughest assignment awaits the Big Spring Steers tonight when they take the field in Abilene against Pete Shotwells rugged, ambitious Eagles.

Originally booked as a day-time contest, the game was moved back to 8 p. m. when it became evident that the good weather the sector has enjoyed all fall would endure.

Abilene has been improving steadily since the beginning of the 1949 season, at which time they were tied by Breckenridge and lost to Wichita Falls by a touchdown. In fact, they've come so far, they are considered by many to be among the five top schoolboy clubs doing business in AA circles.

The War Birds, who haven't been feeding at the champions' trough for some time now, boast most of the requisites of a crown-wearer. Their line is big and nimble, their backs speedy and wise in football ways. And, they are deep in reserves.

Any way the critics look at it the Steers will be four or five touchdown underdogs, which must be allright with Coaches Carl Coleman and Bert Brewer. They figure their only chances for victory lie in an over-confident Abilene team, and an aggressive inspired Big Spring eleven.

That very development may arise this evening. A goodly crowd of Abilene folk and a few of the more hopeful ones from Big Spring are due to look in and see if the impossible can take place.

The Longhorns will throw a newly organized defense at the Eagles. If the primary begins to cave in, chances are they'll wind up playing a nine-man line and leave it to two men to foul any aerial fireworks that might develop.

The Steers attack will once again center around Floyd Martin and Amos Jones, with Billy Tubb, Bobby Gene Gross and Carroll Cannon coming in for their share of work.

Hub Ingraham, Prentise Martin and Bill Balusha are the Abilene offensive standouts. All three can tote the mail for long yardage.

Tonights fray will be the final road game of the season for the Bovines. They wind up their season's activity here next Thursday afternoon, at which time they entertain the Sweetwater Mustangs in their farewell appearance in District 5AA. Next year, they'll be back in 3AA.

Yearlings Cop 59-38 Thriller From Bullpups

In what was probably the highest scoring game ever seen at Steer stadium, the Big Spring Junior high school Yearlings rolled to a 59-38 victory over the Midland Bullpups before a sizeable turnout here Tuesday night.

The Yearlings broke in front when Doyle Maynard churned 46 yards to pay dirt on the second play from scrimmage and J. C. Armistead added the point on a run. The locals, after that outburst, were never headed.

Midland scrapped back to score a TD following four swapout fumbles which finally gave the Pups possession on Big Spring's 30. Bill Snow, a speedy half back, flitted down to the three yard line from where Darrell Spivey carried it over on the second down. Midland failed to make the point and that was as close as the guests got.

Before the quarter ran out, Big Spring had another tally. Armistead, a standout all evening, breezed 12 yards across the double stripes to climax a 55-yard drive, then added the point on a run.

The locals had another six-pointer shortly after the second quarter began. The Yearlings recovered a fumble down around Midland's 26 and Frank Long powered his way to the three. From that point, Long circled left end for the score to make it 20-6.

The Yearlings were to get another shortly thereafter. Armistead cruised to the Midland one from the Pups' 46 after the Big Springers had gained possession and Freddy Blalck pushed it over on a quarterback sneak.

Russell Rutledge pulled Midland back in the game with a 15-yard scoring gallop shortly before the half ran out and Spivey added the point to make it 26-13.

Big Spring added another in short order in the third period, Maynard getting away on a 30-yard sprint only to have Rutledge counter with a six-pointer for Midland to run the score to 32-19.

On a nifty cutback, Armistead roared 30 yards for another score within minutes to make it 38-19 and Maynard added the point.

Rutledge then took a pass good for 60 yards and a tally and the score kept mounting, this time to 39-25. John Crowley gathered in a pass for the extra point.

Armistead accepted a handoff and got losse on a 25-yard trip that wound up at the pay window and Maynard co-operated by making good on the point to run the count to 46-26.

Early in the fourth, Brick Johnson recovered a fumble for Big Spring on Midland's 40, only to have Wayne Parmley do the same for Midland. Snow then gathered in an aerial to speed 56 yards to a touchdown to make it 46-32.

Armistead came right back with another gallop, this time for 52 yards that rang up another six points for Big Spring. Long came in for the point and it was 53-32.

Rutledge, bidding for individdual honors, got away for 70 yards and a TD on the kickoff but Big Spring came right back when Long cut loose with a 30-yard gallop that pushed the ball to the enemy's 20. From that point, Maynard carved out five paces, Long went for ten and Blalack finished the job to make it 59-38.

Johnson, Ray Dabney and Van Mayhall were among those who stood out in the line for Big Spring.

Starting lineups:

BIG SPRING — Wayne Medlin and Van Mayhall, ends; Bill Earley and Ray Dabney, tackles; Earl Steen and Brick Johnson, guards; Richard Pachall, center; Doyle Maynard, Freddy Blalack, Frank Long and J. C. Armistead, backs.

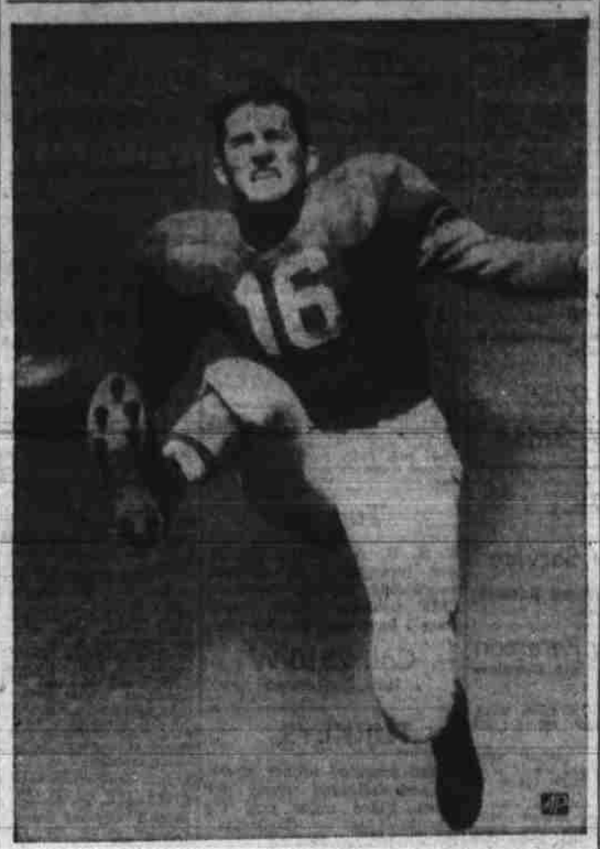

Hawks Booked With Indians

Harold Davis, basketball coach at Howard County Junior college, announced this morning his Jayhawks would meet the McMurry varsity team in a practice game in Abilene Tuesday night.

Davis said his club looked ragged for the most part against Texas Tech in a scrimmage which took place in Lubbock Thursday afternoon. The mentor added that was understandable, however, because the Hawks only recently began drills whereas the Raiders have been training since the first of the year.

The Hawks managed to hit the target for 43 points in the extended workout. Big Leon Blair of Lamesa set the pace with nine points. Louis Stallings and B. B. Lees each had eight, Del Turner and Gil Barnett five each and Bill Fletcher four.

Davis said the local Jaycees showed flashes of brilliance and had much promise.

IS HE IN A SLUMP?—Brad Rowland (above) star back of MacMurry College's football team in Abilene, and the nation's leading scorer with 108 points, failed to score in last week's game with Howard Payne. When some sports writers proclaimed Rowland was in a slump, McMurry coach Wilford Moore promptly retorted, "If Brad is in a slump, I wish all my team would get in one. All he did last week was intercept three passes, returning one to the two-yard line; twice set up touchdowns with punt returns; passed for one touchdown; kicked out of bounds twice inside the five-yard line; gained 81 yards running, twice the distance gained by the entire Howard Payne team; and played nearly every down on defense." (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There's more difference of opinion among members of the Herald's Board of Football Oracles than there is at a UN meeting. Joe Pickle, the leader last week, can't see a Kentucky victory over Tennessee. Bob Wipkey opines Washington State will master its traditional rival, Washington, and 'lone wolfs' that one. The writer likes Michigan over Ohio State and stands alone on that one while Wacil McNair thinks Colorado is capable of bouncing Nebraska.

Stanton Buffaloes Invade Hermleigh Field Tonight

STANTON, Nov. 18—Still in the race for the district 8-B football title, the Stanton Buffaloes will pit their strength against the Hermleigh Cadinals tonight hoping fo a victory that will assure them of a tie for the championship.

The contest, to be unreeled in Stanton, is to start at 8 p. m.

Stanton has lost only one district game this year, a 19-7 setback at the hand of Coahoma. Hermleigh is undefeated.

Should the Buffs edge the Cardinals tonight, the district race would end in a three-way tie with Stanton, Coahoma and Hermleigh as principals. Coahoma's single defeat resulted from the efforts of the Cardinals.

Thus far in district play, the Buffaloes have won over Bronte, Robert Lee, Loraine and lost to Coahoma. Hermleigh has defeated Coahoma, Bronte, Robert Lee and Loraine.

Coach Leo Fields will be counting heavily on backfield aces Whistle Lindsey, Red Gibson and Alvis Fisher to spar the attack against the Cards. Linemen B. G. Lewis, Wayne Cook, and Joe Swinney will form the backbone of the Stanton defense.

Douglass Hogs Individual Play

Leonard's keglers, idle last week, toppled the skidding Nathan's team three straight last night to climb to within two games of the third place bowlers in the Women's Classic league.

Zack's and Douglass are vieing for top position in the race with Douglass holding a slight edge. Zack's beat last place Clark Motors, 2-1, last night, while Douglass out-bowled Handy Liquor store, 3-0.

Douglass players hogged individual honors in the Thursday night play. Mary Ruth Robertson chalked up high game and high series honors for Douglass with scores of 232 and 525. She also placed second in high game scoring with 170. Bennie Calvin, another Douglas bowler, totalled 428 for second high series score.

High team game and high team series laurels also went to the Douglass quintet who set marks of 2110 and 771, and went on to score a 697 for second high team game honors. Leonard's was second for high team series honors with 1857.

Fifty-Six Pro Grid Players Are Texans

By The Associated Press

Fifty-six Texas collegians are now playing big-time professional football while 10 others who hail from this state but attended colleges outside of it also are listed on the rosters of the National League and the All-America Conference.

Texas has more players in the National League where there are 36. Thirty are performing in the All-America Conference.

The real old-timer is Sam Baugh, the former Texas Christian University great who is rounding out his thirteenth season with the Washington Redskins of the National League.

Here is the list of Texans in the professional leagues:

ALL-AMERICA CONFERENCE

Shorthorns Upset Stamford With Lengthy Runs, 18-13

STAMFORD, Nov. 18—The Big Spring high school B team scored its most impressive victory of the season here Thursday night in tipping Stamford high, 18-13.

The Dogies, coached by Conn Isaacs and Wayne Bonner, counted in each of the first three quarters to finish in front.

Speck Franklin, Big Spring's will o' the wisp back, circled end for 42 yards and Big Spring's first tally.

Stamford came right back to tie it up when Kenneth Lowe heaved a touchdown pass to Gene Lickyman for 40 yards.

In the second period, Weldom McElreath put the Shorthorns out in front again with a sensational 85-yard punt return.

A pass from Franklin to Donald Mack Richardson, good for 50 yards, gave the Big Springers their third tally after the half.

Stamford came back to count in the final quarter when Lickyman intercepted a Dogie forward deep in Big Spring territory. Don Stearns eventually lugged it over from the one, then converted for the placement.

The contest wound up the season for Big Spring. The Dogies won five of ten games. They succeeded in nudging Snyder twice, Coahoma and Midland, in addition to Stamford, and lost to Sweetwater twice, Seagraves, Stanton and Robert Lee.

Gabrel Leading Ground Gainer

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 18. (AP) — Harvey (Pug) Gabrel of Texas Western enters the stretch of the football campaign boasting a comfortable margin in Border Conference ball-carrying.

The conference statistical bureau shows Gabrel to have taken the ball 122 times for 705 yards — 87 yards more than Charles Wright of West Texas State, who has made 618 on 89 runs.

Sam McGowan of New Mexico A&M, tops the passers with 1,320 yards on 89 completions in 175 throws. John Ford of Hardin-Simmons is second with 1,181 yards on 73 connections in 123 pitches in nine games and also is tops in percentage on completions with .593.

McGowan holds his lead in total offense with 1,309 yards. Ford is second with 1,135.

TEXAS IN VICTORY

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP) — University of Texas water polo teams beat Texas A&M, 3-0 and 4-2, last night.

FLOCK COULD WIN BID ON SATURDAY

Associated Press Staff

Tomorrow will be the most important day in Southwest Conference football. A champion may be born.

Rice's mighty Owls meet dangerous underdog Texas Christian at Fort Worth in the big one. Rice can clinch at least a tie for the title by licking the Horned Frogs.

Over at Dallas, Southern Methodist will be trying to help their conquerors, the Owls. The Methodists play Baylor and a victory over the Bears coupled with a Rice win would end the championship race in favor of the Owls. A win for Baylor would put the showdown on Nov. 26 when Baylor plays Rice.

Baylor, knowing that if it wins the next two games the Cotton Bowl gates will swing wide, since in the event of a tie for the title the team that beat the other in regular season play gets the bid, will be throwing everything it has into its battle with Southern Methodist.

Texas Christian, staging a garrison finish of a campaign that once appeared hopeless, can be expected to give Rice a terrific struggle. The odds say Rice is 10½ points better and that Southern Methodist has a 7½-point bulge over Baylor.

While Rice swipes at Texas Christian and the Baptists and Methodists stage their annual feud, one other conference member will be playing an intersectional game. Arkansas will be entertaining William and Mary at Little Rock. Arkansas is favored by six points.

Texas and Texas A&M do not play this week. They will meet next Thursday to end the season for both teams, each having been eliminated from title consideration.

Our record for the season is 28 wins, 7 losses and 2 ties. It has been getting worse each week. But we had no reputation left anyway, so here goes for tomorrow:

Rice vs Texas Christian at Fort Worth — The Christians upset Texas but the incentive isn't so great this week; Rice knows what it's in for — Rice by a touchdown.

Southern Methodist vs Baylor at Dallas — It's been a long, long time but we see no reason for it not going another year — Southern Methodist by two touchdowns.

Arkansas vs William and Mary at Little Rock — Arkansas couldn't be that bad two weeks in a row —a good ball game but Arkansas by two touchdowns.

Legal Notice

THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: R. T. Sloan, and the unknown heirs of R. T. Sloan, deceased, and the legal heirs of the unknown heirs of R. T. Sloan, deceased,

GREETING:

You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 26th day of December, A. D., 1949, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, at the Court House in Big Spring, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 10th day of November, 1949. The file number of said suit being No. 7312.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Binie White as Plaintiff, and R. T. Sloan, and the unknown heirs of R. T. Sloan, deceased, and the legal heirs of the unknown heirs of R. T. Sloan, deceased, as Defendants.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: The plaintiff in this cause is suing for the title and possession of all of the North One-half (N-2) of Section No. 36, Block No. 29, Certificate No. 462, H. & T. Agricultural Aide Assigned To County

An assistant agriculture agent has been assigned to Howard county by the Texas A&M college extension service, it was announced today.

He is Jack Waide, a June graduate of A&M college who has already arrived here to begin his duties.

Waide, a native of Concho county, has been assigned to duty at Alpine since his graduation.

The Howard County Farm Bureau has offered to pay the county's part of an assistant agent, although a definite arrangement has not been made with the commissioners court. The extension service and the county share salary expenditures for farm agents.

There is a possibility that a plan will be agreed upon whereby the bureau would reimburse the county for its part of the assistant agent's salary, according to latest reports.

Waide was introduced to Farm Bureau members at their annual county convention last night in the district court room.

City Cycle Club Offers To Aid In Christmas Parade

Members of the Big Spring Motorcycle club offered their services in the Christmas parade at a meeting held Thursday evening at 2200 Scurry.

Request for assistance in the parade was voiced by Cecil Thixton. The club voted to help in this and other civic functions whre it could be of service.

Elijott Yell, president, announced that the club was in the market to lease or acquire a tract of land (approximately 10 acres) suitable for holding motorcycle races. The present cite near the City Park will have to be abandoned after this year.

Other activities for next year were discussed. Next meeting is set for Nov. 30 at 7 p. m. at 2200 Scurry street, said Yell.

Brown-Coffee Rites Read Near Mathis

MATHIS, Nov. 18. — Lorene Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown of Mathis, and Creed Coffee, Jr., of Healdton, Okla., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Big Spring, were married recently in a ceremony held at the Argenta Church of Christ. H. C. O'Rear, minister of the Church of Christ at Falfurrias, officiated.

The church was decorated with tall arrangements of white gladioli and fern and white tapers in branched candelabra.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Charles Beckendorff sang "I Love You Truly" and "Wedding March."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of slate blue crepe, the skirt decorated with two panels. She wore a light blue feather hat and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations.

Bernice Brown, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a brown crepe dress with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Robert Coffee of Big Spring was best man. Ushers were Bill Barnett and Jack Wiley, both of Falfurrias. Candlelighters were C. W. Rouse and Vay Rouse.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with an Italian embroidered white linen cloth and centered with white chrysanthemums. The three-tiered cake was decorated with sugar spun rosebride and groom.

Members of the house party were Mrs. L. T. Jennings of Robstown, Mrs. B. R. Scoggins of Robstown, Mrs. I. N. Thompson of Robstown, Mrs. C. Van Cline of Houston, Mrs. Buford Dugger of Three Rivers, Mrs. W. C. McDaniel of Kingsville, and Mrs. H. M. Reed of Beeville.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Scoggins, Mrs. I. N. Thompson, and Mrs. E. T. Bomer, all of Robstown; Mr. and Mrs. Buford Dugger, Three Rivers; Mrs. W. C. Reed, Beeville; Joyce Edwards, Holla Jean Edwards, Elvira Welland, Mr. and Mrs. John Percy Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank North, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones, and Mrs. Morris Strong, Mrs. Joe Collins, Bill Groll, Jack Wiley, and Bill Barnett, all of Falfurrias.

After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Coffee are at home in Healdton, Okla. For traveling, the bride wore a gray tweed suit, feather hat, and chestnut brown accessories.

BULL REALLY WAS PEEVED

PULASKI, N. Y., Nov. 18. (AP) — LaFayette Petrie's red sedan is in the garage for repairs. A Jersey bull couldn't stand the sight of it.

Petrie reported he parked his car off a rural road near here Sunday while he hunted rabbits. When he returned he found the bull getting set for a new charge. The animal already had banged in one side and the rear of the car, Petrie said. He drove off the bull with rocks and strong adjectives.

35 Czech Sentenced In Alleged Espionage

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 18. (AP)—A Prague state court announced the smashing of a big spy ring today as it sent 35 Czechs to prison for sentences ranging from life to one year. They were convicted of aiming to overthrow the Communist government.

The group included two former members of the Czechoslovak security police. Three of the accused were women.

The court charged them with spying for an unnamed western power, with the goal of trying to overthrow the Czech Government.

The trial, which lasted eight days, was one of a series of treason trials going on virtually non-stop in Czechoslovak courts. Most of them are held in secret.

Sentences against another anti-government group are expected to be announced later today.

Indications that more espionage arrests and trials were contemplated appeared in a special security police broadcast today urging greater vigilance against the "aims of the rotten western reactionary regime which sends spies and diversionist agents into our country."

The group sentenced today in the court of Prague's big Pankrac political prison was headed by Oldrich Novotny, 27, former security police officer who was ousted when the Communists took over the government in 1948. He was accused of spying for a foreign power—presumably the United States.

Novotny was sentenced to death, but his penalty was commuted to life imprisonment. He was also fined 10,000 crowns ($200) and all of his property was confiscated.

Another major defendant was Dr. Josef Sejnoha, former chief of the criminal department of the Prague security police under the pre-Communist government. He was sentenced to 22 years in prison.

The state charged that Novotny fled to Germany in October, 1948, and went into the spy service of a foreign power. He returned to Czechoslovakia, the charges read, to gather information and organize an underground against the state.

His 34 co-defendants were accused of supporting his "treacherous" activities and of organizing an underground which helped Czech citizens escape into exile abroad.

Novotny was captured in June. The court asserted he then confessed his crimes and betrayed his accomplices.

CHURCHES

The first sermon will be included the study of "Abraham." During the morning service, the Rev. Lloyd will speak on the subject, "Blessing and Responsibility," from Psalms 103:1. Special music for the morning service will be presented by Mrs. B. E. Freeman. She will sing the selection, "Thanks," by O'Hara. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fowler Brooks will sing a duet prior to the evening sermon.

• • •

At the Airport Baptist church, the Rev. Warren Stowe, will discuss, "The Meaning of Baptism," during the evening worship hour. His morning sermon topic is unannounced. Sunday school is at 10 oclock and Training Union at 6:30 p. m.

Local Warehouse Gets Shipping Orders For Cotton

The Howard County Farm Bureau Cotton Warehouse has received shipping orders for 6,500 bales of loan cotton, members were told at their annual convention last night.

The bureau's storage concern, which was hastily organized and put into operation when an embargo went into effect last week at the West Texas Compress and Warehouse Co., hopes to begin making shipments soon.

Bureau warehouse officials said they hoped to begin weighing cotton at their yards north of Howard County Junior college sometime today. They started receiving cotton there Wednesday morning.

The shipping orders were received late Thursday from the Commodity Credit Corp. office in New Orleans.

The yard employes were getting their office set up for formal operations today. A. L. Wasson has loaned the organization some essential office equipment, which was being moved to the warehouse headquarters this morning.

Bureau officials said they had received excellent cooperation from a number of sources in setting up the storage facilities. They said Wasson and others had helped make it possible for the yard to go into operation in time to avert a critical emergency.

Estimates were that the first shipments from the bureau yard would be made by Sunday or Monday.

Truckers Named For Traffic Law Violations Here

Local authorities are clamping down on truckers operating machines in violation of state traffic laws.

Within the past several days, several operators of commercial machines have been hailed into justice court on charges which included over-weight carriers, poor vehicle lighting and no operator's license.

Weights and License Bureau men here said the rigid investigation of all trucks here would continue.

Heroic Mother Saves Children from Fire

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 18. (AP)—An heroic mother early today rescued two of her children from their blazing home in which the father and his two daughters were burned to death and a small son was critically injured.

The dead are Bennie Saldana, Sr. 25-year-old war veteran and his daughters Gloria, 3, and Dora, 7.

Valentino Saldana, 1 1-2 years old son, is near death in Santa Rose hospital from third degree burns over his entire body.

The 24-year-old mother, Mrs. Concepcion Saldana, is in the Robert B. Green Hospital, suffering from hysteria, shock, cuts on both arms, and burns about the face.

Amarillo Man Is Charged In Brother's Death

AMARILLO, Nov. 18. (AP) — Billy Max Mann was charged with murder with malice in the rifle slaying of his brother, Donald Mann, 22.

Police arrested him last night in an Amarillo depot. His brother was shot to death about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dist. Atty. Lloyd King said murder charges had been filed against Billy Max Mann.

Police were told that Donald Mann was in the living room of a home in the southwestern residential section of Amarillo. He was making a phone call when Billy Max Mann appeared in a doorway leading to a hall. Police said Billy Max Mann began firing.

Donald ran from the room after the shots, leaving a trail of blood through the dining room and kitchen. The trail continued around the house and across the front yard to the curb in front of a neighbor's home. Here Donald collapsed.

The slain man returned to Amarillo a week ago from Louisiana.

Police said Donald Mann, Billy Max Mann, and Arliss McKinney, Donald's former wife, were alone in the house at the time.

Long Beach Shaken

LONG BEACH, Nov. 18. (AP) — A minor earthquake rocked Long Beach about 5:15 yesterday. No damage was reported.

Deer Hunters Of Big Spring Report Lots Of Bad Luck

The spring-like weather, which threatens to endure in West Texas even longer, must be very pleasing to city dweller and farmer alike, unless the individual is a deer hunter.

To that party, the elements have not been very favorable since deer season got underway in this section of Texas three days ago.

Several hunting groups have departed here since the season officially began but reports coming back from the game areas tell the story that the bucks are very hard to find.

Those lucky enough to fell an animal have to hurry like all get out to get the kill in cold storage or the meat spoils. And that does not take very long.

Manley Cook, manager of the Southern Ice company, said last night only half a dozen deer and elk were on storage at his place down from the mountains in New Mexico.

One man who lugged a deer all the way from the wilds of New Mexico sadly discovered that the creature's remains had spoiled on and most of those had been brought him before he arrived. There was nothing to do but dispose of the body.

Benny Asbury was among those going to New Mexico in search of game. Benny came home empty-handed. He said he saw something like 120 hunters in his short stay in the neighboring state and only eight deer had been killed.

Since deer season will continue in West Texas through the remainder of the year, more expeditions are certain to be organized here once it does turn cold.

18 Airmen Killed In Superfort Collision

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 18. (AP)—Eighteen airmen perished in a midnight collision of two B-29 bombers five miles up in a mock bombing raid.

Three crewmen survived the double crash.

One of the bombers crashed in flames early yesterday on McDonald Island in the rich delta land 18 miles northwest of Stockton. The other broke to pieces on Muddy Rindge Tract, two miles away. It did not burn.

Workers recovered seven of the eight bodies from the wreckage on Rindge Tract, from which two men had parachuted to safety. The eighth body, tightly pinned in the battered mass of wreckage, will be removed today.

Only one person escaped the McDonald Island crash. Three bodies were thrown clear by the impact. Six remained in the plane and were reported burned beyond recovery.

Rescue was hampered in the early hours by a thick, low fog. However, skies were clear in the upper atmosphere where the two superfortresses collided.

Lt. Warren L. Sharrock of Jamestown, Calif., pilot of the Ridge Tract plane, was first reported to have survived and to have staggered into a fishing resort.

Later his body was found and authorities at Hamilton Field said it was Staff Sgt. Robert S. Kluge, member of Sharrocks crew, who had found his way to the resort.

Kluge, 25, of Spokane, Wash., was dazed. He said he had mentioned Sharrock as the pilot of his plane. In the excitement, the resort owner's wife took that to be Kluge's name.

The other survivor of Sharrock's plane was T-Sgt. Frank D. Schmidt of Negley, Ohio, engineer.

Pvt. Keith R. Burns, 19, of Boise, Idaho, radio operator, was the lone survivor of the flaming crash on McDonald Island.

The three survivors, who received cuts and bruises, were taken to the Fairfield-Suisun Air Force Base hospital. None could give any reason for the disastrous accident.

The extent of the damage to the planes was emphasized by an Air Force announcement that there would be no attempt to salvage any parts from the B-29's.

The two bombers were from the Spokane, Wash., Air Base. They were part of a 92nd Bombardment group flight of 13 and were flying in a formation of five planes when they collided.

The flight was a non-stop mock bombing raid over Sacramento, San Francisco, Stockton, Salt Lake City and back to Spokane.

Brazil's Rubber Output Fluctuates

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP) — Production of natural rubber for the first six months of this year ran about 1,856 tons. It may not go over 4,000 for the entire year.

Official figures bounce up and down violently. A total of 4,000 would be just about a record low. Last year it was 5,446 tons, after a dizzy dive from 14,510 in 1947. Record big in 2h2 years came in 1944 with 21,192. In 1905 rubber was second only to coffee as Brazil's leading export product.

The United States and, a long stretch behind, England, France and Germany, are the main buyers of this year's crop.

Kids' Day To Be Celebrated In City Saturday

National Kids' Day will be observed here Saturday with primary emphasis upon acquainting the public with the importance of providing aids for underprivileged children.

Cooperating in the observance with the National Kids' Day Foundation is the Kiwanis club. Kiwanis International has joined hands with the foundation on the project, which is to become an annual affair.

While the observance will be combined with fund appeals in many communities, no connection is planned in this direction here this year, said Nat Shick, Kiwanis president. However, any contributions directed to the Kiwanis club for the purpose will be used 100 per cent by its underprivileged children's committee.

Purpose of the day is to focus attention upon the accomplishments of youth, said Shick. It also seeks to increase public interest in the campaign against juvenile delinquency and to help delinquents find a path toward useful citizenship. A final aim is to give impetus to assistance for underprivileged children so they can enjoy some of the benefits normally accruing to more fortunate boys and girls.

Thursday Kiwanians listened to a recording of an address of James M. (Jimmie) Fidler, radio commentator and columnist, who is founder and president of the foundation. Fidler has been instrumental in raising large sums for youth work in the area around Los Angeles, Calif. He staged a contest which resulted in a $200,000 nest egg for the foundation, and subsequent contests are expected to increase this endowment.

On a local basis, all funds raised will be used in the community contributing them. Hereafter, National Kids' Day will be set for the third Saturday in November.

Coffee Cheaper In Mexico City

DALLAS, Nov. 18. (AP) — In Mexico City you can go down to the corner grocery and buy a pound of the best coffee for 40 centavos (less than five cents).

So said Col. Miguel Lanz Duret. Lanz Duret, publisher of two of Mexicos newspapers, is in Dallas for the convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

"And Mexican coffee is the best in the world," said the colonel. He added: "If you like it."

(In Dallas, retail coffee prices range from about 55 cents a pound in a paper bag to about 73 cents in vacuum packed cans.)

Besides being publisher of dailies with 110,000 circulation, Lanz Duret is also commanding officer of the Fifteenth Mexican Army Division and a leading Mexico City lawyer.

He said a Mexican newspaper publisher now has three fearsome problems: 1. The changing rate of exchange; 2. Newsprint is terribly expensive, and 3. Labor is making constant demands.

"Labor is very strong in Mexico. My linotypists now work the 6-hour day, with double time for overtime. Next perhaps, Mexican labor will want the 4-day week."

He said part of Mexican publishers' newsprint problem has been solved by an East Texas pulp mill. A Lufkin, Tex., plant furnishes 9,000 tons of newsprint annually to Mexico City.

Nearly 85 Per Cent Of Coahoma School Taxes Collected

COAHOMA, Nov. 18 — Current tax collections on the Coahoma Independent School district roll have approached the 85 per cent mark.

On a levy of $85,000, a total of $72,000 in round numbers has been received on the 1949 tax roll of the district. This gives a percentage of 84.7.

Discount period in the district has been passed.

The Coahoma district completes its rolls on Sept. 1 and offers three per cent for payments in that month as a normal course. October payments command two per cent and November payments one per cent. The final date of payment is coincidental with other agencies, Jan. 31 of the following year.

This year, however, the Coahoma district extends its maximum discount period to Nov. 15. Reason was the late addition of the R-Bar, Vincent, Green Valley and Morgan districts to the Coahoma district under the state minimum foundation program. Trustees set the discount date back to accomodate taxpayers in the annexed territories. At the same time, the one per cent allowance for the last half of November was chopped off.

Historic Church Fireplace Found

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — An old colonial fireplace that once was part of the First Reformed German Church in this country has been uncovered in a long unused storage loft, onetime site of the church. Now the Reformed and Evangelical Church, it was founded in 1727 in a barn. In 1772 it began the erection of an enlarged church.

During the Revolutionary War the Race Street Reformed Church, as it then was known, had an honorable part in the struggle of tye colonists for independence. Whne the British captured Philadelphia and their troops marched by the church, the ten-year old son of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Casper Dietrich Weyberg, stood on the door step and shouted "hurrah for George Washington."

The Hessians imprisoned Dr. Weyberg and used the church as a hospital. In 1837, the city contributed $15,200 to renovate the church as a historic shrine.

Mayor Has No Yen For Official Power

ABERDEEN, Idaho, (AP) (AP)— The mayor of this potato town of 1,500 people doesn't like the job—he'd rather farm. Keeping pigs out is one of the troubles of Mayor James Chapman, 58. It's against the law to raise 'em in town.

"This stuff of telling people what to do isn't in my line," Chapman said. "Iam not cut out to have all that power." But Aberdeen, where there are more churches than filling stations, insisted that Chapman take a second two-year term. He said "people just figured I'd be able to devote more time to the mayor's job than anyone else." His salary is $75 a year.
